CONTRIBUTIONS

Much of the work of APSA is made possible through gifts in the form of contributions and bequests from our members to the Annual Fund, the Second Century Fund, our Endowed Funds, and to specific programs like Congressional Fellowship and Minority Identification. APSA is a not-for-profit educational institution. As such, all gifts are tax-deductible to the degree the law allows.

Information about funds:

The Annual Fund provides immediate support for such APSA initiatives as annual meeting travel grants, small research grants, minority programs, journal donations, and our general operations.

The Second Century fund supports the maintenance and programming of the Centennial Center for Political Science & Public Affairs, a study center available to APSA members inside the national headquarters building.

For more information on any of our funds, making a bequest, or contributions in general, please see our web site or contact Robert J-P Hauck or Sean Twombly via the national office.

Please invite a colleague to join APSA. Thank You!

We invite you to visit our web site at www.apsanet.org for the latest news on the Association and the discipline.
