

Field of Study Diversity

APSA is committed to advancing diversity and inclusion throughout the profession. Faculty and departments can use the interactive APSA data dashboards to view snapshots and trends (by race, ethnicity and gender) to support innovative diversity recruitment, hiring, and retention; critical curriculum and departmental assessment; and informed student advising that highlights the rich variety of fields and methodological approaches available throughout the discipline. View more information here: APSA diversity and inclusion programs and resources.

Fields of Study

American Politics

Comparative Politics

International Politics

Methodology

Political Philosophy and Theory

Public Administration

Public Law and Courts

Public Policy

The data presented here are self reported from the APSA membership database. This graphic excludes international members (19.01%). For more information on the data used here, please go to the APSA Membership Dashboard. For more information on APSA diversity and inclusion programs and resources, please visit the APSA Diversity and Inclusion webpages.

- Black, Afro-Caribbean, or African American
- Middle Eastern or Arab American
- Other
- East Asian or Asian American
- Native American or Alaskan Native
- South Asian or Indian American
- Latino or Hispanic American
- Non-Hispanic White or Euro-American