

Community College Faculty

Community college faculty teaching political science identify as:

64.2% of respondents were faculty at tenure granting community colleges.

50.0% of those who were faculty at tenure granting institutions have tenure.

The 2018 APSA Community College Faculty Survey was administered to 2,634 community college faculty teaching political science in the United States. In total, 298 individuals responded to the online survey between March 26 and May 2, 2018 (a response rate of approximately 11.3%). 278 respondents were from the sample of 2,634 community college faculty. A further 20 accessed the survey via an anonymous survey link.