

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

January 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 1

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

---

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science .....	3
--	---

---

Job Listings

Administration .....	4
American Government and Politics .....	9
Comparative Politics .....	40
International Relations .....	71
Methodology .....	111
Non-Academic .....	122
Other .....	122
Political Theory .....	154
Public Administration .....	173
Public Law .....	185
Public Policy .....	190

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

January 2018 | Volume 7, Issue 1

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

Administration ..... 4 (9 listings)

American Government and Politics ..... 9 (65 listings)

Comparative Politics ..... 40 (63 listings)

International Relations ..... 71 (79 listings)

Methodology ..... 111 (26 listings)

Non-Academic ..... 122 (52 listings)

Other ..... 122 (33 listings)

Political Theory ..... 154 (23 listings)

Public Administration ..... 173 (14 listings)

Public Law ..... 185 (45 listings)

Public Policy ..... 190 ( listings)

Total listings this issue ..... 409

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for January

ADMINISTRATION

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Director of the Nanovic Institute for European Studies

The University of Notre Dame's Keough School of Global Affairs seeks a full professor of modern or contemporary Europe to be the Director of the Nanovic Institute for European Studies. The Director will be a scholar who specializes in subjects relevant to the academic mission of the School, including:

- the historical, political, economic, and cultural dimensions of, and challenges to, European unity;
- migration, refugee and larger integration issues;
- Europe as a global site of institutional, organizational and ethical commitments to sustainable development, peace and international human rights.

This search for a modern Europeanist and Director of the Nanovic Institute coincides with the founding of the first new school at Notre Dame in nearly a century. The Keough School of Global Affairs (<http://keough.nd.edu>) promotes interdisciplinary research on critical issues in global affairs, offers a master's degree, and supports undergraduate and doctoral programs as well as a policy studies program. We seek applicants for the position who can play a creative role of leadership and program-building within the Keough School.

The successful candidate will serve a five-year term as Director of the Nanovic Institute, and will be periodically reviewed, with the possibility of renewal for a second term. To fulfill its mission of exploring the evolving ideas, cultures, beliefs, and institutions that shape Europe, the Nanovic Institute draws upon dozens of Notre Dame faculty and an international network of scholars who provide a vibrant interdisciplinary center for undergraduate and graduate students, faculty fellows and visiting professors. The position offers an opportunity for a Europeanist who will thrive in this unique interdisciplinary and collaborative atmosphere. <http://nanovic.nd.edu/about/>

A joint or concurrent appointment in the appropriate department is possible. The successful candidate will have an outstanding publication, grant writing, and teaching record, an established international reputation, and experience as an administrator. Applications should include a Curriculum Vitae, a cover letter containing a description of the candidate's vision for the Nanovic Institute and its potential role in the Keough School, as well as the names and email addresses of three references who know the applicant's scholarship and can speak to his/her gifts as a leader and administrator.

Application materials should be submitted through the Interfolio/Notre Dame online application system: <https://apply.interfolio.com/47973>

Nominations and inquiries may be sent via email to:

Prof. Scott Appleby
Chair, Search Committee & Marilyn Keough Dean
Keough School of Global Affairs
University of Notre Dame
appleby.3@nd.edu

Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2018.

The University of Notre Dame supports the needs of dual career couples and has a Dual Career Assistance Program in place to assist relocating spouses and significant others with their job search. The University is also a member of the Greater Chicago Midwest Higher Education Recruitment Consortium

This appointment is also contingent upon the successful completion of a background check. Applicants will be asked to identify all felony convictions and/or pending felony charges. Felony convictions do not automatically bar an individual from employment. Each case will be examined separately to determine the appropriateness of employment in the particular position. Failure to be forthcoming or dishonesty with respect to felony disclosures can result in the disqualification of a candidate. The full procedure can be viewed at <http://facultyhandbook.nd.edu/university-policies/background-check-procedure-for-prospective-faculty/>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3886

University of Wyoming

Rank: Assistant Professor

The University of Wyoming invites diverse applicants to consider our employment opportunities. We are also especially interested in candidates who have experience working with diverse populations and/or diverse initiatives.

The School of Politics, Public Affairs, and International Studies invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor who specializes in public administration beginning August 2018. Preference may be given to candidates whose teaching and research interests include public personnel and non-governmental (NGO) or not-for-profit administration. A Ph.D. is required at time of appointment. The successful candidate is expected to teach in the core curriculum of the School's MPA program. Other possible teaching areas include not-for-profit management and personnel, and some undergraduate classes in the candidate's areas of interest. The teaching load for this position is 2/3 with course reductions possible based on exemplary research.

Interested candidates should apply at

https://jobs.uwyo.edu/psc/EREC/UWEXTERNAL/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM.HRS\_CE.GBL?Page=HRS\_CE\_JOB\_DTL&Action=A&SiteId=6&JobOpeningId=9285&PostingSeq=1

Minimum Qualifications

Ph.D. in Public Administration or related field expected at time of appointment

Evidence of ability to teach at the college/university level

Evidence of a scholarly research agenda

Desired Qualifications

Demonstrated ability to teach classes in the areas of personnel and non-governmental/not-for-profit management

Demonstrated ability to make teaching contributions to the School's undergraduate curriculum, which includes political science and international studies

Demonstrated excellence in teaching

Evidence of publications in peer reviewed journals and/or scholarly books

Demonstrated commitment to furthering diversity, equity, and inclusion

Interest in developing collaborative, multi-disciplinary research Required Materials
Complete on-line application and upload the following as one document:

Cover letter indicating candidate's teaching philosophy, research agenda on how to contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion
Current Curriculum Vitae
Writing sample
Graduate transcripts
Teaching evaluation, if available
Contact information for three academic references
For further information or questions contact Professor Gregg Cawley, cawley@uwyo.edu

Hiring Statement

The University of Wyoming is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status or any other characteristic protected by law and University policy. To review the EEO is the Law Poster and its Supplement, please see The Diversity & Fairness page.

Pursuant to Wyoming State law, W.S. 19-14-102, as amended, an honorably discharged veteran who has been a resident of the state of Wyoming for one (1) year or more at any time prior to the date when the veteran applies for employment, or any surviving spouse who was married to such veteran at the time of the veteran's death, who is receiving federal survivor benefits based on the veteran's military service and is applying for employment, shall receive an interview preference during the applicant screening process with the University of Wyoming. At the time of application the applicant must possess the business capacity, competency, education or other qualifications required for the position. If disabilities do not materially interfere with performance of job duties, disabled veterans will be given preference over able-bodied veterans. Appropriate documentation of veteran status must be provided at time of application as outlined in the application process. No preference will be given to a veteran currently employed by a public department.

We conduct background investigations for all final candidates being considered for employment. Offers of employment are contingent upon the completion of the background check.

Applicants with disabilities may request accommodation to complete the application and selection process. Please notify Human Resources at least three (3) working days prior to the date of need.

Welcome to Laramie

The University of Wyoming is located in Laramie, a town of 30,000 in the heart of the Rocky Mountain West. The state of Wyoming continues to invest in its university, helping to make it a leader in academics, research and outreach. The university has state-of-the-art facilities in many areas and the community provides the advantages of a major university.

Located in a high mountain valley near the Colorado border, Laramie offers both outstanding recreational opportunities and close proximity to Colorado's Front Range, a bustling group of metropolitan cities including Denver, Boulder, and Fort Collins. This beautiful mountain landscape offers outdoor enjoyment in all seasons, with over 300 days of sunshine annually. For more information about the region, please visit <http://visitlaremie.org/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3871

University of Reading

Rank: Professor of War and Conflict Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Other, Administration

Specializations: Defense, International Security, Conflict Processes

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Reading is seeking to appoint a Professor of War and Conflict Studies, to further strengthen our research profile in this area, and lead our engagement with defence and security actors. The successful candidate will be an outstanding scholar and excellent teacher, who can provide leadership in research, grant applications, and outreach. The successful candidate will enhance the department's existing relationship with the British military in both teaching and research activities, and play a central role in our Ways of War Centre. The department appreciates that war and conflict can be studied from different perspectives, and thus welcomes excellent candidates with backgrounds in International Relations, War Studies, International Security, Conflict Studies, Strategic Studies, Organisational Behaviour, Public Policy, Political Psychology and related disciplines.

This is an exciting time to join the department. Politics and International Relations is ranked among the top 10 politics departments in the UK by research intensity in the 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF). We are a dynamic department with internationally recognised strength in Conflict, Security, and Strategy; International Relations; Applied Political Theory; Comparative Politics, and Public Policy Analysis. We are a partner in the £14 million Army Higher Education Pathway project to design and deliver online BSc and MSc teaching to approximately 500 cadets per year from the Royal Military Academy at Sandhurst and the Defence Academy at Shrivenham.

Further details and application materials: <https://jobs.reading.ac.uk/displayjob.aspx?jobid=2334>

Informal discussion and questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Jonathan Golub, Head of Department, j.s.golub@reading.ac.uk

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/16/2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3835

Purdue University

Rank: Department Head and Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science, College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University seeks applications for position of Head. The position will be available July 1, 2018 with a five-year renewable term as Head reporting to the Dean of the College of Liberal Arts. Applicants should have scholarly credentials commensurate with the rank of full professor. The field of specialization is open.

The successful candidate will have an excellent record of research and teaching and a PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or a related discipline. Desired qualifications include a record of attracting external funding, teaching excellence, and a commitment to diversity and inclusion. Candidates must have a record of research and publications suitable for an appointment as a full professor with tenure and should demonstrate leadership/administrative ability.

Duties include stewardship of the programmatic and intellectual agendas of the Department of Political Science; management of department resources; recruitment and retention of faculty, staff, and students; demonstration of a commitment to excellence in teaching; guidance of faculty working toward tenure and promotion; advocacy on behalf of the department's mission; and representation of the department to administrative offices and on the Council of Department Heads.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive institution and a public land-grant university. The Political Science Department is home to the journal Politics, Groups, and Identities. We have strengths in cross-cutting research areas including the politics of groups and identities (race, class, ethnicity, and gender), environmental politics and policy, and human security and political violence. Faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for the Environment, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, Peace Studies, Asian Studies, the Purdue Systems Collaboratory, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. Many faculty hold joint appointments or affiliations with other departments and programs, including Communication, African American Studies, Civil Engineering, Industrial Engineering, and Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. The department offers graduate certificates in Social Policy and Environmental Policy to students across campus and anticipates developing a professional master's program in public policy. The department is also home to the director of the award-winning C-SPAN Archives, located at the Purdue Research Park.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as .pdf attachments to PolSciHeadSearch@purdue.edu. Applications should include a curriculum vitae and a letter of application. The letter should outline approaches to departmental leadership and research and teaching interests. Names of references will be requested from finalists.

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in their cover letter, indicating their past experiences, current interests of activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on December 8, 2017, but applications received after this date will be accepted until the position is filled. Please address questions to search committee chair Dr. Linda Renzulli, renzulli@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EOE/AE employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3750

The University of Arizona

Rank: Faculty/Department Head

The University of Arizona Department of Political Economy and Moral Science anticipates appointing a tenured faculty member with an appointment beginning as early as the fall of 2018. The position is contingent upon funding. Rank: Full or Associate Professor. The successful candidate will serve, for at least one five-year term, as Head of the new Department of Political Economy and Moral Science. A record of successful administration, research, and teaching is required, with a preference for candidates with a record of success as Department Head. The successful candidate will have a distinguished research record in moral and social philosophy broadly construed, "PPE" (Philosophy, Politics and Economics) or political economy. Candidates must be willing to teach both graduate level courses and courses in the Philosophy, Politics, Economics, and Law undergraduate major. A Ph.D. in philosophy, political science or economics is required.

The Center emphatically welcomes applications from scholars with diverse disciplinary perspectives and methods who are eager to work in a collaborative setting. Applications should include a letter of application along with a current curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching experience, a statement of research objectives, and a detailed description of administrative current and past responsibilities. Application materials and nominations should be addressed to Professor Jerry Gaus, Department of Political Economy and Moral Sciences, 213 Social Sciences, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ 85721-0027. Application materials should be submitted in hard copy. This announcement appears in various venues. Review of materials to begin on November 1, 2017 and to continue until the positions are filled. The University of Arizona is an EEO/AA/M/W/D/V employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty and staff.

Applicants will also need to apply online at uacareers.com and reference posting #F21172

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3752

Portland State University

Rank: Director

Portland State University seeks Director of the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government

Click here to view position profile. https://summitsearchsolutions.com/wp-content/uploads/2017/10/PSU\_HatfieldSOG\_Profile.pdf

Location: Portland, Oregon

The Director of the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government (HSOG) provides leadership and coordination among its various Programs, Centers, and Institutes, and articulates a strategic vision for how the School can thrive and expand its impact. The Director works with a diverse staff, across multiple disciplines and topic areas, and with numerous organizations and constituencies both internal and external to the University. In particular, the Director's role is to:

- 1) Raise the visibility of the School in the community, state and nation;
- 2) Seek extramural projects and funding related to research and partnerships;

- 3) Support advancement of Centers and Institutes in the School and their connectivity to the community and to the broader University;
- 4) Oversee the School's two interdisciplinary degree programs: Master of Public Policy and PhD in Public Affairs and Policy; and
- 5) Recognize and promote connectivity among School faculty, staff, and students.

The Director reports to the Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs and sits on the Dean's Executive Committee. This is a twelve-month position, with a five-year renewable term, and will be offered to the candidate of choice with indefinite tenure at the rank of professor. The Director typically teaches one course in each of the three terms of the academic year, often in the interdisciplinary degree programs, but teaching responsibilities are negotiable.

Qualifications:

- Doctorate in one of HSOG's disciplines or a related field, and scholarly achievement commensurate with appointment at the rank of tenured full Professor. Candidates of extraordinary accomplishment outside academia may also be considered.
- Administrative experience directing an academic unit, program, center, or institute.
- Passion for and experience in interdisciplinary research and/or teaching.
- Experience working with community partners and other stakeholders, with a track record of securing external funding and contracts.
- Ability to work productively with a diverse faculty, staff, and student population.

Key cultural competencies:

- Creates an environment that acknowledges, encourages and celebrates differences.
- Functions and communicates effectively and respectfully within the context of varying beliefs, behaviors, orientations, identities and cultural backgrounds.
- Seeks opportunities to gain experience working and collaborating in diverse, multicultural, and inclusive settings with a willingness to change for continual improvement.
- Willingness to adhere to and support adherence to all PSU policies including the policies on Prohibited Discrimination & Harassment and the Professional Standards of Conduct.

About the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government

The Hatfield School of Government was created in 1999 to honor the legacy of Mark O. Hatfield, a public servant who served as both Oregon Governor and U.S. Senator. Hatfield's independent spirit, strong moral compass, and commitment to the public good are hallmarks of his leadership style and public service. The School's first Director was appointed in 2000 and the current Director recently stepped down in preparation for retirement. The Hatfield School offers real-world application of studies only steps away from the classroom. Students actively engage in a variety of hands-on public service projects throughout Oregon, the nation, and the world. Locally renowned, the Hatfield School has also gained national prestige as one of the top 50 Public Affairs graduate programs in the nation, according to the 2016 U.S. News and World Report rankings.

The Hatfield School is home to three academic departments whose chairs report to the Dean: Criminology & Criminal Justice, Political Science and Public Administration. All departments offer undergraduate and graduate programs in addition to two programs offered by multiple units in the School: Master of Public Policy and PhD in Public Affairs and Policy. The School is also home to the multiple centers and institutes including the National Policy Consensus Center, the Center for Public Service, the Institute for Tribal Governance, the Nonprofit Institute, the Center for Turkish Studies, and the Center for Women's Leadership.

The Hatfield School of Government is part of the College of Urban and Public Affairs (CUPA). CUPA is among the oldest colleges of its kind in the country. CUPA's academic programs prepare students to be effective leaders, collaborators, and problem-solvers. The College now contains, in addition to the Hatfield School of Government, the Toulan School of Urban Studies & Planning, the Department of Economics, and the Department of International and Global Studies. The College is dedicated to public service and social justice and does more than teach as it prepares students for community leadership and for making the world a better place.

About Portland State University

Portland State University (PSU) is Oregon's urban research university recognized for excellence in sustainability and community engagement, and is located in the heart of downtown Portland. PSU offers more than 200 degrees with opportunities to work with businesses, schools and organizations on real-world projects. The University's reputation is built on excellence through accessibility, innovation, collaboration, engagement, sustainability, and transformation. As the state's only urban public university, Portland State provides comprehensive undergraduate education as well as professional education to thousands of Oregonians as well as to students from over 90 countries around the globe. Portland State is renowned for innovative academic programs and excellence – particularly in fields related to urban and public affairs; business administration; science, technology, and sustainability – that combine student learning, research, and community engagement. The university's programs continue to garner national recognition and rankings and it was named one of the top ten innovative universities in the country (US News and World Report 2016-2017). To see an up-to-date list of the outstanding PSU rankings and references by Princeton Review, Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching and other nationally respected organizations, please click on the following link: <http://www.pdx.edu/profile/portland-state-university-rankings-and-references>.

Portland State University's motto is "Let Knowledge Serve the City." The University is an anchor institution, providing the Portland region with a highly-educated population, substantial economic impact, and distinctive contributions to its culture. The University promotes access, inclusion and equity as pillars of excellence. It is committed to curiosity, collaboration, stewardship and sustainability; strives for excellence and innovation that solves problems, and believes everyone should be treated with integrity and respect.

Portland State University has approximately 27,200 students with over 21,000 undergraduates and 5,600 graduate students. Some 62 percent of the students are full time, approximately 76 percent are residents of Oregon, and 64 percent are transfer students. The university has approximately 7,000 employees, including research and instructional faculty, academic professionals, managers, and staff and administrators.

For more information about Portland State University, click here: <http://www.pdx.edu/aboutpsu>

Procedure to apply:

While review of applications and nominations will be accepted until the position is filled, parties who apply by December 11, 2017 will be given first consideration. To apply online, go to <http://www.highereddecisions.com/ss/> and select this vacancy. Please submit a PDF version of your curriculum vitae and letter of interest upon application. All applications and nominations will be held in confidence.

The projected start date for the Director is July 1, 2018.

For nominations or further information:

Beth Baldino
Senior Consultant
Summit Search Solutions, Inc.
Direct: (828) 645-8967
bbaldino@summitsearchsolutions.com

Start Date: Summer 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/31/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3720

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Director

The School of Arts and Sciences (SAS) of the University of Pennsylvania is searching for a Director of the Center for the Advanced Study of India (CASI), who would also hold a tenured faculty position, to begin on July 1, 2018. Founded in 1992, CASI is the first research institution in the United States dedicated to the study of contemporary India. A national resource, it fills an urgent need for objective knowledge of India's politics and society, rapidly changing economy, and transformation as both an ancient civilization and major contemporary power. The Center's key goals are to nurture a new generation of scholars across disciplines and to provide a forum for dialogue among the academic, business, and foreign policy communities.

The Director should be distinguished by intellectual merit that meets the tenure standards at a major research university. The search is not limited to academics in traditional appointments, but the successful candidate would have a departmental home and an established reputation with the academy and the broader community. We prefer candidates whose research has policy relevance and concerns development issues broadly construed. The search is open to scholars from multiple disciplines, including but not limited to anthropology, economics, political science, public policy and administration, and sociology, and the candidate must be able to foster work from multiple disciplines and across disciplinary lines. The candidate is expected to teach in appropriate SAS undergraduate and graduate programs.

The successful candidate will have strong networks with scholars and relevant practitioners in India and a demonstrated capacity to direct a pre-eminent center, including skills of institutional entrepreneurship, constituency-building, staff development, governance, finances, fundraising, and overall management. These skills may have been acquired in either an academic or non-academic setting.

Appointment as Director will be for a five year renewable term. The Director will also hold the Madan Lal Sobi Chair for the Study of Contemporary India.

Please submit an application at <http://facultysearches.provost.upenn.edu/postings/1303>. Include a letter of interest and a current curriculum vitae or resumé. Applications will be considered as they are received, and continue until the position is filled. The School of Arts and Sciences is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to creating a more diverse faculty (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>). The University of Pennsylvania is an EOE. Minorities/Women/Individuals with disabilities/Protected Veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/31/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3717

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Tenure Track Business and Public Policy Position

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Administration

The Business, Government & Society (BGS) Department in the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin teaches future leaders how to recognize and respond to the legal, ethical, social, and regulatory expectations that businesses face and contributes to important public policy debates through research that rigorously applies social science research methods to relevant questions at the intersection of business activity and government regulation.

BGS now invites applications for a tenure-track position starting in the 2018-2019 school year. The ideal candidate will possess a Ph.D. in political science or economics and have core research interest in areas such as political economy, CSR, business and public policy, and ethical decision making. Research interests in international political economy, sustainability, health care and technological innovation and regulation are a plus. Candidates should have a demonstrable methodological skill set, a rigorous research agenda relevant to business and its non-market environment, and the potential to publish in top journals in these areas.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/45561>

Additional information here: <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/28188>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3560

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Nonprofit Management and Policy, Assistant/Associate Professor

About University at Albany:

Rockefeller College of Public Affairs & Policy is part of the University at Albany. Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of more than 17,300 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses. About one third of our undergraduates are the first in their family to go to college. In fall 2016, approximately 32 percent of all students at the University at Albany were students of color or of mixed race/ethnicity, and approximately 11 percent were international students.

Rockefeller College is home to a diverse group of scholars interested in teaching and research on issues of importance in the public and nonprofit sectors. Ranked 19th overall by US News and World Report, the Department of Public Administration and Policy offers an undergraduate major, a Master in Public Administration (MPA), and a PhD in Public Administration and Policy. The Department is nationally ranked in Information Technology Management, Public Management, Nonprofit Management, Public Policy Analysis, and Public Finance and Budgeting. We actively seek and support demographic diversity in our faculty and student body. To learn more about the Department visit our website at <http://www.albany.edu/rockefeller/pad.shtml>.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State's capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Job Description:

The Department of Public Administration & Policy in the University at Albany's Rockefeller College of Public Affairs & Policy invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Nonprofit Management and Policy position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor beginning fall 2018. Candidates should be strongly committed to excellence in scholarly research and should be effective teachers. Faculty in Rockefeller College are expected to pursue an active research program, teach and supervise undergraduate and graduate students, and engage in service activities.

Our program on Nonprofit Management, ranked 10th in US News and World Report, emphasizes the "nuts and bolts" of operating and sustaining nonprofit organizations and the tactics and strategies of creating social change toward greater equity and justice. We welcome applications from candidates engaged in high-quality nonprofit management and policy research in these areas. Candidates conducting research on nonprofit governance, resource generation and sustainability, nonprofit public policy, policy advocacy, collaboration, and/or nonprofit networks are especially encouraged to apply. We are open to scholars conducting research in domestic, international or global contexts, and who use qualitative and/or quantitative methods.

Requirements:

Minimum Qualifications:

- Applicants must have a PhD by September 1, 2018 from a college or university accredited by the US Department of Education or internationally recognized accrediting organization.
- Senior applicants should have a well-established research program; junior applicants should have a trajectory to develop a tenurable research record.
- Applicants must be able to teach in Nonprofit Management and in core Public Policy or Public Administration courses, and be able to, or have the potential to, fulfill the mission and goals of Rockefeller College.
- Applicants must have the ability to work with a culturally diverse population.

Preferred Qualifications:

- The successful candidate's PhD will likely be in Public Administration, Public Management, Public Affairs, or an allied field such as Sociology or Political Science.
- Experience in a nonprofit organization, and working on or writing research grants for external funding, will be considered a plus in the selection process but not a requirement.

Additional Information:

Professional Rank and Salary Range: Assistant or Associate Professor; salary competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link <http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml>

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AAP/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=86289>

Application Instructions:

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

- Cover letter addressed to Jennifer Dodge, Chair of the Search Committee
- Curriculum vitae
- Writing sample
- Teaching evaluations (associate faculty only submit teaching evaluations for the past 4 semesters)
- Three letters of recommendation and graduate transcripts, emailed to PADsearch@albany.edu

Note: After submitting your CV, the subsequent pages give you instructions for uploading additional documents (i.e. cover letter etc.). See the FAQ for using our online system. Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website.

Returning Applicants - Login to your UAlbany Careers Account to check your completed application.

A review of applications will start October 1, 2017 and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2945

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Kinder Postdoctoral Fellow in American Political Thought & Constitutionalism

Kinder Postdoctoral Fellow in American Political Thought & Constitutionalism

The Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy at the University of Missouri is currently accepting applications for a 2018-19 Postdoctoral Fellow in American Political Thought and Constitutionalism, with the possibility of renewal for the 2019-20 academic year. Founded in 2014, the Kinder Institute is an interdisciplinary signature academic center at MU dedicated to excellence in research, teaching, and community engagement on the subject of American political thought, history, and institutions, with a particular emphasis on the ideas and events of the American Founding and their continued global impact and relevance today.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or Government is required by the time the fellowship begins in August 2018. Candidates' work should align broadly with the Kinder Institute's scholarly mission, and we are especially interested in individuals whose research focuses on American constitutional and political development and/or American political thought.

The Fellowship is a 1.0 FTE position that comes with a competitive salary, university benefits, an office at the Kinder Institute, and E&E funds for conference travel, research, and other professional expenses. Postdoctoral Fellows teach one class per semester, as determined by the Kinder Institute and/or the MU Department of Political Science, and are expected to be in residence in Columbia for the duration of the academic year and to be active participants in intellectual life at the Institute. A more detailed job description can be found at democracy.missouri.edu.

To apply, please submit the following materials: a letter of interest, research proposal of no more than 10 pages, curriculum vitae, two emblematic examples of written scholarship, and sample syllabi for two courses that you would be interested in teaching or developing. In addition, applicants should supply three letters of reference, sealed or under separate cover, or emailed directly by the referee. All materials should be sent to Kinder Institute Communications Associate Thomas Kane, electronically at KaneTC@missouri.edu, using "Kinder Postdoctoral Fellowship" in the subject line, or by post to: Thomas Kane, Kinder Institute on Constitutional Democracy, 409A Jesse Hall, Columbia, MO, 65211. Specific queries about the position should be directed to Kinder Institute Director and Professor of Political Science Justin Dyer (DyerJB@missouri.edu).

Review of applications will begin on February 1, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Missouri is an EO/AE employer. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. To request ADA Accommodations, please contact the university's ADA Coordinator Amber Cheek (CheekA@missouri.edu or 573.884.7278).

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/2/2018

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3882

Wabash College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor (American Politics)

The Political Science Department at Wabash College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning July 1, 2018. This position is a one-year sabbatical replacement, and the teaching load is 6 courses (3-3). ABD required; PhD preferred.

We seek candidates who will teach introductory American Politics and a range of upper-level undergraduate courses. Any specialization will be considered, but we are especially interested in candidates who will engage students in the 2018 midterm elections and/or develop courses that will contribute to at least one of the College's interdisciplinary programs (e.g., Black Studies, Gender Studies, Hispanic Studies, Global Health, Film & Digital Media; for a full listing of programs, see <https://www.wabash.edu/academics/>). We give preference to candidates with a strong commitment to the liberal arts, college-level teaching experience, support for undergraduate research, and an ability to work effectively with a diverse student body.

Wabash College is located in Crawfordsville, Indiana, approximately 45 minutes from both Indianapolis and West Lafayette. In addition to the amenities these cities offer, Crawfordsville is located near some of the best outdoor recreational opportunities in the state. For more information about the College and the local area, see <http://www.wabash.edu>.

To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by February 5, 2018. To apply, please visit <http://www.wabash.edu/employment/home>. At the time of application, please be prepared to submit your cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, unofficial undergraduate and graduate transcripts (official transcripts will be required upon hire), and email addresses for three persons who will submit confidential letters of recommendation. In addition to highlighting your research interests and trajectory, your cover letter should indicate which courses you have taught, which courses you are immediately ready to teach, as well as those you would be willing and able to prepare. Please direct questions to Pam Sacco, Academic Administrative Coordinator, at saccop@wabash.edu or Shamira Gelbman, Chair of the Political Science Department, at gelmans@wabash.edu.

Wabash College, a liberal arts college for men, seeks faculty and staff who are committed to providing quality engagement with students, high levels of academic challenge and support, and meaningful experiences that prepare students for life and leadership in a diverse, multicultural world. Wabash is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applications from persons of all backgrounds.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/5/2018

Date Posted: 12/29/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 3908

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Other

Stanford's Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society invites applications for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship, with the opportunity for a renewal for second year. The successful candidates will join an interdisciplinary team of faculty, postdocs, and PhD students, and will contribute to intellectual life at the Center.

Applications are welcome from scholars across the humanities, social sciences, and social science-related professional schools. We seek to appoint promising postdoctoral scholars who are actively engaged in research on topics related to our core scholarly mission, which is to develop new knowledge about civil society, the impact of philanthropy, and relations between nonprofits, government, and business. It is a broad mandate, open to scholars from a wide range of disciplines. Our recent postdoctoral fellows have studied the uneasy relationship between democracy and philanthropy, associational life in authoritarian societies, environmental movements in China, unequal access to social capital, and the relationship between government provision of social services and the growth of the nonprofit sector.

The Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society is an affiliate of the Institute for Research in the Social Sciences (IRiSS). Since 2006, the Center has supported PhD students and undergraduates from across the university. The post-doctoral fellowship program, which began in 2010, is an effort to support young scholars from outside Stanford. The Center also sponsors a Junior Scholars Forum every June in which postdoctoral fellows participate.

We invite applicants from any relevant social science or humanities field, including but not limited to sociology, political science, psychology, economics, philosophy, history, business and public administration, or public policy. Candidates are required to have a PhD by June 30, 2018, but no earlier than June 2015, and should have demonstrated the promise of excellence in research.

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will be appointed for a one-year term beginning on August 1 or September 1, 2018. Competitive salary and health insurance and travel funds. . The program falls under U.S. Immigration J-1 Exchange Visitor Visa activities.

Application materials should be submitted to the Stanford University Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society via email to vdao@stanford.edu using the subject line "PACS Post-Doctoral Fellowship 2019." The deadline to submit is January 30, 2018.

Please include the following information in electronic format:

1. Cover letter detailing the reasons for the applicant's interest in joining the project and coming to Stanford.
2. Curriculum Vitae.
3. Research proposal detailing the research that the fellow would undertake while at Stanford (five page limit).
4. Writing sample consisting of either a dissertation chapter or a recent published paper.
5. Graduate Transcript with proof that applicants have completed all the requirements for the PhD, or a letter from their PhD advisor stating they will do so by June 2018
6. Two Letters of Recommendation

Please disclose if you have additional funding arrangements.

Questions about the application process or requirements should be directed to Valerie Dao at vdao@stanford.edu.

Inquiries about the program can be directed either to Faculty Co-Directors Woody Powell or Rob Reich.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 12/21/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3902

Oberlin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics/ Quantitative Policy Analysis Post-Doctoral Fellow

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a post-doctoral faculty position in quantitative policy analysis in the College of Arts and Sciences. Appointment is for the 2018-19 academic year. This is a non-continuing position.

The incumbent will teach one course per semester in the quantitative analysis of public policy with at least some emphasis on American politics, help direct a series of guest scholars/policy practitioners, and mentor students interested in policy analysis.

The incumbent will pursue teaching responsibilities for one class per semester in the quantitative analysis of public policy.

The incumbent will also engage in sustained scholarly research and/or other creative work appropriate to the position, help direct a series of guest scholars/policy practitioners, and participate in a range of mentoring responsibilities for students interested in policy analysis. Among the qualifications required for appointment is the Ph.D. degree (in hand or expected by fall semester of 2018). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable. To apply, candidates should visit the online application site found at <https://jobs.oberlin.edu>. A complete application will be comprised of 1) a cover letter that includes an articulation of the applicant's teaching philosophy and scholarship / artistic interests; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) unofficial transcript; 4) evidence of teaching effectiveness; 5) a writing sample; and 6) letters of reference from three (3) recommenders.* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory's online application process at: <https://jobs.oberlin.edu/>

*By providing three (3) Professional References (names and email addresses), you agree that we may contact them through our applicant web portal. Reference writers will be asked to submit an electronic letter of recommendation. Please note: at this time we are unable to accept letters of recommendation from an Interfolio email address. Review of applications will begin on January 29, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the January 29, 2018 deadline will be guaranteed full consideration. Questions about the position can be addressed to: Marc Blecher, Professor and Chair of the Politics Department, at marc.blecher@oberlin.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/29/2018

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3892

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Security, Southeast Asia, Political Economy

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a Department of Defense executive education institution that educates, empowers, connects, current and future leaders from the Indo-Pacific region. The Center offers in-resident courses, workshops and dialogue events in Honolulu and the Indo-Pacific region, and conducts policy-relevant research in order to build security capacity and collaboration in the Indo-Pacific. DKI APCSS address traditional and non-traditional security issues, including the relationship between governance and the security sector; transnational threats such as organized crime, terrorism, violent extremism, and trafficking; maritime security and the international rule of law; management of natural and man-made crises through HADR; analytical security assessments; and whole-of-society collaboration to include the role of women, peace and security. The audience of Fellows are mid to senior level civilian and military officials from all over the world. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

FACULTY MEMBER

The Center currently seeks world-class educators to teach, facilitate, research, and build capacity in the Indo-Pacific Region: Responsibilities include:

- Teaching executive education courses in a participant-centered, activity-based context
- Facilitating seminars and workshops in residential courses, regional seminars, and workshops
- Contributing to capacity building endeavors and security cooperation projects in the region
- Contributing analysis of security-related trends in the Asia-Pacific region
- Contributing to curriculum development
- Performing administrative and staff duties to support the Center's academic functions

Of particular interest are candidates with expertise in the following areas:

Expertise is sought in the following areas:

- Violent Extremism/Terrorism: Background and understanding of violent extremism and terrorism, broadly defined.
- OR
- Transnational Crime, Organized Crime, Combatting Illicit Activities: Background understanding in any of these areas, whether through academic training or government practice
- Ideal candidates will possess the following:
  - Master Degree or PhD in a related area or discipline.
  - Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation.
  - Proven ability to function as a team member.

The following are preferred for all faculty positions:

- Experience working in the Indo-Asia Pacific region
- Expertise in the security sector of one or more Asia-Pacific countries.
- Familiarity with facilitation-based teaching, and state-of-the-art educational technology.
- Professional expertise at the operational, strategic or policy level in a whole-of-government or multilateral setting.

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $90,789 - $120,157 excludes locality pay (17.92%) and cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 11.32% but subject to change). These are limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years (with the possibility of renewal). Relocation expenses may be authorized.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. Interested candidates should submit the following items:

- a. LETTER OF INTEREST. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year, and explain your interest in future career considerations with the Department of Defense.
- b. CURRICULUM VITAE. Should reflect the following: educational background, work experience, publications and salary history.
- c. TWO LETTERS OF REFERENCE.
- d. TRANSCRIPT(s). Provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting advance degree(s).

2. Submit all required documents to physical address:

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies
Attn: Chief, Human Resources Department
2058 Maluhia Road
Honolulu, Hawaii 96815-1949

or email to:

hrapplications@dkiapcss.net

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1. Application deadline: Open until filled. Cut off: February 2, 2018.
2. Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements. Application packages will be retained for one year.
3. Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned.
4. The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor. U.S. Citizenship is not required however applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.
5. The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at hrapplications@dkiapcss.org to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.
6. Frequent travel required.
7. Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org.

Start Date: Winter 2017

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3884

Roosevelt University

Rank: Lecturer, Political Science

The Department of Government, Law and Justice at Roosevelt University invites applications for a non-tenure track position in American Politics to begin August 15, 2018.

The department seeks candidates specializing in U.S. Constitutional law and judicial politics. Additional expertise in the fields of social movements or Chicago and Illinois politics is preferred but not required.

Candidates will be expected to teach the core sequence of the department's Legal Studies minor, which is designed to prepare students to apply to law school, as well as to serve as the program director of the minor. Candidates with ideas and experience about how to grow the stature and effectiveness of the minor as well as to establish more and deeper partnerships with regional law schools are especially welcome. Roosevelt University particularly seeks candidates who can successfully teach, work with and mentor a diverse student population.

Roosevelt University is a private, non-sectarian university with over 4,500 students studying at campuses in Chicago's south Loop, suburban Schaumburg and online. Founded on the principles of inclusion and social justice, Roosevelt is the fourth most ethnically diverse college in the Midwest, with a mission to prepare students to assume roles as leaders in their professions and communities.

Ph.D. in American Politics specializing in U.S. Constitutional law and judicial politics.

Departmental contact is David Faris at dfaris@roosevelt.edu

For more information on this posting, please visit us at: <http://jobs.roosevelt.edu/postings/4196>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3887

Arizona State University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor Job Code #12239

Specializations: Leadership Studies, Political Thought: Historical, Religion & Politics

The School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership at Arizona State University (<https://scetl.asu.edu/>) invites applications for a full-time tenure-eligible position in Classical Liberal Education. Rank and tenure status will be commensurate with experience. The candidate will develop a new Master of Arts program in Classical Liberal Education and Leadership, with anticipated start date of August 2018. U.S. News and World Report has ranked Arizona State University as the most innovative university in the country for the past three years, ahead of Stanford and the Massachusetts Institute for Technology. Contributing to that no. 1 ranking with regard to "Innovation in Leadership" is the new School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership, which aims to create a new kind of leader, blending tradition and innovation, and reviving the nexus of classical liberal education and civic education.

The School is launching a Master of Arts degree for teachers and adult learners interested in deeper study of the Western intellectual tradition. The focus will be study of great works, debates, and themes of classical liberal education but an important theme will be civic questions of character and leadership. The program and its curriculum will be conducted partly through on-campus immersion in the summer and partly online during the academic year. As with any Arizona State University professor, the successful candidate will be expected to develop a research program, engage undergraduate and graduate students through effective teaching, participate in service to the university and profession, and build productive relationships with faculty both within and beyond the School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership.

Required qualifications include: a doctorate in political science, history, philosophy, classics, religion, or closely related field by time of appointment; dissertation or research focused on an important work, theme, or area of the Western intellectual tradition; an active research program with clear potential for excellence in research activity and publications; evidence of university teaching experience. Desired qualifications: interest and ability to teach courses spanning the Western intellectual tradition and the recognized works and themes of classical liberal education; interest in study, teaching and discussion of civic education and leadership as a component of the great texts and debates of the Western tradition and liberal education; experience with graduate teaching; experience with education programs for school teachers; demonstrated success meeting the needs of diverse student populations and/or reaching out to diverse communities.

Application Deadline/Procedures: Initial deadline for review of complete applications is January 30th, 2018; if not filled, review of complete applications will continue on the 1st and 15th of each month thereafter until the search is closed. A background check is required prior to employment. Applicants must send: 1) a letter of interest outlining their qualifications; 2) curriculum vita; 3) reprints of representative publications; 4) contact information (including email addresses) for three references; 5) copy of graduate transcript; to: Classical Liberal Education Search Committee, School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership, at scetl@asu.edu. For further information, contact the Search Committee Chair: Dr. Kent Wright; email: Kent.Wright@asu.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3881

Rollins College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor, American Politics Rollins College

The Department of Political Science at Rollins College invites applications for a one year visiting assistant professor of American politics position, beginning August 2018. We seek a candidate with broad training in American politics and specializations in some combination of political behavior, political communication/information, methodology, and Latino or minority politics. The successful candidate will also have a demonstrated commitment to teaching excellence in a liberal arts institution.

Rollins College, the first institution of higher learning in Florida, is a small liberal arts college in Winter Park, historically emphasizing innovative and quality teaching in a small class setting. We are dedicated to building a culturally diverse and pluralistic faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from minorities and women. Ph.D. at time of appointment is preferred, but ABDs will be considered. Our visitor teaching load is four courses a semester, including introduction to American government and a possible general education course for non-majors.

Through its mission to create global citizens, Rollins College is firmly committed to creating a just community that embraces diversity and inclusion; persons from historically under-represented minority groups are encouraged to apply. All candidates should be prepared to address (in the online application and throughout the interview process) their ability to contribute to and sustain a diverse and inclusive environment through teaching, scholarship, and service.

Rollins College is a comprehensive, liberal arts college located just north of Orlando, Florida, a diverse metropolitan community with a thriving economic and cultural scene. Nearby, Orlando International Airport provides easy access to U.S. and international destinations. The College emphasizes innovative and quality teaching in small classes, and ranks number one among 121 Southern master's-level universities in the annual rankings of "America's Best Colleges," released by U.S. News & World Report. Please visit the College website at www.rollins.edu.

Rollins College offers a generous benefits package featuring comprehensive health coverage, retirement savings plan with generous employer contribution and full tuition waiver after one year for employees, spouses, domestic partners and dependents.

To apply, submit your application and upload the following materials by Feb. 20, 2018:

1. Letter of interest
2. Curriculum vita
3. Transcripts
4. List of three references (referees will receive email asking them to upload reference letter)
5. Statement of teaching philosophy
6. Teaching evaluations (if available)

Questions may be directed to: Mike Gunter, Chair, Department of Political Science mgunter@rollins.edu.

Apply link: <http://jobs.rollins.edu/cw/en-us/job/492679/visiting-assistant-professor-american-politics>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/20/2018

Date Posted: 12/12/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 3872

The Scholars Strategy Network

Rank: Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other
Specializations: American Politics, Legislative Studies, State Politics

Scholars Strategy Network 2018-2020 Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Scholars Strategy Network is opening applications for the second cohort of its two-year Postdoctoral Fellowship to support early-career scholars in any discipline who wish to engage in research and public scholarship to improve public policy and strengthen democracy. After an intensive, short boot camp, each fellow will be based at a university in one of SSN's regional chapters.

Objectives

Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellows will help academics insert research, facts, and scholarly perspectives into local, state, and national policy debates. Successful fellows will build webs of relationships, transforming regional Scholars Strategy Network chapters into powerful research hubs to inform the policymaking process. Fellows will:

Meet with scholars to learn about their areas of expertise and interest;

Meet with policymakers, civic leaders, and journalists to learn about their interests, policy goals, and research questions;

With advice and direction from senior academics, create opportunities for scholars to engage in the policy process by matchmaking and by helping scholars build lasting collaborations with non-academic stakeholders;

Work with scholars to prepare two-page briefs that clearly convey their research to non-academic audiences;

Organize at least one significant group project that brings together multiple academic perspectives to synthesize research and scholarly perspectives in response to a request from a non-academic stakeholder;

Help local policymakers, journalists, civic leaders, and member scholars access the expertise of the national Scholars Strategy Network by connecting them to out-of-state scholars and, as appropriate, arranging visits, State House or City Hall briefings, and university talks.

Research and Writing

Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to allot fifty percent of their time to their own policy-relevant research. This research can continue doctoral work or comprise new projects that can be completed within the two-year postdoctoral appointment. Ideally, each fellow's research should enrich the policy landscape in a way that is useful to, and guided by, local stakeholders and practitioners.

Mentorship and Training

Mentorship: SSN chapter co-leaders will connect their Fellow with a mentor from that chapter who has interest and expertise in the Fellow's research area. A Fellow's research mentor can come from any of the colleges and universities with faculty members involved in the relevant SSN chapter. The research mentor (supported by the SSN national team) will help the Fellow write about research findings and prepare related materials in ways that achieve academic excellence and have an impact on policy. In return for sustained engagement with the Fellow, research mentors will have the choice of receiving either a modest stipend or a small grant to help support joint research with the Fellow.

Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellows will also have several opportunities to share their work and receive advice and guidance from the academic members of Scholars Strategy Network's Steering Committee:

Theda Skocpol, SSN Director and Victor S. Thomas Professor of Government and Sociology, Harvard University

Lawrence R. Jacobs, Walter F. and Joan Mondale Chair of Political Studies, and Director of the Center for the Study of Politics and Governance, Hubert Humphrey School and Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota

Jacob S. Hacker, Stanley B. Resor Professor of Political Science, and Director of the Institution for Social and Policy Studies, Yale University

Suzanne Mettler, Clinton Rossiter Professor of American Institutions, Department of Government, Cornell University; Fellow of the Century Foundation

Amy Fried, Professor of Political Science, University of Maine

Training: Throughout the program, each cohort of Fellows will be supported with additional resources and training to help them achieve the goals described above. Fellows will learn how to become active players in public policy arenas by creating research and relationships for maximum policy impact and by organizing other chapter member scholars for the same purposes.

At the outset of the program, each cohort will spend a week with the SSN national team as part of an SSN Bootcamp. Fellows will get a deep understanding of how SSN supports scholars in public engagement work. They will meet the SSN staff, learn about the type of services available to member scholars, and begin training on how to support their chapters.

Fellows will participate in SSN policy trainings to learn how to effectively deliver evidence and ideas to policymakers and civic organizations. Fellows will also receive SSN media trainings and instruction from the national communications team on how a scholar can use the media to disseminate research and analysis to the public.

Finally, fellows will participate in SSN's National Leadership Retreat, where they will get a chance to learn from chapter leaders, staff, and steering committee members including Theda Skocpol, Jacob Hacker, Lawrence Jacobs, Suzanne Mettler, and Amy Fried. Fellows will also have an opportunity to present their own research and SSN work.

Program Information

Length of Fellowship: The SSN Postdoctoral Fellowships will last for two years, starting in July 2018 and running through June 2020.

Affiliation: Fellows will be affiliated with one of SSN's regional chapters and their corresponding institutions. Host chapters will be announced in February 2018.

Compensation: The SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship pays $48,000 annually. Benefits include health insurance, a modest allowance for approved travel to conferences, and reimbursement of appropriate work-related expenses.

Supervision: For chapter-related duties, the Fellow will report to the co-leaders of their base chapter and SSN's national Director of Policy and Organizing.

Eligibility

SSN Regional Postdoctoral Fellowships are open to applicants from all disciplines who have completed their PhD within the past three years and are prepared to work for two years starting July 2018. Applications are encouraged from soon-to-be or recent PhDs with experience or a strong interest in community or state-level organizing, public policy, and practical research.

Ideal candidates will be persons dedicated to SSN's mission and able to grasp how to make use of SSN's structure as a voluntary, federated network of member scholars.

Because SSN's national office is based in Cambridge, Massachusetts, postdoctoral fellows who will be based in SSN regional chapters must show evidence that they are self-starters able to work independently and manage several projects simultaneously. In addition, strong candidates must be able to translate research findings into clear language for public audiences and feel comfortable actively reaching out to a diverse group of external stakeholders. Candidates should have a knowledge of legislative and other government processes.

Fellows must be willing to be year-round residents of the community where their appointment is based for the duration of their two-year fellowship.

How to Apply

Fill out and attach the required documents to this Application Form: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdhCzm30LS\_9oQNHw1y6BPufkvWdKBdgVJOISaSRASv1Taz2w/viewform. More details on what is required below. For any questions, email Paola Maynard-Moll at fellows@scholars.org and use "SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship- Your Name" in the subject line.

Each application must include:

Statement of Interest: In 500 words or less, please detail your interest, background, and qualifications for the SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship.

Resume: Provide a curriculum vitae. Include civic or political engagement experience in your CV.

Dissertation Abstract and Date for the PhD: Provide the abstract and table of contents of your doctoral dissertation and (if the PhD is not yet awarded) include a letter from your advisor about the expected date for the degree.

Description of Proposed Research: In 1000 words or less, describe the research project you would like to undertake during the two-year fellowship, how you plan to incorporate feedback from non-academic stakeholders, and in what ways you anticipate doing outreach about your work during and after completion of the project.

OpEd: Write a jargon-free OpEd using research to comment on a current event or area of public interest. If you have already published such a piece, please submit it. If not, write a piece in 650 words or less. Find tips for OpEd writing at The OpEd Project.

Two Letters of Recommendation: Provide two letters of recommendation that speak to your ability to be successful in this program. Ideally, one letter should be from an academic supervisor and another from a supervisor or peer outside of academia or from an academic who has such experience.

Each application may also include:

Research Mentor: If you already have a research mentor in mind, and have spoken to that person about working together on the proposed project, you may submit the name and expertise of your proposed research mentor. Ideally, that person will write your academic letter of recommendation.

Personal Website: If you have a personal website, you may include a link.

Timing: Applications will be considered on a rolling basis. No applications will be considered after February 23, 2018.

SSN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of age, class, color, disability, ethnicity, faith, gender, national origin, race, sexual orientation or gender identity. People of color, people with disabilities, LGBTQ individuals, and women are strongly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/23/2018

Date Posted: 12/11/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3870

Valdosta State University

Rank: Department Head

Valdosta State University seeks qualified applicants for a fiscal (12-month) administrative faculty position in the Department of Political Science to serve as the department head. Position is tenure earning and rank is dependent upon credentials. Reporting directly to the Dean of the College, the department head is responsible for the overall day to day functions of the Political Science Department. This includes, but is not limited to:

- ?
  - Hiring, managing and evaluating faculty members within the department?
  - Conducting periodic Departmental meetings?
  - Scheduling classes and sections for each faculty member in each academic semester.
  - Advising, scheduling, overseeing internships and providing overrides, where appropriate, for students during the academic year?
  - Teaching required courses during the academic year.
  - Conducting required research during the academic year.
  - Attending required conferences, including those associated with academic presentations during the academic year.
  - Participating in Executive Committee meetings during the academic year.
  - Attending monthly University Department Head meetings?
  - Serves as Budget Manager for the departmental budget.

Required qualifications include a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field; a demonstrated leadership abilities in managing personnel, budgets, and administrative duties; meets qualifications for tenure and appointment as associate professor or professor; a demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching and learning, as well as scholarship; and a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Online application is required and should be submitted to <https://valdosta.peopleadmin.com/postings/15327>. Deadline for submission is February 1, 2018. For more information on the position contact Dr. Ross, Search Chair, via email dross@valdosta.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 2/1/2018

Date Posted: 12/11/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3867

Harvard University

Rank: Inequality in America Initiative Postdoctoral Fellow

Position Title: Inequality in America Initiative Postdoctoral Fellow

Deadline: 16 January 2018

Organization: Harvard University

Unit: Faculty of Arts & Sciences | Division of Social Science

The Inequality in America Initiative seeks applications from recent doctoral degree recipients from across the social sciences who are interested in joining an interdisciplinary network of Harvard researchers working to address the multiple challenges of inequality. This postdoctoral training program is intended to seed new research directions; facilitate collaboration and mentorship across disciplines; develop new leaders in the study of inequality; and deepen teaching expertise on the subject.

The fellowship is a two-year postdoctoral training program, with an optional third year conditional on program director approval and independent funding. The award includes $65,000/year plus fringe; office space; $2500 for computer equipment; a $10,000 research account; up to $2500/yr for research travel.

The program director will pair each fellow with two Harvard faculty mentors (including one from outside the fellow's primary discipline), participating in one or more of five major research clusters:

- Mobility and Migration
- Science, Technology, Education, and Health
- Work, Family, and Opportunity
- Governance, Citizenship, and Social Justice
- America Inequality, Globally

Applicants to the 2018-19 program must have received a doctorate or terminal degree in May 2015 or later; applicants without a terminal degree must demonstrate that they will receive one by August 2018.

To learn more and apply, visit <https://inequalityinamerica.fas.harvard.edu/postdoctoral-program>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/16/2018

Date Posted: 12/8/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3862

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Maritime Policy, Strategy, and Governance

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Regulatory Policy, International Security

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate, upper-level maritime policy courses and, occasionally, introductory government / political science courses. The ideal candidate will be able to teach one or more of the following topic areas: maritime policy and strategy; ocean and arctic policy; Asia-Pacific studies or similar regional specialization with a maritime focus; coastal governance; marine resource management; marine safety; port security; maritime transportation, commerce, and industry. The anticipated teaching load for this position will be 9-12 credit hours (of one or more 3-credit courses) per semester.

Other possible responsibilities include facilitation of learning enrichment opportunities for cadets via speakers, travel, and contacts; academic advising; work as a faculty advisor to student research projects, clubs, and other co-curricular activities; individual research and scholarship; institutional, divisional, and departmental service; and other duties as assigned. In addition, the successful candidate will work collaboratively with the Academy's Center for Arctic Study and Policy. Such efforts may include, but need not be limited to, work on Arctic issues. Major duties also include participation in leadership and professional development activities with students outside of class and service to the Academy.

For more information, and to apply, please see: <http://www.uscga.edu/jobs>

The application deadline has been extended until Monday, January 8, 2018. NB: Applicants must have a COMPLETED application on file before the application closing date to be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/8/2018

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3858

Presbyterian College

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Politics or Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

PROPOSED JOB POSTING: "Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Politics or Policy"

The Political Science Department at Presbyterian College invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in American Politics or Policy to begin in the Fall 2018 semester. The ideal candidate will have teaching or research interests that include Public Administration and/or Public Policy. The successful candidate will contribute to the department by teaching in its current introductory and upper-level offerings in public administration, public policy, research methods and/or American politics. The ability to connect departmental offerings to the College's new initiatives in health professions is especially encouraged.

Demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching, research, student advising, and service to the College and community are essential for successful applicants. The candidate selected will be expected to offer seven courses per year (3-4 teaching load). A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy is expected at the time of appointment. ABD candidates are also welcome to apply but are encouraged to have their degrees completed by the contract start date in August 2018. Candidates who represent diverse backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply.

Presbyterian College (PC) is a four-year undergraduate liberal-arts college affiliated with the Presbyterian Church USA. The College actively supports professional development and offers numerous grant opportunities for research and teaching. Located in Clinton, South Carolina, the College is approximately 40 minutes from the Greenville and Spartanburg, S.C., metro area and about one hour from Columbia, S.C. The area offers abundant opportunities for social and recreational activities in one of the fastest growing regions of the country with easy access to Charlotte, N.C., Asheville, N.C., and Atlanta, GA.

Applicants should send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching experience and philosophy, a statement of research interests, copies of unofficial graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Booker Ingram, Professor of Political Science, Presbyterian College, 503 South Broad Street, Clinton, SC, 29325. Electronic submissions of application materials are encouraged and should be sent to politicalscience@presby.edu. For specific questions regarding the position, please contact Dr. Booker Ingram directly at btingram@presby.edu. Review of applications will begin January 15, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

Presbyterian College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The College seeks to hire the most qualified candidate and does not discriminate against any legally protected class.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3850

University of Florida

Rank: Lecturer: American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, invites applications for a Lecturer appointment in American Politics to begin August 16, 2018. This is a nine-month, full-time, non-tenure accruing, renewable appointment with the opportunity for advancement in UF's Lecturer track, funded by the UF Teacher/Scholar Initiative. The role of lecturers is highly valued by the department and the university. To encourage and facilitate their professional development, lecturers at the University of Florida are eligible for promotion through the ranks of Lecturer, Senior Lecturer, and Master Lecturer.. The prospective hire is expected to enhance our broad training of undergraduate students. We especially welcome applications from candidates with a track record of excellence in teaching and student mentoring at the undergraduate level. Specialization within the field of American Politics is open. We seek applicants who have proven excellence in undergraduate teaching and who have broad training in political science research methods. Applicants should be as comfortable offering a large introductory American Federal Government course as they are teaching a small Research Methods course for our Honors Students, in addition to upper division undergrad courses in their own areas of interest. The normal teaching assignment is three courses per semester, but a reduction in teaching is possible with significant service to the department, such as coordinating the Department's Political Internship Program or Study Abroad Programs. The successful candidate should possess a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field at the time of appointment.

Applicants are encouraged to visit the website (<http://www.polisci.ufl.edu>) to learn more about the Department of Political Science. The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, and includes a full benefits package. For full consideration, applications must be submitted online at <http://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/cw/en-us/job/504705/lecturer-american-politics/>

All applications must include:

- a) Cover letter
- b) Curriculum vitae
- c) Statement of teaching interests/philosophy
- d) Statement on a commitment to diversity in research, teaching, and mentoring
- e) Statement of research interests/plans
- f) Up to two reprints or pre-prints, and
- g) The names and email address for three references must be provided on the application. An email will be sent automatically to your references, requesting them to upload their letters.

Review of applications will continue until the position is filled. All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records and reference checks. The final candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered "official" if a designation of "Issued to Student" is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at <http://www.naces.org/>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3853

Western Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Urban Politics

Western Michigan University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in American Politics beginning Fall 2018 at the rank of Assistant Professor, pending budgetary approval. Preferred areas of specialization include subnational politics (State and Local Politics and/or Urban Politics) and public policy. The candidate should have experience with (or interest in) the operation and growth of internship programs and other professional field experiences for undergraduates. Administrative and teaching responsibilities related to our internship program will account for a substantial part of the instructional workload associated with this position. Successful candidates are expected to have a well-defined research agenda, to be prepared to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, and should have a completed PhD by August, 2018.

Western Michigan University (WMU), located in Southwest Michigan, is a vibrant, nationally recognized student-centered research institution with an enrollment of nearly 25,000. WMU delivers high-quality undergraduate instruction, has a strong graduate division, and fosters significant research activities. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has placed WMU among the 76 public institutions in the nation designated as research universities with high research activities.

The Political Science Department offers Bachelors, Masters, and Ph.D. degrees with a unique opportunity for individuals seeking a balanced research and teaching career. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, with an excellent benefits package. Please visit wmich.edu/hr/jobs for detailed information and application procedures. For additional questions, please contact Dr. John Clark (john.clark@wmich.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI 49008-5346. Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2018, and continue until position is filled.

WMU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Minorities, women, veterans, individuals with disabilities and all other qualified individuals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/8/2018

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3857

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: ASSISTANT OR ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE: AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS, BEHAVIOR, AND POLICY (TENURE-TRACK)

POSITION: ASSISTANT OR ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE: AMERICAN INSTITUTIONS, BEHAVIOR, AND POLICY (TENURE-TRACK)

RESPONSIBILITIES: The Department of Political Science seeks applications for a tenure track appointment at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor beginning August 2018. A robust academic record with a teaching specialization in American Politics is necessary. Successful candidates will be an active educator in their field, must demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence, and will fulfill a standard teaching load of three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach introductory sections of American National Government, as well as State and Local Government, Congress, the Presidency, Religion and Politics, and new upper-division courses of the candidate's choosing and design. The successful candidate will also serve as a mentor to students and become the primary advisor to the department's chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, the national political science honor society. The successful candidate will share in the department's advising and service responsibilities. The ability to work with colleagues to assess and improve curricula regarding both departmental and general education requirements is necessary. The candidate must demonstrate a promising research record and ability to produce research and/or creative works such as publications and other scholarship in their respective area of specialization. The candidate must demonstrate institutional citizenship through active engagement at the department, college, university, public, and professional communities.

QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in Politics or Political Science required. Experience in teaching introductory and upper-level political science courses is strongly preferred. Experience with advising students and student organizations is strongly preferred. Experience performing course, curriculum, and program assessment is strongly preferred. Online teaching experience is strongly preferred. Evidence of scholarship or scholarship potential is necessary. Successful candidates must be committed to working effectively with diverse student populations. Applicants are expected to describe their commitment to fostering a diverse educational environment through their research, teaching, and/or service activities.

ADMINISTRATIVE UNIT: Information about the University is available at <https://louisiana.edu>, the College at <https://liberalarts.louisiana.edu>, and Department at <https://politicalscience.louisiana.edu>.

SALARY: Commensurate with experience.

STARTING DATE: August 1, 2018

APPLICATIONS: To apply visit: <https://louisiana.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=116> and via the "Apply now" link on that page upload a letter of application, a vita, unofficial transcripts, sample syllabuses, student evaluation of instruction scores or other evidence of teaching effectiveness, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research agenda, and evidence of an active research agenda or the potential for one.

Also, SEPARATELY three confidential letters of recommendation must be e-mailed by the letter writers to pols@louisiana.edu. All confidential letters of recommendation must address teaching competence or potential, as well as potential to be a collegial and contributing departmental citizen.

Inquiries about the status of the application should be directed

Whitney Kidder, Administrative Assistant
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: pols@louisiana.edu
Phone: 337-482-6171
Fax: 337-482-6170

Inquiries about the substance of the position should be directed to:

Dr. Bryan-Paul Frost,
Chair of Political Science Search Committee
Department of Political Science
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
P.O. Box 43581
Lafayette, LA 70504-3581
Email: bfrost@louisiana.edu
Phone: 337-482-6171
Fax: 337-482-6170

The review process will continue until the position is filled. We will only contact applicants who are being considered for possible interviews.

The University of Louisiana at Lafayette is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply. The University of Louisiana at Lafayette does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or disability in admission to, access to, treatment in, or employment in its programs and activities as required by Title VI and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, Age Discrimination Act of 1975, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Executive Order 11246, Section 503 and 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Section 402 of the Vietnam Era Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974 and the 1990 Americans With Disabilities Act. - See more at: <http://personnel.louisiana.edu/employment-opportunities/policy-nondiscrimination>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3848

Ohio Wesleyan University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics and Government

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Parties & Organizations, Public Opinion

The Department of Politics and Government at Ohio Wesleyan University invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in American politics with emphasis on American political behavior at the Assistant Professor rank to begin in August 2018. This position requires teaching three courses each semester, including courses on voting and elections, mass media, political parties and interest groups, research methods, and an introductory course on American politics. We would also welcome candidates who can teach public administration, or new courses related to their interests. This position is also expected to contribute to our Arneson Institute for Practical Politics, which includes helping with student internships and our Mock Convention held every four years, and coordinating campus-wide efforts to facilitate student participation in elections.

OHIO WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY promotes and celebrates an inclusive environment free from constraints in areas of culture, race, sex, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, religion, family relationship, or economic barriers. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged as OWU is an equal opportunity institution and has a strong commitment to supporting diversity, equity and inclusion which lends to our continuing and vigorous efforts to increase the diversity of the campus community, to promote equal employment opportunities, and to ensure nondiscrimination in all aspects of our programs and activities. Ohio Wesleyan University (Delaware, Ohio) is located 20 miles north of Columbus, a growing and increasingly diverse metropolitan area.

Qualifications: Applicants must have at least ABD standing in political science. Ph.D. at the time of appointment, teaching experience at the collegiate level and evidence of research potential are strongly preferred.

Application packets should include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, and, to the extent possible, evidence of teaching ability. Applications received by January 10, 2018 will be guaranteed full consideration. Application materials should be sent electronically to Prof. Jim Franklin, chair, Department of Politics and Government, at pgsearch@owu.edu. Mailing address is Department of Politics and Government, Ohio Wesleyan University, 61 S. Sandusky St., Delaware, Ohio 43015.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3839

Tarleton State University

Rank: Political Science Instructor

Specializations: State Politics, United States, American Politics

The Department of Social Sciences seeks a full-time Instructor of Political Science. The position will be primarily responsible for the teaching and management of a redesign course model for sections of GOVT 2306 Texas Government. The position may be transitioned to 15 hours of undergraduate courses per semester in GOVT 2306 or 2305 based on the instructional needs of the department. The position is based on the Stephenville campus and requires a Masters Degree in Political Science and redesign, hybrid and/or online teaching experience.

REQUIRED EDUCATION/EXPERIENCE: Masters Degree in Political Science; Experience teaching redesign, hybrid and/or online courses. Experience teaching Texas or Federal Government.

PROPOSED EMPLOYMENT DATE: 09/01/2018

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS: Applications accepted only online at <https://jobs.tarleton.edu>. The department requires a letter of application, statement of teaching philosophy, cv, transcripts (official or unofficial), and three recommendations for this position. If you are not able to attach the documents when applying, please mail the requested documents to:

Dr. Eric V. Morrow
Department Head
Department of Social Sciences
Tarleton State University
Box T-0660, Tarleton Station
Stephenville, TX 76402

If mailing, please make sure you reference the Requisition Number #0801761 and title of this position.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/28/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3832

Lee University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

The Department of History, Political Science, and Humanities at Lee University invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position of Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science beginning in the fall of 2018.

Duties

The successful candidate will have a concentration in American Politics and will be expected to teach courses in American Politics, the university core course in American Government, and a two-course sequence in Research Methods. Secondary specialization is open. An ability and willingness to teach courses in Public Administration would be an asset. Additional duties will include mentoring undergraduate research, advising students in the department's majors, developing curriculum, serving on university committees, seeking ways to serve the greater community, and working cooperatively with the Department Chair and departmental faculty.

Required Qualifications

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science with a specialty in American Politics. (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date.) The candidate will express a strong commitment to faith in Jesus Christ and Christian lifestyle expectations, indicate a commitment to undergraduate education, passionately support the Christian liberal arts, demonstrate college teaching ability, and, effectively integrate Christian faith into the academic discipline and the classroom.

Lee University is a Christ-centered, comprehensive university that is recognized as an emerging leader in higher education in the southeastern region. To apply please send a completed application form (available at the website listed below), curriculum vitae, statement of Christian faith, and statement describing the integration of Christian faith with discipline of expertise, transcripts, three letters of reference, and student evaluations (if available) to Dr. Randy Wood, Chair of the Department of History, Political Science and Humanities, Lee University, P.O. Box 3450, Cleveland, TN 37320-3450 or by email to rwood@leeuniversity.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information contact Dr. Randy Wood at rwood@leeuniversity.edu or (423) 614-8137. The application form is available at: <http://www.leeuniversity.edu/>

uploadedFiles/Content/human-resources/faculty-application%281%29.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/27/2017
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 3828

Northeastern University

Rank: Teaching Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science at Northeastern University invites applications for the position of Assistant, Associate or Full Teaching Professor in Political Science beginning September 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to and experience in undergraduate teaching and other experiential educational programs such as Model UN, Model NATO, and Model Arab League. This is an untenured, but continuing and tracked position with the possibility of promotion to Associate and Full Teaching Professor, as well as multi-year (3 year and 5 year) contracts. The initial rank will be determined based on the credentials of the final candidate. The standard teaching load is six courses per year as well as service and professional development duties.

Qualifications

Candidates are required to hold a doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field by the start date. All candidates are expected to provide evidence of excellence in teaching. While course needs are broad, candidates must be able to teach undergraduate courses in the core teaching areas of American Politics, Public Policy, Comparative Politics, or International Relations in addition to other elective courses in the candidate's area of expertise for the undergraduate degree programs in Political Science. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

Candidates are required to upload their CV, a cover letter, a teaching statement, a sample syllabus, teaching evaluations (if available), and a list of three references. Applications must be submitted through our on-line portal <https://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions>. Questions may be directed to Professor Thomas Vicino, Department Chair (t.vicino@northeastern.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/20/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3814

St. Mary's University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Political ScienceSubfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The St. Mary's University Political Science Department is conducting a search for an Assistant Professor and Director of its onsite Masters in Public Administration program. The desired applicant must hold a Ph.D. in political science or a Doctorate in public administration (DPA) from an accredited University with major concentrations in areas related to Public Administration and American Politics. Teaching, professional expertise, and research in areas of Public Sector Performance or Organizational Management, Research Methods in Public Administration, Public Policy or American Political Behavior or some combination is preferable. The typical teaching load at the University is four courses per semester. One course release per semester is available for a successful candidate for directing the graduate program in Public Administration. The duties of this directorship include course and program scheduling, program assessment, and developing relationships for internship opportunities with local municipal and state government agencies and employers. The Director would also explore further extending the MPA program online. Experience with the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA) or the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) or with the International City/County Management Association (ICMA) - or other professional administration organizations- is highly desirable. Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate an interest in affiliating with the University's Center for Catholic Studies, which will explore a wide range of human issues across disciplinary boundaries, and in a global or local context, including, but not limited to, poverty, economic justice, religious freedom, or immigration, etc...

The position is a full-time, tenure track appointment, commencing in August 2018. Department faculty cover a full range of courses in a general graduate degree in public administration, an undergraduate political science degree, and provide support to core courses in the university core curriculum. The department is the civic conscience of the university and fosters the building of "the good life" through education of the whole student, committed to civic engagement, justice and service to society. The Department resides in the School of Humanities and Social Science.

St. Mary's is the oldest Catholic university in the Southwest, and continues to advocate the Marianist mission of academic excellence and servant leadership. Founded in 1852 by the Society of Mary, St. Mary's is a comprehensive Catholic and Marianist university with a strong tradition of integrating liberal arts with professional studies. St. Mary's enrolls approximately 3,800 students in a diverse university with four schools, more than 40 academic programs including Ph.D. and J.D. programs, and numerous pre-professional programs.

Applications can be found at <http://stmarytx.applicantpro.com/jobs/> with the option to upload all supporting documents electronically. Along with the employment application, please also submit (1) letter of application addressing interest in position, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) official graduate transcript confirming the doctoral degree, (4) three letters of reference; (5) statements of research agenda and teaching philosophy; and (6) evidence of teaching excellence. The Chair of the search committee for this Political Science position is Dr. Arturo Vega, avega2@stmarytx.edu Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science (210) 431-8028.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until position is filled. Any offer of employment will be contingent upon successful completion of a clear background check. EOE

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/17/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3807Vanderbilt University*Rank: CSDI Post-doctoral Research ScholarSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions (CSDI) at Vanderbilt University's Department of Political Science seeks applicants for up to four (4) Post-doctoral Research Scholars to support research on political institutions, opinion or behavior. Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their doctoral degrees within the three years prior to the start of the fellowship, or who will complete their PhD by August 1, 2018. These positions involve a year of supported research at Vanderbilt University starting August 16, 2018. There is no teaching requirement associated with the appointment, but there may be some research associated with the mission of the Center as part of the fellowship. It would be no more than 10 hours per week. Successful candidates will be given a competitive salary, health care benefits, office space, computing resources, and a research fund.

Candidates should submit a vita and a cover letter describing their research project, what they hope to accomplish while at CSDI, and why spending time at Vanderbilt would provide a useful setting for that research. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, and letters of reference are also required. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before January 15, 2018. Applications should be submitted online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47216>

Vanderbilt University has a strong institutional commitment to recruiting and retaining an academically and culturally diverse community of faculty. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/17/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3802Vanderbilt University*Rank: CSDI Senior Visiting ScholarSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions (CSDI) at Vanderbilt University's Department of Political Science seeks applicants for up to two (2) Senior Visiting Scholars who seek to conduct research on political institutions, opinion or behavior. Applications are welcome from scholars of all ranks or equivalent professional positions. The specific length of the appointment will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis, but we especially welcome applications from scholars who are interested in spending an entire year at Vanderbilt during the 2018-2019 academic year. There is no teaching requirement associated with the fellowship. Successful candidates will be provided financial support (e.g. a stipend equivalent to half-salary to make a full year's leave possible), office space, and computing resources.

Candidates should submit a vita and a cover letter describing their research project, what they hope to accomplish while at CSDI, and why spending time at Vanderbilt would provide a useful setting for that research. The letter should also indicate how long the desired time in residence would be and whether there are existing financial arrangements that would be relevant (e.g., if you have a paid semester's leave and health care benefits). Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before January 15, 2018. Applications should be submitted online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47217>

Vanderbilt University has a strong institutional commitment to recruiting and retaining an academically and culturally diverse community of faculty. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3803

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Penn CSERI Post-Doctoral Fellowship

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Penn CSERI Post-Doctoral Fellowship

2018-2019 Academic Year

Application Deadline: January 5, 2018

Apply via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/46895>

The Penn Center for the Study of Ethnicity, Race and Immigration (CSERI) invites applications for a one-year postdoctoral research fellowship in the social sciences, starting August 1, 2018.

The Center for the Study of Ethnicity, Race and Immigration is a new center initiative supported by the University of Pennsylvania and the School of Arts and Sciences which, in addition to this postdoctoral fellowship, will host visiting scholars and graduate students, help organize workshops initiated by the center's Faculty Advisory Council, and support graduate and undergraduate student social science research at Penn.

The 2018-2019 CSERI Postdoctoral Research Fellow will collaborate with CSERI faculty affiliates on research projects; help organize and participate in faculty/graduate student workshops; and aid in evaluating the progress of graduate students and undergraduates receiving research grants. In addition, the Fellow will have the opportunity to pursue their own research and participate more generally in the intellectual life of the Penn community. There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Skills with statistical analysis, qualitative software, GIS, experimental and other approaches are highly desirable.

The stipend for the postdoctoral fellowship is $52,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years (not earlier than 2015), or who expect to complete their degree by June 2018. Applications will be reviewed starting January 5, 2018. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

Application Instructions

To apply, visit Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/46895> and complete a candidate profile.

Candidates should submit a letter of application and description of research, CV, writing sample (maximum of 20 pp) and two letters of reference through Interfolio.

Review of applications will begin January 5, 2018, and final notifications are expected to go out by March 2018. This one-year Postdoctoral Research Fellow appointment will be effective August 1, 2018. Documents to be uploaded

- Cover Letter
- Title and Description of Proposed Research—No more than 1,000 words.
- CV –Indicate experience with both qualitative and quantitative research, experience with qualitative and statistical research software (e.g. R, STATA, ATLAS/TI, Dedoose, etc.) List other fellowships, funding and scholarships received, and all publications (please note refereed publications).
- Writing Sample – An article or an excerpt of a book or dissertations chapter (20 page limit).
- Confidential Letters of Recommendation (two) - Referees should be asked both to comment on your proposed project and to discuss your qualifications and experience as a researcher.

For more information on the Penn Center for the Study of Ethnicity, Race and Immigration, contact CSERI center director at mjonescorrea@sas.upenn.edu or Matthew Roth, administrator, at maroth@sas.upenn.edu

**

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/5/2018

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3795

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Campaigns and Public Opinion

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

Position 1: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Campaigns and Public Opinion

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield: Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specialization: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track faculty position in Campaigns and Public Opinion starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong publication record of monographs and top-tier international peer reviewed articles, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. We are especially, but not exclusively, interested in candidates whose research addresses the role of emerging technologies such as social media in campaigns and elections; and/or who are working with advanced methods in statistical or experimental analysis.

Candidates will be asked to teach courses in Public Opinion, Political Communication, Research Methods, and Statistics and Forecasting; and should show acumen for innovative, applied teaching methods focused on critical thinking and problem solving.

Beyond these traditional academic criteria, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in meaningful and policy relevant work, and to participate in contemporary policy debates. As well, we seek faculty members to be institution-builders: to apply for research grants, participate in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expand IE's current network and partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a 1-page statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science or Public Policy is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Campaigns and Public Opinion to IESIR1@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We are able to offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3784

Birmingham-Southern College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Quantitative Methods, Political Behavior

Birmingham-Southern College seeks candidates with a demonstrated excellence in teaching undergraduate courses for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning August 2018. Candidates should hold a doctorate in Political Science or expect to complete their degree by August 2018. The College seeks exceptional individuals committed to the liberal arts, with a proven record of teaching excellence and a demonstrated potential for developing a distinguished scholarly agenda. The successful candidate must be able to support one or more of the interdisciplinary programs offered at the College as well as the general education curriculum.

Teaching responsibilities will include at least four of the following courses: American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Statistics, Research Methods, Comparative or American Political Behavior.

The teaching load is 3-1-3 including an interim term in January. During January, professors offer unique, innovative, experiential, and/or travel courses.

Review of applicants will begin immediately. Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, copies of graduate transcripts (unofficial), and three professional recommendation letters. Email applications are preferred: pssearch@bsc.edu. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Birmingham-Southern College (BSC) is a selective residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 1,300 undergraduate students. BSC is included in Pope's Colleges that Change Lives and is a sheltering institution for Phi Beta Kappa. The College's curriculum is based on close faculty-student interaction in teaching, advising, and research. For more on the College's faculty, students, educational mission, and national reputation visit www.bsc.edu.

Birmingham-Southern College is located just minutes from downtown Birmingham, which is the largest city in Alabama and a leading hub for banking and medical care and research in the Southeast, and a vibrant center for entertainment, commerce, and recreational activities. There are six higher education institutions within a short commute; a symphony; a ballet; a zoo; botanical garden; the largest art museum in the Southeast; a world-class civil rights institute and annual art, music, and film festivals – as well as numerous opportunities for outdoor adventure activities. In 2015, Birmingham was ranked as the #1 “next hot food city” by Zagat’s.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3769

La Salle University*Rank: Full-Time, Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at La Salle University seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track position with a specialization in American Politics and/or International Relations. The successful candidate will have a strong record of research and publication and a commitment to high quality and dynamic teaching. We are particularly interested in candidates who can offer a range of electives across their subfield, teach research methods and supervise undergraduate capstone projects. The successful candidate will teach across our curriculum, maintain an active research agenda and scholarly activity, participate in recruitment and advisement of students, serve on departmental and university committees, promote program development, contribute to assessment efforts, and advise student organizations.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline must be in hand or near completion at the time of the application.

Interested applicants should submit – either through Interfolio or by some other appropriate means - the following materials to Dr. Miguel Glatzer, Chair of the Search Committee, Political Science Department, La Salle University (politicalscience@lasalle.edu). Applications should include: (1) a letter of application identifying areas of specialization, research/scholarship interests and teaching philosophy, (2) a curriculum vita, (3) official graduate transcripts, and (4) three letters of recommendation sent under separate cover. Examples of scholarship and/or summary evidence of teaching evaluations or effectiveness, where available, should also be submitted. The department's review of applications will begin on January 30, 2018.

Position begins in August 2018.

Applications received by January 30, 2018 will receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3761

Radford University*Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff; model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3759

Radford University*Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff; model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 3760

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2018. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2019, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and three references (ensure addresses and telephone numbers are provided) from individuals familiar with your professional work to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Dr. David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6K-160, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to David.Sacko@usafa.edu. Applications received by December 1, 2017 will receive primary consideration. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3739

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Quantitative Methods

Seeking an Master Instructor to teach on campus in the area(s) of introductory American Government, public law, as well as supervise the MSSU Mock Trial program. Must have a Master's degree in the related discipline area, (PhD preferred). Certification in certain fields may also be accepted depending on subject matter. Employment will require a background check. E-verify participating employer. Applicant materials include a letter of application, curriculum vitae with the names, addresses, email and phone numbers of three references, and unofficial transcripts. Submit materials at www.mssu.edu/jobs. Official transcripts are required within 45 days of hire. Review of applicant materials begins immediately and will continue until the position(s) has been filled. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3721

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter
2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: 3-Year Lecturer (Full-Time)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley invites applications for a 3-Year Full-Time Lecturer in US Federal Government & Politics and/or Texas Government & Politics to begin Fall 2018. The successful candidate will teach four sections per semester, including U.S. Federal Government & Politics, Texas Government & Politics, and upper-division courses in the candidate's sub-field specialization. Review of applications will begin January 22, 2018.

UTRGV faculty are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to student success and to advancing the university, college, and program missions, as well as a commitment to UTRGV's guiding principles which include promoting access to postsecondary education to a diverse student body and to become one of the largest and most successful Hispanic-serving emerging research institutions in the U.S.A.

To apply, go to: <https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/search>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/21/2018

Date Posted: 10/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3661

Yale University*Rank: Junior Scholar Postdoctoral Associate

The Center for the Study of American Politics at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) is offering research fellowships for postdoctoral scholars working on projects in American Politics. Fellowship positions are open to those who have recently completed their Ph.D. (in the last 6 years), or to those who currently hold a faculty position as long as it is without tenure. Junior scholars are generally supported at a standard postdoctoral level for a period of one year and are expected to be in residence during the academic year. They will also be expected to participate in the activities of the Center which include a weekly seminar. Salary is negotiable depending on qualifications and may, in some cases, include minimal teaching responsibilities.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Please send cover letter, research statement, current C.V., one writing sample, and two letters of recommendation. A copy of graduate transcripts is also required for postdoctoral applicants not currently holding a faculty position. Application materials should be submitted online at <https://academicjobsonline.ajo/jobs/10224>.

The review process will begin February 1, 2018. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration. For more information, contact the Yale Center for the Study of American Politics at csap@yale.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3647

Yale University*Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Quantitative Methods

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2018. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis. Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. Doctorate required. Salary is negotiable.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Please submit cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10216>.

The review process will begin February 1, 2018. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications if there is still a vacancy. For more information, contact the Yale Center for the Study of American Politics by email at csap@yale.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3647

University of Memphis*Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at The University of Memphis invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Policy at the level of Assistant Professor. The position will start in the fall 2018 pending the availability of funds. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand by August 2018. We seek applications from candidates with research and teaching interests in Public Policy. Candidates from across all subfields of Political Science and Public Policy are encouraged to apply. Areas of particular interest for the department include environmental policy, political economy, public health, race, gender and social justice. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates must be able to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in Public Policy and must show promise of excellence in research and teaching. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Please submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample (dissertation chapter, published article or conference paper), evidence of teaching potential, and letters from at least three professional references on-line at <https://workforum.memphis.edu>. For all other inquiries please contact: Public Policy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Memphis, TN 38152. Review of applications will begin on January 5, 2018. The University of Memphis is a Research II University with an enrollment of approximately 20,000 students. The University of Memphis is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to diversifying its work force. Applications from women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/5/2018

Date Posted: 10/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3643

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa*Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in American politics beginning August 16, 2018. The successful candidate should have a strong research agenda that will lead to a body of quality peer-reviewed published work in political science. The position is open to applicants in all areas of American politics, behavior and/or institutions. In addition to their specific substantive concerns, we are interested in candidates who are prepared to teach graduate courses in research methods. A completed Ph.D. in political science is required for appointment at the level of Assistant Professor. The University of Alabama is the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system, and the Department offers the B.A., M.A., MPA and PhD degrees. To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/41902> and complete the online application. Attach a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, sample publications or papers and teaching evaluations (if available), and a transcript of graduate work (upload to other document 1 tab). Send three letters of recommendation directly to American Politics Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, PO Box 870213, Tuscaloosa AL 35487-0213, or via email at apatrick@ua.edu (please state position in email). For more information, contact Carol Cassel, Search Committee Chair, at ccassel@ua.edu. We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, and will continue reviewing applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3614

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow

The department of political science at Johns Hopkins University invites applications for a two-year post-doc in American political thought and development. We are looking for applicants whose research speaks to scholars in both American politics and political theory. Successful candidates will bridge historical and theoretical approaches to public policy, public culture, or public law, focusing on either the historical or conceptual development of political ideas and/or institutions.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest that describes their research agenda, along with a writing sample and curriculum vitae. In addition, candidates should send two letters of recommendation.

Apply on Interfolio at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46042>

Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. The position will commence on July 1, 2018. Teaching duties include one undergraduate course per semester on a subject based on research interests.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3590

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Dickinson College seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position. Appointment begins in Fall 2018. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline (e.g. Government) is required; a Ph.D./J.D. is welcome.

Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in American politics and public policy as well as upper-level courses related to their research interests. The preferred candidate will be able to teach "The Judiciary" (federal and state) and topics covering a public policy issue area or areas. Dickinson College is located in a county seat and is immediately adjacent to the Penn State Dickinson Law school. As such, Dickinson has ready access to pedagogical, research, and internship resources for the study of law and public policy. The state capital Harrisburg is a 20-minute drive away and Washington DC two hours by car. The ability to create an inclusive environment for an increasingly diverse student body is vital. Dickinson is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students located approximately two-hour's drive from Washington, DC, Baltimore, MD, and Philadelphia, PA.

Review of applications will begin October 30 and will continue until the position is filled.

<https://jobs.dickinson.edu/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3567

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here:<https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osulivm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

University of Chicago

Rank: Senior Lecturers and Lecturers in Computational Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The University of Chicago invites applications for one or more position(s) as Lecturer or Senior Lecturer in Computational Social Science. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

These are full-time teaching positions beginning September 2018 with a renewable three-year term. The successful applicant will teach five graduate courses per year; advise MA students; evaluate MA theses; hire and manage teaching assistants; participate in program admissions, staff hiring, and student recruitment; help train doctoral student preceptors; and contribute to the intellectual life and administrative needs of the MA Program in Computational Social Science (maccs.uchicago.edu). Prior teaching experience is required.

The ideal candidate would be able to teach in three or more of the following areas: scientific programming with Python; coding best practices; SQL and file-based databases; Spark or Hadoop frameworks; machine learning using structured, semi-structured or unstructured data; Bayesian statistical inference and graphical models; statistical programming with R; optimization; or computational statistics. Other courses may be drawn from the candidate's area of disciplinary expertise.

Lecturers must have the PhD in hand by September 1, 2018. Senior Lecturers are normally more advanced, though the offer might be made in cases of exceptional promise.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website. The posting for the Senior Lectureship can be found here <http://tinyurl.com/ydfjovy8>.

The posting for the Lectureship is available here <http://tinyurl.com/ybpogzop>.

The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) a sample course syllabus, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference.

We will begin reviewing applications November 1 and will continue until the positions are filled. Applications received by January 1 will receive full consideration from our committee. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Chad Cyrenne (c-cyrenne@uchicago.edu) for updates on the status of the search.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3440

Towson University

Rank: Lecturer

LECTURER SEARCH
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – TOWSON UNIVERSITY
ACADEMIC YEAR 2018-2019

Areas of Specialization: Law, Judicial Process

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a position at the Lecturer level. The position entails teaching courses including Introduction to Law and the Judicial Process.

Applicants with Ph.D. and/or J.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference. J.D. applicants must have political science background. The teaching load is four courses per semester. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Cindy Cates, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

Application review will begin immediately. The position will remain open until filled.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3436

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a spring 2018 semester adjunct instructor position leading the Internship Seminar as part of the Carnegie Mellon University Washington Semester Program (CMU/WSP) in Washington, DC.

In the semester-long CMU/WSP, students live, work, and study in Washington, DC, coming into direct contact with political, business, and community leaders and learning about the most pressing policy issues of the day.

CMU/WSP students intern three days per week in any sector or field of interest within Washington, DC, while taking classes in the late afternoons and evenings. IPS sponsors events and policy-oriented opportunities in Washington for participating students to further enrich their experience and enhance their understanding of how Washington functions as a hub of international and public policy decision making.

The adjunct instructor will teach the Internship Seminar for the program. The internship is the experiential “core” of the Washington Semester Program. In conjunction with their part-time internship, students meet weekly for the Internship Seminar to report and reflect on their internship experiences, often joined by DC-based CMU alumni working in a variety of professional fields. The internship and Internship Seminar have three major sets of goals and expected learning outcomes: knowledge goals, skill development, and personal and professional growth. Together, the internship and Internship Seminar require approximately 27-28 hours of student work per week.

The adjunct instructor position will run from January 16, 2018 to May 4, 2018. The instructor will be paid $15,000 for teaching the course. This is a part-time position.

The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on October 20, 2017.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter stating the applicant’s academic background and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach or has taught); and
- Contact information for two references.

Please email your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/14/2017

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 3419

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specialization: Political Theory, Legal Theory, American Politics

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach political theory, legal theory, and American politics. Course responsibilities include Introduction to Political Theory, American Political Thought, Introduction to American Government. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to participate in the department's Law and Justice concentration. College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Teach possible upper level courses such as Legal Theory, Justice and Society, and/or other possible courses in the areas of theory and law in the undergraduate curriculum according to the instructor's expertise.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts from most recent degree; and a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3413

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the Program in Jewish Studies at the University of Colorado at Boulder invite applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant Professor level in Religion and Politics or Minorities in Politics or Jewish Studies. The appointment begins in August 2018. The search will focus on but will not be limited to scholars with a research interest in Jewish Studies. Priority will be given to candidates whose teaching interests include Jews and Judaism in the public sphere, anti-Semitism in American politics, or the politics of the Jewish experience in America, for example. The position will be fully rostered in Political Science, with teaching split evenly between the two academic units. Because the position requires substantial undergraduate teaching in Jewish Studies, the successful candidate must have demonstrable strength and interest in teaching in courses in the area of Jewish Studies. The University of Colorado Boulder is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. Members of underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply. Applications are accepted electronically at <https://www.jobsatcu.com>, posting #10194, and should include a letter of interest along with a current CV, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and the names and email addresses of three references. Candidates who have completed a PhD in political science and those who are ABD may apply. ABDs will be hired at the instructor level and will be allowed up to two years to complete the PhD. PhDs will be hired at the Assistant Professor level. Please direct inquiries to the Political Science/Jewish Studies Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 333 UCB, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO 80309-0333. See www.colorado.edu/ArtsSciences/Jobs/ for full job description.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/16/2017

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3407

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the Program in Jewish Studies at the University of Colorado at Boulder invite applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant Professor level in Religion and Politics or Minorities in Politics or Jewish Studies. The appointment begins in August 2018. The search will focus on but will not be limited to scholars with a research interest in Jewish Studies. Priority will be given to candidates whose teaching interests include Jews and Judaism in the public sphere, anti-Semitism in American politics, or the politics of the Jewish experience in America, for example. The position will be fully rostered in Political Science, with teaching split evenly between the two academic units. Because the position requires substantial undergraduate teaching in Jewish Studies, the successful candidate must have demonstrable strength and interest in teaching in courses in the area of Jewish Studies. The University of Colorado Boulder is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. Members of underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply. Applications are accepted electronically at <https://www.jobsatcu.com>, posting #10194, and should include a letter of interest along with a current CV, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and the names and email addresses of three references. Candidates who have completed a PhD in political science and those who are ABD may apply. ABDs will be hired at the instructor level and will be allowed up to two years to complete the PhD. PhDs will be hired at the Assistant Professor level. Please direct inquiries to the Political Science/Jewish Studies Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 333 UCB, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO 80309-0333. See www.colorado.edu/ArtsSciences/Jobs/ for full job description.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/16/2017

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3411

Ohio State University

Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/12/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3389

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: UCLA Luskin School Assistant or Associate Professor: Latino Social Policy

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Immigration Policy, Latino Politics

The Luskin School of Public Affairs, in partnership with the Chicano Studies Research Center (CSRC) at UCLA, seeks an advanced assistant or tenured associate professor in the general fields of Latino social, economic, and political issues. (A starting full professor may be appointed under extraordinary circumstances.) A successful applicant should be appointable in one or more of three departments in the Luskin School of Public Affairs: Public Policy, Social Welfare, or Urban Planning.

The Luskin School is an interdisciplinary environment that focuses on human well-being at every level of analysis. As part of this mission, the School, the CSRC, and UCLA's Division of Social Sciences have launched the Latino Policy and Politics Initiative, with the goal of establishing a multi-faceted think tank working on a broad range of challenges faced by the California Latino plurality. Latinos in the US face a multitude of challenges beyond immigration, including issues such as voting rights, environmental racism, K12 educational equity, quality health care, job opportunities, higher education access, worker protection, and criminal justice reform among many others. Scholars of all methodological traditions, interested in any of these substantive areas, as well as others, are invited to apply.

Applicants should hold a PhD in Social Welfare, Public Policy, Urban Planning or any of the cognate fields of Sociology, Political Science, Psychology, Economic, Law, etc., and be interested in problem-driven research and teaching. The Luskin School offers Masters Degrees in the three fields, doctoral degrees in Urban Planning and Social Welfare, and in 2018 will be launching an undergraduate major in Public Affairs. In addition to three departments, the School has several large and thriving research institutes focused on various aspects of governance, social well-being, and solution seeking for challenging issues. The University of California, Los Angeles, is the largest and most comprehensive campus in the UC system, with 45,000 students seeking degrees across the liberal arts and sciences and professional schools, located in the second largest city in the nation and the largest Spanish-speaking city in the nation. By consensus, UCLA is regularly identified in the top five of all public universities in the US, and the top 15 of universities, public and private.

The position is opened until filled, but early inquiries are encouraged. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 15, 2017. To apply go to UC Recruit, submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, writing sample/representative publications and three letters of recommendation to: <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03247>. For questions related to the position, please contact Julie Straub at jstraub@luskin.ucla.edu.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence.

Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu for other academic opportunities in Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3350

Ohio State University

Rank: The Health of Democracy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position affiliated with the university's new Institute for Democratic Engagement and Accountability. In keeping with the university's motto, "Education for Citizenship," we welcome applications from scholars broadly interested in the health of democracy, especially the conditions for energetic democratic participation and effective governance. Successful candidates may specialize in one or more areas, including political behavior, political communication, political economy, political psychology, political theory, the policymaking process, race and ethnic politics, or others. Further, we are open with respect to subfield, though we are especially interested in applicants who focus on or include the American case. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants should have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by autumn 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9663>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at Neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3336

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Immigration/Migration Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Latino Politics, International Political Economy

Immigration and/or Migration Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to understanding immigration and/or migration. We seek a scholar whose research advances our understanding of the causes and consequences of these population movements. He or she may also study the social, political, economic, and demographic realignments that migrants produce in their communities of destination or origin. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, History, Sociology, Psychology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03189>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3328

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Social Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Social Welfare, Labor Politics, Economic Policy

Social Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to social policy. We seek a scholar whose research advances our knowledge of policies that address the economic and social disparities —inclusive of differences in geography, race, and ethnicity. His or her research may deepen our understanding of the changing dynamics of labor-market opportunities or how employment contributes to the social welfare of individuals and families. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, Sociology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03183>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3329

Pace University, NYC

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Chair, Department of Political Science

Dyson College of Arts and Sciences

Pace University

Dyson College of Arts and Sciences of Pace University invites applications for an anticipated position of Chair of the Department of Political Science at the rank of Associate or Full Professor to begin September 2018. The position is at the Pace University campus in lower Manhattan, NYC. The Political Science major is one of the largest in the College. The department has a long history of achievements in innovative co-curricular enrichment activities, service learning, civic engagement, and collaborative research between professors and students.

Applicants should have an earned PhD in a relevant field (e.g., Political Science, Government, Public Administration, Public Policy, Latina/o Studies, etc.) with demonstrated expertise and familiarity with at least one major subfield of the political science discipline (preferably US politics and/or Latina/o Studies), an excellent record of teaching, research and service, and a record of leadership and administration, and strong quantitative training.

Duties and responsibilities include: working in a shared governance environment, modeling collegiality and collaboration; articulating a clear, compelling, and inclusive vision for the department's future; leading a diverse and growing team of faculty and staff; cultivating a welcoming environment for diversity; valuing the interests, abilities, and perspectives of all faculty; strengthening the department's ties with the rest of university and professional community; performing departmental administration in an efficient, highly competent, fair, and transparent manner; demonstrating and modeling a record of excellence in scholarship, teaching, and service; mentoring tenured and tenure-track full time faculty.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, and contact information for three references in a single PDF file to Alfred Ward, Ph.D. (award@pace.edu).

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled; applications received by January 1, 2018 are guaranteed full consideration.

Pace University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3205

Wichita State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Wichita State University invites applications for a tenure track position in American Politics at the assistant professor level, to begin August 2018. Candidates should have completed their PhD by the time of appointment, have quantitative analytical skills, a demonstrated teaching effectiveness, the potential for scholarly publications, effective written and oral communication skills, and a demonstrated commitment to diversity. Preferred candidates will have the ability and willingness to teach an undergraduate quantitative methods course, willingness to teach periodic online/hybrid courses, and/or an interest in providing occasional Honors College course offerings. Teaching responsibilities will include: A variety of undergraduate American Politics courses, including introductory American Politics, as well as a course on quantitative methods. The teaching load is three courses per semester. The selected candidate will have the opportunity and the responsibility to help shape and enhance the curriculum of the American Politics offerings in the department. Wichita State University has a diverse student body with a large number of non-traditional students and an enrollment of approximately 14,400. Wichita is a thriving and expanding community of 600,000. The Political Science department offers BA degrees and has approximately 70 majors and five faculty members. Salary is competitive. Consideration of applications will begin September 29 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit a letter describing teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample at <http://jobs.wichita.edu>. For assistance with online submission, employment@wichita.edu (316) 978-3065.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 9/29/2017

Date Posted: 8/11/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3192

Cornell University

Rank: Endowed Professorship in American Politics

Cornell University invites applications for an endowed professorship in American politics, for a position beginning July 1, 2018. We seek to hire an individual with a distinguished record of scholarship and a strong commitment to teaching. We are interested in mid-career scholars with unusual promise as well as in established senior candidates.

Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and a list of three references. Electronic application materials should be sent to: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9501>. We also welcome nominations, which can be submitted to Ms. Jerrica

Brown, jc2322@cornell.edu. We will begin to review applications starting September 15, 2017, and will continue until the search is completed.

Diversity and inclusion have been and continue to be a part of our heritage. The Department of Government, and the College of Arts and Sciences at Cornell embrace diversity and seek candidates who will create a climate that attracts students and faculty of all races, nationalities, and genders. We strongly encourage women and underrepresented minorities to apply. Cornell University is a recognized EEO/AE employer and educator, valuing AA/EEO, Protected Veterans, and Individuals with Disabilities.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3158

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics/Political Behavior

The Department of Political Science in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles) invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in the field of American Politics/Political Behavior. We seek a scholar doing research on U.S. politics in one or more of the following areas of political behavior: public opinion, elections, political psychology, political communications, political parties, and social movements. Promise of excellence in research and teaching, and a completed Ph.D. by the time of appointment, are required.

In order to be considered, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-american-politics-political-behavior/1209/5281327>. The applicant should upload a CV, a letter of interest, writing samples, and the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for references. Referees will be contacted automatically upon receipt of the application, and must upload their letters prior to the deadline. Inquiries may be sent to posc@dornsife.usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted. Review of applications will start September 25, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3142

Texas A&M University*Rank: Assistant ProfessorSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/4/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3132Texas A&M University*Rank: Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is seeking to hire a Full or Associate Professor with expertise in American Politics. The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M is a doctoral level department with an active research-oriented faculty. The department is particularly interested in identifying individuals who could exercise a leadership role in the department's research programs in Political Behavior & Institutions, Political Economy & Political Violence and/or a university-wide initiative related to democracy. Ph.D. is required. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Indeed, the ideal candidate would possess a research profile (quality, output, and influence) that would make them competitive for an endowed faculty position, subject to approvals. The starting date for this position is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae, and a writing sample. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18th, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/4/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3132Texas A&M University*Rank: Associate/Full ProfessorSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3115

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, American Politics

The Department of Politics and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from senior scholars in the field of American politics. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization and involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Interested applicants should apply online at <http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs>. Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2017.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3069

Connecticut College

Rank: Assistant Professor in U.S. Politics with a specialization in electoral politics and political behavior

U.S. Politics

The Department of Government and International Relations at Connecticut College invites applicants for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in U.S. Politics with a specialization in electoral politics and political behavior, beginning on July 1, 2018. The successful candidate must demonstrate an ability to teach an introductory U.S. politics course and intermediate-level courses on parties and elections. Preference will be given to candidates whose scholarship and teaching are in the area of political behavior. Courses might include US social movements, identity politics, interest groups, political participation, lobbying, voting, and media. The department already has specialists in national institutions and legal studies. Required: ABD in Political Science with a U.S. Politics focus. Desirable: Ph.D. in hand and teaching experience. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but will complete the Ph.D. within one year of hire.

Salary is competitive. In addition to providing ongoing support for teaching and research, the College offers the following resources for pre-tenured faculty: a 2-2 teaching load in the first year, a research fund in the first two years, and a semester's sabbatical (at full salary) after a successful third-year review.

The College's Board of Trustees, President, administration, faculty and staff share a commitment to diversity. To this end, the College, located in New London, CT is continuing what has been a very successful initiative to diversify its faculty, staff, and student body. We encourage applications from candidates who share this understanding and will contribute to the diversity of our college community, including members of historically underrepresented groups. The College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Please visit our website, <http://www.conncoll.edu>, for more information about the College and our faculty searches.

Offering two popular majors (a government major and an interdisciplinary international relations major), Government and International Relations is a collegial department with 11 full-time faculty members. There are also opportunities for collaboration with interdisciplinary programs on campus. Moreover, the College's general education program, Connections, provides ample opportunity for collaborative and interdisciplinary teaching. For an overview of this innovative curriculum, please visit <http://www.conncoll.edu/connections/>

Applicants should upload a letter of application, a C.V., teaching evaluations, a writing sample, graduate transcripts, and at least three letters of recommendation to <https://apply.interfolio.com/43334>. E-mail inquiries should be sent to Tristan Borer, Chair of the Department of Government and International Relations, at tabor@conncoll.edu. In your application letter, we invite you to describe your cultural competencies and experiences engaging a diverse student body. Review of applications will begin October 13, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled, although we expect file review to be completed by October 27, 2017.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3049

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Defense, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of several interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire one tenure-track assistant or associate professor for the UCF cyber security and privacy cluster. This position has a start date of August 8, 2018.

This will be an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department, as well as a possible combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. (See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved.) Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. All relevant technical areas will be considered. We are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) hardware and IoT security, (b) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (c) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster at the time of appointment, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The position will carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 64,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about UCF at <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty>.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/50404> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter, candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmittal to update applications.

As an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, UCF encourages all qualified applicants to apply, including women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of traditionally underrepresented populations. UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: <http://eo.ucf.edu/documents/PresidentsStatement.pdf>. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about this position, please contact the Cluster's Search Committee Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3019

University of Redlands

Rank: Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics

DESCRIPTION: The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for the Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2018 semester.

POSITION CRITERIA: Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy), with at least five years of professional experience, preferably at a liberal arts institution. We especially welcome applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position.

TO APPLY: Please submit application materials (including letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, samples of scholarly work, and three letters of reference, under separate cover) electronically at apply@redlands.edu or mail to: Human Resources, University of Redlands, PO Box 3080, Redlands CA 92373-0999. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2017, and position will remain open until filled.

INQUIRIES: Inquiries can be directed to steve\_wuhs@redlands.edu, including requests for interview at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in San Francisco, CA.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/1/2017

Date Posted: 7/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3006

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for the 2018-2019 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by working with QSS faculty and honors students on ongoing research, attending seminars and workshops, and presenting research results.

The annual stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000. The fellowship can be extended through the 2019-20 academic year with the approval of Nyhan and the QSS Chair. Each fellow will receive a one-time $5,000 account for equipment, travel, and research materials. There may also be an opportunity to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend with the approval of the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2018
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests (two pages or fewer) that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Three letters of reference
- 4) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2017. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/42855.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 7/31/2017Date Posted: 7/11/2017Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 2943University of Nevada, Reno

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (American Political Behavior)

The Political Science Department at the University of Nevada, Reno is soliciting applications for a tenure-track, full time appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science to begin in the fall semester of 2018. The primary focus of our search is American Political Behavior. Preference will be given to candidates conducting quantitative research in public opinion, voting behavior, political parties, and/or media, though candidates with a comparative perspective will be given consideration. Duties include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the University.

The normal teaching load is 2 courses per semester, but may be subject to change. Candidates are expected to teach at all levels of the curriculum (lower division undergraduate, upper division undergraduate, and graduate MA/PhD). Candidates must be able to teach an introduction to American Politics course. Applicants should demonstrate a strong potential for research publication. Experience with external grant funding is a plus. Preference will be given to candidates whose research demonstrates methodological sophistication and who have the ability to teach research methodology at the graduate, MA/Ph.D. level. Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by August 15th, 2018.

To apply, please visit: <https://www.unrsearch.com/postings/25082> for more information and application process. Position is open until filled, but application review will begin October 6, 2017.

The University of Nevada, Reno is the State of Nevada's land grant institution of higher education and is one of eight institutions of higher education governed by the State of Nevada System of Higher Education. With a growing and increasingly diverse student enrollment of approximately 21,000 including over 2,800 graduate students, the University provides a comprehensive selection of degree programs at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. The University is currently classified (Carnegie) as "Research University/High" which places it among the top 200 colleges and universities in the United States. The University of Nevada, is located 45 minutes from Lake Tahoe and within four hours from San Francisco and the Napa-Sonoma wine country.

The University of Nevada, Reno recognizes that diversity promotes excellence in education and research. We are an inclusive and engaged community and recognize the added value that students, faculty, and staff from different backgrounds bring to the educational experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 7/6/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 2940Lamar University

Rank: Jack Brooks Endowed Chair of Government & Public Service

Specializations: Congress, Leadership Studies, Legislative Studies

The Department of Political Science is seeking a scholar with outstanding teaching and research potential for the Jack Brooks Chair in Government and Public Service beginning August 15, 2018.

The holder of the Chair will have a tenure track appointment at the Assistant or Associate Professor level in the Department of Political Science. The Chair will teach six hours per semester, including graduate seminars and undergraduate courses in Congress, Legislative Processes and Leadership.

In addition to a nine-month salary, which is dependent on qualifications and experience, the Brooks Chair includes a summer research stipend.

Candidates should have a PhD in Political Science or Government. Salary and rank are dependent on experience and credentials. Preference will be given to PhD candidates with advanced degrees in Political Science or Government and specializing in leadership studies or the legislature.

The successful candidate will implement effective teaching strategies and communicate with, motivate, and evaluate students; maintain an active service agenda; participate with other faculty in professional and scholarly exchanges within the department and throughout the university; and participate in educationally related aspects of community and civic affairs.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to: Political Science Search Committee Chairperson,

<https://jobs.lamar.edu>

If your letters of recommendation are confidential, please have the letters mailed to the address above or emailed to: jobs@lamar.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/12/2018

Date Posted: 6/19/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2894

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

SUNY, Binghamton University

Rank: Post Doc Institute for Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

Binghamton University's Institute for Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention seeks applications for a one-year (non-renewable) post-doctoral research and teaching Fellow. The GMAP Fellowship supports recent recipients of terminal degrees in academic disciplines contributing to the study of policies and practices designed to predict and prevent genocide and mass atrocities. Applicants must have their terminal degree conferred by the Fellowship start date of August 20, 2018. Recent PhDs in such disciplines (e.g. political science and international studies, sociology or anthropology, geography or public administration) are welcome to apply. In appropriate circumstances applications by recent recipients of the J.D. will also be considered, as will those already occupying temporary or tenure-track positions. For the 2018-19 academic year, the Institute particularly welcomes applicants whose research programs intersect with question of gender and prevention.

Binghamton University's GMAP Institute concentrates specifically on the formation, implementation, and assessment of practical preventative measures and policies. Applicants should present a research program or proposal that documents this practical dimension. The Fellow will conduct research, collaborate with Binghamton University faculty and graduate students associated with the Institute, and will offer at least one public lecture and/or workshop during the academic year. The Fellow will also be expected to offer one course per academic year, at either the graduate or undergraduate level, in an appropriate department.

Deadline for External Applicants: Open until filled

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the vacancy is filled.

Persons interested in this position should apply online.

Please submit:

1. A short cover letter
2. A CV
3. A detailed research proposal including a statement of how the proposal further research in the prevention of genocide and mass atrocity
4. Titles of two or three possible courses
5. Three confidential letters of recommendation

Informal inquiries can be directed to Prof. Max Pensky (mpensky@binghamton.edu).

You may add additional files/documents after uploading your resume. After you fill out your contact information, you will be directed to the upload page. Please login to check/edit your profile or to upload additional documents: <https://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=92541>

The State University of New York is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. As required by title IX and its implementing regulations Binghamton University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational programs and activities which it operates. This requirement extends to employment and admission. Inquiries about sex discrimination may be directed to the University Title IX Coordinator or directly to the Office of Civil Rights (OCR). Contact information for the Title IX Coordinator and OCR, as well as the University's complete Non-Discrimination Notice may be found here: <https://www.binghamton.edu/diversity-equity-inclusion/policies/title-ix.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3903

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Security, Southeast Asia, Political Economy

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a Department of Defense executive education institution that educates, empowers, connects, current and future leaders from the Indo-Pacific region. The Center offers in-resident courses, workshops and dialogue events in Honolulu and the Indo-Pacific region, and conducts policy-relevant research in order to build security capacity and collaboration in the Indo-Pacific. DKI APCSS address traditional and non-traditional security issues, including the relationship between governance and the security sector; transnational threats such as organized crime, terrorism, violent extremism, and trafficking; maritime security and the international rule of law; management of natural and man-made crises through HADR; analytical security assessments; and whole-of-society collaboration to include the role of women, peace and security. The audience of Fellows are mid to senior level civilian and military officials from all over the world. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

FACULTY MEMBER

The Center currently seeks world-class educators to teach, facilitate, research, and build capacity in the Indo-Pacific Region: Responsibilities include:

- Teaching executive education courses in a participant-centered, activity-based context
- Facilitating seminars and workshops in residential courses, regional seminars, and workshops
- Contributing to capacity building endeavors and security cooperation projects in the region
- Contributing analysis of security-related trends in the Asia-Pacific region
- Contributing to curriculum development
- Performing administrative and staff duties to support the Center's academic functions

Of particular interest are candidates with expertise in the following areas:

Expertise is sought in the following areas:

- Violent Extremism/Terrorism: Background and understanding of violent extremism and terrorism, broadly defined.
- OR
- Transnational Crime, Organized Crime, Combating Illicit Activities: Background understanding in any of these areas, whether through academic training or government practice
- Ideal candidates will possess the following:
  - Master Degree or PhD in a related area or discipline.
  - Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation.
  - Proven ability to function as a team member.

The following are preferred for all faculty positions:

- Experience working in the Indo-Asia Pacific region
- Expertise in the security sector of one or more Asia-Pacific countries.
- Familiarity with facilitation-based teaching, and state-of-the-art educational technology.
- Professional expertise at the operational, strategic or policy level in a whole-of-government or multilateral setting.

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $90,789 - $120,157 excludes locality pay (17.92%) and cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 11.32% but subject to change). These are limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years (with the possibility of renewal). Relocation expenses may be authorized.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. Interested candidates should submit the following items:

a. LETTER OF INTEREST. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year, and explain your interest in future career considerations with the Department of Defense.

b. CURRICULUM VITAE. Should reflect the following: educational background, work experience, publications and salary history.

c. TWO LETTERS OF REFERENCE.

d. TRANSCRIPT(s). Provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting advance degree(s).

2. Submit all required documents to physical address:

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies
Attn: Chief, Human Resources Department
2058 Maluhia Road
Honolulu, Hawaii 96815-1949

or email to:

hrapplications@dkiapcss.net

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1. Application deadline: Open until filled. Cut off: February 2, 2018.
2. Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements. Application packages will be retained for one year.

3. Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned.

4. The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor. U.S. Citizenship is not required however applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.

5. The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at hrapplications@dkiapcss.org to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.

6. Frequent travel required.

7. Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org.

Start Date: Winter 2017

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3884

Aarhus University

Rank: Postdoctoral/Assistant Professor Position, Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science, Aarhus University in Denmark invites applications for one postdoctoral position or assistant professorship in connection with the research project Political Parties' Institutional Legitimacy (PartyLeg).

The position is fixed-term of either two years with limited teaching obligations (postdoctoral researcher) or three years with more extensive teaching obligations (assistant professor). The final form of the position will be decided by the head of department taking the teaching demand of the department and the qualifications of the candidate into account. The position is co-financed by Aarhus University Research Foundation and Aarhus University.

The position is located at the Department of Political Science, Aarhus University. Successful candidates are expected to start by 15th March 2018 or as soon as possible thereafter.

PartyLeg

PartyLeg investigates political parties' institutional legitimacy and its sources in Western Europe. In a time when populism is on the rise and established political parties are struggling to connect to citizens, parties seem to lack perceived institutional legitimacy, i.e. the correspondence of citizens' norms and expectations with party behaviour. The project develops the concept of party legitimacy and studies its determinants through a combination of party- and individual-level data. It combines research on party representation and organisation with public opinion in seven West European countries (Denmark, France, Germany, the Netherlands, Poland, Spain, and the United Kingdom).

The research project is financed by Aarhus University Research Foundation (AUFF) for the period January 2018 to December 2020 and led by Associate Professor Ann-Kristin Kölln.

The position offers excellent opportunities to develop research questions and quantitative research skills within the field of party politics, political representation, and political behaviour.

Your qualifications

The successful candidate will be involved in all aspects of the project, including survey questionnaire design and data collection. Applicants are expected to hold (or be close to completing) a PhD in political science or a related social science field. In addition to interest in conducting independent and collaborative research within the focus area of PartyLeg, applicants must demonstrate the ability to conduct state-of-the-art research within the fields of party politics and political behaviour.

Who are we

The Department of Political Science is one of the six departments at Aarhus BSS, one of the four faculties at Aarhus University.

At the Department of Political Science, we emphasise a dynamic and flexible research and teaching profile characterised by pluralism and openness. With around 90 academic staff members and 50 PhD students, we offer a lively and ambitious research and teaching environment.

The research carried out at the department covers a variety of political science disciplines, and it represents a variety of methodological approaches. This not only enables us to focus on new problem areas as they appear on the national and international political arenas, but also allows us to contribute actively to the development of the discipline. We also emphasise communicating our research results to the political-administrative system and to the public in general.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit: <http://ps.au.dk>

Aarhus University offers Relocation service to International researchers and information about working at Aarhus University. You can read more about it here: <http://ias.au.dk/au-relocation-service/> and <http://talent.au.dk/working-at-aarhus-university/>

Contact

For further information including the project description please contact Ann-Kristin Kølln (koelln@ps.au.dk).

If you need help uploading your application or questions about the recruitment process please do not hesitate to contact Regitze Arnbjerg, rma@au.dk, +45 87152174

Terms of employment

The appointment is in accordance with the Memorandum on Job Structure for Academic Staff at Danish Universities as well as the circular on the Collective Agreement for Academics Employed by the State.

The job content and qualification requirements are described in further detail in Circular on Terms of Employment for Academic Staff at Universities.

Application procedure

It is obligatory to attach the following when you apply for this position:

- Application
- Curriculum Vitae. You are encouraged to declare any periods of leave without research activity, including, for example, maternity leave, since your research activities are assessed in relation to your actual research time

- Education (diploma for master's, PhD and possibly higher doctoral degree)
- List of publications (the enclosed publications must be clearly marked on the list of publications)
- Publications. Up to three publications can be included in the application. In the event of several authors the publications must be accompanied by a co-author statement concerning the applicant's share of the collaborative work with the consent of the co-authors. This form can be used for the purpose.
- Teaching portfolio. The specific requirements regarding the documentation can be found here.

Materials which cannot be uploaded together with the application may be submitted in three copies to Aarhus BSS HR & PhD, Aarhus University, Tåsingegade 1, 2nd floor, DK-8000 Aarhus C.

Read more about how to apply for an academic post at Aarhus BSS here.

The evaluation process

After the application deadline, an assessment committee is appointed. Please note that the assessment of applicants is based solely on the material received prior to the application deadline. For further information, see Guidelines for Assessment Committee, Aarhus BSS. All interested candidates are encouraged to apply regardless of personal background.

Place of work

Bartholins Allé 7, 8000 Aarhus C

Deadline

All applications must be made online and received by: 18/01/2018

Please apply online here:

<http://www.au.dk/en/about/vacant-positions/scientific-positions/stillinger/Vacancy/show/949961/5283/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/18/2018

Date Posted: 12/15/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3847

University of St. Gallen

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science with a focus on Business and Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Economy, International Political Economy, Regulatory Policy

The University of St. Gallen, Switzerland, seeks to appoint an Assistant Professor of Political Science with a focus on Business and Politics

starting September 1st, 2018 or by mutual agreement

The University of St Gallen and its Department of Political Science invite outstanding candidates to apply for an assistant professorship in the field of Business and Politics.

We are looking for an excellent scholar with a specialization in empirical research on the role of private business actors in politics. This may include, among others, business-government relations; contributions about firms' roles in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals; the political effects of varying ownership of key infrastructures and natural resources; managerial preferences, corporate control, and political development; the link between corporate social responsibility and public policy (e.g., corruption, welfare, environment, security); governance by private actors; or industry self-regulation.

Applicants should have a doctorate in political science, a promising research agenda, strong quantitative methods skills, and a willingness to collaborate on research and teaching with scholars from other fields, notably business management and corporate governance.

The successful candidate is expected to undertake research of the highest international standards within his or her own field of specialization and to teach in English in the university's programmes in International Affairs and Governance (two classes per week during term).

The Department of Political Science is a member of the School of Economics and Political Science (SEPS) and offers excellent research conditions and a stimulating academic environment. Through its collaborations, research centres and exchange programmes, it maintains a wide international network. The SEPS is committed to promoting young scholars in their career advancement. The appointment is for a term of 6 years. Applications from qualified women are particularly welcome.

We seek to appoint the successful candidate per September 1st, 2018 or by mutual agreement. For further information, please contact Professor Patrick Emmenegger, Chairman of the Search Committee (Patrick.Emmenegger@unisg.ch).

Candidates should submit their application, that is a cover letter including a presentation of research interests and a statement on teaching strategy and philosophy, curriculum vitae, publications list, a job market paper that best represents their current research profile, and the contact details of two academic referees, in electronic form to the President of the University of St. Gallen, Professor Thomas Bieger (online: <https://www.unisg.ch/universitaet/arbeitenanderhsg/aktuellestellenangebote/jobs>).

The deadline for applications is February 18th, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/18/2018

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: $120,000 - $129,999

eJobs ID: 3876

Princeton University

Rank: Comparative Politics Postdoctoral Researchers

The Mamdouha S. Bobst Center for Peace and Justice at Princeton University, under the auspices of the Department of Politics and in collaboration with the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, invites applications for two postdoctoral or more senior research positions for 2018-2019. Renewal is contingent on satisfactory performance.

The aim of the program is to promote a group of promising scholars in the broad area of comparative politics, with a special but not exclusive focus on empirical democratic theory and comparative institutions.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have or expect to have a Ph.D. in the fields of political science, history, political sociology, and economics. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence for the duration of the appointment (September 1, 2018 - September 1, 2019).

For full consideration, apply by January 12, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad Positions/position/5361> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references.

The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members.

Fellows will be provided a competitive salary, standard benefits, and an annual allowance to support conference and career development travel. Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in March 2018.

For more information about the Comparative Politics Postdoctoral Program at the Mamdouha S. Bobst Center for Peace and Justice, please contact Wendy Brill, Program Manager at wendyb@princeton.edu.

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/11/2018

Date Posted: 12/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3874

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: FACULTY POSITION, MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES, Arab Crossroads Program

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Middle East, Economic Policy, Social Movements

FACULTY POSITION, MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES, Arab Crossroads Program

Division of Arts and Humanities / Social Sciences

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY ABU DHABI

Location: Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications for an open rank faculty position in Middle Eastern studies for its Arab Crossroads program. We are searching for faculty in all disciplines (particularly Anthropology, Economics, Politics or Sociology) whose research and teaching focuses on the contemporary society and politics of the Gulf and the Middle East. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment September 1, 2018, subject to final budget approval.

The position will be in the Arab Crossroads Program, as a joint appointment across the divisions of Arts and Humanities and Social Sciences. Please visit the NYU Abu Dhabi Arab Crossroads program website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/academic-divisions/multidisciplinary-programs/acs.html>

The Arab Crossroads Program forms part of a large, interdisciplinary network of teaching and research in the areas of Middle Eastern Studies and the Islamic World within the division of Arts and Humanities at NYUAD. This network includes the Library of Arabic Literature, Library of Arabic Literature fellowships, Arabic Literature Online, the Humanities Research Fellowships in Gulf and Middle Eastern Studies, Arabic Language Program, Akkasah Center for Photography, Dhakira Center for Heritage Studies in the UAE, Tharawat Family Business Histories in the UAE, as well as a wide range of teaching and research in this area in other programs including Art and Art History, Film, History, Literature, Music, Philosophy, Theater (Arts and Humanities), and Economics, Political Science, Social Research and Public Policy (Social Sciences).

The review of applications will begin in December, and will continue on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for campus visits to NYU Abu Dhabi in 2018. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit their curriculum vitae, statements of research and teaching interests, two course outlines and two representative writing samples. To complete the online process, applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload his or her reference letter. Senior candidates are not required to submit references at this time. For more information and instruction on how to apply, please visit our website: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty.html>.

Abu Dhabi Office P.O. Box 129 188, Abu Dhabi, UAE +971 2 628 4000 Fax:+971 2 659 0791
New York Office 19 Washington Square North, New York, NY 10012 +1 212 9927

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.artsandhumanities.positions@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD

NYU Abu Dhabi is a degree-granting research university with a fully integrated liberal arts and science undergraduate program in the Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, and Engineering. NYU Abu Dhabi, NYU New York, and NYU Shanghai, form the backbone of NYU's global network university, an interconnected network of portal campuses and academic centers across six continents that enable seamless international mobility of students and faculty in their pursuit of academic and scholarly activity. This global university represents a transformative shift in higher education, one in which the intellectual and creative endeavors of academia are shaped and examined through an international and multicultural perspective. As a major intellectual hub at the crossroads of the Arab world, NYUAD serves as a center for scholarly thought, advanced research, knowledge creation, and sharing, through its academic, research, and creative activities.

EOE/AAs/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer
UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3859

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate - Fixed Term

The Department of Political Science is seeking to hire a full time Research Associate in the broad areas of International and Comparative Political Economy. The successful candidate will be expected to work with Professor Cristina Bodea to enhance the department's research agenda in Political Economy, through the publication of co-authored work with the Political Economy faculty and graduate students.

The requirements include: 1) A PhD in Political Science; 2) advanced training in Statistics and Econometrics. The teaching obligations for this position include one undergraduate course and several lab sessions for graduate students in the candidate's area of expertise. The initial appointment will be for one year, with an option for reappointment for another year.

Review of applications will begin February 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is August 15, 2018.

Interested applicants should apply via Michigan State University's Applicant Tracking Systems at: <https://careers.msu.edu/>. Please submit cover letter, CV, copy of graduate transcripts, one research paper, statement of proposed research ideas (2-3 pages) and two letters of reference. For further questions please contact Professor Cristina Bodea at bodeaana@msu.edu. MSU is an Affirmative-Action equal-opportunity employer and is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3852

Yale University

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellowship in Political Economy, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The MacMillan Center, Yale University

The Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy at Yale invites applications for a post-doctoral position for AY 2018-2019. Candidates must have a robust research program in political economy, broadly construed, and must have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

The post-doctoral fellow will teach one course during the year, either in the Fall or the Spring semester, pursue his/her own research, and participate in the activities of the Leitner program. Fellows are expected to be in residence from August 2018 to May 2019.

We will begin accepting applications immediately with review beginning on Friday, December 15, 2017 and continuing until the selections are final.

Yale University is an equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Compensation is competitive, and includes benefits and health coverage. We expect to be able to cover a junior scholar's salary for the full academic year and up to half of a senior scholar's salary. Senior scholars who will be taking leave from their home institution to accept the fellowship should indicate salary requirements and whether they expect to receive salary support from their university or outside sources.

To apply, send a cover letter, CV, research statement and a draft of a syllabus of a course you propose to teach at Yale. You'll also need to have three letters of recommendation submitted on your behalf.

All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46617>

Ms. Hira Jafri, Program Manager, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, 34 Hillhouse Avenue, P.O. Box 208206 New Haven, CT 06520-8206 USA. Email: hira.jafri@yale.edu. For details on the Leitner program, please consult the website: <http://www.yale.edu/leitner>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3851

Messiah College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics and International Relations

Specializations: East Asia, Middle East, Africa

The Department of Politics and International Relations at Messiah College invites applications for a term tenure-track position in International Relations and Comparative Politics. Applicants must be able to teach introductory courses in both International Politics and Comparative Politics as well as an upper-level survey of theoretical approaches to international relations. With respect to Comparative Politics, we are seeking someone who specializes in Asian Politics, Middle Eastern Politics, and/or African Politics. Successful candidates will show an interest in and commitment to teaching general education students in our interdisciplinary studies program. Departmental administrative experience is a plus. We are a department of approximately fifty majors whose graduates have included Rhodes, Truman, Carnegie, and Fulbright scholars. Our students are encouraged to think independently, to engage opposing points of view, and to develop a concern for public life in the interest of promoting social justice. A full version of this position description is available at jobs.messiah.edu. Applicants should apply via our online system at jobs.messiah.edu. The application deadline is January 30, 2018, but we will consider applications until the position is filled. Application materials required of candidates include a cover letter that includes a statement describing their research agenda and courses they are prepared to teach, CV, and three letters of reference, as well as completion of the online application form itself that will require a statement of Christian faith and of teaching philosophy.

Messiah College is a Christian college of the liberal and applied arts and sciences. The College is committed to an embracing evangelical spirit rooted in the Anabaptist, Pietist and Wesleyan traditions of the Christian Church. Our mission is to educate men and women toward maturity of intellect, character and Christian faith in preparation for lives of service, leadership and reconciliation in church and society. It welcomes applications from all individuals of serious commitment to the Christian church. Successful candidates will affirm the Apostle's Creed and support other foundational documents of the College. Messiah College is fully committed to a diverse faculty and student body. Successful candidates will evidence similar commitments.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3841

Hillsdale College

Rank: Politics Faculty Position (Open Rank)

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical, Foreign Policy

The Department of Politics and The Van Andel Graduate School at Hillsdale College invite application for a tenure-track faculty position (rank open), beginning August, 2018. The Department's needs are greatest in Classical Political Philosophy, so candidates with a credible record of teaching and scholarly work in that area will receive strongest consideration. Candidates with an additional specialty in International Relations, Comparative Politics, or American Foreign Policy will be prioritized. Applicants should be aware that their teaching responsibilities will range from an introductory core course for freshmen and sophomores to graduate level classes. Since the Department services a graduate program, applicants will need to have a record of scholarly publication, and should have a Ph.D. in hand.

Hillsdale College is a small (1400 students) independent college of liberal arts, dedicated to excellence in teaching and advising students. Applicants should familiarize themselves with the College's mission statement: <https://www.hillsdale.edu/about/mission/>. The College also considers itself a trustee of our Western philosophical and theological inheritance tracing to Athens and Jerusalem, a heritage finding its clearest expression in the American experiment of self-government under law.

Complete applications will include: (a) letter of application; (b) curriculum vitae; (c) transcripts; (d) three up-to-date letters of recommendation, (e) a statement of teaching and research interests; (f) samples of publications or other scholarly manuscripts. Within the statement of teaching and research interests there should be a detailed response to the College's mission statement that includes a discussion of the applicant's ability to teach in light of its commitments. For further information on the undergraduate and graduate programs, visit www.hillsdale.edu and gradschool.hillsdale.edu.

Review of applications will begin on January 15th and continue until the position is filled. Send all application materials by email or regular mail to Dr. Ronald J. Pestritto, Graduate Dean and Professor of Politics, Hillsdale College, 33 E. College Street, Hillsdale, MI 49242. Email submissions may be sent to PoliticsSearch@hillsdale.edu. Salary competitive. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/15/2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3830

Dartmouth College

Rank: U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security Post-doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security Fellows are selected to spend a minimum of ten months and up to one year in-residence at Dartmouth on research and writing about international issues related to one of the Dickey Center's research areas: environment, health, human development, gender, and security. Scholars from all disciplines, including political science and history, are welcome to apply.

Fellows will utilize their year at Dartmouth to maximize progress on their research, build contacts with other Fellows, Dartmouth faculty and with policy networks, and contribute to the intellectual life of the College. All Fellows are assigned a faculty mentor. Faculty mentors are intended to provide professional advice for career building and integrating into the Dartmouth intellectual community as well as substantive expertise.

Fellows typically will:

- Give a faculty seminar on the work discussed in the Dickey Center's seminar series on international politics and foreign policy
- Present work in the departments of Government, History, and in other seminar series at the College
- Participate with other Fellows in an undergraduate course, taught with a Dartmouth faculty member. Fellows also often make guest appearances in other classes, and interact with undergraduate students in Dickey Center student groups or other organization as interest warrants
- Participate in events for Fellows organized throughout the year – topics will be determined on the basis of mutual interest and perceived need

Fellows are provided with an office and access to Dartmouth faculty and resources. They must be in-residence during their fellowship and participate in Dickey Center seminars and events.

How to apply

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status.

The application period for the 2018-19 fellowship is now open. Applications will be accepted until January 2, 2018. While scholars at any stage of their career are eligible, applications from recent recipients of a PhD or equivalent degree are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

- A curriculum vitae
- Research abstract (200 words max.)
- A statement of up to 1,500 words describing the proposed research project
- A writing sample (50 pp. max)

- Two confidential letters of reference
- Graduate school transcript (Unofficial transcripts are acceptable. Junior faculty and professionals may include a transcript, but are not required to do so.)
- A confidential financial statement on a separate page indicating the applicant's other sources of support available during fellowship period and – for current faculty only – current salary.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: apply.interfolio.com/47094. Questions may be sent to: Thomas.K.Candon@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3822

Rhode Island College

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Assistant Professor, Political Science. The Political Science Department at Rhode Island College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in the field Comparative Politics, with specialization in the politics of the Middle East, to begin Fall, 2018. The person hired will teach introductory political science courses, upper-level courses in their areas of specialization, and a course on non-governmental organizations. Additionally, we seek candidates who can teach our required course on research and writing in Political Science. The standard teaching load is three 4-credit courses per semester. Additional information on the position and application instructions can be found at <https://employment.ric.edu>.

Rhode Island College serves a diverse student population and is located in the vibrant city of Providence, Rhode Island.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 3824

Northeastern University

Rank: Teaching Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science at Northeastern University invites applications for the position of Assistant, Associate or Full Teaching Professor in Political Science beginning September 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to and experience in undergraduate teaching and other experiential educational programs such as Model UN, Model NATO, and Model Arab League. This is an untenured, but continuing and tracked position with the possibility of promotion to Associate and Full Teaching Professor, as well as multi-year (3 year and 5 year) contracts. The initial rank will be determined based on the credentials of the final candidate. The standard teaching load is six courses per year as well as service and professional development duties.

Qualifications

Candidates are required to hold a doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field by the start date. All candidates are expected to provide evidence of excellence in teaching. While course needs are broad, candidates must be able to teach undergraduate courses in the core teaching areas of American Politics, Public Policy, Comparative Politics, or International Relations in addition to other elective courses in the candidate's area of expertise for the undergraduate degree programs in Political Science. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

Candidates are required to upload their CV, a cover letter, a teaching statement, a sample syllabus, teaching evaluations (if available), and a list of three references. Applications must be submitted through our on-line portal <https://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions>. Questions may be directed to Professor Thomas Vicino, Department Chair (t.vicino@northeastern.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3814

University of Calgary

Rank: Canada Research Chair (Tier II) in The Politics of Decolonization

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The University of Calgary is engaged in a consultative process with knowledge keepers, Elders, and leaders of the Treaty #7 peoples, the Métis Nation, and academics and university administrators. This ongoing process has resulted in the development of an Indigenous Strategy designed to guide the University's relationship with the Indigenous peoples in whose territory the University resides. One of the goals identified during this consultation is to increase the number of Indigenous scholars in leading positions on campus. In addition to Indigenous cluster hires in the Faculty of Arts and the Werklund School of Education, the University of Calgary is now seeking three Canada Research Chairs (Tier II).

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a Canada Research Chair (Tier II) in the Politics of Decolonization. We are seeking a scholar who will establish and maintain an active research program leading to excellence in our understanding of decolonization. Themes may include, but are not limited to, the study of political processes that redistribute land from colonial states to Indigenous nations, the revitalization of Indigenous land-based governance practices, the study of Indigenous decolonizing political movements, and gendered perspectives on decolonization. The successful candidate will be appointed at the rank of Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) or Associate Professor (with tenure). The anticipated start date is July 1, 2018.

The successful candidate will hold a PhD in Political Science or a related field. The appointee's research agenda may be grounded in any of the fields of political science (political theory, Canadian politics, comparative politics, international relations) or be inter-disciplinary in focus. A research program focused on Canada would be an asset but is not required to be considered for this position. The successful candidate will be expected to build relationships with the Treaty #7 Nations and the Métis Nation. This may include incorporating the experiences and needs of the Treaty #7 peoples and the Métis into their research. This appointment will contribute to the University of Calgary's commitment to create a rich, vibrant and culturally competent campus – one that welcomes and supports Indigenous learners, is inclusive of Indigenous perspectives in teaching and learning, encourages Indigenous community partnerships in research and academic programming and is appropriate and thoughtful in its response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's 'Calls to Action'.

The successful candidate at the Assistant Professor level must demonstrate evidence of excellence in research, teaching and community engagement, commensurate with academic experience. This would normally include publications in high quality journals, success with securing competitive research funding, and evidence of a commitment to teaching effectiveness and to engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations and/or institutions. The successful candidate at the Associate Professor level must demonstrate a proven track record of research and teaching excellence, including a record of publications in high quality journals, proven success in obtaining competitive research funding, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a record of successful graduate student supervision, where possible. The successful candidate at this level should also provide evidence of successful engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations and/or institutions, including evidence of success in community-engaged projects and scholarship.

The Department of Political Science is housed in the Faculty of Arts. The Department administers the International Indigenous Studies interdisciplinary program that attracts students from across the University. The program focuses on various aspects of Indigenous people's experience including arts, culture, ways of knowing, languages, economies, politics, and community structures. The candidate's willingness to teach in this program will be considered an asset. As part of its Indigenous Strategy, the Faculty has created eight tenure-track positions in Indigenous research and scholarship, across various departments. This community of scholars facilitates cross-disciplinary and collaborative research, education and outreach by building on Indigenous knowledges, cultures, traditions and experiences developed among, and in partnership with, First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples in Canada. The Canada Research Chair in the Politics of Decolonization will provide leadership in these areas.

Tier II chairs are intended for exceptional emerging scholars (i.e., candidates must have been an active researcher in their field for fewer than 10 years at the time of nomination). Applicants who are more than 10 years from having earned their highest degree (and where career breaks exist, such as maternity, parental or extended sick leave, clinical training, etc.) may have their eligibility for a Tier II chair assessed through the program's Tier II justification process. Please consult the Government of Canada's CRC website for full program information, including further details on eligibility criteria.

Interested individuals are encouraged to submit their application online via the 'Apply Now' link at <http://careers.ucalgary.ca/jobs/>

8164474-canada-research-chair-tier-ii-in-the-politics-of-decolonization-faculty-of-arts and include:

- A letter of interest and curriculum vitae, including a statement providing evidence of the applicant's connection to the Indigenous community
- Three examples of recent scholarly work
- Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness
- Description of a proposed 5-year research plan for the Chair

Applicants should also arrange to have three electronic confidential letters of reference sent under separate cover directly to the chair of the selection committee:

Dr. Antonio Franceschet
Department Head, Department of Political Science
Faculty of Arts, University of Calgary
Email: polihire@ucalgary.ca

Questions regarding this opportunity should be addressed to Dr. Antonio Franceschet by email (polihire@ucalgary.ca)

Deadline: January 30, 2018

The University of Calgary recognizes that a diverse staff/faculty benefits and enriches the work, learning and research experiences of the entire campus and greater community. We are committed to removing barriers that have been historically encountered by some people in our society. We strive to recruit individuals who will further enhance our diversity and will support their academic and professional success while they are here; in particular, we encourage members of the four designated groups (women, Aboriginal People, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities) to apply. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. To ensure a fair and equitable assessment, we offer accommodation at any stage during the recruitment process to applicants with disabilities. Questions regarding diversity or requests for accommodation can be sent to Human Resources (hrhire@ucalgary.ca).

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3803

Vanderbilt University

Rank: CSDI Senior Visiting Scholar

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions (CSDI) at Vanderbilt University's Department of Political Science seeks applicants for up to two (2) Senior Visiting Scholars who seek to conduct research on political institutions, opinion or behavior. Applications are welcome from scholars of all ranks or equivalent professional positions. The specific length of the appointment will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis, but we especially welcome applications from scholars who are interested in spending an entire year at Vanderbilt during the 2018-2019 academic year. There is no teaching requirement associated with the fellowship. Successful candidates will be provided financial support (e.g. a stipend equivalent to half-salary to make a full year's leave possible), office space, and computing resources.

Candidates should submit a vita and a cover letter describing their research project, what they hope to accomplish while at CSDI, and why spending time at Vanderbilt would provide a useful setting for that research. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, and letters of reference are also required. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before January 15, 2018. Applications should be submitted online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47216>

Vanderbilt University has a strong institutional commitment to recruiting and retaining an academically and culturally diverse community of faculty. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3802

Vanderbilt University

Rank: CSDI Senior Visiting Scholar

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions (CSDI) at Vanderbilt University's Department of Political Science seeks applicants for up to two (2) Senior Visiting Scholars who seek to conduct research on political institutions, opinion or behavior. Applications are welcome from scholars of all ranks or equivalent professional positions. The specific length of the appointment will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis, but we especially welcome applications from scholars who are interested in spending an entire year at Vanderbilt during the 2018-2019 academic year. There is no teaching requirement associated with the fellowship. Successful candidates will be provided financial support (e.g. a stipend equivalent to half-salary to make a full year's leave possible), office space, and computing resources.

Candidates should submit a vita and a cover letter describing their research project, what they hope to accomplish while at CSDI, and why spending time at Vanderbilt would provide a useful setting for that research. The letter should also indicate how long the desired time in residence would be and whether there are existing financial arrangements that would be relevant (e.g., if you have a paid semester's leave and health care benefits). Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before January 15, 2018. Applications should be submitted online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47217>

Vanderbilt University has a strong institutional commitment to recruiting and retaining an academically and culturally diverse community of faculty. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3803

University of Pennsylvania*Rank: Penn CSERI Post-Doctoral Fellowship*CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

Penn CSERI Post-Doctoral Fellowship

2018-2019 Academic Year

Application Deadline: January 5, 2018

Apply via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/46895>

The Penn Center for the Study of Ethnicity, Race and Immigration (CSERI) invites applications for a one-year postdoctoral research fellowship in the social sciences, starting August 1, 2018.

The Center for the Study of Ethnicity, Race and Immigration is a new center initiative supported by the University of Pennsylvania and the School of Arts and Sciences which, in addition to this postdoctoral fellowship, will host visiting scholars and graduate students, help organize workshops initiated by the center's Faculty Advisory Council, and support graduate and undergraduate student social science research at Penn.

The 2018-2019 CSERI Postdoctoral Research Fellow will collaborate with CSERI faculty affiliates on research projects; help organize and participate in faculty/graduate student workshops; and aid in evaluating the progress of graduate students and undergraduates receiving research grants. In addition, the Fellow will have the opportunity to pursue their own research and participate more generally in the intellectual life of the Penn community. There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Skills with statistical analysis, qualitative software, GIS, experimental and other approaches are highly desirable.

The stipend for the postdoctoral fellowship is $52,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years (not earlier than 2015), or who expect to complete their degree by June 2018. Applications will be reviewed starting January 5, 2018. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

Application Instructions

To apply, visit Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/46895> and complete a candidate profile.

Candidates should submit a letter of application and description of research, CV, writing sample (maximum of 20 pp) and two letters of reference through Interfolio.

Review of applications will begin January 5, 2018, and final notifications are expected to go out by March 2018. This one-year Postdoctoral Research Fellow appointment will be effective August 1, 2018. Documents to be uploaded

- Cover Letter
- Title and Description of Proposed Research—No more than 1,000 words.
- CV –Indicate experience with both qualitative and quantitative research, experience with qualitative and statistical research software (e.g. R, STATA, ATLAS/TI, Dedoose, etc.) List other fellowships, funding and scholarships received, and all publications (please note refereed publications).
- Writing Sample – An article or an excerpt of a book or dissertations chapter (20 page limit).

- Confidential Letters of Recommendation (two) - Referees should be asked both to comment on your proposed project and to discuss your qualifications and experience as a researcher.

For more information on the Penn Center for the Study of Ethnicity, Race and Immigration, contact CSERI center director at mjonescorrea@sas.upenn.edu or Matthew Roth, administrator, at maroth@sas.upenn.edu

**

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

Start Date: Summer 2018Application Deadline: 1/5/2018Date Posted: 11/16/2017Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 3795Cornell University*Rank: Visiting Associate Professor

Cornell University's Department of Government seeks to fill a three-year visiting position, beginning July 1, 2018, in International Relations and Comparative Politics, with a focus on the politics and foreign policies of the Middle East. The ideal candidate will be able to teach courses on Israeli politics in comparative perspective (Middle East and cross-regional), the politics of nationalism and separatist movements, and international politics more broadly. The Department welcomes applicants who cross subfield boundaries (e.g., with connections to political theory) and would interact with other departments and programs, such as Near East Studies and the Judith Reppy Institute for Peace and Conflict Studies. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and a list of three references. Electronic application materials should be sent to: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10478>. We will begin to review applications starting December 1, 2017, and will continue until the search is completed.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/15/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3789

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Campaigns and Public Opinion

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

Position 1: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Campaigns and Public Opinion

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield: Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specialization: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track faculty position in Campaigns and Public Opinion starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong publication record of monographs and top-tier international peer reviewed articles, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. We are especially, but not exclusively, interested in candidates whose research addresses the role of emerging technologies such as social media in campaigns and elections; and/or who are working with advanced methods in statistical or experimental analysis.

Candidates will be asked to teach courses in Public Opinion, Political Communication, Research Methods, and Statistics and Forecasting; and should show acumen for innovative, applied teaching methods focused on critical thinking and problem solving.

Beyond these traditional academic criteria, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in meaningful and policy relevant work, and to participate in contemporary policy debates. As well, we seek faculty members to be institution-builders: to apply for research grants, participate in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expand IE's current network and partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a 1-page statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science or Public Policy is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Campaigns and Public Opinion to IESIR1@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We are able to offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3784

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: International Political Economy, Economic Policy, Political Economy

Position 3: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Political Economy

Rank: Assistant Professor

Disciplines: International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Subfield: International Political Economy, Economic Policy, Political Economy

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track faculty position in International or Comparative Political Economy starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong publication record of monographs and top-tier international peer reviewed articles, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. We are especially, though not exclusively, interested in candidates with knowledge of the latest developments in technologies impacting global economic governance such as Blockchain, FinTech and others.

Candidates will be expected to teach courses in International Political Economy, International Trade, and International Finance, as well as core courses in Micro- and Macro-Economics. Furthermore, they should show acumen for innovative and applied teaching methods, with a focus on critical thinking and problem solving.

Beyond these traditional academic criteria, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in meaningful and policy relevant work, and to participate in contemporary policy debates. As well, we seek faculty members to be institution-builders: to apply for research grants, participate in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expand IE's current partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science, Public Policy, International Relations, or Economics is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Political Economy to IESIR3@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 1/31/2018
Date Posted: 11/15/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3786

Birmingham-Southern College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Comparative Politics
Specializations: American Politics, Quantitative Methods, Political Behavior

Birmingham-Southern College seeks candidates with a demonstrated excellence in teaching undergraduate courses for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning August 2018. Candidates should hold a doctorate in Political Science or expect to complete their degree by August 2018. The College seeks exceptional individuals committed to the liberal arts, with a proven record of teaching excellence and a demonstrated potential for developing a distinguished scholarly agenda. The successful candidate must be able to support one or more of the interdisciplinary programs offered at the College as well as the general education curriculum.

Teaching responsibilities will include at least four of the following courses: American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Statistics, Research Methods, Comparative or American Political Behavior.

The teaching load is 3-1-3 including an interim term in January. During January, professors offer unique, innovative, experiential, and/or travel courses.

Review of applicants will begin immediately. Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, copies of graduate transcripts (unofficial), and three professional recommendation letters. Email applications are preferred: pssearch@bsc.edu. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Birmingham-Southern College (BSC) is a selective residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 1,300 undergraduate students. BSC is included in Pope's Colleges that Change Lives and is a sheltering institution for Phi Beta Kappa. The College's curriculum is based on close faculty-student interaction in teaching, advising, and research. For more on the College's faculty, students, educational mission, and national reputation visit www.bsc.edu.

Birmingham-Southern College is located just minutes from downtown Birmingham, which is the largest city in Alabama and a leading hub for banking and medical care and research in the Southeast, and a vibrant center for entertainment, commerce, and recreational activities. There are six higher education institutions within a short commute; a symphony; a ballet; a zoo; botanical garden; the largest art museum in the Southeast; a world-class civil rights institute and annual art, music, and film festivals – as well as numerous opportunities for outdoor adventure activities. In 2015, Birmingham was ranked as the #1 “next hot food city” by Zagat’s.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3769

Roger Williams University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics and International Relations at Roger Williams University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position in Comparative Politics with a regional specialization in Latin America. The successful candidate must be committed to the excellent standards of teaching within the department's two majors of Political Science and International Relations. The successful candidate must also be willing to support the interdisciplinary Latino and Latin American Studies program and the University's Core (general education) program. The ability to teach in the interdisciplinary Public Health major would be an asset. Solid secondary expertise in a region not already covered by existing faculty is also desirable. As well as teaching, the candidate will be responsible for advising students, curricular development, scholarly activity, and service to the department and the university community.

DPIR consists of seven full-time faculty covering American Politics, International Relations, International Political economy, Middle Eastern Politics, Public Administration, and Chinese and Russian Politics. We value collegiality, service to the department and university and are engaged with the academic and wider community in various ways.

The candidate must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or Government with an emphasis in Comparative Politics at the time of appointment. The search committee will consider extraordinarily qualified Ph.D. candidates (ABD) with the condition that they will have completed their dissertation defense by the time of appointment. Highly desirable candidates will have at least two years of teaching experience at the undergraduate level as well as a solid record of scholarly activity.

Qualified applicants should submit materials electronically, including: 1) a letter of intent along with statements of teaching philosophy and research interests; 2) a current vita; 3) representative sample syllabi; 4) evidence of teaching experience including student evaluations (if available); and 5) name and contact information for at least three references. The online application is available here: <http://rwu.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=91486>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3775

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate for the 2018-19 academic year for a 12-month appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and

continued funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2018. The position is open to a scholar who would be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The ideal applicant will have received a Ph.D. within the past three years and studies aspects of contemporary Chinese society from a social science disciplinary perspective. He/she will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. Applicants must apply online at :<https://www.princeton.edu/academic-positions/position/4781> (D-18-PII-00004)

Applications should include:

1. A cover letter
2. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
3. A current curriculum vitae
4. Contact information for two references
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3765

University of Rochester

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowship

Applications for 2018-19 are welcome in any area of international or comparative politics, but preference will be given to applicants whose work focuses on Central and Eastern Europe, broadly defined. Fellows offer two courses during the academic year and receive a stipend of $42,000. Applicants without a Ph.D. should describe their plans for completing the degree by the time the fellowship commences.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a 3-5 page research project description, a one-page sketch of proposed courses, one or more writing samples, and three letters of recommendation to: Fellowship in International and Central European Politics, Skalny Center for Polish and Central European Studies, University of Rochester, Harkness Hall 101, Rochester, New York 14627-0147. Applications must be postmarked by Jan. 5, 2018. Direct questions to Dr. Bozena Sobolewska, bsobolew@mail.rochester.edu, or 585-275-9898.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/5/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3766

American University in Cairo

Rank: Comparative Politics/Methods

Comparative Politics/ Methods

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in Comparative Politics with emphasis on methods at the Assistant or Associate Level Professor beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in comparative politics, using examples outside as well as inside the Middle East and North Africa. Candidates who can teach quantitative & qualitative methods and apply them to studies of surveys and elections in the Arab region are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.oucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@oucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@oucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.oucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3744

Qatar University

Rank: Senior Policy Analyst

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Middle East, Political Theory, Quantitative Methods

The Social and Economic Survey Research Institute (SESRI) at Qatar University invites applications for a full-time Senior Policy Analyst based in Doha, Qatar. The position is attached to SESRI Policy Department, which utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirically-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf region.

Senior Policy Analysts are expected to stay current on policy issues and best practices in their assigned substantive areas, oversee the successful completion of policy research projects, design and interpret analyses, and coordinate the work of Policy Analysts assigned to their projects. They will author reports and other research outputs for a wide variety of audiences, set agendas for convening with policy audiences, and make presentations as required.

Applicants should possess expert-level knowledge and understanding of one or more substantive areas of local and regional policy relevance, including but not limited to education, health, migration, marriage and family, performance evaluation, political attitudes, and economics. Five or more years of relevant work experience is required, as well as knowledge of pertinent research and analytical methods and the ability to apply such techniques to policy issues. Applicants should possess strong research and analytical skills and demonstrate the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in both written and verbal forms to a wide variety of specialist and non-specialist audiences. Successful candidates will be able to show evidence of an active research agenda and demonstrated record of engagement with policy and policymaking communities. Quantitative analytical skills, experience using survey data, and experience working on Gulf policy issues all will be considered favorably. A master's degree in public policy, public administration, or relevant social science field is required, with a Ph.D. preferred. Priority will be given to candidates who are bilingual in Arabic and English.

This full-time position carries an initial three-year term, with a start date that is negotiable, and the possibility of a renewal upon mutual agreement.

Applications will be reviewed beginning on January 15, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

Compensation includes a competitive salary, which is tax-free in Qatar (but persons will still be responsible for any applicable taxes from their country of origin), along with a generous fringe benefits package that includes health insurance. Furnished housing is also provided at no additional cost outside of expenses such as utilities, cable, and Internet access. Applicants will have their flight and moving expenses paid for at the beginning and end of their appointment, as well as one round-trip flight home annually. Educational allowances for up to three accompanying children are also available.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, recent curriculum vita, concise statement of research interests, writing sample or representative publication, confidential letter of reference from someone familiar with the candidate's work, and the names and contact information of two additional referees to spasearch@qu.edu.qa.

About SESRI: SESRI is an academic survey research institute established in 2008 at Qatar University in close association with the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. It undertakes original and groundbreaking surveys of citizens and residents of Qatar and other Gulf Cooperation Council states via telephone and face-to-face interviews, amassing a diverse collection of data unparalleled in the region. Previous areas of study include, among others, education, gender, labor, politics, regional integration, and survey methodology. SESRI has partnered with the World Values Survey, the World Economic Forum's Executive Opinion Survey, and other international survey efforts, and since 2010 has secured more than $5.3 million in external project funding through the Qatar National Research Fund. Widely recognized for their quality and variety, SESRI data have appeared in such forums as Foreign Affairs, Middle East Journal, and Middle East Policy. Established in June 2014, SESRI's Policy Unit utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirical-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/15/2018

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3736

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2018. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2019, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and three references (ensure addresses and telephone numbers are provided) from individuals familiar with your professional work to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Dr. David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6K-160, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to David.Sacko@usafa.edu. Applications received by December 1, 2017 will receive primary consideration. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3739

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Comparative Law and Courts

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, open rank tenure-track position beginning in August of 2018 in the Political Science Program. Candidates at the associate or full rank are preferred, although advanced assistants will be considered. The successful candidate will be expected to teach an introductory undergraduate comparative law course, specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, and to be involved with the pre-law administrative team. Possible specializations might include: human rights, cyberlaw, comparative and foreign law, or trade law, among others. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods and teaching excellence.

The University of Texas at Dallas is a fast-growing, suburban research university and has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public university in Texas. UTD is ranked 1st among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine and is classified by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education as R1 (Highest Research Activity). The Political Science program currently has approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

Faculty typically teach two courses per semester, and opportunities for leave become available after a successful third-year review.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through January 31, 2018. Position starts in August 2018.

Apply at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/8997>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3740

University of Houston

Rank: Director of the India Studies Program,

The University of Houston seeks a senior scholar to serve as Director of India Studies. We are looking for a scholar specializing in the study of India and its role in contemporary global political economy, geopolitics, and cultural change. This is a tenured position at the Associate or Full Professor level starting in August 2018. The India Studies Program is housed in the Department of Modern and Classical Languages, College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences. The Director's role will focus primarily on developing and fulfilling the mission of the interdisciplinary India Studies (I.S.) Program.

The Program serves approximately 250 students each semester who pursue coursework in political science, sociology, anthropology, art history, language & literature, religious studies, cinema studies, yoga and wellness, and more. The Program is served by an active, voluntary advisory board, which helps with fundraising for study abroad program and various cultural events.

The College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences at the University of Houston is recognized as a world leader in multicultural, multidisciplinary education. The India Studies Program has tremendous growth potential, as we are seeking a gifted and dedicated scholar to provide leadership to advance the mission of the I.S. program. The work of the College is deeply rooted in authentic partnerships that achieve unique scholarship, teaching, and research surrounding India's impact on the world.

Qualifications: The successful candidate will have:

1. An earned doctorate in a social science field, such as economics or political science.

2. Evidence of established scholarly record that warrants appointment at the rank of tenured Associate or Full Professor.
3. A demonstrated record of programmatic, peer-reviewed research productivity in studies of India, including quantitative research. Preference will be given to candidates with a history of successful interdisciplinary collaboration and who would likely connect with other UH academic program units.

Responsibilities:

1. Directing the India Studies Program and advancing the program goals, including developing innovative collaborations within UH, and establishing an international reputation for excellence.
2. Conducting research that meaningfully contributes to the field and practice.
3. Securing external funding to further the mission of India Studies.
4. Teaching India studies undergraduate courses and developing future graduate courses.
5. Supervising student research

Preference will be given to candidates with a history of successful interdisciplinary collaboration and who would likely connect with other UH academic program units.

Responsibilities:

1. Directing the India Studies Program and advancing the program goals, including developing innovative collaborations within UH, and establishing an international reputation for excellence.
2. Conducting research that meaningfully contributes to the field and practice.
3. Securing external funding to further the mission of India Studies.
4. Teaching India studies undergraduate courses and developing future graduate courses.
5. Supervising student research
6. Partnering with local, national, and international collaborators to further the goals of the India Studies Program.

The University of Houston is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at the University of Houston. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, veterans, persons with disabilities, and is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Interested candidates should submit application materials online at: <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. Please include curriculum vitae, a letter of application, unofficial transcripts, research statement, publications and a list of three references with complete addresses and phone number. Official terminal degree transcripts will be requested upon selection of a final candidate. Applications received before December 1 will have full consideration. Review will continue until position is filled.

For more details about the Program, please visit the India Studies' web page <http://www.uh.edu/class/mcl/india-studies>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3698

University of Houston*Rank: Director of the India Studies Program,

The University of Houston seeks a senior scholar to serve as Director of India Studies. We are looking for a scholar specializing in the study of India and its role in contemporary global political economy, geopolitics, and cultural change. This is a tenured position at the Associate or Full Professor level starting in August 2018. The India Studies Program is housed in the Department of Modern and Classical Languages, College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences. The Director's role will focus primarily on developing and fulfilling the mission of the interdisciplinary India Studies (I.S.) Program.

The Program serves approximately 250 students each semester who pursue coursework in political science, sociology, anthropology, art history, language & literature, religious studies, cinema studies, yoga and wellness, and more. The Program is served by an active, voluntary advisory board, which helps with fundraising for study abroad program and various cultural events.

The College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences at the University of Houston is recognized as a world leader in multicultural, multidisciplinary education. The India Studies Program has tremendous growth potential, as we are seeking a gifted and dedicated scholar to provide leadership to advance the mission of the I.S. program. The work of the College is deeply rooted in authentic partnerships that achieve unique scholarship, teaching, and research surrounding India's impact on the world.

Qualifications: The successful candidate will have:

1. An earned doctorate in a social science field, such as economics or political science.
2. Evidence of established scholarly record that warrants appointment at the rank of tenured Associate or Full Professor.
3. A demonstrated record of programmatic, peer-reviewed research productivity in studies of India, including quantitative research.

Preference will be given to candidates with a history of successful interdisciplinary collaboration and who would likely connect with other UH academic program units.

Responsibilities:

1. Directing the India Studies Program and advancing the program goals, including developing innovative collaborations within UH, and establishing an international reputation for excellence.
2. Conducting research that meaningfully contributes to the field and practice.
3. Securing external funding to further the mission of India Studies.
4. Teaching India studies undergraduate courses and developing future graduate courses.
5. Supervising student research
6. Partnering with local, national, and international collaborators to further the goals of the India Studies Program.

The University of Houston is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at the University of Houston. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, veterans, persons with disabilities, and is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Interested candidates should submit application materials online at: <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. Please include curriculum vitae, a letter of application, unofficial transcripts, research statement, publications and a list of three references with complete addresses and phone number. Official terminal degree transcripts will be requested upon selection of a final candidate. Applications received before December 1 will have full consideration. Review will continue until position is filled.

For more details about the Program, please visit the India Studies' web page <http://www.uh.edu/class/mcl/india-studies>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3699

Roanoke College*Rank: Visiting Professor

International Relations

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Professor position in International Relations, beginning in August 2018 and ending in May 2019. This is a full time, sabbatical-replacement position, with a teaching load of three courses per semester.

We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations and who can offer courses in International Politics, International Relations Theory, and Environmental Policy. Preference will be given to candidates who can also teach a course on the Comparative Politics of Europe. The successful candidate will also contribute International Relations courses to the General Education curriculum. A Ph.D. with teaching experience is preferred, but an ABD will be considered.

The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research. Visiting Professors are eligible to receive departmental funds and to apply for most of the College's internal grants in support of their research and teaching.

Roanoke College, a nationally ranked Phi Beta Kappa institution is located in the Roanoke Valley of Virginia and is affiliated with the Lutheran Church (ELCA). It is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants should electronically submit curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations and three letters of recommendation and any inquiries to Judi Pinckney at pinckney@roanoke.edu.

Review of applications will begin on January 5, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/24/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3684

University of Dayton*Rank: LecturerSpecializations: International Political Economy, Developing Nations, Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Dayton is seeking a lecturer with a specialization in international political economy and development. Responsibilities include teaching courses in political science, courses for non-majors, and the interdisciplinary social science curriculum.

Qualified candidates will have completed all requirements for the PhD degree in Political Science or a related field, except for defense of dissertation, at the time of application; PhD preferred. Required qualifications include excellent written communication skills and the potential for excellence in teaching in one or more areas of international political economy and development.

The department prefers candidates with an ability to contribute to teaching interdisciplinary aspects of international political economy and development, an interest in developing international political economy and development courses, an interest in the use of innovative pedagogical techniques and successful teaching at the university level. Experience in teaching and advising students of diverse backgrounds and a sensitivity to Catholic and Marianist educational values are also preferred.

The University and the Department are strongly committed to excellence in teaching and the development of distinctive graduates who embrace the ideal of servant-leadership and the University's call to "Learn, Lead, and Serve." The Department currently has 15 full-time faculty members. It offers BAs in Human Rights Studies and Political Science and the Master of Public Administration. The Department is highly supportive of its faculty and students.

The University of Dayton, founded in 1850 by the Society of Mary, is a top ten Catholic research university. The University seeks outstanding, diverse faculty and staff who value its mission and share its commitment to academic excellence in teaching, research and artistic creativity, the development of the whole person, and leadership and service in the local and global community.

Apply at jobs.udayton.edu/postings/24565 by January 16, 2018. Information on the interdisciplinary curriculum (SSC 200) is at udayton.edu/artssciences/academics/about/social\_science\_cap/index.php.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 1/16/2018Date Posted: 10/24/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3685University of Memphis*Rank: Assistant ProfessorSubfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at The University of Memphis invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Policy at the level of Assistant Professor. The position will start in the fall 2018 pending the availability of funds. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand by August 2018. We seek applications from candidates with research and teaching interests in Public Policy. Candidates from across all subfields of Political Science and Public Policy are encouraged to apply. Areas of particular interest for the department include environmental policy, political economy, public health, race, gender and social justice. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates must be able to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in Public Policy and must show promise of excellence in research and teaching. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Please submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample (dissertation chapter, published article or conference paper), evidence of teaching potential, and letters from at least three professional references on-line at <https://workforum.memphis.edu>. For all other inquiries please contact: Public Policy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Memphis, TN 38152. Review of applications will begin on January 5, 2018. The University of Memphis is a Research II University with an enrollment of approximately 20,000 students. The University of Memphis is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to diversifying its work force. Applications from women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 1/5/2018Date Posted: 10/17/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3643Towson University*Rank: Assistant ProfessorACADEMIC YEAR 2017-2018Areas of Specialization: International Relations, Developing States

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level. While the position would be tenured within the Political Science Department, the successful applicant will be expected to contribute three courses per year to the university's International Studies Program. The position entails teaching general survey courses in international relations and upper-level courses focused on the international relations of developing countries. The ability to teach international political economy and/or comparative politics in the applicant's region of specialization would also be an asset. Applicants with Ph.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference, although ABDs may be considered if the degree will be completed by the spring of 2018. Applicants must possess a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and show a solid potential for a productive scholarly program. Interest in pursuing external funding is desirable. The teaching load is six courses during the first year, but will rise to seven courses thereafter. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Matthew Hoddie, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

Application review will begin immediately. The position will remain open until December 15, 2017.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/5/2017

Date Posted: 10/16/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3623

University of Guam

Rank: Tenure Track IR

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Comparative Politics

The University of Guam, the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific, has a tenure track opening in its Political Science Program for an International Relations specialist with a focus on the Asia Pacific. The program has three faculty members representing the areas of American and regional politics, comparative politics and international relations. Courses in political philosophy and methods are shared among faculty.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach both lower and upper division undergraduate political science courses. He or she will (a) teach a normal load of twelve (12) contact hours (4 courses) per semester, with one course load reduction possible with the Dean's approval, for research, instructional innovation, or large service projects; (b) maintain a continuous record of scholarly activity and research relevant to the Asia/Pacific region; and (c) perform university and community service. Course assignments will include an introductory research methodology course including quantitative and qualitative methods and upper division courses in international relations. Possible additional course assignments include: introduction to government and politics, introduction to international relations, political philosophy, politics of Asia and special topics in political science.

Minimum qualifications: (a) Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations or Government from a U.S. regionally accredited institution or foreign equivalent (appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor requires Ph.D. by August 2018 but initial appointment as Instructor is possible, contingent upon completion of the doctorate by the end of the first year of employment); (b) research or relevant professional experience in Asia and/or the Pacific region; (c) teaching experience in some of the subject areas listed above; and (d) willingness to teach online.

Preferred: (a) familiarity with issues of Pacific island societies; (b) experience teaching academically and culturally diverse populations; and (c) a record of winning grants.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience relevant to the position. The following salary figures are for nine (9) months:

Instructor $34,169 - $57,892 Per Academic Year

Assistant Professor $39,473 - $68,237 Per Academic Year

Associate Professor $43,703 - $77,498 Per Academic Year

Applicants for University of Guam faculty positions must complete an online job application through the UOG's online employment portal at <https://uog.peopleadmin.com>. Please have the following documents prepared and ready to upload with your application:

(1) Letter of Intent, stating interest

(2) Up-to-date curriculum vitae or resume

(3) Copies of all graduate and undergraduate transcripts

Applicants who are short-listed for an interview will be required to provide a short (approximately 5 minutes) video clip of their lecture or presentation. Also, applicants may be requested by the search chair to submit supplemental materials including syllabi. Completed applications must be received no later than 11:59 p.m. on January 8, 2018 (Chamorro Standard Time/UTC+10).

Before applying, applicants should consult the full job announcement at <https://uog.peopleadmin.com/postings/1111>. For further information, please contact Dr. Arun R. Swamy, Chair, Political Science Search Committee at arswamy@triton.uog.edu or the Human Resources Office at uoghro@triton.uog.edu, telephone number, (671) 735-2350 or fax number at (671) 734-6005.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 10/14/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3621

Illinois State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics and Government seeks applications for a 9-month, tenure-track position in Comparative Politics. The appointment will be made at the rank of Assistant Professor and will start on August 16, 2018. Candidates must have a Ph.D. conferred by August 16, 2019. We welcome applicants with a research focus on community development, non-governmental organizations, or project management, especially those with regional expertise in Africa. State law mandates demonstrable oral proficiency in the English language as a requirement for this position. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Comparative Politics, Community Development, Project Management, and African Politics. The teaching assignment for the position is anticipated to be 3 courses per semester, with a one-course reduction in this assignment in one semester of the first year.

Initial review of applications will begin on January 15, 2018, and continue until the position is filled. To assure full consideration, please attach an application to posting number 0709961 at www.jobs.ilstu.edu. Candidates should submit: 1) a letter of application that includes a statement of teaching interests and experiences and a statement of research interests and future plans; 2) a current CV; 3) a sample of research; 4) graduate school transcripts; and 5) student evaluations (if available).

In addition, three letters of reference can be uploaded as 1 scanned PDF document with your application or can be submitted on your behalf to polsearch2018@ilstu.edu. Letters should be addressed to: T.Y. Wang, Chair, Department of Politics & Government, Illinois State University, Campus Box 4600, Normal, IL 61790-4600.

Illinois State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

If you are having difficulty accessing the system, please call Human Resources at 309-438-8311.

If you are an individual with a disability and need a reasonable accommodation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) or other state or federal law, you may request an accommodation by contacting the Office of Equal Opportunity and Access at 309-438-3383.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 1/15/2018
Date Posted: 10/13/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3609

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics that focuses on Latin America beginning on August 1, 2018. This is a twelve-month tenure-track position at our Ft. Benning/Columbus, Georgia/ Phoenix City, Alabama location.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/ Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018 with a research specialization in Latin America. The preferred qualifications are a focus in Latin American Security and/or intelligence and the teaching will primarily be in our master's degree (MSIR) in international relations. The successful candidate will also teach undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Candidates should have experience working with the military and be prepared to act as the local university representative to Fort Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Faculty duties include advising students, submitting academic discipline-related articles for publication, attending departmental meetings, and serving on departmental committees.

Administrative duties include acting as the local university representative to Ft. Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community, acting as the main liaison with the Political Science Department at Troy, serving as a common point of contact, helping with scheduling, and reviewing projected schedules.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and provide three reference providers. Please combine the writing sample and research statement into one document and upload it under the "Other Document" section. Please direct all questions to Dr G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/10/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3589

Calvin College

Rank: Full Time, Tenure Track Faculty

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science and be able to demonstrate both scholarly potential and strong teaching ability. Preferred candidates will have a primary subfield in comparative politics. Candidates must also have ability to teach courses in international politics and in International Development Studies.

Faith and Educational Commitment:

Commitment to the educational mission of Calvin College as a Christian liberal arts college affiliated with the Christian Reformed Church. A commitment to the Christian faith and to the integration of faith, learning, and student development.

Diversity Commitment:

Demonstrated awareness and commitment to establishing relationships and positive communication across multiple dimensions of diversity including, but not limited to, race, gender, physical limitations, class, or religious perspectives.

To Apply:

Please submit a letter of application that addresses the requirements and responsibilities of the position (including the Faith and Education Commitment and Diversity Commitment), accompanied by a curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, recent teaching evaluations, and a sample of written work to the chair of the Department of Political Science, Dr. Joel H. Westra, by email at jhw3@calvin.edu. Applications will be reviewed beginning October 30, 2017, and thereafter until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3583

Calvin College

Rank: Full Time, Tenure Track Faculty

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science and be able to demonstrate both scholarly potential and strong teaching ability. Preferred candidates will have a primary subfield in comparative politics. Candidates must also have ability to teach courses in international politics and in International Development Studies.

Faith and Educational Commitment:

Commitment to the educational mission of Calvin College as a Christian liberal arts college affiliated with the Christian Reformed Church. A commitment to the Christian faith and to the integration of faith, learning, and student development.

Diversity Commitment:

Demonstrated awareness and commitment to establishing relationships and positive communication across multiple dimensions of diversity including, but not limited to, race, gender, physical limitations, class, or religious perspectives.

To Apply:

Please submit a letter of application that addresses the requirements and responsibilities of the position (including the Faith and Education Commitment and Diversity Commitment), accompanied by a curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, recent teaching evaluations, and a sample of written work to the chair of the Department of Political Science, Dr. Joel H. Westra, by email at jhw3@calvin.edu

Applications will be reviewed beginning October 30, 2017, and thereafter until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3584

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations(MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/ Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3574

The Citadel

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: China, Southeast Asia, Latin American

The Citadel, The Military College of South Carolina, is currently seeking to fill a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in International Relations or Comparative Politics in the Department of Political Science.

The Citadel is a state-supported coeducational military college in historic downtown Charleston, South Carolina. We are committed to excellence in teaching with the expectation that faculty engage in consistent research and publication. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science with three subfields: American Government, International Politics and Military Affairs, and pre-Law and Legal Studies. The Department is home to approximately 250 undergraduate majors. In addition, the Department of Political Science offers a Master of Arts program in International Politics & Military Affairs and graduate courses related to a Master of Arts program in Social Science.

A Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD eligible candidates who will finish their dissertation by August 2018 will be considered. Expertise in China and Asian area studies is required with a preference for those with professional experience in a US government agency. Ability to teach courses in Latin American Affairs and International/Domestic Terrorism is an added asset. Undergraduate teaching responsibilities include: Introduction to International Politics, Comparative Politics, Southeast Asian Affairs, East Asian Affairs, and South Asian Affairs.

Successful candidates will also be expected to teach both evening and online courses related to the two Master of Arts Programs.

To learn more about The Citadel and its programs please visit our website at www.citadel.edu. To find more information on the Department of Political Science, you can visit us at <http://www.citadel.edu/root/politicalscience>.

Please include the following in your application materials:

- (1) A letter of application addressing the qualifications listed above
- (2) Official transcripts
- (3) A curriculum vita
- (4) Three letters of recommendation sent independently to the address below
- (5) A writing sample
- (6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Application materials should be sent to: Jack J. Porter, Dept. of Political Science, The Citadel, 171 Moultrie St., Charleston, SC, 29409.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3537

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from a mix of disciplines who are engaged in scholarly or creative work on topics related to Latin American Studies to fill one to two Postdoctoral [or more senior] Research Associate positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than 1 course per semester. They also will be invited to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

Appointments are for a 12-month term, starting September 1, 2018, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding. A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, applications should be submitted by January 5, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/1902>.

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Curriculum vitae
- 3) Statement of research interests (one-two pages)
- 4) A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent in the candidate's professional medium; for artistic work, links within a PDF preferred).
- 5) Names and contact information for three references (the Program will contact them, if needed, at a later date)

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/5/2018

Date Posted: 9/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3509

University of Chicago

Rank: Senior Lecturers and Lecturers in Computational Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The University of Chicago invites applications for one or more position(s) as Lecturer or Senior Lecturer in Computational Social Science. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

These are full-time teaching positions beginning September 2018 with a renewable three-year term. The successful applicant will teach five graduate courses per year; advise MA students; evaluate MA theses; hire and manage teaching assistants; participate in program admissions, staff hiring, and student recruitment; help train doctoral student preceptors; and contribute to the intellectual life and administrative needs of the MA Program in Computational Social Science (macss.uchicago.edu). Prior teaching experience is required.

The ideal candidate would be able to teach in three or more of the following areas: scientific programming with Python; coding best practices; SQL and file-based databases; Spark or Hadoop frameworks; machine learning using structured, semi-structured or unstructured data; Bayesian statistical inference and graphical models; statistical programming with R; optimization; or computational statistics. Other courses may be drawn from the candidate's area of disciplinary expertise.

Lecturers must have the PhD in hand by September 1, 2018. Senior Lecturers are normally more advanced, though the offer might be made in cases of exceptional promise.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website. The posting for the Senior Lectureship can be found here <http://tinyurl.com/ydfjovy8>.

The posting for the Lectureship is available here <http://tinyurl.com/ybpogzop>.

The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) a sample course syllabus, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference.

We will begin reviewing applications November 1 and will continue until the positions are filled. Applications received by January 1 will receive full consideration from our committee. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Chad Cyrenne (c-cyrenne@uchicago.edu) for updates on the status of the search.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3440

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specializations: Asia, International Relations

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach comparative politics with a regional specialization in Asia/Pacific Rim. Expertise in international relations also highly desirable. Possible areas of specialty can include, but need not be limited to, terrorism, revolutions, international politics, international economic relations, international conflict. Ability to teach a basic methods course also desirable, though not required. Responsibilities include teaching introductory courses, including Introduction to World Politics, and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates should demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of international experiential activities (e.g. study abroad, internships, civic engagement, Model UN). College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Expertise in international relations and ability to teach basic methods course highly desirable.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts; a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3412

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3361

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - multiple positions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics, international relations, political theory and quantitative methods. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3360

University of New Mexico

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a position in Comparative Politics, beginning August 2018. This appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, in a probationary position leading to a tenure decision. Minimum qualifications are: a Ph.D. in Political Science, Government, or related field by start date of appointment, and a research specialization in Comparative Politics. Preferred qualifications are: demonstrated excellence in conducting substantively and theoretically significant research in comparative politics; demonstrated or potential excellence in teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in comparative politics; expertise on Latin America; strong methodological expertise; international research experience; ability to teach an interdisciplinary social science course on Latin America; capacity to add to the intellectual breadth of the department; and demonstrated commitment to equity and inclusion and student success and working with broadly diverse students and communities. For best consideration, apply no later than October 22, 2017. This position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science currently employs 14 regular faculty members and maintains a small but highly competitive and nationally recognized graduate program (MA and Ph.D.), as well as a high quality undergraduate major (BA); it also plays an active role in the interdisciplinary Latin American Studies BA and MA programs as well as the interdisciplinary International Studies BA program. UNM's Latin American and Iberian Institute, as well as the International Studies Institute and Global Education Office, provide funding and programmatic support for international scholarship. The successful candidate will teach a course in the Latin American Studies program as a part of their regular teaching rotation.

UNM is a Carnegie Doctoral/ Research-Extensive University and US/ DE Minority-Serving public university. As the state's largest university, UNM serves a diverse student population of over 26,000 at its main campus in Albuquerque. The University of New Mexico actively seeks and encourages nominations of and applications from individuals who are members of under-represented groups.

To apply, electronically submit your statement of interest, curriculum vitae, an unofficial graduate transcript, one sample solo-authored peer-reviewed publication or other solo-authored written work, and teaching materials (one sample course syllabus and course evaluation scores for all classes taught at the undergraduate or graduate level) at <https://unmjobs.unm.edu/>, Requisition #2326. Additionally, three letters of recommendation must be emailed directly by your references to Steven Romero, Department Administrator at steveromero@unm.edu. Semi-finalists may be asked to submit additional samples of written work, additional sample syllabi, and official graduate transcripts.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3366

SUNY, College at Oneonta

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations and Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the State University of New York College at Oneonta invites applications for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in International Relations / Comparative Government beginning Fall 2018. The initial appointment will be for two years. Expectations include teaching, research, student advisement, college service, and continuing professional development. SUNY Oneonta is a comprehensive, public, liberal arts and sciences college. The College sits at #9 on the 2016 list of "Top Public Regional Universities" in the North published by U.S. News & World Report, and is ranked #175 in the Northeast on the Forbes magazine list of "America's Top Colleges." The Political Science Department is an expanding part of the College's School of Social Sciences, whose faculty are highly collegial and engaged as teachers, scholars, and mentors. They actively pursue the development of a dynamic learning environment for students in which research and applied learning opportunities are available. To learn more about the College or the Department, please visit www.oneonta.edu or www.oneonta.edu/academics/polsci/. Preference will be given to candidates who have experience with diverse populations and/or teaching pedagogies and/or multicultural teaching experience.

For a complete description of this position go to: <https://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=87620>

To apply online go to: <http://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=87620>

For other employment and regional opportunities, please visit our website at: www.oneonta.edu/employment.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3351

California State University Dominguez Hills

Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics

www.csudh.edu

Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics
College of Natural & Behavioral Sciences

Position Description

The faculty of the Department of Political Science at California State University Dominguez Hills invites applications from individuals for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics, effective Fall 2018.

Department of Political Science

The Political Science Department is located in the College of Natural and Behavioral Sciences. The current faculty is comprised of four tenured and tenure-track faculty joined by 9 to 11 part-time faculty each term. Political Science provides excellent opportunities for the study of government and politics. Over 40 courses cover all the major aspects of the discipline. Students develop an understanding of human behavior as it relates to politics. They learn to discuss and analyze critically current public policy issues facing the United States and the world. They are taught how to critically observe and understand world affairs and comparative politics. They are trained in appropriate research techniques for the study of political processes. The General Political Science Concentration is a relatively "open" one, allowing students to choose from a wide range of courses and subjects within a general framework. It is designed for students seeking broad exposure to the diverse subjects of the discipline and is recommended for most students.

The Department offers a general major composed of core courses in Quantitative Research Methods, History of Political Thought, American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations. Additionally, majors select breadth courses in American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations along with five elective courses selected from Departmental offerings. Majors must complete the Capstone Research Exercise (comprised of a major research paper) in one of the elective courses. The department offers internship opportunities at the national, California government and local government levels. The Department sponsors an active student organization (APSS, the Association of Political Science Students) and successful Model United Nations (MUN) and Mock Trial program for students.

For more information see: <http://www4.csudh.edu/political-science/index>

Mission Statement

CSU Dominguez Hills provides education, scholarship and service that are, by design, accessible and transformative. We welcome students who seek academic achievement, personal fulfillment, and preparation for the work of today and tomorrow.

Responsibilities

The selected candidate will be responsible for teaching, performing service on departmental and university-wide bases, publishing research in peer-reviewed academic journals relevant to the discipline of political science/the subfield of Comparative Politics, maintaining office hours, providing advising for our majors and minors, and participating with colleagues in curricular development.

The Position

Faculty members teach four classes or their equivalent each semester (although new faculty receive reduced teaching assignments); maintain an active research program; mentor and advise students; and serve on departmental and university committees. The appointment will be effective for the fall semester of the 2018-2019 academic year, beginning in August 2018. The Department offers a general major composed of core courses in Quantitative Research Methods, History of Political Thought, American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations. Additionally, majors select breadth courses in American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations along with five elective courses selected from Departmental offerings. Majors must complete the Capstone Research Exercise under the supervision of one of the tenured or tenure track members of the faculty.

The Ideal Candidate

The ideal candidate will have a promising record of effective teaching, scholarly research and service, will be innovative in his or her thinking in a department strongly committed to academic excellence, community outreach and the development of partnerships with local and federal government institutions and businesses to enhance the learning experience of political science students and to help prepare them for success in the job market, legal careers or graduate school.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications

- A PhD or ABD in Political Science or a closely related field from an accredited institution of higher education
- Research experience
- Teaching experience or training in teaching techniques.
- Expertise in area studies, in one of more of the following fields: Asia, The Middle East, Europe, Africa
- Teaching and research interest in Comparative Politics
- A strong interest in developing new courses to reflect the changing nature of the international system and developments in the discipline of Political Science.
- Experience and/or ability in teaching undergraduates from diverse age, socioeconomic, cultural, and academic backgrounds.

Preferred Qualifications

- Secondary interest in Quantitative Methodology
- Ability and willingness to teach, and perform research utilizing, Quantitative Methodology
- An interest in student-involved research

Background Checks

- The successful candidate is required to complete a thorough background check and the employment offer can be rescinded if the background check reveals disqualifying or falsified information.

CSU Dominguez Hills

On April 29, 1960, Gov. Pat Brown signed a bill into law authorizing the formation of a state college to serve the growing southwestern region of Los Angeles County. From its humble beginnings in a bank building in Rolling Hills Estates, CSU Dominguez Hills has evolved into a thriving and nationally recognized comprehensive university, providing an innovative liberal arts education to a diverse student body.

Mission Statement

CSU Dominguez Hills provides education, scholarship and service that are, by design, accessible and transformative. We welcome students who seek academic achievement, personal fulfillment, and preparation for the work of today and tomorrow.

Vision

A vital educational and economic resource for the South Bay, CSU Dominguez Hills will be recognized as a top-performing Comprehensive Model Urban University in America. We will be known as a campus community and gathering place where:

- Diversity in all its forms is explored, understood, and transformed into knowledge and practice that benefits the world.
- Technology is embraced and leveraged to transcend educational boundaries as we reach out to students, both locally and globally.
- Sustainable environmental, social and economic practices are a way of life.
- Students from our community who aspire to complete a college degree are provided the pathway and guidance to succeed.
- Faculty and staff across the University are engaged in serving the dynamic needs of the surrounding communities.
- Student life is meaningful and vibrant.
- Our accomplishments and those of our alumni are recognized nationally and internationally.
- Ultimately, our students graduate with an exemplary academic education, a highly respected degree, and a genuine commitment to justice and social responsibility.

About the University

CSU Dominguez Hills holds the Carnegie classification of Master's L and is a federally recognized Hispanic-Serving Institution. Class sizes are small as compared with large research universities and classes are taught by the faculty, not by teaching assistants. Many of the university's students are the first in their families to earn a university degree. While the university enrolls traditional full-time students, many students enroll part-time and attend late afternoon, evening and weekend classes because of work and family responsibilities.

CSU Dominguez Hills offers 45 baccalaureate degrees, 24 master's degrees, and a number of certificate and credential programs. Enrollment exceeds 14,635 students, and the student population is among the most ethnically and culturally rich in the nation: 60% Hispanic/Latino, 14.5% Black/African-American, 10.9% White, 10.8% Asian,

.10% American Indian/Alaska Native, .30% Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander, 3.10% Two or more races.

The University is accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), the accrediting body for institutions of higher learning in the West. Twelve programs hold accreditations from national professional associations: business administration, clinical sciences, computer science, education, health science, music, nursing, occupational therapy, public administration, special education, theatre arts, and social work.

The academic programs of the university are organized under the Colleges of Arts and Humanities, Business Administration and Public Policy, Extended and International Education, Natural and Behavioral Sciences, Education, and Health and Human Services, and Nursing. While continuing to emphasize the liberal arts and sciences, professional programs offered at the undergraduate and graduate level, developed to serve the region's workforce needs, are of great interest to students and prepare them for professions in a variety of industries.

Known for excellence in teacher education, nursing, psychology, business administration, and digital media arts, new degree programs include computer science, criminal justice, recreation and leisure studies, social work, and communication disorders. CSU Dominguez Hills is a national leader in distance learning with 10 academic degrees and seven certificate programs offered.

Faculty

A tradition of teaching excellence lies at the heart of the university experience for Dominguez Hills' students. Most of the faculty have earned doctoral degrees from prestigious universities across the nation. The faculty strives to sustain a dynamic teaching and learning environment in a multicultural setting. The Academic Senate provides a forum for faculty, administration, students and others to be represented and consulted regarding such vital issues as budget priorities, academic standards, curriculum and instruction, and student affairs.

Student Life

At CSU Dominguez Hills, there's more to student life than the classroom. The university offers a dynamic, interactive and enriching community of learners, teachers and peers sharing diverse points of view. There are multitudes of ways for students to pursue interests, get involved, and get the most from their academic experience.

An office of student life enhances student development by coordinating a variety of co-curricular activities, including 60 student organizations. Students are encouraged to perform community service and participate in leadership development. The Multicultural Center on campus promotes the exploration of diverse heritages, values and cultural experiences by offering a wide range of activities and programs throughout the academic year.

CSU Dominguez Hills is a National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division II institution that competes in the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA). CSU Dominguez Hills is one of the most athletically competitive and honored schools in the CCAA, with 23 conference titles and four national championships to date, including the 2008 NCAA D-II Men's Soccer National Championship. CSU Dominguez Hills sponsors 11 intercollegiate athletic teams.

The Location

The university is located in Carson, California, in the South Bay region of Los Angeles County. Its 346-acre park-like campus is situated in the historic Rancho San Pedro, the oldest Spanish land grant in the Los Angeles area. The site remained in the continuous possession of the Dominguez family for seven generations - from its inception in 1794 to its acquisition by the state of California.

The Region

The South Bay is one of the most culturally, economically, and ethnically diverse areas in the United States, with a largely even distribution of the population with African, Asian/Pacific Islander, European, and Latino ancestry. The university is located in the city of Carson, a city of 93,000 residents and one of the many municipalities that border the city of Los Angeles. Cultural, performance and sports venues in downtown Los Angeles are about 15 minutes away and the South Bay beach communities are a few minutes away to the west and south. The StubHub, a 125-acre sports center developed by AEG and home to Major League Soccer's L.A. Galaxy and Chivas USA, is located on the CSUDH campus.

The campus is strategically located in the heart of a major technological, industrial and transportation complex in Southern California. This area includes the massive Port of Long Beach and the Port of Los Angeles – Southern California's gateway to international commerce. The South Bay region is also home to aerospace, oil refinery, healthcare and automotive industries.

Employee Benefits

CSU Dominguez Hills offers a comprehensive and attractive benefits program to its employees. Further information on benefits offered can be found at www.csudh.edu/employment

How to Apply

While the position will remain open until filled, review of applications will begin on September 15, 2017.

Register your online application/s at https://my.csudh.edu/psp\_paaprd/EMPLOYEE/HDHPRD/c/HRS\_HRAM.HRS\_CE.GBL and have the following documents as a single file by October 15, 2017.

- Current Curricula Vitae
- Cover letter
- Three Letters of Recommendation
- Copy of Terminal Degree
- A Statement on Teaching
- A Statement on Research
- Sample Publications (if available)
- Teaching Evaluations (if available)

Instructions on how to submit a single document link:

<http://www4.csudh.edu/Assets/CSUDH-Sites/HR/docs/External-Applicant-FAQs-final.pdf>

Applicants that are selected to move forward in the recruitment process will be notified by the Search Committee when to submit official transcripts directly to the email address of srusso@csudh.edu or you may mail directly to:

Dr. Salvatore J. Russo
Search Committee Chair
Department of Political Science
CSU, Dominguez Hills
1000 East Victoria Street
Carson, CA 90747

California State University, Dominguez Hills, is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status.

Individuals with disabilities requesting accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) may call the CSU Dominguez Hills Human Resources Office (310) 243-3771 or the Academic Affairs Personnel Services Office at (310) 243-3766.

Clergy Act crime statistics for CSUDH are available at <http://www.csudh.edu/dhpd/>, or by calling University Police at (310) 243-3693.

Upon appointment all candidates must furnish proof of eligibility to work in the U.S.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3348

Ohio State University

Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3337

Ohio State University

Rank: The Health of Democracy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position affiliated with the university's new Institute for Democratic Engagement and Accountability. In keeping with the university's motto, "Education for Citizenship," we welcome applications from scholars broadly interested in the health of democracy, especially the conditions for energetic democratic participation and effective governance. Successful candidates may specialize in one or more areas, including political behavior, political communication, political economy, political psychology, political theory, the policymaking process, race and ethnic politics, or others. Further, we are open with respect to subfield, though we are especially interested in applicants who focus on or include the American case. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants should have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by autumn 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9663>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at Neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3336

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Immigration/Migration Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Latino Politics, International Political Economy

Immigration and/or Migration Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to understanding immigration and/or migration. We seek a scholar whose research advances our understanding of the causes and consequences of these population movements. He or she may also study the social, political, economic, and demographic realignments that migrants produce in their communities of destination or origin. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, History, Sociology, Psychology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03189>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3328

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Social Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Social Welfare, Labor Politics, Economic Policy

Social Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to social policy. We seek a scholar whose research advances our knowledge of policies that address the economic and social disparities —inclusive of differences in geography, race, and ethnicity. His or her research may deepen our understanding of the changing dynamics of labor-market opportunities or how employment contributes to the social welfare of individuals and families. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, Sociology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03183>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3329

Le Moyne College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Le Moyne College invites applications from qualified candidates for a faculty opening for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor of International Relations or Comparative Politics, beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will offer traditional introductory IR or CP courses at the undergraduate level; upper-division courses are open in terms of expertise and interest in world politics, although interest in human rights issues, or in an area such as Africa or the Middle East would be welcome. Candidates should identify in the application letter the specific courses they are prepared to teach.

Qualified candidates must demonstrate teaching effectiveness, manifest a strong understanding of and commitment to a liberal arts education, and be dedicated to maintaining an active research agenda. Qualified candidates must be ABD; preference given to a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment.

To apply for this position, please go to <http://www.lemoyne.edu/employment> and submit the required materials for consideration: a letter of application stating research and teaching interests; a curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; relevant teaching evaluations; and three confidential letters of recommendation - all sent electronically to lemoynehr@lemoyne.edu with the subject line of "Visiting International Relations." Application materials and supporting documentation may also be submitted by mail to: Amy Zubierta, Le Moyne College, 1419 Salt Springs Road, Grewen Hall, 2nd Floor (Human Resources), Attn: International Relations Search, Syracuse, New York 13214.

Review of completed applications will begin January 31, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3320

New College of Florida*Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - International Political Economy/Latin America

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor in International Political Economy and Comparative Political Economy with a substantive focus on Latin America. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, teaching experience and career interest in liberal arts teaching, and a vibrant research agenda. In addition to anchoring the general IPE field and teaching courses in Latin American IPE/CPE, the candidate will offer an upper-level undergraduate course in the comparative politics of Latin America and join in the rotation(s) of at least one of the following disciplinary service courses: Intro to World Politics, Research Design (multiple approaches and methods), or Quantitative Analysis. Given the IPE/CPE emphasis of this position, we expect that the candidate hired would have advanced quantitative skills and be able to guide both qualitative and quantitative undergraduate research. While this position is open with regard to research interests, we would look especially favorably on someone who can teach about and supervise research on the large states and economies of South America. The candidate must have completed the Ph.D. by the start of employment in August 2018.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. Students are intellectually independent and highly motivated. Undergraduate research has a central role in the curriculum, and a senior thesis or project is required of all students. Students receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. We are committed to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and encourage collaborative student-faculty scholarship. The teaching load is two courses per semester plus sponsoring individual and group tutorials. Faculty members also provide academic advising, supervise independent study projects, sponsor senior theses, and serve on baccalaureate committees. Professors are expected to maintain a program of research or creative work. We are particularly interested in candidates with a commitment to innovative undergraduate liberal arts teaching.

Candidates should apply on-line at <https://www.ncf.edu/employment> and upload the following: a cover letter; c.v.; statements of no more than a page each regarding teaching philosophy, the candidate's contributions or approaches to supporting an inclusive culture and learning environment, and research interests; syllabi; teaching evaluations; one writing sample (article or chapter length); and unofficial graduate transcript(s). In addition, please ask at least three references to send signed letters on letterhead electronically to ssc@ncf.edu or in hard copy to: IPE Search, Division of Social Sciences, New College of Florida, 5800 Bay Shore Rd, Sarasota, FL 34243. According to Florida law, applications and meetings regarding applications are open to the public upon request. Applicants who need accommodations in order to participate in the selection process must notify the chair of the search committee 48 hours in advance of a meeting. For questions about the application process, please contact Ms. Kristi Fecteau at kfecteau@ncf.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. We will be at the APSA convention for preliminary interviews and more information. If you are interested in meeting at APSA, please send an e-mail to Prof. Barbara Hicks at bhicks@ncf.edu with APSA-IPE in the subject line.

New College of Florida is committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty. Women and candidates from underrepresented groups or whose knowledge or skills can support an inclusive learning environment are especially encouraged to apply. Consistent with law and its respect for personal dignity, the college does not discriminate against applicants for employment based on race, color, sex, age, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. In accordance with state law, all employees are subject to a background check at the time of hiring. EOE/AAP/ADA/WMA.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 8/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3156

University of Southern California*Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles) invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in the field of Comparative Politics. Areas of interest include state formation and capacity, authoritarianism and democratization, contentious politics, identity politics, political institutions and policymaking, and the political economy of development. We welcome applications from scholars studying any developing region, including South Asia, Latin America, and Africa. Promise of excellence in research and teaching, and a completed Ph.D. by the start of appointment, are required.

In order to be considered, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-comparative-politics/1209/5281326>. The applicant should upload a CV, a letter of interest, writing samples, and the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for references. Referees will be contacted automatically upon receipt of the application, and must upload their letters prior to the deadline. Inquiries may be sent to posc@dornsife.usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted. Review of applications will start September 25, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3141

Cornell University*Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Government at Cornell University welcomes applications for a full-time, tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of assistant professor. The department has special interest in candidates whose research and teaching interests include formal theory, Europe, the Middle East, and/or South Asia. A PhD is required no later than July 1, 2018.

Applicants should apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9482>. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, and three letters of recommendation, as well as teaching evaluations and materials if available. We will begin to review applications starting September 15, 2017, and will continue until the search is complete.

Diversity and inclusion have been and continue to be a part of our heritage. The Department of Government, and the College of Arts and Sciences at Cornell embrace diversity and seek candidates who will create a climate that attracts students and faculty of all races, nationalities and genders. We strongly encourage women and under-represented minorities to apply. Cornell University is a recognized EEO/AE employer and educator, valuing AA/EEO, Protected Veterans, and Individuals with Disabilities.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/4/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3129Texas A&M University*Rank: Assistant Professor*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/4/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3129Texas A&M University*Rank: Associate/Full Professor*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3115

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in public policy to begin July 1, 2018.

Applicants should be new or recent PhD graduates with an outstanding record in a PhD program in political science, public policy or economics. The successful candidate will have a background broadly in the field of public policy. Examples include political scientists within the fields of American, comparative or international politics with focuses on: institutions; the politics of policy design; policy implementation. GPS has a special interest in candidates who can provide leadership in our public policy (MPP) program. Applicants must have a PhD conferred or to be completed by July 1, 2018.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including referee information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://aploreruit.ucsd.edu/JPF01483>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3108

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Chinese Politics

The Department of Political Science at the Johns Hopkins University invites applications for one or more open rank positions in Comparative Politics. We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in Chinese politics. Other priority areas that would build on and extend existing strengths in the department include social movements, labor, the welfare state, environmental politics, and/or race and immigration. The Comparative Politics subfield at Hopkins builds upon one of the distinctive strengths of the Political Science department: fostering innovative research and cross-field synergies that reach beyond the traditional divides of our discipline. Over the last decade, we have developed exciting collaborations in Comparative and International Political Economy, Parties and Elections, Transnational Politics, and Comparative Racial Politics. We are a methodologically diverse and pluralistic department, and we encourage applications from those trained in a variety of research methods. Applicants should submit a letter of interest that describes their research agenda, writing sample, and curriculum vitae. In addition, candidates applying at the level of assistant professor should send teaching evaluations, if available, and three letters of recommendation; those applying at the tenured level should provide the names of three references on Interfolio <http://apply.interfolio.com/31670>

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. The position will commence on July 1, 2018. Johns Hopkins is committed to active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. The University is an Affirmative Action/ Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Consistent with the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, we will assess the comprehensive qualifications of each applicant.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2996

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, Latin American, Mexico

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2017-18 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2018.

Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2017 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01465>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3001

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics/IR

Teaching a 3/3 course load, with courses in International or Comparative Political Economy, as well as additional courses in International Politics and/or Comparative Politics and the applicant's area of regional specialty. Maintain an active research agenda leading to peer-reviewed publication. Service includes advising duties for Global Studies majors and other service to the department as assigned by Chair, as well as institutional service.

A strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Research agenda and expertise in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. Candidate should have a PhD in Political Science or be ABD.

Preference will be given to candidates who research and teach about Latin America or Africa, but we are open to all geographic areas that would complement existing strengths in Eastern Europe/Russia and Asia.

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications for a Tenure-Track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. The position begins Fall 2018.

We seek candidates displaying a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and an interest in the enduring questions of Politics, with an ability to teach International or Comparative Political Economy. Preference will be given to candidates who research and teach about Latin America or Africa, but we are open to all geographic areas that would complement existing strengths in Eastern Europe/Russia and Asia. Applicants should have their primary training in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations, and the expectation will be for courses to be taught in Introduction to Politics, International or Comparative Political Economy, International Politics and/or Comparative Politics, as well as in the regional area of expertise. Candidates should have a PhD or ABD.

The teaching load for the position is three courses in the fall and three courses in the spring semester, with a single-course reduction the first semester (each course is capped at 30 students). Courses will primarily serve Political Science and Global Studies majors.

The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in Loyola's growing Global Studies program. Global Studies is an interdisciplinary major with a curriculum based in the four disciplines of Economics, History, Political Science and Sociology. Students begin with foundational coursework in each department, and then develop topical specializations in the junior and senior years. The program hosts annual speakers and special events, and is a significant presence on campus. Faculty who contribute to Global Studies participate in student advising and mentoring, teach courses in the major, and become part of the Global Studies academic community. The candidate will be a member of the Political Science Department but will advise Global Studies majors.

Loyola University Maryland is a selective liberal arts university in the Jesuit Catholic tradition. The university is committed to intellectual excellence and social justice as it prepares students for a diverse and changing world. Recognized as a leading independent, comprehensive university in the northeastern United States, Loyola has a beautiful historic Evergreen campus in Baltimore and Graduate Centers in Timonium and Columbia. Loyola enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and about 2,000 students in its graduate programs.

To apply, please go to www.loyola.edu/careers to submit a C.V., three letters of reference, graduate transcripts (copies are acceptable), an article-length manuscript or chapter demonstrating scholarly potential, and a cover letter explaining teaching approach in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Teaching evaluations and sample course syllabi should also be submitted if available (select Option 1 to submit syllabi in online application). Please submit applications by September 15 to ensure full consideration. For questions related to the search or any materials that are only available in hard copy or cannot otherwise be submitted through the online application (which could include letters of reference or teaching evaluations), please send files to Dr. Carsten Vala via email to cvala@loyola.edu or via mail to him at Department of Political Science, Loyola University Maryland, 4501 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD, 21210.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/31/2017

Date Posted: 7/8/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 2949

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

University of Northern Colorado

Rank: Assistant Professor

The University of Northern Colorado invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in International Relations, beginning August 2018. Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated teaching excellence or the potential for teaching excellence, and a record of scholarly publication or potential for scholarly excellence are required.

The Department of Political Science and International Affairs has five full-time faculty members. The Department houses an interdisciplinary major in International Affairs and a traditional Political Science major as well as three minors: Political Science, Public Policy, and Legal Studies.

We are interested in candidates with expertise in global political economy, and we value research that uses critical, interpretative and/or historical approaches.

We seek candidates broadly trained in the field and able to teach a wide-range of courses, with a strong liberal arts background and an interest in developing new courses. The normal teaching load is 3-3, which covers a variety of courses, accounting for 60 percent of the typical workload; the remainder is divided between scholarly activity and service responsibilities. We seek candidates with experience in teaching the following: U.S. National Government, Fundamentals of Politics, Global Issues, International Political Economy, International Law and Organization, Globalization, U.S. Foreign Policy, War and Peace as well as a course on Russian politics. In addition, we seek someone with experience teaching senior seminars.

Candidates should be firmly committed to working collegially in a small undergraduate-only department. We are looking for a candidate committed to departmental and university service with experience in advising majors, pre-law undergraduates and legal studies minors, and internships. We also seek someone who has experience in developing student learning outcomes and managing member assessment reports. We are an inclusive department that values diversity among our faculty.

Applicants should complete the electronic application form at careers.unco.edu/ and include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, sample syllabi, teaching evaluations, and a writing sample. Review of applications will begin on February 2, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 1/2/2018

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3909

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence & Social Thought

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Law

Amherst College Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a three-year visiting appointment starting in the 2018–2019 academic year. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is in one or more of the following areas: global legality; jurisprudence and modern legal theory; the social organization of law; constitutionalism and democratic practice; law and literature; law, popular culture and the arts; and law and science. The position requires a Ph.D or a J.D. Applicants should submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/48068> a cover letter addressed to Professor Austin Sarat, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/15/2018

Date Posted: 12/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3907

SUNY, Binghamton University

Rank: Post Doc Institute for Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

Binghamton University's Institute for Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention seeks applications for a one-year (non-renewable) post-doctoral research and teaching Fellow. The GMAP Fellowship supports recent recipients of terminal degrees in academic disciplines contributing to the study of policies and practices designed to predict and prevent genocide and mass atrocities. Applicants must have their terminal degree conferred by the Fellowship start date of August 20, 2018. Recent PhDs in such disciplines (e.g. political science and international studies, sociology or anthropology, geography or public administration) are welcome to apply. In appropriate circumstances applications by recent recipients of the J.D. will also be considered, as will those already occupying temporary or tenure-track positions. For the 2018-19 academic year, the Institute particularly welcomes applicants whose research programs intersect with question of gender and prevention.

Binghamton University's GMAP Institute concentrates specifically on the formation, implementation, and assessment of practical preventative measures and policies. Applicants should present a research program or proposal that documents this practical dimension. The Fellow will conduct research, collaborate with Binghamton University faculty and graduate students associated with the Institute, and will offer at least one public lecture and/or workshop during the academic year. The Fellow will also be expected to offer one course per academic year, at either the graduate or undergraduate level, in an appropriate department.

Deadline for External Applicants: Open until filled

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the vacancy is filled.

Persons interested in this position should apply online.

Please submit:

1. A short cover letter

2. A CV

3. A detailed research proposal including a statement of how the proposal further research in the prevention of genocide and mass atrocity

4. Titles of two or three possible courses
5. Three confidential letters of recommendation

Informal inquiries can be directed to Prof. Max Pensky (mpensky@binghamton.edu).

You may add additional files/documents after uploading your resume. After you fill out your contact information, you will be directed to the upload page. Please login to check/edit your profile or to upload additional documents: <https://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=92541>

The State University of New York is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. As required by title IX and its implementing regulations Binghamton University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational programs and activities which it operates. This requirement extends to employment and admission. Inquiries about sex discrimination may be directed to the University Title IX Coordinator or directly to the Office of Civil Rights (OCR). Contact information for the Title IX Coordinator and OCR, as well as the University's complete Non-Discrimination Notice may be found here: <https://www.binghamton.edu/diversity-equity-inclusion/policies/title-ix.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3903

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCHER POSITIONS, Social Science. NYU Abu Dhabi

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Social Movements

POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCHER POSITIONS

Social Science

NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint several Post-Doctoral Researchers starting September 2018. Applicants must have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in the fields of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Public Policy. Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Applications are now open and we will consider candidates on a rolling basis. To be considered, all applicants need to submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, research sample and three letters of reference, all in PDF format. The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply. Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/>

en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad-socialscience@nyu.edu

Note: We will begin considering applicants from political science September 22, 2017, sociology on November 1, 2017 and applications from economics December 1, 2017.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complimented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its eighth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3898

University of Cambridge

Rank: Lecturer (Assistant Professor) International Relations

The Department of Politics and International Studies at Cambridge is seeking to appoint to a Lectureship in International Relations from 1st September 2018.

The successful candidate will have, or be expected to develop, a record of world-class research commensurate with the international reputation and top-rank research rating of the University of Cambridge. Teaching responsibilities will include contributing to the development, delivery and supervision of undergraduate and postgraduate courses.

Candidates should demonstrate a willingness and ability to contribute to the continued growth of the Department.

The successful candidate will be expected to supervise in one or more papers in the Human, Social, and Political Sciences Tripos and to be able to contribute to teaching in any future relevant Tripos. The successful candidate must be able to play a substantial role in the teaching of the introductory International Relations paper.

Candidates will need to show evidence of the following qualifications, skills and experience:

- Good first degree and a doctorate in a relevant subject area (or clear evidence that completion of such a doctorate is imminent);
- Evidence of ability to engage in internationally recognised high-level research in International Relations, with publications and participation in scholarly activity commensurate with stage of career;

-Evidence of ability to teach the subject effectively, and at all relevant levels;
-Ability to play an effective role in the life and work of the Department and the College;
-Ability to work as part of a team.

Further information about the Department can be found at www.polis.cam.ac.uk

Apply online for this vacancy via <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/16013/>

Informal enquiries about the Lectureship may be addressed to Professor Jason Sharman (jcs207@cam.ac.uk). Enquiries about applications should be addressed to Mrs Suzy Adcock (sfa26@cam.ac.uk).

Applicants shortlisted for interview will be contacted in February 2018. The selection process will be a combination of a presentation to the Department and an interview. These will be held on 15 and 16 March 2018. Please quote reference UE14232 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

The University values diversity and is committed to equality of opportunity. The University has a responsibility to ensure that all employees are eligible to live and work in the UK.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/17/2018

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3889

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Center for the Study of Contemporary China (<http://cscs.sas.upenn.edu/>) at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications to fill two postdoctoral fellowship positions for the 2018-2019 academic year. Applications are welcomed from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees in the last two years, or who expect to complete their degree by June 30, 2018.

The CSCC postdoctoral fellowships support research on all aspects of contemporary China that fall within the broad mission of the CSCC -- to advance Penn's leadership in programs, research, and scholarship about the political, legal, economic, and social factors shaping China and its role in the world today. The Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at Penn engaged in work pertaining to contemporary China. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and a speaker series.

Fellows at the CSCC will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because fellows are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of the University of Pennsylvania. Each fellow receives a stipend of $48,000, a $2500 research fund, and health insurance.

The University of Pennsylvania is an EO/AE employer and we welcome applications from women and minorities. CSCC starts to accept application on December 1, 2017. Applications will be reviewed starting March 1, 2018. To receive full consideration, your application should be received by that date. Applicants will be notified of the outcome in early April, 2018. To apply, please send a C.V., a research statement, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to cscs-contact@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3896

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies

Rank: Faculty Member

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Security, Southeast Asia, Political Economy

The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is a Department of Defense executive education institution that educates, empowers, connects, current and future leaders from the Indo-Pacific region. The Center offers in-resident courses, workshops and dialogue events in Honolulu and the Indo-Pacific region, and conducts policy-relevant research in order to build security capacity and collaboration in the Indo-Pacific. DKI APCSS address traditional and non-traditional security issues, including the relationship between governance and the security sector; transnational threats such as organized crime, terrorism, violent extremism, and trafficking; maritime security and the international rule of law; management of natural and man-made crises through HADR; analytical security assessments; and whole-of-society collaboration to include the role of women, peace and security. The audience of Fellows are mid to senior level civilian and military officials from all over the world. The Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies is located in Honolulu, Hawaii.

FACULTY MEMBER

The Center currently seeks world-class educators to teach, facilitate, research, and build capacity in the Indo-Pacific Region: Responsibilities include:

- Teaching executive education courses in a participant-centered, activity-based context
- Facilitating seminars and workshops in residential courses, regional seminars, and workshops
- Contributing to capacity building endeavors and security cooperation projects in the region
- Contributing analysis of security-related trends in the Asia-Pacific region
- Contributing to curriculum development
- Performing administrative and staff duties to support the Center's academic functions

Of particular interest are candidates with expertise in the following areas:

Expertise is sought in the following areas:

- Violent Extremism/Terrorism: Background and understanding of violent extremism and terrorism, broadly defined.
- OR
- Transnational Crime, Organized Crime, Combating Illicit Activities: Background understanding in any of these areas, whether through academic training or government practice
- Ideal candidates will possess the following:

- Master Degree or PhD in a related area or discipline.
- Proven ability in teaching and seminar facilitation.
- Proven ability to function as a team member.

The following are preferred for all faculty positions:

- Experience working in the Indo-Asia Pacific region
- Expertise in the security sector of one or more Asia-Pacific countries.
- Familiarity with facilitation-based teaching, and state-of-the-art educational technology.
- Professional expertise at the operational, strategic or policy level in a whole-of-government or multilateral setting.

Salary and rank are commensurate with qualifications. Salary range is $90,789 - $120,157 excludes locality pay (17.92%) and cost of living allowance (COLA), currently 11.32% but subject to change). These are limited-term, excepted-service positions, for up to three years (with the possibility of renewal). Relocation expenses may be authorized.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

1. Interested candidates should submit the following items:
  - a. LETTER OF INTEREST. Provide a brief description of your vocational goals, personal interests and expected areas of study in the coming year, and explain your interest in future career considerations with the Department of Defense.
  - b. CURRICULUM VITAE. Should reflect the following: educational background, work experience, publications and salary history.
  - c. TWO LETTERS OF REFERENCE.
  - d. TRANSCRIPT(s). Provide bona fide transcripts from the academic institutions granting advance degree(s).
2. Submit all required documents to physical address:

Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies
Attn: Chief, Human Resources Department
2058 Maluhia Road
Honolulu, Hawaii 96815-1949

or email to:

hrapplications@dkiapcss.net

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

1. Application deadline: Open until filled. Cut off: February 2, 2018.
2. Applications will be considered against current Faculty requirements. Application packages will be retained for one year.
3. Application materials become the property of the U.S. Department of the Defense and will not be returned.
4. The Department of the Defense is an Equal Opportunity Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, marital status, political affiliation, sexual orientation, or any other non-merit factor. U.S. Citizenship is not required however applicants must be eligible for an H1B or other work visa.
5. The Department of the Defense provides reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities. Applicants with disabilities who believe they require reasonable accommodation should contact the Center's Human Resources Department at hrapplications@dkiapcss.org to ensure that the Department of the Defense can consider such a request. The decision to grant an accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.

6. Frequent travel required.
7. Learn more about the Daniel K. Inouye Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies by visiting: www.apcss.org.

Start Date: Winter 2017

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3884

Victoria University of Wellington

Rank: Lecturer in Strategic Studies or International Relations

Lecturer in Strategic Studies or International Relations

School of History, Philosophy, Political Studies and International Relations
Wellington, New Zealand

The Political Science and International Relations programme and Centre for Strategic Studies seeks to appoint a permanent Lecturer in Strategic Studies (equivalent to tenured assistant professor)/International Relations. The starting date is negotiable.

The successful candidate will possess the abilities required to teach strategic studies (broadly understood), with a related expertise in some aspect of global or regional security or New Zealand's defence and security policy. Expertise in strategic theory and concepts, cybersecurity, terrorism or maritime security would also be useful, but all strong candidates with a background in some aspect of strategic studies are encouraged to apply.

A PhD must be in hand prior to taking up the appointment as Lecturer. Each role will require: preparation and delivery of graduate and undergraduate courses in Strategic Studies and/or International Relations; an active research profile; engagement with government agencies and/or media, and other teaching or administrative duties as agreed with the Head of School, School of History, Philosophy, Political Studies and International Relations.

Further information can be obtained from Dr David Capie, Director, Centre for Strategic Studies, email david.capie@vuw.ac.nz, phone +64 4 4637483.

Please complete the online application form and submit your CV and cover letter by attachment at our website below.

Applications close at 12am NZST Monday, 22 January 2018.

Reference 1856

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/22/2018

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3888

London School of Economics*Rank: Montague Burton Chair of International Relations

The Department of International Relations wishes to appoint a new Montague Burton Chair of International Relations. The Montague Burton Chair was established in 1934 and is one of the oldest International Relations Chairs in the United Kingdom.

We invite applications from eminent scholars of outstanding international reputation in International Relations, with a proven record of influential publications and leadership in the discipline. The successful candidate will have: published work of the highest quality in top-ranked scholarly journals and university presses; a strong intellectual vision for the field's future development; a clear and viable strategy for future outstanding research and publication; and a significant track record of excellence in teaching in one or more of the main areas of teaching covered by the Department. Candidates should have a completed PhD in International Relations, Political Science or a closely related subject. The successful candidate should also have a record in providing intellectual leadership in advancing scholarly research, have experience of and a commitment to supervise PhD and Masters students and have experience of advancing PhD training and placement. The post holder should have the potential ability to provide leadership in effective departmental administration and contribute to strategic decision-making in the Department.

Further information about the Department and its research can be found at www.lse.ac.uk/International-Relations

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification.

To apply for this post, please go to www.lse.ac.uk/LSEJobs. If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email r.mokogwu@lse.ac.uk.

The closing date for receipt of applications is 31 January 2018 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3879

University of Alabama, Huntsville*Rank: Eminent Scholar in Global Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: India, Central Asia, Economic Policy

The College of Business at The University of Alabama in Huntsville invites applications and nominations for an Eminent Scholar in Global Studies. The Global Studies Eminent Scholar is expected to be a visible leader in international affairs, international business policy, and/or economic development. This individual will lead efforts within the university and community to conduct research, influence policy, and develop programs with the goal of improving international business, trade, and cultural relationships, with an emphasis on security cooperation. Expertise on India and other countries on the Silk Road is critical to the success of the individual. The candidate is expected to be active in scholarly research and policy development, to conduct externally funded projects, and to engage in outreach with government agencies located at Redstone Arsenal and other similar locations.

We seek applicants who welcome the challenges and rewards of serving on a diverse and intellectually curious faculty of a growing college in a research intensive university located in a dynamic and supportive high technology community. A Ph.D. in Business, International Business or Economics, or a related discipline, with experience in security cooperation and policy development is required. A Ph.D. from an AACSB accredited institution and eligibility to hold Personnel Security Clearance are preferred. The successful candidate will be expected to develop academic programs and educational opportunities in global studies and security cooperation. In addition to a strong commitment to work with the security cooperation industry and government agencies, the successful candidate must be able to teach graduate and undergraduate students and mentor graduate students and junior faculty.

The Eminent Scholar in Global Studies must have a strong academic background, must be an internationally known researcher in international affairs, international business, and/or economic development, and must be committed to a continuing program of scholarship. In addition, the preferred candidate will have a background in or working knowledge of Department of State security cooperation activities and policies, and have familiarity with the policies and economic development, international business, and international relations of India and other countries on the Silk Road. Candidates need to have an understanding of the Civil Service Career Program (CP60) Field (foreign affairs track). Depending on qualifications, the Eminent Scholar may be appointed at the rank of Associate Professor with tenure or Professor with tenure. Depending on the interests and background of the candidate, this position may be a joint position with the Department of Political Science in the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE: The College of Business is accredited by AACSB International and has approximately 30 tenured and tenure-track faculty, 35 research and part-time faculty, and 1,000 undergraduates and 400 graduate students. It offers a BSBA degree with majors in management, marketing, information systems, accounting, and finance; a BS in Economics and Computational Analysis degree; and seven graduate degrees: an MBA and specialized masters' degrees in Accounting, Business Analytics, Cybersecurity, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, and Supply Chain and Logistics Management. Recent publications by our faculty members have appeared in journals such as Science, the Academy of Management

Journal, Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science, Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, Journal of International Business Studies, Journal of Scheduling, Marketing Science, MIS Quarterly, Operations Research, Organization Science, Strategic Management Journal, and The Accounting Review. For detailed information about the college and its programs, please visit uah.edu/business.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY: The University of Alabama in Huntsville, classified as a High Research Active institution, offers academic and research programs in the Colleges of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Business, Education, Engineering, Nursing, Professional and Continuing Studies, and Science. The University is located in the midst of a high technology community consisting of the second largest industrial research park in the U.S. and is adjacent to Redstone Arsenal, which is home to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, the Missile Defense Agency, the Army Materiel Command, and the Aviation and Missile Command. For more information about UAH, see uah.edu/about.

ABOUT THE CITY OF HUNTSVILLE: The Huntsville area is a culturally diverse community and maintains one of the highest per capita incomes and standards of living in the southeast. Known as the "Rocket City," Huntsville has a major presence of technology, space, and defense industries, which allows the city to offer a variety of educational, recreational, and cultural opportunities. Located in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, Huntsville/Madison County is a diversified high-tech economy and is rich in cultural and recreational activities with a thriving music and arts scene. The population of the metropolitan area is over 400,000 and growing. Huntsville's Cummings Research Park is the country's second largest research and technology park, containing nearly 300 companies employing 29,000 people involved in technology research and development. Huntsville has a high concentration of Ph.D.'s, engineers, and STEM workers, and is recognized as a leading technology city with a rapidly expanding and diverse corporate ecosystem that is rich in innovation. Several museums and historic sites can be found in Huntsville, including the Huntsville Museum of Art, the Burritt Museum and Park, the EarlyWorks Children's Museum, the Alabama Constitution Village, the Huntsville Botanical Gardens, Monte Sano State Park, and the U.S. Space and Rocket Center. A vibrant downtown entertainment district, including Broadway and symphony performances, contribute to Huntsville's vibrant cultural life. For more information about Huntsville and its convenient location to Nashville, Birmingham, and Atlanta, please visit huntsville.org.

Applicants must submit the following via email to GSscholarsearch@uah.edu: a letter of nomination or application; a curriculum vitae, summary of current research interests (2-4 pages), teaching philosophy (1-2 pages), and names and affiliations for three references. Formal review of applications will begin February 2, 2018. Receipt and review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

For questions or additional information, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Jeet Gupta via e-mail (GSscholarsearch@uah.edu) or via telephone at 256-824-6593.

The University of Alabama in Huntsville is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer of minorities/ females/ veterans/ disabled.

Please refer to Log #18/19-116

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 3880

University of St. Gallen

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science with a focus on Business and Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Economy, International Political Economy, Regulatory Policy

The University of St. Gallen, Switzerland, seeks to appoint an Assistant Professor of Political Science with a focus on Business and Politics

starting September 1st, 2018 or by mutual agreement

The University of St. Gallen and its Department of Political Science invite outstanding candidates to apply for an assistant professorship in the field of Business and Politics.

We are looking for an excellent scholar with a specialization in empirical research on the role of private business actors in politics. This may include, among others, business-government relations; contributions about firms' roles in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals; the political effects of varying ownership of key infrastructures and natural resources; managerial preferences, corporate control, and political development; the link between corporate social responsibility and public policy (e.g., corruption, welfare, environment, security); governance by private actors; or industry self-regulation.

Applicants should have a doctorate in political science, a promising research agenda, strong quantitative methods skills, and a willingness to collaborate on research and teaching with scholars from other fields, notably business management and corporate governance.

The successful candidate is expected to undertake research of the highest international standards within his or her own field of specialization and to teach in English in the university's programmes in International Affairs and Governance (two classes per week during term).

The Department of Political Science is a member of the School of Economics and Political Science (SEPS) and offers excellent research conditions and a stimulating academic environment. Through its collaborations, research centres and exchange programmes, it maintains a wide international network. The SEPS is committed to promoting young scholars in their career advancement. The appointment is for a term of 6 years. Applications from qualified women are particularly welcome.

We seek to appoint the successful candidate per September 1st, 2018 or by mutual agreement. For further information, please contact Professor Patrick Emmenegger, Chairman of the Search Committee (Patrick.Emmenegger@unisg.ch).

Candidates should submit their application, that is a cover letter including a presentation of research interests and a statement on teaching strategy and philosophy, curriculum vitae, publications list, a job market paper that best represents their current research profile, and the contact details of two academic referees, in electronic form to the President of the University of St. Gallen, Professor Thomas Bieger (online: <https://www.unisg.ch/universitaet/arbeitenanderhsg/aktuellestellenangebote/jobs>).

The deadline for applications is February 18th, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/18/2018

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: $120,000 - $129,999

eJobs ID: 3876

New York University School of Professional Studies

Rank: Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor of Global Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Public Administration

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Conflict Processes, International Security

Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor of Global Affairs

NYU School of Professional Studies

Center for Global Affairs

The Center for Global Affairs (CGA) at the NYU School of Professional Studies invites applications for a full time clinical (non tenured) faculty position. We seek an individual with the ability to teach courses on cybercrime, cybersecurity, cyberlaw, cyberconflict, cyberwar, and/or terrorists' use of the Internet. The ideal candidate would have professional and/or government experience as well as excellent academic credentials.

The CGA currently offers a Masters in Global Affairs which is interdisciplinary with concentrations in Transnational Security, Global Futures, Global Economy, Energy and Environment, Development and Humanitarian Assistance, International Law and Human Rights, Gender Studies and Peacebuilding. A second graduate program in Global Security, Conflict and Cybercrime is in the final stage of approval. The successful candidate will be expected to play a full role in curricular development, student advisement and the Center's robust series of public events besides the primary role of teaching graduate level courses.

Successful candidates will possess an advanced degree, with an earned doctorate and experience teaching at the graduate level preferred. The individual selected for this position should possess the background and experience necessary to teach a variety of courses in the cyber curriculum; a record of publishing and research is desirable. The rank of the position will be dependent upon experience and qualifications.

The Center for Global Affairs (CGA) educates and inspires its community to become global citizens capable of identifying and implementing solutions to pressing global challenges. Through rigorous graduate and continuing higher education programs and provocative public events, the Center prepares global citizens who will be at home, and thus be effective agents of change, in diverse environments around the world. For more information, visit www.sps.nyu.edu/global.affairs.

The NYU School of Professional Studies offers a broad range of degree and noncredit programs that are professionally oriented, integrate theory with real-world applications, and are taught by faculty members who are leaders and innovators in their fields. The School of Professional Studies captures the expertise of the key sectors that make New York City a great global capital, such as real estate, finance, marketing, public relations, global affairs, hospitality and tourism, sports management, philanthropy and fundraising, communications, media, writing, the arts, and others. Full- and part-time students enroll in on-site and online credit programs, including graduate degrees and undergraduate degrees for both adults returning to school and traditional-aged students. In addition, working professionals and other adult learners pursue career objectives or intellectual discovery in over 2,500 continuing education courses, diploma programs, conferences, and seminars annually.

Applications and nominations will be accepted until January 31, 2018. Applications will be considered as they arrive. NYU appreciates all applications but can only respond to qualified candidates.

To apply, go to: apply.interfolio.com/46285

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 12/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3873

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Maritime Policy, Strategy, and Governance

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Regulatory Policy, International Security

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate, upper-level maritime policy courses and, occasionally, introductory government / political science courses. The ideal candidate will be able to teach one or more of the following topic areas: maritime policy and strategy; ocean and arctic policy; Asia-Pacific studies or similar regional specialization with a maritime focus; coastal governance; marine resource management; marine safety; port security; maritime transportation, commerce, and industry. The anticipated teaching load for this position will be 9-12 credit hours (of one or more 3-credit courses) per semester.

Other possible responsibilities include facilitation of learning enrichment opportunities for cadets via speakers, travel, and contacts; academic advising; work as a faculty advisor to student research projects, clubs, and other co-curricular activities; individual research and scholarship; institutional, divisional, and departmental service; and other duties as assigned. In addition, the successful candidate will work collaboratively with the Academy's Center for Arctic Study and Policy. Such efforts may include, but need not be limited to, work on Arctic issues. Major duties also include participation in leadership and professional development activities with students outside of class and service to the Academy.

For more information, and to apply, please see: <http://www.uscga.edu/jobs>

The application deadline has been extended until Monday, January 8, 2018. NB: Applicants must have a COMPLETED application on file before the application closing date to be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/8/2018

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3858

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate - Fixed Term

The Department of Political Science is seeking to hire a full time Research Associate in the broad areas of International and Comparative Political Economy. The successful candidate will be expected to work with Professor Cristina Bodea to enhance the department's research agenda in Political Economy, through the publication of co-authored work with the Political Economy faculty and graduate students.

The requirements include: 1) A PhD in Political Science; 2) advanced training in Statistics and Econometrics. The teaching obligations for this position include one undergraduate course and several lab sessions for graduate students in the candidate's area of expertise. The initial appointment will be for one year, with an option for reappointment for another year.

Review of applications will begin February 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is August 15, 2018.

Interested applicants should apply via Michigan State University's Applicant Tracking Systems at: <https://careers.msu.edu/>. Please submit cover letter, CV, copy of graduate transcripts, one research paper, statement of proposed research ideas (2-3 pages) and two letters of reference. For further questions please contact Professor Cristina Bodea at bodeaana@msu.edu. MSU is an Affirmative-Action equal-opportunity employer and is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The university actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3852

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Politics and Fellow, Center for the Study of Statesmanship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Defense, Religion & Politics

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall of 2018. This appointment is to be combined with a research appointment at the Center for the Study of Statesmanship (CSS). As a CSS Fellow the appointee will have a reduced teaching load. Although the appointment is likely to be made at a junior rank, more senior applicants will be considered.

The search is not confined to a particular field, but we are especially interested in scholars in foreign policy, international relations, or national security, or some combination thereof, who are able to place world politics in a philosophical, historical or cultural context. A background in political theory, the history of ideas or American constitutionalism is desirable. Candidates who are alert to the moral and religious dimensions of their areas of expertise are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major with many distinguished alumni and a strong MA and PhD program with graduates on numerous college and university faculties in America and abroad.

Established in the spring of 2017, CSS explores the meaning of statesmanship and how it can defuse conflict and foster respectful foreign and domestic relations. Administratively, CSS is independent of the Department of Politics and under the University Provost. To learn more about the Center and its research orientation candidates may go to the CSS website: <https://css.cua.edu>

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, departmental chair, at coyle@cua.edu and/or Dr. William S. Smith, managing director of CSS, at smithws@cua.edu. Review of applications will begin January 10 and continue until the position is filled.

Catholic University seeks candidates who are supportive of the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a CV, and a writing sample to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one-to-two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will contribute to the University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found at: http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html.

Official transcripts or verification of degrees will be required before any offer is made. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3843

University of Southern California

Rank: Teaching Postdoctoral Fellowship (Asia and China)

The School of International Relations in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC; Los Angeles, California) invites applications for a postdoctoral position with two-course teaching for AY2018-19. The fall semester starts in the third week of August 2018. We seek applicants with expertise in the international relations of Asia and China. The successful candidate will join the Center for International Studies (CIS) at USC as a postdoctoral fellow, and is expected to teach one 15-week course per semester for two semesters. We also look for candidates with strong research profile with emphasis on academic publications, and interest in engaging in the vibrant research community of the School of International Relations and the CIS. A Ph.D. is required by time of appointment.

Applications should be complete by February 15, 2018 to receive fullest consideration. Applicants are required to complete the on-line application process (with few exceptions—such as published books—materials submitted by regular post will not be accepted). Follow this link or paste it in a browser: https://usc.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/ExternalUSCCareers/job/Los-Angeles-CA---University-Park-Campus/Postdoctoral-Scholar---Teaching-Fellow\_REQ20053068

Required materials include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research sample, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the three reference letters, and official graduate transcripts. Inquiries may be sent to sirsearch@dornsife.usc.edu.

USC is an equal-opportunity educator and employer, proudly pluralistic and firmly committed to providing equal opportunity for outstanding persons of every race, gender, creed and background. The University particularly encourages women, members of underrepresented groups, veterans and individuals with disabilities to apply. USC will make reasonable accommodations for qualified individuals with known disabilities unless doing so would result in an undue hardship. Further information is available by contacting uschr@usc.edu.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3841

Messiah College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics and International Relations

Specializations: East Asia, Middle East, Africa

The Department of Politics and International Relations at Messiah College invites applications for a term tenure-track position in International Relations and Comparative Politics. Applicants must be able to teach introductory courses in both International Politics and Comparative Politics as well as an upper-level survey of theoretical approaches to international relations. With respect to Comparative Politics, we are seeking someone who specializes in Asian Politics, Middle Eastern Politics, and/or African Politics. Successful candidates will show an interest in and commitment to teaching general education students in our interdisciplinary studies program. Departmental administrative experience is a plus. We are a department of approximately fifty majors whose graduates have included Rhodes, Truman, Carnegie, and Fulbright scholars. Our students are encouraged to think independently, to engage opposing points of view, and to develop a concern for public life in the interest of promoting social justice. A full version of this position description is available at jobs.messiah.edu. Applicants should apply via our online system at jobs.messiah.edu. The application deadline is January 30, 2018, but we will consider applications until the position is filled. Application materials required of candidates include a cover letter that includes a statement describing their research agenda and courses they are prepared to teach, CV, and three letters of reference, as well as completion of the online application form itself that will require a statement of Christian faith and of teaching philosophy.

Messiah College is a Christian college of the liberal and applied arts and sciences. The College is committed to an embracing evangelical spirit rooted in the Anabaptist, Pietist and Wesleyan traditions of the Christian Church. Our mission is to educate men and women toward maturity of intellect, character and Christian faith in preparation for lives of service, leadership and reconciliation in church and society. It welcomes applications from all individuals of serious commitment to the Christian church. Successful candidates will affirm the Apostle's Creed and support other foundational documents of the College. Messiah College is fully committed to a diverse faculty and student body. Successful candidates will evidence similar commitments.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3841

Hillsdale College

Rank: Politics Faculty Position (Open Rank)

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical, Foreign Policy

The Department of Politics and The Van Andel Graduate School at Hillsdale College invite application for a tenure-track faculty position (rank open), beginning August, 2018. The Department's needs are greatest in Classical Political Philosophy, so candidates with a credible record of teaching and scholarly work in that area will receive strongest consideration. Candidates with an additional specialty in International Relations, Comparative Politics, or American Foreign Policy will be prioritized. Applicants should be aware that their teaching responsibilities will range from an introductory core course for freshmen and sophomores to graduate level classes. Since the Department services a graduate program, applicants will need to have a record of scholarly publication, and should have a Ph.D. in hand.

Hillsdale College is a small (1400 students) independent college of liberal arts, dedicated to excellence in teaching and advising students. Applicants should familiarize themselves with the College's mission statement: <https://www.hillsdale.edu/about/mission/>. The College also considers itself a trustee of our Western philosophical and theological inheritance tracing to Athens and Jerusalem, a heritage finding its clearest expression in the American experiment of self-government under law.

Complete applications will include: (a) letter of application; (b) curriculum vitae; (c) transcripts; (d) three up-to-date letters of recommendation, (e) a statement of teaching and research interests; (f) samples of publications or other scholarly manuscripts. Within the statement of teaching and research interests there should be a detailed response to the College's mission statement that includes a discussion of the applicant's ability to teach in light of its commitments. For further information on the undergraduate and graduate programs, visit www.hillsdale.edu and gradschool.hillsdale.edu.

Review of applications will begin on January 15th and continue until the position is filled. Send all application materials by email or regular mail to Dr. Ronald J. Pestritto, Graduate Dean and Professor of Politics, Hillsdale College, 33 E. College Street, Hillsdale, MI 49242. Email submissions may be sent to PoliticsSearch@hillsdale.edu. Salary competitive. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/15/2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3830

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow - Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House

PERRY WORLD HOUSE POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENT

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its postdoctoral fellowship program during the 2018-2019 academic year. The Global Innovation Program is the research arm of Perry World House, the University of Pennsylvania's new university-wide hub for global engagement and interdisciplinary international policy research. Perry World House connects Penn to the international policy world through research, student engagement, and public programming, bringing the university's intellectual resources to bear on the urgent global challenges of the 21st century.

We hope to bring several postdoctoral fellows to campus for the 2018-2019 academic year. We are seeking excellent scholars who study global affairs and have interest in interdisciplinary outreach and policy relevance. We are particularly interested in applicants in the following areas:

- The Future of the Global Order: Power, Technology, and Governance
- Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Demography
- Borders & Boundaries in World Politics

The Future of the Global Order

From Russia's invasion of Ukraine and China's construction of artificial islands in the South China Seas to the global economic and political effects of new technologies and questions of how international institutions will handle diverse questions such as ISIS-driven mass killings, the post-Cold War global order may be at a tipping point. In addition, systemic trends such as globalization and climate change mean that the challenges of today and tomorrow will be global – and require global responses. The role of automated trading algorithms in the 2010 "Flash Crash" in the United States, combined with the specter of drone warfare around the world due and the proliferation of military robotics, highlight how the intersection of technologies such as cyber and robotics presents enormous challenges for global business and diplomatic norms. In a time of change, academic research has the potential to shed significant light on these issues, and highlight new and important approaches for the global policy community.

In this theme area, Perry World House will focus primarily, but not exclusively, on four areas: the implications of emerging technologies for global politics, shifting global power balances and how they influence both state and non-state actors, the evolution of international legal regimes, and the ability of the international community to sustain effective governing institutions in times of change.

Global Shifts

Urbanization, migration, and demographic changes are transforming the human environment, creating both new challenges and opportunities. The UN High Commission for Refugees said in 2015 that the world faces the highest level of human displacement since its founding in 1950. New and changing migration patterns, whether driven by civil wars, instability due to environmental change, economic hardships, or potential opportunities elsewhere, have depth and nuance that have proven hard to predict – or track. At the same time, over 66% of the world's population will live in urban spaces by 2050, raising critical questions about urban vitality and sustainability.

Yet, the diverse causes and consequences of urbanization, migration, and demographic change have not been fully understood, and are too often examined in isolation. The University of Pennsylvania is poised to contribute to pressing policy debates and to help develop new approaches to these global shifts given the University's numerous strengths in urban studies, sociology, demography, law, and politics. The Global Innovation Program at Perry World House will bring together Penn's strengths in these areas through an interconnected examination of urbanization, migration, and demography.

Borders & Boundaries in World Politics

The Project on Borders and Boundaries in World Politics has two openings for post-doctoral research fellows for one year, renewable, full-time appointments. Fellows will split their time between their own research and work with a team led by Professor Beth Simmons, Andrea Mitchell University Professor in Law, Political Science, and Business Ethics. The Project is concerned with boundaries between organized human communities, broadly understood. International borders, border regions and border crossings have multiple significance as designations of state authority, security buffers, expressions of social meaning and opportunities for economic integration. Border regions and activities speak to national and local encounters with neighbors and the rest of the world. This project is concerned with how humans demarcate the space between "us" and "them." It contextualizes border architecture, infrastructure and institutions as expressions of various social, political and economic anxieties associated with globalization. This research team will concern itself with a broad range of questions relating to "bordering" in world politics. Applicants with an interest in territorial politics; migration and movement across borders; development in and across border regions; border crossing regimes, architectures and institutions; transnational migration; transnational crime, human trafficking and law enforcement across borders; and related issues are welcome to apply. Skills in empirical spatial analysis, GIS technologies, mapping technologies, experimental analyses, computerized textual and imaging analyses, and similar technologies are highly desirable, as are computer programming skills and experience using large computer databases and statistical software.

Requirements and Application Information

Postdoctoral fellows in Global Order and Global Shifts research areas will pursue their own research as well as participate in the intellectual life of the Global Innovation Program and Perry World House. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to give a presentation during the academic year in the Perry World House Seminar Series, publish policy relevant scholarship related to Perry World House themes, engage with Perry World House's Undergraduate Student Fellows, and attend regularly scheduled seminars. They will also assist with designing and planning engagement in relevant theme areas. Perry World House will also introduce each postdoctoral fellow to related faculty and leaders of centers and institutes at the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D. in the case of applicants focused on international legal regimes) in the last two years (not earlier than 2015), or who expect to complete their degree by June 2018. Applications will be reviewed starting January 12, 2018. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

All postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $50,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

To apply, please go to:

- Global Order or Global Shifts: <http://apply.interfolio.com/45843>
- Borders & Boundaries: <http://apply.interfolio.com/47129>

Applicants will be asked to complete a short form as well as upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation.

General Information

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

If you have questions, please email postdoc@pwh.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/12/2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3837

University of Reading

Rank: Professor of War and Conflict Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Other, Administration

Specializations: Defense, International Security, Conflict Processes

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Reading is seeking to appoint a Professor of War and Conflict Studies, to further strengthen our research profile in this area, and lead our engagement with defence and security actors. The successful candidate will be an outstanding scholar and excellent teacher, who can provide leadership in research, grant applications, and outreach. The successful candidate will enhance the department's existing relationship with the British military in both teaching and research activities, and play a central role in our Ways of War Centre. The department appreciates that war and conflict can be studied from different perspectives, and thus welcomes excellent candidates with backgrounds in International Relations, War Studies, International Security, Conflict Studies, Strategic Studies, Organisational Behaviour, Public Policy, Political Psychology and related disciplines.

This is an exciting time to join the department. Politics and International Relations is ranked among the top 10 politics departments in the UK by research intensity in the 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF). We are a dynamic department with internationally recognised strength in Conflict, Security, and Strategy; International Relations; Applied Political Theory; Comparative Politics, and Public Policy Analysis. We are a partner in the £14 million Army Higher Education Pathway project to design and deliver online BSc and MSc teaching to approximately 500 cadets per year from the Royal Military Academy at Sandhurst and the Defence Academy at Shrivenham.

Further details and application materials: <https://jobs.reading.ac.uk/displayjob.aspx?jobid=2334>

Informal discussion and questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Jonathan Golub, Head of Department, j.s.golub@reading.ac.uk

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/16/2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3835

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowship in Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a post-doctoral fellowship in "Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy." By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of the issues in innovative ways

In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

The position offers a competitive salary, benefits, and modest professional support the initial appointment is for one year by may be renewed for a second year.

All applicants should submit a CV, letter of interest, a brief (10,000 words) writing sample, and have three references submit letters on their behalf. The selection committee will review applications on a rolling basis with those arriving by January 2, 2018 receiving priority attention.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/39674>

This appointment is contingent upon the successful completion of a background check. Applicants will be asked to identify all felony convictions and/or pending felony charges. Felony convictions do not automatically bar an individual from employment. Each case will be examined separately to determine the appropriateness of employment in the particular position. Failure to be forthcoming or dishonesty with respect to felony disclosures can result in the disqualification of a candidate. The full procedure can be viewed at <http://facultyhandbook.nd.edu/university-policies/background-check-procedure-for-prospective-faculty/>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/27/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3829

Dartmouth College*Rank: U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security Post-doctoral Fellowship*Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security Fellows are selected to spend a minimum of ten months and up to one year in-residence at Dartmouth on research and writing about international issues related to one of the Dickey Center's research areas: environment, health, human development, gender, and security. Scholars from all disciplines, including political science and history, are welcome to apply.

Fellows will utilize their year at Dartmouth to maximize progress on their research, build contacts with other Fellows, Dartmouth faculty and with policy networks, and contribute to the intellectual life of the College. All Fellows are assigned a faculty mentor. Faculty mentors are intended to provide professional advice for career building and integrating into the Dartmouth intellectual community as well as substantive expertise.

Fellows typically will:

- Give a faculty seminar on the work discussed in the Dickey Center's seminar series on international politics and foreign policy
- Present work in the departments of Government, History, and in other seminar series at the College
- Participate with other Fellows in an undergraduate course, taught with a Dartmouth faculty member. Fellows also often make guest appearances in other classes, and interact with undergraduate students in Dickey Center student groups or other organization as interest warrants
- Participate in events for Fellows organized throughout the year – topics will be determined on the basis of mutual interest and perceived need

Fellows are provided with an office and access to Dartmouth faculty and resources. They must be in-residence during their fellowship and participate in Dickey Center seminars and events.

How to apply

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status.

The application period for the 2018-19 fellowship is now open. Applications will be accepted until January 2, 2018. While scholars at any stage of their career are eligible, applications from recent recipients of a PhD or equivalent degree are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

- A curriculum vitae
- Research abstract (200 words max.)
- A statement of up to 1,500 words describing the proposed research project
- A writing sample (50 pp. max)
- Two confidential letters of reference
- Graduate school transcript (Unofficial transcripts are acceptable. Junior faculty and professionals may include a transcript, but are not required to do so.)

- A confidential financial statement on a separate page indicating the applicant's other sources of support available during fellowship period and – for current faculty only – current salary.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: apply.interfolio.com/47094. Questions may be sent to: Thomas.K.Candon@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3822

Stetson University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

Stetson University seeks an individual with broad interests and training in International Relations who has a desire to teach and conduct research in a liberal arts setting. Besides teaching introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations and offering innovative First Year and/or Junior Seminars, the candidate will develop courses to complement existing strengths in the Department and in one or more related programs (e.g. International Studies, Africana Studies, Asian Studies, Gender Studies, Global Development, Latin American Studies, and Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies).

< b > Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 2018. Teaching experience beyond typical teaching assistant duties in graduate school is an advantage but not required.

< b > Responsibilities:

The teacher-scholar model at Stetson requires that tenure-track faculty teach three courses each semester complemented with quality scholarship and service. Primary teaching responsibilities include introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations and related sub-disciplines (e.g. migration studies, international diplomacy, international law, security studies). Other courses will be based on the candidate's expertise and may include offerings for the University's requirements in General Education, including First Year Seminars and Junior Seminars. The faculty member is also expected to mentor students academically and professionally.

Candidates should demonstrate a passion for the highest quality of teaching, combined with the ability to produce rigorous peer-reviewed academic scholarship. Scholarly activity leading to publication in peer-reviewed journals and service to the Department, the College of Arts and Sciences, the University, and the profession are required. For more information on our expectations in teaching and scholarship, our tenure policies, and our support for faculty development, please see the Office of the Provost and Academic Affairs website: <http://www.stetson.edu/provost> The Department:

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/political-science/>) offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies, Russian, Eastern European and Eurasian Studies, Latin American Studies, Africana Studies, the Honors Program, and Environmental Science and Studies. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, and Public Administration and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

< b >The College of Arts and Sciences:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artscli/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and eight interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, allowing students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

< b >The University:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu/>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 4,000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1954, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered at the main campus and at Stetson University Center in Celebration include Business, Accounting, Elementary Education – Education for Social Justice, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally.

< b >The Community:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 25,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

< b >Salary: Salary is competitive.

< b >Starting Date: August 13, 2018

< b >Application:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, 2) a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy and a representative sample of teaching evaluations, 3) a curriculum vitae, 4) copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts, 5) three letters of recommendation sent under separate cover by the recommenders via e-mail or mail (at least one of which should include an evaluation of teaching ability), and 6) a statement of research interests and a description of how undergraduate students might participate in that research. Candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on January 16, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to the search committee at <mailto:irsearch@stetson.edu> or mailed to the following address:

Dr. William R. Nylen
Chair, International Relations Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Stetson University
421 N. Woodland Blvd. Unit 8301
DeLand, FL 32723

< em >Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.< em >

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/21/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3819

Northeastern University

Rank: Teaching Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science at Northeastern University invites applications for the position of Assistant, Associate or Full Teaching

Professor in Political Science beginning September 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to and experience in undergraduate teaching and other experiential educational programs such as Model UN, Model NATO, and Model Arab League. This is an untenured, but continuing and tracked position with the possibility of promotion to Associate and Full Teaching Professor, as well as multi-year (3 year and 5 year) contracts. The initial rank will be determined based on the credentials of the final candidate. The standard teaching load is six courses per year as well as service and professional development duties.

Qualifications

Candidates are required to hold a doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field by the start date. All candidates are expected to provide evidence of excellence in teaching. While course needs are broad, candidates must be able to teach undergraduate courses in the core teaching areas of American Politics, Public Policy, Comparative Politics, or International Relations in addition to other elective courses in the candidate's area of expertise for the undergraduate degree programs in Political Science. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

Candidates are required to upload their CV, a cover letter, a teaching statement, a sample syllabus, teaching evaluations (if available), and a list of three references. Applications must be submitted through our on-line portal <https://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions>. Questions may be directed to Professor Thomas Vicino, Department Chair (t.vicino@northeastern.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3814

University of Calgary

Rank: Canada Research Chair (Tier II) in The Politics of Decolonization

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The University of Calgary is engaged in a consultative process with knowledge keepers, Elders, and leaders of the Treaty #7 peoples, the Métis Nation, and academics and university administrators. This ongoing process has resulted in the development of an Indigenous Strategy designed to guide the University's relationship with the Indigenous peoples in whose territory the University resides. One of the goals identified during this consultation is to increase the number of Indigenous scholars in leading positions on campus. In addition to Indigenous cluster hires in the Faculty of Arts and the Werklund

School of Education, the University of Calgary is now seeking three Canada Research Chairs (Tier II).

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a Canada Research Chair (Tier II) in the Politics of Decolonization. We are seeking a scholar who will establish and maintain an active research program leading to excellence in our understanding of decolonization. Themes may include, but are not limited to, the study of political processes that redistribute land from colonial states to Indigenous nations, the revitalization of Indigenous land-based governance practices, the study of Indigenous decolonizing political movements, and gendered perspectives on decolonization. The successful candidate will be appointed at the rank of Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) or Associate Professor (with tenure). The anticipated start date is July 1, 2018.

The successful candidate will hold a PhD in Political Science or a related field. The appointee's research agenda may be grounded in any of the fields of political science (political theory, Canadian politics, comparative politics, international relations) or be inter-disciplinary in focus. A research program focused on Canada would be an asset but is not required to be considered for this position. The successful candidate will be expected to build relationships with the Treaty #7 Nations and the Métis Nation. This may include incorporating the experiences and needs of the Treaty #7 peoples and the Métis into their research. This appointment will contribute to the University of Calgary's commitment to create a rich, vibrant and culturally competent campus – one that welcomes and supports Indigenous learners, is inclusive of Indigenous perspectives in teaching and learning, encourages Indigenous community partnerships in research and academic programming and is appropriate and thoughtful in its response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's 'Calls to Action'.

The successful candidate at the Assistant Professor level must demonstrate evidence of excellence in research, teaching and community engagement, commensurate with academic experience. This would normally include publications in high quality journals, success with securing competitive research funding, and evidence of a commitment to teaching effectiveness and to engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations and/or institutions. The successful candidate at the Associate Professor level must demonstrate a proven track record of research and teaching excellence, including a record of publications in high quality journals, proven success in obtaining competitive research funding, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a record of successful graduate student supervision, where possible. The successful candidate at this level should also provide evidence of successful engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations and/or institutions, including evidence of success in community-engaged projects and scholarship.

The Department of Political Science is housed in the Faculty of Arts. The Department administers the International Indigenous Studies interdisciplinary program that attracts students from across the University. The program focuses on various aspects of Indigenous people's experience including arts, culture, ways of knowing, languages, economies, politics, and community structures. The candidate's willingness to teach in this program will be considered an asset. As part of its Indigenous Strategy, the Faculty has created eight tenure-track positions in Indigenous research and scholarship, across various departments. This community of scholars facilitates cross-disciplinary and collaborative research, education and outreach by building on Indigenous knowledges, cultures, traditions and experiences developed among, and in partnership with, First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples in Canada. The Canada Research Chair in the Politics of Decolonization will provide leadership in these areas.

Tier II chairs are intended for exceptional emerging scholars (i.e., candidates must have been an active researcher in their field for fewer than 10 years at the time of nomination). Applicants who are more than 10 years from having earned their highest degree (and where career breaks exist, such as maternity, parental or extended sick leave, clinical training, etc.) may have their eligibility for a Tier II chair assessed through the program's Tier II justification process. Please consult the Government of Canada's CRC website for full program information, including further details on eligibility criteria.

Interested individuals are encouraged to submit their application online via the 'Apply Now' link at <http://careers.ucalgary.ca/jobs/8164474-canada-research-chair-tier-ii-in-the-politics-of-decolonization-faculty-of-arts> and include:

- A letter of interest and curriculum vitae, including a statement providing evidence of the applicant's connection to the Indigenous community
- Three examples of recent scholarly work
- Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness
- Description of a proposed 5-year research plan for the Chair

Applicants should also arrange to have three electronic confidential letters of reference sent under separate cover directly to the chair of the selection committee:

Dr. Antonio Franceschet
Department Head, Department of Political Science
Faculty of Arts, University of Calgary
Email: polihire@ucalgary.ca

Questions regarding this opportunity should be addressed to Dr. Antonio Franceschet by email (polihire@ucalgary.ca)

Deadline: January 30, 2018

The University of Calgary recognizes that a diverse staff/faculty benefits and enriches the work, learning and research experiences of the entire campus and greater community. We are committed to removing barriers that have been historically encountered by some people in our society. We strive to recruit individuals who will further enhance our diversity and will support their academic and professional success while they are here; in particular, we encourage members of the four designated groups (women, Aboriginal People, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities) to apply. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. To ensure a fair and equitable assessment, we offer accommodation at any stage during the recruitment process to applicants with disabilities. Questions regarding diversity or requests for accommodation can be sent to Human Resources (hrhire@ucalgary.ca).

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3813

S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor (International Political Economy)

The S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS), a Graduate School of Nanyang Technological University, Singapore, is a leading research and teaching institution in strategic and international affairs and policy-oriented think-tank in the Asia-Pacific region. The School invites applications for the following tenure-track position:

Assistant or Associate Professor in the following specialization:

International Political Economy

Applicants are expected to have a research interest in international political economy with a focus on finance, labor, or migration. The successful candidate should hold a Ph.D. in political science or economics, and join the school's Centre for Multilateralism Studies and International Political Economy Programme.

The successful candidate will teach up to three (3) courses in the School's Master of Science Programmes. A relevant PhD and a good publication record are therefore essential requirements. Training in quantitative methods will be an advantage, as the successful candidate may be expected to teach an introductory quantitative methods course.

Applicants are also expected to contribute to the School's research agenda, contribute to team research and policy-oriented projects, teach in short executive programmes, and organize conferences and seminars. Experience in policy-relevant research and publication would be useful. Additional research funding may be available through policy-oriented think tank functions of Centres and Programmes within the School.

The initial appointment will be for four (4) years, with further contracts to be considered by the relevant School Reappointment Committee. A candidate with the appropriate qualifications and experience may be appointed at the Associate Professor level.

All applicants should submit the following:

- A cover letter specifying how your qualifications match the job description
- A detailed curriculum vitae (including records of competitive grants and graduate supervision, if applicable);
- Statements of research and teaching interests and, teaching evaluation if applicable
- Three (3) published articles or writing samples
- Names, addresses, email and phone numbers of at least 3 referees of the rank of Associate Professor / Professor for the Assistant Professor / Associate Professor position respectively.
- A completed Application for Employment form (Download the application form HERE - <http://www.rsis.edu.sg/wp-content/uploads/2016/08/Application-for-Employment-Form1.docx>)

If you are interested, please write in (or email) to:

The Search Committee ?

S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies

Nanyang Technological University

Block S4, Level B4,

Nanyang Avenue

Singapore 639798

Email: rsisrecruitment@ntu.edu.sg

Applications will close on 31 January 2018.

We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

For further information about RSIS, please visit our website at: www.rsis.edu.sg;

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3801

Cornell University

Rank: Visiting Associate Professor

Cornell University's Department of Government seeks to fill a three-year visiting position, beginning July 1, 2018, in International Relations and Comparative Politics, with a focus on the politics and foreign policies of the Middle East. The ideal candidate will be able to teach courses on Israeli politics in comparative perspective (Middle East and cross-regional), the politics of nationalism and separatist movements, and international politics more broadly. The Department welcomes applicants who cross subfield boundaries (e.g., with connections to political theory) and would interact with other departments and programs, such as Near East Studies and the Judith Reppy Institute for Peace and Conflict Studies. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and a list of three references. Electronic application materials should be sent to: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10478>. We will begin to review applications starting December 1, 2017, and will continue until the search is completed.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3789

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: International Political Economy, Economic Policy, Political Economy

Position 3: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Political Economy

Rank: Assistant Professor

Disciplines: International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Subfield: International Political Economy, Economic Policy, Political Economy

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track faculty position in International or Comparative Political Economy starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong publication record of monographs and top-tier international peer reviewed articles, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. We are especially, though not exclusively, interested in candidates with knowledge of the latest developments in technologies impacting global economic governance such as Blockchain, FinTech and others.

Candidates will be expected to teach courses in International Political Economy, International Trade, and International Finance, as well as core courses in Micro- and Macro-Economics. Furthermore, they should show acumen for innovative and applied teaching methods, with a focus on critical thinking and problem solving.

Beyond these traditional academic criteria, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in meaningful and policy relevant work, and to participate in contemporary policy debates. As well, we seek faculty members to be institution-builders: to apply for research grants, participate in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expand IE's current partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science, Public Policy, International Relations, or Economics is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Political Economy to IESIR3@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3786

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Security Studies

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Foreign Policy, International Security

Position 4: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Security Studies

Rank: Assistant Professor

Disciplines: International Relations

Subfield: Conflict Processes, Foreign Policy, International Security

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in Security Studies starting September 1st, 2018 . The successful candidate will have a strong publication record of monographs and top-tier international peer reviewed articles, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. We are especially, though not exclusively, interested in candidates with knowledge of the latest developments in security innovation with a focus on new weapons systems, artificial intelligence, and cybersecurity.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and Masters level courses in International Relations Theory, Global Governance, and Peace and Conflict Resolution, and Globalization. Furthermore, they should show acumen for innovative and applied teaching methods, with a focus on critical thinking and problem solving.

Beyond these traditional academic criteria, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in meaningful and policy relevant work, and to participate in contemporary policy debates. As well, we seek faculty members to be institution-builders: to apply for research grants, participate in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expand IE's current partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science, Public Policy, or International Relations is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Security Studies to IESIR4@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/31/2017

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3787

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Fellowship in Grand Strategy, Security, and Statecraft

With the support of the Charles Koch Foundation, the MIT Security Studies Program and the Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs are now accepting applications for joint two-year, pre- and post-doctoral fellowships in “the Project on Grand Strategy, Security and Statecraft.”

(Link to more detailed description and application details: <https://ssp.mit.edu/node/354>)

Applications for 2018-19 Fellowships are being accepted until January 30, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3780

Dickinson College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Studies

The departments of International Studies and Political Science at Dickinson College are seeking qualified candidates for a two-year replacement position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor, beginning in academic year 2018-19 and continuing through the end of academic year 2019-20.

The teaching load for this position is five courses per year, to include introductory International Relations, upper-level American Foreign Policy, American National Security, and other courses related to international relations and security studies. Candidates should identify in the application letter the courses they are prepared to teach. Applicants should have a strong commitment to teaching undergraduate students in an interdisciplinary liberal arts environment, and the successful candidate is expected to participate fully in the intellectual life of the departments, including serving as oral examiner for the International Studies exams at the end of the academic year. The ability to create inclusive learning environments for an increasingly diverse student body will be an important characteristic of the successful candidate. A completed or nearly-completed Ph.D. is required.

Dickinson College is a highly selective, private, four-year liberal arts college with 2,400 students. It is located 20 minutes west of Harrisburg and is a two-hour drive from Baltimore, Washington DC, and Philadelphia.

Interested candidates should apply for this position electronically, via QUEST (online application system) at <https://jobs.dickinson.edu>. Please submit the following materials: a letter of application; curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; three letters of recommendation; teaching statement; sample syllabi (preferably for one or more of the above listed courses); and teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness. Review of applications will begin January 15. The College is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3774

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate for the 2018-19 academic year for a 12-month appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and

continued funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2018. The position is open to a scholar who would be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The ideal applicant will have received a Ph.D. within the past three years and studies aspects of contemporary Chinese society from a social science disciplinary perspective. He/she will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. Applicants must apply online at :<https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/4781> (D-18-PII-00004)

Applications should include:

1. A cover letter
2. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
3. A current curriculum vitae
4. Contact information for two references
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3765

University of Rochester

Rank: Post-doctoral fellowship

Applications for 2018-19 are welcome in any area of international or comparative politics, but preference will be given to applicants whose work focuses on Central and Eastern Europe, broadly defined. Fellows offer two courses during the academic year and receive a stipend of $42,000. Applicants without a Ph.D. should describe their plans for completing the degree by the time the fellowship commences.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a 3-5 page research project description, a one-page sketch of proposed courses, one or more writing samples, and three letters of recommendation to: Fellowship in International and Central European Politics, Skalny Center for Polish and Central European Studies, University of Rochester, Harkness Hall 101, Rochester, New York 14627-0147. Applications must be postmarked by Jan. 5, 2018. Direct questions to Dr. Bozena Sobolewska, bsobolew@mail.rochester.edu, or 585-275-9898.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/5/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3766

La Salle University

Rank: Full-Time, Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at La Salle University seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track position with a specialization in American Politics and/or International Relations. The successful candidate will have a strong record of research and publication and a commitment to high quality and dynamic teaching. We are particularly interested in candidates who can offer a range of electives across their subfield, teach research methods and supervise undergraduate capstone projects. The successful candidate will teach across our curriculum, maintain an active research agenda and scholarly activity, participate in recruitment and advisement of students, serve on departmental and university committees, promote program development, contribute to assessment efforts, and advise student organizations.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline must be in hand or near completion at the time of the application.

Interested applicants should submit – either through Interfolio or by some other appropriate means - the following materials to Dr. Miguel Glatzer, Chair of the Search Committee, Political Science Department, La Salle University (politicalscience@lasalle.edu). Applications should include: (1) a letter of application identifying areas of specialization, research/scholarship interests and teaching philosophy, (2) a curriculum vita, (3) official graduate transcripts, and (4) three letters of recommendation sent under separate cover. Examples of scholarship and/or summary evidence of teaching evaluations or effectiveness, where available, should also be submitted. The department's review of applications will begin on January 30, 2018. Position begins in August 2018.

Applications received by January 30, 2018 will receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3761

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Nuclear Security Fellow

NUCLEAR SECURITY FELLOWS PROGRAM

The Security Studies Program at MIT invites applications for fellows in the field of nuclear security. Fellowships are available for pre-doctoral and post-doctoral scholars and for junior faculty. Fellows are expected to produce policy-relevant research, including book manuscripts, draft articles, dissertations, chapters in edited volumes, or reports. Nuclear security is defined broadly to include nuclear terrorism, nuclear proliferation and nonproliferation, nuclear weapons, nuclear doctrine and force structure, nuclear energy as it relates to nuclear security, and other topics that involve nuclear security. The deadline for applications is 30 January 2018. Application forms (and further information about eligibility requirements) are available at <https://ssp.mit.edu/about/nuclear-security-fellows-program>. Applications, along with any further questions should be submitted by post or email to: Fellowship Coordinator, Security Studies Program, MIT, Bldg. E40, 4th Floor, 77 Massachusetts Ave, Cambridge, MA 02139 (email: ssp-fellowships@mit.edu). MIT is an AA/EEO employer and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3762

Georgetown University*Rank: Professor of Global Development

The Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University invites applications for a position at the rank of Full Professor, Associate Professor (with tenure) or Assistant Professor (tenure track) in fields related to international development to begin in the Fall of 2018. Relevant doctoral disciplines include economics, political economy, political science, and/or public policy, though others may be considered, with strong expertise in sub-fields directly related to development. While we are especially interested in candidates with strong quantitative skills, candidates bringing other approaches to analysis and research are also welcome.

The successful applicant will demonstrate strong potential for outstanding research and teaching in the fields of development. Experience working in developing countries is a plus.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a representative writing sample/job market paper, and evidence of teaching record (e.g., course evaluations). Those applying for consideration at the assistant professor level should also submit three letters of recommendation.

All applications and supporting materials must be submitted through the following link: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10396>. Faxed, emailed, or mailed applications will not be accepted.

Applications will be accepted immediately, with review beginning in December 2017.

Questions about the online application system should be directed to Sarah Nebbeling, Manager of Faculty Affairs at ska60@georgetown.edu. Questions about the position should be directed to Dr. Anthony Arend, Senior Associate Dean for Faculty and Graduate Affairs, at arenda@georgetown.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3745

American University in Cairo*Rank: International Relations/ Middle East Politics

International Relations/ Middle East Politics

Job Description

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in International Relations emphasis on the Middle East at the Assistant Level Professor beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on International Politics in the Middle East, International organization, Contemporary Foreign Policy. Candidates who can teach Issues in Middle East Politics, Contemporary Egypt and Egyptian Foreign Policy are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: http://www.oucegypt.edu/faculty-services/faculty-vacancies

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@oucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@oucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.oucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3745

American University in Cairo*Rank: International Relations/IR Theory

International Relations/IR Theory

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in international relations at the Assistant Professor level beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on theories of international relations, contemporary foreign policies, international organization. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.oucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@oucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@oucegypt.edu ) or visit the department's

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3746

Saint Lawrence University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professors in International Relations (3 openings)

Specializations: Middle East, International Security, Foreign Policy

Due to administrative appointments, retirements, and sabbatical leaves, the Government Department at St. Lawrence University invites applications for three Visiting Assistant Professor (VAP) positions in International Relations. These positions begin August 2018. Successful candidates will teach three courses per semester, including introductory courses in international relations and upper-level courses within their fields of expertise. Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2018.

1) The first position seeks expertise in the Middle East and is renewable for up to one additional year.

2) The second position seeks expertise in security studies or American foreign policy and is renewable for up to one additional year.

3) The third position is open regarding expertise, except that it will not duplicate the other searches in the Middle East, security studies, and American foreign policy.

Additionally, the department expects to conduct one international relations tenure-track search in the fall of 2018.

We welcome applications from candidates who bring diverse cultural, ethnic and national perspectives to their scholarship and teaching.

Minimum Qualifications: Candidates with Ph.D. in hand preferred, though ABD candidates may be considered.

To apply, please visit: <https://employment.stlawu.edu/postings/1288>

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter indicating teaching and research interests, curriculum vita, graduate school transcript, writing sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also submit a separate document with a statement indicating how they can contribute in tangible ways to St. Lawrence University's commitment to cultivating a diverse and inclusive community and classrooms. These documents can be uploaded in the "Applicant Documents" section of your application.

Additionally, three confidential references are required [the required information input in the reference contact information section of your application will be utilized to send a system-derived email requesting a recommendation letter from each reference].

Questions about the position may be sent to Dr. Ronnie Olesker (rolesker@stlawu.edu), Search Chair, International Relations Searches.

All offers of employment are contingent upon the finalist successfully passing a background (including criminal records) check.

Located at 23 Romoda Drive in Canton, NY, St. Lawrence University is a coeducational, private, independent liberal arts institution of about 2,400 students from more than 40 states and 40 nations. The educational opportunities at St. Lawrence inspire students and prepare them to be critical and creative thinkers, to find a compass for their lives and careers, and to pursue knowledge and understanding for the benefit of themselves, humanity and the planet. Through its focus on active engagement with ideas in and beyond the classroom, a St. Lawrence education leads students to make connections that transform lives and communities, from the local to the global.

For additional information about St. Lawrence, please visit <http://www.stlawu.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3743

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2018. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2019, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and three references (ensure addresses and telephone numbers are provided) from individuals familiar with your professional work to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Dr. David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6K-160, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to David.Sacko@usafa.edu. Applications received by December 1, 2017 will receive primary consideration. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3739

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from recent PhD recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's mission areas of history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. However, strong preference will be given to applicants with a doctorate in history or whose research has a strong historical component (ancient or modern). Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the Clements Center's programs and activities; any specific responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. In some cases Fellows will be welcome to teach a course at the University of Texas. Each appointment is for one year, and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3723

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Predoctoral Fellowship

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from current PhD candidates for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's mission areas of history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. However, strong preference will be given to applicants pursuing a doctorate in history or whose research has a strong historical component (ancient or modern). This fellowship is designed to help expedite dissertation completion, so applicants should be in the dissertation writing phase and within one year (or in exceptional cases two years) of anticipated dissertation submission. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the Clements Center's programs and activities; any specific responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 3724

University of Iowa

Rank: Lecturer - East Asian Security and/or Political Economy

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Foreign Policy, International Security

Lecturer in East Asian Security and/or Political Economy

The University of Iowa's Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track Instructional Faculty (Lecturer) position in international security and/or political economy in East Asia, beginning August 15, 2018 renewable for an additional two years (2019-2021 and renewable thereafter in three year increments pending positive reviews). Duties of this position include teaching 18-24 semester hours per academic year, professional development and departmental service.

A Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 1, 2018, and must be free to assume the duties of this position on that date. Candidates must demonstrate the potential for outstanding teaching

Review of applications will begin on January 20, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. Applications should include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, three recommendation letters, a statement on teaching, a statement on research, publications, and manuscripts in progress.

JOB Requisition number: 71355

<https://jobs.uiowa.edu/faculty/view/71355>

University of Iowa | Department of Political Science

<https://clas.uiowa.edu/polisci>

<https://clas.uiowa.edu/polisci/about-us/open-faculty-staff-positions>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3722

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: International Relations - Open Rank

The Department of Political Science at The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley invites applications for a full-time tenured or tenure-track faculty member in International Relations to begin September 1, 2018. The department is particularly interested in applicants with teaching interests and a research agenda that includes international relations theory, globalization, and global governance. Ability to teach US Foreign Policy and/or Western European Governments is a plus. The department is open to a wide variety of methodologies and critical theoretical perspectives. This position continues the department's effort to build an undergraduate and graduate program anchored in political science, while incorporating topics, concepts, methods, and courses that cross traditional disciplinary boundaries. The successful candidate will teach upper-division and graduate level courses in their areas of substantive specialization as well as a required lower-division course in U.S. Federal Government & Politics.

UTRGV faculty are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to student success and to advancing the university, college, and program missions, as well as a commitment to UTRGV's guiding principles which include promoting access to postsecondary education to a diverse student body and to become one of the largest and most successful Hispanic-serving emerging research institutions in the U.S.A.

To apply, go to: <https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/search>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/21/2018

Date Posted: 10/24/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3684

Review of applications will begin on January 5, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/24/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3684

University of Dayton

Rank: Lecturer

Specializations: International Political Economy, Developing Nations, Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Dayton is seeking a lecturer with a specialization in international political economy and development. Responsibilities include teaching courses in political science, courses for non-majors, and the interdisciplinary social science curriculum.

Qualified candidates will have completed all requirements for the PhD degree in Political Science or a related field, except for defense of dissertation, at the time of application; PhD preferred. Required qualifications include excellent written communication skills and the potential for excellence in teaching in one or more areas of international political economy and development.

The department prefers candidates with an ability to contribute to teaching interdisciplinary aspects of international political economy and development, an interest in developing international political economy and development courses, an interest in the use of innovative pedagogical techniques and successful teaching at the university level. Experience in teaching and advising students of diverse backgrounds and a sensitivity to Catholic and Marianist educational values are also preferred.

The University and the Department are strongly committed to excellence in teaching and the development of distinctive graduates who embrace the ideal of servant-leadership and the University's call to "Learn, Lead, and Serve." The Department currently has 15 full-time faculty members. It offers BAs in Human Rights Studies and Political Science and the Master of Public Administration. The Department is highly supportive of its faculty and students.

The University of Dayton, founded in 1850 by the Society of Mary, is a top ten Catholic research university. The University seeks outstanding, diverse faculty and staff who value its mission and share its commitment to academic excellence in teaching, research and artistic creativity, the development of the whole person, and leadership and service in the local and global community.

Apply at jobs.udayton.edu/postings/24565 by January 16, 2018. Information on the interdisciplinary curriculum (SSC 200) is at udayton.edu/artssciences/academics/about/social\_science\_cap/index.php.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/16/2018

Date Posted: 10/24/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3685

Roanoke College

Rank: Visiting Professor

International Relations

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Professor position in International Relations, beginning in August 2018 and ending in May 2019. This is a full time, sabbatical-replacement position, with a teaching load of three courses per semester.

We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations and who can offer courses in International Politics, International Relations Theory, and Environmental Policy. Preference will be given to candidates who can also teach a course on the Comparative Politics of Europe. The successful candidate will also contribute International Relations courses to the General Education curriculum. A Ph.D. with teaching experience is preferred, but an ABD will be considered.

The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research. Visiting Professors are eligible to receive departmental funds and to apply for most of the College's internal grants in support of their research and teaching.

Roanoke College, a nationally ranked Phi Beta Kappa institution is located in the Roanoke Valley of Virginia and is affiliated with the Lutheran Church (ELCA). It is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants should electronically submit curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations and three letters of recommendation and any inquiries to Judi Pinckney at pinckney@roanoke.edu.

Towson University*Rank: Assistant Professor

ACADEMIC YEAR 2017-2018

Areas of Specialization: International Relations, Developing States

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level. While the position would be tenured within the Political Science Department, the successful applicant will be expected to contribute three courses per year to the university's International Studies Program. The position entails teaching general survey courses in international relations and upper-level courses focused on the international relations of developing countries. The ability to teach international political economy and/or comparative politics in the applicant's region of specialization would also be an asset. Applicants with Ph.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference, although ABDs may be considered if the degree will be completed by the spring of 2018. Applicants must possess a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and show a solid potential for a productive scholarly program. Interest in pursuing external funding is desirable. The teaching load is six courses during the first year, but will rise to seven courses thereafter. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Matthew Hoddie, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

Application review will begin immediately. The position will remain open until December 15, 2017.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 12/5/2017Date Posted: 10/16/2017Salary: $60,000 - $69,999eJobs ID: 3623University of Guam*Rank: Tenure Track IR*Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Comparative Politics

The University of Guam, the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific, has a tenure track opening in its Political Science Program for an International Relations specialist with a focus on the Asia Pacific. The program has three faculty members representing the areas of American and regional politics, comparative politics and international relations. Courses in political philosophy and methods are shared among faculty.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach both lower and upper division undergraduate political science courses. He or she will (a) teach a normal load of twelve (12) contact hours (4 courses) per semester, with one course load reduction possible with the Dean's approval, for research, instructional innovation, or large service projects; (b) maintain a continuous record of scholarly activity and research relevant to the Asia/Pacific region; and (c) perform university and community service. Course assignments will include an introductory research methodology course including quantitative and qualitative methods and upper division courses in international relations. Possible additional course assignments include: introduction to government and politics, introduction to international relations, political philosophy, politics of Asia and special topics in political science.

Minimum qualifications: (a) Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations or Government from a U.S. regionally accredited institution or foreign equivalent (appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor requires Ph.D. by August 2018 but initial appointment as Instructor is possible, contingent upon completion of the doctorate by the end of the first year of employment); (b) research or relevant professional experience in Asia and/or the Pacific region; (c) teaching experience in some of the subject areas listed above; and (d) willingness to teach online.

Preferred: (a) familiarity with issues of Pacific island societies; (b) experience teaching academically and culturally diverse populations; and (c) a record of winning grants.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience relevant to the position. The following salary figures are for nine (9) months:

Instructor $34,169 - $57,892 Per Academic Year

Assistant Professor $39,473 - $68,237 Per Academic Year

Associate Professor $43,703 - $77,498 Per Academic Year

Applicants for University of Guam faculty positions must complete an online job application through the UOG's online employment portal at <https://uog.peopleadmin.com>. Please have the following documents prepared and ready to upload with your application:

- (1) Letter of Intent, stating interest
- (2) Up-to-date curriculum vitae or resume
- (3) Copies of all graduate and undergraduate transcripts

Applicants who are short-listed for an interview will be required to provide a short (approximately 5 minutes) video clip of their lecture or presentation. Also, applicants may be requested by the search chair to submit supplemental materials including syllabi. Completed applications must be received no later than 11:59 p.m. on January 8, 2018 (Chamorro Standard Time/UTC+10).

Before applying, applicants should consult the full job announcement at <https://uog.peopleadmin.com/postings/1111>. For further information, please contact Dr. Arun R. Swamy, Chair, Political Science Search Committee at arswamy@triton.uog.edu or the Human Resources Office at uoghro@triton.uog.edu, telephone number, (671) 735-2350 or fax number at (671) 734-6005.

Start Date: Fall 2018Date Posted: 10/14/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3621University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa*Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications at the Assistant Professor (tenure-track) level in International Relations beginning August 16, 2018. A completed Ph.D. in political science is required for appointment. The successful candidate should have a strong research agenda with a clear plan for peer-reviewed scholarly publications. The position is open with regard to theoretical approach. We welcome applications from scholars using any combination of positivist, normative, critical, formal, or interpretive methods. Applications from candidates with an ability to teach international organizations, international political economy, human rights, and international law are especially welcome. In addition, we are interested in candidates who are prepared to contribute to teaching research methods. The candidate would also be expected to take an active role in the department's graduate program. The University of Alabama is a student-centered research university and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees are offered in Political Science. To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/41900> and complete the online application. Attach a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, samples of publications and papers, and teaching evaluations, if available. Applicants should also upload a transcript of graduate work and send three letters of recommendation directly to: International Relations Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213, or via email at apatrick@ua.edu (please state position in email). For more information, contact Holger Albrecht, Search Committee Chair, at halbrecht@ua.edu. We will begin reviewing applications on November 10, 2017, and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and actively seeks diversity among its employees. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3615

Virginia Tech

Rank: Assistant Professor, Postcolonial Theory

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Public Policy

Assistant Professor

Postcolonial Theory

ASPECT and the Department of Political Science
College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences
Virginia Tech

The interdisciplinary doctoral program ASPECT (Alliance for Social, Political, Ethical, and Cultural Thought) and the Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech invite applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Postcolonial Theory and Global Governance/Globalization Theory with an emphasis on human security and sub-specializations in critical gender or race perspectives, the governance/management of displaced populations, urban/rural dynamics, and qualitative methodologies. Evidence of excellence in research and demonstrated experience in teaching are required. Ability and desire to mentor/advise graduate students in interdisciplinary and theory-driven ASPECT doctoral program are essential. ASPECT and the Department of Political Science encourage applications from a diverse pool of applicants. The standard teaching load is four courses per academic year, including at least one course to be offered for the ASPECT PhD program. This position will begin August 10, 2018.

The successful candidate also will have the opportunity to engage in transdisciplinary research, curriculum, and/or outreach initiatives with other university faculty working in the Integrated Security Destination

Area. The Integrated Security Destination Area is focused on understanding and fostering a world in which individuals, institutions, and nations are secured by technology and social systems that follow ethical principles and promote values of social justice. Faculty working together in this area are bringing a transdisciplinary approach to the complex range of human and systems security challenges. The successful candidate will have additional opportunities to join University colleagues in research and teaching initiatives in the Policy Strategic Growth Area (<http://provost.vt.edu/destination-areas.html>).

Required qualifications: Earned doctorate in political science or closely related field at the time of application or degree in hand by August 10, 2018. Candidates must have a clear specialization in postcolonial theory and global governance/globalization theory with an emphasis on human security. Applications demonstrating strong research interests in critical gender or race perspectives, the governance/management of displaced populations, urban/rural dynamics, and qualitative methodologies are especially encouraged. Additionally, successful candidates will need to demonstrate an ability to mentor doctoral students in ASPECT and in the Political Science department's MA program and will have documented effectiveness in teaching postcolonial, global governance/globalization, and security courses at the undergraduate level.

Desired qualifications: Preference will be given to political theorists who can teach a wide array of courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels in the areas listed above. Ability to work in disciplinary and interdisciplinary settings (and collaborate in teaching and research with colleagues across disciplines in the context of the ASPECT program and the cross-university Integrated Security Destination Area and Policy Strategic Growth Area) is highly desirable. Prior teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels is strongly preferred. Commitment to work effectively with a diverse campus population is key.

Interested persons must apply at www.jobs.vt.edu posting #TR0170155, where they will submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, no more than one recent writing sample representative of their research, teaching evaluations, a short research précis (1-2 pages) that stresses the applicant's theoretical background and contributions, and contact information for no more than 4 academic references. Screening of applications will begin January 5, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. All inquiries can be sent to: Dr. François Debrix (fdebrix@vt.edu) or Dr. Timothy W. Luke (twluke@vt.edu), chairs, Postcolonial Theory Search Committee, ASPECT, Major Williams Hall, Room 202 (0192), 220 Stanger St., Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Individuals with additional questions or with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact the search committee chairs.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Agency

Virginia Tech does not discriminate against employees, students, or applicants on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, or veteran status; or otherwise discriminate against employees or applicants who inquire about, discuss, or disclose their compensation or the compensation of other employees, or applicants; or any other basis protected by law (<http://www.vt.edu/about/equal-opportunity.html>). For inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies, contact the Office of Equity and Access at 540-231-2010 or Virginia Tech, North End Center, Suite 2300 (0318), 300 Turner St. NW, Blacksburg, VA 24061.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3608

Northeastern University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Political Theory

Specializations: International Security, Civil Rights & Liberties, Science & Technology

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor College of Social Sciences & Humanities Northeastern University

Responsibilities

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities at Northeastern University seeks nominations and applications from leading scholars for the position of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, tenure/tenure-track, in the area(s) of cyber security, privacy, ethics, and resilience (all broadly defined), with an expected start date of Fall 2018. We welcome applications from scholars working in any combination of these areas and are especially interested in those that focus on key issues in cybersecurity and privacy as they relate to applied ethics, human behavior, economics, institutions and policy. Interdisciplinary expertise in computational methods, data science, social science and/or humanities is preferred. This is an interdisciplinary position and candidates will be considered for joint appointments across suitable colleges and departments. The successful candidate will have a distinguished scholarly record and demonstrated potential for excellence in leadership and interdisciplinary collaboration.

The position will facilitate cross-college teaching, research and collaboration between the College of Social Sciences and Humanities and the College of Computer and Information Science. The position will also support the University's commitment to innovation in teaching and contribute to the Cybersecurity & Privacy Institute (<https://cyber.ccis.northeastern.edu/>), the Global Resilience Institute (<https://globalresilience.northeastern.edu/>), and/or the Security & Resilience Studies program (<https://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/polisci/security-resilience-studies/>). The candidate who fills this position will share the college's commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a PhD or its equivalent at the time of appointment.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

How to Apply

Applicants should submit a CV and letter of interest along with the names of three references. Candidates will be notified before their references are contacted. Full dossiers will be requested for first-round interviews.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the link for full-time positions or full-time interdisciplinary positions or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click "Apply to this job." Please address nominations and inquiries about the position to Rory Smead at r.smead@northeastern.edu. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3599

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank tenure track position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics that focuses on Latin America beginning on August 1, 2018. This is a twelve-month tenure-track position at our Ft. Benning/Columbus, Georgia/ Phoenix City, Alabama location.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/ Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018 with a research specialization in Latin America. The preferred qualifications are a focus in Latin American Security and/or intelligence and the teaching will primarily be in our master's degree (MSIR) in international relations. The successful candidate will also teach undergraduate political science courses, which will be delivered in person as well as online. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs. Candidates should have experience working with the military and be prepared to act as the local university representative to Fort Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

Faculty duties include advising students, submitting academic discipline-related articles for publication, attending departmental meetings, and serving on departmental committees.

Administrative duties include acting as the local university representative to Ft. Benning and the Western Hemisphere Institute for Security Cooperation (WHINSEC) community, acting as the main liaison with the Political Science Department at Troy, serving as a common point of contact, helping with scheduling, and reviewing projected schedules.

Applicants need to electronically submit a cover letter, CV, writing sample, teaching philosophy, research statement, and provide three reference providers. Please combine the writing sample and research statement into one document and upload it under the "Other Document" section. Please direct all questions to Dr G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/10/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3589Bocconi University*Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Policy Analysis and Public Management at Bocconi University is inviting applications for a full-time, tenure-track international relations position at the rank of assistant professor beginning September 2018. We welcome applications from candidates engaged in high-quality empirical research on international relations and especially those with a research agenda that demonstrates a substantial, on-going interest in international organizations.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. by September 1, 2018. Applicants should have a trajectory that suggests a tenurable research record is likely.

Bocconi University is a leading institution for economics, management and related disciplines in Europe, and it is currently expanding in the areas of political and social sciences. As part of this development, the Department has a major role in staffing a Bachelor in Government (BIG), a Master in Government and International Organizations (GIO) and, from 2018, a Master in Politics and Public Policy. Public Management is a major field in the Ph.D. Program in Public Policy and Administration, launched in 2014.

Bocconi provides an ideal interdisciplinary research environment. The Department of Policy Analysis and Public Management combines faculty from several social sciences (public administration, political science, sociology, economics, history, public health, demography), who share an interest policy-relevant research, from analysis and design to implementation and management. The Department counts 60 tenured or tenure-track faculty members.

The successful candidate is expected to teach at the undergraduate and graduate level, which may include also SDA-Bocconi School of Management Executive Master in International Organizations (EMMIO). The excellent terms of employment are competitive. Bocconi University is located in Italy's most vibrant centre, Milan, a historical and cosmopolitan city in a metro area of 3 million and well connected to the rest of Europe.

Applications are due by January 7th, 2018. Review will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Campus visits will be scheduled accordingly.

Knowledge of Italian is not required. Responsibilities include teaching and productivity in research. Applicants should have – or be close to completing – a PhD and will have demonstrated strong potential in research.

To ensure full consideration, applicants must submit:

a. A scientific curriculum;

b. Titles, publications and documents which the candidates intend to submit for this evaluation;

c. The name of at least two highly qualified academic referees

Submissions must be done via the on-line e-form with pdf attachments which can be found at www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket.

To complete the online process and be considered for the position, applicants will have to include at least two letters of recommendation. The letters should be sent by the referees no later than January 15th 2018.

Bocconi University is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. Applications are particularly welcome from women and members of groups who are under-represented in academic posts.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 1/7/2018Date Posted: 10/9/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3580Troy University*Rank: Assistant Professor*Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations(MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/ Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/6/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3574The Citadel*Rank: Assistant Professor*Specializations: China, Southeast Asia, Latin American

The Citadel, The Military College of South Carolina, is currently seeking to fill a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in International Relations or Comparative Politics in the Department of Political Science.

The Citadel is a state-supported coeducational military college in historic downtown Charleston, South Carolina. We are committed to excellence in teaching with the expectation that faculty engage in consistent research and publication. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science with three subfields: American Government, International Politics and Military Affairs, and pre-Law and Legal Studies. The Department is home to approximately 250 undergraduate majors. In addition, the Department of Political Science offers a Master of Arts program in International Politics & Military Affairs and graduate courses related to a Master of Arts program in Social Science.

A Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD eligible candidates who will finish their dissertation by August 2018 will be considered. Expertise in China and Asian area studies is required with a preference for those with professional experience in a US government agency. Ability to teach courses in Latin American Affairs and International/Domestic Terrorism is an added asset. Undergraduate teaching responsibilities include: Introduction to International Politics, Comparative Politics, Southeast Asian Affairs, East Asian Affairs, and South Asian Affairs.

Successful candidates will also be expected to teach both evening and online courses related to the two Master of Arts Programs.

To learn more about The Citadel and its programs please visit our website at www.citadel.edu. To find more information on the Department of Political Science, you can visit us at <http://www.citadel.edu/root/politicalscience>.

Please include the following in your application materials:

- (1) A letter of application addressing the qualifications listed above
- (2) Official transcripts
- (3) A curriculum vita
- (4) Three letters of recommendation sent independently to the address below
- (5) A writing sample
- (6) Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Application materials should be sent to: Jack J. Porter, Dept. of Political Science, The Citadel, 171 Moultrie St., Charleston, SC, 29409.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3537

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from a mix of disciplines who are engaged in scholarly or creative work on topics related to Latin American Studies to fill one to two Postdoctoral [or more senior] Research Associate positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than 1 course per semester. They also will be invited to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

Appointments are for a 12-month term, starting September 1, 2018, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding. A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, applications should be submitted by January 5, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/1902>.

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Curriculum vitae
- 3) Statement of research interests (one-two pages)
- 4) A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent in the candidate's professional medium; for artistic work, links within a PDF preferred).
- 5) Names and contact information for three references (the Program will contact them, if needed, at a later date)

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/5/2018

Date Posted: 9/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3509

Fordham University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Politics

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure track position in International Politics at the Assistant Professor level, beginning August 2018. The position is located at Fordham's Rose Hill (Bronx) campus.

We are particularly interested in candidates who possess research and teaching expertise in the areas of international security, U.S. foreign policy, and international diplomacy. Alternatively, the candidate may specialize in international organizations, law, and cooperation. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to undergraduate and graduate curricular needs in political science and the Master's Program in International Political Economy and Development. Additional expertise in a particular region of the world, including East or South Asia, Africa, or Europe would be welcome. We seek candidates whose work is theoretically sophisticated and methodologically rigorous.

We invite candidates with an ability to make a positive contribution to the department's climate fostering inclusiveness and diversity. We believe that cultural and intellectual pluralism is essential to the excellence of our academic programs, and we strive to foster an academic culture and campus community that attracts and supports the development of a diverse faculty reflecting the global environment in which we live and work. As our student body grows increasingly diverse, experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students from a range of economic, social, and cultural backgrounds is preferred and welcomed.

Review of applications will begin on October 25. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) to Professor José Alemán, Committee Chair, via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/45328>: cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, course syllabi, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of reference. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition that welcomes applications from all backgrounds. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3483

Troy University

Rank: Adjunct Professor

Adjunct faculty members are employed to provide specific courses on an as-needed basis. Contracts for adjunct faculty members are issued on a semester/term basis. Adjunct Instructors hold the responsibility for the courses taught. Adjunct Instructors are expected to be available for a reasonable amount of time for each course taught to counsel students regarding course work.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3449

University of Chicago

Rank: Senior Lecturers and Lecturers in Computational Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The University of Chicago invites applications for one or more position(s) as Lecturer or Senior Lecturer in Computational Social Science. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

These are full-time teaching positions beginning September 2018 with a renewable three-year term. The successful applicant will teach five graduate courses per year; advise MA students; evaluate MA theses; hire and manage teaching assistants; participate in program admissions, staff hiring, and student recruitment; help train doctoral student preceptors; and contribute to the intellectual life and administrative needs of the MA Program in Computational Social Science (macss.uchicago.edu). Prior teaching experience is required.

The ideal candidate would be able to teach in three or more of the following areas: scientific programming with Python; coding best practices; SQL and file-based databases; Spark or Hadoop frameworks; machine learning using structured, semi-structured or unstructured data; Bayesian statistical inference and graphical models; statistical programming with R; optimization; or computational statistics. Other courses may be drawn from the candidate's area of disciplinary expertise.

Lecturers must have the PhD in hand by September 1, 2018. Senior Lecturers are normally more advanced, though the offer might be made in cases of exceptional promise.

Applicants must apply on the University of Chicago's Academic Career Opportunities website. The posting for the Senior Lectureship can be found here <http://tinyurl.com/ydfjovy8>.

The posting for the Lectureship is available here <http://tinyurl.com/ybpogzop>.

The following materials should be submitted: 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a chapter-length writing sample, 4) a sample course syllabus, 5) course evaluations or evidence of past teaching performance, and 6) three letters of reference.

We will begin reviewing applications November 1 and will continue until the positions are filled. Applications received by January 1 will receive full consideration from our committee. Later applicants are encouraged to contact Chad Cyrenne (c-cyrenne@uchicago.edu) for updates on the status of the search.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3440

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specializations: Asia, International Relations

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach comparative politics with a regional specialization in Asia/Pacific Rim. Expertise in international relations also highly desirable. Possible areas of specialty can include, but need not be limited to, terrorism, revolutions, international politics, international economic relations, international conflict. Ability to teach a basic methods course also desirable, though not required. Responsibilities include teaching introductory courses, including Introduction to World Politics, and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates should demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of international experiential activities (e.g. study abroad, internships, civic engagement, Model UN). College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Expertise in international relations and ability to teach basic methods course highly desirable.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts; a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3412

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in international relations. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3362

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - multiple positions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics, international relations, political theory and quantitative methods. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3360

SUNY, College at Oneonta

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations and Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the State University of New York College at Oneonta invites applications for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in International Relations / Comparative Government beginning Fall 2018. The initial appointment will be for two years. Expectations include teaching, research, student advisement, college service, and continuing professional development. SUNY Oneonta is a comprehensive, public, liberal arts and sciences college. The College sits at #9 on the 2016 list of "Top Public Regional Universities" in the North published by U.S. News & World Report, and is ranked #175 in the Northeast on the Forbes magazine list of "America's Top Colleges." The Political Science Department is an expanding part of the College's School of Social Sciences, whose faculty are highly collegial and engaged as teachers, scholars, and mentors. They actively pursue the development of a dynamic learning environment for students in which research and applied learning opportunities are available. To learn more about the College or the Department, please visit www.oneonta.edu or www.oneonta.edu/academics/polsci. Preference will be given to candidates who have experience with diverse populations and/or teaching pedagogies and/or multicultural teaching experience.

For a complete description of this position go to: <https://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=87620>

To apply online go to: <http://oneonta.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=87620>

For other employment and regional opportunities, please visit our website at: www.oneonta.edu/employment.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3351

California State University Dominguez Hills

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

www.csudh.edu

Assistant Professor of International Relations
College of Natural & Behavioral Sciences

Position Description

The faculty of the Department of Political Science at California State University Dominguez Hills invites applications from individuals for a tenure track, Assistant Professor position in International Relations, effective Fall 2018.

Department of Political Science

The Political Science Department is located in the College of Natural and Behavioral Sciences. The current faculty is comprised of four tenured and tenure-track faculty joined by 9 to 11 part-time faculty each term. Political Science provides excellent opportunities for the study of government and politics. Over 40 courses cover all the major aspects of the discipline. Students develop an understanding of human behavior as it relates to politics. They learn to discuss and analyze critically current public policy issues facing the United States and the world. They are taught how to critically observe and understand world affairs and comparative politics. They are trained in appropriate research techniques for the study of political processes. The General Political Science Concentration is a relatively "open" one, allowing students to choose from a wide range of courses and subjects within a general framework. It is designed for students seeking broad exposure to the diverse subjects of the discipline and is recommended for most students.

The Department offers a general major composed of core courses in Quantitative Research Methods, History of Political Thought, American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations. Additionally, majors select breadth courses in American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations along with five elective courses selected from Departmental offerings. Majors must complete the Capstone Research Exercise (comprised of a major research paper) in one of the elective courses. The department offers internship opportunities at the national, California government and local government levels. The Department sponsors an active student organization (APSS, the Association of Political Science Students) and successful Model United Nations (MUN) and Mock Trial program for students.

For more information see: <http://www4.csudh.edu/political-science/index>

Mission Statement

CSU Dominguez Hills provides education, scholarship and service that are, by design, accessible and transformative. We welcome students who seek academic achievement, personal fulfillment, and preparation for the work of today and tomorrow.

Responsibilities

The selected candidate will be responsible for teaching, performing service on departmental and university-wide bases, publishing research in peer-reviewed academic journals relevant to the discipline of political science/the subfield of International Relations, maintaining office hours, and providing advising for our majors and minors, help direct a successful, team-run Model U.N. program, and participate with colleagues in curricular development.

The Position

Faculty members teach four classes or their equivalent each semester (although new faculty receive reduced teaching assignments); maintain an active research program; mentor and advise students; and serve on departmental and university committees. The appointment will be effective for the fall semester of the 2018-2019 academic year, beginning in August 2018. The Department offers a general major composed of core courses in Quantitative Research Methods, History of Political Thought, American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations. Additionally, majors select breadth courses in American Politics, Comparative Politics, and International Relations along with five elective courses selected from Departmental offerings. Majors must complete the Capstone Research Exercise under the supervision of one of the tenured or tenure track members of the faculty.

The Ideal Candidate

The ideal candidate will have a promising record of effective teaching, scholarly research and service, will be innovative in his or her thinking in a department strongly committed to academic excellence, community outreach and the development of partnerships with local and federal government institutions and businesses to enhance the learning experience of political science students and to help prepare them for success in the job market, legal careers or graduate school.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications

- A PhD or ABD in Political Science or a closely related field from an accredited institution of higher education

- Research experience
- Teaching experience or training in teaching techniques.
- Expertise in Quantitative Methodology
- Teaching and research interest in International Relations
- A strong interest in developing new courses to reflect the changing nature of the international system and developments in the discipline of Political Science.
- Experience and/or ability in teaching undergraduates from diverse age, socioeconomic, cultural, and academic backgrounds.

Preferred Qualifications

- Secondary interest in area studies
- Ability and willingness to teach, and perform research utilizing, Quantitative Methodology
- An interest in student-involved research

Background Checks

- The successful candidate is required to complete a thorough background check and the employment offer can be rescinded if the background check reveals disqualifying or falsified information.

CSU Dominguez Hills

On April 29, 1960, Gov. Pat Brown signed a bill into law authorizing the formation of a state college to serve the growing southwestern region of Los Angeles County. From its humble beginnings in a bank building in Rolling Hills Estates, CSU Dominguez Hills has evolved into a thriving and nationally recognized comprehensive university, providing an innovative liberal arts education to a diverse student body.

Mission Statement

CSU Dominguez Hills provides education, scholarship and service that are, by design, accessible and transformative. We welcome students who seek academic achievement, personal fulfillment, and preparation for the work of today and tomorrow.

Vision

A vital educational and economic resource for the South Bay, CSU Dominguez Hills will be recognized as a top-performing Comprehensive Model Urban University in America. We will be known as a campus community and gathering place where:

- Diversity in all its forms is explored, understood, and transformed into knowledge and practice that benefits the world.
- Technology is embraced and leveraged to transcend educational boundaries as we reach out to students, both locally and globally.
- Sustainable environmental, social and economic practices are a way of life.
- Students from our community who aspire to complete a college degree are provided the pathway and guidance to succeed.
- Faculty and staff across the University are engaged in serving the dynamic needs of the surrounding communities.
- Student life is meaningful and vibrant.
- Our accomplishments and those of our alumni are recognized nationally and internationally.
- Ultimately, our students graduate with an exemplary academic education, a highly respected degree, and a genuine commitment to justice and social responsibility.

About the University

CSU Dominguez Hills holds the Carnegie classification of Master's L and is a federally recognized Hispanic-Serving Institution. Class sizes are small as compared with large research universities and classes are taught by the faculty, not by teaching assistants. Many of the university's students are the first in their families to earn a university degree. While the university enrolls traditional full-time students, many students enroll part-time and attend late afternoon, evening and weekend classes because of work and family responsibilities.

CSU Dominguez Hills offers 45 baccalaureate degrees, 24 master's degrees, and a number of certificate and credential programs. Enrollment exceeds 14,635 students, and the student population is among the most ethnically and culturally rich in the nation: 60% Hispanic/Latino, 14.5% Black/African-American, 10.9% White, 10.8% Asian, .10% American Indian/Alaska Native, .30% Native Hawaiian/Other Pacific Islander, 3.10% Two or more races.

The University is accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC), the accrediting body for institutions of higher learning in the West. Twelve programs hold accreditations from national professional associations: business administration, clinical sciences, computer science, education, health science, music, nursing, occupational therapy, public administration, special education, theatre arts, and social work.

The academic programs of the university are organized under the Colleges of Arts and Humanities, Business Administration and Public Policy, Extended and International Education, Natural and Behavioral Sciences, Education, and Health and Human Services, and Nursing. While continuing to emphasize the liberal arts and sciences, professional programs offered at the undergraduate and graduate level, developed to serve the region's workforce needs, are of great interest to students and prepare them for professions in a variety of industries.

Known for excellence in teacher education, nursing, psychology, business administration, and digital media arts, new degree programs include computer science, criminal justice, recreation and leisure studies, social work, and communication disorders. CSU Dominguez Hills is a national leader in distance learning with 10 academic degrees and seven certificate programs offered.

Faculty

A tradition of teaching excellence lies at the heart of the university experience for Dominguez Hills' students. Most of the faculty have earned doctoral degrees from prestigious universities across the nation. The faculty strives to sustain a dynamic teaching and learning environment in a multicultural setting. The Academic Senate provides a forum for faculty, administration, students and others to be represented and consulted regarding such vital issues as budget priorities, academic standards, curriculum and instruction, and student affairs.

Student Life

At CSU Dominguez Hills, there's more to student life than the classroom. The university offers a dynamic, interactive and enriching community of learners, teachers and peers sharing diverse points of view. There are multitudes of ways for students to pursue interests, get involved, and get the most from their academic experience.

An office of student life enhances student development by coordinating a variety of co-curricular activities, including 60 student organizations. Students are encouraged to perform community service and participate in leadership development. The Multicultural Center on campus promotes the exploration of diverse heritages, values and cultural experiences by offering a wide range of activities and programs throughout the academic year.

CSU Dominguez Hills is a National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Division II institution that competes in the California Collegiate Athletic Association (CCAA). CSU Dominguez Hills is one of the most athletically competitive and honored schools in the CCAA, with 23 conference titles and four national championships to date, including the 2008 NCAA D-II Men's Soccer National Championship. CSU Dominguez Hills sponsors 11 intercollegiate athletic teams.

The Location

The university is located in Carson, California, in the South Bay region of Los Angeles County. Its 346-acre park-like campus is situated in the historic Rancho San Pedro, the oldest Spanish land grant in the Los Angeles area. The site remained in the continuous possession of the Dominguez family for seven generations - from its inception in 1794 to its acquisition by the state of California.

The Region

The South Bay is one of the most culturally, economically, and ethnically diverse areas in the United States, with a largely even distribution of the population with African, Asian/Pacific Islander, European, and Latino ancestry. The university is located in the city of Carson, a city of 93,000 residents and one of the many municipalities that border the city of Los Angeles. Cultural, performance and sports venues in downtown Los Angeles are about 15 minutes away and the South Bay beach communities are a few minutes away to the west and south. The StubHub, a 125-acre sports center developed by AEG and home to Major League Soccer's L.A. Galaxy and Chivas USA, is located on the CSUDH campus.

The campus is strategically located in the heart of a major technological, industrial and transportation complex in Southern California. This area includes the massive Port of Long Beach and the Port of Los Angeles – Southern California's gateway to international commerce. The South Bay region is also home to aerospace, oil refinery, healthcare and automotive industries.

Employee Benefits

CSU Dominguez Hills offers a comprehensive and attractive benefits program to its employees. Further information on benefits offered can be found at www.csudh.edu/employment

How to Apply

While the position will remain open until filled, review of applications will begin on September 15, 2017.

Register your online application/s at https://my.csudh.edu/psp/paaprd/EMPLOYEE/HDHPRD/c/HRS\_HRAM.HRS\_CE.GBL and have the following documents as a single file by October 15, 2017.

- Current Curricula Vitae
- Cover letter
- Three Letters of Recommendation
- Copy of Terminal Degree
- A Statement on Teaching
- A Statement on Research
- Sample Publications (if available)
- Teaching Evaluations (if available)

Instructions on how to submit a single document link:
<http://www4.csudh.edu/Assets/CSUDH-Sites/HR/docs/External-Applicant-FAQs-final.pdf>

Applicants that are selected to move forward in the recruitment process will be notified by the Search Committee when to submit official transcripts directly to the email address of srusso@csudh.edu or you may mail directly to:

Dr. Salvatore J. Russo
Search Committee Chair
Department of Political Science
CSU, Dominguez Hills
1000 East Victoria Street
Carson, CA 90747

California State University, Dominguez Hills, is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status.

Individuals with disabilities requesting accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) may call the CSU Dominguez Hills Human Resources Office (310) 243-3771 or the Academic Affairs Personnel Services Office at (310) 243-3766.

Clery Act crime statistics for CSUDH are available at <http://www.csudh.edu/dhpd/>, or by calling University Police at (310) 243-3693.

Upon appointment all candidates must furnish proof of eligibility to work in the U.S.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3349

Ohio State University

Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3337

Le Moyne College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Le Moyne College invites applications from qualified candidates for a faculty opening for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor of International Relations or Comparative Politics, beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will offer traditional introductory IR or CP courses at the undergraduate level; upper-division courses are open in terms of expertise and interest in world politics, although interest in human rights issues, or in an area such as Africa or the Middle East would be welcome. Candidates should identify in the application letter the specific courses they are prepared to teach.

Qualified candidates must demonstrate teaching effectiveness, manifest a strong understanding of and commitment to a liberal arts education, and be dedicated to maintaining an active research agenda. Qualified candidates must be ABD; preference given to a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment.

To apply for this position, please go to <http://www.lemoyne.edu/employment> and submit the required materials for consideration: a letter of application stating research and teaching interests; a curriculum vitae; graduate transcript; relevant teaching evaluations; and three confidential letters of recommendation - all sent electronically to lemoynehr@lemoyne.edu with the subject line of "Visiting International Relations." Application materials and supporting documentation may also be submitted by mail to: Amy Zubierta, Le Moyne College, 1419 Salt Springs Road, Grewen Hall, 2nd Floor (Human Resources), Attn: International Relations Search, Syracuse, New York 13214.

Review of completed applications will begin January 31, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3320

University of California Irvine

Rank: Lecturer - International Studies

Specializations: International Security, Africa, Gender Politics & Policy

International Studies

University of California, Irvine

School of Social Sciences - International Studies Lecturers

The Program in International Studies is establishing a pool of qualified applicants as Lecturers to teach courses in International Studies, including but not limited to International Political Economy, Regional Studies (Middle East and Africa), Humanitarianism, NGOs, Public Policy, Gender, and Global Trade.

These positions may be available during Winter 2018 and/or Spring 2018 quarters. We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who can contribute to the quality of our undergraduate program. The number of courses available varies by quarter and year.

Rank: Lecturer

Salary Range: $5,700 - $6,200 per course

Qualifications: Ph.D. preferred in the related area of International Studies disciplines.

Positions May Be Available: Winter 2018 and Spring 2018

Completed applications must include: a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statement which addresses past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion and three letters of recommendation. Candidates may also provide a writing sample of recent research. Submit application materials via UC Irvine's online application system, RECRUIT, located at:

<https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04263>

The University of California, Irvine is an equal opportunity employer committed to excellence through diversity.

Closing Dates:

Winter 2018 Quarter, November 30, 2017

Spring 2018 Quarter, January 30, 2018

The University of California, Irvine is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

Start Date: Winter 2018

Application Deadline: 2/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/28/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3286

Mississippi State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration seeks applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2018. Candidates should have a primary research and teaching interest in International Relations with a principal focus on security studies. A Ph.D. degree is required. Candidates with ABD status will be considered but they must possess a Ph.D. degree by the time of appointment. Applicants should demonstrate a strong research capability, a commitment to effective teaching, and a willingness to work with colleagues in professional service responsibilities. The teaching load is four classes per year, a 2-2 load.

Mississippi State University is a public, land grant, doctoral university with an enrollment of approximately 23,000 students. The department's degree programs include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 16 faculty members, 200 undergraduate majors, 39 Masters students, and 29 Ph.D. students. The department has strong ties to several research centers within the University, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, and the Stennis Center for Public Service. More information is available on the department at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>. If you require assistance, e-mail the search committee chair, Brian Shoup, at bds223@msstate.edu.

Candidates must submit application materials electronically. Go to the website of our Human Resources Management department at <http://explore.msujobs.msstate.edu/> (PARF#496143) and follow the instructions for applying for a job. Your electronic submission should include a cover letter indicating your interest in and qualifications for the position, a vita, and the names and contact information of three references. In addition, please have three letters of recommendation sent to the following: Ms. Quintara Miller, Public Administration and Public Policy Search, Mississippi State University; P.O. Box PC; Mississippi State, MS 39762. Review of the applications will begin on or around September 25th, and the search will remain open until filled. MSU is an equal opportunity employer, and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, ethnicity, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, disability status, age, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We always welcome nominations and applications from women, members of any minority group, and others who share our passion for building a diverse community that reflects the diversity in our student population.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3260

University of Houston

Rank: International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a position in International Relations at the Assistant or Associate professor level. Subfields of particular interest include international development, international political economy or international organizations, but we welcome applications from all fields of IR. The appointment will begin in Fall 2018. Successful candidates should have extensive methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication and a clear commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Review of applications will begin October 2, and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars. With over 600 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students, the UH Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC000255. To apply, please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Associate Professor Tanya Bagashka, Chair, International Relations Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Houston.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/24/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3262New College of Florida*Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - International Political Economy/Latin America

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor in International Political Economy and Comparative Political Economy with a substantive focus on Latin America. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, teaching experience and career interest in liberal arts teaching, and a vibrant research agenda. In addition to anchoring the general IPE field and teaching courses in Latin American IPE/CPE, the candidate will offer an upper-level undergraduate course in the comparative politics of Latin America and join in the rotation(s) of at least one of the following disciplinary service courses: Intro to World Politics, Research Design (multiple approaches and methods), or Quantitative Analysis. Given the IPE/CPE emphasis of this position, we expect that the candidate hired would have advanced quantitative skills and be able to guide both qualitative and quantitative undergraduate research. While this position is open with regard to research interests, we would look especially favorably on someone who can teach about and supervise research on the large states and economies of South America. The candidate must have completed the Ph.D. by the start of employment in August 2018.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. Students are intellectually independent and highly motivated. Undergraduate research has a central role in the curriculum, and a senior thesis or project is required of all students. Students receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. We are committed to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and encourage collaborative student-faculty scholarship. The teaching load is two courses per semester plus sponsoring individual and group tutorials. Faculty members also provide academic advising, supervise independent study projects, sponsor senior theses, and serve on baccalaureate committees. Professors are expected to maintain a program of research or creative work. We are particularly interested in candidates with a commitment to innovative undergraduate liberal arts teaching.

Candidates should apply on-line at <https://www.ncf.edu/employment> and upload the following: a cover letter; c.v.; statements of no more than a page each regarding teaching philosophy, the candidate's contributions or approaches to supporting an inclusive culture and learning environment, and research interests; syllabi; teaching evaluations; one writing sample (article or chapter length); and unofficial graduate transcript(s). In addition, please ask at least three references to send signed letters on letterhead electronically to ssc@ncf.edu or in hard copy to: IPE Search, Division of Social Sciences, New College of Florida, 5800 Bay Shore Rd, Sarasota, FL 34243. According to Florida law, applications and meetings regarding applications are open to the public upon request. Applicants who need accommodations in order to participate in the selection process must notify the chair of the search committee 48 hours in advance of a meeting. For questions about the application process, please contact Ms. Kristi Fecteau at kfecteau@ncf.edu.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. We will be at the APSA convention for preliminary interviews and more information. If you are interested in meeting at APSA, please send an e-mail to Prof. Barbara Hicks at bhicks@ncf.edu with APSA-IPE in the subject line.

New College of Florida is committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty. Women and candidates from underrepresented groups or whose knowledge or skills can support an inclusive learning environment are especially encouraged to apply. Consistent with law and its respect for personal dignity, the college does not discriminate against applicants for employment based on race, color, sex, age, religion, national origin, disability, veteran status, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. In accordance with state law, all employees are subject to a background check at the time of hiring. EOE/AA/ADA/WMA.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 10/1/2017Date Posted: 8/9/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3156

University of Rhode Island*Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level with research and teaching in the field of International Relations with specialization in International Organizations to begin the fall semester of 2018.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Candidates will be expected to teach undergraduate political science courses in the area of international politics that serve as requirements for both the Political Science and the new International Studies & Diplomacy undergraduate degrees as well as teach other courses in the International Relations graduate program. Candidates will also be expected to publish original research in the field of international politics, advise undergraduate students, and provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2018, in Political Science, International Relations, or related field
- 2) Primary or secondary field in the area of International Organizations
- 3) Evidence of college-level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience
- 4) Demonstrated ability to teach introductory political science courses in the area of international politics
- 5) Demonstrated evidence of research in the field of international politics with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience
- 6) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: diplomacy, human rights, international law, environmental justice, food security, international migration, political asylum, or refugee flows
- 2) Internationally relevant experience working with international organizations, conducting international fieldwork, or strong foreign language skills

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

The application deadline is October 1, 2017.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/2628>

Please attach (PDF) the following documents to your online application:

- 1) Cover letter that describes your interest in this position
- 2) Curriculum vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document)
- 3) Brief research and teaching statement
- 4) If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 8/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3144

Texas A&M University*Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://polsci.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3129

Texas A&M University*Rank: Associate/Full Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3108

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in public policy to begin July 1, 2018.

Applicants should be new or recent PhD graduates with an outstanding record in a PhD program in political science, public policy or economics. The successful candidate will have a background broadly in the field of public policy. Examples include political scientists within the fields of American, comparative or international politics with focuses on: institutions; the politics of policy design; policy implementation. GPS has a special interest in candidates who can provide leadership in our public policy (MPP) program. Applicants must have a PhD conferred or to be completed by July 1, 2018.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including referee information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01483>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3108

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

Assistant Professor of International Relations -- Migration
University of Southern California

The School of International Relations in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (Los Angeles, California) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor of International Relations, anticipated to begin Fall 2018. We seek applicants with a strong research program in the politics of cross-national migration. Candidates should demonstrate a capacity for innovative research on population movement as it relates to poverty and economic crisis, chronic hunger, armed conflict (internal or international), and/or environmental degradation and climate change. The successful candidate will also demonstrate strong methodological skills, whether qualitative or quantitative, including the ability to teach a Ph.D.-level methods course. Applicants with expertise in experimental design or advanced statistical techniques are especially welcome. A Ph.D. is required by time of appointment, preferably in Political Science, though other disciplines may be considered.

Applications should be complete by October 1 to receive fullest consideration. Applicants are required to complete the on-line application process (with few exceptions—such as published books—materials submitted by regular post will not be accepted). Follow this link or paste it in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-of-international-relations-migration/1209/5215060> . Required materials include a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research sample, evidence of teaching effectiveness, three letters of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Inquiries may be sent to sirsearch@dornsife.usc.edu .

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3055

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Defense, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of several interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire one tenure-track assistant or associate professor for the UCF cyber security and privacy cluster. This position has a start date of August 8, 2018.

This will be an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department, as well as a possible combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. (See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved.) Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. All relevant technical areas will be considered. We are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) hardware and IoT security, (b) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (c) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster at the time of appointment, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The position will carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 64,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about UCF at <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty>.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/50404> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter, candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmittal to update applications.

As an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, UCF encourages all qualified applicants to apply, including women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of traditionally underrepresented populations. UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: <http://eo.ucf.edu/documents/PresidentsStatement.pdf>. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about this position, please contact the Cluster's Search Committee Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3019

Harvard University

Rank: Tenure-Track Professor in International Relations and Transnational Politics

The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in International Relations and Transnational Politics. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2018. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Demonstrated excellence in teaching is desired.

Please submit the following materials through the ARIS portal (<http://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 15, 2017.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement
5. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received.

6. Writing samples and publications, if applicable.

Harvard is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Contact Information: Natasha Khrustalova, Department of Government, Harvard University, 1737 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, MA 02138.

nkhrustalova@fas.harvard.edu

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 2994

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, Latin American, Mexico

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2017-18 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2018.

Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2017 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01465>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3001

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics/IR

Teaching a 3/3 course load, with courses in International or Comparative Political Economy, as well as additional courses in International Politics and/or Comparative Politics and the applicant's area of regional specialty. Maintain an active research agenda leading to peer-reviewed publication. Service includes advising duties for Global Studies majors and other service to the department as assigned by Chair, as well as institutional service.

A strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Research agenda and expertise in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. Candidate should have a PhD in Political Science or be ABD.

Preference will be given to candidates who research and teach about Latin America or Africa, but we are open to all geographic areas that would complement existing strengths in Eastern Europe/Russia and Asia.

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications for a Tenure-Track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. The position begins Fall 2018.

We seek candidates displaying a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and an interest in the enduring questions of Politics, with an ability to teach International or Comparative Political Economy. Preference will be given to candidates who research and teach about Latin America or Africa, but we are open to all geographic areas that would complement existing strengths in Eastern Europe/Russia and Asia. Applicants should have their primary training in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations, and the expectation will be for courses to be taught in Introduction to Politics, International or Comparative Political Economy, International Politics and/or Comparative Politics, as well as in the regional area of expertise. Candidates should have a PhD or ABD.

The teaching load for the position is three courses in the fall and three courses in the spring semester, with a single-course reduction the first semester (each course is capped at 30 students). Courses will primarily serve Political Science and Global Studies majors.

The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in Loyola's growing Global Studies program. Global Studies is an interdisciplinary major with a curriculum based in the four disciplines of Economics, History, Political Science and Sociology. Students begin with foundational coursework in each department, and then develop topical specializations in the junior and senior years. The program hosts annual speakers and special events, and is a significant presence on campus. Faculty who contribute to Global Studies participate in student advising and mentoring, teach courses in the major, and become part of the Global Studies academic community. The candidate will be a member of the Political Science Department but will advise Global Studies majors.

Loyola University Maryland is a selective liberal arts university in the Jesuit Catholic tradition. The university is committed to intellectual excellence and social justice as it prepares students for a diverse and changing world. Recognized as a leading independent, comprehensive university in the northeastern United States, Loyola has a beautiful historic Evergreen campus in Baltimore and Graduate Centers in Timonium and Columbia. Loyola enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and about 2,000 students in its graduate programs.

To apply, please go to www.loyola.edu/careers to submit a C.V., three letters of reference, graduate transcripts (copies are acceptable), an article-length manuscript or chapter demonstrating scholarly potential, and a cover letter explaining teaching approach in relation to Loyola's educational mission. Teaching evaluations and sample course syllabi should also be submitted if available (select Option 1 to submit syllabi in online application). Please submit applications by September 15 to ensure full consideration. For questions related to the search or any materials that are only available in hard copy or cannot otherwise be submitted through the online application (which could include letters of reference or teaching evaluations), please send files to Dr. Carsten Vala via email to cvala@loyola.edu or via mail to him at Department of Political Science, Loyola University Maryland, 4501 N. Charles St., Baltimore, MD, 21210.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/31/2017

Date Posted: 7/8/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 2949

METHODOLOGY

Lee University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

The Department of History, Political Science, and Humanities at Lee University invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position of Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science beginning in the fall of 2018.

Duties

The successful candidate will have a concentration in American Politics and will be expected to teach courses in American Politics, the university core course in American Government, and a two-course sequence in Research Methods. Secondary specialization is open. An ability and willingness to teach courses in Public Administration would be an asset. Additional duties will include mentoring undergraduate research, advising students in the department's majors, developing curriculum, serving on university committees, seeking ways to serve the greater community, and working cooperatively with the Department Chair and departmental faculty.

Required Qualifications

The successful candidate will hold a Ph.D. in Political Science with a specialty in American Politics. (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date.) The candidate will express a strong commitment to faith in Jesus Christ and Christian lifestyle expectations, indicate a commitment to undergraduate education, passionately support the Christian liberal arts, demonstrate college teaching ability, and, effectively integrate Christian faith into the academic discipline and the classroom.

Lee University is a Christ-centered, comprehensive university that is recognized as an emerging leader in higher education in the southeastern region. To apply please send a completed application form (available at the website listed below), curriculum vitae, statement of Christian faith, and statement describing the integration of Christian faith with discipline of expertise, transcripts, three letters of reference, and student evaluations (if available) to Dr. Randy Wood, Chair of the Department of History, Political Science and Humanities, Lee University, P.O. Box 3450, Cleveland, TN 37320-3450 or by email to rwood@leeuniversity.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information contact Dr. Randy Wood at rwood@leeuniversity.edu or (423) 614-8137. The application form is available at: <http://www.leeuniversity.edu/uploadedFiles/Content/human-resources/faculty-application%281%29.pdf>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/27/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3828

University of New Orleans

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Methodology, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of New Orleans seeks candidates for a tenure-track, assistant professor position to begin in fall 2018. The primary teaching need is nonprofit leadership in our NASPAA accredited MPA program, and the successful candidate will become a core faculty member in that program. Other areas of interest include applied research methodology, general public administration at graduate and undergraduate levels, hazards and disasters, and a range of undergraduate political science courses that fit the candidates' expertise and interests. We seek candidates with both a demonstrated potential for scholarly research and publication and an interest in engaged scholarship relevant to our urban environment.

• RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Teach both graduate and undergraduate courses in Public Administration and Political Science
- Serve on MPA and M.A. committees
- Participate in department, college and university committees
- Teach a 4-4 load with a reduction for an active research agenda.

• REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Doctorate in Public Administration, Political Science or closely related field

Candidates should submit a vita, three letters of recommendation, writing samples, teaching evaluations, and a brief statement of interest to Michael Huelshoff, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of New Orleans, 2000 Lakeshore Drive, New Orleans, LA 70148. Review of applications will begin upon receipt.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 3797

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Campaigns and Public Opinion

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

Position 1: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Campaigns and Public Opinion

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield: Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Methodology

Specialization: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track faculty position in Campaigns and Public Opinion starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong publication record of monographs and top-tier international peer reviewed articles, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. We are especially, but not exclusively, interested in candidates whose research addresses the role of emerging technologies such as social media in campaigns and elections; and/or who are working with advanced methods in statistical or experimental analysis.

Candidates will be asked to teach courses in Public Opinion, Political Communication, Research Methods, and Statistics and Forecasting; and should show acumen for innovative, applied teaching methods focused on critical thinking and problem solving.

Beyond these traditional academic criteria, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in meaningful and policy relevant work, and to participate in contemporary policy debates. As well, we seek faculty members to be institution-builders: to apply for research grants, participate in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expand IE's current network and partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a 1-page statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science or Public Policy is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Campaigns and Public Opinion to IESIR1@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We are able to offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3784

Birmingham-Southern College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Quantitative Methods, Political Behavior

Birmingham-Southern College seeks candidates with a demonstrated excellence in teaching undergraduate courses for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning August 2018. Candidates should hold a doctorate in Political Science or expect to complete their degree by August 2018. The College seeks exceptional individuals committed to the liberal arts, with a proven record of teaching excellence and a demonstrated potential for developing a distinguished scholarly agenda. The successful candidate must be able to support one or more of the interdisciplinary programs offered at the College as well as the general education curriculum.

Teaching responsibilities will include at least four of the following courses: American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Statistics, Research Methods, Comparative or American Political Behavior.

The teaching load is 3-1-3 including an interim term in January. During January, professors offer unique, innovative, experiential, and/or travel courses.

Review of applicants will begin immediately. Submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, copies of graduate transcripts (unofficial), and three professional recommendation letters. Email applications are preferred: pssearch@bsc.edu. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Birmingham-Southern College (BSC) is a selective residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 1,300 undergraduate students. BSC is included in Pope's Colleges that Change Lives and is a sheltering institution for Phi Beta Kappa. The College's curriculum is based on close faculty-student interaction in teaching, advising, and research. For more on the College's faculty, students, educational mission, and national reputation visit www.bsc.edu.

Birmingham-Southern College is located just minutes from downtown Birmingham, which is the largest city in Alabama and a leading hub for banking and medical care and research in the Southeast, and a vibrant center for entertainment, commerce, and recreational activities. There are six higher education institutions within a short commute; a symphony; a ballet; a zoo; botanical garden; the largest art museum in the Southeast; a world-class civil rights institute and annual art, music, and film festivals – as well as numerous opportunities for outdoor adventure activities. In 2015, Birmingham was ranked as the #1 “next hot food city” by Zagat’s.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/13/2017
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 3769

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or More Senior Research Scholar

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a full time Associate or more senior Research Scholar with a preferred start date of September 1, 2018.

The Center conducts research that advances the study of contemporary China at Princeton University and provides substantive analysis from social science perspectives of the dramatic sociological shifts taking place in China today. The Research Scholar's duties include: working collaboratively with the Director to analyze multiple large datasets; coordinating, designing, implementing, and reporting on the results of such analyses; interfacing with collaborators or potential collaborators in research; potential course instruction pending departmental need, sufficient course enrollments and with the approval of the Office of the Dean of the Faculty; offering of workshops; preparing manuscripts for publication; training junior scholars and graduate students on research study design, methodology, and theory; guiding junior scholars and students in research projects; being familiar with quantitative data sources on China; providing data resource services on China to Princeton's scholars and students; and managing and participating in research conferences, seminars, and lecture series. The successful applicant will also contribute to the overall research agenda of the Center. There will be opportunities for authorship on publications, including first authorship, and preparing applications for external funding. The appointment is for three years with reappointment contingent upon successful department and University committee review.

Required Qualifications: Qualified individuals will have a Ph.D. in the social sciences and have: strong data management skills, ability to interpret data with coherent theory, strong methodological skills and interests, an interest in quantitative research methods and theory, strongly motivated, and work well in a team setting. Excellent written and oral communication skills in English and Chinese are required. The ideal candidate will have demonstrated productivity in terms of published journal articles and scientific conference presentations. Preference will be given to candidates who are interested in contemporary China.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy. Applicants must apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/4941> by the application deadline of February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST and submit the following:

- 1.A cover letter
- 2.A current curriculum vitae
- 3.Contact information for two references
- 4.Two writing samples

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3764

American University in Cairo

Rank: Comparative Politics/Methods

Comparative Politics/ Methods

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a fixed term contract (5 years renewable) position in Comparative Politics with emphasis on methods at the Assistant or Associate Level Professor beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in comparative politics, using examples outside as well as inside the Middle East and North Africa. Candidates who can teach quantitative & qualitative methods and apply them to studies of surveys and elections in the Arab region are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: http://www.oucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, ielnur@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, gehanwm@aucegypt.edu ) or visit the department's website at <http://www.oucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3744

Qatar University

Rank: Lead Methodologist

Lead Methodologist

The Social and Economic Survey Research Institute (SESRI) at Qatar University invites applications for a full-time Lead Methodologist based in Doha, Qatar. The position is attached to SESRI's recently-formed Randomized Controlled Trials (RCT) Unit within the Policy

Department. The RCT Unit will push the boundaries of SESRI's policy work to new levels of scientific rigor and practical applicability, and ensure that SESRI and Qatar University remain at the forefront of social science research in the region.

The Lead Methodologist will be responsible for the design, implementation, and analysis of RCTs experiments, and may also contribute to proposing relevant and timely interventions. This position will work under the supervision of the Policy Department Manager and will be responsible for setting the agenda of SESRI's RCT interventions, oversee the successful implementation and completion of trials, monitor and observe the intervention and control groups closely, as well as develop and write proposals, reports, and other outputs for a wide variety of audiences. Applicants should possess expert-level knowledge and understanding of social sciences, economics, or other related field, with a demonstrated record of design and analysis of randomized controlled trials for the purposes of policy evaluation. Three or more years of relevant work experience is required, as well as knowledge of pertinent research and analytical methods. Applicants should possess strong research and analytical skills and demonstrate the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in both written and verbal forms. Quantitative analytical skills, experience using survey data, and experience working on the Gulf in particular or Middle East in general will be considered favorably. A PhD in Economics or relevant social sciences field is required.

This full-time position carries an initial three-year term, with a start date that is negotiable, and the possibility of a renewal upon mutual agreement.

Applications will be reviewed beginning on January 15, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

Compensation includes a competitive salary, which is tax-free in Qatar (but persons will still be responsible for any applicable taxes from their country of origin), along with a generous fringe benefits package that includes health insurance. Furnished housing is also provided at no additional cost outside of expenses such as utilities, cable, and Internet access. Applicants will have their flight and moving expenses paid for at the beginning and end of their appointment, as well as one round-trip flight home annually. Educational allowances for up to three accompanying children will also be available.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, recent curriculum vita, concise statement of research interests, writing sample or representative publication, confidential letter of reference from someone familiar with the candidate's work, and the names and contact information of two additional referees to rctsearch@qu.edu.qa

About SESRI: SESRI is an academic survey research institute established in 2008 at Qatar University in close association with the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. It undertakes original and groundbreaking surveys of citizens and residents of Qatar and other Gulf Cooperation Council states via telephone and face-to-face interviews, amassing a diverse collection of data unparalleled in the region. Previous areas of study include, among others, education, gender, labor, politics, regional integration, and survey methodology. SESRI has partnered with the World Values Survey, the World Economic Forum's Executive Opinion Survey, and other international survey efforts, and since 2010 has secured more than $5.3 million in external project funding through the Qatar National Research Fund. Widely recognized for their quality and variety, SESRI data have appeared in such forums as Foreign Affairs, Middle East Journal, and Middle East Policy. Established in June 2014, SESRI's Policy Unit utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirical-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: 1/15/2018Date Posted: 11/6/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3735Qatar University*Rank: Senior Policy AnalystSubfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, MethodologySpecializations: Middle East, Political Theory, Quantitative Methods

The Social and Economic Survey Research Institute (SESRI) at Qatar University invites applications for a full-time Senior Policy Analyst based in Doha, Qatar. The position is attached to SESRI Policy Department, which utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirically-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf region.

Senior Policy Analysts are expected to stay current on policy issues and best practices in their assigned substantive areas, oversee the successful completion of policy research projects, design and interpret analyses, and coordinate the work of Policy Analysts assigned to their projects. They will author reports and other research outputs for a wide variety of audiences, set agendas for convening with policy audiences, and make presentations as required.

Applicants should possess expert-level knowledge and understanding of one or more substantive areas of local and regional policy relevance, including but not limited to education, health, migration, marriage and family, performance evaluation, political attitudes, and economics. Five or more years of relevant work experience is required, as well as knowledge of pertinent research and analytical methods and the ability to apply such techniques to policy issues. Applicants should possess strong research and analytical skills and demonstrate the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in both written and verbal forms to a wide variety of specialist and non-specialist audiences. Successful candidates will be able to show evidence of an active research agenda and demonstrated record of engagement with policy and policymaking communities. Quantitative analytical skills, experience using survey data, and experience working on Gulf policy issues all will be considered favorably. A master's degree in public policy, public administration, or relevant social science field is required, with a Ph.D. preferred. Priority will be given to candidates who are bilingual in Arabic and English.

This full-time position carries an initial three-year term, with a start date that is negotiable, and the possibility of a renewal upon mutual agreement.

Applications will be reviewed beginning on January 15, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

Compensation includes a competitive salary, which is tax-free in Qatar (but persons will still be responsible for any applicable taxes from their country of origin), along with a generous fringe benefits package that includes health insurance. Furnished housing is also provided at no additional cost outside of expenses such as utilities, cable, and Internet access. Applicants will have their flight and moving expenses paid for at the beginning and end of their appointment, as well as one round-trip flight home annually. Educational allowances for up to three accompanying children are also available.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, recent curriculum vita, concise statement of research interests, writing sample or representative publication, confidential letter of reference from someone familiar with the candidate's work, and the names and contact information of two additional referees to spasearch@qu.edu.qa.

About SESRI: SESRI is an academic survey research institute established in 2008 at Qatar University in close association with the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. It undertakes original and groundbreaking surveys of citizens and residents of Qatar and other Gulf Cooperation Council states via telephone and face-to-face interviews, amassing a diverse collection of data unparalleled in the region. Previous areas of study include, among others, education, gender, labor, politics, regional integration, and survey methodology. SESRI has partnered with the World Values Survey, the World Economic Forum's Executive Opinion Survey, and other international survey efforts, and since 2010 has secured more than $5.3 million in external project funding through the Qatar National Research Fund. Widely recognized for their quality and variety, SESRI data have appeared in such forums as Foreign Affairs, Middle East Journal, and Middle East Policy. Established in June 2014, SESRI's Policy Unit utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirical-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/15/2018

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3736

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Comparative Law and Courts

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, open rank tenure-track position beginning in August of 2018 in the Political Science Program. Candidates at the associate or full rank are preferred, although advanced assistants will be considered. The successful candidate will be expected to teach an introductory undergraduate comparative law course, specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, and to be involved with the pre-law administrative team. Possible specializations might include: human rights, cyberlaw, comparative and foreign law, or trade law, among others. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods and teaching excellence.

The University of Texas at Dallas is a fast-growing, suburban research university and has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public university in Texas. UTD is ranked 1st among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine and is classified by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education as R1 (Highest Research Activity). The Political Science program currently has approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

Faculty typically teach two courses per semester, and opportunities for leave become available after a successful third-year review.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through January 31, 2018. Position starts in August 2018.

Apply at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/8997>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3740

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Open Rank Faculty in Social Data Analytics and Research (SDAR)

The University of Texas at Dallas seeks a quantitatively oriented social scientist to become an integral member of our new Social Data Analytics and Research (SDAR) master's program within the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (<http://www.utdallas.edu/epps/>). The ideal candidate will have strengths in big data analytics, knowledge discovery/mining, data management, data visualization, research design, qualitative data analysis and multivariate statistics. In addition, this individual will have substantive interests in some area of the social sciences, including criminology, economics, geography/geospatial science, political science, public affairs, public policy, international political economy, and/or sociology. While individuals of all ranks will be considered, preference will be given to senior scholars who can immediately assume a leadership role in the SDAR program.

For information on the SDAR master's program, see: <http://www.utdallas.edu/epps/sdar/>

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Apply online at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/9031>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3741

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Open Rank Faculty in Social Data Analytics and Research (SDAR)

The University of Texas at Dallas seeks a quantitatively oriented social scientist to become an integral member of our new Social Data Analytics and Research (SDAR) master's program within the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (<http://www.utdallas.edu/epps/>). The ideal candidate will have strengths in big data analytics, knowledge discovery/mining, data management, data visualization, research design, qualitative data analysis and multivariate statistics. In addition, this individual will have substantive interests in some area of the social sciences, including criminology, economics, geography/geospatial science, political science, public affairs, public policy, international political economy, and/or sociology. While individuals of all ranks will be considered, preference will be given to senior scholars who can immediately assume a leadership role in the SDAR program.

For information on the SDAR master's program, see: <http://www.utdallas.edu/epps/sdar/>

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Apply online at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/9031>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3742

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Quantitative Methods

Seeking an Master Instructor to teach on campus in the area(s) of introductory American Government, public law, as well as supervise the MSSU Mock Trial program. Must have a Master's degree in the related discipline area, (PhD preferred). Certification in certain fields may also be accepted depending on subject matter. Employment will require a background check. E-verify participating employer. Applicant materials include a letter of application, curriculum vitae with the names, addresses, email and phone numbers of three references, and unofficial transcripts. Submit materials at www.mssu.edu/jobs. Official transcripts are required within 45 days of hire. Review of applicant materials begins immediately and will continue until the position(s) has been filled. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3721

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

Specializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)
The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter
2. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. CV/Resume
4. Statement of Teaching Interests
5. Statement of Research Interests
6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)
7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)
8. Writing Sample
9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/15/2017

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3725

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Specializations: American Politics, Political Behavior, Quantitative Methods

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2018. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis. Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. Doctorate required. Salary is negotiable.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Please submit cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10216>.

The review process will begin February 1, 2018. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications if there is still a vacancy. For more information, contact the Yale Center for the Study of American Politics by email at csap@yale.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3647

University of Guam

Rank: Tenure Track IR

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Comparative Politics

The University of Guam, the premier institution of higher education in the Western Pacific, has a tenure track opening in its Political Science Program for an International Relations specialist with a focus on the Asia Pacific. The program has three faculty members representing the areas of American and regional politics, comparative politics and international relations. Courses in political philosophy and methods are shared among faculty.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach both lower and upper division undergraduate political science courses. He or she will (a) teach a normal load of twelve (12) contact hours (4 courses) per semester, with one course load reduction possible with the Dean's approval, for research, instructional innovation, or large service projects; (b) maintain a continuous record of scholarly activity and research relevant to the Asia/Pacific region; and (c) perform university and community service. Course assignments will include an introductory research methodology course including quantitative and qualitative methods and upper division courses in international relations. Possible additional course assignments include: introduction to government and politics, introduction to international relations, political philosophy, politics of Asia and special topics in political science.

Minimum qualifications: (a) Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations or Government from a U.S. regionally accredited institution or foreign equivalent (appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor requires Ph.D. by August 2018 but initial appointment as Instructor is possible, contingent upon completion of the doctorate by the end of the first year of employment); (b) research or relevant professional experience in Asia and/or the Pacific region; (c) teaching experience in some of the subject areas listed above; and (d) willingness to teach online.

Preferred: (a) familiarity with issues of Pacific island societies; (b) experience teaching academically and culturally diverse populations; and (c) a record of winning grants.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience relevant to the position. The following salary figures are for nine (9) months:

Instructor $34,169 - $57,892 Per Academic Year

Assistant Professor $39,473 - $68,237 Per Academic Year

Associate Professor $43,703 - $77,498 Per Academic Year

Applicants for University of Guam faculty positions must complete an online job application through the UOG's online employment portal at <https://uog.peopleadmin.com>. Please have the following documents prepared and ready to upload with your application:

(1) Letter of Intent, stating interest

(2) Up-to-date curriculum vitae or resume

(3) Copies of all graduate and undergraduate transcripts

Applicants who are short-listed for an interview will be required to provide a short (approximately 5 minutes) video clip of their lecture or presentation. Also, applicants may be requested by the search chair to submit supplemental materials including syllabi. Completed applications must be received no later than 11:59 p.m. on January 8, 2018 (Chamorro Standard Time/UTC+10).

Before applying, applicants should consult the full job announcement at <https://uog.peopleadmin.com/postings/1111>. For further information, please contact Dr. Arun R. Swamy, Chair, Political Science Search Committee at arswamy@triton.uog.edu or the Human Resources Office at uoghro@triton.uog.edu, telephone number, (671) 735-2350 or fax number at (671) 734-6005.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 10/14/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3621

Troy University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in political science with a concentration in international relations/comparative politics and an open regional focus beginning on August 1, 2018.

The Assistant professor position is a 10-month tenure-track position at the Ft. Benning/Columbus, GA/Phenix City, AL location. The successful candidate will primarily teach courses for the Master's in International Relations(MSIR) program; and as necessary, teach undergraduate Political Science courses. The courses taught will be both in person and online. The successful candidate will be required to assist with recruitment to the Troy MSIR program at Ft. Benning. The job requires that the hire may be asked to teach at other Troy locations depending on department needs. Preferred candidates will have a secondary specialization (such as international political economy, international relations theory, research methods, or a second regional specialization) that can complement our existing faculty strengths. The candidate needs to demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. For best consideration, please submit application documents by October 31, 2017. The position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The minimum qualifications are a Ph.D. in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Political Science, or related field by August 1, 2018

To Apply, please go to: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com>

For more information, please contact Dr. G. Doug Davis at gddavis@troy.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3574

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Other

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Immigration Policy Lab, Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Position: Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow to join the Immigration Policy Lab (www.immigrationlab.org). The Immigration Policy Lab conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and cutting-edge analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who directly serve immigrant communities, our research can inspire solutions and ultimately improve lives.

The Immigration Policy Lab reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of projects related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller, Jeremy Weinstein, and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, survey design, data acquisition, data analysis and interpretation of results. Additionally, the postdoc will work closely with faculty, staff and partner organizations in developing and designing innovative policies and programs to pilot and evaluate. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects related to immigration policy evaluation.

Qualifications: The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science program, with a preference for Political Science, Economics, or Sociology. She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, and data analysis. Experience in running and analyzing field experiments and/or conducting quasi-experimental program evaluations would be highly useful. Knowledge of immigration/refugee policy, with the ability to operate in a language other than English, will also be highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Appointment: The initial appointment will be for one year beginning between January and June 2018, with an expected renewal for a second year contingent on satisfactory performance and funding. Salary is negotiable and based on experience. Benefits are provided. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample and at least two letters of recommendation. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process. Applications will only be accepted through AcademicJobsOnline.com (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10036>, ID 10036). Applications should be submitted by November 17, 2017, though applications may be considered after the deadline. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the Executive Director of the Immigration Policy Lab, Duncan Lawrence directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc 2017).

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3569

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Tenure Track Business and Public Policy Position

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Administration

The Business, Government & Society (BGS) Department in the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin teaches future leaders how to recognize and respond to the legal, ethical, social, and regulatory expectations that businesses face and contributes to important public policy debates through research that rigorously applies social science research methods to relevant questions at the intersection of business activity and government regulation.

BGS now invites applications for a tenure-track position starting in the 2018-2019 school year. The ideal candidate will possess a Ph.D. in political science or economics and have core research interest in areas such as political economy, CSR, business and public policy, and ethical decision making. Research interests in international political economy, sustainability, health care and technological innovation and regulation are a plus. Candidates should have a demonstrable methodological skill set, a rigorous research agenda relevant to business and its non-market environment, and the potential to publish in top journals in these areas.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/45561>

Additional information here: <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/28188>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3560

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - Methodology

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in quantitative methodology. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3364

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Research Methods

The Government Department at the University of Texas at Austin is hoping to hire two distinguished methodologists (including statistical methodologists and formal theorists) at the rank of full Professor to begin in Fall 2018. The search is open to scholars working in any specialty within the field of political science research methods and formal theory, broadly defined.

Duties will include both undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, College of Liberal Arts, and the University. The successful candidates will have a highly distinguished scholarly record of publication, a record of teaching excellence, and demonstrated excellence in intellectual and institutional leadership. Applicants must have a PhD in hand at the time of appointment. Salary is highly competitive and commensurate with rank, experience, and qualifications.

Applicants should upload a vitae, examples of scholarly work, and teaching materials. The department will begin reviewing applications immediately and continue receiving applications until the positions are filled. Applicants should apply online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/44115>. Position funding is pending budgetary approval. A background check will be conducted for successful applicants. AA/EEO employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/28/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3269

Wichita State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Wichita State University invites applications for a tenure track position in American Politics at the assistant professor level, to begin August 2018. Candidates should have completed their PhD by the time of appointment, have quantitative analytical skills, a demonstrated teaching effectiveness, the potential for scholarly publications, effective written and oral communication skills, and a demonstrated commitment to diversity. Preferred candidates will have the ability and willingness to teach an undergraduate quantitative methods course, willingness to teach periodic online/hybrid courses, and/or an interest in providing occasional Honors College course offerings. Teaching responsibilities will include: A variety of undergraduate American Politics courses, including introductory American Politics, as well as a course on quantitative methods.

The teaching load is three courses per semester. The selected candidate will have the opportunity and the responsibility to help shape and enhance the curriculum of the American Politics offerings in the department. Wichita State University has a diverse student body with a large number of non-traditional students and an enrollment of approximately 14,400. Wichita is a thriving and expanding community of 600,000. The Political Science department offers BA degrees and has approximately 70 majors and five faculty members. Salary is competitive. Consideration of applications will begin September 29 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit a letter describing teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample at <http://jobs.wichita.edu>. For assistance with online submission, employment@wichita.edu (316) 978-3065.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 9/29/2017

Date Posted: 8/11/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3192

Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3130

Rice University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor

Rice University, as part of its $150 million investment in research excellence, intends to hire multiple tenure-track faculty members whose research focus is in data science. These new hires will join the four faculty members hired in the 2016-2017 academic year, along with the community of scholars at Rice who focus on data-driven research. We seek to hire two distinct kinds of specialists: (1) data scientists who can make fundamental contributions to the theory, algorithms, and systems aspects of data science, and (2) scholars who work on emerging applications of data science to problems in health and medicine, urban analytics, and high-volume or high-velocity data-intensive science. The candidate's cover letter or research statement should make clear how their research relates to one of these three problem areas.

The Data Science initiative seeks candidates at all ranks, for employment as early as July 1, 2018. All new hires will have an appointment in one or more relevant department. Assistant Professors will have a single primary department that will be responsible for their mentoring and promotion. At higher ranks, appointments across multiple departments are desirable. Individual departments at Rice also have active faculty searches this year. Those searches are distinct from the Data Science search and may include research areas beyond those included in the Data Science search. Interested candidates should consider applying to both the Data Science search and any appropriate departmental search.

Applicants to the Data Science search should submit the following: (1) cover letter; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) research statement which describes how the candidate's work fits with Rice's data science initiative and in one or more of the three problem areas (not to exceed three pages including figures); (4) teaching statement; and (5) the names, professional affiliations, and email addresses of three references. For full details, please visit: <http://datascience.rice.edu>, and to apply, please visit: <https://jobs.rice.edu/postings/11380>. These positions require a PhD, or PhD requirements fulfilled by November 1 of the year employment commences. Applications will be evaluated beginning on September 15, 2017 and will continue to be accepted until all positions are filled. Recommendation of candidates or questions regarding this opportunity can be directed to the committee at datascience@rice.edu.

Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, is a private, coeducational, nonsectarian university that aspires to path-breaking research, unsurpassed teaching, and contributions to the betterment of our world. Rice fulfills this mission by cultivating a diverse community of learning and discovery that produces leaders across the spectrum of human endeavor. From its beginning in 1912, Rice has been dedicated to excellence in all regards.

Rice University is an Equal Opportunity Employer with commitment to diversity at all levels, and considers for employment qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, genetic information, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/3/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3103Texas A&M University*Rank: Associate/Full ProfessorSubfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://polis.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/3/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3116Dartmouth College*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social ScienceSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, OtherSpecializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for the 2018-2019 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by working with QSS faculty and honors students on ongoing research, attending seminars and workshops, and presenting research results.

The annual stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000. The fellowship can be extended through the 2019-20 academic year with the approval of Nyhan and the QSS Chair. Each fellow will receive a one-time $5,000 account for equipment, travel, and research materials. There may also be an opportunity to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend with the approval of the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2018
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests (two pages or fewer) that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Three letters of reference
- 4) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2017. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/42855.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 7/31/2017Date Posted: 7/11/2017Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 2963Dartmouth College*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College is pleased to announce that it is searching for up to three postdoctoral fellows for the 2018-19 academic year. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Each fellow should be highly motivated, collegial, and able to work independently on a research agenda that is grounded in quantitative social science.

During the 2018-19 academic year, QSS fellows will participate in the intellectual life of the program by interacting with each other, with QSS faculty, and with undergraduate students pursuing a minor or major in QSS. Fellows will also attend seminars and workshops and are expected to present their own research on a regular basis. There are many postdoctoral fellows at Dartmouth College, and QSS fellows will be part of a large community on campus.

The annual stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000. The fellowship can be extended through the 2019-20 academic year with the approval of the QSS Chair. Each fellow will receive a one-time $5,000 account for equipment, travel, and research materials. There may also be an opportunity to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend with the approval of the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in any discipline or expected Ph.D. by September, 2018
2. Substantive interest in any social science field
3. Research interests that strongly intersect statistical, computational, or mathematical methods
4. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively
5. A demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary research

Application Instructions*Application instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests (two pages or fewer) that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant
- 4) Three letters of reference
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2018. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/42907

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 10/1/2017Date Posted: 7/11/2017Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 2964

NON-ACADEMIC

OTHER

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Homeland/Cybersecurity - Assistant, Associate or Full Professor(s)

The College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity at the University at Albany is seeking applicants for one or more tenured and tenure-track faculty positions in the growing field of cyber intel, cyber policy and law, interrelationships between critical infrastructure and cyber applications, as well as data analytics to aid homeland security. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization, but we are particularly interested in applicants focusing on risk analysis, cyber warfare, cyber intelligence, cyber-crime, information assurance, vulnerability assessment, critical infrastructure, cyber physical systems, governance, privacy and civil liberties. The rank is open.

As the first college of its kind in the nation, the College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity is projected to grow over the next five years as it establishes both undergraduate and graduate academic programs in emergency preparedness, homeland security, and cybersecurity. The University at Albany and the State of New York are committed to seeing the College become a global leader in education and research in these fields, and are providing significant support to the establishment and planned growth of the unit.

The mission of the College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity is to support high-quality academic programs for undergraduate and graduate students, to produce new knowledge through innovative research, and to provide training and lifelong learning opportunities for working professionals - all to help prepare for, protect against, respond to, and recover from a growing array of natural and man-made risks and threats in the state, the nation, and around the world.

UAlbany is a nationally recognized leader in security and preparedness training, research and education, and has longstanding partnerships with key security and emergency response agencies across the State. The University has received tens of millions of dollars in federal, state and private sector support to its schools, colleges and research centers based on this expertise. Partnerships with government agencies, private industry and not-for-profit organizations provides an opportunity to contribute to highly applied research and access to a wealth of resources held in these organizations and agencies. All faculty members in the College will join a research lab, where they will have the opportunity to work with faculty members from various disciplines from across the University.

Given the interdisciplinary nature of the project, many faculty will have joint appointments with other schools and colleges at the University at Albany (e.g., cybersecurity in the College of Engineering and Applied Science, digital forensics in the School of Business, and cyber warfare in the Rockefeller College of Public Affairs and Policy). The unique model of the College places its faculty in a highly collaborative core, while also fostering interaction with a large interdisciplinary network throughout the University. Across the University, a rich learning and research environment is marked by a highly accomplished faculty, who are essential to delivering high quality academic programs and producing influential and cutting edge research. The faculty is comprised of nationally and internationally visible researchers and scholars and highly dedicated teachers.

To apply, visit: <https://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=92397>

To view the full job description, please visit <https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=92397>

The University at Albany is an EO/AA/IRCA/ADA employer.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/jw2pj6qf9884n622>

PI100637318

Start Date:*Application Deadline: 1/26/2018Date Posted: 12/26/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3905

University at Albany

Rank: Emergency Preparedness - Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor

The College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity at the University at Albany is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a position in the field of Emergency Preparedness. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization, but we are particularly interested in applicants focusing on hazard mitigation, preparation and community resilience, response, recovery, disaster policy, disaster psychology, disaster mental health, extreme weather, crisis communications, disease outbreaks, privacy and civil liberties, and continuity of operations. Candidates focusing on either public health preparedness or severe weather and emergency response are strongly encouraged to apply. The rank is open.

As the first college of its kind in the nation, the College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity is projected to grow over the next five years as it establishes both undergraduate and graduate academic programs in emergency preparedness, homeland security, and cybersecurity. The University at Albany and the State of New York are committed to seeing the College become a global leader in education and research in these fields, and are providing significant support to the establishment and planned growth of the unit.

The mission of the College of Emergency Preparedness, Homeland Security and Cybersecurity is to support high-quality academic programs for undergraduate and graduate students, to produce new knowledge through innovative research, and to provide training and lifelong learning opportunities for working professionals - all to help prepare for, protect against, respond to, and recover from a growing array of natural and man-made risks and threats in the state, the nation, and around the world.

UAlbany is a nationally recognized leader in security and preparedness training, research and education, and has longstanding partnerships with key security and emergency response agencies across the State. The University has received tens of millions of dollars in federal, state and private sector support to its schools, colleges and research centers based on this expertise. Partnerships with government agencies, private industry and not-for-profit organizations provides an opportunity to contribute to highly applied research and access to a wealth of resources held in these organizations and agencies. All faculty members in the College will join a research lab, where they will have the opportunity to work with faculty members from various disciplines from across the University.

Given the interdisciplinary nature of the project, many faculty will have joint appointments with other schools and colleges at the University at Albany (e.g., political scientists with our Rockefeller College of Public Affairs and Policy, extreme weather researchers with our Department of Atmospheric and Environmental Sciences, and public health preparedness scholars with our School of Public Health). The unique model of the College places its faculty in a highly collaborative core, while also fostering interaction with a large interdisciplinary network throughout the University. Across the University, a rich learning and research environment is marked by a highly accomplished faculty, who are essential to delivering high quality academic programs and producing influential and cutting edge research. The faculty is comprised of nationally and internationally visible researchers and scholars and highly dedicated teachers.

To apply, visit: <https://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=92399>

To view the full job description, please visit <https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=92399>

The University at Albany is an EO/AE/IRCA/ADA employer.

Apply Here: <http://www.Click2Apply.net/jfnhryng4kj8gjmf>

PI100637532

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 12/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3906

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Other

Stanford's Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society invites applications for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship, with the opportunity for a renewal for second year. The successful candidates will join an interdisciplinary team of faculty, postdocs, and PhD students, and will contribute to intellectual life at the Center.

Applications are welcome from scholars across the humanities, social sciences, and social science-related professional schools. We seek to appoint promising postdoctoral scholars who are actively engaged in research on topics related to our core scholarly mission, which is to develop new knowledge about civil society, the impact of philanthropy, and relations between nonprofits, government, and business. It is a broad mandate, open to scholars from a wide range of disciplines. Our recent postdoctoral fellows have studied the uneasy relationship between democracy and philanthropy, associational life in authoritarian societies, environmental movements in China, unequal access to social capital, and the relationship between government provision of social services and the growth of the nonprofit sector.

The Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society is an affiliate of the Institute for Research in the Social Sciences (IRISS). Since 2006, the Center has supported PhD students and undergraduates from across the university. The post-doctoral fellowship program, which began in 2010, is an effort to support young scholars from outside Stanford. The Center also sponsors a Junior Scholars Forum every June in which postdoctoral fellows participate.

We invite applicants from any relevant social science or humanities field, including but not limited to sociology, political science, psychology, economics, philosophy, history, business and public administration, or public policy. Candidates are required to have a PhD by June 30, 2018, but no earlier than June 2015, and should have demonstrated the promise of excellence in research.

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will be appointed for a one-year term beginning on August 1 or September 1, 2018. Competitive salary and health insurance and travel funds. . The program falls under U.S. Immigration J-1 Exchange Visitor Visa activities.

Application materials should be submitted to the Stanford University Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society via email to vdao@stanford.edu using the subject line "PACS Post-Doctoral Fellowship 2019." The deadline to submit is January 30, 2018.

Please include the following information in electronic format:

1. Cover letter detailing the reasons for the applicant's interest in joining the project and coming to Stanford.
2. Curriculum Vitae.
3. Research proposal detailing the research that the fellow would undertake while at Stanford (five page limit).
4. Writing sample consisting of either a dissertation chapter or a recent published paper.
5. Graduate Transcript with proof that applicants have completed all the requirements for the PhD, or a letter from their PhD advisor stating they will do so by June 2018
6. Two Letters of Recommendation

Please disclose if you have additional funding arrangements.

Questions about the application process or requirements should be directed to Valerie Dao at vdao@stanford.edu.

Inquiries about the program can be directed either to Faculty Co-Directors Woody Powell or Rob Reich.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 12/21/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3902

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: two year postdoctoral teaching fellowship

Two-Year Postdoctoral Teaching Fellowships

The College of the Holy Cross invites applications for two postdoctoral teaching fellowships for a two-year term to begin in August 2018. The first position will be in the Study of Race and Ethnicity, and the second will be in Asian American and Asian Diasporic studies. Each fellow will teach three courses per year. These full-time fellowships offer a competitive salary and full benefits, conference travel support, and a $2000 faculty development account to support scholarship. Renewal for the second year will be contingent on a successful first-year review. A key priority of this fellowship is to encourage scholars from underrepresented groups to consider tenure-track opportunities at liberal arts colleges and universities.

The Center for Interdisciplinary Studies (<https://www.holycross.edu/academics/programs/center-interdisciplinary-studies>) invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Teaching Fellowship related to the study of race and ethnicity to begin in August 2018. The Fellow will teach three courses per year, ideally including an introductory level course related to the study of race and/or ethnicity along with two additional courses aligned with the research interests of the applicant.

The College would like this postdoctoral position to address some of the larger issues and politics facing the United States today. As a result, we especially invite applications from scholars who work either on the philosophy of race or on the political economy of race, gender, and class, particularly in relation to urban politics. The Fellow will receive mentorship from faculty affiliated with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies and an appropriate College department. The Center for Interdisciplinary Studies encourages and supports innovative teaching and scholarship that reaches across academic fields and methods.

Several academic programs are part of the Center including Africana Studies; Gender, Sexuality and Women's Studies; Latin American and Latino Studies; and Peace and Conflict Studies.

For application instructions and further information on this position, please visit <http://apply.interfolio.com/47987>. Review of applications will begin on January 23, 2018 and will continue until the position has been filled. For full consideration, please apply by January 23, 2018. Questions about the position may be directed to Professor Lorelle Semley, Director of the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies at LSemley@holycross.edu.

Asian American & Asian Diasporic Studies Position

The Asian Studies Program (<https://www.holycross.edu/academics/programs/asian-studies>) invites applications for a two-year postdoctoral fellowship in Asian American and Asian Diasporic Studies to begin in August 2018. Teaching and research foci within Asian American and Asian Diasporic Studies are open. We seek early-career applicants who could benefit from mentorship from faculty in Asian Studies and in an appropriate disciplinary home department in the social sciences, humanities, or arts.

The Asian Studies Program at Holy Cross includes faculty and courses in history, anthropology, Chinese language, literature, religion, philosophy, political science, economics, music, and theatre. We are especially interested in fellows who could design and teach compelling, innovative courses in Asian American and Asian Diasporic Studies to undergraduates as part of an initiative to expand our curriculum in this area.

For application instructions and further information on this position, please visit <https://apply.interfolio.com/47922>. Review of applications will begin on January 19 and continue until the position has been filled. Initial interviews of selected applicants will take place through Skype in late January. Questions about this search may be directed to Ann Marie Leshkowich, Professor of Anthropology and Director of Asian Studies, at aleshkow@holycross.edu.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate commitment to undergraduate teaching as well as promise of scholarly achievement. The successful candidate must have earned the doctorate by August 2018.

As a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college, the College values dialog among people from diverse perspectives as integral to the mission and essential to the excellence of our academic program (see <http://www.holycross.edu/mission>). In your application please highlight how your teaching, scholarship, mentorship and/or service might support the College's mission and its commitment to diversity and inclusion. Previous experience teaching, mentoring or advising diverse student populations is an asset. For more information, please visit <http://holycross.edu/diversity>.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. To learn more about faculty life at the College, please visit <http://holycross.edu/join>. The College enrolls about 2,900 students and is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, advising, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate commitment to the educational benefits of a richly diverse community. Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (<http://www.newenglandherc.org>). The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/23/2018

Date Posted: 12/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3899

ETH Zurich

Rank: Professor of Environmental Policy

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Science & Technology, Political Development

The Department of Environmental Systems Science (www.usys.ethz.ch) and the Department of Humanities, Social and Political Sciences (www.gess.ethz.ch) at ETH Zurich invite applications for the above-mentioned position.

The successful candidate should have an excellent publication record in social science and interdisciplinary research, focusing on design, implementation, and outcomes of policy instruments to address environmental problems, including the role of political institutions. The new professor will focus on land-use change, terrestrial resource allocation, water allocation and quality, or environmental issues associated with urban and regional development. Teaching will contribute to the social science curriculum in Environmental Sciences, with an emphasis on analyzing the drivers and outcomes of public policies. Generally, at ETH Zurich undergraduate level courses are taught in German or English and graduate level courses are taught in English.

Please apply online: www.facultyaffairs.ethz.ch

Applications should include a curriculum vitae, a list of publications, a statement of future research and teaching interests, a description of the three most important achievements, and the contact details of three referees. The letter of application should be addressed to the President of ETH Zurich, Prof. Dr. Lino Guzzella. The closing date for applications is 28 February 2018. ETH Zurich is an equal opportunity and family friendly employer and is responsive to the needs of dual career couples. We specifically encourage women to apply.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3890

National Defense College- Abu Dhabi

Rank: Strategic Studies Faculty (Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor)

Job Title: Strategic Studies Faculty (Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor)

Location: Abu Dhabi, UAE

Description: Candidates are invited to apply for multiple non-tenure-track faculty positions at the National Defense College (NDC), an accredited senior national security education institution in Abu Dhabi, UAE. Candidates should possess an outstanding academic background, solid research credentials and proven evidence of excellence in teaching, preferably at the graduate level. Candidates will develop curriculum, teach security-related courses in graduate programs in strategic studies, provide mentoring to participants within the institution, help define and support the future development of the National Defense College, and conduct research in their fields of expertise. NDC is a leading institution of higher education in the Middle East that encourages experiential learning through models, case studies and exercises, and educational technology, to foster a culture of learning among high-skilled policy professionals. More information about the college can be found at the NDC website (<http://www.ndc.ac.ae/en/>). The successful candidate will serve as a faculty member and conduct the following activities:

- Teach courses within a Strategic Studies graduate program using formal lectures, demonstrations, seminars, exercises, and focused facilitated group discussions;
- Refine program syllabi including crafting educational outcomes, instructional and research materials, and lesson plans for periods of focused facilitated syndicate discussion;
- Mentor and advise graduate students;
- Evaluate participant progress and provide feedback on performance, identify learning difficulties, facilitate methods to encourage increased performance and recommend remedial action where necessary;
- Remain current with research activities in their areas of expertise and contribute to the body of knowledge in their subject area by writing and publishing;
- Consult with fellow faculty to create new educational programs and curriculum;
- Assist with ongoing accreditation efforts;
- Support curriculum review, academic governance policies, accreditation, and quality assurance;
- Participate in college service activities;
- Support outreach and partnership building efforts, including short courses.

Qualifications

REQUIRED EDUCATION:

Must possess a terminal degree from an accredited university in an appropriate discipline by the position's start date.

REQUIRED SKILLS/EXPERIENCE:

For appointment at the rank of full professor: strong evidence of excellence in teaching, research, and service including: (1) full-time graduate teaching experience in a program relevant to the NDC program in Security and Strategic Studies, (2) at least ten (10) years of relevant, full-time teaching experience in an accredited university/college environment, and (3) a history of conducting successful research in peer reviewed journals and/or academic books at a standard consummate for appointment as a full professor.

Well-qualified candidates who do not meet the requirements for appointment at the rank of full professor may be considered for a lesser rank. In all instances, full-time teaching experience and an active research agenda relevant to the NDC program are highly desirable.

DESIRED SKILLS/EXPERTISE:

Candidates should be able to contribute to three or more core courses in the existing interdisciplinary curriculum (<http://www.ndc.ac.ae/en/core-courses>). Candidates should also be able to contribute to doctoral level teaching in at least one of the following areas: security/strategy, diplomacy/international law, political economy, leadership, and research methods (qualitative and/or mixed) and be able to develop a ma elective in their area of expertise.

For all candidates, previous military service, particularly at the O6/ Col level or higher, practical experience in government service, including but not limited to experience working in homeland/civil security or intelligence/counterintelligence, a background teaching at a defense or war college or other professional institutions with a curriculum similar to the National Defense College, and/or academic specialization in research or teaching clearly linked to strategy and security studies are desirable.

For candidates at the level of full professor, previous experience supervising or serving as a committee member on doctoral dissertations is highly desirable, as is the demonstrated ability to make substantial contributions to service responsibilities.

Cross-cultural experience, previous experience teaching senior professionals, experience teaching or working in the Middle East or other relevant regions, and/or demonstrated expertise in education in a multi-national/ multi-cultural setting are advantageous.

Arabic language proficiency is an asset but courses will be conducted in English.

Benefits package includes:

- Attractive and highly competitive salary
- Full housing allowance
- Vehicle allowance
- Education allowance for eligible minor children
- Cost of living allowance
- Relocation allowance

In order to apply for the position, please include the following documents: a cover letter detailing qualifications in teaching, research, and service, including identifying which courses in our curriculum that the candidate is able to teach, a CV, including a list of professional references, and unofficial graduate transcripts (copies are acceptable). All documents should be sent to Ms. Betty Boutros at (boutros@translangtld.com). Informal inquiries may be directed to Dr. Samuel Greene at (samuel.greene@ndc.ac.ae). The college anticipates conducting phone/video interviews in January 2017, with subsequent invitations for an on-site interview—applications should be submitted promptly to allow for review. Review of applications will continue until the position(s) are filled.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3897

Yale University

Rank: Mars Fellow in Business Ethics

Yale University's Mars Brothers Interdisciplinary Program on Business Ethics seeks postdoctoral fellows for 2018-2019 from relevant disciplines (philosophy, business, economics, political science, sociology, psychology). Fellowships are for one year, renewable to two at a salary of $60,000 with health benefits. In addition to performing research under the supervision of Program faculty, Fellows will teach one seminar, be available to meet undergraduates of the Ethics, Politics, and Economics major, assist with senior essays, and help to organize and run a workshop series of 4-6 visitors a year. Applicants should have completed PhD requirements by September 2018. Mentoring of the fellows will draw on the established strengths of Yale's interdisciplinary faculty, beginning with the faculty of the Ethics, Politics, and Economics interdisciplinary undergraduate major.

Please submit a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, draft syllabus, and the names of two recommenders whom we will contact separately, online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47996> .

The review process will begin February 1, 2018. Please submit your materials before that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications until the position has been filled. Please direct inquiries to Frances Rosenbluth, Director of Ethics, Politics and Economics, frances.rosenbluth@yale.edu.

Yale is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and under-represented minorities are particularly welcome.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3897

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Lecturer

University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Permanent Lecturer Position

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte Department of Political Science and Public Administration invites applications for an open-field permanent Lecturer position in Political Science. Required qualifications include: Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; excellent teaching ability; and a commitment to teaching in a diverse environment. Candidates with prior teaching experience and the ability to teach a broad array of introductory classes are preferred, as is the ability to teach undergraduate research methods. The nine-month non-tenure track position begins Fall 2018.

The 4-4 load will include teaching two sections per year of LBST 2301 Critical Thinking and Communication, a new general education requirement, in addition to courses in the major. The Critical Thinking course topic is at the discretion of the instructor, though the small classes will emphasize communicating in the political science discipline.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers an M.P.A., B.A., and a minor. It has 26 full-time faculty members. Many participate in one or more interdisciplinary programs, including the Public Policy Ph.D. program, Latin American Studies, Women's and Gender Studies, and Africana Studies.

Review of applications will begin January 10, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. Applications must be submitted electronically to <https://jobs.uncc.edu>. Please attach the following documents with your electronic application: (1) letter of application outlining your teaching philosophy, including teaching experience, related to the qualifications outlined above; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) a copy of graduate transcript; and (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness. In addition, three letters of recommendation should be sent either electronically in PDF format or by regular mail. All letters must be addressed to John Szmer, Lecturer Search Committee Chair, Political Science & Public Administration, UNC Charlotte, 9201 University City Blvd, Charlotte, NC 28223 or jjszmer@uncc.edu. Any questions should be directed to Dr. Szmer.

Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their teaching.

UNC Charlotte is a rapidly growing doctoral-granting urban university located in the largest metropolitan area between Washington DC, and Atlanta. The University is a Carnegie Foundation Community Engagement campus. Close to 29,000 culturally diverse students currently are enrolled at the University. As the largest college at UNC Charlotte, the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences houses 20 departments in the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, and natural sciences, as well as 25 applied research centers and interdisciplinary programs. It offers eight doctoral degrees, 36 master's degrees and graduate certificates, and 32 undergraduate degrees.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is an AA/EOE and an ADVANCE Institution that strives to create an academic climate in which the dignity of all individuals is respected and maintained. It values diversity that includes, but is not limited to ability/disability, age, culture, ethnicity, gender, language, race, religion, sexual orientation, and socio-economic status. Applicants will be subject to a criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3885

Leiden University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Institute of Political Science of the Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences invites applicants for the position of:

Assistant Professor of Political Science (1.0 fte)

Vacancy number 4462

Key responsibilities

Building upon our institute's historic strength in the area of Dutch politics, we are looking for candidates qualified to conduct research on Dutch politics and to teach introductory and advanced courses in Dutch politics at the national and local levels within our bachelors and masters programmes. The appointment may also include teaching general introductory courses in political science or advanced courses on other topics reflecting the candidate's expertise. Candidates are also expected to supervise undergraduate and graduate theses, to acquire external research funding, to contribute to the Institute's research agenda, and to participate in the intellectual and administrative life of the Institute.

Selection criteria

- Applicants must hold (or be near to completing) a PhD in Political Science or a cognate discipline;
- Applicants must have a promising research agenda and publications focused on Dutch politics, plus relevant teaching experience and good teaching evaluations; knowledge of Dutch political history is desirable.
- Applicants must be able to teach in both Dutch and English;
- Leiden University requires teaching staff to obtain the University Teaching Qualification (BKO). If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, s/he must obtain this qualification within two years.

Research at our Faculty/Institute

The Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences comprises four institutes: Education and Child Studies, Political Science, Psychology and Cultural Anthropology & Development Sociology. The Faculty also includes the Centre for Science and Technology Studies. The Faculty is home to 5,000 students and 600 members of staff. Our teaching and research programmes cover diverse topics varying from adoption to political behaviour. For more information, see <http://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/social-behavioural-sciences>.

The Institute of Political Science has a strong research tradition in various areas of comparative, Dutch and international politics, as well as political theory. Its research programme focuses on the design, workings and implications of political institutions, broadly defined, though individual members of staff pursue research projects within and beyond this theme. The Institute consistently receives high peer-reviewed ratings of its teaching and research programs. It has around 70 faculty members, including many non-Dutch scholars, and houses a number of editorships of international refereed journals. Members of the institute are also involved in a number of the university's multidisciplinary research centres, including Central and East European Studies, International Relations, Parties and Representation, and Political Philosophy. The Institute is based in Leiden but some teaching is done in The Hague.

The Institute offers a range of taught programmes at the Bachelor and Master levels and also trains PhD students in political science. The BSc programmes include general Political Science (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), International Politics (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), and International Relations and Organisations (in English, in The Hague). The Master programmes (taught in Dutch and English) include a one-year MSc with four specialisations in Leiden and two in The Hague (including Nederlandse Politiek), plus a two-year Research MSc co-sponsored by the Institute of Public Administration.

Terms & Conditions

The position starts as soon as possible and preferably no later than September 2018. The appointment will be made on a temporary contract of up to 6 years depending upon prior experience. A permanent appointment may be possible during or after the term of the initial contract, depending upon performance and the budgetary situation of the Institute. Salary range from 3.427,- to 4.757,- gross per month (pay scale 11 in accordance with the Collective Labour Agreement for Dutch Universities)

Leiden University offers an attractive benefits package with additional holiday (8%) and end-of-year bonuses(8.3 %), training and career development and sabbatical leave. Our individual choices model gives you some freedom to assemble your own set of terms and conditions. Candidates from outside the Netherlands may be eligible for a substantial tax break.

Leiden University requires teaching staff to obtain the basic University Teaching Qualification (UTQ). If the successful applicant does not already possess this qualification or its equivalent, he/ she must be willing to obtain this Qualification within two years.

Diversity

Leiden University is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from members of under-represented groups.

Information

Further enquiries can be directed to Professor Ruud Koole, chair of the selection committee, at email koole@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

Applications

Please submit online your application no later than 1 February 2018 via the blue button of our application system <https://www.universiteitleiden.nl/en/vacancies/2017-2/kwartaal4/17-529-4462-assistant-professor-of-political-sciences>

Applicants should submit online a letter of interest, a CV (with list of publications), a research statement covering current and future research agenda, a sample paper or article, and a statement of teaching interests and experience including sample syllabi or teaching evaluations.

Applicants should also ask three people to submit recommendation letters commenting on their professional qualifications and suitability for the position directly (i.e. not through the applicant) to vacature_powe@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

All documents, except recommendation letters from non-Dutch scholars, should be in Dutch.

The selection procedure will take place in February or March 2018. Selected candidates will first be invited for an online pre-interview; some will then be invited for in-person interview and research talk. You are kindly requested to be available in this period.

Acquisition following this advertisement is not appreciated

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 12/13/2017

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 3875

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Digital Civil Society Lab at the Stanford Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society (Stanford PACS) brings promising new scholars to Stanford for 1-2 year appointments as postdoctoral fellows. The Lab is pleased to welcome applications for 2018-2019.

About the Digital Civil Society Lab

The Digital Civil Society Lab envisions an independent civil society that thrives in the digital age through the safe, ethical and effective use of private digital resources for public benefit. The Lab is an initiative of the Stanford Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society (Stanford PACS).

The Lab is led by Lucy Bernholz, senior research scholar at Stanford PACS, and Rob Reich, professor of Political Science and faculty co-director of Stanford PACS.

The rapid adoption of digital tools for social and political action has resulted in a complicated new sphere we refer to as “digital civil society.” Digital civil society encompasses all the ways we voluntarily use private resources for public benefit in the digital age. We see evidence of digital civil society at the intersection of several domains: nonprofits, associations, and philanthropy; market solutions for social good; political action; and digital data and infrastructure. These once-distinct spheres now overlap in ways that require the adoption of a new framework rooted in the unique characteristics of digital resources and the distinctive values of civil society.

Digital tools and infrastructure allow individuals to associate, network, express themselves, and mobilize others at lower cost, larger scale, and greater speed than ever before. Access to digital infrastructure, the creation of new digital tools, and smart use of digital data as a resource expand and strengthen the ways we work together for good.

Civil society organizations are almost everywhere digitally dependent on third party providers for the digital tools and platforms they use. The majority of digital tools and network infrastructure are built and maintained by commercial enterprises that are frequently surveilled by governments. These dependencies challenge the democratic ideal of an independent civil society – a space apart from the government and the commercial marketplace. Most people cannot have private conversations digitally, associational activity is more easily tracked than ever before, and private spaces online are accessible only to the technologically skilled. Corporations that provide the platforms on which people express themselves and associate with others are now implicated in protecting and enforcing free speech, association, privacy, and safety.

Democratic governments and international declarations of human rights all seek to guarantee the rights of citizens to free expression, association and privacy, even when the precise interpretation of these ideals differ. These basic rights inform our democratic systems and constitute core freedoms for all people. Civil society’s digital dependencies profoundly shift how these rights are experienced. The Lab’s research draws from the humanities, social sciences, engineering, computer science and the law to understand and advance the principles of civil society and democracies in the digital age.

About the fellowship

We seek to appoint exceptional scholars who are actively engaged in research on topics related to priority research areas, which include:

The key dimensions of digital infrastructure and data and how they influence the role of independent civil society in democracies; Understanding, creating, and expanding access to software, hardware and digital practices that align with the values of civil society in democracies;

The nature of digital data donations and/or the governance mechanisms, enterprise forms, or legal constructs that such donations require; The role of digital infrastructure, data, and connectivity and their influence on relationships between governments, markets, and civil society.

We encourage applications from candidates representing a broad range of disciplines including the social sciences, humanities, law, computer science and engineering.

Each fellow will be affiliated with the Digital Civil Society Lab and potentially a department or school at Stanford University.

The Digital Civil Society Lab is an initiative of the Stanford Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society (Stanford PACS). Stanford PACS is an affiliate of the Institute for Research in the Social Sciences (IRiSS).

The annual fellowship stipend is $63,000, plus the standard benefits that postdoctoral fellows at Stanford University receive, including health insurance and travel funds. The fellowship program falls under U.S. Immigration J-1 Exchange Visitor Visa activities. The start date of the fellowship will be September 2018, unless otherwise agreed.

How to apply

Application materials should be submitted to the Digital Civil Society Lab via email to hnrobinson@stanford.edu using the subject line "DCSL Postdoctoral Fellowship 2018." The deadline for applications is January 13, 2018. Please include the following items and information in your application:

Cover letter: detailing the reasons for the applicant's interest in the fellowship;

Curriculum Vitae;

Fellowship proposal: detailing the research that the applicant would undertake while at Stanford (three page limit, single spaced);

Writing sample: consisting of either a dissertation chapter or a recent published paper. There are no specific page length or formatting requirements for this sample;

Graduate transcript: with proof that the applicant has completed all the requirements for the PhD, or a letter from their PhD advisor stating when they will do so;

Two (or more) Letters of Recommendation.

Please disclose if you have additional funding arrangements.

To assume a postdoctoral fellowship, you must have a PhD in hand by July 1, 2018. We cannot consider applications from scholars who earned a PhD earlier than May 1, 2016.

Questions about the program, application process or requirements should be directed to Heather Noelle Robinson, Program Associate of the Digital Civil Society Lab, at hnrobinson@stanford.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 12/11/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3868

The Scholars Strategy Network

Rank: Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other
Specializations: American Politics, Legislative Studies, State Politics

Scholars Strategy Network 2018-2020 Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Scholars Strategy Network is opening applications for the second cohort of its two-year Postdoctoral Fellowship to support early-career scholars in any discipline who wish to engage in research and public scholarship to improve public policy and strengthen democracy. After an intensive, short boot camp, each fellow will be based at a university in one of SSN's regional chapters.

Objectives

Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellows will help academics insert research, facts, and scholarly perspectives into local, state, and national policy debates. Successful fellows will build webs of relationships, transforming regional Scholars Strategy Network chapters into powerful research hubs to inform the policymaking process. Fellows will:

Meet with scholars to learn about their areas of expertise and interest;

Meet with policymakers, civic leaders, and journalists to learn about their interests, policy goals, and research questions;

With advice and direction from senior academics, create opportunities for scholars to engage in the policy process by matchmaking and by helping scholars build lasting collaborations with non-academic stakeholders;

Work with scholars to prepare two-page briefs that clearly convey their research to non-academic audiences;

Organize at least one significant group project that brings together multiple academic perspectives to synthesize research and scholarly perspectives in response to a request from a non-academic stakeholder;

Help local policymakers, journalists, civic leaders, and member scholars access the expertise of the national Scholars Strategy Network by connecting them to out-of-state scholars and, as appropriate, arranging visits, State House or City Hall briefings, and university talks.

Research and Writing

Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to allot fifty percent of their time to their own policy-relevant research. This research can continue doctoral work or comprise new projects that can be completed within the two-year postdoctoral appointment. Ideally, each fellow's research should enrich the policy landscape in a way that is useful to, and guided by, local stakeholders and practitioners.

Mentorship and Training

Mentorship: SSN chapter co-leaders will connect their Fellow with a mentor from that chapter who has interest and expertise in the Fellow's research area. A Fellow's research mentor can come from any of the colleges and universities with faculty members involved in the relevant SSN chapter. The research mentor (supported by the SSN national team) will help the Fellow write about research findings and prepare related materials in ways that achieve academic excellence and have an impact on policy. In return for sustained engagement with the Fellow, research mentors will have the choice of receiving either a modest stipend or a small grant to help support joint research with the Fellow.

Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellows will also have several opportunities to share their work and receive advice and guidance from the academic members of Scholars Strategy Network's Steering Committee:

Theda Skocpol, SSN Director and Victor S. Thomas Professor of Government and Sociology, Harvard University

Lawrence R. Jacobs, Walter F. and Joan Mondale Chair of Political Studies, and Director of the Center for the Study of Politics and Governance, Hubert Humphrey School and Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota

Jacob S. Hacker, Stanley B. Resor Professor of Political Science, and Director of the Institution for Social and Policy Studies, Yale University

Suzanne Mettler, Clinton Rossiter Professor of American Institutions, Department of Government, Cornell University; Fellow of the Century Foundation

Amy Fried, Professor of Political Science, University of Maine

Training: Throughout the program, each cohort of Fellows will be supported with additional resources and training to help them achieve the goals described above. Fellows will learn how to become active players in public policy arenas by creating research and relationships for maximum policy impact and by organizing other chapter member scholars for the same purposes.

At the outset of the program, each cohort will spend a week with the SSN national team as part of an SSN Bootcamp. Fellows will get a deep understanding of how SSN supports scholars in public engagement work. They will meet will meet the SSN staff, learn about the type of services available to member scholars, and begin training on how to support their chapters.

Fellows will participate in SSN policy trainings to learn how to effectively deliver evidence and ideas to policymakers and civic organizations. Fellows will also receive SSN media trainings and instruction from the national communications team on how a scholar can use the media to disseminate research and analysis to the public.

Finally, fellows will participate in SSN's National Leadership Retreat, where they will get a chance to learn from chapter leaders, staff, and steering committee members including Theda Skocpol, Jacob Hacker, Lawrence Jacobs, Suzanne Mettler, and Amy Fried. Fellows will also have an opportunity to present their own research and SSN work.

Program Information

Length of Fellowship: The SSN Postdoctoral Fellowships will last for two years, starting in July 2018 and running through June 2020.

Affiliation: Fellows will be affiliated with one of SSN's regional chapters and their corresponding institutions. Host chapters will be announced in February 2018.

Compensation: The SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship pays $48,000 annually. Benefits include health insurance, a modest allowance for approved travel to conferences, and reimbursement of appropriate work-related expenses.

Supervision: For chapter-related duties, the Fellow will report to the co-leaders of their base chapter and SSN's national Director of Policy and Organizing.

Eligibility

SSN Regional Postdoctoral Fellowships are open to applicants from all disciplines who have completed their PhD within the past three years and are prepared to work for two years starting July 2018. Applications are encouraged from soon-to-be or recent PhDs with experience or a strong interest in community or state-level organizing, public policy, and practical research.

Ideal candidates will be persons dedicated to SSN's mission and able to grasp how to make use of SSN's structure as a voluntary, federated network of member scholars.

Because SSN's national office is based in Cambridge, Massachusetts, postdoctoral fellows who will be based in SSN regional chapters must show evidence that they are self-starters able to work independently and manage several projects simultaneously. In addition, strong candidates must be able to translate research findings into clear language for public audiences and feel comfortable actively reaching out to a diverse group of external stakeholders. Candidates should have a knowledge of legislative and other government processes.

Fellows must be willing to be year-round residents of the community where their appointment is based for the duration of their two-year fellowship.

How to Apply

Fill out and attach the required documents to this Application Form: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdhCzm30LS\_9oQNHw1y6BPufkvWdKBdgVJOISaSRASv1Taz2w/viewform. More details on what is required below. For any questions, email Paola Maynard-Moll at fellows@scholars.org and use "SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship- Your Name" in the subject line.

Each application must include:

Statement of Interest: In 500 words or less, please detail your interest, background, and qualifications for the SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship.

Resume: Provide a curriculum vitae. Include civic or political engagement experience in your CV.

Dissertation Abstract and Date for the PhD: Provide the abstract and table of contents of your doctoral dissertation and (if the PhD is not yet awarded) include a letter from your advisor about the expected date for the degree.

Description of Proposed Research: In 1000 words or less, describe the research project you would like to undertake during the two-year fellowship, how you plan to incorporate feedback from non-academic stakeholders, and in what ways you anticipate doing outreach about your work during and after completion of the project.

OpEd: Write a jargon-free OpEd using research to comment on a current event or area of public interest. If you have already published such a piece, please submit it. If not, write a piece in 650 words or less. Find tips for OpEd writing at The OpEd Project.

Two Letters of Recommendation: Provide two letters of recommendation that speak to your ability to be successful in this program. Ideally, one letter should be from an academic supervisor and another from a supervisor or peer outside of academia or from an academic who has such experience.

Each application may also include:

Research Mentor: If you already have a research mentor in mind, and have spoken to that person about working together on the proposed project, you may submit the name and expertise of your proposed research mentor. Ideally, that person will write your academic letter of recommendation.

Personal Website: If you have a personal website, you may include a link.

Timing: Applications will be considered on a rolling basis. No applications will be considered after February 23, 2018.

SSN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of age, class, color, disability, ethnicity, faith, gender, national origin, race, sexual orientation or gender identity. People of color, people with disabilities, LGBTQ individuals, and women are strongly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/23/2018

Date Posted: 12/11/2017
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 3870

American University in Cairo

Rank: Political Economy

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a five-year fixed term contract position in Political Economy with emphasis on the International Political Economy and Political Economy of MENA region, at the Assistant or Associate Professor level beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on Introduction to Political Economy, Theory and History of Political Economy, Political Economy in the Middle East and North Africa and International Political Economy & Political Economy of Egypt. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by February 1st, 2018. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: http://www.oucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@oucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@oucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.oucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3866

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: FACULTY POSITION, MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES, Arab Crossroads Program

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Middle East, Economic Policy, Social Movements

FACULTY POSITION, MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES, Arab Crossroads Program

Division of Arts and Humanities / Social Sciences

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY ABU DHABI

Location: Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications for an open rank faculty position in Middle Eastern studies for its Arab Crossroads program. We are searching for faculty in all disciplines (particularly Anthropology, Economics, Politics or Sociology) whose research and teaching focuses on the contemporary society and politics of the Gulf and the Middle East. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment September 1, 2018, subject to final budget approval.

The position will be in the Arab Crossroads Program, as a joint appointment across the divisions of Arts and Humanities and Social Sciences. Please visit the NYU Abu Dhabi Arab Crossroads program website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/academic-divisions/multidisciplinary-programs/acs.html>

The Arab Crossroads Program forms part of a large, interdisciplinary network of teaching and research in the areas of Middle Eastern Studies and the Islamic World within the division of Arts and Humanities at NYUAD. This network includes the Library of Arabic Literature, Library of Arabic Literature fellowships, Arabic Literature Online, the Humanities Research Fellowships in Gulf and Middle Eastern Studies, Arabic Language Program, Akkasah Center for Photography, Dhakira Center for Heritage Studies in the UAE, Tharawat Family Business Histories in the UAE, as well as a wide range of teaching and research in this area in other programs including Art and Art History, Film, History, Literature, Music, Philosophy, Theater (Arts and Humanities), and Economics, Political Science, Social Research and Public Policy (Social Sciences).

The review of applications will begin in December, and will continue on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for campus visits to NYU Abu Dhabi in 2018. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit their curriculum vitae, statements of research and teaching interests, two course outlines and two representative writing samples. To complete the online process, applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload his or her reference letter. Senior candidates are not required to submit references at this time. For more information and instruction on how to apply, please visit our website: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty.html>.

Abu Dhabi Office P.O. Box 129 188, Abu Dhabi, UAE +971 2 628 4000 Fax:+971 2 659 0791

New York Office 19 Washington Square North, New York, NY 10012 +1 212 9927

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.artsandhumanities.positions@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD

NYU Abu Dhabi is a degree-granting research university with a fully integrated liberal arts and science undergraduate program in the Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, and Engineering. NYU Abu Dhabi, NYU New York, and NYU Shanghai, form the backbone of NYU's global network university, an interconnected network of portal campuses and academic centers across six continents that enable seamless international mobility of students and faculty in their pursuit of academic and scholarly activity. This global university represents a transformative shift in higher education, one in which the intellectual and creative endeavors of academia are shaped and examined through an international and multicultural perspective. As a major intellectual hub at the crossroads of the Arab world, NYUAD serves as a center for scholarly thought, advanced research, knowledge creation, and sharing, through its academic, research, and creative activities.

EOE/AAs/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer
UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3859

Naval War College

Rank: PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS

U.S. NAVAL WAR COLLEGE-AT-NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL
MONTEREY, CALIFORNIA
SEEKS
PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY
COLLEGE OF DISTANCE EDUCATION
ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE/ FULL PROFESSOR (AD-1701-03/05/07)

The United States Naval War College, Newport, Rhode Island, invites applications for one position of Professor of National Security in its College of Distance Education (CDE), Naval War College-at-Naval Postgraduate School (NWC-at-NPS) Program in Monterey, CA. The position is full-time with rank and salary commensurate with experience and credentials.

The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. The CDE conducts its courses in the NWC-at-NPS Program in a classroom seminar format.

Responsibilities: Incumbents teach the "Theater Security Decision Making" (TSDM) course at the Intermediate Service College level with duties including: conducting classroom instruction; reviewing and evaluating student essays, examinations, and other written and verbal assessments; developing curricula; performing various types of service to the College; traveling to, and lecturing at, nonresident seminars around the country as required; and performing educational administrative functions as required.

Qualifications: Required qualifications include an advanced degree in one or more of the following areas: International Affairs, International Relations, Management, or a related field; and demonstrated experience working in the national security and defense environments.

Preferred qualifications that will make candidates especially competitive include: an earned Ph.D. in one of the academic fields noted above; teaching experience at the graduate level; academic program management experience; graduation from a U.S. military senior- or intermediate-level Service College and JPME I and/or II certification; military Service College teaching experience; experience and competence in internet-based instruction; and distance learning experience at the graduate level.

This position requires that candidates must be capable of obtaining and maintaining a Department of Defense SECRET security clearance.

Salary Considerations: Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal civil service package that includes health insurance, pension and retirement savings plans (with employer matching contributions), paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule.

Application Process: Applications will be accepted through December 22, 2017 and must reference VA#NWC-18-05. Applications must include: 1) a detailed cover letter of introduction that addresses the qualifications listed above; 2) a comprehensive Curriculum Vitae/Resume; and 3) contact information for three professional references.

Active duty members may apply under this announcement but are subject to eligibility requirements of the Veterans Opportunity to Work Act (VOW). Active duty members MUST submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service MUST provide the branch, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge, and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will be ineligible for consideration if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or if it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days after being submitted with your application.

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

Applications must be submitted by email to nwc-18-05@usnwc.edu and must reference VA#NWC-18-05.

Questions about this position should be directed via email to Professor Fred Drake at fpdrake@nps.edu . The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/22/2017

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3854

Naval War College

Rank: PROFESSOR OF STRATEGY

U.S. NAVAL WAR COLLEGE
NEWPORT, RHODE ISLAND
SEEKS
PROFESSOR OF STRATEGY
COLLEGE OF DISTANCE EDUCATION
ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE/FULL PROFESSOR (AD-1701-03/05/07)

The United States Naval War College, Newport, Rhode Island, invites applications for one position of Professor of Strategy in its College of Distance Education (CDE in Newport, Rhode Island. The position is full-time (non-tenure track) with rank and salary commensurate with experience and credentials.

The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. The CDE conducts its courses in multiple delivery methodologies.

Responsibilities: Incumbents teach the “Strategy and War” (S&W) course at the Intermediate Service College level with duties including: conducting classroom instruction; reviewing and evaluating student essays, examinations, and other written and verbal assessments; developing curricula; performing various types of service to the College; traveling to, and lecturing at, nonresident seminars around the country as required; and performing educational administrative functions as required.

Qualifications: Required qualifications include an advanced degree in one or more of the following areas: History, International Affairs, International Relations, Political Science, or a related field; and teaching experience at the graduate level

Preferred qualifications that will make candidates especially competitive include: an earned Ph.D. in one of the academic fields noted above; academic program management experience; familiarity with the national security and defense environments; graduation from a U.S. military senior- or intermediate-level Service College and JPME I and/or II certification; military Service College teaching experience; experience and competence in internet-based instruction; and distance learning experience at the graduate level.

This position requires that candidates must be capable of obtaining and maintaining a Department of Defense SECRET security clearance.

Salary Considerations: Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal civil service package that includes health insurance, pension and retirement savings plans (with employer matching contributions), paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule.

Application Process: Applications will be accepted through December 29, 2017 and must reference VA#NWC-18-06. Applications must include: 1) a detailed cover letter of introduction that addresses the qualifications listed above; 2) a comprehensive Curriculum Vitae/Resume; and 3) contact information for three professional references.

Active duty members may apply under this announcement but are subject to eligibility requirements of the Veterans Opportunity to Work Act (VOW). Active duty members MUST submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service MUST provide the branch, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge, and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will be ineligible for consideration if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or if it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days after being submitted with your application.

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

Applications must be submitted by email to nwc-18-06@usnwc.edu and must reference VA#NWC-18-06.

Questions about this position should be directed via email to Professor Stanley Carpenter at carpents@usnwc.edu . The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/29/2017

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3855

Naval War College

Rank: PROFESSOR OF STRATEGY

U.S. NAVAL WAR COLLEGE-AT-NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL
MONTEREY, CALIFORNIA
SEEKS
PROFESSOR OF STRATEGY
COLLEGE OF DISTANCE EDUCATION
ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE/FULL PROFESSOR (AD-1701-03/05/07)

The United States Naval War College, Newport, Rhode Island, invites applications for one position of Professor of Strategy in its College of Distance Education (CDE), Naval War College-at-Naval Postgraduate School (NWC-at-NPS) Program in Monterey, CA. The position is full-time with rank and salary commensurate with experience and credentials.

The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. The CDE conducts its courses in the NWC-at-NPS Program in a classroom seminar format.

Responsibilities: Incumbents teach the “Strategy and War” (S&W) course at the Intermediate Service College level with duties including: conducting classroom instruction; reviewing and evaluating student essays, examinations, and other written and verbal assessments; developing curricula; performing various types of service to the College; traveling to, and lecturing at, nonresident seminars around the country as required; and performing educational administrative functions as required.

Qualifications: Required qualifications include an advanced degree in one or more of the following areas: History, International Affairs, International Relations, Political Science, or a related field; and teaching experience at the graduate level

Preferred qualifications that will make candidates especially competitive include: an earned Ph.D. in one of the academic fields noted above; academic program management experience; familiarity with the national security and defense environments; graduation from a U.S. military senior- or intermediate-level Service College and JPME I and/or II certification; military Service College teaching experience; experience and competence in internet-based instruction; and distance learning experience at the graduate level.

This position requires that candidates must be capable of obtaining and maintaining a Department of Defense SECRET security clearance.

Salary Considerations: Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal civil service package that includes health insurance, pension and retirement savings plans (with employer matching contributions), paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule.

Application Process: Applications will be accepted through December 22, 2017 and must reference VA#NWC-18-04. Applications must include: 1) a detailed cover letter of introduction that addresses the qualifications listed above; 2) a comprehensive Curriculum Vitae/Resume; and 3) contact information for three professional references.

Active duty members may apply under this announcement but are subject to eligibility requirements of the Veterans Opportunity to Work Act (VOW). Active duty members MUST submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service MUST provide the branch, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge, and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will be ineligible for consideration if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or if it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days after being submitted with your application.

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

Applications must be submitted by email to nwc-18-04@usnwc.edu and must reference VA#NWC-08-04

Questions about this position should be directed via email to Professor Fred Drake at fpdrake@nps.edu. The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/22/2017

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3856

Yale University

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellowship in Political Economy, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The MacMillan Center, Yale University

The Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy at Yale invites applications for a post-doctoral position for AY 2018-2019. Candidates must have a robust research program in political economy, broadly construed, and must have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment.

The post-doctoral fellow will teach one course during the year, either in the Fall or the Spring semester, pursue his/her own research, and participate in the activities of the Leitner program. Fellows are expected to be in residence from August 2018 to May 2019.

We will begin accepting applications immediately with review beginning on Friday, December 15, 2017 and continuing until the selections are final.

Yale University is an equal opportunity employer. Applications from women, members of minority groups, protected veterans, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged.

Compensation is competitive, and includes benefits and health coverage. We expect to be able to cover a junior scholar's salary for the full academic year and up to half of a senior scholar's salary. Senior scholars who will be taking leave from their home institution to accept the fellowship should indicate salary requirements and whether they expect to receive salary support from their university or outside sources.

To apply, send a cover letter, CV, research statement and a draft of a syllabus of a course you propose to teach at Yale. You'll also need to have three letters of recommendation submitted on your behalf.

All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46617>

Ms. Hira Jafri, Program Manager, Leitner Program in International and Comparative Political Economy, The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies, 34 Hillhouse Avenue, P.O. Box 208206 New Haven, CT 06520-8206 USA. Email: hira.jafri@yale.edu. For details on the Leitner program, please consult the website: <http://www.yale.edu/leitner>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3851

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Politics and Fellow, Center for the Study of Statesmanship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Defense, Religion & Politics

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall of 2018. This appointment is to be combined with a research appointment at the Center for the Study of Statesmanship (CSS). As a CSS Fellow the appointee will have a reduced teaching load. Although the appointment is likely to be made at a junior rank, more senior applicants will be considered.

The search is not confined to a particular field, but we are especially interested in scholars in foreign policy, international relations, or national security, or some combination thereof, who are able to place world politics in a philosophical, historical or cultural context. A background in political theory, the history of ideas or American constitutionalism is desirable. Candidates who are alert to the moral and religious dimensions of their areas of expertise are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major with many distinguished alumni and a strong MA and PhD program with graduates on numerous college and university faculties in America and abroad.

Established in the spring of 2017, CSS explores the meaning of statesmanship and how it can defuse conflict and foster respectful foreign and domestic relations. Administratively, CSS is independent of the Department of Politics and under the University Provost. To learn more about the Center and its research orientation candidates may go to the CSS website: <https://css.cua.edu>

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, departmental chair, at coyle@cua.edu and/or Dr. William S. Smith, managing director of CSS, at smithws@cua.edu. Review of applications will begin January 10 and continue until the position is filled.

Catholic University seeks candidates who are supportive of the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a CV, and a writing sample to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one-to-two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will contribute to the University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found at: http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html.

Official transcripts or verification of degrees will be required before any offer is made. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3843

University of Reading

Rank: Professor of War and Conflict Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Other, Administration

Specializations: Defense, International Security, Conflict Processes

The Department of Politics and International Relations at the University of Reading is seeking to appoint a Professor of War and Conflict Studies, to further strengthen our research profile in this area, and lead our engagement with defence and security actors. The successful candidate will be an outstanding scholar and excellent teacher, who can provide leadership in research, grant applications, and outreach. The successful candidate will enhance the department's existing relationship with the British military in both teaching and research activities, and play a central role in our Ways of War Centre. The department appreciates that war and conflict can be studied from different perspectives, and thus welcomes excellent candidates with backgrounds in International Relations, War Studies, International Security, Conflict Studies, Strategic Studies, Organisational Behaviour, Public Policy, Political Psychology and related disciplines.

This is an exciting time to join the department. Politics and International Relations is ranked among the top 10 politics departments in the UK by research intensity in the 2014 Research Excellence Framework (REF). We are a dynamic department with internationally recognised strength in Conflict, Security, and Strategy; International Relations;

Applied Political Theory; Comparative Politics, and Public Policy Analysis. We are a partner in the £14 million Army Higher Education Pathway project to design and deliver online BSc and MSc teaching to approximately 500 cadets per year from the Royal Military Academy at Sandhurst and the Defence Academy at Shrivenham.

Further details and application materials: <https://jobs.reading.ac.uk/displayjob.aspx?jobid=2334>

Informal discussion and questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Jonathan Golub, Head of Department, j.s.golub@reading.ac.uk

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/16/2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3835

University of Toronto at Scarborough

Rank: Indigenous Knowledge and Canadian Environmental Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Policy, Other

Position Title/Rank: Assistant Professor – Indigenous Knowledge and Canadian Environmental Policy

Faculty: University of Toronto Scarborough

Deadline: January 29, 2018

The University of Toronto Scarborough invites applications for a tenure-stream appointment in the field of Indigenous Knowledge and Canadian Environmental Policy. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor and will commence on July 1, 2018. The successful candidate will be appointed to a relevant cognate discipline depending on their area of expertise.

We are seeking candidates with a geographic focus on Canada alone or on Canada within an international context. We welcome a broad range of theoretical and methodological approaches, with the appointment of the successful candidate in one or more of the Departments of Physical and Environmental Sciences, Political Science, and/or Biological Sciences, depending on area(s) of expertise.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. degree in Environmental Science, Political Science, or Biological Sciences, or a related field by the time of appointment or shortly thereafter, and must have a demonstrated record of research and publications centered on Indigenous environmental knowledge and politics or policy, as well as proven experience in community-engaged scholarship. A demonstrated record of experience and engagement including relationship building, long-standing relationships, and possible work with community leaders and Elders with at least one Indigenous community in Canada is required. Candidates must also demonstrate long-term experience and engagement with Indigenous organizations and institutions and evidence of understanding the importance of consensus-building relationships.

A demonstrated record of research and teaching excellence in one of the following fields would be an asset:

* The role and status of Indigenous knowledge in environmental law/policy-making and legal disputes.

* Decolonizing environmental and natural resource governance.

* The legal rights of Indigenous peoples related to land use and title and the relationship with the land.

* Legal standing and political influence of Indigenous communities in international environmental negotiations and organization (i.e. Arctic Council, climate negotiations).

* Indigenous environmental justice movements.

The successful candidate will be expected to conduct innovative research in Indigenous environmental studies, foster research activities with Indigenous communities in Canada, and may combine areas of expertise across the Departments of Physical and Environmental Science, Political Science, and/or Biological Sciences.

The successful candidate will have an emerging record of scholarly accomplishments and will provide evidence of excellence in research as demonstrated by publications in leading, field relevant, academic journals, or forthcoming impactful publications, presentations at significant conferences, a strong record in Indigenous research methodologies and ethical engagement and collaboration with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, and strong endorsements by referees of high standing including a letter of support commenting on Indigenous community engagement.

The successful candidate will contribute to the delivery of the core curricula within one of the following departments, or interdisciplinary curricula that links two or more of these departments: Departments of Physical and Environmental Sciences (<http://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/physsci/>), Political Science (<http://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/polisci/>), and/or Biological Sciences (<http://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/biosci/>). They may also have the opportunity to participate in developing new graduate programs at UTSC.

The successful candidate must be able to demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. This can be demonstrated through a teaching portfolio including coherent statement of teaching philosophy that is linked to evidence of excellent pedagogical practice, strong endorsements from referees, demonstrated knowledge and experience in Indigenous-based teaching methods, excellent course evaluations, and/or demonstrated superior performance in other teaching related activities, including performance as a teaching assistant or course instructor, experience in leading successful workshops and seminars.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Toronto Scarborough is a research-intensive institution with an interdisciplinary commitment, a multicultural student body, and a modern campus. The University offers the opportunity to conduct research, teach, and live in one of the most diverse cities in the world. The Greater Toronto Area offers amazing cultural and demographic diversity, including a vibrant Indigenous community.

All qualified applicants should apply by clicking <https://utoronto.taleo.net/careersection/10050/jobdetail.ftl?job=1701631&tz=GMT-05%3A00>. A complete application must include: a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a research proposal, and a teaching dossier, as well as a letter of support commenting on their Indigenous community engagement. If you have questions about this position, please contact Ms. Sue-Ann Hicks (sahicks@utsc.utoronto.ca)

Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. We recommend combining attached documents into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. Applicants should list a minimum of three referees and arrange for these persons to submit their letter of recommendation (on letterhead, signed and scanned) directly to sahicks@utsc.utoronto.ca.

The closing date for applications is January 29, 2018.

This position is part of the University of Toronto's response to the calls to action in Canada's Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) report.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons/persons of colour, women, Indigenous/ Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/29/2018

Date Posted: 11/27/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3827

University of New Orleans

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Methodology, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of New Orleans seeks candidates for a tenure-track, assistant professor position to begin in fall 2018. The primary teaching need is nonprofit leadership in our NASPAA accredited MPA program, and the successful candidate will become a core faculty member in that program. Other areas of interest include applied research methodology, general public administration at graduate and undergraduate levels, hazards and disasters, and a range of undergraduate political science courses that fit the candidates' expertise and interests. We seek candidates with both a demonstrated potential for scholarly research and publication and an interest in engaged scholarship relevant to our urban environment.

• RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Teach both graduate and undergraduate courses in Public Administration and Political Science
- Serve on MPA and M.A. committees
- Participate in department, college and university committees
- Teach a 4-4 load with a reduction for an active research agenda.

• REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Doctorate in Public Administration, Political Science or closely related field

Candidates should submit a vita, three letters of recommendation, writing samples, teaching evaluations, and a brief statement of interest to Michael Huelshoff, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of New Orleans, 2000 Lakeshore Drive, New Orleans, LA 70148. Review of applications will begin upon receipt.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/16/2017
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 3797

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor

Junior Faculty Search in Cybersecurity, Tenure Track
Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy
The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia seeks to fill a tenure-track, junior faculty position in cybersecurity policy with a start date in Fall 2018. The successful candidate will show evidence of progress toward a record of strong research, teaching, and service. We are open to scholars from a broad array of disciplines including, but not limited to, political science, law, engineering, and data science. Given the interdisciplinary nature of this position, the successful candidate would have the potential for a joint or secondary appointment with other academic units at UVA. Whatever their discipline, successful candidates must have the desire and ability to speak to and influence ongoing policy debates in the area of cybersecurity.

Built upon the strong foundation of one of the nation's top public universities, the Batten School combines rigorous training in policy analysis with a unique emphasis on the acquisition of leadership skills. The research faculty includes psychologists, economists, and political scientists, and is enriched by professors of practice who bring real-world policymaking expertise to the classroom. The School currently offers an MPP degree and an undergraduate major in public policy and leadership, as well as multiple dual degree programs with other units at UVA..

For more information about the position and to apply, visit <https://jobs.virginia.edu>, search on posting number 0621821, and complete a candidate profile. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research interests and contact information for three references. The position is open until filled.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/16/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3796

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Paul and Marcia Wythes Center on Contemporary China of the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate for the 2018-19 academic year for a 12-month appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding. Preferred start date September 1, 2018. The position is open to a scholar who would be in residence and participate in all of the Center's activities, including student-faculty seminars, workshops, and public lectures. The ideal applicant will have received a Ph.D. within the past three years and studies aspects of contemporary Chinese society from a social science disciplinary perspective. He/she will have opportunities to collaborate with the Center's faculty. This position is subject to the University's background check policy. Applicants must apply online at :<https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/4781> (D-18-PII-00004)

Applications should include:

1. A cover letter
2. A statement of research plans and their relation to CCC activities (1-3 pages)
3. A current curriculum vitae
4. Contact information for two references
5. Two writing samples.

Application deadline: February 2, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Yan Bennett at ybennett@princeton.edu. More information on the Center can be found at ccc.princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3765

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Mellon Foundation Sawyer Seminar

The Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS) invites applications for one postdoctoral research associate position for the 2018-19 year (12 months), beginning September 1, 2018. The position is open to scholars who would be in residence for the year and would participate in the activities of the Mellon Foundation-funded Sawyer Seminar on the theme "Global Migration: The Humanities and Social Sciences in Dialogue." The Seminar engages a multidisciplinary group of Princeton faculty and graduate students, which aims to advance the study of global migration as a many-faceted phenomenon requiring insights from both the humanities and social sciences. Political, legal, and demographic issues (and solutions sought) will therefore be discussed in tandem with more humanistic themes. Questions of particular interest for the Seminar are global narratives of migration (be these political/national, journalistic, artistic); linguistic and legal aspects of migration; and the historical, ethical, and philosophical issues that arise with migration. For more information on the PIIRS research community and its activities, see the PIIRS website at <http://piirs.princeton.edu/research-community/migration-people-and-cultures-across-borders>.

The postdoctoral research associate would be expected to participate regularly in the activities of the seminar and to be engaged in research and writing on a topic related to the Seminar's broader themes. Candidates must have completed their Ph.D. by the beginning of the appointment and have received the degree no earlier than September 2015. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

To apply, please link to: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/4981>

Applications must include:

- (1) A cover letter;
(2) A statement of plans for work and their relation to the community's theme (under 1,000 words);
(3) A current curriculum vitae;
(4) Names and contact information for two references; and
(5) A representative sample of recent work (under 25 written pages or equivalent in the candidate's professional medium; for artistic work, links within a PDF preferred). The work sample need not be directly related to the theme of migration.

Application deadline: January 9, 2018 (11:59 PM EST).

For more information on PIIRS, see <http://piirs.princeton.edu/>. Questions about the application process for this position may be directed to Nicole Bergman (nbergman@princeton.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/9/2018

Date Posted: 11/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3757

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: RESEARCH PROFESSOR

http://careers.umich.edu/job\_detail/149488/research\_professor

Institute for Social Research Research Professor TrackSocial Science

The University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research (ISR) is seeking candidates for an open-rank appointment in the research professor track, with the potential for a joint appointment in a tenure-track position in another University of Michigan school or college. ISR seeks to recruit outstanding researchers with interests related to racial, ethnic, gender, and/or socioeconomic inequality.

The Institute for Social Research, founded in 1949, is one of the world's leading interdisciplinary social science research institutions. ISR's five research centers – Center for Political Studies, Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research, Population Studies Center, Research Center for Group Dynamics, and Survey Research Center – span a wide range of disciplines and methodological approaches. Research faculty positions in ISR include 100% ISR appointments as well as joint appointments with many departments and colleges across the university. For more information about ISR, please visit our web site: <http://home.isr.umich.edu/>

Potential units for joint appointments for this position include the School of Social Work, the School of Information, the Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy, the School of Public Health, or social science departments within the College of Literature, Science, and the Arts. Disciplinary background of applicants could be in any of several areas of relevance, including, for example, economics, education, political science, psychology, public health, social work, sociology, or statistics.

Required Qualifications***

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in a social science or related field by the time the position begins.

Senior candidates should demonstrate experience and success with externally-funded research, along with a national reputation and strong publication record.

How to Apply: Review of submitted credentials will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. All candidates should submit the following materials electronically to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/46573>

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

Three representative research papers or publications

Statement of current and future research plans

Statement of teaching experience

Junior candidates (new and recent PhDs): Three letters of recommendation

Senior candidates: Names of three references (letters will be solicited separately)

Additional Information

The Institute for Social Research at the University of Michigan seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the diverse people of Michigan, to maintain the excellence of the university, and to ground our research in varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. The University of Michigan is supportive of the needs of dual career couples and is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Background Screening

The University of Michigan conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer and may use a third party administrator to conduct background checks. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

U-M EEO/AAC Statement

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/8/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3755

Brown University: Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship

Specializations: Caribbean, Latin American, Latino Politics

The Center for Latin American and Caribbean Studies at the Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University invites applications for a one-year non-renewable postdoctoral fellowship as part of the Mellon Sawyer Seminar on Race and Indigeneity in the Americas. The successful applicant will have research and teaching interests that focus on race, racism, and indigeneity in the Americas. We seek candidates who can complement the Center's interdisciplinary strengths and contribute to the existing emphasis on race and racialization in Latin America, the Caribbean, and Latinx communities. Theoretical attention to questions of race, gender and sexuality is strongly encouraged.

The successful candidate must demonstrate scholarly promise and will be expected to collaborate with two graduate student fellows to coordinate workshops and seminars, co-curate a related exhibit, and contribute to the development of promotional materials. The postdoctoral fellow will teach an undergraduate course on race and indigeneity in Latin America and the Caribbean from the perspective of his/her own discipline.

Fellow will receive a salary of $60,000, benefits, and a research/travel fund of $3,000 per year.

Qualifications

The successful applicant will have research and teaching interests that focus on race, racism, and indigeneity in the Americas. We seek candidates who can complement the Center's interdisciplinary strengths and contribute to the existing emphasis on race and racialization in Latin America, the Caribbean, and Latinx communities. Theoretical attention to questions of race, gender and sexuality is strongly encouraged.

Ph.D. should be in hand by the start of the appointment on July 1, 2018.

Applicants must have received their Ph.D. in any discipline in the humanities or social sciences from institutions other than Brown.

Application Instructions

To apply, please submit through Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/46311>.

1) a cover letter, including a discussion of the relevance of your research and training to the Sawyer Seminar theme as well as a discussion of any prior experience organizing interdisciplinary, scholarly events; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a list of three referees; and 4) a brief undergraduate course proposal related to the Sawyer Seminar theme. Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3738

Columbia University

Rank: Visiting Professorships in the Core Curriculum

Columbia University invites applications for Visiting Professorships in the Core Curriculum for one academic year. The professorships are open to tenured faculty who have an active interest and accomplishments in liberal arts teaching and curricular development.

The visiting professors will be appointed in one of the Humanities or Social Science departments of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The visitors will each teach one year-long course in the Core Curriculum and possibly an additional course in their area of specialization. Visiting Professors will also pursue a scholarly project and develop a curricular plan for implementation at their home institution.

Ph.D. required. All candidates must be tenured at their home institution and have excellent record of liberal arts teaching and commitment to curricular development. Candidates for Visiting Professor should be widely recognized for their distinction and professional accomplishment. Candidates for Visiting Associate Professor should possess a demonstrated record of professional achievement and show great promise for attaining distinction in their fields of specialization.

Interest or experience in academic administration preferred.

All applications must be made through Columbia University's online Recruitment of Academic Personnel System (RAPS): academicjobs.columbia.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=65440

Applicants should upload the following materials into RAPS: a letter of application, curriculum vitae, the names of two persons who may be asked to provide a letter of reference, a proposal for a scholarly project and a curriculum development plan with an attached letter of support for the curricular plan from the relevant senior academic officer at the home institution.

Review will begin December 1, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled.

For more information, go to: <https://www.college.columbia.edu/core-center/visiting-prof>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3738

Qatar University

Rank: Lead Methodologist

Lead Methodologist

The Social and Economic Survey Research Institute (SESRI) at Qatar University invites applications for a full-time Lead Methodologist based in Doha, Qatar. The position is attached to SESRI's recently-formed Randomized Controlled Trials (RCT) Unit within the Policy Department. The RCT Unit will push the boundaries of SESRI's policy work to new levels of scientific rigor and practical applicability, and ensure that SESRI and Qatar University remain at the forefront of social science research in the region.

The Lead Methodologist will be responsible for the design, implementation, and analysis of RCTs experiments, and may also contribute to proposing relevant and timely interventions. This position will work under the supervision of the Policy Department Manager and will be responsible for setting the agenda of SESRI's RCT interventions, oversee the successful implementation and completion of trials, monitor and observe the intervention and control groups closely, as well as develop and write proposals, reports, and other outputs for a wide variety of audiences. Applicants should possess expert-level knowledge and understanding of social sciences, economics, or other related field, with a demonstrated record of design and analysis of randomized controlled trials for the purposes of policy evaluation. Three or more years of relevant work experience is required, as well as knowledge of pertinent research and analytical methods. Applicants should possess strong research and analytical skills and demonstrate the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in both written and verbal forms. Quantitative analytical skills, experience using survey data, and experience working on the Gulf in particular or Middle East in general will be considered favorably. A PhD in Economics or relevant social sciences field is required.

This full-time position carries an initial three-year term, with a start date that is negotiable, and the possibility of a renewal upon mutual agreement.

Applications will be reviewed beginning on January 15, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

Compensation includes a competitive salary, which is tax-free in Qatar (but persons will still be responsible for any applicable taxes from their country of origin), along with a generous fringe benefits package that includes health insurance. Furnished housing is also provided at no additional cost outside of expenses such as utilities, cable, and Internet access. Applicants will have their flight and moving expenses paid for at the beginning and end of their appointment, as well as one round-trip flight home annually. Educational allowances for up to three accompanying children will also be available.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, recent curriculum vita, concise statement of research interests, writing sample or representative publication, confidential letter of reference from someone familiar with the candidate's work, and the names and contact information of two additional referees to rctsearch@qu.edu.qa

About SESRI: SESRI is an academic survey research institute established in 2008 at Qatar University in close association with the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. It undertakes original and groundbreaking surveys of citizens and residents of Qatar and other Gulf Cooperation Council states via telephone and face-to-face interviews, amassing a diverse collection of data unparalleled in the region. Previous areas of study include, among others, education, gender, labor, politics, regional integration, and survey methodology. SESRI has partnered with the World Values Survey, the World Economic Forum's Executive Opinion Survey, and other international survey efforts, and since 2010 has secured more than $5.3 million in external project funding through the Qatar National Research Fund. Widely recognized for their quality and variety, SESRI data have appeared in such forums as Foreign Affairs, Middle East Journal, and Middle East Policy. Established in June 2014, SESRI's Policy Unit utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirical-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: 1/15/2018Date Posted: 11/6/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3729RAND Corporation*Rank: Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship

The RAND Corporation is accepting applications for up to three Stanton Nuclear Security Fellows. The application deadline is January 15, 2018.

The Stanton Nuclear Security Fellows Program was created to stimulate the development of the next generation of thought leaders on nuclear security related topics by supporting interdisciplinary research that will advance policy-relevant understanding of the issues.

Fellows carry out a year-long period of independent research. During their RAND tenure, fellows are expected to produce policy-relevant studies that contribute to the general body of knowledge on nuclear security. Fellows are located at one of three U.S. RAND offices: Santa Monica, CA; Washington, DC; or Pittsburgh, PA.

Doctoral students will receive a $50,000 stipend, post-doctoral fellows will receive an $80,000 stipend, and junior faculty fellows will receive a $110,000 stipend.

Preference will go to candidates who are post-doctoral students or junior faculty members. Doctoral students may be considered if they have a well-defined dissertation topic in the field of nuclear security and are enrolled in a widely recognized graduate program, and must include as part of their application at least three dissertation chapters (that have been approved by the candidate's adviser for submission). Junior faculty at law schools or with a law degree as their terminal degree are eligible. Prior experience is broadly defined to include disciplines such as nuclear policy, security, engineering, physics, and related fields.

The Stanton Foundation was created by former CBS President Frank Stanton, who is widely regarded as one of the greatest executives in electronic communications. In 1954, President Eisenhower appointed Stanton to a committee convened to develop the first comprehensive plan for the survival of the United States following a nuclear attack. Stanton led the effort to develop plans for national and international communication in the aftermath of a nuclear incident.

Stanton also served as the chairman (1961–67) and trustee (1957–78) of RAND. The Stanton Foundation aims, through its support of the Nuclear Security Fellows program, to perpetuate his efforts to meet these challenges.

For more information, contact Sarah Harting at (703) 413-1100, ext. 5675 or Sarah\_Harting@rand.org.
www.rand.org/stanton

Start Date:*Application Deadline: 1/15/2018Date Posted: 11/3/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3729University of Oklahoma*Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

As part of a multi-year, cross-discipline strategic hiring and growth initiative in Early Childhood, the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Oklahoma (OU) seeks applications and informal candidate nominations for a faculty opening at the rank of Assistant or Tenured Associate Professor. The disciplinary background for this position is open, and applicants from psychology, sociology, social work, political science, anthropology, and other relevant areas will be considered. The successful candidate will play a key role in shaping and building a cross-discipline Early Childhood research initiative. Over the next several years, we anticipate multiple Early Childhood hires in varied disciplines and colleges to augment OU's cutting-edge academic programming and research in Early Childhood; this cross-campus initiative includes Arts & Sciences, Education, Medicine, Engineering, and allied areas.

Ideal candidates will have established reputations for high-quality interdisciplinary scholarship, evidenced by (a) externally funded and published collaborative research, (b) effective graduate and undergraduate teaching and program development, and (c) inclusive service and professional outreach. The successful candidate will contribute to the University's growing national reputation for excellence in Early Childhood and enhance university-wide research capabilities through offering expertise in neurobiological processes (e.g., cortisol and HPA axis) associated with early adversity, as well as more generally the social, community, and psychological determinants (both proximal and distal) of children's development, health, and well-being. We also welcome expertise in innovative assessments, methodologies, and multilevel, longitudinal data analysis.

About the University of Oklahoma: Established in 1890, the University of Oklahoma is the flagship public research university in the state of Oklahoma (Carnegie Classification R1: highest research activity), with over 30,000 students and more than 2700 full-time faculty members offering nearly 500 different graduate and undergraduate degrees programs on three campuses (Norman, Oklahoma City, and Tulsa). OU continues to break external sponsored research and private fundraising records, including more than $2.3 billion in gifts and pledges since 1994, providing funding for dramatic capital improvements, as well as an unparalleled increase in faculty endowment and student scholarships. OU is the only public university in U.S. history to ever rank first among both public and private universities in freshman National Merit Scholar enrollment. OU is a leader in international exchange and study abroad programs, offering programs in 79 countries and over 223 cities on six continents. OU has one of the oldest comprehensive colleges of fine arts in the Great Plains states, with highly-regarded schools of Music, Musical Theatre, Drama, Art and Dance, and programs in opera and sculpture. The OU College of Law is Oklahoma's premiere law school and The Michael F. Price College is ranked as one of the nation's top business schools. The OU Health Sciences Center is one of only four comprehensive academic health centers in the nation with seven professional schools, including more than 660 doctors practicing in nearly every adult and child specialty.

OU Research & Innovation: In 2013, the Norman research campus was named the No.1 research campus in the nation by the Association of Research Parks. Adjacent to the beautiful and historic Main campus in Norman, with 277 acres and over 1 million square feet of high-tech facilities located along the Oklahoma Technology Corridor, the research campus hosts the National Weather Center and affiliated organizations, the National Institute for Risk & Resilience, the South Central Climate Science Center, the Center for Applied Social Research, the WaTER Center, and the FAA Center of Excellence for Technical Training & Human Performance, among numerous others. By synergistically co-locating State and Federal agency research and operational organizations, along with more than a dozen private companies and several University centers and academic programs, the Norman research campus creates a uniquely rich environment for collaboration, innovation, and commercialization. Over the last 20 years, OU's Office of Technology Development has helped faculty and other partners launch dozens of new companies that have generated more than $75 million in capital.

Local Community & Culture: The city of Norman, Oklahoma, is a perennial contender on "best place to live" rankings with outstanding schools, amenities, a low cost of living, small town charm, a variety of recreational opportunities, four distinct seasons, and more than 225 days of sunshine each year. Norman is located 20 miles south of Oklahoma City, the Capital and economic hub of the state of Oklahoma. The Oklahoma City Metroplex, including Norman and several other suburban cities, is home to about 1.5 million residents, offering all the amenities of a major modern metropolitan community, including rich cultural diversity and heritage, an abundance of the arts, superb dining and night-life, major sporting and concert events, family entertainment, recreational adventure activities, and much more.

The University of Oklahoma is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and encourages diversity in the workplace. We strongly encourage applications from women, members of minority groups, veterans, those with disabilities, the LGBTQ community, and all others who are committed to excellence, inclusion, and diversity. The University of Oklahoma is also sensitive to the needs of dual-career couples. To the extent that opportunities exist, our goal is to recruit the whole family, not just the candidate.

QUALIFICATIONS

To be considered for this position, candidates must have a Ph.D. and evidence of excellence in Early Childhood scholarship. Successful candidates must demonstrate strong interest in contributing to the University's cross-campus, cross-discipline Early Childhood initiative; and a willingness to collaborate with the established research activities of the Early Childhood Education Institute (ECEI) located on the Tulsa Campus of OU; <http://www.ou.edu/content/tulsa/early-childhood-education-institute.html>. Candidates must also have an established record of excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching, and be prepared to expand course offerings in their area of specialization. An established history of successful leadership and/or collaboration on funded research involving multidisciplinary teams is a highly-preferred qualification.

The University of Oklahoma is committed to investing in the success of its faculty at all stages of their careers. The University offers unique and essential research and professional development resources characteristic of a Flagship Public Research University. It is expected that the successful candidate will be affiliated with the Early Childhood Education Institute (ECEI). By mutual agreement, the successful candidate may also affiliate with other University-wide strategic research organizations and centers (e.g., the Center for Applied Social Research, the National Institute for Risk & Resilience). Salary, benefits, and start-up packages are highly-competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

To apply, please submit the following materials:

- a cover letter specifically addressing position fit, qualifications, and background
- a curriculum vitae
- three confidential letters of recommendation
- up to 3 publications/working papers
- a brief statement of research interests (e.g., 300-2000 words)
- a brief statement of teaching philosophy and interests (e.g., 300-2000 words)

Consideration of applications will begin immediately. For full consideration, submit application materials by January 1, 2018. The position will remain open until filled. All application materials must be submitted electronically using the OU Career web site [<http://apply.interfolio.com/45790>] (see the "apply now" link at the bottom of the page).

**For help signing up, accessing your account, or submitting your application please check out our help and support section or get in touch via email at help@interfolio.com or phone at (877) 997-8807.

Please send inquiries, informal candidate nominations, and other suggestions or comments to the co-chairs of the search committee, Dr. Diane Horm (dhorm@ou.edu) and Dr. Eric Day (eday@ou.edu).

The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations, does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, generic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, and educational services.

APPLY NOW: <http://apply.interfolio.com/45790>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3688

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship at UCLA

The Project on Resources, Development, and Governance (PRDG) is a network of social scientists, policymakers, non-governmental organizations and industry representatives dedicated to finding policies that promote welfare, peace, and accountability in resource-rich countries. Its goals are to seed new research projects involving social scientists and practitioners and promote evidence-based policymaking. It is supported by grants from the Hewlett Foundation, the Natural Resources Governance Institute, and UCLA's Luskin Center for Innovation.

PRDG is soliciting applications for a two-year Post-Doctoral Fellowship beginning in Fall 2018 to support innovative research on programs addressing the economic and political challenges facing resource-rich countries. Applicants must have completed a Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, Public Policy or a related field in the last five years or have the Ph.D. expected in AY 2018-19; have ongoing or planned research projects on natural resources and development or governance in low or middle-income countries; and have strong training in quantitative research methods, particularly causal inference.

PRDG Fellows are expected to be in residence during the fellowship period and will receive applicable UCLA benefits. They will be based at UCLA's Political Science Department and the Luskin School of Public Affairs, and supervised by Professor Michael Ross. The Fellow will also engage with the co-PIs based at UCLA, Graeme Blair and Darin Christensen.

In addition to conducting independent research and (optionally) develop joint research with the co-PIs, the Fellow will work up to 10 hours a week on PRDG projects that may include: identifying and engaging with organizations implementing programs in this sector; crafting PRDG's research agenda, including drafting a white paper that reviews research on natural resources, governance, and development; and helping draft and edit policy briefs based on PRDG research.

The position is compensated with a competitive salary and outstanding UCLA benefits.

To apply, please fill out this Google form: <https://goo.gl/forms/KDN5pNgOFQ8cqwVH2>

We particularly encourage women and scholars of color to apply.

Applications are due by January 1, 2018.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination and Affirmative Action Policy at <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/24/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3680

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Director

The Johns Hopkins University seeks to appoint the inaugural Director of the SNF Agora Institute at JHU, a collaboration between the University and the Stavros Niarchos Foundation to forge new ways to facilitate the restoration of open and inclusive discourse that is the cornerstone of healthy democracies. Established with a $150 million gift from the Foundation and housed in the University's Krieger School of Arts and Sciences, the Institute will become a leading academic and public forum bringing together experts from a range of fields in order to design and test mechanisms for improving dialogue, decision-making, and social engagement. The Director will have an extraordinary opportunity to build and shape the Institute's faculty, programs, physical space, and reputation.

The Director will report to the Dean of the Krieger School and will work with the President and Provost and an international advisory board to fulfill the potential of the Agora vision. The Director will be a tenured member of the Arts and Sciences faculty and may have additional appointments elsewhere at Hopkins.

Candidates must possess academic stature worthy of appointment as full professor and a reputation that will attract attention to the Institute. The Director will exemplify both the inter-disciplinary and trans-national ethos of the Institute and will have a track record of academic leadership and effective development and management of human, financial, and programmatic resources. S/he will have shown a strong commitment to enhancing diversity and inclusion.

Johns Hopkins University has retained Opus Partners to support this recruitment. Please send recommendations, nominations, or questions to lead Partner Craig Smith, PhD, via email: craig.smith@opuspartners.net. The search will continue in confidence until the Director is appointed, but candidates should submit their materials (c.v. and cover letter as separate PDF files) before December 1, 2017. The University intends to make this appointment effective no later than July 1, 2018.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3666

University of Delaware

Rank: Associate Professor of Political Psychology

University of Delaware

College of Arts & Sciences

Department of Political Science and International Relations

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL PSYCHOLOGY

Location: Newark, DE

---

The University of Delaware's academic leadership has identified the Department Political Science and International Relations (<http://www.poscir.udel.edu>) (POSCIR) as a priority for academic growth and prominence. The POSCIR department aims to add a highly productive political psychology scholar to our nationally and internationally known faculty. The search is for a tenured associate professor of political psychology to begin September 1, 2018. While we anticipate making a tenured appointment at the Associate Professor level, we encourage advanced Assistant Professors to apply. The position will have a 75% appointment in POSCIR and a 25% appointment in the Department of Psychological and Brain Sciences (www.psych.udel.edu) (PSYCH).

We seek a scholar with an exemplary record of publishing, securing research funding, and teaching in political psychology. The ideal candidate will be a nationally and internationally recognized scholar with an interest in actively building the interdisciplinary political psychology field at UD, and developing an interdisciplinary political psychology lab.

We construe political psychology broadly, but are particularly interested in scholars who build upon our strengths in: the politics of racial, ethnic, gender, and other social identities; international security, conflict, and violence; political communication; the dynamics of public attitudes and behavior; and experimental and other research methodologies. The exact substantive area is open – scholarly excellence is preferred above all else. The successful candidate will have opportunities to associate with new facilities on campus, including the 11,600 square foot Center for Biomedical and Brain Imaging (<https://www.psych.udel.edu/research/fmri-center>), housing a 3T Siemens Magnetom Prisma and transcranial magnetic stimulation machine, and the newly formed Biden Institute (<https://www.sppa.udel.edu/bideninstitute>), a research and policy center devoted to solving the most pressing domestic policy problems facing America.

The PSYCH Department is simultaneously conducting a political psychology search (<http://apply.interfolio.com/46266>), with a 75% appointment in that department, and 25% in POSCIR. Applicants may wish to consider either position, depending on their primary discipline. The goal of this position, and others, is to strengthen the prominence and impact of collaborative interdisciplinary social science research at UD.

POSCIR, which resides within the College of Arts and Sciences, has 23 full-time faculty, nearly 850 undergraduate majors and minors and 39 graduate (mostly doctoral) students. The Department offers two undergraduate majors (Political Science and International Relations) and two undergraduate minors (Political Science and Political Communication) as well as a Ph.D. in Political Science. The department faculty covers four subfields of political science: American politics (including public law and U.S. foreign policy), comparative politics, international relations and political theory. The POSCIR faculty is methodologically diverse, and a collegial group of research-intensive scholars, outstanding teachers, engaged mentors, and committed advisers and public servants.

Applicants should submit a cover letter outlining interest in the position, academic strengths and proposed contributions to the above stated goals, and vision for a research laboratory; and a current CV that includes up to date contact information. The committee will request letters of recommendation at a later date. Questions, but not application materials, should be e-mailed to Professor Phil Jones (pejones@udel.edu), Chair, Political Psychology Search Committee. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1743, the University of Delaware (www.udel.edu) combines tradition and innovation, offering students a rich heritage along with the latest in instructional and research technology. Located in scenic Newark, Delaware, within 2 hours of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C., the University is one of the oldest land-grant institutions in the nation, one of 19 sea-grant institutions, and one of only 13 space-grant institutions. With external funding exceeding $200 million, the University ranks among the top 100 universities in federal R&D support for science and engineering and has nationally recognized research (Carnegie rated, very high research activity). With 23 academic departments, 27 interdisciplinary programs and centers, and more than 10,000 students, the College of Arts and Sciences is the largest college on campus (www.cas.udel.edu).

UD recognizes and values the importance of diversity and inclusion in enriching the employment experience of its employees and in supporting the academic mission. The University is committed to attracting and retaining employees with varying identities and backgrounds, and this is a primary goal for our department. We provide equal access to and opportunity in its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge. Apply Now:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/46263>

The University of Delaware is an Equal Opportunity Employer which encourages applications from Minority Group Members, Women, Individuals with Disabilities and Veterans. The University's Notice of Non-Discrimination can be found at <http://www.udel.edu/aboutus/legalnotices.html>

The University of Delaware does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, religion, age, veteran status, gender identity or expression, or sexual orientation in its employment, educational programs and activities, and admissions as required by Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and other applicable statutes and University policies. The University of Delaware prohibits sexual harassment, including sexual violence.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3653

New College of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor, Gender Studies

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with scholarly expertise in gender, broadly interpreted to embrace interdisciplinary and disciplinary approaches, to begin August 2018. The successful candidate's primary appointment will be either in their home discipline or joint with Gender Studies, as appropriate. This position is part of the first phase of a three-year College growth plan, with several cluster hires meant to support an interdisciplinary liberal arts approach.

We are open with respect to research and teaching interests. However, the successful candidate's work must engage with questions of intersectionality and we encourage those with expertise in transnational feminisms, the global south, or diasporic studies to apply. We will consider a variety of methodological approaches, although quantitative expertise would especially complement our existing strengths. We are particularly interested in applicants with PhDs in gender/women's/feminist/sexuality studies; we also welcome applications from those trained in other interdisciplinary fields, the social sciences, humanities, or natural sciences who have a graduate certificate or significant interdisciplinary training in gender studies. Receipt of the PhD is expected by the time of appointment.

Candidates should be prepared to teach an Introduction to Gender Studies course and additional courses in their areas of expertise. The teaching responsibility is two courses per semester plus sponsoring individual and group tutorials. In addition to classes and tutorials, faculty members provide academic advising, supervise independent study projects, sponsor senior undergraduate theses/projects, and serve on baccalaureate committees. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to work collaboratively with faculty from across campus to develop the existing Gender Studies Program. Faculty are also expected to establish and maintain a strong program of research or creative work.

New College is committed to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty interested in working in a multicultural environment. We strongly encourage applications from women, LGBTQ+, underrepresented groups, and those whose knowledge or skills support an inclusive culture and learning environment.

Applications (submitted online at <http://www.ncf.edu/employment>) should include: a cover letter, CV, unofficial graduate transcript, description of teaching philosophy, brief course descriptions for Introduction to Gender Studies and one or two upper-level courses in your area of expertise (~300 words each), a research statement, and a statement regarding your contributions or approaches to supporting an inclusive culture and learning environment. Please also arrange to have three reference letters (at least one of which should speak to your teaching abilities) sent to: gendersearch@ncf.edu. We will begin reviewing files October 23rd, and continue until the position is filled.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, selective public honors college with a 10:1 student/faculty ratio. Students are intellectually independent and highly motivated. Undergraduate research has a central role in the curriculum, and a senior thesis/project is required of all students. Students receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. New College is committed to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and encourages collaborative student-faculty scholarship. www.ncf.edu.

According to Florida law, applications and meetings regarding applications are open to the public upon request. Applicants who need reasonable accommodations in order to participate in the selection process must notify the chair of the search committee 48 hours in advance of a meeting. New College is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access Institution.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/23/2017

Date Posted: 10/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3644

Davidson College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Africana Studies Department at Davidson College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Africana Studies with an emphasis in Africana politics and/or economics, starting July 1, 2018. Preference will be given to candidates who can complement our existing strengths in history, sociology, and literature by bringing expertise in the political economy of Africa and/or the African Diaspora. The successful candidate will be able to develop and teach the Africana methods course as well as Introduction to Africana Studies. Collaborations with Political Science, Economics, Environmental Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, and/or Philosophy are encouraged, as are cross-listing courses with these areas. We are looking for a committed teacher-scholar who will maintain an active research agenda, participate in departmental and college-wide initiatives, advise and mentor students, supervise student research, and participate actively in curriculum building.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. (in hand before July 1, 2018) in Africana Studies, Political Science, Economics, and/or Philosophy is preferred although candidates with specializations in additional fields that are underrepresented in our department will also be considered.

Basic Functions:

We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on Africana politics and/or economics. We encourage applicants with teaching and research interests in Africana Studies in one or more of the following areas: electoral politics, political theory, black political economy, development and underdevelopment theory, gerrymandering/gentrification, environmental justice, criminal justice, carceral studies, immigration, colonialism, and/or capitalism and slavery.

The candidate must show clear evidence of an active research agenda, demonstrated or potential excellence in teaching, and interest in departmental and college-wide initiatives that promote Africana Studies. Regular teaching load is five courses over two semesters, with four courses in the first year. These include Introduction to Africana Studies, 300-level methods course, and courses in the applicant's areas of expertise. The successful candidate will also mentor undergraduate research projects. The candidate is expected to participate in an active young department with a vision of Africana Studies that celebrates interdisciplinary teaching and scholarship and a transnational and diasporic focus.

Application Procedures: Deadline for submissions is December 1. All interested applicants should apply online at <http://employment.davidson.edu>. The following materials are required:

1. Letter of application describing research and teaching interests,
2. Curriculum Vitae,
3. Unofficial graduate transcripts (official ones will be required before hire),

4. Teaching dossier (1-page statement of inclusive pedagogy and 2 sample syllabi)
5. One sample publication, or article-length manuscript
6. Names and email addresses for at least three references who are prepared to provide letters of recommendation.

All questions can be directed to the Search Committee Co-Chairs, Devyn Spence Benson and Laurian Bowles at africanapoliecon@davidson.edu.

Other Information: Davidson College is a highly selective, independent liberal arts college located 20 miles north of the city of Charlotte. The College has graduated 23 Rhodes Scholars and is consistently ranked among the top liberal arts colleges in the country. Davidson faculty enjoy a low faculty-student ratio, emphasis on and appreciation of excellence in teaching, and a collegial, respectful atmosphere that honors academic achievement and integrity. Davidson is strongly committed to achieving excellence and cultural diversity, and welcomes applications from women, members of minority groups, and others who would bring additional dimensions to the college's mission.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/1/2017

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3597

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Director of Global Studies Program

Vanderbilt University invites applications from established scholar-teachers in the social sciences and the humanities to serve as the inaugural Director of a new Global Studies Program in the College of Arts & Science. We seek applicants with proven leadership abilities, whose research and teaching engage issues of global concern informed by interdisciplinary insights, as well as firm grounding and demonstrated accomplishments in a discipline. Substantive themes of interest include, but are not limited to, migration and diaspora; health, environment, and sustainability; political economy; global humanities; and conflict and peace studies, either current or historical.

We anticipate that the appointment will be made at the Associate or Full Professor rank in the Global Studies Program and an appropriate home department. All applications must include 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae (including relevant language, method, and field experience), 3) research statement, 4) a recent piece of scholarship, and 5) a list of three references. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Interested candidates must apply online at <https://apply.interfolio.com/45834>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3578

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Other

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Immigration Policy Lab, Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Position: Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow to join the Immigration Policy Lab (www.immigrationpolicylab.org). The Immigration Policy Lab conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and cutting-edge analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who directly serve immigrant communities, our research can inspire solutions and ultimately improve lives.

The Immigration Policy Lab reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of projects related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller, Jeremy Weinstein, and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, survey design, data acquisition, data analysis and interpretation of results. Additionally, the postdoc will work closely with faculty, staff and partner organizations in developing and designing innovative policies and programs to pilot and evaluate. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects related to immigration policy evaluation.

Qualifications: The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science program, with a preference for Political Science, Economics, or Sociology. She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, and data analysis. Experience in running and analyzing field experiments and/or conducting quasi-experimental program evaluations would be highly useful. Knowledge of immigration/refugee policy, with the ability to operate in a language other than English, will also be highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Appointment: The initial appointment will be for one year beginning between January and June 2018, with an expected renewal for a second year contingent on satisfactory performance and funding. Salary is negotiable and based on experience. Benefits are provided. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample and at least two letters of recommendation. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process. Applications will only be accepted through AcademicJobsOnline.com (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10036>, ID 10036). Applications should be submitted by November 17, 2017, though applications may be considered after the deadline. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the Executive Director of the Immigration Policy Lab, Duncan Lawrence directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc 2017).

Start Date: Summer 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/5/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3569University of North Carolina, Charlotte*Rank: Chair, Department of Africana StudiesSpecializations: African American Politics, Africa, Latin American

Chair, Department of Africana Studies, University of North Carolina at Charlotte

Senior level twelve-month appointment beginning July 1, 2018.

Applications are invited from candidates in any disciplinary tradition whose teaching and research demonstrate a commitment to Africana Studies as an interdisciplinary enterprise and a vision that holistically embraces the experiences of peoples of African descent with emphasis on Africa, the United States, the Caribbean, and Latin America. Candidates should (1) have a doctoral degree, (2) be a tenured associate or full professor with credentials and experience that are appropriate for a senior level appointment at UNC Charlotte, (3) have administrative experience that demonstrates potential for success as a department chair, (4) have a commitment to the education of the department's diverse student population, and (5) have a strong interest in community engagement. A record of success in securing program-related funding is highly desirable. Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their teaching and research.

The Department of Africana Studies at UNC Charlotte has eight core faculty whose disciplinary affiliations include both the humanities and social sciences; the department also has close curricular and faculty connections with departments and programs across the University. More than 25 faculty in other units are affiliated with the Africana Studies department. The department enjoys a collegial and collaborative culture, and its faculty are committed to advancing scholarship, and serving students and community. The department offers a B.A. in Africana Studies (with an optional Concentration in Health and Environment), a minor in Africana Studies, and a Graduate Certificate in Africana Studies.

UNC Charlotte is a rapidly growing doctoral-granting urban university located in the largest metropolitan area between Washington DC, and Atlanta. The University is a Carnegie Foundation Community Engagement campus. Close to 29,000 culturally diverse students currently are enrolled at the University. As the largest college at UNC Charlotte, the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences houses 20 departments in the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, and natural sciences, as well as 25 applied research centers and interdisciplinary programs. It offers eight doctoral degrees, 36 master's degrees and graduate certificates, and 34 undergraduate degrees.

Applications must be made electronically at <https://jobs.uncc.edu> (position number 005161). We are asking applicants to submit a letter of interest including your vision for the department, curriculum vitae, and the names of three referees. AA/EOE employer: minorities, persons with disabilities, and women are especially encouraged to apply. Screening of applications will begin November 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. For more information please contact the chair of the search committee, Dr. Gregory Weeks at gbweeks@uncc.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/4/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3562New College of Florida*Rank: Assistant Professor (open field) in Migration Studies

New College of Florida invites applications for a tenure-track position as Assistant Professor focusing on Migration Studies. This position is open with regard to field of Ph.D., and the appointment will be in that field with the opportunity of a joint appointment in another field or interdisciplinary program. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in a relevant discipline, teaching experience, a career interest in liberal arts education, and a vibrant research agenda. The person filling this line will be expected to teach courses on migration and build and coordinate interdisciplinary initiatives related to this subject, as well as contribute to the curriculum in the field of appointment. Experience using and teaching GIS and a willingness to guide students in developing GIS research skills is highly valued. The candidate must have completed the Ph.D. by the start of employment in August 2018.

Situated on the Gulf Coast of Florida and Sarasota Bay, New College is a nationally recognized, highly selective public honors college with an 11:1 student/faculty ratio. Students are intellectually independent and highly motivated. Undergraduate research has a central role in the curriculum, and a senior thesis or project is required of all students. Students receive narrative evaluations in lieu of grades. We are committed to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research and encourage collaborative student-faculty scholarship. The teaching load is two courses per semester plus sponsoring individual and group tutorials. Faculty members also provide academic advising, supervise independent study projects, sponsor senior theses, and serve on baccalaureate committees. Professors are expected to maintain a program of research or creative work. We are particularly interested in candidates with a commitment to innovative undergraduate liberal arts teaching.

Candidates should apply on-line at <https://www.ncf.edu/employment> and upload the following: a cover letter; c.v.; statements regarding teaching philosophy, the candidate's contributions or approaches to supporting an inclusive culture and learning environment, and research interests; syllabi; teaching evaluations; one writing sample (article or chapter length); and unofficial graduate transcript(s). In addition, please ask at least three references to send signed letters on letterhead electronically to MigrationSearch@ncf.edu or in hard copy to: Migration Search, Division of Social Sciences, New College of Florida, 5800 Bay Shore Rd, Sarasota, FL 34243. According to Florida law, applications and meetings regarding applications are open to the public upon request. Applicants who need accommodations in order to participate in the selection process must notify the chair of the search committee 48 hours in advance of a meeting. For questions about the application process, please contact Ms. Kristi Fecteau at kfecteau@ncf.edu. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/2/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3551

Princeton University*Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from a mix of disciplines who are engaged in scholarly or creative work on topics related to Latin American Studies to fill one to two Postdoctoral [or more senior] Research Associate positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than 1 course per semester. They also will be invited to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

Appointments are for a 12-month term, starting September 1, 2018, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding. A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, applications should be submitted by January 5, 2018, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/1902>.

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Curriculum vitae
- 3) Statement of research interests (one-two pages)
- 4) A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent in the candidate's professional medium; for artistic work, links within a PDF preferred).
- 5) Names and contact information for three references (the Program will contact them, if needed, at a later date)

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree. Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 1/5/2018Date Posted: 9/26/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3509Purdue University*Rank: Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Purdue University seeks applications for a tenured full professor with the area of expertise open. The position will start in August 2018.

The successful candidate will have an excellent record of research and teaching in any subfield of political science. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to one or more of the department's cross-cutting research areas in the politics of groups and identities; environmental politics and policy; and human security and political violence. Desired qualifications include a record of attracting external funding; teaching excellence; and a commitment to diversity and inclusion. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or a related discipline is required. Credentials commensurate with a full professor are required. A successful candidate is expected to teach undergraduate and graduate level courses.

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive institution and a public land-grant university. The Political Science Department is home to the journal Politics, Groups, and Identities. Faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for the Environment, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, Peace Studies, Asian Studies, the Purdue Systems Collaboratory, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. Many faculty hold joint appointments or affiliations with other departments and programs, including Communication, African American Studies, Civil Engineering, Industrial Engineering, and Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. The department offers graduate certificates in Social Policy and Environmental Policy to students across campus and anticipates developing a professional master's program in public policy. The department is also home to the director of the award-winning C-SPAN Archives, located at the Purdue Research Park.

Application materials should be submitted electronically as .pdf attachments to Ms. Annie Wheeldon at politicalscience@purdue.edu. Applications should include a letter discussing the applicant's interest in the position and a curriculum vitae. Letters of recommendation may be requested at a later date.

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these in their cover letter, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin November 1, 2017, and continue until the position is filled. Please address questions to search committee chair Dr. S. Laurel Weldon, weldons@purdue.edu. A background check will be required for employment in this position.

Purdue University is an EOE/AE employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 11/7/2017Date Posted: 9/20/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3460Princeton University*Rank: Postdoctoral Positions in Values and Public Policy*Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Public AdministrationSpecializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Environmental Policy, Civil Rights & Liberties

The University Center for Human Values and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for postdoctoral positions in Values and Public Policy. We aim to support highly promising scholars trained in moral and political philosophy, political theory, normative economics and related areas to develop a research agenda in the ethical dimensions of public policy.

Candidates selected will undertake a research project exploring a normative problem arising in an area of public policy in which the Woodrow Wilson School conducts research. They will be affiliated with a unit of the School that can inform and support their work. They will also be invited to participate in programs of the University Center for Human Values. Candidates will be expected to contribute the equivalent of one course each year to the undergraduate or graduate programs of the School or the University Center. This contribution may be fulfilled by teaching a course on a topic related to ethical issues in public policy, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval by the Dean of the Faculty, or service to the School or Center.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a Ph.D. and should not have held the degree for more than three years by the date of appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment.

Applicants' dissertation research need not be specifically in values and public policy, but they will be expected to demonstrate a commitment to working on a research project in this area during their time at Princeton. Projects must be related to an area in which the School has a Center or Program (such as science and environmental policy, health and well-being, democratic institutions and processes, information technology policy or globalization and governance). For more information about these areas, please consult <http://wws.princeton.edu/centers-programs>.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments, the promise of the proposed research project in values and public policy, and the likelihood that the project will be enhanced by being carried out at the Woodrow Wilson School. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment

The term of appointment is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2018, with the expectation of renewal for one further year assuming good performance. Applicants are expected to be in residence for the duration of the appointment. Princeton offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad Positions/position/2245>

A complete application will include the following materials:

1. A current curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words), conforming to the expectations stated above. Please identify the Woodrow Wilson School center or program with which you wish to be associated and briefly describe what you hope to gain from carrying out the project there. Also please supply an indicative title for the project at the beginning of the proposal;
3. A scholarly paper or dissertation chapter (not to exceed 12,000 words) representing your scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who will be asked to comment specifically on your qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials should be submitted online by Monday, November 13, 2017. We cannot accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference are to be submitted by end of business day on Thursday, November 16, 2017. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately and applications lacking any of the elements listed above may be at a disadvantage. Decisions will be announced in March 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/13/2017

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3447

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a spring 2018 semester adjunct instructor position leading the Internship Seminar as part of the Carnegie Mellon University Washington Semester Program (CMU/WSP) in Washington, DC.

In the semester-long CMU/WSP, students live, work, and study in Washington, DC, coming into direct contact with political, business, and community leaders and learning about the most pressing policy issues of the day.

CMU/WSP students intern three days per week in any sector or field of interest within Washington, DC, while taking classes in the late afternoons and evenings. IPS sponsors events and policy-oriented opportunities in Washington for participating students to further enrich their experience and enhance their understanding of how Washington functions as a hub of international and public policy decision making.

The adjunct instructor will teach the Internship Seminar for the program. The internship is the experiential "core" of the Washington Semester Program. In conjunction with their part-time internship, students meet weekly for the Internship Seminar to report and reflect on their internship experiences, often joined by DC-based CMU alumni working in a variety of professional fields. The internship and Internship Seminar have three major sets of goals and expected learning outcomes: knowledge goals, skill development, and personal and professional growth. Together, the internship and Internship Seminar require approximately 27-28 hours of student work per week.

The adjunct instructor position will run from January 16, 2018 to May 4, 2018. The instructor will be paid $15,000 for teaching the course. This is a part-time position.

The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on October 20, 2017.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter stating the applicant's academic background and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach or has taught); and
- Contact information for two references.

Please email your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/14/2017
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 3419

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the Program in Jewish Studies at the University of Colorado at Boulder invite applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant Professor level in Religion and Politics or Minorities in Politics or Jewish Studies. The appointment begins in August 2018. The search will focus on but will not be limited to scholars with a research interest in Jewish Studies. Priority will be given to candidates whose teaching interests include Jews and Judaism in the public sphere, anti-Semitism in American politics, or the politics of the Jewish experience in America, for example. The position will be fully rostered in Political Science, with teaching split evenly between the two academic units. Because the position requires substantial undergraduate teaching in Jewish Studies, the successful candidate must have demonstrable strength and interest in teaching in courses in the area of Jewish Studies. The University of Colorado Boulder is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. Members of underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply. Applications are accepted electronically at <https://www.jobsatcu.com>, posting #10194, and should include a letter of interest along with a current CV, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and the names and email addresses of three references. Candidates who have completed a PhD in political science and those who are ABD may apply. ABDs will be hired at the instructor level and will be allowed up to two years to complete the PhD. PhDs will be hired at the Assistant Professor level. Please direct inquiries to the Political Science/Jewish Studies Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 333 UCB, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO 80309-0333. See www.colorado.edu/ArtsSciences/Jobs/ for full job description.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 10/16/2017
Date Posted: 9/13/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3407

University of Colorado, Boulder

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and the Program in Jewish Studies at the University of Colorado at Boulder invite applications for a tenure-track appointment at the Assistant Professor level in Religion and Politics or Minorities in Politics or Jewish Studies. The appointment begins in August 2018. The search will focus on but will not be limited to scholars with a research interest in Jewish Studies. Priority will be given to candidates whose teaching interests include Jews and Judaism in the public sphere, anti-Semitism in American politics, or the politics of the Jewish experience in America, for example. The position will be fully rostered in Political Science, with teaching split evenly between the two academic units. Because the position requires substantial undergraduate teaching in Jewish Studies, the successful candidate must have demonstrable strength and interest in teaching in courses in the area of Jewish Studies. The University of Colorado Boulder is committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. Members of underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply. Applications are accepted electronically at <https://www.jobsatcu.com>, posting #10194, and should include a letter of interest along with a current CV, writing samples, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and the names and email addresses of three references. Candidates who have completed a PhD in political science and those who are ABD may apply. ABDs will be hired at the instructor level and will be allowed up to two years to complete the PhD. PhDs will be hired at the Assistant Professor level. Please direct inquiries to the Political Science/Jewish Studies Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 333 UCB, University of Colorado, Boulder, CO 80309-0333. See www.colorado.edu/ArtsSciences/Jobs/ for full job description.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: 10/16/2017
Date Posted: 9/13/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3411

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferring qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 8/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3313

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/preferrred qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3314

University of California Irvine

Rank: Lecturer - International Studies

Specializations: International Security, Africa, Gender Politics & Policy

International Studies

University of California, Irvine

School of Social Sciences - International Studies Lecturers

The Program in International Studies is establishing a pool of qualified applicants as Lecturers to teach courses in International Studies, including but not limited to International Political Economy, Regional Studies (Middle East and Africa), Humanitarianism, NGOs, Public Policy, Gender, and Global Trade.

These positions may be available during Winter 2018 and/or Spring 2018 quarters. We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who can contribute to the quality of our undergraduate program. The number of courses available varies by quarter and year.

Rank: Lecturer

Salary Range: $5,700 - $6,200 per course

Qualifications: Ph.D. preferred in the related area of International Studies disciplines.

Positions May Be Available: Winter 2018 and Spring 2018

Completed applications must include: a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statement which addresses past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion and three letters of recommendation. Candidates may also provide a writing sample of recent research. Submit application materials via UC Irvine's online application system, RECRUIT, located at:

<https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/apply/JPF04263>

The University of California, Irvine is an equal opportunity employer committed to excellence through diversity.

Closing Dates:

Winter 2018 Quarter, November 30, 2017

Spring 2018 Quarter, January 30, 2018

The University of California, Irvine is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

Start Date: Winter 2018

Application Deadline: 2/1/2018

Date Posted: 8/28/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3286

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Faculty Cluster for Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): Other, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Defense, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established a focus area in cyber security and privacy, as one of several interdisciplinary clusters established to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy. We plan to hire one tenure-track assistant or associate professor for the UCF cyber security and privacy cluster. This position has a start date of August 8, 2018.

This will be an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department, as well as a possible combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. (See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved.) Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal junior candidates will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy, and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact, as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. All relevant technical areas will be considered. We are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy. In particular, we are looking for someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, such as: (a) hardware and IoT security, (b) explaining and predicting human behavior, creating policies, studying ethics, and ensuring privacy, (c) cryptography and theory of security or privacy, or (d) tools, methods, training, and evaluation of human behavior.

Minimum qualifications include a Ph.D., terminal degree, or foreign degree equivalent from an accredited institution in an area appropriate to the cluster at the time of appointment, and a record of high impact research related to cyber security and privacy, demonstrated by a strong scholarly and/or funding record. A history of working with teams, especially teams that span multiple disciplines, is a strongly preferred qualification. The position will carry a rank commensurate with the candidate's prior experience and record.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 64,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs at its main campus in Orlando. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation. UCF's Orlando location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and a world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to UCF is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies and UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the State of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school, which was established in 2006. UCF is a neighbor to large corporations, such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about UCF at <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty>.

Candidates must apply online at <http://www.jobswithucf.com/postings/50404> and attach the following materials: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and contact information for three professional references. In the cover letter, candidates must address their background in cyber security and privacy, and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home and the joint appointments they would desire. When applying, have all documents ready so they can be attached at that time, as the system does not allow resubmittal to update applications.

As an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer, UCF encourages all qualified applicants to apply, including women, veterans, individuals with disabilities, and members of traditionally underrepresented populations. UCF's Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: <http://eo.ucf.edu/documents/PresidentsStatement.pdf>. As a Florida public university, UCF makes all application materials and selection procedures available to the public upon request.

For more information about this position, please contact the Cluster's Search Committee Chair, Gary T. Leavens, at Leavens@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3019

University of Alaska, Anchorage*Rank: UAA Post-Doctoral Fellow for Political Science

Political Science Professor Landry Signé is looking for a postdoctoral political economist to assist on the project entitled "Why African Nations Fail: The Political Economy of Economic Growth and Democratic Development," partly funded by the Andrew Carnegie fellowship for 2016-2018. He is conducting a systematic comparative analysis of the evolution, determinants, performance, and impacts of all African economies, governance and political systems from the pre-colonial era to date, combining quantitative and qualitative methods.

The successful candidate may have background in economics, political science, statistics, international affairs, or a related field. Experience in using statistical software, creating and analyzing large datasets, geocoding, and collaboration with research teams are desirable. Consideration is highly selective and limited to candidates of exceptional scholarly promise and strong orientation toward rigorous mathematical approaches to economics and political science. Candidates with limited but reasonable statistical skills, who have an outstanding understanding of Africa, and superior qualitative and mix method and writing skills may also be considered. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellence writing, editorial, and organizational skills; and expertise in causality models, barro regressions, experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science. The postdoctoral political economist is also expected to contribute to group publications, both disciplinary, and interdisciplinary.

Although employed by the Department of Political Science of the University of Alaska Anchorage, the candidate may be fully hosted as a visiting scholar in one of the centers (upon their approval) where Professor Signé anticipates periods of residency during his Andrew Carnegie Fellowship (Stanford University, a New York or Washington D.C. university or research center, and possibly Harvard University). Being hosted in their home city is possible if the candidate lives in a city where one of the five largest libraries with African resources is hosted.

This position may be part or full time.

Qualifications

1. Ph.D. in economics, political science, statistics, or a related social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2017 or during fall 2017.
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise.
3. A proven ability to work expeditiously, independently, collaboratively, and prolifically.
4. Proven knowledge or interest for African economies, governance, development, or political systems.

TO APPLY, PLEASE VISIT: <http://careers.alaska.edu/cw/en-us/job/506331/uaa-postdoctoral-fellow-for-political-science>

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/13/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 2987

Dartmouth College*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Psychology, Political Communication

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) seeks a postdoctoral research fellow for the 2018-2019 academic year. The fellow will work with Professor of Government Brendan Nyhan and be housed in and affiliated with QSS, an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Applicants should have a proven record of research success; excellent writing and organizational skills; and expertise in experimental design, applied statistics, and/or computational social science.

The QSS fellow will work with Nyhan on new and ongoing projects in areas including studies of misperceptions and fact-checking in politics and health. Project work will be determined in consultation with the fellow based on their skills and interests. In addition, the fellow will conduct their own research with mentoring from Nyhan and other faculty associated with QSS and participate in the intellectual life of QSS by working with QSS faculty and honors students on ongoing research, attending seminars and workshops, and presenting research results.

The annual stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000. The fellowship can be extended through the 2019-20 academic year with the approval of Nyhan and the QSS Chair. Each fellow will receive a one-time $5,000 account for equipment, travel, and research materials. There may also be an opportunity to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend with the approval of the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in a social science discipline or expected Ph.D. by September 2018
2. Related substantive research interests and methodological expertise
3. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively

Application instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests (two pages or fewer) that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Three letters of reference
- 4) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2017. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/42855.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 7/31/2017

Date Posted: 7/11/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 2963

Dartmouth College*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in the Program in Quantitative Social Science

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College is pleased to announce that it is searching for up to three postdoctoral fellows for the 2018-19 academic year. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Each fellow should be highly motivated, collegial, and able to work independently on a research agenda that is grounded in quantitative social science.

During the 2018-19 academic year, QSS fellows will participate in the intellectual life of the program by interacting with each other, with QSS faculty, and with undergraduate students pursuing a minor or major in QSS. Fellows will also attend seminars and workshops and are expected to present their own research on a regular basis. There are many postdoctoral fellows at Dartmouth College, and QSS fellows will be part of a large community on campus.

The annual stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000. The fellowship can be extended through the 2019-20 academic year with the approval of the QSS Chair. Each fellow will receive a one-time $5,000 account for equipment, travel, and research materials. There may also be an opportunity to teach a one-quarter course with an extra stipend with the approval of the QSS chair.

Qualifications:

1. Ph.D. in any discipline or expected Ph.D. by September, 2018
2. Substantive interest in any social science field
3. Research interests that strongly intersect statistical, computational, or mathematical methods
4. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively
5. A demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary research

Application Instructions*Application instructions:

- 1) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 2) Statement of research interests (two pages or fewer) that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 3) Names of Dartmouth faculty of interest to the applicant
- 4) Three letters of reference
- 5) A paper written in English, either published or unpublished

Applications will be reviewed starting on October 1, 2018. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: apply.interfolio.com/42907

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 10/1/2017Date Posted: 7/11/2017Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 2964POLITICAL THEORY*Amherst College*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence & Social Thought*Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Law

Amherst College Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a three-year visiting appointment

starting in the 2018–2019 academic year. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is in one or more of the following areas: global legality; jurisprudence and modern legal theory; the social organization of law; constitutionalism and democratic practice; law and literature; law, popular culture and the arts; and law and science. The position requires a Ph.D or a J.D. Applicants should submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/48068> a cover letter addressed to Professor Austin Sarat, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2018Application Deadline: 2/15/2018Date Posted: 12/29/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3907Furman University*Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Western and American Political Thought

The Tocqueville Program at Furman University invites applications for a 2-year Postdoctoral Fellowship in Western and American Political Thought to begin in August 2018. Housed in the Department of Politics and International Affairs, the Tocqueville Program exists to encourage serious and open engagement with the moral questions at the heart of political life through the study of classic texts of the Western and American political and philosophic tradition. We encourage applicants whose teaching philosophy and research agenda fit with this mission. The PhD degree (in hand or expected by the beginning of the 2018-2019 academic year) is a required qualification.

The teaching load for the Postdoctoral Fellow will be three courses per academic year; courses to be taught include American Political Thought, Introduction to Political Thought, and other upper-level Political Thought courses as needed by the Department of Politics and International Affairs. The Postdoctoral Fellow will also participate actively in the Tocqueville Program's activities and contribute to its administration as needed.

Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly-changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently-launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences.

Furman is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty and staff. The University aspires to create a community of people representing a multiplicity of identities including gender, race, religion, spiritual belief, sexual orientation, geographic origin, socioeconomic background, ideology, world view, and varied abilities. Domestic partners of employees are eligible for comprehensive benefits.

The Furman student experience is supported by a rich network of centers and institutes that includes The Riley Institute, The David E. Shi Center for Sustainability, The Institute for the Advancement of Community Health, The Rinker Center for Study Away and International Education, The Cothran Center for Vocational Exploration, The Shucker Center for Leadership Development, The Malone Center for Career Engagement, and our newest addition, The Center for Inclusive Communities.

Furman is located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is one of the fastest growing cities in the Southeast and is ranked among “America’s Ten Best” by Forbes Magazine. The charming downtown features excellent restaurants, in-town parks, shops, museums, galleries, music venues, and theaters. The city also has excellent public and private schools and a vibrant international community. A 20-mile bike and running trail connects the university to Greenville and to Travelers Rest, which was named “one of America’s coolest small towns.” The surrounding area abounds with outdoor recreational activities and has some of the most beautiful lakes, rivers, and mountains in the country. Greenville is within easy reach of the Blue Ridge Mountains and Atlantic Beaches. The newly renovated Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, located just 25 minutes from downtown, runs daily flights to major cities and airline hubs. Greenville is 2 1/2 hours from Atlanta and only one hour from Asheville, North Carolina. It is an ideal place to live and work.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/20/2017Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 3900New York University Abu Dhabi*Rank: POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCHER POSITIONS, Social Science. NYU Abu Dhabi*Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, International RelationsSpecializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Social MovementsPOST-DOCTORAL RESEARCHER POSITIONS

Social Science

NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint several Post-Doctoral Researchers starting September 2018. Applicants must have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in the fields of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Public Policy. Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Applications are now open and we will consider candidates on a rolling basis. To be considered, all applicants need to submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, research sample and three letters of reference, all in PDF format. The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply. Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad-socialscience@nyu.edu

Note: We will begin considering applicants from political science September 22, 2017, sociology on November 1, 2017 and applications from economics December 1, 2017.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complimented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its eighth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2018*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/20/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3898Victoria University of Wellington*Rank: Lecturer in Strategic Studies or International Relations*Lecturer in Strategic Studies or International Relations*School of History, Philosophy, Political Studies and International Relations*Wellington, New Zealand

The Political Science and International Relations programme and Centre for Strategic Studies seeks to appoint a permanent Lecturer in Strategic Studies (equivalent to tenured assistant professor)/International Relations. The starting date is negotiable.

The successful candidate will possess the abilities required to teach strategic studies (broadly understood), with a related expertise in some aspect of global or regional security or New Zealand's defence and security policy. Expertise in strategic theory and concepts, cybersecurity, terrorism or maritime security would also be useful, but all strong candidates with a background in some aspect of strategic studies are encouraged to apply.

A PhD must be in hand prior to taking up the appointment as Lecturer. Each role will require: preparation and delivery of graduate and undergraduate courses in Strategic Studies and/or International Relations; an active research profile; engagement with government agencies and/or media, and other teaching or administrative duties as agreed with the Head of School, School of History, Philosophy, Political Studies and International Relations.

Further information can be obtained from Dr David Capie, Director, Centre for Strategic Studies, email david.capie@vuw.ac.nz, phone +64 4 4637483.

Please complete the online application form and submit your CV and cover letter by attachment at our website below.

Applications close at 12am NZST Monday, 22 January 2018.

Reference 1856

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/22/2018

Date Posted: 12/18/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3888

Vassar College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Vassar College invites applications for a tenure track position to teach Political Theory at the Assistant Professor rank beginning in the academic year 2018-19. Vassar College is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer with a strong commitment to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and promoting an environment of equality, inclusion, and respect for difference. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Candidates should have completed or be nearing completion of a Ph.D. at the time of appointment. We are seeking to fill a position in political theory with an emphasis on gender in western and/or non-western thought. We invite applicants in political theory with a range of diverse substantive areas or approaches. The successful candidate will teach Introductory Political Theory, as well as an advanced course in and/or cross-listed with Women's and Gender Studies and/or one or more of Vassar's Multidisciplinary Programs. Teaching load is five courses (four preparations) per year.

Candidates should submit a complete dossier including a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a graduate school transcript, at least three letters of recommendation, a sample of professional writing, a diversity statement highlighting contributions to and/or future plans for promoting diversity and inclusion through teaching, research and/or professional involvements, a statement of teaching approach and interests, and evidence of teaching potential such as teaching evaluations and syllabuses.

To apply, please visit <http://employment.vassar.edu/applicants/Central?quickFind=52402>

Please direct any questions to Himadeep Muppidi, Chair, Department of Political Science, Vassar College, Box 632, 124 Raymond Avenue, Poughkeepsie NY 12604. Review of applications will begin February 1, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. For inquiries, email: himuppidi@vassar.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3877

Bowdoin College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government

The Department of Government and Legal Studies at Bowdoin College invites applications for a one-year full-time visiting assistant professor with a specialty in political theory for the 2018-19 academic year. A second year is possible pending administrative approval. Evidence of teaching excellence or promise, and scholarly engagement is expected; Ph.D. in hand by the date of appointment is preferred, though ABDs will be considered. Teaching load is two courses each semester. We seek candidates able to offer a broad range of courses in political theory, for example classical political philosophy, modern political philosophy, contemporary political philosophy, American political thought, or others in the applicant's area of research.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu> to submit letter of application, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation upon request.

Review of applications will begin on January 20, 2018 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded on the Maine coast in 1794, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, Maine, a 30-minute drive north of Portland, the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, its intimate size, its strong sense of community, and its commitment to diversity (31.5% students of color, 5% international students and approximately 15% first-generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College please visit our website: <http://www.bowdoin.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/11/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3863New York University Abu Dhabi*Rank: FACULTY POSITION, MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES,*Arab Crossroads Program*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, OtherSpecializations: Middle East, Economic Policy, Social Movements

FACULTY POSITION, MIDDLE EASTERN STUDIES, Arab Crossroads Program

Division of Arts and Humanities / Social Sciences

NEW YORK UNIVERSITY ABU DHABI

Location: Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications for an open rank faculty position in Middle Eastern studies for its Arab Crossroads program. We are searching for faculty in all disciplines (particularly Anthropology, Economics, Politics or Sociology) whose research and teaching focuses on the contemporary society and politics of the Gulf and the Middle East. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment September 1, 2018, subject to final budget approval.

The position will be in the Arab Crossroads Program, as a joint appointment across the divisions of Arts and Humanities and Social Sciences. Please visit the NYU Abu Dhabi Arab Crossroads program website for a description of its innovative curriculum: <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/academic-divisions/multidisciplinary-programs/acs.html>

The Arab Crossroads Program forms part of a large, interdisciplinary network of teaching and research in the areas of Middle Eastern Studies and the Islamic World within the division of Arts and Humanities at NYUAD. This network includes the Library of Arabic Literature, Library of Arabic Literature fellowships, Arabic Literature Online, the Humanities Research Fellowships in Gulf and Middle Eastern Studies, Arabic Language Program, Akkasah Center for Photography, Dhakira Center for Heritage Studies in the UAE, Tharawat Family Business Histories in the UAE, as well as a wide range of teaching and research in this area in other programs including Art and Art History, Film, History, Literature, Music, Philosophy, Theater (Arts and Humanities), and Economics, Political Science, Social Research and Public Policy (Social Sciences).

The review of applications will begin in December, and will continue on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for campus visits to NYU Abu Dhabi in 2018. The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children.

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit their curriculum vitae, statements of research and teaching interests, two course outlines and two representative writing samples. To complete the online process, applicants will be prompted to enter the names and email addresses of at least three referees. Each referee will be contacted to upload his or her reference letter. Senior candidates are not required to submit references at this time. For more information and instruction on how to apply, please visit our website: <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty.html>.

Abu Dhabi Office P.O. Box 129 188, Abu Dhabi, UAE +971 2 628 4000 Fax:+971 2 659 0791

New York Office 19 Washington Square North, New York, NY 10012 +1 212 9927

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.artsandhumanities.positions@nyu.edu.

About NYUAD

NYU Abu Dhabi is a degree-granting research university with a fully integrated liberal arts and science undergraduate program in the Arts, Sciences, Social Sciences, Humanities, and Engineering. NYU Abu Dhabi, NYU New York, and NYU Shanghai, form the backbone of NYU's global network university, an interconnected network of portal campuses and academic centers across six continents that enable seamless international mobility of students and faculty in their pursuit of academic and scholarly activity. This global university represents a transformative shift in higher education, one in which the intellectual and creative endeavors of academia are shaped and examined through an international and multicultural perspective. As a major intellectual hub at the crossroads of the Arab world, NYUAD serves as a center for scholarly thought, advanced research, knowledge creation, and sharing, through its academic, research, and creative activities.

EOE/AAs/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity Employer

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/7/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3859Bocconi University*Rank: Post Doc Researcher in Political Economy

Postdoc position at Igier Research Centre (Bocconi University), starting on September 2018 (details will be defined together with the scientific responsible).

Candidates need to hold a phd in economics or political science by September 2018.

The postdoc position is linked to prof morelli erc proect

www.igier.unibocconi.it/ERC/Morelli

Candidate will develop one or more of the following research subjects of the ERC Grant "The Political Economy of Power Relations".

1 - Power Wars

2 - Multilateral conflicts

3 - Repression versus cooptation by power holders

4 - Extremism and escalation

5 - Trade and conflict networks

6 - Dynamic models of institutions

Candidates with good theoretical or empirical skills to analyze conflict and trade networks or geographic information systems techniques will be given particular consideration.

INSTITUTIONAL CALL FOR APPLICATION

<https://www.unibocconi.eu/wps/wcm/connect/2e2463bb-8619-4046-9fd9-e0370d08a89b/Call-ADR-13A1-ECO-ERC-Polec.pdf?MOD=AJPERES&CVID=l-i36Zs&CVID=l-i36Zs>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/12/2018

Date Posted: 12/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3763

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor of Politics and Fellow, Center for the Study of Statesmanship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Other

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Defense, Religion & Politics

The Department of Politics at the Catholic University of America invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position to begin in the fall of 2018. This appointment is to be combined with a research appointment at the Center for the Study of Statesmanship (CSS). As a CSS Fellow the appointee will have a reduced teaching load. Although the appointment is likely to be made at a junior rank, more senior applicants will be considered.

The search is not confined to a particular field, but we are especially interested in scholars in foreign policy, international relations, or national security, or some combination thereof, who are able to place world politics in a philosophical, historical or cultural context. A background in political theory, the history of ideas or American constitutionalism is desirable. Candidates who are alert to the moral and religious dimensions of their areas of expertise are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Department of Politics offers a popular undergraduate major with many distinguished alumni and a strong MA and PhD program with graduates on numerous college and university faculties in America and abroad.

Established in the spring of 2017, CSS explores the meaning of statesmanship and how it can defuse conflict and foster respectful foreign and domestic relations. Administratively, CSS is independent of the Department of Politics and under the University Provost. To learn more about the Center and its research orientation candidates may go to the CSS website: <https://css.cua.edu>

Questions about the position may be addressed to Dr. Dennis Coyle, departmental chair, at coyle@cua.edu and/or Dr. William S. Smith, managing director of CSS, at smithws@cua.edu. Review of applications will begin January 10 and continue until the position is filled.

Catholic University seeks candidates who are supportive of the mission of the University, which reads as follows: "As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world."

Applicants should send a letter of interest, a CV, and a writing sample to pol-search@cua.edu and arrange for the submission of three letters of reference. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one-to-two-page statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will contribute to the University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae, which can be found at: http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost\_constitutions/documents/hf\_jp-ii\_apc\_15081990\_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html.

Official transcripts or verification of degrees will be required before any offer is made. The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making the final offer of employment.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3843

Hillsdale College

Rank: Politics Faculty Position (Open Rank)

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical, Foreign Policy

The Department of Politics and The Van Andel Graduate School at Hillsdale College invite application for a tenure-track faculty position (rank open), beginning August, 2018. The Department's needs are greatest in Classical Political Philosophy, so candidates with a credible record of teaching and scholarly work in that area will receive strongest consideration. Candidates with an additional specialty in International Relations, Comparative Politics, or American Foreign Policy will be prioritized. Applicants should be aware that their teaching responsibilities will range from an introductory core course for freshmen and sophomores to graduate level classes. Since the Department services a graduate program, applicants will need to have a record of scholarly publication, and should have a Ph.D. in hand.

Hillsdale College is a small (1400 students) independent college of liberal arts, dedicated to excellence in teaching and advising students. Applicants should familiarize themselves with the College's mission statement: <https://www.hillsdale.edu/about/mission/>. The College also considers itself a trustee of our Western philosophical and theological inheritance tracing to Athens and Jerusalem, a heritage finding its clearest expression in the American experiment of self-government under law.

Complete applications will include: (a) letter of application; (b) curriculum vitae; (c) transcripts; (d) three up-to-date letters of recommendation, (e) a statement of teaching and research interests; (f) samples of publications or other scholarly manuscripts. Within the statement of teaching and research interests there should be a detailed response to the College's mission statement that includes a discussion of the applicant's ability to teach in light of its commitments. For further information on the undergraduate and graduate programs, visit www.hillsdale.edu and gradschool.hillsdale.edu.

Review of applications will begin on January 15th and continue until the position is filled. Send all application materials by email or regular mail to Dr. Ronald J. Pestritto, Graduate Dean and Professor of Politics, Hillsdale College, 33 E. College Street, Hillsdale, MI 49242. Email submissions may be sent to PoliticsSearch@hillsdale.edu. Salary competitive. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/15/2018

Date Posted: 11/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3830

Dartmouth College

Rank: U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security Post-doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security Fellows are selected to spend a minimum of ten months and up to one year in-residence at Dartmouth on research and writing about international issues related to one of the Dickey Center's research areas: environment, health, human development, gender, and security. Scholars from all disciplines, including political science and history, are welcome to apply.

Fellows will utilize their year at Dartmouth to maximize progress on their research, build contacts with other Fellows, Dartmouth faculty and with policy networks, and contribute to the intellectual life of the College. All Fellows are assigned a faculty mentor. Faculty mentors are intended to provide professional advice for career building and integrating into the Dartmouth intellectual community as well as substantive expertise.

Fellows typically will:

- Give a faculty seminar on the work discussed in the Dickey Center's seminar series on international politics and foreign policy
- Present work in the departments of Government, History, and in other seminar series at the College
- Participate with other Fellows in an undergraduate course, taught with a Dartmouth faculty member. Fellows also often make guest appearances in other classes, and interact with undergraduate students in Dickey Center student groups or other organization as interest warrants
- Participate in events for Fellows organized throughout the year – topics will be determined on the basis of mutual interest and perceived need

Fellows are provided with an office and access to Dartmouth faculty and resources. They must be in-residence during their fellowship and participate in Dickey Center seminars and events.

How to apply

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status.

The application period for the 2018-19 fellowship is now open. Applications will be accepted until January 2, 2018. While scholars at any stage of their career are eligible, applications from recent recipients of a PhD or equivalent degree are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants should submit the following documents:

- A curriculum vitae
- Research abstract (200 words max.)
- A statement of up to 1,500 words describing the proposed research project
- A writing sample (50 pp. max)
- Two confidential letters of reference
- Graduate school transcript (Unofficial transcripts are acceptable. Junior faculty and professionals may include a transcript, but are not required to do so.)
- A confidential financial statement on a separate page indicating the applicant's other sources of support available during fellowship period and – for current faculty only – current salary.

Application materials should be submitted electronically at: apply.interfolio.com/47094. Questions may be sent to: Thomas.K.Candon@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3822

University of Calgary

Rank: Canada Research Chair (Tier II) in The Politics of Decolonization

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The University of Calgary is engaged in a consultative process with knowledge keepers, Elders, and leaders of the Treaty #7 peoples, the Métis Nation, and academics and university administrators. This ongoing process has resulted in the development of an Indigenous Strategy designed to guide the University's relationship with the Indigenous peoples in whose territory the University resides. One of the goals identified during this consultation is to increase the number of Indigenous scholars in leading positions on campus. In addition to Indigenous cluster hires in the Faculty of Arts and the Werklund School of Education, the University of Calgary is now seeking three Canada Research Chairs (Tier II).

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a Canada Research Chair (Tier II) in the Politics of Decolonization. We are seeking a scholar who will establish and maintain an active research program leading to excellence in our understanding of decolonization. Themes may include, but are not limited to, the study of political processes that redistribute land from colonial states to Indigenous nations, the revitalization of Indigenous land-based governance practices, the study of Indigenous decolonizing political movements, and gendered perspectives on decolonization. The successful candidate will be appointed at the rank of Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) or Associate Professor (with tenure). The anticipated start date is July 1, 2018.

The successful candidate will hold a PhD in Political Science or a related field. The appointee's research agenda may be grounded in any of the fields of political science (political theory, Canadian politics, comparative politics, international relations) or be inter-disciplinary in focus. A research program focused on Canada would be an asset but is not required to be considered for this position. The successful candidate will be expected to build relationships with the Treaty #7 Nations and the Métis Nation. This may include incorporating the experiences and needs of the Treaty #7 peoples and the Métis into their research. This appointment will contribute to the University of Calgary's commitment to create a rich, vibrant and culturally competent campus – one that welcomes and supports Indigenous learners, is inclusive of Indigenous perspectives in teaching and learning, encourages Indigenous community partnerships in research and academic programming and is appropriate and thoughtful in its response to the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's 'Calls to Action'.

The successful candidate at the Assistant Professor level must demonstrate evidence of excellence in research, teaching and community engagement, commensurate with academic experience. This would normally include publications in high quality journals, success with securing competitive research funding, and evidence of a commitment to teaching effectiveness and to engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations and/or institutions. The successful candidate at the Associate Professor level must demonstrate a proven track record of research and teaching excellence, including a record of publications in high quality journals, proven success in obtaining competitive research funding, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a record of successful graduate student supervision, where possible. The successful candidate at this level should also provide evidence of successful engagement with Indigenous communities, organizations and/or institutions, including evidence of success in community-engaged projects and scholarship.

The Department of Political Science is housed in the Faculty of Arts. The Department administers the International Indigenous Studies interdisciplinary program that attracts students from across the University. The program focuses on various aspects of Indigenous people's experience including arts, culture, ways of knowing, languages, economies, politics, and community structures. The candidate's willingness to teach in this program will be considered an asset. As part of its Indigenous Strategy, the Faculty has created eight tenure-track positions in Indigenous research and scholarship, across various departments. This community of scholars facilitates cross-disciplinary and collaborative research, education and outreach by building on Indigenous knowledges, cultures, traditions and experiences developed among, and in partnership with, First Nations, Inuit and Métis peoples in Canada. The Canada Research Chair in the Politics of Decolonization will provide leadership in these areas.

Tier II chairs are intended for exceptional emerging scholars (i.e., candidates must have been an active researcher in their field for fewer than 10 years at the time of nomination). Applicants who are more than 10 years from having earned their highest degree (and where career breaks exist, such as maternity, parental or extended sick leave, clinical training, etc.) may have their eligibility for a Tier II chair assessed through the program's Tier II justification process. Please consult the Government of Canada's CRC website for full program information, including further details on eligibility criteria.

Interested individuals are encouraged to submit their application online via the 'Apply Now' link at <http://careers.ucalgary.ca/jobs/8164474-canada-research-chair-tier-ii-in-the-politics-of-decolonization-faculty-of-arts> and include:

- A letter of interest and curriculum vitae, including a statement providing evidence of the applicant's connection to the Indigenous community
- Three examples of recent scholarly work
- Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness
- Description of a proposed 5-year research plan for the Chair

Applicants should also arrange to have three electronic confidential letters of reference sent under separate cover directly to the chair of the selection committee:

Dr. Antonio Franceschet
Department Head, Department of Political Science
Faculty of Arts, University of Calgary
Email: polihire@ucalgary.ca

Questions regarding this opportunity should be addressed to Dr. Antonio Franceschet by email (polihire@ucalgary.ca)

Deadline: January 30, 2018

The University of Calgary recognizes that a diverse staff/faculty benefits and enriches the work, learning and research experiences of the entire campus and greater community. We are committed to removing barriers that have been historically encountered by some people in our society. We strive to recruit individuals who will further enhance our diversity and will support their academic and professional success while they are here; in particular, we encourage members of the four designated groups (women, Aboriginal People, persons with disabilities and members of visible minorities) to apply. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. To ensure a fair and equitable assessment, we offer accommodation at any stage during the recruitment process to applicants with disabilities. Questions regarding diversity or requests for accommodation can be sent to Human Resources (hrhire@ucalgary.ca).

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3813

College of Charleston

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications for an assistant professor position in political theory and law beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level classes in political theory and public law and contribute to the department's Politics, Philosophy, and Law (PPLW) concentration. The PPLW concentration allows focused attention on theoretical issues related to the law, so the ability to offer classes in jurisprudence, legal theory, or constitutional law would be particularly welcome. A PhD in Political Science or a related field is required. Primary teaching and advising responsibilities will be in the undergraduate political science program, and the teaching load is six courses per academic year. The College of Charleston is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 1,100 graduate students. The Political Science Department has 21 fulltime faculty, approximately 320 undergraduate majors (<http://polisci.cofc.edu/>), and a Geography Minor (<http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/>). The department also supports a Master of Public Administration (<http://puba.cofc.edu/>) and Master of Science in Environmental Studies (<http://mes.cofc.edu/>) program. The College is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 750,000. Additional information about the institution and the surrounding area is available at <https://www.cofc.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <https://jobs.cofc.edu/> and submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations), and contact information for three references. Questions about the search can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Claire Curtis (curtisc@cofc.edu). Review of applications will begin December 16, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. The College of Charleston is an AA/EOP employer and strongly encourages women and minority candidates to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3798

Brown University

Rank: Mellon Post-doc in Environmental and Indigenous Political Theory

Brown University invites applications for a 2-year Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowship in the area of Environmental and Indigenous Political Theory. This position is to be held jointly at the Cogut Center for the Humanities and the Department of Political Science, effective July 1, 2018. We are especially interested in scholarship that explores the processes and procedures of social and civic engagement that can address the issues of environmental impact on particular communities that have longstanding spiritual, residential, economic, or religious claims to land and water. Work in this area can be engaged from all the approaches common to contemporary political theory: normative, critical, genealogical, historical, feminist, activist, engaged, indigenous, and deliberative. The appointment would be open to any approach, with the department seeking to appoint the person who is best able to offer courses and inspire students to attend to this important area of research, while producing work of importance for publication. The successful candidate will teach two courses per year, one in each semester, in the Department of Political Science cross-listed in the Cogut Center's Humanities course offerings. The fellow will also be affiliated with the Cogut Center and is expected to participate in the weekly Tuesday seminars as well as other activities of the Center. PhD must be in hand by July 1, 2018 and must have been awarded in the last five years. Stipend of $61,500 with an increase to $63,900 the second year plus benefits and a research budget of $2,000 per year. Applications will be reviewed beginning January 15, 2018 and accepted until the position is filled.

Candidates should send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, writing sample, two sample course descriptions, and three letters of recommendation. To view more details and to apply, please see: <http://apply.interfolio.com/47158>. Brown University is an EEO/AE employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 3788

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AE employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3759

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff; model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AE employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3760

American University in Cairo

Rank: Political Theory

Political Theory

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in political theory at the Assistant Professor level beginning in Fall 2018. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses on classical and contemporary political theories. Candidates who can teach courses on issues of religion in politics are encouraged to apply. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA level within the Department of Political Science. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East. The American University in Cairo is committed to recruiting a diverse faculty to complement the diversity of its student body.

Requirements:

PhD is required at time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing program of research and publication. Teaching experience is required. Applicants should address the two criteria of teaching and research Excellence. Responsibilities include undergraduate as well as graduate teaching, an active program of research and publications, and service to the Department and the University. Priority will be given to applications received by December 1st, 2017. Position is open until filled.

Application Procedures:

All applicants must submit the following documents online: a) a current C.V; b) a letter of interest; c) a statement of teaching philosophy; d) a completed AUC Personal Information Form (PIF); e) a copy of a recently published article or manuscript chapter in progress. f) Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send reference letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; All applications should be uploaded online: <http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please remember your account login enables you to respond to AUC additional questions (if required). For more information, e-mail Dr. Ibrahim Elnur, Chair, (ielnur@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, (gehanwm@aucegypt.edu) or visit the department's website at <http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/7/2017Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 3747Virginia Commonwealth University*Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR - AMERICAN POLITICS (CONGRESS)/POLITICAL THEORY*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, MethodologySpecializations: Congress, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Research Methods

Assistant Professor: (Tenure-Eligible, Political Science)

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University is seeking applications for a tenure eligible faculty position at the Assistant Professor rank to begin August 2018 to support the Department's teaching and research mission in the area of American Politics with expertise in American Institutions (especially, Congress), and Contemporary Political Theory. In addition to subfield expertise in Congress, specialization(s) in gender, race, sexuality, class, and/or ethnicity politics is preferred. The successful candidate will also be able to teach our undergraduate and graduate level research methods.

RESEARCH

The faculty member will be central to the political science department's concentrations in U.S. Government, Civil and Human Rights, Politics and Government, Policy and Administration, Political Theory & Methodology, among others. We are seeking active researchers who study issues related to the U.S. Congress and/or American Political Theory.

TEACHING

In addition to the faculty member's research responsibilities, the teaching responsibilities will include courses at the undergraduate level in her/his areas of specialization, as well as providing support to the Department's core curriculum and general education requirements, including Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Political Theory, and Senior Seminar, a 400-level Capstone course. Specifically, this candidate will teach courses in legislative politics, advanced research methods, and political theory. The ability to teach courses in Contemporary Political Theory (e.g., Black Political Thought, Feminist Theory, Queer Political Theory) is preferred, but not required. This position also includes an expectation of service to the Department.

SERVICE

The faculty member will serve on departmental, College, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field, e.g., reviewer, conference organizer, etc.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- PhD in political science or closely related field at the time of employment
- Demonstrated expertise and potential for publication in the faculty area of research
- Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS

1. Cover Letter

2. Three Letters of Recommendation

3. CV/Resume

4. Statement of Teaching Interests

5. Statement of Research Interests

6. Teaching Evaluations (Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness)

7. Graduate Transcript (unofficial is accepted)

8. Writing Sample

9. Statement on Commitment to Diversity and Inclusion

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at www.vcujobs.com. Please submit the required documents with your online application. Letters of Reference should be sent to the search committee under separate cover directly via the automated email system at the application site. Questions should be directed to Dr. Alexandra Reckendorf at anreckendorf@vcu.edu. Application deadline is December 15, 2017. Start date will be August 16, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 12/15/2017Date Posted: 11/1/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3725University of Texas, San Antonio*Rank: Department Chair, specialization in Political Theory

The Department of Political Science and Geography at The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) invites applications for a tenured faculty position beginning Fall 2018 at the Associate or Full Professor level to serve as the Department Chair with a teaching specialization in political theory, ethics, and history of political thought. The position is a 12-month appointment that includes full administrative and leadership responsibilities for a department offering B.A. and M.A. degree programs in Political Science, Global Affairs, Politics and Law, and Geography/Environmental Sustainability. The Department is in UTSA's College of Liberal and Fine Arts and is home to approximately 570 undergraduate and graduate majors, 18 T/TT faculty, and several adjunct faculty focused on research and instructional missions. Faculty are actively engaged in areas of individual and collaborative research leading to publication in such areas as Latin American governance; Middle East, Asian and European political developments; security regimes; national security and intelligence; cyber security and politics; political communications; federal justice policies; race and gender issues; human migration patterns; and political and policy research using geographic information systems. The Department is actively engaged in pursuing internal and collaborative research grants in some of these areas. We are especially interested in candidates with a research and teaching portfolio in political theory and who considers major theoretical questions underlying contemporary social, political, economic, and policy issues.

Responsibilities include overseeing departmental organization, administration (including curricular and fiscal management), program development and leadership, supervision and evaluation of faculty and staff, communications with internal and external constituents, pursuit of grant opportunities, and participation in teaching, research, and scholarly publication.

Required Qualifications: As an element in the application process, all applicants must provide evidence of a Ph.D. in Political Science or closely related field and evidence of significant high-quality teaching experience in political theory; evidence of sustained excellence in scholarship, teaching, and service; strong interpersonal, written, and oral communication skills; and successful administrative and leadership experience in an academic unit, including budgetary experience, time management and scheduling, conflict resolution, and unit advancement. Applicants must also be willing to teach a range of political theory courses.

To be considered at the tenured Associate Professor level, successful applicants must have a significant record of department-level administrative experience, an established research agenda and record of publications, excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness, and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

To be considered at the tenured Full Professor level, successful applicants must have an established record of department-level administrative experience, an established long-term research agenda, a strong record of publications in political theory or related areas, excellent teaching skills with demonstrated effectiveness, and a track record of service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

Preferred Qualifications: Applicants at the Associate or Full Professor levels should demonstrate an ability to pursue or to manage external funding opportunities.

The University of Texas at San Antonio is a dynamic institution with a diverse and growing student population of approximately 31,000. The City of San Antonio is the second largest in Texas and the seventh largest in the nation. Its cosmopolitan character, extensive recreational opportunities, low cost-of-living, excellent health care, and temperate climate make it a highly desirable place to live.

All information and materials associated with an application for this position must be submitted electronically through <https://jobs.utsa.edu/>. In PDF format, applicants should submit the following items electronically:

1. Letter of application that states the rank for which the candidate is applying, teaching experiences, research interests, and focus on position qualifications;
2. Current curriculum vita;
3. Separate statements on research, teaching, and leadership;
4. Copies of all graduate transcripts;
5. Representative samples of scholarly work (no more than three);
6. Two representative samples of syllabi for courses taught or proposed by the applicant;
7. Teaching evaluations (if available or other evidence of course instruction evaluation);
8. Names, addresses, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three references who are familiar with the applicant's administrative experiences, scholarship, and teaching and can be contacted to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on December 4, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants who are selected for interviews must be able to show proof that they will be eligible and qualified to work in the United States by time of hire.

As an Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer, it is the policy of The University of Texas at San Antonio to promote and ensure equal employment opportunity for all individuals without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, or veteran status. The University is committed to the Affirmative Action Program in compliance with all government requirements to ensure nondiscrimination. The UTSA campus is accessible to persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/30/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3712

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory, Normative Political Theory

For 2018-2019, the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society at Stanford seeks to appoint up to three postdoctoral fellows. Selected fellows will be designated as either General Ethics Fellows or Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellows. The two types of fellows have some distinct training opportunities and responsibilities, but they form a common community at the Center and participate together in the Center's intellectual life. The programs are described in detail below.

We aim to appoint fellows in both programs (three total across the two programs). All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships and do not need to tailor their application for one or the other fellowship.

General Ethics Fellowship

Some selected fellows will be part of our longstanding postdoctoral program that is open to candidates with substantial normative research in any area within philosophy or political science. For 2018-19, we are especially interested in candidates with research interests in inequality, immigration, global justice, environmental ethics, and ethics and technology, but we welcome all applicants with strong normative interests. Applicants must have normative training and hold a PhD in philosophy or political science. Scholars with a PhD in Law will also be considered so long as their work focuses on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. General Ethics Fellows participate in the intellectual life of the Center for Ethics in Society (attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), teach one class per year, interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across the campus.

Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellowship

2018-19 will be the third year of this fellowship program at the Center. The program is rooted in the Center's commitment to bringing ethical reflection to bear on pressing social problems. Addressing many of these social problems involves knowledge of the work of social science, law, and the life sciences. The premise of this program is that the normative scholarship of our fellows will be enhanced by engagement with empirically-oriented scholars. To that end, each fellow in the program will be matched with a partner research center at Stanford that is dedicated to interdisciplinary research. For 2018-19, we are especially interested in candidates with research interests in engineering/computer science or biomedical ethics, but all applicants whose work may intersect with empirically-oriented scholarship will be considered. Applicants need not name a possible partner center on campus or tailor their materials for this type of fellowship. The Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellows and partner centers will be selected based on the natural match between their work.

Applicants must have normative training and hold a PhD in Philosophy or Political Science. Scholars with a PhD in Law will also be considered so long as their work focuses on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. Fellows will participate in the regular intellectual life of the partner center and the Center for Ethics in Society (e.g., attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across campus.

Appointment Requirements and Application Details

For both types of fellowships, the appointment term is September 1, 2018 - August 31, 2019. The initial term may be renewed for an additional year. Applicants must have completed all requirements for their PhD by June 30, 2018. Candidates must also be no more than 3 years from the awarding of their degree (i.e., September 2015).

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its scholarly community. We welcome applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research and teaching missions. Salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages double-spaced), three letters of recommendation, a one-page research statement (single spaced), and list of classes they have taught and/or are prepared to teach. Additional materials will not be considered. All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships, and finalists will be consulted about whether they may be designated as Interdisciplinary Ethics or General Ethics fellows.

Applications will be collected via Interfolio. Applications will not be accepted by email. Please visit the Center's website for information about how to submit your materials: <https://ethicsinsociety.stanford.edu/postdocs/application-process>

If you have questions, please email ethics\_submissions@stanford.edu.
Application Due Date: December 11, 2017 at 5:00 pm PST.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/11/2017

Date Posted: 10/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3646

Virginia Tech

Rank: Assistant Professor, Postcolonial Theory

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Public Policy

Assistant Professor

Postcolonial Theory

ASPECT and the Department of Political Science

College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences

Virginia Tech

The interdisciplinary doctoral program ASPECT (Alliance for Social, Political, Ethical, and Cultural Thought) and the Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech invite applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Postcolonial Theory and Global Governance/Globalization Theory with an emphasis on human security and sub-specializations in critical gender or race perspectives, the governance/management of displaced populations, urban/rural dynamics, and qualitative methodologies. Evidence of excellence in research and demonstrated experience in teaching are required. Ability and desire to mentor/advise graduate students in interdisciplinary and theory-driven ASPECT doctoral program are essential. ASPECT and the Department of Political Science encourage applications from a diverse pool of applicants. The standard teaching load is four courses per academic year, including at least one course to be offered for the ASPECT PhD program. This position will begin August 10, 2018.

The successful candidate also will have the opportunity to engage in transdisciplinary research, curriculum, and/or outreach initiatives with other university faculty working in the Integrated Security Destination Area. The Integrated Security Destination Area is focused on understanding and fostering a world in which individuals, institutions, and nations are secured by technology and social systems that follow ethical principles and promote values of social justice. Faculty working together in this area are bringing a transdisciplinary approach to the complex range of human and systems security challenges. The successful candidate will have additional opportunities to join University colleagues in research and teaching initiatives in the Policy Strategic Growth Area (<http://provost.vt.edu/destination-areas.html>).

Required qualifications: Earned doctorate in political science or closely related field at the time of application or degree in hand by August 10, 2018. Candidates must have a clear specialization in postcolonial theory and global governance/globalization theory with an emphasis on human security. Applications demonstrating strong research interests in critical gender or race perspectives, the governance/management of displaced populations, urban/rural dynamics, and qualitative methodologies are especially encouraged. Additionally, successful candidates will need to demonstrate an ability to mentor doctoral students in ASPECT and in the Political Science department's MA program and will have documented effectiveness in teaching postcolonial, global governance/globalization, and security courses at the undergraduate level.

Desired qualifications: Preference will be given to political theorists who can teach a wide array of courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels in the areas listed above. Ability to work in disciplinary and interdisciplinary settings (and collaborate in teaching and research with colleagues across disciplines in the context of the ASPECT program and the cross-university Integrated Security Destination Area and Policy Strategic Growth Area) is highly desirable. Prior teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels is strongly preferred. Commitment to work effectively with a diverse campus population is key.

Interested persons must apply at www.jobs.vt.edu posting #TR0170155, where they will submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, no more than one recent writing sample representative of their research, teaching evaluations, a short research précis (1-2 pages) that stresses the applicant's theoretical background and contributions, and contact information for no more than 4 academic references. Screening of applications will begin January 5, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. All inquiries can be sent to: Dr. François Debrix (fdebrix@vt.edu) or Dr. Timothy W. Luke (twluke@vt.edu), chairs, Postcolonial Theory Search Committee, ASPECT, Major Williams Hall, Room 202 (0192), 220 Stanger St., Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Individuals with additional questions or with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact the search committee chairs.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Agency

Virginia Tech does not discriminate against employees, students, or applicants on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, or veteran status; or otherwise discriminate against employees or applicants who inquire about, discuss, or disclose their compensation or the compensation of other employees, or applicants; or any other basis protected by law (<http://www.vt.edu/about/equal-opportunity.html>). For inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies, contact the Office of Equity and Access at 540-231-2010 or Virginia Tech, North End Center, Suite 2300 (0318), 300 Turner St. NW, Blacksburg, VA 24061.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3608

Northeastern University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Political Theory

Specializations: International Security, Civil Rights & Liberties, Science & Technology

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor College of Social Sciences & Humanities Northeastern University

Responsibilities

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities at Northeastern University seeks nominations and applications from leading scholars for the position of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, tenure/tenure-track, in the area(s) of cyber security, privacy, ethics, and resilience (all broadly defined), with an expected start date of Fall 2018. We welcome applications from scholars working in any combination of these areas and are especially interested in those that focus on key issues in cybersecurity and privacy as they relate to applied ethics, human behavior, economics, institutions and policy. Interdisciplinary expertise in computational methods, data science, social science and/or humanities is preferred. This is an interdisciplinary position and candidates will be considered for joint appointments across suitable colleges and departments. The successful candidate will have a distinguished scholarly record and demonstrated potential for excellence in leadership and interdisciplinary collaboration.

The position will facilitate cross-college teaching, research and collaboration between the College of Social Sciences and Humanities and the College of Computer and Information Science. The position will also support the University's commitment to innovation in teaching and contribute to the Cybersecurity & Privacy Institute (<https://cyber.ccis.northeastern.edu/>), the Global Resilience Institute (<https://globalresilience.northeastern.edu/>), and/or the Security & Resilience Studies program (<https://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/polisci/security-resilience-studies/>). The candidate who fills this position will share the college's commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a PhD or its equivalent at the time of appointment.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

How to Apply

Applicants should submit a CV and letter of interest along with the names of three references. Candidates will be notified before their references are contacted. Full dossiers will be requested for first-round interviews.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the link for full-time positions or full-time interdisciplinary positions or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click "Apply to this job." Please address nominations and inquiries about the position to Rory Smead at r.smead@northeastern.edu. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3599

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Positions in Values and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Public Administration

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Environmental Policy, Civil Rights & Liberties

The University Center for Human Values and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for postdoctoral positions in Values and Public Policy. We aim to support highly promising scholars trained in moral and political philosophy, political theory, normative economics and related areas to develop a research agenda in the ethical dimensions of public policy.

Candidates selected will undertake a research project exploring a normative problem arising in an area of public policy in which the Woodrow Wilson School conducts research. They will be affiliated with a unit of the School that can inform and support their work. They will also be invited to participate in programs of the University Center for Human Values. Candidates will be expected to contribute the equivalent of one course each year to the undergraduate or graduate programs of the School or the University Center. This contribution may be fulfilled by teaching a course on a topic related to ethical issues in public policy, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval by the Dean of the Faculty, or service to the School or Center.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a Ph.D. and should not have held the degree for more than three years by the date of appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment.

Applicants' dissertation research need not be specifically in values and public policy, but they will be expected to demonstrate a commitment to working on a research project in this area during their time at Princeton. Projects must be related to an area in which the School has a Center or Program (such as science and environmental policy, health and well-being, democratic institutions and processes, information technology policy or globalization and governance). For more information about these areas, please consult <http://www.princeton.edu/centers-programs>.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments, the promise of the proposed research project in values and public policy, and the likelihood that the project will be enhanced by being carried out at the Woodrow Wilson School. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment

The term of appointment is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2018, with the expectation of renewal for one further year assuming good performance. Applicants are expected to be in residence for the duration of the appointment. Princeton offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad Positions/position/2245>

A complete application will include the following materials:

1. A current curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words), conforming to the expectations stated above. Please identify the Woodrow Wilson School center or program with which you wish to be associated and briefly describe what you hope to gain from carrying out the project there. Also please supply an indicative title for the project at the beginning of the proposal;
3. A scholarly paper or dissertation chapter (not to exceed 12,000 words) representing your scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who will be asked to comment specifically on your qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials should be submitted online by Monday, November 13, 2017. We cannot accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference are to be submitted by end of business day on Thursday, November 16, 2017. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately and applications lacking any of the elements listed above may be at a disadvantage. Decisions will be announced in March 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/13/2017

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3447

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Start Date: Fall 2018; Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Specialization: Political Theory, Legal Theory, American Politics

The Department Political Science at the State University of New York College at Cortland in Cortland, NY, invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position with duties to begin Fall 2018.

MAJOR RESPONSIBILITIES: Teach political theory, legal theory, and American politics. Course responsibilities include Introduction to Political Theory, American Political Thought, Introduction to American Government. Course load is three courses per semester.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment (or ABD with designated date of completion) is required. Candidates demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness/ability to participate in the department's Law and Justice concentration. College teaching experience and evidence of scholarly ability are also required.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS: Teach possible upper level courses such as Legal Theory, Justice and Society, and/or other possible courses in the areas of theory and law in the undergraduate curriculum according to the instructor's expertise.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Political Science Department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, but is one of the most active and visible in the college. The department has about 110 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, along with several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in political science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

THE COLLEGE AND COMMUNITY: SUNY Cortland is a comprehensive college within the State University of New York system and is known for a number of leading liberal arts programs in the natural and social sciences as well as the arts and humanities, its superb programs in speech-language pathology, teacher education, recreation, parks and leisure studies, health, and physical education. Our many programs are designed to support our commitment to civic responsibility, environmental responsibility, international education, professional education and social justice. More than 90 percent of SUNY Cortland's 7,200 undergraduate and graduate students gain hands-on experience through internships, volunteerism, civic engagement and study abroad. Its three schools - education, arts and sciences and professional studies - are committed to excellence in teaching, research, scholarship, service and international education.

The campus is located in the geographic center of New York State and is a half-hour drive from Syracuse and Ithaca and four hours from New York City and Philadelphia. Situated in the beautiful Finger Lakes region, Cortland offers an array of regional cultural and recreational opportunities, as well as affordable housing and excellent school systems.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES: For a full job description and to apply on line, go to: <http://jobs.cortland.edu>. Applications should include: a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests; a curriculum vita; the names of three references (with letters to be supplied on request); evidence of teaching effectiveness including sample syllabi if available; academic transcripts from most recent degree; and a publication or writing sample. Applications will be accepted and reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Final hiring is subject to final budgetary authorization.

The State University of New York College at Cortland is an AA/EEO/ADA employer. The College actively seeks applications from women, veterans, individuals with a disability, members of underrepresented groups or anyone that would enrich the diversity of the College.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/13/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3413

University of North Texas
Rank: Open Rank Search in Political Theory

We invite applications for an open-rank position beginning fall 2018 in the broadly defined field of the history of political theory. We are interested in prospective candidates who specialize in Medieval, early modern/Enlightenment, or 19th/20th century German (post-rationalist) thought. An additional strength in non-Western thought, such as Islamic or Chinese political thought, is considered an advantage.

All applicants must meet the following criteria: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science, (2) evidence of excellence in scholarly productivity, and (3) evidence of demonstrated excellence in teaching and mentoring students in independent activities. Preference will be given to candidates who have published books and/or articles in top-tier journals.

The successful candidate will have responsibilities that may include but are not limited to teaching core, upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, continuing a record of robust scholarly research, directing graduate research in the Theory field, and providing service to the department, college, and university. The typical teaching load is 2/2.

The Department of Political Science at UNT is a highly productive department with 25 faculty members who are committed to excellence in both teaching and research. It offers BA, MA/MS, and PhD degrees. Faculty in the department have previously edited the American Political Science Review, International Studies Quarterly, and Journal of Political Science Education, and is the current home of Religion and Politics. The department is also home to the Castleberry Peace Institute, the Peace Studies Program and the Latina/o Mexican-American Studies Program. The Department's web site is: <http://politicalscience.unt.edu>.

With 37,000 students, UNT is the nation's 26th largest public university. As the largest, most comprehensive university in Dallas-Fort Worth, UNT drives the North Texas region. UNT offers 99 bachelor's, 83 master's, and 36 doctoral degree programs, many nationally and internationally recognized. UNT is a Carnegie Tier I public research university deeply committed to advancing educational excellence and preparing students to become thoughtful, engaged citizens of the world.

Applicants must submit: (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a narrative describing scholarly research, (4) two published writing samples, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy, and (6) the names and contact information of three references via UNT's Faculty Jobs portal at <https://facultyjobs.unt.edu>. Direct inquiries to Richard Ruderman, search committee chair (Richard.Ruderman@unt.edu)

Review of applications will begin on October 18, 2017 and will remain open until the position is closed. To ensure full consideration, applicants are encouraged to submit their applications and all supporting materials as close as possible to the review date.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/13/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3400

Ohio State University
Rank: Nationalism and Citizenship

Description: The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position focusing on nationalism and citizenship. The position is open to scholars in any subfield of political science, although we are especially interested in people who bring a strong theoretical perspective grounded in both normative and analytic reasoning. We are especially interested in the relationship between nationalism and citizenship as political ideals, and how different understandings of this relationship affect political behavior and outcomes. Successful candidates may come at this question from a variety of perspectives, including normative political theory, political behavior, and political psychology, or through the study of social movements, political mobilization, or the functioning of political institutions. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants must have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by August 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9662>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Chris Gelpi at Gelpi.10@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3389

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - multiple positions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in comparative politics, international relations, political theory and quantitative methods. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3360

Higher School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory

Political Science Department at Higher School of Economics (Moscow, Russia) invites applications for full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor positions in political theory. The appointees will teach and advise in English, at the undergraduate and graduate levels. For best consideration apply by October 15, 2017. The search will continue until the positions are filled.

The applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science or related disciplines by the time the appointment begins. The successful candidate is expected to conduct high-quality research publishable in reputable peer-reviewed journals with research support provided by the university. The appointment begins on September 1, 2018 and will be made for three years in the first instance, with reviews of teaching and research during the third year. Teaching and research are both conducted in English.

Interested candidates should send a CV, a research statement, a teaching statement, a recent writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation to HSE International Faculty Recruitment Initiative at email address: iri@hse.ru

For questions regarding the application process contact Leila Ashurova at lashurova@hse.ru, +7(495) 772-9590 ext. 22535.

About HSE

The Higher School of Economics (HSE) is a young, dynamic, fast-growing Russian research university. Over the past twenty five years, HSE has become one of Russia's largest universities focused on social sciences, and has earned the reputation of a national leader in higher education.

In 2017 Higher School of Economics was listed in the QS Top 50 Under 50 ranking, and was among the world's Top 100 universities in Economics & Econometrics, Sociology, Politics & International Studies.

Committed to high-quality research, HSE now has a considerable number of international research laboratories, led by eminent professors from all over the world. Currently, HSE employs 96 international tenure-track, post-doctoral and teaching-track fellows in 16 different faculties, 11 research labs and multiple research centers in Moscow, St. Petersburg, Perm and Nizhniy Novgorod.

Information about the university: <http://www.hse.ru/en/>

Information about Political Science Department: <https://social.hse.ru/en/ps/>

Information about recruitment procedures: https://iri.hse.ru/PoliticalScience\_2017\_2018

International Faculty Support Unit: <https://ifaculty.hse.ru/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3363

Ohio State University

Rank: The Health of Democracy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a tenure-track position affiliated with the university's new Institute for Democratic Engagement and Accountability. In keeping with the university's motto, "Education for Citizenship," we welcome applications from scholars broadly interested in the health of democracy, especially the conditions for energetic democratic participation and effective governance. Successful candidates may specialize in one or more areas, including political behavior, political communication, political economy, political psychology, political theory, the policymaking process, race and ethnic politics, or others. Further, we are open with respect to subfield, though we are especially interested in applicants who focus on or include the American case. This position is available pending budget approval.

Qualifications: Applicants should have a PhD or plan to have a PhD in political science by autumn 2018. A successful candidate will have a strong research agenda, evidence of teaching excellence, and the promise of attracting external funding. Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the center of a rapidly growing and diverse metropolitan area with a population of over 1.5 million. The area offers a wide range of affordable housing, many cultural and recreational opportunities, excellent schools, and a strong economy based on government as well as service, transportation and technology industries. Columbus has consistently been rated as one of the Top U.S. cities for quality of life, and was selected as one of the Top 10 cities for African Americans to live, work, and play by Black Enterprise magazine. Additional information about the Columbus area is available at <http://www.columbus.org>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9663>. A complete application consists of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, and three letters of reference. Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Michael Neblo at Neblo.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members of our learning community to reach their full potential. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. We are an NSF Advance Institution and a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/15/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3336

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/pREFERRED qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 8/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3313

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. in Political Science or appropriate related discipline with specialization in Political Theory.

Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2018.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching.

Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication.

Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance.

Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population.

DESIRED/PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of broad training in the canon of Western political theory.

Evidence of ability for excellence in teaching and research grounded in political theory and focusing on topics central to the discipline at large: e.g., ancient, modern, and contemporary theories; democratic theory; critical race theory; immigration; the carceral state; postcolonial theory; identity; hybridity; intersectionality; queer theory; deconstruction's focus on alterity; globalization, and neoliberalism.

Evidence of ability to effectively teach current University course offerings in political theory at the undergraduate and graduate levels (e.g., Classical Political Theory, Modern Political Theory, Recent Political Theory, Senior Seminar in Political Theory, and Graduate Seminar in Political Theory).

Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in political theory that engage issues of diversity, particularly as related to race and ethnicity.

Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body.

Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Evidence of interest in and/or experience with department, college, university and community service.

DUTIES

Teach and develop courses in political theory at the lower and upper-division, and Master's levels.

Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and those writing a thesis.

Engage in research leading to conference participation and publication.

Participate in faculty governance.

Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community.

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION

A Student Success Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (approximately one page, single-spaced)

Letter of application addressing the minimum and desired/pREFERRED qualifications

CV (including current email address)

Three recent academic letters of recommendation

Writing sample

Teaching evaluations

Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree.

Finalists will also be required to submit a signed SC-1 form, three current letters of recommendation, and an official transcript

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

All required documentation shall be submitted electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/9408>

Applications, required documentation, and/or requests for information should be addressed to:

Teresa Wright, Chair and Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605

(562) 985-4705 or E-Mail: teresa.wright@csulb.edu

APPLICATION DEADLINE

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2017
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race, color, national origin, ancestry, religious creed, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, medical condition, age, Vietnam era veteran status, or any other veteran's status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer

Start Date: Fall 2018

Date Posted: 8/30/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3314

Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3130

Texas A&M University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3116

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

SUNY, Binghamton University

Rank: Post Doc Institute for Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

Binghamton University's Institute for Genocide and Mass Atrocity Prevention seeks applications for a one-year (non-renewable) post-doctoral research and teaching Fellow. The GMAP Fellowship supports recent recipients of terminal degrees in academic disciplines contributing to the study of policies and practices designed to predict and prevent genocide and mass atrocities. Applicants must have their terminal degree conferred by the Fellowship start date of August 20, 2018. Recent PhDs in such disciplines (e.g. political science and international studies, sociology or anthropology, geography or public administration) are welcome to apply. In appropriate circumstances applications by recent recipients of the J.D. will also be considered, as will those already occupying temporary or tenure-track positions. For the 2018-19 academic year, the Institute particularly welcomes applicants whose research programs intersect with question of gender and prevention.

Binghamton University's GMAP Institute concentrates specifically on the formation, implementation, and assessment of practical preventative measures and policies. Applicants should present a research program or proposal that documents this practical dimension. The Fellow will conduct research, collaborate with Binghamton University faculty and graduate students associated with the Institute, and will offer at least one public lecture and/or workshop during the academic year. The Fellow will also be expected to offer one course per academic year, at either the graduate or undergraduate level, in an appropriate department.

Deadline for External Applicants: Open until filled

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the vacancy is filled.

Persons interested in this position should apply online.

Please submit:

1. A short cover letter
2. A CV
3. A detailed research proposal including a statement of how the proposal further research in the prevention of genocide and mass atrocity
4. Titles of two or three possible courses
5. Three confidential letters of recommendation

Informal inquiries can be directed to Prof. Max Pensky (mpensky@binghamton.edu).

You may add additional files/documents after uploading your resume. After you fill out your contact information, you will be directed to the upload page. Please login to check/edit your profile or to upload additional documents: <https://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=92541>

The State University of New York is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. As required by title IX and its implementing regulations Binghamton University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in the educational programs and activities which it operates. This requirement extends to employment and admission. Inquiries about sex discrimination may be directed to the University Title IX Coordinator or directly to the Office of Civil Rights (OCR). Contact information for the Title IX Coordinator and OCR, as well as the University's complete Non-Discrimination Notice may be found here: <https://www.binghamton.edu/diversity-equity-inclusion/policies/title-ix.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3903

Southeast Missouri State University*Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Administration and Political Science

Assistant Professor – Tenure Track
Public Administration and Political Science Department of Political Science, Philosophy, and Religion

Primary Responsibilities

Teach graduate courses in Public Administration and undergraduate courses in American Government and Public Administration. Within the Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program, the successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in nonprofit management, nonprofit fundraising, and nonprofit communication, including application and use of social media. At the undergraduate level, the candidate will be expected to teach the introductory American Government course and other courses relevant to the candidate's areas of expertise. The successful candidate will conduct research leading to peer-reviewed publications within the discipline, advise undergraduate and graduate students, and participate in University and professional service.

Required Qualifications

- Ph.D. or ABD (with Ph.D. by August 2018) in Political Science, Public Administration, or related field (Degree must be from a regionally accredited or internationally accredited/government certified university)
- Demonstrated ability to teach these courses in Public Administration: nonprofit management; nonprofit fundraising; and nonprofit communication, including application and use of social media
- Demonstrated ability to teach introductory American Government
- Demonstrated ability for effective teaching and refereed publications
- Demonstrated ability and willingness to teach in face-to-face and online/distance modes
- Demonstrated strong communication skills
- Demonstrated commitment to the teacher/scholar model
- Demonstrated commitment to functioning effectively as part of a team
- Demonstrated commitment to collegiality when interacting with others within the University community
- Demonstrated commitment to a diverse work environment, including working with multicultural populations and an understanding of, and sensitivity to, issues affecting women and minorities

As a public regional university (with a graduate mission), Southeast seeks candidates with a commitment to excellent undergraduate (and graduate) education and student success within the framework of the teacher-scholar model. Applications of instructional technology and pedagogical research are supported through the Center for Scholarship in Teaching and Learning and the Office of Online Learning. Successful candidates will contribute to the development of innovative curricula and delivery strategies, including traditional, blended and online formats, and participate in initiatives promoting student success, retention and degree completion.

Application Deadline: The position begins August 1, 2018. To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by February 16, 2018.

Required Information: To apply, submit the following items online by clicking on the position you wish to apply for at the below link, then click on the APPLY button at the top of the page: <http://agency.governmentjobs.com/semoedu/default.cfm?promotionaljobs=1>

- Letter of interest addressing required position qualifications

- Current curriculum vitae
- Separate teaching statement
- At least one copy of scholarly work, published or unpublished
- Unofficial copies of transcripts (official transcripts are required when offer of employment is accepted)
- Name and contact information of three professional references

Departmental Information: Information regarding the Department of Political Science, Philosophy, and Religion can be found at <http://www.semo.edu/polisci/>

University Facts: Southeast Missouri State University is a comprehensive regional state university with seven colleges and schools, 11,900 students, and a faculty and staff of over 1,100. Southeast, a moderately selective institution, offers baccalaureate, masters and specialist degrees, and participates in joint doctoral programs with the University of Missouri. Cape Girardeau, a historic city overlooking the Mississippi River, is the hub of a thriving county with a population of approximately 71,000. Serving a region of more than 500,000 people, it is the largest center for retail, medical, manufacturing, communications, and cultural activities between St. Louis and Memphis.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3894

University of Alabama, Huntsville*Rank: Eminent Scholar in Global Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: India, Central Asia, Economic Policy

The College of Business at The University of Alabama in Huntsville invites applications and nominations for an Eminent Scholar in Global Studies. The Global Studies Eminent Scholar is expected to be a visible leader in international affairs, international business policy, and/or economic development. This individual will lead efforts within the university and community to conduct research, influence policy, and develop programs with the goal of improving international business, trade, and cultural relationships, with an emphasis on security cooperation. Expertise on India and other countries on the Silk Road is critical to the success of the individual. The candidate is expected to be active in scholarly research and policy development, to conduct externally funded projects, and to engage in outreach with government agencies located at Redstone Arsenal and other similar locations.

We seek applicants who welcome the challenges and rewards of serving on a diverse and intellectually curious faculty of a growing college in a research intensive university located in a dynamic and supportive high technology community. A Ph.D. in Business, International Business or Economics, or a related discipline, with experience in security cooperation and policy development is required. A Ph.D. from an AACSB accredited institution and eligibility to hold Personnel Security Clearance are preferred. The successful candidate will be expected to develop academic programs and educational opportunities in global studies and security cooperation. In addition to a strong commitment to work with the security cooperation industry and government agencies, the successful candidate must be able to teach graduate and undergraduate students and mentor graduate students and junior faculty.

The Eminent Scholar in Global Studies must have a strong academic background, must be an internationally known researcher in international affairs, international business, and/or economic development, and must be committed to a continuing program of scholarship. In addition, the preferred candidate will have a background in or working knowledge of Department of State security cooperation activities and policies, and have familiarity with the policies and economic development, international business, and international relations of India and other countries on the Silk Road. Candidates need to have an understanding of the Civil Service Career Program (CP60) Field (foreign affairs track). Depending on qualifications, the Eminent Scholar may be appointed at the rank of Associate Professor with tenure or Professor with tenure. Depending on the interests and background of the candidate, this position may be a joint position with the Department of Political Science in the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE: The College of Business is accredited by AACSB International and has approximately 30 tenured and tenure-track faculty, 35 research and part-time faculty, and 1,000 undergraduates and 400 graduate students. It offers a BSBA degree with majors in management, marketing, information systems, accounting, and finance; a BS in Economics and Computational Analysis degree; and seven graduate degrees: an MBA and specialized masters' degrees in Accounting, Business Analytics, Cybersecurity, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, and Supply Chain and Logistics Management. Recent publications by our faculty members have appeared in journals such as Science, the Academy of Management Journal, Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science, Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, Journal of International Business Studies, Journal of Scheduling, Marketing Science, MIS Quarterly, Operations Research, Organization Science, Strategic Management Journal, and The Accounting Review. For detailed information about the college and its programs, please visit uah.edu/business.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY: The University of Alabama in Huntsville, classified as a High Research Active institution, offers academic and research programs in the Colleges of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Business, Education, Engineering, Nursing, Professional and Continuing Studies, and Science. The University is located in the midst of a high technology community consisting of the second largest industrial research park in the U.S. and is adjacent to Redstone Arsenal, which is home to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, the Missile Defense Agency, the Army Materiel Command, and the Aviation and Missile Command. For more information about UAH, see uah.edu/about.

ABOUT THE CITY OF HUNTSVILLE: The Huntsville area is a culturally diverse community and maintains one of the highest per capita incomes and standards of living in the southeast. Known as the "Rocket City," Huntsville has a major presence of technology, space, and defense industries, which allows the city to offer a variety of educational, recreational, and cultural opportunities. Located in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, Huntsville/Madison County is a diversified high-tech economy and is rich in cultural and recreational activities with a thriving music and arts scene. The population of the metropolitan area is over 400,000 and growing. Huntsville's Cummings Research Park is the country's second largest research and technology park, containing nearly 300 companies employing 29,000 people involved in technology research and development. Huntsville has a high concentration of Ph.D.'s, engineers, and STEM workers, and is recognized as a leading technology city with a rapidly expanding and diverse corporate ecosystem that is rich in innovation. Several museums and historic sites can be found in Huntsville, including the Huntsville Museum of Art, the Burritt Museum and Park, the EarlyWorks Children's Museum, the Alabama Constitution Village, the Huntsville Botanical Gardens, Monte Sano State Park, and the U.S. Space and Rocket Center. A vibrant downtown entertainment district, including Broadway and symphony performances, contribute to Huntsville's vibrant cultural life. For more information about Huntsville and its convenient location to Nashville, Birmingham, and Atlanta, please visit huntsville.org.

Applicants must submit the following via email to GSscholarsearch@uah.edu: a letter of nomination or application; a curriculum vitae, summary of current research interests (2-4 pages), teaching philosophy (1-2 pages), and names and affiliations for three references. Formal review of applications will begin February 2, 2018. Receipt and review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

For questions or additional information, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Jeet Gupta via e-mail (GSscholarsearch@uah.edu) or via telephone at 256-824-6593.

The University of Alabama in Huntsville is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer of minorities/ females/ veterans/ disabled.

Please refer to Log #18/19-116

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3880

New York University School of Professional Studies

Rank: Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor of Global Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Public Administration

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Conflict Processes, International Security

Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor of Global Affairs

NYU School of Professional Studies

Center for Global Affairs

The Center for Global Affairs (CGA) at the NYU School of Professional Studies invites applications for a full time clinical (non tenured) faculty position. We seek an individual with the ability to teach courses on cybercrime, cybersecurity, cyberlaw, cyberconflict, cyberwar, and/or terrorists' use of the Internet. The ideal candidate would have professional and/or government experience as well as excellent academic credentials.

The CGA currently offers a Masters in Global Affairs which is interdisciplinary with concentrations in Transnational Security, Global Futures, Global Economy, Energy and Environment, Development and Humanitarian Assistance, International Law and Human Rights, Gender Studies and Peacebuilding. A second graduate program in Global Security, Conflict and Cybercrime is in the final stage of approval. The successful candidate will be expected to play a full role in curricular development, student advisement and the Center's robust series of public events besides the primary role of teaching graduate level courses.

Successful candidates will possess an advanced degree, with an earned doctorate and experience teaching at the graduate level preferred. The individual selected for this position should possess the background and experience necessary to teach a variety of courses in the cyber curriculum; a record of publishing and research is desirable. The rank of the position will be dependent upon experience and qualifications.

The Center for Global Affairs (CGA) educates and inspires its community to become global citizens capable of identifying and implementing solutions to pressing global challenges. Through rigorous graduate and continuing higher education programs and provocative public events, the Center prepares global citizens who will be at home, and thus be effective agents of change, in diverse environments around the world. For more information, visit www.sps.nyu.edu/global.affairs.

The NYU School of Professional Studies offers a broad range of degree and noncredit programs that are professionally oriented, integrate theory with real-world applications, and are taught by faculty members who are leaders and innovators in their fields. The School of Professional Studies captures the expertise of the key sectors that make New York City a great global capital, such as real estate, finance, marketing, public relations, global affairs, hospitality and tourism, sports management, philanthropy and fundraising, communications, media, writing, the arts, and others. Full- and part-time students enroll in on-site and online credit programs, including graduate degrees and undergraduate degrees for both adults returning to school and traditional-aged students. In addition, working professionals and other adult learners pursue career objectives or intellectual discovery in over 2,500 continuing education courses, diploma programs, conferences, and seminars annually.

Applications and nominations will be accepted until January 31, 2018. Applications will be considered as they arrive. NYU appreciates all applications but can only respond to qualified candidates.

To apply, go to: apply.interfolio.com/46285

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 12/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3873

Valdosta State University

Rank: Department Head

Valdosta State University seeks qualified applicants for a fiscal (12-month) administrative faculty position in the Department of Political Science to serve as the department head. Position is tenure earning and rank is dependent upon credentials. Reporting directly to the Dean of the College, the department head is responsible for the overall day to day functions of the Political Science Department. This includes, but is not limited to:

- ?
  - Hiring, managing and evaluating faculty members within the department.
    - Conducting periodic Departmental meetings.
      - Scheduling classes and sections for each faculty member in each academic semester.
      - Advising, scheduling, overseeing internships and providing overrides, where appropriate, for students during the academic year.
        - Teaching required courses during the academic year.
        - Conducting required research during the academic year.
        - Attending required conferences, including those associated with academic presentations during the academic year.

- Participating in Executive Committee meetings during the academic year.
- Attending monthly University Department Head meetings.
  - Serves as Budget Manager for the departmental budget.

Required qualifications include a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field; a demonstrated leadership abilities in managing personnel, budgets, and administrative duties; meets qualifications for tenure and appointment as associate professor or professor; a demonstrated commitment to excellence in teaching and learning, as well as scholarship; and a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Online application is required and should be submitted to <https://valdosta.peopleadmin.com/postings/15327>. Deadline for submission is February 1, 2018. For more information on the position contact Dr. Ross, Search Chair, via email dross@valdosta.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 2/1/2018

Date Posted: 12/11/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3867

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED

Political Science: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED. The position will begin in the 2018-19 academic year.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses across the public administration core curriculum for the undergraduate major in Public Administration and courses for the MA program and have substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis; develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and master's level graduate teaching, including the introduction to Public Administration and other advanced courses that contribute to the public administration major; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; take part in the undergraduate major in public administration, teach related courses for the MA program, contribute to all aspects of the departmental mission; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs.

Required: PhD by date of appointment in public policy, political science or a related field.

Consideration will be given to those with a specialty and/or an active research agenda in nonprofit organizations and have a background in quantitative methodology and "big data."

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=4587>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin January 31, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/7/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3860Presbyterian College*Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Politics or PolicySubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public AdministrationPROPOSED JOB POSTING: "Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Politics or Policy"

The Political Science Department at Presbyterian College invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in American Politics or Policy to begin in the Fall 2018 semester. The ideal candidate will have teaching or research interests that include Public Administration and/or Public Policy. The successful candidate will contribute to the department by teaching in its current introductory and upper-level offerings in public administration, public policy, research methods and/or American politics. The ability to connect departmental offerings to the College's new initiatives in health professions is especially encouraged.

Demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching, research, student advising, and service to the College and community are essential for successful applicants. The candidate selected will be expected to offer seven courses per year (3-4 teaching load). A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy is expected at the time of appointment. ABD candidates are also welcome to apply but are encouraged to have their degrees completed by the contract start date in August 2018. Candidates who represent diverse backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply.

Presbyterian College (PC) is a four-year undergraduate liberal-arts college affiliated with the Presbyterian Church USA. The College actively supports professional development and offers numerous grant opportunities for research and teaching. Located in Clinton, South Carolina, the College is approximately 40 minutes from the Greenville and Spartanburg, S.C., metro area and about one hour from Columbia, S.C. The area offers abundant opportunities for social and recreational activities in one of the fastest growing regions of the country with easy access to Charlotte, N.C., Asheville, N.C., and Atlanta, GA.

Applicants should send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching experience and philosophy, a statement of research interests, copies of unofficial graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Booker Ingram, Professor of Political Science, Presbyterian College, 503 South Broad Street, Clinton, SC, 29325. Electronic submissions of application materials are encouraged and should be sent to politicalscience@presby.edu. For specific questions regarding the position, please contact Dr. Booker Ingram directly at btingram@presby.edu. Review of applications will begin January 15, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

Presbyterian College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The College seeks to hire the most qualified candidate and does not discriminate against any legally protected class.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/6/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3850Auburn University Montgomery*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a visiting assistant professor position in public policy or public administration beginning August 2018. The appointment is renewable based on funding, need, performance, and mutual agreement; this position also may be converted to tenure track based on enrollment growth in the Department's programs. The teaching load for this position is nine hours (three courses) per semester.

The position is open with regard to specialization. Successful candidates will be able to offer courses for the department's undergraduate program in political science and its NASPAA-accredited master's degree program in public administration; evidence of a promising research agenda in topics related to public administration and/or public policy is also essential. A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or public administration is expected at the time of the appointment.

Preference will be given to applications received by January 31, 2018, but applicants will be considered until the position is filled. To apply, complete an online application at www.jobs.aum.edu/postings/2963 and upload 1) a letter of application to include research agenda and teaching interests and philosophy, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) graduate transcript (official transcript is required at time of appointment), 4) one writing sample, 5) teaching evaluations and sample syllabi; and 6) a professional reference sheet. Three confidential letters of reference must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu or by mail to:

Visiting Assistant Professor Search Committee
Department of Political Science and Public Administration
Auburn University at Montgomery
P.O. Box 244023
Montgomery, AL 36124-4023

Auburn University at Montgomery ranks among the South's top universities by U.S. News and World Report, and is located seven miles from the city center and state capitol complex. The university enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers a bachelor's and master's degree in political science, a master's degree in public administration, and a Ph.D. in public administration and public policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is opened until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/28/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3833

St. Mary's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The St. Mary's University Political Science Department is conducting a search for an Assistant Professor and Director of its onsite Masters in Public Administration program. The desired applicant must hold a Ph.D. in political science or a Doctorate in public administration (DPA) from an accredited University with major concentrations in areas related to Public Administration and American Politics. Teaching, professional expertise, and research in areas of Public Sector Performance or Organizational Management, Research Methods in Public Administration, Public Policy or American Political Behavior or some combination is preferable. The typical teaching load at the University is four courses per semester. One course release per semester is available for a successful candidate for directing the graduate program in Public Administration. The duties of this directorship include course and program scheduling, program assessment, and developing relationships for internship opportunities with local municipal and state government agencies and employers. The Director would also explore further extending the MPA program online. Experience with the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA) or the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) or with the International City/County Management Association (ICMA) - or other professional administration organizations- is highly desirable. Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate an interest in affiliating with the University's Center for Catholic Studies, which will explore a wide range of human issues across disciplinary boundaries, and in a global or local context, including, but not limited to, poverty, economic justice, religious freedom, or immigration, etc...

The position is a full-time, tenure track appointment, commencing in August 2018. Department faculty cover a full range of courses in a general graduate degree in public administration, an undergraduate political science degree, and provide support to core courses in the university core curriculum. The department is the civic conscience of the university and fosters the building of "the good life" through education of the whole student, committed to civic engagement, justice and service to society. The Department resides in the School of Humanities and Social Science.

St. Mary's is the oldest Catholic university in the Southwest, and continues to advocate the Marianist mission of academic excellence and servant leadership. Founded in 1852 by the Society of Mary, St. Mary's is a comprehensive Catholic and Marianist university with a strong tradition of integrating liberal arts with professional studies. St. Mary's enrolls approximately 3,800 students in a diverse university with four schools, more than 40 academic programs including Ph.D. and J.D. programs, and numerous pre-professional programs.

Applications can be found at <http://stmarytx.applicantpro.com/jobs/> with the option to upload all supporting documents electronically. Along with the employment application, please also submit (1) letter of application addressing interest in position, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) official graduate transcript confirming the doctoral degree, (4) three letters of reference; (5) statements of research agenda and teaching philosophy; and (6) evidence of teaching excellence. The Chair of the search committee for this Political Science position is Dr. Arturo

Vega, avega2@stmarytx.edu Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science (210) 431-8028.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until position is filled. Any offer of employment will be contingent upon successful completion of a clear background check. EOE

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3807

Vanderbilt University

Rank: CSDI Senior Visiting Scholar

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions (CSDI) at Vanderbilt University's Department of Political Science seeks applicants for up to two (2) Senior Visiting Scholars who seek to conduct research on political institutions, opinion or behavior. Applications are welcome from scholars of all ranks or equivalent professional positions. The specific length of the appointment will be negotiated on a case-by-case basis, but we especially welcome applications from scholars who are interested in spending an entire year at Vanderbilt during the 2018-2019 academic year. There is no teaching requirement associated with the fellowship. Successful candidates will be provided financial support (e.g. a stipend equivalent to half-salary to make a full year's leave possible), office space, and computing resources.

Candidates should submit a vita and a cover letter describing their research project, what they hope to accomplish while at CSDI, and why spending time at Vanderbilt would provide a useful setting for that research. The letter should also indicate how long the desired time in residence would be and whether there are existing financial arrangements that would be relevant (e.g., if you have a paid semester's leave and health care benefits). Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before January 15, 2018. Applications should be submitted online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47217>

Vanderbilt University has a strong institutional commitment to recruiting and retaining an academically and culturally diverse community of faculty. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3803

University of New Orleans

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Methodology, Other

The Department of Political Science at the University of New Orleans seeks candidates for a tenure-track, assistant professor position to begin in fall 2018. The primary teaching need is nonprofit leadership in our NASPAA accredited MPA program, and the successful candidate will become a core faculty member in that program. Other areas of interest include applied research methodology, general public administration at graduate and undergraduate levels, hazards and disasters, and a range of undergraduate political science courses that fit the candidates' expertise and interests. We seek candidates with both a demonstrated potential for scholarly research and publication and an interest in engaged scholarship relevant to our urban environment.

- RESPONSIBILITIES:
  - Teach both graduate and undergraduate courses in Public Administration and Political Science
  - Serve on MPA and M.A. committees
  - Participate in department, college and university committees
  - Teach a 4-4 load with a reduction for an active research agenda.
- REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Doctorate in Public Administration, Political Science or closely related field

Candidates should submit a vita, three letters of recommendation, writing samples, teaching evaluations, and a brief statement of interest to Michael Huelshoff, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of New Orleans, 2000 Lakeshore Drive, New Orleans, LA 70148. Review of applications will begin upon receipt.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 3797

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Governance of Emerging Technologies

Position 2: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Governance of Emerging Technologies

TENURE TRACK FACULTY POSITION-The Governance of Emerging Technologies

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield: Public Policy, Public Administration

Area of Expertise: Science and Technology

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in Public Policy and Governance of Emerging Technologies starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a solid track record of monographs and articles in top-tier peer-reviewed international journals, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. He/she will also have acumen for innovative and applied teaching methods, with a focus on critical thinking and problem solving, and show passion for institution building, and desire to have a strong impact on society.

He/she is expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses on the political, social, and economic challenges and opportunities brought by new technological trends such as Big Data, Digitalization, Automation, and Artificial Intelligence. He/she should know the current state of these technologies and reflect on their implications for governments, the private sector, educational systems and society.

He/she should also be willing to collaborate with the IE's Center for the Governance of Change, a newly created institution that seeks to enhance our ability to understand, anticipate, and manage technological innovation and its externalities in a variety of domains – political, economic, and societal. This collaboration will include the organization of academic events and the securing and management of research grants in his/her area. Experience in policy-making and consulting of governments, tech companies, and international organizations will be advantages.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a 1-page statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science or Public Policy is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Governance of Emerging Technologies to IESIR2@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We are able to offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3785

Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor (Public Policy and/or Public Administration)

Public Policy and Global Affairs

School of Social Sciences

Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Young and research-intensive, Nanyang Technological University (NTU Singapore) is ranked 11th globally. It is also placed 1st among the world's best young universities.

The School of Social Sciences nurtures interdisciplinary study and research for the betterment of society. We promote a holistic approach to advance learning through research and teaching. Our research and educational programmes are aligned with NTU's new five-year strategic plan, NTU 2020 focuses on five key research thrusts – Sustainable Earth, Global Asia, Secure Community, Healthy Society and Future Learning. For more information about the University, please visit our website at: <http://www.ntu.edu.sg/Pages/home.aspx>.

Public Policy and Global Affairs (PPGA) in SSS offers a Minor in Public Administration, a Major in Public Policy and Global Affairs, MA and PhD programmes by research, and general electives.

The School of Social Sciences (SSS) is inviting applications for one tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Public Policy and/or Public Administration in the Context of a Globalizing Asia.

Candidates should possess a PhD in a relevant discipline, and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research as well as teaching at both the undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Emoluments

Salary will be competitive and will commensurate with qualifications and experience. The University offers a comprehensive fringe benefit package.

Application Procedure

To apply, please refer to the Guidelines for Submitting an Application for Faculty Appointment (<http://www.ntu.edu.sg/ohr/career/submit-an-application/Pages/Faculty-Positions.aspx>) and email your application package (consisting of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, personal particulars form, teaching and research statements, evidence of teaching effectiveness (if available), three selected reprint/preprints of publications, and the names and email addresses of three potential referees) to:

Chair, Search Committee
c/o Public Policy and Global Affairs
School of Social Sciences
Nanyang Technological University
14 Nanyang Drive, #03-86
Singapore 637332

email: ppga-search@ntu.edu.sg

Applications sent by email should include "Assistant Professor (Public Policy and/or Public Administration)" in the subject line. Enquiries about the position can also be addressed to the above email address.

Closing date for application is 31 December 2017. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/31/2017

Date Posted: 11/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3781

University of North Carolina, Wilmington

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public and International Affairs

Summary of Position

The Department of Public and International Affairs (PIA) at the University of North Carolina Wilmington (UNCW) invites applications for a position as a tenure-track assistant professor to play a role in our Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program. This position requires an active research program and carries a 3-3 teaching load. The candidate will teach primarily in the Master of Public Administration program but may also contribute to one or more of the other PIA programs: the undergraduate major in political science, the Master of Coastal and Ocean Policy (MCOP) program, and/or our Master of Conflict Management and Resolution (CMR) program.

Minimum Requirements

The successful candidate must be able to teach one of the core MPA courses (e.g., budgeting, human resources management) and contribute to one of the MPA concentrations in Public Management, Non-profit Management, Public Policy, etc. A doctorate in Public Administration, Public Affairs, Public Policy, or a closely related field is required. ABD candidates will be considered, however, the candidate must complete their doctorate prior to starting the position in August 2018.

Preferred Qualifications

The preferred candidate will be able to teach more than one of the core MPA courses and/or contribute to more than one of the MPA concentrations. Prior professional experience and prior teaching experience are desirable. A willingness to teach courses using online and distance education technologies and alternative scheduling formats is desired. Additional information about the PIA department and the MPA program can be found at <http://uncw.edu/pia/> and <http://uncw.edu/mpa/>.

Primary Function of Organizational Unit

The Department of Public and International Affairs supports the Bachelor of Arts in Political Science and several minors: International Affairs, Nonprofit Management and Leadership, Political Science, Pre-Law, Public Administration, and Security Studies. At the graduate level, faculty support courses in the Master of Public Administration, Master of Arts in Conflict Management and Resolution, and Master of Coastal and Ocean Policy.

College/School Information

At UNCW, the College of Arts and Sciences provides the vital foundation for the university's pursuit of excellence. Through our teaching, we educate students for lives of fulfillment in the twenty-first century. Through our research, we advance the state of knowledge and creativity in the arts and sciences. And through our outreach, we improve the quality of life in Southeastern North Carolina and beyond.

University Information

The University of North Carolina Wilmington, the state's coastal university, is dedicated to learning through the integration of teaching and mentoring with research and service. A public institution with over 15,000 students, the university is known for its superb faculty and staff and powerful academic experience. With an array of high-quality programs at the baccalaureate and master's levels, and doctoral programs in marine biology, educational leadership, psychology and nursing practice. UNCW is consistently recognized at a national level for academic excellence and affordability by publications like U.S. News & World Report, Kiplinger's Personal Finance and The Business Journals. UNCW also recently earned the 2015 Community Engagement Classification from the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, bestowed to higher education institutions dedicated to community involvement.

EEO Statement

UNC Wilmington actively fosters a diverse and inclusive working and learning environment and is an equal opportunity employer.

Qualified persons from all racial, ethnic or other minority groups, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply.

Priority Consideration Information

Priority consideration will be given to applications received by January 01, 2018; however, applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Position details and full applicant instructions can be found at <https://jobs.uncw.edu/postings/9783>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3731

East Tennessee State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: American Politics, Latin American, Middle East

The Department of Political Science, International Affairs and Public Administration in the College of Arts and Sciences at East Tennessee State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in public administration at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning in August 2018. The department offers undergraduate majors in Political Science and International Affairs, a Master of Public Administration, and undergraduate minor programs in Political Science, International Affairs, Legal Studies, and Public Administration.

Required Qualifications: Candidates for the position must hold a D.P.A. or Ph.D. in Public Administration, or a Ph.D. in Political Science with substantial expertise in public administration, by no later than August 1, 2018. Applicants must be prepared to teach a variety of graduate courses in the Master of Public Administration Program as well as some undergraduate courses in political science.

Preferred Qualifications: Ability to teach undergraduate courses in either Latin American or Middle Eastern Politics and in American government is preferred.

More information may be found on the ETSU HR website at <https://jobs.etsu.edu/postings/9580>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/10/2018

Date Posted: 10/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3610

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa, AL, invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2018. The successful candidate will become a core faculty member in the Master of Public Administration Program, and will also be expected to teach undergraduate public policy and administration courses. Although applicants from all disciplines of public administration who demonstrate excellence in research and teaching are encouraged to apply, we are particularly interested in those with teaching and research interests in either public budgeting, human resources, or quantitative methods. A completed Ph.D. in public administration, public policy, political science, or related discipline is required for appointment at the level of Assistant Professor.

The University of Alabama is the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system, enrolling over 38,000 students. Its Department of Political Science has 18 faculty members and offers a Masters of Public Administration degree, along with a B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degree in Political Science.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/41898> and complete the online application. Attach a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, a transcript of graduate work, samples of publications and papers, and teaching evaluations, if available. Send three letters of recommendation directly to: Public Administration Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213, or via email at apatrick@ua.edu (please state the position in the email). For more information, contact James Gerard Caillier, Search Committee Chair, at jgc.caillier@ua.edu. We will begin reviewing applications on January 15, 2018 and will continue reviewing applications until the position is filled. The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and actively seeks diversity among its employees. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3616

Bocconi University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration or/and Management

The Department of Policy Analysis and Public Management at Bocconi University is inviting applications from scholars in public management, public administration or management. The position is at assistant professor level, for appointment on September 1, 2018. We are particularly, though not exclusively interested in applications in the field of Human Resources Management, organizational behavior or organizational theory. Respondents should have research experience on public or non-profit organizations. We also encourage applications from candidates with research experience on international institutions. Bocconi University is a leading institution in economics, management and related disciplines in Europe, and it is currently expanding in the areas of political and social sciences. As part of this development, the Department has a major role in staffing a Bachelor in International Politics and Government (BIG), a Master in Government and International Organizations (GIO) and, starting 2018, a Master in Politics and Public Policy. Public Management is a major field in the Ph.D. Program in Public Policy and Administration, launched in 2014. Bocconi provides an ideal interdisciplinary research environment. The Department of Policy Analysis and Public Management combines faculty from several social sciences (public administration, political science, sociology, economics, history, public health, demography), who shares an interest policy-relevant research, from analysis and design to implementation and management. The Department counts 60 tenured or tenure-track faculty members.

The successful candidate is expected to teach at the undergraduate and graduate level, including SDA-Bocconi (executive education). The excellent terms of employment are competitive. Bocconi University is located in Italy's most vibrant center, Milan, a historical and cosmopolitan city in a metro area of 3 million and well connected to the rest of Europe.

Applications are due by January 7th, 2018. Review will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Campus visits will be scheduled accordingly.

Knowledge of Italian is not required. Responsibilities include teaching and productivity in research. Applicants should have – or be close to completing – a PhD and will have demonstrated strong potential in research.

To ensure full consideration, applicants must submit:

- a. A scientific curriculum;
  - b. Titles, publications and documents which the candidates intend to submit for this evaluation;
  - c. The name of at least two highly qualified academic referees
- Submissions must be done via the on-line e-form with pdf attachments which can be found at www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket.

To complete the online process and be considered for the position, applicants will have to include at least two letters of recommendation. The letters should be sent by the referees no later than January 15th 2018.

For further information, please contact prof. Greta Nasi (greta.nasi@unibocconi.it) and prof. Valentina Mele (valentina.mele@unibocconi.it).

Bocconi University is committed to increasing the diversity of its faculty. Applications are particularly welcome from women and members of groups who are under-represented in academic posts.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/7/2018

Date Posted: 10/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3581

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here:<https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osullivanm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Positions in Values and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Other, Public Administration

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Environmental Policy, Civil Rights & Liberties

The University Center for Human Values and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for postdoctoral positions in Values and Public Policy. We aim to support highly promising scholars trained in moral and political philosophy, political theory, normative economics and related areas to develop a research agenda in the ethical dimensions of public policy.

Candidates selected will undertake a research project exploring a normative problem arising in an area of public policy in which the Woodrow Wilson School conducts research. They will be affiliated with a unit of the School that can inform and support their work. They will also be invited to participate in programs of the University Center for Human Values. Candidates will be expected to contribute the equivalent of one course each year to the undergraduate or graduate programs of the School or the University Center. This contribution may be fulfilled by teaching a course on a topic related to ethical issues in public policy, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval by the Dean of the Faculty, or service to the School or Center.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a Ph.D. and should not have held the degree for more than three years by the date of appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment.

Applicants' dissertation research need not be specifically in values and public policy, but they will be expected to demonstrate a commitment to working on a research project in this area during their time at Princeton. Projects must be related to an area in which the School has a Center or Program (such as science and environmental policy, health and well-being, democratic institutions and processes, information technology policy or globalization and governance). For more information about these areas, please consult <http://www.princeton.edu/centers-programs>.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments, the promise of the proposed research project in values and public policy, and the likelihood that the project will be enhanced by being carried out at the Woodrow Wilson School. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment

The term of appointment is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2018, with the expectation of renewal for one further year assuming good performance. Applicants are expected to be in residence for the duration of the appointment. Princeton offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/2245>

A complete application will include the following materials:

1. A current curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words), conforming to the expectations stated above. Please identify the Woodrow Wilson School center or program with which you wish to be associated and briefly describe what you hope to gain from carrying out the project there. Also please supply an indicative title for the project at the beginning of the proposal;
3. A scholarly paper or dissertation chapter (not to exceed 12,000 words) representing your scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who will be asked to comment specifically on your qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials should be submitted online by Monday, November 13, 2017. We cannot accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference are to be submitted by end of business day on Thursday, November 16, 2017. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately and applications lacking any of the elements listed above may be at a disadvantage. Decisions will be announced in March 2018.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/13/2017

Date Posted: 9/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3447

Pace University, NYC

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Chair, Department of Political Science
Dyson College of Arts and Sciences
Pace University

Dyson College of Arts and Sciences of Pace University invites applications for an anticipated position of Chair of the Department of Political Science at the rank of Associate or Full Professor to begin September 2018. The position is at the Pace University campus in lower Manhattan, NYC. The Political Science major is one of the largest in the College. The department has a long history of achievements in innovative co-curricular enrichment activities, service learning, civic engagement, and collaborative research between professors and students.

Applicants should have an earned PhD in a relevant field (e.g., Political Science, Government, Public Administration, Public Policy, Latina/o Studies, etc.) with demonstrated expertise and familiarity with at least one major subfield of the political science discipline (preferably US politics and/or Latina/o Studies), an excellent record of teaching, research and service, and a record of leadership and administration, and strong quantitative training.

Duties and responsibilities include: working in a shared governance environment, modeling collegiality and collaboration; articulating a clear, compelling, and inclusive vision for the department's future; leading a diverse and growing team of faculty and staff; cultivating a welcoming environment for diversity; valuing the interests, abilities, and perspectives of all faculty; strengthening the department's ties with the rest of university and professional community; performing departmental administration in an efficient, highly competent, fair, and transparent manner; demonstrating and modeling a record of excellence in scholarship, teaching, and service; mentoring tenured and tenure-track full time faculty.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, and contact information for three references in a single PDF file to Alfred Ward, Ph.D. (award@pace.edu).

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled; applications received by January 1, 2018 are guaranteed full consideration.

Pace University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3205

Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3130

Texas A&M University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

Subfield(s): Methodology, Political Theory, Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3116

Lamar University

Rank: Jack Brooks Endowed Chair of Government & Public Service

Specializations: Congress, Leadership Studies, Legislative Studies

The Department of Political Science is seeking a scholar with outstanding teaching and research potential for the Jack Brooks Chair in Government and Public Service beginning August 15, 2018.

The holder of the Chair will have a tenure track appointment at the Assistant or Associate Professor level in the Department of Political Science. The Chair will teach six hours per semester, including graduate seminars and undergraduate courses in Congress, Legislative Processes and Leadership.

In addition to a nine-month salary, which is dependent on qualifications and experience, the Brooks Chair includes a summer research stipend.

Candidates should have a PhD in Political Science or Government. Salary and rank are dependent on experience and credentials. Preference will be given to PhD candidates with advanced degrees in Political Science or Government and specializing in leadership studies or the legislature.

The successful candidate will implement effective teaching strategies and communicate with, motivate, and evaluate students; maintain an active service agenda; participate with other faculty in professional and scholarly exchanges within the department and throughout the university; and participate in educationally related aspects of community and civic affairs.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to: Political Science Search Committee Chairperson, <https://jobs.lamar.edu>

If your letters of recommendation are confidential, please have the letters mailed to the address above or emailed to: jobs@lamar.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/12/2018

Date Posted: 6/19/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 2894

PUBLIC LAW

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence & Social Thought

Subfield(s): Political Theory, International Relations, Public Law

Amherst College Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a three-year visiting appointment

starting in the 2018–2019 academic year. The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the social sciences, the humanities, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is in one or more of the following areas: global legality; jurisprudence and modern legal theory; the social organization of law; constitutionalism and democratic practice; law and literature; law, popular culture and the arts; and law and science. The position requires a Ph.D or a J.D. Applicants should submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/48068> a cover letter addressed to Professor Austin Sarat, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2018, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/15/2018

Date Posted: 12/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3907

New York University School of Professional Studies

Rank: Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor of Global Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Public Administration

Specializations: Foreign Policy, Conflict Processes, International Security

Clinical Assistant/Associate Professor of Global Affairs

NYU School of Professional Studies

Center for Global Affairs

The Center for Global Affairs (CGA) at the NYU School of Professional Studies invites applications for a full time clinical (non tenured) faculty position. We seek an individual with the ability to teach courses on cybercrime, cybersecurity, cyberlaw, cyberconflict, cyberwar, and/or terrorists' use of the Internet. The ideal candidate would have professional and/or government experience as well as excellent academic credentials.

The CGA currently offers a Masters in Global Affairs which is interdisciplinary with concentrations in Transnational Security, Global Futures, Global Economy, Energy and Environment, Development and Humanitarian Assistance, International Law and Human Rights, Gender Studies and Peacebuilding. A second graduate program in Global Security, Conflict and Cybercrime is in the final stage of approval. The successful candidate will be expected to play a full role in curricular development, student advisement and the Center's robust series of public events besides the primary role of teaching graduate level courses.

Successful candidates will possess an advanced degree, with an earned doctorate and experience teaching at the graduate level preferred. The individual selected for this position should possess the background and experience necessary to teach a variety of courses in the cyber curriculum; a record of publishing and research is desirable. The rank of the position will be dependent upon experience and qualifications.

The Center for Global Affairs (CGA) educates and inspires its community to become global citizens capable of identifying and implementing solutions to pressing global challenges. Through rigorous graduate and continuing higher education programs and provocative public events, the Center prepares global citizens who will be at home, and thus be effective agents of change, in diverse environments around the world. For more information, visit www.sps.nyu.edu/global.affairs.

The NYU School of Professional Studies offers a broad range of degree and noncredit programs that are professionally oriented, integrate theory with real-world applications, and are taught by faculty members who are leaders and innovators in their fields. The School of Professional Studies captures the expertise of the key sectors that make New York City a great global capital, such as real estate, finance, marketing, public relations, global affairs, hospitality and tourism, sports management, philanthropy and fundraising, communications, media, writing, the arts, and others. Full- and part-time students enroll in on-site and online credit programs, including graduate degrees and undergraduate degrees for both adults returning to school and traditional-aged students. In addition, working professionals and other adult learners pursue career objectives or intellectual discovery in over 2,500 continuing education courses, diploma programs, conferences, and seminars annually.

Applications and nominations will be accepted until January 31, 2018. Applications will be considered as they arrive. NYU appreciates all applications but can only respond to qualified candidates.

To apply, go to: apply.interfolio.com/46285

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 12/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3873

University of Wyoming

Rank: Assistant Professor

The University of Wyoming's School of Politics, Public Affairs, and International Studies invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Political Science with expertise in Public Law beginning August 2018.

Minimum qualifications are a PHD in political science or related field and the ability to teach courses in judicial process, constitutional law, civil liberties and civil rights, and other upper-division/graduate courses related to the study of law. Desired qualifications are the ability to teach introductory American government; the ability to contribute other courses to the Political Science curriculum; the ability to mentor students as undergraduate and graduate students, and in preparation for attending law school; the ability to supervise internships; and a JD degree in addition to the PHD degree.

Interested individuals must complete on-line application at:

https://jobs.uwyo.edu/psc/EREC/UWEXTERNAL/HRMS/c/HRS\_HRAM.HRS\_CE.GBL?Page=HRS\_CE\_JOB\_DTL&Action=A&SiteId=6&JobOpeningId=9279&PostingSeq=1

A completed application includes uploading the following as one PDF document: Letter of application that includes a statement of teaching interests and experience, and statement of research agenda; current CV; list of graduate courses or a graduate transcript; and contact information for at least three work-related references. Review of applications will begin January 22, 2018.

The School of Politics, Public Affairs, and International Studies offers bachelor's degrees in Political Science and International Studies and master's degrees in Political Science, International Studies, and Public Administration. Political Science majors pursue a variety of career interests with a plurality having the goal of attending law school. SPPAIS faculty members are drawn from diverse academic backgrounds, utilize a variety of approaches in teaching and scholarly activity, and collaborate with faculty in other academic units.

The University of Wyoming is located in Laramie, a town of 30,000 in the heart of the Rocky Mountain West. The state of Wyoming continues to invest in its university, helping to make it a leader in academics, research and outreach. The university has state-of-the-art facilities in many areas and the community provides the advantages of a major university.

Located in a high mountain valley near the Colorado border, Laramie offers both outstanding recreational opportunities and close proximity to Colorado's Front Range, a bustling group of metropolitan cities including Denver, Boulder, and Fort Collins. This beautiful mountain landscape offers outdoor enjoyment in all seasons, with over 300 days of sunshine annually. For more information about the region, please visit <http://visitlaramie.org/>

The University of Wyoming is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status or any other characteristic protected by law and University policy. To review the EEO is the Law Poster and its Supplement, please see The Diversity & Fairness page.

Pursuant to Wyoming State law, W.S. 19-14-102, as amended, an honorably discharged veteran who has been a resident of the state of Wyoming for one (1) year or more at any time prior to the date when the veteran applies for employment, or any surviving spouse who was married to such veteran at the time of the veteran's death, who is receiving federal survivor benefits based on the veteran's military service and is applying for employment, shall receive an interview preference during the applicant screening process with the University of Wyoming. At the time of application the applicant must possess the business capacity, competency, education or other qualifications required for the position. If disabilities do not materially interfere with performance of job duties, disabled veterans will be given preference over able-bodied veterans. Appropriate documentation of veteran status must be provided at time of application as outlined in the application process. No preference will be given to a veteran currently employed by a public department.

We conduct background investigations for all final candidates being considered for employment. Offers of employment are contingent upon the completion of the background check.

Applicants with disabilities may request accommodation to complete the application and selection process. Please notify Human Resources at least three (3) working days prior to the date of need.

Questions regarding the position can be directed to Jim King, search committee chair, at jking@uwyo.edu or 307-766-6484.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3865

Rhode Island College

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Assistant Professor, Political Science. The Political Science Department at Rhode Island College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in the field of Public Law / Judicial Politics, to begin Fall, 2018. The person hired will teach Intro. American Government & Politics, an upper-level course in Civil Liberties, and other upper-level courses in their area of specialization. Additionally, we seek candidates who can teach our required course on research and writing in Political Science. The standard teaching load is three 4-credit courses per semester. Additional information on the position and application instructions can be found at <https://employment.ric.edu>.

Rhode Island College serves a diverse student population and is located in the vibrant city of Providence, Rhode Island.

The application deadline is December, 31st, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 12/31/2017

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 3823

College of Charleston

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications for an assistant professor position in political theory and law beginning August 2018. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level classes in political theory and public law and contribute to the department's Politics, Philosophy, and Law (PPLW) concentration. The PPLW concentration allows focused attention on theoretical issues related to the law, so the ability to offer classes in jurisprudence, legal theory, or constitutional law would be particularly welcome. A PhD in Political Science or a related field is required. Primary teaching and advising responsibilities will be in the undergraduate political science program, and the teaching load is six courses per academic year. The College of Charleston is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 1,100 graduate students. The Political Science Department has 21 fulltime faculty, approximately 320 undergraduate majors (<http://polisci.cofc.edu/>), and a Geography Minor (<http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/>). The department also supports a Master of Public Administration (<http://puba.cofc.edu/>) and Master of Science in Environmental Studies (<http://mes.cofc.edu/>) program.

The College is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 750,000. Additional information about the institution and the surrounding area is available at <https://www.cofc.edu/>. Applicants should apply online at <https://jobs.cofc.edu/> and submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations), and contact information for three references. Questions about the search can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Claire Curtis (curtisc@cofc.edu). Review of applications will begin December 16, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. The College of Charleston is an AA/EOP employer and strongly encourages women and minority candidates to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3798

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3759

Radford University

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Law, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Radford University invites applications for the position of Chair of the Political Science Department. The Department is seeking a strong leader who brings relevant academic and administrative experience to the position. Specialists in American Government, Public Law and Political Theory are preferred. The Department Chair is expected to provide administrative leadership to 7 faculty members and staff, model excellence in teaching, maintain an active program of scholarship and oversee departmental operations that includes budgets, scheduling, and engaging in appropriate college level service. Beginning August 10, 2018. Radford University prides itself in the quality of its teaching, instructional support, and strong faculty-student ties.

Required Qualifications: Applicants should possess the following: (1) a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field; (b) Obtained the rank of either Full or Associate Professor; (3) an established record of research and teaching excellence; and (4) previous administrative experience or university service that would demonstrate the applicant's capacity to carry out the duties of department chair.

Located in the scenic New River Valley, between the Blue Ridge Mountains to the south and the Appalachians to the north, Radford University is a growing university with approximately 9,500 students. A student-focused institution, Radford's commitment to student engagement provides a wide range of opportunities for learning, growth, and collaboration for faculty as well as students.

As the largest college at Radford University and home to Liberal Arts instruction on campus, the College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences is central to the mission of the university. Faculty members strive to develop in their students a range of intellectual skills and habits of mind that will serve them well throughout their academic and professional lives, as well as in their personal lives as productive citizens. Students regularly engage with faculty in experiential learning activities as well as in professional internships that provide opportunities to serve communities while preparing for careers. Faculty members' scholarly and creative activity is viewed as a vital corollary to the instructional mission of the institution, with faculty encouraged to co-author research with undergraduate and graduate students.

The College of Humanities and Behavioral Sciences at Radford University is located in the new 145,000 square foot state-of-the-art instructional facility that is home to all 125+ college faculty members. Centrally located on the main quad of the campus, it is the largest academic building at the university and houses an array of specialized teaching and research facilities.

Apply online at <http://jobs.radford.edu/postings/5559>. Only online applications will be accepted. Candidates will need to submit an electronic copy of the following: a letter of application, current and complete curriculum vitae, a statement of management philosophy (under "other" document), evidence of teaching effectiveness, a research sample, contact information for three references (not the letters themselves), and copies of unofficial transcripts. Review of applications will begin November 15, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Radford University is an EO/AA employer committed to diversity. All new hires to Radford University will be subject to E-Verify beginning June 1, 2011. E-Verify is administered by the U. S. Department of Homeland Security, USCIS-Verification Division and the Social Security Administration and allows participating employers to electronically verify employment eligibility.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3760

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Comparative Law and Courts

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, open rank tenure-track position beginning in August of 2018 in the Political Science Program. Candidates at the associate or full rank are preferred, although advanced assistants will be considered. The successful candidate will be expected to teach an introductory undergraduate comparative law course, specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, and to be involved with the pre-law administrative team. Possible specializations might include: human rights, cyberlaw, comparative and foreign law, or trade law, among others. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods and teaching excellence.

The University of Texas at Dallas is a fast-growing, suburban research university and has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public university in Texas. UTD is ranked 1st among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine and is classified by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education as R1 (Highest Research Activity). The Political Science program currently has approximately 60 graduate students and 250 undergraduate majors.

Faculty typically teach two courses per semester, and opportunities for leave become available after a successful third-year review.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through January 31, 2018. Position starts in August 2018.

Apply at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/8997>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3740

Missouri Southern State University

Rank: Master Instructor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Methodology

Specializations: American Politics, Judicial Politics, Quantitative Methods

Seeking an Master Instructor to teach on campus in the area(s) of introductory American Government, public law, as well as supervise the MSSU Mock Trial program. Must have a Master's degree in the related discipline area, (PhD preferred). Certification in certain fields may also be accepted depending on subject matter. Employment will require a background check. E-verify participating employer. Applicant materials include a letter of application, curriculum vitae with the names, addresses, email and phone numbers of three references, and unofficial transcripts. Submit materials at www.mssu.edu/jobs. Official transcripts are required within 45 days of hire. Review of applicant materials begins immediately and will continue until the position(s) has been filled. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/1/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3721

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: 3-Year Lecturer (Full-Time)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley invites applications for a 3-Year Full-Time Lecturer in US Federal Government & Politics and/or Texas Government & Politics to begin Fall 2018. The successful candidate will teach four sections per semester, including U.S. Federal Government & Politics, Texas Government & Politics, and upper-division courses in the candidate's sub-field specialization. Review of applications will begin January 22, 2018.

UTRGV faculty are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to student success and to advancing the university, college, and program missions, as well as a commitment to UTRGV's guiding principles which include promoting access to postsecondary education to a diverse student body and to become one of the largest and most successful Hispanic-serving emerging research institutions in the U.S.A.

To apply, go to: <https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/search>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/21/2018

Date Posted: 10/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3661

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scholar

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications for a postdoctoral research position. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will collaborate with a Vanderbilt Political Science faculty member, Alan Wiseman, on research related to the Center for Effective Lawmaking. Strong quantitative, communication, and project management skills are required. Applicants with a track record of publication are strongly preferred. Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their doctoral degrees within the three years prior to the start of the fellowship, or who will complete their PhD by August 1, 2018. These positions involve a year of supported research at Vanderbilt University starting August 16, 2018. There is no teaching requirement associated with the appointment. Successful candidates will be given a competitive salary, health care benefits, computing resources, and a research fund.

Candidates should submit a vita, a cover letter, and a two-page proposal for how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking during the postdoc. Please review www.thelawmakers.org for more information about the Center. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, and letters of reference are also required. Applicants should submit materials electronically through Interfolio at this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46317>. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before October 30, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3658

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Dickinson College seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position. Appointment begins in Fall 2018. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline (e.g. Government) is required; a Ph.D./J.D. is welcome.

Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in American politics and public policy as well as upper-level courses related to their research interests. The preferred candidate will be able to teach "The Judiciary" (federal and state) and topics covering a public policy issue area or areas. Dickinson College is located in a county seat and is immediately adjacent to the Penn State Dickinson Law school.

As such, Dickinson has ready access to pedagogical, research, and internship resources for the study of law and public policy. The state capital Harrisburg is a 20-minute drive away and Washington DC two hours by car. The ability to create an inclusive environment for an increasingly diverse student body is vital. Dickinson is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students located approximately two-hour's drive from Washington, DC, Baltimore, MD, and Philadelphia, PA.

Review of applications will begin October 30 and will continue until the position is filled.

<https://jobs.dickinson.edu/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3567

Towson University

Rank: Lecturer

LECTURER SEARCH

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE – TOWSON UNIVERSITY

ACADEMIC YEAR 2018-2019

Areas of Specialization: Law, Judicial Process

The Department of Political Science at Towson University invites applications for a position at the Lecturer level. The position entails teaching courses including Introduction to Law and the Judicial Process.

Applicants with Ph.D. and/or J.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference. J.D. applicants must have political science background. The teaching load is four courses per semester. Applicants should send: letter of intent; curriculum vitae; one sample of written work; evidence of teaching effectiveness; official transcripts of all graduate and undergraduate work; and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Cindy Cates, Department of Political Science, Towson University, 8000 York Road, Towson, MD 21252

Application review will begin immediately. The position will remain open until filled.

Towson University is the second largest institution in the University System of Maryland. It is located just outside Baltimore and is only an hour from Washington, D.C. by car or train. Towson is an equal opportunity employer and has a strong institutional commitment to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3436

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor – Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law/Law and Courts at the assistant professor level. The position will begin in the fall of 2018. We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise in American courts, empirical legal studies, public law, and/or judicial behavior. The successful applicant will primarily teach undergraduate courses on American law, including constitutional law.

Successful candidates should have rigorous methodological training, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Applicants should also have a well thought out research agenda. Review of applications will begin October 2, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars. With over 600 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students, the UH Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC000255. To apply, please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, statement of research and teaching interests, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Associate Professor Lydia Tiede, Chair, Public Law Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Houston.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3204

PUBLIC POLICY

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Other

Stanford's Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society invites applications for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship, with the opportunity for a renewal for second year. The successful candidates will join an interdisciplinary team of faculty, postdocs, and PhD students, and will contribute to intellectual life at the Center.

Applications are welcome from scholars across the humanities, social sciences, and social science-related professional schools. We seek to appoint promising postdoctoral scholars who are actively engaged in research on topics related to our core scholarly mission, which is to develop new knowledge about civil society, the impact of philanthropy, and relations between nonprofits, government, and business. It is a broad mandate, open to scholars from a wide range of disciplines. Our recent postdoctoral fellows have studied the uneasy relationship between democracy and philanthropy, associational life in authoritarian societies, environmental movements in China, unequal access to social capital, and the relationship between government provision of social services and the growth of the nonprofit sector.

The Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society is an affiliate of the Institute for Research in the Social Sciences (IRiSS). Since 2006, the Center has supported PhD students and undergraduates from across the university. The post-doctoral fellowship program, which began in 2010, is an effort to support young scholars from outside Stanford. The Center also sponsors a Junior Scholars Forum every June in which postdoctoral fellows participate.

We invite applicants from any relevant social science or humanities field, including but not limited to sociology, political science, psychology, economics, philosophy, history, business and public administration, or public policy. Candidates are required to have a PhD by June 30, 2018, but no earlier than June 2015, and should have demonstrated the promise of excellence in research.

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will be appointed for a one-year term beginning on August 1 or September 1, 2018. Competitive salary and health insurance and travel funds. . The program falls under U.S. Immigration J-1 Exchange Visitor Visa activities.

Application materials should be submitted to the Stanford University Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society via email to vdao@stanford.edu using the subject line "PACS Post-Doctoral Fellowship 2019." The deadline to submit is January 30, 2018.

Please include the following information in electronic format:

1. Cover letter detailing the reasons for the applicant's interest in joining the project and coming to Stanford.
2. Curriculum Vitae.
3. Research proposal detailing the research that the fellow would undertake while at Stanford (five page limit).
4. Writing sample consisting of either a dissertation chapter or a recent published paper.
5. Graduate Transcript with proof that applicants have completed all the requirements for the PhD, or a letter from their PhD advisor stating they will do so by June 2018
6. Two Letters of Recommendation

Please disclose if you have additional funding arrangements.

Questions about the application process or requirements should be directed to Valerie Dao at vdao@stanford.edu.

Inquiries about the program can be directed either to Faculty Co-Directors Woody Powell or Rob Reich.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 12/21/2017

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 3902

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCHER POSITIONS, Social Science, NYU Abu Dhabi

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Social Movements

POST-DOCTORAL RESEARCHER POSITIONS
Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint several Post-Doctoral Researchers starting September 2018. Applicants must have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in the fields of Economics, Political Science, Sociology and Public Policy. Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Applications are now open and we will consider candidates on a rolling basis. To be considered, all applicants need to submit a curriculum vitae, statement of research interests, research sample and three letters of reference, all in PDF format. The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply. Please visit our website at <http://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/careers/faculty-positions.html> for instructions and information on how to apply. If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad-socialscience@nyu.edu

Note: We will begin considering applicants from political science September 22, 2017, sociology on November 1, 2017 and applications from economics December 1, 2017.

About NYUAD:

New York University has established itself as a Global Network University, a multi-site, organically connected network encompassing key global cities and idea capitals. The network has three foundational degree-granting campuses: New York, Abu Dhabi, and Shanghai, complimented by a network of eleven research and study-away sites across five continents. Our students are drawn from around the world and surpass all traditional recruitment benchmarks, both US and global. Faculty and students will circulate within this global network in pursuit of common research interests and the promotion of cross-cultural and interdisciplinary solutions for problems both local and global.

Entering its eighth year, NYU Abu Dhabi has recruited a cohort of faculty who are distinguished in their research and teaching. NYU Abu Dhabi's highly selective liberal arts enterprise is complemented by an institute for advanced research, sponsoring cutting-edge projects across the Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Sciences, and Engineering.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3898

Arizona State University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor Job Code #12239

Specializations: Leadership Studies, Political Thought: Historical, Religion & Politics

The School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership at Arizona State University (<https://scetl.asu.edu/>) invites applications for a full-time tenure-eligible position in Classical Liberal Education. Rank and tenure status will be commensurate with experience. The candidate will develop a new Master of Arts program in Classical Liberal Education and Leadership, with anticipated start date of August 2018. U.S. News and World Report has ranked Arizona State University as the most innovative university in the country for the past three years, ahead of Stanford and the Massachusetts Institute for Technology. Contributing to that no. 1 ranking with regard to "Innovation in Leadership" is the new School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership, which aims to create a new kind of leader, blending tradition and innovation, and reviving the nexus of classical liberal education and civic education.

The School is launching a Master of Arts degree for teachers and adult learners interested in deeper study of the Western intellectual tradition. The focus will be study of great works, debates, and themes of classical liberal education but an important theme will be civic questions of character and leadership. The program and its curriculum will be conducted partly through on-campus immersion in the summer and partly online during the academic year. As with any Arizona State University professor, the successful candidate will be expected to develop a research program, engage undergraduate and graduate students through effective teaching, participate in service to the university and profession, and build productive relationships with faculty both within and beyond the School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership.

Required qualifications include: a doctorate in political science, history, philosophy, classics, religion, or closely related field by time of appointment; dissertation or research focused on an important work, theme, or area of the Western intellectual tradition; an active research program with clear potential for excellence in research activity and publications; evidence of university teaching experience. Desired qualifications: interest and ability to teach courses spanning the Western intellectual tradition and the recognized works and themes of classical liberal education; interest in study, teaching and discussion of civic education and leadership as a component of the great texts and debates of the Western tradition and liberal education; experience with graduate teaching; experience with education programs for school teachers; demonstrated success meeting the needs of diverse student populations and/or reaching out to diverse communities.

Application Deadline/Procedures: Initial deadline for review of complete applications is January 30th, 2018; if not filled, review of complete applications will continue on the 1st and 15th of each month thereafter until the search is closed. A background check is required prior to employment. Applicants must send: 1) a letter of interest outlining their qualifications; 2) curriculum vita; 3) reprints of representative publications; 4) contact information (including email addresses) for three references; 5) copy of graduate transcript; to: Classical Liberal Education Search Committee, School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership, at scetl@asu.edu. For further information, contact the Search Committee Chair: Dr. Kent Wright; email: Kent.Wright@asu.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: 1/30/2018

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3881

University of Alabama, Huntsville

Rank: Eminent Scholar in Global Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: India, Central Asia, Economic Policy

The College of Business at The University of Alabama in Huntsville invites applications and nominations for an Eminent Scholar in Global Studies. The Global Studies Eminent Scholar is expected to be a visible leader in international affairs, international business policy, and/or economic development. This individual will lead efforts within the university and community to conduct research, influence policy, and develop programs with the goal of improving international business, trade, and cultural relationships, with an emphasis on security cooperation. Expertise on India and other countries on the Silk Road is critical to the success of the individual. The candidate is expected to be active in scholarly research and policy development, to conduct externally funded projects, and to engage in outreach with government agencies located at Redstone Arsenal and other similar locations.

We seek applicants who welcome the challenges and rewards of serving on a diverse and intellectually curious faculty of a growing college in a research intensive university located in a dynamic and supportive high technology community. A Ph.D. in Business, International Business or Economics, or a related discipline, with experience in security cooperation and policy development is required. A Ph.D. from an AACSB accredited institution and eligibility to hold Personnel Security Clearance are preferred. The successful candidate will be expected to develop academic programs and educational opportunities in global studies and security cooperation. In addition to a strong commitment to work with the security cooperation industry and government agencies, the successful candidate must be able to teach graduate and undergraduate students and mentor graduate students and junior faculty.

The Eminent Scholar in Global Studies must have a strong academic background, must be an internationally known researcher in international affairs, international business, and/or economic development, and must be committed to a continuing program of scholarship. In addition, the preferred candidate will have a background in or working knowledge of Department of State security cooperation activities and policies, and have familiarity with the policies and economic development, international business, and international relations of India and other countries on the Silk Road. Candidates need to have an understanding of the Civil Service Career Program (CP60) Field (foreign affairs track). Depending on qualifications, the Eminent Scholar may be appointed at the rank of Associate Professor with tenure or Professor with tenure. Depending on the interests and background of the candidate, this position may be a joint position with the Department of Political Science in the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE: The College of Business is accredited by AACSB International and has approximately 30 tenured and tenure-track faculty, 35 research and part-time faculty, and 1,000 undergraduates and 400 graduate students. It offers a BSBA degree with majors in management, marketing, information systems, accounting, and finance; a BS in Economics and Computational Analysis degree; and seven graduate degrees: an MBA and specialized masters' degrees in Accounting, Business Analytics, Cybersecurity, Human Resource Management, Information Systems, and Supply Chain and Logistics Management. Recent publications by our faculty members have appeared in journals such as Science, the Academy of Management Journal, Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science, Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, Journal of International Business Studies, Journal of Scheduling, Marketing Science, MIS Quarterly, Operations Research, Organization Science, Strategic Management Journal, and The Accounting Review. For detailed information about the college and its programs, please visit uah.edu/business.

ABOUT THE UNIVERSITY: The University of Alabama in Huntsville, classified as a High Research Active institution, offers academic and research programs in the Colleges of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences, Business, Education, Engineering, Nursing, Professional and Continuing Studies, and Science. The University is located in the midst of a high technology community consisting of the second largest industrial research park in the U.S. and is adjacent to Redstone Arsenal, which is home to NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, the Missile Defense Agency, the Army Materiel Command, and the Aviation and Missile Command. For more information about UAH, see uah.edu/about.

ABOUT THE CITY OF HUNTSVILLE: The Huntsville area is a culturally diverse community and maintains one of the highest per capita incomes and standards of living in the southeast. Known as the "Rocket City," Huntsville has a major presence of technology, space, and defense industries, which allows the city to offer a variety of educational, recreational, and cultural opportunities. Located in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains, Huntsville/Madison County is a diversified high-tech economy and is rich in cultural and recreational activities with a thriving music and arts scene. The population of the metropolitan area is over 400,000 and growing. Huntsville's Cummings Research Park is the country's second largest research and technology park, containing nearly 300 companies employing 29,000 people involved in technology research and development. Huntsville has a high concentration of Ph.D.'s, engineers, and STEM workers, and is recognized as a leading technology city with a rapidly expanding and diverse corporate ecosystem that is rich in innovation. Several museums and historic sites can be found in Huntsville, including the Huntsville Museum of Art, the Burritt Museum and Park, the EarlyWorks Children's Museum, the Alabama Constitution Village, the Huntsville Botanical Gardens, Monte Sano State Park, and the U.S. Space and Rocket Center. A vibrant downtown entertainment district, including Broadway and symphony performances, contribute to Huntsville's vibrant cultural life. For more information about Huntsville and its convenient location to Nashville, Birmingham, and Atlanta, please visit huntsville.org.

Applicants must submit the following via email to GSscholarsearch@uah.edu: a letter of nomination or application; a curriculum vitae, summary of current research interests (2-4 pages), teaching philosophy (1-2 pages), and names and affiliations for three references. Formal review of applications will begin February 2, 2018. Receipt and review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

For questions or additional information, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Jeet Gupta via e-mail (GSscholarsearch@uah.edu) or via telephone at 256-824-6593.

The University of Alabama in Huntsville is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer of minorities/ females/ veterans/ disabled.

Please refer to Log #18/19-116

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3880

University of St. Gallen

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science with a focus on Business and Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Economy, International Political Economy, Regulatory Policy

The University of St. Gallen, Switzerland, seeks to appoint an Assistant Professor of Political Science with a focus on Business and Politics

starting September 1st, 2018 or by mutual agreement

The University of St. Gallen and its Department of Political Science invite outstanding candidates to apply for an assistant professorship in the field of Business and Politics.

We are looking for an excellent scholar with a specialization in empirical research on the role of private business actors in politics. This may include, among others, business-government relations; contributions about firms' roles in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals; the political effects of varying ownership of key infrastructures and natural resources; managerial preferences, corporate control, and political development; the link between corporate social responsibility and public policy (e.g., corruption, welfare, environment, security); governance by private actors; or industry self-regulation.

Applicants should have a doctorate in political science, a promising research agenda, strong quantitative methods skills, and a willingness to collaborate on research and teaching with scholars from other fields, notably business management and corporate governance.

The successful candidate is expected to undertake research of the highest international standards within his or her own field of specialization and to teach in English in the university's programmes in International Affairs and Governance (two classes per week during term).

The Department of Political Science is a member of the School of Economics and Political Science (SEPS) and offers excellent research conditions and a stimulating academic environment. Through its collaborations, research centres and exchange programmes, it maintains a wide international network. The SEPS is committed to promoting young scholars in their career advancement. The appointment is for a term of 6 years. Applications from qualified women are particularly welcome.

We seek to appoint the successful candidate per September 1st, 2018 or by mutual agreement. For further information, please contact Professor Patrick Emmenegger, Chairman of the Search Committee (Patrick.Emmenegger@unisg.ch).

Candidates should submit their application, that is a cover letter including a presentation of research interests and a statement on teaching strategy and philosophy, curriculum vitae, publications list, a job market paper that best represents their current research profile, and the contact details of two academic referees, in electronic form to the President of the University of St. Gallen, Professor Thomas Bieger (online: <https://www.unisg.ch/universitaet/arbeitenanderhsg/aktuellestellenangebote/jobs>).

The deadline for applications is February 18th, 2018.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 2/18/2018

Date Posted: 12/14/2017

Salary: $120,000 - $129,999

eJobs ID: 3876

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Professor of Public Policy and Director of the Public Policy Program

Professor of Public Policy and Director of the Public Policy Program

The Pennsylvania State University, College of the Liberal Arts, seeks applicants for a Professor of Public Policy and Director of the Public Policy Program starting on July 1, 2018. The College of the Liberal Arts at Penn State is developing a public policy program, including plans for a Master of Public Policy program (MPP) now under curricular review. The proposed MPP program is to be an on-campus, two-year degree designed to be affiliated with APPAM and to be accredited by NASPAA to take advantage of the considerable substantive policy expertise uniquely available on the University Park campus. The planned MPP program will recruit approximately 30 students per year, with a projected start in fall, 2019. The proposed MPP core curriculum is designed to rely on and to reflect the disciplinary expertise of the departments within the College of the Liberal Arts. The policy specialization curriculum will draw heavily - via close collaboration - from existing courses on substantive issue-areas already available both in the College of the Liberal Arts and across the University. These specializations include health policy, criminal justice policy, labor and employment policy, children and family policy, information science policy, and public policy analysis, as well as several additional tracks still being developed. Qualified applicants will have a doctoral degree in a social science discipline, such as political science, sociology, economics, psychology, labor relations, or public policy, with research and/or practical work experience related to the theory and practice of public policy and commensurate with a tenured appointment and leadership role in an MPP Program. The Director will report to the Dean of the College of the Liberal Arts and will lead the establishment of and then continue to manage the public policy program, with duties/opportunities including: recruiting several new faculty positions to staff the program, hiring and directing the support staff, recruiting its first class of students, and working with partner departments in implementing the proposed MPP curriculum. To learn more about the proposed MPP Program including about the curriculum and course proposals now in process, visit www.publicpolicy.psu.edu or email Professor David Lowery at mailto:dlowery@psu.edu. The salary of the Director will be competitive, and, depending on qualifications, a candidate may be eligible for a named professorship appointment. Applications should include a cover letter, vitae/resume, the names/addresses of three references, and a scholarly/professional writing sample. Review of materials will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Apply online at <http://apptrkr.com/1135595>

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: For more about safety at Penn State, and to review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters, please go to <http://www.police.psu.edu/clery/>, which will also provide you with detail on how to request a hard copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-6a25aa287e6f0b48a9a715fdf46580cc>

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/13/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3878

The Scholars Strategy Network

Rank: Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: American Politics, Legislative Studies, State Politics

Scholars Strategy Network 2018-2020 Postdoctoral Fellowship

The Scholars Strategy Network is opening applications for the second cohort of its two-year Postdoctoral Fellowship to support early-career scholars in any discipline who wish to engage in research and public scholarship to improve public policy and strengthen democracy. After an intensive, short boot camp, each fellow will be based at a university in one of SSN's regional chapters.

Objectives

Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellows will help academics insert research, facts, and scholarly perspectives into local, state, and national policy debates. Successful fellows will build webs of relationships, transforming regional Scholars Strategy Network chapters into powerful research hubs to inform the policymaking process. Fellows will:

Meet with scholars to learn about their areas of expertise and interest;

Meet with policymakers, civic leaders, and journalists to learn about their interests, policy goals, and research questions;

With advice and direction from senior academics, create opportunities for scholars to engage in the policy process by matchmaking and by helping scholars build lasting collaborations with non-academic stakeholders;

Work with scholars to prepare two-page briefs that clearly convey their research to non-academic audiences;

Organize at least one significant group project that brings together multiple academic perspectives to synthesize research and scholarly perspectives in response to a request from a non-academic stakeholder;

Help local policymakers, journalists, civic leaders, and member scholars access the expertise of the national Scholars Strategy Network by connecting them to out-of-state scholars and, as appropriate, arranging visits, State House or City Hall briefings, and university talks.

Research and Writing

Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to allot fifty percent of their time to their own policy-relevant research. This research can continue doctoral work or comprise new projects that can be completed within the two-year postdoctoral appointment. Ideally, each fellow's research should enrich the policy landscape in a way that is useful to, and guided by, local stakeholders and practitioners.

Mentorship and Training

Mentorship: SSN chapter co-leaders will connect their Fellow with a mentor from that chapter who has interest and expertise in the Fellow's research area. A Fellow's research mentor can come from any of the colleges and universities with faculty members involved in the relevant SSN chapter. The research mentor (supported by the SSN national team) will help the Fellow write about research findings and prepare related materials in ways that achieve academic excellence and have an impact on policy. In return for sustained engagement with the Fellow, research mentors will have the choice of receiving either a modest stipend or a small grant to help support joint research with the Fellow.

Scholars Strategy Network Postdoctoral Fellows will also have several opportunities to share their work and receive advice and guidance from the academic members of Scholars Strategy Network's Steering Committee:

Theda Skocpol, SSN Director and Victor S. Thomas Professor of Government and Sociology, Harvard University

Lawrence R. Jacobs, Walter F. and Joan Mondale Chair of Political Studies, and Director of the Center for the Study of Politics and Governance, Hubert Humphrey School and Department of Political Science, University of Minnesota

Jacob S. Hacker, Stanley B. Resor Professor of Political Science, and Director of the Institution for Social and Policy Studies, Yale University

Suzanne Mettler, Clinton Rossiter Professor of American Institutions, Department of Government, Cornell University; Fellow of the Century Foundation

Amy Fried, Professor of Political Science, University of Maine

Training: Throughout the program, each cohort of Fellows will be supported with additional resources and training to help them achieve the goals described above. Fellows will learn how to become active players in public policy arenas by creating research and relationships for maximum policy impact and by organizing other chapter member scholars for the same purposes.

At the outset of the program, each cohort will spend a week with the SSN national team as part of an SSN Bootcamp. Fellows will get a deep understanding of how SSN supports scholars in public engagement work. They will meet the SSN staff, learn about the type of services available to member scholars, and begin training on how to support their chapters.

Fellows will participate in SSN policy trainings to learn how to effectively deliver evidence and ideas to policymakers and civic organizations. Fellows will also receive SSN media trainings and instruction from the national communications team on how a scholar can use the media to disseminate research and analysis to the public.

Finally, fellows will participate in SSN's National Leadership Retreat, where they will get a chance to learn from chapter leaders, staff, and steering committee members including Theda Skocpol, Jacob Hacker, Lawrence Jacobs, Suzanne Mettler, and Amy Fried. Fellows will also have an opportunity to present their own research and SSN work.

Program Information

Length of Fellowship: The SSN Postdoctoral Fellowships will last for two years, starting in July 2018 and running through June 2020.

Affiliation: Fellows will be affiliated with one of SSN's regional chapters and their corresponding institutions. Host chapters will be announced in February 2018.

Compensation: The SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship pays $48,000 annually. Benefits include health insurance, a modest allowance for approved travel to conferences, and reimbursement of appropriate work-related expenses.

Supervision: For chapter-related duties, the Fellow will report to the co-leaders of their base chapter and SSN's national Director of Policy and Organizing.

Eligibility

SSN Regional Postdoctoral Fellowships are open to applicants from all disciplines who have completed their PhD within the past three years and are prepared to work for two years starting July 2018. Applications are encouraged from soon-to-be or recent PhDs with experience or a strong interest in community or state-level organizing, public policy, and practical research.

Ideal candidates will be persons dedicated to SSN's mission and able to grasp how to make use of SSN's structure as a voluntary, federated network of member scholars.

Because SSN's national office is based in Cambridge, Massachusetts, postdoctoral fellows who will be based in SSN regional chapters must show evidence that they are self-starters able to work independently and manage several projects simultaneously. In addition, strong candidates must be able to translate research findings into clear language for public audiences and feel comfortable actively reaching out to a diverse group of external stakeholders. Candidates should have a knowledge of legislative and other government processes.

Fellows must be willing to be year-round residents of the community where their appointment is based for the duration of their two-year fellowship.

How to Apply

Fill out and attach the required documents to this Application Form: https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSdhCzm30LS\_9oQNHw1y6BPufkvWdKBdgVJOISaSRASv1Taz2w/viewform. More details on what is required below. For any questions, email Paola Maynard-Moll at fellows@scholars.org and use "SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship- Your Name" in the subject line.

Each application must include:

Statement of Interest: In 500 words or less, please detail your interest, background, and qualifications for the SSN Postdoctoral Fellowship.

Resume: Provide a curriculum vitae. Include civic or political engagement experience in your CV.

Dissertation Abstract and Date for the PhD: Provide the abstract and table of contents of your doctoral dissertation and (if the PhD is not yet awarded) include a letter from your advisor about the expected date for the degree.

Description of Proposed Research: In 1000 words or less, describe the research project you would like to undertake during the two-year fellowship, how you plan to incorporate feedback from non-academic stakeholders, and in what ways you anticipate doing outreach about your work during and after completion of the project.

OpEd: Write a jargon-free OpEd using research to comment on a current event or area of public interest. If you have already published such a piece, please submit it. If not, write a piece in 650 words or less. Find tips for OpEd writing at The OpEd Project.

Two Letters of Recommendation: Provide two letters of recommendation that speak to your ability to be successful in this program. Ideally, one letter should be from an academic supervisor and another from a supervisor or peer outside of academia or from an academic who has such experience.

Each application may also include:

Research Mentor: If you already have a research mentor in mind, and have spoken to that person about working together on the proposed project, you may submit the name and expertise of your proposed research mentor. Ideally, that person will write your academic letter of recommendation.

Personal Website: If you have a personal website, you may include a link.

Timing: Applications will be considered on a rolling basis. No applications will be considered after February 23, 2018.

SSN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of age, class, color, disability, ethnicity, faith, gender, national origin, race, sexual orientation or gender identity. People of color, people with disabilities, LGBTQ individuals, and women are strongly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 2/23/2018

Date Posted: 12/11/2017

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 3870

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED

Political Science: Assistant Professor in Public Administration for an appointment as a tenure track Assistant Professor – POSITION STILL AVAILABLE -- DEADLINE EXTENDED. The position will begin in the 2018-19 academic year.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses across the public administration core curriculum for the undergraduate major in Public Administration and courses for the MA program and have substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis; develop a record of excellence in undergraduate and master's level graduate teaching, including the introduction to Public Administration and other advanced courses that contribute to the public administration major; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; take part in the undergraduate major in public administration, teach related courses for the MA program, contribute to all aspects of the departmental mission; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs.

Required: PhD by date of appointment in public policy, political science or a related field.

Consideration will be given to those with a specialty and/or an active research agenda in nonprofit organizations and have a background in quantitative methodology and "big data."

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, samples of scholarly writing, statement of research plans, teaching philosophy, graduate transcript and evidence of teaching effectiveness to <https://miamioh.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobID=4587>.

For inquiries about posting, contact Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu.

Screening of applications will begin January 31, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Comperitive

eJobs ID: 3860

U.S. Coast Guard Academy

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Maritime Policy, Strategy, and Governance

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Regulatory Policy, International Security

The successful candidate will teach undergraduate, upper-level maritime policy courses and, occasionally, introductory government / political science courses. The ideal candidate will be able to teach one or more of the following topic areas: maritime policy and strategy; ocean and arctic policy; Asia-Pacific studies or similar regional specialization with a maritime focus; coastal governance; marine resource management; marine safety; port security; maritime transportation, commerce, and industry. The anticipated teaching load for this position will be 9-12 credit hours (of one or more 3-credit courses) per semester.

Other possible responsibilities include facilitation of learning enrichment opportunities for cadets via speakers, travel, and contacts; academic advising; work as a faculty advisor to student research projects, clubs, and other co-curricular activities; individual research and scholarship; institutional, divisional, and departmental service; and other duties as assigned. In addition, the successful candidate will work collaboratively with the Academy's Center for Arctic Study and Policy. Such efforts may include, but need not be limited to, work on Arctic issues. Major duties also include participation in leadership and professional development activities with students outside of class and service to the Academy.

For more information, and to apply, please see: <http://www.uscga.edu/jobs>

The application deadline has been extended until Monday, January 8, 2018. NB: Applicants must have a COMPLETED application on file before the application closing date to be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/8/2018

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3858

Victoria University of Wellington

Rank: Lecturer/ Senior Lecturer in Public Policy and Public Management

(Two positions available)

School of Government, Victoria Business School
Wellington

The School of Government seeks passionate and motivated people to build their careers with us, beginning in 2018. We are particularly interested in applicants with a breadth of theoretical and applied interests for Lecturer/Senior Lecturer positions in public policy and public management.

The successful applicants for these open-term positions will be expected to conduct research with international standing, collaborate with other researchers in Victoria University and elsewhere, and seek external applied research funding. Our Wellington location offers exceptional opportunities to engage with all aspects of public policy and its management.

The appointees will also provide excellent teaching in multi-disciplinary undergraduate, postgraduate and professional degrees. They will have the opportunity to supervise Master's and Doctoral students, and provide service to the School, Faculty, University and New Zealand public and community-sector organisations.

The University, the Faculty and the School place a very strong emphasis on diversity, in the broadest sense of the term.

School of Government

The School of Government serves the public interest by promoting excellence and leadership in research, teaching, scholarship and debate regarding the issues that are critical to the public sector. The School consciously seeks to maintain a long-term strategic partnership with the government in New Zealand and a network of relationships with other external stakeholders. These guide all its activities. The School blends academic and practitioner expertise and all relevant disciplines in:

- (i) offering courses which form part of degree programmes;
- (ii) academic research and scholarship, resulting in publication;
- (iii) developing and pursuing a strategic research agenda;
- (iv) leading the strategic development of short courses and professional programmes; and
- (v) undertaking contract research.

The School also acts as an independent forum for debate and the proactive generation and public dissemination of new knowledge and best practice about important issues of moment.

The School offers NASPAA accredited Master's degrees in Public Management and Public Policy, as well as a Masters in e-Government, a Ph.D. and undergraduate study in Public Policy. VUW has the only NASPAA accredited programs in the Southern Hemisphere.

VUW is a leading and major university in New Zealand, ranked #1 for research.

Further information can be found at: <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/sog/>

Potential applicants are welcome to contact Professor Girol Karaoglu, Head of School, on +64 27 565 0613 or girol.karacaoglu@vuw.ac.nz

For more information and to apply online visit <http://www.victoria.ac.nz/about/careers/current-vacancies>

Reference 1974

Applications close Monday, 22 January 2017.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/22/2018

Date Posted: 12/7/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3861

Presbyterian College

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Politics or Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

PROPOSED JOB POSTING: "Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science: American Politics or Policy"

The Political Science Department at Presbyterian College invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in American Politics or Policy to begin in the Fall 2018 semester. The ideal candidate will have teaching or research interests that include Public Administration and/or Public Policy. The successful candidate will contribute to the department by teaching in its current introductory and upper-level offerings in public administration, public policy, research methods and/or American politics. The ability to connect departmental offerings to the College's new initiatives in health professions is especially encouraged.

Demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching, research, student advising, and service to the College and community are essential for successful applicants. The candidate selected will be expected to offer seven courses per year (3-4 teaching load). A Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy is expected at the time of appointment. ABD candidates are also welcome to apply but are encouraged to have their degrees completed by the contract start date in August 2018. Candidates who represent diverse backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply.

Presbyterian College (PC) is a four-year undergraduate liberal-arts college affiliated with the Presbyterian Church USA. The College actively supports professional development and offers numerous grant opportunities for research and teaching. Located in Clinton, South Carolina, the College is approximately 40 minutes from the Greenville and Spartanburg, S.C., metro area and about one hour from Columbia, S.C. The area offers abundant opportunities for social and recreational activities in one of the fastest growing regions of the country with easy access to Charlotte, N.C., Asheville, N.C., and Atlanta, GA.

Applicants should send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching experience and philosophy, a statement of research interests, copies of unofficial graduate transcripts, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Booker Ingram, Professor of Political Science, Presbyterian College, 503 South Broad Street, Clinton, SC, 29325. Electronic submissions of application materials are encouraged and should be sent to politicalscience@presby.edu. For specific questions regarding the position, please contact Dr. Booker Ingram directly at btingram@presby.edu. Review of applications will begin January 15, 2018, and continue until the position is filled.

Presbyterian College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The College seeks to hire the most qualified candidate and does not discriminate against any legally protected class.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3850

Western Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Urban Politics

Western Michigan University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in American Politics beginning Fall 2018 at the rank of Assistant Professor, pending budgetary approval. Preferred areas of specialization include subnational politics (State and Local Politics and/or Urban Politics) and public policy. The candidate should have experience with (or interest in) the operation and growth of internship programs and other professional field experiences for undergraduates. Administrative and teaching responsibilities related to our internship program will account for a substantial part of the instructional workload associated with this position. Successful candidates are expected to have a well-defined research agenda, to be prepared to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, and should have a completed PhD by August, 2018.

Western Michigan University (WMU), located in Southwest Michigan, is a vibrant, nationally recognized student-centered research institution with an enrollment of nearly 25,000. WMU delivers high-quality undergraduate instruction, has a strong graduate division, and fosters significant research activities. The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching has placed WMU among the 76 public institutions in the nation designated as research universities with high research activities.

The Political Science Department offers Bachelors, Masters, and Ph.D. degrees with a unique opportunity for individuals seeking a balanced research and teaching career. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, with an excellent benefits package. Please visit wmich.edu/hr/jobs for detailed information and application procedures. For additional questions, please contact Dr. John Clark (john.clark@wmich.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, MI 49008-5346. Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2018, and continue until position is filled.

WMU is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. Minorities, women, veterans, individuals with disabilities and all other qualified individuals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/8/2018

Date Posted: 12/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3857

Auburn University Montgomery

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at Auburn University at Montgomery invites applications for a visiting assistant professor position in public policy or public administration beginning August 2018. The appointment is renewable based on funding, need, performance, and mutual agreement; this position also may be converted to tenure track based on enrollment growth in the Department's programs. The teaching load for this position is nine hours (three courses) per semester.

The position is open with regard to specialization. Successful candidates will be able to offer courses for the department's undergraduate program in political science and its NASPAA-accredited master's degree program in public administration; evidence of a promising research agenda in topics related to public administration and/or public policy is also essential. A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or public administration is expected at the time of the appointment.

Preference will be given to applications received by January 31, 2018, but applicants will be considered until the position is filled. To apply, complete an online application at www.jobs.aum.edu/postings/2963 and upload 1) a letter of application to include research agenda and teaching interests and philosophy, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) graduate transcript (official transcript is required at time of appointment), 4) one writing sample, 5) teaching evaluations and sample syllabi; and 6) a professional reference sheet. Three confidential letters of reference must be sent by email to politicalscience@aum.edu or by mail to:

Visiting Assistant Professor Search Committee
Department of Political Science and Public Administration
Auburn University at Montgomery
P.O. Box 244023
Montgomery, AL 36124-4023

Auburn University at Montgomery ranks among the South's top universities by U.S. News and World Report, and is located seven miles from the city center and state capitol complex. The university enrolls approximately 5000 undergraduate and graduate students and attracts a diverse student body. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration offers a bachelor's and master's degree in political science, a master's degree in public administration, and a Ph.D. in public administration and public policy jointly with Auburn University's Department of Political Science.

Auburn University at Montgomery is an Equal Opportunity Employer committed to achieving excellence through diversity; therefore, we encourage applications from historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

While this position is opened until filled, Auburn University at Montgomery reserves the right once interviewing has begun to stop accepting applications.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/28/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3833

University of Toronto at Scarborough

Rank: Indigenous Knowledge and Canadian Environmental Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Policy, Other

Position Title/Rank: Assistant Professor – Indigenous Knowledge and Canadian Environmental Policy

Faculty: University of Toronto Scarborough

Deadline: January 29, 2018

The University of Toronto Scarborough invites applications for a tenure-stream appointment in the field of Indigenous Knowledge and Canadian Environmental Policy. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor and will commence on July 1, 2018. The successful candidate will be appointed to a relevant cognate discipline depending on their area of expertise.

We are seeking candidates with a geographic focus on Canada alone or on Canada within an international context. We welcome a broad range of theoretical and methodological approaches, with the appointment of the successful candidate in one or more of the Departments of Physical and Environmental Sciences, Political Science, and/or Biological Sciences, depending on area(s) of expertise.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. degree in Environmental Science, Political Science, or Biological Sciences, or a related field by the time of appointment or shortly thereafter, and must have a demonstrated record of research and publications centered on Indigenous environmental knowledge and politics or policy, as well as proven experience in community-engaged scholarship. A demonstrated record of experience and engagement including relationship building, long-standing relationships, and possible work with community leaders and Elders with at least one Indigenous community in Canada is required. Candidates must also demonstrate long-term experience and engagement with Indigenous organizations and institutions and evidence of understanding the importance of consensus-building relationships.

A demonstrated record of research and teaching excellence in one of the following fields would be an asset:

- * The role and status of Indigenous knowledge in environmental law/policy-making and legal disputes.
- * Decolonizing environmental and natural resource governance.
- * The legal rights of Indigenous peoples related to land use and title and the relationship with the land.
- * Legal standing and political influence of Indigenous communities in international environmental negotiations and organization (i.e. Arctic Council, climate negotiations).
- * Indigenous environmental justice movements.

The successful candidate will be expected to conduct innovative research in Indigenous environmental studies, foster research activities with Indigenous communities in Canada, and may combine areas of expertise across the Departments of Physical and Environmental Science, Political Science, and/or Biological Sciences.

The successful candidate will have an emerging record of scholarly accomplishments and will provide evidence of excellence in research as demonstrated by publications in leading, field relevant, academic journals, or forthcoming impactful publications, presentations at significant conferences, a strong record in Indigenous research methodologies and ethical engagement and collaboration with Indigenous communities, organizations, and institutions, and strong endorsements by referees of high standing including a letter of support commenting on Indigenous community engagement.

The successful candidate will contribute to the delivery of the core curricula within one of the following departments, or interdisciplinary curricula that links two or more of these departments: Departments of Physical and Environmental Sciences (<http://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/physsci/>), Political Science (<http://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/polisci/>), and/or Biological Sciences (<http://www.utsc.utoronto.ca/biosci/>). They may also have the opportunity to participate in developing new graduate programs at UTSC.

The successful candidate must be able to demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. This can be demonstrated through a teaching portfolio including coherent statement of teaching philosophy that is linked to evidence of excellent pedagogical practice, strong endorsements from referees, demonstrated knowledge and experience in Indigenous-based teaching methods, excellent course evaluations, and/or demonstrated superior performance in other teaching related activities, including performance as a teaching assistant or course instructor, experience in leading successful workshops and seminars.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University of Toronto Scarborough is a research-intensive institution with an interdisciplinary commitment, a multicultural student body, and a modern campus. The University offers the opportunity to conduct research, teach, and live in one of the most diverse cities in the world. The Greater Toronto Area offers amazing cultural and demographic diversity, including a vibrant Indigenous community.

All qualified applicants should apply by clicking <https://utoronto.taleo.net/careersection/10050/jobdetail.ftl?job=1701631&tz=GMT-05%3A00> A complete application must include: a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a research proposal, and a teaching dossier, as well as a letter of support commenting on their Indigenous community engagement. If you have questions about this position, please contact Ms. Sue-Ann Hicks (sahicks@utsc.utoronto.ca)

Submission guidelines can be found at: <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. We recommend combining attached documents into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. Applicants should list a minimum of three referees and arrange for these persons to submit their letter of recommendation (on letterhead, signed and scanned) directly to sahicks@utsc.utoronto.ca.

The closing date for applications is January 29, 2018.

This position is part of the University of Toronto's response to the calls to action in Canada's Truth and Reconciliation Commission (TRC) report.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons/persons of colour, women, Indigenous/ Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: 1/29/2018

Date Posted: 11/27/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3827

National University of Singapore

Rank: Senior Tutor or Assistant Professor

The National University of Singapore is offering Overseas Graduate Scholarships (OGS), a prestigious and much sought after Scholarship to attract talented Singaporeans to embark on an academic career with us. The OGS provides attractive financial support for an overseas PhD degree program, and an offer of an academic position after completion of the PhD candidature.

OGS Scholarships may be awarded to Singaporean applicants who:

- are currently completing their Masters' degree and looking to pursue a PhD thereafter
- are currently enrolled in a PhD program overseas

On successful completion of the PhD degree program, the OGS Scholar will be

- sponsored for a further 2 years' postdoctoral degree before joining NUS as a Tenure Track Assistant Professor
- or
- considered to join NUS as a Tenure Track Senior Tutor or Assistant Professor in any of the NUS Faculties / Schools

Eligibility & Selection Criteria

- Singapore Citizens
- Graduates with Master degrees
- Excellent and consistent academic track record
- A keen motivation to join NUS' academic career

Application Procedure

Candidates who are keen to apply for a position in the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy or to any other NUS School/Faculty may contact:

Ms Laura Lim

Senior Associate Director

NUS Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy

Email : spplfy@nus.edu.sg

Information Session

We would like to invite all candidates who are interested to learn more about NUS' OGS scheme, to meet us in San Francisco for an information session-

Date: 2 & 3 April 2018 (Monday & Tuesday)

Time: 3-6pm

Venue: Parc 55 Hilton Hotel

RSVP: by 21 Feb 2018

Please register for the session and confirm your attendance via email to: spplfy@nus.edu.sg

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 2/21/2018

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3818

University of Wisconsin, Whitewater

Rank: Assistant Professor

The College of Letters and Sciences at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater seeks a social scientist with expertise in global health to fill a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in an appropriate department in the College. This is a full-time position beginning in August 2018 with responsibilities for undergraduate teaching, research, and service to the university and community. The successful candidate will teach global health and other social science courses that contribute to the College's interdisciplinary minors in Family, Health and Disabilities Studies and Public Health. Depending on expertise, the candidate will also contribute to other related programs such as Anthropology, Sociology, Women's and Gender Studies, and/or Public Policy and Administration. An introductory-level general education course will be part of the candidate's regular rotation. The candidate will also be expected to pursue an active research agenda that engages undergraduate students, results in publications, and contributes to advancing the department, university, the profession, and society. In addition, the candidate will be expected to participate in service activities and embrace the principles of diversity and inclusion as a member of the university community. The successful candidate will have a tenure home in an appropriate social science or interdisciplinary department in the College. Salary is commensurate with academic preparation and experience.

A doctoral degree in a social science field, global health, or public health is required. ABD candidates may apply but must have their degree completed by the contract start date in August 2018. Research specialization is open but should complement existing faculty expertise. Demonstrated commitment to teaching with an emphasis on promoting the success of undergraduate students, clear evidence of scholarly potential, commitment to working with diverse populations, and serving as active member of the university community are required. We are interested in applicants with a record of and interest in successful teaching and mentoring of students from underrepresented backgrounds (i.e. students of color, first-generation college students, low-income students, students with disabilities, and members of the LGBT community). Ability to teach courses in global health is required. Preference will be given to candidates who can fill existing curricular needs. Further details about the position and University of Wisconsin-Whitewater is available at <http://www.uww.edu/employment/academic-staff-instructional/posting?listing=1556>

Applications received by January 2, 2018 are ensured full consideration. Applications received after that date may be given consideration at the discretion of the search committee. Complete applications will include online submission of the following materials: cover letter/letter of interest; statement of teaching philosophy; Curriculum Vita; letters of recommendation from three professional references; copies of unofficial graduate transcripts (official transcripts will be required if offered the position); a scholarly writing sample may be solicited at a later time. This Job ID is 13501. Apply online: <http://www.uww.edu/employment/academic-staff-instructional/posting?listing=1556>

For questions regarding this position, please contact:

Dr. Elizabeth A. Hachten
Search Committee Chair
Assistant Dean
College of Letters and Sciences
4106 Laurentide Hall
University of Wisconsin-Whitewater
Whitewater, WI 53190
hachtene@uww.edu
262-472-1713

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/2/2018

Date Posted: 11/22/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3825

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professors in International Affairs/
Comparative Politics

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy (National University of Singapore), a premier public policy institution in Asia, invites applications for full-time tenure track positions at the Assistant and Associate Professor level in International Relations/Comparative Politics. Candidates are expected to demonstrate evidence of a high level of competence in theoretically sound, empirically grounded policy-relevant research in International Relations/Comparative Politics. We are especially interested in candidates who work on (A) International Political Economy; (B) Global Governance; and (C) The International Relations of ASEAN/Southeast Asia. For positions (A) and (B), applicants whose research and writing focus on Asia will have an advantage. The School is interested in candidates with a strong commitment to publishing at the highest level and would particularly welcome applications with a demonstrated record of research excellence. The School has just launched a new 2-year Master in International Affairs (MIA) and it is keen to hire faculty who will contribute energetically to the new programme.

Candidates should possess the following: a PhD degree in the relevant discipline; have a commitment to research and teaching excellence; and an ability to engage with policy and research communities in Asia and around the world.

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit, in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file), the following:

- Cover note
  - Detailed curriculum vitae
  - Names of three references
  - Brief statement of past and current research
  - Top 5 publications
  - Three courses that you would be interested in teaching (please refer to <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/admissions/> for the list of courses)
- Those who have a teaching record should submit the following as well:
- Teaching dossier including teaching evaluations (for those who have a teaching record)
  - Representative samples of course outlines (for those who have a teaching record)

Please send the electronic submission to Ms Laura Lim, lkysppjoi-nus@nus.edu.sg.

Applicants may submit hard copies to the following address:

Ms Laura Lim
Senior Associate Director, Human Resources
Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy
National University of Singapore
469C Bukit Timah Road
Singapore 259772

The deadline for applications is Jan 1, 2018. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified and it is possible that interviews will be held at the International Studies Association Annual Meeting in San Francisco in April. Interested candidates are encouraged to find out more about the National University of Singapore and the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at <http://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/1/2018

Date Posted: 11/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3800

St. Mary's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The St. Mary's University Political Science Department is conducting a search for an Assistant Professor and Director of its onsite Masters in Public Administration program. The desired applicant must hold a Ph.D. in political science or a Doctorate in public administration (DPA) from an accredited University with major concentrations in areas related to Public Administration and American Politics. Teaching, professional expertise, and research in areas of Public Sector Performance or Organizational Management, Research Methods in Public Administration, Public Policy or American Political Behavior or some combination is preferable. The typical teaching load at the University is four courses per semester. One course release per semester is available for a successful candidate for directing the graduate program in Public Administration. The duties of this directorship include course and program scheduling, program assessment, and developing relationships for internship opportunities with local municipal and state government agencies and employers. The Director would also explore further extending the MPA program online. Experience with the Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs and Administration (NASPAA) or the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) or with the International City/County Management Association (ICMA) - or other professional administration organizations- is highly desirable. Preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate an interest in affiliating with the University's Center for Catholic Studies, which will explore a wide range of human issues across disciplinary boundaries, and in a global or local context, including, but not limited to, poverty, economic justice, religious freedom, or immigration, etc...

The position is a full-time, tenure track appointment, commencing in August 2018. Department faculty cover a full range of courses in a general graduate degree in public administration, an undergraduate political science degree, and provide support to core courses in the university core curriculum. The department is the civic conscience of the university and fosters the building of "the good life" through education of the whole student, committed to civic engagement, justice and service to society. The Department resides in the School of Humanities and Social Science.

St. Mary's is the oldest Catholic university in the Southwest, and continues to advocate the Marianist mission of academic excellence and servant leadership. Founded in 1852 by the Society of Mary, St. Mary's is a comprehensive Catholic and Marianist university with a strong tradition of integrating liberal arts with professional studies. St. Mary's enrolls approximately 3,800 students in a diverse university with four schools, more than 40 academic programs including Ph.D. and J.D. programs, and numerous pre-professional programs.

Applications can be found at <http://stmarytx.applicantpro.com/jobs/> with the option to upload all supporting documents electronically. Along with the employment application, please also submit (1) letter of application addressing interest in position, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) official graduate transcript confirming the doctoral degree, (4) three letters of reference; (5) statements of research agenda and teaching philosophy; and (6) evidence of teaching excellence. The Chair of the search committee for this Political Science position is Dr. Arturo Vega, avega2@stmarytx.edu Associate Professor in the Department of Political Science (210) 431-8028.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until position is filled. Any offer of employment will be contingent upon successful completion of a clear background check. EOE

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/17/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3802Vanderbilt University*Rank: CSDI Post-doctoral Research Scholar*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions (CSDI) at Vanderbilt University's Department of Political Science seeks applicants for up to four (4) Post-doctoral Research Scholars to support research on political institutions, opinion or behavior. Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their doctoral degrees within the three years prior to the start of the fellowship, or who will complete their PhD by August 1, 2018. These positions involve a year of supported research at Vanderbilt University starting August 16, 2018. There is no teaching requirement associated with the appointment, but there may be some research associated with the mission of the Center as part of the fellowship. It would be no more than 10 hours per week. Successful candidates will be given a competitive salary, health care benefits, office space, computing resources, and a research fund.

Candidates should submit a vita and a cover letter describing their research project, what they hope to accomplish while at CSDI, and why spending time at Vanderbilt would provide a useful setting for that research. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, and letters of reference are also required. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before January 15, 2018. Applications should be submitted online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/47216>

Vanderbilt University has a strong institutional commitment to recruiting and retaining an academically and culturally diverse community of faculty. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 11/17/2017Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 3802Stetson University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Health Policy)

Stetson University seeks an individual with expertise in American or international public policy who has a desire to teach and conduct research in a liberal arts setting for a tenure-track position in the Department of Political Science. Besides teaching introductory and upper-level courses in public policy, we desire a candidate capable of teaching an introductory course in American or international health policy and offering innovative first-year and/or junior seminars, the candidate will develop courses to complement existing strengths in the Department of Political Science and contribute to our new major in Public Management and the university's new interdisciplinary program in Public Health. We are interested in candidates with a commitment to mentoring students from diverse backgrounds.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science or Public Policy in hand by August 2018. Teaching expertise in a health policy or related field is important. Though not required, prior experience coordinating or directing an academic program and teaching experience beyond typical TA duties in graduate school are advantages but not required.

Responsibilities:

The teacher-scholar model at Stetson requires that tenure-track faculty teach three courses each semester complemented with quality scholarship and service. Primary teaching responsibilities include introductory courses in public policy and public health and upper-level courses in health policy, with the opportunity to develop additional courses that contribute to the university's interdisciplinary major in Public Health and/or the department's Political Science and Public Management majors. Other courses will be based on the candidate's expertise and may include offerings for the University's requirements in General Education, including First Year Seminars and Junior Seminars. The faculty member is also expected to mentor students academically and professionally.

Candidates should demonstrate a passion for the highest quality of teaching, combined with the ability to produce rigorous peer-reviewed academic scholarship. Scholarly activity leading to publication in peer-reviewed journals and service to the Department, the College of Arts and Sciences, the University, and the profession are required. For more information on our expectations in teaching and scholarship, our tenure policies, and our support for faculty development, please see the Office of the Provost and Academic Affairs website: <http://www.stetson.edu/provost>.

< b >The Department:

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/political-science/>) offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies, Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies, Latin American Studies, the Honors Program, and Environmental Science and Studies. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, and Public Administration and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

< b >The Program:

The Public Health Program capitalizes on the strengths of outstanding faculty scholars who share interests and expertise in the diverse disciplines of Public Health. Core faculty from the Departments of Economics, Environmental Science and Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, and Sociology have developed a rigorous but flexible program of study for undergraduates pursuing public-health related careers. Active faculty research and dynamic collaborations with local health care organizations like Florida Hospital afford students with outstanding opportunities to engage in evidence-based public health research and practice. Students majoring in Public Health can pursue specializations in Health Promotion and Behavior, Health and Society, Health Policy, Health Economics, and Environmental Health. This tenure track position is intended to provide a Political Science approach to any aspect of health policy or public health, broadly understood, for the Public Health program.

< b >The College of Arts and Sciences:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artscli/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and eight interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, allowing students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

< b >The University:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu/>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 4,000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1954, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered at the main campus and at Stetson University Center in Celebration include Business, Accounting, Elementary Education – Education for Social Justice, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally.

< b >The Community:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 25,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

< b >Salary: Salary is competitive.

< b >Starting Date: August 13, 2018

< b >Application:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, 2) a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy and a representative sample of teaching evaluations, 3) a curriculum vitae, 4) copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts, 5) three letters of recommendation, at least one of which should include an evaluation of teaching ability, and 6) a statement of research interests and a description of how undergraduate students might participate in that research. Candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on January 8 and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to the search committee at <a href="mailto:polisearch@stetson.edu or mailed to the following address:

Dr. David Hill, Chair
Department of Political Science
Stetson University
421 N. Woodland Blvd. Unit 8301
DeLand, FL 32723

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3794

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant Professor

Junior Faculty Search in Cybersecurity, Tenure Track
Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy

The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia seeks to fill a tenure-track, junior faculty position in cybersecurity policy with a start date in Fall 2018. The successful candidate will show evidence of progress toward a record of strong research, teaching, and service. We are open to scholars from a broad array of disciplines including, but not limited to, political science, law, engineering, and data science. Given the interdisciplinary nature of this position, the successful candidate would have the potential for a joint or secondary appointment with other academic units at UVA. Whatever their discipline, successful candidates must have the desire and ability to speak to and influence ongoing policy debates in the area of cybersecurity.

Built upon the strong foundation of one of the nation's top public universities, the Batten School combines rigorous training in policy analysis with a unique emphasis on the acquisition of leadership skills. The research faculty includes psychologists, economists, and political scientists, and is enriched by professors of practice who bring real-world policymaking expertise to the classroom. The School currently offers an MPP degree and an undergraduate major in public policy and leadership, as well as multiple dual degree programs with other units at UVA..

For more information about the position and to apply, visit <https://jobs.virginia.edu>, search on posting number 0621821, and complete a candidate profile. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of research interests and contact information for three references. The position is open until filled.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3796

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Governance of Emerging Technologies

Position 2: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Governance of Emerging Technologies

TENURE TRACK FACULTY POSITION-The Governance of Emerging Technologies

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield: Public Policy, Public Administration

Area of Expertise: Science and Technology

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track assistant professor position in Public Policy and Governance of Emerging Technologies starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a solid track record of monographs and articles in top-tier peer-reviewed international journals, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. He/she will also have acumen for innovative and applied teaching methods, with a focus on critical thinking and problem solving, and show passion for institution building, and desire to have a strong impact on society.

He/she is expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses on the political, social, and economic challenges and opportunities brought by new technological trends such as Big Data, Digitalization, Automation, and Artificial Intelligence. He/she should know the current state of these technologies and reflect on their implications for governments, the private sector, educational systems and society.

He/she should also be willing to collaborate with the IE's Center for the Governance of Change, a newly created institution that seeks to enhance our ability to understand, anticipate, and manage technological innovation and its externalities in a variety of domains – political, economic, and societal. This collaboration will include the organization of academic events and the securing and management of research grants in his/her area. Experience in policy-making and consulting of governments, tech companies, and international organizations will be advantages.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a 1-page statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science or Public Policy is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Governance of Emerging Technologies to IESIR2@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We are able to offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3785

IE University

Rank: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: International Political Economy, Economic Policy, Political Economy

Position 3: TENURE TRACK FACULTY-Political Economy

Rank: Assistant Professor

Disciplines: International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Subfield: International Political Economy, Economic Policy, Political Economy

Deadline: January 31st, 2018

Salary: Competitive

IE University's School of International Relations at (IESIR) seeks qualified applicants for a tenure track faculty position in International or Comparative Political Economy starting September 1st, 2018. The successful candidate will have a strong publication record of monographs and top-tier international peer reviewed articles, or the proven potential of producing them in the coming two years. We are especially, though not exclusively, interested in candidates with knowledge of the latest developments in technologies impacting global economic governance such as Blockchain, FinTech and others.

Candidates will be expected to teach courses in International Political Economy, International Trade, and International Finance, as well as core courses in Micro- and Macro-Economics. Furthermore, they should show acumen for innovative and applied teaching methods, with a focus on critical thinking and problem solving.

Beyond these traditional academic criteria, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in meaningful and policy relevant work, and to participate in contemporary policy debates. As well, we seek faculty members to be institution-builders: to apply for research grants, participate in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expand IE's current partnerships.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, 1-2 current research papers (including the job-market paper), three academic references, a statement of teaching philosophy, and evidence of teaching excellence (e.g., teaching evaluations). A PhD degree from a recognized department of Political Science, Public Policy, International Relations, or

Economics is required. Entry-level ABD candidates must demonstrate clear evidence that the PhD will be complete by July, 2018. Send applications with the subheading Political Economy to IESIR3@ie.edu

The IESIR is part of IE University and the IE Business School, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain; and is a full-member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are committed to world-class professional education and academic research in international affairs, public policy, and the social sciences. As well, we are committed to becoming a global leader in research and training relating to the governance of emerging technologies.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and students body are highly diverse and international. IE University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, and strongly encourages applications from individuals who will expand the ethnic and gender diversity of our faculty.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/31/2018

Date Posted: 11/15/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3786

Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor (Public Policy and/or Public Administration)

Public Policy and Global Affairs

School of Social Sciences

Nanyang Technological University, Singapore

Young and research-intensive, Nanyang Technological University (NTU Singapore is ranked 11th globally. It is also placed 1st among the world's best young universities.

The School of Social Sciences nurtures interdisciplinary study and research for the betterment of society. We promote a holistic approach to advance learning through research and teaching. Our research and educational programmes are aligned with NTU's new five-year strategic plan, NTU 2020 focuses on five key research thrusts – Sustainable Earth, Global Asia, Secure Community, Healthy Society and Future Learning. For more information about the University, please visit our website at: <http://www.ntu.edu.sg/Pages/home.aspx>.

Public Policy and Global Affairs (PPGA) in SSS offers a Minor in Public Administration, a Major in Public Policy and Global Affairs, MA and PhD programmes by research, and general electives.

The School of Social Sciences (SSS) is inviting applications for one tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Public Policy and/or Public Administration in the Context of a Globalizing Asia.

Candidates should possess a PhD in a relevant discipline, and demonstrate a commitment to excellence in research as well as teaching at both the undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Emoluments

Salary will be competitive and will commensurate with qualifications and experience. The University offers a comprehensive fringe benefit package.

Application Procedure

To apply, please refer to the Guidelines for Submitting an Application for Faculty Appointment (<http://www.ntu.edu.sg/ohr/career/submit-an-application/Pages/Faculty-Positions.aspx>) and email your application package (consisting of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, personal particulars form, teaching and research statements, evidence of teaching effectiveness (if available), three selected reprint/preprints of publications, and the names and email addresses of three potential referees) to:

Chair, Search Committee
c/o Public Policy and Global Affairs
School of Social Sciences
Nanyang Technological University
14 Nanyang Drive, #03-86
Singapore 637332

email: ppga-search@ntu.edu.sg

Applications sent by email should include "Assistant Professor (Public Policy and/or Public Administration)" in the subject line. Enquiries about the position can also be addressed to the above email address.

Closing date for application is 31 December 2017. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/31/2017

Date Posted: 11/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3781

Qatar University

Rank: Senior Policy Analyst

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: Middle East, Political Theory, Quantitative Methods

The Social and Economic Survey Research Institute (SESRI) at Qatar University invites applications for a full-time Senior Policy Analyst based in Doha, Qatar. The position is attached to SESRI Policy Department, which utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirically-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf region.

Senior Policy Analysts are expected to stay current on policy issues and best practices in their assigned substantive areas, oversee the successful completion of policy research projects, design and interpret analyses, and coordinate the work of Policy Analysts assigned to their projects. They will author reports and other research outputs for a wide variety of audiences, set agendas for convening with policy audiences, and make presentations as required.

Applicants should possess expert-level knowledge and understanding of one or more substantive areas of local and regional policy relevance, including but not limited to education, health, migration, marriage and family, performance evaluation, political attitudes, and economics. Five or more years of relevant work experience is required, as well as knowledge of pertinent research and analytical methods and the ability to apply such techniques to policy issues. Applicants should possess strong research and analytical skills and demonstrate the ability to communicate clearly and effectively in both written and verbal forms to a wide variety of specialist and non-specialist audiences. Successful candidates will be able to show evidence of an active research agenda and demonstrated record of engagement with policy and policymaking communities. Quantitative analytical skills, experience using survey data, and experience working on Gulf policy issues all will be considered favorably. A master's degree in public policy, public administration, or relevant social science field is required, with a Ph.D. preferred. Priority will be given to candidates who are bilingual in Arabic and English.

This full-time position carries an initial three-year term, with a start date that is negotiable, and the possibility of a renewal upon mutual agreement.

Applications will be reviewed beginning on January 15, 2018. The position will remain open until filled.

Compensation includes a competitive salary, which is tax-free in Qatar (but persons will still be responsible for any applicable taxes from their country of origin), along with a generous fringe benefits package that includes health insurance. Furnished housing is also provided at no additional cost outside of expenses such as utilities, cable, and Internet access. Applicants will have their flight and moving expenses paid for at the beginning and end of their appointment, as well as one round-trip flight home annually. Educational allowances for up to three accompanying children are also available.

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter, recent curriculum vita, concise statement of research interests, writing sample or representative publication, confidential letter of reference from someone familiar with the candidate's work, and the names and contact information of two additional referees to spasearch@qu.edu.qa.

About SESRI: SESRI is an academic survey research institute established in 2008 at Qatar University in close association with the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research. It undertakes original and groundbreaking surveys of citizens and residents of Qatar and other Gulf Cooperation Council states via telephone and face-to-face interviews, amassing a diverse collection of data unparalleled in the region. Previous areas of study include, among others, education, gender, labor, politics, regional integration, and survey methodology. SESRI has partnered with the World Values Survey, the World Economic Forum's Executive Opinion Survey, and other international survey efforts, and since 2010 has secured more than $5.3 million in external project funding through the Qatar National Research Fund. Widely recognized for their quality and variety, SESRI data have appeared in such forums as Foreign Affairs, Middle East Journal, and Middle East Policy. Established in June 2014, SESRI's Policy Unit utilizes new and existing SESRI data to engage in empirical-backed analysis and debate of policy questions of relevance to Qatar and the Gulf.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/15/2018

Date Posted: 11/6/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3736

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: 3-Year Lecturer (Full-Time)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at the University of Texas Rio Grande Valley invites applications for a 3-Year Full-Time Lecturer in US Federal Government & Politics and/or Texas Government & Politics to begin Fall 2018. The successful candidate will teach four sections per semester, including U.S. Federal Government & Politics, Texas Government & Politics, and upper-division courses in the candidate's sub-field specialization. Review of applications will begin January 22, 2018.

UTRGV faculty are expected to demonstrate a strong commitment to student success and to advancing the university, college, and program missions, as well as a commitment to UTRGV's guiding principles which include promoting access to postsecondary education to a diverse student body and to become one of the largest and most successful Hispanic-serving emerging research institutions in the U.S.A.

To apply, go to: <https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/search>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/21/2018

Date Posted: 10/20/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3661

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scholar

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications for a postdoctoral research position. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will collaborate with a Vanderbilt Political Science faculty member, Alan Wiseman, on research related to the Center for Effective Lawmaking. Strong quantitative, communication, and project management skills are required. Applicants with a track record of publication are strongly preferred. Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their doctoral degrees within the three years prior to the start of the fellowship, or who will complete their PhD by August 1, 2018. These positions involve a year of supported research at Vanderbilt University starting August 16, 2018. There is no teaching requirement associated with the appointment. Successful candidates will be given a competitive salary, health care benefits, computing resources, and a research fund.

Candidates should submit a vita, a cover letter, and a two-page proposal for how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking during the postdoc. Please review www.thelawmakers.org for more information about the Center. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, and letters of reference are also required. Applicants should submit materials electronically through Interfolio at this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/46317>. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before October 30, 2017.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3658

University of Memphis

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at The University of Memphis invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Policy at the level of Assistant Professor. The position will start in the fall 2018 pending the availability of funds. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand by August 2018. We seek applications from candidates with research and teaching interests in Public Policy. Candidates from across all subfields of Political Science and Public Policy are encouraged to apply. Areas of particular interest for the department include environmental policy, political economy, public health, race, gender and social justice. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates must be able to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in Public Policy and must show promise of excellence in research and teaching. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Please submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample (dissertation chapter, published article or conference paper), evidence of teaching potential, and letters from at least three professional references on-line at <https://workforum.memphis.edu>. For all other inquiries please contact: Public Policy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Memphis, TN 38152. Review of applications will begin on January 5, 2018. The University of Memphis is a Research II University with an enrollment of approximately 20,000 students. The University of Memphis is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to diversifying its work force. Applications from women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 1/5/2018

Date Posted: 10/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3643

Virginia Tech

Rank: Assistant Professor, Postcolonial Theory

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, Public Policy

Assistant Professor

Postcolonial Theory

ASPECT and the Department of Political Science
College of Liberal Arts and Human Sciences
Virginia Tech

The interdisciplinary doctoral program ASPECT (Alliance for Social, Political, Ethical, and Cultural Thought) and the Department of Political Science at Virginia Tech invite applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Postcolonial Theory and Global Governance/Globalization Theory with an emphasis on human security and sub-specializations in critical gender or race perspectives, the governance/management of displaced populations, urban/rural dynamics, and qualitative methodologies. Evidence of excellence in research and demonstrated experience in teaching are required. Ability and desire to mentor/advise graduate students in interdisciplinary and theory-driven ASPECT doctoral program are essential. ASPECT and the Department of Political Science encourage applications from a diverse pool of applicants. The standard teaching load is four courses per academic year, including at least one course to be offered for the ASPECT PhD program. This position will begin August 10, 2018.

The successful candidate also will have the opportunity to engage in transdisciplinary research, curriculum, and/or outreach initiatives with other university faculty working in the Integrated Security Destination

Area. The Integrated Security Destination Area is focused on understanding and fostering a world in which individuals, institutions, and nations are secured by technology and social systems that follow ethical principles and promote values of social justice. Faculty working together in this area are bringing a transdisciplinary approach to the complex range of human and systems security challenges. The successful candidate will have additional opportunities to join University colleagues in research and teaching initiatives in the Policy Strategic Growth Area (<http://provost.vt.edu/destination-areas.html>).

Required qualifications: Earned doctorate in political science or closely related field at the time of application or degree in hand by August 10, 2018. Candidates must have a clear specialization in postcolonial theory and global governance/globalization theory with an emphasis on human security. Applications demonstrating strong research interests in critical gender or race perspectives, the governance/management of displaced populations, urban/rural dynamics, and qualitative methodologies are especially encouraged. Additionally, successful candidates will need to demonstrate an ability to mentor doctoral students in ASPECT and in the Political Science department's MA program and will have documented effectiveness in teaching postcolonial, global governance/globalization, and security courses at the undergraduate level.

Desired qualifications: Preference will be given to political theorists who can teach a wide array of courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels in the areas listed above. Ability to work in disciplinary and interdisciplinary settings (and collaborate in teaching and research with colleagues across disciplines in the context of the ASPECT program and the cross-university Integrated Security Destination Area and Policy Strategic Growth Area) is highly desirable. Prior teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels is strongly preferred. Commitment to work effectively with a diverse campus population is key.

Interested persons must apply at www.jobs.vt.edu posting #TR0170155, where they will submit a cover letter, a current curriculum vitae, no more than one recent writing sample representative of their research, teaching evaluations, a short research précis (1-2 pages) that stresses the applicant's theoretical background and contributions, and contact information for no more than 4 academic references. Screening of applications will begin January 5, 2018 and will continue until the position is filled. All inquiries can be sent to: Dr. François Debrix (fdebrix@vt.edu) or Dr. Timothy W. Luke (twluke@vt.edu), chairs, Postcolonial Theory Search Committee, ASPECT, Major Williams Hall, Room 202 (0192), 220 Stanger St., Virginia Tech, Blacksburg, VA 24061. Individuals with additional questions or with disabilities desiring accommodations in the application process should contact the search committee chairs.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Agency

Virginia Tech does not discriminate against employees, students, or applicants on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sexual orientation, genetic information, or veteran status; or otherwise discriminate against employees or applicants who inquire about, discuss, or disclose their compensation or the compensation of other employees, or applicants; or any other basis protected by law (<http://www.vt.edu/about/equal-opportunity.html>). For inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies, contact the Office of Equity and Access at 540-231-2010 or Virginia Tech, North End Center, Suite 2300 (0318), 300 Turner St. NW, Blacksburg, VA 24061.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/12/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3608

Northeastern University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Political Theory

Specializations: International Security, Civil Rights & Liberties, Science & Technology

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor College of Social Sciences & Humanities Northeastern University

Responsibilities

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities at Northeastern University seeks nominations and applications from leading scholars for the position of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, tenure/tenure-track, in the area(s) of cyber security, privacy, ethics, and resilience (all broadly defined), with an expected start date of Fall 2018. We welcome applications from scholars working in any combination of these areas and are especially interested in those that focus on key issues in cybersecurity and privacy as they relate to applied ethics, human behavior, economics, institutions and policy. Interdisciplinary expertise in computational methods, data science, social science and/or humanities is preferred. This is an interdisciplinary position and candidates will be considered for joint appointments across suitable colleges and departments. The successful candidate will have a distinguished scholarly record and demonstrated potential for excellence in leadership and interdisciplinary collaboration.

The position will facilitate cross-college teaching, research and collaboration between the College of Social Sciences and Humanities and the College of Computer and Information Science. The position will also support the University's commitment to innovation in teaching and contribute to the Cybersecurity & Privacy Institute (<https://cyber.ccis.northeastern.edu/>), the Global Resilience Institute (<https://globalresilience.northeastern.edu/>), and/or the Security & Resilience Studies program (<https://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/polisci/security-resilience-studies/>). The candidate who fills this position will share the college's commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Qualifications

Candidates must have a PhD or its equivalent at the time of appointment.

Additional Information

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts (www.northeastern.edu/cssh/about/deans-welcome). Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups that have been, and continue to be, underrepresented in academia.

How to Apply

Applicants should submit a CV and letter of interest along with the names of three references. Candidates will be notified before their references are contacted. Full dossiers will be requested for first-round interviews.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the link for full-time positions or full-time interdisciplinary positions or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click "Apply to this job." Please address nominations and inquiries about the position to Rory Smead at r.smead@northeastern.edu. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2017 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2019

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/10/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3599

Dickinson College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Dickinson College seeks applicants for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position. Appointment begins in Fall 2018. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline (e.g. Government) is required; a Ph.D./J.D. is welcome.

Applicants should be able to teach introductory courses in American politics and public policy as well as upper-level courses related to their research interests. The preferred candidate will be able to teach "The Judiciary" (federal and state) and topics covering a public policy issue area or areas. Dickinson College is located in a county seat and is immediately adjacent to the Penn State Dickinson Law school. As such, Dickinson has ready access to pedagogical, research, and internship resources for the study of law and public policy. The state capital Harrisburg is a 20-minute drive away and Washington DC two hours by car. The ability to create an inclusive environment for an increasingly diverse student body is vital. Dickinson is committed to building a representative and diverse faculty, administrative staff, and student body. We encourage applications from all qualified persons.

Dickinson College is a highly selective four-year, independent liberal arts college with 2300 students located approximately two-hour's drive from Washington, DC, Baltimore, MD, and Philadelphia, PA.

Review of applications will begin October 30 and will continue until the position is filled.

<https://jobs.dickinson.edu/>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3567

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Other

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Immigration Policy Lab, Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Position: Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow to join the Immigration Policy Lab (www.immigrationpolicylab.org). The Immigration Policy Lab conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and cutting-edge analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who directly serve immigrant communities, our research can inspire solutions and ultimately improve lives.

The Immigration Policy Lab reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of projects related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller, Jeremy Weinstein, and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, survey design, data acquisition, data analysis and interpretation of results. Additionally, the postdoc will work closely with faculty, staff and partner organizations in developing and designing innovative policies and programs to pilot and evaluate. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects related to immigration policy evaluation.

Qualifications: The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science program, with a preference for Political Science, Economics, or Sociology. She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, and data analysis. Experience in running and analyzing field experiments and/or conducting quasi-experimental program evaluations would be highly useful. Knowledge of immigration/refugee policy, with the ability to operate in a language other than English, will also be highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Appointment: The initial appointment will be for one year beginning between January and June 2018, with an expected renewal for a second year contingent on satisfactory performance and funding. Salary is negotiable and based on experience. Benefits are provided. Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample and at least two letters of recommendation. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process. Applications will only be accepted through AcademicJobsOnline.com (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/10036>, ID 10036). Applications should be submitted by November 17, 2017, though applications may be considered after the deadline. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the Executive Director of the Immigration Policy Lab, Duncan Lawrence directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc 2017).

Start Date: Summer 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3569

University of Texas, Austin

Rank: Tenure Track Business and Public Policy Position

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Administration

The Business, Government & Society (BGS) Department in the McCombs School of Business at the University of Texas at Austin teaches future leaders how to recognize and respond to the legal, ethical, social, and regulatory expectations that businesses face and contributes to important public policy debates through research that rigorously applies social science research methods to relevant questions at the intersection of business activity and government regulation.

BGS now invites applications for a tenure-track position starting in the 2018-2019 school year. The ideal candidate will possess a Ph.D. in political science or economics and have core research interest in areas such as political economy, CSR, business and public policy, and ethical decision making. Research interests in international political economy, sustainability, health care and technological innovation and regulation are a plus. Candidates should have a demonstrable methodological skill set, a rigorous research agenda relevant to business and its non-market environment, and the potential to publish in top journals in these areas.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/45561>

Additional information here: <https://facultyjobs.utexas.edu/position/28188>

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/3/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3560

Saint John's University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Public Finance & Budgeting, American Politics, Urban Politics

The Department of Government and Politics in St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at St. John's University (New York) is seeking applicants for a full-time tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy to begin in fall 2018.

Description of Responsibilities:

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University invites applications for a tenure track position in Public Administration and Public Policy. We seek individuals with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance. The applicant's background and interests should also be conducive to effective teaching of research methods and introductory American politics courses. The Department is particularly interested in applicants whose research interests address the intersection between public policy and inequality, social integration, or diversity as broadly understood. The Department and the University strongly encourages applicants from under-represented, and minority communities.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have a doctoral degree in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy in hand, or should have a firm commitment to completion by May 2019. Applicants with later completion dates should be able to demonstrate their progress toward completion through references by their dissertation committee chairperson.

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit your letter of interest, CV, and an academic writing sample online.

Apply here: <https://stjohnsedu.silkroad.com/epostings/?fuseaction=app.jobinfo&jobid=218327&version=1&source=PSA>

Separately, please have your three letters of reference emailed to osulivm@stjohns.edu.

St. John's University (www.stjohns.edu), founded in 1870, is a Catholic and Vincentian university that prepares students for personal and professional success in today's global society. The Princeton Review and other top rankings consistently recognize the University's outstanding academics, diverse student body, dynamic internship and volunteer opportunities, focus on student life, and diverse study abroad offerings. Our quality springs from an institutional vision of excellence and service. Students come from nearly 50 states and 127 countries to pursue more than 100 associate, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral degrees in the arts, humanities, business, education, law, pharmacy, the sciences, and specialized professional programs. The University is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education and 12 other major academic and professional associations. St. John's has three New York City campuses; a Graduate Center in Hauppauge, NY; international campuses in Rome, Italy, and Paris, France; and study abroad locations in Seville, Spain, and around the world. The University's Division I athletic program offers 17 men's and women's programs in the Big East Conference.

St. John's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is the cornerstone and oldest division of St. John's University. The College offers three undergraduate degrees: the Bachelor of Arts, the Bachelor of Science and the Bachelor of Fine Arts. Although the College has always emphasized the liberal arts tradition, we offer more than thirty majors and forty minors in the arts and sciences, business, and education. The college's graduate division provides numerous programs leading to master's and doctorate degrees. St. John's College serves approximately 3300 undergraduate and graduate students. Faculty in the College also teach the majority of courses in the University's core curriculum whose courses are taken by every St. John's University undergraduate student regardless of college/school or major. For additional information, please visit <http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences>.

The Department of Government and Politics

The Department of Government and Politics at St. John's University is a well-established department within the University's College of Arts and Sciences. With faculty covering all of the major Political Science subfields: American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory, and Public Administration; the Department seeks to educate its undergraduate and graduate students with a broad understanding of the discipline. The Department maintains Bachelors and Masters degree programs in Government and Politics, as well distinct programs in Public Administration. Although the core of the program is based on the University's main campus in Queens, New York, the Department also serves undergraduate students in Staten Island, New York, and graduate students in Rome, Italy.

<http://www.stjohns.edu/academics/schools-and-colleges/st-johns-college-liberal-arts-and-sciences/government-and-politics>

Please understand that any offer of employment is subject to receipt by St. John's University of satisfactory references, verification of employment and education.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3539

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a spring 2018 semester adjunct instructor position leading the Internship Seminar as part of the Carnegie Mellon University Washington Semester Program (CMU/WSP) in Washington, DC.

In the semester-long CMU/WSP, students live, work, and study in Washington, DC, coming into direct contact with political, business, and community leaders and learning about the most pressing policy issues of the day.

CMU/WSP students intern three days per week in any sector or field of interest within Washington, DC, while taking classes in the late afternoons and evenings. IPS sponsors events and policy-oriented opportunities in Washington for participating students to further enrich their experience and enhance their understanding of how Washington functions as a hub of international and public policy decision making.

The adjunct instructor will teach the Internship Seminar for the program. The internship is the experiential "core" of the Washington Semester Program. In conjunction with their part-time internship, students meet weekly for the Internship Seminar to report and reflect on their internship experiences, often joined by DC-based CMU alumni working in a variety of professional fields. The internship and Internship Seminar have three major sets of goals and expected learning outcomes: knowledge goals, skill development, and personal and professional growth. Together, the internship and Internship Seminar require approximately 27-28 hours of student work per week.

The adjunct instructor position will run from January 16, 2018 to May 4, 2018. The instructor will be paid $15,000 for teaching the course. This is a part-time position.

The application deadline is 5:00 p.m. EST, on October 20, 2017.

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter stating the applicant's academic background and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two undergraduate courses that the candidate is eligible to teach or has taught); and
- Contact information for two references.

Please email your application to cmuips@andrew.cmu.edu. Please contact this email address if you have any questions or concerns about the application.

Start Date: Spring 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/14/2017

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 3419

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: UCLA Luskin School Assistant or Associate Professor: Latino Social Policy

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Immigration Policy, Latino Politics

The Luskin School of Public Affairs, in partnership with the Chicano Studies Research Center (CSRC) at UCLA, seeks an advanced assistant or tenured associate professor in the general fields of Latino social, economic, and political issues. (A starting full professor may be appointed under extraordinary circumstances.) A successful applicant should be appointable in one or more of three departments in the Luskin School of Public Affairs: Public Policy, Social Welfare, or Urban Planning.

The Luskin School is an interdisciplinary environment that focuses on human well-being at every level of analysis. As part of this mission, the School, the CSRC, and UCLA's Division of Social Sciences have launched the Latino Policy and Politics Initiative, with the goal of establishing a multi-faceted think tank working on a broad range of challenges faced by the California Latino plurality. Latinos in the US face a multitude of challenges beyond immigration, including issues such as voting rights, environmental racism, K12 educational equity, quality health care, job opportunities, higher education access, worker protection, and criminal justice reform among many others. Scholars of all methodological traditions, interested in any of these substantive areas, as well as others, are invited to apply.

Applicants should hold a PhD in Social Welfare, Public Policy, Urban Planning or any of the cognate fields of Sociology, Political Science, Psychology, Economic, Law, etc., and be interested in problem-driven research and teaching. The Luskin School offers Masters Degrees in the three fields, doctoral degrees in Urban Planning and Social Welfare, and in 2018 will be launching an undergraduate major in Public Affairs. In addition to three departments, the School has several large and thriving research institutes focused on various aspects of governance, social well-being, and solution seeking for challenging issues. The University of California, Los Angeles, is the largest and most comprehensive campus in the UC system, with 45,000 students seeking degrees across the liberal arts and sciences and professional schools, located in the second largest city in the nation and the largest Spanish-speaking city in the nation. By consensus, UCLA is regularly identified in the top five of all public universities in the US, and the top 15 of universities, public and private.

The position is opened until filled, but early inquiries are encouraged. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 15, 2017. To apply go to UC Recruit, submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, writing sample/representative publications and three letters of recommendation to: <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03247>. For questions related to the position, please contact Julie Straub at jstraub@luskin.ucla.edu.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

We welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence.

Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu for other academic opportunities in Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Start Date: Summer 2017

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/6/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3350

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Immigration/Migration Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Latino Politics, International Political Economy

Immigration and/or Migration Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to understanding immigration and/or migration. We seek a scholar whose research advances our understanding of the causes and consequences of these population movements. He or she may also study the social, political, economic, and demographic realignments that migrants produce in their communities of destination or origin. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, History, Sociology, Psychology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03189>.

In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3328

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy: Social Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Social Welfare, Labor Politics, Economic Policy

Social Policy

We welcome applicants for the position of Assistant Professor of Public Policy whose research is relevant to social policy. We seek a scholar whose research advances our knowledge of policies that address the economic and social disparities —inclusive of differences in geography, race, and ethnicity. His or her research may deepen our understanding of the changing dynamics of labor-market opportunities or how employment contributes to the social welfare of individuals and families. Successful candidates will have doctorates in Economics, Political Science, Political Economy, Public Policy, Sociology, or a related field. Applicants' research should have important public policy implications. A Ph.D. or equivalent is required by the time of appointment.

We are a collegial, interdisciplinary department within a school of public affairs located at an excellent and diverse public university in one of the greatest cities in the world. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, are developing an undergraduate major, and help train doctoral students from varied departments across campus.

A letter of interest, CV, three reference letters, and a research paper should be submitted at <https://recruit.apo.ucla.edu/apply/JPF03183>. In your cover letter please provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach. You may also submit an optional diversity statement with examples of your contribution to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service. Applications are due October 1, but they will be reviewed as received until this position is filled.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy.

Learn More: Please visit our website at www.luskin.ucla.edu/jobs to learn more about this position and other academic opportunities with the Luskin School of Public Affairs.

Requirements

- Curriculum Vitae: Please provide your most recent C.V.
- Cover Letter: Please additionally provide examples of public policy courses that you could teach
- Research Paper
- Diversity Statement: Please submit a statement with examples of contributions to diversity-related research, teaching, and/or service (Optional)
- Three letters of reference

Start Date: Fall 2017

Application Deadline: 10/1/2017

Date Posted: 9/5/2017

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 3329

Pace University, NYC

Rank: Department Chair

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Chair, Department of Political Science
Dyson College of Arts and Sciences
Pace University

Dyson College of Arts and Sciences of Pace University invites applications for an anticipated position of Chair of the Department of Political Science at the rank of Associate or Full Professor to begin September 2018. The position is at the Pace University campus in lower Manhattan, NYC. The Political Science major is one of the largest in the College. The department has a long history of achievements in innovative co-curricular enrichment activities, service learning, civic engagement, and collaborative research between professors and students.

Applicants should have an earned PhD in a relevant field (e.g., Political Science, Government, Public Administration, Public Policy, Latina/o Studies, etc.) with demonstrated expertise and familiarity with at least one major subfield of the political science discipline (preferably US politics and/or Latina/o Studies), an excellent record of teaching, research and service, and a record of leadership and administration, and strong quantitative training.

Duties and responsibilities include: working in a shared governance environment, modeling collegiality and collaboration; articulating a clear, compelling, and inclusive vision for the department's future; leading a diverse and growing team of faculty and staff; cultivating a welcoming environment for diversity; valuing the interests, abilities, and perspectives of all faculty; strengthening the department's ties with the rest of university and professional community; performing departmental administration in an efficient, highly competent, fair, and transparent manner; demonstrating and modeling a record of excellence in scholarship, teaching, and service; mentoring tenured and tenure-track full time faculty.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching philosophy and research interests, and contact information for three references in a single PDF file to Alfred Ward, Ph.D. (award@pace.edu).

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled; applications received by January 1, 2018 are guaranteed full consideration.

Pace University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/14/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3205

Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at poliscijobs@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2017

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3131

Texas A&M University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for two tenure-track and one tenured positions that are open with respect to subfield. We welcome applications from clusters of scholars who would find it attractive to join our faculty together. Successful candidates will be expected to carry out a vigorous program of research and actively contribute to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Strong research and teaching interests that cut across traditional subfields of political science would be highly valued. Ph.D. required. The starting date for these positions is Fall 2018.

The department offers Ph.D., MA, BA, and BS degrees and has 37 tenured/tenure track faculty members, 50 graduate students, and approximately 1000 undergraduate majors. Further information about the department is available at <http://pols.tamu.edu>. Texas A&M is a research-intensive flagship university with more than 60,000 students including 10,000 graduate students making it the sixth largest university in the United States. The student body includes 26% African American, Hispanic, Asian or Pacific Islander, and American Indian or Alaskan Native students, as well as approximately 5,000 international students from 130 countries. We seek candidates who can teach effectively in a diverse and global classroom. Texas A&M ranks among the top universities nationally in total research expenditures (with more than $800 million dollars per year). Texas A&M University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer that is deeply committed to enhancing the diversity and excellence of its faculty and is responsive to the needs of dual-career couples.

Applicants should send a letter of interest (referencing research agenda and teaching interests), a curriculum vitae , a writing sample, and, for un-tenured applicants, three letters of reference, graduate school transcripts, and any available teaching evaluations. All materials should be submitted electronically to Professor William Roberts Clark, Head, Department of Political Science at polisci@tamu.edu. Our review of applications will begin on September 18, 2017 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is competitive and will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/3/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3117

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor, Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego <http://gps.ucsd.edu> (formerly known as School of International Relations and Pacific Studies) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in public policy to begin July 1, 2018.

Applicants should be new or recent PhD graduates with an outstanding record in a PhD program in political science, public policy or economics. The successful candidate will have a background broadly in the field of public policy. Examples include political scientists within the fields of American, comparative or international politics with focuses on: institutions; the politics of policy design; policy implementation. GPS has a special interest in candidates who can provide leadership in our public policy (MPP) program. Applicants must have a PhD conferred or to be completed by July 1, 2018.

The School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego (UCSD) is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body. Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and based on University of California pay scales. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2017 and continue until the position is filled.

To Apply: Candidates should submit: a curriculum vitae; two writing samples; a personal statement that includes a description of research, training, and teaching; a summary of past or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyequity.ucsd.edu/Faculty-Applicant-C2D-Info.asp>); and three (3) letters of reference.

All applicant materials including referee information should be submitted via UCSD Academic Personnel On-Line at <https://aploreruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01483>.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2018
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/3/2017
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 3108

Texas A&M University

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations/Comparative Politics/Cyber Policy, Strategy and Security

International Relations/Comparative Politics/Cyber Policy, Strategy and Security

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of cyber policy, strategy and security within the field of international relations, comparative politics, economics, or public policy. Texas A&M University has invested considerable resources in the cyber realm, including standing up the Texas A&M Cybersecurity Center. The Bush School will be a central contributor to that University-wide effort, with this position playing an important role in that contribution. Candidates with research competency in cyber policy, strategy and security who specialize in areas such as international law and institutions, regulatory law, science and technology, international security, the comparative politics of information, and other relevant topics are invited to apply.

Ideally, the successful candidate would teach a required course in introductory-level research methods for our students, all of whom are seeking a master's degree in international affairs, along with offerings in the cyber area. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Economics or a related discipline by September 2018. The individual selected will have demonstrated a strong commitment to teaching and research in the context of a public policy graduate school environment. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2018.

Applicants should send a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work and three letters of recommendation to:

Professor Gregory Gause
c/o Ms. Janeen Wood (preferably as electronic attachments to bushschoolinta-facultysearch@tamu.edu)
The Bush School of Government & Public Service
Texas A&M University
4220 TAMU
College Station, TX 77843-4220
The review of applications will begin on September 20, 2017 and continue until the position is filled. Additional information is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3048

University of Redlands

Rank: Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics

DESCRIPTION: The Department of Political Science at the University of Redlands welcomes applications for the Fletcher Jones Foundation Chair in American Politics to begin in the Fall 2018 semester.

POSITION CRITERIA: Candidates should hold a Ph.D. in Political Science (American Politics and Public Policy), with at least five years of professional experience, preferably at a liberal arts institution. We especially welcome applications from candidates from historically under-represented groups and those interested in making contributions to the University's Public Policy and other interdisciplinary programs. Excellence in teaching and dedication to mentoring our diverse undergraduate student population are essential qualifications for this position.

TO APPLY: Please submit application materials (including letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, samples of scholarly work, and three letters of reference, under separate cover) electronically at apply@redlands.edu or mail to: Human Resources, University of Redlands, PO Box 3080, Redlands CA 92373-0999. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2017, and position will remain open until filled.

INQUIRIES: Inquiries can be directed to steve\_wuhs@redlands.edu, including requests for interview at the annual meeting of the American Political Science Association in San Francisco, CA.

Start Date: Fall 2018

Application Deadline: 11/1/2017

Date Posted: 7/18/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3006

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturer

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Southeast Asia, Latin American, Mexico

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2017-18 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2018.

Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

All areas of international affairs, international studies, regional studies, business-government relations, and international economics will be considered.

A Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, International Management or related fields and outstanding teaching experience are required. Research experience and a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion are highly desirable.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2017 will be given full consideration.

Apply via <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/apply/JPF01465>

Submit:

- CV
- Teaching evaluations (2-3 course evaluations)
- Statement of Teaching
- Sample Course Syllabus
- Statement describing past and/or potential contributions to diversity (see <http://facultyexcellence.ucsd.edu/c2d/index.html> for further information).

UCSD is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer with a strong institutional commitment to excellence through diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/17/2017

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 3001