

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

January 2021 | Volume 10, Issue 01

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

Administration ..... 4

American Government and Politics ..... 4

Comparative Politics ..... 26

International Relations ..... 54

Methodology ..... 94

Non-Academic ..... 104

Open ..... 105

Other ..... 122

Political Theory ..... 138

Public Administration ..... 148

Public Law ..... 153

Public Policy ..... 157

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

January 2021 | Volume 10, Issue 01

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

---

Finding a Job in Political Science ..... 3

Job Listings

---

Administration ..... 4 (2 listings)

American Government and Politics ..... 4 (36 listings)

Comparative Politics ..... 26 (50 listings)

International Relations ..... 54 (74 listings)

Methodology ..... 94 (18 listings)

Non-Academic ..... 104 (2 listings)

Open ..... 105 (25 listings)

Other ..... 122 (29 listings)

Political Theory ..... 138 (18 listings)

Public Administration ..... 148 (11 listings)

Public Law ..... 153 (6 listings)

Public Policy ..... 157 (43 listings)

Total listings this issue ..... 314

Resources and Guidance on Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content\_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for January

ADMINISTRATION

Lutheran College Washington Consortium

Rank: Executive Director & Dean

The Lutheran College Washington Consortium (LCWC) invites applications for the position of Dean/Executive Director of its program, the Lutheran College Washington Semester (LCWS) to begin no later than July 1, 2021. LCWS is a Washington, DC program based in Arlington, VA and is open to students from the 13 member institutions of the consortium, which are all Lutheran affiliated colleges and universities. The program, which began in 1986, provides participants with real-world experiences to further students' educational and professional goals and strives to offer students of any major a new perspective on what it means to be an active member of society in a culturally diverse world. During the semester, students complete a four day per week internship, while also taking two academic classes and special programming offered by the program. Additional opportunities for students are available in the summer. Details about the Lutheran College Washington Semester can be found at: www.washingtonsemester.org

The position of Dean and Executive Director combines the roles of Chief Academic Officer and Chief Executive Officer of LCWS and reports to a 13-member board of directors. The Dean/Executive Director is responsible for the administrative, financial, academic and student life aspects of LCWS and supervises a staff of two full-time employees and 11 part-time staff and faculty members. The program is financially sound and consistently draws 40-50 students each semester. We are seeking a candidate who possesses entrepreneurial strengths and who is committed to developing innovative programs that will help the program meet the challenges of a changing higher education environment. In keeping with the academic requirements of the position, a doctorate degree or equivalent is required. Salary for the position is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits are also included as part of the compensation package. For more specific information, please see the Dean/Executive Director Position Description on the LCWS website: www.washingtonsemester.org/jobs

Applicants for the position should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and two letters of recommendation by email to Dr. Emily Wanless, Search Committee Chair, Augustana University, ewanless@augie.edu. Review of applications will begin on February 1st, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8435

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Dean of Social Science

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, Social Movements, Economic Policy

Dean of Social Science

New York University Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is an extraordinary achievement and unparalleled opportunity in higher education. In the decade since its founding it has become one of the most selective undergraduate institutions in the world. It is both transformational for the region, and critical to New York University's vision to be at the forefront of international higher education in the 21st century.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion and belonging. It enrolls what is perhaps the most diverse student body in higher education, with students from more than 115 countries with no one nationality exceeding 15 percent. It is also one of the most selective, with an average admit rate of 4%. There are currently more than 1,450 undergraduate students enrolled under a need-blind admission policy with remarkable financial aid, with the plan for the number to grow to 2,200 undergraduates and 400 graduate students in the coming years. Across its four divisions NYUAD is home to more than 320 faculty and 400 research staff, also drawn from all over the world.

NYUAD offers degrees built upon an inspiring, highly globalized core curriculum and currently offers doctoral students research areas in five disciplines, with additional graduate programs and executive education being proposed each year. NYUAD's faculty and students alike benefit from being part of NYU's incomparable network, which provides them with opportunities to study and research across the world.

NYUAD is now seeking its next Dean for the Division of Social Science. Situated at one of the world's cultural cross-roads, social science at NYUAD has access to some of the most ancient and rapidly developing communities and is in a remarkable position to analyse humanity in all its diversity and complexity. Its faculty are working on fieldwork projects throughout the region on topics ranging from religious mobilization in Turkey to economic development in sub-Saharan Africa.

The Dean of Social Science of NYU Abu Dhabi has a unique opportunity to play a formative role in helping NYUAD achieve its ambitious agenda, advancing diversity and inclusion and growing research, scholarship, and educational programming, whilst providing leadership and oversight of a highly-accomplished faculty and unique curricula, research and teaching in a dynamic, diverse and developing environment.

For more information and to apply please contact Benjamin Crase on Benjamin.Crase@perrettlaver.com. To apply, please visit https://candidates.perrettlaver.com/vacancies/2001/dean\_of\_social\_science/

Electronic submission is strongly encouraged. NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage inquiries from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8328

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Jobelephant.com

Rank: Senior Director & Endowed Chair - Center for Constitutional Studies

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Senior Director & Endowed Chair - Center for Constitutional Studies

Position Category: Staff - Full-Time

Summary:

Under the general supervision of the University Provost, the Center for Constitutional Studies Director and David & Laurea Stirling Endowed Chair (D&EC) is responsible for the operational and scholarly activities of the Center for Constitutional Studies (CCS). This position will be instrumental in helping to achieve important CCS priorities, including advancement of established mission and initiatives, fundraising, and outreach with education, government, and business partners. In collaboration with UVU Institutional Advancement (IA) and CCS colleagues, this position will establish fundraising goals and strategies and raise operating funds from private and organizational donors. This position will write, co-write, or support the writing of internal, private, and government grant applications and oversee sponsored research programs. This position will be personally involved in promoting involvement in the Quill Project, a joint effort between Pembroke College (Oxford) and CCS.

This position will develop and publish original scholarly work and present scholarship both on and off campus. They will teach courses in constitutional studies, supervise CCS student research projects, including work with the Oxford Quill Project, and mentor CCS student researchers and post-undergraduate research fellows in the pursuit of graduate studies and academic careers. They will collaborate with colleagues and UVU faculty to develop undergraduate curriculum and will also work with CCS colleagues and the School of Education to create a constitutional studies graduate program and curriculum while engaging with teachers and leaders in K-12 education to create and implement K-12 constitutional studies curriculum. While the position will not be a tenured position in a department, this could be pursued based on the applicant's qualifications and university needs and resources

This individual will advance UVU's reputation by helping to bring scholars and speakers to campus through conferences and guest lecturer series, working to better publicize the success of UVU faculty, CCS fellows, and students, and building intellectual community by fostering discussion between centers and UVU departments. This individual is expected to be in residence at Utah Valley University for the duration of the appointment and may not be employed by another institution during that time.

To learn more about the position, visit: <https://www.uvu.edu/ccs/sdecinfo/>

The Center for Constitutional Studies at Utah Valley University was established in September 2011. The Center is a nonpartisan academic institute that promotes the instruction, study, and research of constitutionalism. It employs a multidisciplinary approach to effectively equip a new generation of citizens and leaders with a broad understanding of political thought and economic and political practices critical to the perpetuation of constitutional government, ordered liberty, and the rule of law.

To learn more about the Center, visit: <https://www.uvu.edu/ccs>

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

Required Qualifications:

JD or PhD in a relevant field; established record of scholarship and/or professional practice in Constitutional Law, Constitutional History, or Public Law; experience teaching at the undergraduate or graduate level; leadership experience; and understanding of the fundraising process.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

Knowledge:

- Demonstrated knowledge of constitutional law and constitutional history, including knowledge of constitutional issues found at the intersections of political thought, public policy, religion, law, history, or economics
- Demonstrated knowledge of the scholarly research and publication process or the legal research and drafting process
- Demonstrated knowledge of successful teaching strategies for students with diverse backgrounds
- Knowledge of organizational dynamics and administration
- Demonstrated knowledge of effective interpersonal communication and engagement
- Knowledge of productive individual and organizational fundraising practices

Skills:

- Demonstrated skills in producing scholarly work and publications
- Proven record, or demonstrated potential, for excellence in program building and curriculum development
- Experience teaching courses in constitutional law, constitutional history, public law, or civics
- Skills in mentoring students
- Demonstrated leadership and administrative skills
- Experience navigating complex organizations and developing and maintaining partnerships
- Demonstrated skills in working well with senior administrators and internal and external constituencies
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Skills in fundraising (individual and organizational) and enhancement of program reputation

Abilities:

- Ability to effectively engage diverse constituents, including students, university administrators, donors, faculty, and government officials
- Demonstrated ability to build relationships with partner programs and to create collaborative networks at UVU and nation-wide
- Ability to publicly address complicated and/or sensitive legal and political issues while avoiding opprobrium or polemics
- Ability to operate in a complex campus environment and to cooperate with campus colleagues in an engaged learning environment that welcomes students from a diverse background
- Ability to enhance UVU's strong teaching reputation through instruction, curriculum development, close mentoring, and open and constant communication with students
- Ability to employ a multidisciplinary approach to effectively equip a new generation of citizens and leaders with a broad understanding of the Constitution critical to the perpetuation of the constitutional rule of law and ordered liberty
- Ability to analyze and interpret financial data and prepare financial reports, statements, and/or projections
- Ability to exercise interpersonal, problem-solving, and decision-making skills and to effectively apply general principles to specific conditions
- Ability to supervise and train employees, to include organizing, prioritizing, and scheduling work assignments

Preferred Qualifications:

Publications in peer reviewed journals or experience drafting appellate briefs on constitutional issues; multiple years of teaching experience; experience raising funds from private donors and through grant writing; experience effectively engaging internal and external constituents; experience working at or with an academic center; and experience leading an organization.

Physical Requirements:

This job performs work in a typical office setting.

Benefits Summary:

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

FLSA: Exempt

Pay Range: DOQ

Advertisement Number: STA58020

Open Date: 11/30/2020

Review Start Date: 12/22/2020

Close Date:

Open Until Filled: Yes

Special Instructions to Applicant:

To apply, visit: <https://apptrkr.com/2105130>

Employment decisions are made on the basis of an applicant's qualifications and ability to perform the job without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, genetic information, or other bases protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

jeid-cac6912dad7ec4c9a5cf3696734743b

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8440

St. John Fisher College

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics and Public Law

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Open

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

St. John Fisher College, an independent, liberal arts institution in the Catholic tradition located in Rochester, New York, seeks nominations and applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of Political Science and Public Law. The selected candidate will be expected to teach traditional American Politics courses at all levels of the undergraduate degree, with a focus on US Institutions, and will be able to contribute to course offerings in our Legal Studies program, with a focus on Judicial institutions and processes. Additionally, the candidate will contribute to the new Fisher Core. The position is available beginning August 2021.

Founded in 1948, St. John Fisher College is ranked among the top colleges and universities in the northeast and has a rich history of academic excellence and an outstanding reputation for its commitment to a student-centered, personalized educational environment. The educational philosophy of the founding Basilian Fathers—Teach me goodness, discipline, and knowledge—reflects Fisher's traditions and values today, and the campus prepares individuals for lives of intellectual, professional, and civic integrity and where diversity and service to others are valued and practiced (www.sjfc.edu).

The School of Arts and Sciences at St John Fisher College serves all undergraduate students through 33 programs, the Core general education curriculum, and pre-professional requirements. The School provides all the liberal arts offerings required for baccalaureate degrees, thus providing critical skills and perspectives across a wide range of disciplines. New faculty will arrive at an exciting time in our College's history as we launch a new interdisciplinary Core curriculum, and the College looks forward to the transformative impact these faculty will have.

Required qualifications:

- PhD or ABD in Political Science with a preferred specialization in American Government.
- Ability to teach a wide range of courses at the undergraduate level.
- Demonstrated ability to be an excellent teacher.
- Commitment to a consistent, high-quality scholarly agenda.
- Commitment to mentoring and advising students.
- Commitment to contributing to a climate of equity and inclusion.
- Commitment to service.
- Commitment to community engagement.
- Excellent communication skills.

Applicants must be legally authorized to work in the US and be available to start teaching in fall 2021.

Applications are invited from candidates who have completed a doctorate or doctoral candidates with a scheduled completion date for the dissertation.

To apply, please submit a C.V., Cover letter, Statement of Teaching Philosophy using the link below. Three letters of recommendations can be submitted separately to Dr. Lazardeux upon request.

<https://jobs.sjfc.edu/postings/2067>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8430

Christopher Newport University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science, effective August 2021. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research with undergraduates. The successful candidate will have broad theoretical and methodological training in political science with a teaching and research emphasis in American judicial politics. We particularly welcome applications from candidates who specialize in civil rights and/or racial and ethnic politics. In addition to offering upper-level courses in their area of specialization, the successful candidate's teaching responsibilities will include an introductory course in American politics, and upper level courses on U.S. Constitutional law, the judicial process, and the Supreme Court. The nominal teaching load for tenure track appointments is 3-3.

The Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required for appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor. In some cases, exceptionally well-qualified candidates may be considered for appointment at a higher rank. ABD candidates who will not hold the Ph.D. by the time of appointment may be considered for appointment at the rank of Instructor. Phi Beta Kappa membership is highly desirable.

Departmental Information:

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University is composed of 11 dedicated faculty members whose research represents the core areas of the discipline including American politics, comparative politics and international relations, and political theory. Our 300 majors have produced research that has been nationally recognized, and many attend prestigious law and graduate schools and go on to successful careers in law, higher education, as well as local, state, and federal government. The Department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, as well as three minors in Political Science, Human Rights and Conflict Resolution, and U.S. National Security Studies. Candidates wishing to know more about the department and its academic programs are invited to visit <https://cnu.edu/academics/departments/politicalscience/>.

Faculty Information:

CNU is committed to outstanding teaching and learning, undergraduate education, and the liberal studies core; The Fall 2020 freshman class of 1,155 students was selected from 7,300 admission applications, and presented average high school GPA and SAT scores of 3.8 and 1184, respectively. The University has a new and technologically advanced campus, located between Colonial Williamsburg and the Virginia coast. The campus integrates the University's liberal arts vision, nurturing mind, body, and spirit. Facilities include the state-of-the-art Tribble Library; three new academic buildings including a newly opened integrated science building; the Freeman Center athletic complex; and the I.M. Pei-designed Ferguson Center for the Arts, which brings to Virginia the finest performing artists in the world. Opening in 2021 and adjoining the Ferguson Center, the $57 million Fine Arts Center will house over 7,500 sq. ft of gallery exhibition space, state-of-the art teaching and museum learning spaces, studios and classrooms. It will serve the university community and the entire Peninsula region.

Our faculty enjoy an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect that rewards outstanding teaching and fosters active intellectual and creative engagement. Christopher Newport is committed to ensuring that all people are welcomed, honored and fully engaged in the life of our academic community. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty and encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in their profession. Faculty are productive scholars and researchers, supported by professional development funds. Faculty and administrators regularly consult and collaborate as the University works to sustain a culture of scholarly inquiry, informed debate, and civic action that enriches students, faculty, and the surrounding community. The result is a supportive and cohesive academic setting in which the University cultivates and carries forward its mission. The University is among the highest ranked in the nation for its quality of life and innovative spirit. Competitive salary with excellent health and retirement benefits and a well-designed family leave policy further enhance the workplace. For further information, please visit our website at <http://www.cnu.edu>.

Posting Detail Information

Application Deadline: 01/17/2021

Application Instructions: To apply, please visit <https://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/> to upload a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (photocopies acceptable for initial screening), statement of teaching philosophy, a one-page statement articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. (Letters should be uploaded with application materials or emailed to facultyrecruitment@cnu.edu). Letters of reference will be the only documents accepted via email.

Review of applications will begin on January 17, 2021.

Applications received after January 17, 2021, will be accepted but considered only if needed.

Search finalists are required to complete a CNU sponsored background check.

Link to Postings: <http://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/9829>

EEO Statement: Christopher Newport University, an EO Employer, is fully Committed to Access and Opportunity. Notice of Non-Discrimination & Title IX Policy Statement: https://cnu.edu/titleixeo/\_pdf/cnu-notice\_of\_nondiscrimination\_and\_titleix\_policy\_statement.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8393

Dartmouth College

Rank: Professor of Government (open rank) in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered. The Cyber Security Chair is one of three positions in a cluster hire in cybersecurity, Technology, and Society (the other two positions are in the Computer Science Department), and the successful applicant will have an opportunity to collaborate with other faculty in the cluster and to be a member of Dartmouth's Institute for Security, Technology and Society. We will consider applicants working on a broad range of topics related to the intersection of cyber-technologies, domestic or international politics, and society. Candidates may study questions such as how emerging digital technologies, social media and the internet affect critical democratic processes, contribute to political radicalization and extremism, enable foreign influence operations, undermine or protect privacy, contribute to repression and/or resistance to authoritarianism, enable new forms of conflict between groups or states, and/or are used to promote or counteract political misinformation. Candidates might also study the national and international policies and regulations that states, firms, and international organizations use to address these or related issues. We encourage applicants who study these and similar questions to apply. Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered.

Application instructions:

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a CV and three letters of recommendation. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Application materials should be submitted electronically to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/81228>

The review of applications will begin on January 18, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Benjamin.A.Valentino@Dartmouth.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8395

Texas A&M University

Rank: Pre- and Post- Doctoral Fellowships

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Albritton Center for Grand Strategy at the Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University, is inviting applications to its residential fellowship program for the 2021-2022 academic year. The program will support one pre-doctoral and one post-doctoral fellow. The Albritton Center is particularly interested in scholars that are engaging with the fundamental questions surrounding grand strategy: How should the national interest be defined? What are the threats to the national interest? How should the United States use its power in response? Applications are invited from scholars of political science, history, and other relevant disciplines.

Fellows will be expected to be in residence at the Bush School for the duration of their fellowships (September 2021 - August 2022). They will be provided with office space and access to the resources of the Bush School and Texas A&M University. Fellows will participate in Center activities, to include seminars, workshops, and conferences. They will work with an active community of scholars in international affairs, political science, history, and other disciplines at Texas A&M University.

The pre-doctoral fellow is expected to make substantial progress toward – and ideally complete – a dissertation during the fellowship.

The post-doctoral fellow is expected to complete a manuscript for publication. The post-doctoral fellow is also expected to teach one course to Bush School students. Finally, both fellows are asked to write a short, policy-relevant piece while in residence.

Eligibility:

Applicants for the pre-doctoral fellowship must be pursuing a Ph.D. in political science, history or other relevant discipline. Applicants must pass all qualifying exams and advance to the level of candidacy prior to the start of their appointment.

Applicants for the post-doctoral fellowship must have completed their PhD in political science, history, or other relevant discipline to begin the fellowship. Recent PhD recipients are especially encouraged to apply.

Award information:

The pre-doctoral fellow will receive a stipend of $39,000, as well as $5,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will receive a salary of $60,000 (payable monthly), as well as $10,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will also be eligible for the benefits package available to TAMU employees.

Application process:

Postdoctoral applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant's dissertation advisor) through Texas A&M's employment platform, Workday (https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU\_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Postdoctoral-Research-Associate\_R-033905-1).

Predoctoral applicants should complete submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant's dissertation advisor) to bushschoolCGS@tamu.edu.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by January 29, 2021 receiving priority attention.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8384

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Department Chair and Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Chair

Defense Analysis Department

Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA

The Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) is accepting applications for the position of Professor and Chair of the Defense Analysis Department (DA). NPS and the DA Department provide graduate education to military officers of the uniformed services, Department of Defense civilians, and members of the international defense community.

The DA Department is an interdisciplinary department providing graduate curricula focused on analytic approaches to the study of defense, with particular emphasis on irregular warfare, information strategy, and political warfare. The mission of the DA Department is to provide graduate education through qualitative and quantitative curricula to produce professionals with the advanced critical thinking and problem-solving skills needed to meet evolving national security challenges.

The Defense Analysis Department is the academic home to approximately fifty tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty and staff employees. The duties of the chair include: providing strategic direction for the department; representing the department internally at NPS and externally to various educational, military, and research stakeholders; building and maintaining relationships with institutional and operational organizations across the joint force; engaging with and shaping the education of the nearly 150 students on board at any time; and fulfilling all administrative tasks associated with the supervisory role.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Doctoral degree in a field connected to the study of irregular warfare and armed conflict, such as international relations, security studies, political science, history, sociology, economics, anthropology, psychology, philosophy, or related fields.
- Must be a U.S. citizen and capable of obtaining a security clearance.
- A proven record of scholarship, instruction, and leadership in the candidate's field.
- Leadership experience in an academic organization.
- An academic record that would merit an appointment as a Professor with tenure upon arrival.
- Track record or demonstrable potential for building and maintaining collaborative relationships with institutional partners.

Additional preferred qualifications:

- Currently holding or be immediately eligible for a Top Secret clearance.
- Experience working in or with the U.S. Department of Defense.

We are accepting applications through February 15, 2020. Candidates should submit their materials to: mefreema@nps.edu. E-mail subject heading: DA Chair Search. Include: 1) a cover letter describing the applicant's qualifications for this position, 2) a comprehensive curriculum vitae or resume, and 3) contact and e-mail address information for a minimum of three references. The application material shall clearly state the applicant's citizenship.

Relocation expenses, including recruitment/relocation incentive, may be authorized in accordance with applicable regulations.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience while tied to the federal government compensation policies for the position and location. Applicants with foreign education will be required to select from a list of private organizations that are members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services, Inc. (NACES), which provide foreign education evaluations acceptable to NPS.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>.

Veteran status is treated as a positive merit factor for NPS faculty positions. We strongly encourage you to indicate if you are a veteran in your application when applying to NPS positions and you must provide a copy of your signed DD-214 (member 4 copy), Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, or other acceptable documentation.

Current active duty service members are required to submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service must provide the branch of service, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will be ineligible if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days from the date of application.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 8383

Oberlin College

Rank: American Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Criminal Justice

The Oberlin College Politics Department invites applications for a full-time position in American politics. This is a non-continuing position for one year beginning fall semester of 2021 and will carry the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor.

We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in the American legal system. The incumbent will teach five courses, including a course on constitutional law, and others in areas such as criminal justice, civil rights and liberties, judicial politics, and/or related courses on American politics.

The teaching expectation is five courses per year: normally one at the introductory level, three at the intermediate level, and one senior seminar.

Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2021-22). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable.

All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory's online application process at:

<http://jobs.oberlin.edu/postings/9681>

To apply, candidates should visit the online application site found at <https://jobs.oberlin.edu>. A complete application will be comprised of 1) a Cover Letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement detailing your commitment to and experience in diversity and equity in teaching; 5) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the January 15th deadline will be guaranteed full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8381

Oklahoma State University

Rank: Teaching Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polsci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a Teaching Assistant Professor specializing in American politics to begin in August 2021. This position is non-tenure track but offers the potential of reappointment and promotion to Teaching Associate and Teaching Full Professor. This position is designed for instructors who prioritize good pedagogy and student mentoring. The normal teaching load is 3 :3 and includes a mix of smaller and larger classes. The primary, though not exclusive, teaching responsibility is Introduction to American Government. The successful candidate will have demonstrated the potential for effective teaching in American Politics. Candidates with previous experience teaching Introduction to American Government as instructor of record and experience teaching a mix of online and face-to-face courses are especially welcome. In addition to teaching, the position entails service responsibilities that could include supervising the department's internship programs, advising Pi Sigma Alpha, and participating on various departmental committees.

To be considered, candidates must have received a PhD or be nearing completion of their doctoral training (ABD) from an accredited degree program in political science or closely related degree program. Preference, however, will be given to candidates who have received their doctoral degree by the start of appointment. Initial appointment is for three years (which includes a probationary period) but can be renewed for additional terms.

Applications completed and received by January 31, 2021 and will be given preference.

Applicants are asked to have the following submitted through Interfolio <https://apply.interfolio.com/77763>. A letter of application outlining your interest in this position, teaching interests/experience; vitae; graduate transcripts; three letters of recommendation; evidence of successful teaching; and a short teaching statement.

The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and underrepresented racial/ethnic groups. About one third of our undergraduate majors are members of underrepresented groups. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic groups and 55 percent are female. Oklahoma State University, as an equal opportunity employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. Oklahoma State University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all individuals and does not discriminate based on race, religion, age, sex, color, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, disability, or veteran status with regard to employment, educational programs and activities, and/or admissions. For more information, visit <https://eeo.okstate.edu>. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 7974

The Citadel

Rank: Tenure-Track Professor of Political Science in American Government and Southern Politics

Job Responsibilities:

The Citadel, the Military College of South Carolina, invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in American Government and Southern Politics in the Department of Political Science at the Assistant or Associate Professor level, beginning August 2021.

The Citadel is a state-supported coeducational military college in historic downtown Charleston, South Carolina. We are committed to excellence in teaching with the expectation that faculty engage in consistent research and publication. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science with three subfields: American Government, International Politics and Military Affairs, and pre-Law and Legal Studies. The Department is home to approximately 250 undergraduate majors. In addition, the Department of Political Science offers a Master of Arts program in International Politics & Military Affairs and graduate courses related to a Master of Arts program in Social Science. The normal teaching load for a tenure-track professor is four courses each semester. Undergraduate teaching responsibilities include the following: American Government, State and Local Government, the Presidency, and Political Parties. The incumbent will be expected to teach occasionally at the graduate level using both traditional and online delivery methods. The successful candidate will be expected to direct the Symposium on Southern Politics, which is held every other March.

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD eligible candidates who will finish their dissertation by August 2021 will be considered. Expertise in American Government with a focus on Southern Politics is required.

Additional Comments:

Please complete an online application at <https://jobs.citadel.edu/cw/en-us/job/495943/tenuretrack-professor-of-political-science-in-american-government-and-southern-politics> and upload the following materials to your online application:

- (1) A letter of application addressing the qualifications listed above
- (2) A curriculum vita
- (3) A writing sample
- (4) Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Please also send the above documents and three (3) letters of recommendation (sent independently) to the address: DuBose Kapeluck, Department of Political Science, The Citadel, 171 Moultrie St., Charleston, SC, 29409. Please direct all questions to Dr. Kapeluck at dubose.kapeluck@citadel.edu

To learn more about The Citadel and its programs please visit our website at www.citadel.edu. To find more information on the Department of Political Science, you can visit us at <http://www.citadel.edu/root/politicalscience>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8380

West Chester University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Government and the Politics of Diversity

Specializations: American Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

Position Summary

Join a vibrant campus community whose excellence is reflected in its diversity and student success. West Chester University of Pennsylvania's Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the field of American Government and Politics beginning in August 2021. We are specifically seeking to hire a faculty member whose substantive specializations and pedagogical training will strengthen our existing commitment to diversity and inclusion. Teaching responsibilities will primarily include the following courses: Politics of Diversity, Women and Politics, Urban Politics, Racial/Ethnic Politics, as well as, Introduction to American Government. Additional courses may include: Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Latino Politics, and there is potential for the development of new courses. Other responsibilities of the position include engaging in research and appropriate service, including student advising, all in a manner consistent with our department mission, which emphasizes global perspectives. Overall, we seek teacher-scholars who are committed to student success, retention and engagement, and who will contribute to our valued collegial atmosphere.

Minimum Qualifications

The successful applicant must possess a Ph.D. in Political Science (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date);
 Ability to teach American Government Courses;
 Ability to teach Specialized Diversity Courses;

Preferred Qualifications

Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including distance education;
 Evidence of research accomplishment/capability/active agenda;
 Demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and supporting students;
 Diversity statement.
 Special Instructions

The following materials should be submitted to the West Chester University Electronic Submission site: <http://agency.governmentjobs.com/wcupa/default.cfm>.

Cover letter describing teaching and research interests;
 Curriculum Vitae;
 Brief writing sample;
 Statement of teaching philosophy;
 Diversity statement (see the diversity statement prompt);
 Sample syllabi;
 Graduate transcripts;
 Teaching evaluations (if available);
 Three references and contact information.

As part of your application for a faculty position, we also have requested a Diversity Statement. This request highlights our Department's commitment to promote diversity and inclusiveness and to cultivate a campus environment that welcomes all. This commitment reflects the Diversity Theme of West Chester University's new Strategic Plan and supports initiatives of our Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (WCU Diversity Equity Inclusion). We expect that each applicant's statement will be unique, as informed by their own experiences and goals. Some issues you might address in a 1-2 page statement include the following: (1) How have you supported diversity and inclusion in your interactions with others in PK-12 classrooms, Higher Ed classrooms (if appropriate), service, and research environments? (2) What have you done to help students from diverse communities (such as underrepresented minorities, non-traditional, LGBTQ, veteran, rural, and/or first generation) succeed, including any programs for these students that you have participated in? (3) Describe your commitment to working toward achieving equity and enhancing diversity at WCU. In particular, how might you contribute to our current diversity initiatives, and do you have any other ideas to help promote equity on our campus?

Applications should be submitted by February 15, 2021. The position will remain open until filled. Please address any inquiries about this position to Ashlie Delshad, Search Committee Chairperson, at adels-had@wcupa.edu. Applicants must successfully complete a remote interview, including a teaching demonstration, to be considered as a finalist.

West Chester University of Pennsylvania offers highly competitive salaries and excellent benefits. The University is part of the State System of Higher Education and is a public, regional, comprehensive institution serving over 18,000 students. The University is located in the city of West Chester, Pennsylvania, 25 miles west of Philadelphia and only a few hours from New York City, Washington D.C. The area is home to world-class libraries, museums and hospitals.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8382

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science/College of Letters and Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science/College of Letters and Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a pool of qualified temporary lecturers to teach courses as needed in the areas of American Politics, California Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology & Formal Theory, Political Theory & Philosophy, Models & Politics, Political Behavior, Public Law & Jurisprudence, and Public Policy & Organization.

The number of positions varies from semester to semester, depending on the needs of the department. Positions may range from 33% to 100%, depending on the number of classes being taught.

Appointments typically start at the beginning of the semester and may be renewed based on need, funding, and performance.

General Duties: In addition to teaching responsibilities, general duties include holding office hours, assigning grades, advising students, preparing course materials (e.g. syllabus), and maintaining a course website.

Basic Qualifications: Bachelor's degree (or equivalent international degree) is required at the time of application.

Preferred Qualifications: Completion of all Ph.D. (or international equivalent) degree requirements except dissertation at the time of application or, full-time paid political experience of at least 4 years within the last 10 years. Experience teaching remotely is a plus.

Salary: Initial salary will be based on applicant's teaching experience. The current minimum salary for an academic-year full-time annual salary is $56,381. Lecturers teaching one course in a single semester are typically appointed at a 17% annual rate.

The department is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching. UC Berkeley has a number of policies and programs in place to support employees as they balance work and family.

To apply, please go to the following link: <https://apptrkr.com/2089174>. Letters of reference may be solicited for finalists.

When and if the department contacts references, all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (<http://apo.berkeley.edu/evalltr.html>) prior to submitting their letters.

The department typically reviews applications for fall course needs in April/May, for spring course needs in October/November, and for summer course needs in February/March. Summer session classes are held during the months of May-August.

Please note: The use of a lecturer pool does not guarantee that an open position exists. See the review date specified in AP Recruit to learn whether the department is currently reviewing applications for a specific position. If there is no future review date specified, your application may not be considered at this time.

Please direct questions to Kristine Nera at <mailto:knera@berkeley.edu>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-7d464038b5295a4aab92cf71d35a6db5>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8374

Butler University

Rank: Lecturer/Instructor

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Native American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track lecturer for a two-year appointment with possibility of renewal. Applicants should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship engages intersectional, abolitionist, or critical historical institutional perspectives on race/ethnicity/indigeneity, gender/sexuality, and politics in the United States and potentially beyond it. The successful candidate will teach lower-level and upper-level undergraduate political science courses (including an introductory American politics survey), will contribute to the Core Curriculum, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. This faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, typically with no more than six distinct course preparations per year.

Review of applications will begin January 11, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2021. Applicants should submit the following to plsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant's teaching interests, experience, and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and summarizes their research interests; a curriculum vitae; a statement of teaching philosophy, a sample syllabus, and a list of 3-5 references including name, title and contact information. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts. Final round candidates will need to provide official transcripts and will be asked to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/11/2021

Date Posted: 12/4/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8367

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Polarization and Social Change Lab

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Communication, Political Behavior

Postdoctoral Research Associate: Polarization and Social Change Lab

Stanford's Polarization and Social Change Lab (PI: Robb Willer) has an opening for a postdoctoral researcher, to begin in Fall of 2021. We seek an innovative, accomplished scholar who has, or expects, a PhD in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field and who has an interest in working in a problem-focused, multi-disciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

The Postdoctoral Associate will be responsible for co-designing and leading research projects in one or more of the following areas: political polarization; framing, messaging, and persuasion; political dimensions of inequality; social movement mobilization; and online political behavior. Expertise in any of a range of research methods is valued, with a particular emphasis on field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g. text analysis, social network analysis).

Mentorship Structure

The position will be supervised by Prof. Robb Willer and will involve collaborating with PhD students, post-docs, faculty, and staff affiliated with the lab. Mentorship of the Postdoctoral Associate will be structured according to research and professional interests.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that values rigorous inquiry and diverse perspectives, experiences, backgrounds, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange.

Required Qualifications:

Applicants should have or expect to have a PhD by September 1st, 2021.

Relevant research in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field.

Experience designing and carrying out rigorous research in one or several of the following areas: field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g. text analysis, social network analysis) Interest in working in a multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

Demonstrated excellence in written and oral communication.

Interest in communicating research findings to diverse audiences, including non-academic audiences.

Preferred Qualifications:

Intellectual creativity and innovation

Methodological rigor

Intellectual and practical autonomy

Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills

Required Application Materials:

CV

Statement of interest (maximum 1.5 pages)

2-3 attached writing samples

2 letters of reference (letters of reference should be submitted separately)

Stanford is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Important Info

Faculty Sponsor (Last, First Name): Willer, Robb

Stanford Departments and Centers: Sociology

Postdoc Appointment Term: 1 year with possibility of 2nd year renewal

Appointment Start Date: Fall 2021

Group or Departmental Website: <https://www.pascl.stanford.edu/>

How to Submit Application Materials: Interested candidates should submit the required application materials via the following link: <https://bit.ly/3ois29l>

Please contact Chrystal Redekopp at redekopp@stanford.edu with any additional questions.

Review of applications will begin January 21, 2021

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8355

Brown University

Rank: POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH ASSOCIATE IN RACIAL INEQUALITY

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

Specializations: United States, Housing, Race & Ethnic Politics

DESCRIPTION: Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Racial Inequality to be jointly shared by the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs and the Center for the Study of Race & Ethnicity in America. We seek a scholar with interests in racial inequality/structural racism in the post-1970s U.S. in areas such as: urban poverty, social and cultural theories of racism, gender, segregation, housing or welfare.

The successful candidate will teach one course per year in a Watson Institute related program, collaborate on the vision, design and implementation of CSREA programming related to his/her research areas each year on a key topic in contemporary racial inequality studies, and be expected to actively participate in the intellectual life of CSREA (including regular participation in the CSREA research seminar), the Watson Institute and the University as a whole.

QUALIFICATIONS: Scholars with a Ph.D. in Sociology, American Studies, Political Science, History, Social Theory, Ethnic Studies, African-American Studies or a related discipline in the Humanities or Social Sciences will be considered. Dissertation must be signed by June 30, 2021. Candidates must be untenured and within 5 years of Ph.D.

INSTRUCTIONS: Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, writing sample (15-20 pp), a research statement (1 page), and the names and addresses of three referees through the Interfolio posting: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80616>.

Applications received by January 8th, 2021 will receive full consideration. Review of applications will begin immediately thereafter, and final notifications are expected to go out in March 2021. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective July 1, 2021, and is not renewable.

For more information, please visit:
<https://www.brown.edu/race> | <http://watson.brown.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/8/2021
Date Posted: 12/1/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8346

James Madison University Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- POLITICS OF RACE AND ETHNICITY– {JobLink# F1520} – The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2021. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government, courses on the politics of race and ethnicity, and other courses related to the candidate's expertise.

The department seeks candidates with strong research skills and demonstrated teaching potential. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until January 8, 2021. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at JobLink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number {# F1520}. On that website, candidates will post a cover letter, vita, unofficial graduate transcript(s), contact information for three references, an example of research (15-25 pages preferred), and evidence of teaching effectiveness (including teaching evaluations, assignments, and course syllabi, if available). The cover letter should include a discussion of the candidate's research interests, teaching experience and philosophy, and contributions or potential contributions to the diversity of the classroom, program, and university. The cover letter should also address how the candidate would work productively with an interdisciplinary cohort of faculty (see below).

This position forms part of a first-of-its-kind initiative at James Madison University: a cohort hire of six outstanding, tenure-track faculty working collaboratively in several interconnected areas, which include social justice, minority cultures and politics, racial equity, non-Western thought, and critical race studies. Scholars hired into this cohort will be appointed in six of the College's ten departments: Sociology and Anthropology; History; Political Science; Justice Studies; Philosophy and Religion; and Writing, Rhetoric and Technical Communication. We seek excellent applicants within particular disciplines, but also scholars and teachers eager to work across them, both within the College and beyond. Arriving as a cohort with broadly shared interests, successful candidates will enhance existing strengths in Latinx, African American, African diaspora, ethnic and global studies. A complete description of this cohort hire may be found here <http://joblink.jmu.edu/postings/8052>.

To apply go to <http://joblink.jmu.edu/postings/8096> or visit JobLink.jmu.edu and reference posting number F1520. Salary shall be commensurate with experience.

James Madison University is an equal opportunity employer committed to creating and supporting a diverse and inclusive work and educational community that is free of all forms of discrimination. This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/1/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8344

Stanford University Rank: Postdoctoral/predoctoral fellowship Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law seeks applications for its pre- and postdoctoral fellowship program for 2021-22. Pre-doctoral students at the write-up stage and post-doctoral scholars working in program areas of democracy, development, and rule of law are welcome to apply. We are particularly interested in projects that investigate the relationship of race and democracy or race and rule of law, in the United States or elsewhere. The Center expects to award two or more fellowships for the 2021-2022 academic year.

Please find the CDDRL fellowship application here: https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/graduate\_programs

The application is available online here: https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/stanford\_cddrl\_fellowship\_21

Post-doctoral fellows receive salaries commensurate with experience and with consideration given to university established minimums for a term period of 9 months. Pre-doctoral fellows receive stipends comparable to that awarded by the Stanford Graduate Fellowships program; the Center also pays non-matriculated student tuition for pre-doctoral fellows as required by Stanford University. Healthcare and other benefits are also provided as required by Stanford University for both pre- and post doctoral fellows.

Fellows spend the academic year at Stanford University completing their projects, participating in seminars, and interacting with each other and the resident faculty and research staff. The Center facilities on the Stanford campus include offices and cubicles. Fellows have access to other Stanford libraries as well as exercise facilities.

Eligibility

Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled currently in a doctoral program or equivalent through the time of intended residency at Stanford, and must be at the dissertation write up (post course work) phase of their doctoral program. Post-doctoral fellows must have earned their PhD within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their Ph.D. dissertations by July 31, 2021.

Application Process

The application deadline for the 2021-22 academic year is Friday, December 18, 2020. The CDDRL Pre and Postdoctoral Fellowship program uses the WizeHive application system to manage all incoming applications. Applicants are required to submit a completed application form, letter of application of no more than 3 typed pages, current CV, three letters of recommendations, a statement of proposed research (5-10 pages) and a complete set of transcripts (undergraduate and graduate).

All pre- and postdoctoral applicants must also include official PhD transcript. Please mail your official transcript using a dossier service offered through your university or Interfolio.

CDDRL Mailing Address:
Encina Hall
616 Jane Stanford Way, C141
Stanford, CA 94305

Center Committee will only review complete files. Notifications will be sent in mid to late-February.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/18/2020

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8352

University of Virginia

Rank: Tenure Track, Assistant Professor, Democracy, Race and U.S. politics, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia's Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences are launching a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over the next four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale—bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary. It supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs will consist of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Core Lab) and a group of rotating labs. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the core lab—an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach devoted to the study of the history and principles of democracy—or one of the Initiative's other research labs or projects

With the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation, nine of these new faculty members will hold positions in the core lab on the history, principles, and philosophy of democracy. The core lab will serve as the nerve center of the entire Initiative, catalyzing key questions, research agendas, and forums for debate. It will find opportunities for cross-lab collaboration by identifying broader concerns that transcend those investigated by any single lab. It will gather philosophers, artists, and scholars of the ancient, modern, and post-modern worlds to research fundamental questions and possibilities of the democratic experiment in its varied global forms.

In addition to the Core Lab, the Democracy Initiative sponsors a series of rotating labs (current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, and race, religion, and democracy) and a range of other research projects (including initiatives on Democracy and Public Memory and Race and Democracy). Three or more of the faculty hired through this initiative will be invited to contribute to those projects and/or help develop new programs for the broader Initiative.

As part of this hiring program the Department of Politics will fill four tenure-track positions. This year, the Department of Politics is launching two of those searches. Across all the searches, the Department seeks to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative's other projects.

With the support of the Mellon Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position for a scholar who studies democracy, race and U.S. politics. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment. Candidates should have an active research agenda, strong interest in teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and a willingness to contribute to the scholarly life of the Department of Politics. Scholars with a background in quantitative methods and interest in teaching courses in the department's methods sequences are also encouraged to apply.

Application review will begin December 18, 2020 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2021. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>: search for posting #R0020024 complete the application, and attach the following:

1. Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations.
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. a research statement (not to exceed five pages)
4. a teaching philosophy (not to exceed one page)
5. one article-length writing sample
6. Three letters of recommendation must be submitted directly to: pol-race-search2020@virginia.edu.

*** Please note all required documents must be uploaded in the 'Resume' box.***

***Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.***

Questions about this position should be directed to: Jennifer Lawless, Professor and Chair, Department of Politics, at jll9jx@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7f@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu>. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkcva.com/>.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/11/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8348

University of Virginia

Rank: Tenure Track, Open Rank, Democracy and Judicial Politics, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia's Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences are launching a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over the next four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale—bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary. It supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs will consist of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Core Lab) and a group of rotating labs. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the core lab—an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach devoted to the study of the history and principles of democracy—or one of the Initiative's other research labs or projects

With the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation, nine of these new faculty members will hold positions in the core lab on the history, principles, and philosophy of democracy. The core lab will serve as the nerve center of the entire Initiative, catalyzing key questions, research agendas, and forums for debate. It will find opportunities for cross-lab collaboration by identifying broader concerns that transcend those investigated by any single lab. It will gather philosophers, artists, and scholars of the ancient, modern, and post-modern worlds to research fundamental questions and possibilities of the democratic experiment in its varied global forms.

In addition to the Core Lab, the Democracy Initiative sponsors a series of rotating labs (current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, and race, religion, and democracy) and a range of other research projects (including initiatives on Democracy and Public Memory and Race and Democracy). Three or more of the faculty hired through this initiative will be invited to contribute to those projects and/or help develop new programs for the broader Initiative.

As part of this hiring program the Department of Politics will fill four tenure-track positions. This year, the Department of Politics is launching two of those searches. Across all the searches, the Department seeks to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative's other projects.

With the support of the John L. Nau Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for an open-rank tenure-line position for scholars who study democracy and judicial politics. The colleague appointed to this position will join the core lab of the interdisciplinary Democracy Initiative (see above description), so we seek a scholar primarily focused on the history and principles of democracy. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment. Candidates should have an active research agenda, strong commitment to excellent teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and a willingness to contribute to the scholarly life of the Department of Politics. Scholars with a background in quantitative methods and interest in teaching courses in the department's methods sequences are also encouraged to apply.

Application review will begin December 18, 2020 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2021. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>: search for posting #R0020023 complete the application, and attach the following:

1. Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations.
2. Current curriculum vitae.
3. Research statement (not to exceed five pages)
4. Teaching philosophy (not to exceed one page)
5. one article-length writing sample
6. Three letters of recommendation must be submitted directly to: pol-judicial-search2020@virginia.edu.

*** Please note all required documents must be uploaded in the 'Resume' box.***

***Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.***

Questions about this position should be directed to: Jennifer Lawless, Professor and Chair, Department of Politics, at jll9jx@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7f@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu>. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkcva.com/>.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021
Date Posted: 12/1/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8349

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Job Summary: Postdoctoral Research Associate positions available to persons with degrees and research interests within Political Science, with the goal of transitioning successful candidates into tenure-track positions in the University of Alabama's College of Arts & Sciences.

The College of Arts & Sciences at the University of Alabama and the Department of Political Science seeks applications for the Dean's Postdoctoral Research Associate positions. Area of specialization is open. Successful candidates will hold terminal degrees and demonstrate a record of academic achievement in a research area or areas covered in Political Science. The department will establish a series of structured merit-based evaluations with the goal of transitioning successful candidates into tenure-track positions. The Dean's Postdoctoral Research Associate positions have been established through a major College initiative begun in 2019 to promote an inclusive scholarly environment in which outstanding scholars support the advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the College.

Required Minimum Qualifications: Applications are encouraged from excellent candidates with research interests in Political Science. Joint appointments across departments are possible. The minimum requirement at the time of the appointment is a Ph.D. or other terminal degree in a field of research represented within the College of Arts & Sciences. Initial appointments are for one year, with renewal contingent upon demonstration of research productivity. The Department of Political Science will develop mentoring plans detailing benchmarks for possible transition of Postdoctoral Research Associates into tenure-track professorship positions. Standard university hiring practices will govern any process of transitioning Postdoctoral Research Associates into tenure-track professor positions. Review of applications will begin January 1, 2021.

Apply at: <https://staffjobs.ua.edu/en-us/job/511934/postdocvisiting-scientist-political-science-psc-511934>

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8314

Sam Houston State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics)

The Department of Political Science at Sam Houston State University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2021. The successful candidate will possess a doctoral degree in political science with specialization in U.S. Congress and legislative politics. Secondary research interest in policy areas relevant to political science are preferred but not required.

ABD candidates will be considered but they must have a PhD by the start date (August 2021). The successful candidate will be expected to teach face-to-face and online courses in the department's political science undergraduate and graduate programs. The teaching load for the position is three courses in both the fall and spring semesters. Summer courses are not included in the teaching load.

Degree Requirements:

Applicants must have a PhD in political science from an accredited university or institution of higher learning.

Application Requirements:

- Cover Letter
- Current CV that includes, if applicable, a summary of previous teaching experience and the format of each course taught (i.e., face-to-face, online, hybrid).
- All graduate transcripts – Unofficial transcripts will be accepted during the application process. However, the successful candidate must submit official transcripts documenting all post-secondary degrees and coursework.
- Two letters of recommendation from individuals who are familiar with the applicant's teaching and research abilities and who have worked with the applicant in the past two years
- Recent student teaching evaluations covering the last two semesters of teaching, if available (Those without teaching evaluations, will need to upload a placeholder document in lieu of evaluations).
- Teaching statement, including a discussion of online pedagogy.
- Diversity statement discussing how the applicant would engage a diverse student population such as Sam Houston State University that meets the College of Humanities and Social Sciences core goals: "The College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Sam Houston State University is strongly committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace that empowers all employees to reach their full potential. All members of the academic community share a responsibility for developing and maintaining an environment in which differences are valued and inclusiveness is practiced. The college welcomes applications from those who will contribute to the diversity of our community."

Link to apply: <http://shsu.peopleadmin.com/postings/25424>

Review of complete applications will commence January 4, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8304

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an 11-month Visiting Professor (VP) position beginning June 29, 2021. The appointment will be for the entire academic year, ending in May of 2022 (though semester appointments will be considered). The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following the VP year at the Air Force Academy. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary (11 months of pay) and benefits during his or her time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and three references (ensure addresses and telephone numbers are provided) from individuals familiar with your professional work to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-154, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Dr. David Sacko at David.Sacko@usafa.edu. The deadline for applications is November 23, 2020. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship is required. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage can be found at: <https://www.usafa.edu/academic/political-science/>.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8298

Sewanee: The University of the South

Rank: Post-Doc in Public Policy

Specializations: Social Welfare, Environmental Policy, Urban Politics

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for a postdoctoral fellowship in American politics with a specialization in public policy to begin August 2021. The position is for one year, renewable for a second. The Department is also hiring for a postdoctoral position in political theory, so academic couples are welcome to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching. The teaching load is reduced to three courses per year, with a focus on pedagogical mentoring and development. New faculty members have opportunity for teaching mentoring through the Center for Teaching and designing community engagement curricula through collaboration with the Carnegie-recognized Office of Community Engagement. In addition to the ability to teach introductory courses in public policy, we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in their area of specialization (e.g., social welfare, criminal justice, environmental justice, public health, education, or urban policy) and connect them to our existing major concentrations.

The University of the South comprises a well-regarded College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. The University is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau.

The University of the South stands firmly for the principle that its employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have a right to be free from discrimination based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, pregnancy and childbirth, and genetic information. As required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or other protected categories in the educational programs or activities which it operates. This requirement of non-discrimination extends to admission to and employment in those programs or activities. The University is committed to sustaining a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Key to this value are efforts to nurture an environment of civility and mutual respect and to foster a culture of reporting concerns so that the University can respond promptly and equitably whenever an incident occurs. All employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have the right to be free from harassment and retaliation.

For preliminary review, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement demonstrating how they can contribute to faculty diversity, such as through membership in a group that is historically underrepresented in a particular area of study, training, or other experience. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at <https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/4424>. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. For full consideration, please submit materials by December 15, 2020.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/12/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8276

Colorado Mesa University

Rank: Visiting Professor of History or Political Science

Distinguished scholars in History or Political Science are invited to apply for the Wayne N. Aspinall Chair at Colorado Mesa University. For a $10,000 stipend, the visiting professor will spend three weeks on the Colorado Mesa University campus from late March-to mid-April 2022; teach a one-credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Applications must include a vitae, a brief outline of a course proposal and a topic for the major public lecture. Submit application by February 12, 2021 to Dr. Justin Gollob, Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Colorado Mesa University, 1100 North Ave., Grand Junction, CO 81501. Feel free to direct any inquiries to jjgollob@coloradomesa.edu or 970 248-1279.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 2/12/2021

Date Posted: 11/2/2020

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 8243

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications from outstanding political scientists with a specialization in American political institutions for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor. The department is committed to building an intellectually vibrant, culturally inclusive, and academically diverse community of exceptional faculty. The appointment is open with respect to empirical approach. We will give priority to important research that builds synergies within the department, and across other units at Vanderbilt University. We are especially interested in receiving applications from scholars of American political development and/or public policy, to help facilitate bridges between the Department of the Political Science and the Department of History, and/or the Public Policy Studies Program at Vanderbilt, respectively. Candidates able to assist in graduate training in quantitative methods or formal theory should indicate those competencies.

Qualifications

The appointment will begin Fall 2021. Salary and benefits are highly competitive. The Committee will begin reviewing files as early as November 9, 2020. To ensure full consideration, applicants should submit complete applications by November 23, 2020, but we welcome earlier applications and we may schedule formal interviews at any time. We will accept applications until we fill the position. Among the qualifications required for hire is the Ph.D. in hand or expected by August 15, 2021.

Application Instructions

Interested applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, a writing sample, teaching evaluations (if applicable), a diversity statement, and three letters of reference electronically at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/80426>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/28/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8227

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Instructor or Assistant Professor, Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness

Specializations: United States, Criminal Justice, International Security

The VCU L. Douglas Wilder School of Government and Public Affairs Homeland Security & Emergency Preparedness Program invites applications for up to two, pending funding availability, non-tenure eligible faculty at the rank of instructor or assistant professor, depending on qualifications and experience. Applicants with a Ph.D. in the social sciences, information security, computer science, public policy or a related field are preferred. Candidates with a Master's Degree and significant teaching and professional work experience will be considered.

The Wilder School's mission is to:

- Engage, teach and inspire students and leaders to understand and solve challenges in our world.
- Advance research that informs public policy and decision making to improve our communities.
- Collaborate with communities through innovative partnerships to enhance quality of life.

The Wilder School's vision is to be the premiere resource for public policy expertise and social equity in public safety, governance and economic and community development. Ranked 39th among the nation's public affairs schools, the Wilder School has over 1,500 students and more than 11,000 alumni, with an established environment where diverse perspectives thrive and where a common interest in public service and the betterment of society unites these perspectives together. Our academic excellence attracts the highest quality faculty, staff and students, and our graduates are leaders in their professions.

Our location in Richmond, the capital of the Commonwealth of Virginia, combined with our proximity to Washington, DC, provides numerous opportunities for engaged scholarship, teaching and community engagement activities. A creative, interdisciplinary School with both academic programs and training/research centers in the social sciences and professional arenas, we reflect the diversity of the communities we serve providing students and faculty with the knowledge, skills, opportunities and experience necessary for success.

For additional information about the Wilder School, please visit our website at wilder.vcu.edu.

This position is non-tenure eligible faculty at the rank of instructor or assistant professor, depending on qualifications and experience in the Homeland Security & Emergency Preparedness program to begin in August 2021.

The Wilder School is seeking to continue its growth and commitment to its large and successful Homeland Security & Emergency Preparedness Bachelor's, Master's and Certificate programs. The faculty will complement and expand our existing expertise in the field of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness.

Successful candidates will join a dedicated group of colleagues with diverse interests and a demonstrated ability to teach effectively. We are interested in faculty who will demonstrate through teaching, creative expression, and/or public engagement, the richness of diversity in the learning experience through integrated intersectional approaches and perspectives.

Position Responsibilities:

1. Teaching

Successful candidates will teach within the core requirements of the graduate and undergraduate programs in Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness and may contribute to the Ph.D. in Public Policy and Administration. The faculty member will be expected to carry a teaching load equivalent to eight 3 credit courses a year (4/4), involving both in-class and on-line delivery, and demonstrate leadership in developing techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles and intellectual interests.

2. Service

Faculty member may serve on program, School, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field.

For additional information, please visit <https://wilder.vcu.edu/programs/homeland-security-and-emergency-preparedness/>.

Required Qualifications:

Candidates with a Master's Degree and significant teaching and professional work experience will be considered.

Our interest is in instructors who demonstrate a profound commitment to high-quality effective instruction who can contribute to the strength and diversity of our faculty. Successful candidates will have particular expertise in social justice and vulnerable populations in emergency preparedness, response and recovery, legal or constitutional issues, cybersecurity, and similar topics. The faculty member will complement and expand our existing expertise in the field of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness.

Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU.

Preferred Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in the social sciences, information security, computer science, public policy or a related field.

Application Process/Additional Information:

Applications should be submitted to <http://www.vcujobs.com/postings/101225>, and include a cover-letter, a detailed CV with the names and contact information of three references, one example of scholarship or writing, and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

As a preeminent national, urban, public research university and academic health center, Virginia Commonwealth University is committed to organizational diversity, equity and inclusion - an environment where all can thrive in their pursuit of excellence.

Applicants are requested to submit a Statement of Contributions to Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (typically between 150-300 words) providing your career aspirations and contributions toward promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion. Through this statement, you can share how your lived experiences; and past, present, and future academic and professional activities have or will contribute to VCU's mission of promoting equity and inclusion.

Note: Examples include working with others to further the goals of equity and inclusion; leading in any capacity that tangibly promotes an environment where diversity is welcomed, fostered, and celebrated;

creative activity, research and scholarship that promotes equity and parity; teaching and mentoring students, and/or engaging with faculty and/or staff from traditionally underrepresented groups to create a positive and successful organizational experience.

“Virginia Commonwealth University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action university providing access to education and employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, political affiliation, veteran status, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or disability”.

VCU demonstrates its commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion through a number of initiatives, including an NSF ADVANCE-IT grant to increase the recruitment and retention of underrepresented minority (URM) faculty in STEM disciplines, and iCubed, a multi-faceted program designed to recruit URM faculty to collaborate with community partners in transdisciplinary cores to develop promising solutions that enhance the vitality of urban communities. Wilder School faculty are actively engaged in both initiatives.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled, with priority review beginning November 15, 2020.

Contact: Maureen Moslow-Benway, Search Chair (mmoslowbenwa@vcu.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8221

University of Virginia

Rank: Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Post-Doctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Open, American Government and Politics

The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia invites applicants for a position of Dean's diversity, equity, and inclusion post-doctoral research associate. We believe that diversity is a critical component of academic excellence. The goal of these positions is to provide opportunities to scholars who will contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion at the University of Virginia. Opportunities include mentorship, sponsorship, access to resources and research infrastructure, opportunities to collaborate with faculty at a truly interdisciplinary school, and connections to the policy world and the network of policy schools.

The postdoctoral appointment is renewed annually with a target length of two years and will begin August 2021. They involve independent research and/or opportunities for research collaboration with faculty, have additional research funds, and involve teaching one class per academic year at the Batten School.

We seek candidates from a range of disciplines including political science, economics, psychology, public policy or public administration. A Ph.D. (conferred no later than July 2021) in one of these disciplines is required. In addition, because diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at Batten, a demonstrated commitment to advancing equity and inclusion is also required.

Successful candidates' research may focus on a range of topics in one of the aforementioned disciplines. We welcome candidates that conduct research that have synergies with areas of current strength such as stereotyping, prejudice, conflict management, development, education, environment, health, national security, social entrepreneurship, humanitarian relief, voting, and American institutions. However, we also welcome applicants working on other topics in line with the mission of the Batten school, which involves: generating knowledge to solve the world's most pressing policy challenges and educating ethical and effective leaders prepared to lead in a diverse and divided world.

Successful candidates will participate in the intellectual life of Batten and other UVa units and work on a scholarly book/article/publication. A criterion for selection is evidence of scholarly potential that could lead to a tenure track appointment at a research university.

Built upon the strong foundation of one of the nation's top public universities, the Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy combines rigorous training in public policy with a unique emphasis on the acquisition of leadership skills. The School currently offers an MPP degree and an undergraduate major in public policy and leadership.

TO APPLY: Please visit UVA job board <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>, &quot;R0019281&quot; complete the application and see below for documents to attach.

- 1-page cover letter identifying 2-3 potential UVA faculty mentors
- A curriculum vitae
- Contact information for three references, (references will only be contacted for those that are short listed)
- A research statement (max 3 pages), including a broad introduction of your research, both past successes and future plans, as well as how your research agenda could integrate with current areas of study at the Batten School
- A diversity statement (max 2 pages). The diversity statement should discuss: the candidate's track record advancing equity and inclusion in previous positions and their plan for advancing equity and inclusion at UVA

Applicants should submit their materials by January 15, 2021 and the position is open until filled. For questions about the application process please contact Rhiannon O'Coin, Academic Recruiter at rmo2r@virginia.edu.

For more information about UVA and the surrounding area, please visit <http://uvacharge.virginia.edu/guide.html>.

The selected candidate will be required to complete a background check at time of offer per University Policy.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8210

Yale University

Rank: Research Postdoctoral Associate

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics (CSAP) seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2021. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis.

Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Application materials include a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Please apply online at this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/79728>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2021. Please submit your completed application by that date for full consideration, although applications received after 2/1/21 will be reviewed if there is still a vacancy.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8205

University of Virginia

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate and Lecturer

The Program on Constitutionalism and Democracy (PCD) in the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate and lecture position. PCD's mission is to promote scholarship and undergraduate teaching that is informed by political theory and that focuses on the American political tradition. PCD is directed by Professors James W. Ceaser and Rita Koganzon. For more information about the program, please consult our website at <http://pcd.virginia.edu>.

Postdoctoral Research Associates will conduct their own research, participate in PCD programming, and teach one undergraduate course per semester, either &quot;The American Political Tradition&quot; (PLAP 2250) or &quot;American Political Economy&quot; (PLAP 3500). These courses require as background a concentration in political theory and/or an approach to American politics focusing on American political thought and American political development. The opportunity to teach an advanced seminar on a specialized topic may also be available.

Applicants must complete all requirements for their PhD, including a successful defense, prior to start date.

The initial appointment is for 1 year; however, the appointment may be renewed for an additional year contingent upon available funding and satisfactory performance. The position is available starting from January 2021 or August 2021.

Pay is competitive, and benefits are included.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by December 1, 2020 receiving priority attention. The University will perform background checks on all new hires prior to employment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>: search for posting #R0018923 (or through Workday for internal applicants). Full URL: <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Postdoctoral-Research-Associate-and-Lecturer--Program-on-Constitutionalism-and-Democracy-R0018923-1>. Complete the application, and attach the following:

***Please note that all required documents MUST be uploaded in the "resume" box.***

***Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.***

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS:

Cover letter - addressing why you are interested in this position, how your experience has prepared you and demonstrated experience working with underrepresented groups.

Curriculum vitae

Brief statement of research interest

Writing sample (no more than 25 pages)

Contact information for three references.

For questions about the position, please contact Rita Koganzon, at rk7fp@virginia.edu. For questions about the application process, please contact Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor, at nr7f@virginia.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8187

Mercyhurst University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor – Political Science

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning Fall 2021. A strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university is essential. The department is seeking a generalist who is committed to developing courses in constitutional law and civil liberties as well as contributing to our department needs in institutions, behavior, methods, gender, or racial and ethnic politics. The candidate will also serve as advisor to our pre-law society. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the Fall 2021 semester.

Application Process

Screening of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to:

Jennifer Verga, Administrative Assistant
jverga@mercyhurst.edu.

Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small, and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year.

For information about the political science program see the departmental website: <http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu>.

Mercyhurst does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, creed, sex, citizenship status, ancestry, national or ethnic origin, age, familial status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, physical or mental disability, military or veteran status or any other legally protected characteristic or because of any individual's legally protected activities.

Mercyhurst complies with federal, state and local legislation and regulations regarding nondiscrimination. This policy applies to faculty, administration and staff, applicants for employment, students and applicants for educational programs and activities.

Candidates must be currently eligible to work in the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8139

Tufts University

Rank: Part Time Lecturer in American Politics Position for Spring 2021

Part-Time Lecturer in American Politics Position Request for Spring 2021

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites applications for a part-time lecturer position in American politics for spring 2021 semester. The course load is two courses. Teaching may require in-person, hybrid or remote assignments. One course should cover the U.S. Congress; the other course can be determined by the candidate in conjunction with the Department Chair. Particular areas of interest include racial and ethnic politics, gender, judicial politics, and state and local politics, though we welcome applications across the subfield.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science or related field required. College/university teaching experience strongly preferred.

Please submit a dossier including curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests and/or experience, draft syllabi of at least one proposed course, and two letters of recommendation. All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/78900>

The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact James Pavlick, Administrative Coordinator, at James.Pavlick@tufts.edu with any questions.

Tufts University, founded in 1852, prioritizes quality teaching, highly competitive basic and applied research, and a commitment to active citizenship locally, regionally, and globally. Tufts University also prides itself on creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community.

Current and prospective employees of the university are expected to have and continuously develop skill in, and disposition for, positively engaging with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and students.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8065

Yale University

Rank: Assistant, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Yale University's Department of Political Science invites applications for an Assistant Professor faculty position in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations.

The appointment will begin on July 1, 2021. Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, 3 letters of recommendation, and 2 writing samples should be uploaded to Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/78527>

Review of applications will begin September 25, 2020, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at poliscijobs@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/11/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8046

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates or more senior researchers for the year from September 1, 2021 to September 1, 2022, with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on funding and outstanding performance. Appointments will be through the department of Politics. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17241> (link is external).

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2020; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2021 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Matthew Franck, Ph.D.

Associate Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: mfranck@princeton.edu (link sends e-mail)

Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/1/2020

Date Posted: 9/1/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8018

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory

UPDATE FOR 2021-2022 APPLICATIONS: In light of the ongoing pandemic, we are not currently reviewing applications for the 2021-2022 academic year. Please check the listings again (<https://dof>.

princeton.edu/academicjobs) in January for updated opportunities.**

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2021 to June 1, 2022. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17282> (link is external).

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2020 - July 1, 2021) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2020 for appointments beginning in September 2021. Awards will be announced in March 2021 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
Matthew Franck, Ph.D.

Associate Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: mfranck@princeton.edu (link sends e-mail) / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/1/2020

Date Posted: 9/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8019

Amherst College

Rank: Assistant Professor Race and U.S. Politics

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Race & Ethnic Politics, United States

The Department of Political Science at Amherst College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor in the field of race and U.S. politics, with a particular focus on the Black political experience, beginning July 1, 2021. Amherst College is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff. Within the last decade, Amherst College has profoundly transformed with respect to its student body. Today, nearly one-quarter of Amherst's students are Pell grant recipients; 45 percent of our students identify as domestic students of color; and 9 percent of our students are international students. We expect the successful candidate to excel at teaching and mentoring students who are diverse with regard to race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion.

Candidates' scholarship should examine racial politics in the U.S. Possible topics include but are not limited to reparations, civil rights, voter suppression, movements for racial justice, the legacies of slavery for contemporary politics, the racial policies and constituencies of political parties, the relationship between racial and ethnic identity, white privilege, police violence, and racial stratification in urban and local politics.

Faculty teach two courses each semester and benefit from ample support for research, including a pre-tenure year-long sabbatical at full pay. We seek a colleague with a record that demonstrates the potential for high-quality teaching and research, and who is committed to excellence in education at the undergraduate level of the aforementioned student body. Candidates should be comfortable teaching courses both within and outside their specialties and in directing undergraduate research projects. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in hand or have fulfilled all requirements for the degree by the start of the appointment.

Candidates are asked to submit electronically <https://apply.interfolio.com/77688> a letter of application, a CV, three confidential letters of recommendation, and a single-authored writing sample (e.g., article or dissertation/book chapter). The letter of application should describe the main contributions of the candidate's research and the candidate's approach to and experience with teaching. Finalists will be asked to offer a presentation of their research, and possibly, a brief teaching demonstration, both via Zoom. Review of applications will begin on September 14, 2020 and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by this date will be assured full consideration.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/31/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7952

Salisbury University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Salisbury University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a full time, 10-month position.

Primary Job Duties: The Department seeks candidates whose expertise is in one or more of the following fields: racial and ethnic politics, political theory, and law and judicial politics. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level courses in political theory and/or American politics (political institutions and behavior and courses in the Law, Justice and Advocacy minor). The candidate will also be able to teach a research methods course. Academic advising and student mentoring are also expected as well as ongoing scholarly activities. The teaching load is 3-3 of 4 credit hour courses.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science. If ABD, applicant would be hired at the rank of Instructor and must complete doctoral degree by: May 2022. Demonstrated evidence of a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of a commitment to political engagement, an active research agenda, curriculum development, and undergraduate research mentorship.

Applications received by October 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. The position will remain open until filled. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Appointment will be contingent upon verification of eligibility to work in the U.S. and is expected to begin August 2021. Please visit our website <http://www.salisbury.edu/HR/careers/> to apply online. See the FAQs of the Online Employment Application System for more information and instructions.

To be considered an applicant, you must apply online and submit the following: 1) A letter of interest; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statements of research and teaching interests; 4) unofficial transcripts; 5) the names and contact information of at least three professional references. All documents must be submitted with your application in the online employment application system. Questions about the position should be directed to the search chair, Dr. Sarah Surak at smsurak@salisbury.edu.

This position is based in Salisbury, MD, an area with a culturally diverse population with rich cultural experiences. Salisbury University, a member of the University System of Maryland is a regionally accredited four-year comprehensive institution offering 60 distinct graduate and undergraduate programs. Founded in 1925, Salisbury University features a beautiful campus close to ocean beaches and the Chesapeake Bay and 2-3 hours from the metropolitan areas of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. SU is consistently ranked among the nation's top colleges and 'best values' by U.S. News and World Report, The Princeton Review and other publications. SU has 440 full-time faculty members serving a student population of approximately 8700.

Diversity and inclusion are core values of Salisbury University. We strive to create a truly diverse and inclusive environment where the richness of ideas, backgrounds, and perspectives of our community is harnessed to create value for our University community to include students, faculty, and staff, today and in the future. To this end, the University recruits exceptional and diverse faculty, staff, and students from across Maryland, the United States, and around the world, supporting all members of the University community as they work together to achieve institutional goals and vision. To learn more about the University's commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus, please visit <http://www.salisbury.edu/equity/>.

Applications will be accepted via Salisbury University's online employment application system.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/30/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7950

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: 2021-2022 International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Foreign Policy, International Security, History & Politics

The Fellowship:

The International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS) offers professors from a variety of academic backgrounds practical experience in the foreign policymaking field, providing them with an opportunity to spend their sabbatical year working at a U.S. government agency, in Congress, or with an international organization.

The IAF-TIRS program helps close the gap between research and practice, enriching both teaching and scholarship by enabling fellows to become practitioners. The program also benefits policymakers by exposing them to critical scholarly research relevant to the foreign policy and national security issues facing the United States and the world.

The fellowship is for twelve months. The program will match 50 percent of the fellow's base salary for the academic year (up to a maximum of $80,000 for the year) as well as provide modest assistance for moving expenses for those who need to relocate for the fellowship.

Eligibility:

Applicants should be U.S. citizens

Applicants must be full-time tenured professors at a U.S. college or university

Applicants must have arranged a paid sabbatical with their home university

Applicants must hold a PhD

Applicants must propose to spend a year working on peace and security issues in the U.S. government, in Congress, or at an international organization.

Preference is given to candidates with no previous experience in the U.S. government or with an international organization.

*Note: fellows are considered independent contractors rather than employees of CFR and are not eligible for employment benefits, including health insurance. No indirect costs can be deducted from the stipend award.

How to Apply:

Interested candidates who meet the program eligibility requirements can apply online now through October 31 at cfr.org/fellowships/international-affairs-fellowship-tenured-international-relations-scholars.

If you have additional questions, please contact tirs.fellowships@cfr.org.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 10/31/2020

Date Posted: 5/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7853

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Trinity College Dublin

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science and Data Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Assistant Professor Positions in Political Science and Data Science at Trinity College Dublin, Ireland

Trinity College Dublin wishes to make two appointments in the area of Political Science and Data Science, to commence on 1 September 2021. The area of specialism is open, but the Department of Political Science has a preference for applicants active in research on applied machine learning and data science in the social sciences. Proficiency in programming in Python and/or R is expected. Desirable skills also include network analysis, statistical forecasting, image processing, and/or quantitative text analysis. The preferred candidates must also be able to teach courses in substantive areas of politics (e.g., comparative politics, international relations, political communication) of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students. The ideal candidates will have an approach to research that complements the Department of Political Science's existing strengths in comparative and institutional analysis.

The Department is seeking to appoint individuals with vision and enthusiasm and a genuine commitment to the vital roles of teaching, research and administration.

Appointments will be made to either a three-year or to a four-year position.

For more information please use Keyword Search for Political Science at <http://jobs.tcd.ie>, which is also where applications should be submitted.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/20/2021

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8441

Georgetown University in Qatar

Rank: Core Faculty Position in Politics / International Relations - Assistant Professor

Core Faculty Position in Politics / International Relations - Assistant Professor

Georgetown University in Qatar (GU-Q) invites applications for a core faculty position in Politics / International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor.

GU-Q was established in 2005 alongside eight other elite international universities in Education City in partnership with Qatar Foundation. GU-Q is an integral part of Georgetown University, delivering the renowned School of Foreign Service's Bachelor in Foreign Service: a liberal arts program offering majors in International Politics, International History, Culture and Politics, and International Economics. Several MA programs are in development. Degrees are issued by Georgetown University. GU-Q is a research-focused, student-oriented institution with a globally competitive research and publications record; it houses its own Center for International and Regional Studies (CIRS). We value interdisciplinarity. Faculty and students also benefit from the opportunities offered by the wider academic eco-system of Education City.

Core faculty positions are full-time positions designed to replicate the institutional commitment to academic freedom and professional opportunities associated with tenure-track and tenured appointments, in conformity/compliance with Georgetown University's academic governance guidelines.

We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in the politics, international relations, or political economy of Africa. A geographical focus on East Africa / Horn of Africa would tie into a strong existing GU-Q research interest in the Indian Ocean region. The successful candidate will be able to teach required undergraduate courses in International Relations and/or Comparative Political Systems, as well as upper-level electives at the advanced undergraduate and graduate levels. Ability to contribute to the courses on Scope & Methods in Political Science and/or Quantitative Methods for International Politics, will be an advantage.

The teaching load for core faculty is 2-2. Assistant Professors are eligible for a one-semester fully-paid Junior Faculty Research Fellowship, typically taken in the third or fourth year of service at GU-Q. GU-Q provides generous research support and support for conference travel. Faculty at Georgetown University in Qatar are eligible to apply for Qatar National Priorities Research Program grants from the Qatar National Research Fund. QNRF also offers competitive research grants for early-career scholars. GU-Q boasts best-in-class teaching facilities including a Global Classroom for classes joining students in Washington, D.C. and Doha.

Qatar offers a diverse, safe and family-friendly environment. Ranked the safest country in the world in 2020, it is connected by direct flights to over 160 destinations in 90 countries. The iconic new National Library, adjacent to GU-Q in Education City and designed by Rem Koolhaas, provides free membership to all faculty and students. Public parks, beaches, sports facilities, museums, cafes and restaurants abound, and a state-of-the-art metro system connects all parts of Doha and nearby locations (see <https://www.visitqatar.qa/en/home>). Education City has its own extensive sports facilities.

Compensation is very competitive in relation to the US academic market and even more so to that of the UK and Europe. It includes an annual summer research stipend for active scholars, amounting to 2/9 of the base salary. The expatriate benefits package includes: fully-furnished high-quality housing, transportation allowance, annual family home leave allowance, health insurance (worldwide coverage), generous private school tuition support for accompanying children, etc.

For more information on GU-Q, see <https://apptrkr.com/2099267>. For a glimpse of what it is like to teach and live in Qatar, see: <https://youtu.be/HNoERrWln4k>.

Applications should be submitted by Saturday, 13 February 2021 to ensure full consideration. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Interviews will be conducted virtually.

Applicants should provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and the names of three scholarly references. All application materials should be emailed to GUQ-GOV-IR@georgetown.edu. Please reference "Government / IR Search" in the subject line. Faxed applications will not be accepted.

Queries about the position should be directed to Prof. Gerd Nonneman, Chair of the Search Committee, at the same email address.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8432

Reed College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science, International Relations/Comparative Politics 2021–2023

Applications are invited for a two-year visiting appointment in political science with specializations in international relations and/or comparative politics. Candidates are expected to advise senior theses and teach up to five sections over two semesters in each year, for a total of two sections of Introduction to Comparative Politics, two sections of Introduction to International Relations, and up to six sections in the specialty of the applicant, preferably split across both subfields. All our courses are capped at 24 students. Visitors are usually appointed at the assistant professor level, but more advanced candidates may be considered. Salary is competitive, including travel and research support. The appointment begins Fall 2021.

We are interested in candidates who possess multiple methods of analysis, a broad research program, and scholarly interests that reach into other parts of political science. We are particularly interested in candidates who demonstrate integration of their approaches and interests into teaching undergraduate seminars and advising student research. Our pedagogy emphasizes the conceptual and theoretical foundations of the discipline and includes yearly supervision of undergraduate thesis students. Above all, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level. We expect the Ph.D. to be in hand, or very near completion, by the start of the appointment. Information on the department is available at http://academic.reed.edu/poli\_sci/. Search inquiries may be addressed to political.search@reed.edu.

Reed College is a community that values cultural and intellectual pluralism as essential to the excellence of our academic program. In your application materials, we welcome a description of how, as a scholar, teacher, or community member, you would engage and sustain the commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in Reed College's diversity statement (<http://www.reed.edu/diversity/>). An Equal Opportunity Employer, Reed College values diversity and encourages applications from underrepresented groups.

Please send an application letter, CV, evidence of teaching excellence, and at least three letters of recommendation to <http://apply.interfolio.com/82289>. Sample syllabi are welcome but not required. Formal review of applications will begin January 18, 2021; applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8436

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Global Public Policy and Political Economy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2021. We seek a colleague with research and teaching expertise in global public policy and political economy. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department's NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) faculty and teach in the MPA program, contributing to our new focused area of study Global Affairs & Security. In addition, the hire will offer courses appropriate for students majoring in Economics and Political Science. Interest in contributing to the Department's graduate quantitative methods course sequence will be looked upon favorably. A Ph.D. in political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field is required by the start date. The successful candidate will have an active and promising research agenda that examines public policy and political economy broadly defined to include such global issues as human security, sustainable development, climate change, health economics, among others.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/47459> and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to Global Public Policy & Political Economy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. All interviews will be conducted using audio/visual technology due to travel restrictions. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8419

Biola University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Political Science Department at Biola University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant/Associate/Full Professor. While candidates may study any non-US geographic region and any time period, we are particularly looking for scholars whose research focuses on one or more of the following themes: diplomacy, economics, globalization, intelligence studies, international relations, international political economy, international law, military affairs, national security, political thought, and public policy.

Teaching responsibilities will include four courses per semester. The candidate is expected to teach a combination of American Government and courses in his or her field of specialization. Through courses in their field of specialization, the candidate will help build curricular connections between the Political Science and the History Departments. Although the candidate will be housed in the Political Science Department, the Political Science Department is committed to fostering a special relationship with Biola's History Department, which includes the development of cross-listed courses. The Political Science Department serves Biola University's distinctive Christian engagement with the liberal arts tradition and commitment to excellence in the areas of scholarship, teaching and the mentoring of students. Biola's Political Science department is distinctive in its reliance on a historical/philosophical/qualitative approach to the discipline and has a desire to see candidates who have a disposition for the discipleship of students for the purposes of fulfilling Biola's larger religious mission. Top candidates will display a thorough understanding of how the Christian worldview fundamentally informs their approach to political science and the seeking of wisdom and knowledge.

Review of applications will begin in December 2020 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following materials through this portal: <https://biola.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=1494>

1. Cover Letter addressed to Search Committee Co-Chair, Dr. Todd M. Thompson, describing academic background, research focus, teaching experience and interest in Biola University's Christian mission.

2. Curriculum Vitae

3. Christian Testimony document

Please direct any follow-up questions to Search Committee Co-Chair, Dr. Scott Waller: scott.waller@biola.edu.

The School of Humanities and Social Sciences is one of nine schools that comprise Biola University.

Biola University is an evangelical Christian university in which faculty affirm personal faith in Jesus Christ, endorse a university statement of Christian faith and community values, and are committed to the integration of faith and learning. Candidates must be willing to support Biola's mission, and preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate a clear commitment to the integration of faith into their scholarship and teaching. See the institution's theological positions at www.biola.edu/about/theological-positions.

Biola is accredited by the Western Association of Schools & Colleges (WASC) and is a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU).

Biola is committed to diversity and seeks faculty who can contribute to multicultural understandings. Candidates should be able to demonstrate their ability to work effectively with diverse populations, female and male students and colleagues, and integrate multicultural content and issues into their teaching.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8416

Colby College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - East Asian Politics and International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

The Department of Government at Colby College seeks applicants for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position to teach courses on international relations and East Asian Politics, commencing September 1, 2021. We seek highly qualified candidates who have demonstrated excellence in teaching and who are committed to working with an increasingly diverse student body. The successful applicant will teach Introduction to International Relations, East Asian Politics, an introductory course in research methods, and additional courses chosen in consultation with the department chair. Teaching load is five courses a year, including the option to teach one course during Colby's January term.

Candidates must have completed a Ph.D. in political science by September 1, 2021. Prior experience in undergraduate teaching as the instructor of record is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will provide evidence of excellence in teaching a diverse student body and a strong and on-going research program that is open to the inclusion of undergraduates. The college and the department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area when they apply.

Applicants should send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement expressing the candidate's teaching experience and philosophy, course descriptions and/or syllabi for three proposed courses, evidence of teaching excellence, a graduate school transcript, and three letters of recommendation, including at least one that speaks to teaching experience. Review of applications will begin January 15, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position should be directed to: governmentsearch@colby.edu

To apply: <http://apply.interfolio.com/81997>

Colby is a private, coeducational liberal arts college that admits students and makes employment decisions on the basis of the individual's qualifications to contribute to Colby's educational objectives and institutional needs. Colby College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, religion, ancestry or national origin, age, marital status, genetic information, or veteran's status in employment or in our educational programs. Colby is an Equal Opportunity employer, committed to excellence through diversity, and encourages applications from qualified persons of color, women, persons with disabilities, military veterans and members of other under-represented groups. Colby complies with Title IX, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in an institution's education programs and activities. Questions regarding Title IX may be referred to Colby's Title IX coordinator or to the federal Office of Civil Rights. For more information about the College, please visit our website: www.colby.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8403

University of Toronto

Rank: Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Other

Canadian Politics – Assistant Professor

Description:

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Canadian politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We prefer candidates whose research and teaching interests centre on democratic governance broadly understood, especially as it pertains to marginalized or under-represented populations.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University's downtown (St George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science <https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us.

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive and externally funded research program.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of their contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover (but need not be limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) sent directly by the referee to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Robert Vipond, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, Thursday, January 28, 2021. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University's automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday, January 28, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/28/2021

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8405

University of Toronto*Rank: POSTDOCTORAL FELLOW

Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy / Department of Political Science

University of Toronto

JOB POSTING — POSTDOCTORAL FELLOW

Area of Research: Political Behavior and Political Communication

Description of duties: The postdoctoral fellow will be mainly responsible for designing and executing surveys and experiments and writing collaborative papers.

Salary: $45,000 per year, plus standard benefits

Required qualifications:

- A completed PhD in political science or a related field (e.g., public policy or economics)
- Experience programming and fielding online surveys using Qualtrics
- Experience designing and programming survey experiments
- Experience with quantitative analysis -- including the analysis of observational and experimental data -- using either R or Stata
- Substantive expertise in the study of political behavior and political communication (country area open)
- An interest in -- and a willingness to learn about -- Canadian politics
- Strong interpersonal skills and enthusiasm for collaborative research

Who we are:

The Policy, Elections, and Representation Lab (PEARL) (<https://www.pearlmunk.com/>) is hiring a postdoctoral fellow in political behaviour and political communication.

Led by Professor Peter Loewen, PEARL is a team of postdoctoral fellows, PhD students, and master's students located in the Munk School of Global Affairs and Public Policy (<https://munkschool.utoronto.ca/>) at the University of Toronto (<https://www.utoronto.ca/>).

PEARL's mission is to deliver timely, academically rigorous, and publicly relevant research that answers three big questions: How do individuals make decisions about politics? How do politicians make policy and represent citizens? And how is technology changing governance and politics?

We offer a welcoming and supportive work environment with significant opportunities for collaboration, learning, academic publication, and publicly-engaged research.

Application instructions:

All individuals interested in the position must submit the following documents by the closing date to john.mcandrews@utoronto.ca using the subject line "PEARL Postdoc -- [Your Name]":

- A covering letter outlining how you meet the qualifications for the position
- Your CV
- A research sample that showcases your skills (e.g., a dissertation chapter, a conference paper, or a published article)
- The names of two academic referees

Closing date: January 15, 2021

Supervisor: Professor Peter Loewen

Expected start date: As soon as possible

Term: 12 months

Location: Initially remote, but transitioning to in-person work at the University's downtown Toronto campus when circumstances permit

FTE: This is a full-time position. The normal hours of work are 40 hours per week for a full-time postdoctoral fellow, recognizing that the needs of the employee's research and training and the needs of the supervisor's research program may require flexibility in the performance of the employee's duties and hours of work.

Employment as a Postdoctoral Fellow at the University of Toronto is covered by the terms of the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

This job is posted in accordance with the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8407

University of Zurich

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Position in "Politics of Economic and Social Inequality"

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Behavior, Political Economy

The Political Science Department at the University of Zurich invites applications for a 3-year position as post-doctoral researcher in the newly launching University Research Priority Program (URPP) on the topic of Equality of Opportunity. The postdoctoral researcher in "Politics of Economic and Social Inequality" is an integral part of the URPP, assigned to the Political Science Department.

Profile of the position

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue his/her own research agenda in the field of inequality studies, as well as to collaborate with Professors Tarik Abou-Chadi, Silja Häusermann and Stefanie Walter in a joint project on the perceptions and the politicization of inequalities, as well as their implications for policy demands and electoral outcomes in advanced democracies. The position offers extensive research support and includes a teaching load of one course per year. Additional teaching is most likely possible and would be paid extra.

Requirements

- A PhD in Political Science, with a preference for the subfields of Comparative or International Political Economy, Comparative Politics, or Political Behavior. The PhD should be completed or near completion.
- Strong interest in and ability for excellent academic research, proven e.g. through internationally visible publications, third-party funding, presentations at international conferences, or related research activities.
- Strong methodological skills (quantitative and/or qualitative, experience with both is an asset).
- Willingness and ability to engage in high-quality teaching. Teaching experience is an asset.
- Dedication, ability to work in a team, and ability to work independently.
- Strong command of English. Knowledge of German is an asset.

Starting date, conditions, application

The starting date for the 3-year position is flexible between April 1st 2020 and September 1st 2020. Renewal up to six years is possible, contingent on research productivity, continued substantive fit, as well as on continued funding of the URPP beyond 2025. The salary is appr. 75'000 CHF/year.

Further inquiries can be directed to Prof. Silja Häusermann (silja.hausermann@ipz.uzh.ch), Prof. Stefanie Walter (walter@ipz.uzh.ch), or Prof. Tarik Abou-Chadi (abou-chadi@ipz.uzh.ch).

Please send your application electronically as one pdf-file comprising your letter of interest, CV, publication list, transcripts, teaching evaluations, writing sample, brief proposal for a post-doctoral project (1-2 pages) and two names of people willing to provide references to sekretariat@ipz.uzh.ch.

Please fill out the form and add it to your application documents: http://www.ipz.uzh.ch/static/forms/download/additional\_application\_form.pdf

The closing date for applications is January 20th 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 1/20/2021
Date Posted: 12/14/2020
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8396

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor - Comparative Courts/Law

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-system assistant professor position beginning in August 2021 in the Political Science Program. The successful candidate will be expected to teach an introductory undergraduate comparative law course, specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, and to be involved with the pre-law administrative team. Possible research specializations might include: comparative courts, privacy, regulatory issues and intellectual property or trade law, among others.

ABD will be considered, but the PhD must be awarded by the time of appointment.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15204>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8391

Columbia University

Rank: Istvan Deak Visiting Professor in East Central European Studies

Columbia University invites applications for István Deák Visiting Professorship(s) in East Central European Studies for one or two semesters (fall and/or spring) in the academic year 2021-2022. The professorship, commemorating Professor Deák's legacy of excellence in research and teaching, is open to scholars who have active interest and accomplishments in East and Central European studies. Appointment(s) will be open-rank, to be filled at any level from Visiting Assistant to Visiting Full Professor.

The visiting professor(s) will be appointed in one of the Humanities or Social Science departments of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The visitors will teach two courses per semester, one a lecture course of broad interest for undergraduates, the other a seminar for upper-level undergraduates and graduate students. The visitors are expected to give one public lecture and participate in the academic life of the University, whose interests in East and Central European studies are well represented on campus by the East Central European Center, the European Institute, and the Harriman Institute.

Please provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, the names of three persons who may be asked to provide a letter of reference, and a modest sample (article or book chapter) of scholarship. The letter of application should include a statement of which semester the applicant prefers, a list with titles and brief (one-paragraph long) descriptions of two courses which the applicant might teach, and a description of the applicant's current research interests.

All applications must be made through Columbia's online Recruitment of Academic Personnel System (RAPS) at: <http://pa334.peopleadmin.com/postings/6332>

Review of applications will begin January 11, 2021, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8385

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: African American Politics, Latin American, Middle East

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor.

The department welcomes applications from candidates who will build on existing programs and areas of strength in the Department and the University, or who could help us increase our strength in African, Latin American, or Middle Eastern politics; comparative race and ethnic politics, or behavioral and experimental approaches to comparative politics, especially in the developing world. Duties will include a combination of research, teaching, and service.

The Department is looking for outstanding candidates with a record that demonstrates the potential to build a high-quality publication record, to secure external funding, and to serve as an excellent teacher and mentor. In addition, successful candidates must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse campus community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity. Penn State University and the Department of Political Science are committed to the values of equity, diversity and inclusion (see <http://equity.psu.edu/diversity-statement> and <https://polisci.la.psu.edu/diversity><http://equity.psu.edu/diversity-statement> and <https://polisci.la.psu.edu/diversity>) and we seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to these goals.

A PhD in Political Science or a closely related field is required (PhD in hand by appointment date preferred, ABD by appointment date accepted).

The salary/benefit package is competitive, and the position begins in the fall 2021. To apply, submit via the Penn State jobs website: a cover letter explaining candidate's research and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a statement of teaching philosophy, an example of scholarly research, teaching evaluations (if applicable), and the names and contact information for three references who can address candidates' research, teaching and commitment to enhancing diversity.

Review of applications will begin on January 10, 2020 and continue until the position is filled. For more information on Department of Political Science, see: <https://polisci.la.psu.edu/>

Apply online at https://psu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/PSU\_Academic/job/University-Park-Campus/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science\_REQ\_0000009127-1

Please note there is a 5 document limit on the online application so please upload either all or some of your materials as one document.

Penn State is committed to and accountable for advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in all of its forms. We embrace individual uniqueness, foster a culture of inclusion that supports both broad and specific diversity initiatives, leverage the educational and institutional benefits of diversity, and engage all individuals to help them thrive. We value inclusion as a core strength and an essential element of our public service mission.

To review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters and policies, please go to <https://police.psu.edu/annual-security-reports>, which will also explain how to request a paper copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8390

Oberlin College

Rank: Comparative Politics

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a non-continuing position in comparative politics. Appointment to this position will be for one year beginning fall semester of 2021 and will carry the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor.

The incumbent will teach five courses in comparative politics. Area of specialization is open, though we seek candidates who will not duplicate our current strengths in East Asian, (sub-Saharan) African and Latin American politics. Candidates with the ability to teach one or more courses on the politics of the Middle East/North Africa or the Post-Soviet region/Eastern Europe preferred.

Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2021-22). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable.

A complete application will be comprised of 1) a Cover Letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement detailing your commitment to and experience in diversity and equity in teaching; 5) a research statement that includes how you will support undergraduate research and, if applicable, how you might incorporate undergraduate students into your research program; and 6) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.

* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory's online application process at: <http://jobs.oberlin.edu/postings/9683>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8378

Oberlin College

Rank: Comparative Politics

Specializations: Middle East, Post Soviet Region, Post Communist Europe

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a non-continuing position in comparative politics. Appointment to this position will be for one year beginning fall semester of 2021 and will carry the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor.

The incumbent will teach five courses in comparative politics. Area of specialization is open, though we seek candidates who will not duplicate our current strengths in East Asian, (sub-Saharan) African and Latin American politics. Candidates with the ability to teach one or more courses on the politics of the Middle East/North Africa or the Post-Soviet region/Eastern Europe preferred.

Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2021-22). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable.

* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory's online application process at:

<http://jobs.oberlin.edu/postings/9683>

A complete application will be comprised of 1) a Cover Letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement detailing your commitment to and experience in diversity and equity in teaching; 5) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the January 15th deadline will be guaranteed full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8379

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science/College of Letters and Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science/College of Letters and Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a pool of qualified temporary lecturers to teach courses as needed in the areas of American Politics, California Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology & Formal Theory, Political Theory & Philosophy, Models & Politics, Political Behavior, Public Law & Jurisprudence, and Public Policy & Organization.

The number of positions varies from semester to semester, depending on the needs of the department. Positions may range from 33% to 100%, depending on the number of classes being taught.

Appointments typically start at the beginning of the semester and may be renewed based on need, funding, and performance.

General Duties: In addition to teaching responsibilities, general duties include holding office hours, assigning grades, advising students, preparing course materials (e.g. syllabus), and maintaining a course website.

Basic Qualifications: Bachelor's degree (or equivalent international degree) is required at the time of application.

Preferred Qualifications: Completion of all Ph.D. (or international equivalent) degree requirements except dissertation at the time of application or, full-time paid political experience of at least 4 years within the last 10 years. Experience teaching remotely is a plus.

Salary: Initial salary will be based on applicant's teaching experience. The current minimum salary for an academic-year full-time annual salary is $56,381. Lecturers teaching one course in a single semester are typically appointed at a 17% annual rate.

The department is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching. UC Berkeley has a number of policies and programs in place to support employees as they balance work and family.

To apply, please go to the following link: <https://apptrkr.com/2089174>. Letters of reference may be solicited for finalists.

When and if the department contacts references, all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (<http://apo.berkeley.edu/evaltr.html>) prior to submitting their letters.

The department typically reviews applications for fall course needs in April/May, for spring course needs in October/November, and for summer course needs in February/March. Summer session classes are held during the months of May-August.

Please note: The use of a lecturer pool does not guarantee that an open position exists. See the review date specified in AP Recruit to learn whether the department is currently reviewing applications for a specific position. If there is no future review date specified, your application may not be considered at this time.

Please direct questions to Kristine Nera at <mailto:knerna@berkeley.edu>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-7d464038b5295a4aab92cf71d35a6db5>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8374

German Development Institute

Rank: Senior Researcher

The German Development Institute / Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE) is one of the leading research institutes on development policy. Through excellent research, policy advice and training, the Institute contributes to finding solutions to global challenges.

DIE's research programme "Transformation of political (dis-)order" is looking for a

Senior Researcher (m/f/diverse) – Position number 2020-D-02
 Full time 100% (39 hours/week); permanent position
 Salary from 55.000 p.a. up to 80.000 p.a.
 (German public sector tariff, up to TVöD Bund 14 depending on qualifications)

The position, located in Bonn, may be filled as of April 1, 2021.

The selected senior researcher will work on the change and stability of political orders with a focus on processes of democratization and autocratization in the Global South. In particular, we seek a scholar with expertise on international support and protection of democracy, and the effects of different regime types. Additional areas of interest are the role of political values and attitudes in political transformation, as well as the interplay between informal and formal institutions. A track record of excellent empirical research and experience in leading research teams as well as acquiring third party funding are key criteria. We also require excellent communication skills since advising policy-makers on implications of research findings, as well as building networks are substantial parts of the position. The researcher will also teach in the DIE Postgraduate Course and the Managing Global Governance School. University teaching is desirable. Personal characteristics of a good team player is essential.

Qualifications and requirements:

- Excellent academic record based on a PhD, ideally in political science or other related social sciences;
- An excellent academic record with international peer-reviewed publications on topics relevant for the position;
- An excellent command of quantitative and/or qualitative methods; demonstrated experience with mixed-method designs is an asset;
- Substantial knowledge and experience in one or more of the following issue areas: regime change (democratization and autocratization); democracy promotion; performance of political regimes; values and attitudes; social cohesion;
- Research and field experience in developing countries;
- Proven skills and experience in policy advice, preferably in the context of international cooperation;
- Ability to build and maintain networks at the science policy interface;
- Experience in teaching;
- Excellent English skills (spoken and written) and good knowledge of German; good knowledge in another major international language is an asset;
- Eagerness to work on an interdisciplinary team;
- Excellent communication skills;

- Willingness and aptness to travel abroad, including countries with a tropical climate ("Tropentauglichkeit").

We offer:

- Flexible working hours with a weekly working time of 39 hours (100%);
- Possibility to use a job ticket and a good connection to public transport;
- Trainings for further professional development;
- Company pension scheme with the VBLU;
- A modern and very stimulating workplace with an exciting working atmosphere.

The German Development Institute / Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE) offers an inspiring, family-friendly working environment at the interface of research and policy advice, with ample opportunities to engage in international discussions, political processes and scientific debates.

In the case of equal qualification, physically challenged persons will be given preference.

For further questions, please contact Dr. Julia Leininger, julia.leininger@die-gdi.de

Applications with the position number 2020-D-02 with detailed documents (cover letter, curriculum vitae, relevant certificates) must be submitted exclusively via application portal by 15th Dezember 2020.

APPLICATION PORTAL: https://www.onlinebewerbungsserver.de/ApplyForm/AppStart.aspx?c=\_F4\_B8\_FFf\_C6\_D0\_F1YF\_0E\_92D\_1Dh\_D2\_A9\_88\_0DM\_A1\_B0\_1D\_13P\_AF\_AA\_AE\_7Eg\_07\_25\_5FXM\_0C\_9C\_B8\_F3\_86\_5Db\_05\_3C\_95\_09wJ\_07

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 12/15/2020

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 8357

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science

Specializations: China, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. We are open to all methodological approaches and we have a preference for candidates with specialisms in one or more of the following areas:

- East Asia or South Asia
- Gender
- Race or Ethnicity

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4092/0/283545/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-east-asia-or-south-asia-gender-race-or-ethnicity>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8359

London School of Economics

Rank: Research Officer
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations
Specializations: Conflict Processes, Political Behavior, Religion & Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Research Officer
 (Socioeconomics of Islamist Radicalization in the West project)

Salary: from £36,647 to £44,140 per annum with the potential to progress to £47,456 per annum including London allowance

This is a fixed term appointment from September 2021 to August 2023

The LSE Department of Government seeks to appoint a Research Officer (Postdoctoral Researcher) to join the Socioeconomics of Islamist Radicalization in the West (SOCIR) project under the supervision of Prof. Steffen Hertog. SOCIR is a 4-year project led by Prof. Hertog as well as Prof. Gudrun Ostby (PRIO), and Dr. Thomas Hegghammer (FFI) that investigates the relationship between social status and radicalization among Western-born and bred Islamist radicals.

The Research Officer will conduct collaborative and independent research in line with SOCIR’s research programme, with special focus on data management and analysis. The officer will have access to the project’s dataset also for their own research.

Candidates should have a PhD or be close to completion of a PhD by the post start date, excellent quantitative research methods skills, and a research portfolio covering the fields of political violence, conflict, radicalization or, more broadly, the relationships between socio-economic status and political mobilization. Proficiency in R is required and proficiency in STATA desirable, as is expertise in techniques of causal identification with observational data. Evidence of a methodical approach to work with excellent attention to detail. Excellent written and oral communications and presentation skills. Proficiency in European languages other than English is desirable.

The successful candidate is expected to start in September 2021.

Please see the person specification for further details on the essential and desirable criteria. We offer an occupational pension scheme, generous annual leave and excellent training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/2054/0/283053/15539/research-officer>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, or would like a more detailed project description for SOCIR, please email Professor Steffen Hertog (s.hertog@lse.ac.uk).

The closing date for receipt of applications is 4th January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Interviews are likely to take place in January/February 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/4/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8361

Georgia Southern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor of Political Science—Search # 67796
 College of Behavior and Social Sciences, Department of Political Science and International Studies

The Department of Political Science and International Studies in the College of Behavior and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. The home campus for this position will be the Statesboro campus.

Georgia Southern University is a distinctive combination of Southern charm and uncompromising academics. We are a Carnegie Doctoral/R2 institution serving about 26,500 students through nine colleges on three beautiful oak-lined campuses in Statesboro, Savannah, Hinesville, and via a growing online program. Throughout its degree offerings at the associate's, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral levels, Georgia Southern cultivates community collaboration, world-class scholarship and hands-on learning opportunities.

Georgia Southern University was founded in 1906 as a school for teaching modern agricultural production techniques and homemaking skills to rural school children. Its Savannah campus was established in 1935 as Armstrong Junior College for local youth who could not afford to attend college away from home. The Liberty Center in Hinesville was established in 1998 to serve the military and their families at nearby Fort Stewart, the largest military base east of the Mississippi. All three locations came together in 2018 when Armstrong State University and Georgia Southern University consolidated. The "new" Georgia Southern University preserves a passion for serving its neighbors while preparing students for lifelong service as scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities.

Believing that diversity, equity, and inclusion contribute to excellence in the workplace and to the quality of the University's academic environment, Georgia Southern University is committed to recruiting and retaining diverse faculty and staff to support, promote, and serve a diverse student body and promote Inclusive Excellence. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, whose work furthers the institution's Inclusive Excellence goals and who bring to campus varied life experiences, perspectives, and backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply. The Department of Political Science and International Studies embraces a commitment to inclusive excellence, including, but not limited to: creating an equitable and inclusive environment for students, staff, and colleagues; increasing representation of diverse students, faculty, staff, and community partners at all levels of the University; facilitating access to achievement, success and recognition of underrepresented students, colleagues, staff, and alumni; and implementing strong, genuine, and consistently communicated culturally inclusive practices that reinforce the Inclusive Excellence Action Plan of the University.

Within this setting, the fundamental mission of the Department of Political Science and International Studies is to prepare our students for their future roles as active and responsible citizens. We focus on developing in our students a core understanding of politics at all levels of government, both within the United States and internationally. Additionally, a commitment to quality scholarship and service to our students, the University, professional organizations and the community are important means by which we prepare our students for citizenship in our region, our state, our country and our world.

Position Description. Reporting to the Department Chair, the Assistant Professor of Political Science requires teaching, service, and research responsibilities as well as a terminal degree. In addition, the successful candidate is expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in the department; serve on honor's and master's theses; provide service to the community; mentor students; serve on department, college, and university committees; engage in scholarship/creative activity leading to presentations at professional meetings and publications in peer-reviewed journals; and be actively involved in professional associations and outreach activities. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Qualifications:

- Earned Ph.D. in Political Science, or closely related field, by August 1, 2021
- Evidence of college/university teaching excellence
- Evidence of potential for strong publication record
- Effective communication skills
- Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives
- Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development
- Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution

Preferred Qualifications:

- Regional specialization in Africana or African Politics (not Europe, Latin America, Southeast Asia, South Asia, or MENA)
- Teaching and research specialization in comparative political economy
- Ability to teach introductory course in American Government
- Ability to teach Introduction to Political Science or Political Methodology
- Ability to teach online courses
- Record of extramural funding commensurate with experience

Screening of applications begins January 31, 2021 and continues until the position is filled. The preferred position starting date is August 1, 2021. To equitably serve a fast growing and highly diverse student body and to fulfill the University's commitment to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion, we actively seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to Pillar 3 of our University Strategic Plan: Inclusive Excellence.

A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; a sample of written work and teaching evaluations; and at least three letters of recommendation from professional references. In addition, applicants are required to submit an Inclusive Excellence statement (2 pages). In the Inclusive Excellence statement, applicants should reflect on their experience, vision, and commitment regarding teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds and discuss past, current, and future contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion in the areas of research, teaching, service, and outreach. Other documentation may be requested. Only complete applications submitted electronically will be considered. Finalists will be required to submit to a background investigation. Applications and nominations should be sent to:

Dr. José de Arimatéia da Cruz, Search Chair, Search # 67796
Georgia Southern University
Electronic mail: jdacruz@georgiasouthern.edu
Telephone: 912-344-2679

More information about the institution is available through <http://www.georgiasouthern.edu> or Department of Political Science and International Studies. The names of applicants and nominees, vitae, and other non-evaluative information may be subject to public inspection under the Georgia Open Records Act. Georgia Southern University provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. Individuals who need reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act to participate in the search process should notify Human Resources at 912-478-6947.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8354

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher: History of Slavery in the City of London

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: History & Politics, International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy

Nuffield College seeks a Postdoctoral Researcher to research the role of the City of London and its commercial institutions in the ecosystem of the transatlantic slave trade and ownership. Co-funded by the global law firm Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer LLP, and under the supervision of Professor Andrew Thompson (Professor of Imperial and Global History, Nuffield College), the researcher will contribute to the growing body of scholarly literature on British imperialism and its intersection with transatlantic slavery, exploring the past and bringing it into close dialogue with the present.

We seek a researcher whose interests and experience align with the broad domains of: British economics and the role of commercial entities in the City of London in the context of Transatlantic slavery; international slave ownership in Britain from early 1700s to mid-1800s, and contemporary British politics with reference to electoral reform, the abolition of slavery, abolitionism and pro-slavery groups, and the slavery compensation scheme.

The researcher will conduct independent original research in areas relevant to the overarching research programme, leading the design, conduct, and interpretation of research, and identifying further areas of relevant research. The researcher will publish research results, authoring or co-authoring working papers and academic journal articles, and pieces aimed at non-academic audiences. The researcher will present research results at seminars, workshops, and conferences, including relevant Freshfields events, and Black History Month and City of London events. The researcher will develop working relationships with individuals; financial, legal and commercial institutions; and archival centres. The researcher may also undertake ad hoc paid teaching or supervision within the collegiate University in Oxford.

Applicants should hold, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant discipline such as history, political science, or economics including economic and social history. They should have extensive archival research skills, familiarity with private-sector organisations' archives, and experience of independent fieldwork. The ability to conduct high-quality academic research evidenced in scholarly writing and publications in peer-reviewed journals commensurate with the applicant's career stage is essential. Applicants should have the ability to distil complex research results for non-academic readers, an aptitude for cross-disciplinary working, and the ability to work collaboratively with non-academic partners, particularly in financial and legal contexts. Applicants should possess excellent oral and written communication skills, organisational skills, and exemplary interpersonal skills with the ability to work within a small research team and under their own initiative. Experience of legal history, of authoring successful funding bids, or of collaborative working with private sector companies or commercial institutions is desirable. Applications are particularly welcome from candidates of Black African or Black African-Caribbean heritage (including mixed heritage) who are currently underrepresented in research posts in the College.

The post is full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 May 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter. Applications from candidates who wish to hold the post on a part-time basis will also be considered. The salary will be GBP 34,804 p.a. (pro-rated as appropriate). The post will be based at Nuffield College.

Further particulars and application instructions are available on the College website at <https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/4370/jd-pr-hsc.pdf>

The closing date for applications is Monday 11 January 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/11/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8342

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral/predoctoral fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law seeks applications for its pre- and postdoctoral fellowship program for 2021-22. Pre-doctoral students at the write-up stage and post-doctoral scholars working in program areas of democracy, development, and rule of law are welcome to apply. We are particularly interested in projects that investigate the relationship of race and democracy or race and rule of law, in the United States or elsewhere. The Center expects to award two or more fellowships for the 2021-2022 academic year.

Please find the CDDRL fellowship application here: https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/graduate\_programs

The application is available online here: https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/stanford\_cddrl\_fellowship\_21

Post-doctoral fellows receive salaries commensurate with experience and with consideration given to university established minimums for a term period of 9 months. Pre-doctoral fellows receive stipends comparable to that awarded by the Stanford Graduate Fellowships program; the Center also pays non-matriculated student tuition for pre-doctoral fellows as required by Stanford University. Healthcare and other benefits are also provided as required by Stanford University for both pre- and post doctoral fellows.

Fellows spend the academic year at Stanford University completing their projects, participating in seminars, and interacting with each other and the resident faculty and research staff. The Center facilities on the Stanford campus include offices and cubicles. Fellows have access to other Stanford libraries as well as exercise facilities.

Eligibility

Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled currently in a doctoral program or equivalent through the time of intended residency at Stanford, and must be at the dissertation write up (post course work) phase of their doctoral program. Post-doctoral fellows must have earned their PhD within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their Ph.D. dissertations by July 31, 2021.

Application Process

The application deadline for the 2021-22 academic year is Friday, December 18, 2020. The CDDRL Pre and Postdoctoral Fellowship program uses the WizeHive application system to manage all incoming applications. Applicants are required to submit a completed application form, letter of application of no more than 3 typed pages, current CV, three letters of recommendations, a statement of proposed research (5-10 pages) and a complete set of transcripts (undergraduate and graduate).

All pre- and postdoctoral applicants must also include official PhD transcript. Please mail your official transcript using a dossier service offered through your university or Interfolio.

CDDRL Mailing Address:

Encina Hall
616 Jane Stanford Way, C141
Stanford, CA 94305

Center Committee will only review complete files. Notifications will be sent in mid to late-February.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/18/2020

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8352

Loyola University, Chicago

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative Politics)

2020-21 Search in the College of Arts and Sciences
Department of Political Science
Tenure-Track Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

Job Title: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative Politics)

Background: The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at Loyola University Chicago (LUC) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, for academic year 2021-22.

As part of a University-wide, multiyear hiring initiative designed to diversify the faculty, the department seeks applicants with expertise in Comparative Politics. Our highest priorities as to functional specialization are democratization, ethnic and racial policies, political economy, and social movements; our highest regional priorities are Asia and Latin America. As an urban-based Department of Political Science dedicated to mentoring a diverse student body, many of whom come from under-represented and under-served populations, we especially encourage applications from candidates from under-represented groups. We also encourage applications from scholars committed to interdisciplinarity (i.e., working with colleagues across different subfields and disciplines) and the successful pursuit of external grants. The successful candidate will be joining a department with more than 20 full-time faculty members, over 600 majors and 100 minors, and four graduate programs (BA/MA, MA/JD, MA, and PhD). For more information about the department, please visit its website at <http://www.luc.edu/politicalscience/index.shtml>

Duties and Responsibilities: Successful candidates will be expected to teach an introductory course in Comparative Politics, and, according to their expertise, upper division undergraduate and graduate comparative politics courses, as well as one of the department's regional politics courses. They may also develop special topics courses in conversation with the Department Chair and according to departmental needs. Additionally, they will be expected to support the department's student-related programming and academic advising according to the practices of the department and to serve on departmental and university committees as designated by the Department Chair. The successful candidate is expected to pursue a strong research program, including the pursuit of external grants.

Minimum Qualifications: The candidate will have a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment. Candidates for the position must clearly demonstrate the potential for excellence in research and teaching and have a record of (or clear potential for) distinguished scholarship, grant-funded research, and student mentorship. Experience working or conducting research in the specialty area of Comparative Politics is desirable. The candidate should be willing to support the mission of LUC and the goals of a Jesuit Catholic Education.

Special Instructions to Applicants: Candidates should submit to www.careers.luc.edu (1) a brief letter of interest; (2) a current Curriculum Vitae; (3) a statement outlining the applicant's research agenda; (4) a statement on teaching experience; and (5) a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to mentoring a diverse student body through research, teaching and other channels and engaging a diverse community through scholarship and service. Applicants should also arrange for three recommendations from individuals prepared to speak to their professional qualifications for this position, especially in terms of scholarship, teaching and mentorship, to be submitted electronically to the above website (letter writers will receive an electronic prompt from LUC). Candidates may forward additional materials related to teaching excellence and samples of scholarly publications to:

Patrick Boyle, Ph.D., Search Committee Chair
Department of Political Science
Loyola University Chicago
1032 W. Sheridan Road
Chicago, Illinois 60660

Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

LUC is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer with a strong commitment to hiring for our mission and diversifying our faculty. The University seeks to increase the diversity of its professoriate, workforce and undergraduate and graduate student populations because broad diversity – including a wide range of individuals who contribute to a robust academic environment – is critical to achieving the University's mission of excellence in education, research, educational access and services in an increasingly diverse society. Therefore, in holistically accessing the many qualifications of each applicant, we would factor favorably an individual's record of conduct that includes experience with an array of diverse perspectives, as well as a wide variety of different educational, research or other work activities. Among other qualifications, we would also factor favorably experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to an academic career or degrees.

As a Jesuit Catholic institution of higher education, we seek candidates who will contribute to our strategic plan to deliver a transformative education in the Jesuit tradition. To learn more about LUC's mission, candidates should consult our website at www.luc.edu/mission. For information about the university's focus on transformative education, they should consult our website at www.luc.edu/transformativveed.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 11/30/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8340

University of Toronto

Rank: Comparative Political Economy

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Comparative Political Economy. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching.

More specifically, we are looking for a scholar of comparative political economy focused on large-scale changes in capitalist economies, including shifts in labour markets and systems of production. This could include, but is not limited to the causes, implications and consequences of rising income inequality; the political economy of migration; the political economy of gender, race and other categories of political identity; automation, digitalization and growing dependence on artificial intelligence and big data. We are searching for candidates whose work concentrates on the political economy of advanced industrialized countries.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University's downtown (St George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page Department of Political Science (<https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us.

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive and externally funded research program. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of their contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover (but need not be limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference (on letterhead, signed and scanned) sent directly by the referee to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Antoinette Handley, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, Monday, January 18, 2021. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University's automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Monday, January 18, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 1/18/2021

Date Posted: 11/26/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8337

University of Toronto

Rank: Comparative Russian/East European Politics

Assistant Professor – Comparative Russian/East European Politics

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of comparative Russian and Eastern European Politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. Applicants are expected to have research and teaching expertise in the politics of Russia.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University's downtown (St George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page Department of Political Science (<http://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us.

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive and externally funded research program.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing. Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference. Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of their contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover (but need not be limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups. Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) sent directly by the referee to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Robert Vipond, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, Thursday, January 7, 2021. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University's automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday, January 7, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 1/7/2021

Date Posted: 11/26/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8336

Macalester College
Rank: Comparative Politics

Macalester College
 Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor
 Political Science (Comparative Politics)

The Macalester College Department of Political Science invites applications for a visiting position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor (PhD) or Visiting Instructor (ABD), for the 2021-2022 academic year. Candidates should have, or be close to completing, a PhD in Political Science with a focus on comparative politics, open to any regional specialty except Latin America (to avoid duplicating current course offerings). We are especially interested in candidates who would further diversify our faculty and curriculum. The position is in Macalester's Political Science department but may also contribute to other interdisciplinary programs at Macalester.

The teaching load is five courses per year, and should include Foundations of Comparative Politics and other comparative politics courses. The candidate would likely teach the introductory course both Fall and Spring semesters, to reduce their number of course preparations.

Inquiries and applications can be directed to Professor Paul Dosh, Chair of Political Science, dosh@macalester.edu. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, up to 3 letters of reference, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The cover letter should indicate which courses the applicant is prepared to teach. Applications are due no later than February 1, 2021.

Salary and benefits are competitive, and the Political Science department is committed to mentoring visiting faculty; past visitors have found their time at Macalester to be a strong launching pad from which to secure tenure-track positions at other institutions. Macalester College and the Political Science department are committed to student and faculty diversity, equity, and inclusion. As an Equal Opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

Macalester College is a highly selective, private liberal arts college in the vibrant Minneapolis-Saint Paul metropolitan area, with a population of approximately three million people and home to numerous colleges and universities, including the University of Minnesota. Macalester's diverse student body comprises over 2,000 undergraduates from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and 95 nations. The College maintains a longstanding commitment to academic excellence with a special emphasis on internationalism, multiculturalism, and service to society.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 11/25/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8333

Christopher Newport University
Rank: Political Science Faculty Position (Rank Open) and Director of the Reiff Center

Christopher Newport University invites applications for the position of Political Science Faculty and Director of the Reiff Center, effective August 2021. The successful candidate will have an appointment in the Department of Political Science with teaching and research responsibilities in the areas of international human rights, conflict resolution, ethnic conflict, and genocide studies. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research with undergraduates. In addition, applicants must have a promising scholarly agenda and commitment to taking an active part in the life and work of the University. The duties of this position will also include administrative leadership of the Reiff Center. The Reiff Center's mission is to pursue the study of ethnic conflict, conflict resolution, human rights violations, and genocide through research, campus visits by those with expertise and/or experience in these areas, classes investigating these subjects, and study abroad experiences for students interested in these topics. The Reiff Center currently has an endowment of more than one million dollars. Named in honor of Dr. Theodore R. Reiff, a retired physician, medical educator, and researcher, the Center applies historical, political, social, and international perspectives to its initiatives. For more information visit <https://cnu.edu/reiffcenter/>.

The nominal teaching load is 2-2. An earned Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required for appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor. Exceptionally well-qualified candidates will be considered for appointment at a higher rank with tenure. Phi Beta Kappa membership is highly desirable.

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University is composed of 11 dedicated faculty members whose research represents the core areas of the discipline including American politics, comparative politics and international relations, and political theory. Our 300 majors have produced research that has been nationally recognized, and many attend prestigious law and graduate schools and go on to successful careers in law, higher education, as well as local, state, and federal government. The Department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, as well as three minors in Political Science, Human Rights and Conflict Resolution, and U.S. National Security Studies. Candidates wishing to know more about the department and its academic programs are invited to visit <https://cnu.edu/academics/departments/politicalscience/>.

CNU is committed to outstanding teaching and learning, undergraduate education, and the liberal studies core; The Fall 2020 freshman class of 1,155 students was selected from 7,300 admission applications, and presented average high school GPA and SAT scores of 3.8 and 1184, respectively. The University has a new and technologically advanced campus, located between Colonial Williamsburg and the Virginia coast. The campus integrates the University's liberal arts vision, nurturing mind, body, and spirit. Facilities include the state-of-the-art Tribble Library; three new academic buildings including a newly opened integrated science building; the Freeman Center athletic complex; and the I.M. Pei-designed Ferguson Center for the Arts, which brings to Virginia the finest performing artists in the world. Opening in 2021 and adjoining the Ferguson Center, the $57 million Fine Arts Center will house over 7,500 sq. ft of gallery exhibition space, state-of-the-art teaching and museum learning spaces, studios and classrooms. It will serve the university community and the entire Peninsula region.

Our faculty enjoy an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect that rewards outstanding teaching and fosters active intellectual and creative engagement. Christopher Newport is committed to ensuring that all people are welcomed, honored and fully engaged in the life of our academic community. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty and encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in their profession. Faculty are productive scholars and researchers, supported by professional development funds. Faculty and administrators regularly consult and collaborate as the University works to sustain a culture of scholarly inquiry, informed debate, and civic action that enriches students, faculty, and the surrounding community. The result is a supportive and cohesive academic setting in which the University cultivates and carries forward its mission. The University is among the highest ranked in the nation for its quality of life and innovative spirit. Competitive salary with excellent health and retirement benefits and a well-designed family leave policy further enhance the workplace. For further information, please visit our website at <http://www.cnu.edu>.

To apply, please visit <https://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/> to upload a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (photocopies acceptable for initial screening), statement of teaching philosophy, a one-page statement articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. (Letters should be uploaded with application materials or emailed to facultyrecruitment@cnu.edu). Letters of reference will be the only documents accepted via email.

Review of applications will begin on January 3, 2021.

Applications received after January 3, 2021 will be accepted but considered only if needed.

Search finalists are required to complete a CNU sponsored background check.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/3/2021

Date Posted: 11/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8325

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Job Summary: Postdoctoral Research Associate positions available to persons with degrees and research interests within Political Science, with the goal of transitioning successful candidates into tenure-track positions in the University of Alabama's College of Arts & Sciences.

The College of Arts & Sciences at the University of Alabama and the Department of Political Science seeks applications for the Dean's Postdoctoral Research Associate positions. Area of specialization is open. Successful candidates will hold terminal degrees and demonstrate a record of academic achievement in a research area or areas covered in Political Science. The department will establish a series of structured merit-based evaluations with the goal of transitioning successful candidates into tenure-track positions. The Dean's Postdoctoral Research Associate positions have been established through a major College initiative begun in 2019 to promote an inclusive scholarly environment in which outstanding scholars support the advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the College.

Required Minimum Qualifications: Applications are encouraged from excellent candidates with research interests in Political Science. Joint appointments across departments are possible. The minimum requirement at the time of the appointment is a Ph.D. or other terminal degree in a field of research represented within the College of Arts & Sciences. Initial appointments are for one year, with renewal contingent upon demonstration of research productivity. The Department of Political Science will develop mentoring plans detailing benchmarks for possible transition of Postdoctoral Research Associates into tenure-track professorship positions. Standard university hiring practices will govern any process of transitioning Postdoctoral Research Associates into tenure-track professor positions. Review of applications will begin January 1, 2021.

Apply at: <https://staffjobs.ua.edu/en-us/job/511934/postdocvisiting-scientist-political-science-psc-511934>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8314

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an 11-month Visiting Professor (VP) position beginning June 29, 2021. The appointment will be for the entire academic year, ending in May of 2022 (though semester appointments will be considered). The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following the VP year at the Air Force Academy. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary (11 months of pay) and benefits during his or her time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and three references (ensure addresses and telephone numbers are provided) from individuals familiar with your professional work to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-154, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Dr. David Sacko at David.Sacko@usafa.edu. The deadline for applications is November 23, 2020. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship is required. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage can be found at: <https://www.usafa.edu/academic/political-science/>.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8298

University of Gothenburg

Rank: One or several Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Political Science, with a focus on political behavior and political sociology

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Social Welfare, Gender Politics & Policy

The University of Gothenburg tackles society's challenges with diverse knowledge. 49 000 students and 6 400 employees make the university a large and inspiring place to work and study. Strong research and attractive study programmes attract scientists and students from around the world. With new knowledge and new perspectives, the University contributes to a better future.

The Gothenburg Research Program on Pregnancy and Politics (PregDem) is a research collaboration between political scientists, midwives and obstetricians. The aim is to create a profound understanding of how pregnancy, childbirth and early parenthood affect the pregnant woman's and her partner's views of society. Central outcome variables include policy opinions and ideological priorities, institutional trust, political interest and awareness, political participation, parental identities and gender roles. Central independent variables include health, intake of information, contact with the welfare state, couple dynamics, socio-economic background and the corona-pandemic. We use longitudinal survey data (most importantly The Swedish Pregnancy Panel, The Swedish Citizen Panel, The Swedish Level of Living Survey and the Irish Mammi survey), register data on medical records (from the so-called Graviditetsregistret) and cross-sectional survey data from the Society, Media and Opinion Institute and the Swedish National Election Studies.

The project website (under development) is found here: <https://www.gu.se/en/research/gothenburg-research-program-on-pregnancy-and-politics-pregdem>

PregDem is led by Elin Naurin (Director) and is financed by the Swedish Research Council, Knut & Alice Wallenberg Foundation and University of Gothenburg. You can read an interview with the research director here: <https://kaw.wallenberg.org/en/research/pregnancy-and-perceptions-politics>

Job assignments

The Postdoctoral research fellow will conduct research with a focus on the main questions of the research program, in collaboration with the research director and with other scholars in the team. More specifically, (s)he will analyze and publish original research using the data that is collected within the project, especially the data from the Swedish Pregnancy Panel and the Swedish Citizen panel.

One of PregDem's strengths is the flexibility and collaborative spirit of everyone in the research group, focusing on reaching the goals of the data collection and research program. This includes a willingness to contribute to coding of data, quality control, data management, respondent contact and/or teaching during peak periods. For this position, the service component will include tasks connected to the supervision of online survey data coming in in the final two waves of a panel survey. It will also include participating in the writing of research funding applications. The Postdoctoral Research Fellow may be asked to perform service to the PregDem program up to one-third of FTE.

Eligibility

The postdoctoral research fellow position is open to candidates who have received a PhD in political science or related field latest by the first day of employment.

Assessment

Applications will be evaluated primarily on research excellence in research on political opinion and behavior and/or political sociology with a particular view towards areas of relevance to the PregDem project. One or more of the following scientific skills are also meritorious:

1. A well-developed proposal of high scientific quality, for a research project that falls within and preferably further develops PregDem, based on the above-mentioned outcome and independent variables.
3. Advanced knowledge in longitudinal/panel data techniques.
3. Demonstrated research expertise on: political socialisation, parenthood, partner dynamics, health and politics, political participation, political interest and knowledge, political opinion, political trust, welfare state, gender and politics.

We will make an overall assessment of the applicants' qualifications and select one judged to complement the rest of the team in the best way possible for the needs of the program. Personal qualities relevant for the position are of great importance.

Employment

Fixed-term employment, two years, full time in residence, start date as soon as possible. Location: Department of Political Science, University of Gothenburg

For more details on appointment procedures, please visit: https://web103.reachmee.com/ext/I005/1035/job?site=7&lang=UK&validator=9b89bead79bb7258ad55c8d75228e5b7&job\_id=17746

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/13/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8284

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Borders & Boundaries - post doc

BORDERS & BOUNDARIES IN WORLD POLITICS, AY 2021-2022

The Project on Borders and Boundaries in World Politics is looking to fill two postdoctoral fellow positions. Both are one-year and renewable. Partially supported by the National Science Foundation, the Project is concerned with boundaries between organized human communities, broadly understood. International borders, border regions and border crossings have multiple significance as designations of state authority, security buffers, expressions of social meaning and opportunities for economic integration. Border regions and activities speak to national and local encounters with neighbors and the rest of the world. This project is concerned with how humans demarcate the space between “us” and “them.” It contextualizes border architecture, infrastructure and institutions as expressions of various social, political and economic anxieties associated with globalization. This research team will concern itself with a broad range of questions relating to “bordering” in world politics. The project team is run by Professor Beth Simmons, Andrea Mitchell University Professor in Law, Political Science, and Business Ethics, as well as Assistant Professor Michael Kenwick (Rutgers University).

Research Postdoctoral Fellowship: The postdoctoral fellow will split their time between their own research and Borders & Boundaries project research. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to work 25% of their time on project research. Applicants with an interest in territorial politics; migration and movement across borders; development in and across border regions; border crossing regimes, architectures and institutions; transnational migration; transnational crime, human trafficking and law enforcement across borders; and related issues are welcome to apply. Skills in empirical spatial analysis, GIS technologies, mapping technologies, experimental analyses, computerized textual and imaging analyses, and similar technologies are highly desirable, as are computer programming skills and experience using large computer databases and statistical software.

Research and Program Management Postdoctoral Fellowship: The post-doctoral fellow will work with and help manage the Borders & Boundaries research team. Since the successful candidate will have primary responsibility for managing team effort and output, strong data management and organizational skills are essential. Skills in computational methods, GIS and spatial data analytics, textual and imaging analysis, network analysis, and/or experimental methods are particularly valued, as is experience working within a research lab. We welcome candidates pursuing research careers inside or outside academia. Substantive interest in territorial politics; migration; development in and across border regions; border crossing regimes; transnational crime, law enforcement across borders and related issues is valued. The fellow is expected to actively work on lab projects and coordinate efforts among team members.

Requirements and Application Information

There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to give a presentation during the academic year in the Perry World House Seminar Series, engage with Perry World House's Undergraduate Student Fellows, and attend regularly scheduled seminars. Perry World House will also introduce each postdoctoral fellow to related faculty and leaders of centers and institutes at the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2019, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2021. Applications will be reviewed starting Monday, January 4, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to <http://apply.interfolio.com/80777>. Applicants will be asked to complete a short form as well as upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, unofficial Ph.D. transcript (only required for current graduate students), and contact information for a letter writer, who will be asked to submit a confidential letter of recommendation through Interfolio.

Other Information

Upon provision of and contingent upon proof of conferral of the Ph.D. degree, Borders & Boundaries postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $54,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/11/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8273

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Global Innovation Program - Post Doc

GLOBAL INNOVATION PROGRAM

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its postdoctoral fellowship program during the 2021-2022 academic year. The Global Innovation Program is the research arm of Perry World House, the University of Pennsylvania's hub for global engagement and interdisciplinary international policy research. Perry World House connects Penn to the international policy world through research, student engagement, and public programming, bringing the university's intellectual resources to bear on the urgent global challenges of the 21st century. We hope to bring several postdoctoral fellows to campus for the 2021-2022 academic year. We are seeking excellent scholars who study global affairs and have interests in interdisciplinary outreach and policy relevance. We are particularly interested in applicants in the following areas:

- The Future of the Global Order: Power, Technology, and Governance
- Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Demography

The Future of the Global Order

Changes in global economic, military, and technological circumstances are evident in growing concerns around the world about the future of arms control, multilateral economic institutions, technological decoupling, the future of the Islamic State, and more. The post-Cold War global order may be at a tipping point. In addition, systemic trends, such as globalization and climate change, mean that the challenges of today and tomorrow will be global – and require global responses. The role of automated trading algorithms in the 2010 “Flash Crash” in the United States, combined with the specter of drone warfare around the world due and the proliferation of military robotics, highlight how the intersection of technologies, such as cyber and robotics, presents enormous challenges for global business and diplomatic norms. In a time of change, academic research has the potential to shed significant light on these issues and highlight new and important approaches for the global policy community.

In this theme area, Perry World House will focus in part, but not exclusively, on four areas: the impacts of emerging technologies for global politics, shifting global power balances and how they influence both state and non-state actors, the evolution of international legal regimes, and the ability of the international community to sustain effective governing institutions in times of change. We particularly hope to have a postdoctoral fellow as part of our new project on emerging technologies and global politics.

Global Shifts

Crises such as the COVID-19 pandemic and climate change-induced extreme weather events, as well as growing urbanization, migration, and demographic changes, are radically transforming the human environment and creating new risks to well-being. New and changing migration patterns, whether propelled by armed conflicts, instability due to environmental changes, or economic hardships have profound consequences for people on the move and for those left behind. Similarly, the true risks of climate change are a function not just of hazards such as rising sea levels, fires, and tropical cyclones, but the physical location of people and the level of community and government support in place.

Explaining these complex societal changes, and the policy responses necessary to address them, requires a multi-disciplinary and interdisciplinary approach. Perry World House's Global Shifts program aims to develop an analytical understanding of these problems and suggest new policy approaches to them. It draws on the University's expertise in urban studies, sociology, demography, law, philosophy, health sciences, environmental sciences, and political science to do so. We invite postdoctoral fellows working within any of these sub-thematic areas, and especially encourage scholars working at the intersection or across multiple of them—such as climate change's effects on migration patterns or the impact of city policymaking on migration and refugees.

Requirements and Application Information

There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Postdoctoral fellows in the Global Innovation Program will pursue their own research as well as participate in the intellectual life of Perry World House. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to give a presentation during the academic year in the Perry World House Seminar Series, publish policy relevant scholarship related to Perry World House themes, and attend regularly scheduled seminars. They will also be expected to spend up to 10% of their time contributing to the intellectual environment at Perry World House, including working with Perry World House's Undergraduate Student Fellows, as well as designing and planning engagements in relevant theme areas. Perry World House will provide mentorship, professional guidance, and introduce each postdoctoral fellow to related faculty and leaders of centers and institutes at the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D. in the case of applicants focused on international legal regimes) since June 2019, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2021. Applications will be reviewed starting Monday, January 4, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

Upon provision of and contingent upon proof of conferral of the Ph.D. degree, all postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $54,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80778>. Applicants will be asked to complete a short form as well as upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial Ph.D. transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation.

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/11/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8272

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Identity & Conflict Lab - post doc

PENN IDENTITY & CONFLICT LAB

The Penn Identity & Conflict (PIC) Lab, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis at the Department of Political Science of the University of Pennsylvania, seeks exceptional candidates for a one-year, full-time, renewable, residential appointment as a postdoctoral research fellow.

The Lab is dedicated to addressing a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict. The Lab prioritizes research in three key areas: how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The Lab's recent work has focused on appeals to shared norms and normative change as strategies for conflict reduction; and on the cultivation of shared civic and national identities as instruments of peace-building. The Lab seeks to integrate knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to better understand these topics.

Fellows will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on different projects developed in the PIC Lab. Fellows will be expected to work on one or more ongoing projects in three broad areas: conflict and cooperation between native and immigrant populations; normative change and conflict behavior; and nation-building and state-building in conflict-affected countries. Innovative new project proposals by fellows can also be considered and funded by the Lab.

Requirements and Application Information

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant but will include some combination of conducting research and co-authoring papers and reports with the PIC Lab Director and affiliated faculty; assisting with grant proposals; providing support with data collection, management, and analysis for ongoing projects; and managing the Lab website and seminar series. Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are highly desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases and different statistical software (including Stata, R, and Qualtrics). Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team; and be open to travel for fieldwork if conditions allow. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Fellows will be expected to help organize the PIC Lab workshop, which will meet bi-weekly; they will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop and/or as part of the Perry World House Seminar Series; and will be expected to help organize the Lab's annual conference.

Compensation and Other Information

All postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $54,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2019, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2021. Applications will be reviewed starting January 4, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80726>. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial Ph.D. transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of a letter writer who can submit a letter of recommendation.

If you have questions, please email pic-lab@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/11/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8274

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: LIGHTNING SCHOLARS SABBATICAL RESIDENCY

LIGHTNING SCHOLARS SABBATICAL RESIDENCY, AY 2021-2022

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its 2021-2022 Lightning Scholars Program. This program brings untenured, but tenure-track, faculty at either the assistant or associate level from around the world to Philadelphia for a semester or year of writing, fellowship, and bridging the gap between academia and the policy world.

The Global Innovation Program is the research arm of Perry World House, the University of Pennsylvania's hub for global engagement and interdisciplinary international policy research. Perry World House connects Penn to the international policy world through research, student engagement, and public programming, bringing the university's intellectual resources to bear on the urgent global challenges of the 21st century.

This fellowship program allows untenured faculty members at leading research universities around the world to join Perry World House and the Penn community for a semester or full academic year in residence in Philadelphia to produce a major research project or book. While the fellowship program is for faculty working on global affairs topics, preference will be given to faculty working on subjects broadly related to our two research themes, The Future of the Global Order: Technology, Power and Governance and Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Demography. More information on our research themes can be found here: <https://global.upenn.edu/perryworldhouse/research>.

The ideal candidates for this new program will be looking for an in-residence fellowship away from their home institution that will provide the space and support to write, but also the opportunity to collaborate with an interdisciplinary and vibrant community of global affairs scholars and practitioners. Perry World House is especially interested in faculty whose work connects to important global policy conversations and who will want to engage in dialogue with some of the many policymakers from around the world who visit Perry World House.

The program's compensation is significant and negotiated on a case-by-case basis. The program is intended to allow the selected Lightning Scholar to take a comfortable leave from their home institution often by supporting the difference between a one semester sabbatical provided by the home institution and a full year leave. Although final compensation will depend on the circumstances of each applicant, the program will provide at least $50,000 as well as relevant fees and health insurance, if needed. The fellowship will also include $5,000 in research support, as well as the opportunity to help shape workshops and colloquia at Perry World House.

Applications, which should be submitted via Interfolio, are welcome from scholars who have either a Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D.), are standing faculty members at a college or university, and are on the tenure track but still untenured. Applications for the 2021-2024 academic years will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting January 4, 2021. Applicants must include a cover-letter, three-page proposal, CV, a letter of support from their home department/institution, and a confidential letter of recommendation. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of support should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80840>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/11/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8275

University of Texas, San Antonio

Rank: Social and Environmental Challenges in Latin America: Digital Scholarship

The University of Texas at San Antonio is an urban-serving, Hispanic thriving discovery enterprise deeply committed to student success and academic excellence. The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) has embarked on a focused cluster hiring plan to recruit top-tier researchers in interdisciplinary areas of knowledge that will advance the study of Social and Environmental Challenges in Latin America. Home to some of the largest biospheres in the world and some of world's most important biodiversity hotspots, Latin America's environments are undergoing rapid transformation due to climate change, environmental degradation, and politico-socio-economic transformations across the region. These forces are coupled in complex ways, and understanding the coupled dynamics of society, climate, and environment in Latin America presents a grand challenge that is fertile ground for transdisciplinary research. To address this challenge, UTSA is recruiting a cohort of researchers from different disciplines whose research centers on environmental degradation, climate change, and the associated socioeconomic and political challenges and transformations in Latin America and the US-Mexico borderlands. The goal is to foster collaborative and transdisciplinary research to understand and confront the emerging social and environmental challenges facing the region. This targeted cluster hire will build on and leverage our established research portfolio, propelling our ability to tackle and solve previously unsolvable problems. Hires are expected to build their own unique programs of research, as well as to collaborate with other hires in this cluster and with colleagues in their home department, college, and other colleges.

As part of this initiative, the College of Liberal and Fine Arts (COLFA) seeks two faculty members who will expand the digital scholarship footprint within the Social and Environmental Challenges in Latin America cluster. We define digital scholarship broadly, including digital humanities, new media studies, digital design, multimedia mapping, digital visualization, and/or new journalism, among other areas. Preference will be given to applicants who can contribute to both the scholarly domains of digital scholarship and the technical domains of digital production. One position is for an assistant professor, the other for an assistant or associate professor. The cluster hired in Anthropology last year; these new hires will extend the cluster into other disciplines. The hires will be housed in one or more of COLFA's departments (www.colfa.utsa.edu), as appropriate. Research active faculty in COLFA typically teach a 2/2 course load.

Responsibilities

Teaching introductory, upper division, and graduate courses; research and service in a program that offers B.A. and M.A. degrees; maintaining an active research agenda; leadership in developing new lines of research and teaching; contributing to the university and community through service and outreach.

Posting End Date

Review of applications begins December 4, 2020. For full consideration, applicants should submit their materials by that date. Inquiries may be directed to the Cluster Search Committee Chair, Dr. Nathan Richardson (nathan.richardson@utsa.edu).

Required Application Materials

To apply, please create a single file in PDF format containing in the following order:

- a letter of application describing research, teaching, and service accomplishments and goals that includes a discussion of the role that diversity and inclusion play in an academic environment; please indicate the rank for which you wish to be considered
- a CV
- up to three examples of successful research, which could include publications, dissertation chapters, or a portfolio of screening links or images in a PDF document
- teaching evaluations if available
- names, addresses, email addresses, and phone numbers of three references

Materials must be submitted on-line via <https://www.utsa.edu/hr/employment/>.

Required Qualifications

Successful applicants will have 1) a strong record of teaching, research, and service appropriate to rank; 2) an active research agenda with demonstrated interest and experience in collaborative and/or transdisciplinary research; 3) a research focus on Latin America and/or the Caribbean; and 4) a terminal degree (Ph.D./M.F.A) in their field at time of interview.

For consideration as Associate Professor, candidates must have a strong record of publication, evidence of effective teaching, and substantial experience in department, university, and professional service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

Preferred Qualifications

Preferred candidates will be able to successfully teach and mentor diverse, underserved students, including first-generation students, students of color and non-traditional students, and have the ability to contribute to the university's commitment to inclusive excellence as a Hispanic Serving Institution.

Additional Information

- Successful candidates will demonstrate (1) a record of high quality research and scholarship (2) excellence in undergraduate and graduate education or intellectual contributions in diversity, inclusion, and the demonstrated ability to teach students from diverse backgrounds and (3) a demonstrated commitment to diversity and inclusion.
- Applicants selected for interviews must show proof that they will be eligible and qualified to work in the United States by the time of hire.
- At the discretion of the hiring department, this position posting may be closed once a sufficient number of qualified applications has been received.
- UTSA is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply.

-UTSA is a tobacco-free campus.

-This is a security sensitive position. Employment is contingent upon a successful background check.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8269

Roanoke College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in International Relations beginning in August 2021 and ending in May 2022. This is a full time, sabbatical-replacement position, with a teaching load of seven courses during the academic year.

We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations and who can offer courses in International Politics, International Relations Theory, and Research Methods. While the department has additional need for courses covering Comparative Politics of Europe and Human Rights Policy to fill specific programmatic requirements, we especially seek candidates who have passion for teaching and mentoring undergraduates and can diversify our offerings. The successful candidate will also contribute International Relations courses to the General Education curriculum. A Ph.D. with teaching experience is preferred, but an ABD will be considered.

The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research. Visiting Professors are eligible to receive departmental funds and to apply for most of the College's internal grants in support of their research and teaching.

Roanoke College is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff, and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply. We also seek candidates with interests in mentoring under-represented students, diversifying curricular offerings, or sponsoring diverse community engagement. Applicants are asked to address their potential contributions in support of a diverse community in their cover letters.

Applicants should submit their cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations and three letters of recommendation to: Ms. Judith Pinckney, Department of Public Affairs, 119 West Hall, Roanoke College, Salem, VA 24153. Inquiries may be sent to: pinckney@roanoke.edu. Please visit our Departmental website at: https://www.roanoke.edu/inside/a-z\_index/public\_affairs for more information.

Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/5/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8257

University of Cambridge

Rank: 3 x 3-year Lecturers (Assistant Professors) Development Studies

The Department of Politics and International Studies is seeking to appoint three 3-year University Lecturers (i.e. Assistant Professors) in Development Studies, based in the Centre of Development Studies, from 1st September 2021. The salary range is £41,526-£52,559.

The successful candidates will have a record of world-class research and publications commensurate with the international reputation of the University of Cambridge. Teaching responsibilities will include contributing to the development, delivery, supervision and assessment of courses in the interdisciplinary MPhil in Development Studies, as well as supplementary teaching at the postgraduate and undergraduate levels. Candidates should also demonstrate a willingness and ability to contribute to the self-governance and administration of the Centre and the Department.

Candidates will need to show evidence of the following qualifications, skills and experience:

- Doctorate in a relevant subject area (or clear evidence that completion of such a doctorate is imminent);
- Evidence of ability to engage in internationally recognised high-level research in the Political Economy of Development, with publications in the leading outlets;
- Evidence of ability to teach Development Studies;
- Ability to play an effective and collegial role in the life and work of the Centre and the Department. Please see the Further Particulars online for additional specifics on the position at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27283/>.

Further information about the Centre and the Department can be found at <https://www.devstudies.cam.ac.uk/> and www.polis.cam.ac.uk. Applications should be made online at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27283/>. References will be requested from short-listed candidates. The closing date for this post is 1 January 2021.

Enquiries can be made to the chair of the committee Prof. Jason Sharman (jcs207@cam.ac.uk). Interviews for shortlisted applicants will be scheduled after the application close date. Enquiries about applications should be addressed to Ms Louisa Bailey (lkb44@cam.ac.uk). Please quote reference UC24373 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 12/1/2020
Date Posted: 11/3/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8248

University of Cambridge

Rank: Lecturer (Assistant Professor) Political Economy of Development

Specializations: Developing Nations, Political Economy, Political Development

The Department of Politics and International Studies is seeking to appoint a permanent University Lecturer (i.e. Assistant Professor) in the Political Economy of Development, based in the Centre of Development Studies, from 1st September 2021. The salary range is £41,526-£52,559.

The successful candidates will have a record of world-class research and publications commensurate with the international reputation of the University of Cambridge. Teaching responsibilities will include contributing to the development, delivery, supervision and assessment of courses in Political Economy (broadly conceived) in the MPhil in Development Studies, as well as supplementary teaching at the postgraduate and undergraduate levels. Candidates should also demonstrate a willingness and ability to contribute to the self-governance and administration of the Centre and the Department.

Candidates will need to show evidence of the following qualifications, skills and experience:

- Doctorate in a relevant subject area (or clear evidence that completion of such a doctorate is imminent);
- Evidence of ability to engage in internationally recognised high-level research in the Political Economy of Development, with publications in the leading outlets;
- Evidence of ability to teach the Political Economy of Development;
- Ability to play an effective and collegial role in the life and work of the Centre and the Department.

Please see the Further Particulars online for additional specifics on the position at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27072/>

Further information about the Centre and the Department can be found at <https://www.devstudies.cam.ac.uk/> and www.polis.cam.ac.uk. Applications should be made online at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27072/>

References will be requested from short-listed candidates. The closing date for this post is 1 January 2021. Enquiries can be made to the chair of the committee Prof. Jason Sharman (jcs207@cam.ac.uk). Interviews for shortlisted applicants will be scheduled after the application close date. Enquiries about applications should be addressed to Ms Louisa Bailey (lkb44@cam.ac.uk). Please quote reference UC24186 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/1/2021
Date Posted: 11/3/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8247

Tulane University: Inter-American Policy and Research Fellowship

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Open, Comparative Politics, International Relations
Specializations: Caribbean, Central America, Latin American

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2021-2022, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are encouraged. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments with a stipend of $48,450 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in the Commitment to Equity Project and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment. Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2021. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting apply.interfolio.com/80202 and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) two recommendation letters; (5) a writing sample; and (6) teaching evaluations if available. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 31, 2020.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 12/31/2020

Date Posted: 10/26/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8217

McGill University

Rank: Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies

Max Bell School of Public Policy and the Department of Political Science

Faculty of Arts

McGill University

The Department of Political Science and the Max Bell School of Public Policy at McGill University invite applications for the new Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies. The Chairholder will be jointly appointed, teaching in both units and with the aim of strengthening the links between them and with the Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship (CSDC).

We seek an institution-builder with a global perspective who brings internationally recognized empirical research on democracy to bear on contemporary challenges and debates that inform public policy. The recent worldwide strains faced by democratic institutions and practices highlight the urgent need for theoretically informed, empirically rich research and this position will provide a highly visible forum for a scholar engaged in such an endeavor.

An applicant's record must provide evidence of outstanding research, leadership experience or potential, and success in teaching and supervision, including a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion in curriculum, pedagogy, and the recruiting and training of graduate and postdoctoral supervisees. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Full or Associate Professor with tenure. Candidates should have completed a PhD in a relevant discipline. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but proficiency in spoken and written French is an asset.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, a sample of written work, and material pertinent to teaching skills. The position start date is August 1, 2021.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Please apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17306>

The Department of Political Science engages in world-class research and teaching across diverse theoretical, thematic, and methodological approaches to the study of politics. The new Max Bell School of Public Policy is committed to the research, teaching, outreach, and advocacy of sound public policy. The CSDC, founded in 2008, brings together scholars who work on research related to democratic citizenship across six Quebec universities. For more information about the Department of Political Science, the Max Bell School, and the CSDC, please visit our websites at: www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/, <https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/>, and <https://csdc-cecd.ca/>.

Inquiries may be sent to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Juliet Johnson, at juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

Commitment to Equity and Diversity

McGill University is committed to equity and diversity within its community and values academic rigour and excellence. We welcome and encourage applications from racialized persons/visible minorities, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, ethnic minorities, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, as well as from all qualified candidates with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities.

At McGill, research that reflects diverse intellectual traditions, methodologies, and modes of dissemination and translation is valued and encouraged. Candidates are invited to demonstrate their research impact both within and across academic disciplines and in other sectors, such as government, communities, or industry.

McGill further recognizes and fairly considers the impact of leaves (e.g., family care or health-related) that may contribute to career interruptions or slowdowns. Candidates are encouraged to signal any leave that affected productivity, or that may have had an effect on their career path. This information will be considered to ensure the equitable assessment of the candidate's record.

McGill implements an employment equity program and encourages members of designated equity groups to self-identify. It further seeks to ensure the equitable treatment and full inclusion of persons with disabilities by striving for the implementation of universal design principles transversally, across all facets of the University community, and through accommodation policies and procedures. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application process may contact, in confidence, this email or phone at 514-398-2477.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8191

Stanford University, Graduate School of Business Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy - Impact of Race in America

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Stanford seeks to hire as many as 10 strong researchers and scholars--campus-wide--who study the impact of race in American society, including the nature and persistence of racial inequality and its consequences. We seek to support, deepen, and enhance the important research and teaching in these areas long underway on our campus.

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for faculty positions in our seven academic areas: Accounting; Economics; Finance; Marketing; Operations, Information & Technology; Organizational Behavior; and Political Economy under the Impact of Race in America topic. We welcome applications from scholars with all disciplinary backgrounds that bear on race in America and racial justice to apply to the seven areas. Rank is open, although there is the expectation that a majority of the appointments will be made at the assistant professor level. Although all areas of research will be considered, we are particularly interested in candidates with outstanding records of achievement in developing or using innovative approaches in the broad areas of their discipline. The successful candidates should possess a strong research background within their discipline and the ability to teach effectively in both the MBA and PhD programs in the school. The successful candidates should have or must expect to have their PhD degree by the start date of their faculty appointment at Stanford University.

Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2020 and will continue until all of the positions are filled. Candidates are invited to apply online via <https://www.gsb.stanford.edu/jobs/faculty-recruiting>, with the following materials: a statement describing the candidate's academic background and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a research statement of no more than three pages, and the names of three recommenders. Please direct questions to faculty\_recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 11/15/2020

Date Posted: 10/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8155

Pepperdine University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Studies

The International Studies and Languages Division of Pepperdine University's Seaver College of Letters, Arts, and Sciences seeks applications for a tenure track appointment as an Assistant Professor of International Studies (with a specialization in African Studies) beginning August 1, 2021. The ability to teach courses in at least two of the following areas is preferred: African politics, African culture and society, ethnicity in Africa, comparative politics, or comparative political economy. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Anthropology, or Sociology is required. Candidates should demonstrate exceptional interest and effectiveness in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students. Candidates should also have the ability to establish a productive research program. The ability to engage students in their scholarly work would be a plus.

Pepperdine University is a private Christian university overlooking the Pacific Ocean in Malibu, California. Faculty, staff and students partner to support Pepperdine's Christian Mission. Pepperdine is committed to valuing diversity and inclusion among our students and faculty. Applicants of color are particularly encouraged to apply.

Please submit all application materials at apply.interfolio.com/78908. Review of candidates' application materials will begin on November 9th, 2020, and will continue until the search is closed.

Contact:

Dr. George Carlsen (george.carlsen@pepperdine.edu)
Divisional Dean of International Studies and Languages
Pepperdine University
24255 Pacific Coast Highway
Malibu, CA 90263

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2020

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 8105

University of Colorado, Colorado Springs

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs (UCCS) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of international relations beginning August 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: international security, international conflict, and foreign policy. Additional consideration will be given to candidates with teaching and research interests in comparative politics, international organizations, civil-military relations, East Asian politics, or research methods. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate courses in political science (five courses per year), keeping up an active research agenda, and service at the departmental, university, or professional level. Candidates must have a PhD in political science or a closely related field.

Applications submitted on the CU Careers website by November 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. Applications submitted through email or surface mail will not be considered. Please apply at www.cu.edu/cu-careers (job #: 19206). Upon request, please be prepared to provide five professional references, including their email contact information. Official transcripts will be required upon hire. Evidence of teaching effectiveness and samples of research may be required. If you have technical difficulties with your application, please contact the CU Careers help desk at 303-860-4200 #5 or cucareershelp@cu.edu. Job related inquiries should be directed to the posting contact, Dr. Steven Pittz.

To apply, please submit the following application materials on the CU Careers website: a current CV, a cover letter that specifically addresses the job requirements and outlines qualifications, unofficial transcripts, teaching statement, and research statement. In order for an application to be considered, applicants must label each required attachment with the relevant title, attach the required documents for this position announcement to the submission, and check the Job Specific Attachments box next to each document in the submission.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 11/15/2020

Date Posted: 9/21/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8076

Yale University

Rank: Assistant, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Yale University's Department of Political Science invites applications for an Assistant Professor faculty position in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations.

The appointment will begin on July 1, 2021. Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, 3 letters of recommendation, and 2 writing samples should be uploaded to Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/78527>

Review of applications will begin September 25, 2020, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at poliscijobs@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/11/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8046

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates or more senior researchers for the year from September 1, 2021 to September 1, 2022, with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on funding and outstanding performance. Appointments will be through the department of Politics. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17241> (link is external).

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2020; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2021 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Matthew Franck, Ph.D.

Associate Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: mfranck@princeton.edu (link sends e-mail)

Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/1/2020

Date Posted: 9/1/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8018

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in the politics of development, broadly defined. The department has a strong preference for an area concentration in either Africa or the Middle East, which will complement its existing strengths in the politics of Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The position, to begin in 2021-2022 academic year, is intended to meet and expand curricular goals within the major; to broaden the department's research expertise; and to contribute to interdisciplinary initiatives in the School of Arts and Sciences and to the University of Richmond's mission of "preparing students for responsible leadership in a diverse world." More specifically, the position carries a 3-2 teaching load consisting of a regular offering of a survey course on the politics of development. Other courses would relate to the faculty's regional specialization, with particular preference for courses on the politics of Africa and/or the Middle East. The new hire would also share responsibility for teaching the department's ongoing offerings of Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations and, as schedule permits, contribute to departmental First Year Seminar (FYS) offerings.

Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation by August 1, 2021. Applicants should apply online at <https://richmond.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&cid=2062>.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society."

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see <https://polisci.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should click "Apply Now" at the top of the page and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter containing a brief summary of the candidate's research and teaching interests and indicating commitment to the teacher-scholar model, and separate research and teaching statements. The research statement should expand on the candidate's research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, experience and goals. It should also address commitment to inclusive pedagogy and to fostering thriving and inclusive intercultural community, as outlined in the President's Making Excellence Inclusive report (<https://president.richmond.edu/inclusive-excellence/report-pdfs/making-excellence-inclusive-final-report-2019.pdf>). In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence on October 1, 2020 and continue until the position is filled.

Please address any questions about the application to Dr. Jennifer Erkulwater (jerkulwa@richmond.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7971

Lycoming College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Lycoming College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 2021. The successful candidate will be broadly trained to teach both introductory and advanced courses in Public Law. Candidates with a secondary specialization in Comparative Politics are encouraged to apply.

Lycoming's small, liberal arts environment allows faculty members, as part of their 3-3 teaching load, to create new courses in line with their area of specialization. Candidates with an interest in teaching in the College's interdisciplinary first year seminar program are desired. Candidates should demonstrate a strong promise of teaching effectiveness and scholarly achievement, and a serious commitment to teaching undergraduates in a liberal arts environment is essential. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, as well as service to the department and institution.

Ph.D. in political science is preferred, but ABDs in their final stages of completion will be considered.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae along with submitting a teaching portfolio, 250-word statement on why they are interested in a liberal arts academic environment, a single-authored writing sample, 3 letters of recommendation, and graduate transcript using the link below. <https://lycomingcollege.applytojob.com/apply/CqDmzXdfUU/Assistant-Professor-Of-Political-Science-Public-Law>

Letters of recommendations can be mailed to:

Attention: Missy Cashner, HR Generalist
Lycoming College
One College Place, Campus Box 861
Williamsport, PA 17701

To guarantee full consideration applications should be submitted by October 1, 2020. A pre-employment drug screening will be conducted.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 10/1/2020

Date Posted: 8/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7954

Carleton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Asian American Politics, China, East Asia

The Carleton College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics to begin September 1, 2021. We are specifically interested in candidates who have regional expertise in Chinese politics and prefer candidates who can speak both to domestic dynamics as well as China's role in a broader Asian and/or global context. Successful candidates should be able to teach a range of courses in Comparative Politics (including the introductory course) as well as offer instruction in research methods (qualitative and/or quantitative). The standard teaching load is five courses spread across three trimesters. The ideal candidate will also be interested in contributing to a vibrant college-wide culture of undergraduate research and have a commitment to attracting and retaining students from underserved groups. A PhD in hand or its imminent completion is required.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000, located in the historic and thriving town of Northfield, Minnesota. We are in commuting distance of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, whose greater metro area has a diverse population of three million people and a rich variety of cultural resources. The Political Science Department strives to introduce students—majors and non-majors alike—to a broad array of theoretical and philosophical perspectives while equipping them with the necessary analytic skills to engage with an increasingly diverse world and contribute constructively to one's community. For further information about the department, please consult the department website at carleton.edu/political-science.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, and a statement about teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment and how you would contribute to a college community that embraces a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We also require a statement about research interests, one scholarly writing sample and contact information for three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to jobs.carleton.edu. Inquiries can be directed to pteiken@carleton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 9/4/2020

Date Posted: 7/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7917

Providence College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics of Africa

Specializations: Africa, Developing Nations, Western Europe

The Political Science Department at Providence College invites applications for a one-year position as visiting assistant professor in Comparative Politics with a focus on African Politics. The Department welcomes applicants with a range of research foci, such as post-colonial institutions, democratization, social movements, parties and party systems, civil society, militarization and insurgencies, political economy, and statebuilding.

The teaching load is four courses per semester (two or three preparations); class size varies from about 12 to 25 students. The successful applicant will teach Comparative Politics, African Politics, and Politics 101, the introductory course for the major. There is a possibility the position may be extended for a second year.

The position includes competitive salary and benefits, as well as research support including travel funds, library resources, and grant writing assistance. The Political Science Department has thirteen faculty members dedicated to effective teaching and scholarship.

The City of Providence is vibrant and diverse city with a long history of welcoming immigrant populations, most recently from West Africa, Latin America, and Southeast Asia.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science or be close to completion, and demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence, strong research skills, and potential for research productivity.

Applicants should apply online at <https://careers.providence.edu> and submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, and contact information for three professional references. For additional information, please contact Dr. Joe Cammarano, Chair of the Political Science Department, at jpcammar@providence.edu with questions.

Review of applications will commence immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/12/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7899

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science -

Tenure Track

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Title: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA)
Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE)

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE) seeks applicants for two tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts in Fall semester of 2021. The openings are in the field of comparative politics, research methodology, and political theory. Candidates who have a research focus on issues of public policy are strongly encouraged to apply for the positions. A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potentials to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field. Although the working environment in SUFE is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years of employment. The tenure-track faculty are expected to publish research on highly reputable international journals, offer high-quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFE. The rules of evaluation and promotion are standardized at the university and similar to those for tenure positions in a regular American university.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, medical insurance, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background: Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas. The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five-Year Plan. The newly established Institute of Political Science has eight members who hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents: Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

The deadline for accepting applications is September 31, 2020, for this round of recruitment. We will arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Wechat during November and December 2020.

Contact: Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/14/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 7872

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: 2021-2022 International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Foreign Policy, International Security, History & Politics

The Fellowship:

The International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS) offers professors from a variety of academic backgrounds practical experience in the foreign policymaking field, providing them with an opportunity to spend their sabbatical year working at a U.S. government agency, in Congress, or with an international organization.

The IAF-TIRS program helps close the gap between research and practice, enriching both teaching and scholarship by enabling fellows to become practitioners. The program also benefits policymakers by exposing them to critical scholarly research relevant to the foreign policy and national security issues facing the United States and the world.

The fellowship is for twelve months. The program will match 50 percent of the fellow's base salary for the academic year (up to a maximum of $80,000 for the year) as well as provide modest assistance for moving expenses for those who need to relocate for the fellowship.

Eligibility:

Applicants should be U.S. citizens

Applicants must be full-time tenured professors at a U.S. college or university

Applicants must have arranged a paid sabbatical with their home university

Applicants must hold a PhD

Applicants must propose to spend a year working on peace and security issues in the U.S. government, in Congress, or at an international organization.

Preference is given to candidates with no previous experience in the U.S. government or with an international organization.

*Note: fellows are considered independent contractors rather than employees of CFR and are not eligible for employment benefits, including health insurance. No indirect costs can be deducted from the stipend award.

How to Apply:

Interested candidates who meet the program eligibility requirements can apply online now through October 31 at cfr.org/fellowships/international-affairs-fellowship-tenured-international-relations-scholars.

If you have additional questions, please contact tirs.fellowships@cfr.org.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 10/31/2020

Date Posted: 5/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7853

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Bentley University

Rank: Lecturer, International Relations

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer with expertise in International Relations and International Organizations to begin July 2021. The successful candidate will also have the ability to teach undergraduate introductory courses in globalization, comparative politics or US politics. We are seeking a colleague with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, and who employs innovative, active and experiential pedagogies. This non-tenure track position carries an eight-course teaching load (undergraduate level) during the contract year.

While not required, we particularly welcome applications from candidates with knowledge of issues of race, ethnicity, migration, and/or social inequalities. We also seek applicants whose teaching, service or research has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education, and who are interested in working with students outside the classroom.

The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to enhancing our two departmental majors - International Affairs and Public Policy - and to complement the department's existing strengths, which are grounded in political science, geography and cultural studies.

Founded in 1917, Bentley University is a private, business-focused university with a strong commitment to the arts and sciences. An AACSB and EQUIS accredited institution, Bentley enrolls approximately 5,500 students at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. Bloomberg ranks Bentley in the top 10 undergraduate business programs in the United States, and in the top 100 places to obtain an MBA. U.S. News & World Report ranked Bentley as 1st in the Best Regional Universities-North category. Located in Waltham, Massachusetts, Bentley is on the doorstep of one of the nation's leading cities. With over 35 colleges and universities, the greater Boston area is a vibrant place to work and live.

Minimum Qualifications

Candidates must demonstrate dedication to excellence in teaching, and we prefer candidates with classroom experience. Ph.D. required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be confirmed prior to the start of the fall 2021 semester.

Instructions to Applicants

Applicants submit all application materials through Bentley's on-line employment site at <https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty>.

Applications should include a letter of interest, CV, and a teaching statement that includes the applicant's approach to diversity and inclusion in the classroom. Names and contact information for three references are required upon application. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Jeff Gulati, jgulati@bentley.edu.

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by February 1, 2021.

Bentley University requires references checks and may conduct other pre-employment screening.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8443

Bentley University

Rank: Lecturer, International Relations

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer with expertise in International Relations and International Organizations to begin July 2021. The successful candidate will also have the ability to teach undergraduate introductory courses in globalization, comparative politics or US politics. We are seeking a colleague with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, and who employs innovative, active and experiential pedagogies. This non-tenure track position carries an eight course teaching load (undergraduate level) during the contract year.

While not required, we particularly welcome applications from candidates with knowledge of issues of race, ethnicity, migration, and/or social inequalities. We also seek applicants whose teaching, service or research has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education, and who are interested in working with students outside the classroom.

The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to enhancing our two departmental majors - International Affairs and Public Policy - and to complement the department's existing strengths, which are grounded in political science, geography and cultural studies.

Founded in 1917, Bentley University is a private, business-focused university with a strong commitment to the arts and sciences. An AACSB and EQUIS accredited institution, Bentley enrolls approximately 5,500 students at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. Bloomberg ranks Bentley in the top 10 undergraduate business programs in the United States, and in the top 100 places to obtain an MBA. U.S. News & World Report ranked Bentley as 1st in the Best Regional Universities-North category. Located in Waltham, Massachusetts, Bentley is on the doorstep of one of the nation's leading cities. With over 35 colleges and universities, the greater Boston area is a vibrant place to work and live.

Minimum Qualifications

Candidates must demonstrate dedication to excellence in teaching, and we prefer candidates with classroom experience. Ph.D. required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be confirmed prior to the start of the fall 2021 semester.

Instructions to Applicants

Applicants submit all application materials through Bentley's on-line employment site at <https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty>.

Applications should include a letter of interest, CV, and a teaching statement that includes the applicant's approach to diversity and inclusion in the classroom. Names and contact information for three references are required upon application. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Jeff Gulati, jgulati@bentley.edu.

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by February 1, 2021.

Bentley University requires references checks and may conduct other pre employment screening.

DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Bentley University strives to create a campus community that welcomes the exchange of ideas, and fosters a culture that values differences and views them as a strength in our community.

Bentley University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, building strength through diversity. The University is committed to building a community of talented students, faculty and staff who reflect the diversity of global business. We strongly encourage applications from persons from underrepresented groups, individuals with disabilities, covered veterans and those with diverse experiences and backgrounds.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/23/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8444

Trinity College Dublin

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science and Data Science
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Assistant Professor Positions in Political Science and Data Science at Trinity College Dublin, Ireland

Trinity College Dublin wishes to make two appointments in the area of Political Science and Data Science, to commence on 1 September 2021. The area of specialism is open, but the Department of Political Science has a preference for applicants active in research on applied machine learning and data science in the social sciences. Proficiency in programming in Python and/or R is expected. Desirable skills also include network analysis, statistical forecasting, image processing, and/or quantitative text analysis. The preferred candidates must also be able to teach courses in substantive areas of politics (e.g., comparative politics, international relations, political communication) of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students. The ideal candidates will have an approach to research that complements the Department of Political Science's existing strengths in comparative and institutional analysis.

The Department is seeking to appoint individuals with vision and enthusiasm and a genuine commitment to the vital roles of teaching, research and administration.

Appointments will be made to either a three-year or to a four-year position.

For more information please use Keyword Search for Political Science at <http://jobs.tcd.ie>, which is also where applications should be submitted.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/20/2021

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8441

Georgetown University in Qatar

Rank: Core Faculty Position in Politics / International Relations - Assistant Professor

Core Faculty Position in Politics / International Relations - Assistant Professor

Georgetown University in Qatar (GU-Q) invites applications for a core faculty position in Politics / International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor.

GU-Q was established in 2005 alongside eight other elite international universities in Education City in partnership with Qatar Foundation. GU-Q is an integral part of Georgetown University, delivering the renowned School of Foreign Service's Bachelor in Foreign Service: a liberal arts program offering majors in International Politics, International History, Culture and Politics, and International Economics. Several MA programs are in development. Degrees are issued by Georgetown University. GU-Q is a research-focused, student-oriented institution with a globally competitive research and publications record; it houses its own Center for International and Regional Studies (CIRS). We value interdisciplinarity. Faculty and students also benefit from the opportunities offered by the wider academic eco-system of Education City.

Core faculty positions are full-time positions designed to replicate the institutional commitment to academic freedom and professional opportunities associated with tenure-track and tenured appointments, in conformity/compliance with Georgetown University's academic governance guidelines.

We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in the politics, international relations, or political economy of Africa. A geographical focus on East Africa / Horn of Africa would tie into a strong existing GU-Q research interest in the Indian Ocean region. The successful candidate will be able to teach required undergraduate courses in International Relations and/or Comparative Political Systems, as well as upper-level electives at the advanced undergraduate and graduate levels. Ability to contribute to the courses on Scope & Methods in Political Science and/or Quantitative Methods for International Politics, will be an advantage.

The teaching load for core faculty is 2-2. Assistant Professors are eligible for a one-semester fully-paid Junior Faculty Research Fellowship, typically taken in the third or fourth year of service at GU-Q. GU-Q provides generous research support and support for conference travel. Faculty at Georgetown University in Qatar are eligible to apply for Qatar National Priorities Research Program grants from the Qatar National Research Fund. QNRF also offers competitive research grants for early-career scholars. GU-Q boasts best-in-class teaching facilities including a Global Classroom for classes joining students in Washington, D.C. and Doha.

Qatar offers a diverse, safe and family-friendly environment. Ranked the safest country in the world in 2020, it is connected by direct flights to over 160 destinations in 90 countries. The iconic new National Library, adjacent to GU-Q in Education City and designed by Rem Koolhaas, provides free membership to all faculty and students. Public parks, beaches, sports facilities, museums, cafes and restaurants abound, and a state-of-the-art metro system connects all parts of Doha and nearby locations (see <https://www.visitqatar.qa/en/home>). Education City has its own extensive sports facilities.

Compensation is very competitive in relation to the US academic market and even more so to that of the UK and Europe. It includes an annual summer research stipend for active scholars, amounting to 2/9 of the base salary. The expatriate benefits package includes: fully-furnished high-quality housing, transportation allowance, annual family home leave allowance, health insurance (worldwide coverage), generous private school tuition support for accompanying children, etc.

For more information on GU-Q, see <https://apptrkr.com/2099267>. For a glimpse of what it is like to teach and live in Qatar, see: <https://youtu.be/HNoERrWln4k>.

Applications should be submitted by Saturday, 13 February 2021 to ensure full consideration. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Interviews will be conducted virtually.

Applicants should provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and the names of three scholarly references. All application materials should be emailed to GUQ-GOV-IR@georgetown.edu. Please reference “Government / IR Search” in the subject line. Faxed applications will not be accepted.

Queries about the position should be directed to Prof. Gerd Nonneman, Chair of the Search Committee, at the same email address.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8432

National University of Singapore

Rank: Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore (NUS), and the College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences, Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore, invite applications for TWO Post-Doctoral Fellows in the field of International Relations, with a focus on Southeast Asia.

Each fellowship is tenable for two years. One Fellow will be based at NUS, working under the direction of Professor Yuen Foong Khong, the other at NTU, working with Professor Joseph Liow, toward accomplishing the goals of their research project on “The Anatomy of Choice: Southeast Asia between the Superpowers” supported by a Singapore Social Science Research Council (SSRC) Thematic Grant (for details see <https://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/ongoing-research-projects/international-relations-and-global-governance> )

Job Description

The Fellows will have three main responsibilities: (1) revise their dissertations into a publishable book manuscript or a set of articles by the end of the first year of the Fellowship; and (2) take lead roles in the organization and running of the Anatomy of Choice project, including but not limited to, liaising with the contributing authors, organizing workshops, and directing the work of the undergraduate research assistants; (3) contribute to the broader intellectual life of the LKYSPP and CoHASS.

Job Requirements

- A Ph.D. degree in Political Science/International Relations/History, focusing on the international relations of Southeast Asia, and/or the foreign policy of one or more Southeast Asian countries. Candidates whose work involves comparing the foreign policy responses of the ASEAN countries to global and regional power shifts are especially encouraged to apply.
- An ability to engage with the research and policy communities in Singapore, Asia, and the world
- A strong and demonstrated sense of academic independence and collegiality

Benefits Include:

- Internationally competitive salary
- Highly collegial working environment with an internationally diverse group of scholars

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit the following in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file):

- Cover letter, with a brief statement of research expertise and its relevance to the project
- Detailed curriculum vitae
- Copies of academic certificates and transcripts
- Two samples of academic publications/writings
- Three letters of reference (mailed separately by referee to diana.endang@nus.edu.sg)
- Start date: July 1, 2021 (preferred, but negotiable)
- Application deadline: March 1, 2021

Please send electronic submissions to Ms. Diana Endang Adiningsih (diana.endang@nus.edu.sg). Applications will be acknowledged; short-listed candidates will be contacted around mid-Marc

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 2/20/2021

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8427

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Middle East, Research Methods, Women & Politics

Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct important research and teach the next generation of global leaders. The Division of Social Science invites applications for a tenured/tenure-track position in Political Science. This position is open with respect to rank and subfield, though scholars in the fields of international relations and Middle East are especially encouraged to apply. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2021, or September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi's unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present. The disciplines in this field seek to deepen our understanding of how people behave in a wide variety of contexts and to assess the consequences of individual, group, and societal decisions.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science.

We seek individuals who have, or have the potential to develop, a strong record of scholarship and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/82086>

- .CV
- .Cover Letter
- .Teaching Statement
- .Research Statement
- .Recent teaching evaluations (if available)
- .Three (3) Representative Writing Samples
- .For candidates applying for the Assistant Professor Positions, please submit the names and email addresses of three (3) references who will be contacted to upload their letter confidentially through Interfolio.
- .For candidates applying to the Senior faculty position, please submit a list of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin reviewing applications on February 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2021-2022.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8433

Reed College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science, International Relations/Comparative Politics 2021–2023

Applications are invited for a two-year visiting appointment in political science with specializations in international relations and/or comparative politics. Candidates are expected to advise senior theses and teach up to five sections over two semesters in each year, for a total of two sections of Introduction to Comparative Politics, two sections of Introduction to International Relations, and up to six sections in the specialty of the applicant, preferably split across both subfields. All our courses are capped at 24 students. Visitors are usually appointed at the assistant professor level, but more advanced candidates may be considered. Salary is competitive, including travel and research support. The appointment begins Fall 2021.

We are interested in candidates who possess multiple methods of analysis, a broad research program, and scholarly interests that reach into other parts of political science. We are particularly interested in candidates who demonstrate integration of their approaches and interests into teaching undergraduate seminars and advising student research. Our pedagogy emphasizes the conceptual and theoretical foundations of the discipline and includes yearly supervision of undergraduate thesis students. Above all, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level. We expect the Ph.D. to be in hand, or very near completion, by the start of the appointment. Information on the department is available at http://academic.reed.edu/poli\_sci/. Search inquiries may be addressed to political.search@reed.edu.

Reed College is a community that values cultural and intellectual pluralism as essential to the excellence of our academic program. In your application materials, we welcome a description of how, as a scholar, teacher, or community member, you would engage and sustain the commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in Reed College's diversity statement (<http://www.reed.edu/diversity/>). An Equal Opportunity Employer, Reed College values diversity and encourages applications from underrepresented groups.

Please send an application letter, CV, evidence of teaching excellence, and at least three letters of recommendation to <http://apply.interfolio.com/82289>. Sample syllabi are welcome but not required. Formal review of applications will begin January 18, 2021; applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8436

Syracuse University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant/Tenured Associate Professor - Public Organizations and Democratic Institutions

Public Organizations and Democratic Institutions
Department of Public Administration and International Affairs
Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University

The Department of Public Administration and International Affairs (PAIA) at Syracuse University's Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks to hire a TENURE TRACK Assistant or TENURED Associate Professor whose scholarship focuses on the intersection of public organizations and democratic institutions. This position starts in fall 2021 and is part of a broader Syracuse University Cluster Hires Initiative. The Citizenship and Democratic Institutions (CDI) Cluster draws together a diverse group of scholars who address critical issues related to the contested meanings of citizenship, civic engagement, public management, and the impacts of democratic institutions on social and economic well-being. The successful candidate will help shape future, multi-disciplinary hiring in the CDI Cluster, and lead and contribute to externally funded projects and interdisciplinary research initiatives within the Maxwell School and across the University.

As part of this effort, we seek an engaging and entrepreneurial scholar who asks important questions and thinks creatively about the challenges and opportunities for public organizations and democratic institutions in the 21st century. We welcome applicants from public administration, sociology, political science, international relations, and related disciplines. We also are open to myriad foci, methods, and issues in domestic, international, and comparative contexts. As examples, applicants might study issues such as: social equity and social justice; building, managing, and leading diverse public organizations; public values, policy conflicts, and ethics; network, collaborative, or participatory governance; organizational behavior, service delivery, and public governance / public management; citizen-state interactions and administrative burden; accountability, responsiveness, and performance; transparency and open government; democratic consolidation and institutional resilience; threats to democratic institutions; or public administration in autocratic versus democratic settings.

To support their work, the successful candidate will have the opportunity to affiliate with one or more of Maxwell's eleven Centers, Institutes, and Multidisciplinary Research Initiatives, which help concentrate Maxwell's distinctive interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approach to the study of contemporary public and policy issues. In addition to maintaining an active research agenda, the successful candidate is expected to have the knowledge and skills to teach core public management / administration courses in our professional Master of Public Administration program. The successful candidate's teaching may also support our Master of Arts in International Relations program, Executive Education programs, doctoral program in Public Administration, and/or undergraduate courses across the Maxwell School. Finally, the successful candidate will be prepared to help advance Syracuse University and the Maxwell School's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in our work with students, colleagues, and wider communities.

About the Maxwell School: The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs is the top-ranked program in the Public Affairs category of the 2020 edition of U.S. News & World Report's Best Graduate Schools. Maxwell is also highly ranked in many specialty areas and has a top-ranked program in International Affairs. Maxwell is unique among schools of public affairs in that it is home to all of the social science disciplines at Syracuse University, and offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in Anthropology, Economics, Geography and the Environment, History, Political Science, and Sociology. Maxwell is also home to interdisciplinary graduate programs in Social Science, and Public Diplomacy and Global Communications, as well as interdisciplinary undergraduate programs in: Citizenship and Civic Engagement; Environment, Sustainability, and Policy; International Relations; and Policy Studies.

Application Instructions:

For consideration, candidates must submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information of three references, and complete an online faculty demographic summary (available at <http://www.sujobopps.com/>). All applications received by January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. The application period will remain open until the position is filled.

Syracuse University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to equality of opportunity and a diverse work force.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8434

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Global Public Policy and Political Economy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2021. We seek a colleague with research and teaching expertise in global public policy and political economy. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department's NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) faculty and teach in the MPA program, contributing to our new focused area of study Global Affairs & Security. In addition, the hire will offer courses appropriate for students majoring in Economics and Political Science. Interest in contributing to the Department's graduate quantitative methods course sequence will be looked upon favorably. A Ph.D. in political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field is required by the start date. The successful candidate will have an active and promising research agenda that examines public policy and political economy broadly defined to include such global issues as human security, sustainable development, climate change, health economics, among others.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/47459> and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to Global Public Policy & Political Economy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. All interviews will be conducted using audio/visual technology due to travel restrictions. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8419

Biola University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Political Science Department at Biola University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant/Associate/Full Professor. While candidates may study any non-US geographic region and any time period, we are particularly looking for scholars whose research focuses on one or more of the following themes: diplomacy, economics, globalization, intelligence studies, international relations, international political economy, international law, military affairs, national security, political thought, and public policy.

Teaching responsibilities will include four courses per semester. The candidate is expected to teach a combination of American Government and courses in his or her field of specialization. Through courses in their field of specialization, the candidate will help build curricular connections between the Political Science and the History Departments. Although the candidate will be housed in the Political Science Department, the Political Science Department is committed to fostering a special relationship with Biola's History Department, which includes the development of cross-listed courses. The Political Science Department serves Biola University's distinctive Christian engagement with the liberal arts tradition and commitment to excellence in the areas of scholarship, teaching and the mentoring of students. Biola's Political Science department is distinctive in its reliance on a historical/philosophical/qualitative approach to the discipline and has a desire to see candidates who have a disposition for the discipleship of students for the purposes of fulfilling Biola's larger religious mission. Top candidates will display a thorough understanding of how the Christian worldview fundamentally informs their approach to political science and the seeking of wisdom and knowledge.

Review of applications will begin in December 2020 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following materials through this portal: <https://biola.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&cid=1494>

1. Cover Letter addressed to Search Committee Co-Chair, Dr. Todd M. Thompson, describing academic background, research focus, teaching experience and interest in Biola University's Christian mission.
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Christian Testimony document

Please direct any follow-up questions to Search Committee Co-Chair, Dr. Scott Waller: scott.waller@biola.edu.

The School of Humanities and Social Sciences is one of nine schools that comprise Biola University.

Biola University is an evangelical Christian university in which faculty affirm personal faith in Jesus Christ, endorse a university statement of Christian faith and community values, and are committed to the integration of faith and learning. Candidates must be willing to support Biola's mission, and preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate a clear commitment to the integration of faith into their scholarship and teaching. See the institution's theological positions at www.biola.edu/about/theological-positions.

Biola is accredited by the Western Association of Schools & Colleges (WASC) and is a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU).

Biola is committed to diversity and seeks faculty who can contribute to multicultural understandings. Candidates should be able to demonstrate their ability to work effectively with diverse populations, female and male students and colleagues, and integrate multicultural content and issues into their teaching.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8416

Syracuse University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor Position in Governance of Autonomous Systems and Artificial Intelligence

Assistant/Associate Professor Position in Governance of Autonomous Systems and Artificial Intelligence
Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs
Syracuse University

The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University, seeks to hire a social scientist with expertise in regulatory policy design, regulatory policy processes, and/or risk regulation as related to emerging technologies. We are specifically interested in candidates with demonstrated research interests in regulation and/or risk governance relating to the use and societal impacts of autonomous systems, such as driverless vehicles and unmanned aerial vehicles, artificial intelligence (AI), and autonomous decision making. Research interests could include, among others: governance of the development and use of autonomous systems/AI, analysis of societal risks posed by public and private applications of autonomous systems/AI, design and analysis of regulatory policies for managing risks associated with applications of autonomous systems/AI, design and evaluation of performance standards by which autonomous systems/AI are regulated, and regulation of human control over autonomous systems/AI. It is expected that candidates for this position will have doctoral training in public policy, public administration, political science, economics, sociology, and related interdisciplinary programs. We seek candidates whose research, teaching, service, or lived experiences have prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in our work with students, colleagues, and wider communities.

The position is at the rank of assistant or associate professor and will be in the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs, situated within the Maxwell School. The Maxwell School is ranked #1 in the nation for graduate education in public affairs, according to the 2021 edition of U.S. News & World Report's Best Graduate Schools, and home to the social science disciplines at Syracuse University.

The faculty member hired into this position will be affiliated with the Autonomous Systems Policy Institute (ASPI), which is housed in the Maxwell School and centers on interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching related to the design, policy, and social implications of autonomous systems. Faculty will also have the opportunity to affiliate with other interdisciplinary research institutes and centers within the Maxwell School and across Syracuse University. This position will be part of an ambitious Invest Syracuse Cluster Hire Initiative in the area of Artificial Intelligence and Autonomous Systems, providing exciting opportunities for collaboration in teaching and research in an organized cluster that spans multiple departments in the Maxwell School, the College of Law, the College of Engineering and Computer Science, and the School of Information Studies.

To be considered for this position, candidates must complete an online faculty demographic summary (available at <http://www.sujobopps.com/postings/85522>) and submit the following: letter of interest, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, teaching statement, and the names and contact information of three references. Applications will be reviewed as they arrive, with full consideration given to those received by January 15, 2021. However, the Department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

Syracuse University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to equality of opportunity and a diverse work force.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8414

Colby College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - East Asian Politics and International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

The Department of Government at Colby College seeks applicants for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position to teach courses on international relations and East Asian Politics, commencing September 1, 2021. We seek highly qualified candidates who have demonstrated excellence in teaching and who are committed to working with an increasingly diverse student body. The successful applicant will teach Introduction to International Relations, East Asian Politics, an introductory course in research methods, and additional courses chosen in consultation with the department chair. Teaching load is five courses a year, including the option to teach one course during Colby's January term.

Candidates must have completed a Ph.D. in political science by September 1, 2021. Prior experience in undergraduate teaching as the instructor of record is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will provide evidence of excellence in teaching a diverse student body and a strong and on-going research program that is open to the inclusion of undergraduates. The college and the department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area when they apply.

Applicants should send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement expressing the candidate's teaching experience and philosophy, course descriptions and/or syllabi for three proposed courses, evidence of teaching excellence, a graduate school transcript, and three letters of recommendation, including at least one that speaks to teaching experience. Review of applications will begin January 15, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position should be directed to: governmentsearch@colby.edu

To apply: <http://apply.interfolio.com/81997>

Colby is a private, coeducational liberal arts college that admits students and makes employment decisions on the basis of the individual's qualifications to contribute to Colby's educational objectives and institutional needs. Colby College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, religion, ancestry or national origin, age, marital status, genetic information, or veteran's status in employment or in our educational programs. Colby is an Equal Opportunity employer, committed to excellence through diversity, and encourages applications from qualified persons of color, women, persons with disabilities, military veterans and members of other under-represented groups. Colby complies with Title IX, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in an institution's education programs and activities. Questions regarding Title IX may be referred to Colby's Title IX coordinator or to the federal Office of Civil Rights. For more information about the College, please visit our website: www.colby.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8403

Stanford University

Rank: 2021-2022 China Policy Fellowship

Specializations: China, East Asia, United States

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC) is pleased to announce its new China Policy Fellowship, which will bring to Stanford leading professionals and scholars from Asia and the United States to engage in research on contemporary China affairs and/or U.S.-China policy, with the broad aim of strengthening U.S.-China relations. Candidates should be mid-career to senior-level experts with extensive research experience and influence in the policy-making process. The fellowship is hosted by APARC's China Program, whose mission is to facilitate multidisciplinary, social science-oriented research on contemporary China, with a dual emphasis on basic and policy-relevant research.

In addition to regularly participating in APARC's and the China Program's activities, the China Policy Fellow will undertake original research in his/her area of expertise and will also play a lead role in organizing a major conference at Stanford on a topic of prominence on the U.S.-China policy agenda. It is expected that each fellow's work and annual conference will result in a published product such as a book, a policy brief, a report, or a collection of conference proceedings. The China Policy Fellow is expected to be in residence full time at Stanford.

Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2021-22 academic year. The China Policy Fellow will be provided a monthly stipend to be dispersed over the 9-month appointment period totaling $72,000. This position is not benefits-eligible.

Application Deadline: February 15, 2021

Eligibility: Mid-career to senior-level candidates

Required Application Materials, in PDF Format:

- Curriculum vitae
- Two (2) letters of recommendation
- A short research statement (not to exceed 1,000 words) that describes the research to be undertaken including the topic, methodology, and contribution to the field.

To apply and for more information, please visit: <https://stanford.io/31PwSCp>

Please address all questions to:

Callista Wells?

Program Coordinator, China Program?

Shorenstein APARC?Stanford University?

Encina Hall E301?

Stanford, CA 94305-6055

(650) 724-9632?

cwells@stanford.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/15/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8387

U.S. Naval Academy, VADM Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership

Rank: Resident Fellow

Specializations: Science & Technology, Defense, International Security

Resident Fellowship in Ethics

Vice Admiral James B. Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership

U.S. Naval Academy

The U.S. Naval Academy's Stockdale Center invites applications for its annual Resident Fellowship Program for academic year 2021-2022.

The Secretary of the Navy and the Superintendent of the Naval Academy established the Center in 1998 to be a thought leader in the field of military ethics and leadership and serve the Naval Academy, the Naval Service and national institutions of influence.

Minimum qualifications: dissertation phase of a Ph.D. program in a humanities or social science area and U.S. citizenship. Ideal candidates will be published Ph.D. holders with university teaching experience in philosophy, political theory, international relations, public policy or history. We are especially interested in philosophy or political science Ph.D.s familiar with the ethics of using artificial intelligence in military operations and planning.

The Stockdale Center anticipates selecting up to four residential fellows, whose focus will be a weekly seminar devoted to defense-related ethics topics. Fellows will also have the opportunity to conduct additional research projects in cooperation with the Naval Academy's civilian and military faculty members.

Application review will begin January 18, 2021. Click here to be directed to the full advertisement on the United States Naval Academy Human Resources website, which includes application instructions: <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/EthicsFellow-AY21.php>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8397

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track

The Public Policy and Political Economy Program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for tenure-system assistant professor positions in International Political Economy and Global Health Policy.

The successful candidate for the IPE position will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The area of specialization within International Political Economy is open, but candidates focusing on cross-border issues with local implications (such as the politics of trade, finance, investment, migration, the environment, etc.) are particularly encouraged to apply. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

The department's faculty includes multiple winners of internal and external teaching awards. The candidate is expected to incorporate best practices as identified by the scholarship on teaching and learning into her/his pedagogical approach. The successful candidate will be expected to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. Faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 39th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities – Very High Research Activity."

Applicants should upload a letter of application; current curriculum vitae; a sample of written work; statements of teaching and research philosophy; instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Additional questions for the IPE position may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Clint Peinhardt (clint.peinhardt@utdallas.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8398

University of Zurich

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Position in "Politics of Economic and Social Inequality"

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Behavior, Political Economy

The Political Science Department at the University of Zurich invites applications for a 3-year position as post-doctoral researcher in the newly launching University Research Priority Program (URPP) on the topic of Equality of Opportunity. The postdoctoral researcher in "Politics of Economic and Social Inequality" is an integral part of the URPP, assigned to the Political Science Department.

Profile of the position

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue his/her own research agenda in the field of inequality studies, as well as to collaborate with Professors Tarik Abou-Chadi, Silja Häusermann and Stefanie Walter in a joint project on the perceptions and the politicization of inequalities, as well as their implications for policy demands and electoral outcomes in advanced democracies. The position offers extensive research support and includes a teaching load of one course per year. Additional teaching is most likely possible and would be paid extra.

Requirements

- A PhD in Political Science, with a preference for the subfields of Comparative or International Political Economy, Comparative Politics, or Political Behavior. The PhD should be completed or near completion.
- Strong interest in and ability for excellent academic research, proven e.g. through internationally visible publications, third-party funding, presentations at international conferences, or related research activities.
- Strong methodological skills (quantitative and/or qualitative, experience with both is an asset).
- Willingness and ability to engage in high-quality teaching. Teaching experience is an asset.

- Dedication, ability to work in a team, and ability to work independently.
- Strong command of English. Knowledge of German is an asset.

Starting date, conditions, application

The starting date for the 3-year position is flexible between April 1st 2020 and September 1st 2020. Renewal up to six years is possible, contingent on research productivity, continued substantive fit, as well as on continued funding of the URPP beyond 2025. The salary is appr. 75'000 CHF/year.

Further inquiries can be directed to Prof. Silja Häusermann (silja.haeusermann@ipz.uzh.ch), Prof. Stefanie Walter (walter@ipz.uzh.ch), or Prof. Tarik Abou-Chadi (abou-chadi@ipz.uzh.ch).

Please send your application electronically as one pdf-file comprising your letter of interest, CV, publication list, transcripts, teaching evaluations, writing sample, brief proposal for a post-doctoral project (1-2 pages) and two names of people willing to provide references to sekretariat@ipz.uzh.ch.

Please fill out the form and add it to your application documents: http://www.ipz.uzh.ch/static/forms/download/additional\_application\_form.pdf

The closing date for applications is January 20th 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/20/2021

Date Posted: 12/14/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8396

Anderson University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant/Associate Professor of International Relations and National Security

The Department of History and Political Science at Anderson University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin August 2021. The successful candidate will assist in the development of a growing undergraduate program in Security Studies, which offers interdisciplinary majors in both National Security and Cybersecurity. Primary responsibilities include teaching introductory and upper-division courses in international relations and security studies, including advanced courses in terrorism, intelligence studies, and homeland security. Candidates with an ability to offer courses in international political economy, comparative politics, and either research methods or public policy and administration are especially encouraged to apply. The normal teaching load is 12 hours per semester.

The successful candidate will possess a maturing Christian faith and demonstrate a strong commitment to the mission of Christian higher education, undergraduate teaching at both the introductory and advanced levels, and professional development. Ph.D. preferred but ABD will be considered. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Send application materials electronically in pdf format. Applications consist of a letter addressing the preferred qualifications listed above, a curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness and scholarly potential, a statement of how your faith relates to your discipline, a copy of graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, and a completed Anderson University application (found at <https://www.anderson.edu/uploads/hr/faculty-application.pdf>).

Address to: Dr. Joel Shrock, Dean, School of Humanities and Behavioral Science, Anderson University, 1100 East Fifth Street, Anderson, IN 46012. Email address is jdshrock@anderson.edu. Please make sure that receipt is confirmed. Background checks are routinely conducted on applicants for Anderson University positions.

Anderson University is on a mission to educate students for lives of faith and service, offering more than 60 undergraduate majors, 30 three-year degrees, 20 NCAA Division III intercollegiate sports, alongside adult and graduate programs. The private, liberal arts institution is fully accredited and recognized among top colleges for its business, computer science, cybersecurity, dance, engineering, nursing, and teacher education programs. Anderson University was established in 1917 in Anderson, Indiana, by the Church of God.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8394

Dartmouth College

Rank: Professor of Government (open rank) in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered. The Cyber Security Chair is one of three positions in a cluster hire in cybersecurity, Technology, and Society (the other two positions are in the Computer Science Department), and the successful applicant will have an opportunity to collaborate with other faculty in the cluster and to be a member of Dartmouth's Institute for Security, Technology and Society. We will consider applicants working on a broad range of topics related to the intersection of cyber-technologies, domestic or international politics, and society. Candidates may study questions such as how emerging digital technologies, social media and the internet affect critical democratic processes, contribute to political radicalization and extremism, enable foreign influence operations, undermine or protect privacy, contribute to repression and/or resistance to authoritarianism, enable new forms of conflict between groups or states, and/or are used to promote or counteract political misinformation. Candidates might also study the national and international policies and regulations that states, firms, and international organizations use to address these or related issues. We encourage applicants who study these and similar questions to apply. Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered.

Application instructions:

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a CV and three letters of recommendation. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Application materials should be submitted electronically to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/81228>

The review of applications will begin on January 18, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Benjamin.A.Valentino@Dartmouth.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8395

Texas A&M University

Rank: Pre- and Post- Doctoral Fellowships

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Albritton Center for Grand Strategy at the Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University, is inviting applications to its residential fellowship program for the 2021-2022 academic year. The program will support one pre-doctoral and one post-doctoral fellow. The Albritton Center is particularly interested in scholars that are engaging with the fundamental questions surrounding grand strategy: How should the national interest be defined? What are the threats to the national interest? How should the United States use its power in response? Applications are invited from scholars of political science, history, and other relevant disciplines.

Fellows will be expected to be in residence at the Bush School for the duration of their fellowships (September 2021 - August 2022). They will be provided with office space and access to the resources of the Bush School and Texas A&M University. Fellows will participate in Center activities, to include seminars, workshops, and conferences. They will work with an active community of scholars in international affairs, political science, history, and other disciplines at Texas A&M University.

The pre-doctoral fellow is expected to make substantial progress toward – and ideally complete – a dissertation during the fellowship. The post-doctoral fellow is expected to complete a manuscript for publication. The post-doctoral fellow is also expected to teach one course to Bush School students. Finally, both fellows are asked to write a short, policy-relevant piece while in residence.

Eligibility:

Applicants for the pre-doctoral fellowship must be pursuing a Ph.D. in political science, history or other relevant discipline. Applicants must pass all qualifying exams and advance to the level of candidacy prior to the start of their appointment.

Applicants for the post-doctoral fellowship must have completed their PhD in political science, history, or other relevant discipline to begin the fellowship. Recent PhD recipients are especially encouraged to apply.

Award information:

The pre-doctoral fellow will receive a stipend of $39,000, as well as $5,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will receive a salary of $60,000 (payable monthly), as well as $10,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will also be eligible for the benefits package available to TAMU employees.

Application process:

Postdoctoral applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant's dissertation advisor) through Texas A&M's employment platform, Workday (https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU\_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Postdoctoral-Research-Associate\_R-033905-1).

Predocctoral applicants should complete submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant's dissertation advisor) to bushschoolCGS@tamu.edu.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by January 29, 2021 receiving priority attention.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8384

The College of Idaho

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Political Economy

The College of Idaho's Department of Political Economy invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position that will commence in Fall 2021. The person hired in this VAP role will be encouraged to apply for the tenure-track position the Department hopes to search for in the 2021-22 academic year.

The Department approaches political economy in a broad theoretical manner similar to early modern thinkers such as John Locke, Adam Smith, and Karl Marx. We emphasize the intricate relationships between politics and economics while embracing cross-disciplinary research and dialogue. We are open to approaches including area studies, historical institutionalism, heterodox economics, institutional economics, public policy analysis, and value research methods that emphasize the analysis of real-world data over formal modeling.

The primary responsibility of this position will be to support the Department's International Political Economy major. The successful candidate will teach at least one introductory course as well as Political Economy of Development and International Political Economy at the upper level. Ability to offer upper-level area studies or regional survey courses on the Middle East, Africa, Latin America, or Europe is also highly desirable. The teaching load is 3-3 with an additional short January-term topics course based on the candidate's expertise. The position includes professional development support for research and conference travel.

Successful candidates will have an active research agenda while demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition. They will join a student-centered department where teaching and mentoring are valued as the highest priority. Such mentorship has recently led students in the department to Marshall, Truman, and Rhodes scholarships as well as to national recognition of departmental faculty for teaching excellence.

A Ph.D. is required in International Relations, International Political Economy, Political Science, Economics, Sociology, or other related fields in international studies. Advanced ABD applicants will be considered.

Applications must include letter of interest, CV, statement demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition, sample syllabi, recent course evaluations, a statement on inclusivity in the classroom, and at least three letters of recommendation. Candidates must be authorized to work in the United States as of the expected hire date and throughout the date of the contract without sponsorship from The College of Idaho.

Application review will begin January 25, 2021 and continue until the position has been filled. Please submit application materials via email to hr@collegeofidaho.edu with subject 'Political Economy Search.'

With over 130 years of history, The College of Idaho is a regional and national leader in higher education. The College of Idaho is an inclusive community of exceptional learning that challenges the ambitious and forges pathways to success and purpose. To learn more about The College of Idaho, please visit www.collegeofidaho.edu.

The College of Idaho is proud to be an equal opportunity employer. We are committed to attracting, retaining, and maximizing the performance of a diverse and inclusive workforce. Our Representation, Inclusion, and Equity Statement can be viewed by clicking here.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/25/2021

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8386

Brandeis University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics at Brandeis University invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in academic year 2021-2022. This position is subject to budget approval. We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests focus on International Security. Duties include the teaching of undergraduate and graduate courses in International Relations, including Introduction to International Relations and U.S. Foreign Policy (or U.S. National Security); undergraduate thesis advising; graduate student advising; doctoral dissertation supervision; and university and departmental service. The course load is two courses per semester.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in hand by August 2021. Applicants should submit a cover letter; curriculum vitae; a statement of research and teaching interests (including potential course offerings and, where available, syllabi and student evaluations); a statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion; two chapters or article-length writing samples; and names and contact information for three referees. Brandeis University is committed to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and service. In the statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion, applicants should address how their experiences, interests, commitments, or future goals could promote and build departmental and institutional pluralism, justice, and unity.

Only online applications will be accepted. Application materials may be uploaded here: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17732>. First consideration will be given to applications received by 31 January 2021. Questions about the position can be directed to: Kerry Chase (chase@brandeis.edu), Chair, Search Committee on International Relations.

At Brandeis, we believe that diversity, equity, and inclusion are essential components of academic excellence. Brandeis University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer that is committed to creating equitable access and opportunities for applicants to all employment positions. Because diversity, equity, and inclusion are at the core of Brandeis' history and mission, we value and are seeking candidates with a variety of social identities, including those that have been underrepresented in higher education, who possess skills that spark innovation, and who, through their scholarly pursuits, teaching, and/or service experiences, bring expertise in building, engaging and sustaining a pluralistic, unified, and just campus community.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8377

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Department Chair and Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Chair

Defense Analysis Department

Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA

The Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) is accepting applications for the position of Professor and Chair of the Defense Analysis Department (DA). NPS and the DA Department provide graduate education to military officers of the uniformed services, Department of Defense civilians, and members of the international defense community.

The DA Department is an interdisciplinary department providing graduate curricula focused on analytic approaches to the study of defense, with particular emphasis on irregular warfare, information strategy, and political warfare. The mission of the DA Department is to provide graduate education through qualitative and quantitative curricula to produce professionals with the advanced critical thinking and problem-solving skills needed to meet evolving national security challenges.

The Defense Analysis Department is the academic home to approximately fifty tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty and staff employees. The duties of the chair include: providing strategic direction for the department; representing the department internally at NPS and externally to various educational, military, and research stakeholders; building and maintaining relationships with institutional and operational organizations across the joint force; engaging with and shaping the education of the nearly 150 students on board at any time; and fulfilling all administrative tasks associated with the supervisory role.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Doctoral degree in a field connected to the study of irregular warfare and armed conflict, such as international relations, security studies, political science, history, sociology, economics, anthropology, psychology, philosophy, or related fields.
- Must be a U.S. citizen and capable of obtaining a security clearance.
- A proven record of scholarship, instruction, and leadership in the candidate's field.
- Leadership experience in an academic organization.
- An academic record that would merit an appointment as a Professor with tenure upon arrival.
- Track record or demonstrable potential for building and maintaining collaborative relationships with institutional partners.

Additional preferred qualifications:

- Currently holding or be immediately eligible for a Top Secret clearance.
- Experience working in or with the U.S. Department of Defense.

We are accepting applications through February 15, 2020. Candidates should submit their materials to: mefreema@nps.edu. E-mail subject heading: DA Chair Search. Include: 1) a cover letter describing the applicant's qualifications for this position, 2) a comprehensive curriculum vitae or resume, and 3) contact and e-mail address information for a minimum of three references. The application material shall clearly state the applicant's citizenship.

Relocation expenses, including recruitment/relocation incentive, may be authorized in accordance with applicable regulations.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience while tied to the federal government compensation policies for the position and location. Applicants with foreign education will be required to select from a list of private organizations that are members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services, Inc. (NACES), which provide foreign education evaluations acceptable to NPS.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>.

Veteran status is treated as a positive merit factor for NPS faculty positions. We strongly encourage you to indicate if you are a veteran in your application when applying to NPS positions and you must provide a copy of your signed DD-214 (member 4 copy), Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, or other acceptable documentation.

Current active duty service members are required to submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service must provide the branch of service, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will be ineligible if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days from the date of application.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 8383

Duke University

Rank: Program Coordinator

The Triangle Institute for Security Studies (TISS) invites applicants for a Program Coordinator. TISS is a consortium of Duke University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC-CH), North Carolina State University (NCSU), and North Carolina Central University (NCCU), founded in 1958. Its mission is to enhance understanding of national and international security and build bridges across cultural and intellectual divides, and in particular, between the civilian and the military communities. Toward these ends, TISS fosters student engagement, high-impact scholarship, and public outreach on critical issues of national and international security.

The Program Coordinator will work directly with the faculty Directors of the Triangle Institute for Security Studies to plan and manage events; develop faculty research collaborations; seek external funding, including preparing grant applications; and broaden and diversify the Triangle Institute's engagement with core constituents. In addition, the Program Coordinator will be responsible for managing the Institute's finances, including tracking all income and expenditures, budgeting for key events, compiling expense and budget status reports, and preparing reports for external sponsors.

The position provides the opportunity to work closely with faculty and students at consortium universities, as well as with professionals in the military, intelligence, and national security fields. Dependent on candidate interests and qualifications, the Program Coordinator may have opportunities to pursue their own research on national and international security issues, participate in collaborative research projects, or teach a course at one of the consortium institutions. In addition, this role will provide access to academic resources and Duke University facilities, professional development opportunities, and office space at the Sanford School of Public Policy.

We seek candidates with a demonstrated interest in and understanding of national and international security issues, administrative experience, and strong interpersonal communication skills. A master's degree or Ph.D. in political science, history, public policy, or a related field preferred.

This position is  $\frac{3}{4}$  time (30 hours/week, flexible) and offers a competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for two years with the possibility for renewal. The start date is negotiable, and could be as early as January 2021.

All applicants should apply to position number 77688 through the Duke Careers website <https://career4.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=77688&company=dukeuniverP1>. Applicants should also submit a CV or resume, letter of interest, and contact information for three references at https://duke.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_bwOFXnKZqymsYfz.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Applications will begin to be evaluated after 15 December 2020. Please direct any further questions about this position to Dr. Kyle Beardsley (kyle.beardsley@duke.edu).

Start Date: Spring 2021

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8372

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science/College of Letters and Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Lecturer Pool - Department of Political Science/College of Letters and Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a pool of qualified temporary lecturers to teach courses as needed in the areas of American Politics, California Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology & Formal Theory, Political Theory & Philosophy, Models & Politics, Political Behavior, Public Law & Jurisprudence, and Public Policy & Organization.

The number of positions varies from semester to semester, depending on the needs of the department. Positions may range from 33% to 100%, depending on the number of classes being taught.

Appointments typically start at the beginning of the semester and may be renewed based on need, funding, and performance.

General Duties: In addition to teaching responsibilities, general duties include holding office hours, assigning grades, advising students, preparing course materials (e.g. syllabus), and maintaining a course website.

Basic Qualifications: Bachelor's degree (or equivalent international degree) is required at the time of application.

Preferred Qualifications: Completion of all Ph.D. (or international equivalent) degree requirements except dissertation at the time of application or, full-time paid political experience of at least 4 years within the last 10 years. Experience teaching remotely is a plus.

Salary: Initial salary will be based on applicant's teaching experience. The current minimum salary for an academic-year full-time annual salary is $56,381. Lecturers teaching one course in a single semester are typically appointed at a 17% annual rate.

The department is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching. UC Berkeley has a number of policies and programs in place to support employees as they balance work and family.

To apply, please go to the following link: <https://apptrkr.com/2089174>. Letters of reference may be solicited for finalists.

When and if the department contacts references, all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (<http://apo.berkeley.edu/evaltr.html>) prior to submitting their letters.

The department typically reviews applications for fall course needs in April/May, for spring course needs in October/November, and for summer course needs in February/March. Summer session classes are held during the months of May-August.

Please note: The use of a lecturer pool does not guarantee that an open position exists. See the review date specified in AP Recruit to learn whether the department is currently reviewing applications for a specific position. If there is no future review date specified, your application may not be considered at this time.

Please direct questions to Kristine Nera at <mailto:knera@berkeley.edu>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-7d464038b5295a4aab92cf71d35a6db5>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8374

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Assistant Director and Senior Research Fellow

Assistant Director and Senior Research Fellow, Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC)

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) invites applications for a unique combination administrative and research position to support the Center's growing portfolio of scholarly and other activities. Significant teaching opportunities may be available as well.

This initial three year appointment will be equally divided between assisting the Director and the principals with various aspects of NDISC's expanding administrative portfolio – particularly our new Hans J. Morgenthau Fellows program -- while pursuing a robust research agenda in some aspect of “Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy.”

By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of the issues in innovative ways. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

The position offers a competitive salary, benefits, and significant professional support. The initial appointment is for up to three years. We are particularly eager to receive applications from women and minority scholars.

All applicants should submit a CV, letter of interest outlining not only the candidate's administrative experience and interest but also their research agenda and scholarly objectives for the period of their appointment, a brief (10,000 words) writing sample, and have three reference letters. Applicants who also wish to be considered for the NDISC post-doctoral fellowship should apply through Interfolio. Applications received by January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. Please direct any further questions about this position to Michael Desch at mdesch@nd.edu.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/81748>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8371

German Development Institute

Rank: Senior Researcher

The German Development Institute / Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE) is one of the leading research institutes on development policy. Through excellent research, policy advice and training, the Institute contributes to finding solutions to global challenges.

DIE's research programme “Transformation of political (dis-)order” is looking for a

Senior Researcher (m/f/diverse) – Position number 2020-D-02

Full time 100% (39 hours/week); permanent position

Salary from 55.000 p.a. up to 80.000 p.a.

(German public sector tariff, up to TVöD Bund 14 depending on qualifications)

The position, located in Bonn, may be filled as of April 1, 2021.

The selected senior researcher will work on the change and stability of political orders with a focus on processes of democratization and autocratization in the Global South. In particular, we seek a scholar with expertise on international support and protection of democracy, and the effects of different regime types. Additional areas of interest are the role of political values and attitudes in political transformation, as well as the interplay between informal and formal institutions. A track record of excellent empirical research and experience in leading research teams as well as acquiring third party funding are key criteria. We also require excellent communication skills since advising policy-makers on implications of research findings, as well as building networks are substantial parts of the position. The researcher will also teach in the DIE Postgraduate Course and the Managing Global Governance School. University teaching is desirable. Personal characteristics of a good team player is essential.

Qualifications and requirements:

- Excellent academic record based on a PhD, ideally in political science or other related social sciences;
- An excellent academic record with international peer-reviewed publications on topics relevant for the position;
- An excellent command of quantitative and/or qualitative methods; demonstrated experience with mixed-method designs is an asset;
- Substantial knowledge and experience in one or more of the following issue areas: regime change (democratization and autocratization); democracy promotion; performance of political regimes; values and attitudes; social cohesion;
- Research and field experience in developing countries;
- Proven skills and experience in policy advice, preferably in the context of international cooperation;

- Ability to build and maintain networks at the science policy interface;
- Experience in teaching;
- Excellent English skills (spoken and written) and good knowledge of German; good knowledge in another major international language is an asset;
- Eagerness to work on an interdisciplinary team;
- Excellent communication skills;
- Willingness and aptness to travel abroad, including countries with a tropical climate (Tropentauglichkeit“).

We offer:

- Flexible working hours with a weekly working time of 39 hours (100%);
- Possibility to use a job ticket and a good connection to public transport;
- Trainings for further professional development;
- Company pension scheme with the VBLU;
- A modern and very stimulating workplace with an exciting working atmosphere.

The German Development Institute / Deutsches Institut für Entwicklungspolitik (DIE) offers an inspiring, family-friendly working environment at the interface of research and policy advice, with ample opportunities to engage in international discussions, political processes and scientific debates.

In the case of equal qualification, physically challenged persons will be given preference.

For further questions, please contact Dr. Julia Leininger, julia.leininger@die-gdi.de

Applications with the position number 2020-D-02 with detailed documents (cover letter, curriculum vitae, relevant certificates) must be submitted exclusively via application portal by 15th Dezember 2020.

APPLICATION PORTAL: https://www.onlinebewerbungsserver.de/ApplyForm/AppStart.aspx?c=F4\_B8\_FFF\_C6\_D0\_F1YF\_0E\_92D\_1Dh\_D2\_A9\_88\_0DM\_A1\_B0\_1D\_13P\_AF\_AA\_AE\_7Eg\_07\_25\_5FXM\_0C\_9C\_B8\_F3\_86\_5Db\_05\_3C\_95\_09wJ\_07

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 12/15/2020

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: $90,000 - $99,999

eJobs ID: 8357

London School of Economics

Rank: Research Officer

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Political Behavior, Religion & Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Research Officer

(Socioeconomics of Islamist Radicalization in the West project)

Salary: from £36,647 to £44,140 per annum with the potential to progress to £47,456 per annum including London allowance

This is a fixed term appointment from September 2021 to August 2023

The LSE Department of Government seeks to appoint a Research Officer (Postdoctoral Researcher) to join the Socioeconomics of Islamist Radicalization in the West (SOCIR) project under the supervision of Prof. Steffen Hertog. SOCIR is a 4-year project led by Prof. Hertog as well as Prof. Gudrun Ostby (PRIO), and Dr. Thomas Hegghammer (FFI) that investigates the relationship between social status and radicalization among Western-born and bred Islamist radicals.

The Research Officer will conduct collaborative and independent research in line with SOCIR's research programme, with special focus on data management and analysis. The officer will have access to the project's dataset also for their own research.

Candidates should have a PhD or be close to completion of a PhD by the post start date, excellent quantitative research methods skills, and a research portfolio covering the fields of political violence, conflict, radicalization or, more broadly, the relationships between socio-economic status and political mobilization. Proficiency in R is required and proficiency in STATA desirable, as is expertise in techniques of causal identification with observational data. Evidence of a methodical approach to work with excellent attention to detail. Excellent written and oral communications and presentation skills. Proficiency in European languages other than English is desirable.

The successful candidate is expected to start in September 2021.

Please see the person specification for further details on the essential and desirable criteria. We offer an occupational pension scheme, generous annual leave and excellent training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/2054/0/283053/15539/research-officer>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, or would like a more detailed project description for SOCIR, please email Professor Steffen Hertog (s.hertog@lse.ac.uk).

The closing date for receipt of applications is 4th January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Interviews are likely to take place in January/February 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8361

Georgia Southern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor of Political Science—Search # 67796

College of Behavior and Social Sciences, Department of Political Science and International Studies

The Department of Political Science and International Studies in the College of Behavior and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. The home campus for this position will be the Statesboro campus.

Georgia Southern University is a distinctive combination of Southern charm and uncompromising academics. We are a Carnegie Doctoral/R2 institution serving about 26,500 students through nine colleges on three beautiful oak-lined campuses in Statesboro, Savannah, Hinesville, and via a growing online program. Throughout its degree offerings at the associate's, bachelor's, master's, and doctoral levels, Georgia Southern cultivates community collaboration, world-class scholarship and hands-on learning opportunities.

Georgia Southern University was founded in 1906 as a school for teaching modern agricultural production techniques and homemaking skills to rural school children. Its Savannah campus was established in 1935 as Armstrong Junior College for local youth who could not afford to attend college away from home. The Liberty Center in Hinesville was established in 1998 to serve the military and their families at nearby Fort Stewart, the largest military base east of the Mississippi. All three locations came together in 2018 when Armstrong State University and Georgia Southern University consolidated. The "new" Georgia Southern University preserves a passion for serving its neighbors while preparing students for lifelong service as scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities.

Believing that diversity, equity, and inclusion contribute to excellence in the workplace and to the quality of the University's academic environment, Georgia Southern University is committed to recruiting and retaining diverse faculty and staff to support, promote, and serve a diverse student body and promote Inclusive Excellence. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, whose work furthers the institution's Inclusive Excellence goals and who bring to campus varied life experiences, perspectives, and backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply. The Department of Political Science and International Studies embraces a commitment to inclusive excellence, including, but not limited to: creating an equitable and inclusive environment for students, staff, and colleagues; increasing representation of diverse students, faculty, staff, and community partners at all levels of the University; facilitating access to achievement, success and recognition of underrepresented students, colleagues, staff, and alumni; and implementing strong, genuine, and consistently communicated culturally inclusive practices that reinforce the Inclusive Excellence Action Plan of the University.

Within this setting, the fundamental mission of the Department of Political Science and International Studies is to prepare our students for their future roles as active and responsible citizens. We focus on developing in our students a core understanding of politics at all levels of government, both within the United States and internationally. Additionally, a commitment to quality scholarship and service to our students, the University, professional organizations and the community are important means by which we prepare our students for citizenship in our region, our state, our country and our world.

Position Description. Reporting to the Department Chair, the Assistant Professor of Political Science requires teaching, service, and research responsibilities as well as a terminal degree. In addition, the successful candidate is expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in the department; serve on honor's and master's theses; provide service to the community; mentor students; serve on department, college, and university committees; engage in scholarship/creative activity leading to presentations at professional meetings and publications in peer-reviewed journals; and be actively involved in professional associations and outreach activities. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Qualifications:

- Earned Ph.D. in Political Science, or closely related field, by August 1, 2021
- Evidence of college/university teaching excellence
- Evidence of potential for strong publication record
- Effective communication skills
- Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives
- Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development
- Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution

Preferred Qualifications:

- Regional specialization in Africana or African Politics (not Europe, Latin America, Southeast Asia, South Asia, or MENA)
- Teaching and research specialization in comparative political economy
- Ability to teach introductory course in American Government
- Ability to teach Introduction to Political Science or Political Methodology
- Ability to teach online courses
- Record of extramural funding commensurate with experience

Screening of applications begins January 31, 2021 and continues until the position is filled. The preferred position starting date is August 1, 2021. To equitably serve a fast growing and highly diverse student body and to fulfill the University's commitment to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion, we actively seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to Pillar 3 of our University Strategic Plan: Inclusive Excellence.

A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; a sample of written work and teaching evaluations; and at least three letters of recommendation from professional references. In addition, applicants are required to submit an Inclusive Excellence statement (2 pages). In the Inclusive Excellence statement, applicants should reflect on their experience, vision, and commitment regarding teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds and discuss past, current, and future contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion in the areas of research, teaching, service, and outreach. Other documentation may be requested. Only complete applications submitted electronically will be considered. Finalists will be required to submit to a background investigation. Applications and nominations should be sent to:

Dr. José de Arimatéia da Cruz, Search Chair, Search # 67796
Georgia Southern University
Electronic mail: jdacruz@georgiasouthern.edu
Telephone: 912-344-2679

More information about the institution is available through <http://www.georgiasouthern.edu> or Department of Political Science and International Studies. The names of applicants and nominees, vitae, and other non-evaluative information may be subject to public inspection under the Georgia Open Records Act. Georgia Southern University provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. Individuals who need reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act to participate in the search process should notify Human Resources at 912-478-6947.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8354

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher: History of Slavery in the City of London

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: History & Politics, International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy

Nuffield College seeks a Postdoctoral Researcher to research the role of the City of London and its commercial institutions in the ecosystem of the transatlantic slave trade and ownership. Co-funded by the global law firm Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer LLP, and under the supervision of Professor Andrew Thompson (Professor of Imperial and Global History, Nuffield College), the researcher will contribute to the growing body of scholarly literature on British imperialism and its intersection with transatlantic slavery, exploring the past and bringing it into close dialogue with the present.

We seek a researcher whose interests and experience align with the broad domains of: British economics and the role of commercial entities in the City of London in the context of Transatlantic slavery; international slave ownership in Britain from early 1700s to mid-1800s, and contemporary British politics with reference to electoral reform, the abolition of slavery, abolitionism and pro-slavery groups, and the slavery compensation scheme.

The researcher will conduct independent original research in areas relevant to the overarching research programme, leading the design, conduct, and interpretation of research, and identifying further areas of relevant research. The researcher will publish research results, authoring or co-authoring working papers and academic journal articles, and pieces aimed at non-academic audiences. The researcher will present research results at seminars, workshops, and conferences, including relevant Freshfields events, and Black History Month and City of London events. The researcher will develop working relationships with individuals; financial, legal and commercial institutions; and archival centres. The researcher may also undertake ad hoc paid teaching or supervision within the collegiate University in Oxford.

Applicants should hold, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant discipline such as history, political science, or economics including economic and social history. They should have extensive archival research skills, familiarity with private-sector organisations' archives, and experience of independent fieldwork. The ability to conduct high-quality academic research evidenced in scholarly writing and publications in peer-reviewed journals commensurate with the applicant's career stage is essential. Applicants should have the ability to distil complex research results for non-academic readers, an aptitude for cross-disciplinary working, and the ability to work collaboratively with non-academic partners, particularly in financial and legal contexts. Applicants should possess excellent oral and written communication skills, organisational skills, and exemplary interpersonal skills with the ability to work within a small research team and under their own initiative. Experience of legal history, of authoring successful funding bids, or of collaborative working with private sector companies or commercial institutions is desirable. Applications are particularly welcome from candidates of Black African or Black African-Caribbean heritage (including mixed heritage) who are currently underrepresented in research posts in the College.

The post is full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 May 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter. Applications from candidates who wish to hold the post on a part-time basis will also be considered. The salary will be GBP 34,804 p.a. (pro-rated as appropriate). The post will be based at Nuffield College.

Further particulars and application instructions are available on the College website at <https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/4370/jd-pr-hsc.pdf>

The closing date for applications is Monday 11 January 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/11/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8342

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship on the Future of Conflict (Empirical Studies of Conflict Project)

Specializations: Economic Policy, Environmental Policy, Political Economy

Postdoctoral Fellowship on the Future of Conflict (with Empirical Studies of Conflict Project).

The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) and the Empirical Studies of Conflict Project (ESOC) seek applicants for a Postdoctoral Fellowship position. This position provides the opportunity to work closely with Crisis Group experts and ESOC academic researchers. The fellowship will entail empirical research, policy analysis, and engagement with policymakers to prevent, resolve or better manage deadly conflict. The fellow will contribute directly to Crisis Group reports. We are particularly interested in three thematic areas: the economic causes and consequences of conflict, the relationship between climate change and conflict, and the role of new technologies in conflict. We are open to geographic focuses on the countries/regions Crisis Group covers across Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Middle East (see www.crisisgroup.org).

Once COVID-19 travel-related restrictions are lifted, the fellow will be primarily based in one of Crisis Group's offices in Brussels, DC, London or New York -- with travel as needed for the field research -- or in a Crisis Group regional office as appropriate based on geographic focus area. In addition, the fellow will regularly interact with ESOC members relevant to their research and actively collaborate with a multi-university team of scholars who are conducting cutting edge research on the causes and consequences of politically motivated conflict through the production, aggregation, and dissemination of high-resolution data on historical and current conflicts.

We seek candidates with exceptional potential to thrive in a demanding policy role while advancing their own cutting-edge research. Candidates should be on track to complete a PhD in economics, political science, public policy or a related discipline by June 2021, or have recently completed their PhD. Preference will be given to scholars with a successful track record of international field research and econometric analysis in the areas of political violence, governance, or development, and demonstrated experience and interest in policy analysis. Relevant language skills and regional experience will be taken into account.

Candidates should apply by January 1, 2021 through this website.

Your cover letter of no more than 3 pages, should address both regional and thematic interests, including expertise in one or more priority areas: the economic causes and consequences of conflict, the relationship between climate change and conflict, and the role of new technologies in conflict.

The start date is negotiable but no sooner than April 2021.

To apply, please visit:

<https://jobs.crisisgroup.org/o/postdoctoral-fellowship-on-the-future-of-conflict-with-empirical-studies-of-conflict-project>

Potential applicants unfamiliar with ESOC's research program are welcome to contact Professor Jacob N. Shapiro (jns@princeton.edu) and to visit <http://esoc.princeton.edu/> to learn more.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/1/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8341

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral/predoctoral fellowship

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

The Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law seeks applications for its pre- and postdoctoral fellowship program for 2021-22. Pre-doctoral students at the write-up stage and post-doctoral scholars working in program areas of democracy, development, and rule of law are welcome to apply. We are particularly interested in projects that investigate the relationship of race and democracy or race and rule of law, in the United States or elsewhere. The Center expects to award two or more fellowships for the 2021-2022 academic year.

Please find the CDDRL fellowship application here: https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/graduate\_programs

The application is available online here: https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/stanford\_cddrl\_fellowship\_21

Post-doctoral fellows receive salaries commensurate with experience and with consideration given to university established minimums for a term period of 9 months. Pre-doctoral fellows receive stipends comparable to that awarded by the Stanford Graduate Fellowships program; the Center also pays non-matriculated student tuition for pre-doctoral fellows as required by Stanford University. Healthcare and other benefits are also provided as required by Stanford University for both pre- and post doctoral fellows.

Fellows spend the academic year at Stanford University completing their projects, participating in seminars, and interacting with each other and the resident faculty and research staff. The Center facilities on the Stanford campus include offices and cubicles. Fellows have access to other Stanford libraries as well as exercise facilities.

Eligibility

Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled currently in a doctoral program or equivalent through the time of intended residency at Stanford, and must be at the dissertation write up (post course work) phase of their doctoral program. Post-doctoral fellows must have earned their PhD within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their Ph.D. dissertations by July 31, 2021.

Application Process

The application deadline for the 2021-22 academic year is Friday, December 18, 2020. The CDDRL Pre and Postdoctoral Fellowship program uses the WizeHive application system to manage all incoming applications. Applicants are required to submit a completed application form, letter of application of no more than 3 typed pages, current CV, three letters of recommendations, a statement of proposed research (5-10 pages) and a complete set of transcripts (undergraduate and graduate).

All pre- and postdoctoral applicants must also include official PhD transcript. Please mail your official transcript using a dossier service offered through your university or Interfolio.

CDDRL Mailing Address:

Encina Hall
616 Jane Stanford Way, C141
Stanford, CA 94305

Center Committee will only review complete files. Notifications will be sent in mid to late-February.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/18/2020

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8352

Macalester College

Rank: International Relations

Macalester College

Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor
Political Science (International Relations)

The Macalester College Department of Political Science invites applications for a visiting position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor (PhD) or Visiting Instructor (ABD), for the 2021-2022 academic year. Candidates should have, or be close to completing, a PhD in Political Science with a focus on international relations. We are especially interested in candidates who would further diversify our faculty and curriculum. The position is in Macalester's Political Science department but may also contribute to other interdisciplinary programs at Macalester.

The teaching load is five courses per year, and should include Foundations of International Politics, Global Political Economy, and other international relations courses. The candidate would likely teach the introductory course both Fall and Spring semesters, to reduce their number of course preparations.

Inquiries and applications can be directed to Professor Paul Dosh, Chair of Political Science, dosh@macalester.edu. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, up to 3 letters of reference, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The cover letter should indicate which courses the applicant is prepared to teach. Applications are due no later than February 1, 2021.

Salary and benefits are competitive, and the Political Science department is committed to mentoring visiting faculty; past visitors have found their time at Macalester to be a strong launching pad from which to secure tenure-track positions at other institutions. Macalester College and the Political Science department are committed to student and faculty diversity, equity, and inclusion. As an Equal Opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

Macalester College is a highly selective, private liberal arts college in the vibrant Minneapolis-Saint Paul metropolitan area, with a population of approximately three million people and home to numerous colleges and universities, including the University of Minnesota. Macalester's diverse student body comprises over 2,000 undergraduates from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and 95 nations. The College maintains a longstanding commitment to academic excellence with a special emphasis on internationalism, multiculturalism, and service to society.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/1/2021

Date Posted: 11/25/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8332

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Security

Assistant Professor, International Security

Location: Norman, OK

Position Type: Faculty

Position URL <http://apply.interfolio.com/81250>

Position Description

The University of Oklahoma's Department of International and Area Studies, a multidisciplinary academic department in the College of International Studies, invites applications for an Assistant Professor position focused on international security beginning August 2021. We are particularly interested in international security scholars working on the intersection of technology and security, national security policy, and/or US foreign policy.

The person hired for this position will teach thematic undergraduate and MA-level courses in international security and their areas of expertise, as well as participate in OU's recent research initiative in Aerospace, Defense, and Global Security, which is part of the university's new strategic plan (<https://ou.edu/leadonhttps://ou.edu/leadon>). We hope to welcome a new colleague with a demonstrated commitment to fostering inclusivity and mentoring members of underrepresented groups. Salary is competitive, with the appointment beginning on August 16, 2021. The teaching load will be two courses per semester (2-2).

The Department of International and Area Studies (IAS) has approximately 350 majors and minors, an MA in International Studies with 30 students, and an online Global Affairs MA with over 100 students. The Department has 23 full-time faculty with collective research strengths in the areas of development, security, national identity, and critical area studies. For more information, please visit the IAS website at <https://www.ou.edu/content/cis/ias.html>. The University of Oklahoma (OU) is a comprehensive public research university, with a Carnegie classification of very high research activity, known for excellence in teaching and research. OU enrolls over 30,000 students and has more than 2700 full-time faculty members in 21 colleges.

Norman is a culturally rich and vibrant town located just outside Oklahoma City. For more information, visit <http://www.ou.edu/content/dam/provost/documents/facultyflipbook.pdf> and <https://www.ou.edu/irr/fact-books>.

Review of applications will begin January 18, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. The University of Oklahoma is committed to achieving a diverse, equitable, and inclusive university community by embracing each person's unique contributions, background and perspectives. The University of Oklahoma recognizes that fostering an inclusive environment for all, with particular attention to the needs of historically marginalized populations, is vital to the pursuit of excellence in all aspects of our institutional mission. This enhances the OU experience for all students, faculty and staff and for the communities we engage.

Qualifications
Applicants should have a Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment and knowledge in international relations and/or international security is required.

Application Instructions
Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, statements of teaching and research interests, list of at least 3 references, complete teaching evaluations for at least one course, a writing sample, and a statement on diversity, equity and inclusion.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, housing, services in educational programs or activities, or health care services that the University operates or provides.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/25/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8331

Vienna School of International Studies

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellows in International Studies – History, Law or Political Science

The Vienna School of International Studies (Diplomatische Akademie Wien) is proposing the appointment of two Postdoctoral Fellows in International Studies for two years, from 23 September 2021. Geared towards promoting the professional development of the appointee, he/she will focus on his/her own research and do a limited amount of graduate teaching.

The successful candidates must hold – or have evidence of the imminent completion of – a doctorate in History, Law or Political Science. One successful candidate will have expertise in European Studies, preferably with a background in Political Science. Our School interprets International Studies broadly. Applications from all disciplines mentioned above are welcome.

A record of research achievement at the international level, a strong agenda for future research and previous teaching experience – preferably at graduate level – are essential.

The Vienna School of International Studies is a professional school, specialised in the interdisciplinary training of graduate students, and an associate member of APSIA. The presence of international organizations in Vienna makes for excellent research opportunities, in particular for research dealing with diplomacy, governance and multilateralism broadly defined.

The closing date for applications is Monday, 31 January 2021, midnight.

Please apply online at <https://application.da-vienna.ac.at/postdoc/> Application. Your curriculum vitae, your research agenda (5-10 pages), and teaching documentation (e.g. syllabi of courses taught, student evaluations, statement on teaching philosophy, etc) may be sent to us by e-mail (postdoc@da-vienna.ac.at) or mail (Genny Chiarandon, Vienna School of International Studies, Favoritenstrasse 15a, 1040 Vienna, Austria). Please also make sure that we receive three letters of recommendation (e-mailed directly by your referees/dossier service, or mailed in a sealed envelope).

For further details, please contact Genny Chiarandon (see above address).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/25/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8334

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations/Political Science

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Geneva, Switzerland invites applications for a tenure track full-time position at the rank of starting on 1 September 2021 or a mutually agreed-upon date.

Assistant Professor of

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS/POLITICAL SCIENCE

The successful candidate will be affiliated to the Department of International Relations/Political Science. We have a particular interest in research on the functioning of, and challenges to, (global, national) democracy and democratic processes broadly conceived. This includes democratic consolidations and transitions, (transnational) activism, participatory political processes, political fragmentation, populism, electoral and movement politics as well as ethical and applied concerns in democratic justifications. A focus on the Global South and/or Global South/Global North interactions is particularly welcome.

The successful candidate will teach postgraduate courses and supervise master's dissertations and PhD theses in the Department of International Relations/Political Science. They may also be called upon to teach classes and supervise master's dissertations in interdisciplinary programmes as well as contribute to executive education programmes. The candidate should be interested in interdisciplinary dialogue. An ability to conduct policy-relevant research is also welcome.

Prior to the start of the position, candidates must have been awarded a PhD or equivalent degree, preferably in Political Science, International Relations, or a related discipline.

The teaching language is either English or French. Prior knowledge of French is not required, but the successful candidate is expected to acquire a passive knowledge of it within two years of being hired.

Application deadline: 31 January 2021.

To apply: <https://erecruit.graduateinstitute.ch/professeurs/>

For more information, candidates are encouraged to consult the Institute's website: graduateinstitute.ch

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/24/2020

Salary: $130,000 - $139,999

eJobs ID: 8329

Christopher Newport University

Rank: Political Science Faculty Position (Rank Open) and Director of the Reiff Center

Christopher Newport University invites applications for the position of Political Science Faculty and Director of the Reiff Center, effective August 2021. The successful candidate will have an appointment in the Department of Political Science with teaching and research responsibilities in the areas of international human rights, conflict resolution, ethnic conflict, and genocide studies. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research with undergraduates. In addition, applicants must have a promising scholarly agenda and commitment to taking an active part in the life and work of the University. The duties of this position will also include administrative leadership of the Reiff Center. The Reiff Center's mission is to pursue the study of ethnic conflict, conflict resolution, human rights violations, and genocide through research, campus visits by those with expertise and/or experience in these areas, classes investigating these subjects, and study abroad experiences for students interested in these topics. The Reiff Center currently has an endowment of more than one million dollars. Named in honor of Dr. Theodore R. Reiff, a retired physician, medical educator, and researcher, the Center applies historical, political, social, and international perspectives to its initiatives. For more information visit <https://cnu.edu/reiffcenter/>.

74

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

The nominal teaching load is 2-2. An earned Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required for appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor. Exceptionally well-qualified candidates will be considered for appointment at a higher rank with tenure. Phi Beta Kappa membership is highly desirable.

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University is composed of 11 dedicated faculty members whose research represents the core areas of the discipline including American politics, comparative politics and international relations, and political theory. Our 300 majors have produced research that has been nationally recognized, and many attend prestigious law and graduate schools and go on to successful careers in law, higher education, as well as local, state, and federal government. The Department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, as well as three minors in Political Science, Human Rights and Conflict Resolution, and U.S. National Security Studies. Candidates wishing to know more about the department and its academic programs are invited to visit <https://cnu.edu/academics/departments/politicalscience/>.

CNU is committed to outstanding teaching and learning, undergraduate education, and the liberal studies core; The Fall 2020 freshman class of 1,155 students was selected from 7,300 admission applications, and presented average high school GPA and SAT scores of 3.8 and 1184, respectively. The University has a new and technologically advanced campus, located between Colonial Williamsburg and the Virginia coast. The campus integrates the University's liberal arts vision, nurturing mind, body, and spirit. Facilities include the state-of-the-art Tribble Library; three new academic buildings including a newly opened integrated science building; the Freeman Center athletic complex; and the I.M. Pei-designed Ferguson Center for the Arts, which brings to Virginia the finest performing artists in the world. Opening in 2021 and adjoining the Ferguson Center, the $57 million Fine Arts Center will house over 7,500 sq. ft of gallery exhibition space, state-of-the-art teaching and museum learning spaces, studios and classrooms. It will serve the university community and the entire Peninsula region.

Our faculty enjoy an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect that rewards outstanding teaching and fosters active intellectual and creative engagement. Christopher Newport is committed to ensuring that all people are welcomed, honored and fully engaged in the life of our academic community. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty and encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in their profession. Faculty are productive scholars and researchers, supported by professional development funds. Faculty and administrators regularly consult and collaborate as the University works to sustain a culture of scholarly inquiry, informed debate, and civic action that enriches students, faculty, and the surrounding community. The result is a supportive and cohesive academic setting in which the University cultivates and carries forward its mission. The University is among the highest ranked in the nation for its quality of life and innovative spirit. Competitive salary with excellent health and retirement benefits and a well-designed family leave policy further enhance the workplace. For further information, please visit our website at <http://www.cnu.edu>.

To apply, please visit <https://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/> to upload a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (photocopies acceptable for initial screening), statement of teaching philosophy, a one-page statement articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. (Letters should be uploaded with application materials or emailed to facultyrecruitment@cnu.edu). Letters of reference will be the only documents accepted via email.

Review of applications will begin on January 3, 2021.

Applications received after January 3, 2021 will be accepted but considered only if needed.

Search finalists are required to complete a CNU sponsored background check.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/3/2021

Date Posted: 11/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8325

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Grand Strategy, Security, and Statecraft Fellow

Grand Strategy, Security, and Statecraft Fellows Program

With the support of the Charles Koch Foundation, the MIT Security Studies Program and the Belfer Center for Science and International Affairs are now accepting applications for joint two-year, pre- and post-doctoral fellowships in "the Project on Grand Strategy, Security and Statecraft." (<https://ssp.mit.edu/about/fellowships/statecraft-fellows-program> Link to detailed description and application process&lt;/a>). Applications for 2021-2022 fellowships are being accepted until January 22, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/22/2021

Date Posted: 11/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8302

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Dean of Social Science

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, Social Movements, Economic Policy

Dean of Social Science

New York University Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is an extraordinary achievement and unparalleled opportunity in higher education. In the decade since its founding it has become one of the most selective undergraduate institutions in the world. It is both transformational for the region, and critical to New York University's vision to be at the forefront of international higher education in the 21st century.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion and belonging. It enrolls what is perhaps the most diverse student body in higher education, with students from more than 115 countries with no one nationality exceeding 15 percent. It is also one of the most selective, with an average admit rate of 4%. There are currently more than 1,450 undergraduate students enrolled under a need-blind admission policy with remarkable financial aid, with the plan for the number to grow to 2,200 undergraduates and 400 graduate students in the coming years. Across its four divisions NYUAD is home to more than 320 faculty and 400 research staff, also drawn from all over the world.

NYUAD offers degrees built upon an inspiring, highly globalized core curriculum and currently offers doctoral students research areas in five disciplines, with additional graduate programs and executive education being proposed each year. NYUAD's faculty and students alike benefit from being part of NYU's incomparable network, which provides them with opportunities to study and research across the world.

NYUAD is now seeking its next Dean for the Division of Social Science. Situated at one of the world's cultural cross-roads, social science at NYUAD has access to some of the most ancient and rapidly developing communities and is in a remarkable position to analyse humanity in all its diversity and complexity. Its faculty are working on fieldwork projects throughout the region on topics ranging from religious mobilization in Turkey to economic development in sub-Saharan Africa.

The Dean of Social Science of NYU Abu Dhabi has a unique opportunity to play a formative role in helping NYUAD achieve its ambitious agenda, advancing diversity and inclusion and growing research, scholarship, and educational programming, whilst providing leadership and oversight of a highly-accomplished faculty and unique curricula, research and teaching in a dynamic, diverse and developing environment.

For more information and to apply please contact Benjamin Crase on Benjamin.Crase@perrettlaver.com. To apply, please visit https://candidates.perrettlaver.com/vacancies/2001/dean\_of\_social\_science/

Electronic submission is strongly encouraged. NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage inquiries from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8328

Dartmouth College

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellows Program in U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security

The John Sloan Dickey Center for International Understanding at Dartmouth College invites applications for the 2021-22 (September - June) Dartmouth Fellows Program in U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security. Historically, most Fellows have been political scientists and historians, but we welcome applications from any scholar whose research bears directly on foreign policy, international security, or international history. While scholars at all stages of their careers will be considered, applicants who are recent recipients of the Ph.D., or equivalent degree, are especially welcomed. Fellows must be in residence during their Fellowship to participate in Dickey Center seminars and events throughout the academic year.

Fellows receive competitive stipends, research support and benefits, comparable to those offered by other fellowship programs. Faculty on leave from their home institutions will receive half of their annual salary, up to $50,000.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the quality and significance of the proposed research, its relevance to foreign policy, and the ability of the applicant to benefit from interaction with and mentoring from Dartmouth faculty.

Dartmouth is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

How to Apply:

Applicants must submit all of the following by Thursday, December 31, 2020 to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/81000>

- Dissertation abstract (1 paragraph)
- A statement of up to 1,500 words describing the proposed research project during the year at Dartmouth.
- A writing sample (50 pp. max)
- Two confidential letters of reference
- Graduate school transcript (Unofficial transcripts are acceptable. Junior faculty and professionals may include a transcript, but are not required to do so.)
- A confidential financial statement on a separate page indicating the applicant's other sources of support available during the fellowship period and – for current faculty only – current salary.

Questions? Please contact Thomas Candon (Thomas.K.Candon@dartmouth.edu or 603-646-4079).

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 12/31/2020

Date Posted: 11/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8305

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Job Summary: Postdoctoral Research Associate positions available to persons with degrees and research interests within Political Science, with the goal of transitioning successful candidates into tenure-track positions in the University of Alabama's College of Arts & Sciences.

The College of Arts & Sciences at the University of Alabama and the Department of Political Science seeks applications for the Dean's Postdoctoral Research Associate positions. Area of specialization is open. Successful candidates will hold terminal degrees and demonstrate a record of academic achievement in a research area or areas covered in Political Science. The department will establish a series of structured merit-based evaluations with the goal of transitioning successful candidates into tenure-track positions. The Dean's Postdoctoral Research Associate positions have been established through a major College initiative begun in 2019 to promote an inclusive scholarly environment in which outstanding scholars support the advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the College.

Required Minimum Qualifications: Applications are encouraged from excellent candidates with research interests in Political Science. Joint appointments across departments are possible. The minimum requirement at the time of the appointment is a Ph.D. or other terminal degree in a field of research represented within the College of Arts & Sciences. Initial appointments are for one year, with renewal contingent upon demonstration of research productivity. The Department of Political Science will develop mentoring plans detailing benchmarks for possible transition of Postdoctoral Research Associates into tenure-track professorship positions. Standard university hiring practices will govern any process of transitioning Postdoctoral Research Associates into tenure-track professor positions. Review of applications will begin January 1, 2021.

Apply at: <https://staffjobs.ua.edu/en-us/job/511934/postdocvisiting-scientist-political-science-psc-511934>

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8314

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Stanton Nuclear Security Fellow

The Security Studies Program at MIT invites applications for fellows in the field of nuclear security. Fellowships are available for pre-doctoral and post-doctoral scholars and for junior faculty. Fellows are expected to produce policy-relevant research, including book manuscripts, draft articles, dissertations, chapters in edited volumes, or reports. Nuclear security as a subject of study is an umbrella term that includes nuclear war, nuclear terrorism, nuclear proliferation, nuclear weapons, nuclear force posture, and, as it relates to nuclear security, nuclear energy. The deadline for applications is 15 January 2021. Application forms (and further information about eligibility requirements) are available at <https://ssp.mit.edu/about/fellowships/nuclear-security-fellows-program>. Applications, along with any further questions, should be submitted by email to: ssp-fellowships@mit.edu. MIT is an AA/EO employer and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 11/17/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8294

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling an 11-month Visiting Professor (VP) position beginning June 29, 2021. The appointment will be for the entire academic year, ending in May of 2022 (though semester appointments will be considered). The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following the VP year at the Air Force Academy. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary (11 months of pay) and benefits during his or her time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, and three references (ensure addresses and telephone numbers are provided) from individuals familiar with your professional work to:

HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 6L-154, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to Dr. David Sacko at David.Sacko@usafa.edu. The deadline for applications is November 23, 2020. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship is required. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage can be found at: <https://www.usafa.edu/academic/political-science/>.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/17/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8298

University of Notre Dame

Rank: 2021 Emerging Scholars Conference Participant

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) seeks nominations of outstanding candidates (advanced ABD students or pre/post doctoral fellows) to present their work at the fifth annual Emerging Scholars in Grand Strategy Conference. The three-day conference will consist of 6 workshops, one for each successful nominee. Each workshop will include a research presentation by the Emerging Scholar, a response by a senior scholar in the field, and a general discussion. NDISC will make all arrangements and cover all expenses related to the conference, which will be held May 26-28 at the Oakwood Resort in Syracuse, IN.

By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek nominees whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of these issues in innovative ways. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal nominee will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of foreign policy goals.

Nominee(s) should upload a CV, a brief bio, and a 250-word abstract that describes their project to <https://apply.interfolio.com/81186>. The automated system will subsequently ask nominators for a letter of recommendation; letters that have already been written for other purposes (e.g. fellowships, academic jobs) are sufficient.

The deadline for receipt of all materials is January 22, 2021.

Please direct any further questions about this position to Sebastian Rosato at srosato@nd.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/22/2021
Date Posted: 11/17/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8295

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Hans J. Morgenthau Fellow

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) invites applications for its second cohort of Hans J. Morgenthau fellows. In the spirit of Morgenthau, a deep thinker about international relations and an engaged participant in debates about American foreign policy, NDISC seeks to help the next generation of scholars think more about grand strategy in its larger conceptual and historical context.

Over the course of the fellowship year, fellows will discuss their own research in the context of the burgeoning literature on U.S grand strategy, become part of the broader network of junior and senior scholars engaged with these topics, and hone their teaching skills. Successful applicants need not have any particular view of the optimal grand strategy – just a willingness to engage in the discussion of the topic seriously and debate the alternatives civilly.

The fellowship will be directed by professors Eugene Gholz and Joseph Parent and will involve faculty from Notre Dame and other universities. Fellows will convene three times over the course of their fellowship year. They will begin with an intensive week-long seminar, reading foundational texts and discussing critical issues in contemporary grand strategy at the University of Notre Dame (early August 2021). Fellows will then embark on a week-long study trip to an important international battlefield, where we will combine seminar discussions of strategy with walking the terrain and learning how history, geography, tactics, and strategy intersect (early June 2022). Their fellowship will conclude with a three-day undergraduate teaching workshop on grand strategy in Washington, DC (late July 2022). In addition to the three in-person seminars and workshops, the fellows will also convene roughly once a month for virtual speaker events and discussions over the year of the fellowship. We will, of course, adapt the plans for in-person events as required to keep all participants safe during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The fellowship includes a stipend of $10,000 plus travel expenses and accommodations during fellowship activities. Ideally, Applicants will be ABD doctoral candidates in political science, international relations, global affairs, public policy, history, and allied fields, but we will consider applications from exceptional candidates at other levels. We particularly welcome applications from individuals of backgrounds not widely represented in foreign policy discussions. Applicants should submit a short cover letter explaining their interest in the program, a CV, and a letter of recommendation at <https://apply.interfolio.com/81188> by February 12, 2021.

For more information, please email egholz@nd.edu or jparent@nd.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/12/2021

Date Posted: 11/17/2020

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 8296

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowship in Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a post-doctoral fellowship in “Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy.” By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of the issues in innovative ways. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

The position offers a competitive salary, benefits, and modest professional support. The initial appointment is for one year, but may be renewed for a second year.

All applicants should submit a CV, letter of interest, a brief (10,000 words) writing sample, and have three reference letters. Applications received by January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. Please direct any further questions about this position to Michael Desch at mdesch@nd.edu.

Apply at <https://apply.interfolio.com/81187>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/17/2020

Date Posted: 11/17/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8297

CUNY-City College of New York

Rank: Postdoctoral fellow

Post-Doctoral Fellow of Politics & International Affairs

The Hamilton Initiative at The City College of New York-CUNY invites applications for the Jerome Levy Postdoctoral Fellowship in Politics and International Affairs, beginning in the Fall of 2021. Housed in the Department of Political Science, the Hamilton Initiative exists to encourage serious and open engagement with the Western political and philosophic tradition. While the position is open with respect to research areas, we are particularly interested in candidates able to teach courses in the Western canon of political thought and/or International Relations. The teaching load will be three courses per academic year, on topics to be agreed with the Department Chair based on the Fellow’s expertise and the Department’s needs. The Postdoctoral Fellow will also be expected to participate actively in the Hamilton Initiative’s activities and contribute to its administration as needed.

The position is for a duration of one academic year, renewable for one more year. Salaries are competitive and commensurate to living costs in New York City. A PhD degree (in hand or expected by the beginning of the 2021-22 academic year) is a required qualification.

We will begin reviewing applications on January 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, CV, sample course syllabi and teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and a sample(s) of professional writing (published work preferred). Candidates should also include a cover letter describing how their teaching, scholarship, mentoring and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values.

Please submit application materials to Jenifer Roman, jroman@ccny.cuny.edu

For any questions please contact the Department Chairman, Daniel DiSalvo, at ddisalvo@ccny.cuny.edu, or the program Co-Director, Carlo Invernizzi Accetti at: caccetti@ccny.cuny.edu

Located in the Hamilton Heights section of Harlem in Manhattan, City College is one of the most diverse institutions of higher education in the nation with some 90 languages spoken on campus. Access and excellence are its core values.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8289

The American University in Cairo

Rank: POLS International Relations

Company Description:

The American University in Cairo (AUC) has a rich legacy that dates back 100 years. Founded in 1919 as an English-language university based on high standards of conduct and scholarship, AUC remains a vibrant institution that contributes to the intellectual growth, discipline, and character of the future leaders of Egypt and the region. AUC emphasizes a liberal arts education, with all undergraduate students studying a common set of courses in the humanities and the natural and social sciences as part of the University's Core Curriculum. The AUC Libraries contain the largest English-language research collection in the region and are an active and integral part of the University's pursuit of excellence in all academic and scholarly programs. AUC is chartered and accredited in the United States and Egypt. It has a diverse body of students and faculty. Faculty salary and rank are based on qualifications and professional experience. According to AUC policies and procedures, faculty are entitled to generous benefits.

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science invites applications for two positions in International Relations starting Fall 2021. The position is on a fixed-term contract (four years) and open to candidates at the Assistant or Associate Professor levels. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in the fields of theories of international relations, foreign-policy analysis, international organizations and global security. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA levels within the Department of Political Science. Candidates with a focus on critical international relation theories, the Global South (Asia, Africa, and/or Latin America), and/or history and historical approaches to international relation are particularly encouraged to apply. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East.

Requirements:

A PhD is required at the time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing research and publication program and teaching experience. In addition to research and teaching, responsibilities include service to the Department and the University.

Additional Information:

Priority will be given to applications received by December 15, 2020. The position is open until filled.

Application Instructions:

All applicants must submit the following documents online:

- A current CV
- A letter of interest (specifying the rank - assistant or associate professor - for which the candidate wishes to be considered)
- A statement of teaching philosophy
- A completed AUC Personnel Information Form (PIF) submitted online with your application
- A copy of a recently published or accepted article or chapter
- Three letters of reference

Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send letters directly to hussref@aucegypt.edu; with the name of the candidate/Faculty position/ Department.

All applications should be uploaded online:

<http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies>

Please take note of your account login details.

For more information, e-mail Dr. Rabab El Mahdi, Chair, relmahdi@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, gehanwm@aucegypt.edu; or visit the department's website at:

<http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx>

Apply Here: <https://www.click2apply.net/aQAa4pu8paRWhgblI8K2X>

PI125937784

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/13/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8286

University of Toronto, Mississauga

Rank: Assistant Professor, Teaching Stream - International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, International Relations, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto Mississauga invites applications for a full-time teaching stream position in the area of International Relations. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, Teaching Stream and will begin on July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a closely related field by the time of appointment or shortly thereafter, and have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching. We seek candidates whose teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. We seek candidates with a demonstrated ability to teach a wide variety of international relations courses at the undergraduate level. The ability to teach introductory quantitative research method courses is an asset. In addition to excellence in teaching, the successful candidate will also be expected to engage in undergraduate mentorship and help foster a vibrant intellectual environment for our undergraduate programs.

We seek enthusiastic and innovative individuals pursuing a long-term academic career in pedagogy. Candidates must have teaching expertise in a degree granting program at the undergraduate program level, including lecture preparation and delivery, curriculum development and/or development of online material/lectures. Additionally, candidates must possess a demonstrated commitment to excellent pedagogical practices and a demonstrated interest in teaching-related scholarly activities.

Evidence of excellence in teaching and pedagogical inquiry can be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, awards and accolades, presentations at significant conferences, the teaching dossier submitted as part of the application including a strong teaching statement, sample syllabi, course materials and teaching evaluations, as well as strong letters of reference regarding teaching from referees of high standing.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

At the University of Toronto, the expectation of faculty members in the teaching stream is that they bring a dimension of teaching excellence and educational innovation that enhances undergraduate or graduate education and adds significantly to the quality of the student experience.

To be considered for this position, all qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link (or button) below. All application materials must be submitted online and must include the following:

a cover letter (1 page),

a current curriculum vitae,

a statement of teaching philosophy (1 page), sample syllabi and course materials (max 10 pages), teaching evaluations (max 10 pages),

a diversity statement.

Equity and diversity are among UTM's core values and are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference sent directly by the referee to the hiring unit via email at jobs.politicalscienceutm@utoronto.ca by the closing date (on letterhead, dated and signed). At least one reference must primarily address the candidate's teaching. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University's automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. If you have questions about this position, please contact the Search Committee Chair at chair.pol.utm@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters must be received by January 18, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 1/18/2021

Date Posted: 11/13/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8287

Muhlenberg College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science at Muhlenberg College invites applications for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning August 2021. The successful candidate will have a primary interest in international relations and be able to offer courses that fit within the thematic areas around which the political science major at Muhlenberg is structured (<https://www.muhlenberg.edu/academics/polisci/thematicareasofstudy/details> about our program are available on our website). Classes may include, for example, international relations theory, American foreign policy, national security policy, international law and policy, and introduction to international relations and comparative politics. We are especially interested in candidates who desire to work across subfield and disciplinary boundaries. We are open when it comes to regional expertise and welcome a variety of methodological and theoretical approaches.

Teaching responsibilities include three courses per semester. Faculty teaching hybrid and online courses benefit from the resources of our nationally-recognized Center for Digital Learning, which fosters inclusive learning and supports faculty and students in all aspects of online teaching, learning, and scholarship. Additionally, the Muhlenberg Center for Teaching and Learning offers a range of programs in support of faculty, including pedagogical workshops, support for meaningful classroom experimentation, and facilitated interdisciplinary collaboration. Visiting faculty enjoy access to all professional development resources provided by the College.

Ideal candidates will hold a PhD in Political Science or Public Policy by August 2021. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and working with students from all backgrounds (including first-generation students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ+, etc.).

To receive full consideration, applications must be received by January 31, 2021. Interested candidates should upload their completed applications to https://muhlenberg.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/MuhlenbergCareers/job/Ettinger-Building/Visiting-Assistant-Professor--Political-Science\_R0000419-1Muhlenberg's Career Portal. Please include a cover letter describing your teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, sample teaching materials (e.g. sample syllabi, a statement describing potential courses, and/or a statement of teaching philosophy, and summaries of teaching evaluations if available), unofficial graduate transcripts, contact information for three professional references, and a separate statement describing how you will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in our department as well as contribute to the College's efforts to become a more diverse and inclusive community. For questions about this position, please email Lanetha Mathews-Schultz, department chair, at <mailto:mathews@muhlenberg.edu> or mathews@muhlenberg.edu.

Founded in 1848, Muhlenberg College is an independent, coeducational residential college of liberal arts and sciences located in Allentown, the third largest city in PA. As part of eastern Pennsylvania's scenic Lehigh Valley, Allentown is a diverse city of 122,000, located just 60 miles north of Philadelphia and 75 miles west of New York City. Along with Bethlehem and Easton, the region is home to a vibrant arts scene, a nationally unique parks system, and a rich blend of cuisine and diverse restaurants.

An equal opportunity employer, Muhlenberg College is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding faculty and staff from racial and ethnic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented in higher education. Please visit our https://www.muhlenberg.edu/diversityatmuhlenberg/Diversity & Inclusion page; for additional information about Muhlenberg's commitment to inclusive excellence and the College's Diversity Strategic Plan.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/31/2021
Date Posted: 11/12/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8279

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Borders & Boundaries - post doc

BORDERS & BOUNDARIES IN WORLD POLITICS, AY 2021-2022

The Project on Borders and Boundaries in World Politics is looking to fill two postdoctoral fellow positions. Both are one-year and renewable. Partially supported by the National Science Foundation, the Project is concerned with boundaries between organized human communities, broadly understood. International borders, border regions and border crossings have multiple significance as designations of state authority, security buffers, expressions of social meaning and opportunities for economic integration. Border regions and activities speak to national and local encounters with neighbors and the rest of the world. This project is concerned with how humans demarcate the space between "us" and "them." It contextualizes border architecture, infrastructure and institutions as expressions of various social, political and economic anxieties associated with globalization. This research team will concern itself with a broad range of questions relating to "bordering" in world politics. The project team is run by Professor Beth Simmons, Andrea Mitchell University Professor in Law, Political Science, and Business Ethics, as well as Assistant Professor Michael Kenwick (Rutgers University).

Research Postdoctoral Fellowship: The postdoctoral fellow will split their time between their own research and Borders & Boundaries project research. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to work 25% of their time on project research. Applicants with an interest in territorial politics; migration and movement across borders; development in and across border regions; border crossing regimes, architectures and institutions; transnational migration; transnational crime, human trafficking and law enforcement across borders; and related issues are welcome to apply. Skills in empirical spatial analysis, GIS technologies, mapping technologies, experimental analyses, computerized textual and imaging analyses, and similar technologies are highly desirable, as are computer programming skills and experience using large computer databases and statistical software.

Research and Program Management Postdoctoral Fellowship: The post-doctoral fellow will work with and help manage the Borders & Boundaries research team. Since the successful candidate will have primary responsibility for managing team effort and output, strong data management and organizational skills are essential. Skills in computational methods, GIS and spatial data analytics, textual and imaging analysis, network analysis, and/or experimental methods are particularly valued, as is experience working within a research lab. We welcome candidates pursuing research careers inside or outside academia. Substantive interest in territorial politics; migration; development in and across border regions; border crossing regimes; transnational crime, law enforcement across borders and related issues is valued. The fellow is expected to actively work on lab projects and coordinate efforts among team members.

Requirements and Application Information

There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to give a presentation during the academic year in the Perry World House Seminar Series, engage with Perry World House's Undergraduate Student Fellows, and attend regularly scheduled seminars. Perry World House will also introduce each postdoctoral fellow to related faculty and leaders of centers and institutes at the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2019, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2021. Applications will be reviewed starting Monday, January 4, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to <http://apply.interfolio.com/80777>. Applicants will be asked to complete a short form as well as upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, unofficial Ph.D. transcript (only required for current graduate students), and contact information for a letter writer, who will be asked to submit a confidential letter of recommendation through Interfolio.

Other Information

Upon provision of and contingent upon proof of conferral of the Ph.D. degree, Borders & Boundaries postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $54,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/4/2021
Date Posted: 11/11/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8273

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Global Innovation Program - Post Doc

GLOBAL INNOVATION PROGRAM

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its postdoctoral fellowship program during the 2021-2022 academic year. The Global Innovation Program is the research arm of Perry World House, the University of Pennsylvania's hub for global engagement and interdisciplinary international policy research. Perry World House connects Penn to the international policy world through research, student engagement, and public programming, bringing the university's intellectual resources to bear on the urgent global challenges of the 21st century. We hope to bring several postdoctoral fellows to campus for the 2021-2022 academic year. We are seeking excellent scholars who study global affairs and have interests in interdisciplinary outreach and policy relevance. We are particularly interested in applicants in the following areas:

- The Future of the Global Order: Power, Technology, and Governance
- Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Demography

The Future of the Global Order

Changes in global economic, military, and technological circumstances are evident in growing concerns around the world about the future of arms control, multilateral economic institutions, technological decoupling, the future of the Islamic State, and more. The post-Cold War global order may be at a tipping point. In addition, systemic trends, such as globalization and climate change, mean that the challenges of today and tomorrow will be global – and require global responses. The role of automated trading algorithms in the 2010 “Flash Crash” in the United States, combined with the specter of drone warfare around the world due and the proliferation of military robotics, highlight how the intersection of technologies, such as cyber and robotics, presents enormous challenges for global business and diplomatic norms. In a time of change, academic research has the potential to shed significant light on these issues and highlight new and important approaches for the global policy community.

In this theme area, Perry World House will focus in part, but not exclusively, on four areas: the impacts of emerging technologies for global politics, shifting global power balances and how they influence both state and non-state actors, the evolution of international legal regimes, and the ability of the international community to sustain effective governing institutions in times of change. We particularly hope to have a postdoctoral fellow as part of our new project on emerging technologies and global politics.

Global Shifts

Crises such as the COVID-19 pandemic and climate change-induced extreme weather events, as well as growing urbanization, migration, and demographic changes, are radically transforming the human environment and creating new risks to well-being. New and changing migration patterns, whether propelled by armed conflicts, instability due to environmental changes, or economic hardships have profound consequences for people on the move and for those left behind. Similarly, the true risks of climate change are a function not just of hazards such as rising sea levels, fires, and tropical cyclones, but the physical location of people and the level of community and government support in place.

Explaining these complex societal changes, and the policy responses necessary to address them, requires a multi-disciplinary and interdisciplinary approach. Perry World House's Global Shifts program aims to develop an analytical understanding of these problems and suggest new policy approaches to them. It draws on the University's expertise in urban studies, sociology, demography, law, philosophy, health sciences, environmental sciences, and political science to do so. We invite postdoctoral fellows working within any of these sub-thematic areas, and especially encourage scholars working at the intersection or across multiple of them—such as climate change's effects on migration patterns or the impact of city policymaking on migration and refugees.

Requirements and Application Information

There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Postdoctoral fellows in the Global Innovation Program will pursue their own research as well as participate in the intellectual life of Perry World House. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to give a presentation during the academic year in the Perry World House Seminar Series, publish policy relevant scholarship related to Perry World House themes, and attend regularly scheduled seminars. They will also be expected to spend up to 10% of their time contributing to the intellectual environment at Perry World House, including working with Perry World House's Undergraduate Student Fellows, as well as designing and planning engagements in relevant theme areas. Perry World House will provide mentorship, professional guidance, and introduce each postdoctoral fellow to related faculty and leaders of centers and institutes at the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D. in the case of applicants focused on international legal regimes) since June 2019, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2021. Applications will be reviewed starting Monday, January 4, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

Upon provision of and contingent upon proof of conferral of the Ph.D. degree, all postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $54,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80778>. Applicants will be asked to complete a short form as well as upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial Ph.D. transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation.

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/11/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8272

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Identity & Conflict Lab - post doc

PENN IDENTITY & CONFLICT LAB

The Penn Identity & Conflict (PIC) Lab, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis at the Department of Political Science of the University of Pennsylvania, seeks exceptional candidates for a one-year, full-time, renewable, residential appointment as a postdoctoral research fellow. The Lab is dedicated to addressing a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict. The Lab prioritizes research in three key areas: how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The Lab's recent work has focused on appeals to shared norms and normative change as strategies for conflict reduction; and on the cultivation of shared civic and national identities as instruments of peace-building. The Lab seeks to integrate knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to better understand these topics.

Fellows will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on different projects developed in the PIC Lab. Fellows will be expected to work on one or more ongoing projects in three broad areas: conflict and cooperation between native and immigrant populations; normative change and conflict behavior; and nation-building and state-building in conflict-affected countries. Innovative new project proposals by fellows can also be considered and funded by the Lab.

Requirements and Application Information

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant but will include some combination of conducting research and co-authoring papers and reports with the PIC Lab Director and affiliated faculty; assisting with grant proposals; providing support with data collection, management, and analysis for ongoing projects; and managing the Lab website and seminar series. Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are highly desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases and different statistical software (including Stata, R, and Qualtrics). Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team; and be open to travel for fieldwork if conditions allow. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Fellows will be expected to help organize the PIC Lab workshop, which will meet bi-weekly; they will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop and/or as part of the Perry World House Seminar Series; and will be expected to help organize the Lab's annual conference.

Compensation and Other Information

All postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $54,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2019, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2021. Applications will be reviewed starting January 4, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80726>. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial Ph.D. transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of a letter writer who can submit a letter of recommendation.

If you have questions, please email pic-lab@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/11/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8274

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: LIGHTNING SCHOLARS SABBATICAL RESIDENCY

LIGHTNING SCHOLARS SABBATICAL RESIDENCY, AY 2021-2022

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its 2021-2022 Lightning Scholars Program. This program brings untenured, but tenure-track, faculty at either the assistant or associate level from around the world to Philadelphia for a semester or year of writing, fellowship, and bridging the gap between academia and the policy world.

The Global Innovation Program is the research arm of Perry World House, the University of Pennsylvania's hub for global engagement and interdisciplinary international policy research. Perry World House connects Penn to the international policy world through research, student engagement, and public programming, bringing the university's intellectual resources to bear on the urgent global challenges of the 21st century.

This fellowship program allows untenured faculty members at leading research universities around the world to join Perry World House and the Penn community for a semester or full academic year in residence in Philadelphia to produce a major research project or book. While the fellowship program is for faculty working on global affairs topics, preference will be given to faculty working on subjects broadly related to our two research themes, The Future of the Global Order: Technology, Power and Governance and Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Demography. More information on our research themes can be found here: <https://global.upenn.edu/perryworldhouse/research>.

The ideal candidates for this new program will be looking for an in-residence fellowship away from their home institution that will provide the space and support to write, but also the opportunity to collaborate with an interdisciplinary and vibrant community of global affairs scholars and practitioners. Perry World House is especially interested in faculty whose work connects to important global policy conversations and who will want to engage in dialogue with some of the many policymakers from around the world who visit Perry World House.

The program's compensation is significant and negotiated on a case-by-case basis. The program is intended to allow the selected Lightning Scholar to take a comfortable leave from their home institution often by supporting the difference between a one semester sabbatical provided by the home institution and a full year leave. Although final compensation will depend on the circumstances of each applicant, the program will provide at least $50,000 as well as relevant fees and health insurance, if needed. The fellowship will also include $5,000 in research support, as well as the opportunity to help shape workshops and colloquia at Perry World House.

Applications, which should be submitted via Interfolio, are welcome from scholars who have either a Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D.), are standing faculty members at a college or university, and are on the tenure track but still untenured. Applications for the 2021-2024 academic years will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting January 4, 2021. Applicants must include a cover-letter, three-page proposal, CV, a letter of support from their home department/institution, and a confidential letter of recommendation. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of support should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80840>.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/4/2021
Date Posted: 11/11/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8275

University of Texas, San Antonio
Rank: Social and Environmental Challenges in Latin America: Digital Scholarship

The University of Texas at San Antonio is an urban-serving, Hispanic thriving discovery enterprise deeply committed to student success and academic excellence. The University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) has embarked on a focused cluster hiring plan to recruit top-tier researchers in interdisciplinary areas of knowledge that will advance the study of Social and Environmental Challenges in Latin America. Home to some of the largest biospheres in the world and some of world's most important biodiversity hotspots, Latin America's environments are undergoing rapid transformation due to climate change, environmental degradation, and sociosocio-economic transformations across the region. These forces are coupled in complex ways, and understanding the coupled dynamics of society, climate, and environment in Latin America presents a grand challenge that is fertile ground for transdisciplinary research. To address this challenge, UTSA is recruiting a cohort of researchers from different disciplines whose research centers on environmental degradation, climate change, and the associated socioeconomic and political challenges and transformations in Latin America and the US-Mexico borderlands. The goal is to foster collaborative and transdisciplinary research to understand and confront the emerging social and environmental challenges facing the region. This targeted cluster hire will build on and leverage our established research portfolio, propelling our ability to tackle and solve previously unsolvable problems. Hires are expected to build their own unique programs of research, as well as to collaborate with other hires in this cluster and with colleagues in their home department, college, and other colleges.

As part of this initiative, the College of Liberal and Fine Arts (COLFA) seeks two faculty members who will expand the digital scholarship footprint within the Social and Environmental Challenges in Latin America cluster. We define digital scholarship broadly, including digital humanities, new media studies, digital design, multimedia mapping, digital visualization, and/or new journalism, among other areas. Preference will be given to applicants who can contribute to both the scholarly domains of digital scholarship and the technical domains of digital production. One position is for an assistant professor, the other for an assistant or associate professor. The cluster hired in Anthropology last year; these new hires will extend the cluster into other disciplines. The hires will be housed in one or more of COLFA's departments (www.colfa.utsa.edu), as appropriate. Research active faculty in COLFA typically teach a 2/2 course load.

Responsibilities

Teaching introductory, upper division, and graduate courses; research and service in a program that offers B.A. and M.A. degrees; maintaining an active research agenda; leadership in developing new lines of research and teaching; contributing to the university and community through service and outreach.

Posting End Date

Review of applications begins December 4, 2020. For full consideration, applicants should submit their materials by that date. Inquiries may be directed to the Cluster Search Committee Chair, Dr. Nathan Richardson (nathan.richardson@utsa.edu).

Required Application Materials

To apply, please create a single file in PDF format containing in the following order:

- a letter of application describing research, teaching, and service accomplishments and goals that includes a discussion of the role that diversity and inclusion play in an academic environment; please indicate the rank for which you wish to be considered
- a CV
- up to three examples of successful research, which could include publications, dissertation chapters, or a portfolio of screening links or images in a PDF document
- teaching evaluations if available
- names, addresses, email addresses, and phone numbers of three references

Materials must be submitted on-line via <https://www.utsa.edu/hr/employment/>.

Required Qualifications

Successful applicants will have 1) a strong record of teaching, research, and service appropriate to rank; 2) an active research agenda with demonstrated interest and experience in collaborative and/or transdisciplinary research; 3) a research focus on Latin America and/or the Caribbean; and 4) a terminal degree (Ph.D./M.F.A) in their field at time of interview.

For consideration as Associate Professor, candidates must have a strong record of publication, evidence of effective teaching, and substantial experience in department, university, and professional service. Tenure is contingent on Board of Regents approval.

Preferred Qualifications

Preferred candidates will be able to successfully teach and mentor diverse, underserved students, including first-generation students, students of color and non-traditional students, and have the ability to contribute to the university's commitment to inclusive excellence as a Hispanic Serving Institution.

Additional Information

- Successful candidates will demonstrate (1) a record of high quality research and scholarship (2) excellence in undergraduate and graduate education or intellectual contributions in diversity, inclusion, and the demonstrated ability to teach students from diverse backgrounds and (3) a demonstrated commitment to diversity and inclusion.
- Applicants selected for interviews must show proof that they will be eligible and qualified to work in the United States by the time of hire.
- At the discretion of the hiring department, this position posting may be closed once a sufficient number of qualified applications has been received.
- UTSA is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged to apply.
- UTSA is a tobacco-free campus.
- This is a security sensitive position. Employment is contingent upon a successful background check.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8269

Leiden University

Rank: Professor of International Relations

Key responsibilities

The Institute of Political Science of Leiden University invites applications for appointment as Professor of International Relations with specialisation in International Conflict and Conflict Resolution. The position is fulltime, starting in August 2021. This new professorship is linked to the significant expansion of the institute's teaching programme in international relations, and to the recruitment in recent years of many outstanding young scholars researching and teaching on issues of international conflict and cooperation.

The new professor's research and teaching will address a range of questions on international conflict and conflict resolution, including the evolving sources of conflict, the links between intra-state and inter-state conflict, the relationship between conflict and collective identities, and the dynamics of conflict management and resolution at local, national and international levels.

The new professor will be expected to conduct and publish advanced research on international conflict and conflict resolution, to mentor junior colleagues, to teach BSc and MSc students and supervise PhDs in this and related areas of political science, and to play a leading role in applying for external research funding and in the intellectual and administrative life of the Institute.

Selection criteria

Candidates for this position must possess a PhD in political science, a strong record of publications in leading journals and/or scholarly presses, a clear agenda for future research, and a proven track record of winning research grants, leading research projects, supervising PhDs to completion, and mentoring junior colleagues. They must be experienced in designing and delivering high-quality education at undergraduate and graduate levels, including lectures, seminars and thesis supervision. They must have the maturity and experience to provide organizational leadership within the Institute of Political Science. They must be fluent in English and ideally have a working knowledge of Dutch; if not, the readiness to learn Dutch within several years is required. Experience in linking research to public debates and societal needs is a plus.

Our organisation

Leiden University was the first university in the world to appoint a Professor of Politics (Daniel Hensius in 1612) and its Institute of Political Science is today a broad disciplinary unit with approximately 80 lecturers, assistant professors, associate professors and full professors, plus PhDs and post-doc researchers based in Leiden and in The Hague, where a large part of the teaching is done. The institute's academic staff and its student body are each approximately half Dutch and half international.

The Institute is well known for pioneering research on parliamentary governance, political parties, electoral behavior, and Dutch politics, and is increasingly recognized for its significant expertise in international relations and European politics. The institute's research staff publish regularly in top journals and academic presses and are consistently successful in attracting national and European research grants. The Institute houses a number of editorships of international refereed journals and book series.

The institute's research programme 'Institutions, Decisions and Collective Behaviour' encompasses six clusters with overlapping membership: Conflict, Conflict Resolution and Crisis Management; Globalisation and the State; Identity, Ethnicity and Political Community; International Organisation and European Integration; Politics in The Netherlands; Representation, Public Opinion and Communication. Members of the institute are also involved in a number of the university's multi-disciplinary research centres, including Central and East European Studies, International Relations, Parties and Representation, and Political Philosophy.

The Institute offers a range of taught programmes at the Bachelor and Master levels and also trains PhD students in political science. The BSc programme includes general Political Science (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), International Politics (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), and International Relations and Organisations (in English, in The Hague). The one-year MSc programme includes five specialisations in Leiden and one in The Hague and is taught mostly in English. The introduction of the IRO specialisation in 2017 led to a substantial increase in the total number of BSc students, including many from other countries. This in turn led to a significant expansion of our teaching staff in the area of international relations. PhD students are typically supported by the staff's research grants.

The Institute of Political Science belongs to Leiden University's Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences, which also includes the Institute of Cultural Anthropology & Development Sociology, the Institute of Education and Child Studies, the Institute of Psychology, and the Centre for Science and Technology Studies. In total, the Faculty is home to 5,000 students and 600 members of staff based in Leiden and The Hague. Members of the institute also work closely with colleagues in the Faculty of Governance and Global Affairs, the Faculty of Humanities, and the Faculty of Law, among others. For more information on the faculty's teaching and research programmes, see the website.

Terms and conditions

The Chair will have an appointment in accordance with the Collective Labour Agreement for Dutch Universities for an initial duration of five years leading to tenure on condition of good performance. The salary will range from a minimum of 5,749.- to a maximum of 8,371.- gross per month for a full-time appointment. The exact salary will depend on experience (payscale HL2).

Leiden University offers an attractive benefits package with additional holiday (8%) and end-of-year bonuses (8.3 %), training and career development and sabbatical leave. Our individual choices model gives you some freedom to assemble your own set of terms and conditions. For international spouses we have set up a dual career programme. Candidates from outside the Netherlands may be eligible for a substantial tax break. For more information, see the website.

Leiden University attaches great importance to the quality of its teaching. It therefore requires all academic staff with teaching duties to possess the University Teaching Qualification or be prepared to earn this within two years.

Diversity

Leiden University is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from members of under-represented groups.

Information

If you have any additional questions, please contact Prof. Daniel Thomas, email d.c.thomas@fsw.leidenuniv.nl.

Applications

To apply for this vacancy, please submit online your application no later than 7 January 2021 via the blue button of our application system. Include the following documents in PDF format:

Statement of interest (cover letter) outlining how the candidate envisages to fulfil the outlined tasks;
 Full CV, including education, appointments, publications, grant-acquisition record, and contact details for three referees;
 Research statement outlining past and ongoing research activities as well as planned research and how it would fit the task;
 Teaching statement outlining preferred methods and teaching experience;
 List of courses taught plus student evaluations from the last 2-3 years.
 Interviews with shortlisted candidates will be conducted in February 2021. You are kindly requested to be available for a potential interview in this period. Starting date for this position is envisaged to be August 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 1/7/2021

Date Posted: 11/5/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8258

Roanoke College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in International Relations beginning in August 2021 and ending in May 2022. This is a full time, sabbatical-replacement position, with a teaching load of seven courses during the academic year.

We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations and who can offer courses in International Politics, International Relations Theory, and Research Methods. While the department has additional need for courses covering Comparative Politics of Europe and Human Rights Policy to fill specific programmatic requirements, we especially seek candidates who have passion for teaching and mentoring undergraduates and can diversify our offerings. The successful candidate will also contribute International Relations courses to the General Education curriculum. A Ph.D. with teaching experience is preferred, but an ABD will be considered.

The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research. Visiting Professors are eligible to receive departmental funds and to apply for most of the College's internal grants in support of their research and teaching.

Roanoke College is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff, and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply. We also seek candidates with interests in mentoring under-represented students, diversifying curricular offerings, or sponsoring diverse community engagement. Applicants are asked to address their potential contributions in support of a diverse community in their cover letters.

Applicants should submit their cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations and three letters of recommendation to: Ms. Judith Pinckney, Department of Public Affairs, 119 West Hall, Roanoke College, Salem, VA 24153. Inquiries may be sent to: pinckney@roanoke.edu. Please visit our Departmental website at: https://www.roanoke.edu/inside/a-z\_index/public\_affairs for more information.

Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/5/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8257

University of Cambridge

Rank: Lecturer (Assistant Professor) Political Economy of Development

Specializations: Developing Nations, Political Economy, Political Development

The Department of Politics and International Studies is seeking to appoint a permanent University Lecturer (i.e. Assistant Professor) in the Political Economy of Development, based in the Centre of Development Studies, from 1st September 2021. The salary range is £41,526-£52,559.

The successful candidates will have a record of world-class research and publications commensurate with the international reputation of the University of Cambridge. Teaching responsibilities will include contributing to the development, delivery, supervision and assessment of courses in Political Economy (broadly conceived) in the MPhil in Development Studies, as well as supplementary teaching at the postgraduate and undergraduate levels. Candidates should also demonstrate a willingness and ability to contribute to the self-governance and administration of the Centre and the Department.

Candidates will need to show evidence of the following qualifications, skills and experience:

- Doctorate in a relevant subject area (or clear evidence that completion of such a doctorate is imminent);
- Evidence of ability to engage in internationally recognised high-level research in the Political Economy of Development, with publications in the leading outlets;
- Evidence of ability to teach the Political Economy of Development;
- Ability to play an effective and collegial role in the life and work of the Centre and the Department.

Please see the Further Particulars online for additional specifics on the position at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27072/>

Further information about the Centre and the Department can be found at <https://www.devstudies.cam.ac.uk/> and www.polis.cam.ac.uk. Applications should be made online at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27072/>

References will be requested from short-listed candidates. The closing date for this post is 1 January 2021. Enquiries can be made to the chair of the committee Prof. Jason Sharman (jcs207@cam.ac.uk). Interviews for shortlisted applicants will be scheduled after the application close date. Enquiries about applications should be addressed to Ms Louisa Bailey (lkb44@cam.ac.uk). Please quote reference UC24186 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/1/2021
Date Posted: 11/3/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8247

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from recent PhD recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's mission areas of history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. However, strong preference will be given to applicants with a doctorate in history or whose research has a strong historical component of any era, from ancient to modern. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the Clements Center's programs and activities; any specific responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. In some cases Fellows will be welcome to teach a course at the University of Texas. Each appointment is for one year, and in exceptional cases may be considered for renewal for a second year.

Applicants should submit a current c.v., a letter of application, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) statement of proposed research, and three letters of recommendation. Applications are due no later than January 21, 2021. Note that applicants are required to have received their doctorate by August 2021, the date the Postdoctoral Fellowship will commence. Please direct any questions to Alex Foggett, the Clements Center's Programs Manager, at alex.foggett@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/29/2021
Date Posted: 10/30/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8242

The University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Predoctoral Fellow

The Clements Center for National Security at the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from current PhD candidates for its Predoctoral Fellowship Program.

Consistent with the Clements Center's mission areas of history, strategy, and statecraft, applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on foreign and defense policy, intelligence, or international security are welcome to apply. However, strong preference will be given to applicants pursuing a doctorate in history or whose research has a strong historical component of any era, from ancient to modern. This fellowship is designed to help expedite dissertation completion, so applicants should be in the dissertation writing phase and within one year (or in exceptional cases two years) of anticipated dissertation submission. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at the University of Texas-Austin. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the Clements Center's programs and activities; any specific responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the Clements Center leadership. Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of UT facilities, and office space at the Clements Center. Each appointment is for one year.

Applicants should submit a current c.v., a personal statement, graduate school transcripts, a brief (no more than two-page, single-spaced) research statement, and three letters of recommendation. Applications are due no later than January 29, 2021. Please direct any questions to Alex Foggett, the Clements Center's Programs Manager, at alex.foggett@austin.utexas.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/29/2021
Date Posted: 10/30/2020
Salary: $30,000 - $39,999
eJobs ID: 8241

Virginia Military Institute

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Studies and Political Science-Tenure-track

Assistant Professor of International Studies and Political Science – Tenure-track

The Virginia Military Institute's Department of International Studies and Political Science (IS) announces a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor position in the subfield of international relations, beginning 01 August 2021. To be considered for this position, candidates must have completed the requirements for their PhD by Spring 2021.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a capacity to teach undergraduate-level courses in one or more of the following areas: International Politics; US Foreign Policy; or US National Security Policy. In addition, the ideal candidate will possess a substantive and/or geographic specialization that augments the existing strengths of the department's faculty. Preference will be given to those candidates who provide evidence of their potential to develop and maintain a vibrant research agenda and to apply their research in the undergraduate classroom. These endeavors are highly valued and well supported at VMI. Information on the IS department and curriculum can be found at <https://www.vmi.edu/academics/departments/international-studies-and-political-science/>.

Once hired, the successful candidate would be expected to teach courses on campus and in-person, as permitted by the public health situation.

Salary commensurate with experience.

This position includes a very competitive benefits package.

Minimum Qualifications:

- A Ph.D. in Political Science or International Relations at the time of application is preferred, but ABD applicants expecting to complete their dissertation prior to appointment will be considered.

• Teaching experience at the undergraduate level is required. Candidates please apply online at: <http://virginiajobs.peopleadmin.com/postings/201897>

In addition to completing an online application, please submit a cover letter summarizing your interest in the position and qualifications, a curriculum vitae, and graduate transcripts

Separately, applicants should submit three letters of recommendation via e-mail to the VMI International Studies Department Head, Dennis Foster, at fosterdm@vmi.edu.

To receive full consideration, all application materials should be submitted by 15 January 2021. Review of applications will begin immediately, and will continue until the position is filled. Finalist interviews will be conducted on campus and in-person, as permitted by the public health situation.

Virginia Military Institute is a state-supported four-year undergraduate military college of liberal arts, engineering, and the sciences. It is located in the southern Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. Lexington, population 7,000, is also home to Washington and Lee University and offers a stimulating cultural atmosphere in a pleasant, rural setting. In a continuing effort to enrich its academic environment and provide equal education and employment opportunities, VMI encourages women, minorities, disabled individuals, and veterans to apply. AmeriCorps, Peace Corps, and other national service alumni are also encouraged to apply. VMI will provide reasonable accommodation to qualified individuals with documented disabilities to ensure equal access and equal opportunities with regard to employment, educational opportunities, programs and services.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 10/29/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8230

Tulane University: Inter-American Policy and Research Fellowship

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Open, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Caribbean, Central America, Latin American

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2021-2022, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are encouraged. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments with a stipend of $48,450 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in the Commitment to Equity Project and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment. Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2021. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting apply.interfolio.com/80202 and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) two recommendation letters; (5) a writing sample; and (6) teaching evaluations if available. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 31, 2020.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 12/31/2020

Date Posted: 10/26/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8217

University of Calgary

Rank: Post Doctoral Scholar in National Defence and Data Analytics

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Public Policy

Area: International Policy and Trade (IPT)

Duration: 1-year full-time appointment with possibility of 1-year renewal

Start date: January 2021, negotiable

Salary: $60,000 (plus Plan C Health Insurance benefits and a Research Allowance)

The School of Public Policy at the University of Calgary is accepting applications for a Postdoctoral Scholar in the areas of national defence and data analytics. The position will support the International Policy and Trade program, one of four research divisions within The School of Public Policy.

Please email your application to Dr. Jean-Christophe Boucher at jc.boucher@ucalgary.ca by October 31, 2020. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2020, but the position will remain open until filled.

<https://careers.ucalgary.ca/jobs/5621665-post-doctoral-scholar-in-national-defense-and-data-analytics-international-policy-and-trade-school-of-public-policy>.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8208

McGill University*Rank: Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies

Max Bell School of Public Policy and the Department of Political Science

Faculty of Arts

McGill University

The Department of Political Science and the Max Bell School of Public Policy at McGill University invite applications for the new Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies. The Chairholder will be jointly appointed, teaching in both units and with the aim of strengthening the links between them and with the Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship (CSDC).

We seek an institution-builder with a global perspective who brings internationally recognized empirical research on democracy to bear on contemporary challenges and debates that inform public policy. The recent worldwide strains faced by democratic institutions and practices highlight the urgent need for theoretically informed, empirically rich research and this position will provide a highly visible forum for a scholar engaged in such an endeavor.

An applicant's record must provide evidence of outstanding research, leadership experience or potential, and success in teaching and supervision, including a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion in curriculum, pedagogy, and the recruiting and training of graduate and postdoctoral supervisees. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Full or Associate Professor with tenure. Candidates should have completed a PhD in a relevant discipline. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but proficiency in spoken and written French is an asset.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, a sample of written work, and material pertinent to teaching skills. The position start date is August 1, 2021.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Please apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17306>

The Department of Political Science engages in world-class research and teaching across diverse theoretical, thematic, and methodological approaches to the study of politics. The new Max Bell School of Public Policy is committed to the research, teaching, outreach, and advocacy of sound public policy. The CSDC, founded in 2008, brings together scholars who work on research related to democratic citizenship across six Quebec universities. For more information about the Department of Political Science, the Max Bell School, and the CSDC, please visit our websites at: www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/, <https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/>, and <https://csdc-cecd.ca/>.

Inquiries may be sent to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Juliet Johnson, at juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

Commitment to Equity and Diversity

McGill University is committed to equity and diversity within its community and values academic rigour and excellence. We welcome and encourage applications from racialized persons/visible minorities, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, ethnic minorities, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, as well as from all qualified candidates with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities.

At McGill, research that reflects diverse intellectual traditions, methodologies, and modes of dissemination and translation is valued and encouraged. Candidates are invited to demonstrate their research impact both within and across academic disciplines and in other sectors, such as government, communities, or industry.

McGill further recognizes and fairly considers the impact of leaves (e.g., family care or health-related) that may contribute to career interruptions or slowdowns. Candidates are encouraged to signal any leave that affected productivity, or that may have had an effect on their career path. This information will be considered to ensure the equitable assessment of the candidate's record.

McGill implements an employment equity program and encourages members of designated equity groups to self-identify. It further seeks to ensure the equitable treatment and full inclusion of persons with disabilities by striving for the implementation of universal design principles transversally, across all facets of the University community, and through accommodation policies and procedures. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application process may contact, in confidence, this email or phone at 514-398-2477.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2021Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/20/2020Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 8191United States Military Academy*Rank: Assistant Professor and Deputy Director of the Johnson Grand Strategy Program*Specializations: International Security, Defense, Foreign Policy

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR AND DEPUTY DIRECTOR FOR THE JOHNSON GRAND STRATEGY PROGRAM at West Point. Position beginning in July 2021. Candidates will be evaluated according to the following factors: (i) Advanced degree (Ph.D.) in political science with a strong background in security studies. (ii) Ability to develop, design, direct, and teach undergraduate political science courses. (iii) Strong research agenda and the demonstrated ability to present results in a variety of media. (iv) Ability to lead an interdisciplinary Grand Strategy Program, to include: coordinating across academic departments to develop and assess curriculum; managing a high-impact guest speaker series; facilitating cadet and faculty research on grand strategy; providing subject matter expertise and guiding outreach; and communicating grand strategy lessons learned to communities of study and practice.

This is a full-time appointment for a period of one to three years. Successful candidates for this position must be available to begin work no later than early July 2021, with all requirements for a doctoral degree completed. U.S. citizens and non-citizens with allegiance to the United States may apply. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. To receive full consideration, application packages must include: a cover letter to include discussion of your teaching philosophy as one of the topics, a curriculum vitae, academic transcripts, three letters of recommendation, one writing sample, DD214 (if claiming veteran's preference), and a copy of sponsor's Permanent Change of Station orders, (if claiming a military spouse preference). Mail a hard copy of all material to: Department of Social Sciences, Grand Strategy Program Search Committee, ATTN: Ms. Marianne Daniello, 607 Cullum Road, United States Military Academy, West Point, New York 10996-1718. Inquiries about this position can be directed to Prof. Scott A. Silverstone at scott.silverstone@westpoint.edu. For administrative questions concerning application submission, please contact by email: marianne.daniello@westpoint.edu or telephone: (845) 938-3397. In order to receive full consideration, applications should be postmarked or received by 16 November 2020. Only paper submissions will be considered.

The United States Military Academy at West Point was established in 1802 and continues to be the nation's premier leader development institution. It is the only college specifically charged with preparing young men and women for service as officers in the United States Army. As such, it has a singular educational focus on graduating enlightened military leaders of strong moral character whose minds are creative, critical, and resourceful. Located 50 miles north of New York City, this prestigious institution is nestled in the beautiful Hudson River Valley.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 11/16/2020

Date Posted: 9/24/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8099

University of Colorado, Colorado Springs

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs (UCCS) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of international relations beginning August 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: international security, international conflict, and foreign policy. Additional consideration will be given to candidates with teaching and research interests in comparative politics, international organizations, civil-military relations, East Asian politics, or research methods. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate courses in political science (five courses per year), keeping up an active research agenda, and service at the departmental, university, or professional level. Candidates must have a PhD in political science or a closely related field.

Applications submitted on the CU Careers website by November 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. Applications submitted through email or surface mail will not be considered. Please apply at www.cu.edu/cu-careers (job #: 19206). Upon request, please be prepared to provide five professional references, including their email contact information. Official transcripts will be required upon hire. Evidence of teaching effectiveness and samples of research may be required. If you have technical difficulties with your application, please contact the CU Careers help desk at 303-860-4200 #5 or cucareershelp@cu.edu. Job related inquiries should be directed to the posting contact, Dr. Steven Pittz.

To apply, please submit the following application materials on the CU Careers website: a current CV, a cover letter that specifically addresses the job requirements and outlines qualifications, unofficial transcripts, teaching statement, and research statement. In order for an application to be considered, applicants must label each required attachment with the relevant title, attach the required documents for this position announcement to the submission, and check the Job Specific Attachments box next to each document in the submission.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 11/15/2020

Date Posted: 9/21/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8076

Yale University

Rank: Assistant, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Yale University's Department of Political Science invites applications for an Assistant Professor faculty position in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations.

The appointment will begin on July 1, 2021. Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire. Applications including a cover letter, CV, 3 letters of recommendation, and 2 writing samples should be uploaded to Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/78527>

Review of applications will begin September 25, 2020, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at poliscijobs@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/11/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8046

Princeton University

Rank: NIEHAUS VISITING FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM (2021 – 2022)

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to eight visitors for the 2021-2022 academic year Visiting Fellowship Program. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization.

Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2021 - July 1, 2022).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Friday, November 27, 2020 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17381>.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Wednesday, December 2, 2020. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:

- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2020 - July 1, 2021) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in February 2021.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8031

Princeton University

Rank: Professional Specialist/Data and Statistical Analyst

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2021 for the 2021-2022 academic year. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance. Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2021 - July 1, 2022).

Application Deadline - Applicants should apply by Friday, November 27, 2020 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process - All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17341>.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2021 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Wednesday, December 2, 2020. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in February 2021. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/8/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8030

Cornell University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Government invites applications from scholars with international, global, or transnational interests for a tenure-track position in international relations at the rank of assistant professor in the fall semester 2021. A PhD is required no later than July 1, 2021.

We are especially interested in candidates who share the department's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in the research and teaching of international relations, broadly defined. All applicants must submit a statement of their approach and contributions to these objectives.

Applicants should apply online at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/16734>. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, statement of diversity, equity, and inclusion, three letters of recommendation, and teaching evaluations. We will begin to review applications starting October 1, 2020, and will continue until the search is complete.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 10/1/2020

Date Posted: 8/25/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 7998

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in the politics of development, broadly defined. The department has a strong preference for an area concentration in either Africa or the Middle East, which will complement its existing strengths in the politics of Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The position, to begin in 2021-2022 academic year, is intended to meet and expand curricular goals within the major; to broaden the department's research expertise; and to contribute to interdisciplinary initiatives in the School of Arts and Sciences and to the University of Richmond's mission of "preparing students for responsible leadership in a diverse world." More specifically, the position carries a 3-2 teaching load consisting of a regular offering of a survey course on the politics of development. Other courses would relate to the faculty's regional specialization, with particular preference for courses on the politics of Africa and/or the Middle East. The new hire would also share responsibility for teaching the department's ongoing offerings of Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations and, as schedule permits, contribute to departmental First Year Seminar (FYS) offerings.

Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation by August

1, 2021. Applicants should apply online at <https://richmond.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=2062>.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students "to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society."

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see <https://polisci.richmond.edu/>.

Applicants should click "Apply Now" at the top of the page and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter containing a brief summary of the candidate's research and teaching interests and indicating commitment to the teacher-scholar model, and separate research and teaching statements. The research statement should expand on the candidate's research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate's teaching philosophy, interests, experience and goals. It should also address commitment to inclusive pedagogy and to fostering thriving and inclusive intercultural community, as outlined in the President's Making Excellence Inclusive report (<https://president.richmond.edu/inclusive-excellence/report-pdfs/making-excellence-inclusive-final-report-2019.pdf>). In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence on October 1, 2020 and continue until the position is filled.

Please address any questions about the application to Dr. Jennifer Erkulwater (jerkulwa@richmond.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7971

Texas A&M University

Rank: Instructional Assistant Professor (non-tenure track)

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a non-tenure track, instructional assistant professor in the area of international political economy, to work in the School's teaching site in Washington, D.C. The position will be for a period of two-years, with the possibility of renewal. The start date for this position will be January 1, 2021. The successful candidate will teach five courses per academic year in a professional master's degree program in international policy – two sections of the required course on the global economy and three other elective courses to be determined in consultation with the department head. A reasonable amount of department and professional service will also be expected.

The Department of International Affairs is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and departments is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in political science, politics or government with a specialization in the sub-field of international political economy to be considered.

Applicants with additional expertise in the intersection of international political economy and international security issues, and/or expertise in the politics and political economy of a particular world region, are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit: 1) Letter of Interest, 2) CV, and 3) three letters of recommendation. The application materials must be submitted online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/76363>.

Point of Contact: Ms. Peg Hosea plhosea@tamu.edu

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7900

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: 2021-2022 International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Foreign Policy, International Security, History & Politics

The Fellowship:

The International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS) offers professors from a variety of academic backgrounds practical experience in the foreign policymaking field, providing them with an opportunity to spend their sabbatical year working at a U.S. government agency, in Congress, or with an international organization.

The IAF-TIRS program helps close the gap between research and practice, enriching both teaching and scholarship by enabling fellows to become practitioners. The program also benefits policymakers by exposing them to critical scholarly research relevant to the foreign policy and national security issues facing the United States and the world.

The fellowship is for twelve months. The program will match 50 percent of the fellow's base salary for the academic year (up to a maximum of $80,000 for the year) as well as provide modest assistance for moving expenses for those who need to relocate for the fellowship.

Eligibility:

Applicants should be U.S. citizens

Applicants must be full-time tenured professors at a U.S. college or university

Applicants must have arranged a paid sabbatical with their home university

Applicants must hold a PhD

Applicants must propose to spend a year working on peace and security issues in the U.S. government, in Congress, or at an international organization.

Preference is given to candidates with no previous experience in the U.S. government or with an international organization.

*Note: fellows are considered independent contractors rather than employees of CFR and are not eligible for employment benefits, including health insurance. No indirect costs can be deducted from the stipend award.

How to Apply:

Interested candidates who meet the program eligibility requirements can apply online now through October 31 at cfr.org/fellowships/international-affairs-fellowship-tenured-international-relations-scholars.

If you have additional questions, please contact tirs.fellowships@cfr.org.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 10/31/2020

Date Posted: 5/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7853

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

Postdoctoral positions are available with Dr. Erik Gartzke in the Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) in the Political Science Department at the University of California, San Diego.

cPASS conducts rigorous, data-driven research on international affairs and U.S. foreign policy. Its mission is to apply cutting-edge social science to improve our collective understanding of how humans can best cooperate in an increasingly globalized and connected world with rapidly advancing technologies. cPASS is committed to promoting research excellence and diversity within cPASS and our academic field.

The postdoctoral fellows will assist in a Hewlett Foundation funded project on "CyberEscalation in Power Projection." This project focuses on understanding how humans and their institutions interact with technology to better assess how the introduction of a new kind of connectedness through cyberspace shapes decisions concerning power projection. This project hopes to overcome the challenges for young scholars interested in cyber escalation by investing in building expertise and creating quality data to test theories.

As part of their duties, the postdoctoral fellows will collaborate with the Machine-learning for Social Science Lab (<https://cpass.ucsd.edu>) mssl) to create a foundational dataset of cyber events focused on basic scientific standards that is transparent, replicable, and reproducible. The postdoctoral fellows will also work with cPASS staff to develop the Cyber Escalation Lab and build a community dedicated to cyber escalation topics. Additional duties may arise in line with the goals of the “Cyber-Escalation in Power Projection” project. Authorship/co-authorship of scholarly research will be strongly encouraged.

A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Social Science, Computer Science, Information Science or a related field is required at the time of appointment. Applicants with appropriate skills are encouraged from a wide range of disciplines related to international relations and computer science. The appointment may be delayed for applicants expected to complete their PhD within the next six months.

Candidates must have extensive knowledge and experience in the cyber domain and a strong working knowledge of international relations theory.

Ideal candidates will also have experience with data science and machine learning. Candidates with demonstrated leadership or commitment to support diversity, equity, and inclusion in an academic setting are preferred.

Applicants must apply for this position at this link: <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02537>

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or status as a protected veteran.

This position will be 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible. Some flexibility exists as to the starting date of the position with fall 2020 as the earliest. Candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego by the start of the postdoc.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7823

DePaul University

Rank: Endowed Chair in Applied Diplomacy

DePaul University invites applications for an endowed Chair in Applied Diplomacy. Successful candidates will demonstrate a record of academic accomplishment commensurate with the appointment to the rank of Full Professor with tenure. We are seeking an intellectual leader who is well-prepared to advance an innovative, transprofessional approach to the study and practice of diplomacy that is the hallmark of DePaul’s Grace School of Applied Diplomacy. The successful candidate will be a dynamic scholar with a notable record of publication, an established history of interdisciplinary approaches to the field, expertise in non-state actor and grassroots diplomatic practices, and a commitment to excellence in undergraduate and graduate teaching.

The Grace School is housed in the College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences and offers both BA and MA programs in Applied Diplomacy. It places a premium on promoting collaboration among practitioners of diplomacy in multiple contexts, and as such, its curriculum is designed to prepare students to practice diplomacy not only as foreign service officers, but also as businesspeople, scientists, NGO representatives, religious leaders, international civil servants, community organizers, artists, educators, and grass roots activists. The faculty of the Grace School represent twenty-two different departments and programs from across the University. The School is privileged to be located in Chicago, a globally-engaged city that is home to a rich array of consuls and international initiatives.

Candidates will find an enriching and innovative climate at DePaul, with institutional support for cross-disciplinary, inter-departmental, and community-engaged collaboration. Faculty draw on resources and cultivate partnerships across DePaul’s centers, institutes, departments, schools and programs. Our students benefit from robust study abroad and global learning exchange programs.

DePaul is deeply sensitive to the educational goals of a culturally diverse student population and committed to diversity and equality in education and employment. We seek candidates who will reflect and engage the diversity of the university and its urban community. We strongly encourage applications from people of color, women, and individuals from other historically underrepresented groups.

Review of applications will begin on February 14th. Applications and nominations will be accepted until the position is filled. Applicants are requested to provide a cover letter with a personal statement, a CV and a list of references. The start date for this position is September 1, 2020.

In order to apply, please visit <https://apply.interfolio.com/72500>

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/13/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7627

METHODOLOGY

Trinity College Dublin

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science and Data Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Assistant Professor Positions in Political Science and Data Science at Trinity College Dublin, Ireland

Trinity College Dublin wishes to make two appointments in the area of Political Science and Data Science, to commence on 1 September 2021. The area of specialism is open, but the Department of Political Science has a preference for applicants active in research on applied machine learning and data science in the social sciences. Proficiency in programming in Python and/or R is expected. Desirable skills also include network analysis, statistical forecasting, image processing, and/or quantitative text analysis. The preferred candidates must also be able to teach courses in substantive areas of politics (e.g., comparative politics, international relations, political communication) of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students. The ideal candidates will have an approach to research that complements the Department of Political Science’s existing strengths in comparative and institutional analysis.

The Department is seeking to appoint individuals with vision and enthusiasm and a genuine commitment to the vital roles of teaching, research and administration.

Appointments will be made to either a three-year or to a four-year position.

For more information please use Keyword Search for Political Science at <http://jobs.tcd.ie>, which is also where applications should be submitted.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/20/2021

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8441

State Higher Education Executive Officers Association

Rank: Policy Analyst

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Non-Academic

SHEEO Position Announcement: Policy Analyst

Located in our Boulder, Colorado office

Position Description:

The State Higher Education Executive Officers Association (SHEEO) seeks a policy analyst to support our efforts to perform policy evaluation and contribute to the knowledge base that our member agencies and offices rely upon. The ideal candidate for this position will be enthusiastic about state policy in higher education and how policy can be used to improve equity and outcomes for all students, have strong research skills, and understand how data can inform policy and practice.

SHEEO serves the chief executives of statewide governing, policy, and coordinating boards of postsecondary education and their staffs. Founded in 1954, SHEEO promotes an environment that values higher education and its role in ensuring the equitable education of all Americans, regardless of race/ethnicity, gender, or socioeconomic factors. Together with its members, SHEEO aims to achieve this vision by equipping state higher education executive officers and their staffs with the tools to effectively advance the value of higher education, promoting public policies and academic practices that enable all Americans to achieve success in the 21st century, and serving as an advocate for state higher education leadership. For more information, visit www.sheeo.org.

Key Responsibilities:

SHEEO is seeking diverse applicants who are qualified to:

- Use data to create actionable, policy-relevant insights for state systems of higher education.
- Leverage statistical software packages to create reproducible analyses and accompanying data visualizations, descriptive tables, and trend comparisons.
- Identify and promote best policies and practices related to closing equity gaps in higher education.
- Communicate empirical findings to non-technical audiences through presentations, reports, white papers, and policy briefs.
- Develop and maintain knowledge regarding current activities and future trends in public higher education.
- Represent SHEEO at state, regional, and national meetings and conferences.
- Respond to information requests and provide other member services.
- Other duties as assigned.

Required Experience and Qualifications:

- A master's degree in a relevant field or at least two years of experience in a role that requires similar skills.
- Experience managing and working with data from a variety of higher education and related sources (e.g., IPEDS, ACS, BLS, etc.).
- Fluency in advanced statistical software packages (e.g., Stata, R, Python).
- Ability to establish priorities and coordinate work on multiple projects simultaneously.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- An identifiable commitment to advancing equity and student success in higher education.
- Experience collaborating with others on empirical research projects.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ability to work with large administrative datasets efficiently and accurately.
- Experience conducting rigorous education, social science, public policy, or related research.
- Strong Stata skills.
- Experience working with student-level data.
- Enthusiasm and curiosity for state higher education policy and the data used to inform policy-related conversations.

Salary:

Salary will be commensurate with the successful candidate's level of education and experience. SHEEO provides excellent staff benefits.

Term:

This is a two-year contract position. Contract may be renewed or extended at the end of the two-year term.

Application Process:

Please apply by email to dszczesny@sheeo.org and include the following:

1. A letter describing how you meet the position's requirements addressed to Dr. David Tandberg, SHEEO, 3035 Center Green Drive, #100, Boulder, CO 80301.
2. Résumé or curriculum vitae.
3. Names and contact information of three professional references. (References will not be contacted until you have given permission for us to do so.)

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but full consideration will be given to those received by January 22, 2021. This position is based in Boulder, Colorado. SHEEO is committed to providing equal employment opportunities and believes that recruiting and developing a diverse and inclusive staff is vital to the organization's success.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8421

University of Toronto

Rank: POSTDOCTORAL FELLOW

Munk School of Global Affairs & Public Policy / Department of Political Science

University of Toronto

JOB POSTING — POSTDOCTORAL FELLOW

Area of Research: Political Behavior and Political Communication

Description of duties: The postdoctoral fellow will be mainly responsible for designing and executing surveys and experiments and writing collaborative papers.

Salary: $45,000 per year, plus standard benefits

Required qualifications:

- A completed PhD in political science or a related field (e.g., public policy or economics)
- Experience programming and fielding online surveys using Qualtrics
- Experience designing and programming survey experiments
- Experience with quantitative analysis -- including the analysis of observational and experimental data -- using either R or Stata
- Substantive expertise in the study of political behavior and political communication (country area open)
- An interest in -- and a willingness to learn about -- Canadian politics
- Strong interpersonal skills and enthusiasm for collaborative research

Who we are:

The Policy, Elections, and Representation Lab (PEARL) (<https://www.pearlmunk.com/>) is hiring a postdoctoral fellow in political behaviour and political communication.

Led by Professor Peter Loewen, PEARL is a team of postdoctoral fellows, PhD students, and master's students located in the Munk School of Global Affairs and Public Policy (<https://munkschool.utoronto.ca/>) at the University of Toronto (<https://www.utoronto.ca/>).

PEARL's mission is to deliver timely, academically rigorous, and publicly relevant research that answers three big questions: How do individuals make decisions about politics? How do politicians make policy and represent citizens? And how is technology changing governance and politics?

We offer a welcoming and supportive work environment with significant opportunities for collaboration, learning, academic publication, and publicly-engaged research.

Application instructions:

All individuals interested in the position must submit the following documents by the closing date to john.mcandrews@utoronto.ca using the subject line "PEARL Postdoc -- [Your Name]":

- A covering letter outlining how you meet the qualifications for the position
- Your CV
- A research sample that showcases your skills (e.g., a dissertation chapter, a conference paper, or a published article)
- The names of two academic referees

Closing date: January 15, 2021

Supervisor: Professor Peter Loewen

Expected start date: As soon as possible

Term: 12 months

Location: Initially remote, but transitioning to in-person work at the University's downtown Toronto campus when circumstances permit

FTE: This is a full-time position. The normal hours of work are 40 hours per week for a full-time postdoctoral fellow, recognizing that the needs of the employee's research and training and the needs of the supervisor's research program may require flexibility in the performance of the employee's duties and hours of work.

Employment as a Postdoctoral Fellow at the University of Toronto is covered by the terms of the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

This job is posted in accordance with the CUPE 3902 Unit 5 Collective Agreement.

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8407

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives, and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry.

The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a 9-month academic year, tenure system Assistant Professor that has experience applying data analytics to questions in political science. We are especially interested in candidates using new computational technologies and large-scale data in creative ways to foster knowledge about the political world. Expertise in Bayesian methodologies, temporal or geospatial prediction, network analysis, text analytics, statistical learning, or causal inference are particularly valued. The subfield specialty of the position is open, but the candidate would be expected to teach classes in political and computational methods at the graduate level as well as the Department's "Introduction to Data Analytics" course for undergraduates.

Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills, a strategy for external funding, as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or have completed the Ph.D. by the date of hire.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, disability or protected veteran status.

Please contact Christian Houle (houlech1@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Min. Qualifications: Candidates must have completed a PhD by the date of hire. A successful candidate will be expected to have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills, a strategy for external funding, as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

Required Materials: Interested applicants must apply for this position via Michigan State University Applicant Page (MAP). Please access the MAP system at <https://careers.msu.edu>, posting number 684611. Applicants must submit a CV, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, and a diversity and inclusion statement (a statement addressing how past/and or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion will advance MSU's commitment to inclusive excellence). Applicants must provide three letters of recommendation. Letters may be sent to Rhonda Burns at burnsr@msu.edu, please reference the posting number 684611 in the subject line of the email.

Michigan State University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Michigan State University is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The University actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.

MSU is located in East Lansing, MI, with easy access to the state capital, Lake Michigan, great school districts, and two large metropolitan areas (Grand Rapids, Detroit). The University is pro-active in exploring opportunities for employment for dual career couples, both inside and outside the University. Information about MSU's dual career support can be found at <http://miwin.msu.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8368

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in both Data Science and Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and post-graduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science and data science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidate should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science, data science, statistics, or related area. The successful candidate will be expected to take a leadership role in building a new BSc in Politics and Data Science. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, demonstrated ability to teach data science at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels and the ability to establish international reputation in data science and political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/5082/0/283550/15539/assistant-professor-in-data-science-and-politics>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8356

London School of Economics

Rank: Research Officer

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

Specializations: Conflict Processes, Political Behavior, Religion & Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Research Officer

(Socioeconomics of Islamist Radicalization in the West project)

Salary: from £36,647 to £44,140 per annum with the potential to progress to £47,456 per annum including London allowance

This is a fixed term appointment from September 2021 to August 2023

The LSE Department of Government seeks to appoint a Research Officer (Postdoctoral Researcher) to join the Socioeconomics of Islamist Radicalization in the West (SOCIR) project under the supervision of Prof. Steffen Hertog. SOCIR is a 4-year project led by Prof. Hertog as well as Prof. Gudrun Ostby (PRIO), and Dr. Thomas Hegghammer (FFI) that investigates the relationship between social status and radicalization among Western-born and bred Islamist radicals.

The Research Officer will conduct collaborative and independent research in line with SOCIR's research programme, with special focus on data management and analysis. The officer will have access to the project's dataset also for their own research.

Candidates should have a PhD or be close to completion of a PhD by the post start date, excellent quantitative research methods skills, and a research portfolio covering the fields of political violence, conflict, radicalization or, more broadly, the relationships between socio-economic status and political mobilization. Proficiency in R is required and proficiency in STATA desirable, as is expertise in techniques of causal identification with observational data. Evidence of a methodical approach to work with excellent attention to detail. Excellent written and oral communications and presentation skills. Proficiency in European languages other than English is desirable.

The successful candidate is expected to start in September 2021.

Please see the person specification for further details on the essential and desirable criteria. We offer an occupational pension scheme, generous annual leave and excellent training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/2054/0/283053/15539/research-officer>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, or would like a more detailed project description for SOCIR, please email Professor Steffen Hertog (s.hertog@lse.ac.uk).

The closing date for receipt of applications is 4th January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Interviews are likely to take place in January/February 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/4/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8361

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Polarization and Social Change Lab

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Communication, Political Behavior

Postdoctoral Research Associate: Polarization and Social Change Lab

Stanford's Polarization and Social Change Lab (PI: Robb Willer) has an opening for a postdoctoral researcher, to begin in Fall of 2021. We seek an innovative, accomplished scholar who has, or expects, a PhD in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field and who has an interest in working in a problem-focused, multi-disciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

The Postdoctoral Associate will be responsible for co-designing and leading research projects in one or more of the following areas: political polarization; framing, messaging, and persuasion; political dimensions of inequality; social movement mobilization; and online political behavior. Expertise in any of a range of research methods is valued, with a particular emphasis on field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g. text analysis, social network analysis).

Mentorship Structure

The position will be supervised by Prof. Robb Willer and will involve collaborating with PhD students, post-docs, faculty, and staff affiliated with the lab. Mentorship of the Postdoctoral Associate will be structured according to research and professional interests.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that values rigorous inquiry and diverse perspectives, experiences, backgrounds, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange.

Required Qualifications:

Applicants should have or expect to have a PhD by September 1st, 2021.

Relevant research in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field.

Experience designing and carrying out rigorous research in one or several of the following areas: field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g. text analysis, social network analysis) Interest in working in a multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

Demonstrated excellence in written and oral communication.

Interest in communicating research findings to diverse audiences, including non-academic audiences.

Preferred Qualifications:

Intellectual creativity and innovation

Methodological rigor

Intellectual and practical autonomy

Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills

Required Application Materials:

CV

Statement of interest (maximum 1.5 pages)

2-3 attached writing samples

2 letters of reference (letters of reference should be submitted separately)

Stanford is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Important Info

Faculty Sponsor (Last, First Name): Willer, Robb

Stanford Departments and Centers: Sociology

Postdoc Appointment Term: 1 year with possibility of 2nd year renewal

Appointment Start Date: Fall 2021

Group or Departmental Website: <https://www.pascl.stanford.edu/>

How to Submit Application Materials: Interested candidates should submit the required application materials via the following link: <https://bit.ly/3ois29l>

Please contact Chrystal Redekopp at redekopp@stanford.edu with any additional questions.

Review of applications will begin January 21, 2021

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8355

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and collaborate on and develop projects related to immigration policy and health. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, data acquisition, data analysis, and interpretation of results. This fellow will join a team of researchers from IPL, the Stanford School of Medicine, Oregon Health & Science University, and the Duke School of Medicine to evaluate the effects of immigration and health policy on the intergenerational health of immigrant families.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research. Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families' location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second and third year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2021 and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17290> (ID17290). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Health).

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/20/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8315

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Data Science)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Data Science) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow with extensive experience and training in data science to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of digital tools related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the data scientist postdoc will be to lead data analysis for research projects and develop innovative digital tools related to immigration policy, programs, and services under the guidance of Professors Jens Hainmueller, David Laitin, and Jeremy Weinstein. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on data science, causal inference, machine learning, statistical analysis, and programming. For instance, the postdoc will help drive a global effort to support refugee integration by developing matching tools for various countries using machine learning. The post doc will also work on data analysis for projects examining the impacts of immigration related policies and programs. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects and tools related to immigration policy evaluation.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment, and postdocs will have the opportunity to develop new lab projects with other team members as well as join existing ongoing projects. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies and work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to work on independent research.

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible (no later than August 2021) and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science, statistics, computer science, or related program, with a preference for candidates who have demonstrated training and skills in both data analysis and programming. Previous experience conducting research on immigration issues is valued but not required.

She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, statistical inference and modeling, and machine learning. Experience or skills in data visualization and optimization methods are also highly valued.

In addition, she or he should also have significant programming experience. Proficiency in R is required. Experience working with a general-purpose programming language (e.g. Python, Java, C++) and/or with SQL is also a plus. Demonstrated ability to develop user-friendly digital tools, apps, or programs that leverage data and statistical methods in novel ways is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17288> (ID17288). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Data Science).

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8312

University of Gothenburg

Rank: One or several Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Political Science, with a focus on political behavior and political sociology

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Social Welfare, Gender Politics & Policy

The University of Gothenburg tackles society's challenges with diverse knowledge. 49 000 students and 6 400 employees make the university a large and inspiring place to work and study. Strong research and attractive study programmes attract scientists and students from around the world. With new knowledge and new perspectives, the University contributes to a better future.

The Gothenburg Research Program on Pregnancy and Politics (PregDem) is a research collaboration between political scientists, midwives and obstetricians. The aim is to create a profound understanding of how pregnancy, childbirth and early parenthood affect the pregnant woman's and her partner's views of society. Central outcome variables include policy opinions and ideological priorities, institutional trust, political interest and awareness, political participation, parental identities and gender roles. Central independent variables include health, intake of information, contact with the welfare state, couple dynamics, socio-economic background and the corona-pandemic. We use longitudinal survey data (most importantly The Swedish Pregnancy Panel, The Swedish Citizen Panel, The Swedish Level of Living Survey and the Irish Mammi survey), register data on medical records (from the so-called Graviditetsregistret) and cross-sectional survey data from the Society, Media and Opinion Institute and the Swedish National Election Studies.

The project website (under development) is found here: <https://www.gu.se/en/research/gothenburg-research-program-on-pregnancy-and-politics-pregdem>

PregDem is led by Elin Naurin (Director) and is financed by the Swedish Research Council, Knut & Alice Wallenberg Foundation and University of Gothenburg. You can read an interview with the research director here: <https://kaw.wallenberg.org/en/research/pregnancy-and-perceptions-politics>

Job assignments

The Postdoctoral research fellow will conduct research with a focus on the main questions of the research program, in collaboration with the research director and with other scholars in the team. More specifically, (s)he will analyze and publish original research using the data that is collected within the project, especially the data from the Swedish Pregnancy Panel and the Swedish Citizen panel.

One of PregDem's strengths is the flexibility and collaborative spirit of everyone in the research group, focusing on reaching the goals of the data collection and research program. This includes a willingness to contribute to coding of data, quality control, data management, respondent contact and/or teaching during peak periods. For this position, the service component will include tasks connected to the supervision of online survey data coming in in the final two waves of a panel survey. It will also include participating in the writing of research funding applications. The Postdoctoral Research Fellow may be asked to perform service to the PregDem program up to one-third of FTE.

Eligibility

The postdoctoral research fellow position is open to candidates who have received a PhD in political science or related field latest by the first day of employment.

Assessment

Applications will be evaluated primarily on research excellence in research on political opinion and behavior and/or political sociology with a particular view towards areas of relevance to the PregDem project. One or more of the following scientific skills are also meritorious;

1. A well-developed proposal of high scientific quality, for a research project that falls within and preferably further develops PregDem, based on the above-mentioned outcome and independent variables.
3. Advanced knowledge in longitudinal/panel data techniques.
3. Demonstrated research expertise on: political socialisation, parenthood, partner dynamics, health and politics, political participation, political interest and knowledge, political opinion, political trust, welfare state, gender and politics.

We will make an overall assessment of the applicants' qualifications and select one judged to complement the rest of the team in the best way possible for the needs of the program. Personal qualities relevant for the position are of great importance.

Employment

Fixed-term employment, two years, full time in residence, start date as soon as possible. Location: Department of Political Science, University of Gothenburg

For more details on appointment procedures, please visit: https://web103.reachmee.com/ext/I005/1035/job?site=7&lang=UK&validator=9b89bead79bb7258ad55c8d75228e5b7&job\_id=17746

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/13/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8284

University of Calgary

Rank: Post Doctoral Scholar in National Defence and Data Analytics

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Public Policy

Area: International Policy and Trade (IPT)

Duration: 1-year full-time appointment with possibility of 1-year renewal

Start date: January 2021, negotiable

Salary: $60,000 (plus Plan C Health Insurance benefits and a Research Allowance)

The School of Public Policy at the University of Calgary is accepting applications for a Postdoctoral Scholar in the areas of national defence and data analytics. The position will support the International Policy and Trade program, one of four research divisions within The School of Public Policy.

Please email your application to Dr. Jean-Christophe Boucher at jc.boucher@ucalgary.ca by October 31, 2020. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2020, but the position will remain open until filled.

<https://careers.ucalgary.ca/jobs/5621665-post-doctoral-scholar-in-national-defense-and-data-analytics-international-policy-and-trade-school-of-public-policy>.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8208

Yale University

Rank: Research Postdoctoral Associate

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics (CSAP) seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2021. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis.

Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Application materials include a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Please apply online at this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/79728>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2021. Please submit your completed application by that date for full consideration, although applications received after 2/1/21 will be reviewed if there is still a vacancy.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/22/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8205

W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research

Rank: Senior Researcher

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Non-Academic, Methodology

Specializations: Economic Policy, Labor Politics, United States

The W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research is seeking to diversify its senior research staff in terms of discipline and methodology. We invite Ph.D. researchers with at least 5 years of experience in sociology, public policy, social policy, political science or a related field to apply for a senior researcher position.

The Institute is searching for candidates who have demonstrated experience in using qualitative, mixed, and/or survey methods to research labor and employment issues. Candidates should have a solid publication record, excellent oral and written communication skills for both academic and lay audiences, and a strong interest in addressing policy-relevant issues. The Institute is seeking to hire a researcher on a full-time basis or on a part-time basis that, for example, might be combined with an academic appointment and is open to remote work arrangements.

About the Institute

The Upjohn Institute is an endowed, nonprofit research organization that conducts independent, nonpartisan research on employment-related issues. The Institute offers a thriving and collaborative research environment. Our staff includes eleven Ph.Ds. who share common research interests and are excellent colleagues. The Institute's endowment allows researchers considerable freedom in developing their agenda within the Institute's mission. Research staff also seek funding from foundations or government agencies as a way of augmenting their research or becoming more involved in finding practical solutions to employment problems. Researchers receive excellent support from in-house staff, including research assistants, technology specialists, information and database specialists, and administrative staff.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/6/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8141

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowships with the Leitner Program on Effective Democratic Governance at Yale, 2021-22

Yale University's Leitner Program on Effective Democratic Governance housed at the Jackson Institute for Global Affairs is seeking applications for a Postdoctoral Associate with strong economics training and quantitative methods. The Postdoctoral Associate will work with a Yale group led by professors Frances Rosenbluth and Ian Shapiro in analyzing regulation, employment practices, and market outcomes, principally for OECD countries.

This is a full-time position. The Postdoctoral Associate will spend fifty percent of their time working collaboratively on this project and the other fifty percent pursuing their own research.

The appointment period will run for twelve months, starting in July 2021. Fellows will be expected to be in full-time residence at Yale for the duration of their appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, one page description of research plans, and two letters of recommendation. All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/79312>.

Compensation includes a salary of $65,000 for the duration of the appointment, health insurance, and other benefits afforded to postdoctoral associates at Yale. For more information see <https://your.yale.edu/enroll#pda>.

Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2020 and will continue until the position is filled.

For questions concerning this search, please contact larisa.satara@yale.edu

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/29/2020
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8116

University of Colorado, Colorado Springs

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, East Asia

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs (UCCS) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of international relations beginning August 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: international security, international conflict, and foreign policy. Additional consideration will be given to candidates with teaching and research interests in comparative politics, international organizations, civil-military relations, East Asian politics, or research methods. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate courses in political science (five courses per year), keeping up an active research agenda, and service at the departmental, university, or professional level. Candidates must have a PhD in political science or a closely related field.

Applications submitted on the CU Careers website by November 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. Applications submitted through email or surface mail will not be considered. Please apply at www.cu.edu/cu-careers (job #: 19206). Upon request, please be prepared to provide five professional references, including their email contact information. Official transcripts will be required upon hire. Evidence of teaching effectiveness and samples of research may be required. If you have technical difficulties with your application, please contact the CU Careers help desk at 303-860-4200 #5 or cucareershelp@cu.edu. Job related inquiries should be directed to the posting contact, Dr. Steven Pittz.

To apply, please submit the following application materials on the CU Careers website: a current CV, a cover letter that specifically addresses the job requirements and outlines qualifications, unofficial transcripts, teaching statement, and research statement. In order for an application to be considered, applicants must label each required attachment with the relevant title, attach the required documents for this position announcement to the submission, and check the Job Specific Attachments box next to each document in the submission.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 11/15/2020

Date Posted: 9/21/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8076

Carleton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Asian American Politics, China, East Asia

The Carleton College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics to begin September 1, 2021. We are specifically interested in candidates who have regional expertise in Chinese politics and prefer candidates who can speak both to domestic dynamics as well as China's role in a broader Asian and/or global context. Successful candidates should be able to teach a range of courses in Comparative Politics (including the introductory course) as well as offer instruction in research methods (qualitative and/or quantitative). The standard teaching load is five courses spread across three trimesters. The ideal candidate will also be interested in contributing to a vibrant college-wide culture of undergraduate research and have a commitment to attracting and retaining students from underserved groups. A PhD in hand or its imminent completion is required.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000, located in the historic and thriving town of Northfield, Minnesota. We are in commuting distance of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, whose greater metro area has a diverse population of three million people and a rich variety of cultural resources. The Political Science Department strives to introduce students—majors and non-majors alike—to a broad array of theoretical and philosophical perspectives while equipping them with the necessary analytic skills to engage with an increasingly diverse world and contribute constructively to one's community. For further information about the department, please consult the department website at carleton.edu/political-science.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, and a statement about teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment and how you would contribute to a college community that embraces a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We also require a statement about research interests, one scholarly writing sample and contact information for three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to jobs.carleton.edu. Inquiries can be directed to pteiken@carleton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 9/4/2020

Date Posted: 7/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7917

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Title: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA)

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFU)

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFU) seeks applicants for two tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts in Fall semester of 2021. The openings are in the field of comparative politics, research methodology, and political theory. Candidates who have a research focus on issues of public policy are strongly encouraged to apply for the positions. A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potentials to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field. Although the working environment in SUFE is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years of employment. The tenure-track faculty are expected to publish research on highly reputable international journals, offer high-quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFE. The rules of evaluation and promotion are standardized at the university and similar to those for tenure positions in a regular American university.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, medical insurance, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background: Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas. The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five-Year Plan. The newly established Institute of Political Science has eight members who hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents: Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

The deadline for accepting applications is September 31, 2020, for this round of recruitment. We will arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Wechat during November and December 2020.

Contact: Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/14/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 7872

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

Postdoctoral positions are available with Dr. Erik Gartzke in the Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) in the Political Science Department at the University of California, San Diego.

cPASS conducts rigorous, data-driven research on international affairs and U.S. foreign policy. Its mission is to apply cutting-edge social science to improve our collective understanding of how humans can best cooperate in an increasingly globalized and connected world with rapidly advancing technologies. cPASS is committed to promoting research excellence and diversity within cPASS and our academic field.

The postdoctoral fellows will assist in a Hewlett Foundation funded project on “CyberEscalation in Power Projection.” This project focuses on understanding how humans and their institutions interact with technology to better assess how the introduction of a new kind of connectedness through cyberspace shapes decisions concerning power projection. This project hopes to overcome the challenges for young scholars interested in cyber escalation by investing in building expertise and creating quality data to test theories.

As part of their duties, the postdoctoral fellows will collaborate with the Machine-learning for Social Science Lab (<https://cpass.ucsd.edu/mssl>) to create a foundational dataset of cyber events focused on basic scientific standards that is transparent, replicable, and reproducible. The postdoctoral fellows will also work with cPASS staff to develop the Cyber Escalation Lab and build a community dedicated to cyber escalation topics. Additional duties may arise in line with the goals of the “Cyber-Escalation in Power Projection” project. Authorship/co-authorship of scholarly research will be strongly encouraged.

A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Social Science, Computer Science, Information Science or a related field is required at the time of appointment. Applicants with appropriate skills are encouraged from a wide range of disciplines related to international relations and computer science. The appointment may be delayed for applicants expected to complete their PhD within the next six months.

Candidates must have extensive knowledge and experience in the cyber domain and a strong working knowledge of international relations theory.

Ideal candidates will also have experience with data science and machine learning. Candidates with demonstrated leadership or commitment to support diversity, equity, and inclusion in an academic setting are preferred.

Applicants must apply for this position at this link: <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02537>

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or status as a protected veteran.

This position will be 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible. Some flexibility exists as to the starting date of the position with fall 2020 as the earliest. Candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego by the start of the postdoc.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7823

NON-ACADEMIC

State Higher Education Executive Officers Association

Rank: Policy Analyst

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Non-Academic

SHEEO Position Announcement: Policy Analyst

Located in our Boulder, Colorado office

Position Description:

The State Higher Education Executive Officers Association (SHEEO) seeks a policy analyst to support our efforts to perform policy evaluation and contribute to the knowledge base that our member agencies and offices rely upon. The ideal candidate for this position will be enthusiastic about state policy in higher education and how policy can be used to improve equity and outcomes for all students, have strong research skills, and understand how data can inform policy and practice.

SHEEO serves the chief executives of statewide governing, policy, and coordinating boards of postsecondary education and their staffs. Founded in 1954, SHEEO promotes an environment that values higher education and its role in ensuring the equitable education of all Americans, regardless of race/ethnicity, gender, or socioeconomic factors. Together with its members, SHEEO aims to achieve this vision by equipping state higher education executive officers and their staffs with the tools to effectively advance the value of higher education, promoting public policies and academic practices that enable all Americans to achieve success in the 21st century, and serving as an advocate for state higher education leadership. For more information, visit www.sheeo.org.

Key Responsibilities:

SHEEO is seeking diverse applicants who are qualified to:

- Use data to create actionable, policy-relevant insights for state systems of higher education.
- Leverage statistical software packages to create reproducible analyses and accompanying data visualizations, descriptive tables, and trend comparisons.
- Identify and promote best policies and practices related to closing equity gaps in higher education.
- Communicate empirical findings to non-technical audiences through presentations, reports, white papers, and policy briefs.
- Develop and maintain knowledge regarding current activities and future trends in public higher education.

- Represent SHEEO at state, regional, and national meetings and conferences.
- Respond to information requests and provide other member services.
- Other duties as assigned.

Required Experience and Qualifications:

- A master's degree in a relevant field or at least two years of experience in a role that requires similar skills.
- Experience managing and working with data from a variety of higher education and related sources (e.g., IPEDS, ACS, BLS, etc.).
- Fluency in advanced statistical software packages (e.g., Stata, R, Python).
- Ability to establish priorities and coordinate work on multiple projects simultaneously.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- An identifiable commitment to advancing equity and student success in higher education.
- Experience collaborating with others on empirical research projects.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ability to work with large administrative datasets efficiently and accurately.
- Experience conducting rigorous education, social science, public policy, or related research.
- Strong Stata skills.
- Experience working with student-level data.
- Enthusiasm and curiosity for state higher education policy and the data used to inform policy-related conversations.

Salary:

Salary will be commensurate with the successful candidate's level of education and experience. SHEEO provides excellent staff benefits.

Term:

This is a two-year contract position. Contract may be renewed or extended at the end of the two-year term.

Application Process:

Please apply by email to dszczesny@sheeo.org and include the following:

1. A letter describing how you meet the position's requirements addressed to Dr. David Tandberg, SHEEO, 3035 Center Green Drive, #100, Boulder, CO 80301.
2. Résumé or curriculum vitae.
3. Names and contact information of three professional references. (References will not be contacted until you have given permission for us to do so.)

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but full consideration will be given to those received by January 22, 2021. This position is based in Boulder, Colorado. SHEEO is committed to providing equal employment opportunities and believes that recruiting and developing a diverse and inclusive staff is vital to the organization's success.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8421

W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research

Rank: Senior Researcher

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Non-Academic, Methodology

Specializations: Economic Policy, Labor Politics, United States

The W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research is seeking to diversify its senior research staff in terms of discipline and methodology. We invite Ph.D. researchers with at least 5 years of experience in sociology, public policy, social policy, political science or a related field to apply for a senior researcher position.

The Institute is searching for candidates who have demonstrated experience in using qualitative, mixed, and/or survey methods to research labor and employment issues. Candidates should have a solid publication record, excellent oral and written communication skills for both academic and lay audiences, and a strong interest in addressing policy-relevant issues. The Institute is seeking to hire a researcher on a full-time basis or on a part-time basis that, for example, might be combined with an academic appointment and is open to remote work arrangements.

About the Institute

The Upjohn Institute is an endowed, nonprofit research organization that conducts independent, nonpartisan research on employment-related issues. The Institute offers a thriving and collaborative research environment. Our staff includes eleven Ph.Ds. who share common research interests and are excellent colleagues. The Institute's endowment allows researchers considerable freedom in developing their agenda within the Institute's mission. Research staff also seek funding from foundations or government agencies as a way of augmenting their research or becoming more involved in finding practical solutions to employment problems. Researchers receive excellent support from in-house staff, including research assistants, technology specialists, information and database specialists, and administrative staff.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8141

OPEN

Grinnell College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science/Policy Studies-Two Year Position (Start Fall 2021)

GRINNELL COLLEGE. The Department of Political Science and the Policy Studies Concentration invite applications for a two-year appointment in policy studies beginning Fall 2021. Preferred candidates will have a Ph.D. in political science, with a focus on public policy. Applicants with a Ph.D. in public policy will also be considered. Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) preferred; Instructor (ABD) or Associate Professor possible. The teaching load is five courses/year over two semesters, including Introduction to Political Science, Foundations of Policy Analysis, intermediate and advanced courses in political science and an advanced seminar in policy analysis, in areas of the candidate's expertise.

Grinnell College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts college with a strong tradition of social responsibility. In letters of application, candidates should discuss their potential to contribute to a college community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. To be assured of full consideration, all application materials should be received by February 1. Please visit our application website at <https://jobs.grinnell.edu> to find more details about the job and submit applications online. Candidates will need to provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts (copies are acceptable), a sample of written scholarly work and provide email addresses for three references. Questions about this search should be directed to the search chair, Professor H. Wayne Moyer, at [PoliSciSearch@grinnell.edu] or 641-269-3173.

Grinnell College is committed to establishing and maintaining a safe and nondiscriminatory educational environment for all College community members. It is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination in matter of admission, employment, and housing, and in access to and participation in its education programs, services, and activities. The college does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, religion, disability, creed, or any other protected class.

An offer for this position will be contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/1/2021

Date Posted: 12/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8442

Jobelephant.com

Rank: Political Science, Assistant (Tenure-Track) Professor R20091

Political Science, Assistant (Tenure-Track) Professor R20091

Salary: Depends on Qualifications

Location: Bellevue WA, WA

Job Type:

Division: Academic Affairs

Job Number: R20091

Job Status: Full-Time Represented Tenure-Track

DESCRIPTION

Bellevue College is seeking qualified candidates for an assistant (tenure-track) full-time professor position in the Political Science Program for the 2021-2022 academic year. The ideal candidate will be a teacher who is committed to student empowerment, community engagement, and global citizenship. Full-time professor teach 15 credits (typically 3 courses) per quarter and hold a minimum of 5 office hours per week. Additional responsibilities include student advising and mentoring, shared governance, curriculum development, program management, and ongoing professional development. The Political Science Program at Bellevue College values inclusive teaching, shared governance and interdisciplinary collaboration, and is committed to equity, anti-racism, and social justice.

This position is represented by the Bellevue College Association of Higher Education (BCAHE) union.

COMPREHENSIVE WAGE AND BENEFIT PACKAGE

Annual salary is based on a 176-day contract with a minimum of $66,580.43 ; beginning salary will be determined by the assessment of the candidate's education and related experience. New hires cannot be placed above $71,390.63 unless exceptional circumstances prevail. We offer comprehensive compensation package with salary and benefits as the main components. Generous benefits package is offered through Washington State plans that includes multiple medical, dental, life and disability coverage choices for employees and dependents; choices of retirement and deferred compensation plans; paid holidays, sick, and vacation plans; temporary housing; transit program, reduced tuition, employee discounts and memberships, etc. For more details about Bellevue College's excellent employee benefits, please visit Benefits section, next to Description section.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Bellevue College is a diverse student-centered, comprehensive and innovative college, committed to teaching excellence that advances the life-long educational development of its students while strengthening the economic, social and cultural life of its diverse community. Bellevue College is located just 10 miles east of Seattle where we serve a student population of over 44% students of color and over 1,100 international students. The college promotes student success by providing high-quality, flexible, accessible educational programs and services; advancing pluralism, inclusion and global awareness; and acting as a catalyst and collaborator for a vibrant region. We strive to create a vibrant and inclusive campus community that supports a diverse student body, faculty and staff. As an essential part of our <http://www.bellevuecollege.edu/futurevision/core-themes/>, diversity, equity and pluralism are promoted and fostered in all aspects of college life. By enriching student life through leadership opportunities, personal learning and cultural experiences, we are committed to building an inclusive and diverse campus community that fosters creativity, innovation and student success.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Political Science Department at Bellevue College values student-centered teaching and learning. We serve a diverse student body, offering first-year and second-year level courses in Political Science. Our curriculum is articulated with the University of Washington and our students have a high success rate upon transfer. Among the Political Science department's many courses are: Introduction to Political Science, American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Introduction to Political Philosophy, The United Nations, Gender and Politics, and Environmental Politics. These courses are offered in multiple teaching modalities, including online, hybrid, and face-to-face classes. In addition, we offer faculty the opportunity to teach International Studies and Interdisciplinary Studies courses and we encourage our faculty to develop new curriculum that serves our diverse student population. We are committed to teaching, governance, activism and research that not only serves our diverse student body but also contributes to the broader community.

POSITION DUTIES

Teaching duties include:

- Teaching 15 credits per quarter using student-centered instruction to achieve learning outcomes for a multi-cultural student body with emphasis on high impact practices that close opportunity gaps.
- Organizing and executing course plans that employ up-to-date syllabi, clear expectations, and approved course learning outcomes and assessment criteria.
- Assessing and evaluating student learning, using a range of measurement activities and providing students precise, timely, constructive, feedback regarding their learning, performance, and professional preparation.

- Maintaining knowledge of effective teaching methodologies, instructional delivery methods, classroom media, and educational resources.
- Maintaining currency within the discipline and engaging in scholarly pursuits that result in presentation, publication, exhibition, or performance.

Advising duties include:

- Establishing weekly office hours to advise students about coursework and classroom-related questions.
- Communicating actively with students to create a positive, respectful and culturally-aware learning environment that ensures students, especially under-represented and historically marginalized students, are fully engaged and included in teaching and learning activities.
- Practicing culturally-responsible student advising that assists students, especially underrepresented and historically marginalized students, overcome retention and completion barriers.

Governance/Service duties include:

- Participating in college governance by serving on department, division, campus committees or individual projects.
- Participating in college-wide student success initiatives, especially those aimed at increasing opportunity for, retention of, and completion by underrepresented and historically marginalized students.
- Participating in on-going curriculum development, revision, implementation, and evaluation that incorporates principles of diversity, equity and inclusion.
- Assisting in the development, distribution, and collection of student learning outcome assessments.
- Representing the college or program at community events, statewide inter-institutional initiatives, or local, state, regional, or national professional organizations, and performing other duties and functions as assigned.

QUALIFICATIONS/CORE COMPETENCIES

- Master's degree or higher in Political Science or related field with a political emphasis and/or - J.D. with a political focus from an accredited academic institution. (Explain applicability of related discipline in cover letter)
- Experience teaching Political Science or a related interdisciplinary field with a political focus.
- Ability to teach a range of courses in Political Science, including its multiple subfields.
- Demonstrated commitment to the community college mission and student population.
- Ability to teach in a multi-cultural classroom and advocate for diversity, equity and inclusion.
- Ability to teach a wide range of student preparedness consistent with an open access college.
- Demonstrated ability to connect and build relationships with students and colleagues from varied ethnicities, gender identities, ages, backgrounds, learning styles, and abilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- Ph.D. (or "All But Dissertation") in Political Science or related discipline from an accredited institution. (Explain applicability of related discipline in cover letter)
- Record of success teaching college-level courses in Political Science or a related field with a political focus.

- Experience integrating diversity, equity, and inclusion into the teaching, learning and mentoring of students
- Demonstrated commitment to social justice and community engagement, both inside and outside the classroom.
- Demonstrated commitment to addressing disproportionate impact, equity and anti-racism issues in an institutional setting.
- Experience with a variety of teaching modalities and delivery methods, including online, hybrid and face-to-face classes.
- Demonstrated commitment to shared governance and ongoing professional development.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLICANTS

Applications received by 02/14/2021 will be given full consideration. Applications received after that date may be considered until the position is filled. The position will begin Fall Quarter, 2021.

Assistant (Tenure-Track) Professor positions are eligible for relocation allowance.

Background Check:

Prior to a new hire, a background check will be conducted. Information from the background check will not necessarily preclude employment, but will be considered in determining the applicant's suitability and competence to perform in the position.

How To Apply:

Click on the word Apply at the top right corner of the job announcement.

Individuals interested in this position are encouraged to apply. Your application must include a complete online application and all of the required documents below to be considered complete. Any application that does not provide all requested information will be considered incomplete and will not be screened for the position.

- Complete an online Application
- Attach a Cover Letter (minimum 1 page, maximum 2 pages) that addresses how you meet the minimum and preferred qualifications, including teaching experiences
- Attach a Curriculum Vitae/Resume
- Attach a statement of your Teaching Philosophy (minimum 1 page, maximum 2 pages)
- Attach a Diversity Statement (minimum 1 page, maximum 2 pages) that addresses the following: Please provide specific examples of how your educational and/or professional experiences, background or philosophy demonstrate your commitment to diversity and equity, and how these prepare you to contribute to Bellevue College. Please note that your Diversity Statement must be a separate response from your Teaching Philosophy.
- Attach a copy of academic transcripts (unofficial transcripts may be submitted - official transcripts required upon employment)
- Attach the names and contact information of three professional references
- Attach a sample syllabus for any first-year course in Political Science or related discipline

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/2108642>

Bellevue College is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing equal opportunity and nondiscrimination to applicants and employees without regard to race or ethnicity; creed; color; national origin; sex; marital status; sexual orientation; age; religion; genetic information; the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical disability; or whether a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran. Please see policy 4100 at www.bellevuecollege.edu/policies/. Applicants with disabilities who require assistance with the recruitment process may contact hr@bellevuecollege.edu or 425-564-2271. The following people have been designated to handle inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies: Title IX Coordinator, 425-564- 2641, Office C227, and EEOC/504 Compliance Officer, 425-564- 2178, Office R130.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-0662b31a7be2014592bc4d59660acaca>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8439

Loyola University, Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

The School of Environmental Sustainability at Loyola University Chicago seeks qualified candidates for a 9-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in environmental policy. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in policy as it relates to the intersection of social equity and environmental sustainability, particularly in the areas of our research affinity groups: climate change, water, environmental health, food systems, and/or biodiversity. The SES seeks to diversify its faculty and encourages underrepresented minorities, women, and people with disabilities to apply. This position builds on the School's interdisciplinary strengths in addressing society's vexing environmental challenges through research, teaching, and service.

<https://www.careers.luc.edu/postings/14709>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8438

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Middle East, Research Methods, Women & Politics

Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct important research and teach the next generation of global leaders. The Division of Social Science invites applications for a tenured/tenure-track position in Political Science. This position is open with respect to rank and subfield, though scholars in the fields of international relations and Middle East are especially encouraged to apply. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2021, or September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence.

Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi's unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present. The disciplines in this field seek to deepen our understanding of how people behave in a wide variety of contexts and to assess the consequences of individual, group, and societal decisions.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science.

We seek individuals who have, or have the potential to develop, a strong record of scholarship and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/82086>

.CV

.Cover Letter

.Teaching Statement

.Research Statement

.Recent teaching evaluations (if available)

.Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

.For candidates applying for the Assistant Professor Positions, please submit the names and email addresses of three (3) references who will be contacted to upload their letter confidentially through Interfolio.

.For candidates applying to the Senior faculty position, please submit a list of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin reviewing applications on February 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2021-2022.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8433

St. John Fisher College

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics and Public Law

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Open

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

St. John Fisher College, an independent, liberal arts institution in the Catholic tradition located in Rochester, New York, seeks nominations and applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of Political Science and Public Law. The selected candidate will be expected to teach traditional American Politics courses at all levels of the undergraduate degree, with a focus on US Institutions, and will be able to contribute to course offerings in our Legal Studies program, with a focus on Judicial institutions and processes. Additionally, the candidate will contribute to the new Fisher Core. The position is available beginning August 2021.

Founded in 1948, St. John Fisher College is ranked among the top colleges and universities in the northeast and has a rich history of academic excellence and an outstanding reputation for its commitment to a student-centered, personalized educational environment. The educational philosophy of the founding Basilian Fathers—Teach me goodness, discipline, and knowledge—reflects Fisher's traditions and values today, and the campus prepares individuals for lives of intellectual, professional, and civic integrity and where diversity and service to others are valued and practiced (www.sjfc.edu).

The School of Arts and Sciences at St John Fisher College serves all undergraduate students through 33 programs, the Core general education curriculum, and pre-professional requirements. The School provides all the liberal arts offerings required for baccalaureate degrees, thus providing critical skills and perspectives across a wide range of disciplines. New faculty will arrive at an exciting time in our College's history as we launch a new interdisciplinary Core curriculum, and the College looks forward to the transformative impact these faculty will have.

Required qualifications:

- PhD or ABD in Political Science with a preferred specialization in American Government.
- Ability to teach a wide range of courses at the undergraduate level.
- Demonstrated ability to be an excellent teacher.
- Commitment to a consistent, high-quality scholarly agenda.
- Commitment to mentoring and advising students.
- Commitment to contributing to a climate of equity and inclusion.
- Commitment to service.
- Commitment to community engagement.
- Excellent communication skills.

Applicants must be legally authorized to work in the US and be available to start teaching in fall 2021.

Applications are invited from candidates who have completed a doctorate or doctoral candidates with a scheduled completion date for the dissertation.

To apply, please submit a C.V., Cover letter, Statement of Teaching Philosophy using the link below. Three letters of recommendations can be submitted separately to Dr. Lazardoux upon request.

<https://jobs.sjfc.edu/postings/2067>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8430

McMaster University

Rank: Tenure-track/Tenured, Assistant Professor/Associate Professor/Professor

McMaster University

- advancing human and societal health and well-being

McMaster University is located on the traditional territories of the Haudenosaunee and Mississauga Nations and, within the lands protected by the Dish with One Spoon wampum agreement.

Tenure-Track/Tenured, Assistant Professors/Associate Professors/Professors

McMaster University is pleased to announce a cohort hiring initiative of up to twelve appointments of emerging and established academics and scholars who will contribute to the advancement of Black academic excellence across all six McMaster Faculties. McMaster seeks candidates whose scholarship and scholarly work forefronts or contributes to any of the following disciplinary or interdisciplinary areas of teaching and research:

DeGroot School of Business: All areas of business with preference given to AI, Business Analytics, Socially responsible investing; Social entrepreneurship; Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion issues in business
Faculty of Engineering: All areas of engineering, with an emphasis on the Faculty's research clusters: advanced manufacturing, digital and smart systems, energy, environment, health and bio-innovation, infrastructure, micro-nano systems and transportation. For more information about the opportunities available within the Faculty of Engineering, please visit <https://www.eng.mcmaster.ca/about/faculty-recruitment>.

Faculty of Health Sciences: Areas of priority include computational genomics, bioinformatics and immunometabolism; and clinical and/or population and/or public health research with a focus on understanding determinants of health impacting access to health care, including screening, prevention and education, for marginalized populations in Canada and globally. We are also looking for an outstanding clinician who would focus on medical education and help lead the Department of Medicine's efforts to increase equity and diversity. The latter is not a tenure-track position and is posted separately as posting #35401.

Faculty of Humanities: African Diaspora and/or Caribbean Literary and Cultural Studies; African and Black Art; Post-Colonial Studies; Critical Race and/or Black Feminist Studies; Law as it relates to race and racism; Linguistics: Syntax with an additional focus in morphology, semantics, and/or sociolinguistics.

Faculty of Science: All areas of Science, but with preference for Epidemiology of Racism (e.g., biological expression of racism, embodiment of racial inequality, racial inequities as social determinants of health); Racial inequality within the environment (environmental racism), and social and physical geography of racism.

Faculty of Social Science: Migration and Mobility; Racial Inequality within social institutions (e.g., health care, education, criminal justice system) and its implications on determinants of health and prosperity (e.g., physical and mental health, educational, labour market outcomes) and to various stratified social stations (e.g., care work); Local and Global Development Economics, trade, and globalization; race and its impact in health, labour, education; Critical Race Studies; Post Colonial Studies.

McMaster's purpose is articulated as a dedication to advancing human and societal health and well-being locally and globally, by promoting inclusive mindsets, collaborative learning, innovative thinking, and seeking global impact. This cohort hiring initiative is in keeping with McMaster's vision to achieve international distinction for creativity, innovation, and excellence, and to embody values of integrity, quality, inclusiveness and teamwork. It is also aligned with ongoing transformative work being undertaken to ensure inclusive excellence in the recruitment and retention of faculty that have been underrepresented across all academic disciplines, which is articulated in McMaster's EDI Strategy: Towards Inclusive Excellence and reinforced in the President's recent letter to the community.

At McMaster, we collaborate across disciplines to solve some of the world's toughest challenges, working together to improve people's lives and contribute to our global knowledge base. The University is committed to maintaining its reputation for global impact and advancing the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). McMaster invites scholars who will contribute to McMaster's broad strategic research priority areas, as articulated in the Brighter World

Strategic Research Plan, and who will support our purpose through creative, collaborative and community-engaged scholarly activity.

Successful applicants must demonstrate a record or evidence of strong potential for excellence in teaching, research and service and a willingness and ability to: (1) contribute actively to undergraduate and graduate programs; (2) supervise masters and doctoral students; (3) establish research collaborations across Departments within Faculties or across Faculties; and (4) contribute to the University's inclusive excellence goals and priorities. Consideration will be given to promising applicants who hold a Ph.D., or are very near completion of a doctorate degree by the time of the appointment.

Depending on areas of research focus, successful candidates may have opportunities to contribute to the Global Peace and Social Justice Program (renamed Peace Studies Program) and the expansion of the African & African Diaspora Studies Minor. Successful candidates may also have opportunities to collaborate with the University Library to enhance significant archival holdings from the Canadian Caribbean diaspora, particularly those of Louise Simone Bennett-Coverley (Miss Lou) and Austin Clarke, as well as collections of both rare and contemporary books (e.g., Dr. Anthony Macfarlane collection).

Commitment to Inclusive Excellence

The diversity of our workforce is at the core of McMaster's innovation and creativity and strengthens our research, teaching and service excellence. It is essential to engaging our diverse student body and intellectual community. In keeping with its Statement on Building an Inclusive Community with a Shared Purpose, McMaster University strives to embody the values of respect, collaboration and diversity, and welcomes applicants who share our commitment to equity, diversity and inclusive excellence.

For these positions, McMaster seeks qualified individuals who self-identify as persons of Black/African descent and lived experience. Successful candidates will be joining a vibrant and networked campus community of Black scholars, supported by the longstanding African and Caribbean Faculty Association of McMaster (ACFAM) and local African and Caribbean associations within the Hamilton region.

How to Apply:

Application materials must be submitted through the University's electronic portal: workingatmcmaster.ca/careers/ (Job Opening #35333). Application materials must include:

- a letter of application together with a curriculum vitae, research statement, statement of teaching interests and philosophy (including evidence of teaching effectiveness);
- a brief statement describing any contributions made or planned in relation to advancing equity, diversity and inclusive excellence in teaching, research or service within higher education, community-based or other profession settings, including lived experiences and understandings of Black/African Diasporic peoples and cultures (2-page maximum).

Applicants are asked to indicate the Faculties in which they would like to be considered for a position.

Please note that letters of recommendation or references are not required at the time of application – these will be solicited at later stages of the search process. Unsolicited letters will not be reviewed until later stages of the search process.

All applicants are also asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey, which takes approximately two minutes to complete. All questions are voluntary, with an option to decline to answer. All information collected is confidential and will be used to support efforts to broaden the diversity of the applicant pool and to promote a fair, equitable and inclusive talent acquisition process.

The Diversity Survey is accessible through the university application portal. Inquiries about the Diversity Survey may be directed to hr.empequity@mcmaster.ca.

Job applicants requiring accommodation to participate in the hiring process should contact the Employment Equity Specialist at hr.empequity@mcmaster.ca to communicate accommodation needs.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority for the position. To comply with the Government of Canada's reporting requirements, the University gathers information about applicants' status as either a permanent resident of Canada or Canadian citizen. Applicants need not identify country of origin or current citizenship; however, all applications must include one of the following statements:

- • Yes, I am a citizen or permanent resident of Canada
- • No, I am not a citizen or permanent resident of Canada

McMaster University acknowledges that certain circumstances may cause career interruptions that legitimately affect an applicant's record of research achievement. We encourage applicants to note in their applications whether they would like consideration given to the impact of any such circumstances due to health, family, or other legitimate reasons in order to allow for a fair assessment of their research productivity.

McMaster is committed to supporting candidates within a dual career household. Inquiries about spousal/partner employment may be directed to the Office of the Provost & Vice President Academic at provost@mcmaster.ca.

Review of applications will begin on January 4, 2021 and continue until the positions are filled.

Direct queries about the position to the Office of the Provost & Vice President Academic at provost@mcmaster.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8404

University of Connecticut

Rank: Visiting Scholar Fellowship

The University of Connecticut Humanities Institute (UCHI) invites applications for 2021–22 residential fellowships.

During this time of global change and uncertainty, UCHI seeks to mobilize the humanities as a revitalizing force for our academic communities, national conversations, and global commitments. With year-long fellowships offering a $50,000 stipend, an office, and all the benefits of a Research I university, UCHI equips scholars to engage in these crucial undertakings and hone their research in a vibrant, interdisciplinary community of fellows. Fellows enjoy the full use of UConn's research facilities, museums, archives, and special collections, as well as easy access to Hartford, Boston, and New York City. In sum, UCHI fosters a rich intellectual environment for scholars to create, connect, and recommit to the urgency of the humanities.

Fellowships are open to humanities researchers, including professors, independent scholars, writers, and museum and library professionals. Applicants whose research engages with the nature, meaning, or artistic expression of truth—which are the themes of UCHI's ongoing Henry Luce Foundation-funded Future of Truth project—are encouraged to apply.

Application materials must be received by February 1, 2021.

For complete information, application, and guidelines: <https://apply.interfolio.com/81901>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/1/2021

Date Posted: 12/15/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8400

Northeastern University

Rank: Open Rank - Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The College of Social Sciences and Humanities at Northeastern University at Northeastern University seeks nominations and applications for multiple tenured or tenure-track faculty positions in race, racism, anti-racism, structural inequality, and intersectionality, with a focus on issues of social justice. Expected start date is Fall 2021.

Successful candidates will have a scholarly record using methodological approaches that work with qualitative, quantitative, or mixed methods to study social phenomena, including but not limited to questions pertaining to racial (in)justice, social inequities, health and environmental disparities. We especially welcome applicants with interests in racial disparities, discrimination, and systemic racism in public spheres, politics, markets, organizations, and workplaces; community resilience and social justice in public health, policy, politics, and criminal justice; as well as candidates who may use anti-racist methodologies in the study of society, culture, data, networks, systems, and related topics. Competitive applicants will have demonstrated potential for excellence in teaching and leadership. Home units may include the School of Criminology and Criminal Justice, Economics, Political Science, the School of Public Policy and Urban Affairs, and/or Sociology and Anthropology. The position may include an affiliation with programs such as Africana Studies or Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies, and a joint appointment with another college at Northeastern. Successful applicants will be able to affiliate with one of our research centers dedicated to this work, for example the Boston Area Research Initiative, the NULab for Texts, Maps, and Networks, the Boston Research Center, Social Science Environmental Health Research Institute, Institute on Race and Social Justice, Institute on Health Equity and Racial Justice, or the Network Science Institute.

The position will support the University's commitments to sustainability and innovation in experiential learning, as well as the college's mission in integrating data and technology in the analysis of society, policy, and governance. Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

A PhD or its equivalent in economics, political science, criminal justice, law, sociology, science and technology studies, health sciences, public policy, or related fields is required by the appointment start date.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement, and writing sample, as well as the names of three references. Candidates will be notified before their references are contacted. From finalists, the search committee will request writing samples, links to examples of digital work, and evidence of teaching excellence. Please address nominations and inquiries about the position to Professor Shalanda H. Baker, Search Committee Chair at s.baker@northeastern.edu. Review of applications will begin November 30th and will continue until the position is filled.

To apply, please go to <http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions> and click on the link for full-time positions or full-time interdisciplinary positions or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click "Apply to this job." The College of Social Sciences and Humanities is a leader in the Experiential Liberal Arts. Founded in 1898, Northeastern University is a dynamic and highly selective urban research university in the center of Boston. Grounded in its signature co-op program, Northeastern provides unprecedented global experiential learning opportunities. The College is strongly committed to fostering excellence through diversity and enthusiastically welcomes nominations and applications from members of groups underrepresented in academia.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8373

Butler University

Rank: Lecturer/Instructor

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Native American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track lecturer for a two-year appointment with possibility of renewal. Applicants should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship engages intersectional, abolitionist, or critical historical institutional perspectives on race/ethnicity/indigeneity, gender/sexuality, and politics in the United States and potentially beyond it. The successful candidate will teach lower-level and upper-level undergraduate political science courses (including an introductory American politics survey), will contribute to the Core Curriculum, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. This faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, typically with no more than six distinct course preparations per year.

Review of applications will begin January 11, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2021. Applicants should submit the following to psearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant's teaching interests, experience, and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and summarizes their research interests; a curriculum vitae; a statement of teaching philosophy, a sample syllabus, and a list of 3-5 references including name, title and contact information. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts. Final round candidates will need to provide official transcripts and will be asked to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/11/2021

Date Posted: 12/4/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8367

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in both Data Science and Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science and data science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidate should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science, data science, statistics, or related area. The successful candidate will be expected to take a leadership role in building a new BSc in Politics and Data Science. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, demonstrated ability to teach data science at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels and the ability to establish international reputation in data science and political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/5082/0/283550/15539/assistant-professor-in-data-science-and-politics>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8356

Wake Forest University

Rank: Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow in Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities

Job Description Summary

The Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program at Wake Forest University seek a thoughtful, engaged, and creative scholar to become a Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow for one year. The Postdoctoral Fellow will join an innovative cohort of emerging scholars from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences to develop and teach leadership and character-related courses in their respective disciplines. The Postdoctoral Fellow will teach 3 courses per year (a 1:2) and contribute to the co-curricular programming of the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program. The Postdoctoral Fellow will benefit from course development workshops and mentoring from faculty in the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program. The Postdoctoral Fellow will have an opportunity to work with a senior research scholar to assess the impact of their courses and potentially publish relevant research.

The one-year fellowship is funded by a grant from the Lilly Endowment and is open to candidates from across the humanities. We welcome recent PhDs in a variety of fields, including literature, history, classics, philosophy, political theory, religious studies, African American studies, and/or women’s, gender, and sexuality studies who specialize in ethics and have interest in working across disciplines to pursue ethics-related teaching and research. Compelling applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students from diverse backgrounds, including international students, first-generation students, and those who identify as members of historically marginalized communities.

Wake Forest University welcomes and encourages diversity and inclusivity and seeks applicants with demonstrated success in working with diverse populations. Wake Forest University is an AA/EO employer and values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Wake Forest University is a private, coeducational institution dedicated to academic excellence in liberal arts, graduate and professional education. Located in Winston-Salem, NC (“The City of Arts and Innovation”), the University is ranked among the top thirty national universities by U.S. News and World Report. The University has a deep institutional commitment to public service and engagement with the world, as indicated by the motto Pro Humanitate (for humanity), which encourages students to develop the qualities of human character needed to serve humanity. With the aim to educate the whole person, the University has established an innovative Program for Leadership and Character that plans creative, liberal arts-based programming to help students develop the virtues of character needed to lead in an increasingly complex world. The Program is based on cutting-edge academic research on leadership and character, including research conducted by Wake Forest faculty in philosophy and psychology who are leading experts on the study of character. The program has established a partnership with the Oxford Character Project and has been profiled as a model for how universities can educate character. The Program recently received a major grant from the Lilly Endowment to develop leaders of character at Wake Forest and support other colleges and universities who seek to infuse leadership and character at their campuses. The Interdisciplinary Humanities Program is an exciting academic program that draws insights from multiple disciplines to explore what it means to be human. The Interdisciplinary Humanities Program offers an undergraduate minor and a wide range of courses that address big questions from a variety of disciplinary and ethical perspectives.

For quick facts about the University, see <http://www.wfu.edu/visitors/quickfacts.html>. For more on the Program for Leadership and Character, see <https://leadershipandcharacter.wfu.edu/>. For more on the Interdisciplinary Humanities Program, see <https://humanities.wfu.edu/>.

Please provide a cover letter addressed to the members of the search committee, a curriculum vita, a teaching statement, copies of course evaluations, and a writing sample. At least three confidential letters of recommendation must be sent via email to leadershipandcharacter@wfu.edu. The position may begin as early as June 1, 2021. Applications arriving by January 15, 2021 will be given priority consideration.

For additional information, please contact Dr. Michael Lamb at lambkm@wfu.edu.

Job Description:

Essential Functions:

- Teaches 3 courses across two semesters.
- Develops syllabi and teaching resources related to leadership and character.
- Assists with designing and delivering curricular and co-curricular programming.
- Contributes to ongoing research on leadership and character within the university context.
- Participates in course development workshops and ongoing professional development.

Works collaboratively with faculty, staff, and postdoctoral fellows in the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program to advance the work of the programs.

Attends regular meetings of the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program.

Presents research findings and represents both programs at relevant academic conferences and educational convenings.

Works with the senior research scholar to develop assessment plans for their courses and potentially publishes relevant scholarly research. Assists with other programming and research of the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program as needed.

Required Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

Ph.D. in a relevant humanities field, such as literature, history, classics, philosophy, political theory, religious studies, African American studies, and/or women's, gender, and sexuality studies.

Commitment to interdisciplinary teaching and research.

Record of excellent teaching and commitment to developing creative pedagogy.

Excellent writing, research, and communication skills.

Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills.

Commitment to supporting the intellectual and ethical development of students.

Experience with, and sensitivity to, diverse populations and the ability to build inclusive and equitable communities where differences are appreciated and engaged.

Sound character, wise judgment, and a strong work ethic.

Demonstrated ability to:

Work independently with minimal supervision.

Set priorities and effectively manage time and resources.

Be a constructive and cooperative member of a team.

Positively influence colleagues and develop collaborative relationships with a wide range of people.

Willingness to learn more about leadership and character development and apply that knowledge to inform curricular design, implementation, and assessment.

Knowledge and understanding of academic cultures, rules, and regulations.

Openness to feedback and a commitment to personal and professional growth.

Ability to represent the programs and the university in a professional manner.

Ability to work occasional weekend or evening hours as needed.

Preferred Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

Teaching experience or research related to leadership, character, virtue, and/or ethics.

Knowledge of leadership development and/or character education.

Note:

This position profile identifies the key responsibilities and expectations for performance. It cannot encompass all specific job tasks that an employee may be required to perform. Employees are required to follow any other job-related instructions and perform job-related duties as may be reasonably assigned by his/her supervisor.

Additional Job Description

Time Type Requirement

Full time

In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living community, Wake Forest University conducts background investigations for all final faculty candidates being considered for employment.

Wake Forest seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce while promoting an inclusive work environment committed to excellence in the spirit of Pro Humanitate. In adherence with applicable laws and as provided by University policies, the University prohibits discrimination in its employment practices on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, genetic information, disability and veteran status and encourages qualified candidates across all group demographics to apply.

APPLY ONLINE:

https://wfu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Faculty\_Career\_Website\_live/job/Winston-Salem-NC/Teacher-Scholar-Postdoctoral-Fellow-in-Leadership-and-Character-and-Interdisciplinary-Humanities\_R0002879

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8353

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Dean of Social Science

Subfield(s): Administration, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, Social Movements, Economic Policy

Dean of Social Science

New York University Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is an extraordinary achievement and unparalleled opportunity in higher education. In the decade since its founding it has become one of the most selective undergraduate institutions in the world. It is both transformational for the region, and critical to New York University's vision to be at the forefront of international higher education in the 21st century.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion and belonging. It enrolls what is perhaps the most diverse student body in higher education, with students from more than 115 countries with no one nationality exceeding 15 percent. It is also one of the most selective, with an average admit rate of 4%. There are currently more than 1,450 undergraduate students enrolled under a need-blind admission policy with remarkable financial aid, with the plan for the number to grow to 2,200 undergraduates and 400 graduate students in the coming years. Across its four divisions NYUAD is home to more than 320 faculty and 400 research staff, also drawn from all over the world.

NYUAD offers degrees built upon an inspiring, highly globalized core curriculum and currently offers doctoral students research areas in five disciplines, with additional graduate programs and executive education being proposed each year. NYUAD's faculty and students alike benefit from being part of NYU's incomparable network, which provides them with opportunities to study and research across the world.

NYUAD is now seeking its next Dean for the Division of Social Science. Situated at one of the world's cultural cross-roads, social science at NYUAD has access to some of the most ancient and rapidly developing communities and is in a remarkable position to analyse humanity in all its diversity and complexity. Its faculty are working on fieldwork projects throughout the region on topics ranging from religious mobilization in Turkey to economic development in sub-Saharan Africa.

The Dean of Social Science of NYU Abu Dhabi has a unique opportunity to play a formative role in helping NYUAD achieve its ambitious agenda, advancing diversity and inclusion and growing research, scholarship, and educational programming, whilst providing leadership and oversight of a highly-accomplished faculty and unique curricula, research and teaching in a dynamic, diverse and developing environment.

For more information and to apply please contact Benjamin Crase on Benjamin.Crase@perrettlaver.com. To apply, please visit https://candidates.perrettlaver.com/vacancies/2001/dean\_of\_social\_science/

Electronic submission is strongly encouraged. NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage inquiries from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8328

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: Lecturer (Full-Time)

The Department of Political Science at The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley invites applications for multiple 3-Year Full-Time Lecturers to begin September 1, 2021. The successful candidates will teach four sections per semester, including U.S. Federal Government & Politics and/or Texas Government & Politics, and upper-division courses in the candidate's sub-field specialization. The position is open with respect to subfield specialization.

Thanks to a steadfast commitment to safety and success, UTRGV achieved record-breaking student enrollment in the Fall 2020 semester. For additional information, please visit our website, see, <https://www.utrgv.edu/newsroom/2020/09/17-utrgv-marks-record-high-enrollment-student-success-outcomes-amid-pandemics-challenges>.

h t m # : ~ : t e x t = UTRGV%20announced%20Thursday%20that%20its,from%20the%20previous%20fall%20semester

To apply, go to: <https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/search>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 11/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8327

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and collaborate on and develop projects related to immigration policy and health. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, data acquisition, data analysis, and interpretation of results. This fellow will join a team of researchers from IPL, the Stanford School of Medicine, Oregon Health & Science University, and the Duke School of Medicine to evaluate the effects of immigration and health policy on the intergenerational health of immigrant families.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research. Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families' location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second and third year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2021 and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The “Contributions to Diversity Statement” should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17290> (ID17290). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Health).

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/20/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8315

Appalachian State University

Rank: Senior Visiting Professorship

Appalachian State University invites applicants to apply for a Senior Visiting Professorship in the Department of Government and Justice Studies. Applications are open for the academic years 2021-22, 2022-23, and 2023-24. The length and semester of the appointment are negotiable. The salary is competitive and includes a generous budget to support the activities of the professorship. We are especially interested in individuals who, through their research, teaching, service, or professional experiences have established records of supporting underrepresented groups and promoting diversity and inclusiveness.

Areas of expertise are open to all subfields, including American politics, comparative politics, international relations, political theory, and policy. Areas of particular interest include African American/Racial Politics; Latinx politics; North Carolina politics; Indigenous politics; Environmental politics/climate change; LGBTQ Politics and Policy; Political Communications/media and politics; Human Rights; and, Social Movements and Contentious Politics.

The goals of the visiting professorship are to provide faculty and students with innovative research, education, and engagement opportunities. While the position is flexible, all visiting scholars will be expected to teach 1-2 classes per-semester and support activities promoting engagement with faculty and/or students. Applications must include a letter of interest noting possible courses, activities, and/or projects you would like to engage in during your tenure in the Department of Government and Justice Studies.

Applicants must submit an electronic application (<http://appstate.peopleadmin.com/postings/26900>) consisting of (1) a letter of interest discussing possible courses, activities, and/or projects you would like to engage with students and faculty during your tenure in the Department of Government and Justice Studies; (2) applicant’s available and preferred start dates and length of appointment; (3) current vitae, and (4) a Diversity Statement, which may include your interpretation of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and must include specific examples of how your background, experiences and/or professional work has supported underrepresented groups and promoted diversity and inclusiveness. Any additional questions can be directed to the search chair, Dr. Renee Scherlen, at psfaculty@appstate.edu.

The review of applications will begin on January 25, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Appalachian State University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8310

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Data Science)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Data Science) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow with extensive experience and training in data science to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of digital tools related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the data scientist postdoc will be to lead data analysis for research projects and develop innovative digital tools related to immigration policy, programs, and services under the guidance of Professors Jens Hainmueller, David Laitin, and Jeremy Weinstein. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on data science, causal inference, machine learning, statistical analysis, and programming. For instance, the postdoc will help drive a global effort to support refugee integration by developing matching tools for various countries using machine learning. The post doc will also work on data analysis for projects examining the impacts of immigration related policies and programs. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects and tools related to immigration policy evaluation.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment, and postdocs will have the opportunity to develop new lab projects with other team members as well as join existing ongoing projects. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies and work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc’s time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to work on independent research.

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible (no later than August 2021) and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science, statistics, computer science, or related program, with a preference for candidates who have demonstrated training and skills in both data analysis and programming. Previous experience conducting research on immigration issues is valued but not required.

She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, statistical inference and modeling, and machine learning. Experience or skills in data visualization and optimization methods are also highly valued.

In addition, she or he should also have significant programming experience. Proficiency in R is required. Experience working with a general-purpose programming language (e.g. Python, Java, C++) and/or with SQL is also a plus. Demonstrated ability to develop user-friendly digital tools, apps, or programs that leverage data and statistical methods in novel ways is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17288> (ID17288). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Data Science).

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8312

University of Texas at Austin

Rank: Faculty Director of Teresa Lozano Long Institute of Latin American Studies

Subject to budget availability, The University of Texas at Austin has opened a national and international search for Director of the Teresa Lozano Long Institute of Latin American Studies (LLILAS). The Director will also serve as a key member of the leadership team of the LLILAS Benson Latin American Studies and Collections, an innovative partnership established nearly a decade ago that pairs the abundant scholarly resources of the Nettie Lee Benson Latin American Collection with the teaching and research focus of LLILAS. The Institute is a Title VI National Resource Center encompassing 160 faculty associates, eight joint faculty members, a dynamic student program, and a vibrant intellectual community. The unparalleled Benson Collection is one of the largest and finest library and archival collections in the world dedicated to the history, culture, arts and sciences of Latin American, Latina/o and Black diaspora communities. The LLILAS Benson partnership engages in collaborative programs of research and teaching, digital scholarship, and public engagement that make Latin American studies and collections at The University of Texas a high University priority and world-renowned. The Director of LLILAS will provide intellectual leadership and vision for our academic programs, will assume principal responsibility for LLILAS administration and will represent LLILAS to its diverse local, national and international publics. For more information on LLILAS, Benson and The University of Texas, please visit:

<http://www.utexas.edu/cola/llilas/>

<http://www.lib.utexas.edu/benson/>

Candidates should have a documented record of excellence in scholarly activity, commensurate with Full Professor status in a leading department; demonstrated leadership abilities and strong administrative experience in an academic, library, or comparable setting; and experience or interest in donor cultivation and stewardship. The successful candidate will be appointed as a tenured faculty member in the College of Liberal Arts. Field of expertise will determine the faculty member's home department. A demonstrated ability to teach at the undergraduate and graduate levels is required. The holder of this position will be expected to teach at least one course each semester. Expected start date is Fall 2021. Applications are submitted via Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/80765>) and should include a cover letter, current vitae, a teaching statement, a research statement, and names and contact information for a minimum of three references. Applicants are also encouraged to discuss in their cover letter or a separate statement their past or potential contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion through their research, teaching and/or service. Review of applications will begin on Jan. 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. For questions about the position, please contact Raúl Madrid, Search Committee Chair and Harold C. and Alice T. Nowlin Regents Professor in Liberal Arts (rmadrid@austin.utexas.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8299

Hertie School

Rank: Assistant Professor of Sustainability

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Assistant Professor of Sustainability (f/m/div)

The Hertie School, Berlin

A European Professional School for Public Policy is recruiting an

Assistant Professor of Sustainability (f/m/div)

The Hertie School is recruiting an assistant professor working on key sustainability topics such as climate, energy, or mobility and transport.

We particularly welcome scholars whose research covers regions beyond Germany and Europe. This person should combine state-of-the-art empirical, policy-relevant research with a teaching profile that matches the needs of a public policy school.

Applicants for this position must have a doctoral degree relevant for the position, or expect to have this degree by the start of employment. We are looking for a candidate with a strong background in economics. The successful candidate will be appointed as tenure-track Assistant Professor with a six-year clock (two three-year contracts). The expected start date is September 2021.

The Hertie School seeks faculty with demonstrated capacity for research at the highest levels in their discipline through an established record of publication in top outlets. We recruit faculty who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity with a strong commitment to high-quality teaching and innovative research of interest to the international scholarly community and policy-makers. The Hertie School strongly encourages applications from women and underrepresented minorities.

Candidates are expected to work well in an interdisciplinary, international environment with English as the language of instruction and operation. The successful candidate will teach courses in the School's Master, Executive, and PhD programmes. This position will be based in the School's new Centre for Sustainability, and the successful candidate will actively contribute to its research, outreach and teaching activities. Collaboration with other new Centres of Competence of the Hertie School is encouraged. Those are the Jacques Delors Centre, the Centre for International Security, the Centre for Fundamental Rights, the Centre for Digital Governance, and the Data Science Lab.

As a private non-profit university, endowed and supported by the Hertie Foundation, the Hertie School offers an internationally competitive salary as well as a paid sabbatical after every five semesters. We provide excellent working conditions with outstanding financial and administrative support for research. The Hertie School is fully embedded in Berlin's vibrant research landscape and has close ties to the top institutions of the European and international teaching and research community.

The Hertie School is a diverse, international and lively community located in the heart of Berlin. It takes a family friendly workplace seriously. Under German law, there is standard paid leave for parents after the birth of a child. For information about the Hertie School visit www.hertie-school.org.

The deadline for the submission of applications is 6 December 2020. To submit your application, please upload the requested documents here:

<https://hertie-school.dvinci-easy.com/en/p/en/jobs/20369/assistant-professor-of-sustainability-fmdiv>

For questions about the position, please contact Christian Flachsland, Professor of Sustainability (flachsland@hertie-school.org). Strict confidentiality in the application process is assured. The Hertie School is an equal opportunity employer.

Please upload the documents in the following order:

Motivation letter
CV including publication list and the names of two references
A diversity statement of no more than one page

One or more writing samples.

Optional additional documents include teaching evaluations and a research and/or teaching statement. Please have two references submitted separately via Email to researchandfaculty@hertie-school.org.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 11/5/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8253

Wake Forest University

Rank: Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow in Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs

The Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs at Wake Forest University seek a thoughtful, engaged, and creative scholar to become a Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow for one year. The Postdoctoral Fellow will join an innovative cohort of emerging scholars from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences to develop and teach leadership and character-related courses in their respective disciplines. The Postdoctoral Fellow will teach 3 courses per year (a 1:2) and contribute to the co-curricular programming of the Program for Leadership and Character and the Department of Politics and International Affairs. The Postdoctoral Fellow will benefit from course development workshops and mentoring from faculty in the Program and the Department. The Postdoctoral Fellow will also have an opportunity to work with a senior research scholar to assess the impact of their courses and potentially publish relevant research.

The one-year fellowship is funded by a grant from the Lilly Endowment. We welcome recent PhDs in political science and closely related fields and remain open as to subfields (political theory, political ethics, comparative politics, political psychology, American politics or international politics) and methodological perspectives, so long the scholar's research and teaching relate to leadership and character broadly understood and demonstrate a capacity for working across disciplines to pursue ethics-related teaching and research. Compelling applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students from diverse backgrounds, including international students, first-generation students, and those who identify as members of historically marginalized communities.

Wake Forest University welcomes and encourages diversity and inclusivity and seeks applicants with demonstrated success in working with diverse populations. Wake Forest University is an AA/EO employer and values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Wake Forest University is a private, coeducational institution dedicated to academic excellence in liberal arts, graduate and professional education. Located in Winston-Salem, NC ("The City of Arts and Innovation"), the University is ranked among the top thirty national universities by U.S. News and World Report. The University has a deep institutional commitment to public service and engagement with the world, as indicated by the motto Pro Humanitate (for humanity), which encourages students to develop the qualities of human character needed to serve humanity. With the aim to educate the whole person, the University has established an innovative Program for Leadership and Character that plans creative, liberal arts-based programming to help students develop the virtues of character needed to lead in an increasingly complex world. The Program is based on cutting-edge academic research on leadership and character, including research conducted by Wake Forest faculty in philosophy and psychology who are leading experts on the study of character. The Program has established a partnership with the Oxford Character Project and has been profiled as a model for how universities can educate character. The Program recently received a major grant from the Lilly Endowment to develop leaders of character at Wake Forest and support other colleges and universities who seek to infuse leadership and character at their campuses. The Department of Politics and International Affairs is one of the largest majors on campus and home to creative and collegial faculty who seek to develop students as critical thinkers, effective writers, and persons committed to public service and engagement with the world. The Department of Politics and International Affairs welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the department's research, teaching, and community engagement.

For quick facts about the University, see <http://www.wfu.edu/visitors/quickfacts.html>. For more on the Program for Leadership and Character, see <https://leadershipandcharacter.wfu.edu/>. For more on the Department of Politics and International Affairs, see <https://politics.wfu.edu/>.

Please provide a cover letter addressed to the members of the search committee, a curriculum vita, a teaching statement, copies of course evaluations, and a writing sample. At least three confidential letters of recommendation must be sent via email to leadershipandcharacter@wfu.edu.

The position may begin as early as June 1, 2021. Applications arriving by January 15, 2021 will be given priority consideration.

For additional information, please contact Dr. Michael Lamb at lambkm@wfu.edu.

Essential Functions:

- Teaches 3 courses depending on program needs.
- Develops syllabi and teaching resources related to leadership and character.
- Assists with designing and delivering curricular and co-curricular programming.
- Contributes to ongoing research on leadership and character within the university context.
- Participates in course development workshops and ongoing professional development.
- Works collaboratively with faculty, staff, and postdoctoral fellows in the Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs to advance the work of the programs.
- Attends regular meetings of the Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs.
- Presents research findings and represents the program at relevant academic conferences and educational convenings.
- Works with the senior research scholar to develop assessment plans for their courses and potentially publishes relevant scholarly research.
- Assists with other programming and research of the Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs as needed.

Required Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

- Ph.D. in politics or political science or closely related fields.

- Commitment to interdisciplinary teaching and research.
- Record of excellent teaching and commitment to developing creative pedagogy.
- Excellent writing, research, and communication skills.
- Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills.
- Commitment to supporting the intellectual and ethical development of students.
- Experience with, and sensitivity to, diverse populations and the ability to build inclusive and equitable communities where differences are appreciated and engaged.
- Sound character, wise judgment, and a strong work ethic.

Demonstrated ability to:

- Work independently with minimal supervision.
- Set priorities and effectively manage time and resources.
- Be a constructive and cooperative member of a team.
- Positively influence colleagues and develop collaborative relationships with a wide range of people.
- Willingness to learn more about leadership and character development and apply that knowledge to inform curricular design, implementation, and assessment.
- Knowledge and understanding of academic cultures, rules, and regulations.
- Openness to feedback and a commitment to personal and professional growth.
- Ability to represent the programs and the university in a professional manner.
- Ability to work occasional weekend or evening hours as needed.

Preferred Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

- Teaching experience or research related to leadership, character, virtue, and/or ethics.
- Knowledge of leadership development and/or character education.

Note: This position profile identifies the key responsibilities and expectations for performance. It cannot encompass all specific job tasks that an employee may be required to perform. Employees are required to follow any other job-related instructions and perform job-related duties as may be reasonably assigned by his/her supervisor.

In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living community, Wake Forest University conducts background investigations and drug screens for all final staff candidates being considered for employment.

Time Type Requirement: Full time

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/5/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8255

Tulane University: Inter-American Policy and Research Fellowship

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): Open, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Caribbean, Central America, Latin American

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2021-2022, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are encouraged. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments with a stipend of $48,450 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in the Commitment to Equity Project and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment. Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2021. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting apply.interfolio.com/80202 and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) two recommendation letters; (5) a writing sample; and (6) teaching evaluations if available. For further information, please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 31, 2020.

Tulane University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer committed to excellence through diversity. All eligible candidates are invited to apply for position vacancies as appropriate.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 12/31/2020

Date Posted: 10/26/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8217

University of Virginia

Rank: Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Post-Doctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Open, American Government and Politics

The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia invites applicants for a position of Dean's diversity, equity, and inclusion post-doctoral research associate. We believe that diversity is a critical component of academic excellence. The goal of these positions is to provide opportunities to scholars who will contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion at the University of Virginia. Opportunities include mentorship, sponsorship, access to resources and research infrastructure, opportunities to collaborate with faculty at a truly interdisciplinary school, and connections to the policy world and the network of policy schools.

The postdoctoral appointment is renewed annually with a target length of two years and will begin August 2021. They involve independent research and/or opportunities for research collaboration with faculty, have additional research funds, and involve teaching one class per academic year at the Batten School.

We seek candidates from a range of disciplines including political science, economics, psychology, public policy or public administration. A Ph.D. (conferred no later than July 2021) in one of these disciplines is required. In addition, because diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at Batten, a demonstrated commitment to advancing equity and inclusion is also required.

Successful candidates' research may focus on a range of topics in one of the aforementioned disciplines. We welcome candidates that conduct research that have synergies with areas of current strength such as stereotyping, prejudice, conflict management, development, education, environment, health, national security, social entrepreneurship, humanitarian relief, voting, and American institutions. However, we also welcome applicants working on other topics in line with the mission of the Batten school, which involves: generating knowledge to solve the world's most pressing policy challenges and educating ethical and effective leaders prepared to lead in a diverse and divided world.

Successful candidates will participate in the intellectual life of Batten and other UVa units and work on a scholarly book/article/publication. A criterion for selection is evidence of scholarly potential that could lead to a tenure track appointment at a research university.

Built upon the strong foundation of one of the nation's top public universities, the Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy combines rigorous training in public policy with a unique emphasis on the acquisition of leadership skills. The School currently offers an MPP degree and an undergraduate major in public policy and leadership.

TO APPLY: Please visit UVA job board <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>, &quot;R0019281&quot; complete the application and see below for documents to attach.

- 1-page cover letter identifying 2-3 potential UVA faculty mentors
- A curriculum vitae
- Contact information for three references, (references will only be contacted for those that are short listed)
- A research statement (max 3 pages), including a broad introduction of your research, both past successes and future plans, as well as how your research agenda could integrate with current areas of study at the Batten School
- A diversity statement (max 2 pages). The diversity statement should discuss: the candidate's track record advancing equity and inclusion in previous positions and their plan for advancing equity and inclusion at UVa

Applicants should submit their materials by January 15, 2021 and the position is open until filled. For questions about the application process please contact Rhiannon O'Coin, Academic Recruiter at rmo2r@virginia.edu.

For more information about UVA and the surrounding area, please visit <http://uvacharge.virginia.edu/guide.html>.

The selected candidate will be required to complete a background check at time of offer per University Policy.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8210

Princeton University

Rank: Lecturer

The Politics Department at Princeton University has an occasional need for lecturers (part-time and/or full-time) to teach or co-teach in areas such as American Politics, Comparative Politics, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods, International Relations, and/or Political Theory. Advanced degree required.

Please provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement of teaching interest. Due to the volume of applications, only candidates selected for an interview will be contacted. No letters of recommendation are required at this time. You will be required to submit contact information for one reference, but your reference will not be contacted at this time.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Interested applicants must apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17422>

Requisition No: D-21-POL-00006

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8073

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research position that involves a year of research at Princeton. Scholars in all subfields of political science will be considered. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars, and there is a particular interest in attracting applications from groups that have been historically underrepresented in the field of political science at Princeton University. Ph.D. is required.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/position/17521> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members. Initial appointment is for one year with the possibility of renewal subject to satisfactory performance and available funding.

Requisition No: D-21-POL-00007

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8074

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Specializations: China, Political Economy, Quantitative Methods

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time "Post-doc fellows" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias\_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/8/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7920

Fudan University

Rank: University Distinguished Professors

Specializations: China, Political Economy, Quantitative Methods

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time positions at the top rank of "University Distinguished Professor" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong publication records and their potentials to continue their scholarship during their tenure, and employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the fields, and well recognized as leading scholars in the fields of their research. Applicants are expected to continue publishing research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI), and contribute to the annual research projects at Fudan IAS and to the disciplinary development at Fudan University. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. A brief statement of research interest and agenda;
3. Two published journal articles in PDF;
4. An extensive/detailed curriculum vitae; including honors and awards in disciplines, list of publications, information of three references. Letters of recommendation may be requested.

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended rank/position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias\_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/8/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7919

OTHER

Lutheran College Washington Consortium

Rank: Executive Director & Dean

The Lutheran College Washington Consortium (LCWC) invites applications for the position of Dean/Executive Director of its program, the Lutheran College Washington Semester (LCWS) to begin no later than July 1, 2021. LCWS is a Washington, DC program based in Arlington, VA and is open to students from the 13 member institutions of the consortium, which are all Lutheran affiliated colleges and universities. The program, which began in 1986, provides participants with real-world experiences to further students' educational and professional goals and strives to offer students of any major a new perspective on what it means to be an active member of society in a culturally diverse world. During the semester, students complete a four day per week internship, while also taking two academic classes and special programming offered by the program. Additional opportunities for students are available in the summer. Details about the Lutheran College Washington Semester can be found at: www.washingtonsemester.org

The position of Dean and Executive Director combines the roles of Chief Academic Officer and Chief Executive Officer of LCWS and reports to a 13-member board of directors. The Dean/Executive Director is responsible for the administrative, financial, academic and student life aspects of LCWS and supervises a staff of two full-time employees and 11 part-time staff and faculty members. The program is financially sound and consistently draws 40-50 students each semester. We are seeking a candidate who possesses entrepreneurial strengths and who is committed to developing innovative programs that will help the program meet the challenges of a changing higher education environment. In keeping with the academic requirements of the position, a doctorate degree or equivalent is required. Salary for the position is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits are also included as part of the compensation package. For more specific information, please see the Dean/Executive Director Position Description on the LCWS website: www.washingtonsemester.org/jobs

Applicants for the position should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and two letters of recommendation by email to Dr. Emily Wanless, Search Committee Chair, Augustana University, ewanless@augie.edu. Review of applications will begin on February 1st, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8435

National University of Singapore

Rank: Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore (NUS), and the College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences, Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore, invite applications for TWO Post-Doctoral Fellows in the field of International Relations, with a focus on Southeast Asia.

Each fellowship is tenable for two years. One Fellow will be based at NUS, working under the direction of Professor Yuen Foong Khong, the other at NTU, working with Professor Joseph Liow, toward accomplishing the goals of their research project on "The Anatomy of Choice: Southeast Asia between the Superpowers" supported by a Singapore Social Science Research Council (SSRC) Thematic Grant (for details see <https://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/ongoing-research-projects/international-relations-and-global-governance> )

Job Description

The Fellows will have three main responsibilities: (1) revise their dissertations into a publishable book manuscript or a set of articles by the end of the first year of the Fellowship; and (2) take lead roles in the organization and running of the Anatomy of Choice project, including but not limited to, liaising with the contributing authors, organizing workshops, and directing the work of the undergraduate research assistants; (3) contribute to the broader intellectual life of the LKYSPP and CoHASS.

Job Requirements

- A Ph.D. degree in Political Science/International Relations/History, focusing on the international relations of Southeast Asia, and/or the foreign policy of one or more Southeast Asian countries. Candidates whose work involves comparing the foreign policy responses of the ASEAN countries to global and regional power shifts are especially encouraged to apply.
- An ability to engage with the research and policy communities in Singapore, Asia, and the world
- A strong and demonstrated sense of academic independence and collegiality

Benefits Include:

- Internationally competitive salary
- Highly collegial working environment with an internationally diverse group of scholars

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit the following in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file):

- Cover letter, with a brief statement of research expertise and its relevance to the project
- Detailed curriculum vitae
- Copies of academic certificates and transcripts
- Two samples of academic publications/writings
- Three letters of reference (mailed separately by referee to diana.endang@nus.edu.sg)
- Start date: July 1, 2021 (preferred, but negotiable)
- Application deadline: March 1, 2021

Please send electronic submissions to Ms. Diana Endang Adiningsih (diana.endang@nus.edu.sg). Applications will be acknowledged; short-listed candidates will be contacted around mid-March

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 2/20/2021

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8427

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Middle East, Research Methods, Women & Politics

Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank

Division of Social Science

NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct important research and teach the next generation of global leaders. The Division of Social Science invites applications for a tenured/tenure-track position in Political Science. This position is open with respect to rank and subfield, though scholars in the fields of international relations and Middle East are especially encouraged to apply. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2021, or September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi's unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present. The disciplines in this field seek to deepen our understanding of how people behave in a wide variety of contexts and to assess the consequences of individual, group, and societal decisions.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science.

We seek individuals who have, or have the potential to develop, a strong record of scholarship and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/82086>

.CV

.Cover Letter

.Teaching Statement

.Research Statement

.Recent teaching evaluations (if available)

.Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

.For candidates applying for the Assistant Professor Positions, please submit the names and email addresses of three (3) references who will be contacted to upload their letter confidentially through Interfolio.

.For candidates applying to the Senior faculty position, please submit a list of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin reviewing applications on February 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2021-2022.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8433

The University of Hong Kong

Rank: Tenure-Track Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor in East Asian Politics/International Relations in the Department of Politics and Public Administration

The University of Hong Kong

Tenure-Track Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor in East Asian Politics/International Relations in the Department of Politics and Public Administration (Ref.: 502776)

Applications are invited for appointment as Tenure-Track Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor in East Asian Politics/International Relations in the Department of Politics and Public Administration (Ref.: 502776), to commence on August 1, 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter, on a three-year fixed-term basis, with the possibility of renewal and with consideration for tenure before the expiry of a second three-year fixed-term contract. Rank will be determined based on qualifications and experience. Exceptionally outstanding candidates at the Professor/Associate Professor level may be considered for appointment on tenure terms.

The Department has played a leading role in Politics and Public Administration research and education since its establishment in 1970. The Department offers two highly successful taught postgraduate programmes - Master of Public Administration (MPA) and Master in International and Public Affairs (MIPA). More information about the Department can be obtained at <https://ppa.hku.hk/>.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. degree by the expected start date. We are particularly interested in scholars whose research interests include East Asian Politics or International Relations, with preference to those who study authoritarianism and who have expertise in data science or big data. Massive data sets are fundamentally reshaping the study of political structures and policy. This appointment recognises these shifts and builds upon existing appointments in data-driven politics and international relations. Applicants should demonstrate excellence in research and teaching. Candidates with the potential to make significant contributions to the field, complementing the strengths of the department, are preferred. Teaching duties may include undergraduate courses, common core courses, and courses in our Master of International and Public Affairs (MIPA) programme.

A highly competitive salary commensurate with qualifications and experience will be offered, in addition to annual leave and medical benefits. At current rates, salaries tax does not exceed 15% of gross income. The appointment will attract a contract-end gratuity and University contribution to a retirement benefits scheme, totalling up to 15% of basic salary. Housing benefits will be provided as applicable.

The University only accepts online application for the above post. Applicants should apply online at the University's careers site (<https://jobs.hku.hk>) and upload (1) an up-to-date C.V., (2) a letter of interest, (3) graduate transcripts, (4) writing samples, (5) a research statement, (6) a teaching statement and (7) teaching evaluations. They should also arrange for (8) three confidential references (quoting the applicant's name) to be sent directly by the referees to ppahr@hku.hk. Review of applications will commence as soon as possible and continue until January 15, 2021, or until the post is filled, whichever is earlier.

The University is an equal opportunities employer and is committed to equality, ethics, inclusivity, diversity and transparency

Start Date:

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8426

Colby College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - East Asian Politics and International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

The Department of Government at Colby College seeks applicants for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position to teach courses on international relations and East Asian Politics, commencing September 1, 2021. We seek highly qualified candidates who have demonstrated excellence in teaching and who are committed to working with an increasingly diverse student body. The successful applicant will teach Introduction to International Relations, East Asian Politics, an introductory course in research methods, and additional courses chosen in consultation with the department chair. Teaching load is five courses a year, including the option to teach one course during Colby's January term.

Candidates must have completed a Ph.D. in political science by September 1, 2021. Prior experience in undergraduate teaching as the instructor of record is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will provide evidence of excellence in teaching a diverse student body and a strong and on-going research program that is open to the inclusion of undergraduates. The college and the department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area when they apply.

Applicants should send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement expressing the candidate's teaching experience and philosophy, course descriptions and/or syllabi for three proposed courses, evidence of teaching excellence, a graduate school transcript, and three letters of recommendation, including at least one that speaks to teaching experience. Review of applications will begin January 15, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position should be directed to: governmentssearch@colby.edu

To apply: <http://apply.interfolio.com/81997>

Colby is a private, coeducational liberal arts college that admits students and makes employment decisions on the basis of the individual's qualifications to contribute to Colby's educational objectives and institutional needs. Colby College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, religion, ancestry or national origin, age, marital status, genetic information, or veteran's status in employment or in our educational programs. Colby is an Equal Opportunity employer, committed to excellence through diversity, and encourages applications from qualified persons of color, women, persons with disabilities, military veterans and members of other under-represented groups. Colby complies with Title IX, which prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in an institution's education programs and activities. Questions regarding Title IX may be referred to Colby's Title IX coordinator or to the federal Office of Civil Rights. For more information about the College, please visit our website: www.colby.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8403

University of Toronto

Rank: Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Other

Canadian Politics – Assistant Professor

Description:

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Canadian politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We prefer candidates whose research and teaching interests centre on democratic governance broadly understood, especially as it pertains to marginalized or under-represented populations.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University's downtown (St George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science <https://politics.utoronto.ca>) to learn more about us.

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive and externally funded research program. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of their contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover (but need not be limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) sent directly by the referee to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Robert Vipond, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, Thursday, January 28, 2021. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University's automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at <http://uoft.me/how-to-apply>. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday, January 28, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see <http://uoft.me/UP>.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/28/2021

Date Posted: 12/16/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8405

University of Zurich

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Position in "Politics of Economic and Social Inequality"

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Behavior, Political Economy

The Political Science Department at the University of Zurich invites applications for a 3-year position as post-doctoral researcher in the newly launching University Research Priority Program (URPP) on the topic of Equality of Opportunity. The postdoctoral researcher in "Politics of Economic and Social Inequality" is an integral part of the URPP, assigned to the Political Science Department.

Profile of the position

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue his/her own research agenda in the field of inequality studies, as well as to collaborate with Professors Tarik Abou-Chadi, Silja Häusermann and Stefanie Walter in a joint project on the perceptions and the politicization of inequalities, as well as their implications for policy demands and electoral outcomes in advanced democracies. The position offers extensive research support and includes a teaching load of one course per year. Additional teaching is most likely possible and would be paid extra.

Requirements

- A PhD in Political Science, with a preference for the subfields of Comparative or International Political Economy, Comparative Politics, or Political Behavior. The PhD should be completed or near completion.

- Strong interest in and ability for excellent academic research, proven e.g. through internationally visible publications, third-party funding, presentations at international conferences, or related research activities.

- Strong methodological skills (quantitative and/or qualitative, experience with both is an asset).

- Willingness and ability to engage in high-quality teaching. Teaching experience is an asset.

- Dedication, ability to work in a team, and ability to work independently.

- Strong command of English. Knowledge of German is an asset.

Starting date, conditions, application

The starting date for the 3-year position is flexible between April 1st 2020 and September 1st 2020. Renewal up to six years is possible, contingent on research productivity, continued substantive fit, as well as on continued funding of the URPP beyond 2025. The salary is appr. 75'000 CHF/year.

Further inquiries can be directed to Prof. Silja Häusermann (silja-haeusermann@ipz.uzh.ch), Prof. Stefanie Walter (walter@ipz.uzh.ch), or Prof. Tarik Abou-Chadi (abou-chadi@ipz.uzh.ch).

Please send your application electronically as one pdf-file comprising your letter of interest, CV, publication list, transcripts, teaching evaluations, writing sample, brief proposal for a post-doctoral project (1-2 pages) and two names of people willing to provide references to sekretariat@ipz.uzh.ch.

Please fill out the form and add it to your application documents: http://www.ipz.uzh.ch/static/forms/download/additional\_application\_form.pdf

The closing date for applications is January 20th 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/20/2021

Date Posted: 12/14/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8396

Christopher Newport University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science, effective August 2021. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research with undergraduates. The successful candidate will have broad theoretical and methodological training in political science with a teaching and research emphasis in American judicial politics. We particularly welcome applications from candidates who specialize in civil rights and/or racial and ethnic politics. In addition to offering upper-level courses in their area of specialization, the successful candidate's teaching responsibilities will include an introductory course in American politics, and upper level courses on U.S. Constitutional law, the judicial process, and the Supreme Court. The nominal teaching load for tenure track appointments is 3-3.

The Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required for appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor. In some cases, exceptionally well-qualified candidates may be considered for appointment at a higher rank. ABD candidates who will not hold the Ph.D. by the time of appointment may be considered for appointment at the rank of Instructor. Phi Beta Kappa membership is highly desirable.

Departmental Information:

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University is composed of 11 dedicated faculty members whose research represents the core areas of the discipline including American politics, comparative politics and international relations, and political theory. Our 300 majors have produced research that has been nationally recognized, and many attend prestigious law and graduate schools and go on to successful careers in law, higher education, as well as local, state, and federal government. The Department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, as well as three minors in Political Science, Human Rights and Conflict Resolution, and U.S. National Security Studies. Candidates wishing to know more about the department and its academic programs are invited to visit <https://cnu.edu/academics/departments/politicalscience/>.

Faculty Information:

CNU is committed to outstanding teaching and learning, undergraduate education, and the liberal studies core; The Fall 2020 freshman class of 1,155 students was selected from 7,300 admission applications, and presented average high school GPA and SAT scores of 3.8 and 1184, respectively. The University has a new and technologically advanced campus, located between Colonial Williamsburg and the Virginia coast. The campus integrates the University's liberal arts vision, nurturing mind, body, and spirit. Facilities include the state-of-the-art Tribble Library; three new academic buildings including a newly opened integrated science building; the Freeman Center athletic complex; and the I.M. Pei-designed Ferguson Center for the Arts, which brings to Virginia the finest performing artists in the world. Opening in 2021 and adjoining the Ferguson Center, the $57 million Fine Arts Center will house over 7,500 sq. ft of gallery exhibition space, state-of-the art teaching and museum learning spaces, studios and classrooms. It will serve the university community and the entire Peninsula region.

Our faculty enjoy an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect that rewards outstanding teaching and fosters active intellectual and creative engagement. Christopher Newport is committed to ensuring that all people are welcomed, honored and fully engaged in the life of our academic community. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty and encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in their profession. Faculty are productive scholars and researchers, supported by professional development funds. Faculty and administrators regularly consult and collaborate as the University works to sustain a culture of scholarly inquiry, informed debate, and civic action that enriches students, faculty, and the surrounding community. The result is a supportive and cohesive academic setting in which the University cultivates and carries forward its mission. The University is among the highest ranked in the nation for its quality of life and innovative spirit. Competitive salary with excellent health and retirement benefits and a well-designed family leave policy further enhance the workplace. For further information, please visit our website at <http://www.cnu.edu>.

Posting Detail Information

Application Deadline: 01/17/2021

Application Instructions: To apply, please visit <https://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/> to upload a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (photocopies acceptable for initial screening), statement of teaching philosophy, a one-page statement articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. (Letters should be uploaded with application materials or emailed to facultyrecruitment@cnu.edu). Letters of reference will be the only documents accepted via email.

Review of applications will begin on January 17, 2021.

Applications received after January 17, 2021, will be accepted but considered only if needed.

Search finalists are required to complete a CNU sponsored background check.

Link to Postings: <http://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/9829>

EEO Statement: Christopher Newport University, an EO Employer, is fully Committed to Access and Opportunity. Notice of Non-Discrimination & Title IX Policy Statement: https://cnu.edu/titleixeo/\_pdf/cnu-notice\_of\_nondiscrimination\_and\_titleix\_policy\_statement.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8393

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Public Policy and Political Economy program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for a tenure-system assistant professor in Cyber Security and Technology Policy.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The candidate's research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity and technology with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include economic and legal aspects of the technology regulation across countries, the economics of information security, the interaction of security and privacy considerations, and the politics of developing and administering cybersecurity policies and programs. While experience in the private sector, government agency, NGO or public policy organization will be an advantage, all exceptional candidates will be considered. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15201>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8392

Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Department Chair and Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Chair

Defense Analysis Department

Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA

The Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) is accepting applications for the position of Professor and Chair of the Defense Analysis Department (DA). NPS and the DA Department provide graduate education to military officers of the uniformed services, Department of Defense civilians, and members of the international defense community.

The DA Department is an interdisciplinary department providing graduate curricula focused on analytic approaches to the study of defense, with particular emphasis on irregular warfare, information strategy, and political warfare. The mission of the DA Department is to provide graduate education through qualitative and quantitative curricula to produce professionals with the advanced critical thinking and problem-solving skills needed to meet evolving national security challenges.

The Defense Analysis Department is the academic home to approximately fifty tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty and staff employees. The duties of the chair include: providing strategic direction for the department; representing the department internally at NPS and externally to various educational, military, and research stakeholders; building and maintaining relationships with institutional and operational organizations across the joint force; engaging with and shaping the education of the nearly 150 students on board at any time; and fulfilling all administrative tasks associated with the supervisory role.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Doctoral degree in a field connected to the study of irregular warfare and armed conflict, such as international relations, security studies, political science, history, sociology, economics, anthropology, psychology, philosophy, or related fields.
- Must be a U.S. citizen and capable of obtaining a security clearance.
- A proven record of scholarship, instruction, and leadership in the candidate's field.

- Leadership experience in an academic organization.
- An academic record that would merit an appointment as a Professor with tenure upon arrival.
- Track record or demonstrable potential for building and maintaining collaborative relationships with institutional partners.

Additional preferred qualifications:

- Currently holding or be immediately eligible for a Top Secret clearance.
- Experience working in or with the U.S. Department of Defense.

We are accepting applications through February 15, 2020. Candidates should submit their materials to: mefreema@nps.edu. E-mail subject heading: DA Chair Search. Include: 1) a cover letter describing the applicant's qualifications for this position, 2) a comprehensive curriculum vitae or resume, and 3) contact and e-mail address information for a minimum of three references. The application material shall clearly state the applicant's citizenship.

Relocation expenses, including recruitment/relocation incentive, may be authorized in accordance with applicable regulations.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience while tied to the federal government compensation policies for the position and location. Applicants with foreign education will be required to select from a list of private organizations that are members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services, Inc. (NACES), which provide foreign education evaluations acceptable to NPS.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at <http://www.nps.edu>.

Veteran status is treated as a positive merit factor for NPS faculty positions. We strongly encourage you to indicate if you are a veteran in your application when applying to NPS positions and you must provide a copy of your signed DD-214 (member 4 copy), Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, or other acceptable documentation.

Current active duty service members are required to submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service must provide the branch of service, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will be ineligible if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days from the date of application.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 8383

The Citadel

Rank: Tenure-Track Professor of Political Science in American Government and Southern Politics

Job Responsibilities:

The Citadel, the Military College of South Carolina, invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in American Government and Southern Politics in the Department of Political Science at the Assistant or Associate Professor level, beginning August 2021.

The Citadel is a state-supported coeducational military college in historic downtown Charleston, South Carolina. We are committed to excellence in teaching with the expectation that faculty engage in consistent research and publication. The department offers a B.A. in Political Science with three subfields: American Government, International Politics and Military Affairs, and pre-Law and Legal Studies. The Department is home to approximately 250 undergraduate majors. In addition, the Department of Political Science offers a Master of Arts program in International Politics & Military Affairs and graduate courses related to a Master of Arts program in Social Science. The normal teaching load for a tenure-track professor is four courses each semester. Undergraduate teaching responsibilities include the following: American Government, State and Local Government, the Presidency, and Political Parties. The incumbent will be expected to teach occasionally at the graduate level using both traditional and online delivery methods. The successful candidate will be expected to direct the Symposium on Southern Politics, which is held every other March.

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. is preferred, but ABD eligible candidates who will finish their dissertation by August 2021 will be considered. Expertise in American Government with a focus on Southern Politics is required.

Additional Comments:

Please complete an online application at <https://jobs.citadel.edu/cw/en-us/job/495943/tenuretrack-professor-of-political-science-in-american-government-and-southern-politics> and upload the following materials to your online application:

- (1) A letter of application addressing the qualifications listed above
- (2) A curriculum vita
- (3) A writing sample
- (4) Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Please also send the above documents and three (3) letters of recommendation (sent independently) to the address: DuBose Kapeluck, Department of Political Science, The Citadel, 171 Moultrie St., Charleston, SC, 29409. Please direct all questions to Dr. Kapeluck at dubose.kapeluck@citadel.edu

To learn more about The Citadel and its programs please visit our website at www.citadel.edu. To find more information on the Department of Political Science, you can visit us at <http://www.citadel.edu/root/politicalscience>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8380

West Chester University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Government and the Politics of Diversity

Specializations: American Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

Position Summary

Join a vibrant campus community whose excellence is reflected in its diversity and student success. West Chester University of Pennsylvania's Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the field of American Government and Politics beginning in August 2021. We are specifically seeking to hire a faculty member whose substantive specializations and pedagogical training will strengthen our existing commitment to diversity and inclusion. Teaching responsibilities will primarily include the following courses: Politics of Diversity, Women and Politics, Urban Politics, Racial/Ethnic Politics, as well as, Introduction to American Government. Additional courses may include: Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Latino Politics, and there is potential for the development of new courses. Other responsibilities of the position include engaging in research and appropriate service, including student advising, all in a manner consistent with our department mission, which emphasizes global perspectives. Overall, we seek teacher-scholars who are committed to student success, retention and engagement, and who will contribute to our valued collegial atmosphere.

Minimum Qualifications

The successful applicant must possess a Ph.D. in Political Science (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date);
Ability to teach American Government Courses;
Ability to teach Specialized Diversity Courses;

Preferred Qualifications

Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including distance education;
Evidence of research accomplishment/capability/active agenda;
Demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and supporting students;
Diversity statement.
Special Instructions

The following materials should be submitted to the West Chester University Electronic Submission site: <http://agency.governmentjobs.com/wcupa/default.cfm>.

Cover letter describing teaching and research interests;

Curriculum Vitae;

Brief writing sample;

Statement of teaching philosophy;

Diversity statement (see the diversity statement prompt);

Sample syllabi;

Graduate transcripts;

Teaching evaluations (if available);

Three references and contact information.

As part of your application for a faculty position, we also have requested a Diversity Statement. This request highlights our Department's commitment to promote diversity and inclusiveness and to cultivate a campus environment that welcomes all. This commitment reflects the Diversity Theme of West Chester University's new Strategic Plan and supports initiatives of our Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (WCU Diversity Equity Inclusion). We expect that each applicant's statement will be unique, as informed by their own experiences and goals. Some issues you might address in a 1-2 page statement include the following: (1) How have you supported diversity and inclusion in your interactions with others in PK-12 classrooms, Higher Ed classrooms (if appropriate), service, and research environments? (2) What have you done to help students from diverse communities (such as underrepresented minorities, non-traditional, LGBTQ, veteran, rural, and/or first generation) succeed, including any programs for these students that you have participated in? (3) Describe your commitment to working toward achieving equity and enhancing diversity at WCU. In particular, how might you contribute to our current diversity initiatives, and do you have any other ideas to help promote equity on our campus?

Applications should be submitted by February 15, 2021. The position will remain open until filled. Please address any inquiries about this position to Ashlie Delshad, Search Committee Chairperson, at adels-had@wcupa.edu. Applicants must successfully complete a remote interview, including a teaching demonstration, to be considered as a finalist.

West Chester University of Pennsylvania offers highly competitive salaries and excellent benefits. The University is part of the State System of Higher Education and is a public, regional, comprehensive institution serving over 18,000 students. The University is located in the city of West Chester, Pennsylvania, 25 miles west of Philadelphia and only a few hours from New York City, Washington D.C. The area is home to world-class libraries, museums and hospitals.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8382

Tel Aviv University

Rank: Open Rank, Tenure-Track Appointment in Politics and Technology

Call for Applications: Tenure-track Appointment in Politics and Technology.

The School of Political Science, Government, and International Affairs at Tel Aviv University invites applications for an open rank tenure-track position. We welcome applications from all subfields in political science, with preference given to researchers working on politics and technology, with a particular emphasis on cyber technology. The term of appointment will begin on October 1, 2021.

Successful candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence as demonstrated by a record of publications, conference presentations, awards and accolades, and endorsements from referees of high standing. The successful candidate is expected to pursue an innovative research program.

Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Hebrew is the primary language of instruction at Tel Aviv University, and candidates must be able to teach courses in Hebrew within three years of their appointment.

Applicants should send a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, and brief research and teaching statements (no more than two pages for each statement). Interested individuals should send their applications to polijobs@tauex.tau.ac.il.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, signed) to the search committee via e-mail to polijobs@tauex.tau.ac.il by January 20th, 2021.

The committee will begin reading applications on January 20th, 2021, but may consider files received after this date. The School reserves the right to make (or not make) an appointment according to its exclusive consideration.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Date Posted: 12/8/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8320

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies

Rank: Assistant Professor of Finance and Development

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies, Geneva, Switzerland invites applications for a tenure track full-time position at the rank of

Assistant Professor of
FINANCE AND DEVELOPMENT

The Graduate Institute is looking to hire a scholar working on finance and development and/or finance and sustainability. We are particularly interested in political scientists or sociologists/social anthropologists working on issues such as: the developmental/sustainability implications of the expansion and transformation of transnational financial flows; the workings of international financial institutions and governance arrangements; the social and political impact of the growing financialisation of global and local economies, with a particular focus on inequalities and redistribution; the subnational, national and international effects of, and responses to, financial and economic governance on credit and indebtedness; the dynamics of institutional oversight and regulation, including the activities of both public and private actors; the effects of class, race, gender and generation on access to financial markets/institutions; the transformative impact of technological innovations for finance, society, and the state.

The appointed professor will serve as Pictet Chair in the Centre for Finance and Development. A list of indicative themes is provided on the Institute's website: <https://erecruit.graduateinstitute.ch/professeurs/>

Candidates must hold a PhD in Anthropology and Sociology or International Relations/Political Science and demonstrate excellence in research through completed projects and a promising research agenda. Postdoctoral research experience is not required but considered a strong asset. Applications from candidates already holding a position of Assistant Professor in another institution are also welcome.

The successful candidate will teach postgraduate courses and supervise master's dissertations and PhD theses in the Department of Anthropology and Sociology or the Department of International Relations/Political Science. They may also be called upon to teach classes and supervise master's dissertations in interdisciplinary programmes as well as contribute to executive education programmes. The candidate should be interested in interdisciplinary dialogue.

The teaching language is either English or French. Prior knowledge of French is not required, but the successful candidate is expected to acquire a passive knowledge of it within two years of being hired.

Application deadline: 31 January 2021.

To apply: <https://erecruit.graduateinstitute.ch/professeurs/>

For more information, candidates are encouraged to consult the Institute's website: <https://www.graduateinstitute.ch/>

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 12/8/2020

Salary: $130,000 - $139,999
eJobs ID: 8375

University of Southern California
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Race and Ethnic Politics anticipated to begin in the fall of 2021. Scholars of Black politics or Indigenous politics whose work is in one or more of the following subfields of political science are particularly encouraged to apply: comparative politics, international relations, U.S. politics, or research methods. The scholar will help build the department's strengths in race, ethnicity, and politics. We welcome all methodological and interpretative approaches to the study of political science and international relations.

Strong commitments to research as well as to undergraduate and graduate pedagogy are expected. The candidate should have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-race-and-ethnic-politics/1209/18148180>. Required materials for upload include a CV, cover letter, sample research paper(s) or article(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, names and contact information for three references and their letters of recommendation. Send inquiries to poirrequests@usc.edu. Materials must be submitted electronically, as those submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/8/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8376

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science, one in Political Behaviour and one in Public Policy and Administration. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. We are open to all methodological approaches.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4200/0/283547/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-pb-and-ppa>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8358

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science

Specializations: China, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. We are open to all methodological approaches and we have a preference for candidates with specialisms in one or more of the following areas:

- East Asia or South Asia
- Gender
- Race or Ethnicity

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4092/0/283545/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-east-asia-or-south-asia-gender-race-or-ethnicity>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8359

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Position in Ethics and Climate Change

The University Center for Human Values (UCHV) and the High Meadows Environmental Institute (HMEI) at Princeton University invite applications for a postdoctoral research associate working at the intersection of ethics and global change to contribute to the Climate Futures Initiative in Science, Values, and Policy (CFI) – a jointly supported research program. Our aim is to support a scholar whose research agenda focuses on the ethical dimensions of climate change, informed by knowledge of climate science and policy. Applicants trained in moral and political philosophy, political theory, normative economics, and related areas are encouraged to apply.

The incumbent will be expected to be an active contributor to CFI and, in concert with the program’s faculty leadership and steering committee, will play a central role in planning the group’s activities. He/she will be encouraged to participate in the UCHV and HMEI communities and will have responsibility for contributing the equivalent of one course each year to the undergraduate or graduate programs of the Institute or University Center. This contribution may be fulfilled by teaching a course on a topic related to the ethical issues of global change, subject to the needs of the Institute and University Center, sufficient enrollment and approval by the Dean of the Faculty, or other forms of service as suggested by the Institute or University Center.

For more information on the Climate Futures Initiative, see <http://scholar.princeton.edu/cfi/home>.

Qualifications

Applications welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date, normally beginning September 1, 2021. Applicants should not have more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the date of appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment.

The applicant’s dissertation need not be specifically in the ethics of climate change, but persons applying to this position will be expected to demonstrate relevant background and commitment to working on a research project in the focal area during their time at Princeton. Applications will be evaluated on the basis of previous accomplishments, the promise of the proposed research in ethics, climate science, and policy, and the likelihood that the project will be enhanced by being carried out in an interdisciplinary environment. The capacity to contribute to the University’s teaching program may also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment

The term of appointment is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2021, with the expectation of renewal for an additional year contingent upon satisfactory performance. The postdoctoral researcher is expected to be in residence for the duration of his/her appointment. This is a full-time position. As such, the individual accepting this position may not be employed by another institution during the term of his/her appointment at Princeton.

How to Apply

Applications for this position must be submitted at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/16741> and include the following materials:

1. A current curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words) conforming to the expectations stated above. Please identify a statement of research plans and its connection to the focal area described for this position. Also, please indicate a title for the research project at the beginning of the proposal;
3. A scholarly paper or dissertation chapter (not to exceed 12,000 words) representative of your scholarly achievement or potential; and
4. Contact information for two referees, each of whom will be asked to comment specifically on your qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

All materials must be submitted online by February 1, 2021, 11:59 P.M. EST. We cannot accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference are to be submitted by end of business day on February 6, 2021.

Decisions are expected in late March 2021.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/1/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8347

University of Gothenburg

Rank: One or several Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Political Science, with a focus on political behavior and political sociology

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Political Behavior, Social Welfare, Gender Politics & Policy

The University of Gothenburg tackles society's challenges with diverse knowledge. 49 000 students and 6 400 employees make the university a large and inspiring place to work and study. Strong research and attractive study programmes attract scientists and students from around the world. With new knowledge and new perspectives, the University contributes to a better future.

The Gothenburg Research Program on Pregnancy and Politics (PregDem) is a research collaboration between political scientists, midwives and obstetricians. The aim is to create a profound understanding of how pregnancy, childbirth and early parenthood affect the pregnant woman's and her partner's views of society. Central outcome variables include policy opinions and ideological priorities, institutional trust, political interest and awareness, political participation, parental identities and gender roles. Central independent variables include health, intake of information, contact with the welfare state, couple dynamics, socio-economic background and the corona-pandemic. We use longitudinal survey data (most importantly The Swedish Pregnancy Panel, The Swedish Citizen Panel, The Swedish Level of Living Survey and the Irish Mammi survey), register data on medical records (from the so-called Graviditetsregistret) and cross-sectional survey data from the Society, Media and Opinion Institute and the Swedish National Election Studies.

The project website (under development) is found here: <https://www.gu.se/en/research/gothenburg-research-program-on-pregnancy-and-politics-pregdem>

PregDem is led by Elin Naurin (Director) and is financed by the Swedish Research Council, Knut & Alice Wallenberg Foundation and University of Gothenburg. You can read an interview with the research director here: <https://kaw.wallenberg.org/en/research/pregnancy-and-perceptions-politics>

Job assignments

The Postdoctoral research fellow will conduct research with a focus on the main questions of the research program, in collaboration with the research director and with other scholars in the team. More specifically, (s)he will analyze and publish original research using the data that is collected within the project, especially the data from the Swedish Pregnancy Panel and the Swedish Citizen panel.

One of PregDem's strengths is the flexibility and collaborative spirit of everyone in the research group, focusing on reaching the goals of the data collection and research program. This includes a willingness to contribute to coding of data, quality control, data management, respondent contact and/or teaching during peak periods. For this position, the service component will include tasks connected to the supervision of online survey data coming in in the final two waves of a panel survey. It will also include participating in the writing of research funding applications. The Postdoctoral Research Fellow may be asked to perform service to the PregDem program up to one-third of FTE.

Eligibility

The postdoctoral research fellow position is open to candidates who have received a PhD in political science or related field latest by the first day of employment.

Assessment

Applications will be evaluated primarily on research excellence in research on political opinion and behavior and/or political sociology with a particular view towards areas of relevance to the PregDem project. One or more of the following scientific skills are also meritorious;

1. A well-developed proposal of high scientific quality, for a research project that falls within and preferably further develops PregDem, based on the above-mentioned outcome and independent variables.
3. Advanced knowledge in longitudinal/panel data techniques.
3. Demonstrated research expertise on: political socialisation, parenthood, partner dynamics, health and politics, political participation, political interest and knowledge, political opinion, political trust, welfare state, gender and politics.

We will make an overall assessment of the applicants' qualifications and select one judged to complement the rest of the team in the best way possible for the needs of the program. Personal qualities relevant for the position are of great importance.

Employment

Fixed-term employment, two years, full time in residence, start date as soon as possible. Location: Department of Political Science, University of Gothenburg

For more details on appointment procedures, please visit: https://web103.reachmee.com/ext/1005/1035/job?site=7&lang=UK&validator=9b89bead79bb7258ad55c8d75228e5b7&job\_id=17746

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/4/2021

Date Posted: 11/13/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8284

Hertie School

Rank: Assistant Professor of Sustainability

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Assistant Professor of Sustainability (f/m/div)

The Hertie School, Berlin

A European Professional School for Public Policy is recruiting an

Assistant Professor of Sustainability (f/m/div)

The Hertie School is recruiting an assistant professor working on key sustainability topics such as climate, energy, or mobility and transport. We particularly welcome scholars whose research covers regions beyond Germany and Europe. This person should combine state-of-the-art empirical, policy-relevant research with a teaching profile that matches the needs of a public policy school.

Applicants for this position must have a doctoral degree relevant for the position, or expect to have this degree by the start of employment. We are looking for a candidate with a strong background in economics. The successful candidate will be appointed as tenure-track Assistant Professor with a six-year clock (two three-year contracts). The expected start date is September 2021.

The Hertie School seeks faculty with demonstrated capacity for research at the highest levels in their discipline through an established record of publication in top outlets. We recruit faculty who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity with a strong commitment to high-quality teaching and innovative research of interest to the international scholarly community and policy-makers. The Hertie School strongly encourages applications from women and underrepresented minorities.

Candidates are expected to work well in an interdisciplinary, international environment with English as the language of instruction and operation. The successful candidate will teach courses in the School's Master, Executive, and PhD programmes. This position will be based in the School's new Centre for Sustainability, and the successful candidate will actively contribute to its research, outreach and teaching activities. Collaboration with other new Centres of Competence of the Hertie School is encouraged. Those are the Jacques Delors Centre, the Centre for International Security, the Centre for Fundamental Rights, the Centre for Digital Governance, and the Data Science Lab.

As a private non-profit university, endowed and supported by the Hertie Foundation, the Hertie School offers an internationally competitive salary as well as a paid sabbatical after every five semesters. We provide excellent working conditions with outstanding financial and administrative support for research. The Hertie School is fully embedded in Berlin's vibrant research landscape and has close ties to the top institutions of the European and international teaching and research community.

The Hertie School is a diverse, international and lively community located in the heart of Berlin. It takes a family friendly workplace seriously. Under German law, there is standard paid leave for parents after the birth of a child. For information about the Hertie School visit www.hertie-school.org.

The deadline for the submission of applications is 6 December 2020. To submit your application, please upload the requested documents here:

<https://hertie-school.dvnci-easy.com/en/p/en/jobs/20369/assistant-professor-of-sustainability-fmdiv>

For questions about the position, please contact Christian Flachsland, Professor of Sustainability (flachsland@hertie-school.org). Strict confidentiality in the application process is assured. The Hertie School is an equal opportunity employer.

Please upload the documents in the following order:

Motivation letter

CV including publication list and the names of two references

A diversity statement of no more than one page

One or more writing samples.

Optional additional documents include teaching evaluations and a research and/or teaching statement. Please have two references submitted separately via Email to researchandfaculty@hertie-school.org.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 11/5/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8253

University of Cambridge

Rank: 3 x 3-year Lecturers (Assistant Professors) Development Studies

The Department of Politics and International Studies is seeking to appoint three 3-year University Lecturers (i.e. Assistant Professors) in Development Studies, based in the Centre of Development Studies, from 1st September 2021. The salary range is £41,526-£52,559.

The successful candidates will have a record of world-class research and publications commensurate with the international reputation of the University of Cambridge. Teaching responsibilities will include contributing to the development, delivery, supervision and assessment of courses in the interdisciplinary MPhil in Development Studies, as well as supplementary teaching at the postgraduate and undergraduate levels. Candidates should also demonstrate a willingness and ability to contribute to the self-governance and administration of the Centre and the Department.

Candidates will need to show evidence of the following qualifications, skills and experience:

- Doctorate in a relevant subject area (or clear evidence that completion of such a doctorate is imminent);

- Evidence of ability to engage in internationally recognised high-level research in the Political Economy of Development, with publications in the leading outlets;

- Evidence of ability to teach Development Studies;

- Ability to play an effective and collegial role in the life and work of the Centre and the Department. Please see the Further Particulars online for additional specifics on the position at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27283/>.

Further information about the Centre and the Department can be found at <https://www.devstudies.cam.ac.uk/> and www.polis.cam.ac.uk. Applications should be made online at <http://www.jobs.cam.ac.uk/job/27283/>. References will be requested from short-listed candidates. The closing date for this post is 1 January 2021.

Enquiries can be made to the chair of the committee Prof. Jason Sharman (jcs207@cam.ac.uk). Interviews for shortlisted applicants will be scheduled after the application close date. Enquiries about applications should be addressed to Ms Louisa Bailey (lkb44@cam.ac.uk). Please quote reference UC24373 on your application and in any correspondence about this vacancy.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/1/2020

Date Posted: 11/3/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8248

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Religion & Politics

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives, and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry.

The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University seeks candidates for a 9-month academic year, tenure system Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor in Minority Politics. The position has a target start date of August 16, 2021. Special consideration will be given to those with research and teaching (graduate and undergraduate) interests in race and ethnicity, religion, gender, class and inequality, or immigration in the U.S. context. The hire is part of an ongoing initiative in Minority Politics in the College of Social Science.

A successful candidate will have evidence of high-quality research, a documented commitment to teaching, and a record of efforts to secure external research funding. Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or have completed the Ph.D. by the date of hire.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, disability or protected veteran status.

Please contact Eric Juenke (juenke@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Min. Qualifications: Candidates must have completed a PhD by the date of hire. A successful candidate will be expected to have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

Required Materials: Interested applicants must apply for this position via Michigan State University Careers Page. Please access the system at <https://careers.msu.edu>. Applicants must submit a CV, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, and a diversity and inclusion statement (a statement addressing how past/and or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion will advance MSU's commitment to inclusive excellence). Applicants must provide contact information for three references. If applicants are currently Assistant Professors or ABD applicants, please provide three letters of recommendation. Letters may be sent to Rhonda Burns at burns@msu.edu

To apply for this position please visit <https://careers.msu.edu/> job posting 677807.

Michigan State University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Michigan State University is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The University actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.

MSU is located in East Lansing, MI, with easy access to the state capital, Lake Michigan, great school districts, and two large metropolitan areas (Grand Rapids, Detroit). The University is pro-active in exploring opportunities for employment for dual career couples, both inside and outside the University. Information about MSU's dual career support can be found at <http://miwin.msu.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8204

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellows – QSS

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College is pleased to announce that it is searching for a postdoctoral fellow for the 2020-21 academic year. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science questions. Fellows should be highly motivated, collegial, and able to work independently on a research agenda that is grounded in quantitative social science. We are especially interested in candidates whose research agendas are closely related to those of QSS-affiliated faculty and/or other scholars on campus (for more, see e.g. <https://qss.dartmouth.edu/people>).

During the 2020-21 academic year, QSS fellows will participate in the intellectual life of the program by interacting with each other, with QSS faculty, and with undergraduate students pursuing a minor or major in QSS. Fellows will also attend seminars and workshops and are expected to present their own research on a regular basis. There are many postdoctoral fellows at Dartmouth College, and QSS fellows will be part of a large community on campus. Postdoctoral fellows are guaranteed one year of funding with opportunities to extend funding for an additional year.

The annual stipend for each QSS fellow is $50,000. Each fellow also receives a one-time $5,000 account for equipment, travel, and research materials. Fellows teach one course per year in Dartmouth's quarter system on a subject to be determined in consultation with the QSS chair. Fellows may also have the opportunity to teach further courses and would be compensated for any additional courses they choose to teach (to be determined in consultation with the Associate Dean).

Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. QSS is especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ + communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and /or first generation college graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Requirements:

1. Ph.D. in any social science or related discipline, expected or granted by September 2021.
2. Substantive interest in any social science field, with preference given to candidates who demonstrate substantial overlap and interest working with QSS faculty and affiliates or other Dartmouth faculty.
3. Research interests that strongly intersect statistical, computational, or mathematical methods
4. A proven ability to work both independently and collaboratively
5. A demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary research

Application Materials:

- 1) A cover letter that is no longer than two pages
- 2) Curriculum vitae that includes all publications
- 3) Statement of research interests (two pages or fewer) that includes a short description of the research the applicant would like to pursue while in residence at Dartmouth
- 4) Names of specific Dartmouth faculty inside and outside QSS who are of interest to the applicant
- 5) Three letters of reference
- 6) A published or unpublished journal-length manuscript written in English

Applications will be reviewed starting on December 1, 2020. Interested individuals can apply at the following URL: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80180>

Contact for questions: Brendan Nyhan, nyhan@dartmouth.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8202

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Assistant Professor – Latinx Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a tenure-stream position at the level of Assistant Professor in Latinx Politics, pending budgetary approval. We are especially interested in candidates whose research focuses on understanding Latinx perspectives and experiences related to issues of migration, representation, voter attitudes, political behavior, and identity. We seek candidates who would complement our current faculty's research and teaching strengths and will help strengthen the department's research program by broadening the perspectives, questions, theories, methods, or sources of evidence used to study political behavior and institutions, including those whose research employs civically engaged or participatory scholarship within the Latinx community.

This search is part of the first stage of a three to five year-long university-wide cluster hiring initiative in Latinx Studies. The successful candidate will be expected to participate in that initiative, intended to create a critical mass of scholars with expertise in Latinx studies at the University. More detailed information about the Provost's

Latinx cluster hiring initiative can be found here: <https://www.provost.pitt.edu/latinx-cluster-hire-initiative>.

The starting date for the position is September 1, 2021. Successful candidates are expected to engage in research, teaching, and service that contributes to the department's mission. Required qualifications: applicants have or expect to have a Ph.D. in hand before the appointment begins, research interests related to Latinx politics, and demonstrated ability or potential to publish high-quality scholarship. Preferred qualifications: research interests related to migration, representation, voter attitudes, political behavior, and identity; demonstrated commitment or potential to contribute to equity and inclusion.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a brief description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion, and a minimum of three letters of reference; references will receive email notification with instructions about submitting their letters.

Please apply online at: <https://facultysearch.as.pitt.edu/apply/index/Mjk3>.

DEADLINE EXTENDED TO NOVEMBER 20, 2020. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by the extended date. The review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

The Political Science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is wynn2@pitt.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 11/20/2020

Date Posted: 10/8/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8156

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowships with the Leitner Program on Effective Democratic Governance at Yale, 2021-22

Yale University's Leitner Program on Effective Democratic Governance housed at the Jackson Institute for Global Affairs is seeking applications for a Postdoctoral Associate with strong economics training and quantitative methods. The Postdoctoral Associate will work with a Yale group led by professors Frances Rosenbluth and Ian Shapiro in analyzing regulation, employment practices, and market outcomes, principally for OECD countries.

This is a full-time position. The Postdoctoral Associate will spend fifty percent of their time working collaboratively on this project and the other fifty percent pursuing their own research.

The appointment period will run for twelve months, starting in July 2021. Fellows will be expected to be in full-time residence at Yale for the duration of their appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, one page description of research plans, and two letters of recommendation. All information from the applicant should be submitted electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/79312>.

Compensation includes a salary of $65,000 for the duration of the appointment, health insurance, and other benefits afforded to postdoctoral associates at Yale. For more information see <https://your.yale.edu/enroll#pda>.

Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2020 and will continue until the position is filled.

For questions concerning this search, please contact larisa.satara@yale.edu

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8116

Pepperdine University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Studies

The International Studies and Languages Division of Pepperdine University's Seaver College of Letters, Arts, and Sciences seeks applications for a tenure track appointment as an Assistant Professor of International Studies (with a specialization in African Studies) beginning August 1, 2021. The ability to teach courses in at least two of the following areas is preferred: African politics, African culture and society, ethnicity in Africa, comparative politics, or comparative political economy. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Anthropology, or Sociology is required. Candidates should demonstrate exceptional interest and effectiveness in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students. Candidates should also have the ability to establish a productive research program. The ability to engage students in their scholarly work would be a plus.

Pepperdine University is a private Christian university overlooking the Pacific Ocean in Malibu, California. Faculty, staff and students partner to support Pepperdine's Christian Mission. Pepperdine is committed to valuing diversity and inclusion among our students and faculty. Applicants of color are particularly encouraged to apply.

Please submit all application materials at apply.interfolio.com/78908. Review of candidates' application materials will begin on November 9th, 2020, and will continue until the search is closed.

Contact:

Dr. George Carlsen (george.carlsen@pepperdine.edu)
Divisional Dean of International Studies and Languages
Pepperdine University
24255 Pacific Coast Highway
Malibu, CA 90263

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2020

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 8105

New York University - Abu Dhabi

Rank: Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science - Division of Social Science

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint a Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science starting September 2021. Later start dates are also possible. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

Here is the link to apply:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/77968>

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7989

Texas A&M University

Rank: Instructional Assistant Professor (non-tenure track)

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a non-tenure track, instructional assistant professor in the area of international political economy, to work in the School's teaching site in Washington, D.C. The position will be for a period of two-years, with the possibility of renewal. The start date for this position will be January 1, 2021. The successful candidate will teach five courses per academic year in a professional master's degree program in international policy – two sections of the required course on the global economy and three other elective courses to be determined in consultation with the department head. A reasonable amount of department and professional service will also be expected.

The Department of International Affairs is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and departments is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in political science, politics or government with a specialization in the sub-field of international political economy to be considered.

Applicants with additional expertise in the intersection of international political economy and international security issues, and/or expertise in the politics and political economy of a particular world region, are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit: 1) Letter of Interest, 2) CV, and 3) three letters of recommendation. The application materials must be submitted online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/76363>.

Point of Contact: Ms. Peg Hosea plhosea@tamu.edu

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/19/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7900

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

Postdoctoral positions are available with Dr. Erik Gartzke in the Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) in the Political Science Department at the University of California, San Diego.

cPASS conducts rigorous, data-driven research on international affairs and U.S. foreign policy. Its mission is to apply cutting-edge social science to improve our collective understanding of how humans can best cooperate in an increasingly globalized and connected world with rapidly advancing technologies. cPASS is committed to promoting research excellence and diversity within cPASS and our academic field.

The postdoctoral fellows will assist in a Hewlett Foundation funded project on “CyberEscalation in Power Projection.” This project focuses on understanding how humans and their institutions interact with technology to better assess how the introduction of a new kind of connectedness through cyberspace shapes decisions concerning power projection. This project hopes to overcome the challenges for young scholars interested in cyber escalation by investing in building expertise and creating quality data to test theories.

As part of their duties, the postdoctoral fellows will collaborate with the Machine-learning for Social Science Lab (<https://cpass.ucsd.edu/mssl>) to create a foundational dataset of cyber events focused on basic scientific standards that is transparent, replicable, and reproducible. The postdoctoral fellows will also work with cPASS staff to develop the Cyber Escalation Lab and build a community dedicated to cyber escalation topics. Additional duties may arise in line with the goals of the “Cyber-Escalation in Power Projection” project. Authorship/co-authorship of scholarly research will be strongly encouraged.

A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Social Science, Computer Science, Information Science or a related field is required at the time of appointment. Applicants with appropriate skills are encouraged from a wide range of disciplines related to international relations and computer science. The appointment may be delayed for applicants expected to complete their PhD within the next six months.

Candidates must have extensive knowledge and experience in the cyber domain and a strong working knowledge of international relations theory.

Ideal candidates will also have experience with data science and machine learning. Candidates with demonstrated leadership or commitment to support diversity, equity, and inclusion in an academic setting are preferred.

Applicants must apply for this position at this link: <https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02537>

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or status as a protected veteran.

This position will be 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible. Some flexibility exists as to the starting date of the position with fall 2020 as the earliest. Candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego by the start of the postdoc.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7823

POLITICAL THEORY

Biola University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Political Science Department at Biola University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Science at the rank of Assistant/Associate/Full Professor. While candidates may study any non-US geographic region and any time period, we are particularly looking for scholars whose research focuses on one or more of the following themes: diplomacy, economics, globalization, intelligence studies, international relations, international political economy, international law, military affairs, national security, political thought, and public policy.

Teaching responsibilities will include four courses per semester. The candidate is expected to teach a combination of American Government and courses in his or her field of specialization. Through courses in their field of specialization, the candidate will help build curricular connections between the Political Science and the History Departments. Although the candidate will be housed in the Political Science Department, the Political Science Department is committed to fostering a special relationship with Biola’s History Department, which includes the development of cross-listed courses. The Political Science Department serves Biola University’s distinctive Christian engagement with the liberal arts tradition and commitment to excellence in the areas of scholarship, teaching and the mentoring of students. Biola’s Political Science department is distinctive in its reliance on a historical/philosophical/qualitative approach to the discipline and has a desire to see candidates who have a disposition for the discipleship of students for the purposes of fulfilling Biola’s larger religious mission. Top candidates will display a thorough understanding of how the Christian worldview fundamentally informs their approach to political science and the seeking of wisdom and knowledge.

Review of applications will begin in December 2020 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following materials through this portal: <https://biola.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&cid=1494>

1. Cover Letter addressed to Search Committee Co-Chair, Dr. Todd M. Thompson, describing academic background, research focus, teaching experience and interest in Biola University’s Christian mission.
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Christian Testimony document

Please direct any follow-up questions to Search Committee Co-Chair, Dr. Scott Waller: scott.waller@biola.edu.

The School of Humanities and Social Sciences is one of nine schools that comprise Biola University.

Biola University is an evangelical Christian university in which faculty affirm personal faith in Jesus Christ, endorse a university statement of Christian faith and community values, and are committed to the integration of faith and learning. Candidates must be willing to support Biola's mission, and preference will be given to applicants who demonstrate a clear commitment to the integration of faith into their scholarship and teaching. See the institution's theological positions at www.biola.edu/about/theological-positions.

Biola is accredited by the Western Association of Schools & Colleges (WASC) and is a member of the Council for Christian Colleges and Universities (CCCU).

Biola is committed to diversity and seeks faculty who can contribute to multicultural understandings. Candidates should be able to demonstrate their ability to work effectively with diverse populations, female and male students and colleagues, and integrate multicultural content and issues into their teaching.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8416

Furman University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical, Political Theory

The Department of Politics and International Affairs at Furman University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Thought at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor to begin in the fall of 2021. The candidate's teaching responsibilities will include Introduction to Political Thought and upper-level Political Thought courses. The position is open to all specialties in Political Thought, and the ideal candidate should complement the department's existing strengths in that subfield and other areas of political science. The candidate must demonstrate the potential for superb teaching, including the ability to work with a diverse population of students, and excellence in scholarship. The Politics and International Affairs Department is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion and to being "a community in which every member is treated with dignity, and all are welcomed to participate in the life of the department and in the respectful exploration of ideas," and the candidate should show interest in and aptitude for contributing to this endeavor. The teaching load is five courses per academic year. A Ph.D. is required by August 1, 2021.

Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high-impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences. The Department of Politics and International Affairs is one of the largest at Furman, and graduates approximately 90 majors a year. Our 17 full-time faculty include many outstanding teachers and accomplished scholars. Consistent with The Furman Advantage, the department's entrepreneurial culture and commitment to innovation has produced numerous high-impact, student-centered programs.

Furman is located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is one of the fastest growing cities in the Southeast and is ranked among "America's Ten Best" by Forbes Magazine. The charming downtown features excellent restaurants, in-town parks, shops, museums, galleries, music venues, and theaters. The city also has excellent public and private schools and a vibrant international community. A 20-mile bike and running trail connects the university to Greenville and to Travelers Rest, which was named "one of America's coolest small towns." The surrounding area abounds with outdoor recreational activities and has some of the most beautiful lakes, rivers, and mountains in the country. Greenville is within easy reach of the Blue Ridge Mountains and Atlantic beaches. The newly renovated Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, located just 25 minutes from downtown, runs daily flights to major cities and airline hubs. Greenville is 2.5 hours from Atlanta and only one hour from Asheville, North Carolina. It is an ideal place to live and work.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest containing a statement of teaching philosophy and research agenda, CV, sample course syllabi and teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and a sample(s) of professional writing (published, single-authored work preferred). Candidates should also include a statement describing how their teaching, scholarship, mentoring and/or service might contribute to a liberal arts college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values.

Please ask three recommenders to submit letters of recommendation to Politics and International Affairs Department Assistant Lori Schoen via interfolio (lori.schoen@furman.edu).

The deadline for submitting applications is February 1, 2021. Please contact the chairperson of the search committee, Benjamin Storey, at benjamin.storey@furman.edu, with any questions you may have.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/1/2021

Date Posted: 12/15/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8401

U.S. Naval Academy, VADM Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership

Rank: Resident Fellow

Specializations: Science & Technology, Defense, International Security

Resident Fellowship in Ethics

Vice Admiral James B. Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership

U.S. Naval Academy

The U.S. Naval Academy's Stockdale Center invites applications for its annual Resident Fellowship Program for academic year 2021-2022.

The Secretary of the Navy and the Superintendent of the Naval Academy established the Center in 1998 to be a thought leader in the field of military ethics and leadership and serve the Naval Academy, the Naval Service and national institutions of influence.

Minimum qualifications: dissertation phase of a Ph.D. program in a humanities or social science area and U.S. citizenship. Ideal candidates will be published Ph.D. holders with university teaching experience in philosophy, political theory, international relations, public policy or history. We are especially interested in philosophy or political science Ph.D.s familiar with the ethics of using artificial intelligence in military operations and planning.

The Stockdale Center anticipates selecting up to four residential fellows, whose focus will be a weekly seminar devoted to defense-related ethics topics. Fellows will also have the opportunity to conduct additional research projects in cooperation with the Naval Academy's civilian and military faculty members.

Application review will begin January 18, 2021. Click here to be directed to the full advertisement on the United States Naval Academy Human Resources website, which includes application instructions: <https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/EthicsFellow-AY21.php>.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8397

Reed College

Rank: One-Year Visiting Appointment in Political Theory

Applications are invited for a one-year visiting appointment in Political Theory, beginning Fall 2021. Visitors are usually appointed at the assistant professor level, but more advanced candidates may be considered. Salary is competitive, including travel and research support.

Candidates are expected to teach five courses over two semesters, including two sections of Introduction to Political Theory along with three upper-division courses in the successful candidate's principal areas of interest. We are open to a wide range of specialties in political theory including, though not necessarily limited to, the history of political thought, normative theory and comparative political theory. Our pedagogy emphasizes the conceptual and theoretical foundations of the discipline and includes supervision of senior theses. Enrollment for all of our courses is capped at 24 students, and most of our courses are conducted as seminars. We expect the Ph.D. to be in hand, or very near completion, by the start of the appointment. Above all, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level, a lively and serious program of scholarship, and an interest in treating their specialties explicitly in the light of broader problems in the social sciences. Information on the department is available at http://academic.reed.edu/poli\_sci/. Search inquiries may be addressed to political.search@reed.edu.

Reed College is a community that believes cultural diversity is essential to the excellence of our academic program. In your application materials, we will expect a description of how you would engage and sustain the commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in Reed College's diversity statement (<http://www.reed.edu/diversity/>). An Equal Opportunity Employer, Reed College values diversity and encourages applications from underrepresented groups.

Please send an application letter, CV, evidence of teaching excellence, and at least three letters of recommendation to <http://apply.interfolio.com/81925>.

Sample syllabi are welcome but not required. Formal review of applications will begin in early January of 2021 and applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8388

Texas A&M University

Rank: Pre- and Post- Doctoral Fellowships

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Albritton Center for Grand Strategy at the Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University, is inviting applications to its residential fellowship program for the 2021-2022 academic year. The program will support one pre-doctoral and one post-doctoral fellow. The Albritton Center is particularly interested in scholars that are engaging with the fundamental questions surrounding grand strategy: How should the national interest be defined? What are the threats to the national interest? How should the United States use its power in response? Applications are invited from scholars of political science, history, and other relevant disciplines.

Fellows will be expected to be in residence at the Bush School for the duration of their fellowships (September 2021 - August 2022). They will be provided with office space and access to the resources of the Bush School and Texas A&M University. Fellows will participate in Center activities, to include seminars, workshops, and conferences. They will work with an active community of scholars in international affairs, political science, history, and other disciplines at Texas A&M University.

The pre-doctoral fellow is expected to make substantial progress toward – and ideally complete – a dissertation during the fellowship. The post-doctoral fellow is expected to complete a manuscript for publication. The post-doctoral fellow is also expected to teach one course to Bush School students. Finally, both fellows are asked to write a short, policy-relevant piece while in residence.

Eligibility:

Applicants for the pre-doctoral fellowship must be pursuing a Ph.D. in political science, history or other relevant discipline. Applicants must pass all qualifying exams and advance to the level of candidacy prior to the start of their appointment.

Applicants for the post-doctoral fellowship must have completed their PhD in political science, history, or other relevant discipline to begin the fellowship. Recent PhD recipients are especially encouraged to apply.

Award information:

The pre-doctoral fellow will receive a stipend of $39,000, as well as $5,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will receive a salary of $60,000 (payable monthly), as well as $10,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will also be eligible for the benefits package available to TAMU employees.

Application process:

Postdoctoral applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant's dissertation advisor) through Texas A&M's employment platform, Workday (https://tamu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU\_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Postdoctoral-Research-Associate\_R-033905-1).

Predocctoral applicants should complete submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant's dissertation advisor) to bushschoolCGS@tamu.edu.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by January 29, 2021 receiving priority attention.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8384

Butler University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Political Theory

The Butler University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with expertise in contemporary political theory. The candidate should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching and an active scholarly agenda. We are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching engages critical, transnational, or global political theory beyond the conventional Western canon such as indigenous, decolonial, modernity/coloniality, Black, or Latin American political thought, and who can offer one or more courses suitable for Core Curriculum Social Justice and Diversity designation. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach political theory courses, will teach a required political science course; and will contribute to the Core Curriculum and to building an inclusive learning environment for an increasingly diverse student population. The new faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 11, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2021. Applicants should submit the following to ptsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that summarizes the applicant's scholarship and their teaching interests and highlights their commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching; a curriculum vitae; a publication or other writing sample; a statement of teaching philosophy; a list of courses taught; a sample syllabus; and a list of 3-5 references. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation; and unofficial transcripts, and may provide additional publications or writing samples. Final round candidates will be asked to provide official transcripts and to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/11/2021

Date Posted: 12/4/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8366

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Theory

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Political Theory

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Political Theory. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Theory. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political theory, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political theory or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish international reputation in political theory.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/3780/0/283533/15539/assistant-professor-in-political-theory>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8360

Loyola University, Chicago

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

2020-21 Search in the College of Arts and Sciences
Department of Political Science
Tenure-Track Assistant Professor, Political Theory

Job Title: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

Background: The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at Loyola University Chicago (LUC) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, for academic year 2021-22.

As part of a University-wide, multiyear hiring initiative designed to diversify the faculty, the department seeks applicants with expertise in Political Theory. We are searching for diverse and qualified applicants whose research contributes to the development of Democratic Theory or explores normative and historical questions regarding Political Justice. Of particular interest is work in areas including, but not limited to, political economy, health or the environment, inequality and distribution, punishment and violence, or identity politics. Innovative research in comparative political theory or the history of political thought will also be prioritized. As an urban-based Department of Political Science dedicated to mentoring a diverse student body, many of whom come from under-represented and under-served populations, we especially encourage applications from candidates from under-represented groups. We also encourage applications from scholars committed to interdisciplinarity (i.e., working with colleagues across different subfields and disciplines) and the successful pursuit of external grants. The successful candidate will be joining a department with more than 20 full-time faculty members, over 600 majors and 100 minors, and four graduate programs (BA/MA, MA/JD, MA, and PhD). For more information about the department, please visit its website at <http://www.luc.edu/politicalscience/index.shtml>

Duties and Responsibilities: The successful applicant can expect to teach an introductory course on Political Theory on a regular basis; upper-level undergraduate courses on topics such as Democratic Theory, Contemporary Political Thought, and Political Justice on a rotating basis; and the occasional graduate seminar. Successful candidates may also develop special topics courses in conversation with the Department Chair and according to departmental needs. Additionally, they will be expected to support the department's student-related programming and academic advising according to the practices of the department and to serve on departmental and university committees as designated by the Department Chair. The successful candidate is expected to pursue a strong research program, including the pursuit of external grants.

Minimum Qualifications: The candidate will have a Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment. Candidates for the position must clearly demonstrate the potential for excellence in research and teaching and have a record of (or clear potential for) distinguished scholarship, grant-funded research, and student mentorship. Experience working or conducting research in the specialty area of Political Theory is desirable. The candidate should be willing to support the mission of LUC and the goals of a Jesuit Catholic Education.

Special Instructions to Applicants: Candidates should submit to www.careers.luc.edu (1) a brief letter of interest; (2) a current Curriculum Vitae; (3) a statement outlining the applicant's research agenda; (4) a statement on teaching experience; and (5) a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to mentoring a diverse student body through research, teaching and other channels and engaging a diverse community through scholarship and service. Applicants should also arrange for three recommendations from individuals prepared to speak to their professional qualifications for this position, especially in terms of scholarship, teaching and mentorship, to be submitted electronically to the above website (letter writers will receive an electronic prompt from LUC). Candidates may forward additional materials related to teaching excellence and samples of scholarly publications to:

Robert Mayer, Ph.D., Search Committee Chair
Department of Political Science
Loyola University Chicago
1032 W. Sheridan Road
Chicago, Illinois 60660

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

LUC is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer with a strong commitment to hiring for our mission and diversifying our faculty. The University seeks to increase the diversity of its professoriate, workforce and undergraduate and graduate student populations because broad diversity – including a wide range of individuals who contribute to a robust academic environment – is critical to achieving the University's mission of excellence in education, research, educational access and services in an increasingly diverse society. Therefore, in holistically accessing the many qualifications of each applicant, we would factor favorably an individual's record of conduct that includes experience with an array of diverse perspectives, as well as a wide variety of different educational, research or other work activities. Among other qualifications, we would also factor favorably experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to an academic career or degrees.

As a Jesuit Catholic institution of higher education, we seek candidates who will contribute to our strategic plan to deliver a transformative education in the Jesuit tradition. To learn more about LUC's mission, candidates should consult our website at www.luc.edu/mission. For information about the university's focus on transformative education, they should consult our website at www.luc.edu/transformatived.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 11/30/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8339

CUNY-City College of New York

Rank: Postdoctoral fellow

Post-Doctoral Fellow of Politics & International Affairs

The Hamilton Initiative at The City College of New York-CUNY invites applications for the Jerome Levy Postdoctoral Fellowship in Politics and International Affairs, beginning in the Fall of 2021. Housed in the Department of Political Science, the Hamilton Initiative exists to encourage serious and open engagement with the Western political and philosophic tradition. While the position is open with respect to research areas, we are particularly interested in candidates able to teach courses in the Western canon of political thought and/or International Relations. The teaching load will be three courses per academic year, on topics to be agreed with the Department Chair based on the Fellow's expertise and the Department's needs. The Postdoctoral Fellow will also be expected to participate actively in the Hamilton Initiative's activities and contribute to its administration as needed.

The position is for a duration of one academic year, renewable for one more year. Salaries are competitive and commensurate to living costs in New York City. A PhD degree (in hand or expected by the beginning of the 2021-22 academic year) is a required qualification.

We will begin reviewing applications on January 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, CV, sample course syllabi and teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and a sample(s) of professional writing (published work preferred). Candidates should also include a cover letter describing how their teaching, scholarship, mentoring and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values.

Please submit application materials to Jenifer Roman, jroman@ccny.cuny.edu

For any questions please contact the Department Chairman, Daniel DiSalvo, at ddisalvo@ccny.cuny.edu, or the program Co-Director, Carlo Invernizzi Accetti at: caccetti@ccny.cuny.edu

Located in the Hamilton Heights section of Harlem in Manhattan, City College is one of the most diverse institutions of higher education in the nation with some 90 languages spoken on campus. Access and excellence are its core values.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8289

Sewanee: The University of the South

Rank: Post-Doc in Political Theory

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for a postdoctoral fellowship in political theory to begin August 2021. The position is for one year, renewable for a second. The Department is also hiring for a postdoctoral position in public policy, so academic couples are welcome to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and research productivity appropriate to the rank of appointment. The teaching load is reduced to three courses per year. New faculty members have opportunity for teaching mentoring through the Center for Teaching and designing community engagement curricula through collaboration with the Carnegie-recognized Office of Community Engagement. In addition to the ability to teach introductory courses in political theory, we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in their area of specialization and connect them to our existing major concentrations.

The University of the South comprises a well-regarded College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. The University is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau.

The University of the South stands firmly for the principle that its employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have a right to be free from discrimination based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, pregnancy and childbirth, and genetic information. As required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or other protected categories in the educational programs or activities which it operates. This requirement of non-discrimination extends to admission to and employment in those programs or activities. The University is committed to sustaining a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Key to this value are efforts to nurture an environment of civility and mutual respect and to foster a culture of reporting concerns so that the University can respond promptly and equitably whenever an incident occurs. All employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have the right to be free from harassment and retaliation.

For preliminary review, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement demonstrating how they can contribute to faculty diversity, such as through membership in a group that is historically underrepresented in a particular area of study, training, or other experience. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at <https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/4430>. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. For full consideration, please submit materials by December 15, 2020.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/12/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8277

McMaster University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor Tenure Track

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor Tenure Track
AOS: Philosophy of Law. The department will also consider social or political philosophers whose research forefronts law and legal institutions.

AOC: Open

McMaster University is located on the traditional territories of the Haudenosaunee and Mississauga Nations and, within the lands protected by the Dish with One Spoon wampum agreement.

The Department of Philosophy at McMaster University seeks to hire a philosopher of law at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor, Tenure Track. The department will also consider social or political philosophers whose research forefronts law and legal institutions. We understand philosophy of law broadly to include not only general jurisprudence but also philosophical work focused on particular areas of law, including, but not limited to: constitutional law, criminal law, contract law, discrimination law, human rights law, international law, labor law, property law, and tort law. We are especially interested in scholars with expertise in feminist jurisprudence, Indigenous law, or the law as it relates to race. The normal teaching load in the Philosophy Department is 2 courses per term (4 per academic year), plus graduate supervision.

The successful applicant must demonstrate a record of excellence in teaching and research and a willingness and ability to: (1) contribute actively to the Department's undergraduate program in Justice, Political Philosophy and Law; (2) supervise MA and PhD graduate students; (3) help build and sustain McMaster's existing institutional connections through the Ontario Legal Philosophy Partnership, as well as its already strong working relationships with nearby law schools, and; (4) support the collegial atmosphere and intellectual life of the department. The successful applicant must have or be very near completion of a doctorate in philosophy or subject matter directly related to the position (e.g., law with a specialization in philosophy or political science with a specialization in political theory) by the time of the appointment.

For information about the Department of Philosophy, see <https://philos.humanities.mcmaster.ca>.

The diversity of our workforce is at the core of McMaster's innovation and creativity and strengthens our research, teaching and service excellence. Our department believes that diversity is essential to achieving academic and scholarly excellence and engaging our diverse student body and intellectual community.

In keeping with its Statement on Building an Inclusive Community with a Shared Purpose, McMaster University strives to embody the values of respect, collaboration and diversity, and has a strong commitment to employment equity. The University seeks qualified candidates who share our commitment to equity, diversity and inclusive excellence, and we welcome applications from women, persons with disabilities, First Nations, Métis and Inuit peoples, members of racialized communities ("visible minorities"), and LGBTQ+ persons.

How to Apply:

- Submit a letter of application together with a curriculum vitae, writing sample, research statement, statement of teaching interests and philosophy (including evidence of teaching effectiveness).
- Submit a brief statement describing any contributions made or planned in relation to advancing equity, diversity and inclusive excellence in teaching, research or service within higher education, community-based or other profession settings (2-page maximum)
- Applicants should submit contact information for three potential referees from whom confidential letters of assessment can be obtained.
- Application materials must be submitted through the University's electronic portal: workingatmcmaster.ca/careers/ (Job Opening # 34484).

- Complete applications received by November 29, 2020 are assured of full consideration. However, the position will remain open until it is filled.

Direct queries about the position to philjob@mcmaster.ca.

Job applicants requiring accommodation to participate in the hiring process should contact the Office of the Dean of Humanities at [905-525-9140 ext. 26546] to communicate accommodation needs.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority for the position. To comply with the Government of Canada's reporting requirements, the University gathers information about applicants' status as either a permanent resident of Canada or Canadian citizen. Applicants need not identify country of origin or current citizenship; however, all applications must include one of the following statements:

Yes, I am a citizen or permanent resident of Canada

No, I am not a citizen or permanent resident of Canada

We invite all applicants to complete a brief Diversity Survey.

The survey takes approximately two minutes to complete. All questions are voluntary, with an option to decline to answer. All information collected is confidential and will be used to support efforts to broaden the diversity of the applicant pool and to promote a fair, equitable and inclusive talent acquisition process.

Inquiries about the Diversity Survey may be directed to hr.empequity@mcmaster.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/5/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8147

University of Virginia

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate and Lecturer

The Program on Constitutionalism and Democracy (PCD) in the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate and lecture position. PCD's mission is to promote scholarship and undergraduate teaching that is informed by political theory and that focuses on the American political tradition. PCD is directed by Professors James W. Ceaser and Rita Koganzon. For more information about the program, please consult our website at <http://pcd.virginia.edu>.

Postdoctoral Research Associates will conduct their own research, participate in PCD programming, and teach one undergraduate course per semester, either "The American Political Tradition" (PLAP 2250) or "American Political Economy" (PLAP 3500). These courses require as background a concentration in political theory and/or an approach to American politics focusing on American political thought and American political development. The opportunity to teach an advanced seminar on a specialized topic may also be available.

Applicants must complete all requirements for their PhD, including a successful defense, prior to start date.

The initial appointment is for 1 year; however, the appointment may be renewed for an additional year contingent upon available funding and satisfactory performance. The position is available starting from January 2021 or August 2021.

Pay is competitive, and benefits are included.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by December 1, 2020 receiving priority attention. The University will perform background checks on all new hires prior to employment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>: search for posting #R0018923 (or through Workday for internal applicants). Full URL: https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Postdoctoral-Research-Associate-and-Lecturer--Program-on-Constitutionalism-and-Democracy\_R0018923-1. Complete the application, and attach the following:

***Please note that all required documents MUST be uploaded in the "resume" box.***

***Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.***

REQUIRED DOCUMENTS:

Cover letter - addressing why you are interested in this position, how your experience has prepared you and demonstrated experience working with underrepresented groups.

Curriculum vitae

Brief statement of research interest

Writing sample (no more than 25 pages)

Contact information for three references.

For questions about the position, please contact Rita Koganzon, at rk7fp@virginia.edu. For questions about the application process, please contact Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor, at nr7f@virginia.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8187

Political Theory Project Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Political Theory Project (PTP) at Brown University will be appointing up to two Postdoctoral Fellows. Post-doctorates must have received their PhD's within the past three years. Salary is competitive.

Appointments are for one year, renewable for a second year based on satisfactory performance and the availability of funds. Postdoctoral fellows will pursue their own research, participate in PTP working groups, and teach one seminar course per year. In addition to a CV, three confidential letters of reference, and writing sample, applications should include a cover letter describing how their research fits within the mission of the PTP. We seek candidates who contribute to diversity and/or have demonstrated support for diversity and inclusion through their teaching and research. Candidates are asked to include in their teaching dossier a statement of how their teaching is designed with an eye to contributing to an inclusive educational environment. A similar contribution from one's research can also be cited if relevant.

Details about the Project's research and pedagogical missions can be found at <https://ptp.brown.edu/>. Applications received by November 30, 2020 will be assured of full consideration.

<https://apply.interfolio.com/79054>

Start Date: Summer 2021

Date Posted: 10/14/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8174

Stanford University, Graduate School of Business

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy - Impact of Race in America

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Stanford seeks to hire as many as 10 strong researchers and scholars--campus-wide--who study the impact of race in American society, including the nature and persistence of racial inequality and its consequences. We seek to support, deepen, and enhance the important research and teaching in these areas long underway on our campus.

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for faculty positions in our seven academic areas: Accounting; Economics; Finance; Marketing; Operations, Information & Technology; Organizational Behavior; and Political Economy under the Impact of Race in America topic. We welcome applications from scholars with all disciplinary backgrounds that bear on race in America and racial justice to apply to the seven areas. Rank is open, although there is the expectation that a majority of the appointments will be made at the assistant professor level. Although all areas of research will be considered, we are particularly interested in candidates with outstanding records of achievement in developing or using innovative approaches in the broad areas of their discipline. The successful candidates should possess a strong research background within their discipline and the ability to teach effectively in both the MBA and PhD programs in the school. The successful candidates should have or must expect to have their PhD degree by the start date of their faculty appointment at Stanford University.

Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2020 and will continue until all of the positions are filled. Candidates are invited to apply online via <https://www.gsb.stanford.edu/jobs/faculty-recruiting>, with the following materials: a statement describing the candidate's academic background and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a research statement of no more than three pages, and the names of three recommenders. Please direct questions to faculty\_recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 11/15/2020

Date Posted: 10/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8155

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates or more senior researchers for the year from September 1, 2021 to September 1, 2022, with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on funding and outstanding performance. Appointments will be through the department of Politics. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17241> (link is external).

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2020; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2021 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
Matthew Franck, Ph.D.
Associate Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue
Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: mfranck@princeton.edu (link sends e-mail)
Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/1/2020

Date Posted: 9/1/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8018

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory

UPDATE FOR 2021-2022 APPLICATIONS: In light of the ongoing pandemic, we are not currently reviewing applications for the 2021-2022 academic year. Please check the listings again (<https://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs>) in January for updated opportunities.**

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2021 to June 1, 2022. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17282> (link is external).

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2020 - July 1, 2021) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2020 for appointments beginning in September 2021. Awards will be announced in March 2021 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
 Matthew Franck, Ph.D.
 Associate Director
 James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
 Princeton University
 83 Prospect Avenue
 Princeton, NJ 08540
 E-mail: mfranck@princeton.edu (link sends e-mail) / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 12/1/2020
Date Posted: 9/1/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8019

Salisbury University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Salisbury University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a full time, 10-month position.

Primary Job Duties: The Department seeks candidates whose expertise is in one or more of the following fields: racial and ethnic politics, political theory, and law and judicial politics. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level courses in political theory and/or American politics (political institutions and behavior and courses in the Law, Justice and Advocacy minor). The candidate will also be able to teach a research methods course. Academic advising and student mentoring are also expected as well as ongoing scholarly activities. The teaching load is 3-3 of 4 credit hour courses.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science. If ABD, applicant would be hired at the rank of Instructor and must complete doctoral degree by: May 2022. Demonstrated evidence of a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of a commitment to political engagement, an active research agenda, curriculum development, and undergraduate research mentorship.

Applications received by October 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. The position will remain open until filled. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Appointment will be contingent upon verification of eligibility to work in the U.S. and is expected to begin August 2021. Please visit our website <http://www.salisbury.edu/HR/careers/> to apply online. See the FAQs of the Online Employment Application System for more information and instructions.

To be considered an applicant, you must apply online and submit the following: 1) A letter of interest; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statements of research and teaching interests; 4) unofficial transcripts; 5) the names and contact information of at least three professional references. All documents must be submitted with your application in the online employment application system. Questions about the position should be directed to the search chair, Dr. Sarah Surak at smsurak@salisbury.edu.

This position is based in Salisbury, MD, an area with a culturally diverse population with rich cultural experiences. Salisbury University, a member of the University System of Maryland is a regionally accredited four-year comprehensive institution offering 60 distinct graduate and undergraduate programs. Founded in 1925, Salisbury University features a beautiful campus close to ocean beaches and the Chesapeake Bay and 2-3 hours from the metropolitan areas of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. SU is consistently ranked among the nation's top colleges and 'best values' by U.S. News and World Report, The Princeton Review and other publications. SU has 440 full-time faculty members serving a student population of approximately 8700.

Diversity and inclusion are core values of Salisbury University. We strive to create a truly diverse and inclusive environment where the richness of ideas, backgrounds, and perspectives of our community is harnessed to create value for our University community to include students, faculty, and staff, today and in the future. To this end, the University recruits exceptional and diverse faculty, staff, and students from across Maryland, the United States, and around the world, supporting all members of the University community as they work together to achieve institutional goals and vision. To learn more about the University's commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus, please visit <http://www.salisbury.edu/equity/>.

Applications will be accepted via Salisbury University's online employment application system.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/30/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7950

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Title: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA)
 Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE)

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE) seeks applicants for two tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts in Fall semester of 2021. The openings are in the field of comparative politics, research methodology, and political theory. Candidates who have a research focus on issues of public policy are strongly encouraged to apply for the positions. A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potentials to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field. Although the working environment in SUFE is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years of employment. The tenure-track faculty are expected to publish research on highly reputable international journals, offer high-quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFE. The rules of evaluation and promotion are standardized at the university and similar to those for tenure positions in a regular American university.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, medical insurance, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background: Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas. The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five-Year Plan. The newly established Institute of Political Science has eight members who hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents: Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

The deadline for accepting applications is September 31, 2020, for this round of recruitment. We will arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Wechat during November and December 2020.

Contact: Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/14/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 7872

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Syracuse University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant/Tenured Associate Professor - Public Organizations and Democratic Institutions

Public Organizations and Democratic Institutions
Department of Public Administration and International Affairs
Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University
The Department of Public Administration and International Affairs (PAIA) at Syracuse University's Maxwell School of Citizenship and

Public Affairs seeks to hire a TENURE TRACK Assistant or TENURED Associate Professor whose scholarship focuses on the intersection of public organizations and democratic institutions. This position starts in fall 2021 and is part of a broader Syracuse University Cluster Hires Initiative. The Citizenship and Democratic Institutions (CDI) Cluster draws together a diverse group of scholars who address critical issues related to the contested meanings of citizenship, civic engagement, public management, and the impacts of democratic institutions on social and economic well-being. The successful candidate will help shape future, multi-disciplinary hiring in the CDI Cluster, and lead and contribute to externally funded projects and interdisciplinary research initiatives within the Maxwell School and across the University.

As part of this effort, we seek an engaging and entrepreneurial scholar who asks important questions and thinks creatively about the challenges and opportunities for public organizations and democratic institutions in the 21st century. We welcome applicants from public administration, sociology, political science, international relations, and related disciplines. We also are open to myriad foci, methods, and issues in domestic, international, and comparative contexts. As examples, applicants might study issues such as: social equity and social justice; building, managing, and leading diverse public organizations; public values, policy conflicts, and ethics; network, collaborative, or participatory governance; organizational behavior, service delivery, and public governance / public management; citizen-state interactions and administrative burden; accountability, responsiveness, and performance; transparency and open government; democratic consolidation and institutional resilience; threats to democratic institutions; or public administration in autocratic versus democratic settings.

To support their work, the successful candidate will have the opportunity to affiliate with one or more of Maxwell's eleven Centers, Institutes, and Multidisciplinary Research Initiatives, which help concentrate Maxwell's distinctive interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approach to the study of contemporary public and policy issues. In addition to maintaining an active research agenda, the successful candidate is expected to have the knowledge and skills to teach core public management / administration courses in our professional Master of Public Administration program. The successful candidate's teaching may also support our Master of Arts in International Relations program, Executive Education programs, doctoral program in Public Administration, and/or undergraduate courses across the Maxwell School. Finally, the successful candidate will be prepared to help advance Syracuse University and the Maxwell School's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in our work with students, colleagues, and wider communities.

About the Maxwell School: The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs is the top-ranked program in the Public Affairs category of the 2020 edition of U.S. News & World Report's Best Graduate Schools. Maxwell is also highly ranked in many specialty areas and has a top-ranked program in International Affairs. Maxwell is unique among schools of public affairs in that it is home to all of the social science disciplines at Syracuse University, and offers undergraduate and graduate degrees in Anthropology, Economics, Geography and the Environment, History, Political Science, and Sociology. Maxwell is also home to interdisciplinary graduate programs in Social Science, and Public Diplomacy and Global Communications, as well as interdisciplinary undergraduate programs in: Citizenship and Civic Engagement; Environment, Sustainability, and Policy; International Relations; and Policy Studies.

Application Instructions:

For consideration, candidates must submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and the names and contact information of three references, and complete an online faculty demographic summary (available at <http://www.sujobopps.com/>). All applications received by January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. The application period will remain open until the position is filled.

Syracuse University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to equality of opportunity and a diverse work force.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/21/2020Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 8434Laval University*Rank: PROFESSOR POSITION IN PUBLIC FINANCE*PROFESSOR POSITION IN PUBLIC FINANCE

The Department of Political Science at Université Laval invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in Public Finance to begin June 1, 2021. Hire will be at the rank of Assistant Professor.

Duties include teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, supervising Master's and Doctoral students, engaging in ongoing research and publication, participating in all aspects of academic life and any other activities foreseen in the Collective Agreement.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in political science or in a related discipline (candidates who are near completion will also be considered), demonstrated excellence in teaching and peer-reviewed publications. Preference will be given to candidates who have the ability to teach quantitative methods at all levels of study. A demonstrated aptitude with R will be considered as an asset.

Applications must include a cover letter outlining the candidate's research agenda, the candidate's curriculum vitae, a sample of published scholarly writing, a sample of a course outline, as well as teaching evaluations or any other evidence of teaching excellence. Three confidential reference letters must be emailed directly by the referees to the address below.

Application files as well as letters of reference should be addressed to Thierry Giasson, Directeur du Département de science politique, Université Laval and sent by e-mail at direction@pol.ulaval.ca.

Closing date for receipt of applications is January 18th, 2021.

The hiring process at Université Laval allows all professors in the Department to have access to the curriculum vitae of all applicants unless an applicant explicitly states in their cover letter that access to their application should be limited to the members of the search committee. Please note that this restriction will be lifted if and when the applicant is invited for an interview.

In order to respect social distancing and sanitary norms imposed by the COVID-19 pandemic, the interview process with the selected candidates will be carried out online.

Université Laval is a francophone institution where teaching is carried out in French. The institution provides support for newly-recruited faculty to attain proficiency in French.

Start Date: Winter 2020Application Deadline: 1/18/2021Date Posted: 12/18/2020Salary: $80,000 - $89,999eJobs ID: 8345Texas Tech University*Rank: Assistant Professor of Practice in Public Administration

Texas Tech University seeks to hire an Assistant professor of Practice in Public Administration to instruct, recruit, guide, and promote the Bachelor of Political Science and the Master of Public Administration at the Texas Tech University at Waco (TTU at Waco) teaching site. The position is a 9-month appointment, with an opportunity for paid summer teaching. During the long semesters, the successful candidate will be expected to teach three formal courses each semester. This position will be hired as professor of practice in the Department of Political Science at Texas Tech University (Lubbock). Although this person will be a member of the Political Science Dept. in Lubbock, the director of TTU at Waco will be the onsite supervisor for this position. The individual will also be expected to assist in the recruitment of new students and engage in research projects with the TTU at Waco undergraduate students. While this is not a tenure-track position, it is considered to be a continuing appointment.

Service to the department, college, and university is expected. The successful candidate may be asked to visit classes at nearby community colleges, high schools in the Waco area, and provide basic career counseling. The primary responsibility will be the 2+2 partnership with McLennan Community College, which allows students to progress toward the Bachelor of Political Science. A strong record of scholarship is expected, as there will be opportunities to conduct research, preferably with the TTU-Waco undergraduates enrolled in research hours. Candidates who have a proven capacity or clear potential to obtain funding from local, regional, or national funding agencies will be given preference.

Required Qualifications

An earned Master's degree in Public Affairs or related field and an exceptional background and achievement in academic, business, government, or other professional practice for a decade or more are required by the starting date of the appointment. The successful candidate will be expected to teach advanced-level courses in Public Administration and Political Science, as well as courses in the applicant's area of expertise.

Preferred Qualifications

The ability to teach online courses and experience with online delivery of courses are required as is experience in IVC/live streaming video classes. Successful applicants will have experience teaching Civil Rights and Liberties, Criminal Justice Reform, Political Analysis, Nonprofits in Society, and other related courses to the major in Political Science and Masters degree in Public Administration. A demonstrated and ongoing commitment to serving diverse student populations. Experience working with diverse student populations and first-generation students is highly desirable.

Salary

Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience.

About Texas Tech University at Waco

Texas Tech University at Waco, a Recognized Higher Education Teaching Site, resides on the scenic campus of McLennan Community College and offers upper-level courses toward a bachelor's degree.

To Apply

Qualified candidates should complete an online application available at <http://www.texastech.edu/careers/faculty-positions.php> using requisition ID 22568BR or through this direct link: <http://goo.gl/6QHhpV>. Applications should be submitted by January 31, 2021. Please include your curriculum vitae; a letter describing your interest in the position and your qualifications for the position; a statement on your research; and the names and contact information for three professional references. Please direct any questions about the position to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Lewis C. Snell, via email to lewis.snell@ttu.edu.

As an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. Texas Tech is a Hispanic-Serving Institution. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech University. The university welcomes applications from minorities, women, veterans, persons with disabilities, and dual-career couples.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8422

Syracuse University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor Position in Governance of Autonomous Systems and Artificial Intelligence

Assistant/Associate Professor Position in Governance of Autonomous Systems and Artificial Intelligence
Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs
Syracuse University

The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, Syracuse University, seeks to hire a social scientist with expertise in regulatory policy design, regulatory policy processes, and/or risk regulation as related to emerging technologies. We are specifically interested in candidates with demonstrated research interests in regulation and/or risk governance relating to the use and societal impacts of autonomous systems, such as driverless vehicles and unmanned aerial vehicles, artificial intelligence (AI), and autonomous decision making. Research interests could include, among others: governance of the development and use of autonomous systems/AI, analysis of societal risks posed by public and private applications of autonomous systems/AI, design and analysis of regulatory policies for managing risks associated with applications of autonomous systems/AI, design and evaluation of performance standards by which autonomous systems/AI are regulated, and regulation of human control over autonomous systems/AI. It is expected that candidates for this position will have doctoral training in public policy, public administration, political science, economics, sociology, and related interdisciplinary programs. We seek candidates whose research, teaching, service, or lived experiences have prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in our work with students, colleagues, and wider communities.

The position is at the rank of assistant or associate professor and will be in the Department of Public Administration and International Affairs, situated within the Maxwell School. The Maxwell School is ranked #1 in the nation for graduate education in public affairs, according to the 2021 edition of U.S. News & World Report's Best Graduate Schools, and home to the social science disciplines at Syracuse University.

The faculty member hired into this position will be affiliated with the Autonomous Systems Policy Institute (ASPI), which is housed in the Maxwell School and centers on interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching related to the design, policy, and social implications of autonomous systems. Faculty will also have the opportunity to affiliate with other interdisciplinary research institutes and centers within the Maxwell School and across Syracuse University. This position will be part of an ambitious Invest Syracuse Cluster Hire Initiative in the area of Artificial Intelligence and Autonomous Systems, providing exciting opportunities for collaboration in teaching and research in an organized cluster that spans multiple departments in the Maxwell School, the College of Law, the College of Engineering and Computer Science, and the School of Information Studies.

To be considered for this position, candidates must complete an online faculty demographic summary (available at <http://www.sujobopps.com/postings/85522>) and submit the following: letter of interest, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, teaching statement, and the names and contact information of three references. Applications will be reviewed as they arrive, with full consideration given to those received by January 15, 2021. However, the Department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

Syracuse University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to equality of opportunity and a diverse work force.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8414

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Position in Governance & Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in Governance and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all areas of the field (e.g. public policy, public administration, policy analysis), and we especially welcome applications from candidates with Asia-related research programmes. Candidates should submit (a) a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests; (b) updated curriculum vitae; (c) publications or other writing samples; (d) three letters of recommendation; and (e) teaching evaluations and materials if available. We will begin to review applications on 31 January 2021 and continue until the search process is complete. Applications should be submitted to the Chair of the Search Committee at <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/NUS/job/Assistant-Professor/3509444/>

The teaching load is three modules per academic year. Compensation is highly competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support.

The Department of Political Science (<https://fass.nus.edu.sg/pol/>) has a strong faculty of about twenty-five scholars working in all major areas of political science. Faculty and students can also take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Yale-NUS College, and various research institutes, including the Asia-Europe Foundation and the Institutes of South Asian and Southeast Asian Studies as well as other parts of the University. NUS (<http://www.nus.edu.sg/>) is a leader in research and higher education in Asia and is located in a thriving and livable global city.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 12/15/2020

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 8402

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in the area of Public Administration with a specialization in Public Management or Public Policy. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2021.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI's mission is to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance." Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Applicants will be expected to teach graduate-level political science courses in the area of Public Management or Public Policy that serve as requirements for an online Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree with online graduate certificates in Policy Analysis and Public Management. Applicants will also teach undergraduate political science courses on Public Administration, Public Management, Public Policy, and other areas of expertise.

Expected to publish original research in the field of Public Administration and Public Policy, support the governance and administration of an MPA program that is preparing to begin the process of NASPAA-accreditation, work with diverse populations, and advise students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2021, in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy.
- 2) Primary or secondary specialization in the area of Public Management or a specialized public policy-related field.
- 3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience.
- 4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching graduate-level MPA courses in at least two of the following: Seminar in Public Administration and Policy, Ethics in Public Administration and Policy, Public Personnel Management, Public Budgeting and Finance, Public Policy, or other Public Management courses.

5) Demonstrated ability to teach undergraduate political science courses in at least one of the following areas: Public Administration, Public Management, or Public Policy.

6) Evidence of research in the field of Public Administration or Public Policy with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.

7) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: ethics in public administration or policy, performance management, representative bureaucracy, leadership, information and technology management, local government management, specific policy-related fields, or race and inequality.

2) Evidence of online instruction or extensive training in online pedagogy.

3) Ability to teach on race, gender, or inequality.

4) Experience advising students or ability to oversee a robust internship program.

The application deadline is January 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/7600>

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online application:

1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position.

2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document).

3) A brief research and teaching statement (as one complete pdf document).

4) "Other Document" - A statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion reflecting on URI's mission to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance" (as one complete pdf document).

5) "Other" - If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work (Document is Optional).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8389

Colorado State University

Rank: Public Policy and Administration Instructor

The Master of Public Policy and Administration (MPPA) program seeks applications throughout the year from individuals who are interested in obtaining temporary teaching positions within the program. The program provides instruction to graduate students. These Special Instructors are hired to teach courses in areas such as public administration, public policy, and research methods in public policy and administration. Interested applicants are encouraged to view the full description and apply at: <http://jobs.colostate.edu/postings/81398>

CSU is an EO/EA/AA employer and conducts background checks on all final candidates.

Start Date:*Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 12/4/2020Salary: $40,000 - $49,999eJobs ID: 8370London School of Economics*Rank: Assistant Professors in Political ScienceSubfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science, one in Political Behaviour and one in Public Policy and Administration. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. We are open to all methodological approaches.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4200/0/283547/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-pb-and-ppa>

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021Application Deadline: 1/15/2021Date Posted: 12/3/2020Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 8358Brown University*Rank: POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH ASSOCIATE IN RACIAL INEQUALITYSubfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Public AdministrationSpecializations: United States, Housing, Race & Ethnic Politics

DESCRIPTION: Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Racial Inequality to be jointly shared by the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs and the Center for the Study of Race & Ethnicity in America. We seek a scholar with interests in racial inequality/structural racism in the post-1970s U.S. in areas such as: urban poverty, social and cultural theories of racism, gender, segregation, housing or welfare.

The successful candidate will teach one course per year in a Watson Institute related program, collaborate on the vision, design and implementation of CSREA programming related to his/her research areas each year on a key topic in contemporary racial inequality studies, and be expected to actively participate in the intellectual life of CSREA (including regular participation in the CSREA research seminar), the Watson Institute and the University as a whole.

QUALIFICATIONS: Scholars with a Ph.D. in Sociology, American Studies, Political Science, History, Social Theory, Ethnic Studies, African-American Studies or a related discipline in the Humanities or Social Sciences will be considered. Dissertation must be signed by June 30, 2021. Candidates must be untenured and within 5 years of Ph.D.

INSTRUCTIONS: Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, writing sample (15-20 pp), a research statement (1 page), and the names and addresses of three referees through the Interfolio posting: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80616>.

Applications received by January 8th, 2021 will receive full consideration. Review of applications will begin immediately thereafter, and final notifications are expected to go out in March 2021. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective July 1, 2021, and is not renewable.

For more information, please visit:

<https://www.brown.edu/race> | <http://watson.brown.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2021Application Deadline: 1/8/2021Date Posted: 12/1/2020Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 8346

University of Montreal

Rank: Assistant Professor in public administration and public policy

Le Département de science politique sollicite des candidatures pour un poste de professeure ou de professeur à temps plein au rang d'adjoint en administration et politiques publiques.

The Department of political science seeks candidates for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in public administration and public policy. For more details please consult: https://pol.umontreal.ca/public/FAS/science\_politique/Documents/5-Notre\_departement/FAS\_11-20\_8\_POL\_FR2v.pdf (bilingual document)

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 1/5/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8343

Eastern Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Michigan University invites applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level, beginning August 2021.

Qualified candidates will be able to contribute to our NAASPA-accredited MPA program and to at least one of the undergraduate majors housed within the Department of Political Science. Area of specialization is open, but our leading needs are in public policy and state and local government.

Candidates must have a doctoral degree or be ABD in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or other relevant field and demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching, research, and service. ABD candidates must be nearing completion and should have an expected graduation date before the time of appointment. Expertise should be demonstrated through doctoral transcripts and/or professional experience, and candidates should show a commitment to teaching and working with individuals from diverse backgrounds and to furthering the diversity and inclusion missions of the department, college, and university.

Applications received by December 15 are guaranteed full consideration, however the position will remain open until filled. Applications must be made at <http://agency.governmentjobs.com/emichedu/default.cfm>. A complete application should include a cover letter discussing your teaching and research interests/experience, curriculum vitae, sample(s) of scholarship, course syllabi, student evaluations (if available), and graduate transcripts. Items can be combined in files for uploading. At least three current letters of recommendation should be sent separately to the search committee at political.science@emich.edu.

EMU is located in Ypsilanti, Michigan. Its close proximity to Detroit, Ann Arbor and Lansing provides rich cultural, social and recreational opportunities. EMU was founded in 1849 and is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of over 17,000 students. EMU is an equal opportunity employer and is recognized by U.S. News and World Report for its diverse campus environment.

For additional information, please contact the search committee chair, Tucker Staley, at tstaley2@emich.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/6/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8260

PUBLIC LAW

Jobelephant.com

Rank: Senior Director & Endowed Chair - Center for Constitutional Studies

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Senior Director & Endowed Chair - Center for Constitutional Studies

Position Category: Staff - Full-Time

Summary:

Under the general supervision of the University Provost, the Center for Constitutional Studies Director and David & Lauree Stirling Endowed Chair (D&EC) is responsible for the operational and scholarly activities of the Center for Constitutional Studies (CCS). This position will be instrumental in helping to achieve important CCS priorities, including advancement of established mission and initiatives, fundraising, and outreach with education, government, and business partners. In collaboration with UVU Institutional Advancement (IA) and CCS colleagues, this position will establish fundraising goals and strategies and raise operating funds from private and organizational donors. This position will write, co-write, or support the writing of internal, private, and government grant applications and oversee sponsored research programs. This position will be personally involved in promoting involvement in the Quill Project, a joint effort between Pembroke College (Oxford) and CCS.

This position will develop and publish original scholarly work and present scholarship both on and off campus. They will teach courses in constitutional studies, supervise CCS student research projects, including work with the Oxford Quill Project, and mentor CCS student researchers and post-graduate research fellows in the pursuit of graduate studies and academic careers. They will collaborate with colleagues and UVU faculty to develop undergraduate curriculum and will also work with CCS colleagues and the School of Education to create a constitutional studies graduate program and curriculum while engaging with teachers and leaders in K-12 education to create and implement K-12 constitutional studies curriculum. While the position will not be a tenured position in a department, this could be pursued based on the applicant's qualifications and university needs and resources.

This individual will advance UVU's reputation by helping to bring scholars and speakers to campus through conferences and guest lecturer series, working to better publicize the success of UVU faculty, CCS fellows, and students, and building intellectual community by fostering discussion between centers and UVU departments. This individual is expected to be in residence at Utah Valley University for the duration of the appointment and may not be employed by another institution during that time.

To learn more about the position, visit: <https://www.uvu.edu/ccs/sdecinfo/>

The Center for Constitutional Studies at Utah Valley University was established in September 2011. The Center is a nonpartisan academic institute that promotes the instruction, study, and research of constitutionalism. It employs a multidisciplinary approach to effectively equip a new generation of citizens and leaders with a broad understanding of political thought and economic and political practices critical to the perpetuation of constitutional government, ordered liberty, and the rule of law.

To learn more about the Center, visit: <https://www.uvu.edu/ccs>

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

Required Qualifications:

JD or PhD in a relevant field; established record of scholarship and/or professional practice in Constitutional Law, Constitutional History, or Public Law; experience teaching at the undergraduate or graduate level; leadership experience; and understanding of the fundraising process.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

Knowledge:

- Demonstrated knowledge of constitutional law and constitutional history, including knowledge of constitutional issues found at the intersections of political thought, public policy, religion, law, history, or economics
- Demonstrated knowledge of the scholarly research and publication process or the legal research and drafting process
- Demonstrated knowledge of successful teaching strategies for students with diverse backgrounds
- Knowledge of organizational dynamics and administration
- Demonstrated knowledge of effective interpersonal communication and engagement
- Knowledge of productive individual and organizational fundraising practices

Skills:

- Demonstrated skills in producing scholarly work and publications
- Proven record, or demonstrated potential, for excellence in program building and curriculum development
- Experience teaching courses in constitutional law, constitutional history, public law, or civics
- Skills in mentoring students
- Demonstrated leadership and administrative skills
- Experience navigating complex organizations and developing and maintaining partnerships
- Demonstrated skills in working well with senior administrators and internal and external constituencies
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Skills in fundraising (individual and organizational) and enhancement of program reputation

Abilities:

- Ability to effectively engage diverse constituents, including students, university administrators, donors, faculty, and government officials
- Demonstrated ability to build relationships with partner programs and to create collaborative networks at UVU and nation-wide

- Ability to publicly address complicated and/or sensitive legal and political issues while avoiding opprobrium or polemics
- Ability to operate in a complex campus environment and to cooperate with campus colleagues in an engaged learning environment that welcomes students from a diverse background
- Ability to enhance UVU's strong teaching reputation through instruction, curriculum development, close mentoring, and open and constant communication with students
- Ability to employ a multidisciplinary approach to effectively equip a new generation of citizens and leaders with a broad understanding of the Constitution critical to the perpetuation of the constitutional rule of law and ordered liberty
- Ability to analyze and interpret financial data and prepare financial reports, statements, and/or projections
- Ability to exercise interpersonal, problem-solving, and decision-making skills and to effectively apply general principles to specific conditions
- Ability to supervise and train employees, to include organizing, prioritizing, and scheduling work assignments

Preferred Qualifications:

Publications in peer reviewed journals or experience drafting appellate briefs on constitutional issues; multiple years of teaching experience; experience raising funds from private donors and through grant writing; experience effectively engaging internal and external constituents; experience working at or with an academic center; and experience leading an organization.

Physical Requirements:

This job performs work in a typical office setting.

Benefits Summary:

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

FLSA: Exempt

Pay Range: DOQ

Advertisement Number: STA58020

Open Date: 11/30/2020

Review Start Date: 12/22/2020

Close Date:

Open Until Filled: Yes

Special Instructions to Applicant:

To apply, visit: <https://apptrkr.com/2105130>

Employment decisions are made on the basis of an applicant's qualifications and ability to perform the job without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, genetic information, or other bases protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

jeid-cac6912dad7ec4c9a5cf3696734743b

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8440

St. John Fisher College

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics and Public Law

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Open

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

St. John Fisher College, an independent, liberal arts institution in the Catholic tradition located in Rochester, New York, seeks nominations and applications for a tenure-track assistant professor of Political Science and Public Law. The selected candidate will be expected to teach traditional American Politics courses at all levels of the undergraduate degree, with a focus on US Institutions, and will be able to contribute to course offerings in our Legal Studies program, with a focus on Judicial institutions and processes. Additionally, the candidate will contribute to the new Fisher Core. The position is available beginning August 2021.

Founded in 1948, St. John Fisher College is ranked among the top colleges and universities in the northeast and has a rich history of academic excellence and an outstanding reputation for its commitment to a student-centered, personalized educational environment. The educational philosophy of the founding Basilian Fathers—Teach me goodness, discipline, and knowledge—reflects Fisher's traditions and values today, and the campus prepares individuals for lives of intellectual, professional, and civic integrity and where diversity and service to others are valued and practiced (www.sjfc.edu).

The School of Arts and Sciences at St John Fisher College serves all undergraduate students through 33 programs, the Core general education curriculum, and pre-professional requirements. The School provides all the liberal arts offerings required for baccalaureate degrees, thus providing critical skills and perspectives across a wide range of disciplines. New faculty will arrive at an exciting time in our College's history as we launch a new interdisciplinary Core curriculum, and the College looks forward to the transformative impact these faculty will have.

Required qualifications:

- PhD or ABD in Political Science with a preferred specialization in American Government.
- Ability to teach a wide range of courses at the undergraduate level.
- Demonstrated ability to be an excellent teacher.
- Commitment to a consistent, high-quality scholarly agenda.
- Commitment to mentoring and advising students.
- Commitment to contributing to a climate of equity and inclusion.
- Commitment to service.
- Commitment to community engagement.
- Excellent communication skills.

Applicants must be legally authorized to work in the US and be available to start teaching in fall 2021.

Applications are invited from candidates who have completed a doctorate or doctoral candidates with a scheduled completion date for the dissertation.

To apply, please submit a C.V., Cover letter, Statement of Teaching Philosophy using the link below. Three letters of recommendations can be submitted separately to Dr. Lazardeux upon request.

<https://jobs.sjfc.edu/postings/2067>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8430

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor - Comparative Courts/Law

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-system assistant professor position beginning in August 2021 in the Political Science Program. The successful candidate will be expected to teach an introductory undergraduate comparative law course, specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, and to be involved with the pre-law administrative team. Possible research specializations might include: comparative courts, privacy, regulatory issues and intellectual property or trade law, among others.

ABD will be considered, but the PhD must be awarded by the time of appointment.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15204>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/11/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8391

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher: History of Slavery in the City of London

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: History & Politics, International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy

Nuffield College seeks a Postdoctoral Researcher to research the role of the City of London and its commercial institutions in the ecosystem of the transatlantic slave trade and ownership. Co-funded by the global law firm Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer LLP, and under the supervision of Professor Andrew Thompson (Professor of Imperial and Global History, Nuffield College), the researcher will contribute to the growing body of scholarly literature on British imperialism and its intersection with transatlantic slavery, exploring the past and bringing it into close dialogue with the present.

We seek a researcher whose interests and experience align with the broad domains of: British economics and the role of commercial entities in the City of London in the context of Transatlantic slavery; international slave ownership in Britain from early 1700s to mid-1800s, and contemporary British politics with reference to electoral reform, the abolition of slavery, abolitionism and pro-slavery groups, and the slavery compensation scheme.

The researcher will conduct independent original research in areas relevant to the overarching research programme, leading the design, conduct, and interpretation of research, and identifying further areas of relevant research. The researcher will publish research results, authoring or co-authoring working papers and academic journal articles, and pieces aimed at non-academic audiences. The researcher will present research results at seminars, workshops, and conferences, including relevant Freshfields events, and Black History Month and City of London events. The researcher will develop working relationships with individuals; financial, legal and commercial institutions; and archival centres. The researcher may also undertake ad hoc paid teaching or supervision within the collegiate University in Oxford.

Applicants should hold, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant discipline such as history, political science, or economics including economic and social history. They should have extensive archival research skills, familiarity with private-sector organisations' archives, and experience of independent fieldwork. The ability to conduct high-quality academic research evidenced in scholarly writing and publications in peer-reviewed journals commensurate with the applicant's career stage is essential. Applicants should have the ability to distil complex research results for non-academic readers, an aptitude for cross-disciplinary working, and the ability to work collaboratively with non-academic partners, particularly in financial and legal contexts. Applicants should possess excellent oral and written communication skills, organisational skills, and exemplary interpersonal skills with the ability to work within a small research team and under their own initiative. Experience of legal history, of authoring successful funding bids, or of collaborative working with private sector companies or commercial institutions is desirable. Applications are particularly welcome from candidates of Black African or Black African-Caribbean heritage (including mixed heritage) who are currently underrepresented in research posts in the College.

The post is full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 May 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter. Applications from candidates who wish to hold the post on a part-time basis will also be considered. The salary will be GBP 34,804 p.a. (pro-rated as appropriate). The post will be based at Nuffield College.

Further particulars and application instructions are available on the College website at <https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/4370/jd-pr-hsc.pdf>

The closing date for applications is Monday 11 January 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021
Date Posted: 12/1/2020
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8342

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory

UPDATE FOR 2021-2022 APPLICATIONS: In light of the ongoing pandemic, we are not currently reviewing applications for the 2021-2022 academic year. Please check the listings again (<https://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs>) in January for updated opportunities.**

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2021 to June 1, 2022. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University.

Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17282> (link is external).

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2020 - July 1, 2021) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2020 for appointments beginning in September 2021. Awards will be announced in March 2021 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Matthew Franck, Ph.D.

Associate Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: mfranck@princeton.edu(link sends e-mail) / Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/1/2020

Date Posted: 9/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8019

Lycoming College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Lycoming College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 2021. The successful candidate will be broadly trained to teach both introductory and advanced courses in Public Law. Candidates with a secondary specialization in Comparative Politics are encouraged to apply.

Lycoming's small, liberal arts environment allows faculty members, as part of their 3-3 teaching load, to create new courses in line with their area of specialization. Candidates with an interest in teaching in the College's interdisciplinary first year seminar program are desired. Candidates should demonstrate a strong promise of teaching effectiveness and scholarly achievement, and a serious commitment to teaching undergraduates in a liberal arts environment is essential. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, as well as service to the department and institution.

Ph.D. in political science is preferred, but ABDs in their final stages of completion will be considered.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae along with submitting a teaching portfolio, 250-word statement on why they are interested in a liberal arts academic environment, a single-authored writing sample, 3 letters of recommendation, and graduate transcript using the link below. <https://lycomingcollege.applytojob.com/apply/CqDmzXdfUU/Assistant-Professor-Of-Political-Science-Public-Law>

Letters of recommendations can be mailed to:

Attention: Missy Cashner, HR Generalist
Lycoming College
One College Place, Campus Box 861
Williamsport, PA 17701

To guarantee full consideration applications should be submitted by October 1, 2020. A pre-employment drug screening will be conducted.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 10/1/2020

Date Posted: 8/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7954

PUBLIC POLICY

Grinnell College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science/Policy Studies-Two Year Position (Start Fall 2021)

GRINNELL COLLEGE. The Department of Political Science and the Policy Studies Concentration invite applications for a two-year appointment in policy studies beginning Fall 2021. Preferred candidates will have a Ph.D. in political science, with a focus on public policy. Applicants with a Ph.D. in public policy will also be considered. Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) preferred; Instructor (ABD) or Associate Professor possible. The teaching load is five courses/year over two semesters, including Introduction to Political Science, Foundations of Policy Analysis, intermediate and advanced courses in political science and an advanced seminar in policy analysis, in areas of the candidate's expertise.

Grinnell College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts college with a strong tradition of social responsibility. In letters of application, candidates should discuss their potential to contribute to a college community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. To be assured of full consideration, all application materials should be received by February 1. Please visit our application website at <https://jobs.grinnell.edu> to find more details about the job and submit applications online. Candidates will need to provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts (copies are acceptable), a sample of written scholarly work and provide email addresses for three references. Questions about this search should be directed to the search chair, Professor H. Wayne Moyer, at [\[PoliSciSearch@grinnell.edu\]](mailto:PoliSciSearch@grinnell.edu) or 641-269-3173.

Grinnell College is committed to establishing and maintaining a safe and nondiscriminatory educational environment for all College community members. It is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination in matter of admission, employment, and housing, and in access to and participation in its education programs, services, and activities. The college does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, religion, disability, creed, or any other protected class.

An offer for this position will be contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/1/2021

Date Posted: 12/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8442

Jobelephant.com

Rank: Senior Director & Endowed Chair - Center for Constitutional Studies

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Senior Director & Endowed Chair - Center for Constitutional Studies

Position Category: Staff - Full-Time

Summary:

Under the general supervision of the University Provost, the Center for Constitutional Studies Director and David & Laurea Stirling Endowed Chair (D&EC) is responsible for the operational and scholarly activities of the Center for Constitutional Studies (CCS). This position will be instrumental in helping to achieve important CCS priorities, including advancement of established mission and initiatives, fundraising, and outreach with education, government, and business partners. In collaboration with UVU Institutional Advancement (IA) and CCS colleagues, this position will establish fundraising goals and strategies and raise operating funds from private and organizational donors. This position will write, co-write, or support the writing of internal, private, and government grant applications and oversee sponsored research programs. This position will be personally involved in promoting involvement in the Quill Project, a joint effort between Pembroke College (Oxford) and CCS.

This position will develop and publish original scholarly work and present scholarship both on and off campus. They will teach courses in constitutional studies, supervise CCS student research projects, including work with the Oxford Quill Project, and mentor CCS student researchers and post-undergraduate research fellows in the pursuit of graduate studies and academic careers. They will collaborate with colleagues and UVU faculty to develop undergraduate curriculum and will also work with CCS colleagues and the School of Education to create a constitutional studies graduate program and curriculum while engaging with teachers and leaders in K-12 education to create and implement K-12 constitutional studies curriculum. While the position will not be a tenured position in a department, this could be pursued based on the applicant's qualifications and university needs and resources

This individual will advance UVU's reputation by helping to bring scholars and speakers to campus through conferences and guest lecturer series, working to better publicize the success of UVU faculty, CCS fellows, and students, and building intellectual community by fostering discussion between centers and UVU departments. This individual is expected to be in residence at Utah Valley University for the duration of the appointment and may not be employed by another institution during that time.

To learn more about the position, visit: <https://www.uvu.edu/ccs/sdecinfo/>

The Center for Constitutional Studies at Utah Valley University was established in September 2011. The Center is a nonpartisan academic institute that promotes the instruction, study, and research of constitutionalism. It employs a multidisciplinary approach to effectively equip a new generation of citizens and leaders with a broad understanding of political thought and economic and political practices critical to the perpetuation of constitutional government, ordered liberty, and the rule of law.

To learn more about the Center, visit: <https://www.uvu.edu/ccs>

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

Required Qualifications:

JD or PhD in a relevant field; established record of scholarship and/or professional practice in Constitutional Law, Constitutional History, or Public Law; experience teaching at the undergraduate or graduate level; leadership experience; and understanding of the fundraising process.

Knowledge, Skills and Abilities:

Knowledge:

- Demonstrated knowledge of constitutional law and constitutional history, including knowledge of constitutional issues found at the intersections of political thought, public policy, religion, law, history, or economics
- Demonstrated knowledge of the scholarly research and publication process or the legal research and drafting process
- Demonstrated knowledge of successful teaching strategies for students with diverse backgrounds
- Knowledge of organizational dynamics and administration
- Demonstrated knowledge of effective interpersonal communication and engagement
- Knowledge of productive individual and organizational fundraising practices

Skills:

- Demonstrated skills in producing scholarly work and publications
- Proven record, or demonstrated potential, for excellence in program building and curriculum development
- Experience teaching courses in constitutional law, constitutional history, public law, or civics
- Skills in mentoring students
- Demonstrated leadership and administrative skills
- Experience navigating complex organizations and developing and maintaining partnerships
- Demonstrated skills in working well with senior administrators and internal and external constituencies
- Excellent oral and written communication skills
- Skills in fundraising (individual and organizational) and enhancement of program reputation

Abilities:

- Ability to effectively engage diverse constituents, including students, university administrators, donors, faculty, and government officials
- Demonstrated ability to build relationships with partner programs and to create collaborative networks at UVU and nation-wide
- Ability to publicly address complicated and/or sensitive legal and political issues while avoiding opprobrium or polemics
- Ability to operate in a complex campus environment and to cooperate with campus colleagues in an engaged learning environment that welcomes students from a diverse background
- Ability to enhance UVU's strong teaching reputation through instruction, curriculum development, close mentoring, and open and constant communication with students
- Ability to employ a multidisciplinary approach to effectively equip a new generation of citizens and leaders with a broad understanding of the Constitution critical to the perpetuation of the constitutional rule of law and ordered liberty
- Ability to analyze and interpret financial data and prepare financial reports, statements, and/or projections
- Ability to exercise interpersonal, problem-solving, and decision-making skills and to effectively apply general principles to specific conditions
- Ability to supervise and train employees, to include organizing, prioritizing, and scheduling work assignments

Preferred Qualifications:

Publications in peer reviewed journals or experience drafting appellate briefs on constitutional issues; multiple years of teaching experience; experience raising funds from private donors and through grant writing; experience effectively engaging internal and external constituents; experience working at or with an academic center; and experience leading an organization.

Physical Requirements:

This job performs work in a typical office setting.

Benefits Summary:

UVU offers an excellent benefits package which includes a generous leave policy, 12 paid holidays, affordable medical and dental insurance options, life and AD&D insurance, tuition waiver (undergraduate resident) for employee and dependents and substantial employer contribution to a retirement plan.

FLSA: Exempt

Pay Range: DOQ

Advertisement Number: STA58020

Open Date: 11/30/2020

Review Start Date: 12/22/2020

Close Date:

Open Until Filled: Yes

Special Instructions to Applicant:

To apply, visit: <https://apptrkr.com/2105130>

Employment decisions are made on the basis of an applicant's qualifications and ability to perform the job without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, age (40 and over), disability, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, or pregnancy-related conditions, genetic information, or other bases protected by applicable federal, state, or local law.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-cac6912dad7ec4c9a5cf3696734743b>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8440

Loyola University, Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor

The School of Environmental Sustainability at Loyola University Chicago seeks qualified candidates for a 9-month, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in environmental policy. Preference will be given to candidates who specialize in policy as it relates to the intersection of social equity and environmental sustainability, particularly in the areas of our research affinity groups: climate change, water, environmental health, food systems, and/or biodiversity. The SES seeks to diversify its faculty and encourages underrepresented minorities, women, and people with disabilities to apply. This position builds on the School's interdisciplinary strengths in addressing society's vexing environmental challenges through research, teaching, and service.

<https://www.careers.luc.edu/postings/14709>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8438

William & Mary

Rank: Lecturer of Public Policy

The Public Policy Program at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, invites applications for a 9 month, non-tenure-track lecturer position that will begin August 10, 2021. We seek an individual with expertise in public policy, either from a theoretical or applied perspective, to teach introductory level courses for undergraduates as well as intermediate and advanced levels that align with the candidate's interests and serve undergraduate (B.A. Public Policy) and Master in Public Policy (MPP) students. The position carries a 3-3 teaching load and successful candidates will have a commitment to high quality teaching. We will consider candidates with a graduate degree in Public Policy, Political Science, or Economics or candidates from other disciplines with significant professional experience in the field of public policy. We require candidates with a Ph.D. at the time appointment begins.

Required: Ph.D. degree in Public Policy, Political Science, or Economics or candidates from other disciplines with significant professional experience in the field of public policy at the time appointment begins. Preferred: Previous academic teaching experience is preferred.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, and a statement describing previous professional experience or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, February 1, 2021. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed and the position will remain open until filled. Information on the Public Policy Program may be found at <http://www.wm.edu/as/publicpolicy/>.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8437

State Higher Education Executive Officers Association

Rank: Policy Analyst

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Non-Academic

SHEEO Position Announcement: Policy Analyst

Located in our Boulder, Colorado office

Position Description:

The State Higher Education Executive Officers Association (SHEEO) seeks a policy analyst to support our efforts to perform policy evaluation and contribute to the knowledge base that our member agencies and offices rely upon. The ideal candidate for this position will be enthusiastic about state policy in higher education and how policy can be used to improve equity and outcomes for all students, have strong research skills, and understand how data can inform policy and practice.

SHEEO serves the chief executives of statewide governing, policy, and coordinating boards of postsecondary education and their staffs. Founded in 1954, SHEEO promotes an environment that values higher education and its role in ensuring the equitable education of all Americans, regardless of race/ethnicity, gender, or socioeconomic factors. Together with its members, SHEEO aims to achieve this vision by equipping state higher education executive officers and their staffs with the tools to effectively advance the value of higher education, promoting public policies and academic practices that enable all Americans to achieve success in the 21st century, and serving as an advocate for state higher education leadership. For more information, visit www.sheeo.org.

Key Responsibilities:

SHEEO is seeking diverse applicants who are qualified to:

- Use data to create actionable, policy-relevant insights for state systems of higher education.
- Leverage statistical software packages to create reproducible analyses and accompanying data visualizations, descriptive tables, and trend comparisons.
- Identify and promote best policies and practices related to closing equity gaps in higher education.
- Communicate empirical findings to non-technical audiences through presentations, reports, white papers, and policy briefs.
- Develop and maintain knowledge regarding current activities and future trends in public higher education.
- Represent SHEEO at state, regional, and national meetings and conferences.
- Respond to information requests and provide other member services.
- Other duties as assigned.

Required Experience and Qualifications:

- A master's degree in a relevant field or at least two years of experience in a role that requires similar skills.
- Experience managing and working with data from a variety of higher education and related sources (e.g., IPEDS, ACS, BLS, etc.).
- Fluency in advanced statistical software packages (e.g., Stata, R, Python).
- Ability to establish priorities and coordinate work on multiple projects simultaneously.
- Strong written and verbal communication skills.
- An identifiable commitment to advancing equity and student success in higher education.
- Experience collaborating with others on empirical research projects.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ability to work with large administrative datasets efficiently and accurately.
- Experience conducting rigorous education, social science, public policy, or related research.
- Strong Stata skills.
- Experience working with student-level data.
- Enthusiasm and curiosity for state higher education policy and the data used to inform policy-related conversations.

Salary:

Salary will be commensurate with the successful candidate's level of education and experience. SHEEO provides excellent staff benefits.

Term:

This is a two-year contract position. Contract may be renewed or extended at the end of the two-year term.

Application Process:

Please apply by email to dszczesny@sheeo.org and include the following:

1. A letter describing how you meet the position's requirements addressed to Dr. David Tandberg, SHEEO, 3035 Center Green Drive, #100, Boulder, CO 80301.
2. Résumé or curriculum vitae.
3. Names and contact information of three professional references. (References will not be contacted until you have given permission for us to do so.)

Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but full consideration will be given to those received by January 22, 2021. This position is based in Boulder, Colorado. SHEEO is committed to providing equal employment opportunities and believes that recruiting and developing a diverse and inclusive staff is vital to the organization's success.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8421

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Global Public Policy and Political Economy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2021. We seek a colleague with research and teaching expertise in global public policy and political economy. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department's NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) faculty and teach in the MPA program, contributing to our new focused area of study Global Affairs & Security. In addition, the hire will offer courses appropriate for students majoring in Economics and Political Science. Interest in contributing to the Department's graduate quantitative methods course sequence will be looked upon favorably. A Ph.D. in political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field is required by the start date. The successful candidate will have an active and promising research agenda that examines public policy and political economy broadly defined to include such global issues as human security, sustainable development, climate change, health economics, among others.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/47459> and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to Global Public Policy & Political Economy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. All interviews will be conducted using audio/visual technology due to travel restrictions. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8419

Wartburg College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science – American Politics and Policy Emphasis

STARTING DATE: Fall 2021

DEADLINE: Screening of applications begins February 1, 2021 and continues until position is filled.

QUALIFICATIONS: Ph.D. in Political Science or closely-related field (completed by September 1, 2021), evidence of successful college teaching experience in political science and/or policy, ability to develop and teach a broad offering of courses in American politics and policy, promise of continued scholarly activity, and the ability to engage undergraduates in research and practice activities.

RESPONSIBILITIES: Primary teaching responsibilities include teaching seven courses (3-3-1) in the academic year including American-oriented courses such as American Politics, Presidency, Congress and the Judiciary, Political Behavior, Policy Administration, etc., course(s) contributing to the Wartburg Plan of Essential Education curriculum, and new course(s) development either in National Security Studies or in area of specialization. The successful candidate will also mentor student research projects, advise program majors and minors, and engage in scholarship and service appropriate to the liberal arts setting.

SALARY: Competitive

CONTRACT: Nine-month, contract; tenure track.

APPLICATION: Submit a letter of application addressing qualifications and how these will support the distinctive mission and institutional learning outcomes of Wartburg College, updated curriculum vitae, statement of teaching philosophy, three letters of reference, unofficial graduate transcripts, and transcripts of publications/ presentations, if available, to hr@wartburg.edu. For specific inquiries contact Dr. Shaheen Munir, Chair of the Department of Social Sciences at 319-352-8458, shaheen.munir@wartburg.edu. For further information about the college and the city of Waverly, see <http://www.wartburg.edu>.

WARTBURG COLLEGE is a selective liberal arts college of the ELCA, nationally recognized for community engagement. As an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution, Wartburg College actively seeks applications from members of underrepresented ethnic and minority groups.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Date Posted: 12/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8423

University College London

Rank: Lecturer / Associate Professor in British and Comparative Politics,

UCL Department / Division Political Science

Specific unit / Sub department School of Public Policy

Location of position London

Grades 8-9

Hours Full Time

Salary: Grade 8 £44,737 - £52,764 per annum or Grade 9 £57,342 - £62,346 per annum. Plus £8,000 per annum Market Supplement

Duties and Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy at UCL is seeking to fill a position in British and Comparative Politics, either at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level (equivalent to tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor U.S. positions). The successful candidate will have research expertise in British and comparative political institutions and constitutions. This could include, for example, legislatures, judicial politics, territorial politics/devolution, the executive and civil service, institutions of public participation (electoral systems, referendums, citizens' assemblies).

The successful candidate will be expected to join and contribute to the work of the Constitution Unit, both intellectually and organisationally. More information about the Constitution Unit can be found below, and at <https://www.ucl.ac.uk/constitution-unit/>.

The successful candidate will contribute to the Department's undergraduate and post-graduate teaching programmes, including core modules (e.g. British Politics). Candidates may also be expected to deliver a new module within their area of expertise (determined in conjunction with Departmental needs).

Candidates must indicate whether they are applying at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level. We especially welcome applications from candidates from under-represented backgrounds, and from candidates using a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches.

This is an open ended post and will commence on 1st September 2021. Key Requirements

The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or related subject (candidates nearing completion may be considered).

Evidence of proven ability or potential for academic research of internationally-recognised calibre, experience of teaching in British Politics or related modules at undergraduate or postgraduate level and excellent knowledge of relevant academic literatures is essential.

Experience of conducting research that feeds into policy-making or other forms of real-world impact is desirable to be appointed at Lecturer level and essential to be appointed to Associate Professor level.

Candidates seeking to be appointed at the Associate Professor (Grade 9) level are expected to demonstrate a publication record commensurate with the Associate Professor level; have made a substantial contribution to the advancement of their discipline through research; and demonstrate evidence of excellence in education including designing and delivering modules to a high standard.

Further Details

A job description and person specification can be accessed at the bottom of this page.

To apply for the vacancy please click on the 'Apply Now' button below.

When applying please include a CV and a cover letter which should include a statement of research and teaching interests. Please do not submit any papers at this stage as they will not be looked at.

Further information on the Department of Political Science, including research clusters and teaching programmes, is available on our website (<http://www.ucl.ac.uk/political-science>).

For informal enquiries please contact Professor Ben Lauderdale (email: b.lauderdale@ucl.ac.uk).

For queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel (email: polsci.staffing@ucl.ac.uk; phone: 020 7679 4944).

We encourage applications from those who are underrepresented in the sector and at UCL including but, not exclusive, to disabled, D/deaf and neurodiverse people, LGBTQ+ people, people from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds, especially women.

UCL Taking Action for Equality

We will consider applications to work on a part-time, flexible and job share basis wherever possible.

Closing Date 22 Jan 2021

Latest time for the submission of applications 23.59

Interview date TBC

Our department is working towards an Athena SWAN award. We are committed to advancing gender equality within our department. This appointment is subject to UCL Terms and Conditions of Service for Academic Staff.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8413

University College London

Rank: Lecturer / Associate Professor in Comparative Politics x 2

Location of position London

Grades-8-9

Hours-Full Time

Salary

Grade 8 £44,737 - £52,764 per annum

Grade 9 £57,342 - £62,346 per annum.

Plus £8,000 per annum Market Supplement

Duties and Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy at UCL is seeking to fill two (2) positions in Comparative Politics, either at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level (equivalent to tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor U.S. positions). The successful candidate will have research expertise in one or more of the following areas:

Politics of minoritized groups/people; politics of race/racism; politics of gender; politics of sexuality; politics of group-based inequalities
Authoritarian politics and/or democratic backsliding (in any context or region and with the ability to speak to European politics or institutions)

Chinese and/or Asian politics

The successful candidate will contribute to the Department's undergraduate and post-graduate teaching programmes, including core modules. Candidates may also be expected to deliver a new module within their area of expertise (determined in conjunction with Departmental needs).

Candidates must indicate whether they are applying at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level. We especially welcome applications from candidates from under-represented backgrounds, and from candidates using a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches.

This is a permanent post that will commence on 1st September 2021.

Key Requirements

The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or related subject (candidates nearing completion may be considered).

Evidence of proven ability or potential for academic research of internationally-recognised calibre, experience of teaching in Comparative Politics, Democracy and Authoritarianism or related modules at undergraduate or postgraduate level and an excellent knowledge of relevant academic literatures is essential.

Candidates seeking to be appointed at the Associate Professor (Grade 9) level are expected to demonstrate a publication record commensurate with the Associate Professor level; have made a substantial contribution to the advancement of their discipline through research; and demonstrate evidence of excellence in education including designing and delivering modules to a high standard.

Further Details

A job description and person specification can be accessed at the bottom of this page.

When applying please include a CV and a cover letter which should include a statement of research and teaching interests. Please do not submit any papers at this stage as they will not be looked at.

Further information on the Department of Political Science, including research clusters and teaching programmes, is available on our website (<http://www.ucl.ac.uk/political-science>).

For informal enquiries please contact Professor Ben Lauderdale (email: b.lauderdale@ucl.ac.uk).

For queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel (email: polsci.staffing@ucl.ac.uk; phone: 020 7679 4944).

We encourage applications from those who are underrepresented in the sector and at UCL including but, not exclusive, to disabled, D/deaf and neurodiverse people, LGBTQ+ people, people from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds, especially women.

UCL Taking Action for Equality

We will consider applications to work on a part-time, flexible and job share basis wherever possible.

Closing Date- 22 Jan 2021

Latest time for the submission of applications 23.59
Interview date TBC

Our department is working towards an Athena SWAN award. We are committed to advancing gender equality within our department.

Start Date: Winter 2020
Date Posted: 12/17/2020
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8408

University College London

Rank: Lecturer / Associate Professor in International Relations x 2,

Location of position - London

Hours- Full Time

Salary Grade 8 £44,737 - £52,764 per annum or Grade 9 £57,342 - £62,346 per annum. Plus £8,000 per annum Market Supplement Duties and Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy at UCL is seeking to fill two (2) positions, either at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level (equivalent of a U.S. tenure-track Assistant / Associate Professor position). The successful candidate will have research expertise in International Relations (International Organisations, International Political Economy, or International Security).

We particularly welcome applicants with teaching and research interests in areas related to climate/the environment, foreign aid/sustainable development, international and intrastate conflict, and international finance. The successful candidate will also contribute to the teaching of core modules in the Department's undergraduate and postgraduate teaching programmes (e.g. International Conflict and Cooperation, International Organisations, International Peace and Security, International Public Policy, Violent and Non-Violent Conflict).

Candidates must indicate whether they are applying at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level. We welcome applications from candidates from under-represented backgrounds. We also welcome applications from candidates using a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches.

This is an open ended appointment which will commence on the 1st September 2021.

Key Requirements

The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or related subject (candidates nearing completion may be considered).

Proven ability to undertake high-quality academic research of internationally-recognised calibre, experience of teaching in International Conflict and Cooperation, International Organisations, International Peace and Security, International Public Policy, Violent and Non-Violent Conflict or related modules at undergraduate or postgraduate level and an excellent knowledge of relevant academic literatures is essential.

Candidates seeking to be appointed at the Associate Professor (Grade 9) level are expected to demonstrate a publication record commensurate with the Associate Professor level; have made a substantial contribution to the advancement of their discipline through research; and demonstrate evidence of excellence in education including designing and delivering modules to a high standard.

Further Details

A job description and person specification can be accessed at the bottom of this page.

To apply for the vacancy please click on the 'Apply Now' button below.

When applying please include a CV and a cover letter which should include a statement of research and teaching interests. Please do not submit any papers at this stage as they will not be looked at.

Further information on the Department of Political Science, including research clusters and teaching programmes, is available on our website (<http://www.ucl.ac.uk/political-science>).

For informal enquiries please contact Professor Kristin Bakke (email: kmbakke@ucl.ac.uk).

For queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel (email: polsci.staffing@ucl.ac.uk; phone: 020 7679 4944).

We encourage applications from those who are underrepresented in the sector and at UCL including but, not exclusive, to disabled, D/deaf and neurodiverse people, LGBTQ+ people, people from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds, especially women.

UCL Taking Action for Equality

We will consider applications to work on a part-time, flexible and job share basis wherever possible.

Closing Date - 22 Jan 2021

Latest time for the submission of applications 23.59
Interview date TBC

Our department is working towards an Athena SWAN award. We are committed to advancing gender equality within our department.

This appointment is subject to UCL Terms and Conditions of Service for Academic Staff.

Start Date:
Date Posted: 12/17/2020
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8410

University College London

Rank: Lecturer / Associate Professor in Public Policy x 2

Lecturer / Associate Professor in Public Policy x 2, - Ref:1873856

Click here to go back to search results

UCL Department / Division Political Science

Specific unit / Sub department School of Public Policy

Location of position London

Grades 8-9

Hours Full Time

Salary: Grade 8 £44,737 - £52,764 per annum or Grade 9 £57,342 - £62,346 per annum. Plus £8,000 per annum Market Supplement Duties and Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy at UCL is seeking to fill two (2) positions in Public Policy, either at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level (equivalent to tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor U.S. positions). We welcome applications from candidates from any disciplinary background (e.g. political science, public policy, economics, social policy, or health policy among others) with research expertise in any one of the following areas:

- Behavioural public policy
- Policy impact & evaluation
- Policy design and change
- Policy implementation

Expertise in a specific policy domain (e.g. health care/healthsystems; climate, energy, & environment; education; social work; social care; artificial intelligence; housing & development; or communication, media, & privacy policy) is desirable. We also welcome applications from scholars undertaking comparative or international public policy research.

The successful candidate will contribute to the Department's undergraduate and post-graduate teaching programmes, including core modules (e.g. Policymaking; Politics & Policy in Practice). Candidates may also be expected to deliver a new module within their area of expertise (determined in conjunction with Departmental needs).

Candidates must indicate whether they are applying at the Lecturer or Associate Professor level. We especially welcome applications from candidates from under-represented backgrounds, and from candidates using a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches.

This is an open ended post that will commence on 1st September 2021.
Key Requirements

The successful candidate must have a PhD in Public Policy or related subjects (e.g. Political Science, Health Policy, Economics, Social Policy); (candidates nearing completion may be considered).

Evidence of proven ability or potential for academic research of internationally-recognised calibre, experience of teaching in public policy or related modules at undergraduate or postgraduate level and excellent knowledge of relevant academic literatures is essential.

Experience of conducting research that feeds into policy-making or other forms of real-world impact is desirable when appointed at Lecturer level and essential when appointed at Associate Professor level.

Candidates seeking to be appointed at the Associate Professor (Grade 9) level are expected to demonstrate a publication record commensurate with the Associate Professor level; have made a substantial contribution to the advancement of their discipline through research; and demonstrate evidence of excellence in education including designing and delivering modules to a high standard.

Further Details

A job description and person specification can be accessed at the bottom of this page.

To apply for the vacancy please click on the 'Apply Now' button below.

When applying please include a CV and a cover letter which should include a statement of research and teaching interests. Please do not submit any papers at this stage as they will not be looked at.

Further information on the Department of Political Science, including research clusters and teaching programmes, is available on our website (<http://www.ucl.ac.uk/political-science>).

For informal enquiries please contact Professor Jennifer Hudson (email: jennifer.hudson@ucl.ac.uk).

For queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel (email: polsci.staffing@ucl.ac.uk; phone: 020 7679 4944).

We encourage applications from those who are underrepresented in the sector and at UCL including but, not exclusive, to disabled, D/deaf and neurodiverse people, LGBTQ+ people, people from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds, especially women.

UCL Taking Action for Equality

We will consider applications to work on a part-time, flexible and job share basis wherever possible.

Closing Date 22 Jan 2021

Latest time for the submission of applications 23.59

Interview date - TBC

Our department is working towards an Athena SWAN award. We are committed to advancing gender equality within our department. This appointment is subject to UCL Terms and Conditions of Service for Academic Staff.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8412

University College London

Rank: Lecturer in Political Theory,

Location of position - London

Hours- Full Time

Salary - £44,737 - £52,764 per annum Plus £8,000 per annum Market Supplement

Duties and Responsibilities:

The Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy at UCL is seeking to fill one position as Lecturer in Political Theory (equivalent of a U.S. tenure-track Assistant Professor position). The successful candidate will have research expertise in areas related to ethics and public policy, environmental justice, racial justice, or gender justice.

The successful candidate will contribute to the Department's undergraduate and post-graduate teaching programmes, including core modules (e.g. Ethics and Public Policy and Foundations of Political Thought). Candidates may also be expected to deliver a new module within their area of expertise (determined in conjunction with Departmental needs).

We especially welcome applications from candidates from under-represented backgrounds, and from candidates using a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches.

This is an open ended post that will commence on 1st September 2021.
Key Requirements

The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or related subject (candidates nearing completion may be considered).

Evidence of proven ability or potential for academic research of internationally-recognised calibre, experience of teaching in contemporary political theory or related modules at undergraduate or postgraduate level and an excellent knowledge of relevant academic literatures is essential.

Further Details

A job description and person specification can be accessed at the bottom of this page.

To apply for the vacancy please click on the 'Apply Now' button below.

When applying please include a CV and a cover letter which should include a statement of research and teaching interests. Please do not submit any papers at this stage as they will not be looked at.

Further information on the Department of Political Science, including research clusters and teaching programmes, is available on our website (<http://www.ucl.ac.uk/political-science>).

Informal enquiries may be made to Professor Adam Swift (adam.swift@ucl.ac.uk).

If you have any queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel, Finance and Staffing Administrator to the Department of Political Science, School of Public Policy, (polsci.staffing@ucl.ac.uk).

We encourage applications from those who are underrepresented in the sector and at UCL including but, not exclusive, to disabled, D/deaf and neurodiverse people, LGBTQ+ people, people from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds, especially women.

UCL Taking Action for Equality

We will consider applications to work on a part-time, flexible and job share basis wherever possible.

Closing Date 22 Jan 2021

Latest time for the submission of applications 23:59

Interview date TBC

Our department is working towards an Athena SWAN award. We are committed to advancing gender equality within our department.

This appointment is subject to UCL Terms and Conditions of Service for Academic Staff.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8409

University College London

Rank: Professor of International Relations

Location of position London

Grade 10

Hours Full Time

Salary

(inclusive of London allowance) Competitive Salary

Duties and Responsibilities

The Department of Political Science/School of Public Policy at UCL is seeking to appoint a Professor of International Relations. We welcome applications from candidates with research and teaching interests in International Relations (e.g. state formation, conflict, political violence, peace-building, IPE, global governance, or cross-national human rights). The successful candidate will be a leading scholar with an outstanding research record, an ability to provide intellectual leadership and mentorship, and a commitment to high-quality teaching.

The successful candidate will make a significant contribution to the Department's research culture, environment, and international profile in line with UCL's strategic objectives and priorities. The new Professor will help to foster a vibrant intellectual culture, assisting in the mentoring and management of early-career researchers.

The successful candidate will contribute to the Department's undergraduate and postgraduate teaching programmes, including core modules within their area of expertise. Candidates will also be expected to deliver a new module within their area of expertise (determined in conjunction with Departmental needs).

We welcome applications from candidates from under-represented backgrounds. We also welcome applications from candidates using a wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches.

This is an open ended post which will commence on the 1st of September 2021.

Key Requirements

The successful candidate must have a PhD in Political Science or related subject.

A proven ability to undertake high-quality academic research, evidence of a research portfolio that is of an internationally-recognised calibre, evidence of experience fostering a vibrant intellectual culture and assisting in the mentoring and management of early-career researchers is essential.

Experience of teaching excellence at the undergraduate and/or post-graduate level and a demonstrated ability to win grant-funding is also essential.

Further Details

A job description and person specification can be accessed at the bottom of this page.

To apply for the vacancy please click on the 'Apply Now' button below.

When applying please include a CV and a cover letter which should include a statement of research and teaching interests. Please do not submit any papers at this stage as they will not be looked at.

Further information on the Department of Political Science, including research clusters and teaching programmes, is available on our website (<http://www.ucl.ac.uk/political-science>).

For informal enquiries please contact Professor Jennifer Hudson (email: jennifer.hudson@ucl.ac.uk).

For informal enquiries and queries regarding the vacancy or the application process, please contact Ajay Patel (email: polsci.staffing@ucl.ac.uk; phone: 020 7679 4944).

We encourage applications from those who are underrepresented in the sector and at UCL including but, not exclusive, to disabled, D/deaf and neurodiverse people, LGBTQ+ people, people from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds, especially women.

The UCL Ways of Working for professional services supports colleagues to be successful and happy at UCL through sharing expectations around how we work – please see www.ucl.ac.uk/ways-of-working to find out more.

UCL Taking Action for Equality

We will consider applications to work on a part-time, flexible and job share basis wherever possible.

Closing Date- 22 Jan 2021

Latest time for the submission of applications 23:59

Interview date TBC

Our department is working towards an Athena SWAN award. We are committed to advancing gender equality within our department. This appointment is subject to UCL Terms and Conditions of Service for Academic Staff.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 12/17/2020

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8411

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Position in Governance & Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in Governance and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all areas of the field (e.g. public policy, public administration, policy analysis), and we especially welcome applications from candidates with Asia-related research programmes. Candidates should submit (a) a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests; (b) updated curriculum vitae; (c) publications or other writing samples; (d) three letters of recommendation; and (e) teaching evaluations and materials if available. We will begin to review applications on 31 January 2021 and continue until the search process is complete. Applications should be submitted to the Chair of the Search Committee at <https://careers.nus.edu.sg/NUS/job/Assistant-Professor/3509444/>

The teaching load is three modules per academic year. Compensation is highly competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support.

The Department of Political Science (<https://fass.nus.edu.sg/pol/>) has a strong faculty of about twenty-five scholars working in all major areas of political science. Faculty and students can also take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Yale-NUS College, and various research institutes, including the Asia-Europe Foundation and the Institutes of South Asian and Southeast Asian Studies as well as other parts of the University. NUS (<http://www.nus.edu.sg/>) is a leader in research and higher education in Asia and is located in a thriving and livable global city.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 12/15/2020

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 8402

Stanford University

Rank: 2021-2022 China Policy Fellowship

Specializations: China, East Asia, United States

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC) is pleased to announce its new China Policy Fellowship, which will bring to Stanford leading professionals and scholars from Asia and the United States to engage in research on contemporary China affairs and/or U.S.-China policy, with the broad aim of strengthening U.S.-China relations. Candidates should be mid-career to senior-level experts with extensive research experience and influence in the policy-making process. The fellowship is hosted by APARC's China Program, whose mission is to facilitate multidisciplinary, social science-oriented research on contemporary China, with a dual emphasis on basic and policy-relevant research.

In addition to regularly participating in APARC's and the China Program's activities, the China Policy Fellow will undertake original research in his/her area of expertise and will also play a lead role in organizing a major conference at Stanford on a topic of prominence on the U.S.-China policy agenda. It is expected that each fellow's work and annual conference will result in a published product such as a book, a policy brief, a report, or a collection of conference proceedings. The China Policy Fellow is expected to be in residence full time at Stanford.

Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2021-22 academic year. The China Policy Fellow will be provided a monthly stipend to be dispersed over the 9-month appointment period totaling $72,000. This position is not benefits-eligible.

Application Deadline: February 15, 2021

Eligibility: Mid-career to senior-level candidates

Required Application Materials, in PDF Format:

- Curriculum vitae
- Two (2) letters of recommendation
- A short research statement (not to exceed 1,000 words) that describes the research to be undertaken including the topic, methodology, and contribution to the field.

To apply and for more information, please visit: <https://stanford.io/31PwSCp>

Please address all questions to:

Callista Wells?

Program Coordinator, China Program?

Shorenstein APARC?Stanford University?

Encina Hall E301?

Stanford, CA 94305-6055

(650) 724-9632?

cwells@stanford.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/15/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8387

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track

The Public Policy and Political Economy Program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for tenure-system assistant professor positions in International Political Economy and Global Health Policy.

The successful candidate for the Global Health position will have a PhD in a public policy or public health-related field. The area of specialization within Global Health Policy is open, but candidates research agenda should explicitly focus on the international/cross-country dimension of global health. Research topics of interest include, but are not limited to, global pandemic analysis, big data health informatics, climate change, air pollution and disaster prevention, global health politics and health systems, health care accessibility and disparity, and health care interventions and policy making across global, national, and subnational/local scales. The selected candidate will also possess very strong collaborative and organizational skills based on experiences working with diverse international communities through partnerships on health issues. Working in close collaboration with the local research community, including UT Southwestern Medical Center, is highly encouraged. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

The department's faculty includes multiple winners of internal and external teaching awards. The candidate is expected to incorporate best practices as identified by the scholarship on teaching and learning into her/his pedagogical approach. The successful candidate will be expected to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. Faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 39th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities – Very High Research Activity."

Applicants should upload a letter of application; current curriculum vitae; a sample of written work; statements of teaching and research philosophy; instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Additional questions for the Global Health position may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Dohyeong Kim (dohyeong-kim@utdallas.edu)

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/14/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8399

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in the area of Public Administration with a specialization in Public Management or Public Policy. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2021.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI's mission is to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance." Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Applicants will be expected to teach graduate-level political science courses in the area of Public Management or Public Policy that serve as requirements for an online Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree with online graduate certificates in Policy Analysis and Public Management. Applicants will also teach undergraduate political science courses on Public Administration, Public Management, Public Policy, and other areas of expertise.

Expected to publish original research in the field of Public Administration and Public Policy, support the governance and administration of an MPA program that is preparing to begin the process of NASPAA-accreditation, work with diverse populations, and advise students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

- 1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2021, in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy.
- 2) Primary or secondary specialization in the area of Public Management or a specialized public policy-related field.
- 3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience.
- 4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching graduate-level MPA courses in at least two of the following: Seminar in Public Administration and Policy, Ethics in Public Administration and Policy, Public Personnel Management, Public Budgeting and Finance, Public Policy, or other Public Management courses.
- 5) Demonstrated ability to teach undergraduate political science courses in at least one of the following areas: Public Administration, Public Management, or Public Policy.
- 6) Evidence of research in the field of Public Administration or Public Policy with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.
- 7) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- 1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: ethics in public administration or policy, performance management, representative bureaucracy, leadership, information and technology management, local government management, specific policy-related fields, or race and inequality.
- 2) Evidence of online instruction or extensive training in online pedagogy.
- 3) Ability to teach on race, gender, or inequality.
- 4) Experience advising students or ability to oversee a robust internship program.

The application deadline is January 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/7600>

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online application:

- 1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position.
- 2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document).

3) A brief research and teaching statement (as one complete pdf document).

4) "Other Document" - A statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion reflecting on URI's mission to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance" (as one complete pdf document).

5) "Other" - If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work (Document is Optional).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/10/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8389

Duke University

Rank: Program Coordinator

The Triangle Institute for Security Studies (TISS) invites applicants for a Program Coordinator. TISS is a consortium of Duke University, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (UNC-CH), North Carolina State University (NCSU), and North Carolina Central University (NCCU), founded in 1958. Its mission is to enhance understanding of national and international security and build bridges across cultural and intellectual divides, and in particular, between the civilian and the military communities. Toward these ends, TISS fosters student engagement, high-impact scholarship, and public outreach on critical issues of national and international security.

The Program Coordinator will work directly with the faculty Directors of the Triangle Institute for Security Studies to plan and manage events; develop faculty research collaborations; seek external funding, including preparing grant applications; and broaden and diversify the Triangle Institute's engagement with core constituents. In addition, the Program Coordinator will be responsible for managing the Institute's finances, including tracking all income and expenditures, budgeting for key events, compiling expense and budget status reports, and preparing reports for external sponsors.

The position provides the opportunity to work closely with faculty and students at consortium universities, as well as with professionals in the military, intelligence, and national security fields. Dependent on candidate interests and qualifications, the Program Coordinator may have opportunities to pursue their own research on national and international security issues, participate in collaborative research projects, or teach a course at one of the consortium institutions. In addition, this role will provide access to academic resources and Duke University facilities, professional development opportunities, and office space at the Sanford School of Public Policy.

We seek candidates with a demonstrated interest in and understanding of national and international security issues, administrative experience, and strong interpersonal communication skills. A master's degree or Ph.D. in political science, history, public policy, or a related field preferred.

This position is  $\frac{3}{4}$  time (30 hours/week, flexible) and offers a competitive salary and benefits. The initial appointment is for two years with the possibility for renewal. The start date is negotiable, and could be as early as January 2021.

All applicants should apply to position number 77688 through the Duke Careers website <https://career4.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=77688&company=dukeuniverP1>. Applicants should also submit a CV or resume, letter of interest, and contact information for three references at https://duke.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV\_bwOFXnKZqymsYfz.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Applications will begin to be evaluated after 15 December 2020.

Please direct any further questions about this position to Dr. Kyle Beardsley (kyle.beardsley@duke.edu).

Start Date: Spring 2021

Date Posted: 12/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8372

Colorado State University

Rank: Public Policy and Administration Instructor

The Master of Public Policy and Administration (MPPA) program seeks applications throughout the year from individuals who are interested in obtaining temporary teaching positions within the program. The program provides instruction to graduate students. These Special Instructors are hired to teach courses in areas such as public administration, public policy, and research methods in public policy and administration. Interested applicants are encouraged to view the full description and apply at: <http://jobs.colostate.edu/postings/81398>

CSU is an EO/EA/AA employer and conducts background checks on all final candidates.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/4/2020

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8370

Innovations for Poverty Action

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow, Peace & Recovery

Specializations: Economic Policy, Africa, Latin American

This position can be based in any country or U.S. state where IPA has an office or is registered.

Innovations for Poverty Action (IPA) seeks to appoint a Postdoctoral Fellow to develop and conduct research and fieldwork as part of its Peace and Recovery (P&R) sector program.

IPA's Peace & Recovery Program (P&R) supports field experiments and related research in several broad areas:

Reducing social, political, and criminal violence and conflict
Reducing "fragility" (i.e. fostering state capability and institutions of order and decision-making)

Preventing, coping with, and recovering from crises (focusing on violent crime and conflict, but also including non-conflict humanitarian crises)

The program prioritizes studies that develop, illustrate, or test fundamental theories of peace, violence, and recovery, especially those that challenge common beliefs, pioneer innovative interventions, and produce evidence where little currently exists.

Our scope is wide. Types of violence studied include civil warfare; terrorism; state-supported violence and repression; crime (including homicide); ethnic and sectarian violence; other communal violence; and protests and other collective action. Studies of forces influencing the behavior of violent groups and organizations are also encouraged, including state actors, rebel or terror groups, organized crime, gangs, etc. Finally, related policy areas in scope include strategies or peace-building; nonviolent interventions; crime prevention; preventing or coping with forced displacement; and crisis prevention, response, and recovery.

The Postdoctoral Fellow will be expected to work with IPA country offices in order to develop their own research projects (either by themselves or in partnership with other Principal Investigators). The successful candidate will work closely with the P&R academic leads, Chris Blattman at the University of Chicago and Betsy Levy-Paluck at Princeton University, or other researchers depending on the specific topics of interest of the selected candidate, as well as the IPA community of researchers and research and policy staff. The Postdoctoral Fellowship is designed to pave the way for future careers in academic or public-sector roles. The location of the candidate can be jointly determined during the hiring process.

This is designed as a nine month fellowship. We hope to attract the very best candidates who are interested in academic positions. If you have an offer from such an academic institution, and are interested in this Postdoctoral Fellowship in order to build your research pipeline, we would be happy to support discussions with your home institution.

IPA is an equal opportunity employer, and we are committed to building a diverse workforce. As a result, we welcome applications from candidates with diverse backgrounds and identities

Responsibilities

The P&R Postdoctoral Fellow's responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Developing—including designing, staffing, and identifying funding for—new impact evaluations

- Managing and overseeing a portfolio of P&R projects

- Providing technical assistance on data collection, data management, and implementation

- Executing econometric and statistical analyses alongside other PIs

- Publishing academic and policy papers on results of projects, with other PIs

- Liaising closely with IPA staff, and supporting their engagements with various partners

- Identifying and forging partnerships with government ministries and agencies, international and national NGOs, and others in the development community that have interest in conducting randomized evaluations

- Organizing policy outreach opportunities

- Periodically presenting their research to IPA staff

Qualifications

Applications for this postdoctoral fellowship should meet the following criteria:

Education: Candidates should be on track to complete a PhD in economics, political science, public policy, psychology or a related discipline by June 2021, or have completed their PhD after April 2020

Significant training in and a strong technical understanding of economics and econometrics required

Experience conducting field research, and managing/contributing to randomized evaluations or other rigorous impact evaluations

Experience in managing teams and interacting with institutional partners strongly desired

Quantitative Skills: Knowledge of data management, econometrics, and use of STATA or other data analysis software

Communication Skills: Attention to detail and advanced writing and presentation skills for communicating policy lessons from academic papers in ways that policymakers understand. This requires clear, precise, non-technical writing, and creativity in presentation

Language: English fluency required

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/4/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8369

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science, one in Political Behaviour and one in Public Policy and Administration. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. We are open to all methodological approaches.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: <https://>

jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4200/0/283547/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-pb-and-ppa

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov.-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/15/2021

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8358

RAND Corporation

Rank: Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship (For Post-Doctoral Students and Junior Faculty Members)

The RAND Corporation is a research organization that develops solutions to public policy challenges to help make communities throughout the world safer and more secure, healthier and more prosperous. RAND’s research and analysis address issues that impact people everywhere, including security, health, education, sustainability, growth, and development. Headquartered in Santa Monica, California, RAND has approximately 1,950 people from more than 50 countries working in offices in North America, Europe, and Australia, with annual revenues of more than $357 million.

RAND is nonprofit, nonpartisan, and committed to the public interest. Our research is sponsored by government agencies, international organizations, and foundations. We rely on philanthropic support to pursue visionary ideas; address critical problems that are under-researched; and devise innovative approaches for solving acute, complex, or provocative policy challenges. RAND values objectivity and integrity in both its research processes and internal interactions. We emphasize a collegial environment that respects the contributions and dignity of all staff.

Position Description

The RAND Corporation is accepting applications for up to three Stanton Nuclear Security Fellows. The application deadline is January 19, 2021.

The Stanton Nuclear Security Fellows Program was created to stimulate the development of the next generation of thought leaders on nuclear security related topics by supporting interdisciplinary research that will advance policy-relevant understanding of the issues.

Fellows carry out a year-long period of independent research. During their RAND tenure, fellows are expected to produce policy-relevant studies that contribute to the general body of knowledge on nuclear security. Fellows are located at one of three U.S. RAND offices: Santa Monica, CA; Washington, DC; or Pittsburgh, PA. Doctoral students will receive a $50,000 stipend, post-doctoral fellows will receive an $80,000 stipend, and junior faculty fellows will receive a $110,000 stipend.

Qualifications

Preference will go to candidates who are post-doctoral students or tenure track junior faculty members. Doctoral students may be considered if they have a well-defined dissertation topic in the field of nuclear security and are enrolled in a widely recognized graduate program, and must include as part of their application at least three dissertation chapters (that have been approved by the candidate’s adviser for submission). Junior faculty at law schools or with a law degree as their terminal degree are eligible. Prior experience is broadly defined to include disciplines such as nuclear policy, security, engineering, physics, and related fields.

Education

Doctorate (JD, PhD, etc.)

Location

Santa Monica, CA, Pittsburgh, PA, Washington, DC

Apply

<https://www.rand.org/stanton>

For additional information, please contact:

Ms. Sarah Harting

RAND

1200 South Hayes Street

Arlington, VA 22202

United States of America

Email: Sarah\_Harting@rand.org

Telephone: (703) 413-1100, ext. 5675

RAND is an Equal Opportunity Employer—minorities/females/veterans/individuals with disabilities/sexual orientation/gender identity

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/3/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8365

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Polarization and Social Change Lab

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Communication, Political Behavior

Postdoctoral Research Associate: Polarization and Social Change Lab

Stanford’s Polarization and Social Change Lab (PI: Robb Willer) has an opening for a postdoctoral researcher, to begin in Fall of 2021. We seek an innovative, accomplished scholar who has, or expects, a PhD in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field and who has an interest in working in a problem-focused, multi-disciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

The Postdoctoral Associate will be responsible for co-designing and leading research projects in one or more of the following areas: political polarization; framing, messaging, and persuasion; political dimensions of inequality; social movement mobilization; and online political behavior. Expertise in any of a range of research methods is valued, with a particular emphasis on field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g., text analysis, social network analysis).

Mentorship Structure

The position will be supervised by Prof. Robb Willer and will involve collaborating with PhD students, post-docs, faculty, and staff affiliated with the lab. Mentorship of the Postdoctoral Associate will be structured according to research and professional interests.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that values rigorous inquiry and diverse perspectives, experiences, backgrounds, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange.

Required Qualifications:

Applicants should have or expect to have a PhD by September 1st, 2021.

Relevant research in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field.

Experience designing and carrying out rigorous research in one or several of the following areas: field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g., text analysis, social network analysis) Interest in working in a multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

Demonstrated excellence in written and oral communication.

Interest in communicating research findings to diverse audiences, including non-academic audiences.

Preferred Qualifications:

Intellectual creativity and innovation

Methodological rigor

Intellectual and practical autonomy

Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills

Required Application Materials:

CV

Statement of interest (maximum 1.5 pages)

2-3 attached writing samples

2 letters of reference (letters of reference should be submitted separately)

Stanford is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Important Info

Faculty Sponsor (Last, First Name): Willer, Robb

Stanford Departments and Centers: Sociology

Postdoc Appointment Term: 1 year with possibility of 2nd year renewal

Appointment Start Date: Fall 2021

Group or Departmental Website: <https://www.pascl.stanford.edu/>

How to Submit Application Materials: Interested candidates should submit the required application materials via the following link: <https://bit.ly/3ois29l>

Please contact Chrystal Redekopp at redekopp@stanford.edu with any additional questions.

Review of applications will begin January 21, 2021

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/2/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8355

Brown University

Rank: POSTDOCTORAL RESEARCH ASSOCIATE IN RACIAL INEQUALITY

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Public Administration

Specializations: United States, Housing, Race & Ethnic Politics

DESCRIPTION: Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Racial Inequality to be jointly shared by the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs and the Center for the Study of Race & Ethnicity in America. We seek a scholar with interests in racial inequality/structural racism in the post-1970s U.S. in areas such as: urban poverty, social and cultural theories of racism, gender, segregation, housing or welfare.

The successful candidate will teach one course per year in a Watson Institute related program, collaborate on the vision, design and implementation of CSREA programming related to his/her research areas each year on a key topic in contemporary racial inequality studies, and be expected to actively participate in the intellectual life of CSREA (including regular participation in the CSREA research seminar), the Watson Institute and the University as a whole.

QUALIFICATIONS: Scholars with a Ph.D. in Sociology, American Studies, Political Science, History, Social Theory, Ethnic Studies, African-American Studies or a related discipline in the Humanities or Social Sciences will be considered. Dissertation must be signed by June 30, 2021. Candidates must be untenured and within 5 years of Ph.D.

INSTRUCTIONS: Candidates should submit a letter of application, CV, writing sample (15-20 pp), a research statement (1 page), and the names and addresses of three referees through the Interfolio posting: <http://apply.interfolio.com/80616>.

Applications received by January 8th, 2021 will receive full consideration. Review of applications will begin immediately thereafter, and final notifications are expected to go out in March 2021. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective July 1, 2021, and is not renewable.

For more information, please visit:

<https://www.brown.edu/race> | <http://watson.brown.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/8/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8346

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship on the Future of Conflict (Empirical Studies of Conflict Project)

Specializations: Economic Policy, Environmental Policy, Political Economy

Postdoctoral Fellowship on the Future of Conflict (with Empirical Studies of Conflict Project).

The International Crisis Group (Crisis Group) and the Empirical Studies of Conflict Project (ESOC) seek applicants for a Postdoctoral Fellowship position. This position provides the opportunity to work closely with Crisis Group experts and ESOC academic researchers. The fellowship will entail empirical research, policy analysis, and engagement with policymakers to prevent, resolve or better manage deadly conflict. The fellow will contribute directly to Crisis Group reports. We are particularly interested in three thematic areas: the economic causes and consequences of conflict, the relationship between climate change and conflict, and the role of new technologies in conflict. We are open to geographic focuses on the countries/regions Crisis Group covers across Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America and the Middle East (see www.crisisgroup.org).

Once COVID-19 travel-related restrictions are lifted, the fellow will be primarily based in one of Crisis Group's offices in Brussels, DC, London or New York -- with travel as needed for the field research -- or in a Crisis Group regional office as appropriate based on geographic focus area. In addition, the fellow will regularly interact with ESOC members relevant to their research and actively collaborate with a multi-university team of scholars who are conducting cutting edge research on the causes and consequences of politically motivated conflict through the production, aggregation, and dissemination of high-resolution data on historical and current conflicts.

We seek candidates with exceptional potential to thrive in a demanding policy role while advancing their own cutting-edge research. Candidates should be on track to complete a PhD in economics, political science, public policy or a related discipline by June 2021, or have recently completed their PhD. Preference will be given to scholars with a successful track record of international field research and econometric analysis in the areas of political violence, governance, or development, and demonstrated experience and interest in policy analysis. Relevant language skills and regional experience will be taken into account.

Candidates should apply by January 1, 2021 through this website.

Your cover letter of no more than 3 pages, should address both regional and thematic interests, including expertise in one or more priority areas: the economic causes and consequences of conflict, the relationship between climate change and conflict, and the role of new technologies in conflict.

The start date is negotiable but no sooner than April 2021.

To apply, please visit:

<https://jobs.crisisgroup.org/o/postdoctoral-fellowship-on-the-future-of-conflict-with-empirical-studies-of-conflict-project>

Potential applicants unfamiliar with ESOC's research program are welcome to contact Professor Jacob N. Shapiro (jns@princeton.edu) and to visit <http://esoc.princeton.edu/> to learn more.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 1/1/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8341

University of Chicago

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher – Ethnicity/Race/Inequality

The Harris School of Public Policy seeks a postdoctoral researcher with interests related to ethnicity, race, inequality, and public policy. Applications from scholars with a background in economics, political science, psychology, sociology, public policy, or aligned fields are encouraged. Postdoctoral researchers work on independent research under a senior faculty member's guidance, teach 2 quarter-length courses per year, and participate in the academic life of the school (including attending workshops and seminars). The position of postdoctoral researcher at the rank of instructor is initially for a one-year, renewable term.

Candidates should have a demonstrated record of research achievement. Candidates are expected to complete their PhD by the appointment start date. To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio academic jobs board at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/81359>. Applicants must upload a: 1) cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) one writing sample; and 4) two letters of recommendation. Applicants may also submit optional documents such as a third letter of reference and/or an additional writing sample. Review of applications will begin on December 23, 2020. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2021.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8350

University of Houston

Rank: Open Rank Faculty

Please apply at the following link: <https://uh.edu/hobby/facultysearch/>

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) seeks to hire three tenured or tenure-track faculty members to begin in Fall 2021. Our school is new and we are growing. We are well-supported by UH and we are interested in applicants who will help chart the future of our school with fresh ideas, practical experience, and an interdisciplinary mindset. Our faculty include experts in theoretical, practical, and analytical disciplines associated with public policy and we seek to complement that collective expertise with the three new hires. The University of Houston is a Carnegie Designated Tier One Research University and is one of the most racially and ethnically diverse institutions in the nation.

Competitive candidates may have expertise in one or more of the following areas or in another foundational area of public policy or policymaking:

Philosophy or ethics of some area of public policy, including, but not limited to, education, energy, the environment, health, housing, immigration, or in a theoretical perspective such as race, gender, governance, or markets that cuts across and informs diverse policy areas.

Policy data formulation and analysis - Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and/or methodological interests are encouraged to apply.

Candidates with strong formal and methodological skill sets in areas including, but not limited to, data visualization, decision algorithms, GIS, natural language processing, network analysis, small area models, survey research methods, laboratory and/or field experiments, and probabilistic forecasts are of high interest.

Some core area of public policy and policymaking, including, but not limited to, education, energy, the environment, foreign economic policy, health, housing, immigration, public finance, voting, political institutions, political economy, social mobility, urban and community development, or other significant public policy areas.

In the selection process, the Hobby School will prioritize collaborative scholars who demonstrate their experience and desire to: (1) engage in nationally-recognized, interdisciplinary work on significant public policy issues, (2) are interested in working with diverse populations, and (3) demonstrate an eagerness to contribute to undergraduate and graduate education and student success.

To apply, please provide the following:

1. A Curriculum Vita
2. A Letter of Interest
3. Evidence of teaching effectiveness and commitment to mentoring students
4. A statement of research specialization and interests
5. Up to three representative papers
6. Three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation. Upon receiving applications, references may be contacted via the online application system to submit letters directly for junior applicants, but not for senior applicants (we will inform applicants prior to asking for letters in that case).

The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples and able to provide access to high-quality childcare spots at the University's Children's Learning Centers. The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and encourages minorities, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities to apply.

Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in the discipline and a scholarly record consistent with the rank is required.

Notes to Applicant: Official transcripts are required for a faculty appointment and will be requested upon selection of final candidate. All positions at the University of Houston are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check. Incomplete applications may not be considered.

Required Attachments by Candidate: Curriculum Vitae, Cover Letter/ Letter of Application, Research Statement, Publications, Evidence of Effective Teaching

Employee Status Regular/Benefits

Review of applications will begin December 1, 2020 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the search committee chair, James Granato, at jgranato@central.uh.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8351

University of Montreal

Rank: Assistant Professor in public administration and public policy

Le Département de science politique sollicite des candidatures pour un poste de professeure ou de professeur à temps plein au rang d'adjoind en administration et politiques publiques.

The Department of political science seeks candidates for a full-time, tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in public administration and public policy. For more details please consult: https://pol.umontreal.ca/public/FAS/science\_politique/Documents/5-Notre\_departement/FAS\_11-20\_8\_POL\_FR2v.pdf (bilingual document)

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: 1/5/2021

Date Posted: 12/1/2020

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 8343

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and collaborate on and develop projects related to immigration policy and health. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, data acquisition, data analysis, and interpretation of results. This fellow will join a team of researchers from IPL, the Stanford School of Medicine, Oregon Health & Science University, and the Duke School of Medicine to evaluate the effects of immigration and health policy on the intergenerational health of immigrant families.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research. Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families' location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second and third year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2021 and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17290> (ID17290). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Health).

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/20/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8315

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Data Science)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Data Science) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow with extensive experience and training in data science to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of digital tools related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the data scientist postdoc will be to lead data analysis for research projects and develop innovative digital tools related to immigration policy, programs, and services under the guidance of Professors Jens Hainmueller, David Laitin, and Jeremy Weinstein. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on data science, causal inference, machine learning, statistical analysis, and programming. For instance, the postdoc will help drive a global effort to support refugee integration by developing matching tools for various countries using machine learning. The post doc will also work on data analysis for projects examining the impacts of immigration related policies and programs. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects and tools related to immigration policy evaluation.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment, and postdocs will have the opportunity to develop new lab projects with other team members as well as join existing ongoing projects. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies and work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to work on independent research.

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible (no later than August 2021) and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science, statistics, computer science, or related program, with a preference for candidates who have demonstrated training and skills in both data analysis and programming. Previous experience conducting research on immigration issues is valued but not required.

She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, statistical inference and modeling, and machine learning. Experience or skills in data visualization and optimization methods are also highly valued.

In addition, she or he should also have significant programming experience. Proficiency in R is required. Experience working with a general-purpose programming language (e.g. Python, Java, C++) and/or with SQL is also a plus. Demonstrated ability to develop user-friendly digital tools, apps, or programs that leverage data and statistical methods in novel ways is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17288> (ID17288). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Data Science).

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8312

Lingnan University

Rank: Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor

Lingnan University, a distinctive liberal arts institution in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, is committed to the provision of quality whole-person education by combining the best of Chinese and Western liberal arts traditions. It strives to pursue excellence in teaching, learning, scholarship and community engagement. With three academic Faculties, it offers a wide range of undergraduate degree programmes in arts, business and social sciences. Lingnan's liberal arts education is characterised by a broad-based interdisciplinary curriculum with specialised disciplinary studies; close student-staff relationship; a vibrant residential campus; ample global learning opportunities; active community engagement and multifarious workplace experience. The School of Graduate Studies also offers postgraduate programmes up to doctoral level in various disciplines and provides professional education for the wider society. Applications are now invited for the following post:

Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science
(Post Ref.: 20/288/APSA)

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.LN.edu.hk/polsci/>) is committed to preparing students for a competitive and globalized working environment. The Department combines teaching and research in the governance and public policy of Hong Kong and China, international politics, and Asian international relations. It contributes with the Department of Applied Psychology, Department of Economics and Department of Sociology and Social Policy to the integrated Social Sciences Programme in the University, having embarked on a 4-year curriculum with a disciplinary major in political science. Applicants are recommended to visit the Departmental web site and Programme web site (<https://www.LN.edu.hk/socsc/bsocsc/>) for more information.

The Department is seeking to appoint a full-time Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor. The successful candidate must have research publications and teaching competence in Hong Kong politics and political economy covering at least three core areas: Hong Kong political system, institutions and structure; nature of political practice and governance; politics at the grassroots, in particular, political advocacy and social movements; and political economy with reference to domestic public policies and Mainland and global linkages.

Applicants should provide evidence of their substantial promise for research and publications and a statement of their current and future research as well as evidence of teaching effectiveness. The appointee will be expected to teach courses in Political Science through advanced undergraduate and graduate-level courses in their fields, and courses on Hong Kong politics, as appropriate.

General Requirements

Applicants should have a PhD degree in Political Science, with relevant teaching experience and a good research record. Applicants should have excellent communication and presentation skills. Administrative experience will be an advantage. The appointee is expected to have a strong commitment to teaching excellence and services to the Department and the University community, and to engage actively in quality research and publication.

Appointment

The conditions of appointment will be competitive. Remuneration will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. Fringe benefits include annual leave, medical and dental benefits, mandatory provident fund, gratuity and incoming passage and baggage allowance for the eligible appointee.

Appointments will normally be made on an initial contract of three years, which, subject to review and mutual agreement, may lead to longer-term appointments with possibility of consideration for substantiation.

Application Procedure

Applicants are invited to submit their applications and resumes at our online system <https://lingnan.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/4/home/requisition/35?c=lingnan>. Applicants should provide names and contact information of at least three referees to whom applicants' consent has been given for their providing references. Personal data collected will be used for recruitment purposes only.

We are an equal opportunities employer. Review of applications will start on 1 February 2021 and will continue until the post is filled. Qualified candidates are advised to submit their applications early for consideration.

The University reserves the right not to make an appointment for the post advertised, or to fill the post by invitation or by search. We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8293

Muhlenberg College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science at Muhlenberg College invites applications for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning August 2021. The successful candidate will have a primary interest in international relations and be able to offer courses that fit within the thematic areas around which the political science major at Muhlenberg is structured (<https://www.muhlenberg.edu/academics/polisci/thematicareasofstudy/details>) about our program are available on our website. Classes may include, for example, international relations theory, American foreign policy, national security policy, international law and policy, and introduction to international relations and comparative politics. We are especially interested in candidates who desire to work across subfield and disciplinary boundaries. We are open when it comes to regional expertise and welcome a variety of methodological and theoretical approaches.

Teaching responsibilities include three courses per semester. Faculty teaching hybrid and online courses benefit from the resources of our nationally-recognized Center for Digital Learning, which fosters inclusive learning and supports faculty and students in all aspects of online teaching, learning, and scholarship. Additionally, the Muhlenberg Center for Teaching and Learning offers a range of programs in support of faculty, including pedagogical workshops, support for meaningful classroom experimentation, and facilitated interdisciplinary collaboration. Visiting faculty enjoy access to all professional development resources provided by the College.

Ideal candidates will hold a PhD in Political Science or Public Policy by August 2021. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and working with students from all backgrounds (including first-generation students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ+, etc.).

To receive full consideration, applications must be received by January 31, 2021. Interested candidates should upload their completed applications to https://muhlenberg.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/MuhlenbergCareers/job/Ettinger-Building/Visiting-Assistant-Professor--Political-Science\_R0000419-1 Muhlenberg's Career Portal. Please include a cover letter describing your teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, sample teaching materials (e.g. sample syllabi, a statement describing potential courses, and/or a statement of teaching philosophy, and summaries of teaching evaluations if available), unofficial graduate transcripts, contact information for three professional references, and a separate statement describing how you will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in our department as well as contribute to the College's efforts to become a more diverse and inclusive community. For questions about this position, please email Lanetha Mathews-Schultz, department chair, at <mailto:mathews@muhlenberg.edu>.

Founded in 1848, Muhlenberg College is an independent, coeducational residential college of liberal arts and sciences located in Allentown, the third largest city in PA. As part of eastern Pennsylvania's scenic Lehigh Valley, Allentown is a diverse city of 122,000, located just 60 miles north of Philadelphia and 75 miles west of New York City. Along with Bethlehem and Easton, the region is home to a vibrant arts scene, a nationally unique parks system, and a rich blend of cuisine and diverse restaurants.

An equal opportunity employer, Muhlenberg College is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding faculty and staff from racial and ethnic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented in higher education. Please visit our https://www.muhlenberg.edu/diversityatmuhlenberg/Diversity & Inclusion page for additional information about Muhlenberg's commitment to inclusive excellence and the College's Diversity Strategic Plan.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/12/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8279

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior IT policy researcher

The postdoctoral track of the Center for Information Technology Policy Fellows Program is for people that have recently received a Ph.D. in fields such as computer science, sociology, economics, political science, psychology, public policy, information science, communication, philosophy, and other related technology policy disciplines.

In this application cycle, we especially welcome applicants with interests in: Artificial Intelligence (AI), Data Science, Blockchain, and Cryptocurrencies. Selected candidates will be appointed at the postdoctoral or more senior research rank.

These are typically 12-month appointments, commencing on or about September 1, 2021 and can be renewed for a second-year contingent on performance and continued funding. Fellows in the postdoctoral track are not required or expected to teach, but if they wish, they may have the option of teaching. Teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient course enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

For more information and to apply for this opportunity, please see our Fellows Page at <https://citp.princeton.edu/programs/fellows/>. CITP will begin reviewing applications in mid-December, 2020.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/14/2020

Date Posted: 11/12/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8280

Sewanee: The University of the South

Rank: Post-Doc in Public Policy

Specializations: Social Welfare, Environmental Policy, Urban Politics

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for a postdoctoral fellowship in American politics with a specialization in public policy to begin August 2021. The position is for one year, renewable for a second. The Department is also hiring for a postdoctoral position in political theory, so academic couples are welcome to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching. The teaching load is reduced to three courses per year, with a focus on pedagogical mentoring and development. New faculty members have opportunity for teaching mentoring through the Center for Teaching and designing community engagement curricula through collaboration with the Carnegie-recognized Office of Community Engagement. In addition to the ability to teach introductory courses in public policy, we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in their area of specialization (e.g., social welfare, criminal justice, environmental justice, public health, education, or urban policy) and connect them to our existing major concentrations.

The University of the South comprises a well-regarded College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. The University is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau.

The University of the South stands firmly for the principle that its employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have a right to be free from discrimination based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, pregnancy and childbirth, and genetic information. As required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or other protected categories in the educational programs or activities which it operates. This requirement of non-discrimination extends to admission to and employment in those programs or activities. The University is committed to sustaining a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Key to this value are efforts to nurture an environment of civility and mutual respect and to foster a culture of reporting concerns so that the University can respond promptly and equitably whenever an incident occurs. All employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have the right to be free from harassment and retaliation.

For preliminary review, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement demonstrating how they can contribute to faculty diversity, such as through membership in a group that is historically underrepresented in a particular area of study, training, or other experience. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at <https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/4424>. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. For full consideration, please submit materials by December 15, 2020.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/12/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8276

Hertie School

Rank: Assistant Professor of Sustainability

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Other, Open

Assistant Professor of Sustainability (f/m/div)

The Hertie School, Berlin

A European Professional School for Public Policy is recruiting an

Assistant Professor of Sustainability (f/m/div)

The Hertie School is recruiting an assistant professor working on key sustainability topics such as climate, energy, or mobility and transport. We particularly welcome scholars whose research covers regions beyond Germany and Europe. This person should combine state-of-the-art empirical, policy-relevant research with a teaching profile that matches the needs of a public policy school.

Applicants for this position must have a doctoral degree relevant for the position, or expect to have this degree by the start of employment. We are looking for a candidate with a strong background in economics. The successful candidate will be appointed as tenure-track Assistant Professor with a six-year clock (two three-year contracts). The expected start date is September 2021.

The Hertie School seeks faculty with demonstrated capacity for research at the highest levels in their discipline through an established record of publication in top outlets. We recruit faculty who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity with a strong commitment to high-quality teaching and innovative research of interest to the international scholarly community and policy-makers. The Hertie School strongly encourages applications from women and underrepresented minorities.

Candidates are expected to work well in an interdisciplinary, international environment with English as the language of instruction and operation. The successful candidate will teach courses in the School's Master, Executive, and PhD programmes. This position will be based in the School's new Centre for Sustainability, and the successful candidate will actively contribute to its research, outreach and teaching activities. Collaboration with other new Centres of Competence of the Hertie School is encouraged. Those are the Jacques Delors Centre, the Centre for International Security, the Centre for Fundamental Rights, the Centre for Digital Governance, and the Data Science Lab.

As a private non-profit university, endowed and supported by the Hertie Foundation, the Hertie School offers an internationally competitive salary as well as a paid sabbatical after every five semesters. We provide excellent working conditions with outstanding financial and administrative support for research. The Hertie School is fully embedded in Berlin's vibrant research landscape and has close ties to the top institutions of the European and international teaching and research community.

The Hertie School is a diverse, international and lively community located in the heart of Berlin. It takes a family friendly workplace seriously. Under German law, there is standard paid leave for parents after the birth of a child. For information about the Hertie School visit www.hertie-school.org.

The deadline for the submission of applications is 6 December 2020. To submit your application, please upload the requested documents here:

<https://hertie-school.dvinci-easy.com/en/p/en/jobs/20369/assistant-professor-of-sustainability-fmdiv>

For questions about the position, please contact Christian Flachslund, Professor of Sustainability (flachslund@hertie-school.org).

Strict confidentiality in the application process is assured. The Hertie School is an equal opportunity employer.

Please upload the documents in the following order:

Motivation letter
 CV including publication list and the names of two references
 A diversity statement of no more than one page
 One or more writing samples.

Optional additional documents include teaching evaluations and a research and/or teaching statement. Please have two references submitted separately via Email to researchandfaculty@hertie-school.org.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 11/5/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8253

Duke University

Rank: Post-doctoral Associate

POST-DOCTORAL ASSOCIATE

The American Grand Strategy (AGS) Program is Duke's lead interdisciplinary initiative that creates and disseminates new knowledge in the grand strategy field. The mission of the program is to prepare the next generation of strategists by studying past generations and interacting with current strategic leaders.

In 2018, AGS partnered with a team of scholar-practitioners from Johns Hopkins University, and University of Texas-Austin to launch a consortium to better prepare the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and better understand American national interests abroad. This position would support AGS in the consortium's efforts by advancing the body of rigorous scholarship investigating these questions and exposing Duke students to cutting edge work in this area.

Job Description

AGS seeks an America in the World Consortium Post-Doctoral Associate to begin in July 2021. Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, strong preference will be given to applicants with a doctorate in political science whose research has a strong connection to policy.

The America in the World Associate will be expected to conduct independent research activities in preparation for a full time academic or research career and will teach one seminar suitable for cross-listing in the Department of Political Science and the Sanford School of Public Policy. The Associate will also contribute to the life of the AGS program by attending and, where appropriate and by mutual agreement, serving as a senior leader on co-curricular activities.

The Associate is expected to be in residence and may not undertake any other sustained teaching or employment during his/her tenure at Duke. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at Duke University.

Stipend Information

The Associate accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend, full use of Duke facilities, and office space at the Sanford School of Public Policy or the Department of Political Science as appropriate.

The position will provide funding for a minimum of 12 months.

Requirements:

- A terminal degree in a related field such as political science, public policy or history.
- Established work in a related area.

How to Apply:

Please submit the following items to begin your application on Academic Jobs Online, job #17388, at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17388>:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Statement
- A sample syllabus that is representative of a suggested course
- Article or writing sample representing an existing contribution to the field of American grand strategy, broadly defined.

Contact Name:
 Melanie Benson

Contact Email:
Melanie.benson@duke.edu

Deadline to Apply:
 Sunday, January 10, 2021

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas—an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/10/2021

Date Posted: 10/29/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8229

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Instructor or Assistant Professor, Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness

Specializations: United States, Criminal Justice, International Security

The VCU L. Douglas Wilder School of Government and Public Affairs Homeland Security & Emergency Preparedness Program invites applications for up to two, pending funding availability, non-tenure eligible faculty at the rank of instructor or assistant professor, depending on qualifications and experience. Applicants with a Ph.D. in the social sciences, information security, computer science, public policy or a related field are preferred. Candidates with a Master's Degree and significant teaching and professional work experience will be considered.

The Wilder School's mission is to:

- Engage, teach and inspire students and leaders to understand and solve challenges in our world.
- Advance research that informs public policy and decision making to improve our communities.
- Collaborate with communities through innovative partnerships to enhance quality of life.

The Wilder School's vision is to be the premiere resource for public policy expertise and social equity in public safety, governance and economic and community development. Ranked 39th among the nation's public affairs schools, the Wilder School has over 1,500 students and more than 11,000 alumni, with an established environment where diverse perspectives thrive and where a common interest in public service and the betterment of society unites these perspectives together. Our academic excellence attracts the highest quality faculty, staff and students, and our graduates are leaders in their professions.

Our location in Richmond, the capital of the Commonwealth of Virginia, combined with our proximity to Washington, DC, provides numerous opportunities for engaged scholarship, teaching and community engagement activities. A creative, interdisciplinary School with both academic programs and training/research centers in the social sciences and professional arenas, we reflect the diversity of the communities we serve providing students and faculty with the knowledge, skills, opportunities and experience necessary for success.

For additional information about the Wilder School, please visit our website at wilder.vcu.edu.

This position is non-tenure eligible faculty at the rank of instructor or assistant professor, depending on qualifications and experience in the Homeland Security & Emergency Preparedness program to begin in August 2021.

The Wilder School is seeking to continue its growth and commitment to its large and successful Homeland Security & Emergency Preparedness Bachelor's, Master's and Certificate programs. The faculty will complement and expand our existing expertise in the field of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness.

Successful candidates will join a dedicated group of colleagues with diverse interests and a demonstrated ability to teach effectively. We are interested in faculty who will demonstrate through teaching, creative expression, and/or public engagement, the richness of diversity in the learning experience through integrated intersectional approaches and perspectives.

Position Responsibilities:

1. Teaching

Successful candidates will teach within the core requirements of the graduate and undergraduate programs in Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness and may contribute to the Ph.D. in Public Policy and Administration. The faculty member will be expected to carry a teaching load equivalent to eight 3 credit courses a year (4/4), involving both in-class and on-line delivery, and demonstrate leadership in developing techniques to meet the needs of diverse learning styles and intellectual interests.

2. Service

Faculty member may serve on program, School, and/or University committees as necessary, as well as in a professional capacity in their field.

For additional information, please visit <https://wilder.vcu.edu/programs/homeland-security-and-emergency-preparedness/>.

Required Qualifications:

Candidates with a Master's Degree and significant teaching and professional work experience will be considered.

Our interest is in instructors who demonstrate a profound commitment to high-quality effective instruction who can contribute to the strength and diversity of our faculty. Successful candidates will have particular expertise in social justice and vulnerable populations in emergency preparedness, response and recovery, legal or constitutional issues, cybersecurity, and similar topics. The faculty member will complement and expand our existing expertise in the field of Homeland Security and Emergency Preparedness.

Demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU.

Preferred Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in the social sciences, information security, computer science, public policy or a related field.

Application Process/Additional Information:

Applications should be submitted to <http://www.vcujobs.com/postings/101225>, and include a cover-letter, a detailed CV with the names and contact information of three references, one example of scholarship or writing, and evidence of teaching effectiveness.

As a preeminent national, urban, public research university and academic health center, Virginia Commonwealth University is committed to organizational diversity, equity and inclusion - an environment where all can thrive in their pursuit of excellence.

Applicants are requested to submit a Statement of Contributions to Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (typically between 150-300 words) providing your career aspirations and contributions toward promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion. Through this statement, you can share how your lived experiences; and past, present, and future academic and professional activities have or will contribute to VCU's mission of promoting equity and inclusion.

Note: Examples include working with others to further the goals of equity and inclusion; leading in any capacity that tangibly promotes an environment where diversity is welcomed, fostered, and celebrated; creative activity, research and scholarship that promotes equity and parity; teaching and mentoring students, and/or engaging with faculty and/or staff from traditionally underrepresented groups to create a positive and successful organizational experience.

“Virginia Commonwealth University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action university providing access to education and employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex, political affiliation, veteran status, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or disability”.

VCU demonstrates its commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion through a number of initiatives, including an NSF ADVANCE-IT grant to increase the recruitment and retention of underrepresented minority (URM) faculty in STEM disciplines, and iCubed, a multi-faceted program designed to recruit URM faculty to collaborate with community partners in transdisciplinary cores to develop promising solutions that enhance the vitality of urban communities. Wilder School faculty are actively engaged in both initiatives.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled, with priority review beginning November 15, 2020.

Contact: Maureen Moslow-Benway, Search Chair (mmoslowbenwa@vcu.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8221

University of Virginia

Rank: Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Post-Doctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Open, American Government and Politics

The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia invites applicants for a position of Dean's diversity, equity, and inclusion post-doctoral research associate. We believe that diversity is a critical component of academic excellence. The goal of these positions is to provide opportunities to scholars who will contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion at the University of Virginia. Opportunities include mentorship, sponsorship, access to resources and research infrastructure, opportunities to collaborate with faculty at a truly interdisciplinary school, and connections to the policy world and the network of policy schools.

The postdoctoral appointment is renewed annually with a target length of two years and will begin August 2021. They involve independent research and/or opportunities for research collaboration with faculty, have additional research funds, and involve teaching one class per academic year at the Batten School.

We seek candidates from a range of disciplines including political science, economics, psychology, public policy or public administration. A Ph.D. (conferred no later than July 2021) in one of these disciplines is required. In addition, because diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at Batten, a demonstrated commitment to advancing equity and inclusion is also required.

Successful candidates' research may focus on a range of topics in one of the aforementioned disciplines. We welcome candidates that conduct research that have synergies with areas of current strength such as stereotyping, prejudice, conflict management, development, education, environment, health, national security, social entrepreneurship, humanitarian relief, voting, and American institutions. However, we also welcome applicants working on other topics in line with the mission of the Batten school, which involves: generating knowledge to solve the world's most pressing policy challenges and educating ethical and effective leaders prepared to lead in a diverse and divided world.

Successful candidates will participate in the intellectual life of Batten and other UVa units and work on a scholarly book/article/publication. A criterion for selection is evidence of scholarly potential that could lead to a tenure track appointment at a research university.

Built upon the strong foundation of one of the nation's top public universities, the Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy combines rigorous training in public policy with a unique emphasis on the acquisition of leadership skills. The School currently offers an MPP degree and an undergraduate major in public policy and leadership.

TO APPLY: Please visit UVA job board <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>, &quot;R0019281&quot;; complete the application and see below for documents to attach.

- 1-page cover letter identifying 2-3 potential UVA faculty mentors
- A curriculum vitae

- Contact information for three references, (references will only be contacted for those that are short listed)
- A research statement (max 3 pages), including a broad introduction of your research, both past successes and future plans, as well as how your research agenda could integrate with current areas of study at the Batten School
- A diversity statement (max 2 pages). The diversity statement should discuss: the candidate's track record advancing equity and inclusion in previous positions and their plan for advancing equity and inclusion at UVa

Applicants should submit their materials by January 15, 2021 and the position is open until filled. For questions about the application process please contact Rhiannon O'Coin, Academic Recruiter at rmo2r@virginia.edu.

For more information about UVA and the surrounding area, please visit <http://uvacharge.virginia.edu/guide.html>.

The selected candidate will be required to complete a background check at time of offer per University Policy.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/23/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8210

University of Calgary

Rank: Post Doctoral Scholar in National Defence and Data Analytics

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Public Policy

Area: International Policy and Trade (IPT)

Duration: 1-year full-time appointment with possibility of 1-year renewal

Start date: January 2021, negotiable

Salary: $60,000 (plus Plan C Health Insurance benefits and a Research Allowance)

The School of Public Policy at the University of Calgary is accepting applications for a Postdoctoral Scholar in the areas of national defence and data analytics. The position will support the International Policy and Trade program, one of four research divisions within The School of Public Policy.

Please email your application to Dr. Jean-Christophe Boucher at jc.boucher@ucalgary.ca by October 31, 2020. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2020, but the position will remain open until filled.

<https://careers.ucalgary.ca/jobs/5621665-post-doctoral-scholar-in-national-defense-and-data-analytics-international-policy-and-trade-school-of-public-policy>.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2020

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8208

McGill University*Rank: Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies

Max Bell School of Public Policy and the Department of Political Science

Faculty of Arts

McGill University

The Department of Political Science and the Max Bell School of Public Policy at McGill University invite applications for the new Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies. The Chairholder will be jointly appointed, teaching in both units and with the aim of strengthening the links between them and with the Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship (CSDC).

We seek an institution-builder with a global perspective who brings internationally recognized empirical research on democracy to bear on contemporary challenges and debates that inform public policy. The recent worldwide strains faced by democratic institutions and practices highlight the urgent need for theoretically informed, empirically rich research and this position will provide a highly visible forum for a scholar engaged in such an endeavor.

An applicant's record must provide evidence of outstanding research, leadership experience or potential, and success in teaching and supervision, including a commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion in curriculum, pedagogy, and the recruiting and training of graduate and postdoctoral supervisees. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Full or Associate Professor with tenure. Candidates should have completed a PhD in a relevant discipline. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but proficiency in spoken and written French is an asset.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, a sample of written work, and material pertinent to teaching skills. The position start date is August 1, 2021.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Please apply online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17306>

The Department of Political Science engages in world-class research and teaching across diverse theoretical, thematic, and methodological approaches to the study of politics. The new Max Bell School of Public Policy is committed to the research, teaching, outreach, and advocacy of sound public policy. The CSDC, founded in 2008, brings together scholars who work on research related to democratic citizenship across six Quebec universities. For more information about the Department of Political Science, the Max Bell School, and the CSDC, please visit our websites at: www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/, <https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/>, and <https://csdc-cecd.ca/>.

Inquiries may be sent to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Juliet Johnson, at juliet.johnson@mcgill.ca.

Commitment to Equity and Diversity

McGill University is committed to equity and diversity within its community and values academic rigour and excellence. We welcome and encourage applications from racialized persons/visible minorities, women, Indigenous persons, persons with disabilities, ethnic minorities, and persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, as well as from all qualified candidates with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities.

At McGill, research that reflects diverse intellectual traditions, methodologies, and modes of dissemination and translation is valued and encouraged. Candidates are invited to demonstrate their research impact both within and across academic disciplines and in other sectors, such as government, communities, or industry.

McGill further recognizes and fairly considers the impact of leaves (e.g., family care or health-related) that may contribute to career interruptions or slowdowns. Candidates are encouraged to signal any leave that affected productivity, or that may have had an effect on their career path. This information will be considered to ensure the equitable assessment of the candidate's record.

McGill implements an employment equity program and encourages members of designated equity groups to self-identify. It further seeks to ensure the equitable treatment and full inclusion of persons with disabilities by striving for the implementation of universal design principles transversally, across all facets of the University community, and through accommodation policies and procedures. Persons with disabilities who anticipate needing accommodations for any part of the application process may contact, in confidence, this email or phone at 514-398-2477.

All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2021Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/20/2020Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 8191Stanford University, Graduate School of Business*Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy - Impact of Race in America*Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Stanford seeks to hire as many as 10 strong researchers and scholars--campus-wide--who study the impact of race in American society, including the nature and persistence of racial inequality and its consequences. We seek to support, deepen, and enhance the important research and teaching in these areas long underway on our campus.

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for faculty positions in our seven academic areas: Accounting; Economics; Finance; Marketing; Operations, Information & Technology; Organizational Behavior; and Political Economy under the Impact of Race in America topic. We welcome applications from scholars with all disciplinary backgrounds that bear on race in America and racial justice to apply to the seven areas. Rank is open, although there is the expectation that a majority of the appointments will be made at the assistant professor level. Although all areas of research will be considered, we are particularly interested in candidates with outstanding records of achievement in developing or using innovative approaches in the broad areas of their discipline. The successful candidates should possess a strong research background within their discipline and the ability to teach effectively in both the MBA and PhD programs in the school. The successful candidates should have or must expect to have their PhD degree by the start date of their faculty appointment at Stanford University.

Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2020 and will continue until all of the positions are filled. Candidates are invited to apply online via <https://www.gsb.stanford.edu/jobs/faculty-recruiting>, with the following materials: a statement describing the candidate's academic background and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a research statement of no more than three pages, and the names of three recommenders. Please direct questions to faculty\_recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 11/15/2020

Date Posted: 10/7/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8155

W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research

Rank: Senior Researcher

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Non-Academic, Methodology

Specializations: Economic Policy, Labor Politics, United States

The W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research is seeking to diversify its senior research staff in terms of discipline and methodology. We invite Ph.D. researchers with at least 5 years of experience in sociology, public policy, social policy, political science or a related field to apply for a senior researcher position.

The Institute is searching for candidates who have demonstrated experience in using qualitative, mixed, and/or survey methods to research labor and employment issues. Candidates should have a solid publication record, excellent oral and written communication skills for both academic and lay audiences, and a strong interest in addressing policy-relevant issues. The Institute is seeking to hire a researcher on a full-time basis or on a part-time basis that, for example, might be combined with an academic appointment and is open to remote work arrangements.

About the Institute

The Upjohn Institute is an endowed, nonprofit research organization that conducts independent, nonpartisan research on employment-related issues. The Institute offers a thriving and collaborative research environment. Our staff includes eleven Ph.Ds. who share common research interests and are excellent colleagues. The Institute's endowment allows researchers considerable freedom in developing their agenda within the Institute's mission. Research staff also seek funding from foundations or government agencies as a way of augmenting their research or becoming more involved in finding practical solutions to employment problems. Researchers receive excellent support from in-house staff, including research assistants, technology specialists, information and database specialists, and administrative staff.

Start Date: Fall 2020

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2020

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 8141

New York University - Abu Dhabi

Rank: Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science - Division of Social Science

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint a Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science starting September 2021. Later start dates are also possible. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

Here is the link to apply:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/77968>

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7989