In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ...................... 3

Job Listings

Administration .................................................. 4
American Government and Politics ................... 9
Comparative Politics .......................................... 35
International Relations ................................... 51
Methodology ..................................................... 77
Non-Academic ............................................... 86
Open ............................................................... 86
Other ............................................................. 104
Political Theory ............................................. 130
Public Administration ..................................... 142
Public Law ...................................................... 149
Public Policy .................................................. 155
About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA’s over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

February 2021 | Volume 10, Issue 02
ISSN 2167-8332
Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ........................................ 3

Job Listings

Administration .......................................................... 4 (5 listings)
American Government and Politics .......... 9 (38 listings)
Comparative Politics ............................................. 35 (33 listings)
International Relations ............................. 51 (44 listings)
Methodology ....................................................... 77 (15 listings)
Non-Academic .................................................... 86 (1 listings)
Open ................................................................. 86 (24 listings)
Other ............................................................... 104 (34 listings)
Political Theory ................................................. 130 (18 listings)
Public Administration ................................. 142 (9 listings)
Public Law ......................................................... 149 (9 listings)
Public Policy .................................................... 155 (30 listings)
Total listings this issue ................................. 260 Resources and Guidance on Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

ejobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Salary
1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities
1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
   - departmental and institutional committee work,
   - professional or disciplinary activities, and
   - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support
1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
   - access to research materials and equipment,
   - the employment of research assistants,
   - research expenses on/off campus, and
   - travel expenses for conferences?

Teaching Support
1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
   - the development of teaching expertise,
   - innovations in teaching, and
   - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
   - the average course load,
   - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
   - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review
1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department’s expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department’s expectations for a positive annual review?

Retirement
1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program
For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.
Political Science Jobs for February

ADMINISTRATION
University of Pittsburgh
Rank: Executive Director, Center for Governance and Markets

The Center for Governance and Markets (CGM) at the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs at the University of Pittsburgh seeks an Executive Director to provide leadership and strategic vision to help build a newly-established center for research and education on topics including governance and political institutions, economic institutions and property rights, and the governance of emerging technology (such as blockchain and internet governance).

The Executive Director will have significant opportunity to shape the Center’s mission and initiatives together with key faculty and leaders across many different departments and schools at the University of Pittsburgh along with scholars and partners around the world. The Executive Director will engage with students and faculty at the University of Pittsburgh, as well as leading practitioners, policymakers, community-based organizations, civil society organizations, in Pittsburgh and around the world.

The Executive Director will oversee the Center’s programs, fundraising, and operation; convene symposia, conferences, and new initiatives; work with faculty to launch research and policy projects that improve understanding of the opportunities and challenges associated governance institutions around the world. The incumbent will nurture and grow a vibrant, diverse, and far-reaching intellectual community. Reporting to the Center’s Director, the Executive Director will have operational responsibilities for CGM’s programming, staff, fundraising, budget, and mission.

The ideal candidate will have a Ph.D. in the Social Sciences, a J.D., or a master’s degree with demonstrated knowledge of the literature in relevant fields. Master’s degrees will be considered with demonstrated mastery of relevant academic literatures. The candidate should have some combination of the following experiences and skills: substantial successful management and leadership experience; a track record of innovation, program leadership, and program building; extensive experience, engagement and understanding of governance and market institutions as well as emerging technologies; an excellent reputation and an extensive established network in relevant research and policy communities; experience working with and managing global partnerships; advanced administrative and organizational skills.

A proven track record in fundraising and budget management; strong interpersonal skills, with the ability to work collaboratively with colleagues, students and the broader community; strong verbal and written communication skills, with the ability to draw on the ideas of others and convert them into meaningful strategies and plans and to represent those ideas to a variety of stakeholders, including faculty, staff, students, policymakers, the public and the press; and high professional and ethical standards that reflect the University of Pittsburgh core values, purpose and mission.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8530

SUMMIT SEARCH SOLUTIONS, INC.
Rank: Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs

Portland State University seeks a Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs

Click here to view position profile: https://sumitsearchsolutions.com/wp-content/uploads/2021/01/PSU_Dean_CUPA_Profile.pdf
Location: Portland, Oregon

The Position:
The successful candidate will be a nationally recognized, inclusive, and entrepreneurial leader able to infuse the Portland State University College of Urban and Public Affairs with a sense of common purpose and to create a record of accomplishment that advances the mission of the University.

Requirements include a record of distinguished research, teaching, and/or public service; administrative experience; proven success in external fund development; and credentials that merit appointment at the rank of full professor in the College. Experience in addressing the social issues of the widest variety of communities will be highly valued. The dean will make critical contributions to the continued development of a distinguished institution. This position requires vision, skill, experience, and creative leadership to help shape the future of the College and the University as a whole.

The dean will report to Provost & Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Susan Jeffords. The dean will lead a college with 1,500 undergraduate majors and 300 graduate students, 70+ plus tenured and tenure track faculty, and 40+ staff. The total budget is $21M. Twenty-seven grants and contracts generated $4.8M in FY19 research expenditures.

Responsibilities:
Academic Leadership
The dean is the chief executive and academic officer for the College and is expected to:
• Engage with a multidisciplinary faculty whose research interests and practice expertise span a wide range of policy and practice areas, with undergraduate and graduate students, and with constituencies within the academy and in the public sphere.
• Set the standard for intellectual engagement and accomplishment by providing strategic vision for, and operational leadership of, the College as a whole.
• Serve as a catalyst to link the work of CUPA faculty, centers/institutes, and students to other disciplines, and to external public and private communities.
• Serve as a catalyst to link the work of CUPA faculty, centers/institutes, and students to other disciplines, and to external public and private communities.
• Evaluate and help shape departmental/school productivity in instruction, research, and service responsibilities.
• Review departmental/school policies, procedures, and recommendations for appointment, salary, retention, tenure, promotion of faculty, and post-tenure review to ensure that appropriate policies are followed.
• Provide recommendations to the provost regarding tenure and promotion reviews, hiring, appointments, and sabbaticals.
• Assess, monitor, and guide overall CUPA priorities and productivity in instruction, research, and service.
• Lead CUPA strategic planning and oversee curriculum development.
• Ensure completion of assessment for all majors and oversee program-level and institution-level accreditation processes.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Leadership in Accordance with University Values
• Provide leadership around faculty development and professional growth in the area of diversity, equity, and inclusion in teaching, research, and community engagement.
• Support the enhancement of diversity within the College and across the campus and foster an environment where College faculty, staff, and students feel engaged, included, and equipped for success.

Representation and Promotion of the College Both Internally and Externally
• Maintain open, positive channels of communication with all College and University stakeholders.
• Serve as CUPA’s public voice, promoting initiatives within Portland State University, and articulating the College’s contributions in local, state, regional, and national arenas.
• Maintain knowledge of the capabilities, strengths, and portfolios of the CUPA centers and institutes, and seek to promote them within and outside the University.
• Serve as a member of and actively collaborate with other deans on the academic leadership team, to provide university-wide leadership to shape a successful future for PSU as a whole.
• Build positive relationships with external groups and stakeholders in support of the mission of PSU as an engaged institution, and to foster research and service opportunities for faculty and students.

Financial Management, Leadership, and Fundraising
• Provide oversight and management of the fiscal affairs of the College.
• Ensure the efficient use and strategic investment of College resources.
• Lead the establishment of a vision for long term financial health, and the development of long-term and short-term goals to move the College toward this goal.
• Develop, lead, and encourage fundraising, in collaboration with the PSU Foundation, to support the College’s goals and the goals of its departments, programs, and students, as well as outreach and public service efforts.
• Provide high-level oversight of the finances of the CUPA centers and institutes and support the development of strategic initiatives within the centers and institutes to grow revenue.

Administrative Leadership, Oversight, and Personnel Supervision
• Supervise and evaluate College administrative staff, department chairs, school directors, and directors of the Institute on Aging and Population Research Center.
• Lead the processes of College administrator hiring/selection and oversee the processes of faculty and staff hiring/selection and retention.

Cultural Competence
• Create an environment that acknowledges, encourages, and celebrates differences.
• Function and communicate effectively and respectfully within the context of varying beliefs, behaviors, orientations, identities, and cultural backgrounds.
• Seek opportunities to gain experience working and collaborating in diverse, multicultural, and inclusive settings with a willingness to change for continual improvement.
• Adhere to all PSU policies including the policies on Prohibited Discrimination & Harassment and the Professional Standards of Conduct, which can be found at: https://www.pdx.edu/human-resources/professional-standards-conduct-policy.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate will have an earned doctorate or equivalent executive experience in an area related to one of the College’s disciplines, and a record of recognized research, scholarship, and teaching accomplishments sufficient to merit appointment as a full professor. The next dean should possess the following qualifications and talents:
• Track record of providing civic leadership and successfully working with professionals in academic, community, and governmental organizations.
• Demonstrated experience of effectively engaging in and partnering with diverse communities and constituents.
• Experience in working to enhance diversity in academic, workplace, or community settings.
• Demonstrated success in securing external support and/or fundraising with a commitment to broadening financial support.
• Demonstrated ability to grow research programs that address important societal issues and that contribute to the economic vitality of the region and the state.
• The ability to represent CUPA effectively to audiences within Portland State University, in the city and region, nationally, and internationally.
• Experience in managing complex budgets in environments with limited resources, allocating resources, and empowering entrepreneurship with a high level of transparency and fairness.
• A record as an innovative and creative thinker with the ability to make clear and informed decisions.
• Experience in enhancing the efficiency and effectiveness of an organization.
• An understanding of leading-edge methods and technologies to support a large public college.

The ideal candidate will display a commitment to:
• Collegial and consultative management style with the ability to listen as well as discern.
• Interdisciplinary education, research, and service.
• Being a decisive leader within a rapidly changing environment.
• Professional and community-based, education, and scholarship.
• Shared governance and openness to collaborative relationships with campus unions.
• Creating and nurturing a distinguished faculty.
• Intellectually and culturally diverse academic environments.
• Enhancing the College’s role in addressing the critical policy and social issues of the time.
• Being a progressive and creative thinker who is not afraid to try new ideas and take calculated risks, with evidence of engaging others to do so and bringing others along as ideas develop.
• Working collaboratively with people at all levels and from different cultural backgrounds and orientations.

About the Institution:
Portland State University (PSU) is Oregon’s largest urban university, located in Portland, Oregon. PSU enrolls over 26,000 students and offers programs for bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral degrees. PSU is an internationally recognized university known for excellence in student learning, innovative research, and community engagement. PSU contributes to the economic vitality, environmental sustainability, and quality of life in the Portland region and beyond. Portland State’s 50-acre downtown campus is located in the heart of the city; a hub of culture, business, and technology, and just 90 minutes from mountains and the Oregon Coast.

Employees describe Portland State University as a vibrant, diverse, progressive place to work and an environment that welcomes process improvement and innovation. PSU is proud of the work done to be a welcoming, inclusive, safe, and nurturing environment for diverse faculty, staff, and students. Former Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs and current University President Steven Percy shares, “Promoting equity and justice at PSU is the most important work of my presidency. It will allow PSU to live up to our mission and our aspirations. This work is complex and layered, requiring care, thought and time. I will continue to listen, learn and build my capacity to lead this work.” Read more about the university’s work on creating a more racially just and equitable place for all.

See www.pdx.edu for additional information about the institution.

About the College of Urban and Public Affairs: Established in 1959, PSU’s College of Urban & Public Affairs (CUPA) is a powerhouse partner for the region. CUPA’s renowned programs, centers and institutes prepare students to be effective collaborators and problem solvers while fostering equity in urban life. Its faculty and graduates are invaluable contributors to the public policy innovation and smart development for which Portland is well known. Students and faculty engage directly with area non-profits, governmental agencies and private sector firms, gaining real-world understanding of the complexity and challenges of creating socially just and sustainable metropolitan regions. Because of this deep engagement, CUPA stands as PSU’s flagship college, the epitome of its identity as an urban serving university where knowledge serves the city.

PROGRAMS WITH A PURPOSE
CUPA is where a commitment to public service and a pragmatic approach to career advancement intersect. The academic programs prepare students to flex boundaries and conceive new and practical approaches to stubborn problems. Students draw upon areas of expertise that, up to now, were compartmentalized. To succeed they have to be risk-takers, bridge-builders, and out-of-box thinkers. That’s why students are encouraged to design fresh interdisciplinary solutions and work with faculty and community partners to test them in the field, both domestically and globally. PSU has been listed in the Top 15 for its Master of Urban + Regional Planning program by Planetizen, and its Hatfield School of Government has been ranked in the Top 50 of Public Affairs schools; its Local Government Management program has been ranked #17 by U.S. News and World Report.

CUPA houses the innovative new master’s degree in Emergency Management and Community Resilience. This multi-disciplinary, multi-college program is the first of its kind in the West Coast and particularly distinguished by its emphasis on community resilience. Its impending launch in Fall 2021 has energized a broad swath of faculty and students, both within CUPA and across the University. A signature feature is engagement with an array of practitioners and community partners in building emergency management capacity and fostering community resilience in the face of a range of disasters, in the local, regional and international contexts.

CUPA CENTERS AND INSTITUTES
CUPA’s 16 Centers and Institutes effectively serve as the bridge between the College and the community. They provide ways for the faculty and student scholars to share research that benefits others and improves the livability of the region.

CUPA centers and institutes complement the academic programs and promote applied research and scholarship, community engagement, and public service. The centers and institutes are also strengthened by collaborations across disciplines and partnerships with other university departments. They provide vital services to community partners—from generating a report for a local nonprofit to forecasting population changes for local governments across the state. Focusing on applied research and service to the community, the work they perform reflects Portland State’s motto, “Let Knowledge Serve the City.”

To Apply:
Confidential review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Applications can be submitted immediately and will be reviewed as they come in. Those received by February 28, 2021 will be given first consideration.

To apply, go to: https://theapplicantmanager.com/jobs?pos= su224. Please submit your CV and a letter of interest that demonstrates your interest, expertise, and skills concerning the responsibilities of the Dean.

For more information or to offer recommendations or nominations:
Stephanie Fowler
Senior Consultant
Summit Search Solutions, Inc.
(530) 677-9945
sfowler@summitsearchsolutions.com

Arasi Adkins
Senior Consultant
Summit Search Solutions, Inc.
(336) 693-7612
aadkins@summitsearchsolutions.com

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 2/28/2021
Date Posted: 1/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8502

West Virginia University
Rank: Director of Institute for Policy Research and Public Affairs
Subfield(s): Administration, Public Policy, Public Administration
Job No. 16108

West Virginia University (WVU) seeks a visionary and enterprising leader to serve as the inaugural Director of the Institute for Policy Research and Public Affairs affiliated with Eberly College of Arts and Sciences and the John D. Rockefeller, Jr. School of Policy and Politics. This is a tenured faculty position at the rank of Professor or Associate Professor in the Eberly College. The Director will lead a new initiative to advance public policy and public affairs research and translational activities. This initiative is one of three divisions planned to be established within the Rockefeller School. The other two deal with academic programs and engaged learning and service. In addition to the duties outlined below, the Director would work closely with WVU leadership to help fully establish the Rockefeller School.

As Director, the successful applicant will support faculty and researchers across complementary disciplines to collaboratively build research capacity in public policy. They will strengthen related resources, build on expertise and research capabilities that currently exist across campus, increase externally sponsored research in social and public policy, as well as create partnerships with foundations, industry, government agencies and other universities. As part of this effort, the Director will be expected to recruit Research Fellows to work within the school. In addition to Departments affiliated with the Rockefeller School,
Research Fellows may be recruited from within other WVU programs and external institutions and agencies. The Director will connect policy research to the teaching and outreach mission of the Rockefeller School and will report to the office of the Dean of the Eberly College. The Director will have a dedicated administrative assistant as well as support for graduate research students.

Qualifications include a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in Public Policy, Political Science, Public Administration, or a closely related field; a sustained record of externally funded research in the area of public policy; a record of multidisciplinary scholarship; ability to translate academic research into information for public dissemination and engagement; a record of successful administrative leadership; ability to work collaboratively in a diverse environment with a range of faculty, students, administrators, and external constituencies to reach a common goal; ability to develop partnerships with foundations and industry in support of the Institute’s programs; understanding of WVU’s mission as a land-grant institution; ability to manage budgets and establish fiscal priorities; strong written and oral communication skills; and an established record of research and teaching that will merit appointment at, or promotion to, the rank of Professor or Associate Professor with a grant of tenure at WVU.

WVU is a comprehensive land grant university with approximately 30,000 students and is classified by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education as a very high research (R1) Institution. The Rockefeller School of Policy and Politics currently consists of 21 tenured and tenure-track faculty and is affiliated with the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences.

To apply for this position, please visit http://hr.research.wvu.edu and click on the “View Jobs” link. Qualified applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a description of the applicant’s potential to further our progress in building a diverse and inclusive academic community (which will be evaluated without regard to the applicant’s personal demographics), and contact information for three references. The cover letter should address the applicant’s qualifications for each aspect of the responsibilities listed above. For questions or additional information, contact Prof. Duncan Lorimer via e-mail: duncan.lorimer@mail.wvu.edu. The screening process will begin on March 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University community of Morgantown offers plentiful educational opportunities as well as recreational outlets, is within easy driving distance of Pittsburgh, PA, and is about 200 miles northwest of Washington, D.C. WVU is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and the recipient of an NSF ADVANCE award for gender equity. The University is committed to diversity and welcomes applications from all qualified individuals, including minorities, females, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/14/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8486

---

University of Oslo
Rank: Associate Professor in Public Policy and Public Administration

Job description:

An Associate Professor position in Public Policy and Public Administration is available in the Department of Political Science, University of Oslo.

This is a permanent position and we expect that the successful candidate will contribute to the long-term academic development and research culture of the department.

Associate professors divide their time equally between research and teaching. The successful candidate will offer undergraduate and postgraduate courses in the fields of public policy and public administration. They will also contribute to the teaching of research methods at all levels. It is essential that applicants can demonstrate a strong record of teaching commensurable with their experience.

The person appointed will also carry out administrative tasks in accordance with university regulations.

Female candidates are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualification requirements:

Applicants must document research excellence, including a PhD in a relevant field and a record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers. When evaluating research excellence, recent publications, as well as a clear and viable strategy for future top-quality research, will be given greatest weight.

Prior experience leading research projects, as well as a track record of national and international collaborations, will be taken into account.

Personal suitability for the position also will be assessed.

We offer:

Salary NOK 643 000 – 768 500 per annum depending on qualifications
Budget for travel and research assistance (currently NOK 45 000 per year). Staff can apply for additional research support from the department and faculty
An academically stimulating and international working environment
A friendly and inclusive workplace
An excellent pension scheme through the Norwegian Public Service Fund
A good work-life balance and access to Norway’s excellent public services and welfare schemes, including generous parental leave provisions and affordable and accessible childcare
Female academic staff can take part in the Career development scheme for female associate professors (https://www.uio.no/english/for-employees/competence/gender-equality/career-female-associate-professors/index.html)

How to apply:

The application must include:

- Cover letter (statement of motivation and a summary of scientific work and research interests; max. 2 pages).
The University of Oslo aims to achieve a balanced gender composition for researchers at the University of Oslo. (https://www.uio.no/english/about/regulations/personnel/academic/rules-appointment-professor.html)

All documents must be in English or a Scandinavian language.

Publications should not be submitted with the application; the most promising candidates will be invited to submit their publications, as well as their educational certificates and diplomas, later in the process.

About the procedure:

The application deadline is March 1 2021. Applications will be initially evaluated by a committee with the aim of providing the appointed assessors with a short report that identifies the most promising candidates that should proceed in the selection process.

In April 2021, the most promising applicants will be invited to submit a comprehensive application including a sample of academic publications.

It is anticipated that the top-ranked candidates will be invited to an interview and asked to give a trial lecture in August/September 2021. References will also be contacted at this stage. The report from the evaluation committee, including the evaluation of the top candidates, will be made available to all applicants. The hiring process is expected to be completed by October 2021.

Formal regulations:

Candidates who cannot document basic teaching qualifications at the time of appointment will be required to obtain such qualifications within a two-year period.

Scandinavian languages and English are the working languages at the department. If an appointee is not fluent in a Scandinavian language, the appointee will be expected to learn sufficient Norwegian to be able to participate in all functions that the position may involve within two years.

Please see the rules for the appointments to professorships and associate professorships. (https://www.uio.no/english/about/regulations/personnel/academic/rules-appointment-professor.html)

According to the Norwegian Freedom and Information Act (Offentlenglova), information about the applicant may be included in the public applicant list, even in cases where the applicant has requested non-disclosure. (https://lovdata.no/dokument/NLE/lov/2006-05-19-16)

The University of Oslo has a policy for intellectual property rights in the workforce and to recruit people from underrepresented minorities.

The University of Oslo has a policy for intellectual property rights

https://www.uio.no/english/about/regulations/research/intellectual-property/

The University of Oslo aims to achieve a balanced gender composition in the workforce and to recruit people from underrepresented minorities.

Publications should not be submitted with the application; the most promising candidates will be invited to submit their publications, as well as their educational certificates and diplomas, later in the process.

Lutheran College Washington Consortium
Rank: Executive Director & Dean

The Lutheran College Washington Consortium (LCWC) invites applications for the position of Dean/Executive Director of its program, the Lutheran College Washington Semester (LCWS) to begin no later than July 1, 2021. LCWS is a Washington, DC program based in Arlington, VA and is open to students from the 13 member institutions of the consortium, which are all Lutheran affiliated colleges and universities. The program, which began in 1986, provides participants with real-world experiences to further students’ educational and professional goals and strives to offer students of any major a new perspective on what it means to be an active member of society in a culturally diverse world. During the semester, students complete a four day per week internship, while also taking two academic classes and special programming offered by the program. Additional opportunities for students are available in the summer. Details about the Lutheran College Washington Semester can be found at: www.washingtonsemester.org

The position of Dean and Executive Director combines the roles of Chief Academic Officer and Chief Executive Officer of LCWS and reports to a 13-member board of directors. The Dean/Executive Director is responsible for the administrative, financial, academic and student life aspects of LCWS and supervises a staff of two full-time employees and 11 part-time staff and faculty members. The program is financially sound and consistently draws 40-50 students each semester. We are seeking a candidate who possesses entrepreneurial strengths and who is committed to developing innovative programs that will help the program meet the challenges of a changing higher education environment. In keeping with the academic requirements of the position, a doctorate degree or equivalent is required. Salary for the position is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits are also included as part of the compensation package. For more specific information, please see the Dean/Executive Director Position Description on the LCWS website: www.washingtonsemester.org/jobs

Applicants for the position should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and two letters of recommendation by email to Dr. Emily Wanless, Search Committee Chair, Augustana University, ewanless@augie.edu. Review of applications will begin on February 1st, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate - Center for Governance and Markets

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics

Specializations: Political Economy, Economic Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Center for Governance and Markets at the Graduate School for Public and International Affairs at the University of Pittsburgh is now accepting applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate for a one-year appointment beginning in August 2021, with a possible extension for a second year. The postdoctoral associate will play a significant role in advancing the mission of the Center, which explores how governance institutions and markets contribute to human well-being, prosperity, and security in the US and around the world. CGM achieves its mission by producing cutting-edge research, dialogue with policy communities, and through community engagement.

CGM is interested in a postdoctoral associate from any relevant discipline in the social sciences (e.g., economics, political science, sociology, public policy, public administration, anthropology, etc.) who can contribute to one or more of our core research areas: governance and political institutions; economic institutions and property rights; and/or governance of emerging technologies.

CGM seeks candidates with a strong research background in their own discipline who have a willingness and ability to develop research projects that align with CGM research initiatives. The candidate will conduct his/her teaching and research and participate in the Center’s activities, including seminar series. The candidate is also expected to support CGM’s mission by engaging with policy communities as well as working with the communities where we work.

Candidates must have received their PhD within the past three years. Salary is competitive and the benefits package includes health/vision/dental plans including spouse, domestic partner and/or dependents. Additional support for up to $3,000 will be made available to support research and conference attendance.

To apply, please include the following materials with your application:

CV
Minimum of three confidential letters of reference
Writing sample
Cover letter detailing how research interests align with the mission and research initiatives of CGM.

All applications must be received through Pitt’s site: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=20006253&tz=GMT-05%3A00&trzname=America%2FNew_York

Details about CGM’s research mission and projects can be found at cgm.pitt.edu. General inquiries can be directed to the Director of CGM, Jennifer Brick Murtazashvili at jmurtaz@pitt.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Colorado Christian University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of American Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Apply here: https://app.jobvite.com/j?aj=oiKpefwp&cs=APSA

About the Job

Colorado Christian University is looking for an outstanding teacher with a deep knowledge and appreciation of the American founding and political institutions, and an infectious love for history and students. This faculty member will teach courses and develop curriculum within the Department of Social Sciences, housed within the School of Humanities and Sciences (SHSS) in the College of Undergraduate Studies. The Department of Social Sciences offers several general education courses including American Politics, American History, and Western Civilization, and degree programs in Politics, History, and Global Studies. This faculty member will teach critical general education and major American politics courses with an eye toward the roots, great ideas and events of the American Founding and story. In so doing, this faculty member will work to develop in students a critical appreciation for this heritage, convincing them of history’s importance, and contributing to students’ formation as Christians, all the while helping them understand the times we now live in and calling them to greatness. Preferred requirements are a Ph.D. in History, Politics, or a closely-related discipline, combined with experience and a passion for teaching politics at the undergraduate level.

Faculty members of Colorado Christian University (CCU) teach assigned courses for which they are highly qualified within the College of Undergraduate Studies (CUS). Courses are traditional, in-seat and offered on our Lakewood, Colorado campus. Each faculty member uses effective instruction techniques as a subject matter expert, but their primary responsibility is to integrate field-specific pedagogy with the Bible and a Christian worldview. They are also expected to integrate and teach CCU’s spiritual, academic, and cultural Strategic Priorities.

Other duties are to support the mission and vision of CCU. This may include actively participating in committee/task force/team meetings, writing curriculum, reporting on assessments/outcomes, advancing scholarship, engaging with the community, supporting colleagues, or doing other work assigned by the dean. Faculty members are expected to keep regular office hours, to engage with students, and assist them with their academics or other activities that support the University’s holistic approach.

The standard teaching load is 24 credit hours of undergraduate courses per year or four courses per semester.

Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

About CCU

Colorado Christian University is the premier interdenominational Christian university in Colorado and the Rocky Mountain region.
Colorado Christian University was founded in 1914. CCU’s motto is—grace and truth. This motto comes from John 1.14: “And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, the glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.” (ESV)

CCU’s mission is Christ-centered higher education transforming students to impact the world with grace and truth.

Colorado Christian University cultivates knowledge and love of God in a Christ-centered community of learners and scholars, with an enduring commitment to the integration of exemplary academics, spiritual formation, and engagement with the world. We envision graduates who think critically and creatively, lead with high ethical and professional standards, embody the character and compassion of Jesus Christ, treasure the gospel, and who thereby are prepared to impact the world in their callings.

CCU’s embraces an educational model that was there at the foundation of many of the great western and American universities. It is made up of three pillars—competence, character and Christ-centered faith. Secular universities have abandoned two of those pillars. We think this is a major oversight that eventually undermines education. Furthermore, we believe this classical educational model is both life-giving and greatly needed in our time.

A leader in higher education, CCU has been consistently ranked in the top 2 percent of colleges and universities nationwide for its core curriculum by the American Council of Trustees and Alumni. CCU has had ten consecutive years of enrollment growth and has been named one of the five fastest-growing master’s granting universities by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

CCU offers more than 100 degree program options for traditional and adult students through its two colleges—the College of Undergraduate Studies and College of Adult and Graduate Studies. More than 8,000 students attend the University on the main campus, in regional centers throughout Colorado, and online.

What is most appealing about working at CCU?

1. Faith-friendly: CCU’s culture is unique to higher education. Where else can you pursue academic excellence yet read the Holy Bible, pray with teammates and students at work, and work to impact our culture in support of Christian values?
2. Convictionally Christian: As a university, we have an enduring commitment to Christ, his kingdom and the truth of God’s Word.
3. Live out your calling: We are a traditional evangelical university where you can invest your God-given talents and abilities alongside coworkers and teammates, while having a profound influence on students as they deepen their relationship with Jesus Christ.
4. Equip students for kingdom work: You can be a part of helping students discover their callings and preparing them for positions of significant leadership in the church, business, government, education, and other professions, as a key part of our University’s Strategic Priorities.
5. We’re looking for candidates who have:

   1. A Ph.D. in politics, history or a related field strongly preferred, master’s degree required. Each faculty member must be considered highly qualified as outlined by the University’s accreditation and academic standards.
2. Three or more years of successful teaching experience in a college or university (preferred) or classical academy, with a proven track record of student learning and engagement through previous classroom evaluations by students, faculty, and administration.
3. Deep understanding and appreciation of the significance and principles of the American founding, and the institutions of the American political system; ability to teach students to value this heritage in order to thoughtfully and wisely engage the challenges of the modern world.
4. Ability to incorporate primary texts and engage disciplines like history, law, economics, and theology in their teaching.
5. Superior oral, interpersonal, and written communication skills.
6. Passion for Christ-centered higher education and dedication to the integration of faith and learning in their field.
7. Deep commitment to student success.
8. Proficiency in appropriate Microsoft Office applications (Word, Excel, PowerPoint) and are able to use appropriate software/technology (Blackboard) in the learning environment.
9. Commitment to learning new ideas for classroom presentations and dynamic class interactions to engage student learning in a meaningful way consistent with the University’s mission.
10. Proven track record and ongoing experience in their field.

Workload

12-month contract. Responsible to teach 24 units per year (typically 4 undergraduate courses per semester).

Key Job Duties

1. Contribute to CCU’s mission: Christ-centered higher education transforming students to impact the world with grace and truth. The School of Humanities and Social Sciences faculty contribute to the University’s mission in the classroom and beyond, through activities such as committee/task force/team work, community development, or similar activities internally and externally, which enhance and advance exemplary academics, personal spiritual growth, and engagement with the world.
3. Teach assigned undergraduate courses within the College of Undergraduate Studies (CUS) in accord with all standard policies and procedures using a variety of best-practice teaching and learning strategies, including classroom and online technology, to enhance instruction.
4. Develop, implement, and evaluate course curriculum, teaching-learning practices, and assess student learning outcomes.
5. Engage students: maintain established office hours and be available to individual students for questions, coursework, consultations, and informal mentoring.
6. Engage in professional organization activities and scholarly work including, but not limited to, publications and presentations commensurate with experience and academic rank.
7. Provide strategic thinking in fulfilling the goals of the College of Undergraduate Studies in support of the University’s Strategic Priorities as well as contribute effectively to the University community, ministry partners, corporate partners, and general audiences. Strong participation in faculty, committee, or other meetings is an integral part of this position.
8. Add to the development of a Christ-centered community of learners and scholars within the College of Undergraduate Studies. Continue to grow in one’s academic field, and in personal commitment to and effectiveness in the integration of Christian faith and learning.
9. Provide effective servant/shepherd leadership among faculty, staff, students, and administrators.
10. Work effectively and positively with administrators, other faculty colleagues, and support staff to establish and maintain effective positive working relationships.
11. Participate in extracurricular activities to support and encourage students, colleagues and staff.
12. Assist the dean with other duties as assigned.

Work Environment

While performing the duties of this job, you may be required to walk, stand, sit, reach with hands and arms, balance, stoop, speak with clarity, and have appropriate vision and hearing capabilities. The employee must occasionally lift and/or move up to 25 pounds. The employee may work occasional irregular hours, including some nights and weekends. Regular public presentations to students, parents, and external constituents required. Colorado Christian University expects all faculty and staff to become a part of the University community by participating in activities and events that occur on the campus throughout the year, which may occur during evenings and weekends.

What we offer our employees:

We offer competitive compensation and benefits packages to all employees. Our benefit package includes: a tuition waiver program, excellent healthcare, generous paid time off, matching 403(b) retirement plan, and additional organizational paid benefits and voluntary benefit offerings. Pay and benefits will be discussed in more detail as candidates progress through the interview process.

Colorado Christian University’s pay philosophy is based on internal and external data for pay equity; along with budgetary considerations for effective stewardship. Faculty pay will be assigned by rank at a rate that we believe is within our salary structure or that may fit a candidate’s qualifications or experience for the job. A wage range posted is not a guarantee of a specific wage range for a job offer. CCU reserves the right to make pay decisions based on economic and equity considerations to attract the best possible talent. CCU does not determine pay based on sex or any other protected status.

Apply here: https://app.jobwire.com/j/j?aj=oiKpefwp&ts=APSA

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/26/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8518

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Part Time Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year 2021-2022

CSUN’s Commitment to You:

CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: http://www.csun.edu

About the College:
For information about the College, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences

About the Department:
For information about the department, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:

Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Qualifications:

1) With the exception of POLS 347, 450, 455, 457A, 457B & 471F, applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in Political Science or related field in the field of American Government, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Research Methodology, depending on the course for which the applicant is applying to teach.

2) For POLS 347, 450, 455, 457A, 457B, & 471F a JD may be substituted for the Ph.D.

3) University teaching experience in the fields of American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics or Research Methodology, depending on the course for which the applicant is applying to teach.

4) A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Salary Range
Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)
Paid in 6 monthly installments

Current Courses or Specialization
(Specify time if appropriate)

Lower division courses in:
(1) POLS155. American Political Institutions (2) POLS156. Introduction to Comparative Politics
(3) POLS 197. Ethnic Politics
(4) POLS 225. Elements of International Relations

Upper division courses in:
(1) POLS 310. Problems of Political Economy
(2) POLS 321. Comparative Political Ideologies
(3) POLS 332. Politics of Latin America
(4) POLS 347. The Judicial Process
(5) POLS 350. Great Questions in Politics
(6) POLS 355. American National, State and Local Governments
(7) POLS 360. Public Administration
(8) POLS 361. Introduction to Public Policy
(9) POLS 372. Principles and Methods of Political Science
(10) POLS 380. LA: Past, Present, Future
(11) POLS 403. State and Local Government
(12) POLS 404. Urban Politics
(13) POLS 405. The Process of Public Policy Formation
(14) POLS 406. Fundamentals of Policy Analysis
(15) POLS 407. Policy Implementation and Program Evaluation
(16) POLS 410. Advanced Comparative Politics
(17) POLS 411. Greek, Roman, and Medieval Political Theory
(18) POLS 412. Modern Western Political Theory
(19) POLS 413. American Political Thought
(20) POLS 414. Western Political Theory in the 20th Century
(21) POLS 420A-H. International Relations of Selected Areas
(A) Intl Rel Lat Amer
(B) Intl Rel W Eur
(C) Intl Rel E Eur
(D) Intl Rel Mid East
(E) Intl Rel Africa
(F) Intl Rel So Asia
(G) Intl Rel SE Asia
(H) Intl Rel SE Asia
(22) POLS 421. The Politics of Development
(23) POLS 422. International Politics
(24) POLS 423. Security Studies
(25) POLS 426. International Law
(26) POLS 427A/L. Model United Nations I and Lab
(27) POLS 427B/L. Model United Nations II and Lab
(28) POLS 428. International Organization
(29) POLS 429. United States Foreign Policy
(30) POLS 430A-Z. Government and Politics of Selected Nations
(31) POLS 432A. Politics of Mexico
(32) POLS 432B. Governments and Politics of South America
(33) POLS 433A. The Politics of Central America
(34) POLS 434A. Government and Politics of South Asia
(35) POLS 434B. Government and Politics of Southeast Asia
(36) POLS 435A. Government and Politics of China
(37) POLS 435B. Government and Politics of Japan
(38) POLS 436A. Government and Politics of Europe
(39) POLS 438. Governments and Politics of the Middle East
(40) POLS 439A. Government and Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa
(41) POLS 439B. Government and Politics of Southern Africa
(42) POLS 440. American Political Parties and Politics
(43) POLS 441. Interest Groups
(44) POLS 441A. Latina/o Politics
(45) POLS 443. The Legislative Process
(46) POLS 444. Elections and Voting Behavior
(47) POLS 445. Political Behavior
(48) POLS 446. The Presidency
(49) POLS 447A. Media & Politics
(50) POLS 448. Women & Politics in the US & the World
(51) POLS 449. The Politics of Community Action
(52) POLS 450. Jurisprudence
(53) POLS 455. Criminal Procedures
(54) POLS 457A. Constitutional Law
(55) POLS 457B. Constitutional Law II
(56) POLS 460. Welfare State
(57) POLS 461. Environmental Policy
(58) POLS 462. Ethics in Politics and Administration
(59) POLS 463. Public Personnel Administration
(60) POLS 464. Comparative Public Policy
(61) POLS 465. Administrative Behavior
(62) POLS 466. The Politics of Public Spending
(63) POLS 467. Urban Admin
(64) POLS 469/L. City Planning and Lab
(65) POLS 471A-F. Proseminar
(A) Amer Gov
(B) Comparative Gov
(C) International Relations
(D) Political Theory
(E) Public Admn
(F) Public Law
(66) POLS 480. The Politics of Globalization
(67) POLS 481. Globalization, Gender and Democratization
(68) POLS 490CA. Supervised Independent Project-California Government
(69) POLS 494I. Political Science Internship
(70) POLS 494J. Judicial Internship
(71) POLS 496GN. Political Development of Intellectual Property Law
(72) POLS 496SP. Sports and Politics

Graduate
(73) POLS 522A-G. Seminar in International Relations
(74) POLS 530A-J. Seminar in Comparative Government
(75) POLS 540A-J. Seminar in American Government and Politics
(76) POLS 570. Seminar in Political Theory
(77) POLS 571. Seminar in Methodology.

Application Process:
Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 – 2022: March 26, 2021

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:
Dr. Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street
Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

(Checklist) PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:
155 American Political Institutions
156 Introduction to Comparative Politics
157 American Political Institutions
158 Introduction to Comparative Politics
Political Science Jobs

February 2021

197 Ethnic Politics
225 Elements of International Relations
310 Problems of Political Economy
321 Comparative Political Ideologies
332 Politics of Latin America
347 The Judicial Process
350 Great Questions in Politics
355 American National, State and Local Govts
360 Public Administration
361 Introduction to Public Policy
372 Principles and Methods of Political Science
380 Los Angeles: Past, Present, Future
403 State and Local Government
404 Urban Politics
405 The Process of Public Policy Formation
406 Fundamentals of Policy Analysis
407 Policy Implementation and Program Evaluation
410 Advanced Comparative Politics
411 Greek, Roman and Medieval Political Theory
412 Modern Western Political Theory
413 American Political Thought
414 Western Political Theory in the 20th Century
420A-H International Relations of Selected Areas
(A) International Relations Latin America
(B) International Relations Western Europe
(C) International Relations Eastern Europe
(D) International Relations Middle East
(E) International Relations Africa
(F) International Relations South Asia
(G) International Relations Southeast Asia
(H) International Relations Northeast Asia
421 The Politics of Development
422 International Politics
423 Security Studies
426 International Law
427A/L Model United Nations I and Lab
427B/L Model United Nations II and Lab
428 International Organization
429 United States Foreign Policy
430A-Z Government and Politics of Selected Nations
432A Politics of Mexico
432B Governments and Politics of South America
433A The Politics of Central America
434A Government and Politics of South Asia
434B Government and Politics of Southeast Asia
435A Government and Politics of China
435B Government and Politics of Japan
436A Government and Politics of Europe
438 Governments and Politics of the Middle East
439A Government and Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa
439B Government and Politics of Southern Africa
440 American Political Parties and Politics
441 Interest Groups
441A Latino/a Politics
443 The Legislative Process
444 Elections and Voting Behavior
445 Political Behavior
446 The Presidency
447A Media and Politics
448 Women & Politics in the US and the World
449 The Politics of Community Action
450 Jurisprudence
455 Criminal Procedure
457A Constitutional Law I
457B Constitutional Law II
460 Welfare State
461 Environmental Policy
462 Ethics in Politics and Administration
463 Public Personnel Administration
464 Comparative Public Policy
465 Administrative Behavior
466 The Politics of Public Spending
467 Urban Administration
469/L City Planning and Lab
471A-F Proseminar
(A) Proseminar American Government
(B) Proseminar Comparative Government
(C) Proseminar International Relations
(D) Proseminar Political Theory
(E) Proseminar Public Admin & Public Policy
(F) Proseminar Public Law
480 The Politics of Globalization
481 Globalization, Gender and Democratization
490CA Supervised Independent Project-CA Gov’t
494I Political Science Internship
494J Judicial Internship
496IN Political Development of Intellectual Property Law
496SP Sports and Politics
522A-G Seminar in International Relations
(A) Seminar in American Government
(B) Seminar in Comparative Government
(C) Seminar in International Relations
(D) Seminar in Political Theory
(E) Seminar in Public Admin & Public Policy
(F) Seminar in Public Law
490CA Supervised Independent Project-CA Gov’t
522A-G Seminar in International Relations
530A-J Seminar in Comparative Government
530A-J Seminar in American Govt and Politics
570 Seminar in Political Theory
571 Seminar in Methodology

General Information:
In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/26/2021
Date Posted: 1/25/2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8514

California State University, Northridge
Rank: Part Time Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science
Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year 2021-2022

CSUN’s Commitment to You:
CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: http://www.csun.edu

About the College:
For information about the College, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences

About the Department:
For information about the department, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:
Instructors for in-person Washington, DC-based classes in support of the CSUN in DC Internship Program. Specific classes are listed below.
Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Current Salary Range:
Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)
Paid in 6 monthly installments

Courses or Specialization:
Upper division courses in:
1. POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
2. POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
3. POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
4. POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Qualifications:
Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy or must have at least 10 years of professional experience working in government, politics, non-profit management, or advocacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in their field. University teaching experience is strongly preferred. A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Application Process:
Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 - 2022: March 26, 2021

(Checklist)PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:
__POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
__POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
__POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
__POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 – 2022: March 26, 2021

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:
Dr. Tom Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street
Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

General Information:
In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8515

University of California, Davis
Rank: Assistant Adjunct Professorship

The UC Center Sacramento (UCCS) is pleased to announce a one-year Assistant Adjunct Professorship for 2021-2022 in American Politics and Public Policy. We welcome new or recent Ph.D scholars with an interest in California state politics and policy. Degree must be completed by June 30, 2021.

The University of California Center, Sacramento (UCCS) is a system-wide program of the University of California. Since its inception in 2004, the program has offered UC students from across the 10-campus system opportunities to study public policy and journalism through seminars and internships in and around the state Capitol. The Center also serves as a conduit through which research-based knowledge generated on the 10 campuses is disseminated to lawmakers, legislative staff, and executive branch officials.

The Assistant Adjunct Professor will be responsible for teaching Political Science undergraduate courses as well as performing administrative duties assigned as part of the UCCS leadership team. Duties include teaching four undergraduate courses per year, and in addition, to contribute materially towards the Center’s mission to increase student knowledge generated on the 10 campuses is disseminated to lawmakers, legislative staff, and executive branch officials.

The appointment will be housed at UCCS located in Sacramento, California. The UCCS Assistant Adjunct Professor salary is competitive and includes health benefits.

In evaluating the candidates, the following criteria will be used: coursework and demonstrated knowledge of American Politics and public policy; quality of the graduate training program; demonstration of teaching ability; experience with research methods and evidence-based policy analysis; letters of recommendation; ability to complete degree before appointment; and interview. An acquaintance with California politics and policy making is considered advantageous.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, CV, teaching evaluations, statement on teaching, writing sample, and three letters of reference through the online application form found at https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/JPF03950. For full consideration applications must be received by March 4, 2021. The position is open until filled.

The University of California is an equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of diversity among its faculty and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/25/2021

Our Lady of the Lake University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Our Lady of the Lake University (OLLU), website: www.ollusa.edu seeks a full-time, non-tenure-track assistant professor for its Political Science Program to begin in the fall of 2021. OLLU, located near beautiful downtown San Antonio, is a Catholic university sponsored by the Congregation of Divine Providence. The University is a Hispanic-Serving Institution (HSI) of approximately 3,100 students with additional campuses in Houston and the Rio Grande Valley. The Political Science Program offers a BA and minor and also serves the University by offering distribution requirements in its general-education program. The successful candidate will be committed to the mission of OLLU, to excellent teaching, and to developing this Program.

Required Qualifications:

Demonstrated evidence of excellence and effectiveness in teaching with a student-centered approach;
Utilization of high-impact practices such as service-learning and experiential learning, and use of innovative pedagogy;
Active research agenda and potential for research publication;
Enthusiasm for connecting political science to Hispanic experience(s) and first-generation college students, both majors and non-majors, and deep commitment to the mission and character of the University; and PhD in Political Science or J.D./Ph.D.

Preferred Qualifications:

Specialization in American politics and government, judicial and constitutional studies, local and state politics, political communication and media, public policy/public administration;
Experience with and commitment to mentoring students; and experience working with and supporting a culturally diverse, urban population in a Hispanic-Serving Institution.

Application Instructions: For consideration, apply online at https://ollusa.interviewexchange.com.

Please complete the online Application for Academic Employment and attach the following: letter of interest, curriculum vitae, unofficial copies of all graduate transcripts, and a list of three professional references. All materials above must be submitted together and at one time. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue through February 14, 2021.

Applicants may contact Dr. Leda Barnett, Professor and Political Science Program Head, College of Arts and Sciences, at lmbarnett@ollusa.edu with questions regarding the position, the Program, or Our Lady of the Lake University.

Employment with Our Lady of the Lake University is contingent upon a background investigation.

OLLU is a Catholic university that seeks to attract, develop, and retain the highest quality faculty, staff, and administrators. OLLU is committed to diversity and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities. EOE.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/14/2021
Date Posted: 1/22/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8512

Pi Sigma Alpha
Rank: Executive Director
Subfield(s): Open, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

Pi Sigma Alpha is looking for a dynamic, mission-driven leader who is passionate about helping PSA stimulate student scholarship and intellectual interest in political science.

About Pi Sigma Alpha: Founded at the University of Texas in 1920, Pi Sigma Alpha's mission is to stimulate scholarship and intellectual interest in political science through a variety of programs for student members and local chapters. A nonpartisan organization, Pi Sigma Alpha is the only honor society for college students of political science and government in the United States. It is open to graduate and upper-level undergraduate students who have met the organization's criteria for academic excellence.

The Main Roles of the Executive Director:
The Executive Director serves as the head of the organization and is responsible for overseeing the administration, programs, and strategic plan of Pi Sigma Alpha. This position requires a dynamic, mission-driven leader who is passionate about helping PSA stimulate student scholarship and intellectual interest in political science. The Executive Director is responsible for planning and executing the goals and operational plans of PSA, as well as ensuring the financial health and legal compliance of the organization.

Core Accountabilities:

- Oversee the day-to-day operations of the organization and ensure its long-term success.
- Plan, actively manage, and oversee the organization's operations and programs, while ensuring the organization's financial sustainability.
- Oversee and regularly report on the organization's operations, finances, and programs to The Executive Committee.
- Provide thoughtful executive leadership that supports and guides the organization's mission as defined by The Executive Committee.
- Establish long-term and short-term goals, objectives, and operational plans in collaboration with The Executive Committee.
- Plan and execute PSA's largest annual event, The National Student Research Conference.
- Facilitate the publication of the PSA Undergraduate Journal of Politics, which includes budgeting, oversight, and coordination with the editorial team.
- Oversee and manage all grants made to local chapters (awarded annually).
- Work with General Counsel to ensure overall compliance in all legal matters.
- Work with the Portfolio Manager to ensure the long-term financial health of PSA.
- Provide strong communication with all constituents, including: Communicate effectively with The Executive Committee by continually providing all information necessary for members to make informed decisions in a timely and accurate manner; Communicate effectively and consistently with all student members and Chapter Advisors; Effectively represent the organization in person or virtually (as appropriate) and through social media (Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, etc.) to promote a positive organizational image.
- Manage the accounting for PSA, ensuring compliance in all tax and related matters.
- Apply innovative thinking and performance measurements to analyze and support strategic decision-making.
- Contribute to the strategic plan and drive its implementation.
- Promote diversity and inclusion practices among membership and Chapter Advisors, ensuring engagement and resources for all students with intellectual interests in political science.
- Oversee, manage, and mentor all full- or part-time interns or employees.
- Perform general management duties ensuring the successful, continuous operations of the organization.

What you bring to the job:
- A passion for PSA's student members and Chapter Advisors.
- A passion for learning and promoting academic excellence.
- Impeccable communication skills, both verbal and written.
- A desire to continually and consistently develop PSA to best serve our members.
- An openness to ideas and the desire to consistently evaluate yourself and our organization to ensure constant improvement.
- Core traits of diligence, collaboration, an inquisitive mind, and a commitment to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Technical Skills:
- Bachelor’s Degree
- 5 – 10 Years of Managerial Experience, or equivalent

Previous Experience:
- Previous work within academia, preferably within political science
- Previous work with a non-profit organization in an executive capacity; preferably with a membership or chapter-based organization
- Previous experience planning and executing large scale events with upwards of 500 participants

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
• Understanding of non-profit finance
• Understanding of non-profit legal compliance
• Previous experience promoting an organization across social media platforms
• Ability to maintain and update the organization’s website

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8488

Harvard University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2021-2022

Postdoctoral Fellowship for 2021-2022. Offered by the Program on Constitutional Government, Harvard University - Harvey Mansfield, Director.

The Program on Constitutional Government in the Center for American Political Studies and the FAS Department of Government at Harvard University will offer one postdoctoral fellowship for the 2021-2022 academic year. The stipend is $55,000. Applicants must have received their doctorates no earlier than spring 2018 and no later than June 2021. They should have a record of teaching and writing in the fields of political theory or American government and politics, with an emphasis on the theoretical foundations or institutional and political consequences of the American Constitution.

A cover letter, resume, research proposal, and brief writing sample with names of two references should be sent in that order as one pdf document, labeled as such: Last Name, First Name – PCG Postdoc app 2021-22.

Applications and any questions should be directed to Laura Donaldson at ldonaldson@fas.harvard.edu. The application review process will begin on April 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/14/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8482

University of Colorado, Colorado Springs
Rank: Visiting Distinguished Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law
Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The Center for the Study of Government and the Individual at the University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS) is currently seeking a full-time visiting distinguished professor. This position is part of the Program on the American Constitution, which is part of the Regents Civics Initiative. To be successful, a candidate will be a distinguished scholar in American politics. The ideal candidate will be a scholar on sabbatical from his or her home institution, and the center will cover the part of the salary not being covered from the candidate’s home institution along with ancillary costs. The scholar in this position will teach an advanced course for CSGI Honors Scholars and other distinguished students. Both one-semester and full-year appointments are possible.

Who We Are:
The University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS) is one of four campuses in the University of Colorado system and is home to over 10,500 undergraduate and 1,900 graduate students.

Colorado Springs (pop. 400K+) is situated at the base of Pikes Peak, offers many recreational and cultural activities and was recently ranked by U.S. News & World Report as one of the top Best Places to Live in the U.S.

This position has been determined to be exempt from the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).

What We Offer:
The University of Colorado Colorado Springs offers a comprehensive benefits package. Information on benefits programs, including eligibility, is located at: http://www cu edu/employee-services.

Tentative Search Timeline:
The potential dates for interviews with the search committee will be the week of February 8, 2021. The potential dates for interviews with the supervisor and appointing authority will be the week of February 22, 2021. The potential employee start date is August 15, 2021. The University of Colorado Colorado Springs is committed to providing a safe and productive learning, living and working community. To assist in achieving this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial and/or motor vehicle history check.

UCCS is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. In compliance with applicable laws and in furtherance of its commitment to fostering an environment that welcomes and embraces diversity, the University of Colorado does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, disability, age, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, political affiliation or political philosophy in its programs or activities, including employment, admissions, and educational programs. Alternative formats of this ad can be provided upon request for individuals with disabilities by contacting the Office of Human Resources at (719) 255-3372.

To perform this job successfully, an individual must be able to perform each of the established essential functions and meet the physical and environmental demands described satisfactorily. The requirements listed are representative of the knowledge, skill, ability, physical and environmental conditions required of the employee on the job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions, physical and environmental demands.

Applicants with disabilities: If you have a mental or physical impairment, which limits one of your major life activities (e.g., walking, hearing, seeing, speaking, breathing, or learning) and require special accommodations for testing or interviewing, it is your responsibility to notify the office scheduling the interview or test at least 3 working days before the interview or test date. If you need special accommodations at the work site, you must notify the appointing authority or Human Resources.

The Immigration Reform and Control Act requires that verification of employment eligibility be documented for all new employees by the end of the third day of work.
Qualifications

Minimum Requirements:

PhD

Established scholar with a national reputation

Physical Requirements:

While performing the duties of this job, the employee is frequently required to stand and walk. Employee is occasionally required to have long periods of sitting, moderate bending, moderate energy requirements and fine motor skills. The employee must occasionally lift and/or move up to 20 pounds.

Special Instructions to Applicants: • Applications submitted by Friday, January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. • Applications submitted through email or surface mail will not be considered. Please apply at CU www.cu.edu/cu-careers (job #: 19385). • Upon request, please be prepared to provide five professional references (at least two previous/current supervisors), including their email contact information. • Official transcripts will be required upon hire.

If you have technical difficulties with your application, please contact the CU Careers help desk at 303-860-4200 #5 or cucareershelp@cu.edu. Job related inquiries should be directed to the posting contact. The University of Colorado Colorado Springs will not sponsor work visas or permanent resident applications for this position.

Application Materials Required: Cover Letter, Resume/CV

Application Materials Instructions: To apply, please submit the following application materials to this posting. 1. A current CV/resume. Must include date ranges and whether the position was full time or part time. 2. A cover letter that specifically addresses the job requirements and outlines qualifications. When submitting the materials, check the Job Specific Attachments box next to each document in order for the search committee members to see your materials.

Job Category: Faculty

Primary Location: Colorado Springs

Department: C0001 -- Colorado Springs Campus - 40364 - AA-Cntr Study of Govt & Indiv

Schedule: Part-time

Posting Date: Dec 1, 2020

Unposting Date: Ongoing

Posting Contact Name: Verlan Lewis

Posting Contact Email: vlewis@uccs.edu

Position Number: 00779429

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/14/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 8487

Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2021. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu. Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning February 15, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by February 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/13/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8477

Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation & Library

Rank: Reagan Postdoctoral Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, History & Politics, Foreign Policy

The purpose of the Visiting Fellows Program is to advance scholarship focused on the political, economic, and national security ideas and values of President Ronald Reagan. Visiting Fellows will be selected based on the relevance of their research to these principles. Proposals will also be judged on the likelihood of completion of a book manuscript during the fellowship period.

The fellowship year will begin in Washington, DC in September 2021 and last until August 2022. Reagan Visiting Fellows are required to be resident at the Institute’s new headquarters in downtown Washington, DC. Each fellow will be provided with office space. The Institute will facilitate research, expand the fellows’ contacts, and grow the fellows’ visibility in the Washington policy community.

Program Benefits

• In addition to a stipend of $75,000, each Fellow will receive a $5,000 budget for research related travel.
• Mentorship from senior academics who will advise the Fellows and review a book manuscript.
• One-on-one support from an archivist at the Reagan Presidential Library.
• Opportunity to participate and present at the Reagan Virtual Scholars Roundtable, a monthly convening of academics and policymakers who study topics related to the Reagan Presidency.

Program Requirements

• All applicants must submit proof of having successfully defended their dissertation by August 15, 2021.
• Acceptance of the award constitutes a commitment by each fellow to produce a book manuscript by the end of the Fellowship year.
• Applications should be emailed to ReaganFellowship@reaganfoundation.org no later than 11:59 EST on Friday, March 5, 2021.

Application Instructions (please send all files in PDF form)

1. Executive Summary (Maximum of 1 page)
   • Name, Address, Contact Information
   • University Affiliation and Dissertation Advisor and contact information
   • Names and contact information for 2 recommenders
   • One paragraph summary description of research question and project’s relevance to Ronald Reagan

2. Project Proposal (Maximum of 3 pages)
   • Proposal should begin with a clear description of the policy issue being examined and a description of how this issue is linked to the ideas and vision of Ronald Reagan.
   • Proposal should consider contemporary implications of the policy issue being examined.
   • Description of research methods and approach – if the Reagan Library is likely to be a source for research, please explain.
   • Notional book outline

3. Writing Sample (less than 20 pages)

4. CV/Resume

5. Transcripts & Letters of Recommendation
   • Unofficial school transcripts and two letters of recommendation must be sent directly from your university and your recommenders to ReaganFellowship@ReaganFoundation.org.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/5/2021
Date Posted: 1/8/2021

Indian Institute of Philosophy Jobs

Indiana University Kokomo

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

The Department of History, Political Science, and Philosophy at Indiana University Kokomo invites applications for a visiting lecturer in Political Science beginning August 1, 2021 and for the 2021-22 academic year. Candidates must hold at minimum a master’s degree with 18 graduate hours in Political Science; however, a Ph.D. is preferred. An appropriate level of university, professional, and community service is required, such as committee work, assessment of the major, and engagement in campus initiatives to increase retention and enrollment.

The course load will be four classes per semester. Typically, this will break down as two sections of Intro to American Politics, one of a three-course sequence (Intro to Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Political Theory), and an upper-level class. Preference will be for the ability to offer upper-level courses on topics of United States politics such as: political institutions; campaigns and elections; civic engagement; race, ethnicity, and politics; gender and politics; public policy; and law and courts. Willingness to teach some classes online and experience doing so are also desirable. The deadline for full consideration is February 1, 2021, but applications will be taken until the position is filled.

One of eight campuses of Indiana University, Indiana University Kokomo is a comprehensive, non-residential campus located 50 miles north of Indianapolis in Kokomo, Indiana, a city of a population of about 50,000. Committed to student success, the campus serves approximately 3,100. IU Kokomo has approximately 260 full-time faculty and staff. Baccalaureate and master’s degrees are offered. Additional information about Indiana University Kokomo can be accessed at http://www.iuk.edu. Persons with disabilities who need assistance to participate in this application process should contact the Office of Affirmative Action at 765-455-9316.

Indiana University Kokomo seeks faculty skilled at working with members of diverse cultures and committed to preparing students to be engaged members of an increasingly diverse society.

Interested candidates should review the application requirement and submit their application at https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/10280. The application must include a cover letter, current CV, and three professional reference letters. Questions regarding the position or application process can be directed to Andrew McFarland, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History, Chair, Department of History, Philosophy, and Political Science, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, ammcfar@iuk.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8465
Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Polarization and Social Change Lab

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Communication, Political Behavior

Postdoctoral Research Associate: Polarization and Social Change Lab

Stanford’s Polarization and Social Change Lab (PI: Robb Willer) has an opening for a postdoctoral researcher, to begin in Fall of 2021. We seek an innovative, accomplished scholar who has, or expects, a PhD in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field and who has an interest in working in a problem-focused, multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

The Postdoctoral Associate will be responsible for co-designing and leading research projects in one or more of the following areas: political polarization; framing, messaging, and persuasion; political dimensions of inequality; social movement mobilization; and online political behavior. Expertise in any of a range of research methods is valued, with a particular emphasis on field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g. text analysis, social network analysis).

Mentorship Structure

The position will be supervised by Prof. Robb Willer and will involve collaborating with PhD students, post-docs, faculty, and staff affiliated with the lab. Mentorship of the Postdoctoral Associate will be structured according to research and professional interests.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that values rigorous inquiry and diverse perspectives, experiences, backgrounds, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange.

Required Qualifications:

Applicants should have or expect to have a PhD by September 1st, 2021.

Relevant research in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field.

Experience designing and carrying out rigorous research in one or several of the following areas: field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g. text analysis, social network analysis)

Interest in working in a multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

Demonstrated excellence in written and oral communication.

Interest in communicating research findings to diverse audiences, including non-academic audiences.

Preferred Qualifications:

Intellectual creativity and innovation

Methodological rigor

Intellectual and practical autonomy

Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills

Required Application Materials:

CV

Statement of interest (maximum 1.5 pages)

2-3 attached writing samples

2 letters of reference (letters of reference should be submitted separately)

Stanford is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Important Info

Faculty Sponsor (Last, First Name): Willer, Robb

Stanford Departments and Centers: Sociology

Postdoc Appointment Term: 1 year with possibility of 2nd year renewal

Appointment Start Date: Fall 2021

Group or Departmental Website: https://www.pascl.stanford.edu/

How to Submit Application Materials: Interested candidates should submit the required application materials via the following link: https://bit.ly/3ois29l

Please contact Chrystral Redekopp at redekopp@stanford.edu with any additional questions.

Review of applications will begin January 21, 2021

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8464

Samford University

Rank: Teaching Postdoctoral Instructor

Teaching Postdoctoral Instructor Position, Department of Political Science (9-month, Non-Tenure)

Samford University’s Howard College of Arts and Sciences invites individuals interested in serving in a Christian university environment to apply for a teaching postdoctoral instructor position in the Political Science Department, beginning August 2021. This non-tenure position is a full-time, one-year appointment and may be renewable one time for a maximum of two years.

Qualified candidates will have earned a Ph.D. in Political Science within the past three years from an institutionally accredited university and be able to teach upper-level courses in American political institutions (e.g., Courts, Congress, Presidency) as well as two courses per semester in the university’s interdisciplinary core curriculum, which includes a freshman writing seminar on humanities or social science topics. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

The successful candidate should have a strong commitment to classroom teaching, student development and mentorship, and collegial collaboration. The candidate also should be familiar with online teaching technology and have an active research agenda. Departmental funds may be available for research support and other research funds can be earned on a competitive basis.

Samford University (www.samford.edu) is the largest privately supported and fully accredited institution for higher learning in Alabama. Located in suburban Birmingham, the University was founded in 1841 and has 425 full time faculty and more than 5,700 students representing 44 states and 30 countries. Samford has been nationally recognized for academics, affordability and value by a number of prestigious publications and rankings. The Wall Street Journal ranks

20 February 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Samford 2nd nationally for student engagement and Kiplinger’s Personal Finance ranks Samford 34th among private universities in the U.S. for value and affordability. The University is dedicated to the promotion of rigorous academic inquiry in a Christian setting. The University offers competitive salaries with a generous benefits package.

Applications will be accepted beginning January 6th, 2021. Review of applications will begin April 1, 2021 and applications will not be accepted beyond that date. Please submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae with names and contact information of three references, description of teaching experience, description of research interests and activities, along with an application for faculty position and the faculty applicant Christian mission statement, both accessible at the links below. The successful candidate must pass a background check. Applicants must be authorized to work in the United States, as Samford will not sponsor any employment visas for this position.

Please submit all materials in PDF format to: FACAPP@samford.edu
Subject: Postdoctoral Instructor – Political Science

Questions may be addressed to the search committee chair:
Dr. Lee Trepanier at ltrepani@samford.edu

Exception as specifically exempted by federal law requirements, Samford University does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, national or ethnic origin, disability or age in the administration or application of its educational programs and policies, admissions policies, employment policies, scholarship and loan programs. Consistent with its Christian mission and organizations, Samford is exempt from the religious provisions of Title VII pursuant to 42 U.S.C. Sections 2000e-1(a) and 2000e-2(e).

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open untilFilled
Date Posted: 1/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8462

American Civil Liberties Union
Rank: Redistricting Fellow
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Non-Academic

The ACLU seeks applicants for a full-time fellowship position of one year in the Analytics Department of the ACLU’s National office. The individual in this role will join the Analytics Department of the ACLU National Office (either on-site in NYC or remote). The prospective start date will be in March 2021. Additional information can be found at https://www.aclu.org/careers/apply/?job=5010480002&type=fulltime, and the link to apply can be found at https://boards.greenhouse.io/aclu/jobs/5010480002#application.

Reporting to the Director, Legal Analytics & Quantitative Research, the Redistricting Fellow will apply cutting-edge empirical methods from the social sciences to quantitative legal and research questions on redistricting and voting rights that inform the ACLU’s litigation, advocacy, and voter engagement work. This role will specialize in ensuring a fair and non-partisan redistricting process, working in close partnership with our Voting Rights Project, advocacy staff, and ACLU affiliates. This includes partnering with ACLU attorneys and organizers across a range of redistricting and voting rights issues to shape research questions, conduct analyses (ranging from descriptive analytics to simulation and outlier analyses), and translate the results of quantitative analyses for a non-technical audience.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 1/18/2021
Date Posted: 1/5/2021
Salary: $100,000 - $109,999
eJobs ID: 8459

Ashland University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Non-Tenure Track)
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, United States, History & Politics

The Department of History and Political Science at Ashland University (www.ashland.edu) seeks a broadly educated individual to fill a renewable, non-tenure track faculty position in Political Science. Preference will be given to those willing and able to teach the department’s introductory courses in U.S. history.

Position Summary:
Candidates must demonstrate excellence in and a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and must be willing to advise undergraduate theses and participate fully in the life of the department.

Position Requirements:
Successful candidate will possess (or be near to completing) a PhD in political science, with a specialization in U.S. political institutions and constitutional law.
Experience leading seminar-style discussions based on primary sources. To apply online, go to https://www.ashland.edu/administration/content/assistant-professor-political-science-non-tenure-track-college-arts-and-sciences

Please send a letter of application, current CV, three (3) letters of recommendation, writing sample, and copies of transcripts to Chair, Department of History and Political Science, at histpolsc@ashland.edu. Review of application materials will begin February 5, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

American Civil Liberties Union
Rank: Redistricting Fellow
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Non-Academic

The ACLU seeks applicants for a full-time fellowship position of one year in the Analytics Department of the ACLU’s National office. The individual in this role will join the Analytics Department of the ACLU National Office (either on-site in NYC or remote). The prospective start date will be in March 2021. Additional information can be found at https://www.aclu.org/careers/apply/?job=5010480002&type=fulltime, and the link to apply can be found at https://boards.greenhouse.io/aclu/jobs/5010480002#application.

Reporting to the Director, Legal Analytics & Quantitative Research, the Redistricting Fellow will apply cutting-edge empirical methods from the social sciences to quantitative legal and research questions on redistricting and voting rights that inform the ACLU’s litigation, advocacy, and voter engagement work. This role will specialize in ensuring a fair and non-partisan redistricting process, working in close partnership with our Voting Rights Project, advocacy staff, and ACLU affiliates. This includes partnering with ACLU attorneys and organizers across a range of redistricting and voting rights issues to shape research questions, conduct analyses (ranging from descriptive analytics to simulation and outlier analyses), and translate the results of quantitative analyses for a non-technical audience.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 1/18/2021
Date Posted: 1/5/2021
Salary: $100,000 - $109,999
eJobs ID: 8459

Ashland University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Non-Tenure Track)
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, United States, History & Politics

The Department of History and Political Science at Ashland University (www.ashland.edu) seeks a broadly educated individual to fill a renewable, non-tenure track faculty position in Political Science. Preference will be given to those willing and able to teach the department’s introductory courses in U.S. history.

Position Summary:
Candidates must demonstrate excellence in and a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and must be willing to advise undergraduate theses and participate fully in the life of the department.

Position Requirements:
Successful candidate will possess (or be near to completing) a PhD in political science, with a specialization in U.S. political institutions and constitutional law.
Experience leading seminar-style discussions based on primary sources. To apply online, go to https://www.ashland.edu/administration/content/assistant-professor-political-science-non-tenure-track-college-arts-and-sciences

Please send a letter of application, current CV, three (3) letters of recommendation, writing sample, and copies of transcripts to Chair, Department of History and Political Science, at histpolsc@ashland.edu. Review of application materials will begin February 5, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.
California State University, San Bernardino
Rank: Assistant Professor in Constitutional Law and American Politics

California State University, San Bernardino (CSUSB) is located in San Bernardino in the Inland Empire, 60 miles east of Los Angeles and operates a satellite campus in Palm Desert located in Coachella Valley. CSUSB serves approximately 20,000 students, of which 81% are first-generation college students and graduates about 5,000 students annually. As a designated Hispanic Serving Institution, CSUSB reflects the dynamic diversity of the region and has one of the most diverse student populations of any university in the Inland Empire, and the second highest Hispanic enrollment of all public universities in California. CSUSB employs 467 full-time faculty and offers 48 undergraduate, 35 graduate, and one doctoral degree programs and 14 academic programs with national accreditation.

At CSUSB, diversity, equity and inclusion are values central to our mission. We recognize that diversity and inclusion in all its forms are necessary for our institutional success. By fully leveraging our diverse experiences, backgrounds and insights, we inspire innovation, challenge the status quo and create better outcomes for our students and community. As part of CSUSB’s commitment to hire, develop and retain a diverse faculty, we offer a variety of networking, mentoring and development programs for our junior faculty. We are committed to building and sustaining a CSUSB community that is supportive and inclusive of all individuals. Qualified applicants with experience in ethnically diverse settings and/or who demonstrate a commitment to serving diverse student populations are strongly encouraged to apply. CSUSB has received the Carnegie Community Engagement classification, which recognizes CSUSB’s ongoing commitment to service-learning, a high-impact practice that combines classroom instruction with meaningful volunteer service and correlates strongly to student success.

JOB SUMMARY
The Department of Political Science seeks applicants for a tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of Constitutional Law, including civil liberties and civil rights, and American Politics, including political institutions and public policy, to begin in the Fall Semester of 2021. A Ph.D. is required at the time of appointment. We expect successful candidates for this tenure-track position to teach courses in Constitutional Law and American Politics. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach lower-division American Government courses. In addition, the candidate may be asked to teach graduate courses. The successful candidate will produce scholarly research and provide service to the university and community.

TYPICAL ACTIVITIES
Preferred candidates will be expected to meet the traditional requirements of excellence in teaching, active scholarly and professional work, mentoring a diverse student population, and service to the university and community.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS
Candidates must hold Ph.D. in Political Science or related field at time of employment and demonstrate evidence of teaching and research promise.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS
The person holding this position is considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Following a conditional offer of employment, a background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate may start work with CSUSB. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may result in the withdrawal of the offer of employment. Note: CSUSB cannot deny an applicant a position solely or in part due to a criminal conviction history until it has performed an individualized assessment and linked the relevant conviction history with specific job duties in the position being sought.

Please note: Current employees who are offered positions on campus will be required to undergo a background check for any position where a background check is required by law or that CSUSB has designated as sensitive. Sensitive positions are those requiring heightened scrutiny of individuals holding the position based on potential for harm to children, concerns for the safety and security of people, animals, or property, or heightened risk of financial loss to CSUSB or individuals in the university community.

For health and well-being, CSUSB is a smoke & tobacco-free campus. The university is committed to promoting a healthy environment for all members of our community.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT
To find out more about the Department of Political Science: http://csbs.csusb.edu/political-science.

For more information regarding the position, please contact:

Recruitment Chair
Dr. Meredith Conroy
(909) 537-5414
mconroy@csusb.edu

Department Chair
Dr. Brian Janiskee
(909) 537-5538
janiskee@csusb.edu

HOW TO APPLY
Please submit:
1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Cover Letter that includes: a. A statement of your teaching interest/philosophy
b. A statement of your research experience/plans
3. If available, evidence of teaching effectiveness such as teaching portfolios, reports on teaching observations, and/or student evaluations of teaching.
4. Unofficial copies of all postsecondary degree transcripts (official transcripts will be required prior to appointment).
5. Reference List - names, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three (3) referees whom we may contact to obtain letters of recommendation. Confidential letters of recommendation will be solicited from those listed as references on the application if the applicant is moved forward in the recruitment process. Non-confidential letters of recommendation can be uploaded by the applicant during the application process.
6. Diversity Statement, which may include your interpretation of diversity, equity and inclusion, and must include specific examples of how your background and your educational and/or professional experiences have prepared you for this role at California State University, San Bernardino (maximum 1,000 words).
The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

This position may be “Designated” under California State University’s Conflict of Interest Code. This would require the filing of a Statement of Economic Interest on an annual basis and the completion of training within 6 months of assuming office and every 2 years thereafter. Visit the Human Resources Conflict of Interest webpage link for additional information: https://www.csusb.edu/human-resources/current-employees/employee-relations/conflict-interest

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8454

San Diego State University
Rank: Public Law and Race in America
Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Judicial Politics, American Politics

The Political Science Department at San Diego State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law and Race in America at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin Fall 2021. Applicants should demonstrate a well-developed research agenda, a promise of sustained scholarship and a record of effective teaching.

The department seeks a scholar who does research on the evolving role of law in both shaping and challenging racist structures and attitudes toward racial minorities, especially African Americans. The scholar should demonstrate a capacity to engage underlying normative issues and debates on such themes. Within the framework of law and race in America, topics of interest may include but are not limited to protest movements, economic justice, gender and sexuality, legal mobilization, the U.S. Constitution, and comparative analyses. The department is open to a diversity of scholarly approaches, including but not limited to Critical Race Theory and Law and Society. The successful candidate will be able to teach a range of courses in public law as well as courses on the intersection of politics and race.

The Political Science Department at San Diego State is dedicated to the ideal of the engaged teacher-scholar. It has over five hundred undergraduate majors and provides course offerings for students with a wide variety of backgrounds and interests. At the graduate level, the department maintains an M.A. program of high quality. The members of the faculty share a strong commitment to collegiality, active participation in the governing of the department, innovative scholarship, methodological pluralism, rigorous teaching, and robust intellectual and normative engagement.

San Diego State University is the largest university in San Diego and the third largest in California. The highly diverse campus community has a student population of over 36,000 and approximately 5,849 faculty and staff. SDSU is included in the Carnegie Foundation’s Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity category. Established in 1897, SDSU offers bachelor degrees in 84 areas, masters in 76 and doctorates in 21. See http://www.sdsu.edu for more information. SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.

Consistent with SDSU’s mission, we seek applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups. This search is part of an SDSU cluster initiative to hire "faculty who have a demonstrated history of working with and supporting the African-American community." For more information, see https://sacd.sdsu.edu/diversity-initiatives/aa-cluster-hires. Candidates must satisfy three or more of the eight Building on Inclusive Excellence (BIE) criteria, adjusted according to the cluster initiative of this hire: (a) committed to engaging in service with African American populations; (b) demonstrated knowledge of barriers for African American students and faculty; (c) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (d) experience or has demonstrated commitment to integrating understanding of African American populations and communities into research; (e) experience in or has demonstrated commitment to extending knowledge of opportunities and challenges in achieving artistic/scholarly success to African Americans; (f) experience in or has demonstrated commitment to research that engages African American communities; (g) interest in developing expertise in cross-cultural communication and collaboration; (h) research interests that contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Indicate in your cover letter how you meet at least three of these criteria.

Applicants must apply via Interfolio at https://apply.interfolio.com/82445. A completed file includes a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, complete teaching evaluations (quantitative evaluations and complete sets of qualitative evaluations of recent courses), sample syllabi, academic writing samples and three letters of recommendation. To ensure full consideration, submit all materials by February 15, 2021. Screening of applications will begin then. Applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. by the start of the term of appointment will be given priority. Those without a Ph.D. in-hand should include in their letter of interest a statement of progress on the dissertation and reasons to expect completion in a timely fashion.

The person holding this position is considered a “mandated reporter” under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment. A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position. SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

Further inquiries should be addressed to:
Farid Abdel-Nour, Chair of the Department, at abdelnou@sdsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8457

St. Lawrence University
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics
Specializations: Legislative Studies, Congress, Political Parties & Organizations

The Government Department at St. Lawrence University invites applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor position in American Politics to bridge a phased retirement in our department. We seek an individual who can teach the introductory course in American politics as well as upper-level American politics courses in legislative politics (national or state/local-level) and other topics of the candidate’s choosing that do not duplicate the department’s current strengths in the presidency, judicial politics, and the politics of race & ethnicity. The ability to also teach Introduction to Political Theory on occasion is a plus. The position begins August 2021 and the teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will join a department of 11 full-time faculty members who are passionate about supporting our liberal arts curriculum through diverse and inclusive pedagogies and scholarly agendas. Our supportive department colleagues regularly provide feedback and mentoring to visiting faculty to foster pedagogical and professional development.

Applicants should have their Ph.D. in Political Science by August 15, 2021, but ABD candidates may be considered.

To apply, please visit: https://employment.stlawu.edu/postings/2224

Interested candidates should submit a cover letter indicating teaching and research interests, curriculum vitae, graduate school transcript, writing sample, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also submit a separate document with a statement indicating how they can contribute in tangible ways to St. Lawrence University’s commitment to cultivating a diverse and inclusive community and classrooms. These documents can be uploaded in the “Applicant Documents” section of your online application.

Additionally, three confidential references are required [the required information input in the reference contact information section of your application will be utilized to send a system-derived email requesting a recommendation letter from each reference].

Review of applications will begin on February 8, 2021. Applications submitted after this date will be reviewed as needed. Questions about the position may be sent to Dr. Kristin McKie (kmckie@stlawu.edu), Search Chair.

All offers of employment are contingent upon the finalist successfully passing a background (including criminal records) check.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/8/2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8455

Christopher Newport University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science, effective August 2021. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research with undergraduates. The successful candidate will bring broad theoretical and methodological training in political science with a teaching and research emphasis in American judicial politics. We particularly welcome applications from candidates who specialize in civil rights and/or racial and ethnic politics. In addition to offering upper-level courses in their area of specialization, the successful candidate’s teaching responsibilities will include an introductory course in American politics, and upper level courses on U.S. Constitutional law, the judicial process, and the Supreme Court. The nominal teaching load for tenure track appointments is 3-3.

The Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required for appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor. In some cases, exceptionally well-qualified candidates may be considered for appointment at a higher rank. ABD candidates who will not hold the Ph.D. by the time of appointment may be considered for appointment at the rank of Instructor. Phi Beta Kappa membership is highly desirable.

Departmental Information:
The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University is composed of 11 dedicated faculty members whose research represents the core areas of the discipline including American politics, comparative politics and international relations, and political theory. Our 300 majors have produced research that has been nationally recognized, and many attend prestigious law and graduate schools and go on to successful careers in law, higher education, as well as local, state, and federal government. The Department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, as well as three minors in Political Science, Human Rights and Conflict Resolution, and U.S. National Security Studies. Candidates wishing to know more about the department and its academic programs are invited to visit https://cnu.edu/academics/departments/politicalscience/.
Political Science Jobs

Faculty Information:
CNU is committed to outstanding teaching and learning, undergraduate education, and the liberal studies core; The Fall 2020 freshman class of 1,155 students was selected from 7,300 admission applications, and presented average high school GPA and SAT scores of 3.8 and 1184, respectively. The University has a new and technologically advanced campus, located between Colonial Williamsburg and the Virginia coast. The campus integrates the University’s liberal arts vision, nurturing mind, body, and spirit. Facilities include the state-of-the-art Trible Library; three new academic buildings including a newly opened integrated science building; the Freeman Center athletic complex; and the I.M. Pei-designed Ferguson Center for the Arts, which brings to Virginia the finest performing artists in the world. Opening in 2021 and adjoining the Ferguson Center, the $57 million Fine Arts Center will house over 7,500 sq. ft of gallery exhibition space, state-of-the art teaching and museum learning spaces, studios and classrooms. It will serve the university community and the entire Peninsula region.

Our faculty enjoy an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect that rewards outstanding teaching and fosters active intellectual and creative engagement. Christopher Newport is committed to ensuring that all people are welcomed, honored and fully engaged in the life of our academic community. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty and encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in their profession. Faculty are productive scholars and researchers, supported by professional development funds. Faculty and administrators regularly consult and collaborate as the University works to sustain a culture of scholarly inquiry, informed debate, and civic action that enriches students, faculty, and the surrounding community. The result is a supportive and cohesive academic setting in which the University cultivates and carries forward its mission. The University is among the highest ranked in the nation for its quality of life and innovative spirit. Competitive salary with excellent health and retirement benefits and a well-designed family leave policy further enhance the workplace. For further information, please visit our website at http://www.cnu.edu.

Posting Detail Information
Application Deadline: 01/17/2021
Application Instructions: To apply, please visit https://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/ to upload a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (photocopies acceptable for initial screening), statement of teaching philosophy, a one-page statement articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. (Letters should be uploaded with application materials or emailed to facultyrecruitment@cnu.edu). Letters of reference will be the only documents accepted via email.

Review of applications will begin on January 17, 2021. Applications received after January 17, 2021, will be accepted but considered only if needed.

Search finalists are required to complete a CNU sponsored background check.

Link to Postings: http://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/9829

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/11/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8393

Dartmouth College

Rank: Professor of Government (open rank) in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered. The Cyber Security Chair is one of three positions in a cluster hire in cybersecurity, Technology, and Society (the other two positions are in the Computer Science Department), and the successful applicant will have an opportunity to collaborate with other faculty in the cluster and to be a member of Dartmouth’s Institute for Security, Technology and Society. We will consider applicants working on a broad range of topics related to the intersection of cyber-technologies, domestic or international politics, and society. Candidates may study questions such as how emerging digital technologies, social media and the internet affect critical democratic processes, contribute to political radicalization and extremism, enable foreign influence operations, undermine or protect privacy, contribute to repression and/or resistance to authoritarianism, enable new forms of conflict between groups or states, and/or are used to promote or counteract political misinformation. Candidates might also study the national and international policies and regulations that states, firms, and international organizations use to address these or related issues. We encourage applicants who study these and similar questions to apply. Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:
Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered.

Application instructions:
Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a CV and three letters of recommendation. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Applications and nomination letters should be submitted electronically to: http://apply.interfolio.com/81228
The review of applications will begin on January 18, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Benjamin.A.Valentino@Dartmouth.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Predoctoral applicants should complete submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant’s dissertation advisor) to bushschoolCGS@tamu.edu.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by January 29, 2021 receiving priority attention.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/10/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8384

Naval Postgraduate School
Rank: Department Chair and Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other
Chair
Defense Analysis Department
Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA

The Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) is accepting applications for the position of Professor and Chair of the Defense Analysis Department (DA). NPS and the DA Department provide graduate education to military officers of the uniformed services, Department of Defense civilians, and members of the international defense community.

The DA Department is an interdisciplinary department providing graduate curricula focused on analytic approaches to the study of defense, with particular emphasis on irregular warfare, information strategy, and political warfare. The mission of the DA Department is to provide graduate education through qualitative and quantitative curricula to produce professionals with the advanced critical thinking and problem-solving skills needed to meet evolving national security challenges.

The Defense Analysis Department is the academic home to approximately fifty tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty and staff employees. The duties of the chair include: providing strategic direction for the department; representing the department internally at NPS and externally to various educational, military, and research stakeholders; building and maintaining relationships with institutional and operational organizations across the joint force; engaging with and shaping the education of the nearly 150 students on board at any time; and fulfilling all administrative tasks associated with the supervisory role.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Doctoral degree in a field connected to the study of irregular warfare and armed conflict, such as international relations, security studies, political science, history, sociology, economics, anthropology, psychology, philosophy, or related fields.
- Must be a U.S. citizen and capable of obtaining a security clearance.
- A proven record of scholarship, instruction, and leadership in the candidate’s field.
- Leadership experience in an academic organization.
- An academic record that would merit an appointment as a Professor with tenure upon arrival.
The incumbent will teach five courses, including a course on constitutional law, and others in areas such as criminal justice, civil rights and liberties, judicial politics, and/or related courses on American politics. The teaching expectation is five courses per year: normally one at the introductory level, three at the intermediate level, and one senior seminar. Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2021-22). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable. All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory’s online application process at: http://jobs.oberlin.edu/postings/9681

To apply, candidates should visit the online application site found at https://jobs.oberlin.edu. A complete application will be comprised of 1) a Cover Letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement detailing your commitment to and experience in diversity and equity in teaching; 5) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.

The deadline has been extended to January 30, 2021. Review of applications will begin on January 30, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the January 30th deadline will be guaranteed full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8381

Oberlin College
Rank: American Politics
Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Criminal Justice

The Oberlin College Politics Department invites applications for a full-time position in American politics. This is a non-continuing position for one year beginning fall semester of 2021 and will carry the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor. We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in the American legal system. The incumbent will teach five courses, including a political science course on constitutional law, and others in areas such as criminal justice, civil rights and liberties, judicial politics, and/or related courses on American politics. The teaching expectation is five courses per year: normally one at the introductory level, three at the intermediate level, and one senior seminar. Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2021-22). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable. All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory’s online application process at: http://jobs.oberlin.edu/postings/9681

To apply, candidates should visit the online application site found at https://jobs.oberlin.edu. A complete application will be comprised of 1) a Cover Letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement detailing your commitment to and experience in diversity and equity in teaching; 5) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.

The deadline has been extended to January 30, 2021. Review of applications will begin on January 30, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the January 30th deadline will be guaranteed full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8381

Oklahoma State University
Rank: Teaching Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polsci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a Teaching Assistant Professor specializing in American politics to begin in August 2021. This position is non-tenure track but offers the potential of reappointment and promotion to Teaching Associate and Teaching Full Professor. This position is designed for instructors who prioritize good pedagogy and student mentoring. The normal teaching load is 3:3 and includes a mix of smaller and larger classes. The primary, though not exclusive, teaching responsibility is Introduction to American Government. The successful candidate will have demonstrated the potential for effective teaching in American Politics. Candidates with previous experience teaching Introduction to American Government as instructor of record and experience teaching a mix of online and face-to-face courses are especially welcome. In addition to teaching, the position entails service responsibilities that could include supervising the department’s internship programs, advising Pi Sigma Alpha, and participating on various departmental committees. To be considered, candidates must have received a PhD or be nearing completion of their doctoral training (ABD) from an accredited degree program in political science or closely related degree program. Preference, however, will be given to candidates who have received their doctoral degree by the start of appointment. Initial appointment is for three years (which includes a probationary period) but can be renewed for additional terms.

Applications completed and received by January 31, 2021 and will be given preference.
Applicants are asked to have the following submitted through Interfolio https://apply.interfolio.com/77763. A letter of application outlining your interest in this position, teaching interests/experience; vitae; graduate transcripts; three letters of recommendation; evidence of successful teaching; and a short teaching statement.

The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and underrepresented racial/ethnic groups. About one third of our undergraduate majors are members of underrepresented groups. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic groups and 55 percent are female. Oklahoma State University, as an equal opportunity employer, complies with all applicable federal and state laws regarding nondiscrimination and affirmative action. Oklahoma State University is committed to a policy of equal opportunity for all individuals and does not discriminate based on race, religion, age, sex, color, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity/expression, disability, or veteran status with regard to employment, educational programs and activities, and/or admissions. For more information, visit https://eeo.okstate.edu. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/31/2021
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 7974

West Chester University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Government and the Politics of Diversity

Specializations: American Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

Position Summary

Join a vibrant campus community whose excellence is reflected in its diversity and student success. West Chester University of Pennsylvania’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the field of American Government and Politics beginning in August 2021. We are specifically seeking to hire a faculty member whose substantive specializations and pedagogical training will strengthen our existing commitment to diversity and inclusion. Teaching responsibilities will primarily include the following courses: Politics of Diversity, Women and Politics, Urban Politics, Racial/Ethnic Politics, as well as, Introduction to American Government. Additional courses may include: Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Latino Politics, and there is potential for the development of new courses. Other responsibilities of the position include engaging in research and appropriate service, including student advising, all in a manner consistent with our department mission, which emphasizes global perspectives. Overall, we seek teacher-scholars who are committed to student success, retention and engagement, and who will contribute to our valued collegial atmosphere.

Minimum Qualifications

The successful applicant must possess a Ph.D. in Political Science (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date); Ability to teach American Government Courses; Ability to teach Specialized Diversity Courses;

Preferred Qualifications

Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including distance education; Evidence of research accomplishment/capability/active education; Demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and supporting students; Diversity statement.

Special Instructions

The following materials should be submitted to the West Chester University Electronic Submission site: http://agency.governmentjobs.com/wcupa/default.cfm.

- Cover letter describing teaching and research interests;
- Curriculum Vitae;
- Brief writing sample;
- Statement of teaching philosophy;
- Diversity statement (see the diversity statement prompt);
- Sample syllabi;
- Graduate transcripts;
- Teaching evaluations (if available);
- Three references and contact information.

As part of your application for a faculty position, we also have requested a Diversity Statement. This request highlights our Department’s commitment to promote diversity and inclusiveness and to cultivate a campus environment that welcomes all. This commitment reflects the Diversity Theme of West Chester University’s new Strategic Plan and supports initiatives of our Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (WCU Diversity Equity Inclusion). We expect that each applicant’s statement will be unique, as informed by their own experiences and goals. Some issues you might address in a 1-2 page statement include the following: (1) How have you supported diversity and inclusion in your interactions with others in PK-12 classrooms, Higher Ed classrooms (if appropriate), service, and research environments? (2) What have you done to help students from diverse communities (such as underrepresented minorities, non-traditional, LGBTQ, veteran, rural, and/or first generation) succeed, including any programs for these students that you have participated in? (3) Describe your commitment to working toward achieving equity and enhancing diversity at WCU. In particular, how might you contribute to our current diversity initiatives, and do you have any other ideas to help promote equity on our campus?

Applications should be submitted by February 15, 2021. The position will remain open until filled. Please address any inquiries about this position to Ashlie Delshad, Search Committee Chairperson, at adelshad@wcupa.edu. Applicants must successfully complete a remote interview, including a teaching demonstration, to be considered as a finalist.

West Chester University of Pennsylvania offers highly competitive salaries and excellent benefits. The University is part of the State System of Higher Education and is a public, regional, comprehensive institution serving over 18,000 students. The University is located in the city of West Chester, Pennsylvania, 25 miles west of Philadelphia and only a few hours from New York City, Washington D.C. The area is home to world-class libraries, museums and hospitals.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8382
Butler University

Rank: Lecturer/Instructor
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Native American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track lecturer for a two-year appointment with possibility of renewal. Applicants should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship engages intersectional, abolitionist, or critical historical institutional perspectives on race/ethnicity/indigeneity, gender/sexuality, and politics in the United States and potentially beyond it. The successful candidate will teach lower-level and upper-level undergraduate political science courses (including an introductory American politics survey), will contribute to the Core Curriculum, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. This faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, typically with no more than six distinct course preparations per year.

Review of applications will begin January 11, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2021. Applicants should submit the following to psearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant’s teaching interests, experience, and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and summarizes their research interests; a curriculum vitae; a statement of teaching philosophy, a sample syllabus, and a list of 3-5 references including name, title and contact information. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts. Final round candidates will need to provide official transcripts and will be asked to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021
Date Posted: 12/4/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8367

James Madison University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR- POLITICS OF RACE AND ETHNICITY– [JobLink# F1520] – The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2021. A doctoral degree in political science (or a closely related field) is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; candidates at the ABD level can be appointed at the rank of Lecturer. The successful applicant will teach an introductory-level course in U.S. government, courses on the politics of race and ethnicity, and other courses related to the candidate’s expertise.

The department seeks candidates with strong research skills and demonstrated teaching potential. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until January 8, 2021. To apply for this position candidates must apply online at JobLink.jmu.edu regarding reference posting number [# F1520]. On that website, candidates will post a cover letter, vita, unofficial graduate transcript(s), contact information for three references, an example of research (15-25 pages preferred), and evidence of teaching effectiveness (including teaching evaluations, assignments, and course syllabi, if available). The cover letter should include a discussion of the candidate’s research interests, teaching experience and philosophy, and contributions or potential contributions to the diversity of the classroom, program, and university. The cover letter should also address how the candidate would work productively with an interdisciplinary cohort of faculty (see below).

This position forms part of a first-of-its-kind initiative at James Madison University: a cohort hire of six outstanding, tenure-track faculty working collaboratively in several interconnected areas, which include social justice, minority cultures and politics, racial equity, non-Western thought, and critical race studies. Scholars hired into this cohort will be appointed in six of the College’s ten departments: Sociology and Anthropology; History; Political Science; Justice Studies; Philosophy and Religion; and Writing, Rhetoric and Technical Communication. We seek excellent applicants within particular disciplines, but also scholars and teachers eager to work across them, both within the College and beyond. Arriving as a cohort with broadly shared interests, successful candidates will enhance existing strengths in Latinx, African American, African diaspora, ethnic and global studies. A complete description of this cohort hire may be found here http://joblink.jmu.edu/postings/8052.

To apply go to http://joblink.jmu.edu/postings/8096 or visit JobLink.jmu.edu and reference posting number F1520. Salary shall be commensurate with experience.

James Madison University is an equal opportunity employer committed to creating and supporting a diverse and inclusive work and educational community that is free of all forms of discrimination. This institution does not tolerate discrimination or harassment on the basis of age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetic information, national origin, parental status, political affiliation, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation or veteran status. Anyone having questions concerning discrimination should contact the Office for Equal Opportunity: (540) 568-6991.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
University of Virginia

Rank: Tenure Track, Assistant Professor, Democracy, Race and U.S. politics, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia’s Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences are launching a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over the next four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale—bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary. It supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs will consist of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Core Lab) and a group of rotating labs. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member of the core lab—an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach devoted to the study of the history and principles of democracy—or one of the Initiative’s other research labs or projects.

With the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation, nine of these new faculty members will hold positions in the core lab on the history, principles, and philosophy of democracy. The core lab will serve as the nerve center of the entire Initiative, catalyzing key questions, research agendas, and forums for debate. It will find opportunities for cross-lab collaboration by identifying broader concerns that transcend those investigated by any single lab. It will gather philosophers, artists, and scholars of the ancient, modern, and post-modern worlds to research fundamental questions and possibilities of the democratic experiment in its varied global forms.

In addition to the Core Lab, the Democracy Initiative sponsors a series of rotating labs (current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, and race, religion, and democracy) and a range of other research projects (including initiatives on Democracy and Public Memory and Race and Democracy). Three or more of the faculty hired through this initiative will be invited to contribute to those projects and/or help develop new programs for the broader Initiative.

As part of this hiring program the Department of Politics will fill four tenure-track positions. This year, the Department of Politics is launching two of those searches. Across all the searches, the Department seeks to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative’s other projects.

With the support of the Mellon Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position for a scholar who studies democracy, race and U.S. politics. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment. Candidates should have an active research agenda, strong interest in teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and a willingness to contribute to the scholarly life of the Department of Politics. Scholars with a background in quantitative methods and interest in teaching courses in the department’s methods sequences are also encouraged to apply.

Application review will begin December 18, 2020 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2021. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs: search for posting #R0020024 complete the application, and attach the following:

1. Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations.
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. a research statement (not to exceed five pages)
4. a teaching philosophy (not to exceed one page)
5. one article-length writing sample
6. Three letters of recommendation must be submitted directly to: pol-race-search2020@virginia.edu.

 Please note all required documents must be uploaded in the ‘Resume’ box.

Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.

Questions about this position should be directed to: Jennifer Lawless, Professor and Chair, Department of Politics, at jll9jx@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7f@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit https://dualcareer.virginia.edu. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville and https://embarkcva.com/.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021
Date Posted: 12/1/2020
Of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for an open-rank tenure-line position for scholars who study democracy and judicial politics. The colleague appointed to this position will join the core lab of the interdisciplinary Democracy Initiative (see above description), so we seek a scholar primarily focused on the history and principles of democracy. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment. Candidates should have an active research agenda, strong commitment to excellent teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and a willingness to contribute to the scholarly life of the Department of Politics. Scholars with a background in quantitative methods and interest in teaching courses in the department’s methods sequences are also encouraged to apply.

Application review will begin December 18, 2020 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2021. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs: search for posting #R0020023 complete the application, and attach the following:

1. Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations.

2. Current curriculum vitae.

3. Research statement (not to exceed five pages)

4. Teaching philosophy (not to exceed one page)

5. one article-length writing sample

6. Three letters of recommendation must be submitted directly to: pol-judicial-search2020@virginia.edu.

 Please note all required documents must be uploaded in the ‘Resume’ box.

Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.

Questions about this position should be directed to: Jennifer Lawless, Professor and Chair, Department of Politics, at jll9jx@virginia.edu.

Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7lf@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit https://dualcareer.virginia.edu. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville and https://embarkcva.com/.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8348

University of Virginia
Rank: Tenure Track, Open Rank, Democracy and Judicial Politics, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia’s Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences are launching a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over the next four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale — bring together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary. It supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs will consist of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Core Lab) and a group of rotating labs. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the core lab—a interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach devoted to the study of the history and principles of democracy—or one of the Initiative’s other research labs or projects.

With the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation, nine of these new faculty members will hold positions in the core lab on the history, principles, and philosophy of democracy. The core lab will serve as the nerve center of the entire Initiative, catalyzing key questions, research agendas, and forums for debate. It will find opportunities for cross-lab collaboration by identifying broader concerns that transcend those investigated by any single lab. It will gather philosophers, artists, and scholars of the ancient, modern, and post-modern worlds to research fundamental questions and possibilities of the democratic experiment in its varied global forms.

In addition to the Core Lab, the Democracy Initiative sponsors a series of rotating labs (current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, and race, religion, and democracy) and a range of other research projects (including initiatives on Democracy and Public Memory and Race and Democracy). Three or more of the faculty hired through this initiative will be invited to contribute to those projects and/or help develop new programs for the broader Initiative.

As part of this hiring program the Department of Politics will fill four tenure-track positions. This year, the Department of Politics is launching two of those searches. Across all the searches, the Department seeks to appoint scholars who primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative’s other projects.

With the support of the John L. Nau Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for an
Political Science Jobs

Date Posted: 12/1/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8349

Sam Houston State University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (American Politics)

The Department of Political Science at Sam Houston State University invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2021. The successful candidate will possess a doctoral degree in political science with specialization in U.S. Congress and legislative politics. Secondary research interest in policy areas relevant to political science are preferred but not required.

ABD candidates will be considered but they must have a PhD by the start date (August 2021). The successful candidate will be expected to teach face-to-face and online courses in the department’s political science undergraduate and graduate programs. The teaching load for the position is three courses in both the fall and spring semesters. Summer courses are not included in the teaching load.

Degree Requirements:
Applicants must have a PhD in political science from an accredited university or institution of higher learning.

Application Requirements:
• Cover Letter
• Current CV that includes, if applicable, a summary of previous teaching experience and the format of each course taught (i.e., face-to-face, online, hybrid).
• All graduate transcripts – Unofficial transcripts will be accepted during the application process. However, the successful candidate must submit official transcripts documenting all post-secondary degrees and coursework.
• Two letters of recommendation from individuals who are familiar with the applicant’s teaching and research abilities and who have worked with the applicant in the past two years
• Recent student teaching evaluations covering the last two semesters of teaching, if available (Those without teaching evaluations, will need to upload a placeholder document in lieu of evaluations).
• Teaching statement, including a discussion of online pedagogy.
• Diversity statement discussing how the applicant would engage a diverse student population such as Sam Houston State University that meets the College of Humanities and Social Sciences core goals: “The College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Sam Houston State University is strongly committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace that empowers all employees to reach their full potential. All members of the academic community share a responsibility for developing and maintaining an environment in which differences are valued and inclusiveness is practiced. The college welcomes applications from those who will contribute to the diversity of our community.”

Link to apply: http://shsu.peopleadmin.com/postings/25424

Review of complete applications will commence January 4, 2021.
Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/18/2020

Sewanee: The University of the South
Rank: Post-Doc in Public Policy
Specializations: Social Welfare, Environmental Policy, Urban Politics

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for a postdoctoral fellowship in American politics with a specialization in public policy to begin August 2021. The position is for one year, renewable for a second. The Department is also hiring for a postdoctoral position in political theory, so academic couples are welcome to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching. The teaching load is reduced to three courses per year, with a focus on pedagogical mentoring and development. New faculty members have opportunity for teaching mentoring through the Center for Teaching and designing community engagement curricula through collaboration with the Carnegie-recognized Office of Community Engagement. In addition to the ability to teach introductory courses in public policy, we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in their area of specialization (e.g., social welfare, criminal justice, environmental justice, public health, education, or urban policy) and connect them to our existing major concentrations.

The University of the South comprises a well-regarded College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. The University is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee’s Cumberland Plateau.

The University of the South stands firmly for the principle that its employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have a right to be free from discrimination based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, pregnancy and childbirth, and genetic information. As required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or other protected categories in the educational programs or activities which it operates. This requirement of non-discrimination extends to admission to and employment in those programs or activities. The University is committed to sustaining a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Key to this value are efforts to nurture an environment of civility and mutual respect and to foster a culture of reporting concerns so that the University can respond promptly and equitably whenever an incident occurs. All employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have the right to be free from harassment and retaliation.

For preliminary review, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement demonstrating how they can contribute to faculty diversity, such as through membership in a group that is historically underrepresented in a particular area of study, training, or other experience. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/4424. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening.
Colorado Mesa University
Rank: Visiting Professor of History or Political Science

Distinguished scholars in History or Political Science are invited to apply for the Wayne N. Aspinall Chair at Colorado Mesa University. For a $10,000 stipend, the visiting professor will spend three weeks on the Colorado Mesa University campus from late March-to mid-April 2022; teach a one-credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Applications must include a vitae, a brief outline of a course proposal and a topic for the major public lecture. Submit application by February 12, 2021 to Dr. Justin Gollob, Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Colorado Mesa University, 1100 North Ave., Grand Junction, CO 81501. Feel free to direct any inquiries to jgollob@coloradomesa.edu or 970 248-1279.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 2/12/2021
Date Posted: 11/22/2020
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 8243

Yale University
Rank: Research Postdoctoral Associate

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics (CSAP) seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2021. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis.

Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Application materials include a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Please apply online at this link: https://apply.interfolio.com/79728.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2021. Please submit your completed application by that date for full consideration, although applications received after 2/1/21 will be reviewed if there is still a vacancy.

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/22/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8205

Mercyhurst University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor – Political Science

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning Fall 2021. A strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university is essential. The department is seeking a generalist who is committed to developing courses in constitutional law and civil liberties as well as contributing to our department needs in institutions, behavior, methods, gender, or racial and ethnic politics. The candidate will also serve as advisor to our pre-law society. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the Fall 2021 semester.

Application Process
Screening of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to:

Jennifer Verga, Administrative Assistant
jverga@mercyhurst.edu.

Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small, and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year.

For information about the political science program see the departmental website: http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu.

Mercyhurst does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, creed, sex, citizenship status, ancestry, national or ethnic origin, age, familial status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, physical or mental disability, military or veteran status or any other legally protected characteristic or because of any individual’s legally protected activities.

Mercyhurst complies with federal, state and local legislation and regulations regarding nondiscrimination. This policy applies to faculty, administration and staff, applicants for employment, students and applicants for educational programs and activities. Candidates must be currently eligible to work in the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/5/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8205

Yale University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor of Political Science

Yale University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Political Science. The Political Science Department at Yale is a diverse and collegial academic community, with robust programs in comparative politics, international relations, political economy, political theory, and mobilization and political representation. Candidates will be expected to teach a political science course in each of the following areas: constitutional law and civil liberties, decision-making in modern democracies and the international system, and political theory. Preference will be given to candidates with substantive experience in one or more of the above areas, but also to those with a cross-disciplinary approach and broader intellectual interests. Successful candidates will have a strong record of scholarship that is likely to attract external funding. Yale College is a highly selective liberal arts college with an enrollment of approximately 2,100 students. Yale University has an enrollment of approximately 13,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Yale University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Yale does not discriminate on the basis of sex, disability, race, color, religious affiliation, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, marital status, or non-disabling physical or mental disability in its employment practices.

Teaching: Teachers in the 14-credit political science program at Yale College include lower-level courses (12-14 credit hours per year), upper-level courses (5-6 credit hours per year), and a one-credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Teachers are expected to teach well, to serve as advisor to our pre-law society. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the Fall 2021 semester.

Application Process
Screening of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to:

Jennifer Verga, Administrative Assistant
jverga@mercyhurst.edu.

Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small, and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year.

For information about the political science program see the departmental website: http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu.

Mercyhurst does not unlawfully discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, creed, sex, citizenship status, ancestry, national or ethnic origin, age, familial status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, physical or mental disability, military or veteran status or any other legally protected characteristic or because of any individual’s legally protected activities.

Mercyhurst complies with federal, state and local legislation and regulations regarding nondiscrimination. This policy applies to faculty, administration and staff, applicants for employment, students and applicants for educational programs and activities. Candidates must be currently eligible to work in the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/5/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8205
Tufts University

Rank: Part Time Lecturer in American Politics Position for Spring 2021

Part-Time Lecturer in American Politics Position Request for Spring 2021

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites applications for a part-time lecturer position in American politics for spring 2021 semester. The course load is two courses. Teaching may require in-person, hybrid or remote assignments. One course should cover the U.S. Congress; the other course can be determined by the candidate in conjunction with the Department Chair. Particular areas of interest include racial and ethnic politics, gender, judicial politics, and state and local politics, though we welcome applications across the subfield.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science or related field required. College/university teaching experience strongly preferred.

Applications are encouraged for a part-time lecturer position in American politics for spring 2021. The course load is two courses. Teaching may require in-person, hybrid, or remote assignments. One course should cover the U.S. Congress; the other course can be determined by the candidate in conjunction with the Department Chair. Particular areas of interest include racial and ethnic politics, gender, judicial politics, and state and local politics, though we welcome applications across the subfield.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of a commitment to political engagement, an active research agenda, curriculum development, and undergraduate research mentorship.

Tufts University, founded in 1852, prioritizes quality teaching, highly competitive basic and applied research, and a commitment to active citizenship locally, regionally, and globally. Tufts University also prides itself on creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Current and prospective employees of the university are expected to have and continuously develop skill in, and disposition for, positively engaging with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and students.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/18/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8065

Salisbury University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Salisbury University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a full time, 10-month position.

Primary Job Duties: The Department seeks candidates whose expertise is in one or more of the following fields: racial and ethnic politics, political theory, and law and judicial politics. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level courses in political theory and/or American politics (political institutions and behavior and courses in the Law, Justice and Advocacy minor). The candidate will also be able to teach a research methods course. Academic advising and student mentoring are also expected as well as ongoing scholarly activities. The teaching load is 3-3 of 4 credit hour courses.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science. If ABD, applicant would be hired at the rank of Instructor and must complete doctoral degree by: May 2022. Demonstrated evidence of a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of a commitment to political engagement, an active research agenda, curriculum development, and undergraduate research mentorship.

Salisbury University, a member of the University System of Maryland is a regionally accredited four-year comprehensive institution offering 60 distinct graduate and undergraduate programs. Founded in 1925, Salisbury University features a beautiful campus close to ocean beaches and the Chesapeake Bay and 2-3 hours from the metropolitan areas of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. SU has 440 full-time faculty members serving a student population of approximately 8700.

Diversity and inclusion are core values of Salisbury University. We strive to create a truly diverse and inclusive environment where the richness of ideas, backgrounds, and perspectives of our community is harnessed to create value for our University community to include students, faculty, and staff, today and in the future. To this end, the University recruits exceptional and diverse faculty, staff, and students from across Maryland, the United States, and around the world, supporting all members of the University community as they work together to achieve institutional goals and vision. To learn more about the University’s commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus, please visit http://www.salisbury.edu/equity/.

Applications will be accepted via Salisbury University’s online employment application system.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/30/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7950

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: 2021-2022 International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Foreign Policy, International Security, History & Politics

The Fellowship:
The International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS) offers professors from a variety of academic backgrounds practical experience in the foreign policymaking field, providing them with an opportunity to spend their sabbatical year working at a U.S. government agency, in Congress, or with an international organization.

The IAF-TIRS program helps close the gap between research and practice, enriching both teaching and scholarship by enabling fellows to become practitioners. The program also benefits policymakers by exposing them to critical scholarly research relevant to the foreign policy and national security issues facing the United States and the world.

The fellowship is for twelve months. The program will match 50 percent of the fellow’s base salary for the academic year (up to a maximum of $80,000 for the year) as well as provide modest assistance for moving expenses for those who need to relocate for the fellowship.

Eligibility:
Applicants should be U.S. citizens
Applicants must be full-time tenured professors at a U.S. college or university
Applicants must have arranged a paid sabbatical with their home university
Applicants must hold a PhD
Applicants must propose to spend a year working on peace and security issues in the U.S. government, in Congress, or at an international organization.
Preference is given to candidates with no previous experience in the U.S. government or with an international organization.
*Note: fellows are considered independent contractors rather than employees of CFR and are not eligible for employment benefits, including health insurance. No indirect costs can be deducted from the stipend award.

How to Apply:
Interested candidates who meet the program eligibility requirements can apply online now through October 31 at cfr.org/fellowships/international-affairs-fellowship-tenured-international-relations-scholars.

If you have additional questions, please contact tirs.fellowships@cfr.org.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 10/31/2020
Date Posted: 5/1/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7853

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Washington University in St. Louis
Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for a tenure-track/tenured faculty appointment in comparative politics or international relations. We are looking for a scholar who uses advanced data analytics to study important, policy-relevant issues. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2021.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before March 1, 2021 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio (http://apply.interfolio.com/83363). If you encounter difficulties with the application process, please email artsic-pschair@email.wustl.edu for additional instructions. All other questions may be directed to Heather Sloan-Randick at hsloanra@wustl.edu.

Diversity and Inclusion are core values at Washington University, and the strong candidate will demonstrate the ability to create inclusive classrooms and environments in which a diverse array of students can learn and thrive.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University’s policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency. This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/1/2021
Date Posted: 2/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8534

University of Oxford
Rank: Associate Professorship in European Union and Comparative East European Politics

Associate Professorship in European Union and Comparative East European Politics
Salary on the scale within the range £48,114 to £64,605 p.a. (plus College benefits including a housing allowance of £2,550 p.a. and other benefits)

The Department of Politics and International Relations (DPIR) at Oxford is an internationally renowned centre of excellence for teaching...
Political Science Jobs

February 2021

and research. The study of these disciplines at Oxford has a long and distinguished history and the department is one of the largest in the field in the UK.

The Oxford School of Global and Area Studies (OSGA) is one of the fifteen constituent Departments of the Social Sciences Division at Oxford. It represents a commitment by the University to enhancing teaching and research in Area Studies and is the largest community of Area Studies scholars anywhere in the world.

The Departments, in association with St Antony’s College, now seek jointly to appoint an inspirational teacher and accomplished research scholar to an Associate Professorship in European Union and Comparative East European Politics.

Applications are welcomed from outstanding candidates with teaching experience and a strong research background in European Union politics and expertise in comparative East European politics.

Essential criteria include a completed doctorate in political science or a closely related field, an outstanding, world-class portfolio of research and publications, as well as an exciting research programme. Preference will be given to scholars with a research programme in the politics of European Union integration, the politics of European Union institutions, and/or European Union public policy, and to scholars with a regional, rather than single-country focus, on the post-socialist countries of the region, as well as on the nexus between these post-socialist countries and the European Union. The ability to work with source materials in one or more of the official languages of the post-socialist countries of Eastern Europe is highly desirable for this post.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage actively in research and to contribute through world-class publications to the departments’ and University’s international reputation for research excellence. The post-holder will also offer teaching in both the DPIR and OSGA, supervision of undergraduate and graduate students, contribute to administration and examining, and act as a College Adviser for graduate students.

The post will be held in conjunction with a Governing Body Fellowship at St Antony’s College. The post-holder will have a room for teaching and research in the Department of Politics and International Relations and St Antony’s College.

Associate Professor is the main academic career grade at Oxford with a focus on research and teaching, spanning the full range of professor grades in the USA. In exceptional cases, the title of full Professor may be awarded on appointment. Appointments to Associate Professorships are confirmed as permanent on successful completion of a review during the first 5 years. Any offer made will be subject to pre-employment checks. The post is offered on a full-time basis, available from 1 September 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter.

If you wish to apply please visit:

The closing date for applications is 12.00 noon on Monday 15 March 2021. Interviews are expected to be held remotely in April 2021.

Applications are encouraged from women and Black and minority ethnic candidates, who are underrepresented in academic posts in Oxford.

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: 3/11/2021
Date Posted: 1/28/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8529

University of Oxford

Rank: Associate Professorship in European Union and Comparative European Politics, in association with Nuffield College

Associate Professorship in European Union and Comparative European Politics, in association with Nuffield College

Salary on the scale within the range £48,114 to £64,605 p.a. (plus College benefits including a pensionable College Academic Responsibility allowance of £23,143 p.a.)

The Department of Politics and International Relations (DPIR) at Oxford is an internationally renowned centre of excellence for teaching and research. The study of these disciplines at Oxford has a long and distinguished history and the department is one of the largest in the field in the UK.

The Department, in association with Nuffield College, now seeks jointly to appoint an inspirational teacher and accomplished research scholar to an Associate Professorship in European Union and Comparative European Politics.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage actively in research in the Department and Nuffield College and to contribute through world-class publications to the Department’s and University’s international reputation for research excellence.

The post-holder will offer teaching in the DPIR, supervision of undergraduate and graduate students, contribute to administration and examining, and act as a College Supervisor for graduate students in the relevant subject(s). The post will be held in conjunction with a Professorial Fellowship at Nuffield College.

Applications are welcomed from outstanding candidates with strong research background in European Union politics and/or expertise in comparative European politics. Essential criteria include a completed doctorate in political science, international relations, or a closely related field, and an outstanding, world-class portfolio of research and publications spanning the politics of the European Union and/or comparative European politics. Preference will be given to scholars with an ability to teach and supervise in the areas of European Union integration, the politics of European Union institutions, and/or European Union public policy. Expertise in research methods is highly desirable.

The post-holder will have a room for teaching and research in the Department of Politics of International Relations and St Antony’s College.

Associate Professor is the main academic career grade at Oxford with a focus on research and teaching, spanning the full range of professor grades in the USA. In exceptional cases, the title of full Professor may be awarded on appointment. Appointments to Associate Professorships are confirmed as permanent on successful completion of a review during the first 5 years. Any offer made will be subject to pre-employment checks. The post is offered on a full-time basis, available from 1 September 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter.
If you would like to apply please visit the below link:

The closing date for applications is 12.00 noon on Thursday 11 March 2021. Interviews are expected to be held remotely in April or May 2021.

Applications are encouraged from women and Black and minority ethnic candidates, who are underrepresented in academic posts in Oxford.

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: 3/11/2021
Date Posted: 1/28/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8528

University of Pittsburgh
Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate - Center for Governance and Markets
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Political Economy, Economic Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Center for Governance and Markets at the Graduate School for Public and International Affairs at the University of Pittsburgh is now accepting applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate for a one-year appointment beginning in August 2021, with a possible extension for a second year. The postdoctoral associate will play a significant role in advancing the mission of the Center, which explores how governance institutions and markets contribute to human well-being, prosperity, and security in the US and around the world. CGM achieves its mission by producing cutting-edge research, dialogue with policy communities, and through community engagement.

CGM is interested in a postdoctoral associate from any relevant discipline in the social sciences (e.g., economics, political science, sociology, public policy, public administration, anthropology, etc.) who can contribute to one or more of our core research areas: governance and political institutions; economic institutions and property rights; and/or governance of emerging technologies.

CGM seeks candidates with a strong research background in their own discipline who have a willingness and ability to develop research projects that align with CGM research initiatives. The candidate will conduct his/her teaching and research and participate in the Center’s activities, including seminar series. The candidate is also expected to support CGM’s mission by engaging with policy communities as well as working with the communities where we work.

Candidates must have received their PhD within the past three years. Salary is competitive and the benefits package includes health/vision/dental plans including spouse, domestic partner and/or dependents. Additional support for up to $3,000 will be made available to support research and conference attendance.

To apply, please include the following materials with your application:
CV
Minimum of three confidential letters of reference
Writing sample
Cover letter detailing how research interests align with the mission and research initiatives of CGM.
All applications must be received through Pitt’s site: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=20006253&tz=GMT-05%3A00&ctzname=America%2FNew_York

Details about CGM’s research mission and projects can be found at cgm.pitt.edu. General inquiries can be directed to the Director of CGM, Jennifer Brick Murtazashvili at jmurtazz@pitt.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 3/31/2021
Date Posted: 1/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8522

University of Oklahoma
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The University of Oklahoma invites applications for a tenure-track position in public administration at the assistant professor level beginning in August 2021. We seek candidates with a broad competence in public administration and whose research and/or teaching is inclusive of countries outside of the United States. The selected candidate will contribute to our core courses in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program and be able to teach public administration courses from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US, as part of our efforts to have more courses that expose students to the diversity of politics and governments across the world. We are open as to substantive focus, but we are especially interested in candidates with expertise in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration.

This position is within the Department of Political Science, a large department with two undergraduate majors (Political Science and Public & Nonprofit Administration), multiple minors, two master degree programs (Public Administration & Political Science, with the MPA offered in Norman and Tulsa), and a doctoral program. The department is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Oklahoma. The University of Oklahoma is the flagship research institution for the state of Oklahoma, enrolling over 30,000 students, located in Norman, OK, a vibrant college town just 20 miles south of Oklahoma City.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, and completed by August 2021, have the ability to contribute to the MPA core curriculum, and ability to teach public administration from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration, show evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, have teaching experience, especially in an online format. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, and completed by August 2021, have the ability to contribute to the MPA core curriculum, and ability to teach public administration from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration, show evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, have teaching experience, especially in an online format. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, and completed by August 2021, have the ability to contribute to the MPA core curriculum, and ability to teach public administration from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration, show evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, have teaching experience, especially in an online format. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, and completed by August 2021, have the ability to contribute to the MPA core curriculum, and ability to teach public administration from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration, show evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, have teaching experience, especially in an online format. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, and completed by August 2021, have the ability to contribute to the MPA core curriculum, and ability to teach public administration from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration, show evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, have teaching experience, especially in an online format. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.
Augustana University

Rank: Nef Family Chair of Political Economy
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy
Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Developing Nations

Augustana University (Sioux Falls, SD) invites applications for an endowed chair in political economy. The Rudy & Marilyn Nef Family Chair of Political Economy will advance the study of market economies and representative democracies, both within the campus community and in the region. This tenure-track faculty position will be housed in the Government and International Affairs Department. The Nef Family Chair will draw on a breadth of research and extensive teaching experience to contribute recognized scholarship and enthusiastic, effective instruction to the University’s offerings in economics, political science, public policy, and business.

We seek an outstanding teacher/scholar who reflects the foundational relevance of economic analysis in the design and administration of public policies, and who speaks authoritatively to the role of free markets, localized decision making and competition in a free society. The Nef Family Chair will offer a range of foundational and upper-level courses in the Government and Economics Departments. Foundational courses will include Microeconomics and Comparative Politics. Upper-level courses could focus on areas such as Comparative/International Political Economy, Comparative/International Politics, and Policy Analysis, but a successful candidate must offer a course focused on capitalist economic systems. The Nef Family Chair will also provide collaborative and creative leadership in partnership with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

Additional responsibilities will include student advising, student research mentorship, and planning and facilitating public symposia relevant to the scholar’s teaching and research. Interacting with students, faculty and leadership with different backgrounds and points of view and a deep appreciation of and respect for academic values and culture must be a top value of the candidate. A doctorate is required. Compensation, rank and length of tenure track will be commensurate with experience. The starting date for this 12-month appointment is August, 2021. Screening will begin February 19 and continue until the position is filled. Finalists will be expected to present an engaging topic as part of the interview process.

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Application Procedure:
Please send a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; Augustana University employment application; statement of commitment to diversity; statement of teaching philosophy; addresses, phone numbers and email addresses of three current references; and unofficial transcripts electronically to Human Resources at humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: www.augie.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/22/2021
Salary: Competitive
EJobs ID: 8511

Nuffield College

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher
Specializations: Electoral Behavior, Political Behavior, Great Britain

Postdoctoral Researcher, Nuffield Politics Research Centre

Applications are invited for a Postdoctoral Researcher to support a programme of collaborative research into the electoral and attitudinal implications of economic shocks and their relationship to inequality in Great Britain, and to support external funding applications in this area of research.

The Postdoctoral Researcher will conduct collaborative research linked with the research activities and interests of the Nuffield Politics Research Centre and the Nuffield Elections Unit, alongside Professors Jane Green and Geoffrey Evans, both co-directors of the British Election Study (BES), run from the Universities of Manchester and Oxford (Nuffield College). Key duties of the post include conducting advanced statistical analysis, including of large, complex multi-level BES panel data; linking and analysing geographic contextual data and micro-data; contributing to the writing of research papers; performing data visualisation; developing and contributing to external funding applications; and communicating research results to academic and non-academic audiences. The Postdoctoral Researcher will also contribute to the running of the Centre, for example, by organising seminars and events, and will conduct independent research in line with the Centre’s research priorities, ideally supported through new successful external funding applications. The Postdoctoral Researcher may also opt to undertake a small amount of ad hoc paid teaching or supervision within the collegiate University in Oxford.

Applicants should hold or be close to completing a PhD/DPhil in a relevant field (e.g. political science), with an emerging (national or international) publication record in peer-reviewed journals and with leading publishers, commensurate with their career stage. They should have a high level of expertise in the application of quantitative research methods using advanced statistical modelling, with demonstrable proficiency in data management (e.g. data linking), and in using statistical software including Stata and/or R. They should have experience of using British Election Study or similar data (e.g. social science surveys in Britain or other countries), and an interest in and knowledge of British politics. The ability to summarise and communicate research to a wide audience is essential. Applicants should possess excellent oral and written communication skills, and organisational skills.
together with exemplary interpersonal skills and the ability to work effectively within a small research team and under their own initiative. Experience of questionnaire design, of media communication, and/or of geographic data visualization and linking would be an advantage.

The post is full-time and fixed-term for 3 years. The salary will be in the range GBP 32,817 to GBP 38,017 per annum. The start date is 1 September 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter. An earlier start date would also be possible. The post will be based within the Nuffield Elections Unit, part of the Nuffield Politics Research Centre in Nuffield College.

Further particulars and information about how to apply can be found on the College website at https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/4411/nprc-pr-jd21.pdf

The deadline for applications is Monday 22 February 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/22/2021
Date Posted: 1/21/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8509

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Simons Foundation Canada Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University invites applications for the Simons Foundation Canada Postdoctoral Fellow for the 2021/22 academic year, with the possibility of reappointment for a second year.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public university (consistently ranked #1 by Maclean’s Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada). The School for International Studies is an interdisciplinary unit with research and teaching programs focused on peace and security; international development; human rights and international law; and governance and civil society. The School is based at SFU’s Vancouver campus in the heart of downtown.

The Fellow will participate in School activities during the term of their appointment, deliver at least one presentation of their work to the School, and will teach one course in their area of expertise.

The fellowship provides $45,000 CAD plus benefits, with an additional $3,000 CAD in research support. Selection will be based on qualifications and expected contribution to the intellectual life of the School.

Applications should include: a cover letter with detailed research proposal, graduate transcripts, a curriculum vitae, and two letters of reference. Files will be reviewed beginning March 10, 2021.

Materials should be collated and sent in a single PDF file via email to intst@sfu.ca. (The letters of reference should be sent separately, directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: “2021 Postdoctoral Fellow Application, (Applicant Name).”

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see the collection notice at http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty_Openings/Collection_Notice.html

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/19/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8505

University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Survey Research

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Economy, Public Opinion

The Blavatnik School of Government seeks to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow in survey research and data analysis for a fixed term of two years. The fellow will coordinate the development of research on the dynamics of public opinion in the domain of financial regulation in cooperation with Professor Pepper Culpepper and with Professor Taeku Lee from the University of California at Berkeley. A central interest of the research is to understand how media coverage of finance and banking influences emotions, and its effect on various political actors and policy preferences in six countries: Australia, France, Germany, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States. This position is funded by an Advanced Grant from the European Research Council.

The main duties of the post are to engage in original, world-class research and manage your own academic research and project-related administrative activities; to disseminate your research through publication in highly-ranked, peer-reviewed academic journals; to collaborate in the preparation of research publications and book chapters; to act as a source of information and advice on methodologies and procedures to other members of the team; and to deliver graduate teaching as required.

The post-holder will be an independent researcher in the early stages of their career with training in survey research methods and experience designing survey experiments as well as facility in analysing these data. Training and/or experience in experimental design, sampling and measurement theory, conjoint analysis and causal inference is desirable, as is a substantive interest in political economy, public opinion and regulatory policy.

You will hold, or be close to completion of, a PhD/DPhil in political science or another social science field relevant to the project, such as communications, sociology or public policy. You will show evidence of developing a track record of internationally excellent research worthy of publication in highly ranked, peer-reviewed academic journals, commensurate with your career stage, and have knowledge of survey methodology and experience writing and fielding surveys, preferably in a comparative context.

Further details for this position, including information on how to apply, are outlined in the job description.
Wofford College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor of International Affairs

The Department of Government and International Affairs at Wofford College in Spartanburg, South Carolina, invites applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor/instructor of international affairs to begin fall 2021. We require candidates to be broadly trained in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics and to have the ability to teach a range of introductory and upper level international relations and comparative politics courses. Candidates must be prepared to teach an international political economy course. The ability to teach introduction to American Politics is also beneficial, but not required. Graduate coursework on teaching and/or additional pedagogical training through workshops or certificates is helpful for this position. In addition, we value inclusive pedagogical approaches that aim to engage with a diverse student community. The teaching load for this position is 3-3.

ABOUT WOFFORD COLLEGE:

Wofford College, established in 1854, is a four-year, residential liberal arts college located in Spartanburg, S.C. It offers 27 major fields of study to a student body of 1,720 undergraduates. Nationally known for the strength of its academic program, outstanding faculty, study abroad participation and successful graduates, Wofford is home to one of the nation’s 283 Phi Beta Kappa chapters. The college community enjoys 19 NCAA Division I athletics teams.

Wofford’s mission is to provide superior liberal arts education that prepares its students for extraordinary and positive contributions to society. The focus of Wofford’s mission is upon fostering commitment to excellence in character, performance, leadership, service to others, and life-long learning. We enjoy a campus culture where conversation among faculty and students often spills over outside the classroom.

The Department of Government and International Affairs is a growing department with five full-time tenure-track faculty and over a hundred majors. We cover a broad scope of subject matter with an intellectually diverse faculty.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

A Ph.D. or ABD in Political Science, equivalent or closely related field. One semester teaching experience or its equivalence.

APPLICATION

All applications must include the following materials:

(1) a letter of application that discusses how the candidate is prepared to meet the specific needs of Wofford College’s Government and International Affairs department, the candidate’s interest in teaching at a residential liberal arts college, and the candidate’s teaching philosophy

(2) a curriculum vitae;

(3) evidence of teaching effectiveness;

(4) A statement showing how the candidate’s teaching will contribute to Wofford’s commitment to justice, diversity, equity and inclusion;

(5) letters of support from two professional references;

(6) unofficial graduate transcripts.

All application materials should be sent to InternationalAffairsSearch@wofford.edu. Applications received by February 1, 2021 will receive full consideration. Please contact the Department Chair, Dr. Rachel Vanderhill (vanderhillr@wofford.edu), with any questions.

York University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Politics, Faculty of Liberal Arts & Professional Studies, York University invites highly qualified candidates to apply for a professorial stream tenure-track appointment in Comparative Politics at the Assistant or Associate Professor level, to commence July 1, 2021. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience. All York University positions are subject to budgetary approval.

Internationally recognized as one of the world’s leading sites of political scholarship informed by a diverse range of critical intellectual approaches, the Department of Politics is seeking a dynamic intellectual leader to help advance that reputation and the scholarly excellence on which it is based. The successful candidate will be establishing, or already have established, an international reputation for the excellence of their contribution to the study of critical political economy in a comparative context.

A PhD in Political Science or a related field by the time of appointment or soon after is required, as is a demonstrated record of research, teaching, and service excellence or promise of excellence as appropriate for career stage. Applicants should have a clearly articulated independent program of research in critical political economy in a comparative context with a specialization in the crisis/crises of capitalism, broadly understood. Theoretical or empirical contributions are welcomed, as are any comparative geographical foci and/or transnational orientations. The Department has particular teaching and research needs in areas that speak to populism and extremism, ecological crises, rising inequalities, racialized injustices, grassroots political mobilizations, and comparative Indigenous politics.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage in outstanding, innovative, and as appropriate, externally funded research at the highest level.

Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence of a recognized international calibre or promise of such excellence as appropriate to career stage, as demonstrated in: a research statement; a record of publications (or forthcoming publications), such as with significant journals in the field; presentations at major conferences; awards and accolades; and strong recommendations from referees of high standing. Evidence of community-engaged contributions are also welcomed.
Evidence of excellence in teaching or promise of excellence as appropriate to career stage will be provided through: a teaching philosophy and pedagogy statement; teaching accomplishments and pedagogical innovations including in high priority areas such as experiential education and technology enhanced learning; teaching evaluations; and strong letters of reference.

The position will involve graduate teaching and supervision as well as undergraduate teaching, and the successful candidate must be suitable for prompt appointment to the Faculty of Graduate Studies.

York University champions new ways of thinking that drive teaching and research excellence. Through cross-disciplinary programming, innovative course design, diverse experiential learning and a supportive community environment, our students receive the education they need to create big ideas that make an impact on the world. Located in Toronto, York is the third largest university in Canada, with a strong community of 53,000 students, 7,000 faculty and administrative staff, and more than 300,000 alumni.

York University has a policy on Accommodation in Employment for Persons with Disabilities and is committed to working towards a barrier-free workplace and to expanding the accessibility of the workplace to persons with disabilities. Candidates who require accommodation during the selection process are invited to contact Professor Jeffery Webber, Chair of the Search Committee, at polsjobs@yorku.ca.

York University is an Affirmative Action (AA) employer and strongly values diversity, including gender and sexual diversity, within its community. The AA Program, which applies to women, members of visible minorities (racialized groups), Aboriginal (Indigenous) people and persons with disabilities, can be found at www.yorku.ca/acadjobs or by calling the AA line at 416-736-5713. Applicants wishing to self-identify as part of York University’s Affirmative Action program can do so by downloading, completing and submitting the form found at: http://acadjobs.info.yorku.ca/affirmative-action/self-identification-form. All qualified candidates are encourages to apply; however, Canadian citizens, permanent residents and Indigenous peoples in Canada will be given priority. No application will be considered without a completed mandatory Work Status Declaration form which can be found at http://acadjobs.info.yorku.ca/affirmative-action/work-authorization-form.

The deadline for receipt of completed applications is February 12, 2021.

Application, including cover letter, an up-to-date curriculum vitae; research statement; teaching philosophy and pedagogy statement; scholarly writing sample (maximum 50 pages); a sample course outline or reading list (optional); three confidential letters of recommendation; Work Status Declaration Form; and, York University Affirmative Action Program Confidential Self-Identification Form (optional) may be uploaded to https://apply.laps.yorku.ca/ beginning on January 6, 2021.

Questions may be directed to Professor Jeffery Webber, Chair of the Search Committee, Department of Politics, Faculty of Liberal Arts and Professional Studies. Email: polsjobs@yorku.ca.

Posting End Date: February 12, 2021
Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/12/2021
Date Posted: 1/13/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8479

University of Rochester
Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow

Applications for 2021-22 are welcome in any area of international or comparative politics. Fellows offer two courses during the academic year. Applicants without a Ph.D. should describe their plans for completing the degree by the time the fellowship commences.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a 3-5 page research project description, a one-page sketch of proposed courses, one or more writing samples, and three letters of recommendation to: Post-doctoral Fellowship, Skalny Center for Polish and Central European Studies, University of Rochester, Harkness Hall 101, Rochester, New York 14627-0147. Applications received by Jan 31, 2021 will receive full consideration. Direct questions to Dr. Bozenna Sobolewska, bozenna.sobolewska@rochester.edu, or 585-275-9898.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/11/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8470

University of Durham
Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics (SGIA21-54)

The School of Government and International Affairs (SGIA) at Durham University seeks to appoint a talented individual to the role of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics. We welcome applications from those with research and teaching interests in the broad field of Comparative Politics. We are open-minded in relation to substantive and geographical focus, emphasising the excellence of research above all, and the use of rigorous approaches to address important political questions.

The successful candidate will join colleagues in the Centre for Institutions and Political Behaviour, which provides a stimulating and supportive environment for developing and refining research projects and outputs, networking with colleagues within and beyond Durham and providing pump-priming financial support for research.

This post offers an exciting opportunity to make a major contribution to the development of internationally excellent research and teaching while allowing you unrivalled opportunities to progress and embed your career in an exciting and progressive institution.

The successful candidate will benefit from individual research support funding, access to SGIA and University-wide research funding, and be entitled to apply for sabbatical leave on the basis of one term of leave in each seven terms of service. SGIA and Durham University provide high-quality administrative support to assist with applications for research funding, to facilitate research-based engagement and impact work with non-academic communities, and to enable the introduction and dissemination of new educational practice. SGIA attracts some of the most highly qualified undergraduates in the UK to its exciting undergraduate degree programmes. The postgraduate student community is large, at over 200 taught and research students, and highly international. Among other EDI initiatives, the department is currently in the process of diversifying its curriculum and this is a
University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley

Rank: Assistant Professor

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley’s diverse student body as a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in the 2021-2022 academic year. The department is particularly interested in applicants with a critical research agenda, including but not limited to the Chinese state and political economy (e.g., industrial policy, trade policy, labor relations), contemporary Chinese government and politics, China and the world system, or China and globalization. This position continues the department’s effort to build an undergraduate and graduate program with courses anchored in the concepts and methods of political science, but that simultaneously cross disciplinary boundaries to incorporate topics, concepts, and methods utilized by other disciplines. The successful candidate will teach courses on Contemporary Chinese Politics and other upper-division or graduate courses to be designed by the new faculty member. The department maintains a highly flexible teaching schedule that can include online teaching and support from teaching assistants, undergraduate research interns, and online instructional coaches.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/19/2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8456

Reed College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science, International Relations/Comparative Politics 2021–2023

Applications are invited for a two-year visiting appointment in political science with specializations in international relations and/or comparative politics. Candidates are expected to advise senior theses and teach up to five sections over two semesters in each year, for a total of two sections of Introduction to Comparative Politics, two sections of Introduction to International Relations, and up to six sections in the specialty of the applicant, preferably split across both subfields. All our courses are capped at 24 students. Visitors are usually appointed at the assistant professor level, but more advanced candidates may be considered. Salary is competitive, including travel and research support. The appointment begins Fall 2021.

We are interested in candidates who possess multiple methods of analysis, a broad research program, and scholarly interests that reach into other parts of political science. We are particularly interested in candidates who demonstrate integration of their approaches and interests into teaching undergraduate seminars and advising student research. Our pedagogy emphasizes the conceptual and theoretical foundations of the discipline and includes yearly supervision of undergraduate thesis students. Above all, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level. We expect the Ph.D. to be in hand, or very near completion, by the start of the appointment. Information on the department is available at http://academic.reed.edu/poli_sci/. Search inquiries may be addressed to political.search@reed.edu.

Reed College is a community that values cultural and intellectual pluralism as essential to the excellence of our academic program. In your application materials, we welcome a description of how, as a scholar, teacher, or community member, you would engage and sustain the commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in Reed College’s diversity statement (http://www.reed.edu/diversity/). An Equal Opportunity Employer, Reed College values diversity and encourages applications from underrepresented groups.

Please send an application letter, CV, evidence of teaching excellence, and at least three letters of recommendation to http://apply.interfolio.com/82289. Sample syllabi are welcome but not required. Formal review of applications will begin January 18, 2021; applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8436

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Global Public Policy and Political Economy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2021. We seek a colleague with research Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science of the University of Alabama is seeking a full-time tenure stream position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics. The University of Alabama is a public research university located in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department’s NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) faculty and teach in the MPA program, contributing to our new focused area of study Global Affairs & Security. In addition, the hire will offer courses appropriate for students majoring in Economics and Political Science. Interest in contributing to the Department’s graduate quantitative methods course sequence will be looked upon favorably.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/47459 and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to Global Public Policy & Political Economy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. All interviews will be conducted using audio/visual technology due to travel restrictions. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/18/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8419

University of Toronto
Rank: Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Other

Canadian Politics – Assistant Professor

Description:

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Canadian politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We prefer candidates whose research and teaching interests centre on democratic governance broadly understood, especially as it pertains to marginalized or under-represented populations.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University’s downtown (St George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science https://politics.utoronto.ca) to learn more about us.

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive and externally funded research program. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of their contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover (but need not be limited to); research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) sent directly by the referee to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Robert Vipond, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, Thursday, January 28, 2021. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University’s automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at http://uoft.me/how-to-apply. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday, January 28, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see http://uoft.me/UP.

Accessibility Statement
The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.
The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.
If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/28/2021
Date Posted: 12/16/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8405

University of Texas at Dallas
Rank: Assistant Professor
Assistant Professor - Comparative Courts/Law

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-system assistant professor position beginning in August 2021 in the Political Science Program. The successful candidate will be expected to teach an introductory undergraduate comparative law course, specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, and to be involved with the pre-law administrative team. Possible research specializations might include: comparative politics, especially in the developing world. Duties will include a combination of research, teaching, and service.

ABD will be considered, but the PhD must be awarded by the time of appointment.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15204

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/11/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8391

Columbia University
Rank: Istvan Deak Visiting Professor in East Central European Studies

Columbia University invites applications for István Deák Visiting Professorship(s) in East Central European Studies for one or two semesters (fall and/or spring) in the academic year 2021-2022. The professorship, commemorating Professor Deák’s legacy of excellence in research and teaching, is open to scholars who have active interest and accomplishments in East and Central European studies. Appointment(s) will be open-rank, to be filled at any level from Visiting Assistant to Visiting Full Professor.

The visiting professor(s) will be appointed in one of the Humanities or Social Science departments of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The visitors will teach two courses per semester, one a lecture course of broad interest for undergraduates, the other a seminar for upper-level undergraduates and graduate students. The visitors are expected to give one public lecture and participate in the academic life of the University, whose interests in East and Central European studies are well represented on campus by the East Central European Center, the European Institute, and the Harriman Institute.

Please provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, the names of three persons who may be asked to provide a letter of reference, and a modest sample (article or book chapter) of scholarship. The letter of application should include a statement of which semester the applicant prefers, a list with titles and brief (one-paragraph long) descriptions of two courses which the applicant might teach, and a description of the applicant’s current research interests.

All applications must be made through Columbia’s online Recruitment of Academic Personnel System (RAPS) at: http://pa334.peopleadmin.com/postings/6332

Review of applications will begin January 11, 2021, and will continue until the positions are filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/10/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8385

Pennsylvania State University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Specializations: African American Politics, Latin American, Middle East

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor.

The department welcomes applications from candidates who will build on existing programs and areas of strength in the Department and the University, or who could help us increase our strength in African, Latin American, or Middle Eastern politics; comparative race and ethnic politics, or behavioral and experimental approaches to comparative politics, especially in the developing world. Duties will include a combination of research, teaching, and service.

The Department is looking for outstanding candidates with a record that demonstrates the potential to build a high-quality publication record, to secure external funding, and to serve as an excellent teacher.
and mentor. In addition, successful candidates must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse campus community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity. Penn State University and the Department of Political Science are committed to the values of equity, diversity and inclusion (see https://equity.psu.edu/diversity-statement and https://polisci.la.psu.edu/diversity statement and https://polisci.la.psu.edu/diversity&lta;&/a&amp;gt;) and we seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to these goals.

A PhD in Political Science or a closely related field is required (PhD in hand by appointment date preferred, ABD by appointment date accepted).

The salary/benefit package is competitive, and the position begins in the fall 2021. To apply, submit via the Penn State jobs website: a cover letter explaining candidate’s research and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a statement of teaching philosophy, an example of scholarly research, teaching evaluations (if applicable), and the names and contact information for three references who can address candidates’ research, teaching and commitment to enhancing diversity.

Review of applications will begin on January 10, 2020 and continue until the position is filled. For more information on Department of Political Science, see: https://polisci.la.psu.edu/https://polisci.la.psu.edu/&lt;/a&amp;gt;.

Apply online at https://psu wd1 myworkdayjobs com/PSU_Academic job/University-Park-Campus/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science_REQ_0000009127-1 https://psu wd1 myworkdayjobs com/PSU_Academic job/University-Park-Campus/Assistant-Professor-of-Political-Science_REQ_0000009127-1 &lt;/a&amp;gt; Please note there is a 5 document limit on the online application so please upload either all or some of your materials as one document.

Penn State is committed to and accountable for advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in all of its forms. We embrace individual uniqueness, foster a culture of inclusion that supports both broad and specific diversity initiatives, leverage the educational and institutional benefits of diversity, and engage all individuals to help them thrive. We value inclusion as a core strength and an essential element of our public service mission.

To review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters and policies, please go to https://police.psu.edu/annual-security-reports, which will also explain how to request a paper copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/10/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8390

Oberlin College
Rank: Comparative Politics

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a non-continuing position in comparative politics. Appointment to this position will be for one year beginning fall semester of 2021 and will carry the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor.

The incumbent will teach five courses in comparative politics. Area of specialization is open, though we seek candidates who will not duplicate our current strengths in East Asian, (sub-Saharan) African and Latin American politics. Candidates with the ability to teach one or more courses on the politics of the Middle East/North Africa or the Post-Soviet region/Eastern Europe preferred.

Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2021-22). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable.

A complete application will be comprised of 1) a Cover Letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement detailing your commitment to and experience in diversity and equity in teaching; 5) a research statement that includes how you will support undergraduate research and, if applicable, how you might incorporate undergraduate students into your research program; and 6) Letters of Reference from three recommenders.

* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory’s online application process at: http://jobs.oberlin.edu/postings/9683

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8378

Oberlin College
Rank: Comparative Politics
Specializations: Middle East, Post Soviet Region, Post Communist Europe

The Politics Department at Oberlin College invites applications for a non-continuing position in comparative politics. Appointment to this position will be for one year beginning fall semester of 2021 and will carry the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor.

The incumbent will teach five courses in comparative politics. Area of specialization is open, though we seek candidates who will not duplicate our current strengths in East Asian, (sub-Saharan) African and Latin American politics. Candidates with the ability to teach one or more courses on the politics of the Middle East/North Africa or the Post-Soviet region/Eastern Europe preferred.

Among the qualifications required for appointment is the PhD degree (in hand or expected by first semester of academic year 2021-22). Candidates must demonstrate interest and potential excellence in undergraduate teaching. Successful teaching experience at the college level is desirable.

* All application materials must be submitted electronically through Oberlin College and Conservatory’s online application process at: http://jobs.oberlin.edu/postings/9683

A complete application will be comprised of 1) a Cover Letter describing your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and service, detailing any... connections to supporting an inclusive learning environment; 2) a Curriculum Vitae; 3) an unofficial graduate transcript; 4) a statement detailing your commitment to and experience in diversity and equity in teaching; 5) Letters of Reference from three recommenders. The deadline has been extended to January 30, 2021. Review of applications will begin on January 30, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Completed applications received by the January 30th deadline will be guaranteed full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8379

London School of Economics
Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science
Specializations: China, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university.

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website.

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. We are open to all methodological approaches and we have a preference for candidates with specialisms in one or more of the following areas:

- East Asia or South Asia
- Gender
- Race or Ethnicity

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4092/0/283545/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-east-asia-or-south-asia-gender-race-or-ethnicity

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8359

Georgia Southern University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor of Political Science—Search # 67796
College of Behavior and Social Sciences, Department of Political Science and International Studies

The Department of Political Science and International Studies in the College of Behavior and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. The home campus for this position will be the Statesboro campus.

Georgia Southern University is a distinctive combination of Southern charm and uncompromising academics. We are a Carnegie Doctoral/ R2 institution serving about 26,500 students through nine colleges on three beautiful oak-lined campuses in Statesboro, Savannah, Hinesville, and via a growing online program. Throughout its degree offerings at the associate’s, bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral levels, Georgia Southern cultivates community collaboration, world-class scholarship and hands-on learning opportunities.

Georgia Southern University was founded in 1906 as a school for teaching modern agricultural production techniques and homemaking skills to rural school children. Its Savannah campus was established in 1935 as Armstrong Junior College for local youth who could not afford to attend college away from home. The Liberty Center in Hinesville was established in 1998 to serve the military and their families at nearby Fort Stewart, the largest military base east of the Mississippi. All three locations came together in 2018 when Armstrong State University and Georgia Southern University consolidated. The “new” Georgia Southern University preserves a passion for serving its neighbors while preparing students for lifelong service as scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities.

Believing that diversity, equity, and inclusion contribute to excellence in the workplace and to the quality of the University’s academic environment, Georgia Southern University is committed to recruiting and retaining diverse faculty and staff to support, promote, and serve a diverse student body and promote Inclusive Excellence. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, whose work furthers the
The Macalester College Department of Political Science invites applications for a visiting position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor (PhD) or Visiting Instructor (ABD), for the 2021-2022 academic year. Candidates should have, or be close to completing, a PhD in Political Science with a focus on comparative politics, open to any regional specialty except Latin America (to avoid duplicating current course offerings). We are especially interested in candidates who would further diversify our faculty and curriculum. The position is in Macalester’s Political Science department but may also contribute to other interdisciplinary programs at Macalester.

The teaching load is five courses per year, and should include Foundations of Comparative Politics and other comparative politics courses.

Required Qualifications:
- Earned Ph.D. in Political Science, or closely related field, by August 1, 2021
- Evidence of college/university teaching excellence
- Evidence of potential for strong publication record
- Effective communication skills
- Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives
- Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development
- Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution

Preferred Qualifications:
- Regional specialization in Africana or African Politics (not Europe, Latin America, Southeast Asia, South Asia, or MENA)
- Teaching and research specialization in comparative political economy
- Ability to teach introductory course in American Government
- Ability to teach Introduction to Political Science or Political Methodology
- Ability to teach online courses
- Record of extramural funding commensurate with experience

Screening of applications begins January 31, 2021 and continues until the position is filled. The preferred position starting date is August 1, 2021. To equitably serve a fast growing and highly diverse student body and to fulfill the University’s commitment to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion, we actively seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to Pillar 3 of our University Strategic Plan: Inclusive Excellence.

A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; a sample of written work and teaching evaluations; and at least three letters of recommendation from professional references. In addition, applicants are required to submit an Inclusive Excellence statement (2 pages). In the Inclusive Excellence statement, applicants should reflect on their experience, vision, and commitment regarding teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds and discuss past, current, and future contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion in the areas of research, teaching, service, and outreach. Other documentation may be requested. Only complete applications submitted electronically will be considered. Finalists will be required to submit to a background investigation.

More information about the institution is available through http://www.georgiasouthern.edu or Department of Political Science and International Studies. The names of applicants and nominees, vitae, and other non-evaluative information may be subject to public inspection under the Georgia Open Records Act. Georgia Southern University provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. Individuals who need reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act to participate in the search process should notify Human Resources at 912-478-6947.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/2/2020
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8354
The candidate would likely teach the introductory course both Fall and Spring semesters, to reduce their number of course preparations.

Inquiries and applications can be directed to Professor Paul Dosh, Chair of Political Science, dosh@macalester.edu. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, up to 3 letters of reference, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The cover letter should indicate which courses the applicant is prepared to teach. Applications are due no later than February 1, 2021.

Salary and benefits are competitive, and the Political Science department is committed to mentoring visiting faculty; past visitors have found their time at Macalester to be a strong launching pad from which to secure tenure-track positions at other institutions. Macalester College and the Political Science department are committed to student and faculty diversity, equity, and inclusion. As an Equal Opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

Macalester College is a highly selective, private liberal arts college in the vibrant Minneapolis-Saint Paul metropolitan area, with a population of approximately three million people and home to numerous colleges and universities, including the University of Minnesota. Macalester’s diverse student body comprises over 2,000 undergraduates from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and 95 nations. The College maintains a longstanding commitment to academic excellence with a special emphasis on internationalism, multiculturalism, and service to society.

Roanoke College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in International Relations beginning in August 2021 and ending in May 2022. This is a full time, sabbatical-replacement position, with a teaching load of seven courses during the academic year.

We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations and who can offer courses in International Politics, International Relations Theory, and Research Methods. While the department has additional need for courses covering Comparative Politics of Europe and Human Rights Policy to fill specific programmatic requirements, we especially seek candidates who have passion for teaching and mentoring undergraduates and can diversify our offerings. The successful candidate will also contribute International Relations courses to the General Education curriculum. A Ph.D. with teaching experience is preferred, but an ABD will be considered.

The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research. Visiting Professors are eligible to receive departmental funds and to apply for most of the College’s internal grants in support of their research and teaching.

Roanoke College is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff, and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply. We also seek candidates with interests in mentoring under-represented students, diversifying curricular offerings, or sponsoring diverse community engagement. Applicants are asked to address their potential contributions in support of a diverse community in their cover letters.

Salary and benefits are competitive, and the Political Science department is committed to mentoring visiting faculty; past visitors have found their time at Macalester to be a strong launching pad from which to secure tenure-track positions at other institutions. Macalester College and the Political Science department are committed to student and faculty diversity, equity, and inclusion. As an Equal Opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

Applications should submit their cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations and three letters of recommendation to: Ms. Judith Pinckney, Department of Public Affairs, 119 West Hall, Roanoke College, Salem, VA 24513. Inquiries may be sent to: pinckney@roanoke.edu. Please visit our Departmental website at: https://www.roanoke.edu/inside/a-z_index/public_affairs for more information.

Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Pepperdine University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Studies

The International Studies and Languages Division of Pepperdine University’s Seaver College of Letters, Arts, and Sciences seeks applications for a tenure track appointment as an Assistant Professor of International Studies (with a specialization in African Studies) beginning August 1, 2021. The ability to teach courses in at least two of the following areas is preferred: African politics, African culture and society, ethnicity in Africa, comparative politics, or comparative political economy. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Anthropology, or Sociology is required. Candidates should demonstrate exceptional interest and effectiveness in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students. Candidates should also have the ability to establish a productive research program. The ability to engage students in their scholarly work would be a plus.

Pepperdine University is a private Christian university overlooking the Pacific Ocean in Malibu, California. Faculty, staff and students partner to support Pepperdine’s Christian Mission. Pepperdine is committed to valuing diversity and inclusion among our students and faculty. Applicants of color are particularly encouraged to apply.

Please submit all application materials at apply.interfolio.com/78908. Review of candidates’ application materials will begin on November 9th, 2020, and will continue until the search is closed.

Contact:
Dr. George Carlsen (george.carlsen@pepperdine.edu)
Divisional Dean of International Studies and Languages
Pepperdine University
24255 Pacific Coast Highway
Malibu, CA 90263

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/25/2020
University of Richmond
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in the politics of development, broadly defined. The department has a strong preference for an area concentration in either Africa or the Middle East, which will complement its existing strengths in the politics of Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The position, to begin in 2021-2022 academic year, is intended to meet and expand curricular goals within the major; to broaden the department’s research expertise; and to contribute to interdisciplinary initiatives in the School of Arts and Sciences and to the University of Richmond’s mission of “preparing students for responsible leadership in a diverse world.” More specifically, the position carries a 3-2 teaching load consisting of a regular offering of a survey course on the politics of development. Other courses would relate to the faculty’s regional specialization, with particular preference for courses on the politics of Africa and/or the Middle East. The new hire would also share responsibility for teaching the department’s ongoing offerings of Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations and, as schedule permits, contribute to departmental First Year Seminar (FYS) offerings.

Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation by August 1, 2021. Applicants should apply online at https://richmond.cod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=2062.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students “to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see https://polisci.richmond.edu/.

Applicants should click “Apply Now”; at the top of the page and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter containing a brief summary of the candidate’s research and teaching interests and indicating commitment to the teacher-scholar model, and separate research and teaching statements. The research statement should expand on the candidate’s research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate’s teaching philosophy, interests, experience and goals. It should also address commitment to inclusive pedagogy and to fostering thriving and inclusive intercultural community, as outlined in the President’s Making Excellence Inclusive report making-excellence-inclusive-final-report-2019.pdf. In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence on October 1, 2020 and continue until the position is filled.

Please address any questions about the application to Dr. Jennifer Erkulwater (jerkulwa@richmond.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173.

Lycoming College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Lycoming College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 2021. The successful candidate will be broadly trained to teach both introductory and advanced courses in Public Law. Candidates with a secondary specialization in Comparative Politics are encouraged to apply.

Lycoming’s small, liberal arts environment allows faculty members, as part of their 3-3 teaching load, to create new courses in line with their area of specialization. Candidates with an interest in teaching in the College’s interdisciplinary first year seminar program are desired. Candidates should demonstrate a strong promise of teaching effectiveness and scholarly achievement, and a serious commitment to teaching undergraduates in a liberal arts environment is essential. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, as well as service to the department and institution.

Ph.D. in political science is preferred, but ABDs in their final stages of completion will be considered.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae along with submitting a teaching portfolio, 250-word statement on why they are interested in a liberal arts academic environment, a single-authored writing sample, 3 letters of recommendation, and graduate transcript using the link below. https://lycomingcollege.applytojob.com/apply/CqDmzXdFUU/Assistant-Professor-Of-Political-Science-Public-Law

Letters of recommendations can be mailed to:
Attention: Missy Cashner, HR Generalist
Lycoming College
One College Place, Campus Box 861
Williamsport, PA 17701

To guarantee full consideration applications should be submitted by October 1, 2020. A pre-employment drug screening will be conducted.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 10/1/2020
Date Posted: 8/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7954

Carleton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Specializations: Asian American Politics, China, East Asia

The Carleton College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics to begin September 1, 2021. We are specifically interested in candidates who have regional expertise in Chinese politics and prefer candidates who can speak both to domestic dynamics as well as China’s role in a broader Asian and/or global context. Successful candidates should be able to teach a range of courses in Comparative Politics (including the introductory course) as well as offer instruction in research methods (qualitative and/or quantitative). The standard teaching load is five courses spread across three trimesters. The ideal candidate will also be interested in contributing to a vibrant college-wide culture of undergraduate research and have a commitment to attracting and retaining students from underserved groups. A PhD in hand or its imminent completion is required.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000, located in the historic and thriving town of Northfield, Minnesota. We are in commuting distance of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, whose greater metro area has a diverse population of three million people and a rich variety of cultural resources. The Political Science Department strives to introduce students—majors and non-majors alike—to a broad array of theoretical and philosophical perspectives while equipping them with the necessary analytic skills to engage with an increasingly diverse world and contribute constructively to one’s community. For further information about the department, please consult the department website at carleton.edu/political-science.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, and a statement about teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment and how you would contribute to a college community that embraces a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We also require a statement about research interests, one scholarly writing sample and contact information for three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to jobs.carleton.edu. Inquiries can be directed to pteiken@carleton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 9/4/2020
Date Posted: 7/7/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7899

Providence College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Comparative Politics of Africa
Specializations: Africa, Developing Nations, Western Europe

The Political Science Department at Providence College invites applications for a one-year position as visiting assistant professor in Comparative Politics with a focus on African Politics. The Department welcomes applicants with a range of research foci, such as post-colonial institutions, democratization, social movements, parties and party systems, civil society, militarization and insurgencies, political economy, and statebuilding.

The teaching load is four courses per semester (two or three preparations); class size varies from about 12 to 25 students. The successful applicant will teach Comparative Politics, African Politics, and Politics 101, the introductory course for the major. There is a possibility the position may be extended for a second year.

The position includes competitive salary and benefits, as well as research support including travel funds, library resources, and grant writing assistance. The Political Science Department has thirteen faculty members dedicated to effective teaching and scholarship.

The City of Providence is vibrant and diverse city with a long history of welcoming immigrant populations, most recently from West Africa, Latin America, and Southeast Asia.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science or be close to completion, and demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence, strong research skills, and potential for research productivity.

Applicants should apply online at https://careers.providence.edu and submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, and contact information for three professional references. For additional information, please contact Dr. Joe Cammarano, Chair of the Political Science Department, at jpcammarano@providence.edu with questions.

Review of applications will commence immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/12/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7899

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics

Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Title: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA)
Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE)

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE) seeks applicants for two tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts in Fall semester of 2021. The openings are in the field of comparative politics, research methodology, and political theory. Candidates who have a research focus on issues of public policy are strongly encouraged to apply for the positions. A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potential to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field. Although the working environment in SUFE is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years of employment.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
The tenure-track faculty are expected to publish research on highly reputable international journals, offer high-quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFE. The rules of evaluation and promotion are standardized at the university and similar to those for tenure positions in a regular American university.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, medical insurance, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background: Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas. The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five-Year Plan. The newly established Institute of Political Science has eight members who hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents: Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):
1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

The deadline for accepting applications is September 31, 2020, for this round of recruitment. We will arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype and WeChat during November and December 2020.

Contact: Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/14/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 7872

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: 2021-2022 International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS)
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics
Specializations: Foreign Policy, International Security, History & Politics

The Fellowship:
The International Affairs Fellowship for Tenured International Relations Scholars (IAF-TIRS) offers professors from a variety of academic backgrounds practical experience in the foreign policymaking field, providing them with an opportunity to spend their sabbatical year working at a U.S. government agency, in Congress, or with an international organization.

The IAF-TIRS program helps close the gap between research and practice, enriching both teaching and scholarship by enabling fellows to become practitioners. The program also benefits policymakers by exposing them to critical scholarly research relevant to the foreign policy and national security issues facing the United States and the world.

The fellowship is for twelve months. The program will match 50 percent of the fellow’s base salary for the academic year (up to a maximum of $80,000 for the year) as well as provide modest assistance for moving expenses for those who need to relocate for the fellowship.

Eligibility:
Applicants should be U.S. citizens

Applicants must be full-time tenured professors at a U.S. college or university
Applicants must have arranged a paid sabbatical with their home university
Applicants must hold a PhD

Applicants must propose to spend a year working on peace and security issues in the U.S. government, in Congress, or at an international organization.

Preference is given to candidates with no previous experience in the U.S. government or with an international organization.

*Note: fellows are considered independent contractors rather than employees of CFR and are not eligible for employment benefits, including health insurance. No indirect costs can be deducted from the stipend award.

How to Apply:
Interested candidates who meet the program eligibility requirements can apply online now through October 31 at cfr.org/fellowships/international-affairs-fellowship-tenured-international-relations-scholars.

If you have additional questions, please contact tirs.fellowships@cfr.org.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 10/31/2020
Date Posted: 5/1/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7853

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for a tenure-track/tenured faculty appointment in comparative politics or international relations. We are looking for a scholar who uses advanced data analytics to study important, policy-relevant issues. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2021.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before March 1, 2021 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio (http://apply.interfolio.com/83363). If you encounter difficulties with the application process, please email artsic-pschair@email.wustl.edu for additional instructions. All other questions may be directed to Heather Sloan-Randick at hsloanra@wustl.edu.

Diversity and Inclusion are core values at Washington University, and the strong candidate will demonstrate the ability to create inclusive classrooms and environments in which a diverse array of students can learn and thrive.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University’s policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency. This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/.

University of Oxford

Rank: Associate Professorship in Politics or International Relations with specialization in the Middle East in association with St Antony’s College

Associate Professorship in Politics or International Relations with specialization in the Middle East in association with St Antony’s College

Salary on the scale within the range £48,114 to £64,605 p.a. (plus College benefits including a housing allowance of £2,550 p.a. and other benefits)

The Department of Politics and International Relations (DPIR) at Oxford is an internationally renowned center of excellence for teaching and research. The study of these disciplines at Oxford has a long and distinguished history and the department is one of the largest in the field in the UK.

The Oxford School of Global and Area Studies (OSGA) is one of the fifteen constituent parts of the Social Sciences Division at Oxford. It represents a commitment by the University to enhancing teaching and research in Area Studies.

The Department and the School, in association with St Antony’s College, now seek jointly to appoint an inspirational teacher and accomplished research scholar to an Associate Professorship in Politics or International Relations with specialization in the Middle East.

Applications are welcomed from outstanding candidates with teaching experience and a strong research background in Politics or International Relations and expertise in the Middle East and North Africa (MENA). Essential criteria include a completed doctorate in political science, international relations or a closely related field; an outstanding, world-class portfolio of research and publications as well as an exciting future research programme. An ability to work with source materials in one or more of the non-Western languages of MENA is highly desirable.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage actively in research and to contribute through world-class publications to the departments’ and University’s international reputation for research excellence. The post-holder will also offer teaching in both the DPIR and OSGA, supervision of undergraduate and graduate students, contribute to administration and examining, and act as a College Adviser for graduate students.

The post will be held in conjunction with a Governing Body Fellowship at St Anthony’s College. The post-holder will have a room for teaching and research in the Department of Politics of International Relations as well as at the Middle East Centre of St Antony’s.

Appointments to Associate Professorships are confirmed as permanent on successful completion of a review during the first 5 years. Any offer made will be subject to pre-employment checks. The post is offered on a full-time basis, available from 1 September 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter.

If you would like to apply please visit the below link:

https://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancy/associate-professorship-in-politics-or-international-relations-with-specialization-in-the-middle-east-148982.html

The closing date for applications is 12.00 noon on Monday 8 February 2021. Interviews are expected to be held remotely in early March 2021.

Applications are encouraged from women and black and minority ethnic candidates, who are underrepresented in academic posts in Oxford.

Start Date: Winter

Application Deadline: 2/8/2021

Date Posted: 1/28/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8525

---

Political Science Jobs

February 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
University of Pittsburgh
Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate - Center for Governance and Markets
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Political Economy, Economic Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Center for Governance and Markets at the Graduate School for Public and International Affairs at the University of Pittsburgh is now accepting applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate for a one-year appointment beginning in August 2021, with a possible extension for a second year. The postdoctoral associate will play a significant role in advancing the mission of the Center, which explores how governance institutions and markets contribute to human well-being, prosperity, and security in the US and around the world. CGM achieves its mission by producing cutting-edge research, dialogue with policy communities, and through community engagement.

CGM is interested in a postdoctoral associate from any relevant discipline in the social sciences (e.g., economics, political science, sociology, public policy, public administration, anthropology, etc.) who can contribute to one or more of our core research areas: governance and political institutions; economic institutions and property rights; and/or governance of emerging technologies.

CGM seeks candidates with a strong research background in their own discipline who have a willingness and ability to develop research projects that align with CGM research initiatives. The candidate will conduct his/her teaching and research and participate in the Center’s activities, including seminar series. The candidate is also expected to support CGM’s mission by engaging with policy communities as well as working with the communities where we work.

Candidates must have received their PhD within the past three years. Salary is competitive and the benefits package includes health/vision/dental plans including spouse, domestic partner and/or dependents. Additional support for up to $3,000 will be made available to support research and conference attendance.

To apply, please include the following materials with your application:

CV
Minimum of three confidential letters of reference
Writing sample
Cover letter detailing how research interests align with the mission and research initiatives of CGM.
All applications must be received through Pitt’s site: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=20006253&tz=GMT-05%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York

Details about CGM’s research mission and projects can be found at cgm.pitt.edu. General inquiries can be directed to the Director of CGM, Jennifer Brick Murtazashvili at jmurtaz@pitt.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 3/31/2021
Date Posted: 1/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8522

Carnegie Mellon University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in International Relations and Politics

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University (www.cmu.edu/ips) invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in International Security. Specific focus in cybersecurity and international conflict is desired.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2021, to July 31, 2023. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2018, and August 1, 2021. The application deadline is Monday, February 22, 2021. Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/83311

Materials to be submitted:
- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/26/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8517

Colorado Christian University
Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of American Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Apply here: https://app.jobvite.com/j?aj=oiKpefwp&cs=APSA

About the Job
Colorado Christian University is looking for an outstanding teacher with a deep knowledge and appreciation of the American founding and political institutions, and an infectious love for history and students. This faculty member will teach courses and develop curriculum within the Department of Social Sciences, housed within the School of Humanities and Sciences (SHSS) in the College of Undergraduate Studies. The Department of Social Sciences offers several general education courses including American Politics, American History, and Western Civilization, and degree programs in Politics, History, and Global Studies. This faculty member will teach critical general education and major American politics courses with an eye toward the roots, great ideas and events of the American Founding and story. In so doing, this faculty member will work to develop in students a critical appreciation for this heritage, convincing them of history’s importance, and contributing to students’ formation as Christians, all the while helping them understand the times we now live in and calling them to greatness. Preferred requirements are a Ph.D. in History, Politics, or a closely-related discipline, combined with experience and a passion for teaching politics at the undergraduate level.

Faculty members of Colorado Christian University (CCU) teach assigned courses for which they are highly qualified within the College of Undergraduate Studies (CUS). Courses are traditional, in-seat and offered on our Lakewood, Colorado campus. Each faculty member uses effective instruction techniques as a subject matter expert, but their primary responsibility is to integrate field-specific pedagogy with the Bible and a Christian worldview. They are also expected to integrate and teach CCU’s spiritual, academic, and cultural Strategic Priorities.

Other duties are to support the mission and vision of CCU. This may include actively participating in committee/task force/team meetings, writing curriculum, reporting on assessments/outcomes, advancing scholarship, engaging with the community, supporting colleagues, or doing other work assigned by the dean. Faculty members are expected to keep regular office hours, to engage with students, and assist them with their academics or other activities that support the University’s holistic approach.

The standard teaching load is 24 credit hours of undergraduate courses per year or four courses per semester.

Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

About CCU

Colorado Christian University is the premier interdenominational Christian university in Colorado and the Rocky Mountain region, delivering world class education to thousands of students. The fully accredited, nonprofit University is located in Lakewood, Colorado, a suburb of Denver.

Colorado Christian University was founded in 1914. CCU’s motto is—grace and truth. This motto comes from John 1.14: “And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, the glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.” (ESV)

CCU’s mission is Christ-centered higher education transforming students to impact the world with grace and truth.

Colorado Christian University cultivates knowledge and love of God in a Christ-centered community of learners and scholars, with an enduring commitment to the integration of exemplary academics, spiritual formation, and engagement with the world. We envision graduates who think critically and creatively, lead with high ethical and professional standards, embody the character and compassion of Jesus Christ, treasure the gospel, and who thereby are prepared to impact the world in their callings.

CCU’s embraces an educational model that was there at the foundation of many of the great western and American universities. It is made up of three pillars—competence, character and Christ-centered faith. Secular universities have abandoned two of those pillars. We think this is a major oversight that eventually undermines education. Furthermore, we believe this classical educational model is both life-giving and greatly needed in our time.

A leader in higher education, CCU has been consistently ranked in the top 2 percent of colleges and universities nationwide for its core curriculum by the American Council of Trustees and Alumni. CCU has had ten consecutive years of enrollment growth and has been named one of the five fastest-growing master’s granting universities by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

CCU offers more than 100 degree program options for traditional and adult students through its two colleges—the College of Undergraduate Studies and College of Adult and Graduate Studies. More than 8,000 students attend the University on the main campus, in regional centers throughout Colorado, and online.

What is most appealing about working at CCU?

1. Faith-friendly: CCU’s culture is unique to higher education. Where else can you pursue academic excellence yet read the Holy Bible, pray with teammates and students at work, and work to impact our culture in support of Christian values?
2. Convictionally Christian: As a university, we have an enduring commitment to Christ, his kingdom and the truth of God’s Word.
3. Live out your calling: We are a traditional evangelical university where you can invest your God-given talents and abilities alongside coworkers and teammates, while having a profound influence on students as they deepen their relationship with Jesus Christ.
4. Equip students for kingdom work: You can be a part of helping students discover their callings and preparing them for positions of significant leadership in the church, business, government, education, and other professions, as a key part of our University’s Strategic Priorities.

We’re looking for candidates who have:

1. A Ph.D. in politics, history or a related field strongly preferred, master’s degree required. Each faculty member must be considered highly qualified as outlined by the University’s accreditation and academic standards.
2. Three or more years of successful teaching experience in a college or university (preferred) or classical academy, with a proven track record of student learning and engagement through previous classroom evaluations by students, faculty, and administration.
3. Deep understanding and appreciation of the significance and principles of the American founding, and the institutions of the American political system; ability to teach students to value this heritage in order to thoughtfully and wisely engage the challenges of the modern world.
4. Ability to incorporate primary texts and engage disciplines like history, law, economics, and theology in their teaching.
5. Superior oral, interpersonal, and written communication skills.
6. Passion for Christ-centered higher education and dedication to the integration of faith and learning in their field.
7. Deep commitment to student success.
8. Proficiency in appropriate Microsoft Office applications (Word, Excel, PowerPoint) and are able to use appropriate software/technology (Blackboard) in the learning environment.
9. Commitment to learning new ideas for classroom presentations and dynamic class interactions to engage student learning in a meaningful way consistent with the University’s mission.
10. Proven track record and ongoing experience in their field.

Workload

12-month contract. Responsible to teach 24 units per year (typically 4 undergraduate courses per semester).

Key Job Duties
1. Contribute to CCU’s mission: Christ-centered higher education transforming students to impact the world with grace and truth. The School of Humanities and Social Sciences faculty contribute to the University’s mission in the classroom and beyond, through activities such as committee/task force/team work, community development, or similar activities internally and externally, which enhance and advance exemplary academics, personal spiritual growth, and engagement with the world.

3. Teach assigned undergraduate courses within the College of Undergraduate Studies (CUS) in accord with all standard policies and procedures using a variety of best-practice teaching and learning strategies, including classroom and online technology, to enhance instruction.

4. Develop, implement, and evaluate course curriculum, teaching-learning practices, and assess student learning outcomes.

5. Engage students; maintain established office hours and be available to individual students for questions, coursework, consultations, and informal mentoring.

6. Engage in professional organization activities and scholarly work including, but not limited to, publications and presentations commensurate with experience and academic rank.

7. Provide strategic thinking in fulfilling the goals of the College of Undergraduate Studies in support of the University’s Strategic Priorities as well as contribute effectively to the University community, ministry partners, corporate partners, and general audiences. Strong participation in faculty, committee, or other meetings is an integral part of this position.

8. Add to the development of a Christ-centered community of learners and scholars within the College of Undergraduate Studies. Continue to grow in one’s academic field, and in personal commitment to and effectiveness in the integration of Christian faith and learning.

9. Provide effective servant/shepherd leadership among faculty, staff, students, and administrators.

10. Work effectively and positively with administrators, other faculty colleagues, and support staff to establish and maintain effective positive working relationships.

11. Participate in extracurricular activities to support and encourage students, colleagues, and staff.

12. Assist the dean with other duties as assigned.

Work Environment

While performing the duties of this job, you may be required to walk, stand, sit, reach with hands and arms, balance, stoop, speak with clarity, and have appropriate vision and hearing capabilities. The employee must occasionally lift and/or move up to 25 pounds. The employee may work occasional irregular hours, including some nights and weekends. Regular public presentations to students, parents, and external constituents required. Colorado Christian University expects all faculty and staff to become a part of the University community by participating in activities and events that occur on the campus throughout the year, which may occur during evenings and weekends.

What we offer our employees:

We offer competitive compensation and benefits packages to all employees. Our benefit package includes: a tuition waiver program, excellent healthcare, generous paid time off, matching 403(b) retirement plan, and additional organizational paid benefits and voluntary benefit offerings. Pay and benefits will be discussed in more detail as candidates progress through the interview process.

Colorado Christian University’s pay philosophy is based on internal and external data for pay equity; along with budgetary considerations for effective stewardship. Faculty pay will be assigned by rank at a range of $55,000-$65,000. We reserve the right to pay an equitable rate that we believe is within our salary structure or that may fit a candidate’s qualifications or experience for the job. A wage range posted is not a guarantee of a specific wage range for a job offer. CCU reserves the right to make pay decisions based on economic and equity considerations to attract the best possible talent. CCU does not determine pay based on sex or any other protected status.

Apply here: https://app.jobvite.com/j?aj=oiKpefwp&s=APSA

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 1/26/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 8518

Augustana University

Rank: Nef Family Chair of Political Economy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specialization: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Developing Nations

Augustana University (Sioux Falls, SD) invites applications for an endowed chair in political economy. The Rudy & Marilyn Nef Family Chair of Political Economy will advance the study of market economies and representative democracies, both within the campus community and in the region. This tenure-track faculty position will be housed in the Government and International Affairs Department. The Nef Family Chair will draw on a breadth of research and extensive teaching experience to contribute recognized scholarship and enthusiastic, effective instruction to the University’s offerings in economics, political science, public policy, and business.

We seek an outstanding teacher/scholar who reflects the foundational relevance of economic analysis in the design and administration of public policies, and who speaks authoritatively to the role of free markets, localized decision making and competition in a free society. The Nef Family Chair will offer a range of foundational and upper-level courses in the Government and Economics Departments. Foundational courses will include Microeconomics and Comparative Politics. Upper-level courses could focus on areas such as Comparative/International Political Economy, Comparative/International Politics, and Policy Analysis, but a successful candidate must offer a course focused on capitalist economic systems. The Nef Family Chair will also provide collaborative and creative leadership in partnership with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

Additional responsibilities will include student advising, student research mentorship, and planning and facilitating public symposia relevant to the scholar’s teaching and research. Interacting with students, faculty and leadership with different backgrounds and points of view and a deep appreciation of and respect for academic values and culture must be a top value of the candidate. A doctorate is required. Compensation, rank and length of tenure track will be commensurate with experience. The starting date for this 12-month appointment is August, 2021. Screening will begin February 19 and continue until the position is filled. Finalists will be expected to present an engaging topic as part of the interview process.
Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Application Procedure:
Please send a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; Augustana University employment application; statement of commitment to diversity; statement of teaching philosophy; addresses, phone numbers and email addresses of three current references; and unofficial transcripts electronically to Human Resources at humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: www.augie.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/22/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8511

Hitotsubashi University

Rank: Lecturer in International Relations

Research/Teaching Positions at the Global Governance Research Center, Graduate School of Law, Hitotsubashi University

Application Guidelines for Lecturers (Full-time Faculty Appointed for a Fixed Term)

Job Title and Affiliation:
Lecturer in International Relations (Full-time “teaching staff” as defined in Article 3(2) of the Hitotsubashi University Staff Employment Regulations)

Work Location:
• Global Governance Research Center, Graduate School of Law, Hitotsubashi University
2-1 Naka, Kunitachi-shi, Tokyo (ten minutes’ walk from Kunitachi Station South Exit on the JR Chuo Line)

Number of Positions:
• Two

Employment Period:
• September 1, 2021 - August 31, 2024 (can be extended for up to two years, depending on performance during this period)

Specialization:
• International Relations, especially International Political Economy and Global Governance

Duties:
1) Planning and managing international research projects at the Global Governance Research Center
2) Conducting individual research projects and publishing results in international journals
3) Providing support to students enrolled in the Global Leadership Program (academic advice and counseling regarding their studies abroad)
4) Teaching classes on IR in English at undergraduate and graduate level (e.g., “GLP Core Seminar” and “International Relations in the Asia Pacific” at undergraduate level; “Special Issues in Theories of World Politics” and “Special Issues in Research Methods in International Relations” at graduate level)
5) Other duties related to education and research at the Faculty and Graduate School of Law

Qualifications Required (competencies, experience, skills, etc.):
Applicants must fulfill all of the following requirements:
1) Be able to research and write papers in English on International Relations (especially on the international political economy, global issues, and Asia-Pacific region)
2) Hold a doctoral degree in a relevant field or an equivalent qualification
3) Be able to plan and manage international research projects
4) Be able to collaborate with administrative staff and faculty members of the Graduate School of Law, especially those affiliated with the Global Governance Research Center
5) Be able to communicate with students in a friendly manner
6) Preferably be proficient in Japanese (but this is not essential)

Salary:
• To be determined according to the scale laid down in the Hitotsubashi University regulations, taking into account the candidate’s qualifications and experience

Work Hours:
• 38 hours 45 minutes per week, with the ability to work flexible hours (equivalent to 7 hours 45 minutes per day, 5 days a week)

Non-work Days:
• Saturdays, Sundays, national holidays, December 29-January 3, and any other days designated by the President of the University

Leave:
• Annual paid leave of 20 days per calendar year (January 1 to December 31), but 7 days in 2021 (September 1 to December 31)
• Sick leave
• Special leave (bereavement, maternity leave, child care leave, nursing care leave, etc.)

Social Insurance, etc.:
• Employment insurance, industrial accident insurance, health cover (Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology Mutual Aid), Employees’ Pension Insurance

Selection:
• By application document screening and interview. Interviews will be held either in person or online with those shortlisted at the document screening stage.

How to Apply:
• Applicants may send the following application documents either by registered mail or other reliable means to the Graduate School of Law, Hitotsubashi University, or by e-mail addressed to law-so.g@ad.hit-u.ac.jp. If you choose to send the documents by e-mail, please prepare PDF files of the following documents and put “Application for Position at the Global Governance Research Center” in the subject line. When sending documents by e-mail, you are welcome to use a password to protect the confidentiality of your files. When sending documents by post, please write the above subject on the front of the envelope.
Political Science Jobs

Application Documents, etc.
1) Covering letter
2) Curriculum vitae including your education and work experience (with your signature and a portrait photo attached)
3) List of publications and research (approximately 2 A4-sized pages). You should indicate which publications were peer-reviewed and which were not. Conference papers and other publications may be included.
4) Copies of two major publications
5) Research plan (maximum of 3 A4-sized pages) and a syllabus for one of the above classes that the applicant is expected to teach
6) Photocopy of doctoral degree certificate or documentation certifying equivalent education and ability
7) Two letters of recommendation

Application Deadline:
• The application must arrive no later than 17:00 on Friday, March 19, 2021.

Document Screening, Notification of Result, etc.:
• Applicants who are shortlisted by document screening will be invited for an interview. The result of the document screening will be notified by e-mail or phone by early April.

Interview Date:
• Scheduled for late April or early May 2021 (in person or online and including a demonstration lecture)

Return of Application Documents, etc.:
• Application materials will not be returned.
• Application materials of unsuccessful applicants will be disposed of in an appropriate manner as soon as the selection process is completed.

Contact Information:
• Postal address
(Ms.) Mikiko Takahashi
Hitotsubashi University, Office of the Graduate School of Law
2-1 Naka, Kunitachi-shi, Tokyo 186-8601, Japan
• Tel.: +81-42-580-8206
• E-mail: law-so.g@ad.hit-u.ac.jp
*Inquiries should be made only by e-mail.

Remarks:
• Personal information obtained during the application process will be used solely for the purpose of recruitment selection and personnel management after recruitment and will not be used for any other purpose without the consent of the applicant.
• Applicants will be responsible for their own transportation costs to the interview site if they choose to undergo an in-person interview, or the costs of internet communication for an online interview.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/19/2021
Date Posted: 1/20/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8497

Simon Fraser University
Rank: Simons Foundation Canada Postdoctoral Fellow
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University invites applications for the Simons Foundation Canada Postdoctoral Fellow for the 2021/22 academic year, with the possibility of reappointment for a second year.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public university (consistently ranked #1 by Maclean’s Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada). The School for International Studies is an interdisciplinary unit with research and teaching programs focused on peace and security; international development; human rights and international law; and governance and civil society. The School is based at SFU’s Vancouver campus in the heart of downtown.

The Fellow will participate in School activities during the term of their appointment, deliver at least one presentation of their work to the School, and will teach one course in their area of expertise.

The fellowship provides $45,000 CAD plus benefits, with an additional $3,000 CAD in research support. Selection will be based on qualifications and expected contribution to the intellectual life of the School.

Applications should include: a cover letter with detailed research proposal, graduate transcripts, a curriculum vitae, and two letters of reference. Files will be reviewed beginning March 10, 2021.

Materials should be collated and sent in a single PDF file via email to inst@sfu.ca. (The letters of reference should be sent separately, directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: “2021 Postdoctoral Fellow Application, (Applicant Name).”

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see the collection notice at http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty_Openings/Collection_Notice.html

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/19/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8505

Wesleyan University
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a one year (2021-22) visiting position in international politics. Applicants should be prepared to teach an introductory course in International Politics and advanced courses in any area of international politics. The teaching load is 3:2; we expect that classes next year will be in person. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Government or related field in hand by the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but will complete the Ph.D. in Government or related field within one year of hire.

To apply, please go to http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/7573. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) an article-length writing sample (e.g., the first chapter of your dissertation), (5) a statement about your teaching philosophy and methods, (6) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (individual student evaluations are not necessary), and (7) sample syllabi if available. In the cover letter, applicants should describe how they will embrace the college’s commitment to fostering an inclusive community, as well as their experience working with individuals from historically marginalized or under served groups.

You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation (with their most recent email addresses)).

Applications received by February 12, 2021 will receive full consideration. Please contact Ms. Jeanne McNeff (jmcneff@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department administrative assistant, if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: 2/12/2021
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8489

Wofford College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor of International Affairs

The Department of Government and International Affairs at Wofford College in Spartanburg, South Carolina, invites applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor/instructor of international affairs to begin fall 2021. We require candidates to be broadly trained in International Relations and/or Comparative Politics and to have the ability to teach a range of introductory and upper level international relations and comparative politics courses. Candidates must be prepared to teach an international political economy course. The ability to teach introduction to American Politics is also beneficial, but not required. Graduate coursework on teaching and/or additional pedagogical training through workshops or certificates is helpful for this position. In addition, we value inclusive pedagogical approaches that aim to engage with a diverse student community. The teaching load for this position is 3-3.

ABOUT WOFFORD COLLEGE:
Wofford College, established in 1854, is a four-year, residential liberal arts college located in Spartanburg, S.C. It offers 27 major fields of study to a student body of 1,720 undergraduates. Nationally known for the strength of its academic program, outstanding faculty, study abroad participation and successful graduates, Wofford is home to one of the nation’s 283 Phi Beta Kappa chapters. The college community enjoys 19 NCAA Division I athletics teams.

Wofford’s mission is to provide superior liberal arts education that prepares its students for extraordinary and positive contributions to society. The focus of Wofford’s mission is upon fostering commitment to excellence in character, performance, leadership, service to others, and life-long learning. We enjoy a campus culture where conversation among faculty and students often spills over outside the classroom.

The Department of Government and International Affairs is a growing department with five full-time tenure-track faculty and over a hundred majors. We cover a broad scope of subject matter with an intellectually diverse faculty.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS
A Ph.D. or ABD in Political Science, equivalent or closely related field. One semester teaching experience or its equivalence.

APPLICATION
All applications must include the following materials:
(1) a letter of application that discusses how the candidate is prepared to meet the specific needs of Wofford College’s Government and International Affairs department, the candidate’s interest in teaching at a residential liberal arts college, and the candidate’s teaching philosophy
(2) a curriculum vitae;
(3) evidence of teaching effectiveness;
(4) A statement showing how the candidate’s teaching will contribute to Wofford’s commitment to justice, diversity, equity and inclusion;
(5) letters of support from two professional references;
(6) unofficial graduate transcripts.

All application materials should be sent to InternationalAffairsSearch@wofford.edu. Applications received by February 1, 2021 will receive full consideration. Please contact the Department Chair, Dr. Rachel Venderhill (vanderhillrj@wofford.edu), with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/14/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8480

University of Rochester
Rank: Post-doctoral Fellow

Applications for 2021-22 are welcome in any area of international or comparative politics. Fellows offer two courses during the academic year. Applicants without a Ph.D. should describe their plans for completing the degree by the time the fellowship commences.

Submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a 3-5 page research project description, a one-page sketch of proposed courses, one or more writing samples, and three letters of recommendation to: Post-doctoral Fellowship, Skalny Center for Polish and Central European Studies, University of Rochester, Harkness Hall 101, Rochester, New York 14627-0147. Applications received by Jan 31, 2021 will receive full consideration. Direct questions to Dr. Bozena Sobolewska, bozena.sobolewska@rochester.edu, or 585-275-9898.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/11/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8470
The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of International Relations. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science, International Relations, or a related area by the time of the appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. The area of specialization within International Relations is open, but candidates working on global security or foreign policy challenges, broadly understood, are especially encouraged to apply. Theoretical and methodological approaches are open.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University of Toronto’s downtown (St. George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science https://politics.utoronto.ca) to learn more about us.

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by the submitted research statement, a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) sent directly by the referee to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Robert Vipond, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, Thursday, February 18, 2021. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University’s automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at http://uoft.me/how-to-apply. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday, February 18, 2021.

Rank: Assistant Professor

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 2/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

EJobs ID: 8469

Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation & Library

Rank: Reagan Postdoctoral Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, History & Politics, Foreign Policy

The purpose of the Visiting Fellows Program is to advance scholarship focused on the political, economic, and national security ideas and values of President Ronald Reagan. Visiting Fellows will be selected based on the relevance of their research to these principles. Proposals will also be judged on the likelihood of completion of a book manuscript during the fellowship period.

The fellowship year will begin in Washington, DC in September 2021 and last until August 2022. Reagan Visiting Fellows are required to be resident at the Institute’s new headquarters in downtown Washington, DC. Each fellow will be provided with office space. The Institute will facilitate research, expand the fellows’ contacts, and grow the fellows’ visibility in the Washington policy community.

Program Benefits

- In addition to a stipend of $75,000, each Fellow will receive a $5,000 budget for research related travel.
- Mentorship from senior academics who will advise the Fellows and review a book manuscript.
- One-on-one support from an archivist at the Reagan Presidential Library.
- Opportunity to participate and present at the Reagan Virtual Scholars Roundtable, a monthly convening of academics and policymakers who study topics related to the Reagan Presidency.

Program Requirements

- All applicants must submit proof of having successfully defended their dissertation by August 15, 2021.
- Acceptance of the award constitutes a commitment by each fellow to produce a book manuscript by the end of the Fellowship year.
- Applications should be emailed to ReaganFellowship@reaganfoundation.org no later than 11:59 EST on Friday, March 5, 2021.

Application Instructions (please send all files in PDF form)
Political Science Jobs

1. Executive Summary (Maximum of 1 page)
   • Name, Address, Contact Information
   • University Affiliation and Dissertation Advisor and contact information
   • Names and contact information for 2 recommenders
   • One paragraph summary description of research question and project’s relevance to Ronald Reagan

2. Project Proposal (Maximum of 3 pages)
   • Proposal should begin with a clear description of the policy issue being examined and a description of how this issue is linked to the ideas and vision of Ronald Reagan.
   • Proposal should consider contemporary implications of the policy issue being examined.
   • Description of research methods and approach – if the Reagan Library is likely to be a source for research, please explain.
   • Notional book outline

3. Writing Sample (less than 20 pages)

4. CV/Resume

5. Transcripts & Letters of Recommendation
   • Unofficial school transcripts and two letters of recommendation must be sent directly from your university and your recommenders to ReaganFellowship@ReaganFoundation.org.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/5/2021
Date Posted: 1/8/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8468

Syracuse University
Rank: Assistant Professors, International Relations

Syracuse University
International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Syracuse University is seeking applications for two tenure-track positions in International Relations at the Assistant Professor level – one with a focus on International Political Economy and one with a focus on International Security. These positions would begin in Fall 2021.

The political science department is housed within the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, which is committed to citizenship education at the undergraduate level and to graduate education in public affairs and the social sciences. The Maxwell School is interested in candidates who can contribute to the inclusiveness and diversity of the academic community through their research, teaching, and/or service.

For the International Political Economy position, we seek candidates whose teaching and research focuses on trade and foreign aid, international organizations and law, NGOs and non-state actors, or international environment/climate change, among other specialties. For the International Security position, we seek candidates whose teaching and research focuses on gender and security, climate change and security, interstate war/conflict, or conflict prevention and peacebuilding, among other specialties. We are looking for candidates who complement the broader Maxwell mission and have interdisciplinary interests. Successful candidates may be invited to affiliate with the Moynihan Institute or one of Maxwell’s other interdisciplinary centers (http://www.maxwell.syr.edu/centers/). The successful candidate will teach at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The typical course load is two classes a semester.

Applications should have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field or a credible expectation of completing all requirements for the Ph.D. by August 2021.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:
For consideration, candidates must complete an online application (available at http://www.sujobopps.com/) and attach online the following: a letter of interest, a CV, a research statement, a sample of professional writing, and a statement of teaching philosophy that includes some reflection on diversity, equity and inclusion in teaching. Files may be no larger than 5MB, but you may submit an external link to a larger file if needed.

In addition, applicants will be required to provide the full email addresses of three references.

Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by February 1, 2020. However, the department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8461

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley
Rank: Assistant Professor

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley’s diverse student body as a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science beginning in the 2021-2022 academic year. The department is particularly interested in applicants with a critical research agenda, including but not limited to the Chinese state and political economy (e.g., industrial policy, trade policy, labor relations), contemporary Chinese government and politics, China and the world system, or China and globalization. This position continues the department’s effort to build an undergraduate and graduate program with courses anchored in the concepts and methods of political science, but that simultaneously cross disciplinary boundaries to incorporate topics, concepts, and methods utilized by other disciplines. The successful candidate will teach courses on Contemporary Chinese Politics and other upper-division or graduate courses to be designed by the new faculty member. The department maintains a highly flexible teaching schedule that can include online teaching and support from teaching assistants, undergraduate research interns, and online instructional coaches.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/19/2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8456

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Bentley University

Rank: Lecturer, International Relations

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer with expertise in International Relations and International Organizations to begin July 2021. The successful candidate will also have the ability to teach undergraduate introductory courses in globalization, comparative politics or US politics. We are seeking a colleague with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, and who employs innovative, active and experiential pedagogies. This non-tenure track position carries an eight-course teaching load (undergraduate level) during the contract year.

While not required, we particularly welcome applications from candidates with knowledge of issues of race, ethnicity, migration, and/or social inequalities. We also seek applicants whose teaching, service or research has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education, and who are interested in working with students outside the classroom.

The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to enhancing our two departmental majors - International Affairs and Public Policy - and to complement the department’s existing strengths, which are grounded in political science, geography and cultural studies.

Founded in 1917, Bentley University is a private, business-focused university with a strong commitment to the arts and sciences. An AACSB and EQUIS accredited institution, Bentley enrolls approximately 5,500 students at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. Bloomberg ranks Bentley in the top 10 undergraduate business programs in the United States, and in the top 100 places to obtain an MBA. U.S. News & World Report ranked Bentley as 1st in the Best Regional Universities-North category. Located in Waltham, Massachusetts, Bentley is on the doorstep of one of the nation’s leading cities. With over 35 colleges and universities, the greater Boston area is a vibrant place to work and live.

Minimum Qualifications
Candidates must demonstrate dedication to excellence in teaching, and we prefer candidates with classroom experience.
Ph.D. required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be confirmed prior to the start of the fall 2021 semester.

Instructions to Applicants
Applicants submit all application materials through Bentley’s on-line employment site at https://bentley wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty.

Applications should include a letter of interest, CV, and a teaching statement that includes the applicant’s approach to diversity and inclusion in the classroom. Names and contact information for three references are required upon application. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Jeff Gulati, jgulati@bentley.edu.

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by February 1, 2021.

Bentley University requires references checks and may conduct other pre-employment screening.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/23/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8443

Bentley University

Rank: Lecturer, International Relations

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer with expertise in International Relations and International Organizations to begin July 2021. The successful candidate will also have the ability to teach undergraduate introductory courses in globalization, comparative politics or US politics. We are seeking a colleague with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, and who employs innovative, active and experiential pedagogies. This non-tenure track position carries an eight course teaching load (undergraduate level) during the contract year.

While not required, we particularly welcome applications from candidates with knowledge of issues of race, ethnicity, migration, and/or social inequalities. We also seek applicants whose teaching, service or research has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education, and who are interested in working with students outside the classroom.

The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to enhancing our two departmental majors - International Affairs and Public Policy - and to complement the department’s existing strengths, which are grounded in political science, geography and cultural studies.

Founded in 1917, Bentley University is a private, business-focused university with a strong commitment to the arts and sciences. An AACSB and EQUIS accredited institution, Bentley enrolls approximately 5,500 students at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. Bloomberg ranks Bentley in the top 10 undergraduate business programs in the United States, and in the top 100 places to obtain an MBA. U.S. News & World Report ranked Bentley as 1st in the Best Regional Universities-North category. Located in Waltham, Massachusetts, Bentley is on the doorstep of one of the nation’s leading cities. With over 35 colleges and universities, the greater Boston area is a vibrant place to work and live.

Minimum Qualifications
Candidates must demonstrate dedication to excellence in teaching, and we prefer candidates with classroom experience.
Ph.D. required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be confirmed prior to the start of the fall 2021 semester.

Instructions to Applicants
Applicants submit all application materials through Bentley’s on-line employment site at https://bentley wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty.

Applications should include a letter of interest, CV, and a teaching statement that includes the applicant’s approach to diversity and inclusion in the classroom. Names and contact information for three references are required upon application. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Jeff Gulati, jgulati@bentley.edu.

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by February 1, 2021.

Bentley University requires references checks and may conduct other pre-employment screening.

DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Bentley University strives to create a campus community that welcomes the exchange of ideas, and fosters a culture that values differences and views them as a strength in our community.

Bentley University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, building strength through diversity. The University is committed to building a community of talented students, faculty and staff who reflect the diversity of global business. We strongly encourage applications from persons from underrepresented groups, individuals with disabilities, covered veterans and those with diverse experiences and backgrounds.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/23/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8444

National University of Singapore
Rank: Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore (NUS), and the College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences, Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore, invite applications for TWO Post-Doctoral Fellows in the field of International Relations, with a focus on Southeast Asia. Each fellowship is tenable for two years. One Fellow will be based at NUS, working under the direction of Professor Yuen Foong Khong, the other at NTU, working with Professor Joseph Liow, toward accomplishing the goals of their research project on “The Anatomy of Choice: Southeast Asia between the Superpowers” supported by a Singapore Social Science Research Council (SSRC) Thematic Grant (for details see https://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/ongoing-research-projects/international-relations-and-global-governance ).

Job Description

The Fellows will have three main responsibilities: (1) revise their dissertations into a publishable book manuscript or a set of articles by the end of the first year of the Fellowship; and (2) take lead roles in the organization and running of the Anatomy of Choice project, including but not limited to, liaising with the contributing authors, organizing workshops, and directing the work of the undergraduate research assistants; (3) contribute to the broader intellectual life of the LKYSPP and CoHASS.

Job Requirements

• A Ph.D. degree in Political Science/International Relations/History, focusing on the international relations of Southeast Asia, and/or the foreign policy of one or more Southeast Asian countries. Candidates whose work involves comparing the foreign policy responses of the ASEAN countries to global and regional power shifts are especially encouraged to apply.
• An ability to engage with the research and policy communities in Singapore, Asia, and the world

• A strong and demonstrated sense of academic independence and collegiality

Benefits Include:

• Internationally competitive salary
• Highly collegial working environment with an internationally diverse group of scholars

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit the following in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file):

• Cover letter, with a brief statement of research expertise and its relevance to the project
• Detailed curriculum vitae
• Copies of academic certificates and transcripts
• Two samples of academic publications/writings
• Three letters of reference (mailed separately by referee to diana.endang@nus.edu.sg)
• Start date: July 1, 2021 (preferred, but negotiable)
• Application deadline: March 1, 2021

Please send electronic submissions to Ms. Diana Endang Adiningsih (diana.endang@nus.edu.sg). Applications will be acknowledged; short-listed candidates will be contacted around mid-March.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/20/2021
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8427

New York University Abu Dhabi
Rank: Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Other
Specializations: Middle East, Research Methods, Women & Politics

Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct important research and teach the next generation of global leaders. The Division of Social Science invites applications for a tenured/tenure-track position in Political Science. This position is open with respect to rank and subfield, though scholars in the fields of international relations and Middle East are especially encouraged to apply. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2021, or September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

NYU Abu Dhabi values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYU Abu Dhabi students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present. The disciplines in this field seek to deepen our understanding of how people behave in a wide variety of contexts and to assess the consequences of individual, group, and societal decisions.

About NYU Abu Dhabi
Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE).
For more information on NYUAD’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit https:// html

Working for NYUAD
A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches.
Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications
This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science.

We seek individuals who have, or have the potential to develop, a strong record of scholarship and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions
To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: https:// apply.interfolio.com/82086

CV
Cover Letter
Teaching Statement
Research Statement
Recent teaching evaluations (if available)
Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

For candidates applying for the Assistant Professor Positions, please submit the names and email addresses of three (3) references who will be contacted to upload their letter confidentially through Interfolio.

For candidates applying to the Senior faculty position, please submit a list of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin reviewing applications on February 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2021-2022.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-cience@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8433

Reed College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science, International Relations/Comparative Politics 2021–2023

Applications are invited for a two-year visiting appointment in political science with specializations in international relations and/or comparative politics. Candidates are expected to advise senior theses and teach up to five sections over two semesters in each year, for a total of two sections of Introduction to Comparative Politics, two sections of Introduction to International Relations, and up to six sections in the specialty of the applicant, preferably split across both subfields. All our courses are capped at 24 students. Visitors are usually appointed at the assistant professor level, but more advanced candidates may be considered. Salary is competitive, including travel and research support. The appointment begins Fall 2021.

We are interested in candidates who possess multiple methods of analysis, a broad research program, and scholarly interests that reach into other parts of political science. We are particularly interested in candidates who demonstrate integration of their approaches and interests into teaching undergraduate seminars and advising student research. Our pedagogy emphasizes the conceptual and theoretical foundations of the discipline and includes yearly supervision of undergraduate thesis students. Above all, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level. We expect the Ph.D. to be in hand, or very near completion, by the start of the appointment. Information on the department is available at http://academic.reed.edu/coli_sci. Search inquiries may be addressed to political.search@reed.edu.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

Reed College is a community that values cultural and intellectual pluralism as essential to the excellence of our academic program. In your application materials, we welcome a description of how, as a scholar, teacher, or community member, you would engage and sustain the commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in Reed College’s diversity statement (http://www.reed.edu/diversity/). An Equal Opportunity Employer, Reed College values diversity and encourages applications from underrepresented groups.

Please send an application letter, CV, evidence of teaching excellence, and at least three letters of recommendation to http://apply.interfolio.com/82289. Sample syllabi are welcome but not required. Formal review of applications will begin January 18, 2021; applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8436

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa
Rank: Global Public Policy and Political Economy
Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics
Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2021. We seek a colleague with research and teaching expertise in global public policy and political economy. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department’s NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) faculty and teach in the MPA program, contributing to our new focused area of study Global Affairs & Security. In addition, the hire will offer courses appropriate for students majoring in Economics and Political Science. Interest in contributing to the Department’s graduate quantitative methods course sequence will be looked upon favorably. A Ph.D. in political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field is required by the start date. The successful candidate will have an active and promising research agenda that examines public policy and political economy broadly defined to include such global issues as human security, sustainable development, climate change, health economics, among others.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A, and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/47459 and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to Global Public Policy & Political Economy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. All interviews will be conducted using audio/visual technology due to travel restrictions. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8443

Stanford University
Rank: 2021-2022 China Policy Fellowship
Specializations: China, East Asia, United States

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC) is pleased to announce its new China Policy Fellowship, which will bring to Stanford leading professionals and scholars from Asia and the United States to engage in research on contemporary China affairs and/or U.S.-China policy, with the broad aim of strengthening U.S.-China relations. Candidates should be mid-career to senior-level experts with extensive research experience and influence in the policy-making process. The fellowship is hosted by APARC’s China Program, whose mission is to facilitate multidisciplinary, social science-oriented research on contemporary China, with a dual emphasis on basic and policy-relevant research.

In addition to regularly participating in APARC’s and the China Program’s activities, the China Policy Fellow will undertake original research in his/her area of expertise and will also play a lead role in organizing a major conference at Stanford on a topic of prominence on the U.S.-China policy agenda. It is expected that each fellow’s work and annual conference will result in a published product such as a book, a policy brief, a report, or a collection of conference proceedings. The China Policy Fellow is expected to be in residence full time at Stanford.

Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2021-22 academic year. The China Policy Fellow will be provided a monthly stipend to be dispersed over the 9-month appointment period totaling $72,000. This position is not benefits-eligible.

Application Deadline: February 15, 2021
Eligibility: Mid-career to senior-level candidates

Required Application Materials, in PDF Format:
• Curriculum vitae
• Two (2) letters of recommendation
• A short research statement (not to exceed 1,000 words) that describes the research to be undertaken including the topic, methodology, and contribution to the field.

To apply and for more information, please visit: https://stanford.io/31Pw8Cp
U.S. Naval Academy, VADM Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership

Rank: Resident Fellow

Resident Fellowship in Ethics
Vice Admiral James B. Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership
U.S. Naval Academy

The U.S. Naval Academy’s Stockdale Center invites applications for its annual Resident Fellowship Program for academic year 2021-2022.

The Secretary of the Navy and the Superintendent of the Naval Academy established the Center in 1998 to be a thought leader in the field of military ethics and leadership and serve the Naval Academy, the Naval Service and national institutions of influence.

Minimum qualifications: dissertation phase of a Ph.D. program in a humanities or social science area and U.S. citizenship. Ideal candidates will be published Ph.D. holders with university teaching experience in philosophy, political theory, international relations, public policy or history. We are especially interested in philosophy or political science Ph.D.s familiar with the ethics of using artificial intelligence in military operations and planning.

The Stockdale Center anticipates selecting up to four residential fellows, whose focus will be a weekly seminar devoted to defense-related ethics topics. Fellows will also have the opportunity to conduct additional research projects in cooperation with the Naval Academy’s civilian and military faculty members.

Application review will begin January 18, 2021. Click here to be directed to the full advertisement on the United States Naval Academy Human Resources website, which includes application instructions: https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/EthicsFellow-AY21.php.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/14/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8398

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track

The Public Policy and Political Economy Program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for tenure-system assistant professor positions in International Political Economy and Global Health Policy.

The successful candidate for the IPE position will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The area of specialization within International Political Economy is open, but candidates focusing on cross-border issues with local implications (such as the politics of trade, finance, investment, migration, the environment, etc.) are particularly encouraged to apply. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

The department’s faculty includes multiple winners of internal and external teaching awards. The candidate is expected to incorporate best practices as identified by the scholarship on teaching and learning into her/his pedagogical approach. The successful candidate will be expected to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. Faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 39th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission’s highest research classification of “Doctoral Universities – Very High Research Activity.”

Applicants should upload a letter of application; current curriculum vitae; a sample of written work; statements of teaching and research philosophy; instructional instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Additional questions for the IPE position may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Clint Peinhardt (clint.peinhardt@utdallas.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/14/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8398

Anderson University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant/Associate Professor of International Relations and National Security

The Department of History and Political Science at Anderson University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin August 2021. The successful candidate will assist in the development of a growing undergraduate program in Security Studies, which offers interdisciplinary majors in both National Security and Cybersecurity. Primary responsibilities include teaching introductory and upper-division courses in international relations and security studies, including advanced courses in terrorism, intelligence studies, and homeland security. Candidates with an ability to offer courses in international political economy, comparative politics, and either research methods or public policy and administration are especially encouraged to apply. The normal teaching load is 12 hours per semester.

Application review will begin January 18, 2021. Click here to be directed to the full advertisement on the United States Naval Academy Human Resources website, which includes application instructions: https://www.usna.edu/HRO/jobinfo/EthicsFellow-AY21.php.
Political Science Jobs

The successful candidate will possess a maturing Christian faith and demonstrate a strong commitment to the mission of Christian higher education, undergraduate teaching at both the introductory and advanced levels, and professional development. Ph.D. preferred but ABD will be considered. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Send application materials electronically in pdf format. Applications consist of a letter addressing the preferred qualifications listed above, a curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness and scholarly potential, a statement of how your faith relates to your discipline, a copy of graduate transcript(s), three letters of recommendation, and a completed Anderson University application (found at https://www.anderson.edu/uploads/hr/faculty-application.pdf).

Address to: Dr. Joel Shrock, Dean, School of Humanities and Behavioral Science, Anderson University, 1100 East Fifth Street, Anderson, IN 46012. Email address is jdshrock@anderson.edu. Please make sure that receipt is confirmed. Background checks are routinely conducted on applicants for Anderson University positions.

Anderson University is on a mission to educate students for lives of faith and service, offering more than 60 undergraduate majors, 30 three-year degrees, 20 NCAA Division III intercollegiate sports, alongside adult and graduate programs. The private, liberal arts institution is fully accredited and recognized among top colleges for its business, computer science, cybersecurity, dance, engineering, nursing, and teacher education programs. Anderson University was established in 1917 in Anderson, Indiana, by the Church of God.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/11/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8394

Dartmouth College
Rank: Professor of Government (open rank) in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in Cybersecurity, Technology, and Society. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered. The Cyber Security Chair is one of three positions in a cluster hire in cybersecurity, Technology, and Society (the other two positions are in the Computer Science Department), and the successful applicant will have an opportunity to collaborate with other faculty in the cluster and to be a member of Dartmouth’s Institute for Security, Technology and Society. We will consider applicants working on a broad range of topics related to the intersection of cyber-technologies, domestic or international politics, and society. Candidates may study questions such as how emerging digital technologies, social media and the internet affect critical democratic processes, contribute to political radicalization and extremism, enable foreign influence operations, undermine or protect privacy, contribute to repression and/or resistance to authoritarianism, enable new forms of conflict between groups or states, and/or are used to promote or counteract political misinformation. Candidates might also study the national and international policies and regulations that states, firms, and international organizations use to address these or related issues. We encourage applicants who study these and similar questions to apply. Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:
Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field. Although we anticipate hiring at the assistant professor level, candidates at the tenured associate and full professor level will also be considered.

Application instructions:
Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a CV and three letters of recommendation. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Application materials should be submitted electronically to: http://apply.interfolio.com/81228

The review of applications will begin on January 18, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Benjamin.A.Valentino@Dartmouth.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/11/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8395

Texas A&M University
Rank: Pre- and Post- Doctoral Fellowships
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Albritton Center for Grand Strategy at the Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University, is inviting applications to its residential fellowship program for the 2021-2022 academic year. The program will support one pre-doctoral and one post-doctoral fellow. The Albritton Center is particularly interested in scholars that are engaging with the fundamental questions surrounding grand strategy: How should the national interest be defined? What are the threats to the national interest? How should the United States use its power in response? Applications are invited from scholars of political science, history, and other relevant disciplines.

Fellows will be expected to be in residence at the Bush School for the duration of their fellowships (September 2021 - August 2022). They will be provided with office space and access to the resources of the Bush School and Texas A&M University. Fellows will participate in Center activities, to include seminars, workshops, and conferences. They will work with an active community of scholars in international affairs, political science, history, and other disciplines at Texas A&M University.

The pre-doctoral fellow is expected to make substantial progress toward and ideally complete – a dissertation during the fellowship. The post-doctoral fellow is expected to complete a manuscript for publication. The post-doctoral fellow is also expected to teach one course to Bush School students. Finally, both fellows are asked to write a short, policy-relevant piece while in residence.
Eligibility:

Applicants for the pre-doctoral fellowship must be pursuing a Ph.D. in political science, history or other relevant discipline. Applicants must pass all qualifying exams and advance to the level of candidacy prior to the start of their appointment.

Applicants for the post-doctoral fellowship must have completed their PhD in political science, history, or other relevant discipline to begin the fellowship. Recent PhD recipients are especially encouraged to apply.

Award information:

The pre-doctoral fellow will receive a stipend of $39,000, as well as $5,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will receive a salary of $60,000 (payable monthly), as well as $10,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will also be eligible for the benefits package available to TAMU employees.

Application process:

Postdoctoral applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant’s dissertation advisor) through Texas A&M’s employment platform, Workday (https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Postdoctoral-Research-Associate_R-033905-1).

Predoctoral applicants should complete submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant’s dissertation advisor) to bushschoolCGS@tamu.edu.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by January 29, 2021 receiving priority attention.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/10/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8384

The College of Idaho
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of International Political Economy

The College of Idaho’s Department of Political Economy invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position that will commence in Fall 2021. The person hired in this VAP role will be encouraged to apply for the tenure-track position the Department hopes to search for in the 2021-22 academic year.

The Department approaches political economy in a broad theoretical manner similar to early modern thinkers such as John Locke, Adam Smith, and Karl Marx. We emphasize the intricate relationships between politics and economics while embracing cross-disciplinary research and dialogue. We are open to approaches including area studies, historical institutionalism, heterodox economics, institutional economics, public policy analysis, and value research methods that emphasize the analysis of real-world data over formal modeling.

The primary responsibility of this position will be to support the Department’s International Political Economy major. The successful candidate will teach at least one introductory course as well as Political Economy of Development and International Political Economy at the upper level. Ability to offer upper-level area studies or regional survey courses on the Middle East, Africa, Latin America, or Europe is also highly desirable. The teaching load is 3-3 with an additional short January-term topics course based on the candidate’s expertise. The position includes professional development support for research and conference travel.

Successful candidates will have an active research agenda while demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition. They will join a student-centered department where teaching and mentoring are valued as the highest priority. Such mentorship has recently led students in the department to Marshall, Truman, and Rhodes scholarships as well as to national recognition of departmental faculty for teaching excellence.

A Ph.D. is required in International Relations, International Political Economy, Political Science, Economics, Sociology, or other related fields in international studies. Advanced ABD applicants will be considered.

Applications must include letter of interest, CV, statement demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition, sample syllabi, recent course evaluations, a statement on inclusivity in the classroom, and at least three letters of recommendation. Candidates must be authorized to work in the United States as of the expected hire date and throughout the date of the contract without sponsorship from The College of Idaho.

Application review will begin January 25, 2021 and continue until the position has been filled. Please submit application materials via email to hr@collegeofidaho.edu with subject ‘Political Economy Search.’

With over 130 years of history, The College of Idaho is a regional and national leader in higher education. The College of Idaho is an inclusive community of exceptional learning that challenges the ambitious and forges pathways to success and purpose. To learn more about The College of Idaho, please visit www.collegeofidaho.edu.

The College of Idaho is proud to be an equal opportunity employer. We are committed to attracting, retaining, and maximizing the performance of a diverse and inclusive workforce. Our Representation, Inclusion, and Equity Statement can be viewed by clicking here.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/25/2021
Date Posted: 12/10/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8386

Brandeis University
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics at Brandeis University invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in academic year 2021-2022. This position is subject to budget approval. We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests focus on International Security. Duties include the teaching of undergraduate and graduate courses in International Relations, including Introduction to International Relations and U.S. Foreign Policy (or U.S. National Security); undergraduate
The Defense Analysis Department is the academic home to approximately fifty tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty and staff employees. The duties of the chair include: providing strategic direction for the department; representing the department internally at NPS and externally to various educational, military, and research stakeholders; building and maintaining relationships with institutional and operational organizations across the joint force; engaging with and shaping the education of the nearly 150 students on board at any time; and fulfilling all administrative tasks associated with the supervisory role.

Minimum Qualifications:
- Doctoral degree in a field connected to the study of irregular warfare and armed conflict, such as international relations, security studies, political science, history, sociology, economics, anthropology, psychology, philosophy, or related fields.
- Must be a U.S. citizen and capable of obtaining a security clearance.
- A proven record of scholarship, instruction, and leadership in the candidate’s field.
- Leadership experience in an academic organization.
- An academic record that would merit an appointment as a Professor with tenure upon arrival.
- Track record or demonstrable potential for building and maintaining collaborative relationships with institutional partners.

Additional preferred qualifications:
- Currently holding or be immediately eligible for a Top Secret clearance.
- Experience working in or with the U.S. Department of Defense.

We are accepting applications through February 15, 2020. Candidates should submit their materials to: mfreema@nps.edu. E-mail subject heading: DA Chair Search. Include: 1) a cover letter describing the applicant’s qualifications for this position, 2) a comprehensive curriculum vitae or resume, and 3) contact and e-mail address information for a minimum of three references. The application material shall clearly state the applicant’s citizenship.

Relocation expenses, including recruitment/relocation incentive, may be authorized in accordance with applicable regulations.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience while tied to the federal government compensation policies for the position and location. Applicants with foreign education will be required to select from a list of private organizations that are members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services, Inc. (NACES), which provide foreign education evaluations acceptable to NPS.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at http://www.nps.edu.

Veteran status is treated as a positive merit factor for NPS faculty positions. We strongly encourage you to indicate if you are a veteran in your application when applying to NPS positions and you must provide a copy of your signed DD-214 (member 4 copy), Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, or other acceptable documentation.

Current active duty service members are required to submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service must provide the branch of service, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will... be ineligible if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days from the date of application.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: Above $159,999
eJobs ID: 8383

University of Notre Dame
Rank: Assistant Director and Senior Research Fellow

Assistant Director and Senior Research Fellow, Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC)

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) invites applications for a unique combination administrative and research position to support the Center’s growing portfolio of scholarly and other activities. Significant teaching opportunities may be available as well.

This initial three year appointment will be equally divided between assisting the Director and the principals with various aspects of NDISC’s expanding administrative portfolio — particularly our new Hans J. Morgenthau Fellows program -- while pursuing a robust research agenda in some aspect of “Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy.”

By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of the issues in innovative ways. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

The position offers a competitive salary, benefits, and significant professional support. The initial appointment is for up to three years. We are particularly eager to receive applications from women and minority scholars.

All applicants should submit a CV, letter of interest outlining not only the candidate’s administrative experience and interest but also their research agenda and scholarly objectives for the period of their appointment, a brief (10,000 words) writing sample, and have three reference letters. Applicants who also wish to be considered for the NDISC post-doctoral fellowship should apply through Interfolio. Applications received by January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. Please direct any further questions about this position to Michael Desch at mdesch@nd.edu.

Apply here: https://apply.interfolio.com/81748
Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/7/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8371

Georgia Southern University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Assistant Professor of Political Science—Search # 67796
College of Behavior and Social Sciences, Department of Political Science and International Studies

The Department of Political Science and International Studies in the College of Behavior and Social Sciences invites applications and nominations for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. The home campus for this position will be the Statesboro campus.

Georgia Southern University is a distinctive combination of Southern charm and uncompromising academics. We are a Carnegie Doctoral/ R2 institution serving about 26,500 students through nine colleges on three beautiful oak-lined campuses in Statesboro, Savannah, Hinesville, and via a growing online program. Throughout its degree offerings at the associate’s, bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral levels, Georgia Southern cultivates community collaboration, world-class scholarship and hands-on learning opportunities.

Georgia Southern University was founded in 1906 as a school for teaching modern agricultural production techniques and homemaking skills to rural school children. Its Savannah campus was established in 1935 as Armstrong Junior College for local youth who could not afford to attend college away from home. The Liberty Center in Hinesville was established in 1998 to serve the military and their families at nearby Fort Stewart, the largest military base east of the Mississippi. All three locations came together in 2018 when Armstrong State University and Georgia Southern University consolidated. The “new” Georgia Southern University preserves a passion for serving its neighbors while preparing students for lifelong service as scholars, leaders, and responsible stewards of their communities.

Believing that diversity, equity, and inclusion contribute to excellence in the workplace and to the quality of the University’s academic environment, Georgia Southern University is committed to recruiting and retaining diverse faculty and staff to support, promote, and serve a diverse student body and promote Inclusive Excellence. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, whose work furthers the institution’s Inclusive Excellence goals and who bring to campus varied life experiences, perspectives, and backgrounds are especially encouraged to apply. The Department of Political Science and International Studies embodies a commitment to inclusive excellence, including, but not limited to: creating an equitable and inclusive environment for students, staff, and colleagues; increasing representation of diverse students, faculty, staff, and community partners at all levels of the University; facilitating access to achievement, success and recognition of underrepresented students, colleagues, staff, and alumni; and implementing strong, genuine, and consistently communicated culturally inclusive practices that reinforce the Inclusive Excellence Action Plan of the University.

Within this setting, the fundamental mission of the Department of Political Science and International Studies is to prepare our students for their future roles as active and responsible citizens. We focus on developing in our students a core understanding of politics at all levels of government, both within the United States and internationally. Additionally, a commitment to quality scholarship and service to our students, the University, professional organizations and the community are important means by which we prepare our students for citizenship in our region, our state, our country and our world.

Position Description. Reporting to the Department Chair, the Assistant Professor of Political Science requires teaching, service, and... research responsibilities as well as a terminal degree. In addition, the successful candidate is expected to teach graduate and undergraduate courses in the department; serve on honor’s and master’s theses; provide service to the community; mentor students; serve on department, college, and university committees; engage in scholarship/creative activity leading to presentations at professional meetings and publications in peer-reviewed journals; and be actively involved in professional associations and outreach activities. The position is a 9-month, tenure-track appointment, and the salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Required Qualifications:
• Earned Ph.D. in Political Science, or closely related field, by August 1, 2021
• Evidence of college/university teaching excellence
• Evidence of potential for strong publication record
• Effective communication skills
• Willingness to engage with institutional student success initiatives
• Commitment to engaging with best practice initiatives in instruction and pedagogy, mentoring, and curriculum design and development
• Must be authorized to work in the United States for the duration of employment without assistance from the institution

Preferred Qualifications:
• Regional specialization in Africana or African Politics (not Europe, Latin America, Southeast Asia, South Asia, or MENA)
• Teaching and research specialization in comparative political economy
• Ability to teach introductory course in American Government
• Ability to teach Introduction to Political Science or Political Methodology
• Ability to teach online courses
• Record of extramural funding commensurate with experience

Screening of applications begins January 31, 2021 and continues until the position is filled. The preferred position starting date is August 1, 2021. To equitably serve a fast growing and highly diverse student body and to fulfill the University’s commitment to promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion, we actively seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to Pillar 3 of our University Strategic Plan: Inclusive Excellence.

A complete application consists of a letter addressing the qualifications cited above; a curriculum vitae; a sample of written work and teaching evaluations; and at least three letters of recommendation from professional references. In addition, applicants are required to submit an Inclusive Excellence statement (2 pages). In the Inclusive Excellence statement, applicants should reflect on their experience, vision, and commitment regarding teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds and discuss past, current, and future contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion in the areas of research, teaching, service, and outreach. Other documentation may be requested. Only complete applications submitted electronically will be considered. Finalists will be required to submit to a background investigation. Applications and nominations should be sent to:

Dr. José de Arimatéia da Cruz, Search Chair, Search # 67796
Georgia Southern University
Electronic mail: jdacruz@georgiasouthern.edu
Telephone: 912-344-2679

More information about the institution is available through http://www.georgiasouthern.edu or Department of Political Science and International Studies. The names of applicants and nominees, vitae, and other non-evaluative information may be subject to public inspection under the Georgia Open Records Act. Georgia Southern University provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment without regard to race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, religion, age, veteran status, political affiliation, or disability. Individuals who need reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act to participate in the search process should notify Human Resources at 912-478-6947.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/2/2020
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8354

Macalester College
Rank: International Relations

Macalester College
Visiting Assistant Professor or Visiting Instructor
Political Science (International Relations)

The Macalester College Department of Political Science invites applications for a visiting position at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor (PhD) or Visiting Instructor (ABD), for the 2021-2022 academic year. Candidates should have, or be close to completing, a PhD in Political Science with a focus on international relations. We are especially interested in candidates who would further diversify our faculty and curriculum. The position is in Macalester’s Political Science department but may also contribute to other interdisciplinary programs at Macalester.

The teaching load is five courses per year, and should include Foundations of International Politics, Global Political Economy, and other international relations courses. The candidate would likely teach the introductory course both Fall and Spring semesters, to reduce their number of course preparations.

Inquiries and applications can be directed to Professor Paul Dosh, Chair of Political Science, dosh@macalester.edu. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, up to 3 letters of reference, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. The cover letter should indicate which courses the applicant is prepared to teach. Applications are due no later than February 1, 2021.

Salary and benefits are competitive, and the Political Science department is committed to mentoring visiting faculty; past visitors have found their time at Macalester to be a strong launching pad from which to secure tenure-track positions at other institutions. Macalester College and the Political Science department are committed to student and faculty diversity, equity, and inclusion. As an Equal Opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester strongly encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented minority groups.

Macalester College is a highly selective, private liberal arts college in the vibrant Minneapolis-Saint Paul metropolitan area, with a population of approximately three million people and home to numerous colleges and universities, including the University of Minnesota.
Macalester’s diverse student body comprises over 2,000 undergraduates from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and 95 nations. The College maintains a longstanding commitment to academic excellence with a special emphasis on internationalism, multiculturalism, and service to society.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 11/25/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8332

University of Notre Dame
Rank: Hans J. Morgenthau Fellow

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) invites applications for its second cohort of Hans J. Morgenthau fellows. In the spirit of Morgenthau, a deep thinker about international relations and an engaged participant in debates about American foreign policy, NDISC seeks to help the next generation of scholars think more about grand strategy in its larger conceptual and historical context.

Over the course of the fellowship year, fellows will discuss their own research in the context of the burgeoning literature on U.S. grand strategy, become part of the broader network of junior and senior scholars engaged with these topics, and hone their teaching skills. Successful applicants need not have any particular view of the optimal grand strategy – just a willingness to engage in the discussion of the topic seriously and debate the alternatives civily.

The fellowship will be directed by professors Eugene Gholz and Joseph Parent and will involve faculty from Notre Dame and other universities. Fellows will convene three times over the course of their fellowship year. They will begin with an intensive week-long seminar, reading foundational texts and discussing critical issues in contemporary grand strategy at the University of Notre Dame (early August 2021). Fellows will then embark on a week-long study tour to an important international battlefield, where we will combine seminar discussions of strategy with walking the terrain and learning how history, geography, tactics, and strategy intersect (early June 2022). Their fellowship will conclude with a three-day undergraduate teaching workshop on grand strategy in Washington, DC (late July 2022). In addition to the three in-person seminars and workshops, the fellows will also convene roughly once a month for virtual speaker events and discussions over the year of the fellowship. We will, of course, adapt the plans for in-person events as required to keep all participants safe during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The fellowship includes a stipend of $10,000 plus travel expenses and accommodations during fellowship activities. Ideally, Applicants will be ABD doctoral candidates in political science, international relations, global affairs, public policy, history, and allied fields, but we will consider applications from exceptional candidates at other levels. We particularly welcome applications from individuals of backgrounds not widely represented in foreign policy discussions. Applicants should submit a short cover letter explaining their interest in the program, a CV, and a letter of recommendation at https://apply.interfolio.com/81188 by February 12, 2021.

For more information, please email egholz@nd.edu or jparent@nd.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/12/2021
Date Posted: 11/17/2020

---

The American University in Cairo
Rank: POLS International Relations

Company Description:
The American University in Cairo (AUC) has a rich legacy that dates back 100 years. Founded in 1919 as an English-language university based on high standards of conduct and scholarship, AUC remains a vibrant institution that contributes to the intellectual growth, discipline, and character of the future leaders of Egypt and the region. AUC emphasizes a liberal arts education, with all undergraduate students studying a common set of courses in the humanities and the natural and social sciences as part of the University’s Core Curriculum. The AUC Libraries contain the largest English-language research collection in the region and are an active and integral part of the University’s pursuit of excellence in all academic and scholarly programs. AUC is chartered and accredited in the United States and Egypt. It has a diverse body of students and faculty. Faculty salary and rank are based on qualifications and professional experience. According to AUC policies and procedures, faculty are entitled to generous benefits.

Job Description:
The Department of Political Science invites applications for two positions in International Relations starting Fall 2021. The position is on a fixed-term contract (four years) and open to candidates at the Assistant or Associate Professor levels. Teaching responsibilities will include a combination of courses in the fields of theories of international relations, foreign-policy analysis, international organizations and global security. This position will involve teaching at the BA and MA levels within the Department of Political Science. Candidates with a focus on critical international relation theories, the Global South (Asia, Africa, and/or Latin America), and/or history and historical approaches to international relation are particularly encouraged to apply. The search committee is eager to review applications of individuals with demonstrated excellence in teaching, an accomplished and active research agenda, and an interest in living and working in the Middle East.

Requirements:
A PhD is required at the time of appointment. Successful candidates should have an ongoing research and publication program and teaching experience. In addition to research and teaching, responsibilities include service to the Department and the University.

Additional Information:
Priority will be given to applications received by December 15, 2020. The position is open until filled.

Application Instructions:
All applicants must submit the following documents online:

a) A current CV
b) A letter of interest (specifying the rank - assistant or associate professor - for which the candidate wishes to be considered)
c) A statement of teaching philosophy
d) A completed AUC Personnel Information Form (PIF) submitted online with your application
e) A copy of a recently published or accepted article or chapter
f) Three letters of reference

Please ask three referees familiar with your professional background to send letters directly to hussef@aucegypt.edu; with the name of the candidate/Faculty position/ Department.
All applications should be uploaded online:
http://www.aucegypt.edu/faculty/services/faculty-vacancies
Please take note of your account login details.
For more information, e-mail Dr. Rabab El Mahdi, Chair, relmahdi@aucegypt.edu; Ms. Gehan Wissa, Executive Assistant to the Chair, gehanwm@aucegypt.edu; or visit the department’s website at:
http://www.aucegypt.edu/huss/pols/pages/default.aspx

Apply Here: https://www.click2apply.net/aQAa4pu8paRWhgbll8K2X

PI125937784
Start Date:
Date Posted: 11/13/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8286

University of Toronto, Mississauga
Rank: Assistant Professor, Teaching Stream - International Relations
Subfield(s): International Relations, International Relations, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Toronto Mississauga invites applications for a full-time teaching stream position in the area of International Relations. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, Teaching Stream and will begin on July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. degree in Political Science or a closely related field by the time of appointment or shortly thereafter, and have a demonstrated record of excellence in teaching. We seek candidates whose teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. We seek candidates with a demonstrated ability to teach a wide variety of international relations courses at the undergraduate level. The ability to teach introductory quantitative research methods courses is an asset. In addition to excellence in teaching, the successful candidate will also be expected to engage in undergraduate mentorship and help foster a vibrant intellectual environment for our undergraduate programs.

We seek enthusiastic and innovative individuals pursuing a long-term academic career in pedagogy. Candidates must have teaching expertise in a degree granting program at the undergraduate program level, including lecture preparation and delivery, curriculum development and/or development of online material/lectures. Additionally, candidates must possess a demonstrated commitment to excellent pedagogical practices and a demonstrated interest in teaching-related scholarly activities.

Evidence of excellence in teaching and pedagogical inquiry can be demonstrated through teaching accomplishments, awards and accolades, presentations at significant conferences, the teaching dossier submitted as part of the application including a strong teaching statement, sample syllabi, course materials and teaching evaluations, as well as strong letters of reference regarding teaching from referees of high standing.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

At the University of Toronto, the expectation of faculty members in the teaching stream is that they bring a dimension of teaching excellence and educational innovation that enhances undergraduate or graduate education and adds significantly to the quality of the student experience.

To be considered for this position, all qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link (or button) below. All application materials must be submitted online and must include the following:
- a cover letter (1 page),
- a current curriculum vitae,
- a statement of teaching philosophy (1 page),
- sample syllabi and course materials (max 10 pages),
- teaching evaluations (max 10 pages),
- a diversity statement.

Equity and diversity are among UTM’s core values and are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover topics such as (but not limited to): teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference sent directly by the referee to the hiring unit via email at jobs.politicalscienceutm@utoronto.ca by the closing date (on letterhead, dated and signed). At least one reference must primarily address the candidate’s teaching.

PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University’s automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at http://uoft.me/how-to-apply. If you have questions about this position, please contact the Search Committee Chair at:chair.pol.utm@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters must be received by January 18, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement
The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committee or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see http://uoft.me/UP.

Accessibility Statement
The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.
The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 1/18/2021
Date Posted: 11/13/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8287

Muhlenberg College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor
Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science at Muhlenberg College invites applications for a two-year Visiting Assistant Professor position beginning August 2021. The successful candidate will have a primary interest in international relations and be able to offer courses that fit within the thematic areas around which the political science major at Muhlenberg is structured (https://www.muhlenberg.edu/academics/polisci/thematicareasofstudy/details about our program are available on our website). Classes may include, for example, international relations theory, American foreign policy, national security policy, international law and policy, and introduction to international relations and comparative politics. We are especially interested in candidates who desire to work across subfield and disciplinary boundaries. We are open when it comes to regional expertise and welcome a variety of methodological and theoretical approaches.

Teaching responsibilities include three courses per semester. Faculty teaching hybrid and online courses benefit from the resources of our nationally-recognized Center for Digital Learning, which fosters inclusive learning and supports faculty and students in all aspects of online teaching, learning, and scholarship. Additionally, the Muhlenberg Center for Teaching and Learning offers a range of programs in support of faculty, including pedagogical workshops, support for meaningful classroom experimentation, and facilitated interdisciplinary collaboration. Visiting faculty enjoy access to all professional development resources provided by the College.

Ideal candidates will hold a PhD in Political Science or Public Policy by August 2021. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and working with students from all backgrounds (including first-generation students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ+, etc.).

To receive full consideration, applications must be received by January 31, 2021. Interested candidates should upload their completed applications to https://muhlenberg.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/MuhlenbergCareers/job/Emger-Building/Visiting-Assistant-Professor-Political-Science_R0000419-1Muhlenberg’s Career Portal. Please include a cover letter describing your teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, sample teaching materials (e.g., sample syllabi, a statement describing potential courses, and/or a statement of teaching philosophy, and summaries of teaching evaluations if available), unofficial graduate transcripts, contact information for three professional references, and a separate statement describing how you will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in our department as well as contribute to the College’s efforts to become a more diverse and inclusive community. For questions about this position, please email Lanelthea Mathews-Schultz, department chair, at mailto:mathews@muhlenberg.edu@mathews@muhlenberg.edu

Founded in 1848, Muhlenberg College is an independent, coeducational residential college of liberal arts and sciences located in Allentown, the third largest city in PA. As part of eastern Pennsylvania’s scenic Lehigh Valley, Allentown is a diverse city of 122,000, located just 60 miles north of Philadelphia and 75 miles west of New York City. Along with Bethlehem and Easton, the region is home to a vibrant arts scene, a nationally unique parks system, and a rich blend of cuisine and diverse restaurants.

An equal opportunity employer, Muhlenberg College is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding faculty and staff from racial and ethnic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented in higher education. Please visit our https://www.muhlenberg.edu/diversityatmuhlenberg/Diversity & Inclusion page for additional information about Muhlenberg’s commitment to inclusive excellence and the College’s Diversity Strategic Plan.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/31/2021
Date Posted: 11/12/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8279

Leiden University
Rank: Professor of International Relations

Key responsibilities

The Institute of Political Science of Leiden University invites applications for appointment as Professor of International Relations with specialisation in International Conflict and Conflict Resolution. The position is full-time, starting in August 2021. This new professorship is linked to the significant expansion of the institute’s teaching programme in international relations, and to the recruitment in recent years of many outstanding young scholars researching and teaching on issues of international conflict and cooperation.

The new professor’s research and teaching will address a range of questions on international conflict and conflict resolution, including the evolving sources of conflict, the links between intra-state and inter-state conflict, the relationship between conflict and collective identities, and the dynamics of conflict management and resolution at local, national and international levels.

The new professor will be expected to conduct and publish advanced research on international conflict and conflict resolution, to mentor junior colleagues, to teach BSc and MSc students and supervise PhDs in this and related areas of political science, and to play a leading role in applying for external research funding and in the intellectual and administrative life of the Institute.

Selection criteria

Candidates for this position must possess a PhD in political science, a strong record of publications in leading journals and/or scholarly presses, a clear agenda for future research, and a proven track record of winning research grants, leading research projects, supervising PhDs... to completion, and mentoring junior colleagues. They must be experienced in designing and delivering high-quality education at undergraduate and graduate levels, including lectures, seminars and thesis supervision. They must have the maturity and experience to provide organizational leadership within the Institute of Political Science. They must be fluent in English and ideally have a working knowledge of Dutch; if not, the readiness to learn Dutch within several years is required. Experience in linking research to public debates and societal needs is a plus.

Our organisation
Leiden University was the first university in the world to appoint a Professor of Politics (Daniel Hensius in 1612) and its Institute of Political Science is today a broad disciplinary unit with approximately 80 lecturers, assistant professors, associate professors and full professors, plus PhDs and post-doc researchers based in Leiden and in The Hague, where a large part of the teaching is done. The institute’s academic staff and its student body are each approximately half Dutch and half international.

The Institute is well known for pioneering research on parliamentary governance, political parties, electoral behavior, and Dutch politics, and is increasingly recognized for its significant expertise in international relations and European politics. The institute’s research staff publish regularly in top journals and academic presses and are consistently successful in attracting national and European research grants. The Institute houses a number of editorships of international refereed journals and book series.

The institute’s research programme ‘Institutions, Decisions and Collective Behaviour’ encompasses six clusters with overlapping membership: Conflict, Conflict Resolution and Crisis Management; Globalisation and the State; Identity, Ethnicity and Political Community; International Organisation and European Integration; Politics in The Netherlands; Representation, Public Opinion and Communication. Members of the institute are also involved in a number of the university’s multi-disciplinary research centres, including Central and East European Studies, International Relations, Parties and Representation, and Political Philosophy.

The Institute’s offers a range of taught programmes at the Bachelor and Master levels and also trains PhD students in political science. The BSc programme includes general Political Science (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), International Politics (in Dutch & English, in Leiden), and International Relations and Organisations (in English, in The Hague). The one-year MSc programme includes five specialisations in Leiden and one in The Hague and is taught mostly in English. The introduction of the IRO specialisation in 2017 led to a substantial increase in the total number of BSc students, including many from other countries. This in turn led to an overlapping membership of our teaching staff in the area of international relations. PhD students are typically supported by the staff’s research grants.

The Institute of Political Science belongs to Leiden University’s Faculty of Social and Behavioural Sciences, which also includes the Institute of Cultural Anthropology & Development Sociology, the Institute of Education and Child Studies, the Institute of Psychology, and the Centre for Science and Technology Studies. In total, the Faculty is home to 5,000 students and 600 members of staff based in Leiden and The Hague. Members of the institute also work closely with colleagues in the Faculty of Governance and Global Affairs, the Faculty of Humanities, and the Faculty of Law, among others. For more information on the faculty’s teaching and research programmes, see the website.

To apply for this vacancy, please submit online your application no later than 7 January 2021 via the blue button of our application system. Include the following documents in PDF format:

- Statement of interest (cover letter) outlining how the candidate envisages to fulfill the outlined tasks;
- Full CV, including education, appointments, publications, grant-acquisition record, and contact details for three referees;
- Research statement outlining past and ongoing research activities as well as planned research and how it would fit the task;
- Teaching statement outlining preferred methods and teaching experience;
- List of courses taught plus student evaluations from the last 2-3 years. Interviews with shortlisted candidates will be conducted in February 2021. You are kindly requested to be available for a potential interview in this period. Starting date for this position is envisaged to be August 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 1/7/2021
Date Posted: 11/5/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8258

---

Roanoke College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Public Affairs at Roanoke College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in International Relations beginning in August 2021 and ending in May 2022. This is a full time, sabbatical-replacement position, with a teaching load of seven courses during the academic year.
We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations and who can offer courses in International Politics, International Relations Theory, and Research Methods. While the department has additional need for courses covering Comparative Politics of Europe and Human Rights Policy to fill specific programmatic requirements, we especially seek candidates who have passion for teaching and mentoring undergraduates and can diversify our offerings. The successful candidate will also contribute International Relations courses to the General Education curriculum. A Ph.D. with teaching experience is preferred, but an ABD will be considered.

The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality, the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research. Visiting Professors are eligible to receive departmental funds and to apply for most of the College’s internal grants in support of their research and teaching.

Roanoke College is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff, and students; women and members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply. We also seek candidates with interests in mentoring under-represented students, diversifying curricular offerings, or sponsoring diverse community engagement. Applicants are asked to address their potential contributions in support of a diverse community in their cover letters.

Applicants should submit their cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations and three letters of recommendation to: Ms. Judith Pinckney, Department of Public Affairs, 119 West Hall, Roanoke College, Salem, VA 24153. Inquiries may be sent to: pinckney@roanoke.edu. Please visit our Departmental website at: https://www.roanoke.edu/inside/a-z_index/public_affairs for more information.

Review of applications will begin on January 8, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/5/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8257

Cornell University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of International Relations invites applications from scholars with international, global, or transnational interests for a tenure-track position in international relations at the rank of assistant professor in the fall semester 2021. A Ph.D is required no later than July 1, 2021.

We are especially interested in candidates who share the department’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in the research and teaching of international relations, broadly defined. All applicants must submit a statement of their approach and contributions to these objectives.

Applicants should apply online at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/16734. Interested candidates should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, samples of written work, statement of diversity, equity, and inclusion, three letters of recommendation, and teaching evaluations. We will begin to review applications starting October 1, 2020, and will continue until the search is complete.

University of Richmond

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in the politics of development, broadly defined. The department has a strong preference for an area concentration in either Africa or the Middle East, which will complement its existing strengths in the politics of Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The position, to begin in 2021-2022 academic year, is intended to meet and expand curricular goals within the major; to broaden the department’s research expertise; and to contribute to interdisciplinary initiatives in the School of Arts and Sciences and to the University of Richmond’s mission of “preparing students for responsible leadership in a diverse world.” More specifically, the position carries a 3-2 teaching load consisting of a regular offering of a survey course on the politics of development. Other courses would relate to the faculty’s regional specialization, with particular preference for courses on the politics of Africa and/or the Middle East. The new hire would also share responsibility for teaching the department’s ongoing offerings of Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations and, as schedule permits, contribute to departmental First Year Seminar (FYS) offerings.

Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation by August 1, 2021. Applicants should apply online at https://richmond.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=2062.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students “to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see https://polisci.richmond.edu/.

Applicants should click “Apply Now” at the top of the page and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter containing a brief summary of the candidate’s research and teaching interests and indicating commitment to the teacher-scholar model, and separate research and teaching statements. The research statement should expand on the candidate’s research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate’s teaching philosophy, interests, experience and goals. It should also address commitment to inclusive pedagogy and to fostering thriving and inclusive intercultural community, as outlined in the President’s Making Excellence Inclusive report (https://president.richmond.edu/inclusive-excellence/report-pdfs/making-excellence-inclusive-final-report-2019.pdf). In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence on October 1, 2020 and continue until the position is filled.

Please address any questions about the application to Dr. Jennifer Erkulwater (jerkulwa@richmond.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7971

---

Texas A&M University
Rank: Instructional Assistant Professor (non-tenure track)

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a non-tenure track, instructional assistant professor in the area of international political economy, to work in the School’s teaching site in Washington, D.C. The position will be for a period of two-years, with the possibility of renewal. The start date for this position will be January 1, 2021. The successful candidate will teach five courses per academic year in a professional master’s degree program in international policy – two sections of the required course on the global economy and three other elective courses to be determined in consultation with the department head. A reasonable amount of department and professional service will also be expected.

The Department of International Affairs is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and departments is available at http://bush.tamu.edu.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in political science, politics or government with a specialization in the sub-field of international political economy to be considered.

Applicants with additional expertise in the intersection of international political economy and international security issues, and/or expertise in the politics and political economy of a particular world region, are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit: 1) Letter of Interest, 2) CV, and 3) three letters of recommendation. The application materials must be submitted online at http://apply.interfolio.com/76363.

Point of Contact: Ms. Peg Hosea plhosea@tamu.edu

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

The postdoctoral fellows will assist in a Hewlett Foundation funded project on “Cyber-Escalation in Power Projection.” This project focuses on understanding how humans and their institutions interact with technology to better assess how the introduction of a new kind of connectedness through cyberspace shapes decisions concerning power projection. This project hopes to overcome the challenges for young scholars interested in cyber escalation by investing in building expertise and creating quality data to test theories.

As part of their duties, the postdoctoral fellows will collaborate with the Machine-learning for Social Science Lab (https://cpass.ucsd.edu/mssl) to create a foundational dataset of cyber events focused on basic scientific standards that is transparent, replicable, and reproducible. The postdoctoral fellows will also work with cPASS staff to develop the Cyber Escalation Lab and build a community dedicated to cyber escalation topics. Additional duties may arise in line with the goals of the “Cyber-Escalation in Power Projection” project. Authorship/co-authorship of scholarly research will be strongly encouraged.

A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Social Science, Computer Science, Information Science or a related field is required at the time of appointment. Applicants with appropriate skills are encouraged from a wide range of disciplines related to international relations and computer science. The appointment may be delayed for applicants expected to complete their PhD within the next six months.

Candidates must have extensive knowledge and experience in the cyber domain and a strong working knowledge of international relations theory.

Ideal candidates will also have experience with data science and machine learning. Candidates with demonstrated leadership or commitment to support diversity, equity, and inclusion in an academic setting are preferred.

Applicants must apply for this position at this link: https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02537

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or status as a protected veteran.

This position will be 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible. Some flexibility exists as to the starting date of the position with fall 2020 as the earliest. Candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego by the start of the postdoc.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
Ejobs ID: 7823

METHODOLOGY

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Comparative Politics or International Relations

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for a tenure-track/tenured faculty appointment in comparative politics or international relations. We are looking for a scholar who uses advanced data analytics to study important, policy-relevant issues. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2021.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment.

Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before March 1, 2021 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio (http://apply.interfolio.com/83363). If you encounter difficulties with the application process, please email artsci-pschair@email.wustl.edu for additional instructions. All other questions may be directed to Heather Sloan-Randick at hsloran@wustl.edu.

Diversity and Inclusion are core values at Washington University, and the strong candidate will demonstrate the ability to create inclusive classrooms and environments in which a diverse array of students can learn and thrive.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University’s policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency.
This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/1/2021
Date Posted: 2/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8534

WZB Berlin Social Science Center
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/x)
Specializations: Political Theory, Political Psychology, State Politics

www.wzb.eu
The Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung gGmbH (WZB Berlin Social Science Center), research department Institutions and Political Inequality (IPI) (Director: Professor Macartan Humphreys) seeks to hire a

Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/x)
for an appointment starting September 2021 (negotiable) for a duration of up to three years. Shorter durations are possible for candidates with faculty positions in hand. The appointment is made at 100% of the regular working hours (currently 39 hours/week).

WZB is a non-profit organization and a member of the Leibniz Association. WZB engages in research of fundamental societal questions from the perspectives of different disciplines. It is one of the most renowned institutions in the field of social sciences. The scientists who work together at the institute come from such fields as sociology, political science, economics, law, and psychology. The findings of WZB research are directed at the science community, the interested public, and also experts dealing with political and economic issues, with media, and society. The institutions and political inequality research department focuses on the political economy of social and political inequality.

Your tasks and duties
- The research fellow will work independently, designing and implementing research projects and producing high-quality publications in at least one of the unit’s thematic research areas (political inequality, between-group inequalities, cumulative learning).
- This position is part of a wider WZB effort to strengthen research in the area of digitalization, both as a substantive research topic and as a methodological tool. Candidates for this position should demonstrate a research agenda related to how processes of digitalization impact and interact with substantive research areas of the department. Examples include, but are not limited to: using digital data, such as mobility and communications data, to understand patterns of inequality and social/political fragmentation; assessing the role of Information and Communications Tools (ICTs) in altering political inequality and accountability; understanding the political implications of state surveillance technologies and how they affect inequality and the nature of protest and contestation; understanding polarization, intergroup relations, and political and social mobilization in online communities; using ICTs to deliver experimental interventions and collect information from populations. We particularly welcome agendas that focus on such questions in developing contexts.
- In addition, the fellow will be expected to collaborate with and mentor other scholars in the unit and play a leading role in developing the unit’s workshops and research projects.

Your qualification and profile
- Applicants must have completed a PhD in political science, economics, statistics, or a related social science discipline by the time the position will start, and have a vibrant and creative research agenda. In exceptional circumstances, we will consider applications from candidates who will be a few months away from defending their PhD by the time the position starts.
- Excellent English writing and communication skills are required (English is the working knowledge of the unit).
- Applicants should have skills in quantitative methods or formal theory, preferably with training in causal inference and knowledge of Bayesian methods.

Our offer
- Remuneration in accordance with EG 14 TVöD Bund (in accordance with German public service collective agreement).
- Additional benefits for public service employees (VBLU).
- International, cooperative, and diversified working environment.
- In-depth integration into the scientific community in the form of colloquiums and conferences.
- Flexible working hours.
- We promote a good work-life balance, and our engagement has been certified by audit workfamily and the European Commission’s Human Resources Strategy for Researchers (HRS4R).
- Comprehensive program for continuous professional development and further qualification.

Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. We value diversity and welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. WZB expressly encourages women or persons with migration backgrounds to apply.

If you have any questions regarding the job opening, please contact application-ipi@wzb.eu.

Job interviews will likely take place in the week starting April 12.

For more information about the research group IPI, follow this link: https://www.wzb.eu/en/research/political-economy-of-development/institutions-and-political-inequality.

For more information about WZB, see http://www.wzb.eu/en.

Process
Have we sparked your interest? In that case, we are looking forward to receiving your application.

Candidates are requested to submit the following documents (all in English) in a single PDF file
- CV
- Cover letter
- Writing sample

The cover letter should outline a research agenda for the period of application which relates to the digitalization theme described above. Please start your application by following the steps outlined at: https://wzb.hr4you.org/job/apply/46/a-postdoctoral-research-fellow-f-m-x/page_lang=en. We will evaluate all complete applications received by (and including) March 1st, 2021.

In addition, applicants should separately submit one letter of recommendation (additional letters are welcome and will be sought for shortlisted candidates). Please ask your letter writer to send the letter of
The Blavatnik School of Government seeks to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow in survey research and data analysis for a fixed term of two years. The fellow will coordinate the development of research on the dynamics of public opinion in the domain of financial regulation in cooperation with Professor Pepper Culpepper and with Professor Taeku Lee from the University of California at Berkeley. A central interest of the research is to understand how media coverage of finance and banking influences emotions, and its effect on various political actors and policy preferences in six countries: Australia, France, Germany, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States. This position is funded by an Advanced Grant from the European Research Council.

The main duties of the post are to engage in original, world-class research and manage your own academic research and project-related administrative activities; to disseminate your research through publication in highly-ranked, peer-reviewed academic journals; to collaborate in the preparation of research publications and book chapters; to act as a source of information and advice on methodologies and procedures to other members of the team; and to deliver graduate teaching as required.

The post-holer will be an independent researcher in the early stages of their career with training in survey research methods and experience designing survey experiments as well as facility in analysing these data. Training and/or experience in experimental design, sampling and measurement theory, conjoint analysis and causal inference is desirable, as is a substantive interest in political economy, public opinion and regulatory policy.

You will hold, or be close to completion of, a Ph.D./DPhil in political science or another social science field relevant to the project, such as communications, sociology or public policy. You will show evidence of developing a track record of internationally excellent research worthy of publication in highly ranked, peer-reviewed academic journals, commensurate with your career stage, and have knowledge of survey methodology and experience writing and fielding surveys, preferably in a comparative context.

Further details for this position, including information on how to apply, are outlined in the job description.

The closing date for applications is midday (UK time) on Monday 15 February 2021.

To apply, please visit the Blavatnik School of Government website: https://www.bsg.ox.ac.uk/jobs/postdoctoral-fellow-survey-research

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 1/19/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8532
4. Potential or demonstrated educational leadership in areas contributing to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
5. Will contribute to instruction-related activities (e.g., conducting TA training, curriculum development, creation of instructional materials including on-line instruction, employ new technologies) at the campus, statewide and national level.

The Division of Social Sciences is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff, and student body. We are thus especially interested in candidates who have strong demonstrated accomplishments in areas contributing to diversity, equity and inclusion, and a desire to play a leadership role in advancing UC San Diego’s commitment to achieving excellence, diversity, and equity within an academic setting.

Salary and starting rank will be commensurate with experience and based on the University of California pay scales.

The position will remain open until filled.

Applications for the Assistant Teaching Professor (LPSOE) position are accepted online at: http://apolrecruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02583

Applications for the Associate or Full Teaching Professor (LSOE/SR LSOE) position are accepted online at: https://apptrkr.com/2120652

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/13/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8478

Princeton University Department of Politics
Rank: Listing: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods
Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a postdoctoral research associate or more senior research position in the fields of Formal Theory or Quantitative Analysis. This position involves a year of research at Princeton with the possibility of renewal for another year based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars and to increase the critical mass of scholars with interests in formal theory and quantitative methods at Princeton.

Interested applicants must apply online at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17601 and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references. Ph.D. is required. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton Politics faculty members. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to F/Q Postdoctoral Fellowship Search, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08544. We will begin reviewing applications on February 15, 2021.

This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Requisition No: D-21-POL-00008
Start Date: Date Posted: 1/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8466

Stanford University
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Polarization and Social Change Lab
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy
Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Communication, Political Behavior

Postdoctoral Research Associate: Polarization and Social Change Lab

Stanford’s Polarization and Social Change Lab (PI: Robb Willer) has an opening for a postdoctoral researcher, to begin in Fall of 2021. We seek an innovative, accomplished scholar who has, or expects, a PhD in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field and who has an interest in working in a problem-focused, multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.

The Postdoctoral Associate will be responsible for co-designing and leading research projects in one or more of the following areas: political polarization; framing, messaging, and persuasion; political dimensions of inequality; social movement mobilization; and online political behavior. Expertise in any of a range of research methods is valued, with a particular emphasis on field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g., text analysis, social network analysis).

Mentorship Structure
The position will be supervised by Prof. Robb Willer and will involve collaborating with PhD students, post-docs, faculty, and staff affiliated with the lab. Mentorship of the Postdoctoral Associate will be structured according to research and professional interests.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that values rigorous inquiry and diverse perspectives, experiences, backgrounds, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange.

Required Qualifications:
Applicants should have or expect to have a PhD by September 1st, 2021.

Relevant research in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field.
Experience designing and carrying out rigorous research in one or several of the following areas: field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g., text analysis, social network analysis)
Interest in working in a multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.
Demonstrated excellence in written and oral communication.
Interest in communicating research findings to diverse audiences, including non-academic audiences.

Preferred Qualifications:
Intellectual creativity and innovation
Methodological rigor

February 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
The ACLU seeks applicants for a full-time fellowship position of one year in the Analytics Department of the ACLU’s National office. The individual in this role will join the Analytics Department of the ACLU National Office (either on-site in NYC or remote). The prospective start date will be in March 2021. Additional information can be found at https://www.aclu.org/careers/apply/?job=5010480002&type=fulltime, and the link to apply can be found at https://boards.greenhouse.io/aclu/jobs/5010480002#application.

Reporting to the Director, Legal Analytics & Quantitative Research, the Redistricting Fellow will apply cutting-edge empirical methods from the social sciences to quantitative legal and research questions on redistricting and voting rights that inform the ACLU’s litigation, advocacy, and voter engagement work. This role will specialize in ensuring a fair and non-partisan redistricting process, working in close partnership with our Voting Rights Project, advocacy staff, and ACLU affiliates. This includes partnering with ACLU attorneys and organizers across a range of redistricting and voting rights issues to shape research questions, conduct analyses (ranging from descriptive analytics to simulation and outlier analyses), and translate the results of quantitative analyses for a non-technical audience.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 1/18/2021
Date Posted: 1/5/2021
Salary: $100,000 - $109,999
eJobs ID: 8459

Michigan State University
Rank: Assistant Professor

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives, and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry.

The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a 9-month academic year, tenure system Assistant Professor that has experience applying data analytics to questions in political science. We are especially interested in candidates using new computational technologies and large-scale data in creative ways to foster knowledge about the political world. Expertise in Bayesian methodologies, temporal or geospatial prediction, network analysis, text analytics, statistical learning, or causal inference are particularly valued. The subfield specialty of the position is open, but the candidate would be expected to teach classes in political and computational methods at the graduate level as well as the Department’s “Introduction to Data Analytics” course for undergraduates.

Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills, a strategy for external funding, as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or have completed the Ph.D. by the date of hire.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, disability or protected veteran status.

Please contact Christian Houle (houlech1@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Min. Qualifications: Candidates must have completed a PhD by the date of hire. A successful candidate will be expected to have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills, a strategy for external funding, as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

Required Materials: Interested applicants must apply for this position via Michigan State University Applicant Page (MAP). Please access the MAP system at https://careers.msu.edu, posting number 684611. Applicants must submit a CV, cover letter, research statement, teaching statement, two samples of written work, and a diversity and inclusion statement (a statement addressing how past/and or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion will advance MSU’s commitment to inclusive excellence). Applicants must provide three letters of recommendation. Letters may be sent to Rhonda Burns at burnrs@msu.edu, please reference the posting number 684611 in the subject line of the email.
Political Science Jobs

Michigan State University is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Michigan State University is committed to achieving excellence through cultural diversity. The University actively encourages applications and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans and persons with disabilities.

MSU is located in East Lansing, MI, with easy access to the state capital, Lake Michigan, great school districts, and two large metropolitan areas (Grand Rapids, Detroit). The University is pro-active in exploring opportunities for employment for dual career couples, both inside and outside the University. Information about MSU’s dual career support can be found at http://miwin.msu.edu/.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/7/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8368

London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in both Data Science and Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science and data science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidate should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science, data science, statistics, or related area. The successful candidate will be expected to take a leadership role in building a new BSc in Politics and Data Science. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, demonstrated ability to teach data science at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels and the ability to establish international reputation in data science and political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/5082/0/283550/15539/assistant-professor-in-data-science-and-politics

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8356

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and collaborate on and develop projects related to immigration policy and health. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, data acquisition, data analysis, and interpretation of results. This fellow will join a team of researchers from IPL, the Stanford School of Medicine, Oregon Heath & Science University, and the Duke School of Medicine to evaluate the effects of immigration and health policy on the intergenerational health of immigrant families.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc’s time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research.

82 Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families’ location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second and third year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2021 and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications
The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research missions.

Application Requirements
Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The “Contributions to Diversity Statement” should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17290 (ID17290). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrence@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Health).

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/20/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8315

Stanford University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Data Science)
Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab
Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Data Science) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position
We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow with extensive experience and training in data science to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of digital tools related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the data scientist postdoc will be to lead data analysis for research projects and develop innovative digital tools related to immigration policy, programs, and services under the guidance of Professors Jens Hainmueller, David Laitin, and Jeremy Weinstein. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on data science, causal inference, machine learning, statistical analysis, and programming. For instance, the postdoc will help drive a global effort to support refugee integration by developing matching tools for various countries using machine learning. The post doc will also work on data analysis for projects examining the impacts of immigration related policies and programs. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects and tools related to immigration policy evaluation.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment, and postdocs will have the opportunity to develop new lab projects with other team members as well as join existing ongoing projects. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies and work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc’s time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to work on independent research.

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible (no later than August 2021) and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications
The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science, statistics, computer science, or related program, with a preference for candidates who have demonstrated training and skills in both data analysis and programming. Previous experience conducting research on immigration issues is valued but not required.

She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, statistical inference and modeling, and machine learning. Experience or skills in data visualization and optimization methods are also highly valued.

In addition, she or he should also have significant programming experience. Proficiency in R is required. Experience working with a general-purpose programming language (e.g. Python, Java, C++) and/or with SQL is also a plus. Demonstrated ability to develop user-friendly digital tools, apps, or programs that leverage data and statistical methods in novel ways is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research missions.

Application Requirements
Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The “Contributions to Diversity Statement” should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17288 (ID17288). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Data Science).

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8312

Yale University
Rank: Research Postdoctoral Associate

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics (CSAP) seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2021. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis.

Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Application materials include a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Please apply online at this link: https://apply.interfolio.com/79728.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2021. Please submit your completed application by that date for full consideration, although applications received after 2/1/21 will be reviewed if there is still a vacancy.

Carleton College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Specializations: Asian American Politics, China, East Asia

The Carleton College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics to begin September 1, 2021. We are specifically interested in candidates who have regional expertise in Chinese politics and prefer candidates who can speak both to domestic dynamics as well as China’s role in a broader Asian and/or global context. Successful candidates should be able to teach a range of courses in Comparative Politics (including the introductory course) as well as offer instruction in research methods (qualitative and/or quantitative). The standard teaching load is five courses spread across three trimesters. The ideal candidate will also be interested in contributing to a vibrant college-wide culture of undergraduate research and have a commitment to attracting and retaining students from underserved groups. A PhD in hand or its imminent completion is required.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000, located in the historic and thriving town of Northfield, Minnesota. We are in commuting distance of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, whose greater metro area has a diverse population of three million people and a rich variety of cultural resources. The Political Science Department strives to introduce students—majors and non-majors alike—to a broad array of theoretical and philosophical perspectives while equipping them with the necessary analytic skills to engage with an increasingly diverse world and contribute constructively to one’s community. For further information about the department, please consult the department website at carleton.edu/political-science.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, and a statement about teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment and how you would contribute to a college community that embraces a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We also require a statement about research interests, one scholarly writing sample and contact information for three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to jobs.carleton.edu. Inquiries can be directed to preiken@carleton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 9/4/2020
Date Posted: 7/7/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7917

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics
Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Title: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA)
Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE)
Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUFE) seeks applicants for two tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts in Fall semester of 2021. The openings are in the field of comparative politics, research methodology, and political theory. Candidates who have a research focus on issues of public policy are strongly encouraged to apply for the positions. A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potential to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field. Although the working environment in SUFE is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years of employment. The tenure-track faculty are expected to publish research on highly reputable international journals, offer high-quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFE. The rules of evaluation and promotion are standardized at the university and similar to those for tenure positions in a regular American university.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, medical insurance, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background: Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas. The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five-Year Plan. The newly established Institute of Political Science has eight members who hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents: Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):
1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

The deadline for accepting applications is September 31, 2020, for this round of recruitment. We will arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Wechat during November and December 2020.

Contact: Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polsciuf@gmail.com.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/14/2020

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 7872

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

Postdoctoral positions are available with Dr. Erik Gartzke in the Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) in the Political Science Department at the University of California, San Diego.

cPASS conducts rigorous, data-driven research on international affairs and U.S. foreign policy. Its mission is to apply cutting-edge social science to improve our collective understanding of how humans can best cooperate in an increasingly globalized and connected world with rapidly advancing technologies. cPASS is committed to promoting research excellence and diversity within cPASS and our academic field.

As part of their duties, the postdoctoral fellows will collaborate with the Machine-learning for Social Science Lab (https://cpass.ucsd.edu/mssl) to create a foundational dataset of cyber events focused on basic scientific standards that is transparent, replicable, and reproducible. The postdoctoral fellows will also work with cPASS staff to develop the Cyber Escalation Lab and build a community dedicated to cyber escalation topics. Additional duties may arise in line with the goals of the “Cyber-Escalation in Power Projection” project. Authorship/co-authorship of scholarly research will be strongly encouraged.

A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Social Science, Computer Science, Information Science or a related field is required at the time of appointment. Applicants with appropriate skills are encouraged from a wide range of disciplines related to international relations and computer science. The appointment may be delayed for applicants expected to complete their PhD within the next six months.

Candidates must have extensive knowledge and experience in the cyber domain and a strong working knowledge of international relations theory.

Ideal candidates will also have experience with data science and machine learning. Candidates with demonstrated leadership or commitment to support diversity, equity, and inclusion in an academic setting are preferred.

Applicants must apply for this position at this link: https://apolrecruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02537

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or status as a protected veteran.

This position will be 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible. Some flexibility exists as to the starting date of the position with fall 2020 as the earliest. Candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego by the start of the postdoc.
political science jobs

salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

start date: fall 2020
application deadline: open until filled
date posted: 3/19/2020
salary: competitive
ejobs id: 7823

non-academic

american civil liberties union
rank: redistricting fellow
subfield(s): american government and politics, methodology, non-academic

the aclu seeks applicants for a full-time fellowship position of one year in the analytics department of the aclu’s national office. the dividual in this role will join the analytics department of the aclu national office (either on-site in nyc or remote). the prospective start date will be in march 2021. additional information can be found at https://www.aclu.org/careers/apply/?job=5010480002&type=fulltime, and the link to apply can be found at https://boards.greenhouse.io/aclu/jobs/5010480002#application.

reporting to the director, legal analytics & quantitative research, the redistricting fellow will apply cutting-edge empirical methods from the social sciences to quantitative legal and research questions on redistricting and voting rights that inform the aclu’s litigation, advocacy, and voter engagement work. this role will specialize in ensuring a fair and non-partisan redistricting process, working in close partnership with our voting rights project, advocacy staff, and aclu affiliates. this includes partnering with aclu attorneys and organizers across a range of redistricting and voting rights issues to shape research questions, conduct analyses (ranging from descriptive analytics to simulation and outlier analyses), and translate the results of quantitative analyses for a non-academic audience.

start date: spring 2021
application deadline: 1/18/2021
date posted: 1/5/2021
salary: $100,000 - $109,999
ejobs id: 8459

open

nanyang technological university
rank: lecturers for “ethics & civics in a multicultural world” specializations: political philosophy & theory, political behavior, public opinion

lecturers for “ethics & civics in a multicultural world”

the college of humanities, arts and social sciences (cohass), nanyang technological university invites applications for lecturers for a course titled “ethics & civics in a multicultural world”.

new curriculum - interdisciplinary collaborative core

ntu is transforming its education objectives towards more interdisciplinary and collaborative learning for the foundation years of its undergraduate curriculum. a new interdisciplinary and collaborative curriculum will be introduced in the academic year of 2021 to develop students’ cognitive agility, competence and character, besides their disciplinary major. this new curriculum consists of a set of 7 core courses which will form part of the overall degree requirement in all ntu undergraduate programmes. the courses will be concentrated over the first two years of study comprising mixed classes of students from different disciplinary programmes, so that they can embrace multidisciplinary group learning as part of the overall academic expectation from the start of their university education. students will collaborate in different teams for their course projects or assignments.

content for the 7 common core courses is developed by a diverse mix of faculty and integrated to understand issues from various perspectives. aligned with the learning outcomes of the desired attributes of an ntu graduate, the courses are curated to focus on key transferable skills and the global challenges of the modern world. the courses will adopt the flipped classroom and collaborative learning pedagogy, with content made available prior to classes, to facilitate collaborative discussion through group-based activities during class time.

about the college

ntu’s college of humanities, arts, and social sciences is internationally recognised for research excellence and interdisciplinary education at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. the school of humanities offers programmes in chinese, english, history, linguistics and multilingual studies and philosophy while the school of social sciences offers programmes in economics, psychology, sociology and public policy and global affairs. the college is also home to the school of art, design & media; the wee kim wee school of communication & information; the centre for liberal arts and social sciences; the nanyang centre for public administration; and the centre for contemporary art singapore. home to more than 6,000 students and 300 academic and research staff, through its people and programmes the college contributes to singapore, the region and beyond.

for more information, see https://cohass.ntu.edu.sg candidates are sought for a course titled “ethics & civics in a multicultural world”, one of the core courses in its new interdisciplinary collaborative curriculum (icc) for all ntu undergraduates. the course offers students a multicultural exposure to ethical theories and their application and challenges students to critically assess the institutions that structure their local and global communities.

responsibilities

this role is critical as part of the icc office’s strategy to implement ntu’s education 5.0 to focus on interdisciplinary and collaborative curriculum and to develop students into future-ready graduates and fulfills the following responsibilities:

• facilitates and conducts all teaching assignments, both face-to-face and virtual delivery, across multiple tutorial groups involving activities such as case discussions and team debates.
• develops, designs, and continuously improves curriculum plans, course outlines, evaluation procedures and instruments to foster student learning, stimulate class discussions, and ensure student engagement.
• develops an instructional plan (known as a course outline or syllabus) for the course(s) they teach and ensures that it meets college and school standards.
• supports course administration such as course evaluation, online course materials, attendance records, academic counselling on student progress.
• conducts assessments, marking and grade entries, feedback to students, student consultations, non-academic matters etc.

for more information, see https://cohass.ntu.edu.sg

current ejobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

february 2021
• Develops course materials and learning resources for course delivery and support students’ learning.
• Provides regular course and student progress statistics for reporting and strategic decision making.
• Demonstrates values and principles of professional conduct in all endeavours.
• Any other assigned duties.

Requirements
Candidates with the following qualifications are encouraged to apply:

• A master’s degree (e.g., MA) or a PhD in philosophy, politics/political science, or public policy. Holding a PhD degree is an advantage. Candidates with graduate degrees in other fields in the humanities or social sciences may be considered.
• Ability to teach ethics, public policy, government, or civics.
• A record of excellence in teaching and mentoring is an advantage.
• Interest and/or proficiency in technology-enhanced learning (e.g., developing online learning activities and assessments, creating lectures to be streamed online).
• Demonstrated potential for scholarship is an advantage.

Application
Applicants are invited to submit their applications (cover letter, CV, research and teaching statements, and citation reports, where applicable) through the NTU career portal: https://ntu.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/Careers/job/NTU-Main-Campus-Singapore/Lecturer-for---Ethics---Civics-in-a-Multicultural-World---R00005099.

Review of applications will begin on 1 March 2021 and we will continue to review applications until the positions are filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/27/2021
Salary: Competitve
ejobs ID: 8524

New York University Abu Dhabi
Rank: Social Research and Public Policy Professor, Tenured/Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Subject(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Open
Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Economic Policy, Environmental Policy

Social Research and Public Policy Professor, Tenured/Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct cutting edge research and teach the next generation of global leaders. We are inviting applications from social scientists for a position focusing on public policy. The position is an open rank, tenured/tenure-track position in the program in Social Research and Public Policy, for appointment on September 1, 2021, subject to final budget approval. We will consider applicants with an active research agenda in all areas of theoretically-informed public policy research, but are especially interested in those whose research and teaching focuses on public policy in a comparative and global context. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

NYU values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYU Abu Dhabi students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded; our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present.

About NYU Abu Dhabi
Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html

Working for NYUAD
A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.
Qualifications
This position requires a Ph.D. in Anthropology, Demography, Sociology, Development Studies, Gender Studies, Public Policy, Economics, Education, Environmental Studies, History, Political Economy, or Political Science.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of scholarship, teaching, and mentoring, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research with special attention to public policy.

Application Instructions
To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: https://apply.interfolio.com/76813

- CV
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching Interests
- Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)
- Statement of Research Interests
- Diversity Statement
- Three (3) Representative Writing Samples
- For early career scholars, please submit three (3) confidential letters of reference that will be submitted directly to Interfolio.
- For senior scholars, please submit a list of three references.

We will begin reviewing applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8519

Simon Fraser University

Rank: Simons Foundation Canada Postdoctoral Fellow
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

The School for International Studies at Simon Fraser University invites applications for the Simons Foundation Canada Postdoctoral Fellow for the 2021/22 academic year, with the possibility of reappointment for a second year.

Simon Fraser University is a leading Canadian public university (consistently ranked #1 by Maclean’s Magazine for best comprehensive university in Canada). The School for International Studies is an interdisciplinary unit with research and teaching programs focused on peace and security; international development; human rights and international law; and governance and civil society. The School is based at SFU’s Vancouver campus in the heart of downtown.

The Fellow will participate in School activities during the term of their appointment, deliver at least one presentation of their work to the School, and will teach one course in their area of expertise.

The fellowship provides $45,000 CAD plus benefits, with an additional $3,000 CAD in research support. Selection will be based on qualifications and expected contribution to the intellectual life of the School.

Applications should include: a cover letter with detailed research proposal, graduate transcripts, a curriculum vitae, and two letters of reference. Files will be reviewed beginning March 10, 2021.

Materials should be collated and sent in a single PDF file via email to inst@sfu.ca. (The letters of reference should be sent separately, directly by the letter writers). In the subject line of the email, indicate the following information: “2021 Postdoctoral Fellow Application, (Applicant Name).”

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents will be given priority. SFU is an equity employer and encourages applications from all qualified individuals including women, persons with disabilities, visible minorities, Indigenous Peoples, people of all sexual orientations and gender identities, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of the university.

Under the authority of the University Act personal information that is required by the University for academic appointment competitions will be collected. For further details see the collection notice at http://www.sfu.ca/vpacademic/Faculty_Openings/Collection_Notice.html

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/19/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8505

Dartmouth College

Rank: Pre- to Postdoctoral Dissertation Fellowship in Asian American Studies

Dean’s Pre-to-Postdoctoral Dissertation Fellowship in Asian American Studies

apply.interfolio.com/82139

Position Description

Dartmouth College invites applications for the Dean’s Pre-to-Postdoctoral Dissertation Fellowship in Asian American Studies. The Fellowship supports scholars working in any disciplinary or interdisciplinary field on topics related to Asian American Studies. Fellows are selected on the basis of academic achievement, promise in both research and teaching, and demonstrated commitment to educational diversity. Particular attention will be given to candidates whose work complements and can be supported by current faculty at the College. Applications from candidates who are underrepresented in their fields are especially welcome.

This is a two-year residential fellowship. Fellows are expected to complete the dissertation before the second year and then transition to a postdoctoral appointment. Throughout, fellows are expected to pursue research activities while participating fully in the intellectual life of their home department and the College. During the second year of residency, fellows teach one course. As a predoctoral fellow in the first year, fellows receive an annual stipend of approximately $36,000 plus benefits and an allocation for research expenses; as a
The Main Roles of the Executive Director:

- Oversee, manage, and mentor all full- or part-time interns or employees.
- Promote diversity and inclusion practices among membership and employees.
- Contribute to the strategic plan and drive its implementation.
- Apply innovative thinking and performance measurements to analyze and support strategic decision-making.
- Contribute to the strategic plan and drive its implementation.
- Promote diversity and inclusion practices among membership and Chapter Advisors, ensuring engagement and resources for all students with intellectual interests in political science.
- Oversee, manage, and mentor all full- or part-time interns or employees.
- Perform general management duties ensuring the successful, continuous operations of the organization.

What you bring to the job:

- A passion for PSA’s student members and Chapter Advisors.
- A passion for learning and promoting academic excellence.
- Impeccable communication skills, both verbal and written.
- A desire to continually and consistently develop PSA to best serve our members.
- An openness to ideas and the desire to consistently evaluate yourself and our organization to ensure constant improvement.
- Core traits of diligence, collaboration, an inquisitive mind, and a commitment to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Core Accountabilities:

- Oversee the day-to-day operations of the organization and ensure its long-term success.
- Plan, actively manage, and oversee the organization’s operations and programs, while ensuring the organization’s financial sustainability.
- Oversee and regularly report on the organization’s operations, finances, and programs to The Executive Committee.
- Provide thoughtful executive leadership that supports and guides the organization’s mission as defined by The Executive Committee.
- Establish long-term and short-term goals, objectives, and operational plans in collaboration with The Executive Committee.
- Plan and execute PSA’s largest annual event, The National Student Research Conference.
- Facilitate the publication of the PSA Undergraduate Journal of Politics, which includes budgeting, oversight, and coordination with the editorial team.
- Oversee and manage all grants made to local chapters (awarded annually).
- Work with General Counsel to ensure overall compliance in all legal matters.
- Work with the Portfolio Manager to ensure the long-term financial health of PSA.
- Provide strong communication with all constituents, including: Communicate effectively with The Executive Committee by continually providing all information necessary for members to make informed decisions in a timely and accurate manner; Communicate effectively and consistently with all student members and Chapter Advisors; Effectively represent the organization in person or virtually (as appropriate) and through social media (Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, etc.) to promote a positive organizational image.
- Manage the accounting for PSA, ensuring compliance in all tax and related matters.
- Apply innovative thinking and performance measurements to analyze and support strategic decision-making.
- Contribute to the strategic plan and drive its implementation.
- Promote diversity and inclusion practices among membership and Chapter Advisors, ensuring engagement and resources for all students with intellectual interests in political science.
- Oversee, manage, and mentor all full- or part-time interns or employees.
- Perform general management duties ensuring the successful, continuous operations of the organization.

Application Materials

- Research statement outlining completed research (including dissertation), work in progress, and plans for publication (maximum two pages, single-spaced)
- Teaching statement outlining past and future teaching interests (maximum one page, single-spaced)
- Fellowship program statement describing interest in joining a multidisciplinary cohort; the statement should also describe prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and/or service (maximum one page, single-spaced)
- Curriculum vitae
- Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which must be from the dissertation advisor and address the projected timeline for completion

Applications should be submitted via Interfolio: apply.interfolio.com/82139

Review of applications will begin on February 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

The offer is contingent upon your consent to a pre-employment background check with results acceptable under Dartmouth policy. https://www.dartmouth.edu/~hrs/pdfs/background_check_policy.pdf

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 1/18/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8496

Pi Sigma Alpha

Rank: Executive Director
Subfield(s): Open, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

Pi Sigma Alpha is looking for a dynamic, mission-driven leader who is passionate about helping PSA stimulate student scholarship and intellectual interest in political science.

About Pi Sigma Alpha:
Founded at the University of Texas in 1920, Pi Sigma Alpha’s mission is to stimulate scholarship and intellectual interest in political science through a variety of programs for student members and local chapters. A nonpartisan organization, Pi Sigma Alpha is the only honor society for college students of political science and government in the United States. It is open to graduate and upper-level undergraduate students who have met the organization’s criteria for academic excellence.

The Main Roles of the Executive Director:
Technical Skills:
- Bachelor’s Degree
- 5 – 10 Years of Managerial Experience, or equivalent

Previous Experience:
- Previous work within academia, preferably within political science
- Previous work with a non-profit organization in an executive capacity; preferably with a membership or chapter-based organization
- Previous experience planning and executing large scale events with upwards of 500 participants
- Understanding of non-profit finance
- Understanding of non-profit legal compliance
- Previous experience promoting an organization across social media platforms
- Ability to maintain and update the organization’s website

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8488

The Library of Congress
Rank: Assistant Director and Senior Specialist

Interested applicants must apply online at USAJOB https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/588448000

Assistant Director and Senior Specialist (Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division)
$132,552.00 to $199,300.00 / Per Year
U.S. Citizens - Top Secret Clearance/ Sensitive Compartmented Information

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) seeks a senior manager to serve as the Assistant Director for its Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division.

PLEASE NOTE: CRS is also seeking a Deputy Assistant Director for its Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division (VAR001411). Applicants are invited to apply for either or both vacancies. A SEPARATE APPLICATION IS REQUIRED FOR EACH.

DUTIES:
This position serves as head of the Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division (FDT), a major CRS research division. In this capacity, and reporting directly to the Director of CRS, the Assistant Director manages, within the interdisciplinary environment of CRS, a professional research staff in its production of written products and consulting services in support of the United States Congress.

Working directly with congressional committees and Members of the House and Senate, research analysts and specialists within CRS’s Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division contribute to an informed national legislature as it considers policy issues of importance to the American people. Areas of research, analysis, and consultative support covered by FDT include U.S. foreign policy, institutions, and budgets; regional and transnational affairs; foreign assistance and international development; national security strategies, policies, and budgets; military operations, personnel, logistics, acquisition and related issues; international trade and finance; and foreign policy legislation.

The Assistant Director ensures that written and consulting work is of the highest quality and consistently meets the Service’s standards of objectivity, nonpartisanship, timeliness, legislative relevance, authoritativeness, and accessibility. In addition, the Assistant Director actively collaborates with managers and staff in CRS’s other research divisions to ensure that a multifaceted approach to policy issues is taken to best inform Congressional decision-making.

The Assistant Director leads implementation of the Service’s agenda for issues within the division’s areas of responsibility, including approaches, frameworks, and methodologies for addressing policy and legislative issues. This includes demonstrating personal intellectual leadership in monitoring congressional priorities in the various policy areas and assuring access to the intellectual capacity to meet current and changing needs of the United States Congress at a sustained level of excellence. This also includes exercising overall responsibility for the oversight and management of the division’s human, financial, material, and information research assets, including a staff of approximately 100 employees. In performing these activities, the Assistant Director is responsible for ensuring that the research, analytical, and consulting activities of the division are aligned with the legislative work of Congress and with the priorities, goals, and policies of CRS for meeting congressional needs.

The Assistant Director also serves as one of the chief advisors to the Director, counseling the Director on all aspects of the research management and operations of CRS and recommending specific policies and procedures for improving the Service’s overall quality, efficiency, and effectiveness. The Assistant Director serves as a member of the Director’s senior management team and serves as a principal CRS representative to Members, committees, and officers of the United States Congress.

Major duties of this position include:

In collaboration with other senior managers, leads, plans, directs, and evaluates the research and analyses of the Service in policy areas for which the incumbent has direct research management responsibility and ensures that such activities are fully aligned with the legislative work of the United States Congress and with the priorities, goals, and policies of CRS for meeting congressional needs.

Demonstrates personal intellectual leadership in monitoring congressional needs, in formulating and maintaining an agenda to meet those needs, in guiding and directing relevant research of individuals and groups, and in reviewing and evaluating the work of researchers and their managers.

Ensures research, analysis, and consulting services provided by the division are of the highest quality and meet CRS’s standards of objectivity, nonpartisanship, timeliness, legislative relevance, authoritativeness, and accessibility.

Counsels the Director and Deputy Director on all aspects of the management and operations of the Congressional Research Service and advises on matters relating to the research activities, operations, and mission of the Service.

Serves as a principal representative to committees and officers of the United States Congress, other legislative agencies and the Library of Congress, executive departments and agencies, professional organizations, universities, and other research organizations on the broadest matters related to CRS research, policy, and organization.

Oversees and ensures compliance with human resource management functions for division staff. Establishes and clearly communicates performance expectations for staff.
Qualifications
The competencies below are required for this position. Those marked with a double asterisk () are considered the most critical competencies for this position.

A candidate’s resume must show a proven record of accomplishment that clearly demonstrates he or she has:

Expert knowledge of foreign affairs, defense and trade. Applies expert, multidisciplinary knowledge of the theories, laws and regulations, concepts, processes, methodologies, principles, and/or practices related to foreign affairs, defense and trade issue areas that emerge from the legislative and oversight work of the Congress. Is conversant in the history, trends, interrelationships, and current status of foreign affairs, defense and trade issue areas.

Ability to lead, develop, and execute research and consulting support in a public policy setting. Leads implementation of the Service’s research agenda with respect to the division. This includes developing innovative and creative ideas to advance the quality of the research and the success of the Service and recommending specific policies and procedures for improving efficiency and effectiveness of research management and operations of the Service and assesses their implications. This also includes overseeing and managing policy and legislative research and consulting services across and within major research areas; guiding and directing the research of individuals and groups; and critically reviewing and evaluating the work of researchers and their managers.

Ability to lead people and manage a workforce. Manages and promotes a diverse and inclusive workforce that fosters the development of others, facilitates cooperation and teamwork, and supports constructive resolution of conflicts. Oversees the overall performance of the division by assessing staffing requirements in relation to current and anticipated needs of the Congress, developing staffing plans, justifications, and requests, and making work assignments for and evaluating staff in order to assure the availability of the intellectual capacity needed to meet the current and changing needs of Congress at a sustained level of excellence. Develops and oversees strategies for recruiting, hiring, mentoring, and training a diverse workforce as well as builds and maintains exceptional staff performance.

Ability to exercise judgment and discretion. Demonstrates awareness of the likely consequences or implications of one’s own actions and work within the context of agency/organizational/departmental standards. Acts appropriately in a given situation (e.g., with colleagues, clients, media/press), using discretion, and being committed to confidentiality.

Ability to communicate in writing and assess the quality of products and services. The ability to write, review, and oversee the production of a variety of clear, cogent, accurate, and well-organized products. This includes evaluating the content, organization, and relevance of a range of products and services to ensure quality standards are met. A candidate’s resume must show a proven record of accomplishment that includes substantively correct, and meet CRS’s core values of objectivity, non-partisanship, authoritativeness, and timeliness. Makes suggestions for improvement.

Ability to think strategically and lead change. Establishes and implements a strategic vision and direction for an organization or group and leads and effects change. This includes evaluating interdependencies and interrelationships among functions and resources and outcomes; developing performance targets; and identifying strategic opportunities. This also includes championing ideas that promote the mission with enthusiasm, conviction, and assertiveness; gaining support and commitment from others; and motivating and inspiring others.

Ability to communicate effectively other than in writing. Effectively expresses ideas and recommendations other than in writing in various settings to peers, staff, managers, supervisors, and external audiences to both provide and seek information. This includes actively listening to or understanding communicated information and answering questions thoughtfully and completely.

Continue with the application process only if you are able to document on your resume that you meet all the critical competency requirements at the levels described below.

1. Expert knowledge of foreign affairs, defense and trade: I am recognized by decision-makers as a professional resource in areas relevant to foreign affairs, defense and trade issues.
2. Ability to lead, develop and execute research and consulting support in a public policy setting: I have routinely led and/or managed public policy research and analysis in specific areas pertinent to foreign affairs, defense and/or trade at the national or international level.
3. Ability to lead people and manage a workforce: I have led and managed the performance of a diverse and inclusive workforce.
4. Ability to exercise judgment and discretion: In execution of work duties, I was routinely relied upon to exercise judgment and discretion.
5. Ability to communicate in writing and assess the quality of products and services: I have written a variety of clear, cogent and well-organized products and have evaluated and critically reviewed a range of products and services to ensure quality standards are met.

Interested applicants must apply online at USAJOB https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/588448000

Start Date: Spring 2021
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: $130,000 - $139,999
eJobs ID: 8472

University of Florida
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Lesbian & Gay Studies, Women & Politics

The University of Florida Center for Gender, Sexualities, and Women’s Studies Research (tenure home) invites applications for a nine-month, full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin August 16, 2021. We invite applicants in feminist technoscience and related fields who specialize in the critical analysis and applications of artificial intelligence (AI) and data science. This includes applicants who focus on how AI and data science can shape and be shaped by gender, race, sexuality and other biases and social inequalities as well as uses of AI and data science to promote ethical accountability and social justice. The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, and includes a full benefits package.

This position is part of a larger hiring initiative in AI and Society that includes multiple departments and colleges at UF. Thus, the successful applicant will have the opportunity to collaborate with scholars working in AI bias, ethics, and equity across the social sciences.
humanities, natural sciences, law, computer science and engineering, and other disciplines. We encourage applicants who can utilize resources available at the University of Florida and specifically the new HiPerGator AI NVIDIA GPU SuperPod (https://news.ufl.edu/2020/07/nvidia-partnership/). This search is part of a campus wide effort by the University of Florida to expand the role of AI in higher education and research (https://ai.ufl.edu). The University is home to HiPerGator, one of the most powerful high-performance computers at a US public university (www.rc.ufl.edu/services/hipergator/).

Applicants should have a strong record of scholarship, excellence in teaching and service, and ability to garner extramural funding. Applicants should be trained in and have a research program and teaching experience in feminist, women’s, gender, queer, and/or sexualities studies. The candidate is expected to contribute enthusiastically to the interdisciplinary research, teaching, and service mission of the unit and College by maintaining a productive program of scholarship, pursuing external funding, supervising undergraduate and graduate students, teaching both core required courses and needed electives (e.g., Gender, Race, and Technoscience) that contribute to the women’s studies undergraduate and graduate curricula and to cross-disciplinary curricula (e.g., certificates, minors, majors) in AI and data science, and engaging actively in the life and success of the Center and the College. More information about the Center for Gender, Sexualities, and Women’s Studies Research can be found at: http://wst.ufl.edu/.

The Center for Gender, Sexualities, and Women’s Studies Research is committed to creating an environment that affirms diversity across a variety of dimensions, including ability, class, ethnicity/race, gender identity and expression, and sexual identity. We seek applicants who can contribute to such an environment through their scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and professional service. The university and greater Gainesville community enjoy a diversity of cultural events, restaurants, year-round outdoor recreational activities, and social opportunities, including organizations that support the interests of people from varied backgrounds.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 1/13/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8476

Dean of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life (Tisch College) of Tufts College/Tufts University

Rank: Dean
Subfield(s): Open, Open, Open
Specializations: Life Sciences & Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, American Politics

Tufts University (Tufts) seeks an entrepreneurial, collaborative leader with a demonstrated passion and commitment to civic engagement to serve as the Pierre and Pamela Omidyar Dean of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life (Tisch College). The next dean will have the opportunity to build on Tisch College’s intellectual and programmatic leadership, continuing to move Tufts to the forefront of academic and co-curricular civic engagement programs. Tisch College is the only American institution focused on civic life that is constituted as a college and led by a dean who serves alongside other deans, thereby influencing the direction of an entire University.

Today, Tisch College is a national leader in civic education and engagement, setting the standard for higher education’s role in advancing the greater good. With a broad and vital mission to prepare students for a lifetime of engagement in civic life, to study civic life and its intersections with public and private institutions, and to promote practices that strengthen civic life, Tisch College has the opportunity to continue to deeply engage Tufts in cross-cutting, interdisciplinary initiatives and programs. The next dean will be a creative and entrepreneurial leader, who will seize the opportunity to advance and shape the future of the College’s civic impact, world-class research, student programming, and interdisciplinary activities. The Dean will be responsive to local, national, and global challenges, and will work to strengthen Tisch College’s commitment to ensuring that the work and offerings are rooted in the values and practices of diversity, equity, inclusion, anti-racism, and social justice, which are essential to effective civic practice.

Tisch College has an annual operating budget of nearly $8.5 million and is supported by an annual endowment income of nearly $2.5 million. The College is non-degree-granting, though it does co-lead an undergraduate major in Civic Studies and is mostly supported by philanthropy. The programs and the six research centers at Tisch College are supported by a team of more than 50 dedicated staff. The Dean will report to Provost Nadine Aubry, and their direct reports will include an Associate Dean for Programs and Administration, an Associate Dean of Academic Affairs, and a Director of Communications, Strategy, and Planning. The Dean also works closely with a 35-member Board of Advisors. Newly renovated Barnum Hall, on the main quad of the Tufts Medford campus, is home to the offices of Tisch College.

Tufts University has retained Isaacson, Miller, a national search firm, to assist in the recruitment of the Dean of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life.

Please direct all nominations, inquiries, and application materials to: Isaacson, Miller via www.imsearch.com/7637

Rebecca Swartz, Partner, and Berlinda Mojica, Associate

Tufts University is an equal opportunity employer and strongly encourages individuals of all backgrounds and cultures to consider this leadership position. The university’s commitment to inclusivity encompasses but is not limited to, diversity in nationality, ethnicity, race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, age, and disability.

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8475

Boston University

Rank: Faculty Director of the Boston University Initiative on Cities

The College of Arts and Sciences at Boston University invites applications for Faculty Director of the Boston University Initiative on Cities (IoC) to begin July 1, 2021. We seek a senior scholar of cities with an established record of cutting-edge research, academic leadership and public engagement to lead the IoC (https://www.bu.edu/ioc/), a campus-wide research initiative that engages faculty and students to support and promote interdisciplinary research on cities and connect urban research, teaching and practice. We are looking for academic leaders from all relevant disciplinary backgrounds who share our commitment to ensuring that BU is inclusive, equitable, diverse, and a place where all constituents can thrive. We encourage applications from those with a record of fostering productive academic partnerships with diverse urban communities and municipal partners, and a strong vision of community building and bridging between faculty, students and a wide array of internal and external stakeholders from academia, government, nonprofits and the private sector.

To apply, please submit 1) a letter describing your teaching and research interests and professional experience, including your accomplishments in areas contributing to diversity, equity and inclusion; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) names and contact information for three references
Submit to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17133.

Applications will be reviewed on an ongoing basis until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8463

University of Oklahoma
Rank: Associate or Full Professor, Sanders Endowed Chair in Law and Liberty, Classics and Letters

Associate or Full Professor, Sanders Endowed Chair in Law and Liberty, Classics and Letters (IACH)

University of Oklahoma Norman Campus: College of Arts and Sciences: Classics and Letters

Description
The Institute for the American Constitutional Heritage (IACH) at the University of Oklahoma seeks to recruit an outstanding, nationally-recognized scholar for the endowed Sanders Chair in Law and Liberty. The Sanders Chair, housed in the Department of Classics and Letters, will serve also as the Director of IACH and play a key role in advancing the mission of the Institute. The IACH is an interdisciplinary program that brings together scholars from a range of departments across the University, including History, Political Science, Philosophy, Law, English, and Modern Languages. We seek a diverse range of candidates with a teaching and research profile in the study of the American Constitution, broadly defined. Subfields of interest include but are not limited to: the ancient roots of law, liberty, and self-governance; the development of republican thought; the historical and ideological background of the American founding; or American law and constitutionalism from the 18th century to the present day. Applications are welcome from scholars in areas such as History, Political Science, Law, Ethics and Justice, African American History and Politics, Gender and/or Ethnic Studies, Religion, and the History of Political Thought. As Director, the Sanders chair will be expected to organize the curriculum and programming of the IACH, working in concert with the IACH faculty and the Department Chair of Classics and Letters. Applicants should therefore demonstrate significant leadership and managerial experience or have the potential to take on a management role. The successful candidate will be hired at the Associate or Full Professor rank.

Established in 2009, the IACH (https://www.ou.edu/iach) has grown into a vibrant national center for the study of the American Constitution. It incorporates over thirty affiliated faculty across the University, four of whom are permanently based in Classics and Letters. The notion of constitutional heritage reflects the Institute’s broad approach to the Constitution in all its aspects, including the development of civil rights in American history and the relevance of the Constitution to contemporary debates over justice and freedom. The Letters major is OU’s premier interdisciplinary humanities program and has been an integral part of the College of Arts and Sciences at OU since 1937, attracting outstanding students with interests in history, philosophy, and literature. The concentration in Constitutional Studies has become a cornerstone of the Letters major; hundreds of students have been taught and mentored in the area since its inception, with many alumni attending elite law schools and graduate programs across the country.

Qualifications
The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. (or a J.D. in exceptional cases) and a substantial record of publications in a discipline related to the core mission of the IACH. We hope for a scholar who will have natural and meaningful connections, including potential cross-appointments, with other units on campus, such as History, Political Science, and/or Law. The successful candidate should also have an established commitment to undergraduate education, as well as experience with graduate teaching or clear potential for excellence in this area. The teaching load will be two courses a year (1-1) on a 10-month appointment, with significant research support to encourage an active scholarly agenda.

Application Instructions
Interested applicants should initially submit a cover letter, a current C.V., and three letters of recommendation to https://apply.interfolio.com/81686.

Review of applications will begin January 29, 2021. The search will remain open until filled.

The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, housing, services in educational programs or activities, or health care services that the University operates or provides.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8445

Grinnell College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science/Policy Studies-Two Year Position (Start Fall 2021)

GRINNELL COLLEGE. The Department of Political Science and the Policy Studies Concentration invite applications for a two-year appointment in policy studies beginning Fall 2021. Preferred candidates will have a Ph.D. in political science, with a focus on public policy. Applicants with a Ph.D. in public policy will also be considered.
Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) preferred; Instructor (ABD) or Associate Professor possible. The teaching load is five courses/year over two semesters, including Introduction to Political Science, Foundations of Policy Analysis, intermediate and advanced courses in political science and an advanced seminar in policy analysis, in areas of the candidate’s expertise.

Grinnell College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts college with a strong tradition of social responsibility. In letters of application, candidates should discuss their potential to contribute to a college community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. To be assured of full consideration, all application materials should be received by February 1. Please visit our application website at https://jobs.grinnell.edu to find more details about the job and submit applications online. Candidates will need to provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts (copies are acceptable), a sample of written scholarly work and provide email addresses for three references. Questions about this search should be directed to the search chair, Professor H. Wayne Moyer, at [PoliSciSearch@grinnell.edu] or 641-269-3173.

Grinnell College is committed to establishing and maintaining a safe and nondiscriminatory educational environment for all College community members. It is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination in matters of admission, employment, and housing, and in access to and participation in its education programs, services, and activities. The college does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, religion, disability, creed, or any other protected class.

An offer for this position will be contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 12/23/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8442

Jobelephant.com
Rank: Political Science, Assistant (Tenure-Track) Professor R20091

Political Science, Assistant (Tenure-Track) Professor R20091
Salary: Depends on Qualifications
Location: Bellevue WA, WA
Job Type:
Division: Academic Affairs
Job Number: R20091
Job Status: Full-Time Represented Tenure-Track

DESCRIPTION
Bellevue College is seeking qualified candidates for an assistant (tenure-track) full-time professor position in the Political Science Program for the 2021-2022 academic year. The ideal candidate will be a teacher who is committed to student empowerment, community engagement, and global citizenship. Full-time professor teach 15 credits (typically 3 courses) per quarter and hold a minimum of 5 office hours per week. Additional responsibilities include student advising and mentoring, shared governance, curriculum development, program management, and ongoing professional development. The Political Science Program at Bellevue College values inclusive teaching, shared governance and interdisciplinary collaboration, and is committed to equity, anti-racism, and social justice.

This position is represented by the Bellevue College Association of Higher Education (BCAHE) union.

COMPREHENSIVE WAGE AND BENEFIT PACKAGE

Annual salary is based on a 176-day contract with a minimum of $66,580.43; beginning salary will be determined by the assessment of the candidate’s education and related experience. New hires cannot be placed above $71,390.63 unless exceptional circumstances prevail. We offer comprehensive compensation package with salary and benefits as the main components. Generous benefits package is offered through Washington State plans that includes multiple medical, dental, life and disability coverage choices for employees and dependents; choices of retirement and deferred compensation plans; paid holidays, sick, and vacation plans; temporary housing; transit program; reduced tuition, employee discounts and memberships, etc. For more details about Bellevue College’s excellent employee benefits, please visit Benefits section, next to Description section.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Bellevue College is a diverse student-centered, comprehensive and innovative college, committed to teaching excellence that advances the life-long educational development of its students while strengthening the economic, social and cultural life of its diverse community. Bellevue College is located just 10 miles east of Seattle where we serve a student population of over 44% students of color and over 1,100 international students. The college promotes student success by providing high-quality, flexible, accessible educational programs and services; advancing pluralism, inclusion and global awareness; and acting as a catalyst and collaborator for a vibrant region. We strive to create a vibrant and inclusive campus community that supports a diverse student body, faculty and staff. As an essential part of our http://www.bellevuecollege.edu/futurevision/core-themes/, diversity, equity and pluralism are promoted and fostered in all aspects of college life. By enriching student life through leadership opportunities, personal learning and cultural experiences, we are committed to building an inclusive and diverse campus community that fosters creativity, innovation and student success.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Political Science Department at Bellevue College values student-centered teaching and learning. We serve a diverse student body, offering first-year and second-year level courses in Political Science. Our curriculum is articulated with the University of Washington and our students have a high success rate upon transfer. Among the Political Science department’s many courses are: Introduction to Political Science, American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Introduction to Political Philosophy, The United Nations, Gender and Politics, and Environmental Politics. These courses are offered in multiple teaching modalities, including online, hybrid, and face-to-face classes. In addition, we offer faculty the opportunity to teach International Studies and Interdisciplinary Studies courses and we encourage our faculty to develop new curriculum that serves our diverse student population. We are committed to... teaching, governance, activism and research that not only serves our diverse student body but also contributes to the broader community.

POSITION DUTIES
Teaching duties include:

• Teaching 15 credits per quarter using student-centered instruction to achieve learning outcomes for a multi-cultural student body with emphasis on high impact practices that close opportunity gaps.
• Organizing and executing course plans that employ up-to-date syllabi, clear expectations, and approved course learning outcomes and assessment criteria.
• Assessing and evaluating student learning, using a range of measurement activities and providing students precise, timely, constructive feedback regarding their learning, performance, and professional preparation.
• Maintaining knowledge of effective teaching methodologies, instructional delivery methods, classroom media, and educational resources.
• Maintaining currency within the discipline and engaging in scholarly pursuits that result in presentation, publication, exhibition, or performance.

Advising duties include:

• Establishing weekly office hours to advise students about coursework and classroom-related questions.
• Communicating actively with students to create a positive, respectful and culturally-aware learning environment that ensures students, especially under-represented and historically marginalized students, are fully engaged and included in teaching and learning activities.
• Practicing culturally-responsible student advising that assists students, especially underrepresented and historically marginalized students, overcome retention and completion barriers.

Governance/Service duties include:

• Participating in college governance by serving on department, division, campus committees or individual projects.
• Participating in college-wide student success initiatives, especially those aimed at increasing opportunity for, retention of, and completion by underrepresented and historically marginalized students.
• Participating in on-going curriculum development, revision, implementation, and evaluation that incorporates principles of diversity, equity and inclusion.
• Assisting in the development, distribution, and collection of student learning outcome assessments.
• Representing the college or program at community events, statewide inter-institutional initiatives, or local, state, regional, or national professional organizations, and performing other duties and functions as assigned.

QUALIFICATIONS/CORE COMPETENCIES

• Master’s degree or higher in Political Science or related field with a political emphasis and/or - J.D. with a political focus from an accredited academic institution. (Explain applicability of related discipline in cover letter)
• Experience teaching Political Science or a related interdisciplinary field with a political focus.
• Ability to teach a range of courses in Political Science, including its multiple subfields.
• Demonstrated commitment to the community college mission and student population.
• Ability to teach in a multi-cultural classroom and advocate for diversity, equity and inclusion.
• Ability to teach a wide range of student preparedness consistent with an open access college.
• Demonstrated ability to connect and build relationships with students and colleagues from varied ethnicities, gender identities, ages, backgrounds, learning styles, and abilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS:

• Ph.D. (or "All But Dissertation") in Political Science or related discipline from an accredited institution. (Explain applicability of related discipline in cover letter)
• Record of success teaching college-level courses in Political Science or a related field with a political focus.
• Experience integrating diversity, equity, and inclusion into the teaching, learning and mentoring of students.
• Demonstrated commitment to social justice and community engagement, both inside and outside the classroom.
• Demonstrated commitment to addressing disproportionate impact, equity and anti-racism issues in an institutional setting.
• Experience with a variety of teaching modalities and delivery methods, including online, hybrid and face-to-face classes.
• Demonstrated commitment to shared governance and ongoing professional development.

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLICANTS

Applications received by 02/14/2021 will be given full consideration. Applications received after that date may be considered until the position is filled. The position will begin Fall Quarter, 2021.

Assistant (Tenure-Track) Professor positions are eligible for relocation allowance.

Background Check:
Prior to a new hire, a background check will be conducted. Information from the background check will not necessarily preclude employment, but will be considered in determining the applicant’s suitability and competence to perform in the position.

How To Apply:
Click on the word Apply at the top right corner of the job announcement.

Individuals interested in this position are encouraged to apply. Your application must include a complete online application and all of the required documents below to be considered complete. Any application that does not provide all requested information will be considered incomplete and will not be screened for the position.
• Complete an online Application
• Attach a Cover Letter (minimum 1 page, maximum 2 pages) that addresses how you meet the minimum and preferred qualifications, including teaching experiences
• Attach a Curriculum Vitae/Resume
• Attach a statement of your Teaching Philosophy (minimum 1 page, maximum 2 pages)
• Attach a Diversity Statement (minimum 1 page, maximum 2 pages) that addresses the following: Please provide specific examples of how your educational and/or professional experiences, background or philosophy demonstrate your commitment to diversity and equity, and how these prepare you to contribute to Bellevue College. Please note that your Diversity Statement must be a separate response from your Teaching Philosophy.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct important research and teach the next generation of global leaders. The Division of Social Science invites applications for a tenured/tenure-track position in Political Science. This position is open with respect to rank and subfield, though scholars in the fields of International Relations and Middle East are especially encouraged to apply. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2021, or September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

NYU Abu Dhabi values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYU Abu Dhabi students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded; our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present. The disciplines in this field seek to deepen our understanding of how people behave in a wide variety of contexts and to assess the consequences of individual, group, and societal decisions.

About NYU Abu Dhabi
Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html

Working for NYUAD
A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications
This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science.

We seek individuals who have, or have the potential to develop, a strong record of scholarship and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

• Attach a copy of academic transcripts (unofficial transcripts may be submitted - official transcripts required upon employment)
• Attach the names and contact information of three professional references
• Attach a sample syllabus for any first-year course in Political Science or related discipline

To apply, visit https://aptrkr.com/2108642

Bellevue College is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing equal opportunity and nondiscrimination to applicants and employees without regard to race or ethnicity; creed; color; national origin; sex; marital status; sexual orientation; age; religion; genetic information; the presence of any sensory, mental, or physical disability; or whether a disabled or Vietnam-era veteran. Please see policy 4100 at www.bellevuecollege.edu/policies/. Applicants with disabilities who require assistance with the recruitment process may contact hr@bellevuecollege.edu or 425-564-2271. The following people have been designated to handle inquiries regarding non-discrimination policies: Title IX Coordinator, 425-564-2641, Office C227, and EEOC/504 Compliance Officer, 425-564-2178, Office R130.

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
jeid-0662b31a7bc2014592bc4d59660acaca

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/22/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8439

New York University Abu Dhabi
Rank: Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Other
Specializations: Middle East, Research Methods, Women & Politics

Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct important research and teach the next generation of global leaders. The Division of Social Science invites applications for a tenured/tenure-track position in Political Science. This position is open with respect to rank and subfield, though scholars in the fields of International Relations and Middle East are especially encouraged to apply. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2021, or September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

NYU Abu Dhabi values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYU Abu Dhabi students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded; our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present. The disciplines in this field seek to deepen our understanding of how people behave in a wide variety of contexts and to assess the consequences of individual, group, and societal decisions.

About NYU Abu Dhabi
Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html

Working for NYUAD
A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications
This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science.

We seek individuals who have, or have the potential to develop, a strong record of scholarship and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.
Application Instructions
To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: https://apply.interfolio.com/82086

CV
Cover Letter
Teaching Statement
Research Statement
Recent teaching evaluations (if available)
Three (3) Representative Writing Samples
For candidates applying for the Assistant Professor Positions, please submit the names and email addresses of three (3) references who will be contacted to upload their letter confidentially through Interfolio.
For candidates applying to the Senior faculty position, please submit a list of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin reviewing applications on February 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2021-2022.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialsciencet@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8433

Butler University
Rank: Lecturer/Instructor
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Native American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track lecturer for a two-year appointment with possibility of renewal. Applicants should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and scholarship engages intersectional, abolitionist, or critical historical institutional perspectives on race/ethnicity/indigeneity, gender/sexuality, and politics in the United States and potentially beyond it. The successful candidate will teach lower-level and upper-level undergraduate political science courses (including an introductory American politics survey), will contribute to the Core Curriculum, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. This faculty member could choose to affiliate with the cultural studies, peace and conflict studies, race, gender, and sexuality programs, and/or the interdisciplinary programs. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, typically with no more than six distinct course preparations per year.

Review of applications will begin January 11, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2021. Applicants should submit the following to psearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant’s teaching interests, experience, and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and summarizes their research interests; a curriculum vitae; a statement of teaching philosophy, a sample syllabus, and a list of 3-5 references including name, title and contact information. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation, and unofficial transcripts. Final round candidates will need to provide official transcripts and will be asked to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021
Date Posted: 12/4/2020
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8367

London School of Economics
Rank: Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university.

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Data Science and Politics. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in both Data Science and Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science and data science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidate should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science, data science, statistics, or related area. The successful candidate will be expected to take a leadership role in building a new BSc in Politics and Data Science. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, demonstrated ability to teach data science at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels and the ability to establish international reputation in data science and political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/50820/283550/15539/assistant-professor-in-data-science-and-politics

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email: HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8356

Wake Forest University
Rank: Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow in Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities

Job Description Summary
The Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program at Wake Forest University seek a thoughtful, engaged, and creative scholar to become a Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow for one year. The Postdoctoral Fellow will join an innovative cohort of emerging scholars from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences to develop and teach leadership and character-related courses in their respective disciplines. The Postdoctoral Fellow will teach 3 courses per year (a 1:2) and contribute to the co-curricular programming of the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program. The Postdoctoral Fellow will benefit from course development workshops and mentoring from faculty in the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program. The Postdoctoral Fellow will have an opportunity to work with a senior research scholar to assess the impact of their courses and potentially publish relevant research.

The one-year fellowship is funded by a grant from the Lilly Endowment and is open to candidates from across the humanities. We welcome recent PhDs in a variety of fields, including literature, history, classics, philosophy, political theory, religious studies, African American studies, and/or women’s, gender, and sexuality studies who specialize in ethics and have interest in working across disciplines to pursue ethics-related teaching and research. Compelling applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students from diverse backgrounds, including international students, first-generation students, and those who identify as members of historically marginalized communities.

Wake Forest University welcomes and encourages diversity and inclusivity and seeks applicants with demonstrated success in working with diverse populations. Wake Forest University is an AA/EEO employer and values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Wake Forest University is a private, coeducational institution dedicated to academic excellence in liberal arts, graduate and professional education. Located in Winston-Salem, NC (“The City of Arts and Innovation”), the University is ranked among the top thirty national universities by U.S. News and World Report. The University has a deep institutional commitment to public service and engagement with the world, as indicated by the motto Pro Humanitate (for humanity), which encourages students to develop the qualities of human character needed to serve humanity. With the aim to educate the whole person, the University has established an innovative Program for Leadership and Character that plans creative, liberal arts-based programming to help students develop the virtues of character needed to lead in an increasingly complex world. The Program is based on cutting-edge academic research on leadership and character, including research conducted by Wake Forest faculty in philosophy and psychology who are leading experts on the study of character. The program has established a partnership with the Oxford Character Project and has been profiled as a model for how universities can educate character. The Program recently received a major grant from the Lilly Endowment to develop leaders of character at Wake Forest and support other colleges and universities who seek to infuse leadership and character at their campuses. The Interdisciplinary Humanities Program is an exciting academic program that draws insights from multiple disciplines to explore what it means to be human. The Interdisciplinary Humanities Program offers an undergraduate minor and a wide range of courses that address big questions from a variety of disciplinary and ethical perspectives.

For quick facts about the University, see http://www.wfu.edu/visitors/quickfacts.html. For more on the Program for Leadership and Character, see https://leadershipandcharacter.wfu.edu/. For more on the Interdisciplinary Humanities Program, see https://humanities.wfu.edu/.

Please provide a cover letter addressed to the members of the search committee, a curriculum vita, a teaching statement, copies of course evaluations, and a writing sample. At least three confidential letters of recommendation must be sent via email to leadershipandcharacter@wfu.edu. The position may begin as early as June 1, 2021. Applications arriving by January 15, 2021 will be given priority consideration.

For additional information, please contact Dr. Michael Lamb at lambkm@wfu.edu.

Job Description:
Political Science Jobs

Essential Functions:

Teaches 3 courses across two semesters.
Develops syllabi and teaching resources related to leadership and character.
Assists with designing and delivering curricular and co-curricular programming.
Contributes to ongoing research on leadership and character within the university context.
Participates in course development workshops and ongoing professional development.
Works collaboratively with faculty, staff, and postdoctoral fellows in the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program to advance the work of the programs.
Attends regular meetings of the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program.
Presents research findings and represents both programs at relevant academic conferences and educational convenings.
Works with the senior research scholar to develop assessment plans for their courses and potentially publishes relevant scholarly research.
Assists with other programming and research of the Program for Leadership and Character and Interdisciplinary Humanities Program as needed.

Required Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:

Ph.D. in a relevant humanities field, such as literature, history, classics, philosophy, political theory, religious studies, African American studies, and/or women’s, gender, and sexuality studies.
Commitment to interdisciplinary teaching and research.
Record of excellent teaching and commitment to developing creative pedagogy.
Excellent writing, research, and communication skills.
Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills.
Commitment to supporting the intellectual and ethical development of students.
Experience with, and sensitivity to, diverse populations and the ability to build inclusive and equitable communities where differences are appreciated and engaged.
Sound character, wise judgment, and a strong work ethic.
Demonstrated ability to:
Work independently with minimal supervision.
Set priorities and effectively manage time and resources.
Be a constructive and cooperative member of a team.
Positively influence colleagues and develop collaborative relationships with a wide range of people.
Willingness to learn more about leadership and character development and apply that knowledge to inform curricular design, implementation, and assessment.
Knowledge and understanding of academic cultures, rules, and regulations.
Openness to feedback and a commitment to personal and professional growth.
Ability to represent the programs and the university in a professional manner.
Ability to work occasional weekend or evening hours as needed.

Preferred Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:
Teaching experience or research related to leadership, character, virtue, and/or ethics.

Knowledge of leadership development and/or character education.

Note:
This position profile identifies the key responsibilities and expectations for performance. It cannot encompass all specific job tasks that an employee may be required to perform. Employees are required to follow any other job-related instructions and perform job-related duties as may be reasonably assigned by his/her supervisor.

Additional Job Description

Time Type Requirement
Full time

In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living community, Wake Forest University conducts background investigations for all final faculty candidates being considered for employment.

Wake Forest seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce while promoting an inclusive work environment committed to excellence in the spirit of Pro Humanitate. In adherence with applicable laws and as provided by University policies, the University prohibits discrimination in its employment practices on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, genetic information, disability and veteran status and encourages qualified candidates across all group demographics to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/2/2020
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8353

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab
Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position
We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and collaborate on and develop projects related to immigration policy and health.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, data acquisition, data analysis, and interpretation of results. This fellow will join a team of researchers from IPL, the Stanford School of Medicine, Oregon Heath & Science University, and the Duke School of Medicine to evaluate the effects of immigration and health policy on the intergenerational health of immigrant families.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc’s time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research. Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families’ location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second and third year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2021 and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications
The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research missions.

Application Requirements
Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The “Contributions to Diversity Statement” should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17290 (ID17290). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Health).
Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Data Science)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Data Science) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow with extensive experience and training in data science to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of digital tools related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the data scientist postdoc will be to lead data analysis for research projects and develop innovative digital tools related to immigration policy, programs, and services under the guidance of Professors Jens Hainmueller, David Laitin, and Jeremy Weinstein. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on data science, causal inference, machine learning, statistical analysis, and programming. For instance, the postdoc will help drive a global effort to support refugee integration by developing matching tools for various countries using machine learning. The post doc will also work on data analysis for projects examining the impacts of immigration related policies and programs. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects and tools related to immigration policy evaluation.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment, and postdocs will have the opportunity to develop new lab projects with other team members as well as join existing ongoing projects. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies and work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc’s time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to work on independent research.

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible (no later than August 2021) and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D. in a social science, statistics, computer science, or related program, with a preference for candidates who have demonstrated training and skills in both data analysis and programming. Previous experience conducting research on immigration issues is valued but not required.

She or he should have a range of statistical skills including graduate level knowledge of program evaluation methods, data management, statistical inference and modeling, and machine learning. Experience or skills in data visualization and optimization methods are also highly valued.

In addition, she or he should also have significant programming experience. Proficiency in R is required. Experience working with a general-purpose programming language (e.g. Python, Java, C++) and/or with SQL is also a plus. Demonstrated ability to develop user-friendly digital tools, apps, or programs that leverage data and statistical methods in novel ways is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The “Contributions to Diversity Statement” should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17288 (ID17288). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Data Science).

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8312

Wake Forest University

Rank: Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow in Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs

The Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs at Wake Forest University seek a thoughtful, engaged, and creative scholar to become a Teacher-Scholar Postdoctoral Fellow for one year. The Postdoctoral Fellow will join an innovative cohort of emerging scholars from the humanities, social sciences, and natural sciences to develop and teach leadership and character-related courses in their respective disciplines. The Postdoctoral Fellow will teach 3 courses per year (a 1:2) and contribute to the co-curricular programming of the Program for Leadership and Character and the Department of Politics and International Affairs. The Postdoctoral Fellow will benefit from course development workshops and mentoring from faculty in the Program and the Department. The Postdoctoral Fellow will also have an opportunity to work with a senior research scholar to assess the impact of their courses and potentially publish relevant research.

The one-year fellowship is funded by a grant from the Lilly Endowment. We welcome recent PhDs in political science and closely related fields. We particularly encourage applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research missions.
fields and remain open as to subfields (political theory, political ethics, comparative politics, political psychology, American politics or international politics) and methodological perspectives, so long the scholar’s research and teaching relate to leadership and character broadly understood and demonstrate a capacity for working across disciplines to pursue ethics-related teaching and research. Compelling applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students from diverse backgrounds, including international students, first-generation students, and those who identify as members of historically marginalized communities.

Wake Forest University welcomes and encourages diversity and inclusivity and seeks applicants with demonstrated success in working with diverse populations. Wake Forest University is an AA/EQ employer and values an inclusive and diverse learning community and campus climate. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Wake Forest University is a private, coeducational institution dedicated to academic excellence in liberal arts, graduate and professional education. Located in Winston-Salem, NC (“The City of Arts and Innovation”), the University is ranked among the top thirty national universities by U.S. News and World Report. The University has a deep institutional commitment to public service and engagement with the world, as indicated by the motto Pro Humanitate (for humanity), which encourages students to develop the qualities of human character needed to serve humanity. With the aim to educate the whole person, the University has established an innovative Program for Leadership and Character that plans creative, liberal arts-based programming to help students develop the virtues of character needed to lead in an increasingly complex world. The Program is based on cutting-edge academic research on leadership and character, including research conducted by Wake Forest faculty in philosophy and psychology who are leading experts on the study of character. The Program has established a partnership with the Oxford Character Project and has been profiled as a model for how universities can educate character. The Program recently received a major grant from the Lilly Endowment to develop leaders of character at Wake Forest and support other colleges and universities who seek to infuse leadership and character at their campuses. The Department of Politics and International Affairs is one of the largest majors on campus and home to the Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs.

For quick facts about the University, see http://www.wfu.edu/quickfacts.html. For more on the Program for Leadership and Character, see https://leadershipandcharacter.wfu.edu/. For more on the Department of Politics and International Affairs, see https://politics.wfu.edu/.

Please provide a cover letter addressed to the members of the search committee, a curriculum vita, a teaching statement, copies of course evaluations, and a writing sample. At least three confidential letters of recommendation must be sent via email to leadershipandcharacter@wfu.edu.

The position may begin as early as June 1, 2021. Applications arriving by January 15, 2021 will be given priority consideration.

For additional information, please contact Dr. Michael Lamb at lambkm@wfu.edu.

Essential Functions:
-Teaches 3 courses depending on program needs.
-Develops syllabi and teaching resources related to leadership and character.
-Assists with designing and delivering curricular and co-curricular programming.
-Contributes to ongoing research on leadership and character within the university context.
-Participates in course development workshops and ongoing professional development.
-Works collaboratively with faculty, staff, and postdoctoral fellows in the Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs to advance the work of the programs.
-Attends regular meetings of the Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs.
-Presents research findings and represents the program at relevant academic conferences and educational convenings.
-Works with the senior research scholar to develop assessment plans for their courses and potentially publishes relevant scholarly research.
-Assists with other programming and research of the Program for Leadership and Character and Department of Politics and International Affairs as needed.

Required Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:
-Ph.D. in politics or political science or closely related fields.
-Commitment to interdisciplinary teaching and research.
-Record of excellent teaching and commitment to developing creative pedagogy.
-Excellent writing, research, and communication skills.
-Commitment to supporting the intellectual and ethical development of students.
-Experience with, and sensitivity to, diverse populations and the ability to build inclusive and equitable communities where differences are appreciated and engaged.
-Sound character, wise judgment, and a strong work ethic.

Demonstrated ability to:
-Work independently with minimal supervision.
-Set priorities and effectively manage time and resources.
-Be a constructive and cooperative member of a team.
-Positively influence colleagues and develop collaborative relationships with a wide range of people.
-Willingly learn more about leadership and character development and apply that knowledge to inform curricular design, implementation, and assessment.
-Knowledge and understanding of academic cultures, rules, and regulations.
-Openness to feedback and a commitment to personal and professional growth.
-Ability to represent the programs and the university in a professional manner.
-Ability to work occasional weekend or evening hours as needed.

Preferred Education, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities:
-Teaching experience or research related to leadership, character, virtue, and/or ethics.
-Knowledge of leadership development and/or character education.

Note: This position profile identifies the key responsibilities and expectations for performance. It cannot encompass all specific job tasks that an employee may be required to perform. Employees are required to follow any other job-related instructions and perform job-related duties as may be reasonably assigned by his/her supervisor.

In order to provide a safe and productive learning and living community, Wake Forest University conducts background investigations and drug screens for all final staff candidates being considered for employment.

Time Type Requirement: Full time

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/5/2020
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8255

Princeton University
Rank: Lecturer

The Politics Department at Princeton University has an occasional need for lecturers (part-time and/or full-time) to teach or co-teach in areas such as American Politics, Comparative Politics, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods, International Relations, and/or Political Theory. Advanced degree required.

Please provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement of teaching interest. Due to the volume of applications, only candidates selected for an interview will be contacted. No letters of recommendation are required at this time. You will be required to submit contact information for one reference, but your reference will not be contacted at this time.

This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Interested applicants must apply online at: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17422

Requisition No: D-21-POL-00006
Start Date:
Date Posted: 9/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8073

Princeton University
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research position that involves a year of research at Princeton. Scholars in all subfields of political science will be considered. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars, and there is a particular interest in attracting applications from groups that have been historically underrepresented in the field of political science at Princeton University. Ph.D. is required.

Interested applicants must apply online at https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/position/17521 and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members. Initial appointment is for one year with the possibility of renewal subject to satisfactory performance and available funding.

Requisition No: D-21-POL-00007
Start Date:
Date Posted: 9/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8074

Fudan University
Rank: Post-doctoral fellows
Specializations: China, Political Economy, Quantitative Methods

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time “Post-doc fellows” at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China’s top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review’s editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7920

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Fudan University

Rank: University Distinguished Professors

Specializations: China, Political Economy, Quantitative Methods

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time positions at the top rank of "University Distinguished Professor" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong publication records and their potentials to continue their scholarship during their tenure, and employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the fields, and well recognized as leading scholars in the fields of their research. Applicants are expected to continue publishing research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI), and contribute to the annual research projects at Fudan IAS and to the disciplinary development at Fudan University. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China’s top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review’s editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):
1. A cover letter;
2. A brief statement of research interest and agenda;
3. Two published journal articles in PDF;
4. An extensive/detailed curriculum vitae; including honors and awards in disciplines, list of publications, information of three references. Letters of recommendation may be requested.

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended rank/position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 7919

University of Illinois, Chicago

Rank: Head/Professor, Department of Black Studies

The Department of Black Studies at the University of Illinois at Chicago (UIC) invites applications for the position of Head of the Department. We are seeking an innovative and dynamic leader with a distinguished record of scholarship in any area of African, African American Studies and/or African Diaspora studies broadly construed, and a commitment to interdisciplinary work. Black Studies (previously African American Studies) at UIC was founded in 1971 and has grown into a multidisciplinary department with 18 faculty and 5 faculty affiliates. Our faculty includes award-winning authors and scholars, nationally known policy analysts, and community activists engaged in pioneering work on race, racism, gender, sexuality, inequality, and the African Diaspora. The Department offers an undergraduate major and minor and an Interdisciplinary Graduate Concentration in Black Studies. We maintain strong, interdisciplinary connections to scholarly and civic communities. For further information, please visit our website: https://blst.uic.edu/about/.

UIC is among the nation’s top five most diverse campuses and is designated a Minority Serving Institution (MSI). Located in the heart of Chicago, UIC is a Carnegie, Research 1, urban, public, Research 1 university with access to state-of-the-art research facilities with approximately 22,000 undergraduates, 7500 graduate students, and 4100 professional school students. The University is host to several exciting interdisciplinary units with which the Black Studies Department frequently collaborates. These include, among others, the Humanities Institute, the Institute for Research on Race and Public Policy, the Latin American and Latino Studies Program, the Program in Gender and Women’s Studies, the Program in Global Asian Studies, the Social Justice Initiative, and the Great Cities Institute. The Head is the chief administrative officer of the department with responsibility for instructional programs and for administrative, budgetary, promotion, and recruitment matters. The successful candidate will have a distinguished scholarship record commensurate with the rank of full professor, a strong teaching record, and appropriate academic administrative experience. PhD or equivalent degree required. The desired appointment date is August 16, 2021. Salary is competitive based on qualifications. To apply, complete an on-line application and upload a cover letter, full curriculum vitae and the names and full contact information of four referees at https://jobs.uic.edu. Please click on the Job Board and then the position. For further information please contact Beth Richie (brichie@uic.edu). Applications and nominations should be received by March 15, 2021 to receive full consideration. Applications from women and minorities are particularly encouraged.

The University of Illinois is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer.

The University of Illinois System requires candidates selected for hire to disclose any documented finding of sexual misconduct or sexual harassment and to authorize inquiries to current and former employers regarding findings of sexual misconduct or sexual harassment. For more information, visit https://www.hr.uillinois.edu/cms/One.aspx?portalId=4292&pageId=1411899

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 4/28/2021
Date Posted: 1/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8535

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Bates College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics

The Department of Politics at Bates College invites applications for a one-year visiting assistant professor in race and ethnic politics and policy in the U.S. The position would start in the Fall of 2021. We are open to and encourage a variety of methodological approaches and paths to scholarly and teaching excellence in this field. Applicants should show a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching, to scholarly research, and to the implementation of inclusive pedagogies. Candidates with demonstrated success in teaching and supporting students from historically underrepresented and marginalized populations are encouraged to apply. Teaching responsibilities include five courses per year as well as advising individual senior theses. We are particularly interested in those candidates who can teach a course in public policy. The college and the department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal and identify their strengths and experiences in this area are encouraged to apply. Consideration of applications will begin March 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in political science completed or nearly complete. ABD will be considered, Ph.D., preferred.

Review of applications begins March 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit the following: (1) a letter of application, (2) curriculum vita, (3) pedagogy statement, (4) research statement, (5) statement on how attention to inclusion and equity informs your teaching and research, (6) writing sample, (7) graduate transcripts, and (8) three letters of recommendation. Employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background check.

http://apply.interfolio.com/83442

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8526

Bates College

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Politics

The Department of Politics at Bates College invites applications for a one-year lecturer position in Latin American Politics to begin in Fall 2021. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in political science completed or nearly complete. ABD will be considered, Ph.D., preferred.

Review of applications begins March 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit the following: (1) a letter of application, (2) curriculum vita, (3) pedagogy statement, (4) research statement, (5) statement on how attention to inclusion and equity informs your teaching and research, (6) writing sample, (7) graduate transcripts, and (8) three letters of recommendation. Employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background check.

http://apply.interfolio.com/83480

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8527

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Part Time Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year 2021-2022

CSUN’s Commitment to You:
CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI &HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: http://www.csun.edu

About the College:
For information about the College, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences

About the Department:
For information about the department, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:
Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Qualifications:
1) With the exception of POLS 347, 450, 455, 457A, 457B & 471F, applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in Political Science or related field in the field of American Government, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Research Methodology, depending on the course for which the applicant is applying to teach.

2) For POLS 347, 450, 455, 457A, 457B, & 471F a JD may be substituted for the Ph.D.

3) University teaching experience in the fields of American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics or Research Methodology, depending on the course for which the applicant is applying to teach.

4) A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Salary Range
Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)
Paid in 6 monthly installments

Current Courses or Specialization
(Specify time if appropriate)

Lower division courses in:
(1) POLS155. American Political Institutions (2) POLS156. Introduction to Comparative Politics
(3) POLS 197. Ethnic Politics
(4) POLS 225. Elements of International Relations

Upper division courses in:
(1) POLS 310. Problems of Political Economy
(2) POLS 321. Comparative Political Ideologies
(3) POLS 332. Politics of Latin America
(4) POLS 347. The Judicial Process
(5) POLS 350. Great Questions in Politics
(6) POLS 355. American National, State and Local Governments
(7) POLS 360. Public Administration
(8) POLS 361. Introduction to Public Policy
(9) POLS 372. Principles and Methods of Political Science
(10) POLS 380. LA: Past, Present, Future
(11) POLS 403. State and Local Government
(12) POLS 404. Urban Politics
(13) POLS 405. The Process of Public Policy Formation
(14) POLS 406. Fundamentals of Policy Analysis
(15) POLS 407. Policy Implementation and Program Evaluation
(16) POLS 410. Advanced Comparative Politics
(17) POLS 411. Greek, Roman, and Medieval Political Theory
(18) POLS 412. Modern Western Political Theory
(19) POLS 413. American Political Thought
(20) POLS 414. Western Political Thought in the 20th Century
(21) POLS 420A-H. International Relations of Selected Areas
(A) Intl Rel Lat Amer
(B) Intl Rel W Eur
(C) Intl Rel E Eur
(D) Intl Rel Mid East
(E) Intl Rel Africa
(F) Intl Rel So Asia
(G) Intl Rel SE Asia
(H) Intl Rel SE Asia
(22) POLS 421. The Politics of Development
(23) POLS 422. International Politics
(24) POLS 423. Security Studies
(25) POLS 426. International Law
(26) POLS 427A/L. Model United Nations I and Lab
(27) POLS 427B/L. Model United Nations II and Lab
(28) POLS 428. International Organization
(29) POLS 429. United States Foreign Policy
(30) POLS 430A-Z. Government and Politics of Selected Nations
(31) POLS 432A. Politics of Mexico
(32) POLS 432B. Governments and Politics of South America
(33) POLS 433A. The Politics of Central America
(34) POLS 434A. Government and Politics of South Asia
(35) POLS 434B. Government and Politics of Southeast Asia
(36) POLS 435A. Government and Politics of China
(37) POLS 435B. Government and Politics of Japan
(38) POLS 436A. Government and Politics of Europe
(39) POLS 438. Governments and Politics of the Middle East
(40) POLS 439A. Government and Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa
(41) POLS 439B. Government and Politics of Southern Africa
(42) POLS 440. American Political Parties and Politics
(43) POLS 441. Interest Groups
(44) POLS 441A. Latina/o Politics
(45) POLS 443. The Legislative Process
(46) POLS 444. Elections and Voting Behavior
(47) POLS 445. Political Behavior
(48) POLS 446. The Presidency
(49) POLS 447A. Media & Politics
(50) POLS 448. Women & Politics in the US & the World
(51) POLS 449. The Politics of Community Action
(52) POLS 450. Jurisprudence
(53) POLS 455. Criminal Procedures
(54) POLS 457A. Constitutional Law
(55) POLS 457B. Constitutional Law II
(56) POLS 460. Welfare State
(57) POLS 461. Environmental Policy
(58) POLS 462. Ethics in Politics and Administration
(59) POLS 463. Public Personnel Administration
(60) POLS 464. Comparative Public Policy
(61) POLS 465. Administrative Behavior
(62) POLS 466. The Politics of Public Spending
(63) POLS 467. Urban Admin
(64) POLS 469/L. City Planning and Lab
(65) POLS 471 A-F. Proseminar
(A) Amer Gov
(B) Comparative Gov
(C) International Relations
(D) Political Theory
(E) Public Admin
(F) Public Law
(66) POLS 480. The Politics of Globalization
(67) POLS 481. Globalization, Gender and Democratization
(68) POLS 490CA. Supervised Independent Project-California Government
(69) POLS 494I. Political Science Internship
(70) POLS 494J. Judicial Internship
(71) POLS 496GN. Political Development of Intellectual Property Law
(72) POLS 496SP. Sports and Politics

Graduate
(73) POLS 522A-G. Seminar in International Relations
Political Science Jobs

February 2021

(74) POLS 530A-J. Seminar in Comparative Government
(75) POLS 540A-J. Seminar in American Government and Politics
(76) POLS 570. Seminar in Political Theory
(77) POLS 571. Seminar in Methodology.

Application Process:
Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 – 2022: March 26, 2021

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:
Dr. Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street
Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

(Checklist) PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:
155 American Political Institutions
156 Introduction to Comparative Politics
197 Ethnic Politics
225 Elements of International Relations
310 Problems of Political Economy
321 Comparative Political Ideologies
332 Politics of Latin America
347 The Judicial Process
350 Great Questions in Politics
355 American National, State and Local Govts
360 Public Administration
361 Introduction to Public Policy
372 Principles and Methods of Political Science
380 Los Angeles: Past, Present, Future
403 State and Local Government
404 Urban Politics
405 The Process of Public Policy Formation
406 Fundamentals of Policy Analysis
407 Policy Implementation and Program Evaluation
410 Advanced Comparative Politics
411 Greek, Roman and Medieval Political Theory
412 Modern Western Political Theory
413 American Political Thought
414 Western Political Theory in the 20th Century
420A-H International Relations of Selected Areas
(A) International Relations Latin America
(B) International Relations Western Europe
(C) International Relations Eastern Europe
(D) International Relations Middle East
(E) International Relations Africa
(F) International Relations South Asia
(G) International Relations Southeast Asia
(H) International Relations Northeast Asia
421 The Politics of Development
422 International Politics
423 Security Studies
426 International Law
427A/L Model United Nations I and Lab
427B/L Model United Nations II and Lab
428 International Organization
429 United States Foreign Policy
430A-Z Government and Politics of Selected Nations
432A Politics of Mexico
432B Governments and Politics of South America
433A The Politics of Central America
434A Government and Politics of South Asia
434B Government and Politics of Southeast Asia
435A Government and Politics of China
435B Government and Politics of Japan
436A Government and Politics of Europe
438 Governments and Politics of the Middle East
439A Government and Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa
439B Government and Politics of Southern Africa
440 American Political Parties and Politics
441 Interest Groups
441A Latino/a Politics
443 The Legislative Process
444 Elections and Voting Behavior
445 Political Behavior
446 The Presidency
447A Media and Politics
448 Women & Politics in the US and the World
449 The Politics of Community Action
450 Jurisprudence
455 Criminal Procedure
457A Constitutional Law I
457B Constitutional Law II
460 Welfare State
461 Environmental Policy
462 Ethics in Politics and Administration
463 Public Personnel Administration
464 Comparative Public Policy
465 Administrative Behavior
466 The Politics of Public Spending
467 Urban Administration
469/L City Planning and Lab
471A-F Proseminar
(A) Proseminar American Government
(B) Proseminar Comparative Government
(C) Proseminar International Relations
(D) Proseminar Political Theory
(E) Proseminar Public Admin & Public Policy
(F) Proseminar Public Law
480 The Politics of Globalization
481 Globalization, Gender and Democratization
490CA Supervised Independent Project-CA Gov’t
494I Political Science Internship
494J Judicial Internship
496IN Political Development of Intellectual Property Law
496SP Sports and Politics
522A-G Seminar in International Relations
530A-J Seminar in Comparative Government
540A-J Seminar in American Govt and Politics

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
General Information:
In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/26/2021
Date Posted: 1/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8514

California State University, Northridge
Rank: Part Time Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science
Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year 2021-2022

CSUN’s Commitment to You:
CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: http://www.csun.edu

About the College:
For information about the College, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences

About the Department:
For information about the department, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:
Instructors for in-person Washington, D.C.-based classes in support of the CSUN in DC Internship Program. Specific classes are listed below. Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Current Salary Range:
Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)
Paid in 6 monthly installments

Courses or Specialization:
Upper division courses in:
1. POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
2. POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
3. POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
4. POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Qualifications:
Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy or must have at least 10 years of professional experience working in government, politics, non-profit management, or advocacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in their field.
University teaching experience is strongly preferred.
A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Application Process:
Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 - 2022: March 26, 2021

(Checklist)PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:
__POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
__POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
__POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
__POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 – 2022: March 26, 2021

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:

Dr. Tom Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street
Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

General Information:
In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8515

Technische Universität München - TUM School of Governance

Rank: Professor in »Political Philosophy and Theory« / Professor in »Political Psychology«

The Technical University of Munich (TUM) invites applications for the positions of Professor in »Political Philosophy and Theory« We seek to appoint a scholar with an innovative and internationally recognized research agenda in political philosophy and theory. The position is open to candidates with substantive focus within the broad field of political theory/philosophy, but we are especially interested in scholars with a background in philosophy and technology and/or ethical aspects of the development of new technologies. We expect the successful candidate to integrate technological aspects into his/her teaching and research activities.

Both appointments may be made at the W2 tenure track Assistant Professor level (with the possibility for promotion to a tenured W3 Associate position) or the tenured W3 Associate Professor level.

Scientific environment

The professorships belong to the Hochschule für Politik München (HfP) and its corresponding department, the TUM School of Governance (GOV). HfP promotes the open dialogue between policy makers, society, industry and engineering. The TUM School of Governance focuses, in particular, on the interaction between politics and policy, society, economic actors and interests, and technology. The Technical University of Munich, one of Germany’s leading research universities, provides a wealth of opportunities for interdisciplinary teaching and research collaborations, especially with colleagues across the natural sciences and engineering.

Responsibilities

Responsibilities of the positions include research and teaching, as well as the supervision and mentorship of doctoral candidates and promotion of early-career post-doctoral scientists, and participation in departmental and university governance. Inter- or transdisciplinary approaches are considered an asset.

Qualifications

We are looking for candidates who have demonstrated excellent achievements in research and teaching in an internationally recognized scientific environment, relative to the relevant career level (please see www.tum.de/en/faculty-recruiting-faq/ for further information).

A university degree and an outstanding doctoral degree or equivalent scientific qualification, as well as pedagogical aptitude, are prerequisites. Substantial research experience abroad is expected.

Our Offer

Based on best international standards and transparent performance criteria, TUM offers a merit-based academic career option for tenure track faculty from Assistant Professor through a permanent position as Associate Professor, and on to Full Professor. The regulations of TUM Faculty Recruitment and Career System apply.

TUM provides excellent working conditions in a lively scientific community, embedded in the vibrant research environment of the Greater Munich Area. The TUM environment is multicultural, with English serving as a common interface for scientific interaction. The TUM Munich Dual Career Office (MDCO) provides tailored career consulting to the partners of newly appointed professors. MDCO gives assistance for relocation and integration of new professors, their partners and accompanying family members.

Your Application

TUM is an equal opportunity employer and committed to diversity at all ranks. We therefore especially encourage applications from women, people with disabilities, and members of other groups traditionally underrepresented in the academy. The position is suitable for disabled persons. Disabled candidates with essentially the same qualifications and scientific performance as other candidates will be given preference.
Application documents should be submitted in accordance with TUM’s application guidelines for professors. These guidelines and detailed information about the TUM Faculty Recruitment and Career System are available at www.tum.de/faculty-recruiting, where applicants will also find additional information about the collection, processing, and protection of personal data that they provide as part of the application process.

Please send your application by e-mail no later than 31.01.2021 to the Dean of the TUM School of Governance, Prof. Eugénia da Conceição-Heldt, Richard-Wagner-Straße 1, D-80333 München, Email: dekanat@gov.tum.de

Start Date: Application Deadline: 1/31/2021
Date Posted: 1/20/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8506

University of Oklahoma
Rank: Assistant Professor - Ancient Political Philosophy

Ancient Political Philosophy

University of Oklahoma Norman Campus: College of Arts and Sciences: Classics and Letters

Location
Norman, OK

Open Date
Jan 10, 2021

Description
The Department of Classics and Letters at the University of Oklahoma is seeking to hire a faculty member of exceptional ability with a specialization in Greek and/or Roman Political Philosophy. Subfields of interest include but are not limited to: the political thought of individual philosophers or schools; education, citizenship, and virtue; freedom, justice, and punishment; comparative forms of government or empire; the history of democracy; or the classical tradition in American political history. We seek a tenure-track Assistant Professor who can be a key bridge-builder, through both research and teaching, between ancient political philosophy and modern constitutional thought and history. The first department founded at the University, OU Classics and Letters now houses the Institute for American Constitutional Heritage, a nationally recognized, independent center for the study of American constitutionalism, with which the successful candidate will work closely (https://www.ou.edu/iach). This position is, therefore, a link between academic pillars within Classics and Letters and represents an exciting opportunity to foster a creative and interdisciplinary program. In addition, the successful candidate will benefit from dynamic interactions outside the department, including with the Department of Philosophy, its successful graduate program, and the Institute for the Study of Human Flourishing (https://www.ou.edu/flourish), an award-winning center that seeks to revitalize and renew the study and cultivation of virtue in higher education. The assigned teaching load will be two courses per semester.

Qualifications
The successful candidate will have a Ph.D. in Classics, Philosophy, or closely related discipline. Evidence of an exceptional research agenda and successful teaching are prerequisites.

Application Instructions
Interested applicants should initially submit a cover letter, a current C.V., a writing sample (chapter or article), a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, and three letters of recommendation to http://apply.interfolio.com/82055.

Review of applications will begin on March 1, 2021. The search will remain open until filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, housing, services in educational programs or activities, or health care services that the University operates or provides.

Start Date: Application Deadline: 1/31/2021
Date Posted: 1/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8508

Summit Search Solutions, Inc.
Rank: Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs

Portland State University seeks a Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs

Click here to view position profile: https://summitsearchsolutions.com/wp-content/uploads/2021/01/PSU_Dean_CUPA_Profile.pdf

Location: Portland, Oregon

The Position:
The successful candidate will be a nationally recognized, inclusive, and entrepreneurial leader able to infuse the Portland State University College of Urban and Public Affairs with a sense of common purpose and to create a record of accomplishment that advances the mission of the University.

Requirements include a record of distinguished research, teaching, and/or public service; administrative experience; proven success in external fund development; and credentials that merit appointment at the rank of full professor in the College. Experience in addressing the social issues of the widest variety of communities will be highly valued. The dean will make critical contributions to the continued development of a distinguished institution. This position requires vision, skill, experience, and creative leadership to help shape the future of the College and the University as a whole.

The dean will report to Provost & Vice President for Academic Affairs, Dr. Susan Jeffords. The dean will lead a college with 1,500 undergraduate majors and 300 graduate students, 70+ plus tenured and tenure track faculty, and 40+ staff. The total budget is $21M. Twenty-seven grants and contracts generated $4.8M in FY19 research expenditures.

Responsibilities:
Academic Leadership
The dean is the chief executive and academic officer for the College and is expected to:
• Engage with a multidisciplinary faculty whose research interests and practice expertise span a wide range of policy and practice areas, with undergraduate and graduate students, and with constituencies within the academy and in the public sphere.
• Set the standard for intellectual engagement and accomplishment by providing strategic vision for, and operational leadership of, the College as a whole.
• Serve as a catalyst to link the work of CUPA faculty, centers/ institutes, and students to other disciplines, and to external public and private communities.
• Evaluate and help shape departmental/school productivity in instruction, research, and service responsibilities.
• Review departmental/school policies, procedures, and recommendations for appointment, salary, retention, tenure, promotion of faculty, and post-tenure review to ensure that appropriate policies are followed.
• Provide recommendations to the provost regarding tenure and promotion reviews, hiring, appointments, and sabbaticals.
• Assess, monitor, and guide overall CUPA priorities and productivity in instruction, research, and service.
• Lead CUPA strategic planning and oversee curriculum development.
• Ensure completion of assessment for all majors and oversee program-level and institution-level accreditation processes.

Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion Leadership in Accordance with University Values
• Provide leadership around faculty development and professional growth in the area of diversity, equity, and inclusion in teaching, research, and community engagement.
• Support the enhancement of diversity within the College and across the campus and foster an environment where College faculty, staff, and students feel engaged, included, and equipped for success.

Representation and Promotion of the College Both Internally and Externally
• Maintain open, positive channels of communication with all College and University stakeholders.
• Serve as CUPA’s public voice, promoting initiatives within Portland State University, and articulating the College’s contributions in local, state, regional, and national arenas.
• Maintain knowledge of the capabilities, strengths, and portfolios of the CUPA centers and institutes, and seek to promote them within and outside the University.
• Serve as a member of and actively collaborate with other deans on the academic leadership team, to provide university-wide leadership to shape a successful future for PSU as a whole.
• Build positive relationships with external groups and stakeholders in support of the mission of PSU as an engaged institution, and to foster research and service opportunities for faculty and students.

Financial Management, Leadership, and Fundraising
• Provide oversight and management of the fiscal affairs of the College.
• Ensure the efficient use and strategic investment of College resources.
• Lead the establishment of a vision for long term financial health, and the development of long-term and short-term goals to move the College toward this goal.
• Develop, lead, and encourage fundraising, in collaboration with the PSU Foundation, to support the College’s goals and the goals of its departments, programs, and students, as well as outreach and public service efforts.
• Provide high-level oversight of the finances of the CUPA centers and institutes and support the development of strategic initiatives within the centers and institutes to grow revenue.

Administrative Leadership, Oversight, and Personnel Supervision
• Supervise and evaluate College administrative staff, department chairs, school directors, and directors of the Institute on Aging and Population Research Center.
• Lead the processes of College administrator hiring/selection and oversee the processes of faculty and staff hiring/selection and retention.

Cultural Competence
• Create an environment that acknowledges, encourages, and celebrates differences.
• Function and communicate effectively and respectfully within the context of varying beliefs, behaviors, orientations, identities, and cultural backgrounds.
• Seek opportunities to gain experience working and collaborating in diverse, multicultural, and inclusive settings with a willingness to change for continual improvement.
• Adhere to all PSU policies including the policies on Prohibited Discrimination & Harassment and the Professional Standards of Conduct, which can be found at: https://www.pdx.edu/human-resources/professional-standards-conduct-policy.

Qualifications:
The successful candidate will have an earned doctorate or equivalent executive experience in an area related to one of the College’s disciplines, and a record of recognized research, scholarship, and teaching accomplishments sufficient to merit appointment as a full professor. The next dean should possess the following qualifications and talents:
• Track record of providing civic leadership and successfully working with professionals in academic, community, and governmental organizations.
• Demonstrated experience of effectively engaging in and partnering with diverse communities and constituents.
• Experience in working to enhance diversity in academic, workplace, or community settings.
• Demonstrated success in securing external support and/or fundraising with a commitment to broadening financial support.
• Demonstrated ability to grow research programs that address important societal issues and that contribute to the economic vitality of the region and the state.
• The ability to represent CUPA effectively to audiences within Portland State University, in the city and region, nationally, and internationally.
• Experience in managing complex budgets in environments with limited resources, allocating resources, and empowering entrepreneurialism with a high level of transparency and fairness.
• A record as an innovative and creative thinker with the ability to make clear and informed decisions.
• Experience in enhancing the efficiency and effectiveness of an organization.
• An understanding of leading-edge methods and technologies to support a large public college.

The ideal candidate will display a commitment to:
• Collegial and consultative management style with the ability to listen as well as discern.
• Interdisciplinary education, research, and service.
• Being a decisive leader within a rapidly changing environment.
• Professional and community-based, education, and scholarship.
• Shared governance and openness to collaborative relationships with campus unions.
• Creating and nurturing a distinguished faculty.
• Intellectually and culturally diverse academic environments.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
• Enhancing the College’s role in addressing the critical policy and social issues of the time.
• Being a progressive and creative thinker who is not afraid to try new ideas and take calculated risks, with evidence of engaging others to do so and bringing others along as ideas develop.
• Working collaboratively with people at all levels and from different cultural backgrounds and orientations.

About the Institution:
Portland State University (PSU) is Oregon’s largest urban university, located in Portland, Oregon. PSU enrolls over 26,000 students and offers programs for bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral degrees. PSU is an internationally recognized university known for excellence in student learning, innovative research, and community engagement. PSU contributes to the economic vitality, environmental sustainability, and quality of life in the Portland region and beyond. Portland State’s 50-acre downtown campus is located in the heart of the city: a hub of culture, business, and technology, and just 90 minutes from mountains and the Oregon Coast.

Employees describe Portland State University as a vibrant, diverse, progressive place to work and an environment that welcomes process improvement and innovation. PSU is proud of the work done to be a welcoming, inclusive, safe, and nurturing environment for diverse faculty, staff, and students. Former Dean of the College of Urban and Public Affairs and current University President Steven Percy shares, “Promoting equity and justice at PSU is the most important work of my presidency. It will allow PSU to live up to our mission and our aspirations. This work is complex and layered, requiring care, thought and time. I will continue to listen, learn and build my capacity to lead this work.” Read more about the university’s work on creating a more racially just and equitable place for all.

See www.pdx.edu for additional information about the institution.

About the College of Urban and Public Affairs:
Established in 1959, PSU’s College of Urban & Public Affairs (CUPA) is a powerhouse partner for the region. CUPA’s renowned programs, centers and institutes prepare students to be effective collaborators and problem solvers while fostering equity in urban life. Its faculty and graduates are invaluable contributors to the public policy innovation and smart development for which Portland is well known. Students and faculty engage directly with area non-profits, governmental agencies and private sector firms, gaining real-world understanding of the complexity and challenges of creating socially just and sustainable metropolitan regions. Because of this deep engagement, CUPA stands as PSU’s flagship college, the epitome of its identity as an urban serving university where knowledge serves the city.

PROGRAMS WITH A PURPOSE
CUPA is where a commitment to public service and a pragmatic approach to career advancement intersect. The academic programs prepare students to flex boundaries and conceive new and practical approaches to stubborn problems. Students draw upon areas of expertise that, up to now, were compartmentalized. To succeed they have to be risk-takers, bridge-builders, and out-of-box thinkers. That’s why students are encouraged to design fresh interdisciplinary solutions and work with faculty and community partners to test them in the field, both domestically and globally. PSU has been listed in the Top 15 for its Master of Urban + Regional Planning program by Planetizen, and its Hatfield School of Government has been ranked in the Top 50 of Public Affairs schools; its Local Government Management program has been ranked #17 by U.S. News and World Report.

CUPA houses the innovative new master’s degree in Emergency Management and Community Resilience. This multi-disciplinary, multi-college program is the first of its kind in the West Coast and particularly distinguished by its emphasis on community resilience. Its impending launch in Fall 2021 has energized a broad swath of faculty and students, both within CUPA and across the University. A signature feature is engagement with an array of practitioners and community partners in building emergency management capacity and fostering community resilience in the face of a range of disasters, in the local, regional and international contexts.

CUPA CENTERS AND INSTITUTES
CUPA’s 16 Centers and Institutes effectively serve as the bridge between the College and the community. They provide ways for the faculty and student scholars to share research that benefits others and improves the livability of the region.

CUPA centers and institutes complement the academic programs and promote applied research and scholarship, community engagement, and public service. The centers and institutes are also strengthened by collaborations across disciplines and partnerships with other university departments. They provide vital services to community partners—from generating a report for a local nonprofit to forecasting population changes for local governments across the state. Focusing on applied research and service to the community, the work they perform reflects Portland State’s motto, &quot;Let Knowledge Serve the City.&quot;

To Apply:
Confidential review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Applications can be submitted immediately and will be reviewed as they come in. Those received by February 28, 2021 will be given first consideration.

To apply, go to: https://theapplicantmanager.com/jobs?pos=su224. Please submit your CV and a letter of interest that demonstrates your interest, expertise, and skills concerning the responsibilities of the Dean.

For more information or to offer recommendations or nominations:
Stephanie Fowler
Senior Consultant
Summit Search Solutions, Inc.
(530) 677-9945
sfowler@summitsearchsolutions.com

Arasi Adkins
Senior Consultant
Summit Search Solutions, Inc.
(336) 693-7612
aadkins@summitsearchsolutions.com

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 2/28/2021
Date Posted: 1/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8502

The Library of Congress
Rank: Deputy Assistant Director and Specialist (Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division)

Interested applicants must apply online at USAJOB https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/588450100

Deputy Assistant Director and Specialist (Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division)

$132,552.00 to $199,300.00 / Per Year
The Congressional Research Service (CRS) seeks a senior manager to serve as the Deputy Assistant Director for its Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division.

PLEASE NOTE: CRS is also seeking an Assistant Director to lead its Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division (VAR001410). Applicants are invited to apply for either or both vacancies. A SEPARATE APPLICATION IS REQUIRED FOR EACH.

DUTIES:
The Congressional Research Service (CRS) works exclusively for the United States Congress, providing objective, nonpartisan research and analysis to committees and Members of the House and Senate.

The CRS Foreign Affairs, Defense and Trade Division (FDT) seeks a senior manager to serve as Deputy Assistant Director and Specialist. The selectee will support the Assistant Director in managing FDT, which provides expert research to meet ongoing congressional policy making and oversight needs on critical issues such as U.S. foreign policy, institutions, and budgets; regional and transnational affairs; foreign assistance and international development; national security strategies, policies, and budgets; military operations, personnel, logistics, acquisition and related issues; international trade and finance; and foreign policy legislation.

The Deputy Assistant Director counsels the Assistant Director on all aspects of the administration and operations of the division; monitors research, administration and operations of the division in relation to its capacity for and actual experience in meeting needs of the Congress; ensures that the division is working toward identifying policy problems facing the Congress and follows through with analysis that provides an objective, authoritative framework in which the Congress can assess the consequences of legislative/policy options; demonstrates intellectual leadership in monitoring congressional needs in policy areas within the research management responsibility of the division; collaborates with other senior research division managers to assure full identification of significant issues and develops analytical approaches; and serves with full delegated authority as the Assistant Director in his/her absence. The Deputy Assistant Director performs special research, consultative, or administrative assignments as requested by the CRS Director or the Assistant Director.

Major duties of this position include:

- Demonstrates intellectual leadership in the formulating, framing, conducting and communicating of research policy and analysis conducted in the division, in terms of subject matter expertise, methodology and relevance to congressional needs. Reviews the written products of staff to ensure that the Service’s quality standards are met.

- In collaboration with other senior managers, ensures coverage of all issues identified throughout the Service. Oversees implementation of the research agenda, including approaches, frameworks, or methodologies. Monitors, updates, and adjusts the research agenda to meet the changing needs of Congress, reassesses/reallocates capacity and communicates adjustments to supervisors and staff. Coordinates research activities with managers in other divisions to promote research and analysis across the Service.

- Performs the human resource management functions relative to the staff supervised. Ensures that supervisors and staff conduct research and analytical activities in a collaborative manner that incorporates expertise from multiple disciplines available from both inside and outside the division. Establishes and clearly communicates performance expectations for staff members in support of agency goals. Provides informal feedback and periodically formally evaluates staff on performance measures and results.

- Establishes and maintains effective working relationships with various high-level individuals, including committees and officers of the United States Congress, other legislative agencies and the Library of Congress, executive branch departments and agencies, professional organizations, universities, and other research organizations in order to advance the programs and objectives of the Congressional Research Service.

- The Deputy Assistant Director leads staff toward meeting the Library’s vision, mission, and goals by acting decisively, leveraging diversity and inclusiveness, demonstrating flexibility and resilience, fostering continuous improvement and innovation, fostering integrity and honesty, communicating effectively, and managing conflict and crisis. Exhibits commitment to the Library’s Supervisory Core Competencies.

Qualifications

The competencies below are required for this position. Those marked with a double asterisk () are considered the most critical competencies for this position.

A candidate’s resume must show a proven record of accomplishment that clearly demonstrates he or she has:

- Multidisciplinary knowledge of foreign affairs, defense, and trade.
- Multidisciplinary knowledge of the theories, laws and regulations, concepts, processes, methodologies, principles, and/or practices related foreign affairs, defense, and trade issues areas that emerge from the legislative and oversight work of the Congress. This includes knowledge of the history, trends, interrelationships, and current status of foreign affairs, defense, and trade issue areas.

- Ability to manage and execute public policy research and analysis.
- The ability to manage, organize, and evaluate the analysis of public policy issues by applying broad knowledge of foreign affairs, defense, and trade. This includes ensuring public policy problems are appropriately conceptualized and defined; appropriate research approaches and frameworks, analytical methodologies, and techniques are utilized; information and research are fully analyzed and synthesized; the implications of data and research findings are identified and appropriate conclusions are drawn; alternatives are generated and assessed; and the consequences of choosing each alternative are evaluated. This also includes understanding the big picture, the inter-relationships of all aspects of the public policy issue, and the appropriate array and design of products and services to meet client needs.

- Ability to lead people and manage a workforce.
- Manages and promotes a diverse and inclusive workforce that fosters the development of others, facilitates cooperation and teamwork, and supports constructive resolution of conflicts. Conducts workforce-planning activities by identifying staffing needs and recruiting, hiring, training, supervising, and mentoring highly qualified, staff to meet those needs. Ensures tasks are appropriately delegated and completed by monitoring and evaluating performance against a predetermined deadline and/or measure of quality.

- Ability to exercise judgment and discretion.
- Demonstrates awareness of the likely consequences or implications of one’s own actions and work within the context of agency/organizational/departmental standards. Acts appropriately in a given situation (e.g., with colleagues, clients, media/press), using discretion, and being committed to confidentiality.

Ability to communicate in writing and assess the quality of products and services. The ability to write, review, and oversee the production of a variety of clear, cogent, accurate, and well-organized products. This includes evaluating the content, organization, and relevance of a range of products and services to meet the quality standards of a public policy organization. Ensures that products and services are substantively correct, and meet CRS’s core values of objectivity, non-partisanship, authoritativeness, and timeliness. Makes suggestions for improvement.

Ability to think strategically and implement change. The ability to implement a strategic vision and direction for an organization or group and effect change. This includes evaluating interdependencies and interrelationships among functions and resources and outcomes and ensuring performance targets are met. This also includes championing ideas that promote the mission with enthusiasm, conviction, and assertiveness; gaining support and commitment from others; and motivating and inspiring others.

Ability to communicate effectively other than in writing. Ability to effectively express ideas and recommendations other than in writing in various settings to peers, staff, managers, supervisors, and external audiences to both provide and seek information. This includes actively listening to or understanding communicated information and answering questions thoughtfully and completely.

Continue with the application process only if you are able to document on your resume that you meet all the critical competency requirements at the levels described below.

1. Multidisciplinary knowledge of foreign affairs, defense, and trade: I am recognized by decision-makers as a professional resource in areas relevant to foreign affairs, defense and trade issues.
2. Ability to manage and execute public policy research and analysis: As a major job responsibility, I have managed research and policy analysis relevant to foreign affairs, defense and/or trade.
3. Ability to lead people and manage a workforce: I have managed the performance of a diverse and inclusive workforce.
4. Ability to exercise judgement and discretion: In execution of work duties, I was routinely relied upon to exercise judgment and discretion.
5. Ability to communicate in writing and assess the quality of products and services: I have written a variety of clear, cogent and well-organized products, and have evaluated and critically reviewed a range of products and services to ensure quality standards are met.

Interested applicants must apply online at USAJOB https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/588450100

Start Date: Spring 2021
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: $130,000 - $139,999
eJobs ID: 8474

University of Virginia
Rank: Tenure track or tenured Assistant or Associate Professor

Tenure track or tenured Assistant or Associate Professor, Department of Women, Gender and Sexuality, University of Virginia

The College and Graduate School of Arts and Sciences at the University of Virginia is launching a new faculty hiring initiative devoted to Race, Justice and Equity, building on a broad range of recent commitments, including an Andrew W. Mellon Foundation funded project to hire 10 Tenure/Tenure Track faculty working on the Global South; an expansion and University endowment commitment to the Carter Woodson Institute and Department of African and African-American Studies; the establishment of the Dean’s Doctoral Fellowships to enhance our recruitment of underrepresented graduate students; and a parallel new project in collaboration with the Mellon Foundation to appoint 30 Race, Justice, and Equity Postdoctoral and Arts fellows across the University (20 in Arts & Sciences).

These commitments further our mission as a public university, dedicated to the promise of democratic life, and consistently engaged with the unfinished struggles for democracy, freedom, and justice with which our national and institutional histories are so deeply entangled. The present historical moment—and the deep histories that have produced it—call us to engage with renewed urgency the particular histories of inequality affecting Black communities in the United States and across the globe. Our hiring, research, teaching, and institutional practices and commitments must respond to that call.

As part of this newest initiative, UVA Arts & Sciences is launching a cluster of 10 new tenured/tenure track searches for faculty members working in Black studies in national and global contexts, with intersecting fields of interest across disciplinary domains. Appointments will span multiple fields: Music and Sound Studies, Black Political Thought and Philosophy; Sociology of Race; Black Feminist Theory; Studio and Digital Art; Race, Media and Technology; Black Diaspora and Latinx studies; Environmental Justice; Race and Health, Black Youth studies. We will launch five of these searches immediately and the next five in the Fall of 2021.

These new faculty members will join a community of colleagues at UVA already working in and across disciplines on the social, cultural, political, historical, and environmental questions that are central to African, African-American, and Diaspora communities across the US and around the world. The University of Virginia’s location and history necessitates that we sustain and expand research and teaching in these areas.

The Department of Women, Gender and Sexuality at the University of Virginia’s invites applications for a tenure track or tenured appointment as Assistant or Associate Professor in the area of Black feminist theory and/or Black queer studies. Research centering global and transnational approaches to understanding Black gender and/or sexual inequality is preferred. In addition to pursuing an outstanding research program, the successful candidate will be expected to provide effective instruction and advising to a diverse population of graduate and undergraduate students. The department is especially committed to interdisciplinary research and teaching. Our faculty work with colleagues across various disciplines, subfields, and methodological backgrounds in the College of Arts & Sciences.

Applicants must be on track to receive a PhD in a relevant field in the Arts, Humanities, or Social Sciences by May 2021 and must hold a PhD at the time of appointment.
TO APPLY:

Please note ALL REQUESTED documents MUST be uploaded in the cv/resume box and you can combine documents into one PDF.

Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.

Apply online at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs: search for posting # R0020702, complete the application, and attach the following:

- A cover letter of interest that describes your research agenda as well as a statement describing how your courses, research, and/or service have helped, or will help, students to develop intercultural competencies and advance excellence through diversity, equity, and inclusion within academic institutions, the field of gender and sexuality studies, or broader community engagements.
- A statement of teaching philosophy
- A C.V.
- Three letters of recommendation that the candidate must request be sent to wgsatwva@gmail.com.

We will begin to review applications on January 18, 2021, the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall term of 2021, with an anticipated start date of August 25, 2021.

For questions about the application process, please contact wgsatwva@virginia.edu, 434-982-2961. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7fr@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit https://dualcareer.virginia.edu. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville and https://embarkcva.com/.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System which represents the UVA Medical Center, Schools of Medicine and Nursing, UVA Physician’s Group and the Claude Moore Health Sciences Library, are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person’s perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8490

Wesleyan University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a one year (2021-22) visiting position in international politics. Applicants should be prepared to teach an introductory course in International Politics and advanced courses in any area of international politics. The teaching load is 3:2; we expect that classes next year will be in person. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Government or related field in hand by the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but will complete the Ph.D. in Government or related field within one year of hire.

To apply, please go to http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/7573. At this site you will be asked to upload electronic versions of the items we require, which are (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) an article-length writing sample (e.g., the first chapter of your dissertation), (5) a statement about your teaching philosophy and methods, (6) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (individual student evaluations are not necessary), and (7) sample syllabi if available. In the cover letter, applicants should describe how they will embrace the college’s commitment to fostering an inclusive community, as well as their experience working with individuals from historically marginalized or under served groups.

You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation (with their most recent email addresses).

Applications received by February 12, 2021 will receive full consideration. Please contact Ms. Jeanne McNeff (jmcneff@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department administrative assistant, if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: 2/12/2021
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8489

Lehigh University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The faculty members in the Department of Political Science at Lehigh University are seeking applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in August 2021. The successful candidate will possess a doctoral degree in Political science with a specialization in constitutional and public law. The teaching load for this position is two four-credit courses per semester. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required by the date of hire. The successful candidate will work closely with the pre-law advisor in the Career Services office. In addition, the individual hired will play an instrumental role in the department’s annual Tresolini Lecture in Law series (more details are available at https://polisci.cas.lehigh.edu/content/tresolini-lectures).

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, and teaching statement via Academic Jobs Online (https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17841). Applicants are required to describe how they will contribute to a diverse and equitable community in their letters of interest. Applicants should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via (https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17841).

Serving approximately 85 undergraduate majors and 15 graduate students, the Department of Political Science offers a B.A. and M.A. degree as well as a Master of Public Policy. Interested applicants are invited to visit the Political Science Department website: https://polisci.cas.lehigh.edu/

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation’s highly ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for nearly 7,000 students. Lehigh University has some 5,000 undergraduates, 2,000 graduate students, and about 550 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA., a vibrant and historic area. Over 820,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia. Lehigh University ranks in the top 50 among national universities in U.S. News & World Report ratings and is in the most competitive category in both Peterson's Guide and Barron’s Profiles of American Colleges. The university is located on a scenic, 1,600-acre campus in historic Bethlehem in a region of eastern Pennsylvania (USA) known as the Lehigh Valley. About 90 minutes from New York and Philadelphia, the Lehigh Valley is an attractive place to live and work with reasonable cost of living, easy commuting, good schools, and abundant cultural activities.

The colleagues and staff in the College of Arts and Sciences at Lehigh University are committed to increasing the diversity of the college community and curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths or experiences in this area. Lehigh University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Applications from women and minorities are encouraged. Lehigh offers excellent benefits including domestic partner benefits. Please see Lehigh Work/Life Balance for Faculty: https://www.lehigh.edu/~inprov/faculty/worklifebalance.html.

Review of applications will begin on February 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position should be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Terry-Ann Jones, at t cj320@lehigh.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8460

Syracuse University
Rank: Associate/Full Professor - Journalism, Trust & Democracy

Syracuse University’s S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications invites applications for a full-time tenured position at the Associate or Full Professor rank to begin Fall 2021.

The School is seeking applicants in the area of Journalism, Trust & Democracy. This recruitment is part of an ambitious Invest Syracuse Cluster Hire Initiative in the broad area of Citizenship and Democratic Institutions. As an integral part of this investment, Syracuse University will recruit multiple candidates for faculty positions across departments for this cluster. Faculty hired into these positions will build on our existing strengths in the focus area and will participate in an organized research cluster that spans multiple departments in the Newhouse School, the Maxwell School of Citizenship & Public Affairs, the Law School, and across Syracuse University.

The School seeks a multidisciplinary scholar who has a significant, established track record of published research in the area of journalism and democracy, particularly one that complements the Newhouse School’s existing strengths, and who will be a positive addition to the cluster described above. Political, cultural and economic forces have undermined public trust in journalism, an institution that plays a pivotal role in democracy, and this is particularly true in the digital media environment. We seek a colleague who can lead multidisciplinary research efforts to analyze the forces that damage trust and to strengthen the ability of journalists and others to rebuild credibility. A wide range of theoretical and methodological approaches will be considered, from a range of disciplines including political science, psychology, sociology, computer science, and history in addition to mass communication. The ability to secure grant funding is essential.

The successful candidate will teach graduate and/or undergraduate courses in their areas of expertise, and will have a teaching load appropriate for a productive scholar. S/he will have a track record of collegial collaboration and be expected to advise doctoral dissertations and master’s theses. A Ph.D. is strongly preferred.

Widely regarded as the nation’s leading school of communications, the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications at Syracuse University is home to approximately 2,000 undergraduates, 180 residential master’s degree students, 200 online master’s degree students and 15 doctoral degree students. They are among the best in the country, having secured a place in the class through a highly competitive admissions process. The typical admitted first-year student has a 3.8 GPA.

The school’s 250,000-square-foot, three-building complex is a leading-edge learning environment where students are exposed to the tools and technologies used by professionals in the field. Features include Dick Clark Studios, a high-tech entertainment production facility that rivals many Hollywood studios; the Diane and Bob Miron Digital News Center, complete with a contemporary news set, a green screen, state-of-the-art lighting systems and cameras; the Alan Gerry Center for Media Innovation, a creative hub where Newhouse expertise in content development and production meets the latest media technology and programming trends; the Emerging Insights Lab, a state-of-the-art social media command center; and the Collaborative Media Room, home to the student-produced multimedia news site, The NewsHouse.

In January 2020, the S.I. Newhouse Foundation announced a $75 million gift to the Newhouse School, the largest donation to Syracuse University in its 150-year history and one of the largest ever to any communications school.

To learn more about the Newhouse School, visit https://newhouse.syr.edu.

Syracuse University offers a quintessential college experience. Syracuse University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to equality of opportunity and a diverse work force.

For full description and online application instructions, go to https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/85560

Cover letter, resume or vitae and names, addresses, and information for four references must be attached online. Review of applications will begin on February 15th, and the committee expects to complete the process by April 15th, 2021. However, the department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.
For more information, contact Bradley Gorham, Search Chair, Communications, S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications, Syracuse University. Email: bgorham@syr.edu.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8458

---

San Diego State University

Rank: Public Law and Race in America

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Judicial Politics, American Politics

The Political Science Department at San Diego State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law and Race in America at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin Fall 2021. Applicants should demonstrate a well-developed research agenda, a promise of sustained scholarship and a record of effective teaching.

The department seeks a scholar who does research on the evolving role of law in both shaping and challenging racist structures and attitudes toward racial minorities, especially African Americans. The scholar should demonstrate a capacity to engage underlying normative issues and debates on such themes. Within the framework of law and race in America, topics of interest may include but are not limited to protest movements, economic justice, gender and sexuality, legal mobilization, the U.S. Constitution, and comparative analyses. The department is open to a diversity of scholarly approaches, including but not limited to Critical Race Theory and Law and Society. The successful candidate will be able to teach a range of courses in public law as well as courses on the intersection of politics and race.

The Political Science Department at San Diego State is dedicated to the ideal of the engaged teacher-scholar. It has over five hundred undergraduate majors and provides course offerings for students with a wide variety of backgrounds and interests. At the graduate level, the department maintains an M.A. program of high quality. The members of the faculty share a strong commitment to collegiality, active participation in the governing of the department, innovative scholarship, methodological pluralism, rigorous teaching, and robust intellectual and normative engagement. Candidates are encouraged to consult the department website: http://politicalscience.sdsu.edu/

San Diego State University is the largest university in San Diego and the third largest in California. The highly diverse campus community has a student population of over 36,000 and approximately 5,849 faculty and staff. SDSU is included in the Carnegie Foundation’s Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity category. Established in 1897, SDSU offers bachelor degrees in 84 areas, masters in 76 and doctorates in 21. See http://www.sdsu.edu for more information. SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.

Consistent with SDSU’s mission, we seek applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups. This search is part of an SDSU cluster initiative to hire “faculty who have a demonstrated history of working with and supporting the African-American community.” For more information, see https://sacd.sdsu.edu/diversity-initiatives/aa-cluster-hires. Candidates must satisfy three or more of the eight Building on Inclusive Excellence (BIE) criteria, adjusted according to the cluster initiative of this hire: (a) committed to engaging in service with African American populations; (b) demonstrated knowledge of barriers for African American students and faculty; (c) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (d) experience or has demonstrated commitment to integrating understanding of African American populations and communities into research; (e) experience in or has demonstrated commitment to extending knowledge of opportunities and challenges in achieving artistic/scholarly success to African Americans; (f) experience in or has demonstrated commitment to research that engages African American communities; (g) interest in developing expertise in cross-cultural communication and collaboration; (h) research interests that contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Indicate in your cover letter how you meet at least three of these criteria.

Applicants must apply via Interfolio at https://apply.interfolio.com/82445. A completed file includes a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, complete teaching evaluations (quantitative evaluations and complete sets of qualitative evaluations of recent courses), sample syllabi, academic writing samples and three letters of recommendation. To ensure full consideration, submit all materials by February 15, 2021. Screening of applications will begin then. Applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. by the start of the term of appointment will be given priority. Those without a Ph.D. in-hand should include in their letter of interest a statement of progress on the dissertation and reasons to expect completion in a timely fashion.

The person holding this position is considered a “mandated reporter” under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment. A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position. SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

Further inquiries should be addressed to:
Farid Abdel-Nour, Chair of the Department, at abdelnou@sdsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8457
University of Oslo

Rank: Associate Professors in Political Science

Job description:

Two Associate Professor positions in Political Science are available in the Department of Political Science, University of Oslo.

This is a permanent position and we expect that the successful candidate will contribute to the long-term academic development and research culture of the department.

Associate professors divide their time equally between research and teaching. The successful candidates will offer undergraduate and postgraduate courses in Political Science. They will also contribute to the teaching of research methods at all levels. It is essential that applicants can demonstrate a strong record of teaching commensurable with their experience.

The persons appointed will also carry out administrative tasks in accordance with university regulations.

Female candidates are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualification requirements:

Applicants must document research excellence, including a PhD in relevant field and a record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers. When evaluating research excellence, recent publications, as well as a clear and viable strategy for future top-quality research, will be given greatest weight.

Prior experience leading research projects, as well as a track record of national and international collaborations, will be taken into account.

Personal suitability for the position also will be assessed.

We offer:

Salary from kr 643 000 to kr. 768 500 depending on qualifications, in the position of Associate Professor (position code 1011)

Budget for travel and research assistance (currently NOK 45 000 per year). Staff can apply for additional research support form the department and faculty.

An academically stimulating and international working environment

A friendly and inclusive workplace

An excellent pension schemes through the Norwegian Public Service Fund

A good work-life balance and access to Norway’s excellent public services and welfare schemes, including generous parental leave provisions and affordable and accessible childcare

Female academic staff can take part in the Career development scheme for female associate professors (https://www.uio.no/english/employees/competence/gender-equality/career-female-associate-professors/index.html)

How to apply:

The application must include:

Cover letter (statement of motivation and a summary of scientific work and research interests; max. 2 pages).

CV (complete list of education, positions, teaching experience, administrative experience, project acquisition and coordination experience, and other qualifying activities)

Complete list of publications

A teaching portfolio, preferably including information from student evaluations

List of reference persons: 2 or 3 references (name, relationship to candidate, e-mail, and phone number)

Applicants should use the cover letter to account for how their work relates to the Department’s research and teaching profile and how they plan to contribute to the Department’s long-term academic development.

All documents must be in English or a Scandinavian language.

Publications should not be submitted with the application; the most promising candidates will be invited to submit their publications, as well as their educational certificates and diplomas, later in the process.

About the process:

The application deadline is March 1 2021. Applications will be initially evaluated by a committee with the aim of providing the appointed assessors with a short report that identifies the most promising candidates that should proceed in the selection process.

In April 2021, the most promising applicants will be invited to submit a comprehensive application including a sample of academic publications.

It is anticipated that the top-ranked candidates will be invited to an interview and asked to give a trial lecture in August/September 2021. References will also be contacted at this stage. The report from the evaluation committee, including the evaluation of the top candidates, will be made available to all applicants. The hiring process is expected to be completed by October 2021.

Formal regulations:

Candidates who cannot document basic teaching qualifications at the time of appointment will be required to obtain such qualifications within a two-year period.

Scandinavian languages and English are the working languages at the department. If an appointee is not fluent in a Scandinavian language, the appointee will be expected to learn sufficient Norwegian to be able to participate in all functions that the position may involve within two years.

Please see the rules for the appointments to professorships and associate professorships. (https://www.uio.no/english/about/regulations/personnel/academic/rules-appointment-professor.html)

According to the Norwegian Freedom and Information Act (Offentlighetsloven), information about the applicant may be included in the public applicant list, even in cases where the applicant has requested non-disclosure. (https://lovdata.no/dokument/NLE/lov/2006-05-19-16)

The University of Oslo has a policy for intellectual property rights for researchers at the University of Oslo (https://www.uio.no/english/about/regulations/research/intellectual-property/)

The University of Oslo aims to achieve a balanced gender composition in the workforce and to recruit people from underrepresented minorities.

Contact information:
The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Rhode Island seeks an associate or full professor to chair the newly created Department of Africana Studies. Its predecessor, the Africana Studies program, established in the mid-1990s, has a long history of advocacy for peoples of the African diaspora. The department is home to an interdisciplinary undergraduate major and minor devoted to the study of the histories, politics, and cultures of peoples of the African diaspora. The department includes faculty with tenure homes in History, English, Political Science, Music, Art, and Art History who maintain affiliations with Africana Studies.

URI is Rhode Island’s flagship public university, serving undergraduate and graduate populations from the state, New England, the greater northeast, and beyond. Rhode Island is home to vibrant communities of the African diaspora, with significant populations of people from Cabo Verde, Liberia, and the Caribbean. New research increasingly reveals the deep and rich history of the African diaspora in Rhode Island, as a site of critical freedom struggles borne of the state’s involvement in the transatlantic slave trade and subsequent nineteenth and twentieth century civil rights movements.

We are especially interested in social science scholars trained in Africana Studies, with vision for the new department’s academic profile and whose work bridges various disciplines, geographies, and cultures. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to establish innovative curricula, to develop future scholars, and to participate in an energetic community. We seek candidates who have a demonstrated potential for excellence in leadership, a distinguished scholarly record, and a deep investment in community engagement and interdisciplinary collaboration.

This is a tenure-track academic appointment to commence in Fall 2021, with the tenure home in the Department of Africana Studies. For consideration at the rank of full professor with tenure, candidates for this position must meet the requirements at URI. If hired at the associate professor level, URI requires that the individual be employed by university for at least two years before being eligible for tenure. Salary is commensurate with experience. Please see Articles 15 through 20 of AAUP collective bargaining agreement for information on promotion and tenure processes at the University of Rhode Island.

POSITION DESCRIPTION

Rank: Associate or Full Professor / Department Chair

University of Rhode Island

POSITION DESCRIPTION

This is a full-time, tenure-track, academic year appointment to commence in Fall 2021, with the tenure home in the Department of Africana Studies.

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Rhode Island seeks an associate or full professor to chair the newly created Department of Africana Studies. Its predecessor, the Africana Studies program, established in the mid-1990s, has a long history of advocacy for peoples of the African diaspora. The department is home to an interdisciplinary undergraduate major and minor devoted to the study of the histories, politics, and cultures of peoples of the African diaspora. The department includes faculty with tenure homes in History, English, Political Science, Music, Art, and Art History who maintain affiliations with Africana Studies.

URI is Rhode Island’s flagship public university, serving undergraduate and graduate populations from the state, New England, the greater northeast, and beyond. Rhode Island is home to vibrant communities of the African diaspora, with significant populations of people from Cabo Verde, Liberia, and the Caribbean. New research increasingly reveals the deep and rich history of the African diaspora in Rhode Island, as a site of critical freedom struggles borne of the state’s involvement in the transatlantic slave trade and subsequent nineteenth and twentieth century civil rights movements.

We are especially interested in social science scholars trained in Africana Studies, with vision for the new department’s academic profile and whose work bridges various disciplines, geographies, and cultures. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to establish innovative curricula, to develop future scholars, and to participate in an energetic community. We seek candidates who have a demonstrated potential for excellence in leadership, a distinguished scholarly record, and a deep investment in community engagement and interdisciplinary collaboration.

This is a tenure-track academic appointment to commence in Fall 2021, with the tenure home in the Department of Africana Studies. For consideration at the rank of full professor with tenure, candidates for this position must meet the requirements at URI. If hired at the associate professor level, URI requires that the individual be employed by university for at least two years before being eligible for tenure. Salary is commensurate with experience. Please see Articles 15 through 20 of AAUP collective bargaining agreement for information on promotion and tenure processes at the University of Rhode Island.

LINK TO CONTRACT:

(https://drive.google.com/file/d/148VGi1071lWv_J7uO_l3paMs1Ee437hd/view)

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

1. Ph.D. in Africana Studies, African American Studies, Black Studies or a related discipline in the URI College of Arts and Sciences.
2. Multiple refereed publications in academic journals and presses.
3. Demonstrated potential or experience in a leadership role at the institutional level.
4. Experience as an associate or full professor. Exceptional candidates at the advanced assistant professor level will be considered.
5. Active academic record that meets URI research and teaching standards for tenure and rank of associate or full professor.
6. Demonstrated commitment to working with students from diverse backgrounds and BIPOC populations.
7. Demonstrated potential for community engagement.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

1. Success as chair, program director, or other academic leadership position.
2. Successful engagement with the broader academic and non-academic community.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: This is an open until filled search. First consideration will be given to applications received by February 15, 2021. Second consideration may be given to applications received by March 1, 2021. Applications received subsequent to second consideration date (March 1, 2021) may not be given full consideration.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/7640

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online application:

1. Cover Letter/Letter of Application
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Statement of Teaching Philosophy
4. Writing Sample

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8449

Lutheran College Washington Consortium

Rank: Executive Director & Dean

The Lutheran College Washington Consortium (LCWC) invites applications for the position of Dean/Executive Director of its program, the Lutheran College Washington Semester (LCWS) to begin no later than July 1, 2021. LCWS is a Washington, DC program based in Arlington, VA and is open to students from the 13 member institutions of the consortium, which are all Lutheran affiliated colleges. and universities. The program, which began in 1986, provides participants with real-world experiences to further students' educational and professional goals and strives to offer students of any major a new perspective on what it means to be an active member of society in a culturally diverse world. During the semester, students complete a four day per week internship, while also taking two academic classes and special programming offered by the program. Additional opportunities for students are available in the summer. Details about the Lutheran College Washington Semester can be found at: www.washingtonsemester.org

The position of Dean and Executive Director combines the roles of Chief Academic Officer and Chief Executive Officer of LCWS and reports to a 13-member board of directors. The Dean/Executive Director is responsible for the administrative, financial, academic and student life aspects of LCWS and supervises a staff of two full-time employees and 11 part-time staff and faculty members. The program is financially sound and consistently draws 40-50 students each semester. We are seeking a candidate who possesses entrepreneurial strengths and who is committed to developing innovative programs that will help the program meet the challenges of a changing higher education environment. In keeping with the academic requirements of the position, a doctorate degree or equivalent is required. Salary for the position is commensurate with qualifications and experience. Benefits are also included as part of the compensation package. For more specific information, please see the Dean/Executive Director Position Description on the LCWS website: www.washingtonsemester.org/jobs

Applicants for the position should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and two letters of recommendation by email to Dr. Emily Wanless, Search Committee Chair, Augustana University, ewanless@augie.edu. Review of applications will begin on February 1st, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8435

National University of Singapore
Rank: Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

Two-Year Post-Doctoral Fellowships in the International Relations of Southeast Asia

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore (NUS), and the College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences, Nanyang Technological University (NTU), Singapore, invite applications for TWO Post-Doctoral Fellows in the field of International Relations, with a focus on Southeast Asia. Each fellowship is tenable for two years. One Fellow will be based at NUS, working under the direction of Professor Yuen Foong Khong, the other at NTU, working with Professor Joseph Liow, toward accomplishing the goals of their research project on “The Anatomy of Choice: Southeast Asia between the Superpowers” supported by a Singapore Social Science Research Council (SSRC) Thematic Grant (for details see https://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/ongoing-research-projects/international-relations-and-global-governance)

Job Description

The Fellows will have three main responsibilities: (1) revise their dissertations into a publishable book manuscript or a set of articles by the end of the first year of the Fellowship; and (2) take lead roles in the organization and running of the Anatomy of Choice project, including but not limited to, liaising with the contributing authors, organizing workshops, and directing the work of the undergraduate research assistants; (3) contribute to the broader intellectual life of the LKYSPP and CoHASS.

Job Requirements

- A Ph.D. degree in Political Science/International Relations/History, focusing on the international relations of Southeast Asia, and/or the foreign policy of one or more Southeast Asian countries. Candidates whose work involves comparing the foreign policy responses of the ASEAN countries to global and regional power shifts are especially encouraged to apply.
- An ability to engage with the research and policy communities in Singapore, Asia, and the world
- A strong and demonstrated sense of academic independence and collegiality

Benefits Include:

- Internationally competitive salary
- Highly collegial working environment with an internationally diverse group of scholars

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit the following in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file):

- Cover letter, with a brief statement of research expertise and its relevance to the project
- Detailed curriculum vitae
- Copies of academic certificates and transcripts
- Two samples of academic publications/writings
- Three letters of reference (mailed separately by referee to diana.endang@nus.edu.sg)
- Start date: July 1, 2021 (preferred, but negotiable)
- Application deadline: March 1, 2021

Please send electronic submissions to Ms. Diana Endang Adiningih (diana.endang@nus.edu.sg). Applications will be acknowledged; shortlisted candidates will be contacted around mid-March

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/20/2021
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8427

New York University Abu Dhabi
Rank: Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Other
Specializations: Middle East, Research Methods, Women & Politics

Political Science Professor, Tenured / Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct important research and teach the next generation of global leaders. The Division of Social Science invites applications for a tenured tenure-track position in Political Science. This position is open with respect to rank... and subfield, though scholars in the fields of international relations and Middle East are especially encouraged to apply. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2021, or September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present. The disciplines in this field seek to deepen our understanding of how people behave in a wide variety of contexts and to assess the consequences of individual, group, and societal decisions.

About NYU Abu Dhabi
Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholastic honors, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html

Working for NYUAD
A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications
This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science.

We seek individuals who have, or have the potential to develop, a strong record of scholarship and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions
To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: https://apply.interfolio.com/82086

-CV
-Cover Letter
-Teaching Statement
-Research Statement
-Recent teaching evaluations (if available)
-Three (3) Representative Writing Samples
-For candidates applying for the Assistant Professor Positions, please submit the names and email addresses of three (3) references who will be contacted to upload their letter confidentially through Interfolio.
-For candidates applying to the Senior faculty position, please submit a list of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin reviewing applications on February 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2021-2022.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/21/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8433

University of Toronto
Rank: Assistant Professor in Canadian Politics
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Other, Other

Canadian Politics – Assistant Professor

Description:
The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of Canadian politics. The appointment will be at the rank of Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2021, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, or shortly thereafter, with a demonstrated record of excellence in research and teaching. We prefer candidates whose research and teaching interests centre on democratic governance broadly understood, especially as it pertains to marginalized or under-represented populations.

We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University’s downtown (St George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science https://politics.utoronto.ca) to learn more about us.

The successful candidate will be expected to pursue innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to establish an outstanding, competitive and externally funded research program. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of publications in top-ranked and field relevant journals or forthcoming publications meeting high international standards, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, awards and accolades, and strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of their contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover (but need not be limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must arrange to have three letters of reference (on letterhead, dated, signed and scanned) sent directly by the referee to the Chair of the search committee in the Department of Political Science, Professor Robert Vipond, via e-mail at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca by the closing date, Thursday, January 28, 2021. PLEASE NOTE: this search is not using the University’s automatic solicitation and collection functionality for reference letters.

Submission guidelines can be found at http://uoft.me/how-to-apply. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday, January 28, 2021.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous / Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas.

As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see http://uoft.me/UP.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission.

The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/28/2021
Date Posted: 12/16/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8405

Christopher Newport University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University invites applications for the position of Assistant Professor of Political Science, effective August 2021. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in teaching and research with undergraduates. The successful candidate will have broad theoretical and methodological training in political science with a teaching and research emphasis in American judicial politics. We particularly welcome applications from candidates who specialize in civil rights and/or racial and ethnic politics. In addition to offering upper-level courses in their area of specialization, the successful candidate’s teaching responsibilities will include an introductory course in American politics, and upper level courses on U.S. Constitutional law, the judicial process, and the Supreme Court. The nominal teaching load for tenure track appointments is 3-3.

The Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required for appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor. In some cases, exceptionally well-qualified candidates may be considered for appointment at a higher rank. ABD candidates who will not hold the Ph.D. by the time of appointment may be considered for appointment at... the rank of Instructor. Phi Beta Kappa membership is highly desirable.

Departmental Information:
The Department of Political Science at Christopher Newport University is composed of 11 dedicated faculty members whose research represents the core areas of the discipline including American politics, comparative politics and international relations, and political theory. Our 300 majors have produced research that has been nationally recognized, and many attend prestigious law and graduate schools and go on to successful careers in law, higher education, as well as local, state, and federal government. The Department offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, as well as three minors in Political Science, Human Rights and Conflict Resolution, and U.S. National Security Studies. Candidates wishing to know more about the department and its academic programs are invited to visit https://cnu.edu/academics/departments/politicalscience/.

Faculty Information:
CNU is committed to outstanding teaching and learning, undergraduate education, and the liberal studies core; The Fall 2020 freshman class of 1,155 students was selected from 7,300 admission applications, and presented average high school GPA and SAT scores of 3.8 and 1184, respectively. The University has a new and technologically advanced campus, located between Colonial Williamsburg and the Virginia coast. The campus integrates the University’s liberal arts vision, nurturing mind, body, and spirit. Facilities include the state-of-the-art Tribe Library; three new academic buildings including a newly opened integrated science building; the Freeman Center athletic complex; and the I.M. Pei-designed Ferguson Center for the Arts, which brings to Virginia the finest performing artists in the world. Opening in 2021 and adjoining the Ferguson Center, the $57 million Fine Arts Center will house over 7,500 sq. ft of gallery exhibition space, state-of-the-art teaching and museum learning spaces, studios and classrooms. It will serve the university community and the entire Peninsula region.

Our faculty enjoy an atmosphere of collegiality and mutual respect that rewards outstanding teaching and fosters active intellectual and creative engagement. Christopher Newport is committed to ensuring that all people are welcomed, honored and fully engaged in the life of our academic community. We recruit exceptional and diverse faculty and encourage applications from individuals who are underrepresented in their profession. Faculty are productive scholars and researchers, supported by professional development funds. Faculty and administrators regularly consult and collaborate as the University works to sustain a culture of scholarly inquiry, informed debate, and civic action that enriches students, faculty, and the surrounding community. The result is a supportive and cohesive academic setting in which the University cultivates and carries forward its mission. The University is among the highest ranked in the nation for its quality of life and innovative spirit. Competitive salary with excellent health and retirement benefits and a well-designed family leave policy further enhance the workplace. For further information, please visit our website at http://www.cnu.edu.

Posting Detail Information
Application Deadline: 01/17/2021
Application Instructions: To apply, please visit https://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/ to upload a letter of interest, current curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts (photocopies acceptable for initial screening), statement of teaching philosophy, a one-page statement articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of recommendation. (Letters should be uploaded with application materials or emailed to facultyrecruitment@cnu.edu). Letters of reference will be the only documents accepted via email.

Review of applications will begin on January 17, 2021. Applications received after January 17, 2021, will be accepted but considered only if needed.

Search finalists are required to complete a CNU sponsored background check.

Link to Postings: http://jobs.cnu.edu/postings/9829

University of Texas at Dallas
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Public Policy and Political Economy program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for a tenure-system assistant professor in Cyber Security and Technology Policy.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The candidate’s research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity and technology with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include economic, political and policy-related field. The candidate’s research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity and technology with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include economic and legal aspects of the technology regulation across countries, the economics of information security, the interaction of security and privacy considerations, and the politics of developing and administrating cybersecurity policies and programs. While experience in the private sector, government agency, NGO or public policy organization will be an advantage, all exceptional candidates will be considered. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15201

Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for a tenure-system assistant professor in Cyber Security and Technology Policy.

University of Texas at Dallas
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Public Policy and Political Economy program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for a tenure-system assistant professor in Cyber Security and Technology Policy.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The candidate’s research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity and technology with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include economic and legal aspects of the technology regulation across countries, the economics of information security, the interaction of security and privacy considerations, and the politics of developing and administrating cybersecurity policies and programs. While experience in the private sector, government agency, NGO or public policy organization will be an advantage, all exceptional candidates will be considered. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15201

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/11/2020
Salary: Competitive
Ejobs ID: 8393

Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for a tenure-system assistant professor in Cyber Security and Technology Policy.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The candidate’s research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity and technology with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include economic and legal aspects of the technology regulation across countries, the economics of information security, the interaction of security and privacy considerations, and the politics of developing and administrating cybersecurity policies and programs. While experience in the private sector, government agency, NGO or public policy organization will be an advantage, all exceptional candidates will be considered. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15201

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/11/2020
Salary: Competitive
Ejobs ID: 8393
Naval Postgraduate School

Rank: Department Chair and Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Other

Chair
Defense Analysis Department
Naval Postgraduate School, Monterey, CA

The Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) is accepting applications for the position of Professor and Chair of the Defense Analysis Department (DA). NPS and the DA Department provide graduate education to military officers of the uniformed services, Department of Defense civilians, and members of the international defense community.

The DA Department is an interdisciplinary department providing graduate curricula focused on analytic approaches to the study of defense, with particular emphasis on irregular warfare, information strategy, and political warfare. The mission of the DA Department is to provide graduate education through qualitative and quantitative curricula to produce professionals with the advanced critical thinking and problem-solving skills needed to meet evolving national security challenges.

The Defense Analysis Department is the academic home to approximately fifty tenure-track and non-tenure track faculty and staff employees. The duties of the chair include: providing strategic direction for the department; representing the department internally at NPS and externally to various educational, military, and research stakeholders; building and maintaining relationships with institutional and operational organizations across the joint force; engaging with and shaping the education of the nearly 150 students on board at any time; and fulfilling all administrative tasks associated with the supervisory role.

Minimum Qualifications:
- Doctoral degree in a field connected to the study of irregular warfare and armed conflict, such as international relations, security studies, political science, history, sociology, economics, anthropology, psychology, philosophy, or related fields.
- Must be a U.S. citizen and capable of obtaining a security clearance.
- A proven record of scholarship, instruction, and leadership in the candidate’s field.
- Leadership experience in an academic organization.
- An academic record that would merit an appointment as a Professor with tenure upon arrival.
- Track record or demonstrable potential for building and maintaining collaborative relationships with institutional partners.

Additional preferred qualifications:
- Currently holding or be immediately eligible for a Top Secret clearance.
- Experience working in or with the U.S. Department of Defense.

We are accepting applications through February 15, 2020. Candidates should submit their materials to: mfreema@nps.edu. E-mail subject heading: DA Chair Search. Include: 1) a cover letter describing the applicant’s qualifications for this position, 2) a comprehensive curriculum vitae or resume, and 3) contact and e-mail address information for a minimum of three references. The application material shall clearly state the applicant’s citizenship.

Relocation expenses, including recruitment/relocation incentive, may be authorized in accordance with applicable regulations.

Salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience while tied to the federal government compensation policies for the position and location. Applicants with foreign education will be required to select from a list of private organizations that are members of the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services, Inc. (NACES), which provide foreign education evaluations acceptable to NPS.

The Naval Postgraduate School is an equal opportunity employer. For additional information about NPS, please refer to the website at http://www.nps.edu.

Veteran status is treated as a positive merit factor for NPS faculty positions. We strongly encourage you to indicate if you are a veteran in your application when applying to NPS positions and you must provide a copy of your signed DD-214 (member 4 copy), Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty, or other acceptable documentation.

Current active duty service members are required to submit a statement of service printed on command letterhead and signed by the command. The statement of service must provide the branch of service, rate/rank, all dates of service, the expected date of discharge and anticipated character of service (Honorable, General, etc.). Please note: you will be ineligible if your statement of service is not submitted with your application or it shows an expected discharge or release date greater than 120 days from the date of application.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/9/2020
Salary: Above $159,999
eJobs ID: 8383

West Chester University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Government and the Politics of Diversity

Specializations: American Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

Position Summary

Join a vibrant campus community whose excellence is reflected in its diversity and student success. West Chester University of Pennsylvania’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the field of American Government and Politics beginning in August 2021. We are specifically seeking to hire a faculty member whose substantive specializations and pedagogical training will strengthen our existing commitment to diversity and inclusion. Teaching responsibilities will primarily include the following courses: Politics of Diversity, Women and Politics, Urban Politics, Racial/Ethnic Politics, as well as, Introduction to American Government. Additional courses may include: Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Latino Politics, and there is potential for the development of new courses. Other responsibilities of the position include engaging in research and appropriate service, including student advising, all in a manner consistent with our department mission, which emphasizes global perspectives. Overall, we seek teacher-scholars who are committed to student success, retention and engagement, and who will contribute to our valued collegial atmosphere.

Minimum Qualifications

The successful applicant must possess a Ph.D. in Political Science (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date); Ability to teach American Government Courses;

West Chester University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Government and the Politics of Diversity

Specializations: American Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

Position Summary

Join a vibrant campus community whose excellence is reflected in its diversity and student success. West Chester University of Pennsylvania’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the field of American Government and Politics beginning in August 2021. We are specifically seeking to hire a faculty member whose substantive specializations and pedagogical training will strengthen our existing commitment to diversity and inclusion. Teaching responsibilities will primarily include the following courses: Politics of Diversity, Women and Politics, Urban Politics, Racial/Ethnic Politics, as well as, Introduction to American Government. Additional courses may include: Public Opinion, Media and Politics, Latino Politics, and there is potential for the development of new courses. Other responsibilities of the position include engaging in research and appropriate service, including student advising, all in a manner consistent with our department mission, which emphasizes global perspectives. Overall, we seek teacher-scholars who are committed to student success, retention and engagement, and who will contribute to our valued collegial atmosphere.

Minimum Qualifications

The successful applicant must possess a Ph.D. in Political Science (ABD considered with evidence of completion by start date); Ability to teach American Government Courses;
Ability to teach Specialized Diversity Courses;

Preferred Qualifications
Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including distance education;
Evidence of research accomplishment/capability/active agenda;
Demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching and supporting students;
Diversity statement.

Special Instructions

The following materials should be submitted to the West Chester University Electronic Submission site: http://agency.govemmentjobs.com/wcupa/default.cfm.
Cover letter describing teaching and research interests;
Curriculum Vitae;
Brief writing sample;
Statement of teaching philosophy;
Diversity statement (see the diversity statement prompt);
Sample syllabi;
Graduate transcripts;
Teaching evaluations (if available);
Three references and contact information.

As part of your application for a faculty position, we also have requested a Diversity Statement. This request highlights our Department’s commitment to promote diversity and inclusiveness and to cultivate a campus environment that welcomes all. This commitment reflects the Diversity Theme of West Chester University’s new Strategic Plan and supports initiatives of our Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (WCU Diversity Equity Inclusion). We expect that each applicant’s statement will be unique, as informed by their own experiences and goals. Some issues you might address in a 1-2 page statement include the following: (1) How have you supported diversity and inclusion in your interactions with others in PK-12 classrooms, Higher Ed classrooms (if appropriate), service, and research environments? (2) What have you done to help students from diverse communities (such as underrepresented minorities, non-traditional, LGBTQ, veteran, rural, and/or first generation) succeed, including any programs for these students that you have participated in? (3) Describe your commitment to working toward achieving equity and enhancing diversity at WCU. In particular, how might you contribute to our current diversity initiatives, and do you have any other ideas to help promote equity on our campus?

Applications should be submitted by February 15, 2021. The position will remain open until filled. Please address any inquiries about this position to Ashlie Delshad, Search Committee Chairperson, at adelshad@wcupa.edu. Applicants must successfully complete a remote interview, including a teaching demonstration, to be considered as a finalist.

West Chester University of Pennsylvania offers highly competitive salaries and excellent benefits. The University is part of the State System of Higher Education and is a public, regional, comprehensive institution serving over 18,000 students. The University is located in the city of West Chester, Pennsylvania, 25 miles west of Philadelphia and only a few hours from New York City, Washington D.C. The area is home to world-class libraries, museums and hospitals.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/9/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8382

Tel Aviv University
Rank: Open Rank, Tenure-Track Appointment in Politics and Technology

Call for Applications: Tenure-track Appointment in Politics and Technology.

The School of Political Science, Government, and International Affairs at Tel Aviv University invites applications for an open rank tenure-track position. We welcome applications from all subfields in political science, with preference given to researchers working on politics and technology, with a particular emphasis on cyber technology. The term of appointment will begin on October 1, 2021.

Successful candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence as demonstrated by a record of publications, conference presentations, awards and accolades, and endorsements from referees of high standing. The successful candidate is expected to pursue an innovative research program.

Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Hebrew is the primary language of instruction at Tel Aviv University, and candidates must be able to teach courses in Hebrew within three years of their appointment.

Applicants should send a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, and brief research and teaching statements (no more than two pages for each statement). Interested individuals should send their applications to poljobs@tauex.tau.ac.il.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, signed) to the search committee via e-mail to poljobs@tauex.tau.ac.il by January 31st, 2021.

The committee will begin reading applications on January 31st, 2021, but may consider files received after this date. The School reserves the right to make (or not make) an appointment according to its exclusive consideration.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Date Posted: 12/8/2020
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8320

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies
Rank: Assistant Professor of Finance and Development

The Graduate Institute invites applications for a tenure track position. We welcome applications from all subfields in political science, with preference given to researchers working on politics and technology.

Call for Applications: Tenure-track Appointment in Politics and Technology.

The Graduate Institute is looking to hire a scholar working on finance and development and/or finance and sustainability. We are particularly interested in political scientists or sociologists/social anthropologists

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/20/2020

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8382
The appointed professor will serve as Pictet Chair in the Centre for Finance and Development. A list of indicative themes is provided on the Institute’s website: https://erecrut.graduateinstitute.ch/professeurs/

Candidates must hold a PhD in Anthropology and Sociology or International Relations/Political Science and demonstrate excellence in research through completed projects and a promising research agenda. Postdoctoral research experience is not required but considered a strong asset. Applications from candidates already holding a position of Assistant Professor in another institution are also welcome.

The successful candidate will teach postgraduate courses and supervise master’s dissertations and PhD theses in the Department of Anthropology and Sociology or the Department of International Relations/Political Science. They may also be called upon to teach classes and supervise master’s dissertations in interdisciplinary programmes as well as contribute to executive education programmes. The candidate should be interested in interdisciplinary dialogue.

The teaching language is either English or French. Prior knowledge of French is not required, but the successful candidate is expected to acquire a passive knowledge of it within two years of being hired.

To apply: https://erecrut.graduateinstitute.ch/professeurs/

For more information, candidates are encouraged to consult the Institute’s website: https://www.graduateinstitute.ch/

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: 1/31/2021
Date Posted: 12/8/2020
Salary: $130,000 - $139,999
eJobs ID: 8375

University of Southern California
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Race and Ethnic Politics anticipated to begin in the fall of 2021. Scholars of Black politics or Indigenous politics whose work is in one or more of the following subfields of political science are particularly encouraged to apply: comparative politics, international relations, U.S. politics, or research methods. The scholar will help build the department’s strengths in race, ethnicity, and politics. We welcome all methodological and interpretative approaches to the study of political science and international relations.

Strong commitments to research as well as to undergraduate and graduate pedagogy are expected. The candidate should have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-race-and-ethnic-politics/1209/18148180 . Required materials for upload include a CV, cover letter, sample research paper(s) or article(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, names and contact information for three references and their letters of recommendation. Send inquiries to poirrequests@usc.edu. Materials must be submitted electronically, as those submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/8/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8376

London School of Economics
Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science, one in Political Behaviour and one in Public Policy and Administration. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. We are open to all methodological approaches.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4200/0/283547/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-pb-and-ppa

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8358

London School of Economics
Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science
Specializations: China, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government
Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. We are open to all methodological approaches and we have a preference for candidates with specialisms in one or more of the following areas:
- East Asia or South Asia
- Gender
- Race or Ethnicity

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/4092/0/283545/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-east-asia-or-south-asia-gender-race-or-ethnicity

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the "contact us" links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov-HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8359

Princeton University
Rank: Postdoctoral Position in Ethics and Climate Change

The University Center for Human Values (UCHV) and the High Meadows Environmental Institute (HMEI) at Princeton University invite applications for a postdoctoral research associate working at the intersection of ethics and global change to contribute to the Climate Futures Initiative in Science, Values, and Policy (CFI) – a jointly supported research program. Our aim is to support a scholar whose research agenda focuses on the ethical dimensions of climate change, informed by knowledge of climate science and policy. Applicants trained in moral and political philosophy, political theory, normative economics, and related areas are encouraged to apply.

The incumbent will be expected to be an active contributor to CFI and, in concert with the program’s faculty leadership and steering committee, will play a central role in planning the group’s activities. He/she will be encouraged to participate in the UCHV and HMEI communities and will have responsibility for contributing the equivalent of one course each year to the undergraduate or graduate programs of the Institute or University Center. This contribution may be fulfilled by teaching a course on a topic related to the ethical issues of global change, subject to the needs of the Institute and University

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Center, sufficient enrollment and approval by the Dean of the Faculty, or other forms of service as suggested by the Institute or University Center.

For more information on the Climate Futures Initiative, see http://scholar.princeton.edu/cfi/home.

Qualifications
Applications welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date, normally beginning September 1, 2021. Applicants should not have more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the date of appointment. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment.

The applicant’s dissertation need not be specifically in the ethics of climate change, but persons applying to this position will be expected to demonstrate relevant background and commitment to working on a research project in the focal area during their time at Princeton. Applications will be evaluated on the basis of previous accomplishments, the promise of the proposed research in ethics, climate science, and policy, and the likelihood that the project will be enhanced by being carried out in an interdisciplinary environment. The capacity to contribute to the University’s teaching program may also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment
The term of appointment is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2021, with the expectation of renewal for an additional year contingent upon satisfactory performance. The postdoctoral researcher is expected to be in residence for the duration of his/her appointment. This is a full-time position. As such, the individual accepting this position may not be employed by another institution during the term of his/her appointment at Princeton.

How to Apply
Applications for this position must be submitted at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/16741 and include the following materials:
1. A current curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words) conforming to the expectations stated above. Please identify a statement of research plans and its connection to the focal area described for this position. Also, please indicate a title for the research project at the beginning of the proposal;
3. A scholarly paper or dissertation chapter (not to exceed 12,000 words) representative of your scholarly achievement or potential; and
4. Contact information for two referees, each of whom will be asked to comment specifically on your qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

All materials must be submitted online by February 1, 2021, 11:59 P.M. EST. We cannot accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference are to be submitted by end of business day on February 6, 2021.

Decisions are expected in late March 2021.

This position is subject to the University’s background check policy. Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 12/1/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8347

Pepperdine University
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Studies

The International Studies and Languages Division of Pepperdine University’s Seaver College of Letters, Arts, and Sciences seeks applications for a tenure track appointment as an Assistant Professor of International Studies (with a specialization in African Studies) beginning August 1, 2021. The ability to teach courses in at least two of the following areas is preferred: African politics, African culture and society, ethnicity in Africa, comparative politics, or comparative political economy. A Ph.D. in Political Science, Anthropology, or Sociology is required. Candidates should demonstrate exceptional interest and effectiveness in teaching and mentoring undergraduate students. Candidates should also have the ability to establish a productive research program. The ability to engage students in their scholarly work would be a plus.

Pepperdine University is a private Christian university overlooking the Pacific Ocean in Malibu, California. Faculty, staff and students partner to support Pepperdine’s Christian Mission. Pepperdine is committed to valuing diversity and inclusion among our students and faculty. Applicants of color are particularly encouraged to apply.

Please submit all application materials at apply.interfolio.com/78908. Review of candidates’ application materials will begin on November 9th, 2020, and will continue until the search is closed.

Contact:
Dr. George Carlsen (george.carlsen@pepperdine.edu)
Divisional Dean of International Studies and Languages
Pepperdine University
24255 Pacific Coast Highway
Malibu, CA 90263

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/25/2020
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 8105

New York University - Abu Dhabi
Rank: Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science - Division of Social Science

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint a Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science starting September 2021. Later start dates are also possible. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.
Here is the link to apply:

http://apply.interfolio.com/77968

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/18/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7989

---

Texas A&M University

Rank: Instructional Assistant Professor (non-tenure track)

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a non-tenure track, instructional assistant professor in the area of international political economy, to work in the School’s teaching site in Washington, D.C. The position will be for a period of two-years, with the possibility of renewal. The start date for this position will be January 1, 2021. The successful candidate will teach five courses per academic year in a professional master’s degree program in international policy – two sections of the required course on the global economy and three other elective courses to be determined in consultation with the department head. A reasonable amount of department and professional service will also be expected.

The Department of International Affairs is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and departments is available at http://bush.tamu.edu.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in political science, politics or government with a specialization in the sub-field of international political economy to be considered.

Applicants with additional expertise in the intersection of international political economy and international security issues, and/or expertise in the politics and political economy of a particular world region, are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit: 1) Letter of Interest, 2) CV, and 3) three letters of recommendation. The application materials must be submitted online at http://apply.interfolio.com/76363.

Point of Contact: Ms. Peg Hosea plhosea@tamu.edu

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7900

---

University of California, San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow
Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Other

Postdoctoral positions are available with Dr. Erik Gartzke in the Center for Peace and Security Studies (cPASS) in the Political Science Department at the University of California, San Diego.

cPASS conducts rigorous, data-driven research on international affairs and U.S. foreign policy. Its mission is to apply cutting-edge social science to improve our collective understanding of how humans can best cooperate in an increasingly globalized and connected world with rapidly advancing technologies. cPASS is committed to promoting research excellence and diversity within cPASS and our academic field.

The postdoctoral fellows will assist in a Hewlett Foundation funded project on “CyberEscalation in Power Projection.” This project focuses on understanding how humans and their institutions interact with technology to better assess how the introduction of a new kind of connectedness through cyberspace shapes decisions concerning power projection. This project hopes to overcome the challenges for young scholars interested in cyber escalation by investing in building expertise and creating quality data to test theories.

As part of their duties, the postdoctoral fellows will collaborate with the Machine-learning for Social Science Lab (https://cpass.ucsd.edu/mls) to create a foundational dataset of cyber events focused on basic scientific standards that is transparent, replicable, and reproducible. The postdoctoral fellows will also work with cPASS staff to develop the Cyber Escalation Lab and build a community dedicated to cyber escalation topics. Additional duties may arise in line with the goals of the “Cyber-Escalation in Power Projection” project. Authorship/co-authorship of scholarly research will be strongly encouraged.

A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Social Science, Computer Science, Information Science or a related field is required at the time of appointment. Applicants with appropriate skills are encouraged from a wide range of disciplines related to international relations and computer science. The appointment may be delayed for applicants expected to complete their PhD within the next six months.

Candidates must have extensive knowledge and experience in the cyber domain and a strong working knowledge of international relations theory.

Ideal candidates will also have experience with data science and machine learning. Candidates with demonstrated leadership or commitment to support diversity, equity, and inclusion in an academic setting are preferred.

Applicants must apply for this position at this link: https://apol-recruit.ucsd.edu/JPF02537

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, or status as a protected veteran.

This position will be 12 months from the date of appointment. Renewal is possible. Some flexibility exists as to the starting date of the position with fall 2020 as the earliest. Candidates should expect to be in residence in San Diego by the start of the postdoc.

Salaries will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Start Date: Fall 2020

---

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7823

POLITICAL THEORY
WZB Berlin Social Science Center
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/x)
Specializations: Political Theory, Political Psychology, State Politics
www.wzb.eu
The Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung gGmbH (WZB Berlin Social Science Center), research department Institutions and Political Inequality (IPI) (Director: Professor Macartan Humphreys) seeks to hire a

Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/x)
for an appointment starting September 2021 (negotiable) for a duration of up to three years. Shorter durations are possible for candidates with faculty positions in hand. The appointment is made at 100% of the regular working hours (currently 39 hours/week).

WZB is a non-profit organization and a member of the Leibniz Association. WZB engages in research of fundamental societal questions from the perspectives of different disciplines. It is one of the most renowned institutions in the field of social sciences. The scientists who work together at the institute come from such fields as sociology, political science, economics, law, and psychology. The findings of WZB research are directed at the science community, the interested public, and also experts dealing with political and economic issues, with media, and society. The institutions and political inequality research department focuses on the political economy of social and political inequality.

Your tasks and duties
- The research fellow will work independently, designing and implementing research projects and producing high-quality publications in at least one of the unit’s thematic research areas (political inequality, between-group inequalities, cumulative learning).
- This position is part of a wider WZB effort to strengthen research in the area of digitalization, both as a substantive research topic and as a methodological tool. Candidates for this position should demonstrate a research agenda related to how processes of digitalization impact and interact with substantive research areas of the department. Examples include, but are not limited to: using digital data, such as mobility and communications data, to understand patterns of inequality and social/political fragmentation; assessing the role of Information and Communications Tools (ICTs) in altering political inequality and accountability; understanding the political implications of state surveillance technologies and how they affect inequality and the nature of protest and contestation; understanding polarization, intergroup relations, and political and social mobilization in online communities; using ICTs to deliver experimental interventions and collect information from populations. We particularly welcome agendas that focus on such questions in developing contexts.
- In addition, the fellow will be expected to collaborate with and mentor other scholars in the unit and play a leading role in developing the unit’s workshops and research projects.

Your qualification and profile
- Applicants must have completed a PhD in political science, economics, statistics, or a related social science discipline by the time the position will start, and have a vibrant and creative research agenda. In exceptional circumstances, we will consider applications from candidates who will be a few months away from defending their PhD by the time the position starts.
- Excellent English writing and communication skills are required (English is the working knowledge of the unit).
- Applicants should have skills in quantitative methods or formal theory, preferably with training in causal inference and knowledge of Bayesian methods.

Our offer
- Remuneration in accordance with EG 14 TVöD Bund (in accordance with German public service collective agreement).
- Additional benefits for public service employees (VBLU).
- International, cooperative, and diversified working environment.
- In-depth integration into the scientific community in the form of colloquia and conferences.
- Flexible working hours.
- We promote a good work-life balance, and our engagement has been certified by audit workandfamily and the European Commission’s Human Resources Strategy for Researchers (HRS4R).
- Comprehensive program for continuous professional development and further qualification.

Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. We value diversity and welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. WZB expressly encourages women or persons with migration backgrounds to apply.

If you have any questions regarding the job opening, please contact application-ipi@wzb.eu.

Job interviews will likely take place in the week starting April 12.

For more information about the research group IPI, follow this link: https://www.wzb.eu/en/research/political-economy-of-development/institutions-and-political-inequality.

For more information about WZB, see http://www.wzb.eu/en.

Process
Have we sparked your interest? In that case, we are looking forward to receiving your application.

Candidates are requested to submit the following documents (all in English) in a single PDF file
- CV
- Cover letter
- Writing sample

The cover letter should outline a research agenda for the period of application which relates to the digitalization theme described above. Please start your application by following the steps outlined at: https://wzb.hu4you.org/job/apply/46/a-postdoctoral-research-f-m-x?page_lang=en. We will evaluate all complete applications received by (and including) March 1st, 2021.

In addition, applicants should separately submit one letter of recommendation (additional letters are welcome and will be sought for shortlisted candidates). Please ask your letter writer to send the letter of recommendation to the email address application-ipi@wzb.eu quoting “[your last name] IPI postdoc reference letter” in the subject line by March 1st, 2021.
New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Research and Public Policy Professor, Tenured/Tenure-Track - Open Rank

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Open

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Economic Policy, Environmental Policy

Social Research and Public Policy Professor, Tenured/Tenure-Track - Open Rank
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct cutting edge research and teach the next generation of global leaders. We are inviting applications from social scientists for a position focusing on public policy. The position is an open rank, tenured/tenure-track position in the program in Social Research and Public Policy, for appointment on September 1, 2021, subject to final budget approval. We will consider applicants with an active research agenda in all areas of theoretically-informed public policy research, but are especially interested in those whose research and teaching focuses on public policy in a comparative and global context. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present.

About NYU Abu Dhabi
Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYU is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYU’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html

Working for NYUAD
A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications
This position requires a Ph.D. in Anthropology, Demography, Sociology, Development Studies, Gender Studies, Public Policy, Economics, Education, Environmental Studies, History, Political Economy, or Political Science.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of scholarship, teaching, and mentoring, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research with special attention to public policy.

Application Instructions
To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: https://apply.interfolio.com/76813

CV
Cover Letter
Statement of Teaching Interests
Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)
Statement of Research Interests
Diversity Statement
Three (3) Representative Writing Samples
For early career scholars, please submit three (3) confidential letters of reference that will be submitted directly to Interfolio.
For senior scholars, please submit a list of three references.

We will begin reviewing applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021.
NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8519

Colorado Christian University
Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of American Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Apply here: https://app.jobvite.com/j?aj=oiKpefwp&s=APSA

About the Job

Colorado Christian University is looking for an outstanding teacher with a deep knowledge and appreciation of the American founding and political institutions, and an infectious love for history and students. This faculty member will teach courses and develop curriculum within the Department of Social Sciences, housed within the School of Humanities and Sciences (SHSS) in the College of Undergraduate Studies. The Department of Social Sciences offers several general education courses including American Politics, American History, and Western Civilization, and degree programs in Politics, History, and Global Studies. This faculty member will teach critical general education and major American politics courses with an eye toward the roots, great ideas and events of the American Founding and story. In so doing, this faculty member will work to develop in students a critical appreciation for this heritage, convincing them of history’s importance, and contributing to students’ formation as Christians, all while helping them understand the times we now live in and calling them to greatness. Preferred requirements are a Ph.D. in History, Politics, or a closely-related discipline, combined with experience and a passion for teaching politics at the undergraduate level.

Faculty members of Colorado Christian University (CCU) teach assigned courses for which they are highly qualified within the College of Undergraduate Studies (CUS). Courses are traditional, in-seat and offered on our Lakewood, Colorado campus. Each faculty member uses effective instruction techniques as a subject matter expert, but their primary responsibility is to integrate field-specific pedagogy with the Bible and a Christian worldview. They are also expected to integrate and teach CCU’s spiritual, academic, and cultural Strategic Priorities.

Other duties are to support the mission and vision of CCU. This may include actively participating in committee/task force/team meetings, writing curriculum, reporting on assessments/outcomes, advancing scholarship, engaging with the community, supporting colleagues, or doing other work assigned by the dean. Faculty members are expected to keep regular office hours, to engage with students, and assist them with their academics or other activities that support the University’s holistic approach.

The standard teaching load is 24 credit hours of undergraduate courses per year or four courses per semester.

Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

About CCU

Colorado Christian University is the premier interdenominational Christian university in Colorado and the Rocky Mountain region, delivering world class education to thousands of students. The fully accredited, nonprofit University is located in Lakewood, Colorado, a suburb of Denver.

Colorado Christian University was founded in 1914. CCU’s motto is—grace and truth. This motto comes from John 1.14: “And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we have seen his glory, the glory as of the only Son from the Father, full of grace and truth.” (ESV)

CCU’s mission is Christ-centered higher education transforming students to impact the world with grace and truth.

Colorado Christian University cultivates knowledge and love of God in a Christ-centered community of learners and scholars, with an enduring commitment to the integration of exemplary academics, spiritual formation, and engagement with the world. We envision graduates who think critically and creatively, lead with high ethical and professional standards, embody the character and compassion of Jesus Christ, treasure the gospel, and who thereby are prepared to impact the world in their callings.

CCU’s embraces an educational model that was there at the foundation of many of the great western and American universities. It is made up of three pillars—competence, character and Christ-centered faith. Secular universities have abandoned two of those pillars. We think this is a major oversight that eventually undermines education. Furthermore, we believe this classical educational model is both life-giving and greatly needed in our time.

A leader in higher education, CCU has been consistently ranked in the top 2 percent of colleges and universities nationwide for its core curriculum by the American Council of Trustees and Alumni. CCU has had ten consecutive years of enrollment growth and has been named one of the five fastest-growing master’s granting universities by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

CCU offers more than 100 degree program options for traditional and adult students through its two colleges—the College of Undergraduate Studies and College of Adult and Graduate Studies. More than 8,000 students attend the University on the main campus, in regional centers throughout Colorado, and online.

What is most appealing about working at CCU?

1. Faith-friendly: CCU’s culture is unique to higher education. Where else can you pursue academic excellence yet read the Holy Bible, pray with teammates and students at work, and work to impact our culture in support of Christian values?
2. Convictionally Christian: As a university, we have an enduring commitment to Christ, his kingdom and the truth of God’s Word.
3. Live out your calling: We are a traditional evangelical university where you can invest your God-given talents and abilities alongside coworkers and teammates, while having a profound influence on students as they deepen their relationship with Jesus Christ.
4. Equip students for kingdom work: You can be a part of helping students discover their callings and preparing them for positions of significant leadership in the church, business, government, education, and other professions, as a key part of our University’s Strategic Priorities.

We’re looking for candidates who have:

1. A Ph.D. in politics, history or a related field strongly preferred, master’s degree required. Each faculty member must be considered highly qualified as outlined by the University’s accreditation and academic standards.
2. Three or more years of successful teaching experience in a college or university (preferred) or classical academy, with a proven track record of student learning and engagement through previous classroom evaluations by students, faculty, and administration.
3. Deep understanding and appreciation of the significance and principles of the American founding, and the institutions of the American political system; ability to teach students to value this heritage in order to thoughtfully and wisely engage the challenges of the modern world.
4. Ability to incorporate primary texts and engage disciplines like history, law, economics, and theology in their teaching.
5. Superior oral, interpersonal, and written communication skills.
6. Passion for Christ-centered higher education and dedication to the integration of faith and learning in their field.
7. Deep commitment to student success.
8. Proficiency in appropriate Microsoft Office applications (Word, Excel, PowerPoint) and are able to use appropriate software/technology (Blackboard) in the learning environment.
9. Commitment to learning new ideas for classroom presentations and dynamic class interactions to engage student learning in a meaningful way consistent with the University’s mission.
10. Proven track record and ongoing experience in their field.

Workload

12-month contract. Responsible to teach 24 units per year (typically 4 undergraduate courses per semester).

Key Job Duties

1. Contribute to CCU’s mission: Christ-centered higher education transforming students to impact the world with grace and truth. The School of Humanities and Social Sciences faculty contribute to the University’s mission in the classroom and beyond, through activities such as committee/task force/team work, community development, or similar activities internally and externally, which enhance and advance exemplary academics, personal spiritual growth, and engagement with the world.
3. Teach assigned undergraduate courses within the College of Undergraduate Studies (CUS) in accord with all standard policies and procedures using a variety of best-practice teaching and learning strategies, including classroom and online technology, to enhance instruction.
4. Develop, implement, and evaluate course curriculum, teaching-learning practices, and assess student learning outcomes.
5. Engage students; maintain established office hours and be available to individual students for questions, coursework, consultations, and informal mentoring.
6. Engage in professional organization activities and scholarly work including, but not limited to, publications and presentations commensurate with experience and academic rank.
7. Provide strategic thinking in fulfilling the goals of the College of Undergraduate Studies in support of the University’s Strategic Priorities as well as contribute effectively to the University community, ministry partners, corporate partners, and general audiences. Strong participation in faculty, committee, or other meetings is an integral part of this position.
8. Add to the development of a Christ-centered community of learners and scholars within the College of Undergraduate Studies. Continue to grow in one’s academic field, and in personal commitment to and effectiveness in the integration of Christian faith and learning.
9. Provide effective servant/shepherd leadership among faculty, staff, students, and administrators.
10. Work effectively and positively with administrators, other faculty colleagues, and support staff to establish and maintain effective positive working relationships.
11. Participate in extracurricular activities to support and encourage students, colleagues and staff.
12. Assist the dean with other duties as assigned.

Work Environment

While performing the duties of this job, you may be required to walk, stand, sit, reach with hands and arms, balance, stoop, speak with clarity, and have appropriate vision and hearing capabilities. The employee must occasionally lift and/or move up to 25 pounds. The employee may work occasional irregular hours, including some nights and weekends. Regular public presentations to students, parents, and external constituents required. Colorado Christian University expects all faculty and staff to become a part of the University community by participating in activities and events that occur on the campus throughout the year, which may occur during evenings and weekends.

What we offer our employees:

We offer competitive compensation and benefits packages to all employees. Our benefit package includes: a tuition waiver program, excellent healthcare, generous paid time off, matching 403(b) retirement plan, and additional organizational paid benefits and voluntary benefit offerings. Pay and benefits will be discussed in more detail as candidates progress through the interview process.

Colorado Christian University’s pay philosophy is based on internal and external data for pay equity; along with budgetary considerations for effective stewardship. Faculty pay will be assigned by rank at a range of $55,000-$65,000. We reserve the right to pay an equitable rate that we believe is within our salary structure or that may fit a candidate’s qualifications or experience for the job. A wage range posted is not a guarantee of a specific wage range for a job offer. CCU reserves the right to make pay decisions based on economic and equity considerations to attract the best possible talent. CCU does not determine pay based on sex or any other protected status.

Apply here: https://app.jobvite.com/j?aj=oiKpefwp&cs=APSA

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/26/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8518
Colby College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - Contemporary Political Theory

The Department of Government at Colby College invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in contemporary political theory commencing September 1, 2021. Possible strengths might include democratic theory, multiculturalism, critical race theory, feminist theory, or comparative political theory. In addition to courses in their specialization, the ideal candidate would offer courses covering the canonical texts in ancient, modern, and contemporary political theory, including one section of the required introductory course in political theory. Teaching load is five courses during the year, with the option of offering one of the five during Colby’s January term.

Candidates must have completed a Ph.D. in political science by September 1, 2021. Prior experience in undergraduate teaching as the instructor of record is strongly preferred. The successful candidate will provide evidence of excellence in teaching a diverse student body and a strong and on-going research program that is open to the inclusion of undergraduates. The college and the department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area when they apply.

Applicants should send a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a statement expressing the candidate’s teaching experience and philosophy, course descriptions and/or syllabi for three proposed courses, evidence of teaching excellence, a graduate school transcript, and three confidential letters of recommendation, including at least one that speaks to teaching experience. Please submit all of these materials via Interfolio. Review of applications will begin March 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. To apply: http://apply.interfolio.com/83143

Questions about this position should be directed to: government-search@colby.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8507

Technische Universität München - TUM School of Governance
Rank: Professor in »Political Philosophy and Theory« / Professor in »Political Psychology«

The Technical University of Munich (TUM) invites applications for the positions of Professor in »Political Philosophy and Theory« We seek to appoint a scholar with an innovative and internationally recognized research agenda in po-litical philosophy and theory. The position is open to candidates with substantive focus within the broad field of political theory/philosophy, but we are especially interested in scholars with a back-ground in philosophy and technology and/or ethical aspects of the development of new technologies. We expect the successful candidate to integrate technological aspects into his/her teaching and re-search activities. Professor in »Political Psychology« We seek to appoint a scholar with a cutting edge, innovative, and internationally recognized research agenda in political psychology.

The position is open to candidates with a research focus on the role of emotions in politics / international relations or policy responses to technological change. We expect the successful candidate to integrate these aspects into his/her teaching and research activities.

Both appointments may be made at the W2 tenure track Assistant Professor level (with the possibility for promotion to a tenured W3 Associate position) or the tenured W3 Associate Professor level.

Scientific environment

The professorships belong to the Hochschule für Politik München (HfP) and its corresponding department, the TUM School of Governance (GOV). HfP promotes the open dialogue between policy makers, society, industry and engineering. The TUM School of Governance focuses, in particular, on the interaction between politics and policy, society, economic actors and interests, and technology. The Technical University of Munich, one of Germany’s leading research universities, provides a wealth of opportunities for interdisciplinary teaching and research collaborations, especially with colleagues across the natural sciences and engineering.

Responsibilities

Responsibilities of the positions include research and teaching, as well as the supervision and mentorship of doctoral candidates and promotion of early-career post-doctoral scientists, and participation in departmental and university governance. Inter- or transdisciplinary approaches are considered an asset.

Qualifications

We are looking for candidates who have demonstrated excellent achievements in research and teaching in an internationally recognized scientific environment, relative to the relevant career level (please see www.tum.de/en/faculty-recruiting-faq/ for further information).

A university degree and an outstanding doctoral degree or equivalent scientific qualification, as well as pedagogical aptitude, are prerequisites. Substantial research experience abroad is expected.

Our Offer

Based on best international standards and transparent performance criteria, TUM offers a merit-based academic career option for tenure track faculty from Assistant Professor through a permanent position as Associate Professor, and on to Full Professor. The regulations of TUM Faculty Recruitment and Career System apply.

TUM provides excellent working conditions in a lively scientific community, embedded in the vibrant research environment of the Greater Munich Area. The TUM environment is multicultural, with English serving as a common interface for scientific interaction. The TUM Munich Dual Career Office (MDCO) provides tailored career consulting to the partners of newly appointed professors. MDCO gives assistance for relocation and integration of new professors, their partners and accompanying family members.

Your Application

TUM is an equal opportunity employer and committed to diversity at all ranks. We therefore especially encourage applications from women, people with disabilities, and members of other groups traditionally underrepresented in the academy. The position is suitable for disabled persons. Disabled candidates with essentially the same qualifications
Pi Sigma Alpha

Rank: Executive Director

Subfield(s): Open, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

Pi Sigma Alpha is looking for a dynamic, mission-driven leader who is passionate about helping PSA stimulate student scholarship and intellectual interest in political science.

About Pi Sigma Alpha:
Founded at the University of Texas in 1920, Pi Sigma Alpha’s mission is to stimulate scholarship and intellectual interest in political science through a variety of programs for student members and local chapters. A nonpartisan organization, Pi Sigma Alpha is the only honor society for college students of political science and government in the United States. It is open to graduate and upper-level undergraduate students who have met the organization’s criteria for academic excellence.

The Main Roles of the Executive Director:
The Executive Director serves as the head of the organization and is responsible for overseeing the administration, programs, and strategic plan of Pi Sigma Alpha. This position requires a dynamic, mission-driven leader who is passionate about helping PSA stimulate student scholarship and intellectual interest in political science. The Executive Director is responsible for planning and executing the goals and operational plans of PSA, as well as ensuring the financial health and legal compliance of the organization.

Core Accountabilities:
• Oversee the day-to-day operations of the organization and ensure its long-term success.
• Plan, actively manage, and oversee the organization’s operations and programs, while ensuring the organization’s financial sustainability.
• Oversee and regularly report on the organization’s operations, finances, and programs to The Executive Committee.
• Provide thoughtful executive leadership that supports and guides the organization’s mission as defined by The Executive Committee.
• Establish long-term and short-term goals, objectives, and operational plans in collaboration with The Executive Committee.
• Plan and execute PSA’s largest annual event, The National Student Research Conference.
• Facilitate the publication of the PSA Undergraduate Journal of Politics, which includes budgeting, oversight, and coordination with the editorial team.
• Oversee and manage all grants made to local chapters (awarded annually).
• Work with General Counsel to ensure overall compliance in all legal matters.
• Work with the Portfolio Manager to ensure the long-term financial health of PSA.
• Provide strong communication with all constituents, including: Communicate effectively with The Executive Committee by continually providing all information necessary for members to make informed decisions in a timely and accurate manner; Communicate effectively and consistently with all student members and Chapter Advisors; Effectively represent the organization in person or virtually (as appropriate) and through social media (Twitter, Facebook, LinkedIn, etc.) to promote a positive organizational image.
• Manage the accounting for PSA, ensuring compliance in all tax and related matters.
• Apply innovative thinking and performance measurements to analyze and support strategic decision-making.
• Contribute to the strategic plan and drive its implementation.
• Promote diversity and inclusion practices among membership and Chapter Advisors, ensuring engagement and resources for all students with intellectual interests in political science.
• Oversee, manage, and mentor all full- or part-time interns or employees.
• Perform general management duties ensuring the successful, continuous operations of the organization.

What you bring to the job:
• A passion for PSA’s student members and Chapter Advisors.
• A passion for learning and promoting academic excellence.
• Impeccable communication skills, both verbal and written.
• A desire to continually and consistently develop PSA to best serve our members.
• An openness to ideas and the desire to consistently evaluate yourself and our organization to ensure constant improvement.
• Core traits of diligence, collaboration, an inquisitive mind, and a commitment to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Technical Skills:
• Bachelor’s Degree
• 5 – 10 Years of Managerial Experience, or equivalent

Previous Experience:
• Previous work within academia, preferably within political science
• Previous work with a non-profit organization in an executive capacity; preferably with a membership or chapter-based organization
• Previous experience planning and executing large scale events with upwards of 500 participants
• Understanding of non-profit finance
• Understanding of non-profit legal compliance
• Previous experience promoting an organization across social media platforms
• Ability to maintain and update the organization’s website

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/15/2021
Salary: Any

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
University of Colorado, Colorado Springs

Rank: Visiting Distinguished Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The Center for the Study of Government and the Individual at the University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS) is currently seeking a full-time visiting distinguished professor. This position is part of the Program on the American Constitution, which is part of the Regents Civics Initiative. To be successful, a candidate will be a distinguished scholar in American politics. The ideal candidate will be a scholar on sabbatical from his or her home institution, and the center will cover the part of the salary not being covered from the candidate’s home institution along with ancillary costs. The scholar in this position will teach an advanced course for CSGI Honors Scholars and other distinguished students. Both one-semester and full-year appointments are possible.

Who We Are:

The University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS) is one of four campuses in the University of Colorado system and is home to over 10,500 undergraduate and 1,900 graduate students.

Colorado Springs (pop. 400K+) is situated at the base of Pikes Peak, offers many recreational and cultural activities and was recently ranked by U.S. News & World Report as one of the top Best Places to Live in the U.S.

This position has been determined to be exempt from the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).

What We Offer:

The University of Colorado Colorado Springs offers a comprehensive benefits package. Information on benefits programs, including eligibility, is located at: http://www.cu.edu/employee-services.

Tentative Search Timeline:

The potential dates for interviews with the search committee will be the week of February 8, 2021.

The potential dates for interviews with the supervisor and appointing authority will be the week of February 22, 2021.

The potential employee start date is August 15, 2021.

The University of Colorado Colorado Springs is committed to providing a safe and productive learning, living and working community. To assist in achieving this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial and/or motor vehicle history check.

UCCS is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. In compliance with applicable laws and in furtherance of its commitment to fostering an environment that welcomes and embraces diversity, the University of Colorado does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, disability, age, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, political affiliation or political philosophy in its programs or activities, including employment, admissions, and educational programs. Alternative formats of this ad can be provided upon request for individuals with disabilities by contacting the Office of Human Resources at (719) 255-3372.

To perform this job successfully, an individual must be able to perform each of the established essential functions and meet the physical and environment demands described satisfactorily. The requirements listed are representative of the knowledge, skill, ability, physical and environmental conditions required of the employee on the job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions, physical and environmental demands.

Applicants with disabilities: If you have a mental or physical impairment, which limits one of your major life activities (e.g. walking, hearing, seeing, speaking, breathing, or learning) and require special accommodations for testing or interviewing, it is your responsibility to notify the office scheduling the interview or test at least 3 working days before the interview or test date. If you need special accommodations at the work site, you must notify the appointing authority or Human Resources.

The Immigration Reform and Control Act requires that verification of employment eligibility be documented for all new employees by the end of the third day of work.

Qualifications

Minimum Requirements:

PhD

Established scholar with a national reputation

Physical Requirements:

While performing the duties of this job, the employee is frequently required to stand and walk. Employee is occasionally required to have long periods of sitting, moderate bending, moderate energy requirements and fine motor skills. The employee must occasionally lift and/or move up to 20 pounds.

Special Instructions to Applicants: • Applications submitted by Friday, January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. • Applications submitted through email or surface mail will not be considered. Please apply at CU www.cu.edu/cu-careers (job #: 19385). • Upon request, please be prepared to provide five professional references (at least two previous/current supervisors), including their email contact information. • Official transcripts will be required upon hire.

If you have technical difficulties with your application, please contact the CU Careers help desk at 303-860-4200 #5 or cucareershelp@cu.edu. Job related inquiries should be directed to the posting contact. The University of Colorado Colorado Springs will not sponsor work visas or permanent resident applications for this position.

Application Materials Required: Cover Letter, Resume/CV

Application Materials Instructions: To apply, please submit the following application materials to this posting. 1. A current CV/resume. Must include date ranges and whether the position was full time or part time. 2. A cover letter that specifically addresses the job requirements and outlines qualifications. When submitting the materials, check the Job Specific Attachments box next to each document in order for the search committee members to see your materials.
Job Category: Faculty
Primary Location: Colorado Springs
Department: C0001 -- Colorado Springs Campus - 40364 - AA-Cntr Study of Govt & Indiv
Schedule: Part-time
Posting Date: Dec 1, 2020
Unposting Date: Ongoing
Posting Contact Name: Verlan Lewis
Posting Contact Email: vlewis@uccs.edu
Position Number: 00779429
Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/14/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8487

University of Oxford
Rank: Associate Professorship in Political Theory, with a Tutorial Fellowship at New College

Associate Professorship in Political Theory, with a Tutorial Fellowship at New College

Combined salary usually on the scale within the range £48,114 to £64,605 p.a.
(plus College benefits including a Tutorial Fellow’s Allowance of £10,407 p.a., a Fellowship Allowance of £3,575 p.a., and a Housing Allowance of £10,135 p.a.)

The Department of Politics and International Relations (DPiR) at Oxford is an internationally renowned centre of excellence for teaching and research. It is consistently ranked first in The Times Higher and The Guardian university guides for the subject and in the top four in global league tables.

The Department, in association with New College, seeks to appoint an accomplished research scholar and inspirational teacher to an Associate Professorship in Political Theory.

Applications are welcomed from both early career and established scholars who work on the history of 20th Century political thought, and/or contemporary critical traditions, including Critical Theory.

Essential criteria include a completed doctorate in Political Theory or a closely related field, an outstanding, world-class portfolio of research and publications in Political Theory, with the ability to provide excellent teaching in Political Theory at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

The successful candidate will be expected to engage actively in research and to contribute through world-class publications to the Department’s and University’s international reputation for research excellence.

The successful candidate will also offer teaching in both the Department and the College, supervise undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to administration and examining.

The post will be held in conjunction with a Tutorial and Governing Body Fellowship at New College.

Appointments to Associate Professorships are confirmed as permanent on successful completion of a review during the first 5 years. Any offer made will be subject to pre-employment checks. The post is offered on a full-time basis, available from 1 September 2021 or as soon as possible thereafter.

If you wish to apply please visit the below link:

https://www.politics.ox.ac.uk/vacancy/associate-professorship-in-political-theory.html

The closing date for applications is 12.00 noon on Monday 8 February 2021. Interviews are expected to be held remotely in early March 2021.

Applications are encouraged from women and black and minority ethnic candidates, who are under-represented in academic posts in Oxford.

Start Date: Winter 2021
Date Posted: 1/14/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8483

Ashland University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Non-Tenure Track)
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Law, American Government and Politics
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, United States, History & Politics

The Department of History and Political Science at Ashland University (www.ashland.edu) seeks a broadly educated individual to fill a renewable, non-tenure track faculty position in Political Science. Preference will be given to those willing and able to teach the department’s introductory courses in U.S. history.

Position Summary:
Candidates must demonstrate excellence in and a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and must be willing to advise undergraduate theses and participate fully in the life of the department.

Position Requirements:
Successful candidate will possess (or be near to completing) a PhD in political science, with a specialization in U.S. political institutions and constitutional law.

Experience leading seminar-style discussions based on primary sources. To apply online, go to https://www.ashland.edu/administration/content/assistant-professor-political-science-non-tenure-track-college-arts-and-sciences

Please send a letter of application, current CV, three (3) letters of recommendation, writing sample, and copies of transcripts to Chair, Department of History and Political Science, at histpolsc@ashland.edu. Review of application materials will begin February 5, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

Hiring for this position is contingent on the availability of funding and/or available budget dollars.
Political Science Jobs

Furman University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Professor of Political Science
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Thought: Historical, Political Theory

The Department of Politics and International Affairs at Furman University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Thought at the rank of Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor to begin in the fall of 2021. The candidate’s teaching responsibilities will include Introduction to Political Thought and upper-level Political Thought courses. The position is open to all specialties in Political Thought, and the ideal candidate should complement the department’s existing strengths in that subfield and other areas of political science. The candidate must demonstrate the potential for superb teaching, including the ability to work with a diverse population of students, and excellence in scholarship. The Politics and International Affairs Department is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion and to being “a community in which every member is treated with dignity, and all are welcomed to participate in the life of the department and in the respectful exploration of ideas,” and the candidate should show interest in and aptitude for contributing to this endeavor. The teaching load is five courses per academic year. A Ph.D. is required by August 1, 2021.

Furman University is a selective private liberal arts and sciences college committed to helping students develop intellectually, personally, and interpersonally and providing the practical skills necessary to succeed in a rapidly changing world. Furman professors are exceptional teacher-scholars who mentor undergraduate students within a campus community that values and encourages diverse ideas and perspectives. Our recently launched strategic vision, The Furman Advantage, promises students an individualized four-year pathway facilitated by team of mentors and infused with a rich and varied set of high-impact experiences outside the classroom that include undergraduate research, study away, internships, community-focused learning, and opportunities to engage across differences. The Department of Politics and International Affairs is one of the largest at Furman, and graduates approximately 90 majors a year. Our 17 full-time faculty include many outstanding teachers and accomplished scholars. Consistent with The Furman Advantage, the department’s entrepreneurial culture and commitment to innovation has produced numerous high-impact, student-centered programs.

Furman is located in Greenville, South Carolina, which is one of the fastest growing cities in the Southeast and is ranked among “America’s Ten Best” by Forbes Magazine. The charming downtown features excellent restaurants, in-town parks, shops, museums, galleries, music venues, and theaters. The city also has excellent public and private schools and a vibrant international community. A 20-mile bike and running trail connects the university to Greenville and to Travelers Rest, which was named “one of America’s coolest small towns.” The surrounding area abounds with outdoor recreational activities and has some of the most beautiful lakes, rivers, and mountains in the country.

Greenville is within easy reach of the Blue Ridge Mountains and Atlantic beaches. The newly renovated Greenville-Spartanburg Airport, located just 25 minutes from downtown, runs daily flights to major cities and airline hubs. Greenville is 2.5 hours from Atlanta and only one hour from Asheville, North Carolina. It is an ideal place to live and work.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest containing a statement of teaching philosophy and research agenda, CV, sample course syllabi and teaching evaluations, copy of graduate transcript(s), and a sample(s) of professional writing (published, single-authored work preferred). Candidates should also include a statement describing how their teaching, scholarship, mentoring and/or service might contribute to a liberal arts college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values.

Please ask three recommenders to submit letters of recommendation to Politics and International Affairs Department Assistant Lori Schoen via interfolio (lori.schoen@furman.edu).

The deadline for submitting applications is February 1, 2021. Please contact the chairperson of the search committee, Benjamin Storey, at benjamin.storey@furman.edu, with any questions you may have.

U.S. Naval Academy, VADM Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership

Rank: Resident Fellow

Resident Fellowship in Ethics
Vice Admiral James B. Stockdale Center for Ethical Leadership
U.S. Naval Academy

The U.S. Naval Academy’s Stockdale Center invites applications for its annual Resident Fellowship Program for academic year 2021-2022.

The Secretary of the Navy and the Superintendent of the Naval Academy established the Center in 1998 to be a thought leader in the field of military ethics and leadership and serve the Naval Academy, the Naval Service and national institutions of influence.

Minimum qualifications: dissertation phase of a Ph.D. program in a humanities or social science area and U.S. citizenship. Ideal candidates will be published Ph.D. holders with university teaching experience in philosophy, political theory, international relations, public policy or history. We are especially interested in philosophy or political science Ph.D.s familiar with the ethics of using artificial intelligence in military operations and planning.

The Stockdale Center anticipates selecting up to four residential fellows, whose focus will be a weekly seminar devoted to defense-related ethics topics. Fellows will also have the opportunity to conduct additional research projects in cooperation with the Naval Academy’s civilian and military faculty members.

Application review will begin January 18, 2021. Click here to be directed to the full advertisement on the United States Naval Academy
Reed College
Rank: One-Year Visiting Appointment in Political Theory

Applications are invited for a one-year visiting appointment in Political Theory, beginning Fall 2021. Visitors are usually appointed at the assistant professor level, but more advanced candidates may be considered. Salary is competitive, including travel and research support.

Candidates are expected to teach three courses during the year, including two sections of Introduction to Political Theory along with three upper-division courses in the candidate’s principal areas of interest. We are open to a wide range of specialties in political theory including, though not necessarily limited to, the history of political thought, normative theory and comparative political theory. Our pedagogy emphasizes the conceptual and theoretical foundations of the discipline and includes supervision of senior theses. Enrollment for all of our courses is capped at 24 students, and most of our courses are conducted as seminars. We expect the Ph.D. to be in hand, or very near completion, by the start of the appointment. Above all, we seek candidates with a strong commitment to teaching excellence at the undergraduate level, a lively and serious program of scholarship, and an interest in treating their specialties explicitly in the light of broader problems in the social sciences. Information on the department is available at http://academic.reed.edu/poli_sci/. Search inquiries may be addressed to political.search@reed.edu.

Reed College is a community that believes cultural diversity is essential to the excellence of our academic program. In your application materials, we will expect a description of how you would engage and sustain the commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in Reed College’s diversity statement (http://www.reed.edu/diversity/). An Equal Opportunity Employer, Reed College values diversity and encourages applications from underrepresented groups.

Please send an application letter, CV, evidence of teaching excellence, and at least three letters of recommendation to http://apply.interfolio.com/81925. Sample syllabi are welcome but not required. Formal review of applications will begin in early January of 2021 and applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/10/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8388

Texas A&M University
Rank: Pre- and Post- Doctoral Fellowships

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

The Albritton Center for Grand Strategy at the Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University, is inviting applications to its residential fellowship program for the 2021-2022 academic year. The program will support one pre-doctoral and one post-doctoral fellow. The Albritton Center is particularly interested in scholars that are engaging with the fundamental questions surrounding grand strategy: How should the national interest be defined? What are the threats to the national interest? How should the United States use its power in response? Applications are invited from scholars of political science, history, and other relevant disciplines.

Fellows will be expected to be in residence at the Bush School for the duration of their fellowships (September 2021 - August 2022). They will be provided with office space and access to the resources of the Bush School and Texas A&M University. Fellows will participate in Center activities, to include seminars, workshops, and conferences. They will work with an active community of scholars in international affairs, political science, history, and other disciplines at Texas A&M University.

The pre-doctoral fellow is expected to make substantial progress toward – and ideally complete – a dissertation during the fellowship. The post-doctoral fellow is expected to complete a manuscript for publication. The post-doctoral fellow is also expected to teach one course to Bush School students. Finally, both fellows are asked to write a short, policy-relevant piece while in residence.

Eligibility:

Applicants for the pre-doctoral fellowship must be pursuing a Ph.D. in political science, history or other relevant discipline. Applicants must pass all qualifying exams and advance to the level of candidacy prior to the start of their appointment.

Applicants for the post-doctoral fellowship must have completed their PhD in political science, history, or other relevant discipline to begin the fellowship. Recent PhD recipients are especially encouraged to apply.

Award information:

The pre-doctoral fellow will receive a stipend of $39,000, as well as $5,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will receive a salary of $60,000 (payable monthly), as well as $10,000 in research funding. The post-doctoral fellow will also be eligible for the benefits package available to TAMU employees.

Application process:

Postdoctoral applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant’s dissertation advisor) through Texas A&M’s employment platform, Workday (https://tamus.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/TAMU_External/job/College-Station-TAMU/Postdoctoral-Research-Associate_R-033905-1). Predoctoral applicants should complete submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, short writing sample (no more than 10,000 words), and a letter of recommendation (preferably by the applicant’s dissertation advisor) to bushschoolCGS@tamu.edu.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis, with those arriving by January 29, 2021 receiving priority attention.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/10/2020
London School of Economics
Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Theory

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university.

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professor in Political Theory

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website.

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Political Theory. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Theory. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political theory, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political theory or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/3780/0/283533/15539/assistant-professor-in-political-theory

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov-HoD@lse.ac.uk.

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/4/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8360

Butler University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Political Theory

The Butler University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with expertise in contemporary political theory. The candidate should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching and an active scholarly agenda. We are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching engages critical, transnational, or global political theory beyond the conventional Western canon such as indigenous, decolonial, modernity/coloniality, Black, or Latin American political theory, and who can offer one or more courses suitable for Core Curriculum Social Justice and Diversity designation. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach political theory courses, will teach a required political science course; and will contribute to the Core Curriculum and to building an inclusive learning environment for an increasingly diverse student population. The new faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 11, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2021. Applicants should submit the following to psearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that summarizes the applicant’s scholarship and their teaching interests and highlights their commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching; a curriculum vitae; a publication or other writing sample; a statement of teaching philosophy; a list of courses taught; a sample syllabus; and a list of 3-5 references. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation; and unofficial transcripts, and may provide additional publications or writing samples. Final round candidates will be asked to provide official transcripts and to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021
Date Posted: 12/4/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8366

Butler University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Ethnic & Feminist Theory, Political Theory

The Butler University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with expertise in contemporary political theory. The candidate should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching and an active scholarly agenda. We are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching engages critical, transnational, or global political theory beyond the conventional Western canon such as indigenous, decolonial, modernity/coloniality, Black, or Latin American political theory, and who can offer one or more courses suitable for Core Curriculum Social Justice and Diversity designation. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach political theory courses, will teach a required political science course; and will contribute to the Core Curriculum and to building an inclusive learning environment for an increasingly diverse student population. The new faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 11, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2021. Applicants should submit the following to psearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that summarizes the applicant’s scholarship and their teaching interests and highlights their commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching; a curriculum vitae; a publication or other writing sample; a statement of teaching philosophy; a list of courses taught; a sample syllabus; and a list of 3-5 references. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation; and unofficial transcripts, and may provide additional publications or writing samples. Final round candidates will be asked to provide official transcripts and to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2021, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/11/2021
Date Posted: 12/4/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8366

Political Science Jobs

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8384

London School of Economics
Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Theory

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university.

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

London School of Economics and Political Science - Department of Government

Assistant Professor in Political Theory

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website.

We are recruiting for a new career-track Assistant Professor in Political Theory. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Theory. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political theory, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political theory or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish international reputation in political theory.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/3780/0/283533/15539/assistant-professor-in-political-theory

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email gov-HoD@lse.ac.uk.

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8360
Sewanee: The University of the South

Rank: Post-Doc in Political Theory

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for a postdoctoral fellowship in political theory to begin August 2021. The position is for one year, renewable for a second. The Department is also hiring for a postdoctoral position in public policy, so academic couples are welcome to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching and research productivity appropriate to the rank of appoint- ment. The teaching load is reduced to three courses per year. New faculty members have opportunity for teaching mentorship through the Center for Teaching and designing community engagement curricula through collaboration with the Carnegie-recognized Office of Community Engagement. In addition to the ability to teach introductory courses in political theory, we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in their area of specialization and connect them to our existing major concentrations.

The University of the South comprises a well-regarded College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. The University is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennesse’s Cumberland Plateau.

The University of the South stands firmly for the principle that its employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have a right to be free from discrimination based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, pregnancy and childbirth, and genetic information. As required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or other protected categories in the educational programs or activities which it operates. This requirement of non-discrimination extends to admission to and employment in those programs or activities. The University is committed to sustaining a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Key to this value are efforts to nurture an environment of civility and mutual respect and to foster a culture of reporting concerns so that the University can respond promptly and equitably whenever an incident occurs. All employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have the right to be free from harassment and retaliation.

For preliminary review, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement demonstrating how they can contribute to faculty diversity, such as through membership in a group that is historically underrepresented in a particular area of study, training, or other experience. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/4430. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. For full consideration, please submit materials by December 15, 2020.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/12/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8277

Salisbury University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Salisbury University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a full time, 10-month position.

Primary Job Duties: The Department seeks candidates whose expertise is in one or more of the following fields: racial and ethnic politics, political theory, and law and judicial politics. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level courses in political theory and/or American politics (political institutions and behavior and courses in the Law, Justice and Advocacy minor). The candidate will also be able to teach a research methods course. Academic advising and student mentoring are also expected as well as ongoing scholarly activities. The teaching load is 3-3 of 4 credit hour courses.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science. If ABD, applicant would be hired at the rank of Instructor and must complete doctoral degree by: May 2022. Demonstrated evidence of a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of a commitment to political engagement, an active research agenda, curriculum development, and undergraduate research mentorship.

Applications received by October 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. The position will remain open until filled. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Appointment will be contingent upon verification of eligibility to work in the U.S. and is expected to begin August 2021. Please visit our website http://www.salisbury.edu/HR/careers/ to apply online. See the FAQs of the Online Employment Application System for more information and instructions.

To be considered an applicant, you must apply online and submit the following: 1) A letter of interest; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statements of research and teaching interests; 4) unofficial transcripts; 5) the names and contact information of at least three professional references. All documents must be submitted with your application in the online employment application system. Questions about the position should be directed to the search chair, Dr. Sarah Surak at smsurak@salisbur- y.edu.

This position is based in Salisbury, MD, an area with a culturally diverse population with rich cultural experiences. Salisbury University, a member of the University System of Maryland is a regionally accredited four-year comprehensive institution offering 60 distinct graduate and undergraduate programs. Founded in 1925, Salisbury University features a beautiful campus close to ocean beaches and the Chesapeake Bay and 2-3 hours from the metropolitan areas of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. SU is consistently ranked among the nation’s top colleges and ‘best values’ by U.S. News and World Report, The Princeton Review and other publications. SU has 440 full-time faculty members serving a student population of approximately 8700.

Diversity and inclusion are core values of Salisbury University. We strive to create a truly diverse and inclusive environment where the richness of ideas, backgrounds, and perspectives of our community is harnessed to create value for our University community to include students, faculty, and staff, today and in the future. To this end, the University recruits exceptional and diverse faculty, staff, and students from across Maryland, the United States, and around the world, supporting all members of the University community as they work together to achieve institutional goals and vision. To learn more about the University’s commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus, please visit http://www.salisbury.edu/equity/.

Applications will be accepted via Salisbury University’s online employment application system.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/30/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7950

---

Shanghai University of Finance and Economics
Rank: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Political Theory

Job Title: Assistant and Associate Professors of Political Science - Tenure Track

School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA)
Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUF)

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: The School of Public Economics and Administration (SPEA) at Shanghai University of Finance and Economics (SUF) seeks applicants for two tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of assistant or associate (non-tenured) professor. The employment starts in Fall semester of 2021. The openings are in the field of comparative politics, research methodology, and political theory. Candidates who have a research focus on issues of public policy are strongly encouraged to apply for the position. A completed Ph.D. in Political Science is required before the employment. Applicants should demonstrate their potentials to employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to answer important theoretical questions in the field. Although the working environment in SUFE is international, the ability to communicate fluently in Mandarin Chinese is highly preferred.

The position is a full-time appointment for a period of six years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted after five years of employment. The tenure-track faculty are expected to publish research on highly reputable international journals, offer high-quality teaching to undergraduate and graduate students, and contribute to the development of political science at SUFE. The rules of evaluation and promotion are standardized at the university and similar to those for tenure positions in a regular American university.

We offer a globally competitive salary based on a full-time appointment and depending on experience and knowledge. The starting salary is 380,000 RMB for entry-level appointment, pending university approval. The offer also includes a broad package of fringe benefits (240K RMB housing subsidy, medical insurance, moving expenses, startup fund, and travel grants) per university regulation.

Institution background: Shanghai University of Finance and Economics, founded in 1917, is a top-ranked research university in China. The university has recruited more than 200 faculty members with overseas Ph.D. degrees. SPEA has 20 faculty members who own overseas Ph.D. degrees. The university and the school have developed a competitive and collegial environment for junior scholars trained overseas. The university has decided to establish and develop a strong political science program in the Thirteenth Five-Year Plan. The newly established Institute of Political Science has eight members who hold a Ph.D. degree from overseas.

Application documents: Your application must contain the following documents (all in English):
1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae including a publication list;
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Up to three working papers;
5. And names and contact information of three references.

The deadline for accepting applications is September 31, 2020, for this round of recruitment. We will arrange on-site interviews at SUFE or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Wechat during November and December 2020.

Contact: Please send your application and request to recruit committee at polscisufe@gmail.com.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/14/2020
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 7872

---

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
Northeastern University
Rank: Open Rank Assistant/Associate/Full Teaching Professor

Responsibilities:

The School’s graduate offerings include a NASPAA-accredited MPA program founded in 1969 and a growing MPP. Both programs are delivered on Northeastern’s Boston campus and online. The successful candidate will have demonstrated excellence in teaching at the graduate level in one or more core areas of public administration and public policy, including public administration theory, public management, techniques of policy analysis, program evaluation, nonprofit management, and comparative public administration. Experience in online teaching is expected, and an ability to teach statistics and research methods is desired.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

A Ph.D. in Public Administration, Political Science, or a related field is required by the appointment start date.

How to Apply: Applications should include a cover letter that addresses the applicant’s interest in and qualifications for the position, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including a syllabus from a relevant course), and contact information for three letters of recommendation. Questions should be addressed to Professor Christopher Bosso, Search Committee Chair, c.bosso@northeastern.edu

To apply, please go to http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions and click on the link for full-time positions or full-time interdisciplinary positions or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click “Apply to this job.” Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.
Applications received by March 1, 2021 will be assured full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 5/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8531

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Part Time Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year 2021-2022

CSUN’s Commitment to You:
CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: http:// www.csun.edu

About the College:
For information about the College, visit our website at: https://www.
csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences

About the Department:
For information about the department, visit our website at: https:// www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:

Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Qualifications:

1) With the exception of POLS 347, 450, 455, 457A, 457B & 471F, applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in Political Science or related field in the field of American Government, Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Research Methodology, depending on the course for which the applicant is applying to teach.

2) For POLS 347, 450, 455, 457A, 457B, & 471F a JD may be substituted for the Ph.D.

3) University teaching experience in the fields of American Government, International Relations, Comparative Politics or Research Methodology, depending on the course for which the applicant is applying to teach.

4) A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Salary Range
Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)
Paid in 6 monthly installments

Current Courses or Specialization
(Specify time if appropriate)

Lower division courses in:
(1) POLS155, American Political Institutions (2) POLS156 . Introduction to Comparative Politics
(3) POLS 197, Ethnic Politics
(4) POLS 225, Elements of International Relations

Upper division courses in:
(1) POLS 310, Problems of Political Economy
(2) POLS 321, Comparative Political Ideologies
(3) POLS 332, Politics of Latin America
(4) POLS 347, The Judicial Process
(5) POLS 350, Great Questions in Politic
(6) POLS 355, American National, State and Local Governments
(7) POLS 360, Public Administration
(8) POLS 361, Introduction to Public Policy
(9) POLS 372, Principles and Methods of Political Science
(10) POLS 380, LA: Past, Present, Future
(11) POLS 403, State and Local Government
(12) POLS 404, Urban Politics
(13) POLS 405, The Process of Public Policy Formation
(14) POLS 406, Fundamentals of Policy Analysis
(15) POLS 407, Policy Implementation and Program Evaluation (16)
POLS 410, Advanced Comparative Politics
(17) POLS 411, Greek, Roman, and Medieval Political Theory (18)
POLS 412, Modern Western Political Theory
(19) POLS 413, American Political Thought
(20) POLS 414, Western Political Theory in the 20th Century (21)
POLS 420A-H, International Relations of Selected Areas
(A)Intl Rel Lat Amer
(B) Intl Rel W Eur
(C) Intl Rel E Eur
(D) Intl Rel Mid East
(E) Intl Rel Africa
(F) Intl Rel So Asia
(G) Intl Rel SE Asia
(H) Intl Rel SE Asia
(22) POLS 421, The Politics of Development
(23) POLS 422, International Politics
(24) POLS 423, Security Studies
(25) POLS 426, International Law
(26) POLS 427A/L, Model United Nations I and Lab
(27) POLS 427B/L, Model United Nations II and Lab

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

February 2021
Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 – 2022: March 26, 2021

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:
Dr. Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street
Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

(Checklist) PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:
155 American Political Institutions
156 Introduction to Comparative Politics
197 Ethnic Politics
225 Elements of International Relations
310 Problems of Political Economy
321 Comparative Political Ideologies
332 Politics of Latin America
347 The Judicial Process
350 Great Questions in Politics
355 American National, State and Local Govts
360 Public Administration
361 Introduction to Public Policy
372 Principles and Methods of Political Science
380 Los Angeles: Past, Present, Future
403 State and Local Government
404 Urban Politics
405 The Process of Public Policy Formation
406 Fundamentals of Policy Analysis
407 Policy Implementation and Program Evaluation
410 Advanced Comparative Politics
411 Greek, Roman and Medieval Political Theory
412 Modern Western Political Theory
413 American Political Thought
414 Western Political Theory in the 20th Century
420A-H International Relations of Selected Areas
(A) International Relations Latin America
(B) International Relations Western Europe
(C) International Relations Eastern Europe
(D) International Relations Middle East
(E) International Relations Africa
(F) International Relations South Asia
(G) International Relations Southeast Asia
(H) International Relations Northeast Asia
421 The Politics of Development
422 International Politics
423 Security Studies
426 International Law
427A/L Model United Nations I and Lab
nia State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, Califor-

In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report

General Information:

571 Seminar in Methodology
570 Seminar in Political Theory
540A-J Seminar in American Govt and Politics
530A-J Seminar in Comparative Government
522A-G Seminar in International Relations
496SP Sports and Politics
496IN Political Development of Intellectual Property Law
494J Judicial Internship
494I Political Science Internship
490CA Supervised Independent Project - CA Gov't
480 The Politics of Globalization
467 Urban Administration
466 The Politics of Public Spending
465 Administrative Behavior
464 Comparative Public Policy
463 Public Personnel Administration
462 Ethics in Politics and Administration
461 Environmental Policy
460 Welfare State
459/L City Planning and Lab
458 The Politics of Community Action
457A Constitutional Law I
457B Constitutional Law II
456 The Presidency
455 Criminal Procedure
454 Treaty Law
453 International Organizations
452 The International System
451 The American Experience
450 Jurisprudence
449 Women & Politics in the US and the World
448 The Politics of Community Action
447A Media and Politics
446 The Presidency
445 Political Behavior
444 Elections and Voting Behavior
443 The Legislative Process
442 Women, Men, and Politics
441 Interest Groups
440 American Political Parties and Politics
439A Government and Politics of Sub-Saharan Africa
439B Government and Politics of Southern Africa
438 Governments and Politics of the Middle East
437 Government and Politics of Central Asia
436A Government and Politics of Europe
435B Government and Politics of Japan
435A Government and Politics of China
434B Government and Politics of Southeast Asia
434A Government and Politics of South Asia
433A The Politics of Central America
432A Politics of Mexico
432B Governments and Politics of South America
432A Political Theory
431A The Politics of Latin America
430A-Z Government and Politics of Selected Nations
429 United States Foreign Policy
428 International Organization
427B/L Model United Nations II and Lab

Political Science Jobs

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Part Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science
Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year 2021-2022

CSUN’s Commitment to You:
CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: http://www.csun.edu

About the College:
For information about the College, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences

About the Department:
For information about the department, visit our website at: https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/26/2021
Date Posted: 1/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8514
ANTICIPATED NEEDS:
Instructors for in-person Washington, D.C.-based classes in support of the CSUN in DC Internship Program. Specific classes are listed below.
Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Current Salary Range:
Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)
Paid in 6 monthly installments

Courses or Specialization:
Upper division courses in:
1. POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
2. POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
3. POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
4. POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Qualifications:
Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy or must have at least 10 years of professional experience working in government, politics, non-profit management, or advocacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in their field.
University teaching experience is strongly preferred.
A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Application Process:
Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 - 2022: March 26, 2021

(List)PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:
__POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
__POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
__POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
__POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Application Deadline:
For AY 2021 – 2022: March 26, 2021

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:
Dr. Tom Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street

Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

General Information:
In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8515

University of Oklahoma
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The University of Oklahoma invites applications for a tenure-track position in public administration at the assistant professor level beginning in August 2021. We seek candidates with a broad competence in public administration and whose research and/or teaching is inclusive of countries outside of the United States. The selected candidate will contribute to our core courses in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program and be able to teach public administration courses from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US, as part of our efforts to have more courses that expose students to the diversity of politics and governments across the world. We are open as to substantive focus, but we are especially interested in candidates with expertise in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration.

This position is within the Department of Political Science, a large department with two undergraduate majors (Political Science and Public & Nonprofit Administration), multiple minors, two master degree programs (Public Administration & Political Science, with the MPA offered in Norman and Tulsa), and a doctoral program. The department is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Oklahoma. The University of Oklahoma is the flagship research institution for the state of Oklahoma, enrolling over 30,000 students, located in Norman, OK, a vibrant college town just 20 miles south of Oklahoma City.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, and completed by August 2021, have the ability to contribute to the MPA core curriculum, and ability to teach public administration from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration, show evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, have teaching experience, especially in an online format. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, teaching statement, unofficial graduate transcript(s) (official transcript will be required for finalist), writing sample, contact information for three references. Three letters of recommendation will be required for candidates who progress past the first screening. Review of applications will begin February 18, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Any questions can be emailed to the search committee chairs, Dr. Alisa Fryar ahicklin@ou.edu and Dr. Charles Kenney kchenney@ou.edu. Applicants must apply online at http://apply.interfolio.com/82689.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8513

West Virginia University
Rank: Director of Institute for Policy Research and Public Affairs
Subfield(s): Administration, Public Policy, Public Administration
Job No. 16108

West Virginia University (WVU) seeks a visionary and enterprising leader to serve as the inaugural Director of the Institute for Policy Research and Public Affairs affiliated with Eberly College of Arts and Sciences and the John D. Rockefeller, Jr. School of Policy and Politics. This is a tenured faculty position at the rank of Professor or Associate Professor in the Eberly College. The Director will lead a new initiative to advance public policy and public affairs research and translational activities. This initiative is one of three divisions planned to be established within the Rockefeller School. The other two deal with academic programs and engaged learning and service. In addition to the duties outlined below, the Director would work closely with WVU leadership to help fully establish the Rockefeller School.

As Director, the successful applicant will support faculty and researchers across complementary disciplines to collaboratively build research capacity in public policy. They will strengthen related resources, build on expertise and research capabilities that currently exist across campus, increase externally sponsored research in social and public policy, as well as create partnerships with foundations, industry, government agencies and other universities. As part of this effort, the Director will be expected to recruit Research Fellows to work within the school. In addition to Departments affiliated with the Rockefeller School, Research Fellows may be recruited from within other WVU programs and external institutions and agencies. The Director will connect policy research to the teaching and outreach mission of the Rockefeller School and will report to the office of the Dean of the Eberly College. The Director will have a dedicated administrative assistant as well as support for graduate research students.

Qualifications include a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in Public Policy, Political Science, Public Administration, or a closely related field; a sustained record of externally funded research in the area of public policy; a record of multidisciplinary scholarship; ability to translate academic research into information for public dissemination and engagement; a record of successful administrative leadership; ability to work collaboratively in a diverse environment with a range of faculty, students, administrators, and external constituents to reach a common goal; ability to develop partnerships with foundations and industry in support of the Institute’s programs; understanding of WVU’s mission as a land-grant institution; ability to manage budgets and establish fiscal priorities; strong written and oral communication skills; and an established record of research and teaching that will merit appointment at, or promotion to, the rank of Professor or Associate Professor with a grant of tenure at WVU.

WVU is a comprehensive land grant university with approximately 30,000 students and is classified by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education as a very high research (R1) Institution. The Rockefeller School of Policy and Politics currently consists of 21 tenured and tenure-track faculty and is affiliated with the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences.

To apply for this position, please visit http://hr.research.wvu.edu and click on the “View Jobs” link. Qualified applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a description of the applicant’s potential to further our progress in building a diverse and inclusive academic community (which will be evaluated without regard to the applicant’s personal demographics), and contact information for three references. The cover letter should address the applicant’s qualifications for each aspect of the responsibilities listed above. For questions or additional information, contact Prof. Duncan Lorimer via e-mail: duncan.lorimer@mail.wvu.edu. The screening process will begin on March 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University community of Morgantown offers plentiful educational opportunities as well as recreational outlets, is within easy driving distance of Pittsburgh, PA, and is about 200 miles northwest of Washington, D.C. WVU is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and the recipient of an NSF ADVANCE award for gender equity. The university is committed to diversity and welcomes applications from all qualified individuals, including minorities, females, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/14/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8486

National University of Singapore
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Position in Governance & Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in Governance and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all areas of the field (e.g. public policy, public administration, policy analysis), and we
The Department of Political Science (https://fass.nus.edu.sg/pol/) has a strong faculty of about twenty-five scholars working in all major areas of political science. Faculty and students can also take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Yale-NUS College, and various research institutes, including the Asia-Europe Foundation and the Institutes of South Asian and Southeast Asian Studies as well as other parts of the University. NUS (http://www.nus.edu.sg/) is a leader in research and higher education in Asia and is located in a thriving and livable global city.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date: Application Deadline: 1/31/2021
Date Posted: 12/15/2020
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 8402

University of Rhode Island
Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in the area of Public Administration with a specialization in Public Management or Public Policy. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2021.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI’s mission is to “inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance.” Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES
Applicants will be expected to teach graduate-level political science courses in the area of Public Management or Public Policy that serve as requirements for an online Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree with online graduate certificates in Policy Analysis and Public Management. Applicants will also teach undergraduate political science courses on Public Administration, Public Management, Public Policy, and other areas of expertise.

Expected to publish original research in the field of Public Administration and Public Policy, support the governance and administration of an MPA program that is preparing to begin the process of NASPAA-accreditation, work with diverse populations, and advise students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:
1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2021, in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy.
2) Primary or secondary specialization in the area of Public Management or a specialized public policy-related field.
3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience.
4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching graduate-level MPA courses in at least two of the following: Seminar in Public Administration and Policy, Ethics in Public Administration and Policy, Public Personnel Management, Public Budgeting and Finance, Public Policy, or other Public Management courses.
5) Demonstrated ability to teach undergraduate political science courses in at least one of the following areas: Public Administration, Public Management, or Public Policy.
6) Evidence of research in the field of Public Administration or Public Policy with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.
7) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS
1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: ethics in public administration or policy, performance management, representative bureaucracy, leadership, information and technology management, local government management, specific policy-related fields, or race and inequality.
2) Evidence of online instruction or extensive training in online pedagogy.
3) Ability to teach on race, gender, or inequality.
4) Experience advising students or ability to oversee a robust internship program.

The application deadline is January 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/7600

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online application:
1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position.
2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document).
3) A brief research and teaching statement (as one complete pdf document).
4) “Other Document” - A statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion reflecting on URI’s mission to “inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance” (as one complete pdf document).
5) “Other” - If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work (Document is Optional).
London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university.

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website.

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science, one in Political Behaviour and one in Public Policy and Administration.

Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. We are open to all methodological approaches.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/42000/0/283547/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-pb-and-ppa

If you have any technical queries with applying on the online system, please use the “contact us” links at the bottom of the LSE Jobs page. Should you have any queries about the role, please email HoD@lse.ac.uk

The closing date for receipt of applications is 15 January 2021 (23.59 UK time). Regrettably, we are unable to accept any late applications.

Shortlisted candidates will have a virtual interview and present their research between February 2021 and May 2021.

Eastern Michigan University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Michigan University invites applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level, beginning August 2021.

Qualified candidates will be able to contribute to our NAASPA-accredited MPA program and to at least one of the undergraduate majors housed within the Department of Political Science. Area of specialization is open, but our leading needs are in public policy and state and local government.

Candidates must have a doctoral degree or be ABD in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Policy, or other relevant field and demonstrate a strong commitment to teaching, research, and service. ABD candidates must be nearing completion and should have an expected graduation date before the time of appointment. Expertise should be demonstrated through doctoral transcripts and/or professional experience, and candidates should show a commitment to teaching and working with individuals from diverse backgrounds and to furthering the diversity and inclusion missions of the department, college, and university.

Applications received by December 15 are guaranteed full consideration, however the position will remain open until filled. Applications must be made at http://agency.governmentjobs.com/emichedu/default.cfm. A complete application should include a cover letter discussing your teaching and research interests/experience, curriculum vitae, sample(s) of scholarship, course syllabi, student evaluations (if available), and graduate transcripts. Items can be combined in files for uploading. At least three current letters of recommendation should be sent separately to the search committee at political.science@emich.edu.

EMU is located in Ypsilanti, Michigan. Its close proximity to Detroit, Ann Arbor and Lansing provides rich cultural, social and recreational opportunities. EMU was founded in 1849 and is a comprehensive university with an enrollment of over 17,000 students. EMU is an equal opportunity employer and is recognized by U.S. News and World Report for its diverse campus environment.

For additional information, please contact the search committee chair, Tucker Staley, at tstaley2@emich.edu.

PUBLIC LAW

University of Colorado, Colorado Springs

Rank: Visiting Distinguished Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Law

Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The Center for the Study of Government and the Individual at the University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS) is currently seeking a full-time visiting distinguished professor. This position is part of the Program on the American Constitution, which is part of the Regents Civics Initiative. To be successful, a candidate will be a distinguished scholar in American politics. The ideal candidate will be a scholar on sabbatical from his or her home institution, and the center will cover the part of the salary not being covered from the candidate’s home institution along with ancillary costs. The scholar in this position will teach an advanced course for CSGI Honors Scholars and other distinguished students. Both one-semester and full-year appointments are possible.

Who We Are:

The University of Colorado Colorado Springs (UCCS) is one of four campuses in the University of Colorado system and is home to over 10,500 undergraduate and 1,900 graduate students.

Colorado Springs (pop. 400K+) is situated at the base of Pikes Peak, offers many recreational and cultural activities and was recently ranked by U.S. News & World Report as one of the top Best Places to Live in the U.S.

This position has been determined to be exempt from the overtime provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).

What We Offer:

The University of Colorado Colorado Springs offers a comprehensive benefits package. Information on benefits programs, including eligibility, is located at: http://www.cu.edu/employee-services.

Tentative Search Timeline:

The potential dates for interviews with the search committee will be the week of February 8, 2021.

The potential dates for interviews with the supervisor and appointing authority will be the week of February 22, 2021.

The potential employee start date is August 15, 2021.

The University of Colorado Colorado Springs is committed to providing a safe and productive learning, living and working community.

To assist in achieving this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial and/or motor vehicle history check.

UCCS is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. In compliance with applicable laws and in furtherance of its commitment to fostering an environment that welcomes and embraces diversity, the University of Colorado does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, disability, age, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, political affiliation or political philosophy in its programs or activities, including employment, admissions, and educational programs. Alternative formats of this ad can be provided upon request for individuals with disabilities by contacting the Office of Human Resources at (719) 255-3372.

To perform this job successfully, an individual must be able to perform each of the established essential functions and meet the physical and environmental demands described satisfactorily. The requirements listed are representative of the knowledge, skill, ability, physical and environmental conditions required of the employee on the job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions, physical and environmental demands.

Applicants with disabilities: If you have a mental or physical impairment, which limits one of your major life activities (e.g. walking, hearing, seeing, speaking, breathing, or learning) and require special accommodations for testing or interviewing, it is your responsibility to notify the office scheduling the interview or test at least 3 working days before the interview or test date. If you need special accommodations at the work site, you must notify the appointing authority or Human Resources.

The Immigration Reform and Control Act requires that verification of employment eligibility be documented for all new employees by the end of the third day of work.

Qualifications

Minimum Requirements:

PhD

Established scholar with a national reputation

Physical Requirements:

While performing the duties of this job, the employee is frequently required to stand and walk. Employee is occasionally required to have long periods of sitting, moderate bending, moderate energy requirements and fine motor skills. The employee must occasionally lift and/or move up to 20 pounds.

Special Instructions to Applicants: • Applications submitted by Friday, January 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. • Applications submitted through email or surface mail will not be considered. Please apply at CU www.cu.edu/cu-careers (job #: 19385). • Upon request, please be prepared to provide five professional references (at least two previous/current supervisors), including their email contact information. • Official transcripts will be required upon hire.

If you have technical difficulties with your application, please contact the CU Careers help desk at 303-860-4200 #5 or cucareershelp@cu.edu. Job related inquiries should be directed to the posting contact. The University of Colorado Colorado Springs will not sponsor work visas or permanent resident applications for this position.

Application Materials Required: Cover Letter, Resume/CV

Application Materials Instructions: To apply, please submit the following application materials to this posting. 1. A current CV/resume. Must include date ranges and whether the position was full time or part time. 2. A cover letter that specifically addresses the job requirements and outlines qualifications. When submitting the materials, check the Job Specific Attachments box next to each document in order for the search committee members to see your materials.

Job Category: Faculty

Primary Location: Colorado Springs

Department: C0001 -- Colorado Springs Campus - 40364 - AA-Cntr Study of Govt & Indiv

Schedule: Part-time
Wheaton College
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2021. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu. Interests about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning February 15, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by February 15, 2021.

Indian University Kokomo
Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

The Department of History, Political Science, and Philosophy at Indiana University Kokomo invites applications for a visiting lecturer in Political Science beginning August 1, 2021 and for the 2021-22 academic year. Candidates must hold at minimum a master’s degree with 18 graduate hours in Political Science; however, a Ph.D. is preferred. An appropriate level of university, professional, and community service is required, such as committee work, assessment of the major, and engagement in campus initiatives to increase retention and enrollment.

The course load will be four classes per semester. Typically, this will break down as two sections of Intro to American Politics, one of a three-course sequence (Intro to Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Political Theory), and an upper-level class. Preference will be for the ability to offer upper-level courses on topics of United States politics such as: political institutions; campaigns and elections; civic engagement; race, ethnicity, and politics; gender and politics; public policy; and law and courts. Willingness to teach some classes online and experience doing so are also desirable. The deadline for full consideration is February 1, 2021, but applications will be taken until the position is filled.

One of eight campuses of Indiana University, Indiana University Kokomo is a comprehensive, non-residential campus located 50 miles north of Indianapolis in Kokomo, Indiana, a city of a population of about 50,000. Committed to student success, the campus serves approximately 3,100. IU Kokomo has approximately 260 full-time faculty and staff. Baccalaureate and master’s degrees are offered. Additional information about Indiana University Kokomo can be accessed at http://www.iuk.edu. Persons with disabilities who need assistance to participate in this application process should contact the Office of Affirmative Action at 765-455-9316.

Indiana University Kokomo seeks faculty skilled at working with members of diverse cultures and committed to preparing students to be engaged members of an increasingly diverse society.

Interested candidates should review the application requirement and submit their application at https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/10280. The application must include a cover letter, current CV, and three professional reference letters. Questions regarding the position or application process can be directed to Andrew McFarland, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History, Chair, Department of History, Philosophy, and Political Science, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, ammcfar@iuk.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8465

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Lehigh University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The faculty members in the Department of Political Science at Lehigh University are seeking applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in August 2021. The successful candidate will possess a doctoral degree in Political science with a specialization in constitutional and public law. The teaching load for this position is two four-credit courses per semester. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required by the date of hire. The successful candidate will work closely with the pre-law advisor in the Career Services office. In addition, the individual hired will play an instrumental role in the department’s annual Tresolini Lecture in Law series (more details are available at https://polisci.cas.lehigh.edu/content/tresolini-lectures).

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, research statement, and teaching statement via Academic Jobs Online (https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17841). Applicants are required to describe how they will contribute to a diverse and equitable community in their letters of interest. Applicants should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via (https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17841).

Serving approximately 85 undergraduate majors and 15 graduate students, the Department of Political Science offers a B.A. and M.A. degree as well as a Master of Public Policy. Interested applicants are invited to visit the Political Science Department website: https://polisci.cas.lehigh.edu/

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation’s highly ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for nearly 7,000 students. Lehigh University has some 5,000 undergraduates, 2,000 graduate students, and about 550 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA., a vibrant and historic area. Over 820,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia. Lehigh University ranks in the top 50 among national universities in U.S. News & World Report ratings and is in the most competitive category in both Peterson’s Guide and Barron’s Profiles of American Colleges. The university is located on a scenic, 1,600-acre campus in historic Bethlehem in a region of eastern Pennsylvania (USA) known as the Lehigh Valley. About 90 minutes from New York and Philadelphia, the Lehigh Valley is an attractive place to live and work with reasonable cost of living, easy commuting, good schools, and abundant cultural activities.

The colleagues and staff in the College of Arts and Sciences at Lehigh University are committed to increasing the diversity of the college community and curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to that goal are encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths or experiences in this area. Lehigh University is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Applications from women and minorities are encouraged. Lehigh offers excellent benefits including domestic partner benefits. Please see Lehigh Work/Life Balance for Faculty: https://www.lehigh.edu/-/imprv/faculty/worklifebalance.html.

Review of applications will begin on February 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position should be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Terry-Ann Jones, at tej320@lehigh.edu.

Ashland University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Non-Tenure Track)

The Department of History and Political Science at Ashland University (www.ashland.edu) seeks a broadly educated individual to fill a renewable, non-tenure track faculty position in Political Science. Preference will be given to those willing and able to teach the department’s introductory courses in U.S. history.

Position Summary:

Candidates must demonstrate excellence in and a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and must be willing to advise undergraduate theses and participate fully in the life of the department.

Position Requirements:

Successful candidate will possess (or be near to completing) a PhD in political science, with a specialization in U.S. political institutions and constitutional law.

Experience leading seminar-style discussions based on primary sources. To apply online, go to https://www.ashland.edu/administration/content/assistant-professor-political-science-non-tenure-track-college-arts-and-sciences

Please send a letter of application, current CV, three (3) letters of recommendation, writing sample, and copies of transcripts to Chair, Department of History and Political Science, at histpolsc@ashland.edu. Review of application materials will begin February 5, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

Hiring for this position is contingent on the availability of funding and/or available budget dollars.

California State University, San Bernardino

Rank: Assistant Professor in Constitutional Law and American Politics

California State University, San Bernardino (CSUSB) is located in San Bernardino in the Inland Empire, 60 miles east of Los Angeles and operates a satellite campus in Palm Desert located in Coachella Valley. CSUSB serves approximately 20,000 students, of which 81% are first-generation college students and graduates about 5,000 students annually. As a designated Hispanic Serving Institution, CSUSB reflects the dynamic diversity of the region and has one of the most diverse student populations of any university in the Inland Empire. and the second highest Hispanic enrollment of all public universities in California. CSUSB employs 467 full-time faculty and offers 48 undergraduate, 35 graduate, and one doctoral degree programs and 14 academic programs with national accreditation.

At CSUSB, diversity, equity and inclusion are values central to our mission. We recognize that diversity and inclusion in all its forms are necessary for our institutional success. By fully leveraging our diverse experiences, backgrounds and insights, we inspire innovation, challenge the status quo and create better outcomes for our students and community. As part of CSUSB’s commitment to hire, develop and retain a diverse faculty, we offer a variety of networking, mentoring and development programs for our junior faculty. We are committed to building and sustaining a CSUSB community that is supportive and inclusive of all individuals. Qualified applicants with experience in ethnically diverse settings and/or who demonstrate a commitment to serving diverse student populations are strongly encouraged to apply. CSUSB has received the Carnegie Community Engagement classification, which recognizes CSUSB’s ongoing commitment to service-learning, a high-impact practice that combines classroom instruction with meaningful volunteer service and correlates strongly to student success.

JOB SUMMARY
The Department of Political Science seeks applicants for a tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of Constitutional Law, including civil liberties and civil rights, and American Politics, including political institutions and public policy, to begin in the Fall Semester of 2021. A Ph.D. is required at the time of appointment. We expect successful candidates for this tenure-track position to teach courses in Constitutional Law and American Politics. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach lower-division American Government courses. In addition, the candidate may be asked to teach graduate courses. The successful candidate will produce scholarly research and provide service to the university and community.

TYPICAL ACTIVITIES
Preferred candidates will be expected to meet the traditional requirements of excellence in teaching, active scholarly and professional work, mentoring a diverse student population, and service to the university and community.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS
Candidates must hold Ph.D. in Political Science or related field at time of employment and demonstrate evidence of teaching and research promise.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS
The person holding this position is considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Following a conditional offer of employment, a background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate may start work with CSUSB. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may result in the withdrawal of the offer of employment. Note: CSUSB cannot deny an applicant a position solely or in part due to a criminal conviction history until it has performed an individualized assessment and linked the relevant conviction history with specific job duties in the position being sought.

Please note: Current employees who are offered positions on campus will be required to undergo a background check for any position where a background check is required by law or that CSUSB has designated as sensitive. Sensitive positions are those requiring heightened scrutiny of individuals holding the position based on potential for harm to children, concerns for the safety and security of people, animals, or property, or heightened risk of financial loss to CSUSB or individuals in the university community.

For health and well-being, CSUSB is a smoke & tobacco-free campus. The university is committed to promoting a healthy environment for all members of our community.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT
To find out more about the Department of Political Science: http://csbs.csusb.edu/political-science.

For more information regarding the position, please contact:

Recruitment Chair
Dr. Meredith Conroy
(909) 537-5414
mconroy@csusb.edu.

Department Chair
Dr. Brian Janiskee
(909) 537-5538
janiskee@csusb.edu

HOW TO APPLY
Please submit
1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Cover Letter that includes: a. A statement of your teaching interests/philosophy
b. A statement of your research experience/plans
3. If available, evidence of teaching effectiveness such as teaching portfolios, reports on teaching observations, and/or student evaluations of teaching.
4. Unofficial copies of all postsecondary degree transcripts (official transcripts will be required prior to appointment).
5. Reference List - names, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three (3) referees whom we may contact to obtain letters of recommendation. Confidential letters of recommendation will be solicited from those listed as references on the application if the applicant is moved forward in the recruitment process. Non-confidential letters of recommendation can be uploaded by the applicant during the application process.
6. Diversity Statement, which may include your interpretation of diversity, equity and inclusion, and must include specific examples of how your background and your educational and/or professional experiences have prepared you for this role at California State University, San Bernardino (maximum 1,000 words).

Formal review of applications will begin January 31, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

If you are interested in this opportunity, we invite you to apply by using this CSU Recruitment hyperlink at:

Salary is commensurate with experience.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a ‘mandated reporter’ under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

California State University, San Bernardino is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status. This position adheres to CSU policies against Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, and Sexual Violence, including Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking. This requires completion of Sexual Violence Prevention Training within 6 months of assuming employment and on a two-year basis thereafter. (Executive Order 1096)

This position may be “Designated” under California State University’s Conflict of Interest Code. This would require the filing of a Statement of Economic Interest on an annual basis and the completion of training within 6 months of assuming office and every 2 years thereafter. Visit the Human Resources Conflict of Interest webpage link for additional information: https://www.cusbs.edu/human-resources/current-employees/employee-relations/conflict-interest

Start Date: Fall 2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8454

San Diego State University
Rank: Public Law and Race in America
Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Judicial Politics, American Politics

The Political Science Department at San Diego State University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law and Race in America at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin Fall 2021. Applicants should demonstrate a well-developed research agenda, a promise of sustained scholarship and a record of effective teaching.

The department seeks a scholar who does research on the evolving role of law in both shaping and challenging racist structures and attitudes toward racial minorities, especially African Americans. The scholar should demonstrate a capacity to engage underlying normative issues and debates on such themes. Within the framework of law and race in America, topics of interest may include but are not limited to protest movements, economic justice, gender and sexuality, legal mobilization, the U.S. Constitution, and comparative analyses. The department is open to a diversity of scholarly approaches, including but not limited to Critical Race Theory and Law and Society. The successful candidate will be able to teach a range of courses in public law as well as courses on the intersection of politics and race.

The Political Science Department at San Diego State is dedicated to the ideal of the engaged teacher-scholar. It has over five hundred undergraduate majors and provides course offerings for students with a wide variety of backgrounds and interests. At the graduate level, the department maintains an M.A. program of high quality. The members of the faculty share a strong commitment to collegiality, active participation in the governing of the department, innovative scholarship, methodological pluralism, rigorous teaching, and robust intellectual and normative engagement. Candidates are encouraged to consult the department website: http://politicalscience.sdsu.edu/

San Diego State University is the largest university in San Diego and the third largest in California. The highly diverse campus community has a student population of over 36,000 and approximately 5,849 faculty and staff. SDSU is included in the Carnegie Foundation’s Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity category. Established in 1897, SDSU offers bachelor degrees in 84 areas, masters in 76 and doctorates in 21. See http://www.sdsu.edu for more information. SDSU is a large, diverse, urban university and Hispanic-Serving Institution with a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusive excellence. Our campus community is diverse in many ways, including race, religion, color, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, national origin, pregnancy, medical condition, and covered veteran status. We strive to build and sustain a welcoming environment for all.

Consistent with SDSU’s mission, we seek applicants with demonstrated experience in and/or commitment to teaching and working effectively with individuals from diverse backgrounds and members of underrepresented groups. This search is part of an SDSU cluster initiative to hire “faculty who have a demonstrated history of working with and supporting the African-American community.” For more information, see https://sacd.sdsu.edu/diversity-initiatives/aa-cluster-hires. Candidates must satisfy three or more of the eight Building on Inclusive Excellence (BIE) criteria, adjusted according to the cluster initiative of this hire: (a) committed to engaging in service with African American populations; (b) demonstrated knowledge of barriers for African American students and faculty; (c) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (d) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (d) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (e) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (f) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (g) experience or has demonstrated commitment to teaching and/or mentoring African American students; (h) research interests that contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. Indicate in your cover letter how you meet at least three of these criteria.

Applicants must apply via Interfolio at https://apply.interfolio.com/82445. A completed file includes a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, complete teaching evaluations (quantitative evaluations and complete sets of qualitative evaluations of recent courses), sample syllabi, academic writing samples and three letters of recommendation. To ensure full consideration, submit all materials by February 15, 2021. Screening of applications will begin then. Applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. by the start of the term of appointment will be given priority. Those without a Ph.D. in-hand should include in their letter of interest a statement of progress on the dissertation and reasons to expect completion in a timely fashion.

The person holding this position is considered a “mandated reporter” under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083.
Order 1083 as a condition of employment. A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position. SDSU is a Title IX, equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate against persons on the basis of race, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity and expression, marital status, age, disability, pregnancy, medical condition, or covered veteran status.

Further inquiries should be addressed to:
Farid Abdel-Nour, Chair of the Department, at abdelnour@sdsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8457

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor - Comparative Courts/Law

The School of Economic, Political, and Policy Sciences at The University of Texas at Dallas (UTD) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-system assistant professor position beginning in August 2021 in the Political Science Program. The successful candidate will be expected to teach an introductory undergraduate comparative law course, specialized upper-level undergraduate and graduate courses, and to be involved with the pre-law administrative team. Possible research specializations might include: comparative courts, privacy, regulatory issues and intellectual property or trade law, among others.

ABD will be considered, but the PhD must be awarded by the time of appointment.

Applicants should upload a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Apply online: https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/15204

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/11/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7954

Lycoming College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Lycoming College invites applications for a tenure-track position in Public Law at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin August 2021. The successful candidate will be broadly trained to teach both introductory and advanced courses in Public Law. Candidates with a secondary specialization in Comparative Politics are encouraged to apply.

Lycoming’s small, liberal arts environment allows faculty members, as part of their 3-3 teaching load, to create new courses in line with their area of specialization. Candidates with an interest in teaching in the College’s interdisciplinary first year seminar program are desired. Candidates should demonstrate a strong promise of teaching effectiveness and scholarly achievement, and a serious commitment to teaching undergraduates in a liberal arts environment is essential. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, as well as service to the department and institution.

Ph.D. in political science is preferred, but ABDs in their final stages of completion will be considered.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae along with a teaching portfolio, 250-word statement on why they are interested in a liberal arts academic environment, a single-authored writing sample, 3 letters of recommendation, and graduate transcript using the link below. https://lycomingcollege.applytojob.com/apply/CqDmzXdfUU/Assistant-Professor-Of-Political-Science-Public-Law

Letters of recommendations can be mailed to:
Attention: Missy Cashner, HR Generalist
Lycoming College
One College Place, Campus Box 861
Williamsport, PA 17701

To guarantee full consideration applications should be submitted by October 1, 2020. A pre-employment drug screening will be conducted.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 10/1/2020
Date Posted: 8/3/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8391

PUBLIC POLICY

Northeastern University

Rank: Open Rank Assistant/Associate/Full Teaching Professor

Responsibilities:

The School’s graduate offerings include a NASPAA-accredited MPA program founded in 1969 and a growing MPP. Both programs are delivered on Northeastern’s Boston campus and online. The successful candidate will have demonstrated excellence in teaching at the graduate level in one or more core areas of public administration and public policy, including public administration theory, public management, techniques of policy analysis, program evaluation, nonprofit management, and comparative public administration. Experience in online teaching is expected, and an ability to teach statistics and research methods is desired.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have demonstrated commitment to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

A Ph.D. in Public Administration, Political Science, or a related field is required by the appointment start date.
How to Apply: Applications should include a cover letter that addresses the applicant’s interest in and qualifications for the position, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness (including a syllabus from a relevant course), and contact information for three letters of recommendation. Questions should be addressed to Professor Christopher Bosso, Search Committee Chair, c.bosso@northeastern.edu

To apply, please go to http://www.northeastern.edu/cssh/faculty-positions and click on the link for full-time positions or full-time interdisciplinary positions or if viewing this description on the Northeastern University website, click “Apply to this job.” Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by March 1, 2021 will be assured full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 5/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8531

Nanyang Technological University

Rank: Lecturers for “Ethics & Civics in a Multicultural World”
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Behavior, Public Opinion

Lecturers for “Ethics & Civics in a Multicultural World”

The College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences (CoHASS), Nanyang Technological University invites applications for Lecturers for a course titled “Ethics & Civics in a Multicultural World”.

New Curriculum - Interdisciplinary Collaborative Core

NTU is transforming its education objectives towards more interdisciplinary and collaborative learning for the foundation years of its undergraduate curriculum. A new interdisciplinary and collaborative curriculum will be introduced in the academic year of 2021 to develop students’ cognitive agility, competence and character, besides their disciplinary major. This new curriculum consists of a set of 7 core courses which will form part of the overall degree requirement in all NTU undergraduate programmes. The courses will be concentrated over the first two years of study comprising mixed classes of students from different disciplinary programmes, so that they can embrace multidisciplinary group learning as part of the overall academic expectation from the start of their university education. Students will collaborate in different teams for their course projects or assignments.

Content for the 7 common core courses is developed by a diverse mix of faculty and integrated to understand issues from various perspectives. Aligned with the learning outcomes of the desired attributes of an NTU graduate, the courses are curated to focus on key transferable skills and the global challenges of the modern world. The courses will adopt the flipped classroom and collaborative learning pedagogy, with content made available prior to classes, to facilitate collaborative discussion through group-based activities during class time.

About the College

NTU’s College of Humanities, Arts, and Social Sciences is internationally recognised for research excellence and interdisciplinary education at the undergraduate and postgraduate levels. The School of Humanities offers programmes in Chinese, English, History, Linguistics and Multilingual Studies and Philosophy while the School of Social Sciences offers programmes in Economics, Psychology, Sociology and Political Science Jobs

February 2021
New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Research and Public Policy Professor, Tenured/Tenure-Track - Open Rank

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Open

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Economic Policy, Environmental Policy

Social Research and Public Policy Professor, Tenured/Tenure-Track - Open Rank

Division of Social Science

NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi is searching for new faculty to conduct cutting edge research and teach the next generation of global leaders. We are inviting applications from social scientists for a position focusing on public policy. The position is an open rank, tenured/tenure-track position in the program in Social Research and Public Policy, for appointment on September 1, 2021, subject to final budget approval. We will consider applicants with an active research agenda in all areas of theoretically-informed public policy research, but are especially interested in those whose research and teaching focuses on public policy in a comparative and global context. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past, and present.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Anthropology, Demography, Sociology, Development Studies, Gender Studies, Public Policy, Economics, Education, Environmental Studies, History, Political Economy, or Political Science.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of scholarship, teaching, and mentoring, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research with special attention to public policy.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: https://apply.interfolio.com/76813

-CV
-Cover Letter
-Statement of Teaching Interests
-Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)
-Statement of Research Interests
-Diversity Statement
-Three (3) Representative Writing Samples
-For early career scholars, please submit three (3) confidential letters of reference that will be submitted directly to Interfolio.
-For senior scholars, please submit a list of three references.
We will begin reviewing applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in Spring 2021.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8519

University of Oklahoma
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Public Administration, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

The University of Oklahoma invites applications for a tenure-track position in public administration at the assistant professor level beginning in August 2021. We seek candidates with a broad competence in public administration and whose research and/or teaching is inclusive of countries outside of the United States. The selected candidate will contribute to our core courses in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program and be able to teach public administration courses from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US, as part of our efforts to have more courses that expose students to the diversity of politics and governments across the world. We are open to substantive focus, but we are especially interested in candidates with expertise in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration.

This position is within the Department of Political Science, a large department with two undergraduate majors (Political Science and Public & Nonprofit Administration), multiple minors, two master degree programs (Public Administration & Political Science, with the MPA offered in Norman and Tulsa), and a doctoral program. The department is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Oklahoma. The University of Oklahoma is the flagship research institution for the state of Oklahoma, enrolling over 30,000 students, located in Norman, OK, a vibrant college town just 20 miles south of Oklahoma City.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, and completed by August 2021, have the ability to contribute to the MPA core curriculum, and ability to teach public administration from a comparative perspective, focusing on countries outside of the US. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in in non-governmental organizations, social equity in the US and/or other countries, indigenous issues, or development administration, show evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, have teaching experience, especially in an online format. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, teaching statement, unofficial graduate transcript(s) (official transcript will be required for finalist), writing sample, contact information for three references. Three letters of recommendation will be required for candidates who progress past the first screening. Review of applications will begin February 18, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Any questions can be emailed to the search committee chairs, Dr. Alisa Fryar ahicklin@ou.edu and Dr. Charles Kenney ckenney@ou.edu. Applicants must apply online at http://apply.interfolio.com/82689.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8513

Augustana University
Rank: Nef Family Chair of Political Economy
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy
Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Developing Nations

Augustana University (Sioux Falls, SD) invites applications for an endowed chair in political economy. The Rudy & Marilyn Nef Family Chair of Political Economy will advance the study of market economies and representative democracies, both within the campus community and in the region. This tenure-track faculty position will be housed in the Government and International Affairs Department. The Nef Family Chair will draw on a breadth of research and extensive teaching experience to contribute recognized scholarship and enthusiastic, effective instruction to the University’s offerings in economics, political science, public policy, and business.

We seek an outstanding teacher/scholar who reflects the foundational relevance of economic analysis in the design and administration of public policies, and who speaks authoritatively to the role of free markets, localized decision making and competition in a free society. The Nef Family Chair will offer a range of foundational and upper-level courses in the Government and Economics Departments. Foundational courses will include Microeconomics and Comparative Politics. Upper-level courses could focus on areas such as Comparative/International Political Economy, Comparative/International Politics, and Policy Analysis, but a successful candidate must offer a course focused on capitalist economic systems. The Nef Family Chair will also provide collaborative and creative leadership in partnership with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

Additional responsibilities will include student advising, student research mentorship, and planning and facilitating public symposia relevant to the scholar’s teaching and research. Interacting with students, faculty and leadership with different backgrounds and points of view and a deep appreciation of and respect for academic values and culture must be a top value of the candidate. A doctorate is required. Compensation, rank and length of tenure track will be commensurate with experience. The starting date for this 12-month appointment is August, 2021. Screening will begin February 19 and continue until the position is filled. Finalists will be expected to present an engaging topic as part of the interview process.

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Application Procedure:
Please send a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; Augustana University employment application; statement of commitment to diversity; statement of teaching philosophy; addresses, phone numbers and email addresses of three current references; and unofficial transcripts electronically to Human Resources at humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: www.augie.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/22/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8511

Hamilton College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Public Policy
The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications to fill a one-year position as Visiting Assistant Professor of Public Policy with possibility of renewal for an additional year. Teaching load is five courses per year with competitive salary and benefits. Candidates are expected to contribute to the course offerings in the Public Policy Program and must be able to teach an introductory course in quantitative methods. Appointment begins July 1, 2021. Candidates who are ABD will be considered, although a PhD is preferred. We seek candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations.

Please submit a cover letter, CV, graduate transcript, a list of courses the applicant is prepared to teach, and evidence of teaching performance to Interfolio at https://apply.interfolio.com/83081. Your cover letter should address the ways in which you would further the College's goal of building a diverse educational environment. We will solicit letters of reference from candidates who are selected to move on to the second stage of the search. Consideration of applications will begin on February 20, 2021. Inquiries about the position (but no application materials) may be directed to Professor Sharon Rivera, Chair, Government Department, Hamilton College (govsrch@hamilton.edu).

Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at www.higheredcareers.com, as well as additional information at https://www.hamilton.edu/offices/dof/faculty-support-resources/resources-for-prospective-or-newfaculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/19/2021

Lingnan University
Rank: Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor
Lingnan University, a distinctive liberal arts institution in the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, is committed to the provision of quality whole-person education by combining the best of Chinese and Western liberal arts traditions. It strives to pursue excellence in teaching, learning, scholarship and community engagement. With three academic Faculties, it offers a wide range of undergraduate degree programmes in arts, business and social sciences. Lingnan’s liberal arts education is characterised by a broad-based interdisciplinary curriculum with specialised disciplinary studies; close student-staff relationship; a vibrant residential campus; ample global learning opportunities; active community engagement and multifarious workplace experience. The School of Graduate Studies also offers postgraduate programmes up to doctoral level in various disciplines and provides professional education for the wider society. Applications are now invited for the following post:

Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science
(Post Ref.: 20/288/APSA)

The Department of Political Science (http://www.LN.edu.hk/polsci/) is committed to preparing students for a competitive and globalized working environment. The Department combines teaching and research in the governance and public policy of Hong Kong and China, international politics, and Asian international relations. It contributes with the Department of Applied Psychology, Department of Economics and Department of Sociology and Social Policy to the integrated Social Sciences Programme in the University, having embarked on a 4-year curriculum with a disciplinary major in political science. Applicants are recommended to visit the Departmental website and Programme web site (https://www.LN.edu.hk/socsc/bsocsc/ ) for more information.

The Department is seeking to appoint a full-time Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professor. The successful candidate must have research publications and teaching competence in Hong Kong politics and political economy covering at least three core areas: Hong Kong political system, institutions and structure; nature of political practice and governance; politics at the grassroots, in particular, political advocacy and social movements; and political economy with reference to domestic public policies and Mainland and global linkages.

Applicants should provide evidence of their substantial promise for research and publications and a statement of their current and future research as well as evidence of teaching effectiveness. The appointee will be expected to teach courses in Political Science through advanced undergraduate and graduate-level courses in their fields, and courses on Hong Kong politics, as appropriate.

General Requirements
Applicants should have a PhD degree in Political Science, with relevant teaching experience and a good research record. Applicants should have excellent communication and presentation skills. Administrative experience will be an advantage. The appointee is expected to have a strong commitment to teaching excellence and services to the Department and the University community, and to engage actively in quality research and publication.
University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Survey Research

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Economy, Public Opinion

The Blavatnik School of Government seeks to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow in survey research and data analysis for a fixed term of two years. The fellow will coordinate the development of research on the dynamics of public opinion in the domain of financial regulation in cooperation with Professor Pepper Culpepper and with Professor Taeku Lee from the University of California at Berkeley. A central interest of the research is to understand how media coverage of finance and banking influences emotions, and its effect on various political actors and policy preferences in six countries: Australia, France, Germany, Switzerland, the United Kingdom and the United States. This position is funded by an Advanced Grant from the European Research Council.

The main duties of the post are to engage in original, world-class research and manage your own academic research and project-related administrative activities; to disseminate your research through publication in highly-ranked, peer-reviewed academic journals; to collaborate in the preparation of research publications and book chapters; to act as a source of information and advice on methodologies and procedures to other members of the team; and to deliver graduate teaching as required.

The post-holder will be an independent researcher in the early stages of their career with training in survey research methods and experience designing survey experiments as well as facility in analysing these data. Training and/or experience in experimental design, sampling and measurement theory, conjoint analysis and causal inference is desirable, as is a substantive interest in political economy, public opinion and regulatory policy.

You will hold, or be close to completion of, a PhD/DPhil in political science or another social science field relevant to the project, such as communications, sociology or public policy. You will show evidence of developing a track record of internationally excellent research worthy of publication in highly ranked, peer-reviewed academic journals, commensurate with your career stage, and have knowledge of survey methodology and experience writing and fielding surveys, preferably in a comparative context.

Further details for this position, including information on how to apply, are outlined in the job description.
The closing date for applications is midday (UK time) on Monday 15 February 2021.

To apply, please visit the Blavatnik School of Government website: https://www.bsg.ox.ac.uk/jobs/postdoctoral-fellow-survey-research

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 1/19/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8500

West Virginia University
Rank: Director of Institute for Policy Research and Public Affairs
Subfield(s): Administration, Public Policy, Public Administration
Job No. 16108

West Virginia University (WVU) seeks a visionary and enterprising leader to serve as the inaugural Director of the Institute for Policy Research and Public Affairs affiliated with Eberly College of Arts and Sciences and the John D. Rockefeller, Jr. School of Policy and Politics. This is a tenured faculty position at the rank of Professor or Associate Professor in the Eberly College. The Director will lead a new initiative to advance public policy and public affairs research and translational activities. This initiative is one of three divisions planned to be established within the Rockefeller School. The other two deal with academic programs and engaged learning and service. In addition to the duties outlined below, the Director would work closely with WVU leadership to help fully establish the Rockefeller School.

As Director, the successful applicant will support faculty and researchers across complementary disciplines to collaboratively build research capacity in public policy. They will strengthen related resources, build on expertise and research capabilities that currently exist across campus, increase externally sponsored research in social and public policy, as well as create partnerships with foundations, industry, government agencies and other universities. As part of this effort, the Director will be expected to recruit Research Fellows to work within the school. In addition to Departments affiliated with the Rockefeller School, Research Fellows may be recruited from within other WVU programs and external institutions and agencies. The Director will connect policy research to the teaching and outreach mission of the Rockefeller School and will report to the office of the Dean of the Eberly College. The Director will have a dedicated administrative assistant as well as support for graduate research students.

Qualifications include a Ph.D. or equivalent degree in Public Policy, Political Science, Public Administration, or a closely related field; a sustained record of externally funded research in the area of public policy; a record of multidisciplinary scholarship; ability to translate academic research into information for public dissemination and engagement; a record of successful administrative leadership; ability to work collaboratively in a diverse environment with a range of faculty, students, administrators, and external constituents to reach a common goal; ability to develop partnerships with foundations and industry in support of the Institute’s programs; understanding of WVU’s mission as a land-grant institution; ability to manage budgets and establish fiscal priorities; strong written and oral communication skills; and an established record of research and teaching that will merit appointment at, or promotion to, the rank of Professor or Associate Professor with a grant of tenure at WVU.

WVU is a comprehensive land grant university with approximately 30,000 students and is classified by the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education as a very high research (R1) Institution. The Rockefeller School of Policy and Politics currently consists of 21 tenured and tenure-track faculty and is affiliated with the Eberly College of Arts and Sciences.

To apply for this position, please visit http://hr.research.wvu.edu and click on the “View Jobs” link. Qualified applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a description of the applicant’s potential to further our progress in building a diverse and inclusive academic community (which will be evaluated without regard to the applicant’s personal demographics), and contact information for three references. The cover letter should address the applicant’s qualifications for each aspect of the responsibilities listed above. For questions or additional information, contact Prof. Duncan Lorimer via e-mail: duncan.lorimer@mail.wvu.edu. The screening process will begin on March 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

The University community of Morgantown offers plentiful educational opportunities as well as recreational outlets, is within easy driving distance of Pittsburgh, PA, and is about 200 miles northwest of Washington, D.C. WVU is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and the recipient of an NSF ADVANCE award for gender equity. The university is committed to diversity and welcomes applications from all qualified individuals, including minorities, females, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/14/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8486

Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation & Library
Rank: Reagan Postdoctoral Visiting Fellow
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy
Specializations: American Politics, History & Politics, Foreign Policy

The purpose of the Visiting Fellows Program is to advance scholarship focused on the political, economic, and national security ideas and values of President Ronald Reagan. Visiting Fellows will be selected based on the relevance of their research to these principles. Proposals will also be judged on the likelihood of completion of a book manuscript during the fellowship period.

The fellowship year will begin in Washington, DC in September 2021 and last until August 2022. Reagan Visiting Fellows are required to be resident at the Institute’s new headquarters in downtown Washington, DC. Each fellow will be provided with office space. The Institute will facilitate research, expand the fellows’ contacts, and grow the fellows’ visibility in the Washington policy community.

Program Benefits
• In addition to a stipend of $75,000, each Fellow will receive a $5,000 budget for research related travel.
• Mentorship from senior academics who will advise the Fellows and review a book manuscript.
• One-on-one support from an archivist at the Reagan Presidential Library.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
• Opportunity to participate and present at the Reagan Virtual Scholars Roundtable, a monthly convening of academics and policymakers who study topics related to the Reagan Presidency.

Program Requirements
• All applicants must submit proof of having successfully defended their dissertation by August 15, 2021.
• Acceptance of the award constitutes a commitment by each fellow to produce a book manuscript by the end of the Fellowship year.
• Applications should be emailed to ReaganFellowship@reaganfoundation.org no later than 11:59 EST on Friday, March 5, 2021.

Application Instructions (please send all files in PDF form)
1. Executive Summary (Maximum of 1 page)
• Name, Address, Contact Information
• University Affiliation and Dissertation Advisor and contact information
• Names and contact information for 2 recommenders
• One paragraph summary description of research question and project’s relevance to Ronald Reagan

2. Project Proposal (Maximum of 3 pages)
• Proposal should begin with a clear description of the policy issue being examined and a description of how this issue is linked to the ideas and vision of Ronald Reagan.
• Proposal should consider contemporary implications of the policy issue being examined.
• Description of research methods and approach – if the Reagan Library is likely to be a source for research, please explain.
• Notional book outline

3. Writing Sample (less than 20 pages)

4. CV/Resume

5. Transcripts & Letters of Recommendation
• Unofficial school transcripts and two letters of recommendation must be sent directly from your university and your recommenders to ReaganFellowship@reaganfoundation.org.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 3/5/2021
Date Posted: 1/8/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8468

Indiana University Kokomo
Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

The Department of History, Political Science, and Philosophy at Indiana University Kokomo invites applications for a visiting lecturer in Political Science beginning August 1, 2021 and for the 2021-22 academic year. Candidates must hold at minimum a master’s degree with 18 graduate hours in Political Science; however, a Ph.D. is preferred. An appropriate level of university, professional, and community service is required, such as committee work, assessment of the major, and engagement in campus initiatives to increase retention and enrollment.

The course load will be four classes per semester. Typically, this will break down as two sections of Intro to American Politics, one of a three-course sequence (Intro to Comparative Politics, International Relations, or Political Theory), and an upper-level class. Preference will be for the ability to offer upper-level courses on topics of United States politics such as: political institutions; campaigns and elections; civic engagement; race, ethnicity, and politics; gender and politics; public policy; and law and courts. Willingness to teach some classes online and experience doing so are also desirable. The deadline for full consideration is February 1, 2021, but applications will be taken until the position is filled.

One of eight campuses of Indiana University, Indiana University Kokomo is a comprehensive, non-residential campus located 50 miles north of Indianapolis in Kokomo, Indiana, a city of a population of about 50,000. Committed to student success, the campus serves approximately 3,100. IU Kokomo has approximately 260 full-time faculty and staff. Baccalaureate and master’s degrees are offered. Additional information about Indiana University Kokomo can be accessed at http://www.iuk.edu. Persons with disabilities who need assistance to participate in this application process should contact the Office of Affirmative Action at 765-455-9316.

Indiana University Kokomo seeks faculty skilled at working with members of diverse cultures and committed to preparing students to be engaged members of an increasingly diverse society.

Interested candidates should review the application requirement and submit their application at https://indiana.peopleadmin.com/postings/10280. The application must include a cover letter, current CV, and three professional reference letters. Questions regarding the position or application process can be directed to Andrew McFarland, Ph.D., Associate Professor of History, Chair, Department of History, Philosophy, and Political Science, School of Humanities and Social Sciences, anmmcfar@iuk.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 1/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8465

Stanford University
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Polarization and Social Change Lab
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy
Specializations: Political Psychology, Political Communication, Political Behavior

The Postdoctoral Associate will be responsible for co-designing and leading research projects in one or more of the following areas: political polarization; framing, messaging, and persuasion; political dimensions of inequality; social movement mobilization; and online political behavior. Expertise in any of a range of research methods is valued, with a particular emphasis on field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g., text analysis, social network analysis).

Mentorship Structure
The position will be supervised by Prof. Robb Willer and will involve collaborating with PhD students, post-docs, faculty, and staff affiliated with the lab. Mentorship of the Postdoctoral Associate will be structured according to research and professional interests.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that values rigorous inquiry and diverse perspectives, experiences, backgrounds, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange.

Required Qualifications:
Applicants should have or expect to have a PhD by September 1st, 2021.
Relevant research in psychology, sociology, political science, economics, or a related field.
Experience designing and carrying out rigorous research in one or several of the following areas: field experiments, survey experiments, and computational methods (e.g., text analysis, social network analysis)
Interest in working in a multidisciplinary, multi-method context with diverse collaborators.
Demonstrated excellence in written and oral communication.
Interest in communicating research findings to diverse audiences, including non-academic audiences.

Preferred Qualifications:
Intellectual creativity and innovation
Methodological rigor
Intellectual and practical autonomy
Excellent organizational and interpersonal skills

Required Application Materials:
CV
Statement of interest (maximum 1.5 pages)
2-3 attached writing samples
2 letters of reference (letters of reference should be submitted separately)

Stanford is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Important Info
Faculty Sponsor (Last, First Name): Willer, Robb
Stanford Departments and Centers: Sociology
Postdoc Appointment Term: 1 year with possibility of 2nd year renewal
Appointment Start Date: Fall 2021
Group or Departmental Website: https://www.pascl.stanford.edu/
How to Submit Application Materials: Interested candidates should submit the required application materials via the following link: https://bit.ly/3ois291
Please contact Chrystal Redekopp at redekopp@stanford.edu with any additional questions.
Review of applications will begin January 21, 2021

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8450

University of Oslo
Rank: Associate Professor in Public Policy and Public Administration

Job description:
An Associate Professor position in Public Policy and Public Administration is available in the Department of Political Science, University of Oslo.

This is a permanent position and we expect that the successful candidate will contribute to the long-term academic development and research culture of the department.

Associate professors divide their time equally between research and teaching. The successful candidate will offer undergraduate and postgraduate courses in the fields of public policy and public administration. They will also contribute to the teaching of research methods at all levels. It is essential that applicants can demonstrate a strong record of teaching commensurable with their experience.

The person appointed will also carry out administrative tasks in accordance with university regulations.

Female candidates are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualification requirements:
Applicants must document research excellence, including a PhD in a relevant field and a record of publications in refereed international
Prior experience leading research projects, as well as a track record of national and international collaborations, will be taken into account.

Personal suitability for the position also will be assessed.

We offer:

Salary NOK 643,000 – 768,500 per annum depending on qualifications
Budget for travel and research assistance (currently NOK 45,000 per year). Staff can apply for additional research support from the department and faculty
An academically stimulating and international working environment
A friendly and inclusive workplace
An excellent pension scheme through the Norwegian Public Service Fund
A good work-life balance and access to Norway’s excellent public services and welfare schemes, including generous parental leave provisions and affordable and accessible childcare
Female academic staff can take part in the Career development scheme for female associate professors (https://www.uio.no/english/for-employees/competence/gender-equality/career-female-associate-professors/index.html)

How to apply:

The application must include:

Cover letter (statement of motivation and a summary of scientific work and research interests; max. 2 pages).
CV (complete list of education, positions, teaching experience, administrative experience, project acquisition and coordination experience, and other qualifying activities)
Complete list of publications
A teaching portfolio, preferably including information from student evaluations
List of reference persons: 2 or 3 references (name, relationship to candidate, e-mail, and phone number)
Applicants should use the cover letter to account for how their work relates to the Department’s research and teaching profile and how they plan to contribute to the Department’s long-term academic development.

All documents must be in English or a Scandinavian language.

Publications should not be submitted with the application; the most promising candidates will be invited to submit their publications, as well as their educational certificates and diplomas, later in the process.

About the procedure:

The application deadline is March 1, 2021. Applications will be initially evaluated by a committee with the aim of providing the appointed assessors with a short report that identifies the most promising candidates that should proceed in the selection process.

In April 2021, the most promising applicants will be invited to submit a comprehensive application including a sample of academic publications.

It is anticipated that the top-ranked candidates will be invited to an interview and asked to give a trial lecture in August/September 2021.

References will also be contacted at this stage. The report from the evaluation committee, including the evaluation of the top candidates, will be made available to all applicants. The hiring process is expected to be completed by October 2021.

Formal regulations:

Candidates who cannot document basic teaching qualifications at the time of appointment will be required to obtain such qualifications within a two-year period.

Scandinavian languages and English are the working languages at the department. If an appointee is not fluent in a Scandinavian language, the appointee will be expected to learn sufficient Norwegian to be able to participate in all functions that the position may involve within two years.

Please see the rules for the appointments to professorships and associate professorships. (https://www.uio.no/english/about/regulations/personnel/academic/rules-appointment-professor.html)

According to the Norwegian Freedom and Information Act (Offentløg), information about the applicant may be included in the public applicant list, even in cases where the applicant has requested non-disclosure. (https://lovdata.no/dokument/NLE/lov/2006-05-19-16)

The University of Oslo has a policy for intellectual property rights for researchers at the University of Oslo. (https://www.uio.no/english/about/regulations/research/intellectual-property/)

The University of Oslo aims to achieve a balanced gender composition in the workforce and to recruit people from underrepresented minorities.

Contact information:

Head of Department; Professor Bjørn Erik Rasch:
Email: b.e.rasch@stv.uio.no
Phone: +47 22855183

Deputy Head of Department; Associate Professor Elin Lerum Boasson
Email: e.l.boasson@stv.uio.no
Phone: +47 22841710

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8446

WZB Berlin Social Science Center
Rank: two Postdoctoral research fellows (f/m/x)

The Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung gGmbH (WZB Berlin Social Science Centre) is looking to hire two Postdoctoral research fellows (f/m/x)

The positions are full-time (currently 39 hours per week) and with an initial contract duration of three years with the possibility of renewal for more than three years. Depending on the qualifications...
Our offer
- for position 2 in addition: excellent skills and experience in digital means and media
- knowledge of German is welcome but not required
- excellent English writing and communication skills
- experience with primary data collection
- excellent methodological skills appropriate to the research topic

a recent Ph.D., in an advanced stage of preparation
- articles in recognized peer-reviewed journals, either published or, completed)
- Ph.D.-degree in a relevant discipline (obtained already or soon to be completed)
- a letter of motivation
- CV
- copies of relevant certificates
- a synopsis/research proposal (2-3 pages) of the research they would like to conduct if they were to be chosen for the position

Your tasks and duties
The postdoctoral fellows will conduct independent research and produce high-level international publications.
- for the first position there is no predefined topic or approach; candidates have the opportunity to propose their own research proposal, provided that it fits and meaningfully complements the department’s current research programme.
- the second position is part of a wider WZB effort to strengthen research in the area of digitalization, both as a substantive research topic, and as a methodological tool. Candidates for this position are invited to present a research proposal on a) how processes of digitalization impact and interact with the research fields covered by the department, or b) how digital means can be used to conduct innovative research in these fields. Examples include, but are not limited to, research on how digital means and media can be used to understand patterns of migration and integration, or on how opinion formation and mobilization with regard to immigration, populism, and religious fundamentalism take place online.

Your qualification profile
- Ph.D.-degree in a relevant discipline (obtained already or soon to be completed)
- articles in recognized peer-reviewed journals, either published or, in case of a recent Ph.D., in an advanced stage of preparation
- excellent methodological skills appropriate to the research topic
- experience with primary data collection
- excellent English writing and communication skills
- knowledge of German is welcome but not required
- for position 2 in addition: excellent skills and experience in digital data processing

Our offer
- remuneration in accordance with Group E14 TVöD Bund (German civil service collective agreement).
- the WZB encourages the researchers to teach courses at universities in Berlin, and to participate in the various international exchange programs that the Centre is involved in.
- the research of postdoctoral fellows is supported by research assistants, travel funding, access to small and medium-scale research funds for data collection, as well as opportunities to invite external collaborators and speakers.

Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. We value diversity and welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. WZB expressly encourages women or persons with migration backgrounds to apply.

If you have any questions regarding the job opening, please contact Elisabeth von Bressensdorf or Melinda Biolchini (applications-mit@wzb.eu).

Candidates are invited to send applications electronically in pdf format (not more than 2 pdf files) consisting of
- a letter of motivation
- CV
- copies of relevant certificates
- a synopsis/research proposal (2-3 pages) of the research they would like to conduct if they were to be chosen for the position

Please, send applications by 31 January 2021 quoting postdoctoral researcher MIT™ in the subject line to

Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung gGmbH (WZB) / WZB Berlin Social Science Centre
Prof. Ruud Koopmans
Reichpietschufer 50
10785 Berlin
e-mail: applications-mit@wzb.eu

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/4/2021 Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8448

Grinnell College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science/Policy Studies-Two Year Position (Start Fall 2021)

GRINNELL COLLEGE. The Department of Political Science and the Policy Studies Concentration invite applications for a two-year appointment in policy studies beginning Fall 2021. Preferred candidates will have a Ph.D. in political science, with a focus on public policy. Applicants with a Ph.D. in public policy will also be considered.
Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) preferred; Instructor (ABD) or Associate Professor possible. The teaching load is five courses/year over two semesters, including Introduction to Political Science, Foundations of Policy Analysis, intermediate and advanced courses in political science and an advanced seminar in policy analysis, in areas of the candidate’s expertise.

Grinnell College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts college with a strong tradition of social responsibility. In letters of application, candidates should discuss their potential to contribute to a college community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. To be assured of full consideration, all application materials should be received by February 1. Please visit our application website at https://jobs.grinnell.edu to find more details about the job and submit applications online. Candidates will need to provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts (copies are acceptable), a sample of written scholarly work and provide email addresses for three references. Questions about this search should be directed to the search chair, Professor H. Wayne Moyer, at [PolSciSearch@grinnell.edu] or 641-269-3173.

Grinnell College is committed to establishing and maintaining a safe and nondiscriminatory educational environment for all College community members. It is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination in matter of admission, employment, and housing, and in access to and participation in its education programs, services, and activities. The college does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, religion, disability, creed, or any other protected class.

An offer for this position will be contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/1/2021
Date Posted: 12/23/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8442

William & Mary
Rank: Lecturer of Public Policy

The Public Policy Program at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, invites applications for a 9 month, non-tenure-track lecturer position that will begin August 10, 2021. We seek an individual with expertise in public policy, either from a theoretical or applied perspective, to teach introductory level courses for undergraduates as well as intermediate and advanced levels that align with the candidate’s interests and serve undergraduate (B.A. Public Policy) and Master in Public Policy (MPP) students. The position carries a 3-3 teaching load and successful candidates will have a commitment to high quality teaching. We will consider candidates with a graduate degree in Public Policy, Political Science, or Economics or candidates from other disciplines with significant professional experience in the field of public policy. We require candidates with a Ph.D. at the time appointment begins. Required: Ph.D. degree in Public Policy, Political Science, or Economics or candidates from other disciplines with significant professional experience in the field of public policy at the time appointment begins. Preferred: Previous academic teaching experience is preferred. Applicants must apply online at https://jobs.wm.edu. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter including statement of research and teaching interests, and a statement describing previous professional experience or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions on how to submit a letter of reference. For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, February 1, 2021. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed and the position will remain open until filled. Information on the Public Policy Program may be found at http://www.wm.edu/as/publicpolicy/.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/22/2020
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8437

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa
Rank: Global Public Policy and Political Economy
Subfield(s): Public Policy, International Relations, Comparative Politics
Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2021. We seek a colleague with research and teaching expertise in global public policy and political economy. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department’s NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) faculty and teach in the MPA program, contributing to our new focused area of study Global Affairs & Security. In addition, the hire will offer courses appropriate for students majoring in Economics and Political Science. Interest in contributing to the Department’s graduate quantitative methods course sequence will be looked upon favorably. A Ph.D. in political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field is required by the start date. The successful candidate will have an active and promising research agenda that examines public policy and political economy broadly defined to include such global issues as human security, sustainable development, climate change, health economics, among others.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A, and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/47459 and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair, at pssearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to Global Public Policy & Political Economy Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on January 31, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. All interviews will be conducted using audio/visual technology due to travel restrictions. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at pssearchchair@ua.edu.
Political Science Jobs

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science: Position in Governance & Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in Governance and Public Policy at the rank of Assistant Professor. We welcome applications from candidates working in all areas of the field (e.g., public policy, public administration, policy analysis), and we especially welcome applications from candidates with Asia-related research programmes. Candidates should submit (a) a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests; (b) updated curriculum vitae; (c) publications or other writing samples; (c) three letters of recommendation; and (d) teaching evaluations and materials if available. We will begin to review applications on 31 January 2021 and continue until the search process is complete. Applications should be submitted to the Chair of the Search Committee at https://careers.nus.edu.sg/NUS/job/Assistant-Professor/3509444/

The teaching load is three modules per academic year. Compensation is highly competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support.

The Department of Political Science (https://fass.nus.edu.sg/pol/) has a strong faculty of about twenty-five scholars working in all major areas of political science. Faculty and students can also take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Yale-NUS College, and various research institutes, including the Asia-Europe Foundation and the Institutes of South Asian and Southeast Asian Studies as well as other parts of the University. NUS (http://www.nus.edu.sg/) is a leader in research and higher education in Asia and is located in a thriving and livable global city.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/18/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8419

Stanford University

Rank: 2021-2022 China Policy Fellowship
Specializations: China, East Asia, United States

The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center (APARC) is pleased to announce its new China Policy Fellowship, which will bring to Stanford leading professionals and scholars from Asia and the United States to engage in research on contemporary China affairs and/or U.S.-China relations. Candidates should be mid-career to senior-level experts with extensive research experience and influence in the policy-making process. The fellowship is hosted by APARC’s China Program, whose mission is to facilitate multidisciplinary, social science-oriented research on contemporary China, with a dual emphasis on basic and policy-relevant research.

In addition to regularly participating in APARC’s and the China Program’s activities, the China Policy Fellow will undertake original research in his/her area of expertise and will also play a lead role in organizing a major conference at Stanford on a topic of prominence on the U.S.-China policy agenda. It is expected that each fellow’s work and annual conference will result in a published product such as a book, a policy brief, a report, or a collection of conference proceedings. The China Policy Fellow is expected to be in residence full time at Stanford.

Appointments will begin in the fall quarter of the 2021-22 academic year. The China Policy Fellow will be provided a monthly stipend to be dispersed over the 9-month appointment period totaling $72,000. This position is not benefits-eligible.

Application Deadline: February 15, 2021
Eligibility: Mid-career to senior-level candidates

Required Application Materials, in PDF Format:
• Curriculum vitae
• Two (2) letters of recommendation
• A short research statement (not to exceed 1,000 words) that describes the research to be undertaken including the topic, methodology, and contribution to the field.

To apply and for more information, please visit: https://stanford.io/31PwSCp

Please address all questions to:
Callista Wells?
Program Coordinator, China Program?
Shorenstein APARC?Stanford University?
Encina Hall E301?
Stanford, CA 94305-6055
(650) 724-9632?
cwells@stanford.edu

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 2/15/2021
Date Posted: 12/15/2020
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8387

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Tenure Track

The Public Policy and Political Economy Program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) is seeking applications for tenure-system assistant professor positions in International Political Economy and Global Health Policy.

The successful candidate for the Global Health position will have a PhD in a public policy or public health-related field. The area of specialization within Global Health Policy is open, but candidates research agenda should explicitly focus on the international/cross-country dimension of global health. Research topics of interest include, but are not limited to, global pandemic analysis, big data health informatics, climate change, air pollution and disaster prevention, ... global health politics and health systems, health care accessibility and disparity, and health care interventions and policy making across global, national, and subnational/local scales. The selected candidate will also possess very strong collaborative and organizational skills based on experiences working with diverse international communities through partnerships on health issues. Working in close collaboration with the local research community, including UT Southwestern Medical Center, is highly encouraged. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

The department’s faculty includes multiple winners of internal and external teaching awards. The candidate is expected to incorporate best practices as identified by the scholarship on teaching and learning into her/his pedagogical approach. The successful candidate will be expected to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. Faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

The University of Texas at Dallas has the highest freshman SAT scores of any public University in Texas and was recently ranked 39th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission’s highest research classification of “Doctoral Universities – Very High Research Activity.”

Applicants should upload a letter of application; current curriculum vitae; a sample of written work; statements of teaching and research philosophy; instructional instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Additional questions for the Global Health position may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Dohyeong Kim (dohyeong-kim@utdallas.edu)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/14/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8399

University of Rhode Island
Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in the area of Public Administration with a specialization in Public Management or Public Policy. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2021.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI’s mission is to “inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance.” Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Applicants will be expected to teach graduate-level political science courses in the area of Public Management or Public Policy that serve as requirements for an online Master of Public Administration (MPA) degree with online graduate certificates in Policy Analysis and Public Management. Applicants will also teach undergraduate political science courses on Public Administration, Public Management, Public Policy, and other areas of expertise.

Expected to publish original research in the field of Public Administration and Public Policy, support the governance and administration of an MPA program that is preparing to begin the process of NASPAA-accreditation, work with diverse populations, and advise students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:

1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2021, in Political Science, Public Administration, or Public Policy.
2) Primary or secondary specialization in the area of Public Management or a specialized public policy-related field.
3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience.
4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching graduate-level MPA courses in at least two of the following: Seminar in Public Administration and Policy, Ethics in Public Administration and Policy, Public Personnel Management, Public Budgeting and Finance, Public Policy, or other Public Management courses.
5) Demonstrated ability to teach undergraduate political science courses in at least one of the following areas: Public Administration, Public Management, or Public Policy.
6) Evidence of research in the field of Public Administration or Public Policy with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.
7) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: ethics in public administration or policy, performance management, representative bureaucracy, leadership, information and technology management, local government management, specific policy-related fields, or race and inequality.
2) Evidence of online instruction or extensive training in online pedagogy.
3) Ability to teach on race, gender, or inequality.
4) Experience advising students or ability to oversee a robust internship program.

The application deadline is January 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/7600

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online application:

1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position.
2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document).
London School of Economics

Rank: Assistant Professors in Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Other

LSE is committed to building a diverse, equitable and truly inclusive university

For this post, we particularly welcome applications from women and people from minority ethnic communities.

Assistant Professors in Political Science

Salaries will be on the appropriate salary scale and will be commensurate with experience, taking into account pay equity within the Department.

The salary scale starts at £55,974 per annum (pay award pending) and the salary scale can be found on the LSE website.

We are recruiting two new career-track Assistant Professors in Political Science, one in Political Behaviour and one in Public Policy and Administration. Candidates should have strong research and teaching interests in Political Science. You will carry out research and teaching at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. We are open to all methodological approaches.

Candidates must have an emerging research record and trajectory in political science, evidenced by existing or shortly forthcoming articles in highly rated academic journals and/or books with leading academic presses. The successful candidates should have, or be close to obtaining (by 1 September 2021), a PhD in political science or a closely related discipline. The post will commence on 1 September 2021. Candidates should have excellent written and oral communication skills, the ability to teach political science at undergraduate and postgraduate levels and the ability to establish an international reputation in political science.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a world-class research environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

For further information about the post, please see the how to apply document, job description and the person specification here: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/42000/0/283547/15539/assistant-professors-in-political-science-pb-and-ppa

University of Chicago

Rank: Postdoctoral Researcher – Ethnicity/Race/Inequality

The Harris School of Public Policy seeks a postdoctoral researcher with interests related to ethnicity, race, inequality, and public policy. Applications from scholars with a background in economics, political science, psychology, sociology, public policy, or aligned fields are encouraged. Postdoctoral researchers work on independent research under a senior faculty member’s guidance, teach 2 quarter-length courses per year, and participate in the academic life of the school (including attending workshops and seminars). The position of postdoctoral researcher at the rank of instructor is initially for a one-year, renewable term.

Candidates should have a demonstrated record of research achievement. Candidates are expected to complete their PhD by the appointment start date. To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago’s Interfolio academic jobs board at: https://apply.interfolio.com/81359. Applicants must upload a: 1) cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) one writing sample; and 4) two letters of recommendation. Applicants may also submit optional documents such as a third letter of reference and/or an additional writing sample. Review of applications will begin on December 23, 2020. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2021.

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow to join our team and collaborate on and develop projects related to immigration policy and health. The principal job of the postdoc will be to design and implement immigration policy evaluations and conduct rigorous quantitative analyses using advanced methods of causal inference under the supervision of Professors Jens Hainmueller and David Laitin. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on identification, data acquisition, data analysis, and interpretation of results. This fellow will join a team of researchers from IPL, the Stanford School of Medicine, Oregon Heath & Science University, and the Duke School of Medicine to evaluate the effects of immigration and health policy on the intergenerational health of immigrant families.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc’s time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research. Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families’ location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second and third year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2021 and the position is currently remote (subject to university, county, and state COVID-related policies). Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university’s research missions.

Application Requirements

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The “Contributions to Diversity Statement” should describe any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

Applications will only be accepted through https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/17290 (ID17290). We will begin reviewing applications on November 15, 2020. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact the executive director of the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, Duncan Lawrence, directly (dlawrenc@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc – Health).

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/20/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8315

Stanford University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Data Science)
Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Data Science) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

We are looking for a postdoctoral fellow with extensive experience and training in data science to join our team and help grow our exciting portfolio of digital tools related to immigrant and refugee integration in the United States, Europe and other regions throughout the world. The principal job of the data scientist postdoc will be to lead data analysis for research projects and develop innovative digital tools related to immigration policy, programs, and services under the guidance of Professors Jens Hainmueller, David Laitin, and Jeremy Weinstein. She or he will be involved in all aspects of the research, but with a particular emphasis on data science, causal inference, machine learning, statistical analysis, and programming. For instance, the postdoc will help drive a global effort to support refugee integration by developing matching tools for various countries using machine learning. The postdoc will also work on data analysis for projects examining the impacts of immigration related policies and programs. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions, and develop independent projects and tools related to immigration policy evaluation.

IPL is a highly collaborative environment, and postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.
The successful candidate will have a primary interest in international relations and be able to offer courses that fit within the thematic areas around which the political science major at Muhlenberg is structured (https://www.muhlenberg.edu/academics/polisci/thematicareasofstudy/details about our program are available on our website). Classes may include, for example, international relations theory, American foreign policy, national security policy, international law and policy, and introduction to international relations and comparative politics. We are especially interested in candidates who desire to work across subfield and disciplinary boundaries. We are open when it comes to regional expertise and welcome a variety of methodological and theoretical approaches.

Teaching responsibilities include three courses per semester. Faculty teaching hybrid and online courses benefit from the resources of our nationally-recognized Center for Digital Learning, which fosters inclusive learning and supports faculty and students in all aspects of online teaching, learning, and scholarship. Additionally, the Muhlenberg Center for Teaching and Learning offers a range of programs in support of faculty, including pedagogical workshops, support for meaningful classroom experimentation, and facilitated interdisciplinary collaboration. Visiting faculty enjoy access to all professional development resources provided by the College.

Ideal candidates will hold a PhD in Political Science or Public Policy by August 2021. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and working with students from all backgrounds (including first-generation students, low-income students, racial and ethnic minorities, women, LGBTQ+, etc.).

To receive full consideration, applications must be received by January 31, 2021. Interested candidates should upload their completed applications to https://muhlenberg.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/MuhlenbergCareers/job/Visiting-Assistant-Professor-Political-Science_R0000419-Muhlenberg’s Career Portal. Please include a cover letter describing your teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, sample teaching materials (e.g. sample syllabi, a statement describing potential courses, and/or a statement of teaching philosophy, and summaries of teaching evaluations if available), unofficial graduate transcripts, contact information for three professional references, and a separate statement describing how you will enhance the diversity of offerings and educational experiences in our department as well as contribute to the College’s efforts to become a more diverse and inclusive community. For questions about this position, please email Lanethea Mathews-Shultz, department chair, at mathews@muhlenberg.edu.

Muhlenberg College is an independent, coeducational residential college of liberal arts and sciences located in Allentown, the third largest city in PA. As part of eastern Pennsylvania’s scenic Lehigh Valley, Allentown is a diverse city of 122,000, located just 60 miles north of Philadelphia and 75 miles west of New York City. Along with Bethlehem and Easton, the region is home to a vibrant arts scene, a nationally unique parks system, and a rich blend of cuisine and diverse restaurants.

An equal opportunity employer, Muhlenberg College is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding faculty and staff from racial and ethnic groups that have been traditionally underrepresented in higher education. Please visit our https://www.muhlenberg.edu/diversityatmuhlenberg/Diversity & Inclusion page for additional information about Muhlenberg’s commitment to inclusive excellence and the College’s Diversity Strategic Plan.
Sewanee: The University of the South
Rank: Post-Doc in Public Policy
Specializations: Social Welfare, Environmental Policy, Urban Politics

The Department of Politics at The University of the South seeks applications for a postdoctoral fellowship in American politics with a specialization in public policy to begin August 2021. The position is for one year, renewable for a second. The Department is also hiring for a postdoctoral position in political theory, so academic couples are welcome to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate a strong commitment to excellence in teaching. The teaching load is reduced to three courses per year, with a focus on pedagogical mentoring and development. New faculty members have opportunity for teaching mentoring through the Center for Teaching and designing community engagement curricula through collaboration with the Carnegie-recognized Office of Community Engagement. In addition to the ability to teach introductory courses in public policy, we are particularly interested in candidates who can teach upper-level courses in their area of specialization (e.g., social welfare, criminal justice, environmental justice, public health, education, or urban policy) and connect them to our existing major concentrations.

The University of the South comprises a well-regarded College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and a distinguished School of Theology. It is an institution of the Episcopal Church that welcomes individuals of all backgrounds. The University is located on a striking, 13,000-acre campus on Tennessee’s Cumberland Plateau.

The University of the South stands firmly for the principle that its employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have a right to be free from discrimination based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, pregnancy and childbirth, and genetic information. As required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or other protected categories in the educational programs or activities which it operates. This requirement of non-discrimination extends to admission to and employment in those programs or activities. The University is committed to sustaining a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Key to this value are efforts to nurture an environment of civility and mutual respect and to foster a culture of reporting concerns so that the University can respond promptly and equitably whenever an incident occurs. All employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have the right to be free from harassment and retaliation.

For preliminary review, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement demonstrating how they can contribute to faculty diversity, such as through membership in a group that is historically underrepresented in a particular area of study, training, or other experience. These materials should be submitted through the application portal at https://jobs.sewanee.edu/postings/4424. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. For full consideration, please submit materials by December 15, 2020.

New York University - Abu Dhabi
Rank: Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science - Division of Social Science

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint a Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science starting September 2021. Later start dates are also possible. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

Here is the link to apply:
http://apply.interfolio.com/77968

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.