June 2021 | Volume 10, Issue 06

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ...................... 3

Job Listings

Administration ......................................................... 4
American Government and Politics ....................... 5
Comparative Politics ............................................... 22
International Relations .......................................... 37
Methodology ............................................................. 53
Non-Academic .......................................................... 58
Open ............................................................................. 62
Other ............................................................................ 71
Political Theory ....................................................... 88
Public Administration ............................................ 97
Public Law ................................................................. 98
Public Policy ............................................................ 104
About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.
Resources and Guidance on Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

---

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

| 1. What is the salary structure? | 2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards? | 3. What are the department’s expectations for pre-tenure faculty? |
| 2. How is salary normally negotiated? | 3. What are the department's expectations regarding: | 2. What are the department's expectations regarding: |
| 3. How are annual increases handled? | • the average course load, | • the development of teaching expertise, |
| 4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members? | • the number of different courses taught by faculty, and | • innovations in teaching, and |
| | • advising of graduate and undergraduate students? | • the introduction of new courses and new technologies? |

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
   - departmental and institutional committee work,
   - professional or disciplinary activities, and
   - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
   - access to research materials and equipment,
   - the employment of research assistants,
   - research expenses on/off campus, and
   - travel expenses for conferences?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
   - the development of teaching expertise,
   - innovations in teaching, and
   - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?

2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
   - the average course load,
   - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
   - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department’s expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department’s expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
   - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
   - family needs of faculty and staff, and
   - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)\

---

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.
Political Science Jobs for June

ADMINISTRATION

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: School Chair for the School of Cybersecurity and Privacy
Subfield(s): Administration, Public Policy, Other

The Georgia Institute of Technology invites applications from qualified individuals seeking to be the first Chair of the newly founded School of Cybersecurity and Privacy (SCP). The position is an unprecedented opportunity for leadership and vision. Success means you will lead the first interdisciplinary school at the Georgia Institute of Technology and help shape the way Georgia Tech pursues future interdisciplinary schools. Success also means that you will lead the development of cybersecurity and privacy as a unified academic unit. In short, we seek someone who wants to and can meet the challenge of melding their vision with a dynamic, broad ranging group of visionaries to build SCP into the world leader in cybersecurity and privacy.

SCP: The Opportunity.

As the first interdisciplinary school at the Georgia Institute of Technology, SCP will consist of 30+ tenure-track and research (including several holders of endowed chairs) faculty, postdocs, adjunct faculty and professional classified staff. This distinguished group will come from Computing, Engineering, Liberal Arts and Business Colleges. The School of Cybersecurity & Privacy will offer bachelors, masters, and doctoral degrees.

The ideal candidate will: Be a Full Professor with tenure in a premier department at a research university or have an equivalent position in industry or government in Business, Computer Science, Economics, Engineering, Finance, Humanities, International Affairs, Law, Public Policy, or any other field with a proven record of high impact contributions in cybersecurity or privacy. Candidates should have a proven record of achieving external visibility and funding; have demonstrated strong leadership and team building skills; care about the personal and educational enrichment of faculty, staff, and students; have experience with strategic planning, administrative oversight, fiscal management, and vision development; and embrace participatory management and transparent decision-making.

The School of Cybersecurity and Privacy is a high-visibility, high-impact, cross-college department unlike other Georgia Tech academic units. Candidates should demonstrate a willingness to innovate, both organizationally and pedagogically. Embracing a culture of collaboration and interdisciplinary breadth is essential to success in this new venture, and candidates should be prepared to elaborate on his/her vision for achieving those aims.

To be considered, please submit online your CV, a letter of application, 5 reference names and contact information, and other supporting documents. Your application will remain confidential (known only to the search committee) until its final stage, at which point, with your permission, we will contact your references and request letters of support. Review of applications will begin on June 15, 2021. This search will continue until the position is filled.

Should you have any problems with the online submission, please contact scp-recruiting@cc.gatech.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/15/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8851

University of Akron

Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron’s Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute’s academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or governmental setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: https://www.uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the &quot;My Activities&quot; link and upload the required documents under the "My Cover Letters and Attachments" section.

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mchugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8821

University of Florida
Rank: Associate Dean for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

The University of Florida, a top-ranked public university, welcomes applications and nominations for the inaugural role of Associate Dean for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (CLAS). The Associate Dean will join the institution at a transformative time as UF strengthens its commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion as a top institutional priority. Under the leadership of Dean David E. Richardson, the successful candidate will be an unwavering diversity advocate and inspiring partner who values a liberal arts and sciences education and has demonstrated experience as a skilled administrator, advisor, and strategic leader. The Associate Dean will lead and inform the strategic discussion advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion throughout the college and will build, guide, and assess policies and practices that encourage diversity, equity, and inclusion as a means of improving the college’s cultural climate and support its underrepresented populations.

Reporting to the Dean, the Associate Dean will focus on the development of a comprehensive and strategic framework to support diversity, equity, and inclusion efforts in the college; engage in continuous, systematic, and focused recruitment and retention activities to support a diverse student, faculty, and staff population. As a public institution, it is important that the campus reflect demographics that mirror the state of Florida.

Serving as a key partner and advisor to the campus community with the support of the other Associate Deans of the college, this Associate Dean will develop and implement a full range of initiatives that enhance ongoing efforts to ensure college-wide understanding, adoption, and adherence to diversity, equity, and inclusion while fostering a collaborative and nurturing culture that recognizes UF’s particular history and combats racism and its impacts. The Associate Dean will serve as a thought leader with in-depth knowledge of diversity, equity, and inclusion; improve the college climate; and intentionally engage faculty, students, and staff in dialogue around critical issues to support the academic, career, and personal development of underrepresented groups.

These unprecedented times overshadowed by a global pandemic and inspired by a revitalized movement for racial justice and equity allow for innovative change in new areas. As a member of the Dean’s leadership team, the Associate Dean will partner with other Associate Deans and college stakeholders and champion transparency and accountability of diversity initiatives as a shared priority at CLAS in support of UF’s vision by developing significant collaborative partnerships with senior administration, faculty, staff, students, and community members to strengthen the anti-racist fabric of UF. This is a tremendous opportunity for a scholar, administrator, and strategic project manager to build a framework, presence, and advocacy for practices that foster and infuse the values of diversity, equity, and inclusion throughout the college.

All inquiries, nominations/referrals, and resumes with cover letters should be sent electronically and in confidence to Keight Tucker Kennedy or Tiffany Weber at Isaacson, Miller.

To apply, please visit: www.imsearch.com/7692
Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 8/24/2021
Date Posted: 3/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8744

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS
Boston University
Rank: Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Boston University seeks to appoint the Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship at the rank of advanced Associate or full Professor, with tenure, to begin in Fall 2022. Applicants in Political Science, from the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Public Policy, Political Theory, are encouraged to apply. We wish to recruit an intellectual leader with a distinguished record of scholarship who brings a critical lens on the development and meaning of citizenship.

When George B. Maxwell established this Professorship in September 1918 the First World War was not yet concluded and citizenship was — in both de jure and de facto senses — narrowly defined. Indian Reservations were being consolidated, the Espionage and Sedition Acts of WWI limited free speech, Jim Crow was in force, the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution granting women the right to vote had not been passed, and the purpose and limits of immigration were contested. The Maxwell Professorship supports scholars engaged in fostering an “intelligent understanding and appreciation of the rights, duties, inheritances and possibilities of our citizenship.” A Maxwell Chair holder could understand citizenship broadly; for example, in the context of American political development, the tensions between communitarianism and cosmopolitanism, political theories of citizenship, or in comparative perspective. In keeping with George Maxwell’s vision, we seek a scholar who is engaged in both public education and academic discourse.

Boston University offers a rich and vibrant academic community for interdisciplinary research on citizenship; the Maxwell Professorship offers the opportunity to develop connections across disciplines, programs and centers. The candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. We seek candidates who prioritize inclusive practices in their scholarship, pedagogy, and campus engagement.

Please submit a letter of interest to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18615. The application must also include; a curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, a list of references and a statement about your record of inclusion. Completed applications are due on 4 October 2021.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 6/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8904

Florida State University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Institute for Politics (IOP) at Florida State University seeks a full-time post-doctoral fellow with expertise in political participation, political behavior, survey research, or data science to serve a fixed term position of one year with a possibility of renewing for a second year based on funding and performance.

Applicants should have research interests and focuses in political behavior, civic engagement, or political participation with a focus on US politics and should have experience working with survey and/or population data, advanced quantitative methods skills, and experience with the management of large datasets.

The Institute of Politics is a non-partisan institute that housed within the College of Social Sciences and Public Policy that promotes engagement in politics by students and citizens.

The postdoc will be expected to pursue research of his or her own and collaborative research within the IOP and is encouraged to participate in the intellectual life of the institute, the political science department, and the university, including working with graduate student researchers. The position provides $5,000 in research and travel support, with the opportunity to apply for additional funding. The postdoc will also be expected to teach one course a year and provide logistical support for IOP events and projects.

To apply please send a cover letter, a CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample to polisci@fsu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/15/2021
Date Posted: 5/28/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8902

Marymount University (Arlington, Virginia)

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Assistant Professor in Politics (Tenure Track)

American Law

The Politics program at Marymount University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning in August 2021 (the successful candidate may choose to defer the start date until January, 2022). The standard teaching load is 3/3, all at the undergraduate level. Successful candidates will have demonstrated teaching experience and research interests in American law, and comparative or American politics, as well as a demonstrated teaching ability in normative theory. Preference will be given to candidates with a research focus and/or demonstrated teaching experience in one or more of the following areas: politics of underrepresented groups, gender and politics, environmental politics, mass behavior, social movements, and additional topics in comparative and American politics. The search committee prefers candidates with teaching and research experience, respect for liberal arts education within the Catholic intellectual tradition, and an interest in inquiry-based teaching. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or assurance they will complete the degree by August 2021. Applications should include a cover letter, c.v., evidence of excellence in teaching and research, and at least three letters of recommendation. The committee will begin reviewing applications on June 18, 2021, and accept applications until the position is filled.

Please submit applications via our program website: https://marymount.edu/academics/politics-search

Or directly through Marymount’s HR website: https://marymount.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Careers/job/Main-Campus/Assistant-Professor-Politics--Tenure-Track--_R88?

Please feel free to contact Chad Rector (crector@marymount.edu) and Margaret Tseng (mtseng@marymount.edu) with any questions.

About the politics program at Marymount:

Marymount’s Politics program is part of the Marymount University School of Humanities, housed in the College of Sciences and Humanities. Faculty are expected to teach high-quality student-centric undergraduate courses in face-to-face settings. The College of Sciences and Humanities is located on Marymount University’s Main Campus.

Marymount University welcomes and values all members of our community. Guided by the mission of our founders, the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary (RSHM), to achieve unity through diversity, Marymount honors our diversity as a source of strength. Our differences inspire intellectual curiosity and collectively allow us to tackle the challenges of the world. We seek to foster an inclusive community in which each person’s race, ethnicity, religion, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, veteran status, age, ability, class, national origin, and immigration status are fully respected and celebrated. According to the vision of the RSHM that “ALL may have life, and have it to the FULL,” we strive to create an atmosphere of mutual respect, cooperation, and civility where all community members are S.A.I.N.T.S—Safe, Accepted, Included, Needed, Treasured, and Seen.

Major duties and responsibilities

- Support and integrate the mission and core values of Marymount University and Academic Affairs, including our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Teach a 3/3 course load each year.
- Maintain a successful record of quality, peer reviewed scholarship.
- Maintain office hours at times which provide appropriate access to students.

Other duties

- Assume professional responsibilities as requested by the Dean of the College and/or School Director.
- Engage in on-going professional development which will include scholarship activities such as research, presentations, and participation with professional organizations.
- Contribute to the University, College of Sciences and Humanities, and School of Humanities functions and services, including assessments, and continuous improvement activities.

Job requirements

Ph.D. (or ABD with completion by 8/15/2021) in Politics/Political Science/Government from an accredited institution. Applicants with solely a J.D. and/or master’s degree are not eligible for this position.

Marymount provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment and prohibits discrimination and harassment of any type without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, national origin, disability status, genetics, protected veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or any other characteristic protected by federal, state or local laws.

This policy applies to all terms and conditions of employment, including recruiting, hiring, placement, promotion, termination, layoff, recall, transfer, leaves of absence, compensation and training.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/27/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8898

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department’s required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at https://bush.tamu.edu/Grand-Strategy/. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site http://apply.interfolio.com/86435 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values. Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8893

Georgetown University

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor, Department of Government, M.A. in Democracy and Governance

Position Title: Assistant Teaching Professor, Department of Government, M.A. in Democracy and Governance
Location: Main Campus
Position Type: Faculty - Main Campus Non-Tenure Line - Instructional

Position URL: apply.interfolio.com/87305

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a three-year, non-tenure-track position of Assistant Teaching Professor and Associate Director/Director of its dynamic Democracy and Governance (DG) Master of Arts (MA) Program starting in August 2021. The successful candidate will serve as Associate Director of the MA Program for one year and will then assume the position of Director of the MA Program in August 2022. The new Associate Director will work closely with the current Director and program staff, as well as the Department Chair, to manage this transition.

The only program of its kind in the country, the DG MA Program seeks to understand the foundations of democratic and responsive government, and how policymakers can create and implement policies to achieve these objectives. Its graduates pursue exciting careers in democracy assistance, governance reform, politics, and international affairs.

The Associate Director/Director is a pivotal member of the leadership team of the Department of Government. In particular, the Associate Director/Director collaborates closely with the leadership of the department’s two other MA programs to capitalize on the intellectual synergies among the programs, and develop joint initiatives and cross-program curricular offerings, thereby strengthening the ties among the programs and the programs themselves.

As Associate Director, they work with the current Director and the Program’s Advisory Board to guide the intellectual growth of the Program, and envision and implement a plan for its strategic development. They also have critical administrative, teaching, and student-engagement responsibilities. They oversee the day-to-day operations of the Program, and manage Program recruitment and admissions. They also oversee the curriculum, course offerings, and adjunct faculty in the Program. They teach four courses per year and offer skills workshops and other specialized training opportunities each semester. They also serve as academic and career advisors to students: they facilitate internship and job placement, including through working with Program alumni, and participate in student-related events throughout the year, including admissions, orientation, and graduation. In addition, they manage the Program Coordinator and student workers.

Upon assuming the position of Director, the successful candidate will also provide scholarly and institutional leadership to advance the DG Program’s efforts in multiple domains including teaching, research, institution building, and outreach to the diverse professional communities that work in democracy assistance, human rights and development. The Director shapes student-recruitment strategies, devises new courses, and enhances programming that links classroom studies to overseas field research, to grass roots experiential learning, and to effective career building. The Director serves as an “ambassador” and spokesman for the MA program, developing and leading its efforts to have an impact at Georgetown University, and in the wider global arena.

Qualifications
A PhD in a relevant field is required. The position is open to scholars of both comparative politics and international relations, with a strong preference for candidates whose work and research interests cross this boundary. We are particularly interested in scholars who have studied and published on a range of contemporary challenges facing new and established democracies, including, but not limited to, regime transitions, ideological and social polarization, populism, identity conflicts, and the politics of market reform. Familiarity with both quantitative and qualitative research methods is preferred. A demonstrated interest in the relationship between scholarship and US democracy assistance programs and policies is essential. Candidates who have relevant and demonstrated administrative and management experience in an academic or think tank setting are strongly preferred. Georgetown University’s Department of Government greatly values new perspectives on the world and is deeply committed to building a more open and inclusive discipline.

Application Instructions
Interested applicants must submit a cover letter outlining professional background and teaching experience, curriculum vitae, and at least three letters of recommendation via Interfolio. Questions about the online application system should be directed to Department Chair Anthony Clark Arend (arenda@georgetown.edu).

Review of applications will begin May 16, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. The position is expected to begin on August 1, 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8892

American University: School of Public Affairs
Rank: Professorial Lecturer
Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy
Description
The Department of Justice, Law and Criminology in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a term faculty appointment for Academic Year 2021-2022. The appointment is a 9-month term position and will commence on August 30, 2021.

Applicants should hold a PhD in a relevant field (e.g. sociology, criminology, criminal justice, political science, international relations, or public policy) or other terminal degree. The position will require the incumbent to teach three courses per semester. All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Qualifications
The successful candidate will teach courses in Terrorism, Counterterrorism, Cybersecurity or Homeland Security (US or comparative), including (but not limited to) the following courses: Causes of Terrorism and Political Violence; Domestic Terrorism; Terrorism and Counterterrorism in Practice; U.S. Cyber Policy; and Homeland Security. Preference given for applicants who have experience teaching research methods at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Application Instructions
Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: http://apply.interfolio.com/87228. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three recommenders, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers. Please contact Katelyn Deibler, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or kdeibler@american.edu if you have any questions.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation’s capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8884

University of California, Davis
Rank: Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for two or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2021-2022 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF04188. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by May 24, 2021, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.
The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8878

Naval War College
Rank: POSTDOCTORAL TEACHING AND RESEARCH FELLOWSHIP, STRATEGY & POLICY DEPARTMENT, AD-1701-01

The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

Strategy & Policy Department. The Strategy & Policy Department uses strategic theory, the history of war, and an examination of present-day conflicts to develop critical analytical skills for understanding the interrelationship of policy aims, strategy, and military operations. Additional details regarding the Naval War College and the Strategy and Policy Department curriculum can be obtained by visiting the Naval War College website at: https://usnwc.edu/Faculty-and-Departments/Academic-Departments/Strategy-and-Policy-Department.

Responsibilities. The post-doctoral teaching and research fellowship is an anticipated vacancy for a one-year appointment renewable by the Strategy and Policy Department for a second year. The position’s teaching requirement is two seminars of the Strategy & War course is currently taught in the winter trimester from November to February (overall 0-2.5 load). Seminars in the common curriculum average 12 professional students who are mid-career officers and civilian government employees. Seminars are team-taught by a civilian academic and a military faculty member. In the other terms, fellows are expected to work on their own research and participate in the intellectual life of the department and college. Expectations are high in both teaching and research. Anticipated starting date is August/September 2021.

Qualifications. Qualified candidates must have a recent Ph.D. or have defended their dissertation at the time of appointment. A doctorate in International Relations, International Security Affairs, Political Economy, Regional Studies, Diplomatic and International History, War Studies, Naval/ Maritime History, or Military History or a related field is highly desired. Applicants must be U.S. citizens and capable of obtaining a secret security clearance.

Salary Considerations. Salary is $66,103 from the Navy Faculty Pay Schedule and a research travel stipend ($5,000). This compensation package is accompanied by a generous federal employee benefits package that includes health insurance with employer contribution, retirement savings plan, paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits.

Application Procedures. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-21-06 and forward their application package to: NWC-21-06@usnwc.edu. The application package should include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, a research proposal, writing sample (no more than 50 pages in length), and up to three teaching evaluations (where applicable). Applications must be received by 11:59 pm (EDT), June 4, 2021.

Questions about the position should be directed to Dr. Kevin McCranie, Chair, Strategy and Policy Department at: kevin.mccranie@usnwc.edu.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veterans’ preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans’ preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans’ preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, &quot;Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty&quot;) to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, &quot;Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference,&quot; and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.) Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/4/2021
Date Posted: 5/7/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8871

Trinity College
Rank: VISITING ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN PUBLIC POLICY AND LAW
Specializations: Environmental Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Health Care

Trinity College’s Public Policy and Law program invites applications for a two-year visiting assistant professor position commencing in the fall of 2021. We are seeking candidates with expertise in social, health, or environmental policy, especially those whose research involves racial justice, economic inequality, health equity, or environmental justice. Teaching load is 5 courses a year. Teaching responsibilities will include an introduction to U.S. public policy, an introductory undergraduate research methods class, and courses in the candidate’s area of expertise. A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or another social science discipline should be in hand or expected by August 2021.

We encourage applicants who share our commitment to diversity and inclusion. We especially welcome applications from women and underrepresented racial/ethnic groups. The College is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer.

Trinity College is a highly selective, independent, nonsectarian liberal arts institution located in Connecticut’s capital, Hartford. With over 2100 full-time undergraduate students and 91 graduate students, the College maintains a rigorous academic profile complemented by a vibrant co-curricular program. The College enjoys the benefit of being situated in an urban center and has strong connections to our home city of Hartford. Our student body is diverse, representing 41 states and 70 countries with 21% students of color and 50% women.

To ensure full consideration please submit a letter of application (including statement of research and teaching interests), CV, sample of scholarly writing, teaching evaluations, and syllabi (if available) to https://trincoll.peopleadmin.comhttps://trincoll.peopleadmin.com&amp;lt;/a&amp;gt; by May 28, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 5/31/2021
Date Posted: 5/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8869

Arts & Science
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Theory/American Government (Non-Tenure Track)

The Department of Government at New Mexico State University invites applications for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor with a focus in political theory and American government. The period of employment is August 16, 2021 to May 10, 2022. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or have ABD status in Political Science or a related field. Preferred qualifications are teaching experience in political theory and American government.

The Department of Government offers a BA in Government, a Supplementary Major in Law and Society, an MA in Government and a nationally-accredited Masters in Public Administration (MPA) program. It has a proud tradition of enhancing student success and social mobility, outstanding research and valuable work in service and outreach. The Visiting Assistant Professor will teach a mix of undergraduate and graduate classes in the areas of political theory and American government, totaling four classes per semester, as well as serve on the MA committee within the Department of Government. For inquiries, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Neil Harvey, at nharvey@nmsu.edu. To be considered, applications must be submitted online at: https://jobs.nmsu.edu/postings/41109

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 5/31/2021
Date Posted: 5/4/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8857

Bloomsburg University
Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Intro to and U.S. Government

Position Description
The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 101: Elements of Political Science and POLISCI 120: U.S. Government. A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog-.

Qualifying Education/Experience
Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of American Politics. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information
A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment
Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act.

The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University’s compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University’s compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8844

Miami University
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in American Politics

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in American Politics to teach courses in public law/courts and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2021.

Required: Ph.D. at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor; ABD for appointment as Instructor. Position not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Consideration may be given to candidates with teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/enus/job/498616/visiting-assistant-professor-instructor-in-american-politics. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 20, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8840

SUNY, University at Albany
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - 2 positions

Visiting Assistant Professor, Political Science (2 positions)

Rockefeller College of Public Affairs seeks two Visiting Assistant Professors in the fields of Public Law and American Politics. The appointment is in the Department of Political Science for academic year 2021-2022, with the possibility of renewal. The course load is four courses a year.

American Politics

The department’s priority is a scholar who will teach in the areas of the American presidency/executive politics, and/or campaigns and elections. Ability to teach other subjects in American Politics, such as Political Parties, American Political Development, and/or Racial and Ethnic Politics, will be considered a plus. The department also expects that the successful applicant will teach the introductory course in American Politics. Contributing to the diversity of the Department will also be considered a plus.

Public Law

One of the four courses taught during the year may be a topics course of the visitor’s design, and another will be the introductory course in American Politics. The Department prefers candidates with an interest in American Political Development (APD). Ability to teach racial and ethnic politics and/or contributing to the diversity of the Department will also be considered a plus.

Applicants should have at least finished or close to submitting their dissertation by the beginning of the fall 2021 semester. Candidates should have demonstrated the ability to work with and instruct culturally diverse groups of people. Their home university should be accredited by a USDOE or an internationally accrediting organization.

Please apply online via: https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=130245

All candidates should submit a statement of interest, a curriculum vita, a writing sample or publication, and available evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, student evaluations, and/or teaching statement) through Interview Exchange. Candidates should also arrange to have a graduate transcript and at least three letters of reference submitted through Interview Exchange.

Salary: $50,000 and benefits. Starting date is August 23, 2021.

All applications received by May 10, 2021 will be reviewed. Later applications will be considered as needed.

Located in a major governmental center, the Department has 21 full-time members and offers degrees at the bachelors, masters, and doctoral levels. The University at Albany (www.albany.edu) is one of four designated University Centers in the SUNY system.

Department Contact Person: Meredith Weiss, Chair, mweiss@alban-y.edu
About University at Albany:
Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany’s broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of more than 17,900 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State’s capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Additional Information
The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University’s crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University’s current campus security policies. The University at Albany’s Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml.

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor’s Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER
Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/23/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8827

University of Akron
Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other
Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron’s Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute’s academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or governmental setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: https://www.uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the &quot;My Activities&quot; link and upload the required documents under the “My Cover Letters and Attachments” section.

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mchugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students, employees and visitors. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8821

U.S. Army War College
Rank: Research Professor of National Security Affairs
Specializations: Research Methods, American Politics, International Security

RESEARCH PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY U.S. Army War College Strategic Studies Institute

Open & closing dates
04/19/2021 to 06/04/2021

Service Exempted
Pay scale & grade
AD 00

Salary
$83,988 to $124,554 per year

Appointment type
Term - 3 years

Work schedule
Full-time

Locations
1 vacancy in the following location:
Carlisle Barracks, PA

Relocation expenses reimbursed
Yes Permanent Change of Station expenses ARE authorized in accordance with agency policy.

This job is open to
The public

Telework eligible
Yes as determined by agency policy

U.S. citizens, nationals or those who owe allegiance to the U.S.

Clarification from the agency
See "Who May Apply" in the "Qualifications &quot; section for more information on who is eligible to apply for this position.

Announcement number
NEDQ218575

Control number 598616900

Duties
Summary
About the Position:
This is a full-time civilian faculty position at the U.S. Army War College (USAWC), Strategic Studies Institute as provided under Title 10 USC 4021. Initial appointment may be up to three years, the first year may be a trial period. The appointment may be renewed in one- to five-year increments thereafter. Academic rank and salary will be based on the selectee’s academic credentials, experience and professional accomplishments. Responsibilities
• Serve as Research Professor of National Security Affairs in the Strategic Studies Institute (SSI) at the USAWC.
• Performs research and publishes SSI studies, journal articles, policy-oriented essays, op-eds, blog postings, books and/or book chapters, which are distributed worldwide. (50%)
• Conducts self-initiated research and directed research in geostategic threats, national security strategy, and defense policy at the request of senior-level officials at the Army Staff, Joint Staff or Office of the Secretary of Defense. • Works independently and collaboratively to develop recommendations to achieve key national security objectives specifically oriented toward those factors that impact U.S. defense priorities, especially those of the U.S. Army.
• Designs individual and collective annual research and publication plans, in consultation with SSI leadership, addressing contemporary national security issues.
• Conducts both internal and external service in national security related areas. (30%)
• Liaises with and provides briefings and expertise in response to requests from aforementioned key stakeholders and other audiences.
• Leads, organizes, and implements SSI and USAWC professional collaboration, conferences, seminars, symposiums, and meetings.
• Attends and participates in relevant academic conferences by presenting papers and/or acting as panel chair or discussant.
• Contributes to the educational mission of the USAWC through teaching, lecturing and supervising student research projects. (20%)

Travel Required
25% or less - Travel (domestic and/or international) may be required up to 25% of the time.

Supervisory status
No

Job family (Series)
0101 Social Science

Promotion Potential
None

(https://www.usajobs.gov//Search/Results?j=0101)

Requirements
Conditions Of Employment
• Appointment may be subject to a suitability or fitness determination, as determined by a completed background investigation.
• Must be able to obtain and maintain a TOP SECRET security clearance.
• Must provide official college transcripts, upon request. Unofficial transcripts are suitable for application purposes.
• Must comply with the Drug Testing Program requirements (pre-employment and random testing after appointment).
• Must be available for employment not later than 1 August 2021.

Qualifications
Who May Apply:
U.S. Citizens

To qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below. Your résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience; your transcripts are required as part of your application. Additional information about transcripts is available at http://www.armycivilianservice.com/JOA/Transcripts.pdf

SELECTIVE PLACEMENT FACTORS/KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES (KSAs): Applicants will be rated based on the criteria listed below by a panel of subject matter experts appointed with the purpose of identifying the best-qualified candidates.

1. Must have a master’s (required) degree in national security studies, international relations, international political economy, political
Political Science Jobs

June 2021

science, public policy, regional studies or related field. A PhD or equivalent evidence of extensive original scholarly research and writing is preferred.

2. Record of research and publication (or evidence of great potential) on key national security issues with the ability to influence policy at the strategic level (National Security Council, DoD, combatant commands, interagency).

3. Excellent oral and written communication skills, as demonstrated by the publication of books and articles, workshops and conference presentations, lectures, and podcasts, etc.

4. Excellent interpersonal and organizational skills, including the ability to serve as a project team lead for collective research projects, and as a faculty advisor for student research projects.

5. Ability to contribute to the educational mission of the USAWC through teaching, including supervising student research projects, lecturing in the core curriculum, regional studies and/or electives.

Education

Only degrees from an accredited college or university recognized by the Department of Education are acceptable to meet positive education requirements or to substitute education for experience.

FOREIGN EDUCATION: If you are using education completed in foreign colleges or universities to meet the qualification requirements, you must show the education credentials have been evaluated by a private organization that specializes in interpretation of foreign education programs and such education has been deemed equivalent to that gained in an accredited U.S. education program; or full credit has been given for the courses at a U.S. accredited college or university. For further information, visit: http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ous/international/usnei/us/edlite-accreditedcollege-or-university.html and http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ous/international/usnei/us/edlite-visitus-forrecog.html (http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ous/international/usnei/us/edlite-visitus-forrecog.html)

Additional information

• Male applicants born after December 31, 1959, must complete a Pre-Employment Certification Statement for Selective Service Registration.

• You will be required to provide proof of U.S. Citizenship.

• One year trial period may be required.

• Direct deposit of pay is required.

• Salary includes applicable locality pay or Local Market Supplement.

• When you perform a Civilian Permanent Change of Station (PCS) with the government, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) considers the majority of your entitlements to be taxable. Visit https://www.dfas.mil/civilianemployees/civrelo/Civilian-Moving-Expenses-Tax-Deduction/ (https://www.dfas.mil/civilianemployees/civrelo/Civilian-Moving-Expenses-Tax-Deduction/) for more information.

• Permanent Change of Station (PCS) allowances may be authorized, subject to the provisions of the Joint Travel Regulations and an agency determination that a PCS move is in the Government Interest.

• Include the job announcement number on your application.

• Must provide official college transcripts upon request (unofficial transcripts are required at the time of application).

• Telework eligible -- Mission-dependent with locality pay at Carlisle, PA.

How You Will Be Evaluated

The application review process to determine if you meet the experience and education requirements found in the job announcement begins upon the closing date of the announcement. If you are one of the top candidates, you may be invited to interview by the selection official. If selected, you will receive a tentative job offer. Depending on the strength of the applicant pool, this process may take several months after the closing date of the job announcement.

Please follow all instructions carefully, as failure to submit a complete application could invalidate your submission. In this regard, please be sure to read the HOW TO APPLY and REQUIRED DOCUMENTS sections.

Background checks and security clearance

Security clearance

Top Secret (https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/faq/job-announcement/security-clearances/)

Drug test required

Yes

Position sensitivity and risk

Critical-Sensitive (CS)/High Risk (https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/faq/job-announcement/security-clearances/)

Trust determination process

Required Documents

Please see the list of requirements in the “How to Apply” section.

NOTE: Documents submitted as part of the application package, to include supplemental documents, may be shared beyond the Human Resources Office. Some supplemental documents such as military orders and marriage certificates could contain personal information for someone other than the applicant. Redact these documents to remove the personal information of others before submitting your application. You may be asked to provide an un-redacted version of the documents to confirm your eligibility for selection.

Failure to provide all of the required information as stated in the job announcement may result in an ineligible rating or may affect the overall rating.

If you are relying on your education to meet qualification requirements:

Education must be accredited by an accrediting institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education in order for it to be credited towards qualifications. Therefore, provide only the attendance and/or degrees from schools accredited by accrediting institutions recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (http://www.ed.gov/admins/finaid/accred/).

Failure to provide all of the required information as stated in this vacancy announcement may result in an ineligible rating or may affect the overall rating.

Benefits
A career with the U.S. Government provides employees with a comprehensive benefits package. As a federal employee, you and your family will have access to a range of benefits that are designed to make your federal career very rewarding.

• Benefits for federal employees (https://www.usa.gov/benefits-for-federal-employees#item-36407)
• Healthcare insurance (https://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance/)
• Retirement

Eligibility for benefits depends on the type of position you hold and whether your position is full-time, part-time, or intermittent. Contact the hiring agency for more information on the specific benefits offered.

How to Apply
To apply for this position, you must provide a complete application package which includes the items listed below. Applications must be postmarked or e-dated by the closing date of this job announcement. Please include the job announcement number on the application.

Army network servers have an overall limit of 10 MB per email. To ensure delivery of your application, we recommend that applicants limit overall email size to no more than 5-8 MB. You may send documents in several emails to reduce overall size.

The USAWC G1 will provide email confirmation of all received applications. If you do not receive delivery confirmation within three business days please contact the USAWC G1 at (717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256, or via email to usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil

Failure to provide these documents may result in disqualification for the position. Please note that this is NOT a Title 5 (General Scale) position, and the routine procedures for filing through the USAJobs.gov automated system should NOT be followed. Instead, please submit your complete application package and any requests for further information directly to the USAWC G1 at the email address listed below.

• Curriculum vitae or résumé.
• Proof of U.S. citizenship (i.e., birth certificate, passport).
• Academic transcripts (undergraduate and graduate level). Unofficial transcripts are required with your application submission. You must provide official college transcripts upon request.
• A three to five page overview that addresses your expertise, experience and capabilities to meet the KSA/qualifications for this position as outlined above.
• Letters of Endorsement (no more than three references and please include contact information) from disinterested professional associates (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate’s qualifications, but have no stake in the outcome of the selection). PLEASE NOTE these letters MUST be included with the application submission and will not be accepted if sent separately.
• Documentation supporting any request for Veteran’s Preference (such as a DD Form 214 and/or VA statement of disability).
• A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the U.S. Army War College through research, scholarship, teaching, and/or service.

The Department of the Army provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please notify the servicing civilian personnel unit. Your requests for reasonable accommodation will be addressed on a case-by-case basis.

Both paper and electronic submissions are acceptable, but the latter is strongly encouraged. The preferred method of submission is by email with .pdf attachments.

Submission Process: Please note that this is NOT a Title 5 (General Scale) position, and the routine procedures for filing through the USAJobs.gov automated system should NOT be followed. Instead, please submit your complete application package and any requests for further information directly to the G1 Office at the email address listed below.

Submit your complete application package and any requests for further information to:
U.S. Army War College Office of the G1
46 Ashburn Drive (Anne Ely Hall, Room 233)
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil (717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256

Agency contact information
Army Applicant Help Desk
Website https://portal.chra.army.mil/hr_public?id=app_inq
(https://portal.chra.army.mil/hr_public?id=app_inq)

Address
DQ-APF-W2H6AA US ARMY WAR COLLEGE DO NOT MAIL
Carlisle, PA 17013 US

Learn more about this agency (#agency-modal-trigger)

The Army War College is the U.S. Army's most senior institution for professional military education. It educates the top echelon of U.S. military officers of all services, U.S. government civilians, and military officers from up to 80 foreign countries yearly. It develops strategic leaders by providing a variety of rigorous curricula of theoretical and professional subjects. The senior-level curriculum is delivered two ways -- through a ten-month resident program (about 385 students) and a two-year distance education program (about 750 students); both lead to a Master's of Strategic Studies accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. In addition to the Master’s degree, the USAWC administers numerous professional development programs focused on strategic thinking and leadership. These programs range from a fourteen-week course for junior officers qualifying as Army strategists to shorter courses for general officers, senior colonels, and command sergeants major.

The principal organizations of the USAWC are the School of Strategic Landpower, Center for Strategic Leadership, Strategic Studies Institute, the Advanced Strategic Education Program, and the Army Heritage and Education Center. They work collectively to accomplish the institution’s mission: &quot;Educate and develop leaders for service at the strategic level while advancing knowledge in the global application of land power.&quot;

Next steps
Your application package (résumé, supporting documents, etc.) will be reviewed by a specially appointed selection committee to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. Please follow all instructions carefully. Errors or omissions may affect your rating or consideration for employment.

Fair & Transparent
The Federal hiring process is setup to be fair and transparent. Please read the following guidance.

Equal Employment Opportunity Policy
The United States Government does not discriminate in employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy and gender identity), national origin, political affiliation, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, genetic information, age, membership in an employee organization, retaliation, parental status, military service, or other non-merit factor.

• Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) for federal employees & job applicants (https://www.eeoc.gov/federal/fed_employees/index.cfm)

Reasonable Accommodation Policy
Federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities where appropriate. Applicants requiring reasonable accommodation for any part of the application process should follow the instructions in the job opportunity announcement. For any part of the remaining hiring process, applicants should contact the hiring agency directly. Determinations on requests for reasonable accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis. A reasonable accommodation is any change to a job, the work environment, or the way things are usually done that enables an individual with a disability to apply for a job, perform job duties or receive equal access to job benefits.

Under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodations when:

• An applicant with a disability needs an accommodation to have an equal opportunity to apply for a job.
• An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to perform the essential job duties or to gain access to the workplace.
• An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to receive equal access to benefits, such as details, training, and office-sponsored events.

You can request a reasonable accommodation at any time during the application or hiring process or while on the job. Requests are considered on a case-by-case basis.

Learn more about disability employment and reasonable accommodations (https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/disability-employment/reasonable-accommodations/) or how to contact an agency.

Legal and regulatory guidance

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 6/4/2021
Date Posted: 4/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8819

University of South Carolina
Rank: Postdoc Position in the Founding Documents
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Political Theory

Two Year (renewable) Post-Doc Fellowships in the Founding Documents (2)
University of South Carolina, Columbia
July 1, 2021 - June 30, 2023/4

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina is pleased to invite applications for two new two-year (renewable for a third year) Post-Doctoral Political Science Teaching Fellowships focused on teaching and interpreting the documents on which the United States was founded (including the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, Federalist Papers, Emancipation Proclamation, other freedom papers, and more). Two Founding Documents Post-Docs are available, both beginning on July 1, 2021. These twelve-month positions include a five-course teaching load (two in the Fall; two in the Spring, and one in Summer session).

Candidates with interests in the fields of American Politics, Public Law, or American Political Theory are encouraged to apply.

This opportunity is the result of new legislation in South Carolina (the REACH Act) that requires college students in the state to complete a three-credit course that includes the American founding documents.
We seek candidates who are committed to teaching students how to place these documents into the intellectual history of democracy within and beyond the United States. Teaching will be limited to courses that satisfy the State's Founding Documents requirement (including POLI 201: American National Government; POLI 304: Contemporary Political Theory; POLI 450: Constitutional Law; POLI 451: Civil Liberties; POLI 452: The Judicial Process).

Requirements:
1. Completion of a Political Science PhD by May 2021 (ABDs are NOT eligible for consideration)
2. Demonstrable experience teaching or researching the history of democracy and/or the founding documents of the United States

Applications should include a cover letter, a statement of commitment to teaching Founding Documents, two letters of reference, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a transcript that states degree completion no later than May 2021 should be submitted through https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/95653

For best consideration, a complete application should be submitted by April 16, 2021. Applications will be reviewed until the positions are filled.

For questions concerning this position, please contact, Dr. Robert Oldendick, Chair of the Search Committee, at oldendick-bob@sc.edu.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state’s flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 “Best Colleges” according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state’s educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender, age, disability, veteran status, or genetics.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/6/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8796

Texas Christian University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in American Politics. The successful candidate will show evidence of teaching excellence and will have an active research agenda supported by published research or the strong promise of such publication. The ability to teach in our Research-Methods sequence is advantageous. We prefer applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. in political science by the appointment date.

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, evidence of teaching ability, unofficial transcript, writing sample, teaching statement, research statement, and diversity statement to https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. Full review of applications begins on May 6 and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair Dr. Adam Schiffer a.schiffer@tcu.edu.

The TCU political science department has 13 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors in three undergraduate degrees. Our teacher-scholars also run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships, as well as teach in and administer interdisciplinary programs including Women and Gender Studies and Comparative Race and Ethnic Studies.

A selective teaching and research university with 11,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 13th largest city in the United States and part of the nation’s fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a fast-growing city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for nine consecutive years as one of the “Great Colleges to Work For” by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status, or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8796

Texas Christian University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in American Politics. The successful candidate will show evidence of teaching excellence and will have an active research agenda supported by published research or the strong promise of such publication. The ability to teach in our Research-Methods sequence is advantageous. We prefer applicants who will have completed the Ph.D. in political science by the appointment date.

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, evidence of teaching ability, unofficial transcript, writing sample, teaching statement, research statement, and diversity statement to https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/. Three confidential letters of recommendation should Candidates must show evidence that all requirements for the PhD were completed between August 1, 2018 and August 1, 2021. Candidates must also have strong training in research design and quantitative methods using both R and Stata. Preference will be given to applicants with skills in one or more of the following areas: grant writing, survey methodology, causal inference, machine learning, or natural language processing.

The College and University
Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university with an active, and collegial network of faculty, post-docs, and graduate students. Political Science faculty members are actively involved with interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods at Purdue (AMAP), the Center for C-SPAN Scholarship and Engagement, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the Human Rights Program, the Purdue Policy Research Institute and many others. West Lafayette is an affordable, welcoming community with many opportunities for entertainment, dining, hiking, biking, and other outdoor activities.

Applications
Candidates should submit a cover letter, CV, at least three letters of reference, graduate transcripts, a separate statement on diversity, equity, and inclusiveness in mentoring, and a solo-authored writing sample. Application materials must be submitted electronically via https://career8.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=13297&company=purdueuniv. Confidential letters of recommendation may be emailed to politicalscience@purdue.edu

Purdue University’s Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin April 19th and continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Department Head Cherie Maestas at cmaestas@purdue.edu.

The anticipated salary range is $52,000 – $55,000 for the fiscal year with additional support for research and travel. This position is contingent on final budget approval.

A background check is required for employment in this position.

Ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Equal Opportunity - Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/2/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8787

Howard University
Rank: Open Rank
Specializations: African American Politics, History & Politics, Health Care

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for an OPEN RANK tenure-track position with research interests in the area of Black Politics and American Politics. The successful candidate will be a scholar whose research and teaching engages Black politics in the United States. Scholars’ research should focus on people of African descent and fall into one of the following areas: healthcare or health policy, American political institutions, American political development, and/or American political behavior. Substantive areas of teaching should include, but not limited to, American government and politics, Black politics, healthcare or health policy, public policy, electoral politics, and/or Black social movements. We welcome applications from candidates with a range of theoretical and methodological frameworks and approaches.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to vigorously pursuing extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department’s teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired.

Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation’s capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution;
- Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor;
- Effective communication and organizational skills; and
- Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing:
1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above
2) Current curriculum vita
3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans
4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy
5) A writing sample
6) Three letters of recommendation

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee, Dr. Niambi Carter, and submitted electronically via AmericanBlackPoliticsSearch@howard.edu. Screening will begin on March 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 16, 2021. Additional details and information can be found at http://coas.howard.edu.

The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity, marital status, religion, disability or protected veterans status. Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, Equal Employment Opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of Employee Relations and Equal Employment Opportunity at 202-806-1280.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/18/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8713

DePaul University
Rank: Instructor

The Department of Political Science at DePaul University invites applications for a full time, non-tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of American Politics and Public Law. Responsibilities will include teaching courses on American Institutions (the Presidency and Congress) and areas of Constitutional law and the judicial process. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach introductory American Government and Political Science courses. In addition, the position will have administrative responsibilities overseeing the Department’s internship program. The position will begin in the Fall Quarter of 2021.

Required Qualifications:

A Ph.D. is preferred at the time of appointment, but ABD candidates will be considered. A Juris Doctorate degree will not be considered sufficient. Experience working with students outside of the classroom, or in Washington DC, will be given preference, as will an ability to teach research methods. Candidates should electronically submit the following: (1) a letter of application (cover letter), (2) a CV, (3) an unofficial transcript of the last degree (earned or in progress), (4) syllabi and (5) complete course evaluations if available. This material should be submitted via DePaul’s Faculty Opportunities website at https://academics.depaul.edu/faculty-jobs/Pages/default.aspx. Finalists will also be asked to submit three letters of recommendation.

The screening of applications will begin April 9, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

About DePaul

With a total enrollment over 22,000 students, DePaul is one of the largest private non-profit universities in the nation. Yet the class size in its academic programs typically does not exceed 40 students, reflecting the value the university places on teaching excellence. Our programs provide high quality, personalized, accessible education to a diverse student body, grounded in the values of St. Vincent de Paul. Our teaching and research advance knowledge and service to society.

DePaul seeks applicants who reflect the diversity of its student body and the city of Chicago. Those with experience working with diverse faculty, staff, and students, and who can contribute to an inclusive climate are encouraged to apply. We urge candidates to provide examples of their successes in these areas. Women, members of historically underrepresented groups, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged to apply.

For more information, e-mail polisci@depaul.edu or visit the department's web site at https://las.depaul.edu/academics/political-science/Pages/default.aspx

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8662

Concordia College
Rank: Teaching Fellow

The Department of Political Science at Concordia College in Moorhead, MN invites applications for a one-year teaching fellow beginning August 15, 2021 with the possibility of renewal for a second year. The fellowship aims to support the development of early career teacher-scholars; diversify faculty who teach at Concordia, and support the College's initiatives related to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Candidates should have earned a PhD or have advanced to PhD candidacy in political science. The successful candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American Politics and one course in Public Policy.

The department is especially interested in applicants who will contribute to the development of a diverse campus community and who have experience working effectively with diversified populations. Successful candidates will aspire to be part of a community that affirms an abundance of identities, experiences, and perspectives. (See Concordia's current strategic plan https://www.concordiacollege.edu/about/president/concordia-leads/excellence-through-diversity/) The fellow will be expected to contribute in significant ways to diversity goals in the department and the college, such as through community outreach, campus service, and/or providing new perspectives to the department. The department is also particularly interested in applicants with teaching experience and who are able to integrate diversity-related issues into their courses.

Teaching responsibilities: The fellow will teach four courses each academic year. Two of these will be our introductory course in American politics, required of all majors. The two other courses will be upper-level courses, one of which will be in the area of public policy, broadly conceived. Early in the fellowship year, the successful candidate will work with colleagues to develop a strategy to achieve their developmental goals as an undergraduate teacher.

Research responsibilities: The fellowship is designed to give the successful candidate both time and a supportive environment in which to achieve their research goals for the one-year fellowship period. The College values highly research programs related to diversity issues or diverse populations. Involving students in research is also encouraged to equip students to become responsibly engaged in the world. Further information about the College, please visit the Concordia College website at http://www.concordiacollege.edu. You may also contact Dr. Rebecca Moore, chair of the Political Science department, at 218-299-3534 or moore@cord.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8652

Occidental College
Rank: FTNTT

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a one-year non-tenure track faculty position in American and Latina/o Politics to begin in Fall 2021. This is a full-time position and the faculty member will teach six courses (three in the Fall semester and three in the Spring semester, with certain preparations repeated). The courses include Introduction to American Politics (POLS 101); Latina/o Politics (POLS 205); Research Methods (POLS 300); and one upper division course in American Politics on a topic of the candidate’s choosing (200 or 300 level). We do not expect the faculty member to engage in service activities for the Politics Department or Occidental College. This is a benefits-eligible position within the non-tenure track faculty’s union, SIEU Local 721. The candidate must have a completed Ph.D. at the start of employment with Occidental College on 8/16/21.

Strong candidates should possess a record of teaching and research excellence and a thoughtful approach to pedagogy. Applicants should submit the following materials—as separate files—to polssearch@oxy.edu: (1) a cover letter describing their interest in Occidental (a liberal arts institution with a mission of equity and excellence) and approaches to teaching and research; (2) a teaching philosophy statement that includes examples of how they create equitable learning environments, especially for underrepresented students; (3) syllabi or sample syllabi for some of the courses listed above and/or a curriculum vitae. If selected for an interview, applicants should be prepared to ask references to submit at least two confidential letters of reference to polssearch@oxy.edu. At least one letter should speak directly to their teaching experience and/or potential. The Politics Department will begin application review on February 19th and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/5/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8569
Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2021. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research with teaching specialties at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu. Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning February 15, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by February 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/13/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8477

Tufts University

Rank: Part Time Lecturer in American Politics Position for Spring 2021

Part-Time Lecturer in American Politics Position Request for Spring 2021

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites applications for a part-time lecturer position in American politics for spring 2021 semester. The course load is two courses. Teaching may require in-person, hybrid or remote assignments. One course should cover the U.S. Congress; the other course can be determined by the candidate in conjunction with the Department Chair. Particular areas of interest include racial and ethnic politics, gender, judicial politics, and state and local politics, though we welcome applications across the subfield.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science or related field required. College/university teaching experience strongly preferred.

Please submit a dossier including curriculum vitae, statement of teaching interests and/or experience, draft syllabi of at least one proposed course, and two letters of recommendation. All application materials must be submitted via Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/78900

The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact James Pavlick, Administrative Coordinator, at James.Pavlick@tufts.edu with any questions.

Tufts University, founded in 1852, prioritizes quality teaching, highly competitive basic and applied research, and a commitment to active citizenship locally, regionally, and globally. Tufts University also prides itself on creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Current and prospective employees of the university are expected to have and continuously develop skill in, and disposition for, positively engaging with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and students.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 3/1/2021
Date Posted: 9/18/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8065

Salisbury University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Salisbury University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a full time, 10-month position.

Primary Job Duties: The Department seeks candidates whose expertise is in one or more of the following fields: racial and ethnic politics, political theory, and law and judicial politics. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level courses in political theory and/or American politics (political institutions and behavior and courses in the Law, Justice and Advocacy minor). The candidate will also be able to teach a research methods course. Academic advising and student mentoring are also expected as well as ongoing scholarly activities. The teaching load is 3-3 of 4 credit hour courses.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science. If ABD, applicant would be hired at the rank of Instructor and must complete doctoral degree by: May 2022. Demonstrated evidence of a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of a commitment to political engagement, an active research agenda, curriculum development, and undergraduate research mentorship.

Applications received by October 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. The position will remain open until filled. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Appointment will be contingent upon verification of eligibility to work in the U.S. and is expected to begin August 2021. Please visit our website http://www.salisbury.edu/HR/careers/ to apply online. See the FAQs of the Online Employment Application System for more information and instructions.

To be considered an applicant, you must apply online and submit the following: 1) A letter of interest; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statements of research and teaching interests; 4) unofficial transcripts; 5) the names and contact information of at least three professional references. All documents must be submitted with your application in the online employment application system. Questions about the position should be directed to the search chair, Dr. Sarah Surak at smsurak@salisbury.edu.

This position is based in Salisbury, MD, an area with a culturally diverse population with rich cultural experiences. Salisbury University, a member of the University System of Maryland is a regionally accredited four-year comprehensive institution offering 60 distinct graduate and undergraduate programs. Founded in 1925, Salisbury University features a beautiful campus close to ocean beaches and the Chesapeake Bay and 2-3 hours from the metropolitan areas of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. SU is consistently ranked among the nation’s top colleges and ‘best values’ by U.S. News and World Report, The Princeton Review and other publications. SU has 440 full-time faculty members serving a student population of approximately 8700.

Diversity and inclusion are core values of Salisbury University. We strive to create a truly diverse and inclusive environment where the richness of ideas, backgrounds, and perspectives of our community is harnessed to create value for our University community to include students, faculty, and staff, today and in the future. To this end, the University recruits exceptional and diverse faculty, staff, and students from across Maryland, the United States, and around the world, supporting all members of the University community as they work together to achieve institutional goals and vision. To learn more about the University’s commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus, please visit http://www.salisbury.edu/equity/.

Applications will be accepted via Salisbury University’s online employment application system.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/30/2020
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 7950

COMPARATIVE POLITICS
Boston University
Rank: Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Boston University seeks to appoint the Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship at the rank of advanced Associate or full Professor, with tenure, to begin in Fall 2022. Applicants in Political Science, from the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Public Policy, Political Theory, are encouraged to apply. We wish to recruit an intellectual leader with a distinguished record of scholarship who brings a critical lens on the development and meaning of citizenship.

When George B. Maxwell established this Professorship in September 1918 the First World War was not yet concluded and citizenship was — in both de jure and de facto senses — narrowly defined. Indian Reservations were being consolidated, the Espionage and Sedition Acts of WWI limited free speech, Jim Crow was in force, the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution granting women the right to vote had not been passed, and the purpose and limits of immigration were contested. The Maxwell Professorship supports scholars engaged in fostering an “intelligent understanding and appreciation of the rights, duties, inheritances and possibilities of our citizenship.” A Maxwell Chair holder could understand citizenship broadly; for example, in the context of American political development, the tensions between communitarianism and cosmopolitanism, political theories of citizenship, or in comparative perspective. In keeping with George Maxwell’s vision, we seek a scholar who is engaged in both public education and academic discourse.

Boston University offers a rich and vibrant academic community for interdisciplinary research on citizenship; the Maxwell Professorship offers the opportunity to develop connections across disciplines, programs and centers. The candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. We seek candidates who prioritize inclusive practices in their scholarship, pedagogy, and campus engagement.

Please submit a letter of interest to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18615. The application must also include: a curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, a list of references and a statement about your record of inclusion. Completed applications are due on 4 October 2021.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 6/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8904

University of Western Ontario
Rank: Open Field - Probationary or Tenured Faculty Appointment
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Department of Political Science
Faculty of Social Science
Western University, London Ontario Canada

Political Science – Open Field

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites highly qualified applicants for a full-time Probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor or a Tenured appointment at the rank of Associate or Professor. Rank to be determined based on qualifications and experience. The search will add to our strengths in the quantitative study of Canadian Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations and have a starting date of July 1, 2022. Western Political Science aims to be Canada’s top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach quantitative methods at the undergraduate or graduate level would be considered an asset, as would contributing to our strengths in political behaviour.

We seek outstanding individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. Candidates should be capable of publishing in highly respected peer-reviewed outlets, supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants. All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

For more information, please visit www.politicalscience.uwo.ca.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the “Western Experience” – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Applications should include the following:
1) application form (http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf),
2) cover letter that includes a statement of how the candidate will contribute to our commitment to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion,
3) curriculum vitae,
4) statement of teaching and research interests,
5) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers,
6) three reference letters,
Consideration of applications will begin September 30, 2021.

This material should be sent to: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Professor Matthew Lebo, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/31/2021

Marymount University (Arlington, Virginia)
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Public Law, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Assistant Professor in Politics (Tenure Track)
American Law

The Politics program at Marymount University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level beginning in August 2021 (the successful candidate may choose to defer the start date until January, 2022). The standard teaching load is 3/3, all at the undergraduate level. Successful candidates will have demonstrated teaching experience and research interests in American law, and comparative or American politics, as well as a demonstrated teaching ability in normative theory. Preference will be given to candidates with a research focus and/or demonstrated teaching experience in one or more of the following areas: politics of underrepresented groups, gender and politics, environmental politics, mass behavior, social movements, and additional topics in comparative and American politics. The search committee prefers candidates with teaching and research experience, respect for liberal arts education within the Catholic intellectual tradition, and an interest in inquiry-based teaching. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or assurance they will complete the degree by August 2021. Applications should include a cover letter, c.v., evidence of excellence in teaching and research, and at least three letters of recommendation. The committee will begin reviewing applications on June 18, 2021, and accept applications until the position is filled.

Please submit applications via our program website: https://marymount.edu/academics/politics-search

Or directly through Marymount’s HR website: https://marymount.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Careers/job/Main-Campus/Assistant-Professor--Politics--Tenure-Track-_R887

Please feel free to contact Chad Rector (crector@marymount.edu) and Margaret Tseng (mtseng@marymount.edu) with any questions.

About the politics program at Marymount:

Marymount’s Politics program is part of the Marymount University School of Humanities, housed in the College of Sciences and Humanities. Faculty are expected to teach high-quality student-centric undergraduate courses in face-to-face settings. The College of Sciences and Humanities is located on Marymount University’s Main Campus.

Marymount University welcomes and values all members of our community. Guided by the mission of our founders, the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary (RSHM), to achieve unity through diversity, Marymount honors our diversity as a source of strength. Our differences inspire intellectual curiosity and collectively allow us to tackle the challenges of the world. We seek to foster an inclusive community in which each person’s race, ethnicity, religion, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, veteran status, age, ability, class, national origin, and immigration status are fully respected and celebrated. According to the vision of the RSHM that “ALL may have life, and have it to the FULL,” we strive to create an atmosphere of mutual respect, cooperation, and civility where all community members are
S.A.I.N.T.S—Safe, Accepted, Included, Needed, Treasured, and Seen.

Major duties and responsibilities
- Support and integrate the mission and core values of Marymount University and Academic Affairs, including our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Teach a 3/3 course load each year.
- Maintain a successful record of quality, peer reviewed scholarship.
- Maintain office hours at times which provide appropriate access to students.

Other duties
- Assume professional responsibilities as requested by the Dean of the College and/or School Director.
- Engage in on-going professional development which will include scholarship activities such as research, presentations, and participation with professional organizations.
- Contribute to the University, College of Sciences and Humanities, and School of Humanities functions and services, including assessments, and continuous improvement activities.

Job requirements
Ph.D. (or ABD with completion by 8/15/2021) in Politics/Political Science/Government from an accredited institution. Applicants with solely a J.D. and/or master’s degree are not eligible for this position.

Marymount provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment and prohibits discrimination and harassment of any type without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, national origin, disability status, genetics, protected veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or any other characteristic protected by federal, state or local laws.

This policy applies to all terms and conditions of employment, including recruiting, hiring, placement, promotion, termination, layoff, recall, transfer, leaves of absence, compensation and training.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/27/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8898

Air War College
Rank: Professor of International Security Studies
Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, International Political Economy

The United States Air War College Department of International Security Studies invites applications for the position of Professor (open rank) of International Security. Applicants should have expertise in the general national security studies field, with an emphasis on comparative and regional security, as well as scholarly interests in international political economy, comparative politics (with a security focus), and/or American national security policy. The department is particularly interested in candidates with a general IR focus on questions of US national and global security, civil-military relations, and the intersection of security and international economics, as well as those with regional expertise in Southeast Asia or Latin America.

Responsibilities include teaching graduate level seminars in the International Security Studies core curriculum (National Security Decision Making, Regional Security Studies focused on either your region of specialization or on US national security, and Global Security); teaching electives in the applicant’s area(s) of specialization; curriculum development; advising student research; and service to the institution. Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Approximate class sizes are 12-16 students per seminar.

Qualifications and Requirements
The position requires university-equivalent teaching experience (graduate-level preferred) and broad knowledge of the subject matter that comprises the AWC curriculum, i.e., global environment, international political structures and strategy; military thought and theory; military history; organization, capabilities, and limitations of armed forces.

A successful candidate would be expected to maintain an active research agenda including the publication of scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews in peer reviewed scholarly journals, professional journals and other outlets, and presentation of research at appropriate conferences and symposia. There is time and funding available for research and travel for individual areas of expertise or regional specialty.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department’s commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We are dedicated to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty committed to inclusive teaching and scholarship. Applicants should address how they will further these goals in their cover letter.

Applicants must be:
US citizens
Holding a PhD at the time of application in Political Science, International Relations, History or a closely related field with an emphasis on international security policy.
Able to obtain a Secret clearance.

Application Materials:
Cover Letter
CV
Application form (available through USA Jobs)
Teaching portfolio including a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching accomplishments (experience and awards)
Diversity Statement including teaching, life experience and/or research interests that contribute to a climate that values and promotes diversity in all its forms
3 Professional References
Academic Transcript from PhD

For more information about the position, and to apply, please visit https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/601276000
Or email Department Chair Colonel Wayne Straw at wayne.straw@us.af.mil

Note: Only applications submitted through USA Jobs will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/14/2021
Date Posted: 5/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8897
University of Notre Dame
Rank: Adjunct Professor, Notre Dame Washington Program

The University of Notre Dame’s Washington Program seeks an adjunct professor to teach one class in Washington D.C. in Fall 2021.

The course should be in comparative politics or international relations fields in political science, policy, economics, or other related disciplines. The ideal candidate will be able to offer a course that takes advantage of the unique opportunity for students to learn in our nation’s capital.

The course will be taught in person one night per week (preferably Monday or Tuesday) from 6:30 pm to 9:30 pm, for 15 weeks (8/23/21 – 12/10/21). Enrollment in the course may range from 10-25 students. The position may be renewable for a 2nd semester.

The pay is $7,750 per class per semester.

Applicants should hold a PhD, or be nearly finished with their degree, in Political Science or a related discipline, or should have sufficient professional experience and accomplishment in related fields to offer a rigorous course as a practitioner.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio (https://apply.interfolio.com/88007), and include a letter of interest, a description of potential class(es) to be offered, and a CV or resume. The Washington Program will be considering applications as they arrive with a final deadline of June 4th.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/4/2021
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 8889

European University Institute
Rank: Joint Mediterranean Chair
Specializations: Middle East, Religion & Politics, Conflict Processes

The European University Institute is looking for candidates with a distinguished record of scholarly publications and experience in postgraduate teaching and doctoral supervision, to fill a

Joint Mediterranean Chair

The Department of Political and Social Sciences and the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies seek to fill the post of Joint Mediterranean Chair and recruit a leading contributor to the RSC MED programme.

We are seeking a specialist with expertise on the Euro-Mediterranean Area with a particular focus on the Middle East and North Africa. We are particularly interested in candidates with expertise on the larger issues of Islam in the world and religion in secular societies. The successful candidate will play a leading role in the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies’ MED Programme.

The EUI is an equal opportunities employer and takes into account the importance of balance in gender, geographical and minority representation.

Interested applicants should consult https://www.eui.eu/About/JobOpportunities/Open-competitions-for-academic-posts for further particulars.

Deadline for receipt of applications: 23 June 2021.

Occidental College
Rank: NTT Visiting Assistant Position in American and Comparative Politics

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a one-year non-tenure track Visiting Assistant Professor position in American and Comparative Politics to begin in Fall 2021. This is a full-time position with benefits. The faculty member will teach six courses (three in the Fall semester and three in the Spring semester, with some preparations repeated). The courses are three Introduction to American Politics courses (POLS 101); one 200-level course in Comparative Politics on a topic of the candidate’s choosing; and two First Year Writing Seminars on a topic of the candidate’s choosing. Classes are scheduled to take place in-person. We do not expect the faculty member to engage in service activities for the Politics Department or Occidental College. This is a benefits-eligible position within the non-tenure track faculty union, SEIU Local 721. The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. at the start of employment with Occidental College on 8/16/21.

Strong candidates should possess a record of teaching excellence and a thoughtful approach to pedagogy. Applicants should submit the following materials—as separate files—to polsearch@oxy.edu: (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing their interest in Occidental (a liberal arts institution with a mission of equity and excellence) and approaches to teaching the required courses; (3) a teaching portfolio which ideally includes a teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and course evaluations; and (4) the names and contact information of three references. The Politics Department will begin application review on June 1 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/18/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8882

University of California, Davis
Rank: Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for two or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2021-2022 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF04188. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by May 24, 2021, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.
Political Science Jobs

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8878

Appalachian State University
Rank: Visiting Comparative Politics Instructor

The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics beginning August 1, 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: comparative politics, human rights, ethnic conflict, globalization, or the politics of developing nations. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. At least one course each semester will be Intro to Comparative Politics.

Applications must be submitted via AppState PeopleAdmin https://apppstate.peopleadmin.com/postings/28206 Applicants must submit the following documents: an application consisting of a letter outlining relevant research and teaching goals and experience, a current vitae, and a sample syllabus.

Review of applications will begin on May 28, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment to a successful candidate will be conditioned upon the University’s receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report.

Individuals with disabilities may request accommodations in the application process by contacting Maranda Maxey, Director & ADA/504 Coordinator, at 828-262-3056 or maxeymr@appstate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8870

German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA)
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (m/f/d)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Public Policy
Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

The GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies / Leibniz-Institut für Globale und Regionale Studien is an independent social science research institute based in Hamburg, Germany. It analyses political, social, and economic developments in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East, and links this knowledge to questions of global significance. It combines region-specific analysis with innovative comparative research on accountability and participation, peace and security, globalisation and development, and global orders and foreign policies. The GIGA is seeking to appoint a

Postdoctoral Research Fellow (m/f/d)

Applications are invited for a full-time position (100%), with a contract of three years, preferentially starting 1 November 2021. The salary is commensurate with TV-AVH / TVöD EG 13.

The successful candidate will work in the project ‘COVID-19 and Executive Personalization in Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America and the MENA Region’ funded by the German Re-search Foundation / Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft. This project is co-lead by Dr. David Kuehn, Prof. Mariana Llanos and Dr. Thomas Richter.

The successful candidate will
• contribute to the development of the conceptual and theoretical framework of executive personalisation
• lead the preparation and conduct of a comparative, empirical analysis of personalisation of executive power in the area of public health
• be an active member of the GIGA, be affiliated to the GIGA Institute of African Affairs, and belong to the Research Programme “Accountability and Participation”
• contribute to the academic output of the project with single-authored and co-authored publications in leading scientific journals
• engage in the dissemination of project findings within the academic as well as policy community, and among the wider public

Mandatory qualifications:
• an excellent doctoral degree in political science, sociology, public policy, public health, economics, African studies or related disciplines
• a strong background in research on politics and/or society of sub-Saharan Africa
• on-site research experience in sub-Saharan Africa
• proven proficiency in the application of state-of-the-art comparative social science methods
• proficiency in English

Desired qualifications:
• strong analytical skills
• strong teamwork skills
• experience in academic research on public health
• experience in research on autocratization and/or democratization
• experience in organizing academic events and outreach activities
• proficiency in additional languages spoken in sub-Saharan Africa

Part-time options will be considered, if so desired by the successful candidate. Diversity and the reconciliation of work and family life are of great importance to the institute. The GIGA promotes the equality of all genders.

Please fill out the application form (found at https://www.giga-hamburg.de/en/career/) and send it together with your full application (Ref.-No. GIGA-21-07) including relevant supporting documentation (cover letter, CV, credentials/diplomas/certificates, names and contact details of two references, list of publications, max. two work samples), as one PDF (except for the completed GIGA application form) to:

Gabriele Tetzlaff, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA),
Neuer Jungfernstieg 21, 20354 Hamburg, Germany
Email: jobs-iaa@giga-hamburg.de (email applications are particularly welcome).

Screening of applications will begin on 7 June 2021.

For further information, please visit the GIGA homepage or contact Dr. Thomas Richter (Email: thomas.richter@giga-hamburg.de).

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 6/7/2021
Date Posted: 5/5/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8858

GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies

Rank: Research Fellow (m/f/d)
Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

The GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies / Leibniz-Institut für Globale und Regionale Studien is an independent social science research institute based in Hamburg, Germany. It analyses political, social, and economic developments in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East, and links this knowledge to questions of global significance. It combines region-specific analysis with innovative comparative research on accountability and participa-tion, peace and security, globalisation and development, and global orders and foreign poli-cies. The GIGA is seeking to appoint a

Research Fellow (m/f/d)

Applications are invited for a part-time position (65%), with a contract of three years, preferably starting 1 November 2021. The salary is commensurate with TV-AVH / TVöD EG 13.

The successful candidate will work in the project ‘COVID-19 and Executive Personalization in Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America and the MENA Region’ funded by the German Re-search Foundation / Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft. This project is co-lead by Dr. David Kuehn, Prof. Mariana Llanos and Dr. Thomas Richter.

The successful candidate will
• contribute to all project components as appropriate
• be an active member of the GIGA, be affiliated to one of GIGA’s regional institutes, and belong to the Research Programme “Accountability and Participation”
• contribute to the academic output of the project with single-authored and co-authored publications in leading scientific journals
• engage in the dissemination of project findings within the academic as well as policy community, and among the wider public

Mandatory qualifications:
• an excellent university degree (master’s or equivalent) in political science, sociology, public policy, economics, or related social science disciplines
• familiarity with research on autocratisation, and/or democratisation
• proficiency in the application of state-of-the-art statistical methods
• proficiency in English

Desired qualifications:
• strong analytical skills
• strong teamwork skills
• familiarity with computational social science techniques/programming languages (e.g., Python, R)
• proficiency in additional languages spoken in sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America or the MENA region

The GIGA strongly encourages concurrent work on a doctoral degree. The research fellow would become a member of the GIGA Doctoral Programme.

Other part-time options will be considered, if so desired by the successful candidate. Diversity and the reconciliation of work and family life are of great importance to the institute. The GIGA promotes the equality of all genders.

Please fill out the application form (found at https://www.giga-hamburg.de/en/career/) and send it together with your full application (Ref.-No. GIGA-21-08), including relevant supporting documentation (cover letter, CV, credentials/diplomas/certificates, names and contact details of two references, list of publications, max. two work samples), as one PDF (except for the completed GIGA application form) to:

Daniela Wald, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA), Neuer Jungfernstieg 21, 20354 Hamburg, Germany
Email: jobs-giga@giga-hamburg.de (email applications are particularly welcome).

Screening of applications will begin on 7 June 2021.

For further information, please visit the GIGA homepage or contact Dr. Thomas Richter (Email: thomas.richter@giga-hamburg.de).

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 6/7/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8850

WZB Berlin Social Science Center

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/s)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory
Specializations: Social Movements, Religion & Politics, Africa

For its interdisciplinary research department Migration, Integration, Transnationalization, headed by Prof. Ruud Koopmans, the Berlin Social Science Center (WZB) is looking for a full-time (39 hours per week) on a temporary basis with a contract duration of two years. The starting date is flexible, up to January 2022 at the latest.

Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/s)

WZB is a non-profit organization and a member of the Leibnitz Association. WZB engages in research of fundamental societal questions from the perspectives of different disciplines. It is one of the most renowned institutions in the field of social sciences. The scientists who work together at the institute come from such fields as sociology, political science, economics, law, and psychology. The findings of WZB research are directed at the science community, the interested public, and also experts dealing with political and economic issues, with media, and society.
The Migration, Integration, Transnationalization department (MIT) of the WZB focuses on issues related to migration, integration, and majority-minority relations, including ethnic and religious conflicts as drivers of migration in source countries. The current position is situated in the context of the TRANSMIT project, in which we study migration drivers and trajectories, as well as ethnic and religious conflicts in West Africa, particularly Senegal, the Gambia, and Nigeria. Among other things, this project encompasses large-scale panel surveys in selected regions of these countries.

Your tasks and duties
- Conducting independent research and producing high-level international publications on migration and/or ethnic and religious conflicts
- Pursuing own research questions within the TRANSMIT project by using existing data and incorporating own research questions in future waves of the surveys (If desired, the research fellow can also, in addition to the TRANSMIT project, work on other topics.)
- Actively exploring opportunities for external funding, as the extension of the position beyond two years depends on the acquisition of third-party funding, either within the context of the TRANSMIT project, or from other sources
- Optional: teaching courses at universities in Berlin and participating in the various international exchange programs the WZB offers

Your qualifications profile
- Ph.D. degree in a relevant discipline (obtained already or soon to be completed) with a disciplinary background in political science, economics, or sociology
- Strong track record in theory-driven, quantitative empirical research
- Solid theoretical knowledge of migration processes and/or ethnic and religious conflicts
- Experience in dealing with the analysis (and ideally also the collection) of large-scale survey data
- Excellent knowledge of statistical methods, including the analysis of panel data and a firm grasp of approaches to causal inference
- An excellent command of the English language and at least a passive command of German
- Preferably: experience with the acquisition of external funding
- Preferably: command of French or one of the local languages of the countries of the TRANSMIT project

Our offer
- Remuneration in accordance with EG 14 (TVöD Bund) of the German civil service collective agreement
- Additional benefits for public service employees (VBL U)
- A well-equipped workplace in the center of Berlin
- Active support by research assistants, travel funding and access to small and medium-scale research funds for data collection, as well as opportunities to invite external collaborators and speakers
- International, cooperative, and diversified working environment
- In-depth integration into the scientific community in the form of colloquia and conferences
- Thorough instruction and guidance
- Flexible working hours
- We promote a good work-life balance, and our engagement has been certified by audit workfamily and the European Commission’s Human Resources Strategy for Researchers (HRS4R)
- Comprehensive program for continuous professional development and further qualification, in the own discipline and beyond

Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. We value diversity and welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. WZB expressly encourages women or persons with migration backgrounds to apply.

If you have any questions regarding the job opening, please contact Elisabeth von Bressensdorf or Melinda Biolchini (applications-mit@wzb.eu).

Job interviews will likely take place in the week starting on 21 June 2021.

Have we sparked your interest? In that case, we are looking forward to receiving your application by 30 May 2021. Candidates are invited to send applications electronically in a pdf-format (max. 2 pdf-files) consisting of
- a letter of motivation
- a short sketch of own research ideas for the coming 2-3 years (approximately 2 pages)
- CV and list of publication
- copies of relevant certificates quoting “postdoctoral researcher MIT” in the subject line, to the address:

Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin für Sozialforschung gGmbH (WZB) / WZB Berlin Social Science Centre
Prof. Ruud Koopmans
email: applications-mit@wzb.eu

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 5/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8856

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Comparative Politics & International Relations

Position Description
The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 260: Introduction to Comparative Politics and POLISCI 280: Introduction to International Relations. A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog-.

Qualifying Education/Experience
Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of either comparative politics or international relations. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information
A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs. Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu.

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background. Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act.

The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University’s compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University’s compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/29/2024
Date Posted: 4/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8843

Lafayette College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics/International Relations. The position runs for academic year 2021-2022 and will be at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor if Ph.D. is in hand by the start date, or, for ABD, at the rank of Visiting Instructor. Teaching requirements include three courses each semester, and candidates should be prepared to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in their areas of expertise. Ability to teach Introduction to International Politics would be a plus. Though we welcome applications from across the comparative politics and international relations subfields, we are particularly interested in candidates with regional expertise in Africa, Latin America, or South Asia, and topical specialization in one or more of the following: migration and immigration; post-colonial studies and state formation; ethnic conflict and post-conflict processes; the politics of development.

Applications should include a letter of intent that contains a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. In the letter of intent, applicants should address the ways in which their teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will support Lafayette College’s commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in the college’s diversity statement (https://diversity.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/86893. Review of applications will begin on May 10, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Helena Silverstein, Department Head, at silversh@lafayette.edu.

Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of each and all of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community... share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. Lafayette College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Located within 70 miles of New York and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship.

Miami University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Comparative Politics

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Comparative Politics, open with respect to subfield but particularly interested in politics of Western Europe and European Union. To teach courses across comparative politics and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2021.

Required: Ph.D. at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor; ABD for appointment as Instructor. This position is not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Consideration may be given to candidates who possess teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught.

Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshab@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 17, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/26/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8831

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Professor of Legal Studies – Tenure track (Open Rank)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, History & Politics

Professor of Legal Studies – Tenure track (Open Rank)

NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi invites applications for a tenure-track/open-rank faculty appointment in Legal Studies, Social Science Division with appointment starting in August 2021 for the 2021-22 academic year.

We will consider applicants from legal scholars with an active research agenda in all areas of law, but we are especially interested in those whose research and teaching include international and comparative dimensions. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as from members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

The undergraduate major in Legal Studies at NYU Abu Dhabi poses the broad philosophical, cultural, social, economic, political, religious, and ethical questions that prove indispensable both to a deep understanding of law and to liberal arts education. What is justice? What is Law? How is it organized? Who and what constitutes the arbiter of justice? What are the effects of historical, cultural, religious, and national settings on law and justice? Is the developing global society on the path to a just and moral order, and what role can the law play? What are the legal issues raised by global concerns such as those about the environment, technology, and trade?

The Legal Studies curriculum design responds, in part, to the increasing globalization of law through a consideration of issues such as climate change, the rule of law, international business, global governance, law and media, human rights, migration, technology and security, and law and ethics. At the same time, recognizing that law maintains a local focus, the curriculum treats the broad questions raised by globalization through the study of particular examples drawn from common law, continental law and other legal systems. The major in Legal Studies is intended as an approach to the study of law rooted in the liberal arts tradition. The integration of Legal Studies with liberal arts education enhances the opportunity for cross-disciplinary study. The Program in Legal Studies is situated within both the Social Sciences and the Arts and Humanities, and it thus aims to serve as a bridge between these divisions. The curriculum aspires to foster in students the readiness and ability to act in a truly human manner which entails qualities such as serving as an advocate for individual rights and as an artisan of the common good.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is a pioneer of higher education in a global world, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research, while advancing cooperation and progress on humanity’s shared challenges. Part of the NYU global network, NYU Abu Dhabi offers an outstanding liberal arts and science education to students from the United Arab Emirates, United States, and around the world, focusing on intercultural understanding and leadership. It supports innovative research that pushes the frontiers of knowledge forward and responds in powerful and interdisciplinary ways to vital global and local questions. NYU Abu Dhabi advances NYU as a model university for the 21st century and contributes in multiple ways to the development of a sustainable, knowledge-based economy in Abu Dhabi.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students, and providing an intellectually rich environment. Students are drawn from around the globe, surpassing all traditional academic benchmarks. The NYU Abu Dhabi undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other honors.

Working for NYUAD
A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it’s your home and in order for you to research, teach, and thrive, we’re offering a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. Start with generous relocation allowances to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by competitive salaries, housing and transportation allowances, and educational assistance for your dependents. Health and wellness services round out our offerings, plus more.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents. All benefits are subject to eligibility criteria and dependent on the duration of the appointment.

Qualifications
Applicants must have a doctorate or equivalent degree in law, and they must have – or have the potential to develop – a strong record of scholarship. A clear commitment to undergraduate teaching is also essential.

Application Instructions
To apply for this position, please submit the following documents, to: https://apply.interfolio.com/84835

-Cover Letter
-CV
-Statement of Teaching Interests
-Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)
-Writing Sample
-Statement of Research Interests
-The names and emails addresses of three references who will be asked to upload letters confidentially through Interfolio, NYUAD’s online application database.

Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will interview virtually in Spring 2021.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8833

Political Science Jobs

Mercyhurst University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Middle East, Environmental Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning spring 2022. This position may be renewable or converted to tenure-track contingent on performance, departmental staffing and programmatic needs, and continued administrative approval. The successful applicant will possess a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university. The department is seeking a comparative politics/international relations generalist. Preference will be given to a candidate who can teach Middle East politics in addition to other comparative or international relations courses. IR background in the areas of IPE, human rights, international organizations, or environmental politics are a department priority. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the spring 2022 semester. Screening of applications will begin immediately and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to Jennifer Verga, administrative assistant: jverga@mercyhurst.edu. Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year. For information about the political science program see the departmental website: http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8833

Fairfield University
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

The Politics Department at Fairfield University invites applications for a one-year, full time visiting assistant professor position in Comparative Politics. We are particularly interested in an instructor who focuses on Africa, Europe, or the Middle East and who can also teach International Political Economy and Introduction to Comparative Politics. The ability to teach an introductory course in another subfield, such as American Politics, or an applied Political Theory course that focuses on a particular region, would be an asset. It may also be possible for the candidate to teach a course in her/his research specialization. The teaching load is four undergraduate courses each semester. The salary and benefits for the position are highly competitive.

Applicants are expected to have completed a Ph.D., or an M.A. and be ABD, in political science, politics, or government. Applicants must have a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Teaching experience in is preferred.

Fairfield University is a comprehensive, co-educational, Jesuit university with a 200-acre campus located in the scenic shoreline community of Fairfield, CT, one hour from New York City. Consistently ranked as a top comprehensive university in New England, Fairfield enrolls...
The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We invite applications for per-course, non-tenure track affiliate faculty member positions to teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations for the Fall 2021 semester. Teaching may require in-person or a combination of in-person and online assignments. The four courses are upper-level offerings titled: PS 303 Latin American Politics; PS 350 Comparative Politics; PS 352 Gender, Human Rights, and Conflict; and PS 365 International Politics. Applicants may teach up to two courses for the Fall 2021 semester; successful Fall 2021 candidates may also propose courses for the Spring 2022 semester.

Loyola University Maryland invites applications for per-course, non-tenure track affiliate faculty member positions to teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations for the Fall 2021 semester. Teaching may require in-person or a combination of in-person and online assignments. The four courses are upper-level offerings titled: PS 303 Latin American Politics; PS 350 Comparative Politics; PS 352 Gender, Human Rights, and Conflict; and PS 365 International Politics. Applicants may teach up to two courses for the Fall 2021 semester; successful Fall 2021 candidates may also propose courses for the Spring 2022 semester.

A Ph.D., M.A., or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.
Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

To apply, please submit a dossier including: curriculum vitae; two letters of reference; graduate transcripts; draft syllabus of the course and teaching evaluations (if available); and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola’s educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Christopher Chapp, department chair, at chapp@stolaf.edu. More questions about the position, department, or college may be directed to Christopher Chapp, department chair, at chapp@stolaf.edu. More information for three references.

Salary range: $3,200 - $3,525 per course (without and with terminal degree)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8790

College of Charleston
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor, Comparative/International Politics

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications for a one year visiting assistant professor position in comparative/international politics, with regional specialties in either Latin America or the Middle East, beginning August 2021. The ideal candidate will teach courses that incorporate some combination of the following issues areas of migration, race/ethnicity, religion, and/or comparative democratic systems and regime transitions. Additional teaching requirements include World Politics, International Relations Theory and Introduction to Comparative Politics. Ability to teach the department’s undergraduate research methods course a plus. An M.A. in Political Science, Geography or a related discipline is required, but a PhD is preferred. The teaching load is four courses per semester. The Political Science Department has 20 full-time faculty, over 360 undergraduate majors (http://polisci.cofc.edu/), and a Geography Minor (http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/). The department also supports a NASPAA Accredited Master of Public Administration (http://puba.cofc.edu/) and Master of Science in Environmental and Sustainability Studies (http://mes.cofc.edu/) program.

The College of Charleston is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 800,000. The College is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with a student body of approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 900 graduate students, 20% of whom identify as minority, and 140 international students from 34 different countries. Additional information about the institution, the student body, and the surrounding area is available at https://www.cofc.edu/.

Applicants should apply online at https://jobs.cofc.edu/ and submit a cover letter; a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations) and contact information for three references.

Questions about the search can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Hollis France (franceh@cofc.edu). Review of applications will begin March 16, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The College of Charleston is an AA/EO employer and seeks to create a work environment and organizational culture that reflects the society and community in which it is located, and a climate for the success of every employee and student by appreciating the uniqueness that each one brings to the learning environment. To that end, we actively encourage applications from all groups underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/9/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8681

St. Olaf College
Rank: Instructor or Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for two part-time, one-year positions in International Relations and Comparative Politics at the level of Instructor or Assistant Professor, to begin August 2021. Expected teaching loads are three classes (.5 FTE) for one position and five classes (.83 FTE) for the other position.

Responsibilities include teaching introductory and upper-level classes. Area of specialization within International Relations and Comparative Politics is open. A Ph.D. in political science is preferred; ABD candidates will be considered.

The Department is particularly interested in applicants who can and will advance the College’s goals for diversity equity and inclusion. We request that in the letter of application, candidates address their potential to contribute to the St. Olaf community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We strongly encourage applications from members of underrepresented groups in accordance with our equity goals.

Applicants must submit materials online at https://stolaf.hiretouch.com/faculty-postings. A complete application includes:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate transcript (official or unofficial)
- Evidence of teaching excellence
- The contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship (St. Olaf solicits letters directly after an initial round of screening)

Review of applications will begin on March 12, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration.

Questions about the position, department, or college may be directed to Christopher Chapp, department chair, at chapp@stolaf.edu. More information about the department can be found at wp.stolaf.edu/polisci. Applicants who need assistance with the online application process should call 507-786-3356.

Founded in 1874, St. Olaf College is a residential, coeducational liberal arts college with approximately 3,000 students and 800 faculty and staff employees. It is located in Northfield, Minnesota, about 45 minutes from Minneapolis and St. Paul with their rich and diverse cultural resources. The college offers an academically rigorous, nationally ranked liberal arts education that fosters the development of the whole person in mind, body, and spirit and emphasizes learning in an inclusive and globally engaged community.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8668

---

The University of Iowa

Rank: Stanley Family and Hua Hsia Chair in Chinese Culture and Institutions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Iowa College of Liberal Arts and Sciences invite applications for the position of C. Maxwell and Elizabeth M. Stanley Family and Hua Hsia Chair in Chinese Culture and Institutions. The successful candidate will be appointed as a full professor with tenure to commence in August 2022. The position will be situated in the department appropriate to the specialization of the candidate, where normal review process, assignment of teaching duties, and responsibilities for mentorship etc. will reside. The position is an endowed chair with a reduced teaching load and a research fund. The chair will also hold a 0% appointment in International Programs and is expected to be an active participant in the activities of the Center for Asian and Pacific Studies.

Education Requirement: PhD in Chinese Studies or an equivalent field.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must be internationally recognized scholars of Chinese studies, demonstratable by a distinguished record of scholarly publications, teaching, mentoring, and taking on leadership roles in administration, possess a native or near native fluency of the English language and standard Mandarin and may come from any disciplinary background in the humanities or social sciences and must be willing to function to meet the needs of the appointing department and complement the existing strengths within the department and college.

Desirable Qualifications: Experience in joint research either interdisciplinary or supra-nationally is highly desired and fluency in other languages and/or Chinese dialects

Review of applicants will begin September 15, 2021.

To start the Online Application process for this position, please go to https://jobs.uiowa.edu/faculty/view/74096 (Requisition #74096)

Start Date: Fall 2022
Date Posted: 3/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8667

---

Ashoka University

Visiting Assistant Professor Position in Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for at least one Visiting Assistant Professor position with an expected start date of July 1, 2021 and end date of June 30, 2022.

We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications from women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position should submit:
1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) three confidential letters of reference.

Note: The Ashoka job portal further asks for statements of teaching and research philosophy for all applications. For this search they are optional.

All materials should be submitted through: https://facultypositions.ashoka.edu.in/

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: April 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 4/29/2021
Date Posted: 2/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8640

---

Ashoka University

Professor / Associate Professor / Tenure-track Assistant Professor Position in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for faculty positions with an expected start date of August 1, 2021. The position is open rank, as to either the level of tenure track Assistant Professor, or tenured Associate or Full Professor.

We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position should submit:
1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) three confidential letters of reference.

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit:
1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) name of three references.
Note: The Ashoka job portal further asks for statements of teaching and research philosophy for all applications. For this search they are optional.

All materials should be submitted through: https://facultypositions.ashoka.edu.in/

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: April 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2021
Date Posted: 2/22/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8627

Howard University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science (POLS) in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with research interests in the area of International Relations and Public Law. The successful candidate will be prepared to conduct externally-funded research in the area of international relations, comparative politics, and law and politics. We envision the successful candidate’s expertise as expansive and methodologically diverse, concerned with how the law constitutes and orders political and social relationships around the world, inclusive of judicial behavior and politics, constitutional development, comparative constitutional politics, international law and courts, and law and society. The successful candidate will be expected to play a key role in our undergraduate pre-law program, the POLS Bachelor of Arts to Juris Doctor (B.A.-J.D.) joint degree program, and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in international relations, judicial politics, and comparative constitutional law.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates are expected to develop vigorous, extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department’s teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented students is highly desired. Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis on educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as a Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation’s capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications:
- Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution;
- Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor;
- Effective communication and organizational skills; and
- Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing:
1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above
2) Current curriculum vita
3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans
4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy
5) A writing sample
6) Three letters of recommendation

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee: Dr. Michael Fauntroy at IRSearch@Howard.edu. Applications can be submitted electronically via Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18072.

Screening will begin on February 24, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 16, 2021. Additional details and information can be found at http://coas.howard.edu.

The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity, marital status, religion, disability or protected veterans status. Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, Equal Employment Opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of Employee Relations and Equal Employment Opportunity at 202-806-1280

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8624

Howard University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Social Movements, Women & Politics, Leadership Studies

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with research interests in the area of Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will be prepared to conduct externally-funded research in the areas of comparative politics with a focus on: (1) women and gender issues broadly defined within their specific regional or thematic expertise and (2) social movements & contentious politics in the Black Diaspora. Regional specialization is open to all areas. We envision this position as expansive and methodologically diverse, concerned with how ongoing global changes intersect with historical patterns of power and dominance and how these factors affect current and future global discourses. The successful candidate will have a strong record of and ability to using online tools to design and teach distance learning courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The successful candidate will contribute to the International Affairs undergraduate major and also work closely with the Center for Women, Gender, and Global Leadership.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates are expected to develop vigorous, extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department’s teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired.

Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as a Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity research by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation’s capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications:
- Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution;
- Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor;
- Effective communication and organizational skills; and
- Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing:
1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above
2) Current curriculum vita
3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans
4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy
5) A writing sample
6) Three letters of recommendation

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee: Dr. Richard Seltzer at ComparativePoliticsSearch@Howard.edu. Applications can be submitted electronically via Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18073.

The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity, marital status, religion, disability or protected veterans status. Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, Equal Employment Opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of Employee Relations and Equal Employment Opportunity at 202-806-1280.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8625

University of Richmond
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in the politics of development, broadly defined. The department has a strong preference for an area concentration in either Africa or the Middle East, which will complement its existing strengths in the politics of Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The position, to begin in 2021-2022 academic year, is intended to meet and expand curricular goals within the major; to broaden the department’s research expertise; and to contribute to interdisciplinary initiatives in the School of Arts and Sciences and to the University of Richmond’s mission of “preparing students for responsible leadership in a diverse world.” More specifically, the position carries a 3-2 teaching load consisting of a regular offering of a survey course on the politics of development. Other courses would relate to the faculty’s regional specialization, with particular preference for courses on the politics of Africa and/or the Middle East. The new hire would also share responsibility for teaching the department’s ongoing offerings of Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations and, as schedule permits, contribute to departmental First Year Seminar (FYS) offerings.

Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation by August 1, 2021. Applicants should apply online at https://richmond.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=2062.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students “to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”

The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see https://polisci.richmond.edu/.

Applicants should click "Apply Now" at the top of the page and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter containing a brief summary of the candidate’s research and teaching interests and indicating commitment to the teacher-scholar model, and separate research and teaching statements. The research statement should expand on the candidate’s research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate’s teaching philosophy, interests, experience and goals. It should also address commitment to inclusive pedagogy and to fostering thriving and inclusive intercultural community, as outlined in the President’s Making Excellence Inclusive report (https://president.richmond.edu/inclusive-excellence/report-pdfs/making-excellence-inclusive-final-report-2019.pdf). In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence on October 1, 2020 and continue until the position is filled.

Please address any questions about the application to Dr. Jennifer Erkulwater (jerkulwa@richmond.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7971

Carleton College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Specializations: Asian American Politics, China, East Asia

The Carleton College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics to begin September 1, 2021. We are specifically interested in candidates who have regional expertise in Chinese politics and prefer candidates who can speak both to domestic dynamics as well as China’s role in a broader Asian and/or global context. Successful candidates should be able to teach a range of courses in Comparative Politics (including the introductory course) as well as offer instruction in research methods (qualitative and/or quantitative). The standard teaching load is five courses spread across three trimesters. The ideal candidate will also be interested in contributing to a vibrant college-wide culture of undergraduate research and have a commitment to attracting and retaining students from underserved groups. A PhD in hand or its imminent completion is required.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000, located in the historic and thriving town of Northfield, Minnesota. We are in commuting distance of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, whose greater metro area has a diverse population of three million people and a rich variety of cultural resources. The Political Science Department strives to introduce students—majors and non-majors alike—to a broad array of theoretical and philosophical perspectives while equipping them with the necessary analytic skills to engage with an increasingly diverse world and contribute constructively to one’s community. For further information about the department, please consult the department website at carleton.edu/political-science.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, and a statement about teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment and how you would contribute to a college community that embraces a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We also require a statement about research interests, one scholarly writing sample and contact information for three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to jobs.carleton.edu. Inquiries can be directed to preiken@carleton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 9/4/2020
Date Posted: 7/7/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7917

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS
University of Western Ontario
Rank: Open Field - Probationary or Tenured Faculty Appointment
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Political Science – Open Field

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites highly qualified candidates for a full-time Probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor or a Tenured appointment at the rank of Associate or Professor. Rank to be determined based on qualifications and experience. The search will add to our strengths in the quantitative study of Canadian Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations and have a starting date of July 1, 2022. Western Political Science aims to be Canada’s top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach quantitative methods at the undergraduate or graduate level would be considered an asset, as would contributing to our strengths in political behaviour.

We seek outstanding individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. Candidates should be capable of publishing in highly respected peer-reviewed outlets, supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants. All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

For more information, please visit www.politicalscience.uwo.ca.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the “Western Experience” – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Applications should include the following:
1) application form (http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf),

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/31/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8899

Air War College
Rank: Professor of International Security Studies
Specializations: International Security, Foreign Policy, International Political Economy

The United States Air War College Department of International Security Studies invites applications for the position of Professor (open rank) of International Security. Applicants should have expertise in the general national security studies field, with an emphasis on comparative and regional security, as well as scholarly interests in international political economy, comparative politics (with a security focus), and/or American national security policy. The department is particularly interested in candidates with a general IR focus on questions of US national and global security, civil-military relations, and the intersection of security and international economics, as well as those with regional expertise in Southeast Asia or Latin America.

Responsibilities include teaching graduate level seminars in the International Security Studies core curriculum (National Security Decision Making, Regional Security Studies focused on either your region of specialization or on US national security, and Global Security); teaching electives in the applicant’s area(s) of specialization; curriculum development; advising student research; and service to the institution.

Teaching duties approximate a 2/2 teaching load per academic year. Approximate class sizes are 12-16 students per seminar.

Qualifications and Requirements

The position requires university-equivalent teaching experience (graduate-level preferred) and broad knowledge of the subject matter that comprises the AWC curriculum, i.e., global environment, international political structures and strategy; military thought and theory; military history; organization, capabilities, and limitations of armed forces.

A successful candidate would be expected to maintain an active research agenda including the publication of scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews in peer reviewed scholarly journals, professional journals and other outlets, and presentation of research at appropriate conferences and symposia. There is time and funding available for research and travel for individual areas of expertise or regional specialty.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department’s commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We are dedicated to recruiting and retaining a diverse faculty committed to inclusive teaching and scholarship. Applicants should address how they will further these goals in their cover letter.

Applicants must be:
US citizens

Holding a PhD at the time of application in Political Science, International Relations, History or a closely related field with an emphasis on international security policy.

Able to obtain a Secret clearance.

Application Materials:
Cover Letter
CV
Application form (available through USA Jobs)
Teaching portfolio including a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching accomplishments (experience and awards)
Diversity Statement including teaching, life experience and/or research interests that contribute to a climate that values and promotes diversity in all its forms
3 Professional References
Academic Transcript from PhD

For more information about the position, and to apply, please visit https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/601276000

Or email Department Chair Colonel Wayne Straw at wayne.straw@us.af.mil

Note: Only applications submitted through USA Jobs will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/14/2021
Date Posted: 5/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8897

Texas A&M University
Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department’s required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site http://apply.interfolio.com/86435 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values. Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8893

University of Notre Dame
Rank: Adjunct Professor, Notre Dame Washington Program

The University of Notre Dame’s Washington Program seeks an adjunct professor to teach one class in Washington D.C. in Fall 2021.

The course should be in comparative politics or international relations fields in political science, policy, economics, or other related disciplines. The ideal candidate will be able to offer a course that takes advantage of the unique opportunity for students to learn in our nation’s capital.

The course will be taught in person one night per week (preferably Monday or Tuesday) from 6:30 pm to 9:30 pm, for 15 weeks (8/23/21 – 12/10/21). Enrollment in the course may range from 10-25 students. The position may be renewable for a 2nd semester.

The pay is $7,750 per class per semester.

Applicants should hold a PhD, or be nearly finished with their degree, in Political Science or a related discipline, or should have sufficient professional experience and accomplishment in related fields to offer a rigorous course as a practitioner.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio (https://apply.interfolio.com/88007), and include a letter of interest, a description of potential class(es) to be offered, and a CV or resume. The Washington Program will be considering applications as they arrive with a final deadline of June 4th.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/4/2021
Date Posted: 5/20/2021
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 8889

University of California, Davis
Rank: Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for two or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2021-2022 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF04188. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by May 24, 2021, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8878

Appalachian State University
Rank: Visiting Comparative Politics Instructor

The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics beginning August 1, 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: comparative politics, human rights, ethnic conflict, globalization, or the politics of developing nations. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. At least one course each semester will be Intro to Comparative Politics.

Applications must be submitted via AppState PeopleAdmin https://appstate.peopleadmin.com/postings/28206 Applicants must submit the following documents: an application consisting of a letter outlining relevant research and teaching goals and experience, a current vitae, and a sample syllabus.

Review of applications will begin on May 28, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment to a successful candidate will be conditioned upon the University’s receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report.

Individuals with disabilities may request accommodations in the application process by contacting Maranda Maxey, Director & ADA/504 Coordinator, at 828- 262-3056 or maxcymr@appstate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8870

WZB Berlin Social Science Center

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/x)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory
Specializations: Social Movements, Religion & Politics, Africa

For its interdisciplinary research department Migration, Integration, Transnationalization, headed by Prof. Ruud Koopmans, the Berlin Social Science Center (WZB) is looking for a full-time (39 hours per week)

Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/x)

on a temporary basis with a contract duration of two years. The starting date is flexible, up to January 2022 at the latest.

WZB is a non-profit organization and a member of the Leibniz Association. WZB engages in research of fundamental societal questions from the perspectives of different disciplines. It is one of the most renowned institutions in the field of social sciences. The scientists who work together at the institute come from such fields as sociology, political science, economics, law, and psychology. The findings of WZB research are directed at the science community, the interested public, and also experts dealing with political and economic issues, with media, and society.

The Migration, Integration, Transnationalization department (MIT) of the WZB focuses on issues related to migration, integration, and majority-minority relations, including ethnic and religious conflicts as drivers of migration in source countries. The current position is situated in the context of the TRANSMIT project, in which we study migration drivers and trajectories, as well as ethnic and religious conflicts in West Africa, particularly Senegal, the Gambia, and Nigeria. Among other things, this project encompasses large-scale panel surveys in selected regions of these countries.

Your tasks and duties
- Conducting independent research and producing high-level international publications on migration and/or ethnic and religious conflicts
- Pursuing own research questions within the TRANSMIT project by using existing data and incorporating own research questions in future waves of the surveys (If desired, the research fellow can also, in addition to the TRANSMIT project, work on other topics.)
- Actively exploring opportunities for external funding, as the extension of the position beyond two years depends on the acquisition of third-party funding, either within the context of the TRANSMIT project, or from other sources
- Optional: teaching courses at universities in Berlin and participating in the various international exchange programs the WZB offers

Your qualifications profile
- Ph.D. degree in a relevant discipline (obtained already or soon to be completed) with a disciplinary background in political science, economics, or sociology
- Strong track record in theory-driven, quantitative empirical research
- Solid theoretical knowledge of migration processes and/or ethnic and religious conflicts
- Experience in dealing with the analysis (and ideally also the collection) of large-scale survey data
- Excellent knowledge of statistical methods, including the analysis of panel data and a firm grasp of approaches to causal inference
- An excellent command of the English language and at least a passive command of German
- Preferably: experience with the acquisition of external funding
- Preferably: command of French or one of the local languages of the countries of the TRANSMIT project

Our offer
- Remuneration in accordance with EG 14 (TVöD Bund) of the German civil service collective agreement
- Additional benefits for public service employees (VBL U)
- A well-equipped workplace in the center of Berlin
- Active support by research assistants, travel funding and access to small and medium-scale research funds for data collection, as well as opportunities to invite external collaborators and speakers
- International, cooperative, and diversified working environment
- In-depth integration into the scientific community in the form of colloquia and conferences
- Thorough instruction and guidance
- Flexible working hours
- We promote a good work-life balance, and our engagement has been certified by audit workandfamily and the European Commission’s Human Resources Strategy for Researchers (HR54R)
- Comprehensive program for continuous professional development and further qualification, in the own discipline and beyond

Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. We value diversity and welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. WZB expressly encourages women or persons with migration backgrounds to apply.

If you have any questions regarding the job opening, please contact Elisabeth von Bressendorf or Melinda Biolchini (applications-mit@wzb.eu).
Job interviews will likely take place in the week starting on 21 June 2021.

Have we sparked your interest? In that case, we are looking forward to receiving your application by 30 May 2021. Candidates are invited to send applications electronically in a pdf-format (max. 2 pdf-files) consisting of

- a letter of motivation
- a short sketch of own research ideas for the coming 2-3 years (approximately 2 pages)
- CV and list of publication
- copies of relevant certificates

quoting “postdoctoral researcher MIT” in the subject line, to the address:

Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin
für Sozialforschung gGmbH (WZB) / WZB Berlin Social Science Centre
Prof. Ruud Koopmans
email: applications-mit@wzb.eu

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 5/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
Ejobs ID: 8856

Bocconi University
Rank: Associate or Full Professor

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at Bocconi University is inviting applications for a tenured Associate or Full Professor position in Political Science, specifically within the subfield of international relations, with an appointment beginning on September 1, 2022. The area of research specialization in the IR field is open, but to complement the existing strengths and profile of the department, candidates engaged in research employing rigorous quantitative analysis are preferred.

The candidate should have a strong record of research, and should also be able to teach courses in international relations at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Bocconi University is a leading European research and teaching institution in economics, social sciences, management and related disciplines. The Department of Social and Political Sciences has a major role in staffing an undergraduate program in International Politics and Government, a master’s program in Politics and Policy Analysis, and a PhD program in Social and Political Sciences. Bocconi provides an ideal interdisciplinary research environment. The Department of Social and Political Sciences combines faculty from several allied disciplines and fields of study—public administration, political science, sociology, economics, history, public health, demography—who share an interest in policy-relevant research. The Department counts 60 tenured or tenure-track faculty members. Bocconi is located in Italy’s most vibrant center, Milan, a historic, cosmopolitan and international city in a metropolitan area of 3 million that is well connected to the rest of Europe and the world.

Knowledge of Italian is not required.

Terms of employment are competitive.

Applications should be received by September 15, 2021. Applicants must submit (1) a current curriculum vitae, (2) a job market paper (and up to 5 other published papers), (3) a cover letter, and (4) teaching and research statements via e-mail to faculty@unibocconi.it. Additionally, the names of at least three academic references should be listed in the application package.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 5/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
Ejobs ID: 8779

Bloomburg University
Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Upper Level Electives

Position Description
The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach introductory and/or upper-level courses from one or more subfields in the discipline (political theory, American government, comparative politics, international relations) based on the specific needs of the department at the time of appointment.

Qualifying Education/Experience
Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or (equivalent /) related programs (Public Administration, Public Policy, International Relations, Public Affairs, etc.) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or (equivalent /) related programs is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield or professional field associated with the current need. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information
A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of teaching and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs

Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hrsrin2@bloomu.edu.

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a
Political Science Jobs

June 2021

Bloomsburg University
Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Comparative Politics & International Relations

Position Description
The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 260: Introduction to Comparative Politics and POLISCI 280: Introduction to International Relations. A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog-.

Qualifying Education/Experience
Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of either comparative politics or international relations. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information
A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs. Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu.

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression,

The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-1408, jsraup@bloomu.edu or titleix-coordinator@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University’s compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University’s compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8846

background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon course enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression,
The Division of the Social Sciences at the University of Chicago invites applications for one or more positions as Instructional Professor (IP) in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, career track teaching position. The initial two-year appointment will begin in Academic Year 2021-22 and is renewable with opportunity for promotion. Appointments at the Assistant, Associate, and full Instructional Professor rank will be considered.

CIR’s Master of Arts program is organized around a hybrid academic/professional core curriculum that trains masters’ students for a variety of research careers.

The IP will teach four to five courses per year. This may include multiple sections of a core seminar on International Security and Order. Priority will be given to candidates who are qualified to teach international security in innovative dialogue with scholarship on international law, the global environment, or political economy. Other courses must cover topics in any of our five field specializations: (1) International Security, Conflict Studies, and Contentious Politics; (2) International Political Economy and Development; (3) Comparative Studies in Institutions and Identity; (4) Human Rights, the Environment, and International Law; and (5) Research Methods in the Social Sciences.

Additional responsibilities may include advising MA theses; supporting the professional development of students; contributing to the design and delivery of the program’s curricular and extra-curricular offerings; assisting with program admissions, staff hiring, and student recruitment.

The position includes support for professional development.

Qualifications
By September 1, 2021, applicants must have in hand a PhD in Political Science, Sociology, Public Policy, or a related discipline with research focus on International Relations. A demonstrated record of classroom experience is required. Experience teaching graduate students and advising undergraduate or graduate research projects is highly valued.

Application Instructions
Applicants must apply online at the University of Chicago’s Interfolio website at apply.interfolio.com/86908. The following materials must be submitted: 1) a cover letter, outlining the applicant’s prior training in international relations, prior teaching and mentoring experience, and suggested course offerings in our MA program; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a teaching statement; 4) one syllabus from prior teaching and one draft core seminar syllabus; 5) course evaluations or other evidence of past excellence in teaching or mentoring; and 6) three letters of reference.

Review of applications will begin May 29, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

The position will be part of the Service Employees International Union.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

University of Chicago
Rank: Instructional Professor in the Committee on International Relations

Position Description
The Division of the Social Sciences at the University of Chicago invites applications for one or more positions as Instructional Professor (IP) in the Committee on International Relations (CIR). This is a full-time, career track teaching position. The initial two-year appointment will begin in Academic Year 2021-22 and is renewable with opportunity for promotion. Appointments at the Assistant, Associate, and full Instructional Professor rank will be considered.
Lafayette College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics/International Relations. The position runs for academic year 2021-2022 and will be at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor if Ph.D. is in hand by the start date, or, for ABD, at the rank of Visiting Instructor. Teaching requirements include three courses each semester, and candidates should be prepared to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in their areas of expertise. Ability to teach Introduction to International Politics would be a plus. Though we welcome applications from across the comparative politics and international relations subfields, we are particularly interested in candidates with regional expertise in Africa, Latin America, or South Asia, and topical specialization in one or more of the following: migration and immigration; post-colonial studies and state formation; ethnic conflict and post-conflict processes; the politics of development.

Applications should include a letter of intent that contains a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. In the letter of intent, applicants should address the ways in which their teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will support Lafayette College’s commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in the college’s diversity statement (https://diversity.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/86893. Review of applications will begin on May 10, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Helena Silverstein, Department Head, at silversh@lafayette.edu.

Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of each and all of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. Lafayette College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Located within 70 miles of New York and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8841

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Professor of Legal Studies – Tenure track (Open Rank)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, History & Politics

Professor of Legal Studies – Tenure track (Open Rank)
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi invites applications for a tenure-track/open-rank faculty appointment in Legal Studies, Social Science Division with appointment starting in August 2021 for the 2021-22 academic year.

We will consider applicants from legal scholars with an active research agenda in all areas of law, but we are especially interested in those whose research and teaching include international and comparative dimensions. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as from members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

The undergraduate major in Legal Studies at NYU Abu Dhabi poses the broad philosophical, cultural, social, economic, political, religious, and ethical questions that prove indispensable both to a deep understanding of law and to liberal arts education. What is justice? What is law? How is it organized? Who and what constitutes the arbiter of justice? What are the effects of historical, cultural, religious, and national settings on law and justice? Is the developing global society on the path to a just and moral order, and what role can the law play? What are the legal issues raised by global concerns such as those about the environment, technology, and trade?

The Legal Studies curriculum design responds, in part, to the increasing globalization of law through a consideration of issues such as climate change, the rule of law, international business, global governance, law and media, human rights, migration, technology and security, and law and ethics. At the same time, recognizing that law maintains a local focus, the curriculum treats the broad questions raised by globalization through the study of particular examples drawn from common law, continental law and other legal systems. The major in Legal Studies is intended as an approach to the study of law rooted in the liberal arts tradition. The integration of Legal Studies with liberal arts education enhances the opportunity for cross-disciplinary study. The Program in Legal Studies is situated within both the Social Sciences and the Arts and Humanities, and it thus aims to serve as a bridge between these divisions. The curriculum aspires to foster in students the readiness and ability to act in a truly human manner which entails qualities such as serving as an advocate for individual rights and as an artisan of the common good.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is a pioneer of higher education in a global world, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research, while advancing cooperation and progress on humanity’s shared challenges. Part of the NYU global network, NYU Abu Dhabi offers an outstanding liberal arts and science education to students from the United Arab Emirates, United States, and around the world, focusing on intercultural understanding and leadership. It supports innovative research that pushes the frontiers of knowledge forward and responds in powerful and interdisciplinary ways to vital global and local questions. NYU Abu Dhabi advances NYU as a model university for the 21st century and contributes in multiple ways to the development of a sustainable, knowledge-based economy in Abu Dhabi.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence.
Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people. and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich NYUAD in Spring 2021. Application will begin on April 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will interview virtually in Spring 2021.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.sociology@nyu.edu

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

Political Science Jobs

Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students, and providing an intellectually rich environment. Students are drawn from around the globe, surpassing all traditional academic benchmarks. The NYU Abu Dhabi undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other honors.

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home and in order for you to research, teach, and thrive, we're offering a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. Start with generous relocation allowances to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by competitive salaries, housing and transportation allowances, and educational assistance for your dependents. Health and wellness services round out our offerings, plus more.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents. All benefits are subject to eligibility criteria and dependent on the duration of the appointment.

Qualifications

Applicants must have a doctorate or equivalent degree in law, and they must have – or have the potential to develop – a strong record of scholarship. A clear commitment to undergraduate teaching is also essential.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following documents, to: https://apply.interfolio.com/84835

- Cover Letter
- CV
- Statement of Teaching Interests
- Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)
- Writing Sample
- Statement of Research Interests
- The names and emails addresses of three references who will be asked to upload letters confidentially through Interfolio, NYUAD’s online application database.

Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will interview virtually in Spring 2021.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.sociology@nyu.edu

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.
and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate strengths in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinarity. Evidence of teaching experience, potential for teaching excellence, and the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. or at the final stages of completing their degree requirements in political science with a subfield specialization in international relations.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Zhiqun Zhu (zz004@bucknell.edu). Applications received by April 26, 2021 will receive full consideration.

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in the town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Salary range: $3,200 - $3,525 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8789

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach a course on American Public Opinion (one section only) for the Fall 2021 semester in a part-time, non-tenure track position as an affiliate faculty member in American Politics. Teaching may require in-person or a combination of in-person and online assignments. The upper-level course is called PS 314 Public Opinion and American Democracy.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please submit a dossier including a curriculum vitae, two letters of reference, graduate transcripts, draft syllabus of the course and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola’s educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@ Loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $3,200 - $3,525 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8789

Loyola University Maryland

Rank: Per course Instructors in Comparative and International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications for per-course, non-tenure track affiliate faculty member positions to teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations for the Fall 2021 semester. Teaching may require in-person or a combination of in-person and online assignments. The four courses are upper-level offerings titled: PS 303 Latin American Politics; PS 350 Comparative Politics; PS 352 Gender, Human Rights, and Conflict; and PS 365 International Politics. Applicants may teach up to two courses for the Fall 2021 semester; successful Fall 2021 candidates may also propose courses for the Spring 2022 semester.

A Ph.D., M.A., or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.
Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

To apply, please submit a dossier including: curriculum vitae; two letters of reference; graduate transcripts; draft syllabus of the course and teaching evaluations (if available); and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola’s educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $3,200 - $3,525 per course (without and with terminal degree)

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8790

---

Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor International Relations

Job Summary

Purdue’s Political Science Department is seeking two visiting assistant professors for the 2021-2022 academic year in the areas of environmental politics and policy and/or international relations. Each will teach four classes per semester on campus in West Lafayette. We seek scholars prepared to teach introductory courses in public and environmental policy and/or international relations, along with one or more of the following upper level courses: Global Green Politics, International Environmental Policy, Comparative Environmental Policy, International Organizations, Foreign Policy, or Model UN. Ability to teach undergraduate quantitative methods is preferred. We seek candidates who will engage students with broad interests in and beyond political science, and who are committed to creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive environment in the classroom and department.

Qualifications

Must have completed all requirements for the PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, Environmental Studies or a closely related field prior to August 1, 2021. Postsecondary teaching experience in political science, public policy, or closely related field is required.

The College and University

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university. Political Science faculty members are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers on campus, including the Advanced Methods at Purdue (AMAP) cluster, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for the Environment, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, Peace Studies, the Human Rights Program, Asian Studies, the Purdue Systems Collaboratory, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. In addition to the major, the Department is home to graduate and undergraduate certificates and minors in environmental politics and policy, public policy, and human rights.

Applications

Candidates should submit a cover letter, CV, at least three letters of reference, graduate transcripts, a statement on diversity, equity, and inclusiveness in the classroom, and a teaching portfolio. Application materials must be submitted electronically via https://careers.purdue.edu with job id 13349. Confidential letters of recommendation may be emailed to politicalsciences@purdue.edu

Purdue University’s Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin April 19th and continue until the positions are filled. Questions should be addressed to Department Head Cherie Maestas at cmaestas@purdue.edu.

The anticipated salary range is $52,000 – $55,000 for the academic year. This position is contingent on final budget approval.

A background check is required for employment in this position.

Ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Equal Opportunity

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8786

---

Colgate University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The department of political science at Colgate University seeks to fill a one-year position in international relations at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor. The appointment will begin in the fall of 2021.

Candidates should be able to teach introductory courses in international relations as well as more advanced courses in the candidates’ areas of interest. Specialization is open but preference will be given to candidates with expertise in one or more of the following areas: China, environmental politics, foreign policy, human security/terrorism, or human rights.

The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. Evidence of teaching excellence is essential. Completion of Ph.D. is preferred prior to, or shortly after, the date of hire. Please submit a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and evidence of teaching effectiveness, and arrange for submission of three letters of recommendation. All materials must be submitted online [at academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18395].
Colgate strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. All applications should speak directly to the candidate’s ability to work effectively with students across a wide range of identities and backgrounds. Review of applications will begin on May 1 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find postings of other employment opportunities at Colgate and other institutions of higher education in upstate New York at https://upstate-ny.hercjobs.org/.

It is the policy of Colgate University not to discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment based on their race, color, creed, religion, age, sex, pregnancy, national origin, marital status, disability, protected Veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, being or having been victims of domestic violence or stalking, familial status, or any other categories covered by the law. Colgate is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Candidates from historically underrepresented groups, women, persons with disabilities, and protected veterans are encouraged to apply. Colgate University is a highly selective liberal arts university of 2900 students situated in central New York state.

Please contact the committee chair, Navine Murshid, at nmurshid@colgate.edu for further information.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/31/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8780

---

College of Charleston
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor, Comparative/International Politics

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications for a one year visiting assistant professor position in comparative/international politics, with regional specialties in either Latin America or the Middle East, beginning August 2021. The ideal candidate will teach courses that incorporate some combination of the following issues areas of migration, race/ethnicity, religion, and/or comparative democratic systems and regime transitions. Additional teaching requirements include World Politics, International Relations Theory and Introduction to Comparative Politics. Ability to teach the department’s undergraduate research methods course a plus. An M.A. in Political Science, Geography or a related discipline is required, but a PhD is preferred. The teaching load is four courses per semester. The Political Science Department has 20 full-time faculty, over 360 undergraduate majors (http://polisci.cofc.edu/), and a Geography Minor (http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/). The department also supports a NASPAA Accredited Master of Public Administration (http://puba.cofc.edu/) and Master of Science in Environmental and Sustainability Studies (http://mes.cofc.edu/) program.

The College of Charleston is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 800,000. The College is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with a student body of approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 900 graduate students, 20% of whom identify as minority, and 140 international students from 34 different countries. Additional information about the institution, the student body, and the surrounding area is available at https://www.cofc.edu/.

Applicants should apply online at https://jobs.cofc.edu/ and submit a cover letter; a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publications/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations) and contact information for three references.

Questions about the search can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Hollis France (franceh@cofc.edu). Review of applications will begin March 16, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The College of Charleston is an AA/EQ employer and seeks to create a work environment and organizational culture that reflects the society and community in which it is located, and a climate for the success of every employee and student by appreciating the uniqueness that each one brings to the learning environment. To that end, we actively encourage applications from all groups underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/31/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8681

---

St. Olaf College
Rank: Instructor or Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for two part-time, one-year positions in International Relations and Comparative Politics at the level of Instructor or Assistant Professor, to begin August 2021. Expected teaching loads are three classes (.5 FTE) for one position and five classes (.83 FTE) for the other position.

Responsibilities include teaching introductory and upper-level classes. Area of specialization within International Relations and Comparative Politics is open. A Ph.D. in political science is preferred; ABD candidates will be considered.

The Department is particularly interested in applicants who can and will advance the College’s goals for diversity equity and inclusion. We request that in the letter of application, candidates address their potential to contribute to the St. Olaf community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We strongly encourage applications from members of underrepresented groups in accordance with our equity goals.

Applicants must submit materials online at https://stolaf.hiretouch.com/faculty-postings. A complete application includes:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- Graduate transcript (official or unofficial)
- Evidence of teaching excellence
- The contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship (St. Olaf solicits letters directly after an initial round of screening)

Review of applications will begin on March 12, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by that date will receive fullest consideration.

Questions about the position, department, or college may be directed to Christopher Chapp, department chair, at chapp@stolaf.edu. More information about the department can be found at wp.stolaf.edu/poli-sci/. Applicants who need assistance with the online application process should call 507-786-3356.

Founded in 1874, St. Olaf College is a residential, coeducational liberal arts college with approximately 3,000 students and 800 faculty members. Founded on a 306-acre campus on the scenic bluffs of the Cannon River Valley in southern Minnesota, St. Olaf offers an outstanding undergraduate education within the Lutheran tradition. St. Olaf College is a member of the Council of Independent Colleges, the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, and the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics. St. Olaf College admits qualified students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school administered programs. and staff employees. It is located in Northfield, Minnesota, about 45 minutes from Minneapolis and St. Paul with their rich and diverse cultural resources. The college offers an academically rigorous, nationally ranked liberal arts education that fosters the development of the whole person in mind, body, and spirit and emphasizes learning in an inclusive and globally engaged community.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until filled
Date Posted: 3/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8667

The University of Iowa
Rank: Stanley Family and Hua Hsia Chair in Chinese Culture and Institutions
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Iowa College of Liberal Arts and Sciences invite applications for the position of C. Maxwell and Elizabeth M. Stanley Family and Hua Hsia Chair in Chinese Culture and Institutions. The successful candidate will be appointed as a full professor with tenure to commence in August 2022. The position will be situated in a department appropriate to the specialization of the candidate, where normal review process, assignment of teaching duties, and responsibility for mentorship etc. will reside. The position is an endowed chair with a reduced teaching load and a research fund. The chair will also hold a 0% appointment in International Programs and is expected to be an active participant in the activities of the Center for Asian and Pacific Studies.

Education Requirement: PhD in Chinese Studies or an equivalent field.

Required Qualifications: Applicants must be internationally recognized scholars of Chinese studies, demonstratable by a distinguished record of scholarly publications, teaching, mentoring, and taking on leadership roles in administration, possess a native or near native fluency of the English language and standard Mandarin and may come from any disciplinary background in the humanities or social sciences and must be willing to function to meet the needs of the appointing department and complement the existing strengths within the department and college.

Desirable Qualifications: Experience in joint research either interdisciplinary or supra-nationally is highly desired and fluency in other languages and/or Chinese dialects

Review of applicants will begin September 15, 2021.

To start the Online Application process for this position, please go to https://jobs.uiowa.edu/faculty/view/74096 (Requisition #74096)

Start Date: Fall 2022
Date Posted: 3/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8667

University of Southern California
Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar - Research Associate

The Center for International Studies in the Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California (USC; Los Angeles, California) invites applications for a one-year postdoctoral fellowship in the 2021–22 academic year. The fall semester starts in the third week of August 2021.

We seek applicants with (a) a strong research profile in comparative and/or international political economy, with a preference for security or climate change expertise; and (b) a demonstrated commitment to conducting cutting-edge research targeted at the top journals and university presses in political science and/or international relations. The Center has a preference for selecting candidates who have an interest in engaging affiliated faculty in USC’s Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR), including scholars specializing in:

- The international political economy of security, broadly defined
- Environment, inequality, and redistributive conflicts in global comparative perspective; climate change policy preferences; political economy of state capacity with relation to climate issues

Postdoctoral fellows will also have an option to affiliate with one of two labs within POIR. USC’s Security and Political (SPEC) Lab, which conducts interdisciplinary, policy-relevant research on issues at the intersection of climate change, security, and economic development. This lab applies the Stewardship Model of Mentoring to providing experiential research education to undergraduate students and works particularly hard to recruit first-generation college students, minority students, and other members of other underrepresented groups. Alternatively or additionally, the fellow will also have the option to affiliate with a newly forming Inequality Lab with Professor Allison Hartnett.

If a postdoctoral fellow is interested in affiliating with the SPEC Lab and engaging in mentorship, the Lab is prepared to fund a team of undergraduate research assistants supporting the fellow’s research. During their year at USC, the postdoctoral fellow will pursue their own research agenda, but we are seeking to recruit an emerging scholar whose research interests are such that mutually beneficial collaboration with POIR faculty and/or doctoral students will yield the following benefits:

- One or more co-authored papers with POIR faculty and/or doctoral students
- Broad intellectual engagement and knowledge transfer between the postdoctoral fellow and the CIS/POIR research community
- Strong research productivity and professional growth for the postdoctoral fellow

Applicants must be junior scholars who have received a PhD within the last three years (and no later than August 1, 2021).

Applications should be complete by March 15, 2021, to receive fullest consideration. Applicants are required to complete the online application process (with few exceptions—such as published books—materials submitted by regular post will not be accepted).

Follow this link or paste it in a browser:

https://usc.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/ExternalUSCCareers/job/Los-Angeles-CA---University-Park-Campus/Postdoctoral-Scholar---Research-Associate_REQ20097804

Required materials include a letter of interest, a one-page proposal for collaboration with USC faculty, curriculum vitae, research sample, three reference letters and official graduate transcripts. Inquiries may be sent to cis@dornsife.usc.edu.

This is a one-year fixed term position.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability or any other characteristic
The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science.

Howard University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science (POLS) in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with research interests in the area of International Relations and Public Law. The successful candidate will be prepared to conduct externally-funded research in the area of international relations, comparative politics, and law and politics. We envision the successful candidate’s expertise as expansive and methodologically diverse, concerned with how the law constitutes and orders political and social relationships around the world, inclusive of judicial behavior and politics, constitutional development, comparative constitutional politics, international law and courts, and law and society. The successful candidate will be expected to play a key role in our undergraduate pre-law program, the POLS Bachelor of Arts to Juris Doctor (B.A.-J.D.) joint degree program, and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in international relations, judicial politics, and comparative constitutional law.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates are expected to develop vigorous, extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department’s teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented students is highly desired. Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis on educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as a Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity research by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation’s capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science.
throughout Morocco, and with the ambition to promote high-quality, world-class education and research. It aims to contribute to the development of African countries through a two-fold objective: to train the next generation of African social science scholars and leaders, and to produce cutting-edge research that informs policy and solve the challenges facing society. To further this aim, the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) is looking to appoint a number of tenure-track positions in International Relations.

Job Description and Duties: We are open to candidates with a research expertise in any area of International Relations, but particularly value candidates with expertise in International Relations Theory; Critical Security; Post/Decolonial International Relations; International Political Economy; or the International Relations of Africa. Regardless of area of interest however, solid candidates with strong teaching and supervision experience as well as a robust publication record will be given serious consideration. The expected start date for the position is September 2021. For this reason, successful candidates are expected to be ready to take on teaching responsibilities at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Academic staff members are expected to actively participate in the Faculty’s intellectual life and public engagement and to advance the purposes and the ambition of UM6P. We are looking for serious scholars and dedicated teachers who can engage a diverse, multicultural community of students and researchers.

Qualifications: the candidates must have a Ph.D. in International Relations, Political Science or cognate disciplines, demonstrated experience in teaching, and solid publications in peer-reviewed journals. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach one or more of the following subjects:

• Political History
• Africa and middle East
• International Political Economy
• Geopolitics and geostrategy
• Quantitative and qualitative methods in the Social Sciences

Salary and Benefits: We offer a generous expatriate contract with a competitive salary and benefits that meet international standards. Salary packages are commensurate with experience. Benefits include a generous housing allowance, tuition allowance for dependents, medical insurance, retirement pension, free access to wellness services, and much more. The University also provides start-up and relocation support.

Job location: Our state-of-the-art facilities in the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) are in Rabat. The Kingdom’s capital offers easy access to scholars interested in conducting field research in Africa and the Middle East. In addition, Rabat offers a good quality of life, a moderate weather all year round, and direct flights to most African, European and North American capitals.

Application requirements: the application consists of the following:

• Application Statement (candidates must specify at which level they wish their application to be considered)
• Curriculum Vitae
• Full list of publications
• Copy of the Ph.D. degree
• Previous teaching experience including teaching evaluations and at least one course outline

Applications must be submitted to recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma, by May 31, 2021. Please attach a single file containing all the above and use “International Relations” in the subject line. An interdisciplinary committee will review all applications. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for an interview via videoconference. All enquiries should be sent to: recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 4/15/2021
Date Posted: 2/17/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8609

Bentley University
Rank: Lecturer, International Relations

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer with expertise in International Relations and International Organizations to begin July 2021. The successful candidate will also have the ability to teach undergraduate introductory courses in globalization, comparative politics or US politics. We are seeking a colleague with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, and who employs innovative, active and experiential pedagogies. This non-tenure track position carries an eight-course teaching load (undergraduate level) during the contract year.

While not required, we particularly welcome applications from candidates with knowledge of issues of race, ethnicity, migration, and/or social inequalities. We also seek applicants whose teaching, service or research has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education, and who are interested in working with students outside the classroom.

The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to enhancing our two departmental majors - International Affairs and Public Policy - and to complement the department’s existing strengths, which are grounded in political science, geography and cultural studies.

Founded in 1917, Bentley University is a private, business-focused university with a strong commitment to the arts and sciences. An AACSB and EQUIS accredited institution, Bentley enrolls approximately 5,500 students at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. Bloomberg ranks Bentley in the top 10 undergraduate business programs in the United States, and in the top 100 places to obtain an MBA. U.S. News & World Report ranked Bentley as 1st in the Best Regional Universities-North category. Located in Waltham, Massachusetts, Bentley is on the doorstep of one of the nation’s leading cities. With over 35 colleges and universities, the greater Boston area is a vibrant place to work and live.

Minimum Qualifications
Candidates must demonstrate dedication to excellence in teaching, and we prefer candidates with classroom experience.

Ph.D. required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be confirmed prior to the start of the fall 2021 semester.

Instructions to Applicants
Applicants submit all application materials through Bentley’s on-line employment site at https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty.

Applications should include a letter of interest, CV, and a teaching statement that includes the applicant’s approach to diversity and inclusion in the classroom. Names and contact information for three references are required upon application. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Jeff Gulati, jgulati@bentley.edu.

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by February 1, 2021.
Bentley University requires references checks and may conduct other pre-employment screening.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/23/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8443

Bentley University
Rank: Lecturer, International Relations

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer with expertise in International Relations and International Organizations to begin July 2021. The successful candidate will also have the ability to teach undergraduate introductory courses in globalization, comparative politics or US politics. We are seeking a colleague with a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, and who employs innovative, active and experiential pedagogies. This non-tenure track position carries an eight course teaching load (undergraduate level) during the contract year.

While not required, we particularly welcome applications from candidates with knowledge of issues of race, ethnicity, migration, and/or social inequalities. We also seek applicants whose teaching, service or research has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusion in higher education, and who are interested in working with students outside the classroom.

The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to enhancing our two departmental majors - International Affairs and Public Policy - and to complement the department’s existing strengths, which are grounded in political science, geography and cultural studies.

Founded in 1917, Bentley University is a private, business-focused university with a strong commitment to the arts and sciences. An AACSB and EQUIS accredited institution, Bentley enrolls approximately 5,500 students at the undergraduate, graduate and doctoral levels. Bloomberg ranks Bentley in the top 10 undergraduate business programs in the United States, and in the top 100 places to obtain an MBA. U.S. News & World Report ranked Bentley as 1st in the Best Regional Universities-North category. Located in Waltham, Massachusetts, Bentley is on the doorstep of one of the nation’s leading cities. With over 35 colleges and universities, the greater Boston area is a vibrant place to work and live.

Minimum Qualifications
Candidates must demonstrate dedication to excellence in teaching, and we prefer candidates with classroom experience. Ph.D. required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be confirmed prior to the start of the fall 2021 semester.

Instructions to Applicants
Applicants submit all application materials through Bentley’s on-line employment site at https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty.

Applications should include a letter of interest, CV, and a teaching statement that includes the applicant’s approach to diversity and inclusion in the classroom. Names and contact information for three references are required upon application. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Jeff Gulati, jgulati@bentley.edu.

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by February 1, 2021.

Bentley University requires references checks and may conduct other pre employment screening.

DIVERSITY STATEMENT

Bentley University strives to create a campus community that welcomes the exchange of ideas, and fosters a culture that values differences and views them as a strength in our community.

Bentley University is an Equal Opportunity Employer, building strength through diversity. The University is committed to building a community of talented students, faculty and staff who reflect the diversity of global business. We strongly encourage applications from persons from underrepresented groups, individuals with disabilities, covered veterans and those with diverse experiences and backgrounds.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 12/23/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8444

University of Richmond
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Richmond Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with expertise in the politics of development, broadly defined. The department has a strong preference for an area concentration in either Africa or the Middle East, which will complement its existing strengths in the politics of Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The position, to begin in 2021-2022 academic year, is intended to meet and expand curricular goals within the major; to broaden the department’s research expertise; and to contribute to interdisciplinary initiatives in the School of Arts and Sciences and to the University of Richmond’s mission of “preparing students for responsible leadership in a diverse world.” More specifically, the position carries a 3-2 teaching load consisting of a regular offering of a survey course on the politics of development. Other courses would relate to the faculty’s regional specialization, with particular preference for courses on the politics of Africa and/or the Middle East. The new hire would also share responsibility for teaching the department’s ongoing offerings of Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations and, as schedule permits, contribute to departmental First Year Seminar (FYS) offerings.

Applicants must either hold a Ph.D. in Political Science or show credible evidence that they will complete the dissertation by August 1, 2021. Applicants should apply online at https://richmond.csod.com/ats/careersite/JobDetails.aspx?site=1&id=2062.

The University of Richmond is a private university located just a short drive from downtown Richmond, Virginia. Through its five schools and wide array of campus programming, the University combines the best qualities of a small liberal arts college and a large university. With nearly 4,000 students, an 8:1 student-faculty ratio, and more than 90% of traditional undergraduate students living on campus, the University is remarkably student-centered, focused on preparing students “to live lives of purpose, thoughtful inquiry, and responsible leadership in a global and pluralistic society.”
The University of Richmond is committed to developing a diverse workforce and student body, and to modeling an inclusive campus community which values the expression of difference in ways that promote excellence in teaching, learning, personal development, and institutional success. Our academic community strongly encourages applications that are in keeping with this commitment. For more information on the department and its programs, please see https://polisci.richmond.edu/.

Applicants should click &quot;Apply Now&quot; at the top of the page and submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter containing a brief summary of the candidate’s research and teaching interests and indicating commitment to the teacher-scholar model, and separate research and teaching statements. The research statement should expand on the candidate’s research agenda and expertise. The teaching statement should articulate the candidate’s teaching philosophy, interests, experience and goals. It should also address commitment to inclusive pedagogy and to fostering thriving and inclusive intercultural community, as outlined in the President’s Making Excellence Inclusive report (https://president.richmond.edu/inclusive-excellence/report-pdfs/making-excellence-inclusive-final-report-2019.pdf). In addition, please include copies of academic transcripts. Candidates for this position may be asked, at a later date, to provide the names and contact information for three references who will be asked to submit letters of recommendation. Review of applications will commence on October 1, 2020 and continue until the position is filled.

Please address any questions about the application to Dr. Jennifer Erkulwater (jerkulwa@richmond.edu), Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Richmond, Richmond, VA 23173.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7971

Texas A&M University
Rank: Instructional Assistant Professor (non-tenure track)

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a non-tenure track, instructional assistant professor in the area of international political economy, to work in the School’s teaching site in Washington, D.C. The position will be for a period of two-years, with the possibility of renewal. The start date for this position will be January 1, 2021. The successful candidate will teach five courses per academic year in a professional master’s degree program in international policy – two sections of the required course on the global economy and three other elective courses to be determined in consultation with the department head. A reasonable amount of department and professional service will also be expected.

The Department of International Affairs is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and departments is available at http://bush.tamu.edu.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in political science, politics or government with a specialization in the sub-field of international political economy to be considered.

Applicants with additional expertise in the intersection of international political economy and international security issues, and/or expertise in the politics and political economy of a particular world region, are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit: 1) Letter of Interest, 2) CV, and 3) three letters of recommendation. The application materials must be submitted online at http://apply.interfolio.com/76363.

Point of Contact: Ms. Peg Hosea phosea@tamu.edu

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7900

METHODOLOGY

Trinity College Dublin (Ireland)
Rank: Teaching Fellow - Applied Social Data Science

The Department of Political Science at Trinity College Dublin wishes to appoint a Teaching Fellow in Applied Social Data Science, to commence on 1st September 2021. This is a full-time, 2 year fixed-term contract.

The Department of Political Science wishes to make a Teaching Fellow appointment with a special focus on contributing to the development of our new postgraduate programme in Applied Social Data Science. In particular this includes providing full-time support for the modules in this programme in terms of lectures and supervision of tutorials. The candidate will also be capable of further developing the quality of our research-led postgraduate teaching. The successful candidate will be able to demonstrate strong experience in teaching and have experience in teaching as a teaching assistant or lead instructor for a variety of modules. The successful candidate will have an active research agenda / publication strategy in quantitative social science that relies on methods such as advanced econometrics, machine learning, and quantitative text analysis. An ability to teach modules in research design and quantitative research methods at both undergraduate and postgraduate level is highly desirable.

The Department is seeking to appoint individuals with vision and enthusiasm and a genuine commitment to the vital roles of teaching, research and administration.

Full job specification is available via jobs.tcd.ie which is also where job applications should be submitted.

The deadline for applications is 12 noon (Irish time) 8 June 2021.

Please contact Professor Constantine Boussalis, Director of the Applied Social Data Science programme (boussalc@tcd.ie), or Professor William Phelan, Head of Department of Political Science (phelanw@tcd.ie), with any questions.

Start Date: Fall 2021
German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA)

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (m/f/d)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Public Policy
Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

The GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies / Leibniz-Institut für Globale und Regionale Studien is an independent social science research institute based in Hamburg, Germany. It analyses political, social, and economic developments in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East, and links this knowledge to questions of global significance. It combines region-specific analysis with innovative comparative research on accountability and participation, peace and security, globalisation and development, and global orders and foreign policies. The GIGA is seeking to appoint a

Postdoctoral Research Fellow (m/f/d)

Applications are invited for a full-time position (100%), with a contract of three years, preferrals starting 1 November 2021. The salary is commensurate with TV-AVH / TVöD EG 13.

The successful candidate will work in the project ‘COVID-19 and Executive Personalization in Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America and the MENA Region’ funded by the German Re-search Foundation / Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft. This project is co-lead by Dr. David Kuehn, Prof. Mariana Llanos and Dr. Thomas Richter.

The successful candidate will

- contribute to the development of the conceptual and theoretical framework of executive personalisation
- lead the preparation and conduct of a comparative, empirical analysis of personalisation of executive power in the area of public health
- be an active member of the GIGA, be affiliated to the GIGA Institute of African Affairs, and belong to the Research Programme “Accountability and Participation”
- contribute to the academic output of the project with single-authored and co-authored publications in leading scientific journals
- engage in the dissemination of project findings within the academic as well as policy community, and among the wider public

Mandatory qualifications:

- an excellent doctoral degree in political science, sociology, public policy, public health, economics, African studies or related disciplines
- a strong background in research on politics and/or society of sub-Saharan Africa
- on-site research experience in sub-Saharan Africa
- proven proficiency in the application of state-of-the-art comparative social science methods
- proficiency in English

Desired qualifications:

- strong analytical skills
- strong teamwork skills
- experience in academic research on public health
- experience in research on autocratisation and/or democratisation
- experience in organizing academic events and outreach activities
- proficiency in additional languages spoken in sub-Saharan Africa

Part-time options will be considered, if so desired by the successful candidate. Diversity and the reconciliation of work and family life are of great importance to the institute. The GIGA promotes the equality of all genders.
Please fill out the application form (found at https://www.giga-hamburg.de/en/career/) and send it together with your full application (Ref.-No. GIGA-21-07) including relevant supporting documentation (cover letter, CV, credentials/diplomas/certificates, names and contact details of two references, list of publications, max. two work samples), as one PDF (except for the completed GIGA application form) to:

Gabriele Tetzlaff, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA), Neuer Jungfernstieg 21, 20354 Hamburg, Germany
Email: jobs-iaa@giga-hamburg.de (email applications are particularly welcome).

Screening of applications will begin on 7 June 2021.

For further information, please visit the GIGA homepage or contact Dr. Thomas Richter (Email: thomas.richter@giga-hamburg.de).

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 6/7/2021
Date Posted: 5/5/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8858

GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies

Rank: Research Fellow (m/f/d)
Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

The GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies / Leibniz-Institut für Globale und Regionale Studien is an independent social science research institute based in Hamburg, Germany. It analyses political, social, and economic developments in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East, and links this knowledge to questions of global significance. It combines region-specific analysis with innovative comparative research on accountability and participa-tion, peace and security, globalisation and development, and global orders and foreign policies. The GIGA is seeking to appoint a

Research Fellow (m/f/d)

Applications are invited for a part-time position (65%), with a contract of three years, preferably starting 1 November 2021. The salary is commensurate with TV-AVH / TVöD EG 13.

The successful candidate will work in the project ‘COVID-19 and Executive Personalization in Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America and the MENA Region’ funded by the German Research Foundation / Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft. This project is co-lead by Dr. David Kuehn, Prof. Mariana Llanos and Dr. Thomas Richter.

The successful candidate will
• contribute to all project components as appropriate
• be an active member of the GIGA, be affiliated to one of GIGA’s regional institutes, and belong to the Research Programme “Accountability and Participation”
• contribute to the academic output of the project with single-authored and co-authored publications in leading scientific journals
• engage in the dissemination of project findings within the academic as well as policy community, and among the wider public

Mandatory qualifications:
• an excellent university degree (master’s or equivalent) in political science, sociology, public policy, economics, or related social science disciplines
• familiarity with research on autocratization, and/or democratization
• proficiency in the application of state-of-the-art statistical methods
• proficiency in English

Desired qualifications:
• strong analytical skills
• strong teamwork skills
• familiarity with computational social science techniques/programming languages (e.g., Python, R)
• proficiency in additional languages spoken in sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America or the MENA region

The GIGA strongly encourages concurrent work on a doctoral degree. The research fellow would become a member of the GIGA Doctoral Programme.

Other part-time options will be considered, if so desired by the successful candidate. Diversity and the reconciliation of work and family life are of great importance to the institute. The GIGA promotes the equality of all genders.

Please fill out the application form (found at https://www.giga-hamburg.de/en/career/) and send it together with your full application (Ref.-No. GIGA-21-08), including relevant supporting documentation (cover letter, CV, credentials/diplomas/certificates, names and contact details of two references, list of publications, max. two work samples), as one PDF (except for the completed GIGA application form) to:

Daniela Wald, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA), Neuer Jungfernstieg 21, 20354 Hamburg, Germany
Email: jobs-giga@giga-hamburg.de (email applications are particularly welcome).

Screening of applications will begin on 7 June 2021.

For further information, please visit the GIGA homepage or contact Dr. Thomas Richter (Email: thomas.richter@giga-hamburg.de).

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 6/7/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8850

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor – Political Methodology

Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor – Political Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a non-tenure track position as Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor in Political Science to start Fall 2021. This is a one-year position, with possibility of renewal. We seek candidates in any subfield who are able to teach a broad range of in-residence and online upper-level undergraduate methodology classes, as well as courses on substantive topics that incorporate research and statistical analysis. In addition, successful candidates must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse campus community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity.

The position requires teaching six courses a year. Candidates should have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the appointment date, although qualified applicants at the ABD level will also be considered.

Lecturers/Assistant Teaching Professors participate extensively in the intellectual life of the department, including opportunities to attend seminars and workshops, and present research. Salary is competitive and additional money is available for travel and research.

Apply online at: https://psu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/PSU_Academic/job/University-Park-Campus/Lecturer-Assistant-Teaching-Professor_REQ_0000013162-1

Applications must include a cover letter explaining research and teaching experience; a current CV; syllabi from previously taught courses; samples of scholarly writing; and teaching evaluations (with a key). Candidates should also request three confidential letters of reference to be sent directly to the search committee at: plscapplications@psu.edu. Reference letters should come from individuals who can address candidates’ teaching and commitment to enhancing diversity.

Candidates invited for virtual campus visits will be expected to give a teaching demonstration. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. For more information on Department of Political Science, see: https://polisci.la.psu.edu/.

Penn State University and the Department of Political Science are committed to the values of equity, diversity and inclusion in all of its forms (see http://equity.psu.edu/diversity-statement and https://polisci.la.psu.edu/diversity) and we seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to these goals. We embrace individual uniqueness, foster a culture of inclusion that supports both broad and specific diversity initiatives, leverage the educational and institutional benefits of diversity, and engage all individuals to help them thrive. We value inclusion as a core strength and an essential element of our public service mission.

To review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters and policies, please go to https://police.psu.edu/annual-security-reports, which will also explain how to request a paper copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled Date Posted: 4/30/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 8847

Mercyhurst University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning fall 2021. This position may be renewable or converted to tenure-track contingent on excellent performance, departmental staffing and programmatic needs, and continued administrative approval. The successful applicant will possess a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university. The department is seeking a generalist who is committed to developing courses in constitutional law and civil liberties as well as contributing to our department needs in institutions, behavior, methods, gender, or racial and ethnic politics. The candidate will also serve as advisor to our pre-law society. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the fall 2021 semester. Screening of applications will begin immediately and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to Jennifer Verga, administrative assistant: jverga@mercyhurst.edu. Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year. For information about the political science program see the departmental website: http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021 Application Deadline: Open until Filled Date Posted: 4/21/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 8822

Pennsylvania State University
Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar of Social Data Analytics

Postdoctoral Scholar of Social Data Analytics

The Center for Social Data Analytics (C-SoDA) at The Pennsylvania State University invites applications for a postdoctoral scholar with a specialty in data and/or computationally intensive social research to start in Fall 2021.

Methodological areas of specialization relevant to the position include, but are not limited to, text analysis, computational statistics, and machine learning. The Director of the Center for Social Data Analytics will supervise the scholar. The scholar’s time allocation will be 40% individual/own research, 40% research on projects led by C-SoDA-affiliated faculty, and 20% service for C-SoDA. Service for C-SoDA will include, but not be limited to, managing graduate student researchers, assisting C-SoDA-affiliated researchers in using high performance computing resources on campus, and assisting with grant proposal preparation.

PhD required or all requirements for the PhD must be completed by the appointment date. In addition, successful candidates must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse campus community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity.

Apply online at: https://psu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/PSU_Academic/job/University-Park-Campus/Postdoctoral-Scholar--Center-for-Social-Data-Analytics_REQ_0000011920-1

Penn State scholars participate extensively in the intellectual life of the Center including opportunities to attend seminars and workshops,
Texas Christian University

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Research Methods

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a one-year lecturer position in Research Methods for the 2021-22 academic year. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 4/4 teaching load, and the salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, CV, transcript, a portfolio of teaching materials (including a teaching philosophy statement and a sample syllabus in an upper-level methods course), and a one-page diversity statement. All materials are to be submitted online at https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. The finalists for the position will be asked to submit a video of a teaching demonstration in front of students (approximately 45 minutes in length) or will be asked to give a teaching demonstration during an interview.

We will review applications on receipt and continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to search committee chair, Dr. Grant Ferguson, grant.ferguson@tcu.edu

A selective teaching and research university with 10,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution committed to academic freedom and present research results. Salary is competitive and additional money is available for travel and research. Submit cover letter explaining research and any administrative experience, a current CV, and samples of scholarly writing. Additionally, request three confidential letters of reference be sent directly to mlg4@psu.edu. Application review will begin on April 16th, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Penn State is committed to and accountable for advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in all of its forms. We embrace individual uniqueness, foster a culture of inclusion that supports both broad and specific diversity initiatives, leverage the educational and institutional benefits of diversity, and engage all individuals to help them thrive. We value inclusion as a core strength and an essential element of our public service mission.

To review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters and policies, please go to https://police.psu.edu/annual-security-reports, which will also explain how to request a paper copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/2/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8788

Ashoka University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor Position in Political Science
Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for at least one Visiting Assistant Professor position with an expected start date of July 1, 2021 and end date of June 30, 2022.

We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications from women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) three confidential letters of reference.

Note: The Ashoka job portal further asks for statements of teaching and research philosophy for all applications. For this search they are optional.

All materials should be submitted through: https://facultypositions.ashoka.edu.in/

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: April 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/17/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8709

Political Science Jobs

June 2021
Ashoka University

Rank: Professor / Associate Professor / Tenure-track Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for faculty positions with an expected start date of August 1, 2021. The position is open rank, as to either the level of tenure track Assistant Professor, or tenured Associate or Full Professor. We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield, with a preference for comparative politics and political economy along with related methodological approaches. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) three confidential letters of reference.

Applicants for the position of tenured Associate or Full Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) name of three references.

Note: The Ashoka job portal further asks for statements of teaching and research philosophy for all applications. For this search they are optional.

All materials should be submitted through: https://facultypositions.ashoka.edu.in/

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: April 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2021
Date Posted: 7/7/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7917

Carleton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Specializations: Asian American Politics, China, East Asia

The Carleton College Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Comparative Politics to begin September 1, 2021. We are specifically interested in candidates who have regional expertise in Chinese politics and prefer candidates who can speak both to domestic dynamics as well as China’s role in a broader Asian and/or global context. Successful candidates should be able to teach a range of courses in Comparative Politics (including the introductory course) as well as offer instruction in research methods (qualitative and/or quantitative). The standard teaching load is five courses spread across three trimesters. The ideal candidate will also be interested in contributing to a vibrant college-wide culture of undergraduate research and have a commitment to attracting and retaining students from underserved groups. A PhD in hand or its imminent completion is required.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000, located in the historic and thriving town of Northfield, Minnesota. We are in commuting distance of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, whose greater metro area has a diverse population of three million people and a rich variety of cultural resources. The Political Science Department strives to introduce students—majors and non-majors alike—to a broad array of theoretical and philosophical perspectives while equipping them with the necessary analytic skills to engage with an increasingly diverse world and contribute constructively to one’s community. For further information about the department, please consult the department website at carleton.edu/political-science.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, and a statement about teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment and how you would contribute to a college community that embraces a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We also require a statement about research interests, one scholarly writing sample and contact information for three letters of reference. All applications should be submitted to jobs.carleton.edu. Inquiries can be directed to preiken@carleton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 9/4/2020
Date Posted: 7/7/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8627

NON-ACADEMIC

Krea University

Rank: Policy Engagement Manager
Specializations: Economic Policy, India, Political Economy

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion Economics Yale, based at Yale University’s Economic Growth Center and MacMillan Center. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders’ ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

The Policy Engagement Manager will help manage Inclusion Economics India Centre’s (i.e. India)’s government relations, stakeholder relationships, and capacity building and communications activities across research portfolios. The position is also responsible to support strategic internal and external communication activities, in particular events and outputs to communicate effectively about i.e. India’s work and impact. S/he will play an active role in trainings and external-facing events with policy stakeholders, content development for policy engagement events (workshops, policy dialogues, trainings), and developing and contributing to policy-research collaborations to build organizational and institutional capacities to use evidence. The selected candidate will work closely on communication and strategic policy engagement with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale and with teams working on affiliated research at the Governance Lab in Nepal.

Responsibilities:

- Develop and foster strategic relationships with external stakeholders, including policymakers of all levels of the government, donors, and other mission-aligned individuals and institutions.
- Actively and independently work closely with researchers and leadership to identify, lead, and implement a targeted and integrated program of engagement and communications along with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale.
- Develop strong relations with government officials, help conceptualize new research projects that align with our portfolios, as well as identify opportunities for replicating and scaling-up of projects.
- Work with government officials to encourage and enhance the use of rigorous evidence-based policymaking in their departments, and institutionalize practices to make such policy-engagements effective.
- Represent our research and policy engagements in a variety of written and in-person forums to engage effectively in the research-to-policy space and communicate effectively about our work to external stakeholders. Written communications may include policy briefs, published articles and blogs, and reports.
- Oversee and implement all aspects pertaining to administration of external-facing policy engagements ranging from policy dialogues and conferences to workshops and trainings. This oversight includes coordinating with collaborating institutions, developing and effectively delivering content, and ensuring all administration and logistical tasks are executed effectively.
- Draft research-policy memos, presentations, op-eds, and background notes for high-level partner meetings, and oversee immediate follow-up on such meetings, including related to basic content and data-related requests.
- Develop and implement systems to effectively organize, monitor, and systematize policy engagement efforts and auxiliary support structures.
- Build capability and capacity in the research management team for effective partnership management, deeper understanding of the policy environment, and inform and support fundraising initiatives in the organization.
- Other activities to support our strategy in India and South Asia, as requested.

Basic Qualifications:

- Master’s degree in a relevant field such as economics, public policy/administration, and/or political science
- Strong understanding of research design, basic econometrics, and evaluation methodologies, as well as public policy-oriented topics and policy and implementation in South Asia – India in particular
- At least 5 years of experience in a position that includes significant external network development and stakeholder engagement
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and strong public speaking skills
- Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings to a non-technical audience
- Willingness to visit research project sites and engage in research content and methodology
- Ability to think creatively, innovate, strategize, set priorities, manage a workplan, and evaluate progress with minimal supervision

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience working across multiple projects and managing multiple internal and external relationships
- Experience managing stakeholder and policy programs, including convening policy forums, communications outputs, and thought leadership activities
- Proven track record of carrying out high-quality research, policy, and/or advocacy work

This position will be based in New Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country when Covid-19 restrictions are lifted.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire (https://forms.gle/XbBeNgprSoRxHpxN7); you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file “Last name, First name – Policy Engagement Manager”.

To view other open positions, visit the MacMillan Center’s Employment Opportunities page (https://macmillan.yale.edu/academic-programs/faculty/employment-opportunities).

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8894

Stanford University
Rank: Executive Director

The Immigration Policy Lab (IPL) at Stanford University designs and evaluates policies to advance the integration of immigrants and refugees worldwide. By producing new evidence and translating it into creative solutions, we seek to improve refugees’ and immigrants’ opportunities and strengthen their host communities.

Using new data and cutting-edge analytical tools, we bring evidence to bear on the urgent problems facing immigrants, refugees, and their service providers. We engage with community-based organizations as well as local, state, national, and international government agencies to test the effectiveness of current policies. In addition, we co-design new policies, programs, and tools that ultimately affect millions of immigrants, as well as increase the economic and social prosperity of the communities in which they live. Our talented team of faculty, professional staff, postdocs, and students has created a research model that combines the quality and rigor of an academic lab with the efficiency and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Following five years of rapid development and growth since our launch in 2016, IPL is seeking a new Executive Director (ED) to lead and advance the organization at this pivotal moment. Working in collaboration with IPL’s faculty co-directors at Stanford, the ED is responsible... for setting and executing the strategic vision for a globally recognized social science lab, while also managing seamless programmatic and scientific operations.

We are looking for an experienced leader with in-depth knowledge of immigration policy and/or research; who values the rigor of the scientific process; who can articulate the importance of quantitative research to diverse stakeholders and audiences; and who also will deepen IPL’s focus on policy and social impact. The ED will manage the day-to-days operations of the lab and guide a team of professional staff that includes research program managers, a data scientist, a communications director, and a finance/operations manager. The ED will provide training opportunities for postdocs, graduate students, and undergraduates and continue to grow and manage an active community of affiliated researchers from top universities. The ED will also be IPL’s leading public voice, whether at Stanford convenings or international summits. Further, the ED will collaborate closely with the leadership team of the IPL branch at ETH Zurich to build and implement a common vision and community across both branches.

This is a two-year fixed term position with possibility of renewal based on performance and funding. Please note that the expectation is that the position will be required to be located on campus and a regular remote position is not possible. IPL will offer some flexibility for a hybrid on-site/work from home arrangement.

To learn more about the job and IPL’s team, please visit our website: https://immigrationlab.org/2021/05/03/ipl-seeks-an-executive-director/

Start Date: Open until Filled
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8877

Center for Rural Pennsylvania
Rank: Data and Research Analyst

The Center for Rural Pennsylvania, a legislative agency of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, seeks a Data and Research Analyst, with an anticipated start date in August 2021. This position reports to the Senior Policy Analyst. Review of application materials will begin on May 24 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants must submit a cover letter, resume or curriculum vitae, and a list of three professional references through the application page at: https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/CRP-Analyst2021

Salary is commensurate with experience. The successful candidate is expected to work on-site at the Center’s Harrisburg office during regular business hours, Monday through Friday. Although, appropriate remote work accommodations are in effect during the COVID-19 pandemic.

JOB DUTIES/RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Fill data and other information requests from members and staff of the General Assembly, and other groups.
2. Assist in the collection, maintenance, and written analysis of data pertinent to rural issues.
3. Research rural issues and write original articles for various Center publications.
4. Ensure that all research is completed in an accurate, objective, and non-partisan manner.
5. In collaboration with Center staff, author or co-author substantial research reports on rural policy issues, usually on a quarterly basis.
6. Maintain a database and filing system on rural research, policies, and programs in Pennsylvania and other states and nations.
7. Conduct background research on issues for the Center’s annual Request for Proposals, and support the grant review process.
8. Represent the Center through service on boards, committees, and related entities. And, as needed, make presentations at conferences, meetings, legislative hearings, and related events.
9. Network with other state agencies and organizations to advance the mission of the Center.
10. Perform other duties as assigned.

Qualifications/Requirements:

1. Bachelor’s degree in a related field;
2. Familiarity with academic writing and higher education institutions;
3. Working knowledge of research methodology and applied research practices;
4. Familiarity with Pennsylvania state government, the General Assembly, and local governments;
5. Highly effective communication skills;
6. Demonstrated ability to: think creatively; work independently; work collaboratively as part of a team; and meet deadlines;
7. Valid driver’s license and ability to travel throughout the Commonwealth on occasion (including overnight travel).

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Advanced degree in a related field;
2. Two or more years of relevant work experience;
3. Experience working with Census data and other large public databases;
4. Experience working with mapping programs such as GIS, Tableau, and related data visualization software;
5. Experience working with IMPLAN or related economic forecasting tools;
6. Experience working with SPSS, Stata, SAS, R, or related software;
7. Experience in survey research methods and analysis.

The Center for Rural Pennsylvania is a bipartisan, bicameral legislative agency that serves as a resource for rural policy within the Pennsylvania General Assembly. The Center works with the legislature, educators, state and federal executive branch agencies, and national, statewide, regional and local organizations to maximize resources and strategies that can better serve Pennsylvania’s nearly 3.4 million rural residents. For more information, please visit www.rural.pa.gov

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/3/2021

June 2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8854

Krea University
Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow
Specializations: Economic Policy, India, Political Economy

Who We Are:
Inclusion Economics India at Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Yale’s Economic Growth Center and MacMillan Center. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economies and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders’ ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:
We are currently recruiting one or more Post-Doctoral Research Fellows to support our research in India. Final portfolio allocations will depend on candidates’ interest, experience, and skillset; ideal candidates have experience and research in one of our core focus areas listed above. The position will provide the selected candidate(s) an opportunity to gain first-hand experience conducting policy-relevant economics research while contributing to an agreed upon project portfolio.

Responsibilities within the project portfolio include supporting research design and implementation, overseeing data collection and analysis, interacting with stakeholders, and managing research activities and staff. This position requires a self-starting candidate with proven expertise in applied economics research who can effectively navigate India’s institutional landscape and appropriately represent our work to outside stakeholders. The position will provide a talented early career researcher the opportunity to work directly with top academics and begin building their own research portfolio.

Responsibilities:
• Manage and supervise technical aspects of assigned research studies in collaboration with the research team.
• Oversee field-based team to manage research study activities, including intervention implementation, and contribute to field-based scoping, survey design, survey testing, data quality monitoring, and more.
• Clean and process incoming or secondary data and conduct econometric analysis under the direction of senior researchers.
• Manage relationships with collaborating institutions, including policy counterparts and funding organizations; work with partner institutions and governments to set priorities and coordinate project administration and logistics.
• Compile, assess and synthesize research into policy briefs, white papers, memos and academic articles with guidance and oversight of Yale-affiliated research faculty.
• Provide appropriate inputs and support for administrative requirements of the project portfolio, upon request, which may include financial management, budgeting, procurement, contract set-up and compliance, grant reporting, deliverable tracking, etc.
• Contribute to our team’s overall management and strategic vision by identifying new research projects and partners and applying for additional sources of funding in partnership with research team.

Basic Qualifications:
• PhD in economics, public policy, political science, statistics, econometrics or related field by mid-2021
• Advanced coursework in empirical methods, including econometrics and economics, with strong demonstrated academic performance
• Solid understanding of research design and experience with data collection and field work
• Proven analytical skills and proficiency in Stata and/or R; experience in Python a plus
• Proven ability to manage multiple tasks and propose timely solutions with minimal supervision
• Excellent attention to detail
• Capacity to maintain an organized and structured work style in a fast-paced environment
• Ability to adapt to quickly changing environments
• Strong interpersonal skills, and willingness to interact with a wide range of individuals ranging from Research Associates to academics, donors, research institutions, etc.
• Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and Hindi
• Ability to work in a multicultural environment
• Willingness to travel frequently and spend significant time at research project sites, as needed

Preferred Qualifications:
• Willingness to travel frequently and spend significant time at research project sites, as needed
• Proven ability to manage multiple tasks and propose timely solutions with minimal supervision
• Excellent attention to detail
• Capacity to maintain an organized and structured work style in a fast-paced environment
• Ability to adapt to quickly changing environments
• Strong interpersonal skills, and willingness to interact with a wide range of individuals ranging from Research Associates to academics, donors, research institutions, etc.
• Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and Hindi
• Ability to work in a multicultural environment
• Willingness to travel frequently and spend significant time at research project sites, as needed

This position will be based in Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country when Covid-19 restrictions are lifted. Fellowships are one-year positions with the possibility of extension upon mutual agreement.

How to Apply:
If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire (https://forms.gle/XbBeNgprSoRxHpxN7); you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file “Last name, First name – Post-Doctoral Research Fellow”.

To view other open positions, visit the MacMillan Center’s Employment Opportunities page (https://macmillan.yale.edu/academic-programs/faculty/employment-opportunities).

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8637

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Open Rank in Political Science Department
The Department of Government at Essex are world leaders in political science, ranked top in the UK for research excellence (REF2014), 5th for politics in the UK (The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2020), top 10 in the world for political science and international relations according to the Centre for World University Rankings (2021), and a top 30 departments globally according to the QS World University Rankings (2020). Awarded Q-Step Affiliate Status, we are committed to excellence in education and research.

Due to ongoing expansion and strategic investment by the University, we have a number of posts to be filled at either Professor, Reader (Associate Professor), Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor), or Lecturer (Assistant Professor) level.

We welcome applications from all sub-fields of political science represented at Essex - international relations and conflict, political behaviour, political economy, political institutions, and political theory and discourse. However, we would be particularly interested in applications, which would help us increase our strengths in British politics, gender, ideology and discourse analysis, international development, political economy, or race, ethnicity, and politics.

Duties of the Role
The purpose of this role is to conduct research and teaching in political science and supervise undergraduate, MA and PhD dissertations. In addition, the successful candidate will be expected to generate research income, to contribute to the administration and management of the Department, and to the local, regional and international profile of the Department.

Duties at Lecturer level will include contributing to excellence in education by designing and delivering substantive and effective teaching and learning support as agreed with the Head of Department, producing research outputs for publication at acceptable levels of volume and academic excellence and to disseminate the result of research and scholarship through appropriate Knowledge Exchange activities.

Duties at Senior Lecturer or Reader level will moreover include engaging in curriculum development, undergraduate and postgraduate teaching, and research supervision at both an individual and a strategic level along with providing research leadership and engaging in activities that will enhance the research profile of the Department.

Duties at Professor level will include additionally building up a sustained and effective record of impact at a strategic level in relation to teaching and learning, as part of a wider commitment to academic practice and pursuing research that is world-leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour.

At all levels the successful candidate will be expected to engage in individual and/or collaborative research activity (resulting in internationally excellent publications) that is in keeping with REF criteria and to generate external research income appropriate in scale to career stage and subject area norms.

The post-holder will undertake a full range of Education, Research and Leadership and Citizenship responsibilities as detailed in the respective job pack of the level for which you are applying.

Qualifications and Skills required
Applicants will hold a relevant doctoral level degree in Political Science (or be close to completion of PhD if applying for Lecturer level).

Applicants at the Lecturer level will be required to provide evidence of a research agenda, engagement in high-quality research activity and a developing research profile; and have proven experience in teaching at undergraduate and/or postgraduate levels, or demonstrable potential to achieve this.

Applicants at the Senior Lecturer or Reader level will be required to provide evidence of an established and internationally recognised research profile, with a strong track record of published academic output at international levels of recognition; a sustained record of effectiveness in education at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels; and a record of success in generating external research income appropriate in scale to disciplinary norms and career stage.

Applicants at the Professor level will be required to demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence at both undergraduate and postgraduate levels appropriate to the discipline; a strong, sustained record of academic publication at international or world-leading levels of recognition; and an established record of success in securing and managing substantial research grants (appropriate to the discipline).

Applicants at all levels will need to possess evidence of a clear publication plan for submission to future Research Excellence Framework (REF) programmes.

The Department of Government has achieved a Scientific Women’s Academic Network (Athena SWAN) Bronze award in 2020. We particularly welcome applications from those who identify as female or non-binary as they are under-represented in the Department.

At the University of Essex, internationalism and diversity is central to who we are and what we do. We are committed to being a cosmopolitan, internationally oriented university that is welcoming to staff and students from all countries, faiths and backgrounds, where you can find the world in one place.

To support this commitment we have our Global Forum, a staff-led network that promotes and celebrates the rich cultural diversity among Essex staff, and our Colchester campus based Faith Centre, which hosts regular services, meetings and events organised by our chaplains and faith representatives. For more information see: https://www.essex.ac.uk/life/student-facilities/religion-and-faith

Please visit our website (http://www.essex.ac.uk/vacancies/) for a full job description, person specification and more information relating to this post. We recommend you read this information carefully before making an application. Applications should be made on-line, but if you would like advice or help in making an application, or need information in a different format, please email the Resourcing Team (resourcing@essex.ac.uk).

Closing Date: 1 June 2021
Interview Dates: 14 July 2021
(Lecturer); 23 June 2021 (Senior Lecturer / Reader); TBC (Professor)
Salary: £41,527 - £49,553 per annum (Lecturer); £52,560 - £59,136 per annum (Senior Lecturer / Reader); On the Professorial scale, commensurate with experience and achievements (Professor)
Purdue University

Rank: Visiting Instructor, Cornerstone Liberal Arts Program

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University seeks a dedicated and experienced one-year Visiting Instructor to offer courses in its Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts program, which the National Endowment for the Humanities recognizes as a national model for general education (https://cla.purdue.edu/academic/cornerstone/index.html). Cornerstone offers an enriched first-year sequence anchored in transformative texts. It is designed to provide all students with the opportunity to broaden their understanding of the world and themselves, while strengthening the skills to read closely, write clearly, speak with confidence, and to engage with differing viewpoints and perspectives through general education courses.

The Cornerstone program enrolls several thousand students each semester from disciplines across Purdue’s West Lafayette, IN, campus. Successful candidates will be responsible of teaching courses: SCLA 10100 Transformative Texts, Critical Thinking and Communication I: Antiquity to Modernity (3 credit hours) and/or SCLA 102 SCLA 10200 Transformative Texts, Critical Thinking and Communication II: Modern World (3 credit hours) – both offered every semeser. Applicants should demonstrate experience and openness to teaching from a variety of approaches and interest in working with a diverse student population.

Required duties include: teaching the SCLA course series: working with Cornerstone faculty and staff to develop and support the program and the College of Liberal Arts; and attend Cornerstone and CLA related seminars and events to keep abreast of the latest developments. The normal full-time workload is 4-4 teaching, Summer teaching is an additional possibility. The position begins August 2021. This is a non-tenure track position with the possibility of renewal and with employment benefits. Purdue University offers a comprehensive benefits package.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in a Liberal Arts field. Teaching experience in leading discussion-based seminar courses and in an interdisciplinary environment. Candidates will be preferred if they have experience teaching writing and oral communication skills to undergraduate students.

Application Procedure: Applications must include: 1) Cover Letter, 2) Curriculum Vitae, 3) at least two letters of reference, and 4) a teaching portfolio. To apply, please visit: https://careers.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=13928&company=purdueuniv

Purdue University’s College of Liberal Arts is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on June 1, 2021 and continue until the positions are filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. Questions should be addressed to the Director, Dr. Melinda Zook at mzook@purdue.edu.

Candidates must have the ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8876

University of Connecticut

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellowship, Human Rights Data Hub

JOB SUMMARY

The University of Connecticut’s Human Rights Institute (HRI) is pleased to invite applications for a Postdoctoral Research Fellowship related to its new Human Rights Data Hub. The successful candidate will participate in research, programming, and the organization of the Human Rights Data Hub, an initiative of the Human Rights Institute. The Data Hub and the HRI in general, are an interdisciplinary space devoted to applying diverse research methodologies and innovative approaches to the study of human rights.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The Postdoctoral Fellow will 1) contribute to Human Rights Data Hub-related research projects and courses; 2) advance their own research agenda by producing original research leading to academic publications, policy analyses, blog posts, or similar outputs; and 3) work closely with other HRI faculty to provide administrative support for the Hub. The Fellow will dedicate part of their time to the Economic and Social Rights Empowerment Initiative (ESREI). A key responsibility for the period of appointment will be to work with Professor Susan Randolph and counterparts at the Human Rights Measurement Initiative (HRMI) to generate the annual update of the Socioeconomic Rights Fulfillment (SERF) Index (https://serfindex.uconn.edu/). The Postdoctoral Fellow’s administrative duties will include providing text and content for updating the Human Rights Data Hub’s website and outreach materials. The successful candidate will be expected to participate in the Human Rights Institute community and programs, attend research seminars and events, and mentor graduate and undergraduate students working on Data Hub projects.

The Human Rights Institute at UConn is one of the nation’s leading academic centers, offering undergraduate majors and minors in human rights and a graduate certificate and master’s in human rights. The Human Rights Institute is a leading innovator in human rights research and pedagogy. Faculty combine theoretical and practical expertise on both contemporary and historical human rights issues to produce innovative scholarship and prepare students to advance public discourse on the most pressing human rights issues of our time.

The Human Rights Data Hub advances empirical human rights research by supporting data collection projects designed to fill critical gaps in the observation and measurement of human rights phenomena. and by acting as a catalyst for collaborative interdisciplinary research involving faculty, graduate students, and undergraduate students. The Data Hub supports human rights scholarship at UConn by 1) providing administrative, logistical, technical, and seed funding support to select faculty-led projects; 2) innovating and disseminating new methodological approaches to data-intensive human rights research; and 3) serving as a repository for significant human rights datasets. The Data Hub projects are core to the University of Connecticut’s leadership in human rights scholarship and central to the HRI’s “Human Rights Practice Initiative” which bridges scholarship, teaching and learning, and practice.

Founded in 1881, the University of Connecticut (UConn) is a Land Grant and Sea Grant institution and member of the Space Grant Consortium. It is the state’s flagship institution of higher education and includes a main campus in Storrs, Connecticut, four regional campuses throughout the state, and 13 Schools and Colleges, including a Law School in Hartford, and Medical and Dental Schools at the UConn Health campus in Farmington. The University has approximately 10,000 faculty and staff and 32,000 students, including nearly 24,000 undergraduates and over 8,000 graduate and professional students. UConn is a Carnegie Foundation R1 (highest research activity) institution, among the top 25 public universities in the nation. Through research, teaching, service, and outreach, UConn embraces diversity and cultivates leadership, integrity, and engaged citizenship in its students, faculty, staff, and alumni. UConn promotes the health and well-being of citizens by enhancing the social, economic, cultural, and natural environments of the state and beyond. The University serves as a beacon of academic and research excellence as well as a center for innovation and social service to communities. UConn is a leader in many scholarly, research, and innovation areas. Today, the path forward includes exciting opportunities and notable challenges. A record number of undergraduate applications and support for student success have enabled the University to become extraordinarily selective.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

PhD (completed no later than August 2021) in the Social Sciences; applicants with a PhD in Computer Science, Data Science, Engineering, Business, and other related fields will be considered; Demonstrated evidence of advanced training and experience in data analysis and/or statistical modeling; Demonstrated expertise and programming skills in R, Stata, SPSS, or similar; Willingness and capacity to develop skills in LiveCode programming; Demonstrated interest in human rights-related research, broadly construed, in the social sciences or related fields; Strong organizational skills & detail orientation.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

Evidence of research excellence in human rights; Demonstrated interest in economic and social rights measurement and policy as well as a desire to work in support of the activist as well as academic communities; Demonstrated skills in LiveCode programming; Experience in web-scraping, text analysis, and/or natural language processing, especially in the context of data collection and analysis; Experience in applied statistical modeling, machine learning methods, and/or predictive modeling; Demonstrated record of working effectively on interdisciplinary teams especially in higher education; Demonstrated ability to supervise students in collaborative, project-based learning related to human rights.

APPOINTMENT TERMS

This is a full-time, 12-month position with an anticipated start date of August 23, 2021. The position may be renewable for a second year, pending a positive review and funding. The successful candidate’s appointment will be at the main UConn Storrs. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

TO APPLY

Please apply online at https://hr.uconn.edu/jobs, Staff Positions, Search #495254 (https://jobs.hr.uconn.edu/en-us/job/495254/postdoctoral-research-fellowship-human-rights-data-hub) and submit the following application materials:

1. A cover letter specifically addressing your credentials relative to the minimum and preferred qualifications listed above.
2. Curriculum vitae
3. A 1-2 page research and scholarship statement
4. A 1-2 page commitment to diversity and inclusion statement
5. Names and contact information for three professional references

Evaluation of applicants will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Priority will be given to applications received by May 28, 2021. For more information regarding the Human Rights Institute, please visit the Institute’s website at https://humanrights.uconn.edu/.

Questions about the position can be directed to Dr. Kathryn Libal (kathryn.libal@uconn.edu) or Dr. Michael Rubin (michael.rubin@uconn.edu).

Employment of the successful candidate will be contingent upon the successful completion of a pre-employment criminal background check.

This job posting is scheduled to be removed at 11:55 p.m. Eastern time on June 10, 2021.

All employees are subject to adherence to the State Code of Ethics which may be found at http://www.ct.gov/ethics/site/default.asp.

The University of Connecticut is committed to building and supporting a multicultural and diverse community of students, faculty and staff. The diversity of students, faculty and staff continues to increase, as does the number of honors students, valedictorians and salutatorians who consistently make UConn their top choice. More than 100 research centers and institutes serve the University’s teaching, research, diversity, and outreach missions, leading to UConn’s ranking as one of the nation’s top research universities. UConn’s faculty and staff are the critical link to fostering and expanding our vibrant, multicultural and diverse University community. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity employer, UConn encourages applications from women, veterans, people with disabilities and members of traditionally underrepresented populations.

Advertised: May 11 2021 Eastern Daylight Time
Applications close: Jun 10 2021 Eastern Daylight Time

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/10/2021
Date Posted: 5/12/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8874

Political Science Jobs

June 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
University of California San Diego

Rank: Temporary Lecturers in the School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS)

Temporary Lecturers in the School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS)

University of California San Diego

The School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) and The International Studies Program at the School of Global Policy and Strategy at UC San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2021-2022 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2022. Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2021 will be given full consideration.

To apply, please visit: https://aptrkr.com/2249627

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
jeid-f39d1c6c586f9546b113a0aff15afdb0

Start Date: Application Deadline: 2/28/2022
Date Posted: 5/6/2021
Salary: Negotiable

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Professor of Legal Studies – Tenure track (Open Rank)
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional

Law & Theory, History & Politics

Professor of Legal Studies – Tenure track (Open Rank)
NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi invites applications for a tenure-track/open-rank faculty appointment in Legal Studies, Social Science Division with appointment starting in August 2021 for the 2021-22 academic year.

We will consider applicants from legal scholars with an active research agenda in all areas of law, but we are especially interested in those whose research and teaching include international and comparative dimensions. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as from members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

The undergraduate major in Legal Studies at NYU Abu Dhabi poses the broad philosophical, cultural, social, economic, political, religious, and ethical questions that prove indispensable both to a deep understanding of law and to liberal arts education. What is justice? What is Law? How is it organized? Who and what constitutes the arbiter of justice? What are the effects of historical, cultural, religious, and national settings on law and justice? Is the developing global society on the path to a just and moral order, and what role can the law play? What are the legal issues raised by global concerns such as those about the environment, technology, and trade?

The Legal Studies curriculum design responds, in part, to the increasing globalization of law through a consideration of issues such as climate change, the rule of law, international business, global governance, law and media, human rights, migration, technology and security, and law and ethics. At the same time, recognizing that law maintains a local focus, the curriculum treats the broad questions raised by globalization through the study of particular examples drawn from common law, continental law and other legal systems. The major in Legal Studies is intended as an approach to the study of law rooted in the liberal arts tradition. The integration of Legal Studies with liberal arts education enhances the opportunity for cross-disciplinary study. The Program in Legal Studies is situated within both the Social Sciences and the Arts and Humanities, and it thus aims to serve as a bridge between these divisions. The curriculum aspires to foster in students the readiness and ability to act in a truly human manner which entails qualities such as serving as an advocate for individual rights and as an artisan of the common good.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is a pioneer of higher education in a global world, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research, while advancing cooperation and progress on humanity’s shared challenges. Part of the NYU global network, NYU Abu Dhabi offers an outstanding liberal arts and science education to students from the United Arab Emirates, United States, and around the world, focusing on intercultural understanding and leadership. It supports innovative research that pushes the frontiers of knowledge forward and responds in powerful and interdisciplinary ways to vital global and local questions. NYU Abu Dhabi advances NYU as a model university for the 21st century and contributes in multiple ways to the development of a sustainable, knowledge-based economy in Abu Dhabi.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university’s commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students, and providing an intellectually rich environment. Students are drawn from around the globe, surpassing all traditional academic benchmarks. The NYU Abu Dhabi undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other honors.

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your... home and in order for you to research, teach, and thrive, we’re offering a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. Start with generous relocation allowances to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by competitive salaries, housing and transportation allowances, and educational assistance for your dependents. Health and wellness services round out our offerings, plus more.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents. All benefits are subject to eligibility criteria and dependent on the duration of the appointment.

Qualifications
Applicants must have a doctorate or equivalent degree in law, and they must have – or have the potential to develop – a strong record of scholarship. A clear commitment to undergraduate teaching is also essential.

Application Instructions
To apply for this position, please submit the following documents, to: https://apply.interfolio.com/84835
- Cover Letter
- CV
- Statement of Teaching Interests
- Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)
- Writing Sample
- Statement of Research Interests
- The names and emails addresses of three references who will be asked to upload letters confidentially through Interfolio, NYUAD’s online application database.

Review of applications will begin on April 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates will interview virtually in Spring 2021.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

If you have any questions, please e-mail nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people. UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8833

University of Pittsburgh
Rank: Pre- or Post-doctoral Fellowship: Structural Racism, Oppression, or the Black Political Experience

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a 1-year (renewable) pre- or post-doctoral fellowship. Sub-field specialization is open, and we welcome and encourage applications from scholars whose work addresses structural racism, oppression, or the Black political experience conceived comparatively, domestically, or transnationally. We are interested in scholars researching topics including racial oppression and racialized inequalities and hierarchies in political economy, in international and transnational politics, in political behavior, in global or domestic institutions (of the US or other countries) – as well as any other topic related to our theme (including inequalities in cities, health, education, and technology).

This position complements a proposed multi-year cluster hiring initiative within the Department, to begin this fall (pending final budgetary approval), in coordination with a larger cluster hiring initiative on Race, Representation, and Anti-Black and Systemic Racism within the Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences, supported by a University-wide hiring and retention effort.

Post-doctoral fellows will be asked to teach 1 course each semester related to their research and expertise (the same course may be offered in both semesters). Pre-doctoral fellows will teach in the spring semester only. Fellows are expected to be in residence, to conduct their own research, and to contribute to the intellectual life of the department. The Department will provide mentoring, professional development, and research support, along with a competitive salary and benefits.

Required qualifications for a post-doctoral appointment: applicants have or expect to have a Ph.D. in Political Science (or a cognate discipline) in hand before the appointment begins, research interests related to race and racism, as defined above, and demonstrated ability or potential to publish high-quality scholarship. For a pre-doctoral appointment: applicants must be ABD in Political Science (or a cognate discipline), have research interests related to race and racism, potential to publish high-quality scholarship, and should expect to defend their dissertations by August 31, 2022.

Applications should include a cover letter explaining how the candidate’s research relates to the area of focus, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, and a statement explaining the candidate’s teaching philosophy and describes course the candidate proposes to teach (proposed courses need not be limited to already existing courses within the Department), teaching evaluations (if available), and two letters of reference; letters of reference should be emailed to Wynn Maloney (wynn2@pitt.edu).

In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by May 10 2021, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The Political Science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is wynn2@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8820

Texas Christian University
Rank: Visiting Lecturer in Research Methods

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a one-year lecturer position in Research Methods for the 2021-22 academic year. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 4/4 teaching load, and the salary is competitive.
Applicants should submit a letter of application, CV, transcript, a portfolio of teaching materials (including a teaching philosophy statement and a sample syllabus in an upper-level methods course), and a one-page diversity statement. All materials are to be submitted online at https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hralentacquisition@tcu.edu. The finalists for the position will be asked either to submit a video of a teaching demonstration in front of students (approximately 45 minutes in length) or will be asked to give a teaching demonstration during an interview.

We will review applications on receipt and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hralentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to search committee chair, Dr. Grant Ferguson, grant.ferguson@tcu.edu

A selective teaching and research university with 10,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution committed to academic freedom located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 13th largest city in the United States and part of the nation’s fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for nine consecutive years as one of the “Great Colleges to Work For” by The Chronicle of Higher Education. The TCU Political Science Department has sixteen full-time faculty with nearly 400 majors.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/17/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8709

University of Florida
Rank: Lecturer
Specializations: African American Politics, Women & Politics, Caribbean

The African American Studies Program at the University of Florida invites applications for two (2) full-time, nine-month, non-tenure accruing Lecturers in the African American Studies Program, beginning August 16, 2021. We seek applicants with superior promise who combine rigorous scholarship with excellence in teaching. The candidates will play a role in the program’s transition into a department. Disciplinary backgrounds may include, but are not restricted to African American Studies, African American Women’s Studies, Anthropology, Caribbean Studies, Criminal Justice, History, Legal Studies Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Religion, and/or Sociology.

The candidates are expected to contribute to the teaching, service, and research missions of the UF African American Studies Program and will have a 100% appointment in the program. We particularly welcome applicants who can teach our required courses – Introduction to African American Studies, Key Issues in Black Atlantic Thought, and/or African American Studies Senior Integrative Seminar. We are also seeking candidates with experience teaching or willingness to teach Distance Learning (online) courses, an active research agenda, and a desire to contribute to the scholarly development of the program. Successful candidates must be committed to outreach with diverse student and community populations.

Established in 1969, the African American Studies Program offers a major and minor. This interdisciplinary program offers a diverse array of courses. Currently, over 100 students are majoring in African American Studies at the University of Florida. More information about the program can be found at: http://afam.clas.ufl.edu.

The salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, and includes a full benefits package.

The University of Florida is a public land-grant institution and member of the Association of American Universities enrolling 55,000 students, including more than 36,000 residential undergraduates. UF is among the nation’s most academically diverse universities, with 16 colleges offering 100 undergraduate degree programs, 200 graduate programs, and professional degrees in the areas of dentistry, law, medicine, pharmacy, and veterinary medicine. The University of Florida is the 6th ranked Public National University by US News and World Report and is 2nd in the nation among public universities on the Kiplinger’s Personal Finance magazine list of Best College Values for 2018.

The university and greater Gainesville community enjoy a diversity of cultural events, restaurants, year-round outdoor recreational activities, social opportunities, including organizations that support the interests of people from varied backgrounds.

Qualifications
Applicants will have a Ph.D. or will have completed the Ph.D. by August 15, 2021.

Application Instructions
Applications must be submitted online at http://apply.interfolio.com/84534. A complete application includes (1) a letter of application summarizing the applicant’s qualifications, interests, and suitability for the position, (2) a complete curriculum vitae, (3) a statement on teaching and research goals, (4) three confidential letters of recommendation sent on their behalf to their Interfolio submission packet, (5) sample syllabi, and (6) teaching evaluations, if available. For full consideration, complete applications must be submitted by March 31, 2021. Only complete applications will be reviewed at this time. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee. The position will remain open until filled.

Questions may be directed to Dr. Richard Conley, Chairman of the Search Committee, Associate Professor of Political Science, University of Florida, 234 Anderson Hall, Gainesville, FL 32611, (352) 317-1860, rconley@ufl.edu.

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education.

The selected candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered “official” if a designation of “Issued to Student” is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at http://www.naces.org/.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8659

Ashoka University
Rank: Professor / Associate Professor / Tenure-track Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for faculty positions with an expected start date of August 1, 2021. The position is open rank, as to either the level of tenure track Assistant Professor, or tenured Associate or Full Professor. We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield, with a preference for comparative politics and political economy along with related methodological approaches. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) three confidential letters of reference.

Applicants for the position of tenured Associate or Full Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) name of three references.

Note: The Ashoka job portal further asks for statements of teaching and research philosophy for all applications. For this search they are optional.

All materials should be submitted through: https://facultypositions.ashoka.edu.in/

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: April 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2021
Date Posted: 2/22/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8627

Howard University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Social Movements, Women & Politics, Leadership Studies

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with research interests in the area of Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will be prepared to conduct externally-funded research in the areas of comparative politics with a focus on: (1) women and gender issues broadly defined within their specific regional or thematic expertise and (2) social movements & contentious politics in the Black Diaspora. Regional specialization is open to all areas. We envision this position as expansive and methodologically diverse, concerned with how ongoing global changes intersect with historical patterns of power and dominance and how these factors affect current and future global discourses. The successful candidate will have a strong record of and ability to using online tools to design and teach distance learning courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The successful candidate will contribute to the International Affairs undergraduate major and also work closely with the Center for Women, Gender, and Global Leadership.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates are expected to develop vigorous, extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department’s teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired.

Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as a Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity research by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation’s capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications:
• Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution;
• Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor;
• Effective communication and organizational skills; and
• Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing:
1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above
2) Current curriculum vita
3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans
4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy
5) A writing sample
6) Three letters of recommendation
Political Science Jobs

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee: Dr. Richard Seltzer at ComparativePoliticsSearch@Howard.edu. Applications can be submitted electronically via Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18073.

Screening will begin on February 24, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 16, 2021. Additional details and information can be found at http://coas.howard.edu.

The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity, marital status, religion, disability or protected veterans status. Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, Equal Employment Opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of Employee Relations and Equal Employment Opportunity at 202-806-1280.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8625

Ohio State University

Rank: Program Manager & Senior Analyst

The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law seeks a Program Manager & Senior Analyst for the Program on Data and Governance (PDG). This Program studies how to govern advanced analytics, artificial intelligence and other innovative uses of personal data so as to realize their social and economic benefits while reducing the risks that they pose to privacy, fairness, equality and accountability. The Program conducts non-partisan, interdisciplinary research, hosts conferences and speaker events, advises policymakers and businesses, and engages students on vital questions regarding the governance of advanced analytics and AI. Under the direction of the Faculty Director, the Program Manager & Senior Analyst will: plan, organize and manage conferences and speaker events; draft grant proposals; manage grants and grant reporting; manage and write content for the Program website, blog, events calendar, social media accounts and external communications; conduct research on the governance of advanced analytics and AI; represent the program at university and public functions; monitor and manage the budget; draft the annual report; supervise students’ affiliates, and undertake other, relevant duties as assigned by the Faculty Director.

Additional Information:
Required: Master’s level degree in the social sciences or related fields such as law or policy. Skilled in the application and implementation of quantitative and qualitative research methods such as survey and interview protocol creation and implementation, and coding and analysis of data; demonstrated record of scholarly publications and presentations; interest in the information society, advanced analytics and AI, and privacy law and policy; excellent writing, editing and analytical skills; strong written and verbal communication skills; ability to work as a collegial member of a project team or work independently, as needed; Desired: PhD in the social sciences (including public policy) or in computer science, or equivalent practical experience; previous experience managing research and grant-funded projects; knowledge of data science. This term position will last for 24 months with a target salary range of $50,000-$60,000.

Start Date: Open until Filled
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/19/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8621

Ohio State University

Rank: Senior Research Associate

Senior Research Associate

The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law seeks a Senior Research Associate for the Program on Data and Governance (PDG). The Program on Data and Governance studies how to govern advanced analytics, artificial intelligence and other innovative uses of personal data so as to realize their social and economic potential while reducing the risks they pose to privacy, fairness, equity, and accountability. The Program conducts non-partisan, interdisciplinary research, hosts conferences and speaker events, advises policymakers and businesses, and engages students on vital questions regarding the governance of advanced analytics and AI. Under the direction of the Faculty Director, the Senior Research Associate will manage and implement the Program’s research program. The Senior Research Associate will: suggest research directions and priorities; design, carry out and manage qualitative, quantitative and policy research and code and analyze the data; draft articles, white papers, periodical pieces, and content for the Program Website and social media accounts; conceptualize and plan conferences and symposia; identify funding opportunities and draft grant proposals; provide research-based briefings and trainings; catalyze and support interdisciplinary research collaborations; conduct scholarly and public presentations; supervise student research and papers; and perform other, relevant duties as assigned by the Faculty Director.

Additional Information:
Required: Master’s level degree in the social sciences or related fields such as law or policy. Skilled in the application and implementation of quantitative and qualitative research methods such as survey and interview protocol creation and implementation, and coding and analysis of data; demonstrated record of scholarly publications and presentations; interest in the information society, advanced analytics and AI, and privacy law and policy; excellent writing, editing and analytical skills; strong written and verbal communication skills; ability to work as a collegial member of a project team or work independently, as needed; Desired: PhD in the social sciences (including public policy) or in computer science, or equivalent practical experience; previous experience managing research and grant-funded projects; knowledge of data science. This term position will last for 24 months with a target salary range of $50,000-$60,000.

Start Date: Open until Filled
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/19/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8620

Dean of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life (Tisch College) of Tisch College, Tufts University

Rank: Dean

Subfield(s): Open, Open
Specialization(s): Life Sciences & Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, American Politics

3/23/2021: Finalist Interview Stage

Tufts University (Tufts) seeks an entrepreneurial, collaborative leader with a demonstrated passion and commitment to civic engagement

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
to serve as the Pierre and Pamela Omidyar Dean of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life (Tisch College). The next dean will have the opportunity to build on Tisch College’s intellectual and programmatic leadership, continuing to move Tufts to the forefront of academic and co-curricular civic engagement programs. Tisch College is the only American institution focused on civic life that is constituted as a college and led by a dean who serves alongside other deans, thereby influencing the direction of an entire University.

Today, Tisch College is a national leader in civic education and engagement, setting the standard for higher education’s role in advancing the greater good. With a broad and vital mission to prepare students for a lifetime of engagement in civic life, to study civic life and its intersections with public and private institutions, and to promote practices that strengthen civic life, Tisch College has the opportunity to continue to deeply engage Tufts in cross-cutting, interdisciplinary initiatives and programs. The next dean will be a creative and entrepreneurial leader, who will seize the opportunity to advance and shape the future of the College’s civic impact, world-class research, student programming, and interdisciplinary activities. The Dean will be responsive to local, national, and global challenges, and will work to strengthen Tisch College’s commitment to ensuring that the work and offerings are rooted in the values and practices of diversity, equity, inclusion, anti-racism, and social justice, which are essential to effective civic practice.

Tisch College has an annual operating budget of nearly $8.5 million and is supported by an annual endowment income of nearly $2.5 million. The College is non-degree-granting, though it does co-lead an undergraduate major in Civic Studies and is mostly supported by philanthropy. The programs and the six research centers at Tisch College are supported by a team of more than 50 dedicated staff. The Dean will report to Provost Nadine Aubry, and their direct reports will include an Associate Dean for Programs and Administration, an Associate Dean of Academic Affairs, and a Director of Communications, Strategy, and Planning. The Dean also works closely with a 35-member Board of Advisors. Newly renovated Barnum Hall, on the main quad of the Tufts Medford campus, is home to the offices of Tisch College.

Tufts University has retained Isaacson, Miller, a national search firm, to assist in the recruitment of the Dean of the Jonathan M. Tisch College of Civic Life. Please direct all nominations, inquiries, and application materials to: Rebecca Swartz, Partner, and Berlinda Mojica, Associate Tufts University is an equal opportunity employer and strongly encourages individuals of all backgrounds and cultures to consider this leadership position. The university’s commitment to inclusivity encompasses but is not limited to, diversity in nationality, ethnicity, race, religion, gender, sexual orientation, age, and disability.

Princeton University

Rank: Lecturer

The Politics Department at Princeton University has an occasional need for lecturers (part-time and/or full-time) to teach or co-teach in areas such as American Politics, Comparative Politics, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods, International Relations, and/or Political Theory. Advanced degree required.

Please provide a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement of teaching interest. Due to the volume of applications, only candidates selected for an interview will be contacted. No letters of recommendation are required at this time. You will be required to submit contact information for one reference, but your reference will not be contacted at this time.

This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Interested applicants must apply online at: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/17422

Requisition No: D-21-POL-00006

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/21/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8073

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Specializations: China, Political Economy, Quantitative Methods

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time “Post-doc fellows” at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China’s top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review’s editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuters).
Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7920

Fudan University

Rank: University Distinguished Professors
Specializations: China, Political Economy, Quantitative Methods

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time positions at the top rank of “University Distinguished Professor” at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong publication records and their potentials to continue their scholarship during their tenure, and employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the fields, and well recognized as leading scholars in the fields of their research. Applicants are expected to continue publishing research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI), and contribute to the annual research projects at Fudan IAS and to the disciplinary development at Fudan University. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China’s top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review’s editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):
1. A cover letter;
3. A brief statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Two published journal articles in PDF;
2. An extensive/detailed curriculum vitae; including honors and awards in disciplines, list of publications, information of three references. Letters of recommendation may be requested.

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended rank/position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date: Fall 2020
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7919

OTHER

University of Western Ontario
Rank: Open Field - Probationary or Tenured Faculty Appointment
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Department of Political Science
Faculty of Social Science
Western University, London Ontario Canada

Political Science – Open Field

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites highly qualified applicants for a full-time Probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor or a Tenured appointment at the rank of Associate or Professor. Rank to be determined based on qualifications and experience. The search will add to our strengths in the quantitative study of Canadian Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations and have a starting date of July 1, 2022. Western Political Science aims to be Canada’s top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach quantitative methods at the undergraduate or graduate level would be considered an asset, as would contributing to our strengths in political behaviour.

We seek outstanding individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. Candidates should be capable of publishing in highly respected peer-reviewed outlets, supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants. All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

For more information, please visit www.politicalscience.uwo.ca.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the “Western Experience” – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Applications should include the following:
For details, please see http://humanrightscolumbia.org/.

School of Arts and Sciences, and the Summer Program in human rights, in addition to several research and capacity-building programs.

The Institute for the Study of Human Rights (ISHR) at Columbia University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/31/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8899

Columbia University
Rank: Lecturer in Human Rights

Call for Applications

The Institute for the Study of Human Rights (ISHR) at Columbia University invites applications for a lecturer in human rights to be appointed in one of the social science departments (Anthropology, Economics, History, Political Science, Sociology). This is a full-time, multi-year renewable appointment, with renewal contingent on successful reviews. Responsibilities will include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses on topics in human rights, professional engagement in one’s academic discipline, and departmental responsibilities at ISHR. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to all aspects of ISHR’s activities including teaching, research, and programming.

ISHR is responsible for the academic programs of the undergraduate major in human rights, the MA degree in human rights in the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, and the Summer Program in human rights, in addition to several research and capacity-building programs. For details, please see http://humanrightscolumbia.org/.

ISHR views human rights as a multidisciplinary field in which scholarship and teaching draw both on relevant academic disciplines and knowledge of advocacy and other forms of practice. Key areas within our undergraduate curriculum are: Politics and History, Culture and Representation, Political Theory and Philosophy, and Social and Economic Processes.

The Institute seeks candidates whose research, teaching, and/or professional service demonstrates familiarity with the field of human rights. Commitment to the promotion of diversity and inclusion in education, research, and capacity building is a requirement.

This appointment will begin July 1, 2021.

To ensure full consideration applicants must submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, two references, course syllabi, and teaching evaluations. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

All applications must be made through Columbia University’s Recruitment of Academic Personnel System (RAPS). Please upload the following required materials: letter of application, curriculum vitae, a list of two references, course syllabi (to be submitted as “Other Document 1,” and teaching evaluations.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity Employer / Disability / Veteran https://pa334.peopleadmin.com/postings/7490

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 6/25/2021
Date Posted: 5/26/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8881

APSA
Rank: Director, Teaching & Learning

APSA is seeking candidates for the position of Director, Teaching and Learning. The Director leads and manages the Association’s work in (1) teaching and learning and (2) in professional development workshops, symposia and events with a particular focus on early career scholars. The position is a unique opportunity to expand APSA’s programming in these vital areas for the benefit of the APSA membership, the political science discipline, and more broadly, the higher education community.

This is a Full-time exempt position with supervisory responsibilities.

ESSENTIAL RESPONSIBILITIES
• Lead the creation, expansion, and implementation of programming to address issues in political science research, teaching, and service. Specifically:
  o Lead and expand teaching and learning programming and resources, including the APSA Teaching and Learning Conferences, teaching symposia at the APSA Centennial Center, APSA on-line resources, and workshops at regional meetings.
  o Lead and expand professional development programming and resources especially for graduate students in political science and early career scholars. These efforts could include career development workshops, research symposia, and roundtables at the Annual Meeting, regional or international meetings and/or at APSA headquarters, and/or webinars and online resources to support professional development at diverse career stages.
The American Political Science Association (APSA) is a 501(c)3 non-profit scholarly association that serves a membership base of 12,000 in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments and institutions, APSA is committed to transparency, open enquiry, scholarly pluralism, high standards of ethics and integrity, and a global perspective. To learn more about APSA, please visit www.apsanet.org.

APSA offers a comprehensive compensation and benefits package and has a Metro-accessible location in DuPont Circle in Washington, DC, with a full-time staff of over 30. In compliance with the CDC and DC guidelines regarding the Covid-19 pandemic, the APSA staff is working remotely until further notice.

ESSENTIAL SKILLS & EXPERIENCE

- Ph.D. in political science or related other social science discipline.
- Familiarity with current events and issues facing higher education, the social sciences, and the discipline of political science.
- Experience in higher education strongly preferred, including experience in teaching.
- Strong analytical and public speaking skills and ability to write clearly and concisely.
- Excellent organizational skills with high attention to detail and adherence to deadlines.
- Adaptability and ability to work in a fast-paced team environment.
- Interest in program innovation for faculty, students and administrators in political science.
- Superb collaboration skills to work with colleagues across departments at APSA to meet shared goals.
- Sound judgment and initiative related to appropriate and independent action and problem-solving.
- Ability to maintain confidentiality while working on sensitive tasks.
- Fluency in various software and database applications such as Microsoft Office Suite and experience with administrative responsibilities.

HOW TO APPLY

To be considered, submit your (1) resume with (2) cover letter indicating how your experience and skills align with the description of this position and the essential skills required of the position. Send all documents as PDF attachments to hr@apsanet.org. Please include “Director, Teaching and Learning” in the email subject line. Consideration will begin as soon as resumes are received, and the position will remain open until filled.

ABOUT APSA

The American Political Science Association (APSA) is a 501(c)3 non-profit scholarly association that serves a membership base of 12,000 in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments and institutions, APSA is committed to transparency, open enquiry, scholarly pluralism, high standards of ethics and integrity, and a global perspective. To learn more about APSA, please visit www.apsanet.org.

APSA offers a comprehensive compensation and benefits package and has a Metro-accessible location in DuPont Circle in Washington, DC, with a full-time staff of over 30. In compliance with the CDC and DC guidelines regarding the Covid-19 pandemic, the APSA staff is working remotely until further notice.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Cornerstone offers an enriched first-year sequence anchored in transformative texts. It is designed to provide all students with the opportunity to broaden their understanding of the world and themselves, while strengthening the skills to read clearly, write clearly, speak with confidence, and to engage with differing viewpoints and perspectives through general education courses.

The Cornerstone program enrolls several thousand students each semester from disciplines across Purdue’s West Lafayette, IN, campus. Successful candidates will be responsible of teaching courses: SCLA 10100 Transformative Texts, Critical Thinking and Communication I: Antiquity to Modernity (3 credit hours) and/or SCLA 102 SCLA 10200 Transformative Texts, Critical Thinking and Communication II: Modern World (3 credit hours) – both offered every semester. Applicants should demonstrate experience and openness to teaching from a variety of approaches and interest in working with a diverse student population.

Required duties include: teaching the SCLA course series; working with Cornerstone faculty and staff to develop and support the program and the College of Liberal Arts; and attend Cornerstone and CLA related seminars and events to keep abreast of the latest developments. The normal full-time workload is 4-4 teaching. Summer teaching is an additional possibility. The position begins August 2021. This is a non-tenure track position with the possibility of renewal and with employment benefits. Purdue University offers a comprehensive benefits package.

Qualifications: A Ph.D. in a Liberal Arts field. Teaching experience in leading discussion-based seminar courses and in an interdisciplinary environment. Candidates will be preferred if they have experience teaching writing and oral communication skills to undergraduate students.

Application Procedure: Applications must include: 1) Cover Letter, 2) Curriculum Vitae, 3) at least two letters of reference, and 4) a teaching portfolio. To apply, please visit: https://career8.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer/jobId=13928&company=purdueuniv

Purdue University’s College of Liberal Arts is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on June 1, 2021 and continue until the positions are filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. Questions should be addressed to the Director, Dr. Melinda Zook at mzook@purdue.edu.

Candidates must have the ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8876

University of California San Diego
Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar, Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC)

Postdoctoral Fellowship in Social Media and Disinformation

Department: UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation, School of Global Policy and Strategy, UC San Diego
Salary: Commensurate with experience Appointment: 12 months (extendable by 12 months) Start date: September 1, 2021
Location: UC San Diego, La Jolla, CA

The UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC) invites applications for a one-year Postdoctoral Research Employee position in the area of social media and disinformation, with the possibility of a one-year reappointment.

In addition to carrying out their own research, the appointee will work on the IGCC study on Disinformation under the supervision of Professor Molly Roberts at IGCC.

Postdoctoral responsibilities will primarily include:

1. Identifying important research questions and directions in studying online disinformation.

2. Collecting and processing datasets of unstructured text and images.

3. Working with a team of researchers to conduct detailed statistical analyses as well as close readings of relevant material.

4. Producing data summaries and graphical representations of analyzed data for grant submissions, conference posters, and manuscripts.

The candidate must have earned their PhD in a relevant field in Economics, Political Science, Sociology, Computer Science or Data Science.

Application Process
Submit an updated CV, two letters of recommendation, and a writing sample (limit 100 pages), Statement of Contributions to Diversity to:
https://apprkr.com/2254909

Applications are now being accepted. Electronically mailed applications are preferred and the fellowship committee will only review complete files. Phone interviews will be scheduled in early June and final notifications will be sent by the end of June. Queries regarding the position can also be sent to Darren Cunningham at d2cunningham@ucsd.edu.

The University of California, San Diego is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, covered veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

Start Date: Date Posted: 5/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8872

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Center for Rural Pennsylvania

Rank: Data and Research Analyst

The Center for Rural Pennsylvania, a legislative agency of the Pennsylvania General Assembly, seeks a Data and Research Analyst, with an anticipated start date in August 2021. This position reports to the Senior Policy Analyst. Review of application materials will begin on May 24 and continue until the position is filled. Applicants must submit a cover letter, resume or curriculum vitae, and a list of three professional references through the application page at: https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/CRP-Analyst2021

Salary is commensurate with experience. The successful candidate is expected to work on-site at the Center’s Harrisburg office during regular business hours, Monday through Friday. Although, appropriate remote work accommodations are in effect during the COVID-19 pandemic.

JOB DUTIES/RESPONSIBILITIES:

1. Fill data and other information requests from members and staff of the General Assembly, and other groups.

2. Assist in the collection, maintenance, and written analysis of data pertinent to rural issues.

3. Research rural issues and write original articles for various Center publications.

4. Ensure that all research is completed in an accurate, objective, and non-partisan manner.

5. In collaboration with Center staff, author or co-author substantial research reports on rural policy issues, usually on a quarterly basis.

6. Maintain a database and filing system on rural research, policies, and programs in Pennsylvania and other states and nations.

7. Conduct background research on issues for the Center’s annual Request for Proposals, and support the grant review process.

8. Represent the Center through service on boards, committees, and related entities. And, as needed, make presentations at conferences, meetings, legislative hearings, and related events.

9. Network with other state agencies and organizations to advance the mission of the Center.

10. Perform other duties as assigned.

Qualifications/Requirements:

1. Bachelor’s degree in a related field;

2. Familiarity with academic writing and higher education institutions;

3. Working knowledge of research methodology and applied research practices;

4. Familiarity with Pennsylvania state government, the General Assembly, and local governments;

5. Highly effective communication skills;

6. Demonstrated ability to: think creatively; work independently; work collaboratively as part of a team; and meet deadlines;

7. Valid driver’s license and ability to travel throughout the Commonwealth on occasion (including overnight travel).

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Advanced degree in a related field;

2. Two or more years of relevant work experience;

3. Experience working with Census data and other large public databases;

4. Experience working with mapping programs such as GIS, Tableau, and related data visualization software;

5. Experience working with IMPLAN or related economic forecasting tools;

6. Experience working with SPSS, Stata, SAS, R, or related software;

7. Experience in survey research methods and analysis.

The Center for Rural Pennsylvania is a bipartisan, bicameral legislative agency that serves as a resource for rural policy within the Pennsylvania General Assembly. The Center works with the legislature, educators, state and federal executive branch agencies, and national, statewide, regional and local organizations to maximize resources and strategies that can better serve Pennsylvania’s nearly 3.4 million rural residents. For more information, please visit www.rural.pa.gov

Start Date: Summer 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8854

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: School Chair for the School of Cybersecurity and Privacy

Subfield(s): Administration, Public Policy, Other

The Georgia Institute of Technology invites applications from qualified individuals seeking to be the first Chair of the newly founded School of Cybersecurity and Privacy (SCP). The position is an unprecedented opportunity for leadership and vision. Success means you will lead the first interdisciplinary school at the Georgia Institute of Technology and help shape the way Georgia Tech pursues future interdisciplinary schools. Success also means that you will lead the development of cybersecurity and privacy as a unified academic unit. In short, we seek someone who wants to and can meet the challenge of melding their vision with a dynamic, broad ranging group of visionaries to build SCP into the world leader in cybersecurity and privacy.

SCP: The Opportunity.

As the first interdisciplinary school at the Georgia Institute of Technology, SCP will consist of 30+ tenure-track and research (including several holders of endowed chairs) faculty, postdocs, adjunct faculty and professional classified staff. This distinguished group will come from Computing, Engineering, Liberal Arts and Business Colleges. The School of Cybersecurity & Privacy will offer bachelors, masters, and doctoral degrees.

The ideal candidate will: Be a Full Professor with tenure in a premier department at a research university or have an equivalent position in industry or government in Business, Computer Science, Economics, Engineering, Finance, Humanities, International Affairs, Law, Public

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Policy, or any other field with a proven record of high impact contributions in cybersecurity or privacy. Candidates should have a proven record of achieving external visibility and funding; have demonstrated strong leadership and team building skills; care about the personal and educational enrichment of faculty, staff, and students; have experience with strategic planning, administrative oversight, fiscal management, and vision development; and embrace participatory management and transparent decision-making.

The School of Cybersecurity and Privacy is a high-visibility, high-impact, cross-college department unlike other Georgia Tech academic units. Candidates should demonstrate a willingness to innovate, both organizationally and pedagogically. Embracing a culture of collaboration and interdisciplinary breadth is essential to success in this new venture, and candidates should be prepared to elaborate on his/her vision for achieving those aims.

To be considered, please submit online your CV, a letter of application, 5 reference names and contact information, and other supporting documents. Your application will remain confidential (known only to the search committee) until its final stage, at which point, with your permission, we will contact your references and request letters of support. Review of applications will begin on June 15, 2021. This search will continue until the position is filled.

Please apply here: https://careers.hprod.onecm.com/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HR5_HRAM_FL.HR5_G,SSEARCH_FL.GBL/Page=HR5_APP_JBPST_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=03000&JobOpeningId=226083&PostingSeq=1

Should you have any problems with the online submission, please contact scp-recruiting@cc.gatech.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/15/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8851

---

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor – Political Methodology

Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor – Political Methodology

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a non-tenure track position as Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor in Political Science to start Fall 2021. This is a one-year position, with possibility of renewal. We seek candidates in any subfield who are able to teach a broad range of in-residence and online upper-level undergraduate methodology classes, as well as courses on substantive topics that incorporate research and statistical analysis. In addition, successful candidates must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse campus community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity.

The position requires teaching six courses a year. Candidates should have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the appointment date, although qualified applicants at the ABD level will also be considered.

Lecturers/Assistant Teaching Professors participate extensively in the intellectual life of the department, including opportunities to attend seminars and workshops, and present research. Salary is competitive and additional money is available for travel and research.

Apply online at: https://psu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/PSU_Academic/job/University-Park-Campus/Lecturer-Assistant-Teaching-Professor_REQ_0000013162-1

Applications must include a cover letter explaining research and teaching experience; a current CV; syllabi from previously taught courses; samples of scholarly writing; and teaching evaluations (with a key). Candidates should also request three confidential letters of reference to be sent directly to the search committee at: plscapplications@psu.edu. Reference letters should come from individuals who can address candidates’ teaching and commitment to enhancing diversity.

Candidates invited for virtual campus visits will be expected to give a teaching demonstration. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. For more information on Department of Political Science, see: https://polisci.la.psu.edu/.

Penn State University and the Department of Political Science are committed to the values of equity, diversity and inclusion in all of its forms (see http://equity.psu.edu/diversity-statement and https://polisci.la.psu.edu/diversity) and we seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to these goals. We embrace individual uniqueness, foster a culture of inclusion that supports broad and specific diversity initiatives, leverage the educational and institutional benefits of diversity, and engage all individuals to help them thrive. We value inclusion as a core strength and an essential element of our public service mission.

To review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters and policies, please go to https://police.psu.edu/annual-security-reports, which will also explain how to request a paper copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8847

---

U.S. Naval War College

Rank: Dean, Center for Naval Warfare Studies

The President, U.S. Naval War College, invites applications for the position of Dean, Center for Naval Warfare Studies in Newport, RI. This opening is a senior leadership position at the Naval War College heading the primary research arm of the college.

The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, Center for Naval Warfare Studies. The Center for Naval Warfare Studies (CNWS) is the primary research organization of the Naval War College. Faculty and staff produce a wide range of independent and sponsored unclassified and classified research and analysis on issues of war, peace, national security, regional security, and public international law – all with particular attention to issues related to naval warfare and the maritime domain. This research is, as appropriate, published and provided in various forms to the leadership and staffs of the Navy, the other services, the Department of Defense including the Office of the Secretary of Defense and the Joint Staff, other elements of the U.S. government, the defense establishments of Allies and partners, and the broader national security community. The research also is infused into curriculum at the Naval War College. Faculty and staff use a wide range of research and analytic methods. The goal is for research outputs to be integrated with one another and with other analytic endeavors across the Defense Department, the U.S. government, and the broader analytic community. Wargaming is a significant component of the activities of CNWS given the expertise resident at NWC and the foundational role of wargaming as part of the college’s missions and curriculum. CNWS faculty also support the Naval War College curriculum through teaching in the electives and distance education programs and providing wargaming design, execution, and other support for resident and distance students.

CNWS consists of three departments and the Naval War College Press: 1) the Stockton Center for International Law; 2) the Strategic and Operational Research Department; and 3) the Wargaming Department. Within the Strategic and Operational Research Department are a number of centers, institutes, and advanced research groups: the Brodie Group, the China Maritime Studies Institute, the Cyber Innovation and Policy Institute (with the Gravely Program), the Institute for Future Warfare Studies, the Halsey Alfa Group, the Halsey Bravo Group, the Holloway Group, the Mahan Scholars Program, and the Russia Maritime Studies Institute. Further information on these departments, their faculty, and their sub-units can be found on the Naval War College’s website: https://usnwc.edu/ under Research and Wargaming and Faculty and Departments. CNWS faculty and staff are a mix of civilians with advanced degrees (most at the doctoral level), active duty and retired military officers and enlisted personnel, and civilian and contractor support staff.

Dean, Center for Naval Warfare Studies. The Dean, Center for Naval Warfare Studies, is the senior research officer at the college. As such, the Dean oversees the research work undertaken by its departments, faculty and staff. As part of managing and shaping the research agenda, the Dean develops and expands a far-reaching network of contacts within the naval, joint, and broader national security community. Specifically, the Dean develops and expands an understanding of the research and analysis needs of senior Navy, joint, and civilian leaders in the Department of Defense and the U.S. interagency. The Dean creates and manages the CNWS budget, faculty, manpower and personnel issues, and the organization of CNWS departments. The Dean is part of the senior leadership team at the college, reporting to the Provost, and in concert with the Provost and other senior leaders, advising the President, Naval War College, on policy, procedures, and resource issues that affect the overall missions of the Naval War College.

Qualifications and Competencies. Candidates must have an advanced degree and significant experience in researching and analyzing national security issues and strategic and operational warfare issues and concepts. A Master’s degree is required, a Ph.D. is highly preferred. Candidates without a Ph.D. must demonstrate knowledge of research design and methods. Candidates must have significant experience in research and analysis on national security and/or warfare issues. Candidates who have supervised research and analysis on national security and/or warfare issues highly preferred.

Desired attributes include: knowledge of U.S. and foreign naval and joint capabilities and concepts of operations; knowledge of or equivalent practical experience with advanced technology and functional military capabilities; knowledge of naval and joint warfare in all phases of operations from peace time to high-end combat; knowledge of how research supports the work of policymakers in the Navy and DoD; and knowledge of and connections with research entities outside the Navy/DoD enterprise. Experience may have been gained by leading and conducting research, systems analysis, systems operation, and/or development and execution of warfighting operations, tactics, techniques, and procedures within the Department of Defense, other national security organizations, or research organizations. Experience working on research teams as well as wargaming experience is preferred, but not required. Experience making and managing budgets and managing a knowledge-based workforce is highly preferred.

Candidates must be U.S. citizens and capable of obtaining a Department of Defense TOP SECRET/SCI security clearance. The selected candidate will be subject to a pre-employment drug screening test and to random drug testing thereafter.

Salary Considerations. Salary is competitive and accompanied by a generous federal benefit package that includes health insurance and retirement saving plans, paid vacation, paid sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Pay Schedule.

Applications. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-21-05 and submit their application package to: nwc-21-05@usnwc.edu. The application package must include: (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, and (3) names and contact information for three references. Applications will be accepted until 11:59 pm (EDT), 28 June 2021.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veterans’ preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans’ preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans’ preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty) to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference, and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.)

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement...
dated to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

Questions should be directed to the hiring committee chair, Dr. Andrew Winner, at winnera@usnwc.edu.

The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Application Deadline: 6/28/2021
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8848

University of Akron
Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other
Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron’s Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute’s academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or governmental setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: https://www.uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the &quot;My Activities&quot; link and upload the required documents under the “My Cover Letters and Attachments” section.

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mcHugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8821

U.S. Army War College
Rank: Research Professor of National Security Affairs
Specializations: Research Methods, American Politics, International Security

RESEARCH PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
U.S. Army War College
Strategic Studies Institute

Open & closing dates
04/19/2021 to 06/04/2021
Service
Excepted

Pay scale & grade
AD 00

Salary
$83,988 to $124,554 per year

Appointment type
Term - 3 years

Work schedule
Full-time

Locations
1 vacancy in the following location:
Carlisle Barracks, PA

Relocation expenses reimbursed
Yes Permanent Change of Station expenses ARE authorized in accordance with agency policy.

This job is open to
The public

Telework eligible
Yes as determined by agency policy

U.S. citizens, nationals or those who owe allegiance to the U.S.

Clarification from the agency
See "Who May Apply" in the "Qualifications" section for more information on who is eligible to apply for this position.

Announcement number
NEDQ218575

Control number 598616900

Duties

Summary
About the Position:
This is a full-time civilian faculty position at the U.S. Army War College (USAWC), Strategic Studies Institute as provided under Title 10 USC 4021. Initial appointment may be up to three years, the first year may be a trial period. The appointment may be renewed in one- to five-year increments thereafter. Academic rank and salary will be based on the selectee’s academic credentials, experience and professional accomplishments.

Responsibilities

• Serve as Research Professor of National Security Affairs in the Strategic Studies Institute (SSI) at the USAWC.
• Performs research and publishes SSI studies, journal articles, policy-oriented essays, op-eds, blog postings, books and/or book chapters, which are distributed worldwide. (50%)
• Conducts self-initiated research and directed research in geostrategic threats, national security strategy, and defense policy at the request of senior-level officials at the Army Staff, Joint Staff or Office of the Secretary of Defense.
• Works independently and collaboratively to develop recommendations to achieve key national security objectives specifically oriented toward those factors that impact U.S. defense priorities, especially those of the U.S. Army.
• Designs individual and collective annual research and publication plans, in consultation with SSI leadership, addressing contemporary national security issues.
• Conducts both internal and external service in national security related areas. (30%)
• Liaises with and provides briefings and expertise in response to requests from aforementioned key stakeholders and other audiences.
• Leads, organizes, and implements SSI and USAWC professional collaboration, conferences, seminars, symposiums, and meetings.
• Attends and participates in relevant academic conferences by presenting papers and/or acting as panel chair or discussant.
• Contributes to the educational mission of the USAWC through teaching, lecturing and supervising student research projects. (20%)

Travel Required
25% or less - Travel (domestic and/or international) may be required up to 25% of the time.

Supervisory status
No

Job family (Series)
0101 Social Science

Promotion Potential
None

Requirements

Conditions Of Employment
• Appointment may be subject to a suitability or fitness determination, as determined by a completed background investigation.
• Must be able to obtain and maintain a TOP SECRET security clearance.
• Must provide official college transcripts, upon request. Unofficial transcripts are suitable for application purposes.
• Must comply with the Drug Testing Program requirements (pre-employment and random testing after appointment).
• Must be available for employment not later than 1 August 2021.

Qualifications

Who May Apply:
U.S. Citizens

To qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below. Your résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience; your transcripts are required as part of your application. Additional information about transcripts is available at http://www.armycivilianservice.com/JOA/Transcripts.pdf

SELECTIVE PLACEMENT FACTORS/KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES (KSAs): Applicants will be rated based on the criteria listed below by a panel of subject matter experts appointed with the purpose of identifying the best-qualified candidates.

1. Must have a master’s (required) degree in national security studies, international relations, international political economy, political science, public policy, regional studies or related field. A PhD or equivalent evidence of extensive original scholarly research and writing is preferred.

2. Record of research and publication (or evidence of great potential) on key national security issues with the ability to influence policy at the strategic level (National Security Council, DoD, combatant commands, interagency).

3. Excellent oral and written communication skills, as demonstrated by the publication of books and articles, workshops and conference presentations, lectures, and podcasts, etc.

4. Excellent interpersonal and organizational skills, including the ability to serve as a project team lead for collective research projects, and as a faculty advisor for student research projects.

5. Ability to contribute to the educational mission of the USAWC through teaching, including supervising student research projects, lecturing in the core curriculum, regional studies and/or electives.

Education

Only degrees from an accredited college or university recognized by the Department of Education are acceptable to meet positive education requirements or to substitute education for experience.

For additional information, please go to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and U.S. Department of Education websites at http://www.opm.gov/qualifications

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

June 2021

79
FOREIGN EDUCATION: If you are using education completed in foreign colleges or universities to meet the qualification requirements, you must show the education credentials have been evaluated by a private organization that specializes in interpretation of foreign education programs and such education has been deemed equivalent to that gained in an accredited U.S. education program; or full credit has been given for the courses at a U.S. accredited college or university. For further information, visit: http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ous/international/usnei/us/edlite-visitus-forrecog.html (http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ous/international/usnei/us/edlite-visitus-forrecog.html)

Additional information
• Male applicants born after December 31, 1959, must complete a Pre-Employment Certification Statement for Selective Service Registration.
• You will be required to provide proof of U.S. Citizenship.
• One year trial period may be required.
• Direct deposit of pay is required.
• Salary includes applicable locality pay or Local Market Supplement.
• When you perform a Civilian Permanent Change of Station (PCS) with the government, the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) considers the majority of your entitlements to be taxable. Visit https://www.dfas.mil/civilianemployees/civrelo/Civilian-Moving-Expenses-Tax-Deduction/ (https://www.dfas.mil/civilianemployees/civrelo/Civilian-Moving-Expenses-Tax-Deduction/) for more information.
• Permanent Change of Station (PCS) allowances may be authorized, subject to the provisions of the Joint Travel Regulations and an agency determination that a PCS move is in the Government Interest.
• Include the job announcement number on your application.
• Must provide official college transcripts upon request (unofficial transcripts are required at the time of application).
• Telework eligible -- Mission-dependent with locality pay at Carlisle, PA.

How You Will Be Evaluated
The application review process to determine if you meet the experience and education requirements found in the job announcement begins upon the closing date of the announcement. If you are one of the top candidates, you may be invited to interview by the selection official. If selected, you will receive a tentative job offer. Depending on the strength of the applicant pool, this process may take several months after the closing date of the job announcement.

Please follow all instructions carefully, as failure to submit a complete application could invalidate your submission. In this regard, please be sure to read the HOW TO APPLY and REQUIRED DOCUMENTS sections.

Background checks and security clearance

Security clearance
Top Secret
(https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/faq/job-announcement/security-clearances/)

Drug test required

Yes

Position sensitivity and risk
Critical-Sensitive (CS)/High Risk (https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/faq/job-announcement/security-clearances/)

Trust determination process

Required Documents
Please see the list of requirements in the "How to Apply" section.

NOTE: Documents submitted as part of the application package, to include supplemental documents, may be shared beyond the Human Resources Office. Some supplemental documents such as military orders and marriage certificates could contain personal information for someone other than the applicant. Redact these documents to remove the personal information of others before submitting your application. You may be asked to provide an un-redacted version of the documents to confirm your eligibility for selection.

Failure to provide all of the required information as stated in the job announcement may result in an ineligible rating or may affect the overall rating.

If you are relying on your education to meet qualification requirements:
Education must be accredited by an accrediting institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education in order for it to be credited towards qualifications. Therefore, provide only the attendance and/or degrees from schools accredited by accrediting institutions recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (http://www.ed.gov/admins/finaid/accred/index.html)

Failure to provide all of the required information as stated in this vacancy announcement may result in an ineligible rating or may affect the overall rating.

Benefits
A career with the U.S. Government provides employees with a comprehensive benefits package. As a federal employee, you and your family will have access to a range of benefits that are designed to make your federal career very rewarding.
• Benefits for federal employees (https://www.usa.gov/benefits-for-federal-employees#item-36407)
• Healthcare insurance (https://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance/)
https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/

Eligibility for benefits depends on the type of position you hold and whether your position is full-time, part-time, or intermittent. Contact the hiring agency for more information on the specific benefits offered.

How to Apply
To apply for this position, you must provide a complete application package which includes the items listed below. Applications must be postmarked or e-dated by the closing date of this job announcement. Please include the job announcement number on the application.

Army network servers have an overall limit of 10 MB per email. To ensure delivery of your application, we recommend that applicants limit overall email size to no more than 5-8 MB. You may send documents in several emails to reduce overall size.

The USAWC G1 will provide email confirmation of all received applications. If you do not receive delivery confirmation within three business days please contact the USAWC G1 at (717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256, or via email to usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil. Failure to provide these documents may result in disqualification for the position. Please note that this is NOT a Title 5 (General Scale) position, and the routine procedures for filing through the USAJobs.gov automated system should NOT be followed. Instead, please submit your complete application package and any requests for further information directly to the USAWC G1 at the email address listed below.

- Curriculum vitae or résumé.
- Proof of U.S. citizenship (i.e., birth certificate, passport).
- Academic transcripts (undergraduate and graduate level). Unofficial transcripts are required with your application submission. You must provide official college transcripts upon request.
- A three to five page overview that addresses your expertise, experience and capabilities to meet the KSA/qualifications for this position as outlined above.
- Sample(s) of written scholarship (no more than three examples and not to exceed 50 pages each). Electronic format is preferred, as hard copies will not be returned without a self-addressed and metered envelope.
- Letters of Endorsement (no more than three references and please include contact information) from disinterested professional associates (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate’s qualifications, but have no stake in the outcome of the selection). PLEASE NOTE these letters MUST be included with the application submission and will not be accepted if sent separately.
- Documentation supporting any request for Veteran’s Preference (such as a DD Form 214 and/or VA statement of disability).
- A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the U.S. Army War College through research, scholarship, teaching, and/or service.

The Department of the Army provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please notify the servicing civilian personnel unit. Your requests for reasonable accommodation will be addressed on a case-by-case basis.

Both paper and electronic submissions are acceptable, but the latter is strongly encouraged. The preferred method of submission is by e-mail with .pdf attachments.

Submission Process: Please note that this is NOT a Title 5 (General Scale) position, and the routine procedures for filing through the USAJobs.gov automated system should NOT be followed. Instead, please submit your complete application package and any requests for further information directly to the G1 Office at the email address listed below.

Submit your complete application package and any requests for further information to:
U.S. Army War College Office of the G1
46 Ashburn Drive (Anne Ely Hall, Room 233)
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil (717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256

Agency contact information
Army Applicant Help Desk

Website
https://portal.chra.army.mil/hr_public?id=app_inq
https://portal.chra.army.mil/hr_public?id=app_inq

Address
DQ-APF-W2H6AA US ARMY WAR COLLEGE DO NOT MAIL
Carlisle, PA 17013 US

Learn more about this agency
(#agency-modal-trigger)

The Army War College is the U.S. Army’s most senior institution for professional military education. It educates the top echelon of U.S. military officers of all services, U.S. government civilians, and military officers from up to 80 foreign countries yearly. It develops strategic leaders by providing a variety of rigorous curricula of theoretical and professional subjects. The senior-level curriculum is delivered two ways -- through a ten-month resident program (about 385 students) and a two-year distance education program (about 750 students); both lead to a Master’s of Strategic Studies accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. In addition to the Master’s degree, the USAWC administers numerous professional development programs focused on strategic thinking and leadership. These programs range from a fourteen-week course for junior officers qualifying as Army strategists to shorter courses for general officers, senior colonels, and command sergeants major.

The principal organizations of the USAWC are the School of Strategic Landpower, Center for Strategic Leadership, Strategic Studies Institute, the Advanced Strategic Education Program, and the Army Heritage and Education Center. They work collectively to accomplish the institution’s mission: &quot;Educate and develop leaders for service at the strategic level while advancing knowledge in the global application of land power.&quot;

Next steps
Your application package (résumé, supporting documents, etc.) will be reviewed by a specially appointed selection committee to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. Please follow all instructions carefully. Errors or omissions may affect your rating or consideration for employment.

Fair & Transparent
The Federal hiring process is setup to be fair and transparent. Please read the following guidance.

Equal Employment Opportunity Policy
The United States Government does not discriminate in employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy And gender identity), national origin, political affiliation, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, genetic information, age, membership in an employee organization, retaliation, parental status, military service, or other non-merit factor.

- Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) for federal employees & job applicants (https://www.eeoc.gov/federal/fed_employees/index.cfm)
- Reasonable Accommodation Policy

Federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities where appropriate. Applicants requiring reasonable accommodation for any part of the application process should follow the instructions in the job opportunity announcement. For any part of the remaining hiring process, applicants should contact the hiring agency directly. Determinations on requests for reasonable accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.

A reasonable accommodation is any change to a job, the work environment, or the way things are usually done that enables an individual with a disability to apply for a job, perform job duties or receive equal access to job benefits.

Under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodations when:
- An applicant with a disability needs an accommodation to have an equal opportunity to apply for a job.
- An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to perform the essential job duties or to gain access to the workplace.
- An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to receive equal access to benefits, such as details, training, and office-sponsored events.

You can request a reasonable accommodation at any time during the application or hiring process or while on the job. Requests are considered on a case-by-case basis.

Learn more about disability employment and reasonable accommodations (https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/disability-employment/reasonable-accommodations/) or how to contact an agency. (https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/how-to/application/agency/contact/)

Legal and regulatory guidance

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 6/4/2021
Date Posted: 4/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8819

Hertie School – the University of Governance in Berlin

Rank: President (f/m/div)

The Hertie School is recruiting a President (f/m/div)

The Hertie School is looking for a President. Since its establishment in 2003, the Hertie School has grown into one of the leading graduate schools of public policy worldwide. The Hertie School educates the next generation of leaders in government, business and civil society. It strives for excellence in research, teaching and outreach, promoting active engagement for the common good. The Hertie School is a renowned institution of higher learning and acknowledged as a centre of excellence in research on governance and policy issues that invites interdisciplinary, cross-sectoral approaches informed by comparative, international perspectives. The Hertie School acts as a recognised platform for vibrant public debate and engaged intellectual discourse among academic experts and policy-makers.

The ideal candidate is a distinguished academic, appointable as full professor and President, and has a strong professional network as well as extensive leadership experience and a strong track record in academia, business, or public administration. In line with the mission of the Hertie School, the President is expected to further develop the School’s strategy. The candidate should be able to expand fundraising for the School and combine a strong professional network with the ability to address the needs of various stakeholders – academics, students, alumni, administrators, donors, media or policy-makers. The President is responsible for all academic matters and represents the School internally as well as externally, fostering relationships to national as well as international universities and academic institutions.

The President acts as Chairperson and Academic Managing Director of the legal entity Hertie School gemeinnützige GmbH, a German non-profit limited liability company. In this capacity, the President holds the overall responsibility for the development of the Hertie School. The President chairs the meetings of the Hertie School Leadership, consisting of the Administrative Managing Director, the Dean of Research and Faculty, the Dean of Graduate Programmes as well as the Dean of Executive Education.

The President will be appointed by the Supervisory Board upon approval by the Academic Senate of the Hertie School for a term of four years. Reappointment is possible under the same conditions. The expected start date is August 1, 2022.

The Hertie School is a highly selective private graduate school based in Berlin with an interdisciplinary focus on issues of governance. A renowned international and interdisciplinary faculty of nearly 40 professors is conducting state-of-the-art research, some of them located at the School’s 5 research centres and the Data Science Lab. The language of instruction is English. With more than 700 students and 250 employees, it has dual degree programmes and close ties to top institutions of the European and international teaching and research community as well as to the policy world. The Hertie School is a full member of the Global Public Policy Network (GPPN), the Association of Professional School for International Affairs (APSIA) and CIVICa – the European University of Social Sciences. The Hertie School, state-recognised and accredited by the Science Council, prepares exceptional students for leadership positions in government, business and civil society by offering three full-time master programmes, an Executive master and a PhD programme.

The Hertie School was founded by the Hertie Foundation, a well-endowed foundation in Germany, which remains its major funder.

The deadline for applications is 7 June 2021. To submit your application, please upload your documents (CV and motivation letter) on our website or submit it via e-mail to Frank Mattern (mattern@hertie-school.org), Chairman of the Search Committee.

For information about the Hertie School, please visit https://www.hertie-school.org

For questions about the position, please contact Frank Mattern (mattern@hertie-school.org), Chairman of the Search Committee or Holger Endröß, Secretary to the Search Committee (endroes@hertie-school.org).

Strict confidentiality in the application process is assured. The Hertie School is an equal opportunity employer. In order to maintain equal opportunities between women and men, applications from women with the respective qualifications are expressly desired. Severely disabled persons will be given preferential consideration in case of equal suitability. The Hertie School values the diversity of its members and pursues the goal of equal opportunity.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 6/7/2021
Date Posted: 4/14/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8810

Pennsylvania State University
Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar of Social Data Analytics

Postdoctoral Scholar of Social Data Analytics

The Center for Social Data Analytics (C-SoDA) at the Pennsylvania State University invites applications for a postdoctoral scholar with a specialty in data and/or computationally intensive social research to start in Fall 2021.

Methodological areas of specialization relevant to the position include, but are not limited to, text analysis, computational statistics, and machine learning. The Director of the Center for Social Data Analytics will supervise the scholar. The scholar’s time allocation will be 40% individual/own research, 40% research on projects led by C-SoDA-affiliated faculty, and 20% service for C-SoDA. Service for C-SoDA will include, but not be limited to, managing graduate student researchers, assisting C-SoDA-affiliated researchers in using high performance computing resources on campus, and assisting with grant proposal preparation.

PhD required or all requirements for the PhD must be completed by the appointment date. In addition, successful candidates must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse campus community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity.

Apply online at: https://psu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/PSU_Academic/Job/University-Park-Campus/Postdoctoral-Scholar---Center-for-Social-Data-Analytics_REQ_0000011920-1

Penn State scholars participate extensively in the intellectual life of the Center including opportunities to attend seminars and workshops, and present research results. Salary is competitive and additional money is available for travel and research. Submit cover letter explaining research and any administrative experience, a current CV, and samples of scholarly writing. Additionally, request three confidential letters of reference be sent directly to mlg4@psu.edu. Application review will begin on April 16th, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Penn State is committed to and accountable for advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion in all of its forms. We embrace individual uniqueness, foster a culture of inclusion that supports both broad and specific diversity initiatives, leverage the educational and institutional benefits of diversity, and engage all individuals to help them thrive. We value inclusion as a core strength and an essential element of our public service mission.

To review the Annual Security Report which contains information about crime statistics and other safety and security matters and policies, please go to https://police.psu.edu/annual-security-reports, which will also explain how to request a paper copy of the Annual Security Report.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applicants without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/2/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8788

Krea University
Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow
Specializations: Economic Policy, India, Political Economy

Who We Are:
Inclusion Economics India at Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Yale’s Economic Growth Center and MacMillan Center. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders’ ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:
We are currently recruiting one or more Post-Doctoral Research Fellows to support our research in India. Final portfolio allocations will depend on candidates’ interest, experience, and skillset; ideal candidates have experience and research in one of our core focus areas listed above. The position will provide the selected candidate(s) an opportunity to gain first-hand experience conducting policy-relevant economics research while contributing to an agreed upon project portfolio.

Responsibilities within the project portfolio include supporting research design and implementation, observing data collection and analysis, interacting with stakeholders, and managing research activities and staff. This position requires a self-starting candidate with proven expertise in applied economics research who can effectively navigate India’s institutional landscape and appropriately represent our work to outside stakeholders. The position will provide a talented early career researcher the opportunity to work directly with top academics and begin building their own research portfolio.

Responsibilities:
• Manage and supervise technical aspects of assigned research studies in collaboration with the research team.
• Oversee field-based team to manage research study activities, including intervention implementation, and contribute to field-based scoping, survey design, survey testing, data quality monitoring, and more.
• Clean and process incoming or secondary data and conduct econometric analysis under the direction of senior researchers.
• Manage relationships with collaborating institutions, including policy counterparts and funding organizations; work with partner institutions and governments to set priorities and coordinate project administration and logistics.
• Compile, assess and synthesize research into policy briefs, white papers, memos and academic articles with guidance and oversight of Yale-affiliated research faculty.
• Provide appropriate inputs and support for administrative requirements of the project portfolio, upon request, which may include financial management, budgeting, procurement, contract set-up and compliance, grant reporting, deliverable tracking, etc.
• Contribute to our team’s overall management and strategic vision by identifying new research projects and partners and applying for additional sources of funding in partnership with research team.

Basic Qualifications:
• PhD in economics, public policy, political science, statistics, econometrics or related field by mid-2021
• Advanced coursework in empirical methods, including econometrics and economics, with strong demonstrated academic performance
• Solid understanding of research design and experience with data collection and field work
• Proven analytical skills and proficiency in Stata and/or R; experience in Python a plus
• Proven ability to manage multiple tasks and propose timely solutions with minimal supervision
• Excellent attention to detail
• Capacity to maintain an organized and structured work style in a fast-paced environment
• Ability to adapt to quickly changing environments
• Strong interpersonal skills, and willingness to interact with a wide range of individuals ranging from Research Associates to academics, donors, research institutions, etc.

• Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and Hindi
• Ability to work in a multicultural environment
• Willingness to travel frequently and spend significant time at research project sites, as needed

Preferred Qualifications:
• Ability to independently drive research projects and produce independent, high-quality original empirical research in mutually agreed upon areas
• 3 to 5 years of field research or field research management experience in international development or related field
• Experience with research grant management and project management
• Proven success in fundraising for research studies with clear policy relevance
• Demonstrated interest in public policy and South Asia

This position will be based in Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country when Covid-19 restrictions are lifted. Fellowships are one-year positions with the possibility of extension upon mutual agreement.

How to Apply:
If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire (https://forms.gle/XbBeNgprSoRxHpxN7); you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file “Last name, First name – Post-Doctoral Research Fellow”.

To view other open positions, visit the MacMillan Center’s Employment Opportunities page (https://macmillan.yale.edu/academic-programs/faculty/employment-opportunities).

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8637

Mohammed IV Polytechnic University
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in sociology - Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Call for Application.
Professor in Sociology – Teaching and Research
Mohammed VI Polytechnic University is hiring a Professor in Sociology for the next academic year, starting September 2021. Mohammed VI Polytechnic University (UM6P) is a recently established non-profit university that has the ambition to promote high-quality education and research in respect of international academic standards. Furthermore, it aims to contribute to the development of the African countries.

African Center for Behavioral Sociology (ACBS):
The African Center for Behavioral Sociology is a research center founded in 2019, in the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences at the Mohammed VI Polytechnic University of Benguerir. The center aims to address issues of social, economic, political, cultural, and environmental importance for public policy in Morocco and in Africa more broadly. See https://www.fges-um6p.ma/acbs

Job Description and Duties: The activity of the professor is divided between teaching and research. Teaching is provided at different levels of higher education, from bachelor to Ph D. The professor will be responsible for regularly publishing in high-ranking academic journals. Resources will be allocated to him or her to carry out his or her research, which falls under the themes of the African Center for Behavioral Sociology. However, the recruited person must be able to attract external resources to develop the research within the Center. He or she is also expected to be involved in the administrative activities of the faculty. The status of the position - assistant professor, associate professor or full professor - will depend on the experience of the candidate.

Qualifications: The candidate must have a PhD/Doctorat in Sociology, with solid skills in data collection and analysis, qualitative or quantitative. He or she must have solid scientific publications in indexed journals, research experience and teaching experience in higher education. This call for applications is also open to professors or research fellows who wish to spend Sabbatical time at the Mohammed VI Polytechnic University.

Selection procedure: The candidate must send to the contact below: 1) a full CV, 2) an exhaustive list of publications, 3) a summary of his or her PhD with table of contents, 4) proof of his research and teaching experience in higher education, and 5) A research proposal of 2-3 pages drawing a research program the candidate could lead at the ACBS. A scientific selection committee will meet to examine the application files. The preselected candidates will have an oral interview, which can be carried out, if necessary, by videoconference. The candidates selected at the end of these interviews will be invited, during a final phase, to present their research and to make a course simulation.

Salary and Benefits: Salary scales and allowances are competitive, meet international standards, and commensurate with experience. Subject to certain conditions, the University provides practical assistance in relocating and accommodation. Job location: Rabat, Morocco.

Applications must be submitted to: ACBS@um6p.ma, by March 31, 2021. Please attach to your email a single electronic zipped folder containing all above, with the mention “Professor Sociology” in the subject.

For further information, please contact us: ACBS@um6p.ma

Mohammed VI Polytechnic University

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Geography - Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels Specializations: Africa, African American Politics, Immigration Policy

Call for application:

Tenure-Track Position in Geography - Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Position: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor level
Location: Rabat, Morocco
Salary: Very competitive
Hours: Full-time

June 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Political Science Jobs

Mohammed VI Polytechnic University
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in History - Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Call for application:

Tenure-Track Position in History-Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Position: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor level
Location: Rabat, Morocco
Salary: Very competitive
Hours: Full-time
Contract type: Tenure-track
Application deadline: May 31, 2021

Mohammed VI Polytechnic University (UM6P) is a recently established non-profit Higher Education institution with campuses throughout Morocco, and with the ambition to promote high-quality, world-class education and research. It aims to contribute to the development of African countries through a two-fold objective: to train the next generation of African social science scholars and leaders, and to produce cutting-edge research that informs policy and solve the challenges facing society. To further this aim, the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) is looking to appoint several tenure-track positions in History.

Job Description and Duties: We are open to candidates with a research expertise in any area of History, but particularly value candidates with expertise in political history or comparative political history, Methodology of History and Global history. Regardless of area of interest however, solid candidates with strong teaching and supervision experience as well as a robust publication record will be given serious consideration. The expected start date for the position is September 2021. For this reason, successful candidates are expected to be ready to take on teaching responsibilities at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Academic staff members are expected to actively participate in the Faculty’s intellectual life and public engagement and to advance the purposes and the ambition of UM6P. We are looking for serious scholars and dedicated teachers who can engage a diverse, multicultural community of students and researchers.

Qualifications: the candidates must have a Ph.D. in History or cognate disciplines, demonstrated experience in teaching, and solid publications in peer-reviewed journals. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach one or more of the following subjects:
- African and middle eastern history
- Qualitative and quantitative analysis methods
- Global history

Salary and Benefits: We offer a generous expatriate contract with a competitive salary and benefits that meet international standards. Salary packages are commensurate with experience. Benefits include a generous housing allowance, tuition allowance for dependents, medical insurance, retirement pension, free access to wellness services, and much more. The University also provides start-up and relocation support.

Job location: Our state-of-the-art facilities in the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) are in Rabat. The Kingdom’s capital offers easy access to scholars interested in conducting field research in Africa and the Middle East. In addition, Rabat offers a good quality of life, a moderate weather all year round, and direct flights to most African, European and North American capitals.

Application requirements: the application consists of the following:
- Application Statement (candidates must specify at which level they wish their application to be considered)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Full list of publications
- Copy of the Ph.D. degree
- Previous teaching experience including teaching evaluations and at least one course outline.

Applications must be submitted to recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma, by May 31, 2021.

Please attach a single file containing all the above and use “History” in the subject line. An interdisciplinary committee will review all applications. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for an interview via videoconference. All enquiries should be sent to: recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma

Ohio State University
Rank: Program Manager & Senior Analyst

The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law seeks a Program Manager & Senior Analyst for the Program on Data and Governance (PDG). This Program studies how to govern advanced analytics, artificial intelligence and other innovative uses of personal data so as to realize their social and economic benefits while reducing the risks that they pose to privacy, fairness, equality and accountability. The Program conducts non-partisan, interdisciplinary research, hosts conferences and speaker events, advises policymakers and businesses, and engages students on vital questions regarding the governance of advanced analytics and AI. Under the direction of the Faculty Director, the Program Manager & Senior Analyst will: plan, organize and manage conferences and speaker events; draft grant proposals; manage grants and grant reporting; manage and write content for the Program website, blog, events calendar, social media accounts and external communications; conduct research on the governance of advanced analytics and AI; represent the program at university and public functions; monitor and manage the budget; draft the annual report; supervise students affiliates, and undertake other, relevant duties as assigned by the Faculty Director.

Additional Information:
Required: Master’s level degree. Experience with program planning and administration, event planning and management, and with website, blog and social media design and content creation. Interest in the information society, advanced analytics and AI, and privacy law and policy; excellent research, writing, editing and analytical skills, ideally including legal research experience; strong written and verbal communication skills; Desired: JD or advanced degree in public policy, social sciences or computer science, or equivalent practical experience; knowledge of data science; experience with grant writing. This term position will last for 24 months with a target salary range of $55,000-$65,000.

Start Date:
Political Science Jobs

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Associate or Full Professor / Department Chair

POSITION DESCRIPTION

This is a full-time, tenure-track, academic year appointment to commence in Fall 2021, with the tenure home in the Department of Africana Studies.

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Rhode Island seeks an associate or full professor to chair the newly created Department of Africana Studies. Its predecessor, the Africana Studies program, established in the mid-1990s, has a long history of advocacy and a deep investment in community engagement and interdisciplinary collaboration.

URI is Rhode Island’s flagship public university, serving undergraduate and graduate populations from the state, New England, the greater northeast, and beyond. Rhode Island is home to vibrant communities of the African diaspora, with significant populations of people from Cabo Verde, Liberia, and the Caribbean. New research increasingly reveals the deep and rich history of the African diaspora in Rhode Island, as a site of critical freedom struggles borne of the state’s involvement in the transatlantic slave trade and subsequent nineteenth and twentieth century civil rights movements.

We are especially interested in social science scholars trained in Africana Studies, with vision for the new department’s academic profile and whose work bridges various disciplines, geographies, and cultures. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to establish innovative curricula, to develop future scholars, and to participate in an energetic community. We seek candidates who have a demonstrated potential for excellence in leadership, a distinguished scholarly record, and a deep investment in community engagement and interdisciplinary collaboration.

This is a tenure-track academic appointment to commence in Fall 2021, with the tenure home in the Department of Africana Studies. For consideration at the rank of full professor with tenure, candidates for this position must meet the requirements at URI. If hired at the associate professor level, URI requires that the individual be employed by university for at least two years before being eligible for tenure. Salary is commensurate with experience. Please see Articles 15 through 20 of AAUP collective bargaining agreement for information on promotion and tenure processes at the University of Rhode Island.

LINK TO CONTRACT:
(https://drive.google.com/file/d/148VGi10711Wv_J7uO_lzpaMs1Ee437hd/view)

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:
1. Ph.D. in Africana Studies, African American Studies, Black Studies or a related discipline in the URI College of Arts and Sciences.
2. Multiple refereed publications in academic journals and presses.
3. Demonstrated potential or experience in a leadership role at the institutional level.
4. Experience as an associate or full professor. Exceptional candidates at the advanced assistant professor level will be considered.
5. Active academic record that meets URI research and teaching standards for tenure and rank of associate or full professor.
6. Demonstrated commitment to working with students from diverse backgrounds and BIPOC populations.
7. Demonstrated potential for community engagement.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS
1. Success as chair, program director, or other academic leadership position.
2. Successful engagement with the broader academic and non-academic community.
APPLICATION DEADLINE: This is an open until filled search. First consideration will be given to applications received by February 15, 2021. Second consideration may be given to applications received by March 1, 2021. Applications received subsequent to second consideration date (March 1, 2021) may not be given full consideration.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/7640

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online application:
1. Cover Letter/Letter of Application
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Statement of Teaching Philosophy
4. Writing Sample

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8449

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Race and Ethnic Politics anticipated to begin in the fall of 2021. Scholars of Black politics or Indigenous politics whose work is in one or more of the following subfields of political science are particularly encouraged to apply: comparative politics, international relations, U.S. politics, or research methods. The scholar will help build the department’s strengths in race, ethnicity, and politics. We welcome all methodological and interpretative approaches to the study of political science and international relations.

Strong commitments to research as well as to undergraduate and graduate pedagogy are expected. The candidate should have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

In order to be considered for this position, applicants are required to submit an electronic USC application; follow this job link or paste in a browser: https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-race-and-ethnic-politics/1209/18148180. Required materials for upload include a CV, cover letter, sample research paper(s) or article(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, names and contact information for three references and their letters of recommendation. Send inquiries to poirrequests@usc.edu. Materials must be submitted electronically, as those submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/8/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8376

Texas A&M University

Rank: Instructional Assistant Professor (non-tenure track)

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a non-tenure track, instructional assistant professor in the area of international political economy, to work in the School’s teaching site in Washington, D.C. The position will be for a period of two-years, with the possibility of renewal. The start date for this position will be January 1, 2021. The successful candidate will teach five courses per academic year in a professional master’s degree program in international policy – two sections of the required course on the global economy and three other elective courses to be determined in consultation with the department head. A reasonable amount of department and professional service will also be expected.

The Department of International Affairs is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and departments is available at http://bush.tamu.edu.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in political science, politics or government with a specialization in the sub-field of international political economy to be considered.

Applicants with additional expertise in the intersection of international political economy and international security issues, and/or expertise in the politics and political economy of a particular world region, are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit: 1) Letter of Interest, 2) CV, and 3) three letters of recommendation. The application materials must be submitted online at http://apply.interfolio.com/76363.

Point of Contact: Ms. Peg Hosea plhosea@tamu.edu

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/19/2020
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 7900

POLITICAL THEORY

Boston University

Rank: Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Boston University seeks to appoint the Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship at the rank of advanced Associate or full Professor, with tenure, to begin in
Political Science Jobs

Fall 2022. Applicants in Political Science, from the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Public Policy, Political Theory, are encouraged to apply. We wish to recruit an intellectual leader with a distinguished record of scholarship who brings a critical lens on the development and meaning of citizenship.

When George B. Maxwell established this Professorship in September 1918 the First World War was not yet concluded and citizenship was — in both de jure and de facto senses — narrowly defined. Indian Reservations were being consolidated, the Espionage and Sedition Acts of WWI limited free speech, Jim Crow was in force, the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution granting women the right to vote had not been passed, and the purpose and limits of immigration were contested. The Maxwell Professorship supports scholars engaged in fostering an “intelligent understanding and appreciation of the rights, duties, inheritances and possibilities of our citizenship.” A Maxwell Chair holder could understand citizenship broadly; for example, in the context of American political development, the tensions between communitarianism and cosmopolitanism, political theories of citizenship, or in comparative perspective. In keeping with George Maxwell’s vision, we seek a scholar who is engaged in both public education and academic discourse.

Boston University offers a rich and vibrant academic community for interdisciplinary research on citizenship; the Maxwell Professorship offers the opportunity to develop connections across disciplines, programs and centers. The candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. We seek candidates who prioritize inclusive practices in their scholarship, pedagogy, and campus engagement.

Please submit a letter of interest to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18615. The application must also include: a curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, a list of references and a statement about your record of inclusion. Completed applications are due on 4 October 2021.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 6/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8904

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Adjunct Professor of Modern Political Theory

The Department of Political Science is seeking part-time faculty to teach one in-person section (4 units) of the following Political Science course in the Fall 2021 semester:

- POLS 3020 Modern Political Theory: A survey of Western political thought from the Renaissance through the 19th century.

Preferred candidates will have a Ph.D. in Political Science with relevant teaching experience, though doctoral candidates with the completion of all degree requirements except dissertation will be considered. Job responsibilities include classroom instruction, course content, and regular office hours with students (at least 2 hours per section each week, as well as availability over email).

LMU part-time faculty are expected to instruct in person, and facilitate meaningful learning of the course competencies and proactively support all facets of the learning environment, consistent with the university’s mission; to provide education through learning-centered instruction that will enable graduates to fulfill evolving needs of the job market; and to encourage a culture of learning that values mutual respect, life-long learning, and ethics as well as personal and professional development.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. Women, persons of color, LGBTQ and gender-nonconforming individuals, people living with disabilities, and others with diverse life experiences and beliefs are encouraged to apply. Please read more about our commitments and our efforts at (https://resources.lmu.edu/offic eofinterculturalaffairs/).

To apply, please upload a letter of application, curriculum vita, graduate transcript(s), contact information for three references, and sample syllabus for the course for which applying to the online job portal at https://jobs.lmu.edu/postings/47330.

Questions about the position can be directed to: Dr. Gene Park, Chair, Department of Political Science, Gene.Park@lmu.edu

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8900

University of Houston

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Postdoctoral Fellow – Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a Postdoctoral Fellowship for Fall 2020-Spring 2021. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on Political Theory, especially with an interest in the history of political thought or American political thought. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 700 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University’s online job site, http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/. The position

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Political Science Jobs

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsible to the needs of dual career couples.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/13/2021
Salary: $30,000 - $39,999
eJobs ID: 8880

University of Houston
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor – Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor for Fall 2021-Spring 2022. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on Political Theory, especially with an interest in the history of political thought or American political thought. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars. The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 700 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University’s online job site, http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/. The position number keyword is FAC001820. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Professor Alin Fumurescu, Department of Political Science, University of Houston. afumures@central.uh.edu

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/11/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 8873

SUNY Potsdam
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor (2-year)

The Department of Politics invites applications for a 2-year, full-time Visiting Assistant Professor position in political science, beginning fall 2021. The faculty member in this position will teach introductory and upper-division courses in contemporary political theory and one or more of the following areas: US politics, race and politics, gender and politics, public policy and/or political economy.

Fall semester courses may include but are not limited to: Introduction to US Politics, Introduction to Politics, and an upper-division theory course. The successful candidate may also help to develop courses for an online track in the political science major.

Required qualifications include:
—ABD in political science at the time of application.
—Candidates must demonstrate a commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching and research, interdisciplinary learning, and the application of new technologies in teaching and scholarship.
—In addition, we are seeking candidates who possess communication and interpersonal skills sufficient to work effectively with an increasingly diverse array of students and colleagues and who have demonstrated a commitment to creating, fostering, and sustaining an inclusive environment in and out of the classroom.

Preferred qualifications:
—Ph.D. in political science.
—Experience teaching at the post-secondary level.
—Experience developing/teaching courses in online environments.
—We are, especially, seeking candidates who have worked with, done research with, or taught under-represented groups and have worked collaboratively across various departments in fostering success of underrepresented groups.

While applications will be accepted until the position is filled, full consideration will be granted to those who submit the following application materials by May 15, 2021: cover letter, CV, Teaching Philosophy statement, DEI statement, and contact information for at least three references including email addresses.

Apply here: https://employment.potsdam.edu/postings/4397

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8868

Arts & Science
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Theory/American Government (Non-Tenure Track)

The Department of Government at New Mexico State University invites applications for the position of Visiting Assistant Professor with a focus in political theory and American government. The period of employment is August 16, 2021 to May 10, 2022. Applicants must have a Ph.D. or have ABD status in Political Science or a related field. Preferred qualifications are teaching experience in political theory and American government. The Department of Government offers a BA in Government, a Supplementary Major in Law and Society, an MA in Government and
political science jobs

a nationally-accredited Masters in Public Administration (MPA) program. It has a proud tradition of enhancing student success and social mobility, outstanding research and valuable work in service and outreach. The Visiting Assistant Professor will teach a mix of undergraduate and graduate classes in the areas of political theory and American government, totaling four classes per semester, as well as serve on the MA committee within the Department of Government. For inquiries, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Neil Harvey, at nharvey@nmsu.edu. To be considered, applications must be submitted online at: https://jobs.nmsu.edu/postings/41109

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 5/31/2021
Date Posted: 5/4/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8857

WZB Berlin Social Science Center

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/s)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: Social Movements, Religion & Politics, Africa

For its interdisciplinary research department Migration, Integration, Transnationalization, headed by Prof. Ruud Koopmans, the Berlin Social Science Center (WZB) is looking for a full-time (39 hours per week) on a temporary basis with a contract duration of two years. The starting date is flexible, up to January 2022 at the latest.

Postdoctoral Research Fellow (f/m/s)

WZB is a non-profit organization and a member of the Leibniz Association. WZB engages in research of fundamental societal questions from the perspectives of different disciplines. It is one of the most renowned institutions in the field of social sciences. The scientists who work together at the institute come from such fields as sociology, political science, economics, law, and psychology. The findings of WZB research are directed at the science community, the interested public, and also experts dealing with political and economic issues, with media, and society.

The Migration, Integration, Transnationalization department (MIT) of the WZB focuses on issues related to migration, integration, and majority-minority relations, including ethnic and religious conflicts as drivers of migration in source countries. The current position is situated in the context of the TRANSMIT project, in which we study migration drivers and trajectories, as well as ethnic and religious conflicts in West Africa, particularly Senegal, the Gambia, and Nigeria. Among other things, this project encompasses large-scale panel surveys in selected regions of these countries.

Your tasks and duties
- Conducting independent research and producing high-level international publications on migration and/or ethnic and religious conflicts
- Pursuing own research questions within the TRANSMIT project by using existing data and incorporating own research questions in future waves of the surveys (If desired, the research fellow can also, in addition to the TRANSMIT project, work on other topics.)
- Actively exploring opportunities for external funding, as the extension of the position beyond two years depends on the acquisition of third-party funding, either within the context of the TRANSMIT project, or from other sources
- Optional: teaching courses at universities in Berlin and participating in the various international exchange programs the WZB offers

Your qualifications profile
- Ph.D. degree in a relevant discipline (obtained already or soon to be completed) with a disciplinary background in political science, economics, or sociology
- Strong track record in theory-driven, quantitative empirical research
- Solid theoretical knowledge of migration processes and/or ethnic and religious conflicts
- Experience in dealing with the analysis (and ideally also the collection) of large-scale survey data
- Excellent knowledge of statistical methods, including the analysis of panel data and a firm grasp of approaches to causal inference
- An excellent command of the English language and at least a passive command of German
- Preferably: experience with the acquisition of external funding
- Preferably: command of French or one of the local languages of the countries of the TRANSMIT project

Our offer
- Remuneration in accordance with EG 14 (TVöD Bund) of the German civil service collective agreement
- Additional benefits for public service employees (VBL U)
- A well-equipped workplace in the center of Berlin
- Active support by research assistants, travel funding and access to small and medium-scale research funds for data collection, as well as opportunities to invite external collaborators and speakers
- International, cooperative, and diversified working environment
- In-depth integration into the scientific community in the form of colloquia and conferences
- Thorough instruction and guidance
- Flexible working hours
- We promote a good work-life balance, and our engagement has been certified by audit workandfamily and the European Commission’s Human Resources Strategy for Researchers (HR54R)
- Comprehensive program for continuous professional development and further qualification, in the own discipline and beyond

Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. We value diversity and welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. WZB expressly encourages women or persons with migration backgrounds to apply.

If you have any questions regarding the job opening, please contact Elisabeth von Bressensdorf or Melinda Biolchini (applications-mit@wzb.eu).

Job interviews will likely take place in the week starting on 21 June 2021.

Have we sparked your interest? In that case, we are looking forward to receiving your application by 30 May 2021. Candidates are invited to send applications electronically in a pdf-format (max. 2 pdf-files) consisting of
- a letter of motivation
- a short sketch of own research ideas for the coming 2-3 years (approximately 2 pages)
- CV and list of publication
- copies of relevant certificates

Wissenschaftszentrum Berlin
für Sozialforschung gGmbH (WZB) / WZB Berlin Social Science Centre
Prof. Ruud Koopmans
email: applications-mit@wzb.eu

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 5/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8856

Bloomsburg University
Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Political Theory

Position Description
The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach our introductory course in political theory, POLISCI 108: Contemporary Political Ideologies. A description of this courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University.

Qualifying Education/Experience
Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution.
A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of political theory. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information
A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog-

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act.

The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University’s compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University’s compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Queen's University

Rank: Tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with specialization in the Black Political Thought

Black Political Thought
Faculty of Arts and Science
Queen’s University, Canada

The Departments of Political Studies and Philosophy in the Faculty of Arts and Science at Queen’s University invites applications for a Tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with specialization in the Black Political Thought. The preferred starting date is July 1, 2021.

This position is one of seven positions created in support of the interdisciplinary field of Black Studies at Queen’s and the planned BA Minor/General in Black Studies.

Applicants must self-identify as Black persons including those from Africa or of the African diaspora (e.g. African and Africa descended people from the Caribbean, North America, Europe, or Latin America).

The successful candidate will have demonstrated knowledge and experience in Black Political Thought. BPT is an inherently global and diverse field, which includes perspectives from Africa, the Caribbean, Latin America, Europe, Canada and the United States, covers significant questions of political theory, including power, human nature, and just societies, while critically interrogating the meaning of race and practices of racist oppression such as colonialism and slavery, in all of its diversity, including, but not limited to perspectives from North American, European, Latin America, Caribbean, and/or African traditions and approaches. This scholar will assist the department in developing the breadth of analytical insight that Black political theory offers and in working toward the decentring of Western theoretical frameworks within our disciplines. By Western political theoretical frameworks, we refer not to geographical location, but to the canon of political thought that has arisen out of exclusionary disciplinary practices in Europe/North America and that centres whiteness.

Recognizing the underrepresentation of Black faculty at Queen’s, this candidate is expected to play a central role in the development of the Black Studies Minor degree at Queen’s, through advancing research and teaching in the analysis of race and racism, through providing a global scope of analysis, and through addressing such fundamental concerns as human freedom, historic injustice, and the impact of colonialism. Queen’s University and the Departments of Philosophy and Political Studies have vigorous commitments to anti-racism, equity, diversity and inclusion, and this exciting new position will enhance our aspirations and efforts.

The successful candidate must have a PhD or equivalent degree in Philosophy, Political Studies, or a related discipline completed by the appointment start date. ABDS will be considered only with scheduled defense dates. They are expected to play a major role in delivery of graduate and undergraduate programs in the Department of Philosophy or the Department of Political Studies (department to be chosen by the selected candidate) and the Black Studies undergraduate program at Queen’s and will be expected also to undertake a significant research program in this important field. Collaboration with scholars and students in both units and beyond would be welcome and would build on a longstanding successful record of cooperation.

The main criteria for selection are academic and teaching excellence. The successful candidate will provide evidence of high-quality scholarly output that demonstrates a record for independent research leading to peer-assessed publications. A commitment to seek to secure external research funding, as well as strong potential for outstanding teaching contributions at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, dedication to academic and pedagogical excellence, and an ongoing commitment to fostering equity and diversity are requirements for this position. The successful candidate will be expected to make contributions through service to the Department, Faculty, University, and/or broader community. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Queen’s University is one of Canada’s leading research-intensive universities with a global reputation and is a recognized leader in Canadian higher education. The Departments of Philosophy and Political Studies are both mid-sized units with strong undergraduate, Master’s and Doctoral programs and outstanding global reputations. Queen’s historic campus is located in the heart of the vibrant Kingston community in the Thousand Islands region of South Eastern Ontario. Queen’s is positioned centrally with respect to three major metropolitan areas: Toronto, Montreal, and Ottawa. Additional information about Queen’s University can be found at http://www.queensu.ca/facultyrecruitment. The University is situated on the traditional territories of the Haudenosaunee and Anishinaabe, in historic Kingston on the shores of Lake Ontario. Kingston’s residents enjoy an outstanding quality of life with a wide range of cultural, recreational, and creative opportunities. Visit Inclusive Queen’s for information on equity, diversity and inclusion resources and initiatives.

People from across Canada and around the world come to learn, teach and carry out research at Queen’s University. Faculty and their dependents are eligible for an extensive benefits package including prescription drug coverage, vision care, dental care, long term disability insurance, life insurance and access to the Employee and Family Assistance Program. You will also participate in a pension plan. Tuition assistance is available for qualifying employees, their spouses and dependent children. Queen’s values families and is pleased to provide a ‘top up’ to government parental leave benefits for eligible employees on maternity/parental leave. In addition, Queen’s provides partial reimbursement for eligible daycare expenses for employees with dependent children in daycare. Details are set out in the Queen’s-QUFA Collective Agreement. For more information on employee benefits, see Queen’s Human Resources.

Queen’s University has developed a special program, as described by the Ontario Human Rights Commission, in connection with the search to fill this position.

This opportunity is open only to qualified individuals who self-identify as Black persons including those from Africa or of the African diaspora (e.g. African and Africa descended people from the Caribbean, North America, Europe, or Latin America). Recognizing the intersectionality of identities within Black communities, applications from Black candidates who also, for example, identify as women, persons with disabilities, and 2S/LGBTQ+ persons are welcome. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, in accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8845
June 2021
To comply with federal laws, the University is obliged to gather statistical information as to how many applicants for each job vacancy are Canadian citizens / permanent residents of Canada. Applicants need not identify their country of origin or citizenship; however, all applications must include one of the following statements: “I am a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada”; OR, “I am not a Canadian citizen / permanent resident of Canada”. Applications that do not include this information will be deemed incomplete.

In addition, the impact of certain circumstances that may legitimately affect a nominee’s record of research achievement will be given careful consideration when assessing the nominee’s research productivity. Candidates are encouraged to provide any relevant information about their experience and/or career interruptions.

A complete application consists of:

• a cover letter (including one of the two statements regarding Canadian citizenship / permanent resident status specified in the previous paragraph);
• a current Curriculum Vitae (including a list of publications);
• a statement of research interests;
• a statement of teaching interests and experience (including teaching outlines and evaluations if available);
• a statement of experience in and commitment to facilitating and promoting of equity, diversity, and inclusion;
• a writing sample; and,
• three letters of reference.

The application deadline is May 15, 2021. However, the selection process will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should send all documents, in their application packages by email as a single PDF to Michelle Knapp-Hermer at knappm@queensu.ca although hard copy applications may be submitted to:
Department Manager
Michelle Knapp-Hermer
Department of Political Studies
Queen’s University
Mackintosh-Corry Hall, Room C321
68 University Ave
Kingston, ON, K7L 3N6

Applicants should arrange for three letters of reference to be sent by the closing date of May 15, 2021. Letters should be dated, and include the referee’s name, position, department, institution, email address and telephone number, the name of the nominee, and the period of time and the capacity in which the referee has known the nominee.

The University will provide support in its recruitment processes to applicants with disabilities, including accommodation that takes into account an applicant’s accessibility needs. If you require accommodation during the interview process, please contact Michelle Knapp-Hermer at knappm@queensu.ca.

Academic staff at Queen’s University are governed by a Collective Agreement between the University and the Queen’s University Faculty Association (QUFA), posted at http://www.qufa.ca and at http://queensu.ca/facultyrelations/faculty-librarians-and-archivists/collective-agreement.

Only candidates selected for interviews will be contacted.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 5/15/2021
Date Posted: 4/13/2021

University of South Carolina
Rank: Postdoc Position in the Founding Documents
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Political Theory

Two Year (renewable) Post-Doc Fellowships in the Founding Documents (2)
University of South Carolina, Columbia
July 1, 2021 - June 30, 2023/4

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina is pleased to invite applications for two new two-year (renewable for a third year) Post-Doctoral Political Science Teaching Fellowships focused on teaching and interpreting the documents on which the United States was founded (including the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, Federalist Papers, Emancipation Proclamation, other freedom papers, and more). Two Founding Documents Post-Docs are available, both beginning on July 1, 2021. These twelve-month positions include a five-course teaching load (two in the Fall, two in the Spring, and one in Summer session).

Candidates with interests in the fields of American Politics, Public Law, or American Political Theory are encouraged to apply.

This opportunity is the result of new legislation in South Carolina (the REACH Act) that requires college students in the state to complete a three-credit course that includes the American founding documents.

We seek candidates who are committed to teaching students how to place these documents into the intellectual history of democracy within and beyond the United States. Teaching will be limited to courses that satisfy the State’s Founding Documents requirement (including POLI 201: American National Government; POLI 304: Contemporary Political Theory; POLI 450: Constitutional Law; POLI 451: Civil Liberties; POLI 452: The Judicial Process).

Requirements:
1. Completion of a Political Science PhD by May 2021 (ABDs are NOT eligible for consideration)
2. Demonstrable experience teaching or researching the history of democracy and/or the founding documents of the United States

Applications should include a cover letter, a statement of commitment to teaching Founding Documents, two letters of reference, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a transcript that states degree completion no later than May 2021 should be submitted through https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/95653

For best consideration, a complete application should be submitted by April 16, 2021. Applications will be reviewed until the positions are filled.

For questions concerning this position, please contact, Dr. Robert Oldendick, Chair of the Search Committee, at oldendick-bob@sc.edu.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state’s flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 &quot;Best Colleges&quot; according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state’s educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender, age, disability, veteran status or genetics.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8799

Bucknell University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor (Political Theory)

Bucknell University’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position in political theory beginning in the fall semester of 2021. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach sections of a core course in political theory, a course in American political thought, and other electives in the candidate’s area of specialization. The teaching load is three courses per semester.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department’s commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate excellence in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinarity. Evidence of teaching experience, potential for teaching excellence, and the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. or be ABD in political science with a subfield specialization in political theory.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Scott Meinke at smeinke@bucknell.edu. Applications received by April 15, 2021 will receive full consideration.

About Bucknell University

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed these goals. Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8704

Ashoka University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor Position in Political Science

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for at least one Visiting Assistant Professor position with an expected start date of July 1, 2021 and end date of June 30, 2022.

We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications from women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) three confidential letters of reference.

Note: The Ashoka job portal further asks for statements of teaching and research philosophy for all applications. For this search they are optional.

All materials should be submitted through: https://facultypositions.ashoka.edu.in/

The deadline for submitting a complete application is: April 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 4/29/2021
Date Posted: 3/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8640
Mohammed IV Polytechnic University
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in political science- Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Call for application:

Tenure-Track Position in Political science- Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Position: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor level
Location: Rabat, Morocco
Salary: Very competitive
Hours: Full-time
Contract type: Tenure-track
Application deadline: May 31, 2021

Mohammed VI Polytechnic University (UM6P) is a recently established non-profit Higher Education institution with campuses throughout Morocco, and with the ambition to promote high-quality, world-class education and research. It aims to contribute to the development of African countries through a two-fold objective: to train the next generation of African social science scholars and leaders, and to produce cutting-edge research that informs policy and solve the challenges facing society. To further this aim, the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) is looking to appoint several tenure-track positions in Political science.

Job Description and Duties: We are open to candidates with a research expertise in any area of political science. Regardless of area of interest however, solid candidates with strong teaching and supervision experience as well as a robust publication record will be given serious consideration. The expected start date for the position is September 2021. For this reason, successful candidates are expected to be ready to take on teaching responsibilities at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Academic staff members are expected to actively participate in the Faculty’s intellectual life and public engagement and to advance the purposes and the ambition of UM6P. We are looking for serious scholars and dedicated teachers who can engage a diverse, multicultural community of students and researchers.

Qualifications: the successful candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political science or cognate disciplines, demonstrated experience in teaching, and solid publications in peer-reviewed journals. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach one or more of the following subjects:
- Political history
- Political theory/philosophy/taught
- Political science comparative studies
- Qualitative and quantitative methods

Salary and Benefits: We offer a generous expatriate contract with a competitive salary and benefits that meet international standards. Salary packages are commensurate with experience. Benefits include a generous housing allowance, tuition allowance for dependents, medical insurance, retirement pension, free access to wellness services, and much more. The University also provides start-up and relocation support.

Job location: Our state-of-the-art facilities in the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) are in Rabat. The Kingdom’s capital offers easy access to scholars interested in conducting field research in Africa and the Middle East. In addition, Rabat offers a good quality of life, a moderate weather all year round, and direct flights to most African, European, and North American capitals. Application requirements: the application consists of the following:
- Application Statement (candidates must specify at which level they wish their application to be considered)
- Curriculum Vitae
- Full list of publications
- Copy of the Ph.D. degree
- Previous teaching experience including teaching evaluations and at least one course outline.

Applications must be submitted to recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma, by May 31, 2021. Please attach a single file containing all the above and use “political science” in the subject line. An interdisciplinary committee will review all applications. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for an interview via videoconference. All enquiries should be sent to: recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 4/15/2021
Date Posted: 2/18/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8612

University of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor in Ethics in AI

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Intelligence, Science & Technology

The Department of Philosophy at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, tenure-accruing position in Philosophy at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning August 16, 2021. Applicants are expected to have a Ph.D. in Philosophy by that effective date. The salary is competitive, commensurate with qualifications and experience, and includes a full benefits package.

The area of specialization is Ethics (Normative or Applied) or Social and Political Philosophy with a focus on the Ethics of Artificial Intelligence (AI). Candidates should have a research agenda in the ethics of data science and machine learning with the potential for collaboration with other fields in which the use or development of AI may be significant – including not only computer science and/or statistics but possibly also such fields as African-American studies, biology, criminology, medicine, political science, sociology, psychology, or women’s studies. The successful candidate will have expertise in analyzing ethical and social issues arising from algorithmic modelling and decision-making.

The successful candidate will be expected to (1) maintain an active research agenda, (2) teach four courses per academic year at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and (3) provide service to the department, the university, and the profession.

This search is part of a campus wide effort by the University of Florida to expand the role of AI in higher education and research (https://ai.ufl.edu). The University is home to HiPerGator, one of the most powerful high-performance computers at a US public university (www.rc.ufl.edu/services/hipergator/). The Department of Philosophy is centrally involved in research and curricular initiatives relating to this effort. Additional information about the department, its current faculty, and programs may be found at http://phil.ufl.edu/

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8612
Salisbury University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Salisbury University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. This is a full time, 10-month position.

Primary Job Duties: The Department seeks candidates whose expertise is in one or more of the following fields: racial and ethnic politics, political theory, and law and judicial politics. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper level courses in political theory and/or American politics (political institutions and behavior and courses in the Law, Justice and Advocacy minor). The candidate will also be able to teach a research methods course. Academic advising and student mentoring are also expected as well as ongoing scholarly activities. The teaching load is 3-3 of 4 credit hour courses.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in Political Science. If ABD, applicant would be hired at the rank of Instructor and must complete doctoral degree by: May 2022. Demonstrated evidence of a strong commitment to undergraduate teaching.

Preferred Qualifications: Evidence of a commitment to political engagement, an active research agenda, curriculum development, and undergraduate research mentorship.

Applications received by October 15, 2020 will receive full consideration. The position will remain open until filled. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. Appointment will be contingent upon verification of eligibility to work in the U.S. and is expected to begin August 2021. Please visit our website http://www.salisbury.edu/HR/careers/ to apply online. See the FAQs of the Online Employment Application System for more information and instructions.

To be considered an applicant, you must apply online and submit the following: 1) A letter of interest; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) statements of research and teaching interests; 4) unofficial transcripts; 5) the names and contact information of at least three professional references. All documents must be submitted with your application in the online employment application system. Questions about the position should be directed to the search chair, Dr. Sarah Surak at smsurak@salisbury.edu.

This position is based in Salisbury, MD, an area with a culturally diverse population with rich cultural experiences. Salisbury University, a member of the University System of Maryland is a regionally accredited four-year comprehensive institution offering 60 distinct graduate and undergraduate programs. Founded in 1925, Salisbury University features a beautiful campus close to ocean beaches and the Chesapeake Bay and 2-3 hours from the metropolitan areas of Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia, and Norfolk. SU is consistently ranked among the nation’s top colleges and ‘best values’ by U.S. News and World Report, The Princeton Review and other publications. SU has 440 full-time faculty members serving a student population of approximately 8700.

Diversity and inclusion are core values of Salisbury University. We strive to create a truly diverse and inclusive environment where the richness of ideas, backgrounds, and perspectives of our community is harnessed to create value for our University community to include students, faculty, and staff, today and in the future. To this end, the University recruits exceptional and diverse faculty, staff, and students from across Maryland, the United States, and around the world, supporting all members of the University community as they work together to achieve institutional goals and vision. To learn more about the University’s commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive campus, please visit http://www.salisbury.edu/equity/.

Applications will be accepted via Salisbury University’s online employment application system.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/30/2020

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 7950

---

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Miami University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/ Instructor in Public Administration

Visiting Assistant Professor/ Instructor in Public Administration to teach courses across the public administration core and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2021.

Required: Ph.D. at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor; ABD for appointment as Instructor. This position is not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Consideration may be given to candidates who possess teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/498593/visiting-assistant-professor-instructor-in-public-administration. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 17, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/26/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8832

---

The University of Iowa

Rank: Stanley Family and Hua Hsia Chair in Chinese Culture and Institutions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

The University of Iowa College of Liberal Arts and Sciences invite applications for the position of C. Maxwell and Elizabeth M. Stanley Family and Hua Hsia Chair in Chinese Culture and Institutions. The successful candidate will be appointed as a full professor with tenure to commence in August 2022. The position will be situated in a department appropriate to the specialization of the candidate, where normal review process, assignment of teaching duties, and responsibility for mentorship etc. will reside. The position is an endowed chair.
Please submit applications via our program website: https://marymount.edu/academics/politics-search

Or directly through Marymount’s HR website: https://marymount.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Careers/job/Main-Campus/Assistant-Professor--Politics--Tenure-Track--R887

Please feel free to contact Chad Rector (crector@marymount.edu) and Margaret Tseng (mtseng@marymount.edu) with any questions.

About the politics program at Marymount:

Marymount’s Politics program is part of the Marymount University School of Humanities, housed in the College of Sciences and Humanities. Faculty are expected to teach high-quality student-centric undergraduate courses in face-to-face settings. The College of Sciences and Humanities is located on Marymount University’s Main Campus.

Marymount University welcomes and values all members of our community. Guided by the mission of our founders, the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary (RSHM), to achieve unity through diversity, Marymount honors our diversity as a source of strength. Our differences inspire intellectual curiosity and collectively allow us to tackle the challenges of the world. We seek to foster an inclusive community in which each person’s race, ethnicity, religion, sex, gender identity, sexual orientation, veteran status, age, ability, class, national origin, and immigration status are fully respected and celebrated. According to the vision of the RSHM that “ALL may have life, and have it to the FULL,” we strive to create an atmosphere of mutual respect, cooperation, and civility where all community members are S.A.I.N.T.S—Safe, Accepted, Included, Needed, Treasured, and Seen.

Major duties and responsibilities

- Support and integrate the mission and core values of Marymount University and Academic Affairs, including our commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Teach a 3/3 course load each year.
- Maintain a successful record of quality, peer reviewed scholarship.
- Maintain office hours at times which provide appropriate access to students.

Other duties

- Assume professional responsibilities as requested by the Dean of the College and/or School Director.
- Engage in on-going professional development which will include scholarship activities such as research, presentations, and participation with professional organizations.
- Contribute to the University, College of Sciences and Humanities, and School of Humanities functions and services, including assessments, and continuous improvement activities.

Job requirements

Ph.D. (or ABD with completion by 8/15/2021) in Politics/Political Science/Government from an accredited institution. Applicants with solely a J.D. and/or master’s degree are not eligible for this position.

Marymount provides equal employment opportunities to all employees and applicants for employment and prohibits discrimination and harassment of any type without regard to race, color, religion, age, sex, national origin, disability status, genetics, protected veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or any other characteristic protected by federal, state or local laws.
This policy applies to all terms and conditions of employment, including recruiting, hiring, placement, promotion, termination, layoff, recall, transfer, leaves of absence, compensation and training.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/27/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8898

University of California San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar, Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC)

Postdoctoral Scholar, Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC)

University of California San Diego

Postdoctoral Fellowship in Regional Security

Department: UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation, School of Global Policy and Strategy, UC San Diego

Salary: Commensurate with experience

Appointment: 1 year

Start date: July 1, 2021

Location: UC San Diego, La Jolla, CA

The UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC) invites applications for a one-year Postdoctoral Research Employee position in the area of Regional Security. Preference will be given to candidates with extensive expertise in studying regional security focused on the African context.

In addition to carrying out their own research, the appointee will work on the IGCC project on The Rise of Authoritarian International Organizations under the supervision of Professor Stephan Haggard at IGCC.

Postdoctoral responsibilities will primarily include:

1. Researching and writing on the rise of authoritarian international organizations and their activities;
2. Examining the effects of these organizations on the prospects for democratic rule;
3. Surveying authoritarian regional organizations and the development of their activities over time;
4. Researching and writing about prominent organizations headquartered in Africa that include Middle East members;
5. Attending book conferences, workshops, and other relevant activities

Applicants are required to have received a Ph.D. degree in Political Science by the start of appointment.

Application Process

Applications are now being accepted. All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://apptrkr.com/2274799

Electronically mailed applications are preferred and the fellowship committee will only review complete files. Phone interviews will be scheduled in early June and final notifications will be sent by the end of June. Queries regarding the position can be sent to Marie Thiveos Stewart at mthiveos@ucsd.edu.

UC San Diego is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/2274799

American University: School of Public Affairs

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Description

The Department of Justice, Law and Criminology in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a term faculty appointment for Academic Year 2021-2022. The appointment is a 9-month term position and will commence on August 30, 2021.

Applicants should hold a PhD in a relevant field (e.g. sociology, criminology, criminal justice, political science, international relations, or public policy) or other terminal degree. The position will require the incumbent to teach three courses per semester. All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Qualifications

The successful candidate will teach courses in Terrorism, Counterterrorism, Cybersecurity or Homeland Security (US or comparative), including (but not limited to) the following courses: Causes of Terrorism and Political Violence; Domestic Terrorism; Terrorism and Counterterrorism in Practice; U.S. Cyber Policy; and Homeland Security. Preference give for applicants who have experience teaching research methods at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Application Instructions

Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: http://apply.interfolio.com/87228. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three recommenders, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers. Please contact Katelyn Deibler, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or kdeibler@american.edu if you have any questions.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation’s capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Miami University
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in American Politics
Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in American Politics to teach courses in public law/courts and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2021.

Required: Ph.D. at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor; ABD for appointment as Instructor. Position not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Consideration may be given to candidates with teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught.

Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 20, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8840

SUNY, University at Albany
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor - 2 positions
Visiting Assistant Professor, Political Science (2 positions)

Rockefeller College of Public Affairs seeks two Visiting Assistant Professors in the fields of Public Law and American Politics. The appointment is in the Department of Political Science for academic year 2021-2022, with the possibility of renewal. The course load is four courses a year.

American Politics

The department’s priority is a scholar who will teach in the areas of the American presidency/executive politics, and/or campaigns and elections. Ability to teach other subjects in American Politics, such as Political Parties, American Political Development, and/or Racial and Ethnic Politics, will be considered a plus. The department also expects that the successful applicant will teach the introductory course in American Politics. Contributing to the diversity of the Department will also be considered a plus.

Public Law

One of the four courses taught during the year may be a topics courses of the visitor’s design, and another will be the introductory course in American Politics. The Department prefers candidates with an interest in American Political Development (APD). Ability to teach racial and ethnic politics and/or contributing to the diversity of the Department will also be considered a plus.

Applicants should at least have finished or be close to submitting their dissertation by the beginning of the fall 2021 semester. Candidates should have demonstrated the ability to work with and instruct culturally diverse groups of people. Their home university should be accredited by a USDOE or an internationally accrediting organization.

Please apply online via: https://albany.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=130245

All candidates should submit a statement of interest, a curriculum vita, a writing sample or publication, and available evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, student evaluations, and/or teaching statement) through Interview Exchange. Candidates should also arrange to have a graduate transcript and at least three letters of reference submitted through Interview Exchange.

Salary: $50,000 and benefits. Starting date is August 23, 2021.

All applications received by May 10, 2021 will be reviewed. Later applications will be considered as needed.

Located in a major governmental center, the Department has 21 full-time members and offers degrees at the bachelors, masters, and doctoral levels. The University at Albany (www.albany.edu) is one of four designated University Centers in the SUNY system.

Department Contact Person: Meredith Weiss, Chair, mweiss@albany.edu

About University at Albany:
Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany’s broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research and public service engages a diverse student body of more than 17,900 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State’s capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City and the Adirondacks.

Additional Information
The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University’s crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University’s current campus security policies. The University at Albany’s Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml.

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor’s Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8884
University of South Carolina

Rank: Postdoc Position in the Founding Documents

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Political Theory

Two Year (renewable) Post-Doc Fellowships in the Founding Documents (2)
University of South Carolina, Columbia
July 1, 2021 - June 30, 2023/4

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina is pleased to invite applications for two new two-year (renewable for a third year) Post-Doctoral Political Science Teaching Fellowships focused on teaching and interpreting the documents on which the United States was founded (including the Declaration of Independence, Constitution, Federalist Papers, Emancipation Proclamation, other freedom papers, and more). Two Founding Documents Post-Docs are available, both beginning on July 1, 2021. These twelve-month positions include a five-course teaching load (two in the Fall, two in the Spring, and one in Summer session).

Candidates with interests in the fields of American Politics, Public Law, or American Political Theory are encouraged to apply.

This opportunity is the result of new legislation in South Carolina (the REACH Act) that requires college students in the state to complete a three-credit course that includes the American founding documents. We seek candidates who are committed to teaching students how to place these documents into the intellectual history of democracy within and beyond the United States. Teaching will be limited to courses that satisfy the State’s Founding Documents requirement (including POLI 201: American National Government; POLI 304: Contemporary Political Theory; POLI 450: Constitutional Law; POLI 451: Civil Liberties; POLI 452: The Judicial Process).

Requirements:
1. Completion of a Political Science PhD by May 2021 (ABDs are NOT eligible for consideration)
2. Demonstrable experience teaching or researching the history of democracy and/or the founding documents of the United States

Applications should include a cover letter, a statement of commitment to teaching Founding Documents, two letters of reference, a statement of teaching philosophy, and a transcript that states degree completion no later than May 2021 should be submitted through https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/95653

For best consideration, a complete application should be submitted by April 16, 2021. Applications will be reviewed until the positions are filled.

For questions concerning this position, please contact, Dr. Robert Oldendick, Chair of the Search Committee, at oldendick-bob@sc.edu.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state’s flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 “Best Colleges” according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state’s educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender, age, disability, veteran status or genetics.

Texas Christian University

Rank: Visiting Lecturer in American Judicial Politics

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a one-year lecturer position in American Judicial Politics for the 2021-22 academic year. We seek candidates who are able to teach courses in Constitutional Law (including powers, rights, and liberties), the judicial process, and other courses related to American judicial politics. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 4/4 teaching load, and the salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, transcript, a portfolio of teaching materials (including a teaching philosophy statement and sample syllabus in an upper level course in the field of American Judicial Politics), and a one-page diversity statement. All materials are to be submitted online at https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtaledqacquisition@tcu.edu. The finalists for the position will be asked either to submit a video of a teaching demonstration in front of students (approximately 45 minutes in length) or will be asked to give a teaching demonstration during an interview.

We will review applications on receipt and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtaledqacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair Dr. Ralph Carter at r.carter@tcu.edu.

A selective teaching and research university with 11,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution committed to academic freedom located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 13th largest city in the United States and part of the nation’s fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for eight consecutive years as one of the “Great Colleges to Work For” by The Chronicle of Higher Education. The TCU Political Science Department has sixteen full-time faculty with nearly 400 majors.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/17/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 8708

DePaul University
Rank: Instructor

The Department of Political Science at DePaul University invites applications for a full time, non-tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of American Politics and Public Law. Responsibilities will include teaching courses on American Institutions (the Presidency and Congress) and areas of Constitutional law and the judicial process. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach introductory American Government and Political Science courses. In addition, the position will have administrative responsibilities overseeing the Department’s internship program. The position will begin in the Fall Quarter of 2021.

Required Qualifications:

A Ph.D. is preferred at the time of appointment, but ABD candidates will be considered. A Juris Doctorate degree will not be considered sufficient. Experience working with students outside of the classroom, or in Washington DC, will be given preference, as will an ability to teach research methods. Candidates should electronically submit the following: (1) a letter of application (cover letter), (2) a CV, (3) an unofficial transcript of the last degree (earned or in progress), (4) syllabi and (5) complete course evaluations if available. This material should be submitted via DePaul’s Faculty Opportunities website at https://academics.depaul.edu/faculty-jobs/Pages/default.aspx
Finalists will also be asked to submit three letters of recommendation.

The screening of applications will begin April 9, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

About DePaul

With a total enrollment over 22,000 students, DePaul is one of the largest private non-profit universities in the nation. Yet the class size in its academic programs typically does not exceed 40 students, reflecting the value the university places on teaching excellence. Our programs provide high quality, personalized, accessible education to a diverse student body, grounded in the values of St. Vincent de Paul. Our teaching and research advance knowledge and service to society.

DePaul seeks applicants who reflect the diversity of its student body and the city of Chicago. Those with experience working with diverse faculty, staff, and students, and who can contribute to an inclusive climate are encouraged to apply. We urge candidates to provide examples of their successes in these areas. Women, members of historically underrepresented groups, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged to apply.

For more information, e-mail polisci@depaul.edu or visit the department’s web site at https://las.depaul.edu/academics/political-science/Pages/default.aspx

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8662

Howard University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Law, Comparative Politics
Specialization(s): Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics, International Law & Organizations

The Department of Political Science (POLS) in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor with research interests in the area of International Relations and Public Law. The successful candidate will be prepared to conduct externally-funded research in the area of international relations, comparative politics, and law and politics. We envision the successful candidate’s expertise as expansive and methodologically diverse, concerned with how the law constitutes and orders political and social relationships around the world, inclusive of judicial behavior and politics, constitutional development, comparative constitutional politics, international law and courts, and law and society. The successful candidate will be expected to play a key role in our undergraduate pre-law program, the POLS Bachelor of Arts to Juris Doctor (B.A.-J.D.) joint degree program, and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in international relations, judicial politics, and comparative constitutional law.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates are expected to develop vigorous, extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department’s teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented students is highly desired. Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis on educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as a Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity research by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation’s capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications:
• Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution;
• Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor;
• Effective communication and organizational skills; and
• Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing:
1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above
2) Current curriculum vita
3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans
4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy
5) A writing sample
6) Three letters of recommendation

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee: Dr. Michael Fauntroy at IRSearch@Howard.edu. Applications can be submitted electronically via Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18072.

Screening will begin on February 24, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 16, 2021. Additional details and information can be found at http://coas.howard.edu.

The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity, marital status, religion, disability or protected veterans status. Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, Equal Employment Opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of Employee Relations and Equal Employment Opportunity at 202-806-1280

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 2/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8624

Mohammed IV Polytechnic University
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in international law-Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Call for application:
Tenure-Track Position in International law-Assistant/Associate/Full Professor levels

Position: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor level
Location: Rabat, Morocco
Salary: Very competitive

Hours: Full-time
Contract type: Tenure-track
Application deadline: May 31, 2021
Mohammed VI Polytechnic University (UM6P) is a recently established non-profit Higher Education institution with campuses throughout Morocco, and with the ambition to promote high-quality, world-class education and research. It aims to contribute to the development of African countries through a two-fold objective: to train the next generation of African social science scholars and leaders, and to produce cutting-edge research that informs policy and solve the challenges facing society. To further this aim, the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) is looking to appoint several tenure-track positions in International law.

Job Description and Duties: We are open to candidates with a research expertise in any area of International law. Regardless of area of interest however, solid candidates with strong teaching and supervision experience as well as a robust publication record will be given serious consideration. The expected start date for the position is September 2021. For this reason, successful candidates are expected to be ready to take on teaching responsibilities at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Academic staff members are expected to actively participate in the Faculty’s intellectual life and public engagement and to advance the purposes and the ambition of UM6P. We are looking for serious scholars and dedicated teachers who can engage a diverse, multicultural community of students and researchers.

Qualifications: the successful candidates must have a Ph.D. in International law or cognate disciplines, demonstrated experience in teaching, and solid publications in peer-reviewed journals. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach one or more of the following subjects:
• International law institutions and sources
• International law interpretation and analysis
• International peace and security
• International human rights law
• International environmental law

Salary and Benefits: We offer a generous expatriate contract with a competitive salary and benefits that meet international standards. Salary packages are commensurate with experience. Benefits include a generous housing allowance, tuition allowance for dependents, medical insurance, retirement pension, free access to wellness services, and much more. The University also provides start-up and relocation support.

Job location: Our state-of-the-art facilities in the Faculty of Governance, Economics and Social Sciences (FGSES) are in Rabat. The Kingdom’s capital offers easy access to scholars interested in conducting field research in Africa and the Middle East. In addition, Rabat offers a good quality of life, a moderate weather all year round, and direct flights to most African, European, and North American capitals.

Application requirements: the application consists of the following:
• ? Application Statement (candidates must specify at which level they wish their application to be considered)
• ? Curriculum Vitae
• ? Full list of publications
• ? Copy of the Ph.D. degree
• ? Previous teaching experience including teaching evaluations and at least one course outline.

Applications must be submitted to recruitment.humanities@um6p.ma, by May 31, 2021. Please attach a single file containing all the above and use “political science” in the subject line. An interdisciplinary committee will review all applications. Shortlisted candidates will be invited for an interview.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Wheaton College
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2021. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenured-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu. Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning February 15, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by February 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8616

PUBLIC POLICY
Princeton University
Rank: SPIA Postdoctoral Research Associate - Diversity

The School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral research associate or more senior research appointment to assist with efforts to better incorporate issues of race, ethnicity, power, and inequality into the study of public policy. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will help to create policy modules for a new summer course.

The postdoc would be available to consult with other faculty who wish to better incorporate readings on policy issues related to racial equity and inclusion into their courses. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to participate actively in the intellectual activities of Princeton University.

A doctorate in Economics, History, Politics, Public Policy, Social Policy, Sociology, or related discipline is required. A focus on race, ethnicity, and/or gender, and the interaction with policy issues, along with policy experience is highly preferred. Applicants must apply online at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/20641 and submit a cover letter, CV, and contact information for two recommendations, one of which should be from the principal advisor of the doctorate program.

Review of applications will begin on July 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. A competitive salary, commensurate with experience, and excellent benefits will be offered. The appointment is for one year with the possibility for extension pending satisfactory performance and continued funding.

This position is subject to the university’s background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University’s dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8901

Texas A&M University
Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department’s required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site http://apply.interfolio.com/86435 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8893

University of California San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar, Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC)

Postdoctoral Scholar, Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC)

University of California San Diego
Postdoctoral Fellowship in Regional Security
Department: UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation, School of Global Policy and Strategy, UC San Diego

Salary: Commensurate with experience
Appointment: 1 year
Start date: July 1, 2021
Location: UC San Diego, La Jolla, CA

The UC Institute on Global Conflict and Cooperation (IGCC) invites applications for a one-year Postdoctoral Research Employee position in the area of Regional Security. Preference will be given to candidates with extensive expertise in studying regional security focused on the African context.

In addition to carrying out their own research, the appointee will work on the IGCC project on The Rise of Authoritarian International Organizations under the supervision of Professor Stephan Haggard at IGCC.

Postdoctoral responsibilities will primarily include:
1. Researching and writing about the rise of authoritarian international organizations and their activities;
2. Examining the effects of these organizations on the prospects for democratic rule;
3. Surveying authoritarian regional organizations and the development of their activities over time;
4. Researching and writing about prominent organizations headquartered in Africa that include Middle East members;
5. Attending book conferences, workshops, and other relevant activities

Applicants are required to have received a Ph.D. degree in Political Science by the start of appointment.

Application Process
Applications are now being accepted. All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://apptrkr.com/2274799

Electronically mailed applications are preferred and the fellowship committee will only review complete files. Phone interviews will be scheduled in early June and final notifications will be sent by the end of June. Queries regarding the position can be sent to Marie Thiveos Stewart at mthiveos@ucsd.edu.

UC San Diego is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/2274799

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

American University: School of Public Affairs

Rank: Professorial Lecturer

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

Description
The Department of Justice, Law and Criminology in the School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a term faculty appointment for Academic Year 2021-2022. The appointment is a 9-month term position and will commence on August 30, 2021.
Applicants should hold a PhD in a relevant field (e.g., sociology, criminology, criminal justice, political science, international relations, or public policy) or other terminal degree. The position will require the incumbent to teach three courses per semester. All faculty are expected to hold office hours and participate in School and University activities and service.

Qualifications
The successful candidate will teach courses in Terrorism, Counterterrorism, Cybersecurity or Homeland Security (US or comparative), including (but not limited to) the following courses: Causes of Terrorism and Political Violence; Domestic Terrorism; Terrorism and Counterterrorism in Practice; U.S. Cyber Policy; and Homeland Security. Preference give for applicants who have experience teaching research methods at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Application Instructions
Salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled, subject to on-going budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: http://apply.interfolio.com/87228. Include a letter of application, curriculum vitae, contact information for three recommenders, recent teaching evaluations (when possible), and copies of recent published papers or working papers. Please contact Katelyn Deibler, Faculty Coordinator, 202-885-6201 or kdeibler@american.edu if you have any questions.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation’s capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8884

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate: Cognitive Science + Big Data for Sustainable Energy Transformation

Specializations: Energy Policy, Political Psychology, Science & Technology

The Center for Policy Research on Energy and the Environment at Princeton University invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior researcher in cognitive science and big data to facilitate social and policy change for a sustainable energy transformation. This person will conduct research that uses big data including text corpuses and theory-based as well as data-based (machine learning) interpretation of such data to extract patterns and dynamic processes in the behavior of individuals, groups, and organizations that contribute to or reduce greenhouse-gas emissions. Successful applicants should be skilled in: 1) retrieval of such data (e.g., digital news, social media, etc.), 2) computational methods to extract information from such data, 3) psychological or behavioral science research methods, 4) quantitative analysis and modeling methods applied to assessment of human responses to climate change or other social change. This research effort aims to combine diverse methods and lines of evidence to improve individual choice and private and public sector policy design and implementation in domains where faulty incentives and bounded rationality are barriers to environmental sustainability and justice. The position reports to Professor Elke Weber and will collaborate with other researchers in Princeton’s Andlinger Center for Energy and the Environment and Department of Psychology. The appointment will be through the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs. The appointment is for one year, and may be renewed pending satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A PhD is required in a related field. Salary and full employee benefits are offered in accordance with University guidelines.

Applicants must submit a CV, contact information for three references, and a cover letter describing their areas of expertise and interest. References may be contacted for the candidates who make the shortlist for this position. The submission must be online via AHIRE link: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/20441

The review process will commence immediately and continue until the position is filled. This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/18/2021
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8887

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Other Specializations: Public Opinion, Science & Technology, Research Methods

Postdoctoral fellowship program in Science of Science Communication at the Annenberg Public Policy Center of the University of Pennsylvania

As part of its Annenberg Center for the Advanced Study of Communication, the Annenberg Public Policy Center (APPC) of the University of Pennsylvania’s postdoctoral fellowship program in the Science of Science Communication (SSC) is accepting applications for the 2021-2022 academic year. Fellows in the program will work closely with other fellows and senior researchers of APPC on scholarship designed to understand how social and communication factors influence people’s beliefs in science. Researchers with basic interests (e.g., source credibility, communication processes, and either belief formation) and applied interests (e.g., climate change, vaccines, and COVID-19) are encouraged to apply.

More information about APPC and its Science of Science Communication research can be found at: http://www.annenbergpublicpolicycenter.org/science-communication/

Applicants should submit a cover letter as well as a curriculum vitae, a letter of reference from the dissertation advisor, and a description of the applicant’s scholarly interests. First-year fellows will receive a stipend of $65,000 and serve in a 12-month appointment, beginning either July 1, 2021 or January 1, 2022. An allowance of up to $1,500 will be provided to offset pre-approved, receipt-documented relocation expenses, and APPC will reimburse up to $2,000 in travel to high-level conferences to present APPC research (subject to any applicable university Covid-19 travel restrictions). Renewal for a second year is contingent upon performance and budgetary considerations.

We are seeking fellows who apply a variety of disciplinary and methodological approaches, and have completed a Ph.D. within the last five years.

Applications should be submitted at: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/20441

More information about APPC and its Science of Science Communication research can be found at: http://www.annenbergpublicpolicycenter.org/science-communication/

Applicants should submit a cover letter as well as a curriculum vitae, a letter of reference from the dissertation advisor, and a description of the applicant’s scholarly interests. First-year fellows will receive a stipend of $65,000 and serve in a 12-month appointment, beginning either July 1, 2021 or January 1, 2022. An allowance of up to $1,500 will be provided to offset pre-approved, receipt-documented relocation expenses, and APPC will reimburse up to $2,000 in travel to high-level conferences to present APPC research (subject to any applicable university Covid-19 travel restrictions). Renewal for a second year is contingent upon performance and budgetary considerations.

More information about APPC and its Science of Science Communication research can be found at: http://www.annenbergpublicpolicycenter.org/science-communication/

Applicants should submit a cover letter as well as a curriculum vitae, a letter of reference from the dissertation advisor, and a description of the applicant’s scholarly interests. First-year fellows will receive a stipend of $65,000 and serve in a 12-month appointment, beginning either July 1, 2021 or January 1, 2022. An allowance of up to $1,500 will be provided to offset pre-approved, receipt-documented relocation expenses, and APPC will reimburse up to $2,000 in travel to high-level conferences to present APPC research (subject to any applicable university Covid-19 travel restrictions). Renewal for a second year is contingent upon performance and budgetary considerations.

More information about APPC and its Science of Science Communication research can be found at: http://www.annenbergpublicpolicycenter.org/science-communication/
Please send the letter of interest, CV, and names of two references to finance@appc.upenn.edu. The letter of reference should be sent to the same email address by the dissertation adviser.

Deadline for submission is June 15 to begin in the Fall 2021 and October 1 to begin in the Spring of 2022. Earlier submission is encouraged and decisions will be made on a rolling basis.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8866

Trinity College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Public Policy and Law
Specializations: Environmental Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Health Care

Trinity College’s Public Policy and Law program invites applications for a two-year visiting assistant professor position commencing in the fall of 2021. We are seeking candidates with expertise in social, health, or environmental policy, especially those whose research involves racial justice, economic inequality, health equity, or environmental justice. Teaching load is 5 courses a year. Teaching responsibilities will include an introduction to U.S. public policy, an introductory undergraduate research methods class, and courses in the candidate’s area of expertise. A Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or another social science discipline should be in hand or expected by August 2021.

We encourage applicants who share our commitment to diversity and inclusion. We especially welcome applications from women and underrepresented racial/ethnic groups. The College is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer.

Trinity College is a highly selective, independent, nonsectarian liberal arts institution located in Connecticut’s capital, Hartford. With over 2100 full-time undergraduate students and 91 graduate students, the College maintains a rigorous academic profile complemented by a vibrant co-curricular program. The College enjoys the benefit of being situated in an urban center and has strong connections to our home city of Hartford. Our student body is diverse, representing 41 states and 70 countries with 21% students of color and 50% women.

To ensure full consideration please submit a letter of application (including statement of research and teaching interests), CV, sample of scholarly writing, teaching evaluations, and syllabi (if available) to https://trincoll.peopleadmin.comhttps://trincoll.peopleadmin.com&lt;/a&gt; by May 28, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8866

University of California San Diego
Rank: Temporary Lecturers in the School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS)
Specializations: Environmental Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Health Care

San Diego, is committed to academic excellence and diversity within the faculty, staff and student body.

Pending budgetary approval, several non tenure-track lectureships are expected to be available for the 2021-2022 academic year, and possibly Summer Session 2022. Appointments may be for one or more quarters/sessions based on department need.

In compliance with the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, individuals offered employment with the University of California must be authorized to work in the United States.

The 9-month salary and level of appointment are based on qualifications and UC pay scale.

Applications received by September 15, 2021 will be given full consideration.

To apply, please visit: https://aptrkr.com/2249627

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
jeid-f39d1c6c586f9546b113a0aff15afdb0

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 2/28/2022
Date Posted: 5/6/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 8860

German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA)
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow (m/f/d)
Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

The GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies / Leibniz-Institut für Globale und Regionale Studien is an independent social science research institute based in Hamburg, Germany. It analyses political, social, and economic developments in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East, and links this knowledge to questions of global significance. It combines region-specific analysis with innovative comparative research on accountability and participation, peace and security, globalisation and development, and global orders and foreign policies. The GIGA is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (m/f/d)

Applications are invited for a full-time position (100%), with a contract of three years, prefera-bly starting 1 November 2021. The salary is commensurate with TV-AVH / TVöD EG 13.

The successful candidate will work in the project ‘COVID-19 and Executive Personalization in Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America and the MENA Region’ funded by the German Re-search Foundation / Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft. This project is co-lead by Dr. David Kuehn, Prof. Mariana Llanos and Dr. Thomas Richter.

The successful candidate will:
• contribute to the development of the conceptual and theoretical framework of executive personalisation
• lead the preparation and conduct of a comparative, empirical analysis of personalisa-tion of executive power in the area of public health.
• be an active member of the GIGA, be affiliated to the GIGA Institute of African Affairs, and belong to the Research Programme “Accountability and Participation”
• contribute to the academic output of the project with single-authored and co-authored publications in leading scientific journals
• engage in the dissemination of project findings within the academic as well as policy community, and among the wider public

Mandatory qualifications:
• an excellent doctoral degree in political science, sociology, public policy, public health, economics, African studies or related disciplines
• a strong background in research on politics and/or society of sub-Saharan Africa
• on-site research experience in sub-Saharan Africa
• proven proficiency in the application of state-of-the-art comparative social science methods
• proficiency in English

Desired qualifications:
• strong analytical skills
• strong teamwork skills
• experience in academic research on public health
• experience in research on autocratisation and/or democratisation
• experience in organizing academic events and outreach activities
• proficiency in additional languages spoken in sub-Saharan Africa

Part-time options will be considered, if so desired by the successful candidate. Diversity and the reconciliation of work and family life are of great importance to the institute. The GIGA promotes the equality of all genders.

Please fill out the application form (found at https://www.giga-hamburg.de/en/career) and send it together with your full application (Ref.-No. GIGA-21-07) including relevant supporting documentation (cover letter, CV, credentials/diplomas/certificates, names and contact details of two references, list of publications, max. two work samples), as one PDF (except for the completed GIGA application form) to:

Gabriele Tetzlaff, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA),
Neuer Jungfernstieg 21, 20354 Hamburg, Germany
Email: jobs-iaa@giga-hamburg.de (email applications are particularly welcome).

Screening of applications will begin on 7 June 2021.

For further information, please visit the GIGA homepage or contact Dr. Thomas Richter (Email: thomas.richter@giga-hamburg.de).

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 6/7/2021
Date Posted: 5/5/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8858

Georgia Institute of Technology
Rank: School Chair for the School of Cybersecurity and Privacy
Subfield(s): Administration, Public Policy, Other

The Georgia Institute of Technology invites applications from qualified individuals seeking to be the first Chair of the newly founded School of Cybersecurity and Privacy (SCP). The position is an unprecedented opportunity for leadership and vision. Success means you will lead the first interdisciplinary school at the Georgia Institute of Technology and help shape the way Georgia Tech pursues future interdisciplinary schools. Success also means that you will lead the development of cybersecurity and privacy as a unified academic unit.

In short, we seek someone who wants to and can meet the challenge of melding their vision with a dynamic, broad ranging group of visionaries to build SCP into the world leader in cybersecurity and privacy.

SCP: The Opportunity.

As the first interdisciplinary school at the Georgia Institute of Technology SCP will consist of 30+ tenure-track and research (including several holders of endowed chairs) faculty, postdocs, adjunct faculty and professional classified staff. This distinguished group will come from Computing, Engineering, Liberal Arts and Business Colleges. The School of Cybersecurity & Privacy will offer bachelors, masters, and doctoral degrees.

The ideal candidate will: Be a Full Professor with tenure in a premier department at a research university or have an equivalent position in industry or government in Business, Computer Science, Economics, Engineering, Finance, Humanities, International Affairs, Law, Public Policy, or any other field with a proven record of high impact contributions in cybersecurity or privacy. Candidates should have a proven record of achieving external visibility and funding; have demonstrated strong leadership and team building skills; care about the personal and educational enrichment of faculty, staff, and students; have experience with strategic planning, administrative oversight, fiscal management, and vision development; and embrace participatory management and transparent decision-making.

The School of Cybersecurity and Privacy is a high-visibility, high-impact, cross-college department unlike other Georgia Tech academic units. Candidates should demonstrate a willingness to innovate, both organizationally and pedagogically. Embracing a culture of collaboration and interdisciplinary breadth is essential to success in this new venture, and candidates should be prepared to elaborate on his/her vision for achieving those aims.

To be considered, please submit online your CV, a letter of application, 5 reference names and contact information, and other supporting documents. Your application will remain confidential (known only to the search committee) until its final stage, at which point, with your permission, we will contact your references and request letters of support. Review of applications will begin on June 15, 2021. This search will continue until the position is filled.

Please apply here: https://careers.hprod.onehcm.usg.edu/psc/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/c/HRS_HRAM_FL_HRS_PKG_ENV_JBPST_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=03000&JobOpeningId=226083&PostingSeq=1

Should you have any problems with the online submission, please contact scp-recruiting@cc.gatech.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 6/15/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8851

Political Science Jobs

June 2021
GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies

Rank: Research Fellow (m/f/d)

Subfield(s): Methodology, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Central Asia

The GIGA German Institute for Global and Area Studies / Leibniz-Institut für Globale und Regionale Studien is an independent social science research institute based in Hamburg, Germany. It analyses political, social, and economic developments in Africa, Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East, and links this knowledge to questions of global significance. It combines region-specific analysis with innovative comparative research on accountability and participa-tion, peace and security, globalisation and development, and global orders and foreign policies. The GIGA is seeking to appoint a

Research Fellow (m/f/d)

Applications are invited for a part-time position (65%), with a contract of three years, preferably starting 1 November 2021. The salary is commensurate with TV-AH / TVöD EG 13.

The successful candidate will work in the project ‘COVID-19 and Executive Personalization in Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America and the MENA Region’ funded by the German Re-search Foundation / Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft. This project is co-lead by Dr. David Kuehn, Prof. Mariana Llanos and Dr. Thomas Richter.

The successful candidate will
• contribute to all project components as appropriate
• be an active member of the GIGA, be affiliated to one of GIGA’s regional institutes, and belong to the Research Programme “Accountability and Participation”
• contribute to the academic output of the project with single-authored and co-authored publications in leading scientific journals
• engage in the dissemination of project findings within the academic as well as policy community, and among the wider public

Mandatory qualifications:
• an excellent university degree (master’s or equivalent) in political science, sociology, public policy, economics, or related social science disciplines
• familiarity with research on autocratisation, and/or democratisation
• proficiency in the application of state-of-the-art statistical methods
• proficiency in English

Desired qualifications:
• strong analytical skills
• strong teamwork skills
• familiarity with computational social science techniques/programming languages (e.g., Python, R)
• proficiency in additional languages spoken in sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Latin America or the MENA region

The GIGA strongly encourages concurrent work on a doctoral degree. The research fellow would become a member of the GIGA Doctoral Programme.

Other part-time options will be considered, if so desired by the successful candidate. Diversity and the reconciliation of work and family life are of great importance to the institute. The GIGA promotes the equality of all genders.

Please fill out the application form (found at https://www.giga-hamburg.de/en/career/) and send it together with your full application (Ref.-No. GIGA-21-08), including relevant supporting documentation (cover letter, CV, credentials/diplomas/certificates, names and contact details of two references, list of publications, max. two work samples), as one PDF (except for the completed GIGA application form) to:

Daniela Wald, German Institute for Global and Area Studies (GIGA), Neuer Jungfernstieg 21, 20354 Hamburg, Germany
Email: jobs-giga@giga-hamburg.de (email applications are particularly welcome).

Screening of applications will begin on 7 June 2021.

For further information, please visit the GIGA homepage or contact Dr. Thomas Richter (Email: thomas.richter@giga-hamburg.de).

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 6/7/2021
Date Posted: 5/3/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8850

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition No: D-21-SPI-00019

The Center for the Study of Democratic Politics, a program in the School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University, invites applications for a Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research position. Applications are welcome from recent PhDs and PhD students who will earn their degree soon after starting the position.

The researcher will be asked to participate in a project on "time in politics&quot; that focuses on psychological processes related to time (such as impatience and present bias) and their causes and political consequences. The individual will work on aspects of the project that may include compilation and analysis of existing survey questions, development of original surveys, and experimental design. The project will combine a variety of different research approaches. This position will start on or about September 1, 2021.

The position is offered for one year, with the possibility of renewal, contingent upon funding and satisfactory performance. Please submit online at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/19761, a cover letter, a CV, contact information for three recommendations, and a statement of research skills and experience. The statement of research skills should be a separate document not included in the cover letter. Because the project will combine a variety of different approaches, a clear statement of research skills (including descriptions of not only technical/technological expertise but also experience with particular research designs) is an important part of the application. For questions about the position, contact Prof. Markus Prior at mprior@princeton.edu.

The successful candidate will have research experience in political psychology, behavioral economics, or cognitive/social psychology, and a strong background in quantitative research and statistical methods. Experience with questionnaire development and survey design software (e.g., Qualtrics, oTree) is highly desirable, as are data management and programming skills, preferably in STATA. (STATA will be used for this project, but proficiency in equivalent programming... languages is acceptable as long as the candidate is willing to learn some STATA.) The candidate should be well organized, attend to detail, and respond to deadlines in a timely fashion.

This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University’s dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8755

University of Rhode Island
Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

DEPARTMENT BRIEF DESCRIPTION
The University of Rhode Island invites applications for a Post-Doctoral Research Fellow in land use policy. Funded by a grant from the USDA, we seek a scholar to collaborate on research at the intersection of behavioral economics, democratic institutions, and land use policy.
The project consists of designing, conducting, and analyzing a series of public opinion surveys of American voters and elected officials.
The project builds on a long-term project of the Principal Investigators (PIs), Dr. Shanna Pearson-Merkowitz and Dr. Corey Lang, studying public opinion about land use decisions. There are no formal teaching responsibilities for this position but will include working with and managing undergraduate students for data collection. The selected candidate will work under the joint supervision of PIs in the Department of Environmental and Natural Resource Economics and the Department of Political Science. Scholars with a Ph.D. in economics, political science, public policy, or closely related disciplines will be considered.

Position is full-time calendar year, limited to 07/31/2022, with anticipated renewal.

The start date is negotiable but is expected to be August 2021.

APPLICATION DEADLINE
The search will remain open until the position has been filled. First consideration will be given to applications received by April 8, 2021.
Second consideration may be given to applications received by May 6, 2021. Applications received subsequent to second consideration date (May 6, 2021) may not be given full consideration.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES
Work closely with Principal Investigators, Shanna Pearson-Merkowitz and Corey Lang, to conduct proposed research to fulfill grant objectives.

Design, program, and conduct surveys.

Lead teams of graduate and undergraduate students in conducting sur-vveys.

Manage and analyze data.

Write manuscripts for publication.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS:
1) PhD in Economics, Political Science, Public Policy, or related field at time of appointment.
2) Demonstrated research experience in behavioral economics, American politics, or non-market valuation.
3) Demonstrated research experience as part of a research team.
4) Demonstrated data management and quantitative analysis skills.
5) Demonstrated strong written communication skills.
6) Demonstrated strong oral communication skills.
7) Demonstrated ability to work with diverse groups/populations.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS
1) Experience working on interdisciplinary projects.
2) Experience in designing, programming, conducting, or analyzing surveys.
3) Must be creative, able to think critically, and hard-working.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/7849

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online application:
1) Cover letter that highlights how you meet the qualifications.
2) A Curriculum Vitae.
3) “Other Document” – Representative research paper.
4) A research statement (maximum of two pages as one complete doc).
5) “Other” – the names and contact information of three professional references (pdf doc).

Start Date: Summer 2021
Application Deadline: 4/8/2021
Date Posted: 3/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8719

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs