POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS
Online journal from the American Political Science Association

September 2021 | Volume 10, Issue 09
ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science ...................... 3

Job Listings

Administration ......................................................... 4
American Government and Politics .................... 6
Comparative Politics ............................................... 43
International Relations .......................................... 71
Methodology ............................................................. 105
Non-Academic .......................................................... 114
Open ............................................................................. 115
Other ............................................................................ 133
Political Theory ........................................................ 153
Public Administration ............................................ 162
Public Law ................................................................. 167
Public Policy .............................................................. 175
About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.
Resources and Guidance on Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary
- What is the salary structure?
- How is salary normally negotiated?
- How are annual increases handled?
- Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities
- What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenure faculty regarding:
  - departmental and institutional committee work,
  - professional or disciplinary activities, and
  - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support
- What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - access to research materials and equipment,
  - the employment of research assistants,
  - research expenses on/off campus, and
  - travel expenses for conferences?

Teaching Support
- What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
  - the development of teaching expertise,
  - innovations in teaching, and
  - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
- What are departmental expectations regarding:
  - the average course load,
  - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
  - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review
- What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
- What are the department’s expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
- What are the department’s expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives
- What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
- Does the department or institution have programs that address:
  - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
  - family needs of faculty and staff, and
  - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance
- What are the plans offered?
- How are benefits disbursed?
- What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
- Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
- What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement
- How many types of retirement plans are offered?
- What is the matching percentage of the institution?
- Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program
For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.
ISER has been producing research that helps people understand social issues. The Institute of Social and Economic Research (ISER) in the College of Business and Public Policy at the University of Alaska Anchorage is seeking applications for the position of Director. For 60 years, ISER has been producing research that helps people understand social and economic systems and supports informed public and private decision-making. The institute has a strong, multi-disciplinary group of faculty and research professionals, and is regularly called upon by state and federal legislators and policymakers to examine legislative and regulatory issues. In Alaska and around the circumpolar North, ISER is known for high-quality policy-oriented research in economic development, natural resource management, health, education and fiscal policy. ISER researchers are also fully engaged in Arctic policy research related to climate change and environment, energy, and rural sustainable development.

The ISER Director will coordinate research activities both within the institute and with other institutions and agencies, and will supervise a multi-disciplinary team consisting of 30 people, including faculty, administrative and research staff, and student researchers. The successful candidate’s current research agenda should add to or complement ISER’s focal research areas. In the director role, the institute expects the ISER Director to be recognized on and off campus as knowledgeable about Alaska public policy issues. A related expectation is the director facilitating ISER’s involvement in UAA’s new Master of Public Policy program. Most importantly, the director will work with institute researchers and staff to shape ISER’s future research agenda in the context of the rapid social, economic, and environmental change Alaska is currently experiencing.

The following qualifications are required:
- Ph.D. or terminal degree in a discipline that is relevant to ISER’s mission.
- Familiarity with policy oriented, applied research.
- Record of high-quality research and publications relevant to ISER’s research foci.
- Ability to generate externally funded opportunities for the institute relevant to its mission.
- Excellent communication and organizational skills.
- Ability to generate support for and awareness of ISER across the University of Alaska, and with external agencies and constituencies.
- Demonstrated leadership and mentoring skills.
- Commitment to a shared governance approach.

The following qualifications are preferred:
- Experience leading research teams.
- Understanding of Alaska’s economy, culturally diverse society, and current policy context.
- Familiarity with research developments and opportunities in Alaska, the Arctic, or in similar regions.

ISER sits within the University of Alaska Anchorage’s accredited College of Business and Public Policy at University of Alaska Anchorage. As a part of the University of Alaska system, UAA is a comprehensive, accredited public institution with over 14,000 students that offers graduate, baccalaureate, and associate degrees through its main campus in Anchorage and community campuses throughout Alaska. Anchorage is a diverse, thriving, modern city of nearly 300,000 residents where over 100 languages are spoken. The community offers outstanding outdoor recreation opportunities and excellent social and cultural amenities. For more information about Anchorage, consult: https://www.anchorage.net.

Applicants should submit a one page cover letter explaining their interest and qualifications for the position, a maximum five page, current curriculum vita or resume, and the names, titles and contact

---

University of Alaska Anchorage

Rank: Director, Institute of Social and Economic Research (Alaska)

Specializations: Economic Policy, Education Policy, Public Finance & Budgeting

The Institute of Social and Economic Research (ISER) in the College of Business and Public Policy at the University of Alaska Anchorage is seeking applications for the position of Director. For 60 years, ISER has been producing research that helps people understand social issues. The institute has a strong, multi-disciplinary group of faculty and research professionals, and is regularly called upon by state and federal legislators and policymakers to examine legislative and regulatory issues. In Alaska and around the circumpolar North, ISER is known for high-quality policy-oriented research in economic development, natural resource management, health, education and fiscal policy. ISER researchers are also fully engaged in Arctic policy research related to climate change and environment, energy, and rural sustainable development.

The ISER Director will coordinate research activities both within the institute and with other institutions and agencies, and will supervise a multi-disciplinary team consisting of 30 people, including faculty, administrative and research staff, and student researchers. The successful candidate’s current research agenda should add to or complement ISER’s focal research areas. In the director role, the institute expects the ISER Director to be recognized on and off campus as knowledgeable about Alaska public policy issues. A related expectation is the director facilitating ISER’s involvement in UAA’s new Master of Public Policy program. Most importantly, the director will work with institute researchers and staff to shape ISER’s future research agenda in the context of the rapid social, economic, and environmental change Alaska is currently experiencing.

The following qualifications are required:
- Ph.D. or terminal degree in a discipline that is relevant to ISER’s mission.
- Familiarity with policy oriented, applied research.
- Record of high-quality research and publications relevant to ISER’s research foci.
- Ability to generate externally funded opportunities for the institute relevant to its mission.
- Excellent communication and organizational skills.
- Ability to generate support for and awareness of ISER across the University of Alaska, and with external agencies and constituencies.
- Demonstrated leadership and mentoring skills.
- Commitment to a shared governance approach.

The following qualifications are preferred:
- Experience leading research teams.
- Understanding of Alaska’s economy, culturally diverse society, and current policy context.
- Familiarity with research developments and opportunities in Alaska, the Arctic, or in similar regions.

ISER sits within the University of Alaska Anchorage’s accredited College of Business and Public Policy at University of Alaska Anchorage. As a part of the University of Alaska system, UAA is a comprehensive, accredited public institution with over 14,000 students that offers graduate, baccalaureate, and associate degrees through its main campus in Anchorage and community campuses throughout Alaska. Anchorage is a diverse, thriving, modern city of nearly 300,000 residents where over 100 languages are spoken. The community offers outstanding outdoor recreation opportunities and excellent social and cultural amenities. For more information about Anchorage, consult: https://www.anchorage.net.

Applicants should submit a one page cover letter explaining their interest and qualifications for the position, a maximum five page, current curriculum vita or resume, and the names, titles and contact

---

Virginia Tech

Rank: Associate or Full Professor of Public Administration and Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Administration

Virginia Tech seeks a qualified, broadly trained individual to fill this faculty position in the areas of public management and public organizations at the associate or full level within the Center for Public Administration and Policy (CPAP) at the main campus in Blacksburg, VA, to begin in August 2022. Teaching responsibilities will include both introductory courses and advanced seminars in CPAP’s MPA and PhD degree programs. The successful candidate is expected to take on a leadership role in support of CPAP programs.

CPAP is housed within the School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA). It is a unit with one faculty in three locations; courses may include students from Arlington or Richmond in addition to Blacksburg. Courses are taught in-person and using videoconferencing technology. Travel between program locations may sometimes also be involved. CPAP faculty enjoy opportunities for interdisciplinary teaching and research in collaboration with other SPIA programs and with a wide array of centers and faculty in science, technology, and the humanities across Virginia Tech.

Required Qualifications:
Applicants must hold an earned PhD in public administration, political science, public policy, public management, or a related discipline by appointment start date.

The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to building a strong research agenda and publication record, as well as playing a leadership role commensurate with experience.

Preferred Qualifications:
Graduate-level teaching and mentoring experience and an established publication record are preferred.

Demonstrated commitment to community outreach and engagement, as is expected of faculty at a land-grant institution, is a plus.

A deep commitment to diversity and inclusion demonstrated through pedagogy, research, and/or public engagement is also a plus.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9098

---

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs information for three references no later than Friday, September 24, 2021.

Learn more and apply at UA Careers: https://careers.alaska.edu/en-us/job/517449/iser-director.

Questions regarding the position should be directed to the chair of the search committee: Dr. Marie Lowe, mlowe@alaska.edu.

Application review will begin September 27, 2021.

Expected start date is Jan 3, 2022.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: 9/24/2021
Date Posted: 7/27/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 9082

University of Pennsylvania - Wharton School Management Department

Rank: Full-Time Tenure Track - Assistant, Associate or Full Professor

The Management Department of the Wharton School is seeking applicants for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at any level: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in the areas of:

- Entrepreneurial Management
- Human Resource Management
- Multinational /Comparative Management
- Organizational Behavior
- Organizational Theory
- Strategy

Qualifications:
Demonstrated ability or potential for high quality research and teaching are important. Applicants must have a Ph.D. (expected completion by June 30, 2023 is acceptable) from an accredited institution. The appointment is expected to begin July 1, 2022.

If you should need to contact the Wharton Management Department, please contact the Recruitment Coordinator at mgmt-recruitment@wharton.upenn.edu.

To apply please visit: http://apply.interfolio.com/89945. Applicants should complete and submit all required materials via our secure website in order to be considered. All documents must be submitted in PDF format only.

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- 3 Letters of Recommendation
- Job Market Paper and Abstract

Applicants are strongly encouraged to have their completed application submitted by September 1, 2021 for full consideration.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/1/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9038

University of Akron

Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron’s Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute’s academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or governmental setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: https://www.uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the &quot;My Activities&quot; link and upload the required documents under the “My Cover Letters and Attachments” section.

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mchugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022
The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, to begin July 1, 2022.

By time of appointment the applicant must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related discipline (e.g., public policy). Candidates should specialize in American national political institutions, ideally with a focus on issues of race and ethnicity in these institutions. We encourage applications from scholars using a range of methodological approaches.

The position has a teaching load of 2:2 – i.e., four semester-long courses over the academic year. We anticipate that the person would teach Introduction to American Politics, survey courses on Congress and/or the Presidency, and upper-level courses related to their area of expertise. Candidates from groups underrepresented in political science are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates should be prepared to engage actively with diverse students across the liberal arts.

Located in Northampton, MA, Smith College is the largest women’s college in the country, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research across the liberal arts. A faculty of outstanding scholars interact with students in small classes, as advisors, and through student-faculty research projects. Smith College offers opportunities to foster faculty success at every career stage, such as those listed here. The College is a member of the Five College Consortium with Amherst, Hampshire, and Mt. Holyoke Colleges, and the University of Massachusetts Amherst. Students cross-enroll and faculty cross-teach across the Five Colleges. Details about the Department of Government may be found at https://www.smith.edu/gov/.

Submit application at http://apply.interfolio.com/93174 with a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a statement of teaching philosophy, a statement addressing diversity and inclusion, an article- or chapter-length writing sample, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Finalists may be asked for additional materials. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2021. Start Date: Summer 2022 Application Deadline: 10/1/2021 Date Posted: 8/31/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 9252

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department’s required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site http://apply.interfolio.com/86435 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values. Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9243

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Assistant Professor - Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Assistant Professor – Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for an assistant professor (pending budgetary approval) in any subfield of political science or related discipline whose work addresses structural racism, oppression, or Black political experiences, conceived domestically, comparatively, or globally. We encourage applications from scholars working on problems of racial oppression and racialized inequalities and hierarchies – in race and ethnic politics, in political behavior, in political economy, in international and transnational politics, in global or domestic institutions...
The Department of Political Science at Rochester Institute of Technology invites candidates to apply for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Political Science for the 2022-2023 academic year, starting August 2022. We seek an energetic and enthusiastic colleague who will serve as an instructor, researcher, and mentor for our undergraduate majors and minors. The ideal candidate will have a background in American politics or political theory and will also be interested in questions of innovative governance. In particular, the department is interested in applicants with a background in public choice, PPE (politics, philosophy, and economics), common pool resource governance, or other innovative approaches to analyzing and approaching traditional questions in political science and policy. Candidates who can contribute pre-law courses or politics of science courses to the curriculum, including philosophy and politics of law or courses on politics and biomedicine, are strongly encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate will: (a) have teaching experience or will demonstrate the potential for quality teaching at the college/university level; (b) demonstrate potential to conduct independent research and to attract external funding; and (c) demonstrate interest in mentoring undergraduate students. The hire will be expected to teach a minimum of five undergraduate-level Political Science courses per year. Specific teaching assignments will be based on candidate qualifications and program needs, but are likely to include innovative approaches to state and local American politics, and upper-level classes in areas relating to political economy, law, and governance. The position also requires academic advisement and ongoing mentoring of undergraduate students, participation in program assessment and evaluation activities, and service to the Department, College, and Institute.

Department/College Description

The Department of Political Science offers a B.S. degree in political science and is part of the pre-law minor. The program in Political Science at RIT offers coursework and programs that are unique and innovative, integrating traditional fields of American government, legal studies, and international relations with explorations of the interactions between politics and governance on the one hand and innovation, science, and technology on the other. The department teaches not only the mechanics and strategies of the political process, but also examines limitations on government authority and responsibilities of citizens.

The College of Liberal Arts is one of nine colleges within Rochester Institute of Technology. The College has over 150 faculty in 13 departments in the arts, humanities and social sciences. The College currently offers fourteen undergraduate degree programs and five Master degrees, serving over 800 students.

Required Minimum Qualifications

Doctoral degree (Ph.D.) in political science or related field, expected by July 1, 2022:
Expertise in American politics or political theory;
Demonstrated interest in public choice, PPE, common pool resource governance, or other related fields;
Demonstrated potential to teach at the college/university level;
Demonstrated potential for conducting independent research;
Demonstrated potential to attract external funding;
Demonstrated interest in mentoring undergraduate students;
Ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the college’s continuing commitment to cultural diversity, pluralism, and individual differences.

Rochester Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor (TT)
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Other Specializations: American Politics, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory

Detailed Job Description

The starting date for the position is September 1, 2022. Successful candidates are expected to engage in research, teaching, and service that contributes to the department’s mission. Required qualifications: applicants have or expect to have a Ph.D. in hand before the appointment begins, research interests related to structural racism, oppression, or Black political experiences, and demonstrated ability or potential to deliver high-quality instruction, to publish high-quality scholarship, and to contribute to an inclusive climate and attract and retain a diverse student body.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a diversity statement (brief description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion), and a minimum of three letters of reference; references should send their letters directly to psjobs@pitt.edu. Please apply online at: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=21006250&tz=GMT-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNNew_York. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by October 8, 2021, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The Political Science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is wynn2@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EO, including disability/vets.
Required Minimum Education Level: PhD
Faculty Type (Tenure Status): Tenure-Track
Faculty Rank: Assistant Professor Employment Category: Fulltime

Anticipated Start Date: 10-Aug-2022
Required Application Documents: Cover Letter, Curriculum Vitae or Resume, Statement of Diversity Contribution, Statement of Teaching Philosophy

How To Apply:
Apply online at http://careers.rit.edu/faculty; search openings, then Keyword Search 6007BR. Please submit your application, curriculum vitae, cover letter addressing the listed qualifications and upload the following attachments:
- A brief teaching philosophy
- The names, addresses and phone numbers for three references
- Contribution to Diversity Statement

You can contact the chair of the search committee, Nathan Dinneen, Ph.D. with questions on the position at: nxdfm@rit.edu

All application materials should be submitted by October 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/26/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
EJobs ID: 9231

Gonzaga University
Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Gonzaga University in Spokane, WA invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor in the field of American Politics beginning in the fall semester of 2022. We seek applicants who will teach courses and conduct research primarily in the field of American political behavior. The successful candidate will offer courses covering some combination of the following topics: public opinion, voting behavior, campaigns and elections, or political parties. The ability to teach undergraduate level research design and methods is also desirable. We are especially interested in candidates whose research is attentive to social and racial justice or the political action or experiences of marginalized communities. Preference will also be given to candidates whose teaching methods and materials intentionally foster the full participation and engagement of our students, with particular attention to students with marginalized identities.

The ideal candidate will hold a PhD in Political Science by July 2022 and will become an integral part of a department of nine faculty members dedicated primarily to excellence in undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will regularly teach introduction to American politics as part of their 3-3 load along with upper division courses consistent with their research specialization and aligned with departmental needs. An active research agenda leading to publication in the field and significant undergraduate advising and mentoring will be expected of the candidate who joins our department.

Required Qualifications:
- Ph.D. in Political Science or related field. ABDs considered, with the expectation degree is in hand by July 15, 2022.
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including the ability to effectively create inclusive learning environments with learners from diverse and marginalized backgrounds.
- Demonstrated active research agenda focusing on American political behavior.

Desired Qualifications:
- Demonstrated abilities using classroom strategies and pedagogies to advance equity and inclusion.

Job Duties:
- Teach three courses per semester, including the introductory course in American Politics, courses required for the POLS major and minor, and upper division courses in the candidate’s areas of expertise.
- Engage in research, publication, and other scholarly activity appropriate to the candidate’s research agenda and areas of expertise.
- Provide curriculum and career advising and mentoring to the program’s undergraduates.
- Support the department, university, and discipline through service and other forms of academic citizenship.

About Gonzaga University and Spokane, Washington
Founded in 1887, Gonzaga is a private, liberal arts institution located in Spokane, WA. The Department of Political Science awards the BA degree and enjoys a growing enrollment of politically involved, social justice-minded students. The average class size of 23 enables our faculty to invest in engaged pedagogy and transformational teaching. Gonzaga is ranked in the top 20 for excellence in undergraduate teaching among National Universities by US News and World Report.

Gonzaga’s 152-acre campus sits along the Spokane River within walking distance of downtown Spokane, on the ancestral homelands of the Spokane Tribe of Indians. Spokane is the second largest city in Washington and pairs a lower cost of living with many urban advantages, including a conveniently located international airport, a vibrant art community, and a range of exciting restaurants. Located on the east side of Washington State, Spokane offers many options for outdoor enjoyment including hiking, boating and fishing on numerous local lakes, and several ski resorts within driving distance.

Application Procedure:
To apply, please visit our website at www.gonzaga.edu/jobs. Applicants must complete an online application and electronically submit (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) a 1-2 page statement of teaching philosophy, (4) a statement detailing your experience engaging with diverse communities and articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, (5) unofficial copies of graduate school transcripts, and (6) the names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited for candidates placed on the long list). The position closes on Friday September 24, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. U.S. PST. For assistance with your online application, please contact Human Resources at (509) 313-5996. Direct other inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Cindy Stavrianos, stavrianos@gonzaga.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/24/2021
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established nine interdisciplinary clusters to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy, from a policy or social science perspective, and plan to hire one tenure-earning assistant professor for this cluster. This position has an anticipated start date of August 8, 2022.

The Cybersecurity and Privacy Cluster is an interdisciplinary initiative, bringing together researchers from across the campus and working on addressing the pressing questions of our national security from engineering, science, and social perspectives. The cluster currently has eight members, collectively advising more than 35 doctoral students, and embracing a strong culture of collaboration and teamwork. The cluster runs various well-funded programs, has developed and implemented a new interdisciplinary M.S. in Cybersecurity and Privacy, and was recently selected by the National Science Foundation to be a host institution for the prestigious Scholarship for Service Program.

This is an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department and may include a combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. See http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/ for a complete list of all the units involved. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal candidate will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. In particular, we are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy, and someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, addressing the policy, regulatory or social science aspects with a focus on one or more of the following topics: a) privacy laws and regulation; b) social media; c) cybercrimes; d) cyberwarfare; e) cyber security and intelligence. With this in mind, we anticipate the selected candidate will be tenure-earning in one of, but not limited to, the following units: Criminal Justice; Legal Studies; Modeling, Simulation, and Training; Politics, Security, and International Affairs; or Sociology.

UCF is one of the nation’s largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 70,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region’s future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation.

UCF’s Orlando main campus location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to the UCF main campus is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies, UCF’s Institute for Simulation and Training and UCF’s new School of Modeling, Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the state of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school which was established in 2006 and is a neighbor to large corporations such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world’s best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about one of UCF’s newest endeavors, the exciting Faculty Cluster Initiative, at https://www.ucf.edu/faculty/faculty-research-clusters.

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents to be submitted electronically through the Human Resources website, www.ucf.edu/jobs/. No paper or emailed applications or materials will be considered.

In addition to the online application, interested candidates must attach the following materials to their application:

1) A Diversity Statement:

UCF has a diverse student body and community, and we are committed to meeting the needs of this community. Please tell us about your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, in the context of a faculty-student setting and as a colleague, as well as future plans to advance these contributions. Such indicators of commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion may be demonstrated through scholarship, teaching, mentioning, service and engagement.

2) A Cover Letter:

In the cover letter candidates must address their background in research and scholarship in the area in cyber security and privacy as related to policy and regulatory aspects and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home, as well as any joint appointments they would desire.

3) Curriculum Vitae,
4) Teaching Statement,
5) Research Statement, and
6) Contact information for three professional references (include email address and telephone number).

NOTE: Please have all application documents ready when applying so they can be attached at that time. Once the online submission process is finalized, the system does not allow applicants to submit additional documents at a later date.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure consideration before the position is closed, the application should be submitted promptly.
Questions regarding this search can be directed to the cluster lead and search committee chair, Dr. David Mohaisen, at mohaisen@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9222

---

University of Texas, Austin
Rank: American Politics - Assistant Professor
Apply Here: https://apply.interfolio.com/93055

The Government Department at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor. The search is open to scholars working in any specialty within the field of American politics.

Duties will include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, the College of Liberal Arts, and the University. The successful candidate will have a strong record of research and teaching.

The Department is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching, research, and service. The application should highlight any experiences working with diverse populations; examples might include mentoring activities, research interests, committee service, courses taught, recruitment and retention activities.

UT Austin is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual-career couples and single parents.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. for appointment as Assistant Professor or expect to obtain it within a year of joining the faculty as Instructor. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Applicants should upload a cover letter, vitae, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, a research statement, examples of scholarly work, and teaching materials. The department will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Apply Here: https://apply.interfolio.com/93055

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9223

---

University of Virginia
Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor, Democracy, Race and U.S. politics, Department of Politics Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor, Democracy, Race and U.S. politics, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia’s Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences launched a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, and Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere. Across all the searches, the Departments seek to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative’s other projects.

This year, with the support of the Mellon Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position for a scholar who studies democracy, race, and U.S. politics. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science by the time of the appointment. Candidates should have an active research agenda that engages with normative and/or practical questions pertaining to race and democracy in the United States, a strong interest in teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels, and a willingness to contribute to the scholarly life of the Department of Politics and the Democracy Initiative.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale—bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary and supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs consist of a series of three-year, rotating labs on various topics, connected by the work of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Nau Core Lab), an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach. Current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, the links between environmental and racial inequality, and race, religion, and democracy. The Democracy Initiative also supports two projects focused on community engagement and research, the Memory Project and The Equity Center. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the Nau Core lab or one of the Initiative’s other research labs or projects.

Application review will begin October 1, 2021 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2022. Applicants must have received their Ph.D by time of appointment.

TO APPLY:
Apply online at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs for posting #R0027726 complete the application, and attach the following:

1. Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations (not to exceed three single spaced pages).

2. Current curriculum vitae

3. A statement outlining what kinds of intellectual and/or institutional contributions you could envision making to the Democracy Initiative (not to exceed two single-spaced pages).
Political Science Jobs

4. A research statement (not to exceed three single-spaced pages).
5. A teaching philosophy (not to exceed one single-spaced page).

Submitted the following directly to: pol-race-search2021@virginia.edu.

1. One article-length writing sample
2. Three letters of recommendation

 Please note all required documents must be uploaded in the 'Resume' box.

Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.

Questions about this position should be directed to: Jennifer Lawless, Professor and Chair, Department of Politics, at jll9jx@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7f@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit https://dualcareer.virginia.edu. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville and https://embarkcva.com/.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9225

Bowdoin College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Latino Politics

As part of a larger multi-year cohort initiative, the Bowdoin College Department of Government and Legal Studies seeks applicants for a full-time tenure-track position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, pending final approval. The position would begin July 1, 2022. We expect to hire at the rank of assistant professor but will consider applications from candidates at all levels. A PhD in political science or a related field is required by the start of this appointment. Research and teaching on U.S. politics is preferred, but a focus on other areas of the Americas will be considered. Teaching load is two courses per semester, across all levels of the curriculum.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful scholarly or artistic engagement and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource: https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive.) Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals.

Bowdoin is a community that warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the support of an inclusive campus community and those who will enrich and contribute to the College’s multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit https://careers.bowdoin.edu to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a description of your research plans; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion (https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive); and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021 and continue until the search is concluded.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland and 2+ hours north of Boston -- connected to Boston and beyond by public transportation -- the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin’s reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (35% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 15% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: http://www.bowdoin.edu. For additional information about the Department of Government and Legal Studies, see https://www.bowdoin.edu/ or contact department chair Andrew Rudalevige (arudalev@bowdoin.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9201

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American/comparative politics or public policy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

JOB SUMMARY: The Department of Political Science at Middle Georgia State University (https://www.mga.edu/political-science) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in political science, with a specialization in American politics, comparative politics, or public policy, at the rank of assistant professor, to be primarily based on the Cochran campus. This is a 10-month position with a teaching load of 12 credit hours per semester (4-4) of undergraduate courses in political science, typically including multiple sections of the introductory American Government course, as well as more advanced undergraduate courses in political science in the candidate’s area of specialization.

MAJOR DUTIES: Teaching responsibilities may include day and/or evening courses, partially and fully online courses, and courses taught via video conferencing; faculty are also expected to travel to teach and attend meetings at other campus locations when needed. Tenure-track faculty are expected to have an active scholarly agenda, including publication in peer-reviewed outlets; student advising and service to the department, school, university, and community are also expected for promotion and tenure. Summer teaching opportunities may also be available, contingent on student demand.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates should have earned a doctorate in political science, or a doctorate in related field including at least 18 semester hours of graduate coursework in political science, from a regionally-accredited institution; ABD candidates will only be considered if they will earn their doctorate by January 1, 2022. Experience as an instructor of record, demonstrated expertise in American politics or comparative politics, and/or the ability to contribute to one or more of the minors offered by the department are desirable. Candidates must have a record of teaching and potential for scholarship that warrants appointment at the rank of assistant professor.

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications accepted until the position is filled.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Informal inquires about the position may be made to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, Chair of the Department of Political Science at Christopher.lawrence@mga.edu.

TO APPLY: Application materials should be emailed as one PDF attachment to recruitment@mga.edu with the subject line “10018053 Assistant Professor of Political Science 8.24.2021”. Application materials must include (1) an MGA faculty application, (2) a letter of interest, (3) a curriculum vitae, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) names and contact information of three references, and (6) unofficial transcripts. Paper application materials will not be accepted.

Background checks will be conducted on all final candidates.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9208

Lafayette College
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law at Lafayette College invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing July 1, 2022. The Department seeks candidates with research and teaching expertise in race and ethnic politics in the U.S. Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science (or closely-related field) or demonstrate the Ph.D. is near completion. A candidate hired at the ABD level would hold the rank of Instructor. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to U.S. Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in race, ethnicity, and minority politics. The successful candidate will also be expected to make a contribution to the College’s interdisciplinary programs and maintain an active research agenda. The department especially welcomes applications from candidates who will contribute to Lafayette’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. The teaching load is four courses in the first year and five courses a year thereafter.

Applications should include a letter of intent that contains a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. In the letter of intent, applicants should address the ways in which their teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will support Lafayette College’s commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in the college’s diversity statement (https://diversity.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/92750. Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Helena Silverstein, Department Head, at silversh@lafayette.edu.

Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of each and all of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. Lafayette College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Located within 70 miles of New York and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9198

SUNY, University at Albany
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Political Development, Race & Ethnic Politics
Assistant Professor, Political Science

Category: Faculty RSS feed of all Jobs
Department: Political Science - 02511
Locations: ALBANY, NY
Posted: Aug 16, 2021
Closes: Open Until Filled
Type: Full-time
Ref. No.: P21-22341
Position ID: 135261

Assistant Professor, Political Science

Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany’s broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research, and public service engages a diverse student body of more than 17,900 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State’s capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City, and the Adirondacks.

Job Description:
Rockefeller College of Public Affairs seeks an Assistant Professor in the field of American Politics. This is a tenure-track appointment in the Department of Political Science. The course load is four courses a year. The department’s priority is a scholar of electoral politics/campaigns and/or the American presidency/executive politics. The ability to teach other subjects in American Politics, such as Racial and Ethnic Politics, Political Parties, and/or American Political Development will be considered a plus. The department also expects that the successful applicant will teach the introductory course in American Politics. Although not a requirement of the position, the search committee will look favorably at candidates who are willing to pursue external funding for their research. Contributing to the diversity of the Department will also be considered a plus. Candidates should also be willing to teach courses in online formats when specific needs arise.

Located in a major governmental center, the Department has 21 full-time members and offers degrees at the bachelor’s, master’s, and doctoral levels. The University at Albany (www.albany.edu) is one of four designated University Centers in the SUNY system.

Requirements:
Minimum Qualifications:
Ph.D. from a college or University accredited by a U.S. Department of Education or an internationally recognized accrediting organization. Applicants should have their Ph.D. in hand by May 2022. Ability to teach other subjects in American politics, such as Racial and Ethnic Politics, Political Parties, and/or American Political Development will be considered a plus. Applicants must address in their applications their ability to work with a culturally diverse population. Preferred Qualification:
Willingness to pursue external funding for their research
Additional Information:
Professional Rank and Salary Range: Assistant Professor, Competitive Starting date is August 22, 2022.
The review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.
The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University’s crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University’s current campus security policies. The University at Albany’s Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml
Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor’s Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6098 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER
Please apply online via http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=135261

Application Instructions:
Applicants MUST submit the following documents:
Curriculum Vitae
A Statement of Interest
A writing sample or publication
Available evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, student evaluations, and/or teaching statement)
A graduate transcript
At least three references with contact information
Note: After submitting your CV, the subsequent pages give you instructions for uploading additional documents (i.e. cover letter etc.).
See the FAQ for using our online system. Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website.
Returning Applicants - Login to your UAlbany Careers Account to check your completed application.
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9199

University of California, Riverside
Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Black Politics
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, RIVERSIDE
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE
Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Black Politics
The Department of Political Science of the University of California, Riverside, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Black Politics.
The search is open with respect to field and we welcome strong candidates whose research and teaching addresses any substantive area of Black Politics within or outside the U.S. context. We are open to a range of theoretical and methodological approaches. The successful candidate should be committed to excellence in undergraduate and graduate education and have a record or promise of research publication. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field or discipline is required at the time of appointment. Ph.D. Candidates who are ABD at the time of application will also be considered. Appointment level and salary will be competitive and commensurate with education and experience. The appointment will commence on July 1, 2022.
Applicants are required to submit a cover letter of interest, an updated CV, a Research Statement, a Teaching Statement, a statement of Past and/or Planned Future Contributions to Advancing Diversity and Inclusive Excellence, teaching evidence or evaluations, writing samples, and 3 letters of recommendation. Confidential Letters are solicited via the AP Recruit System Only – Applicant inserts reference names and solicits references from within AP Recruit at time of application. Only complete applications will be reviewed by the committee.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

Applicants who use Interfolio may utilize a feature provided by the Interfolio Service to allow Interfolio to upload their letters directly into AP Recruit. Applicants can input an Interfolio-generated email address in place of their letter writer’s email address. Interfolio refers to this as Online Application Deliveries. The following link on the Interfolio website shows how to set this up (http://product-help.interfolio.com/m/27438/l/266289-confidential-letter-uploads-to-online-application-systems.)

Advancement through the faculty ranks at the University of California is through a series of structured, merit- based evaluations, occurring every 2-3 years, each of which includes substantial peer input.

Faculty in the University of California are expected to engage in research, teaching and service. Typical course load is four classes over the academic year.

Review of Applications will begin on October 18, 2021 and may continue until the position is filled. Applications and supporting materials received by October 18, 2021 will receive full consideration.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/JPF01454

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9200

University of Denver
Rank: Tenure-track assistant professor of American politics
Specializations: Political Psychology, Public Opinion, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Denver invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professorship to start in Fall 2022 in the field of American politics. We seek applications from scholars of American politics whose research specialization is political psychology and/or public opinion. We will give priority to applicants whose research and teaching in political psychology and/or public opinion has a substantive focus on race and ethnic politics in the US.

The University of Denver embraces a teacher-scholar model where faculty balance their commitment to rigorous scholarship with undergraduate education. The Department of Political Science consists of eleven tenure-line faculty supporting the Bachelors of arts degree in political science within the College of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences at the University of Denver. Our faculty are dedicated to the robust pursuit of research, publication, and public engagement. We also value inclusive excellence: a commitment by all constituents to create an academic experience that embraces and engages diverse perspectives and communities within an atmosphere of mutual respect.

Our undergraduate program of study serves approximately 200 majors and students across campus in the common curriculum. The position requires teaching the equivalent of two courses per quarter (three quarters per year) in the Political Science department, covering a range of upper division courses in American politics, Introduction to American politics, and common curriculum requirements.

Required Qualifications
• ABD or Ph.D. in Political Science or related field or interdisciplinary program (e.g. Psychology or American studies). A candidate hired at the ABD level would hold the title of Instructor until completion of Ph.D.
• Evidence of a promising scholarly agenda in political psychology and/or public opinion focusing on the US context that is likely to result in peer-reviewed publications.
• Experience serving as a graduate teaching assistant in undergraduate courses in political (or related social) science.
• Evidence of a commitment to incorporate inclusive teaching methods and/or pedagogies to engage students from a wide range of backgrounds effectively.

Preferred Qualifications
• Ph.D. in Political Science.
• Successful publication of peer-reviewed scholarship in political psychology and/or public opinion on the US case and evidence of future promise as a scholar.
• Experience as an instructor teaching Introduction to American politics and upper-division undergraduate courses in political psychology and/or public opinion.
• Scholarly expertise to develop upper-division undergraduate courses in race and ethnic politics in the US context.
• Experience interacting with diverse communities in an inclusive approach to engage students from a wide range of backgrounds effectively.
• Experience using course management software (such as Canvas or similar).

Application Deadline
For best consideration, please submit your application materials by 4:00 p.m. (MST) on September 20, 2021.

Special Instructions
Candidates must apply online through jobs.du.edu to be considered. Only applications submitted online will be accepted.

Salary Grade Number:
The salary grade for the position is UC.

Salary Range:
The salary range for this position is $75,000-$80,000.

The University of Denver has provided a compensation range that represents its good faith estimate of what the University may pay for the position at the time of posting. The University may ultimately pay more or less than the posted compensation range. The salary offered to the selected candidate will be determined based on factors such as the qualifications of the selected candidate, departmental budget availability, internal salary equity considerations, and available market information, but not based on a candidate’s sex or any other protected status.
Political Science Jobs

Benefits:
The University of Denver offers excellent benefits, including medical, dental, retirement, paid time off, tuition benefit and ECO pass. The University of Denver is a private institution that empowers students who want to make a difference. Learn more about the University of Denver.

Please include the following documents with your application. Please note that all documents must be uploaded as pdf files, titled as "LASTNAME_Statements.pdf", etc.:

1. CV that indicates scholarly specialization, comprehensive exam fields, publications and/or working papers, and courses you have taught before as an instructor or graduate teaching assistant.
2. Cover letter explaining your interest in and qualifications for this position, followed by three distinct statements that articulate your (a) research agenda, (b) teaching philosophy and methods to engage students, and (c) strategies to foster inclusive excellence, all combined into one pdf file with headers identifying each component.
3. Sample of written work (e.g., two chapters from dissertation or book, or one article).
4. Evidence of teaching effectiveness such as syllabi, detailed descriptions of course assignments, grading rubrics for writing assignments, and other artifacts of teaching excellence, all combined into one pdf file with headers identifying discrete components.
5. Graduate transcripts.
6. DU’s online employment application requests contacts for professional/academic references who will be emailed to upload letters of recommendation (at least three).

Candidates using Inter-folio may arrange to send all (at least three) letters of recommendation in one pdf file via email to Darlene.Squires@du.edu. No other materials beyond a complete set of letters of recommendation in one document should be sent via Inter-folio.

The University of Denver is committed to enhancing the diversity of its faculty and staff. We are an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment regardless of age, race, color, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, disability, military/ veteran status or any other status protected by law.

All offers of employment are based upon satisfactory completion of a criminal history background check.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 9204

University of St. Thomas
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Congress, Presidency, Quantitative Methods

The Political Science Department at the University of St. Thomas invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin September 1, 2022. We are seeking a political scientist with specializations in American Political Institutions (Executive Politics and/or Legislative Politics) and Quantitative Methods.

The successful candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate courses such as Congress and the Presidency, Seminar in American Politics, Research Methods, Citizen Participation and Public Policy, and our introductory course, Government and Politics. This position allows for development of upper-level quantitative courses that would support both the political science major and the American Politics domain within the Data Analytics program.

The University of St. Thomas is a dynamic, urban university with 10,000 students and 450 full-time faculty. Located in a residential neighborhood with easy access to both of the Twin Cities, we are a liberal arts institution that values excellence in teaching and research and actively promotes diversity, equity, and inclusion as an expression of our mission. The department of political science actively works to attract, retain, and develop faculty from all backgrounds to enhance the diversity of the learning community and to offer our students richly varied perspectives.

The University of St. Thomas embraces diversity, inclusion, and equal opportunity for all. Our convictions of dignity, diversity, and personal attention call us to embody and champion a diverse, equitable, and inclusive environment. We welcome applicants of diverse races, ethnicities, geographic origins, gender identities, ages, socioeconomic backgrounds, sexual orientations, religions, work experience, physical and intellectual abilities, and financial means. We are committed to building a team that represents a variety of backgrounds, perspectives, and skills. This commitment is consistent with our mission: Inspired by Catholic intellectual tradition, the University of St. Thomas educates students to be morally responsible leaders who think critically, act wisely, and work skillfully to advance the common good.

Qualifications: A PhD in political science (U.S. or Foreign Equivalent), or alternatively ABD will also be considered. ABD candidates will be eligible for an initial rank of instructor. All applicants must have demonstrable skills necessary for excellence in teaching.

All application materials must be submitted online at http://www.stthomas.edu/jobs/. In addition to creating an applicant profile, please upload the following materials as additional documents:

1) Curriculum vitae
2) Copy of academic transcript
3) Statement of teaching philosophy and experience, including evidence of teaching effectiveness
4) Description of research agenda
5) Two letters of recommendation (emailed to Professor Angela High-Pippert: ahighpippert@stthomas.edu)

To ensure full consideration, all application materials must be received by Friday, October 15, 2021. The position will remain open until filled. Questions about the position should be directed to the department chair (Angela High-Pippert (ahighpippert@stthomas.edu)). If you encounter issues with the application process, please email Human Resources (employment@stthomas.edu).

September 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Bentley University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative race and ethnicity. We seek applications from scholar-teachers who focus on race and ethnicity in comparative, transnational or global perspective, with at least one area of specialization in the United States.

Our department is multidisciplinary, built around a core of faculty from cultural studies, geography, and political science. We welcome candidates from any discipline, including but not limited to anthropology, geography, and political science, to complement and deepen existing strengths. While the position is open with respect to further thematic specializations, we are particularly interested in candidates whose work contributes to understanding the intersectionality of race and ethnicity with sustainability, health, development, immigration/migration, or public policy, preferably through comparativist lenses.

As guided by our Academic Affairs Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion Strategic Plan, Bentley University seeks to enhance our faculty capacity in the scholarship, pedagogy, and engagement related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. To achieve that, we are hiring a cohort of new faculty in multiple academic departments and disciplines with expertise in DEI. This position is intended to be part of our DEI faculty cohort, which will enrich our DEI expertise across Business and the Liberal Arts & Sciences. Learn more about Bentley University's DEI strategic plan here: https://issuu.com/bentleyuniversity/docs/dei_strategic_plan_presentation_1.pptx

We seek a candidate whose teaching and scholarship will contribute to one or both of our undergraduate departmental majors in international affairs and public policy, and someone who can amplify our department’s commitment to anti-racism. Black, indigenous, and Latinx faculty, as well as faculty from other underrepresented groups, are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a continuing research agenda focused on publication and a strong dedication to excellence in teaching, with preference for candidates with classroom teaching experience. We especially welcome candidates who bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the classroom. Incoming tenure-track faculty typically have a 2-2 teaching load.

The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor rank for a Fall 2022 start.

Minimum Qualifications:
PhD required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed prior to the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Instructions to Applicants:
Applicants submit all materials through Bentley’s on-line employment site at: https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty/job/Bentley-Campus/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Professor---Global-Studies_R0002083.

Applicants should submit the following materials:
1. A cover letter that summarizes overall strengths, including the nature of the candidate’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
3. A teaching statement of no more than two pages.
4. A research statement of no more than two pages detailing the candidate’s research strengths and plans for future research directions.
5. The names and contact information for three professional references. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Joni Seager at jsager@bentley.edu

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by September 27, 2021.

University of Chicago

Rank: Provost’s Postdoctoral Fellowship in Latinx Politics / Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for a Provost’s Postdoctoral Fellowship in Latinx politics. While we are primarily interested in someone who studies Latinx politics within the United States, we welcome applications from scholars who also investigate these issues from a comparative or transnational perspective that includes a focus on the U.S. This fellowship provides up to two years of funding for junior scholars whose accomplishments make them exceptionally competitive for faculty positions and whose background or membership in historically underrepresented groups would contribute to the diversity of our faculty. Fellows will teach one course per year. At the end of the fellowship period and following an academic review, the Fellow may be directly promoted to a tenure-track assistant professorship.

Qualifications
Candidates must have completed all requirements for the PhD degree prior to the start of the appointment.

Application Instructions
Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago’s Interfolio website at http://apply.interfolio.com/92395. Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant’s prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing, and 6) three letters of reference.

To be considered, those interested must apply through The University of Chicago’s Academic Recruitment job board, which uses Interfolio to accept applications.

Consideration of applications will begin on September 16, 2021. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.
College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty Position in American Politics/Congress

Specializations: American Politics, Congress, Legislative Studies

Tenure-Track Faculty Position in American Politics/College of the Holy Cross

GENERAL INFORMATION
The Department of Political Science at College of the Holy Cross invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment to begin in August 2022. We are seeking a specialist in American Politics, with demonstrated expertise on Congress. The successful applicant will teach Principles of American Government, as well as upper-division electives, including a course on the U.S. Congress. Of particular interest are courses where questions of representation, race/class/gender, and partisan polarization are addressed.

This position carries a 3-2 teaching load with a full-salary one-semester research leave prior to tenure review, and generous sabbatical and fellowship leaves for tenured faculty. Tenure-track faculty are eligible for travel support and reimbursement of relocation costs within the College’s published policies. All full-time appointments offer competitive salaries and include full benefits. To learn more about faculty life at the College & the Worcester area, candidates are encouraged to visit http://holycross.edu/join.

QUALIFICATIONS
Candidates must demonstrate commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching at the introductory and advanced levels as well as scholarly achievement. PhD. required.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS
Please submit a cover letter addressing the position requirements listed above, curriculum vitae, statement on teaching, transcripts, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

In your cover letter, in addition to describing your research and teaching interests, please address how your scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or service might support the College’s mission as a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college (see http://holycross.edu/mission) and its core commitment to diversity and inclusion. For more information, please visit http://holycross.edu/diversity.

The College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Please submit all application materials to https://apply.interfolio.com/92308.

Review of applications will begin on September 13 and continue until the position has been filled. Initial interviews of selected applicants will be done via Zoom or Google Meet. Questions about this search may be directed to Maria Rodrigues, Chair, mrodrigu@holycross.edu.

COVID-19 VACCINATION POLICY
College of the Holy Cross requires that all faculty and staff show proof of full vaccination by an FDA-approved COVID-19 vaccine before beginning employment, unless an exemption from this policy has been granted. New faculty members believing they need an accommodation of this policy because of a disability, sincerely-held religious belief, or otherwise should inform Human Resources after an offer of employment is extended; please do not include any medical, genetic, or religious information in your application materials.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT
The College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,000 students... and is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, advising, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate commitment to the educational benefits of a richly diverse community.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Date Posted: 8/17/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9184

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science and International Relations

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) whose work addresses structural racism or Black politics. Sub-field specialization is open and we welcome applications from candidates whose research and teaching addresses the Black political experience, racial oppression, discrimination, and violence from domestic (US or other countries), international, transnational, diasporic, post-colonial, normative, historical, or critical perspectives. We expect candidates to ground their work—theoretical and/or empirical—in an intersectional understanding of how interlocking or overlapping systems of oppression, domination, inequality, or hierarchies shape the political world.

LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We would expect the successful candidate to teach courses both within our existing curriculum, but also to support and develop courses that speak directly to the Black political experience, broadly understood. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department’s mission of helping undergraduate students become informed, analytically reflective, methodologically rigorous, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experiences, and beliefs to apply. Please read more about our commitments and our efforts at https://resources.lmu.edu/officeofinterculturalaffairs/.

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal (https://pa843.peopleadmin.com/postings/47472). Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU’s mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; and 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLSjobs@lmu.edu. Only online applications will be accepted. Please direct questions to Marc Cooper at POLSjobs@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 10, 2021 but will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search. A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Public Policy, or related field is required; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2022 will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 8/17/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9182

Dartmouth College

Rank: Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty appointment at any rank in American Politics or Political Theory

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured faculty appointment at any rank. We seek qualified candidates whose research examines African American political thought, the political experiences of African Americans, and/or issues of race and racial injustice related to African Americans. The position includes the option of an affiliation with the Program in African and African American Studies (AAAS).

Applicants should have a strong commitment to teaching, scholarly work, engaging undergraduate students in research, and building a diverse and inclusive educational environment. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower-income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should discuss in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Philosophy, or a related discipline, or have the Ph.D. conferred before the start date of their appointment.

Application Instructions:

1) Cover letter, including overview of research areas and teaching interests. Applicants should also state in their cover letter, or in a separate statement, how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

2) C.V.

3) Dissertation abstract or research statement (maximum two pages single-spaced)

4) Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which should be from the dissertation advisor (for ABD applicants)

5) Writing sample of 20-40 pages
Applications must be submitted electronically at: https://apply.interfolio.com/92314. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Michelle.T.Clarke@dartmouth.edu or Jennifer.L.Jerit@dartmouth.edu.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9168

McGill University
Rank: Assistant Professor, Black Politics
Department: Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Black Politics in Canada and/or the United States. Applicants may specialize in Black Politics in one of those countries, conduct comparative research between them, or conduct comparative research that includes at least one of them along with other countries.

We welcome applications from candidates across the full range of political science’s theoretical and methodological frameworks and approaches. We further welcome candidates who bridge Political Science and the multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary study of Black Politics from fields such as African American Studies, Gender and Feminist Studies, Canadian Studies, American Studies, and Transnationalism and Diasporic Studies, though the appointment will be solely within Political Science.

Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, but appointment at a higher rank is possible under exceptional circumstances. The position start date is August 1, 2022.

This position is part of a multi-year interdisciplinary initiative designed to strengthen and support research innovation and excellence in African and Black Studies at McGill, while simultaneously addressing the under-representation of Black faculty in the tenure stream, as laid out in the University Action Plans to Address Anti-Black Racism 2020-2025. We encourage applications from candidates who bridge Political Science with other fields such as Feminist Studies, Canadian Studies, American Studies, and Transnationalism and Diasporic Studies, though the appointment will be solely within Political Science.

Qualifications and Education Requirements:

Candidates should have completed their PhD or be near completion. An applicant’s record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability/potential to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as to provide supervision for graduate students. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Job Details:

- Job Type: Tenure-track
- Rank: Assistant Professor
- Job Status: Full-time
- Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Application Deadline: October 1, 2021, for full consideration, although applications will continue to be reviewed until the position is filled.

Application Process:

Applications must be submitted online to https://myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/mcgill_careers/job/Leacock-Building/Assistant-Professor_JR0000014791 (McGill’s employment portal) &lt;/a&gt;.

The following supporting documents are required:

- A cover letter and curriculum vitae;
- A statement of research;
- A writing sample (article or chapter length);
- A teaching statement, as well as course evaluations and syllabi if available;
- Three confidential letters of reference submitted directly by the referees (You will be sent an email with instructions on how to provide referee contact information shortly after application).

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9176

Moravian University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The political science department of Moravian University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the assistant professor level for a position starting Fall 2022.

Candidates must have completed a PhD or be ABD near completion in political science with a specialization in American politics by August 2022. Previous teaching experience is required. The successful applicant will be responsible for teaching introductory courses in US politics along with intermediate and advanced courses such as Congress and the presidency, constitutional law, civil rights, policy, and political culture. The political science department at Moravian University emphasizes engaged teaching and mentoring to prepare students for informed engagement in political and public affairs through a purposeful consideration of the theoretical nature of politics, the ends towards which politics can be directed, and the means employed to achieve those ends. Our citizenship in theory and practice track focuses on... normative purposes and argumentation, political language and consciousness, historical texts, institutionalized political processes, modes of political participation, and the particulars of contemporary policy issues. The successful candidate may also contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, Africana Studies, Peace and Justice.

Moravian University is a member of the New American Colleges and Universities with a commitment to the liberal arts and student-focused pedagogy. Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching in a residential learning community and should demonstrate a commitment to undergraduate student research and co-curricular student activities. A clear plan for future scholarship is essential. The department also seeks a candidate who will contribute to the intellectual life of the department and the university community at large. The political science department highly values the diversity of candidates from underrepresented groups. Moravian University is located approximately an hour and a half driving distance from both Philadelphia and New York City.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

3:3 teaching load, with reassigned time as appropriate for administrative work and two preparations in the fall semester (two sections of introductory course)

Advising students

Occasionally teach in the First-Year Writing Seminar Program (FYWS)

Sustain an active program of scholarly research in the area(s) of your expertise

Produce peer-reviewed publications

Participate in professional organizations and societies

Complement existing faculty expertise in the four main subfields of political science

Contribute to interdisciplinary research and teaching collaborations between the School of Arts, Humanities, and Social Sciences and the School of Natural and Health Sciences

Teach introductory, intermediate, and advanced political science courses

Mentor undergraduate student research

Participate and direct student Honor theses

Participate and direct Student Opportunities for Academic Research (SOAR) Projects

Contribute to the University’s commitment to. fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community and participate in faculty self-governance with a high level of collegiality

Our department welcomes applications from women, candidates of color, and other underrepresented groups. The University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer.

The deadline for applications is December 15, 2021. All positions are subject to budget availability.

QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science with a specialization in American politics should be completed or near completion by August 2022.

TO APPLY: Qualified candidates should attach the following to their online application by clicking "Apply Now": (1) a cover letter that includes a statement of research interest; (2) a teaching statement including your approach to considering the global context of U.S. politics; (3) a statement addressing your approach to diversity, equity and inclusion; (4) a CV; (5) a graduate transcript; (6) a sample of scholarly writing; (7) two sample course syllabi; (8) two sets of course evaluations; (9) contact information, including email addresses, for three individuals who will provide letters of reference by December 15, 2021. Please attach documents as a single PDF file.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Khristina Haddad, chair of the political science department at haddadk@moravian.edu.

The application deadline is December 15, 2021; review of applications will begin immediately.

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

DEI Statement

Moravian University aspires to be a welcoming community that embraces and values the diversity of all members of the campus community. Learn more about the Office for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, and the DEI Action Plan here: https://www.moravian.edu/dei-action-plan.

Deep respect for others is fundamental to the Moravian University community. Moravian University does not discriminate against any person based on actual or perceived race, color, sex, religion, ancestry, genetic information, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, familial status, marital status, age, veteran status, disability, use of guide or support animals and/or mechanical aids, or any other basis protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws. In compliance with the requirements of Title IX, Moravian University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational program and activity, including employment.

Concerns regarding all forms of discrimination, including sexual harassment and/or sex discrimination in employment:

Leah M. Naso
Title IX Coordinator/Compliance Officer
210 Colonial Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018
(610) 861-1529
TitleIX@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding gender and equity in athletics:

Rebecca May
Assistant Athletic Director
148 Johnston Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018
(610) 625-7791
mayr@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding the application of Title IX:

U.S. Department of Education
Office of Civil Rights
100 Penn Square East, Suite 515

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

September 2021

Political Science Jobs
Political Science Jobs

Philadelphia, PA 19107-3323
(215) 656-8541
ocr.philadelphia@ed.gov

Report sexual harassment/sex discrimination online anytime (can be anonymous) at www.moravian.edu/titleix. Grievance procedures can be found in the institutional Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Non-Discrimination Policy at www.moravian.edu/policy.

Please visit moravian.edu/benefits to review benefits offered at Moravian University.*

WORK ENVIRONMENT:
The work environment characteristics described here are representative of those encountered while performing the essential functions of this job.

The individual is routinely exposed to indoor conditions, minimum outdoor weather and temperature extremes, and moderate noise level.

Pursuant to the ADA, Moravian University will provide reasonable services and accommodation(s) to employees with qualified disabilities in order to perform the essential functions of their employment, except when doing so would be unduly disruptive and/or result in undue hardship to the University. Accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis through documentation review and an interactive interview process that includes the employee’s supervisor. Requests for accommodation or questions about this process should be directed to Human Resources at hr@moravian.edu or 610.861.1527. View the standard physical demands for positions at Moravian University. If this position requires additional or different demands, a Human Resources team member will notify you.

The specific statements shown in each section of this description are not intended to be all-inclusive. They represent typical elements and criteria necessary to successfully perform the job.

*Please visit this link to review the benefit eligibility status associated with this position.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION Moravian University offers students a private education they will not find anywhere else: personal attention and preparation for life with a record of success longer than our nation’s history. Located in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania and offering undergraduate and graduate degrees that blend liberal arts with professional programs, Moravian University has been preparing students for reflective lives, fulfilling careers, and civic engagement. Visit moravian.edu to learn more about how the Moravian University focus on education for all prepares its students for life-long success.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9171

Ohio State University
Rank: Race and Ethnicity in American Politics

Description: The Department of Political Science at the Ohio State University seeks to hire in Race and Ethnicity in American Politics. We particularly encourage applicants with innovative approaches to studying important democratic questions, including but not limited to the use of novel data, innovative methodologies or methods, original techniques for causal inference, and/or field or lab experiments, and they should show promise of making theoretical and methodological contributions. Candidates must show promise of excellence in research and teaching and potential for attracting external funding.

The successful candidate will join a collaborative faculty and college and have opportunities to build connections with strong departments, centers and institutes across the university, including the Kirwan Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity and the Institute for Population Research.

Qualifications: The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have the degree in hand by August of 2022. Appointment is contingent on the university’s verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the Midwest’s fastest-growing city and the nation’s 14th largest city. Columbus offers a diverse array of welcoming neighborhoods and a vibrant arts and culture scene. Additional information about all that the Columbus area has to offer is available at https://visit.osu.edu/experience.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19160. A complete application includes a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, publication list, examples of research, other papers or chapters, unofficial graduate transcript, three reference letters (to be submitted by the reference writers at this site), and a diversity statement that addresses the candidate’s past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance equity, diversity, and inclusion in their scholarship, teaching, and service.

Review of applications will begin on September 15th and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Janet Box-Steffensmeier at Box-Steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members reach their full potential. Over the next few years, The Ohio State University is committed to welcoming 350 new faculty hires, many of which will contribute to growing our role as a premier re-search university equipped to respond to societal challenges that deter equality and inclusion. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. The university is a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Application Materials Required:
Submit the following items online at this website:
Cover Letter
Curriculum Vitae
Research Statement
Teaching Statement
Diversity Statement
Publication List
Job Market Paper
Other papers or chapters
Unofficial Graduate Transcript
Three Reference Letters (to be submitted by the reference writers at this site)

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/5/2021
Salary: Competitive

Syracuse University
Rank: Politics of InEquality

Syracuse University
Politics of Inequality

The Department of Political Science at Syracuse University’s Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks to hire a tenure-track Assistant or tenured Associate Professor whose scholarship focuses on the intersection of inequality and politics. We seek a candidate with expertise in the connection between social or economic inequality and political outcomes, defined broadly. This position starts in Fall 2022 and is part of a broader Syracuse University Cluster Hires Initiative.

The Citizenship and Democratic Institutions (CDI) Cluster draws together a diverse group of scholars who address critical issues related to the contested meanings of citizenship, civic engagement, public management, and the impacts of democratic institutions on social and economic well-being. The successful candidate will help shape future, multi-disciplinary hiring in the CDI Cluster, and lead and contribute to externally funded projects and interdisciplinary research initiatives within the Maxwell School and across the University.

We welcome applicants who study inequality across different domains – economic, social, health, gender, race, and/or ethnicity. We also are open to multiple methods, and issues in domestic, international, and comparative contexts. This position is open with respect to subfield and geographic focus, but we are especially interested in candidates who focus on American politics and comparative politics.

The political science department is housed within the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, which is committed to citizenship education at the undergraduate level and to graduate education in public affairs and the social sciences. We seek candidates who complement the broader Maxwell mission and have interdisciplinary interests. Successful candidates may be invited to affiliate with the Campbell Institute or one of Maxwell’s other interdisciplinary centers (http://www.maxwell.syr.edu/centers/). The successful candidate will teach at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The typical course load is 2 classes a semester.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field or a credible expectation of completing all requirements for the Ph.D. by August 2022. The Maxwell School is interested in candidates who can contribute to the inclusiveness and diversity of the academic community through their research, teaching, and/or service.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:
For consideration, candidates must complete an online faculty application (available at https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/87786.) and attach online the following: a letter of interest and a CV, a research statement, a sample of professional writing, a statement of teaching philosophy, a statement about diversity, equity and inclusion, and evidence of quality teaching. Files may be no larger than 5MB, but you may submit an external link to a larger file if needed.

In addition, applicants will be required to provide the full email addresses of three references.

Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by October 4, 2021. However, the department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

Syracuse University
Rank: Politics of InEquality

Syracuse University
Politics of Inequality

Texas State University, San Marcos
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Congress, American Politics

Position Description: The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level to teach required and elective graduate and undergraduate courses. The department awards the bachelor’s degree and the master of arts degree. All positions are subject to availability of funds. Required Qualifications:
1. Earned Ph.D. in political science by August 2022;
2. Ability to teach advanced and introductory courses in constitutional law, public law and jurisprudence;
3. Ability to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in judicial process and/or Congress;
4. Willingness and ability to play a substantial role in advising and coordinating events for pre-law students; and
5. Potential for, or record of, research and publication in political science.

Preferred Qualifications:
1. Demonstrated potential for exceptional scholarly research and publication in the discipline of political science;
2. Demonstrated potential for exceptional teaching; and
3. Effective interpersonal skills.

Application Procedures:
Online submission of all application materials is required through the university’s application portal, https://jobs.hr.txstate.edu/postings/35980.
To assure full consideration, please submit the following by October 15, 2021:
1) a letter of intent addressing required and preferred qualifications,
2) current curriculum vitae, 3) college transcript(s), 4) samples of scholarly work (presentations and/or publications), 5) syllabi (if available), and 6) three letters of recommendation.

Note that as part of our application process, we are requesting three letters of reference. Please provide the names and email addresses for your references in the Reference Letter section of the employment application. Upon submission of your application, an automated email will be generated and sent to your references with instructions on how to attach the reference letter to your application through a confidential online portal.

Candidates selected for interviews will be required to provide official transcripts from all degree granting universities.

Start Date: Fall 2022 Application Deadline: Open until Filled Date Posted: 8/16/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 9165

University of Chicago
Rank: Assistant Professor in Latinx Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Assistant Professor in Latinx politics. While we are primarily interested in someone who studies Latinx politics within the United States, we welcome applications from scholars who also investigate these issues from a comparative or transnational perspective that includes a focus on the U.S. Among the goals of this search is increasing the diversity of the faculty in the Department of Political Science, and we, therefore, welcome applicants from groups that are historically underrepresented in the academy.

Qualifications
Candidates must have completed all requirements for the PhD degree prior to the start of the appointment.

Application Instructions
Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago’s Interfolio website at http://apply.interfolio.com/92390. Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant’s prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing, and 6) three letters of reference.

To be considered, those interested must apply through The University of Chicago’s Academic Recruitment job board, which uses Interfolio to accept applications.

Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2021. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled Date Posted: 8/16/2021

University of Washington
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, Politics of Race and Ethnicity

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity, starting September 2022. The search is open with respect to subfield and methodology. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses with capacity for large enrollments of diverse students as well as graduate seminars. The successful candidate will be expected to support the unit’s commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Tenure track faculty engage in teaching, research and service and have an annual service period of nine months (Sept 16-June 15).

Qualifications
Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research relative to the politics of race and ethnicity. Candidates should have completed all requirements for a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field (or foreign equivalent) by the appointment start date, although applicants at the ABD level will also be considered.

Application Instructions
Applications should include a cover letter, current CV, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant’s substantive research interests. The teaching statement should describe the applicant’s teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant’s record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Applications must be submitted electronically at: http://apply.interfolio.com/91821 Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022 Application Deadline: Open until Filled Date Posted: 8/16/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 9178

Florida State University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science (https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2022. We seek candidates whose research focuses on institutions and political economy. The search is open with respect to the substantive subfield, and priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department’s strengths in formal theory and rigorous empirical analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and to contribute to the department’s undergraduate and graduate game theory sequences.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida’s capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (pdf’s are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Please contact Prof. Christopher Reenock, Political Economy Search Committee Chair, at creenock@fsu.edu or 850-644-5727 if you have any questions about this position.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9152

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in International Political Economy.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022.

The application deadline is Monday, November 1, 2021. Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/92232

Materials to be submitted:
• Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
• CV;
• Research Statement;
• Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
• Two scholarly writing samples;
• Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
• Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9163

Columbia University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Criminal Justice, Political Economy

Columbia University’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics with a focus in the area of race and inequality.

We are especially interested in candidates whose work examines aspects of criminal justice from a variety of methodological approaches, including formal theory. The position is at the rank of Assistant Professor and will begin July 1, 2022.

Ph.D. required at the time of appointment. Candidates will be expected to sustain an active research and publication agenda and teaching in undergraduate and graduate programs.

All applications must be made through Columbia University’s online recruiting platform: http://apply.interfolio.com/91561

Applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, contact information for three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion through teaching, professional activity, and/or service. The search committee will begin reviewing applications on September 7, 2021, and will continue to consider applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open untilFilled
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9155

Denison University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

The Department of Politics and Public Affairs at Denison University invites applications for a tenure-track vacancy in the institutions of American government, beginning Fall 2022. We welcome applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant or Associate Professor level.

We seek applicants whose research and teaching emphasizes the study of US national institutions, with a preference for a focus on the judiciary or public law. The successful candidate must have the demonstrated ability to teach an introductory course in political theory.

Our newly inaugurated program offers our students an integrated view of the discipline that emphasizes linkages between theory and practice; our major is structured as a learning community, where undergraduates pursue a track of interest along the lines of the traditional subfields and have multiple opportunities to share their knowledge with peers. We require our majors to complement their classroom experiences with an off-campus learning component. We are enthusiastic about our new approach to teaching about politics and public affairs, and we seek a new colleague who shares our excitement.

Preference will be given to applicants who provide evidence of teaching effectiveness from college-level courses independently taught and who show promise of a strong record of publication. We seek to hire a new colleague with broad training in political science. The successful candidate is expected to have significant interest in and demonstrated ability to be effective at undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting, and in contributing to the integration of the theoretical with experiential elements of our new major. The prospective teacher-scholar also will support the University’s commitment to liberal arts education, be an active participant in departmental and university governance, and develop a program of research leading to peer-reviewed publication.

Denison offers a 3-2 teaching load. After a successful Third Year Review, a one-semester junior leave is available in the fourth year.

Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science or similar field by start date is required (ABD will be considered as Instructor until Ph.D. is attained). Independent teaching experience (beyond TA) strongly preferred. Our college is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty; preference will be given to candidates who demonstrate a commitment to foster a classroom and research environment that engages students from diverse backgrounds.

Denison offers extensive support for faculty, including professional-development funding, opportunities for student-faculty research collaboration, and a range of workshops and other professional development opportunities to cultivate our strengths as teacher-scholars.

Applications must be submitted online at: https://employment.denison.edu and should include: letter of application; curriculum vitae; contact information for three letters of reference; statement addressing the candidate’s teaching interests and scholarly agenda [including estimated time frame of completion of the dissertation if applicable]; transcript [official or unofficial]; teaching evaluations or other evidence of demonstrated or potential excellence in undergraduate instruction [if available]; at least two sample syllabi (including a lower division introductory course in political theory and an upper division course in the institutions of American government) that reflect the kinds of courses the candidate would teach.

To ensure full consideration, completed applications must be received by October 11, 2021.

Denison University is an increasingly diverse, highly selective, residential liberal arts college enrolling approximately 2300 students from across the nation and around the world. Our college is committed to attracting and supporting an academically and culturally diverse faculty. Granville is located just 30 minutes from the Columbus metropolitan area, the state capital.

For information, please contact:
Andrew Z. Katz, Chair
Department of Politics and Public Affairs
Denison University
Granville, OH 43023
katz@denison.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9156

University of Washington
Rank: Assistant Professor: Law, Societies & Justice
Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other

Position Description
The Department of Law, Societies & Justice (LSJ) at the University of Washington in Seattle invites applications for a full-time, tenure track Assistant Professor who specializes in the social scientific study of race/ethnicity as it relates to law, rights, and justice. This position holds a 9-month service term and is expected to start in September 2022. LSJ offers undergraduate students a dynamic and engaged interdisciplinary liberal arts education focused on law, rights, and justice. LSJ also offers a graduate certificate in socio-legal studies for PhD students from a variety of disciplines. The successful candidate will teach a large introductory course that focuses on law, rights, and justice as well as other courses that reflect their areas of expertise. University of Washington faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Qualifications
LSJ seeks to hire a scholar whose research and teaching focus on race, ethnicity, law, and rights, and whose scholarship includes topics not currently covered by the department such as environmental justice or health. Other considerations will include: evidence of research excellence and productivity; excellence in, and passion for, undergraduate teaching; interdisciplinarity and fit with the LSJ mission; service, leadership and collegiality; and clear evidence of a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. A PhD or foreign equivalent in a social science field is required by the start of the appointment.

Instructions
Applications should include a current CV, a cover letter describing research and teaching interests and fit with LSJ, up to two samples of publications or other scholarly work, a teaching statement and evidence of teaching effectiveness, a diversity, equity and inclusion statement, and three letters of recommendation. Candidate materials should be electronically submitted via Interfolio here: https://apply.interfolio.com/90932. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2021. Questions about the application process should be directed to: Professor Steve Herbert, Search Committee Chair; skherb@uw.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9140

Carnegie Mellon University
Rank: Teaching Post-Doctoral Fellow in Political Science and Public Policy
Specializations: Environmental Policy, Education Policy, Economic Policy

The Heinz College of Information Systems and Public Policy at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position. The teaching post-doctoral fellowship is designed for those who are interested in a teaching career.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
They will be mentored by outstanding teaching faculty at CMU and will benefit from the rich inter-disciplinary environment at CMU.

We seek candidates that have expertise and could offer courses to graduate students in American politics and/or in selected policy areas including, but not limited to environment and energy, local and/or national economic development, education, and social justice. We are seeking an individual committed to effectively training our graduate students to be leaders that affect meaningful change by inculcating evidence-based practices to policy evaluation and decision-making, as well as the ability to synthesize and communicate recommendations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach and/or co-teach up to two semester equivalent courses per semester. Fellows can pursue research related to their interests and are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of the College and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2021.

The application deadline is Monday, February 14, 2022.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/83311

Materials to be submitted:
• Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program.
• CV.
• Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach) and a discussion any relevant experience in teaching a globally and culturally diverse group of intellectually curious students.
• Research Statement (Brief statement of research interests and a discussion of how it supports excellence in the classroom)
• Two writing samples of scholarly work.
• Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
• Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 2/14/2022
Date Posted: 8/9/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9132

University of California, Berkeley
Rank: Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley (http://polisci.berkeley.edu) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in the field of Race and Ethnic Politics. The department has a strong preference for candidates whose scholarship focuses on African-American politics.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia.

Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty.

To apply, visit https://apprkr.com/2418213

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-c9b0886efad34c468db76b9a425d8900

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9130

Hampden-Sydney College
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College is seeking applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning August 2022. The successful candidate must possess a background in American political thought and be able to teach Public Policy, Interest Groups, and Parties and Elections, as well as Introductory American Government. The ability to teach courses in other areas of American government, as well as the College’s Western Culture course, is desirable; expertise in research methods is a plus. Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Effective teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, willingness to engage in community service, and a dedication to student success, are all qualities required of a successful candidate. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment.

We will be available for informal interviews on Friday and Saturday, October 1st and 2nd. If you would like to discuss the position with us, please request a time using the email for the point of contact below.

All applicants must submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference. Please submit all application materials to GVFA Search Committee c/o Professor Celia Carroll, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: http://apply.interfolio.com/91794. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/4/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9121
and the College actively encourages applications from women and minorities, as well as from individuals who have experiences working with members of underrepresented groups. For more information about the college, visit our website at www.wheatoncollege.edu.

Occidental College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Assistant Professor in American Politics (Tenure-Track)

Politics Department

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in American Politics to begin in August 2022. Scholars may approach the study of American Politics with a specialization in political institutions or political behavior. For political institutions, we seek a scholar whose focus includes the legislative branch, the presidency, political parties, and/or the media. For political behavior, we seek a scholar whose primary interests lie in elections and voting or public opinion. The new hire will teach five courses per year (with a reduced four-course load in the first year), will have an active research agenda, and will contribute to departmental and College service.

Strong candidates will design and teach a wide variety of courses attractive to undergraduate students. Preference will be given to applicants willing to teach Introduction to American Politics and Public Policy and qualitative or quantitative methods. Preference will also be given to applicants whose Politics courses could be cross-listed with other departments on campus (e.g., Media Arts and Culture Department, Diplomacy and World Affairs Department, Latino/a and Latin American Studies Program, or the Department of Black Studies) and who can contribute to the College’s first-year writing program. Strong candidates will be thoughtful in their pedagogical approaches, will seek continually to improve their teaching, and will possess a record of or potential for teaching excellence. Strong candidates will also possess a record of or potential for strong scholarship in the discipline of political science.

Applications should submit the following materials—as separate files—to polschresearch@oxy.edu by September 10, 2021: (1) a cover letter detailing your interest in teaching in a diverse liberal arts environment, a brief discussion of your pedagogical approach and teaching experience and interests in American politics, and current scholarship in American politics; (2) a current CV; (3) a teaching packet with two components: (i) a teaching philosophy that includes a demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students and (ii) evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as syllabi, peer evaluations, and student evaluations; (4) a research statement; and (5) one writing sample, which may be a job market paper or peer-reviewed journal article. Candidates should arrange for submission of three confidential letters of recommendation to polschresearch@oxy.edu also by September 10, 2021. At least one of which should address evidence of or potential for teaching. Inquiries about the position may be directed to Jennifer M. Piscopo, Chair of the Politics Department, at piscopo@oxy.edu.
Occidental College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by State or Federal Law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College’s strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Summer research grants, moving expenses, start-up funds, and a reduced teaching load may be available. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information.

We will consider for employment all qualified applicants, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles’ Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for any part of the application or employment process, please contact Human Resources (hr@oxy.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 8/3/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9095

Occidental College

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics

Assistant Professor in American Politics (Tenure-Track)

Politics Department

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in American Politics to begin in August 2022. Scholars may approach the study of American Politics with a specialization in political institutions or political behavior. For political institutions, we seek a scholar whose focus includes the legislative branch, the presidency, political parties, and/or the media. For political behavior, we seek a scholar whose primary interests lie in elections and voting or public opinion. The new hire will teach five courses per year (with a reduced four-course load in the first year), will have an active research agenda, and will contribute to departmental and College service.

Strong candidates will design and teach a wide variety of courses attractive to undergraduate students. Preference will be given to applicants willing to teach Introduction to American Politics and Public Policy and qualitative or quantitative methods. Preference will also be given to applicants whose Politics courses could be cross-listed with other departments on campus (e.g., Media Arts and Culture Department, Diplomacy and World Affairs Department, Latino/a and Latin American Studies Program, or the Department of Black Studies) and who can contribute to the College’s first-year writing program. Strong candidates will be thoughtful in their pedagogical approaches, will seek continually to improve their teaching, and will possess a record of or potential for teaching excellence. Strong candidates will also possess a record of or potential for strong scholarship in the discipline of political science.

Applicants should submit the following materials—as separate files—to polsearch@oxy.edu by September 10, 2021: (1) a cover letter detailing your interest in teaching in a diverse liberal arts environment, a brief discussion of your pedagogical approach and teaching experience and interests in American politics, and current scholarship in American politics; (2) a current CV; (3) a teaching packet with two components: (i) a teaching philosophy that includes a demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students and (ii) evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as syllabi, peer evaluations, and student evaluations; (4) a research statement; and (5) one writing sample, which may be a job market paper or peer-reviewed journal article. Candidates should arrange for submission of three confidential letters of recommendation to polsearch@oxy.edu also by September 10, 2021. At least one of which should address evidence of or potential for teaching. Inquiries about the position may be directed to Jennifer M. Piscopo, Chair of the Politics Department, at piscopo@oxy.edu.

Occidental College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by State or Federal Law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College’s strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Summer research grants, moving expenses, start-up funds, and a reduced teaching load may be available. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information.
Political Science Jobs

We will consider for employment all qualified applicants, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles’ Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for any part of the application or employment process, please contact Human Resources (hr@oxy.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 8/3/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9096

Rice University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2022. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in American political behavior. Successful candidates will have demonstrated knowledge, skills, and/or lived experience, in diversity, equity, and inclusion work within or transferable to higher education. Examples of such commitment include, but are not limited to, a record of working with underrepresented and underserved populations, life experience that reflects the growing diversity of UP students, and/or experience, education, and training that can empower and support historically marginalized community members. Commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion should be described in the teaching statement. Information about the University of Portland’s DEI mission can be found here.

Founded in 1901, the University of Portland is a private, comprehensive, Catholic university with a mission of teaching and learning, faith and formation, service and leadership. In the POL department, we see our work developing the whole person and preparing people who respond to the needs of the world and its human family as aligning with the University’s mission. Candidates will articulate their understanding of the university mission in their cover letter and highlight how it is compatible with their approach to teaching, scholarship, and service.

A complete application will include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a teaching statement, and a list of three references (references will only be contacted for the finalists).

A background investigation is required before final hiring procedures can be completed for all faculty and staff positions. All supporting materials should be submitted through this HireTouchLink (https://up.heartouch.com/job-details?jobid=70388) by our priority deadline of October 8, 2021, though applications arriving later will also be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/2/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 9108

University of Portland
Rank: Assistant Professor American (U.S.) Politics (Tenure Track)
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Political Development, Political Economy

The Department of Political Science and Global Affairs (POL) at the University of Portland invites candidates in the field of American (US) Politics to apply for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position with a start date of August 2022. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in hand by the start date, and will have expertise in American Political Development and Political Institutions or equivalent. A commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, ideally supported by past evidence of effective teaching. The typical teaching load is 3-3, with a single course release in the first year.

In addition to teaching sections of our introductory core course, Introduction to US Politics, the successful candidate will also offer upper-division undergraduate courses on American political institutions and other courses within the candidate’s academic specialty. Candidates that have expertise in Race and Politics, Public Policy, or Political Economy are of particular interest to our department. Demonstration of scholarship and a scholarly agenda are also expected and should be included in the cover letter. This position is part of a cluster hire and the successful candidate may also have the opportunity to be involved with the emerging ethnic studies program.

The College of Arts and Science (CAS) is committed to diversifying our curriculum and our faculty. The successful candidate will have demonstrated knowledge, skills, and/or lived experience, in diversity, equity, and inclusion work within or transferable to higher education. Examples of such commitment include, but are not limited to, a record of working with underrepresented and underserved populations, life experience that reflects the growing diversity of UP students, and/or experience, education, and training that can empower and support historically marginalized community members. Commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion should be described in the teaching statement. Information about the University of Portland’s DEI mission can be found here.

Founded in 1901, the University of Portland is a private, comprehensive, Catholic university with a mission of teaching and learning, faith and formation, service and leadership. In the POL department, we see our work developing the whole person and preparing people who respond to the needs of the world and its human family as aligning with the University’s mission. Candidates will articulate their understanding of the university mission in their cover letter and highlight how it is compatible with their approach to teaching, scholarship, and service.

A complete application will include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a teaching statement, and a list of three references (references will only be contacted for the finalists).

A background investigation is required before final hiring procedures can be completed for all faculty and staff positions. All supporting materials should be submitted through this HireTouchLink (https://up.heartouch.com/job-details?jobid=70388) by our priority deadline of October 8, 2021, though applications arriving later will also be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/2/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 9108

Air War College
Rank: Professor of Nuclear Enterprise Operations
Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, American Government and Politics
Specializations: International Security, Defense, History & Politics
Duties
Air University’s USAF Center for Strategic Deterrence Studies, an academic center under the Air War College, invites applications from qualified individuals for a faculty position of Assistant Professor. This position educates Air War College and Air Command and Staff College students on political and military deterrence concepts, develops education and curriculum, oversees student field trips, and directs student research on contemporary deterrence policy and strategic issues.

Responsibilities
The primary focus of the position is on curriculum development and instruction on strategic deterrence and nuclear deterrence operations to students at the Air War College and Air Command and Staff College. General class size is 8-12 students. Participates in planning, developing, and implementing course content, instructional methods/materials, and testing/evaluation instruments. Provides detailed feedback to students and documentation of student progress. Serves as subject-matter expert and advisor to PME colleges and Air University (AU) on subjects of relevance to academic background and teaching area. Makes recommendations on educational methods, program content, course organization, lesson development, lecture subjects, lecturers, integration of state-of-the-art technology applications, and other areas of curriculum development. Guides, stimulates discussion, and evaluates participation and contribution of students.

Advises student research on major research projects (professional study papers). With other academic officers, ensures research studies are conducted in line with the latest US military and DoD policies. Pursues individual research in area of expertise, writes scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews for external peer-reviewed publications, broadens and deepens personal knowledge to maintain intellectual leadership. Ensures AU is using educational best practices to leverage technology, develop sound methodology, and garner useful feedback from AF and DoD stakeholders and students. Establishes and continuously maintains professional contacts with educators, military officers, and institutions related to area of expertise.

Provides advice and counsel to Course Directors, Department Directors, and Deans on topics related to area(s) of expertise. Organizes and conducts faculty development activities related to research activities, curriculum development initiatives, new techniques, and technology application in the curriculum. Reviews and provides scholarly opinion on draft Air Force publications. Attends meetings and participates in other organizational activities intended to advance the state of knowledge in area of expertise or to set and maintain professional standards of performance and promote professional ethics. Serves as guest lecturer at AU and other DoD schools as schedule permits.

Travel Required
Occasional travel - You may be expected to travel for this position.

Requirements
U.S. Citizenship Required
Must be registered for Selective Service, see Legal and Regulatory Guide
A Top Secret security clearance is required
You may qualify for moving expenses; if authorized, may be covered using PCS, Recruitment or Relocation Incentive in accordance with agency policy.
Position is subject to random drug testing.
This job is being filled by an alternative hiring process and is not in the competitive civil service. This is an Administratively Determined position in the excepted service.

Qualifications
The successful candidate will have demonstrated superior teaching performance and the ability to develop and maintain curriculum; have guided research, and published in the areas noted.
Knowledge of the DoD nuclear enterprise and operations missions with respect to the strategic and operational challenges in the international and regional security environments in the mid-to-long term
Knowledge of the principles, practices, and techniques of educational instruction
Knowledge of educational resources, programs, principles, and policies
Skill in accomplishing special educational/instructional group research studies and projects
Ability to apply knowledge of U.S. deterrence policy to actual security situations
Ability to establish program objectives and to assess progress toward achievement of those objectives
Ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing
Ability to work harmoniously with others within the education environment

Education
A Ph.D. is required in Military or Diplomatic History, International Relations, Security Studies or a closely-related field with an emphasis on strategic studies or international security policy.

Please use the USA Job’s site to apply https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/608915400

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: 8/30/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: $90,000 - $99,999
eJobs ID: 9086

Carleton College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Carleton College Department of Political Science seeks candidates for a temporary position as a Visiting Assistant Professor in American Politics beginning January 1, 2022 and serving for the winter and spring trimesters of academic year 2021-2022. Advanced Ph.D. candidates with teaching experience as well as individuals with Ph.D. in hand are encouraged to apply. The successful candidate will teach a total of four courses (two in the 10-week winter and two in the spring trimester terms) at an introductory and advanced level in any area of American politics. The appointment will begin January 1, 2022.

We are particularly interested in candidates who are committed to teaching a diverse student body in a highly selective, liberal arts environment. Carleton College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, ethnicity, religion, sex, national origin, marital status, veteran status, actual or perceived sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, status with regard to public assistance, disability, or age in providing employment or access to its educational facilities and activities. We are committed to developing our faculty to better reflect the diversity of our student body and American society. Women and members of underrepresented minority groups are strongly encouraged to apply.
To apply, please visit the Carleton College website (careers.carleton.edu) and submit an on-line application that includes a cover letter, C.V., one or two sample syllabi, one to two-page statement about teaching in an undergraduate liberal arts environment and how you would contribute to a college community that embraces a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values, and contact information for three letters of reference. Please send inquiries to Paula Teiken at pteiken@carleton.edu Political Science Department, Carleton College, Northfield, MN. The deadline for applications is October 1, 2021.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000. Located in the thriving two-college town of Northfield, Minnesota, it is forty-five miles from the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, in easy reach of a vibrant metropolitan area that is home to three million people and rich cultural resources.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: 9/16/2016
Date Posted: 8/11/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9175

New York University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Position Description:
The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks candidates for three faculty positions for scholars conducting outstanding research on the subjects of race, identity, and inequality in domestic, comparative, or international contexts. The primary focus of our search is at the tenure track assistant professor level; however, we may consider more senior candidates under exceptional circumstances. The positions are to begin September 1, 2022, pending administrative approval.

This search is part of a broader cluster of recruitment efforts in Race, Identity, and Inequality that spans the Departments of Politics and Sociology in the Faculty of Arts and Science, and the Wagner School of Public Service. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars working in these areas to collaborate across NYU. More information about this cluster and the broader cluster initiative can be found at https://www.nyu.edu/faculty/teaching-and-learning-resources/faculty-advancement/faculty-recruitment/nyu-faculty-cluster-hiring-initiative.html#race2 and at https://drive.google.com/file/d/1n88I-7y5yZGYxYxK54VJ9AhQqGRNHRDKG/view.

Qualifications:
Candidates are expected to possess a PhD by September 2022, in political science or a cognate discipline; to have records of excellent research; and to indicate the potential to be future disciplinary leaders in their respective fields of expertise. Candidates should also have demonstrated ability as excellent teachers at the undergraduate and/or graduate level. NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their scholarship, teaching and mentoring, and/or service engagement commitment to these goals. We are particularly interested in hearing about concrete steps you have taken (or plan to take) to foster an inclusive intellectual environment in the classroom, in the department and on campus, and/or in your field more generally.

Required Applicant Documents:
- Cover letter
- CV or Resume
- Statement of Research and Goals
- Statement of Teaching
- Writing Sample
- Three Letters of Reference

Start Date: Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 7/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9101

Oklahoma State University
Rank: Teaching Assistant Professor

Teaching Assistant Professor-American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polsci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a Teaching Assistant Professor specializing in American politics to begin in August 2022. This position is non-tenure track but offers the potential of reappointment and promotion to Teaching Associate and Teaching Full Professor. This position is designed for instructors who prioritize good pedagogy and student mentoring. The normal teaching load is 3-3 and includes a mix of smaller and larger classes. The primary, though not exclusive, teaching responsibility is Introduction to American Government. Candidates with previous experience teaching Introduction to American Government as instructor of record and experience teaching a mix of online and face-to-face courses are especially welcome. In addition to teaching, the position entails service responsibilities that could include social media and outreach, and participating on various departmental committees.

To be considered, candidates must have received a PhD or be nearing completion of their doctoral training (ABD) from an accredited degree program in political science or closely related degree program. Preference, however, will be given to candidates who have received their doctoral degree by the start of appointment. Initial appointment is for three years (which includes a probationary period) but can be renewed for additional terms. Applications completed and received by Oct. 15, 2021 will be given preference.

Application Instructions:
Please apply online at: http://apply.interfolio.com/91446. While we will continue to review applications into October, candidates seeking the fullest consideration should submit their applications by September 10, 2021. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply links to their professional websites; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

The Politics Department at NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their scholarship, teaching and mentoring, and/or service engagement commitment to these goals. We are particularly interested in hearing about concrete steps you have taken (or plan to take) to foster an inclusive intellectual environment in the classroom, in the department and on campus, and/or in your field more generally.

Required Applicant Documents:
- Cover letter
- CV or Resume
- Statement of Research and Goals
- Statement of Teaching
- Writing Sample
- Three Letters of Reference

Start Date: Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 7/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9101
Applicants are asked to have the following submitted through Interfolio https://apply.interfolio.com/90122. A letter of application outlining your interest in this position, teaching interests/experience, vitae, graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, evidence of successful teaching, and a short teaching statement. The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and underrepresented racial/ethnic groups. About one third of our undergraduate majors are members of underrepresented groups. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic groups and 55 percent are female. OSU is an AA/EEO/E-Verify Employer. For more information, visit https://eoo.okstate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9089

Troy University
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science at Troy University invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in public administration. This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching in master’s degree (MPA) in public administration program as well as undergraduate political science courses (with preference given to those with the ability to teach American politics), which will be delivered in person as well as online. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is negotiable as either January 2022 or August 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9091

University of Rochester
Rank: American Politics

American Politics. The Department of Political Science at the University of Rochester invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor, starting July 1, 2022, from candidates working in any area of American Politics. Qualifications include a PhD. We particularly encourage applications from candidates working in race and ethnic politics. The University of Rochester, an Equal Opportunity Employer, has a strong commitment to diversity and actively encourages applications from candidates from groups underrepresented in higher education. Applications received by September 15, 2021 will receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications after that date. Candidates should submit c.v., research statement, teaching statement, statement of plans to increase the diversity of the campus community, letters of recommendation, samples of written work, and transcript. Materials should be submitted on-line at: https://www.rochester.edu/faculty-recruiting/login. For more information on the University of Rochester Political Science Department: https://www.sas.rochester.edu-psc/.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9097

University of California Berkeley
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor - Cluster Hire in Latinxs and Democracy - University of California, Berkeley

Assistant/Associate/Full Professor - Cluster Hire in Latinxs and Democracy - University of California, Berkeley

The University of California, Berkeley seeks applicants for four tenure track (Assistant Professor) positions and one tenured (Associate or Full Professor) position in the area of “Latinxs and Democracy.” Successful junior candidates will be invited to join one or more of the following units: College of Letters and Science (Departments of Sociology, Demography, and Political Science), School of Social Welfare, and School of Public Health. The senior, tenured position will be in the Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program in the Department of Ethnic Studies (College of Letters and Science).

The Latinxs and Democracy Cluster initiative brings together units in the social sciences and professional schools to address the US-centered Latinx experience within three overarching themes: migration and citizenship, civic and political participation, and social inclusion and wellbeing. These themes speak to central concepts in the imagining and practicing of democracy because at their core they tell us about how the state distribution of political power, through policy and practice, affects a myriad of social issues, from racial inequality to health disparities. Junior candidates for the Sociology, Political Science, Demography, and Public Health positions will be expected to be able to research and teach about the US Latinx experience (i.e. Latinx Politics, Latinx Health, Latinx Communities). Applicants at the non-tenured level should select up to two unit(s) they wish to be considered by. Should applicants at the non-tenured level wish to be considered for a joint appointment with Demography, they should select that as an additional, joint-appointment choice. Senior candidates for the Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program search will be considered at the Associate and Full Professor levels.

Public Health: Berkeley Public Health will recruit an assistant professor focused on examining the impact of public policies on the health of U.S. Latinx populations. Health policy researchers come from diverse social science backgrounds, including public policy, health policy, epidemiology, and health services research, as well as economics, sociology, demography, and political science.

Political Science: The Department of Political Science will recruit an assistant professor with a research focus on the dynamics of Latinx...
politicals in the United States, broadly understood. This could include a focus on political participation and behavior, representation and policy responsiveness, political institutions, and/or changes in political coalitions. Although the U.S. should be a core focus, comparative approaches/perspectives are welcome. In addition to an active research agenda in this field, qualified candidates will be expected to teach courses in Latinx politics.

Social Welfare: The School of Social Welfare seeks an assistant professor committed to multi-level practice in areas such as Latinx civic and political engagement, public policy and institutions, immigration, and the social problems associated with, but not limited to, families and the feminization of poverty. An MSW is preferred and/or community-facing translational scholarly research attuned to professional practice.

Sociology: The Department of Sociology will recruit an assistant professor with a research focus on Latinx immigration and/or Latinx communities in the United States. This could include attention to racialization processes, immigration patterns and Latinx demography, civic and political participation, and Latinx social mobility. While the US Latinx experience should be a main focus, candidates who employ a transnational/transborder lens are also welcome to apply.

Demography: The Department of Demography seeks a dual-appointed assistant professor that will be shared with any of the departments/schools listed above.

Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies: The Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program in the Department of Ethnic Studies seeks a tenured (Associate or Full) professor in the Social Sciences whose dynamic research agenda focuses on the US Latinx experience. This can include a focus on US Latino communities, immigration, political participation, demography, and racialization experiences in any historical or contemporary period. The scholar should have an established record in Latinx Studies and the Social Sciences, and will be expected to lead the new Latinx and Democracy Cluster along with affiliated senior faculty. Qualified candidates will have a history of excellent research, teaching, and mentorship and will be expected to teach relevant social science methods courses within the program.

To apply, visit https://aptrkr.com/2373518

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
ejid-e0ac19a5c7c79a47bb6ac532a0c5f67

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 7/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9057

University of California, Irvine
Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of American Politics with a specific focus on Race and Ethnicity and/or American Political Institutions contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2021-22 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in American Politics. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $56,381 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2021-2022 Academic Year:
Fall Quarter: 9/20/21 – 12/10/21
Winter Quarter: 1/3/22 – 3/18/22
Spring Quarter: 3/23/22 – 6/10/22

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF06660

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2021. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary throughout the year.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/20/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9045

Villanova University
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Villanova University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. The successful candidate will have broad training in American national institutions and Congress as their primary research interest. A secondary research interest in another part of the American Politics subfield is not required but would be viewed positively, and candidates with such an interest should address it in their cover letter. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses on Congress and other courses in American Politics at both the undergraduate and graduate level. While the successful candidate will also be expected to teach an undergraduate research methods course, we are not seeking someone principally trained as a methodologist.

While the Department is not conducting preliminary interviews at APSA, members of the search committee are available should a candidate have specific questions about the position. Candidates with such questions should contact Abigail Minor (abigail.minor@villanova.edu), who will arrange a meeting with one or more members of the committee.

For a more detailed description of the Department of Political Science, please consult https://www1.villanova.edu/university/liberal-arts-sciences/programs/political-science.html.

Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate and graduate (MA) courses. Teaching duties include a 3-2 teaching load for the first three years. After a successful Third Year Review, a one-semester sabbatical is available in the fourth year and the 3-2 teaching load may be continued for another three years contingent on a successful and promising record of scholarship. Ph.D. in hand is strongly preferred.
Swarthmore College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - American Politics: Congress and the Presidency
Specializations: American Politics, Presidency, Congress

The Department of Political Science at Swarthmore College invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the rank of assistant professor to begin in the fall semester of 2022. The course load is four courses a year.

Swarthmore College is a highly selective liberal arts college that is located in the suburbs of Philadelphia. The college’s mission combines academic rigor with social responsibility. Swarthmore has a strong institutional commitment to inclusive excellence through diversity in its educational programs and employment practices. The College actively seeks and welcomes applications from candidates with exceptional qualifications, particularly those with a demonstrable commitment to a more inclusive society. For more information on Faculty Diversity and Excellence at Swarthmore, see https://www.swarthmore.edu/faculty-diversity-excellence/information-candidates-new-faculty.

Qualifications
We seek a candidate with research and teaching interests in either Congress or the presidency (or both). We are particularly interested in a candidate with a secondary field in environmental politics, political methodology (both qualitative and quantitative methods), and/or class and identity politics (including inequality, race and ethnicity, gender and LGBTQ politics, the politics of immigration, and indigenous politics).

The successful candidate will have a PhD in political science in hand by August 2022.

Application Instructions
Candidates must demonstrate excellence in undergraduate teaching as well as research. Applicants should submit: (1) a cover letter that briefly describes why they want to teach Swarthmore College students, as well as a description of their research agenda; (2) a writing sample of not more than 40 pages; (3) three syllabi (one for an introductory course in American Politics, and two for upper-level courses) that represent an important part of the application; (4) a C.V.; (5) a graduate school transcript; and (6) three letters of recommendation. These materials should be submitted via Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/89258.

The deadline for applications is September 20, 2021.

This position is one of two tenure track searches in American politics at Swarthmore College. The other position is available via Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/89259.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/18/2021
Date Posted: 7/14/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9008

Swarthmore College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - American Politics: The Courts and Constitutional Law
Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Immigration Policy

Description
The Department of Political Science at Swarthmore College invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the rank of assistant professor to begin in the fall semester of 2022. The course load is four courses a year.

Swarthmore College is a highly selective liberal arts college that is located in the suburbs of Philadelphia. The college’s mission combines academic rigor with social responsibility. Swarthmore has a strong institutional commitment to inclusive excellence through diversity in its educational programs and employment practices. The College actively seeks and welcomes applications from candidates with exceptional qualifications, particularly those with a demonstrable commitment to a more inclusive society. For more information on Faculty Diversity and Excellence at Swarthmore, see https://www.swarthmore.edu/faculty-diversity-excellence/information-candidates-new-faculty.

Qualifications
We seek a candidate with research and teaching interests in the courts and constitutional law (including the Supreme Court). We are particularly interested in a candidate with a secondary field in environmental politics, political methodology (both qualitative and quantitative methods), and/or class and identity politics (including inequality, race and ethnicity, the politics of immigration, gender and LGBTQ politics, and indigenous politics).

The successful candidate will have a PhD in political science in hand by August 2022.

Application Instructions
Candidates must demonstrate excellence in undergraduate teaching as well as research. Applicants should submit: (1) a cover letter that briefly describes why they want to teach Swarthmore College students, as well as a description of their research agenda; (2) a writing sample of not more than 40 pages; (3) three syllabi (one for an introductory course in American Politics, and two for upper-level courses) which represent an important part of the application; (4) a C.V.; (5) a graduate school transcript; and (6) three letters of recommendation. These materials should be submitted via Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/89259

The deadline for applications is September 20.

This position is one of two tenure track searches in American politics at Swarthmore College. The other position is available via Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/89258

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/20/2021

Date Posted: 7/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9009

---

Connecticut College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government and International Relations

Constitutional Law and Public Policy

The Department of Government and International Relations at Connecticut College invites applicants for a tenure-track position as an Assistant Professor in the U.S. politics subfield, whose focus is on constitutional law and public policy, and who can teach a range of courses in both fields. In addition to an introductory U.S. politics course, the successful candidate must be able to teach a two-course sequence in constitutional law, including both an institutions course (e.g., separation of powers, check and balances) and a course on civil rights and civil liberties. The successful candidate’s research and teaching focus will also include public-policy making. The new hire should be able to teach an introductory public policy course, along with upper-division courses in the particular policy area in which the candidate specializes. These policy courses could, for example, focus on health, immigration, anti-poverty initiatives, education, or criminal-justice reform.

Required: ABD in Political Science. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but is required to complete the Ph.D. within one year of hire.

Salary is competitive. In addition to providing ongoing support for teaching and research, the College offers the following resources for pre-tenured faculty: a 2-2 teaching load in the first year, a research fund in the first two years, and a semester’s sabbatical (at full salary) after a successful third-year review.

The College’s Board of Trustees, President, administration, faculty and staff share a commitment to diversity. To this end, the College, located in New London, CT is continuing what has been a very successful initiative to diversify its faculty, staff, and student body. We encourage applications from candidates who share this understanding and will contribute to the diversity of our college community, including members of historically underrepresented groups. The College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Please visit our website, http://www.conncoll.edu http://www.conncoll.edu/ &lt;/a&gt;, for more information about the College and our faculty searches.

Offering two popular majors (a government major and an interdisciplinary international relations major), Government and International Relations is a collegial department with 11 full-time faculty members. There are also opportunities for collaboration with interdisciplinary programs on campus. Moreover, the College’s general education program, Connections, provides ample opportunity for collaborative and interdisciplinary teaching. For an overview of this innovative curriculum, please visit http://www.conncoll.edu/connections/http://www.conncoll.edu/connections/ &lt;/a&gt;

Applicants should upload a letter of application, a C.V., teaching evaluations, a writing sample, graduate transcripts, and at least three letters of recommendation to http://apply.interfolio.com/89957 http://apply.interfolio.com/89957 &lt;/a&gt;. Email inquiries should be sent to Tristan Anne Borer, Chair of the Department of Government and International Relations, at tabor@conncoll.edu. Applications received by October 8th will receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9027

---

Purdue University

Rank: Post-doc researcher Public Opinion / Political Psychology

Specializations: Public Opinion, Political Psychology, Research Methods

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science at Purdue seeks a Post-doctoral Research Fellow for an 11-month position to support ongoing research in areas of public opinion, political psychology, and political communication. The research fellow will maintain their own research agenda and work on collaborative projects related to one or more of the following: political emotions, social identity, political attitudes, and behavior, and/or text analysis of open-ended survey data. Opportunities for collaborative work within these broader areas will be determined based on the fellow’s interests and skills. In addition, the fellow will provide mentoring and supervision of graduate and undergraduate researchers in a team-based environment, assist in the development of new lab facilities in the department, and participate in the broader intellectual life of the Department of Political Science and the College of Liberal Arts. The position may be renewable for an additional year, pending review and funding. Start date is on or before September 1.

Qualifications

The position requires a recent PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field, completed no earlier than August 2018. Candidates must show evidence that all requirements for the PhD have been met prior to the start of the position. Candidates must also have strong training in research design and quantitative methods using both R and Stata. Preference will be given to applicants with skills in one or more of the following areas: grant writing, survey methodology, causal inference, machine learning, or natural language processing.

The College and University

Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university with an active, and collegial network of faculty, post-docs, and graduate students. Political Science faculty members are actively involved with interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods at Purdue (AMAP), the Center for C-SPAN Scholarship and Engagement, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the Human Rights Program, the Purdue Policy Research Institute and many others. West Lafayette is an affordable, welcoming community with many opportunities for entertainment, dining, hiking, biking, and other outdoor activities.

Applications
Candidates should submit a cover letter describing fit for the position, CV, the names of three references, graduate transcripts, a separate statement on diversity, equity, and inclusiveness in mentoring, and a solo-authored writing sample.

Application materials must be submitted electronically via https://bit.ly/36I3dg

Purdue University’s Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin immediately continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Department Head Cherie Maestas at cmaestas@purdue.edu.

The anticipated salary range is $52,000 – $55,000 for the fiscal year with additional support for research and travel. This position is contingent on final budget approval.

A background check is required for employment in this position.

Ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Equal Opportunity - Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9013

Yale University
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire an Assistant, Associate, Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2022. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Statistics and Data Sciences Department, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between the departments. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year, plus service to the program(s).

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and list of references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters and 2 writing samples. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio: https://apply.interfolio.com/88751

Review of applications will begin August 15, 2021, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at polisci@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9006

Harvard University
Rank: TENURE-TRACK PROFESSOR OF GOVERNMENT – AMERICAN POLITICS AND/OR QUANTITATIVE METHODS

Harvard University
Faculty of Arts and Sciences
Department of Government

Position Description: The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in Political Science, with a strong preference for scholars specializing in American Politics and/or Quantitative Methods. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2022. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates are encouraged to apply by October 1, 2021; applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

Basic Qualifications: Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Additional Qualifications: Demonstrated excellence in teaching is desired.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following materials through the ARIs portal (https://academicpositions.harvard.edu). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 15, 2021.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement
5. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate’s application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received. (*At least one letter must come from someone who has not served as the candidate’s undergraduate, graduate, or postdoctoral advisor).
6. A statement describing efforts to encourage diversity, inclusion, and belonging, including past, current, and anticipated future contributions in these areas.
7. Writing samples and publications, if applicable.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9005

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Texas Christian University
Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics
Specializations: American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Political Science at Texas Christian University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in American Politics with research and teaching specializations focusing on race, ethnicity, gender and/or sexuality. The successful candidate should be able to teach in our research methods sequence. This position will begin in Fall 2022, and it will be part of a multi-position DEI cluster hire by TCU’s AddRan College of Liberal Arts on race, ethnicity, and social justice which also involves searches in history, sociology, and religion. AddRan College desires to build a cohort of teacher-scholars across disciplines and areas of specialization interested in teaching and conducting research on race, racism, ethnicity, and social justice. As part of the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion cluster hire, AddRan College will provide the cohort with opportunities and resources to participate in mentoring and peer-support circles, research & writing workshops, and other ongoing professional development.

Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 3/2 teaching load, and the salary and benefits are competitive.

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, evidence of teaching ability, unofficial transcript, writing sample, teaching statement, research statement, and diversity statement to https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. Full review of applications begins on September 1 and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair Dr. Michael Strausz (michael.strausz@tcu.edu).

The TCU political science department has 13 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors in three undergraduate degrees. Our teacher-scholars also run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships, as well as teach in and administer interdisciplinary programs including Women and Gender Studies and Comparative Race and Ethnic Studies.

A selective teaching and research university with 11,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 13th largest city in the United States and part of the nation’s fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a fast-growing city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for nine consecutive years as one of the Great Colleges to Work For by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EOE employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status, or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/1/2021
Date Posted: 6/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8988

University of Missouri-Kansas City
Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Missouri-Kansas City invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track Assistant Teaching Professor position in American politics effective Fall 2022, renewable annually. This position is responsible for teaching four courses per semester including teaching multiple sections of Introduction to American Government or another course in our general education curriculum. The successful candidate will also participate in service activities such as advising, curriculum development, online course development, student recruiting, and student retention.

We are particularly interested in a commitment to excellence in college teaching and engagement with underrepresented and historically marginalized students and colleagues. We are open to subfield specialization, but we especially welcome applicants that can offer a course in racial and ethnic politics.

The University of Missouri-Kansas City is a public research institution, situated at the heart of a thriving and diverse urban area, with a strong economy, an enriching culture and arts scene, excellent schools, numerous recreational amenities, and affordable cost of living. We especially encourage applications from candidates who will contribute, through their teaching and service, to the diversity and excellence of UMKC and the broader civic community.

Minimum Qualifications

A Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field and successful teaching experience at the college level. ABD will also be considered.

Commitment to Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

Diversity, equity, and inclusion are central to UMKC’s mission as an urban-serving institution. Kansas City is a particularly diverse city, including African, African American, Asian, Latino, Italian, Irish, German, Native American, Slavic, Mediterranean and Middle Eastern communities. Such ethnic diversity, in addition to our thriving neighborhoods of the Westside, Northeast Kansas City, and the Eastside, fosters creativity, connection, and innovation, which is showcased across the region. Major attractions such as the Annual Ethnic Enrichment Festival, the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum, the Filipino Cultural Center, the American Jazz Museum, Guadalupe Centers and Mattie Rhodes and Kansas City Irish Fest are a small sample of the many ways our diverse city enriches us.

For the reasons enumerated above, UMKC’s strategic plan prioritizes our commitment to multiculturalism, globalism, diversity and inclusion. The university’s values call upon its faculty, staff, students, and community to position themselves as global citizens who seek out, embrace, and celebrate the many benefits of diversity. Such commitment is demonstrated across teaching, service and research. We welcome applicants to share in our commitment to these core values and know that you will quickly understand the beauty of calling Kansas City your home.
Political Science Jobs

Providence College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in American National Politics
Specializations: Presidency, Congress, American Politics

The Political Science Department at Providence College invites applications for a one-year position as visiting assistant professor in American Politics. The department welcomes applicants who are experts in any subfield related to the national politics of the United States. The teaching load is four courses per semester (two or three preparations); class size varies from about 12 to 25 students. The successful applicant will teach two sections of American government and politics, the presidency, and American political theory in the Fall 2021 semester. Spring 2022 semester classes include two sections of American government and politics, a course on the U.S. Congress, and a second upper-division course related to the expertise of the person who accepts the position.

Applications should possess a Ph.D. in political science or be close to completion, and demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence, strong research skills, and potential for research productivity.

Applicants should apply online at https://careers.providence.edu and submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, and contact information for three professional references. For additional information, please contact Dr. Joe Cammarano, Chair of the Political Science Department, at jpcammar@providence.edu.

Review of applications will commence immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Providence College is an Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity employer, the College especially encourages the applications of women and persons of color.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/28/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
ejobs ID: 8983

University of Oregon

Rank: Pro Tem Instructor - Pool

The Department of Political Science at the University of Oregon seeks qualified applicants for its open instructor pool. The pool is for part-time, temporary, limited duration teaching appointments not to exceed one year, but with the possibility of renewal for up to a total of three years.

Instructional assignments will be primarily for large introductory courses and may also include online and upper division courses. Assignments may include the following:
PS 106 Power, Politics, and Inequality
PS 206 Ethics, Identity, and Power
PS 275 Legal Process
PS 297 Intro to Environmental Politics
PS 351 Democratic Dilemmas
PS 372 Music and Politics
PS 497 US Presidency

Applicants should apply online at https://careers.providence.edu and submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, and contact information for three professional references. For additional information, please contact Dr. Joe Cammarano, Chair of the Political Science Department, at jpcammar@providence.edu.

Review of applications will commence immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Providence College is an Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity employer, the College especially encourages the applications of women and persons of color.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8987

September 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Applications will be accepted on a continuous basis. Screening of applications will take place as positions become available and continue until positions are filled. The first screening may be as early as July 7, 2021.

Minimum Requirements: Master’s in Political Science or related field

Professional Competencies: Successful candidates will have professional experience, demonstrated ability or potential for quality teaching, and a commitment to working effectively with students, faculty, and staff from diverse backgrounds.

Preferred Qualifications: PhD in Political Science or related field; Teaching and supervisory experience

View full details and apply at https://apply.interfolio.com/89437.

All files should be received by September 10, 2021 to receive full consideration.

Apply here: https://apply.interfolio.com/89437.

Butler University
Rank: Instructor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track instructor for a one-year appointment with possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants should have expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States and a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will teach an introductory American politics survey course, research and analysis methods (basic research design/methods), US Parties and Politics, and other courses aligned with their expertise, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. We are particularly interested in candidates who could teach an introductory international politics survey course. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, with no more than six distinct course preparations per year anticipated.

Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following to psearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant’s qualifications for this position and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and a curriculum vitae. Additional evidence of evidence of inclusive teaching excellence is welcome but not required at this stage. Applicants should have advanced to candidate or earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment. The selected candidate will be required to provide official transcripts and to consent to a background check prior to a final offer of employment and will start August 2021.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/9/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8927

University of Notre Dame
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Notre Dame invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor in computational social science (broadly defined), with a preference for applicants in the field of American Politics. Candidates should have a promising research agenda employing computational methods to study political phenomena and be capable of excellent teaching in graduate and/or undergraduate courses in computational methods, quantitative methods, data science, and their substantive field. The successful hire will hold an affiliation with Notre Dame’s Lucy Family Institute for Data and Society.

The University of Notre Dame supports the needs of dual career couples and has a Dual Career Assistance Program in place to assist relocating spouses and partners with their job search.

All applicants should include a CV, letter of interest, a research statement, a teaching statement, one writing sample, teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation. If you have questions, please contact Prof. Jeff Harden, chair of the search committee, at jharden2@nd.edu.

All files should be received by September 10, 2021 to receive full consideration.

Apply here: https://apply.interfolio.com/89437.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 6/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8955

Trinity College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Trinity College invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track position in American Politics at the Assistant Professor level commencing in the fall of 2022. Candidates must have research expertise in the area of Congress/legislative politics, broadly defined to include the study of congressional elections. Candidates with the ability to teach courses on parties, elections, interest groups or social movements are especially encouraged to apply. Coordinating Trinity’s exemplary Legislative Internship Program and teaching the associated seminar will be part of the chosen candidate’s regular teaching duties.

Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following to plsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant’s qualifications for this position and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and a curriculum vitae. Additional evidence of evidence of inclusive teaching excellence is welcome but not required at this stage. Applicants should have advanced to candidate or earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment. The selected candidate will be required to provide official transcripts and to consent to a background check prior to a final offer of employment and will start August 2021.

The Trinity College Political Science Program is a vibrant and growing community of scholars committed to excellence in teaching and research. Our faculty includes national and international leaders in the field, and we offer a broad and diverse curriculum that covers a wide range of topics in American Politics.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/9/2021
Salary: Open
eJobs ID: 8926

Political Science Jobs

September 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
We encourage applicants who share our department’s commitment to diversity and inclusion in the broadest terms.

Evidence of scholarly promise is required. Evidence of teaching effectiveness is desired, if available. Teaching load is 2/2 for the first two years (and 3/2 thereafter) with a one-semester leave every fourth year. A Ph.D. in Political Science or Public Policy should be completed or expected by August, 2022.

To ensure full consideration please submit a cover letter that includes a statement of research interests, a teaching statement that includes your approach to addressing issues of diversity, equity and inclusion, a CV, a graduate transcript, a sample of scholarly writing, and course syllabi and evaluations (if available) as well as at least three letters of reference to https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com https://trincoll.peopleadmin.com&lta;&gt; by Sept. 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/8/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8923

Boston University
Rank: Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Boston University seeks to appoint the Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship at the rank of advanced Associate or full Professor, with tenure, to begin in Fall 2022. Applicants in Political Science, from the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Public Policy, Political Theory, are encouraged to apply. We wish to recruit an intellectual leader with a distinguished record of scholarship who brings a critical lens on the development and meaning of citizenship.

When George B. Maxwell established this Professorship in September 1918 the First World War was not yet concluded and citizenship was — in both de jure and de facto senses — narrowly defined. Indian Reservations were being consolidated, the Espionage and Sedition Acts of WWI limited free speech, Jim Crow was in force, the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution granting women the right to vote had not been passed, and the purpose and limits of immigration were contested. The Maxwell Professorship supports scholars engaged in fostering an “intelligent understanding and appreciation of the rights, duties, inheritances and possibilities of our citizenship.” A Maxwell Chair holder could understand citizenship broadly; for example, in the context of American political development, the tensions between communitarianism and cosmopolitanism, political theories of citizenship, or in comparative perspective. In keeping with George Maxwell’s vision, we seek a scholar who is engaged in both public education and academic discourse.

Boston University offers a rich and vibrant academic community for interdisciplinary research on citizenship; the Maxwell Professorship offers the opportunity to develop connections across disciplines, programs and centers. The candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. We seek candidates who prioritize inclusive practices in their scholarship, pedagogy, and campus engagement.

Please submit a letter of interest to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18615. The application must also include: a curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, a list of references and a statement about your record of inclusion. Completed applications are due on 4 October 2021.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 6/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8904

Bloomsburg University
Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Intro to and U.S. Government

Position Description
The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 101: Elements of Political Science and POLISCI 120: U.S. Government. A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog-.

Qualifying Education/Experience
Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of American Politics. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations.

Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information
A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrine2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.
Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act.

The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled.

The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University’s compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University’s compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8844
Howard University

Rank: Open Rank

Specializations: African American Politics, History & Politics, Health Care

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for an OPEN RANK tenure-track position with research interests in the area of Black Politics and American Politics. The successful candidate will be a scholar whose research and teaching engages Black politics in the United States. Scholars’ research should focus on people of African descent and fall into one of the following areas: healthcare or health policy, American political institutions, American political development, and/or American political behavior. Substantive areas of teaching should include, but not limited to, American government and politics, Black politics, healthcare or health policy, public policy, electoral politics, and/or Black social movements. We welcome applications from candidates with a range of theoretical and methodological frameworks and approaches.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to vigorously pursuing extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department’s teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired.

Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation’s capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics, it is the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications:
• Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution;
• Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor;
• Effective communication and organizational skills; and
• Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing:
1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above
2) Current curriculum vita
3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans
4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy
5) A writing sample
6) Three letters of recommendation

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee, Dr. Niambi Carter, and submitted electronically via AmericanBlackPoliticsSearch@howard.edu. Screening will begin on March 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 16, 2021. Additional details and information can be found at http://coas.howard.edu.

The University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender or gender identity, marital status, religion, disability or protected veterans status. Veterans and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Inquiries regarding provisions for persons with disabilities or veterans status, Equal Employment Opportunity and Title IX should be directed to the Office of Employee Relations and Equal Employment Opportunity at 202-806-1280.

DePaul University

Rank: Instructor

The Department of Political Science at DePaul University invites applications for a full time, non-tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of American Politics and Public Law. Responsibilities will include teaching courses on American Institutions (the Presidency and Congress) and areas of Constitutional law and the judicial process. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach introductory American Government and Political Science courses. In addition, the position will have administrative responsibilities overseeing the Department’s internship program. The position will begin in the Fall Quarter of 2021.

Required Qualifications:

A Ph.D. is preferred at the time of appointment, but ABD candidates will be considered. A Juris Doctorate degree will not be considered sufficient. Experience working with students outside of the classroom, or in Washington DC, will be given preference, as will an ability to teach research methods. Candidates should electronically submit the following: (1) a letter of application (cover letter), (2) a CV, (3) an unofficial transcript of the last degree (earned or in progress), (4) syllabi and (5) complete course evaluations if available. This material should be submitted via DePaul’s Faculty Opportunities website at https://academics.depaul.edu/faculty-jobs/Pages/default.aspx. Finalists will also be asked to submit three letters of recommendation.

The screening of applications will begin April 9, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.
About DePaul

With a total enrollment over 22,000 students, DePaul is one of the largest private non-profit universities in the nation. Yet the class size in its academic programs typically does not exceed 40 students, reflecting the value the university places on teaching excellence. Our programs provide high quality, personalized, accessible education to a diverse student body, grounded in the values of St. Vincent de Paul. Our teaching and research advance knowledge and service to society.

DePaul seeks applicants who reflect the diversity of its student body and the city of Chicago. Those with experience working with diverse faculty, staff, and students, and who can contribute to an inclusive climate are encouraged to apply. We urge candidates to provide examples of their successes in these areas. Women, members of historically underrepresented groups, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged to apply.

For more information, e-mail polisci@depaul.edu or visit the department’s web site at https://las.depaul.edu/academics/political-science/Pages/default.aspx

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8662

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Regional Political Economy
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Middle East, Africa, Latin American

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in international political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellowship program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the political within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/academicpositions/position/21442

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9104

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs
Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to eight visitors for the 2022-2023 academic year in the Visiting Fellowship Program. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply.
Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Saturday, November 20, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/21443

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:
• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:
• Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
• Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9103

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs
Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program in Regional Political Economy
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Middle East, Latin American, Africa

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs seeks two visitors or more candidates for the Visiting Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows’ program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/21444

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:
• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:
• Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
• Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Berea College
Rank: Tenure-track Position in Political Science

Tenure-track Position in Political Science

The Political Science Department at Berea College invites applications for a tenure track position beginning in August of 2022. Applicants must have a PhD in hand by the start of the appointment, preferably in Political Science or International Relations, or an associated discipline. Teaching expertise and research or professional experience in international relations and research methods are required, and expertise is also preferred in comparative politics, political theory, and/or any regional specialization other than East Asia.

Responsibilities include teaching six courses per year, including introductory and upper-level courses in Political Science and in the General Studies core curriculum, as well as advising duties. Candidates are also expected to supervise a Faculty Assistant through the Berea College Labor Program. Commitment to the mission of Berea College, superior teaching, research, and mentoring of undergraduates in a liberal arts environment is essential. Successful candidates will, through their teaching, scholarship and service, demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse community.

Application should send a letter of application, curriculum vita, transcripts, statement of teaching philosophy, research statement, and three letters of recommendation (sent directly from the recommenders) to: https://tinyurl.com/594hssjs. Applicants should submit their materials by October 1, 2021, and all recommendations must be received by October 15, 2021. Additional materials may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1855, Berea College achieved national distinction as the first coeducational and interracial college in the South. Berea has a longstanding commitment to interracial education and is one of the most racially diverse private liberal arts colleges in the United States. With an emphasis on service to Appalachia and beyond, Berea enrolls 1,600 students from 43 states and U.S. territories and more than 70 countries. Berea College only admits students who are unable to afford tuition and provides all of them a no-tuition promise, valued at more than $178,000 over four years. Berea’s students excel in the College’s supportive yet demanding academic environment, and many are the first in their families to graduate college. As one of nine federally recognized Work Colleges, all Berea students hold a position in which they work 10-12 hours weekly. In 2021, Berea College once again topped the list of “Best Value Colleges” in the nation in The Wall Street Journal/Times Higher Education (THE) College Rankings. Berea’s no-tuition model contributed to its No. 1 best-value ranking. Forbes cited a 2021 study of nearly 400 colleges in the United States, in which Berea College ranks second in terms of affordability and academic quality. And in 2021 The Princeton Review cited Berea College as “one of the nation’s best institutions for undergraduates to earn their college degree.” The publication also recognized Berea as a Best Value College, based on academic rigor, affordability and graduates’ career outcomes; a Best Green College; and a Tuition-Free School.

Berea College, in light of its mission in the tradition of impartial love and social equality, welcomes all people of the earth to learn and work here.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/14/2021
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9242

University of Pittsburgh
Rank: Assistant Professor - Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences

Assistant Professor – Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for an assistant professor (pending budgetary approval) in any subfield of political science or related discipline whose work addresses structural racism, oppression, or Black political experiences, conceived domestically, comparatively, or globally. We encourage applications from scholars working on problems of racial oppression and racialized inequalities and hierarchies – in race and ethnic politics, in political behavior, in political economy, in international and transnational politics, in global or domestic institutions (of the US or other countries), as well as any other topic related to our theme (including inequalities in cities, health, education, and technology).

The Department intends to make three hires in the coming years (pending budgetary approval), in coordination with a cluster in Race, Representation, and Anti-Black and Systemic Racism within the Kenneth P. Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences. The related University Race and Social Determinants of Equity and Well-being Cluster Hire and Retention Initiative is also aimed at creating and sustaining a cohort of scholars whose research, service, and community engagement are aimed at strengthening knowledge and addressing racial disparities in the social determinants of equity and wellbeing. We thus welcome applicants whose interests complement current and new cluster faculty pertaining to race and inequality and their impact on Black communities in the United States; desirable research and teaching interests include, but are not limited to: race and ethnic politics, identity, democratic behavior, activism and collective action, representation, urban or local governance, health and healthcare policy, technology policy or algorithmic bias, environmental justice, ethnic or international conflict, migration, post-colonialism/post-imperialism; scholars whose interests include Africa or the African Diaspora are also encouraged to apply.

The starting date for the position is September 1, 2022. Successful candidates are expected to engage in research, teaching, and service that contributes to the department’s mission. Required qualifications: applicants have or expect to have a Ph.D. in hand before the appointment begins, research interests related to structural racism, oppression, or Black political experiences, and demonstrated ability or potential to deliver high-quality instruction, to publish high-quality scholarship, and to contribute to an inclusive climate and attract and retain a diverse student body.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a diversity statement (brief description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion), and a minimum of three letters of reference; references should send their letters directly to psjobs@pitt.edu. Please apply online at: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=21006250&tz=GMT-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by October 8, 2021, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The Political Science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is wynn2@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/27/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9237

---

Emory University
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Emory University seeks to hire a scholar in Comparative Politics whose work advances our understanding of issues related to identity, inequality, and governance. We welcome a broad range of perspectives and methods that are covered by these themes. The position is for a tenure-track or tenured faculty member (advanced assistant and/or associate/full professors), to begin in the fall semester 2022.

The successful candidate must demonstrate excellence or the promise of excellence in research and a commitment to teaching and mentoring a diverse student body. The candidate should have completed the Ph.D. or be very close to completing the Ph.D. by September 2022. The teaching load is four courses per year and benefits are competitive.

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, list of references, and a statement addressing past activities and future plans to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion in the profession. Untenured candidates should also supply a research statement, graduate transcript, teaching portfolio, writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Candidates are strongly encouraged to apply by September 26, 2021. All applications received by October 26, 2021 will be given full consideration. To apply for this position, please submit your materials using the following link: http://apply.interfolio.com/92768.

Emory University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Disability/Veteran employer. Women, minorities, people with disabilities and veterans are strongly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/26/2021

---

Gonzaga University
Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (Latin American Politics)

The Department of Political Science at Gonzaga University in Spokane, WA invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor with a regional focus on Latin America beginning in the fall semester of 2022. The successful candidate will offer the introductory course in comparative politics or the introductory course in international relations as well as at least one Latin American Politics course. We are especially interested in candidates whose research is attentive to social and racial justice or the political action or experiences of marginalized communities. The ability to teach courses in political thought, indigeneity, or undergraduate research design and methods is also desirable. Preference will also be given to candidates whose teaching methods and materials intentionally foster the full participation and engagement of our students, with particular attention to students with marginalized identities.

The ideal candidate will hold a PhD in Political Science by July 2022 and will become an integral part of a department of nine faculty members dedicated primarily to excellence in undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will regularly teach the introduction to comparative politics or the introduction to international relations as part of their 3-3 load along with upper division courses consistent with their research specialization and aligned with departmental needs. An active research agenda leading to publication in the field and significant undergraduate advising and mentoring will be expected of the candidate who joins our department.

Required Qualifications:
• Ph.D. in Political Science or related field. ABDs considered with the expectation degree is in hand by July 15, 2022.
• Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including the ability to effectively respond to the academic needs of learners from diverse backgrounds.
• Demonstrated active research agenda focusing on Latin American Politics

Desired Qualifications:
• Demonstrated abilities using classroom strategies and pedagogies to advance equity and inclusion.

Job Duties:
• Teach three courses per semester, including either the introductory course in Comparative Politics or the introductory course in International Relations, courses required for the POLS major and minor, and upper division courses in the candidate’s areas of expertise, including at least one on Latin American Politics.
• Engage in research, publication, and other scholarly activity appropriate to the candidate’s research agenda and areas of expertise.
• Provide curriculum and career advising and mentoring to the program’s undergraduates.
• Support the department, university, and discipline through service and other forms of academic citizenship in keeping with the University Mission (our Mission Statement can be found at: https://www.gonzaga.edu/about/our-mission-jesuit-values/mission-statement).

About Gonzaga University and Spokane, Washington

---

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
 Founded in 1887, Gonzaga is a private, liberal arts institution located in Spokane, WA. The Department of Political Science awards the BA degree and enjoys a growing enrollment of politically involved, social justice-minded students. The average class size of 23 enables our faculty to invest in engaged pedagogy and transformational teaching. Gonzaga is ranked in the top 20 for excellence in undergraduate teaching among National Universities by US News and World Report.

Gonzaga’s 152 acre campus sits along the Spokane River within walking distance of downtown Spokane, on the ancestral homelands of the Spokane Tribe of Indians. Spokane is the second largest city in Washington and pairs a lower cost of living with many urban advantages, including a conveniently located international airport, a vibrant art community, and a range of exciting restaurants. Located on the east side of Washington State, Spokane offers many options for outdoor enjoyment including hiking, boating and fishing on numerous local lakes, and several ski resorts within driving distance.

Application Procedure:
To apply, please visit our website at www.gonzaga.edu/jobs. Applicants must complete an online application and electronically submit (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) a 1-2 page statement of teaching philosophy, (4) a statement detailing your experience engaging with diverse communities and articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, (5) unofficial copies of graduate school transcripts, and (6) the names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited for candidates placed on the long list). The position closes on Friday, September 24, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. U.S. PST. For assistance with your online application, please contact Human Resources at (509) 313-5996. Direct other inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Stacy Taninchev, taninchev@gonzaga.edu

Start Date:
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9220

University of Central Florida
Rank: Assistant Professor, Cyber Security and Privacy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations
Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established nine interdisciplinary clusters to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy, from a policy or social science perspective, and plan to hire one tenure-earning assistant professor for this cluster. This position has an anticipated start date of August 8, 2022.

The Cybersecurity and Privacy Cluster is an interdisciplinary initiative, bringing together researchers from across the campus and working on addressing the pressing questions of our national security from engineering, science, and social perspectives. The cluster currently has eight members, collectively advising more than 35 doctoral students, and embracing a strong culture of collaboration and teamwork. The cluster runs various well-funded programs, has developed and implemented a new interdisciplinary M.S. in Cybersecurity and Privacy, and was recently selected by the National Science Foundation to be a host institution for the prestigious Scholarship for Service Program.

This is an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department and may include a combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. See http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/ for a complete list of all the units involved. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal candidate will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. In particular, we are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy, and someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, addressing the policy, regulatory or social science aspects with a focus on one or more of the following topics: a) privacy laws and regulation; b) social media; c) cybercrimes; d) cyberwarfare; e) cyber security and intelligence. With this in mind, we anticipate the selected candidate will be tenure-earning in one of, but not limited to, the following units: Criminal Justice; Legal Studies; Modeling, Simulation, and Training; Politics, Security, and International Affairs; or Sociology.

UCF is one of the nation’s largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 70,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region’s future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation.

UCF’s Orlando main campus location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to the UCF main campus is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies, UCF’s Institute for Simulation and Training and UCF’s new School of Modeling, Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the state of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school which was established in 2006 and is a neighbor to large corporations such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world’s best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about one of UCF’s newest endeavors, the exciting Faculty Cluster Initiative, at https://www.ucf.edu/faculty/faculty-research-clusters.

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents to be submitted electronically through the Human Resources website, www.ucf.edu/jobs/. No paper or emailed applications or materials will be considered.

In addition to the online application, interested candidates must attach the following materials to their application:
1) A Diversity Statement:
UCF has a diverse student body and community, and we are committed to meeting the needs of this community. Please tell us about your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, in the context of a faculty-student setting and as a colleague, as well as future plans to advance these contributions. Such indicators of commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion may be demonstrated through scholarship, teaching, mentoring, service and engagement.

2) A Cover Letter:
In the cover letter candidates must address their background in scholarship and policy related to cyber security and privacy as related to policy and regulatory aspects and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home, as well as any joint appointments they would desire.

3) Curriculum Vitae,
4) Teaching Statement,
5) Research Statement, and
6) Contact information for three professional references (include email address and telephone number).

NOTE: Please have all application documents ready when applying so they can be attached at that time. Once the online submission process is finalized, the system does not allow applicants to submit additional documents at a later date.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure consideration before the position is closed, the application should be submitted promptly.

Questions regarding this search can be directed to the cluster lead and search committee chair, Dr. David Mohaisen, at mohaisen@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9227

University of Texas, Austin
Rank: Politics of South Asia - Open Rank

Apply Here: https://apply.interfolio.com/93008

The Government Department at The University of Texas at Austin invites applications for a tenure-track position in the politics of South Asia beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year. The search is open to scholars of any rank, working in any sub-field in comparative politics, so long as their research is focused on the region. The successful candidate, if a full professor, may be appointed to the Charles N. Wilson Chair in South Asian Politics; candidates hired at a rank other than full professor may be appointed fellows of the Wilson Chair.

Duties will include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, the College of Liberal Arts, and the University. The successful candidate will have a strong record of research and teaching.

The Department is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching, research, and service. Applications must include a diversity statement addressing past or potential contributions to diversity and equal opportunity through their research, teaching and/or service. In particular, the statement may highlight any experiences working with diverse populations; examples might include mentoring activities, research interests, committee service, courses taught, recruitment and retention activities.

UT Austin is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual-career couples and single parents.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. for appointment as Assistant Professor or higher ranks, or expect to obtain it within a year of joining the faculty as Instructor. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Applicants should upload a cover letter, vita, three letters of recommendation (names and contact information only for applicants at the associate and full rank), examples of scholarly work, teaching materials (a statement of teaching philosophy and sample course evaluations), and diversity statement.

The department will begin reviewing applications October 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Apply Here: https://apply.interfolio.com/93008
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9227

Bowdoin College
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Latino Politics

As part of a larger multi-year cohort initiative, the Bowdoin College Department of Government and Legal Studies seeks applicants for a full-time tenure-track position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, pending final approval. The position would begin July 1, 2022. We expect to hire at the rank of assistant professor but will consider applications from candidates at all levels. A PhD in political science or a related field is required by the start of this appointment. Research and teaching on U.S. politics is preferred, but a focus on other areas of the Americas will be considered. Teaching load is two courses per semester, across all levels of the curriculum.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful scholarly or artistic engagement and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive.) Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals.

Bowdoin is a community that warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the support of an inclusive campus community and those who will enrich and contribute to the College’s multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit https://careers.bowdoin.edu to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a description of your research plans; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion (https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive); and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021 and continue until the search is concluded.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland and 2+ hours north of Boston — connected to Boston and beyond by public transportation — the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin’s reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (35% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 15% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: http://www.bowdoin.edu. For additional information about the Department of Government and Legal Studies, see https://www.bowdoin.edu/government/ or contact department chair Andrew Rudalevige (arudalev@bowdoin.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9201

Middle Georgia State University
Rank: Assistant Professor, American/comparative politics or public policy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

JOB SUMMARY: The Department of Political Science at Middle Georgia State University (https://www.mga.edu/political-science) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in political science, with a specialization in American politics, comparative politics, or public policy, at the rank of assistant professor, to be primarily based on the Cochran campus. This is a 10-month position with a teaching load of 12 credit hours per semester (4-4) of undergraduate courses in political science, typically including multiple sections of the introductory American Government course, as well as more advanced undergraduate courses in political science in the candidate’s area of specialization.

MAJOR DUTIES: Teaching responsibilities may include day and/or evening courses, partially and fully online courses, and courses taught via video conferencing; faculty are also expected to travel to teach and attend meetings at other campus locations when needed. Tenure-track faculty are expected to have an active scholarly agenda, including publication in peer-reviewed outlets; student advising and service to the department, school, university, and community are also expected for promotion and tenure. Summer teaching opportunities may also be available, contingent on student demand.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates should have earned a doctorate in political science, or a doctorate in related field including at least 18 semester hours of graduate coursework in political science, from a regionally-accredited institution; ABD candidates will only be considered if they will earn their doctorate by January 1, 2022. Experience as an instructor of record, demonstrated expertise in American politics or comparative politics, and/or the ability to contribute to one or more of the minors offered by the department are desirable. Candidates must have a record of teaching and potential for scholarship that warrants appointment at the rank of assistant professor.

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications accepted until the position is filled.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Informal inquires about the position may be made to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, Chair of the Department of Political Science at Christopher.lawrence@mga.edu.

TO APPLY: Application materials should be emailed as one PDF attachment to recruitment@mga.edu with the subject line "10018053 Assistant Professor of Political Science 8.24.2021". Application materials must include (1) an MGA faculty application, (2) a letter of interest, (3) a curriculum vitae, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) names and contact information of three references, and (6) unofficial transcripts. Paper application materials will not be accepted.

Background checks will be conducted on all final candidates.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9208

University of California, Riverside
Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Black Politics
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, RIVERSIDE
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE
Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Black Politics

The Department of Political Science of the University of California, Riverside, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Black Politics.
The search is open with respect to field and we welcome strong candidates whose research and teaching addresses any substantive area of Black Politics within or outside the U.S. context. We are open to a range of theoretical and methodological approaches. The successful candidate should be committed to excellence in undergraduate and graduate education and have a record or promise of research publication. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field or discipline is required at the time of appointment. Ph.D. Candidates who are ABD at the time of application will be also considered. Appointment level and salary will be competitive and commensurate with education and experience. The appointment will commence on July 1, 2022.

Applicants are required to submit a cover letter of interest, an updated CV, a Research Statement, a Teaching Statement, a statement of Past and/or Planned Future Contributions to Advancing Diversity and Inclusive Excellence, teaching evidence or evaluations, writing samples, and 3 letters of recommendation. Confidential Letters are solicited via the AP Recruit System Only – Applicant inserts reference names and solicits references from within AP Recruit at time of application. Only complete applications will be reviewed by the committee.

Applicants who use Interfolio may utilize a feature provided by the Interfolio Service to allow Interfolio to upload their letters directly into AP Recruit. Applicants can input an Interfolio-generated email address in place of their letter writer’s email address. Interfolio refers to this as Online Application Deliveries. The following link on the Interfolio website shows how to set this up (http://product-help.interfolio.com/m/27438/I/266289-confidential- letter-uploads-to-online-application-systems/)

Advancement through the faculty ranks at the University of California is through a series of structured, merit-based evaluations, occurring every 2-3 years, each of which includes substantial peer input.

Faculty in the University of California are expected to engage in research, teaching and service. Typical course load is four classes over the academic year.

Review of Applications will begin on October 18, 2021 and may continue until the position is filled. Applications and supporting materials received by October 18, 2021 will receive full consideration.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/JPF01454

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9200

Bentley University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative race and ethnicity. We seek applications from scholar-teachers who focus on race and ethnicity in comparative, transnational or global perspective, with at least one area of specialization in the United States.

Our department is multidisciplinary, built around a core of faculty from cultural studies, geography, and political science. We welcome candidates from any discipline, including but not limited to anthropology, geography, and political science, to complement and deepen existing strengths. While the position is open with respect to further thematic specializations, we are particularly interested in candidates whose work contributes to understanding the intersectionality of race and ethnicity with sustainability, health, development, immigration/migration, or public policy, preferably through comparativist lenses.

As guided by our Academic Affairs Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion Strategic Plan, Bentley University seeks to enhance our faculty capacity in the scholarship, pedagogy, and engagement related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. To achieve that, we are hiring a cohort of new faculty in multiple academic departments and disciplines with expertise in DEI. This position is intended to be part of our DEI faculty cohort, which will enrich our DEI expertise across Business and the Liberal Arts & Sciences. Learn more about Bentley University’s DEI strategic plan here: https://issuu.com/bentleyuniversity/docs/dei_strategic_plan_1_.pptx

We seek a candidate whose teaching and scholarship will contribute to one or both of our undergraduate departmental majors in international affairs and public policy, and someone who can amplify our department’s commitment to anti-racism. Black, indigenous, and Latinx faculty, as well as faculty from other underrepresented groups, are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a continuing research agenda focused on publication and a strong dedication to excellence in teaching, with preference for candidates with classroom teaching experience. We especially welcome candidates who bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the classroom. Incominng tenure-track faculty typically have a 2-2 teaching load.

The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor rank for a Fall 2022 start.

Minimum Qualifications:
PhD required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed prior to the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Instructions to Applicants:
Applicants submit all materials through Bentley’s on-line employment site at: https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty/job/Bentley-Campus/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Professor---Global-Studies-R0002083.

Applicants should submit the following materials:
1. A cover letter that summarizes overall strengths, including the nature of the candidate’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
3. A teaching statement of no more than two pages.
4. A research statement of no more than two pages detailing the candidate’s research strengths and plans for future research directions.
5. The names and contact information for three professional references. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Joni Seager at jseager@bentley.edu

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by September 27, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/27/2021
Date Posted: 8/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9196

Lake Forest College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics and International Relations
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics and International Relations invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor in comparative politics or international relations with a specialization in Latin America to begin August 2022. Lake Forest College has a rich, interdisciplinary program in Latin American and Latinx Studies to which the successful candidate is expected to contribute significantly. We are seeking someone to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics and Introduction to Global Politics; a research methods survey course, required for Politics and International Relations majors, that includes qualitative and/or quantitative methods; and a broad range of other courses in comparative politics or international relations, with a focus on Spanish-speaking countries in Latin America. And while we encourage candidates of all substantive interests to apply, those whose work focuses on issues of human rights, social movements, migration, indigenous communities, or populism are most welcome. Additionally, candidates with corollary research and/or teaching interests in the Latinx experience within the domestic United States are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants should be aware of the many interdisciplinary programs Lake Forest College has to offer including African American Studies, American Studies, Urban Studies, and Social Justice. We also offer an “In the Loop” semester-long residential program in Chicago, as well as many courses emphasizing Chicago history, politics, and its diverse cultures. Lake Forest College’s proximity to Chicago provides an opportunity to use the city as a “laboratory” for student work and research. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to any of these programs and can incorporate students into their research programs.

Candidates will be expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. Ph.D. in political science, or a related field, must be completed by the time of appointment. Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students). We support faculty research through provision of student research assistants and summer research funds; successful passage of the third-year review earns a half-year sabbatical at full pay, in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year. Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, unofficial graduate transcript, a teaching statement that addresses diversity in a liberal arts setting, sample syllabi, a sample of scholarly writing, three confidential letters of recommendation, and student evaluations of teaching to James J. Marquardt, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Politics and International Relations at latinamericasearch@lakeforest.edu

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago’s North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,600 students from more than 40 states and from more than 70 countries. Lake Forest is one of the most diverse small colleges in the Midwest with nearly 40% of our student body comprised of domestic minority and international students. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member’s teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities. Applications will be reviewed as they are submitted. The application deadline is October 8, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/8/2021
Date Posted: 8/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9197

College of Idaho
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Political Economy
Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Middle East

The College of Idaho’s dynamic Department of Political Economy invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position that will commence in Fall 2022.

The Department approaches political economy in a broad theoretical manner that embraces the widest study of the social world both classic and contemporary. We emphasize the intricate relationships between politics and economics while embracing cross-disciplinary research and dialogue. We encourage approaches including area studies, historical institutionalism, heterodox economics, feminist political theory, transnational analysis, institutional economics, and public policy analysis, and we value research methods that emphasize the analysis of real-world data over formal modeling.

This position supports the College’s innovative PEAK Curriculum and two related majors offered by the Department: Political Economy and International Political Economy. The successful candidate will teach International Politics, Political Economy of Development, International Political Economy, and related courses. The teaching load is 3-3 with an additional short January-term topics course based on the candidate’s expertise. We grant significant autonomy to faculty members to design their own courses that support the department’s political economy approach and liberal arts vision. Ability to offer upper level area studies or regional survey courses on Africa, Europe, Latin America, or the Middle East is desired. Interest in providing short-term study away courses is also desirable as department faculty regularly offer such courses to Asia, Europe, and Africa as part of IPE programming.

Successful candidates will have an active research agenda while demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition. They will join a student-centered department where teaching and mentoring are valued as the highest priority. Successful candidates will have an active research agenda while demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition. They will join a student-centered department where teaching and mentoring are valued as the highest priority. Such mentorship has recently led students in the department to Marshall, Truman, and Rhodes scholarships as well as to national recognition of departmental faculty for... teaching excellence. Professional development support for research, conference travel, and sabbatical leave is available.

A Ph.D. is required in International Relations, International Political Economy, Political Science, Economics, Sociology, or other related fields in international studies. Advanced ABD applicants will be considered.

Applications must include letter of interest, CV, statement demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition, sample syllabi, recent course evaluations, at least three letters of recommendation, and demonstrated commitment to representation, inclusion, and equity. Candidates must be authorized to work in the United States as of the expected hire date and throughout the date of the contract without sponsorship from The College of Idaho. Application review will begin September 30, 2021 and continue until the position has been filled. Please submit application materials via email to hr@collegeofidaho.edu with subject ‘Political Economy Search.’

With over 130 years of history, The College of Idaho is a regional and national leader in higher education. The College of Idaho is an inclusive community of exceptional learning that challenges the ambitious and forges pathways to success and purpose. To learn more about The College of Idaho, please visit www.collegeofidaho.edu.

The College of Idaho is proud to be an equal opportunity employer. We are committed to attracting, retaining, and maximizing the performance of a diverse and inclusive workforce.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/19/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
EJobs ID: 9195

University of Chicago
Rank: Provost’s Postdoctoral Fellowship in Latinx Politics / Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for a Provost’s Postdoctoral Fellowship in Latinx politics. While we are primarily interested in someone who studies Latinx politics within the United States, we welcome applications from scholars who also investigate these issues from a comparative or transnational perspective that includes a focus on the U.S. This fellowship provides up to two years of funding for junior scholars whose accomplishments make them exceptionally competitive for faculty positions and whose background or membership in historically underrepresented groups would contribute to the diversity of our faculty. Fellows will teach one course per year. At the end of the fellowship period and following an academic review, the Fellow may be directly promoted to a tenure-track assistant professorship.

Qualifications
Candidates must have completed all requirements for the PhD degree prior to the start of the appointment.

Application Instructions
Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago’s Interfolio website at http://apply.interfolio.com/92395. Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant’s prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing, and 6) three letters of reference.

To be considered, those interested must apply through The University of Chicago’s Academic Recruitment job board, which uses Interfolio to accept applications.

Consideration of applications will begin on September 16, 2021. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
EJobs ID: 9190

Georgetown University
Rank: Tenure-Line Assistant Professor in Comparative Public Policy, Comparative Political Economy, or Comparative Public Management
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

Apply at https://apply.interfolio.com/91873

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-line assistant professor in the field of comparative public policy, comparative political economy, and/or comparative public management.

The geographic focus of the position is open, but the School has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching expertise focus on developing and transitional economies. We are open to applicants whose work focuses on any substantive policy sector, but environmental policy, urban policy, race, gender and ethnic politics, and social and economic inequality are areas of special concentration for the school. Successful candidates will teach core courses in the Comparative track of our core ‘Politics of Policymaking’ and ‘Management and Implementation’ sequence and/or political economy, as well as elective courses in their own areas of research interest. We are open to applications from candidates within different research traditions; candidates who have worked with multiple research methodologies are especially encouraged to apply.

We expect the applicant to have a Ph.D. by the time they start; the Ph.D. could be in political science, public administration, policy, sociology, economics or related fields.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/20/2021
Date Posted: 8/18/2021
Salary: Competitive
EJobs ID: 9188

Syracuse University
Rank: African American Studies Department Chair
Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics
Specializations: African American Politics, Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of African American Studies (https://thecollege.syr.edu/african-american-studies/) in Syracuse University’s College of Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) whose work addresses structural racism or diasporic, post-colonial, normative, historical, or critical perspectives. LMU has a 2-2/3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We would expect the successful candidate to teach courses both within our existing curriculum, but also to support and develop courses that speak directly to the Black political experience, broadly understood. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department’s mission of helping undergraduate students become informed, analytically reflective, methodologically rigorous, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experiences, and beliefs to apply. Please read more about our commitments and our efforts at (https://resources.lmu.edu/officeofinterculturalaffairs/).

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal (https://pa843.peopleadmin.com/postings/47472). Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU’s mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; and 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLSjobs@lmu.edu. Only online applications will be accepted. Please direct questions to Marc Cooper at POLSjobs@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 10, 2021 but will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search. A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Public Policy, or related field is required; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2022 will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 8/18/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9182

---

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science and International Relations

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) whose work addresses structural racism or Black politics. Sub-field specialization is open and we welcome applications from candidates whose research and teaching addresses the Black political experience, racial oppression, discrimination, and violence from domestic (US or other countries), international, transnational, diasporic, post-colonial, normative, historical, or critical perspectives. We expect candidates to ground their work—theoretical and/or empirical—in an intersectional understanding of how interlocking or overlapping systems of oppression, domination, inequality, or hierarchies, shape the political world.

LMU has a 2-2/3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We would expect the successful candidate to teach courses both within our existing curriculum, but also to support and develop courses that speak directly to the Black political experience, broadly understood. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department’s mission of helping undergraduate students become informed, analytically reflective, methodologically rigorous, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experiences, and beliefs to apply. Please read more about our commitments and our efforts at (https://resources.lmu.edu/officeofinterculturalaffairs/).

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal (https://pa843.peopleadmin.com/postings/47472). Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU’s mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; and 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLSjobs@lmu.edu. Only online applications will be accepted. Please direct questions to Marc Cooper at POLSjobs@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 10, 2021 but will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search. A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Public Policy, or related field is required; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2022 will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 8/18/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9182

---

McGill University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Black Politics

Assistant Professor, Black Politics
Department of Political Science

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in Black Politics in Canada and/or the United States. Applicants may specialize in Black Politics in one of those countries, conduct comparative research between them, or conduct comparative research that includes at least one of them along with other countries.

We welcome applications from candidates across the full range of political science’s theoretical and methodological frameworks and approaches. We further welcome candidates who bridge Political Science and the multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary study of Black Politics from fields such as African American Studies, Gender and...
Feminist Studies, Canadian Studies, American Studies, and Transnationalism and Diasporic Studies, though the appointment will be solely within Political Science.

Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, but appointment at a higher rank is possible under exceptional circumstances. The position start date is August 1, 2022.

This position is part of a multi-year interdisciplinary initiative designed to strengthen and support research innovation and excellence in African and Black Studies at McGill, while simultaneously addressing the under-representation of Black faculty in the tenure stream, as laid out in the University Action Plans to Address Anti-Black Racism 2020-2025.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit our website at: https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience.

Job Duties:

Teaching, research, and service within the Department of Political Science.

Qualifications and Education Requirements:

Candidates should have completed their PhD or be near completion. An applicant’s record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability/potential to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as to provide supervision for graduate students. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Job Details:

Job Type: Tenure-track
Rank: Assistant Professor
Job Status: Full-time
Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Application Deadline: October 1, 2021, for full consideration, although applications will continue to be reviewed until the position is filled.

Application Process:

Applications must be submitted online to https://mcgill.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/mcgill_careers/job/Leacock-Building/Assistant-Professor_JR0000014791Workday (McGill’s employment portal). Inquiries may be sent to the Chair of the Department, Jacob Levy, at mailto:jacob.levy@mcgill.ca

Syracuse University
Politics of Inequality

The Department of Political Science at Syracuse University’s Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks to hire a tenure-track Assistant or tenured Associate Professor whose scholarship focuses on the intersection of inequality and politics. We seek a candidate with expertise in the connection between social or economic inequality and political outcomes, defined broadly. This position starts in Fall 2022 and is part of a broader Syracuse University Cluster Hires Initiative.

The Department of Political Science at Syracuse University’s Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks to hire a tenure-track Assistant or tenured Associate Professor whose scholarship focuses on the intersection of inequality and politics. We seek a candidate with expertise in the connection between social or economic inequality and political outcomes, defined broadly. This position starts in Fall 2022 and is part of a broader Syracuse University Cluster Hires Initiative.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please visit our website at: https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience.

The political science department is housed within the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs, which is committed to citizenship education at the undergraduate level and to graduate education in public affairs and the social sciences. We seek candidates who complement the broader Maxwell mission and have interdisciplinary interests. Successful candidates may be invited to affiliate with the Campbell Institute or one of Maxwell’s other interdisciplinary centers (http://www.maxwell.syr.edu/centers/). The successful candidate will teach at both the undergraduate and graduate level. The typical course load is 2 classes a semester.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science or a related field or a credible expectation of completing all requirements for the Ph.D. by August 2022. The Maxwell School is interested in candidates who can contribute to the inclusiveness and diversity of the academic community through their research, teaching, and/or service.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS:

For consideration, candidates must complete an online faculty application (available at https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/87786/) and attach online the following: a letter of interest and a CV, a research statement, a sample of professional writing, a statement of teaching philosophy, a statement about diversity, equity and inclusion, and evidence of quality teaching. Files may be no larger than 5MB, but you may submit an external link to a larger file if needed.
In addition, applicants will be required to provide the full email addresses of three references.

Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by October 4, 2021. However, the department will continue to consider applications until this position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9164

University of Chicago
Rank: Assistant Professor in Latinx Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Assistant Professor in Latinx politics. While we are primarily interested in someone who studies Latinx politics within the United States, we welcome applications from scholars who also investigate these issues from a comparative or transnational perspective that includes a focus on the U.S. Among the goals of this search is increasing the diversity of the faculty in the Department of Political Science, and we, therefore, welcome applicants from groups that are historically underrepresented in the academy.

Qualifications
Candidates must have completed all requirements for the PhD degree prior to the start of the appointment.

Application Instructions
Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago’s Interfolio website at http://apply.interfolio.com/92390. Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant’s prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing, and 6) three letters of reference.

To be considered, those interested must apply through The University of Chicago’s Academic Recruitment job board, which uses Interfolio to accept applications.

Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2021. Only shortlisted candidates will be contacted.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9189

University of Washington
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, Politics of Race and Ethnicity
Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity, starting September 2022. The search is open with respect to subfield and methodology. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses with capacity for large enrollments of diverse students as well as graduate seminars. The successful candidate will be expected to support the unit’s commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Tenure track faculty engage in teaching, research and service and have an annual service period of nine months (Sept 16-June 15).

Qualifications
Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research relative to the politics of race and ethnicity. Candidates should have completed all requirements for a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field (or foreign equivalent) by the appointment start date, although applicants at the ABD level will also be considered.

Application Instructions
Applications should include a cover letter, current CV, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant’s substantive research interests. The teaching statement should describe the applicant’s teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant’s record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Applications must be submitted electronically at: http://apply.interfolio.com/91821 Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9178

Florida State University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science (https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2022. We seek candidates whose research focuses on institutions and political economy. The search is open with respect to the substantive subfield, and priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department’s strength in formal theory and rigorous empirical analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and to contribute to the department’s undergraduate and graduate game theory sequences.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida’s capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples,
Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in International Political Economy.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022.

The application deadline is Monday, November 1, 2021. Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/92232

Materials to be submitted:
- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach);
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9152

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Economy of Development

Assistant Professor, Political Economy of Development. The Department of Politics and the Princeton School for Public and International Affairs seek applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in the political economy of development. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Political Economy of Development Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 7, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00003
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/17/2021
Date Posted: 8/13/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9160
Vanderbilt University
Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics for Vanderbilt University (Nashville, TN)

Teach courses and perform research as an outstanding political scientist with a specialization in comparative politics in the tenure-track position of Assistant Professor. The appointment is open with respect to empirical approach. Perform important research that builds synergies within the department and across the broader Vanderbilt community. Help facilitate scholarship and curricular bridges between the Department of Political Science and the Max Kade Center for European and German Studies and/or the Vanderbilt Asian Studies Program. Teach courses in graduate training in quantitative methods or formal theory.

Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Requires a Ph.D. in Political Science or related.

Send resume and cover letter to: Jennifer Rauch, 110 21st Avenue South, Suite 1100, Nashville, TN 37203

Start Date: Application Deadline: 9/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9161

Department of Defense
Rank: Analyst
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Joint Warfare Analysis Center (JWAC), https://www.jwac.mil/, is currently recruiting motivated individuals who are excited about the opportunity to lead research aimed at developing advanced methods for defense analysis.

JWAC’s mission is to provide the military with effects-based analysis in order to carry out the national security and military strategies of the United States during peace, crisis, and war.

Ideal candidates will have both a strong quantitative methods background and professional experience or substantive research in the areas of military affairs, foreign policy, international relations, comparative politics, or political economy.

We offer generous benefits and competitive pay. U.S. citizenship and the ability to obtain and maintain a security clearance are required for all positions.

Individuals interested in more information can email: stratcom.south-potomac.jwac.list.recruiting-sociopoli@mail.mil

Start Date: Summer 2021
Date Posted: 8/11/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9146

McGill University
Rank: Assistant Professor, Environmental Politics and Governance

Assistant Professor, Environmental Politics and Governance
Joint position in the Department of Political Science and Bieler School of Environment

Position Description:

The Department of Political Science and the Bieler School of Environment invite applications for a joint tenure-track position in Environmental Politics and Governance. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, but appointment at a higher rank may be possible under exceptional circumstances. Candidates should have already completed their PhD or be very near completion.

The position start date is August 1, 2022.

The Department and School welcome applications from qualified candidates working within any subfield with a specialization in Environmental Politics. The search is open in terms of methodological specialization, although candidates are expected to be able to demonstrate expertise in either quantitative or qualitative methods, or both. While all applications will be given full consideration, we are particularly interested in scholars whose work incorporates some of the following elements: is transnational in scope or has the potential to move in this direction; addresses the consequences of environmental change for public policy at various institutional levels; examines the relationships between environmental change and other phenomena such as international migration or conflict. The Bieler School of Environment is highly interdisciplinary; the successful candidate will have demonstrated an excellent capacity to work in an interdisciplinary context and to develop interdisciplinary collaborations.

For more information about the Department, School, and University, please visit our websites at: https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/
https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/&lt;/a&gt; and https://www.mcgill.ca/environment/https://www.mcgill.ca/environment/&lt;/a&gt;

Inquiries about this position may be sent to Professor Jacob Levy,mailto: jacoby.levy@mcgill.ca:jacoby.levy@mcgill.ca:&lt;/a&gt;, Chair of the Department of Political Science, or to Professor Frédéric Fabry, mailto: frederic.fabry@mcgill.ca:frederic.fabry@mcgill.ca:&lt;/a&gt;, Director, Bieler School of the Environment. The Department and School maintain close relationships with other units at McGill with interests in the environment such as the Max Bell School of Public Policy https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/&lt;/a&gt; and the McGill Institute for the Study of International Development https://www.mcgill.ca/isid/https://www.mcgill.ca/isid/.

Job Duties:

Teaching, research, and service within the Department of Political Science and Bieler School of Environment. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to teaching in political science broadly in one or more subfields, particularly at the graduate level. The candidate will be required to teach courses for the Bieler School of Environment on both the McGill Downtown Campus and Macdonald Campus.
Qualifications and Education Requirements:
Candidates should have completed their PhD or be near completion. An applicant’s record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability/potential to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as to provide supervision for graduate students. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Job Details:

Job Classification: Tenure-track

Rank: Assistant Professor

Job Status: Full-time

Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Application Deadline: October 25, 2021, for full consideration, although applications will continue to be reviewed until the position is filled.

Application Process:

Applications must be submitted online to https://mcgill.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/McGill_Careers/job/Leacock-Building/Assistant-Professor_JR0000014760Workday (McGill’s employment portal).

The following supporting documents are required:

• A cover letter and curriculum vitae;
• Include the names of at least three referees in your curriculum vitae;
• A statement of research;
• A teaching statement, as well as course evaluations and syllabi if available.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9143

Morehouse College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Open

The Department of Political Science at Morehouse College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor. Candidates should be interested in world politics, broadly, and trained to teach introductory courses in international relations and comparative politics. We are especially interested in candidates who can develop innovative first-year experience (FYE) courses for our general education program and contribute to the College’s distinctive mission of teaching the history and culture of Black people.

Responsibilities include teaching courses (a 3-3 load), advising, and mentoring students; developing and maintaining a scholarly research and publication agenda; and service to the department and the College. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources. The start date for the position is August 2022.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2021. For questions about the search, please contact Dr. Andrew Douglas, andrew.douglas@morehouse.edu, 470-639-0732.

Submit application here: https://apply.interfolio.com/90999

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 10/1/2021

Date Posted: 8/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9148

University of Idaho

Rank: Regular Faculty - Political Science

University of Idaho

Regular Faculty - Political Science

Location: Moscow

Division/College: College of Letters, Arts & Social Sciences

Employee Category: Faculty

Pay Range: $60,870.11-$64,450.70 depending on experience

Full/Part Time: Full Time

Position Summary:

The Department of Politics and Philosophy at the University of Idaho (https://www.uidaho.edu/class/politics-and-philosophy) invites applications for the Slayton Professorship in East Asian Politics, a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor. The appointment is expected to begin August 2022.

While the position is open to applicants from all subfields, the successful candidate will have a specialization in Chinese politics and foreign policy and will also have an interest in South East Asia. Duties will include active scholarly research, undergraduate teaching and advising, and normal committee service and outreach. The standard teaching load is five courses per year (3/2 semester load). Salary is competitive and contingent on experience.

Minimum Qualifications:

• Ph.D. in Political Science or equivalent field (e.g., Government, Politics, International Affairs) by the start of the position;
• Ability to teach lower-level courses in Comparative Politics and International Politics;
• Ability to teach upper-division courses in Chinese and East Asian politics and in Chinese foreign policy.

Preferred Qualifications:

• Prior experience teaching and mentoring students from diverse cultural backgrounds, or experience working with people holding similar or different world views while advocating for inclusion of all people;
• Ability to teach Methods courses;
• Expertise in International Political Economy.

Physical Requirements & Working Conditions:

Posting Number: F000935P

Morehouse College
The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is seeking outstanding scholars who have had non-traditional career paths. We are especially interested in candidates whose scholarship focuses on African-American politics. We invite applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in the field of Race and Ethnic Politics. The department has a strong preference for candidates whose scholarship is interdisciplinary, with a focus on the Middle East/North Africa, and who will consider applicants whose work additionally links to other areas of Global South. We are open to any substantive focus except military security and counter-terrorism. The successful applicant will demonstrate the potential to excel in both research and undergraduate teaching. Candidates must have completed all Ph.D. requirements by the start date.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, research statement, and statement of demonstrated commitment to diversity and inclusion to the Political Science Search Committee via Interfolio at: https://apply.interfolio.com/90035. In addition, arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via Interfolio to the Political Science Search Committee.

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
ejid-c9b0880efad34c468db76b9a425d8900

Start Date: Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9130

Bryn Mawr College
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Bryn Mawr College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin August 1, 2022 in Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will contribute to the development and teaching of a diverse and inclusive undergraduate curriculum, including interdisciplinary programs and college-wide initiatives such as the 360 Program and the Emily Balch Seminars. We are interested in candidates with a primary regional expertise in the Middle East/North Africa, but we will consider applicants whose work additionally links to other areas of the Global South. We are open to any substantive focus except military security and counter-terrorism. The successful applicant will demonstrate the potential to excel in both research and undergraduate teaching. Candidates must have completed all Ph.D. requirements by the start date.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, research statement, and statement of demonstrated commitment to diversity and inclusion to the Political Science Search Committee via Interfolio at: https://apply.interfolio.com/90035. In addition, arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via Interfolio to the Political Science Search Committee. Applications received by October 8, 2021 will receive full consideration.

Recognizing health and safety concerns during this time, the College will be as flexible as possible in determining the nature of any interviews or meetings (virtual/remote and/or in-person interaction) that are conducted for this search.

Bryn Mawr College is a distinguished liberal arts college for women with a vibrant faculty of scholar-teachers, a talented staff, and intellectually curious students eager to make a difference in the world. The College is committed to increasing the diversity of its students, faculty, staff, and curricular offerings with a particular focus on enhancing ethnic and racial diversity and advancing social justice and inclusion. We believe diversity strengthens our community and enriches the education of our students. We have a student body of 1,300 undergraduates (32 percent are U.S. students of color and 19 percent are international students). There are 340 graduate students in coeducational graduate programs in social work, humanities, and science.

To apply, visit https://apptrkr.com/2418213

September 2021

University of California, Berkeley
Rank: Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley (http://polisci.berkeley.edu) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in the field of Race and Ethnic Politics. The department has a strong preference for candidates whose scholarship focuses on African-American politics.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/2424478

EEO Statement

University of Idaho is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
ejid-07efa7828bd046ead1a06d8244cea2d

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9134

University of California, Berkeley
Rank: Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley (http://polisci.berkeley.edu) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in the field of Race and Ethnic Politics. The department has a strong preference for candidates whose scholarship focuses on African-American politics.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/2424478

EEO Statement

University of Idaho is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
ejid-07efa7828bd046ead1a06d8244cea2d

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9134

University of California, Berkeley
Rank: Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

Assistant Professor - Race and Ethnic Politics - Department of Political Science

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley (http://polisci.berkeley.edu) invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in the field of Race and Ethnic Politics. The department has a strong preference for candidates whose scholarship focuses on African-American politics.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/2424478

EEO Statement

University of Idaho is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
ejid-07efa7828bd046ead1a06d8244cea2d

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9134
Bryn Mawr College is located in metropolitan Philadelphia and enjoys strong consortial relationships with Haverford College, Swarthmore College, and the University of Pennsylvania. Bryn Mawr College is an equal-opportunity employer; candidates from underrepresented groups and women are especially encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9115

Mount Saint Mary's University
Rank: Assistant Professor
The Department of Political Science at Mount St. Mary’s University in Emmitsburg, MD is conducting a search for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. The ideal candidate will possess a specialization in Comparative Politics with a focus on Asian Politics. Candidates with a doctorate in International Studies will be considered if they specialize in Asian culture and politics. We desire someone who can diversify and complement the existing strengths and course offerings in the Department of Political Science, in the International Studies major, and, more broadly, in the College of Liberal Arts. Teaching responsibilities will also include courses that contribute to our common liberal arts curriculum. Candidates with a specific scholarly record on Chinese politics are encouraged to apply. We are also seeking applicants with lived experience as part of a traditionally underrepresented group. The successful candidate will have Ph.D. in hand by August 2022, a scholarly record in Asian studies/politics, and will have demonstrated a student-centered philosophy consistent with teaching at a liberal arts college.

Please send required documents for first round of applicants (teaching evaluations, letters of reference, or other materials may be requested later): Cover letter that summarizes your qualifications and interest in the position; Curriculum vitae; Three professional references; One scholarly writing sample

Please email required materials to resume@msmary.edu
All questions should be addressed to polisci@msmary.edu

Applications received by October 15, 2021 will be given full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/3/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9115

Tecnologico de Monterrey
Rank: Assistant and Adjunct Faculty Positions
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations
Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Economy, Health Care
School of Social Sciences and Government, Mexico City, Monterrey, and other major campuses in Mexico, Department of Political Science and International Relations Graduate School of Government, Escuela de Gobierno y Transformación Pública, Mexico City, Federal District and Monterrey, Nuevo León

The Tecnológico de Monterrey has multiple openings. We invite applications from candidates in political science, public policy, political economy, and related social science fields. The search is open with respect to specialty and approach; however, we are interested in candidates with the potential to conduct theoretically informed, methodologically rigorous, and policy-relevant research for publication in top academic journals and other peer-reviewed venues. Subfields of political science of interest include international political economy, comparative politics, and international relations. Substantive areas in public policy include data sciences for public service and governance, emerging and civic technologies, forecasting sciences, simulation and modeling, poverty and social policy, inequality, public entrepreneurship, public finance and budgeting, corruption, democracy and elections, security and justice, education policy, energy policy, and health and environmental policy. The Tecnológico de Monterrey offers a dynamic academic environment with excellent research support.

Minimum Requirements:
Candidates must have a strong academic background and demonstrated ability in conducting theoretical and empirical research in one or more of the aforementioned areas. The Tecnológico de Monterrey also prizes an excellent background in teaching. Professors are expected to teach and mentor undergraduates as well as graduate students. We are primarily interested in scholars early in their academic careers for the Assistant Research Professor track with teaching obligations that approximate a 2-2 load. We also have openings for Assistant Teaching Professors (3-3 or 4-4) and Student Advisor Professors (2-2 or 3-3), depending on the campus. Applications from ABD candidates will be considered if they include a letter from the dissertations chair stating a defense date, which should occur no later than June 2022.

Compensation is competitive and it includes incentives and support for research activities. The Tecnológico de Monterrey will provide legal assistance for foreign nationals in order to obtain work permits and visas for the candidate and his or her dependents.

The Tecnológico de Monterrey is an equal opportunity employer, committed to building a culturally diverse intellectual community, and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities. The university is committed to attracting and retaining outstanding and diverse faculty.

Documents Required:
Applicants should send the following documents in PDF format
•Curriculum Vitae accompanied by a cover letter.
•Research statement for the next 3 years (no longer than three pages).
•A statement of teaching philosophy (no more than two pages). Finalists may be asked to provide evidence of teaching performance.
•Writing sample, not to exceed 50 double spaced pages. If co-authored the candidate should be the first author.
•Three letters of recommendation. Ph.D. candidates should include a letter from their chair indicating defense date.

For sending materials please contact Talent Acquisition Specialist Martha Junia Navarro mcyon@tec.mx

For informal inquiries please contact the following committee members:
Prof. Mariana Rangel: mariana.rangel@tec.mx
Prof. Gabriel Aguilera: gabe.aguilera@tec.mx

About the Tecnológico de Monterrey:
For more information on the Graduate School of Government, Escuela de Gobierno y Transformación Pública, visit http://
The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks candidates for three faculty positions for scholars conducting outstanding research on the subjects of race, identity, and inequality in domestic, comparative, or international contexts. The primary focus of our search is at the tenure track assistant professor level; however, we may consider more senior candidates under exceptional circumstances. The positions are to begin September 1, 2022, pending administrative approval.

This search is part of a broader cluster of recruitment efforts in Race, Identity, and Inequality that spans the Departments of Politics and Sociology in the Faculty of Arts and Science, and the Wagner School of Public Service. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars working in these areas to collaborate across NYU. More information about this cluster and the broader cluster initiative can be found at https://www.nyu.edu/faculty/teaching-and-learning-resources/faculty-advancement/faculty-recruitment/nyu-faculty-cluster-hiring-initiative.html#race2 and at https://drive.google.com/file/d/1n88i-7v5yZGYxYvK54VJ9AhQgRNHRDKG/view.

Qualifications:
Candidates are expected to possess a PhD by September 2022, in political science or a cognate discipline; to have records of excellent research; and to indicate the potential to be future disciplinary leaders in their respective fields of expertise. Candidates should also have demonstrated ability as excellent teachers at the undergraduate and/or graduate level. NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their teaching, research, experience, and service an ability to contribute to this goal, and a commitment to fostering inclusivity in a university setting.

Application Instructions:
Please apply online at: http://apply.interfolio.com/91446. While we will continue to review applications into October, candidates seeking the fullest consideration should submit their applications by September 10, 2021. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply links to their professional websites; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

The Politics Department at NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their scholarship, teaching and mentoring, and/or service engagement commitment to these goals. We are particularly interested in hearing about concrete steps you have taken (or plan to take) to foster an inclusive intellectual environment in the classroom, in the department and on campus, and/or in your field more generally.

Required Applicant Documents:
- Cover letter
- CV or Resume
- Statement of Research and Goals
- Statement of Teaching
- Writing Sample
- Three Letters of Reference

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 7/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9101

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Middle East, South Asia, Russia

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley’s diverse student body as an Assistant Professor of Political Science in Comparative Politics beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year. The department is particularly interested in applicants with a critically oriented research agenda in any of the following areas: Middle East/North Africa, Sub-Saharan Africa, South Asia, or Russia (and other post-Soviet states). This position continues the department’s effort to build an undergraduate and graduate program with courses anchored in the concepts and methods of political science, but that simultaneously cross disciplinary boundaries to incorporate topics, concepts, and methods utilized by other disciplines. The successful candidate will teach upper-division and graduate courses in their area of substantive specialization, including new courses to be designed by the successful candidate. The department maintains a highly flexible teaching schedule that can include online teaching and support from graduate teaching assistants, undergraduate research interns, and online instructional coaches.

To apply, go to: https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/29332

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/17/2021
Date Posted: 7/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9072

Dartmouth College
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Comparative Politics. The regional focus is open. A successful candidate will teach between 2 and 6 courses during the year. Candidates may teach up to 3 courses per term during any of Dartmouth’s four 10-week quarters (including the quarter in Summer 2022). Candidates should be prepared to teach an introductory course in comparative politics and other electives for undergraduate students. The position will begin as early as the start of the fall quarter in September 2021, although candidates may elect to begin in the winter (January 2022) or spring (March 2022) quarters.

Required: Ph.D. at the time of appointment in Political Science or a related field for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor; ABD for appointment as Instructor.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, statement of research plans, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, and three letters of recommendation to http://apply.interfolio.com/91013. Inquiries may be addressed to Professor Benjamin Valentin at Benjamin.A.Valentin@dartmouth.edu. Screening of applications will begin August 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9062

Hertie School – the University of Governance in Berlin
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations (f/m/div)
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Hertie School is recruiting a tenure-track Assistant Professor of International Relations. We are looking for a scholar with demonstrated expertise in international institutions, cooperation and global governance, exploring key global challenges and regimes, such as global norms, human rights, migration, peace or trade. Experience in a range of research methods and approaches, in particular multimeasure approaches, is a plus. The successful candidate will contribute to teaching IR courses in the School’s Master of International Affairs program, in particular the core course on Global Politics.

Applicants for this position must have a doctoral degree in political science or international relations (or expect to have this degree by the start of employment). We are interested in early career scholars in particular. The successful candidate will be appointed as Assistant Professor with a six-year clock (two three-year contracts) with the possibility of tenure. The expected start date is August 1, 2022.

The Hertie School seeks faculty with demonstrated capacity for research at the highest levels in their discipline. We recruit faculty who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity with a strong commitment to high-quality graduate teaching and innovative research of interest to the international scholarly community and policy-makers.

Candidates are expected to work well in an interdisciplinary, international environment with English as the language of instruction and operation. The successful candidate will teach courses in the School’s Master, Executive, and PhD programmes. As a professional school of public policy, the Hertie School’s degree programmes are exclusively at the master’s and doctoral levels.

As a private non-profit graduate school of public policy, endowed and supported by the Hertie Foundation, the Hertie School offers an internationally competitive salary as well as a paid sabbatical after every five semesters. We provide excellent working conditions with outstanding financial and administrative support for research. The Hertie School is fully embedded in Berlin’s vibrant research landscape and has close ties to the top institutions of the European and international teaching and research community.

The Hertie School is a diverse, international and lively community located in the heart of Berlin. We welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. The Hertie School expressly encourages women and/or persons from ethnic groups underrepresented in German Academia to apply. Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. The Hertie School takes a family friendly workplace seriously. Under German law, there is standard paid leave for parents after the birth or adoption of a child.

The deadline for the submission of applications is 15 September 2021. The Hertie School will review applications that include a letter of motivation, a current curriculum vitae (publication list, degrees earned, if applicable: positions held, teaching experience, research projects, awards received), two writing samples and, if applicable, teaching evaluations. Three letters of recommendation from professors familiar with the applicant’s work should be provided.
University of Toronto

Rank: Associate Professor - African Politics: The Spatial Dynamics of Identity and Development

Associate Professor - African Politics: The Spatial Dynamics of Identity and Development

The Department of Political Science in the Faculty of Arts and Science at the University of Toronto invites applications for a full-time tenure stream position in the area of African Politics: The Spatial Dynamics of Identity and Development. The appointment will be at the rank of Associate Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2022, or shortly thereafter.

Applicants must have earned a PhD degree in Political Science or a related area, with a clearly demonstrated exceptional record of excellence in research and teaching. We seek candidates whose research and teaching interests complement and strengthen our existing departmental strengths. We seek an imaginative, wide-ranging, and highly published scholar of the spatial dynamics of identity and development in Africa, as well as of the associated institutions, and with demonstrated expertise in qualitative methods. In addition, we are looking for a leading scholar with direct field, policy, and organizational experience on the continent who will bolster the “big ideas, big books” tradition of our department. The successful candidate will undertake undergraduate and graduate teaching responsibilities on the University’s downtown (St George) campus. Applicants are encouraged to review the research and teaching profiles of current faculty members. Please visit our home page (Department of Political Science https://politics.utoronto.ca) to learn more about us.

Candidates will have an established international reputation and will be expected to sustain and lead innovative and independent research at the highest international level and to maintain an outstanding, competitive, and externally funded research program. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence which can be demonstrated by a record of sustained high-impact contributions and publications in top-ranked and field relevant presses and journals, the submitted research statement, presentations at significant conferences, distinguished awards and accolades, and other noteworthy activities that contribute to the visibility and prominence of the discipline, as well as strong endorsements from referees of high standing.

Evidence of excellence in teaching will be provided through teaching accomplishments, the teaching dossier including a strong teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations submitted as part of the application, as well as strong letters of reference.

Candidates are also expected to show evidence of a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and the promotion of a respectful and collegial learning and working environment demonstrated through the application materials.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

All qualified candidates are invited to apply online by clicking the link below. Applicants must submit a cover letter; a current curriculum vitae; a research statement outlining current and future research interests; a recent writing sample of no more than 30 pages; and a teaching dossier to include a teaching statement, sample course materials, and teaching evaluations. Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. We seek candidates who value diversity and whose research, teaching and service bear out our commitment to equity. Candidates are therefore also asked to submit a 1-2 page statement of their contributions to equity and diversity, which might cover (but need not be limited to): research or teaching that incorporates a focus on underrepresented communities, the development of inclusive pedagogies, or the mentoring of students from underrepresented groups.

Applicants must provide the name and contact information of three references. The University of Toronto’s recruiting tool will automatically solicit and collect letters of reference from each after an application is submitted (this happens overnight). Applicants remain responsible for ensuring that references submit letters (on letterhead, dated and signed) by the closing date.

Submission guidelines can be found at http://uoft.me/how-to-apply. Your CV and cover letter should be uploaded into the dedicated fields. Please combine additional application materials into one or two files in PDF/MS Word format. If you have any questions about this position, please contact Sari Sherman at chair.polisci@utoronto.ca.

All application materials, including reference letters, must be received by Thursday, September 2, 2021.

Diversity Statement

The University of Toronto is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from racialized persons / persons of colour, women, Indigenous /Aboriginal People of North America, persons with disabilities, LGBTQ2S+ persons, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. As part of your application, you will be asked to complete a brief Diversity Survey. This survey is voluntary. Any information directly related to you is confidential and cannot be accessed by search committees or human resources staff. Results will be aggregated for institutional planning purposes. For more information, please see http://uoft.me/UP.

Accessibility Statement

The University strives to be an equitable and inclusive community, and proactively seeks to increase diversity among its community members. Our values regarding equity and diversity are linked with our unwavering commitment to excellence in the pursuit of our academic mission. The University is committed to the principles of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act (AODA). As such, we strive to make our recruitment, assessment and selection processes as accessible as possible and provide accommodations as required for applicants with disabilities.
Political Science Jobs

If you require any accommodations at any point during the application and hiring process, please contact uoft.careers@utoronto.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Date Posted: 7/22/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9060

Harvard Business School
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science

Harvard Business School is seeking candidates for a tenure-track position in the Business, Government, and the International Economy (BGIE) unit. Applications welcome from candidates in all subfields, and special preference will be given to candidates whose research interests include American political development, international political economy or comparative political economy, and environmental politics. The search is open with regard to methodological approach. Candidates may come directly from Ph.D. programs or from the faculties of other universities. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2022.

All applicants should have excellent academic credentials and a demonstrated potential for conducting outstanding research. The School is particularly interested in applicants with interdisciplinary interests and strong records of, or potential for, excellence in teaching.

Successful candidates will, at the outset, teach a required first-year MBA course on the economic, political, and social environment of global business.

Review of applications will begin September 17th, 2021. Applications should include: cover letter, curriculum vitae, description of research, and writing sample (preferably dissertation chapters). Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted through the online portal by the referees.

To apply please go to this website and select “Tenure-Track Position in Political Science” when choosing a position on the application:

http://apply.interfolio.com/90680

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/17/2021
Date Posted: 7/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9044

University of California, Irvine
Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of Comparative Politics contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2021-22 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in Comparative Politics. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $56,381 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2021-2022 Academic Year:
Fall Quarter: 9/20/21 – 12/10/21
Winter Quarter: 1/3/22 - 3/18/22
Spring Quarter: 3/23/22 – 6/10/22

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF06659

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2021. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary throughout the year.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/20/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9046

Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative Politics

Comparative Politics

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in Comparative Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor effective July 1st, 2022, or as soon thereafter as possible. Responsibilities include graduate and undergraduate teaching and student research supervision. Applicants should have, or be near completion of, a PhD degree in Political Science or a related field at start of employment. MIT is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin. Applications should include a cover letter which addresses your research agenda and teaching interests, and how your past efforts and future plans will advance diversity, equity, and inclusion in your scholarship, teaching, and service. Also include a CV, writing sample(s), and three recommendations. Please submit online applications to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18952https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18952 Completed applications must be submitted by September 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9034

Washington University in St. Louis
Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Political Science and Global Studies

The Department of Political Science and the Global Studies Program at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track/tenured faculty appointment in comparative politics or international relations with a focus on East Asia. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2022. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio.

Apply at: apply.interfolio.com/91220

If you encounter difficulties with the application process, please email jdroeg@wustl.edu for additional instructions. All other questions may be directed to Heather Sloan-Randick at hsloran@wustl.edu

Diversity and Inclusion are core values at Washington University, and the strong candidate will demonstrate the ability to create inclusive classrooms and environments in which a diverse array of students can learn and thrive.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University's policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency. This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9078

University of Rhode Island
Rank: Assistant Professor in Middle Eastern Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a specialization in Middle Eastern politics. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2022.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI’s mission is to “inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance.” Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES
Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate political science courses in the areas of comparative and international politics that serve as requirements for both the Political Science and the International Studies & Diplomacy undergraduate Masters programs as well as teach courses in the International Relations Masters program.

Expected to publish original research in their respective field of study and advise undergraduate and graduate students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS
1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2022, in Political Science, International Relations, or related field.
2) Primary or secondary specialization in Middle Eastern politics.
3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience
4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching broad-based introductory political science courses in the area of comparative politics and/or international relations, upper division and graduate courses on Middle Eastern politics.
5) Evidence of research in the field of comparative politics and/or international relations with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.
6) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS
1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: international development, foreign policy, diplomacy, conflict, governance, ethnic or religious politics, or security studies.
2) Ability to teach undergraduate research methods
3) Ability to teach large introductory-level classes
4) Ability to teach from a cultural or regional studies perspective
5) Familiarity with experiential and applied learning strategies

The application deadline is September 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/8269

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Profile Application:
1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position
2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document),
3) A brief research and teaching statement
4) A statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion reflecting on URI’s mission to “inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance.”
5) If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/13/2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Bucknell University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Bucknell University’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in international and comparative politics beginning in the fall semester of 2022. We seek a scholar whose research and teaching centers on the Middle East/North Africa region and the politics of the Islamic world. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in international politics, courses on politics in the Middle East/North Africa, a course in quantitative or qualitative research methods, and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department’s commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate excellence in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinarity. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science with a sub-field specialization in international and/or comparative politics.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Doug Hecock at rdh013@bucknell.edu. Applications received by September 27, 2021 will receive full consideration.

Brown University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position at the level of Assistant Professor in the field of Comparative Politics to begin July 1, 2022. The department has a preference for candidates who use both quantitative and qualitative methods in their scholarship. Review of applications will begin September 20, 2021.

Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2022. Candidates should submit a cover letter identifying their research and teaching interests, as well as current CV, a statement addressing their commitment to diversity and inclusion, writing sample, graduate transcript, teaching evaluations, and three letters of reference. http://apply.interfolio.com/89389

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9017

Yale University
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire an Assistant, Associate, Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2022. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Statistics and Data Sciences Department, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between the departments. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year, plus service to the program(s).

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and list of references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters and 2 writing samples. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio: https://apply.interfolio.com/88751

Review of applications will begin August 15, 2021, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

September 2021

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Open until Filled

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Open until Filled

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Open until Filled

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Open until Filled

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.
Yale University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor, International Relations, Comparative Political Economy, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is looking to hire an Associate or Full Professor with tenure, with an appointment in International Relations, Comparative Political Economy, and Comparative Politics, beginning July 1, 2022. Faculty are expected to share their teaching and service obligations between both the Political Science Department and the Jackson School of Global Affairs. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year, plus service to the programs.

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

Applications including a cover letter, CV, and list of references should be uploaded to Interfolio: http://apply.interfolio.com/88761

Review of applications will begin August 1, 2021, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at poliscijobs@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9006

International Christian University

Rank: Assistant Professor in comparative politics, political theory, or gender/sexuality politics

This is an open search for a Full-time faculty position in the Department of Politics and International Studies with a particular focus on comparative politics, political theory, or gender/sexuality politics.

This is a full time, tenure-track position for an initial five-year term. The term may be shortened to three years, depending on previous experience. If tenure is approved at the end of the term, the position will be made permanent and promotion to the rank of Associate Professor will be granted.

The successful applicant is expected to teach general education, foundation, and area major courses in the College of Liberal Arts, as well as courses in the Graduate School. We strongly encourage applications from female candidates.

Qualifications:
Ph.D. or equivalent in Politics or a related field
Language of instruction: English, or English and Japanese

Employment Conditions:
1. Salary: In accordance with ICU employment regulations
2. Allowances: Available, in accordance with ICU employment regulations (e.g. commuting allowance)
3. Working hours: In accordance with ICU employment regulations
4. Social insurance: Coverage by Promotion and Mutual Aid Corporation for Private Schools of Japan (PMAC), workers’ compensation, etc

Starting Date: April 1, 2022 or September 1, 2022

Deadline for Applications: August 27, 2021 17:00 (Japan Standard Time)

Selection Process:
1. Register your application online.
2. Submit all the application materials online as described below.
3. After documentary screening, short-listed candidates will be invited for an interview and a model lecture in September or October 2021.

Details:
For detailed information about this position please see: https://www.icu.ac.jp/en/news/images/ComparativePolitics_E_sn20210501.pdf

For inquiries: pisej-search@icu.ac.jp

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/27/2021
Date Posted: 6/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8945

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Latin American Politics/Political Economy and quantitative methods

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of Latin American politics/political economy and quantitative methods. Expertise in Mexico preferred, but we are open to other areas as well. The successful candidate will teach courses on Latin American politics/political economy as part of the Department’s developing curricular concentration on the region and courses on quantitative methods that are part of the Department’s required curriculum.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or Political Economy by September 2022. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information demonstrating success in teaching at the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/88572 in DOC or PDF format.
The review of applications will begin September 7, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Open until Filled
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/11/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8935

Tulane University
Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) in Comparative Politics

Position description: We are looking to hire an Assistant Professor in the Comparative Politics of the Middle East and North Africa (MENA), with a specialization in the domestic politics of countries of the Middle East, broadly defined. The teaching load is 2-2. The prospective hire will contribute to the Political Science program at the undergraduate and graduate curricular levels, as well as to the MENA Studies Program by providing research and teaching expertise, assisting with program development and advising, and teaching core courses and electives in MENA Studies. Additional interest in Middle East regional relations is desirable. The expected start date for this position is July 1, 2022. For further questions about the position, contact Prof. Martin Dimitrov, mdimitro@tulane.edu

Qualifications: PhD in Political Science preferred. ABD candidates will be considered.

We value diversity and inclusion. Members of minorities and traditionally underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.

Application instructions: Please send in a CV, a statement of research, a teaching statement, a writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation by September 1, 2021.

All materials should be uploaded directly in Interfolio: http://apply.interfolio.com/88350

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/1/2021
Date Posted: 6/4/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8914

Boston University
Rank: Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Boston University seeks to appoint the Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship at the rank of advanced Associate or full Professor, with tenure, to begin in Fall 2022. Applicants in Political Science, from the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Public Policy, Political Theory, are encouraged to apply. We wish to recruit an intellectual leader with a distinguished record of scholarship who brings a critical lens on the development and meaning of citizenship.

When George B. Maxwell established this Professorship in September 1918 the First World War was not yet concluded and citizenship was — in both de jure and de facto senses — narrowly defined. Indian Reservations were being consolidated, the Espionage and Sedition Acts of WWI limited free speech, Jim Crow was in force, the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution granting women the right to vote had not been passed, and the purpose and limits of immigration were contested. The Maxwell Professorship supports scholars engaged in fostering an “intelligent understanding and appreciation of the rights, duties, inheritances and possibilities of our citizenship.” A Maxwell Chair holder could understand citizenship broadly; for example, in the context of American political development, the tensions between communitarianism and cosmopolitanism, political theories of citizenship, or in comparative perspective. In keeping with George Maxwell’s vision, we seek a scholar who is engaged in both public education and academic discourse.

Boston University offers a rich and vibrant academic community for interdisciplinary research on citizenship; the Maxwell Professorship offers the opportunity to develop connections across disciplines, programs and centers. The candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. We seek candidates who prioritize inclusive practices in their scholarship, pedagogy, and campus engagement.

Please submit a letter of interest to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18615. The application must also include: a curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, a list of references and a statement about your record of inclusion. Completed applications are due on 4 October 2021.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/1/2021
Date Posted: 6/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8914

University of Western Ontario
Rank: Open Field - Probationary or Tenured Faculty Appointment
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Department of Political Science
Faculty of Social Science
Western University, London Ontario Canada

Political Science – Open Field

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites highly qualified applicants for a full-time Probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor or a Tenured appointment at the rank of Associate or Professor. Rank to be determined based on qualifications and experience. The search will add to our strengths in the quantitative... study of Canadian Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations and have a starting date of July 1, 2022. Western Political Science aims to be Canada’s top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach quantitative methods at the undergraduate or graduate level would be considered an asset, as would contributing to our strengths in political behaviour.

We seek outstanding individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. Candidates should be capable of publishing in highly respected peer-reviewed outlets, supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants. All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

For more information, please visit www.politicalscience.uwo.ca.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the “Western Experience” – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Applications should include the following:
1) application form (http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf),
2) cover letter that includes a statement of how the candidate will contribute to our commitment to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion,
3) curriculum vitae,
4) statement of teaching and research interests,
5) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers,
6) three reference letters,
Consideration of applications will begin September 30, 2021.

This material should be sent to: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Professor Matthew Lebo, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/31/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 8899

Occidental College
Rank: NTT Visiting Assistant Position in American and Comparative Politics

The Politics Department at Occidental College invites applications for a one-year non-tenure track Visiting Assistant Professor position in American and Comparative Politics to begin in Fall 2021. This is a full-time position with benefits. The faculty member will teach six courses (three in the Fall semester and three in the Spring semester, with some preparations repeated). The courses are three Introduction to American Politics courses (POLS 101); one 200-level course in Comparative Politics on a topic of the candidate’s choosing; and two First Year Writing Seminars on a topic of the candidate’s choosing. Classes are scheduled to take place in-person. We do not expect the faculty member to engage in service activities for the Politics Department or Occidental College. This is a benefits-eligible position within the non-tenure track faculty union, SEIU Local 721. The candidate must have a completed Ph.D. at the start of employment with Occidental College on 8/16/21.

Strong candidates should possess a record of teaching excellence and a thoughtful approach to pedagogy. Applicants should submit the following materials—as separate files—to polssearch@oxy.edu: (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing their interest in Occidental (a liberal arts institution with a mission of equity and excellence) and approaches to teaching the required courses ; (3) a teaching portfolio which ideally includes a teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and course evaluations ; and (4) the names and contact information of three references. The Politics Department will begin application review on June 1 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/18/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
ejobs ID: 8882

Appalachian State University
Rank: Visiting Comparative Politics Instructor

The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics beginning August 1, 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: comparative politics, human rights, ethnic conflict, globalization, or the politics of developing nations. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. At least one course each semester will be Intro to Comparative Politics.

Applications must be submitted via AppState PeopleAdmin https://appstate.peopleadmin.com/postings/28206 Applicants must submit the following documents: an application consisting of a letter outlining relevant research and teaching goals and experience, a current vitae, and a sample syllabus.

Review of applications will begin on May 28, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment to a successful... candidate will be conditioned upon the University’s receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report.

Individuals with disabilities may request accommodations in the application process by contacting Maranda Maxey, Director & ADA/504 Coordinator, at 828-262-3056 or maxeymr@appstate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8870

Mercyhurst University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Middle East, Environmental Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning spring 2022. This position may be renewable or converted to tenure-track contingent on performance, departmental staffing and programmatic needs, and continued administrative approval. The successful applicant will possess a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university. The department is seeking a comparative politics/international relations generalist. Preference will be given to a candidate who can teach Middle East politics in addition to other comparative or international relations courses. IR background in the areas of IPE, human rights, international organizations, or environmental politics are a department priority. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the spring 2022 semester. Screening of applications will begin immediately and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to Jennifer Verga, administrative assistant: jverga@mercyhurst.edu. Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year. For information about the political science program see the departmental website: http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8823

Loyola University Maryland
Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach a course on American Public Opinion (one section only) for the Fall 2021 semester in a part-time, non-tenure track position as an affiliate faculty member in American Politics. Teaching may require in-person or a combination of in-person and online assignments. The upper-level course is called PS 314 Public Opinion and American Democracy.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please submit a dossier including a curriculum vitae, two letters of reference, graduate transcripts, draft syllabus of the course and teaching evaluations (if available), and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola’s educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is also available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $3,200 - $3,525 per course (without and with PhD)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8791

Loyola University Maryland
Rank: Per course Instructors in Comparative and International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications for per-course, non-tenure track affiliate faculty member positions to teach courses in Comparative Politics and International Relations for the Fall 2021 semester. Teaching may require in-person or a combination of in-person and online assignments. The four courses are upper-level offerings titled: PS 303 Latin American Politics; PS 350 Comparative Politics; PS 352 Gender, Human Rights, and Conflict; and PS 365 International Politics. Applicants may teach up to two courses for the Fall 2021 semester; successful Fall 2021 candidates may also propose courses for the Spring 2022 semester.

A Ph.D., M.A., or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.
Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students.

To apply, please submit a dossier including: curriculum vitae; two letters of reference; graduate transcripts; draft syllabus of the course and teaching evaluations (if available); and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola’s educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $3,200 - $3,525 per course (without and with terminal degree)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8790

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the 2022-2023 academic year. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance. Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline - Applicants should apply by Saturday, November 20, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process - All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/21441

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines.

To apply, please provide the following:
• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion — fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University’s dedication to excellence.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9102

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows’ program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/21442

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9104

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to eight visitors for the 2022-2023 academic year in the Visiting Fellowship Program. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Saturday, November 20, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/21443

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.
Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:
• Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
• Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9103

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program in Regional Political Economy
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Middle East, Latin American, Africa

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs seeks two visitors or more candidates for the Visiting Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows’ program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acadpositions/position/21444

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:
• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:
• Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
• Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9103

Duke Kunshan University

Rank: Faculty Position in International Relations - China’s Global Engagement

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications to a tenure-track faculty position in international relations, beginning in the academic year 2022-2023. We seek a scholar whose research focuses on the role of China in the broader world: we are open to scholars with diverse regional interests, but encourage especially faculty whose research focuses on Latin America, Central Asia, the Middle East, or Africa. The successful applicant, in addition to teaching standard courses in international relations, will join an interdisciplinary teaching team in DKU’s first-year common core class, entitled China in the World. We thus seek a broadly trained scholar of international relations who is comfortable in interdisciplinary contexts and eager to develop this team-taught course. Mid-career and senior faculty are especially encouraged to apply.

As an international intellectual community that encourages diversity, openness and creative learning, DKU welcomes outstanding faculty from around the world who contribute diverse perspectives and experiences to a global learning and research environment. DKU particularly welcomes applications from underrepresented groups and minorities.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked... full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor’s degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master’s degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master’s degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of &lt;8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master’s level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke’s educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate’s specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19372. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using “International Relations - China Search” as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by October 15, 2021; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a subway-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9253

Interos

Rank: Computational Social Scientist

Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Non-Academic

Specializations: Research Methods, International Political Economy, Science & Technology

At Interos, we are seeking Computational Social Scientists experienced in applying quantitative models in the areas of political instability, finance, economics, climate change, cybersecurity, or other socio-technical systems. With a focus on risk modeling across global supply chains, this role applies computational social science models, theories, and data while staying on top of the latest advances and current events in these areas. An avid researcher and writer, a computational social scientist is also a data storyteller, with strong communication skills to both technical and non-technical audiences.

Are you constantly exploring more data-driven and rigorous approaches for analyzing the ongoing global geopolitical, societal, technological, and economic disruptions? Are you fascinated by socio-technical systems and uncovering unknown insights? Are you a data storyteller seeking new ways to have a real-world impact? And want to apply all of these skills at a high-growth, early-stage company?

Join the growing Methodology team at Interos and help implement cutting-edge risk models while working in a fast paced, multi-disciplinary environment. hone your quantitative skills, operationalize complex models, and turn novel research into actionable insights for our private and public sector customers. This role collaborates within the Methodology team and across engineering and is responsible for both quantitative models as well as qualitative depth, detail, and context.

We have multiple positions open at junior, mid-level, and senior levels, with compensation reflected accordingly.

Minimal Qualifications:
A Ph.D. in a social or behavioral science, and at least 2 years relevant work experience, or at least four years of work experience modeling and operationalizing complex social and physical networks.
A curious researcher and analyst who never stops seeking better data and new solutions to complex socio-technical challenges.
A passion for technology and the scientific application of quantitative models to social and physical systems.
Proven open source research skills and supporting product development.
A team player who enjoys multi-disciplinary collaboration in an extremely fast-paced and fluid environment.

Fluency with Python, R, or other data analysis tools

Preferred Qualifications:
Demonstrable background interacting with a range of audiences (internal and external; technical and business stakeholders).
Experience applying quantitative models in the areas of political instability, finance, economics, climate change, cybersecurity, or other socio-technical systems.
Strong communication skills, both verbal and written.
The ability to adapt quickly to shifting priorities and multi-task under tight deadlines.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2021
Salary: $110,000 - $119,999
eJobs ID: 9244

Berea College

Rank: Tenure-track Position in Political Science

Tenure-track Position in Political Science

The Political Science Department at Berea College invites applications for a tenure track position beginning in August of 2022. Applicants must have a PhD in hand by the start of the appointment, preferably in Political Science or International Relations, or an associated discipline.
Political Science Jobs

Teaching expertise and research or professional experience in international relations and research methods are required, and expertise is also preferred in comparative politics, political theory, and/or any regional specialization other than East Asia.

Responsibilities include teaching six courses per year, including introductory and upper-level courses in Political Science and in the General Studies core curriculum, as well as advising duties. Candidates are also expected to supervise a Faculty Assistant through the Berea College Labor Program. Commitment to the mission of Berea College, superior teaching, research, and mentoring of undergraduates in a liberal arts environment is essential. Successful candidates will, through their teaching, scholarship and service, demonstrate a commitment to building a diverse community.

Application should send a letter of application, curriculum vita, transcripts, statement of teaching philosophy, research statement, and three letters of recommendation (sent directly from the recommenders) to: https://tinyurl.com/594hasjs. Applicants should submit their materials by October 1, 2021, and all recommendations must be received by October 15, 2021. Additional materials may be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1855, Berea College achieved national distinction as the first coeducational and interracial college in the South. Berea has a longstanding commitment to interracial education and is one of the most racially diverse private liberal arts colleges in the United States. With an emphasis on service to Appalachia and beyond, Berea enrolls 1,600 students from 43 states and U.S. territories and more than 70 countries. Berea College only admits students who are unable to afford tuition and provides all of them a no-tuition promise, valued at more than $178,000 over four years. Berea’s students excel in the College’s supportive yet demanding academic environment, and many are the first in their families to graduate college. As one of nine federally recognized Work Colleges, all Berea students hold a position in which they work 10-12 hours weekly. In 2021, Berea College once again topped the list of “Best Value Colleges” in the nation in The Wall Street Journal/Times Higher Education (THE) College Rankings. Berea’s no-tuition model contributed to its No. 1 best-value ranking. Forbes cited a 2021 study of nearly 400 colleges in the United States, in which Berea College ranks second in terms of affordability and academic quality. And in 2021 The Princeton Review cited Berea College as “one of the nation’s best institutions for undergraduates to earn their college degree.” The publication also recognized Berea as a Best Value College, based on academic rigor, affordability and graduates’ career outcomes; a Best Green College; and a Tuition-Free School.

Located where the Bluegrass Region meets the Cumberland Mountains, the town of Berea (pop. 16,000) lies forty miles south of Lexington and is approximately two hours from Cincinnati, Louisville, and Knoxville. More information about Berea College is available at www.berea.edu.

Berea College, in light of its mission in the tradition of impartial love and social equality, welcomes all people of the earth to learn and work here.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/14/2021
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9242

Duke Kunshan University
Rank: Faculty Position in International Relations

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications to multiple faculty positions in international relations, beginning in the academic year 2022-2023. We are open with regard to specialization, but candidates with expertise in immigration/migration are especially encouraged to apply. We seek especially candidates whose expertise would complement the University’s existing strengths in East Asian relations. The ability to teach an introductory course in international relations theory is desirable, but not required. The positions are open with regard to rank including tenured, tenure track and non-tenure track.

Mid-career and senior faculty are especially encouraged to apply.

As an international intellectual community that encourages diversity, openness and creative learning, DKU welcomes outstanding faculty from around the world who contribute diverse perspectives and experiences to a global learning and research environment. DKU particularly welcomes applications from underrepresented groups and minorities.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor’s degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master’s degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience beyond graduation date on master’s degree/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of <8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master’s level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke’s educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate’s specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19299. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using “International Relations” as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by October 15, 2021; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.
Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department’s required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site http://apply.interfolio.com/86435 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9248

University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor or tenured Associate Professor position with a focus on the study of conflict, broadly defined. We anticipate considering candidates primarily from the International Relations subfield, but encourage candidates from related fields whose research tackles issues of conflict and contestation to apply as well. Successful candidates are expected to teach effectively at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, establish and maintain an active and independent research program, and provide service to the department, the university and the profession. Candidates with a documented commitment to work with students or faculty from groups historically marginalized or underrepresented in the field through teaching, mentoring, or administration are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants at the assistant professor level must demonstrate evidence of a promising research agenda and a strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Applicants at the associate professor level must have an excellent record in research, teaching and service. Ph.D. in Political Science or related field required. Target start date is August 16, 2022. Salary commensurate with rank and qualifications. Candidates with demonstrated qualifications who will complete all the Ph.D. requirements within the first appointment year may be appointed at the rank of Instructor. After the Ph.D. requirement is met, the appointment will be changed to Assistant Professor.

The University of Illinois is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer that recruits and hires qualified candidates without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, national origin, disability or veteran status. For more information, visit http://go.illinois.edu/EEO.

The Illinois College of Liberal Arts and Sciences is a world leader in research, teaching, and public engagement. Faculty in the College create knowledge, address critical societal needs through the transfer and application of knowledge, and prepare students for lives of impact in the state, nation, and globally. To meet these objectives, the College embraces and values diversity and difference through hiring faculty candidates who can contribute through their research, teaching, and/or service to the diversity and excellence of the Illinois community.

To apply, create your candidate profile through https://jobs.illinois.edu and upload your application materials by October 4, 2021: letter of application, CV, a representative publication, statement of teaching and research interests, and a diversity statement. The online application will require the contact information or Interfolio ID for three professional references. Referees will be contacted electronically by the Department within 1-2 business days after submission of the application. Only applications submitted through the University of Illinois Job Board will be considered. Questions about the position or application procedures may be directed to the faculty search coordinator at pol@illinois.edu.

To find out more about the resources available at the university and Urbana-Champaign community please visit these sites:
Dual Career Program
Benefits

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9243
The University of Notre Dame's Keough School of Global Affairs seeks a full professor to be the Director of the Kellogg Institute for International Studies (https://kellogg.nd.edu). The Kellogg Institute promotes rigorous interdisciplinary, policy- and practice-relevant research on critical global challenges, with a particular focus on democracy and human development in Latin America and Africa.

The Kellogg Institute includes more than 120 Notre Dame faculty fellows from 21 disciplines and has welcomed over 400 visiting scholars from more than 40 nations and 200 institutions since 1983. It is the home to numerous interdisciplinary research initiatives, including policy and practice labs, research clusters, working groups, and the Ford Program for Human Development Studies and Solidarity. The Institute invests over $200,000 annually in doctoral fellowships, grants, and professionalization. It also includes a vibrant, competitive undergraduate program that supports international research experiences for undergraduate students, which has enabled more than 40 of its students to win NSF, Rhodes, Gilman, Truman, Fulbright and other national awards and fellowships. The Director’s position offers an opportunity for a scholar who will thrive in this unique interdisciplinary and collaborative atmosphere.

As director of a research institute at the core of the Keough School (http://keough.nd.edu), the successful candidate will be a key member of the School’s executive leadership team and play a creative leadership and program-building role within the Keough School. The Keough School promotes interdisciplinary research on critical issues in global affairs, offers a master’s degree, and sponsors undergraduate and doctoral programs as well as a policy studies program. In keeping with Notre Dame’s mission as a leading Catholic research university committed to engaging questions of value, ethics and faith in a pluralistic global context, the Keough School seeks to advance integral human development (https://keough.nd.edu/one-concept-two-imperatives), a holistic and inclusive vision of human flourishing.

From its founding the Kellogg Institute has been led by distinguished scholars who have maintained their influential research and publication projects while leading the talented administrative team overseeing the Institute’s many vital research, visiting fellow, and curricular programs. That tradition will continue with the new director, who will have the opportunity and support to develop these programs further while taking the Kellogg Institute to its next level of growth and influence.

Specifically, we seek a dynamic intellectual leader and scholar who specializes in one or more of the subjects relevant to the academic mission of the Institute and the School. These include the historical, political, economic, social and cultural dimensions of democracy and/or development in Latin America and/or Africa.

Notwithstanding its signature strength in the social sciences, the Kellogg Institute welcomes applications from scholars from any appropriate discipline, who have the intellectual breadth to foster excellence in a truly interdisciplinary and international institute. The successful candidate will also have an outstanding publication, grant writing, and teaching record, an established international reputation, experience as an administrator and experience in engaging policy or practice communities.

Notre Dame is committed to enhancing the racial, gender and international diversity of the University community: the new Kellogg Director will be expected to prioritize the goal of diversifying further the profile of the Institute’s faculty, staff and students. Women and candidates from underrepresented populations are particularly encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate, who will serve a five-year term as Director of the Kellogg Institute, will be periodically reviewed, with the possibility of renewal for a second term. The successful candidate will be a tenured faculty member of the Keough School; a joint or concurrent appointment in the appropriate disciplinary department is possible.

The University of Notre Dame supports the needs of dual career couples and has a Dual Career Assistance Program in place to assist relocating spouses and significant others with their job search. The University is also a member of the Greater Chicago Midwest Higher Education Recruitment Consortium.

Application Instructions
Applications should include a Curriculum Vitae, a cover letter containing a description of the candidate’s vision for the Kellogg Institute and its role in the Keough School, as well as the names and email addresses of three references who know the applicant’s scholarship and can speak to the candidate’s gifts as a leader and administrator. Apply here: https://apply.interfolio.com/92759

Nominations and inquiries may be sent via email to:
Dean Scott Appleby
Chair, Kellogg Institute Search Committee
Keough School of Global Affairs
University of Notre Dame
appleby.3@nd.edu

Review of applications will begin on October 18, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9229
Columbia University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics

Columbia University’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in International Relations at the Assistant Professor level to begin July 1, 2022.

Candidates will be expected to sustain an active research and publication agenda and teaching in undergraduate and graduate programs.

Ph.D. required at the time of appointment.

All applications must be made through Columbia University’s online recruiting platform: http://apply.interfolio.com/92551

All candidates must have excellent scholarship and excellent promise for future development as scholars and teachers. The department is particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to teaching and research in one or more of the following areas of International Relations: international law and human rights, gender, race, climate change, international political economy, US foreign policy, and international security including nuclear weapons.

Applicants should send a cover letter, curriculum vitae, contact information for three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion through teaching, professional activity, and/or service.

The Search Committee will begin reviewing applications on October 4, 2021, and will continue to consider applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9213

Gonzaga University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science (Latin American Politics)

The Department of Political Science at Gonzaga University in Spokane, WA invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor with a regional focus on Latin America beginning in the fall semester of 2022. The successful candidate will offer the introductory course in comparative politics or the introductory course in international relations as well as at least one Latin American Politics course. We are especially interested in candidates whose research is attentive to social and racial justice or the political action or experiences of marginalized communities. The ability to teach courses in political thought, indigeneity, or undergraduate research design and methods is also desirable. Preference will also be given to candidates whose teaching methods and materials intentionally foster the full participation and engagement of our students, with particular attention to students with marginalized identities.

The ideal candidate will hold a PhD in Political Science by July 2022 and will become an integral part of a department of nine faculty members dedicated primarily to excellence in undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will regularly teach the introduction to comparative politics or the introduction to international relations as part of their 3-3 load along with upper division courses consistent with their research specialization and aligned with departmental needs. An active research agenda leading to publication in the field and significant undergraduate advising and mentoring will be expected of the candidate who joins our department.

Required Qualifications:
•Ph.D. in Political Science or related field. ABDs considered with the expectation degree is in hand by July 15, 2022.
•Evidence of teaching effectiveness, including the ability to effectively respond to the academic needs of learners from diverse backgrounds.
•Demonstrated active research agenda focusing on Latin American Politics

Desired Qualifications:
•Demonstrated abilities using classroom strategies and pedagogies to advance equity and inclusion.

Job Duties:
•Teach three courses per semester, including either the introductory course in Comparative Politics or the introductory course in International Relations, courses required for the POLS major and minor, and upper division courses in the candidate’s areas of expertise, including at least one on Latin American Politics.
•Engage in research, publication, and other scholarly activity appropriate to the candidate’s research agenda and areas of expertise.
•Provide curriculum and career advising and mentoring to the program’s undergraduates.
•Support the department, university, and discipline through service and other forms of academic citizenship in keeping with the University Mission (our Mission Statement can be found at: https://www.gonzaga.edu/about/our-mission-jesuit-values/mission-statement).

About Gonzaga University and Spokane, Washington

Founded in 1887, Gonzaga is a private, liberal arts institution located in Spokane, WA. The Department of Political Science awards the BA degree and enjoys a growing enrollment of politically involved, social justice-minded students. The average class size of 23 enables our faculty to invest in engaged pedagogy and transformational teaching. Gonzaga is ranked in the top 20 for excellence in undergraduate teaching among National Universities by US News and World Report.

Gonzaga’s 152 acre campus sits along the Spokane River within walking distance of downtown Spokane, on the ancestral homelands of the Spokane Tribe of Indians. Spokane is the second largest city in Washington and pairs a lower cost of living with many urban advantages, including a conveniently located international airport, a vibrant art community, and a range of exciting restaurants. Located on the east side of Washington State, Spokane offers many options for outdoor enjoyment including hiking, boating and fishing on numerous local lakes, and several ski resorts within driving distance.

Application Procedure:
To apply, please visit our website at www.gonzaga.edu/jobs. Applicants must complete an online application and electronically submit (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) a 1-2 page statement of teaching philosophy, (4) a statement detailing your experience engaging with diverse communities and articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, (5) unofficial copies of graduate school transcripts, and (6) the names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited for candidates placed on the long list). The position closes on Friday, October 29, 2021.

Gonzaga is a Jesuit, Catholic university and an equal opportunity employer that celebrates diversity in all forms and is committed to the inclusion of candidates who will contribute to the dignity, respect, and equality of all individuals. Gonzaga’s Mission (our Mission Statement can be found at: https://www.gonzaga.edu/about/our-mission-jesuit-values/mission-statement).
University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor, Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established nine interdisciplinary clusters to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy, from a policy or social science perspective, and plan to hire one tenure-eating assistant professor for this cluster. This position has an anticipated start date of August 8, 2022.

The Cybersecurity and Privacy Cluster is an interdisciplinary initiative, bringing together researchers from across the campus and working on addressing the pressing questions of our national security from engineering, science, and social perspectives. The cluster currently has eight members, collectively advising more than 35 doctoral students, and embracing a strong culture of collaboration and teamwork. The cluster runs various well-funded programs, has developed and implemented a new interdisciplinary M.S. in Cybersecurity and Privacy, and was recently selected by the National Science Foundation to be a host institution for the prestigious Scholarship for Service Program.

This is an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department and may include a combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. See http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/ for a complete list of all the units involved. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal candidate will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. In particular, we are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy, and someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, addressing the policy, regulatory or social science aspects with a focus on one or more of the following topics: a) privacy laws and regulation; b) social media; c) cybercrimes; d) cyber warfare; e) cyber security and intelligence. With this in mind, we anticipate the selected candidate will be tenure-eating in one of, but not limited to, the following units: Criminal Justice; Legal Studies; Modeling, Simulation, and Training; Politics, Security, and International Affairs; or Sociology.

UCF is one of the nation’s largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 70,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region’s future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation.

UCF’s Orlando main campus location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to the UCF main campus is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies, UCF’s Institute for Simulation and Training and UCF’s new School of Modeling, Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the state of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school which was established in 2006 and is a neighbor to large corporations such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world’s best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about one of UCF’s newest endeavors, the exciting Faculty Cluster Initiative, at https://www.ucf.edu/faculty/faculty-research-clusters.

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents to be submitted electronically through the Human Resources website, www.ucf.edu/jobs/. No paper or emailed applications or materials will be considered.

In addition to the online application, interested candidates must attach the following materials to their application:

1) A Diversity Statement:

UCF has a diverse student body and community, and we are committed to meeting the needs of this community. Please tell us about your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, in the context of a faculty-student setting and as a colleague, as well as future plans to advance these contributions. Such indicators of commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion may be demonstrated through scholarship, teaching, mentioning, service and engagement.

2) A Cover Letter:

In the cover letter candidates must address their background in research and scholarship in the area in cyber security and privacy as related to policy and regulatory aspects and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home, as well as any joint appointments they would desire.

3) Curriculum Vitae,

4) Teaching Statement,

5) Research Statement,

6) Contact information for three professional references (include email address and telephone number).

NOTE: Please have all application documents ready when applying so they can be attached at that time. Once the online submission...
process is finalized, the system does not allow applicants to submit additional documents at a later date.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure consideration before the position is closed, the application should be submitted promptly.

Questions regarding this search can be directed to the cluster lead and search committee chair, Dr. David Mohaisen, at mohaisen@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9222

University of Washington, Tacoma
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Law and Human Rights

The University of Washington Tacoma (UWT) invites applications for an Assistant Professor of International Law and Human Rights in the Division of Politics, Philosophy, and Public Affairs (PPPA) within the School of Interdisciplinary Arts & Sciences (SIAS). This is a full-time tenure track position with a 9-month service period to begin September 16, 2022. Tenure track faculty teach six classes per year, combining lower-level introductory courses with upper-level courses in international law, comparative law, law and society, and human rights. Successful candidates will have the opportunity to develop curriculum in their area of expertise.

This position is expected to engage in interdisciplinary research and teaching in PPPA Division’s two majors (Law & Policy and Politics Philosophy & Economics) and the Tri-campus Minor in Human Rights. The successful candidate will join a faculty with a shared interest in human rights and social justice, and strong connections with the Center for Human Rights of the University of Washington. Our division values scholarly and research excellence at the intersection of human rights, international law, and activism, as well as teaching in critical, equity-oriented approaches. You can learn more about the Division, the two majors and six minors we host, and the faculty from our website (https://www.tacoma.uw.edu/politics-philosophy-public-affairs/). This position is contingent on funding.

The Tacoma campus of the University of Washington was established in 1990 with an interdisciplinary approach at its foundation. It has evolved into a thriving downtown campus that serves students of a wide variety of ages and backgrounds. Faculty have access to the resources of the University of Washington, including an extensive library system, but work and teach within a small campus setting. Our campus provides a unique environment for the development of creative teaching, research, and community collaborations. UW Tacoma’s commitment to diversity and equity is central to maintaining an atmosphere wherein students, staff, faculty, and community members find abundant opportunities for intellectual, personal, and professional growth. For more information about UW Tacoma, visit https://www.tacoma.uw.edu/.

The minimum qualification for this position is a PhD (or foreign equivalent advanced degree) in Political Science, International Studies, Global Studies, Sociology, History, Law and Society or related fields by August 2022. The successful candidate will be a scholar with the promise of research and teaching excellence, specializing in the study of human rights, international law, and/or international organizations.

Areas of scholarship of an ideal candidate may include international or comparative courts and judicial systems, global markets and human rights, global migrations, international law and ethics, technology and human rights, international social movements, legal pluralism, or race, ethnicity, indigeneity, gender, sexuality, and human rights and international law. All regional specialties beyond the US are welcome.

To apply, please submit the following via Interfolio:
- A letter of interest detailing how your teaching, scholarship, and professional service fits with this position.
- A curriculum vitae
- A current essay or chapter
- A statement of research interests (maximum one page)
- A diversity, equity, and inclusion statement that explains how your teaching, research, and service or activism support social justice and the success of students from underrepresented racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds. If you have not yet had the opportunity for such experience, please note how your work in international law and human rights would further UW Tacoma’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion (maximum one page)
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness
- Contact information for three references able to provide letters of recommendation.
- Questions should be directed to the search chair, Prof. Michael Forman (forman@uw.edu). Compensation is competitive with that of comparable positions and includes UW’s excellent health insurance and retirement benefits.

Screening of applications will begin on October 14, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

Commitment to Diversity
The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/). Additionally, the University’s Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member’s academic profile and responsibilities (https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/14/2021
Date Posted: 8/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9212

Lake Forest College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics and International Relations
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics and International Relations invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor in comparative politics or international relations with a specialization in Latin America to begin August 2022. Lake Forest College has a rich, interdisciplinary program in Latin American and Latinx Studies to which the successful candidate is expected to contribute significantly. We are seeking someone to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics and Introduction to Global Politics; a research methods survey course, required for Politics and International Relations majors, that includes qualitative and/or quantitative methods; and a broad range of other courses in comparative politics or international relations, with a focus on Spanish-speaking countries in Latin America. And while we encourage candidates of all substantive interests to apply, those whose work focuses on issues of human rights, social movements, migration, indigenous communities, or populism are most welcome. Additionally, candidates with corollary research and/or teaching interests in the Latinx experience within the domestic United States are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants should be aware of the many interdisciplinary programs Lake Forest College has to offer including African American Studies, American Studies, Urban Studies, and Social Justice. We also offer an "In the Loop" semester-long residential program in Chicago, as well as many courses emphasizing Chicago history, politics, and its diverse cultures. Lake Forest College’s proximity to Chicago provides an opportunity to use the city as a "laboratory" for student work and research. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to any of these programs and can incorporate students into their research programs.

Candidates will be expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. Ph.D. in political science, or a related field, must be completed by the time of appointment. Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students). We support faculty research through provision of student research assistants and summer research funds; successful passage of the third-year review earns a half-year sabbatical at full pay, in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year. Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, unofficial graduate transcript, a teaching statement that addresses diversity in a liberal arts setting, sample syllabi, a sample of scholarly writing, three confidential letters of recommendation, and student evaluations of teaching to James J. Marquard, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Politics and International Relations at latinamericasearch@lakeforest.edu

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago’s North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,600 students from more than 40 states and from more than 70 countries. Lake Forest is one of the most diverse small colleges in the Midwest with nearly 40% of our student body comprised of domestic minority and international students. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member’s teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities. Applications will be reviewed as they are submitted. The application deadline is October 8, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/8/2021
Date Posted: 8/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9197

College of Idaho
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Political Economy
Specializations: Africa, Latin American, Middle East

The College of Idaho’s dynamic Department of Political Economy invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position that will commence in Fall 2022.

The Department approaches political economy in a broad theoretical manner that embraces the widest study of the social world both classic and contemporary. We emphasize the intricate relationships between politics and economics while embracing cross-disciplinary research and dialogue. We encourage approaches including area studies, historical institutionalism, heterodox economics, feminist political theory, transnational analysis, institutional economics, and public policy analysis, and we value research methods that emphasize the analysis of real-world data over formal modeling.

This position supports the College’s innovative PEAK Curriculum and two related majors offered by the Department: Political Economy and International Political Economy. The successful candidate will teach International Politics, Political Economy of Development, International Political Economy, and related courses. The teaching load is 3-3 with an additional short January-term topics course based on the candidate’s expertise. We grant significant autonomy to faculty members to design their own courses that support the department’s political economy approach and liberal arts vision. Ability to offer upper level area studies or regional survey courses on Africa, Europe, Latin America, or the Middle East is desired. Interest in providing short-term study away courses is also desirable as department faculty regularly offer such courses to Asia, Europe, and Africa as part of IPE programming.

Successful candidates will have an active research agenda while demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition. They will join a student-centered department where teaching and mentoring are valued as the highest priority. Such mentorship has recently led students in the department to Marshall, Truman, and Rhodes scholarships as well as to national recognition of departmental faculty for teaching excellence. Professional development support for research, conference travel, and sabbatical leave is available.

A Ph.D. is required in International Relations, International Political Economy, Political Science, Economics, Sociology, or other related fields in international studies. Advanced ABD applicants will be considered.

Applications must include letter of interest, CV, statement demonstrating a passion for teaching in the liberal arts tradition, sample syllabi, recent course evaluations, at least three letters of recommendation, and demonstrated commitment to representation, inclusion, and equity. Candidates must be authorized to work in the United States as of the expected hire date and throughout the date of the contract without sponsorship from The College of Idaho. Application review will begin September 30, 2021 and continue until the position has been filled. Please submit application materials via email to hr@collegeofidaho.edu with subject ‘Political Economy Search.’

With over 130 years of history, The College of Idaho is a regional and national leader in higher education. The College of Idaho is an inclusive community of exceptional learning that challenges the ambitious and forges pathways to success and purpose. To learn more about The College of Idaho, please visit www.collegeofidaho.edu.
Loyola Marymount University
Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science and International Relations
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) whose work addresses structural racism or Black politics. Sub-field specialization is open and we welcome applications from candidates whose research and teaching addresses the Black political experience, racial oppression, discrimination, and violence from domestic (US or other countries), international, transnational, diasporic, post-colonial, normative, historical, or critical perspectives. We expect candidates to ground their work—theoretical and/or empirical—in an intersectional understanding of how interlocking or overlapping systems of oppression, domination, inequality, or hierarchies shape the political world.

LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We would expect the successful candidate to teach courses both within our existing curriculum, but also to support and develop courses that speak directly to the Black political experience, broadly understood. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department’s mission of helping undergraduate students become informed, analytically reflective, methodologically rigorous, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experiences, and beliefs to apply. Please read more about our commitments and our efforts at https://resources.lmu.edu/officesofdiversityandinclusion/.

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal https://lmu.applicantjob.com/postings/47472. Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU’s mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; and 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLSjobs@lmu.edu. Only online applications will be accepted. Please direct questions to Marc Cooper at POLSjobs@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 10, 2021 but will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search. A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Public Policy, or related field is required; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2022 will be considered.

University of Tennessee, Knoxville
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science–International Relations Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, Conflict Processes

International Relations
The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in International Relations. Applicants from any area of the IR field are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in international law, international organizations, or transnational issues broadly defined with an emphasis on issues such as human rights, refugees/migration, environment, and conflict justice. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach.

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state’s flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at polisci.utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science or related field must be finished at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application materials in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92425). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent to the committee also via Interfolio. Review of applications begins October 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Krista Wiegand at kwiegand@utk.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

PENDING FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE APPROVAL

Interfolio link may not be active until final approval (should be approved within a week).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9173

Florida State University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics,Comparative Politics,International Relations

The Department of Political Science (https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for a tenure track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2022. We seek candidates whose research focuses on institutions and political economy. The search is open with respect to the substantive subfield, and priority will be given to candidates who can add to the department’s strength in formal theory and rigorous empirical analysis. Successful candidates are expected to pursue an active program of research and to contribute to the department’s undergraduate and graduate game theory sequences.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida’s capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (pdf’s are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu. Review of applications will begin September 17, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Please contact Prof. Christopher Reenock, Political Economy Search Committee Chair, at creenock@fsu.edu or 850-644-5727 if you have any questions about this position.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/17/2021

Date Posted: 8/13/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9163

Carnegie Mellon University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow
Subfield(s): International Relations,Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in International Political Economy.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022.

The application deadline is Monday, November 1, 2021. Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/92232

Materials to be submitted:
• Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
• CV;
• Research Statement;
• Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
• Two scholarly writing samples;
• Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
• Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9152

Carnegie Mellon University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in political science and international relations, with a specialization in the relationships among emerging technologies, national security, and international relations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022. The application deadline is Monday, November 1, 2021.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/92233

Materials to be submitted:
• Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
• CV;
• Research Statement;
• Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
• Two scholarly writing samples;
• Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
• Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9153

Carnegie Mellon University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in political science and international relations, with a specialization in the relationships among emerging technologies, national security, and international relations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022. The application deadline is Monday, November 1, 2021.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/92233

Materials to be submitted:
• Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
• CV;
• Research Statement;
• Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
• Two scholarly writing samples;
• Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
• Two reference letters.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022. The application deadline is Monday, November 1, 2021.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/92233

Materials to be submitted:
• Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
• CV;
• Research Statement;
• Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
• Two scholarly writing samples;
• Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
• Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9153

Princeton University
Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Assistant Professor, International Relations. The Department of Politics seeks applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in international relations. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to International Relations Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 7, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00001
Start Date:
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9159

Princeton University
Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Middle Eastern Politics

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Middle Eastern Politics. The Department of Politics is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position in Middle Eastern politics. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs.

Junior candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Middle Eastern Politics Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.
Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on September 13, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00006
Start Date:
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9157

Department of Defense
Rank: Analyst
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Joint Warfare Analysis Center (JWAC), https://www.jwac.mil/, is currently recruiting motivated individuals who are excited about the opportunity to lead research aimed at developing advanced methods for defense analysis.

JWAC’s mission is to provide the military with effects-based analysis in order to carry out the national security and military strategies of the United States during peace, crisis, and war.

Ideal candidates will have both a strong quantitative methods background and professional experience or substantive research in the areas of military affairs, foreign policy, international relations, comparative politics, or political economy.

We offer generous benefits and competitive pay. U.S. citizenship and the ability to obtain and maintain a security clearance are required for all positions.

Individuals interested in more information can email: stratcom.south-potomac.jwac.list.recruiting-sociopolitics@mail.mil

Start Date: Summer 2021
Date Posted: 8/11/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9146

McGill University
Rank: Assistant Professor, Environmental Politics and Governance
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Assistant Professor, Environmental Politics and Governance
Joint position in the Department of Political Science and Bieler School of Environment

Position Description:

The Department of Political Science and the Bieler School of Environment invite applications for a joint tenure-track position in Environmental Politics and Governance. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Assistant Professor, but appointment at a higher rank may be possible under exceptional circumstances. Candidates should have already completed their PhD or be very near completion.

The position start date is August 1, 2022.

The Department and School welcome applications from qualified candidates working within any subfield with a specialization in Environmental Politics. The search is open in terms of methodological specialization, although candidates are expected to be able to demonstrate expertise in either quantitative or qualitative methods, or both. While all applications will be given full consideration, we are particularly interested in scholars whose work incorporates some of the following elements: is transnational in scope or has the potential to move in this direction; addresses the consequences of environmental change for public policy at various institutional levels; examines the relationships between environmental change and other phenomena such as international migration or conflict. The Bieler School of Environment is highly interdisciplinary; the successful candidate will have demonstrated an excellent capacity to work in an interdisciplinary context and to develop interdisciplinary collaborations.

For more information about the Department, School, and University, please visit our websites at: https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/ &lt;/a&gt; and https://www.mcgill.ca/environment/https://www.mcgill.ca/environment/ &lt;/a&gt;

Inquiries about this position may be sent to Professor Jacob Levy,mailto:jacob.levy@mcgill.ca &lt;/a&gt;, Chair of the Department of Political Science, or to Professor Frédéric Fabry,mailto:frederic.fabry@mcgill.ca &lt;/a&gt;, Director, Bieler School of the Environment. The Department and School maintain close relationships with other units at McGill with interests in the environment such as the Max Bell School of Public Policy https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/ &lt;/a&gt; and the McGill Institute for the Study of International Development https://www.mcgill.ca/isid/https://www.mcgill.ca/isid/.

Job Duties:

Teaching, research, and service within the Department of Political Science and Bieler School of Environment. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to teaching in political science broadly in one or more subfields, particularly at the graduate level. The candidate will be required to teach courses for the Bieler School of Environment on both the McGill Downtown Campus and Macdonald Campus.

Qualifications and Education Requirements:
Candidates should have completed their PhD or be near completion. An applicant’s record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability/potential to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as to provide supervision for graduate students. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Job Details:

Job Classification: Tenure-track
Rank: Assistant Professor
Job Status: Full-time
Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Security Policy for mid-career students seeking to advance in their careers as national security policy professionals to apply for several teach-ining positions at the Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University.

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of almost 70 and houses several interdisciplinary research centers, and offers degree-programs in a variety of disciplines including demography, economics, history, law, medicine, philosophy, political science, psychology/social psychology, public policy, public health/health policy, and sociology. The Sanford School houses several interdisciplinary research centers, and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, India, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at www.sanford.duke.edu.

Selected candidates will work with existing Duke faculty to build an ambitious new program and stand up the new degree curriculum. They also will have the opportunity to participate in the American Grand Strategy and Counterterrorism and Public Policy Fellows Programs, and collaborate with the Sanford School’s national security faculty on related policy and research projects and proposals.

Applicants may apply to teach one or more classes and may retain professional engagement elsewhere while teaching in the program.
The full course list is here; courses of particular need are National Security Leadership, National Security Ethics, National Security
Budgeting, National Security Institutions. As a hybrid program responsibilities include teaching synchronously online, building asyn-chronous online content, and occasional on-campus immersion sessions. Some classes will start in the summer of 2022, and some in the subsequent semesters of the academic year 2022/2023. The positions will allow for some preparation time in advance of class launches.

Applicants should have a Master’s degree or higher and substantial professional experience in such areas of national security policy and policymaking as defense, diplomacy, development, leadership, ethics, cyber, technology, terrorism, biological threats, and/or global environment. Experience creating and executing applied learning experiences such as simulations, war games, table-top exercises, and leading client-based research programs is a plus, as is online teaching experience.
Policy research and writing are of interest, but not required.

Applicants may reside in NC or in any of the partner states with which Duke has employment agreements (California, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia,
and Washington DC).

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, three other Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. Current faculty members have degrees in a variety of disciplines including demography, economics, history, law, medicine, philosophy, political science, psychology/social psychology, public policy, public health/health policy, and sociology. The Sanford School houses several interdisciplinary research centers, and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, India, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at www.sanford.duke.edu.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that traces their professional experience and makes it clear why they would be interested in joining the Sanford School of Public Policy and how their expertise would meet the needs of the curriculum. The letter, along with a CV and the names and contact information of three references (no letters at this stage), should be submitted at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19142. Applications submitted by October 31, 2021, will be guaranteed consideration. For further information contact Professor Bruce Jentleson, Search Committee Chair, bwj7@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without guard to an individual’s age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke University - Sanford School of Public Policy
Rank: Adjunct Professor of the Practice of National Security Policy
Specializations: United States, Defense, Leadership Studies

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University invites seasoned national security policy professionals to apply for several teaching positions in an exciting new hybrid Executive Masters of National Security Policy for mid-career students seeking to advance in their leadership roles in the national security policy realm in the public and private sectors. Selected candidates will work with existing Duke faculty to build an ambitious new program and stand up the new degree curriculum. They also will have the opportunity to participate in the American Grand Strategy and Counterterrorism and Public Policy Fellows Programs, and collaborate with the Sanford School’s national security faculty on related policy and research projects and proposals.

Applicants may apply to teach one or more classes and may retain professional engagement elsewhere while teaching in the program.
The full course list is here; courses of particular need are National Security Leadership, National Security Ethics, National Security
Budgeting, National Security Institutions. As a hybrid program responsibilities include teaching synchronously online, building asyn-chronous online content, and occasional on-campus immersion sessions. Some classes will start in the summer of 2022, and some in the subsequent semesters of the academic year 2022/2023. The positions will allow for some preparation time in advance of class launches.

Applicants should have a Master’s degree or higher and substantial professional experience in such areas of national security policy and policymaking as defense, diplomacy, development, leadership, ethics, cyber, technology, terrorism, biological threats, and/or global environment. Experience creating and executing applied learning experiences such as simulations, war games, table-top exercises, and leading client-based research programs is a plus, as is online teaching experience.
Policy research and writing are of interest, but not required.

Applicants may reside in NC or in any of the partner states with which Duke has employment agreements (California, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia,
and Washington DC).

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, three other Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. Current faculty members have degrees in a variety of disciplines including demography, economics, history, law, medicine, philosophy, political science, psychology/social psychology, public policy, public health/health policy, and sociology. The Sanford School houses several interdisciplinary research centers, and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, India, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at www.sanford.duke.edu.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that traces their professional experience and makes it clear why they would be interested in joining the Sanford School of Public Policy and how their expertise would meet the needs of the curriculum. The letter, along with a CV and the names and contact information of three references (no letters at this stage), should be submitted at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19142. Applications submitted by October 31, 2021, will be guaranteed consideration. For further information contact Professor Bruce Jentleson, Search Committee Chair, bwj7@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without guard to an individual’s age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke University - Sanford School of Public Policy
Rank: Adjunct Professor of the Practice of National Security Policy
Specializations: United States, Defense, Leadership Studies

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University invites seasoned national security policy professionals to apply for several teaching positions in an exciting new hybrid Executive Masters of National Security Policy for mid-career students seeking to advance in their leadership roles in the national security policy realm in the public and private sectors. Selected candidates will work with existing Duke faculty to build an ambitious new program and stand up the new degree curriculum. They also will have the opportunity to participate in the American Grand Strategy and Counterterrorism and Public Policy Fellows Programs, and collaborate with the Sanford School’s national security faculty on related policy and research projects and proposals.

Applicants may apply to teach one or more classes and may retain professional engagement elsewhere while teaching in the program.
The full course list is here; courses of particular need are National Security Leadership, National Security Ethics, National Security
Budgeting, National Security Institutions. As a hybrid program responsibilities include teaching synchronously online, building asyn-chronous online content, and occasional on-campus immersion sessions. Some classes will start in the summer of 2022, and some in the subsequent semesters of the academic year 2022/2023. The positions will allow for some preparation time in advance of class launches.

Applicants should have a Master’s degree or higher and substantial professional experience in such areas of national security policy and policymaking as defense, diplomacy, development, leadership, ethics, cyber, technology, terrorism, biological threats, and/or global environment. Experience creating and executing applied learning experiences such as simulations, war games, table-top exercises, and leading client-based research programs is a plus, as is online teaching experience.
Policy research and writing are of interest, but not required.

Applicants may reside in NC or in any of the partner states with which Duke has employment agreements (California, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia,
and Washington DC).

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, three other Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. Current faculty members have degrees in a variety of disciplines including demography, economics, history, law, medicine, philosophy, political science, psychology/social psychology, public policy, public health/health policy, and sociology. The Sanford School houses several interdisciplinary research centers, and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, India, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at www.sanford.duke.edu.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that traces their professional experience and makes it clear why they would be interested in joining the Sanford School of Public Policy and how their expertise would meet the needs of the curriculum. The letter, along with a CV and the names and contact information of three references (no letters at this stage), should be submitted at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19142. Applications submitted by October 31, 2021, will be guaranteed consideration. For further information contact Professor Bruce Jentleson, Search Committee Chair, bwj7@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without guard to an individual’s age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.
Commitment to Diversity
The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/). Additionally, the University’s Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member’s academic profile and responsibilities (https://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9141

California State University, Long Beach
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, LONG BEACH
College of Liberal Arts
Department of Political Science
Tenure-Track Position Opening
Recruitment: 2650
Position: Assistant Professor of International Relations
Effective Date: August 17, 2022 (Fall Semester)
Salary Range: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Required Qualifications:
•Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline, with specialization in International Relations. Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2022.
•Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities.

Preferred Qualifications:
•Evidence of academic training in one or more of the following specialties in International Relations: international law, international organizations, foreign policy, or international political economy
•Evidence of scholarly activities examining timely international relations issues such as climate change, global public health, gender and international relations, technology regulation, economic development, ethnicity and nationalism, race and international relations, non-governmental organizations, peacekeeping, human migration, or human rights
•Evidence of ability to effectively teach one or more current University course offerings in International Relations at the undergraduate level (e.g., Senior Seminar in Global Politics) and graduate seminars in research methods, International Relations theory, and International Relations special topics

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Professor José Antonio Lucero (jal26@uw.edu) with any questions regarding the search.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9139

University of Washington
Rank: Assistant Professor, Environmental Justice or Development Studies
Subfield(s): International Relations, Open, Other

The Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Washington (Seattle) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the fields of environmental justice and/or development studies. We welcome all methodological approaches. We encourage applications from scholars who work on areas that include but are not limited to climate change and its effects; resource management and policy; migration and urbanism; or intersecting inequalities in the Global South.

UW faculty engage in teaching, research, and service. This position has an anticipated start date of Autumn 2022 and will have a 9-month service period. The successful candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses in their areas of specialization, as well as other comparative and international studies classes, teaching four courses per academic year over three quarters.

The Henry M. Jackson School has a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. Information on the School’s charter can be found at https://jsis.washington.edu/about/diversity-equality/

A PhD or foreign equivalent in International Studies or a related field is required by the start of the appointment. Candidates who are ABD and preparing to complete the PhD will be considered.

The search is open to specialists working in any world region as well as in global approaches. We welcome applicants from fields including African/Africana Studies, Anthropology, Development Studies, Environmental Studies, European Studies, Ethnic Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Geography, Global Studies, Indigenous Studies, Middle East Studies, Political Ecology, Political Science, Public Policy, Religious Studies, Russian Studies, and Sociology.

Applicants must submit the following documents at http://apply.interfolio.com/91165

• Letter of application (A 2-3 page statement that includes a description of research, teaching interest, and future projects);
• CV;
• Three letters of recommendation;
• Diversity and Equity statement (A one-page statement that describes how applicant’s research, teaching, and service at the University will contribute to a culture of inclusion and campus diversity.)

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Professor José Antonio Lucero (jal26@uw.edu) with any questions regarding the search.
• Evidence of interest in or experience with department, college, university, or community service

Duties:
• Teach and develop courses in International Relations at the undergraduate and graduate levels. [Mode of instruction may include in-person, hybrid, online, and/or any combination thereof.]
• Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master’s students taking comprehensive exams and theses
• Engage in research leading to conference participation and peer-reviewed publications
• Participate in faculty governance
• Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University’s strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

Information on excellent benefits package available to CSULB faculty is located here:

https://www2.calstate.edu/csu-system/careers/benefits/Documents/employee-benefits-summary.pdf

How to Apply - Required Documentation:
• An Equity and Diversity Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (maximum two pages, single-spaced). For further information and guidelines, please visit: http://www.csulb.edu/EquityDiversityStatement
• Letter of application addressing the required and preferred qualifications
• CV
• Three current academic letters of recommendation independently provided by references
• Writing sample
• Teaching evaluations, if applicable
• Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree
• Finalists will also be required to submit the following:
  1) A signed SC-1 form,
  2) An official transcript (e-transcript preferred, if available)

Applicants should apply and submit all required documentation electronically through:

https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18825

Upon request, finalists will be required to submit original, official documents, as noted in the required documentation section.

Requests for information should be addressed to:

Charles Mahoney, Associate Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science

1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605 charles.mahoney@csulb.edu
562.985.8203

APPLICATION DEADLINE:
Review of applications to begin October 1, 2021
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

EMPLOYMENT REQUIREMENTS:
A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 Revised July 21, 2017 as a condition of employment.

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race or ethnicity (including color or ancestry), nationality, religion or religious creed, gender (or sex), gender identity (including transgender), gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, disability (physical or mental), medical condition, genetic information, age, veteran or military status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9135

University of Idaho
Rank: Regular Faculty - Political Science

University of Idaho
Regular Faculty - Political Science
Location: Moscow
Division/College: College of Letters, Arts & Social Sciences
Employee Category: Faculty
Pay Range: $60,870.11-$64,450.70 depending on experience
Full/Part Time: Full Time

Position Summary:

The Department of Politics and Philosophy at the University of Idaho (https://www.uidaho.edu/class/politics-and-philosophy) invites applications for the Slayton Professorship in East Asian Politics, a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor. The appointment is expected to begin August 2022.
While the position is open to applicants from all subfields, the successful candidate will have a specialization in Chinese politics and foreign policy and will also have an interest in South East Asia. Duties will include active scholarly research, undergraduate teaching and advising, and normal committee service and outreach. The standard teaching load is five courses per year (3/2 semester load). Salary is competitive and contingent on experience.

Minimum Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or equivalent field (e.g., Government, Politics, International Affairs) by the start of the position;
- Ability to teach lower-level courses in Comparative Politics and International Politics;
- Ability to teach upper-division courses in Chinese and East Asian politics and in Chinese foreign policy.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Prior experience teaching and mentoring students from diverse cultural backgrounds, or experience working with people holding similar or different world views while advocating for inclusion of all people;
- Ability to teach Methods courses;
- Expertise in International Political Economy.

Physical Requirements & Working Conditions:

- Posting Number: F000935P
- Posting Date: 08/06/2021
- Closing Date: Open Until Filled: Yes
- Special Instructions:

First consideration will be given to applicants who apply on or before September 10, 2021. Please submit:

1. a cover letter
2. a curriculum vitae
3. a 2-3 page statement describing current and future research projects (upload as Other Document 1)
4. a 2-3 page pedagogy statement
5. a writing sample (upload as Other Document 2)
6. a list of 3 references and
7. a diversity statement that details how the candidate’s teaching, service, and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic field (upload as Other Document 3). Applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further University of Idaho’s commitment to diversity.

Background Check: Applicants who are selected as final possible candidates must be able to pass a criminal background check.

To apply, please visit: https://apptrkr.com/2424478

EEO Statement

University of Idaho is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer.

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/31/2021
Date Posted: 8/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9129

London School of Economics and Political Science
Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations (2 posts)

The International Relations Department wishes to appoint two Assistant Professors in International Relations who will broaden its expertise into the following areas:

- International order in an era of global transitions
- The environment, climate change and International Relations
- Science, new technologies, health or infrastructure
- Transnational dynamics and forces including migration and international crime

A regional focus within these subfields is desirable, especially regional expertise that is currently underrepresented in the department.

The post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities.

Candidates must have a research interest in International Relations and show a clear and viable strategy for future top-quality research. The successful candidate must be able to teach undergraduate core courses on Introduction to International Relations (IR100) as well as courses on international relations at the MSc level.

Candidates will need a completed PhD, or be close to obtaining one, in International Relations, Political Science or a related field by 1 September 2022. Candidates should also have a proven or developing record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers based on research that is, or has the potential to be, internationally-excellent and, ideally, world-leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour.

The Department is committed to promoting diversity in the field of International Relations, by fostering and supporting new generations of scholars from diverse backgrounds, by teaching an innovative, inclusive and diverse curriculum, and by supporting an inclusive departmental research culture.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research grants policy with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will start on 1st September 2022.

For full details and information on how to apply visit: https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/2122/0/308208/15539/assistant-professor-in-international-relations-x2

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/31/2021

London School of Economics and Political Science
Rank: Assistant Professor, International Political Economy

The International Relations Department wishes to appoint one Assistant Professor with a specialism in International Political Economy.

A regional focus within this subfield is desirable, especially regional expertise that is currently underrepresented in the department.

Based in the Department of International Relations, the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities.

All candidates must have a research interest in International Political Economy and must also show a clear and viable strategy for future top-quality research. The successful candidate must be able to teach courses on international political economy at the BSc and MSc levels (IR206, IR470).

Candidates will need a completed PhD, or be close to obtaining one, in International Relations, Political Science or a related field by 1 September 2022. Candidates should also have a proven or developing record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers based on research that is, or has the potential to be, internationally-excellent and, ideally, world-leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour.

Successful candidates should have excellent communication skills and an ability to work as part of a team with colleagues across the School. The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification.

The Department is committed to promoting diversity in the field of International Relations, by fostering and supporting new generations of scholars from diverse backgrounds, by teaching an innovative, inclusive and diverse curriculum, and by supporting an inclusive departmental research culture.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research grants policy with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will start on 1st September 2022.

To view the job description, person specification and details on how to apply, please visit:

https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/6577/0/308166/15539/assistant-professor-in-ipe

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/31/2021
Date Posted: 8/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9126
London School of Economics and Political Science

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Trade

The International Relations Department wishes to appoint one Assistant Professor with a specialism in International Trade.

A regional focus within this subfield is desirable, especially regional expertise that is currently underrepresented in the department.

Based in the Department of International Relations, the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities.

All candidates must have a research interest in International Trade and must also show a clear and viable strategy for future top-quality research. The successful candidate must be able to teach core courses such as The Politics of International Trade at the BSc and MSc levels.

Candidates will need a completed PhD, or be close to obtaining one, in International Relations, Political Science or a related field by 1 September 2022. Candidates should also have a proven or developing record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers based on research that is, or has the potential to be, internationally-excellent and, ideally, world-leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour.

Successful candidates should have excellent communication skills and an ability to work as part of a team with colleagues across the School. The other criteria that will be used when shortlisting for this post can be found on the person specification.

The Department is committed to promoting diversity in the field of International Relations, by fostering and supporting new generations of scholars from diverse backgrounds, by teaching an innovative, inclusive and diverse curriculum, and by supporting an inclusive departmental research culture.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research grants policy with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will start on 1st September 2022.

To view the full job description, person specification and details on how to apply, please visit:

https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/2842/0/308191/15539/assistant-professor-in-international-trade

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/31/2021
Date Posted: 8/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9127

Texas Tech University

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Texas Tech University, the department of political science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level, beginning in Fall 2022. We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations. The position is open to all international relations subfields.

Applicants must show evidence and/or promise of excellence in teaching and an active research agenda. Candidates with strong quantitative and/or formal methods training are preferred and an ability to teach graduate methods courses, are preferred. Candidates with very strong records of scholarship supported by extramural funding and who have the proven capacity or clear potential to bring externally sponsored research to Texas Tech University are encouraged to apply. Service duties include program-building, as well as commitment to extra-curricular activities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the time of the appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a diversity statement. The Department of Political Science and Texas Tech University are committed to inclusive excellence. We request that all applicants submit a statement explaining how their previous and potential contributions enhance a culture of diversity and inclusion through teaching, research, creative activity and/or service.

These items should be submitted at http://www.texastech.edu/careers/. The requisition number is 25035BR. For full consideration, all application materials must be received by October 15, 2021. Questions about the position should be directed to Prof. Tim Nokken, Chair, Department of political science, timothy.nokken@ttu.edu.

Texas Tech is a Hispanic Serving Institution. As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, though their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech. The university welcomes applications from minoritized candidates, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/5/2021
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 9124

Mount Saint Mary's University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Mount St. Mary’s University in Emmitsburg, MD is conducting a search for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science. The ideal candidate will possess a specialization in Comparative Politics with a focus on Asian Politics. Candidates with a doctorate in International Studies will be considered if they specialize in Asian culture and politics. We desire someone who can diversify and complement the existing strengths and course offerings in the Department of Political Science, in the International Studies major, and, more broadly, in the College of Liberal Arts. Teaching responsibilities will also include courses that contribute to our common liberal arts curriculum. Candidates with a specific scholarly record on Chinese politics are encouraged to apply. We are also seeking applicants with lived experience as part of a traditionally underrepresented group. The successful candidate will have Ph.D. in hand by August 2022, a scholarly record in Asian studies/politics, and will have demonstrated a student-centered philosophy consistent with teaching at a liberal arts college.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9127

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
The Tecnológico de Monterrey will provide compensation that is competitive and includes incentives and support for research activities. The Tecnológico de Monterrey is an equal opportunity employer, committed to building a culturally diverse intellectual community, and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities. The university is committed to attracting and retaining outstanding and diverse faculty.

Documents Required:
Applicants should send the following documents in PDF format:
• Curriculum Vitae accompanied by a cover letter.
• Statement of teaching philosophy (no more than two pages).
• Writing sample, not to exceed 50 double spaced pages. If co-authored, the candidate should be the first author.
• Three letters of recommendation. Ph.D. candidates should include a letter from their chair indicating defense date.

For informal inquiries please contact the following committee members:

Prof. Mariana Rangel: mariana.rangel@tec.mx
Prof. Gabriel Aguilara: gabe.aguilera@tec.mx

About the Tecnológico de Monterrey:
For more information on the Graduate School of Government, Escuela de Gobierno y Transformación Pública, visit http://escueladegobierno.itesm.mx The school has campuses in Mexico City, Monterrey, and other locations. For more information, visit https://tec.mx/es/noticias/ciencias-sociales-y-gobierno

Georgetown University
Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor, International Relations, International Political Economy

Georgetown University’s McDonough School of Business is seeking to hire an assistant professor or a tenured associate professor in the field of international political economy. We are particularly interested in applicants who conduct research on political issues and policy debates related to multinational corporations, international trade or finance, and/or global economic governance, including the regulation of the digital economy. The ideal candidate will have interdisciplinary interests and the potential for excellence in teaching in our joint degree programs with the Walsh School of Foreign Service. All applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, and list of references. Applicants for assistant professor should also submit a writing sample, teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation. All materials should be submitted via Interfolio: http://apply.interfolio.com/91579

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2021, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.
Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmation Action Employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, sex, sexual orientation, age, religion, national origin, marital status, veteran status, disability or other categories protected by law. The McDonough School of Business is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion and views it as a fundamental aspect of the Georgetown community.

ABOUT THE STRATEGY, ECONOMICS, ETHICS, AND PUBLIC POLICY AREA
The SEEPP area includes individuals whose primary research and teaching interests lie in economics, international business, international political economy, and strategy. The area is collegial and multidisciplinary, with several members crossing disciplinary boundaries in both research and teaching. More information can be found here.

ABOUT GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY
Georgetown University is one of the world’s leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service.

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation’s oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs. More information can be found here.

Stanford University
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Stanford University is seeking applications for an open rank, tenure line position in international/comparative political economy.

Candidates for an untenured position at the rank of assistant professor should demonstrate evidence of a creative research trajectory and a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Tenure track candidates should demonstrate evidence of a creative research trajectory and a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Tenured applicants should send a letter of interest, CV, research statement (not to exceed 3 pages), and teaching evaluations.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2021 but applications may be considered after that date. Application materials must be submitted on-line via https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19078

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University’s research, teaching and clinical missions.

Tufts University
Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations (Tenure-Track)

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites nominations and applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in the field of international relations to begin September 1, 2022. The position is open with respect to regional or functional concentration. The promise of excellence in scholarship and teaching is required. Teaching duties are two courses per semester and will include an introductory course in international relations.

Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2022, in political science, international relations, or related field is required. All applications are submitted via Interfolio. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted on-line via Interfolio. Applicants should send a letter of interest, CV, sample syllabi, and additional writing samples to Interfolio, but these items are not required. Note that our department is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and candidates should address, across their materials, how they will promote these priorities in their professional career.

To ensure full consideration, applications must be submitted by September 15, 2021. If you have questions please email PoliticalScience@Tufts.Edu with “IR Search” in the subject line.

Tufts University, founded in 1852, prioritizes quality teaching, highly competitive basic and applied research, and a commitment to active citizenship locally, regionally, and globally. Tufts University also prides itself on creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Current and prospective employees of the university are expected to have and continuously develop skill in, and disposition for, positively engaging with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and students.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/2/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9110

Air War College

Rank: Professor of Nuclear Enterprise Operations
Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, American Government and Politics
Specializations: International Security, Defense, History & Politics

Duties

Air University’s USAF Center for Strategic Deterrence Studies, an academic center under the Air War College, invites applications from qualified individuals for a faculty position of Assistant Professor. This position educates Air War College and Air Command and Staff College students on political and military deterrence concepts, develops education and curriculum, oversees student field trips, and directs student research on contemporary deterrence policy and strategic issues.

Responsibilities

The primary focus of the position is on curriculum development and instruction on strategic deterrence and nuclear deterrence operations to students at the Air War College and Air Command and Staff College. General class size is 8-12 students. Participates in planning, developing, and implementing course content, instructional methods/materials, and testing/evaluation instruments. Provides detailed feedback to students and documentation of student progress. Serves as subject-matter expert and advisor to PME colleges and Air University (AU) on subjects of relevance to academic background and teaching area. Makes recommendations on educational methods, program content, course organization, lesson development, lecture subjects, lecturers, integration of state-of-the-art technology applications, and other areas of curriculum development. Guides, stimulates discussion, and evaluates participation and contribution of students.

Advises student research on major research projects (professional study papers). With other academic officers, ensures research studies are conducted in line with the latest US military and DoD policies. Pursues individual research in area of expertise, writes scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews for external peer-reviewed publications, broadens and deepens personal knowledge to maintain intellectual leadership. Ensures AU is using educational best practices to leverage technology, develop sound methodology, and garner useful feedback from AF and DoD stakeholders and students. Establishes and continuously maintains professional contacts with educators, military officers, and institutions related to area of expertise.

Provides advice and counsel to Course Directors, Department Directors, and Deans on topics related to area(s) of expertise. Organizes and conducts faculty development activities related to research activities, curriculum development initiatives, new technologies, and technology application in the curriculum. Reviews and provides scholarly opinion on draft Air Force publications. Attends meetings and participates in other organizational activities intended to advance the state of knowledge in area of expertise or to set and maintain professional standards of performance and promote professional ethics. Serves as guest lecturer at AU and other DoD schools as schedule permits.

Travel Required

Occasional travel - You may be expected to travel for this position.

Requirements

U.S.

Citizenship Required

Must be registered for Selective Service, see Legal and Regulatory Guide

A Top Secret security clearance is required

You may qualify for moving expenses; if authorized, may be covered using PCS, Recruitment or Relocation Incentive in accordance with agency policy.

Position is subject to random drug testing.

This job is being filled by an alternative hiring process and is not in the competitive civil service. This is an Administratively Determined position in the excepted service.

Qualifications

The successful candidate will have demonstrated superior teaching performance and the ability to develop and maintain curriculum; have guided research, and published in the areas noted.

Knowledge of the DoD nuclear enterprise and operations missions with respect to the strategic and operational challenges in the international and regional security environments in the mid-to-long term

Knowledge of the principles, practices, and techniques of educational instruction

Knowledge of educational resources, programs, principles, and policies

Skill in accomplishing special educational/instructional group research studies and projects

Ability to apply knowledge of U.S. deterrence policy to actual security situations

Ability to establish program objectives and to assess progress toward achievement of those objectives

Ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing

Ability to work harmoniously with others within the education environment

Education

A Ph.D. is required in Military or Diplomatic History, International Relations, Security Studies or a closely-related field with an emphasis on strategic studies or international security policy.

Please use the USA Job’s site to apply here

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: 8/30/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: $90,000 - $99,999
eJobs ID: 9086

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Position Description:

The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks candidates for three faculty positions for scholars conducting outstanding research on the
The Department of Political Science at the University of Utah invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2022. This is a position in International Relations with a focus on 1) international organizations (IOs), global governance, and/or international institutions, this includes 2) organizations and institutions such as but not limited to the United Nations, the European Union, the World Health Organization, the Association of Southeast Asian Nations, the African Union, and the Organization of American States, or other regional organizations; with 3) potential themes including global public health, international human rights, and/or security (broadly defined) as an additional emphasis within IOs. We welcome applicants from all approaches to these topics, including those using gender, race, class and/or historical perspectives. The successful candidate will have expertise and substantial training in interpretive, qualitative, and/or quantitative methods, a record of research productivity, and a willingness to contribute to interdisciplinary research and teaching. We expect the successful candidate to add to the College of Social and Behavioral Science’s and the Political Science department's strengths in seeking and attracting external funding grant potential. The department has a history of mentoring Assistant Professors from underrepresented groups and providing a supportive environment for attaining their academic and professional goals and milestones. The University of Utah recognizes that a diverse faculty benefits our diversity, and makes every attempt to support their academic, professional, and personal success while they are here. Enhancing the diversity of our faculty to better represent diversity within the field of political science, as well as our diverse body of political science majors and students, is part of the department’s strategic plan. The department has a history of mentoring Assistant Professors from underrepresented groups and providing a supportive environment for attaining their academic and professional goals and milestones.

The University of Utah values candidates who have experience working in settings with students from diverse backgrounds and possess a strong commitment to improving access to higher education for historically underrepresented students. Applications should include a cover letter detailing research and teaching interests and experience, a CV, a writing sample, and three references who can be contacted for letters of recommendation. As part of the cover letter, we invite you to describe how your work and other experiences contribute to the success of underrepresented students. The University of Utah values candidates who have experience working in settings with students from diverse backgrounds and possesses a strong commitment to improving access to higher education for historically underrepresented students. Applications should be submitted by a best consideration date of September 24, 2021, although those received after this date will continue to be reviewed until the position is filled.

Applications should be filed using the online system at https://utah.peopleadmin.com/postings/119894

The University of Utah has been classified by the Carnegie Foundation among the 115 research universities with the “highest research activity” in the nation and is the flagship of the Utah System of Higher Education. The University is located in Salt Lake City at the foot of the Wasatch Mountains. It includes the Bennion Center, a community resource for researchers across the University of Utah who desire to collaborate on research projects concerning society’s grand challenges.
engagement hub at the University of Utah that inspires and mobilizes people to strengthen communities through learning, scholarship, and advocacy. Salt Lake City offers unparalleled opportunities for outdoor recreation, with ten world-class ski resorts and five national parks within hours of the city. It is the home to a number of vibrant international groups and organizations, such as the Utah Council for Citizen Diplomacy. Salt Lake City is the center of a metropolitan area with a population of approximately one million residents, has extensive arts and cultural activities, and has a major international airport with a Delta Airlines hub and direct flights to most U.S. cities and direct international flights to Paris, London, Amsterdam, and Mexico City. The area has received international recognition for its new light rail system, foodie culture, downtown renewal, and increasing diversity. In 2017, U.S News and World report ranked Salt Lake City as the 10th best place to live in the nation.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 9093

Colorado College
Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Colorado College is hiring for an Assistant Professor in International Relations. We are open to areas of expertise, but particularly welcome expertise in global and transnational issues through the lenses of race, gender, and/or class. We are looking for a candidate who can teach a variety of courses in the International Relations subfield, including Introduction to International Relations and the senior capstone in International Relations. Crucial to the position is potential for excellence in scholarship as well as commitment to providing students with a liberal education.

Colorado College is committed to becoming an antiracist institution. Through our antiracism initiative, we are working to foster an intellectually rigorous and inclusive environment in which students and employees of diverse backgrounds, cultures, and perspectives can learn and work. Candidates should identify the ways in which they can contribute to these goals.

Colorado College has a distinctive academic program, the Block Plan, in which professors teach, and students take, one course at a time. Each block is three and a half weeks long, with an academic year of eight and a half blocks. The average teaching load is five blocks per year, with an additional block overseeing senior research. Faculty can apply for a limited number of release blocks, as well as various sources of funding, to pursue research. The average starting salary for Assistant Professors is $82,000 – $84,000.

To apply, follow this link: https://employment.coloradocollege.edu/postings/9077

Start Date: Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/27/2021
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 9077

Colorado State University
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Colorado State University invites applications for an entry-level tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Relations with a specialization in international environmental politics. We are open with respect to theoretical orientation and methodological approaches. This is a full-time, tenure-track, nine-month appointment, beginning August 16, 2022.

The Department defines international environmental politics broadly to include scholarship on natural resources, forms of collective action, and all interactions between humans and the natural world. This definition could include scholars whose work fits into any subfield of International Relations.

The Department values both strong teaching and research. Successful candidates will be expected to offer courses in International Relations at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, including an upper-division undergraduate course in Global Environmental Politics and a graduate-level course in International Environmental Politics. Additional teaching assignments will depend on the candidate’s interests and expertise as well as departmental needs. The normal teaching load is 2-2.

Faculty members are also expected to advise and mentor graduate and undergraduate students; demonstrate an active research agenda; and provide service to the department, college, university, and community. Approximately one-third of undergraduate political science majors at CSU are first-generation college students. The Department offers programs of study leading to the B.A., M.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The doctoral degree emphasizes the study of environmental politics and policy.

Required Job Qualifications:
* Primary teaching and scholarly emphasis in International Relations
* Evidence of an active research agenda focused on an aspect of International Environmental Politics, together with plans to sustain a research agenda focused on International Environmental Politics
* Demonstrated ability to teach political science graduate-level and upper-division courses in International Environmental Politics
* PhD in Political Science or related field by August 16, 2022
* Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Preferred Job Qualifications:
* Ability to enhance the Department’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion;
* Scholarly interest in the politics of gender;
* Demonstrated ability to contribute to one or more of the Department’s new MA specializations (Environmental Politics; Power, Justice, and Democracy; and Political Analysis)
* Ability to contribute to methods training (qualitative, quantitative, or research design).

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

September 2021
Interested applicants must submit a cover letter which addresses how professional experiences align with identified required and preferred qualifications of the position, a current CV, and three letters of reference.

Please note, your referees will be emailed a request for a letter of reference immediately upon submission of your application. As such, applicants should allow sufficient time for their letters to be submitted by September 8, 2021 to ensure full consideration. Application materials of semi-finalist candidates, including letters of reference, will be made available for review by the entire faculty in the Department of Political Science.

If you have questions, please contact Kate Stevens at Kate.Stevens@colostate.edu

Colorado State University strives to provide a safe study, work, and living environment for its faculty, staff, volunteers and students. To support this environment and comply with applicable laws and regulations, CSU conducts background checks. The type of background check conducted varies by position and can include, but is not limited to, criminal history, sex offender registry, motor vehicle history, financial history, and/or education verification. Background checks will also be conducted when required by law or contract and when, in the discretion of the University, it is reasonable and prudent to do so.

Colorado State University is committed to providing an environment that is free from discrimination and harassment based on race, age, creed, color, religion, national origin or ancestry, sex, gender, disability, veteran status, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or pregnancy and will not discharge or in any other manner discriminate against employees or applicants because they have inquired about, discussed, or disclosed their own pay or the pay of another employee or applicant. Colorado State University is an equal opportunity/equal access/affirmative action employer fully committed to achieving a diverse workforce and complies with all Federal and Colorado State laws, regulations, and executive orders regarding non-discrimination and affirmative action.

The Office of Equal Opportunity is located in 101 Student Services.

The Acting Title IX Coordinator is the Vice President for Equity, Equal Opportunity and Title IX, 123 Student Services Building, Fort Collins, CO. 80523-0160, (970) 491-5836, titleix@colostate.edu.

The Section 504 and ADA Coordinator is the Vice President for Equity, Equal Opportunity and Title IX, 101 Student Services Building, Fort Collins, CO 80523-0160, (970) 491-1715, titleix@colostate.edu.

Applicant Documents:

Required Documents:
* Curriculum Vitae
* Cover Letter
* Unofficial Transcripts
* Writing Samples
* Sample Syllabus or syllabi
* Class or Student Evaluations

Optional Documents:
* Course Materials
* Statement of Teaching Philosophy

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/8/2021
Date Posted: 7/23/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 9064

Hertie School – the University of Governance in Berlin
Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations (f/m/div)
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Hertie School is recruiting a tenure-track Assistant Professor of International Relations. We are looking for a scholar with demonstrated expertise in international institutions, cooperation and global governance, exploring key global challenges and regimes, such as global norms, human rights, migration, peace or trade. Experience in a range of research methods and approaches, in particular multimethod approaches, is a plus. The successful candidate will contribute to teaching IR courses in the School’s Master of International Affairs program, in particular the core course on Global Politics.

Applicants for this position must have a doctoral degree in political science or international relations (or expect to have this degree by the start of employment). We are interested in early career scholars in particular. The successful candidate will be appointed as Assistant Professor with a six-year clock (two three-year contracts) with the possibility of tenure. The expected start date is August 1, 2022.

The Hertie School seeks faculty with demonstrated capacity for research at the highest levels in their discipline. We recruit faculty who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity with a strong commitment to high-quality graduate teaching and innovative research of interest to the international scholarly community and policy-makers.

Candidates are expected to work well in an interdisciplinary, international environment with English as the language of instruction and operation. The successful candidate will teach courses in the School’s Master, Executive, and PhD programmes. As a professional school of public policy, the Hertie School’s degree programmes are exclusively at the master’s and doctoral levels.

As a private non-profit graduate school of public policy, endowed and supported by the Hertie Foundation, the Hertie School offers an internationally competitive salary as well as a paid sabbatical after every five semesters. We provide excellent working conditions with outstanding financial and administrative support for research. The Hertie School is fully embedded in Berlin’s vibrant research landscape and has close ties to the top institutions of the European and international teaching and research community.

The Hertie School is a diverse, international and lively community located in the heart of Berlin. We welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. The Hertie School expressly encourages women and/or persons from ethnic groups underrepresented in German Academia to apply. Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. The Hertie School takes a family friendly workplace seriously. Under German law, there is standard paid leave for parents after the birth or adoption of a child.

The deadline for the submission of applications is 15 September 2021. The Hertie School will review applications that include a letter of motivation, a current curriculum vitae (publication list, degrees earned, if applicable: positions held, teaching experience, research
Eckerd College
Rank: Political Science—International Relations
Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, Environmental Policy
Political Science. International Relations. Assistant Professor of Political Science, tenure-track position, to start in Fall 2022. Ph.D. in Political Science required. We are seeking someone to play a significant role in our International Relations & Global Affairs (IRGA) major within the political science discipline. Specialization is open. Preference will be given to those whose teaching and research focus on one or more of the following topics: Human rights, international law, global justice, international political economy, and/or international environmental governance. The successful candidate will teach seven courses per academic year (3-1-3), including Introduction to International Relations, Human Rights & International Law, International Political Economy, and various electives in the candidate’s area of specialization. A desire to teach in study abroad programs would be a plus, as would an ability to offer courses that support our Law & Justice and Sustainability minors.

Candidates should have an active scholarly research agenda and a demonstrated background of teaching excellence. Participation in an interdisciplinary, values-oriented general education program is required, including a regular rotation in the two-semester first-year program. Eckerd College, the only independent national liberal arts college in Florida, has a tradition of innovative education and teaching/mentoring excellence. Submit a letter of application, vita, teaching evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy, research statement, a written sample of research, undergraduate and graduate transcripts, and contact information for three references so that letters of recommendation can be requested, via https://eckerd.hirecentric.com/jobs/198184.html. Applications must be complete by October 8th, 2021. Inquiries may be sent to Dr. Mary K. Meyer McAleese, meymrk@eckerd.edu

Eckerd College is committed to fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student body, and an inclusive campus community. Eckerd is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, age, gender identity, national origin, disability, veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Eckerd College is especially interested in attracting candidates from historically underrepresented groups.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/8/2021
Date Posted: 7/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9061

University of Denver
Rank: Assistant Professor, Microeconomics for Public Policy; Assistant Professors, Peace & Security and Democratic Governance; Associate or Full Professor, Environmental Sustainability
The Josef Korbel School of International Studies at the University of Denver is seeking candidates for four new tenure-line faculty positions. A brief summary of each position is as follows:

Microeconomics for Public Policy – Assistant Professor, Tenure Track
The Josef Korbel School of International Studies and the Douglas and Mary Scrivner Institute of Public Policy at the University of Denver seek candidates with teaching and research interests that apply microeconomic perspectives and methods to contemporary public policy issues such as public finance and budgeting, social policy, urban (or rural) economics and policy, economic development, or environmental and natural resource policy. Applicants with a PhD in any relevant social science discipline will be considered. We are especially interested in candidates equipped to teach cost-benefit analysis and other forms of economic and policy analysis at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

International Security and Democratic Governance (two Assistant Professor positions)
The Josef Korbel School of International Studies at the University of Denver is seeking candidates for two Assistant Professor positions: one in Peace and Security and a second in Democratic Governance. We seek an Assistant Professor in the area of Peace and Security, broadly understood, including both traditional and emerging issues, applying any appropriate methodology, at any level of analysis. The successful candidate will teach and shape core courses in our International Security MA program, providing an opportunity to help fashion a forward-looking and innovative approach to the field.

We also seek an Assistant Professor trained in any relevant social science field, focused on Democratic Governance, broadly understood, and/or its alternatives. Possible research interests include the dynamics of democratization, democratic erosion and autocratization, the role of information and the media, identity in processes of inclusion and exclusion, and the relative efficacy of democracies in addressing challenges such as inequality, development, climate change, corruption, migration, or economic or political crises.

Environmental Sustainability – Associate or Full Tenure-Line Professor

September 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
We seek a scholar, trained in any relevant discipline or interdisciplinary program, with a prominent research profile in environmental sustainability, broadly understood. The appointment will be at the Associate or Full Professor rank, with tenure. The successful candidate will contribute to teaching in our undergraduate, certificate and MA programs in sustainability and have the opportunity to play a leading role in developing our emerging “Sustainability Initiative,” including fundraising, enhancing our research programming, and engaging with communities outside the university.

Complete job descriptions, including required and preferred qualifications and salary ranges for each position can be found through the University of Denver’s online application system. Please follow the link https://www.du.edu/jobs/ to access complete information for each position and apply. Questions can be directed to the Committee Chair, Professor Jack Donnelly (Jack.Donnelly@du.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9036

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Political Science and Global Studies

The Department of Political Science and the Global Studies Program at Washington University in St. Louis invite applications for a tenure-track/tenured faculty appointment in comparative politics or international relations with a focus on East Asia. The appointment is at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor to begin in the fall semester of 2022. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Duties will include teaching assigned courses, conducting research, writing for publication, advising students, participating in department and program governance, and university service.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference, writing samples, and other relevant materials.

Applications received before September 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. Consideration after that date will be at the discretion of the search committee. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio.

Apply at: apply.interfolio.com/91220

If you encounter difficulties with the application process, please email jdroege@wustl.edu for additional instructions. All other questions may be directed to Heather Sloan-Randick at hskloanra@wustl.edu.

Diversity and Inclusion are core values at Washington University, and the strong candidate will demonstrate the ability to create inclusive classrooms and environments in which a diverse array of students can learn and thrive.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University’s policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency. This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9078

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations, Political Science

Specializations: International Political Economy, Conflict Processes, International Law & Organizations

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/13/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9028

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor in Middle Eastern Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a specialization in Middle Eastern politics. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2022.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI’s mission is to “inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance.” Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate political science courses in the areas of comparative and international politics that serve as requirements for both the Political Science and the International Studies & Diplomacy undergraduate programs as well as teach courses in the International Relations Masters program.

Expected to publish original research in their respective field of study and advise undergraduate and graduate students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.
REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS
1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2022, in Political Science, International Relations, or related field.
2) Primary or secondary specialization in Middle Eastern politics.
3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience
4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching broad-based introductory political science courses in the area of comparative politics and/or international relations, upper division and graduate courses on Middle Eastern politics.
5) Evidence of research in the field of comparative politics and/or international relations with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.
6) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS
1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: international development, foreign policy, diplomacy, conflict, governance, ethnic or religious politics, or security studies.
2) Ability to teach undergraduate research methods
3) Ability to teach large introductory-level classes
4) Ability to teach from a cultural or regional studies perspective
5) Familiarity with experiential and applied learning strategies

The application deadline is September 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/8269

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Profile Application:
1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position
2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document).
3) A brief research and teaching statement
4) A statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion reflecting on URI’s mission to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance."
5) If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/13/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9029

Bucknell University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (IR/Comparative)

Bucknell University’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in international and comparative politics beginning in the fall semester of 2022. We seek a scholar whose research and teaching centers on the Middle East/North Africa region and the politics of the Islamic world. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in international politics, courses on politics in the Middle East/North Africa, a course in quantitative or qualitative research methods, and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department’s commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate excellence in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinary evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science with a sub-field specialization in international and/or comparative politics.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Doug Hecock at rdh013@bucknell.edu. Applications received by September 27, 2021 will receive full consideration.

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Yale University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor, Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Yale University is seeking to hire an Assistant, Associate, Full Professor with an appointment in the fields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, and/or International Relations, beginning July 1, 2022. Suitable candidates may also be hired jointly with the Statistics and Data Sciences Department, in which case faculty will be expected to share their teaching and service obligations between the departments. If candidates are appointed at the untenured level, the initial appointment will be for 5 years. The teaching expectation is normally 3 courses per academic year, plus service to the program(s).

Ph.D. or equivalent degree required at time of hire.

All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and list of references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters and 2 writing samples. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio: https://apply.interfolio.com/88751

Review of applications will begin August 15, 2021, and to guarantee full consideration your file should be complete by this date.

Please contact Lani Colianna, Sr. Administrative Assistant for the Political Science Department, at poliscijobs@yale.edu if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9006

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Politics: International Relations - Security Studies

The Department of Political Science at Boston College invites applications for a full-time, tenure track assistant professor position in International Relations - Security Studies, starting in late August 2022. The position is open with regard to regional expertise and methodological approach and requires strength in research, publishing, and teaching. The Ph.D. must be completed prior to the start of the fall semester, 2022. Interested candidates should send a letter of introduction, curriculum vitae, three confidential letters of recommendation, graduate transcript, evidence of teaching philosophy and performance, and writing sample to http://apply.interfolio.com/89855. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by the individual letter writers. Applications must be received by October 1, 2021. Applications must be submitted online. No email applications or U.S.P.S. applications will be accepted.

Boston College conducts background checks as part of the hiring process.

Boston College is a Jesuit, Catholic university that strives to integrate research excellence with a foundational commitment to formative liberal arts education. We encourage applications from candidates who are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community. Boston College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of any legally protected category including disability and protected veteran status. To learn more about how BC supports diversity and inclusion throughout the university, please visit the Office for Institutional Diversity at http://www.bc.edu/offices/diversity.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 10/1/2021
Date Posted: 7/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8992

National University of Singapore

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the National University of Singapore seeks outstanding candidates for 2 tenure-track positions in International Relations at the rank of Assistant Professor, with appointments to begin on 1 July 2022. Candidates should submit a letter of application detailing research and teaching interests; curriculum vitae; publications or other writing samples; three letters of recommendation; and teaching evaluations and materials if available. Applications will be evaluated as they are received, with priority given to those received by 31 August 2021. Application materials should be sent to the Chair of the Search Committee at https://career44.sapsf.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=6798&company=nationalunP2. The Ph.D. must be completed prior to the start of the fall semester, 2022. All applications must include a cover letter, CV, and list of references. Untenured candidates should also supply 3 recommendation letters and 2 writing samples. All materials should be uploaded to Interfolio: http://apply.interfolio.com/8992

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/8/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9007

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
areas of political science. Faculty and students can take advantage of resources in the Asia Research Institute, the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, the Yale-NUS College, and various research institutes including the Asia-Europe Foundation and the Institutes of South Asian and Southeast Asian Studies as well as other parts of the University. The teaching load is three modules per academic year. Compensation is competitive and includes eligibility for annual performance bonus and salary increment, subsidized housing, medical benefits, and substantial research support.

NUS (http://www.nus.edu.sg/) is an equal opportunity employer that offers highly competitive salaries, assistance with housing and globally attractive start-up packages. It is situated in Singapore, an English-speaking cosmopolitan city that is a melting pot of many cultures. It offers high-quality education and healthcare at all levels, as well as very low tax rates.

Please note that only short-listed candidates will be notified.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/11/2021
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 9001

---

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor
Rank: Professor of Public Policy

The University of Michigan’s Gerald R. Ford School of Public Policy invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track position in International Relations, especially at the rank of associate or full professor. We welcome a broad range of applicants who have a PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or related social science or professional discipline and who conduct policy-relevant research on international politics. We are particularly interested in candidates who focus on human security broadly defined, including political/military affairs, diplomacy, development, international law and institutions, nationalism, civil and international conflict, and human rights. Among other things, successful candidates should engage with questions such as how power relationships, structural inequities, racial and ethnic divisions, and colonial legacies affect international politics. Successful candidates must demonstrate a record of outstanding research; an ability and willingness to teach core and elective courses in undergraduate, Masters, and PhD degree programs in public policy; an ability to engage effectively with public policy; and a keen interest in interacting with students, faculty, staff, and policy practitioners in an interdisciplinary professional school environment. Candidates should combine relevant substantive expertise with strong interests in public policy.

The following application materials are required: a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; a statement of research and policy interests; a statement of teaching experience and philosophy; the names of three references; and a statement describing how your work would contribute to the Ford School’s and University of Michigan’s strategic commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion (fordschool.umich.edu/ dtc).

Interested applicants may upload their application materials to http://apply.interfolio.com/88641. This is an ongoing search. First consideration will be given to applications received by October 1, 2021, but applications will be considered until the position is filled.

---

Texas A&M University
Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Latin American Politics/Political Economy and quantitative methods
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of Latin American politics/political economy and quantitative methods. Expertise in Mexico preferred, but we are open to other areas as well. The successful candidate will teach courses on Latin American politics/political economy as part of the Department’s developing curricular concentration on the region and courses on quantitative methods that are part of the Department’s required curriculum.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or Political Economy by September 2022. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information demonstrating success in teaching at the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/88572 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 7, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8972

---

Claremont McKenna College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Government, Latin American Politics

The Department of Government of Claremont McKenna College (CMC) invites applications for a tenure-track position, at the assistant professor level, in the subfield of comparative politics with a Latin American politics focus, beginning July 1, 2022. A qualified candidate would have a PhD in political science in hand or a nearly completed doctoral dissertation, and the capacity to teach core courses in comparative politics, Mexican politics, and other courses within the subfield of Latin American politics.

The candidate must have demonstrated ability to maintain an active, high quality research program and the highest standards of excellence in teaching. The teaching load at CMC is two courses per semester.

Given our commitment to cultivating an inclusive educational environment, we seek candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds, political opinion, genders, races, ethnicities, nationalities, sexual orientations, and religions.

All applications must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, detailed research statement, evidence of excellence in teaching, and a statement regarding teaching philosophy and demonstrated commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of backgrounds. Applicants must also submit the names and e-mail addresses of three or more references; an email will be automatically sent to them with a link to upload their recommendation letter. Letters of recommendation should evaluate the candidate’s research and teaching. Applications must be submitted electronically at the following link: https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty_opening.php.

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

CMC is a highly selective undergraduate institution ranked among the top liberal arts colleges nationally. It is part of The Claremont Colleges, which also includes Pomona College, Scripps College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Claremont Graduate University, and Keck Graduate Institute. Combined, the members of The Claremont Colleges have more than 6,000 students. Claremont is located 35 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.

Claremont McKenna College is an Equal Opportunity Employer, strongly committed to diversity, and encourages applications from the broadest range of individuals.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 10/1/2021
Date Posted: 6/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8928

University of Western Ontario
Rank: Open Field - Probationary or Tenured Faculty Appointment
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Department of Political Science
Faculty of Social Science
Western University, London Ontario Canada

Political Science – Open Field

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites highly qualified applicants for a full-time Probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor or a Tenured appointment at the rank of Associate or Professor. Rank to be determined based on qualifications and experience. The search will add to our strengths in the quantitative study of Canadian Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations and have a starting date of July 1, 2022. Western Political Science aims to be Canada’s top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach quantitative methods at the undergraduate or graduate level would be considered an asset, as would contributing to our strengths in political behaviour.

We seek outstanding individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. Candidates should be capable of publishing in highly respected peer-reviewed outlets, supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants. All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

For more information, please visit www.politicalscience.uwo.ca.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the “Western Experience” – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Applications should include the following:
1) application form (http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf),
2) cover letter that includes a statement of how the candidate will contribute to our commitment to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion,
3) curriculum vitae,
4) statement of teaching and research interests,
5) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers,
6) three reference letters,
Consideration of applications will begin September 30, 2021.

This material should be sent to: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Professor Matthew Lebo, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2022
The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics beginning August 1, 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: comparative politics, human rights, ethnic conflict, globalization, or the politics of developing nations. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. At least one course each semester will be Intro to Comparative Politics.

Applications must be submitted via AppState PeopleAdmin https://appstate.peopleadmin.com/postings/28206. Applicants must submit the following documents: an application consisting of a letter outlining relevant research and teaching goals and experience, a current vitae, and a sample syllabus.

Review of applications will begin on May 28, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment to a successful candidate will be conditioned upon the University’s receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report.

Individuals with disabilities may request accommodations in the application process by contacting Maranda Maxey, Director & ADA/504 Coordinator, at 828-262-3056 or maxeymr@appstate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/7/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8870

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at Bocconi University invites applications for a tenured Associate or Full Professor position beginning August 1, 2022. The Department counts 60 tenured or tenure-track faculty members. Bocconi is located in Italy’s most vibrant center, Milan, a historic, cosmopolitan and international city in a metropolitan area of 3 million that is well connected to the rest of Europe and the world.

Knowledge of Italian is not required.

Terms of employment are competitive.

Applications should be received by September 15, 2021. Applicants must submit (1) a current curriculum vitae, (2) a job market paper (and up to 5 other published papers), (3) a cover letter, and (4) teaching and research statements via e-mail to faculty@unibocconi.it. Additionally, the names of at least three academic references should be listed in the application package.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 5/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8779

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning spring 2022. This position may be renewable or converted to tenure-track contingent on performance, departmental staffing and programmatic needs, and continued administrative approval. The successful applicant will possess a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university. The department is seeking a comparative politics/international relations generalist. Preference will be given to a candidate who can teach Middle East politics in addition to other comparative or international relations courses. IR background in the areas of IPE, human rights, international organizations, or environmental politics are a department priority. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the spring 2022 semester. Screening of applications will begin immediately and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to Jennifer Verga, administrative assistant: jverga@mercyhurst.edu. Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year. For information about the political science program see the departmental website: http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu.

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8823
Loyola University Maryland
Rank: Per course Instructor in American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Loyola University Maryland invites applications to teach a course on American Public Opinion (one section only) for the Fall 2021 semester in a part-time, non-tenure track position as an affiliate faculty member in American Politics. Teaching may require in-person or a combination of in-person and online assignments. The upper-level course is called PS 314 Public Opinion and American Democracy.

The Political Science Department has a strong teaching culture. We especially value candidates who have a strong interest in teaching undergraduates and who are able to implement thoughtful, intentional pedagogies that support the learning of a wide range of students. A Ph.D. or A.B.D. in Political Science is required. College/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. Aside from holding office hours with students, no committee assignments or service requirements will be associated with the position.

Loyola University Maryland is a dynamic, highly selective, Jesuit Catholic university in the liberal arts tradition. It is highly ranked among the leading independent, comprehensive universities in the northeastern United States. Committed to intellectual excellence, diversity, and social justice, the University enrolls over 4,000 students in its undergraduate programs and more than 3,000 students in its graduate programs.

Loyola University Maryland strongly values the benefits that diversity brings to the workplace. In accord with its Ignatian values, the University is committed to creating and promoting a community that recognizes the inherent value and dignity of each person. Loyola University Maryland does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, color, national or ethnic origin, age, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, genetic information, military status, or any other legally protected classification. The University recruits, hires, and promotes in accord with this policy and its Core Values.

To apply, please submit a dossier including: curriculum vitae; two letters of reference; graduate transcripts; draft syllabus of the course and teaching evaluations (if available); and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience in relation to Loyola’s educational mission. Application materials should be submitted to Political Science Department Chair Dr. Carsten Vala at cvala@loyola.edu, who is available to answer questions. The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Salary range: $3,200 - $3,525 per course (without and with terminal degree)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8791

METHODOLOGY

Interos
Rank: Computational Social Scientist
Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Non-Academic
Specializations: Research Methods, International Political Economy, Science & Technology

At Interos, we are seeking Computational Social Scientists experienced in applying quantitative models in the areas of political instability, finance, economics, climate change, cybersecurity, or other socio-technical systems. With a focus on risk modeling across global supply chains, this role applies computational social science models, theories, and data while staying on top of the latest advances and current events in these areas. An avid researcher and writer, a computational social scientist is also a data storyteller, with strong communication skills to both technical and non-technical audiences.

Are you constantly exploring more data-driven and rigorous approaches for analyzing the ongoing global geopolitical, societal, technological, and economic disruptions? Are you fascinated by socio-technical systems and uncovering unknown insights? Are you a data storyteller seeking new ways to have a real-world impact? And want to apply all of these skills at a high-growth, early-stage company?

Join the growing Methodology team at Interos and help implement cutting-edge risk models while working in a fast-paced, multi-disciplinary environment. Hone your quantitative skills, operationalize complex models, and turn novel research into actionable insights for our private and public sector customers. This role collaborates within the Methodology team and across engineering and is responsible for both quantitative models as well as qualitative depth, detail, and context.

We have multiple positions open at junior, mid-level, and senior levels, with compensation reflected accordingly.

Minimal Qualifications:
A PhD in a social or behavioral science, and at least 2 years relevant work experience, or at least four years of work experience modeling and operationalizing complex social and physical networks. A curious researcher and analyst who never stops seeking better data and new solutions to complex socio-technical challenges. A passion for technology and the scientific application of quantitative models to social and physical systems. Proven open source research skills and supporting product development. A team player who enjoys multi-disciplinary collaboration in an extremely fast-paced and fluid environment. Fluency with Python, R, or other data analysis tools

Preferred Qualifications:
Demonstrable background interacting with a range of audiences (internal and external; technical and business stakeholders). Experience applying quantitative models in the areas of political instability, finance, economics, climate change, cybersecurity, or other socio-technical systems. Strong communication skills, both verbal and written. The ability to adapt quickly to shifting priorities and multi-task under tight deadlines.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2021
Salary: $110,000 - $119,999
eJobs ID: 9244

Duke Kunshan University
Rank: Faculty Position in Social Science

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications to a regular rank, tenure-track faculty position in social science, beginning in the academic year 2022-2023. We are seeking a methodologist, and are especially interested in candidates whose research lies at the intersection of social science, data science, and computational social science. Mid-career and senior faculty are especially encouraged to apply. Successful candidates will articulate how they might contribute to DKU’s interdisciplinary curriculum, including in interdisciplinary majors in Computation and Design, Data Science, Institutions and Governance, Political Economy, and Cultures and Movements. In addition, successful candidates will note how their research can involve undergraduates and engage with DKU’s Data Science Research Center.

As an international intellectual community that encourages diversity, openness and creative learning, DKU welcomes outstanding faculty from around the world who contribute diverse perspectives and experiences to a global learning and research environment. DKU particularly welcomes applications from underrepresented groups and minorities.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor’s degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master’s degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master’s degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of &lt;8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master’s level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke’s educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate’s specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19305. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using "Social Science" as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by October 15, 2021; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a subway-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9247
Dartmouth College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Program in Quantitative Social Science (QSS) at Dartmouth College seeks a scholar for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor, to be appointed as early as July 1, 2022. QSS is an interdisciplinary program that integrates modern statistical, computational, and mathematical tools with social science. Qualified candidates should have a Ph.D. (or be ABD with degree in hand by the appointment date) in a social science field. Potential fields include: economics, demography, sociology, political science, geography, or related disciplines. We are particularly interested in applications from qualified quantitative scholars whose research and teaching centers on race and in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualified candidates should have a Ph.D., or by ABD (with degree in hand by the appointment date), in a social science field, such as economics, demography, sociology, political science, geography, or related disciplines. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, a current curriculum vitae, a writing sample that demonstrates strong applied skills in quantitative or computational methods, and letters of recommendation from three references. Applications will be administered via Interfolio at https://apply.interfolio.com/92816. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to the search committee chair, Jason Houle, at jason.houle@dartmouth.edu.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9235

Georgetown University

Rank: Tenure-Line Assistant Professor in Computational Social Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Methodology

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-line assistant professor in Computational Social Science. Large scale data and increasing computing power, coupled with rapid advances in data science tools create massive opportunities and challenges in the field of public policy.

We are seeking someone who will have skills and demonstrated research expertise in data science areas such as machine learning, text as data, spatial data, computation using large-scale data, networks and other topics on computational social science. We are open to the academic discipline, which could be computer science, economics, political science, public policy, statistics or a related field. We expect the candidate to have a Ph.D. by the time they start.

The person hired in this search will be expected to do research at the intersection of data science and public policy. The successful candidate’s teaching will include courses for the Data Science for Public Policy program, a two-year MS degree program that trains students to use modern computing power to understand important issues in public policy.

Apply Here: https://apply.interfolio.com/92780
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9214

National University of Singapore

Rank: Post Doc Position: Political Trust: Big Data and Thick Narratives

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Methodology
Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Communication, Public Opinion

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at the National University of Singapore is looking for a Post Doc with an earned PhD in Political Science, Sociology, Social Science or related disciplines. He / she will be part of a research team on a project on Political Trust: Application of Big Data and Narratives funded by the Ministry of Education.

He/she should have publications related to the conceptualization, measurement and comparison of political trust using quantitative methods and/or big data analytics.

He/she should be active in academic communities (political science, social science, sociology, etc.) with interest in the study of political trust.

The appointment is for a initial 1 year renewable for another 2 years based on performance. Competitive remuneration awaits the successful candidate.
Lake Forest College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics and International Relations

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

The Lake Forest College Department of Politics and International Relations invites applications for a tenure-track, assistant professor in comparative politics or international relations with a specialization in Latin America to begin August 2022. Lake Forest College has a rich, interdisciplinary program in Latin American and Latinx Studies to which the successful candidate is expected to contribute significantly. We are seeking someone to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics and Introduction to Global Politics; a research methods survey course, required for Politics and International Relations majors, that includes qualitative and/or quantitative methods; and a broad range of other courses in comparative politics or international relations, with a focus on Spanish-speaking countries in Latin America. And while we encourage candidates of all substantive interests to apply, those whose work focuses on issues of human rights, social movements, migration, indigenous communities, or populism are most welcome. Additionally, candidates with corollary research and/or teaching interests in the Latinx experience within the domestic United States are particularly encouraged to apply.

Applicants should be aware of the many interdisciplinary programs Lake Forest College has to offer including African American Studies, American Studies, Urban Studies, and Social Justice. We also offer an “In the Loop” semester-long residential program in Chicago, as well as many courses emphasizing Chicago history, politics, and its diverse cultures. Lake Forest College’s proximity to Chicago provides an opportunity to use the city as a “laboratory” for student work and research. We are especially interested in candidates who can contribute to any of these programs and can incorporate students into their research programs.

Candidates will be expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. Ph.D. in political science, or a related field, must be completed by the time of appointment. Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 15-25 students). We support faculty research through provision of student research assistants and summer research funds; successful passage of the third-year review earns a half-year sabbatical at full pay, in the fourth or fifth year of service. Tenure review takes place at the start of the sixth year. Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, unofficial graduate transcript, a teaching statement that addresses diversity in a liberal arts setting, sample syllabi, a sample of scholarly writing, three confidential letters of recommendation, and student evaluations of teaching to James J. Marquardt, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Politics and International Relations at latinamericansearch@lakeforest.edu

A highly selective liberal arts college located on Chicago’s North Shore, Lake Forest College enrolls approximately 1,600 students from more than 40 states and from more than 70 countries. Lake Forest is one of the most diverse small colleges in the Midwest with nearly 40% of our student body comprised of domestic minority and international students. At Lake Forest College, the quality of a faculty member’s teaching is the most important criterion for evaluation. Lake Forest College embraces diversity and encourages applications from women, members of historically underrepresented groups, veterans, and individuals with disabilities. Applications will be reviewed as they are submitted. The application deadline is October 8, 2021.

September 2021

Loyola Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science and International Relations

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Open

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning in Fall 2022. We seek a candidate who is passionate about teaching undergraduate methods. The department is especially interested in candidates with expertise in global or domestic public policy issues, such as education, health and healthcare, urbanization, or the environment and climate change. Our preferred candidate’s research will engage with substantive policy issues with a focus on social and group differences broadly defined (such as race, class, inequality, ethnicity, nationalism and national identities, sexuality, gender, disability, religion, North-South relations, etc.).

The regular teaching load for this position includes two sections of our introductory methods class and periodically a seminar in advanced methods. LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department’s mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experience, and beliefs to apply. Please read more about our commitments and our efforts to [https://resources.lmu.edu/officeofinterculturalaffairs/].

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal [https://pa843.peopleadmin.com/postings/47474]. Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU’s mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi. A minimum of three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLSjobs@lmu.edu. Only online applications will be accepted. Please direct questions to Marc Cooper at POLSjobs@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 10, 2021 but will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search. A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Public Policy, or related field is required; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2022 will be considered.

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Economy of Development

Assistant Professor, Political Economy of Development. The Department of Politics and the Princeton School for Public and International Affairs seek applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in the political economy of development. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Princeton University, 26 Rinman Road, South-Potomac, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 7, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00003

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/10/2021

Date Posted: 8/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9194

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Quantitative Methods

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Quantitative Methods. The Department of Politics is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position in quantitative methods. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs.

Junior candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Quantitative Methods Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on September 13, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00005

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9158

Department of Defense

Rank: Analyst

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

The Joint Warfare Analysis Center (JWAC), https://www.jwac.mil/, is currently recruiting motivated individuals who are excited about the opportunity to lead research aimed at developing advanced methods for defense analysis.

JWAC’s mission is to provide the military with effects-based analysis in order to carry out the national security and military strategies of the United States during peace, crisis, and war.

Ideal candidates will have both a strong quantitative methods background and professional experience or substantive research in the areas of military affairs, foreign policy, international relations, comparative politics, or political economy.

We offer generous benefits and competitive pay. U.S. citizenship and the ability to obtain and maintain a security clearance are required for all positions.

Individuals interested in more information can email: stratcom.south-potomac.jwac.list.recruiting-sociologi@mail.mil

Start Date: Summer 2021

Date Posted: 8/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9146

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2022. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors are expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in American political behavior. Successful candidates...
University of Maryland, College Park

Rank: Professional Track Faculty - Lecturer

Professional Track Position - Lecturer

The Department of Government and Politics at the University of Maryland is seeking a Lecturer in the areas of political methodology and environmental politics. This position is a 9-month appointment. It is a professional track position with the possibility of renewal and a non-tenure promotion track. The Department of Government and Politics is committed to diversity (see our diversity statement at https://gvp.umd.edu/node/7293), and particularly welcomes applicants who contribute to the diversity of the department, field, and profession.

This position will include teaching and advising responsibilities for the multidisciplinary undergraduate major in Environmental Science and Policy, with a concentration in Politics and Policy (ENSP-PP). Faculty applicants must be prepared to teach an upper-level seminar in Advanced Topics in Environmental Policy Analysis and a 300-level course in Global Environmental Politics. The ability to teach a class on Environmental Justice is a plus. This position entails significant faculty advising. This includes working with ENSP-PP students to approve any course substitutions, supervising and grading their internship portfolios, and advising them on their career plans.

The lecturer position will also include teaching and advising responsibilities for the Applied Political Analytics MS degree (APAN). Courses in the program include topics of American Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Data Management, Public Policy, Statistical Methods, and Research Design, each with an emphasis on applied quantitative analytics. Faculty member will teach 1-2 APAN courses each academic semester and formally mentor/advise assigned APAN students in research and professional development.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. degree; teaching experience; strong quantitative training; experience in teaching courses in environmental politics and political methodology, and interest in advising both graduate and undergraduate students.

Requirements:
1. Cover Letter
2. Curriculum Vita
3. Teaching portfolio (e.g. syllabi, student evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy)
4. Three letters of reference

Application Information: Candidates should post their cover letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching portfolio (e.g. syllabi, student evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy), and have three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three referees) electronically at https://apply.interfolio.com/91456 .

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/2/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9113

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Tenure track positions in Work & Organization Studies

The Work and Organization Studies (WOS) group at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Sloan School has been authorized to hire tenure track faculty members to start July 1, 2022, or soon thereafter, as possible, whose teaching and research focus on work, employment, and organizational issues. The rank is open and might include Sociology, Organizational Behavior, Industrial Relations, Social Psychology, Political Science, or Economics. Candidates must possess, or be close to completion of, a Ph.D. in one of these, or another closely related field, at the start of employment. Faculty responsibilities include teaching courses related to Work and Organization Studies. WOS has current teaching needs in courses on organizational processes, power and influence, as well as courses on work and employment issues.

The WOS faculty is interdisciplinary and the new hire's background is open and might include Sociology, Organizational Behavior, Industrial Relations, Social Psychology, Political Science, or Economics. Candidates must possess, or be close to completion of, a Ph.D. in one of these, or another closely related field, at the start of employment. WOS builds on the traditions of Organization Studies and the Institute for Work and Employment Research and has Ph.D. programs in both areas. We are open to a variety of styles of research (quantitative, ethnographic, field based, and lab based). (For more information about our group, go to: https://mitsloan.mit.edu/faculty/academic-groups/work-and-organization-studies/about-us).

The WOS group is part of the Behavioral and Policy Sciences Area, one of three major academic areas at Sloan. We encourage multidisciplinary work with colleagues in other parts of the School, and several members of the group are also members of other groups/units in the School (Communication; Economic Sociology; Technological Innovation, Entrepreneurship, and Strategy Management; System Dynamics; Global Economics and Management; and Information Technology).

Please submit applications electronically at http://apply.interfolio.com/91034 providing a cover letter outlining interests and experience, a current CV, and one or two papers that indicate your research focus and capabilities. Applicants should also arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via this link. Applications will be reviewed as received but are due no later than September 10, 2021.

MIT is an equal opportunity employer committed to building a culturally diverse and pluralistic intellectual community and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities.
Questions should be addressed to SloanSearchMaster@mit.edu
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 7/26/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9063

---

Swarthmore College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science - American Politics: The Courts and Constitutional Law
Specializations: American Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Immigration Policy

Description
The Department of Political Science at Swarthmore College invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the rank of assistant professor to begin in the fall semester of 2022. The course load is four courses a year.

Swarthmore College is a highly selective liberal arts college that is located in the suburbs of Philadelphia. The college’s mission combines academic rigor with social responsibility. Swarthmore has a strong institutional commitment to inclusive excellence through diversity in its educational programs and employment practices. The College actively seeks and welcomes applications from candidates with exceptional qualifications, particularly those with a demonstrable commitment to a more inclusive society. For more information on Faculty Diversity and Excellence at Swarthmore, see https://www.swarthmore.edu/faculty-diversity-excellence/information-candidates-new-faculty.

Qualifications
We seek a candidate with research and teaching interests in the courts and constitutional law (including the Supreme Court). We are particularly interested in a candidate with a secondary field in environmental politics, political methodology (both qualitative and quantitative methods), and/or class and identity politics (including inequality, race and ethnicity, the politics of immigration, gender and LGBTQ politics, and indigenous politics).

The successful candidate will have a PhD in political science in hand by August 2022.

Application Instructions
Candidates must demonstrate excellence in undergraduate teaching as well as research. Applicants should submit: (1) a cover letter that briefly describes why they want to teach Swarthmore College students, as well as a description of their research agenda; (2) a writing sample of not more than 40 pages; (3) three syllabi (one for an introductory course in American Politics, and two for upper-level courses) which represent an important part of the application; (4) a C.V.; (5) a graduate school transcript; and (6) three letters of recommendation. These materials should be submitted via Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/89259

The deadline for applications is September 20.

This position is one of two tenure track searches in American politics at Swarthmore College. The other position is available via Interfolio apply.interfolio.com/89258

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/20/2021
Date Posted: 7/14/2021

---

Brown University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Specializations: Public Opinion, Political Psychology, Research Methods

Job Summary
The Department of Political Science at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position at the level of Assistant Professor in the field of Comparative Politics to begin July 1, 2022. The department has a preference for candidates who use both quantitative and qualitative methods in their scholarship. Review of applications will begin September 20, 2021.

Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2022. Candidates should submit a cover letter identifying their research and teaching interests, as well as current CV, a statement addressing their commitment to diversity and inclusion, writing sample, graduate transcript, teaching evaluations, and three letters of reference. http://apply.interfolio.com/89389

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9009

---

Purdue University
Rank: Post-doc researcher Public Opinion / Political Psychology
Specializations: Public Opinion, Political Psychology, Research Methods

Job Summary
The Department of Political Science at Purdue seeks a Post-doctoral Research Fellow for an 11-month position to support ongoing research in areas of public opinion, political psychology, and political communication. The research fellow will maintain their own research agenda and work on collaborative projects related to one or more of the following: political emotions, social identity, political attitudes, and behavior, and/or text analysis of open-ended survey data. Opportunities for collaborative work within these broader areas will be determined based on the fellow’s interests and skills. In addition, the fellow will provide mentoring and supervision of graduate and undergraduate researchers in a team-based environment, assist in the development of new lab facilities in the department, and participate in the broader intellectual life of the Department of Political Science and the College of Liberal Arts. The position may be renewable for an additional year, pending review and funding. Start date is on or before September 1.

Qualifications
The position requires a recent PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or a closely related field, completed no earlier than August 2018. Candidates must show evidence that all requirements for the PhD have been met prior to the start of the position. Candidates must also have strong training in research design and quantitative methods using both R and Stata. Preference will be given to applicants with skills in one or more of the following areas: grant writing, survey methodology, causal inference, machine learning, or natural language processing.

The College and University
Founded in 1869, Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university with an active, and collegial network of faculty, post-docs, and graduate students. Political Science faculty members are actively involved with interdisciplinary programs and centers, including the Advanced Methods at Purdue (AMAP), the Center for C-SPAN Scholarship and Engagement, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the Human Rights Program, the Purdue Policy Research Institute and many others. West Lafayette is an affordable, welcoming community with many opportunities for entertainment, dining, hiking, biking, and other outdoor activities.

Applications
Candidates should submit a cover letter describing fit for the position, CV, the names of three references, graduate transcripts, a separate statement on diversity, equity, and inclusiveness in mentoring, and a solo-authored writing sample.

Application materials must be submitted electronically via https://bit.ly/3e3IfdG

Purdue University’s Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin immediately continue until the position is filled. Questions should be addressed to Department Head Cherie Maestas at cmaestas@purdue.edu.

The anticipated salary range is $52,000 – $55,000 for the fiscal year with additional support for research and travel. This position is contingent on final budget approval.

A background check is required for employment in this position.

Ability to work in the US without immigration sponsorship from Purdue University.

Equal Opportunity - Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9005

Harvard University
Rank: TENURE-TRACK PROFESSOR OF GOVERNMENT – AMERICAN POLITICS AND/OR QUANTITATIVE METHODS

Harvard University
Faculty of Arts and Sciences
Department of Government

Position Description: The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenure-track professor in Political Science, with a strong preference for scholars specializing in American Politics and/or Quantitative Methods. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2022. The tenure-track professor will be responsible for teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Candidates are encouraged to apply by October 1, 2021; applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

Basic Qualifications: Doctorate or terminal degree in Political Science or related disciplines required by the time the appointment begins.

Additional Qualifications: Demonstrated excellence in teaching is desired.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following materials through the ARKeS portal (https://academicpositions.harvard.edu). The Committee will begin reviewing applications on September 15, 2021.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy)
4. Research statement
5. Names and contact information of 3-5 referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate’s application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received. (*At least one letter must come from someone who has not served as the candidate’s undergraduate, graduate, or postdoctoral advisor),
6. A statement describing efforts to encourage diversity, inclusion, and belonging, including past, current, and anticipated future contributions in these areas.
7. Writing samples and publications, if applicable.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9005

Texas Christian University
Rank: Assistant Professor in American Politics
Specializations: American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Political Science at Texas Christian University invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in American Politics with research and teaching specializations focusing on race, ethnicity, gender and/or sexuality. The successful candidate should be able to teach in our research methods sequence. This position will begin in Fall 2022, and it will be part of a multi-position DEI cluster hire by TCU’s AddRan College of Liberal Arts on race, ethnicity, and social justice which also involves searches in history, sociology, and religion. AddRan College desires to build a cohort of teacher-scholars across disciplines and areas of specialization interested in teaching and conducting research on race, racism, ethnicity, and social justice. As part of the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion cluster hire, AddRan College will provide the cohort with opportunities and resources to participate in mentoring and peer-support circles, research & writing workshops, and other ongoing professional development.

Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 3/2 teaching load, and the salary and benefits are competitive.

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, evidence of teaching ability, unofficial transcript, writing sample, teaching statement, research statement, and diversity statement to https://jobs.tcu.edu/
Please contact Prof. Jeff Harden, chair of the search committee, at jeff.harden@nd.edu.

The TCU political science department has 13 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors in three undergraduate degrees. Our teacher-scholars also run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships, as well as teach in and administer interdisciplinary programs including Women and Gender Studies and Comparative Race and Ethnic Studies.

A selective teaching and research university with 11,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 13th largest city in the United States and part of the nation’s fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a fast-growing city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for nine consecutive years as one of the “Great Colleges to Work For” by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EEO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status, or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8988

University of Notre Dame
Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Notre Dame invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor in computational social science (broadly defined), with a preference for applicants in the field of American Politics. Candidates should have a promising research agenda employing computational methods to study political phenomena and be capable of excellent teaching in graduate and/or undergraduate courses in computational methods, quantitative methods, data science, and their substantive field. The successful hire will hold an affiliation with Notre Dame’s Lucy Family Institute for Data and Society.

The University of Notre Dame supports the needs of dual career couples and has a Dual Career Assistance Program in place to assist relocating spouses and partners with their job search.

All applicants should include a CV, letter of interest, a research statement, a teaching statement, one writing sample, teaching evaluations, and three letters of recommendation. If you have questions, please contact Prof. Jeff Harden, chair of the search committee, at jharden2@nd.edu.

All files should be received by September 10, 2021 to receive full consideration.

Apply here: https://apply.interfolio.com/89437.
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 6/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8955

Texas A&M University
Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Latin American Politics/Political Economy and quantitative methods
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of Latin American politics/political economy and quantitative methods. Expertise in Mexico preferred, but we are open to other areas as well. The successful candidate will teach courses on Latin American politics/political economy as part of the Department’s developing curricular concentration on the region and courses on quantitative methods that are part of the Department’s required curriculum.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or Political Economy by September 2022. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information demonstrating success in teaching at the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/88572 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 7, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/11/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8935

Butler University
Rank: Instructor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track instructor for a one-year appointment with possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants...
should have expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States and a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will teach an introductory American politics survey course, research and analysis methods (basic research design/methods), US Parties and Politics, and other courses aligned with their expertise, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. We are particularly interested in candidates who could teach an introductory international politics survey course. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, with no more than six distinct course preparations per year anticipated.

Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following to plsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant’s qualifications for this position and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and a curriculum vitae. Additional evidence of evidence of inclusive teaching excellence is welcome but not required at this stage. Applicants should have advanced to candidate or earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment. The selected candidate will be required to provide official transcripts and to consent to a background check prior to a final offer of employment and will start August 2021.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/9/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8927

NON-ACADEMIC

Interos
Rank: Computational Social Scientist
Subfield(s): International Relations, Methodology, Non-Academic
Specializations: Research Methods, International Political Economy, Science & Technology

At Interos, we are seeking Computational Social Scientists experienced in applying quantitative models in the areas of political instability, finance, economics, climate change, cybersecurity, or other socio-technical systems. With a focus on risk modeling across global supply chains, this role applies computational social science models, theories, and data while staying on top of the latest advances and current events in these areas. An avid researcher and writer, a computational social scientist is also a data storyteller, with strong communication skills to both technical and non-technical audiences.

Are you constantly exploring more data-driven and rigorous approaches for analyzing the ongoing global geopolitical, societal, technological, and economic disruptions? Are you fascinated by socio-technical systems and uncovering unknown insights? Are you a data storyteller seeking new ways to have a real-world impact? And want to apply all of these skills at a high-growth, early-stage company?

Join the growing Methodology team at Interos and help implement cutting-edge risk models while working in a fast-paced, multi-disciplinary environment. Hone your quantitative skills, operationalize complex models, and turn novel research into actionable insights for our private and public sector customers. This role collaborates within the Methodology team and across engineering and is responsible for both quantitative models as well as qualitative depth, detail, and context.

We have multiple positions open at junior, mid-level, and senior levels, with compensation reflected accordingly.

Minimal Qualifications:
A PhD in a social or behavioral science, and at least 2 years relevant work experience, or at least four years of work experience modeling and operationalizing complex social and physical networks.
A curious researcher and analyst who never stops seeking better data and new solutions to complex socio-technical challenges.
A passion for technology and the scientific application of quantitative models to social and physical systems.
Proven open source research skills and supporting product development.
A team player who enjoys multi-disciplinary collaboration in an extremely fast-paced and fluid environment.
Fluency with Python, R, or other data analysis tools

Preferred Qualifications:
Demonstrable background interacting with a range of audiences (internal and external; technical and business stakeholders).
Experience applying quantitative models in the areas of political instability, finance, economics, climate change, cybersecurity, or other socio-technical systems.
Strong communication skills, both verbal and written.
The ability to adapt quickly to shifting priorities and multi-task under tight deadlines.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2021
Salary: $110,000 - $119,999
eJobs ID: 9244

Krea University
Rank: Policy Engagement Manager
Specializations: Economic Policy, India, Political Economy

Who We Are:
Inclusion Economics India Centre at Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion Economics Yale, based at Yale University’s Economic Growth Center and MacMillan Center. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders’ ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:
The Policy Engagement Manager will help manage Inclusion Economics India Centre’s (i.e. India)’s government relations, stakeholder relationships, and capacity building and communications activities across research portfolios. The position is also responsible to support strategic internal and external communication activities, in particular events and outputs to communicate effectively about i.e. India’s work and impact. S/he will play an active role in trainings and external-facing events with policy stakeholders, content development for policy engagement events (workshops, policy dialogues, trainings), and developing and contributing to policy-research collaborations to build organizational and institutional capacities to use evidence. The selected candidate will work closely on communication and strategic policy engagement with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale and with teams working on affiliated research at the Governance Lab in Nepal.

Responsibilities:
• Develop and foster strategic relationships with external stakeholders, including policymakers of all levels of the government, donors, and other mission-aligned individuals and institutions.
• Proactively and independently work closely with researchers and leadership to identify, lead, and implement a targeted and integrated program of engagement and communications along with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale.
• Develop strong relations with government officials, help conceptualize new research projects that align with our portfolio, as well as identify opportunities for replicating and scaling-up of projects.
• Work with government officials to encourage and enhance the use of rigorous evidence-based policymaking in their departments, and institutionalize practices to make such policy-engagements effective.
• Represent our research and policy engagements in a variety of written and in-person forums to engage effectively in the research-to-policy space and communicate effectively about our work to external stakeholders. Written communications may include policy briefs, published articles and blogs, and reports.
• Oversee and implement all aspects pertaining to administration of external-facing policy engagements ranging from policy dialogues and conferences to workshops and trainings. This oversight includes coordinating with collaborating institutions, developing and effectively delivering content, and ensuring all administration and logistics are executed effectively.
• Draft research-policy memos, presentations, op-eds, and background notes for high-level partner meetings, and oversee immediate follow-up on such meetings, including related to basic content and data-related requests.
• Develop and implement systems to effectively organize, monitor, and systematize policy engagement efforts and auxiliary support structures.
• Build capability and capacity in the research management team for effective partnership management, deeper understanding of the policy environment, and inform and support fundraising initiatives in the organization.
• Other activities to support our strategy in India and South Asia, as requested.

Basic Qualifications:
• Master’s degree in a relevant field such as economics, public policy/administration, and/or political science

Preferred Qualifications:
• Strong understanding of research design, basic econometrics, and evaluation methodologies, as well as public policy-oriented topics and policy and implementation in South Asia – India in particular
• At least 5 years of experience in a position that includes significant external network development and stakeholder engagement
• Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and strong public speaking skills
• Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings to a non-technical audience
• Willingness to visit research project sites and engage in research content and methodology
• Ability to think creatively, innovate, strategize, set priorities, manage a workplan, and evaluate progress with minimal supervision
• Experience working across multiple projects and managing multiple internal and external relationships
• Experience managing stakeholder and policy programs, including convening policy forums, communications outputs, and thought leadership activities
• Proven track record of carrying out high-quality research, policy, and/or advocacy work

This position will be based in New Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country when Covid-19 restrictions are lifted.

How to Apply:
If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire (https://forms.gle/XbBeNgprSoRxHpxN7); you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file “Last name, First name – Policy Engagement Manager”.

To view other open positions, visit the MacMillan Center’s Employment Opportunities page (https://macmillan.yale.edu/academic-programs/faculty/employment-opportunities).

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8894

OPEN
University of Pittsburgh
Rank: Mellon Chair in Political Science

Mellon Chair in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the Mellon Endowed Chair in Political Science, with the appointment to begin in the 2022-2023 academic year, pending budgetary approval.
In filling this chair, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship.

We welcome candidates from any subfield and are particularly interested in scholars whose expertise contributes to or complements one or more of the following cross-cutting themes: 1) Global and Transnational Challenges, 2) Groups and Identities, 3) Democracy and Development, 4) Representation and Accountability, and/or whose leadership will shape an emerging initiative in Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences (see our ad for an assistant professor). In addition, we welcome candidates who can build on Pittsburgh’s interdisciplinary strengths in studying cities, public health, education, and technology.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh has faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world-renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops “most livable city” rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Minimum qualifications: applicants must have a PhD, at least 6 years of experience, significant record of publications, and demonstrated ability to deliver high-quality instruction, to contribute to an inclusive climate, and to attract and retain a diverse study body.

The committee will begin looking at applications November 15, 2021 but will continue to accept materials until the position is filled. Candidates should send a letter of interest, a CV, and 3 names of people that can provide references when needed; cover letters should include a discussion how the candidate’s research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion. Please apply online at: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=21006309&tz=GTM-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York

The Political Science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is wynn2@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOIE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9241

University of Pittsburgh
Rank: Assistant Professor – Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences
Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics
Assistant Professor – Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences
The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for an assistant professor (pending budgetary approval) in any subfield of political science or related discipline whose work addresses structural racism, oppression, or Black political experiences, conceived domestically, comparatively, or globally. We encourage applications from scholars working on problems of racial oppression and racialized inequalities and hierarchies – in race and ethnic politics, in political behavior, in political economy, in international and transnational politics, in global or domestic institutions (of the US or other countries), as well as any other topic related to our theme (including inequalities in cities, health, education, and technology).

The Department intends to make three hires in the coming years (pending budgetary approval), in coordination with a cluster in Race, Representation, and Anti-Black and Systemic Racism within the Kenneth P. Dietrich School of Arts and Sciences. The related University Race and Social Determinants of Equity and Well-being Cluster Hire and Retention Initiative is also aimed at creating and sustaining a cohort of scholars whose research, service, and community engagement are aimed at strengthening knowledge and addressing racial disparities in the social determinants of equity and wellbeing. We thus welcome applicants whose interests complement current and new cluster faculty pertaining to race and inequality and their impact on Black communities in the United States; desirable research and teaching interests include, but are not limited to: race and ethnic politics, identity, democratic behavior, activism and collective action, representation, urban or local governance, health and healthcare policy, technology policy or algorithmic bias, environmental justice, ethnic or international conflict, migration, post-colonialism/post-imperialism; scholars whose interests include Africa or the African Diaspora are also encouraged to apply.

The starting date for the position is September 1, 2022. Successful candidates are expected to engage in research, teaching, and service that contributes to the department’s mission. Required qualifications: applicants have or expect to have a Ph.D. in hand before the appointment begins, research interests related to structural racism, oppression, or Black political experiences, and demonstrated ability or potential to deliver high-quality instruction, to publish high-quality scholarship, and to contribute to an inclusive climate and attract and retain a diverse student body.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, two or three writing samples, teaching evaluations (if available), a diversity statement (brief description of how your research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion), and a minimum of three letters of reference; references should send their letters directly to psjobs@pitt.edu. Please apply online at: https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=21006309&tz=GTM-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York. In order to ensure full consideration, applications must be received by October 8, 2021, and the review of applications will continue until the position is filled. The Political Science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is wynn2@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOIE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/27/2021
The Department of Political Science at UT Austin invites applications for an open-rank position in Racial and Ethnic Politics. The search is open with respect to sub-field and methodological approach. We welcome work that considers racial and ethnic politics from a historical, comparative, or intersectional perspective. Successful candidates will have a research agenda centered on the understanding of racial and ethnic politics from the perspective of at least one marginalized group.

Duties will include undergraduate and graduate teaching, research, and service to the Department, the College of Liberal Arts, and the University. The successful candidate will show evidence or promise of excellence in scholarly research and publication, teaching, and intellectual and institutional leadership (for associate and full rank).

The Department is interested in candidates who will contribute to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education through their teaching, research, and service. The application should highlight any experiences working with diverse populations; examples might include mentoring activities, committee service, courses taught, and recruitment and retention activities.

UT Austin is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual-career couples and single parents.

Applications from candidates with strong methodological skills are especially welcomed.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. for appointment as Assistant Professor or higher ranks, or expect to obtain it within a year of joining the faculty as Instructor. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Applicants should upload a cover letter, vita, three letters of recommendation (names and contact information only for applicants at the associate and full rank), examples of scholarly work, teaching materials (a statement of teaching philosophy and sample course evaluations), and diversity statement.

The Department will begin reviewing applications October 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

Position funding is subject to budget availability.

Apply Here: https://apply.interfolio.com/93018

Loyola Marymount University
Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science and International Relations
Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Open

Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning in Fall 2022. We seek a candidate who is passionate about teaching undergraduate methods. The department is especially interested in candidates with expertise in global or domestic public policy issues, such as education, health and healthcare, urbanization, or the environment and climate change. Our preferred candidate’s research will engage with substantive policy issues with a focus on social and group differences broadly defined (such as race, class, inequality, ethnicity, nationalism and national identities, sexuality, gender, disability, religion, North-South relations, etc.).

The regular teaching load for this position includes two sections of our introductory methods class and periodically a seminar in advanced methods. LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department’s mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experience, and beliefs to apply. Please read more about our commitments and our efforts at (https://resources.lmu.edu/officeofinterculturalaffairs/).

Candidates should submit application materials via the LMU Human Resources online application portal (https://pa843.peopleadmin.com/postings/47474). Applicants must include: 1) a cover letter (outlining area of expertise, teaching and research interests, and resonance with LMU’s mission); 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a writing sample; 4) a statement of teaching philosophy that demonstrates your approach to teaching in the liberal arts tradition, and 5) if available, teaching evaluations and/or sample syllabi. A minimum of three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to POLSjobs@lmu.edu. Only online applications will be accepted. Please direct questions to Marc Cooper at POLSjobs@lmu.edu. We will begin our review of applications on September 10, 2021 but will consider applications beyond this date until we conclude our search. A PhD in Political Science, International Relations, Public Policy, or related field is required; ABD applications who anticipate completion of the doctorate by Fall 2022 will be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9194

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Sydney University
Rank: African American Studies Department Chair
Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics
Specializations: African American Politics, Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of African American Studies (https://thecollege.syr.edu/american-studies/) in Syracuse University's College of Arts & Sciences seeks a dynamic scholar to serve as Department Chair beginning Fall 2022. The successful candidate will possess a strong record of scholarship; teaching excellence; experience overseeing departmental administrative procedures and governance; demonstrated skill in collaborating with faculty on curricula and programming for undergraduate majors and minors and graduate students; and a commitment to community engagement.

Since gaining department status in 1979, African American Studies at SU has offered multi-disciplinary approaches to global studies of people of African descent. Unique departmental resources, such as the Martin Luther King, Jr. Library (https://thecollege.syr.edu/diversity-and-inclusion/mlk-library/) and the Community Folk Art Center (https://communityfolkartcenter.org/), have been integral to academic initiatives. Recent and pending faculty retirements have led to a critical juncture. The new chair will thus play a pivotal role in leading the department as it formulates strategic plans to engage changing social, political, cultural, technological, and pedagogical landscapes.

The position requires a Ph.D. with a principal research and teaching focus on aspects of Black life in the Americas, the Caribbean, Africa, or Europe. Scholars in any field of the humanities or social sciences are welcome to apply. Candidates who have met the standards for the rank of professor with tenure are preferred. However, full consideration will also be given to applications from advanced tenured associate professors. The teaching requirement during the three-year term as Department Chair will be one course per semester. At the end of the chair term, two courses per semester will be required.

Applications must include a current curriculum vitae; letter of interest; sample publication; diversity, equity, and inclusion statement; and three confidential recommendation letters. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The salary will be commensurate with qualifications.

To apply, visit Syracuse University Job Board, Department Chair/Professor - African American Studies: https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/88268
Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/18/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9187

Harvard University
Rank: Harvard Academy Scholar

The Academy Scholars Program identifies and supports outstanding scholars at the start of their careers whose work combines disciplinary excellence in the social sciences or law with a command of the language and history or culture of countries or regions outside of the United States or Canada. Their scholarship may elucidate domestic, comparative, or transnational issues, past or present.

The Academy Scholars are a select community of individuals with resourcefulness, initiative, curiosity, and originality, whose work in cultures or regions outside of the US or Canada shows promise as a foundation for exceptional careers in major universities or international institutions.

Academy Scholars are appointed for a two-year, in-residence, postdoctoral fellowship at The Harvard Academy for International and Area Studies, Harvard University, Cambridge, MA. They receive substantial financial and research assistance to undertake sustained projects of research and/or acquire accessory training in their chosen fields and areas. The Senior Scholars, a distinguished group of senior Harvard University faculty members, act as mentors to the Academy Scholars to help them achieve their intellectual potential.

ELIGIBILITY:
The competition for these awards is open only to recent PhD (or comparable professional school degree) recipients and doctoral candidates in the social sciences or law.

Those still pursuing a PhD should have completed their routine training and be well along in the writing of their theses before applying to become Academy Scholars. If you have completed a PhD program, the PhD completion date must be within three years of the October 1 application deadline. For applicants applying for the October 1, 2021 deadline, you must have completed your PhD or equivalent after September 30, 2018.

The Selection Committee considers all applicants in one applicant pool.

TERMS
Each year, four to six Academy Scholars are named for two-year appointments. Academy Scholars are expected to reside in the Cambridge/Boston area for the duration of their appointments unless traveling for pre-approved research purposes.

Postdoctoral Academy Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $70,000. If selected before earning the PhD, the Scholars will receive an annual stipend of $35,000 until awarded the PhD. This stipend is supplemented by funding for conference and research travel, research assistants, and health insurance coverage. Some teaching is permitted but not required.

Applications are welcome from qualified persons without regard to nationality, gender, or race.

HOW TO APPLY:
All application materials need to be submitted by the deadline of October 1. We do not accept late applications.

The completed application will include:
(1) Cover letter which succinctly states the applicant’s academic field, country or region of specialization, and proposed research topic;
(2) Curriculum vitae (CV) or résumé; including list of publications;
(3) Research proposal (2500 word maximum); including intellectual objectives and planned methodological and disciplinary work;
(4) A copy of your PhD program transcript;
(5) Three letters of recommendation (uploaded through the online application); Letters should be addressed to the “Selection Committee”; & Letters of recommendation need to be uploaded by the deadline of October 1.

All parts of the application, including the three letters of recommendation, are submitted online as pdf documents. The online application is accessed through the homepage of The Harvard Academy’s website (https://academy.wcl.harvard.edu/programs/academy_...
University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science—Public Policy/Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Open

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in Public Policy/Public Administration. Applicants from any area of the Public Policy/Public Administration fields are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance, public service ethics, nonprofit and public management, and/or organizational theory. We are particularly interested in applicants who also have backgrounds in public policy and address substantively important questions related to inequality. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach (including but not limited to those using rigorous analytical approaches including the tools of computational social science and “big data” in their research).

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state’s flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci.utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Critical Race Collective; the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field must be finished at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application material in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92424). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent via Interfolio. Review of applications begins October 5, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Michael Jones at mjone239@utk.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

PENDING FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE APPROVAL

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science, Politics of Race and Ethnicity

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Washington invites applications for a full-time (100%) tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity, starting September 2022. The search is open with respect to subfield and methodology. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses with capacity for large enrollments of diverse students as well as graduate seminars. The successful candidate will be expected to support the unit’s commitment to working with diverse student and community populations. Tenure track faculty engage in teaching, research and service and have an annual service period of nine months (Sept 16-June 15).

Qualifications
Applicants should demonstrate a record of teaching and research relative to the politics of race and ethnicity. Candidates should have completed all requirements for a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field (or foreign equivalent) by the appointment start date, although applicants at the ABD level will also be considered.

Application Instructions
Applications should include a cover letter, current CV, writing sample, research statement, teaching statement, diversity statement and three letters of recommendation. The research statement should describe the applicant’s substantive research interests. The teaching statement should describe the applicant’s teaching philosophy, list undergraduate and graduate level teaching interests, and provide evidence of teaching effectiveness, if applicant has prior teaching experience. The diversity statement should describe the applicant’s record of engagement with issues around diversity and equity, and how their scholarship and teaching support diverse communities.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Applications must be submitted electronically at: http://apply.interfolio.com/91821 Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021. Questions about this position can be directed to polisci@uw.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9178

Princeton University
Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Quantitative Methods

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Quantitative Methods. The Department of Politics is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position in quantitative methods. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs.

Junior candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Quantitative Methods Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on September 13, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00005
Start Date: Open
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9158

Morehouse College
Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Open

The Department of Political Science at Morehouse College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of assistant professor. Candidates should be interested in world politics, broadly, and trained to teach introductory courses in international relations and comparative politics. We are especially interested in candidates who can develop innovative first-year experience (FYE) courses for our general education program and contribute to the College’s distinctive mission of teaching the history and culture of Black people.

Responsibilities include teaching courses (a 3-3 load), advising, and mentoring students; developing and maintaining a scholarly research and publication agenda; and service to the department and the College. We also encourage faculty to be active in soliciting external funding through grants and other sources. The start date for the position is August 2022.

Review of applications will begin October 1, 2021. For questions about the search, please contact Dr. Andrew Douglas, andrew.douglas@morehouse.edu, 470-639-0732.

Submit application here: https://apply.interfolio.com/90999

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/11/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9148

University of Washington
Rank: Assistant Professor, Environmental Justice or Development Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Open, Other

The Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Washington (Seattle) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the fields of environmental justice and/or development studies. We welcome all methodological approaches. We encourage applications from scholars who work on areas that include but are not limited to climate change and its effects; resource management and policy; migration and urbanism; or intersecting inequalities in the Global South.

UW faculty engage in teaching, research, and service. This position has an anticipated start date of Autumn 2022 and will have a 9-month service period. The successful candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses in their areas of specialization, as well as other comparative and international studies classes, teaching four courses per academic year over three quarters.

The Henry M. Jackson School has a strong commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion. Information on the School’s charter can be found at https://jsis.washington.edu/about/diversity-equity/

A PhD or foreign equivalent in International Studies or a related field is required by the start of the appointment. Candidates who are ABD and preparing to complete the PhD will be considered.

The search is open to specialists working in any world region as well as in global approaches. We welcome applicants from fields including African/Africana Studies, Anthropology, Development Studies, Environmental Studies, Ethnic Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Geography, Global Studies, Indigenous Studies, Middle East Studies, Political Ecology, Political Science, Public Policy, Religious Studies, Russian Studies, and Sociology.

Applicants must submit the following documents at http://apply.interfolio.com/91165

- Letter of application (A 2-3 page statement that includes a description of research, teaching interest, and future projects);
- CV;
- Three letters of recommendation;
- Diversity and Equity statement (A one-page statement that describes how applicant’s research, teaching, and service at the University will contribute to a culture of inclusion and campus diversity.)

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Professor José...
Antonio Lucero (jal26@uw.edu) with any questions regarding the search.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

Commitment to Diversity
The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/). Additionally, the University’s Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member’s academic profile and responsibilities (http://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/PCG/PCCH24.html#2432).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9141

Hebrew University of Jerusalem
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem invites applications for a tenure-track position* (open rank), beginning fall 2022. We welcome applications in all fields of political science, and seek outstanding candidates with a record of excellence in research. Junior and senior scholars with a PhD in political science are encouraged to apply. ABD’s are expected to have their dissertation approved no later than October 1st 2022.

The Department of Political Science is committed to equal opportunities. Applicants from groups under-represented in our faculty, including women and minorities, are encouraged to apply.

To apply, please submit the following materials:
• Curriculum Vitae
• Scientific biography outlining research orientation and plans for the coming years
• Electronic copies of up to three writing samples
• List of courses the candidate can teach at the undergraduate and graduate level
• Teaching evaluations, if available
• A letter of intent stating willingness to begin teaching in the fall of 2022

Additionally, three letters of recommendation should be submitted directly to the Search Committee (via the website listed below).

The language of teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years of their arrival.

The deadline for applications is September 28th, 2021. Candidates selected by the Department will compete with candidates from other universities in the Faculty of Social Sciences for available positions.

Please submit all application materials electronically at: http://ttp.huji.ac.il

For inquiries concerning the search please contact Prof. Orit Kedar at orit.kedar@mail.huji.ac.il.

* In special cases of full professorship, tenure will be granted.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/28/2021
Date Posted: 8/5/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9123

University of Chicago
Rank: Collegiate Assistant Professor

The College at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for four-year postdoctoral teaching appointments as Harper and Schmidt Fellows who hold the rank of Collegiate Assistant Professor. Collegiate Assistant Professors are members of the College Faculty whose primary professional responsibility is to teach in the general education (Core) program.

Core courses in the Humanities typically deal with fundamental issues and texts in history, philosophy, and literature. Currently, the Core is organized into eight year-long sequences: Readings in World Literature; Human Being and Citizen; Greece and Rome: Texts, Traditions, Transformations; Philosophical Perspectives on the Humanities; Media Aesthetics; Reading Cultures; Poetry and the Human; and Language and the Human. For a description of these sequences see: https://societyoffellows.uchicago.edu/page/humanities-course-descriptions

Core courses in the Social Sciences explore, on the basis of significant works, the fundamental concepts and the different modes of inquiry that have defined the social sciences in the modern period. Currently, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach in five of the year-long sequences into which the Core is organized: Self, Culture and Society; Classics of Social and Political Thought; Power, Identity, and Resistance; Global Society; and Social Science Inquiry. For a description of these sequences see: https://societyoffellows.uchicago.edu/page/social-sciences-course-descriptions

Some Collegiate Assistant Professors also teach in the History of European Civilization Core sequence as well as the Introductions to the Civilizations of East Asia Core sequences. These courses are taught on the basis of intensive readings of significant primary source documents. For descriptions of the History of European Civilization and the Civilizations of East Asia sequences see: https://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/civilizationstudies/

The positions are open to scholars in all disciplines and areas of specialization who have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. degree no later than August 31, 2022. Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching as well as in their original scholarship.

In most years, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach two courses (usually of identical preparation) for each of three quarters. In the third year of residence, each Collegiate Assistant Professor has the opportunity... to design an independent course and each is eligible for one quarter of research sabbatical. The position comes with a minimum annual salary for 2022-23 of $72,307.80, carries full benefits, and an annual professional development fund of $5,000. The effective date for these teaching appointments is September 1, 2022.

To apply for these positions, please see our web site at https://fellows.uchicago.edu. The web site will be available to accept applications beginning August 26, 2021.

The terms and conditions of these positions are described in the collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union.

Important deadlines:
Deadline for receipt of letters of recommendations: 11:59:59 PM EDT, Friday, October 29, 2021. This includes letters of recommendation from your three recommenders or those received from a dossier service.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination at http://www.uchicago.edu/about/non_discrimination_statement/.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-0681 or email dncibel@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/4/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 9120

University of San Andrés
Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science and/or International Relations

UNIVERSITY OF SAN ANDRÉS
DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SCIENCES

ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR
POLITICAL SCIENCE/INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

The Department of Social Sciences at the University of San Andrés (Buenos Aires, Argentina) invites applications for a full-time Assistant/Associate Professor in the areas of Government and Political Science and International Relations to take up appointment in February 2022. The call is open to all specializations and research agendas, but applications from those working on transnational topics crossing both research agendas are especially welcome.

Responsibilities. Duties include teaching 3 (three) courses per year and supervising undergraduate and graduate dissertations, conducting research in the candidate’s area of expertise, publishing in specialized journals, and contributing to the institutional development of the Department and University.

Qualifications. The successful candidate will hold, or be close to finishing, a PhD from an internationally recognized university, and have an outstanding research record and proven experience in teaching at the undergraduate and graduate levels. If the successful candidate is not Spanish-speaking, s/he is expected to be able to teach in Spanish within three years of the appointment.

Links to the research agendas of the Department will be examined, with a special focus on the candidate’s current and potential research outputs.

Applying. Interested candidates should email an application consisting of:

a. a covering letter/purpose statement, including motivations, professional development plans, and actual and potential links between their own research and those of members of the Department/University,

b. an up-to-date CV detailing a publications list, scientific meetings attended, research projects with roles undertaken and further relevant responsibilities (such as having participated in processes of peer-review of papers or research projects), a list of university courses taught, and dissertation supervision experience, along with contact details of two referees, who can be contacted should the application be shortlisted.

c. a model undergraduate syllabus in any relevant subject of Political Science and/or International Relations.

d. a writing sample (an article, book chapter or dissertation chapter) that reflects research proficiency.

Applications should be sent to convocatoriacpgrii@udas.edu.ar preferably in PDF format.

Informal enquiries may be directed to Prof. Andrea Oelsner: aoelsner@udas.edu.ar

Applications will be accepted until 31 August 2021. Shortlisted candidates will be invited to give a presentation to the Department of Social Sciences and to an interview with the Selection Committee. Most likely, presentation and interview will take place remotely.

THE UNIVERSITY DEFENDS A STRICT COMMITMENT TO ACADEMIC FREEDOM, REGARDLESS OF GENDER, RELIGION OR OTHER SOCIAL CONDITIONS.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: 8/31/2021
Date Posted: 8/2/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 9111

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2022-2023
Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate
Requisition Number: D-22-LAS-00001
The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill one to two Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. They also will be invited to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

Appointments are for a 12-month term, starting September 1, 2022, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

How to Apply:
For full consideration, applications should be submitted by December 3, 2021, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21221.

1) Cover letter
2) Curriculum vitae
3) Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
4) A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
5) Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree (earned within three years of the start date). Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/3/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9024

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies
Rank: Visiting Research Scholar

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of a Princeton department and the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are for one or two semesters, during the 2022-2023 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2022 - January 16, 2023; spring semester: January 16, 2023 - June 1, 2023). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:
For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 17, 2021. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21242.

Cover letter (in English) indicating when the applicant proposes to stay for one month during the academic year (September 1, 2022 to June 30, 2023), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
1) Curriculum vitae (in English);
2) A statement (in English) describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 – 2,000 words);
3) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/17/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9026

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies
Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year’s visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for top scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

How to Apply:
For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 17, 2021. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21241.

Cover letter (in English) indicating when the applicant proposes to stay for one month during the academic year (September 1, 2022 to June 30, 2023), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
1) Curriculum vitae (in English);
2) A statement (in English) describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 – 2,000 words);
3) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/17/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9026

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies
Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year’s visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for top scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

How to Apply:
For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 17, 2021. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21241.

Cover letter (in English) indicating when the applicant proposes to stay for one month during the academic year (September 1, 2022 to June 30, 2023), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
1) Curriculum vitae (in English);
2) A statement (in English) describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 – 2,000 words);
3) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/17/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9026

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies
Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year’s visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for top scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

How to Apply:
For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 17, 2021. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21241.

Cover letter (in English) indicating when the applicant proposes to stay for one month during the academic year (September 1, 2022 to June 30, 2023), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);
1) Curriculum vitae (in English);
2) A statement (in English) describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 – 2,000 words);
3) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/17/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9026

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies
Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year’s visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for top scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.
4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (2,000 – 3,000 words);
5) The names and contact information of two referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Advanced degree preferred.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/17/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9025

---

Stanford University
Rank: IDEAL Provostial Fellows for Studies in Race and Ethnicity

Stanford University, in conjunction with its IDEAL initiative, is pleased to announce that it is seeking to appoint four to five early career fellows engaged in the study of race and ethnicity. The purpose of this program is to support the work of early-career researchers, who will lead the next generation of scholarship in race and ethnicity and whose work will point the way forward for reshaping race relations in America. Fellowships may be in any of the seven schools in the University (Business, Earth, Energy & Environmental Sciences, Education, Engineering, Humanities & Sciences, Law, Medicine). Selection criteria includes the originality and quality of the research, as well as demonstrated potential for intellectual achievement. The term of these fellowships is three years, with a start date of September 1, 2022.

To be eligible for an early career fellowship, a candidate must have received their terminal degree no earlier than September 1, 2019. Scholars interested in any field of study are accepted. Early career fellows should have received their terminal degree (PhD, JD, MFA, EdD, DSW, etc.) prior to the start of the fellowship.

Applicants for early career fellowships should submit their applications at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18892. Applications should be submitted electronically and include a cover letter (detailing the candidate’s interest in the position), curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a statement of teaching interests, samples of written work, and three letters of recommendation (provide contact information for each and a system generated request will be delivered to each referee). In these materials, please include how your interests would be advanced by a fellowship, needs for laboratory access or special equipment, etc.

The deadline for receiving applications for early career fellowships is October 1, 2021. No application will be accepted after the deadline. Applications will not be accepted by email.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University’s research, teaching, and clinical missions. Consistent with its obligations under the law, the University will provide reasonable accommodation to any employee with a disability who requires accommodation to perform the essential functions of his or her job.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 9025

---

Princeton University
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Fung Global Fellows Program

Princeton University is pleased to announce the call for applications to the Fung Global Fellows Program at the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS). The program will select postdoctoral scholars from around the world to be in residence at Princeton for an academic year and to engage in research and discussion around a common theme. (Note if the Covid-19 pandemic prevents a residency at Princeton, Fellows will remain in their home country and participate in the program remotely.) The number of candidates hired will depend on the qualifications of the overall applicant pools. The postdoctoral appointment will be for one academic year for scholars who have received a Ph.D. at an institution outside the United States and, who at the time of application, do not have a tenure-track faculty appointment. The candidates must also demonstrate outstanding scholarly achievement and have exhibited unusual intellectual promise.

During the academic year 2022-23, the Fung Global Fellows Program theme will be &quot;Sustainable Futures.&quot; The Fung Global Fellows Program welcomes applicants from all disciplinary and interdisciplinary fields - humanities, social science, natural science, engineering, technology, law, architecture - to examine varied notions and workable practices of sustainability. For more information about the theme of study, please see this link: http://piirs.princeton.edu/funggf/about/annual-research-topics.

Applicants must apply online at: https://www.princeton.edu/academicpositions/position/21301. Applications are due by November 15, 2021 (11:59 p.m. EST).

To be eligible, post-doctoral applicants must have completed all Ph.D. requirements before 9/1/2022 but cannot have more than two years of postdoctoral experience prior to the start of the appointment, 9/1/2022. If a candidate has turned in a final draft of their dissertation but not yet completed their Ph.D. before the start date, they may be temporarily appointed as a Senior Research Assistant with 10% reduction in salary. Upon providing verification of their Ph.D. degree, they would be promoted in rank and salary. The postdoctoral selection will be made based on the strength of the candidates’ proposed research projects, the relationship of their projects to the program theme, the candidates’ scholarly records and their ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the program. For more information on eligibility requirements and the Fung Global Fellows Program see http://piirs.princeton.edu/funggf/call-applications. This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

The following items must be submitted by the applicant, in English, by November 15, 2021 (11:59 p.m. ET):
- Cover letter (1.5 pages maximum)
- Curriculum Vitae (including publications)
- Research proposal (maximum of 3 pages, single spaced)
- One writing sample (article or book chapter, maximum of 50 pages)
- The names and email addresses for three referees, who will be contacted automatically by the online application system with an invitation to upload their letter of recommendation to the system by the application deadline. (To be submitted by your referees before the November 15, 2021 deadline.)

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 11/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9041

Princeton University
Rank: Visiting Research Scholar, Fung Global Fellows Program

Princeton University is pleased to announce the call for applications to the Fung Global Fellows Program at the Princeton Institute for International and Regional Studies (PIIRS). The program will select early-career scholars from around the world to be in residence at Princeton for an academic year and to engage in research and discussion around a common theme. The number of candidates hired at this rank will depend on the qualifications of the overall applicant pools. The fellowships will be awarded to scholars employed outside the United States who have a faculty appointment, a professional research appointment, or are an established independent scholar. They will also be expected to return to their positions at the conclusion of the fellowship. Lastly, they must have demonstrated outstanding scholarly achievement and unusual intellectual promise. Early-career scholars will be appointed at the rank of Visiting Research Scholar.

During the academic year 2022-23, the Fung Global Fellows Program theme will be "Sustainable Futures." The Fung Global Fellows Program welcomes applicants from all disciplinary and interdisciplinary fields - humanities, social science, natural science, engineering, technology, law, architecture - to examine varied notions of the theme. The strength of a candidate’s proposed research project, the relationship to the theme of study, please see this link: http://piirs.princeton.edu/funggfp/about/annual-research-topics.

Applicants must apply online at: https://www.princeton.edu/funggfp/about/annual-research-topics.

To be eligible, applicants must have received their Ph.D. or equivalent no earlier than September 1, 2012. Fellowships will be awarded on the strength of a candidate’s proposed research project, the relationship of the project to the program theme, the candidate’s scholarly record and ability to contribute to the intellectual life of the program. For more information see: http://piirs.princeton.edu/funggfp/call-applications.

The following items must be submitted by the applicant, in English, by November 15, 2021 (11:59 p.m. EST):
- Cover letter (1.5 pages maximum)
- Curriculum Vitae (including publications)
- Research proposal (maximum of 3 pages, single spaced)
- One writing sample (article or book chapter, maximum of 50 pages)
- For those applicants with a current faculty appointment or a professional research appointment, an official letter from the applicant’s current employer affirming that, should an offer be made, the applicant would be permitted to accept it and to spend the academic year at Princeton University. If applicant is an established independent scholar, please upload a PDF stating this as applicant’s current status.
- The names and email addresses for three referees, who will be contacted automatically by the online application system with an invitation to upload their letter of recommendation to the system by the application deadline. (Please note: all letters of reference should be submitted by your referees before the November 15, 2021 deadline.)

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9035

Washington University in St. Louis
Rank: Junior Visiting Fellowship

The Department of Political Science at Washington University invites applications for a junior visiting fellow in political science. The appointment will begin in the Fall semester of 2022 and run for one academic year. We expect fellows to be in residence in St. Louis for the academic year and participate in the activities of the department. These activities include, but are not limited to, participating in departmental and relevant subfield seminars and presenting research at a departmental forum. There are no teaching or formal administrative responsibilities, and we offer a stipend of up to $55,000 or half of the successful applicant’s academic salary, whichever amount is lower.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency.
This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/.

Qualifications
We seek applicants with proven records of excellence in research. Applicants must have completed their PhD in the last six years OR hold an untenured faculty position.

Application Instructions
Submit letter of application, CV, two letters of recommendation, and a short statement explaining why you wish to spend a year at Wash U and identifying potential opportunities for collaboration.

Apply at: http://apply.interfolio.com/90746
For any questions please email Jessica Droege (jdroege@wustl.edu)

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University’s policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/14/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9043

University of British Columbia
Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at The University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Relations. The area of specialization is open. We are particularly interested in candidates who would expand our capacity in international relations teaching and scholarship relating to the global South, especially the Asia-Pacific and/or Africa.

The successful candidate will have completed their PhD in Political Science (or related field) or be able to demonstrate that all PhD requirements have been sufficiently completed. The successful candidate is expected to have a Ph.D. for the start of the appointment. The anticipated start date is July 1, 2022.

The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain an active program of research leading to peer-reviewed publications and the securing of external research funding, and to contribute to the education and training of undergraduate as well as graduate students. We are particularly interested in candidates who will enhance the diversity of our department.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. While at this time we expect in-person campus interviews to take place, should pandemic conditions change, applicants must be prepared to conduct interviews remotely. Applicants should understand that, if travel or other restrictions apply, a successful applicant may be asked to consider an offer with a deadline without having been able to make an in-person visit to campus. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

To apply, applicants must upload online the following in order at https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-assistant-professor-in-international-relations-2021/

- an application letter;
- a curriculum vitae;
- a statement (maximum 2 pages) of teaching philosophy, interests and accomplishments;
- a description of current and future research interests (maximum 2 pages);
- evidence of teaching effectiveness, e.g., summaries of teaching evaluations (official preferred), peer reviews of teaching, sample course materials; and
- a 1-page statement about the applicant’s experience working with a diverse student body and contributions or potential contributions to creating/advancing a culture of equity and inclusion.
- one electronic sample of research or publication similar in length to a journal article.

In addition, applicants are expected to arrange for three confidential signed letters of recommendation to be sent separately to the Department of Political Science care of Jeff Yuputin, Assistant to the Department Head, at poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications begins on September 15, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants are strongly encouraged to apply before this date in order to ensure their application receives full consideration.

UBC-Vancouver’s Point Grey Campus is located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territories of the Musqueam people, with whom UBC shares a framework Memorandum of Affiliation. For information relating to Indigenous initiatives that are available at UBC, visit the UBC Vancouver Indigenous portal at: http://indigenous.ubc.ca/. The Department of Political Science at UBC is committed to increasing Indigenous engagement within its curriculum.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Given the uncertainty caused by the global COVID-19 pandemic, applicants must be prepared to conduct interviews remotely if circumstances require. A successful applicant may be asked to consider an offer containing a deadline without having been able to make an in-person visit to campus if travel and other restrictions are still in place.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9010
University of British Columbia
Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at The University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Relations. The area of specialization is open. We are particularly interested in candidates who would expand our capacity in international relations teaching and scholarship relating to the global South, especially the Asia-Pacific and/or Africa.

The successful candidate will have a completed Ph.D. in Political Science (or related field) or be able to demonstrate that all Ph.D. requirements are sufficiently close to completion. The successful candidate is expected to have a Ph.D. for the start of the appointment. The anticipated start date is July 1, 2022.

The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain an active program of research leading to peer-reviewed publications and the securing of external research funding, and to contribute to the education and training of undergraduate as well as graduate students. We are particularly interested in candidates who will enhance the diversity of our department.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. While at this time we expect in-person campus interviews to take place, should pandemic conditions change, applicants must be prepared to conduct interviews remotely. Applicants should understand that, if travel or other restrictions apply, a successful applicant may be asked to consider an offer with a deadline without having been able to make an in-person visit to campus. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

To apply, applicants must upload online the following in order at https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-assistant-professor-in-international-relations-2021/

• an application letter;
• a curriculum vitae;
• a statement (maximum 2 pages) of teaching philosophy, interests and accomplishments;
• a description of current and future research interests (maximum 2 pages);
• evidence of teaching effectiveness, e.g., summaries of teaching evaluations (official preferred), peer reviews of teaching, sample course material; and
• a 1-page statement about the applicant’s experience working with a diverse student body and contributions or potential contributions to creating/advancing a culture of equity and inclusion.
• one electronic sample of research or publication similar in length to a journal article.

In addition, applicants should arrange for three confidential signed letters of recommendation to be sent separately to the Department of Political Science care of Jeff Yupitun, Assistant to the Department Head, at poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications begins on September 15, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants are strongly encouraged to apply before this date in order to ensure their application receives full consideration.

UBC-Vancouver’s Point Grey Campus is located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territories of the Musqueam people, with whom UBC shares a framework Memorandum of Affiliation. For information relating to Indigenous initiatives that are available at UBC, visit the UBC Vancouver Indigenous portal at: http://indigenous.ubc.ca/. The Department of Political Science at UBC is committed to increasing Indigenous engagement within its curriculum.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Given the uncertainty caused by the global COVID-19 pandemic, applicants must be prepared to conduct interviews remotely if circumstances require. A successful applicant may be asked to consider an offer containing a deadline without having been able to make an in-person visit to campus if travel and other restrictions are still in place.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9011

University of British Columbia
Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Canadian Politics

The Department of Political Science at The University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-track position in Canadian Politics, with the possibility of an appointment at the Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor rank. The area of specialization is open. The Department also has a particular interest in scholars who will enhance its diversity, with, for example, research and teaching interests in Indigenous politics, gender, or race.

The successful candidate will have a completed Ph.D. in Political Science (or related field), or be able to adequately demonstrate all Ph.D. requirements are sufficiently close to completion. The successful candidate is expected to have a Ph.D. for the start of the appointment. The anticipated start date is July 1, 2022.

The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain an active program of research leading to peer-reviewed publications and the securing of external research funding, and to contribute to the education and training of undergraduate as well as graduate students.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval. While at this time we expect in-person campus interviews to take place, should pandemic conditions change, applicants must be prepared to conduct interviews remotely if circumstances require. A successful applicant may be asked to consider an offer containing a deadline without having been able to make an in-person visit to campus if travel and other restrictions are still in place. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

To apply, applicants must upload online the following in order at https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-tenure-track-position-in-canadian-politics-2021/

• an application letter;
Political Science Jobs

• a curriculum vitae;
• a statement of teaching philosophy, interests and accomplishments (maximum 2 pages);
• a description of current and future research interests (maximum 2 pages);
• evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., summaries of teaching evaluations (official preferred), peer reviews of teaching, sample course material); and
• a 1-page statement about the applicant’s experience working with a diverse student body and contributions or potential contributions to creating/advancing a culture of equity and inclusion.
• one electronic sample of research or publication.

In addition, applicants should arrange for three confidential signed letters of recommendation to be sent separately to the Department of Political Science care of Jeff Yupitun, Assistant to the Department Head, at poli.recruitment@ubc.ca. Review of applications begins on October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

UBC-Vancouver’s Point Grey Campus is located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territories of the Musqueam people, with whom UBC shares a framework Memorandum of Affiliation. For information relating to Indigenous initiatives that are available at UBC, visit the UBC Vancouver Indigenous portal at https://indigenous.ubc.ca. The Department of Political Science at UBC is committed to increasing Indigenous engagement within its curriculum.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however Canadians and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 10/1/2021
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9012

Tel Aviv University
Rank: Open Rank, Tenure-Track Appointment in Politics and Technology

The School of Political Science, Government, and International Affairs at Tel Aviv University invites applications for an open rank tenure-track position. We welcome applications from all subfields in political science, with preference given to researchers working on politics and technology, with a particular emphasis on cyber technology. The term of appointment will begin on October 1, 2022.

Successful candidates must have a PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment. Candidates must provide evidence of research excellence as demonstrated by a record of publications, conference presentations, awards and accolades, and endorsements from referees of high standing. The successful candidate is expected to pursue an innovative research program.

Candidates must also demonstrate a commitment to excellence in teaching at both graduate and undergraduate levels. Hebrew is the primary language of instruction at Tel Aviv University, and candidates must be able to teach courses in Hebrew within three years of their appointment.

Applicants should send a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae, two writing samples, and brief research and teaching statements (no more than two pages for each statement). Interested individuals should send their applications to polijobs@tauex.tau.ac.il.

Applicants should also ask three referees to send letters (on letterhead, signed) to the search committee via e-mail to polijobs@tauex.tau.ac.il by September 30th, 2021.

The committee will begin reading applications on September 30th, 2021, but may consider files received after this date. The School reserves the right to make (or not make) an appointment according to its exclusive consideration.

Please contact Tova Zrachia (tovaz@tauex.tau.ac.il) for all inquiries.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 7/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8963

Missouri State University
Rank: Department Head

The Department of Political Science is accepting applications for its next Department Head. The department currently has fourteen full-time faculty and one instructor. It offers B.A. and B.S. degrees in Political Science and Master’s degrees in Global Studies and Public Administration.

We seek a collaborative leader who has a vision consistent with the Missouri State University’s Public Affairs mission, supports research and teaching excellence, and is committed to working with diverse student and community populations. Minimum requirements are a Ph.D. in Political Science, academic credentials that qualify the applicant for tenure at the rank of full professor, and evidence of administrative experience.

Apply online at https://jobs.missouristate.edu/. Attach a letter of application detailing leadership and administrative philosophy and contact information for five professional references. For additional information, please contact Dr. Stephen Berkowitz at StephenBerkowitz@MissouriState.edu. Consideration for applicants begins September 24, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Employment will require a criminal background check at University expense.

Missouri State University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity institution. The University is dedicated to building a culturally diverse and inclusive faculty and staff committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourages applications

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
We are hiring within the fields of one or more of these subjects:

- Public Administration
- Comparative Politics
- Political Behaviour
- International Relations
- Public Policy
- Political Sociology
- Political Theory

The successful applicant is expected to contribute significantly to the department’s research and teaching environment and activities. We expect you to teach and supervise students at Bachelor’s and Master’s level and to carry out individual and group-based research of the highest international standard. We expect active participation in the activities of the department and the relevant sub section.

Your qualifications

To qualify for the position as assistant professor in Political Science you must hold a relevant PhD or have equivalent qualifications within the fields covered by the department. You must have documented teaching experience. The department will prioritize applicants who have demonstrated the ability to perform solid and original research results and whom we believe will contribute to the further development of the department’s research and teaching.

Who we are

The Department of Political Science is one of the six departments at Aarhus BSS, one of the five faculties at Aarhus University. Aarhus BSS unites the business and social science-related research fields and brings them closer together to reflect the close relationship between society and the business community. As part of a Top 100 university, Aarhus BSS – and specifically the Department of Political Science – has achieved the distinguished AASCB, AMBA and EQUIS accreditations.

At the Department of Political Science, we emphasise a dynamic and flexible research and teaching profile characterised by pluralism and openness. With around 90 academic staff members and 45 PhD students, we offer a lively and ambitious research and teaching environment.

The research carried out at the department not only covers a variety of political science disciplines, but also represents a variety of methodological approaches. This not only enables us to focus on new problem areas as they appear on the national and international political arenas, but also allows us to contribute actively to the development of the discipline. We also emphasise communicating our research results to the political-administrative system and to the public in general.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please click here.

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Further information
For further information about the position and the department, please contact Head of Department, Professor Peter Munk Christiansen Tel.: +45 3011 5340, Email: pmc@ps.au.dk.
If you need help uploading your application or have any questions about the recruitment process, please contact HR supporter Anne Arnfeldt Källberg, Tel.: +45 8715 3631, Email: aak@au.dk.
Place of work
Department of Political Science, Bartholins Alle 7, DK-8000 Aarhus C.
International applicant?
Aarhus University offers a broad variety of services for international researchers and
Application Deadline:
16 September 2021
Faculty:
Aarhus BSS
Institute/Faculty:
Aarhus BSS
Academic contact person:
Peter Munk Christiansen
Professor, Institutleder
+4987165685
Hours per week:
37
Number of months:
36 Expected date of accession:
01/01/2022
accompanying families, including relocation service and career counselling to expat partners. Please find more information about entering and working in Denmark here and here
Terms of employment
The appointment is made in accordance with the Memorandum on Job Structure for Academic Staff at Danish Universities as well as the circular on the Collective Agreement for Academics Employed by the State (in Danish).
The job content and qualification requirements are described in further detail in the Ministerial Order on the Appointment of Academic Staff at Universities.
Application procedure
When you apply for this position it is mandatory to attach the following:
I Application
Curriculum Vitae. You are encouraged to declare any periods of leave without research activity, including, for example, maternity leave, since your research activities are assessed in relation to your actual research time
I Education (diploma for master’s, PhD and possibly higher doctoral degree) List of publications (the enclosed publications must be clearly marked on the list of publications)
I Publications. Up to three publications may be submitted. In the event of several authors the publications must be accompanied by a co-author statement concerning the applicant’s share of the collaborative work with the consent of the co-authors. Please use this template
I Teaching portfolio. The specific requirements regarding the documentation can be found here
I Materials that cannot be uploaded together with the application may be submitted in three copies to Aarhus BSS HR & PhD, Aarhus University, Tåsingeade 1, 2nd floor,
DK-8000 Aarhus C.
Read more about how to apply for an academic position at Aarhus BSS here.
The evaluation process
After the application deadline, an assessment committee is appointed. Please note that the assessment of applicants is based solely on the material received prior to the application deadline. For further information, see Guidelines for Assessment Committee, Aarhus BSS.
Aarhus University’s ambition is to be an attractive and inspiring workplace for all and to foster a culture in which each individual has opportunities to thrive, achieve and develop. We view equality and diversity as assets, and we welcome all applicants.
The application must be submitted via Aarhus University’s recruitment system, which can be accessed under the job advertisement on Aarhus University’s website.
Aarhus University
Aarhus University is an academically diverse and research-intensive university with a strong commitment to high-quality research and education and the development of society nationally and globally. The university offers an inspiring research and teaching environment to its 38,000 students (FTEs) and 8,000 employees, and has an annual revenues of EUR 885 million. Learn more at www.international.
au.dk/
Please apply here:
https://bss.au.dk/en/about-aarhus-bss/vacant-positions/job/assistant-professor-in-political-science-1/?no_cache=1&cHash= 81ad870ebe1135627c78dd3ba68e71
Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: 9/16/2021
Aarhus University
Rank: Associate Professor in Political Science

Associate Professor in Political Science
The Department of Political Science at Aarhus BSS, Aarhus University, invites applications for one or more associate professors in the field of political science. The associate professorship is a full-time and permanent position starting January 2022 or as soon as possible subject to mutual agreement.

Job description
The successful applicant is expected to contribute significantly to the department’s research and teaching environment and to the overall research strategy of the School.

We are hiring within the fields of one or more of these subjects:
- Public Administration
- Comparative Politics
- Political Behaviour
- International Relations
- Public Policy
- Political Sociology
- Political Theory

You are expected to teach and supervise students at Bachelor’s, Master’s and PhD level and to carry out individual and group-based research of the highest international standard.

Your qualifications
Applicants must possess research qualifications and teaching skills corresponding to those obtained after successful completion of a period of employment as an assistant professor, but equivalent academic qualifications may also be accepted, i.e. applicants have typically 3-8 years of teaching and research experience after completion of their PhD.

It is required that non-Danish speakers within a short period (3 years as a maximum) acquire a reasonable knowledge of Danish. If necessary, the department will grant time off from teaching to attend Danish courses during the first two years of employment.

Permanent employment as associate professor at Aarhus BSS requires completion of the supervision course and the course Educational IT – Go Online provided by Centre for Teaching and Learning at Aarhus BSS or equivalent courses. If you have not completed the courses before commencement of employment, continued employment will be conditional on completion of the courses within a five year period.

The required qualifications are elaborated below:

1. Research qualifications

The department is ambitious in terms of research publications. Applicants are expected to have a well-documented international research profile with emphasis on innovative contributions in high standard, peer-reviewed publications:

The applicant must have produced and published a significant body of independent, high-quality research, and must demonstrate progression in the form of research publications that go beyond the PhD dissertation, either thematically, theoretically, methodologically and/or empirically.

Relevant outlets are journals and monographs. Publication in top political science journals or top field journals carries great weight. The same does publication of monographs at internationally recognized publishers.

A qualified applicant has at least three to five articles published or accepted for publication in high standard, international, peer-reviewed journals or fewer articles but also a book published with an internationally recognized publisher. A significant part must have been produced after finishing the PhD degree.

Emphasis will be put on recent productivity and take into account the number of years at present academic level.

Applicants must demonstrate the capacity to carry out independent research. An applicant is expected to have published sole-authored work and must document – Application Deadline:
1.06.2021
Faculty: Aarhus BSS
Institute/Faculty: Aarhus BSS
Academic contact person: Peter Munk Christiansen
Professor, Institutleder
+4587165685
Vacant positions: 1
Hours per week: 37
Expected date of accession: 01/01/2022
Side 1 af 3
through co-authorship declarations – substantial contributions to any co-authored publications.

In terms of evaluating the qualitative aspects of an applicant’s research competences, focus is on the publications submitted for assessment.

2. Didactical/pedagogical competences and experiences

Teaching and advising students at different levels is a main activity of an associate professor at the Department of Political Science. The Department is ambitious in terms... of our teaching programme at BA, MA and PhD level. A qualified applicant must have experience from teaching several courses at different levels and on different topics. 6-8 courses are normally a minimum requirement.

All applicants submit a teaching portfolio, where didactical/pedagogical competencies are carefully documented.

3. Qualifications relating to research cooperation and management, and knowledge sharing with the public

Applicants must have some experience in research cooperation and research management. Possible editorial experience from professional journals or edited volumes, and possible experience with planning and running professional conferences, workshops etc. also carries weight as do knowledge sharing with the public or in the form of contributions to textbooks.

4. External funding

Applicants are also encouraged to provide information about their ability to attract external research funding.

Who we are

The Department of Political Science is one of the six departments at Aarhus BSS, one of the five faculties at Aarhus University. Aarhus BSS unites the business and social science-related research fields and brings them closer together to reflect the close relationship between society and the business community. As part of a Top 100 university, Aarhus BSS – and specifically the Department of Political Science – has achieved the distinguished AASCB, AMBA and EQUIS accreditations.

At the Department of Political Science, we emphasise a dynamic and flexible research and teaching profile characterised by pluralism and openness. With around 90 academic staff members and 40 PhD students, we offer a lively and ambitious research and teaching environment.

The research carried out at the department not only covers a variety of political science disciplines, but also represents a variety of methodological approaches. This not only enables us to focus on new problem areas as they appear on the national and international political arenas, but also allows us to contribute actively to the development of the discipline. We also emphasise communicating our research results to the political/administrative system and to the public in general.

For more information about the Department of Political Science, please see here.

Further information

For further information about the position and the department, please contact Head of Department, Professor Peter Munk Christiansen, tel.: +45 8716 5685 or +45 3011 5340, email: pmc@ps.au.dk.

If you need help uploading your application or have any questions about the recruitment process, please contact HR Supporter Anne Arnfeldt Källberg, tel.: +45 8715 3631, email: aak@au.dk.

Place of work

Department of Political Science, Bartholins Allé 7, DK - 8000 Aarhus.

The evaluation process

Shortlisting is applied. This means that an appointment committee (assisted by the chair of the assessment committee) advises the head of department on which applicants are the best overall match for the department’s and the faculty’s recruitment needs and which possess the qualifications, competencies, experience and potential described above and in the faculty’s criteria for evaluating candidates to permanent positions here.

Through the shortlisting process, the head of department selects the applicants who are to receive a thorough assessment of their professional qualifications. The assessment committee will then assess these applicants. All applicants will be notified whether or not their applications have been shortlisted and sent to an expert assessment committee for evaluation. The selected applicants will be informed about the composition of the committee.

Please note that the assessment of applicants is based solely on the material received prior to the application deadline.

For further information about the recruitment process, shortlisting procedure and guidelines for assessment committees please visit this website.

International applicant?

Aarhus University offers a broad variety of services for international researchers and accompanying families, including relocation service and career counselling to expat partners: http://ias.au.dk/au-relocation-service/. Please find more information about entering and working in Denmark here: http://international.au.dk/research/

Terms of employment

The appointment is made in accordance with the Memorandum on Job Structure for Academic Staff at Danish Universities as well as the circular on the Collective Agreement for Academics Employed by the State (in Danish).

The job content and qualification requirements are described in further detail in the Ministerial Order on the Appointment of Academic Staff at Universities.

Application procedure

When you apply for this position it is mandatory to attach the following:

1. Application
Curriculum Vitae. You are encouraged to declare any periods of leave without research activity, including, for example, maternity leave, since your research activities are assessed in relation to your actual research time.

1 Education (diploma for master’s, PhD and possibly higher doctoral degree)
List of publications (the enclosed publications must be clearly marked on the list of publications)
1 Publications. Up to five publications can be included in the application. In the event of several authors the publications must be accompanied by a co-author statement concerning the applicant’s share of the collaborative work with the consent of the co-authors. Please use this template.
1 Teaching portfolio. The specific requirements regarding the documentation can be found here.
1 Materials which cannot be uploaded together with the application may be submitted in five copies to Aarhus BSS HR & PhD, Aarhus University, Tåsingegade 1, 2nd floor, DK-8000 Aarhus C.

Read more about how to apply for an academic post at Aarhus BSS here.

Aarhus University's ambition is to be an attractive and inspiring workplace for all and to foster a culture in which each individual has opportunities to thrive, achieve and develop. We view equality and diversity as assets, and we welcome all applicants.

The application must be submitted via Aarhus University's recruitment system, which can be accessed under the job advertisement on Aarhus University's website.

Aarhus University
Aarhus University is an academically diverse and research-intensive university with a strong commitment to high-quality research and education and the development of society nationally and globally. The university offers an inspiring research and teaching environment to its 38,000 students (FTEs) and 8,000 employees, and has an annual revenues of EUR 885 million. Learn more at www.international.au.dk/

Please apply here:
https://bss.au.dk/en/about-aarhus-bss/vacant-positions/job/associate-professor-in-political-science-1/?no_cache=1&cHash=e17da0671e4b31c6278f18a329f418e1

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: 9/16/2021
Date Posted: 6/14/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 8938

All Souls College, University of Oxford
Rank: Senior Research Fellowship in Political Science (excluding Political Theory)
Salary: £105,693 to £115,487 (and other benefits).

All Souls College invites applications for a Senior Research Fellowship tenable from 1 October 2022 (or date to be agreed) in Political Science.

All Souls is primarily a research institution, with particular strengths in the Humanities, Mathematics, and Social and Theoretical Sciences. A Senior Research Fellowship is of comparable academic standing to a statutory Professorship in the University of Oxford or to a pure-research tenured chair in the U.S. Applicants are expected to have a correspondingly distinguished record of achievement in research.

Those elected may, in addition, apply within the University for the title of 'Professor'.

The College, which occupies a prime central Oxford site, has buildings dating largely from the fifteenth and eighteenth century, including an outstanding library. It has about 80 Fellows, some of whom are studying for graduate degrees, and a well-established Visiting Fellows scheme. (There are no undergraduate members.) Senior Research Fellows are members of the Governing Body of the College and expected to play an active role in its governance as well as participating actively in its intellectual life and establishing links with relevant departments in the University for which they may undertake to do some teaching if they wish.

For further particulars and to complete the online application, see the College’s website: https://www.asc.ox.ac.uk/senior-research-fellowships

Closing date: 12 noon (UK time), Friday, 17 September 2021
Interviews: Thursday 3 or Friday 4 March 2022

All Souls College particularly welcomes applications from women and black and minority ethnic candidates, who are under-represented in academic posts in Oxford.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/17/2021
Date Posted: 6/3/2021
Salary: $140,000 - $149,999
eJobs ID: 8910

OTHER

Duke Kunshan University
Rank: Faculty Position in Political Economy

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications to a regular rank, tenure-track faculty position in political economy, with a research agenda that focuses substantively on North and/or sub-Saharan Africa. In addition to courses that focus on Africa, candidates must be able to teach introduction to political economy and upper-level courses in development. Mid-career and senior faculty are especially encouraged to apply.

As an international intellectual community that encourages diversity, openness and creative learning, DKU welcomes outstanding faculty from around the world who contribute diverse perspectives and experiences to a global learning and research environment. DKU particularly welcomes applications from underrepresented groups and minorities.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor’s degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master’s degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master’s degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of 8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master’s level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke’s educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate’s specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19287. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using “Political Economy” as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by October 15, 2021; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a subway-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9245

---

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: International Political Economy

The Graduate School of Public and International Affairs (GSPIA) at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications for a tenure-stream faculty position at the assistant professor level in the field of international affairs with a focus on international political economy, broadly defined. The position will begin in August 2022.

Applicants must have earned a Ph.D. in international affairs/relations, political science, public affairs, public policy, or a related field by the time of the appointment. A promise of excellence in scholarship and teaching is required. The successful candidate will have the capacity to contribute to GSPIA’s core teaching in public and international affairs.

While expertise in international political economy is required, we seek candidates with interdisciplinary interests and whose research and teaching complement the existing strengths of the School. Our ideal candidate may have broader expertise related to economic development in developing countries, roles of cities/regions, climate change, migration, foreign aid, neocolonialism, energy transition, global public health, cybersecurity, international organizations, trade, or foreign direct investment, among other specialties. Applications from candidates with specific regional expertise (e.g., East Asia, Middle East, Africa, Latin America, Russia, and Eastern Europe) are welcome. We are open to diverse theoretical and methodological approaches.

GSPIA is a dynamic, multidisciplinary school with a top-ranked international affairs and global policy specialization, focused on training future practitioners for careers in the public, private and non-profit sectors. GSPIA is home to several research centers that serve as points of outreach and intersection for faculty within our school, at Pitt, and externally. GSPIA faculty are connected broadly with colleagues and schools at the University of Pittsburgh, including the University Center for Social and Urban Research, PittCyber, the University Center for International Studies, and more. In addition, GSPIA also has a presence at the Pitt Washington Center in Washington, D.C. GSPIA’s students, staff, and faculty are committed to making significant contributions to society through public service.

We are committed to helping realize the vision of a more equitable and inclusive society. We embrace the diversity of experience of all members of our community, including those arising from differences of race, gender and gender identity, ethnicity, abilities/disabilities, age, religion, sexual orientation, political beliefs, socioeconomic status, geographic region, migrant/immigrant/refugee status, and veteran status. Our goal is a diverse, cosmopolitan community of faculty, staff, students, and alumni. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to advancing this goal. The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity, EOE, including disability/vets.

For questions about the position, please contact search committee chair Prof. Erica Owen (ericaowen@pitt.edu).

Applications will only be accepted through Pitt’s TalentCenter: https://bit.ly/3mOY1k7

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/27/2021

---

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Rochester Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor (TT)

Specializations: American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Other

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9238

The Department of Political Science at Rochester Institute of Technology invites candidates to apply for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Political Science for the 2022-2023 academic year, starting August 2022. We seek an energetic and enthusiastic colleague who will serve as an instructor, researcher, and mentor for our undergraduate majors and minors. The ideal candidate will have a background in American politics or political theory and will also be interested in questions of innovative governance. In particular, the department is interested in applicants with a background in public choice, PPE (politics, philosophy, and economics), common pool resource governance, or other innovative approaches to analyzing and approaching traditional questions in political science and policy. Candidates who can contribute pre-law courses or politics of science courses to the curriculum, including philosophy and politics of law or courses on politics and biomedicine, are strongly encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate will: (a) have teaching experience or will demonstrate the potential for quality teaching at the college/university level; (b) demonstrate potential to conduct independent research and to attract external funding; and (c) demonstrate interest in mentoring undergraduate students. The hire will be expected to teach a minimum of five undergraduate-level Political Science courses per year. Specific teaching assignments will be based on candidate qualifications and program needs, but are likely to include innovative approaches to state and local and American politics, and upper-level classes in areas relating to political economy, law, and governance. The position also requires academic advisement and ongoing mentoring of undergraduate students, participation in program assessment and evaluation activities, and service to the Department, College, and Institute.

Required Minimum Qualifications

Doctoral degree (PhD.) in political science or related field, expected by July 1, 2022;
Expertise in American politics or political theory;
Demonstrated interest in public choice, PPE, common pool resource governance, or other related fields;
Demonstrated potential to teach at the college/university level;
Demonstrated potential for conducting independent research;
Demonstrated potential to attract external funding;
Demonstrated interest in mentoring undergraduate students;
Ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the college’s continuing commitment to cultural diversity, pluralism, and individual differences.

Required Minimum Education Level
PhD

Faculty Rank (Tenure Status)
Tenure-Track

Faculty Rank
Assistant Professor

Employment Category
Fulltime

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

Application Deadline: 10/15/2021

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Tenured or Tenure-Track Faculty Position in Racial Justice and Conflict Transformation

The University of Notre Dame’s Keough School of Global Affairs invites applications for a tenured/tenure track position in racial justice and conflict transformation, based at the Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies (https://kroc.nd.edu/). Rank is open. Preference will be given to scholars-practitioners working on US racial domestic challenges with global connections and implications. The disciplinary specialization for the position is open and we are particularly interested in candidates whose research and practice transcends disciplinary boundaries. Candidates from underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.
While the primary appointment is at the Keough School, the successful candidate could also have an affiliation with another School or College at the University of Notre Dame.

The successful candidate will be expected to launch and direct a new initiative on racial justice, conflict transformation and policy at the Kroc Institute, including offering courses in their areas of expertise, developing collaborative partnerships with other Notre Dame units working on race and justice (such as Notre Dame Initiative on Race and Resilience and The Klaun Center for Civil & Human Rights) and conducting policy-relevant research on racial justice. This position is in line with Notre Dame’s broader effort to increase diversity, equity and inclusion on campus.

Financial resources will be available to launch the initiative in the first two years but the successful candidate will be expected and responsible for securing funds to continue the development of the initiative.

Application Instructions
All applicants are required to submit a cover letter and a CV. Evidence of teaching effectiveness is also welcomed. Junior candidates (including PhD students, postdocs, assistant or non-tenured associate professors) should also submit a statement of research, a teaching statement (including a summary of teaching evaluations), and arrange for the submission of three confidential letters of reference. All application materials must be submitted through the Interfolio online application system.

Nominations and inquiries may be sent via email to:
Prof. Asher Kaufman
Chair, Racial Justice and Conflict Transformation Search Committee
Kroc Institute for International Peace Studies
Keough School of Global Affairs
University of Notre Dame
akaufman2@nd.edu

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. The position will close to new applications on October 15, 2021. Apply here: https://apply.interfolio.com/92991

The University of Notre Dame supports the needs of dual career couples and has a Dual Career Assistance Program in place to assist relocating spouses and significant others with their job search. The University is also a member of the Greater Chicago Midwest Higher Education Recruitment Consortium

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/14/2021
Date Posted: 8/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9230

Georgetown University
Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor [Industrial Organization/Environmental Economics]

The McDonough School of Business at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in its Strategy, Economics, Ethics, and Public Policy Area. The position is for the ranks of assistant professor or tenured associate professor. We encourage applications from those with research interests in industrial organization, environmental economics, and who have either demonstrated or are capable of teaching excellence.

We encourage applicants to apply via Interfolio http://apply.interfolio.com/92778. Junior applicants should submit: (1) a cover letter; (2) a curriculum vita; (3) a job market paper; (4) teaching evaluations; and (5) up to three letters of recommendation. Senior applicants should submit (1) a cover letter and (2) a curriculum vita. We will consider applications on a rolling basis.

ABOUT THE MCDONOUGH SCHOOL OF BUSINESS
Located in Washington, D.C., the McDonough School of Business at Georgetown University offers unparalleled access to the world’s business, policy, and thought leaders. The school, which attracts faculty and students from around the world, is committed to developing principled leaders capable of making complex business decisions in a global environment and who are dedicated to serving both business and society. Georgetown McDonough offers undergraduate, MBA, Executive MBA, and specialized programs. More information can be found here.

ABOUT THE STRATEGY, ECONOMICS, ETHICS, AND PUBLIC POLICY AREA
The SEEP area includes individuals whose primary research and teaching interests lie in economics, international business, international political economy, and strategy. The area is collegial and multi-disciplinary, with several members crossing disciplinary boundaries in both research and teaching. More information can be found here.

ABOUT GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY
Georgetown University is one of the world’s leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service. Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation’s oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs. More information can be found here.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9215

Grinnell College
Rank: Department of Political Science/American Politics - Tenure-Track Position (Start Fall 2022)

GRINNELL COLLEGE. The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in American Politics with a focus on race and ethnicity beginning Fall 2022. Assistant Professor (Ph.D.) preferred; Instructor (ABD or foreign equivalent) or Associate Professor possible. Research and teaching interests might include, but are not limited to: the political behavior of specific demographic groups within the United States; politics of gender or intersectional identities; identity politics; and politics of inequality. Scholars who examine political minorities in the U.S. in a cross-national comparative... context are also encouraged to apply. High consideration will be given to individuals who can demonstrate educational, research, service, or other experiences that prepare them to provide leadership in mentoring and engaging with underrepresented and historically marginalized students and colleagues.

Grinnell College is a highly selective undergraduate liberal arts college with a strong tradition of social responsibility. In letters of application, candidates should discuss their potential to contribute to a college community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. To be assured of full consideration, all application materials should be received by September 24, 2021. Please visit our application website at https://jobs.grinnell.edu to find more details about the job and submit applications online. Candidates will need to upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, transcripts (copies are acceptable), a sample of scholarly written work, and provide email addresses for three references. Questions about this search should be directed to the search chair, Professor Danielle Lussier at PoliSci-Search@grinnell.edu or 641-269-3141.

We use E-Verify to check employment eligibility of our new hires. E-Verify is an Internet-based system operated by the Department of Homeland Security (DHS) and the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS). The system allows employers like Grinnell College to verify the employment eligibility of its employees, regardless of citizenship. Based on the information provided on Form I-9, E-Verify confirms this information with DHS and Social Security Administration (SSA) records.

Grinnell College is committed to establishing and maintaining a safe and nondiscriminatory educational environment for all College community members. It is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination in matters of admission, employment, and housing, and in access to and participation in its education programs, services, and activities. The college does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, national origin, age, sex, gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, marital status, veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth, religion, disability, creed, or any other protected class.

An offer for this position will be contingent on successful completion of a background check.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/24/2021
Date Posted: 8/18/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9193

University of Vienna
Rank: University Professor of Austrian Politics in the European Context

The professorship focuses on actors, processes, politics, and policies of the Austrian political system in the context of the European Union and its neighbouring countries. The successful candidate’s work includes the analysis of new challenges and developments such as international migration, pandemics, and illiberal trends, which challenge traditional notions of citizenship, participation, democratic legitimacy, and representation. In addition to thematic focus areas, introductory and in-depth teaching on the political systems of Austria and the EU is to be covered.

Successful candidates should have the following qualifications:

- Doctoral degree/PhD and post-doctoral experience at a university or other research institution
- Habilitation (venia docendi) in a subject field relevant to this position or an internationally accepted equivalent qualification is desirable
- Outstanding achievements in research, excellent publication record, international reputation
- Experience in designing, procuring and managing large research projects, as well as the willingness and ability to lead research groups
- Enthusiasm for excellent teaching, teaching experience at universities as well as the ability and willingness to teach students in all phases of their studies (bachelor’s, master’s, or doctoral level), to supervise academic theses and to promoting young academic colleagues

The University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to acquire, within three years, proficency in German sufficient for teaching in bachelor’s programmes and for participation in university committees. In addition, the University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to be prepared to take over responsibility on the organisational level of the Faculty and the University, if necessary.

We offer:

- a negotiable and attractive salary (classification according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff, allocation to job group A1; section 98 of the Universities Act 2002); the salary will be individually negotiated under consideration of the previous career development and the current income situation
- in addition to the statutory social insurance, the University of Vienna offers a pension fund to its employees
- a “start-up package”, in particular for the initiation of research projects
- a dynamic research location with well-established research funding provisions
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life
- comprehensive advice and support in relation to finding an accommodation, change of schools and dual career
- a wide range of support services offered by central service institutions

Applications in English should be submitted by e-mail to the Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences of the University of Vienna, Univ.-Prof. Hajo Boomgaarden, PhD, Rooseveltplatz 2, A-1090 Vienna (dekanat.sowi@univie.ac.at).
Reference no.: 490-48

Find more information here: https://personalwesen.univie.ac.at/en/jobs-recruiting/professorships/detail-page/news/austrian-politics-in-the-european-context/?no_cache=1&tx_news_pi1%5Bcontroller%5D=News&tx_news_pi1%5Baction%5D=detail&cHash=3dfc6db33a308a8122d82630c6ba5b

Start Date: Application Deadline: 9/29/2021
Date Posted: 8/18/2021
Salary: Negotiable
ejobs ID: 9185

University of Vienna
Rank: University Professor of Politics and Gender

The professorship is dedicated to the analysis of political processes, institutions, and norms from innovative, theory-based, intersectional gender perspectives. Areas of focus could include the comparative analysis of democratic transformations, the transformation of party systems, or of specific policy areas. The analysis should also contribute to a better understanding of gender as a category of power that structures society, politics, and the state.

Successful candidates should have the following qualifications:

- Doctoral degree/PhD and post-doctoral experience at a university or other research institution
- Habilitation (venia docendi) in a subject field relevant to this position or an internationally accepted equivalent qualification is desirable
- Outstanding achievements in research, excellent publication record, international reputation
- Experience in designing, procuring and managing large research projects, as well as the willingness and ability to lead research groups
- Enthusiasm for excellent teaching, teaching experience at universities as well as the ability and willingness to teach students in all phases of their studies (bachelor’s, master’s, or doctoral level), to supervise academic theses and to promoting young academic colleagues

The University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to acquire, within three years, proficiency in German sufficient for teaching in bachelor’s programmes and for participation in university committees. In addition, the University of Vienna expects the successful candidate to be prepared to take over responsibility on the organisational level of the Faculty and the University, if necessary.

We offer:

- a negotiable and attractive salary (classification according to the Collective Bargaining Agreement for University Staff, allocation to job group A1; section 98 of the Universities Act 2002); the salary will be individually negotiated under consideration of the previous career development and the current income situation
- in addition to the statutory social insurance, the University of Vienna offers a pension fund to its employees
- a “start-up package”, in particular for the initiation of research projects
- a dynamic research location with well-established research funding provisions
- attractive working conditions in a city with a high quality of life
- comprehensive advice and support in relation to finding an accommodation, change of schools and dual career
- a wide range of support services offered by central service institutions

Applications in English should be submitted by e-mail to the Dean of the Faculty of Social Sciences of the University of Vienna, Univ.-Prof. Hajo Boomgaarden, PhD, Rooseveltplatz 2, A-1090 Vienna (dekanat.sowi@univie.ac.at).

Reference no.: 490-49

Please find further information here:
https://personalwesen.univie.ac.at/en/jobs-recruiting/professorships/detail-page/news/politics-and-gender/?no_cache=1&tx_news_pi1%5Bcontroller%5D=News&tx_news_pi1%5Baction%5D=detail&cHash=68845729eb4850e9f28d827b45eed8

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/29/2021
Date Posted: 8/18/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9186

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Research Professor of Russian and Eurasian Studies Specializations: Russia, Southeast Asia, Western Europe

Objective:
United States Army War College
Research Professor of Russian and Eurasian Studies

To fill a full-time civilian faculty position at the U.S. Army War College (USAWC), Strategic Studies Institute, as provided under Title 10 USC 4021. The initial appointment may be up to three years, the first of which may be a trial period. Appointments may be renewed in one-to five-year increments thereafter. Academic rank and salary will be based on the selected candidate’s academic credentials, experience and professional accomplishments.

The Strategic Studies Institute (SSI) is the U.S. Army’s institute for geostategic and national security research and analysis. SSI serves as a valuable source of ideas, criticism, innovative approaches, and independent analyses. Its team of researchers conducts both self-initiated and directed research and analysis on a wide variety of national security subjects for an array of stakeholders in the Department of Defense but especially for senior Army leadership. SSI, which is part of the U.S. Army War College, is composed of civilian research professors, uniformed military officers, and a professional support staff.

The U.S. Army War College (USAWC) is the Army’s most senior institution for professional military education. It educates the top echelon of U.S. military officers of all services, U.S. government civilians, and military officers from up to 80 foreign countries yearly. It develops strategic leaders by providing a variety of rigorous curricula of theoretical and professional subjects. The curriculum is delivered two ways -- through a ten-month resident program (about 385 students) and a two-year distance education program (about 750 students); both lead to a Master’s of Strategic Studies accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.

The USAWC is located at idyllic Carlisle Barracks, Pennsylvania, home to a historic Army post that provides a collegial, vibrant, and secure work environment for its employees. The post is one of central Pennsylvania’s largest and most respected employers.

Responsibilities include:
- Serve as Research Professor of Russian and Eurasian Studies in the Strategic Studies Institute (SSI), the research institute of the USAWC.
- Performs research and publishes SSI studies, journal articles, essays, op-eds, blogs, books, and/or chapters, which are distributed to military leaders, policymakers, government agencies, think tanks, and academic institutions worldwide. (50%)
- Conducts both self-initiated research and directed research (at the request of the Army Staff, Joint Staff or Office of the Secretary of Defense) on Russian national security strategy and policy, including implications for the United States.
- Develop recommendations to achieve key national security objectives specifically oriented toward those factors that impact U.S. defense priorities, especially those of the U.S. Army.
- Designs individual and collective annual research and publication plans, in consultation with SSI leadership, addressing contemporary national security issues.
- Conducts both internal and external service in national security related areas. (30%)
- Liaises with and provides briefings and expertise in response to requests from aforementioned key stakeholders and other audiences.
- Leads, organizes, and implements SSI and USAWC professional collaboration, conferences, seminars, symposiums, and meetings

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
• Attends and participates in relevant academic conferences by presenting papers and/or acting as panel chair or discussant.
• Contributes to the educational mission of the USAWC through teaching, lecturing, and supervising student research projects.

Who May Apply: U.S. Citizens
For detailed information pertaining to the qualifications and other specifics of the position, including documents required for the application submission, please visit the link below or log onto USAJOBS directly at, https://www.usajobs.gov/.

Job Announcement Number: NEDQ214329
Open period: Monday, August 16, 2020 through Friday, October 8, 2021
https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/609223400
Submission Process: Please note that this is NOT a Title 5 (General Schedule) position, and the routine procedures for filing through the USAJobs.gov automated system should NOT be followed. Instead, please submit your complete application package and any requests for further information directly to the Office of the G1 at the email address listed below:
U.S. Army War College
Office of the G1
46 Ashburn Drive
(Anne Ely Hall, Room 233)
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil
(717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256
2

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: 10/8/2021
Date Posted: 8/17/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9180

Occidental College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Black Studies
Black Ecologies, Health, and the Environment

Occidental College is inviting applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the newly established Department of Black Studies. We are seeking an assistant professor whose scholarship centers on fields such as Black ecologies, Black community health, reproductive justice, or race and the environment. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Africana Studies, African American Studies, African Diaspora Studies, American Studies, Anthropology, Black Studies, Environmental Studies, Geography, History, Law, Literature, Philosophy, Political Science, Sociology, Urban Planning, or a related discipline. The new faculty member will have the opportunity to cross-list courses with the Department of Urban and Environmental Policy and/or to contribute to minors such as Public Health and Food Studies. We are seeking a scholar who is grounded in interdisciplinary Black Studies methodologies and able to offer introductory and intermediate courses as well as advanced upper division seminars in Black Studies. We are especially interested in candidates who can develop community-based learning initiatives and deepen the connections between Occidental College’s Black Studies Department and the wider Los Angeles community. This search is part of Occidental’s new multi-year initiative to actively support the study of the life, culture, and history of the African diaspora and to support campus-wide efforts on behalf of equity and justice. The position will begin in August 2022.

Please submit a (1) cover letter detailing your interest in teaching Black Studies in a liberal arts college environment; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) research statement; (4) a statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students; (5) samples of scholarly work (6) evidence of teaching success; (7) and arrange for three confidential letters of recommendation to be submitted to Patricia Micciche at blackstudieseco@oxy.edu. Semi-finalists will be asked to submit sample syllabi for “Introduction to Black Studies” and one “dream course.” Review of Applications will begin on October 15, 2021.

For a description of Occidental’s Black Studies Department and its course offerings, please visit our website at: https://www.oxy.edu/academics/areas-study/black-studies

Occidental is a small liberal arts college in the city of Los Angeles, and it is among the most diverse liberal arts colleges in the United States. The normal teaching schedule is the equivalent of five courses per year. Occidental College policies for early career leaves for untenured faculty and sabbaticals for tenured faculty are very generous. The mission of Occidental College is to provide a gifted and diverse group of students with a total educational experience of the highest quality—one that prepares them for leadership in an increasingly complex, interdependent, and pluralistic world. We strongly encourage applications from candidates who will further Occidental’s mission of excellence and equity in their teaching, scholarship, and service.

Occidental College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by State or Federal Law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College’s strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information.

We will consider for employment all qualified applicants, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles’ Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for any part of the application or employment process, please contact Human Resources (hr@oxy.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9166

Carnegie Mellon University
Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in political science and international relations, with a specialization in the relationships among emerging technologies, national security, and international relations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022. The application deadline is Monday, November 1, 2021.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/92233

Materials to be submitted:
• Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
• CV;
• Research Statement;
• Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
• Two scholarly writing samples;
• Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
• Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9154

College of the Holy Cross
Rank: Assistant Director of Gifts, Records and Data Integrity

Assistant Director of Gifts, Records and Data Integrity

About College of the Holy Cross:

Founded in 1843 in Worcester, Massachusetts, the College of the Holy Cross is among the nation’s leading liberal arts institutions. A highly selective, four-year, exclusively undergraduate college of 3,100 students, Holy Cross is renowned for offering a rigorous, personalized education in the Jesuit, Catholic tradition.

Holy Cross highly values the unique skills, perspective, talents and passion that each employee contributes to its learning community. To work at The College is to accept an invitation to participate in the growth and development of all campus members, students, faculty and staff. The College’s commitment to diversity is an important feature of the Holy Cross education. Informed by the presence of diverse interpretations of the human experience, Holy Cross is building a community marked by freedom, mutual respect, and civility. We seek others who support our values of diversity and inclusiveness. Job candidates of all diverse backgrounds who embrace the open and inclusive culture of Holy Cross are welcome and encouraged to apply.

Job Description:

Reporting to the Director of Campaign Management and Advance-ment Operations, the Assistant Director of Gifts, Records and Data Integrity is a key member of the Advancement team who oversees the prompt and accurate recording of gifts and pledges as well as the maintenance, enhancement and safeguarding of all biographical and contact information on alumni, parents, donors and other constituents. The Assistant Director helps to define and support related business strategies, goals and information needs that serve as the foundation for successful engagement and fundraising efforts for the division.

Requirements:

Major Areas of Responsibility

- Oversees all aspects of gift accounting and biographical records within the college’s database of record.
- In collaboration with key advancement colleagues, analyzes departmental information needs, identifying their impact on data entry and work flow. Assists in the development of long and short term plans to meet business needs with a focus on customer service, best practice, continuous improvement, increased efficiencies, systems integration and the innovative use of technology.
- Leads the development and implementation of ongoing data quality standards and internal financial controls following best practices in the industry.
- Reviews, implements and documents comprehensive policies, procedures and work flow for all aspects of the gift and records team.
- Builds and maintains clear lines of communication and high staff morale on the gifts and records team consonant with the college mission and values.
- Builds collaborative partnerships with key members of the advancement program areas to ensure proper support and an integrated approach to data management.
- Ensures fundraisers are informed and alerted regarding incoming gift from prospects as needed.
- Works closely with the Director of Systems and Technology to develop protocols that optimize the use of the departmental database, develop and maintain data integrity reporting and help ensure the accuracy of fundraising and campaign reports.
- Works closely with the Research and Prospect Management Team to enhance, maintain and share data that assists in the identification and tracking of prospects.
- Partner with the Office of Finance to ensure compliance with cash handling policies, IRS Gift Accounting guidelines and to provide documentation as needed.
- Establishes and maintains collaborative partnerships with colleagues in key department on campus to ensure the timely exchange of critical biographical data
- Supervises all members of the Gifts and Records team, providing training, guidance and support for day to day responsibilities and overall work flow.
- Designs and provides ongoing gifts and records training for staff and student workers.
- Ensures successful daily reconciliation of gift processing, investigates discrepancies and communicates potential variances and/or significant changes to fundraising totals to key leaders in Advancement.
- Works closely with the Advancement Data Coordinator to ensure successful recruitment, hiring and training of student workers.
- Participate in the execution of daily gift and records tasks.
- Ensures proper handling of questions from donors, alumni, staff and volunteers as needed.
- Remain informed of central issues in the Advancement profession, maintain best practices in gift accounting and records management in accordance with CASE standards.
- Participates in on-going professional development activities as relevant, to maintain and enhance skills and abilities and stay abreast of current trends in Gift Accounting and Records Management.

Minimum Qualifications

- Bachelor’s Degree and a minimum of 3 years of relevant experience, preferably in gift accounting and records management.
- A minimum of 2 years of direct experience with relational databases.
- Experience in hiring, training, supervising, and evaluating staff.
- Strong leadership and collaboration skills with a commitment to a team-based work environment.
- Natural aptitude for technology and expertise with MS Office, including expert level use of Excel.
- Knowledge of IRS regulations for gift accounting, CASE standards and Best Practices in Gifts and Records management.
- Ability to problem-solve and use analytical skills to develop and implement creative solutions.
- Strong interpersonal, written and verbal communication skills and attention to detail. Ability to work both independently and as a collaborative member of the Advancement team.
- Ability to take initiative to work proactively, meet deadlines, organize and prioritize multiple projects, think strategically, and work with numbers and data.
- Exhibit personal integrity and ability to appropriately handle confidential and sensitive information.
- Exhibit a positive attitude, strong work ethic, and sound professional judgment.

Core Competencies

- Dependability
- Flexibility
- Attention to detail
- Service Oriented
- Excellent Written & Verbal Communication
- Proficient Problem Solving
- Understands Risk Management
- Excellent Innovation/Creativity
- Strong Teamwork & Team Facilitation
- Strong Interpersonal Skills
- Ability to independently prioritize tasks and meet deadlines
- Ability to meet the needs of a diverse fundraising program
- Understands, values and respects diversity as an individual, in a team and within groups while fostering an inclusive and supportive environment.

Please note: To prevent the infection and spread of COVID-19, and as an integral part of its public health and safety measures, College of the Holy Cross requires that all successful applicants show proof of full vaccination by an FDA-approved COVID-19 vaccine before beginning employment, unless an exemption from this policy has been granted. Applicants believing they need an accommodation of this policy because of a disability, sincerely-held religious belief, or otherwise should inform Human Resources after an offer of employment is extended; please do not include any medical, genetic, or religious information on your application materials.

Additional Information:

This is a full time, exempt level position.

College Description

The College of the Holy Cross is a private, Jesuit Catholic, undergraduate institution serving approximately 3,100 students. Founded in

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
1843, Holy Cross is the oldest Catholic college in New England and has a tradition of academic excellence. It is located atop Mount Saint James in Worcester, Massachusetts. The picturesque, 174-acre campus is an award-winning and registered arboretum.

Region Description

Worcester is a city of approximately 170,000 people centrally located in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. It is approximately one hour from Boston, Hartford, and Providence, and three hours from New York City. Worcester is known as the Heart of the Commonwealth. Worcester offers many cultural and recreational opportunities.

The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action in the workplace.

A member of the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts (HECCMA).

To review our Employee Benefit Options, please go to: https://www.holycross.edu/human-resources/benefits

Application Instructions:

Please attach a cover letter addressing the position requirements along with your resume.

In your cover letter please address how your work might support the College’s mission as a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college (see http://www.holycross.edu/mission) and its core commitment to diversity and inclusion. Please provide examples of any past work that illuminate your commitments in these areas. For more information, please visit http://www.holycross.edu/diversity.

Review of applications will begin as received and continue until the position has been filled.

To apply, visit https://apprkr.com/2433191

The College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,000 students and is located in a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, advising, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate commitment to the educational benefits of a richly diverse community. Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its member-educational benefits of a richly diverse community. Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts (http://www.hecema.org) and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (https://new-england.hercjobs.org/)

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/
ejid-331a19319a43b2419dcb5473bda65d3

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9162

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Middle Eastern Politics
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Middle Eastern Politics. The Department of Politics is seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position in Middle Eastern politics. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at http://dof.princeton.edu/academicjobs.

Junior candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Middle Eastern Politics Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings at this time. We will begin reviewing applications on September 13, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00006
Start Date:
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
ejobs ID: 9157

Princeton University

Rank: Full, Associate, or Assistant Professor Indigenous and Native North American Studies

Princeton University is undertaking a search for faculty members at all academic ranks in any field in the Humanities and the Social Sciences, and across all geographic areas, as part of a major effort to advance Indigenous and Native North American Studies in teaching and research across the university. The search is expected to yield multiple positions, including at least one at the rank of tenured full professor. These positions will support the significant expansion of Indigenous and Native North American Studies on campus, broadening and deepening curricular offerings and research opportunities. Appointments may be made in a single department or across units.

In addition to contributing to their own department and scholarly discipline, candidates should be prepared to work with students, faculty, and alumni to promote and sustain a vital, innovative, and intellectually expansive community for Indigenous and Native North American Studies and Indigenous-centered scholarship at Princeton.

Ph.D. expected. Candidates must demonstrate research excellence and a strong publishing record, commensurate with their rank, and be committed to undergraduate and graduate teaching. The university is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community with a culturally diverse faculty. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in their chosen fields.

Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae and a list of references (to be contacted later in the search process). No writing samples are required at this time.
University of Notre Dame

Rank: Faculty Position in Sustainable Energy Policy

The University of Notre Dame’s Keough School of Global Affairs in collaboration with ND Energy is seeking a faculty member for a tenure-track position in Sustainable Energy Policy whose research and teaching interests focus on sustainable energy policy or energy transitions in a global context.

Applicants at the assistant, associate or full professor level will be considered, with a preference for candidates with at least two years of post-doctoral experience. A PhD is a requirement for the position; relevant fields might include engineering, public policy, political science, law, economics, business, environmental studies, and geology.

While demonstrating excellence in research and teaching is important for this position, scholars with direct experience working in energy policy and program analysis with international organizations, governments or non-governmental organizations are encouraged to apply. Applicants should have a strong interest in interdisciplinary collaboration.

The successful candidate will be based in the Keough School where they will contribute to policy-oriented research and teaching; concurrent appointments with other units may be possible. They will also serve as a bridge to the scholars affiliated with the ND Energy Center, which fosters energy-related research, education, and outreach. The Keough School advances integral human development through research, policy and practice; transformative educational programs; and partnerships for global engagement. It promotes interdisciplinary research on critical issues in global affairs, offers a master’s degree as well as undergraduate and doctoral programs, and maintains an office in Washington D.C.

Application Instructions

All applicants are required to submit a cover letter and a CV. Evidence of teaching effectiveness is also welcomed. Junior candidates (including PhD students, postdocs, assistant or non-tenured associate professors) should also arrange for the submission of three confidential letters of reference. All application materials must be submitted through the Interfolio online application system: https://apply.interfolio.com/91995

Nominations and inquiries may be sent via email to:
Ted Beatty
Professor and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs
Keough School for Global Affairs
ebeaty@nd.edu

University of Washington

Rank: Assistant Professor, Environmental Justice or Development Studies

Subfield(s): International Relations, Open, Other

The Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Washington (Seattle) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the fields of environmental justice and/or development studies. We welcome all methodological approaches. We encourage applications from scholars who work on areas that include but are not limited to climate change and its effects; resource management and policy; migration and urbanism; or intersecting inequalities in the Global South.

UW faculty engage in teaching, research, and service. This position has an anticipated start date of Autumn 2022 and will have a 9-month service period. The successful candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses in their areas of specialization, as well as other comparative and international studies classes, teaching four courses per academic year over three quarters.

The Henry M. Jackson School has a strong commitment to diversity and equity and inclusion. Information on the School’s charter can be found at https://jsis.washington.edu/about/diversity-equity/

A PhD or foreign equivalent in International Studies or a related field is required by the start of the appointment. Candidates who are ABD and preparing to complete the PhD will be considered.

The search is open to specialists working in any world region as well as in global approaches. We welcome applicants from fields including African/Africana Studies, Anthropology, Development Studies, Environmental Studies, European Studies, Ethnic Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Geography, Global Studies, Indigenous Studies, Middle East Studies, Political Ecology, Political Science, Public Policy, Religious Studies, Russian Studies, and Sociology.

Applicants must submit the following documents at http://apply.interfolio.com/91165

• Letter of application (A 2-3 page statement that includes a description of research, teaching interest, and future projects);
• CV;
• Three letters of recommendation;
• Diversity and Equity statement (A one-page statement that describes how applicant’s research, teaching, and service at the University will contribute to a culture of inclusion and campus diversity.)

Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Please contact Professor José

September 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

143
Antonio Lucero (jal26@uw.edu) with any questions regarding the search.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
University of Washington is an affirmative action and equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, marital status, pregnancy, genetic information, gender identity or expression, age, disability, or protected veteran status.

Commitment to Diversity
The University of Washington is committed to building diversity among its faculty, librarian, staff, and student communities, and articulates that commitment in the UW Diversity Blueprint (http://www.washington.edu/diversity/diversity-blueprint/). Additionally, the University’s Faculty Code recognizes faculty efforts in research, teaching and/or service that address diversity and equal opportunity as important contributions to a faculty member’s academic profile and responsibilities (http://www.washington.edu/admin/rules/policies/FCG/FCCH24.html#2432).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9141

University of Washington
Rank: Assistant Professor: Law, Societies & Justice
Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other

Position Description
The Department of Law, Societies & Justice (LSJ) at the University of Washington in Seattle invites applications for a full-time, tenure track Assistant Professor who specializes in the social scientific study of race/ethnicity as it relates to law, rights, and justice. This position holds a 9-month service term and is expected to start in September 2022. LSJ offers undergraduate students a dynamic and engaged interdisciplinary liberal arts education focused on law, rights, and justice. LSJ also offers a graduate certificate in socio-legal studies for PhD students from a variety of disciplines. The successful candidate will teach a large introductory course that focuses on law, rights, and justice as well as other courses that reflect their areas of expertise. University of Washington faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Qualifications
LSJ seeks to hire a scholar whose research and teaching focus on race, ethnicity, law, and rights, and whose scholarship includes topics not currently covered by the department such as environmental justice or health. Other considerations will include: evidence of research excellence and productivity; excellence in, and passion for, undergraduate teaching; interdisciplinarity and fit with the LSJ mission; service, leadership and collegiality; and clear evidence of a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. A PhD or foreign equivalent in a social science field is required by the start of the appointment.

Instructions
Applications should include a current CV, a cover letter describing research and teaching interests and fit with LSJ, up to two samples of publications or other scholarly work, a teaching statement and evidence of teaching effectiveness, a diversity, equity and inclusion statement, and three letters of recommendation. Candidate materials should be electronically submitted via Interfolio here: https://apply.interfolio.com/90932. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2021. Questions about the application process should be directed to: Professor Steve Herbert, Search Committee Chair; skherb@uw.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9140

Princeton University
Rank: The Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics

The Princeton University Center for Human Values invites applications for the Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics for a position starting in September 2022. The Shapiro Fellowship supports outstanding scholars studying ethical issues arising from developments in medicine, the biological sciences, or population health. We particularly encourage proposals focusing on problems of practical importance that have broader theoretical interest.

The Shapiro Fellow will spend from one to three years at Princeton conducting research and teaching the equivalent of one course each year (subject to sufficient enrollments and approval by the Dean of the Faculty). They will participate in the Ira W. DeCamp Seminar in Bioethics and will be invited to participate in other activities of the University Center for Human Values including a year-long research seminar for visiting fellows and Center faculty.

Qualifications
Applications welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D. by the start date, normally beginning September 1, 2022. Applicants should not have more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the date of appointment. An applicant may have a background in any area of ethical studies, not necessarily in bioethics. However, the proposed research plan should be related to the field of bioethics.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant’s previous accomplishments and the promise of the proposed research project in bioethics. The capacity to contribute to the University’s teaching program will also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment
The term of the fellowship is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2022, with the possibility of renewal for up to two additional years pending satisfactory performance. Appointment will be made to the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate; the Shapiro Fellow will also carry the title of Lecturer, if teaching. Princeton University offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply
Candidates must submit an online application at https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=21382.

A complete application will include the following supporting materials:
1. A curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words). Please provide an indicative title in the heading;
3. A scholarly paper (of no more than 12,000 words, not including bibliography) representing the applicant’s scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who should be prepared to comment specifically about the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Monday, November 15, 2021, 11:59 p.m. EST. We do not accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference should be submitted by Monday, November 22, 2021. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately so letters of reference received after the priority deadline may put candidates at a disadvantage.

Decisions will be announced in late March, 2022. This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9116

---

Wheaton College
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other
Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2022. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specialties at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu.

Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu/postings/3166. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 24, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by September 24, 2021.

Wheaton is a private coeducational liberal arts college within easy commuting distance of Boston and Providence. We have nearly 1,800 undergraduates from 38 U.S. States and 58 countries. Nearly 24% of our undergraduates are U.S. students of color and 8% are international citizens. Wheaton College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group on the basis of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, race, color, religion, national origin, veteran status, genetic information, or disability. In a continuing effort to maintain and enrich an intellectually diverse learning environment, the Department and the College actively encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups. For more information about the college, visit our website at www.wheatoncollege.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9118

---

Naval War College
Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS AD-1701-03

Launch your scholarly career at one of the nation’s largest and most vibrant graduate teaching departments in the interdisciplinary field of foreign policy analysis and international security. The National Security Affairs (NSA) Department at the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island seeks to fill an anticipated vacancy beginning in July 2022 for a tenure-track assistant professor of national security affairs.

U.S. Naval War College. The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

---

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

National Security Affairs Department. The NSA Department is one of the college’s core academic teaching departments and is composed of scholars and practitioners engaged in a wide range of teaching, research, and outreach. You can learn more about the NSA Department at our webpage: https://usnwc.edu/Faculty-and-Departments/Academic-Departments/National-Security-Affairs-Department Responsibilities. Specific responsibilities include: teaching two distinctive common core graduate-level security studies survey courses, collaborating in the development of common core curricula, developing and teaching elective courses as desired, scholarly research and publication, and college service. There is no requirement or expectation to attract external funding. Maximum teaching load excluding optional elective classes is 2/2/0 based on a 10-month trimester system. This involves teaching up to two seminar sections (single preparation) of no more than 16 students in the 13-week fall and winter trimesters, with a spring trimester and summer inter-sessional period devoted primarily to research, curriculum development, and college service. All positions are year-round (12-month). The college is a tenure-granting institution.

Qualifications. Qualified candidates must have a relevant Ph.D. and a promising scholarly agenda in international security to be a successful assistant professor. Concentrations include international relations, foreign policy analysis, U.S. government, or U.S. foreign policy. Candidates with Ph.D. in hand by July 2022 are encouraged to apply. Candidates must be U.S. citizens capable of obtaining a Department of Defense security clearance at the SECRET level.

Salary. Rank and salary commensurate in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule for assistant professor. This compensation package is accompanied by a generous federal employee benefits package that includes health insurance with employer contribution, retirement savings plan, paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits.

Application Procedures. Applications will be accepted through 11:59 pm (EDT) September 30, 2021. The application package must include the following: 1) cover letter; 2) Curriculum Vitae; 3) research agenda (no more than 5 pages); 4) teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (if available); and, 5) three letters of recommendation sent separately.

Applicants must reference VA#NWC-21-09 and forward their application package to: nwc-21-09@usnwc.edu.

Signed letters of recommendation should be sent via email to jamie.hatch@usnwc.edu (preferred method) or be mailed to:

Department of National Security Affairs
U.S. Naval War College
686 Cushing Road
Newport, RI 02841-1207
ATTN: Jamie Hatch

Please direct any questions about the position or the institution to the Department Chair, Professor Derek Reveron, at derek.reveron@usnwc.edu.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veteran’s preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty) to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference, and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.)

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Date Posted: 8/2/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9107

Williams College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Asian American Studies

The American Studies Program at Williams College seeks to make a tenure-track appointment in Asian American Studies, to start July 1, 2022, at the rank of Assistant Professor (in exceptional cases, a more advanced appointment may be considered). The Ph.D. is expected by the time the appointment begins. The program seeks to complement and expand the expertise of existing faculty who teach Asian American topics, at a time when the College is working towards building an Asian American Studies program.

We are particularly interested in scholars doing comparative ethnic studies work, especially at the intersection of Asian American and African American/Black studies, but we welcome applications from those working on other topics as well. We also have a strong preference for those who demonstrate a commitment to the interdisciplinary nature and methodologies of American Studies in their research and teaching. The teaching load is two courses per semester and a three-week-long winter-study course every other January. The successful applicant will be expected to teach courses in their specialties and periodically offer the introductory American Studies course (AMST 101) and the junior-level theories and methods course (AMST 301). The candidate should be a committed and imaginative scholar with an established record of excellence in scholarship and teaching and a willingness to help build the American Studies program at Williams. The hire will join three other Asian Americanists at the college.

American Studies at Williams is a small but vibrant program with a diverse faculty and dynamic and engaged majors, whose numbers are growing. Created in 1940, it is one of the oldest American Studies programs in the country and has been at the forefront at Williams in teaching courses that foreground issues of race and racism, class, gender/sexuality, globalization, and diaspora, among others. We are especially interested in candidates from historically under-represented groups, candidates whose scholarship and teaching enrich the diversity and intellectual vibrancy of our academic communities, and candidates who have experience working effectively with students who are widely diverse with regard to race, ethnicity, nationality, ability, gender, sexual orientation, and religion.

Please send the following application materials to the chair of the search committee, Prof. Dorothy Wang, Chair of the American Studies Program, via Interfolio http://apply.interfolio.com/91372: a letter of application, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample of no more than 25 pages, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three letters of recommendation. All applications received by Oct. 11, 2021 will receive full consideration. Preliminary video interviews begin at the end of October. Finalists will be invited to Williamstown for campus interviews in mid- to late November, possibly into early December.

All offers of employment are contingent on completion of a background check. Further information is available at: http://dean-faculty.williams.edu/prospective-faculty/background-check-policy/.

Williams is a liberal arts institution located in the Berkshire Hills of western Massachusetts. The college has built its reputation on outstanding teaching and scholarship and on the academic excellence of its approximately 2,000 students. Please visit the Williams website (http://williams.edu). Beyond meeting fully its legal obligations for non-discrimination, Williams is committed to building a diverse and inclusive community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive together.

Start Date: 9106
Applicant Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/2/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9106

Occidental College
Rank: Associate or Full Professor
Global Black Studies

Associate or Full Professor
Global Black Studies

Occidental College is inviting applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the newly established Department of Black Studies. This search is part of Occidental’s new multi-year initiative to actively support the study of the life, culture, and history of the African diaspora and to support campus-wide efforts on behalf of equity and justice. We are seeking an associate or full professor in the humanities or social sciences who approaches Black Studies from a global perspective. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Africana Studies, African American Studies, African Diaspora Studies, American Studies, English, History, Sociology, Media Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, or a related discipline. We are looking for candidates who either specialize in regions outside the continental United States or take transnational and comparative approaches to the study of Black life and culture. We are especially interested in candidates who study 20th and 21st century Black migrations, cultural practices and productions, political movements, or social justice initiatives. We are seeking a scholar who is grounded in interdisciplinary Black Studies methodologies and able to offer introductory Black Studies courses as well as introductory and advanced upper division Black Studies seminars centered on the modern and contemporary African diaspora. The position will begin in August 2022.

Please submit a (1) cover letter detailing your interest in teaching Black Studies in a liberal arts college environment; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) research statement; (4) a statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students; (5) samples of scholarly work (6) sample syllabi for “Intro to Black Studies” (7) evidence of teaching success; (8) and three confidential letters of recommendation to Patricia Micciche at blackstudiesglobal@oxy.edu. Review of Applications will begin on September 10, 2021.

For a description of Occidental’s Black Studies Department and its course offerings, please visit our website at: https://www.oxy.edu/academics/areas-study/black-studies

Occidental is a small liberal arts college in the city of Los Angeles, and it is among the most diverse liberal arts colleges in the United States. The normal teaching schedule is the equivalent of five courses per year. Occidental College policies for early career leaves for untenured faculty and sabbaticals for tenured faculty are very generous. The mission of Occidental College is to provide a gifted and diverse group of students with a total educational experience of the highest quality—one that prepares them for leadership in an increasingly complex, interdependent, and pluralistic world. We strongly encourage applications from candidates who will further Occidental’s mission of excellence and equity in their teaching, scholarship, and service.

Occidental is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by State or Federal Law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College’s strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Summer research grants, moving expenses, start-up funds, and a reduced teaching load may be available. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information.

We will consider for employment all qualified applicants, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles’ Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for
Brown University
Rank: Professor of International and Public Affairs (Human Rights)

Watson Human Rights

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University invites applications for a tenured, senior position (associate or full professor) in the field of Human Rights. We are seeking a scholar of human rights whose work may include -- but is not limited to -- topics such as indigenous rights, civil rights for marginalized communities, gender rights and sexual violence, freedom of expression and assembly, rights to asylum from persecution and conflict, rights to due process, labor rights, environmental rights, rights to basic standards of living and healthcare, domestic and international human rights instruments and institutions, peacebuilding, and transitional justice. We are open to scholars working on domestic or international settings. This new faculty position, to begin in July 2022, stems from a broader initiative at the Watson Institute anchored in our burgeoning Center for Human Rights and Humanitarian Studies.

The faculty position will involve a joint appointment between the Watson Institute and a relevant tenure-granting disciplinary department at Brown. Such departments include History, Africana Studies, Sociology, Anthropology, Political Science, and Economics. Across all possible disciplines, we seek a theoretically innovative scholar with demonstrated success in conducting empirical research. We are especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute through their research, teaching, and service to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

A successful candidate must have an outstanding record of scholarly achievement, a proven record of successful research funding, and a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising.

All candidates should submit: 1) a cover letter describing research completed and planned, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a short writing sample, and 4) a teaching statement. We ask that in both the cover letter and teaching statement, the candidate describe how their work fosters inclusive learning and diversity.

All candidates should also include the names of five references whom the search committee can contact at an appropriate time. The list of references can be submitted via the "additional documents" field in Interfolio.

Review of applications will begin on December 15, 2021.

Apply here: https://facultysearch.interfolio.com/10128/positions/77465

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9084

Brown University
Rank: Professor of International and Public Affairs (Racialized and Ethnic Conflict/Violence)

Racialized and Ethnic Conflict/Violence

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position in racialized and ethnic conflict/violence to begin in July 2022. We are seeking applicants who research focuses on various aspects of racialized or ethnically-motivated violence, coercion, and conflict. Research of interest includes, but is not limited to, topics such as the origins and growth of white supremacy movements, the proliferation of ethnic supremacy movements globally, the policing of marginalized communities, laws and institutions that aggravate ethnic and racial conflict, ethnic conflict and civil war, and ethnically-motivated genocide.

The faculty position will involve a joint appointment between the Watson Institute and a relevant tenure-granting disciplinary department at Brown. Such departments include History, Africana Studies, Sociology, Anthropology, Political Science, and Economics. Across all possible disciplines, we seek a theoretically innovative scholar with demonstrated success in conducting empirical research. We are especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute through their research, teaching, and service to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Candidates at all ranks are welcome. A successful senior candidate must have an outstanding record of scholarly achievement, a proven record of successful research funding, and a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising. A successful junior candidate must be engaged in a research program with the potential to influence their field, and a strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising.

Junior candidates must have completed the PhD by the time of appointment. Review of applications will begin October 15, 2021, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

All candidates should submit: 1) a cover letter describing research completed and planned, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a short writing sample, and 4) a teaching statement. We ask that in both the cover letter and teaching statement, the candidate describe how their work fosters inclusive learning and diversity.

Senior candidates should include the names of five references whom the search committee can contact at an appropriate time. The list of references can be submitted via the "additional documents" field in Interfolio.

Junior candidates should have three letters of reference and their official graduate transcript uploaded to Interfolio at the time of the application. The confidential recommendation letters should be uploaded to Interfolio by the referee.

Apply here: https://facultysearch.interfolio.com/10128/positions/77721
University of Maryland, College Park
Rank: Professional Track Faculty - Lecturer

Professional Track Position - Lecturer

The Department of Government and Politics at the University of Maryland is seeking a Lecturer in the areas of political methodology and environmental politics. This position is a 9-month appointment. It is a professional track position with the possibility of renewal and a non-tenure promotion track. The Department of Government and Politics is committed to diversity (see our diversity statement at https://gvpt.umd.edu/node/7293), and particularly welcomes applicants that contribute to the diversity of the department, field, and profession.

This position will include teaching and advising responsibilities for the multidisciplinary undergraduate major in Environmental Science and Policy, with a concentration in Politics and Policy (ENSP-PP). Faculty applicants must be prepared to teach an upper-level seminar in Advanced Topics in Environmental Policy Analysis and a 300-level course in Global Environmental Politics. The ability to teach a class on Environmental Justice is a plus. This position entails significant faculty advising. This includes working with ENSP-PP students to approve any course substitutions, supervising and grading their internship portfolios, and advising them on their career plans.

The lecturer position will also include teaching and advising responsibilities for the Applied Political Analytics MS degree (APAN). Courses in the program include topics of American Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics, Data Management, Public Policy, Statistical Methods, and Research Design, each with an emphasis on applied quantitative analytics. Faculty member will teach 1-2 APAN courses each academic semester and formally mentor/advise assigned APAN students in research and professional development.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. degree; teaching experience; strong quantitative training; experience in teaching courses in environmental politics and political methodology, and interest in advising both graduate and undergraduate students.

Requirements:
1. Cover Letter
2. Curriculum Vita
3. Teaching portfolio (e.g. syllabi, student evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy)
4. Three letters of reference

Application Information: Candidates should post their cover letter of interest, curriculum vitae, teaching portfolio (e.g. syllabi, student evaluations, statement of teaching philosophy), and have three letter writers send their letters of recommendation using the University of Maryland eTerp System. To start this process applicants will goto: http://ejobs.umd.edu/postings/85564. Best Consideration date for applications and letters of support is August 18, 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9083

Brown University
Rank: Professor of Cybersecurity and International and Public Affairs
Specializations: International Security, Defense, Intelligence

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position in “cyber and security” to begin in July 2022. We are seeking applicants whose research focuses on various aspects of the intersection between cyber technologies and human security. Research of interest includes, but is not limited to, topics such as the impact of algorithm-based surveillance on marginalized communities, the strategic manipulation of cyber information for geopolitical gain, the intersection between social media and surveillance, the implications of autonomous weapon systems and drone warfare, and the development of offensive and defensive cyber weaponry.

This faculty position will involve a joint appointment between the Watson Institute and a relevant tenure-granting disciplinary department at Brown. We are seeking applicants who have both proven technical expertise and the ability to engage existing areas of strength in the Watson Institute. We welcome applicants with doctoral degrees from all relevant disciplines, including STEM fields (e.g., Computer Science, Applied Mathematics and the social sciences (e.g., Sociology, Economics, Political Science, Anthropology, History, Africana Studies). The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute through their research, teaching, and service to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Candidates at all ranks are welcome. A successful senior candidate must have an outstanding record of scholarly achievement, a proven record of successful research funding, and a demonstrated commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising. A successful junior candidate must be engaged in a research program with the potential to influence their field, and a strong commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching and advising.

Junior candidates must have completed the PhD by the time of appointment. Review of applications will begin November 22, 2021, but applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

All candidates should submit: 1) a cover letter describing research completed and planned, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a short writing sample, and 4) a teaching statement. We ask that in both the cover letter and teaching statement, the candidate describe how their work fosters inclusive learning and diversity.

Senior candidates should include the names of five references whom the search committee can contact at an appropriate time. The list of references can be submitted via the "additional documents" field in Interfolio.

Junior candidates should have three letters of reference and their official graduate transcript uploaded to Interfolio at the time of the application. The confidential recommendation letters should be uploaded to Interfolio by the referee.

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 9092
Political Science Jobs

Apply here: https://facultysearch.interfolio.com/10128/positions/77581

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9070

Princeton University
Rank: Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships

The University Center for Human Values at Princeton University invites applications for Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships for the academic year 2022-23. Fellows devote an academic year in residence at Princeton to research and writing about topics involving human values in public and private life. This full-time visiting program is open to scholars in all disciplines provided their research plans qualify. In recent years fellows have been drawn from fields including philosophy, political theory, literature, history, classics, economics, and law, but this list is not meant to be exhaustive.

Fellows are expected to reside in or around Princeton, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. Fellows are expected to be active contributors to the intellectual life of the Center. This includes participating in a weekly seminar attended by fellows and Center faculty to discuss work in progress and in various other seminars, colloquia and lectures sponsored by the Center. Fellows enjoy access to Firestone Library and to a wide range of activities throughout the University.

Candidates must have a doctorate or equivalent professional degree and a strong record of research publications appropriate to their career stage. Typically Fellows hold faculty positions at other universities or colleges; in exceptional cases we consider applications from independent scholars when there is a high level of scholarly achievement. This is not a postdoctoral fellowship program and we do not generally consider candidates who will have held the Ph.D. for less than two years at the time of appointment.

The fellowship period extends from September 1 to July 1. Fellows normally receive stipends of up to one-half their academic-year salaries (subject to a minimum and maximum set each fall). Ordinarily their home institutions provide a portion of their salaries in addition to all benefits, although this is not a requirement for appointment. Stipends for independent scholars will not exceed the maximum for fellows holding appointments elsewhere.

The main considerations in the evaluation of applications are the following:

• The significance of the proposed research and its relevance to the purposes of the University Center for Human Values (see http://uchv.princeton.edu/ for more information);
• The quality of a candidate’s previous research and the contribution the candidate is likely to make in the future through teaching and writing;
• The likelihood that the research would benefit from being conducted in the University Center environment.

HOW TO APPLY

Candidates must submit an online application at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/20741.

The following materials will be required:
1. A curriculum vitae;
2. A scholarly paper (of no more than about 12,000 words) written in the past three years;
3. A statement (of no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research project and including a brief working title for the project; and
4. Contact information for three referees, including at least one who was not a graduate advisor. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Monday, November 1, 2021, 11:59 p.m. ET. We do not accept application materials by any other method. The selection committee begins reviewing applications immediately and incomplete applications may be at a disadvantage. Decisions are expected to be announced in March 2022.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 7/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9058

University of Arizona
Rank: Assistant Professor of Human Rights in the Middle East and North Africa

The University of Arizona (UA) located in Tucson, Arizona seeks a qualified applicant for the position of Assistant Professor of Human Rights in the Middle East and North Africa, Tenure-Track. Candidates will be expected to have a PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline. Exceptional ABD applicants nearing completion will also be considered. The position requires the ability to design and teach undergraduate and graduate courses in Middle Eastern and North African Studies and in Political Science, and the ability to mentor students.

A new assistant professor (tenure-track) position in Human Rights in the Middle East and/or North Africa, broadly defined. We are interested in a broad range of approaches to the study of human rights in the Middle East and/or North Africa with an emphasis on comparative politics or international relations. Of interest are human rights issues related to economic and social rights, gender politics, environmental justice, sustainable development, health, humanitariansm, indigenous rights, and migrants and refugees. The successful candidate will be well qualified to engage in undergraduate and graduate teaching; have an active research agenda, with research in or centrally related to the Middle East and/or North Africa; have potential for externally supported research; and have an interest in participating in outreach activities. The teaching load is typically two courses per semester. Proficiency in at least one Middle Eastern language is highly desirable (Arabic, Hebrew, Persian, Turkish or a related language).

The appointed candidate will hold a joint position in the School of Government and Public Policy (SGPP) and the School of Middle
Political Science Jobs

Eastern & North African Studies (MENAS), both in the University of Arizona College of Social and Behavioral Sciences (SBS). The exact percentage in each unit and tenure home will be determined at the close of the search, as appropriate for the appointed candidate.

About SGPP: The SGPP is one of the largest schools at the University of Arizona and is uniquely situated to serve as a model for public affairs education. SGPP is a multi-disciplinary school with a broad portfolio of innovative programs and degrees at the undergraduate and graduate levels. This includes undergraduate degrees in criminal justice studies, law, political science, and public management and policy. At the graduate level, SGPP offers professional Master of Public Administration and Master of Public Policy programs, as well as the fully online Master of International Security Studies degree. SGPP is also home to a residential Ph.D. program that trains students across the fields of political science, public policy, public administration, and public management.

About Middle Eastern and North African Studies: The UA features an extensive program in Middle Eastern and North African studies. MENAS offers a BA, MA and PhD, a BA in Arabic, and includes an Arabic Flagship program. Also in SBS are the American Institute for Maghrib Studies; Arizona Center for Judaic Studies; Arizona Center for Turkish Studies; and the Center for Middle Eastern Studies, a Title VI US Department of Education-funded National Resource Center. SBS/MENAS faculty are also central to the Graduate College’s Roshan Graduate Interdisciplinary Program in Persian and Iranian Studies, which offers both MA and a PhD degrees.

Interdisciplinarity at the UA and the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences: The UA offers a congenial environment for interdisciplinary teaching and research about human rights. Interest in human rights-related issues is informed by the UA’s location near the US border with Mexico. SBS offers an online MA and graduate certificate in Human Rights Practice, as well as a fully online BA in Human Rights Practice and three additional graduate certificates in the field. The Global Studies major includes an emphasis area in Human Rights, Migrations, and Social Movements. Of related interest are additional programs in SBS such as the BA in Food Studies; the BA in Philosophy, Politics, Economics and Law in the Department of Political Economy & Moral Science; and the School of Sociology’s Care, Health & Society BS major.

Qualified Candidates will possess:
* PhD in Political Science or a closely related discipline from an accredited institution
* Experience teaching courses in both Middle Eastern and/or North African Studies and Political Science
* Exceptional ABD applicants nearing completion will also be considered; Ph.D. is required for appointment as Assistant Professor
* Teaching experience using a variety of teaching methods and/or curricular perspectives to respond to the needs of a diverse student body
* Emerging scholarly reputation

Preferred Qualifications: Proficiency in at least one Middle Eastern Language (Arabic, Hebrew, Persian, Turkish, or a related language)

TO APPLY FOR THIS POSITION: All applications must be fully submitted via the UA/Arizona Talent Application system. Direct link: https://arizona.csood.com/ux/ats/careerseet/4/home/requisition/4219?c=arizona

A complete application packet will include five items:
* a CV;
* a Cover Letter;
* the candidate’s statement on research agenda (as Additional Document);
* the candidate’s statement on teaching pedagogy that includes details of the candidate’s experience using a variety of teaching methods and/or curricular perspectives to respond to the needs of a diverse student body (as Additional Document);
* and the names, titles, and email addresses of at least three references (as Additional Document).

Questions regarding this position should be directed to Prof. Anne H. Betteridge, Search Committee Chair, The Center for Middle Eastern Studies, The University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ 85721.(anneb@email.arizona.edu)

Please note: Applicants will be required to provide contact information for a minimum of three professional references. Please upload your reference contact list under the “Additional Document” slot within your application. Should you be selected as a finalist for this position, your references may receive an automatic email. This email will ask your references to complete a brief questionnaire in regard to your suitability for the position as well as request the attachment of a letter of recommendation. These letters of recommendation must be uploaded directly via the talent.arizona.edu website by your reference provider. Talent.arizona.edu is not compatible with any “dossier aggregate” system (e.g., Interfolio, Intellimdea).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
Jobs ID: 9051

Stanford University
Rank: post-doctoral fellowship

The Stanford Human Trafficking Data Lab is accepting applications for a post-doctoral fellowship position, open to recent graduates of PhD programs in statistics, bioinformatics, biostatistics, epidemiology, or related data science fields. The position provides opportunities to participate in rigorous, quantitative research on human trafficking, including challenging prediction problems, remote detection research, and primary data collection and analysis. The successful candidate will have strong data science skills, including experience working with large, complex data from varied sources, and Machine Learning methodologies. The underlying data are complex and these projects will require sophisticated data management and integration skills.

The Post-Doc will work in partnership with PIs Grant Miller (School of Medicine), Mike Baiocchi (School of Medicine), Trevor Hastie (Department of Statistics), and other research team members, and will contribute to study design, participate in field research, conduct data analysis, and disseminate findings through academic publications and presentations. The post-doctoral fellow will be expected to focus mainly on existing projects, but may spend up to 20% of their time on independent research. For more on the lab’s projects see: https://healthpolicy.fsi.stanford.edu/news/melding-ai-and-algorithms-health-care-and-policy-combat-human-trafficking

Applicant Requirements
The ideal candidate will be interested in an academic research career conducting epidemiologic research related to reproductive, maternal, and infant health outcomes. The candidate will have:

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs

151
The University of Michigan’s Department of Political Science and the Nam Center for Korean Studies at the International Institute seek qualified applicants for a 50/50% jointly appointed tenure-track position at the Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor rank with research and teaching interests in Korean politics. Preference will be given to the candidates who will be hired at Associate or Full rank. The successful candidate will be appointed to the Korea Foundation Professor of Korean Studies.

We seek an interdisciplinary scholar whose work sheds light on important political issues in the Korean peninsula and beyond. Korea has gone through dramatic transformations in the last decades: from colonial occupation to divided nation-building compounded by the Cold War; from a poor agrarian society to the fourteenth largest global economy grappling with inequality and environmental issues; from a military dictatorship to an electoral democracy with vibrant social movements; and from the major source of emigrants to one of the most popular immigrant destinations in East Asia. We welcome scholars whose work comparative political understanding of economic development and inequality; democratization and social movements; geopolitics and national security; globalization, immigration, and diasporas; or any other topics that are critical in contemporary Korean politics.

The anticipated starting date for this university-year appointment is August 28, 2022, and the Department of Political Science will be the tenure home.

Information on our research initiatives and scholarly interests of current faculty can be found on the Department’s website: https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci, the center website: https://ii.umich.edu/ncks, and the International Institute’s website: https://ii.umich.edu/ii.

All applications must be submitted electronically to: https://lsa.umich.edu/polisci/faculty-hiring.html. Applicants should include the following application materials in PDF format: a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts (for entry-level candidates), and a statement of activities contributing to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Entry-level applicants should submit three reference letters. All other applicants should provide names and contact information for three references.

https://careers.umich.edu/job_detail/200032/asstassocprofessor

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/24/2021
Date Posted: 6/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8984

University of Western Ontario
Rank: Open Field - Probationary or Tenured Faculty Appointment
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Department of Political Science
Faculty of Social Science
Western University, London Ontario Canada

Political Science – Open Field

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites highly qualified applicants for a full-time Probationary (tenure-track) appointment at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor or a Tenured appointment at the rank of Associate or Professor. Rank to be determined based on qualifications and experience. The search will add to our strengths in the quantitative study of Canadian Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations and have a starting date of July 1, 2022. Western Political Science aims to be Canada’s top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach quantitative methods at the undergraduate or graduate level would be considered an asset, as would contributing to our strengths in political behaviour.

We seek outstanding individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service. Candidates should be capable of publishing in highly respected peer-reviewed outlets, supervising graduate student research, teaching graduate and undergraduate students, and securing external research grants. All faculty members are expected to participate in administrative committees at the level of the department, faculty, and/or university, including service external to the university.

For more information, please visit www.politicalscience.uwo.ca.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the “Western Experience” – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Applications should include the following:
1) application form (http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/ Faculty/ Application-Full-Time-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf),
2) cover letter that includes a statement of how the candidate will contribute to our commitment to Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion,
3) curriculum vitae,
4) statement of teaching and research interests,
5) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers,
6) three reference letters,
Consideration of applications will begin September 30, 2021.

This material should be sent to: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Professor Matthew Lebo, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 5/31/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8899

University of Akron
Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other
Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron’s Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute’s academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or government setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: https://www.uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the &quot;My Activities&amp;quot; link and upload the required documents under the “My Cover Letters and Attachments” section.

Applications should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mchugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8821

POLITICAL THEORY

Rochester Institute of Technology
Rank: Assistant Professor (TT)
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Other
Specializations: American Politics, Political Philosophy & Theory, Political Theory

Detailed Job Description
The Department of Political Science at Rochester Institute of Technology invites candidates to apply for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Political Science for the 2022-2023 academic year, starting August 2022. We seek an energetic and enthusiastic colleague who will serve as an instructor, researcher, and mentor for our undergraduate majors and minors. The ideal candidate will have a background in American politics or political theory and will also be interested in questions of innovative governance. In particular, the department is interested in applicants with a background in public choice, PPE (politics, philosophy, and economics), common pool resource governance, or other innovative approaches to analyzing and approaching traditional questions in political science and policy. Candidates who can contribute pre-law courses or politics of science courses to the curriculum, including philosophy and politics of law or courses on politics and biomedicine, are strongly encouraged to apply.

The successful candidate will: (a) have teaching experience or will demonstrate the potential for quality teaching at the college/university level; (b) demonstrate potential to conduct independent research and to attract external funding; and (c) demonstrate interest in mentoring undergraduate students. The hire will be expected to teach a minimum of five undergraduate-level Political Science courses per year. Specific teaching assignments will be based on candidate qualifications and program needs, but are likely to include innovative approaches to state and local and American politics, and upper-level classes in areas relating to political economy, law, and governance. The position also requires academic advisement and ongoing mentoring of undergraduate students, participation in program assessment and evaluation activities, and service to the Department, College, and Institute.

Department/College Description

The Department of Political Science offers a B.S. degree in political science and is part of the pre-law minor. The program in Political Science at RIT offers coursework and programs that are unique and innovative, integrating traditional fields of American government, legal studies, and international relations with explorations of the interactions between politics and governance on the one hand and innovation, science, and technology on the other. The department teaches not only the mechanics and strategies of the political process, but also examines limitations on government authority and responsibilities of citizens.

The College of Liberal Arts is one of nine colleges within Rochester Institute of Technology. The College has over 150 faculty in 13 departments in the arts, humanities and social sciences. The College currently offers fourteen undergraduate degree programs and five Master degrees, serving over 800 students.

Required Minimum Qualifications

Doctoral degree (Ph.D.) in political science or related field, expected by July 1, 2022;
Expertise in American politics or political theory;
Demonstrated interest in public choice, PPE, common pool resource governance, or other related fields;
Demonstrated potential to teach at the college/university level;
Demonstrated potential for conducting independent research;
Demonstrated potential to attract external funding;
Demonstrated interest in mentoring undergraduate students;
Ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the college's continuing commitment to cultural diversity, pluralism, and individual differences.

Georgetown University
Rank: Tenure-Line Assistant Professor in Computational Social Science
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Methodology

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-line assistant professor in Computational Social Science. Large scale data and increasing computing power, coupled with rapid advances in data science tools create massive opportunities and challenges in the field of public policy.

We are seeking someone who will have skills and demonstrated research expertise in data science areas such as machine learning, text as data, spatial data, computation using large-scale data, networks and other topics on computational social science. We are open to the academic discipline, which could be computer science, economics, political science, public policy, statistics or a related field. We expect the applicant to have a Ph.D. by the time they start.

The person hired in this search will be expected to do research at the intersection of data science and public policy. The successful candidate’s teaching will include courses for the Data Science for Public Policy program, a two-year MS degree program that trains students to use modern computing power to understand important issues in public policy.

Apply Here: https://apply.interfolio.com/92780
The Department of Political Science in the Mark O. Hatfield School of Government at Portland State University seeks applicants for a one-year visiting Instructor position in Political Theory beginning Fall 2021; with potential to renew for a second academic year appointment, depending on funding.

Teaching duties include undergraduate and graduate courses with a primary emphasis in political theory. The ability to also teach courses in another subfield will be preferred. The teaching load is 3/3/3 (9 courses per year).

The annual salary rate for this position will be $46,071. The starting salary may be negotiable above this range, however it will be dependent upon the knowledge, experience, skills and abilities of the chosen candidate, the budget of the hiring department, and approval from HR.

PSU’s excellent benefits package includes 95% premium paid healthcare; a generous retirement and vacation package; and reduced tuition rates for employee, spouse or dependent at any of the Oregon Public Universities. Please visit the Total Compensation Calculator to see the added value of PSU’s employee benefits: https://www.pdx.edu/human-resources/psu-total-compensation-calculator

Application Portal: https://jobs.hrc.pdx.edu/postings/35552

Please note: this is an emergency search with a very short timeline (classes start on Sept 27) so we will begin reviewing candidates immediately.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9228

---

University of California, Riverside
Rank: Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Black Politics
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, RIVERSIDE
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE
Tenure Track Assistant Professor in Black Politics

The Department of Political Science of the University of California, Riverside, invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Black Politics.

The search is open with respect to field and we welcome strong candidates whose research and teaching addresses any substantive area of Black Politics within or outside the U.S. context. We are open to a range of theoretical and methodological approaches. The successful candidate should be committed to excellence in undergraduate and graduate education and have a record or promise of research publication. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field or discipline is required at the time of appointment. Ph.D. Candidates who are ABD at the time of application will be also considered. Appointment level and salary will be competitive and commensurate with education and experience. The appointment will commence on July 1, 2022.

Applicants are required to submit a cover letter of interest, an updated CV, a Research Statement, a Teaching Statement, a statement of Past and/or Planned Future Contributions to Advancing Diversity and Inclusive Excellence, teaching evidence or evaluations, writing samples, and 3 letters of recommendation. Confidential Letters are solicited via the AP Recruit System Only – Applicant inserts reference names and solicits references from within AP Recruit at time of application. Only complete applications will be reviewed by the committee.

Applicants who use Interfolio may utilize a feature provided by the Interfolio Service to allow Interfolio to upload their letters directly into AP Recruit. Applicants can input an Interfolio-generated email address in place of their letter writer’s email address. Interfolio refers to this as Online Application Deliveries. The following link on the Interfolio website shows how to set this up (http://product-help.interfolio.com/m/27438/l/266289-confidential-letter-uploads-to-online-application-systems.)

Advancement through the faculty ranks at the University of California is through a series of structured, merit-based evaluations, occurring every 2-3 years, each of which includes substantial peer input.

Faculty in the University of California are expected to engage in research, teaching and service. Typical course load is four courses over the academic year.

Review of Applications will begin on October 18, 2021 and may continue until the position is filled. Applications and supporting materials received by October 18, 2021 will receive full consideration.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified candidates will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/JPF01454

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9200

---

Princeton University
Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Theory

The Department of Politics and the University Center for Human Values seek applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in political theory. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21626.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Political Theory Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 7, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00004
Start Date: Date Posted: 8/17/2021
Salary: Competitive
jEJobs ID: 9179

Dartmouth College
Rank: Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty appointment at any rank in American Politics or Political Theory

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured faculty appointment at any rank. We seek qualified candidates whose research examines African American political thought, the political experiences of African Americans, and/or issues of race and racial injustice related to African Americans. The position includes the option of an affiliation with the Program in African and African American Studies (AAAS).

Applicants should have a strong commitment to teaching, scholarly work, engaging undergraduate students in research, and building a diverse and inclusive educational environment. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower-income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should discuss in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:
Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Philosophy, or a related discipline, or have the Ph.D. conferred before the start date of their appointment.

Application Instructions:
1) Cover letter, including overview of research areas and teaching interests. Applicants should also state in their cover letter, or in a separate statement, how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth’s commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
2) C.V.
3) Dissertation abstract or research statement (maximum two pages single-spaced)
4) Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which should be from the dissertation advisor (for ABD applicants)
5) Writing sample of 20-40 pages

Applications must be submitted electronically at: https://apply.interfolio.com/92314. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Michelle.T.Clarke@dartmouth.edu or Jennifer.L.Jerit@dartmouth.edu.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
jEJobs ID: 9168

College of Wooster
Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor of Africana Studies Specializations: Africana Studies

The College of Wooster is pleased to announce a cluster hire in Africana Studies with appointments beginning August 2022. We seek to appoint three tenure-track positions (at least one of which could be at the Associate Professor or Professor level) housed in the Department of Africana Studies. The department welcomes a range of areas of expertise within Africana Studies, which could include, but are not limited to: critical race theory, Black queer theory, Africana religions, Black social and political movements, Africana musicology, Africana popular culture, Black theatre and dance, transnational Black feminisms, Black youth and digital cultures, race and healthcare disparities, and environmental injustice. We welcome scholars who can contribute expertise in African diasporic communities and cultures in North America, the Caribbean, Central America, and South America.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Africana Studies, Black Studies, or a related field, have experience teaching about the African Diaspora, and demonstrate their interest in contributing to the general education of the College, including the First-Year Seminar program. An interest in curricular innovation or innovative pedagogical approaches is especially welcome. Candidates will teach the equivalent of five and a half courses, including introductory and advanced courses in Africana Studies, some of which will be cross-listed in other departments and programs, and credited supervision of independent thesis projects as part of the College’s Independent Study program. Faculty hired into these positions will have the opportunity to collaborate with affiliated faculty teaching in a broad range of other disciplines on campus.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Africana Studies, Black Studies, or a related field, have experience teaching about the African Diaspora, and demonstrate their interest in contributing to the general education of the College, including the First-Year Seminar program. An interest in curricular innovation or innovative pedagogical approaches is especially welcome. Candidates will teach the equivalent of five and a half courses, including introductory and advanced courses in Africana Studies, some of which will be cross-listed in other departments and programs, and credited supervision of independent thesis projects as part of the College’s Independent Study program. Faculty hired into these positions will have the opportunity to collaborate with affiliated faculty teaching in a broad range of other disciplines on campus.

Applications should submit a letter of application; curriculum vitae; unofficial graduate transcripts; evidence of teaching effectiveness (such as teaching statement, syllabi, and course evaluations, if applicable) and research (such as research statement and writing sample of 25 pages or less); a statement detailing how the applicant has engaged and/or expects to engage with issues of diversity and inclusion in the classroom and the curriculum, as well as on campus and in the broader community; and three reference letters through Interfolio. Applications received at http://apply.interfolio.com/89382 by September 15, 2021 will receive full consideration. If you have questions regarding Interfolio, please contact Santha Schuch, Administrative Coordinator, Department of Africana Studies, at sschuch@wooster.edu. Questions about the position should be directed to Professor Lee McBride, Chair of Search Committee, at lmcbride@wooster.edu.

First founded in 1968, The Department of Africana Studies has long held a central role in a College of Wooster education, offering both a major and minor in the context of a liberal arts curriculum focused on mentored undergraduate research. With College-wide strategic planning underway, we are excited to hire a new cohort of faculty leading the Department into the future. We are especially interested in hiring faculty who can contribute to the intellectual vibrancy and diversity of the academic community through their teaching, research, and service. The College of Wooster enrolls a diverse student body (24% domestic students of color and 17% international students); all applicants are expected to discuss their experience working with diverse student populations.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9167

Tecnologico de Monterrey

Rank: Assistant and Adjunct Faculty Positions

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Political Theory, International Relations

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Economy, Health Care

School of Social Sciences and Government, Mexico City, Monterrey, and other major campuses in Mexico, Department of Political Science and International Relations Graduate School of Government, Escuela de Gobierno y Transformación Pública, Mexico City, Federal District and Monterrey, Nuevo León

The Tecnológico de Monterrey has multiple openings. We invite applications from candidates in political science, public policy, political economy, and related social science fields. The search is open with respect to specialty and approach; however, we are interested in candidates with the potential to conduct theoretically informed, methodologically rigorous, and policy-relevant research for publication in top academic journals and other peer-reviewed venues.

Subfields of political science of interest include international political economy, comparative politics, and international relations. Substance areas in public policy include data sciences for public service and governance, emerging and civic technologies, forecasting sciences, simulation and modeling, poverty and social policy, inequality, public entrepreneurship, public finance and budgeting, corruption, democracy and elections, security and justice, education policy, energy policy, and health and environmental policy. The Tecnológico de Monterrey offers a dynamic academic environment with excellent research support.

Minimum Requirements:

Candidates must have a strong academic background and demonstrated ability in conducting theoretical and empirical research in one or more of the aforementioned areas. The Tecnológico de Monterrey also prizes an excellent background in teaching. Professors are expected to teach and mentor undergraduates as well as graduate students. We are primarily interested in scholars early in their academic careers for the Assistant Research Professor track with teaching obligations that approximate a 2-2 load. We also have openings for Assistant Teaching Professors (3-3 or 4-4) and Student Advisor Professors (2-2 or 3-3), depending on the campus. Applications from ABD candidates will be considered if they include a letter from the dissertation chair stating a defense date, which should occur no later than June 2022.

Compensation is competitive and it includes incentives and support for research activities. The Tecnológico de Monterrey will provide legal assistance for foreign nationals in order to obtain work permits and visas for the candidate and his or her dependents.

The Tecnológico de Monterrey is an equal opportunity employer, committed to building a culturally diverse intellectual community, and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities. The university is committed to attracting and retaining outstanding and diverse faculty.

Documents Required:

- Applicants should send the following documents in PDF format
- Curriculum Vitae accompanied by a cover letter.
- Research statement for the next 3 years (no longer than three pages).
- A statement of teaching philosophy (no more than two pages). Finalists may be asked to provide evidence of teaching performance.
- Writing sample, not to exceed 50 double spaced pages. If co-authored the candidate should be the first author.
- Three letters of recommendation. Ph.D. candidates should include a letter from their chair indicating defense date.

For sending materials please contact Talent Academic Acquisition Specialist Martha Junia Navarro mcanoy@tec.mx

For informal inquiries please contact the following committee members:

Prof. Mariana Rangel: mariana.rangel@tec.mx

Prof. Gabriel Aguilara: gabe.aguilera@tec.mx

About the Tecnológico de Monterrey:

For more information on the Graduate School of Government, Escuela de Gobierno y Transformación Pública, visit http://escueladegobierno.itesm.mx/ The graduate school has campuses in Mexico City and Monterrey. Undergraduate departments and programs in political science, economics, law, and public policy are housed in the School of Social Sciences and Government at our major campuses in Mexico City, Monterrey and other locations. For more information, visit https://tec.mx/es/noticias/ciencias-sociales-y-gobierno

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/3/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9114

Air War College

Rank: Professor of Nuclear Enterprise Operations

Subfield(s): International Relations, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

Specializations: International Security, Defense, History & Politics

Duties

Air University’s USAF Center for Strategic Deterrence Studies, an academic center under the Air War College, invites applications from qualified individuals for a faculty position of Assistant Professor. This position educates Air War College and Air Command and Staff College students on political and military deterrence concepts, develops education and curriculum, oversees student field trips, and directs student research on contemporary deterrence policy and strategic issues.

Responsibilities
The primary focus of the position is on curriculum development and instruction on strategic deterrence and nuclear deterrence operations to students at the Air War College and Air Command and Staff College. General class size is 8-12 students. Participates in planning, developing, and implementing course content, instructional methods/materials, and testing/evaluation instruments. Provides detailed feedback to students and documentation of student progress. Serves as subject-matter expert and advisor to PME colleges and Air University (AU) on subjects of relevance to academic background and teaching area. Makes recommendations on educational methods, program content, course organization, lesson development, lecture subjects, lecturers, integration of state-of-the-art technology applications, and other areas of curriculum development. Guides, stimulates discussion, and evaluates participation and contribution of students.

Advises student research on major research projects (professional study papers). With other academic officers, ensures research studies are conducted in line with the latest US military and DoD policies. Pursues individual research in area of expertise, writes scholarly works such as articles, monographs, and book reviews for external peer-reviewed publications, broadens and deepens personal knowledge to maintain intellectual leadership. Ensures AU is using educational best practices to leverage technology, develop sound methodology, and garner useful feedback from AF and DoD stakeholders and students. Establishes and continuously maintains professional contacts with educators, military officers, and institutions related to area of expertise.

Provides advice and counsel to Course Directors, Department Directors, and Deans on topics related to area(s) of expertise. Organizes and conducts faculty development activities related to research activities, curriculum development initiatives, new techniques, and technology application in the curriculum. Reviews and provides scholarly opinion on draft Air Force publications. Attends meetings and participates in other organizational activities intended to advance the state of knowledge in area of expertise or to set and maintain professional standards of performance and promote professional ethics. Serves as guest lecturer at AU and other DoD schools as schedule permits.

Travel Required
Occasional travel - You may be expected to travel for this position.

Requirements
U.S.
Citizenship Required
Must be registered for Selective Service, see Legal and Regulatory Guide
A Top Secret security clearance is required
You may qualify for moving expenses; if authorized, may be covered using PCS, Recruitment or Relocation Incentive in accordance with agency policy.
Position is subject to random drug testing.
This job is being filled by an alternative hiring process and is not in the competitive civil service. This is an Administratively Determined position in the excepted service.

Qualifications
The successful candidate will have demonstrated superior teaching performance and the ability to develop and maintain curriculum; have guided research, and published in the areas noted.

Knowledge of the DoD nuclear enterprise and operations missions with respect to the strategic and operational challenges in the international and regional security environments in the mid-to-long term.
Knowledge of the principles, practices, and techniques of educational instruction.
Knowledge of educational resources, programs, principles, and policies.
Skill in accomplishing special educational/instructional group research studies and projects.
Ability to apply knowledge of U.S. deterrence policy to actual security situations.
Ability to establish program objectives and to assess progress toward achievement of those objectives.
Ability to communicate effectively orally and in writing.
Ability to work harmoniously with others within the education environment.

Education
A Ph.D. is required in Military or Diplomatic History, International Relations, Security Studies or a closely-related field with an emphasis on strategic studies or international security policy.

Please use the USA Job’s site to apply https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/608915400

Start Date: Winter 2021
Application Deadline: 8/30/2021
Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: $90,000 - $99,999
eJobs ID: 9086

Occidental College
Rank: Associate or Full Professor Global Black Studies

Associate or Full Professor
Global Black Studies

Occidental College is inviting applications for a tenured senior faculty position in the newly established Department of Black Studies. This search is part of Occidental’s new multi-year initiative to actively support the study of the life, culture, and history of the African diaspora and to support campus-wide efforts on behalf of equity and justice. We are seeking an associate or full professor in the humanities or social sciences who approaches Black Studies from a global perspective. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Africana Studies, African American Studies, African Diaspora Studies, American Studies, English, History, Sociology, Media Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, or a related discipline. We are looking for candidates who either specialize in regions outside the continental United States or take transnational and comparative approaches to the study of Black life and culture. We are especially interested in candidates who study 20th and 21st century Black migrations, cultural practices and productions, political movements, or social justice initiatives. We are seeking a scholar who is grounded in interdisciplinary Black Studies methodologies and able to offer introductory Black Studies courses as well as introductory and advanced upper division Black Studies seminars centered on the modern and contemporary African diaspora. The position will begin in August 2022.

Please submit a (1) cover letter detailing your interest in teaching Black Studies in a liberal arts college environment; (2) curriculum vitae; (3) research statement; (4) a statement of teaching philosophy that includes a discussion of your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for underrepresented students; (5) samples of scholarly work (6) sample syllabi for “Intro to Black Studies” (7) evidence of teaching success; (8) and three confidential letters of recommendation to Patricia Micciche at blackstudiesglobal@oxy.edu. Review of Applications will begin on September 10, 2021.
Political Science Jobs

September 2021

For a description of Occidental’s Black Studies Department and its course offerings, please visit our website at: https://www.oxy.edu/academics/areas-study/black-studies

Occidental is a small liberal arts college in the city of Los Angeles, and it is among the most diverse liberal arts colleges in the United States. The normal teaching schedule is equivalent to five courses per year. Occidental College policies for early career leaves for untenured faculty and sabbaticals for tenured faculty are very generous. The mission of Occidental College is to provide a gifted and diverse group of students with a total educational experience of the highest quality—one that prepares them for leadership in an increasingly complex, interdependent, and pluralistic world. We strongly encourage applications from candidates who will further Occidental’s mission of excellence and equity in their teaching, scholarship, and service.

Occidental College is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by State or Federal Law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College’s strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Summer research grants, moving expenses, start-up funds, and a reduced teaching load may be available. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information.

We will consider for employment all qualified applicants, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles’ Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for any part of the application or employment process, please contact Human Resources (hr@oxy.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021

Date Posted: 8/1/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9094

University of California, Irvine
Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of Political Theory contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2021-22 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in Political Theory. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $56,381 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2021-2022 Academic Year:
Fall Quarter: 9/20/21 – 12/10/21
Winter Quarter: 1/3/22 - 3/18/22
Spring Quarter: 3/23/22 – 6/10/22

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF06770

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2021. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary throughout the year.

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/20/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9047

Bucknell University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

Bucknell University’s Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in political theory beginning in the fall semester of 2022. We seek a scholar whose research and teaching centers on feminist political theory. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in political theory, one or more electives in feminist political thought, and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute courses that bring comparative and nonwestern perspectives on political theory to the curriculum. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks.

We seek candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department’s commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate excellence in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinary. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates... are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science with a sub-field specialization in political theory.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Doug Hecock at rdh013@bucknell.edu. Applications received by September 27, 2021 will receive full consideration.

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9015

International Christian University

Rank: Assistant Professor in comparative politics, political theory, or gender/sexuality politics

This is an open search for a Full-time faculty position in the Department of Politics and International Studies with a particular focus on comparative politics, political theory, or gender/sexuality politics.

This is a full time, tenure-track position for an initial five-year term. The term may be shortened to three years, depending on previous experience. If tenure is approved at the end of the term, the position will be made permanent and promotion to the rank of Associate Professor will be granted.

The successful applicant is expected to teach general education, foundation, and area major courses in the College of Liberal Arts, as well as courses in the Graduate School. We strongly encourage applications from female candidates.

Qualifications:
Ph.D. or equivalent in Politics or a related field
Language of instruction: English, or English and Japanese

Employment Conditions:
1. Salary: In accordance with ICU employment regulations
2. Allowances: Available, in accordance with ICU employment regulations (e.g. commuting allowance)
3. Working hours: In accordance with ICU employment regulation
4. Social insurance: Coverage by Promotion and Mutual Aid Corporation for Private Schools of Japan (PMAC), workers’ compensation, etc.

Starting Date: April 1, 2022 or September 1, 2022

Deadline for Applications: August 27, 2021 17:00 (Japan Standard Time)

Selection Process:
1. Register your application online.
2. Submit all the application materials online as described below.
3. After documentary screening, short-listed candidates will be invited for an interview and a model lecture in September or October 2021.

Details:
For detailed information about this position please see: https://www.icu.ac.jp/en/news/images/ComparativePolitics_E_sn20210501.pdf

For inquiries: pisej-search@icu.ac.jp

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/27/2021
Date Posted: 6/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8945

Boston University
Rank: Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Boston University seeks to appoint the Maxwell Professor in United States Citizenship at the rank of advanced Associate or full Professor, with tenure, to begin in Fall 2022. Applicants in Political Science, from the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Economy, Public Policy, Political Theory, are encouraged to apply. We wish to recruit an intellectual leader with a distinguished record of scholarship who brings a critical lens on the development and meaning of citizenship.

When George B. Maxwell established this Professorship in September 1918 the First World War was not yet concluded and citizenship was — in both de jure and de facto senses — narrowly defined. Indian Reservations were being consolidated, the Espionage and Sedition Acts of WWI limited free speech, Jim Crow was in force, the 19th Amendment to the US Constitution granting women the right to vote had not been passed, and the purpose and limits of immigration were contested. The Maxwell Professorship supports scholars engaged in fostering an “intelligent understanding and appreciation of the rights, duties, inheritances and possibilities of our citizenship.” A Maxwell Chair holder could understand citizenship broadly; for example, in the context of American political development, the tensions between communitarianism and cosmopolitanism, political theories of citizenship, or in comparative perspective. In keeping with George Maxwell’s vision, we seek a scholar who is engaged in both public education and academic discourse.

Boston University offers a rich and vibrant academic community for interdisciplinary research on citizenship; the Maxwell Professorship offers the opportunity to develop connections across disciplines, programs and centers. The candidate will teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. We seek candidates who prioritize inclusive practices in their scholarship, pedagogy, and campus engagement.

Please submit a letter of interest to https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18615. The application must also include: a curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, a list of references and a statement about your record of inclusion. Completed applications are due on 4 October 2021.

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. We are a VEVRAA Federal Contractor.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 6/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8904

Bloomburg University
Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Political Theory

Position Description
The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach our introductory course in political theory, POLISCI 108: Contemporary Political Ideologies. A description of this courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog- .

Qualifying Education/Experience
Applicants must possess a Master’s Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of political theory. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information
A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee
Additional, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8845

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Sam Houston State University

Rank: Assistant Professor Position of Political Science (Public Administration)

The Department of Political Science at Sam Houston State University invites applications for a nine-month Tenure-Track Assistant Professor position starting in fall 2022. The successful candidate will be responsible for teaching three courses per semester and engaging in research/scholarly activities. The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in service activities such as program and curriculum development, face-to-face and online course development, and student recruitment and engagement.

Required Qualifications

The successful candidates will possess the following required qualifications:

1. A doctoral degree in public administration, public policy, or public affairs from an accredited institution of higher education. ABD candidates will be considered but they must have a PhD by the start date (August 2022).
2. Demonstrated evidence of ability and desire to teach undergraduate and online graduate courses in two of the following areas: 1) public administration and management; 2) organizational theory; 3) budgeting and finance; 4) program evaluation; and 5) public policy.
3. Demonstrated evidence of an established or emerging research/scholarly program in any of the following areas: 1) public administration and management; 2) organizational theory; 3) budgeting and finance; 4) program evaluation; and 5) public policy.
4. Demonstrated effective communication skills.

Diversity and Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Statements

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences at Sam Houston State University is strongly committed to a diverse and inclusive workplace that empowers all employees to reach their full potential. All members of the academic community share a responsibility for developing and maintaining an environment in which differences are valued and inclusiveness is practiced. The college welcomes applications from those who will contribute to the diversity of our community.

Sam Houston State University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Plan Employer and Smoke/Drug-Free Workplace. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, creed, ancestry, marital status, citizenship, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, veteran status, disability status, sexual orientation, or gender identity. Sam Houston State University is an “at will” employer. Security sensitive positions at SHSU require background checks in accordance with Education Code 51.215.

Required Application Materials

• Cover Letter that identifies their interests, qualifications, and experience for the position.

September 2021

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
• Current CV that includes, if applicable, a summary of previous teaching experience and format of each course taught (i.e., face-to-face, online, hybrid).
• All graduate transcripts – unofficial transcripts will be accepted during the application process. However, the successful candidate must submit official transcripts documenting all post-secondary degrees.
• Three letters of recommendation from supervisors who are familiar with the applicant’s teaching abilities and who have worked with the applicant in the past two years.
• Recent student teaching evaluations covering the last two semesters of teaching, if available. Those without teaching evaluations, will need to upload a placeholder document in lieu of evaluations.
• Teaching statement, including a discussion of online pedagogy.
• If available, sample syllabi for relevant courses.
• Diversity statement discussing how the applicant would engage Sam Houston State University’s diverse student population and meet the College of Humanities and Social Sciences’ core goals.

The search committee will start to review applications on October 11, 2021. The application process will remain open until the position is filled. Please direct questions to Dr. Wen-Jiu Wang (wjwang@shsu.edu).

To be considered, you must apply online at: https://shsu.peopleadmin.com/postings/28494

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9240

Syracuse University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor Position in Diversity and Public Organizations

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor Position in Diversity and Public Organizations
Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs

The Public Administration and International Affairs (PAIA) Department at Syracuse University’s Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs seeks to hire a tenure-track, assistant professor for a new position in Diversity and Public Organizations. We specifically are interested in candidates with demonstrated research and teaching expertise in public management who focus on the development, management, and leadership of diverse, inclusive, and equitable public organizations and/or the impact of public organizations, administrative action, and public programs and policies on historically underrepresented, marginalized, or vulnerable populations.

Research and teaching are important aspects of this position. Strong candidates will have research agendas rooted in public administration and management that address issues such as social justice, social equity, organizational and civic leadership, administrative burden, access, and fairness, or structural and systemic discrimination, among others. In addition, the successful candidate will contribute to both core and elective courses in the PAIA Department’s Master of Public Administration Program. We strongly value excellent teaching and expect candidates to be able to teach Public Organizations and Management and to develop new courses focused on issues of managing and leading for diversity, equity, inclusion, justice, and access in the public sector. Candidates should be able to integrate theory, analysis, and practical skills in these and other courses. Candidates may also teach in other PAIA and Maxwell programs at the doctoral, masters, and undergraduate level.

The Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs is home to the social science disciplines at Syracuse University and is ranked #1 in the nation for graduate education in public affairs, according to the 2021 edition of U.S. News & World Report’s Best Graduate Schools. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to work in and/or collaborate with interdisciplinary research centers across the Maxwell School, including the Campbell Public Affairs Institute, the Center for Environmental Policy and Administration, the Center for Policy Research, the Institute for the Study of the Judiciary, Politics, and the Media, the Lerner Center for Public Health Promotion, the Maxwell X Lab, the Moynihan Institute of Global Affairs, or the Program for the Advancement of Research on Conflict and Collaboration, among others.

To apply for the position, candidates must complete an online faculty application (available https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/88356) and submit a current CV that includes, if applicable, a summary of previous teaching experience and format of each course taught (i.e., face-to-face, online, hybrid), a diversity statement, a teaching statement, and a list of recommenders. Applications will be reviewed as they arrive with full consideration given to those received by September 30. We will continue to consider applications until the position is filled.

Syracuse University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates must be committed to working with diverse student and community populations.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9217

National University of Singapore

Rank: Post Doc Position: Political Trust: Big Data and Thick Narratives

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Methodology
Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Communication, Public Opinion

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at the National University of Singapore is looking for a Post Doc with an earned PhD in Political Science, Sociology, Social Science or related disciplines. He / she will be part of a research team on a project on Political Trust: Application of Big Data and Narratives funded by the Ministry of Education.

He/she should have publications related to the conceptualization, measurement and comparison of political trust using quantitative methods and/or big data analytics.

He/she should be active in academic communities (political science, social science, sociology, etc.) with interest in the study of political trust.

The appointment is for an initial 1 year renewable for another 2 years based on performance. Competitive remuneration awaits the successful candidate.
Political Science Jobs

The appointment is based in Singapore. Please email your CV and a statement of qualifications to sppaej@nus.edu.sg.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled Date Posted: 8/24/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 91873

Georgetown University

Rank: Tenure-Line Assistant Professor in Comparative Public Policy, Comparative Political Economy, or Comparative Public Management
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

Apply at https://apply.interfolio.com/91873

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-line assistant professor in the field of comparative public policy, comparative political economy, and/or comparative public management.

The geographic focus of the position is open, but the School has a particular interest in applicants whose research and teaching expertise focus on developing and transitional economies. We are open to applicants whose work focuses on any substantive policy sector, but environmental policy, urban policy, race, gender and ethnic politics, and social and economic inequality are areas of special concentration for the school. Successful candidates will teach core courses in the Comparative track of our core ‘Politics of Policymaking’ and ‘Management and Implementation’ sequence and/or political economy, as well as elective courses in their own areas of research interest. We are open to applications from candidates within different research traditions; candidates who have worked with multiple research methodologies are especially encouraged to apply.

We expect the applicant to have a Ph.D. by the time they start; the Ph.D. could be in political science, public administration, policy, sociology, economics or related fields.

Start Date: Fall 2022 Application Deadline: 9/20/2021 Date Posted: 8/18/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 9188

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--Public Policy/Public Administration
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Open

Public Policy/Administration
The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in Public Policy/Public Administration. Applicants from any area of the Public Policy/Public Administration fields are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance, public service ethics, nonprofit and public management, and/or organizational theory. We are particularly interested in applicants who also have backgrounds in public policy and address substantively important questions related to inequality. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach (including but not limited to those using rigorous analytical approaches including the tools of computational social science and “big data” in their research).

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state’s flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci.utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Critical Race Collective; the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field must be finished at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application material in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92424). All applicants should request letters from three references to mjone239@utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

PENDING FINAL ADMINISTRATIVE APPROVAL
Start Date: Fall 2022 Application Deadline: Open until Filled Date Posted: 8/16/2021 Salary: Competitive eJobs ID: 9172

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Marshall University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Public Administration)

The Marshall University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor position in Public Administration beginning in August 2022. Applicants should demonstrate the ability to teach face-to-face and online undergraduate and graduate courses in Public Administration and American Government. Applications should also show evidence of an active research agenda. Marshall is a Carnegie-classified R2 institution. The successful candidate will play an integral role in the continued development of the department’s interdisciplinary MPA program as we build upon our existing strengths to pursue NAASPA accreditation. Our MPA is fully online. To view our curriculum, please visit www.marshall.edu/mpa. Our interdisciplinary MPA program benefits from synergy with the College of Business, Leadership Studies, and Geography. The program expects its faculty and students to contribute to Marshall University’s commitment to civic engagement through applied research and community service activities. Marshall University is an AA/EOE institution committed to developing a diverse faculty and staff.

The department requires a completed Ph.D. by the time of initial appointment in August 2022.

Please submit the following information through our online application website: https://marshall.peopleadmin.com/user/new 1) A cover letter 2) Curriculum vitae 3) Writing sample that suggests evidence of strong research agenda using the “Other Attachment” option. 4) Research statement, including descriptions of future research plans 5) Teaching statement, including descriptions of teaching interests 6) Names and contact information for three academic references. Marshall will contact references directly with instructions for submitting letters through our Applicant Tracking System. 7) Additional documents, e.g., sample syllabi, published articles, if applicable. Submit this information through the “Other Documents” section of the online application. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but to ensure full consideration, complete applications must be submitted by 09/30/2021. Applicants interviewing on campus must have official transcripts (undergraduate and graduate) forwarded directly to the chair of the search committee by their degree granting institutions, prior to an on-campus interview.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/11/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9150

Troy University
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science at Troy University invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in public administration. This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching in master’s degree (MPA) in public administration program as well as undergraduate political science courses (with preference given to those with the ability to teach American politics), which will be delivered in person as well as online. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is negotiable as either January 2022 or August 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9091

Miami University
Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration

Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration to teach courses across the public administration core and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2022.

Required: Doctorate in public policy, political science, or a closely related field (ABDs may apply but all degree requirements must be completed by date of appointment). Doctorate is required by December 31, 2022. To be appointed to the rank of Associate Professor requires collegiate teaching expertise and high-quality research.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/498989/assistant-or-associate-professor-in-public-administration. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9117

Virginia Tech
Rank: Associate or Full Professor of Public Administration and Policy

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Administration

Virginia Tech seeks a qualified, broadly trained individual to fill this faculty position in the areas of public management and public organizations at the associate or full level within the Center for Public Administration and Policy (CPAP) at the main campus in Blacksburg, VA, to begin in August 2022. Teaching responsibilities will include

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
both introductory courses and advanced seminars in CPAP’s MPA and PhD degree programs. The successful candidate is expected to take on a leadership role in support of CPAP programs.

CPAP is housed within the School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA). It is one unit with one faculty in three locations; courses may include students from Arlington or Richmond in addition to Blacksburg. Courses are taught in-person and using videoconferencing technology. Travel between program locations may sometimes also be involved. CPAP faculty enjoy opportunities for interdisciplinary teaching and research in collaboration with other SPIA programs and with a wide array of centers and faculty in science, technology, and the humanities across Virginia Tech.

Required Qualifications:
Applicants must hold an earned PhD in public administration, political science, public policy, public management, or a related discipline by appointment start date.

The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to building a strong research agenda and publication record, as well as playing a leadership role commensurate with experience.

Prefered Qualifications:
Graduate-level teaching and mentoring experience and an established publication record are preferred.

Demonstrated commitment to community outreach and engagement, as is expected of faculty at a land-grant institution, is a plus.

A deep commitment to diversity and inclusion demonstrated through pedagogy, research, and/or public engagement is also a plus.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9098

University of California Berkeley
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor - Cluster Hire in Latinx and Democracy - University of California, Berkeley
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Assistant/Associate/Full Professor - Cluster Hire in Latinx and Democracy - University of California, Berkeley

The University of California, Berkeley seeks applicants for four tenure track (Assistant Professor) positions and one tenured (Associate or Full Professor) position in the area of “Latinx and Democracy.” Successful junior candidates will be invited to join one or more of the following units: College of Letters and Science (Departments of Sociology, Demography, and Political Science), School of Social Welfare, and School of Public Health. The senior, tenured position will be in the Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program in the Department of Ethnic Studies (College of Letters and Science).

The Latinx and Democracy Cluster initiative brings together units in the social sciences and professional schools to address the US-centered Latinx experience within three overarching themes: migration and citizenship, civic and political participation, and social inclusion and wellbeing. These themes speak to central concepts in the imagining and practicing of democracy because at their core they tell us about how the state distribution of political power, through policy and practice, affects a myriad of social issues, from racial inequality to health disparities. Junior candidates for the Sociology, Political Science, Demography, and Public Health positions will be expected to be able to research and teach about the US Latinx experience (i.e. Latinx Politics, Latinx Health, Latinx Communities). Applicants at the non-tenured level should select up to two unit(s) they wish to be considered by. Should applicants at the non-tenured level wish to be considered for a joint appointment with Demography, they should select that as an additional, joint-appointment choice. Senior candidates for the Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program search will be considered at the Associate and Full Professor levels.

Public Health: Berkeley Public Health will recruit an assistant professor focused on examining the impact of public policies on the health of U.S. Latinx populations. Health policy researchers come from diverse social science backgrounds, including public policy, health policy, epidemiology, and health services research, as well as economics, sociology, demography, and political science.

Political Science: The Department of Political Science will recruit an assistant professor with a research focus on the dynamics of Latinx politics in the United States, broadly understood. This could include a focus on political participation and behavior, representation and policy responsiveness, political institutions, and/or changes in political coalitions. Although the U.S. should be a core focus, comparative approaches/perspectives are welcome. In addition to an active research agenda in this field, qualified candidates will be expected to teach courses in Latinx politics.

Social Welfare: The School of Social Welfare seeks an assistant professor committed to multi-level practice in areas such as Latinx civic and political engagement, public policy and institutions, immigration, and the social problems associated with, but not limited to, families and the feminization of poverty. An MSW is preferred and/or community-facing translational scholarly research attuned to professional practice.

Sociology: The Department of Sociology will recruit an assistant professor with a research focus on Latinx immigration and/or Latinx communities in the United States. This could include attention to racialization processes, immigration patterns and Latinx demography, civic and political participation, and Latinx social mobility. While the US Latinx experience should be a main focus, candidates who employ a transnational/transborder lens are also welcome to apply.

Demography: The Department of Demography seeks a dual-appointed assistant professor that will be shared with any of the departments/schools listed above.

Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies: The Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program in the Department of Ethnic Studies seeks a tenured (Associate or Full) professor in the Social Sciences whose dynamic research agenda focuses on the US Latinx experience. This can include a focus on US Latino communities, immigration, political participation, demography, and racialization experiences in any historical or contemporary period. The scholar should have an established record in Latinx Studies and the Social Sciences, and will be expected to lead the new Latinx and Democracy Cluster along with affiliated senior faculty. Qualified candidates will have a history of excellent research, teaching, and mentorship and will be expected to teach relevant social science methods courses within the program.

To apply, visit https://apprkr.com/2373518

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.
https://www.jobelephant.com/
ejid-e0ac19a5c7c79a47bb6ac532a0c5f67a

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 7/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9057

University of South Carolina
Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a 9-month, non-tenure track visiting assistant professor position in Public Administration to begin August 16, 2021. The salary for this position is $65,000 with eligible fringe benefits included.

The position is open with regard to substantive specialization. The successful candidate will be able to teach a variety of classes in the department’s NASPAA accredited Master of Public Administration program. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach financial management and/or nonprofit management. The visiting assistant professor position entails a 2-3 teaching load.

A Ph.D. in Public Administration, Political Science or a closely related field of study is required by the start date of appointment. Exceptions may be made for those who have successfully defended their dissertation prospectus and are actively working on completing their dissertation.

Special Instructions to Applicant:
Candidates must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/99577. Please contact the search committee chair, Xuhong Su, sxuhong@mailbox.sc.edu, with any questions.

The University of South Carolina-Columbia is classified as R1: Doctoral Universities – Highest research activity in the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department’s website: http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome. Positions are advertised for a minimum of five (5) business days on our job website. After five (5) business days, positions can be closed at the discretion of the department at any time. This employment site is updated on a regular basis. The length of the recruitment and screening process may vary from position to position, depending upon a variety of factors. Should review of your qualifications result in a decision to pursue your candidacy, you will be contacted by phone or email.

About UofSC
The University of South Carolina System is comprised of the state’s flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 “Best Colleges” according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state’s educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

Benefits for Temporary Positions
The University of South Carolina (UofSC), through the State of SC and Public Employee Benefit Authority (PEBA), offers temporary employees expected to work at least 30 hours per week health and life insurance, flexible spending accounts and retirement programs. To learn more about UofSC benefits, access the benefits section on the Applicant Portal.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/24/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 8964

PUBLIC LAW
Moravian University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The political science department of Moravian University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the assistant professor level for a position starting Fall 2022.

Candidates must have completed a PhD or be ABD near completion in political science with a specialization in American politics by August 2022. Previous teaching experience is required. The successful applicant will be responsible for teaching introductory courses in US politics along with intermediate and advanced courses such as Congress and the presidency, constitutional law, civil rights, policy, and political culture. The political science department at Moravian University emphasizes engaged teaching and mentoring to prepare students for informed engagement in political and public affairs through a purposeful consideration of the theoretical nature of politics, the ends towards which politics can be directed, and the means employed to achieve those ends. Our citizenship in theory and practice track focuses on normative purposes and argumentation, political language and consciousness, historical texts, institutionalized political processes, modes of political participation, and the particulars of contemporary policy issues. The successful candidate may also contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, Africana Studies, Peace and Justice.

Moravian University is a member of the New American Colleges and Universities with a commitment to the liberal arts and student-focused pedagogy. Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching in a residential learning community and should demonstrate a commitment to undergraduate student research and co-curricular student activities. A clear plan for future scholarship is essential. The department also seeks a candidate who will contribute to the intellectual life of the department and the university community at large. The political science department highly values the diversity of candidates.
ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

3-3 teaching load, with reassigned time as appropriate for administrative work and two preparations in the fall semester (two sections of introductory course)
Advising students
Occasionally teach in the First-Year Writing Seminar Program (FYWS)
Sustain an active program of scholarly research in the area(s) of your expertise
Produce peer-reviewed publications
Participate in professional organizations and societies
Contribute to interdisciplinary research and teaching collaborations between the School of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and the School of Natural and Health Sciences
Teach introductory, intermediate, and advanced political science courses
Mentor undergraduate student research
Participate and direct Student Opportunities for Academic Research (SOAR) Projects
Contribute to the University’s commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community and participate in faculty self-governance with a high level of collegiality

Our department welcomes applications from women, candidates of color, and other underrepresented groups. The University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer.

The deadline for applications is December 15, 2021.
All positions are subject to budget availability.

QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science with a specialization in American politics should be completed or near completion by August 2022.

TO APPLY: Qualified candidates should attach the following to their online application by clicking “Apply Now”: (1) a cover letter that includes a statement of research interest; (2) a teaching statement including your approach to considering the global context of U.S. politics; (3) a statement addressing your approach to diversity, equity and inclusion; (4) a CV; (5) a graduate transcript; (6) a sample of scholarly writing; (7) two sample course syllabi; (8) two sets of course evaluations; (9) contact information, including email addresses, for three individuals who will provide letters of reference by December 15, 2021. Please attach documents as a single PDF file.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Khristina Haddad, chair of the political science department at haddadk@moravian.edu.

The application deadline is December 15, 2021; review of applications will begin immediately.
Incomplete applications will not be considered.

DEI Statement

Moravian University aspires to be a welcoming community that embraces and values the diversity of all members of the campus community. Learn more about the Office for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, and the DEI Action Plan here: https://www.moravian.edu/dei-action-plan.

Deep respect for others is fundamental to the Moravian University community. Moravian University does not discriminate against any person based on actual or perceived race, color, sex, religion, ancestry, genetic information, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, familial status, marital status, age, veteran status, disability, use of guide or support animals and/or mechanical aids, or any other basis protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws. In compliance with the requirements of Title IX, Moravian University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational program and activity, including employment.

Concerns regarding all forms of discrimination, including sexual harassment and/or sex discrimination in employment:

Leah M. Naso
Title IX Coordinator/Compliance Officer
210 Colonial Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018
(610) 861-1529
TitleIX@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding gender and equity in athletics:
Rebecca May
Assistant Athletic Director
148 Johnston Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018
(610) 625-7791
mayr@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding the application of Title IX:
U.S. Department of Education
Office of Civil Rights
100 Penn Square East, Suite 515
Philadelphia, PA 19107-3323
(215) 656-8541
ocr.philadelphia@ed.gov

Report sexual harassment/sex discrimination online anytime (can be anonymous) at www.moravian.edu/titleix. Grievance procedures can be found in the institutional Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Non-Discrimination Policy at www.moravian.edu/policy.

Please visit moravian.edu/benefits to review benefits offered at Moravian University.*

WORK ENVIRONMENT:
The work environment characteristics described here are representative of those encountered while performing the essential functions of this job.
Political Science Jobs September 2021

The individual is routinely exposed to indoor conditions, minimum outdoor weather and temperature extremes, and moderate noise level.

Pursuant to the ADA, Moravian University will provide reasonable services and accommodation(s) to employees with qualified disabilities in order to perform the essential functions of their employment, except when doing so would be unduly disruptive and/or result in undue hardship to the University. Accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis through documentation review and an interactive interview process that includes the employee’s supervisor. Requests for accommodation or questions about this process should be directed to Human Resources at hr@moravian.edu or 610.861.1527. View the standard physical demands for positions at Moravian University. If this position requires additional or different demands, a Human Resources team member will notify you.

The specific statements shown in each section of this description are not intended to be all-inclusive. They represent typical elements and criteria necessary to successfully perform the job.

*Please visit this link to review the benefit eligibility status associated with this position.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION Moravian University offers students a private education they will not find anywhere else: personal attention and preparation for life with a record of success longer than our nation’s history. Located in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania and offering undergraduate and graduate degrees that blend liberal arts with professional programs, Moravian University has been preparing students for reflective lives, fulfilling careers, and transformative leadership in a world of change since 1742. Moravian University is a member of The New American Colleges and Universities (NAC&U), a national consortium of selective, small to mid-size independent colleges and universities dedicated to the purposeful integration of liberal education, professional studies, and civic engagement. Visit moravian.edu to learn more about how the Moravian University focus on education for all prepares its students for life-long success.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/15/2021
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9171

Texas State University, San Marcos
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Congress, American Politics

Posting 202218TTL

Position Description: The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the Assistant Professor level to teach required and elective graduate and undergraduate courses. The department awards the bachelor’s degree and the master of arts degree. All positions are subject to availability of funds.

Required Qualifications:
1. Earned Ph.D. in political science by August 2022;
2. Ability to teach advanced and introductory courses in constitutional law, public law and jurisprudence;
3. Ability to teach graduate and graduate classes in judicial process and/or Congress;
4. Willingness and ability to play a substantial role in advising and coordinating events for pre-law students; and
5. Potential for, or record of, research and publication in political science.

Preferred Qualifications:
1. Demonstrated potential for exceptional scholarly research and publication in the discipline of political science;
2. Demonstrated potential for exceptional teaching; and
3. Effective interpersonal skills.

Application Procedures:
Online submission of all application materials is required through the university’s application portal, https://jobs.hr.txstate.edu/postings/35980.

To assure full consideration, please submit the following by October 15, 2021:
1) a letter of intent addressing required and preferred qualifications, 2) current curriculum vitae, 3) college transcript(s), 4) samples of scholarly work (presentations and/or publications), 5) syllabi (if available), and 6) three letters of recommendation.

Note that as part of our application process, we are requesting three letters of reference. Please provide the names and email addresses for your references in the Reference Letter section of the employment application. Upon submission of your application, an automated email will be generated and sent to your references with instructions on how to attach the reference letter to your application through a confidential online portal.

Candidates selected for interviews will be required to provide official transcripts from all degree granting universities.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9165

University of Washington
Rank: Assistant Professor: Law, Societies & Justice
Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Other

Position Description
The Department of Law, Societies & Justice (LSJ) at the University of Washington in Seattle invites applications for a full-time, tenure track Assistant Professor who specializes in the social scientific study of race/ethnicity as it relates to law, rights, and justice. This position holds a 9-month service term and is expected to start in September 2022. LSJ offers undergraduate students a dynamic and engaged interdisciplinary liberal arts education focused on law, rights, and justice. LSJ also offers a graduate certificate in socio-legal studies for PhD students from a variety of disciplines. The successful candidate will teach a large introductory course that focuses on law, rights, and justice as well as other courses that reflect their areas of expertise. University of Washington faculty engage in teaching, research and service.

Qualifications
LSJ seeks to hire a scholar whose research and teaching focus on race, ethnicity, law, and rights, and whose scholarship includes topics not currently covered by the department such as environmental justice or health. Other considerations will include: evidence of research excellence and productivity; excellence in, and passion for, undergraduate teaching; interdisciplinary and fit with the LSJ mission; service, leadership and collegiality; and clear evidence of a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. A PhD or foreign equivalent in a social science field is required by the start of the appointment.

Instructions
Applications should include a current CV, a cover letter describing research and teaching interests and fit with LSJ, up to two samples of publications or other scholarly work, a teaching statement and evidence of teaching effectiveness, a diversity, equity and inclusion statement, and three letters of recommendation. Candidate materials should be electronically submitted via Interfolio here: https://apply.interfolio.com/90932. Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2021. Questions about the application process should be directed to: Professor Steve Herbert, Search Committee Chair; skherb@uw.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9140

University of California, Berkeley
Rank: Assistant Professor/Professor - Lateral - School of Law

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, BERKELEY, SCHOOL OF LAW

The University of California, Berkeley, School of Law, invites applications from tenured and untenured candidates for full-time, tenured and tenure-track faculty positions with an expected start date of July 1, 2022. We welcome applications from candidates across all areas of law, although subject areas of particular interest include Administrative Law, Business Law, Private Law, Employment and Labor Law, Environmental and Energy Law, Environmental Justice, Civil Procedure, Intellectual Property, Criminal Procedure and Law, Health Law, National Security Law, Race and Law, and Tax.

Berkeley Law is interested in candidates who have demonstrated a commitment to excellence by providing leadership in teaching, research and service toward building an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

For more information about the positions, including required qualifications and application materials:

Entry-level candidates who have not previously held a tenure-track position, including those who have registered with the Association of American Law Schools (AALS) Faculty Appointment Register (FAR), must complete an online application with Berkeley law via the following link: https://apprtrkr.com/2421276. Applications will be accepted through November 15, 2021. Early applications are encouraged.

Lateral candidates who hold tenured or tenure-track positions at other institutions must complete an online application via the following link: https://apptrkr.com/2421276. Applications will be accepted through January 31, 2022.

Further information about Berkeley Law is available at: http://www.law.berkeley.edu. Additional materials may be required of applicants.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9136

Rutgers University, New Brunswick
Rank: Lecturer in Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Rutgers University, New Brunswick, seeks applicants for an 18-month, full time non-tenure track position, to teach undergraduate classes in the field of public law, beginning January 1, 2022 and concluding after the spring 2023 semester. (Contract end date June 30 2023.) Appointment is eligible for renewal. The appointment entails a 6-course teaching load (3/3) per academic year, a salary of $62,912, and includes full health and pension benefits. PhD or equivalent terminal degree in Political Science or related field by start date is required. Review of applications will begin after the priority deadline Sept 20, 2021.

The successful candidate will teach courses in the department’s undergraduate curriculum, especially our large lecture course introduction to public law and advanced classes in public law, constitutional law, American politics, and public policy. Experience working with graduate student teaching assistants a definite plus, as is research or teaching experience in government and business and regulatory policy. Applicants should have a track record of successful teaching they can document with syllabi and/or student evaluations.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Political Science Department is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability,protected veteran status, or any other classification protected by law.

Applications must be submitted through Rutgers University Human Resources website at: https://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/138319

A completed application includes a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, list of courses taught, sample syllabi, and 3 letters of recommendation. Your letters of reference should be sent to references@polisci.rutgers.edu. If your letters are stored in a service like Interfolio, they can be sent to this address directly from that service. You should upload the list of anticipated referees with your application documents if it is available. Review of applicants will begin on Sept 20 2021 and continue until the job is filled.

Questions about the position may be directed to the Department Chair, Professor R. Daniel Kelemen at chair@polisci.rutgers.edu

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/6/2021
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 9131
Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2022. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate’s areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu.

Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu/postings/3166. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college’s commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 24, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by September 24, 2021.

Wheaton is a private coeducational liberal arts college within easy commuting distance of Boston and Providence. We have nearly 1,800 undergraduates from 38 U.S. States and 58 countries. Nearly 24% of our undergraduates are U.S. students of color and 8% are international citizens. Wheaton College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group on the basis of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, race, color, religion, national origin, veteran status, genetic information, or disability. In a continuing effort to maintain and enrich an intellectually diverse learning environment, the Department and the College actively encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups. For more information about the college, visit our website at www.wheatoncollege.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9118

University of San Diego

Rank: Assistant Professor

Position Title & Department:
Assistant Professor (tenure track)
Department of Political Science and International Relations
University of San Diego

Link to job ad: https://jobs.sandiego.edu/cw/en-us/job/494601/assistant-professor-department-of-political-science-and-international-relations

Department Description:

The Department of Political Science and International Relations is committed to the liberal arts tradition of intellectual curiosity, academic rigor, and a pluralistic and diverse curriculum. We provide students with a solid understanding of the theories, practices and institutions of politics, but also with an appreciation of how to create a more just and humane world. Our courses cover every corner of the globe and prepare students to be keen political observers and actors. To supplement coursework, we also provide internship, community service learning, and study abroad opportunities that encourage learning outside of the classroom. The department houses two separate majors. The Political Science major focuses attention on the shared and contending ideas, values, institutions and processes of public life. Courses range from the specific study of politics in one country or of a single institution or political process (the judiciary, Congress, the presidency or elections), to more general offerings such as courses on political theory, political development, revolution, race and ethnicity, environmental politics, research methods, human rights, and constitutional law. The International Relations major is an interdisciplinary field of study designed for students who seek a holistic understanding of international affairs. The curriculum is rooted in political science and provides students with a strong background in international relations, comparative politics, and international political economy. The department also offers a Masters of International Relations (MAIR) degree.

Detailed Position Description: The Department of Political Science and International Relations at the University of San Diego invites applications for a tenure track position at the Assistant Professor level with expertise in public law.

Through their research and teaching, successful candidates will be expected to increase our students’ ability to examine and interrogate the roles played by the Constitution, the laws, and the judicial system in the United States. The department expects that courses offered will address the relationships between the law, politics, and structural inequity, and will include Constitutional Law (POLS 321, 322). The successful candidate will also contribute courses in other core areas of departmental curriculum need. Candidates should describe their teaching interests in their cover letter.

Successful candidates should also describe how their research and/or teaching connects to one or more of the following three diversity cluster themes in the College of Arts and Sciences. (Link to Horizons Project cluster hire here: https://www.sandiego.edu/horizon-project/). These clusters will include new faculty from multiple academic disciplines who have research and/or teaching interests in one of the following substantive themes: Borders and Social Justice, Technology and the Human Experience, and Climate Change and Environmental Justice. These themes might intersect with political science and public law in any of the following ways:

1. Borders & Social Justice. Social, political, and legal borders are erected and reinforced through private and state action in the effort to define and refine membership in social and political communities. These borders may be well articulated on maps (i.e., state, national, and district boundaries) or through lived experience (e.g., Anzaldúa’s La Frontera or DuBois’ “problem of the color line”). There is no shortage of constitutional, ethical, or theoretical questions related to the study of borders, including but not limited to: immigration law (especially in its racial intents and impacts), political gerrymandering, tribal sovereignty, theories of nationalism, and international border conflicts (as matters of both domestic & international law). Candidates with any related interests are strongly encouraged to apply.

2. Technology & the Human Experience. Political scientists have always been at the forefront of addressing questions concerning technology. From the Confucian engagement with emergent modes of craftsmanship in the Warring States period, to Marxist analyses of 19th Century industrialization, to contemporary critical race analyses of structural biases in artificial intelligence, an expansive liberal arts approach to technology is essential to learn how moral and theoretical frameworks from the distant past may help us contend with the effects of technology. Developments in AI and other forms of post-industrial technology present unique challenges to our understanding of democratic values and accountability, civil liberties, police practices, racial equity and criminal justice, and the use of power and authoritarian regimes. Candidates with interests in any of these areas or others that might be related to the theme are highly encouraged to apply.

3. Climate Change & Environmental Justice. Countries, states, and cities are developing new legal and regulatory regimes to mitigate and adapt to climate change. These legal regimes will intersect, for good or ill, the disproportionate consequences that climate change will have for BIPOC communities in the United States and vulnerable populations around the world. Many research questions and potential courses relate to the intersection of climate change, environmental racism, individual & collective responsibility, and constitutional law. Candidates with any interests related to the law, climate change and environmental justice are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must be committed to excellent, inclusive teaching and student advising. Candidates must also be committed to pursuing a scholarly agenda and will be expected to engage actively in service at the departmental, college, and/or university levels after the first year. The College of Arts and Sciences expects faculty to teach three courses per semester.

Job Requirements:

Background check: Successful completion of a pre-employment background check.

Advanced Degree: Applicants should hold a terminal degree, preferably a Ph.D. in Political Science. ABD candidates will be considered on a case-by-case basis, with the expectation of having completed a Ph.D. degree by September 2022.

Degree Verification Requirement: Persons offered employment in this position will be required to provide official education transcripts for degree verification purposes.

Posting Salary: Commensurate with experience; Excellent Benefits. The University of San Diego offers a very competitive benefits package, to include medical, dental, vision, a 6% retirement contribution by the University, tuition remission (with three year vesting period), and access to on-campus Fitness Centers. Please visit the benefits section of our website to view all of the perks and benefits that USD has to offer.

Special Application Instructions:

Candidates are encouraged to submit a cover letter and CV at their earliest convenience, but no later than August 23, 2021. Cover letters should explain how the candidate fits the job description of this position as described above. Candidates will be notified of the department’s interest on a rolling basis and no later than September 10.

We will invite candidates in which the department is interested to submit (by Sept. 20) further materials including a writing sample, a statement of research interests, a summary of teaching evaluations and evidence of teaching excellence including a sample syllabus, a statement of teaching philosophy, contact information for three references who will be sent a link to upload letters, graduate transcripts (unofficial transcripts are ok), and a diversity statement, in which you address A) your values with respect to diversity, equity, and inclusion; B) your experience working with minoritized populations and/or on issues that disproportionately affect diverse populations, and C) your plans related to diversity and inclusion in your teaching and research. Search committee will begin review of full packets of submitted materials on September 20. No new materials will be considered after October 1. Questions should be directed to Search Committee Chair, Dr. Casey Dominguez, caseydominguez@sandiego.edu.

If you have any technical questions or difficulties please contact the Employment Services Team at 619-260-6806, or email us at jobs@sandiego.edu

Additional Details:

The College of Arts and Sciences is at the heart of the University of San Diego. Our philosophy is built on the enduring values of the Catholic intellectual tradition, immersing students in the concepts of free inquiry, diversity and inclusion, ethical conduct and compassionate service. The College aims to establish an academic foundation for students to thrive and gain a comprehensive education, which spans the sciences, arts and social sciences. Through our exemplary liberal arts education and rigorous scholarship, we aspire to not only educate the mind but also develop the whole person.

The University of San Diego, a contemporary and engaged Roman Catholic institution, was founded by the Diocese of San Diego and the Society of the Sacred Heart in 1949. Governed by an independent board of trustees since 1972, USD remains committed to a liberal arts education grounded in the Catholic intellectual tradition and the pursuit of truth, goodness and beauty. Inspired by this centuries old tradition of Catholic higher education, the University welcomes people. of all faith traditions and any, or no, religious background. The future success of USD relies on the contributions of those who seek to foster the development of engaged global citizens and an earnest confrontation of humanity’s urgent challenges.

The University of San Diego is an Equal Opportunity employer and does not discriminate based upon race, color, religion, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, marital status, pregnancy, age, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, covered veteran status, genetic information, or other characteristic protected by federal or state law. USD offers same sex domestic partner benefits. Final candidates will complete a pre-employment background check.

The University of San Diego is a smoking and tobacco-free campus. For more information, visit www.sandiego.edu/smokefree.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/23/2021
Date Posted: 7/27/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9079

University of Texas, Rio Grande Valley
Rank: Assistant Professor

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley’s diverse student body as an Assistant Professor of Political Science in Constitutional Law beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year. The department is interested in applicants with a critical research agenda. The department is particularly interested in applicants whose research focuses on any of the following: voting rights, race, labor, sex and gender, immigration/citizenship, business-government relations, or American political development. The successful candidate must be able to teach courses on Civil Rights & Civil Liberties, Federalism, and Judicial Process, as well as a required introductory course in U.S. Federal Government & Politics. The department maintains a highly flexible teaching schedule to encourage faculty research and faculty regularly receive teaching support from graduate assistants, undergraduate research interns, and online instructional coaches.

To apply, go to: https://careers.utrgv.edu/postings/29324

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/17/2021
Date Posted: 7/26/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9073

University of Massachusetts Amherst
Rank: Assistant Professor of Legal Studies/Political Science

To apply please visit: https://careers.umass.edu/amherst/en-us/job/509281/assistant-professor-of-legal-studiespolitical-science

Job Description

The interdisciplinary Legal Studies Program in the Department of Political Science at the University of Massachusetts Amherst invites applications for a tenure track faculty position expected to start on September 1, 2022. We are seeking talented applicants qualified for an assistant professor position. Under exceptional circumstances, highly qualified candidates at other ranks may receive consideration. Welcome applications from scholars studying law and inequality. Substantive areas could include access to justice; bias in the administration of justice; human and civil rights; social inequality and discrimination; crime and criminal justice; gender, race, and the law; the impact of terrorism; environmental and technological injustices; law and social movements; disparities in the labor force; and other interdisciplinary areas of study. We encourage applications from scholars studying American, comparative, and/or international law and inequality topics.

Requirements

The successful candidate should exhibit significant promise in scholarly publishing, a commitment to teaching excellence, and the ability to contribute to the intellectual growth of the Legal Studies Program. The capacity to secure extramural funding will be looked upon favorably.

Applicants must have earned a PhD in Political Science, Sociology, Criminology, Anthropology, or a closely related social science discipline by the starting date of the appointment.

Additional Information

Legal Studies at UMass is the oldest undergraduate liberal arts program for the study of law and society in the country, and the only one in New England at a public university. The Program is housed in the Department of Political Science and maintains its own undergraduate major. The expanding Legal Studies Program is a center for ambitious intellectual activity and research that addresses important questions about the place of law in societies around the world while helping to produce the next generation of law and society scholars. The Program also hosts the Center for Justice, Law, and Societies at UMass Amherst, a new institute dedicated to building a collaborative, interdisciplinary space for public-facing law and society research. The Department of Political Science is committed to teaching and research that crosses traditional disciplinary and sub-field boundaries and engages a broad range of methodological approaches.

Applicant Instructions

Applicants should submit the following materials:

1. A letter of interest addressed to Professor Lauren McCarthy, Search Committee Chair, Thompson Hall, 200 Hicks Way, Amherst, MA 01003 USA
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Up to three samples of written work
4. Evidence of quality teaching (such as summaries of teaching evaluations and/or a teaching statement)
5. Names and contact information for three references who are willing to submit letters upon request, through the UMass online applications system.

In addition to the materials noted above, applicants should also submit a one-page diversity statement that discusses the candidate’s skills, experiences and commitment to: teaching and mentoring diverse and historically underrepresented student populations, professional service that assists in achieving equity, inclusion, and diversity, and how the
Texas Christian University
Rank: American Judicial Politics
Specializations: Judicial Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

The Department of Political Science at TCU invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in American Judicial Politics beginning in Fall 2022. We seek candidates who are able to teach courses in Constitutional Law (including powers, rights, and liberties), the judicial process, and other courses related to American judicial politics.

Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. in Political Science and have demonstrated the capacity for excellence in the classroom and success as a teacher-scholar. The successful candidate will have a 3/2 teaching load, and the salary is competitive.

To apply, upload a letter of application, CV, evidence of teaching ability, unofficial transcript, writing sample, teaching statement, research statement, and diversity statement to https://jobs.tcu.edu/en-us/listing/. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent by recommenders or dossier service to hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu. Full review of applications begins on September 1 and will continue until the position is filled. All questions regarding the application process may be directed to Human Resources at hrtalentacquisition@tcu.edu or 817-257-7790. Questions about the Department of Political Science may be directed to the search committee chair Dr. Ralph Carter (r.carter@tcu.edu).

The TCU political science department has 13 full-time faculty members and nearly 400 majors in three undergraduate degrees. Our teacher-scholars also run co-curricular programs such as pre-law advising, Moot Court, Model U.N., and Washington and local internships.

A selective teaching and research university with 11,000 students, TCU is a private, secular institution located in Fort Worth, Texas. Fort Worth, the 13th largest city in the United States and part of the nation’s fourth-largest metropolitan area, is a fast-growing city of rich cultural endowments, including world-class museums and performing arts facilities, and has easy access to a major international airport. TCU has been recognized for nine consecutive years as one of the “Great Colleges to Work For” by The Chronicle of Higher Education.

TCU is dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. As an AA/EO employer, TCU recruits, hires, and promotes qualified persons in all job classifications without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, ethnic origin, disability, genetic information, covered veteran status or any other basis protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/1/2021
Date Posted: 7/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9040

---

Singapore Management University
Rank: Full-Time Assistant Professor of Law

Singapore Management University (SMU) invites applications for a full-time Assistant Professor of Law.

We are interested in candidates who have research and teaching expertise in the areas of ethics and digital transformation, broadly defined. Candidates with different subject matter expertise are encouraged to look at other career opportunities within the SMU Yong Pung How School of Law: https://law.smu.edu.sg/about/careers/academic_appointments

The successful applicant will be jointly appointed to the SMU Yong Pung How School of Law (YPHSL) and to the SMU Office of Core Curriculum (OCC). S/he will be expected to:

- Conceptualise and execute research focused on the evolving relationship between law and society, with a special focus on the implications of digital transformation for legal systems and societies.
- Develop and teach courses on legal ethics within the law school curriculum.
- Develop and teach courses examining key aspects of the impact of digital transformation on law and society, to be delivered both as multidisciplinary courses within the “Technology and Society” basket of the SMU Core Curriculum to non-law majors. Possible topics include the ethical use of technology, including artificial intelligence; digital governance and its societal consequences; digital citizenship and inclusion; fundamentals of regulatory design, etc.
- Participate actively in the research and educational communities at SMU, and in the service of these communities.

Depending on qualifications, the successful applicant will either be appointed on the Education track (renewable contract, with a teaching load of six courses per year), or on the Research track (tenure track, with a teaching load of four courses per year and a one-course reduction during the first pre-tenure contract).

QUALIFICATIONS

- Post-graduate degree in law or Ph.D. in a related field. Relevant law specialisations include, but are not limited to, IT law, ethics and social responsibility, public law. Those who do not have a postgraduate degree in law are also encouraged to apply if there is evidence of relevant subject matter expertise.
- A record of high quality research in the subject area. The ideal candidate would also showcase an ability to conduct interdisciplinary research.
- A record of excellence in undergraduate or post-graduate teaching in the subject area.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills, including strong public speaking skills.

Application Procedure
Applications should be submitted in English and can be directed to: OCC-YPHSL Search Committee. Applications should include:
• A cover letter indicating your interest in and suitability for the position;
• A current curriculum vitae;
• A 1-2 page research statement;
• Three samples of academic work;
• A 1-2 page teaching statement and, if applicable, teaching evaluations.

Applicants should also arrange for three academic references with contact information to be sent directly to: The Dean, Office of Core Curriculum, Singapore Management University, 81 Victoria Street, Singapore 188065.

Applications can be made at: https://smucareers.taleo.net/careersection/smu_ext_ft/jobdetail.ftl?job=2100005W&tz=GMT%2B08%3A00&tzname=Asia%2FSingapore or e-mail to: occjobs@smu.edu.sg.

SMU is committed to fostering diversity and cultivating an inclusive work environment. Applications from women and minorities are particularly encouraged.

Application deadline: 10 September 2021

Shortlisted candidates will be interviewed and may be invited to a campus visit, if local COVID-19 measures allow. The expected start date is either 1 January 2022 or 1 July 2022.

Singapore Management University is a research university committed to a multidisciplinary and integrated curriculum. Salary and benefits, such as housing allowance and research support, are highly competitive.

The Yong Pung How School of Law offers LL.B, LL.M and J.D. degrees. Its faculty are drawn from or have experience in a range of jurisdictions and are united in their commitment to nurture intellectual curiosity and creativity.

The Office of Core Curriculum oversees the delivery of the SMU Core Curriculum, which offers students a broad-based multidisciplinary curriculum under three pillars, Capabilities, Communities, and Civilisations.

For further information about the Office of Core Curriculum and the Yong Pung How School of Law can be found at www.smu.edu.sg/programmes/core-curriculum and https://law.smu.edu.sg/.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: 9/10/2021
Date Posted: 6/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8949

DePaul University
Rank: Instructor

The Department of Political Science at DePaul University invites applications for a full time, non-tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of American Politics and Public Law. Responsibilities will include teaching courses on American Institutions (the Presidency and Congress) and areas of Constitutional law and the judicial process. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach introductory American Government and Political Science courses. In addition, the position will have administrative responsibilities overseeing the Department’s internship program. The position will begin in the Fall Quarter of 2021.

Required Qualifications:

A Ph.D. is preferred at the time of appointment, but ABD candidates will be considered. A Juris Doctorate degree will not be considered sufficient. Experience working with students outside of the classroom, or in Washington DC, will be given preference, as will an ability to teach research methods. Candidates should electronically submit the following: (1) a letter of application (cover letter), (2) a CV, (3) an unofficial transcript of the last degree (earned or in progress), (4) syllabi and (5) complete course evaluations if available. This material should be submitted via DePaul’s Faculty Opportunities website at https://academics.depaul.edu/faculty-jobs/Pages/default.aspx. Finalists will also be asked to submit three letters of recommendation.

The screening of applications will begin April 9, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

About DePaul

With a total enrollment over 22,000 students, DePaul is one of the largest private non-profit universities in the nation. Yet the class size in its academic programs typically does not exceed 40 students, reflecting the value the university places on teaching excellence. Our programs provide high quality, personalized, accessible education to a diverse student body, grounded in the values of St. Vincent de Paul. Our teaching and research advance knowledge and service to society.

DePaul seeks applicants who reflect the diversity of its student body and the city of Chicago. Those with experience working with diverse faculty, staff, and students, and who can contribute to an inclusive climate are encouraged to apply. We urge candidates to provide examples of their successes in these areas. Women, members of historically underrepresented groups, and persons with disabilities are particularly encouraged to apply.

For more information, e-mail polisci@depaul.edu or visit the department’s web site at https://las.depaul.edu/academics/political-science/Pages/default.aspx

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8662

PUBLIC POLICY

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Regional Political Economy
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Middle East, Africa, Latin American

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs invites applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows’ program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/academicpositions/position/21442

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University’s background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program in Regional Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Latin American, Africa

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University’s School of Public and International Affairs seeks two visitors or more candidates for the Visiting Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows’ program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program’s satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: https://www.princeton.edu/academicpositions/position/21444

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

• Cover letter explaining the candidate’s scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
• Current curriculum vitae including publications;
• 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
• One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
• Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant’s qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:
Texas A&M University
Rank: Associate Professor or Full Professor

The Department of Public Service and Administration in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for one full-time, 9-month, tenured position for an Associate Professor or Full Professor to teach in its Master of Public Service and Administration Program. Candidates with well-recognized expertise in environmental policy and management who can provide programmatic leadership for our concentration in Energy, Environment and Technology Policy and Management are preferred, although strong candidates from other fields of public policy and public management will be considered. Candidates will be expected to build on existing strengths and bolster the capacity of the School to participate in campus-wide multidisciplinary research initiatives and new or existing programs of the Institute for Science, Technology, and Public Policy. The Department of Public Service and Administration is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu/psaa.

The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values. Applicants must hold a doctorate and demonstrate evidence of high quality research or a commitment to teaching in a professional school of public affairs.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, and complete contact information for 3 references (in DOC or PDF format) at http://apply.interfolio.com/91792. Applications are only accepted online.

The review of applications will begin October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions regarding this position should be sent to sbustos@tamu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/31/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9105

Duke Kunshan University

Faculty Position in Public Policy

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Health Care, Science & Technology

Duke Kunshan University (DKU) invites applications to two faculty positions in public policy, beginning in the academic year 2022-2023. We seek candidates whose theoretical focus is policy analysis and/or policy processes. We are open to a wide range of substantive focus areas including health, environment, governance, science & technology, energy & resources, and urban studies. We are especially interested in candidates able to teach policy analysis and policy processes from a comparative perspective. These positions are open with regard to rank including tenured, tenure track and non-tenure track. Mid-career and senior faculty are especially encouraged to apply.

As an international intellectual community that encourages diversity, openness and creative learning, DKU welcomes outstanding faculty from around the world who contribute diverse perspectives and experiences to a global learning and research environment. DKU particularly welcomes applications from underrepresented groups and minorities.

In order to meet Chinese visa requirements, prior to the position start date international (non-Chinese) candidates must have worked full-time (work experience obtained while studying full-time is not considered as full-time work experience) for at least two years in a relevant area (including post-doctoral work) after receiving their Bachelor’s degree, or begin their appointment at DKU within 12 months of obtaining their master’s degree/Ph.D. and without having work experience between graduation date on master’s degree diploma/Ph.D. diploma and position start date.

DKU is a collaborative partnership of Duke University, Wuhan University and the Municipality of Kunshan, China (https://dukekunshan.edu.cn/). Our campus provides an innovative and robustly interdisciplinary undergraduate liberal arts experience to a student body that will number 2000 students and 150+ faculty, with an acceptance rate of 8% and a student body represented by over 60 countries. We also offer a discrete number of Master’s level graduate programs. The DKU pedagogical model draws on the best of Duke’s educational experience and resources to reimagine undergraduate instruction on an intimate campus setting.

Similar to the best liberal arts colleges in the United States, DKU values dedication to teaching excellence in a liberal arts environment, as well as a strong commitment to successful scholarly engagement and research. This includes research with undergraduate students. As a whole, the Duke Kunshan faculty will have strong commitments to teaching and research, and outstanding quality in both areas will be highly valued.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. degree or equivalent in a relevant field. Research experience at a postdoctoral level (or greater) and teaching experience are desirable, as is experience working in an interdisciplinary setting. Applicants should provide a cover letter including a clear statement of the candidate’s specific interest in DKU, a curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement, and three reference letters. All materials should be submitted through Academic Jobs Online: https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19303. The search committee also invites and encourages letters of nomination for potential candidates. Nominations and questions about the positions may be sent to social-science-search@dukekunshan.edu.cn using “Public Policy” as the subject line. Priority will be given to applications received by October 15, 2021; we will accept applications until the positions are filled.

The DKU campus is 37 miles west of Shanghai in Kunshan, and is connected to Shanghai via an 18-minute high-speed train and a subway-light rail train system. DKU provides internationally competitive compensation, housing allowance, child education benefits (for applicable faculty positions), and a discretionary fund or start-up package.

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master’s degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department’s required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at http://bush.tamu.edu. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site http://apply.interfolio.com/86435 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

University of Chicago
Rank: Associate or Full Professor - Development Economics

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions at the Assistant Professor level in development economics. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by the beginning of the appointment and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago’s Interfolio academic job board at: apply.interfolio.com/92762. Applicants are required to submit: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) two letters of recommendation, 3) one writing sample, 4) research statement, and 5) teaching statement. Review of applicants will begin on September 20, 2021. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2022.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-1032 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

University of Chicago
Rank: Associate or Full Professor - Development Economics

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for a tenured faculty position in development economics. The position can be at the rank of tenured associate or full professor.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago’s Interfolio academic jobs board at: apply.interfolio.com/92764. Applicants must upload: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) one sample publication, 3) research statement, and 4) teaching statement. Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2021. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2022.
We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-1032 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Date Posted: 8/26/2021
Salary: Competitive

Georgetown University
Rank: Tenure-Line Assistant Professor in Computational Social Science
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Political Theory, Methodology

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-line assistant professor in Computational Social Science. Large scale data and increasing computing power, coupled with rapid advances in data science tools create massive opportunities and challenges in the field of public policy.

We are seeking someone who will have skills and demonstrated research expertise in data science areas such as machine learning, text as data, spatial data, computation using large-scale data, networks and other topics on computational social science. We are open to the academic discipline, which could be computer science, economics, political science, public policy, statistics or a related field. We expect the applicant to have a Ph.D. by the time they start.

The person hired in this search will be expected to do research at the intersection of data science and public policy. The successful candidate’s teaching will include courses for the Data Science for the intersection of data science and public policy. The successful candidate will use innovative, experiential, and inclusive pedagogies to facilitate greater diversity and inclusion at Bentley University while amplifying the department’s assurance to anti-racist work both inside and outside of the classroom. This position offers opportunities to be an active and engaged member of a collegial, multidisciplinary department while working in a dynamic campus environment. The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to our two departmental majors—International Affairs and Public Policy—and to bolster the department’s existing strengths in geography, political science, and/or culture studies.

Bentley University
Rank: Lecturer, Global Public Policy

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer with expertise in Global Public Policy to begin July 2022. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper-level courses at the undergraduate level. We welcome applications from candidates whose teaching and research investigates the policymaking process in global, transnational, and/or regional contexts. While not required, we welcome applications from candidates with expertise on the role of non-for-profit and/or private organizations in shaping policy change; international development; and/or policy implementation and program evaluation. This non-tenure track position carries a 4-4 teaching load during the contract year.

We seek a colleague with a strong dedication to excellence in teaching. The successful candidate will use innovative, experiential, and inclusive pedagogies to facilitate greater diversity and inclusion at Bentley University while amplifying the department’s assurance to anti-racist work both inside and outside of the classroom. This position offers opportunities to be an active and engaged member of a collegial, multidisciplinary department while working in a dynamic campus environment. The successful candidate will be asked to contribute to our two departmental majors—International Affairs and Public Policy—and to bolster the department’s existing strengths in geography, political science, and/or culture studies.
Bowdoin College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Latino Politics

As part of a larger multi-year cohort initiative, the Bowdoin College Department of Government and Legal Studies seeks applicants for a full-time tenure-track position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, pending final approval. The position would begin July 1, 2022. We expect to hire at the rank of assistant professor but will consider applications from candidates at all levels. A PhD in political science or a related field is required by the start of this appointment. Research and teaching on U.S. politics is preferred, but a focus on other areas of the Americas will be considered. Teaching load is two courses per semester, across all levels of the curriculum.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful scholarly or artistic engagement and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource: https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive.) Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals.

Bowdoin is a community that warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the support of an inclusive campus community and those who will enrich and contribute to the College’s multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit https://careers.bowdoin.edu to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a description of your research plans; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion (https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive); and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021 and continue until the search is concluded.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland and 2+ hours north of Boston -- connected to Boston and beyond by public transportation -- the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin’s reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (35% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 15% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: http://www.bowdoin.edu. For additional information about the Department of Government and Legal Studies, see https://www.bowdoin.edu/government/ or contact department chair Andrew Rudalevige (arudalev@bowdoin.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9201
Middle Georgia State University
Rank: Assistant Professor, American/comparative politics or public policy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

JOB SUMMARY: The Department of Political Science at Middle Georgia State University (https://www.mga.edu/political-science) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in political science, with a specialization in American politics, comparative politics, or public policy, at the rank of assistant professor, to be primarily based on the Cochran campus. This is a 10-month position with a teaching load of 12 credit hours per semester (4-4) of undergraduate courses in political science, typically including multiple sections of the introductory American Government course, as well as more advanced undergraduate courses in political science in the candidate’s area of specialization.

MAJOR DUTIES: Teaching responsibilities may include day and/or evening courses, partially and fully online courses, and courses taught via video conferencing; faculty are also expected to travel to teach and attend meetings at other campus locations when needed. Tenure-track faculty are expected to have an active scholarly agenda, including publication in peer-reviewed outlets; student advising and service to the department, school, university, and community are also expected for promotion and tenure. Summer teaching opportunities may also be available, contingent on student demand.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates should have earned a doctorate in political science, or a doctorate in related field including at least 18 semester hours of graduate coursework in political science, from a regionally-accredited institution; ABD candidates will only be considered if they will earn their doctorate by January 1, 2022. Experience as an instructor of record, demonstrated expertise in American politics or comparative politics, and/or the ability to contribute to one or more of the minors offered by the department are desirable. Candidates must have a record of teaching and potential for scholarship that warrants appointment at the rank of assistant professor.

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications accepted until the position is filled.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Informal inquiries about the position may be made to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, Chair of the Department of Political Science at Christopher.lawrence@mga.edu.

TO APPLY: Application materials should be emailed as one PDF attachment to recruitment@mga.edu with the subject line “10018053 Assistant Professor of Political Science 8.24.2021”. Application materials must include (1) an MGA faculty application, (2) a letter of interest, (3) a curriculum vitae, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) names and contact information of three references, and (6) unofficial transcripts. Paper application materials will not be accepted.

Background checks will be conducted on all final candidates.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9208

National University of Singapore
Rank: Post Doc Position: Political Trust: Big Data and Thick Narratives
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Methodology
Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Communication, Public Opinion

The Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy at the National University of Singapore is looking for a Post Doc with an earned PhD in Political Science, Sociology, Social Science or related disciplines. He / she will be part of a research team on a project on Political Trust: Application of Big Data and Narratives funded by the Ministry of Education.

He/she should have publications related to the conceptualization, measurement and comparison of political trust using quantitative methods and/or big data analytics.

He/she should be active in academic communities (political science, social science, sociology, etc.) with interest in the study of political trust.

The appointment is for an initial 1 year renewable for another 2 years based on performance. Competitive remuneration awaits the successful candidate.

The appointment is based in Singapore. Please email your CV and a statement of qualifications to sppaej@nus.edu.sg.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9206

Bentley University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative race and ethnicity. We seek applications from scholar-teachers who focus on race and ethnicity in comparative, transnational or global perspective, with at least one area of specialization in the United States.

Our department is multidisciplinary, built around a core of faculty from cultural studies, geography, and political science. We welcome candidates from any discipline, including but not limited to anthropology, geography, and political science, to complement and deepen existing strengths. While the position is open with respect to further thematic specializations, we are particularly interested in candidates whose work contributes to understanding the intersectionality of race and ethnicity with sustainability, health, development, immigration/migration, or public policy, preferably through comparativist lenses.

As guided by our Academic Affairs Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion Strategic Plan, Bentley University seeks to enhance our faculty capacity in the scholarship, pedagogy, and engagement related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. To achieve that, we are hiring a cohort of new faculty in multiple academic departments and disciplines with expertise in DEI. This position is intended to be part of our DEI faculty cohort, which will enrich our DEI expertise across Business and the Liberal Arts & Sciences. Learn more about Bentley University’s
The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-line assistant professor in Comparative Public Policy, Comparative Political Economy, or Comparative Public Administration.

Candidiates must demonstrate evidence of a continuing research agenda focused on publication and a strong dedication to excellence in teaching, with preference for candidates with classroom teaching experience. We especially welcome candidates who bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the classroom. Incoming tenure-track faculty typically have a 2-2 teaching load.

The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor rank for a Fall 2022 start.

Minimum Qualifications:
PhD required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed prior to the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Instructions to Applicants:
Applicants submit all materials through Bentley’s on-line employment site at: https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty/job/Bentley-Campus/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Professor--Global-Studies_R0002083.

Applicants should submit the following materials:
1. A cover letter that summarizes overall strengths, including the nature of the candidate’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
3. A teaching statement of no more than two pages.
4. A research statement of no more than two pages detailing the candidate’s research strengths and plans for future research directions.
5. The names and contact information for three professional references. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Joni Seager at jsager@bentley.edu

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by September 27, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/27/2021
Date Posted: 8/20/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9196

Loyola Marymount University
Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science and International Relations
Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Open

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Loyola Marymount University invites applications for an assistant professor position beginning in Fall 2022. We seek a candidate who is passionate about teaching undergraduate methods. The department is especially interested in candidates with expertise in global or domestic public policy issues, such as education, health and healthcare, urbanization, or the environment and climate change. Our preferred candidate’s research will engage with substantive policy issues with a focus on social and group differences broadly defined (such as race, class, inequality, ethnicity, nationalism and national identities, sexuality, gender, disability, religion, North-South relations, etc.).

The regular teaching load for this position includes two sections of our introductory methods class and periodically a seminar in advanced methods. LMU has a 2-2/2-3 teaching load, meaning that faculty teach two undergraduate courses per semester, with one 3 course load semester every other year. We are seeking to hire a dedicated teacher and emerging scholar who will embrace the department’s mission of helping students become informed, analytically reflective, and engaged global citizens. Successful candidates must demonstrate a commitment to working with diverse student and community populations.

Loyola Marymount University, a Carnegie classified R2 institution in the mainstream of American Catholic higher education, seeks outstanding applicants who value its mission and share its commitment to inclusive excellence, the education of the whole person, and the building of a just society. LMU is an equal opportunity employer committed to providing an environment free from discrimination and harassment as defined by federal, state and local law. We invite all persons in the full diversity of their being, life experience, and beliefs.
Assistant Professor - Political Economy of Development

The University of Chicago invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions at the Assistant Professor level in the political economy of development. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by the beginning of the appointment and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago’s Interfolio academic job board at: apply.interfolio.com/92469. Applicants are required to submit: 1) curriculum vitae; 2) two letters of recommendation; 3) one writing sample; 4) research statement; and 5) teaching statement. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2022.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statement-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-1032 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--Public Policy/Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Public Policy/Public Administration. Applicants from any area of the Public Policy/Public Administration fields are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance, public service ethics, nonprofit and public management, and/or organizational theory. We are particularly interested in applicants who also have backgrounds in public policy and address substantively important questions related to inequality. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach (including but not limited to those using rigorous analytical approaches including the tools of computational social science and “big data” in their research).

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: policsci.utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Critical Race Collective; the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field must be completed at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application material in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92424). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent via Interfolio. Review of applications begins October 5, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Michael Jones at mjone239@utk.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the
Harris School of Public Policy

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science/Political Economy

The Harris School of Public Policy at the University of Chicago invites applications for tenure-track faculty positions in Political Science or Political Economy at the Assistant Professor level. The search is open with respect to subfield. Applicants are expected to complete a Ph.D. by July 31, 2022 and demonstrate strong promise for a scholarly career.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit their application through the University of Chicago’s Interfolio academic job board at: apply.interfolio.com/92263. Applicants are required to submit: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) two letters of recommendation, 3) one writing sample, 4) research statement, 5) teaching statement, and 6) no more than one-page abstract from their job market paper or dissertation. Applicants may also submit additional optional documents such as: a cover letter, additional writing sample, and/or a third letter of reference. Review of applicants will begin on September 11, 2021. No applications will be accepted after May 1, 2022.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University’s Statements on Diversity are at https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University’s Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-1032 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/12/2021
in one or more subfields, particularly at the graduate level. The candidate will be required to teach courses for the Bieler School of Environment on both the McGill Downtown Campus and Macdon-ald Campus.

Qualifications and Education Requirements:
Candidates should have completed their PhD or be near completion.
An applicant’s record of performance must provide evidence of outstanding research potential and the ability/potential to teach effectively at the undergraduate and graduate level, as well as to provide supervision for graduate students. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but a working knowledge of French is an asset.

Job Details:

Job Classification: Tenure-track
Rank: Assistant Professor
Job Status: Full-time
Salary: Competitive

Application Deadline: October 25, 2021, for full consideration, although applications will continue to be reviewed until the position is filled.

Application Process:

Applications must be submitted online to https://mcgill.wd3.
myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/McGill_Careers/job/Leacock-Building/Assistant-Professor_JR0000014760Workday (McGill’s employment portal)&lt;/a&gt;.

The following supporting documents are required:

• A cover letter and curriculum vitae;
• Include the names of at least three referees in your curriculum vitae;
• A statement of research;
• A writing sample (article or chapter length);
• A teaching statement, as well as course evaluations and syllabi if available.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/11/2021
Salary: Competitive

University of Massachusetts, Amherst
Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Policy

To apply, visit: https://careers.umass.edu/amherst/en-us/job/509331/school-of-public-policy-2-assistant-professorspublic-policy-open-discipline

Job Description

The UMass Amherst School of Public Policy invites applications for two tenure system faculty positions at the level of Assistant Professor expected to start on September 1, 2022. Under exceptional circumstances, highly qualified candidates at other ranks may receive consideration. SPP faculty research and teaching interests include international/comparative, federal, state, and local levels. Areas of interest for the search include public or nonprofit management; social policy; technology and governance; and sustainability, environmental and climate policy. We encourage in particular applications from candidates whose work foregrounds concerns around racial justice and equity (including from intersectional perspectives) within the above areas of interest. Competitive candidates should be able to teach courses at the undergraduate and master’s levels in policy analysis, quantitative research methods, qualitative research methods, nonprofit management, or public administration and management. These two position openings build on existing faculty strength and are the second phase of the School of Public Policy’s multi-year hiring plan.

The School of Public Policy offers a 37-credit Master of Public Policy and a 48-credit Master of Public Policy and Administration degree, and is launching an undergraduate major in Public Policy.

Minimum Requirements

Successful candidates will exhibit promise in scholarly publishing, a commitment to public policy and management education, and a willingness to contribute to the growth of the School of Public Policy.
Applicants must have earned a PhD in Public Policy or Administration, or a closely related social science discipline, by the starting date of the appointment.

Application Instructions

Please visit: https://careers.umass.edu/amherst/en-us/job/509331/school-of-public-policy-2-assistant-professorspublic-policy-open-
discipline

Applicants should submit the following materials:

A letter of interest addressed to Professor Alasdair Roberts, Director,
School of Public Policy, Thompson Hall, 200 Hicks Way, Amherst, MA 01003 USA
Curriculum vitae
Up to three samples of written work
Evidence of quality teaching (such as summaries of teaching evaluations and/or a teaching statement
Names and contact information for three professional references
In addition to the materials noted above, applicants should also submit a one-page diversity statement that discusses the candidate’s skills, experiences and commitment to: teaching and mentoring diverse and historically underrepresented student populations, professional service that assists in achieving equity, inclusion, and diversity, and how the candidate’s past or future research addresses fundamental questions important to an increasingly diverse and global society.

Applicants are required to apply through the UMass online application system, unless unable to do so. Any questions about the position may be sent to: Alasdair Roberts, Director, School of Public Policy at asroberts@umass.edu.

Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2021, and continue until the position is filled.

About UMass Amherst

The University of Massachusetts Amherst, the Commonwealth’s flagship campus, is a nationally ranked public research university offering a full range of undergraduate, graduate and professional degrees. The University sits on nearly 1,450-acres in the scenic Pioneer Valley of Western Massachusetts, and offers a rich cultural environment in a bucolic setting close to major urban centers. In addition, the University is part of the Five College Consortium (including Amherst College, Hampshire College, Mount Holyoke College, and Smith College), which adds to the intellectual energy of the region.

UMass Amherst is home to over 24,000 undergraduate and more than 7,400 graduate students from all 50 states and nearly 100 countries. It boasts a world-class faculty committed to performance and growth in scholarship, opportunity, diversity and inclusion. It is an R1 research intensive, land-grant institution with growing research expenditures currently totaling more than $223 million annually. Further information about the University’s strategic plan can be found on the Chancellor’s Office website. For more information about the University of Massachusetts community, please visit https://www.umass.edu/prospective-faculty/.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/11/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9147

Duke University - Sanford School of Public Policy
Rank: Adjunct Professor of the Practice of National Security Policy
Specializations: United States, Defense, Leadership Studies

The Sanford School of Public Policy at Duke University invites seasoned national security policy professionals to apply for several teaching positions in an exciting hybrid Executive Masters of National Security Policy for mid-career students seeking to advance in their leadership roles in the national security policy realm in the public and private sectors. Selected candidates will work with existing Duke faculty to build an ambitious new program and stand up the new degree curriculum. They also will have the opportunity to participate in the American Grand Strategy and Counterterrorism and Public Policy Fellows Programs, and collaborate with the Sanford School’s national security faculty on related policy and research projects and proposals.

Applicants may apply to teach one or more classes and may retain professional engagement elsewhere while teaching in the program. The full course list is here; courses of particular need are National Security Leadership, National Security Ethics, National Security Budgeting, National Security Institutions. As a hybrid program responsibilities include teaching synchronously online, building asynchronous online content, and occasional on-campus immersion sessions. Some classes will start in the summer of 2022, and some in the subsequent semesters of the academic year 2022/2023. The positions will allow for some preparation time in advance of class launches.

Applicants should have a Master’s degree or higher and substantial professional experience in such areas of national security policy and policymaking as defense, diplomacy, development, leadership, ethics, cyber, technology, terrorism, biological threats, and/or global environment. Experience creating and executing applied learning experiences such as simulations, war games, table-top exercises, and leading client-based research programs is a plus, as is online teaching experience. Policy research and writing are of interest, but not required.

Applicants may reside in NC or in any of the partner states with which Duke has employment agreements (California, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, New York, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, and Washington DC).

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, three other Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. Current faculty members have degrees in a variety of disciplines including demography, economics, history, law, medicine, philosophy, political science, psychology/social psychology, public policy, public health/health policy, and sociology. The Sanford School houses several interdisciplinary research centers, and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, India, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at www.sanford.duke.edu.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that traces their professional experience and makes it clear why they would be interested in joining the Sanford School of Public Policy and how their expertise would meet the needs of the curriculum. The letter, along with a CV and the names and contact information of three references (no letters at this stage), should be submitted at https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19142. Applications submitted by October 31, 2021, will be guaranteed consideration. For further information contact Professor Bruce Jentleson, Search Committee Chair, bwj7@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual’s age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 10/31/2021
Date Posted: 8/10/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9139

Carnegie Mellon University
Rank: Teaching Post-Doctoral Fellow in Political Science and Public Policy
Specializations: Environmental Policy, Education Policy, Economic Policy

The Heinz College of Information Systems and Public Policy at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position. The teaching post-doctoral fellowship is designed for those who are interested in a teaching career. They will be mentored by outstanding teaching faculty at CMU and will benefit from the rich inter-disciplinary environment at CMU.

We seek candidates that have expertise and could offer courses to graduate students in American politics and/or in selected policy areas including, but not limited to environment and energy, local and/or national economic development, education, and social justice. We are seeking an individual committed to effectively training our graduate students to be leaders that affect meaningful change by inculcating evidence-based practices to policy evaluation and decision-making, as well as the ability to synthesize and communicate recommendations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach and/or co-teach up to two semester equivalent courses per semester. Fellows can pursue research related to their interests and are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of the College and become involved in Carnegie Mellon’s rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.
Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2021.

The application deadline is Monday, February 14, 2022.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at http://apply.interfolio.com/83311

Materials to be submitted:
- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant’s academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program.
- CV.
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach) and a discussion any relevant experience in teaching a globally and culturally diverse group of intellectually curious students.
- Research Statement (Brief statement of research interests and a discussion of how it supports excellence in the classroom)
- Two writing samples of scholarly work.
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 2/14/2022
Date Posted: 8/9/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9132

Miami University
Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration

Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration to teach courses across the public administration core and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2022.

Required: Doctorate in public policy, political science, or a closely related field (ABDs may apply but all degree requirements must be completed by date of appointment). Doctorate is required by December 31, 2022. To be appointed to the rank of Associate Professor requires collegiate teaching expertise and high-quality research.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/498989/assistant-or-associate-professor-in-public-administration. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshab@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9117

Oklahoma State University
Rank: Assistant Professor
Specializations: Economic Policy, Environmental Policy, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University (www.polisci.okstate.edu) invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor in public policy. Our specific area of interest is inequality (e.g., political, economic, racial/ethnic, gender or environment), particularly from a comparative perspective. Regional expertise is open. The successful candidate is expected to have a strong research and teaching record with further potential in these areas. In addition, the position entails service responsibilities to the department, university, community and/or discipline. A PhD in political science or closely related field is expected at the time of the appointment.

Oklahoma State University is one of the state’s two comprehensive research universities with a Stillwater campus population of 23,000 students. The Department offers the following degrees in Political Science: B.S., B.A. and M.A. The teaching load is normally two courses per semester. Completed applications received by Oct. 1, 2021 will be given full consideration.

Applicants are asked to apply online through Interfolio https://apply.interfolio.com/90296 with a letter of application outlining your interest in this position, vitae, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching, and three letters of recommendation.

The Department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. The department encourages applications from women and underrepresented racial/ethnic groups. About one third of our undergraduate majors are members of underrepresented groups. Among our tenure-track faculty, 9 percent are from underrepresented racial/ethnic groups and 55 percent are female. OSU is an AA/EEO/E-Verify Employer For more information, visit https://eeo.okstate.edu. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/1/2021
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9088

Tulane University
Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) in Environmental Studies and Public Policy

The Department of Political Science and the Environmental Studies Program at Tulane University invite applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor to serve as the inaugural David and Jane Flowerree Professor in Environmental Studies and Public Policy. The successful candidate will do research on environmental politics, public policy related to the environment, and science-based public policy; we are open to candidates from diverse methodological traditions. This position will be jointly appointed in the Department of Political Science and the Program in Environmental Studies, with a tenure home in Political Science and teaching and service evenly divided between the two units: two courses per year in the Environmental Studies core curriculum and two courses in Political Science, with the possibility of cross-listing courses across the two units. Environmental Studies is one of the fastest growing majors at Tulane and a program in which the School of Liberal Arts is investing substantially via joint hires and programs. More broadly, the university has strengths in environmental studies across several schools including Architecture, Law, Public Health, and Science and Engineering, as well as the interdisciplinary ByWater Institute. The holders of the two Flowerree Professorships (the other based in the Department of River-Coastal Science and Engineering) will have dedicated funds to invite speakers and organize symposia.

The start date for this position is July 1, 2022. For further questions about the position, contact search chair Prof. Brian Brox, bbrox@tulane.edu

Qualifications:
PhD in Political Science, Public Policy, or Environmental Studies preferred. Ph.D required by time of appointment.

Application Instructions:
Please submit a letter of application, CV, statement of research, teaching portfolio or other evidence of teaching effectiveness, writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation by October 1, 2021 to Interfolio: https://apply.interfolio.com/90813

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement
Tulane University is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action institution committed to excellence through diversity. Tulane University will not discriminate based upon race, ethnicity, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital status, military or veteran status, or any other status or classification protected by federal, state, or local law. All eligible candidates are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/1/2021
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 9085

Virginia Tech
Rank: Associate or Full Professor of Public Administration and Policy
Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Administration

Virginia Tech seeks a qualified, broadly trained individual to fill this faculty position in the areas of public management and public organizations at the associate or full level within the Center for Public Administration and Policy (CPAP) at the main campus in Blacksburg, VA, to begin in August 2022. Teaching responsibilities will include both introductory courses and advanced seminars in CPAP’s MPA and PhD degree programs. The successful candidate is expected to take on a leadership role in support of CPAP programs.

CPAP is housed within the School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA). It is one unit with one faculty in three locations; courses may include students from Arlington or Richmond in addition to Blacksburg. Courses are taught in-person and using videoconferencing technology. Travel between program locations may sometimes also be involved. CPAP faculty enjoy opportunities for interdisciplinary teaching and research in collaboration with other SPIA programs and with a wide array of centers and faculty in science, technology, and the humanities across Virginia Tech.

Required Qualifications:
Applicants must hold an earned PhD in public administration, political science, public policy, public management, or a related discipline by appointment start date.

The candidate must demonstrate a commitment to building a strong research agenda and publication record, as well as playing a leadership role commensurate with experience.

Preferred Qualifications:
Graduate-level teaching and mentoring experience and an established publication record are preferred.

A deep commitment to diversity and inclusion demonstrated through pedagogy, research, and/or public engagement is also a plus.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/4/2021
Date Posted: 7/28/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9098

University of Alaska Anchorage
Rank: Director, Institute of Social and Economic Research (Alaska)
Specializations: Economic Policy, Education Policy, Public Finance & Budgeting

The Institute of Social and Economic Research (ISER) in the College of Business and Public Policy at the University of Alaska Anchorage is seeking applications for the position of Director. For 60 years, ISER has been producing research that helps people understand social and economic systems and supports informed public and private decision-making. The institute has a strong, multi-disciplinary group of faculty and research professionals, and is regularly called upon by state and federal legislators and policymakers to examine legislative and regulatory issues. In Alaska and around the circumpolar North, ISER is known for high-quality policy-oriented research in economic development, natural resource management, health, education and fiscal policy. ISER researchers are also fully engaged in Arctic policy research related to climate change and environment, energy, and rural sustainable development.

The ISER Director will coordinate research activities both within the institute and with other institutions and agencies, and will supervise a multi-disciplinary team consisting of 30 people, including faculty, administrative and research staff, and student researchers. The successful candidate’s current research agenda should add to or complement ISER’s focal research areas. In the director role, the institute expects the ISER Director to be recognized on and off campus as knowledgeable about Alaska public policy issues. A related expectation is the director facilitating ISER’s involvement in UAA’s new Master of Public Policy program. Most importantly, the director will work with institute researchers and staff to shape ISER’s future research agenda in the context of the rapid social, economic, and environmental change Alaska is currently experiencing.

The following qualifications are required:

Science Jobs September 2021
- Ph.D. or terminal degree in a discipline that is relevant to ISER’s mission.
- Familiarity with policy oriented, applied research.
- Record of high-quality research and publications relevant to ISER’s research foci.
- Ability to generate externally funded opportunities for the institute relevant to its mission.
- Excellent communication and organizational skills.
- Ability to generate support for and awareness of ISER across the University of Alaska, and with external agencies and constituencies.
- Demonstrated leadership and mentoring skills.
- Commitment to a shared governance approach.

The following qualifications are preferred:
- Experience leading research teams.
- Understanding of Alaska’s economy, culturally diverse society, and current policy context.
- Familiarity with research developments and opportunities in Alaska, the Arctic, or in similar regions.

ISER sits within the University of Alaska Anchorage’s accredited College of Business and Public Policy at University of Alaska Anchorage. As a part of the University of Alaska system, UAA is a comprehensive, accredited public institution with over 14,000 students that offers graduate, baccalaureate, and associate degrees through its main campus in Anchorage and community campuses throughout Alaska. Anchorage is a diverse, thriving, modern city of nearly 300,000 residents where over 100 languages are spoken. The community offers outstanding outdoor recreation opportunities and excellent social and cultural amenities. For more information about Anchorage, consult: https://www.anchorage.net.

Applicants should submit a one page cover letter explaining their interest and qualifications for the position, a maximum five page, current curriculum vita or resume, and the names, titles and contact information for three references no later than Friday, September 24, 2021.

Learn more and apply at UA Careers: https://careers.alaska.edu/en-us/job/517449/iser-director.

Questions regarding the position should be directed to the chair of the search committee: Dr. Marie Lowe, mlowe@alaska.edu.

Application review will begin September 27, 2021.

Expected start date is Jan 3, 2022.

Start Date: Winter 2022
Application Deadline: 9/24/2021
Date Posted: 7/27/2021
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 9082

Hertie School – the University of Governance in Berlin

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations (f/m/div)
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Hertie School is recruiting a tenure-track Assistant Professor of International Relations. We are looking for a scholar with demonstrated expertise in international institutions, cooperation and global governance, exploring key global challenges and regimes, such as global norms, human rights, migration, peace or trade. Experience in a range of research methods and approaches, in particular multi-method approaches, is a plus. The successful candidate will contribute to teaching IR courses in the School’s Master of International Affairs program, in particular the core course on Global Politics.

Applicants for this position must have a doctoral degree in political science or international relations (or expect to have this degree by the start of employment). We are interested in early career scholars in particular. The successful candidate will be appointed as Assistant Professor with a six-year clock (two three-year contracts) with the possibility of tenure. The expected start date is August 1, 2022.

The Hertie School seeks faculty with demonstrated capacity for research at the highest levels in their discipline. We recruit faculty who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity with a strong commitment to high-quality graduate teaching and innovative research of interest to the international scholarly community and policy-makers.

Candidates are expected to work well in an interdisciplinary, international environment with English as the language of instruction and operation. The successful candidate will teach courses in the School’s Master, Executive, and PhD programmes. As a professional school of public policy, the Hertie School’s degree programmes are exclusively at the master’s and doctoral levels.

As a private non-profit graduate school of public policy, endowed and supported by the Hertie Foundation, the Hertie School offers an internationally competitive salary as well as a paid sabbatical after every five semesters. We provide excellent working conditions with outstanding financial and administrative support for research. The Hertie School is fully embedded in Berlin’s vibrant research landscape and has close ties to the top institutions of the European and international teaching and research community.

The Hertie School is a diverse, international and lively community located in the heart of Berlin. We welcome all applications – irrespective of gender, nationality, ethnic or social origin, religion, disability, age, or sexual orientation. The Hertie School expressly encourages women and/or persons from ethnic groups underrepresented in German Academia to apply. Equally qualified applicants with disabilities will be given preference. The Hertie School takes a family friendly workplace seriously. Under German law, there is standard paid leave for parents after the birth or adoption of a child.

The deadline for the submission of applications is 15 September 2021. The Hertie School will review applications that include a letter of motivation, a current curriculum vitae (publication list, degrees earned, if applicable: positions held, teaching experience, research projects, awards received), two writing samples and, if applicable, teaching evaluations. Three letters of recommendation from professors familiar with the applicant’s work should be provided.

To apply, please go to: https://apply.interfolio.com/89257.

For questions about the position, please contact Professor Anita Gohdes, Professor of International and Cyber Security at the Hertie School (gohdes@hertie-school.org).
Strict confidentiality in the application process is assured. The Hertie School is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/23/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9061

University of California Berkeley
Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor - Cluster Hire in Latinxs and Democracy - University of California, Berkeley
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Assistant/Associate/Full Professor - Cluster Hire in Latinx and Democracy - University of California, Berkeley

The University of California, Berkeley seeks applicants for four tenure track (Assistant Professor) positions and one tenured (Associate or Full Professor) position in the area of “Latinx and Democracy.” Successful junior candidates will be invited to join one or more of the following units: College of Letters and Science (Departments of Sociology, Demography, and Political Science), School of Social Welfare, and School of Public Health. The senior, tenured position will be in the Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program in the Department of Ethnic Studies (College of Letters and Science).

The Latinx and Democracy Cluster initiative brings together units in the social sciences and professional schools to address the U.S.-centered Latinx experience within three overarching themes: migration and citizenship, civic and political participation, and social inclusion and wellbeing. These themes speak to central concepts in the imagining and practicing of democracy because at their core they tell us about how the state distribution of political power, through policy and practice, affects a myriad of social issues, from racial inequality to health disparities. Junior candidates for the Sociology, Political Science, Demography, and Public Health positions will be expected to be able to research and teach about the US Latinx experience (i.e. Latinx Politics, Latinx Health, Latinx Communities). Applicants at the non-tenured level should select that as an additional, joint-appointment choice. Senior candidates for the Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program search will be considered at the Associate and Full Professor levels.

Public Health: Berkeley Public Health will recruit an assistant professor focused on examining the impact of public policies on the health of U.S. Latinx populations. Health policy researchers come from diverse social science backgrounds, including public policy, health policy, epidemiology, and health services research, as well as economics, sociology, demography, and political science.

Political Science: The Department of Political Science will recruit an assistant professor with a research focus on the dynamics of Latinx politics in the United States, broadly understood. This could include a focus on political participation and behavior, representation and policy responsiveness, political institutions, and/or changes in political coalitions. Although the U.S. should be a core focus, comparative approaches/perspectives are welcome. In addition to an active research agenda in this field, qualified candidates will be expected to teach courses in Latinx politics.

Social Welfare: The School of Social Welfare seeks an assistant professor committed to multi-level practice in areas such as Latinx civic and political engagement, public policy and institutions, immigration, and the social problems associated with, but not limited to, families and the feminization of poverty. An MSW is preferred and/or community-facing translational scholarly research attuned to professional practice.

Sociology: The Department of Sociology will recruit an assistant professor with a research focus on Latinx immigration and/or Latinx communities in the United States. This could include attention to racialization processes, immigration patterns and Latinx demography, civic and political participation, and Latinx social mobility. While the US Latinx experience should be a main focus, candidates who employ a transnational/transborder lens are also welcome to apply.

Demography: The Department of Demography seeks a dual-appointed assistant professor that will be shared with any of the departments/schools listed above.

Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies: The Chicana/o and Latina/o Studies Program in the Department of Ethnic Studies seeks a tenured (Associate or Full) professor in the Social Sciences whose dynamic research agenda focuses on the US Latinx experience. This can include a focus on US Latino communities, immigration, political participation, demography, and racialization experiences in any historical or contemporary time period. The scholar should have an established record in Latinx Studies and the Social Sciences, and will be expected to lead the new Latinx and Democracy Cluster along with affiliated senior faculty. Qualified candidates will have a history of excellent research, teaching, and mentorship and will be expected to teach relevant social science methods courses within the program.

To apply, visit https://apptrkr.com/2373518

Copyright ©2017 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

https://www.jobelephant.com/ jeid-e0ac19a5c7c79a47bb6ac532a0c5f67a

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 9/30/2021
Date Posted: 7/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9057

University of Denver
Rank: Assistant Professor, Microeconomics for Public Policy; Assistant Professors, Peace & Security and Democratic Governance; Associate or Full Professor, Environmental Sustainability

The Josef Korbel School of International Studies at the University of Denver is seeking candidates for four new tenure-line faculty positions. A brief summary of each position is as follows:

Microeconomics for Public Policy – Assistant Professor, Tenure Track
The Josef Korbel School of International Studies and the Douglas and Mary Scrivner Institute of Public Policy at the University of Denver seek candidates with teaching and research interests that apply microeconomic perspectives and methods to contemporary public policy issues such as public finance and budgeting, social policy, urban (or rural) economics and policy, economic development, or environmental and natural resource policy. Applicants with a PhD in any relevant social science discipline will be considered. We are especially interested in candidates equipped to teach cost-benefit analysis and other forms of economic and policy analysis at the graduate and undergraduate levels. https://jobs.du.edu/cw/en-us/job/493997/assistant-professor-microeconomics-for-public-policy-josef-korbel-school-of-international-studies

International Security and Democratic Governance (two Assistant Professor positions)
The Josef Korbel School of International Studies at the University of Denver is seeking candidates for two Assistant Professor positions: one in Peace and Security and a second in Democratic Governance. We seek an Assistant Professor in the area of Peace and Security, broadly understood, including both traditional and emerging issues, applying any appropriate methodology, at any level of analysis. The successful candidate will teach and shape core courses in our International Security MA program, providing an opportunity to help fashion a forward-looking and innovative approach to the field.

We also seek an Assistant Professor trained in any relevant social science field, focused on Democratic Governance, broadly understood, and/or its alternatives. Possible research interests include the dynamics of democratization, democratic erosion and autocratization, the role of information and the media, identity in processes of inclusion and exclusion, and the relative efficacy of democracies in addressing challenges such as inequality, development, climate change, corruption, migration, or economic or political crises.

Environmental Sustainability – Associate or Full Tenure-Line Professor
We seek a scholar, trained in any relevant discipline or interdisciplinary program, with a prominent research profile in environmental sustainability, broadly understood. The appointment will be at the Associate or Full Professor rank, with tenure. The successful candidate will contribute to teaching in our undergraduate, certificate and MA programs in sustainability and have the opportunity to play a leading role in developing our emerging “Sustainability Initiative,” including fundraising, enhancing our research programming, and engaging with communities outside the university.

Complete job descriptions, including required and preferred qualifications and salary ranges for each position can be found through the University of Denver’s online application system. Please follow the link https://www.du.edu/jobs/ to access complete information for each position and apply. Questions can be directed to the Committee Chair, Professor Jack Donnelly (Jack.Donnelly@du.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 9/15/2021
Date Posted: 7/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9036

Connecticut College
Rank: Assistant Professor of Government and International Relations

Constitutional Law and Public Policy
The Department of Government and International Relations at Connecticut College invites applicants for a tenure-track position at an Assistant Professor in the U.S. politics subfield, whose focus is on constitutional law and public policy, and who can teach a range of courses in both fields. In addition to an introductory U.S. politics course, the successful candidate must be able to teach a two-course sequence in constitutional law, including both an institutions course (e.g. separation of powers, check and balances) and a course on civil rights and civil liberties. The successful candidate’s research and teaching focus will also include public-policy making. The new hire should be able to teach an introductory public policy course, along with upper-division courses in the particular policy area in which the candidate specializes. These policy courses could, for example, focus on health, immigration, anti-poverty initiatives, education, or criminal-justice reform.

Required: ABD in Political Science. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but is required to complete the Ph.D. within one year of hire.

Salary is competitive. In addition to providing ongoing support for teaching and research, the College offers the following resources for pre-tenured faculty: a 2-2 teaching load in the first year, a research fund in the first two years, and a semester’s sabbatical (at full salary) after a successful third-year review.

The College’s Board of Trustees, President, administration, faculty and staff share a commitment to diversity. To this end, the College, located in New London, CT is continuing what has been a very successful initiative to diversify its faculty, staff, and student body. We encourage applications from candidates who share this understanding and will contribute to the diversity of our college community, including members of historically underrepresented groups. The College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Please visit our website, http://www.conncoll.edu http://www.conncoll.edu/ &lt;/a&gt; for more information about the College and our faculty searches.

Offering two popular majors (a government major and an interdisciplinary international relations major), Government and International Relations is a collegial department with 11 full-time faculty members. There are also opportunities for collaboration with interdisciplinary programs on campus. Moreover, the College’s general education program, Connections, provides ample opportunity for collaborative and interdisciplinary teaching. For an overview of this innovative curriculum, please visit http://www.conncoll.edu/connections/http://www.conncoll.edu/connections/ &lt;/a&gt;

Applicants should upload a letter of application, a C.V., teaching evaluations, a writing sample, graduate transcripts, and at least three letters of recommendation to http://apply.interfolio.com/89957 http://apply.interfolio.com/89957 &lt;/a&gt;. Email inquiries should be sent to Tristan Anne Borger, Chair of the Department of Government and International Relations, at tabor@conncoll.edu. Applications received by October 8th will receive full consideration.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Current eJobs listings at www.apsanet.org/jobs
Butler University

Rank: Instructor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track instructor for a one-year appointment with possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants should have expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States and a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will teach an introductory American politics survey course, research and analysis methods (basic research design/methods), US Parties and Politics, and other courses aligned with their expertise, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. We are particularly interested in candidates who could teach an introductory international politics survey course. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, with no more than six distinct course preparations per year anticipated.

Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following to plssearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant’s qualifications for this position and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and a curriculum vitae. Additional evidence of evidence of inclusive teaching excellence is welcome but not required at this stage. Applicants should have advanced to candidate or earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment. The selected candidate will be required to provide official transcripts and to consent to a background check prior to a final offer of employment and will start August 2021.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/9/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8927

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor of Organization Theory, Public Administration or Public Management

The Georgia Institute of Technology’s School of Public Policy is seeking applications for a tenure-track position, assistant professor rank. We are seeking a Ph.D. specializing in organization theory, public administration or public mana may be from a variety of disciplinary and field perspectives in keeping with the interdisciplinary profile of our School. We welcome all qualified applicants to apply, including women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities. We also to expand our existing strengths in one of the core areas of the department: science, technology and innovation policy; climate, energy and environmental policy; information, communication, and cybersecurity policy; philosophy and ethics; and data analytics and other research methods. Our work in these areas benefits from synergy with Georgia Tech’s world-class programs in the sciences, engineering, computer science, design and planning, and business. We are also loo expertise in health policy in a way that complements our other strengths. Job duties will include research, teaching and advising students, and service activities at Georgia Tech.

The School of Public Policy has 30 faculty members and we instruct students in undergraduate, master’s and Ph.D. programs. See our webpage at http://spp.gatech.edu/ for more information. Georgia Tech is a top-ranked public research university situated in the heart of Atlanta, a diverse and vibrant city with great economic and cultural strengths. The Institute is a member of the University System of Georgia, the Georgia Research Alliance, and the Association of American Universities. The Institute is devoted to its technology resources, collaborations, high-quality student body, and its commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Applicants should submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) up to three publications; 4) a research statement, including descriptions of future research plans; 5) a teaching statement, including descriptions of teaching interests; a contact information of three academic references.

Please apply at: https://careers.hprod.onescm.usg.edu/psp/careers/CAREERS/HRMS/c/HRG_HRAM_FL.HRS.CG.SEARCH_FL.GBL?Page=HRS_APP_JBPST_FL&Action=U&FOCUS=Applicant&SiteId=3000&JobOpeningId=227192&PostingSeq=1

Direct any questions by email to facsearch@pubpolicy.gatech.edu.

Applications are encouraged to apply by September 1, 2021 for optimal consideration; however, the search will continue until the position is filled.

Ph.D. in organization theory, public administration, public management, or a related field. An earned doctorate is required by the start of the appointment, and a background check must be completed prior to employment.

Georgia Tech provides equal opportunity to all faculty, staff, students, and all other members of the Georgia Tech community, including applicants for admission and/or employment, contractors, volunteers, and participants in institution activities, or services. Georgia Tech complies with all applicable laws and regulations governing equal opportunity in the workplace and in educational activities. Georgia Tech prohibits discrimination, including discriminatory harassment on the basis of race, ethnicity, ancestry, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, genetics, or veteran status in its programs, activities, employment, and admissions. This prohibition a staff, students, and all other members of the Georgia Tech community, including affiliates, invitees, and guests.

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: 9/1/2021
Date Posted: 6/8/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8925