

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

December 2021 | Volume 10, Issue 12

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4

American Government and Politics 11

Comparative Politics 70

International Relations 117

Methodology 166

Non-Academic 178

Open 185

Other 210

Political Theory 237

Public Administration 254

Public Law 269

Public Policy 282

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

December 2021 | Volume 10, Issue 12

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4 (9 listings)

American Government and Politics 11 (97 listings)

Comparative Politics 70 (77 listings)

International Relations 117 (83 listings)

Methodology 166 (17 listings)

Non-Academic 178 (7 listings)

Open 185 (42 listings)

Other 210 (44 listings)

Political Theory 237 (31 listings)

Public Administration 254 (26 listings)

Public Law 269 (16 listings)

Public Policy 282 (75 listings)

Total listings this issue 524

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
 - departmental and institutional committee work,
 - professional or disciplinary activities, and
 - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - access to research materials and equipment,
 - the employment of research assistants,
 - research expenses on/off campus, and
 - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - the development of teaching expertise,
 - innovations in teaching, and
 - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
 - the average course load,
 - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
 - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
 - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
 - family needs of faculty and staff, and
 - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for December

ADMINISTRATION

University of Mississippi

Rank: Dean of the Sally McDonnell Barksdale Honors College

Position Description

The University of Mississippi invites applications for the position of Dean of the Sally McDonnell Barksdale Honors College (SMBHC). The University seeks an experienced, dynamic, and innovative leader who will advance SMBHC's legacy of interdisciplinarity, scholarly rigor, research excellence, creative exploration, and community engagement in the twenty-first century. The SMBHC prepares citizen scholars who are fired by the life of the mind, committed to the public good, and driven to find solutions. The University of Mississippi is an R1 research university, and the Honors College draws from 160 faculty across 46 academic departments and units to serve the SMBHC undergraduate population. The Dean directly supervises 13 administrative and support staff.

SMBHC provides a four-year program for over 1,600 students of high ability and a commitment to public service. The class of 2021-2022 includes 413 first-year students, entering with an average 3.97 GPA, and strong standardized test scores (Average ACT = 30.8). The mission of the SMBHC is to attract a diverse body of high-performing students to The University of Mississippi. Our students' accomplishments are recognized nationally thanks to the tremendous research faculty present throughout campus as well as the guidance and support offered by the SMBHC's own office of national scholarship. The University of Mississippi has had 27 Rhodes Scholars and is ranked third nationwide in Boren Awards. Founded in 1997 through a generous gift from Jim and Sally Barksdale, the Honors College is designed for motivated students who thrive in small classes and seminars that emphasize reading, writing, and discussion. For more information, please visit <https://www.honors.olemiss.edu/>.

Job Information

This position reports directly to the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs and is advised by the SMBHC Honors Council. The Dean directs the pedagogical programming of the SMBHC, which involves oversight of courses across a wide variety of departments and includes the year-long honors sequence required of all first-year students. SMBHC students are engaged Citizen Scholars who are actively mentored with regard to internships, fellowships and travel resources, and scholarly research that culminates in a Capstone Project. The Dean oversees their educational well-being as they progress through the rigors of their degree. Working closely with the Office of Admissions, the Dean spearheads the SMBHC's mission to recruit students from diverse backgrounds. Details of the SMBHC academic programs can be found here.

The SMBHC is both an innovative learning environment and strong community hub. A successful candidate for this role must work closely with the honors student body and its dedicated student organizations. The Dean provides general supervision for the co-curricular and extra-curricular activities in the Honors College. Furthermore, the Dean fosters strong alumni connections and nurtures dynamic linkages between The University of Mississippi and the broader community including public agencies, funding agencies, alumni, and donors.

Additional Information

Minimum Qualifications:

At a minimum, the Dean of the SMBHC will have the following qualifications:

- A terminal degree and a record of distinguished scholarship and teaching required for an appointment as a tenured associate or full professor.
- A record of significant academic leadership experience appropriate for this role.
- Proven experience in recruiting, supporting, and retaining, professional staff and students and a demonstrated commitment to diversity.
- A successful record developing, implementing, and sustaining innovative programs.
- Ability to design and implement a successful budgetary strategy and effectively engage in fund raising to ensure the future of the College

Application Process:

Applicants should submit a cover letter outlining administrative accomplishments and philosophies related to the position and curriculum vitae. Names and contact information for references will be required upon request. The position is open until filled but only applications received by Monday, January 31, 2022, can be assured full consideration.

Nominations and Inquiries:

Please address any nominations or inquiries to:

Lee Cohen, Ph.D.

Search Committee Chair & Dean

College of Liberal Arts, University of Mississippi

P. O. Box 1848

University, MS 38677

libarts@olemiss.edu

Background Check Statement

The University of Mississippi is committed to providing a safe campus community. UM conducts background investigations for applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial (credit) report or driving history check.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9763

George Washington University

Rank: Director of Africana Studies Program

Specializations: Africa, African American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

The George Washington University Columbian College of Arts and Sciences (CCAS) seeks a distinguished scholar at the rank of full or advanced associate professor to work as director of the Africana Studies Program (<https://africanastudies.columbian.gwu.edu/>) beginning Fall 2022. We encourage applicants from various Africana related fields, whose work focuses on the interdisciplinary study of African-descended people, processes of racialization, or resistance in the U.S., the Americas, Europe, the Atlantic World, the Pacific World, and/or Africa itself. The director will have a tenured appointment in the Columbian College department most commensurate with their established scholarly profile. The new director will have an opportunity to build the visibility and impact of Africana Studies at GW, as the College has planned new investments in the program. This position is part of the college's wider inclusive excellence initiative that includes authorized searches across programs during the 2021-2022 academic year to support our inclusive curriculum, inclusive pedagogy, and to increase diversity in the faculty.

The Africana Studies Program, housed in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences at GW, uses a global, cross-disciplinary approach to examine the historical, cultural, economic and political legacies of the largest forced migration in human history. The program includes an interdisciplinary group of approximately 30 affiliate faculty members from multiple departments and programs. The program is supported by an active multiracial student population and a range of student organizations, including the Black Student Union and its affiliate organizations. Our location in the nation's capital affords easy access to important political and cultural institutions including the White House, the U.S. Congress, the Library of Congress, The Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and several of the museums of the Smithsonian Institution, including the National Museum of African American History and Culture. Washington, DC is not only the nation's capital but also a cultural center and dynamic city with rich Black cultural, social, and political opportunities.

Job Responsibilities:

The director will teach in the program, advise undergraduate students, lead curriculum development, pursue growth in enrollment, work with diverse affiliate faculty across the college and university to grow interdisciplinary teaching and research, manage the program budget, and cultivate and carry out programming for faculty and students to promote the program and build community.

Basic Qualifications:

A PhD in any field of social science or the humanities; a record that qualifies the candidate for appointment as a full professor or advanced associate professor at GW; a strong record of published scholarship in the study of African-descended peoples and/or processes of racialization and/or social, political, or cultural resistance to imperialism/white supremacy; evidence of successful teaching; and administrative experience in a university setting.

Salary and Benefits:

In recognition of the broad responsibilities of the position, the Director will have a reduced course load of 1-1. The position's salary is commensurate with experience and includes full benefits.

Application Procedure:

Applicants should complete an online application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/87756> and upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching excellence, and a statement of no more than 3 pages detailing the candidate's vision for an interdisciplinary Africana Studies program. The names of at least three references should be uploaded along with the application. Reference letters will be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on December 3, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Only completed applications will be considered. Employment offers are contingent pending budgetary approval and the satisfactory outcome of a standard background check.

GW University is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 9725

University of Texas Rio Grande Valley

Rank: (Director of Mexican American Studies in the School of Interdisciplinary Programs & Community Engagement, College of Liberal Arts)

(Director of Mexican American Studies in the School of Interdisciplinary Programs & Community Engagement, College of Liberal Arts)

Job Class Code: 10011

FLSA: Exempt

Posting Number: FRGV1258

Location: Rio Grande Valley

Division/Organization: Provost - Academic Affairs

Appointment Period for Non-Tenure Position:

Tenure Status: Tenured

FTE: 1

Scope of Job:

We seek applicants who are dedicated to serving The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley's diverse student body as Director of the Mexican American Studies Academic Program beginning in the 2022-2023 academic year. The MAS program seeks a successful candidate with a notable record of research in Chicana/o/x and/or Latina/o/x Studies, quality teaching, community engagement, and a strong record of academic administration to direct the program. The successful candidate will lead the program in fulfilling that vision and gaining greater regional and national significance. The successful candidate would be leading a program that is committed to student success and to scholarly research addressing the strengths and needs of students, the local, state, and national community as well as cultivating community engagement opportunities and social justice. It is expected that the successful candidate will assist the program in achieving departmental status. Candidates who are advanced Associate or Full Professor with experience building and directing programs are preferred.

The program director is responsible for consulting with and representing the interest of the program faculty on policies, plans, and procedures that affect the program or and is responsible for the overall leadership, management, and administration of the school or department, including:

- a. Pursuing and achieving program excellence in teaching, research, and service;

- b. Strategic planning and goal setting aligned with similar efforts at the college and university level;

- c. Developing strategic initiatives and programming to help ensure student success;

- d. Management and professional development of faculty members and staff;

- e. Preparation and management of school or department budget;
- f. Recruitment, retention, evaluation and promotion of faculty;
- g. Development of curriculum;
- h. Communication with faculty and administration;
- i. Enforcement of applicable regulatory policies;
- j. Maintaining an environment of collegiality and shared governance;
- k. Addressing questions, complaints, grievances, and suggestions from faculty, staff, and students; and
- l. Performing other duties as assigned by the dean.

It is UTRGV's Vision "To be one of the nation's leaders in higher education, its premier Hispanic-serving institution, and a highly engaged bilingual university, with exceptional educational, research, and creative opportunities that serve as catalysts for transformation in the Rio Grande Valley and beyond." As such, UTRGV is committed to building a diverse faculty that can contribute to an enriching learning environment that strives for more equitable outcomes for student success.

UTRGV is a distributed campus, one university spanning four counties and multiple locations. Our purpose is to be a university for the entire Rio Grande Valley and beyond. Over 91% of the students enrolled at UTRGV identify as Hispanic, making UTRGV one of the top 3 universities with the highest percentage of Hispanic students.

Thanks to a steadfast commitment to safety and success, UTRGV yielded record-breaking outcomes in enrollment and student success in the fall 2021 semester. For additional information, please visit our <https://www.utrgv.edu/newsroom/2020/09/17-utrgv-marks-record-high-enrollment-student-success-outcomes-amid-pandemics-challenges.htm#:~:text=UTRGV%20announced%20Thursday%20that%20its,from%20the%20previous%20fall%20semester>

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D., from an accredited university in Chicana/o/x Studies, Latina/o/x Studies, or closely related field in which the applicant's expertise is interdisciplinary and falls within the area(s) of Chicana/o/x/Latina/o/x Studies. Candidates must meet the institutional requirements for tenure and be eligible for the rank of Full Professor in the program to be considered for the position.

Discipline Specific Required Qualifications:

Please include your leadership philosophy in the submission of the Letter of Interest.

Preferred Qualification:

Three or more years of successful previous administrative experience, possess bilingual and biliterate skills in Spanish and English

Salary: Commensurate with Qualifications and Experience

License or Certification Required?: No

Number of Vacancies: 1

Desired Start Date: 09/01/2022

EEO Statement:

EEO Statement

The University of Texas Rio Grande Valley (UTRGV) is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. UTRGV promotes and ensures equal employment opportunities for all individuals without regard to race, color, national origin, sex, age, religion, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information or protected veteran status. Our University is committed to complying with all government requirements and ensures non-discrimination in our education programs and activities, including employment. An eligible veteran, surviving spouse of a veteran or an orphan of a veteran is entitled to preference in the selection process over other applicants who do not have greater qualifications. Further, we grant an employment preference to former foster youth who were in the permanent managing conservatorship of the Texas Department of Family and Protective Services on the day preceding the individual's 18th birthday over other applicants for the same position who do not have a greater qualification. We encourage women, minorities and differently abled persons to apply for employment positions of interest.

Diversity Statement

UTRGV is a Hispanic-serving Institution dedicated to student success and building a diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment. UTRGV has an NSF ADVANCE grant to increase the representation of women in STEM fields and to promote a positive, family friendly workplace for all faculty. We strongly encourage applications from women and minorities.

Open Date: 11/01/2021

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Complete all sections on the application. If you are applying for the first time, please complete all biographical information including address, email and phone. You may update this at any time by selecting to edit your profile in the application. Security sensitive; All UTRGV employees are required to have a criminal background check (CBC). CBCs will be conducted for all candidates invited for an on-campus interview.

Additional Information:

UTRGV is a distributed institution. As such and as assigned, the position may require presence at multiple locations throughout the Rio Grande Valley. Work is performed primarily in a general office environment. This position is security sensitive and thereby subject to the provisions of the Texas Education Code §51.215. The retirement plan for this position is Teacher Retirement System of Texas (TRS), subject to the position being at least 20 hours per week and at least 135 days in length. This position has the option to elect the Optional Retirement Program (ORP) instead of TRS, subject to the position being 40 hours per week and at least 135 days in length.

Please Note:

Texas law requires faculty members whose primary language is not English to demonstrate proficiency in English as determined by a satisfactory paper-based test score of 500 (computer-based of 173 or internet-based of 61) on the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or a satisfactory test score of 6.0 on the International English Language Testing System (IELTS).

Incomplete applications will not be considered. All positions are subject to budget approval.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/2600876>

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>
jeid-0974a34aa00d0a44b0654a019b44cbc3

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 1/10/2022

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9667

Columbia University

Rank: Professor of Professional Practice in Global Policy

Subfield(s): Other, Public Administration, Administration

Professor of Professional Practice in Global Policy
Founding Director of MPA in Global Leadership Program
Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) brings together an interdisciplinary faculty to conduct research in policy-related fields and train graduate students for careers in global public policy.

SIPA now invites applications for a full-time appointment as Professor of Professional Practice to launch and run a new graduate degree for senior leaders in global policy and management. The position is expected to begin July 1, 2022, or as soon as possible.

Candidates must have at least 10 years' experience in senior positions and be widely recognized for their distinction in a global policy field related to SIPA's areas of excellence. Candidates also must be willing and able to continue to make significant contributions in their field of practice and knowledge. Preferred candidates will hold a graduate degree (PhD or equivalent preferred) and possess university-level teaching experience or show strong promise to succeed as an instructor in a demanding academic environment. Preferred candidates should also show strong promise to succeed as the founding Director of an important new degree program.

The Professor of Professional Practice will serve as founding Director of the Master's in Public Administration in Global Leadership, an intensive 10-month degree designed to prepare senior leaders from around the world to make an even greater impact in their fields. The Director will serve as the academic leader of the program, recruiting instructors and guest lecturers for courses, seminars and workshops and overseeing academic advising of students. The Director will be expected to teach three courses per year in the program (organizing and overseeing the Summer session counts as one course). Working with a full-time Program Manager/Assistant Director and other SIPA professional staff, the Director will oversee student recruitment and admissions, build strategic partnerships, and build and nurture a strong alumni community. The new degree, which has been approved by Columbia University and the New York State Education Department, will enroll its first students in August 2023.

The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of SIPA's academic community. Applications from women and underrepresented minorities are strongly encouraged.

To submit your application, please visit our online application site here:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/95921>

Screening of applicants will begin on November 10.

For further information, please contact Hazel May, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at sipa_academicaffairs@sipa.columbia.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/6/2021

Date Posted: 10/6/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9522

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Assistant/Associate Teaching Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Notre Dame invites applications for a non-tenure track position as a teaching and advising faculty member. The position is open as to field of Political Science and will involve teaching a mix of larger and smaller undergraduate classes, advising the department's large number of undergraduate majors, and assisting in the administration of the department's undergraduate program.

We expect the appointment to be at the rank of Assistant Teaching Professor, but may consider hiring at the rank of Associate Teaching Professor for exceptional candidates with significant experience as college or university instructors. The position also offers the potential of reappointment and promotion to Associate Teaching Professor (for candidates hired at the Assistant Teaching Professor level) and Full Teaching Professor. Decisions on reappointment and promotion of teaching faculty members are based on demonstrated excellence in teaching, advising, and service.

Successful candidates will have demonstrated excellence in undergraduate teaching and a commitment to teaching and mentoring undergraduate students.

Preference for this position will be given to candidates who already have the PhD. However, we will consider candidates who are very near completion of the PhD and provide clear evidence of likely completion by the end of the current academic year.

Applications are due by December 15, 2021, with interviews of a short list of candidates to be conducted early in the Spring 2022 semester. All applicants should include a CV, letter of interest, a teaching statement, teaching evaluations, a proposed syllabus for a lecture course, a proposed syllabus for a small seminar course, and three letters of recommendation.

Apply via Interfolio here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/96087>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 10/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9494

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Faculty Program Coordinator/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer - Data Analytics and Policy

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Administration

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Location:
Washington, DC, 20036

Institution Description:
The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of the most prestigious research universities, Johns Hopkins offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students in the mid-Atlantic region and online. In addition to the online programs, AAP also offers master's degrees and graduate certificate programs at its Washington, DC Center and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP has approximately 18,000 enrollments each academic year. JHU is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Position Description:
The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) division seeks a Faculty Program Coordinator to teach in and provide administrative support to the Data Analytics and Policy program. The Master of Science in Data Analytics and Policy and Certificate in Data Analytics and Policy prepare students to be data-driven leaders and decision makers. Of particular interest are candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds.

The Faculty Program Coordinator is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer. The Faculty Program Coordinator will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, Director of the Data Analytics and Policy Program, and the Program Coordinator for the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies. The position will report to the Associate Dean for AAP and the Program Director for Data Analytics and Policy. This position is expected to begin January 2022. The Program Coordinator will have the following faculty and administrative responsibilities:

Faculty Responsibilities

- Teaching 6 graduate courses per year, including the preparation for and time spent in the classroom (online or onsite), using best practices for online teaching, engaging and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, responding to student questions;
- Advising students;
- Providing input on the curriculum and new course developments to ensure the delivery of quality programs;
- Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees and in other academic service.

Administrative Responsibilities:

- Assist with management of the MS in Data Analytics and Policy and Certificate in Data Analytics and Policy programs;
- Participate in adjunct faculty hiring and development;
- Assist the Program Director with administrative work to support the programs;

- Other administrative duties as assigned.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- Master's degree in Political Science, Public Policy, Statistics, Data Science, Public Finance;
- 1-3 years of teaching experience at the graduate and/or undergraduate level;
- 1-3 years of work experience, including but not limited to outside consulting or collaborative work within the fields of public policy, public finance, program evaluation, risk analysis and/or data science; The ability to teach a variety of courses in areas of applied statistics, data visualization, programming and public policy.
- Experience using and teaching the R programming language.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Terminal Degree in Political Science, Public Policy, Statistics, Data Science, Public Finance;
- 4 or more years of teaching experience at the graduate level, including online teaching experience;
- 4 or more years of work experience in a relevant field including but not limited to outside consulting or collaborative work within the fields of public policy, program evaluation, risk analysis and/or data science;
- Strong organizational skills;
- Ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines;
- Excellent oral and written communication skills;
- Experience performing administrative work in an academic setting;
- Experience with or interest in learning Tableau and Python;
- Interest in revising and/or developing courses in one or more advanced areas of analytics, such as text analysis, machine learning and predictive analytics.

Application Instructions:

The position will remain open until filled.

Candidates must submit the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- 3 references and their contact information
- Teaching evaluations for the most recent two semesters.

Candidates can apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94475>

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9380

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenured: Professor & Department Head

The International Affairs Department at the Bush School of Government and Public Service, Texas A&M University, invites applications for a full-time Department Head and Tenured Professor position. The Department Head supervises a well-resourced department that houses the accredited master's degree programs in International Affairs and International Policy as well as graduate certificate programs in international development and economic policy, geospatial intelligence, national security affairs, and cybersecurity policy.

The Department Head oversees the department management and budget, curriculum, staffing, University engagement, and long-run planning for an interdisciplinary department of 29 full-time in residence faculty members. The Department Head also participates in the management of the Bush School's newly established teaching site in Washington D.C., in conjunction with the Bush School Dean and the Washington D.C. site Executive Director.

The Bush School of Government and Public Service is a full member of the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA). Programs in the department develop principled leaders providing students with the tools and knowledge they need to perform public service effectively and ethically. The master's programs and related certificate offerings seek to provide students with a superior professional education for careers in international affairs within government, international organizations, or non-governmental organizations.

The successful candidate will meet qualifications required of a tenured full professor, including Ph.D. in political science, history, economics or related social science discipline relevant to international affairs, a substantial record of scholarly publication, demonstrated success in teaching, and management skills demonstrated through leadership roles in universities, government, organizations or associations. In addition, the successful candidate will have a record of professional university service, excellent communication skills with a commitment to working effectively with individuals of diverse backgrounds. The successful candidate will assume an 11-month academic administrative appointment as full professor of international affairs on August 1, 2022, with the possibility of holding an endowed chair.

Review of complete applications will begin in early November 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Additional information about the Bush School and Department is available at <https://bush.tamu.edu/inta/>.

Texas A&M University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability employer committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment. Applications from veterans, individuals with disabilities, women, minorities, and other members of other underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged.

Applications are only accepted online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/91789>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9320

U.S. Naval War College

Rank: Provost

The U.S. Naval War College invites applications and nominations of qualified candidates for the position of Provost to commence the appointment no later than 1 August 2022.

The Institutional Setting: The College is first and foremost a federally-funded graduate level Professional Military Education and research institution serving the U.S. Navy, the Department of Defense, and the Nation. Since its founding in 1884 by Rear Admiral Stephen B. Luce, the Naval War College has been "...a place of original research on all questions relating to war and to statesmanship connected with war, or the prevention of war." Annually the College conducts six resident professional military education programs to over 500 students. The student body consists of members of all the military services, civilians from governmental agencies, and officers from many partner nations. The College is accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education to award a Master of Arts Degree in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies, and by the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to award Joint Professional Military Education (JPME) Phase I and Phase II credit. The College of Distance Education conducts seven nonresident programs currently reaching 350,000 students, providing JPME I, Introductory, Basic, and Primary PME to sailors stationed around the globe. The College's Center for Naval Warfare Studies (CNWS) serves as the research arm of the College, providing maritime-focused war gaming and strategic research with the goal of assisting the Navy's leadership in defining the future Navy. Since 1956 the College has maintained a vigorous international program through the Naval Command and Naval Staff Colleges. With over 55 countries represented each year, a majority of our international graduates go on to achieve the rank of admiral or general in their Service and many become chiefs of their Navy. The College of Maritime Operational Warfare (CMOW) provides intermediate- and senior-level leadership development and combat readiness programs. Its curriculum centers on the ever-evolving ethical, operational, and tactical challenges facing today's naval officers. CMOW assists the Navy in maintaining Fleet operational readiness. The College of Leadership and Ethics (CLE) is responsible for leader development and associated strategies for U.S. Navy flag officers delivering courses and tailored activities. CLE also supports 17 Navy communities in the development and execution of their respective leader development strategies through the Navy's Leader Development Continuum. As part of the core curriculum, resident students will take the Leadership in the Profession of Arms (LPA) course. The primary objective of the LPA course is to provide a developmental experience through a self-learning journey that combines education rigor and professional relevance. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

The Position: The Provost serves as the Chief Operating Officer of the College, and, except for those tasks that must be executed by an active duty officer as a matter of law and/or policy, assumes the responsibilities of the President in their absence. Key responsibilities include:

- Exercising effective oversight and coordination of the accomplishment of the College's functions of professional military education; research, analysis, and gaming; leadership; maritime operational level education, international programs; and mission support.
- Providing effective oversight of the development, deployment and maintenance of the College's Strategic Planning Framework to accomplish its mission, functions, and tasks. This shall include but is not limited to the College's Missions, Functions, and Tasks Statement, the College's Strategic Plan, its Physical Resource Strategy, its Technology Investment Strategy, its Financial Resources Strategy, the College's Human Resources Strategy, and the College's Strategic Communication Plan.

- Serving as Dean of Faculty and principal advisor to the President on matters pertaining to the recruiting, development, evaluation, promotion, and discipline of civilian faculty members.
- Overseeing business operations, financial management, internal controls, development of a human capital strategy that embodies the Department of the Navy's vision for workforce development and talent management and exceeds DoD EEO and Diversity and Inclusion standards. Coordinating the preparation of the College's annual budget and the College's participation in the Navy's Planning, Programming, Budgeting, and Execution process.
- As the Senior Civilian at the College, the Provost serves as the approving authority for all civilian personnel actions, which includes, but is not limited to, new hires, renewals, promotions, reassignments, details, classification of positions, pay matters, suspensions, reductions in grade, adjudicating administrative grievances, and EEO resolution.
- The following positions report to the Provost: all Deans, Associate Provost, Deputy to the Provost, and Library Director.

Required Qualifications and Competencies: The College seeks candidates who are successful, proven leaders in the academic world. Candidates must be qualified to hold the appointment of Professor at the College. Graduate degree required; an earned terminal degree (e.g. Ph.D., Ed.D.) is desired, but candidates with comparable executive-level experience successfully leading large organizations will be considered. The ideal candidate will have a strong background in teaching, experience with academic institutions, the ability to lead and manage a diverse group of faculty and staff, financial and managerial competence, and an understanding of the unique niche the College occupies for the Navy and the Department of Defense. The ideal candidate will enable a collaborative executive leadership team that supports a vibrant and diverse community in their pursuit of excellence in education, research, and outreach. Candidates must be U.S. citizens and capable of obtaining a Department of Defense Top Secret/Sensitive Compartmented Information (SCI) security clearance. The selected candidate will be subject to a pre-employment drug screening test and to random drug testing thereafter.

Appointment and Compensation: This appointment is governed by provisions of 10 USC § 8748 as delegated by the Secretary of the Navy, and the regulations that apply to "Excepted Service" appointments under Schedule A. For the successful candidate, the initial term of appointment is expected to be four years in length with provisions for renewal dependent on level of performance. The entire term of the Provost cannot exceed eight years. Salary is competitive and accompanied by a generous federal benefit package that includes health insurance and retirement saving plans, paid vacation, paid sick leave, and other benefits. Salary is commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule. Expected start date is no later than the 1 August 2022 at the College's campus in Newport, RI.

Address applications to: The application should include a cover letter, current curriculum vitae, and the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of three professional references. Candidates desiring to apply for this important position should send their application package by email to: nwc-21-10@usnwc.edu and must reference VA#NWC-21-10. Applications will be accepted until 11:59 pm (EST) 29 November 2021.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veterans' preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans' preference eligible a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans' preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, "Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty" to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, "Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference," and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.)

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement dated to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/29/2021

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9263

University of Akron

Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron's Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute's academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or governmental setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: <https://www>.

uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the “My Activities” link and upload the required documents under the “My Cover Letters and Attachments” section.

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mchugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8821

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Assumption University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in American Government

The Political Science department at Assumption University invites applications for a one-year position as Visiting Assistant Professor for the 2022/2023 academic year. The position carries a teaching load of seven courses for the academic year. Given the uncertain nature of the current coronavirus pandemic, applicants may need to accommodate both in-person and remote learners in the same section. The Political Science department seeks candidates with a broad training in American national institutions and processes with a firm grounding in American constitutional principles and design. Teaching responsibilities include our introductory level course which examines enduring questions of political life in light of American and Western civic and intellectual traditions, as well as American Government, American Political Thought, and Constitutional Law.

Requirements:

Applicants must be willing to contribute actively to the mission of the University as well as show respect for the Catholic and Assumptionist identity of Assumption University.

Applicants should have a PhD in political science or a related field. ABD graduate students with prior teaching experience will also be considered.

Application Instructions:

Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current curriculum vita, and the names and contact information for three references who can attest to the applicant's teaching experience and qualifications. In the cover letter, we invite candidates to describe their experiences working with a diverse student body. Finalists will also be asked to provide official transcripts of academic work from all degree-granting institutions and three written letters of recommendation. Materials must be submitted online as MS Word documents or PDF files at the following website: www.assumption.edu/hr. To receive full consideration for the position, applications must be received by January 17, 2022. Appointments are contingent on course enrollments.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/17/2022

Date Posted: 12/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9777

Sewanee: The University of the South

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Politics

The Department of Politics at the University of the South seeks applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position in American politics, specializing in political behavior, to begin August 2022. The position has the possibility for conversion to tenure track. A Ph.D. in political science is required. ABDs must possess the degree by the time of appointment.

The teaching load for this position is six courses per year. The successful candidate will teach American Government and Politics and upper division courses. Candidates should be able to offer courses in political behavior, such as campaigns and elections, media, and parties and interest groups, as well as specialized courses exploring issues of identity and diversity regarding race, ethnicity, gender, and/or sexual orientation. An ability to teach quantitative methods is a plus. The successful candidate will show evidence of effective classroom teaching and a commitment to scholarly research and publication.

The University of the South, commonly known as Sewanee, comprises a nationally ranked residential College of Arts and Sciences and a School of Theology. The University is strongly committed to the values of intellectual inquiry, diversity, equity, and inclusion, and living and serving in community. Situated on 13,000 acres atop Tennessee's Cumberland Plateau, Sewanee is known for its stunning natural beauty while providing easy access to Chattanooga, Nashville, and Huntsville. The University is affiliated with the Episcopal Church and seeks to help employees of all backgrounds and identities flourish.

The University of the South stands firmly for the principle that its employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have a right to be free from discrimination based on race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity, veteran status, pregnancy and childbirth, and genetic information. As required by Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008, Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or other protected categories in the educational programs or activities which it operates. This requirement of non-discrimination extends to admission to and employment in those programs or activities. The University is committed to sustaining a community in which the dignity of every individual is respected. Key to this value are efforts to nurture an environment of civility and mutual respect and to foster a culture of reporting concerns so that the University can respond promptly and equitably whenever an incident occurs. All employees, students, and participants of university-sponsored programs and activities have the right to be free from harassment and retaliation.

For preliminary review, applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement demonstrating commitment to and experience with supporting diversity, equity, and inclusion. Applicants will be asked to supply the names and email addresses of three references, who will receive an auto-request to submit their confidential e-letters of recommendation.

Applicant materials should be submitted through the application portal at <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/sewaneecollege>. Eligibility for employment is contingent upon successful prescreening. For full consideration, please submit materials by February 1, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/1/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9772

Kenyon College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Political Science Department of Kenyon College, a highly selective liberal arts college in central Ohio, invites applications for a two-year visiting assistant position in American politics, effective July 1, 2022.

Teaching responsibilities consist of five courses per year. Qualified applicants will have a strong teaching and research background in American politics, knowledge of American history, the ability to teach our introductory American course, "Liberal Democracy in America," and to offer upper-level American politics courses and seminars. Area of specialty is open, but we are especially interested in candidates with expertise in political parties and elections, Congress, voting behavior, media and politics, and American political development. The ability to teach our quantitative analysis course is desirable. A capacity to teach our introductory freshman course, "The Quest for Justice," would also be an asset. Candidates may have opportunities to contribute to interdisciplinary programs in Public Policy and American Studies. Strong preference will go to those with a demonstrable record of excellence in teaching and research. Candidates must be committed to undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting. Candidates must also have a Ph.D. or be near completion by the beginning of the appointment.

To apply, visit <http://careers.kenyon.edu>. A complete application will include 1) a cover letter discussing the applicant's research interests and teaching experience; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a statement of teaching philosophy, including methods for incorporating issues related to diversity, inclusion, and equity in the classroom; and 4) a writing sample. Three letters of recommendation must be submitted directly by references or placement office to <http://careers.kenyon.edu>. Review of applications will begin on January 5th and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by January 5th are guaranteed full consideration. Initial interviews will be conducted remotely.

Kenyon Colleges offers competitive salaries and an excellent benefits package that includes provisions for a spouse or domestic partner and for dependents. An Equal Opportunity Employer, Kenyon welcomes applicants from diverse identities and backgrounds and encourages the applications of women, BIPOC, and members of other historically underrepresented groups.

Compensation and Benefits

Salaries at Kenyon are competitive and are commensurate with experience. There are a number of faculty development opportunities (e.g. travel, research funds, etc.) for which appointees are eligible.

In addition to an attractive salary, Kenyon offers benefits for employees and their family members. Children of employees are eligible for 100% tuition waivers at Kenyon, and through the Great Lakes Colleges Association, children of employees are eligible for 85% tuition waivers at fifteen other of the nation's finest liberal arts colleges.

We also offer health and dental insurance, TIAA retirement, and many other benefits, including provisions for a spouse, families, and domestic partners. Details about benefits as well as conditions of employment are described more fully in our Faculty Handbook.

Kenyon is a great place to live and work. To discover why it should be your next home, click here.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9775

College of Southern Nevada

Rank: Instructor, Political Science - Tenure Track (Fall 2022)

Instructor, Political Science - Tenure Track (Fall 2022)

The College of Southern Nevada appreciates your interest in employment at our growing institution. We want your application process to go smoothly and quickly. We ask that you keep in mind the following when completing your application:

- Once you start the application process you cannot save your work. Please ensure you have all required attachment(s) available to complete your application before you begin the process.
- Required attachments are listed below on the posting. Your application will not be considered without the required attachments.
- Please note that applications must be submitted prior to the close of the recruitment. Once a recruitment has closed, applications will no longer be accepted.

If you are unable to attach the required documents to your online application or need assistance regarding the application process, please contact the Talent Acquisition team within Human Resources via email at <mailto:hr.recruitment@csn.edu> or call (702) 651-5800 to be directed to the appropriate Recruiter.

Job Description

This position will be open until filled. For full consideration, all application related materials should be submitted by 02/11/2022. Application review will begin 02/14/2022.

The College of Southern Nevada (CSN), Department of Social Sciences, is currently seeking a full-time tenure track political science instructor to begin Fall semester 2022. There is particular interest in the areas of American politics and comparative politics.

Teaching assignments may be multi-campus with the possibility of day, evening, weekend, on-ground, online, and/or hybrid classes in accord with department needs. Under the direction of the Department Chair, primary job responsibilities of the successful applicant include, but are not limited to:

- Teaching a minimum of 15 credit hours per semester and holding a minimum of five office hours per week. Primary teaching responsibility includes teaching a core course (“Introduction to American Politics,” a 4-credit course that includes a Nevada government and politics component).
- Additional teaching responsibilities might include teaching “Introduction to Comparative Politics,” “Introduction to International Relations,” “Introduction to Global Studies,” or “Survey of State and Local Government,” “American Public Policy,” “Nevada Constitution and Politics,” and/or other related courses as determined by department need.
- Assuming leadership roles within the assigned department and at the institution level.
- Supporting the mission of the College of Southern Nevada and the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE).
- Building accountability and developing benchmarks for institutional assessment and evaluation.
- Preparing and teaching courses to a diverse and multicultural student population based on established program level, course level and General Education Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs).
- Applying a variety of instructional strategies appropriate to the needs of the student population and standards of the discipline.
- Participating in college and departmental responsibilities including curriculum review and revision, program review, assessment of student learning outcomes at the General Education, program and course level, committees, councils, work groups, college and community service activities, task forces, and various types of professional development.
- Evaluating student progress and provide clear and timely feedback reflecting program and course learning outcomes in line with departmental expectations.
- Providing teaching and mentoring services to students in a manner which does not discriminate based on race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, political affiliation, or other protected categories.
- Supporting the college, school, and department goals and objectives through active and collegial engagement in decision-making and unit-level planning.
- Performing other tasks as assigned by the department Chair, Dean, and/or Associate Vice President, Vice President, and Vice President of Academic Affairs.

Qualities of a Successful Candidate

- Commitment to under-prepared and underrepresented student populations.
- Ethics, integrity, and sound professional judgment.
- Appropriate and up-to-date knowledge of political science and American government.
- A commitment to establishing and maintaining a positive working relationship with students, colleagues, leadership, and staff of a diverse ethnic, cultural, and socioeconomic backgrounds.
- Experience using technology as an instructional aide, where appropriate, to enhance student learning.
- Strong organizational skills, ability to pay great attention to detail, ability to maintain an established schedule, including evenings and weekends, and multiple campus teaching assignments that may vary by semester.

- Understanding the role of college faculty in promoting equity, equality, and inclusion.

Required Qualifications

- Master's degree in Political Science or a very closely related field from a regionally accredited college or university with at least 18 graduate-level credits in political science or government courses and at least two years of college level teaching experience.

Preferred Qualifications

- An earned Ph.D. in political science from a regionally accredited college or university.
- Minimum of one year (two semesters or three quarters) experience teaching college level introductory political science courses within the last three (3) years.
- Evidence of research in political science within the last three (3) years, which includes conference paper presentations or publications.
- Evidence of college and/or community service within the last three (3) years.
- Evidence of an understanding and appreciation of the community college mission, and ability to design curriculum and learning activities that address diverse learning levels.
- Demonstrated ability to work effectively with a culturally and educationally diverse student population.
- Having a passion for teaching General Education (introduction level) courses.
- Having an understanding of current issues and trends in college level political science education, including, but not limited to, the use of computer-aided instruction and other alternative instructional methods and technology, particularly technology used in political science.
- Demonstrated ability to collaborate with other faculty in redesigning courses and/or teaching new courses.
- Documented experience working with a diverse student body and workforce.

Starting Salary Range

Initial salary placement is based on educational level and total years of full-time equivalent teaching experience. For example, for an instructor with a Master's degree, the salary range would be $46,691 to $58,364 annually. The entire salary range is up to $70,038 annually with a Doctorate and 10 years' experience. A maximum of 10 years of experience will be considered for the initial salary placement purposes.

Exempt

Yes

Full-Time Equivalent

100.0%

Required Attachment(s)

To be considered for this position, please upload the following documents to your application:

- Resume
- Cover Letter
- Contact information for three professional references (Name, email and phone number)

- Unofficial Academic Transcripts (Applicants who have earned their degrees outside of the United States must have their educational transcripts evaluated by an approved evaluator if their college or university is not listed in the most recent edition of the Higher Education Directory, published by Higher Education Publications, Inc. If you have any questions regarding this, please reach out to the Human Resources, Talent Acquisition & Classification team)
- Syllabus (or sample syllabus) for an introductory American government course
- Student teaching/course evaluations from previous three years.

National Search

Out of Area/State Candidates may be offered travel reimbursement with original itemized receipts and in accordance with GSA rates at time of travel.

Bargaining unit Faculty members hired are eligible for relocation expenses reimbursement in accordance with the College of Southern Nevada Faculty Contract https://at.csn.edu/sites/default/files/documents/nfa_-_csn_cba_10.27.20_first_amended_and_restated_signed_0.pdf.

NSHE - INTERNAL APPLICANTS PLEASE NOTE

CSN employees or employees within the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) MUST use the "Find Jobs" process within Workday to find and apply for jobs at CSN and other NSHE Institutions. Once you log into Workday, type "Find Jobs" in the search box which will navigate to the internal job posting site. Locate this specific job posting by typing the requisition number in the search box. If you complete an application outside of the internal application process and apply as an external candidate, your application will no longer be considered at the time of minimum qualification review. In order to prevent the disqualification of your application, you will need to reapply as an internal candidate before 11:59 pm the day prior to the position close date.

Posting Close Date

Note to Applicant

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with specific reference to each of the minimum and preferred qualifications. The search committee will use this information during the initial review of application materials.

All document(s) must be received by 11:59 p.m. the day prior to the closing date posted on the job announcement.

This position may require that a criminal background check be conducted on the candidate(s) selected for hire.

As part of the hiring process, applicants for positions in the Nevada System of Higher Education may be required to demonstrate the ability to perform job-related tasks.

Schedules are subject to change based on organizational needs.

CSN is responsive to serving the educational needs of a diverse and ever-changing community. CSN employs only U.S. citizens and aliens authorized to work in the U.S. CSN does not sponsor aliens applying for faculty, professional staff, or management positions (H-1B Visas) in the absence of exceptional circumstances as defined by the USCIS.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/2662835>

About Us

The College of Southern Nevada (CSN) creates opportunities and changes lives through access to quality teaching, services, and experiences that enrich our diverse community. CSN has three main campuses in Las Vegas, North Las Vegas and Henderson and multiple sites and centers.

The Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) is committed to providing a place of work and learning free of discrimination on the basis of a person's age, disability, whether actual or perceived by others (including service-connected disabilities), gender (including pregnancy related conditions), military status or military obligations, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, national origin, race, or religion.

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-367308144e7fab43880d99ffa5545ee1>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9766

Adelphi University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science

Assistant Professor (Tenure-Track)

Political Science

Public Policy with Specialization in Health Policy

College of Arts and Sciences

JOB SUMMARY:

The Political Science Department at Adelphi University is seeking qualified candidates for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position that starts in the 2022-2023 academic year.

RESPONSIBILITIES & DUTIES:

- Among their course offerings, candidates would be expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in public policy, health policy, and American politics.
- Faculty have teaching, research, and service requirements.
- Student-centered teaching is essential.
- The teaching load is 18 credits per academic year, with opportunities for research release.
- Faculty must maintain an active research and publishing agenda and engage in university service.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or public policy and bring teaching and research expertise in public policy with a specialization in the politics and policy of health.
- Candidates with additional specialization at the intersection of race and health are especially encouraged to apply.
- Adelphi University is strongly committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and seeks an applicant with experience supporting students of color and teaching inclusively.

APPLICATION:

- A complete application must include a curriculum vitae, letter of application, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of recommendation.
- Please have letters sent to facultyreference@adelphi.edu.
- The rest of the application materials must be submitted through the Adelphi website at <https://www.adelphi.edu/hr/open-positions/>.
- To receive consideration applications must be submitted by January 28, 2022.

ABOUT ADELPHI:

Adelphi University, New York, is a highly awarded, nationally ranked, powerfully connected doctoral research and teaching university dedicated to transforming students' lives through small classes with world-class faculty, hands-on learning and innovative ways to support academic and career success. Adelphi offers exceptional liberal arts and sciences programs and professional training, with particular strength in our Core Four—Arts and Humanities, STEM and Social Sciences, the Business and Education Professions, and Health and Wellness. Recognized as a Best College by U.S. News & World Report, Adelphi is Long Island's oldest private coeducational university, serving more than 8,100 students at its beautiful main campus in Garden City, at learning hubs in Manhattan, the Hudson Valley and Suffolk County, and online. The University offers students more than 50 undergraduate majors and 70 graduate programs in the liberal arts, the sciences and professional training. With powerful partnerships throughout the New York area, more than 115,000 graduates across the country, a growing enrollment of students from 41 states and 58 countries, and rising rankings from top publications and organizations, Adelphi is a dynamic community that plays a leadership role on Long Island and in the region.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

The College of Arts and Sciences at Adelphi University is a community of educators, learners, and citizens firmly committed to the principles of diversity, equity, and inclusion. We believe that these principles enrich our entire community, foster healthy discussions, improve decision-making, and enhance the educational environment and outcomes of our students. We support initiatives, activities, discussions, and practices that uphold the equitable treatment of all members of our community and strengthen their sense of belonging at Adelphi. We relentlessly strive to become a model for a socially just and inclusive institution.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/2653151>

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>
jeid-fd223a0e2fe77645943d1cf35e605312

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9751

Marquette University

Rank: Adjunct Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Health Care, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track Adjunct Assistant Professor position in American politics or comparative politics with an emphasis on quantitative research methods and/or policy analysis. We seek an engaged teacher who can work collaboratively across departments within the college and with other related programs at the university, including the interdisciplinary data science and analytics programs at Marquette. Candidates will also teach courses in their area of expertise at both the undergraduate and graduate levels within the Political Science program.

Earned doctorate, ABD status, or other relevant terminal degree preferred. Expertise in environmental policy and/or health care policy is preferred, but expertise in any other substantive policy areas within American or comparative politics, as well as quantitative research methods generally, will be considered. Preferred applicants will have a strong commitment to justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion, and be able to contribute to curriculum development and diversity and inclusiveness initiatives.

This is a 9-month position with the expectation of appointment renewal for subsequent periods. The position is in person and will begin in August 2022.

All applications for this position must be received through Marquette University's online recruiting system (<https://employment.marquette.edu/>). The applicant should upload the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- List of references (three letters of recommendation are not necessary now, but will be solicited from finalists)
- Unofficial academic transcripts
- Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness (optional).
- Syllabi for courses independently taught and/or a sample syllabus for an undergraduate course in your field (optional).

Applications received by December 15, 2022 will be assured full consideration. However, review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Additional information about the university and department can be found at <http://www.Marquette.edu> and <http://www.Marquette.edu/polisci>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9752

Pennsylvania State University

Rank: Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor of Political Science

https://psu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/PSU_Academic/job/University-Park-Campus/Lecturer-Assistant-Teaching-Professor---American-Politics_REQ_0000022567-1Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor – American Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a non-tenure track position as Lecturer/Assistant Teaching Professor in Political Science to start Fall 2022, with flexibility. This is a one-year position, with possibility of renewal. We seek scholars of American politics who can offer in-residence and online introductory and advanced undergraduate courses on American legislative and executive branch politics and/or state and local politics and policymaking. Candidates who can offer upper-level courses that fuse substantive material and data analysis and/or a course on policy making and evaluation would be particularly welcomed.

The position requires teaching six courses a year. Ph.D. in hand at time of appointment preferred, although qualified applicants at the ABD level will also be considered.

Lecturers/Assistant Teaching Professors participate extensively in the intellectual life of the department, including opportunities to attend seminars and workshops, and present research. Salary is competitive and additional money is available for travel and research.

Additional Information: Applications must include a cover letter explaining research and teaching experience; a current CV; syllabi from previously taught courses; samples of scholarly writing; and teaching evaluations (with a key). Candidates should also request three confidential letters of reference to be sent directly to the search committee at: plscapplications@psu.edu. Reference letters should come from individuals who can address candidates' teaching and commitment to enhancing diversity. In addition, successful candidates must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse campus community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity. https://psu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/PSU_Academic/job/University-Park-Campus/Lecturer-Assistant-Teaching-Professor---American-Politics_REQ_0000022567-1APPLY.

Candidates invited for virtual campus visits will be expected to give a teaching demonstration. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. For more information on Department of Political Science, see: <https://polisci.la.psu.edu/>. Penn State University and the Department of Political Science are committed to the values of equity, diversity and inclusion in all of its forms (see <http://equity.psu.edu/diversity-statement> and <https://polisci.la.psu.edu/diversity>) and we seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to these goals. We embrace individual uniqueness, foster a culture of inclusion that supports both broad and specific diversity initiatives, leverage the educational and institutional benefits of diversity, and engage all individuals to help them thrive. We value inclusion as a core strength and an essential element of our public service mission.

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applications without regards to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identify, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. If you are unable to use our online application process due to an impairment or disability, please contact 814-865-1473.

CAMPUS SECURITY CRIME STATISTICS: Pursuant to the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act and the Pennsylvania Act of 1988, Penn State publishes a combined Annual Security and Annual Fire Safety Report (ASR). The ASR includes crime statistics and institutional policies concerning campus security, such as those concerning alcohol and drug use, crime prevention, the reporting of crimes, sexual assault, and other matters. The ASR is available for review here.

Employment with the University will require successful completion of background check(s) in accordance with University policies.

EEO is the Law

Penn State is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer, and is committed to providing employment opportunities to all qualified applications without regards to race, color, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identify, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. If you are unable to use our online application process due to an impairment or disability, please contact 814-865-1473.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9748

University of Hawaii, Manoa

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: American Politics, African American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

see link: <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/hawaiiedu>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9750

University of Virginia

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

The Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy at the University of Virginia invites applications for a full-time postdoctoral research position. The position is offered for one year starting in July 2022, with an expected salary of $65,000 plus benefits. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will collaborate with a Batten faculty member, Craig Volden, on research related to the Center for Effective Lawmaking, and will have the opportunity to teach one class in the Batten School.

The Center for Effective Lawmaking seeks to advance the generation, communication, and use of new knowledge about the effectiveness of individual lawmakers and U.S. legislative institutions. We envision a Congress comprised of effective lawmakers, strong institutional capacity, and the incentive structure needed to address America's greatest public policy challenges. To learn more about the Center please visit: <https://thelawmakers.org/>.

A PhD degree in Political Science or related disciplines is required. Strong quantitative, communication, and project management skills are also required.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. We believe that diversity is a critical component of academic excellence. The position includes mentorship, access to resources and research infrastructure, opportunities to collaborate with faculty at a truly interdisciplinary school, and connections to the policy world and to a robust network of diverse scholars.

Process for Internal UVA Applicants:

Please apply through your Workday Home page, search "Find Jobs", and search for "R0030692". Complete an application online and upload the following documents:

- CV
- Cover Letter
- A two-page proposal on how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking
- Contact information for 3 references
- Graduate school transcript

Process for External Applicants:

Please visit UVA job board <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>, "R0030692"; complete the application and upload the following documents:

- CV-
- Cover Letter
- A two-page proposal on how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking
- Contact information for 3 references
- Graduate school transcript

Please note that multiple documents can be uploaded in the CV/Resume box or you can combine them into one PDF. You MUST upload ALL documents into the CV/Resume box. Applications that do not contain all of the required documents will not receive full consideration.

For immediate consideration, please apply by December 19th, 2021. The position will remain open until filled.

For questions about the application process please contact Marcus Rozier, Academic Recruiter, hjv5vm@virginia.edu

COVID Vaccination Requirement

Due to the scope of President Biden's Executive Order 14042 issued in early September, all University employees, including remote employees, must receive their final vaccination dose by January 4, 2022, unless they have a University-approved religious or medical exemption. The University has updated policy SEC-045 to reflect these new requirements.

If hired by the Academic Division, excluding School of Medicine, School of Nursing, UVA Physicians Group, and the Health Systems Library, you will be required to provide proof of vaccination or be willing to be vaccinated by January 4, 2022. Academic employees may apply for a University-approved medical or religious exemption.

Note: Some medical and safety-sensitive positions require vaccination and are not eligible for an exemption. For more information on how vaccination requirements will apply to you, please visit the UVA New Hire Vaccination Requirements webpage.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9749

Ave Maria University

Rank: Assistant Professor of History and Politics

Ave Maria University invites applications for an Assistant Professor of History and Politics. All specializations within U.S. history and politics will be considered. Teaching responsibilities include regular instruction of three core curriculum courses (the Western Civilization and Culture sequence and American Civilization) as well as courses within the History and Politics majors. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester. Candidates should have completed a Ph.D. in History, Political Science, or a related field by July 2022, but outstanding ABDs will also be considered. Successful candidates will demonstrate excellence in teaching and scholarship and are expected to engage in an active research program and university service.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a writing sample of no more than 30 pages, a sample syllabus, and a statement relating their teaching philosophy to the University's Catholic mission as expressed in Ex Corde Ecclesiae (http://w2.vatican.va/content/john-paul-ii/en/apost_constitutions/documents/hf_jp-ii_apc_15081990_ex-corde-ecclesiae.html). Candidates should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted in support of their application. If the reference letters need to be submitted directly by the person providing the reference, please have them sent to Jerilyn Schwarz, Director of Human Resources at jerilyn.schwarz@avemaria.edu and she will attach these to your online application. Only complete applications will be considered. Official transcripts are required for faculty appointment and will be requested upon selection of the final candidate.

Questions should be directed to Dr. Michael Breidenbach (michael-breidenbach@avemaria.edu) or Dr. James Patterson (james.patterson@avemaria.edu). Review of applications will begin on December 1 and continue until the position is filled.

Ave Maria University is a Catholic, liberal arts institution of higher learning dedicated to the formation of joyful, intentional disciples of Jesus Christ through Word and Sacrament, scholarship and service. The University is an Equal Opportunity Employer and provides an excellent benefit package to full-time faculty.

To apply please follow this link: https://workforcenow.adp.com/mascsr/default/mdf/recruitment/recruitment.html?cid=70cb71c1-96f8-4956-8cce-ce625b0b2943&ccId=19000101_000001&jobId=429524&source=CC2&lang=en_US

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 1/15/2022

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9740

Butler University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics/Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Latino Politics, Native American Politics, Immigration Policy

The Butler University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States. The candidate should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching and an active scholarly agenda and should be able to teach a methodologically broad undergraduate research methods course. We are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching engages indigenous, Latinx/@, or disability politics, inequality, the politics of migration and citizenship, or other areas that complement the department's present strengths. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach research methods, American politics (including courses aligned with their expertise); and will contribute to the Core Curriculum and to building an inclusive learning environment for an increasingly diverse student population. Ideal candidates will have a record of supporting BIPOC, working class, and first-generation students. The new faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 5, 2022, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2022. Applicants should submit the following to apsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that summarizes the applicant's scholarship and their teaching interests and highlights their commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching; a curriculum vitae; a publication or other writing sample; a statement of teaching philosophy; a list of courses taught; a sample syllabus; and a list of 3-5 references. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation; and unofficial transcripts, and may provide additional publications or writing samples. Final round candidates will be asked to provide official transcripts and to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2022, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Butler University is an equal opportunity employer. We celebrate diversity and are committed to creating an inclusive and equitable environment for all employees. We welcome applications from all individuals, regardless of age, gender, gender identity, sex, race, religion, color, disability, protected veteran status, sexual orientation, national origin, individuals with a disability, or any other legally protected category.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/5/2022

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9744

Canisius College

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

The department of Political Science at Canisius College invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American Politics commencing in Fall 2022. Candidates must have research expertise in the area of political parties, interest groups, elections, the presidency, or Congress/legislative politics. The successful applicant will be responsible for teaching introductory courses in American Government along with intermediate and advanced courses such as Congress, Political Parties, Race and Politics, areas of interest to the candidate, and departmental teaching needs.

We seek candidates with a promising record of scholarship and a commitment to excellent teaching in a diverse undergraduate environment. The successful applicant is expected to maintain an active research agenda and to participate in the department's advisement and service responsibilities, and eventually college-wide service. Department faculty contribute to the Raichle Pre-Law Center, the International Relations major, the endowed William H. Fitzpatrick Institute of Public Affairs and Leadership, and several minors including Law & Public Policy. Candidates must have completed a PhD or be ABD near completion by August 2022. The Department especially welcomes applications from women, candidates of color, and other underrepresented groups.

To apply for this position, candidates must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, research statement, and statement of demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion by December 15, 2021 via the Canisius College website: <https://careers.canisius.edu/cw/en-us/job/494889/assistant-professor-of-political-science>

Canisius College, a Catholic and Jesuit university, has as its foundation the fundamental values of academic excellence, leadership, faith, and social justice. Canisius is committed to educating and preparing men and women to become leaders in their professions and their communities, and in service to humanity. The college is an equal opportunity employer committed to recruiting, supporting, and fostering a diverse community of outstanding faculty, staff and students. The department is enthusiastic about this mission and committed to faculty diversity.

To apply, go to <https://www.canisius.edu/about-canisius/employment-canisius> and click on View Current Employment Opportunities. Applicants must submit their cover letter (Dr. Paola Fajardo-Heyward, Chair/Associate Professor of Political Science), curriculum vitae, unofficial transcripts, teaching philosophy, research statement, and diversity/equity/inclusion statement with their application. Also, please include the names, titles and email addresses of three references. Your references will receive an email requesting they submit their reference letter directly to Human Resources.

The Office of Human Resources at Canisius College utilizes an online recruitment management system.

Individuals who need reasonable accommodations under the ADA in order to participate in the search process should contact the office of human resources at (716) 888-2240.

Benefits:

Benefits are available the first of the month after the full-time faculty's date of hire and include – health, dental and vision insurance, life and long term disability insurance, and retirement plan enrollment is available to full-time faculty with contribution from College after one year. Tuition benefits are also available for full-time faculty and their qualified dependents.

Applications close: Open until filled

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9742

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Rauch Distinguished Professor

University of North Carolina at Charlotte Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Rauch Distinguished Professor, American Politics

The Department of Political Science & Public Administration at UNC Charlotte is recruiting an outstanding candidate for the Marshall A. Rauch Distinguished Professor of Political Science to begin Fall 2022. The department seeks a scholar of American Politics, at either the full or senior associate level. The essential duties of the position are: 1) producing high quality research in the area of expertise; 2) actively pursuing external research funding; 3) teaching appropriate classes to undergraduate and graduate students; 4) mentoring graduate students, postdoctoral scholars, and faculty; 5) collaborating with faculty in other academic departments; 6) engaging in community activities; 7) contributing to diversity initiatives in the Department, College, and University; and 8) actively participating in the interdisciplinary Public Policy Ph.D. program. The term of this endowed professorship is five years, and renewable for a second term.

A qualified candidate will have a distinguished publication record and a history of prior funded research, as well as excellent teaching credentials, appropriate to rank; a commitment to diversity as a value in the department and college; a prior history of mentoring students; and the ability to work with colleagues from several academic departments and the community.

The department seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to maintain the excellence of the University and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their work.

Marshall A. Rauch, a long-time state leader in politics and the community who served as state senator, established this distinguished professorship. The endowment that he established allows UNC Charlotte to pay a competitive salary as well annual research funds. There will be a supportive start-up package.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration has award-winning faculty. It offers an M.P.A., B.A., two minors, two concentrations, and is a core department in the interdisciplinary Public Policy PhD Program. The Department has 25 full-time faculty members. The Gerald G. Fox Master of Public Administration Program is NASPAA-accredited and ranks among the top 17% nationwide of all ranked public affairs schools and #48 in national ranking by U.S. News and World Report.

As the largest and most diverse college at UNC Charlotte, the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences houses 21 departments in the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, natural sciences and mathematics, and military sciences, as well as 28 applied research centers and interdisciplinary programs. With its 34 undergraduate degrees, 56 undergraduate minors, 24 master's degrees, 10 doctoral degrees, 17 undergraduate certificates, 19 graduate certificates, 23 graduate early-entry programs, and 23 honors programs, the College is connected to the world and its concerns and is particularly supportive of the greater Charlotte region.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is a doctoral, research intensive university, located in one of the nation's fastest growing metropolitan areas on an expanding modern campus. One of sixteen campuses in one of the oldest public university systems in the United States, UNC Charlotte offers over 30,000 culturally diverse students a wide range of undergraduate and staff, with many cultural, recreational, and business amenities, and is continually ranked one of the best cities to live, such as by U.S. News (#20).

Review of applications will begin January 15, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

All applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.uncc.edu>. Please attach the following documents with your electronic submission:

? letter of application describing primary and secondary research and teaching interests, and a commitment to diversity

? three names of references; and

? vita.

Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their teaching and research.

Please contact Dr. John Szmer, chair of the search committee, at jjszmer@uncc.edu with any questions about the position.

As an affirmative action, equal opportunity and an ADVANCE Institution that strives to create an academic climate in which the dignity of all individuals is respected and maintained, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte encourages applications from all underrepresented groups.

The candidate chosen for this position will be required to provide an official transcript of their highest earned degree and submit to a criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9741

Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service

Rank: Research Manager, Executive Branch Operations

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) is seeking a Section Research Manager (SRM) for the Executive Branch Operations Section within the Government and Finance Division. The Research Manager leads the Section in the development of policy research and analysis relevant to congressional needs, particularly as it relates to federal government management and organizational issues.

The Section Research Manager leads a team of policy analysts conducting policy research and analysis for Congress. The section covers a broad range of federal government management and organizational issues. This includes, but is not limited to presidential powers; appointment process; federal workforce; regulatory process; inspectors general, information policy; budget process; financial management; and procurement. The section's crosscutting portfolio provides opportunities to collaborate with colleagues across CRS.

Duties include:

- Managing and supervising policy analysts, including communicating performance standards and expectations to staff, observing staff performance, giving feedback, and assessing performance;
- Ensuring that the work results in objective, authoritative analysis with which the Congress can assess the consequences of legislative/policy options;
- Proactively establishing relationships with committees of jurisdiction, building long-term relationships with clients, and taking initiative to seek out new congressional contacts for CRS;
- Managing congressional requests, concerns, and needs in policy areas within the research management responsibility of the section;
- Collaborating with other managers to ensure an integrative approach to the work by fully identifying significant policy problems facing the Congress, developing analytical approaches to address these problems, and applying appropriate resources; and
- Performing special assignments as directed by the Assistant/Deputy Assistant Director.

Candidates with research and research management experience in issues covered by the section and who have strong interpersonal skills and are capable of leading a highly motivated and talented research staff committed to providing Congress the highest level of nonpartisan, authoritative, objective policy analysis are encouraged to apply. Previous experience in writing, research, and analysis, and knowledge of congressional decision making and legislative process is desired.

CRS works exclusively for the United States Congress, providing policy and legal analysis to committees and Members of both the House and Senate, regardless of party affiliation. As a legislative branch agency within the Library of Congress, CRS has been a valued and respected resource on Capitol Hill for over a century. CRS is well known for analysis that is accurate, authoritative, confidential, objective and nonpartisan. Its highest priority is to ensure that Congress has immediate access to the nation's best thinking on public policy issues of interest to its Members and Committees.

CRS is fully committed to workforce diversity. Interested applicants must apply online at USAJOBS: <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/621948400>.

Please help us improve our recruitment efforts by letting us know how you heard about the position. This question is asked in the application process.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: 12/13/2021

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: $140,000 - $149,999

eJobs ID: 9734

Ohio State University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Open

Specializations: United States, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Mershon Center for International Security Studies (<https://mershoncenter.osu.edu>), within the College of Arts and Sciences, seeks up to three two-year Postdoctoral Scholars to join our team starting the 2022 academic year.

The Mershon postdoctoral scholars support research on international, national, and human security in a global context. We understand international security from a wide range of perspectives, approaches, and substantive foci. Consequently, successful applicants may come from a variety of disciplines that engage international, national, and human security broadly conceived, including anthropology, communications, economics, geography, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology, public affairs/administration, public policy, sociology, and other disciplines that engage international security. We especially welcome applications from scholars whose work explicitly integrates knowledge across traditional disciplinary boundaries. Special consideration will be given to applicants whose work will advance the center's research related to international, national, and human security.

Successful applicants will be expected to devote approximately 10 hours per week to center related activities. Postdoctoral scholars will be mentored and supported in pursuing their individual research agendas during their remaining time. Responsibilities to the Center may include coordinating and supporting Center research and programming activities as well as opportunities to collaborate on Mershon Scholar projects. The two-year term begins August 15, 2022.

The Mershon Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at The Ohio State University engaged in work pertaining to international security broadly construed. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and speaker series

Postdoctoral Scholars at the Mershon Center will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because scholars are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of The Ohio State University.

Required: Ph.D. in appropriate field related to security studies by June 30, 2022.

Application materials should include a cover letter describing the research agenda for the two year appointment and how it supports the mission of the Mershon Center, current CV, writing sample, and three professional references.

Applications will start to be reviewed January 15, 2022 and will remain open until filled.

Application link: https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/Job/Columbus-Campus/Post-Doctoral-Scholar_R32314-1

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9732

Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: American Politics, Presidency, History & Politics

The Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute sponsors a Postdoctoral Fellowship Program to cultivate the next generation of scholars studying the life, political career, principles, legacy, and era of President Ronald Reagan. The Program funds two one-year fellowships for postdoctoral scholars who intend to revise their dissertation into a book-length manuscript on Reagan and his era. Fellows are hosted at the offices of the Ronald Reagan Institute in Washington D.C. One fellowship, the George P. Shultz Fellowship, is made possible through a generous donation from Tad and Dianne Taube.

Applicants must complete their Ph.D. or terminal degree by September 1, 2022 in history, political science, economics, communications studies, law, or a related field. The Ronald Reagan Institute welcomes all methodological and disciplinary approaches to the study of Reagan and his era. Fellows are awarded a $75,000 stipend and also provided with a $5,000 research account. The Reagan Institute expects that fellows will produce a full manuscript that is ready for initial submission to an academic or high quality commercial press by the end of their fellowship period. Following their residence at the Reagan Institute, postdoctoral fellows are strongly encouraged to pursue an academic career or other professional opportunities in research and scholarship. The fellowship term lasts from September 1, 2022 – August 31, 2023. International applicants are welcome to apply.

The application period opens on November 15, 2021 and closes on January 15, 2022. Fellowships will be announced March 1, 2022. For more information on the Ronald Reagan Institute visit: <https://www.reaganfoundation.org/reagan-institute/>

Program Benefits

- $75,000 stipend + $5,000 research account to offset the costs of travel and professional activities related to the production of their manuscript.
- Mentorship from senior academics who advise fellows and review their manuscript.
- One-on-one support from an archivist at the Reagan Presidential Library.
- Institutional support in generating press interest.
- Dedicated office space, research library access, and opportunities to participate in Reagan Institute programming as desired.
- If desired, opportunities to teach undergraduate courses on the American presidency sponsored by the Institute.

Program Requirements

- PhD/terminal degree in hand by September 1, 2022.
- Engagement with the approximately 200 scholars in the Reagan Roundtable Network

- Participation in the Reagan Roundtable seminar series (5 times per year).
- Circulation of recipient's scholarship within this network of scholars.
- Acceptance of the award constitutes a commitment by each fellow to produce a book manuscript by the end of the fellowship year.

Application Instructions

*Please submit all documents as PDFs. Do not send in zip files.

• All application materials should be emailed to Anthony Eames at aeames@reaganfoundation.org by 11:59 EST on Saturday, January 15, 2022.

- Executive summary (maximum 1 page)
- Project Proposal (maximum 3 pages)
- Description of methods and approach, including the importance of materials at the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library to your study.
- Relevance of your book to the study of Reagan presidency, legacy, and era, as well as its potential impact on your broader field of specialization.
- Outline of book.
- Writing Sample (20 to 30 pages)
- CV
- Unofficial Transcripts
- Two letters of recommendation (one of which should be from your thesis advisor)
- Letters should be sent directly to Anthony Eames at aeames@reaganfoundation.org with the subject line reading "Letter of Reference for "Applicant Name."

Start Date: Fall 2022

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9707

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Center For Effective Lawmaking Postdoctoral Fellow

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications for a postdoctoral research position. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will collaborate with a Vanderbilt Political Science faculty member, Alan Wiseman, on research related to the Center for Effective Lawmaking.

Qualifications

Strong quantitative, communication, and project management skills are required. Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their doctoral degrees within the three years prior to the start of the fellowship, or who will complete their PhD by August 1, 2022. This positions involves a year of supported research at Vanderbilt University starting August 16, 2022. There is no teaching requirement associated with the appointment. Successful candidates will be given a competitive salary, health care benefits, computing resources, and a research fund. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a vita, a cover letter, and a two-page proposal for how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking while serving as a postdoctoral fellow. Please review www.thelawmakers.org for more information about the Center. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, three letters of reference, and a diversity statement (highlighting the candidate's commitment and potential contributions to a diverse and inclusive environment) are also required. Applicants should submit materials electronically through Interfolio using this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/97834>. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before December 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9708

Case Western Reserve University

Rank: Alexander P. Lamis Memorial Endowed Chair in U.S. Politics

The Department of Political Science at Case Western Reserve University invites applications for the Alexander P. Lamis Memorial Endowed Chair in U.S. Politics. The successful candidate will be competitive at the level of tenured associate professor (currently either as a tenured associate professor or an untenured professor with commensurate productivity and experience). We are interested in candidates across all U.S. politics subfields and methodological approaches, including but not limited to the politics of race and ethnicity, immigration, and the politics of inequality. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required.

The Lamis Chair has been established with a gift from a generous anonymous donor, to honor our late colleague Alec Lamis (PhD Vanderbilt, JD University of Maryland), a popular undergraduate teacher with interests in U.S. politics, parties and elections, judicial politics, and the politics of the U.S. South. Case Western Reserve University is a private R1 research university where Political Science faculty teach a standard 2-2 load. For more information about Professor Lamis, CWRU and the Department, see the full description (<https://politicalscience.case.edu/internship-opportunities/current-opportunities-2/>).

Candidates should submit 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a research statement, 4) a teaching statement that includes evidence of effective teaching, 5) a publication or writing sample, 6) a diversity statement, and 7) a list of three references.

The one-page diversity statement should explain how one's research, teaching, and/or service have contributed to diversity, equity and inclusion within a scholarly field(s) and/or how individual and/or collaborative efforts have promoted structural justice inside and outside institutions of higher learning. This statement should also reflect on the ways in which the candidate's continued efforts will foster a culture of diversity, pluralism, and individual difference at Case Western Reserve University.

Candidates should upload all application materials electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/97399>. Consideration of applicants will begin on 01/10/2022 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries about the Lamis Chair may be sent to Professor Karen Beckwith, Search Committee Chair, at karen.beckwith@case.edu.

In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. As a recipient of the national Higher Education Excellence in Diversity (HEED) award for the past ten years, CWRU has been recognized nationally as a leader in advancing equity and inclusivity. The university and the College of Arts and Sciences at CWRU are committed to creating an inclusive community where all are welcome, valued and heard. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Case Western Reserve University provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office of Equity at 216.368.3066 to request a reasonable accommodation.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9700

Washington State University

Rank: Teaching Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor of Political Science, Career Track (Teaching)
School of Politics, Philosophy, and Public Affairs, Washington State University

The School of Politics, Philosophy and Public Affairs (PPPA), College of Arts and Sciences at Washington State University invites applications for a full-time, nine-month non-tenure track rank faculty position as Teaching Assistant Professor of Political Science, Career Track with a specialization in American politics. This position is located on the Pullman campus and is anticipated to begin on August 16, 2022. Duties include teaching four undergraduate courses a semester on American politics, as well as service primarily centered around undergraduate curricular development and/or assessment. The Career Track position is renewable and comes with promotion opportunities. The successful candidate is expected to play an active role in the School. Minimum/Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. at time of hire in Political Science or related fields
- Ability to teach a wide variety of courses in American Politics, including some combination of the following: Introduction to American Government, the U.S. Presidency, the Legislative Process, the Judicial Process, State and Local Government, Elections and Voting, Media and Politics, the U.S. Constitution, and/or Civil Liberties.
- Successful candidate must either have demonstrated a commitment to building an inclusive, equitable, and diverse university community, or describe one or more ways they would envision doing so, given the opportunity.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Experience teaching university courses on American political institutions
- Experience teaching both in person and online

Submission Requirements:

Ensure that all the required and preferred qualifications that apply are addressed in your application submissions. To apply, visit wsu.edu/jobs, select your appropriate employment status, and search R-3364 in the search bar. Please be prepared to upload the following documents to your online application:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Teaching Portfolio (including a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi and assignments, and prior teaching evaluations)

- Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion through teaching, professional activity, and/or service.
- Names and contact information of three (3) professional references able to provide a letter addressing qualification relative to this position. References will not be contacted without first informing the candidate.

The search committee will begin reviewing applications on January 17, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Applications submitted by this date will be given full consideration. If you have questions, please contact Dr. Michael Salamone at michael.salamone@wsu.edu.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EDUCATOR AND EMPLOYER. Members of ethnic minorities, women, special disabled veterans, veterans of the Vietnam-era, recently separated veterans, and other protected veteran, persons of disability and/or persons age 40 and over are encouraged to apply.

WSU employs only U.S. citizens and lawfully authorized non-U.S. citizens. All new employees must show employment eligibility verification as required by the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services. WSU is committed to providing access and reasonable accommodation in its services, programs, activities, education and employment for individuals with disabilities. To request disability accommodation in the application process, contact Human Resource Services: 509-335-4521 (v), Washington State TDD Relay Service: Voice Callers: 1-800-833-6384; TDD Callers: 1-800-833-6388, 509-335-1259(f), or hrs@wsu.edu.

In accordance with Washington State Governor's Proclamation 21.14.2, as a condition of employment, new employees must be fully vaccinated for COVID-19 or have an approved medical/religious accommodation at the time of hire. People are considered fully vaccinated two weeks after receiving their last shot in a vaccine series. Vaccination or an approved accommodation for new employees will be verified prior to first day of employment. Information regarding vaccine verification and/or requesting a medical/religious information is available at <https://hrs.wsu.edu/covid-19/vax-verification/>. Please contact HRS at hrs@wsu.edu or 509-335-4521 if you have questions.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/17/2022

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9688

Florida International University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

The Department of Politics and International Relations, in the Steven J. Green School of International & Public Affairs at Florida International University in Miami, FL, invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) position in American Politics. Applicants from all subfields and research areas within American Politics are welcome. Areas of interest to the Department include, but are not limited to: parties, campaigns, and elections; political participation and representation; political behavior; political communication; race and ethnicity; religion and politics; and gender/women in politics. Applicants with policy-relevant research are encouraged to articulate those interests in their research statement. Potential for funded research is desirable. The teaching assignment is two courses per semester. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline is required. The anticipated starting date is August 12, 2022.

Qualified candidates are encouraged to apply to Job Opening ID 525464 at <https://facultycareers.fiu.edu> and include the following as parts of their application: (1) a curriculum vitae, (2) a cover letter, (3) a statement of research interests, (4) a recent writing sample, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy and teaching interests, (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness, and (7) a statement on diversity, equity and inclusion (for guidelines, see https://advance.fiu.edu/_assets/docs/2020-fiu-diversity-statement-guidelines.pdf). Candidates will also be asked to provide names and contact information for at least three references who will be contacted as determined by the search committee. Review of applications will begin on Dec. 4, 2021. Applications will continue to be accepted until the position is filled.

If you have any questions, please contact the Department of Politics and International Relations at pir@fiu.edu.

The Department, situated in the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (<https://sipa.fiu.edu>), is home to more than 1,700 undergraduate majors, almost 100 graduate students, and 38 faculty (<https://pir.fiu.edu>). The university and the department value the diversity and inclusivity of our campus community and the curriculum. Faculty enjoy opportunities to work with colleagues in FIU's centers and institutes: the African and African Diaspora Studies program, the Center for the Administration of Justice, the Center for Women's and Gender Studies, the Cuban Research Institute, the Global Energy Security Forum, the Jack D. Gordon Institute for Public Policy and Citizenship Studies, the Jewish Studies Program, the Latin American and Caribbean Center, the Miami-Florida Jean Monnet European Studies Program, the Jaffer Center for Muslim World Studies, and more.

In September 2021, the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) received full membership in the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA). This prestigious organization includes the top 40 schools of international affairs in the world. The SIPA is among 25 in the US with this designation, 5th in the Southeastern United States, and the 1st and only in the State of Florida.

Florida International University is Miami's public research university, focused on student success. According to U.S. News and World Report, FIU has 42 top-50 rankings in the nation among public universities. FIU is a top U.S. research university (R1), with more than $200 million in annual expenditures. FIU ranks 15th in the nation among public universities for patent production, which drives innovation, and is one of the institutions that helps make Florida the top state for higher education. The Next Horizon fundraising campaign is furthering FIU's commitment to providing students Worlds Ahead opportunities. Today, FIU has two campuses and multiple centers, and supports artistic and cultural engagement through its three museums: Patricia & Phillip Frost Art Museum, the Wolfsonian-FIU, and the Jewish Museum of Florida-FIU. FIU is a member of Conference USA, with more than 400 student-athletes participating in 18 sports. The university has awarded more than 330,000 degrees to many leaders in South Florida and beyond. For more information about FIU, visit www.fiu.edu.

FIU is a member of the State University System of Florida and an Equal Opportunity, Equal Access Affirmative Action Employer all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/9/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9685

Fort Lewis College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Law and US Politics)

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics, Native American Politics

Position Summary:

This tenure track Assistant Professor of Political Science will serve as the department's expert in public law and U.S. political institutions. The primary responsibility of this position is teaching, but continuing to develop a research agenda is expected and supported by the department and college.

Minimum Qualifications:

1. Juris Doctorate (J.D.) or Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by August 2022
2. Demonstrated ability to teach and conduct research in public law and U.S. politics
3. A demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and student success, as well as working with broadly diverse communities

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Substantive interest and expertise in tribal law or federal Indian law
2. Experience teaching underrepresented populations
3. Professional experience working in tribal governance, public policy, or law

Major Responsibilities:

1. Teaching 21 credits per year (4 x 3)
2. Teaching U.S. National Government, Constitutional Law, Civil Rights and Liberties, Criminal Justice, and specialized courses in successful candidate's research area
3. Demonstrating a commitment to student success in the classroom, during office hours, through mentorship of political science students, and by supervising undergraduate research projects
4. Demonstrate a commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging, as well as working with broadly diverse communities.
5. Coordinating the pre-law minor
6. Maintaining an active program of scholarship and disciplinary engagement
7. Participating in departmental and College governance and professional service?
8. Maintains knowledge and awareness of digital accessibility including the American with Disabilities Act and Section 508.
9. Produces and remediates digitally accessible materials in accordance with FLC standards.
10. Performing other duties as assigned

Work Conditions:

The work environment characteristics described here are representative of those that an employee can expect while performing the essential functions of this job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions.

Moderate noise (i.e. business office with computers, phone, and printers, light traffic).
 Ability to sit at a computer terminal for an extended period of time.
 Compensation

The salary for this position is $55,500 plus a comprehensive benefits package. The anticipated starting date is in August 2022

Application Process:

A complete application packet includes:

1. Cover letter addressing interest and qualifications for position. Include details regarding how your course design and personal and professional experiences allow you to encourage a learning environment grounded in equity and inclusion. "How do you envision contributing to Fort Lewis College's commitment to equity and inclusion?"
2. Curriculum vitae
3. Names and contact information for three current, professional references

Submit materials as one PDF file via email to:

APPoliticalScience-Search@fortlewis.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/5/2022

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9684

Naval War College

Rank: PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS

U.S. NAVAL WAR COLLEGE-AT-NAVAL POSTGRADUATE SCHOOL

MONTEREY, CALIFORNIA

SEEKS

PROFESSOR OF NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS

COLLEGE OF DISTANCE EDUCATION

ASSISTANT/ASSOCIATE (AD-1701-03/05)

The United States Naval War College, Newport, Rhode Island, invites applications for two positions of Professor of National Security Affairs (NSA) in its College of Distance Education (CDE), Naval War College-at-Naval Postgraduate School (NWC-at-NPS) Program in Monterey, CA. The positions are full-time with rank and salary commensurate with experience and credentials. The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

Responsibilities. Incumbents teach the "Theater Security Decision Making" (TSDM) course at the Intermediate Service College level with duties including: conducting classroom and online instruction; reviewing and evaluating student essays, examinations, and other written and verbal assessments; developing curricula; performing various types of service to the College; traveling to, and lecturing at, nonresident seminars around the country as required; and performing educational administrative functions as required.

The TSDM course educates Naval War College students in contemporary security studies at both the strategic and the theater-strategic levels. In support of this primary objective, the department develops core curricula and provides graduate-level interdisciplinary instruction in the primary areas of international relations and regional security studies, foreign policy analysis, and U.S. foreign policy as they are influenced by strategic planning and selection of future military forces; their potential use along with other tools of national power; the nature of economic, political, organizational, and behavioral factors that affect decision making on national security issues; the role and impact of individual leaders; and, the use of expanded critical thinking and analytic skills to formulate and assess strategies and policies to achieve desired outcomes within complex national security organizations.

Qualifications. Required qualifications include an advanced degree in one or more of the following areas: International Affairs, International Relations, Management, or a related field; and demonstrated experience working in the national security and defense environments.

Other qualifications that will make candidates especially competitive include: an earned Ph.D. in one of the academic fields noted above; teaching experience at the graduate level; academic program management experience; graduation from a U.S. military senior- or intermediate-level Service College and JPME I and/or II certification; military Service College teaching experience; experience and competence in internet-based instruction; and distance learning experience at the graduate level. Candidates must be U.S. citizens capable of obtaining a Department of Defense security clearance at the SECRET level. Salary Considerations. Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal civil service package that includes health insurance, pension and retirement savings plan, paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule. Application Process. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-22-03 and forward their application package to: nwc-22-03@usnwc.edu. Applications will be accepted until 11:59 pm (EST) December 3, 2021. Applications must include: 1) a detailed cover letter of introduction that addresses the qualifications listed above; 2) a comprehensive Curriculum Vitae/Resume; and 3) contact information for three professional references. Questions about this position should be directed via email to Professor Fred Drake at fdrake@nps.edu. Per E.O. 14043, selectee(s) must be fully vaccinated for COVID-19 by date of employment except in limited circumstances where an exception is approved due to a disability or sincerely held religious beliefs. NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veteran's preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, "Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty" and "Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty") to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, "Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference," and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.)

)Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326. The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/3/2021

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9677

Columbia University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American Politics

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics with a focus on Race and Inequality.

The position is at the rank of Assistant Professor and will begin July 1, 2022.

Ph.D. required at the time of appointment. Candidates will be expected to sustain a strong commitment to research, publication, and teaching.

Applicants should upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, three letters of recommendation, a writing sample, and a statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion through teaching, professional activity, and/or service.

Please visit our online application site at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/98518> for further information about this position and to submit your application.

Screening of the candidates will begin immediately, and the search will remain open for at least 30 days from the day of posting and continue until filled. For further information, please contact Hazel May, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, at hm2135@columbia.edu.

Columbia University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. The University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse and pluralistic faculty and staff committed to teaching and working in a diverse environment, and strongly encourages applications from women, minorities, individuals with disabilities, and veterans.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/8/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9675

Colorado Mesa University

Rank: Visiting Professor of History or Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Open

Distinguished scholars in History or Political Science are invited to apply for the Wayne N. Aspinall Chair at Colorado Mesa University. For a $10,000 stipend, the visiting professor will spend three weeks on the Colorado Mesa University campus from late March-to mid-April 2023; teach a one-credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Applications must include a vitae, a brief outline of a course proposal and a topic for the major public lecture. Submit application by February 11, 2022 to Dr. Justin Gollob, Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Colorado Mesa University, 1100 North Ave., Grand Junction, CO 81501. Feel free to direct any inquiries to jgollob@coloradomesa.edu or 970 248-1279.

Start Date: Spring 2023
Application Deadline: 2/11/2022
Date Posted: 11/4/2021
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 9661

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics (up to three posts)

Nuffield College and the Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford intend to appoint jointly, with effect from 1 September 2022 or as soon as possible thereafter, up to three Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellows (PPRFs) in Politics, broadly construed to include political science, political behaviour, comparative politics, political economy, electoral studies, political theory, international relations, and political history.

The key responsibilities of the Research Fellows are to engage in advanced study and independent scholarly research in politics broadly construed (as above); to disseminate research findings through publication and participation in conferences and workshops; to take part in the intellectual life of the College and the Department by organising workshops, seminars or conferences; and to undertake teaching not expected to exceed 48 stint units per year (the equivalent to teaching an eight-week 2-hour seminar series per year), and to assist in examining for the Department.

To be eligible, candidates should have completed, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant field. Candidates must be within three years of the defence date (viva voce examination date) of their doctorate at the time of application. Allowances will be made for career breaks (for example, family-related leave) and candidates are asked to provide relevant information. Preference will be given to candidates who have not previously held a research fellowship similar to that advertised for more than one year at the time of taking up the fellowship. Prospective candidates should also have experience of carrying out independent research and a track record of excellent quality papers appropriate for and commensurate with their career level. They should have the ability to provide excellent teaching to high-achieving students; the willingness to contribute to the intellectual life of the College and the Department; and excellent oral and written communication skills. Teaching experience in any area of Comparative Government, Political Theory, or International Relations would be desirable.

The posts are full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 September 2022 or as soon as possible thereafter. Shorter-term appointments are unlikely to be considered. The posts will be based at Nuffield College and at the Department of Politics and International Relations. The salary offered is GBP 32,632 per annum. Subject to availability, Research Fellows may opt to rent single accommodation in College. Further benefits include a research allowance and free lunch and dinner in College.

Further particulars, including information on how to apply, are available from the College website at https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/4966/polprf_jd2022.pdf

The deadline for applications is Monday 6 December 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/6/2021
Date Posted: 11/4/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 9664

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Director, James Madison Program
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law
Specializations: Political Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is hiring an Assistant Director. The Assistant Director will report directly to the Executive Director and work collegially with Program staff in all aspects of the planning and executing of Program activities, including Summer Seminars.

Apply here: <https://social.icims.com/viewjob/po1636047907357dd0e6>

Primary Responsibilities:

Provide assistance to the Executive Director in administering/facilitating the JMP Fellowship programs:

Oversee the selection process of and mentor the James Madison Program's annual Visiting Fellows and Postdoctoral Research Associates

Provide expert guidance for the fellows' research and publication agendas

Assist in the selection of lecturers and panelists for JMP events

Provide assistance to the Undergraduate Programs Manager by:

Conducting optional non-credit seminars for the Madison Program Undergraduate Fellows Forum

Offering Freshman Seminars when approved

Teaching courses in the Politics track in American Ideas and Institutions (AIIP) with the approval of the Dean of Faculty and at the invitation of the Department

Precepting when possible in lecture courses in the Department

Plan and direct Madison Program non-credit summer seminars for high-school students, Princeton and non-Princeton undergraduate students, and recent PhD's

Qualifications

Essential Qualifications:

Master's degree or higher in politics, law, or related field

Strong leadership skills and demonstrated record of success working in higher education

Strategic planning and analytical skills

Demonstrated oral, written, research, presentation, and facilitation skills

Demonstrated relationship-building ability and aptitude for collegial interactions with faculty, staff, and students

Able to multitask and prioritize duties

Record of politics-related scholarly publications, both articles and books

Demonstrated expertise in American constitutional law, American political institutions, and American and Western political thought

Preferred Qualifications:

Terminal degree in Politics, Law, or other politics-related field

Proficient in Microsoft Office applications (Word, Excel, and PowerPoint)

Related experience in undergraduate teaching and administration

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9666

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2022 to June 1, 2023. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus daily, and on short notice, in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22061>

A complete application must include the following:

* a curriculum vitae;

* a scholarly paper written in the past three years;

* a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;

* contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2021 - June 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2021 for appointments beginning in September 2022. Awards will be announced in March 2022 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.

Executive Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu

Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9660

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Association - Democratic Innovations Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: Political Behavior, Electoral Systems, Political Communication

The Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) invites postdoctoral students and junior scholars to apply for its Democratic Innovations Fellowship. Democratic Innovations is a new interdisciplinary ISPS program bringing together social scientists from a variety of fields to think about the factors that affect government policy and decision-making and to analyze novel institutions that might support improvements in representation and government performance. To further the study and dissemination of novel ideas for political representation and decision making, the program will aim to answer questions such as:

- What changes to our political institutions will promote efficient, evidence-based decisions?
- How do ideas spread and what institutions can catalyze faster social learning and elevate fact over misinformation?
- How can we build democratic political institutions founded on a realistic view of voter engagement?
- How can we attract dedicated and talented people to government and promote public engagement that contributes high-quality participation to the political system?
- What new possibilities for government and representation are introduced by modern technology?
- What lessons can we learn about factors affecting government performance from history and social science?

- How can we test our ideas scientifically and how can we work to put proven good ideas into practice?

We are interested in scholars doing basic or applied research on these and related questions. We are also interested in scholars who are experts in novel systems of representation and decision making, especially any innovations in voting or other political reforms that have been introduced recently and take advantage of advances in communication or computation.

Fellowship positions are open to those who have recently completed their Ph.D. (in the last 6 years), or to those who currently hold a faculty position as long as it is without tenure. Junior scholars are generally supported at a standard postdoctoral level for a period of one year beginning July 1, 2022 and are expected to be in residence during the academic year. In some cases, the fellowship may be extended to a second year. Fellows are expected to be actively engaged with the activities of the Democratic Innovations program and present their research at least once per semester. Salary is negotiable depending on qualifications and may, in some cases, include minimal teaching responsibilities.

Please send cover letter, research statement, current C.V., one writing sample, and two letters of recommendation. A copy of graduate transcripts is also required for postdoctoral applicants not currently holding a faculty position. Applications should be submitted online at Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/98200>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2022. Please submit your application by that date to receive full consideration.

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9668

John Cabot University

Rank: Full-time tenure track faculty position in International Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

Full-time tenure track faculty position in International Affairs

John Cabot University, an accredited American liberal arts university in Rome, Italy, invites applications for a full-time tenure-track assistant professor position in International Affairs. In exceptional circumstances, associate and full professor rank candidates will be considered. We seek applicants with a Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, and a commitment to program development. The ideal candidate will have significant experience with the American liberal arts tradition.

Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in international political economy, international development, and international security, including non-traditional security, such as food security, cyber-security, or environmental security. The successful candidate will be expected to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate courses with a load of three courses per semester and to be an active member of the university community. Teaching experience with quantitative methodology is especially welcome, as is the ability to teach at the graduate level.

The initial appointment is for two years with the possibility of tenure. Candidates must be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction. Applicants should send a letter of interest describing their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, one or two papers or publications as writing samples, and evidence of teaching excellence to IASearch2022@johncabot.edu. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent separately to this same address with the candidate's name in the subject line of the message. Review of applications will begin on December 15th, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. The successful candidate will be expected to start in the Fall of 2022. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

John Cabot University, a regionally accredited American university in Rome, Italy, is an Equal Opportunity Employer that is committed to diversity and inclusion in the workplace. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment of any kind based on race, color, ethnic or national origin, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, marital or parental status, or disability in any of its policies, programs, and services.

Information about JCU can be found at: <http://www.johncabot.edu/>

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9652

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates or more senior researchers for the year from September 1, 2022 to September 1, 2023, with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on funding and outstanding performance. Appointments will be through the department of Politics. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus daily, and on short notice, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures. The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22042>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2021; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2022 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.
Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu
Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 11/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9659

Sweet Briar College

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory
Specializations: American Politics, Presidency, Political Philosophy & Theory

Sweet Briar College invites applications for a tenure-track position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. The successful candidate will be an engaged scholar-teacher and have a strong commitment to undergraduate education, with a broad focus in the area of American government and politics. Research and teaching interests in presidential or congressional politics, campaigns and elections or American political thought are preferred.

The College's academic calendar, with immersive three-week terms bookending traditional 12-week terms, creates an opportunity for innovative courses to take advantage of close student faculty interactions and collaboration across disciplines. The successful candidate will help to shape the political science program for the future, will have the opportunity to make contributions to our women's leadership core curriculum, and to engage in research with undergraduates. Institutional support for research is available and includes internal faculty grants and an honors summer research program.

Candidates ready to work with a diverse student body are especially welcome. Sweet Briar prides itself on creating a learning environment that encourages young women to fulfill their highest potential. Leadership in all walks of life is fostered by the special connections our faculty make with their students, and Sweet Briar women translate their academic experiences into interesting and important lives.

How to Apply:

To apply, visit the Sweet Briar College Career Center: <https://sbc.edu/human-resources/faculty-staff-job-openings/>. All applications should include: 1) cover letter; 2) CV; 3) statement on teaching philosophy and research interests; and 4) a statement highlighting contributions to or future plans for promoting diversity and inclusion through work in this position; 5) the names and full contact information for three professional references. Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/2/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9648

University of Nebraska, Omaha

Rank: Assistant Professor of Emergency Management and Disaster Science
Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Other

The Emergency Management and Disaster Science (EMDS) program in the School of Public Administration under the College of Public Affairs and Community Service, at the University of Nebraska at Omaha seeks applicants to fill a tenure track assistant professor position

EMDS offers a Bachelor of Science in Emergency Management and a graduate concentration in Emergency Management through the School of Public Administration. Additionally, our program provides a concentration, minor, and certificate in Tribal Management and Emergency Services as well as minors in Emergency Management and Fire Service Management. EMDS is a part of the academic programs in the School of Public Administration that offer opportunities to teach and work with undergraduate through doctoral students. The School boasts a diverse, supportive, and collaborative academic culture. It has a statewide mission and offers the state's only accredited master's program in public administration. Our talented faculty have extensive backgrounds in research and practice in their sub-fields of emergency management and are engaged in several community service activities in the City of Omaha, the state of Nebraska, and nationwide. The Mission of Emergency Management and Disaster Science is to:

- Develop student talents, wisdom, and experiences in a supportive yet demanding academic environment that prepares them for a personally rewarding, successful professional career in Emergency Management.

- Initiate and lead superior research initiatives while supporting continuous improvements in efficiency, reliability, safety, and sustainability for the provision of emergency services in the State of Nebraska and beyond.
- Foster cooperative relationships with neighboring communities, state and federal agencies, private enterprises, and nonprofit organizations through collaborative education, training, and service projects that enhance performance and productivity.
- Set, preserve, and promote the utmost standards of honesty, integrity, and transparency through the teaching of and adherence to ethical conduct and open dialogue while ensuring good stewardship and management of program resources.

A successful applicant will,

- Teach our core courses including Preparedness Planning and Risk Mitigation, Agency Collaboration during Disasters, Disaster Response and Recovery
- Conduct research on climate change, sustainability, emergency management technologies, community resilience, business continuity strategy or related fields.
- Provide service to the University, College and/or School to help accomplish assignments including accreditation, recruitment, retention, research administration, consultation, and service to the discipline and the community.

We welcome applications from scholars in all areas of Emergency Management including public administration, political science, sociology, fire science, business administration, communication, public health, and information sciences.

Applicants should have,

- Ph.D. degree or ABD in emergency management or a related field from an accredited university by time of hire.
- A developing record of scholarly accomplishment including but not limited to peer-reviewed journal publications.
- A record of excellence, or potential for excellence in undergraduate and graduate level teaching
- Research agenda and interest in research collaboration with colleagues
- Ability to develop and review curriculum
- Ability to supervise thesis, capstone, and internship assignments of students
- Ability to manage web-based courses and digital technology in the classroom
- Ability to use the latest pedagogical techniques that are effective for synchronous and asynchronous teaching and content creation (video, simulation, game, text, etc.)

The University of Nebraska at Omaha is an equal opportunity employer. The University and School have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups and strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply for this position.

To apply for this position, go to <https://unomaha.peopleadmin.com/postings/14173> . Current curriculum vita, a cover letter addressing professional experience and qualifications, and the names and contact information for three references must be attached to the electronic application. We also request that applicants submit with their application a statement that addresses their past efforts, as well as their plans, to advance equity, diversity, and inclusion in their scholarship, teaching, and service. Applicants are also encouraged to attach evidence of teaching excellence. The position will remain open until filled. If applicants have any questions, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Namkyung Oh at noh@unomaha.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9647

Grand Valley State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Summary: The Department of Political Science seeks an assistant professor, full time, 9-month, tenure-track, specializing in race and ethnicity, and/or media.

Required Qualifications and Education:

- PhD in Political Science or related field
- ABD candidate will be considered for a two-year contract with provision that the PhD must be completed by December 2023
- Evidence of critical, reflective thinking about the successful teaching and learning of political science
- Demonstrated potential for producing peer-reviewed scholarship in political science
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills, such as the ability to interact with others with respect, empathy, and cultural humility
- Creativity and flexibility
- Demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion and access. This could include experience with inclusive pedagogies; research relating to marginalized populations or social inequality; engagement with community-based social justice work; and other forms of DEI-infused teaching, scholarship and service.

Preferred Qualifications and Education:

- Expertise in race and ethnicity, and/or media; expertise at the intersection of those topics with inequality and/or social movements is a plus
- We are primarily interested in someone whose research and teaching expertise is on race and ethnicity and/or media in American politics, but we also invite applications from scholars who examine these topics from a comparative perspective that encompasses a focus on the U.S.

Responsibilities: The successful hire will be expected to teach introductory courses in American politics and courses in the area(s) of the faculty member's specialization such as race, ethnicity and politics; media and politics; or others. Teaching responsibilities would allow the opportunity to develop a new course (or courses) within the faculty member's area of specialization. Regular faculty responsibilities each semester include teaching 9 credit hours, scholarship, and service. Department faculty are expected to maintain a productive program of scholarship and to participate actively in service. Employment begins August 6, 2022.

Salary/Benefits

The salary is competitive and commensurate with experience. The university offers an excellent comprehensive package that includes health/vision/dental plans, life insurance, retirement, sick/leave disability, tuition waiver, adoption resources, wellness coaching, and free access to campus fitness facilities. Family and child care options on and off-campus are also available. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit Benefits and Wellness - Grand Valley State University (gvsu.edu).

Department/College:

The Political Science Department at Grand Valley State University is the home to a major (BA/BS) in political science, a major (BA) in international relations, and minors in both political science and IR. The department has 17 full-time faculty members, 223 political science majors and 68 international relations majors. The department is also a significant contributor to an interdisciplinary minor in human rights. Department offices are located on the Allendale campus, where nearly all of the department's courses are taught.

The department values:

- Excellence in education facilitated through
 - o Active student-teacher engagement and academic achievement in a rigorous and challenging course of study that emphasizes the development of critical and analytical thinking and writing.
 - o Student exposure to a variety of theoretical and political perspectives for the purpose of enhancing critical and analytical thinking and writing skills.
 - o A comprehensive coverage of the discipline and access to a wide variety of upper-level courses.
 - o Emphasis on internships, co-curricular and civic education opportunities in our local, state, national and global communities.
- Excellence in faculty scholarship.
- Service to the discipline, unit, college, university and community.
- Student development as well-informed, global citizens in a democratic society.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (CLAS) is the largest college at Grand Valley, offering over 50 bachelor's degrees and a growing number of advanced degrees in the natural and mathematical sciences, the fine arts and humanities, and the social sciences. CLAS is a student-centered and diverse learning community that engages in critical inquiry, extending knowledge to enrich and enliven individual and public life. Our faculty are active teacher-scholars committed to equitable, inclusive, career-connected, and community-engaged liberal arts and sciences education. There are many opportunities for collaboration within CLAS and across a broad group of partners on and off campus. We are interested in attracting a cohort of new faculty committed to these core values as we seek to foster a community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive together. Campus/University: Grand Valley University (GVSU) is a public comprehensive institution located in West Michigan with campuses in Allendale, downtown Grand Rapids, and Holland, plus centers in Detroit, Muskegon and Traverse City. The University attracts more than 23,000 undergraduate and graduate students with high quality programs and state-of-the-art facilities, and has been nationally recognized for innovativeness and its contribution to students' social mobility. The greater Grand Rapids metropolitan area has a population of around one million people, is affordable, and offers rich cultural amenities. Grand Valley is located within easy driving distance of Chicago, Detroit, Lake Michigan beaches, and many other superb summer and winter recreational venues. Information can be found at Community Resources - Human Resources - Grand Valley State University (gvsu.edu). Grand Valley is highly rated for safety, sustainability, and veteran and LGBTQ friendliness, and is committed to supporting employees and their families in work-life balance. The university seeks to create an inclusive and diverse environment for faculty and students while promoting enrichment of society through excellent teaching, active scholarship, and service. More information can be found at Grand Valley State University (gvsu.edu).

How to Apply: A complete application must include:

- (1) a cover letter addressing qualifications and motivation to work at GVSU
- (2) a curriculum vitae
- (3) a teaching statement that addresses the applicant's teaching experience, philosophy and approach, and how the applicant meets the teaching-related qualifications of the position
- (4) a research statement that addresses the applicant's research and plans for a productive agenda of scholarship
- (5) a diversity statement that describes past, ongoing and anticipated activities to promote diversity, equity, and inclusion in teaching, research/creative activity, and service, with particular attention to experiences engaging and supporting a diverse student body
- (5) contact information (name, title, email address and phone number) of three professional references
- (6) graduate transcripts (unofficial issued to students are acceptable to apply).

Apply online at Open Positions - GVSU Jobs - Grand Valley State University and select "Apply now". The online application will allow applicants to attach these documents electronically. Applicants selected for interviews will be required to submit official transcripts prior to the interview. If you need assistance, call Human Resources at 616-331-2215. Email questions about the position to: Dr. Mark Richards, Political Science Search Committee Chair (richardm@gvsu.edu).

Application Deadline: The review process will begin on December 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The posting may be closed at any time at the discretion of the University.

Allendale, Michigan 49401 - (616) 331-5000

For more information about Grand Valley, see our website at www.gvsu.edu

Grand Valley State University is an EOE which includes protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. See <http://www.gvsu.edu/affirmative/>. TDD Callers: Call Michigan Relay Center at 711 (in State) or 1-800-833-7833 (out of State)

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9630

Howard University

Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for an open-rank tenure-track position with research interests in the area of Black Politics and American Politics. The successful candidate will be a scholar whose research and teaching engages Black politics in the United States. Scholars' research should focus on people of African descent and fall into one of the following areas: healthcare or health policy, American political institutions, American political development, and/or American political behavior. Substantive areas of teaching should include, but not limited to, American government and politics, Black politics, healthcare or health policy, public policy, electoral politics, and/or Black social movements. We welcome applications from candidates with a range of theoretical and methodological frameworks and approaches.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to vigorously pursuing extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department's teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired. Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation's capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor. Required Qualifications: • Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution; • Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor; • Effective communication and organizational skills; and • Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing: 1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above 2) Current curriculum vita 3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans 4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy 5) A writing sample 6) Three letters of recommendation.

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee, Dr. Richard Seltzer, and submitted electronically via AmericanBlackPoliticsSearch@howard.edu. Screening will begin on September 20, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 15, 2022. Additional details and information can be found at <http://coas.howard.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9628

Ithaca College

Rank: Diversity Scholar Pre/Post Doc

Politics Department Diversity Scholar Pre and Post-Doctoral Fellowship

The School of Humanities and Sciences at Ithaca College announces its Diversity Scholars Fellowship Program search for 2022-2023. Applications for Politics Department Diversity Scholar Fellowship are welcome.

Please read the following descriptions and include reference to specific criteria in your cover letter.

We are especially interested in candidates from underrepresented groups, and who work in the areas of U.S. Politics and Public Policy.

Special consideration will be given to candidates whose work is primarily in U.S.-focused Ethnic, Race, Social and/or Gender Justice/ Studies, Constitutionalism, Transnational and/or Internationalist Politics (or the intersections of U.S. and International Politics) and one or more of the following policy fields: Immigration, Environmental, Public Health, Housing, Indigenous, and Labor Policy.

More information on the Politics Department, and contact information here: <https://www.ithaca.edu/academics/school-humanities-and-sciences/politics>

Interested applicants must apply online and include (1): unofficial transcripts from an accredited PhD granting institution; (2) a cover letter outlining your teaching philosophy, teaching experience if any, dissertation research and timeline to completion (if applicable) and experience working with underrepresented groups in you teaching and/or research or service.; (3) a CV; (4) one syllabus of a course you propose to teach and (5); name and contact information of candidate's doctoral advisor. The committee will begin reviewing application on November 29th.

IC Diversity Fellows Program

The Ithaca College Diversity Fellows Program was created to increase the racial and ethnic diversity of Ithaca College faculty and, in so doing, bring fresh perspectives to the college's curriculum and the learning experiences offered to students.

Fellowships are for the academic year (August 15, 2022 to May 31, 2023) and are non-renewable. Fellows will receive a $42,000 stipend, $5,000 in travel/professional development support, relocation reimbursement, office space, health benefits, and access to Ithaca College and Cornell University libraries. Fellows will teach one course in the fall semester and one course in the spring semester; will be mentored by a faculty member in the host department; will be expected to participate in one official function per semester and monthly professionalization meetings; and must partake in an exit-interview.

Applicants must be enrolled in (pre-doc) or have graduated from (post-doc) an accredited program Ph.D. program; display a commitment to a career in teaching at the college or university level and scholarly promise. Applicants must also be authorized to work in the United States. Prior to August 15, 2022, fellows applying as a pre-doctoral fellow must be advanced to candidacy at their home institution, with an approved dissertation proposal. Preference for the pre-doctoral fellows will be given to candidates in the last year of dissertation writing. Candidates applying for a post-doctoral position must have completed their degrees no more than three years prior to the start of the fellowship year. Preference will be given to those who have finished their degree during the year preceding the fellowship.

Questions about online application should be directed to the Office of Human Resources at (607) 274-8000. Questions about the Diversity Scholars Program should be directed to Belisa González at bgonzalez@ithaca.edu or 607-274-3921.

Visa sponsorship is not provided for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/15/2022

Date Posted: 10/25/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 9615

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
Rank: Assistant Professor

American Politics: The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, with appointment beginning July 1, 2022. We seek a scholar doing innovative research in any area of American politics or public policy. We welcome applications from scholars whose work crosses traditional subfield or disciplinary boundaries, who show promise of research excellence and a desire to train and work with a diverse body of students.

The Political Science Department at UNC is committed to a vision of the University where all members of the community feel welcome, valued, and can thrive. The ideal candidate will share in this commitment. Accordingly, applicants should describe in their cover letters the specific ways in which their scholarship, mentoring, and service goals can support this vision.

Review of applications will begin November 8, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please follow this link: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/213797>. Please include a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement, evidence of teaching excellence, and diversity statement. Applicants will be required to identify the names, titles and email addresses of professional references at the time of application (please note that four are required). Recommenders identified by the applicant will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference and the application system will solicit recommendations directly from Interfolio. Please see <http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-to-an-Online-Application-System> for instructions. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references instead of the referring faculty. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; the department address is Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265 and the web address is <http://www.unc.edu/depts/polisci>.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran."

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9619

Florida Atlantic University
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Florida Atlantic University invites applications for two tenure-track positions in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor for the 2022-2023 academic year.

Candidates should expect to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in American politics and quantitative research methods. Applications reflecting expertise in new techniques and technologies will receive special consideration. Preference will be given to candidates who have a broad range of quantitative methodological expertise in, but not limited to: R, Generalized Linear Models, Multilevel Modeling, and Bayesian approaches.

The Department is deeply committed to a community of excellence, equity, and diversity and welcomes applications from women, under-represented minorities, persons with disabilities, sexual minority groups, and other candidates who will contribute to the diversification and enrichment of ideas and perspectives. Preferred candidates have a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, experience working directly with people from diverse racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic backgrounds, and can demonstrate skill in the understanding of cultural differences.

Hires will have a teaching load of 3/2 and should be able to provide instruction in a variety of modalities, including online, hybrid and in-person. Ability and willingness to lead occasional faculty seminars on new methods are preferred. Candidates should also demonstrate an active research agenda in either methodology or American Politics, which includes potential for outside support through public or private grants. Undergraduate and graduate advising, mentoring, and thesis supervision related to the political science and data science majors are important components of this position.

The new hire will contribute substantially to FAU's Comparative Studies Ph. D. program and to the M.S. in Data Science and Analytics degree. Depending on their area of study, the new hire may also contribute to interdisciplinary programs and have the opportunity to participate in college or department programs such as the Leon Charney Diplomacy Program and the Advanced Campaigning Program and/or contribute to the Study of the Americas Initiative in the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters.

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science from an accredited institution with a focus in American Politics and quantitative methodology. The successful candidate must have the Ph.D. completed by the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Salary: Commensurate with Experience

Location: Boca Raton

Application Deadline: 2022-01-21-08:00

Special Instructions to Applicant:

This position is open until filled and may close without prior notice. This position is subject to funding.

Required Documents:

FAU's Career Page permits the attachment of required/requested documentation.

https://fau.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/FAU/job/Boca-Raton/Assistant-Professor--American-Politics_REQ11672/apply

IMPORTANT: There are two positions. Each of the positions is listed separately on the FAU website. for full consideration, you should apply to both of the following listings:

REQ11672
REQ11671

PLEASE NOTE: A maximum of five (5) documents may be attached to your application. If more than five (5) documents are required for submission, please combine additional documents into one attachment to not exceed the maximum permitted.

When completing the online application, please upload all required documentation noted here: (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae. Along with the cover letter and CV, please make sure the following is also included:

1. A sample syllabus for a class you have taught or would like to teach
2. A one-page research statement describing your work and future agenda,
3. A statement detailing your approach to engaging with diverse communities and articulating how your teaching, scholarship and/or service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus,
4. The names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited for candidates placed on the long list).

Transcripts:

The selected candidate for this position is required to submit an official transcript sent directly from the institution is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment. Similarly, for degrees from outside the United States, the evaluation by an organization belonging to the National Association of Credential Evaluation (NACES), with an indication of the documents the evaluation was prepared from (official transcripts, diplomas, dissertation abstracts) is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment.

Background Screening:

Successful completion of a pre-employment background check is required for the candidate selected for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9607

New York University Faculty of Arts and Science

Rank: Junior Faculty Position in Native American Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

Specializations: Social Movements, Native American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

Junior Faculty Position in Native American Studies
Department of Social and Cultural Analysis
New York University
Faculty of Arts and Science

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis at New York University invites applications for a junior ranked search in the field of Native American Studies.

We especially welcome applications from scholars whose research relates to urban indigeneity, Critical Indigenous Theory, settler colonialism, literature, Indigenous resurgence and governance, Queer Studies, Indigenous pedagogies, environmental studies, and/or language revitalization. We encourage applications from scholars who work in collaboration with First Nations or Native American nations and whose research engages with Indigenous communities. This search is part of a cluster hire in Native American and Indigenous Studies that includes the following departments and Schools: The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis, The Gallatin School, English, Cinema Studies (Tisch), Spanish and Portuguese, and History. More information about this cluster, and NYU's broader Faculty Cluster Hiring Initiative, can be found here, and here.

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis is comprised of programs including American Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Metropolitan Studies, Africana Studies, Latino Studies, and Asian/Pacific/American Studies. Applicants who speak to one or more of these fields and have an interest in building Indigenous Studies curriculum/programming at NYU are encouraged to apply. Visit the SCA website: <http://as.nyu.edu/sca>.

The appointment will begin on September 1, 2022, subject to budgetary and administrative approval. Applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a research statement. Entry-level applicants should provide names and contact information of three recommenders. Ph.D. in hand by 9/1/2022 required. Because diversity and inclusion are an important part of the NYU mission, we request that you include a paragraph in your cover letter telling us how diversity and inclusion figure into your past, present, and future teaching, research, and community engagement. Information about diversity and inclusion statements may be found at <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity/recruitment/diversity-statements.html>.

The search committee will begin their review of applications on November 1, 2021. Please apply online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/94342>

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the FAS commitment to diversity, equality and inclusion, please read here

<http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9596

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, International Law & Organizations, Religion & Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a full-time one-year visiting appointment for the 2022–2023 academic year (beginning July 1, 2022). The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the humanities, social sciences, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is in one or more of the following areas: global legality; post-colonial legality; law and science; law and critical race theory; law and religion; legal theory; legal history; and law and culture. The position requires a Ph.D or a J.D.

Applicants should submit electronically to Interfolio <http://apply.interfolio.com/96654> a cover letter addressed to Professor Martha M. Umphrey, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on January 1, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/1/2022

Date Posted: 10/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9566

University of Louisville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Political Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Louisville is accepting applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin Fall 2022. The position is in political theory with a research emphasis on race, ethnicity and/or post-colonial identity in politics. The department welcomes candidates who address these topics from various traditions within political theory in conversation with American or comparative politics. The ideal candidate will contribute to the University of Louisville's stated commitment to become "a premier anti-racist metropolitan research university."

The successful candidate will be able to teach a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses related to the position's focus, as well as one introductory-level course in another subfield of political science. Teaching experience is a plus, and candidates should have demonstrated research potential. Candidates who are ABD will be considered, but College policy requires completion of the PhD by February 15th of the first probationary year.

The Department of Political Science has 16 full-time professors and is proud of a diverse and dynamic faculty and student body. We have over 500 students enrolled in BA and MA programs. The University of Louisville is a Carnegie-classified R1 metropolitan research university. The salary and benefits package are competitive.

Position is subject to final budgetary approval.

Interested candidates must apply online and attach a curriculum vitae. In addition, applicants should submit a cover letter, sample of written work, graduate transcripts, teaching evaluations (if available), and three letters of reference. We ask that in the cover letter, the candidate describe how their research, teaching, or service experiences support inclusive learning and diversity.

Materials should be sent to Dr. Tricia Gray, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292 or via email to polisci@louisville.edu. Priority application deadline is November 8, 2021; application review will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science encourages candidates to apply who have demonstrated capacity to create inclusive work environments, will work effectively on increasingly diverse teams, and will serve the increasingly diverse students we admit and want to attract.

<https://www.higheredjobs.com/institution/details.cfm?JobCode=177659559&Title=Assistant%20Professor%20of%20Political%20Science%20%28Job%20Id%3A%2042136%29&aID=7137>

To apply for this position, follow the "Apply on Institution's Website" at the link above and then click on the "Apply Now" button. You must answer all required fields and submit your application by clicking the "Submit" button. Detailed instructions are available at louisville.edu/jobs in the "My Career Tools" section. If the posting description requested that you follow up and mail or email other documents, your application will not be considered complete until those have been received by the department.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9571

Albion College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science- American Politics
Specializations: Congress, Political Behavior, Political Development

The Department of Political Science at Albion College seeks applicants for a tenure-track position to teach American government and politics, commencing August 29, 2022. We are especially interested in candidates who will contribute to a campus climate that supports equity, diversity, and belonging. We are looking for a candidate with teaching expertise and scholarly interests in one or more of the following areas: American political institutions (especially the presidency and/or Congress, but not limited to these areas), social movements and political behavior, and American political development. In addition, we are seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute courses on race, gender, class, and ethnicity in the American context. The ability to also teach in another subfield (for example, political theory, international relations, or comparative law) is also desirable. The successful applicant will be expected to teach introductory and advanced-level courses.

Albion College is an anti-racist institution. This position will actively promote diversity, belonging and equity through critical and compassionate communication and strategic outreach efforts to various students, faculty, and staff (e.g., historically under-represented, first-generation, undocumented and DACA students, and LGBTQ students).

Candidates must have completed a Ph.D. in political science by the beginning of the Fall 2022 semester. Some experience in undergraduate teaching as the instructor of record is strongly preferred. The successful candidate should provide evidence of an interest in helping to create, and teach a racially and ethnically diverse student body. The candidate should also provide evidence of how they will include students in faculty research programs. The College and the Department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the Department's curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area when they apply. Successful applicants will have demonstrated excellence teaching, a commitment to undergraduate research and student mentoring, and an active research agenda. The successful candidate will have a 3/3 teaching load, will be expected to participate in co-curricular departmental activities, and contribute to interdisciplinary programs in the college community like the First Year Experience and/or the Honors program.

Qualifications:

- * PhD in Political Science by August 29, 2022
- * Specialization in American Politics (Institutions)
- * Demonstrated teaching effectiveness

Application Instructions:

Applicants should apply online via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/96909>

- * Cover Letter
- * CV
- * DEI Statement (the DEI statement should explain how you foster diversity, equity, and inclusion in your classroom and on campus through your teaching, research and/or service)
- * Teaching Statement and Evaluations
- * Research Statement
- * Sample Syllabi for American Politics and related courses
- * Writing Sample (publications or dissertation chapters)
- * Graduate School Transcripts

* Three Letters of Recommendation

Review of applications will begin October 22, and continue until the position is filled. Please contact Dr. William Rose (wrose@albion.edu), Department of Political Science, for questions about the position or search process.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9564

Seattle University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Political Science Department at Seattle University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level to begin in September 2022. The primary subfield is US Politics, with a specific preference for the study of social movements.

Responsibilities will include teaching, maintaining an active scholarly program, and service. Applicants should be able to teach an introductory course in US Politics as well as upper division offerings in the area of US political behavior. The department has curricular needs in public law and varying types of research methods. Preference will be given to candidates with a research focus and demonstrated teaching experience in one or more of the following areas: the politics of underrepresented groups, economic inequality, gender and sex, immigration, political psychology, political sociology, civil rights & liberties, and additional topics which can contribute to the department's and university's emphasis on social justice. Applicants may also be expected to teach subjects of their expertise in the university core curriculum.

Requirements: Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science or related field are preferred, but advanced ABDs will be considered. Evidence of scholarship and teaching excellence is required.

Founded in 1891, Seattle University is a Jesuit Catholic university located on a beautiful campus of more than 50 acres in the dynamic heart of Seattle. Our diverse and driven population is made up of more than 7,200 students enrolled in undergraduate and graduate programs within eight schools and colleges. Seattle University is an equal opportunity employer.

In support of its pursuit of academic and scholarly excellence, Seattle University is committed to creating a diverse community of students, faculty and staff that is dedicated to the fundamental principles of equal opportunity and treatment in education and employment regardless of age, color, disability, gender identity, national origin, political ideology, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. The university encourages applications from, and nominations of, individuals who will further enrich the diversity of our educational community.

Applicants should submit applications online at <https://www.seattleu.edu/careers>, including (1) a cover letter, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) a brief statement of teaching, scholarship, and service (maximum of 2 pages), (4) a writing sample, (5) evidence of successful teaching, and (6) names and email addresses of three references (letters will be solicited directly from references). Review of applications will begin November 15, 2021. Open until filled. For additional information, contact Yitan Li, Chair, Political Science Department, at liy@seattleu.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9565

University of Houston

Rank: Open Rank Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) seeks to hire up to three tenured or tenure-track faculty members to begin in the Fall of 2022. We are interested in applicants who will help chart the future of the school with fresh ideas, practical experience, and an interdisciplinary mindset. Our faculty include experts in theoretical, practical, and analytical disciplines associated with public policy. We seek to complement that collective expertise with the three hires.

Competitive candidates are likely to have expertise in one or more of the following areas or in another foundational area of public policy or policymaking:

A core area of public policy and policymaking, including, but not limited to, defense, education, energy, the environment, health, housing, immigration, justice and law enforcement, national and foreign economic policy, political institutions, political economy, public finance, public management, social mobility, transportation, urban and community development, and voting and representation.

Policy data formulation and analysis, including but not limited to, data visualization, decision algorithms, GIS, laboratory and field experiments, natural language processing, network analysis, probabilistic forecasts, project evaluation and randomized control trials, small area models, and survey methods.

Philosophy or ethics: (1) applied to an area of public policy or (2) focusing on a theoretical perspective (e.g., race, gender, governance, and markets) that cuts across and informs policy areas.

In the selection process, the search committee will prioritize collaborative scholars who: (1) engage in nationally-recognized, interdisciplinary work on significant public policy issues, (2) work with diverse populations, communities, and organizations, (3) demonstrate an eagerness to contribute to undergraduate and graduate education and student success, and (4) pursue grants, awards, and other sources of funding to support research, academic programming, student success, community engagement, and impact.

Interested individuals should apply at <https://www.uh.edu/human-resources/careers/> and provide: (1) a letter of interest, (2) evidence of teaching effectiveness and commitment to mentoring students, (3) a statement of research specialization and interests, (4) three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation, (5) a curriculum vita, and (6) up to three representative papers. References may be contacted to submit letters. We will inform applicants prior to asking for letters. Review of applications will begin on November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the search committee co-chairs—Pablo M. Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu) or Alan Witt (witt@uh.edu).

We are committed to the active recruitment and retention of a diverse faculty and students. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committee anticipates holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and will favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at https://uhsystem.edu/compliance-ethics/_docs/sam/01/1d51.pdf. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

The Hobby School of Public Affairs was created in 2016 by the University of Houston System. Incoming faculty will have the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology, leadership development, and ethical analysis in its teaching, training, and research. It is the home of UH's Center for Public Policy, Survey Research Institute, and Elizabeth D. Rockwell Center for Ethics and Leadership.

The Hobby School offers: (1) a Master of Public Policy (MPP) degree, (2) a dual degree program combining public policy with degrees in other fields—multidisciplinary studies (UH's Honors College), business, economics, law, psychology, and social work, (3) certificate programs in data analytics, energy policy, health care policy, public policy, and public administration, and (4) BS and BA degrees in public policy starting in January 2022. We are in the planning process for launching a PhD program. The Hobby School also runs the Institute on the Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) and offers workshops in social science methods under the Inter-University Consortium of Political and Social Research (ICPSR) Summer Institute.

The University of Houston is a Carnegie-designated Tier One research institution and is the flagship campus of a state-assisted higher education system that enrolls over 70,000 students. The University of Houston is recognized as one of the most racially and ethnically diverse research institutions in the nation. As such, we welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence.

Houston itself is a laboratory for the future. The city reflects what is happening in the United States and around the world in terms of demographic, cultural, political, and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (1) a growing economy, including a vibrant energy sector, robust manufacturing, a bustling port that serves as a hub for international trade, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center—the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award-winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) a relatively low cost of living among large cities.

The University of Houston is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications:

A PhD in the discipline and a scholarly record consistent with the rank is required.

Notes to Applicant: Official transcripts are required for a faculty appointment and will be requested upon selection of final candidate. All positions at the University of Houston are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check. Incomplete applications may not be considered.

Required Attachments by Candidate: Curriculum Vitae, Cover Letter/ Letter of Application, Research Statement, Publications, Evidence of Effective Teaching

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9559

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in International Political Economy.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022.

The application deadline is Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/92232>

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9547

Yale University

Rank: Research Postdoctoral Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Behavior, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics (CSAP) seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2022. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis.

Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Application materials include a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Applications should be submitted on Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/96142>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2022. Please submit your application by that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/8/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9538

New York University

Rank: Research Data Scientist

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Open

We are seeking a Research Data Scientist to provide leadership and project management on our new, multilingual research infrastructure to monitor how the spread of disinformation across social media platforms will impact the upcoming U.S. elections. Through innovative data collection techniques that pair comprehensive, multi-platform digital trace data with national surveys in both English and Spanish, the project will provide a systematic view into the information Americans consume — both offline and on — and how their beliefs and behaviors change over time.

With this information, CSMAp scholars will produce peer-reviewed research and quantitative descriptive reports examining several key questions, including which U.S. communities are targeted most by disinformation and on what platforms, how these dynamics are shifting as the online ecosystem changes, and what impact disinformation has on voters' beliefs and behaviors. Beyond disinformation and elections, our flexible research design will also enable us to measure the impact of media diets on a variety of issue and policy areas, from Covid-19 to social justice.

Under the direction of the CSMaP Faculty Directors, this role is responsible for:

- Working closely with data engineers on social media data collection methodologies and procedures
- Managing multiple incoming streams of social media data and designing and implementing efficient methods for merging aggregates with survey data
- Overseeing an ongoing panel survey and developing and implementing procedures for sampling and quality control
- Working with the faculty directors and other scholars, assist or lead in designing successive waves of a panel survey, with the potential to embed encouragement experiments and innovate in other ways
- Managing a full-time project associate and research assistants
- Overseeing and/or contributing to the production of academic papers, and rigorous topical data reports for a non-academic audience describing both the political content across social media platforms, and the impact it is having on individuals
- Planning and executing the project management plans, such as project budgets, schedules

CSMaP consists of three core faculty directors covering fields of Political Science, Computer Science, and Computational Biology, as well as postdoctoral fellows, research engineers, PhD students in both Political Science and Data Science, affiliated faculty at NYU and other institutions, and undergraduates. The lab maintains a broad research agenda with many projects moving forward simultaneously. Some recent publications and working papers have focused on election misinformation, social media usage in an ethnically polarized setting, how (competitive) authoritarian regimes respond to online opposition, and the prevalence of hate speech on Twitter.

The directors of the Center for Social Media and Politics actively encourage applicants from all backgrounds to apply. We believe in the importance of diversity as a key to the long-range health and vibrancy of the field, as well as its ability to create a more stimulating intellectual environment.

Qualifications

Required education: Master's degree or PhD in data science, political science, or related field.

Required skills and experience:

- At least 3 years research experience in social sciences, public policy, or a related field (time in MA or PhD program counts)
- Experience with data analysis and data management, handling large volumes of JSON format data and merging data of multiple types, experience managing a data-science workflow
- Excellent project management skills
- Experience working with R and/or Python
- Ability to work with survey data and identify potential issues and sources of error
- Experience in quantitative analysis
- Ability to work both as part of a team and independently

- Ability to organize and oversee complex projects with multiple moving parts
- Strong interpersonal, collaborative, and communication skills
- Preferred knowledge and experience:
 - Experience working with social media and/or digital trace data
 - Experience working on a large High Performance Computing Cluster and/or with a cloud computing service
 - Experience working with survey applications (e.g. Qualtrics)
 - Background and/or familiarity with quantitative research methodologies a plus
 - Experience in survey design, and ability to evaluate an existing survey questionnaire in accord with the basic principles of questionnaire design a plus

Application Instructions: To apply, please visit <https://apply.interfolio.com/96184>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9533

Purdue University

Rank: Tenured Full Professor in Political Communication

Professor of Political Communication

<https://career8.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=16375&company=purdueuniv>

Job Summary:

The Brian Lamb School of Communication and the Department of Political Science are jointly searching for a scholar in Political Communication to be appointed at the rank of full professor. The person who fills this position will work, collaboratively, with faculty and students in both units within the College of Liberal Arts. Applicants at the associate level who have a scholarly record that merits appointment at the level of full are eligible to apply.

Principal Duties:

The person holding this position is expected to maintain an active and nationally recognized research program that aligns well with extramural funding sources. The individual who fills this position will play a key role in the Center for C-SPAN Scholarship & Engagement (CCSE) and will help shape the future of the Center. A high level of commitment to PhD student mentoring and a culture of diversity and inclusion is expected. In addition, the person holding this position will create and disseminate relevant knowledge through student instruction.

Qualifications:

The candidate must have a PhD in communication, political science, public policy, or related field with a record of scholarship, extramural funding, student mentorship, and teaching that merits appointment to the rank of full professor. This position requires strong communication skills and the ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research and apply for grant opportunities. Preference will be given to candidates who can offer a collaborative vision for the future direction of the CCSE and contribute expertise to the Advanced Methods at Purdue (AMAP) program through research that utilizes cutting-edge social science research methods.

The College and University:

Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university. Faculty members in the Brian Lamb School of Communication and the Department of Political Science are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers on campus, including the CCSE, AMAP cluster, Integrated Data Science Initiative, and the many Research Centers at Discovery Park.

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University is embarking upon 40 faculty searches for positions to begin in Fall 2022. These positions will advance research within and across disciplines, and intersect with technology, data science, and engineering in relevant and important ways. These positions may include teaching in our innovative, nationally-recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program that educates students across the university.

Purdue University, the College of Liberal Arts, the Department of Political Science and the Brian Lamb School of Communication are committed to free and open inquiry in all matters. Candidates are encouraged to address in their cover letter how they are prepared to contribute to a climate that values free inquiry.

Application Procedure:

To apply, please visit careers.purdue.edu requisition number 16375. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Recent research paper or other writing sample, 3) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's research and teaching fit the principal duties of the position, 4) Names of at least four references, and 5) a Diversity and Inclusion statement described below.

Purdue University's Brian Lamb School of Communication and the Department of Political Science are committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Screening of applicants will begin November 1 and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact search committee co-chairs Dr. Jennifer Hoewe (jhoewe@purdue.edu) or Dr. Eric Waltenburg (ewaltenb@purdue.edu).

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9516

California State University, East Bay

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Pre-Law/Judicial Politics)

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Open

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

FACULTY EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, EAST BAY

FULL-TIME TENURE-TRACK

THE UNIVERSITY: California State University, East Bay (CSUEB) is a comprehensive university serving the San Francisco Bay Area/Silicon Valley. It is known for award winning programs, expert instruction, its diverse student body, and a choice of more than 100 career-focused fields of study. With an enrollment of approximately 15,000 students and 900 faculty, CSUEB is organized into four colleges. The University offers bachelor's degrees in 49 fields, minors in 52 fields, master's degrees in 34 fields, 16 credentials programs, 18 certificate options, and 1 doctoral degree program. <http://www20.csueastbay.edu/>

California State University East Bay has a mission to support a diverse student body through academically rich and culturally relevant learning experiences. The successful candidate will bring with them expertise or an openness to creating a welcoming and supportive environment for all students. Cal State East Bay, one of the most diverse campuses in the CSU system, welcomes and prepares students to apply their education to meaningful lifework, and to be socially responsible contributors to society.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Political Science prepares graduates to enter careers in government, public service, public administration, public policy analysis, legislative advocacy, business, international relations, and teaching. The department offers a B.A. degree that provides both a strong background in social science and excellent professional preparation for students. The major currently offers three distinct paths to completion, the traditional major and options in pre-law and public affairs and administration. Roughly half of our approximately 180 majors are pre-law. The department currently has five tenured or tenure-track faculty.

DUTIES OF THE POSITION: The Department of Political Science at California State University, East Bay seeks an Assistant Professor (tenure track) in Pre-Law, Legal Studies, or Judicial Politics. The successful applicant will also be expected to serve as a Pre-Law advisor and to attend the Pacific Association of Pre-Law Advisors meeting and similar events. In addition to teaching, all faculty have advising responsibilities, assist the department with administrative and/or committee work, and are expected to assume campus-wide committee responsibilities. Please note that teaching assignments at California State University, East Bay may include courses at the Hayward, Concord and Online campuses.

RANK AND SALARY: Assistant Professor. Salary is dependent upon educational preparation and experience. Subject to budgetary authorization.

DATE OF APPOINTMENT: Fall Semester, 2022.

QUALIFICATIONS: The successful candidate must hold a PhD in political science or a closely related social science discipline by the effective date of their appointment. We expect the successful candidate to have demonstrated teaching ability and the potential to have a successful research agenda. The department has a preference for applicants with prior teaching experience. The department also has a preference for an applicant dedicated to helping underrepresented communities find a path toward careers in the legal profession including law school and who shares our investment in social justice, equity, and inclusivity.

Candidates should demonstrate experience in teaching, mentoring, research, or community service that has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence. Additionally, applicants must demonstrate a record of scholarly activity. This University is fully committed to the rights of students, staff and faculty with disabilities in accordance with applicable state and federal laws. For more information about the University's program supporting the rights of our students with disabilities see: <http://www20.csueastbay.edu/af/departments/as/>

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications must be received on or before October 24, 2021 to ensure full consideration. Review will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants must submit: 1) A Cover letter that addresses the requirements of the position, 2) A CV, 3) At least one sample of published research or a dissertation chapter, 4) A teaching statement, 5) Course Syllabi (esp. those that demonstrate successful teaching to a diverse student population), 6) A summary of teaching evaluations, 7) A diversity statement of approximately one page (Applicants' statements should detail how their teaching, research, and/or service has supported the success of students from underrepresented communities in their academic field; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CSUEB's commitment to social justice, equity and inclusivity), and 8) Name and contact for three confidential letters of recommendation.

Please submit a letter of application, which addresses the qualifications noted in the position announcement; a complete and current vita, and all other materials listed above via PageUp (<https://careers.pageuppeople.com/873/eb/en-us/job/504626/assistant-professor-of-political-science>, see "Apply Now"). Applicants are required to also submit a one-page diversity statement that addresses how you engage a diverse student population in your teaching, research, mentoring, and advising.

Note: California State University, East Bay hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. All offers of employment are contingent upon presentation of documents demonstrating the appointee's identity and eligibility to work in accordance with provisions of the Immigration Reform and Control Act. A background check (including a criminal records check and prior employment verification) must be completed and cleared prior to the start of employment.

As an Equal Opportunity Employer, CSUEB does not discriminate on the basis of any protected categories: age, ancestry, citizenship, color, disability, gender, immigration status, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran's status. The University is committed to the principles of diversity in employment and to creating a stimulating learning environment for its diverse student body.

Any questions about the university, position, or application process can be directed to the search committee at ps.search.2122@gmail.com.

Applications close: Open Until Filled

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9508

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity

Subfield(s): Open, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Dartmouth College invites applications for a Guarini Dean's Postdoctoral Fellowship in the Department of Government. This fellowship supports scholars whose research addresses the politics of race and ethnicity in any subfield. In addition, the fellowship promotes student and faculty diversity at Dartmouth, and throughout higher education, by supporting research by underrepresented scholars, and others, with a demonstrated ability to advance educational diversity and inclusivity. Applicants will be selected on the basis of their academic achievement, promise in both research and teaching, and their demonstrated commitment to addressing underrepresentation in higher education.

This is a two-year residential fellowship, with one course taught in the second year. Throughout, fellows are expected to pursue research activities while participating fully in the intellectual life of the department and the college. Fellows receive an annual stipend of approximately $55,200 plus benefits and an allocation for research expenses (exact funding levels will be set at the time of offer).

Guarini Dean's Postdoctoral Fellows are part of the Provost's Fellowship Program, a multidisciplinary cohort of approximately ten predoctoral and postdoctoral scholars who share a commitment to increasing diversity and inclusivity in their disciplines. Fellows participate together in mentoring and professional development programming, including guidance in preparing for faculty careers.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Qualifications

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline or be ABD with a Ph.D. expected before the start date of their appointment.

Application Instructions:

- 1) Cover letter, including an overview of research areas and teaching interests; please also describe your prior contributions to advancing diversity and inclusivity in higher education and your motivations to join this multidisciplinary fellowship program;
- 2) CV;
- 3) Dissertation description (maximum two pages single-spaced);
- 4) Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which should be from the dissertation advisor.

Applications must be submitted electronically at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/95110>. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. If you have any questions, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Yusaku Horiuchi (Yusaku.Horiuchi@dartmouth.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9486

Georgia State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2022. We seek a scholar whose research focuses on the politics of identity broadly defined (including, but not limited to ethnicity, race, gender, class, sexual orientation, and religion). We welcome scholars in any subfield of political science (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law, or Political Theory) or closely related discipline. The successful candidate will join a faculty with existing strengths in race and ethnicity, gender and politics, partisan and identity political polarization, civil conflict, and immigration politics. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to teach courses on the politics of identity at the undergraduate, M.A., and PhD levels as well as other courses in their area of expertise.

Georgia State University, an enterprising R-1 university located in Atlanta, is a national leader in using innovation to drive student success and research growth. Enrolling and graduating one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, Georgia State provides its world-class faculty and more than 50,000 students unsurpassed research, teaching, and learning opportunities in one of the 21st century's great global cities. The Department is committed to serving this student body and advancing innovative research by building a diverse faculty. The College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks in college-level program development. GSU is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity. Among the core values of the department are diversity, equity, accessibility and inclusion. We invite people of all backgrounds and identities, including, but not limited to races, ages, ethnicities, nationalities, religious beliefs, genders, sexual orientations, and abilities, as well as first-generation candidates, to apply for this position. The department's full vision, mission and values statement is available at <https://bit.ly/3DZ6Y0n>.

Essential Qualifications:

- o A research agenda that indicates a clear theoretical and/or empirical engagement with the politics of identity.
- o Ability to teach courses on identity politics and related topics at the undergraduate and graduate level.
- o Interest in teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds.
- o A Ph.D. in hand or evidence that a PhD will be awarded by August 2022.

Preferred Qualifications:

- o Demonstrated evidence of research productivity such as publications, articles under review, conference papers, or grant-seeking activity.
- o Demonstrated potential of teaching effectiveness, such as syllabi of past or future courses, teaching statement, or teaching evaluations.

Applicants should send a letter of interest that details how the essential and preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a brief statement outlining their ability to work with a diverse student body, a statement of their research agenda, examples of scholarly work, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to polsearch@gsu.edu, indicating Tenure-track Identity Politics position in the subject line.

Please list three references (with name, title, email and phone number) who will provide letters of recommendation upon request.

Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

Further information about the department can be found at politicalscience.gsu.edu. Georgia State University is an equal opportunity employer. It continues to be the policy of the University to implement affirmative action and equal opportunity for all employees, students, contractors, consultants and applicants for employment or admission without regard to race, color, religion, creed, national origin, sex, age, gender, transgender status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or disability. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9488

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer position in Public Law to begin Fall 2022. Lecturers at GSU are full-time faculty who are eligible for promotion to Senior Lecturer after five years and Principal Senior Lecturer after ten.

Lecturers at GSU have both teaching and service requirements and are full members of the department's intellectual community and leadership team. In addition to helping the university achieve excellence in undergraduate teaching and serving on MA thesis committees, Lecturers meet a broad array of vital service needs, such as coordinating our core courses, directing undergraduate programs, leading study abroad trips, coaching academic teams, and developing innovative experiential learning courses. GSU is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity, and the College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks (including Lecturers) in college-level program development.

Designated as a minority-serving institution, GSU has one of the most diverse study bodies in the country and is nationally recognized for its record in student success regardless of race, ethnicity, and income level. The Department is committed to serving this student body and advancing innovative teaching and research by building a diverse faculty. Among the core values of the department are diversity, equity and inclusion. We invite people of all backgrounds and identities, including, but not limited to races, ages, ethnicities, nationalities, religious beliefs, genders, sexual orientations, and abilities, to apply for this position. (The department's full vision, mission and values statement is here: <https://bit.ly/3DZ6Y0n>).

Required Qualifications:

- o Ability to teach courses related to public law such as: Judicial Politics and Process, Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Constitutional Law, Introduction to American Law and/or other courses of particular interest to the candidate, both online and in-person.
- o Ability to deliver effective online instruction and a commitment to excellence in teaching undergraduates.

- o Interest in teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning.
- o A Ph.D. in hand or evidence that a PhD will be awarded by Summer 2022.

Preferred Qualifications

- o Ability to teach more specialized courses in Public Law and Judicial Politics
- o Academic interest in pursuing the scholarship of teaching and learning.

Applicants should send a letter of application that details how the essential and preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also submit a separate detailed statement addressing how they will facilitate a diverse and inclusive learning environment both in and outside of the classroom. Finally, applicants should provide a list of at least three professional references (name, title, email address, and telephone number) who are willing to provide letters of reference in the future. Please submit all materials electronically to polsearch@gsu.edu, indicating NTT Public Law Position in the subject line. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

GSU is a highly diverse urban research university located in downtown Atlanta. Further information about the department can be found at politicalscience.gsu.edu. Georgia State University is an equal opportunity employer. It continues to be the policy of the University to implement affirmative action and equal opportunity for all employees, students, contractors, consultants and applicants for employment or admission without regard to race, color, religion, creed, national origin, sex, age, gender, transgender status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or disability. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9482

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer position to begin Fall 2022. Lecturers at GSU are full-time faculty who are eligible for promotion to Senior Lecturer after five years and Principal Senior Lecturer after ten.

Lecturers at GSU have both teaching and service requirements and are full members of the department's intellectual community and leadership team. In addition to helping the university achieve excellence in undergraduate teaching and serving on MA thesis committees, Lecturers meet a broad array of vital service needs, such as coordinating our core courses, directing undergraduate programs, leading study abroad trips, coaching academic teams, and developing innovative experiential learning courses. GSU is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity, and the College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks (including Lecturers) in college-level program development.

Designated as a minority-serving institution, GSU has one of the most diverse study bodies in the country and is nationally recognized for its record in student success regardless of race, ethnicity, and income level. The Department is committed to serving this student body and advancing innovative teaching and research by building a diverse faculty. Among the core values of the department are diversity, equity and inclusion. We invite people of all backgrounds and identities, including, but not limited to races, ages, ethnicities, nationalities, religious beliefs, genders, sexual orientations, and abilities, to apply for this position. (The department's full vision, mission and values statement is here: <https://bit.ly/3DZ6Y0n>).

Essential Qualifications:

- Ability to effectively teach Introduction to American Government, as well as other political science courses in the major, both online and in-person.
- Ability to deliver effective online instruction.
- A commitment to excellence in teaching undergraduates.
- Dedication to teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds to achieve excellence in undergraduate learning.
- A PhD in Political Science or related field, in hand or with evidence that a PhD will be awarded by Summer 2022.

Preferred Qualifications:

- An interest in online educational innovation.
- Ability to teach courses related to the politics of identity, which may include Women & Politics; Race, Ethnicity & Politics; Latinx Politics; Asian American Politics; Indigenous Politics; Religion & Politics; Immigration and/or Urban Politics.

Applicants should send a letter of application that details how the essential and (if applicable) preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also submit a separate statement addressing how they will facilitate a diverse and inclusive learning environment both in and outside of the classroom. Finally, applicants should provide a list of at least three professional references (name, title, email address, and telephone number) who are willing to provide letters of reference. Please submit all materials electronically to polsearch@gsu.edu, indicating NTT 1101 Position in the subject line. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

GSU is a highly diverse urban research university located in downtown Atlanta. Further information about the department can be found at politicalscience.gsu.edu. Georgia State University is an equal opportunity employer. It continues to be the policy of the University to implement affirmative action and equal opportunity for all employees, students, contractors, consultants and applicants for employment or admission without regard to race, color, religion, creed, national origin, sex, age, gender, transgender status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or disability. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9483

Georgetown University

Rank: Provost's Distinguished Fellow and Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Race, Ethnicity and Identity Politics. This search is open to all four fields in the Government Department (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations and Political Theory) and all subfields within political science. Importantly, we seek applicants whose research expands the boundaries of political science and also those whose research invigorates existing and enduring questions in political science with scholarly insights and perspectives drawn from the politics of race, ethnicity and identity.

Successful candidates will contribute to an intellectual and academic agenda at Georgetown that seeks to establish the University as a premier center for research and teaching in race, ethnicity and identity politics. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to work with multiple units across the University which study race, ethnicity, and the politics of identity, including, among others, the newly established Racial Justice Institute, the African American Studies Department, the McCourt School of Public Policy, and the Georgetown Law Center.

For the first year of this position, the successful candidate will also hold the title of Provost's Distinguished Faculty Fellow, and will have no teaching and service responsibilities to allow a focus on research while receiving mentorship and support from two senior faculty members. More on the Distinguished Faculty Fellow Program can be found at <https://blog.provost.georgetown.edu/increasing-georgetown-effectiveness-in-recruiting-faculty/>.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, cv, three letters of reference, an academic writing sample, and a statement on diversity, equity and inclusion. In this DEI statement, applicants are asked to address any DEI activities they have been involved with (including research, teaching, community service, volunteer work, or presentations), and to highlight how aspects of their own identity (including, among others, ethnic, sociocultural, racial, religious, gender, and sexual identity) have shaped their experiences and world view, including any experiences of discrimination or barriers to advancement. Additionally, candidates are asked to address how diversity, equity and inclusion can advance the academic enterprise, to offer ideas on how to promote equity and inclusion in higher education and in the discipline of political science, more generally. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to academic excellence and diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) through experience teaching and research on matters related to DEI or through service that has fostered DEI in a university community. Please submit these materials to <http://apply.interfolio.com/95204> by October 15, 2021 to ensure full consideration, but review of applications will be on-going. The position remains open until filled. Please direct any questions regarding the search to Prof. Douglas S. Reed at reedd@georgetown.edu. Administrative questions regarding search logistics may be directed to Ileana Aguilar at ima2@georgetown.edu.

About Georgetown University and the Government Department

The Government Department at Georgetown is a leading department of Political Science. We are an open, dynamic, and publicly engaged community of scholars, students, and professional staff. We believe in the ideal of scholarship for its own sake but are also deeply committed to the role of cutting-edge research in informing politics and public life. We see our setting in Washington, DC as a rich opportunity for the study of politics, particularly within the field of race, ethnicity and identity politics and we particularly welcome applications from scholars whose research strives to connect the local and particular with broader forces and constructs within political life.

Georgetown University is one of the world's leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service.

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation's oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

If you are a qualified individual with a disability and need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please click here for more information, or contact the Office of Institutional Diversity, Equity & Affirmative Action (IDEAA) at (202) 687-4798. We encourage applications from individuals who will contribute to diversity in higher education and who show the potential to advance the department's goal of a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive scholarly environment.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 10/15/2021
Date Posted: 9/29/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9470

Midwestern State University

Rank: Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Open, Open

Lecturer – Political Science
 For academic year 2021-2022
 Nine Month Contract in Political Science, starting Spring 2022.
 Requirement: MA, ABD, or PhD in Political Science.
 Field: American Government.

The Department of Political Science seeks a lecturer to teach Introductory American and Texas Government courses. This position is a nine month non-tenure track contract and is renewable given budgetary approval. Teaching load is 12 hours per semester (4 course sections), and candidates should have significant experience teaching introductory Texas and American government. Experience teaching in both in-person and online settings is a plus. Salary is $40,000 per year.

The Department is interested in candidates with an MA or PhD in Political Science, and who will contribute to the mission of the department and university. The Department of Political Science houses majors and minors in Political Science and Global Studies, as well as the minor in Women's and Gender Studies and the Model United Nations program.

Midwestern State University is a diverse, public liberal arts university with an enrollment of approximately 6,000 students and a member of the Texas Tech System. MSU Texas is located in Wichita Falls, a city of 102,000 about 2 hours northwest of Dallas/Fort Worth (www.msutexas.edu). As a Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC) member institution, Midwestern State University is particularly committed to excellence in teaching and seeks applicants that will contribute to this mission. This position is designated as security sensitive and requires the finalist to complete a criminal background check. EEO/ADAAA compliance employer.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and statement of teaching philosophy to:

Dr. Linda Veazey, Chair
Department of Political Science
Midwestern State University
3410 Taft Boulevard
Wichita Falls, TX 76308
linda.veazey@msutexas.edu

The position will remain open until filled, but priority will be given to applications received before November 1, 2021.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9457

Harvard University

Rank: PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

2022-23 PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship

Established in 1996, under the direction of Paul E. Peterson (Henry Lee Shattuck Professor of Government), the Program on Education Policy and Governance has rapidly distinguished itself as a significant player within the educational reform movement.

PEPG's fellowship program was initiated to attract top postdoctoral researchers to quantitative-based investigations of issues in education reform at Harvard. The program has been a resounding success since its inception in 2002. These fellows have collaborated on some of PEPG's most important research papers and in organizing program conferences. Past fellows currently hold tenured and tenure-track positions at major colleges, universities and research centers in the United States and abroad.

The deadline to apply for the 2022-23 PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship is December 17, 2021.

PEPG is offering a one-year resident research fellowship at the postdoctoral level starting in the summer of 2022. The fellow will work at Harvard University and engage in independent projects that are related to the program's focus. Additionally, s/he will be expected to collaborate with PEPG's ongoing research and programs. This may include conference planning and administration, as well as working on PEPG publications. Applicants who have not yet received their Doctoral degree may apply. However, they must receive it by September 1, 2022, in order to participate. Fellows must begin their residency no later than the week of August 29, 2022.

Candidates must have received PhD (or equivalent degree) within five years of the applied-for academic year.

The stipend for the postdoctoral fellowship is $75,000. It provides modest health insurance coverage but no housing. However, assistance in obtaining affordable housing will be provided.

Applicants should submit the following materials:

- Letter of intent with current contact information including email address.
- Current curriculum vitae (please include any past awards, scholarships and publications).
- A 2,000-word proposal describing one or more research projects that will be conducted and completed while at PEPG. The proposal should include relevant background information, discrete objectives, importance and feasibility, as well as the methodology that will be used.
- Two samples of writing, if not published, then of publishable quality. These should be pertinent to the proposed research.
- The names of and letters of recommendation from three or four people qualified and willing to evaluate the applicant's project and scholarly qualifications. Recommenders should mail their letters directly to PEPG, or they can be emailed to the address below.

Applicants should email their materials to pepg_administrator@hks.harvard.edu (in PDF format). Incomplete applications may not be reviewed/considered.

All materials should be addressed to:

PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship Program
C/O Antonio Wendland
Harvard Kennedy School
79 JFK Street, Taubman 304
Cambridge, MA 02138

For further information, please email: pepg_administrator@hks.harvard.edu.

Link to job description: <https://www.hks.harvard.edu/centers/taubman/programs-research/pepg/fellowships#postdoctoral-fellowship>

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/17/2021

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9449

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Congress, Political Parties & Organizations, Presidency

The State University of New York at Cortland (SUNY Cortland) seeks candidates for a tenure track position in American Politics with a focus on American Political Institutions. Specialty may include, but need not be limited to, elections, social movements, legislatures, systemic racism, political parties or the presidency. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum (e.g., Introduction to American Politics, The American Presidency, Congress, Political Parties, Elections). They may also teach a basic methods course. The typical load is three classes per semester.

SUNY Cortland has a strong commitment to the affirmation of diversity and offers courses addressing inclusion studies and global diversity, as well as interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies, Latinx and Latin American Studies, Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies and Native American Studies.

The Political Science department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, and is one of the most active and visible in the University. The department has about 100 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, and several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in Political Science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

Candidates for this position should demonstrate: a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of experiential activities (e.g., internships, civic engagement, student clubs); engagement in service to the department, school, university, local community and profession; a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion and social justice and support for an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

Required qualifications: PhD in Political Science by appointment date or ABD with a scheduled completion date; Teaching and research focus on American Politics and higher education teaching experience. Interested candidates should electronically submit 1) a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests, 2) a curriculum vita, 3) the names and contact information for at least three references, 4) a statement of teaching philosophy to include evidence of teaching effectiveness, including sample syllabi, if available, 5) a copy of transcript for their highest or most recent degree and 6) a published work or writing sample. <https://jobs.cortland.edu/postings/5109>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9439

University of Illinois, Springfield

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Immigration Policy, Social Welfare

The Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. The department seeks candidates with expertise in the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality (broadly construed) as well as teaching interests in research methods. We seek applicants whose teaching and research focus on the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality in the context of American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. The successful candidate is expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses both online and on-ground in their area of specialization as well as in their broader subfields, contribute to the department's research methods curriculum, and chair MA theses and comprehensive exams. The candidate is also expected to pursue an active research agenda and engage in service activities.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science by August 16, 2022. Candidates must demonstrate potential for excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service. Prior teaching experience at the college or university level is required. The regular teaching load for tenure-track appointments is 3-3. The successful candidate will have opportunities to receive course relief for curriculum development or scholarship.

This is a full-time on-campus position tenure-track academic appointment. UIS tenure-system faculty are expected to be available and engaged in the campus community, with assigned professional responsibilities for teaching, scholarship, and service.

The UIS Department of Political Science offers excellent academic preparation and opportunities to become engaged in real world politics for both undergraduate and graduate students. We offer undergraduate and graduate degrees in political science, and majors in public policy and global studies. Students also have the opportunity to receive a minor in political science and global studies. Several of these programs are fully online or on campus. The department has recently undergone a rigorous and exciting academic reorganization into a School of Politics and International Affairs, whose administrative structure will finalize in 2022.

One of the largest departments in the College of Public Affairs and Administration, the UIS Department of Political Science offers an opportunity for our students to live politics in the classroom, on the campus and in the community. Engaged political science makes the connections between the classroom and the world explicit as we challenge our students to both grasp the course material and explore how it has an impact outside of the classroom. The UIS Department of Political Science bridges the worlds of the "academic" and "practical" by providing concrete opportunities for the practice of theory and the theory of practice. Our school champions a culture of inclusion and diversity; we encourage applications from women and members of historically underrepresented groups.

Application deadline: October 29, 2021

About UIS: Located in the state capital, the University of Illinois Springfield is one of three members of the University of Illinois system. The University serves approximately 4,000 students in 21 graduate and 31 undergraduate programs. The academic curriculum offers students a strong liberal arts core, a wide range of professional programs, and close faculty interaction. Making the most of its location in the state capital, UIS is broadly engaged in public policy and service. Its diverse student body includes traditional, non-traditional, and international students. Twenty-five percent of majors are in 17 undergraduate and graduate online degree programs and the campus has received several national awards for its implementation of online learning. UIS faculty are committed teachers, active scholars, and professionals in service to society. The University emphasizes excellence in teaching, and faculty are also expected to provide a balance of scholarship and service activities to meet requirements for tenure and promotion. You are encouraged to visit the university web page at <http://www.uis.edu> and the department web page at <https://www.uis.edu/politicalscience/>

Responsibilities:

- Teach a 3/3 load (online and on-campus) in the Department of Political Science;
- Offer courses on the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality (broadly construed) as well as research methods. The candidate will be able to teach additional courses in at least one of the following subfields: American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. The candidate will be able to chair MA theses and comprehensive exams in the subfield of American Politics and also in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations;
- Assist with department, college, and university-level service activities;
- Engage in scholarship activities that result in a significant publication record;
- Contribute to our undergraduate and graduate curricula, both on-campus and online.

Qualifications:

Earned doctorate (expected by August 2022) in political science;
 Desire and potential for excellence in teaching;
 Experience and/or willingness to teach in an online degree program;
 Potential/evidence of strong scholarly productivity and an active research agenda;
 Potential/evidence of strong record of excellence in professional service;
 Teaching experience at the college or university level;
 Willingness to grow a culture of inclusion and diversity

To Apply:

Go to <https://jobs.uis.edu/job-board/job-details?jobID=153958&job=assistant-professor-department-of-political-science-school-of-politics-international-affairs-153958> to create or update your profile and complete the online application. Additionally, please upload (1) cover letter addressing the responsibilities of the position, (2) current curriculum vita, (3) a teaching portfolio that includes your teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and sample syllabi, (4) sample of scholarship, and (5) names and contact information (email address and phone number) for three professional references. Only those applicants who complete the online application and upload all required materials by the October 29, 2021 application deadline will be considered; incomplete applications will not be evaluated. To maintain the integrity and confidentiality of the search process, applicants are asked to upload their own materials. Formal review of applications will begin after October 29, 2021, and continue until the position is filled or the search terminated. For questions regarding the position, contact Dr. Sibel Oktay, Associate Professor and Search Committee Chair at sibelo@uis.edu

More About UIS & Our Springfield Community:

The University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) is a premier public university that provides students with a high-quality liberal arts education, exceptional public affairs opportunities, and outstanding professional preparation programs. UIS is one of three universities of the world-class University of Illinois system and has been ranked by US News & World Report as one of the top 10 regional public universities in the Midwest.

UIS celebrates its diversity with a campus comprised of students and faculty of various ages, backgrounds, and ethnicities. Faculty members are accomplished teacher-scholars, and UIS has a national reputation for innovation in teaching and excellence in online education. Located in the state capital, UIS has established a reputation for Leadership lived, based upon four core strengths: the educational richness of its teaching-focused academic experience; the abundant opportunities it provides for students to collaborate with faculty and gain practical experience through institutional partners; the right-sized supportive community it offers; and its tradition of educating public servants and leaders in private and public sectors. UIS is a community-engaged campus whose students contribute over 66,000 hours of community service each year.

The surrounding Springfield community offers a wonderful quality of life. A lively entertainment scene includes jazz, blues, community theatre, municipal opera, comedy, and live music, including downtown music festivals. Additional cultural and sporting attractions are conveniently located a few hours away in St. Louis, Chicago, and Indianapolis. With a population of about 117,000, Springfield offers great restaurants, shopping, and other city amenities while retaining the friendliness and affordability of small-town living (and without the heavy traffic). The area also has a wide variety of recreational opportunities, including biking and hiking trails, ice rinks, sports complexes, and several first-class golf courses. Lake Springfield offers fishing, boating, and other recreational water activities. Springfield is also home to a wildlife sanctuary, zoo, lakeside memorial gardens, botanical gardens, and one of the world's largest carillons.

Springfield was home to Abraham Lincoln, our nation's sixteenth president and one of its most famous political figures. A historical downtown area features the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library & Museum, the Old State Capitol, the Lincoln historical district, historic reenactments and events, the Illinois State Museum, and a variety of specialty shops and restaurants which make Springfield the most prominent tourist destination in central Illinois.

Springfield is also home to the second Illinois Medical District (the first being in Chicago) and includes two major medical centers, Memorial Health Systems and HSHS St. John's Health Systems, as well as the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. The medical community and state government are the two largest employers in Springfield.

Springfield offers daily Amtrak service to St. Louis and Chicago as well as to points beyond. A regional airport offers daily service to major hubs in Chicago and Dallas. City bus service is provided from the UIS campus to various locations around the city.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9448

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Political Communication, Political Parties & Organizations

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in American politics beginning August 16, 2022. The successful candidate should have a strong research agenda which will lead to a body of high-quality peer-reviewed published work. The position is open to applicants in all areas of American politics, behavior and/or institutions, but we especially welcome candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in one or more of the following substantive areas: race/identity and politics, political communication, media and politics, political parties and interest groups, the presidency, and Congress.

The successful candidate will teach courses in our B.A. and M.A./Ph.D. programs. In addition to their specific substantive concerns, we are particularly interested in candidates who are prepared to teach graduate courses in quantitative research methods. A completed Ph.D. in political science is required for appointment at the level of Assistant Professor. The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A, and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/49325> and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the department, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to American Politics Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. For more information, contact pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and actively seeks diversity among its employees. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information about UA's strategic diversity plan, see <https://provost.ua.edu/diversity/>. In addition, the College of Arts & Sciences has developed a college-level strategic diversity plan, which can be viewed here: <https://diversity.as.ua.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9429

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate/2022-2023 CSDP Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Postdoctoral Research Associate/Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) 2022-2023

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks post-doctoral or more senior research associates for ten-month positions anticipated to start on September 1, 2022. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. PhD required. <https://csdp.princeton.edu/apply>

Each research associate will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs, and the Department of Politics. CSDP scholars are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events.

Successful candidates will receive a competitive salary and applicable Princeton University benefits in accordance with university guidelines, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, and the names of two (and not more than two) references. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this 2022-2023 postdoctoral research associate position must apply to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22462>. The deadline for receipt of complete applications is Wednesday, December 1, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. EST. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of the business day on Friday, December 3, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9417

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar/2022-2023 CSDP Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Visiting Research Scholar/Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP)

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks visiting scholars for the 2022-2023 academic year. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. Applications are welcome from political scientists and scholars in related social science disciplines. CSDP visiting scholar positions are restricted to employed scholars on leave who are expected to return to their position.

Each scholar will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs, and the Department of Politics. CSDP scholars are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events. Visiting scholars from academic institutions often receive up to one-half their academic-year salaries from their home institutions for the appointment period. The amount that Princeton contributes to the scholar's salary is based on the financial support provided by their home institution. Selected candidates will be asked to indicate, or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm, what percentage of financial support their home institution and other sources are likely to provide during their visit, if any, and to submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2022 - July 1, 2023) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary. Successful candidates will also receive applicable benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance.

Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Verification of employment will be requested prior to approval by the Dean of the Faculty. PhD or equivalent doctoral degree required. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, a brief statement of anticipated (estimated) salary support from the home institution for the 2021-2022 academic year, and statement of the home institution's leave policy. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this Visiting Research Scholar position for 2022-2023 should apply to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22461>. The deadline for receipt of complete applications is Wednesday, December 1, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. EST.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 9/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9418

Oakland University

Rank: Associate Professor of Political Science - Public Administration and MPA Director

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Oakland University invites applications for an Associate Professor of Political Science-Public Administration, to begin August 15, 2022. The successful candidate will also be appointed to an initial 3-year term as MPA Director. This position is eligible for renewal during the 3rd year of each 3-year appointment.

We seek a scholar in public and/or nonprofit administration, able to teach broadly across the discipline at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Human Resource Management and Program Evaluation are immediate instructional needs in our NASPAA-accredited program.

The MPA Director supervises a full-time program coordinator and two graduate assistants, and responsibilities include overseeing curriculum development, student recruitment, and managing part-time faculty in the MPA program. The MPA Director position carries with it a two-course administrative release and stipend each regular academic year (and thus an annual teaching load of three courses in a normal academic year). Candidates must demonstrate experience with or a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Minimum Qualifications:

A PhD with a specialization in Public Administration or related field, with the ability to teach at least two MPA core courses. A record of scholarly achievement commensurate with rank of appointment according to department and Oakland University standards.

School/College/Dept Summary:

Our MPA (established 1979) is the second-oldest NASPAA-accredited program in Michigan, with concentrations in Health Care, Local Government, Criminal Justice, Nonprofit Management, and Court Administration. The MPA program has recently launched a nonprofit management certificate program and strives to be a metropolitan, community-engaged hub for public service education & training.

Oakland University is a nationally recognized doctoral university of high research activity located on 1,443 acres of scenic land in the cities of Rochester Hills and Auburn Hills in Oakland County, Michigan. The University has 142 bachelor's degree programs and 138 graduate degree and certificate programs. Academics include programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Business Administration, School of Education and Human Services, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Medicine and School of Nursing. As an anchor institution in southeastern Michigan, Oakland University is committed to building ongoing and collaborative relationships with the surrounding communities. Community and civic engagement enhances the lives of our students and has a positive impact on our broader community.

Special Instructions:

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for at least three references to <https://jobs.oakland.edu/posting/22506>.

Candidates will also provide a Diversity Statement that describes their interest or efforts in furthering diversity and inclusion, consistent with the MPA program Diversity Philosophy: "The OU MPA Program is committed to creating a welcoming environment for all students, faculty, and staff. We will work to inculcate an awareness of the value of diversity and to impart the ability to interact respectfully and productively with all stakeholders in a variety of organizational settings, regardless of race, ethnicity, sex, class, nationality, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, age, and/or veteran status." Once all required application materials have been uploaded through the online system, references will be contacted with a link through which they can submit letters of recommendation. Review of materials will begin on November 19 and will continue until the position is filled.

Please address questions to Dr. Douglas Carr, Search Chair, via email: carr@oakland.edu.

Link: <https://jobs.oakland.edu/postings/22595>

OU COVID-19 VACCINATION POLICY

COVID-19 vaccinations are now required for all Oakland University students, faculty and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9395

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

American Politics

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure track professor (Assistant Professor) in American Politics. The Department's teaching and research interests include race and ethnic politics, inequality, and representation. The position will start in Fall 2022 and is pending final budgetary approval.

The successful candidate will teach graduate and undergraduate courses and maintain an active, theoretically-oriented research agenda.

Basic Qualifications: Applicants must have an active, theoretically-oriented research agenda as evidenced by working papers or publications, and be able to teach graduate and undergraduate courses as indicated by research presentations and/or teaching assessments. The Department expects applicants to have strong substantive and methodological training, as demonstrated by completed coursework. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. ABDs will be considered but must have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. by the date of appointment.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/86028> and upload a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching/research interest (including a summary of teaching evaluations, if available), and samples of written work. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs_AP@gwu.edu. Review of applications will begin on 10/20/2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

The university and department have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply.

Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 10/20/2021

Date Posted: 9/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9382

California State University, San Bernardino

Rank: Assistant Professor

California State University, San Bernardino (CSUSB) is located in San Bernardino in the Inland Empire, 60 miles east of Los Angeles and operates a satellite campus in Palm Desert located in Coachella Valley. CSUSB serves approximately 20,000 students, of which 81% are first-generation college students and graduates about 5,000 students annually. As a designated Hispanic Serving Institution, CSUSB reflects the dynamic diversity of the region and has one of the most diverse student populations of any university in the Inland Empire, and the second highest Hispanic enrollment of all public universities in California. CSUSB employs 467 full-time faculty and offers 48 undergraduate, 35 graduate, and one doctoral degree programs and 14 academic programs with national accreditation.

At CSUSB, diversity, equity and inclusion are values central to our mission. We recognize that diversity and inclusion in all its forms are necessary for our institutional success. By fully leveraging our diverse experiences, backgrounds and insights, we inspire innovation, challenge the status quo and create better outcomes for our students and community. As part of CSUSB's commitment to hire, develop and retain a diverse faculty, we offer a variety of networking, mentoring and development programs for our junior faculty. We are committed to building and sustaining a CSUSB community that is supportive and inclusive of all individuals. Qualified applicants with experience in ethnically diverse settings and/or who demonstrate a commitment to serving diverse student populations are strongly encouraged to apply. CSUSB has received the Carnegie Community Engagement Classification, which recognizes CSUSB's ongoing commitment to service-learning, a high-impact practice that combines classroom instruction with meaningful volunteer service and correlates strongly to student success.

JOB SUMMARY

The Department of Political Science seeks applicants for a tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of Constitutional Law, including civil liberties and civil rights, and American Politics, including political institutions and public policy, to begin in the Fall Semester of 2022. A Ph.D. is required at the time of appointment. We expect successful candidates for this tenure-track position to teach courses in Constitutional Law and American Politics. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach lower-division American Government courses. In addition, the candidate may be asked to teach graduate courses. The successful candidate will produce scholarly research and provide service to the university and community.

TYPICAL ACTIVITIES

Preferred candidates will be expected to meet the traditional requirements of excellence in teaching, active scholarly and professional work, mentoring a diverse student population, and service to the university and community.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must hold Ph.D. in Political Science or related field at time of employment and demonstrate evidence of teaching and research promise.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Following a conditional offer of employment, a background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate may start work with CSUSB. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may result in the withdrawal of the offer of employment. Note: CSUSB cannot deny an applicant a position solely or in part due to a criminal conviction history until it has performed an individualized assessment and linked the relevant conviction history with specific job duties in the position being sought. Please note: Current employees who are offered positions on campus will be required to undergo a background check for any position where a background check is required by law or that CSUSB has designated as sensitive. Sensitive positions are those requiring heightened scrutiny of individuals holding the position based on potential for harm to children, concerns for the safety and security of people, animals, or property, or heightened risk of financial loss to CSUSB or individuals in the university community.

For health and well-being, CSUSB is a smoke & tobacco-free campus. The university is committed to promoting a healthy environment for all members of our community.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

To find out more about the Department of Political Science:

<http://csbs.csusb.edu/political-science>.

For more information regarding the position, please contact:

Recruitment Chair
Dr. Meredith Conroy
(909) 537-5414
mconroy@csusb.edu

Department Chair
Dr. Scot Zentner
(909) 537-5480
zentner@csusb.edu

HOW TO APPLY

Please submit

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Cover Letter that includes:
 - a. A statement of your teaching interest/philosophy
 - b. A statement of your research experience/plans
3. If available, evidence of teaching effectiveness such as teaching portfolios, reports on teaching observations, and/or student evaluations of teaching.
4. Unofficial copies of all postsecondary degree transcripts (official transcripts will be required prior to appointment).
5. Reference List - names, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three (3) referees whom we may contact to obtain letters of recommendation. Confidential letters of recommendation will be solicited from those listed as references on the application if the applicant is moved forward in the recruitment process. Non-confidential letters of recommendation can be uploaded by the applicant during the application process.
6. Diversity Statement, which may include your interpretation of diversity, equity and inclusion, and must include specific examples of how your background and your educational and/or professional experiences have prepared you for this role at California State University, San Bernardino (maximum 1,000 words).

Formal review of applications will begin November 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

If you are interested in this opportunity, we invite you to apply by using this CSU Recruitment hyperlink at:

<https://careers.csusb.edu/en-us/job/504586/assistant-professor-department-of-political-science>

Salary is commensurate with experience.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

California State University, San Bernardino is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status. This position adheres to CSU policies against Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, and Sexual Violence, including Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking. This requires completion of Sexual Violence Prevention Training within 6 months of assuming employment and on a two-year basis thereafter. (Executive Order 1096)

This position may be "Designated" under California State University's Conflict of Interest Code. This would require the filing of a Statement of Economic Interest on an annual basis and the completion of training within 6 months of assuming office and every 2 years thereafter. Visit the Human Resources Conflict of Interest webpage link for additional information:

<https://www.csusb.edu/human-resources/current-employees/employee-relations/conflict-interest>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9371

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Part Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science

Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year Spring 2022

CSUN's Commitment to You:

CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: <http://www.csun.edu>

About the College:

For information about the College, visit our website at: <https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences>

About the Department:

For information about the department, visit our website at: <https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science>

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:

Instructors for in-person Washington, D.C.-based classes in support of the CSUN in DC Internship Program. Specific classes are listed below. Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Current Salary Range:

Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)
Paid in 6 monthly installments

Courses or Specialization:

Upper division courses in:

1. POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
2. POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
3. POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
4. POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Qualifications:

Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy or must have at least 10 years of professional experience working in government, politics, non-profit management, or advocacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in their field.

University teaching experience is strongly preferred.

A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Application Process:

Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:

For Spring 2022: November 8, 2021

(Checklist)PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:

- POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
- POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
- POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
- POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:

Dr. Tom Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street
Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

General Information:

In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/8/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9338

Harvard University

Rank: Fellow-in-Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics at Harvard University invites applications from a broad range of researchers and practitioners who will work over the course of the year on pressing issues in ethics. Faculty in arts and sciences and professional schools, postdoctoral scholars, practitioners, and researchers from industry, government, and NGOs are eligible to apply.

For the 2022-23 academic year, the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics will continue its focus on the theme of "A New Social Compact?" Variations in national responses to the pandemic; disparate experiments with technology, economic, and health policies; and conflicts over foundational political institutions have thrown into stark relief different conceptions of the social compact (a phrase we use loosely to refer to shared understandings of what members of societies believe they owe to each other) around the world. Myriad challenges - including challenges relating to education, climate and the natural environment, migration, new technologies, public health, elections, racial justice, and economic well-being - call us to revisit and evaluate existing conceptions of the social compact at both national and global levels. We ask, is it time for a new social compact?

We invite applications connected to any dimension of this broad field of inquiry. We see the nature of the questions raised and the challenges to be addressed as so multifaceted as to make this theme not very restrictive; however, in our usual fashion, we will also consider applications that fall outside the parameters of this thematic description. All eligible applicants are encouraged to apply. Priority will be given to early career scholars and practitioners.

Fellows-in-Residence will be expected to devote the majority of their time to their individual projects and to participate in regular work-in-progress seminars. In addition, Fellows are strongly encouraged to participate in the Center's programming, which includes public lectures, themed seminars and reading groups, conferences, workshops, and lunch discussions.

This Fellowship is intended to be residential. With the exception of travel to conferences and meetings, Fellows are expected to be in residence in the Boston area at least four working days per week during the term. The coronavirus pandemic resulted in a waiver of this requirement for the 2020-21 academic year. 2021-22 will be a transitional year, and our hope is to resume in-person, fully residential programming for the 2022-23 academic year.

In addition, the Center offers the possibility of joint fellowship opportunities with the following centers; potential affiliations are arranged on a case-by-case basis:

Berkman Klein Center for Internet and Society at Harvard University
Carr Center for Human Rights at the Harvard Kennedy School
Center for Bioethics at the Harvard Medical School
Center for Research on Computation and Society at the Harvard John A. Paulson School of Engineering and Applied Sciences
Hutchins Center for African & African American Research at Harvard University
Petrie-Flom Center for Health Law Policy, Biotechnology and Bioethics at the Harvard Law School

Applicants will be invited to indicate on the application form whether they wish to be considered for a joint fellowship position with one of these Centers. If selected, the joint fellowship will offer access to development opportunities and programming at the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics and the partnering center.

ELIGIBILITY

Applicants must have a PhD, professional degree, or a minimum of 5 years of equivalent professional experience. Applicants from any discipline or professional field will be considered. Those who have previously held a yearlong residential Fellowship at the Center are not eligible; this limitation does not apply to former Undergraduate Fellows or former Graduate Fellows. The Fellows-in-Residence Program runs the course of the academic year, typically from the beginning of September through the end of May, and is open to all applicants who meet the above criteria, regardless of citizenship.

STIPEND

Faculty:

We offer a stipend of one-half of your base academic year salary, up to $75,000, and a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Post-Doc:

The stipend for post-doctoral fellows will be $60,000 for 2022-23. We also provide a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Practitioner:

Practitioner stipends are determined on a case-by-case basis, commensurate with experience, up to a maximum of $75,000, and a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

To apply, complete an online application form which includes submission of the following in .pdf, .doc, or .docx form:

Cover letter stating your background and interest in the Fellows-in-Residence Program at the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics
CV
Research proposal
Recent writing sample

Please note: Name and contact information for three professional references will be requested, but no letters will be accepted at this stage.

The deadline to submit an application is November 15, 2021, with decisions likely in February 2022. Please note that the application form will be saved automatically while in progress, but no edits or alterations will be allowed once you have submitted the application. Please direct questions regarding this application process to EJSafraFellowships@fas.harvard.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/15/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9330

Pepperdine University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: American Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Social Science Division of the Seaver College of Letters, Arts, and Sciences at Pepperdine University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in Political Science to begin Fall 2022. We are open to various areas of expertise within the field of U.S. politics, but prefer candidates who are able to teach an introductory course and other classes in U.S. politics that include the politics of racialized minorities, broadly construed. We are open to a wide range of methodologies, including historical, ethnographic, interpretive, and quantitative approaches. Qualifications include a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field, an active scholarly agenda, and a commitment to excellent teaching in a Christian liberal arts environment.

Applicants must have an active commitment to the Christian values of the University and the mission of Seaver College and provide a thoughtful reflection on their willingness to support the mission in their application materials. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich the diversity of our faculty and who are committed to supporting an inclusive educational environment.

Applicants should apply by clicking on <https://apply.interfolio.com/94571>. Review of applicants will begin November 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. A background check will be required as a condition of employment.

Applications should include the documents listed below:

- A cover letter.
- A curriculum vitae, indicating educational record, employment record, achievements, awards, publications, and other relevant information. Please also describe any civic, religious, or charitable interests and activities, and list all current organizational memberships.
- Three confidential letters of reference (an email address for each referral will be requested in the application).
- Official transcripts of all graduate work (unofficial copies are acceptable for the application; however, official transcripts will be required for selected applicants).
- Teaching philosophy statement, which may focus on your motivation to teach at the university level and your thoughts about what constitutes effective pedagogy.
- A statement detailing the candidate's scholarly agenda, which may focus on your current area of emphasis and plans for professional development.
- A thoughtful reflection on the University's Christian mission. The University mission states that Pepperdine University is a Christian university committed to the highest standards of academic excellence and Christian values, where students are strengthened for lives of purpose, service, and leadership. In your statement, please comment on your willingness to support the mission of Seaver College and Christian values of the University including your involvement in a local community of faith and how your faith relates to your teaching, professional, and/or intellectual life.
- Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness (if available). Candidates selected for interviews will be asked to supply evidence of teaching effectiveness (such as student evaluations of teaching) where possible.

This institution is using Interfolio's Faculty Search to conduct this search. Applicants to this position receive a free Dossier account and can send all application materials, including confidential letters of recommendation, free of charge.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9341

University of Texas at El Paso

Rank: American Politics/American Political Behavior

The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professor or associate professor in American Politics focused on Political Behavior beginning fall of 2022. As a Carnegie R1 university, we seek scholars with a strong research agenda, and a successful candidate will help to continue UTEP's strong tradition of providing under-represented students with access to a quality education and facilitating their success in professional careers. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and graduate courses in American Politics. The ability to teach courses in research methods (graduate and undergraduate) is desirable. Our needs in American politics are broad and can include a focus in: political behavior (broadly defined), race & ethnic politics, gender politics, public opinion, media and politics, Congress, and public policy. A strong record of peer-reviewed publications will ultimately be required for tenure.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science. ABD applicants near completion will be considered. The degree must be completed by the time of appointment. Candidates must show promise of excellence in research and teaching to be considered; evidence of excellence in research and teaching is preferred.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants applying at the assistant professor level must submit a curriculum vita, letter of interest, graduate transcripts, evidence of teaching quality (sample syllabi/statement of teaching philosophy), article/chapter length writing sample, and three letters of recommendation. Applicants applying at the associate level must submit a curriculum vita, letter of interest, evidence of teaching quality (sample syllabi/statement of teaching philosophy), article/chapter length writing sample, and the names and contact information of at least three recommenders.

Please submit materials at <https://utep.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=136655>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/13/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9325

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in Political Science (with a concentration in American Politics). This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate political science courses in American Politics; teaching master's degree courses in our public administration (MPA) program, which will be delivered in person as well as online; and advising pre-law students. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is August 1, 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9313

Rutgers University, New Brunswick

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, Africana Studies and Political Science

The Departments of Africana Studies and Political Science at Rutgers University-New Brunswick seek to hire a nationally recognized scholar in the field of the politics of race at the Associate or Full Professor level, to begin September 1, 2022. We welcome candidates with an outstanding and sustained record of research, teaching, and mentorship. Research and teaching interests should include African American engagements with political institutions such as Congress, the presidency, state and local government, urban politics, and political parties; political rhetoric; social movements; and African American politics. We particularly welcome candidates specializing in the diverse factors shifting the landscape for African American politics in recent decades. We encourage candidates who engage in public discourse of their research beyond formal academic circles, though this is not required. The successful candidate's tenure home will be in Africana Studies, with a partial appointment in Political Science, and with teaching and service responsibilities divided between the two Departments. The candidate will be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate level courses in the general field of the politics of race. PhD degree in Africana Studies, Political Science or related field required by position start date of September 1, 2022.

As one of 34 public US institutions that belong to the Association of American Universities, Rutgers is among the leading research universities in the US and Canada. Rutgers University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, with a historic commitment to diversity. The Africana Studies and Political Science Departments are strongly committed to increasing the diversity of our faculty. Women, minorities, and members of under-represented groups are encouraged to apply. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability, protected veteran status or any other classification protected by law.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three references to: <http://jobs.rutgers.edu/postings/140961>

Review of applicants will begin on October 30, 2021 and will continue until the job is filled. All job offers are contingent upon successful pre-employment background screening prior to commencement of employment.

Questions about the position can be directed to search committee members, Professor Kira Sanbonmatsu (sanbon@rutgers.edu), Professor Stacey Greene (sag310@polisci.rutgers.edu), or to Political Science Department Chair Professor R. Daniel Kelemen (dkelemen@polisci.rutgers.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9286

University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth

Rank: Full Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

The University of Massachusetts Dartmouth seeks a full-time lecturer with a strong record in undergraduate teaching and expertise at the intersection of public health, public policy, non-profit/public administration, and health disparities (gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, class, or other areas). Cross-listed courses will support interdisciplinary undergraduate programs in Women and Gender Studies, Health and Society, and Political Science. Initial appointment is for a 2-year contract, with strong possibility for ongoing contract renewal upon successful performance review of teaching, advising, and service.

Applicants must be authorized for employment in the U.S. on a full time basis. Employment-based visa sponsorship not available.

Starting date is September 1, 2022. The teaching load is 4 preparations per semester for courses across all levels of the curriculum. On-line teaching experience preferred.

Requirements: PhD in Political Science, or in a related social science field. The successful applicant will have a focus on the intersections between public health, public health related policy, non-profit/public administration, and health disparities (gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation/identity, class) and have demonstrated significant experience in undergraduate teaching. Ph.D. required by start date of Sept. 1, 2022; preferred that applicants have Ph.D. in hand by date of application.

To apply: Please send a letter of interest detailing teaching interests and qualifications, a curriculum vitae with contact information for three references, sample course syllabi, and course evaluations (if possible, evaluations should be pre-COVID). Please submit application materials via this link: <http://careers.umassd.edu/dartmouth/en-us/job/507850/fulltime-lecturer-in-public-healthpublic-policy-gender-health>

Completion of the search is contingent upon the availability of funding.

Formal review of applications begins October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9270

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: African American Politics, American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

Assistant Professor in Black Politics and/or Indigenous Politics

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Black politics and/or Indigenous politics that is anticipated to begin in the fall of 2022. We seek a scholar specializing in Black politics and/or Indigenous politics who will contribute to the research fields of American politics, comparative politics, international relations, and/or research methods in POIR. The scholar will also contribute to the department's strengths in race, ethnicity, and politics.

A strong commitment to research and undergraduate and graduate education is expected. The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

To be considered, applicants must submit an electronic application by following this link: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-black-politics-and-or-indigenous-politics/1209/13611949936>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9277

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Assistant Professor in Political Institutions

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in political institutions that is anticipated to begin in the fall of 2022. We seek a scholar specializing in political institutions. Subfield specialization could be in American politics, comparative politics, international relations, and/or research methods.

A strong commitment to research is expected. The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

To be considered, applicants must submit an electronic application by following this link: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-political-institutions/1209/13635024640>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9278

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2022. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2023, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Dr. David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 5L-27, US Air Force Academy

CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to David.Sacko@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2021 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 10/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/31/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9249

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master's degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department's required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at <https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/>. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site <http://apply.interfolio.com/86435> in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values. Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9243

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor, Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established nine interdisciplinary clusters to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy, from a policy or social science perspective, and plan to hire one tenure-earning assistant professor for this cluster. This position has an anticipated start date of August 8, 2022.

The Cybersecurity and Privacy Cluster is an interdisciplinary initiative, bringing together researchers from across the campus and working on addressing the pressing questions of our national security from engineering, science, and social perspectives. The cluster currently has eight members, collectively advising more than 35 doctoral students, and embracing a strong culture of collaboration and teamwork. The cluster runs various well-funded programs, has developed and implemented a new interdisciplinary M.S. in Cybersecurity and Privacy, and was recently selected by the National Science Foundation to be a host institution for the prestigious Scholarship for Service Program.

This is an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department and may include a combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal candidate will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. In particular, we are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy, and someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, addressing the policy, regulatory or social science aspects with a focus on one or more of the following topics: a) privacy laws and regulation; b) social media; c) cybercrimes; d) cyberwarfare; e) cyber security and intelligence. With this in mind, we anticipate the selected candidate will be tenure-earning in one of, but not limited to, the following units: Criminal Justice; Legal Studies; Modeling, Simulation, and Training; Politics, Security, and International Affairs; or Sociology.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 70,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation.

UCF's Orlando main campus location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to the UCF main campus is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies, UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training and UCF's new School of Modeling, Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the state of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school which was established in 2006 and is a neighbor to large corporations such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about one of UCF's newest endeavors, the exciting Faculty Cluster Initiative, at <https://www.ucf.edu/faculty/faculty-research-clusters>.

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents to be submitted electronically through the Human Resources website, www.ucf.edu/jobs/. No paper or emailed applications or materials will be considered.

In addition to the online application, interested candidates must attach the following materials to their application:

1) A Diversity Statement:

UCF has a diverse student body and community, and we are committed to meeting the needs of this community. Please tell us about your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, in the context of a faculty-student setting and as a colleague, as well as future plans to advance these contributions. Such indicators of commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion may be demonstrated through scholarship, teaching, mentioning, service and engagement.

2) A Cover Letter:

In the cover letter candidates must address their background in research and scholarship in the area in cyber security and privacy as related to policy and regulatory aspects and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home, as well as any joint appointments they would desire.

3) Curriculum Vitae,

4) Teaching Statement,

5) Research Statement, and

6) Contact information for three professional references (include email address and telephone number).

NOTE: Please have all application documents ready when applying so they can be attached at that time. Once the online submission process is finalized, the system does not allow applicants to submit additional documents at a later date.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure consideration before the position is closed, the application should be submitted promptly.

Questions regarding this search can be directed to the cluster lead and search committee chair, Dr. David Mohaisen, at mohaisen@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9222

Bowdoin College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Latino Politics

As part of a larger multi-year cohort initiative, the Bowdoin College Department of Government and Legal Studies seeks applicants for a full-time tenure-track position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, pending final approval. The position would begin July 1, 2022. We expect to hire at the rank of assistant professor but will consider applications from candidates at all levels. A PhD in political science or a related field is required by the start of this appointment. Research and teaching on U.S. politics is preferred, but a focus on other areas of the Americas will be considered. Teaching load is two courses per semester, across all levels of the curriculum.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful scholarly or artistic engagement and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource <https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive>.) Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals.

Bowdoin is a community that warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the support of an inclusive campus community and those who will enrich and contribute to the College's multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu> to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a description of your research plans; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion (<https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive>); and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021 and continue until the search is concluded.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland and 2+ hours north of Boston -- connected to Boston and beyond by public transportation -- the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (35% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 15% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: <http://www.bowdoin.edu>. For additional information about the Department of Government and Legal Studies, see <https://www.bowdoin.edu/government/> or contact department chair Andrew Rudalevige (arudalev@bowdoin.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9201

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American/comparative politics or public policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

JOB SUMMARY: The Department of Political Science at Middle Georgia State University (<https://www.mga.edu/political-science>) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in political science, with a specialization in American politics, comparative politics, or public policy, at the rank of assistant professor, to be primarily based on the Cochran campus. This is a 10-month position with a teaching load of 12 credit hours per semester (4-4) of undergraduate courses in political science, typically including multiple sections of the introductory American Government course, as well as more advanced undergraduate courses in political science in the candidate's area of specialization.

MAJOR DUTIES: Teaching responsibilities may include day and/or evening courses, partially and fully online courses, and courses taught via video conferencing; faculty are also expected to travel to teach and attend meetings at other campus locations when needed. Tenure-track faculty are expected to have an active scholarly agenda, including publication in peer-reviewed outlets; student advising and service to the department, school, university, and community are also expected for promotion and tenure. Summer teaching opportunities may also be available, contingent on student demand.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates should have earned a doctorate in political science, or a doctorate in related field including at least 18 semester hours of graduate coursework in political science, from a regionally-accredited institution; ABD candidates will only be considered if they will earn their doctorate by January 1, 2022. Experience as an instructor of record, demonstrated expertise in American politics or comparative politics, and/or the ability to contribute to one or more of the minors offered by the department are desirable. Candidates must have a record of teaching and potential for scholarship that warrants appointment at the rank of assistant professor.

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications accepted until the position is filled; we expect to begin reviewing complete applications the week of September 13, 2021.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Informal inquires about the position may be made to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, Chair of the Department of Political Science at Christopher.lawrence@mga.edu.

TO APPLY: Application materials should be emailed as one PDF attachment to recruitment@mga.edu with the subject line "10018053 Assistant Professor of Political Science 8.24.2021". Application materials must include (1) an MGA faculty application, (2) a letter of interest, (3) a curriculum vitae, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) names and contact information of three references, and (6) unofficial transcripts. Paper application materials will not be accepted.

Background checks will be conducted on all final candidates.

Start Date: Winter 2022

Application Deadline: 9/13/2021

Date Posted: 8/24/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9208

Lafayette College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Law at Lafayette College invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor commencing July 1, 2022. The Department seeks candidates with research and teaching expertise in race and ethnic politics in the U.S. Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science (or closely-related field) or demonstrate the Ph.D. is near completion. A candidate hired at the ABD level would hold the rank of Instructor. The successful candidate will teach Introduction to U.S. Politics, as well as intermediate and advanced courses in race, ethnicity, and minority politics. The successful candidate will also be expected to make a contribution to the College's interdisciplinary programs and maintain an active research agenda. The department especially welcomes applications from candidates who will contribute to Lafayette's commitment to diversity and inclusion. The teaching load is four courses in the first year and five courses a year thereafter.

Applications should include a letter of intent that contains a statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly interests, curriculum vitae, sample of scholarly work, graduate school transcript, evidence of teaching ability (including, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations), and three letters of recommendation. In the letter of intent, applicants should address the ways in which their teaching, scholarship, and/or community engagement will support Lafayette College's commitment to diversity and inclusion articulated in the college's diversity statement (<https://diversity.lafayette.edu/diversity-statement/>).

Please upload application material electronically through Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/92750. Review of applications will begin on September 20, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Helena Silverstein, Department Head, at silversh@lafayette.edu.

Lafayette College is committed to creating a diverse community, one that is inclusive and responsive, and is supportive of each and all of its faculty, students, and staff. All members of the College community share a responsibility for creating, maintaining, and developing a learning environment in which difference is valued, equity is sought, and inclusiveness is practiced. Lafayette College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages applications from women and minorities. Located within 70 miles of New York and Philadelphia, Lafayette College is a highly selective undergraduate institution with significant resources to support faculty members in their teaching and scholarship.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9198

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Political Parties & Organizations, Political Development, Race & Ethnic Politics

Assistant Professor, Political Science

Category: Faculty RSS feed of all Jobs

Department: Political Science - 02511

Locations: ALBANY, NY

Posted: Aug 16, 2021

Closes: Open Until Filled

Type: Full-time

Ref. No.: P21-22341

Position ID: 135261

About University at Albany:

Established in 1844 and designated a University Center of the State University of New York in 1962, the University at Albany's broad mission of excellence in undergraduate and graduate education, research, and public service engages a diverse student body of more than 17,900 students in nine schools and colleges across three campuses.

Located in Albany, New York, New York State's capital, the University is convenient to Boston, New York City, and the Adirondacks.

Job Description:

Rockefeller College of Public Affairs seeks an Assistant Professor in the field of American Politics. This is a tenure-track appointment in the Department of Political Science. The course load is four courses a year. The department's priority is a scholar of electoral politics/campaigns and/or the American presidency/executive politics. The ability to teach other subjects in American Politics, such as Racial and Ethnic Politics, Political Parties, and/or American Political Development will be considered a plus. The department also expects that the successful applicant will teach the introductory course in American Politics. Although not a requirement of the position, the search committee will look favorably at candidates who are willing to pursue external funding for their research. Contributing to the diversity of the Department will also be considered a plus. Candidates should also be willing to teach courses in online formats when specific needs arise.

Located in a major governmental center, the Department has 21 full-time members and offers degrees at the bachelor's, master's, and doctoral levels. The University at Albany (www.albany.edu) is one of four designated University Centers in the SUNY system.

Requirements:

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. from a college or University accredited by a U.S. Department of Education or an internationally recognized accrediting organization. Applicants should have their Ph.D. in hand by May 2022.

Ability to teach other subjects in American politics, such as Racial and Ethnic Politics, Political Parties, and/or American Political Development will be considered a plus Applicants must address in their applications their ability to work with a culturally diverse population.

Preferred Qualification:

Willingness to pursue external funding for their research

Additional Information:

Professional Rank and Salary Range: Assistant Professor, Competitive

Starting date is August 22, 2022.

The review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link <http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml>

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=135261>

Application Instructions:

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

Curriculum Vitae

A Statement of Interest

A writing sample or publication

Available evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, student evaluations, and/or teaching statement)

A graduate transcript

At least three references with contact information

Note: After submitting your CV, the subsequent pages give you instructions for uploading additional documents (i.e. cover letter etc.).

See the FAQ for using our online system. Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website.

Returning Applicants - Login to your UAlbany Careers Account to check your completed application.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9199

Bentley University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative race and ethnicity. We seek applications from scholar-teachers who focus on race and ethnicity in comparative, transnational or global perspective, with at least one area of specialization in the United States.

Our department is multidisciplinary, built around a core of faculty from cultural studies, geography, and political science. We welcome candidates from any discipline, including but not limited to anthropology, geography, and political science, to complement and deepen existing strengths. While the position is open with respect to further thematic specializations, we are particularly interested in candidates whose work contributes to understanding the intersectionality of race and ethnicity with sustainability, health, development, immigration/migration, or public policy, preferably through comparativist lenses.

As guided by our Academic Affairs Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion Strategic Plan, Bentley University seeks to enhance our faculty capacity in the scholarship, pedagogy, and engagement related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. To achieve that, we are hiring a cohort of new faculty in multiple academic departments and disciplines with expertise in DEI. This position is intended to be part of our DEI faculty cohort, which will enrich our DEI expertise across Business and the Liberal Arts & Sciences. Learn more about Bentley University's DEI strategic plan here: https://issuu.com/bentleyuniversity/docs/dei_strategic_plan_presentation_1_.pptx

We seek a candidate whose teaching and scholarship will contribute to one or both of our undergraduate departmental majors in international affairs and public policy, and someone who can amplify our department's commitment to anti-racism. Black, indigenous, and Latinx faculty, as well as faculty from other underrepresented groups, are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a continuing research agenda focused on publication and a strong dedication to excellence in teaching, with preference for candidates with classroom teaching experience. We especially welcome candidates who bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the classroom. Incoming tenure-track faculty typically have a 2-2 teaching load.

The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor rank for a Fall 2022 start.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed prior to the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Instructions to Applicants:

Applicants submit all materials through Bentley's on-line employment site at: https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty/job/Bentley-Campus/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Professor--Global-Studies_R0002083.

Applicants should submit the following materials:

1. A cover letter that summarizes overall strengths, including the nature of the candidate's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
2. A Curriculum vitae.
3. A teaching statement of no more than two pages.
4. A research statement of no more than two pages detailing the candidate's research strengths and plans for future research directions.
5. The names and contact information for three professional references. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Joni Seager at jseager@bentley.edu

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by September 27, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/27/2021

Date Posted: 8/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9196

University of Chicago

Rank: Provost's Postdoctoral Fellowship in Latinx Politics / Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for a Provost's Postdoctoral Fellowship in Latinx politics. While we are primarily interested in someone who studies Latinx politics within the United States, we welcome applications from scholars who also investigate these issues from a comparative or transnational perspective that includes a focus on the U.S. This fellowship provides up to two years of funding for junior scholars whose accomplishments make them exceptionally competitive for faculty positions and whose background or membership in historically underrepresented groups would contribute to the diversity of our faculty. Fellows will teach one course per year. At the end of the fellowship period and following an academic review, the Fellow may be directly promoted to a tenure-track assistant professorship.

Qualifications

Candidates must have completed all requirements for the PhD degree prior to the start of the appointment.

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago's Interfolio website at <http://apply.interfolio.com/92395>. Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant's prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing, and 6) three letters of reference.

To be considered, those interested must apply through The University of Chicago's Academic Recruitment job board, which uses Interfolio to accept applications.

Consideration of applications will begin on September 16, 2021. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

Start Date:Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/19/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9190Syracuse University*Rank: African American Studies Department ChairSubfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative PoliticsSpecializations: African American Politics, Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of African American Studies (<https://thecollege.syr.edu/african-american-studies/>) in Syracuse University's College of Arts & Sciences seeks a dynamic scholar to serve as Department Chair beginning Fall 2022. The successful candidate will possess a strong record of scholarship; teaching excellence; experience overseeing departmental administrative procedures and governance; demonstrated skill in collaborating with faculty on curricula and programming for undergraduate majors and minors and graduate students; and a commitment to community engagement.

Since gaining department status in 1979, African American Studies at SU has offered multi-disciplinary approaches to global studies of people of African descent. Unique departmental resources, such as the Martin Luther King, Jr. Library (<https://thecollege.syr.edu/diversity-and-inclusion/mlk-library/>) and the Community Folk Art Center (<https://communityfolkartcenter.org/>), have been integral to academic initiatives. Recent and pending faculty retirements have led to a critical juncture. The new chair will thus play a pivotal role in leading the department as it formulates strategic plans to engage changing social, political, cultural, technological, and pedagogical landscapes.

The position requires a Ph.D. with a principal research and teaching focus on aspects of Black life in the Americas, the Caribbean, Africa, or Europe. Scholars in any field of the humanities or social sciences are welcome to apply. Candidates who have met the standards for the rank of professor with tenure are preferred. However, full consideration will also be given to applications from advanced tenured associate professors. The teaching requirement during the three-year term as Department Chair will be one course per semester. At the end of the chair term, two courses per semester will be required.

Applications must include a current curriculum vitae; letter of interest; sample publication; diversity, equity, and inclusion statement; and three confidential recommendation letters. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The salary will be commensurate with qualifications.

To apply, visit Syracuse University Job Board, Department Chair/ Professor - African American Studies: <https://www.sujobops.com/postings/88268>

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/18/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9187Dartmouth College*Rank: Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty appointment at any rank in American Politics or Political Theory

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured faculty appointment at any rank. We seek qualified candidates whose research examines African American political thought, the political experiences of African Americans, and/or issues of race and racial injustice related to African Americans. The position includes the option of an affiliation with the Program in African and African American Studies (AAAS).

Applicants should have a strong commitment to teaching, scholarly work, engaging undergraduate students in research, and building a diverse and inclusive educational environment. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower-income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should discuss in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Philosophy, or a related discipline, or have the Ph.D. conferred before the start date of their appointment.

Application Instructions:

- 1) Cover letter, including overview of research areas and teaching interests. Applicants should also state in their cover letter, or in a separate statement, how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- 2) C.V.
- 3) Dissertation abstract or research statement (maximum two pages single-spaced)
- 4) Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which should be from the dissertation advisor (for ABD applicants)
- 5) Writing sample of 20-40 pages

Applications must be submitted electronically at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/92314>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Michelle.T.Clarke@dartmouth.edu or Jennifer.L.Jerit@dartmouth.edu.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 8/16/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9168

Moravian University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The political science department of Moravian University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the assistant professor level for a position starting Fall 2022.

Candidates must have completed a PhD or be ABD near completion in political science with a specialization in American politics by August 2022. Previous teaching experience is required. The successful applicant will be responsible for teaching introductory courses in US politics along with intermediate and advanced courses such as Congress and the presidency, constitutional law, civil rights, policy, and political culture. The political science department at Moravian University emphasizes engaged teaching and mentoring to prepare students for informed engagement in political and public affairs through a purposeful consideration of the theoretical nature of politics, the ends towards which politics can be directed, and the means employed to achieve those ends. Our citizenship in theory and practice track focuses on normative purposes and argumentation, political language and consciousness, historical texts, institutionalized political processes, modes of political participation, and the particulars of contemporary policy issues. The successful candidate may also contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, African Studies, Peace and Justice.

Moravian University is a member of the New American Colleges and Universities with a commitment to the liberal arts and student-focused pedagogy. Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching in a residential learning community and should demonstrate a commitment to undergraduate student research and co-curricular student activities. A clear plan for future scholarship is essential. The department also seeks a candidate who will contribute to the intellectual life of the department and the university community at large. The political science department highly values the diversity of candidates from underrepresented groups. Moravian University is located approximately an hour and a half driving distance from both Philadelphia and New York City.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

- 3:3 teaching load, with reassigned time as appropriate for administrative work and two preparations in the fall semester (two sections of introductory course)
- Advising students
- Occasionally teach in the First-Year Writing Seminar Program (FYWS)
- Sustain an active program of scholarly research in the area(s) of your expertise
- Produce peer-reviewed publications
- Participate in professional organizations and societies
- Complement existing faculty expertise in the four main subfields of political science
- Contribute to interdisciplinary research and teaching collaborations between the School of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and the School of Natural and Health Sciences
- Teach introductory, intermediate, and advanced political science courses
- Mentor undergraduate student research
- Participate and direct student Honor theses
- Participate and direct Student Opportunities for Academic Research (SOAR) Projects

Contribute to the University's commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community and participate in faculty self-governance with a high level of collegiality

Our department welcomes applications from women, candidates of color, and other underrepresented groups. The University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer.

The deadline for applications is December 15, 2021. All positions are subject to budget availability.

QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science with a specialization in American politics should be completed or near completion by August 2022.

TO APPLY: Qualified candidates should attach the following to their online application by clicking "Apply Now": (1) a cover letter that includes a statement of research interest; (2) a teaching statement including your approach to considering the global context of U.S. politics; (3) a statement addressing your approach to diversity, equity and inclusion; (4) a CV; (5) a graduate transcript; (6) a sample of scholarly writing; (7) two sample course syllabi; (8) two sets of course evaluations; (9) contact information, including email addresses, for three individuals who will provide letters of reference by December 15, 2021. Please attach documents as a single PDF file.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Khristina Haddad, chair of the political science department at haddadk@moravian.edu.

The application deadline is December 15, 2021; review of applications will begin immediately.

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

DEI Statement

Moravian University aspires to be a welcoming community that embraces and values the diversity of all members of the campus community. Learn more about the Office for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, and the DEI Action Plan here: <https://www.moravian.edu/dei-action-plan>.

Deep respect for others is fundamental to the Moravian University community. Moravian University does not discriminate against any person based on actual or perceived race, color, sex, religion, ancestry, genetic information, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, familial status, marital status, age, veteran status, disability, use of guide or support animals and/or mechanical aids, or any other basis protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws. In compliance with the requirements of Title IX, Moravian University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational program and activity, including employment.

Concerns regarding all forms of discrimination, including sexual harassment and/or sex discrimination in employment:

Leah M. Naso
Title IX Coordinator/Compliance Officer
210 Colonial Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018

(610) 861-1529
TitleIX@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding gender and equity in athletics:

Rebecca May
Assistant Athletic Director
148 Johnston Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018
(610) 625-7791
mayr@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding the application of Title IX:

U.S. Department of Education
Office of Civil Rights
100 Penn Square East, Suite 515
Philadelphia, PA 19107-3323
(215) 656-8541
ocr.philadelphia@ed.gov

Report sexual harassment/sex discrimination online anytime (can be anonymous) at www.moravian.edu/titleix. Grievance procedures can be found in the institutional Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Non-Discrimination Policy at www.moravian.edu/policy.

Please visit moravian.edu/benefits to review benefits offered at Moravian University.*

WORK ENVIRONMENT:

The work environment characteristics described here are representative of those encountered while performing the essential functions of this job.

The individual is routinely exposed to indoor conditions, minimum outdoor weather and temperature extremes, and moderate noise level.

Pursuant to the ADA, Moravian University will provide reasonable services and accommodation(s) to employees with qualified disabilities in order to perform the essential functions of their employment, except when doing so would be unduly disruptive and/or result in undue hardship to the University. Accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis through documentation review and an interactive interview process that includes the employee's supervisor. Requests for accommodation or questions about this process should be directed to Human Resources at hr@moravian.edu or 610.861.1527. View the standard physical demands for positions at Moravian University. If this position requires additional or different demands, a Human Resources team member will notify you.

The specific statements shown in each section of this description are not intended to be all-inclusive. They represent typical elements and criteria necessary to successfully perform the job.

*Please visit this link to review the benefit eligibility status associated with this position.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION Moravian University offers students a private education they will not find anywhere else: personal attention and preparation for life with a record of success longer than our nation's history. Located in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania and offering undergraduate and graduate degrees that blend liberal arts with professional programs, Moravian University has been preparing students for reflective lives, fulfilling careers, and transformative leadership in a world of change since 1742. Moravian University is a member of The New American Colleges and Universities (NAC&U), a national consortium of selective, small to mid-size independent colleges and universities dedicated to the purposeful integration of liberal education, professional studies, and civic engagement. Visit moravian.edu to learn more about how the Moravian University focus on education for all prepares its students for life-long success.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9171

Ohio State University

Rank: Race and Ethnicity in American Politics

Description: The Department of Political Science at the Ohio State University seeks to hire in Race and Ethnicity in American Politics. We particularly encourage applicants with innovative approaches to studying important democratic questions, including but not limited to the use of novel data, innovative methodologies or methods, original techniques for causal inference, and/or field or lab experiments, and they should show promise of making theoretical and methodological contributions. Candidates must show promise of excellence in research and teaching and potential for attracting external funding.

The successful candidate will join a collaborative faculty and college and have opportunities to build connections with strong departments, centers and institutes across the university, including the Kirwan Institute for the Study of Race and Ethnicity and the Institute for Population Research.

Qualifications: The successful candidate should have a PhD in political science or expect to have the degree in hand by August of 2022.

Appointment is contingent on the university's verification of credentials and other information required by law and/or university policies, including but not limited to a criminal background check.

About Columbus: The Ohio State University campus is located in Columbus, the capital city of Ohio. Columbus is the Midwest's fastest-growing city and the nation's 14th largest city. Columbus offers a diverse array of welcoming neighborhoods and a vibrant arts and culture scene. Additional information about all that the Columbus area has to offer is available at <https://visit.osu.edu/experience>.

Application Instructions: Apply to Academic Jobs Online at: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19160>. A complete application includes a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement, publication list, examples of research, other papers or chapters, unofficial graduate transcript, three reference letters (to be submitted by the reference writers at this site), and a diversity statement that addresses the candidate's past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance equity, diversity, and inclusion in their scholarship, teaching, and service.

Review of applications will begin on September 15th and will continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be directed to Janet Box-Steffensmeier at Box-Steffensmeier.1@osu.edu.

The Ohio State University is committed to establishing a culturally and intellectually diverse environment, encouraging all members reach their full potential. Over the next few years, The Ohio State University is committed to welcoming 350 new faculty hires, many of which will contribute to growing our role as a premier re-search university equipped to respond to societal challenges that deter equality and inclusion. We are responsive to dual-career families and strongly promote work-life balance to support our community members through a suite of institutionalized policies. The university is a member of the Ohio/Western Pennsylvania/West Virginia Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (HERC).

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or identity, national origin, disability status, or protected veteran status.

Application Materials Required:

Submit the following items online at this website:

- Cover Letter
- Curriculum Vitae
- Research Statement
- Teaching Statement
- Diversity Statement
- Publication List
- Job Market Paper
- Other papers or chapters
- Unofficial Graduate Transcript
- Three Reference Letters (to be submitted by the reference writers at this site)

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9169

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant Professor in Latinx Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Chicago invites applications for an Assistant Professor in Latinx politics. While we are primarily interested in someone who studies Latinx politics within the United States, we welcome applications from scholars who also investigate these issues from a comparative or transnational perspective that includes a focus on the U.S. Among the goals of this search is increasing the diversity of the faculty in the Department of Political Science, and we, therefore, welcome applicants from groups that are historically underrepresented in the academy.

Qualifications

Candidates must have completed all requirements for the PhD degree prior to the start of the appointment.

Application Instructions

Applicants must apply at the University of Chicago's Interfolio website at <http://apply.interfolio.com/92390>. Applications must include: 1) a cover letter that, among other things, describes the applicant's prior and potential contributions to diversity in the context of academic research, teaching, and service; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a research statement addressing current research and future plans for research; 4) a teaching statement addressing teaching experience and philosophy; 5) two samples of scholarly writing, and 6) three letters of reference.

To be considered, those interested must apply through The University of Chicago's Academic Recruitment job board, which uses Interfolio to accept applications.

Review of applications will begin on September 16, 2021. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9189

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Teaching Post-Doctoral Fellow in Political Science and Public Policy

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Education Policy, Economic Policy

The Heinz College of Information Systems and Public Policy at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position. The teaching post-doctoral fellowship is designed for those who are interested in a teaching career. They will be mentored by outstanding teaching faculty at CMU and will benefit from the rich inter-disciplinary environment at CMU.

We seek candidates that have expertise and could offer courses to graduate students in American politics and/or in selected policy areas including, but not limited to environment and energy, local and/or national economic development, education, and social justice. We are seeking an individual committed to effectively training our graduate students to be leaders that affect meaningful change by inculcating evidence-based practices to policy evaluation and decision-making, as well as the ability to synthesize and communicate recommendations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach and/or co-teach up to two semester equivalent courses per semester. Fellows can pursue research related to their interests and are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of the College and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2021.

The application deadline is Monday, February 14, 2022.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/90675>

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program.
- CV.

- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach) and a discussion any relevant experience in teaching a globally and culturally diverse group of intellectually curious students.
- Research Statement (Brief statement of research interests and a discussion of how it supports excellence in the classroom)
- Two writing samples of scholarly work.
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 2/14/2022

Date Posted: 8/9/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9132

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Government and Foreign Affairs at Hampden-Sydney College is seeking applicants for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position beginning August 2022. The successful candidate must possess a background in American political thought and be able to teach Public Policy, Interest Groups, and Parties and Elections, as well as Introductory American Government. The ability to teach courses in other areas of American government, as well as the College's Western Culture course, is desirable; expertise in research methods is a plus. Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Effective teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, willingness to engage in community service, and a dedication to student success, are all qualities required of a successful candidate. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment.

We will be available for informal interviews on Friday and Saturday, October 1st and 2nd. If you would like to discuss the position with us, please request a time using the email for the point of contact below.

All applicants must submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of reference. Please submit all application materials to GVFA Search Committee c/o Professor Celia Carroll, Department of Government and Foreign Affairs, Hampden-Sydney College via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/91794>. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9121

Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other
Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2022. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu.

Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website <https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu/postings/3166>. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college's commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 24, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by September 24, 2021.

Wheaton is a private coeducational liberal arts college within easy commuting distance of Boston and Providence. We have nearly 1,800 undergraduates from 38 U.S. States and 58 countries. Nearly 24% of our undergraduates are U.S. students of color and 8% are international citizens. Wheaton College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group on the basis of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, race, color, religion, national origin, veteran status, genetic information, or disability. In a continuing effort to maintain and enrich an intellectually diverse learning environment, the Department and the College actively encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups. For more information about the college, visit our website at www.wheatoncollege.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9118

University of Portland

Rank: Assistant Professor American Politics (Tenure Track)

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Political Development, Political Economy

The Department of Political Science and Global Affairs (POL) at the University of Portland invites candidates in the field of American (US) Politics to apply for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position with a start date of August 2022. The successful candidate must have a Ph.D. in hand by the start date, and will have expertise in American Political Development and Political Institutions or equivalent. A commitment to undergraduate teaching is essential, ideally supported by past evidence of effective teaching. The typical teaching load is 3-3, with a single course release in the first year.

In addition to teaching sections of our introductory core course, Introduction to US Politics, the successful candidate will also offer upper-division undergraduate courses on American political institutions and other courses within the candidate's academic specialty. Candidates that have expertise in Race and Politics, Public Policy, or Political Economy are of particular interest to our department. Demonstration of scholarship and a scholarly agenda are also expected and should be included in the cover letter. This position is part of a cluster hire and the successful candidate may also have the opportunity to be involved with the emerging ethnic studies program.

The College of Arts and Science (CAS) is committed to diversifying our curriculum and our faculty. The successful candidate will have demonstrated knowledge, skills, and/or lived experience, in diversity, equity, and inclusion work within or transferable to higher education. Examples of such commitment include, but are not limited to, a record of working with underrepresented and underserved populations, life experience that reflects the growing diversity of UP students, and/or experience, education, and training that can empower and support historically marginalized community members. Commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion should be described in the teaching statement. Information about the University of Portland's DEI mission can be found here.

Founded in 1901, the University of Portland is a private, comprehensive, Catholic university with a mission of teaching and learning, faith and formation, service and leadership. In the POL department, we see our work developing the whole person and preparing people who respond to the needs of the world and its human family as aligning with the University's mission. Candidates will articulate their understanding of the university mission in their cover letter and highlight how it is compatible with their approach to teaching, scholarship, and service.

A complete application will include a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a teaching statement, and a list of three references (references will only be contacted for the finalists).

A background investigation is required before final hiring procedures can be completed for all faculty and staff positions. All supporting materials should be submitted through this HireTouchLink (<https://up.hiretouch.com/job-details?jobid=70388>) by our priority deadline of October 8, 2021, though applications arriving later will also be considered.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9108

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Position Description:

The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks candidates for three faculty positions for scholars conducting outstanding research on the subjects of race, identity, and inequality in domestic, comparative, or international contexts. The primary focus of our search is at the tenure track assistant professor level; however, we may consider more senior candidates under exceptional circumstances. The positions are to begin September 1, 2022, pending administrative approval.

This search is part of a broader cluster of recruitment efforts in Race, Identity, and Inequality that spans the Departments of Politics and Sociology in the Faculty of Arts and Science, and the Wagner School of Public Service. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars working in these areas to collaborate across NYU. More information about this cluster and the broader cluster initiative can be found at <https://www.nyu.edu/faculty/teaching-and-learning-resources/faculty-advancement/faculty-recruitment/nyu-faculty-cluster-hiring-initiative.html#race2> and at <https://drive.google.com/file/d/1n88i-7v5yZGYxYvK54VJ9AhQgRNHRDKG/view>.

Qualifications:

Candidates are expected to possess a PhD by September 2022, in political science or a cognate discipline; to have records of excellent research; and to indicate the potential to be future disciplinary leaders in their respective fields of expertise. Candidates should also have demonstrated ability as excellent teachers at the undergraduate and/or graduate level. NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their teaching, research, experience, and service an ability to contribute to this goal, and a commitment to fostering inclusivity in a university setting.

Application Instructions:

Please apply online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/91446>. While we will continue to review applications into October, candidates seeking the fullest consideration should submit their applications by September 10, 2021. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply links to their professional websites; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

The Politics Department at NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their scholarship, teaching and mentoring, and/or service engagement commitment to these goals. We are particularly interested in hearing about concrete steps you have taken (or plan to take) to foster an inclusive intellectual environment in the classroom, in the department and on campus, and/or in your field more generally.

Required Applicant Documents:

- Cover letter
- CV or Resume
- Statement of Research and Goals

- Statement of Teaching
- Writing Sample
- Three Letters of Reference

Start Date:Application Deadline: 9/10/2021Date Posted: 7/29/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9101Troy University*Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in Political Science (with a concentration in American Politics). This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate political science courses in American Politics; teaching master's degree courses in our public administration (MPA) program, which will be delivered in person as well as online; and advising pre-law students. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is August 1, 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415>

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 7/28/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9091University of California, Irvine*Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of American Politics with a specific focus on Race and Ethnicity and/or American Political Institutions contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2021-22 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in American Politics. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $56,381 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2021-2022 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/20/21 – 12/10/21

Winter Quarter: 1/3/22 - 3/18/22

Spring Quarter: 3/23/22 – 6/10/22

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system:

<https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF06660>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2021. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary throughout the year.

Start Date: FallApplication Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 7/20/2021Salary: $50,000 - $59,999eJobs ID: 9045Providence College*Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in American National PoliticsSpecializations: Presidency, Congress, American Politics

The Political Science Department at Providence College invites applications for a one-year position as visiting assistant professor in American Politics. The Department welcomes applicants who are experts in any subfield related to the national politics of the United States. The teaching load is four courses per semester (two or three preparations); class size varies from about 12 to 25 students. The successful applicant will teach two sections of American government and politics, the presidency, and American political theory in the Fall 2021 semester. Spring 2022 semester classes include two sections of American government and politics, a course on the U.S. Congress, and a second upper-division course related to the expertise of the person who accepts the position.

The position includes competitive salary and benefits, and full research support provided to all faculty members. The Political Science Department has thirteen faculty dedicated to effective teaching and scholarship. The City of Providence is a vibrant city with a long history of welcoming immigrant populations and is proud of its commitment since its founding in 1636 to being a creative, diverse, place that welcomes all people.

Applicants should possess a Ph.D. in political science or be close to completion, and demonstrate evidence of teaching excellence, strong research skills, and potential for research productivity.

Applicants should apply online at <https://careers.providence.edu> and submit a cover letter, curriculum vita, and contact information for three professional references. For additional information, please contact Dr. Joe Cammarano, Chair of the Political Science Department, at jpcammar@providence.edu.

Review of applications will commence immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Providence College is a Roman Catholic four-year liberal arts institution conducted under the auspices of the Dominican Friars and seeks candidates who can affirm and contribute to its Mission. We strive to foster an academic culture and campus community that attracts and supports the development of a stellar and diverse faculty reflecting the global environment in which we live and work. As such, a pillar of Providence College's Strategic Plan for Diversity involves "intentionally recruiting and retaining faculty and staff who are drawn to, and supportive of, the mission of the College, and who have demonstrated a commitment to the human flourishing of each member of the campus community.” To review the strategic plan, please visit <https://strategic-plan.providence.edu/pc200-full/>.

An Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity employer, the College especially encourages the applications of women and persons of color.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 9/1/2021

Date Posted: 6/28/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 8983

Butler University

Rank: Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track instructor for a one-year appointment with possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants should have expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States and a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will teach an introductory American politics survey course, research and analysis methods (basic research design/methods), US Parties and Politics, and other courses aligned with their expertise, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. We are particularly interested in candidates who could teach an introductory international politics survey course. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, with no more than six distinct course preparations per year anticipated.

Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following to plsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant's qualifications for this position and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and a curriculum vitae. Additional evidence of evidence of inclusive teaching excellence is welcome but not required at this stage. Applicants should have advanced to candidate or earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment. The selected candidate will be required to provide official transcripts and to consent to a background check prior to a final offer of employment and will start August 2021.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/9/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8927

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Intro to and U.S. Government

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 101:

Elements of Political Science and POLISCI 120: U.S. Government.

A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University

<https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog->

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master's Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of American Politics. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations.

Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024

(to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee

Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act. The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA-related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021
Application Deadline: 4/30/2024
Date Posted: 4/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8844

University of Akron

Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other
Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron's Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute's academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or governmental setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: <https://www.uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot>) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the "My Activities" link and upload the required documents under the "My Cover Letters and Attachments" section.

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mchugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 4/21/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 8821

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Catholic University of America

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in comparative politics or international relations, to begin in Fall 2022. Candidates should possess a strong commitment to scholarly research, teaching, and engaging with both undergraduate and graduate students in research. The search is open with respect to specialization, but candidates with expertise in democratization, international institutions, political economy, and/or Latin America are especially encouraged to apply.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: “As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world.”

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work to pol-search@cua.edu (or to the Google Form which can be found at <https://provost.catholic.edu/faculty-positions/>). They should also arrange for the submission of three letters of reference to pol-search@cua.edu. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University’s mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Matthew Green, Department Chair, at greenm@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/30/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9773

College of Southern Nevada

Rank: Instructor, Political Science - Tenure Track (Fall 2022)

Instructor, Political Science - Tenure Track (Fall 2022)

The College of Southern Nevada appreciates your interest in employment at our growing institution. We want your application process to go smoothly and quickly. We ask that you keep in mind the following when completing your application:

- Once you start the application process you cannot save your work. Please ensure you have all required attachment(s) available to complete your application before you begin the process.
- Required attachments are listed below on the posting. Your application will not be considered without the required attachments.
- Please note that applications must be submitted prior to the close of the recruitment. Once a recruitment has closed, applications will no longer be accepted.

If you are unable to attach the required documents to your online application or need assistance regarding the application process, please contact the Talent Acquisition team within Human Resources via email at <mailto:hr.recruitment@csn.edu> or call (702) 651-5800 to be directed to the appropriate Recruiter.

Job Description

This position will be open until filled. For full consideration, all application related materials should be submitted by 02/11/2022. Application review will begin 02/14/2022.

The College of Southern Nevada (CSN), Department of Social Sciences, is currently seeking a full-time tenure track political science instructor to begin Fall semester 2022. There is particular interest in the areas of American politics and comparative politics.

Teaching assignments may be multi-campus with the possibility of day, evening, weekend, on-ground, online, and/or hybrid classes in accord with department needs. Under the direction of the Department Chair, primary job responsibilities of the successful applicant include, but are not limited to:

- Teaching a minimum of 15 credit hours per semester and holding a minimum of five office hours per week. Primary teaching responsibility includes teaching a core course (“Introduction to American Politics,” a 4-credit course that includes a Nevada government and politics component).
- Additional teaching responsibilities might include teaching “Introduction to Comparative Politics,” “Introduction to International Relations,” “Introduction to Global Studies,” or “Survey of State and Local Government,” “American Public Policy,” “Nevada Constitution and Politics,” and/or other related courses as determined by department need.
- Assuming leadership roles within the assigned department and at the institution level.
- Supporting the mission of the College of Southern Nevada and the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE).
- Building accountability and developing benchmarks for institutional assessment and evaluation.
- Preparing and teaching courses to a diverse and multicultural student population based on established program level, course level and General Education Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs).
- Applying a variety of instructional strategies appropriate to the needs of the student population and standards of the discipline.
- Participating in college and departmental responsibilities including curriculum review and revision, program review, assessment of student learning outcomes at the General Education, program and course level, committees, councils, work groups, college and community service activities, task forces, and various types of professional development.
- Evaluating student progress and provide clear and timely feedback reflecting program and course learning outcomes in line with departmental expectations.
- Providing teaching and mentoring services to students in a manner which does not discriminate based on race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, political affiliation, or other protected categories.
- Supporting the college, school, and department goals and objectives through active and collegial engagement in decision-making and unit-level planning.
- Performing other tasks as assigned by the department Chair, Dean, and/or Associate Vice President, Vice President, and Vice President of Academic Affairs.

Qualities of a Successful Candidate

- Commitment to under-prepared and underrepresented student populations.
- Ethics, integrity, and sound professional judgment.
- Appropriate and up-to-date knowledge of political science and American government.
- A commitment to establishing and maintaining a positive working relationship with students, colleagues, leadership, and staff of a diverse ethnic, cultural, and socioeconomic backgrounds.
- Experience using technology as an instructional aide, where appropriate, to enhance student learning.
- Strong organizational skills, ability to pay great attention to detail, ability to maintain an established schedule, including evenings and weekends, and multiple campus teaching assignments that may vary by semester.
- Understanding the role of college faculty in promoting equity, equality, and inclusion.

Required Qualifications

- Master's degree in Political Science or a very closely related field from a regionally accredited college or university with at least 18 graduate-level credits in political science or government courses and at least two years of college level teaching experience.

Preferred Qualifications

- An earned Ph.D. in political science from a regionally accredited college or university.
- Minimum of one year (two semesters or three quarters) experience teaching college level introductory political science courses within the last three (3) years.
- Evidence of research in political science within the last three (3) years, which includes conference paper presentations or publications.
- Evidence of college and/or community service within the last three (3) years.
- Evidence of an understanding and appreciation of the community college mission, and ability to design curriculum and learning activities that address diverse learning levels.
- Demonstrated ability to work effectively with a culturally and educationally diverse student population.
- Having a passion for teaching General Education (introduction level) courses.
- Having an understanding of current issues and trends in college level political science education, including, but not limited to, the use of computer-aided instruction and other alternative instructional methods and technology, particularly technology used in political science.
- Demonstrated ability to collaborate with other faculty in redesigning courses and/or teaching new courses.
- Documented experience working with a diverse student body and workforce.

Starting Salary Range

Initial salary placement is based on educational level and total years of full-time equivalent teaching experience. For example, for an instructor with a Master's degree, the salary range would be $46,691 to $58,364 annually. The entire salary range is up to $70,038 annually with a Doctorate and 10 years' experience. A maximum of 10 years of experience will be considered for the initial salary placement purposes.

Exempt
Yes

Full-Time Equivalent
100.0%

Required Attachment(s)

To be considered for this position, please upload the following documents to your application:

- Resume
- Cover Letter
- Contact information for three professional references (Name, email and phone number)
- Unofficial Academic Transcripts (Applicants who have earned their degrees outside of the United States must have their educational transcripts evaluated by an approved evaluator if their college or university is not listed in the most recent edition of the Higher Education Directory, published by Higher Education Publications, Inc. If you have any questions regarding this, please reach out to the Human Resources, Talent Acquisition & Classification team)
- Syllabus (or sample syllabus) for an introductory American government course
- Student teaching/course evaluations from previous three years.

National Search

Out of Area/State Candidates may be offered travel reimbursement with original itemized receipts and in accordance with GSA rates at time of travel.

Bargaining unit Faculty members hired are eligible for relocation expenses reimbursement in accordance with the College of Southern Nevada Faculty Contract https://at.csn.edu/sites/default/files/documents/nfa_-_csn_cba_10.27.20_first_amended_and_restated_signed_0.pdf.

NSHE - INTERNAL APPLICANTS PLEASE NOTE

CSN employees or employees within the Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) MUST use the "Find Jobs" process within Workday to find and apply for jobs at CSN and other NSHE Institutions. Once you log into Workday, type "Find Jobs" in the search box which will navigate to the internal job posting site. Locate this specific job posting by typing the requisition number in the search box. If you complete an application outside of the internal application process and apply as an external candidate, your application will no longer be considered at the time of minimum qualification review. In order to prevent the disqualification of your application, you will need to reapply as an internal candidate before 11:59 pm the day prior to the position close date.

Posting Close Date

Note to Applicant

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with specific reference to each of the minimum and preferred qualifications. The search committee will use this information during the initial review of application materials.

All document(s) must be received by 11:59 p.m. the day prior to the closing date posted on the job announcement.

This position may require that a criminal background check be conducted on the candidate(s) selected for hire.

As part of the hiring process, applicants for positions in the Nevada System of Higher Education may be required to demonstrate the ability to perform job-related tasks.

Schedules are subject to change based on organizational needs.

CSN is responsive to serving the educational needs of a diverse and ever-changing community. CSN employs only U.S. citizens and aliens authorized to work in the U.S. CSN does not sponsor aliens applying for faculty, professional staff, or management positions (H-1B Visas) in the absence of exceptional circumstances as defined by the USCIS.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/2662835>

About Us

The College of Southern Nevada (CSN) creates opportunities and changes lives through access to quality teaching, services, and experiences that enrich our diverse community. CSN has three main campuses in Las Vegas, North Las Vegas and Henderson and multiple sites and centers.

The Nevada System of Higher Education (NSHE) is committed to providing a place of work and learning free of discrimination on the basis of a person's age, disability, whether actual or perceived by others (including service-connected disabilities), gender (including pregnancy related conditions), military status or military obligations, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, genetic information, national origin, race, or religion.

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-367308144e7fab43880d99ffa5545ee1>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9766

Columbia University

Rank: István Deák Visiting Assistant Professor/Visiting Associate Professor/Visiting Professor

Columbia University invites applications for István Deák Visiting Professorship(s) in East Central European Studies for one or two semesters (fall and/or spring) in the academic year 2022-2023. The professorship, commemorating Professor Deák's legacy of excellence in research and teaching, is open to scholars who have active interest and accomplishments in East and Central European studies. Appointment(s) will be open-rank, to be filled at any level from Visiting Assistant to Visiting Full Professor.

The visiting professor(s) will be appointed in one of the Humanities or Social Science departments of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences. The visitors will teach two courses per semester, one a lecture course of broad interest for undergraduates, the other a seminar for upper-level undergraduates and graduate students. The visitors are expected to give one public lecture and participate in the academic life of the University, whose interests in East and Central European studies are well represented on campus by the East Central European Center, the European Institute, and the Harriman Institute.

Qualifications

Ph.D. or professional equivalent. Distinction in teaching and research within the field of East Central European studies.

All applications must be submitted through Columbia University's academic recruitment application portal: <http://apply.interfolio.com/98884>

Please provide a letter of application, curriculum vitae, the names of three persons who may be asked to provide a letter of reference, and a modest sample (article or book chapter) of scholarship. The letter of application should include a statement of which semester the applicant prefers, a list with titles and brief (one-paragraph long) descriptions of two courses that the applicant might teach, and a description of the applicant's current research interests.

For inquiries about the István Deák Visiting Professorship, please contact Christopher Caes: cc4038@columbia.edu

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2022, and continue until the position(s) are filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9759

Columbia University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Scholar

The Harriman Institute seeks a Postdoctoral Research Scholar in Russian Politics for a two-year appointment, starting July 1, 2022. The incumbent's responsibilities will be to conduct independent research in Russian Politics and to develop and coordinate policy seminars (AY 2022-2023 and AY 2023-2024) with Professors Timothy Frye, Joshua Tucker (NYU), Elise Giuliano, and Alexander Cooley. The Scholar is required to be in residence in the New York City area.

Qualifications:

We encourage applications from all social science disciplines. The applicant's research must focus on Russian politics.

Fellowships are open to scholars who have received (or will have received) a Ph.D. in a relevant discipline from January 1, 2020 to June 30, 2022 and do not hold a tenure-track position.

Application Instructions:

All applications must be made through Columbia University's academic recruiting portal at the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/98845>

The following list of materials is required for all applicants:

- Curriculum Vitae
- Cover letter
- Research proposal: 2-3 page statement describing the research project you would pursue at Columbia University if awarded a fellowship, indicating its relation (if any) to your doctoral dissertation, as well as its relation to the mission of the Harriman Institute
- Dissertation abstract
- A writing sample, such as an article or dissertation chapter
- Letters of recommendation: 2 letters of reference that include an evaluation of your research and teaching proposals

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9762

Marist College

Rank: Part-Time Instructor, Political Science

The Department of Political Science is looking for qualified part-time faculty to teach courses for the upcoming Spring 2022 semester. We have immediate teaching opportunities in Introduction to Comparative Politics (multiple sections) and African Politics. The Political Science Department also has spring semester and ongoing teaching needs in the following areas: upper level courses in international relations and regional courses in Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East. Please note that these courses will take place in-person at our Poughkeepsie, NY campus. To apply, please visit: <http://careers.marist.edu/cw/en-us/job/493075/parttime-instructor-political-science>.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9769

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Description

The University of Missouri is launching an ambitious multi-year hiring initiative, Mizzou Forward, that is intended to attract high profile scholars with a record of significant external funding. The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs is participating in this initiative and tenure-line positions are available for exceptional candidates in the fields of public policy, political science, comparative politics, international relations, and/or public administration. This is an executive style search that is managed centrally by the University; applications may be submitted at any time.

A successful MizzouForward candidate is a research leader with a passion for collaboration and the grit to address our world's most pressing research challenges. The colleagues we're looking to recruit possess:

- A proven track record of active, external research funding, particularly from federal agencies
- A research agenda that complements the goals of MizzouForward
- A robust publication and citation record
- National awards and honors, membership with national academies
- An interdisciplinary scope of work

For more information and to apply, see: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs was recently created through the merger of the School of Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science within the College of Arts and Science. The School has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the School and numerous joint and affiliated faculty. It offers a PhD in Public Affairs; a PhD in Political Science; a Master of Public Affairs; an MA in Defense and Strategic Studies; a BA in Political Science; and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. The School also houses the Institute of Public Policy and has partnerships with the Kinder Institute of Constitutional Democracy and the Institute of Korean Studies.

About the University of Missouri

The University of Missouri was founded in 1839 in Columbia, Missouri, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in the Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides the benefits of two universities in one — it is a major land-grant institution and Missouri's largest public research university.

Considered one of the nation's top-tier institutions, MU has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 64 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou is the flagship campus of the University of Missouri system, located in Columbia, just 20 minutes to the Columbia Regional Airport, and less than 2 hours to St. Louis or Kansas City. Columbia, Missouri, consistently rated as one of the best communities in which to live, is an ideal college town. It combines small-town comforts, community spirit and low cost of living with big-city culture, activities, and resources. Home to nationally renowned public schools and other colleges and educational centers, Columbia is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues and hosts more than a dozen annual arts/cultural festivals.

Application Requirements

External Application URL and Instructions: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9754

Marquette University

Rank: Adjunct Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Health Care, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track Adjunct Assistant Professor position in American politics or comparative politics with an emphasis on quantitative research methods and/or policy analysis. We seek an engaged teacher who can work collaboratively across departments within the college and with other related programs at the university, including the interdisciplinary data science and analytics programs at Marquette. Candidates will also teach courses in their area of expertise at both the undergraduate and graduate levels within the Political Science program.

Earned doctorate, ABD status, or other relevant terminal degree preferred. Expertise in environmental policy and/or health care policy is preferred, but expertise in any other substantive policy areas within American or comparative politics, as well as quantitative research methods generally, will be considered. Preferred applicants will have a strong commitment to justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion, and be able to contribute to curriculum development and diversity and inclusiveness initiatives.

This is a 9-month position with the expectation of appointment renewal for subsequent periods. The position is in person and will begin in August 2022.

All applications for this position must be received through Marquette University's online recruiting system (<https://employment.marquette.edu/>). The applicant should upload the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- List of references (three letters of recommendation are not necessary now, but will be solicited from finalists)
- Unofficial academic transcripts
- Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness (optional).
- Syllabi for courses independently taught and/or a sample syllabus for an undergraduate course in your field (optional).

Applications received by December 15, 2022 will be assured full consideration. However, review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Additional information about the university and department can be found at <http://www.Marquette.edu> and <http://www.Marquette.edu/polisci>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9752

Yale-NUS College

Rank: Lecturer(s) in Philosophy, Politics and Economics (PPE)

Position Description:

Yale-NUS College is a highly selective liberal arts and science college in Singapore. Co-founded by Yale University and the National University of Singapore, the College is committed to excellence in research and teaching within a full residential programme that integrates living and learning. Its curriculum educates students in Asian and Western intellectual traditions as well as current scientific thought.

The College is seeking to hire TWO full-time Lecturers in PPE. Preferred fields of specialization are:

- 1) Comparative politics. We seek a broadly trained comparativist who works in the area of institutions and is able to teach one methods course. Regional specialization is open.
- 2) Political theory. We seek a broadly trained political theorists, able to offer survey courses, and courses in ancient political theory.

These positions are on a fixed term contract of up to three (3) years, starting in the Academic Year 2022-2023.

Requirement:

The successful candidate is expected to teach at least five (5) courses, which will be in the area of PPE. Advising students, supervising capstones and other services will also be required as needed.

- PhD in Political Science from a regionally or internationally accredited institution.
- At least one (1) years of undergraduate teaching experience.

The College offer competitive salaries that are commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Application Procedure:

Applications should consist of the following: a cover letter explaining why the position at Yale-NUS is of interest; a full curriculum vitae, including a complete list of publications; statement on teaching experience and teaching philosophy, including how these might fit with the College's particular mission and curriculum; teaching evaluations, three reference letters (to be submitted by the reference writers via <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/20463> and other relevant documents.

Applications should be submitted via <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/20463>.

Review of applications begins 10 January 2022 and continues until the position(s) is/are filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified. For general inquiries, please email: facultyrecruitment@yale-nus.edu.sg.

Equal Opportunity Employer:

Yale-NUS College achieves excellence through the diversity of its students, faculty, and staff and by embracing inclusivity, equity, and global engagement. We encourage applications by diverse individuals with a demonstrated commitment to these values. For more information about the College, please visit <https://www.yale-nus.edu.sg>.

Personal Data Protection Act (PDPA):

Candidates should understand that by sharing information with Yale-NUS, they authorise the College to use their personal data for the purposes of this application. The College will not use their data for other purposes and ensure that their data remains secure and confidential.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9735

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Faculty Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open
Specializations: Middle East, Urban Politics, Economic Policy

Faculty Fellow Position

Hagop Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies

New York University Arts and Science

The Hagop Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies at New York University invites applicants for a full-time, nontenure track position as a Faculty Fellow to begin September 1, 2022, pending budgetary and administrative approval. The appointment will be for one year, renewable for a further two years.

We are seeking an outstanding junior scholar in any social science or humanities discipline whose research offers a critical perspective on the contemporary Middle East and would complement the strengths of our existing faculty in Middle Eastern Studies. The ideal candidate has an in-depth understanding of the modern Middle East, knowledge of at least one Middle Eastern language, a commitment to inclusive pedagogy, and has a PhD in one of the following fields: Anthropology, Middle Eastern Studies, Middle Eastern History, Cultural Studies, Politics/Political Economy, Sociology, Urban Studies/Geography, or similar. A PhD must be in hand by September 1, 2022. The appointee will be expected to teach at the graduate level (MAs and some PhDs); advise MA students; and thoroughly participate in the activities of the Kevoorkian Center, including admissions, alumni and public outreach, and program development.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. For best consideration, materials should be submitted by no later than January 31, 2022.

Please apply online with a cover letter to the search committee that describes your research and teaching interests; a CV including names and contact information for three references; one sample of your work; and a statement on your approach to diversity and inclusion. Diversity, equity, and inclusion are important to the NYU mission and we ask that you address how diversity and inclusion factor into your teaching, research, and/or community engagement, as well as how you would bring issues of diversity to bear on teaching and programming at NYU.

Please apply online here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/98325>

For questions regarding the application, contact Fidele Harfouche at: fh38@nyu.edu.

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the FAS commitment to diversity, equality, and inclusion, please read here: <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html. >

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/31/2022

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9724

Tulane University

Rank: Center for Inter-American Policy and Research Postdoctoral Fellowships

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: Central America, Latin American, South America

Description

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2022-2023, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are encouraged. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments with a stipend of $48,940 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in the Commitment to Equity Project and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment.

Qualifications

Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2022. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/98834> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) two recommendation letters; (5) a writing sample; and (6) teaching evaluations if available. For further information please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 31, 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9721

University of Cologne

Rank: Post-Doc in Comparative Political Behavior

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Parties & Organizations, Quantitative Methods

The post-doc (f/m/d) will be part of Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch's ERC-funded research project MINORITYRULE on "Democracy without Majorities: Political Representation under Minority Rule". The project's objective is to provide a systematic comparative analysis of the implications of minority governments for political representation. The project investigates how minority rule affects the intensity of political polarization in parliamentary debates and election campaigns, how the responsiveness of minority governments to public opinion differs from those of majority governments at the national and supranational level, and how citizens evaluate the legitimacy of decisions taken by minority governments.

YOUR TASKS

- Take a leading role in work package 3 on citizen evaluations of minority rule, including the design and analysis of crossnational survey experiments and panel surveys
- Conduct and publish high-quality research within the context of MINORITYRULE
- Collaborate with other project members
- Provide support for project-related management and administrative tasks
- Participate in the intellectual life of the Cologne Center for Comparative Politics

WE OFFER YOU

- Participation in a cutting-edge research project funded by an ERC Consolidator Grant
- Opportunity to develop your own research agenda within the framework of the project
- Funding for conferences, additional training, research activities
- Integration into the Cologne Center for Comparative Politics
- A diverse and fair working environment
- Support in reconciling work and family life
- Flexible working time models, full-time positions suitable for job sharing
- Extensive advanced training opportunities
- Occupational health management offers
- Local transport ticket at a discount for UoC employees

The starting date for the position is May 1, 2022. The full-time position will last until August 2026. If the applicant meets the relevant wage requirements and personal qualifications, the salary is based on remuneration group 14 TV-L of the pay scale for the German public sector.

The University of Cologne is committed to equal opportunities and diversity. Women are especially encouraged to apply and will be considered preferentially in accordance with the Equal Opportunities Act of North Rhine-Westphalia (Landesgleichstellungsgesetz – LGG NRW). We also expressly welcome applications from people with disabilities / special needs or of equal status.

Applications should be submitted in English by email (in one pdf-file) under the reference number Wiss2110-15 to cccp-jobs@uni-koeln.de and include a motivation letter, CV including publication list, proposal for an own postdoctoral project (1 page), transcripts, writing sample, and the names of two references. The application deadline is December 15, 2021.

For further information, please contact Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch (so.proksch@uni-koeln.de). Informal inquiries are welcome.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 11/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9701

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Business, Organizations and Society, Tenure Track – Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Social Welfare, Economic Policy

Business, Organizations and Society

Tenure Track – Assistant Professor
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

Position Description

The Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is searching for new faculty to conduct innovative research and educate the next generation of global leaders.

You are invited to apply for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor faculty position in a new undergraduate program, a B.A. in Business, Organizations and Society. The program is interdisciplinary and focuses on the role and impact of business within society. Established on principles of the liberal arts, the program integrates business theory and application, and prepares students to take on roles in businesses and effectively and holistically examine the implications of business decisions for society from multiple perspectives (i.e., social, political, economic, and cultural).

The program seeks applicants whose research and teaching are rooted in management, organizational studies or a related area. Applicants should provide a strong record of scholarship, and evidence of potential to develop and lead high-quality research, with national and international significance. Applicants should demonstrate an outstanding track record for their career stage, in both research and teaching. The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain a cutting edge, innovative, and highly visible research program; participate in student advising and mentorship; teach graduate and/or undergraduate courses in the area of management, entrepreneurship, social impact, and business analytics; or develop new courses in their area of expertise, as appropriate.

The interdisciplinary composition and expertise within the Division of Social Science, as well as the Business, Organizations and Society program, will be used to expand research activities on how businesses influence and are influenced by the societies, political systems, and economies in which they operate. There are many collaboration opportunities within NYUAD, which already houses a number of interdisciplinary research centers and labs, including the Center for Behavioral Institutional Design (C-BID), Center for Interacting Urban Networks (CITIES), and Social Science Experimental Lab (SSEL).

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university commitment to excellence. NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture, while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. NYUAD supports faculty through fellowships and affiliations with research centers both at NYUAD and in the NYU network more generally. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Management, Sociology, Psychology, Social Psychology, Economics, or a related field, and a specialization in management, organizations or a related area.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of teaching, mentoring, and scholarship, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality teaching and research with special attention to business, organizations, and society.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/95473>

Curriculum Vitae

Cover Letter

Research Statement

Teaching Statement

Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)

Diversity Statement

Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

Three (3) letters of recommendation

We will begin reviewing applications on December 15th, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in early Spring 2022. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2022-2023.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9694

William & Mary

Rank: Lecturer of Government

The Department of Government at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, invites applications for a non-tenure-track lecturer position that will begin August 10, 2022.

The initial appointment will be issued for a two-year period, with subsequent renewal contingent on a successful performance review, department/program needs, and availability of funds.

We seek an individual with expertise in Comparative Politics. The successful applicant must be able to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics and Research Methods. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach International Political Economy and/or Latin American Politics. The successful candidate will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a 3-3 teaching load.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a curriculum vitae, a cover letter, a statement of research and teaching interests, a statement describing previous professional experience or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity, inclusion, and teaching excellence. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, November 29, 2021. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed.

William & Mary offers our employees a full array of benefits including retirement, health insurance with options for expanded dental and vision along with group and optional life insurance with coverage for spouse and children, flexible spending accounts, and an EAP (Employee Assistance Program).

Our employees enjoy additional university benefits such as educational assistance, professional development, wellness benefits, and a robust holiday schedule. All employees have access to fitness facilities on campus. Staff members also have access to the university libraries, and much more. To learn more, go to: <https://www.wm.edu/offices/hr/currentemployees/benefits/index.php>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9687

University of Gothenburg

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow in Political Science, Varieties of Democracy Institute

Varieties of Democracy (V-Dem) is a large-scale data collection and research program, see <https://v-dem.net>. The V-Dem Institute, Directed by Professor Staffan I. Lindberg, has several large-scale grants from among others the European Commission, several ministries of foreign affairs, Riksbankens Jubileumsfond, the Swedish Research Council, Marcus & Marianne Wallenberg's Foundation, and Knut & Alice Wallenberg Foundation.

Job Assignments

The Research fellow is primarily expected to conduct team-based research on the main questions of the research programs at the V-Dem Institute: Endangered Democracies: Sequences of Autocratization (EDSA) and/or "Failing and Successful Sequences of Democratization" (FASDEM), in collaboration with the PI and the team members in these programs. Applicants can read about these projects and download various documentation from <https://v-dem.net> under "Our Work/Research Projects". V-Dem data is used in the research for both these projects.

One of V-Dem's strengths is the flexibility and collaborative spirit of everyone at the institute, focusing on reaching the goals of the data collection and research program. This includes a willingness to contribute to coding of data, quality control and/or data management during peak periods. Outreach and collaboration with institutions in society may also be part of the job.

For this position, the service component is expected to focus on further development and issue solving with regards to the measures and methods studying democratization and/or autocratization, substantive research on causes and effects of those two phenomenon, and outreach to policy makers/practitioners. The Postdoctoral Research Fellow may also be asked to perform service and support functions for the Institute's other activities up to one-third of full-time employment (FTE).

Eligibility

The Post-Doctoral Research Fellow position is open to candidates who (upon assuming the position) have a PhD in political science or related field.

Assessment

Applications will be evaluated primarily on research excellence in comparative politics with a focus on areas of relevance to one of the projects listed above. Research at high international level in the field of comparative democratization, autocratization, regime breakdown, authoritarian regimes, and/or political development is required. Excellent English (orally and written) is required.

Candidates must have a strong record in one or more of the following areas:

- Explicit interest in further extending on the research agenda of the FASDEM program; or solving the scientific problems identified in the EDSA project, with demonstrated abilities to provide original, state-of-the-art, and creative solutions to such research problems.
- Strong competence in advanced time-series, cross-sectional regression techniques, Vector Auto-Regression (VAR), sequencing algorithms, optimal matching methods, Monte Carlo chains, and/or Dynamic treatment regimes.
- Expertise in data science, methods, and management including advanced experience in R programming, maintaining R-packages, using and programming PostgreSQL and experience with statistical modelling using JAGS and Stan.

Advantageous criteria include:

- Prior use of V-Dem data in applied research or similar evidence of familiarity with the project.
- Demonstrated resourcefulness, flexibility, and very good ability to do teamwork in different configurations.
- Experience working collaboratively on a large-scale research project.
- Documented experience of outreach, especially translating and communicating research to policy-makers/practitioners.

We will make an overall assessment of the applicants' qualifications and select one or more judged to complement the rest of the team in the best way possible for the needs of the research programs. Personal qualities and team-working skills are highly relevant for the position and are of great importance.

Type of employment: Fixed-term employment, 24 months, full time in residence.

Extent: 100 %?

Location: V-Dem Institute, Department of Political Science, Gothenburg, Sweden

Employment: Starting as soon as possible, or latest by 2022-09-01

Please apply online: https://web103.reachmee.com/ext/I005/1035/job?site=7&lang=UK&validator=9b89bead79bb7258ad55c8d75228e5b7&job_id=p22040

Applicants are expected to visit www.v-dem.net/en/our-work/research-projects/fasdem and read program documents. The application should clearly relate to the FASDEM program, or if applying for the Special Profile then the R programming skills and software experience required for the respective position.

The letter of application should include a self-evaluation of how the applicant's proposed research agenda would contribute to the FASDEM research program, and how the applicant meets the requirements above.

Attach to the application: a CV, a citation count from Google scholar (including H-index), and one writing sample. The application should also include a list of at least three references from whom letters of recommendation can be solicited.

Supplementary documents which cannot be emailed should be sent to the following address:

University of Gothenburg
Department of Political Science?
Box 711
SE-405 30 Gothenburg Sweden

Reference number, PAR 2021/1188 should be clearly stated when sending supplementary documents.

For further information regarding the position
Staffan I Lindberg, Professor, Director & Principal Investigator
Phone: +46 31 786 1226
Email: staffan.i.lindberg@pol.gu.se

Union representatives at the University of Gothenburg:
<https://www.gu.se/en/about-the-university/work-at-the-university-of-gothenburg/how-to-apply>

Information for International Applicants:
Choosing a career in a foreign country is a big step. Thus, to give you a general idea of what we and Gothenburg have to offer in terms of benefits and life in general for you and your family/spouse/partner please visit:
<https://www.gu.se/en/about-the-university/welcome-services>
<https://www.movetogothenburg.com/>

How to apply:

In order to apply for a position at the University of Gothenburg, you have to register an account in our online recruitment system. It is the responsibility of the applicant to ensure that the application is complete in accordance with the instructions in the job advertisement, and that it is submitted before the deadline. The selection of candidates is made on the basis of the qualifications registered in the application.

Closing date: December 17, 2021.

The University of Gothenburg promotes equal opportunities, equality and diversity.

Salary is determined on an individual basis.

Applications will be destroyed or returned (upon request) two years after the decision of employment has become final. Applications from the employed and from those who appeal the decision will not be returned.

In connection to this recruitment, we have already decided which recruitment channels we should use. We therefore decline further contact with vendors, recruitment and staffing companies.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/17/2021

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9676

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Criminal Justice, International Law & Organizations, International Security

Please see full job ad at: <https://cuny.jobs/new-york-ny/assistant-professor-international-criminal-justice/EC9C410776B14CC4A25074AD8CE8990A/job/>

ABOUT JOHN JAY COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) led by President Karol V. Mason and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. John Jay is a federally-designated Hispanic-serving and Minority-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college, as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of the City University of New York and offers bachelor's and master's degrees in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study, as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. John Jay College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment in the ICJ BA and ICJ MA programs and in a department to be determined by the candidate's Ph.D. or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department). The position begins in Fall 2022.

Suitable candidates with an international/comparative focus in criminal justice are encouraged to apply and the search is open with respect to topic and geographic region of scholarly interest. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the B.A and M.A. ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates with a focus on race, ethnic relations, indigeneity, migration, or socioeconomic inequality in a global context are strongly encouraged to apply. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum (<http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/u1862/principlesforaculturallyresponsiveinclusiveandantiracistcurriculumadoptedbycollege.pdf>), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

CUNY anticipates a return to fully onsite work before January 2022 and this position is based in New York, NY.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2022 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

-Go to www.cuny.edu/employment

-Click "Search job postings."

-Click the link for "Faculty" and browse to job Opening ID number 23022

-Click on the "Apply Now" button and follow the instructions

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor securing your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by December 31, 2021.

In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Gohar Petrossian, Criminal Justice Department, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, 524 W. 59th Street, New York, NY, 10019 or ICJBAMA@jjay.cuny.edu with the applicant's name in the subject line. All questions should be directed to Prof. Petrossian (gpetrossian@jjay.cuny.edu) or Prof. Barberet (rbarberet@jjay.cuny.edu) by email.

CLOSING DATE

Review of resumes to begin November 18, 2021.

Posting closes on January 3, 2022.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/8/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9673

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics (up to three posts)

Nuffield College and the Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford intend to appoint jointly, with effect from 1 September 2022 or as soon as possible thereafter, up to three Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellows (PPRFs) in Politics, broadly construed to include political science, political behaviour, comparative politics, political economy, electoral studies, political theory, international relations, and political history.

The key responsibilities of the Research Fellows are to engage in advanced study and independent scholarly research in politics broadly construed (as above); to disseminate research findings through publication and participation in conferences and workshops; to take part in the intellectual life of the College and the Department by organising workshops, seminars or conferences; and to undertake teaching not expected to exceed 48 stint units per year (the equivalent to teaching an eight-week 2-hour seminar series per year), and to assist in examining for the Department.

To be eligible, candidates should have completed, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant field. Candidates must be within three years of the defence date (viva voce examination date) of their doctorate at the time of application. Allowances will be made for career breaks (for example, family-related leave) and candidates are asked to provide relevant information. Preference will be given to candidates who have not previously held a research fellowship similar to that advertised for more than one year at the time of taking up the fellowship. Prospective candidates should also have experience of carrying out independent research and a track record of excellent quality papers appropriate for and commensurate with their career level. They should have the ability to provide excellent teaching to high-achieving students; the willingness to contribute to the intellectual life of the College and the Department; and excellent oral and written communication skills. Teaching experience in any area of Comparative Government, Political Theory, or International Relations would be desirable.

The posts are full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 September 2022 or as soon as possible thereafter. Shorter-term appointments are unlikely to be considered. The posts will be based at Nuffield College and at the Department of Politics and International Relations. The salary offered is GBP 32,632 per annum. Subject to availability, Research Fellows may opt to rent single accommodation in College. Further benefits include a research allowance and free lunch and dinner in College.

Further particulars, including information on how to apply, are available from the College website at https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/4966/polpprf_jd2022.pdf

The deadline for applications is Monday 6 December 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/6/2021

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9664

Fordham University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Chinese Studies

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures at Fordham University (New York City) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Chinese Studies to be based primarily at Fordham's Lincoln Center campus, beginning Fall 2022. We have particular interest in candidates working in political science or social science fields such as international studies with a primary focus on China. Potential areas of expertise may include: politics and political economy of China and their global implications, political philosophy, comparative politics, environmental politics and policy, social care practices, international relations, international security, peace and conflict studies. We will also consider candidates in the field of modern or contemporary Chinese history. The applicant's research must be interdisciplinary, demonstrate a transnational approach to the study of China, and show a commitment to a non-Eurocentric methodology.

This candidate would help build our interdisciplinary Chinese Studies major and work to build programs in and strengthen ties with related disciplines across the university, such as International Studies, International Political Economy and Development, Political Science, and History. This candidate will also build connections with local and international China-related organizations in New York City.

All applicants must have native or near-native competence in Mandarin Chinese and English and a Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment. In addition to teaching courses of his/her/their area of specialization in English, the successful candidate must be able to teach political science or related content courses in Mandarin to both native and second-language learners. The successful candidate will contribute to the expansion of our Chinese program, particularly the Chinese Studies major that draws upon interdisciplinary strength from different departments, and collaborate with the university's interdisciplinary programs. In addition to an active research agenda and commitment to excellence in teaching, dedication to program building and leadership is required.

All applicants should submit the following materials by December 12th, 2021: cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, two sample syllabi, writing sample (no more than 30 pages) and contact information for three references. Applications should be submitted online at Interfolio.

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures is committed to building a multicultural department and strongly encourages women, racial / ethnic / gender underrepresented people, persons with disabilities and covered veterans to apply. Fordham University is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition that welcomes applications from people of all backgrounds. Fordham University is committed to excellence through diversity; it is an equal opportunity employer.

apply.interfolio.com/97896

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9662

John Cabot University

Rank: Full-time tenure track faculty position in International Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

Full-time tenure track faculty position in International Affairs

John Cabot University, an accredited American liberal arts university in Rome, Italy, invites applications for a full-time tenure-track assistant professor position in International Affairs. In exceptional circumstances, associate and full professor rank candidates will be considered. We seek applicants with a Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, and a commitment to program development. The ideal candidate will have significant experience with the American liberal arts tradition.

Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in international political economy, international development, and international security, including non-traditional security, such as food security, cybersecurity, or environmental security. The successful candidate will be expected to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate courses with a load of three courses per semester and to be an active member of the university community. Teaching experience with quantitative methodology is especially welcome, as is the ability to teach at the graduate level.

The initial appointment is for two years with the possibility of tenure. Candidates must be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction. Applicants should send a letter of interest describing their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, one or two papers or publications as writing samples, and evidence of teaching excellence to IASearch2022@johncabot.edu. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent separately to this same address with the candidate's name in the subject line of the message. Review of applications will begin on December 15th, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. The successful candidate will be expected to start in the Fall of 2022. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

John Cabot University, a regionally accredited American university in Rome, Italy, is an Equal Opportunity Employer that is committed to diversity and inclusion in the workplace. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment of any kind based on race, color, ethnic or national origin, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, marital or parental status, or disability in any of its policies, programs, and services.

Information about JCU can be found at: <http://www.johncabot.edu/>

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9652

University of the Fraser Valley

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Environmental Policy, Lesbian & Gay Studies

Job Summary:

The Department of Political Science at the University of the Fraser Valley invites applications for a full-time tenure-track faculty member in the area of Canadian or comparative public policy. We encourage applications from scholars interested in any of the following fields: race/gender-based analysis, immigration, 2SLGBTQ, Indigenous, health, and/or environmental policy. The ability to teach public administration is an asset as are intersectional approaches to policy analysis and/or experience with Indigenous knowledge systems.

As a primarily teaching-oriented institution and department, we are seeking a collegial and energetic individual who has successful teaching experience at the undergraduate level and who communicates effectively with students. The successful candidate must be willing and able to teach POSC 100 Introduction to Politics, develop new courses in the field of public policy, as well as be willing and able to teach across a range of undergraduate courses offered by the department as required.

Applicants will have a strong record of research productivity commensurate with their experience, demonstrated ability to establish a successful research program, and an ability to incorporate their research into applied learning opportunities for students.

Knowledge and interest in developing experiential learning opportunities for students, including working with local community agencies, is highly desirable. Demonstrable experience in technology-supported teaching (e.g. hybrid, on-line, and computer-assisted learning) and the ability to engage students in technology-enhanced learning is also required. The successful candidate will show aptitude for working in team situations, demonstrated ability to participate in innovative interdisciplinary teaching, a collaborative approach to engaging in the life of the department, and an active commitment to academic service.

As a faculty member, the candidate will be expected to participate in an on-going process of professional development and to lead others to do so in their teaching and collegial service.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must possess a PhD in political science (or public policy), with a specialization in Canadian and or comparative public policy; evidence of successful teaching experience; and an on-going program of research.

How to Apply:

Candidates should submit the following:

- Cover letter
- CV (please indicate eligibility to work legally in Canada)
- Evidence of qualifications where appropriate
- Statement of teaching philosophy
- Recent student evaluations
- Sample research paper

Applicants should arrange for three (3) letters of reference to be submitted on their behalf to careers@ufv.ca citing Posting # J1021-1868.

For further information about the position, contact Hamish Telford, Department of Political Science, University of the Fraser Valley; by email at hamish.telford@ufv.ca or by phone at 604-504-7441, ext.4425

About UFV:

The University of the Fraser Valley is located on the unceded (ancestral) territory of the Halq'eméylem-speaking peoples. We express our gratitude and respect for the honour of living and working in S'olh Temexw (Our World; Our Land). In all that we do, UFV strives to support and honour the Stó:lō peoples goals of self-determination and well-being on these lands. A commitment to Indigenization and Reconciliation is core to our institutional Vision and our Education Plan. This commitment includes the goal of centering Indigenous ways of knowing throughout our organization, recognizing our responsibilities to community, and a multi-year plan to increase the number of Indigenous faculty, staff, and administrators working at UFV.

UFV has four campus locations within the beautiful Fraser Valley in British Columbia. Recognized as one of BC's top employers, UFV offers a combination of career and lifestyle benefits. Join a team of 1,400 passionate professionals who value integrity, inclusivity and excellence. At UFV, you will serve a vibrant community, and shape the future of 15,000 students.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. In an effort to be both environmentally and fiscally responsible, UFV will contact only candidates receiving an interview. We thank all applicants for considering UFV for employment. Shortlisted applicants may be required to undergo a criminal record check and/ or a verification of their education credentials.

UFV is committed to the principle of equity in employment.

Start Date: Winter 2022

Application Deadline: 1/28/2022

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9657

Widener University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Widener University is currently seeking a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Science beginning fall 2022-23 academic year. The successful candidate will have a background in international relations and the ability to teach general courses in comparative politics and other courses of interest in political science. Additionally, preferred candidates will have the ability to contribute to the Masters of Public Administration program or interdisciplinary offerings.

Widener University is committed to fostering an environment in which faculty, staff, and students from a variety of backgrounds, cultures, and personal experiences are welcomed and can thrive. The College of Arts and Sciences puts high priority on inclusive pedagogy, inclusive mentoring, and community engagement. Those candidates experienced in, or who would enjoy, working with a diverse range of faculty, staff, and students, and those who can contribute to the climate of inclusivity, are encouraged to identify their experiences in these areas throughout their application. The College also deeply values interdisciplinarity embodied in such programs as African and African American Studies and Gender, Women and Sexuality Studies to which faculty from all Arts and Sciences disciplines are welcome to contribute.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES (including, but not limited to):

Essential duties:

Teach undergraduate general courses in international relations, general comparative politics and other courses of interest in political science.

Engage in professional development relating to the discipline and pedagogy, publication of research, and participation in academic citizenship at all levels within the University.

Secondary responsibilities:

Advise undergraduate majors

Actively participate in department co-curricular and extracurricular activities.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS (education/training and experience required):

Required:

PhD in political science. ABD candidates may be considered if the degree will be completed by May 2022.

Demonstrated commitment to, and experience with, undergraduate education

Ability to teach Foreign Government and Politics, as well as new or existing electives in their field.

Should be prepared to engage students in experiential learning within their area of expertise and contribute to the general education curriculum

Preferred:

Teaching experience in political science and/or international politics is preferred.

Ability to contribute to the Masters of Public Administration program or interdisciplinary offerings would be a plus.

For full consideration, qualified candidates must submit a cover letter, CV, transcripts, and a teaching philosophy by December 3, 2021 at widener.edu/jobs. Three letters of references are requested and should be sent to: ArtsandSciences@widener.edu. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Only those selected to interview will be contacted.

Widener has a strategic commitment to building an inclusive university community whose diversity enriches the lives of all members and where our students are prepared for living in a pluralistic and ever-changing world. As a leading metropolitan university, Widener strives to embody the values that are inherent in our mission: civic engagement, access, inclusion, academic excellence, innovation and leadership.

Widener University, an independent, metropolitan, doctoral-intensive university, connects curricula to social issues through civic engagement. Dynamic teaching, active scholarship, personal attention and experiential learning are key components of the Widener Experience. Located in Chester, PA, Widener's main campus is nestled between Philadelphia, PA and Wilmington, DE, with Law Schools located in both Harrisburg and Wilmington. For more information about the university, please visit our website at www.widener.edu.

EOE M/F/V/D

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/3/2021

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9646

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Position Description Summary:

The George Washington University Elliott School of International Affairs and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a tenure track position in the field of Political Science with specialization in Environmental Politics and Policy, beginning in Fall semester 2022. We look to hire a scholar at the Assistant Professor level who will teach and produce scholarship in such areas as climate change, resource scarcity, energy politics, multilateral negotiations, sustainability, and other areas of environmental politics and policy in international relations and/or comparative politics.

Specific Duties and Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will develop new undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental politics and policy and may also teach other courses in international relations, comparative politics, and/or regional studies in their area of expertise. Depending on the research agenda of the person, this hire will be part of the Elliott School's research ecosystem, such as with the Institute for Science and Technology Policy, the Institute for International Economic Policy, the Institute for Security and Conflict Studies, and/or any of the regionally focused research institutes. This faculty member will also support GW's sustainability minor.

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science. Applicants should have demonstrated significant research promise and teaching competence.

Other Information:

The culture of George Washington University reflects its shared values, including respect and diversity. The Elliott School recognizes that diversity and social mobility are among our country's greatest assets in engaging the rest of the world; we are deeply committed as a school to fostering an inclusive community. To this end, we encourage candidates from diverse identities, backgrounds, and experiences. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups. The selected candidate will be expected to support inclusive excellence, including inclusive teaching. To learn more about the Elliott School's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, please visit elliott.gwu.edu/diversity-and-inclusion.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

To be considered, please complete an application at this link (<https://www.gwu.edu/jobs/postings/88215>) and upload a CV, cover letter, statement of teaching/research interest, course evaluations (if available), samples of written work, and statement on how your past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion will advance the Elliott School's commitment to inclusive excellence. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs_IR@gwu.edu.

Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered. Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

EEO Statement:

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9636

Grand Valley State University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Summary: The Department of Political Science seeks an assistant professor, full time, 9-month, tenure-track, specializing in race and ethnicity, and/or media.

Required Qualifications and Education:

- PhD in Political Science or related field
- ABD candidate will be considered for a two-year contract with provision that the PhD must be completed by December 2023
- Evidence of critical, reflective thinking about the successful teaching and learning of political science
- Demonstrated potential for producing peer-reviewed scholarship in political science
- Strong communication and interpersonal skills, such as the ability to interact with others with respect, empathy, and cultural humility
- Creativity and flexibility
- Demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion and access. This could include experience with inclusive pedagogies; research relating to marginalized populations or social inequality; engagement with community-based social justice work; and other forms of DEI-infused teaching, scholarship and service.

Preferred Qualifications and Education:

- Expertise in race and ethnicity, and/or media; expertise at the intersection of those topics with inequality and/or social movements is a plus
- We are primarily interested in someone whose research and teaching expertise is on race and ethnicity and/or media in American politics, but we also invite applications from scholars who examine these topics from a comparative perspective that encompasses a focus on the U.S.

Responsibilities: The successful hire will be expected to teach introductory courses in American politics and courses in the area(s) of the faculty member's specialization such as race, ethnicity and politics; media and politics; or others. Teaching responsibilities would allow the opportunity to develop a new course (or courses) within the faculty member's area of specialization. Regular faculty responsibilities each semester include teaching 9 credit hours, scholarship, and service. Department faculty are expected to maintain a productive program of scholarship and to participate actively in service. Employment begins August 6, 2022.

Salary/Benefits

The salary is competitive and commensurate with experience. The university offers an excellent comprehensive package that includes health/vision/dental plans, life insurance, retirement, sick/leave disability, tuition waiver, adoption resources, wellness coaching, and free access to campus fitness facilities. Family and child care options on and off-campus are also available. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit Benefits and Wellness - Grand Valley State University (gvsu.edu).

Department/College:

The Political Science Department at Grand Valley State University is the home to a major (BA/BS) in political science, a major (BA) in international relations, and minors in both political science and IR. The department has 17 full-time faculty members, 223 political science majors and 68 international relations majors. The department is also a significant contributor to an interdisciplinary minor in human rights. Department offices are located on the Allendale campus, where nearly all of the department's courses are taught.

The department values:

- Excellence in education facilitated through
 - o Active student-teacher engagement and academic achievement in a rigorous and challenging course of study that emphasizes the development of critical and analytical thinking and writing.
 - o Student exposure to a variety of theoretical and political perspectives for the purpose of enhancing critical and analytical thinking and writing skills.
 - o A comprehensive coverage of the discipline and access to a wide variety of upper-level courses.
 - o Emphasis on internships, co-curricular and civic education opportunities in our local, state, national and global communities.
- Excellence in faculty scholarship.
- Service to the discipline, unit, college, university and community.
- Student development as well-informed, global citizens in a democratic society.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences (CLAS) is the largest college at Grand Valley, offering over 50 bachelor's degrees and a growing number of advanced degrees in the natural and mathematical sciences, the fine arts and humanities, and the social sciences. CLAS is a student-centered and diverse learning community that engages in critical inquiry, extending knowledge to enrich and enliven individual and public life. Our faculty are active teacher-scholars committed to equitable, inclusive, career-connected, and community-engaged liberal arts and sciences education. There are many opportunities for collaboration within CLAS and across a broad group of partners on and off campus. We are interested in attracting a cohort of new faculty committed to these core values as we seek to foster a community where members from all backgrounds can live, learn, and thrive together. Campus/University: Grand Valley University (GVSU) is a public comprehensive institution located in West Michigan with campuses in Allendale, downtown Grand Rapids, and Holland, plus centers in Detroit, Muskegon and Traverse City. The University attracts more than 23,000 undergraduate and graduate students with high quality programs and state-of-the-art facilities, and has been nationally recognized for innovativeness and its contribution to students' social mobility. The greater Grand Rapids metropolitan area has a population of around one million people, is affordable, and offers rich cultural amenities. Grand Valley is located within easy driving distance of Chicago, Detroit, Lake Michigan beaches, and many other superb summer and winter recreational venues. Information can be found at Community Resources - Human Resources - Grand Valley State University (gvsu.edu). Grand Valley is highly rated for safety, sustainability, and veteran and LGBTQ friendliness, and is committed to supporting employees and their families in work-life balance. The university seeks to create an inclusive and diverse environment for faculty and students while promoting enrichment of society through excellent teaching, active scholarship, and service. More information can be found at Grand Valley State University (gvsu.edu).

How to Apply: A complete application must include:

- (1) a cover letter addressing qualifications and motivation to work at GVSU
- (2) a curriculum vitae
- (3) a teaching statement that addresses the applicant's teaching experience, philosophy and approach, and how the applicant meets the teaching-related qualifications of the position
- (4) a research statement that addresses the applicant's research and plans for a productive agenda of scholarship
- (5) a diversity statement that describes past, ongoing and anticipated activities to promote diversity, equity, and inclusion in teaching, research/creative activity, and service, with particular attention to experiences engaging and supporting a diverse student body
- (5) contact information (name, title, email address and phone number) of three professional references
- (6) graduate transcripts (unofficial issued to students are acceptable to apply).

Apply online at Open Positions - GVSU Jobs - Grand Valley State University and select "Apply now". The online application will allow applicants to attach these documents electronically. Applicants selected for interviews will be required to submit official transcripts prior to the interview. If you need assistance, call Human Resources at 616-331-2215. Email questions about the position to: Dr. Mark Richards, Political Science Search Committee Chair (richardm@gvsu.edu).

Application Deadline: The review process will begin on December 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The posting may be closed at any time at the discretion of the University.

Allendale, Michigan 49401 - (616) 331-5000

For more information about Grand Valley, see our website at www.gvsu.edu

Grand Valley State University is an EOE which includes protected veterans and individuals with disabilities. See <http://www.gvsu.edu/affirmative/>. TDD Callers: Call Michigan Relay Center at 711 (in State) or 1-800-833-7833 (out of State)

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9630

Howard University

Rank: Assistant Professor Tenure-Track

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Africa

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the area of Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will be prepared to conduct externally-funded research in the areas of comparative politics with a focus on politics in the Black Diaspora. Regional specialization is open to all areas. Qualified applicants should have evidence of research productivity and teaching experience in at least one of the areas covered by the emerging field of data science and computational social science. These may include, but are not limited to: working with "big data," relational data, social network analysis, computational text analysis, machine-learning, agent-based modeling, or geospatial analysis techniques, among others.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. We envision this position as expansive and methodologically diverse, with a focus on how on-going global changes intersect with historical patterns of power and dominance, and how these factors affect current and future global discourses. The successful candidate is expected to develop a vigorous, extramurally funded research program in their areas of expertise and have a strong record of and ability to teach in-person and use online tools to design and teach distance learning courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The successful candidate is expected to actively participate in the Department's teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired. The candidate will also contribute to the International Affairs undergraduate major, and also work closely with the Center for Women, Gender, and Global Leadership. Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as a Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity research by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation's capital, Washington, D.C.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 17 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications: • Ph.D. in political science or closely related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc.) from an accredited institution; • Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor; • Effective communication and organizational skills; and • Evidence of writing successful grant proposals.

Complete applications must be submitted as a single PDF file containing: 1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above; 2) Current curriculum vita; 3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests, and future plans; 4) One-page statement of teaching philosophy and experience; and 5) A writing sample. 6) Three letters of recommendation sent under separate cover to the email below directly from the recommenders.

Questions should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee, Dr. David Dixon at ComparativePoliticsSearch@Howard.edu.

Completed applications submitted electronically via Academic Jobs Online. Screening will begin on September 20, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 16, 2022. Additional details and information can be found at <http://coas.howard.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/27/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9629

Mercyhurst University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Middle East, Environmental Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor (tenure-track) position beginning fall 2022. The successful applicant will possess a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university. The department is seeking a comparative politics/international relations generalist. Preference will be given to a candidate who can teach Middle East politics in addition to other comparative or international relations courses. IR background in the areas of IPE, human rights, international organizations, or environmental politics are a department priority. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the fall 2022 semester. Screening of applications will begin immediately and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to Jennifer Verga, administrative assistant: jverga@mercyhurst.edu. Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year. For information about the political science program see the departmental website: <http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9626

Lyon College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Lyon College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science position starting in the fall of 2022. This one-year position may be renewed for a second year with the additional possibility of conversion to tenure-track. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, but the area of specialization is open. The ability to teach the Political Science major's required course sequence in International and Comparative Politics is expected, along with a section per semester of the American Experience, a part of the College's Core Curriculum. The appointment features a three-four teaching load.

Experience at a small, residential liberal arts college as a student or as a faculty member is desirable. Absent that experience, an understanding of the difference between a small college and a university and the desire to be on the faculty of a small college are important. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Lyon College is a private, selective liberal arts college affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). It is located in Batesville, Arkansas, a safe and historic town of 10,000 that serves as commercial, medical, social, and governmental hub for an eight-county area. The College currently enrolls almost 600 undergraduate students from 25 states and 11 foreign countries. Entering freshmen have an average high school GPA of 3.5 and an average ACT composite of 24.

Interested candidates should send a letter of application; CV; evidence of teaching and scholarly excellence; and three letters of recommendation to Human Resources, P.O. Box 2317, Batesville, AR 72503-2317 or electronically to jobs@lyon.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9597

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Federico Gil Visiting Research Professor

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is seeking to appoint for the fall or spring semester of the academic year 2022-23 a visiting research professor who studies Latin American politics. Strong preference will be given to candidates who are based in Latin America or Spain or have had extensive prior experience in Latin America. Responsibilities of the successful candidate during the semester in residence will include working on their own research and contributing to departmental activities related to their research and teaching on Latin America (but not teaching a course). The quality of currently completed research and of the proposed research project will be important selection criteria. Qualifications are a Ph.D. and a minimum of 5 years of research and teaching experience. Compensation consists of a travel and research allowance, health insurance, and a total of $40,000 in salary over the duration of the appointment. The successful candidate will be expected to be in residence for a minimum of 4 ½ months. Applications from women and minorities are particularly welcome. The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity employer and educator that welcomes all to apply, including individuals with disabilities. Preferred deadline for applications is December 16, 2021, and applicants will be notified in February.

o apply for the position, follow this link: <http://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/213806>. Please include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a research proposal of no more than 1,500 words. Applicants are required to identify the names, titles and email addresses of three professional references at the time of application. Recommenders identified by the applicant may be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support if the applicant becomes a finalist. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks (seubanks@email.unc.edu); the department address is Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265 and the web address is <http://www.unc.edu/depts/polisci>.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/16/2021

Date Posted: 10/25/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9620

Temple University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Instructional) in Global Studies

The Global Studies Program in the College of Liberal Arts at Temple University invites applications for a full-time, renewable, non-tenure track position (Assistant Professor (Instructional) beginning in Fall 2022). Global Studies is a multidisciplinary program offering undergraduate degrees focused on culture, economy, and security, with 200 majors and 50 minors. We seek candidates who can teach courses such as Research Skills (exposing students to methods from multiple disciplines), Introduction to Global Studies, the Global Studies senior research capstone, and, as well as general education courses with a global orientation. We are particularly interested in instructors who have experience teaching diverse research methods courses, interdisciplinary courses, and writing intensive courses. The teaching load for this position is 4 courses per semester. The successful candidate will have a strong teaching record, a commitment to interdisciplinarity, and interest in the global south. Temple University offers full-time faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, retirement, and other benefits. Candidates are expected to have completed a Ph.D. by the beginning of their appointment in Sociology, Political Science/International Relations, Geography, Anthropology, or a related/interdisciplinary field (such as Development Studies).

Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (very high research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home to 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays a tremendous role in Temple University's academic success and its mission mirrors both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded: providing access to an excellent, affordable higher education that prepares students for careers, further learning and active citizenship; creating a collaborative community of outstanding faculty and staff who foster inclusion and encourage the aspirations of Temple students; promoting service and engagement throughout Philadelphia, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the nation and the world.

COVID-19 vaccinations are required for employment at Temple University, unless granted a religious or medical exemption (see www.temple.edu/coronavirus).

Temple University is an Affirmative Action equal opportunity employer and particularly encourages applications from women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

To apply, submit all materials via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/97331>. Direct any questions about the position to Danielle K. Scherer, Assistant Director of Global Studies (danielle.scherer@temple.edu). For full consideration, applications must be received by January 3, 2022, and include the following materials:

- Letter of interest
- CV
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness
- Teaching philosophy
- 3 Letters of recommendation

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/3/2022

Date Posted: 10/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9613

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Research and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Open

Specializations: Political Thought: Historical, Gender Politics & Policy, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

Social Research and Public Policy

NYU Abu Dhabi

We are inviting applications from sociologists and those in related disciplines for a tenured faculty member to join the program in Social Research and Public Policy, for appointment on September 1, 2023, subject to final budget approval. We will consider applicants with an active research agenda in all areas of theoretically-informed social research, but are especially keen on strengthening our faculty in any of the following areas: social theory, political sociology, comparative-historical research, qualitative methods, migration, gender, and race/ethnicity.

NYU Abu Dhabi's unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past and present.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related discipline.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of scholarship, teaching, and mentoring, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94902>

.CV

.Cover Letter

.Statement of Teaching Interests

.Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)

.Statement of Research Interests

.Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

.List of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin looking at applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2023-2024.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

If this sounds like you, apply now.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9608

New York University Faculty of Arts and Science

Rank: Junior Faculty Position in Native American Studies

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Administration

Specializations: Social Movements, Native American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

Junior Faculty Position in Native American Studies

Department of Social and Cultural Analysis

New York University

Faculty of Arts and Science

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis at New York University invites applications for a junior ranked search in the field of Native American Studies.

We especially welcome applications from scholars whose research relates to urban indigeneity, Critical Indigenous Theory, settler colonialism, literature, Indigenous resurgence and governance, Queer Studies, Indigenous pedagogies, environmental studies, and/or language revitalization. We encourage applications from scholars who work in collaboration with First Nations or Native American nations and whose research engages with Indigenous communities. This search is part of a cluster hire in Native American and Indigenous Studies that includes the following departments and Schools: The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis, The Gallatin School, English, Cinema Studies (Tisch), Spanish and Portuguese, and History. More information about this cluster, and NYU's broader Faculty Cluster Hiring Initiative, can be found here, and here.

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis is comprised of programs including American Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Metropolitan Studies, Africana Studies, Latino Studies, and Asian/Pacific/American Studies. Applicants who speak to one or more of these fields and have an interest in building Indigenous Studies curriculum/programming at NYU are encouraged to apply. Visit the SCA website: <http://as.nyu.edu/sca>.

The appointment will begin on September 1, 2022, subject to budgetary and administrative approval. Applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a research statement. Entry-level applicants should provide names and contact information of three recommenders. Ph.D. in hand by 9/1/2022 required. Because diversity and inclusion are an important part of the NYU mission, we request that you include a paragraph in your cover letter telling us how diversity and inclusion figure into your past, present, and future teaching, research, and community engagement. Information about diversity and inclusion statements may be found at <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity/recruitment/diversity-statements.html>.

The search committee will begin their review of applications on November 1, 2021. Please apply online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/94342>

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the FAS commitment to diversity, equality and inclusion, please read here <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9596

Academia Sinica

Rank: Assistant Research Fellow (equivalent to Assistant Professor)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Position Announcement

Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica

1. The Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica (IPSAS), Taipei, Taiwan, seeks to appoint full-time faculty members at the rank of assistant research fellow (which is equivalent to assistant professor). Application for higher rank will also be considered.
2. The applicant should specialize at least one of the following fields: (1) Taiwan politics and comparative democracy; (2) China and comparative politico-economic transition; (3) cross-Strait relations and international relations theory; (4) political changes in Asia and global democratic development; and, (5) political methodology.
3. The applicant must have a doctoral degree in political science or related disciplines, or is able to receive a Ph.D. degree by August 31, 2022.
4. Applicants for positions of assistant research fellow should submit the following documents:
 - (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
 - (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate or certification for completion of course work and successful defense of dissertation (for applicants who have not yet passed the oral examination, proof for completion of courses and a letter certifying imminent holding of oral examination are required);
 - (3) two copies of the doctoral dissertation (or draft) and other publications;
 - (4) an abstract (in both English and Chinese) of the doctoral dissertation;
 - (5) transcripts from undergraduate and graduate schools;
 - (6) a statement of research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
 - (7) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio; those applying for the position of assistant research fellow should have one letter from the dissertation advisor).
5. Applicants for positions of associate research fellow or above should submit the following documents:
 - (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
 - (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate;
 - (3) three representative publications (and two copies each);
 - (4) proofs for appointments in Taiwanese or international academic institutes;
 - (5) a statement of research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
 - (6) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio).
6. The application should be sent to Dr. Chung-li Wu, Director, Institute of Political Science, Academia Sinica, 128 Academia Rd., Sec. 2, Taipei 115201, Taiwan, R.O.C..

7. Questions can be forwarded to Ms. Ren-Yuan Lo at 886-2-2652-5303, faxed to 886-2-2783-2610, or e-mailed to ipsas@gate.sinica.edu.tw.

8. The application should be received by November 30, 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9592

Princeton University

Rank: Comparative Politics Postdoctoral Researchers at the Mamdouha S. Bobst Center for Peace and Justice

The Mamdouha S. Bobst Center for Peace and Justice at Princeton University, under the auspices of the Department of Politics and in collaboration with the School of Public and International Affairs, invites applications for postdoctoral or more senior research positions for the 2022-23 year. Renewal is contingent on satisfactory performance. The aim of the program is to promote a group of promising scholars in the broad area of comparative politics, with a special but not exclusive focus on empirical democratic theory and comparative institutions. This position is overseen by Professor Carles Boix, Robert Garrett Professor of Politics and Public Affairs.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have or expect to have a Ph.D. in the fields of political science, history, political sociology, and economics. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence for the duration of the appointment (anticipated to be September 1, 2022 through August 31, 2023).

For full consideration, apply by January 16, 2022, 11:59 p.m. EST.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/23081> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members.

Successful applicants will be provided a competitive salary, standard benefits, and an annual allowance to support conference and career development travel.

Successful applicants will be notified of the outcome of their application in March 2022.

For more information about the Comparative Politics Postdoctoral Program at the Mamdouha S. Bobst Center for Peace and Justice, please contact Naseem L. Brady, Bobst Center Manager at nlbrady@Princeton.EDU.

These positions are subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/16/2022
Date Posted: 10/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9568

University of Louisville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory
Specializations: Political Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Louisville is accepting applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin Fall 2022. The position is in political theory with a research emphasis on race, ethnicity and/or post-colonial identity in politics. The department welcomes candidates who address these topics from various traditions within political theory in conversation with American or comparative politics. The ideal candidate will contribute to the University of Louisville's stated commitment to become "a premier anti-racist metropolitan research university."

The successful candidate will be able to teach a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses related to the position's focus, as well as one introductory-level course in another subfield of political science. Teaching experience is a plus, and candidates should have demonstrated research potential. Candidates who are ABD will be considered, but College policy requires completion of the PhD by February 15th of the first probationary year.

The Department of Political Science has 16 full-time professors and is proud of a diverse and dynamic faculty and student body. We have over 500 students enrolled in BA and MA programs. The University of Louisville is a Carnegie-classified R1 metropolitan research university. The salary and benefits package are competitive.

Position is subject to final budgetary approval.

Interested candidates must apply online and attach a curriculum vitae. In addition, applicants should submit a cover letter, sample of written work, graduate transcripts, teaching evaluations (if available), and three letters of reference. We ask that in the cover letter, the candidate describe how their research, teaching, or service experiences support inclusive learning and diversity.

Materials should be sent to Dr. Tricia Gray, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292 or via email to polisci@louisville.edu. Priority application deadline is November 8, 2021; application review will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science encourages candidates to apply who have demonstrated capacity to create inclusive work environments, will work effectively on increasingly diverse teams, and will serve the increasingly diverse students we admit and want to attract.

<https://www.higheredjobs.com/institution/details.cfm?JobCode=177659559&Title=Assistant%20Professor%20of%20Political%20Science%20%28Job%20Id%3A%2042136%29&aID=7137>

To apply for this position, follow the "Apply on Institution's Website" at the link above and then click on the "Apply Now". You must answer all required fields and submit your application by clicking the "Submit" button. Detailed instructions are available at louisville.edu/jobs in the "My Career Tools" section. If the posting description requested that you follow up and mail or email other documents, your application will not be considered complete until those have been received by the department.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/15/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9571

University of Houston

Rank: Open Rank Faculty
Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics
Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) seeks to hire up to three tenured or tenure-track faculty members to begin in the Fall of 2022. We are interested in applicants who will help chart the future of the school with fresh ideas, practical experience, and an interdisciplinary mindset. Our faculty include experts in theoretical, practical, and analytical disciplines associated with public policy. We seek to complement that collective expertise with the three hires.

Competitive candidates are likely to have expertise in one or more of the following areas or in another foundational area of public policy or policymaking:

A core area of public policy and policymaking, including, but not limited to, defense, education, energy, the environment, health, housing, immigration, justice and law enforcement, national and foreign economic policy, political institutions, political economy, public finance, public management, social mobility, transportation, urban and community development, and voting and representation. Policy data formulation and analysis, including but not limited to, data visualization, decision algorithms, GIS, laboratory and field experiments, natural language processing, network analysis, probabilistic forecasts, project evaluation and randomized control trials, small area models, and survey methods.

Philosophy or ethics: (1) applied to an area of public policy or (2) focusing on a theoretical perspective (e.g., race, gender, governance, and markets) that cuts across and informs policy areas.

In the selection process, the search committee will prioritize collaborative scholars who: (1) engage in nationally-recognized, interdisciplinary work on significant public policy issues, (2) work with diverse populations, communities, and organizations, (3) demonstrate an eagerness to contribute to undergraduate and graduate education and student success, and (4) pursue grants, awards, and other sources of funding to support research, academic programming, student success, community engagement, and impact.

Interested individuals should apply at <https://www.uh.edu/human-resources/careers/> and provide: (1) a letter of interest, (2) evidence of teaching effectiveness and commitment to mentoring students, (3) a statement of research specialization and interests, (4) three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation, (5) a curriculum vita, and (6) up to three representative papers. References may be contacted to submit letters. We will inform applicants prior to asking for letters. Review of applications will begin on November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the search committee co-chairs—Pablo M. Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu) or Alan Witt (witt@uh.edu).

We are committed to the active recruitment and retention of a diverse faculty and students. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committee anticipates holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and will favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at https://uhsystem.edu/compliance-ethics/_docs/sam/01/1d51.pdf. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

The Hobby School of Public Affairs was created in 2016 by the University of Houston System. Incoming faculty will have the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology, leadership development, and ethical analysis in its teaching, training, and research. It is the home of UH's Center for Public Policy, Survey Research Institute, and Elizabeth D. Rockwell Center for Ethics and Leadership.

The Hobby School offers: (1) a Master of Public Policy (MPP) degree, (2) a dual degree program combining public policy with degrees in other fields—multidisciplinary studies (UH's Honors College), business, economics, law, psychology, and social work, (3) certificate programs in data analytics, energy policy, health care policy, public policy, and public administration, and (4) BS and BA degrees in public policy starting in January 2022. We are in the planning process for launching a PhD program. The Hobby School also runs the Institute on the Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) and offers workshops in social science methods under the Inter-University Consortium of Political and Social Research (ICPSR) Summer Institute.

The University of Houston is a Carnegie-designated Tier One research institution and is the flagship campus of a state-assisted higher education system that enrolls over 70,000 students. The University of Houston is recognized as one of the most racially and ethnically diverse research institutions in the nation. As such, we welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence.

Houston itself is a laboratory for the future. The city reflects what is happening in the United States and around the world in terms of demographic, cultural, political, and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (1) a growing economy, including a vibrant energy sector, robust manufacturing, a bustling port that serves as a hub for international trade, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center—the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award-winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) a relatively low cost of living among large cities.

The University of Houston is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications:

A PhD in the discipline and a scholarly record consistent with the rank is required.

Notes to Applicant: Official transcripts are required for a faculty appointment and will be requested upon selection of final candidate. All positions at the University of Houston are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check. Incomplete applications may not be considered.

Required Attachments by Candidate: Curriculum Vitae, Cover Letter/Letter of Application, Research Statement, Publications, Evidence of Effective Teaching

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9559

Wittenberg University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Wittenberg University seeks to hire a full-time, tenure track- assistant professor beginning August 1, 2022. Wittenberg is committed to attracting and retaining highly qualified individuals who collectively reflect the diversity of our student body and society at-large. We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in international relations or comparative politics, with a focus outside of advanced democracies and political economy. A successful candidate will also be expected to offer a course in American national institutions (i.e., Congress & the Presidency). Applicants must be committed to teaching in a liberal arts environment as well as to professional activity.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. (or ABD) in Political Science and interest in teaching in the liberal arts and sciences context. For further information about the position, please contact the chair of the Political Science Department at jallan@wittenberg.edu.

The successful candidate will demonstrate support for diversity, equity and inclusiveness as well as participate in maintaining a respectful, positive work environment. Please see our notice of nondiscrimination housed on our website.

Wittenberg University is committed to preventing and addressing sexual misconduct in our campus community. Our Title IX policies can be viewed on our university website.

Application Instructions:

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Interested applicants must apply online by visiting: <http://wittenberg.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=137949>.

Applications will not be accepted by email or postal mail. As part of the application process, please upload:

A cover letter;

A curriculum vitae;

Evidence of successful teaching;
Statement of teaching philosophy;
A statement that addresses your interest in teaching at a liberal arts college and how your experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values;
Unofficial graduate transcripts.

In addition, please ask your referees (three) to send their recommendation letters via email directly to Elizabeth Howe, Executive Assistant to the Provost (ehowe@wittenberg.edu).

If you are a person with a disability and require assistance with the application process, please contact Wittenberg's Human Resources Department at 937-327-7517.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9558

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in International Political Economy.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022.

The application deadline is Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/92232>

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9547

Eastern Illinois University

Rank: Instructor, Comparative Politics/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Illinois University invites applicants for a non-tenure track instructor beginning August 16, 2022. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and graduate courses primarily in Comparative Politics and Public Policy.

Successful candidates must have a doctorate or Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Affairs, Public Policy, or ABD status with evidence of substantial progress toward degree completion. Candidates must demonstrate commitment to teaching excellence, along with dedication to mentoring, applied learning, diversity, and promoting inclusive excellence.

Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate courses in Introduction to Politics and non-western comparative politics, graduate courses in Public Policy Analysis and Public Administration Ethics, and additional courses depending on fields of expertise. The teaching load is typically 7 classes per year. Online teaching is required for the graduate courses; training is provided by the university. The position also includes student research mentoring.

To apply, please submit a letter of application, CV, unofficial graduate transcripts, and names and contact information for three professional references to Interfolio at this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/96624>.

Application review begins November 8 and continues until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Illinois University offers undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Studies, and Civic and Nonprofit Leadership, an M.A. in Political Science, and an online M.A. in Political Science with a Public Administration/Public Policy option. Learn more about the department at www.eiu.edu/polisci. Questions about the search may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Karen Swenson (kbswenson@eiu.edu).

The University & Community

Eastern Illinois University takes pride in creating a warm, welcome environment for all faculty, staff, and students. Established in 1895, EIU boasts a rich, 125-year tradition of preparing students for their personal and professional goals. A traditional regional residential institution, EIU offers a superior education at a relatively low cost while consistently earning high rankings and distinctions for its affordability, academic program quality, career placement rates, campus safety, online degree options, student support, and sustainability initiatives.

EIU focuses on individualized attention and superior student relationships, and has earned recognition as the highest-ranking independent public regional university in Illinois and a place among the Midwest's top public regional universities according to U.S. News and World Report. EIU hosts more than 175 student organizations on campus, and offers a variety of cultural events, NCAA Division I athletics, and active research opportunities for its students to enjoy and to thrive. EIU has become recognized for providing the resources of a large institution while creating the kinds of individual relationships that support student and alumni success.

Eastern Illinois University is located in Charleston, Illinois—a comfortable and safe east central town within a two-to three-hour drive of three major metropolitan areas—Chicago, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9555

Stanford University Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law

Rank: Gerhard Casper Postdoctoral Fellow in Rule of Law

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Law, Other

The Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law (CDDRL) at Stanford University invites applications for the Gerhard Casper Fellow in Rule of Law for 2022-23. We welcome research on any aspect of rule of law, including judicial politics, criminal justice, and the politicization of judicial institutions. We are an interdisciplinary center; candidates from any relevant field (i.e. social sciences, law) are welcome to apply.

This is a one-year, residential postdoctoral fellowship. Candidates must have earned their PhD or JD within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their dissertations by July 2022. The Gerhard Casper Fellow will be part of CDDRL's larger cohort of pre- and postdoctoral fellows; for more information, see: <https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/cddrl-pre-doctoral-and-postdoctoral-fellowships>

Please apply through the CDDRL fellowship application process, and indicate in your cover letter that you would like to be considered for the Gerhard Casper Rule of Law Postdoctoral Fellowship. Application materials include a CV, cover letter (of no more than 3 pages), a statement of proposed research (5-10 pages), a complete set of transcripts, and 3 letters of recommendation.

The online application is available here: https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/stanford_cddrl_fellowship

For additional questions, please contact fellowship coordinator Kristin Chandler (kdchandler@stanford.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/17/2021

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9551

California State University, Los Angeles

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Latin American, Middle East, Africa

Minimum Qualifications:

- 1) An earned doctorate (Ph.D.) in Political Science or a closely-related discipline from an accredited institution (or equivalent) is required; however, applicants nearing completion of the doctorate (ABD) may be considered. For appointment, the doctorate must be completed by the date of appointment (August 18, 2022).
- 2) Evidence of or demonstrated interest in teaching the following courses in the following areas: Power, Politics and Engagement in US Government (i.e., Introduction to American Government); Foundations of Comparative Politics; Foundations of Global Politics; and upper-division and graduate courses in one of the following two areas: (a) Latin American politics or (b) Middle East/ African politics.

3) Demonstrated research interest in Latin American or Middle East/ African politics.

Preferred Qualifications:

- 1) Demonstrated interest in or evidence of successful teaching experience at the undergraduate and graduate levels.
- 2) Demonstrated research interest on and/or teaching experience in one or more of the following topics: social movements, human rights, and race and ethnicity.
- 3) Evidence of independent publications in scholarly journals (for co-author publications, applicant should describe contribution).

Duties:

The primary professional responsibilities of instructional faculty members are: teaching, research, scholarship and/or creative activity, and service to the University, profession and to the community. These responsibilities generally include: advising students, participation in campus and system-wide committees, maintaining office hours, working collaboratively and productively with colleagues, and participation in traditional academic functions.

The successful candidate will teach courses at both the lower- and upper-division undergraduate level, as well as graduate courses, and will participate in the curriculum development process. Commitment to excellence in all aspects of undergraduate teaching and mentorship is essential, as is a passion for working with students, both in and beyond the classroom. The successful candidate is also expected to maintain an active research program; scholarly activity and peer-reviewed publications and/or grant activity are required for tenure/promotion.

The successful candidate will be committed to the academic success of all of our students and to an environment that acknowledges, encourages, and celebrates diversity and differences. To this end, the successful candidate will work effectively, respectfully, and collaboratively in diverse, multicultural, and inclusive settings. In addition, the successful candidate will be ready to join faculty, staff, students, and administrators in our University's shared commitment to the principles of engagement, service, and the public good.

Salary: Initial salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

The University:

California State University, Los Angeles (Cal State LA) is one of 23 campuses within the California State University system. The University is the premier comprehensive public university in the heart of Los Angeles. Cal State LA is ranked number one in the U.S. for the upward mobility of its students, and is dedicated to engagement, service, and the public good. We offer nationally recognized programs in science, the arts, business, criminal justice, engineering, nursing, education, ethnic studies, and the humanities. Our faculty have a strong commitment to scholarship, research, creative pursuits, community engagement, and service.

Our 240,000 alumni reflect the City and County's dynamic mix of populations. The University has one of the most diverse student populations of any college or university in the nation. As a federally recognized Hispanic-Serving Institution, and Asian-American, Native American, and Pacific Islander-Serving Institution, Cal State LA recognizes the transformative power of education and embraces its duty to identify and serve the needs of all of its students. The University is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can live, work and learn in an atmosphere of civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual.

The Department:

The Department of Political Science at Cal State LA consists of 13 tenured/tenure-track faculty with teaching and research interests in public administration, public law, American government, political theory, comparative politics, and international relations (i.e., global politics). Faculty are active scholars, as well as innovative teachers, who participate in University governance and serve in numerous student advisory capacities. The department serves approximately 370 undergraduate majors and 100 graduate students through its MA and MPA programs.

Required Documentation:

Please submit the following to the Global Politics Search Committee at the email address below:

- 1) A cover letter specifically addressing minimum and preferred qualifications.
- 2) A narrative statement describing your commitment to working effectively with faculty, staff, and students in a multicultural/multiethnic urban campus environment with a substantial population of students who are among the first-generation of their family to attend a college or university.
- 3) A curriculum vitae.
- 4) A list of three professional references.
- 5) A University Application for Employment Form (https://www.calstatela.edu/sites/default/files/groups/Human%20Resources%20Management/forms/empl_application_academic_2017_11_28.pdf)
- 6) A teaching statement, including teaching philosophy and strategies.
- 7) A research statement describing current and potential future projects.

Finalists will be required to submit:

Official transcripts and two letters of recommendation.

Employment is contingent upon proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Application:

Review of applications will begin November 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Please email all application materials as attachments in PDF format (we strongly recommend that you combine all elements of the application into a single PDF file). Send to Veronica Lee, Department Program Coordinator: vlee51@calstatela.edu. Please type "Department of Political Science, Tenure-Track Application for Global Politics" in the subject line.

Please address all questions to the search committee chair, Dr. Timothy Lim, at: tclim@calstatela.edu.

Note: The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

CSU requires faculty, staff, and students who are accessing campus facilities to be immunized against COVID-19 or declare a medical or religious exemption from doing so. Any candidates advanced in a currently open search process should be prepared to comply with this requirement. The systemwide policy can be found at <https://calstate.policystat.com/policy/9779821/latest/> and questions may be sent to OfficeHRM@calstatela.edu.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/15/2021

Date Posted: 10/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9546

Symphony Talent

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate in Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, Social Movements, Research Methods

Post-Doctoral Associate in Political Science

Division of Social Sciences

NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint a Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science starting September 2022. Later start dates are also possible. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is a pioneer of higher education in a global world, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research, while advancing cooperation and progress on humanity's shared challenges. Part of the NYU global network, NYU Abu Dhabi offers an outstanding liberal arts and science education to students from the United Arab Emirates, United States, and around the world, focusing on intercultural understanding and leadership. It supports innovative research that pushes the frontiers of knowledge forward and responds in powerful and interdisciplinary ways to vital global and local questions. NYU Abu Dhabi advances NYU as a model university for the 21st century and contributes in multiple ways to the development of a sustainable, knowledge-based economy in Abu Dhabi.

As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students, and providing an intellectually rich environment.

About the Social Science Division: More information can be found here:

https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html?_charset=UTF-8&program=political-science-major&affiliation=&keywords=

<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

Working for NYU Abu Dhabi

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home and in order for you to research, teach, and thrive, we're offering a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. Start with generous relocation allowances to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by competitive salaries, housing and transportation allowances, and educational assistance for your dependents. Health and wellness services round out our offerings, plus more. Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

Applicants have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in political science, with a particular interest for interdisciplinary interactions with the other fields in the Division, in particular in Economics, Sociology and Public Policy.

Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/93481>

- CV
- Statement of Teaching Interests
- Research Sample/Job Market Paper
- Names and contact information for three (3) references. (References will be contacted and asked to submit their confidential letter through the online application system, Interfolio.)

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1st and will continue on a rolling basis. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in the Fall. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in academic year 2022-2023.

Note: We will continue to consider applicants until all positions are filled.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

If this sounds like you, apply now.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9515

University of Kentucky

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY, invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level in Comparative Politics beginning in fall 2022. The department is interested in candidates with strong quantitative/methodological skills who demonstrate clear potential to conduct high-quality research and to attract extramural funds. We are interested in candidates whose research contributes to our understanding of a range of political phenomena including, but not limited to, the representation/exclusion of politically marginalized individuals, groups, or communities. Applicants should also show strong potential to provide effective graduate and undergraduate teaching. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science by August 2022.

Interested applicants should apply online at: <https://ukjobs.uky.edu/postings/351711>. Applications should include the following: 1) a letter stating the candidate's research and teaching interests, 2) curriculum vita, 3) two-three publications or writing samples (upload as Writing Sample), 4) research statement (upload as Specific Request 1), 5) if possible, evidence of teaching experience, particularly syllabi from courses taught (upload as Specific Request 2), and 6) statement on inclusivity (upload as Specific Request 3). As a department and university, we are strongly committed to creating an inclusive and effective teaching, learning, research, and working environment for all. In one to two pages, applicants should reflect on their commitments, approaches, and insights related to inclusion, diversity, and equity. Also provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information will be utilized to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

Consideration of applicants will begin on October 22, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries may be sent to Dr. Emily Bacchus, CP Search Co-chair at eabeau2@uky.edu.

The University of Kentucky is an Equal Opportunity Employer and encourages applications from veterans, individuals with disabilities, women, African Americans, and all minorities.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9490

University of Virginia

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Democracy and International Relations or Comparative Politics, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia's Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences launched a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, and Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere. Across all the searches, the Departments seek to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative's other projects.

This year, with the support of the Nau Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position for a scholar who studies democracy in a comparative or international context. Candidates should have an active research agenda and a strong commitment to excellent teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. We are especially interested in scholars who study international institutions, challenges to democratic consolidation, civil conflicts, and/or identity politics or the politics of development in countries or regions outside of North America and Europe. We are also especially interested in candidates with strong backgrounds in quantitative research methods.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale by bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary and supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs consist of a series of three-year, rotating labs on various topics, connected by the work of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Nau Core Lab), an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach. Current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, the links between environmental and racial inequality, and race, religion, and democracy. The Democracy Initiative also supports two projects focused on community engagement and research, the Memory Project and The Equity Center. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the Nau Core lab or one of the Initiative's other research labs or projects.

Application review will begin November 1, 2021 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2021. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>; search for posting #R0029153 complete the application, and attach the following:

 Please note all required documents must be uploaded in the 'Resume' box and can be combined into one PDF file.

1. Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations (not to exceed three single spaced pages).
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. A statement outlining what kinds of intellectual and/or institutional contributions you could envision making to the Democracy Initiative (not to exceed two single-spaced pages).
4. A research statement (not to exceed three single-spaced pages).
5. A teaching philosophy (not to exceed one single-spaced page).

The following MUST be Submitted directly to: pol-ircp-search2021@virginia.edu.

1. One article-length writing sample
2. Three letters of recommendation

Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.

Questions about this position should be directed to Jennifer Lawless at jl9jx@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7f@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu>. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkcva.com/>.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

COVID Vaccination Requirement

The University of Virginia expects all current and new employees (UVA Health System and Academic), to be vaccinated against COVID-19.

If hired to work within the University Health System, you will be required to provide proof of vaccination or be willing to receive the vaccination. Employees may request a medical or religious exemption from vaccination.

If hired to work on the Academic side of the University, excluding the School of Medicine, School of Nursing, UPG, and the Health Systems Library, you will be required to provide proof of vaccination or be willing to submit to mandatory, weekly prevalence testing. Employees that are working 100% remotely will not be subject to weekly prevalence testing; however, if the employee works on UVA Grounds (including the Medical Center) even intermittently, then they are required to be tested for COVID-19 once per week on an indefinite basis and follow masking mandates.

NOTE: Some medical and safety-sensitive positions require vaccination and are not eligible for an exemption. For more information on how the vaccination and testing requirements will apply to you at your work location, see the UVA New Hire Vaccination Requirements webpage.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System which represents the UVA Medical Center, Schools of Medicine and Nursing, UVA Physician's Group and the Claude Moore Health Sciences Library, are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9496

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity

Subfield(s): Open, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Dartmouth College invites applications for a Guarini Dean's Postdoctoral Fellowship in the Department of Government. This fellowship supports scholars whose research addresses the politics of race and ethnicity in any subfield. In addition, the fellowship promotes student and faculty diversity at Dartmouth, and throughout higher education, by supporting research by underrepresented scholars, and others, with a demonstrated ability to advance educational diversity and inclusivity. Applicants will be selected on the basis of their academic achievement, promise in both research and teaching, and their demonstrated commitment to addressing underrepresentation in higher education.

This is a two-year residential fellowship, with one course taught in the second year. Throughout, fellows are expected to pursue research activities while participating fully in the intellectual life of the department and the college. Fellows receive an annual stipend of approximately $55,200 plus benefits and an allocation for research expenses (exact funding levels will be set at the time of offer).

Guarini Dean's Postdoctoral Fellows are part of the Provost's Fellowship Program, a multidisciplinary cohort of approximately ten predoctoral and postdoctoral scholars who share a commitment to increasing diversity and inclusivity in their disciplines. Fellows participate together in mentoring and professional development programming, including guidance in preparing for faculty careers.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Qualifications

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline or be ABD with a Ph.D. expected before the start date of their appointment.

Application Instructions:

- 1) Cover letter, including an overview of research areas and teaching interests; please also describe your prior contributions to advancing diversity and inclusivity in higher education and your motivations to join this multidisciplinary fellowship program;
- 2) CV;
- 3) Dissertation description (maximum two pages single-spaced);
- 4) Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which should be from the dissertation advisor.

Applications must be submitted electronically at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/95110>. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. If you have any questions, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Yusaku Horiuchi (Yusaku.Horiuchi@dartmouth.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/1/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9486

Georgia State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2022. We seek a scholar whose research focuses on the politics of identity broadly defined (including, but not limited to ethnicity, race, gender, class, sexual orientation, and religion). We welcome scholars in any subfield of political science (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law, or Political Theory) or closely related discipline. The successful candidate will join a faculty with existing strengths in race and ethnicity, gender and politics, partisan and identity political polarization, civil conflict, and immigration politics. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to teach courses on the politics of identity at the undergraduate, M.A., and PhD levels as well as other courses in their area of expertise.

Georgia State University, an enterprising R-1 university located in Atlanta, is a national leader in using innovation to drive student success and research growth. Enrolling and graduating one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, Georgia State provides its world-class faculty and more than 50,000 students unsurpassed research, teaching, and learning opportunities in one of the 21st century's great global cities. The Department is committed to serving this student body and advancing innovative research by building a diverse faculty. The College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks in college-level program development. GSU is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity. Among the core values of the department are diversity, equity, accessibility and inclusion. We invite people of all backgrounds and identities, including, but not limited to races, ages, ethnicities, nationalities, religious beliefs, genders, sexual orientations, and abilities, as well as first-generation candidates, to apply for this position. The department's full vision, mission and values statement is available at <https://bit.ly/3DZ6Y0n>.

Essential Qualifications:

- o A research agenda that indicates a clear theoretical and/or empirical engagement with the politics of identity.
- o Ability to teach courses on identity politics and related topics at the undergraduate and graduate level.
- o Interest in teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds.
- o A Ph.D. in hand or evidence that a PhD will be awarded by August 2022.

Preferred Qualifications:

- o Demonstrated evidence of research productivity such as publications, articles under review, conference papers, or grant-seeking activity.
- o Demonstrated potential of teaching effectiveness, such as syllabi of past or future courses, teaching statement, or teaching evaluations.

Applicants should send a letter of interest that details how the essential and preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a brief statement outlining their ability to work with a diverse student body, a statement of their research agenda, examples of scholarly work, and evidence of teaching effectiveness to polsearch@gsu.edu, indicating Tenure-track Identity Politics position in the subject line. Please list three references (with name, title, email and phone number) who will provide letters of recommendation upon request.

Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

Further information about the department can be found at politicalscience.gsu.edu. Georgia State University is an equal opportunity employer. It continues to be the policy of the University to implement affirmative action and equal opportunity for all employees, students, contractors, consultants and applicants for employment or admission without regard to race, color, religion, creed, national origin, sex, age, gender, transgender status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or disability. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9488

College of Charleston

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative and International Politics)

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications from candidates working in the subfields of comparative politics or international relations for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor, beginning August 2022. The Department is particularly interested in applicants with a thematically oriented research agenda focusing on one or more of the following: Race, ethnicity, & politics, migration & citizenship, or democracy & autocracy. The Department will consider candidates that take critical approaches to international politics, engaging with questions surrounding power relationships, structural inequities, racial, ethnic and caste divisions, and colonial legacies. We are seeking candidates with a primary regional expertise in Latin America or the Middle East & North Africa. In addition to upper-level classes that align with the person's research interests, teaching requirements include some combination of Introduction to World Politics, International Relations Theory, and Introduction to Comparative Politics. An interest in teaching the department's undergraduate research methods course (approach can be quantitative, qualitative, or mixed methods) is a plus. The Department is also interested in candidates who have experience in mentoring and advising students from diverse backgrounds and a demonstrated commitment to improving access to higher education for students who represent historically oppressed and marginalized identities. A PhD in Political Science, Geography, or a related discipline is required.

The Political Science Department has 20 full-time faculty, over 360 undergraduate majors (<http://polisci.cofc.edu/>), and a Geography Minor (<http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/>). The department also supports a NASPAA Accredited Master of Public Administration (<http://puba.cofc.edu/>) and Master of Science in Environmental and Sustainability Studies (<http://mes.cofc.edu/>) program. The Department of Political Science is committed to the rigorous study of politics, power, and place, expanding opportunities for learning and service, career preparation and civic participation locally and globally.

The College of Charleston is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 800,000. The College is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with a student body of approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 900 graduate students, 20% of whom identify as minority, and 140 international students from 34 different countries. Additional information about the institution, the student body, and the surrounding area is available at <https://www.cofc.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <https://jobs.cofc.edu/> and submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations) and contact information for three references.

Questions about the search can be directed to the chair of the political science department Dr. Hollis France franceh@cofc.edu. Review of applications will begin November 15th, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The College seeks to create a work environment and organizational culture that reflects the society and community in which it is located, and a climate for the success of every employee and student by appreciating the uniqueness that each one brings to the learning environment. To that end, we actively encourage applications from all groups underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9471

Georgetown University

Rank: Provost's Distinguished Fellow and Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Race, Ethnicity and Identity Politics. This search is open to all four fields in the Government Department (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations and Political Theory) and all subfields within political science. Importantly, we seek applicants whose research expands the boundaries of political science and also those whose research invigorates existing and enduring questions in political science with scholarly insights and perspectives drawn from the politics of race, ethnicity and identity.

Successful candidates will contribute to an intellectual and academic agenda at Georgetown that seeks to establish the University as a premier center for research and teaching in race, ethnicity and identity politics. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to work with multiple units across the University which study race, ethnicity, and the politics of identity, including, among others, the newly established Racial Justice Institute, the African American Studies Department, the McCourt School of Public Policy, and the Georgetown Law Center.

For the first year of this position, the successful candidate will also hold the title of Provost's Distinguished Faculty Fellow, and will have no teaching and service responsibilities to allow a focus on research while receiving mentorship and support from two senior faculty members. More on the Distinguished Faculty Fellow Program can be found at <https://blog.provost.georgetown.edu/increasing-georgetown-effectiveness-in-recruiting-faculty/>).

Candidates should submit a cover letter, cv, three letters of reference, an academic writing sample, and a statement on diversity, equity and inclusion. In this DEI statement, applicants are asked to address any DEI activities they have been involved with (including research, teaching, community service, volunteer work, or presentations), and to highlight how aspects of their own identity (including, among others, ethnic, sociocultural, racial, religious, gender, and sexual identity) have shaped their experiences and world view, including any experiences of discrimination or barriers to advancement. Additionally, candidates are asked to address how diversity, equity and inclusion can advance the academic enterprise, to offer ideas on how to promote equity and inclusion in higher education and in the discipline of political science, more generally. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to academic excellence and diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) through experience teaching and research on matters related to DEI or through service that has fostered DEI in a university community. Please submit these materials to <http://apply.interfolio.com/95204> by October 15, 2021 to ensure full consideration, but review of applications will be on-going. The position remains open until filled. Please direct any questions regarding the search to Prof. Douglas S. Reed at reedd@georgetown.edu. Administrative questions regarding search logistics may be directed to Ileana Aguilar at ima2@georgetown.edu.

About Georgetown University and the Government Department

The Government Department at Georgetown is a leading department of Political Science. We are an open, dynamic, and publicly engaged community of scholars, students, and professional staff. We believe in the ideal of scholarship for its own sake but are also deeply committed to the role of cutting-edge research in informing politics and public life. We see our setting in Washington, DC as a rich opportunity for the study of politics, particularly within the field of race, ethnicity and identity politics and we particularly welcome applications from scholars whose research strives to connect the local and particular with broader forces and constructs within political life.

Georgetown University is one of the world's leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service.

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation's oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

If you are a qualified individual with a disability and need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please click here for more information, or contact the Office of Institutional Diversity, Equity & Affirmative Action (IDEAA) at (202) 687-4798. We encourage applications from individuals who will contribute to diversity in higher education and who show the potential to advance the department's goal of a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive scholarly environment.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 10/15/2021

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9470

Baldwin-Wallace University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Specializations: East Asia, International Security, Middle East

Rank: Assistant Professor-Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics and Global Citizenship at Baldwin Wallace (BW) University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Science effective August 2022. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in all facets of a faculty appointment, especially teaching.

The Department welcomes applications from candidates who will build on existing programs and areas of strength in the Department and help us continue supporting interdisciplinary programs on regional studies at BW. The position is intended to meet and expand curricular needs within the Department; to broaden the Department's experiential learning opportunities; and to contribute to initiatives in the College of Arts and Sciences and to Baldwin Wallace University's mission of "assisting students in their preparation to become contributing, compassionate citizens of an increasingly global society and encourages their pursuit of personal and professional excellence."

Broadly trained specialists with expertise in comparative politics or related fields are encouraged to apply. Candidates should demonstrate experience and expertise in teaching, advising, and a willingness to contribute to the Department's experiential learning opportunities we offer to our student body. The successful hire will assist in the curricular development of the Department's growing undergraduate programs in International Studies, Legal Studies, National Security, and Political Science.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, interdisciplinary expertise, teaching experience in related areas, and willingness to mentor undergraduate students are required. Relevant teaching and/or professional experience in non-traditional security areas (e.g., disruptive technologies, resource scarcity, climate change, infectious diseases, human security, etc.) and regional expertise, preferably in East Asia or the Middle East, would be desirable. The successful candidate will be expected to teach the introductory courses in American Government and Comparative Politics, and the entry-level course on research design and political methodology. Other courses to teach would relate to the new hire's specialization areas.

Baldwin Wallace University is a selective liberal arts university on the outskirts of Cleveland, Ohio. Its Political Science, International Studies, National Security, and Legal Studies programs currently serve approximately one-hundred majors and minors while playing an active role in campus internationalization. BW emphasizes teaching, advising, and service and also encourages and supports scholarship.

Interested candidates should submit a letter summarizing their interest and qualifications, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, other evidence of effective teaching, and three letters of reference in one (1) Word or one (1) PDF document and submit via the To Apply link on BW's Employment and Careers' web page at <https://www.bw.edu/about/hr/employment/>. Review of applications will begin on October 25, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries about the faculty position or Department should be directed to Javier Morales-Ortiz, Chair and Associate Professor, jmorales@bw.edu. Questions about the application process and document submission may be addressed to Jacquelin Yavornitzky, Administrative Specialist, JaYavorn@bw.edu.

Baldwin Wallace University is an EEO/AA employer and educator. At BW, we support and encourage diversity in a variety of forms. We value and appreciate inclusive excellence in the classroom, within extracurricular activities, and as we engage our community partners. Learn more at Diversity Affairs - <https://www.bw.edu/about/diversity>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9434

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Central Asia, East Asia, Latin American

The SUNY Cortland Political Science department is seeking a tenure track faculty member at the rank of Assistant Professor with a focus on comparative politics and a regional specialization in Asia or Latin America. We have particular interest in scholars who specialize in terrorism, revolutions, international politics, international economic relations or international conflict. Expertise in international relations also highly desirable.

The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum (e.g., Introduction to World Politics, American Foreign Policy, Comparative Politics Asia Comparative Politics Latin America). They may also teach a basic methods course. The typical load is three classes per semester.

SUNY Cortland has a strong commitment to the affirmation of diversity and offers courses addressing inclusion studies and global diversity, as well as interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies, Latinx and Latin American Studies, Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies and Native American Studies.

The Political Science department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, and is one of the most active and visible in the University. The department has about 100 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, and several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in Political Science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

Candidates for this position should demonstrate: a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of experiential activities (e.g., Model UN, Study Abroad); engagement in service to the department, school, university, local community and profession; a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion and social justice and support for an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

Required qualifications: PhD in Political Science by appointment date or ABD with a scheduled completion date; Teaching and research focus on Comparative Politics or International Relations and higher education teaching experience.

Interested candidates should electronically submit 1) a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests, 2) a curriculum vita, 3) the names and contact information for at least three references, 4) a statement of teaching philosophy to include evidence of teaching effectiveness, including sample syllabi, if available, 5) a copy of transcript for their highest or most recent degree and 6) a published work or writing sample. <https://jobs.cortland.edu/postings/5108>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9442

University of Illinois, Springfield

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Immigration Policy, Social Welfare

The Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. The department seeks candidates with expertise in the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality (broadly construed) as well as teaching interests in research methods. We seek applicants whose teaching and research focus on the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality in the context of American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. The successful candidate is expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses both online and on-ground in their area of specialization as well as in their broader subfields, contribute to the department's research methods curriculum, and chair MA theses and comprehensive exams. The candidate is also expected to pursue an active research agenda and engage in service activities.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science by August 16, 2022. Candidates must demonstrate potential for excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service. Prior teaching experience at the college or university level is required. The regular teaching load for tenure-track appointments is 3-3. The successful candidate will have opportunities to receive course relief for curriculum development or scholarship.

This is a full-time on-campus position tenure-track academic appointment. UIS tenure-system faculty are expected to be available and engaged in the campus community, with assigned professional responsibilities for teaching, scholarship, and service.

The UIS Department of Political Science offers excellent academic preparation and opportunities to become engaged in real world politics for both undergraduate and graduate students. We offer undergraduate and graduate degrees in political science, and majors in public policy and global studies. Students also have the opportunity to receive a minor in political science and global studies. Several of these programs are fully online or on campus. The department has recently undergone a rigorous and exciting academic reorganization into a School of Politics and International Affairs, whose administrative structure will finalize in 2022.

One of the largest departments in the College of Public Affairs and Administration, the UIS Department of Political Science offers an opportunity for our students to live politics in the classroom, on the campus and in the community. Engaged political science makes the connections between the classroom and the world explicit as we challenge our students to both grasp the course material and explore how it has an impact outside of the classroom. The UIS Department of Political Science bridges the worlds of the “academic” and “practical” by providing concrete opportunities for the practice of theory and the theory of practice. Our school champions a culture of inclusion and diversity; we encourage applications from women and members of historically underrepresented groups.

Application deadline: October 29, 2021

About UIS: Located in the state capital, the University of Illinois Springfield is one of three members of the University of Illinois system. The University serves approximately 4,000 students in 21 graduate and 31 undergraduate programs. The academic curriculum offers students a strong liberal arts core, a wide range of professional programs, and close faculty interaction. Making the most of its location in the state capital, UIS is broadly engaged in public policy and service. Its diverse student body includes traditional, non-traditional, and international students. Twenty-five percent of majors are in 17 undergraduate and graduate online degree programs and the campus has received several national awards for its implementation of online learning. UIS faculty are committed teachers, active scholars, and professionals in service to society. The University emphasizes excellence in teaching, and faculty are also expected to provide a balance of scholarship and service activities to meet requirements for tenure and promotion. You are encouraged to visit the university web page at <http://www.uis.edu> and the department web page at <https://www.uis.edu/politicalscience/>

Responsibilities:

- Teach a 3/3 load (online and on-campus) in the Department of Political Science;
- Offer courses on the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality (broadly construed) as well as research methods. The candidate will be able to teach additional courses in at least one of the following subfields: American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. The candidate will be able to chair MA theses and comprehensive exams in the subfield of American Politics and also in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations;
- Assist with department, college, and university-level service activities;
- Engage in scholarship activities that result in a significant publication record;
- Contribute to our undergraduate and graduate curricula, both on-campus and online.

Qualifications:

Earned doctorate (expected by August 2022) in political science;
 Desire and potential for excellence in teaching;
 Experience and/or willingness to teach in an online degree program;
 Potential/evidence of strong scholarly productivity and an active research agenda;
 Potential/evidence of strong record of excellence in professional service;
 Teaching experience at the college or university level;
 Willingness to grow a culture of inclusion and diversity

To Apply:

Go to <https://jobs.uis.edu/job-board/job-details?jobID=153958&job=assistant-professor-department-of-political-science-school-of-politics-international-affairs-153958> to create or update your profile and complete the online application. Additionally, please upload (1) cover letter addressing the responsibilities of the position, (2) current curriculum vita, (3) a teaching portfolio that includes your teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and sample syllabi, (4) sample of scholarship, and (5) names and contact information (email address and phone number) for three professional references. Only those applicants who complete the online application and upload all required materials by the October 29, 2021 application deadline will be considered; incomplete applications will not be evaluated. To maintain the integrity and confidentiality of the search process, applicants are asked to upload their own materials. Formal review of applications will begin after October 29, 2021, and continue until the position is filled or the search terminated. For questions regarding the position, contact Dr. Sibel Oktay, Associate Professor and Search Committee Chair at sibelo@uis.edu

More About UIS & Our Springfield Community:

The University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) is a premier public university that provides students with a high-quality liberal arts education, exceptional public affairs opportunities, and outstanding professional preparation programs. UIS is one of three universities of the world-class University of Illinois system and has been ranked by US News & World Report as one of the top 10 regional public universities in the Midwest.

UIS celebrates its diversity with a campus comprised of students and faculty of various ages, backgrounds, and ethnicities. Faculty members are accomplished teacher-scholars, and UIS has a national reputation for innovation in teaching and excellence in online education. Located in the state capital, UIS has established a reputation for Leadership lived, based upon four core strengths: the educational richness of its teaching-focused academic experience; the abundant opportunities it provides for students to collaborate with faculty and gain practical experience through institutional partners; the right-sized supportive community it offers; and its tradition of educating public servants and leaders in private and public sectors. UIS is a community-engaged campus whose students contribute over 66,000 hours of community service each year.

The surrounding Springfield community offers a wonderful quality of life. A lively entertainment scene includes jazz, blues, community theatre, municipal opera, comedy, and live music, including downtown music festivals. Additional cultural and sporting attractions are conveniently located a few hours away in St. Louis, Chicago, and Indianapolis. With a population of about 117,000, Springfield offers great restaurants, shopping, and other city amenities while retaining the friendliness and affordability of small-town living (and without the heavy traffic). The area also has a wide variety of recreational opportunities, including biking and hiking trails, ice rinks, sports complexes, and several first-class golf courses. Lake Springfield offers fishing, boating, and other recreational water activities. Springfield is also home to a wildlife sanctuary, zoo, lakeside memorial gardens, botanical gardens, and one of the world’s largest carillons.

Springfield was home to Abraham Lincoln, our nation’s sixteenth president and one of its most famous political figures. A historical downtown area features the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library & Museum, the Old State Capitol, the Lincoln historical district, historic reenactments and events, the Illinois State Museum, and a variety of specialty shops and restaurants which make Springfield the most prominent tourist destination in central Illinois.

Springfield is also home to the second Illinois Medical District (the first being in Chicago) and includes two major medical centers, Memorial Health Systems and HSHS St. John's Health Systems, as well as the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. The medical community and state government are the two largest employers in Springfield.

Springfield offers daily Amtrak service to St. Louis and Chicago as well as to points beyond. A regional airport offers daily service to major hubs in Chicago and Dallas. City bus service is provided from the UIS campus to various locations around the city.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9448

Augustana University

Rank: Nef Family Chair of Political Economy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic Policy

The Nef Family Chair of Political Economy
Augustana University

Augustana University (Sioux Falls, SD) invites applications for an endowed chair in political economy. The Rudy & Marilyn Nef Family Chair of Political Economy will advance the study of market economies and representative democracies, both within the campus community and in the region. This tenure-track faculty position will be housed in the Government and International Affairs Department, but will draw on a breadth of research and extensive teaching experience to provide recognized scholarship and enthusiastic, effective instruction to the University's offerings in economics, political science, public policy, and business. The Nef Family Chair will also provide collaborative and creative leadership in partnership with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

We seek an outstanding teacher/scholar who reflects the foundational relevance of economic analysis in the design and administration of public policies, and who speaks authoritatively to the positive role of free markets, localized decision making and competition in a free society. The unique nature of this endowed chair position grants wide latitude to the instructor in terms of the courses offered, save a required course on capitalistic economic systems. Candidates capable of teaching upper-level Comparative Politics, Comparative/International Political Economy, Policy Analysis or Microeconomics are strongly encouraged to apply.

Additional responsibilities will include student advising, student research mentorship, and planning and facilitating public symposia relevant to the scholar's teaching and research. Interacting with students, faculty and leadership with different backgrounds and points of view and a deep appreciation of and respect for academic values and culture must be a top value of the candidate. A doctorate is required. Compensation, rank and length of tenure track will be commensurate with experience. The starting date for this 12-month appointment is August, 2022. Screening will begin November 7th and continue until the position is filled. Finalists will be expected to present an engaging topic as part of the interview process.

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Application Procedure:

Please send a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; Augustana University employment application; statement of commitment to diversity; statement of teaching philosophy; addresses, phone numbers and email addresses of three current references; and unofficial transcripts electronically to Human Resources at humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: www.augie.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9443

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate/2022-2023 CSDP Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Postdoctoral Research Associate/Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) 2022-2023

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks post-doctoral or more senior research associates for ten-month positions anticipated to start on September 1, 2022. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. PhD required. <https://csdp.princeton.edu/apply>

Each research associate will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs, and the Department of Politics. CSDP scholars are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events.

Successful candidates will receive a competitive salary and applicable Princeton University benefits in accordance with university guidelines, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, and the names of two (and not more than two) references. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this 2022-2023 postdoctoral research associate position must apply to <https://www.princeton.edu/>

acad-positions/position/22462 . The deadline for receipt of complete applications is Wednesday, December 1, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. EST. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of the business day on Friday, December 3, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 9/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9417

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar/2022-2023 CSDP Fellow
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Visiting Research Scholar/Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP)

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks visiting scholars for the 2022-2023 academic year. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. Applications are welcome from political scientists and scholars in related social science disciplines. CSDP visiting scholar positions are restricted to employed scholars on leave who are expected to return to their position.

Each scholar will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs, and the Department of Politics. CSDP scholars are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events. Visiting scholars from academic institutions often receive up to one-half their academic-year salaries from their home institutions for the appointment period. The amount that Princeton contributes to the scholar's salary is based on the financial support provided by their home institution. Selected candidates will be asked to indicate, or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm, what percentage of financial support their home institution and other sources are likely to provide during their visit, if any, and to submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2022 - July 1, 2023) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary. Successful candidates will also receive applicable benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance.

Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Verification of employment will be requested prior to approval by the Dean of the Faculty. PhD or equivalent doctoral degree required. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, a brief statement of anticipated (estimated) salary support from the home institution for the 2021-2022 academic year, and statement of the home institution's leave policy. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this Visiting Research Scholar position for 2022-2023 should apply to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22461>. The deadline for receipt of complete applications is Wednesday, December 1, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. EST.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 9/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9418

Fairfield University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

The Politics Department at Fairfield University invites applications for an assistant professor position in Comparative Politics – with a teaching and research focus on Asia. We are particularly interested in individuals whose teaching and research interests involve China or India. The instructor will offer an introductory course in comparative politics, courses in Asian politics, and courses in their areas of specialization. An interest in teaching International Political Economy and/or the ability to teach an introductory course in another subfield would be an asset. The normal teaching load is three undergraduate courses each semester. The salary and benefits for this position are highly competitive.

Applicants are expected to have completed a Ph.D. by September 2022. Applicants must have a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching. Teaching experience is preferred.

Fairfield University is a comprehensive, co-educational, Jesuit university with a 200-acre campus located in the scenic shoreline community of Fairfield, CT, one hour from New York City. Consistently ranked as a top comprehensive university in New England, Fairfield enrolls approximately 4,500 undergraduate and 1,200 graduate students pursuing degrees within the College of Arts and Sciences and four schools: The Charles F. Dolan School of Business, The Marion Peckham Egan School of Nursing and Health Studies, The School of Engineering, and The School of Education and Human Development. As an expression of our Jesuit identity, Fairfield embraces a liberal humanistic approach to education, encouraging critical thinking, cultivating free and open inquiry, and fostering ethical values.

The Politics department consists of nine faculty members representing a range of specialties in Political Science and related programs at Fairfield University that reflect the rich diversity of our academic community, including International Studies, Environmental Studies, Humanitarian Action, Asian Studies, American Studies, Black Studies, Latin American and Caribbean Studies, Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, Islamic World Studies, and the graduate program in Public Administration (MPA). The Department has a vibrant culture of undergraduate student-faculty research collaboration, annual events, guest lectures, and student participation in area and interdisciplinary studies. Fairfield University, through Global Fairfield, the Center for Social Impact, and Campus Ministry, offers many opportunities for community engagement and immersive learning experiences locally, nationally, and internationally. The Dolan School of Business offers an MBA program for professionals in Shanghai, China.

Fairfield University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, committed to excellence through diversity, and, in this spirit, particularly welcomes applications from persons of color, women, veterans, and members of historically underrepresented groups. The University will provide reasonable accommodations to all qualified individuals with disabilities.

Application Instructions:

The search committee will begin reviewing materials on October 24 and continue until the position is filled. For full consideration, please click "https://ffd.wdl.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/EmploymentOpportunities/job/Fairfield-CT/Assistant-Professor--Comparative-Politics_JR0001085" and upload the following materials by October 25, 2021:

- a letter of application
- a curriculum vitae
- a statement of teaching philosophy inclusive of how diversity and inclusive excellence inform the applicant's pedagogical approach
- examples of syllabi and teaching evaluations if applicable
- unofficial graduate transcript
- three letters of reference

Please ask your references to send letters of recommendation to the following email address:
Politicssearch@fairfield.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 9386

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

Assistant Professor of Political Science, Comparative Politics
<https://career8.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=16111&company=purdueuniv>

Job Summary

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is seeking a scholar of Comparative Politics for appointment at the rank of tenure-track assistant professor.

Principal Duties

The person holding this position is expected to develop and maintain a research record of excellence in research areas that connect, in some way, to broader college themes of "Data, Decision-Science, and Social Organization" or "Technology, Communication, and Cooperation."

preferably in the area of (dis/mis)information or technology and governance. In addition, the person holding this position will create and disseminate relevant knowledge through student instruction through teaching undergraduate and graduate courses related to their areas of interest. Some courses each year will be taught in the College of Liberal Arts' award-winning Cornerstone Program. A high level of commitment to PhD student mentoring and a culture of diversity and inclusion is expected.

Qualifications

The candidate must have a completed all requirements for the PhD in political science, public policy, or related field by the date of employment, and have expertise in Comparative Politics. This position requires strong communication skills and the ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research. Preference will be given to candidates who can contribute expertise to the Advanced Methods at Purdue program through research that utilizes cutting-edge social science research methods.

The College and University

This position is one of seven hires this year in the Department of Political Science. The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University is embarking upon 40 faculty searches for positions to begin in Fall 2022. These positions will advance research within and across disciplines, and intersect with technology, data science, and engineering in relevant and important ways. These positions include teaching in our innovative, nationally-recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program that educates students across the university.

Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university. Candidates may be interested in several interdisciplinary programs and centers on campus, including the Advanced Methods at Purdue (AMAP) cluster, the Integrated Data Science Initiative, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, and the many interdisciplinary centers at Discovery Park and in the college. In addition to the major and PhD, the Department is home to graduate and undergraduate certificates and minors in environmental politics and policy, public policy, and human rights.

Purdue University, the College of Liberal Arts and the Department of Political Science are committed to free and open inquiry in all matters. Candidates are encouraged to address in their cover letter how they are prepared to contribute to a climate that values free inquiry.

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit careers.purdue.edu. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Recent research paper or other writing sample, 3) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's research and teaching fit the principal duties of the position, 4) Research and teaching statements, 5) a Diversity and Inclusion statement described below, and 6) confidential letters of recommendation from three academic references must be sent to PoliticalScienceComparative@purdue.edu

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Screening of applicants will begin October 25th and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact search administrator Karan Hustedt-Warren at PoliticalScienceComparative@purdue.edu

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9384

University of South Carolina

Rank: Associate or Full Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for either an Associate or Full Professor in Comparative Politics to begin August 16, 2022. The position is open with regards to substantive specialization, however, those individuals with expertise in grants and/or grant agencies and with research/teaching interests in Latin America and/or comparative judicial politics are especially encouraged to apply. We seek candidates with well-conceived, theoretically-informed research agendas who have published in leading outlets. Successful candidates are expected to teach substantive courses in Comparative Politics and contribute to the department's graduate and undergraduate programs in methodology, especially Bayesian methods. The position requires a Ph.D. in political science, plus years of academic experience consistent with academic policy for faculty rank, by the start date of appointment.

Applicants must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae and contact information, including telephone number and email address, for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation. The position will remain open until filled, and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on October 1, 2021. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/106102>.

Please contact the search committee chair, John Hsieh (JFHSHIEH@mailbox.sc.edu), with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state's flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 "Best Colleges" according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state's educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, transgender status, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, protected veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9393

McGill University

Rank: Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Tenure-Track Faculty Position

Full or Associate Professor, Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies

Max Bell School of Public Policy and Department of Political Science
McGill University

The Max Bell School of Public Policy and the Department of Political Science at McGill University invite applications for the newly created Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies. The Chairholder will be jointly appointed, teaching in both units and strengthening the ties between them.

We seek an internationally renowned scholar who conducts leading-edge empirical research on contemporary democratic governance and politics. The search is open with respect to regional specialization and methodology. We invite applications from scholars of political behaviour and/or political institutions, from scholars of ongoing politics in consolidated democracies, and from scholars of democratization or democratic fragility in different regions of the world.

This position will provide a highly visible forum for a scholar studying recent worldwide challenges to democratic institutions and movements, and allow the Chairholder to enhance the policy orientation of fundamental research and to improve the public's engagement with these issues. The Chairholder should have considerable experience participating in policy processes broadly understood, through a combination of public service, work with policy-oriented organizations, and advising policymakers. Demonstrated expertise in enhancing the public impact of policy-related research is an important asset. The Chairholder will be encouraged to build connections with McGill's various research centres which focus on democracy, including (but not limited to) the Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship.

An applicant's record must provide evidence of outstanding research, active engagement in the policy process, and success in teaching and graduate-student supervision. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Full or Associate Professor with tenure. Candidates should have completed a PhD in political science or a closely-related discipline. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but proficiency in spoken and written French is an advantage.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, material pertinent to teaching skills, and the names and contact information of three referees. The position start date is August 1, 2022.

Review of applications will begin on December 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Please apply online at: <https://mcgill.wd3>.

myworkdayjobs.com/McGill_Careers/job/Sherbrooke-680/Associate-Professor-or-Professor_JR0000003606https://mcgill.wd3-myworkdayjobs.com/McGill_Careers/job/Sherbrooke-680/Associate-Professor-or-Professor_JR0000003606

The Max Bell School of Public Policy (which began in 2017) is committed to the research, teaching, outreach, and advocacy of sound public policy. The Department of Political Science engages in world-class research and teaching across diverse theoretical, thematic, and methodological approaches to the study of politics. For more information about the Max Bell School and the Department of Political Science, please visit our websites at: <https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/><https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/> and <https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/><https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/>.

Inquiries may be sent to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Christopher Ragan, at <mailto:Christopher.ragan@mcgill.ca>Christopher.ragan@mcgill.ca.

Please use a personal email address when creating an account in Workday to submit your application. Do not use @mail.mcgill.ca or @mcgill.ca email accounts to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9360

Nanyang Technological University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, International Political Economy (Tenure-Track/Tenured)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS), a Graduate School of Nanyang Technological University (NTU), is a leading professional school of international affairs and policy-oriented think tank. The School invites suitably qualified individuals for the position of:

Assistant or Associate Professor, International Political Economy (Tenure-Track/Tenured)

The search is open with respect to the substantive subfields of International Political Economy. A relevant PhD and a good publication record commensurate with the level of appointment are essential requirements. Experience in policy-relevant research and publication is not necessary but would be useful. Candidates are expected to demonstrate an active research and publication agenda and strong promise for teaching in graduate programs.

The successful candidate will join the school's Centre for Multilateralism Studies and International Political Economy Programme. He/she is expected to contribute to and play an active role in teaching, research, and think-tank workstream. The teaching load is up to three courses per academic year.

The initial appointment will be for four (4) years, with further contracts to be considered by the relevant School Reappointment Committee. RSIS offers a competitive salary commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and experience. Funding support for research and conference travels is also available.

To apply for this position, candidates are required to submit their application via Nanyang Technological University's online career portal (https://ntu.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/Careers/job/NTU-Main-Campus-Singapore/Assistant-or-Associate-Professor--International-Political-Economy--Tenure-Track-TenuredRSIS-_R00007562).

All applicants should submit the following:

- A cover letter specifying how your qualifications match the job description;
- A detailed curriculum vitae (including records of competitive grants, fellowships, and graduate supervision, if applicable);
- Statements of research and teaching interests and teaching evaluation;
- Three (3) published articles or writing samples;
- Google Scholar citation report if available;
- Applicants applying for the Assistant Professor position, please include the name and details of THREE referees of the rank of Associate Professor/Professor; and applicants applying for the Associate Professor position, please include the name and details of FOUR referees of the rank of Professor.

If you have any questions about this position, please write in (or email) to:

The Search Committee
S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies
Nanyang Technological University
50 Nanyang Avenue
Block S4, Level B4,
Singapore 639798
Email: rsisrecruitment@ntu.edu.sg

Applications will be accepted until 15 December 2021

We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

For further information about RSIS, please visit our website: www.rsis.edu.sg.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 9/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9354

Ashoka University

Rank: Professor / Associate Professor / Tenure-track Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for faculty positions with an expected start date of January 15th, 2022 (though this is negotiable to August 15th 2022). The position is open rank, as to either the level of tenure track Assistant Professor, or tenured Associate or Full Professor.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) names of three references.

Applicants for the position of tenured Associate or Full Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) name of three references.

Statements of teaching and research philosophy are optional but will be considered if submitted.

All materials should be submitted through interfolio at this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94397>. The deadline for submitting a complete application is: November 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield, with a preference for political theory, comparative politics and political economy along with related methodological approaches. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9337

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2022. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2022.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must submit a CV, and a job market paper. Applicants for non-tenured positions should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted by November 30, 2021. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to Faculty_Recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 9/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9296

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Assistant Professor in Political Institutions

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in political institutions that is anticipated to begin in the fall of 2022. We seek a scholar specializing in political institutions. Subfield specialization could be in American politics, comparative politics, international relations, and/or research methods.

A strong commitment to research is expected. The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

To be considered, applicants must submit an electronic application by following this link: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-political-institutions/1209/13635024640>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9278

Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor

This listing was created by accident when I mistakenly hit the "submit" button twice. Sorry!

The correct listing is here:

<https://www.apsanet.org/CAREERS/eJobs/eJobs-Online/JBctl/ViewJob/JobID/9261>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 9260

Marymount University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

Marymount's Politics program, located on Marymount University's main campus in Arlington, Virginia, invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics, broadly defined, at the Assistant Professor level. We will begin reviewing applications on November 12 for a job beginning in August 2022.

Faculty are expected to teach high-quality student-centric undergraduate courses in face-to-face settings. The politics program is part of the social sciences in Marymount's Liberal Arts Core curriculum, and serves a large number of politics majors drawn by Marymount's commitment to inquiry-based learning, its commitment to a low faculty-student ratio, and its location in the Washington DC area.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Politics or assurance they will complete the degree by August 15, 2022. The successful candidate will teach core and elective courses in political science, and contribute to a growing specialty program in International Relations. The hiring committee is looking for candidates with demonstrated teaching experience and research interests in comparative politics, broadly defined. Preference will be given to candidates with an ability to teach courses on a variety of topics, and for candidates with respect for the Catholic intellectual tradition and an interest in inquiry-based teaching. Faculty are expected to produce high-quality peer-reviewed scholarship that is broadly disseminated and that engages with their discipline, which may include peer-reviewed journal articles, books at academic presses, and externally-funded research grants.

The teaching load is 3-3. (Three courses per semester, fall and spring.)

Applications should include a cover letter, c.v., evidence of excellence in teaching and research, a statement on diversity, and at least three letters of recommendation. The committee will begin reviewing applications on November 12, and accept applications until the position is filled.

All application materials should be uploaded to Marymount's HR job application site - <https://marymount.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/Careers/job/Main-Campus/Assistant-Professor--Politics--Tenure-Track--R887> - except for confidential letters of recommendation, which should be sent to: poljob@marymount.edu

Please direct any questions to Chad Rector crector@marymount.edu and Margaret Tseng mtseng@marymount.edu

Information about the program is here: <https://marymount.edu/academics/college-of-sciences-and-humanities/school-of-humanities/undergraduate-programs/politics-b-a/>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9261

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Regional Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Africa, Latin American

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows' program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21442>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9104

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to eight visitors for the 2022-2023 academic year in the Visiting Fellowship Program. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Saturday, November 20, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21443>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:

- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9103

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program in Regional Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Latin American, Africa

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs seeks two visitors or more candidates for the Visiting Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows' program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21444>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:

- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9105

Stanford King Center on Global Development

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2022 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. The King Center's postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from women and minority PhD recipients, and from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose backgrounds and experience would contribute to the diversity (broadly defined) of the program.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9265

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2022. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2023, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Dr. David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 5L-27, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to David.Sacko@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2021 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 10/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/31/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9249

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor, Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established nine interdisciplinary clusters to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy, from a policy or social science perspective, and plan to hire one tenure-earning assistant professor for this cluster. This position has an anticipated start date of August 8, 2022.

The Cybersecurity and Privacy Cluster is an interdisciplinary initiative, bringing together researchers from across the campus and working on addressing the pressing questions of our national security from engineering, science, and social perspectives. The cluster currently has eight members, collectively advising more than 35 doctoral students, and embracing a strong culture of collaboration and teamwork. The cluster runs various well-funded programs, has developed and implemented a new interdisciplinary M.S. in Cybersecurity and Privacy, and was recently selected by the National Science Foundation to be a host institution for the prestigious Scholarship for Service Program.

This is an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department and may include a combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal candidate will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. In particular, we are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy, and someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, addressing the policy, regulatory or social science aspects with a focus on one or more of the following topics: a) privacy laws and regulation; b) social media; c) cybercrimes; d) cyberwarfare; e) cyber security and intelligence. With this in mind, we anticipate the selected candidate will be tenure-earning in one of, but not limited to, the following units: Criminal Justice; Legal Studies; Modeling, Simulation, and Training; Politics, Security, and International Affairs; or Sociology.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 70,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation.

UCF's Orlando main campus location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to the UCF main campus is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies, UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training and UCF's new School of Modeling, Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the state of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school which was established in 2006 and is a neighbor to large corporations such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about one of UCF's newest endeavors, the exciting Faculty Cluster Initiative, at <https://www.ucf.edu/faculty/faculty-research-clusters>.

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents to be submitted electronically through the Human Resources website, www.ucf.edu/jobs/. No paper or emailed applications or materials will be considered.

In addition to the online application, interested candidates must attach the following materials to their application:

1) A Diversity Statement:

UCF has a diverse student body and community, and we are committed to meeting the needs of this community. Please tell us about your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, in the context of a faculty-student setting and as a colleague, as well as future plans to advance these contributions. Such indicators of commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion may be demonstrated through scholarship, teaching, mentoring, service and engagement.

2) A Cover Letter:

In the cover letter candidates must address their background in research and scholarship in the area in cyber security and privacy as related to policy and regulatory aspects and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home, as well as any joint appointments they would desire.

3) Curriculum Vitae,

4) Teaching Statement,

5) Research Statement, and

6) Contact information for three professional references (include email address and telephone number).

NOTE: Please have all application documents ready when applying so they can be attached at that time. Once the online submission process is finalized, the system does not allow applicants to submit additional documents at a later date.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure consideration before the position is closed, the application should be submitted promptly.

Questions regarding this search can be directed to the cluster lead and search committee chair, Dr. David Mohaisen, at mohaisen@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9222

Bowdoin College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Latino Politics

As part of a larger multi-year cohort initiative, the Bowdoin College Department of Government and Legal Studies seeks applicants for a full-time tenure-track position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, pending final approval. The position would begin July 1, 2022. We expect to hire at the rank of assistant professor but will consider applications from candidates at all levels. A PhD in political science or a related field is required by the start of this appointment. Research and teaching on U.S. politics is preferred, but a focus on other areas of the Americas will be considered. Teaching load is two courses per semester, across all levels of the curriculum.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful scholarly or artistic engagement and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource <https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive>.) Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals.

Bowdoin is a community that warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the support of an inclusive campus community and those who will enrich and contribute to the College's multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu> to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a description of your research plans; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion (<https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive>); and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021 and continue until the search is concluded.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland and 2+ hours north of Boston -- connected to Boston and beyond by public transportation -- the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (35% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 15% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: <http://www.bowdoin.edu>. For additional information about the Department of Government and Legal Studies, see <https://www.bowdoin.edu/government/> or contact department chair Andrew Rudalevige (arudalev@bowdoin.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9201

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American/comparative politics or public policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

JOB SUMMARY: The Department of Political Science at Middle Georgia State University (<https://www.mga.edu/political-science>) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in political science, with a specialization in American politics, comparative politics, or public policy, at the rank of assistant professor, to be primarily based on the Cochran campus. This is a 10-month position with a teaching load of 12 credit hours per semester (4-4) of undergraduate courses in political science, typically including multiple sections of the introductory American Government course, as well as more advanced undergraduate courses in political science in the candidate's area of specialization.

MAJOR DUTIES: Teaching responsibilities may include day and/or evening courses, partially and fully online courses, and courses taught via video conferencing; faculty are also expected to travel to teach and attend meetings at other campus locations when needed. Tenure-track faculty are expected to have an active scholarly agenda, including publication in peer-reviewed outlets; student advising and service to the department, school, university, and community are also expected for promotion and tenure. Summer teaching opportunities may also be available, contingent on student demand.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates should have earned a doctorate in political science, or a doctorate in related field including at least 18 semester hours of graduate coursework in political science, from a regionally-accredited institution; ABD candidates will only be considered if they will earn their doctorate by January 1, 2022. Experience as an instructor of record, demonstrated expertise in American politics or comparative politics, and/or the ability to contribute to one or more of the minors offered by the department are desirable. Candidates must have a record of teaching and potential for scholarship that warrants appointment at the rank of assistant professor.

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications accepted until the position is filled; we expect to begin reviewing complete applications the week of September 13, 2021.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Informal inquires about the position may be made to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, Chair of the Department of Political Science at Christopher.lawrence@mga.edu.

TO APPLY: Application materials should be emailed as one PDF attachment to recruitment@mga.edu with the subject line "10018053 Assistant Professor of Political Science 8.24.2021". Application materials must include (1) an MGA faculty application, (2) a letter of interest, (3) a curriculum vitae, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) names and contact information of three references, and (6) unofficial transcripts. Paper application materials will not be accepted.

Background checks will be conducted on all final candidates.

Start Date: Winter 2022

Application Deadline: 9/13/2021

Date Posted: 8/24/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9208

Bentley University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative race and ethnicity. We seek applications from scholar-teachers who focus on race and ethnicity in comparative, transnational or global perspective, with at least one area of specialization in the United States.

Our department is multidisciplinary, built around a core of faculty from cultural studies, geography, and political science. We welcome candidates from any discipline, including but not limited to anthropology, geography, and political science, to complement and deepen existing strengths. While the position is open with respect to further thematic specializations, we are particularly interested in candidates whose work contributes to understanding the intersectionality of race and ethnicity with sustainability, health, development, immigration/migration, or public policy, preferably through comparativist lenses.

As guided by our Academic Affairs Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion Strategic Plan, Bentley University seeks to enhance our faculty capacity in the scholarship, pedagogy, and engagement related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. To achieve that, we are hiring a cohort of new faculty in multiple academic departments and disciplines with expertise in DEI. This position is intended to be part of our DEI faculty cohort, which will enrich our DEI expertise across Business and the Liberal Arts & Sciences. Learn more about Bentley University's DEI strategic plan here: https://issuu.com/bentleyuniversity/docs/dei_strategic_plan_presentation_1_.pptx

We seek a candidate whose teaching and scholarship will contribute to one or both of our undergraduate departmental majors in international affairs and public policy, and someone who can amplify our department's commitment to anti-racism. Black, indigenous, and Latinx faculty, as well as faculty from other underrepresented groups, are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a continuing research agenda focused on publication and a strong dedication to excellence in teaching, with preference for candidates with classroom teaching experience. We especially welcome candidates who bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the classroom. Incoming tenure-track faculty typically have a 2-2 teaching load.

The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor rank for a Fall 2022 start.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed prior to the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Instructions to Applicants:

Applicants submit all materials through Bentley's on-line employment site at: https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty/job/Bentley-Campus/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Professor--Global-Studies_R0002083.

Applicants should submit the following materials:

1. A cover letter that summarizes overall strengths, including the nature of the candidate's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
2. A Curriculum vitae.
3. A teaching statement of no more than two pages.
4. A research statement of no more than two pages detailing the candidate's research strengths and plans for future research directions.
5. The names and contact information for three professional references. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Joni Seager at jseager@bentley.edu

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by September 27, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/27/2021

Date Posted: 8/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9196

Syracuse University

Rank: African American Studies Department Chair

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of African American Studies (<https://thecollege.syr.edu/african-american-studies/>) in Syracuse University's College of Arts & Sciences seeks a dynamic scholar to serve as Department Chair beginning Fall 2022. The successful candidate will possess a strong record of scholarship; teaching excellence; experience overseeing departmental administrative procedures and governance; demonstrated skill in collaborating with faculty on curricula and programming for undergraduate majors and minors and graduate students; and a commitment to community engagement.

Since gaining department status in 1979, African American Studies at SU has offered multi-disciplinary approaches to global studies of people of African descent. Unique departmental resources, such as the Martin Luther King, Jr. Library (<https://thecollege.syr.edu/diversity-and-inclusion/mlk-library/>) and the Community Folk Art Center (<https://communityfolkartcenter.org/>), have been integral to academic initiatives. Recent and pending faculty retirements have led to a critical juncture. The new chair will thus play a pivotal role in leading the department as it formulates strategic plans to engage changing social, political, cultural, technological, and pedagogical landscapes.

The position requires a Ph.D. with a principal research and teaching focus on aspects of Black life in the Americas, the Caribbean, Africa, or Europe. Scholars in any field of the humanities or social sciences are welcome to apply. Candidates who have met the standards for the rank of professor with tenure are preferred. However, full consideration will also be given to applications from advanced tenured associate professors. The teaching requirement during the three-year term as Department Chair will be one course per semester. At the end of the chair term, two courses per semester will be required.

Applications must include a current curriculum vitae; letter of interest; sample publication; diversity, equity, and inclusion statement; and three confidential recommendation letters. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The salary will be commensurate with qualifications.

To apply, visit Syracuse University Job Board, Department Chair/Professor - African American Studies: <https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/88268>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9187

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Position Description:

The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks candidates for three faculty positions for scholars conducting outstanding research on the subjects of race, identity, and inequality in domestic, comparative, or international contexts. The primary focus of our search is at the tenure track assistant professor level; however, we may consider more senior candidates under exceptional circumstances. The positions are to begin September 1, 2022, pending administrative approval.

This search is part of a broader cluster of recruitment efforts in Race, Identity, and Inequality that spans the Departments of Politics and Sociology in the Faculty of Arts and Science, and the Wagner School of Public Service. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars working in these areas to collaborate across NYU. More information about this cluster and the broader cluster initiative can be found at <https://www.nyu.edu/faculty/teaching-and-learning-resources/faculty-advancement/faculty-recruitment/nyu-faculty-cluster-hiring-initiative.html#race2> and at <https://drive.google.com/file/d/1n88i-7v5yZGYxYvK54VJ9AhQgRNHRDKG/view>.

Qualifications:

Candidates are expected to possess a PhD by September 2022, in political science or a cognate discipline; to have records of excellent research; and to indicate the potential to be future disciplinary leaders in their respective fields of expertise. Candidates should also have demonstrated ability as excellent teachers at the undergraduate and/or graduate level. NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their teaching, research, experience, and service an ability to contribute to this goal, and a commitment to fostering inclusivity in a university setting.

Application Instructions:

Please apply online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/91446>. While we will continue to review applications into October, candidates seeking the fullest consideration should submit their applications by September 10, 2021. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply links to their professional websites; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

The Politics Department at NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their scholarship, teaching and mentoring, and/or service engagement commitment to these goals. We are particularly interested in hearing about concrete steps you have taken (or plan to take) to foster an inclusive intellectual environment in the classroom, in the department and on campus, and/or in your field more generally.

Required Applicant Documents:

- Cover letter
- CV or Resume
- Statement of Research and Goals
- Statement of Teaching
- Writing Sample
- Three Letters of Reference

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/10/2021

Date Posted: 7/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9101

University of California, Irvine

Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of Comparative Politics contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2021-22 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in Comparative Politics. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $56,381 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2021-2022 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/20/21 – 12/10/21

Winter Quarter: 1/3/22 - 3/18/22

Spring Quarter: 3/23/22 – 6/10/22

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF06659>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2021. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary throughout the year.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9046

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor in Middle Eastern Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a specialization in Middle Eastern politics. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2022.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI's mission is to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance." Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate political science courses in the areas of comparative and international politics that serve as requirements for both the Political Science and the International Studies & Diplomacy undergraduate programs as well as teach courses in the International Relations Masters program.

Expected to publish original research in their respective field of study and advise undergraduate and graduate students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- 1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2022, in Political Science, International Relations, or related field.
- 2) Primary or secondary specialization in Middle Eastern politics.
- 3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience
- 4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching broad-based introductory political science courses in the area of comparative politics and/or international relations, upper division and graduate courses on Middle Eastern politics.
- 5) Evidence of research in the field of comparative politics and/or international relations with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.
- 6) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- 1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: international development, foreign policy, diplomacy, conflict, governance, ethnic or religious politics, or security studies.
- 2) Ability to teach undergraduate research methods
- 3) Ability to teach large introductory-level classes
- 4) Ability to teach from a cultural or regional studies perspective
- 5) Familiarity with experiential and applied learning strategies

The application deadline is September 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/8269>

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Profile Application:

- 1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position
- 2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document),
- 3) A brief research and teaching statement
- 4) A statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion reflecting on URI's mission to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance."
- 5) If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/15/2021

Date Posted: 7/13/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9029

Bucknell University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (IR/Comparative)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in international and comparative politics beginning in the fall semester of 2022. We seek a scholar whose research and teaching centers on the Middle East/North Africa region and the politics of the Islamic world. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in international politics, courses on politics in the Middle East/North Africa, a course in quantitative or qualitative research methods, and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate excellence in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinarity. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science with a sub-field specialization in international and/or comparative politics.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Doug Hecock at rdh013@bucknell.edu. Applications received by September 27, 2021 will receive full consideration.

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9016

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Latin American Politics/Political Economy and quantitative methods

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of Latin American politics/political economy and quantitative methods. Expertise in Mexico preferred, but we are open to other areas as well. The successful candidate will teach courses on Latin American politics/political economy as part of the Department's developing curricular concentration on the region and courses on quantitative methods that are part of the Department's required curriculum.

Bush School faculty teach master's degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or Political Economy by September 2022. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information demonstrating success in teaching at the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/88572 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 7, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8935

Appalachian State University

Rank: Visiting Comparative Politics Instructor

The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics beginning August 1, 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: comparative politics, human rights, ethnic conflict, globalization, or the politics of developing nations. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. At least one course each semester will be Intro to Comparative Politics.

Applications must be submitted via AppState PeopleAdmin <https://appstate.peopleadmin.com/postings/28206> Applicants must submit the following documents: an application consisting of a letter outlining relevant research and teaching goals and experience, a current vitae, and a sample syllabus.

Review of applications will begin on May 28, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment to a successful candidate will be conditioned upon the University's receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report.

Individuals with disabilities may request accommodations in the application process by contacting Maranda Maxey, Director & ADA/504 Coordinator, at 828- 262-3056 or maxeymr@appstate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/7/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8870

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Catholic University of America

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America invites applications for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor position in comparative politics or international relations, to begin in Fall 2022. Candidates should possess a strong commitment to scholarly research, teaching, and engaging with both undergraduate and graduate students in research. The search is open with respect to specialization, but candidates with expertise in democratization, international institutions, political economy, and/or Latin America are especially encouraged to apply.

We seek candidates who understand, are enthusiastic about, and will make a significant contribution to the mission of the University, which reads as follows: “As the national university of the Catholic Church in the United States, founded and sponsored by the bishops of the country with the approval of the Holy See, The Catholic University of America is committed to being a comprehensive Catholic and American institution of higher learning, faithful to the teachings of Jesus Christ as handed on by the Church. Dedicated to advancing the dialogue between faith and reason, The Catholic University of America seeks to discover and impart the truth through excellence in teaching and research, all in service to the Church, the nation and the world.”

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a statement of current research plans, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate school transcript, and a sample of written work to pol-search@cua.edu (or to the Google Form which can be found at <https://provost.catholic.edu/faculty-positions/>). They should also arrange for the submission of three letters of reference to pol-search@cua.edu. In addition, applicants are asked to submit a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how their research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University’s mission and to the vision of Catholic education outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Matthew Green, Department Chair, at greenm@cua.edu.

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/30/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9773

University of Notre Dame

Rank: The Notre Dame International Security Center Hans J. Morgenthau Fellows

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) invites applications for its third cohort of Hans J. Morgenthau fellows. In the spirit of Morgenthau, a deep thinker about international relations and an engaged participant in debates about American foreign policy, NDISC seeks to help the next generation of scholars think more about grand strategy in its larger conceptual and historical context.

Over the course of the fellowship year, fellows will discuss their own research in the context of the burgeoning literature on U.S grand strategy, become part of the broader network of junior and senior scholars engaged with these topics, and hone their teaching skills. Successful applicants need not have any particular view of the optimal grand strategy – just a willingness to engage in the discussion of the topic seriously and debate the alternatives civilly.

The fellowship will be directed by professors Eugene Gholz and Joseph Parent and will involve faculty from Notre Dame and other universities. Fellows will convene in-person three times over the course of their fellowship year. They will begin with an intensive week-long seminar, reading foundational texts and discussing critical issues in contemporary grand strategy at the University of Notre Dame (early August 2022). Fellows will then embark on a week-long study trip to an important international battlefield, where we will combine seminar discussions of strategy with walking the terrain and learning how history, geography, tactics, and strategy intersect (early June 2023). Their fellowship will conclude with a three-day undergraduate teaching workshop on grand strategy in Washington, DC (late July 2023). In addition to the three in-person seminars and workshops, the fellows will also convene roughly once a month for virtual speaker events and discussions over the year of the fellowship. We will, of course, adapt the plans for in-person events as required to keep all participants safe during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The fellowship includes a stipend of $10,000 plus travel expenses and accommodations during in-person fellowship activities. Ideally, applicants will be ABD doctoral candidates in political science, international relations, global affairs, public policy, history, and allied fields, but we will consider applications from exceptional candidates at other levels. We particularly welcome applications from individuals of backgrounds not widely represented in foreign policy discussions. Applicants should submit a one-page cover letter explaining how their interests engage grand strategy and how their career will relate to grand strategy, a CV, and a letter of recommendation through Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/99609>) by February 11, 2022.

For more information, please email egholz@nd.edu or jparent@nd.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 2/11/2022

Date Posted: 11/30/2021

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 9774

Catholic University of Chile (Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile)

Rank: Tenure-track, Assistant Professorship in Political Theory/International Relations

The Institute of Political Science (ICP) of the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professorship in political science. We are looking for candidates with a strong research program focused on topics at the intersection of International Relations and Political Theory. Candidates with interests in, e.g., migration, environmental politics, human rights, global justice, conflict and security studies, and/or the normative analysis of international political phenomena are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates in either area (international relations or political theory) will be considered; however, the ideal candidate would have a teaching portfolio that includes both areas.

The Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile is consistently ranked as one of the top 5 universities in Latin America, and the ICP is among the highest ranked political science departments in the region. Comprised of a highly international group of scholars, it is a hub of theoretical, empirical and applied research in the region. The ICP offers undergraduate, M.A., and Ph.D. programs. It admits the most talented Chilean students to its undergraduate and graduate programs, and hosts a large number of exchange students and visiting professors from all over the world. Santiago is a vibrant metropolitan area, located just a short drive away from Chile’s renowned Pacific Coast and spectacular Andean mountain range.

Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to high-quality research, publishing, and teaching. The ICP values diversity and welcomes applications from colleagues of any actual or perceived gender, gender identity, race, color, national origin, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, or religion. While all qualified candidates will be carefully considered, people from historically underrepresented or marginalized groups—including women, racial minorities, and individuals with disabilities—are especially encouraged to apply.

Teaching obligations are limited to three courses per year (typically 2-1). Fluency in Spanish is valued, but any candidate who expresses a willingness to achieve basic proficiency is encouraged to apply. The ICP offers financial support for language classes, and courses may initially be taught in English.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. degree in Political Science (or its equivalent). ABDs are welcome to apply as long as they will obtain their degree by the position's starting date.

Applications must include the following:

- *Personal letter
- *Curriculum vitae
- *Writing sample (e.g., a journal article or book or dissertation chapter)
- *Teaching portfolio that includes student evaluations and sample course syllabi
- *Graduate transcripts
- *Official copies of all degrees (B.A., M.A., and Ph.D.)
- *Three letters of recommendation (sent to searchicp@uc.cl).

Please direct informal inquiries or completed application packages (in either English or Spanish) to the Search Committee at searchicp@uc.cl.

Applications will be accepted until February 28th.

The position's starting date is August 1st, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9767

Marist College

Rank: Part-Time Instructor, Political Science

The Department of Political Science is looking for qualified part-time faculty to teach courses for the upcoming Spring 2022 semester. We have immediate teaching opportunities in Introduction to Comparative Politics (multiple sections) and African Politics. The Political Science Department also has spring semester and ongoing teaching needs in the following areas: upper level courses in international relations and regional courses in Asia, Latin America, and the Middle East. Please note that these courses will take place in-person at our Poughkeepsie, NY campus. To apply, please visit: <http://careers.marist.edu/cw/en-us/job/493075/parttime-instructor-political-science>.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9769

University of Missouri, Columbia

Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Description

The University of Missouri is launching an ambitious multi-year hiring initiative, Mizzou Forward, that is intended to attract high profile scholars with a record of significant external funding. The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs is participating in this initiative and tenure-line positions are available for exceptional candidates in the fields of public policy, political science, comparative politics, international relations, and/or public administration. This is an executive style search that is managed centrally by the University; applications may be submitted at any time.

A successful MizzouForward candidate is a research leader with a passion for collaboration and the grit to address our world's most pressing research challenges. The colleagues we're looking to recruit possess:

- A proven track record of active, external research funding, particularly from federal agencies
- A research agenda that complements the goals of MizzouForward
- A robust publication and citation record
- National awards and honors, membership with national academies
- An interdisciplinary scope of work

For more information and to apply, see: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs was recently created through the merger of the School of Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science within the College of Arts and Science. The School has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the School and numerous joint and affiliated faculty. It offers a PhD in Public Affairs; a PhD in Political Science; a Master of Public Affairs; an MA in Defense and Strategic Studies; a BA in Political Science; and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. The School also houses the Institute of Public Policy and has partnerships with the Kinder Institute of Constitutional Democracy and the Institute of Korean Studies.

About the University of Missouri

The University of Missouri was founded in 1839 in Columbia, Missouri, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in the Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides the benefits of two universities in one — it is a major land-grant institution and Missouri's largest public research university.

Considered one of the nation's top-tier institutions, MU has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 64 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou is the flagship campus of the University of Missouri system, located in Columbia, just 20 minutes to the Columbia Regional Airport, and less than 2 hours to St. Louis or Kansas City. Columbia, Missouri, consistently rated as one of the best communities in which to live, is an ideal college town. It combines small-town comforts, community spirit and low cost of living with big-city culture, activities, and resources. Home to nationally renowned public schools and other colleges and educational centers, Columbia is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues and hosts more than a dozen annual arts/cultural festivals.

Application Requirements

External Application URL and Instructions: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9754

University of Notre Dame

Rank: 2022 Emerging Scholars Conference Participant

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) seeks nominations of outstanding candidates (advanced ABD students or pre/post doctoral fellows) to present their work at the fifth annual Emerging Scholars in Grand Strategy Conference. The three-day conference will consist of 6 workshops, one for each successful nominee. Each workshop will include a research presentation by the Emerging Scholar, a response by a senior scholar in the field, and a general discussion. NDISC will make all arrangements and cover all expenses related to the conference, which will be held May 25-27, 2022 at the Oakwood Resort in Syracuse, IN.

By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek nominees whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of these issues in innovative ways. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal nominee will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of foreign policy goals.

Nominee(s) should upload a CV, a brief bio, and a 250-word abstract that describes their project to <https://apply.interfolio.com/99437>. The automated system will subsequently ask nominators for a letter of recommendation; letters that have already been written for other purposes (e.g. fellowships, academic jobs) are sufficient.

The deadline for receipt of all materials is January 21, 2022.

Please feel free to contact mdesch@nd.edu if you have any questions.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 1/21/2022

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9757

University of Notre Dame

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellowship in Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a post-doctoral fellowship in "Innovative Approaches to Grand Strategy." By grand strategy, we mean some aspect of where, when, and how states (as well as armed groups) consider using military force among other instruments of statecraft to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of the issues in innovative ways. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

The position offers a competitive salary, benefits, and modest professional support. The initial appointment is for one year, but may be renewed for a second year.

All applicants should submit a CV, letter of interest, a brief (10,000 words) writing sample, and have three reference letters. Applications received by January 14, 2022 will receive full consideration. Please direct any further questions about this position to Michael Desch at mdesch@nd.edu.

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/99441>

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 1/14/2022

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9758

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: PERRY WORLD HOUSE POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP

This announcement contains information on three different postdoctoral fellowship programs sponsored by Perry World House for the 2022-2023 academic year.

- Global Innovation Program Postdoctoral Fellowship
- Borders & Boundaries Postdoctoral Fellowship
- Identity & Conflict Lab Postdoctoral Fellowship

GLOBAL INNOVATION PROGRAM POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its postdoctoral fellowship program during the 2022-2023 academic year. The Global Innovation Program is the research arm of Perry World House, the University of Pennsylvania's hub for global engagement and interdisciplinary international policy research. Perry World House connects Penn to the international policy world through research, student engagement, and public programming, bringing the university's intellectual resources to bear on the urgent global challenges of the 21st century. We hope to bring several postdoctoral fellows to campus for the 2022-2023 academic year. We are seeking excellent scholars who study global affairs and have interests in interdisciplinary outreach and policy relevance. We are particularly interested in applicants in the following areas:

- The Future of the Global Order: Power, Technology, and Governance
 - Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Demography
- The Future of the Global Order

Changes in global economic, military, and technological circumstances are evident in growing concerns around the world about the future of arms control, multilateral economic institutions, technological decoupling, the future of the Islamic State, and more. The post-Cold War global order may be at a tipping point. In addition, systemic trends, such as globalization and climate change, mean that the challenges of today and tomorrow will be global – and require global responses. The role of automated trading algorithms in the 2010 “Flash Crash” in the United States, combined with the specter of drone warfare around the world due and the proliferation of military robotics, highlight how the intersection of technologies, such as cyber and robotics, presents enormous challenges for global business and diplomatic norms. In a time of change, academic research has the potential to shed significant light on these issues and highlight new and important approaches for the global policy community.

In this theme area, Perry World House will focus in part, but not exclusively, on four areas: the impacts of emerging technologies for global politics, shifting global power balances and how they influence both state and non-state actors, the evolution of international legal regimes, and the ability of the international community to sustain effective governing institutions in times of change. We particularly hope to have a postdoctoral fellow as part of our new project on emerging technologies and global politics.

Global Shifts

Today, tens of millions of people move and are regularly displaced around the world through a combination of forces – environmental, societal, political, and security. Human movement and adaptation in response to ever changing catalysts has always been a salient feature of the global landscape.

Whether due to protracted conflict or political unrest, climate change or demographic shifts, human movement is often essential for communities to survive and thrive. Simultaneously, rapid urbanization has made cities home to 70 percent of the world’s population, resulting in a trend toward cities playing increasingly important roles on the world stage and being in the vanguard for global solutions.

At a moment when the world is seeing the greatest level of displacement since World War II, and the climate emergency grows more acute by the day, these complex and intersecting global phenomena – urbanization, migration, and climate change – demand sophisticated and coordinated action from researchers and policymakers working in concert.

The Global Shifts research theme examines these phenomena, highlights the specific challenges their intersections produce, and charts a path that allows for the best global policy responses to emerge.

Requirements and Application Information

There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Postdoctoral fellows in the Global Innovation Program will pursue their own research as well as participate in the intellectual life of Perry World House. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to give a presentation during the academic year in the Perry World House Seminar Series, publish policy relevant scholarship related to Perry World House themes, and attend regularly scheduled seminars. They will also be expected to spend up to 10% of their time contributing to the intellectual environment at Perry World House, including working with Perry World House’s Undergraduate Student Fellows, as well as designing and planning engagements in relevant theme areas. Perry World House will provide mentorship, professional guidance, and introduce each postdoctoral fellow to related faculty and leaders of centers and institutes at the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D. in the case of applicants focused on international legal regimes) since June 2020, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2022. Applications will be reviewed starting Tuesday, December 7, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date.

Upon provision of and contingent upon proof of conferral of the Ph.D. degree, all postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $60,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/96719>. Applicants will be asked to complete a short form as well as upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial Ph.D. transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of two letter writers who can submit a letter of recommendation.

General Information

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn’s Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

BORDERS & BOUNDARIES POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP

The Project on Borders and Boundaries in World Politics is looking to fill two postdoctoral fellow positions. Both are one-year and renewable. Partially supported by the National Science Foundation, the Project is concerned with boundaries between organized human communities, broadly understood. International borders, border regions and border crossings have multiple significance as designations of state authority, security buffers, expressions of social meaning and opportunities for economic integration. Border regions and activities speak to national and local encounters with neighbors and the rest of the world. This project is concerned with how humans demarcate the space between “us” and “them.” It contextualizes border architecture, infrastructure and institutions as expressions of various social, political and economic anxieties associated with globalization. This research team will concern itself with a broad range of questions relating to “bordering” in world politics. The project team is run by Professor Beth Simmons, Andrea Mitchell University Professor in Law, Political Science, and Business Ethics, as well as Assistant Professor Michael Kenwick (Rutgers University).

Research Postdoctoral Fellowship: The postdoctoral fellow will split their time between their own research and Borders & Boundaries project research. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to work 25% of their time on project research. Applicants with an interest in territorial politics; migration and movement across borders; development in and across border regions; border crossing regimes, architectures and institutions; transnational migration; transnational crime, human trafficking and law enforcement across borders; and related issues are welcome to apply. Skills in empirical spatial analysis, GIS technologies, mapping technologies, experimental analyses, computerized textual and imaging analyses, and similar technologies are highly desirable, as are computer programming skills and experience using large computer databases and statistical software.

Research and Program Management Postdoctoral Fellowship: The post-doctoral fellow will work with and help manage the Borders & Boundaries research team. Since the successful candidate will have primary responsibility for managing team effort and output, strong data management and organizational skills are essential. Skills in computational methods, GIS and spatial data analytics, textual and imaging analysis, network analysis, and/or experimental methods are particularly valued, as is experience working within a research lab. We welcome candidates pursuing research careers inside or outside academia. Substantive interest in territorial politics; migration; development in and across border regions; border crossing regimes; transnational crime, law enforcement across borders and related issues is valued. The fellow is expected to actively work on lab projects and coordinate effort among team members. This fellowship comes with an additional $5,000 stipend above the stated base pay.

Requirements and Application Information

There are no mandatory teaching responsibilities. Postdoctoral fellows will be expected to give a presentation during the academic year in the Perry World House Seminar Series, engage with Perry World House's Undergraduate Student Fellows, and attend regularly scheduled seminars. Perry World House will also introduce each postdoctoral fellow to related faculty and leaders of centers and institutes at the University of Pennsylvania.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2020, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2022. Applications will be reviewed starting Tuesday, December 7th, 2021. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of recommendation should be received by that date. To apply, please go to <http://apply.interfolio.com/98099>. Applicants will be asked to complete a short form as well as upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students), and contact information for a letter writer, who will be asked to submit a confidential letter of recommendation through Interfolio.

General Information

Upon provision of and contingent upon proof of conferral of the PhD degree, all postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $60,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

IDENTITY & CONFLICT LAB POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP

The Penn Identity & Conflict (PIC) Lab, led by Professor Nicholas Sambanis at the Department of Political Science of the University of Pennsylvania, seeks exceptional candidates for a one-year, full-time, potentially renewable, residential appointment as a postdoctoral research fellow. The Lab addresses a broad range of critical questions focused on inter-group conflict and identity politics. The Lab prioritizes research in three key areas: how social identities shape individual behavior, how conflict affects identities, and what interventions are effective in reducing inter-group conflict. Both violent and non-violent forms of conflict are considered, ranging from bias, discrimination, and protest to ethnic violence, secessionism and war. The Lab has ongoing work in several countries and in different areas, including: (1) native-immigrant conflict; (2) gender bias and discrimination; (3) effects of sports competition on attitudes and behavior; (4) determinants of nationalist policy preferences; (5) strategies to reduce prejudice and induce cooperation; and (6) mechanisms underlying the violent escalation of group claims for self-determination. A variety of methods are used to study these topics, including surveys, survey experiments, field experiments, and analysis of observational data. The Lab seeks to integrate substantive and methodological knowledge across the social and behavioral sciences to better understand these topics.

Fellows will split their time between their own research and work with Professor Nicholas Sambanis on one or more of the Lab's ongoing projects. Innovative new project proposals by fellows can be considered for funding by the Lab.

Requirements and Application Information

Job responsibilities will vary depending on the strengths and interests of the successful applicant. Fellows will be expected to conduct quantitative data analysis to support ongoing Lab projects; co-author papers and reports with the Lab Director and affiliated faculty; assist with drafting grant proposals; prepare IRB applications; compile reports to share with funders; program surveys; collect/clean survey-based data; prepare replication files for published studies; provide summaries of ongoing work for public outreach purposes; prepare slides for public presentations of Lab projects; help manage the Lab website and seminar series.

Successful applicants will have excellent training in quantitative methods with an emphasis on statistical analysis, survey methods and experimental methods. Programming skills are highly desirable. Applicants should have outstanding organizational and communication skills and prior experience using large databases and different statistical software (including Stata, R, and Qualtrics). Applicants should be intellectually curious, ambitious, energetic, and self-motivated; they should be able to work independently, but also as part of a team; they should be able to multi-task and willing to travel for fieldwork if conditions allow. Training in behavioral economics and/or social psychology is a plus as several of the Lab's projects cross disciplinary boundaries.

There is no formal teaching requirement. Fellows will be expected to help organize the PIC Lab workshop, which will meet bi-weekly; they will give at least one presentation on their research at the workshop and/or as part of the Perry World House Seminar Series; and will be expected to help organize the Lab's annual conference.

Compensation and General Information

All postdoctoral fellow positions pay a stipend of $60,000 plus relevant fees and health insurance. The position also provides $2,000 in research support.

Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their Ph.D. or equivalent degrees since June 2020, or who expect to complete their degree by June 2022. Applications will be reviewed starting December 20, 2021. To receive full consideration, application material should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/96857>. Applicants will be asked to upload a cover letter, CV/resume, one-page research statement, writing sample, and unofficial PhD transcript (only required for current graduate students). We will also ask for the name and email address of a letter writer who can submit a letter of recommendation.

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

If you have questions, please email pic-lab@sas.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9756

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Perry World House: LIGHTNING SCHOLAR SABBATICAL RESIDENCY

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its 2022-2023 Lightning Scholars Program. This program brings untenured, but tenure-track, faculty at either the assistant or associate level from around the world to Philadelphia for a semester or year of writing, fellowship, and bridging the gap between academia and the policy world.

Since launching in 2016, Perry World House has catalyzed interdisciplinary and policy-relevant research by scholars at Penn and around the globe and convened conversations in Philadelphia on the most pressing global challenges. With fellowship and scholars programs, Perry World House has connected Penn's students and faculty with the world's leading academics and policy makers, infusing our research, teaching and, engagement with the ideas, wisdom and experience of those shaping world events.

This fellowship program allows untenured faculty members at leading research universities around the world to join Perry World House and the Penn community for a semester or full academic year in residence in Philadelphia to produce a major research project or book. While the fellowship program is for faculty working on global affairs topics, preference will be given to faculty working on subjects broadly related to our two research themes, The Future of the Global Order: Technology, Power and Governance and Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Climate Change.

The ideal candidates for this new program will be looking for an in-residence fellowship away from their home institution that will provide the space and support to write, but also the opportunity to collaborate with an interdisciplinary and vibrant community of global affairs scholars and practitioners. Perry World House is especially interested in faculty whose work connects to important global policy conversations and who will want to engage in dialogue with some of the many policymakers from around the world who visit Perry World House.

The program's compensation is significant and negotiated on a case-by-case basis. The program is intended to allow the selected Lightning Scholar to take a comfortable leave from their home institution often by supporting the difference between a one semester sabbatical provided by the home institution and a full year leave. Although final compensation will depend on the circumstances of each applicant, the program will provide at least $50,000 as well as relevant fees and health insurance, if needed. The fellowship will also include $5,000 in research support, as well as the opportunity to help shape workshops and colloquia at Perry World House.

Applications, which should be submitted via Interfolio, are welcome from scholars who have either a Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D.), are standing faculty members at a college or university, and are on the tenure track but still untenured. Applications for the 2022-2023 academic years will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting January 10, 2022.

Applicants must include a cover-letter, three-page proposal, CV, a letter of support from their home department/institution, and a confidential letter of recommendation. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of support should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/98666>.

General Information

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9755

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Fellowship in Grand Strategy, Security, and Statecraft

The International Security Program at the Harvard Kennedy School and the Security Studies Program at MIT invites applications for a ONE-year, pre- or post-doctoral fellowship in Grand Strategy, Security, and Statecraft. The program is supported by a grant from the Charles Koch Foundation and is open to applicants from political science, history, and other relevant disciplines. It is intended to support research addressing fundamental issues of U.S. grand strategy, foreign policy, and America's role in the world and we are especially interested in projects that are likely to broaden the contemporary debate on these topics.

Each institution will host one fellow during the academic year '22-'23, who will spend one year in residence, and will be expected to participate in activities in both programs during the fellowship year. (The fellowship normally starts in late August). ISP and SSP will provide office space and a computer, and fellows will have access to the Harvard and MIT libraries and most of the other facilities of the university at which they are located.

Pre-doctoral research fellows are expected to work on—and ideally complete—their doctoral dissertations during the fellowship and must have passed their general examinations and made significant progress (three chapters) on a thesis in order to be eligible. Post-doctoral fellows must have their Ph.D. in hand by the beginning of the fellowship period and are expected to work on a book, monograph, or other significant publication during their period of residence. All fellows are expected to be in residence for the duration of the fellowship and to participate on a regular basis in weekly seminars and research colloquia. The Program offers a ten-month stipend of $75,000 for postdoctoral research fellows and $55,000 USD for pre-docs. Each institution offers reimbursement for some health insurance premiums, according to its own policies.

The joint program is directed by Barry Posen, Ford Professor of Political Science at MIT and former director of the Security Studies Program, and Stephen Walt, Belfer Professor of International Affairs at the Harvard Kennedy School and Faculty Chair of the Belfer Center's International Security Program.

Interested applicants should submit a 3-5 page statement, a CV, three letters of recommendation, and a writing sample (including thesis chapters for pre-docs) to the following email address: ssp-statecraft@mit.edu and ssp-statecraft@mit.edu. Applications will all be considered together by Belfer and SSP, and once offers are made and accepted, we will decide with the prospective fellows which institution will host them for the year.

The deadline for applications is December 17, 2021. Awards will be announced in March 2022.

More information may be found here: <https://ssp.mit.edu/about/fellowships/statecraft-fellows-program> <https://ssp.mit.edu/about/fellowships/statecraft-fellows-program>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/17/2021

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9731

Ohio State University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Open

Specializations: United States, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Mershon Center for International Security Studies (<https://mershoncenter.osu.edu>), within the College of Arts and Sciences, seeks up to three two-year Postdoctoral Scholars to join our team starting the 2022 academic year.

The Mershon postdoctoral scholars support research on international, national, and human security in a global context. We understand international security from a wide range of perspectives, approaches, and substantive foci. Consequently, successful applicants may come from a variety of disciplines that engage international, national, and human security broadly conceived, including anthropology, communications, economics, geography, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology, public affairs/administration, public policy, sociology, and other disciplines that engage international security. We especially welcome applications from scholars whose work explicitly integrates knowledge across traditional disciplinary boundaries. Special consideration will be given to applicants whose work will advance the center's research related to international, national, and human security.

Successful applicants will be expected to devote approximately 10 hours per week to center related activities. Postdoctoral scholars will be mentored and supported in pursuing their individual research agendas during their remaining time. Responsibilities to the Center may include coordinating and supporting Center research and programming activities as well as opportunities to collaborate on Mershon Scholar projects. The two-year term begins August 15, 2022.

The Mershon Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at The Ohio State University engaged in work pertaining to international security broadly construed. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and speaker series

Postdoctoral Scholars at the Mershon Center will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because scholars are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of The Ohio State University.

Required: Ph.D. in appropriate field related to security studies by June 30, 2022.

Application materials should include a cover letter describing the research agenda for the two year appointment and how it supports the mission of the Mershon Center, current CV, writing sample, and three professional references.

Applications will start to be reviewed January 15, 2022 and will remain open until filled.

Application link: https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Post-Doctoral-Scholar_R32314-1

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9732

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Faculty Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, Urban Politics, Economic Policy

Faculty Fellow Position

Hagop Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies

New York University Arts and Science

The Hagop Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies at New York University invites applicants for a full-time, nontenure track position as a Faculty Fellow to begin September 1, 2022, pending budgetary and administrative approval. The appointment will be for one year, renewable for a further two years.

We are seeking an outstanding junior scholar in any social science or humanities discipline whose research offers a critical perspective on the contemporary Middle East and would complement the strengths of our existing faculty in Middle Eastern Studies. The ideal candidate has an in-depth understanding of the modern Middle East, knowledge of at least one Middle Eastern language, a commitment to inclusive pedagogy, and has a PhD in one of the following fields: Anthropology, Middle Eastern Studies, Middle Eastern History, Cultural Studies, Politics/Political Economy, Sociology, Urban Studies/Geography, or similar. A PhD must be in hand by September 1, 2022. The appointee will be expected to teach at the graduate level (MAs and some PhDs); advise MA students; and thoroughly participate in the activities of the Kevorkian Center, including admissions, alumni and public outreach, and program development.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. For best consideration, materials should be submitted by no later than January 31, 2022.

Please apply online with a cover letter to the search committee that describes your research and teaching interests; a CV including names and contact information for three references; one sample of your work; and a statement on your approach to diversity and inclusion. Diversity, equity, and inclusion are important to the NYU mission and we ask that you address how diversity and inclusion factor into your teaching, research, and/or community engagement, as well as how you would bring issues of diversity to bear on teaching and programming at NYU.

Please apply online here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/98325>

For questions regarding the application, contact Fidele Harfouche at: fh38@nyu.edu.

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the FAS commitment to diversity, equality, and inclusion, please read here: <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html. >

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/31/2022

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9724

Tulane University

Rank: Center for Inter-American Policy and Research Postdoctoral Fellowships

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: Central America, Latin American, South America

Description

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2022-2023, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are encouraged. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments with a stipend of $48,940 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in the Commitment to Equity Project and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment.

Qualifications

Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2022. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/98834> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) two recommendation letters; (5) a writing sample; and (6) teaching evaluations if available. For further information please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 31, 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9721

William & Mary

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship in Geospatial and Economic Analysis of Chinese Development Projects

The Global Research Institute (GRI) at William & Mary invites applications for a post-doctoral scholar position with a focus on geospatial and/or economic analysis of development projects financed by China. This position is designed to strengthen GRI's research capacity in this area, increase the diversity of our scholarly community, provide a mentored learning experience to the postdoctoral fellow, and support and provide additional research opportunities for undergraduate students. GRI seeks to attract promising researchers and educators from different backgrounds, races, ethnic groups, and other diverse populations whose life experiences and research experiences will contribute significantly to the academic mission of William & Mary and GRI.

The postdoctoral scholar will support ongoing research on Chinese development finance at AidData (an international development research lab within the GRI), and fully integrate into GRI's thriving multidisciplinary international development research community. Additionally, s/he will teach one course and direct a team of undergraduate researchers for each year of the award. Throughout this period, s/he will receive mentoring from faculty members and/or senior researchers affiliated with the GRI in a variety of academic development areas including: his/her ongoing research interests, how to pursue funded research, how to organize an undergraduate research lab, and how to improve his/her classroom teaching.

This is a 12-month position, beginning in summer 2022 and renewable for a second year contingent on performance. The position will be open until filled, with a review of applicants beginning on December 20, 2021.

Application Instructions

Candidates must apply via the William & Mary Employment Opportunities portal. For more details and to apply, please visit the position listing at <https://jobs.wm.edu/postings/44724>. Click Apply for this Job, submit your resume/curriculum vitae, cover letter, and a minimum of 3 references.

For full consideration, submit applications by the review date, December 20, 2021. Applications received after the review date will be considered until the posting closes.

Required Qualifications

- Have a PhD by the time appointment begins (June 2022) in economics, political science, public policy, geography/GIS, data science, computer science, or another relevant field;
- Have a strong interest in building and pursuing a policy research agenda that makes use of AidData's Global Chinese Development Finance Dataset, Version 2.0 -- in particular, its geospatial features (see <https://www.aiddata.org/data/aiddatas-global-chinese-development-finance-dataset-version-2-0> and <https://github.com/aiddata/china-osm-geodata>);
- Possess advanced quantitative methods training and expertise in: GIS and geospatial analysis, machine learning, distributed/parallel computing, data analytics;
- Demonstrate experience working with one or more of the following software and tools: Python and relevant GIS/ML packages (e.g., Rasterio, GeoPandas, Tensorflow, PyTorch), QGISmachine;
- Have strong organizational and communication skills

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience conducting externally-sponsored international development research;
- Engaged in applied/policy research that is directly relevant to China's Belt and Road Initiative;
- Experience working collaboratively on applied/policy research projects with large, multi-disciplinary teams;
- Track record of published in peer-reviewed academic journals and/or presenting research at major academic conferences;
- Experience preparing grant proposals and securing external research funds;
- Experience teaching and/or mentoring undergraduate students;
- Willingness/ability to travel overseas

All staff and faculty must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19. Proof of vaccination must be provided on the employee's first day of employment. If an accommodation is needed, please contact Human Resources.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9722

Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: American Politics, Presidency, History & Politics

The Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute sponsors a Postdoctoral Fellowship Program to cultivate the next generation of scholars studying the life, political career, principles, legacy, and era of President Ronald Reagan. The Program funds two one-year fellowships for postdoctoral scholars who intend to revise their dissertation into a book-length manuscript on Reagan and his era. Fellows are hosted at the offices of the Ronald Reagan Institute in Washington D.C. One fellowship, the George P. Shultz Fellowship, is made possible through a generous donation from Tad and Dianne Taube.

Applicants must complete their Ph.D. or terminal degree by September 1, 2022 in history, political science, economics, communications studies, law, or a related field. The Ronald Reagan Institute welcomes all methodological and disciplinary approaches to the study of Reagan and his era. Fellows are awarded a $75,000 stipend and also provided with a $5,000 research account. The Reagan Institute expects that fellows will produce a full manuscript that is ready for initial submission to an academic or high quality commercial press by the end of their fellowship period. Following their residence at the Reagan Institute, postdoctoral fellows are strongly encouraged to pursue an academic career or other professional opportunities in research and scholarship. The fellowship term lasts from September 1, 2022 – August 31, 2023. International applicants are welcome to apply.

The application period opens on November 15, 2021 and closes on January 15, 2022. Fellowships will be announced March 1, 2022. For more information on the Ronald Reagan Institute visit: <https://www.reaganfoundation.org/reagan-institute/>

Program Benefits

- $75,000 stipend + $5,000 research account to offset the costs of travel and professional activities related to the production of their manuscript.
- Mentorship from senior academics who advise fellows and review their manuscript.
- One-on-one support from an archivist at the Reagan Presidential Library.
- Institutional support in generating press interest.
- Dedicated office space, research library access, and opportunities to participate in Reagan Institute programming as desired.
- If desired, opportunities to teach undergraduate courses on the American presidency sponsored by the Institute.

Program Requirements

- PhD/terminal degree in hand by September 1, 2022.
- Engagement with the approximately 200 scholars in the Reagan Roundtable Network
- Participation in the Reagan Roundtable seminar series (5 times per year).
- Circulation of recipient's scholarship within this network of scholars.
- Acceptance of the award constitutes a commitment by each fellow to produce a book manuscript by the end of the fellowship year.

Application Instructions

- *Please submit all documents as PDFs. Do not send in zip files.
- All application materials should be emailed to Anthony Eames at aeames@reaganfoundation.org by 11:59 EST on Saturday, January 15, 2022.
- Executive summary (maximum 1 page)
- Project Proposal (maximum 3 pages)
- Description of methods and approach, including the importance of materials at the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library to your study.
- Relevance of your book to the study of Reagan presidency, legacy, and era, as well as its potential impact on your broader field of specialization.
- Outline of book.
- Writing Sample (20 to 30 pages)
- CV
- Unofficial Transcripts
- Two letters of recommendation (one of which should be from your thesis advisor)

- Letters should be sent directly to Anthony Eames at aeames@reaganfoundation.org with the subject line reading "Letter of Reference for "Applicant Name."

Start Date: Fall 2022

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9707

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Business, Organizations and Society, Tenure Track – Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Social Welfare, Economic Policy

Business, Organizations and Society
Tenure Track – Assistant Professor
Division of Social Science
NYU Abu Dhabi

Position Description

The Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is searching for new faculty to conduct innovative research and educate the next generation of global leaders.

You are invited to apply for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor faculty position in a new undergraduate program, a B.A. in Business, Organizations and Society. The program is interdisciplinary and focuses on the role and impact of business within society. Established on principles of the liberal arts, the program integrates business theory and application, and prepares students to take on roles in businesses and effectively and holistically examine the implications of business decisions for society from multiple perspectives (i.e., social, political, economic, and cultural).

The program seeks applicants whose research and teaching are rooted in management, organizational studies or a related area. Applicants should provide a strong record of scholarship, and evidence of potential to develop and lead high-quality research, with national and international significance. Applicants should demonstrate an outstanding track record for their career stage, in both research and teaching. The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain a cutting edge, innovative, and highly visible research program; participate in student advising and mentorship; teach graduate and/or undergraduate courses in the area of management, entrepreneurship, social impact, and business analytics; or develop new courses in their area of expertise, as appropriate.

The interdisciplinary composition and expertise within the Division of Social Science, as well as the Business, Organizations and Society program, will be used to expand research activities on how businesses influence and are influenced by the societies, political systems, and economies in which they operate. There are many collaboration opportunities within NYUAD, which already houses a number of interdisciplinary research centers and labs, including the Center for Behavioral Institutional Design (C-BID), Center for Interacting Urban Networks (CITIES), and Social Science Experimental Lab (SSEL).

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university commitment to excellence.

NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture, while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. NYUAD supports faculty through fellowships and affiliations with research centers both at NYUAD and in the NYU network more generally. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Management, Sociology, Psychology, Social Psychology, Economics, or a related field, and a specialization in management, organizations or a related area.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of teaching, mentoring, and scholarship, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality teaching and research with special attention to business, organizations, and society.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/95473>

Curriculum Vitae

Cover Letter

Research Statement

Teaching Statement

Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)

Diversity Statement

Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

Three (3) letters of recommendation

We will begin reviewing applications on December 15th, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in early Spring 2022. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2022-2023.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9694

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Criminal Justice, International Law & Organizations, International Security

Please see full job ad at: <https://cuny.jobs/new-york-ny/assistant-professor-international-criminal-justice/EC9C410776B14CC4A25074AD8CE8990A/job/>

ABOUT JOHN JAY COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) led by President Karol V. Mason and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. John Jay is a federally-designated Hispanic-serving and Minority-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college, as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of the City University of New York and offers bachelor's and master's degrees in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study, as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. John Jay College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment in the ICJ BA and ICJ MA programs and in a department to be determined by the candidate's Ph.D. or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department). The position begins in Fall 2022.

Suitable candidates with an international/comparative focus in criminal justice are encouraged to apply and the search is open with respect to topic and geographic region of scholarly interest. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the B.A and M.A. ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates with a focus on race, ethnic relations, indigeneity, migration, or socioeconomic inequality in a global context are strongly encouraged to apply. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum (<http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/182021principlesforaculturallyresponsiveinclusiveandantiracistcurriculumadoptedbycollegecouncilapril82021.pdf>), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

CUNY anticipates a return to fully onsite work before January 2022 and this position is based in New York, NY.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2022 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

-Go to www.cuny.edu/employment

-Click "Search job postings."

-Click the link for "Faculty" and browse to job Opening ID number 23022

-Click on the "Apply Now" button and follow the instructions

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor securing your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by December 31, 2021.

In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Gohar Petrossian, Criminal Justice Department, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, 524 W. 59th Street, New York, NY, 10019 or ICJBAMA@jjay.cuny.edu with the applicant's name in the subject line. All questions should be directed to Prof. Petrossian (gpetrossian@jjay.cuny.edu) or Prof. Barberet (rbarberet@jjay.cuny.edu) by email.

CLOSING DATE

Review of resumes to begin November 18, 2021.

Posting closes on January 3, 2022.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/8/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9673

Texas Tech University

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

Texas Tech University, the department of political science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level, beginning in Fall 2022. We seek candidates with broad training in International Relations. The position is open to all international relations subfields.

The department houses and administers graduate and undergraduate degrees in political science, as well as an undergraduate degree in Global Studies. Global Studies is an interdisciplinary program, training students in transnational affairs, international and regional politics, economics, culture, and society. The successful candidate will be expected to contribute to the department teaching and advising mission in both political science and global studies.

Applicants must show evidence and/or promise of excellence in teaching and an active research agenda. Candidates with strong quantitative and/or formal methods training are preferred and an ability to teach graduate methods courses, are preferred. Candidates who have very strong records of scholarship supported by extramural funding and who have the proven capacity or clear potential to bring externally sponsored research to Texas Tech University are encouraged to apply. Service duties include program-building, as well as commitment to extra-curricular activities. Service to the department, college, and university is expected. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the time of the appointment.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a diversity statement. The Department of Political Science and Texas Tech University are committed to inclusive excellence. We request that all applicants submit a statement explaining how their previous and potential contributions enhance a culture of diversity and inclusion through teaching, research, creative activity and/or service.

All items except reference letters should be submitted at <http://www.texastech.edu/careers/>. The requisition number is 26327BR. Reference letters should be emailed to Prof. Tim Nokken, Chair, Department of political science at timothy.nokken@ttu.edu. For full consideration, all application materials must be received by December 21, 2021. Questions about the position should be directed to Prof. Tim Nokken, Chair, Department of political science, timothy.nokken@ttu.edu.

Texas Tech is an Hispanic Serving Institution. As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, Texas Tech University is dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to teaching and working in a multicultural environment. We actively encourage applications from all those who can contribute, though their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community at Texas Tech. The university welcomes applications from minoritized candidates, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/21/2021

Date Posted: 11/8/2021

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 9672

Dartmouth College

Rank: Post-doctoral Fellows Program in U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security

The John Sloan Dickey Center for International Understanding at Dartmouth College invites applications for the 2022-23 (September - June) Rosenwald Post-doctoral Fellows Program in U.S. Foreign Policy and International Security. Historically, most Fellows have been political scientists and historians, but we welcome applications from any scholar whose research bears directly on foreign policy, international security, or international history. While scholars at all stages of their careers will be considered, applicants who are recent recipients of the Ph.D. or equivalent degree, are especially welcomed. Fellows must be in residence during their Fellowship to participate in Dickey Center seminars and events throughout the academic year. More information about the Post-doctoral Fellows program here: dartgo.org/rosenwald-dartmouth-postdoc

Fellows receive competitive stipends, research support and benefits, comparable to those offered by other fellowship programs. Faculty on leave from their home institutions will receive half of their annual salary, up to $50,000.

How to Apply:

Applicants must submit all of the following by Friday, December 31, 2021 to:

<https://apply.interfolio.com/98302>

- A cover letter
- A curriculum vitae
- Dissertation abstract (1 paragraph)
- A statement of up to 1,500 words describing the proposed research project during the year at Dartmouth
- A writing sample (50 pp. max)
- Two confidential letters of reference
- Graduate school transcript (Unofficial transcripts are acceptable. Junior faculty and professionals may include a transcript, but are not required to do so.)
- A confidential financial statement on a separate page indicating the applicant's other sources of support available during fellowship period and – for current faculty only – current salary.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the quality and significance of the proposed research, its relevance to foreign policy, and the ability of the applicant to benefit from interaction with and mentoring from Dartmouth faculty.

Dartmouth is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity. In that spirit, we are particularly interested in receiving applications from a broad spectrum of people, including women, persons of color, persons with disabilities, veterans or any other legally protected group.

Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9670

Colorado Mesa University

Rank: Visiting Professor of History or Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Open

Distinguished scholars in History or Political Science are invited to apply for the Wayne N. Aspinall Chair at Colorado Mesa University. For a $10,000 stipend, the visiting professor will spend three weeks on the Colorado Mesa University campus from late March-to mid-April 2023; teach a one-credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Applications must include a vitae, a brief outline of a course proposal and a topic for the major public lecture. Submit application by February 11, 2022 to Dr. Justin Gollob, Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Colorado Mesa University, 1100 North Ave., Grand Junction, CO 81501. Feel free to direct any inquiries to jgollob@coloradomesa.edu or 970 248-1279.

Start Date: Spring 2023
Application Deadline: 2/11/2022
Date Posted: 11/4/2021
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 9661

Nuffield College, University of Oxford

Rank: Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellowships in Politics (up to three posts)

Nuffield College and the Department of Politics and International Relations, University of Oxford intend to appoint jointly, with effect from 1 September 2022 or as soon as possible thereafter, up to three Postdoctoral Prize Research Fellows (PPRFs) in Politics, broadly construed to include political science, political behaviour, comparative politics, political economy, electoral studies, political theory, international relations, and political history.

The key responsibilities of the Research Fellows are to engage in advanced study and independent scholarly research in politics broadly construed (as above); to disseminate research findings through publication and participation in conferences and workshops; to take part in the intellectual life of the College and the Department by organising workshops, seminars or conferences; and to undertake teaching not expected to exceed 48 stint units per year (the equivalent to teaching an eight-week 2-hour seminar series per year), and to assist in examining for the Department.

To be eligible, candidates should have completed, or be close to completing, a PhD/DPhil in a relevant field. Candidates must be within three years of the defence date (viva voce examination date) of their doctorate at the time of application. Allowances will be made for career breaks (for example, family-related leave) and candidates are asked to provide relevant information. Preference will be given to candidates who have not previously held a research fellowship similar to that advertised for more than one year at the time of taking up the fellowship. Prospective candidates should also have experience of carrying out independent research and a track record of excellent quality papers appropriate for and commensurate with their career level. They should have the ability to provide excellent teaching to high-achieving students; the willingness to contribute to the intellectual life of the College and the Department; and excellent oral and written communication skills. Teaching experience in any area of Comparative Government, Political Theory, or International Relations would be desirable.

The posts are full-time and fixed-term for three years, starting on 1 September 2022 or as soon as possible thereafter. Shorter-term appointments are unlikely to be considered. The posts will be based at Nuffield College and at the Department of Politics and International Relations. The salary offered is GBP 32,632 per annum. Subject to availability, Research Fellows may opt to rent single accommodation in College. Further benefits include a research allowance and free lunch and dinner in College.

Further particulars, including information on how to apply, are available from the College website at https://www.nuffield.ox.ac.uk/media/4966/polpprf_jd2022.pdf

The deadline for applications is Monday 6 December 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/6/2021
Date Posted: 11/4/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 9664

Ashoka University

Rank: Tenure-track Assistant Professor | International Relations

This advertisement is part of the search announced by the advertisement of the below-mentioned posts in January 2021. Those who have applied to the earlier notice need not do so again.

The Department of International Relations at Ashoka University invites applications for one open rank position (Assistant Professor) in International Relations. The selected candidates are expected to join at the beginning of the academic year 2022-23 (August'22).

Scholars should hold a doctorate in Political Science or International Relations or History with a focus on international and global history (or clear evidence that the completion of such a doctorate is imminent).

All candidates will be required to demonstrate:

- (a) Evidence of ability to engage in internationally recognized research in International Relations, with publications and participation in scholarly activity commensurate with stage of career.
- (b) Evidence of ability to teach International Relations, including general survey courses outside of their areas of specialization.
- (c) Evidence of grants and funds that a candidate might have applied for (please mention both successful and unsuccessful research bids).
- (d) Ability to play an effective and collegial role in the work of the department.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. It offers internationally competitive terms and conditions. The teaching load is comparable to the top universities in the world, and the University supports research in various ways. Ashoka University strongly encourages applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants should submit, among other things, a cover letter of not more than 750 words.

To apply, kindly click on <http://apply.interfolio.com/94842>

For technical queries or difficulties, kindly contact: faculty.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/3/2021
Date Posted: 11/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9651

Fordham University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Chinese Studies

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures at Fordham University (New York City) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Chinese Studies to be based primarily at Fordham's Lincoln Center campus, beginning Fall 2022. We have particular interest in candidates working in political science or social science fields such as international studies with a primary focus on China. Potential areas of expertise may include: politics and political economy of China and their global implications, political philosophy, comparative politics, environmental politics and policy, social care practices, international relations, international security, peace and conflict studies. We will also consider candidates in the field of modern or contemporary Chinese history. The applicant's research must be interdisciplinary, demonstrate a transnational approach to the study of China, and show a commitment to a non-Eurocentric methodology.

This candidate would help build our interdisciplinary Chinese Studies major and work to build programs in and strengthen ties with related disciplines across the university, such as International Studies, International Political Economy and Development, Political Science, and History. This candidate will also build connections with local and international China-related organizations in New York City.

All applicants must have native or near-native competence in Mandarin Chinese and English and a Ph.D. in hand by the time of appointment. In addition to teaching courses of his/her/their area of specialization in English, the successful candidate must be able to teach political science or related content courses in Mandarin to both native and second-language learners. The successful candidate will contribute to the expansion of our Chinese program, particularly the Chinese Studies major that draws upon interdisciplinary strength from different departments, and collaborate with the university's interdisciplinary programs. In addition to an active research agenda and commitment to excellence in teaching, dedication to program building and leadership is required.

All applicants should submit the following materials by December 12th, 2021: cover letter, curriculum vitae, research and teaching statements, two sample syllabi, writing sample (no more than 30 pages) and contact information for three references. Applications should be submitted online at Interfolio.

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures is committed to building a multicultural department and strongly encourages women, racial / ethnic / gender underrepresented people, persons with disabilities and covered veterans to apply. Fordham University is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition that welcomes applications from people of all backgrounds. Fordham University is committed to excellence through diversity; it is an equal opportunity employer.

apply.interfolio.com/97896

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9662

John Cabot University

Rank: Full-time tenure track faculty position in International Affairs

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Law & Organizations, International Security

Full-time tenure track faculty position in International Affairs

John Cabot University, an accredited American liberal arts university in Rome, Italy, invites applications for a full-time tenure-track assistant professor position in International Affairs. In exceptional circumstances, associate and full professor rank candidates will be considered. We seek applicants with a Ph.D. in Political Science, demonstrated excellence in teaching and research, and a commitment to program development. The ideal candidate will have significant experience with the American liberal arts tradition.

Preference will be given to candidates with expertise in international political economy, international development, and international security, including non-traditional security, such as food security, cybersecurity, or environmental security. The successful candidate will be expected to teach introductory and advanced undergraduate courses with a load of three courses per semester and to be an active member of the university community. Teaching experience with quantitative methodology is especially welcome, as is the ability to teach at the graduate level.

The initial appointment is for two years with the possibility of tenure. Candidates must be fluent in English, which is the language of instruction. Applicants should send a letter of interest describing their research and teaching, a curriculum vitae, one or two papers or publications as writing samples, and evidence of teaching excellence to IASearch2022@johncabot.edu. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be sent separately to this same address with the candidate's name in the subject line of the message. Review of applications will begin on December 15th, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. The successful candidate will be expected to start in the Fall of 2022. Only short-listed candidates will be contacted.

John Cabot University, a regionally accredited American university in Rome, Italy, is an Equal Opportunity Employer that is committed to diversity and inclusion in the workplace. The University prohibits discrimination and harassment of any kind based on race, color, ethnic or national origin, religion, sex, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, marital or parental status, or disability in any of its policies, programs, and services.

Information about JCU can be found at: <http://www.johncabot.edu/>

Start Date: Fall
Application Deadline: 12/15/2021
Date Posted: 11/3/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9652

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor - Gender, Governance and Society (Tenure Track)

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, History & Politics, Social Movements

Assistant/Associate Professor - Gender, Governance and Society (Tenure Track)

Division of Arts and Humanities

New York University Abu Dhabi

The Division of Arts and Humanities at New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) invites applications for a full-time tenure/tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor faculty position. We seek a scholar and educator whose scholarship and research bridges the studies of gender, governance and society with scholarship in the humanities and social sciences. The ideal candidate must have a strong research agenda and on track for a publication record suitable for tenure at New York University. Commitment to teaching excellence, ability to supervise BA, MA and PhD students, and a record of service to their current and previous institutions are required.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

Candidates for the position will possess a PhD focused on gender, governance and society in fields and subjects such as sociology, political science, anthropology and cultural theory/studies, or history.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/91524>

.Curriculum Vitae

.Cover Letter

.Teaching Philosophy and Statement

.Research Profile and Plans

.Scholarly and other Portfolio

.Teaching Syllabi

.Three confidential letters of reference that will be uploaded directly to interfolio by your referee.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to be interviewed in the Fall 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2022-2023.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.artsandhumanities.positions@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9644

Sweet Briar College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: American Politics, Presidency, Political Philosophy & Theory

Sweet Briar College invites applications for a tenure-track position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. The successful candidate will be an engaged scholar-teacher and have a strong commitment to undergraduate education, with a broad focus in the area of American government and politics. Research and teaching interests in presidential or congressional politics, campaigns and elections or American political thought are preferred.

The College's academic calendar, with immersive three-week terms bookending traditional 12-week terms, creates an opportunity for innovative courses to take advantage of close student faculty interactions and collaboration across disciplines. The successful candidate will help to shape the political science program for the future, will have the opportunity to make contributions to our women's leadership core curriculum, and to engage in research with undergraduates. Institutional support for research is available and includes internal faculty grants and an honors summer research program.

Candidates ready to work with a diverse student body are especially welcome. Sweet Briar prides itself on creating a learning environment that encourages young women to fulfill their highest potential. Leadership in all walks of life is fostered by the special connections our faculty make with their students, and Sweet Briar women translate their academic experiences into interesting and important lives.

How to Apply:

To apply, visit the Sweet Briar College Career Center: <https://sbc.edu/human-resources/faculty-staff-job-openings/>. All applications should include: 1) cover letter; 2) CV; 3) statement on teaching philosophy and research interests; and 4) a statement highlighting contributions to or future plans for promoting diversity and inclusion through work in this position; 5) the names and full contact information for three professional references. Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9648

Widener University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Widener University is currently seeking a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Science beginning fall 2022-23 academic year. The successful candidate will have a background in international relations and the ability to teach general courses in comparative politics and other courses of interest in political science. Additionally, preferred candidates will have the ability to contribute to the Masters of Public Administration program or interdisciplinary offerings.

Widener University is committed to fostering an environment in which faculty, staff, and students from a variety of backgrounds, cultures, and personal experiences are welcomed and can thrive. The College of Arts and Sciences puts high priority on inclusive pedagogy, inclusive mentoring, and community engagement. Those candidates experienced in, or who would enjoy, working with a diverse range of faculty, staff, and students, and those who can contribute to the climate of inclusivity, are encouraged to identify their experiences in these areas throughout their application. The College also deeply values interdisciplinarity embodied in such programs as African and African American Studies and Gender, Women and Sexuality Studies to which faculty from all Arts and Sciences disciplines are welcome to contribute.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES (including, but not limited to):

Essential duties:

Teach undergraduate general courses in international relations, general comparative politics and other courses of interest in political science.

Engage in professional development relating to the discipline and pedagogy, publication of research, and participation in academic citizenship at all levels within the University.

Secondary responsibilities:

Advise undergraduate majors

Actively participate in department co-curricular and extracurricular activities.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS (education/training and experience required):

Required:

PhD in political science. ABD candidates may be considered if the degree will be completed by May 2022.

Demonstrated commitment to, and experience with, undergraduate education

Ability to teach Foreign Government and Politics, as well as new or existing electives in their field.

Should be prepared to engage students in experiential learning within their area of expertise and contribute to the general education curriculum

Preferred:

Teaching experience in political science and/or international politics is preferred.

Ability to contribute to the Masters of Public Administration program or interdisciplinary offerings would be a plus.

For full consideration, qualified candidates must submit a cover letter, CV, transcripts, and a teaching philosophy by December 3, 2021 at widener.edu/jobs. Three letters of references are requested and should be sent to: ArtsandSciences@widener.edu. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Only those selected to interview will be contacted.

Widener has a strategic commitment to building an inclusive university community whose diversity enriches the lives of all members and where our students are prepared for living in a pluralistic and ever-changing world. As a leading metropolitan university, Widener strives to embody the values that are inherent in our mission: civic engagement, access, inclusion, academic excellence, innovation and leadership.

Widener University, an independent, metropolitan, doctoral-intensive university, connects curricula to social issues through civic engagement. Dynamic teaching, active scholarship, personal attention and experiential learning are key components of the Widener Experience. Located in Chester, PA, Widener's main campus is nestled between Philadelphia, PA and Wilmington, DE, with Law Schools located in both Harrisburg and Wilmington. For more information about the university, please visit our website at www.widener.edu.

EOE M/F/V/D

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/3/2021

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9646

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Position Description Summary:

The George Washington University Elliott School of International Affairs and the Department of Political Science invite applications for a tenure track position in the field of Political Science with specialization in Environmental Politics and Policy, beginning in Fall semester 2022. We look to hire a scholar at the Assistant Professor level who will teach and produce scholarship in such areas as climate change, resource scarcity, energy politics, multilateral negotiations, sustainability, and other areas of environmental politics and policy in international relations and/or comparative politics.

Specific Duties and Responsibilities:

The successful candidate will develop new undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental politics and policy and may also teach other courses in international relations, comparative politics, and/or regional studies in their area of expertise. Depending on the research agenda of the person, this hire will be part of the Elliott School's research ecosystem, such as with the Institute for Science and Technology Policy, the Institute for International Economic Policy, the Institute for Security and Conflict Studies, and/or any of the regionally focused research institutes. This faculty member will also support GW's sustainability minor.

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. in Political Science. Applicants should have demonstrated significant research promise and teaching competence.

Other Information:

The culture of George Washington University reflects its shared values, including respect and diversity. The Elliott School recognizes that diversity and social mobility are among our country's greatest assets in engaging the rest of the world; we are deeply committed as a school to fostering an inclusive community. To this end, we encourage candidates from diverse identities, backgrounds, and experiences. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups. The selected candidate will be expected to support inclusive excellence, including inclusive teaching. To learn more about the Elliott School's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, please visit elliott.gwu.edu/diversity-and-inclusion.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

To be considered, please complete an application at this link (<https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/88215>) and upload a CV, cover letter, statement of teaching/research interest, course evaluations (if available), samples of written work, and statement on how your past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion will advance the Elliott School's commitment to inclusive excellence. In addition, please send at least three letters of recommendation to pscjobs_IR@gwu.edu.

Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered. Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

EEO Statement:

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9636

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Tenure-Track)

Assistant Professor of Political Science (Tenure-Track)

Division of Social Science

New York University Abu Dhabi

New York University Abu Dhabi invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science with a focus on International Relations, though highly qualified candidates from other fields are welcome to apply. We expect successful candidates to commence their appointment September 1, 2022, subject to final budget approval.

You may visit the Political Science programs website for a description of its innovative curriculum:

<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence. Accordingly, we particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community-minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of scholarship, teaching, and mentoring, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

This position is not located in the United States. You must be willing to relocate to Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates.

Application Instructions

To ensure full consideration by the search committee, applicants must submit the following items to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/97578>

- .Curriculum Vitae
- .Cover Letter
- .Statement of Research Plans
- .Statement of Teaching Interests
- .Three representative writing samples
- .Name and email address of three references (Each referee will be contacted to upload their reference letter via Interfolio)

The review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021 and will continue on a rolling basis until the positions are filled.

The excellent terms of employment are competitive and include generous start-up and on-going research funds, as well as housing subsidies and educational subsidies for children. Faculty may also spend an occasional semester at NYU New York and other sites of the global network, engaging in both research and teaching opportunities.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

EEO Statement

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr

NYU is an equal opportunity employer committed to equity, diversity, and social inclusion.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9635

Howard University

Rank: Assistant Professor Tenure-Track

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Africa

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the area of Comparative Politics. The successful candidate will be prepared to conduct externally-funded research in the areas of comparative politics with a focus on politics in the Black Diaspora. Regional specialization is open to all areas. Qualified applicants should have evidence of research productivity and teaching experience in at least one of the areas covered by the emerging field of data science and computational social science. These may include, but are not limited to: working with "big data," relational data, social network analysis, computational text analysis, machine-learning, agent-based modeling, or geospatial analysis techniques, among others.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. We envision this position as expansive and methodologically diverse, with a focus on how on-going global changes intersect with historical patterns of power and dominance, and how these factors affect current and future global discourses. The successful candidate is expected to develop a vigorous, extramurally funded research program in their areas of expertise and have a strong record of and ability to teach in-person and use online tools to design and teach distance learning courses at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The successful candidate is expected to actively participate in the Department's teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired. The candidate will also contribute to the International Affairs undergraduate major, and also work closely with the Center for Women, Gender, and Global Leadership. Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as a Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity research by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation's capital, Washington, D.C.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 17 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor.

Required Qualifications: • Ph.D. in political science or closely related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc.) from an accredited institution; • Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor; • Effective communication and organizational skills; and • Evidence of writing successful grant proposals.

Complete applications must be submitted as a single PDF file containing: 1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above; 2) Current curriculum vita; 3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests, and future plans; 4) One-page statement of teaching philosophy and experience; and 5) A writing sample. 6) Three letters of recommendation sent under separate cover to the email below directly from the recommenders.

Questions should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee, Dr. David Dixon at ComparativePoliticsSearch@Howard.edu.

Completed applications submitted electronically via Academic Jobs Online. Screening will begin on September 20, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 16, 2022. Additional details and information can be found at <http://coas.howard.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9629

Mercyhurst University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Middle East, Environmental Policy, International Law & Organizations

The Political Science Department invites applications for an assistant professor (tenure-track) position beginning fall 2022. The successful applicant will possess a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching at a liberal arts university. The department is seeking a comparative politics/international relations generalist. Preference will be given to a candidate who can teach Middle East politics in addition to other comparative or international relations courses. IR background in the areas of IPE, human rights, international organizations, or environmental politics are a department priority. Energy, collegiality, and a commitment to liberal arts education are highly prized attributes in our department. Preference will be given to candidates who have completed the Ph.D. or will complete it before the fall 2022 semester. Screening of applications will begin immediately and the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit a letter of interest, current vitae, transcripts (initial submissions may be unofficial copies), three letters of recommendation, evidence of teaching excellence, and a one-page statement summarizing their philosophy of teaching to Jennifer Verga, administrative assistant: jverga@mercyhurst.edu. Mercyhurst is a mid-sized, Catholic, liberal arts, primarily residential university, founded by the Sisters of Mercy, with an enrollment of approximately 2,500 students. Class sizes are small and the normal teaching load is 8 courses per year. For information about the political science program see the departmental website: <http://polisci.mercyhurst.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/26/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9626

Lyon College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

Lyon College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science position starting in the fall of 2022. This one-year position may be renewed for a second year with the additional possibility of conversion to tenure-track. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, but the area of specialization is open. The ability to teach the Political Science major's required course sequence in International and Comparative Politics is expected, along with a section per semester of the American Experience, a part of the College's Core Curriculum. The appointment features a three/four teaching load.

Experience at a small, residential liberal arts college as a student or as a faculty member is desirable. Absent that experience, an understanding of the difference between a small college and a university and the desire to be on the faculty of a small college are important. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

Lyon College is a private, selective liberal arts college affiliated with the Presbyterian Church (U.S.A.). It is located in Batesville, Arkansas, a safe and historic town of 10,000 that serves as commercial, medical, social, and governmental hub for an eight-county area. The College currently enrolls almost 600 undergraduate students from 25 states and 11 foreign countries. Entering freshmen have an average high school GPA of 3.5 and an average ACT composite of 24.

Interested candidates should send a letter of application; CV; evidence of teaching and scholarly excellence; and three letters of recommendation to Human Resources, P.O. Box 2317, Batesville, AR 72503-2317 or electronically to jobs@lyon.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9597

Temple University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Instructional) in Global Studies

The Global Studies Program in the College of Liberal Arts at Temple University invites applications for a full-time, renewable, non-tenure track position (Assistant Professor (Instructional) beginning in Fall 2022. Global Studies is a multidisciplinary program offering undergraduate degrees focused on culture, economy, and security, with 200 majors and 50 minors. We seek candidates who can teach courses such as Research Skills (exposing students to methods from multiple disciplines), Introduction to Global Studies, the Global Studies senior research capstone, and, as well as general education courses with a global orientation. We are particularly interested in instructors who have experience teaching diverse research methods courses, interdisciplinary courses, and writing intensive courses. The teaching load for this position is 4 courses per semester. The successful candidate will have a strong teaching record, a commitment to interdisciplinarity, and interest in the global south. Temple University offers full-time faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, retirement, and other benefits. Candidates are expected to have completed a Ph.D. by the beginning of their appointment in Sociology, Political Science/International Relations, Geography, Anthropology, or a related/interdisciplinary field (such as Development Studies).

Temple University is a state-related Carnegie Research University (very high research activity) located in Philadelphia. The College of Liberal Arts is home to 32 undergraduate majors, 32 minors, 23 certificate programs and 15 graduate degree programs. With its vibrant and diverse array of educational programs, the College of Liberal Arts plays a tremendous role in Temple University's academic success and its mission mirrors both the historical importance of the liberal arts in society and the principles on which the university was founded: providing access to an excellent, affordable higher education that prepares students for careers, further learning and active citizenship; creating a collaborative community of outstanding faculty and staff who foster inclusion and encourage the aspirations of Temple students; promoting service and engagement throughout Philadelphia, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, the nation and the world.

COVID-19 vaccinations are required for employment at Temple University, unless granted a religious or medical exemption (see www.temple.edu/coronavirus).

Temple University is an Affirmative Action equal opportunity employer and particularly encourages applications from women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities.

To apply, submit all materials via Interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/97331>. Direct any questions about the position to Danielle K. Scherer, Assistant Director of Global Studies (danielle.scherer@temple.edu).

temple.edu). For full consideration, applications must be received by January 3, 2022, and include the following materials:

Letter of interest

CV

Evidence of teaching effectiveness

Teaching philosophy

3 Letters of recommendation

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/3/2022

Date Posted: 10/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9613

Brown University

Rank: Watson Climate Solutions Postdoctoral Associate 2022-2024

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Climate Solutions at the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs. We seek a scholar to help us address one or both of two major topics: climate and trade, and the geopolitics of the global energy transition. The postdoc will help research on questions like how climate should fit into the United States' China strategy, how US policymakers can work with the EU on issues such as carbon tariffs and border adjustment measures, or how states and market actors can work together to finance decarbonization. Ability to conduct and write policy-oriented research, as well as academic research, is essential. There are no teaching responsibilities. The selected candidate will devote 50 percent time to projects at the Climate Solutions Lab, under the supervision of Professor Jeff Colgan, and 50 percent time to his or her own (climate-related) research projects. The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Founded in 1764, Brown is a leading research university distinct for its student-centered learning and deep sense of purpose. Brown University students, faculty, and staff are driven by the idea that their work will have an impact on the world. Brown is a place where rigorous scholarship, complex problem-solving, and service to the public good are defined by collaboration, intellectual discovery, and working in ways that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries.

Eligibility and terms

Scholars of all nationalities with a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, sociology, economics, or closely related disciplines will be considered.

Dissertation must be complete by June 30, 2022. Candidates must be untenured and within 5 years of Ph.D.

Fellows will receive an annual stipend of $65,000 for this benefits-eligible position. Additional funding will be made available for research expenses and research-related programming on campus.

For more information, please visit:

<http://watson.brown.edu/climatesolutionslab>

Application requirements

Candidates should submit a cover letter of application, a CV, three letters of reference and a short writing sample (15-20 pages) through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/95524>.

Applications received by December 1, 2021 will receive full consideration.

Final notifications are expected to go out in Winter 2022. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective July 1, 2022, and is not renewable.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/20/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9594

Harvard University

Rank: William Lyon Mackenzie King Postdoctoral Fellowship

Specializations: Canada, North America, United States

The Canada Program at Harvard University's Weatherhead Center for International Affairs invites applications for the William Lyon Mackenzie King Postdoctoral Fellowships. Two fellows will be appointed for the 2022–2023 academic year, with the possibility of extending the fellowship for one additional year—conditional on the approval of the Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, WCFIA associated faculty, and the co-hosting academic department.

The fellowships are open to scholars in all disciplines who are engaged in US-Canada comparative research and teaching, with preference given to individuals working within the social sciences and humanities. For postdoctoral candidates who will have completed the PhD within 12 months of the August 1, 2022 start date, verification of completion of the degree will be required prior to the appointment. Those in possession of a PhD for more than five years are ineligible.

The fellowships provide an annual stipend of $68,000, which is supplemented by funding for research and for individual health insurance coverage. The fellows will be required to teach one course during the year, and will be expected to engage with the Canada Program and with the University's wider community. Fellows receive shared office space at the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs, and enjoy full access to the University's library, archival, and computing resources.

TO APPLY:

Candidates should submit: a letter of application describing their suitability for the fellowship; a curriculum vitae with a list of publications; a sample of their written work; a teaching portfolio, containing a statement on teaching experience and syllabi; and three letters of recommendation.

TO SUBMIT: https://academicpositions.harvard.edu/postings/10499William Lyon Mackenzie King Postdoctoral Fellowship

DEADLINE: December 3, 2021

We are an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, gender identity, sexual orientation, pregnancy and pregnancy-related conditions or any other characteristic protected by law.

For more information about the WCFIA Canada Program, please visit: http://programs.wcfia.harvard.edu/canada_programhttps://programs.wcfia.harvard.edu/canada_program

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/3/2021

Date Posted: 10/20/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9557

Academia Sinica

Rank: Assistant Research Fellow (equivalent to Assistant Professor)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Position Announcement

Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica

1. The Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica (IPSAS), Taipei, Taiwan, seeks to appoint full-time faculty members at the rank of assistant research fellow (which is equivalent to assistant professor). Application for higher rank will also be considered.
2. The applicant should specialize at least one of the following fields: (1) Taiwan politics and comparative democracy; (2) China and comparative politico-economic transition; (3) cross-Strait relations and international relations theory; (4) political changes in Asia and global democratic development; and, (5) political methodology.
3. The applicant must have a doctoral degree in political science or related disciplines, or is able to receive a Ph.D. degree by August 31, 2022.
4. Applicants for positions of assistant research fellow should submit the following documents:
 - (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
 - (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate or certification for completion of course work and successful defense of dissertation (for applicants who have not yet passed the oral examination, proof for completion of courses and a letter certifying imminent holding of oral examination are required);
 - (3) two copies of the doctoral dissertation (or draft) and other publications;
 - (4) an abstract (in both English and Chinese) of the doctoral dissertation;
 - (5) transcripts from undergraduate and graduate schools;
 - (6) a statement of research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
 - (7) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio; those applying for the position of assistant research fellow should have one letter from the dissertation advisor).
5. Applicants for positions of associate research fellow or above should submit the following documents:
 - (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
 - (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate;
 - (3) three representative publications (and two copies each);
 - (4) proofs for appointments in Taiwanese or international academic institutes;
 - (5) a statement of research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
 - (6) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio).

6. The application should be sent to Dr. Chung-li Wu, Director, Institute of Political Science, Academia Sinica, 128 Academia Rd., Sec. 2, Taipei 115201, Taiwan, R.O.C..
7. Questions can be forwarded to Ms. Ren-Yuan Lo at 886-2-2652-5303, faxed to 886-2-2783-2610, or e-mailed to ipsas@gate.sinica.edu.tw.
8. The application should be received by November 30, 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9592

Dartmouth College

Rank: Distinguished Visiting Scholars

As part of a new program within the Dickey Center for International Understanding, Dartmouth's Initiative for Global Security (DIGS) invites applications for its distinguished visiting scholars program. Each year, DIGS selects a number of distinguished academics who will spend 3-12 months at Dartmouth working on their own research projects and collaborating with Dartmouth faculty, postdoctoral fellows, and students. DIGS advances Dartmouth's contributions to international security through research designed to improve policy-making and by promoting direct engagement with foreign policy-makers. It welcomes scholars from any discipline whose research bears on international security (broadly conceived) and has implications for real-world policy choices.

About the Program

Visiting Scholars are selected competitively on the basis of applicants' qualifications and the relevance of their research to DIGS's mission and objectives. The Initiative offers stipends to visiting scholars meant to supplement leave/sabbatical support. The amount of the stipend depends on length of stay. Visiting scholars are given offices at the Dickey Center and are afforded full access to Dartmouth libraries and facilities.

We are especially interested in scholars who can stay for one or more full terms during the regular academic year. Visiting scholars who wish to join us for the summer term (June 20-August 30) are asked to spend at least one additional term in residence. Visiting Scholars are expected to be in residence.

Dartmouth is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity. In that spirit, we are particularly interested in receiving applications from a broad spectrum of people, including women, persons of color, persons with disabilities, veterans or any other legally protected group.

Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates.

To apply, please visit: <https://dickey.dartmouth.edu/programs/security/distinguished-visiting-scholars>. There, please fill in the form and upload your letter of interest outlining objectives of the visit and research plans, as well as a current CV. The DIGS faculty committee will review applications for the 2022-23 Academic Year in January. Any questions, or inquiries, please email global.security@dartmouth.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9584

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Cybersecurity

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Public Policy

The Public Policy and Political Economy program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for a tenure-system Assistant Professor in Cybersecurity and Policy.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The candidate's research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include ethical and legal aspects of cybersecurity, regulation across countries, the economics of information security, the interaction of security and privacy considerations, and the politics of developing and administering cybersecurity policies and programs. While experience in the private sector, government agency, NGO or public policy organization will be an advantage, all exceptional candidates will be considered. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

Applicants should upload a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations; and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

apply online: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/16876>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9587

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Open Rank Professor of International Relations

apply online at: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/16878>

The School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for an open rank, tenure-system position in international relations.

The successful candidate for the position will have a PhD in political science or public policy. The area of specialization within international relations is open, but candidates with expertise in international conflict are especially encouraged to apply. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods and to publish in the top peer-reviewed journals and presses in the field.

The successful candidate will demonstrate a record of or potential for teaching excellence and will be expected to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses, with most faculty teaching two courses per semester. The school's faculty includes multiple winners of internal and external teaching awards, and the university's Center for Teaching and Learning helps faculty to incorporate best practices as identified by the scholarship on teaching and learning.

The University of Texas at Dallas was recently ranked 39th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities – Very High Research Activity."

Applicants should upload a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations (if available); a sample of recent written work; and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9588

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, International Law & Organizations, Religion & Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a full-time one-year visiting appointment for the 2022–2023 academic year (beginning July 1, 2022). The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the humanities, social sciences, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is in one or more of the following areas: global legality; post-colonial legality; law and science; law and critical race theory; law and religion; legal theory; legal history; and law and culture. The position requires a Ph.D or a J.D.

Applicants should submit electronically to Interfolio <http://apply.interfolio.com/96654> a cover letter addressed to Professor Martha M.

Umphrey, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on January 1, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 1/1/2022

Date Posted: 10/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9566

Wittenberg University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Wittenberg University seeks to hire a full-time, tenure track- assistant professor beginning August 1, 2022. Wittenberg is committed to attracting and retaining highly qualified individuals who collectively reflect the diversity of our student body and society at-large. We seek candidates with teaching and research interests in international relations or comparative politics, with a focus outside of advanced democracies and political economy. A successful candidate will also be expected to offer a course in American national institutions (i.e., Congress & the Presidency). Applicants must be committed to teaching in a liberal arts environment as well as to professional activity.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. (or ABD) in Political Science and interest in teaching in the liberal arts and sciences context. For further information about the position, please contact the chair of the Political Science Department at jallan@wittenberg.edu.

The successful candidate will demonstrate support for diversity, equity and inclusiveness as well as participate in maintaining a respectful, positive work environment. Please see our notice of nondiscrimination housed on our website.

Wittenberg University is committed to preventing and addressing sexual misconduct in our campus community. Our Title IX policies can be viewed on our university website.

Application Instructions:

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Interested applicants must apply online by visiting: <http://wittenberg.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=137949>.

Applications will not be accepted by email or postal mail. As part of the application process, please upload:

- A cover letter;
- A curriculum vitae;
- Evidence of successful teaching;

Statement of teaching philosophy;

A statement that addresses your interest in teaching at a liberal arts college and how your experiences with teaching, scholarship, and/or service might contribute to a college community that includes a commitment to diversity and inclusion as one of its core values; Unofficial graduate transcripts.

In addition, please ask your referees (three) to send their recommendation letters via email directly to Elizabeth Howe, Executive Assistant to the Provost (ehowe@wittenberg.edu).

If you are a person with a disability and require assistance with the application process, please contact Wittenberg's Human Resources Department at 937-327-7517.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9558

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in International Political Economy.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022.

The application deadline is Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/92232>

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9547

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in political science and international relations, with a specialization in the relationships among emerging technologies, national security, and international relations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022. The application deadline is Wednesday, December 1, 2021.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/92233>

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9548

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: 2022-23 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship

Specializations: Defense, Science & Technology, International Security

Council on Foreign Relations Seeking 2022-2023 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship Applicants

The Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship offers younger scholars studying nuclear security issues the opportunity to spend a period of twelve months at CFR's offices in New York or Washington, DC, conducting policy-relevant research. While in residence full time at CFR, selected fellows will lead a project of their own design, conduct original research, and write at least one policy-relevant document.

Fellowship Award

The duration of the fellowship is twelve months, beginning in September. The program awards a stipend of $110,000 for junior faculty and $80,000 for postdoctoral fellows. Fellows are considered independent contractors rather than employees of CFR, and are not eligible for employment benefits, including health insurance.

Application

The deadline to apply is December 15, 2021. Program details, eligibility requirements, and the online application can be found online at: <https://www.cfr.org/fellowships/stanton-nuclear-security-fellowship>. If you have additional questions, please contact fellowships@cfr.org.

How to Apply

You can apply for this position online at <https://www.cfr.org/fellowships/stanton-nuclear-security-fellowship>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9549

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Energy Policy, International Security, Environmental Policy

The Sanford School of Public Policy seeks to hire a tenure-track political scientist with a focus on international policy at the rank of assistant professor. The preferred candidate will have at least two years of experience since receiving their Ph.D. and will have expertise that aligns with one or more of the following areas: energy, environment, health, international development, international security, media and democracy, social policy, or technology. We value applications from faculty with a strong interest in policy engagement.

Candidates should be able to teach courses in their area of specialization and core courses in the Sanford curriculum on topics such as globalization, international governance, policy analysis, and/or statistics.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. and a record of (or demonstrated capacity for) scholarly publication and excellence in teaching.

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, four Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. Current faculty members have degrees in a variety of disciplines including demography, economics, history, law, medicine, philosophy, political science, psychology/social psychology, public policy, public health/health policy, and sociology. The Sanford School houses several interdisciplinary research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that describes their research and teaching interests and experiences, CV, writing sample, and names and contact information for three references. These materials should be submitted via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19958>.

Applications submitted by November 12, 2021 will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, contact Sarah Bermeo, search committee chair, at sarah.bermeo@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 11/12/2021

Date Posted: 10/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9530

Symphony Talent

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate in Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, Social Movements, Research Methods

Post-Doctoral Associate in Political Science

Division of Social Sciences

NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint a Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science starting September 2022. Later start dates are also possible. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is a pioneer of higher education in a global world, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research, while advancing cooperation and progress on humanity's shared challenges. Part of the NYU global network, NYU Abu Dhabi offers an outstanding liberal arts and science education to students from the United Arab Emirates, United States, and around the world, focusing on intercultural understanding and leadership. It supports innovative research that pushes the frontiers of knowledge forward and responds in powerful and interdisciplinary ways to vital global and local questions. NYU Abu Dhabi advances NYU as a model university for the 21st century and contributes in multiple ways to the development of a sustainable, knowledge-based economy in Abu Dhabi.

As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students, and providing an intellectually rich environment.

About the Social Science Division: More information can be found here:

https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html?_charset_=UTF-8&program=political-science-major&affiliation=&keywords=

<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

Working for NYU Abu Dhabi

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home and in order for you to research, teach, and thrive, we're offering a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. Start with generous relocation allowances to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by competitive salaries, housing and transportation allowances, and educational assistance for your dependents. Health and wellness services round out our offerings, plus more. Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

Applicants have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in political science, with a particular interest for interdisciplinary interactions with the other fields in the Division, in particular in Economics, Sociology and Public Policy.

Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/93481>

- CV
- Statement of Teaching Interests
- Research Sample/Job Market Paper
- Names and contact information for three (3) references. (References will be contacted and asked to submit their confidential letter through the online application system, Interfolio.)

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1st and will continue on a rolling basis. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in the Fall. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in academic year 2022-2023.

Note: We will continue to consider applicants until all positions are filled.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

If this sounds like you, apply now.
Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9515

George Mason University

Rank: Full, Associate, or Advanced Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, International Relations

Full, Associate, or Advanced Assistant Professor

The Schar School of Policy and Government at George Mason University invites applications for three tenure-line hires. Rank and field are open. We encourage applications from talented scholars with diverse backgrounds who are committed to being part of and contributing to a nationally and internationally recognized school of policy and government. We seek candidates with very strong research records — which include publications in top journals — and trajectories for continued high research productivity. We also prefer applicants with an established track record of securing external funding that will support transformative research and doctoral students. The discipline for these hires is open, including but not limited to economics, management, political science, public policy, regional science, and sociology.

The Schar School is known among policy schools for its multidisciplinary breadth in scholarship, and for its successful educational programs at all levels, including a substantial PhD program. The School's distinguished faculty currently includes 62 tenure-line members in a variety of disciplines, all with expertise linked to policy-relevant analysis and practice. The location of our graduate campus in Arlington, Virginia (10 minutes by metro or car from downtown Washington, D.C.) provides faculty with unparalleled access to policymakers, international media, and governmental and nongovernmental organizations.

Applicants must apply at <https://jobs.gmu.edu/postings/51429>, complete and submit the online application, and upload a cover letter and CV. Candidates at the Assistant Professor level should also provide with their application a list of three professional references with contact information; senior candidates will be asked for references if they are short-listed.

The positions will remain open until filled, but for best consideration applications should be completed by November 15, 2021.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9504

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Stanton Fellowship in Nuclear Security

The Security Studies Program at MIT invites applications for fellows in the field of nuclear security. Fellowships are available for pre-doctoral and post-doctoral scholars and for junior faculty. Fellows are expected to produce policy-relevant research, including book manuscripts, draft articles, dissertations, chapters in edited volumes, or reports. Nuclear security as a subject of study is an umbrella term that includes nuclear war, nuclear terrorism, nuclear proliferation, nuclear weapons, nuclear force posture, and, as it relates to nuclear security, nuclear energy. The deadline for applications is 1 December 2021. Application forms (and further information about eligibility requirements) are available at <https://ssp.mit.edu/about/fellowships/nuclear-security-fellows-program><https://ssp.mit.edu/about/fellowships/nuclear-security-fellows-program>. Applications, along with any further questions, should be submitted by email to: ssp-fellowships@mit.edu. MIT is an AA/EO employer and encourages applications from women and minority candidates.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9506

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Scientist

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Defense, International Security, Science & Technology

The Eisenhower Center for Space and Defense Studies within the Department of Political Science supports production and dissemination of knowledge relevant to cadets' National Security learning outcome at the United States Air Force Academy (USAFA). In conjunction with USAFA's Nuclear Enterprise Research Center, Department of Physics, the Eisenhower Center invites applications for a one-year visiting scientist (with potential to extend to two years) to research implications of integrated deterrence, which combines conventional and nuclear strategies across multiple domains, for nuclear posture and infrastructure. The visitor will teach one section of approximately twenty-five cadets per semester and participate with Physics and Political Science research centers on a project exploring "Deterrence and Nuclear Modernization." Financial support of $100K plus a travel budget for the twelve-month term (July 2022-June 2023, one year renewable) will be provided by the Stanton Foundation (Cambridge, MA) through the Air Force Academy Foundation. Expectations for research and teaching will be communicated formally through a separate Volunteer Service Agreement with the Superintendent of the Academy. Ideal candidates will have received their Ph.D. in Political Science or related field and demonstrated technical expertise through a master's degree and/or policy experience in a STEM field related to nuclear war, nuclear terrorism, nuclear proliferation, nuclear weapons, nuclear force posture, or, as it relates to nuclear security, nuclear energy. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage can be found at: <https://www.usafa.edu/academic/political-science/>. Applicants should e-mail cover letter expressing their interest, CV, and two-letters of recommendation to Col Kris Bauman (kris.bauman@afacademy.af.edu), Eisenhower Center, Department of Political Science, USAFA. Application deadline: December 15, 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 9511

University of Virginia

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor of Democracy and International Relations or Comparative Politics, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia's Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences launched a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, and Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere. Across all the searches, the Departments seek to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative's other projects.

This year, with the support of the Nau Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position for a scholar who studies democracy in a comparative or international context. Candidates should have an active research agenda and a strong commitment to excellent teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. We are especially interested in scholars who study international institutions, challenges to democratic consolidation, civil conflicts, and/or identity politics or the politics of development in countries or regions outside of North America and Europe. We are also especially interested in candidates with strong backgrounds in quantitative research methods.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale by bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary and supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs consist of a series of three-year, rotating labs on various topics, connected by the work of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Nau Core Lab), an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach. Current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, the links between environmental and racial inequality, and race, religion, and democracy. The Democracy Initiative also supports two projects focused on community engagement and research, the Memory Project and The Equity Center. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the Nau Core lab or one of the Initiative's other research labs or projects.

Application review will begin November 1, 2021 and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2021. Applicants must have received their PhD by time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Apply online at <https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/UVAJobs>: search for posting #R0029153 complete the application, and attach the following:

 Please note all required documents must be uploaded in the 'Resume' box and can be combined into one PDF file.

1. Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations (not to exceed three single spaced pages).
2. Current curriculum vitae
3. A statement outlining what kinds of intellectual and/or institutional contributions you could envision making to the Democracy Initiative (not to exceed two single-spaced pages).
4. A research statement (not to exceed three single-spaced pages).
5. A teaching philosophy (not to exceed one single-spaced page).

The following MUST be Submitted directly to: pol-ircp-search2021@virginia.edu.

1. One article-length writing sample
2. Three letters of recommendation

Applications that do not contain all the required documents will not receive full consideration.

Questions about this position should be directed to Jennifer Lawless at jll9jx@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to: Nicole Robinson, Faculty Search Advisor at nr7f@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu>. For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkva.com/>.

The University of Virginia is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women, minorities, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

COVID Vaccination Requirement

The University of Virginia expects all current and new employees (UVA Health System and Academic), to be vaccinated against COVID-19.

If hired to work within the University Health System, you will be required to provide proof of vaccination or be willing to receive the vaccination. Employees may request a medical or religious exemption from vaccination.

If hired to work on the Academic side of the University, excluding the School of Medicine, School of Nursing, UPG, and the Health Systems Library, you will be required to provide proof of vaccination or be willing to submit to mandatory, weekly prevalence testing. Employees that are working 100% remotely will not be subject to weekly prevalence testing; however, if the employee works on UVA Grounds (including the Medical Center) even intermittently, then they are required to be tested for COVID-19 once per week on an indefinite basis and follow masking mandates.

NOTE: Some medical and safety-sensitive positions require vaccination and are not eligible for an exemption. For more information on how the vaccination and testing requirements will apply to you at your work location, see the UVA New Hire Vaccination Requirements webpage.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System which represents the UVA Medical Center, Schools of Medicine and Nursing, UVA Physician's Group and the Claude Moore Health Sciences Library, are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9496

Georgetown University

Rank: Wallenberg Chair in International Business and Finance: Professor, Associate Professor, or Assistant Professor

Specializations: International Political Economy, Trade, Foreign Policy

The Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service at Georgetown University invites applications from outstanding candidates for the Marcus Wallenberg Chair in International Business and Finance beginning August 1, 2022. The position is housed in the School's Landegger Program in International Business Diplomacy. The ideal candidate would be an associate or full professor with a strong publication record, however junior candidates with a particularly promising research trajectory may also be considered. Candidates should conduct research related to the role of business in global affairs, broadly defined, including international trade, international political economy, investment, and finance.

The committee will begin reviewing applications as soon as they are received and continue until the position is filled. Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, job market paper and a list of references. Applicants should also submit a one-page diversity statement that discusses how they would contribute to inclusive excellence in the areas of research, teaching, and service in the SFS and reflects on their teaching and mentorship of students from diverse backgrounds. The committee may ask for letters of recommendation upon request. All applications and supporting materials must be submitted through the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/95678>. Emailed or mailed applications will not be accepted.

Questions about the online application should be directed to Sarah Krauss, Director of Faculty Affairs at srk5@georgetown.edu. Questions about the position should be directed to Professor Rodney Ludema at ludemar@georgetown.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9489

College of Charleston

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Comparative and International Politics)

The Department of Political Science at the College of Charleston invites applications from candidates working in the subfields of comparative politics or international relations for a tenure-track appointment as Assistant Professor, beginning August 2022. The Department is particularly interested in applicants with a thematically oriented research agenda focusing on one or more of the following: Race, ethnicity, & politics, migration & citizenship, or democracy & autocracy. The Department will consider candidates that take critical approaches to international politics, engaging with questions surrounding power relationships, structural inequities, racial, ethnic and caste divisions, and colonial legacies. We are seeking candidates with a primary regional expertise in Latin America or the Middle East & North Africa. In addition to upper-level classes that align with the person's research interests, teaching requirements include some combination of Introduction to World Politics, International Relations Theory, and Introduction to Comparative Politics. An interest in teaching the department's undergraduate research methods course (approach can be quantitative, qualitative, or mixed methods) is a plus. The Department is also interested in candidates who have experience in mentoring and advising students from diverse backgrounds and a demonstrated commitment to improving access to higher education for students who represent historically oppressed and marginalized identities. A PhD in Political Science, Geography, or a related discipline is required.

The Political Science Department has 20 full-time faculty, over 360 undergraduate majors (<http://polisci.cofc.edu/>), and a Geography Minor (<http://geography-minor.cofc.edu/>). The department also supports a NASPAA Accredited Master of Public Administration (<http://puba.cofc.edu/>) and Master of Science in Environmental and Sustainability Studies (<http://mes.cofc.edu/>) program. The Department of Political Science is committed to the rigorous study of politics, power, and place, expanding opportunities for learning and service, career preparation and civic participation locally and globally.

The College of Charleston is located in historic downtown Charleston in a coastal metropolitan area of 800,000. The College is a public, liberal arts and sciences institution with a student body of approximately 10,000 undergraduate students and 900 graduate students, 20% of whom identify as minority, and 140 international students from 34 different countries. Additional information about the institution, the student body, and the surrounding area is available at <https://www.cofc.edu/>.

Applicants should apply online at <https://jobs.cofc.edu/> and submit a cover letter, a curriculum vita, graduate transcripts, sample publication/example of scholarly research, a teaching portfolio (with a teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness including, but not limited to course syllabi and course evaluations) and contact information for three references.

Questions about the search can be directed to the chair of the political science department Dr. Hollis France franceh@cofc.edu. Review of applications will begin November 15th, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The College seeks to create a work environment and organizational culture that reflects the society and community in which it is located, and a climate for the success of every employee and student by appreciating the uniqueness that each one brings to the learning environment. To that end, we actively encourage applications from all groups underrepresented in higher education.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9471

Georgetown University

Rank: Provost's Distinguished Fellow and Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Government at Georgetown University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Race, Ethnicity and Identity Politics. This search is open to all four fields in the Government Department (American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations and Political Theory) and all subfields within political science. Importantly, we seek applicants whose research expands the boundaries of political science and also those whose research invigorates existing and enduring questions in political science with scholarly insights and perspectives drawn from the politics of race, ethnicity and identity.

Successful candidates will contribute to an intellectual and academic agenda at Georgetown that seeks to establish the University as a premier center for research and teaching in race, ethnicity and identity politics. The successful candidate will have an opportunity to work with multiple units across the University which study race, ethnicity, and the politics of identity, including, among others, the newly established Racial Justice Institute, the African American Studies Department, the McCourt School of Public Policy, and the Georgetown Law Center.

For the first year of this position, the successful candidate will also hold the title of Provost's Distinguished Faculty Fellow, and will have no teaching and service responsibilities to allow a focus on research while receiving mentorship and support from two senior faculty members. More on the Distinguished Faculty Fellow Program can be found at <https://blog.provost.georgetown.edu/increasing-georgetown-effectiveness-in-recruiting-faculty/>.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, cv, three letters of reference, an academic writing sample, and a statement on diversity, equity and inclusion. In this DEI statement, applicants are asked to address any DEI activities they have been involved with (including research, teaching, community service, volunteer work, or presentations), and to highlight how aspects of their own identity (including, among others, ethnic, sociocultural, racial, religious, gender, and sexual identity) have shaped their experiences and world view, including any experiences of discrimination or barriers to advancement. Additionally, candidates are asked to address how diversity, equity and inclusion can advance the academic enterprise, to offer ideas on how to promote equity and inclusion in higher education and in the discipline of political science, more generally. We seek candidates who demonstrate a commitment to academic excellence and diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) through experience teaching and research on matters related to DEI or through service that has fostered DEI in a university community. Please submit these materials to <http://apply.interfolio.com/95204> by October 15, 2021 to ensure full consideration, but review of applications will be on-going. The position remains open until filled. Please direct any questions regarding the search to Prof. Douglas S. Reed at reedd@georgetown.edu. Administrative questions regarding search logistics may be directed to Ileana Aguilar at ima2@georgetown.edu.

About Georgetown University and the Government Department

The Government Department at Georgetown is a leading department of Political Science. We are an open, dynamic, and publicly engaged community of scholars, students, and professional staff. We believe in the ideal of scholarship for its own sake but are also deeply committed to the role of cutting-edge research in informing politics and public life. We see our setting in Washington, DC as a rich opportunity for the study of politics, particularly within the field of race, ethnicity and identity politics and we particularly welcome applications from scholars whose research strives to connect the local and particular with broader forces and constructs within political life.

Georgetown University is one of the world's leading academic and research institutions, offering a unique educational experience that prepares the next generation of global citizens to lead and make a difference in the world. We are a vibrant community of exceptional students, faculty, alumni and professionals dedicated to real-world applications of our research, scholarship, faith and service.

Established in 1789, Georgetown is the nation's oldest Catholic and Jesuit university. Drawing upon the 450-year-old legacy of Jesuit education, we provide students with a world-class learning experience focused on educating the whole person through exposure to different faiths, cultures and beliefs.

Georgetown University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer fully dedicated to achieving a diverse faculty and staff. All qualified applicants are encouraged to apply and will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, age, sex (including pregnancy, gender identity and expression, and sexual orientation), disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

If you are a qualified individual with a disability and need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please click here for more information, or contact the Office of Institutional Diversity, Equity & Affirmative Action (IDEAA) at (202) 687-4798. We encourage applications from individuals who will contribute to diversity in higher education and who show the potential to advance the department's goal of a more diverse, equitable, and inclusive scholarly environment.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 10/15/2021

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9470

Baldwin-Wallace University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Specializations: East Asia, International Security, Middle East

Rank: Assistant Professor-Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Politics and Global Citizenship at Baldwin Wallace (BW) University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in Political Science effective August 2022. Applicants must be committed to undergraduate education and demonstrate the potential for excellence in all facets of a faculty appointment, especially teaching.

The Department welcomes applications from candidates who will build on existing programs and areas of strength in the Department and help us continue supporting interdisciplinary programs on regional studies at BW. The position is intended to meet and expand curricular needs within the Department; to broaden the Department's experiential learning opportunities; and to contribute to initiatives in the College of Arts and Sciences and to Baldwin Wallace University's mission of "assisting students in their preparation to become contributing, compassionate citizens of an increasingly global society and encourages their pursuit of personal and professional excellence."

Broadly trained specialists with expertise in comparative politics or related fields are encouraged to apply. Candidates should demonstrate experience and expertise in teaching, advising, and a willingness to contribute to the Department's experiential learning opportunities we offer to our student body. The successful hire will assist in the curricular development of the Department's growing undergraduate programs in International Studies, Legal Studies, National Security, and Political Science.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related area by the time of appointment, interdisciplinary expertise, teaching experience in related areas, and willingness to mentor undergraduate students are required. Relevant teaching and/or professional experience in non-traditional security areas (e.g., disruptive technologies, resource scarcity, climate change, infectious diseases, human security, etc.) and regional expertise, preferably in East Asia or the Middle East, would be desirable. The successful candidate will be expected to teach the introductory courses in American Government and Comparative Politics, and the entry-level course on research design and political methodology. Other courses to teach would relate to the new hire's specialization areas.

Baldwin Wallace University is a selective liberal arts university on the outskirts of Cleveland, Ohio. Its Political Science, International Studies, National Security, and Legal Studies programs currently serve approximately one-hundred majors and minors while playing an active role in campus internationalization. BW emphasizes teaching, advising, and service and also encourages and supports scholarship.

Interested candidates should submit a letter summarizing their interest and qualifications, curriculum vitae, teaching evaluations, other evidence of effective teaching, and three letters of reference in one (1) Word or one (1) PDF document and submit via the To Apply link on BW's Employment and Careers' web page at <https://www.bw.edu/about/hr/employment/>. Review of applications will begin on October 25, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries about the faculty position or Department should be directed to Javier Morales-Ortiz, Chair and Associate Professor, jmorales@bw.edu. Questions about the application process and document submission may be addressed to Jacquelin Yavornitzky, Administrative Specialist, JaYavorn@bw.edu.

Baldwin Wallace University is an EEO/AA employer and educator. At BW, we support and encourage diversity in a variety of forms. We value and appreciate inclusive excellence in the classroom, within extracurricular activities, and as we engage our community partners. Learn more at Diversity Affairs - <https://www.bw.edu/about/diversity>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9434

SUNY, CortlandRank: Assistant ProfessorSpecializations: Central Asia, East Asia, Latin American

The SUNY Cortland Political Science department is seeking a tenure track faculty member at the rank of Assistant Professor with a focus on comparative politics and a regional specialization in Asia or Latin America. We have particular interest in scholars who specialize in terrorism, revolutions, international politics, international economic relations or international conflict. Expertise in international relations also highly desirable.

The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum (e.g., Introduction to World Politics, American Foreign Policy, Comparative Politics Asia Comparative Politics Latin America). They may also teach a basic methods course. The typical load is three classes per semester.

SUNY Cortland has a strong commitment to the affirmation of diversity and offers courses addressing inclusion studies and global diversity, as well as interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies, Latinx and Latin American Studies, Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies and Native American Studies.

The Political Science department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, and is one of the most active and visible in the University. The department has about 100 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, and several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in Political Science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

Candidates for this position should demonstrate: a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of experiential activities (e.g., Model UN, Study Abroad); engagement in service to the department, school, university, local community and profession; a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion and social justice and support for an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

Required qualifications: PhD in Political Science by appointment date or ABD with a scheduled completion date; Teaching and research focus on Comparative Politics or International Relations and higher education teaching experience.

Interested candidates should electronically submit 1) a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests, 2) a curriculum vita, 3) the names and contact information for at least three references, 4) a statement of teaching philosophy to include evidence of teaching effectiveness, including sample syllabi, if available, 5) a copy of transcript for their highest or most recent degree and 6) a published work or writing sample. <https://jobs.cortland.edu/postings/5108>

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/28/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9442University of Illinois, Springfield*Rank: Assistant ProfessorSubfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International RelationsSpecializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Immigration Policy, Social Welfare

The Department of Political Science at the University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) seeks applicants for a tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. The department seeks candidates with expertise in the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality (broadly construed) as well as teaching interests in research methods. We seek applicants whose teaching and research focus on the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality in the context of American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. The successful candidate is expected to teach undergraduate and graduate courses both online and on-ground in their area of specialization as well as in their broader subfields, contribute to the department's research methods curriculum, and chair MA theses and comprehensive exams. The candidate is also expected to pursue an active research agenda and engage in service activities.

Candidates must hold a Ph.D. in Political Science by August 16, 2022. Candidates must demonstrate potential for excellence in teaching, scholarship, and service. Prior teaching experience at the college or university level is required. The regular teaching load for tenure-track appointments is 3-3. The successful candidate will have opportunities to receive course relief for curriculum development or scholarship.

This is a full-time on-campus position tenure-track academic appointment. UIS tenure-system faculty are expected to be available and engaged in the campus community, with assigned professional responsibilities for teaching, scholarship, and service.

The UIS Department of Political Science offers excellent academic preparation and opportunities to become engaged in real world politics for both undergraduate and graduate students. We offer undergraduate and graduate degrees in political science, and majors in public policy and global studies. Students also have the opportunity to receive a minor in political science and global studies. Several of these programs are fully online or on campus. The department has recently undergone a rigorous and exciting academic reorganization into a School of Politics and International Affairs, whose administrative structure will finalize in 2022.

One of the largest departments in the College of Public Affairs and Administration, the UIS Department of Political Science offers an opportunity for our students to live politics in the classroom, on the campus and in the community. Engaged political science makes the connections between the classroom and the world explicit as we challenge our students to both grasp the course material and explore how it has an impact outside of the classroom. The UIS Department of Political Science bridges the worlds of the "academic" and "practical" by providing concrete opportunities for the practice of theory and the theory of practice. Our school champions a culture of inclusion and diversity; we encourage applications from women and members of historically underrepresented groups.

Application deadline: October 29, 2021

About UIS: Located in the state capital, the University of Illinois Springfield is one of three members of the University of Illinois system. The University serves approximately 4,000 students in 21 graduate and 31 undergraduate programs. The academic curriculum offers students a strong liberal arts core, a wide range of professional programs, and close faculty interaction. Making the most of its location in the state capital, UIS is broadly engaged in public policy and service. Its diverse student body includes traditional, non-traditional, and international students. Twenty-five percent of majors are in 17 undergraduate and graduate online degree programs and the campus has received several national awards for its implementation of online learning. UIS faculty are committed teachers, active scholars, and professionals in service to society. The University emphasizes excellence in teaching, and faculty are also expected to provide a balance of scholarship and service activities to meet requirements for tenure and promotion. You are encouraged to visit the university web page at <http://www.uis.edu> and the department web page at <https://www.uis.edu/politicalscience/>

Responsibilities:

- Teach a 3/3 load (online and on-campus) in the Department of Political Science;
- Offer courses on the politics of race, ethnicity, identity and/or inequality (broadly construed) as well as research methods. The candidate will be able to teach additional courses in at least one of the following subfields: American Politics, Comparative Politics, or International Relations. The candidate will be able to chair MA theses and comprehensive exams in the subfield of American Politics and also in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations;
- Assist with department, college, and university-level service activities;
- Engage in scholarship activities that result in a significant publication record;
- Contribute to our undergraduate and graduate curricula, both on-campus and online.

Qualifications:

Earned doctorate (expected by August 2022) in political science;
 Desire and potential for excellence in teaching;
 Experience and/or willingness to teach in an online degree program;
 Potential/evidence of strong scholarly productivity and an active research agenda;
 Potential/evidence of strong record of excellence in professional service;
 Teaching experience at the college or university level;
 Willingness to grow a culture of inclusion and diversity

To Apply:

Go to <https://jobs.uis.edu/job-board/job-details?jobID=153958&job=assistant-professor-department-of-political-science-school-of-politics-international-affairs-153958> to create or update your profile and complete the online application. Additionally, please upload (1) cover letter addressing the responsibilities of the position, (2) current curriculum vita, (3) a teaching portfolio that includes your teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and sample syllabi, (4) sample of scholarship, and (5) names and contact information (email address and phone number) for three professional references. Only those applicants who complete the online application and upload all required materials by the October 29, 2021 application deadline will be considered; incomplete applications will not be evaluated. To maintain the integrity and confidentiality of the search process, applicants are asked to upload their own materials. Formal review of applications will begin after October 29, 2021, and continue until the position is filled or the search terminated. For questions regarding the position, contact Dr. Sibel Oktay, Associate Professor and Search Committee Chair at sibelo@uis.edu

More About UIS & Our Springfield Community:

The University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) is a premier public university that provides students with a high-quality liberal arts education, exceptional public affairs opportunities, and outstanding professional preparation programs. UIS is one of three universities of the world-class University of Illinois system and has been ranked by US News & World Report as one of the top 10 regional public universities in the Midwest.

UIS celebrates its diversity with a campus comprised of students and faculty of various ages, backgrounds, and ethnicities. Faculty members are accomplished teacher-scholars, and UIS has a national reputation for innovation in teaching and excellence in online education. Located in the state capital, UIS has established a reputation for Leadership lived, based upon four core strengths: the educational richness of its teaching-focused academic experience; the abundant opportunities it provides for students to collaborate with faculty and gain practical experience through institutional partners; the right-sized supportive community it offers; and its tradition of educating public servants and leaders in private and public sectors. UIS is a community-engaged campus whose students contribute over 66,000 hours of community service each year.

The surrounding Springfield community offers a wonderful quality of life. A lively entertainment scene includes jazz, blues, community theatre, municipal opera, comedy, and live music, including downtown music festivals. Additional cultural and sporting attractions are conveniently located a few hours away in St. Louis, Chicago, and Indianapolis. With a population of about 117,000, Springfield offers great restaurants, shopping, and other city amenities while retaining the friendliness and affordability of small-town living (and without the heavy traffic). The area also has a wide variety of recreational opportunities, including biking and hiking trails, ice rinks, sports complexes, and several first-class golf courses. Lake Springfield offers fishing, boating, and other recreational water activities. Springfield is also home to a wildlife sanctuary, zoo, lakeside memorial gardens, botanical gardens, and one of the world's largest carillons.

Springfield was home to Abraham Lincoln, our nation's sixteenth president and one of its most famous political figures. A historical downtown area features the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library & Museum, the Old State Capitol, the Lincoln historical district, historic reenactments and events, the Illinois State Museum, and a variety of specialty shops and restaurants which make Springfield the most prominent tourist destination in central Illinois.

Springfield is also home to the second Illinois Medical District (the first being in Chicago) and includes two major medical centers, Memorial Health Systems and HSHS St. John's Health Systems, as well as the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. The medical community and state government are the two largest employers in Springfield.

Springfield offers daily Amtrak service to St. Louis and Chicago as well as to points beyond. A regional airport offers daily service to major hubs in Chicago and Dallas. City bus service is provided from the UIS campus to various locations around the city.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9448

Augustana UniversityRank: Nef Family Chair of Political EconomySubfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public PolicySpecializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic PolicyThe Nef Family Chair of Political Economy
Augustana University

Augustana University (Sioux Falls, SD) invites applications for an endowed chair in political economy. The Rudy & Marilyn Nef Family Chair of Political Economy will advance the study of market economies and representative democracies, both within the campus community and in the region. This tenure-track faculty position will be housed in the Government and International Affairs Department, but will draw on a breadth of research and extensive teaching experience to provide recognized scholarship and enthusiastic, effective instruction to the University's offerings in economics, political science, public policy, and business. The Nef Family Chair will also provide collaborative and creative leadership in partnership with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

We seek an outstanding teacher/scholar who reflects the foundational relevance of economic analysis in the design and administration of public policies, and who speaks authoritatively to the positive role of free markets, localized decision making and competition in a free society. The unique nature of this endowed chair position grants wide latitude to the instructor in terms of the courses offered, save a required course on capitalistic economic systems. Candidates capable of teaching upper-level Comparative Politics, Comparative/International Political Economy, Policy Analysis or Microeconomics are strongly encouraged to apply.

Additional responsibilities will include student advising, student research mentorship, and planning and facilitating public symposia relevant to the scholar's teaching and research. Interacting with students, faculty and leadership with different backgrounds and points of view and a deep appreciation of and respect for academic values and culture must be a top value of the candidate. A doctorate is required. Compensation, rank and length of tenure track will be commensurate with experience. The starting date for this 12-month appointment is August, 2022. Screening will begin November 7th and continue until the position is filled. Finalists will be expected to present an engaging topic as part of the interview process.

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Application Procedure:

Please send a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; Augustana University employment application; statement of commitment to diversity; statement of teaching philosophy; addresses, phone numbers and email addresses of three current references; and unofficial transcripts electronically to Human Resources at humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: www.augie.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/27/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9443Ripon College*Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor, International Relations

The faculty at Ripon College are a talented and dynamic group of teacher-scholars who work closely with a diverse student population on capstone and undergraduate research projects, and participate in interdisciplinary collaboration with one another on scholarship and creative activity. The faculty benefit from wide-ranging opportunities for support including curriculum development grants, travel grants, scholarly/artistic grants, and colleague teaching grants. Successful applicants for faculty positions at Ripon College will join a group of teacher-scholars who embrace the standards of social justice; value the principles of equity and inclusion; and seek to foster and facilitate student achievement at all levels.

The Department of Politics and Government at Ripon College is seeking qualified applicants for a full-time, tenure-track position as Assistant/Associate Professor in International Relations to begin August 2022. The department is open to all areas of specialization, but particularly welcomes expertise in international political economy, political psychology, international law, or global environmental politics.

The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Ripon College is home to the Center for Politics and the People, which promotes constructive political debate outside of the classroom by informing students, the community and citizens concerned with good governance in politics and public policy.

Deadline: Screening will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit the following materials as PDF files to Dr. Henrik Schatzinger, Search Committee Chair, at polsearch@ripon.edu

- Letter of interest
- Curriculum vitae
- Statements outlining
- Teaching philosophy
- Philosophy on diversity, inclusion, and access
- Research agenda
- Unofficial transcripts
- Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science, by August 15, 2022
- Energy and enthusiasm for service within the Department of Politics and Government and as an active recruiter of prospective students
- Strong commitment to student-centered active learning and student engagement

Preferred Qualifications:

- The department is open to all areas of specialization, but particularly welcomes expertise in international political economy, political psychology, international law, or global environmental politics.
- Demonstrated experience working in multicultural environments and interest in developing curricula related to diverse populations

- Willingness to develop courses building on the established curricula
- Willingness to engage in collaborative work across disciplines
- Commitment to undergraduate education
- Evidence of teaching experience

This position is open to all qualified applicants. Ripon College encourages applications from individuals from underrepresented groups in the professoriate, including, for example, African Americans, Hispanics, Native Americans, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians, other Pacific Islanders, first generation college students, members of the LGBTQIA+ community, individuals who have followed non-traditional pathways to college due to exceptional talent and motivation in the face of adversity, such as societal, economic or academic disadvantages, and individuals with a demonstrated commitment to applying and including diverse backgrounds and perspectives to learning, scholarship, and leadership in the academy. Employment-based visa sponsorship (including H1B sponsorship) is available for this position.

Ripon College is committed to the principles of equal opportunity and adheres to non-discriminatory policies in employment and student enrollment. Ripon College is an equal-opportunity employer. <http://www.ripon.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9415

Salve Regina University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science and International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, International Relations, International Relations

About Salve Regina University:

Salve Regina University, ranked as one of the most transformative colleges in the United States by Money Magazine, is a comprehensive Catholic University located in the scenic coastal community of Newport, Rhode Island. The University's commitment to academic success and personal discovery extends beyond its historic campus into a dynamic world where the application of higher thinking and skill are most valued. Salve Regina offers bachelor's and master's degree programs, graduate certificates, and doctoral programs in humanities, international relations and nursing. Enrollment includes more than 2,600 undergraduate and graduate students from across the U.S. and around the world.

Job Description:

BASIC FUNCTION:

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Salve Regina University invites applications for a tenure track, assistant professor in international relations with primary regional expertise in Africa or Latin America to begin August 2022. The department administers a B.A. in political science and an online M.A. and Ph.D. in international relations. The successful candidate will contribute to all three degree programs in their area of geographic expertise and in other international relations subjects, such as international organizations and law, public policy, security, human rights, migration, or the environment. We welcome applicants who take a variety of approaches to these topics. The position also offers opportunities for teaching in the university's undergraduate core curriculum and honors program.

ESSENTIAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Contractual teaching load is 4-3. Duties include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses, advising undergraduate students, mentoring student research, dissertation advising, and committee service. The successful candidate is expected to engage in peer-reviewed scholarship and/or grant activity, university outreach, and collaboration with other academic departments in the teaching of cross-listed interdisciplinary undergraduate courses. Campus resources that are available for fostering the professional development of new faculty include a mentoring program, grand development support, and a Center for Teaching and Learning.

Requirements:

Candidates should have a record of teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. Candidates who have experience working in settings with students from diverse backgrounds and who are committed to improving access to higher education for students from historically underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply. A Ph.D. in political science or international relations must be completed by the time of appointment.

Additional Information:

Salve Regina University offers generous benefits to eligible employees including:

- health and dental coverage
- life insurance
- long-term disability
- 403B plan
- tuition benefits and more

Salve Regina University strives to provide equal opportunity in employment and education to all employees, students and applicants. No employee, student or applicant shall be discriminated against or harassed on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, disability, age, marital or parental status, military or veteran status, genetic information or any other basis protected by applicable federal or state law, in the administration of Salve Regina's employment policies, education policies, admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, athletic and other University administered programs. In accordance with Title IX, it does not discriminate on the basis of sex in any of its educational programs or activities. Salve Regina is also committed to making its programs and campus accessible to its visitors and compliant with all applicable non-discrimination laws.

Application Instructions:

Applicants must apply online by providing a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial copy of graduate program transcript, teaching philosophy statement, statement of scholarly interests, and contact information for three references who can submit letters of recommendation after the initial screening of applications is completed. We ask that applicants discuss in the cover letter and teaching philosophy statement how their work fosters inclusive learning for diverse student populations. Pre-employment background checks and reference checks are required of successful candidates. Salve Regina University participates in E-verify.

The review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9396

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations (2 positions)

Assistant Professor of Political Science in International Relations
<https://career8.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=16082&company=purdueuniv>

Job Summary

The Department of Political Science at Purdue is searching for two assistant professor positions in International Relations.

Principal Duties

The person holding this position is expected to develop and maintain a research record of excellence in international relations with a focus on security, cooperation, global governance, or foreign policy, broadly defined, and that connects, in some way, to one or both of the following broad college themes: Science, Technology, and Policy Analysis, and/or Technology, Communication, and Cooperation. In addition, the person holding this position will create and disseminate relevant knowledge through student instruction, and to others internal and external to the university. Strong commitment to PhD student mentoring and to maintaining a culture of diversity and inclusion is expected.

Qualifications

The candidate must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field with expertise in international relations. This position requires strong communication skills and the ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research. Preference will be given to candidates who can contribute expertise to the Advanced Methods at Purdue program through research that utilizes cutting-edge social science research methods.

The College and University

These positions are two of seven hires this year in the Department of Political Science. The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University is embarking upon 40 faculty searches for positions to begin in Fall 2022. These positions will advance research within and across disciplines, and intersect with technology, data science, and engineering in relevant and important ways. These positions include teaching in our innovative, nationally-recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program that educates students across the university.

Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university. Political Science faculty members are actively involved with many interdisciplinary programs and centers on campus such as the Nuclear Security Education program, Ecological Sciences and Engineering program, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, and the Human Rights Program and many interdisciplinary centers at Purdue's Discovery Park and the new Center for Tech Diplomacy. In addition to the major and the PhD, the Department is home to graduate and undergraduate certificates and minors in environmental politics and policy, public policy, and human rights.

Purdue University, the College of Liberal Arts and the Department of Political Science are committed to free and open inquiry in all matters. Candidates are encouraged to address in their cover letter how they are prepared to contribute to a climate that values free inquiry.

Application Procedures

To apply, please visit <https://career8.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=16082&company=purdueuniv>

Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Recent research paper or other writing sample, 3) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's research and teaching fit the principal duties of the position, 4) a Diversity and Inclusion statement described below and 5) Three confidential letters of reference emailed separately to the following email address PoliticalScienceIR@purdue.edu.

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Screening of applicants will begin November 1 and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact search committee chair Keith Shimko at kshimko@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9385

University of Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor in Feminist International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Florida, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, invites applications for a full-time, nine-month, and tenure-track Assistant Professor in Feminist International Relations to begin August 16, 2022. The Department hopes to hire faculty broadly engaged in research that is field-bridging, adding to our Department's tradition of intellectual diversity and pluralism, as well as to better reflect the interests of our diverse undergraduate and graduate students. We seek a junior scholar of exceptional promise whose work focuses on Feminist International Relations (IR) broadly defined. Scholars conducting research on non-Western IR and/or the Global South as well as on the intersectional aspects of identities and their role in international politics, and whose research promotes and emphasizes epistemological and methodological pluralism are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates should be able to offer courses in IR theory at the graduate and undergraduate levels.

Successful applicants are expected to teach two courses per fall and two courses per spring semester, with a mix of introductory and advanced undergraduate courses and graduate seminars. The ability to develop experiential learning opportunities for undergraduates and excel in mentoring undergraduate research in the Department's Honors and Junior Fellows programs is a plus. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience, and includes a full benefits package. More information about the Department of Political Science can be found at: <http://www.polisci.ufl.edu>.

For full consideration, applications must be submitted online at <http://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/cw/en-us/listing/> and must include:

- a) Cover letter
- b) Curriculum vitae
- c) Statement of research interests/plans
- d) Statement of teaching interests/philosophy
- e) Statement on a commitment to diversity in research, teaching, and mentoring
- f) A writing sample (a dissertation chapter or one article reprint or pre-print)
- g) Three confidential letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin October 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education.

The selected candidate will be required to provide an official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered "official" if a designation of "Issued to Student" is visible. Degrees earned from an educational institution outside of the United States require evaluation by a professional credentialing service provider approved by the National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at <http://www.naces.org/>

As articulated in the goals of the university, the college values faculty who embrace diversity and inclusion in research, teaching, and service. The University of Florida is an Equal Opportunity Institution dedicated to building a broadly diverse and inclusive faculty and staff. Minorities, women, and individuals from other under-represented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. The selection process will be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Florida's Government in the Sunshine and Public Records Laws. If an accommodation due to disability is needed to apply for this position, please call (352) 392-2477 or the Florida Relay System at (800) 955-8771 (TDD).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9412

McGill University

Rank: Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Tenure-Track Faculty Position

Full or Associate Professor, Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies

Max Bell School of Public Policy and Department of Political Science
McGill University

The Max Bell School of Public Policy and the Department of Political Science at McGill University invite applications for the newly created Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies. The Chairholder will be jointly appointed, teaching in both units and strengthening the ties between them.

We seek an internationally renowned scholar who conducts leading-edge empirical research on contemporary democratic governance and politics. The search is open with respect to regional specialization and methodology. We invite applications from scholars of political behaviour and/or political institutions, from scholars of ongoing politics in consolidated democracies, and from scholars of democratization or democratic fragility in different regions of the world.

This position will provide a highly visible forum for a scholar studying recent worldwide challenges to democratic institutions and movements, and allow the Chairholder to enhance the policy orientation of fundamental research and to improve the public's engagement with these issues. The Chairholder should have considerable experience participating in policy processes broadly understood, through a combination of public service, work with policy-oriented organizations, and advising policymakers. Demonstrated expertise in enhancing the public impact of policy-related research is an important asset. The Chairholder will be encouraged to build connections with McGill's various research centres which focus on democracy, including (but not limited to) the Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship.

An applicant's record must provide evidence of outstanding research, active engagement in the policy process, and success in teaching and graduate-student supervision. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Full or Associate Professor with tenure. Candidates should have completed a PhD in political science or a closely-related discipline. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but proficiency in spoken and written French is an advantage.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, material pertinent to teaching skills, and the names and contact information of three referees. The position start date is August 1, 2022.

Review of applications will begin on December 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Please apply online at: https://mcgill.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/McGill_Careers/job/Sherbrooke-680/Associate-Professor-or-Professor_JR0000003606https://mcgill.wd3.-myworkdayjobs.com/McGill_Careers/job/Sherbrooke-680/Associate-Professor-or-Professor_JR0000003606

The Max Bell School of Public Policy (which began in 2017) is committed to the research, teaching, outreach, and advocacy of sound public policy. The Department of Political Science engages in world-class research and teaching across diverse theoretical, thematic, and methodological approaches to the study of politics. For more information about the Max Bell School and the Department of Political Science, please visit our websites at: ; and .

Inquiries may be sent to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Christopher Ragan, at <mailto:Christopher.ragan@mcgill.ca> or Christopher.ragan@mcgill.ca.

Please use a personal email address when creating an account in Workday to submit your application. Do not use @mail.mcgill.ca or @mcgill.ca email accounts to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9360

Nanyang Technological University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, International Political Economy (Tenure-Track/Tenured)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS), a Graduate School of Nanyang Technological University (NTU), is a leading professional school of international affairs and policy-oriented think tank. The School invites suitably qualified individuals for the position of:

Assistant or Associate Professor, International Political Economy (Tenure-Track/Tenured)

The search is open with respect to the substantive subfields of International Political Economy. A relevant PhD and a good publication record commensurate with the level of appointment are essential requirements. Experience in policy-relevant research and publication is not necessary but would be useful. Candidates are expected to demonstrate an active research and publication agenda and strong promise for teaching in graduate programs.

The successful candidate will join the school's Centre for Multilateralism Studies and International Political Economy Programme. He/she is expected to contribute to and play an active role in teaching, research, and think-tank workstream. The teaching load is up to three courses per academic year.

The initial appointment will be for four (4) years, with further contracts to be considered by the relevant School Reappointment Committee. RSIS offers a competitive salary commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and experience. Funding support for research and conference travels is also available.

To apply for this position, candidates are required to submit their application via Nanyang Technological University's online career portal (https://ntu.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/Careers/job/NTU-Main-Campus-Singapore/Assistant-or-Associate-Professor--International-Political-Economy--Tenure-Track-TenuredRSIS-_R00007562).

All applicants should submit the following:

- A cover letter specifying how your qualifications match the job description;
- A detailed curriculum vitae (including records of competitive grants, fellowships, and graduate supervision, if applicable);
- Statements of research and teaching interests and teaching evaluation;
- Three (3) published articles or writing samples;
- Google Scholar citation report if available;
- Applicants applying for the Assistant Professor position, please include the name and details of THREE referees of the rank of Associate Professor/Professor; and applicants applying for the Associate Professor position, please include the name and details of FOUR referees of the rank of Professor.

If you have any questions about this position, please write in (or email) to:

The Search Committee
S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies
Nanyang Technological University
50 Nanyang Avenue
Block S4, Level B4,
Singapore 639798
Email: rsisrecruitment@ntu.edu.sg

Applications will be accepted until 15 December 2021

We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

For further information about RSIS, please visit our website: www.rsis.edu.sg.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 9/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9354

Lehigh University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The International Relations Department at Lehigh University invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor position to teach courses in International Relations for the Spring 2022 semester (from late-January through mid-May), potentially renewable for the entire 2022-23 academic year. The position carries a competitive salary and benefits. A Ph.D. is required, college/university teaching experience is strongly preferred. The department is committed to intellectual excellence and diversity. To apply, please submit a dossier including: curriculum vitae, three letters of reference, and a cover letter explaining teaching interests and experience. Application materials should be submitted to the department through Academic Jobs Online (<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19496>).

The search committee will begin screening applications immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9308

University of Southern California

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Assistant Professor in Political Institutions

The Department of Political Science and International Relations (POIR) in the Dana and David Dornsife College of Letters, Arts and Sciences at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles, California invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor in political institutions that is anticipated to begin in the fall of 2022. We seek a scholar specializing in political institutions. Subfield specialization could be in American politics, comparative politics, international relations, and/or research methods.

A strong commitment to research is expected. The candidate must have completed a Ph.D. by the appointment date. Review of applications will begin on September 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

To be considered, applicants must submit an electronic application by following this link: <https://usccareers.usc.edu/job/los-angeles/assistant-professor-in-political-institutions/1209/13635024640>. Required materials for upload include a CV, letter of interest, sample research paper(s), statement of research interests, the names of three individuals who will be contacted by USC for a letter of reference, and official graduate transcripts. Send inquiries to poir@usc.edu. Materials submitted by regular mail will not be accepted.

USC is an equal opportunity, affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or any other characteristic protected by law or USC policy. USC will consider for employment all qualified applicants with criminal histories in a manner consistent with the requirements of the Los Angeles Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring ordinance.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9278

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the 2022-2023 academic year. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance. Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline - Applicants should apply by Saturday, November 20, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process - All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21441>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines.

To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day on Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion — fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9102

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Regional Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Africa, Latin American

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invite

applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows' program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21442>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9104

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs seeks up to eight visitors for the 2022-2023 academic year in the Visiting Fellowship Program. These awards are designed to promote basic research in the broad areas of international and comparative political economy, international organization and global governance, and globalization. Research on the causes and consequences of globalization, the political economy of foreign trade, monetary and regulatory policies, the sources of international cooperation at the global and regional level, the domestic and international politics of economic development, the political economy of human security issues, the evolution and impact of international institutions, and the politics of international law and human rights policies is of relevance.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites candidates with a background in political science, economics, modern history, sociology, anthropology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of globalization to apply. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Saturday, November 20, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21443>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Wednesday, December 1, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:

- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9103

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program in Regional Political Economy
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Latin American, Africa

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs seeks two visitors or more candidates for the Visiting Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows' program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21444>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);

- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:

- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9105

Sabanci University

Rank: FACULTY POSITION IN POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

FACULTY POSITION IN POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Sabanci University, Istanbul, Turkey

The Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences (FASS) at Sabanci University (<http://fass.sabanciuniv.edu/>) invites applications for an open-rank, full-time or visiting position from outstanding candidates whose substantive research interests include International Relations, particularly International Political Economy (IPE). We are primarily interested in scholars who can teach graduate- and undergraduate-level computational social science and quantitative methods courses for the Political Science and International Relations and Data Analytics programs. The candidate is expected to have a proven or developing record of published research and a promising research agenda.

The successful candidate will be expected to conduct high-impact research, undertake grant applications, supervise PhD and MA students, engage in citizenship activities, and teach graduate and undergraduate courses. Applicants will be evaluated based on both past performance and future potential in these areas.

Sabanci University is a private, department-free, innovative academic institution located in one of Europe's largest and oldest cities, Istanbul. The University is strongly committed to interdisciplinary research and teaching both at the undergraduate and graduate levels. The medium of instruction is English with a teaching load of two courses per semester. The University admits top-ranking students for its undergraduate programs through a centralized university entrance examination. Faculty members are provided with highly competitive salary and benefits including an annual personal research fund, health insurance, and housing facilities on its modern campus.

Review of applications will start immediately and continue until the position is filled. The successful candidate is expected to start in September 2022.

Interested applicants should submit (i) a cover letter (ii) a research statement (iii) a teaching statement and related documents regarding the applicant's teaching experience and preferences, (iv) a CV, (v) two research samples, and (vi) three letters of reference using the online application form of the University at:

<https://sucrm.sabanciuniv.edu/academiccv/application.php>

For further questions, please contact:

Ayse Ötenoglu, Faculty Administrative Affairs Manager, ayse.otenoglu@sabanciuniv.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9255

Stanford King Center on Global Development

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2022 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. The King Center's postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from women and minority PhD recipients, and from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose backgrounds and experience would contribute to the diversity (broadly defined) of the program.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9265

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science anticipates filling a Distinguished Visiting Professor (DVP) position beginning June 27, 2022. The intent of this position is to attract an innovative scholar and teacher already placed at an institution (university, think-tank, or government service) and then return them to their home institution—thus, existing employment any level is a certain requirement. The appointment will be for either the entire academic year, ending in May of 2023, or one semester. The United States Air Force Academy, located just north of Colorado Springs, Colorado, is an undergraduate institution which awards the Bachelor of Science degree as part of its mission to educate, train, and inspire men and women to become officers of character, motivated to lead the United States Air Force in service to the nation. Candidates must have a PhD. in political science or a closely related field, preferably with an emphasis on American Government, International Relations, or Comparative Politics. The candidate must also be strongly committed to teaching undergraduates and be a full-time "career employee" at a US institution of higher education, an academically-oriented think-tank or an educationally-focused organization. The qualified candidate must agree to return to his/her institution in a full-time status following a VP year at the Air Force Academy. The selected candidate will be subject to a security investigation and must meet eligibility requirements for access to the network and the use of government computer systems. The Air Force Academy will reimburse the VP's home academic institution for the visiting professor's salary and benefits during their time at the Academy, and moving expenses will be provided. To apply, send a letter of application and a curriculum vitae to: HQ USAFA/DFPS (Attn: Dr. David Sacko), 2354 Fairchild Drive, Room 5L-27, US Air Force Academy CO 80840-6258. Application packages may also be emailed to David.Sacko@afacademy.af.edu. Applications received by October 15, 2021 will receive primary consideration but will be accepted until the position is filled. The Federal Government is an equal opportunity employer. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. U.S. citizenship required.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 10/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/31/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9249

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master's degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department's required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at <https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/>. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site <http://apply.interfolio.com/86435> in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values. Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9243

University of Central Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor, Cyber Security and Privacy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Intelligence, International Security, Regulatory Policy

The University of Central Florida (UCF) has established nine interdisciplinary clusters to strengthen its academic offerings and research mission. In support of this effort, we are recruiting faculty in the broad area of cyber security and privacy, from a policy or social science perspective, and plan to hire one tenure-earning assistant professor for this cluster. This position has an anticipated start date of August 8, 2022.

The Cybersecurity and Privacy Cluster is an interdisciplinary initiative, bringing together researchers from across the campus and working on addressing the pressing questions of our national security from engineering, science, and social perspectives. The cluster currently has eight members, collectively advising more than 35 doctoral students, and embracing a strong culture of collaboration and teamwork. The cluster runs various well-funded programs, has developed and implemented a new interdisciplinary M.S. in Cybersecurity and Privacy, and was recently selected by the National Science Foundation to be a host institution for the prestigious Scholarship for Service Program.

This is an interdisciplinary position that will be expected to strengthen both the cluster and a chosen tenure home department and may include a combination of joint appointments. A strong advantage of this position is the ability of the candidate to choose a combination of units from the cluster for their appointment. See <http://www.ucf.edu/faculty/cluster/cyber-security-and-privacy/> for a complete list of all the units involved. Both individual and interdisciplinary infrastructure and startup support will be provided with this new position.

The ideal candidate will have a strong background in cyber security and privacy and be on an upward leadership trajectory in these areas. They will have research impact as reflected in high-quality publications and the ability to build a well-funded research program. In particular, we are looking for a team player who can help bring together current campus efforts in cyber security or privacy, and someone who will work at the intersection of several areas, addressing the policy, regulatory or social science aspects with a focus on one or more of the following topics: a) privacy laws and regulation; b) social media; c) cybercrimes; d) cyberwarfare; e) cyber security and intelligence. With this in mind, we anticipate the selected candidate will be tenure-earning in one of, but not limited to, the following units: Criminal Justice; Legal Studies; Modeling, Simulation, and Training; Politics, Security, and International Affairs; or Sociology.

UCF is one of the nation's largest universities with a diverse student body of more than 70,000 students and has grown substantially in size, quality, diversity, and reputation in its first 50 years. Today, the university offers more than 200 degree programs. UCF is an economic engine, attracting and supporting industries vital to the region's future while providing students with real-world experiences that help them succeed after graduation.

UCF's Orlando main campus location also puts it at the center of the Florida High Tech Corridor. The corridor has an excellent industrial base that includes software, defense, space, simulation and training, and world-renowned entertainment industry. Adjacent to the UCF main campus is a thriving research park that conducts over $2 billion in funded research, hosting more than 100 high-technology companies, UCF's Institute for Simulation and Training and UCF's new School of Modeling, Simulation and Training. The Central Florida area is designated by the state of Florida as the Center of Excellence in Modeling and Simulation. UCF also has an accredited medical school which was established in 2006 and is a neighbor to large corporations such as Disney, Harris Corporation, Lockheed Martin, Siemens, and many others, all of which have a strong interest in cyber security and privacy. Great weather, easy access to the seashore, one of the largest convention centers in the nation, and one of the world's best airports are just a few features that make Orlando an ideal location. We encourage you to learn more about one of UCF's newest endeavors, the exciting Faculty Cluster Initiative, at <https://www.ucf.edu/faculty/faculty-research-clusters>.

Additional Application Materials Required:

UCF requires all applications and supporting documents to be submitted electronically through the Human Resources website, www.ucf.edu/jobs/. No paper or emailed applications or materials will be considered.

In addition to the online application, interested candidates must attach the following materials to their application:

1) A Diversity Statement:

UCF has a diverse student body and community, and we are committed to meeting the needs of this community. Please tell us about your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, in the context of a faculty-student setting and as a colleague, as well as future plans to advance these contributions. Such indicators of commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion may be demonstrated through scholarship, teaching, mentioning, service and engagement.

2) A Cover Letter:

In the cover letter candidates must address their background in research and scholarship in the area in cyber security and privacy as related to policy and regulatory aspects and identify the department or departments for their potential tenure home, as well as any joint appointments they would desire.

3) Curriculum Vitae,

4) Teaching Statement,

5) Research Statement, and

6) Contact information for three professional references (include email address and telephone number).

NOTE: Please have all application documents ready when applying so they can be attached at that time. Once the online submission process is finalized, the system does not allow applicants to submit additional documents at a later date.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure consideration before the position is closed, the application should be submitted promptly.

Questions regarding this search can be directed to the cluster lead and search committee chair, Dr. David Mohaisen, at mohaisen@ucf.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9222

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--International Relations

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy, Conflict Processes

International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in International Relations. Applicants from any area of the IR field are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in international law, international organizations, or transnational issues broadly defined with an emphasis on issues such as human rights, refugees/migration, environment, and conflict justice. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach.

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci.-utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science or related field must be finished at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, statements of research, teaching, service, and diversity if not included in the cover letter, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application materials in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92425). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent to the committee also via Interfolio. Review of applications begins October 1, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Krista Wiegand at kwiegand@utk.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9173

California State University, Long Beach

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, LONG BEACH

College of Liberal Arts

Department of Political Science

Tenure-Track Position Opening

Recruitment: 2650

Position: Assistant Professor of International Relations

Effective Date: August 17, 2022 (Fall Semester)

Salary Range: Commensurate with qualifications and experience

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline, with specialization in International Relations. Degree at time of application or official notification of completion of the doctoral degree by August 1, 2022.
- Record of, or demonstrated potential for, effective teaching
- Record of, or demonstrated potential for, successful research and publication
- Experience with, or demonstrated potential for, effective participation in faculty governance
- Demonstrated commitment to working successfully with a diverse student population

Preferred Qualifications:

- Evidence of academic training in one or more of the following specializations in International Relations: international law, international organizations, foreign policy, or international political economy
- Evidence of scholarly activities examining timely international relations issues such as climate change, global public health, gender and international relations, technology regulation, economic development, ethnicity and nationalism, race and international relations, non-governmental organizations, peacekeeping, human migration, or human rights
- Evidence of ability to effectively teach one or more current University course offerings in International Relations at the undergraduate level (e.g., Senior Seminar in Global Politics) and graduate seminars in research methods, International Relations theory, and International Relations special topics
- Evidence of ability to develop new course offerings in International Relations that engage issues of diversity.
- Evidence of support for and/or experience related to the University's strong commitment to the academic success of its diverse student body
- Evidence of ability to engage in research leading to conference participation and peer-reviewed publication
- Evidence of interest in or experience with department, college, university, or community service

Duties:

- Teach and develop courses in International Relations at the undergraduate and graduate levels. [Mode of instruction may include in-person, hybrid, online, and/or any combination thereof.]
- Advise and mentor students, including the supervision of Master's students taking comprehensive exams and theses
- Engage in research leading to conference participation and peer-reviewed publications
- Participate in faculty governance
- Participate in service to the department, college, university, and community

CSULB seeks to recruit faculty who enthusiastically support the University's strong commitment to the academic success of all of our students, including students of color, students with disabilities, students who are first generation to college, veterans, students with diverse socio-economic backgrounds, and students of diverse sexual orientations and gender expressions. CSULB seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to serve the People of California, to maintain the excellence of the University, and to offer our students a rich variety of expertise, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning.

Information on excellent benefits package available to CSULB faculty is located here:

<https://www2.calstate.edu/csu-system/careers/benefits/Documents/employee-benefits-summary.pdf>

How to Apply - Required Documentation:

- An Equity and Diversity Statement about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population (maximum two pages, single-spaced). For further information and guidelines, please visit: <http://www.csulb.edu/EquityDiversityStatement>
- Letter of application addressing the required and preferred qualifications
- CV
- Three current academic letters of recommendation independently provided by references
- Writing sample
- Teaching evaluations, if applicable
- Copy of transcript from institution awarding highest degree
- Finalists will also be required to submit the following:
 - 1) A signed SC-1 form,
 - 2) An official transcript (e-transcript preferred, if available)

Applicants should apply and submit all required documentation electronically through:

<https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18825>

Upon request, finalists will be required to submit original, official documents, as noted in the required documentation section.

Requests for information should be addressed to:

Charles Mahoney, Associate Professor
California State University, Long Beach
Department of Political Science
1250 Bellflower Boulevard
Long Beach, CA 90840-4605
charles.mahoney@csulb.edu
562.985.8203

APPLICATION DEADLINE:

Review of applications to begin October 1, 2021
Position opened until filled (or recruitment canceled)

EMPLOYMENT REQUIREMENTS:

A background check (including a criminal records check and telephone reference check with most recent employer) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 Revised July 21, 2017 as a condition of employment.

CSULB is committed to creating a community in which a diverse population can learn, live, and work in an atmosphere of tolerance, civility and respect for the rights and sensibilities of each individual, without regard to race or ethnicity (including color or ancestry), nationality, religion or religious creed, gender (or sex), gender identity (including transgender), gender expression, sexual orientation, marital status, disability (physical or mental), medical condition, genetic information, age, veteran or military status. CSULB is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9135

Tufts University

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations (Tenure-Track)

The Department of Political Science at Tufts University invites nominations and applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in the field of international relations to begin September 1, 2022. The position is open with respect to regional or functional concentration. The promise of excellence in scholarship and teaching is required. Teaching duties are two courses per semester and will include an introductory course in international relations.

Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2022, in political science, international relations, or related field is required.

All applications are submitted via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/91552> and should include a cover letter, CV, three confidential letters of recommendation uploaded directly by recommenders to Interfolio, and at least one writing sample drawn from the applicant's dissertation. Applicants have the option of uploading a teaching statement, sample syllabi, and additional writing samples via Interfolio, but these items are not required. Note that our department is committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and candidates should address, across their materials, how they will promote these priorities in their professional career.

To ensure full consideration, applications must be submitted by September 15, 2021. If you have questions please email PoliticalScience@Tufts.Edu with "IR Search" in the subject line.

Tufts University, founded in 1852, prioritizes quality teaching, highly competitive basic and applied research, and a commitment to active citizenship locally, regionally, and globally. Tufts University also prides itself on creating a diverse, equitable, and inclusive community. Current and prospective employees of the university are expected to have and continuously develop skill in, and disposition for, positively engaging with a diverse population of faculty, staff, and students.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9110

New York University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Position Description:

The Wilf Family Department of Politics seeks candidates for three faculty positions for scholars conducting outstanding research on the subjects of race, identity, and inequality in domestic, comparative, or international contexts. The primary focus of our search is at the tenure track assistant professor level; however, we may consider more senior candidates under exceptional circumstances. The positions are to begin September 1, 2022, pending administrative approval.

This search is part of a broader cluster of recruitment efforts in Race, Identity, and Inequality that spans the Departments of Politics and Sociology in the Faculty of Arts and Science, and the Wagner School of Public Service. A primary aim of the cluster is to create a network for scholars working in these areas to collaborate across NYU. More information about this cluster and the broader cluster initiative can be found at <https://www.nyu.edu/faculty/teaching-and-learning-resources/faculty-advancement/faculty-recruitment/nyu-faculty-cluster-hiring-initiative.html#race2> and at <https://drive.google.com/file/d/1n88i-7v5yZGYxYvK54VJ9AhQgRNHRDKG/view>.

Qualifications:

Candidates are expected to possess a PhD by September 2022, in political science or a cognate discipline; to have records of excellent research; and to indicate the potential to be future disciplinary leaders in their respective fields of expertise. Candidates should also have demonstrated ability as excellent teachers at the undergraduate and/or graduate level. NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their teaching, research, experience, and service an ability to contribute to this goal, and a commitment to fostering inclusivity in a university setting.

Application Instructions:

Please apply online at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/91446>. While we will continue to review applications into October, candidates seeking the fullest consideration should submit their applications by September 10, 2021. Candidates are strongly encouraged to supply links to their professional websites; this will enhance their applications by allowing the search committee easy access to additional information that might be needed.

The Politics Department at NYU is dedicated to the goal of building a diverse and inclusive academic community. Accordingly, we strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their scholarship, teaching and mentoring, and/or service engagement commitment to these goals. We are particularly interested in hearing about concrete steps you have taken (or plan to take) to foster an inclusive intellectual environment in the classroom, in the department and on campus, and/or in your field more generally.

Required Applicant Documents:

- Cover letter
- CV or Resume
- Statement of Research and Goals
- Statement of Teaching
- Writing Sample
- Three Letters of Reference

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/10/2021

Date Posted: 7/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9101

University of Nevada, Las Vegas

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations, Political Science

Specializations: International Political Economy, Conflict Processes, International Law & Organizations

<https://nshe.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UNLV-External/job/UNLV1-Maryland-Campus/Assistant-Professor--International-Relations--Political-Science--College-of-Liberal-Arts--R0125435--R0125435>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/13/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9028

University of Rhode Island

Rank: Assistant Professor in Middle Eastern Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Rhode Island anticipates an opening for a faculty position in Comparative Politics or International Relations with a specialization in Middle Eastern politics. This is a tenure-track, academic year appointment at the rank of assistant professor to commence in the Fall of 2022.

We are seeking to attract a diverse pool of job applicants for this position. A key pillar of URI's mission is to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance." Our department seeks candidates whose principles align with that mission.

DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Applicants will be expected to teach undergraduate political science courses in the areas of comparative and international politics that serve as requirements for both the Political Science and the International Studies & Diplomacy undergraduate programs as well as teach courses in the International Relations Masters program.

Expected to publish original research in their respective field of study and advise undergraduate and graduate students.

Provide service to the department, the university and the profession.

REQUIRED QUALIFICATIONS

- 1) Ph.D., or expectation of completion of degree requirements by appointment date of September 1, 2022, in Political Science, International Relations, or related field.
- 2) Primary or secondary specialization in Middle Eastern politics.
- 3) Evidence of college level teaching commensurate with level of academic experience
- 4) Demonstrated ability to excel in teaching broad-based introductory political science courses in the area of comparative politics and/or international relations, upper division and graduate courses on Middle Eastern politics.
- 5) Evidence of research in the field of comparative politics and/or international relations with scholarly work commensurate with level of academic experience.
- 6) Demonstrated experience working with diverse populations or in diverse environments.

All requirements are subject to possible modification to reasonably accommodate individuals with disabilities.

PREFERRED QUALIFICATIONS

- 1) Research expertise in at least one of the following or related areas: international development, foreign policy, diplomacy, conflict, governance, ethnic or religious politics, or security studies.
- 2) Ability to teach undergraduate research methods
- 3) Ability to teach large introductory-level classes
- 4) Ability to teach from a cultural or regional studies perspective
- 5) Familiarity with experiential and applied learning strategies

The application deadline is September 15, 2021.

For the full job posting and to apply online, please visit: <https://jobs.uri.edu/postings/8269>

Please attach 5 (PDF) documents to your online Faculty Profile Application:

- 1) A letter of application that describes your interest in this position
- 2) A Curriculum Vitae which includes the names/contact information for three references, a list of all completed graduate-level courses, and, if available, course syllabi and teaching evaluations for any courses you have taught (note: please scan and attach all of this information as a single CV document),
- 3) A brief research and teaching statement
- 4) A statement on diversity, equity, and inclusion reflecting on URI's mission to "inspire an enlightened community that is characterized by vibrant cultural diversity; that embraces difference; that is built upon a learning environment that fosters respect, understanding, and social justice; and that rejects prejudice and intolerance."
- 5) If applicable, submit an article-length sample of relevant scholarly work.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/15/2021

Date Posted: 7/13/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9029

Bucknell University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (IR/Comparative)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in international and comparative politics beginning in the fall semester of 2022. We seek a scholar whose research and teaching centers on the Middle East/North Africa region and the politics of the Islamic world. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in international politics, courses on politics in the Middle East/North Africa, a course in quantitative or qualitative research methods, and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks.

We are especially interested in candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate excellence in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinarity. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science with a sub-field specialization in international and/or comparative politics.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Doug Hecock at rdh013@bucknell.edu. Applications received by September 27, 2021 will receive full consideration.

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9016

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Latin American Politics/Political Economy and quantitative methods

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of Latin American politics/political economy and quantitative methods. Expertise in Mexico preferred, but we are open to other areas as well. The successful candidate will teach courses on Latin American politics/political economy as part of the Department's developing curricular concentration on the region and courses on quantitative methods that are part of the Department's required curriculum.

Bush School faculty teach master's degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or Political Economy by September 2022. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information demonstrating success in teaching at the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/88572 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 7, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8935

Appalachian State University

Rank: Visiting Comparative Politics Instructor

The Department of Government and Justice Studies at Appalachian State University invites applications for a one-year visiting position in Comparative Politics beginning August 1, 2021. Successful candidates will have research and teaching interests in one or more of the following areas: comparative politics, human rights, ethnic conflict, globalization, or the politics of developing nations. The teaching load is 3 courses per semester for faculty with an active research agenda. At least one course each semester will be Intro to Comparative Politics.

Applications must be submitted via AppState PeopleAdmin <https://appstate.peopleadmin.com/postings/28206>. Applicants must submit the following documents: an application consisting of a letter outlining relevant research and teaching goals and experience, a current vitae, and a sample syllabus.

Review of applications will begin on May 28, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Any offer of employment to a successful candidate will be conditioned upon the University's receipt of a satisfactory criminal background report.

Individuals with disabilities may request accommodations in the application process by contacting Maranda Maxey, Director & ADA/504 Coordinator, at 828- 262-3056 or maxeymr@appstate.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/7/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8870

METHODOLOGYSUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor in Environmental Policy or Economics

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Regulatory Policy, Science & Technology

Position Description

The School of Marine and Atmospheric Sciences (SoMAS) at Stony Brook University invites applications for a faculty position in environmental policy or economics connected to water resources and/or water quality. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to teaching and will teach classes at the undergraduate and graduate levels, as well as mentor students. The candidate will commit to departmental and university service. SoMAS is a multi-disciplinary environment, with opportunity for collaboration within the School, with the Center for Clean Water Technology, and within the University. The candidate will establish and sustain a vigorous independent externally funded research program.

Candidates at the Assistant Professor or Associate Professor level are encouraged to apply. Candidates for the rank of Associate Professor should have well established records of research and educational activities, including experience in multi-PI research programs. Compensation will be commensurate with experience.

Required Qualifications:

Expertise in environmental policy and/or economics connected to water and/or water quality. Applicants with expertise in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: sustainable management of water resources, equity issues in water quality, public health implications of drinking water contamination, wastewater treatment infrastructure, and impacts of climate change on water availability and quality. Experience in teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental policy and/or economics. Experience in course and curriculum development. Experience mentoring undergraduate and/or graduate students. Experience obtaining and managing external research funding. Experience collaborating on multidisciplinary research projects.

Preferred Qualifications:

Expertise in environmental policy and/or economics connected to water and/or water quality. Applicants with expertise in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: sustainable management of water resources, equity issues in water quality, public health implications of drinking water contamination, wastewater treatment infrastructure, and impacts of climate change on water availability and quality. Experience in teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental policy and/or economics. Experience in course and curriculum development. Experience mentoring undergraduate and/or graduate students. Experience obtaining and managing external research funding. Experience collaborating on multidisciplinary research projects.

Application instructions:

Complete applications should include a curriculum vita, statements of teaching and research interests (including a list of previous courses taught), a statement about relevant experience in outreach and contributions to diversity and inclusion, and names and contact information of at least three references. Applications should be received by January 10, 2022 for best consideration, although applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/98061><https://apply.interfolio.com/98061>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/10/2022

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9770

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Public Opinion, Science & Technology, Research Methods

Postdoctoral fellowship program in Science of Science Communication at the Annenberg Public Policy Center of the University of Pennsylvania

As part of its Annenberg Center for the Advanced Study of Communication, the Annenberg Public Policy Center (APPC; <http://www.annenbergpublicpolicycenter.org>) of the University of Pennsylvania's postdoctoral fellowship program in the Science of Science Communication (SSC) is accepting applications for the 2022-2023 academic year. Fellows in the program will work closely with other fellows and senior researchers of APPC on scholarship designed to understand basic problems (e.g., source credibility, communication processes, attitude change, belief formation, conspiracy theories, and misinformation debunking) as well as applied ones (e.g., climate change, vaccines, and COVID-19). The program is interdisciplinary and is currently led by social psychologist and communication scholar, Dolores Albarracín (<https://www.asc.upenn.edu/research/centers/social-action-lab>).

Applicants should submit a cover letter as well as a curriculum vitae, a letter of reference from their dissertation advisor, and a description of the applicant's scholarly interests. Two more references will be requested later in the process. First-year fellows will receive a stipend of $65,000 and serve in a 12-month appointment, beginning July 1, 2022. An allowance of up to $1,500 will be provided to offset pre-approved, receipt-documented relocation expenses, and APPC will reimburse up to $2,000 in travel to high-level conferences to present APPC research (subject to any applicable university Covid-19 travel restrictions). Renewal for a second year is contingent upon performance and budgetary considerations.

We are seeking fellows who apply a variety of disciplinary and methodological approaches, and have completed a Ph.D. in a social, behavioral, or computational science within the last five years.

Please send the letter of interest, CV, and names of two references to appc-apply@appc.upenn.edu. The letter of reference should be sent to the same email address by the dissertation adviser. Questions about current lines of research or other academic aspects may be directed to Dr. Albarracín at dalba@upenn.edu.

The application deadline is February 15, 2022 for a July 1, 2022 start. However, decisions will be made on a rolling basis.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 9771

U.S. Army War College

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellow

Specializations: Defense, Foreign Policy, Leadership Studies

Post Doctoral Fellow
 DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY
 U.S. Army War College
 School of Strategic Landpower

Open & closing dates

Service
 Excepted

Pay scale & grade
 AD 00

Salary
 $52,156 to $53,931 per year

Appointment type
 Temporary - 1 year

Work schedule
 Full-Time

Locations
 1 vacancy in the following location:

Carlisle Barracks, PA

Relocation expenses reimbursed
 No

This job is open to
 The public

Telework eligible
 Yes as determined by agency policy

U.S. citizens, nationals or those who owe allegiance to the U.S.

Duties
 Summary

About the Position:

Under the supervision of the Director of Educational Methodology, this position will support planning and administration of faculty development and curricular initiatives. The incumbent will also conduct research related to the scholarship of teaching and learning and on topics of institutional interest. Expertise in areas related to instructional design, educational technology, and the science of learning will receive special consideration.

Responsibilities

- Assist in planning and conducting faculty development offerings.
- Consult on and participate in special projects and research related to educational methodology and evaluation, to include summarizing findings and making recommendations for future curriculum and programming.
- Synthesize existing educational research relevant to adult education environments, including psychology, organizational management, and other related behavioral sciences literature, both quantitative and qualitative.
- Conduct research and present findings related to experiential learning in adult education environments, including innovations in educational technology.
- Participate in occasional institutional site visits and academic conferences.
- Perform other duties as directed by supervisors.

Travel Required

Occasional travel - Travel (domestic and/or international) may be required up to 10% of the time.

Supervisory status
 No

Job family (Series)
 0101 Social Science
<https://www.usajobs.gov//Search/?j=0101>

Requirements
 Conditions Of Employment
 Promotion Potential
 None

- Appointment may be subject to a suitability or fitness determination, as determined by a completed background investigation.
- Permanent Change of Station expenses ARE NOT authorized.
- Include job announcement number on application.

Qualifications
 Who May Apply: US Citizens

To qualify, you must meet the education and/or experience requirements described below. Your résumé must clearly describe your relevant experience; your transcripts will be required as part of your application. Additional information about transcripts is available at <http://www.armycivilianservice.com/JOA/Transcripts.pdf> (<http://www.armycivilianservice.com/JOA/Transcripts.pdf>) (<http://www.armycivilianservice.com/JOA/Transcripts.pdf>) (<http://www.armycivilianservice.com/JOA/Transcripts.pdf>).

SELECTIVE PLACEMENT FACTORS/KNOWLEDGE, SKILLS AND ABILITIES (KSAs): Applicants will be rated based on the criteria listed below by a panel appointed with the purpose of identifying the best- qualified candidates.

1. Ph.D. or Ed.D. from an accredited institution, achieved no earlier than five years prior to the date of this announcement. Candidates within six months of completing a Ph.D. or Ed.D. may apply.
2. Ph.D. or Ed.D. in a discipline relevant to education, such as higher education, curriculum and instruction, adult education, instruction design, and educational psychology.
3. Expertise in educational research methodology (to include quantitative, qualitative, and mixed methods research) is preferred.

4. Demonstrated potential for high-quality research, writing, and presentation related to the scholarship of teaching and learning that bridges the gap between theory and practice. The candidate should include a research proposal related to educational methodology in adult or professional military education environments. The selection official will consider the scholarly merit and relevance of the candidate's research proposal.
5. Ability to coach a diverse faculty cadre in the implementation of innovative pedagogy.
6. Evidence of the potential to design and lead faculty development offerings in the areas of expertise listed above.
7. Ability to work collegially with diverse (military, civilian, international) graduate students, faculty, staff, and administrators.

Education

Only degrees from an accredited college or university recognized by the Department of Education are acceptable to meet positive education requirements or to substitute education for experience.

For additional information, please go to the Office of Personnel Management (OPM) and U.S. Department of Education websites at <http://www.opm.gov/qualifications>

(<http://www.opm.gov/qualifications>) (<http://www.opm.gov/qualifications>) (<http://www.ed.gov/admins/finaid/accred/index.html>) (<http://www.ed.gov/admins/finaid/accred/index.html>) (<http://www.ed.gov/admins/finaid/accred/index.html>)

FOREIGN EDUCATION: If you are using education completed in foreign colleges or universities to meet the qualification requirements, you must show the education credentials have been evaluated by a private organization that specializes in interpretation of foreign education programs and such education has been deemed equivalent to that gained in an accredited U.S. education program; or full credit has been given for the courses at a U.S. accredited college or university. For further information, visit: <http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ous/international/usnei/us/edlite-visitus-forrecog.html> (<http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ous/international/usnei/us/edlite-visitus-forrecog.html>)

Additional information

- Male applicants born after December 31, 1959, must complete a Pre-Employment Certification Statement for Selective Service Registration.
- You will be required to provide proof of U.S. Citizenship.
- One year trial period may be required.
- Direct Deposit of Pay is required.
- Salary includes applicable locality pay or Local Market Supplement.
- Payment of Permanent Change of Station (PCS) costs is not authorized, based on a determination that a PCS move is not in the Government interest.
- Must provide official academic transcripts upon request (unofficial transcripts are required at the time of application).
- Include the job announcement number on your application.

How You Will Be Evaluated

The application review process to determine if you meet the experience and education requirements found in the job announcement begins upon the closing date of the announcement. If you are one of the top candidates, you may be invited to interview by the selection official. If selected, you will receive a tentative job offer. Depending on the strength of the applicant pool, this process may take several months after the closing date of the job announcement.

Please follow all instructions carefully, as failure to submit a complete application could invalidate your submission. In this regard, please be sure to read the HOW TO APPLY and REQUIRED DOCUMENTS sections.

DO NOT upload application materials to the USAJobs.gov resume submission system. Submit application packages and requests for further information directly to:

U.S. Army War College Office of the G1
46 Ashburn Drive (Anne Ely Hall, Room 233)
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil (717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256

Submission Process: Please note that this is NOT a Title 5 (General Scale) position, and the routine procedures for filing through the USAJobs.gov automated system should NOT be followed. Instead, please submit your complete application package and any requests for further information directly to the G1 Office at the email address listed below.

AGENCY CONTACT INFO:

U.S. Army War College Office of the G1
46 Ashburn Drive (Anne Ely Hall, Room 233)
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil (717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256
Background checks and security clearance

Security clearance

Not Required

(<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/faq/job-announcement/security-clearances/>)

Drug test required

No

Position sensitivity and risk

Non-sensitive (NS)/Low Risk (<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/faq/job-announcement/security-clearances/>)

Trust determination process

Suitability/Fitness

(<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/faq/job-announcement/security-clearances/>)

Required Documents

Please see the list of requirements in the "How to Apply" section.

NOTE: Documents submitted as part of the application package, to include supplemental documents, may be shared beyond the Human Resources Office. Some supplemental documents such as military orders and marriage certificates could contain personal information for someone other than the applicant. Redact these documents to remove the personal information of others before submitting your application. You may be asked to provide an un-redacted version of the documents to confirm your eligibility for selection.

Failure to provide all of the required information as stated in the job announcement may result in an ineligible rating or may affect the overall rating.

If you are relying on your education to meet qualification requirements:

Education must be accredited by an accrediting institution recognized by the U.S. Department of Education in order for it to be credited towards qualifications. Therefore, provide only the attendance and/or degrees from schools accredited by accrediting institutions recognized by the U.S. Department of Education (<http://www.ed.gov/admins/finaid/accred/>).

Failure to provide all of the required information as stated in this vacancy announcement may result in an ineligible rating or may affect the overall rating.

Benefits

A career with the U.S. Government provides employees with a comprehensive benefits package. As a federal employee, you and your family will have access to a range of benefits that are designed to make your federal career very rewarding.

- Benefits for federal employees (<https://www.usa.gov/benefits-for-federal-employees#item-36407>)
 - Healthcare insurance (<https://www.opm.gov/healthcare-insurance/>)
 - Pay and leave (<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/pay-and-leave/>)
- <https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/>
- Eligibility for benefits depends on the type of position you hold and whether your position is full-time, part-time, or intermittent. Contact the hiring agency for more information on the specific benefits offered.

How to Apply

To apply for this position, you must provide a complete application package which includes the items listed below. Applications must be postmarked or e-dated by the closing date of this job announcement. Please include the job announcement number on the application.

Army network servers have an overall limit of 10 MB per email. To ensure delivery of your application, we recommend that applicants limit overall email size to no more than 5-8 MB. You may send documents in several emails to reduce overall size.

The USAWC G1 will provide email confirmation of all received applications. If you do not receive delivery confirmation within three business days please contact the USAWC G1 at (717) 245-4596 or via email to usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil

Failure to provide these documents may result in disqualification for the position. Please note that this is not a Title 5 (General Scale) position, and the routine procedures for filing through the USAJobs.gov automated system should NOT be followed. Instead, please submit your complete application package and any requests for further information directly to Ms. Kathy Benton at the email address listed below.

1. Cover Letter of application addressing the required KSAs and other qualifications, as listed in the QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED section above.
2. Curriculum vitae or résumé.
3. Proof of U.S. citizenship (i.e., birth certificate, passport). (Candidates may provide photocopies during the application process but must provide official documents if selected.)
4. Research proposal on a topic related to those listed in the Qualifications section of this job announcement.

5. Academic transcripts (undergraduate and graduate level). Unofficial transcripts are required with your application submission. You must provide official college transcripts upon request.
6. Name, title, address, and current contact information of four disinterested professional references (i.e., persons who can affirm the candidate's qualifications but have no stake in the outcome of the selection).
7. Samples of scholarship. (Electronic format is preferred, as hard copies will not be returned without a self-addressed and metered envelope.)
8. Documentation supporting any request for Veteran's Preference (such as a DD Form 214 and/or VA statement of disability). The selection committee will consider veterans preference in its assessment of qualified candidates, but Veteran status is not a requirement for this position.
9. A short narrative of one page or less that describes how you would contribute to an atmosphere of diversity at the U.S. Army War College through teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

The Department of the Army provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process, please notify the servicing civilian personnel unit. Your requests for reasonable accommodation will be addressed on a case-by-case basis.

Both paper and electronic submissions are acceptable, but the latter is strongly encouraged. The preferred method of submission is by e-mail with .pdf attachments.

Submit your complete application package and any requests for further information to the:

U.S. Army War College Office of the G1
46 Ashburn Drive (Anne Ely Hall, Room 233)
Carlisle Barracks, PA 17013
usarmy.carlisle.awc.mbx.g1-civilian-personel-division@mail.mil (717) 245-4596 or (717) 961-2256

The Army War College is in Carlisle, Pennsylvania, home to a historic Army post that provides a collegial work environment with plenty of opportunities for professional growth and development. Carlisle Barracks is in south-central Pennsylvania, 30 minutes from the state capital of Harrisburg and two hours from Washington D.C. The Carlisle community has a temperate climate, excellent schools, and low cost of living.

Agency contact information
Army Applicant Help Desk

Website

https://portal.chra.army.mil/hr_public?id=app_inq
(https://portal.chra.army.mil/hr_public?id=app_inq)

Learn more about this agency
(#agency-modal-trigger)

Address

DQ-APF-W2H6AA US ARMY WAR COLLEGE DO NOT MAIL
Carlisle, PA 17013 US

The U.S. Army War College is the Army's senior institution for professional military education. It educates the best U.S. military officers of all services, U.S. government civilians, and military officers from over 70 foreign countries via resident and distance modalities. The resident curriculum is a ten-month program that leads to a Master of Strategic Studies degree accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education.

The postdoctoral fellow will serve in the capacity of junior civilian faculty position as provided under Title 10, United States Code, and contribute to program administration, facilitation, and research at the U.S. Army War College. They must possess expertise in Educational Methodology and demonstrate commitment to a career in educational support at the college or university level.

Fellowships provide up to one year of support for individuals after attainment of the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) or Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) degree. Highly qualified doctoral candidates in ABD status may also be considered. Initial appointment is for one year, beginning no later than 15 June 2020, with the possibility of extension to a second year depending on the needs of the institution, performance, and availability of funds. There is no guarantee of extension beyond the first year. Federal regulations require a one-year probationary period.

Next steps

Your application package

(<http://www.armycivilianservice.com/JOA/CKDE.pdf>)

(resume, supporting documents, etc.) will be reviewed by a specially appointed selection committee to determine your eligibility, qualifications, and quality ranking for this position. Please follow all instructions carefully. Errors or omissions may affect your rating or consideration for employment.

Depending on the strength of the applicant pool, this process may take several months after the closing date of the job announcement. Please follow all instructions carefully, as failure to submit a complete application could invalidate your submission. Please be sure to read the HOW TO APPLY and REQUIRED DOCUMENTS sections.

Fair & Transparent

The Federal hiring process is setup to be fair and transparent. Please read the following guidance.

Equal Employment Opportunity Policy

The United States Government does not discriminate in employment on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy And gender identity), national origin, political affiliation, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, genetic information, age, membership in an employee organization, retaliation, parental status, military service, or other non-merit factor.

- Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) for federal employees & job applicants

(https://www.eeoc.gov/federal/fed_employees/index.cfm)

Reasonable Accommodation Policy

Federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodation to applicants with disabilities where appropriate. Applicants requiring reasonable accommodation for any part of the application process should follow the instructions in the job opportunity announcement. For any part of the remaining hiring process, applicants should contact the hiring agency directly. Determinations on requests for reasonable accommodation will be made on a case-by-case basis.

A reasonable accommodation is any change to a job, the work environment, or the way things are usually done that enables an individual with a disability to apply for a job, perform job duties or receive equal access to job benefits.

Under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, federal agencies must provide reasonable accommodations when:

- An applicant with a disability needs an accommodation to have an equal opportunity to apply for a job.
- An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to perform the essential job duties or to gain access to the workplace.
- An employee with a disability needs an accommodation to receive equal access to benefits, such as details, training, and office-sponsored events.

You can request a reasonable accommodation at any time during the application or hiring process or while on the job. Requests are considered on a case-by-case basis.

Learn more about disability employment and reasonable accommodations

(<https://www.opm.gov/policy-data-oversight/disability-employment/reasonable-accommodations/>) or how to contact an agency.

(<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/how-to/application/agency/contact/>)

Legal and regulatory guidance

Financial suitability

(<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/fair-and-transparent/financial-suitability/>)

Social security number request (<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/fair-and-transparent/social-security-number/>)

Privacy Act

(<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/fair-and-transparent/privacy-act/>)

Signature & False statements (<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/fair-and-transparent/signature-false-statements/>)

Selective Service

(<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/fair-and-transparent/selective-service/>)

New employee probationary period (<https://www.usajobs.gov/Help/working-in-government/fair-and-transparent/probationary-period/>)

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: 11/29/2021

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9733

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

POSTDOCTORAL ASSOCIATE, Political Science, to join a computational social science research project <https://www.lobbyview.org/>. -- LobbyView-- with Professor In Song Kim. Will work with Professor Kim to examine special interest group politics in the U.S., using computational methods. Responsibilities include analyzing lobbying and campaign donation data; and developing/maintaining a large-scale money in politics SQL database. The team is currently developing novel computational methods for social science research such as community detection and graphical neural network methods to infer political networks, and NLP methods to investigate congressional bill writing and entity disambiguation. The position offers an opportunity to engage in independent research projects according to your research interests/background.

Job Requirements

REQUIRED: Ph.D. (or an anticipated Ph.D. completion by May 2022) in and research experience with computer science, computational social science, political science, or other related field; ability to work independently with general supervision and as part of a team; experience working with remote servers (Linux CLI, AWS); good Python/Git development skills; and familiarity with SQL. PREferred: experience with data-driven social sciences, experience with large-scale data handling, solid knowledge of SQL and relational database modeling, and knowledge of Postgres/NodeJS/GraphQL/React/D3. Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, list of references, and a writing sample to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/20526> <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajob/jobs/20526&clt;a>>;

This project is supported by the National Science Foundation. Please indicate your earliest preferred start date in your cover letter.

This is a one-year term appointment with the possibility of renewal based on funding and performance.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9720

University of Cologne

Rank: Post-Doc in Comparative Political Behavior

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Parties & Organizations, Quantitative Methods

The post-doc (f/m/d) will be part of Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch's ERC-funded research project MINORITYRULE on "Democracy without Majorities: Political Representation under Minority Rule". The project's objective is to provide a systematic comparative analysis of the implications of minority governments for political representation. The project investigates how minority rule affects the intensity of political polarization in parliamentary debates and election campaigns, how the responsiveness of minority governments to public opinion differs from those of majority governments at the national and supranational level, and how citizens evaluate the legitimacy of decisions taken by minority governments.

YOUR TASKS

- Take a leading role in work package 3 on citizen evaluations of minority rule, including the design and analysis of crossnational survey experiments and panel surveys
- Conduct and publish high-quality research within the context of MINORITYRULE
- Collaborate with other project members
- Provide support for project-related management and administrative tasks
- Participate in the intellectual life of the Cologne Center for Comparative Politics

WE OFFER YOU

- Participation in a cutting-edge research project funded by an ERC Consolidator Grant
- Opportunity to develop your own research agenda within the framework of the project
- Funding for conferences, additional training, research activities
- Integration into the Cologne Center for Comparative Politics
- A diverse and fair working environment
- Support in reconciling work and family life
- Flexible working time models, full-time positions suitable for job sharing
- Extensive advanced training opportunities
- Occupational health management offers
- Local transport ticket at a discount for UoC employees

The starting date for the position is May 1, 2022. The full-time position will last until August 2026. If the applicant meets the relevant wage requirements and personal qualifications, the salary is based on remuneration group 14 TV-L of the pay scale for the German public sector.

The University of Cologne is committed to equal opportunities and diversity. Women are especially encouraged to apply and will be considered preferentially in accordance with the Equal Opportunities Act of North Rhine-Westphalia (Landesgleichstellungsgesetz – LGG NRW). We also expressly welcome applications from people with disabilities / special needs or of equal status.

Applications should be submitted in English by email (in one pdf-file) under the reference number Wiss2110-15 to cccj-jobs@uni-koeln.de and include a motivation letter, CV including publication list, proposal for an own postdoctoral project (1 page), transcripts, writing sample, and the names of two references. The application deadline is December 15, 2021.

For further information, please contact Prof. Sven-Oliver Proksch (so.proksch@uni-koeln.de). Informal inquiries are welcome.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 11/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9701

Florida Atlantic University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Florida Atlantic University invites applications for two tenure-track positions in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor for the 2022-2023 academic year. Candidates should expect to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in American politics and quantitative research methods. Applications reflecting expertise in new techniques and technologies will receive special consideration. Preference will be given to candidates who have a broad range of quantitative methodological expertise in, but not limited to: R, Generalized Linear Models, Multilevel Modeling, and Bayesian approaches.

The Department is deeply committed to a community of excellence, equity, and diversity and welcomes applications from women, underrepresented minorities, persons with disabilities, sexual minority groups, and other candidates who will contribute to the diversification and enrichment of ideas and perspectives. Preferred candidates have a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, experience working directly with people from diverse racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic backgrounds, and can demonstrate skill in the understanding of cultural differences.

Hires will have a teaching load of 3/2 and should be able to provide instruction in a variety of modalities, including online, hybrid and in-person. Ability and willingness to lead occasional faculty seminars on new methods are preferred. Candidates should also demonstrate an active research agenda in either methodology or American Politics, which includes potential for outside support through public or private grants. Undergraduate and graduate advising, mentoring, and thesis supervision related to the political science and data science majors are important components of this position.

The new hire will contribute substantially to FAU's Comparative Studies Ph. D. program and to the M.S. in Data Science and Analytics degree. Depending on their area of study, the new hire may also contribute to interdisciplinary programs and have the opportunity to participate in college or department programs such as the Leon Charney Diplomacy Program and the Advanced Campaigning Program and/or contribute to the Study of the Americas Initiative in the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters.

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science from an accredited institution with a focus in American Politics and quantitative methodology. The successful candidate must have the Ph.D. completed by the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Salary: Commensurate with Experience

Location: Boca Raton

Application Deadline: 2022-01-21-08:00

Special Instructions to Applicant:

This position is open until filled and may close without prior notice. This position is subject to funding.

Required Documents:

FAU's Career Page permits the attachment of required/requested documentation.

https://fau.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/FAU/job/Boca-Raton/Assistant-Professor--American-Politics_REQ11672/apply

IMPORTANT: There are two positions. Each of the positions is listed separately on the FAU website. for full consideration, you should apply to both of the following listings:

REQ11672

REQ11671

PLEASE NOTE: A maximum of five (5) documents may be attached to your application. If more than five (5) documents are required for submission, please combine additional documents into one attachment to not exceed the maximum permitted.

When completing the online application, please upload all required documentation noted here: (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae.

Along with the cover letter and CV, please make sure the following is also included:

1. A sample syllabus for a class you have taught or would like to teach
2. A one-page research statement describing your work and future agenda,
3. A statement detailing your approach to engaging with diverse communities and articulating how your teaching, scholarship and/or service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus,
4. The names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited for candidates placed on the long list).

Transcripts:

The selected candidate for this position is required to submit an official transcript sent directly from the institution is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment. Similarly, for degrees from outside the United States, the evaluation by an organization belonging to the National Association of Credential Evaluation (NACES), with an indication of the documents the evaluation was prepared from (official transcripts, diplomas, dissertation abstracts) is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment.

Background Screening:

Successful completion of a pre-employment background check is required for the candidate selected for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9607

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research.

Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families' location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2022. Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements and Recommendations

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe the candidate's experience as a part of any of the diverse or underrepresented groups as outlined below, and any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

IPL encourages applicants from diverse and underrepresented groups to apply. In particular, IPL encourages individuals from historically underrepresented racial and ethnic groups (Black or African Americans, Hispanics or Latinos, American Indians or Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders, as described by the National Science Foundation), individuals with disabilities, and individuals from disadvantaged economic and educational backgrounds (low-income households and disadvantaged educational environments) to apply. IPL encourages that this information be shared in the "Contributions to Diversity Statement".

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19939> (ID19939). We will begin reviewing applications on November 1st, 2021. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact Elisa Cascardi at the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, directly (cascardi@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc (Health) 2021).

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9610

Academia Sinica

Rank: Assistant Research Fellow (equivalent to Assistant Professor)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Methodology

Position Announcement

Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica

1. The Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica (IPSAS), Taipei, Taiwan, seeks to appoint full-time faculty members at the rank of assistant research fellow (which is equivalent to assistant professor). Application for higher rank will also be considered.
2. The applicant should specialize at least one of the following fields: (1) Taiwan politics and comparative democracy; (2) China and comparative politico-economic transition; (3) cross-Strait relations and international relations theory; (4) political changes in Asia and global democratic development; and, (5) political methodology.
3. The applicant must have a doctoral degree in political science or related disciplines, or is able to receive a Ph.D. degree by August 31, 2022.
4. Applicants for positions of assistant research fellow should submit the following documents:
 - (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
 - (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate or certification for completion of course work and successful defense of dissertation (for applicants who have not yet passed the oral examination, proof for completion of courses and a letter certifying imminent holding of oral examination are required);
 - (3) two copies of the doctoral dissertation (or draft) and other publications;
 - (4) an abstract (in both English and Chinese) of the doctoral dissertation;
 - (5) transcripts from undergraduate and graduate schools;
 - (6) a statement of research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
 - (7) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio; those applying for the position of assistant research fellow should have one letter from the dissertation advisor).
5. Applicants for positions of associate research fellow or above should submit the following documents:
 - (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
 - (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate;
 - (3) three representative publications (and two copies each);
 - (4) proofs for appointments in Taiwanese or international academic institutes;
 - (5) a statement of research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
 - (6) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio).
6. The application should be sent to Dr. Chung-li Wu, Director, Institute of Political Science, Academia Sinica, 128 Academia Rd., Sec. 2, Taipei 115201, Taiwan, R.O.C..

7. Questions can be forwarded to Ms. Ren-Yuan Lo at 886-2-2652-5303, faxed to 886-2-2783-2610, or e-mailed to ipsas@gate.sinica.edu.tw.

8. The application should be received by November 30, 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9592

Yale University

Rank: Research Postdoctoral Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Behavior, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics (CSAP) seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2022. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis.

Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Application materials include a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Applications should be submitted on Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/96142>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2022. Please submit your application by that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/8/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9538

New York University

Rank: Research Data Scientist

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Open

We are seeking a Research Data Scientist to provide leadership and project management on our new, multilingual research infrastructure to monitor how the spread of disinformation across social media platforms will impact the upcoming U.S. elections. Through innovative data collection techniques that pair comprehensive, multi-platform digital trace data with national surveys in both English and Spanish, the project will provide a systematic view into the information Americans consume — both offline and on — and how their beliefs and behaviors change over time.

With this information, CSMAp scholars will produce peer-reviewed research and quantitative descriptive reports examining several key questions, including which U.S. communities are targeted most by disinformation and on what platforms, how these dynamics are shifting as the online ecosystem changes, and what impact disinformation has on voters' beliefs and behaviors. Beyond disinformation and elections, our flexible research design will also enable us to measure the impact of media diets on a variety of issue and policy areas, from Covid-19 to social justice.

Under the direction of the CSMAp Faculty Directors, this role is responsible for:

- Working closely with data engineers on social media data collection methodologies and procedures
- Managing multiple incoming streams of social media data and designing and implementing efficient methods for merging aggregates with survey data
- Overseeing an ongoing panel survey and developing and implementing procedures for sampling and quality control
- Working with the faculty directors and other scholars, assist or lead in designing successive waves of a panel survey, with the potential to embed encouragement experiments and innovate in other ways
- Managing a full-time project associate and research assistants
- Overseeing and/or contributing to the production of academic papers, and rigorous topical data reports for a non-academic audience describing both the political content across social media platforms, and the impact it is having on individuals
- Planning and executing the project management plans, such as project budgets, schedules

CSMAp consists of three core faculty directors covering fields of Political Science, Computer Science, and Computational Biology, as well as postdoctoral fellows, research engineers, PhD students in both Political Science and Data Science, affiliated faculty at NYU and other institutions, and undergraduates. The lab maintains a broad research agenda with many projects moving forward simultaneously. Some recent publications and working papers have focused on election misinformation, social media usage in an ethnically polarized setting, how (competitive) authoritarian regimes respond to online opposition, and the prevalence of hate speech on Twitter.

The directors of the Center for Social Media and Politics actively encourage applicants from all backgrounds to apply. We believe in the importance of diversity as a key to the long-range health and vibrancy of the field, as well as its ability to create a more stimulating intellectual environment.

Qualifications

Required education: Master's degree or PhD in data science, political science, or related field.

Required skills and experience:

- At least 3 years research experience in social sciences, public policy, or a related field (time in MA or PhD program counts)

- Experience with data analysis and data management, handling large volumes of JSON format data and merging data of multiple types, experience managing a data-science workflow
- Excellent project management skills
- Experience working with R and/or Python
- Ability to work with survey data and identify potential issues and sources of error
- Experience in quantitative analysis
- Ability to work both as part of a team and independently
- Ability to organize and oversee complex projects with multiple moving parts
- Strong interpersonal, collaborative, and communication skills
- Preferred knowledge and experience:
 - Experience working with social media and/or digital trace data
 - Experience working on a large High Performance Computing Cluster and/or with a cloud computing service
 - Experience working with survey applications (e.g. Qualtrics)
 - Background and/or familiarity with quantitative research methodologies a plus
 - Experience in survey design, and ability to evaluate an existing survey questionnaire in accord with the basic principles of questionnaire design a plus

Application Instructions: To apply, please visit <https://apply.interfolio.com/96184>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9533

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor

Political Methodology. The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, with appointment beginning July 1, 2022. We seek a scholar doing innovative research in any area of quantitative political methodology, broadly defined. We welcome applications from scholars whose work crosses traditional subfield or disciplinary boundaries, who show promise of research excellence and a desire to train and work with a diverse body of students.

The Political Science Department at UNC is committed to a vision of the University where all members of the community feel welcome, valued, and can thrive. The ideal candidate will share in this commitment. Accordingly, applicants should describe in their cover letters the specific ways in which their scholarship, mentoring, and service goals can support this vision.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity employer and educator that welcomes all to apply. We particularly encourage applications from women, BIPOC, veterans, LGBTIQ+, individuals with disabilities, and other groups of people from historically and currently marginalized backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin October 31, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please follow this link: <http://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/200087>. Please include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, research statement, teaching statement (including available teaching evaluations and other evidence of teaching excellence), and a writing sample. Applicants will be required to identify the names, titles and email addresses of professional references at the time of application (please note that four are required). Recommenders identified by the applicant will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference and the application system will solicit recommendations directly from Interfolio. Please see <http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-to-an-Online-Application-System> for instructions. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references instead of the referring faculty. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; the department address is Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265 and the web address is <http://www.unc.edu/depts/polisci>.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9491

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Formal Theory/Quantitative Methods

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Political Economy, International Political Economy

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a postdoctoral research associate or more senior research position in the fields of formal theory or quantitative methods. This position involves a year of research at Princeton with the possibility of renewal for another year based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars and to increase the critical mass of scholars with interests in formal theory and quantitative methods at Princeton.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22583> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, transcript and the names and contact information of three references. Ph.D. is required. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton Politics faculty members. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to F/Q Postdoctoral Fellowship Search, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton University, Princeton, NJ 08544. We will begin reviewing applications on February 15, 2022.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition Number D-22-POL-00012

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/27/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9436

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor - American Politics

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Political Communication, Political Parties & Organizations

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level in American politics beginning August 16, 2022. The successful candidate should have a strong research agenda which will lead to a body of high-quality peer-reviewed published work. The position is open to applicants in all areas of American politics, behavior and/or institutions, but we especially welcome candidates whose research and teaching interests lie in one or more of the following substantive areas: race/identity and politics, political communication, media and politics, political parties and interest groups, the presidency, and Congress.

The successful candidate will teach courses in our B.A. and M.A./Ph.D. programs. In addition to their specific substantive concerns, we are particularly interested in candidates who are prepared to teach graduate courses in quantitative research methods. A completed Ph.D. in political science is required for appointment at the level of Assistant Professor. The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A. and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/49325> and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, one writing sample, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the department, at pscsearchchair@ua.edu or mailed to American Politics Search Committee, Department of Political Science, University of Alabama, Box 870213, Tuscaloosa, AL 35487-0213. Review of applications will begin on November 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. For more information, contact pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and actively seeks diversity among its employees. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information about UA's strategic diversity plan, see <https://provost.ua.edu/diversity/>. In addition, the College of Arts & Sciences has developed a college-level strategic diversity plan, which can be viewed here: <https://diversity.as.ua.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9429

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Faculty Program Coordinator/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer -

Data Analytics and Policy

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Administration

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Location:

Washington, DC, 20036

Institution Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of the most prestigious research universities, Johns Hopkins offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students in the mid-Atlantic region and online. In addition to the online programs, AAP also offers master's degrees and graduate certificate programs at its Washington, DC Center and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP has approximately 18,000 enrollments each academic year. JHU is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Position Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) division seeks a Faculty Program Coordinator to teach in and provide administrative support to the Data Analytics and Policy program. The Master of Science in Data Analytics and Policy and Certificate in Data Analytics and Policy prepare students to be data-driven leaders and decision makers. Of particular interest are candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds.

The Faculty Program Coordinator is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer. The Faculty Program Coordinator will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, Director of the Data Analytics and Policy Program, and the Program Coordinator for the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies. The position will report to the Associate Dean for AAP and the Program Director for Data Analytics and Policy. This position is expected to begin January 2022. The Program Coordinator will have the following faculty and administrative responsibilities:

Faculty Responsibilities

- Teaching 6 graduate courses per year, including the preparation for and time spent in the classroom (online or onsite), using best practices for online teaching, engaging and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, responding to student questions;
- Advising students;
- Providing input on the curriculum and new course developments to ensure the delivery of quality programs;
- Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees and in other academic service.

Administrative Responsibilities:

- Assist with management of the MS in Data Analytics and Policy and Certificate in Data Analytics and Policy programs;
- Participate in adjunct faculty hiring and development;
- Assist the Program Director with administrative work to support the programs;
- Other administrative duties as assigned.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- Master's degree in Political Science, Public Policy, Statistics, Data Science, Public Finance;
- 1-3 years of teaching experience at the graduate and/or undergraduate level;

- 1-3 years of work experience, including but not limited to outside consulting or collaborative work within the fields of public policy, public finance, program evaluation, risk analysis and/or data science; The ability to teach a variety of courses in areas of applied statistics, data visualization, programming and public policy.
- Experience using and teaching the R programming language.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Terminal Degree in Political Science, Public Policy, Statistics, Data Science, Public Finance;
- 4 or more years of teaching experience at the graduate level, including online teaching experience;
- 4 or more years of work experience in a relevant field including but not limited to outside consulting or collaborative work within the fields of public policy, program evaluation, risk analysis and/or data science;
- Strong organizational skills;
- Ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines;
- Excellent oral and written communication skills;
- Experience performing administrative work in an academic setting;
- Experience with or interest in learning Tableau and Python;
- Interest in revising and/or developing courses in one or more advanced areas of analytics, such as text analysis, machine learning and predictive analytics.

Application Instructions:

The position will remain open until filled.

Candidates must submit the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- 3 references and their contact information
- Teaching evaluations for the most recent two semesters.

Candidates can apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94475>

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9380

Ashoka University

Rank: Professor / Associate Professor / Tenure-track Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for faculty positions with an expected start date of January 15th, 2022 (though this is negotiable to August 15th 2022). The position is open rank, as to either the level of tenure track Assistant Professor, or tenured Associate or Full Professor.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) names of three references.

Applicants for the position of tenured Associate or Full Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) name of three references.

Statements of teaching and research philosophy are optional but will be considered if submitted.

All materials should be submitted through interfolio at this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94397>. The deadline for submitting a complete application is: November 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield, with a preference for political theory, comparative politics and political economy along with related methodological approaches. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9337

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Latin American Politics/Political Economy and quantitative methods

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of Latin American politics/political economy and quantitative methods. Expertise in Mexico preferred, but we are open to other areas as well. The successful candidate will teach courses on Latin American politics/political economy as part of the Department's developing curricular concentration on the region and courses on quantitative methods that are part of the Department's required curriculum.

Bush School faculty teach master's degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or Political Economy by September 2022. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information demonstrating success in teaching at the Texas A&M Interfolio site apply.interfolio.com/88572 in DOC or PDF format.

The review of applications will begin September 7, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8935

Butler University

Rank: Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track instructor for a one-year appointment with possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants should have expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States and a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will teach an introductory American politics survey course, research and analysis methods (basic research design/methods), US Parties and Politics, and other courses aligned with their expertise, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. We are particularly interested in candidates who could teach an introductory international politics survey course. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, with no more than six distinct course preparations per year anticipated.

Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following to plsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant's qualifications for this position and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and a curriculum vitae. Additional evidence of evidence of inclusive teaching excellence is welcome but not required at this stage. Applicants should have advanced to candidate or earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment. The selected candidate will be required to provide official transcripts and to consent to a background check prior to a final offer of employment and will start August 2021.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/9/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 8927

NON-ACADEMIC

Pew Research Center

Rank: Research Associate, Media and News

Washington, DC (Pew Research Center)

Position Summary

The Pew Research Center has an immediate need for a Research Associate to support its portfolio of media and news research. The Research Associate will be part of the Media and News research team, which conducts original research studies on the news and information environment in a changing society. Pew Research Center's Media and News project studies the transformation of news information in three main areas: Americans' news attitudes and habits, the state of the news media industry, and how people encounter and engage with news online. The team employs several different methodologies to conduct this research. The main goal is to help the public and those in media, as well as other researchers and scholars, develop a better understanding of the news and media landscape.

As a part of a wider team, the Research Associate will contribute to various aspects of the different research projects. This includes data analysis and management, number checking, graphic and chart creation, trend checks, as well as contributing to research design and questionnaire development. In addition, the Research Associate writes and reviews report drafts, and fields requests for information from outside sources. This position also contributes to the team's Daily Briefing newsletter.

The successful researcher must be able to fulfill his or her primary responsibilities while meeting tight deadlines and balancing multiple tasks. The size of our organization, collaborative work environment, and relatively "flat" hierarchy mean that researchers often work directly with the senior staff on targeted research, communications or organizational projects, in addition to contributing to the broader research areas that make up the bulk of Pew Research Center's activities. The Research Associate reports to the director of research of media and news.

Primary Responsibilities

Survey design and questionnaire development (15%)

Draft survey questions and lead questionnaire development process
Identify and compile trend questions
Seek feedback on draft questionnaires from external academic advisors and other experts

Data analysis (30%)

Conduct advanced analyses of survey and non-survey datasets
Prepare topline, tab plans, cross-tabulations and other data summaries
Analyze and assess key findings
Produce reports by preparing tables, charts and slides
Follow trends through the year, reading trade publications, becoming familiar with leading figures in the media and news research field; monitor data, and sifting through financial data and industry reports
Explore new techniques for examining data, such as ways to use "big data" and other secondary source data that can be used in tandem with survey findings

Writing and communication (20%)

Write research reports and blog posts that distill complex findings for a general audience
 Be a part of the Daily Briefing team - our popular online curation of the day's media news. This Respond to external and internal requests for information Present research findings to external audiences involves some early morning web searches to find a mix of relevant news articles.

Project Planning and Management (20%)

Map out and track project plans and timelines
 Set and adhere to deadlines and deliverables
 Keep colleagues and senior staff informed
 Coordinate with outside vendors, including overseeing development of contracts when necessary

Quality Control (15%)

Fact-check and number-check reports
 Check questionnaires
 Prepare dataset for public release

Education/Training/Experience

BA required, advanced degree preferred; degree in the social science with a preference for sociology, political science, communications or related field. 5-9 years of research experience, with at least 3-5 years of specialized research and analysis experience expected. Often includes significant graduate training at the PhD level or equivalent experience in an applied setting.
 Proven experience in undertaking questionnaire and survey development
 Proven ability to conduct rigorous data analysis, including substantial experience with SPSS, Stata, R, or similar software
 Familiarity and experience with a range of statistical techniques, including multiple regression analysis
 Training or experience in studying attitudinal, behavioral or demographic research related to social, economic and political change
 Experience with computational social science projects and working with very large and complex data sets.
 Experience in helping manage research projects, including working collaboratively with other researchers

Knowledge and Skill Requirements

Background in survey questionnaire development and testing
 Strong quantitative skills, including an ability to use SPSS and other statistical programs to organize and analyze large amounts of data
 Attention to detail, including exacting standards to maintain accuracy and impartiality in all work products
 Editorial judgment and proven ability to communicate research results clearly and concisely in both verbal and written form Demonstrated skills in project development and management. Must be organized, dependable and take "ownership" of work projects.

Ability to work collaboratively and collegially with other team members, as well as with staff from other Pew Research Center teams and outside organizations
 Ability to balance multiple projects and meet tight deadlines while ensuring accuracy in data management, fact checking and research
 Knowledge of and interest in researching media and news

Application Procedure

Applicant should apply electronically and include a résumé, AND cover letter.

Total Rewards

In addition to competitive pay, Pew Research Center's employees enjoy a robust total rewards package that includes:

Affordable, comprehensive health, dental and vision plans
 Generous paid time off, including paid holidays, vacation, sick, personal and family leave
 Up to a 12% employer 401(k) contribution, with vesting at the end of the first year.
 A robust wellness program that includes an annual allowance.

EEO:

Pew Research Center makes employment decisions without regard to age, sex, ethnicity, religion, disability, marital status, sexual orientation or gender identity, military/veteran status, or any other basis prohibited by applicable law. We champion inclusion, diversity and equity, and we encourage applications from candidates who represent a variety of backgrounds, perspectives, and skills.

Apply Here: <https://www.click2apply.net/ygOJlwUBV5RjTywLUn7rw>

PI155051518

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/29/2021
Salary: $90,000 - $99,999
eJobs ID: 9764

Kaiser Family Foundation (KFF)

Rank: Research Assistant

Location: San Francisco, CA
 Status: Full-Time; Exempt
 Program Area: Public Opinion and Survey Research

Position Summary:
 KFF (Kaiser Family Foundation), a non-profit organization, is a leader in health policy analysis, polling and survey research, and health journalism, and communications dedicated to filling the need for trusted information on national health issues. KFF serves as a non-partisan source of facts, information, and analysis for policymakers, the media, the health care community, and the public.

KFF is seeking a qualified candidate for a Research Assistant to assist with various aspects of public opinion and survey research projects.

The Public Opinion and Survey Research Group plays a central role in KFF's work by undertaking original research on the public's attitudes, beliefs, and experiences related to health policy and other issues, including experiences and attitudes related to the COVID-19 pandemic and attitudes towards COVID-19 vaccines. Working independently or in partnership with major media organizations like The Washington Post and CNN, the group examines Americans' opinions on major health and social policy challenges in order to amplify the public's voice in national debates, with a focus on representing historically marginalized communities. The Research Assistant will participate in various aspects of this work, including assisting with background research, questionnaire design, analysis of survey data, and preparation of graphics and written reports. The successful candidate will have strong quantitative skills, an interest in public opinion surveys, and be able to manage multiple responsibilities simultaneously under tight deadlines. This is an excellent opportunity for a recent graduate or someone with 1-2 years of work experience to learn the survey research ropes from an experienced and well-respected team of public opinion researchers.

Principal Duties and Responsibilities:

- Perform basic data analyses of survey data;
- Prepare graphs, tables, and other visual presentations of data for written reports and staff presentations;
- Proofread and prepare research reports for publication on the web;
- Track news coverage related to health policy;
- Participate in the design of survey questionnaires;
- Perform background research and literature reviews;
- Plan and coordinate meetings;
- Coordinate and respond to data requests; and
- Oversee archiving of survey projects.

Minimum Required Expertise and Qualifications:

- Bachelor's Degree or equivalent is required; Master's Degree or 1-2 years' experience working in a related field, a plus;
- Strong quantitative skills, including experience with data manipulation and analysis;
- Experience preparing charts and other graphical representations of data;
- Strong written and verbal communication skills, including the ability to describe data in writing;
- Familiarity with, and interest in, key issues in public opinion research, health care, politics and elections, racial disparities, social justice, and social policy;
- Strong organizational and time management skills;
- Experience with SPSS, R, or other statistical analysis software;
- Proficiency in Microsoft Office, including Word, Excel, and PowerPoint, or equivalent;
- Familiarity with Datavrapper, Tableau, or other web-based graphing software, a plus; and
- Ability to work independently and efficiently on concurrent projects.

This full-time position will be based in KFF's headquarters in San Francisco, CA. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications, and includes an excellent benefits package.

How to Apply:

If this position is of interest to you, please send a resume, cover letter, contact information for three references, and a writing sample to jobs@kff.org. Please label your documents "Last Name_First Name_Document Title" and include "Research Assistant, POSR" in the email heading.

KFF has an efficient applicant review process and will contact candidates who have applied for this position and whose qualifications most closely fit the criteria for the job. No phone inquiries please.

It is the policy of KFF to actively promote a diverse and inclusive workplace in every respect, and to provide equal employment opportunities to all qualified applicants and employees in every phase of employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, marital status, disability, veteran status, political affiliation, arrest or conviction records, or other categories protected under the law.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9698

Kaiser Family Foundation (KFF)

Rank: Survey Analyst

Location: San Francisco, CA or Washington, DC

Status: Full-Time; Exempt

Program Area: Public Opinion and Survey Research

Position Summary:

KFF (Kaiser Family Foundation), a non-profit organization, is a leader in health policy analysis, polling and survey research, and health journalism, and communications dedicated to filling the need for trusted information on national health issues. KFF serves as a non-partisan source of facts, information, and analysis for policymakers, the media, the health care community, and the public.

KFF is seeking a qualified candidate for a Survey Analyst to work on various aspects of public opinion and survey research projects. The Public Opinion and Survey Research Group plays a central role in KFF's work by undertaking original research on the public's attitudes, beliefs, and experiences related to health policy and other issues, including experiences and attitudes related to the COVID-19 pandemic and attitudes towards COVID-19 vaccines. Working independently or in partnership with major media organizations like The Washington Post and CNN, the group examines Americans' opinions on major health and social policy challenges in order to amplify the public's voice in national debates, with a focus on representing historically marginalized communities. The Survey Analyst will participate in various aspects of this work, including conducting reviews and writing summaries of other research in the field, designing survey questionnaires, analysis of survey data, and preparation of graphics and written reports. The successful candidate will have excellent quantitative skills, a strong background in public opinion research, and the ability to manage multiple responsibilities simultaneously under tight deadlines.

Principal Duties and Responsibilities:

- Perform quantitative and statistical analysis of timely, in-depth population-based public opinion survey data;
- Prepare graphs, tables, and other visual presentations of data for written reports and staff presentations;
- Design questionnaires and write summary reports;
- Track and summarize news coverage related to health policy and politics;
- Respond to data requests from journalists and others;
- Work with KFF's web production team to update web content; and

- Perform background research and prepare summary documents for senior staff members.

Minimum Required Expertise and Qualifications:

- Bachelor's Degree and 2-3 years' experience working in survey research or public opinion polling required, and/or Master's Degree with demonstrated experience in survey research;
- Very strong quantitative and data analysis skills;
- Strong written and verbal communication skills, including experience describing data analysis in writing;
- Experience with research methods, including survey design and statistical evaluation of data;
- Familiarity with, and interest in, key issues in health care, politics and elections, racial disparities and social justice, and social policy;
- Experience with SPSS, R, or other statistical analysis software;
- Experience preparing charts and other graphical representations of data;
- Ability to work independently and efficiently on concurrent projects; and
- Familiarity with Microsoft Office, including Word, Excel and PowerPoint, or equivalent.

This full-time position will be based at KFF's headquarters in San Francisco, CA but it is possible that the successful candidate can be located at KFF's DC office. Salary is competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications, and includes an excellent benefits package.

How to Apply:

If this position is of interest to you, please send a resume, cover letter, contact information for three references, and a writing sample to jobs@kff.org. Please label your documents "Last Name_First Name_Document Title" and include "Survey Analyst" in the email heading.

KFF has an efficient applicant review process and will contact candidates who have applied for this position and whose qualifications most closely fit the criteria for the job. No phone inquiries, please.

It is the policy of KFF to actively promote a diverse and inclusive workplace in every respect, and to provide equal employment opportunities to all qualified applicants and employees in every phase of employment without regard to race, color, religion, national origin, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, marital status, disability, veteran status, political affiliation, arrest or conviction records, or other categories protected under the law.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9697

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University

Rank: Gender and Governance Research & Policy Manager

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, India, Economic Policy

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion Economics Yale, based at Yale University's Economic Growth Center and The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders' ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

Our ideal candidate has a passion to work with government stakeholders and academic researchers to translate research insights into real-world policy and programs. They have experience in operational and financial management in both the research and policy space, and they are excited to interact with stakeholders of all types, from technical developers to local officials to front line data collectors, to senior policymakers and researchers. They understand how the Government of India (GoI) and state governments work, enjoy working with public sector officials, and are eager to identify the best ways to bring together diverse stakeholders around common development-oriented goals, proactively identifying gaps, communicating challenges and proposing feasible solutions. They are not afraid of doing difficult things well, and of the hard work involved in collaborating with government to implement research-backed solutions to build more inclusive economies and societies.

Responsibilities:

- Plan and support implementation of tested research interventions backed by Inclusion Economic India research, in collaboration with relevant policy partners and India and Yale-based teams. This will include, but not be limited to, the following activities:
 - ? Scale-up of technology solutions that have been tested to support policies and programmes of the government partners.
 - ? Develop and maintain relationships with key policy partners, such as the Ministry of Rural Development, to support incorporation of research-backed insights in priority government agencies. Serve as liaison across relevant teams to establish mutually agreed upon research and policy priorities and to implement agreed upon plans.
 - ? Monitor and maintain appropriate data systems relevant to new research, scaling and policy activities to ensure we understand, track and improve our systems to support effective policy engagement.
 - ? Coordinate with product teams to translate inputs from policy partners and identify paths to implement product enhancements.
 - ? Manage activities of appropriately selected technical vendors and counterparts to ensure research-backed tools are maintained, improved, and effectively transitioned over to final product owners
 - ? Recruit, oversee, and guide a team of staff involved in day-to-day activities.
 - ? Manage grants and finances of the relevant portfolios, including identifying funding shortfalls and working with teams to raise funds to support portfolio, and ensuring timely submission of financial reports and projections, and sub-grantee/contract reports and deliverables in the portfolio.
- Coordinate with other Inclusion Economics India staff to identify top priorities and contribute to organizational initiatives and goals.
- Contribute to Inclusion Economics India's overall management and strategic vision by identifying additional sources of funding and potential partner organizations for the expansion of our research portfolio and supporting grant proposals and related fundraising activities.

Basic Qualifications:

- Master's degree in relevant field such as economics or public policy. Significant coursework in economics and experience collecting data and implementing applied economic research preferred, with expertise in governance and/or gender-focused issues.
- Five or more years experience in international development or related field. Significant experience with stakeholder management, particularly with government partners in India or similar setting
- Experience managing team members
- Experience managing research and implementation-focused grants, including with budgeting, expense tracking, project management, and donor engagement
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English, and proficiency in written and oral Hindi
- Proven ability to manage multiple tasks and propose solutions in a timely manner with minimal supervision
- Excellent attention to detail
- Capacity to maintain an organized and structured work style in a fast-paced environment, ability to identify, articulate, and address dynamic priorities
- Strong interpersonal skills, and willingness to interact with a wide range of individuals ranging from Research Associates to technical partners, policy partners, academics, donors, research institutions, etc.
- Willingness to learn about policy design and implementation and work towards research-backed policy design by engaging with key policy partners in the government and building strong networks for research-policy collaborations
- Ability to work in a multicultural environment, including accommodating regular interactions with teams across multiple time zones
- Willingness to travel and visit research sites, policy partners, etc., as useful to engagements

Preferred Qualifications:

- ? Knowledge and ability to conduct basic data cleaning and analysis in Stata and/or R
- ? Experience with Python (pandas + scrapy), Git, database management, and AWS
- ? Strong understanding of research design, basic econometrics, and evaluation methodologies, as well as public policy-oriented topics and policy and implementation in South Asia – India in particular

This position will be based in New Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire; you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file "Last name, First name – Gender and Governance Research and Policy Manager".

To view other open positions, visit the Inclusion Economics Opportunities page.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9655

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

Specializations: Political Economy, Environmental Policy, Economic Policy

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion Economics Yale, based at Yale University's Economic Growth Center and The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders' ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

We are currently recruiting one or more Post-Doctoral Research Fellows to support research in India. Final portfolio allocations will depend on candidates' interest, experience, and skillset; ideal candidates have experience and research in one of our core focus areas listed above. The position will provide the selected candidate(s) an opportunity to gain first-hand experience conducting policy-relevant economics research while contributing to an agreed upon project portfolio.

Responsibilities within the project portfolio include supporting research design and implementation, overseeing data collection and analysis, interacting with stakeholders, and managing research activities and staff. This position requires a self-starting candidate with proven expertise in applied economics research who can effectively navigate India's institutional landscape and appropriately represent our work to outside stakeholders. The position will provide a talented early career researcher the opportunity to work directly with top academics and begin building their own research portfolio.

Responsibilities:

- Manage and supervise technical aspects of assigned research studies in collaboration with the research team.
- Oversee field-based team to manage research study activities, including intervention implementation, and contribute to field-based scoping, survey design, survey testing, data quality monitoring, and more.
- Clean and process incoming or secondary data and conduct econometric analysis under the direction of senior researchers.
- Manage relationships with collaborating institutions, including policy counterparts and funding organizations; work with partner institutions and governments to set priorities and coordinate project administration and logistics.
- Compile, assess and synthesize research into policy briefs, white papers, memos and academic articles with guidance and oversight of Yale-affiliated research faculty.
- Provide appropriate inputs and support for administrative requirements of the project portfolio, upon request, which may include financial management, budgeting, procurement, contract set-up and compliance, grant reporting, deliverable tracking, etc.

- Contribute to our team's overall management and strategic vision by identifying new research projects and partners and applying for additional sources of funding in partnership with research team.

Basic Qualifications:

- PhD in economics, public policy, political science, statistics, econometrics or related field by mid-2022
- Advanced coursework in empirical methods, including econometrics and economics, with strong demonstrated academic performance
- Solid understanding of research design and experience with data collection and field work
- Proven analytical skills and proficiency in Stata and/or R; experience in Python a plus
- Proven ability to manage multiple tasks and propose timely solutions with minimal supervision
- Excellent attention to detail
- Capacity to maintain an organized and structured work style in a fast-paced environment
- Ability to adapt to quickly to changing environments
- Strong interpersonal skills, and willingness to interact with a wide range of individuals ranging from Research Associates to academics, donors, research institutions, etc.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and Hindi
- Ability to work in a multicultural environment
- Willingness to travel frequently and spend significant time at research project sites, as needed

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ability to independently drive research projects and produce independent, high-quality original empirical research in mutually agreed upon areas
- 3 to 5 years of field research or field research management experience in international development or related field
- Experience with research grant management and project management
- Proven success in fundraising for research studies with clear policy relevance
- Demonstrated interest in public policy and South Asia

This position will be based in Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country. This is a one or two-year position with the possibility of extension upon mutual agreement.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire; you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file "Last name, First name – Post-Doctoral Research Fellow".

To view other open positions, visit the Inclusion Economics Opportunities page.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9656

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University

Rank: Rural Livelihoods Policy Manager

Specializations: Economic Policy, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, India

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion

Economics Yale, based at Yale University's Economic Growth Center and The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders' ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

Our ideal candidate has a passion to work with government stakeholders and academic researchers develop novel gender-focused impact evaluations and to translate research insights into inclusive real-world policy and programs in the rural livelihoods space. They have experience working with researchers and policy makers to build and evaluate evidence-based policies. They are comfortable working with survey and administrative data, and they can confidently develop data management systems to evaluate and monitor program impacts. They are passionate about building stakeholder capacity and operationalizing best practices, and are eager to collaborate with technical developers, local officials, front line data collectors, and senior policymakers and researchers. They are excited to identify the best ways to bring together diverse stakeholders around common development-oriented goals, proactively identifying data gaps, communicating challenges, and proposing feasible solutions. They will lead trainings and external-facing events with policy stakeholders and will build content for policy engagement events. They are not afraid of doing difficult things well, and of the hard work involved in collaborating with government to implement research-backed solutions to build more inclusive economies and societies.

Responsibilities:

- Develop and foster strategic relationships with external stakeholders, including policymakers of all levels of the government, donors, and other mission-aligned individuals and institutions.
- Proactively and independently work closely with researchers and leadership to identify, lead, and implement a targeted and integrated program of engagement and communications along with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale.
- Develop strong relations with government officials, help conceptualize new research projects that align with our portfolios, as well as identify opportunities for replicating and scaling-up of projects.
- Work with government officials to encourage and enhance the use of rigorous evidence-based policymaking in their departments, and institutionalize practices to make such policy-engagements effective.
- Represent our research and policy engagements in a variety of written and in-person forums to engage effectively in the research-to-policy space and communicate effectively about our work to external stakeholders. Written communications may include policy briefs, published articles and blogs, and reports.
- Oversee and implement all aspects pertaining to administration of external-facing policy engagements ranging from policy dialogues and conferences to workshops and trainings. This oversight includes coordinating with collaborating institutions, developing and effectively delivering content, and ensuring all administration and logistics are executed effectively.

- Draft research-policy memos, working papers, presentations, op-eds, and background notes for high-level partner meetings, and oversee immediate follow-up on such meetings, including related to basic content and data-related requests.
- Build capability and capacity in the research management team for effective partnership management, deeper understanding of the policy environment, and inform and support fundraising initiatives in the organization.
- Other activities to support our strategy in India and South Asia, as requested.

Basic Qualifications:

- Master's degree in a relevant field such as economics, public policy/administration, and/or political science
- Strong understanding of research design, basic econometrics, and evaluation methodologies, as well as public policy-oriented topics and policy and implementation in South Asia – India in particular
- At least 5 years of experience in a position that includes significant external network development and stakeholder engagement
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and strong public speaking skills
- Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings to a non-technical audience
- Willingness to visit research project sites and engage in research content and methodology
- Ability to think creatively, innovate, strategize, set priorities, manage a workplan, and evaluate progress with minimal supervision
- Experience working across multiple projects and managing multiple internal and external relationships
- Experience managing stakeholder and policy programs, including convening policy forums, communications outputs, and thought leadership activities
- Proven track record of carrying out high-quality research, policy, and/or advocacy work

Preferred Qualifications:

- Working knowledge of Hindi
- 7 years or more of relevant experience, including at least three years of working closely with researchers and government officials in India
- Extensive experience in developing strategic engagement and communications programs, including building networks and collaborations to maximize impact on policy/reform
- Expertise in one or more of i.e. India's core research areas
- Experience with Python (pandas + scrapy), Git, database management, and AWS
- A PhD in economics, public policy or political science is desirable, but not required

This position will be based in New Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire; you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file "Last name, First name – Rural Livelihoods Policy Manager".

To view other open positions, visit the Inclusion Economics Opportunities page.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9654

Krea University

Rank: Policy Engagement Manager

Specializations: Economic Policy, India, Political Economy

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion Economics Yale, based at Yale University's Economic Growth Center and MacMillan Center. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders' ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

The Policy Engagement Manager will help manage Inclusion Economics India Centre's (i.e. India's) government relations, stakeholder relationships, and capacity building and communications activities across research portfolios. The position is also responsible to support strategic internal and external communication activities, in particular events and outputs to communicate effectively about i.e. India's work and impact. S/he will play an active role in trainings and external-facing events with policy stakeholders, content development for policy engagement events (workshops, policy dialogues, trainings), and developing and contributing to policy-research collaborations to build organizational and institutional capacities to use evidence. The selected candidate will work closely on communication and strategic policy engagement with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale and with teams working on affiliated research at the Governance Lab in Nepal.

Responsibilities:

- Develop and foster strategic relationships with external stakeholders, including policymakers of all levels of the government, donors, and other mission-aligned individuals and institutions.
- Proactively and independently work closely with researchers and leadership to identify, lead, and implement a targeted and integrated program of engagement and communications along with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale.
- Develop strong relations with government officials, help conceptualize new research projects that align with our portfolios, as well as identify opportunities for replicating and scaling-up of projects.
- Work with government officials to encourage and enhance the use of rigorous evidence-based policymaking in their departments, and institutionalize practices to make such policy-engagements effective.
- Represent our research and policy engagements in a variety of written and in-person forums to engage effectively in the research-to-policy space and communicate effectively about our work to external stakeholders. Written communications may include policy briefs, published articles and blogs, and reports.
- Oversee and implement all aspects pertaining to administration of external-facing policy engagements ranging from policy dialogues and conferences to workshops and trainings. This oversight includes coordinating with collaborating institutions, developing and effectively delivering content, and ensuring all administration and logistics are executed effectively.

- Draft research-policy memos, presentations, op-eds, and background notes for high-level partner meetings, and oversee immediate follow-up on such meetings, including related to basic content and data-related requests.
- Develop and implement systems to effectively organize, monitor, and systematize policy engagement efforts and auxiliary support structures.
- Build capability and capacity in the research management team for effective partnership management, deeper understanding of the policy environment, and inform and support fundraising initiatives in the organization.
- Other activities to support our strategy in India and South Asia, as requested.

Basic Qualifications:

- Master's degree in a relevant field such as economics, public policy/administration, and/or political science
- Strong understanding of research design, basic econometrics, and evaluation methodologies, as well as public policy-oriented topics and policy and implementation in South Asia – India in particular
- At least 5 years of experience in a position that includes significant external network development and stakeholder engagement
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and strong public speaking skills
- Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings to a non-technical audience
- Willingness to visit research project sites and engage in research content and methodology
- Ability to think creatively, innovate, strategize, set priorities, manage a workplan, and evaluate progress with minimal supervision
- Experience working across multiple projects and managing multiple internal and external relationships
- Experience managing stakeholder and policy programs, including convening policy forums, communications outputs, and thought leadership activities
- Proven track record of carrying out high-quality research, policy, and/or advocacy work

Preferred Qualifications:

- Working knowledge of Hindi
- 7 years or more of relevant experience, including at least three years of working closely with researchers and government officials in India
- Extensive experience in developing strategic engagement and communications programs, including building networks and collaborations to maximize impact on policy/reform
- Expertise in one or more of i.e. India's core research areas
- A PhD in economics, public policy or political science is desirable, but not required

This position will be based in New Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country when Covid-19 restrictions are lifted.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire (<https://forms.gle/XbBeNgprSoRxHpxN7>); you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file "Last name, First name – Policy Engagement Manager".

To view other open positions, visit the MacMillan Center's Employment Opportunities page (<https://macmillan.yale.edu/academic-programs/faculty/employment-opportunities>).

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8894

OPEN

St. John Fisher College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Specializations: Immigration Policy, Latin American, Latino Politics

St. John Fisher College, an independent, liberal arts institution in the Catholic tradition located in Rochester, New York, seeks nominations and applications for a tenure-track, Assistant professor position in Political Science to begin Fall 2022.

A Ph.D. in Political Science must be completed by the start date in September 2022. The subfields of specialization of the candidate are open. Political Science generalists with teaching and research interests in migration flows, immigration law and/or policy, human rights, Latin American/Latino/LatinX politics are particularly encouraged to apply. The successful candidate should also have an interest in contributing to a future vision for the program and teaching in our newly redesigned College Core General Education program. Candidates will be expected to have a record of demonstrated teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. Our teaching load is 3/3, with small classes (typically 20-30 students).

Applicants are encouraged to visit our departmental webpage <https://catalog.sjfc.edu/2021-2022/programs/undergraduate/school-of-arts-and-sciences/political-science/> as well as the Fisher Core page <https://www.sjfc.edu/major-minors/core-curriculum/core-requirements/> to get more information about the Department and the College Core general education curriculum.

Applicants should upload a cover letter addressing their fit for the position, teaching experience and research agenda; a curriculum vitae; a teaching statement that addresses diversity in a liberal arts setting; and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references on our Human Resources portal by December 15th 2021. Questions about the position can be addressed to Sébastien Lazardeux, Department Chair.

Founded in 1948, St. John Fisher College is ranked among the top colleges and universities in the northeast and has a rich history of academic excellence and an outstanding reputation for its commitment to a student-centered, personalized educational environment. The educational philosophy of the founding Basilian Fathers—Teach me goodness, discipline, and knowledge—reflects Fisher's traditions and values today, and the campus prepares individuals for lives of intellectual, professional, and civic integrity and where diversity and service to others are valued and practiced (www.sjfc.edu).

The School of Arts and Sciences at St John Fisher College serves all undergraduate students through 33 programs, the Core general education curriculum, and pre-professional requirements. The School provides all the liberal arts offerings required for baccalaureate degrees, thus providing critical skills and perspectives across a wide range of disciplines. New faculty will arrive at an exciting time in our College's history as we launch a new interdisciplinary Core curriculum, and the College looks forward to the transformative impact these faculty will have.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9753

Stetson University

Rank: The Hal S. Marchman Chair of Civic and Social Responsibility

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

POSITION: The Hal S. Marchman Chair of Civic and Social Responsibility

Stetson University invites applications for the Hal S. Marchman Chair of Civic and Social Responsibility (<https://www.stetson.edu/other/marchman/>), a tenure-line position at the associate professor or professor level, with an appointment in the department or program of closest academic affinity in the College of Arts and Sciences. Tenure review eligibility will occur after an initial probationary period to be determined at the time of hire. The holder of the Marchman Chair, an endowed position of special significance to Stetson University, will advance and contribute meaningfully to all forms of civic engagement at the University, both on the DeLand and Gulfport campuses and in the community. The Marchman Chair is a full-time, 9-month faculty position.

QUALIFICATIONS:

The successful candidate must represent the highest standards in teaching and scholarship, personal integrity, and community leadership. They must hold the Ph.D. or equivalent in a discipline or interdisciplinary area offered by the College of Arts and Sciences. The exact field or specialty area is open, as long as the candidate's teaching and scholarship strengthen the undergraduate program and demonstrably engage civic and social responsibility in a profound way. We seek a colleague with a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching, an active scholarly agenda, a commitment to engaging students from diverse backgrounds, a willingness to be a strong, contributing member of the academic department or program in which they are housed, the College of Arts and Sciences, and the University community. We encourage candidates from underrepresented backgrounds and/or experience in diverse learning environments to apply.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

The teaching load is two courses per semester. Teaching assignments will include courses in the candidate's area(s) of specialization and general education such as First-Year Seminar and/or Junior Seminar. The Marchman Chair will also co-direct Stetson's week-long summer Civil Rights Travel Course (<https://www.stetson.edu/other/marchman/summer-civil-rights-travel-course.php>). The successful candidate will chair the University's Community Engaged Learning Committee, have oversight of the Certificate of Community Engagement, administer the Sarah George Trust Fund, and develop a plan for engaged scholarship rooted in civic and social responsibility.

Candidates should demonstrate a passion for teaching and scholarship, and a commitment to service. For more information on our expectations in teaching and scholarship, our tenure policies, and our support for faculty development, please see the Academic Affairs website:

<https://www.stetson.edu/administration/provost/faculty-resources/index.php>

COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and nine interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, giving students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

CENTER FOR COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT:

The nationally recognized Center for Community Engagement (CCE) (<https://www.stetson.edu/other/community-engagement/>) is the leader of a campus-wide focus on student learning through community impact. The Center serves as the central connecting, training, organizing, and educating unit for community-engaged students, faculty, and partners. They build reciprocal relationships with community partner organizations that leverage institutional and community resources to solve pressing challenges in our community through capacity-building efforts. The mission of the CCE cannot be realized without a consistent focus on the principles of diversity, equity, inclusion, justice, and anti-racism. The CCE includes the Bonner Program, the Peace Corp Prep Program, Stetson Votes, Greenfeather, and many avenues for students to connect with the community.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's teacher-scholar faculty works with nearly 4,300 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1945, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves over 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. The University's graduate programs include Business, Accounting, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa. Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally. Stetson University affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 32,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

SALARY: Salary is competitive. STARTING DATE: August 10, 2022

APPLICATION: Applicants should supply 1) a cover letter that includes a narrative section (of no more than two pages) demonstrating a commitment to working collaboratively with colleagues, students, and communities to advance civic and social responsibility. In the cover letter, candidates are also encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that reflect a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion. In addition, applicants should submit 2) a statement of their philosophy of teaching and learning in a liberal arts learning environment, 3) a curriculum vitae, and 4) three letters of reference. All information may be submitted electronically to marchmanchairsearch@stetson.edu.

Review of applications will begin January 10, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

KEYWORDS: American Studies, Anthropology, Africana Studies, Asian Studies, Biology, Chemistry, Communication and Media Studies, Computer Science, Counselor Education, Creative Arts, Digital Arts, Economics, Education, English, Environmental Science and Studies, French, Gender Studies, Health Sciences, History, International Studies, Jewish Studies, Latin American and Latino Studies, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Political Science, Psychology, Public Health, Religious Studies, Russian/Eurasian/East European Studies, Sociology, Spanish, Theatre Arts, World Languages and Cultures
Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9746

Ohio State University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar

Subfield(s): International Relations, American Government and Politics, Open

Specializations: United States, Foreign Policy, International Security

The Mershon Center for International Security Studies (<https://mershoncenter.osu.edu>), within the College of Arts and Sciences, seeks up to three two-year Postdoctoral Scholars to join our team starting the 2022 academic year.

The Mershon postdoctoral scholars support research on international, national, and human security in a global context. We understand international security from a wide range of perspectives, approaches, and substantive foci. Consequently, successful applicants may come from a variety of disciplines that engage international, national, and human security broadly conceived, including anthropology, communications, economics, geography, history, law, philosophy, political science, psychology, public affairs/administration, public policy, sociology, and other disciplines that engage international security. We especially welcome applications from scholars whose work explicitly integrates knowledge across traditional disciplinary boundaries. Special consideration will be given to applicants whose work will advance the center's research related to international, national, and human security.

Successful applicants will be expected to devote approximately 10 hours per week to center related activities. Postdoctoral scholars will be mentored and supported in pursuing their individual research agendas during their remaining time. Responsibilities to the Center may include coordinating and supporting Center research and programming activities as well as opportunities to collaborate on Mershon Scholar projects. The two-year term begins August 15, 2022.

The Mershon Center provides an institutional home for campus-wide collaboration among departments, programs, institutes, faculty and students at The Ohio State University engaged in work pertaining to international security broadly construed. Activities include conferences, roundtables, and speaker series

Postdoctoral Scholars at the Mershon Center will pursue their own research and participate in the activities of the Center. Because scholars are expected to be fully integrated with the intellectual life of the Center, they must plan to physically reside in the vicinity of The Ohio State University.

Required: Ph.D. in appropriate field related to security studies by June 30, 2022.

Application materials should include a cover letter describing the research agenda for the two year appointment and how it supports the mission of the Mershon Center, current CV, writing sample, and three professional references.

Applications will start to be reviewed January 15, 2022 and will remain open until filled.

Application link: https://osu.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/OSUCareers/job/Columbus-Campus/Post-Doctoral-Scholar_R32314-1

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9732

George Washington University

Rank: Director of Africana Studies Program

Specializations: Africa, African American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

The George Washington University Columbian College of Arts and Sciences (CCAS) seeks a distinguished scholar at the rank of full or advanced associate professor to work as director of the Africana Studies Program (<https://africanastudies.columbian.gwu.edu/>) beginning Fall 2022. We encourage applicants from various Africana related fields, whose work focuses on the interdisciplinary study of African-descended people, processes of racialization, or resistance in the U.S., the Americas, Europe, the Atlantic World, the Pacific World, and/or Africa itself. The director will have a tenured appointment in the Columbian College department most commensurate with their established scholarly profile. The new director will have an opportunity to build the visibility and impact of Africana Studies at GW, as the College has planned new investments in the program. This position is part of the college's wider inclusive excellence initiative that includes authorized searches across programs during the 2021-2022 academic year to support our inclusive curriculum, inclusive pedagogy, and to increase diversity in the faculty.

The Africana Studies Program, housed in the Columbian College of Arts and Sciences at GW, uses a global, cross-disciplinary approach to examine the historical, cultural, economic and political legacies of the largest forced migration in human history. The program includes an interdisciplinary group of approximately 30 affiliate faculty members from multiple departments and programs. The program is supported by an active multiracial student population and a range of student organizations, including the Black Student Union and its affiliate organizations. Our location in the nation's capital affords easy access to important political and cultural institutions including the White House, the U.S. Congress, the Library of Congress, The Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and several of the museums of the Smithsonian Institution, including the National Museum of African American History and Culture. Washington, DC is not only the nation's capital but also a cultural center and dynamic city with rich Black cultural, social, and political opportunities.

Job Responsibilities:

The director will teach in the program, advise undergraduate students, lead curriculum development, pursue growth in enrollment, work with diverse affiliate faculty across the college and university to grow interdisciplinary teaching and research, manage the program budget, and cultivate and carry out programming for faculty and students to promote the program and build community.

Basic Qualifications:

A PhD in any field of social science or the humanities; a record that qualifies the candidate for appointment as a full professor or advanced associate professor at GW; a strong record of published scholarship in the study of African-descended peoples and/or processes of racialization and/or social, political, or cultural resistance to imperialism/white supremacy; evidence of successful teaching; and administrative experience in a university setting.

Salary and Benefits:

In recognition of the broad responsibilities of the position, the Director will have a reduced course load of 1-1. The position's salary is commensurate with experience and includes full benefits.

Application Procedure:

Applicants should complete an online application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/87756> and upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching excellence, and a statement of no more than 3 pages detailing the candidate's vision for an interdisciplinary Africana Studies program. The names of at least three references should be uploaded along with the application. Reference letters will be requested at a later date. Review of applications will begin on December 3, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. Only completed applications will be considered. Employment offers are contingent pending budgetary approval and the satisfactory outcome of a standard background check.

GW University is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Above $159,999

eJobs ID: 9725

New York University Arts and Science

Rank: Faculty Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: Middle East, Urban Politics, Economic Policy

Faculty Fellow Position

Hagop Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies

New York University Arts and Science

The Hagop Kevorkian Center for Near Eastern Studies at New York University invites applicants for a full-time, nontenure track position as a Faculty Fellow to begin September 1, 2022, pending budgetary and administrative approval. The appointment will be for one year, renewable for a further two years.

We are seeking an outstanding junior scholar in any social science or humanities discipline whose research offers a critical perspective on the contemporary Middle East and would complement the strengths of our existing faculty in Middle Eastern Studies. The ideal candidate has an in-depth understanding of the modern Middle East, knowledge of at least one Middle Eastern language, a commitment to inclusive pedagogy, and has a PhD in one of the following fields: Anthropology, Middle Eastern Studies, Middle Eastern History, Cultural Studies, Politics/Political Economy, Sociology, Urban Studies/Geography, or similar. A PhD must be in hand by September 1, 2022. The appointee will be expected to teach at the graduate level (MAs and some PhDs); advise MA students; and thoroughly participate in the activities of the Kevorkian Center, including admissions, alumni and public outreach, and program development.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. For best consideration, materials should be submitted by no later than January 31, 2022.

Please apply online with a cover letter to the search committee that describes your research and teaching interests; a CV including names and contact information for three references; one sample of your work; and a statement on your approach to diversity and inclusion. Diversity, equity, and inclusion are important to the NYU mission and we ask that you address how diversity and inclusion factor into your teaching, research, and/or community engagement, as well as how you would bring issues of diversity to bear on teaching and programming at NYU.

Please apply online here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/98325>

For questions regarding the application, contact Fidele Harfouche at: fh38@nyu.edu.

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the FAS commitment to diversity, equality, and inclusion, please read here: <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html. >

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/31/2022

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9724

Oklahoma State University

Rank: Department Head

Department Head and Professor of Political Science DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE AT OKLAHOMA STATE UNIVERSITY

Position: The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University invites applications for the position of Department Head beginning July 1, 2022, or as negotiated.

The Department: The Department of Political Science offers B.A., B.S., and M.A. degrees in Political Science. In addition to the courses offered on the main Stillwater campus, the Department also offers the B.A. and B.S. at the OSU campus in Tulsa. There are approximately 200 undergraduate majors and 14 M.A. students. The Department's 12 full-time faculty members reflect a wide array of interests and specializations.

As chief academic and administrative officer, the Head works with the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, department faculty, and students to encourage excellence and growth in a dynamic department, including expansion of the graduate program. The Head administers fiscal, curricular and personnel matters for the Department. These include budget management, supervision and evaluation of faculty and staff, course scheduling, and advocacy of the department's interests. The Department Head should provide collaborative leadership for the faculty and programs, as well as visionary and innovative direction for the faculty, staff, and students. The Department Head will be responsible for providing leadership by defining the Department's strategic priorities for recruiting, mentoring, and retaining a diverse and highly qualified faculty and student body, and for the continued growth of the Department across its undergraduate and graduate program.

Specific responsibilities of the Department Head include:

- promoting high-quality graduate and undergraduate experiences;
- advocating for and supporting the scholarship of an academically diverse faculty;
- providing leadership and infrastructure to support faculty research and external funding initiatives;

- promoting a culturally aware and inclusive environment with a strong commitment to recruiting, mentoring, and retaining diverse faculty, staff, and students;
- leading fundraising initiatives and promoting alumni development to meet current and future Department priorities;
- continuing and strengthening strategic relationships with the community, benefactors, and industry; and
- representing the Department to the College and University administration, and serving as an advocate for the Department.

The Department Head reports directly to the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences.

Qualifications: The successful candidate will have an earned Ph.D. in Political Science or a cognate field. A record of achievement that warrants appointment at the rank of full Professor is preferred. Applicants should have a record of active and continuing scholarship, external funding and/or experience fundraising, and successful teaching at the university or college level. The successful candidate will possess and show evidence of a demonstrated commitment to building equitable, diverse classroom and research environments, and display effective interpersonal and communication skills. We strive to create an intellectually diverse, equitable, and inclusive institution, and encourage candidates to discuss their own approach to these goals throughout their application materials. Areas of specialization are open. Salary is competitive and commensurate with credentials and experience.

The University: Oklahoma State University is a comprehensive land-grant university located in Stillwater, Oklahoma, equidistant from Tulsa and Oklahoma City (the state's two largest metropolitan areas, approximately 65 miles). The main campus has an enrollment of approximately 23,000, with additional enrollment at facilities in Tulsa, Oklahoma City, and elsewhere.

Applications must be submitted through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/98644>. In order to receive priority consideration, application should be received by February 01, 2022. Interviews will continue until the position is filled. To apply, submit a letter of application, current CV, evidence of teaching effectiveness, a departmental vision statement, and names with contact information for three references to: Chair, Department Head Search Committee, Department of Political Science, 201 Social Sciences and Humanities, Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, OK 74078. Successful long list candidates will be asked to supply additional materials at a later date. Informal inquiries are welcome and should be directed to Associate Dean Rebecca Brienens of the College of Arts and Sciences (e-mail: Rebecca.brienens@okstate.edu Phone: 405-744-5663). This position is contingent upon funding availability.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 2/1/2022

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9717

University of Virginia

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

Rising Scholar Postdoctoral Fellowship, Department of Politics
Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

Review of applications will begin February 1, 2022

In consort with the Rising Scholars Postdoctoral Fellowship Program, sponsored by the Graduate School of Arts and Sciences and the Mellon Foundation, the UVA Department of Politics hopes to provide a departmental home to a Postdoctoral Fellow in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics. We seek a rising scholar: i.e., candidates who received (or will receive) their Ph.D. degree between August 24, 2019, and August 24, 2022. We are open with respect to topic and subfield within political science or public policy. While the postdoctoral fellows will have a primary departmental home, they are welcome to develop another extradepartmental affiliation, if appropriate. We encourage applications from a broad range of perspectives and methodologies.

We see this 2-year postdoctoral fellowship as part of the College of Arts and Sciences' mission to further our understanding of the legacies of racial and ethnic inequities and to enhance the career trajectory of an underrepresented scholar whose work focuses on questions related to the national, global and/or comparative dimensions of Race, Justice, and Equity. The Department of Politics offers a variety of professional development opportunities and formal and informal mentoring within a welcoming climate. Fellows will participate in course development and mentoring in their first semester and teach one independent course in each of the following three semesters. The Rising Scholar Fellow in Politics will be a part of a cohort of scholars similarly situated in other departments across the college, providing both a supportive environment within the department and opportunities for interdisciplinary collaboration and mentoring across departments throughout the college.

Possible areas of study might include:

- Race, policing, and the carceral state
- Identity and/or the political psychology of race and ethnicity
- Legacies of slavery, segregation, and political development
- Race and political mobilization or representation
- Comparative or transnational examinations of the African diaspora
- Black political thought, Black feminist thought
- Race, political institutions, and policymaking

Again, we encourage applications from any scholars focusing on the politics of race and ethnicity broadly construed. Please contact Jennifer Lawless, Department Chair, with any questions. jll9jx@virginia.edu

An online application and further information are available here: <https://graduate.as.virginia.edu/rising-scholars>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 2/1/2022

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9723

Georgetown University

Rank: Tenure-Line McCourt Chair of Public Policy

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applicants for the McCourt Chair of Public Policy. This is a tenure track position in the McCourt School of Public Policy. Candidates will contribute substantially to the mission and goals of individual institutions, including research, teaching and service. The endowed chair holder is expected to provide leadership and substantial impact, particularly with their research, in this position. The successful candidate is expected to have an outstanding scholarly track record and agenda, with evidence of both high productivity and high quality research. Applicants should also demonstrate evidence of national prominence in their respective field. The search is open as to field and research interest, with disciplinary backgrounds of interest including political science, sociology, economics, ethics, law, psychology, and demography, as well as public policy broadly.

The Committee will be reviewing applications on a rolling basis and continue until the position is filled.

Please apply Here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/92924>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9719

Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Open

Specializations: American Politics, Presidency, History & Politics

The Ronald Reagan Presidential Foundation and Institute sponsors a Postdoctoral Fellowship Program to cultivate the next generation of scholars studying the life, political career, principles, legacy, and era of President Ronald Reagan. The Program funds two one-year fellowships for postdoctoral scholars who intend to revise their dissertation into a book-length manuscript on Reagan and his era. Fellows are hosted at the offices of the Ronald Reagan Institute in Washington D.C. One fellowship, the George P. Shultz Fellowship, is made possible through a generous donation from Tad and Dianne Taube.

Applicants must complete their Ph.D. or terminal degree by September 1, 2022 in history, political science, economics, communications studies, law, or a related field. The Ronald Reagan Institute welcomes all methodological and disciplinary approaches to the study of Reagan and his era. Fellows are awarded a $75,000 stipend and also provided with a $5,000 research account. The Reagan Institute expects that fellows will produce a full manuscript that is ready for initial submission to an academic or high quality commercial press by the end of their fellowship period. Following their residence at the Reagan Institute, postdoctoral fellows are strongly encouraged to pursue an academic career or other professional opportunities in research and scholarship. The fellowship term lasts from September 1, 2022 – August 31, 2023. International applicants are welcome to apply.

The application period opens on November 15, 2021 and closes on January 15, 2022. Fellowships will be announced March 1, 2022. For more information on the Ronald Reagan Institute visit: <https://www.reaganfoundation.org/reagan-institute/>

Program Benefits

- $75,000 stipend + $5,000 research account to offset the costs of travel and professional activities related to the production of their manuscript.
- Mentorship from senior academics who advise fellows and review their manuscript.
- One-on-one support from an archivist at the Reagan Presidential Library.
- Institutional support in generating press interest.

- Dedicated office space, research library access, and opportunities to participate in Reagan Institute programming as desired.
- If desired, opportunities to teach undergraduate courses on the American presidency sponsored by the Institute.

Program Requirements

- PhD/terminal degree in hand by September 1, 2022.
- Engagement with the approximately 200 scholars in the Reagan Roundtable Network
- Participation in the Reagan Roundtable seminar series (5 times per year).
- Circulation of recipient's scholarship within this network of scholars.
- Acceptance of the award constitutes a commitment by each fellow to produce a book manuscript by the end of the fellowship year.

Application Instructions

- *Please submit all documents as PDFs. Do not send in zip files.
- All application materials should be emailed to Anthony Eames at aeames@reaganfoundation.org by 11:59 EST on Saturday, January 15, 2022.
 - Executive summary (maximum 1 page)
 - Project Proposal (maximum 3 pages)
 - Description of methods and approach, including the importance of materials at the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library to your study.
 - Relevance of your book to the study of Reagan presidency, legacy, and era, as well as its potential impact on your broader field of specialization.
 - Outline of book.
 - Writing Sample (20 to 30 pages)
 - CV
 - Unofficial Transcripts
 - Two letters of recommendation (one of which should be from your thesis advisor)
 - Letters should be sent directly to Anthony Eames at aeames@reaganfoundation.org with the subject line reading "Letter of Reference for "Applicant Name."

Start Date: Fall 2022

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9707

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Development Finance
Specializations: Economic Policy, International Political Economy, Trade

The Empirical Studies of Conflict Project (ESOC) at the School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA), the Julis-Rabinowitz Center for Public Policy and Finance (JRCPFF), and the Department of Operations Research and Financial Engineering (ORFE) at Princeton University seek outstanding candidates for a postdoctoral research associate, or more senior research position, in the area of development finance starting July 1, 2022.

In addition to pursuing their own independent research, the Postdoctoral Research Associate will play a key role in supporting a new Research Community at Princeton focusing on how technical and/or financial interventions can address issues at the intersection of climate change and development in such regions as sub-Saharan Africa.

Experience using data from diverse sources like nightlights and social media, in addition to administrative data, would be of particular value. The Associate could also support an ongoing ORFE project in collaboration with a major US bank, or teach an introductory course in statistics and probability for that department, contingent on interest, departmental need, and sufficient course enrollments. If teaching, the Associate would carry a secondary rank of Lecturer during the relevant semester.

The position provides an excellent opportunity for collaboration with Princeton faculty, graduate and undergraduate students. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of Princeton University.

Applicants must have received (or expect to receive) a Ph.D. between September 2019 and September 2022, in Economics, Finance, Operations Research, Data Science, Political Science, or a related field. This is a 12-month term appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and funding.

All candidates with relevant research interests are encouraged to apply. We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity, and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences, and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Date Posted: 11/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9710

The University of Tampa

Rank: Assistant Teaching Professor, Political Science & International Studies

The Department of Political Science and International Studies at The University of Tampa invites applications for a full-time, renewable, non-tenure track Assistant Teaching Professor position, beginning August 2022. We are seeking a candidate who can teach sections in at least one of the following: Introduction to American Politics, Introduction to Comparative Politics, or Introduction to International Relations.

The candidate should also propose two topical courses they would teach as a general education course to non-majors called "Politics and Society." These courses can fall into any subfield and would reflect the candidate's expertise and interests. A major component of the "Politics and Society" classes will be teaching students how to write in the Political Science discipline. The course load for the position is 4/4. Additional duties for the position may include advising and other service activities.

The University of Tampa is a medium-sized, comprehensive, residentially-based private institution of more than 10,000 undergraduate and graduate students. The University is ideally situated on a beautiful 110-acre campus next to the Hillsborough River, adjacent to Tampa's dynamic central business district, which is a growing, vibrant, diverse metropolitan area. UT reflects this vibrancy; with 24 consecutive years of enrollment growth UT boasts 260 student organizations, a multicultural student body from 50 states and more than 100 countries, and “Top Tier” ranking in U.S. News and World Report.

Qualifications

Successful candidates will demonstrate their commitment to teaching students in a liberal arts setting. We prefer candidates who have already obtained their Ph.D. but will consider candidates very near to completion of the Ph.D. who can provide clear evidence of completion by the time of appointment. Opportunities for advancement include the possibility for promotion to Associate Teaching Professor and Full Teaching Professor.

Applications are due by 18 January 2022.

For further details and to apply, please visit our website at www.ut.edu/jobs. Applicants should be prepared to attach a curriculum vitae, letter of interest, teaching statement, teaching evaluations, sample syllabus for a proposed topical course, writing sample, and name/email address for three (3) reference providers who will address your teaching and scholarship.

The University delivers challenging and high-quality educational experiences to a diverse group of learners. The University has a strong core curriculum rooted in the liberal arts, an enduring commitment to internationalization that has garnered the Senator Paul Simon Award, and a practical, experiential approach to learning. The University offers more than 200 areas of study, including majors in our Colleges of Arts and Letters, Business, Natural and Health Sciences, Social Sciences, Mathematics and Education, and 19 master's programs.

The College of Social Sciences, Mathematics and Education offers rigorous, high quality undergraduate curricula in Criminology and Criminal Justice, Education, History, International Studies, Mathematics, Political Science, Psychology and Sociology. Graduate programs include a Master of Science in Criminology and Criminal Justice, and Instructional Design and Technology, and a Master of Education in Curriculum and Instruction, and Educational Leadership. Our faculty are excellent teachers and scholars who engage their students both in and out of the classroom. Our college continually fosters relationships with governmental, not for profit, and community organizations in the greater Tampa Bay region to provide students with the opportunity to pursue an internship, volunteer, or interact with professionals working in their chosen field. Each department also offers study abroad courses that students can take for credit toward their degree. For more information, visit <https://www.ut.edu/socialsciencesmathematicsandeducation/>.

The University of Tampa is an equal opportunity employer dedicated to excellence through diversity and does not discriminate on the basis of age, race, sex, disability, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, marital status, gender identity, veteran status, or any other non-job related criteria. The University of Tampa recognizes the importance of a multicultural community of students, faculty, and staff who seek to advance our commitment to diversity. The University invites applications from underrepresented groups and those who have academic experiences with diverse populations.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/18/2022

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9693

California State University, Sacramento

Rank: Identity Politics

The Department of Political Science at California State University, Sacramento, seeks candidates to fill a tenure-track position in Identity Politics to begin in fall 2022. Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science or related field are encouraged to apply. ABD candidates will be considered; if ABD, candidates will be required to complete the doctoral degree by January 2023. We are seeking a candidate with a substantive focus on identity politics, broadly understood, and would include those whose work centers on race and ethnicity, gender, sexuality, religious identity, economic class, nationality or similar areas of study. Expectations are that the candidate would teach our course Politics of the Underrepresented; the candidate could tailor their sections to their particular interests and concerns. The position would also include expectations of teaching other existing classes in political science as appropriate for the candidate's background, and developing new courses in the candidate's interests. Candidates would also be expected to engage in original research in these areas, and contribute to the university and community in areas involving their interests. Candidates who have demonstrated a commitment to working with women and underrepresented minority students through teaching, mentoring, or administration are especially encouraged to apply. Review of applications will begin December 6, 2021 and the position will remain open until filled. An applicant can find the full vacancy announcement at, and must apply through, the Sacramento State jobs website at <https://careers.csus.edu/en-us/job/506457/tenure-track-faculty-political-science-identity-politics>. The job posting number is 506457. Inquiries can be made to ahertzof@csus.edu.

AA/EO Employer, Clery Act, mandated reporter, background check required.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9679

Colorado Mesa University

Rank: Visiting Professor of History or Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Open

Distinguished scholars in History or Political Science are invited to apply for the Wayne N. Aspinall Chair at Colorado Mesa University. For a $10,000 stipend, the visiting professor will spend three weeks on the Colorado Mesa University campus from late March-to mid-April 2023; teach a one-credit course, give a major public lecture, and make any other invited appearances. Applications must include a vitae, a brief outline of a course proposal and a topic for the major public lecture. Submit application by February 11, 2022 to Dr. Justin Gollob, Department of Social and Behavioral Sciences, Colorado Mesa University, 1100 North Ave., Grand Junction, CO 81501. Feel free to direct any inquiries to ggollob@coloradomesa.edu or 970 248-1279.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: 2/11/2022

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 9661

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

The University of Chicago Crown School of Social Work, Policy and Practice (Crown Family School) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor to start on or after July 1, 2022, in the research areas of social inequality and racial justice. We seek scholars whose research considers the causes, consequences, and responses to inequality and racial injustice in the domains of housing, mental health, and/or poverty in the United States or globally. The successful candidate will engage in scholarship, which is theoretically and empirically driven, innovative, and informs practice or policy. We are particularly interested in scholars with advanced quantitative skills. Teaching and mentoring is expected at all levels but primarily at the graduate level.

Applicants must possess a doctorate (or have a doctorate by the date of appointment) in social work or a related field. Applicants should submit a cover letter, a Curriculum Vita, a statement that outlines research and teaching interests, a sample of 2 writings that best represent the applicant's approach (applicants at the dissertation stage should include part or all of their dissertation), and contact information for at least three references. Consideration of applications will begin on September 30, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed; early submission is encouraged.

Please apply online at the Academic Recruitment web page at the University of Chicago website using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/93207>.

The Crown Family School builds upon a legacy of more than a century of scholarship, education and leadership in social work and social welfare, blending a distinctive interdisciplinary tradition with applied problem solving to foster innovative solutions to some of society's most pressing social problems. For more information about the Crown School, please visit our website at: <https://crownschool.uchicago.edu/>.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-1032 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9665

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

We invite applications for our Embedded EthiCS postdoctoral fellowship based at the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society and the Institute for Human-Centered Artificial Intelligence (HAI). Stanford Embedded Ethics is a collaborative program that embeds the teaching of ethics directly into the core undergraduate courses of Stanford's computer science curriculum. Working in collaboration with CS faculty and graduate students, the fellows will create curricular materials, course assignments, and teach ethics modules across three to six courses. 2022-23 will be the third year of this program, and fellows will have the opportunity to continue to shape the direction of this new approach to technology education at Stanford.

We will hire 1-2 fellows. The postdoctoral fellows will be expected to spend 50% of their time working with the Embedded Ethics program and 50% of their time on their independent research within a cohort of postdoctoral fellows appointed at the Ethics Center and HAI. The postdoctoral fellow will have responsibility for (a) working with CS faculty and students to develop course materials, (b) teaching the modules, (c) providing pedagogical training for Course Assistants in CS, and (d) participating in the intellectual life of the Ethics Center and HAI.

We seek applicants with a Ph.D. in philosophy, law, political science, information studies, or science and technology studies who can teach ethics (but ethics need not be their specialization), and who are enthusiastic to work with computer scientists to develop ethics modules. We will prioritize candidates who have a computer science background from their undergraduate studies and/or work experience. Ideal candidates will have knowledge of computer science fundamentals, coding skills, significant teaching experience, experience with cross-disciplinary research or teaching, and enthusiasm about developing ethics pedagogy.

Applicants must complete all requirements for their Ph.D. no later than June 30, 2022. Candidates must also be no more than three years from the awarding of their degree at the start of the fellowship (i.e., September 2019). The term of the fellowship is September 1, 2022 - August 31, 2023 and is renewable for a second year. We welcome applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research and teaching missions. Salary is competitive.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages double-spaced), three letters of recommendation, a one-page research statement (single spaced), and a list of classes that they have taught and/or are prepared to teach.

Applications will be collected via Interfolio. Applications will not be accepted by email. Please visit the Center's website for information about how to submit your materials:

<https://ethicsinsociety.stanford.edu/application-process-embedded-ethics-fellowship>

If you have questions, please email ethics_submissions@stanford.edu.
 Application Due Date: December 8, 2021 (5 pm PST).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/8/2021
Date Posted: 11/3/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9663

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor - Gender, Governance and Society (Tenure Track)

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, History & Politics, Social Movements

Assistant/Associate Professor - Gender, Governance and Society (Tenure Track)

Division of Arts and Humanities

New York University Abu Dhabi

The Division of Arts and Humanities at New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) invites applications for a full-time tenure/tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor faculty position. We seek a scholar and educator whose scholarship and research bridges the studies of gender, governance and society with scholarship in the humanities and social sciences. The ideal candidate must have a strong research agenda and on track for a publication record suitable for tenure at New York University. Commitment to teaching excellence, ability to supervise BA, MA and PhD students, and a record of service to their current and previous institutions are required.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

Candidates for the position will possess a PhD focused on gender, governance and society in fields and subjects such as sociology, political science, anthropology and cultural theory/studies, or history.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/91524>

.Curriculum Vitae

.Cover Letter

.Teaching Philosophy and Statement

.Research Profile and Plans

.Scholarly and other Portfolio

.Teaching Syllabi

.Three confidential letters of reference that will be uploaded directly to interfolio by your referee.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to be interviewed in the Fall 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2022-2023.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.artsandhumanities.positions@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9644

Columbia University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Health Policy

Assistant or Associate Professor in Health Policy

The Department of Health Policy and Management of Columbia University's Mailman School of Public Health seeks applicants for a position in health policy, at the Assistant or Associate Professor level, beginning September 1, 2022.

We seek scholars with a doctoral degree in health policy, or a closely related degree, such as political science, sociology, or health services research. We define the term health policy quite broadly, but are especially interested in candidates who conduct research that examines the ways that the policymakers and managers can minimize the disparities caused by the social (non-medical) determinants of health. The successful candidate must also be able to teach courses in health policy and/or research methodology at the master's level.

All applicants must have the potential for excellence in teaching and research.

The Department of Health Policy and Management has a multidisciplinary faculty that trains Masters level students in health policy and health administration. We maintain close ties with Columbia's Graduate School of Business, Graduate School of Arts and Sciences, College of Physicians and Surgeons, and School of International and Public Affairs, as well as with many New York area healthcare delivery and research institutions.

Review of applications will commence December 1, 2021.

We encourage new graduates and current assistant or associate professors to apply. To apply, please submit a curriculum vitae, and contact information for three references via apply.interfolio.com/89495

Please address any questions to the search committee chair, Professor Miriam Laugesen (ml3111@cumc.columbia.edu).

Columbia University is an equal opportunity employer and an affirmative action employer. Columbia University is committed to ensuring that University employment is based upon personal capabilities and qualifications without discrimination based on race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, pregnancy, sexual orientation, marital status, status as a victim of domestic violence, alienage or citizenship status, creed, genetic predisposition or carrier status, unemployment status, or any other protected characteristic as established by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/28/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9633

University of Illinois, Springfield

Rank: Funded Pre-Doctoral Fellowship

The Political Science Department at the University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) invites applications for the on-campus Pre-Doctoral Funded Fellowship Program for Fall 2022. Area of specialization is open (American Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics, or Political Theory).

UIS celebrates its diversity with a campus comprised of students and faculty of various ages, backgrounds, and ethnicities. Of the approximately 4,000 students enrolled, about 20% are African-American and Hispanic students, and 13% are international. UIS is a welcoming university community committed to improve diversity in research, teaching, and service through the recruitment of graduate students who are completing their dissertation and represent diverse perspectives.

Benefits

Fellows will receive support for research, professional travel, and other related expenses. They will work with a faculty mentor and will have opportunities to present their research at a number of University and professional venues. Fellows will receive academic year faculty appointments and will be eligible for benefits, including health insurance. Annual salary is $30,000. Fellows should be eligible for employment.

Responsibilities

Fellows will teach one course each semester in an area related to their academic preparation and a need of the host department. Fellows will devote significant time to the completion of the dissertation. This is a full-time position and fellows may not be employed outside of the University, or receive additional fellowships or awards during the fellowship period unless approved by the University.

Minimum Qualifications

Fellows must be dissertation stage doctoral degree candidate (i.e., completed all coursework, passed comprehensive/qualifying exams, and a successfully defended and approved proposal by August 16, 2022, with anticipated degree date of Spring or Summer 2023) in one of the following fields: American Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics, or Political Theory.

Additional Qualifications

Qualified candidates who would enhance the diversity of UIS faculty and/or who have significant experience in educational programs and environments characterized by a strong emphasis on diversity, multiculturalism, and inclusion are strongly encouraged to apply.

Application Process

Go to: <https://jobs.uis.edu/job-board/job-details?jobID=154300&job=pre-doctoral-funded-fellowships-fall-2022-2-3-positions>

Create or update your profile and upload: 1) a current CV/resume, 2) name and contact information (phone and email address) for your dissertation advisor, and 3) a cover letter addressing:

- Your interest in the position, how you would benefit from the PDFD program, and how you would contribute to campus diversity;
- Specific UIS department/school home (from those listed in the job posting);
- Anticipated timeline for degree completion (confirming you will have completed all coursework, passed comprehensive/qualifying exams, and a successfully defended and approved proposal by August 16, 2022, with anticipated degree date of Spring or Summer 2023)

To maintain the integrity and confidentiality of the search process, applicants are asked to upload their own materials. The search committee will give full consideration to those applicants who complete the online application and upload all required materials by December 15, 2021. Incomplete applications will not be evaluated. Review of applications will begin as they are submitted and will continue until the positions are filled or the search for Fall 2022 fellowships is terminated.

Questions about the program may be directed to: Monica Kroft, mkroft2@uis.edu.

Application deadline: December 15, 2021

About UIS: Located in the state capital, the University of Illinois Springfield is one of three members of the University of Illinois system. The University serves approximately 4,000 students in 21 graduate and 31 undergraduate programs. The academic curriculum offers students a strong liberal arts core, a wide range of professional programs, and close faculty interaction. Making the most of its location in the state capital, UIS is broadly engaged in public policy and service. Its diverse student body includes traditional, non-traditional, and international students. Twenty-five percent of majors are in 17 undergraduate and graduate online degree programs and the campus has received several national awards for its implementation of online learning. UIS faculty are committed teachers, active scholars, and professionals in service to society. The University emphasizes excellence in teaching, and faculty are also expected to provide a balance of scholarship and service activities to meet requirements for tenure and promotion. You are encouraged to visit the university web page at <http://www.uis.edu>

More About UIS & Our Springfield Community

The University of Illinois Springfield (UIS) is a premier public university that provides students with a high-quality liberal arts education, exceptional public affairs opportunities, and outstanding professional preparation programs. UIS is one of three universities of the world-class University of Illinois system and has been ranked by US News & World Report as one of the top 10 regional public universities in the Midwest.

UIS celebrates its diversity with a campus comprised of students and faculty of various ages, backgrounds, and ethnicities. Faculty members are accomplished teacher-scholars, and UIS has a national reputation for innovation in teaching and excellence in online education. Located in the state capital, UIS has established a reputation for Leadership lived, based upon four core strengths: the educational richness of its teaching-focused academic experience; the abundant opportunities it provides for students to collaborate with faculty and gain practical experience through institutional partners; the right-sized supportive community it offers; and its tradition of educating public servants and leaders in private and public sectors. UIS is a community-engaged campus whose students contribute over 66,000 hours of community service each year.

The surrounding Springfield community offers a wonderful quality of life. A lively entertainment scene includes jazz, blues, community theatre, municipal opera, comedy, and live music, including downtown music festivals. Additional cultural and sporting attractions are conveniently located a few hours away in St. Louis, Chicago, and Indianapolis. With a population of about 117,000, Springfield offers great restaurants, shopping, and other city amenities while retaining the friendliness and affordability of small-town living (and without the heavy traffic). The area also has a wide variety of recreational opportunities, including biking and hiking trails, ice rinks, sports complexes, and several first-class golf courses. Lake Springfield offers fishing, boating, and other recreational water activities. Springfield is also home to a wildlife sanctuary, zoo, lakeside memorial gardens, botanical gardens, and one of the world's largest carillons.

Springfield was home to Abraham Lincoln, our nation's sixteenth president and one of its most famous political figures. A historical downtown area features the Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library & Museum, the Old State Capitol, the Lincoln historical district, historic reenactments and events, the Illinois State Museum, and a variety of specialty shops and restaurants which make Springfield the most prominent tourist destination in central Illinois.

Springfield is also home to the second Illinois Medical District (the first being in Chicago) and includes two major medical centers, Memorial Health Systems and HSHS St. John's Health Systems, as well as the Southern Illinois University School of Medicine. The medical community and state government are the two largest employers in Springfield.

Springfield offers daily Amtrak service to St. Louis and Chicago as well as to points beyond. A regional airport offers daily service to major hubs in Chicago and Dallas. City bus service is provided from the UIS campus to various locations around the city.

UIS is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer with a strong institutional commitment to recruitment and retention of a diverse and inclusive campus community. Women, minorities, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

As a qualifying federal contractor, the University of Illinois System uses E-Verify to verify employment eligibility.

The University of Illinois may conduct background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer of employment. Background checks will be performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

New Policy: All offers for employment are contingent upon proof of vaccination against the COVID-19 virus pursuant to <https://www.uis.edu/academicstaffhandbook/university-policies/fall-2021-covid-19-vaccination-policy-for-new-hires/>.

The University of Illinois System requires candidates selected for hire to disclose any documented finding of sexual misconduct or sexual harassment and to authorize inquiries to current and former employers regarding findings of sexual misconduct or sexual harassment. For more information, visit <https://www.hr.uillinois.edu/cms/One.aspx?portalId=4292&pageId=1411899>

UIS employment in this role is not covered by Social Security, and instead, is covered by the State Universities Retirement System.

You don't pay Social Security taxes and your earnings won't be on your Social Security record. (Your record will, however, show your Medicare wages.)

Your pension from the State Universities Retirement System may affect the amount of your Social Security benefit and Social Security benefit as a spouse.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Date Posted: 10/27/2021

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 9631

Bilkent University

Rank: Open-Rank Positions in International Relations (Bilkent University).

The Department of International Relations at Bilkent University invites applications for multiple tenure-track and open-rank positions in international relations, to begin in September 2022. The department welcomes applications from scholars working in any area of specialization within the field of international relations.

Successful candidates will have a strong publication record, and at Bilkent they will be expected to produce peer-reviewed research and contribute to the undergraduate and graduate programs in the Department of International Relations. The positions entail a teaching load of two courses per semester, with a one-course reduction for each of the first four years of employment.

Bilkent University and the Department of International Relations are strongly committed to faculty diversity. We welcome applications from scholars of diverse backgrounds, especially from those historically under-represented in the academy.

To apply, candidates must submit: 1) CV 2) cover letter that includes a description of research and teaching interests 3) contact information for three scholars who can provide letters of recommendation 4) a writing sample. Applicants are expected to have completed a Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, or a related academic discipline by the beginning of the appointment. The deadline for submission is 20 December 2021.

Bilkent University is an English-medium private research university located in Ankara, Turkey. It is the country's first private, non-profit university, and global rankings regularly highlight its place as one of the leading universities in Turkey. The university offers on-campus housing, International Baccalaureate schooling options for dependents, a diverse intellectual environment, and a variety of facilities and opportunities for its staff.

The Department of International Relations, which serves approximately 460 undergraduate students and 50 graduate students, fully embraces the university's foundational objectives of providing high-quality education, producing high-impact research, and developing critical and analytical thinking.

Please direct questions about the application process and the positions to ir@bilkent.edu.tr.

To apply: <https://stars.bilkent.edu.tr/staffapp/IR2022OR>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/20/2021

Date Posted: 10/26/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9623

Hobby School of Public Affairs

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Health and Health Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Open, Open

Specializations: Health Care, Economic Policy, Political Economy

The Hobby School of Public Affairs and Department of Economics at the University of Houston (UH) seek to hire a Presidential Frontier Faculty tenure-track faculty member at the rank of assistant professor in the fields of public health and health policy, to begin in the Fall of 2022. The Presidential Frontier Faculty program is a university-wide integrated interdisciplinary hiring campaign that is overseen by central university leadership, and encompasses hiring a large cohort of convergence research faculty to work on health, energy, sustainability and security. This search is part of a university-wide, multi-year, integrated, visionary hiring campaign to attract top scholars to support the University of Houston's research focus on building an infrastructure for sustainable communities. We are interested in applicants who will bring fresh ideas, practical experience, and an interdisciplinary mindset. Our faculty include experts in theoretical, practical, and analytical disciplines associated with public policy and economics. We seek to complement that collective expertise with this hire.

Competitive candidates will have expertise in areas including, but not limited to, health policy, public health, the economics of healthcare markets, and determinants of individual health outcomes with a focus on economic and social disruptions in the face of global climate change. Their approach to research may include, but is not limited to, survey methods, randomized control trials, policy evaluation, and structural and quantitative models.

About the Hobby School and Department of Economics:

The Hobby School of Public Affairs was created in 2016 by the University of Houston System. Incoming faculty will have the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology, leadership development, and ethical analysis in its teaching, training, and research. It is the home of UH's Center for Public Policy, Survey Research Institute, and Elizabeth D. Rockwell Center for Ethics and Leadership. The Hobby School offers: (1) a Master of Public Policy (MPP) degree, (2) a dual degree program combining public policy with degrees in other fields—multidisciplinary studies (UH's Honors College), business, economics, law, psychology, and social work, (3) certificate programs in data analytics, energy policy, health care policy, public policy, and public administration, and (4) BS and BA degrees in public policy starting in January, 2022. We are in the planning process for launching a PhD program. The Hobby School also runs the Institute on the Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) and offers workshops in social science methods under the Inter-University Consortium of Political and Social Research (ICPSR) Summer Institute.

The Department of Economics is a research-oriented department which operates at the frontier of the profession. It has strength in applied microeconomics with specialists in labor markets, health, public economics, and development, as well as a group of macroeconomists with a focus on time-series analysis, international trade and finance, risk-sharing, and growth. Faculty members are associates of the National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) and the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR), and serve on editorial boards at general interest and top field journals. The department offers a PhD program, a Master's in Applied Economics, and undergraduate BA and BS degrees that includes a Quantitative Certificate for students undertaking more rigorous coursework. In addition to regular seminars with leading economists from around the world, the department co-organizes conferences on international economics with the Federal Reserve and Bank of Mexico, macroeconomics with other research universities in Texas, and applied microeconomics with other Texas universities with support from the Stata Institute.

The University of Houston is a Carnegie-designated Tier One research institution and is the flagship campus of a state-assisted higher education system that enrolls over 70,000 students. The University of Houston is recognized as one of the most racially and ethnically diverse research institutions in the nation. As such, we welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence.

Houston itself is a laboratory for the future. The city reflects what is happening in the United States and around the world in terms of demographic, cultural, political, and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (1) a growing economy, including a vibrant energy sector, robust manufacturing, a bustling port that serves as a hub for international trade, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center—the world’s largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award-winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) a relatively low cost of living among large cities.

Application Instructions: Interested individuals should apply at <https://jobs.uh.edu> and provide: (1) a letter of interest, (2) evidence of teaching effectiveness and commitment to mentoring students, (3) a statement of research specialization and interests, (4) three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation, (5) a curriculum vita, and (6) up to three representative papers. Upon receiving applications, referees may be contacted via the online application system to submit letters directly for junior applicants but not for senior applicants (we will inform applicants prior to asking for letters in that case). Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University’s goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committee anticipates holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and will favorably consider an individual’s record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at <http://www.uh.edu/af/universityservices/policies/sam/1GenAdmin/1D5.pdf>.

Qualifications:

PhD or Doctorate in related fields required.

In the selection process, the search committee will prioritize collaborative scholars who: (1) engage in nationally-recognized, interdisciplinary work on significant public health and health policy issues, (2) work with diverse populations, communities, and organizations, (3) demonstrate an eagerness to contribute to undergraduate and graduate education and student success, and (4) pursue grants, awards, and other sources of funding to support research, academic programming, student success, community engagement, and impact.

Notes to Applicant: Official transcripts are required for faculty appointments and will be requested upon selection of the final candidate. All positions at the University of Houston are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check.

Required Attachments by Candidate: Curriculum Vitae, Cover Letter/ Letter of Application, Teaching Philosophy or Statement, Research Statement, Publications

https://uhs.taleo.net/careersection/ex2_uhf/jobdetail.fl?job=FAC001986&tz=GMT-05%3A00&tzname=America%2FChicago

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9617

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Research and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Open

Specializations: Political Thought: Historical, Gender Politics & Policy, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

Social Research and Public Policy

NYU Abu Dhabi

We are inviting applications from sociologists and those in related disciplines for a tenured faculty member to join the program in Social Research and Public Policy, for appointment on September 1, 2023, subject to final budget approval. We will consider applicants with an active research agenda in all areas of theoretically-informed social research, but are especially keen on strengthening our faculty in any of the following areas: social theory, political sociology, comparative-historical research, qualitative methods, migration, gender, and race/ethnicity.

NYU Abu Dhabi’s unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past and present.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE’s capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today’s complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world’s best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD’s commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related discipline.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of scholarship, teaching, and mentoring, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94902>

.CV

.Cover Letter

.Statement of Teaching Interests

.Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)

.Statement of Research Interests

.Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

.List of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin looking at applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2023-2024.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socialscience@nyu.edu.

If this sounds like you, apply now.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9608

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research. Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families' location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2022. Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements and Recommendations

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe the candidate's experience as a part of any of the diverse or underrepresented groups as outlined below, and any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

IPL encourages applicants from diverse and underrepresented groups to apply. In particular, IPL encourages individuals from historically underrepresented racial and ethnic groups (Black or African Americans, Hispanics or Latinos, American Indians or Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders, as described by the National Science Foundation), individuals with disabilities, and individuals from disadvantaged economic and educational backgrounds (low-income households and disadvantaged educational environments) to apply. IPL encourages that this information be shared in the “Contributions to Diversity Statement”.

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19939> (ID19939). We will begin reviewing applications on November 1st, 2021. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact Elisa Cascardi at the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, directly (cascardi@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc (Health) 2021).

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9610

University of Michigan

Rank: Teaching Postdoctoral Fellowship in Japanese Studies (Academic Year 2022–2023)

The Center for Japanese Studies at the University of Michigan is now accepting applications for a Postdoctoral Fellowship in Japanese Studies for the 2022–2023 academic year. This Postdoctoral Fellow will be expected to teach three courses over the academic year, as well as to participate in Center events and related activities at U-M. The applicant’s research can cover any historical period of Japan—including contemporary Japan—and involve any academic discipline in the humanities and social sciences. The fellowship will cover up to a 12-month period between August 30, 2022 and August 28, 2023, and will carry a salary of approximately $60,000 plus benefits as well as $3,000 in research funds. There may be additional compensation for an instructional portion of this appointment, and this will be subject to the LEO/UM Collective Bargaining Agreement. The salary for this work will be determined at the time the instructional appointment is offered. The postdoctoral fellow will be provided shared office space and access to libraries and resources at the University.

Qualifications

- Applicants must have received their Ph.D. degree within five years of the postdoctoral appointment year (2017 or later).
- The successful applicant must have their Ph.D. degree conferred by August 31, 2022.
- Applicants are expected to have full command of the English language as University of Michigan classes, meetings and business are conducted in English.

Application Instructions

Applications must be submitted through the following website by December 1, 2021: <https://apply.interfolio.com/97076>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9589

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Race and Global Politics; Critical Political Economies (two positions, open rank)

Description

The department of Political Science at Johns Hopkins University invites applications for two (2) open rank tenure-track appointments in distinct but related topical areas. For both positions, we welcome applications from all areas and fields across Political Science, though for each position we have particular interest in making appointments in either political theory or international relations. These positions may contribute to the department’s cross-field research theme in racial politics.

Qualifications

Under the heading of “Race and Global Politics” we intend to appoint a scholar whose work centers on the study of global politics and race, racism/anti-racism, ethnicity, minoritized groups, or postcolonial populations. We welcome applicants with historical or contemporary specializations as well as all methodological and theoretical approaches. Under the heading of “Critical Political Economies” we seek an innovative scholar whose work challenges the boundaries of political economy and conventional notions of political power, desire, and agency. Applicants drawing from a range of theoretical, historical, ecological and/or comparative approaches are encouraged to apply. We especially welcome applications from scholars rethinking the bearing of political economies on the formation of political subjectivities/identities, responses to historical inequalities/inequities, and enduring injustices.

Application Instructions

PhD in Political Science or related discipline required at time of appointment. Candidates should submit a letter of application, current CV, writing sample, and three letters of reference. Applicants should state in their cover letter how, through their research approaches, teaching methodology, and/or public engagement, they can contribute to the university’s commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Successful applicants will join a Department that recognizes faculty diversity as key to ensuring excellence in research and teaching. Successful applicants will also benefit from joining a School that enjoys vibrant interdisciplinary conversations and collaborations on race, racism, and anti-racism. All materials will be submitted online. Review of applications will begin on November 1st, 2021. All materials should be submitted through interfolio: <http://apply.interfolio.com/96222>

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9574

University of Houston

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Open, Open

Specializations: Political Economy, Environmental Policy, Political Economy

Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Public Policy, Circular Economy and Sustainability

UH Energy and the Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston are looking for a postdoctoral research fellow specializing in environmental policy with focus on the circular materials and the circular economy. The position is available immediately and for up to two years.

Duties and Responsibilities:

This position is designed to be a career-building step for scholars in environmental policy. Primary duties for the scholar are to develop his or her research program in environmental policy with applications to problems pertaining to the public policy dimensions of the circular economy, circular materials, life cycle of materials, and sustainability. The postdoctoral fellow will also support the Hobby School and UH Energy in research, grant applications and outreach. During the academic year the fellow will teach one or two courses on the public policy dimensions of the circular economy, environmental policy, and sustainability.

Application Instructions:

Interested candidates should submit the following:

- (1) CV or resume
- (2) Cover letter highlighting the skills relevant to the proposed position
- (3) Two representative manuscripts or publications
- (4) Contact information for three professional references

Review of candidates will start on 11/15/2021; applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Gail Buttorff (gjbutorff@central.uh.edu) or Pablo M. Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu).

QualificationsDoctoral and No experience

Requires singular knowledge of a specialized advanced professional discipline or the highest level of general business knowledge, normally acquired through attainment of a directly job-related terminal degree or equivalent formal training in a recognized field of specialization that is directly related to the type of work being performed. No experience is required.

Position Qualifications:

Required: PhD in Public Policy, Political Science, Economics, Engineering, Environmental Studies or related fields.

Applicants with, or nearing completion of, a doctoral degree in fields mentioned above will also be considered. The successful candidate is likely to demonstrate expertise in quantitative methods, potential for publishing research, a collaborative/respective approach to work, and the ability to effectively manage multiple projects to achieve performance objectives. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply. The applicant must also have strong written and oral communication skills.

About UH Energy, the Hobby School of Public Affairs and the University of Houston:

UH Energy is an umbrella initiative that integrates the efforts across the University of Houston system to position the university as a strategic partner to the energy industry by producing trained workforce, strategic and technical leadership, research and development for needed innovations and new technologies. Issues of public policy, the convergence of policy, science, technology and business, and the role they play in providing solutions to the societal challenges of affordable, reliable and sustainable energy solutions lie at the forefront of the work of UH Energy.

Focusing on ethics, analytics, leadership, and contemporary public policy issues, the Hobby School currently offers a master's degree in public policy, will launch an undergraduate degree in the Spring 2022, and is working to expand its curricula. The Hobby School culture places a premium not only on high-quality research and service to the region and nation but also on a supportive, collaborative, and professional work culture.

The Hobby School and UH Energy are well-positioned for impactful research. Houston is the nation's fourth (soon to be third) most populous American city. Houston itself is a laboratory for the future, as it reflects what is happening in the United States in terms of demographic and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with its: (a) growing economy, including oil & gas, the Johnson Space Center, and the world's largest medical center (the Texas Medical Center), (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) diverse population, (d) outstanding, diverse restaurants, and (e) relatively low cost/affordability among large cities.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body, UH is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committees anticipate holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: https://uhsystem.edu/compliance-ethics/_docs/sam/01/1d51.pdf. The position is also subject to the University of Houston's background check policy.

EEO/AA

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9562

Stanford University Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law

Rank: Pre- and Postdoctoral Fellow

Stanford's Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law welcomes applications for its pre- and postdoctoral fellowship. Pre- and postdoctoral scholars working on topics related to democracy, development, and the rule of law are qualified to apply. The Center expects to award two or more fellowships for the 2022-2023 academic year.

This is a one-year, residential fellowship. Fellows spend the academic year at Stanford University completing their projects, participating in seminars, and interacting with faculty at the CDDRL and Freeman-Spogli Institute for International Studies.

Pre-doctoral fellows must be enrolled currently in a doctoral program or equivalent through the time of intended residency at Stanford, and must be at the dissertation write up (post course work) phase of their doctoral program. Post-doctoral fellows must have earned their PhD within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their Ph.D. dissertations by July 31, 2022.

To apply, include a cover letter (of no more than 3 pages), a CV, a research statement (5-10 pages), official transcripts, and three letters of recommendation. For more information, please see <https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/cddrl-pre-doctoral-and-postdoctoral-fellowships>

Applications are open, with a deadline of December 17, 2021. Apply online at https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/stanford_cddrl_fellowship

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/17/2021

Date Posted: 10/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9542

New York University

Rank: Research Data Scientist

Subfield(s): Methodology, American Government and Politics, Open

We are seeking a Research Data Scientist to provide leadership and project management on our new, multilingual research infrastructure to monitor how the spread of disinformation across social media platforms will impact the upcoming U.S. elections. Through innovative data collection techniques that pair comprehensive, multi-platform digital trace data with national surveys in both English and Spanish, the project will provide a systematic view into the information Americans consume — both offline and on — and how their beliefs and behaviors change over time.

With this information, CSMaP scholars will produce peer-reviewed research and quantitative descriptive reports examining several key questions, including which U.S. communities are targeted most by disinformation and on what platforms, how these dynamics are shifting as the online ecosystem changes, and what impact disinformation has on voters' beliefs and behaviors. Beyond disinformation and elections, our flexible research design will also enable us to measure the impact of media diets on a variety of issue and policy areas, from Covid-19 to social justice.

Under the direction of the CSMaP Faculty Directors, this role is responsible for:

- Working closely with data engineers on social media data collection methodologies and procedures
- Managing multiple incoming streams of social media data and designing and implementing efficient methods for merging aggregates with survey data
- Overseeing an ongoing panel survey and developing and implementing procedures for sampling and quality control
- Working with the faculty directors and other scholars, assist or lead in designing successive waves of a panel survey, with the potential to embed encouragement experiments and innovate in other ways
- Managing a full-time project associate and research assistants
- Overseeing and/or contributing to the production of academic papers, and rigorous topical data reports for a non-academic audience describing both the political content across social media platforms, and the impact it is having on individuals

- Planning and executing the project management plans, such as project budgets, schedules

CSMaP consists of three core faculty directors covering fields of Political Science, Computer Science, and Computational Biology, as well as postdoctoral fellows, research engineers, PhD students in both Political Science and Data Science, affiliated faculty at NYU and other institutions, and undergraduates. The lab maintains a broad research agenda with many projects moving forward simultaneously. Some recent publications and working papers have focused on election misinformation, social media usage in an ethnically polarized setting, how (competitive) authoritarian regimes respond to online opposition, and the prevalence of hate speech on Twitter.

The directors of the Center for Social Media and Politics actively encourage applicants from all backgrounds to apply. We believe in the importance of diversity as a key to the long-range health and vibrancy of the field, as well as its ability to create a more stimulating intellectual environment.

Qualifications

Required education: Master's degree or PhD in data science, political science, or related field.

Required skills and experience:

- At least 3 years research experience in social sciences, public policy, or a related field (time in MA or PhD program counts)
- Experience with data analysis and data management, handling large volumes of JSON format data and merging data of multiple types, experience managing a data-science workflow
- Excellent project management skills
- Experience working with R and/or Python
- Ability to work with survey data and identify potential issues and sources of error
- Experience in quantitative analysis
- Ability to work both as part of a team and independently
- Ability to organize and oversee complex projects with multiple moving parts
- Strong interpersonal, collaborative, and communication skills
- Preferred knowledge and experience:
 - Experience working with social media and/or digital trace data
 - Experience working on a large High Performance Computing Cluster and/or with a cloud computing service
 - Experience working with survey applications (e.g. Qualtrics)
 - Background and/or familiarity with quantitative research methodologies a plus
 - Experience in survey design, and ability to evaluate an existing survey questionnaire in accord with the basic principles of questionnaire design a plus

Application Instructions: To apply, please visit <https://apply.interfolio.com/96184>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9533

California State University, East BayRank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Pre-Law/Judicial Politics)*Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Open
Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

FACULTY EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, EAST BAY

FULL-TIME TENURE-TRACK

THE UNIVERSITY: California State University, East Bay (CSUEB) is a comprehensive university serving the San Francisco Bay Area/Silicon Valley. It is known for award winning programs, expert instruction, its diverse student body, and a choice of more than 100 career-focused fields of study. With an enrollment of approximately 15,000 students and 900 faculty, CSUEB is organized into four colleges. The University offers bachelor's degrees in 49 fields, minors in 52 fields, master's degrees in 34 fields, 16 credentials programs, 18 certificate options, and 1 doctoral degree program. <http://www20.csueastbay.edu/>

California State University East Bay has a mission to support a diverse student body through academically rich and culturally relevant learning experiences. The successful candidate will bring with them expertise or an openness to creating a welcoming and supportive environment for all students. Cal State East Bay, one of the most diverse campuses in the CSU system, welcomes and prepares students to apply their education to meaningful lifework, and to be socially responsible contributors to society.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Political Science prepares graduates to enter careers in government, public service, public administration, public policy analysis, legislative advocacy, business, international relations, and teaching. The department offers a B.A. degree that provides both a strong background in social science and excellent professional preparation for students. The major currently offers three distinct paths to completion, the traditional major and options in pre-law and public affairs and administration. Roughly half of our approximately 180 majors are pre-law. The department currently has five tenured or tenure-track faculty.

DUTIES OF THE POSITION: The Department of Political Science at California State University, East Bay seeks an Assistant Professor (tenure track) in Pre-Law, Legal Studies, or Judicial Politics. The successful applicant will also be expected to serve as a Pre-Law advisor and to attend the Pacific Association of Pre-Law Advisors meeting and similar events. In addition to teaching, all faculty have advising responsibilities, assist the department with administrative and/or committee work, and are expected to assume campus-wide committee responsibilities. Please note that teaching assignments at California State University, East Bay may include courses at the Hayward, Concord and Online campuses.

RANK AND SALARY: Assistant Professor. Salary is dependent upon educational preparation and experience. Subject to budgetary authorization.

DATE OF APPOINTMENT: Fall Semester, 2022.

QUALIFICATIONS: The successful candidate must hold a PhD in political science or a closely related social science discipline by the effective date of their appointment. We expect the successful candidate to have demonstrated teaching ability and the potential to have a successful research agenda. The department has a preference for applicants with prior teaching experience. The department also has a preference for an applicant dedicated to helping underrepresented communities find a path toward careers in the legal profession including law school and who shares our investment in social justice, equity, and inclusivity.

Candidates should demonstrate experience in teaching, mentoring, research, or community service that has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence. Additionally, applicants must demonstrate a record of scholarly activity. This University is fully committed to the rights of students, staff and faculty with disabilities in accordance with applicable state and federal laws. For more information about the University's program supporting the rights of our students with disabilities see: <http://www20.csueastbay.edu/af/departments/as/>

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications must be received on or before October 24, 2021 to ensure full consideration. Review will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants must submit: 1) A Cover letter that addresses the requirements of the position, 2) A CV, 3) At least one sample of published research or a dissertation chapter, 4) A teaching statement, 5) Course Syllabi (esp. those that demonstrate successful teaching to a diverse student population), 6) A summary of teaching evaluations, 7) A diversity statement of approximately one page (Applicants' statements should detail how their teaching, research, and/or service has supported the success of students from underrepresented communities in their academic field; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CSUEB's commitment to social justice, equity and inclusivity), and 8) Name and contact for three confidential letters of recommendation.

Please submit a letter of application, which addresses the qualifications noted in the position announcement; a complete and current vita, and all other materials listed above via PageUp (<https://careers.pageuppeople.com/873/eb/en-us/job/504626/assistant-professor-of-political-science>, see "Apply Now"). Applicants are required to also submit a one-page diversity statement that addresses how you engage a diverse student population in your teaching, research, mentoring, and advising.

Note: California State University, East Bay hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. All offers of employment are contingent upon presentation of documents demonstrating the appointee's identity and eligibility to work in accordance with provisions of the Immigration Reform and Control Act. A background check (including a criminal records check and prior employment verification) must be completed and cleared prior to the start of employment.

As an Equal Opportunity Employer, CSUEB does not discriminate on the basis of any protected categories: age, ancestry, citizenship, color, disability, gender, immigration status, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran's status. The University is committed to the principles of diversity in employment and to creating a stimulating learning environment for its diverse student body.

Any questions about the university, position, or application process can be directed to the search committee at ps.search.2122@gmail.com.

Applications close: Open Until Filled

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9508

IE School of Global and Public Affairs

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor School of Global and Public Affairs

IE University's School of Global and Public Affairs (IEGPA) seeks applicants for tenure-track faculty positions at the rank of Assistant Professor starting September 1, 2022. We seek candidates using quantitative methods and/or formal theory to study substantive questions of broad disciplinary relevance.

We are especially interested in scholars working within the subfields of comparative politics, political economy, and public policy. We are also particularly interested in candidates whose work speaks to contemporary policy issues and challenges, including (but not limited to) climate change, democratic erosion, education, health, and the governance of new technologies.

All in all, we seek academics with the capacity to engage in policy-relevant work and an overall commitment to institution-building (applying for research grants, participating in affiliated research centers and academic programs, and expanding IEGPA's current network and partnerships).

Moreover, the successful candidates will demonstrate capacity to produce publications in top peer-reviewed outlets (both generalist and field journals) in the coming years and have good teaching skills.

Successful candidates will either have a Ph.D. from a recognized department of political science, public policy, economics, or a related field or demonstrate clear evidence that their Ph.D. will be complete by July 2022.

The IEGPA is part of IE University, located in Madrid and Segovia, Spain, and is a full member of the Association of Professional Schools in International Affairs (APSIA). We are a fast-growing department of professors committed to world-class academic research and teaching in the social sciences, public policy, and international affairs.

We offer a competitive remuneration package, attractive teaching commitments, and an enriching and cosmopolitan work environment in the heart of Madrid. Our working language is English, and both our faculty and student body are highly diverse and international.

Applications should include a cover letter and vita, a job market paper, and three confidential letters of recommendation.

Candidates may apply via Interfolio by November 5, 2021, using the following link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/95848>

Please contact Sara Flores Sara.Flores@ie.edu with questions regarding the application process.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/5/2021

Date Posted: 10/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9487

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellowship in the Politics of Race and Ethnicity

Subfield(s): Open, Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics

Dartmouth College invites applications for a Guarini Dean's Postdoctoral Fellowship in the Department of Government. This fellowship supports scholars whose research addresses the politics of race and ethnicity in any subfield. In addition, the fellowship promotes student and faculty diversity at Dartmouth, and throughout higher education, by supporting research by underrepresented scholars, and others, with a demonstrated ability to advance educational diversity and inclusivity. Applicants will be selected on the basis of their academic achievement, promise in both research and teaching, and their demonstrated commitment to addressing underrepresentation in higher education.

This is a two-year residential fellowship, with one course taught in the second year. Throughout, fellows are expected to pursue research activities while participating fully in the intellectual life of the department and the college. Fellows receive an annual stipend of approximately $55,200 plus benefits and an allocation for research expenses (exact funding levels will be set at the time of offer).

Guarini Dean's Postdoctoral Fellows are part of the Provost's Fellowship Program, a multidisciplinary cohort of approximately ten predoctoral and postdoctoral scholars who share a commitment to increasing diversity and inclusivity in their disciplines. Fellows participate together in mentoring and professional development programming, including guidance in preparing for faculty careers.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Qualifications

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline or be ABD with a Ph.D. expected before the start date of their appointment.

Application Instructions:

- 1) Cover letter, including an overview of research areas and teaching interests; please also describe your prior contributions to advancing diversity and inclusivity in higher education and your motivations to join this multidisciplinary fellowship program;
- 2) CV;
- 3) Dissertation description (maximum two pages single-spaced);
- 4) Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which should be from the dissertation advisor.

Applications must be submitted electronically at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/95110>. Review of applications will begin November 1, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. If you have any questions, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Prof. Yusaku Horiuchi (Yusaku.Horiuchi@dartmouth.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/1/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9486

Instituto Tecnológico Autónomo de México
Rank: RESIDENTIAL FELLOWSHIP AT ITAM / INNOVATIONS FOR POVERTY ACTION, MEXICO CITY - POLITICAL ECONOMY OF SECURITY

The Department of Political Science at ITAM in Mexico City and Innovations for Poverty Action (IPA Mexico) invite applications for a residential fellowship (pre- or post-doctoral) for one academic year, beginning either in January or August 2022. Fellows should specialize in the study of the political economy of development.

Eligible candidates must be pursuing a PhD in political science or a related discipline, and conducting research on political economy of development topics with a focus on Mexico or Latin America. Preferred topics include security, order and violence, police reform, and institution building. Pre-doctoral fellows must have begun to write up their dissertation prior to the start of the fellowship. Post-doctoral fellows must have received their PhD prior to the start of the fellowship. Candidates with a strong quantitative background are especially encouraged to apply. Opportunities to collaborate in existing projects include the analysis of large, novel administrative data sets and ongoing experimental interventions.

All fellows will be expected to: (1) be in residence in Mexico City at ITAM for the duration of the fellowship, where they will be provided with office space and access to university resources; (2) work closely with faculty at ITAM's Department of Political Science and IPA Mexico to develop new and existing projects—including an ongoing project on police reform—and pursue international funding opportunities; and (3) participate in relevant workshops and seminars at ITAM, as well as activities with the IPA office. In addition, post-doctoral fellows will be expected to (4) advance their own research; and (5) teach a three-session workshop on a method or topic of their specialty.

Monthly stipends are MXN$35,000 (about US$1,750) for a pre-doctoral fellow and MXN$40,000 (about US$2,000) for a post-doctoral fellow (the corresponding dollar amounts may vary slightly depending on the exchange rate). Fellows will additionally receive the standard benefits package offered by ITAM, including health insurance.

All applicants should submit a one-page letter of interest, curriculum vitae, and writing sample (article-length). All applicants should also arrange for two letters of recommendation to be submitted directly by the recommenders to Marta Cebollada, Academic Coordinator of the Department of Political Science, marta.cebollada@itam.mx. All application materials are due by November 30, 2021.

Start Date: Spring 2022
Application Deadline: 11/30/2021
Date Posted: 9/29/2021
Salary: $20,000 - $29,999
eJobs ID: 9455

Midwestern State University

Rank: Lecturer
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Open, Open

Lecturer – Political Science
 For academic year 2021-2022
 Nine Month Contract in Political Science, starting Spring 2022.
 Requirement: MA, ABD, or PhD in Political Science.
 Field: American Government.

The Department of Political Science seeks a lecturer to teach Introductory American and Texas Government courses. This position is a nine month non-tenure track contract and is renewable given budgetary approval. Teaching load is 12 hours per semester (4 course sections), and candidates should have significant experience teaching introductory Texas and American government. Experience teaching in both in-person and online settings is a plus. Salary is $40,000 per year.

The Department is interested in candidates with an MA or PhD in Political Science, and who will contribute to the mission of the department and university. The Department of Political Science houses majors and minors in Political Science and Global Studies, as well as the minor in Women's and Gender Studies and the Model United Nations program.

Midwestern State University is a diverse, public liberal arts university with an enrollment of approximately 6,000 students and a member of the Texas Tech System. MSU Texas is located in Wichita Falls, a city of 102,000 about 2 hours northwest of Dallas/Fort Worth (www.msutexas.edu). As a Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC) member institution, Midwestern State University is particularly committed to excellence in teaching and seeks applicants that will contribute to this mission. This position is designated as security sensitive and requires the finalist to complete a criminal background check. EEO/ADAAA compliance employer.

Please send a letter of application, curriculum vitae, and statement of teaching philosophy to:

Dr. Linda Veazey, Chair
 Department of Political Science
 Midwestern State University
 3410 Taft Boulevard
 Wichita Falls, TX 76308
linda.veazey@msutexas.edu

The position will remain open until filled, but priority will be given to applications received before November 1, 2021.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: 11/1/2021
Date Posted: 9/29/2021
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 9457

Princeton University
Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks applicants for a Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research position that involves a year of research at Princeton. Scholars in all subfields of political science will be considered. The aim of the program is to nurture a diverse group of promising scholars, and there is a particular interest in attracting applications from groups that have been historically underrepresented in the field of political science at Princeton University. Ph.D. is required.

Interested applicants must apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22582> and submit a CV, cover letter, writing sample, and the names and contact information of three references. For best consideration, apply by December 15, 2021. The cover letter should describe how applicants might engage in collaborative research projects with Princeton politics faculty members. Initial appointment is for one year with the possibility of renewal subject to satisfactory performance and available funding.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Requisition No: D-22-POL-00011

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9416

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate

The College of Social Science (CSS) seeks Research Associates that will participate in a CSS Dean's Research Associate Development Institute, with the goal of possibly transitioning into tenure-system positions at Michigan State University. Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry.

Program Description

The College of Social Science (SSC) Dean's Research Associate Program at Michigan State University was established in 2018, as a major College initiative aimed at promoting an inclusive scholarly environment in which outstanding scholars in the social sciences support the advancement of diversity, equity, and inclusion in the academy. The Dean's Research Associates will have a minimal teaching load, will be mentored and supported, and will participate in a SSC Dean's Research Associate Development Institute, with the goal of possibly transitioning them into tenure-system positions at Michigan State University.

Appointments

Appointments will be made to applicants who show promise for tenure-track positions in Michigan State University's College of Social Science in accordance with MSU academic hiring process. Each appointment is for a minimum of 9 months, renewable for an additional year, contingent upon a demonstration of meeting the performance expectation in research and teaching, with an emphasis on demonstrated research productivity. The selected candidate will receive a salary that is comparable to that of a starting Assistant Professor in the Research Associate's discipline, plus benefits, and a budget for research and travel. Transitioning into a tenure-track faculty position at Michigan State University will require a series of structured, merit-based evaluations, which will include substantial peer input. MSU's academic hiring process will be followed in appointing the candidates that advance into the tenure-track.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, disability or protected veteran status.

Required Degree

Doctorate

Minimum Requirements

Applicants who will have a Ph.D. in hand from an accredited university by September 2022, and no earlier than May 2019, with degrees and research interests in areas covered by the College's Departments and Schools.

Required Application Materials

To apply, submit application materials online through careers.msu.edu and electronically attach the following:

1. a 3 page statement addressing how your research, teaching, and service, contribute to diversity, equity, and inclusion
2. a curriculum vitae
3. an academic research paper
4. a 3 page research proposal outlining research interests and plans for the fellowship year(s)
5. a ½ page statement describing your teaching philosophy, and the course(s) you could teach during the fellowship period
6. (6) three letters of reference which should address your potential for employment as a faculty member at MSU.

Together-we-will Statement

The university is requiring all MSU students, faculty and staff to be vaccinated against COVID-19 with limited exceptions. Learn more at: <https://msu.edu/together-we-will/>

Special Instructions

Review of applications will start on 10/15/2021, and will continue until positions are filled. Questions concerning the search may be addressed to Nwando Achebe, Associate Dean for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion and Faculty Excellence Advocate, College of Social Science (achebe@msu.edu).

Political Science candidate inquiries can contact the following faculty by field:

American: Professor Eric Gonzalez Juenke (juenke@msu.edu)

Theory: Professor Dustin Sebell (sebell@msu.edu)

All others: Professor Corwin Smidt (smidtc@msu.edu)

Michigan State University has been advancing the common good with uncommon will for more than 160 years. One of the top research universities in the world, MSU pushes the boundaries of discovery and forges enduring partnerships to solve the most pressing global challenges while providing life-changing opportunities to a diverse and inclusive academic community through more than 200 programs of study in 17 degree-granting colleges.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9397

Ashoka University

Rank: Professor / Associate Professor / Tenure-track Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Methodology, Open

The Department of Political Science at Ashoka University invites applications for faculty positions with an expected start date of January 15th, 2022 (though this is negotiable to August 15th 2022). The position is open rank, as to either the level of tenure track Assistant Professor, or tenured Associate or Full Professor.

Ashoka is a research university based near New Delhi, India. We strongly encourage applications by women and members of other groups underrepresented in academia.

Applicants for the position of tenure track Assistant Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) teaching evaluations (if available); 5) names of three references.

Applicants for the position of tenured Associate or Full Professor should submit: 1) cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) two samples of academic writings; 4) name of three references.

Statements of teaching and research philosophy are optional but will be considered if submitted.

All materials should be submitted through interfolio at this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94397>. The deadline for submitting a complete application is: November 30th, 2021.

For any queries or further information, please contact: polscience.recruitment@ashoka.edu.in

We are open to outstanding candidates in any subfield, with a preference for political theory, comparative politics and political economy along with related methodological approaches. Those with expertise involving regions outside South Asia are particularly encouraged to apply. A Ph.D is required by the time of appointment.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9337

University of Pittsburgh

Rank: Mellon Chair in Political Science

Mellon Chair in Political Science

The Department of Political Science at the University of Pittsburgh invites applications from nationally prominent scholars to fill the Mellon Endowed Chair in Political Science, with the appointment to begin in the 2022-2023 academic year, pending budgetary approval. In filling this chair, the Department seeks candidates with extraordinary credentials in research, teaching, and mentorship.

We welcome candidates from any subfield and are particularly interested in scholars whose expertise contributes to or complements one or more of the following cross-cutting themes: 1) Global and Transnational Challenges, 2) Groups and Identities, 3) Democracy and Development, 4) Representation and Accountability, and/or whose leadership will shape an emerging initiative in Structural Racism, Oppression, and Black Political Experiences (see our ad for an assistant professor). In addition, we welcome candidates who can build on Pittsburgh's interdisciplinary strengths in studying cities, public health, education, and technology.

The Political Science Department at the University of Pittsburgh has faculty members with vibrant and varied research agendas. It has long fostered collegiality and a culture of collaboration among faculty and graduate students. The Department benefits from numerous synergies with other units on campus, including the University Center for International Studies, a world renowned, multidisciplinary institute housing centers for area studies and for topical specializations in international studies, and the Graduate School of Public and International Affairs, a public administration and public policy school emphasizing international relations and political development. The City of Pittsburgh frequently tops "most livable city" rankings thanks to its numerous social and cultural offerings and low cost of living.

Minimum qualifications: applicants must have a PhD, at least 6 years of experience, significant record of publications, and demonstrated ability to deliver high-quality instruction, to contribute to an inclusive climate, and to attract and retain a diverse study body.

The committee will begin looking at applications November 15, 2021 but will continue to accept materials until the position is filled. Candidates should send a letter of interest, a CV, and 3 names of people that can provide references when needed; cover letters should include a discussion how the candidate's research, teaching or service demonstrates a commitment to diversity and inclusion. Please apply online at:

https://cfopitt.taleo.net/careersection/pitt_faculty_external/jobdetail.ftl?job=21006309&tz=GMT-04%3A00&tzname=America%2FNew_York

The Political Science Department telephone number is (412) 648-7290; the contact e-mail address is wynn2@pitt.edu.

The University of Pittsburgh is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and values equality of opportunity, human dignity and diversity. EOE, including disability/vets.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/30/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9241

Syracuse University

Rank: African American Studies Department Chair

Subfield(s): Open, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: African American Politics, Africa, Race & Ethnic Politics

The Department of African American Studies (<https://thecollege.syr.edu/african-american-studies/>) in Syracuse University's College of Arts & Sciences seeks a dynamic scholar to serve as Department Chair beginning Fall 2022. The successful candidate will possess a strong record of scholarship; teaching excellence; experience overseeing departmental administrative procedures and governance; demonstrated skill in collaborating with faculty on curricula and programming for undergraduate majors and minors and graduate students; and a commitment to community engagement.

Since gaining department status in 1979, African American Studies at SU has offered multi-disciplinary approaches to global studies of people of African descent. Unique departmental resources, such as the Martin Luther King, Jr. Library (<https://thecollege.syr.edu/diversity-and-inclusion/mlk-library/>) and the Community Folk Art Center (<https://communityfolkartcenter.org/>), have been integral to academic initiatives. Recent and pending faculty retirements have led to a critical juncture. The new chair will thus play a pivotal role in leading the department as it formulates strategic plans to engage changing social, political, cultural, technological, and pedagogical landscapes.

The position requires a Ph.D. with a principal research and teaching focus on aspects of Black life in the Americas, the Caribbean, Africa, or Europe. Scholars in any field of the humanities or social sciences are welcome to apply. Candidates who have met the standards for the rank of professor with tenure are preferred. However, full consideration will also be given to applications from advanced tenured associate professors. The teaching requirement during the three-year term as Department Chair will be one course per semester. At the end of the chair term, two courses per semester will be required.

Applications must include a current curriculum vitae; letter of interest; sample publication; diversity, equity, and inclusion statement; and three confidential recommendation letters. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. The salary will be commensurate with qualifications.

To apply, visit Syracuse University Job Board, Department Chair/Professor - African American Studies: <https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/88268>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9187

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--Public Policy/Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Open

Public Policy/Administration

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in Public Policy/Public Administration. Applicants from any area of the Public Policy/Public Administration fields are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance, public service ethics, non-profit and public management, and/or organizational theory. We are particularly interested in applicants who also have backgrounds in public policy and address substantively important questions related to inequality. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach (including but not limited to those using rigorous analytical approaches including the tools of computational social science and "big data" in their research).

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci@utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Critical Race Collective; the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field must be finished at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, statements of research, teaching, service, and diversity if not included in the cover letter, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application material in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92424). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent via Interfolio. Review of applications begins October 5, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Michael Jones at mjone239@utk.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9172

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies

Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) Postdoctoral Fellowship, 2022-2023

Job Title: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Requisition Number: D-22-LAS-00001

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill one to two Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. They also will be invited to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

Appointments are for a 12-month term, starting September 1, 2022, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to Apply

For full consideration, applications should be submitted by December 3, 2021, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21221>.

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Curriculum vitae
- 3) Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
- 4) A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
- 5) Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree (earned within three years of the start date). Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/3/2021

Date Posted: 8/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9024

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of a Princeton department and the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are for one or two semesters, during the 2022-2023 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2022 - January 16, 2023; spring semester: January 16, 2023 - June 1, 2023). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed must be received by October 17, 2021, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must submit materials (in English) and apply online at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21241>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay (1-2 semesters), title of the proposed research project, and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae;
- 3) One undergraduate seminar proposal or syllabus for each proposed semester of the fellowship, including a statement of how this course(s) would enhance undergraduate education at Princeton;
- 4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (2,000 – 3,000 words);
- 5) The names and contact information of two referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Advanced degree preferred.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 10/17/2021

Date Posted: 8/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9025

Stanford University

Rank: IDEAL Provostial Fellows for Studies in Race and Ethnicity

Stanford University, in conjunction with its IDEAL initiative, is pleased to announce that it is seeking to appoint four to five early career fellows engaged in the study of race and ethnicity. The purpose of this program is to support the work of early-career researchers, who will lead the next generation of scholarship in race and ethnicity and whose work will point the way forward for reshaping race relations in America. Fellowships may be in any of the seven schools in the University (Business, Earth, Energy & Environmental Sciences, Education, Engineering, Humanities & Sciences, Law, Medicine). Selection criteria includes the originality and quality of the research, as well as demonstrated potential for intellectual achievement. The term of these fellowships is three years, with a start date of September 1, 2022.

To be eligible for an early career fellowship, a candidate must have received their terminal degree no earlier than September 1, 2019. Scholars interested in any field of study are accepted. Early career fellows should have received their terminal degree (PhD, JD, MFA, EdD, DSW, etc.) prior to the start of the fellowship.

Applicants for early career fellowships should submit their applications at <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/18892>. Applications should be submitted electronically and include a cover letter (detailing the candidate's interest in the position), curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a statement of teaching interests, samples of written work, and three letters of recommendation (provide contact information for each and a system generated request will be delivered to each referee). In these materials, please include how your interests would be advanced by a fellowship, needs for laboratory access or special equipment, etc.

The deadline for receiving applications for early career fellowships is October 1, 2021. No application will be accepted after the deadline. Applications will not be accepted by email.

Additional details about the fellowship program can be found at <https://facultydevelopment.stanford.edu/ideal-provostial-fellows>. More information about Stanford's IDEAL initiative is available at <https://ourvision.stanford.edu/microsites/ideal-homepage>.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching, and clinical missions. Consistent with its obligations under the law, the University will provide reasonable accommodation to any employee with a disability who requires accommodation to perform the essential functions of his or her job.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2021

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 9099

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Junior Visiting Fellowship

The Department of Political Science at Washington University invites applications for a junior visiting fellow in political science. The appointment will begin in the Fall semester of 2022 and run for one academic year. We expect fellows to be in residence in St. Louis for the academic year and participate in the activities of the department. These activities include, but are not limited to, participating in departmental and relevant subfield seminars and presenting research at a departmental forum. There are no teaching or formal administrative responsibilities, and we offer a stipend of up to $55,000 or half of the successful applicant's academic salary, whichever amount is lower.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency. This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at <https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/>.

Qualifications

We seek applicants with proven records of excellence in research. Applicants must have completed their PhD in the last six years OR hold an untenured faculty position.

Application Instructions

Submit letter of application, CV, two letters of recommendation, and a short statement explaining why you wish to spend a year at Wash U and identifying potential opportunities for collaboration.

Apply at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/90746>

For any questions please email Jessica Droege (jdroege@wustl.edu)

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University's policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/14/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9043

OTHER

University of Florida

Rank: Director, Center for African Studies

The University of Florida's College of Liberal Arts and Sciences invites applications for the position of Director of the Center for African Studies. This is a tenure accruing position. The University of Florida is looking for an intellectual leader with a commitment to collaborative university-wide programs and the capacity to articulate a vision for the future of African Studies in the academy.

The University of Florida is a premier public research university located in Gainesville, Florida. Founded in 1853 as a public land-grant, sea-grant, and space-grant institution, UF is ranked #5 among public universities in the nation (U.S. News & World Report, 2022) and is a world-class institution of scholarship, learning, and public service. UF is home to 16 colleges, and to more than 200 research, service, and education centers, bureaus, and institutes. The university is among the nation's most academically comprehensive and robust research institutions.

UF's Center for African Studies is a National Resource Center for African Studies and one of the strongest in the nation. It is multidisciplinary in scope and receives funding from the U.S. Department of Education's Title VI program. In addition to over 100 affiliate faculty from the 16 colleges, the Center is home to four full-time lecturers and six faculty with joint appointments in other departments. The Center's purpose is to promote excellence in teaching and research about Africa in all disciplines at the University of Florida. It offers undergraduate education and supports graduate studies as essential for the development of a continuing community of Africanist scholars. The Center also disseminates knowledge about Africa to the wider community through an integrated outreach program, and maintains linkages with individuals and institutions on the African continent. Established programmatic strengths of the Center include: African languages and literatures, anthropology, history, politics and governance, religious and cultural studies, conservation and sustainable development, global health, science, and technology and innovation.

We seek an established scholar at the rank of Professor or advanced Associate Professor with a strong interest in advancing research and undergraduate and graduate education, and in promoting access to knowledge production in and about Africa on campus and within the wider community. Candidates for the Director position should demonstrate a strong record of program building and collaborative research across disciplines, experience with grant writing and administration, leadership experience, and national and international recognition as a scholar. Candidates should also have extensive academic contacts in Africa, and firm grounding in African area studies paradigms. Areas of expertise may include the humanities, social sciences, STEAM, or a combination thereof. The Director will hold a tenured appointment within an appropriate CLAS academic unit.

We anticipate that prospective candidates will demonstrate strong leadership and the capacity to build on the research, programmatic goals, and established connections to the African continent that have propelled the Center's success over the past decades. Simultaneously, we seek candidates with visions and ideas that can move the Center in new directions that reflect emerging disciplinary and global issues and embody UF's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion on our campus and in our programs and curricula.

For full consideration, applications must be submitted online at <https://jobs.ufl.edu/>. A complete application will include:

- a cover letter summarizing the applicant's qualifications, interests, and suitability for the position;
- a current full CV;
- a research statement;
- a statement on administrative/program building experience;
- a statement on experience with the writing and administration of grants;
- names and contact information of three references. After initial review, applicants who are chosen to receive further consideration will be asked to request confidential letters of recommendation from their references.

Applications will be reviewed beginning January 5, 2022, and the position will remain open until filled. Only complete applications will be reviewed at this time. Applications received after this date may be considered at the discretion of the committee and/or hiring authority.

For further information or questions, please contact the Steering Committee Chair, Dr. Terje Ostebo: ostebo@ufl.edu

All candidates for employment are subject to a pre-employment screening which includes a review of criminal records, reference checks, and verification of education.

Final candidate will be required to provide official transcript to the hiring department upon hire. A transcript will not be considered "official" if a designation of "Issued to Student" is visible. Degrees earned from an education institution outside of the United States are required to be evaluated by a professional credentialing service provider approved by National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES), which can be found at <http://www.naces.org/>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9776

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Public Opinion, Science & Technology, Research Methods

Postdoctoral fellowship program in Science of Science Communication at the Annenberg Public Policy Center of the University of Pennsylvania

As part of its Annenberg Center for the Advanced Study of Communication, the Annenberg Public Policy Center (APPC; <http://www.annenbergpublicpolicycenter.org>) of the University of Pennsylvania's postdoctoral fellowship program in the Science of Science Communication (SSC) is accepting applications for the 2022-2023 academic year. Fellows in the program will work closely with other fellows and senior researchers of APPC on scholarship designed to understand basic problems (e.g., source credibility, communication processes, attitude change, belief formation, conspiracy theories, and misinformation debunking) as well as applied ones (e.g., climate change, vaccines, and COVID-19). The program is interdisciplinary and is currently led by social psychologist and communication scholar, Dolores Albarracín (<https://www.asc.upenn.edu/research/centers/social-action-lab>).

Applicants should submit a cover letter as well as a curriculum vitae, a letter of reference from their dissertation advisor, and a description of the applicant's scholarly interests. Two more references will be requested later in the process. First-year fellows will receive a stipend of $65,000 and serve in a 12-month appointment, beginning July 1, 2022. An allowance of up to $1,500 will be provided to offset pre-approved, receipt-documented relocation expenses, and APPC will reimburse up to $2,000 in travel to high-level conferences to present APPC research (subject to any applicable university Covid-19 travel restrictions). Renewal for a second year is contingent upon performance and budgetary considerations.

We are seeking fellows who apply a variety of disciplinary and methodological approaches, and have completed a Ph.D. in a social, behavioral, or computational science within the last five years.

Please send the letter of interest, CV, and names of two references to appc-apply@appc.upenn.edu. The letter of reference should be sent to the same email address by the dissertation adviser. Questions about current lines of research or other academic aspects may be directed to Dr. Albarracín at dalba@upenn.edu.

The application deadline is February 15, 2022 for a July 1, 2022 start. However, decisions will be made on a rolling basis.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9771

Butler University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, Race & Ethnic Politics, Lesbian & Gay Studies

The Race, Gender and Sexuality Studies (RGSS) program is committed to intersectional and critical approaches to the study of race, gender, and sexuality. We seek a colleague with expertise in critical theories of race and racism with a corollary emphasis in one or more areas (such as, but not limited to): reproductive justice, environmental racism/sexism/classism, transgender identity, decolonization studies, health disparities, poverty studies, or disability studies with a national, or international, and/or transnational focus. We are looking for a colleague whose teaching expertise complements and expands our current course offerings, which include Critical Theories of Race and Racism, Feminist and Queer Theory, an introductory course in difference and oppression, a social movements/activism course, and a senior capstone. Teaching load is 3 courses (9 credits) per semester.

Minimum Qualifications

- PhD. in ethnic, critical race, feminist, gender, women's and/or sexuality studies or relevant discipline in the humanities or social sciences required. The doctorate must be completed by August of 2022.
- Evidence of successful scholarly agenda, which can include public intellectual engagement.
- Demonstrated record of supporting BIPOC, working class, and first-generation students.
- Feminist, queer friendly, race conscious, and decolonizing pedagogical practices in
- Ability and commitment to mentor students in community-based learning, undergraduate research, and preparation for professional experiences.
- Demonstrated commitment to program building.

Review of applications will begin Jan. 3, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should submit the following to: RGSSsearch@butler.edu

- a cover letter that summarizes the applicant's scholarship and their teaching interests and highlights their commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching
- a curriculum vitae
- a publication or other writing sample
- a statement of teaching philosophy
- a list of courses taught
- a sample syllabus
- and a list of 3-5 references

Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, student evaluations or teaching observations, 3 letters of recommendation, unofficial transcripts, and additional publications or writing samples. Final round candidates will be asked to provide official transcripts and to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2022, subject to final budgetary approval.

The successful candidate will be joining a collaborative and inclusive community of 30 affiliated faculty who collectively contribute a broad offering of courses for the major, and who hail from diverse backgrounds in the humanities, social sciences, sciences, and the arts. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences offers 33 majors and 33 minors across 12 departments and four interdisciplinary programs of which the RGSS program is one. The others include Science, Technology and Environmental Studies, International Studies, and Peace and Conflict Studies.

Butler University is an equal opportunity employer. We celebrate diversity and are committed to creating an inclusive and equitable environment for all employees. We welcome applications from all individuals regardless of age, gender, race, religion, color, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, national origin, or any other legally protected category. Founded in 1855 by an abolitionist who wanted a university away from the "pernicious influences of slavery," Butler University was one of the first to admit people of color and the second in the nation, and the first in Indiana to admit women on an equal basis with men. Butler was the first in the nation to establish an endowed chair specifically for a female progressive and the second in the university to appoint a woman to the faculty. The country's first chapter of Sigma Gamma Rho, a sorority for African American women, was founded on the Butler campus in 1922. On a 300-acre campus, Butler is within a historic north-side Indianapolis neighborhood just minutes from downtown. Indianapolis is the 17th largest city in the United States with a metropolitan area with a diverse population of more than 1.9 million. Indianapolis is a city on the rise with a vibrant arts and culture scene and quality hospitals and schools.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/3/2022

Date Posted: 11/28/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9768

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Perry World House House: LIGHTNING SCHOLAR SABBATICAL RESIDENCY

The Global Innovation Program at the University of Pennsylvania's Perry World House invites applications for its 2022-2023 Lightning Scholars Program. This program brings untenured, but tenure-track, faculty at either the assistant or associate level from around the world to Philadelphia for a semester or year of writing, fellowship, and bridging the gap between academia and the policy world.

Since launching in 2016, Perry World House has catalyzed interdisciplinary and policy-relevant research by scholars at Penn and around the globe and convened conversations in Philadelphia on the most pressing global challenges. With fellowship and scholars programs, Perry World House has connected Penn's students and faculty with the world's leading academics and policy makers, infusing our research, teaching and, engagement with the ideas, wisdom and experience of those shaping world events.

This fellowship program allows untenured faculty members at leading research universities around the world to join Perry World House and the Penn community for a semester or full academic year in residence in Philadelphia to produce a major research project or book. While the fellowship program is for faculty working on global affairs topics, preference will be given to faculty working on subjects broadly related to our two research themes, The Future of the Global Order: Technology, Power and Governance and Global Shifts: Urbanization, Migration, and Climate Change.

The ideal candidates for this new program will be looking for an in-residence fellowship away from their home institution that will provide the space and support to write, but also the opportunity to collaborate with an interdisciplinary and vibrant community of global affairs scholars and practitioners. Perry World House is especially interested in faculty whose work connects to important global policy conversations and who will want to engage in dialogue with some of the many policymakers from around the world who visit Perry World House.

The program's compensation is significant and negotiated on a case-by-case basis. The program is intended to allow the selected Lightning Scholar to take a comfortable leave from their home institution often by supporting the difference between a one semester sabbatical provided by the home institution and a full year leave. Although final compensation will depend on the circumstances of each applicant, the program will provide at least $50,000 as well as relevant fees and health insurance, if needed. The fellowship will also include $5,000 in research support, as well as the opportunity to help shape workshops and colloquia at Perry World House.

Applications, which should be submitted via Interfolio, are welcome from scholars who have either a Ph.D. or equivalent degrees (including a J.D.), are standing faculty members at a college or university, and are on the tenure track but still untenured. Applications for the 2022-2023 academic years will be reviewed on a rolling basis starting January 10, 2022.

Applicants must include a cover-letter, three-page proposal, CV, a letter of support from their home department/institution, and a confidential letter of recommendation. To receive full consideration, applications and letters of support should be received by that date.

To apply, please go to: <http://apply.interfolio.com/98666>.

General Information

The University of Pennsylvania is strongly committed to Penn's Action Plan for Faculty Diversity and Excellence and to establishing a more diverse community at Penn (for more information see: <http://www.upenn.edu/almanac/volumes/v58/n02/diversityplan.html>).

The University of Pennsylvania values diversity and seeks talented students, faculty and staff from diverse backgrounds. The University of Pennsylvania does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, national or ethnic origin, citizenship status, age, disability, veteran status or any other legally protected class status in the administration of its admissions, financial aid, educational or athletic programs, or other University-administered programs or in its employment practices. Questions or complaints regarding this policy should be directed to the Executive Director of the Office of Affirmative Action and Equal Opportunity Programs, Sansom Place East, 3600 Chestnut Street, Suite 228, Philadelphia, PA 19104-6106; or (215) 898-6993 (Voice) or (215) 898-7803 (TDD).

If you have questions, please email worldhouse@pwh.upenn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9755

Butler University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics/Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Latino Politics, Native American Politics, Immigration Policy

The Butler University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States. The candidate should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching and an active scholarly agenda and should be able to teach a methodologically broad undergraduate research methods course. We are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching engages indigenous, Latinx/@, or disability politics, inequality, the politics of migration and citizenship, or other areas that complement the department's present strengths. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach research methods, American politics (including courses aligned with their expertise); and will contribute to the Core Curriculum and to building an inclusive learning environment for an increasingly diverse student population. Ideal candidates will have a record of supporting BIPOC, working class, and first-generation students. The new faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 5, 2022, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2022. Applicants should submit the following to apsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that summarizes the applicant's scholarship and their teaching interests and highlights their commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching; a curriculum vitae; a publication or other writing sample; a statement of teaching philosophy; a list of courses taught; a sample syllabus; and a list of 3-5 references. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation; and unofficial transcripts, and may provide additional publications or writing samples. Final round candidates will be asked to provide official transcripts and to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2022, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Butler University is an equal opportunity employer. We celebrate diversity and are committed to creating an inclusive and equitable environment for all employees. We welcome applications from all individuals, regardless of age, gender, gender identity, sex, race, religion, color, disability, protected veteran status, sexual orientation, national origin, individuals with a disability, or any other legally protected category.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/5/2022

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9744

University of California, Santa Barbara

Rank: Corporate Sustainability Open Faculty Position

Corporate Sustainability Open Faculty Position

Position overview

Position titles:

- Full or Associate Professor of Corporate Environmental Management
- Assistant Professor of Corporate Environmental Management
- Tenure Track Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management
- Tenured Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management

Percent time: 100 Anticipated start: July 1, 2022

Application Window

Open date: November 16th, 2021

Next review date: Thursday, Dec 16, 2021 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Apply by this date to ensure full consideration by the committee.

Final date: Thursday, Jun 30, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
Applications will continue to be accepted until this date, but those received after the review date will only be considered if the position has not yet been filled.

Position description

The Bren School of Environmental Science & Management (<http://www.bren.ucsb.edu>) invites applications for an open-rank faculty position in corporate sustainability. The position is open rank and may be in the University of California's Professor series or Teaching Professor in the UC's Lecturer with Security of Employment (LSOE) series. Professors and Teaching Professors are full Academic Senate positions, with teaching Professors carrying heavier teaching and less research responsibilities. Candidate qualifications should be commensurate with the series and rank. Evaluation of candidates for appointment in the Teaching Professor series will weigh potential contributions to teaching and leadership more heavily.

The Bren School is a leader in developing cross-disciplinary solutions to environmental problems. The School's Corporate Environmental Management specialization prepares Master's students for careers helping companies achieve their business and environmental goals. The Bren School is a graduate school within UCSB that provides rigorous, multi-disciplinary training in environmental science and management to Master's and PhD students. The faculty are drawn from the natural sciences, social sciences, engineering, and management.

The Bren School is open to candidates from business schools and from across the social sciences, including economics, political science, sociology, and psychology.

The Bren School is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service. At Bren, we recognize the intrinsic relationship between diversity and excellence in all our endeavors; we embrace open, inclusive, and equitable access to opportunities for learning and development as our obligation and goal. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, students and staff who share our commitment to these principles. Successful candidates for faculty positions will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to equity and inclusion in their application materials, including the Statement describing contributions to diversity. This evidence can include:

- Efforts to advance equitable access to education;
- Public service that addresses the needs of California's diverse population;
- Research that highlights inequalities;
- Mentoring and advising students, particularly from underrepresented and underserved populations;
- Creating effective strategies for the educational advancement of students in under-represented groups.

School: <https://www.bren.ucsb.edu/>

Qualifications

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Applicants must have completed all requirements for a PhD (or other terminal degree) except the dissertation at the time of application.

Additional qualifications (required at time of start)

PhD or other terminal degree required by the time of hire.

Preferred qualifications

Candidates may teach and do research in areas such as strategy, management and organizations, organizational behavior, leadership, organizational theory and entrepreneurship.

Ideal candidates will offer a combination of:

- An accomplished research portfolio and/or a trajectory that includes significant contributions to understanding corporate sustainability.
- Demonstrated or potential excellence in teaching business and corporate sustainability to professional Master's degree students.
- Leadership for the School's Corporate Environmental Management programs.
- Synergies with the School's research, teaching and extended communities in the pursuit of sustainable environmental solutions.
- A demonstrated record of or potential contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Application Requirements by Level

Full Professor and Associate Professor

Position title: Full or Associate Professor of Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for a Full or Associate Professor Position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) contact information for at least three references. Applicants for Full or Associate Professor may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current tenured professor; position equivalent to tenured professor or position (e.g. at an international university). Please note that this determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 required (contact information only)

References will only be contacted if candidate becomes a finalist.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401> Assistant Professor

Position title: Assistant Professor of Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for an Assistant Professor Position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) arrange for least three letters of reference to be submitted on their behalf via the UC Recruit website, ideally by the current review date. Applicants for Assistant Professor may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current or recent PhD candidate or graduate; current or recent postdoc; current assistant professor (including those who are "senior" assistant professors near tenure). Please note that this level determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 letters of reference required

Candidate must request letters from contacts in UC Recruit in order for the application to be considered complete.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401> Lecturer PSOE

Position title: Tenure Track Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for a Lecturer PSOE position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) arrange for least three letters of reference to be submitted on their behalf via the UC Recruit website, ideally by the current review date. Applicants for Lecturer PSOE may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current or recent PhD candidate or graduate; current or recent postdoc; current assistant professor (including those who are "senior" assistant professors near tenure). Please note that this level determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 letters of reference required

Candidate must request letters from contacts in UC Recruit in order for the application to be considered complete.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401> Lecturer SOE and Senior Lecturer SOE

Position title: Tenured Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for a Lecturer SOE and Senior Lecturer SOE position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) arrange for least three letters of reference to be submitted on their behalf via the UC Recruit website, ideally by the current review date. Applicants for Lecturer SOE and Senior Lecturer SOE may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current or recent PhD candidate or graduate; current or recent postdoc; current assistant professor (including those who are "senior" assistant professors near tenure). Please note that this level determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 required (contact information only)

References will only be contacted if candidate becomes a finalist.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401>

Help contact: kellykeogh@ucsb.edu

Campus Information

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/5000695/SARS-CoV-2_Covid-19. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. New University of California employees must (a) provide proof of receiving at least one dose of a COVID-19 Vaccine no later than 14 calendar days after their first date of employment and provide proof of Full Vaccination no later than eight weeks after their first date of employment; or (b) if applicable, submit a request for Exception or Deferral no later than 14 calendar days after their first date of employment. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Job location

Santa Barbara, CA

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9745

Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies

Rank: Assistant Professor of Comparative and International Education and the New Bildung

The Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies
Geneva, Switzerland

invites applications for a tenure-track full-time position at the rank of

Assistant Professor of Comparative and International Education and the New Bildung

Our contemporary societies face unprecedented challenges and uncertainties, most of which have a transnational scope and reach. Ecological crises, resource scarcities, technological disruptions, geopolitical tensions, increasing inequalities and threats to democracy combine into intractable "wicked problems" – problems that are multifactorial and exceptionally complex. In this context, more than ever, education is of key importance. The urgencies of our time call for a new Bildung project, where education policy fosters the cultivation of citizens who are able to embrace this complexity and project their responsibility onto contemporary challenges to the common good.

The Graduate Institute is looking for a scholar in the field of comparative and international education with a particular focus on countries in the Global South. We are especially interested in candidates who:

- analyse changing international cooperation modalities (including, for example, the rise of results-based aid and private sector involvement)
- uncover the inequalities in the current international cooperation architecture
- critically reflect on "governance by numbers" and global norm-setting for national educational developments
- investigate the proliferation of international large-scale student assessments (PISA, TIMSS, and regional and national standardised tests) for policy and planning in the education sector
- explore the question of the futures of education
- study the ways in which current global challenges are having an impact on education systems, practices and policies.

Candidates must hold a PhD in Anthropology, Sociology, International Relations, Political Science, Education or a related discipline and demonstrate excellence in research through completed projects and a promising research agenda in international and comparative education. Postdoctoral research experience is not required but considered a strong asset. So is professional experience working with international organisations and initiatives that afford governments and civil societies in the Global South opportunities to set reform agendas, play leadership roles, and take ownership in collaborative efforts. Applications from candidates already holding a position of Assistant Professor in another institution are also welcome. A multimethod approach is strongly favoured – and prior application of quantitative research, indicator research and/or network analysis in combination with qualitative methods will be a strong asset.

The position is opened jointly by the Anthropology and Sociology Department and the International Relations/Political Science Department of the Graduate Institute. We are particularly interested in a profile that would cross some of these disciplinary boundaries.

The successful candidate will teach postgraduate courses (in comparative and international education, public policy studies with a focus on education policy, and international cooperation in education) and supervise master's theses in the interdisciplinary programme of the Institute. They will supervise PhD dissertations in the Department of Anthropology and Sociology or the Department of International Relations/Political Science. Commitment to excellence in teaching and working with students from diverse backgrounds and especially those from groups historically underrepresented in higher education is expected. Candidates from the Global South are encouraged to apply.

The successful applicant is expected to serve as the academic Director of NORRAG, the Network for International Policies and Cooperation in Education and Training, and closely cooperate with the Executive Director of NORRAG. NORRAG is a vibrant and innovative global education network that is affiliated with the Graduate Institute of International and Development Studies.

The teaching language is either English or French. Prior knowledge of French is not required, but the successful candidate is expected to acquire a passive knowledge of French within two years of being hired.

Application deadline: 15 January 2022.

To apply: <https://erecruit.graduateinstitute.ch/professeurs/>

Please note that offers received by post will not be considered.

For more information, candidates are encouraged to consult the Institute's website: www.graduateinstitute.ch.

The Institute is an equal opportunity employer and values diversity. We do not discriminate on the basis of age, marital status, disability status, race, national origin, colour, gender, sexual orientation or religion.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/15/2022

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9730

Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service

Rank: Research Manager, Executive Branch Operations

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) is seeking a Section Research Manager (SRM) for the Executive Branch Operations Section within the Government and Finance Division. The Research Manager leads the Section in the development of policy research and analysis relevant to congressional needs, particularly as it relates to federal government management and organizational issues.

The Section Research Manager leads a team of policy analysts conducting policy research and analysis for Congress. The section covers a broad range of federal government management and organizational issues. This includes, but is not limited to presidential powers; appointment process; federal workforce; regulatory process; inspectors general, information policy; budget process; financial management; and procurement. The section's crosscutting portfolio provides opportunities to collaborate with colleagues across CRS.

Duties include:

- Managing and supervising policy analysts, including communicating performance standards and expectations to staff, observing staff performance, giving feedback, and assessing performance;
- Ensuring that the work results in objective, authoritative analysis with which the Congress can assess the consequences of legislative/policy options;
- Proactively establishing relationships with committees of jurisdiction, building long-term relationships with clients, and taking initiative to seek out new congressional contacts for CRS;
- Managing congressional requests, concerns, and needs in policy areas within the research management responsibility of the section;
- Collaborating with other managers to ensure an integrative approach to the work by fully identifying significant policy problems facing the Congress, developing analytical approaches to address these problems, and applying appropriate resources; and
- Performing special assignments as directed by the Assistant/Deputy Assistant Director.

Candidates with research and research management experience in issues covered by the section and who have strong interpersonal skills and are capable of leading a highly motivated and talented research staff committed to providing Congress the highest level of nonpartisan, authoritative, objective policy analysis are encouraged to apply. Previous experience in writing, research, and analysis, and knowledge of congressional decision making and legislative process is desired.

CRS works exclusively for the United States Congress, providing policy and legal analysis to committees and Members of both the House and Senate, regardless of party affiliation. As a legislative branch agency within the Library of Congress, CRS has been a valued and respected resource on Capitol Hill for over a century. CRS is well known for analysis that is accurate, authoritative, confidential, objective and nonpartisan. Its highest priority is to ensure that Congress has immediate access to the nation's best thinking on public policy issues of interest to its Members and Committees.

CRS is fully committed to workforce diversity. Interested applicants must apply online at USAJOBS: <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/621948400>.

Please help us improve our recruitment efforts by letting us know how you heard about the position. This question is asked in the application process.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: 12/13/2021

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: $140,000 - $149,999

eJobs ID: 9734

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS)

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Areas Expertise: Region Open

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time "Post-doc fellows" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political Science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9714

Fudan University

Rank: Post-doctoral fellows

Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS)

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Areas Expertise: Region Open

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time "Post-doc fellows" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong potentials to publish their research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI). They should employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the field. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are both included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
2. An extensive curriculum vitae; including a publication list and information of three references.
3. A statement of research interest and agenda;
4. 1-2 published articles/writing samples;

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9715

Fudan University

Rank: University Distinguished Professors/Research Fellow

Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS)

Subfield: Political Science, Economics, Sociology

Areas Expertise: Open

Job Type: Full-Time

Job Summary: Fudan Institute for Advanced Study in Social Sciences (Fudan IAS) is seeking applicants for the full-time positions at the top rank of "University Distinguished Professor" at Fudan University, Shanghai. The position is open till filled, and the employment starts at any time. The disciplines are open for political science, economics, and sociology. Applicants should demonstrate strong publication records and their potentials to continue their scholarship during their tenure, and employ rigorous research methods, either quantitative or qualitative, to address important theoretical questions in the fields, and well recognized as leading scholars in the fields of their research. Applicants are expected to continue publishing research on highly reputable international journals (SSCI, AHCI, SCI, and CSSCI), and contribute to the annual research projects at Fudan IAS and to the disciplinary development at Fudan University. Applicants must have the ability to communicate fluently both in English and in Mandarin Chinese.

Institution background: Fudan University is an internationally recognized influential academic institution, one of China's top universities, ranking 3rd in the country and 43rd in QS World University Ranking. Fudan IAS is a comprehensive and cross-disciplinary research institute, with 10 full time research fellows at different academic ranks from junior to distinguished professorship. The institute is an important platform for interdisciplinary integration in the social sciences, recruiting outstanding research fellows, hosting visits of world-renowned scholars, and engaging in international scholarly exchange. The Contemporary China Research Center at Fudan University is created by and housed at the Fudan IAS. The two international journals, Fudan Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences and Chinese Political Science Review's editorial offices are housed at the Fudan IAS and published by the prestigious Springer-Nature Press. The journals are included in the Emerging Sources Citation Index (ESCI), a new index in the Web of Science Core Collection of Clarivate Analytics (formerly Thomson Reuter).

Application documents (all in English):

1. A cover letter;
3. A brief statement of research interest and agenda;
4. Two published journal articles in PDF;
2. An extensive/detailed curriculum vitae; including honors and awards in disciplines, list of publications, information of three references. Letters of recommendation may be requested.

We will arrange on-site interviews at Fudan IAS or other forms of interviews such as Skype and Zoom.

Contact: Please put the intended rank/position in the subject line of email, and send your application documents to the hiring committee at ias_fudan@126.com

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9716

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Development Finance

Specializations: Economic Policy, International Political Economy, Trade

The Empirical Studies of Conflict Project (ESOC) at the School of Public and International Affairs (SPIA), the Julis-Rabinowitz Center for Public Policy and Finance (JRCPPF), and the Department of Operations Research and Financial Engineering (ORFE) at Princeton University seek outstanding candidates for a postdoctoral research associate, or more senior research position, in the area of development finance starting July 1, 2022.

In addition to pursuing their own independent research, the Postdoctoral Research Associate will play a key role in supporting a new Research Community at Princeton focusing on how technical and/or financial interventions can address issues at the intersection of climate change and development in such regions as sub-Saharan Africa. Experience using data from diverse sources like nightlights and social media, in addition to administrative data, would be of particular value. The Associate could also support an ongoing ORFE project in collaboration with a major US bank, or teach an introductory course in statistics and probability for that department, contingent on interest, departmental need, and sufficient course enrollments. If teaching, the Associate would carry a secondary rank of Lecturer during the relevant semester.

The position provides an excellent opportunity for collaboration with Princeton faculty, graduate and undergraduate students. Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of Princeton University.

Applicants must have received (or expect to receive) a Ph.D. between September 2019 and September 2022, in Economics, Finance, Operations Research, Data Science, Political Science, or a related field. This is a 12-month term appointment with the possibility of renewal contingent on satisfactory performance and funding.

All candidates with relevant research interests are encouraged to apply. We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity, and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences, and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Date Posted: 11/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9710

University of Massachusetts Amherst

Rank: Associate or Full Professor/Chair - Department of Afro-American Studies

Associate or Full Professor/Chair - Department of Afro-American Studies

University of Massachusetts Amherst

Amherst, MA

Full time

The College of Humanities and Fine Arts at the University of Massachusetts Amherst seeks a dynamic senior scholar to lead its W.E.B. Du Bois Department of Afro-American Studies and develop its future planning and direction. Founded in 1970, it is one of the oldest, comprehensive degree-granting Black Studies departments in the country.

The duties of the chair include developing and implementing academic and scholarly activities for the department, planning finances and budgets, and supervising faculty, staff, and students in the department. In dialogue with colleagues and stakeholders across the university, the chair will implement the department's strategic vision.

The chair will promote excellence in the department's undergraduate and graduate programs. The chair's responsibilities are classified as professional duties requiring leadership and mentoring of faculty, administrative expertise to include vision, long term and short-term planning, decision-making and coordination of instruction and advising of students, and other aspects of the daily operation of the department.

Applications are invited from candidates in any disciplinary tradition whose teaching and research demonstrate a commitment to Africana Studies as an interdisciplinary enterprise and a vision that holistically embraces the experiences of peoples of African descent with emphasis on Africa, the United States, the Caribbean, and Latin America.

Candidates should (1) have earned a doctoral degree, (2) be a tenured associate or full professor with credentials and experience that are appropriate for a senior level appointment at UMass, (3) have administrative experience that demonstrates potential for success as a department chair, (4) have a commitment to the education of the department's diverse student population, and (5) have a strong interest in community engagement. A record of success in securing program-related funding is highly desirable.

To apply, please submit a letter of interest including your vision for the department, a curriculum vitae, a statement of your current research plan, a personal statement that describes your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion in your research, teaching, and service and a list of three references with full contact information to:

Apply at: <https://careers.umass.edu/amherst/en-us/job/510592/associate-or-full-professordepartment-chair>

Applicants should apply by the priority deadline of December 6, 2021 to ensure full consideration, but review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

References will not be contacted without the applicant's permission.

UMass Amherst is committed to a policy of equal opportunity without regard to race, color, religion, gender, gender identity or expression, age, sexual orientation, national origin, ancestry, disability, military status, or genetic information in employment, admission to and participation in academic programs, activities, and services, and the selection of vendors who provide services or products to the University. To fulfill that policy, UMass Amherst is further committed to a program of affirmative action to eliminate or mitigate artificial barriers and to increase opportunities for the recruitment and advancement of qualified minorities, women, persons with disabilities, and covered veterans. It is the policy of the UMass Amherst to comply with the applicable federal and state statutes, rules, and regulations concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/6/2021

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9695

Harvard University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

WCFLA PROGRAM ON US-JAPAN RELATIONS POSTDOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

During the 2022-23 academic year, the Weatherhead Center for International Affairs (WCFLA) Program on U.S.-Japan Relations at Harvard University will offer postdoctoral fellowships for outstanding scholars in the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, (modern) history, law, political science, public health, and sociology. The fellowship recipient must hold a PhD by August 1, 2022.

Deadline: January 7, 2022 (Friday)

Appointment term: 12 months

Grant amount: $60,000 stipend (12 months); research funds up to $5,000; eligibility for university subsidized health insurance coverage for the grantee.

For application details and forms, please visit our website: <https://programs.wcfla.harvard.edu/us-japan/apply-become-postdoctoral-fellow>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/7/2022

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9682

CUNY-John Jay College

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Criminal Justice

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Other

Specializations: Criminal Justice, International Law & Organizations, International Security

Please see full job ad at: <https://cuny.jobs/new-york-ny/assistant-professor-international-criminal-justice/EC9C410776B14CC4A25074AD8CE8990A/job/>

ABOUT JOHN JAY COLLEGE

John Jay College of Criminal Justice is a senior college of the City University of New York (CUNY) led by President Karol V. Mason and an internationally recognized leader in educating for justice. John Jay is a federally-designated Hispanic-serving and Minority-serving institution, it is ranked third in the nation in Black student success, and it is a top ten institution for promoting student social mobility. John Jay is proud to serve a diverse and dynamic student body of 15,000 students that includes nearly fifty percent students who are first in their family to attend college, as well as students who are immigrants, from low-income families, or from other historically underrepresented groups.

The College participates in the doctoral programs of the Graduate Center of the City University of New York and offers bachelor's and master's degrees in traditional criminal justice-related fields of study, as well as in a robust portfolio of liberal arts and sciences programs that highlight themes of justice across the arts, sciences, humanities, and social sciences. John Jay College seeks staff and faculty members who thrive in multicultural academic environments and are committed to access and excellence in higher education.

POSITION OVERVIEW

John Jay College of Criminal Justice invites social scientists in the interdisciplinary field of international criminal justice (ICJ) to apply for a tenure-track, joint appointment in the ICJ BA and ICJ MA programs and in a department to be determined by the candidate's Ph.D. or area of research. (Possible home departments include Criminal Justice; Law, Police Science and Criminal Justice Administration; Sociology; Political Science; Economics; Anthropology; Africana Studies; and Latin American and Latinx Studies, with all personnel matters handled through the home department). The position begins in Fall 2022.

Suitable candidates with an international/comparative focus in criminal justice are encouraged to apply and the search is open with respect to topic and geographic region of scholarly interest. Candidates are expected to bring enthusiasm and demonstrated commitment to teaching and to develop and maintain an active research and publication agenda. The successful candidate will perform teaching, research and guidance duties in their area(s) of expertise, to include teaching in their home department and in the BA and MA programs in ICJ. Applicants must demonstrate that they are qualified to teach core courses in the B.A and M.A. ICJ programs. They also share responsibility for committee, department and ICJ program assignments including administrative, supervisory, and other functions. Candidates with a focus on race, ethnic relations, indigeneity, migration, or socioeconomic inequality in a global context are strongly encouraged to apply. The successful candidate must be eager and qualified to work with our diverse student body, and have a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. As demonstrated in John Jay College's

Seven Principles for a Culturally Responsive, Inclusive, and Anti-Racist Curriculum (<http://www.jjay.cuny.edu/sites/default/files/uu1862/principlesforaculturallyresponsiveinclusiveandantiracistcurriculumadoptedbycollegecouncilapril82021.pdf>), the College seeks a faculty member who thrives in a multicultural, collaborative academic environment and is committed to both access and excellence in higher education.

CUNY anticipates a return to fully onsite work before January 2022 and this position is based in New York, NY.

QUALIFICATIONS

Ph.D. degree in area(s) of expertise by June 2022 (ABD applicants will be considered but JDs are insufficient). Publications and teaching experience preferred. Also required are the ability to teach successfully, demonstrated scholarship or achievement, and ability to cooperate with others for the good of the institution.

COMPENSATION

CUNY offers faculty a competitive compensation and benefits package covering health insurance, pension and retirement benefits, paid parental leave, and savings programs. We also provide mentoring and support for research, scholarship, and publication as part of our commitment to ongoing faculty professional development.

HOW TO APPLY

If you are viewing the job posting on any website other than CUNYfirst, please follow the instructions below:

-Go to www.cuny.edu/employment

-Click "Search job postings."

-Click the link for "Faculty" and browse to job Opening ID number 23022

-Click on the "Apply Now" button and follow the instructions

Candidates should provide the following: a letter of application detailing how your teaching, service and/or scholarship has supported the success of students from racial, ethnic, and gender backgrounds that are underrepresented in their academic fields; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CUNY's commitment to diversity; a C.V.; sample of scholarly work of no more than 12,000 words; proof of PhD or progress toward degree with a letter from your advisor securing your defense date; statement of teaching philosophy, and, if available, syllabi and teaching evaluations by December 31, 2021.

In addition, three letters of recommendation are required and must come directly from the referee to Professor Gohar Petrossian, Criminal Justice Department, John Jay College of Criminal Justice, 524 W. 59th Street, New York, NY, 10019 or ICJBAMA@jjay.cuny.edu with the applicant's name in the subject line. All questions should be directed to Prof. Petrossian (gpetrossian@jjay.cuny.edu) or Prof. Barberet (rbarberet@jjay.cuny.edu) by email.

CLOSING DATE

Review of resumes to begin November 18, 2021.

Posting closes on January 3, 2022.

JOB SEARCH CATEGORY

CUNY Job Posting: Faculty

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/8/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9673

Northeastern University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

About Northeastern:

Founded in 1898, Northeastern is a global research university and the recognized leader in experience-driven lifelong learning. Our world-renowned experiential approach empowers our students, faculty, alumni, and partners to create impact far beyond the confines of discipline, degree, and campus.

Our locations—in Boston; Charlotte, North Carolina; London; Portland, Maine; San Francisco; Seattle; Silicon Valley; Toronto; Vancouver; and the Massachusetts communities of Burlington and Nahant—are nodes in our growing global university system. Through this network, we expand opportunities for flexible, student-centered learning and collaborative, solutions-focused research.

Northeastern's comprehensive array of undergraduate and graduate programs—in a variety of on-campus and online formats—lead to degrees through the doctorate in nine colleges and schools. Among these, we offer more than 195 multi-discipline majors and degrees designed to prepare students for purposeful lives and careers.

About the Opportunity:

Northeastern University and the Burnes Family Center for Social Change and Innovation invite applications for one or more tenured/tenure-track faculty appointments to start in the fall of 2022; the specific department and college/school in which these faculty will be appointed will be determined at the time of hire(s). We welcome diverse applicants who conduct organizational or behavioral research, develop technology or methods, focus on public interest law or social justice, or engage in other forms of socially-impactful action-research that advance how institutions and/or communities solve compelling public problems. This is an open rank search (assistant/associate/full professor).

We are particularly interested in individuals who bring a unique perspective, which may include focus areas such as: social innovation, collective intelligence and open innovation, democratic engagement, management, data science/analytics for social good, public administration, public policy or open government, civic technology, engineering, computer science, artificial intelligence, or machine learning, citizen science, organizational behavior, urban planning, design or architecture, communications and communications technology, new media, media advocacy, journalism, information design/data visualization, behavioral sciences, public interest law, as well as areas of relevant theory such as common-goods problems, participatory and collaborative democracy, peace and conflict studies, governance design, public-private partnerships and human development conceptualizations or another discipline focusing on innovative ways to accelerate and help institutions and communities to tackle real world problems and achieve social impact, especially using new technology, data or new social science methods.

Potential topics of interest may also include: climate change and planetary well-being, racial injustice and racial equity, economic inequality, public health and equity, educational outcomes, workforce development, stronger democracy or any of the sustainable development goals. Research and focus areas may be domestic or international.

Because this is an interdisciplinary position announcement, the successful faculty member(s) will be appointed to Department(s) and College(s) at Northeastern University that best fit with their interdisciplinary research and focus; the specific department and college/school in which the faculty will be appointed will be determined at the time of hire. The faculty member will also hold an appointment at the Burnes Family Center for Social Change and Innovation.

Responsibilities:

Responsibilities will include teaching undergraduate and/or graduate courses, mentoring students, conducting an independent research program, and service while also participating in Burnes Family Center for Social Change and Innovation activities, such as training and coaching public problem solvers, shaping policy and real-world interventions and conducting an independent, externally-funded research program. Faculty members will be eligible for annual financial support for their action research and social impact projects from the Burnes Family Center for Social Change and Innovation.

Qualifications:

We are seeking candidates with track records of and interest in action research that aims to solve real world problems while advancing our theoretical understanding of important research questions about institutions, communities and individual behavior. Candidates should have a track record of social impact/service and a Ph.D. (or other terminal degree per discipline, i.e., JD) in a related field by the start of the appointment and an interdisciplinary record of action research commensurate with rank. Qualified candidates must be committed to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University education.

Salary Grade:

FAC

Additional Information

Applicants should submit materials, including a letter of interest, vita, recent working papers and project portfolio, teaching evaluations, and a list of potential references using the Northeastern University application portal at the following address: <https://careers.hrm.northeastern.edu>. Inquiries may be directed to Professor Beth Simone Noveck, Chair of the Search Committee. E-mail: b.noveck@northeastern.edu. Additional information regarding The Burnes Family Center for Social Change and Innovation can be found at burnescenter.northeastern.edu.

Candidates should be committed to fostering diverse and inclusive environments as well as to promoting experiential learning, which are central to a Northeastern University Education. The university actively encourages applicants and/or nominations of women, persons of color, veterans, and persons with disabilities; applicants with diverse ideological views are encouraged to apply.

To Apply:

Follow this link to the listing on Northeastern University's website, and click "Apply Now." <https://careers.hrm.northeastern.edu/en-us/job/507918/assistantassociatefull-professor>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/8/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9674

W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research

Rank: Senior Researcher

The W.E. Upjohn Institute for Employment Research is seeking to hire an experienced Ph.D. researcher whose focus is on issues related to work and employment. We invite researchers in political science, economics, sociology, public policy, or related fields with at least 5 years of post-graduate experience to apply.

Candidates should have a solid publication record, excellent oral and written communication skills for both academic and lay audiences, and a strong interest in addressing policy-relevant employment issues. The Institute is seeking to hire a researcher on a full-time basis or on a part-time basis that, for example, might be combined with an academic appointment in a different location. The Institute offers competitive salaries and benefits and is an equal opportunity employer.

The Upjohn Institute is an endowed, nonprofit research organization that conducts independent, nonpartisan research on employment-related issues. The Institute offers a thriving and collaborative research environment. Our staff includes twelve Ph.Ds. who share common research interests and are excellent colleagues. The Institute's endowment allows researchers considerable freedom in developing their agenda within the Institute's mission. Research staff also seek funding from foundations or government agencies as a way of augmenting their research or becoming more involved in finding practical solutions to employment problems. Researchers receive excellent support from in-house staff, including research assistants, computer specialists, information and database specialists, and administrative assistants.

The Institute is fully committed to the continued development and support of an environment of inclusion. The Institute has an active diversity, equity, and inclusion committee whose recent recommendations led to enhanced personnel policies and employee benefits and expanded staff training and professional development opportunities.

Interested applicants should submit a letter of introduction, curriculum vitae, and two research papers to hr@upjohn.org. The position is open until filled.

About Kalamazoo, Michigan

Home of the Kalamazoo Promise, Kalamazoo is a progressive metropolitan area in Southwest Michigan, located under an hour from the shores of Lake Michigan. Centered halfway between Chicago and Detroit, it has a rich arts culture and a strong educational community that includes Kalamazoo College, a private liberal arts college, and Western Michigan University, a large public research institution with a nationally recognized medical school

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9653

University of Nebraska, Omaha

Rank: Assistant Professor of Emergency Management and Disaster Science

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Other

The Emergency Management and Disaster Science (EMDS) program in the School of Public Administration under the College of Public Affairs and Community Service, at the University of Nebraska at Omaha seeks applicants to fill a tenure track assistant professor position

EMDS offers a Bachelor of Science in Emergency Management and a graduate concentration in Emergency Management through the School of Public Administration. Additionally, our program provides a concentration, minor, and certificate in Tribal Management and Emergency Services as well as minors in Emergency Management and Fire Service Management. EMDS is a part of the academic programs in the School of Public Administration that offer opportunities to teach and work with undergraduate through doctoral students. The School boasts a diverse, supportive, and collaborative academic culture. It has a statewide mission and offers the state's only accredited master's program in public administration. Our talented faculty have extensive backgrounds in research and practice in their sub-fields of emergency management and are engaged in several community service activities in the City of Omaha, the state of Nebraska, and nationwide. The Mission of Emergency Management and Disaster Science is to:

- Develop student talents, wisdom, and experiences in a supportive yet demanding academic environment that prepares them for a personally rewarding, successful professional career in Emergency Management.
- Initiate and lead superior research initiatives while supporting continuous improvements in efficiency, reliability, safety, and sustainability for the provision of emergency services in the State of Nebraska and beyond.
- Foster cooperative relationships with neighboring communities, state and federal agencies, private enterprises, and nonprofit organizations through collaborative education, training, and service projects that enhance performance and productivity.
- Set, preserve, and promote the utmost standards of honesty, integrity, and transparency through the teaching of and adherence to ethical conduct and open dialogue while ensuring good stewardship and management of program resources.

A successful applicant will,

- Teach our core courses including Preparedness Planning and Risk Mitigation, Agency Collaboration during Disasters, Disaster Response and Recovery
- Conduct research on climate change, sustainability, emergency management technologies, community resilience, business continuity strategy or related fields.
- Provide service to the University, College and/or School to help accomplish assignments including accreditation, recruitment, retention, research administration, consultation, and service to the discipline and the community.

We welcome applications from scholars in all areas of Emergency Management including public administration, political science, sociology, fire science, business administration, communication, public health, and information sciences.

Applicants should have,

- Ph.D. degree or ABD in emergency management or a related field from an accredited university by time of hire.
- A developing record of scholarly accomplishment including but not limited to peer-reviewed journal publications.
- A record of excellence, or potential for excellence in undergraduate and graduate level teaching
- Research agenda and interest in research collaboration with colleagues
- Ability to develop and review curriculum
- Ability to supervise thesis, capstone, and internship assignments of students
- Ability to manage web-based courses and digital technology in the classroom
- Ability to use the latest pedagogical techniques that are effective for synchronous and asynchronous teaching and content creation (video, simulation, game, text, etc.)

The University of Nebraska at Omaha is an equal opportunity employer. The University and School have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups and strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply for this position.

To apply for this position, go to <https://unomaha.peopleadmin.com/postings/14173>. Current curriculum vita, a cover letter addressing professional experience and qualifications, and the names and contact information for three references must be attached to the electronic application. We also request that applicants submit with their application a statement that addresses their past efforts, as well as their plans, to advance equity, diversity, and inclusion in their scholarship, teaching, and service. Applicants are also encouraged to attach evidence of teaching excellence. The position will remain open until filled. If applicants have any questions, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Namkyung Oh at noh@unomaha.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9647

Naval War College

Rank: Chair Strategy and Policy Department

The President, U.S. Naval War College, invites applications for the position of Chair, Strategy and Policy Department.

The U.S. Naval War College. The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

The Strategy and Policy Department. The Strategy and Policy Department educates strategically minded, critical thinking, ethical leaders capable of effectively communicating sound decision making in the joint, interagency, and multinational environments. The strategy courses are rigorous and challenging, designed to educate students to think strategically in a disciplined, analytical, and original manner in preparation for leadership positions. Students master the meaning of a wide range of strategic concepts. With intensive reading and seminar requirements, students undertake in-depth assessments of case studies involving all types of wars, critically analyzing decision making by strategic leaders.

Duties and Responsibilities. The Chair of the Strategy and Policy Department, working under the supervision of the Dean of Academics, provides leadership for all aspects of the Department's operations including: curriculum development; academic outreach; engagement with the wider civilian and PME academic world; and faculty recruitment, retention, and development. The Chair oversees the preparation, review, management, and execution of the Department's annual budget. The Chair is responsible for working closely with the College's leadership, fostering and maintaining cooperative relationships with other departments and programs, and encouraging seamless integration across College departments.

Qualifications. The President seeks candidates who are successful, proven leaders in the academic world. An earned Ph.D. in one of the following fields: international relations, international security affairs, regional studies, war studies, diplomatic and international history, naval or military history or a related field is required. The successful candidate must have a distinguished record of scholarly excellence that would warrant the rank of full professor at the Naval War College and have a strong background in teaching, excellent communication and interpersonal skills, and demonstrated experience leading and managing a diverse group of faculty. A highly desirable candidate should have strong team building skills and experience in developing innovative approaches to curriculum and teaching methodology.

Candidates must be U.S. citizens capable of obtaining a Department of Defense security clearance at the SECRET level.

Appointment. The appointment is governed by provisions of 10 USC 8748 as delegated by the Secretary of the Navy, and the regulations of the U.S. Office of Personnel Management that apply to "Excepted" appointments under Schedule A. For the successful candidate, the initial term of appointment is expected to be four years in length with provision for renewal dependent on performance. Expected start date is no later than summer 2022.

Salary. Salary is competitive and is accompanied by a generous federal employee benefits package that includes health insurance with employer contribution, retirement savings plan, paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Rank and salary are commensurate with experience and credentials in accordance with Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule.

Applications. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-22-01 and forward their application package to: nwc-22-01@usnwc.edu. The application package must include: (1) cover letter and (2) curriculum vitae (with names and contact information for three references). Applications will be accepted until 11:59 pm (EST) 26 November 2021.

Questions about the position or the institution should be emailed to: phil.haun@usnwc.edu.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veteran's preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, "Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty" to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, "Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference," and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.)

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 11/26/2021

Date Posted: 11/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9637

Ryerson University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Black Political Studies

Located in downtown Toronto, the largest and most culturally diverse city in Canada and on the territory of the Anishinaabeg, Haudenosaunee and the Wendat Peoples, the Department of Politics and Public Administration in the Faculty of Arts at Ryerson University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Black Political Studies. In particular, the Department seeks to attract a range of candidates that could engage with theories and methodologies currently informing the field and that have research/supervision/teaching ability in areas of interest such as, but not limited to, critical race theory, post-colonial politics, anti-Black racism, Black political thought, the historical legacy of slavery and colonialism, anti-colonialism and decolonization, social movements, public policy, and/or electoral politics. The appointment shall be effective July 1, 2022, subject to final budgetary approval.

Ryerson University is committed to correcting the conditions of disadvantage in employment in Canada and this position has been designated as an equity hire. Candidates who identify as members of equity-deserving groups are especially welcome to apply and encouraged to self-identify in their application. Recognizing the underrepresentation of Black faculty, applications from individuals who self-identify as Black peoples of African Descent (for example Africans and African heritage people from the Caribbean, Americas, Europe) are specifically encouraged.

The successful candidate will engage in a combination of teaching, scholarly research and service duties while maintaining an inclusive, equitable, and collegial work environment across all activities. Duties will include: contributing to the Department's undergraduate programs in Politics and Governance (BA); Public Administration and

Governance (BA); and graduate program in Public Policy and Administration (MA) through teaching in the undergraduate program and supervision of graduate students in the Master of Arts in Public Policy and Administration program; as well as the PhD in Policy Studies; contributing to and collaborating with existing and new research partners on campus and in the wider community; pursuing a strong, active, externally-funded research program; developing and maintaining partnerships with academic and local communities; and contributing to collegial service through an active role in the life of the Department. The candidate will also have the opportunity to be involved with other interdisciplinary graduate programs in the Faculty of Arts and the University. The successful candidate will be a key part in the effort by the Department and of the University to add diversity and inclusion to its curriculum, research, engagement with the community, and faculty makeup.

Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, or a closely-related field by the date of appointment. Exceptionally qualified candidates who are all-but-dissertation (ABD) and are very close to completion of their PhD in the required areas may also be considered. Candidates must present evidence of:

a strong research and/or knowledge mobilization and translation profile with evidence of an emerging scholarly record and the potential to establish and maintain an independent, externally-funded research program; the capacity/potential for effective teaching and student training; the capacity for developing and maintaining partnerships with academic and local communities; a strong commitment to our values of Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion as it pertains to service, teaching, and scholarly research or creative activities, including a demonstrated ability to make learning accessible and inclusive for a diverse student population; and the ability to contribute to the life of the Department, Faculty and the University through collegial service.

How to Apply

Applicants must submit their application online via the Faculty Recruitment Portal (https://hr.cf.ryerson.ca/ams/faculty/preview.cfm?posting_id=542128) by Nov 21, 2021. The application must contain the following:

- a letter of application;
- a curriculum vitae;
- a research statement and two (2) recent writing samples that exemplify the candidate's scholarly activity;
- a teaching dossier, which includes a statement of teaching philosophy and a sample syllabus for an introductory course (either a past course or a course proposal); and
- names of three (3) individuals who may be contacted for reference letters.

Please note that all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, applications from Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority, in accordance with Canadian immigration regulations. Candidates must therefore indicate in their application if they are a permanent resident or citizen of Canada.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 11/21/2021

Date Posted: 11/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9641

Ryerson University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Canadian Democracy

Located in downtown Toronto, the largest and most culturally diverse city in Canada and on the territory of the Anishinaabeg, Haudenosaunee and the Wendat Peoples, the Department of Politics and Public Administration in the Faculty of Arts at Ryerson University invites applications for a tenure track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Canadian Democracy. While the position is open with respect to substantive focus, the Department is interested in candidates who study Canadian Politics, Canadian institutions, Canada in comparative perspective, Canada and anti-Black racism, and different forms of racism/exclusions, class, gender, social movements, and/or public policy. The appointment shall be effective July 1, 2022, subject to final budgetary approval.

Ryerson University is committed to correcting the conditions of disadvantage in employment in Canada and this position has been designated as an equity hire. Candidates who identify as members of equity-deserving groups are especially welcome to apply and encouraged to self-identify through the Diversity Self-ID in our application process. Furthermore, in recognition of the underrepresentation of Black faculty, applications from individuals who self-identify as Black peoples of African Descent (for example Africans and African heritage people from the Caribbean, Americas, Europe) are specifically encouraged.

The successful candidate will engage in a combination of teaching, scholarly research and service duties while maintaining an inclusive, equitable, and collegial work environment across all activities. Duties will include: contributing to the Department's undergraduate programs in Politics and Governance (BA); Public Administration and Governance (BA); and graduate program in Public Policy and Administration (MA) through teaching in the undergraduate program and supervision of graduate students in the Master of Arts in Public Policy and Administration program; as well as the PhD in Policy Studies; contributing to and collaborating with existing and new research partners on campus and in the wider community; pursuing a strong, active, externally-funded research program; developing and maintaining partnerships with academic and local communities; and contributing to collegial service through an active role in the life of the Department. The candidate will also have the opportunity to be involved with other interdisciplinary graduate programs in the Faculty of Arts and the University. The successful candidate will be a key part in the effort by the Department and of the University to add diversity and inclusion to its curriculum, research, engagement with the community, and faculty makeup.

Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, or a closely-related field by the date of appointment. Exceptionally qualified candidates who are all-but-dissertation (ABD) and are very close to completion of their PhD in the required areas may also be considered. Candidates must present evidence of:

a strong research and/or knowledge mobilization and translation profile with evidence of an emerging scholarly record and the potential to establish and maintain an independent, externally-funded research program; the capacity/potential for effective teaching and student training; the capacity for developing and maintaining partnerships with academic and local communities; a strong commitment to our values of Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion as it pertains to service, teaching, and scholarly research or creative activities, including a demonstrated ability to make learning accessible and inclusive for a diverse student population; and the ability to contribute to the life of the Department, Faculty and the University through collegial service.

How to Apply

Applicants must submit their application online via the Faculty Recruitment Portal (https://hr.cf.ryerson.ca/ams/faculty/preview.cfm?posting_id=542129) by November 21, 2021. The application must contain the following:

- a letter of application;
- a curriculum vitae;
- a research statement and two (2) recent writing samples that exemplify the candidate's scholarly activity;
- a teaching dossier, which includes a statement of teaching philosophy and a sample syllabus for an introductory course (either a past course or a course proposal); and
- names of three (3) individuals who may be contacted for reference letters.

Please note that all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, applications from Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority, in accordance with Canadian immigration regulations. Candidates must therefore indicate in their application if they are a permanent resident or citizen of Canada.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 11/21/2021

Date Posted: 11/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9642

University of California, Santa Barbara

Rank: Assistant Professor in Environmental Justice

The University of California, Santa Barbara Department of Political Science seeks a scholar in environmental justice for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2022. The appointment may concentrate on any political science subfield, with a particular interest in scholarship that explores how the politics of race, ethnicity, and inequality intersect with regulation of the environment, energy production, and/or extractive resources. The candidate should have research that relates to the Department's strong interdisciplinary focus in the study of the environment. We are open with respect to methodological or theoretical approach, but the candidate's research should be theoretically informed and must demonstrate mastery of appropriate research methods.

Diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at UC Santa Barbara. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, staff and students who share our commitment to these values. UCSB is the first Hispanic-Serving Institution in the American Association of Universities (AAU). We have a diverse undergraduate population, including also AAPI and first generation scholars. The University is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service as appropriate to the position.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/5000695/SARS-CoV-2_Covid-19. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. For new University of California employees, the applicable deadline is eight weeks after their first date of employment. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.)

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 5/1/2022

Date Posted: 11/1/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9638

University of California, Santa Barbara

Rank: Assistant Professor in Environmental Justice

The University of California, Santa Barbara Department of Political Science seeks a scholar in environmental justice for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2022. The appointment may concentrate on any political science subfield, with a particular interest in scholarship that explores how the politics of race, ethnicity, and inequality intersect with regulation of the environment, energy production, and/or extractive resources. The candidate should have research that relates to the Department's strong interdisciplinary focus in the study of the environment. We are open with respect to methodological or theoretical approach, but the candidate's research should be theoretically informed and must demonstrate mastery of appropriate research methods. For more information, please visit the job posting here: <https://recruit.ap.ucsb.edu/JPF02075>

Diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at UC Santa Barbara. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, staff and students who share our commitment to these values. UCSB is the first Hispanic-Serving Institution in the American Association of Universities (AAU). We have a diverse undergraduate population, including also AAPI and first generation scholars. The University is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service as appropriate to the position.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/5000695/SARS-CoV-2_Covid-19. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. For new University of California employees, the applicable deadline is eight weeks after their first date of employment. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.)

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 5/1/2022
Date Posted: 11/1/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9639

Howard University

Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track

The Department of Political Science in the College of Arts and Sciences invites applications for an open-rank tenure-track position with research interests in the area of Black Politics and American Politics. The successful candidate will be a scholar whose research and teaching engages Black politics in the United States. Scholars' research should focus on people of African descent and fall into one of the following areas: healthcare or health policy, American political institutions, American political development, and/or American political behavior. Substantive areas of teaching should include, but not limited to, American government and politics, Black politics, healthcare or health policy, public policy, electoral politics, and/or Black social movements. We welcome applications from candidates with a range of theoretical and methodological frameworks and approaches.

We seek outstanding applicants with a demonstrated track record of excellence in research and teaching. Successful candidates will demonstrate a commitment to vigorously pursuing extramurally funded research programs in their areas of expertise, actively participate in the Department's teaching and curriculum development at the undergraduate and graduate levels, and mentor undergraduate and graduate students. Evidence of interest and success in mentoring underrepresented minority students is highly desired. Howard University, a culturally diverse, comprehensive, research intensive and historically Black private university, provides an educational experience of exceptional quality at the undergraduate, graduate, and professional levels to students of high academic standing and potential, with particular emphasis upon educational opportunities for Black students. Howard University is classified as Doctoral University: Higher Research Activity by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching. It is a residential campus of approximately 10,000 students located in the heart of the nation's capital, Washington, DC.

The Department of Political Science currently consists of 15 faculty members and offers BA, MA, and PhD degrees in political science. Founded in 1928 by Nobel laureate, diplomat Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, the Department counts Vice-President Elect Kamala Harris, U.S. Representative Elijah Cummings, and U.S. Representative Charles Diggs among its many prominent graduates. The only graduate program in political science in the world with a specialization in Black politics and currently the second-largest undergraduate major, POLS is also the leading department in International Affairs, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary major, and Community Development, the undergraduate Interdisciplinary minor. Required Qualifications: • Ph.D. in political science or related field (e.g., government, public policy, etc) from an accredited institution; • Record of scholarship, teaching, and professional service commensurate with the rank of assistant professor; • Effective communication and organizational skills; and • Evidence of successful grant writing experience.

Complete applications consist of a single PDF file containing: 1) Cover letter addressing the qualifications listed above 2) Current curriculum vita 3) Two-page statement of research accomplishments, interests and future plans 4) Two-page statement of teaching experience and philosophy 5) A writing sample 6) Three letters of recommendation.

Completed applications should be addressed to the Chair of the search committee, Dr. Richard Seltzer, and submitted electronically via AmericanBlackPoliticsSearch@howard.edu. Screening will begin on September 20, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. The desired starting date is August 15, 2022. Additional details and information can be found at <http://coas.howard.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/27/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9628

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Tenure Track Faculty Position at Assistant or Associate Rank Shri Shantinath Endowed Chair in Ahimsa Studies (Nonviolence Studies)

Tenure Track Faculty Position at Assistant or Associate Rank
 Shri Shantinath Endowed Chair in Ahimsa Studies (Nonviolence Studies)
 College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences

The College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at Cal Poly Pomona invites applications for a tenure-track position at the Rank of Assistant or Associate Professor effective 2022-2023 academic year. The successful candidate will hold Shri Shantinath Endowed Chair in Ahimsa Studies and serve as the Director of the Ahimsa Center, as well as teach and pursue an active research agenda.

Duties and Responsibilities: Teach undergraduate courses in area of expertise, including Nonviolence in the Modern World and a capstone seminar in nonviolence, have an active research agenda in the study of nonviolence, and direct the Ahimsa Center's various activities.

Minimum Qualifications: Ph.D. in any discipline (preferably from Humanities or Social Sciences); evidence of teaching and scholarly potential in Nonviolence Studies; commitment to organizing public programs such as lectures, conferences, or symposia related to nonviolence; potential to offer programs anchored in nonviolence for professional development of K-12 educators; and commitment to mentoring students from underrepresented groups.

Preferred/Desired Qualifications: Strong interest in community outreach and working with the Center's Advisory Board; one or more years of university teaching experience in nonviolence related area; readiness for designing innovative course work related to nonviolence studies; evidence of scholarly productivity and working with students from underrepresented groups.

Application Process: The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications received by November 15, 2021. Early application is encouraged. For expanded position description, additional application information, and specific procedures, please go to <https://apply.interfolio.com/97334>

For general inquiries, please contact Dr. Tara Sethia, Search Committee Chair, at tsethia@cpp.edu

AA/EOE

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/15/2021
Date Posted: 10/25/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9621

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Cybersecurity
Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Public Policy

The Public Policy and Political Economy program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for a tenure-system Assistant Professor in Cybersecurity and Policy.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The candidate's research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include ethical and legal aspects of cybersecurity, regulation across countries, the economics of information security, the interaction of security and privacy considerations, and the politics of developing and administering cybersecurity policies and programs. While experience in the private sector, government agency, NGO or public policy organization will be an advantage, all exceptional candidates will be considered. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

Applicants should upload a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations; and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

apply online: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/16876>

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 10/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9587

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

The Institute for Politics and Strategy (IPS) at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position in political science and international relations, with a specialization in the relationships among emerging technologies, national security, and international relations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach one course per semester, complete independent research, and attend IPS sponsored seminars and other events. Postdoctoral fellows are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of IPS and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. The annual salary for this position is $50,000 with a $2,500 research and travel budget. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2022. The application deadline is Wednesday, December 1, 2021.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/92233>

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program;
- CV;
- Research Statement;
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach)
- Two scholarly writing samples;
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 10/12/2021
Salary: $50,000 - $59,999
eJobs ID: 9548

Council on Foreign Relations

Rank: 2022-23 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship
Specializations: Defense, Science & Technology, International Security

Council on Foreign Relations Seeking 2022-2023 Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship Applicants

The Stanton Nuclear Security Fellowship offers younger scholars studying nuclear security issues the opportunity to spend a period of twelve months at CFR's offices in New York or Washington, DC, conducting policy-relevant research. While in residence full time at CFR, selected fellows will lead a project of their own design, conduct original research, and write at least one policy-relevant document.

Fellowship Award

The duration of the fellowship is twelve months, beginning in September. The program awards a stipend of $110,000 for junior faculty and $80,000 for postdoctoral fellows. Fellows are considered independent contractors rather than employees of CFR, and are not eligible for employment benefits, including health insurance.

Application

The deadline to apply is December 15, 2021. Program details, eligibility requirements, and the online application can be found online at: <https://www.cfr.org/fellowships/stanton-nuclear-security-fellowship>. If you have additional questions, please contact fellowships@cfr.org.

How to Apply

You can apply for this position online at <https://www.cfr.org/fellowships/stanton-nuclear-security-fellowship>.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/15/2021
Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9549

Stanford University Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law

Rank: Gerhard Casper Postdoctoral Fellow in Rule of Law
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Law, Other

The Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law (CDDRL) at Stanford University invites applications for the Gerhard Casper Fellow in Rule of Law for 2022-23. We welcome research on any aspect of rule of law, including judicial politics, criminal justice, and the politicization of judicial institutions. We are an interdisciplinary center; candidates from any relevant field (i.e. social sciences, law) are welcome to apply.

This is a one-year, residential postdoctoral fellowship. Candidates must have earned their PhD or JD within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their dissertations by July 2022. The Gerhard Casper Fellow will be part of CDDRL's larger cohort of pre- and postdoctoral fellows; for more information, see: <https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/cddrl-pre-doctoral-and-postdoctoral-fellowships>

Please apply through the CDDRL fellowship application process, and indicate in your cover letter that you would like to be considered for the Gerhard Casper Rule of Law Postdoctoral Fellowship. Application materials include a CV, cover letter (of no more than 3 pages), a statement of proposed research (5-10 pages), a complete set of transcripts, and 3 letters of recommendation.

The online application is available here: https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/stanford_cddrl_fellowship

For additional questions, please contact fellowship coordinator Kristin Chandler (kdchandler@stanford.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/17/2021
Date Posted: 10/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9551

Roanoke College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Roanoke College: Position at the Assistant Professor Rank

The Public Affairs Department invites applications for a tenure-track position in Criminal Justice beginning in August 2022. Successful candidates should be critical criminologists able to offer courses in Social Inequalities and Criminal Justice, as well as the department's course in Research Methods. The ability to offer courses in Criminal Justice Policy and/or to teach for the Department's Inside-Out Prison Exchange Program is preferred. All faculty members in the Department offer courses in the General Education curriculum. A Ph.D. with teaching experience is preferred, but an ABD will be considered.

The Public Affairs Department administers majors in Political Science, International Relations, and Criminal Justice. In addition to excellent teaching and collegiality the Public Affairs Department supports and expects active professional participation and research. Successful candidates are expected to teach six courses a year (3/3), as well as an additional course once every three years during Roanoke College's intensive learning May term.

Roanoke College is a nationally ranked residential liberal arts college affiliated with the Lutheran Church (ELCA), located in the beautiful Roanoke Valley of Virginia. A Phi Beta Kappa institution, Roanoke College is an equal opportunity employer and actively seeks diversity among its faculty, staff, and students; members of under-represented groups are especially encouraged to apply. We seek candidates with interests in mentoring under-represented students, diversifying curricular offerings, or sponsoring diverse community engagement. Applicants are asked to address their potential contributions in support of a diverse community in their cover letters.

Applicants should submit cover letter (including the statement in support of diversity), curriculum vitae, teaching statement, research statement, teaching evaluations (if available), and three letters of recommendation via e-mail to: Judi Pinckney (pinckney@roanoke.edu), Secretary, Public Affairs Department. Please visit our Departmental website at: https://www.roanoke.edu/inside/a-z_index/public_affairs for more information. Review of applications will be on November 5 and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 11/5/2021
Date Posted: 10/8/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9537

Columbia University

Rank: Professor of Professional Practice in Global Policy
Subfield(s): Other, Public Administration, Administration

Professor of Professional Practice in Global Policy
 Founding Director of MPA in Global Leadership Program
 Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) brings together an interdisciplinary faculty to conduct research in policy-related fields and train graduate students for careers in global public policy.

SIPA now invites applications for a full-time appointment as Professor of Professional Practice to launch and run a new graduate degree for senior leaders in global policy and management. The position is expected to begin July 1, 2022, or as soon as possible.

Candidates must have at least 10 years' experience in senior positions and be widely recognized for their distinction in a global policy field related to SIPA's areas of excellence. Candidates also must be willing and able to continue to make significant contributions in their field of practice and knowledge. Preferred candidates will hold a graduate degree (PhD or equivalent preferred) and possess university-level teaching experience or show strong promise to succeed as an instructor in a demanding academic environment. Preferred candidates should also show strong promise to succeed as the founding Director of an important new degree program.

The Professor of Professional Practice will serve as founding Director of the Master's in Public Administration in Global Leadership, an intensive 10-month degree designed to prepare senior leaders from around the world to make an even greater impact in their fields. The Director will serve as the academic leader of the program, recruiting instructors and guest lecturers for courses, seminars and workshops and overseeing academic advising of students. The Director will be expected to teach three courses per year in the program (organizing and overseeing the Summer session counts as one course). Working with a full-time Program Manager/Assistant Director and other SIPA professional staff, the Director will oversee student recruitment and admissions, build strategic partnerships, and build and nurture a strong alumni community. The new degree, which has been approved by Columbia University and the New York State Education Department, will enroll its first students in August 2023.

The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of SIPA's academic community. Applications from women and underrepresented minorities are strongly encouraged.

To submit your application, please visit our online application site here:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/95921>

Screening of applicants will begin on November 10.

For further information, please contact Hazel May, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at sipa_academicaffairs@sipa.columbia.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 12/6/2021
Date Posted: 10/6/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9522

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Scientist

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other
Specializations: Defense, International Security, Science & Technology

The Eisenhower Center for Space and Defense Studies within the Department of Political Science supports production and dissemination of knowledge relevant to cadets' National Security learning outcome at the United States Air Force Academy (USAFA). In conjunction with USAFA's Nuclear Enterprise Research Center, Department of Physics, the Eisenhower Center invites applications for a one-year visiting scientist (with potential to extend to two years) to research implications of integrated deterrence, which combines conventional and nuclear strategies across multiple domains, for nuclear posture and infrastructure. The visitor will teach one section of approximately twenty-five cadets per semester and participate with Physics and Political Science research centers on a project exploring "Deterrence and Nuclear Modernization." Financial support of $100K plus a travel budget for the twelve-month term (July 2022-June 2023, one year renewable) will be provided by the Stanton Foundation (Cambridge, MA) through the Air Force Academy Foundation. Expectations for research and teaching will be communicated formally through a separate Volunteer Service Agreement with the Superintendent of the Academy. Ideal candidates will have received their Ph.D. in Political Science or related field and demonstrated technical expertise through a master's degree and/or policy experience in a STEM field related to nuclear war, nuclear terrorism, nuclear proliferation, nuclear weapons, nuclear force posture, or, as it relates to nuclear security, nuclear energy. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage can be found at: <https://www.usafa.edu/academic/political-science/>. Applicants should e-mail cover letter expressing their interest, CV, and two-letters of recommendation to Col Kris Bauman (kris.bauman@afacademy.af.edu), Eisenhower Center, Department of Political Science, USAFA. Application deadline: December 15, 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 12/15/2021
Date Posted: 10/5/2021
Salary: $100,000 - $109,999
eJobs ID: 9511

James Madison University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor Black Politics

The Political Science Department at James Madison University is seeking a tenure-track faculty member specializing in Black Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. A doctoral degree in political science or other relevant field is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; ABD candidates are encouraged to apply. We welcome applications from scholars of any subfield of political science or related discipline whose work addresses any substantive area of Black Politics within or outside the United States. We are open to a range of theoretical and methodological approaches. The successful applicant will teach courses on Black Politics and other courses reflective of their expertise and departmental teaching needs. We encourage applications from candidates who can offer classes that might cross-list with JMU's existing programs in African, African American, and Diaspora Studies (AAAD), Latin American, Latinx, and Caribbean Studies (LAXC), and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies (WGSS).

The department seeks candidates with strong research and teaching skills and a commitment to an inclusive classroom and work environment. Scholars from historically excluded groups are especially encouraged to apply. This position builds on a successful Arts and Letters seven-faculty cohort hire in AY 20-21 that focused on racial and social justice, and an ongoing five-faculty cohort hire for Latinx studies. These hirings align with JMU's commitment to an anti-racist and anti-discrimination agenda throughout Academic Affairs.

The successful applicant will teach courses on Black Politics and other courses reflective of their expertise and departmental teaching needs.

A doctoral degree in political science or other relevant field is required by the starting date for appointment as Assistant Professor; ABD candidates are encouraged to apply. We welcome applications from scholars of any subfield of political science or related discipline whose work addresses any substantive area of Black Politics within or outside the United States. We are open to a range of theoretical and methodological approaches. Applicant must demonstrate the ability to teach the required courses. The department seeks candidates with strong research and teaching skills and a commitment to an inclusive classroom and work environment.

Per the Governor's Executive Directive #18, new JMU employees upon hire must disclose to the University Health Center their COVID-19 vaccination status. Unvaccinated employees are required to be tested weekly.

Employment is contingent upon the successful completion of a criminal background check.

E-Verify Notice: After accepting employment, new hires are required to complete an I-9 form and present documentation of their identity and eligibility to work in the United States. James Madison University uses the E-Verify system to confirm identity and work authorization.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9459

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate/2022-2023 CSDP Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Postdoctoral Research Associate/Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) 2022-2023

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks post-doctoral or more senior research associates for ten-month positions anticipated to start on September 1, 2022. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. PhD required. <https://csdp.princeton.edu/apply>

Each research associate will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs, and the Department of Politics. CSDP scholars are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events.

Successful candidates will receive a competitive salary and applicable Princeton University benefits in accordance with university guidelines, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, and the names of two (and not more than two) references. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this 2022-2023 postdoctoral research associate position must apply to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22462>. The deadline for receipt of complete applications is Wednesday, December 1, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. EST. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of the business day on Friday, December 3, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9417

Princeton University

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar/2022-2023 CSDP Fellow

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Other

Visiting Research Scholar/Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP)

Princeton University's Center for the Study of Democratic Politics (CSDP) seeks visiting scholars for the 2022-2023 academic year. The Center supports empirical research on democratic political processes and institutions. Applications are welcome from political scientists and scholars in related social science disciplines. CSDP visiting scholar positions are restricted to employed scholars on leave who are expected to return to their position.

Each scholar will pursue research and contribute to the intellectual life of the Center, the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs, and the Department of Politics. CSDP scholars are expected to participate in the weekly CSDP seminars and related weekly research seminars in the Department of Politics, as well as occasional lectures, conferences, and other events. Visiting scholars from academic institutions often receive up to one-half their academic-year salaries from their home institutions for the appointment period. The amount that Princeton contributes to the scholar's salary is based on the financial support provided by their home institution. Selected candidates will be asked to indicate, or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm, what percentage of financial support their home institution and other sources are likely to provide during their visit, if any, and to submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2022 - July 1, 2023) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary. Successful candidates will also receive applicable benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a research allowance.

Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Verification of employment will be requested prior to approval by the Dean of the Faculty. PhD or equivalent doctoral degree required. Applicants must apply online and submit a CV, a 3-5 page (double-spaced) statement of research interest/research proposal, a writing sample, a brief statement of anticipated (estimated) salary support from the home institution for the 2021-2022 academic year, and statement of the home institution's leave policy. A cover letter is optional. Applicants for this Visiting Research Scholar position for 2022-2023 should apply to <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22461>. The deadline for receipt of complete applications is Wednesday, December 1, 2021 at 11:59 p.m. EST.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 9/24/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9418

Texas A&M University

Rank: Professor of the Practice - City and County Governance

The Department of Public Service and Administration in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a full-time, 9-month, Academic Professional Track (Non-Tenure) Assistant or Associate Professor of the Practice position in the area of City and County Governance. We seek candidates whose demonstrated leadership and career achievements in the world of city and county government motivate, inspire, and mentor graduate students who seek similar careers. The successful candidate will be a recognized leader who has the expertise, networks, and professional judgement required to provide programmatic leadership for a new Program in City and County Governance at the Bush School of Government and Public Service. This foundational opportunity is designed to create a pipeline of dedicated and well-prepared public professionals committed to serving their fellow citizens and ensuring every city and county in Texas has competent civic leadership. The person hired into this position will serve as the faculty engine to establish the program and drive its long-term success.

The Department of Public Service and Administration is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu/psaa>.

The anticipated start date for this position will be September 1, 2022. A Master's degree in public administration, business administration, or related field required, terminal degree preferred, with 15+ years serving in an executive leadership/management position in city and/or county government desired.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, complete contact information for 3 references, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the Public Service and Administration department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site <http://apply.interfolio.com/92892> in DOC or PDF format.

Start Date:
Date Posted: 9/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9362

Texas A&M University

Rank: Professor of the Practice - Homeland Security

The Department of Public Service and Administration in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a 9-month, full time position, Academic Professional Track (Non-Tenured) Professor of the Practice position in the area of National Defense and Homeland Security. We seek candidates whose demonstrated leadership and career achievements in the fields of Homeland Security, Emergency Management and/or National Defense equip them to inspire and mentor graduate students who seek similar careers. In addition to credentials as a practitioner the successful candidate will have the professional contacts and knowledge of policy, law, and/or administration required to provide programmatic leadership for our tracks and concentrations in National Defense and Homeland Security.

The position is at the Texas A&M University main campus in College Station, Texas. The Department of Public Service and Administration is one of two departments in the Bush School of Government and Public Service. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu/psaa>.

The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Successful applicants will demonstrate evidence of commitment to teaching in a professional school of government and public service. Bachelor's degree required; advanced degree in a field related to National Defense and or Homeland Security strongly recommend. Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest at Interfolio site <http://apply.interfolio.com/93185> in DOC or PDF. The letter should include reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, complete contact information for three references, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the Public Service and Administration Department, The Bush School at the Texas A&M.

Applications are only accepted online.

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Questions regarding this position should be sent to sbustos@tamu.edu

Start Date:
Date Posted: 9/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9361

APSA

Rank: Associate Director, Centennial Center for Political Science and Public Affairs

APSA is seeking candidates for the position of Associate Director, Centennial Center for Political Science and Public Affairs. The Associate Director leads all aspects of the Centennial Center's mission, operations, and program development. This includes but is not limited to administering research and project-based grant programs and supporting the execution of the Institute for Civically Engaged Research. A central goal of these programs is to increase engagement with and support for a diverse collection of members from a variety of backgrounds, areas of specialty and institution types, and to create an overall environment of inclusivity. Thus, strong candidates will have experience working with diverse populations and will have experience furthering a climate of inclusivity and collaboration. The Associate Director works closely and cooperatively with staff across the association on collaborative programming, especially public engagement, international programs, diversity and inclusion, teaching and learning, and professional development. The Associate Director also works closely with key governance committees including the Centennial Center Advisory Board.

ESSENTIAL RESPONSIBILITIES

- Lead program development and administration of APSA's Centennial Center Spring and Summer Research Grants, Research Partnerships on Critical Issues Grants, Growing Democracy Grants, Special Projects Fund Grants, and Pedagogical Partnerships Grants—including overseeing design of applications and marketing, convening review committees, making award decisions, evaluating grantmaking practices, and overseeing reporting and dissemination of grantee results.

- Tracks grant monitoring and evaluation; works closely with Finance office to ensure stewardship and use of temporarily restricted funds.
- Monitor and implement best practices for grantmaking with attention to diversity, equity and inclusion, impact, and program efficiency.
- Leads planning annual budget for Centennial Center, in conjunction with Finance office and Director of Grant Initiatives and International Programs.
- Develop Annual Meeting programming that highlights grant opportunities and grantee results.
- Prepare annual reports on grantmaking for APSA Council and Senior staff, donors, foundations and members. Evaluates grantmaking at regular intervals.
- Develop new programs and initiatives to fulfil the Center's mission, in collaboration with Director of Grant Initiatives and International Programs, Deputy Director, Executive Director, and APSA staff.
- Provide strategic support to the Institute for Civically Engaged Research directors and participate in annual Institute.
- Serves as staff liaison for Centennial Center Advisory Board
- Oversees work of Program Assistant to ensure provision of support for grant programs

Rogers Smith Presidential Task Force

- Serves as primary staff lead working with the programs resulting from the 2018-2020 Rogers Smith Public Engagement Task Force. Works with Grant Initiatives and International Programs, Director of Finance, and Deputy Director to develop and distribute annual report to the Ivywood Foundation on grant activities.
- Tracks expenses related to task force; works closely with Finance office to ensure stewardship of any grant funds or gifts received and expended in relation to the task force work.
- Works with Director of Grant Initiatives and International Programs and development staff to identify and secure external funding to support Task Force programs.

Other

- Represent the association with external bodies, associations, and groups
- Other duties as required

ESSENTIAL SKILLS & EXPERIENCE

- MA in Political Science or related field; doctoral degree in Political Science or related field preferred
- 2+ years' work experience, background in academia and/or grantmaking a plus
- Knowledge of trends in civic engagement research and practice, and programs supporting scholarship on democracy; or experience working with community-based civic organizations
- Strong organizational skills and ability to collaborate with a variety of individuals is essential
- Ability to communicate effectively with others in person and in writing
- Ability to work independently and as a member of a team
- Ability to set priorities and meet deadlines
- Excellent computer skills and knowledge of data base programs
- Experience with program development, management, and new initiatives for scholars, experience with civic engagement, diversity and inclusion, or cognate initiatives preferred

HOW TO APPLY

To be considered, submit your (1) resume with (2) cover letter indicating how your experience and skills align with the description of this position and the essential skills required of the position. Send all documents as PDF attachments to hr@apsanet.org. Please include "Associate Director, Centennial Center for Political Science and Public Affairs" in the email subject line. Consideration will begin on October 18th, and the position will remain open until filled.

ABOUT APSA

The American Political Science Association (APSA) is a 501(c)3 non-profit scholarly association that serves a membership base of 12,000 in over 80 countries. With a range of programs and services for individuals, departments and institutions, APSA is committed to transparency, open enquiry, scholarly pluralism, high standards of ethics and integrity, and a global perspective. To learn more about APSA, please visit www.apsanet.org.

APSA offers a comprehensive compensation and benefits package and has a Metro-accessible location in DuPont Circle in Washington, DC, with a full-time staff of over 30. In compliance with the CDC and DC guidelines regarding the Covid-19 pandemic, the APSA staff is working remotely until further notice. APSA is an equal opportunity employer committed to workplace diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9344

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Part Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science

Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year Spring 2022

CSUN's Commitment to You:

CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: <http://www.csun.edu>

About the College:

For information about the College, visit our website at: <https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences>

About the Department:

For information about the department, visit our website at: <https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science>

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:

Instructors for in-person Washington, D.C.-based classes in support of the CSUN in DC Internship Program. Specific classes are listed below. Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Current Salary Range:

Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)

Paid in 6 monthly installments

Courses or Specialization:

Upper division courses in:

1. POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
2. POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
3. POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
4. POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Qualifications:

Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy or must have at least 10 years of professional experience working in government, politics, non-profit management, or advocacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in their field.

University teaching experience is strongly preferred.

A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Application Process:

Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:

For Spring 2022: November 8, 2021

(Checklist)PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:

- POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
 POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
 POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
 POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:

Dr. Tom Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
 Department of Political Science
 California State University, Northridge
 18111 Nordhoff Street
 Northridge, CA 91330-8254
 tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

General Information:

In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/8/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9338

Ohio State University

Rank: Sr. Research Associate - PDG

The Ohio State University Moritz College of Law seeks a Senior Research Associate for the Program on Data and Governance (PDG). The Program on Data and Governance studies how to govern advanced analytics, artificial intelligence and other innovative uses of personal data so as to realize their social and economic potential while reducing the risks they pose to privacy, fairness, equity, and accountability. The Program conducts non-partisan, interdisciplinary research, hosts conferences and speaker events, advises policymakers and businesses, and engages students on vital questions regarding the governance of advanced analytics and AI. Under the direction of the Faculty Director, the Senior Research Associate will manage and implement the PDG's research program. The Senior Research Associate will: suggest research directions and priorities; design, carry out and manage qualitative, quantitative and policy research and code and analyze the data; draft articles, white papers, periodical pieces, and content for the Program Website and social media accounts; conceptualize and plan conferences and symposia; identify funding opportunities and draft grant proposals; provide research-based briefings and trainings; catalyze and support interdisciplinary research collaborations; conduct scholarly and public presentations; supervise student research and papers; and perform other, relevant duties as assigned by the Faculty Director. Remote work may be possible upon mutual agreement with the Program Director.

This is a 2 year term position, with possible renewal for an additional year, salary range $55,000 - $65,000 annually.

Additional Information:

Required: Master's level degree in the social sciences or related fields such as law or policy. Skilled in the application and implementation of quantitative and qualitative research methods such as survey and interview protocol creation and implementation, and coding and analysis of data; demonstrated record of scholarly publications and presentations; interest in the information society, advanced analytics and AI, and privacy law and policy; ability to initiate research projects and directions; excellent writing, editing and analytical skills; strong verbal, interpersonal, and presentation skills, including how to explain complex concepts to non-experts; ability to work as a collegial member of a project team or work independently, as needed; Desired: PhD in the social sciences (including public policy or law) or in computer science, or equivalent practical experience; previous experience managing research and grant-funded projects; knowledge of data science; interest in interdisciplinary research; experience with and knowledge of academic centers and how they function and succeed.

Please Note: Attach the Cover Letter, References and Sample Writing together with the Resume in the same attachment.

Location:

Drinko Hall (0049)

Position Type:

Term (Fixed Term)

Scheduled Hours:

40

Shift:

First Shift

Salary Grade:

A&P Annual 63

Final candidates are subject to successful completion of a background check. A drug screen or physical may be required during the post offer process.

Thank you for your interest in positions at The Ohio State University and Wexner Medical Center. Once you have applied, the most updated information on the status of your application can be found by visiting the Candidate Home section of this site. Please view your submitted applications by logging in and reviewing your status. For answers to additional questions please review the frequently asked questions.

The Ohio State University is an equal opportunity employer.

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, ancestry, color, disability, ethnicity, gender identity or expression, genetic information, HIV/AIDS status, military status, national origin, race, religion, sex, gender, sexual orientation, pregnancy, protected veteran status, or any other bases under the law.

Applicants are encouraged to complete and submit the Equal Employment Identification form.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9267

Princeton University

Rank: Full, Associate, or Assistant Professor Indigenous and Native North American Studies

Princeton University is undertaking a search for faculty members at all academic ranks in any field in the Humanities and the Social Sciences, and across all geographic areas, as part of a major effort to advance Indigenous and Native North American Studies in teaching and research across the university. The search is expected to yield multiple positions, including at least one at the rank of tenured full professor. These positions will support the significant expansion of Indigenous and Native North American Studies on campus, broadening and deepening curricular offerings and research opportunities. Appointments may be made in a single department or across units. In addition to contributing to their own department and scholarly discipline, candidates should be prepared to work with students, faculty, and alumni to promote and sustain a vital, innovative, and intellectually expansive community for Indigenous and Native North American Studies and Indigenous-centered scholarship at Princeton.

Ph.D. expected. Candidates must demonstrate research excellence and a strong publishing record, commensurate with their rank, and be committed to undergraduate and graduate teaching. The university is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community with a culturally diverse faculty. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in their chosen fields.

Senior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae and a list of references (to be contacted later in the search process). No writing samples are required at this time.

Junior scholars should submit a letter of interest along with a curriculum vitae, a list of references (to be contacted later in the search process), and one writing sample (article or dissertation/book chapter).

Applications must be submitted online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21601>.

Candidates are encouraged to apply by October 1, 2021.

Questions about this search may be directed to: IndigenousStudiesSearch@princeton.edu

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9142

Princeton University

Rank: The Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics

The Princeton University Center for Human Values invites applications for the Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics for a position starting in September 2022. The Shapiro Fellowship supports outstanding scholars studying ethical issues arising from developments in medicine, the biological sciences, or population health. We particularly encourage proposals focusing on problems of practical importance that have broader theoretical interest.

The Shapiro Fellow will spend from one to three years at Princeton conducting research and teaching the equivalent of one course each year (subject to sufficient enrollments and approval by the Dean of the Faculty). They will participate in the Ira W. DeCamp Seminar in Bioethics and will be invited to participate in other activities of the University Center for Human Values including a year-long research seminar for visiting fellows and Center faculty.

Qualifications

Applications welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D., M.D., or other equivalent doctoral degree by the start date, normally beginning September 1, 2022. Applicants should not have more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the date of appointment. An applicant may have a background in any area of ethical studies, not necessarily in bioethics. However, the proposed research plan should be related to the field of bioethics. Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments and the promise of the proposed research project in bioethics. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be taken into account.

Term of Appointment

The term of the fellowship is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2022, with the possibility of renewal for up to two additional years pending satisfactory performance. Appointment will be made to the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate; the Shapiro Fellow will also carry the title of Lecturer, if teaching. Princeton University offers competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=21382>.

A complete application will include the following supporting materials:

1. A curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words). Please provide an indicative title in the heading;
3. A scholarly paper (of no more than 12,000 words, not including bibliography) representing the applicant's scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who should be prepared to comment specifically about the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Monday, November 15, 2021, 11:59 p.m. EST. We do not accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference should be submitted by Monday, November 22, 2021. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately so letters of reference received after the priority deadline may put candidates at a disadvantage.

Decisions will be announced in late March, 2022. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9116

Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other

Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2022. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu.

Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website <https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu/postings/3166>. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college's commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 24, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by September 24, 2021.

Wheaton is a private coeducational liberal arts college within easy commuting distance of Boston and Providence. We have nearly 1,800 undergraduates from 38 U.S. States and 58 countries. Nearly 24% of our undergraduates are U.S. students of color and 8% are international citizens. Wheaton College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group on the basis of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, race, color, religion, national origin, veteran status, genetic information, or disability. In a continuing effort to maintain and enrich an intellectually diverse learning environment, the Department and the College actively encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups. For more information about the college, visit our website at www.wheatoncollege.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9118

University of Akron

Rank: Director, Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics at The University of Akron

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Administration, Other

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The University of Akron's Ray C. Bliss Institute of Applied Politics, in cooperation with the Department of Political Science, is seeking applicants for the position of Director. This 12-month position, starting as early as January 2022 but no later than July 1, 2022, includes an appointment as a tenured Professor or Associate Professor of Political Science.

The successful candidate will oversee the activities of the Bliss Institute, including managing its budget, supervising its full-time and part-time staff, coordinating research projects (including polling activities), administering its extensive internship program, and hosting conferences. The Director will be a faculty member of the Department of Political Science with teaching responsibilities and will be responsible for administering the Institute's academic programs, including the Master of Applied Politics [MAP] degree program and the Undergraduate and Graduate Certificate in Applied Politics. Further responsibilities include liaising with university, local, state, and national officials, engaging with the media, and promoting the overall mission of the Institute.

The successful candidate must be a highly experienced scholar with a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field, with a record of publications in peer-reviewed journals and/or academic presses; have a record of teaching at the university level; and have a strong record of administrative experience. It is desirable for the candidate to have a competency in research methods with a demonstrable interest in applied politics at the state and/or national levels; experience in public policy, especially at the state and local levels; and previous experience in hosting conferences in an academic and/or governmental setting.

To apply for this position (University of Akron Job ID# 12850), you must complete the on-line application (available at: <https://www.uakron.edu/hr/jobs.dot>) and attach a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a list of three (3) professional references to your profile. Please include contact information, including email addresses, for your professional references. After submission of your application, return to the "My Activities" link and upload the required documents under the "My Cover Letters and Attachments" section.

Applicants should fully describe their qualifications and experience with reference to the minimum and preferred qualifications. This is the information on which the initial review of materials will be based. A resume will not be accepted in place of any information requested on the application. Inquiries about the position can be sent to Dr. James T. McHugh at: mchugh@uakron.edu. For assistance with your application or attachments please call Hannah Kemp-Severence in Human Resources at 330-972-8399. Open until filled, however, initial review of applications will begin on September 1, 2021.

The University of Akron is committed to providing a safe environment for all students and employees. The University endeavors to protect the health, welfare and safety of all students, employees and visitors on our campus. As such, the University will require a pre-employment background check for all applicants selected for employment.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 4/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8821

POLITICAL THEORY

Catholic University of Chile (Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile)

Rank: Tenure-track, Assistant Professorship in Political Theory/International Relations

The Institute of Political Science (ICP) of the Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant professorship in political science. We are looking for candidates with a strong research program focused on topics at the intersection of International Relations and Political Theory. Candidates with interests in, e.g., migration, environmental politics, human rights, global justice, conflict and security studies, and/or the normative analysis of international political phenomena are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates in either area (international relations or political theory) will be considered; however, the ideal candidate would have a teaching portfolio that includes both areas.

The Pontificia Universidad Católica de Chile is consistently ranked as one of the top 5 universities in Latin America, and the ICP is among the highest ranked political science departments in the region. Comprised of a highly international group of scholars, it is a hub of theoretical, empirical and applied research in the region. The ICP offers undergraduate, M.A., and Ph.D. programs. It admits the most talented Chilean students to its undergraduate and graduate programs, and hosts a large number of exchange students and visiting professors from all over the world. Santiago is a vibrant metropolitan area, located just a short drive away from Chile's renowned Pacific Coast and spectacular Andean mountain range.

Applicants must demonstrate a strong commitment to high-quality research, publishing, and teaching. The ICP values diversity and welcomes applications from colleagues of any actual or perceived gender, gender identity, race, color, national origin, sexual orientation, marital status, disability, or religion. While all qualified candidates will be carefully considered, people from historically underrepresented or marginalized groups—including women, racial minorities, and individuals with disabilities—are especially encouraged to apply.

Teaching obligations are limited to three courses per year (typically 2-1). Fluency in Spanish is valued, but any candidate who expresses a willingness to achieve basic proficiency is encouraged to apply. The ICP offers financial support for language classes, and courses may initially be taught in English.

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. degree in Political Science (or its equivalent). ABDs are welcome to apply as long as they will obtain their degree by the position's starting date.

Applications must include the following:

- *Personal letter
- *Curriculum vitae
- *Writing sample (e.g., a journal article or book or dissertation chapter)
- *Teaching portfolio that includes student evaluations and sample course syllabi
- *Graduate transcripts
- *Official copies of all degrees (B.A., M.A. and Ph.D.)
- *Three letters of recommendation (sent to searchicp@uc.cl).

Please direct informal inquiries or completed application packages (in either English or Spanish) to the Search Committee at searchicp@uc.cl.

Applications will be accepted until February 28th.

The position's starting date is August 1st, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9767

University of Hawaii, Manoa

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: American Politics, African American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

see link: <https://www.governmentjobs.com/careers/hawaii.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9750

Augusta University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Augusta University's Department of Social Sciences and its Master of Arts in Intelligence and Security Studies (MAISS) program invite applicants for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. We seek an individual to teach courses in the MAISS program and implement an active research agenda in Intelligence and Security Studies. Preferred candidates will have experience with intelligence studies and (a) collection/information warfare/cyber-intelligence and/or (b) policy/social media intelligence. Candidates should demonstrate potential for excellence in research including writing and securing grants and a strong commitment to teaching, including an interest in online instruction.

Augusta University is a student-centered comprehensive research university with over 9,000 students and, as Georgia's only public health sciences and medical college, an academic health center, which boasts one of the US's largest medical schools by class size. Its 1,200 faculty members are committed to providing leadership and excellence in teaching, research, clinical care, and service. It also has a partnership with the Georgia Cyber Center, which focuses on providing the state and nation a decisive advantage in cyberspace through innovation and the collaboration of government, academia, and private industry.

The Department of Social Sciences includes over 350 students in undergraduate degrees in Political Science; Criminal Justice; Sociology; Health, Society, and Policy; Nonprofit Leadership and Administration; and Social Work along with Masters programs in Intelligence and Security Studies and Public Administration. Our MAISS program, with over 40 current students and 6 faculty members, is growing and expanding with plans to offer a PhD in the coming years.

We are located on the beautiful and historic Summerville campus in a building with newly remodeled classrooms. The city of Augusta is home of the US Army's Cyber Command at Fort Gordon and the world-renowned Masters Golf Tournament as well as being the birthplace of music icon James Brown. Nestled along the banks of the Savannah River, Augusta is located approximately 2.5 hours from the cosmopolitan amenities of Atlanta as well as the outdoor beauty of several beaches and mountains.

Minimum Requirements

The successful candidate must have:

- D. in Intelligence Studies, Political Science or a related field (completed and conferred by start of hire, August 1).
- Established record or demonstrated potential for high quality, original scholarship that is appropriate to the discipline and shows promise of continuation.
- Ability to teach graduate-level coursework in the Department's MAISS program, especially related to intelligence and cyber-intelligence/policy

Preferred Qualifications

- Teaching/research/experience with open-source intelligence
- Experience with social-media analysis and/or information warfare
- Experience with cyber-intelligence and policy
- Experience teaching on campus and online
- Grant writing experience or potential/willingness for grant writing.

Shift/Salary

Work outside of the normal business hours will likely be required of an employee in an exempt level position

Salary Range: $58,000/Annually - $62,000/Annually

Salary to be commensurate with qualifications of selected candidate within the established range (generally minimum-midpoint) of the position

Recruitment Period: 11/15/2021 - Until Filled

Conditions of Employment

All candidates are required to successfully pass a Background Check review. For specific positions, the final candidate may be subject to a (pre-employment) physical, drug screen, and/or credit check.

The final candidate will be required to provide proof of completed academic degree(s) as well as post-secondary coursework in the form of original transcript(s). Those candidates trained by a foreign institution will also be required to provide an educational/credential evaluation.

All employees are responsible for ensuring the confidentiality, availability, and integrity of sensitive [patient, student, employee, financial, business, etc.] information by exercising sound judgment and adhering to cybersecurity and privacy policies during the course of their employment and beyond.

How To Apply

Interested candidates must apply on-line through our website at <https://www.augusta.edu/hr/jobs/faculty>

Please upload a cover letter describing teaching, research, and other pertinent qualifications; a curriculum vita; an unofficial copy of graduate school transcripts (The successful candidate will be required to submit official copies of undergraduate and graduate transcripts); and a list of three references as one combined document.

Questions can be directed to the search committee chair, Dr. Craig Albert, in the Department of Social Sciences at calbert@augusta.edu.

The committee will begin reviewing applications on January 15, 2021.

Equal Employment Opportunity

Augusta University is proud to be an equal opportunity employer welcoming applicants from underrepresented groups, including individuals with disabilities and veterans.

Other Information

This position is also responsible for promoting a customer friendly environment and providing superior service to our patients, students, faculty, and employees. "Augusta University is a patient-and family-centered care institution, where employees partner everyday with patients and families for success."

Augusta University is a tobacco free environment and the use of any tobacco products on any part of the campus, both inside and outside, is strictly prohibited.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9738

Yale-NUS College

Rank: Lecturer(s) in Philosophy, Politics and Economics (PPE)

Position Description:

Yale-NUS College is a highly selective liberal arts and science college in Singapore. Co-founded by Yale University and the National University of Singapore, the College is committed to excellence in research and teaching within a full residential programme that integrates living and learning. Its curriculum educates students in Asian and Western intellectual traditions as well as current scientific thought.

The College is seeking to hire TWO full-time Lecturers in PPE. Preferred fields of specialization are:

1) Comparative politics. We seek a broadly trained comparativist who works in the area of institutions and is able to teach one methods course. Regional specialization is open.

2) Political theory. We seek a broadly trained political theorists, able to offer survey courses, and courses in ancient political theory.

These positions are on a fixed term contract of up to three (3) years, starting in the Academic Year 2022-2023.

Requirement:

The successful candidate is expected to teach at least five (5) courses, which will be in the area of PPE. Advising students, supervising capstones and other services will also be required as needed.

- PhD in Political Science from a regionally or internationally accredited institution.
- At least one (1) years of undergraduate teaching experience.

The College offer competitive salaries that are commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Application Procedure:

Applications should consist of the following: a cover letter explaining why the position at Yale-NUS is of interest; a full curriculum vitae, including a complete list of publications; statement on teaching experience and teaching philosophy, including how these might fit with the College's particular mission and curriculum; teaching evaluations, three reference letters (to be submitted by the reference writers via <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/20463> and other relevant documents.

Applications should be submitted via <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/20463>.

Review of applications begins 10 January 2022 and continues until the position(s) is/are filled. Only shortlisted candidates will be notified. For general inquiries, please email: facultyrecruitment@yale-nus.edu.sg.

Equal Opportunity Employer:

Yale-NUS College achieves excellence through the diversity of its students, faculty, and staff and by embracing inclusivity, equity, and global engagement. We encourage applications by diverse individuals with a demonstrated commitment to these values. For more information about the College, please visit <https://www.yale-nus.edu.sg>.

Personal Data Protection Act (PDPA):

Candidates should understand that by sharing information with Yale-NUS, they authorise the College to use their personal data for the purposes of this application. The College will not use their data for other purposes and ensure that their data remains secure and confidential.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9735

Fordham University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning Fall 2022. The area of specialization is open, but the department is particularly interested in candidates who specialize in comparative political thought. Of special interest are Non-Western, South-South, and inter-cultural contexts in political theory, or candidates who can engage political thought within the context of cultural diversity. The position is located at Fordham's Lincoln Center campus. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with institutions in New York City and contribute to the University and the department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with the Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that cultural and intellectual diversity is central to the excellence of our academic program, and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. Within the context of the University's commitment to diversity, we welcome candidates with non-traditional approaches within the field of CPT. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students from a range of social, cultural, and economic backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2022. Interested applicants should submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/99072>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience, curriculum vitae, a writing sample (no more than 30-35 pages), evidence of teaching effectiveness and three letters of reference. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement, reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience, and past course syllabi and/or peer observations, if available. Application materials should also address how the candidate's scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required. If you have questions about this position, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Sarah Lockhart, at slockhart3@fordham.edu.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans, and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 1/15/2022
Date Posted: 11/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9728

Fordham University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Political Theory at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning Fall 2022. The area of specialization is open, but the department is particularly interested in candidates who specialize in comparative political thought. Of special interest are Non-Western, South-South, and inter-cultural contexts in political theory, or candidates who can engage political thought within the context of cultural diversity. The position is located at Fordham's Lincoln Center campus. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with institutions in New York City and contribute to the University and the department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with the Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that cultural and intellectual diversity is central to the excellence of our academic program, and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. Within the context of the University's commitment to diversity, we welcome candidates with non-traditional approaches within the field of CPT. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to teaching and mentoring students from a range of social, cultural, and economic backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2022. Interested applicants should submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/99072>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience, curriculum vitae, a writing sample (no more than 30-35 pages), evidence of teaching effectiveness, and three letters of reference. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement, reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience, and past course syllabi and/or peer observations, if available. Application materials should also address how the candidate's scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required. If you have questions about this position, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Sarah Lockhart, at slockhart3@fordham.edu.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans, and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 1/15/2022
Date Posted: 11/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9729

Tulane University

Rank: Center for Inter-American Policy and Research Postdoctoral Fellowships

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: Central America, Latin American, South America

Description

The Center for Inter-American Policy and Research (CIPR) invites applications for five (5) research fellowships for the Academic Year of 2022–2023, some with program administration duties and others with light teaching. Applications from the social sciences in the fields of international relations, international political economy, comparative politics, political sociology, and policy studies are encouraged. Latin American expertise and Spanish or Portuguese fluency required. Fellows will be selected based on intellectual merit, experience, the potential impact of their planned research for CIPR programs, and teaching needs of the host department.

Fellowships are one-year, residential, full-time appointments with a stipend of $48,940 plus benefits. Travel and moving expenses are not supported. In addition to their planned research, applicants must be prepared to carry out either program administration or adjunct teaching responsibilities. In the program administration track, fellows will be expected to work with CIPR's director in the Commitment to Equity Project and/or Research Group MEGA: Mobilization, Extractivism, and Government Action, and/or to develop programmatic content and projects in Inter-American relations, comparative political economy, citizenship rights, human development, and others. The other fellowships carry a one course per semester adjunct teaching load in the department of the fellow's primary discipline and in the candidate's major subfields, without administrative responsibilities. In both cases, specific responsibilities will be defined jointly during the initial phase of the appointment.

Qualifications

Applicants must plan to complete their Ph.D. no later than May 2022. Recent graduates with no longer than three years since receiving their Ph.D. are especially encouraged to apply.

Application Instructions

Application must be submitted via Interfolio by visiting <http://apply.interfolio.com/98834> and must include (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter describing research interests and intended research at CIPR if selected, fit to the program and teaching experience; (3) a graduate transcript; (4) two recommendation letters; (5) a writing sample; and (6) teaching evaluations if available. For further information please contact Ludovico Feoli, Director, Center for Inter-American Policy Research. Applications will be reviewed starting December 31, 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/31/2021

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9721

University of Oxford, St John's College

Rank: Supernumerary Teaching Fellowship in Politics

St. John's College invites applications for a five-year fixed-term Supernumerary Teaching Fellowship in Politics (without membership of Governing Body). The appointment is available from 1st October 2022. This is a fixed-term career development post intended for candidates who are at an early stage of their academic career.

Applications for this post are particularly welcome from women and black and minority ethnic candidates, who are under-represented in academic posts in Oxford.

The person appointed will teach undergraduates in small groups for up to a maximum of eight hours each week averaged over the three eight-week terms and play a full part in the organization of teaching of St. John's undergraduates reading for the degrees of PPE (Politics, Philosophy and Economics) and History and Politics. The Fellow will also be expected to share administrative and pastoral duties, participate in the undergraduate admissions process and in College Open Days and school visits. No duties are required for the University, and the approval of the College must be sought before any are undertaken. The fifth and final year of the appointment is a sabbatical year to permit the Fellow to further their research.

The successful applicant will be expected to contribute to the teaching of all Politics papers to first year students preparing for the Preliminary Examinations in PPE and in History & Politics, and to the teaching of at least two second-year courses for students studying both core and optional papers in Politics. Details of the undergraduate syllabus in Politics can be found at <http://www.politics.ox.ac.uk>. They must demonstrate an ability to teach effectively, to contribute to the organization of the degree and some College administration and that they have the interpersonal skills necessary for the pastoral care of students.

The person appointed will have or will have obtained by 1st October 2022 a doctoral degree in Politics and will be expected to engage in original research. The annual salary will be on the University's Grade 6 for Academic Staff (currently GBP £29,614 - £35,326). The Fellow will have dining privileges of lunches and dinners without charge during those weeks of the year when the kitchen is open, the use of an office, and certain College benefits and allowances including teaching and research expenses (currently up to a maximum of GBP £3,000 per year) and a housing allowance (currently GBP £10,718 per year).

The closing date for receipt of applications is noon on Friday 3rd December 2021. Further particulars for the post, including information about the application procedure, can be found on the College's website at www.sjc.ox.ac.uk. Candidates are also asked to complete a Recruitment Monitoring form, if they are willing to do so. This can be submitted via email (academic.vacancies@sjc.ox.ac.uk).

St John's College is an equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/3/2021

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 9712

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Business, Organizations and Society, Tenure Track – Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, Social Welfare, Economic Policy

Business, Organizations and Society

Tenure Track – Assistant Professor

Division of Social Science

NYU Abu Dhabi

Position Description

The Division of Social Science at NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) is searching for new faculty to conduct innovative research and educate the next generation of global leaders.

You are invited to apply for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor faculty position in a new undergraduate program, a B.A. in Business, Organizations and Society. The program is interdisciplinary and focuses on the role and impact of business within society. Established on principles of the liberal arts, the program integrates business theory and application, and prepares students to take on roles in businesses and effectively and holistically examine the implications of business decisions for society from multiple perspectives (i.e., social, political, economic, and cultural).

The program seeks applicants whose research and teaching are rooted in management, organizational studies or a related area. Applicants should provide a strong record of scholarship, and evidence of potential to develop and lead high-quality research, with national and international significance. Applicants should demonstrate an outstanding track record for their career stage, in both research and teaching. The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain a cutting edge, innovative, and highly visible research program; participate in student advising and mentorship; teach graduate and/or undergraduate courses in the area of management, entrepreneurship, social impact, and business analytics; or develop new courses in their area of expertise, as appropriate.

The interdisciplinary composition and expertise within the Division of Social Science, as well as the Business, Organizations and Society program, will be used to expand research activities on how businesses influence and are influenced by the societies, political systems, and economies in which they operate. There are many collaboration opportunities within NYUAD, which already houses a number of interdisciplinary research centers and labs, including the Center for Behavioral Institutional Design (C-BID), Center for Interacting Urban Networks (CITIES), and Social Science Experimental Lab (SSEL).

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university commitment to excellence. NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Likewise, our faculty are highly diverse and community minded: our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world. We particularly welcome applications from female scholars as well as members of traditionally underrepresented groups.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture, while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. NYUAD supports faculty through fellowships and affiliations with research centers both at NYUAD and in the NYU network more generally. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Management, Sociology, Psychology, Social Psychology, Economics, or a related field, and a specialization in management, organizations or a related area.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of teaching, mentoring, and scholarship, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality teaching and research with special attention to business, organizations, and society.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/95473>

Curriculum Vitae

Cover Letter

Research Statement

Teaching Statement

Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)

Diversity Statement

Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

Three (3) letters of recommendation

We will begin reviewing applications on December 15th, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in early Spring 2022. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2022-2023.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

For people in the EU, click here for information on your privacy rights under GDPR: www.nyu.edu/it/gdpr

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9694

Florida International University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Theory

The Department of Politics and International Relations, in the Steven J. Green School of International & Public Affairs at Florida International University in Miami, FL, invites applications for an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) position in Political Theory. The research focus within Political Theory is open, with the exception of American Political Thought. Scholarship that speaks to the challenges of contemporary democracy—broadly defined—would be of interest to the Department, but is not a requirement. The teaching assignment is two courses per semester. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline is required. The anticipated starting date is August 12, 2022.

Qualified candidates are encouraged to apply to Job Opening ID 525465 at <https://facultycareers.fiu.edu> and include the following as parts of their application: (1) a curriculum vitae, (2) a cover letter, (3) a statement of research interests, (4) a recent writing sample, (5) a statement of teaching philosophy and teaching interests, (6) evidence of teaching effectiveness, and (7) a statement on diversity, equity and inclusion (for guidelines, see https://advance.fiu.edu/_assets/docs/2020-fiu-diversity-statement-guidelines.pdf). Candidates will also be asked to provide names and contact information for at least three references who will be contacted as determined by the search committee. Review of applications will begin on Dec. 4, 2021. Applications will continue to be accepted until the position is filled.

If you have any questions, please contact the Department of Politics and International Relations at pir@fiu.edu.

The Department, situated in the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (<https://sipa.fiu.edu>), is home to more than 1,700 undergraduate majors, almost 100 graduate students, and 38 faculty (<https://pir.fiu.edu>). The university and the department value the diversity and inclusivity of our campus community and the curriculum. Faculty enjoy opportunities to work with colleagues in FIU's centers and institutes: the African and African Diaspora Studies program, the Center for the Administration of Justice, the Center for Women's and Gender Studies, the Cuban Research Institute, the Global Energy Security Forum, the Jack D. Gordon Institute for Public Policy and Citizenship Studies, the Jewish Studies Program, the Latin American and Caribbean Center, the Miami-Florida Jean Monnet European Studies Program, the Jaffer Center for Muslim World Studies, and more.

In September 2021, the Steven J. Green School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) received full membership in the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs (APSIA). This prestigious organization includes the top 40 schools of international affairs in the world. The SIPA is among 25 in the US with this designation, 5th in the Southeastern United States, and the 1st and only in the State of Florida.

Florida International University is Miami's public research university, focused on student success. According to U.S. News and World Report, FIU has 42 top-50 rankings in the nation among public universities. FIU is a top U.S. research university (R1), with more than $200 million in annual expenditures. FIU ranks 15th in the nation among public universities for patent production, which drives innovation, and is one of the institutions that helps make Florida the top state for higher education. The Next Horizon fundraising campaign is furthering FIU's commitment to providing students Worlds Ahead opportunities. Today, FIU has two campuses and multiple centers, and supports artistic and cultural engagement through its three museums: Patricia & Phillip Frost Art Museum, the Wolfsonian-FIU, and the Jewish Museum of Florida-FIU. FIU is a member of Conference USA, with more than 400 student-athletes participating in 18 sports. The university has awarded more than 330,000 degrees to many leaders in South Florida and beyond. For more information about FIU, visit www.fiu.edu.

FIU is a member of the State University System of Florida and an Equal Opportunity, Equal Access Affirmative Action Employer all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability or protected veteran status.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9686

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Director, James Madison Program

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is hiring an Assistant Director. The Assistant Director will report directly to the Executive Director and work collegially with Program staff in all aspects of the planning and executing of Program activities, including Summer Seminars.

Apply here: <https://social.icims.com/viewjob/po1636047907357dd0e6>

Primary Responsibilities:

Provide assistance to the Executive Director in administering/facilitating the JMP Fellowship programs:

Oversee the selection process of and mentor the James Madison Program's annual Visiting Fellows and Postdoctoral Research Associates

Provide expert guidance for the fellows' research and publication agendas

Assist in the selection of lecturers and panelists for JMP events

Provide assistance to the Undergraduate Programs Manager by:

Conducting optional non-credit seminars for the Madison Program Undergraduate Fellows Forum

Offering Freshman Seminars when approved
 Teaching courses in the Politics track in American Ideas and Institutions (AIIP) with the approval of the Dean of Faculty and at the invitation of the Department
 Precepting when possible in lecture courses in the Department

Plan and direct Madison Program non-credit summer seminars for high-school students, Princeton and non-Princeton undergraduate students, and recent PhD's

Qualifications

Essential Qualifications:

Master's degree or higher in politics, law, or related field
 Strong leadership skills and demonstrated record of success working in higher education
 Strategic planning and analytical skills
 Demonstrated oral, written, research, presentation, and facilitation skills
 Demonstrated relationship-building ability and aptitude for collegial interactions with faculty, staff, and students
 Able to multitask and prioritize duties
 Record of politics-related scholarly publications, both articles and books
 Demonstrated expertise in American constitutional law, American political institutions, and American and Western political thought

Preferred Qualifications:

Terminal degree in Politics, Law, or other politics-related field
 Proficient in Microsoft Office applications (Word, Excel, and PowerPoint)
 Related experience in undergraduate teaching and administration

Start Date:

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9666

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2022 to June 1, 2023. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus daily, and on short notice, in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22061>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2021 - June 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2021 for appointments beginning in September 2022. Awards will be announced in March 2022 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.

Executive Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue

Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu

Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9660

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates or more senior researchers for the year from September 1, 2022 to September 1, 2023, with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on funding and outstanding performance. Appointments will be through the department of Politics. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus daily, and on short notice, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures. The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22042>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2021; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2022 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.
Executive Director
James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
Princeton University
83 Prospect Avenue Princeton, NJ 08540
E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu
Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9659

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Appointments are for one year, renewable for a second year based on satisfactory performance and the availability of funds. Postdoctoral fellows will pursue their own research, participate in PTP working groups, and teach one seminar course per year. In addition to a CV, three confidential letters of reference, and writing sample, applications should include a cover letter describing how their research fits within the mission of the PTP. We seek candidates who contribute to diversity and/or have demonstrated support for diversity and inclusion through their teaching and research. Candidates are asked to include in their teaching dossier a statement of how their teaching is designed with an eye to contributing to an inclusive educational environment. A similar contribution from one's research can also be cited if relevant.

Details about the Project's research and pedagogical missions can be found at <https://ptp.brown.edu/>. Applications received by December 9, 2021 will be assured of full consideration.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9649

Brown University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate

Appointments are for one year, renewable for a second year based on satisfactory performance and the availability of funds. Postdoctoral fellows will pursue their own research, participate in PTP working groups, and teach one seminar course per year. In addition to a CV, three confidential letters of reference, and writing sample, applications should include a cover letter describing how their research fits within the mission of the PTP. We seek candidates who contribute to diversity and/or have demonstrated support for diversity and inclusion through their teaching and research. Candidates are asked to include in their teaching dossier a statement of how their teaching is designed with an eye to contributing to an inclusive educational environment. A similar contribution from one's research can also be cited if relevant.

Details about the Project's research and pedagogical missions can be found at <https://ptp.brown.edu/>. Applications received by December 9, 2021 will be assured of full consideration.

To apply, please see: <http://apply.interfolio.com/97283>

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9650

Sweet Briar College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Political Theory

Specializations: American Politics, Presidency, Political Philosophy & Theory

Sweet Briar College invites applications for a tenure-track position of Assistant Professor of Political Science. The successful candidate will be an engaged scholar-teacher and have a strong commitment to undergraduate education, with a broad focus in the area of American government and politics. Research and teaching interests in presidential or congressional politics, campaigns and elections or American political thought are preferred.

The College's academic calendar, with immersive three-week terms bookending traditional 12-week terms, creates an opportunity for innovative courses to take advantage of close student faculty interactions and collaboration across disciplines. The successful candidate will help to shape the political science program for the future, will have the opportunity to make contributions to our women's leadership core curriculum, and to engage in research with undergraduates. Institutional support for research is available and includes internal faculty grants and an honors summer research program.

Candidates ready to work with a diverse student body are especially welcome. Sweet Briar prides itself on creating a learning environment that encourages young women to fulfill their highest potential. Leadership in all walks of life is fostered by the special connections our faculty make with their students, and Sweet Briar women translate their academic experiences into interesting and important lives.

How to Apply:

To apply, visit the Sweet Briar College Career Center: <https://sbc.edu/human-resources/faculty-staff-job-openings/>. All applications should include: 1) cover letter; 2) CV; 3) statement on teaching philosophy and research interests; and 4) a statement highlighting contributions to or future plans for promoting diversity and inclusion through work in this position; 5) the names and full contact information for three professional references. Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9648

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Specializations: Political Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory, Normative Political Theory

For 2022-23, the McCoy Family Center for Ethics in Society at Stanford seeks to appoint up to four postdoctoral fellows. Selected fellows will be designated as General Ethics Fellows or Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellows. The two types of fellows have some distinct training opportunities and responsibilities, but they form a common community and participate together in the Center's intellectual life. All applicants will be considered for both types of fellowships and do not need to tailor their application for one or the other type of fellowship.

Applicants for these positions must have normative training and hold a Ph.D. in Philosophy or Political Science. Scholars with a Ph.D. in Law will also be considered so long as their work focuses on ethical dimensions of public policy or law.

General Ethics Fellowship

For 2022-23, we are especially interested in candidates with research interests in the normative questions focused on the environment, feminism and gender, race, and inequality. But we welcome all applicants from philosophy and political science with strong normative interests. General Ethics Fellows participate in the intellectual life of the Center for Ethics in Society (attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), teach one class per year, interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across the campus.

Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellowship

This program is rooted in the commitment of the Center for Ethics in Society to bringing ethical reflection to bear on pressing social problems. Addressing many of these social problems involves knowledge of the work of the social sciences, law, engineering, and the life sciences. The premise of this program is that the normative scholarship of our fellows will be enhanced by engagement with empirically-oriented scholars. To that end, each fellow in the program will be matched with a partner research center at Stanford that is dedicated to interdisciplinary research. The Stanford Institute for Human-Centered Artificial Intelligence (HAI) will be a partner center again this year. For that partnership, we are especially interested in candidates with research interests in artificial intelligence. We are also interested in candidates with research interests in biomedical ethics for partnerships with other centers, but all applicants whose work may intersect with empirically-oriented scholarship will be considered. Applicants need not name a possible partner center on campus or tailor their materials for this type of fellowship. The Interdisciplinary Ethics Fellows and partner centers will be selected based on the natural match between their work. Fellows will participate in the regular intellectual life of the partner center and the Center for Ethics in Society (e.g., attend weekly workshops; events; professional training opportunities), interact with undergraduates in the Ethics in Society Program, teach one class per year, and contribute to an interdisciplinary ethics community across the campus.

Appointment Requirements and Application Details

Candidates for both types of fellowships must have normative training and hold a Ph.D. in Philosophy or Political Science. Scholars with a Ph.D. in Law will also be considered so long as their work focuses on ethical dimensions of public policy or law. Applicants must complete all requirements for their Ph.D. no later than June 30, 2022. Candidates must also be no more than three years from the awarding of their degree at the start of the fellowship (i.e., September 2019). The term of the fellowship is September 1, 2022 - August 31, 2023 and is renewable for a second year.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, CV, a writing sample (no more than 25 pages double-spaced), three letters of recommendation, a one-page research statement (single spaced), and a list of classes that they have taught and/or are prepared to teach.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer and is committed to increasing the diversity of its scholarly community. We welcome applications from women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research and teaching missions. Salary is competitive.

Applications will be collected via Interfolio. Applications will not be accepted by email. Please visit the Center's website for information about how to submit your materials: <https://ethicsinsociety.stanford.edu/postdocs/application-process>

If you have questions, please email ethics_submissions@stanford.edu. Application Due Date: December 8, 2021 (5 pm PST).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/8/2021

Date Posted: 11/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9643

California State University, Chico
Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Theory

Assistant Professor of Political Theory Position
 Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice
 College of Behavioral and Social Sciences
 California State University, Chico

CSU, Chico is committed to recruiting outstanding candidates who reflect the diverse, intercultural, and intersectional identities of our student body. The University proudly holds the Hispanic Serving Institution (HSI) designation, and enrolls over 17,000 students, over half of whom identify as first generation college students. The ideal candidate will share Chico State's demonstrated commitment to equity, diversity and inclusion, have prior experience working with culturally and socio-economically diverse populations, and will contribute to student success through inclusive pedagogy, research and service to the university and surrounding North State communities.

The Position: Assistant Tenure-Track Professor

Salary: Salary commensurate with education and experience.

Initial Review Date: 11/08/21; complete applications received after that date may be considered.

How to Apply: Applicants must provide a current cover letter, a CV, and contact information of three professional references. The successful candidate should provide evidence in the cover letter of their commitment to or experience promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of individuals from diverse backgrounds. All applicants must apply online at: <https://jobs.csuchico.edu/postings/6864>

Applications submitted via email or in-person to the department will not be considered.

Qualification Details:

Minimum Qualifications The minimum education requirement for appointment to this position is a terminal degree in Political Science or related area such as Politics. Candidates nearing completion of their doctorate/PhD may be considered; however, all requirements for conferral of the degree must be met no later than August 17, 2022. Candidates must have expertise and the potential for teaching and professional success in the field of political thought, political theory, and/or political philosophy. The successful candidate must have a commitment to teaching diverse student groups and/or experience promoting and fostering a learning environment that is supportive of individuals from diverse backgrounds.

Preferred Qualifications: The successful candidate will have the interest and ability to teach core theory courses such as: Origins of Western Political Thought, American Political Thought, and Contemporary Political Thought, as well as one or more of the following: Women and Politics; Theories, Practices, and Administration of Justice; Sexual Minorities, Law, and Politics; Black Political Thought; and Jurisprudence. The department also welcomes candidates who would develop new political theory courses examining race and identity. Please see our current course catalog for a list of the department's course offerings: <http://catalog.csuchico.edu/viewer/21/POLS.html>.

Responsibilities: This tenure-track position carries responsibilities in the areas of both undergraduate and graduate teaching, scholarship, and service. Teaching assignments are based upon qualifications of the individual and the needs of the department.

The Department: The Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice offers undergraduate degrees in political science (including an option in legal studies), criminal justice, international relations, and public administration, as well as Masters degrees in political science and public administration. We have an exciting curriculum, with numerous options to meet a host of academic interests, and an active and productive faculty committed to excellence in teaching and scholarship. Over 1,000 students major in our department's programs. Additional information about our Department is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/pols/>. Additional information about the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences is available at <http://www.csuchico.edu/bss/index.shtml>. CSU, Chico is committed to recruiting, developing and retaining the most talented people from a diverse candidate pool.

Job-related questions should be directed to:
 Charles C. Turner, Search Committee Chair
 Department of Political Science and Criminal Justice
 400 W. 1st St.
 Chico, CA 95929-0455
 530-898-5301
ccturner@csuchico.edu

MANDATORY VACCINATIONS: Effective September 30, 2021, the CSU will require faculty, staff, and students who are accessing campus facilities to be immunized against COVID-19 or have received a medical or religious exemption. Selected candidates should be prepared to comply with this requirement. The systemwide policy can be found at <https://calstate.policystat.com/policy/9779821/latest/>. Questions can be sent to: academicpersonnel@csuchico.edu.

We acknowledge and are mindful that CSU, Chico stands on lands that were originally occupied by the first people of this area, the Mechopoda.

CSU, Chico is an Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status and only employ individuals authorized to work in the U.S. For disability-related accommodations, please call the ADA Coordinator at (530) 898-5959.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

An annual security report disclosing crime statistics for California State University, Chico can be obtained by contacting the Chico State University Police Department (530-898-5555) or by visiting: https://www.csuchico.edu/clery/_assets/documents/annual-security-report.pdf

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 (revised July 21, 2017) as a condition of employment.

All positions are contingent on funding.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/8/2021

Date Posted: 10/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9573

University of Louisville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Political Theory

Specializations: Political Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Louisville is accepting applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position to begin Fall 2022. The position is in political theory with a research emphasis on race, ethnicity and/or post-colonial identity in politics. The department welcomes candidates who address these topics from various traditions within political theory in conversation with American or comparative politics. The ideal candidate will contribute to the University of Louisville's stated commitment to become "a premier anti-racist metropolitan research university."

The successful candidate will be able to teach a variety of undergraduate and graduate courses related to the position's focus, as well as one introductory-level course in another subfield of political science. Teaching experience is a plus, and candidates should have demonstrated research potential. Candidates who are ABD will be considered, but College policy requires completion of the PhD by February 15th of the first probationary year.

The Department of Political Science has 16 full-time professors and is proud of a diverse and dynamic faculty and student body. We have over 500 students enrolled in BA and MA programs. The University of Louisville is a Carnegie-classified R1 metropolitan research university. The salary and benefits package are competitive.

Position is subject to final budgetary approval.

Interested candidates must apply online and attach a curriculum vitae. In addition, applicants should submit a cover letter, sample of written work, graduate transcripts, teaching evaluations (if available), and three letters of reference. We ask that in the cover letter, the candidate describe how their research, teaching, or service experiences support inclusive learning and diversity.

Materials should be sent to Dr. Tricia Gray, Chair, Department of Political Science, University of Louisville, Louisville, KY 40292 or via email to polisci@louisville.edu. Priority application deadline is November 8, 2021; application review will continue until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science encourages candidates to apply who have demonstrated capacity to create inclusive work environments, will work effectively on increasingly diverse teams, and will serve the increasingly diverse students we admit and want to attract.

<https://www.higheredjobs.com/institution/details.cfm?JobCode=177659559&Title=Assistant%20Professor%20of%20Political%20Science%20%28Job%20ID%3A%2042136%29&aID=7137>

To apply for this position, follow the "Apply on Institution's Website" at the link above and then click on the "Apply

Now" button. You must answer all required fields and submit your application by clicking the "Submit" button. Detailed instructions are available at louisville.edu/jobs in the "My Career Tools" section. If the posting description requested that you follow up and mail or email other documents, your application will not be considered complete until those have been received by the department.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9571

University of South Florida

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Theory

Organizational Summary

The School of Interdisciplinary Global Studies is an academic unit that includes programs in Africana Studies (BA, MLA), Latin American, Caribbean, and Latino Studies (MA), International Studies (BA), Political Science (BA, MA) and Politics and International Affairs (PhD).

The College of Arts and Sciences at USF celebrates diversity and inclusive excellence in alignment with our Principles of Community. We believe our future success as an institution requires that we attract and retain a diverse workforce. We are proud to be an equal opportunity workplace and an affirmative action employer. All job decisions at USF are made without regard to race, color, ethnicity, religion or belief, age, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity or any other status protected by the laws or regulations in the locations where we operate.

The University of South Florida is a high-impact global research university dedicated to student success. Over the past 10 years, no other public university in the country has risen faster in U.S. News and World Report's national university rankings than USF. Serving more than 50,000 students on campuses in Tampa, St. Petersburg and Sarasota-Manatee, USF is designated as a Preeminent State Research University by the Florida Board of Governors, placing it in the most elite category among the state's 12 public universities. USF has earned widespread national recognition for its success graduating under-represented minority and limited-income students at rates equal to or higher than white and higher income students. USF is a member of the American Athletic Conference. Learn more at www.usf.edu.

Position Summary

The School of Interdisciplinary Global Studies at the University of South Florida invites applications for a 9-month, tenure-earning Assistant Professor position beginning on August 7, 2022. The teaching load is four courses per academic year. The primary teaching responsibility is Political Theory. Candidates must be able to teach both undergraduate and graduate level courses.

Salary is negotiable. The closing date for receiving applications is October 29, 2021. To apply, please visit <http://employment.usf.edu>.

Applicants should attach the following supplemental items to their application: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, sample syllabi, and a writing sample no longer than 40 pages. All documents must be combined and uploaded as one file.

QUALIFICATIONS

Minimum Qualifications

The minimum requirement for this position is a Ph.D. in Political Science, Politics, or Government with a specialization in Political Theory from an accredited institution. Applications from individuals who are ABD will be accepted, but the degree must be conferred by appointment start date. Must meet university criteria for rank of Assistant Professor.

Preferred Qualifications

We are particularly interested in candidates whose teaching and research interests contribute to the school's focus on "citizenship, justice, and identity in a global context," through an interpretive lens that sheds insight into the interconnecting strands of contemporary crises.

Information for Applicants

This position is subject to a Level 1 criminal background check.

Job Opening Number: 28656

How To Apply

Click on the Apply Now button. When applying to an opening you will have the opportunity to upload a cover letter and resume.

Apply online by completing the required information and attaching your cover letter and resume. Please include your experience as it relates to the qualifications stated above. YOUR COVER LETTER AND RESUME, PLUS ANY OTHER REQUESTED MATERIAL, MUST BE IN ONE ATTACHMENT. Only online applications are accepted for this position.

Click here for additional tutorial information.

Equal Employment Opportunity

USF is an equal opportunity, equal access academic institution that embraces diversity in the workplace.

Conclusion of this search is subject to final budget approval. According to Florida Law, applications and meetings regarding them are open to the public. USF is an Equal Opportunity/Equal Access Institution. For disability accommodations, contact Jamee Stiffler at (813) 974-0842 or jstiffler@usf.edu, a minimum of five working days in advance.

The University of South Florida does not discriminate on the basis of sex and prohibits sexual harassment. Any person may report sex discrimination, including sexual harassment (whether or not the person reporting is the person alleged to be the victim of conduct that could constitute sex discrimination or sexual harassment), in person, by mail, by telephone, or by electronic mail, using the contact information listed for the Title IX Coordinator. Reports may be made at any time either online or directly to the University's Title IX Coordinator.

Work Location

USF - Tampa Campus

About USF

The University of South Florida is a high-impact global research university dedicated to student success. Over the past 10 years, no other public university in the country has risen faster in U.S. News and World Report's national university rankings than USF. Serving more than 50,000 students on campuses in Tampa, St. Petersburg and Sarasota-Manatee, USF is designated as a Preeminent State Research University by the Florida Board of Governors, placing it in the most elite category among the state's 12 public universities. USF is a member of the American Athletic Conference.

Working at USF

With more than 16,000 employees at USF, the University of South Florida is one of the largest employers in the Tampa Bay region. At USF you will find opportunities to excel in a rich academic environment that fosters the development and advancement of our employees. We believe in creating a talented, engaged and driven workforce through on-going development and career opportunities. We also offer a first class benefit package that includes medical, dental and life insurance plans, retirement plan options, tuition program and generous leave programs and more.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 10/29/2021

Date Posted: 10/7/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9531

University of Houston

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor – Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position, to begin Fall 2022. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on Political Theory. Candidates from all areas of Political Theory are invited to apply, though special consideration will be given to candidates with a research interest in the History of Political Theory, American political thought, or Constitutional Theory/Constitutionalism. Successful candidates should have extensive training in the History of Political Theory, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Review of applications will begin October 11 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC001909. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, short writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation.

For further information please contact Professor Alin Fumurescu, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at afumuresc@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples. Additionally, the University prohibits discrimination in employment on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2021

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 9430

University of Houston

Rank: Open Rank

Open Rank – Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of Houston invites applications for an open-rank position (Assistant, Associate, or Full professor), to begin Fall 2022. We seek applicants whose research and teaching interests focus on Political Theory. Candidates from all areas of Political Theory are invited to apply, though special consideration will be given to candidates with a research interest in the History of Political Theory, American political thought, or Constitutional Theory/Constitutionalism. Successful candidates should have extensive training in the History of Political Theory, demonstrated excellence in scholarly research and publication, and a clear commitment to undergraduate and graduate teaching. Review of applications will begin October 11 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston, a Carnegie Tier-1 research university with one of the most diverse student bodies in the nation, seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of scholars.

The Department of Political Science provides high-quality undergraduate and graduate education, with over 800 majors and 75 M.A. and Ph.D. students. The Department capitalizes on the strengths of our city, offering students and faculty opportunities to research the politics of the future in a dynamic hub of international commerce, and in a region which is on the leading edge of national demographic and economic trends.

Applications should be submitted through the University's online job site, <http://www.uh.edu/human-resources/uh-careers/>. The position number keyword is FAC001954. To apply please submit a letter of application, CV, sample of published work, and contact information for three professional references. Listed references will be asked to provide a letter of recommendation for junior applicants.

For further information please contact Professor Alin Fumurescu, Department of Political Science, University of Houston, at afumures@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, veterans, women and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples. Additionally, the University prohibits discrimination in employment on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/26/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9431

Purdue University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Philosophy

Purdue University's Department of Philosophy is seeking a philosopher of political philosophy for a tenure-track academic year appointment at the assistant professor level. AOS: Political Philosophy (including social ontology). AOC: Open. We are particularly interested in political philosophers who make use of relevant empirical work, including the historical, political, or cognitive sciences.

Principal Duties: Purdue is a member of the American Association of Universities, and thus a strong research profile is expected of the successful candidate in addition to graduate mentoring. Teaching load is 4 courses/year (2/semester), undergraduate and graduate, including two courses per year in the College of Liberal Arts' Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts first-year curriculum. This curriculum is highly flexible but emphasizes student engagement with primary texts in philosophy, literature, and history.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in philosophy or related field required prior to appointment.

The College: The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University is embarking upon 40 faculty searches for positions to begin in Fall 2022. These positions will advance research within and across disciplines, and intersect with technology, data science, and engineering in relevant and important ways. These positions include teaching in our innovative, nationally-recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program that educates students across the university. Purdue University, the College of Liberal Arts and the Department of Philosophy are committed to free and open inquiry in all matters. Candidates are encouraged to address in their cover letter how they are prepared to contribute to a climate that values free inquiry.

Application Procedure: All materials will be submitted electronically through careers.purdue.edu Requisition ID 16108 Applications must include: (i) a brief cover letter, (ii) curriculum vitae (including dissertation abstract and research statement), (iii) copies of official graduate transcripts, (iv) names, email addresses, and institutional affiliations of at least three references, (v) evidence of teaching effectiveness, (vi) a writing sample of approximately 8-10K words, and (vii) a diversity and inclusion statement. Letters of reference should not be included in the initial application but should be prepared for quick submission if requested. If letters are requested from the candidate at a later stage, instructions for how to submit letters will be communicated directly to the candidate. As Purdue Philosophy is advertising four positions, please indicate clearly in your cover letter the position for which you are applying.

Purdue University's Department of Philosophy is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin October 23, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Incomplete applications will not be considered, and a background check will be required for employment in this position. Questions should be addressed to search committee chair, Prof. Christopher Yeomans (cyeomans@purdue.edu).

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9421

University of South Carolina

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Theory

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Theory to begin August 16, 2022. The position is open with regards to substantive specialization, though individuals who can contribute to the teaching of the Founding Documents of the United States are especially encouraged to apply. We seek candidates with well-conceived, theoretically-informed research agendas who have published in or demonstrate the promise of publishing in leading outlets. Successful candidates will be able to teach substantive courses in Political Theory and contribute to the department's graduate and undergraduate programs. A Ph.D. in political science is required by the start date of appointment.

Applicants must submit a cover letter; curriculum vitae; a writing sample; statements of research and teaching interests; graduate transcript; and contact information, including telephone number and email address, for three references. References will be contacted directly for letters of recommendation. The position will remain open until filled, and the search committee will begin reviewing applications on October 18, 2021. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/postings/106108>.

Please contact the search committee chair, David Darmofal (darmofal@mailbox.sc.edu) with any questions. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>.

The University of South Carolina System (www.sc.edu) is comprised of the state's flagship university in Columbia (founded in 1801 and currently one of the top 50 "Best Colleges" according to U.S. News and World Report), three regional comprehensive universities (USC Aiken, USC Beaufort and USC Upstate), and Palmetto College consisting of four two-year campuses (USC Lancaster, USC Salkehatchie, USC Sumter, USC Union and Fort Jackson/Extended University). Together, the USC System institutions offer more than 450 degree programs on campus and online and are uniquely positioned to meet the state's educational, cultural, health and research needs. The System employs nearly 14,000 people who work daily to improve the lives of students, fellow South Carolinians and the world. Our diverse engaged faculty and staff enjoy a dynamic and intellectually stimulating work environment.

The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, transgender status, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, protected veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9394

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2022. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2022.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must submit a CV, and a job market paper. Applicants for non-tenured positions should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted by November 30, 2021. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to Faculty_Recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 9/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9296

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Theory

The Department of Politics and the University Center for Human Values seek applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in political theory. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21626>.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Political Theory Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 7, 2021.

Requisition Number: D-22-POL-00004

Start Date:

Date Posted: 8/17/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9179

Dartmouth College

Rank: Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty appointment at any rank in American Politics or Political Theory

The Department of Government at Dartmouth College invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured faculty appointment at any rank. We seek qualified candidates whose research examines African American political thought, the political experiences of African Americans, and/or issues of race and racial injustice related to African Americans. The position includes the option of an affiliation with the Program in African and African American Studies (AAAS).

Applicants should have a strong commitment to teaching, scholarly work, engaging undergraduate students in research, and building a diverse and inclusive educational environment. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower-income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should discuss in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Political Science, Philosophy, or a related discipline, or have the Ph.D. conferred before the start date of their appointment.

Application Instructions:

- 1) Cover letter, including overview of research areas and teaching interests. Applicants should also state in their cover letter, or in a separate statement, how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- 2) C.V.
- 3) Dissertation abstract or research statement (maximum two pages single-spaced)
- 4) Three confidential letters of recommendation, one of which should be from the dissertation advisor (for ABD applicants)
- 5) Writing sample of 20-40 pages

Applications must be submitted electronically at: <https://apply.interfolio.com/92314>. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be sent to Michelle.T.Clarke@dartmouth.edu or Jennifer.L.Jerit@dartmouth.edu.

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9168

University of California, Irvine

Rank: Political Science Visiting Lecturer

The Department of Political Science is seeking applicants for temporary part-time lecturer positions to teach in the field of Political Theory contingent on departmental need. These positions will replace faculty on leave during the 2021-22 academic year.

Requirements - We are seeking candidates with strong teaching credentials who might contribute to our undergraduate program in Political Theory. Candidates should have a Ph.D.

These part-time positions are based on an annual salary range beginning at $56,381 and the number of courses could vary.

Service Period Dates for 2021-2022 Academic Year:

Fall Quarter: 9/20/21 – 12/10/21

Winter Quarter: 1/3/22 - 3/18/22

Spring Quarter: 3/23/22 – 6/10/22

Application Procedure - Interested applicants should submit a letter of application, vita, three letters of reference, evidence of teaching performance, and a Statement of Contributions to Diversity via our online recruit system: <https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF06770>

Priority for positions will be given to applications completed by August 15th, 2021. Please note this is a continuous recruitment to fill classes on an as-needed basis. The department will refer to the pool of applications on file to fill assignments as necessary throughout the year.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9047

Bucknell University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

Bucknell University's Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track position in political theory beginning in the fall semester of 2022. We seek a scholar whose research and teaching centers on feminist political theory. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach a core course in political theory, one or more electives in feminist political thought, and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute courses that bring comparative and nonwestern perspectives on political theory to the curriculum. We expect to hire at the Assistant Professor level but are open to considering outstanding candidates at other ranks.

We seek candidates whose teaching and research will contribute to the department's commitment to both diversity and academic excellence. We welcome candidates who demonstrate excellence in reflective multicultural and inclusive teaching practices and who display a strong commitment to collaboration and interdisciplinarity. Evidence of teaching experience and excellence as well as the promise of being a productive scholar are critically important. The teaching load is five courses over two semesters. By the start date of the position, candidates are expected to have a Ph.D. in political science with a sub-field specialization in political theory.

For additional information and to apply, please go to careers.bucknell.edu. The application should include a cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, statement of commitment to diversity, three letters of recommendation, graduate transcripts, sample publications or papers, course evaluations if available, and sample syllabi relevant to this position. Questions about the position should be addressed by email to Professor Doug Hecock at rdh013@bucknell.edu. Applications received by September 27, 2021 will receive full consideration.

About Bucknell

Bucknell University is a private, highly ranked, primarily undergraduate, national liberal arts institution that also offers strong professional programs in engineering, management, education, and music.

Bucknell University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. The university believes that students learn best in a diverse, inclusive community and is therefore committed to academic excellence through diversity in its faculty, staff, and students. Applications from members of groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education are encouraged.

Bucknell is committed to creating a climate that fosters inclusion, growth, and development for a diverse student body, and seeks candidates who are also committed to these goals.

Bucknell is committed to supporting the teacher-scholar model of faculty development. With a student-faculty ratio of about 9:1, small class sizes are a hallmark of the Bucknell educational experience. The university sponsors a range of activities to support the development of its faculty, including a Teaching-Learning Center and generous research support and leave policies.

Bucknell is located in Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, on the banks of the Susquehanna River. The Lewisburg area offers a combination of outdoor recreation opportunities and small-town amenities. In addition to the cultural and athletic events offered at the University and in town, the region offers strong schools and medical facilities, and an affordable cost of living. Bucknell is about three hours from Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D.C.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9015

Amherst College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory)

The Department of Political Science at Amherst College invites applications for a full-time position at the rank of assistant professor in political theory.

Within the last decade, Amherst College has profoundly transformed its student body in terms of socioeconomic status, ethnicity, race, and nationality. Today, nearly one-quarter of Amherst's students are Pell grant recipients; 43 percent of our students identify as domestic students of color; and 10 percent of our students are international students. Our expectation is that the successful candidate will excel at teaching and mentoring students who are broadly diverse with regard to race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion.

Candidates may focus on the history of political thought, ancient or modern political theory, contemporary comparative/international political theory, or non-Western political theory. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2022.

We seek a colleague with a record that demonstrates high-quality teaching and research, and who is committed to excellence in education at the undergraduate level. Candidates should be comfortable teaching courses both within and outside their specialty and be able to direct undergraduate research projects. We expect candidates to offer the year-long sequence of courses covering ancient to modern political theory. The successful candidate must have the Ph.D. in hand or have fulfilled all requirements for the degree by the start of the appointment.

Candidates are asked to submit electronically to <https://apply.interfolio.com/89518>, a letter of application, a CV, three confidential letters of recommendation, and a single-authored writing sample (e.g., article or dissertation/book chapter). Review of applications will begin on October 11 and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by this date will be assured full consideration.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8961

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Political Theory

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach our introductory course in political theory, POLISCI 108: Contemporary Political Ideologies. A description of this courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University <https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog->

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master's Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of political theory. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act. The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA- related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 4/30/2024

Date Posted: 4/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8845

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Carleton University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Organizational Management and Leadership

The School of Public Policy and Administration at Carleton University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Organizational Management and Leadership, effective 1 July 2022. Through research, teaching and supervision, the successful candidate will participate in the development and delivery of the School's graduate programs.

To see the full position posting, please visit Carleton University's Deputy Provost's website at <https://carleton.ca/deputyprovost/jobs/academics/>.

About the School of Public Policy and Administration:

A research-intensive School, situated in a unique Faculty of Public Affairs, is a recognized centre of academic excellence in public policy and public administration. It is the largest and oldest school of its kind in Canada and is well-known internationally, offering a PhD in Public Policy, Master of Public Policy and Administration, Master of Philanthropy and Nonprofit Leadership, a joint MA in Sustainable Energy, an online graduate Diploma in Public Policy and Program Evaluation, and a graduate Diploma in Indigenous Policy and Administration. The School's multidisciplinary faculty members are engaged in diverse research and teaching initiatives and are regularly called upon for their expertise by government departments, NGOs, and international agencies. More information on the School is available at www.carleton.ca/sppa and on the University as a whole at the Faculty Affairs Web site www.carleton.ca/provost.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have earned or be close to completion of a PhD in a relevant discipline by July 1, 2022, and have demonstrated promise of excellence in research and teaching related to public administration, public management, and/or organizational theory and leadership.

The ideal candidate's research should reflect a broad and nuanced understanding of the increasingly complex leadership and governance structures in which public policy is developed. We seek candidates whose research addresses organizational change and the roles that leadership and management can play in these processes within a broad range of institutional settings, including public service and nonprofit and civil society organizations. This position will integrate research across several crucial School programs (e.g., Public Policy and Administration; Sustainable Energy; Program Evaluation; Nonprofit Leadership; Indigenous Administration). The person appointed would be ideally situated to enhance the School's reputation in inclusive and innovative leadership and governance and play a key role in related funding applications and projects. In their applications, we invite candidates to reflect on the implications of their research agenda for Indigenous peoples and traditionally excluded and marginalized groups in Canadian society.

Application instructions:

Applications should include:

- Covering letter and Curriculum vitae;
- Statement of research interest;
- Teaching portfolio with a statement on teaching philosophy and evidence of effectiveness; and
- One or more research papers or publications.

The application materials should be sent electronically as four separate pdf documents to: Dr. Jennifer Stewart, Director, School of Public Policy and Administration, OrgMgmt.Hiring@carleton.ca. Applicants should also arrange to have three confidential letters of reference sent directly by the referees to the same email address. Review of the files will begin December 15, 2021. Interviews will take place in early January 2022.

Please indicate in your application whether you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9760

Carleton University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Policy and Program Evaluation

The School of Public Policy and Administration at Carleton University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Policy and Program Evaluation, effective 1 July 2022. Through research, teaching, and supervision, the successful candidate will participate in the development and delivery of the School's graduate programs.

To see the full position posting, please visit Carleton University's Deputy Provost's website at <https://carleton.ca/deputyprovost/jobs/academics/>.

About the School of Public Policy and Administration:

The research-intensive School, which is situated in a unique Faculty of Public Affairs, is a recognized centre of academic excellence in public policy and administration. It is the oldest and largest school of its kind in Canada and is well known internationally, offering a PhD in Public Policy, Master of Public Policy and Administration, Master and Diploma of Philanthropy and Nonprofit Leadership, joint MA in Sustainable Energy, Graduate Diploma in Public Policy and Program Evaluation, and Graduate Diploma in Indigenous Policy and Administration. The School's multidisciplinary faculty members are engaged in diverse research and teaching initiatives, and are regularly called upon for their expertise by government departments, nonprofits, and international agencies.

Qualifications:

The position is open to candidates from a diversity of disciplines; candidates should have earned a PhD by July 1, 2022 or soon thereafter, have an active research agenda related to policy and program evaluation and have demonstrated promise of teaching related to evaluation.

A variety of expertise related to monitoring, evaluation and impact assessment is relevant to this position, including expertise in: quantitative and/or qualitative approaches to evaluation; data management and visualization; gender-based analysis; and management of evaluation and impact measurement systems in a public or nonprofit context. Priority will be given to candidates working on the conduct and application of evaluation to social and economic inequities, vulnerable and racialized communities and/or the advancement of equity, diversity and inclusion in the public or nonprofit sector. The candidate would have an ability to teach graduate students how to produce evaluation, critically assess and use evaluation, understand pressures and challenges of impact assessment, and supervise and mentor student teams in experiential learning projects with government or community partners.

Application instructions:

Application materials should be sent electronically as a single PDF file which includes:

- a curriculum vitae,
- a statement of research interests, and
- a teaching portfolio with a statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of effectiveness.

Please also provide a statement that identifies your strengths in advancing equity, diversity, and inclusion in your discipline and on campus as well as your future plans.

As separate files, please include one or more research papers or publications.

Please indicate in your application if you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

The electronic package should be sent to: Dr. Jennifer Stewart, Director, School of Public Policy and Administration, Eval.Hiring@carleton.ca. Applicants should also arrange to have three confidential letters of reference sent directly by the referees to the same email. Review of files will commence on December 15, 2021, and (virtual) interviews will begin in mid-January 2022.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9761

SUNY, Stony Brook UniversityRank: Assistant/Associate Professor in Environmental Policy or Economics*Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Public AdministrationSpecializations: Environmental Policy, Regulatory Policy, Science & Technology

Position Description

The School of Marine and Atmospheric Sciences (SoMAS) at Stony Brook University invites applications for a faculty position in environmental policy or economics connected to water resources and/or water quality. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to teaching and will teach classes at the undergraduate and graduate levels, as well as mentor students. The candidate will commit to departmental and university service. SoMAS is a multi-disciplinary environment, with opportunity for collaboration within the School, with the Center for Clean Water Technology, and within the University. The candidate will establish and sustain a vigorous independent externally funded research program.

Candidates at the Assistant Professor or Associate Professor level are encouraged to apply. Candidates for the rank of Associate Professor should have well established records of research and educational activities, including experience in multi-PI research programs. Compensation will be commensurate with experience.

Required Qualifications:

Expertise in environmental policy and/or economics connected to water and/or water quality. Applicants with expertise in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: sustainable management of water resources, equity issues in water quality, public health implications of drinking water contamination, wastewater treatment infrastructure, and impacts of climate change on water availability and quality. Experience in teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental policy and/or economics. Experience in course and curriculum development. Experience mentoring undergraduate and/or graduate students. Experience obtaining and managing external research funding. Experience collaborating on multidisciplinary research projects.

Preferred Qualifications:

Expertise in environmental policy and/or economics connected to water and/or water quality. Applicants with expertise in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: sustainable management of water resources, equity issues in water quality, public health implications of drinking water contamination, wastewater treatment infrastructure, and impacts of climate change on water availability and quality. Experience in teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental policy and/or economics. Experience in course and curriculum development. Experience mentoring undergraduate and/or graduate students. Experience obtaining and managing external research funding. Experience collaborating on multidisciplinary research projects.

Application instructions:

Complete applications should include a curriculum vita, statements of teaching and research interests (including a list of previous courses taught), a statement about relevant experience in outreach and contributions to diversity and inclusion, and names and contact information of at least three references. Applications should be received by January 10, 2022 for best consideration, although applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/98061>

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: 1/10/2022Date Posted: 11/29/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9770University of Missouri, Columbia*Rank: Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor*Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Administration

Open-Rank Tenure-Track/Tenured Professor

Description

The University of Missouri is launching an ambitious multi-year hiring initiative, Mizzou Forward, that is intended to attract high profile scholars with a record of significant external funding. The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs is participating in this initiative and tenure-line positions are available for exceptional candidates in the fields of public policy, political science, comparative politics, international relations, and/or public administration. This is an executive style search that is managed centrally by the University; applications may be submitted at any time.

A successful MizzouForward candidate is a research leader with a passion for collaboration and the grit to address our world's most pressing research challenges. The colleagues we're looking to recruit possess:

- A proven track record of active, external research funding, particularly from federal agencies
- A research agenda that complements the goals of MizzouForward
- A robust publication and citation record
- National awards and honors, membership with national academies
- An interdisciplinary scope of work

For more information and to apply, see: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

The Truman School of Government and Public Affairs was recently created through the merger of the School of Public Affairs and the Department of Political Science within the College of Arts and Science. The School has 33 faculty with academic appointments in the School and numerous joint and affiliated faculty. It offers a PhD in Public Affairs; a PhD in Political Science; a Master of Public Affairs; an MA in Defense and Strategic Studies; a BA in Political Science; and a BA in Public Administration and Policy. The School also houses the Institute of Public Policy and has partnerships with the Kinder Institute of Constitutional Democracy and the Institute of Korean Studies.

About the University of Missouri

The University of Missouri was founded in 1839 in Columbia, Missouri, as the first public university west of the Mississippi River and the first state university in the Louisiana Purchase territory. MU provides the benefits of two universities in one — it is a major land-grant institution and Missouri's largest public research university.

Considered one of the nation's top-tier institutions, MU has a reputation of excellence in teaching and research and is the flagship campus of the four-campus University of Missouri System. It is one of only 64 public universities, and the only public institution in Missouri, to be selected for membership in the Association of American Universities. Mizzou is the flagship campus of the University of Missouri system, located in Columbia, just 20 minutes to the Columbia

Regional Airport, and less than 2 hours to St. Louis or Kansas City. Columbia, Missouri, consistently rated as one of the best communities in which to live, is an ideal college town. It combines small-town comforts, community spirit and low cost of living with big-city culture, activities, and resources. Home to nationally renowned public schools and other colleges and educational centers, Columbia is packed with restaurants and entertainment venues and hosts more than a dozen annual arts/cultural festivals.

Application Requirements

External Application URL and Instructions: <https://provost.missouri.edu/mizzou-forward/>.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9754

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a 3-year Renewable Contract position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2022. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department's NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program. We seek a colleague with the ability to teach multiple core courses in the MPA curriculum. In addition, the successful candidate will make service contributions in areas including, but not limited to, student recruitment, advising, and internship management. Depending on program needs, the person hired may be reassigned to increased service to the MPA Program and decreased teaching responsibilities.

A Ph.D. in public administration, public policy, political science, or a related field is required by the start date. Information about renewable contract faculty, including policies regarding reappointment and promotion, are detailed in the UA Faculty Handbook.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/49550> and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details evidence of ability to teach core MPA courses and teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair at mpa@ua.edu. Review of applications will begin on January 24, 2022 and continue until the position is filled. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at mpa@ua.edu.

The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and actively seeks diversity among its employees. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information about UA's strategic diversity plan, see <https://provost.ua.edu/diversity/>. In addition, the College of Arts & Sciences has developed a college-level strategic diversity plan, which can be viewed here: <https://diversity.as.ua.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9689

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Assistant Professor (Public Administration/Social Equity)

The University of Oklahoma invites applications for a tenure-track position in public administration at the assistant professor level beginning in August 2022. We seek candidates with a broad competence in public administration who can contribute to our core courses in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program. We are open as to substantive research focus, but we have a strong preference for candidates whose work focuses on inequality, social justice, tribal governance, and/or issues related to race, ethnicity, or sovereignty. We also welcome scholars who would be interested in teaching in our nonprofit management program.

This position is within the Department of Political Science, a large department with two undergraduate majors (Public & Nonprofit Administration and Political Science), multiple minors (including a large minor in Nonprofit Organizational Studies), two master degree programs (Public Administration & Political Science, with the MPA offered in Norman and Tulsa), and a doctoral program with fields in public administration and public policy. The department is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Oklahoma. The University of Oklahoma is the flagship research institution for the state of Oklahoma, enrolling over 30,000 students, located in Norman, OK, a vibrant college town just 20 miles south of Oklahoma City.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in public administration, political science, or public policy, completed by August 2022, and they must be able to contribute to the MPA core curriculum. Preference will be given to applicants with (1) a substantive focus on inequality, social justice, tribal governance, and/or issues related to race, ethnicity, or sovereignty, (2) evidence of a robust research agenda and potential for success in publishing in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets, and (3) teaching experience. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, teaching statement, unofficial graduate transcript(s) (official transcript will be required for finalist), writing sample, and contact information for three references. Three letters of recommendation will be required for candidates who progress past the first screening. Any questions can be emailed to the search committee chair, Dr. Alisa Fryar (ahicklin@ou.edu).

Applicants must apply online at <https://apply.interfolio.com/97879>.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

The University of Oklahoma, in compliance with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, sexual orientation, genetic information, gender identity, gender expression, age, religion, disability, political beliefs, or status as a veteran in any of its policies, practices, or procedures. This includes, but is not limited to: admissions, employment, financial aid, housing, services in educational programs or activities, or health care services that the University operates or provides.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9681

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Association - Democratic Innovations Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: Political Behavior, Electoral Systems, Political Communication

The Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) invites postdoctoral students and junior scholars to apply for its Democratic Innovations Fellowship. Democratic Innovations is a new interdisciplinary ISPS program bringing together social scientists from a variety of fields to think about the factors that affect government policy and decision-making and to analyze novel institutions that might support improvements in representation and government performance. To further the study and dissemination of novel ideas for political representation and decision making, the program will aim to answer questions such as:

- What changes to our political institutions will promote efficient, evidence-based decisions?
- How do ideas spread and what institutions can catalyze faster social learning and elevate fact over misinformation?
- How can we build democratic political institutions founded on a realistic view of voter engagement?
- How can we attract dedicated and talented people to government and promote public engagement that contributes high-quality participation to the political system?
- What new possibilities for government and representation are introduced by modern technology?
- What lessons can we learn about factors affecting government performance from history and social science?
- How can we test our ideas scientifically and how can we work to put proven good ideas into practice?

We are interested in scholars doing basic or applied research on these and related questions. We are also interested in scholars who are experts in novel systems of representation and decision making, especially any innovations in voting or other political reforms that have been introduced recently and take advantage of advances in communication or computation.

Fellowship positions are open to those who have recently completed their Ph.D. (in the last 6 years), or to those who currently hold a faculty position as long as it is without tenure. Junior scholars are generally supported at a standard postdoctoral level for a period of one year beginning July 1, 2022 and are expected to be in residence during the academic year. In some cases, the fellowship may be extended to a second year. Fellows are expected to be actively engaged with the activities of the Democratic Innovations program and present their research at least once per semester. Salary is negotiable depending on qualifications and may, in some cases, include minimal teaching responsibilities.

Please send cover letter, research statement, current C.V., one writing sample, and two letters of recommendation. A copy of graduate transcripts is also required for postdoctoral applicants not currently holding a faculty position. Applications should be submitted online at Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/98200>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2022. Please submit your application by that date to receive full consideration.

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9668

University of Nebraska, Omaha

Rank: Assistant Professor of Emergency Management and Disaster Science

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Other

The Emergency Management and Disaster Science (EMDS) program in the School of Public Administration under the College of Public Affairs and Community Service, at the University of Nebraska at Omaha seeks applicants to fill a tenure track assistant professor position

EMDS offers a Bachelor of Science in Emergency Management and a graduate concentration in Emergency Management through the School of Public Administration. Additionally, our program provides a concentration, minor, and certificate in Tribal Management and Emergency Services as well as minors in Emergency Management and Fire Service Management. EMDS is a part of the academic programs in the School of Public Administration that offer opportunities to teach and work with undergraduate through doctoral students. The School boasts a diverse, supportive, and collaborative academic culture. It has a statewide mission and offers the state's only accredited master's program in public administration. Our talented faculty have extensive backgrounds in research and practice in their sub-fields of emergency management and are engaged in several community service activities in the City of Omaha, the state of Nebraska, and nationwide. The Mission of Emergency Management and Disaster Science is to:

- Develop student talents, wisdom, and experiences in a supportive yet demanding academic environment that prepares them for a personally rewarding, successful professional career in Emergency Management.
- Initiate and lead superior research initiatives while supporting continuous improvements in efficiency, reliability, safety, and sustainability for the provision of emergency services in the State of Nebraska and beyond.

- Foster cooperative relationships with neighboring communities, state and federal agencies, private enterprises, and nonprofit organizations through collaborative education, training, and service projects that enhance performance and productivity.
- Set, preserve, and promote the utmost standards of honesty, integrity, and transparency through the teaching of and adherence to ethical conduct and open dialogue while ensuring good stewardship and management of program resources.

A successful applicant will,

- Teach our core courses including Preparedness Planning and Risk Mitigation, Agency Collaboration during Disasters, Disaster Response and Recovery
- Conduct research on climate change, sustainability, emergency management technologies, community resilience, business continuity strategy or related fields.
- Provide service to the University, College and/or School to help accomplish assignments including accreditation, recruitment, retention, research administration, consultation, and service to the discipline and the community.

We welcome applications from scholars in all areas of Emergency Management including public administration, political science, sociology, fire science, business administration, communication, public health, and information sciences.

Applicants should have,

- Ph.D. degree or ABD in emergency management or a related field from an accredited university by time of hire.
- A developing record of scholarly accomplishment including but not limited to peer-reviewed journal publications.
- A record of excellence, or potential for excellence in undergraduate and graduate level teaching
- Research agenda and interest in research collaboration with colleagues
- Ability to develop and review curriculum
- Ability to supervise thesis, capstone, and internship assignments of students
- Ability to manage web-based courses and digital technology in the classroom
- Ability to use the latest pedagogical techniques that are effective for synchronous and asynchronous teaching and content creation (video, simulation, game, text, etc.)

The University of Nebraska at Omaha is an equal opportunity employer. The University and School have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups and strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply for this position.

To apply for this position, go to <https://unomaha.peopleadmin.com/postings/14173> . Current curriculum vita, a cover letter addressing professional experience and qualifications, and the names and contact information for three references must be attached to the electronic application. We also request that applicants submit with their application a statement that addresses their past efforts, as well as their plans, to advance equity, diversity, and inclusion in their scholarship, teaching, and service. Applicants are also encouraged to attach evidence of teaching excellence. The position will remain open until filled. If applicants have any questions, please contact the search committee chair, Dr. Namkyung Oh at noh@unomaha.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9647

Brown University

Rank: Watson Climate Solutions Postdoctoral Associate 2022-2024

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Climate Solutions at the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs. We seek a scholar to help us address one or both of two major topics: climate and trade, and the geopolitics of the global energy transition. The postdoc will help research on questions like how climate should fit into the United States' China strategy, how US policymakers can work with the EU on issues such as carbon tariffs and border adjustment measures, or how states and market actors can work together to finance decarbonization. Ability to conduct and write policy-oriented research, as well as academic research, is essential. There are no teaching responsibilities. The selected candidate will devote 50 percent time to projects at the Climate Solutions Lab, under the supervision of Professor Jeff Colgan, and 50 percent time to his or her own (climate-related) research projects. The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Founded in 1764, Brown is a leading research university distinct for its student-centered learning and deep sense of purpose. Brown University students, faculty, and staff are driven by the idea that their work will have an impact on the world. Brown is a place where rigorous scholarship, complex problem-solving, and service to the public good are defined by collaboration, intellectual discovery, and working in ways that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries.

Eligibility and terms

Scholars of all nationalities with a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, sociology, economics, or closely related disciplines will be considered.

Dissertation must be complete by June 30, 2022. Candidates must be untenured and within 5 years of Ph.D.

Fellows will receive an annual stipend of $65,000 for this benefits-eligible position. Additional funding will be made available for research expenses and research-related programming on campus.

For more information, please visit:

<http://watson.brown.edu/climatesolutionslab>

Application requirements

Candidates should submit a cover letter of application, a CV, three letters of reference and a short writing sample (15-20 pages) through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/95524>.

Applications received by December 1, 2021 will receive full consideration.

Final notifications are expected to go out in Winter 2022. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective July 1, 2022, and is not renewable.

Start Date:Date Posted: 10/20/2021Salary: $60,000 - $69,999eJobs ID: 9594New York University Faculty of Arts and Science*Rank: Junior Faculty Position in Native American Studies*Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public AdministrationSpecializations: Social Movements, Native American Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics

Junior Faculty Position in Native American Studies

Department of Social and Cultural Analysis

New York University

Faculty of Arts and Science

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis at New York University invites applications for a junior ranked search in the field of Native American Studies.

We especially welcome applications from scholars whose research relates to urban indigeneity, Critical Indigenous Theory, settler colonialism, literature, Indigenous resurgence and governance, Queer Studies, Indigenous pedagogies, environmental studies, and/or language revitalization. We encourage applications from scholars who work in collaboration with First Nations or Native American nations and whose research engages with Indigenous communities. This search is part of a cluster hire in Native American and Indigenous Studies that includes the following departments and Schools: The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis, The Gallatin School, English, Cinema Studies (Tisch), Spanish and Portuguese, and History. More information about this cluster, and NYU's broader Faculty Cluster Hiring Initiative, can be found here, and here.

The Department of Social and Cultural Analysis is comprised of programs including American Studies, Gender and Sexuality Studies, Metropolitan Studies, Africana Studies, Latino Studies, and Asian/Pacific/American Studies. Applicants who speak to one or more of these fields and have an interest in building Indigenous Studies curriculum/programming at NYU are encouraged to apply. Visit the SCA website: <http://as.nyu.edu/sca>.

The appointment will begin on September 1, 2022, subject to budgetary and administrative approval. Applications must include a cover letter, CV, and a research statement. Entry-level applicants should provide names and contact information of three recommenders. Ph.D. in hand by 9/1/2022 required. Because diversity and inclusion are an important part of the NYU mission, we request that you include a paragraph in your cover letter telling us how diversity and inclusion figure into your past, present, and future teaching, research, and community engagement. Information about diversity and inclusion statements may be found at <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity/recruitment/diversity-statements.html>.

The search committee will begin their review of applications on November 1, 2021. Please apply online through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/94342>

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the FAS commitment to diversity, equality and inclusion, please read here

<http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 10/20/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9596Columbia University*Rank: Professor of Professional Practice in Global Policy*Subfield(s): Other, Public Administration, Administration

Professor of Professional Practice in Global Policy

Founding Director of MPA in Global Leadership Program

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs

Columbia University's School of International and Public Affairs (SIPA) brings together an interdisciplinary faculty to conduct research in policy-related fields and train graduate students for careers in global public policy.

SIPA now invites applications for a full-time appointment as Professor of Professional Practice to launch and run a new graduate degree for senior leaders in global policy and management. The position is expected to begin July 1, 2022, or as soon as possible.

Candidates must have at least 10 years' experience in senior positions and be widely recognized for their distinction in a global policy field related to SIPA's areas of excellence. Candidates also must be willing and able to continue to make significant contributions in their field of practice and knowledge. Preferred candidates will hold a graduate degree (PhD or equivalent preferred) and possess university-level teaching experience or show strong promise to succeed as an instructor in a demanding academic environment. Preferred candidates should also show strong promise to succeed as the founding Director of an important new degree program.

The Professor of Professional Practice will serve as founding Director of the Master's in Public Administration in Global Leadership, an intensive 10-month degree designed to prepare senior leaders from around the world to make an even greater impact in their fields. The Director will serve as the academic leader of the program, recruiting instructors and guest lecturers for courses, seminars and workshops and overseeing academic advising of students. The Director will be expected to teach three courses per year in the program (organizing and overseeing the Summer session counts as one course). Working with a full-time Program Manager/Assistant Director and other SIPA professional staff, the Director will oversee student recruitment and admissions, build strategic partnerships, and build and nurture a strong alumni community. The new degree, which has been approved by Columbia University and the New York State Education Department, will enroll its first students in August 2023.

The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of SIPA's academic community. Applications from women and underrepresented minorities are strongly encouraged.

To submit your application, please visit our online application site here:

<http://apply.interfolio.com/95921>

Screening of applicants will begin on November 10.

For further information, please contact Hazel May, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at sipa_academicaffairs@sipa.columbia.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: 12/6/2021

Date Posted: 10/6/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9522

George Mason University

Rank: Full, Associate, or Advanced Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, International Relations

Full, Associate, or Advanced Assistant Professor

The Schar School of Policy and Government at George Mason University invites applications for three tenure-line hires. Rank and field are open. We encourage applications from talented scholars with diverse backgrounds who are committed to being part of and contributing to a nationally and internationally recognized school of policy and government. We seek candidates with very strong research records — which include publications in top journals — and trajectories for continued high research productivity. We also prefer applicants with an established track record of securing external funding that will support transformative research and doctoral students. The discipline for these hires is open, including but not limited to economics, management, political science, public policy, regional science, and sociology.

The Schar School is known among policy schools for its multidisciplinary breadth in scholarship, and for its successful educational programs at all levels, including a substantial PhD program. The School's distinguished faculty currently includes 62 tenure-line members in a variety of disciplines, all with expertise linked to policy-relevant analysis and practice. The location of our graduate campus in Arlington, Virginia (10 minutes by metro or car from downtown Washington, D.C.) provides faculty with unparalleled access to policymakers, international media, and governmental and nongovernmental organizations.

Applicants must apply at <https://jobs.gmu.edu/postings/51429>, complete and submit the online application, and upload a cover letter and CV. Candidates at the Assistant Professor level should also provide with their application a list of three professional references with contact information; senior candidates will be asked for references if they are short-listed.

The positions will remain open until filled, but for best consideration applications should be completed by November 15, 2021.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9504

University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Apply for this position at https://uasys.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UASYS/job/Assistant-Professor-of-Public-Administration-and-Public-Policy_R0006412.

The Department of Political Science in the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Arkansas invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track assistant professor position in public administration and public policy to start in August 2022. This individual will serve as a core faculty member for its Master of Public Administration and Nonprofit Studies (M.P.A.) program.

The successful candidate should be able to teach some core M.P.A. courses (e.g., Human Resource Management, Public Budgeting and Finance, Organizational Behavior, Nonprofit Management, Policy Analysis, and Community Development) as well as related undergraduate courses. The department's teaching load is two courses per semester, a total of four courses per year. The successful candidate should also be able to demonstrate potential to contribute to high quality scholarship in their area of specialization as well as contribute to graduate and undergraduate teaching, advising, and mentoring that support diverse, equitable, and inclusive practices.

Minimum Qualifications:

Applicants must hold or anticipate holding a Ph.D. in political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field by the start of employment.

Application Instructions:

Completed applications received by November 1 will be assured full consideration. Late applications will be reviewed as necessary to fill the position.

Interested applicants must submit a cover letter describing their teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample preferably from a peer-reviewed publication or a dissertation chapter, a diversity statement, sample syllabi and teaching evaluations (if available). Applicants must also submit the names and contact information of three references who are willing to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

About the Department of Political Science and the University of Arkansas:

The Department of Political Science consists of 20 full-time faculty and offers a B.A. in Political Science, an M.A. in Political Science, and an M.P.A. in Public Administration and Nonprofit Studies. Faculty in the department are also actively involved in an interdisciplinary Public Policy Ph.D. program. The Department of Political Science is committed to strengthening the diversity of its faculty, student body, and curriculum.

Founded in 1871, the University of Arkansas is a land grant institution, classified by the Carnegie Foundation among the nation's top 2 percent of universities with the highest level of research activity. The University of Arkansas works to advance Arkansas and build a better world through education, research and outreach by providing transformational opportunities and skills, promoting an inclusive and diverse culture and climate, and nurturing creativity, discovery and the spread of new ideas and innovations.

The University of Arkansas campus is located in Fayetteville, a welcoming community ranked as one of the best places to live in the U.S. The growing region surrounding Fayetteville is home to numerous Fortune 500 companies and one of the nation's strongest economies. Northwest Arkansas is also quickly gaining a national reputation for its focus on the arts and overall quality of life.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9501

James Madison University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor - Public Policy & Administration

The Political Science Department at James Madison University welcomes applicants for a tenure-track position specializing in Public Policy & Administration at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. The successful applicant will teach courses in our undergraduate Public Policy & Administration and NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration programs. Both programs emphasize community engagement in their pedagogy and a collaborative approach to program governance and operations. This faculty member will form part of the Master of Public Administration Governance Committee. Applicants must be able to teach courses on public budgeting and the budgetary process. Other specializations are open and will reflect a candidate's expertise and teaching interests, as well as department needs, including introductory-level courses in public policy or public administration.

The department seeks candidates with strong research and teaching skills and a commitment to shared program governance and an inclusive classroom and work environment. Scholars from historically excluded groups are especially encouraged to apply.

The successful applicant will teach courses in our undergraduate Public Policy & Administration and NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration programs and other courses related to the candidate's experience. Applicants must be able to teach courses on public budgeting and the budgetary process.

A doctoral degree in Public Policy & Administration or closely related field is required by the start date for appointment as Assistant Professor; ABD candidates are encouraged to apply. Applicants must demonstrate an ability to teach the required courses.

The department seeks candidates with strong research and teaching skills and a commitment to shared program governance and an inclusive classroom and work environment.

Per the Governor's Executive Directive #18, new JMU employees upon hire must disclose to the University Health Center their COVID-19 vaccination status. Unvaccinated employees are required to be tested weekly.

Employment is contingent upon the successful completion of a criminal background check.

E-Verify Notice: After accepting employment, new hires are required to complete an I-9 form and present documentation of their identity and eligibility to work in the United States. James Madison University uses the E-Verify system to confirm identity and work authorization.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9458

Harvard University

Rank: PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

2022-23 PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship

Established in 1996, under the direction of Paul E. Peterson (Henry Lee Shattuck Professor of Government), the Program on Education Policy and Governance has rapidly distinguished itself as a significant player within the educational reform movement.

PEPG's fellowship program was initiated to attract top postdoctoral researchers to quantitative-based investigations of issues in education reform at Harvard. The program has been a resounding success since its inception in 2002. These fellows have collaborated on some of PEPG's most important research papers and in organizing program conferences. Past fellows currently hold tenured and tenure-track positions at major colleges, universities and research centers in the United States and abroad.

The deadline to apply for the 2022-23 PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship is December 17, 2021.

PEPG is offering a one-year resident research fellowship at the postdoctoral level starting in the summer of 2022. The fellow will work at Harvard University and engage in independent projects that are related to the program's focus. Additionally, s/he will be expected to collaborate with PEPG's ongoing research and programs. This may include conference planning and administration, as well as working on PEPG publications. Applicants who have not yet received their Doctoral degree may apply. However, they must receive it by September 1, 2022, in order to participate. Fellows must begin their residency no later than the week of August 29, 2022.

Candidates must have received PhD (or equivalent degree) within five years of the applied-for academic year.

The stipend for the postdoctoral fellowship is $75,000. It provides modest health insurance coverage but no housing. However, assistance in obtaining affordable housing will be provided.

Applicants should submit the following materials:

- Letter of intent with current contact information including email address.
- Current curriculum vitae (please include any past awards, scholarships and publications).
- A 2,000-word proposal describing one or more research projects that will be conducted and completed while at PEPG. The proposal should include relevant background information, discrete objectives, importance and feasibility, as well as the methodology that will be used.

- Two samples of writing, if not published, then of publishable quality. These should be pertinent to the proposed research.
- The names of and letters of recommendation from three or four people qualified and willing to evaluate the applicant's project and scholarly qualifications. Recommenders should mail their letters directly to PEPG, or they can be emailed to the address below.

Applicants should email their materials to pepg_administrator@hks.harvard.edu (in PDF format). Incomplete applications may not be reviewed/considered.

All materials should be addressed to:

PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship Program
C/O Antonio Wendland
Harvard Kennedy School
79 JFK Street, Taubman 304
Cambridge, MA 02138

For further information, please email: pepg_administrator@hks.harvard.edu.

Link to job description: <https://www.hks.harvard.edu/centers/taubman/programs-research/pepg/fellowships#postdoctoral-fellowship>

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/17/2021

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9449

Oakland University

Rank: Associate Professor of Political Science - Public Administration and MPA Director

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Oakland University invites applications for an Associate Professor of Political Science-Public Administration, to begin August 15, 2022. The successful candidate will also be appointed to an initial 3-year term as MPA Director. This position is eligible for renewal during the 3rd year of each 3-year appointment.

We seek a scholar in public and/or nonprofit administration, able to teach broadly across the discipline at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Human Resource Management and Program Evaluation are immediate instructional needs in our NASPAA-accredited program.

The MPA Director supervises a full-time program coordinator and two graduate assistants, and responsibilities include overseeing curriculum development, student recruitment, and managing part-time faculty in the MPA program. The MPA Director position carries with it a two-course administrative release and stipend each regular academic year (and thus an annual teaching load of three courses in a normal academic year). Candidates must demonstrate experience with or a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Minimum Qualifications:

A PhD with a specialization in Public Administration or related field, with the ability to teach at least two MPA core courses. A record of scholarly achievement commensurate with rank of appointment according to department and Oakland University standards.

School/College/Dept Summary:

Our MPA (established 1979) is the second-oldest NASPAA-accredited program in Michigan, with concentrations in Health Care, Local Government, Criminal Justice, Nonprofit Management, and Court Administration. The MPA program has recently launched a nonprofit management certificate program and strives to be a metropolitan, community-engaged hub for public service education & training.

Oakland University is a nationally recognized doctoral university of high research activity located on 1,443 acres of scenic land in the cities of Rochester Hills and Auburn Hills in Oakland County, Michigan. The University has 142 bachelor's degree programs and 138 graduate degree and certificate programs. Academics include programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Business Administration, School of Education and Human Services, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Medicine and School of Nursing. As an anchor institution in southeastern Michigan, Oakland University is committed to building ongoing and collaborative relationships with the surrounding communities. Community and civic engagement enhances the lives of our students and has a positive impact on our broader community.

Special Instructions:

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for at least three references to <https://jobs.oakland.edu/posting/22506>.

Candidates will also provide a Diversity Statement that describes their interest or efforts in furthering diversity and inclusion, consistent with the MPA program Diversity Philosophy: "The OU MPA Program is committed to creating a welcoming environment for all students, faculty, and staff. We will work to inculcate an awareness of the value of diversity and to impart the ability to interact respectfully and productively with all stakeholders in a variety of organizational settings, regardless of race, ethnicity, sex, class, nationality, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, age, and/or veteran status." Once all required application materials have been uploaded through the online system, references will be contacted with a link through which they can submit letters of recommendation. Review of materials will begin on November 19 and will continue until the position is filled.

Please address questions to Dr. Douglas Carr, Search Chair, via email: carr@oakland.edu.

Link: <https://jobs.oakland.edu/postings/22595>

OU COVID-19 VACCINATION POLICY

COVID-19 vaccinations are now required for all Oakland University students, faculty and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9395

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Assistant Professor

Description

The University of Oklahoma invites applications for a tenure-track position in public policy at the assistant professor level beginning in August 2022. We seek candidates who focus on sub-national policy, broadly defined. We are open to candidates studying any sub-national unit of government, including tribal nations, state governments, school districts, or city or county governments, among other sub-national governing entities. We are also open in terms of theoretical orientations and empirical approaches, although we consider an ideal candidate able to contribute to our graduate methods offerings. We encourage applicants from all substantive policy areas, but preference will be given to candidates with expertise in social policy, broadly defined (e.g., healthcare, education, housing, food security, welfare, family policy, disability, among others). We prefer candidates with a research agenda demonstrating the potential for external funding. The selected candidate will teach core public policy courses in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program and contribute to the department's course offerings in public policy and research methods at the undergraduate and PhD levels.

This position is within the Department of Political Science, a large department with two undergraduate majors (Political Science and Public & Nonprofit Administration), multiple minors, two master's degree programs (Public Administration & Political Science), and a doctoral program. The department is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Oklahoma. The University of Oklahoma is the flagship research institution for the state of Oklahoma, enrolling over 30,000 students, located in Norman, OK, a vibrant college town just 20 miles south of Oklahoma City.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or a related field at the time the position begins in August 2022, be able to teach core public policy courses in the MPA curriculum and have the potential to contribute to the department's course offerings in public policy and research methods at the undergraduate and PhD levels. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in social policy, broadly defined, and whose research agenda shows potential for external funding and for publication in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, research and teaching statements, unofficial graduate transcript(s) (official transcript will be required for finalists), writing sample, and contact information for three references. Three letters of recommendation will be required for candidates who progress past the first screening. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled. Any questions can be emailed to the search committee chair, Dr. Deven Carlson decarlson@ou.edu. Applicants must apply online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/93547>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9388

California State University, Northridge

Rank: Part Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Other

Announcement of Anticipated Part-Time Faculty Openings

Department: Political Science

Effective Date of Appointment: Academic Year Spring 2022

CSUN's Commitment to You:

CSUN is committed to achieving excellence through teaching, scholarship, learning and inclusion. As both an AANAPISI & HSI (Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander Serving Institution & Hispanic Serving Institution), CSUN welcomes candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and inclusive excellence. Our values include a respect for all people, building partnerships with the community and the encouragement of innovation, experimentation and creativity. CSUN strives to cultivate a community in which a diverse population can learn and work in an atmosphere of civility and respect. CSUN is especially interested in candidates who make contributions to equity and inclusion in the pursuit of excellence for all members of the university community.

For more information about the University, visit our website at: <http://www.csun.edu>

About the College:

For information about the College, visit our website at: <https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences>

About the Department:

For information about the department, visit our website at: <https://www.csun.edu/social-behavioral-sciences/political-science>

ANTICIPATED NEEDS:

Instructors for in-person Washington, D.C.-based classes in support of the CSUN in DC Internship Program. Specific classes are listed below. Note: All part-time faculty appointments are temporary and do not confer academic rank. Final determination of part-time teaching assignments is contingent upon student enrollment figures and funding.

Current Salary Range:

Fractional Amount of Base Salary ($4229 - $5047)

Paid in 6 monthly installments

Courses or Specialization:

Upper division courses in:

1. POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
2. POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
3. POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
4. POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Qualifications:

Applicants must have Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field in hand or must be in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy or must have at least 10 years of professional experience working in government, politics, non-profit management, or advocacy. Applicants who are in the advanced stages of Ph.D. candidacy must have passed the comprehensive examination for the Ph.D. in their field.

University teaching experience is strongly preferred. A demonstrated ability and commitment to teach, mentor and work with a diverse student population.

Application Process:

Applicants must submit a current resume, a cover letter, a sample syllabus, evidence of teaching effectiveness and the attached checklist indicating which course(s) they are interested in teaching to the address in the section below. The resume should include educational background, prior teaching experience, evidence of scholarship, and/or related professional experience. In later phases of the search process, applicants may be requested to provide verification of terminal degrees, licenses and certificates.

Application Deadline:

For Spring 2022: November 8, 2021

(Checklist)PLEASE INDICATE COURSES YOU ARE INTERESTED IN TEACHING:

- ___POLS 486SOC. Social Science Career Internship
- ___POLS 494I/A. Political Science Internship
- ___POLS 449DC. DC Politics, Culture, and History
- ___POLS 449PR. Professional Development in DC

Inquiries and applications should be addressed to:

Dr. Tom Hogen-Esch, Chair & Eugene Price Professor
Department of Political Science
California State University, Northridge
18111 Nordhoff Street
Northridge, CA 91330-8254
tom.hogen-esch@csun.edu

General Information:

In compliance with the Annual Security Report & Fire Safety Report of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, California State University, Northridge has made crime-reporting statistics available on-line here. Print copies are available by request from the Department of Police Services, the Office for Faculty Affairs, and the Office of Equity and Diversity.

The person holding this position may be considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

CSUN is an Equal Opportunity Employer and prohibits discrimination on the basis of race, color, ethnicity, religion, national origin, age, gender, gender identity/expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, marital status, veteran status, and disability. Our nondiscrimination policy is set forth in CSU Executive Order 1096. Reasonable accommodations will be provided for applicants with disabilities who self-disclose by contacting the Political Science Department at (818) 677-3488.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: 11/8/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9338

Harvard University

Rank: Director of Content & Strategy, The Justice Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Public Administration

The Justice Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative at Harvard University's Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics (EJSCE) seeks a Director of Content & Strategy.

This is a new, grant-funded position that will be situated within the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics. At present, the Center has two major strategic initiatives, and the new JHD Director of Content & Strategy will oversee one of these—the Justice, Health, and Democracy Initiative. A collaboration with New America and Brown School of Public Health, the JHD Initiative develops principled, accessible policy guidance, designed for practitioner use, particularly focused on the intersecting problems of public trust, health equity, justice, democratic participation, and political economy, in the U.S. and around the globe. Through the Justice, Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative, EJSCE experts, in collaboration with colleagues at New America and Brown, work directly with local leaders and practitioners in a range of professional contexts to clarify overarching policy needs and objectives anchored in ethical principles, and to develop practical approaches to a new social contract that improves people's lives. The model is multidisciplinary and responsive to the on-the-ground issues that practitioners face. It connects expertise to the needs of practice with "orient-do-learn-do" cycles of research, policy implementation and locally-driven innovation. The model is building an innovative approach to translational work (i.e. making academic expertise accessible to practitioners in real time) for the social sciences and humanities.

The JHD Initiative encompasses multiple project workstreams on themes ranging from genetic science and health equity to Covid recovery and technology and democracy. Each workstream is headed by a faculty member, post-doctoral fellow, or graduate student, often with the support of graduate and/or undergraduate research assistants and staff. The translational process involves agenda setting, stakeholder mapping and engagement, development of clear deliverable objectives, project management, dissemination, and implementation hand-offs. In addition, the JHD Initiative partners with on-campus initiatives to support webinars and programs building on the JHD research and translational work. The Principal Investigator for the JHD is Nien-hè Hsieh, Acting Director for the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics.

The JHD Director of Content & Strategy will engage in direction-setting and substantive work related to the project workstreams while also assuming overall project management and coordination from the PI. This will involve hiring key staff in the areas of project management and research, as well as coordinating closely with EJSCE leadership on hires for communications. In addition, the role involves establishing operational processes, tracking and managing workflow for the existing team as the professional team gets fully built out, and creating and managing budgets. The JHD Director of Content & Strategy will work in close collaboration with Professor Hsieh on all of the above. This position will also join the leadership team at the EJSCE and will work with the Executive Director to ensure alignment of the JHD initiative with the overall mission of the Center. As a leadership team member, the JHD Director of Content & Strategy will be responsible for internal communications with EJSCE staff related to the JHD initiative and for partnering with other leadership team members to ensure smooth operations across all domains of EJSCE work.

This term position will be renewed annually, based on business need and funding availability. The position is currently grant-funded for three years, with a strong likelihood of extension.

Job-Specific Responsibilities

Responsibilities will include:

Serve as subject matter expert on topics relating to initiative; serve as a delegate for the PI and other project leads in high-level meetings; serve on Center's Leadership Team to ensure alignment of goals with Center's priorities and mission. In consultation with the PI and partner project leads, identify goals and priorities; drive the strategic planning and implementation processes forward.

Collaborate with faculty director and peer directors at partner institutions for specific project selection and research design; oversee programmatic work and execution of projects of the three research tracks (Justice, Health & Democracy), aligning with research track leads on content and ensuring deadlines are met and deliverables reached. Develop and implement staffing plan and provide oversight of human resource functions, including recruiting, hiring, and managing staff; explore and secure strategic partnerships; serve as liaison to Faculty Committee and other contributors to promote engagement with projects.

Provide fiscal management including oversight of budget planning, and securing additional funding from philanthropic, government, and other sources.

Manage sponsored research activities, including grant applications and reporting, in consultation with the Center's Grants Manager.

Develop organizational structure for the work and track workflows, providing project coordination and oversight until all key personnel are in place; manage transitions.

Interview and make hiring decisions for JHD administrative staff, in collaboration with Center staff and JHD team members; serve as supervisor for JHD admin staff (1 non-exempt FTE Project Manager position) and temp workers, as needed; assign and review work, conduct annual performance reviews and take corrective action, up to and through termination, as needed; provide administrative oversight for up to 6 JHD Graduate and 4 Undergraduate student researchers. Provide oversight and execution of administrative functions, including infrastructure development, compliance with Harvard and FAS policies and procedures, and space identification.

Basic Qualifications

Master's degree; Minimum 5 years of progressively responsible administrative management experience in research, academic, or relevant setting, and including at least 2 years of direct professional staff supervision.

Additional Qualifications and Skills

PhD, MBA, or other terminal professional degree preferred in social sciences, humanities, natural sciences, public health, communications, or other relevant fields. Work experience generating subject area expertise also of interest as alternative to a degree. Familiarity with Harvard is desirable. Demonstrated success leading collaborative projects and achieving exceptional operational results.

Working Conditions

*Harvard will require COVID vaccination for all Harvard community members who will have any on-campus presence. Individuals may claim exemption from the vaccine requirement for medical or religious reasons. More information regarding the University's COVID vaccination requirement and exceptions may be found at the University's "COVID-19 Vaccine Information" webpage: <http://www.harvard.edu/coronavirus/covid-19-vaccine-information/>.

Additional Information

If you believe that you qualify for at least 70% of this job description, we encourage you to apply. We know that imposter syndrome and the confidence gap can prevent strong candidates from applying to a job unless they see themselves as a 100% fit. We would love to hear from you.

This term position will be renewed annually, based on business need and funding availability. The position is currently grant-funded for three years, with a strong likelihood of extension.

All formal offers will be made by FAS HR.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9331

Harvard University

Rank: Fellow-in-Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics at Harvard University invites applications from a broad range of researchers and practitioners who will work over the course of the year on pressing issues in ethics. Faculty in arts and sciences and professional schools, postdoctoral scholars, practitioners, and researchers from industry, government, and NGOs are eligible to apply.

For the 2022-23 academic year, the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics will continue its focus on the theme of "A New Social Compact?" Variations in national responses to the pandemic; disparate experiments with technology, economic, and health policies; and conflicts over foundational political institutions have thrown into stark relief different conceptions of the social compact (a phrase we use loosely to refer to shared understandings of what members of societies believe they owe to each other) around the world. Myriad challenges - including challenges relating to education, climate and the natural environment, migration, new technologies, public health, elections, racial justice, and economic well-being - call us to revisit and evaluate existing conceptions of the social compact at both national and global levels. We ask, is it time for a new social compact?

We invite applications connected to any dimension of this broad field of inquiry. We see the nature of the questions raised and the challenges to be addressed as so multifaceted as to make this theme not very restrictive; however, in our usual fashion, we will also consider applications that fall outside the parameters of this thematic description. All eligible applicants are encouraged to apply. Priority will be given to early career scholars and practitioners.

Fellows-in-Residence will be expected to devote the majority of their time to their individual projects and to participate in regular work-in-progress seminars. In addition, Fellows are strongly encouraged to participate in the Center's programming, which includes public lectures, themed seminars and reading groups, conferences, workshops, and lunch discussions.

This Fellowship is intended to be residential. With the exception of travel to conferences and meetings, Fellows are expected to be in residence in the Boston area at least four working days per week during the term. The coronavirus pandemic resulted in a waiver of this requirement for the 2020-21 academic year. 2021-22 will be a transitional year, and our hope is to resume in-person, fully residential programming for the 2022-23 academic year.

In addition, the Center offers the possibility of joint fellowship opportunities with the following centers; potential affiliations are arranged on a case-by-case basis:

Berkman Klein Center for Internet and Society at Harvard University
Carr Center for Human Rights at the Harvard Kennedy School
Center for Bioethics at the Harvard Medical School
Center for Research on Computation and Society at the Harvard John A. Paulson School of Engineering and Applied Sciences
Hutchins Center for African & African American Research at Harvard University
Petrie-Flom Center for Health Law Policy, Biotechnology and Bioethics at the Harvard Law School

Applicants will be invited to indicate on the application form whether they wish to be considered for a joint fellowship position with one of these Centers. If selected, the joint fellowship will offer access to development opportunities and programming at the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics and the partnering center.

ELIGIBILITY

Applicants must have a PhD, professional degree, or a minimum of 5 years of equivalent professional experience. Applicants from any discipline or professional field will be considered. Those who have previously held a yearlong residential Fellowship at the Center are not eligible; this limitation does not apply to former Undergraduate Fellows or former Graduate Fellows. The Fellows-in-Residence Program runs the course of the academic year, typically from the beginning of September through the end of May, and is open to all applicants who meet the above criteria, regardless of citizenship.

STIPEND

Faculty:

We offer a stipend of one-half of your base academic year salary, up to $75,000, and a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Post-Doc:

The stipend for post-doctoral fellows will be $60,000 for 2022-23. We also provide a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Practitioner:

Practitioner stipends are determined on a case-by-case basis, commensurate with experience, up to a maximum of $75,000, and a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

To apply, complete an online application form which includes submission of the following in .pdf, .doc, or .docx form:

Cover letter stating your background and interest in the Fellows-in-Residence Program at the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics
CV
Research proposal
Recent writing sample

Please note: Name and contact information for three professional references will be requested, but no letters will be accepted at this stage.

The deadline to submit an application is November 15, 2021, with decisions likely in February 2022. Please note that the application form will be saved automatically while in progress, but no edits or alterations will be allowed once you have submitted the application. Please direct questions regarding this application process to EJSafraFellowships@fas.harvard.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/15/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9330

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in Political Science (with a concentration in American Politics). This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate political science courses in American Politics; teaching master's degree courses in our public administration (MPA) program, which will be delivered in person as well as online; and advising pre-law students. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is August 1, 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9313

University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth

Rank: Full Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

The University of Massachusetts Dartmouth seeks a full-time lecturer with a strong record in undergraduate teaching and expertise at the intersection of public health, public policy, non-profit/public administration, and health disparities (gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, class, or other areas). Cross-listed courses will support interdisciplinary undergraduate programs in Women and Gender Studies, Health and Society, and Political Science. Initial appointment is for a 2-year contract, with strong possibility for ongoing contract renewal upon successful performance review of teaching, advising, and service.

Applicants must be authorized for employment in the U.S. on a full time basis. Employment-based visa sponsorship not available.

Starting date is September 1, 2022. The teaching load is 4 preparations per semester for courses across all levels of the curriculum. On-line teaching experience preferred.

Requirements: PhD in Political Science, or in a related social science field. The successful applicant will have a focus on the intersections between public health, public health related policy, non-profit/public administration, and health disparities (gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation/identity, class) and have demonstrated significant experience in undergraduate teaching. Ph.D. required by start date of Sept. 1, 2022; preferred that applicants have Ph.D. in hand by date of application.

To apply: Please send a letter of interest detailing teaching interests and qualifications, a curriculum vitae with contact information for three references, sample course syllabi, and course evaluations (if possible, evaluations should be pre-COVID). Please submit application materials via this link: <http://careers.umassd.edu/dartmouth/en-us/job/507850/fulltime-lecturer-in-public-healthpublic-policy-gender-health>

Completion of the search is contingent upon the availability of funding.

Formal review of applications begins October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9270

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--Public Policy/Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Open

Public Policy/Administration

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in Public Policy/Public Administration. Applicants from any area of the Public Policy/Public Administration fields are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance, public service ethics, non-profit and public management, and/or organizational theory. We are particularly interested in applicants who also have backgrounds in public policy and address substantively important questions related to inequality. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach (including but not limited to those using rigorous analytical approaches including the tools of computational social science and "big data" in their research).

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci-utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Critical Race Collective; the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field must be finished at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, statements of research, teaching, service, and diversity if not included in the cover letter, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application material in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92424). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent via Interfolio. Review of applications begins October 5, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Michael Jones at mjone239@utk.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9172

Marshall University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Public Administration)

The Marshall University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor position in Public Administration beginning in August 2022. Applicants should demonstrate the ability to teach face-to-face and online undergraduate and graduate courses in Public Administration and American Government. Applications should also show evidence of an active research agenda. Marshall is a Carnegie-classified R2 institution. The successful candidate will play an integral role in the continued development of the department's interdisciplinary MPA program as we build upon our existing strengths to pursue NAASPA accreditation. Our MPA is fully online. To view our curriculum, please visit www.marshall.edu/mpa. Our interdisciplinary MPA program benefits from synergy with the College of Business, Leadership Studies, and Geography. The program expects its faculty and students to contribute to Marshall University's commitment to civic engagement through applied research and community service activities. Marshall University is an AA/EOE institution committed to developing a diverse faculty and staff.

The department requires a completed Ph.D. by the time of initial appointment in August 2022.

Please submit the following information through our online application website: <https://marshall.peopleadmin.com/user/new> 1) A cover letter 2) Curriculum vitae 3) Writing sample that suggests evidence of strong research agenda using the "Other Attachment" option. 4) Research statement, including descriptions of future research plans 5) Teaching statement, including descriptions of teaching interests 6) Names and contact information for three academic references. Marshall will contact references directly with instructions for submitting letters through our Applicant Tracking System. 7) Additional documents, e.g., sample syllabi, published articles, if applicable. Submit this information through the "Other Documents" section of the online application. Applications will be accepted until the position is filled, but to ensure full consideration, complete applications must be submitted by 09/30/2021. Applicants interviewing on campus must have official transcripts (undergraduate and graduate) forwarded directly to the chair of the search committee by their degree granting institutions, prior to an on-campus interview.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/11/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9150

Miami University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration

Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration to teach courses across the public administration core and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2022.

Required: Doctorate in public policy, political science, or a closely related field (ABDs may apply but all degree requirements must be completed by date of appointment). Doctorate is required by December 31, 2022. To be appointed to the rank of Associate Professor requires collegiate teaching expertise and high-quality research.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to <https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/498989/assistant-or-associate-professor-in-public-administration>. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9117

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in Political Science (with a concentration in American Politics). This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate political science courses in American Politics; teaching master's degree courses in our public administration (MPA) program, which will be delivered in person as well as online; and advising pre-law students. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is August 1, 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/28/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9091

PUBLIC LAW

Augustana College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Political Science (Law and Politics) – Augustana College, Rock Island, IL, invites applications for a full-time, Tenure-Track Assistant Professor position in the Political Science department beginning in August of the 2022-2023 academic year. Augustana College is a selective liberal arts and sciences college of 2,400 students, including 19 percent first generation college students, 22 percent Pell Grant students, 23 percent students of color, and 13 percent international students. Our beautifully wooded and largely residential campus is located in Rock Island, IL, a diverse Illinois-Iowa Quad Cities metropolitan area along the Mississippi River with 400,000 residents about three hours west of Chicago.

Strengthening our diverse and inclusive community is central to the college's mission and strategic plan. We seek applicants with an interest in fostering rigorous, inclusive, and high-impact learning environments for a diverse student body. Details about Augustana College, faculty life, and the Quad Cities all are available at Teaching at Augustana.

We seek candidates who are able to teach courses in Constitutional Law, the judicial process, and other courses related to law and politics. We welcome applications from candidates who examine judicial processes and politics from the perspectives of underrepresented communities, including, but not limited to, the following communities: Latinx, African-American, Native

American, LGBTQI+.

In addition, the successful candidate will teach Introduction to American National Government and upper division courses in American Politics. All faculty contribute to the first-year experience through a combination of teaching in the college's first-year inquiry program and/or offering January-term courses aimed at first-year students. In addition to teaching, the successful applicant will also serve as Pre-Law advisor, guiding students of all majors in their pursuits of careers in the legal profession, including law school.

The candidate will join a diverse and active, four-member department. Each faculty colleague has interdisciplinary interests beyond political science that complement the political science curriculum such as Africana Studies, Environmental Studies, Latin American Studies, Asian Studies and more.

Successful candidates will be able to demonstrate teaching effectiveness and an understanding of and/or willingness to embrace the nature of a liberal arts education. Experience and interest in working with students and community members of many backgrounds will be an asset for applicants. We also expect the successful candidate to have the potential to have a successful research agenda. Preference will be given to candidates who will have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment, although ABD candidates will also be considered.

Augustana College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Augustana College provides equal opportunity to all qualified employees and applicants without regard to race, national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, veteran status, and any other category protected by federal, state, or local law.

A complete application will include: a cover letter indicating an interest in the understanding of teaching in a liberal arts setting, curriculum vitae, copy of graduate transcript(s), a sample of scholarly writing, a statement of teaching philosophy, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a diversity statement. Questions may be directed to the chair of the department, Xiaowen Zhang, at xiaowenzhang@augustana.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until February 1, 2022.

For more information and to apply, please visit:

<http://augustana.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=139637>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 2/1/2022

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9743

California State University, Sacramento

Rank: Law and Society

The Department of Political Science at California State University, Sacramento seeks candidates to fill a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin in Fall 2022. Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science, Sociology, related field, or J.D. are encouraged to apply. ABD candidates will be considered; if ABD, candidates will be required to complete the doctoral degree by January 2023. We are specifically seeking candidates with a focus on Law and Society. Candidates must have a demonstrated commitment to working with a diverse student body and a diverse community. Candidates are also required to have a strong commitment to college teaching, and an ability to teach a range of lower and upper division courses in Political Science, including Constitutional Law and Constitutional Rights and Liberties. Candidates are required to demonstrate potential for scholarly achievement; the department is open to methodological approaches. Additional preferred qualifications and application procedures are listed in the full vacancy announcement. The department reminds applicants that it is only necessary to meet the required qualifications in order to apply. Review of applications will begin December 8, 2021 and the position will remain open until filled. An applicant can find the full vacancy announcement at, and must apply through, the Sacramento State jobs website at <https://careers.csus.edu/en-us/job/506155/tenure-track-faculty-political-science-law-and-society>. The job posting number is 506155. Inquiries can be made to the search committee chair, Brian DiSarro, at disarrob@csus.edu.

AA/EO Employer, Clery Act, mandated reporter, background check required.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9680

Fort Lewis College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Law and US Politics)

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics, Native American Politics

Position Summary:

This tenure track Assistant Professor of Political Science will serve as the department's expert in public law and U.S. political institutions.

The primary responsibility of this position is teaching, but continuing to develop a research agenda is expected and supported by the department and college.

Minimum Qualifications:

1. Juris Doctorate (J.D.) or Ph.D. in Political Science or related field by August 2022
2. Demonstrated ability to teach and conduct research in public law and U.S. politics
3. A demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and student success, as well as working with broadly diverse communities

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Substantive interest and expertise in tribal law or federal Indian law
2. Experience teaching underrepresented populations
3. Professional experience working in tribal governance, public policy, or law

Major Responsibilities:

1. Teaching 21 credits per year (4 x 3)
2. Teaching U.S. National Government, Constitutional Law, Civil Rights and Liberties, Criminal Justice, and specialized courses in successful candidate's research area
3. Demonstrating a commitment to student success in the classroom, during office hours, through mentorship of political science students, and by supervising undergraduate research projects
4. Demonstrate a commitment to diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging, as well as working with broadly diverse communities.
5. Coordinating the pre-law minor
6. Maintaining an active program of scholarship and disciplinary engagement
7. Participating in departmental and College governance and professional service?
8. Maintains knowledge and awareness of digital accessibility including the American with Disabilities Act and Section 508.
9. Produces and remediates digitally accessible materials in accordance with FLC standards.
10. Performing other duties as assigned

Work Conditions:

The work environment characteristics described here are representative of those that an employee can expect while performing the essential functions of this job. Reasonable accommodations may be made to enable individuals with disabilities to perform the essential functions.

Moderate noise (i.e. business office with computers, phone, and printers, light traffic).

Ability to sit at a computer terminal for an extended period of time.
Compensation

The salary for this position is $55,500 plus a comprehensive benefits package. The anticipated starting date is in August 2022

Application Process:

A complete application packet includes:

1. Cover letter addressing interest and qualifications for position. Include details regarding how your course design and personal and professional experiences allow you to encourage a learning environment grounded in equity and inclusion. "How do you envision contributing to Fort Lewis College's commitment to equity and inclusion?"

2. Curriculum vitae
3. Names and contact information for three current, professional references

Submit materials as one PDF file via email to:

APPoliticalScience-Search@fortlewis.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/5/2022

Date Posted: 11/9/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9684

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Director, James Madison Program

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Political Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, Political Philosophy & Theory

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is hiring an Assistant Director. The Assistant Director will report directly to the Executive Director and work collegially with Program staff in all aspects of the planning and executing of Program activities, including Summer Seminars.

Apply here: <https://social.icims.com/viewjob/po1636047907357dd0e6>

Primary Responsibilities:

Provide assistance to the Executive Director in administering/facilitating the JMP Fellowship programs:

Oversee the selection process of and mentor the James Madison Program's annual Visiting Fellows and Postdoctoral Research Associates

Provide expert guidance for the fellows' research and publication agendas

Assist in the selection of lecturers and panelists for JMP events

Provide assistance to the Undergraduate Programs Manager by:

Conducting optional non-credit seminars for the Madison Program Undergraduate Fellows Forum

Offering Freshman Seminars when approved

Teaching courses in the Politics track in American Ideas and Institutions (AIIP) with the approval of the Dean of Faculty and at the invitation of the Department

Precepting when possible in lecture courses in the Department

Plan and direct Madison Program non-credit summer seminars for high-school students, Princeton and non-Princeton undergraduate students, and recent PhD's

Qualifications

Essential Qualifications:

Master's degree or higher in politics, law, or related field

Strong leadership skills and demonstrated record of success working in higher education

Strategic planning and analytical skills

Demonstrated oral, written, research, presentation, and facilitation skills

Demonstrated relationship-building ability and aptitude for collegial interactions with faculty, staff, and students

Able to multitask and prioritize duties
 Record of politics-related scholarly publications, both articles and books
 Demonstrated expertise in American constitutional law, American political institutions, and American and Western political thought

Preferred Qualifications:
 Terminal degree in Politics, Law, or other politics-related field
 Proficient in Microsoft Office applications (Word, Excel, and PowerPoint)
 Related experience in undergraduate teaching and administration

Start Date:
Date Posted: 11/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9666

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Visiting Fellow
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites college and university professors and other professionals with established records of scholarship to apply for appointments as Visiting Fellows for the academic year running from September 1, 2022 to June 1, 2023. One-semester appointments are possible but not preferred. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to sufficient enrollment and approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

All James Madison Program Visiting Fellows will spend an academic year (9-month term) in residence at Princeton University or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus daily, and on short notice, in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Visiting Fellows are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are encouraged, however, to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures.

All James Madison Program Fellows must have a doctorate or equivalent degree. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. Fellows normally receive a stipend of one-half their academic-year salary plus a living allowance. The fellows' home institutions are expected to provide at least half of their academic-year salaries.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22061>

A complete application must include the following:
 * a curriculum vitae;
 * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;

* a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
 * contact information for two references

Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 1, 2021 - June 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2021 for appointments beginning in September 2022. Awards will be announced in March 2022 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:
 Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.
 Executive Director
 James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions
 Princeton University
 83 Prospect Avenue
 Princeton, NJ 08540
 E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu
 Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 11/4/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9660

Princeton University

Rank: James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associate
Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law
Specializations: Political Philosophy & Theory, Constitutional Law & Theory, American Politics

The James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions at Princeton University is dedicated to the pursuit of scholarly excellence in the fields of constitutional law and political thought. Sponsored by Princeton's Department of Politics, the Program seeks to enrich the intellectual life of Princeton students and faculty by exploring American constitutional principles and structures through research and public discussion.

The Program invites recent Ph.D. recipients to apply for appointments as Postdoctoral Research Associates or more senior researchers for the year from September 1, 2022 to September 1, 2023, with the possibility of renewal for an additional year, contingent on funding and outstanding performance. Appointments will be through the department of Politics. All James Madison Program postdocs are expected to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus daily, and on short notice, to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation, office hours, and the like. They may not be employed by another institution during the term of their Princeton appointment. They enjoy access to Firestone Library and a wide range of other facilities and activities throughout the University. Depending on the needs of the University, teaching opportunities may be available, subject to the approval of the Dean of the Faculty.

Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to devote full time to their proposed research. They are, however, encouraged to attend or participate in various activities of the Program, including faculty-student seminars, colloquia, and public lectures. The position is a fully funded, 12-month postdoctoral research associate appointment with benefits. All James Madison Program Postdoctoral Research Associates are expected to have a Ph.D. degree. Applications are evaluated on the basis of (1) the significance of the proposed research; (2) the quality of the applicant's past research; and (3) the future contribution the applicant is likely to make to higher education. Positions are open to all regardless of citizenship. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to apply: Applicants are required to submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/22042>

A complete application must include the following:

- * a curriculum vitae;
- * a scholarly paper written in the past three years;
- * a statement (no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research;
- * contact information for two references.

For priority consideration application materials must be received by 11:59 p.m. EST on December 1, 2021; applications will continue to be reviewed until positions are filled. Awards will be announced in March 2022 or before.

Please address any inquiries to:

Bradford P. Wilson, Ph.D.

Executive Director

James Madison Program in American Ideals and Institutions

Princeton University

83 Prospect Avenue Princeton, NJ 08540

E-mail: bpwilson@princeton.edu

Web address: jmp.princeton.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/1/2021

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9659

Florida Atlantic University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Florida Atlantic University invites applications for two tenure-track positions in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor for the 2022-2023 academic year. Candidates should expect to teach undergraduate and graduate courses in American politics and quantitative research methods. Applications reflecting expertise in new techniques and technologies will receive special consideration. Preference will be given to candidates who have a broad range of quantitative methodological expertise in, but not limited to: R, Generalized Linear Models, Multilevel Modeling, and Bayesian approaches.

The Department is deeply committed to a community of excellence, equity, and diversity and welcomes applications from women, underrepresented minorities, persons with disabilities, sexual minority groups, and other candidates who will contribute to the diversification and enrichment of ideas and perspectives. Preferred candidates have a commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, experience working directly with people from diverse racial, ethnic, and socioeconomic backgrounds, and can demonstrate skill in the understanding of cultural differences.

Hires will have a teaching load of 3/2 and should be able to provide instruction in a variety of modalities, including online, hybrid and in-person. Ability and willingness to lead occasional faculty seminars on new methods are preferred. Candidates should also demonstrate an active research agenda in either methodology or American Politics, which includes potential for outside support through public or private grants. Undergraduate and graduate advising, mentoring, and thesis supervision related to the political science and data science majors are important components of this position.

The new hire will contribute substantially to FAU's Comparative Studies Ph. D. program and to the M.S. in Data Science and Analytics degree. Depending on their area of study, the new hire may also contribute to interdisciplinary programs and have the opportunity to participate in college or department programs such as the Leon Charney Diplomacy Program and the Advanced Campaigning Program and/or contribute to the Study of the Americas Initiative in the Dorothy F. Schmidt College of Arts and Letters.

Minimum Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science from an accredited institution with a focus in American Politics and quantitative methodology. The successful candidate must have the Ph.D. completed by the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Salary: Commensurate with Experience

Location: Boca Raton

Application Deadline: 2022-01-21-08:00

Special Instructions to Applicant:

This position is open until filled and may close without prior notice. This position is subject to funding.

Required Documents:

FAU's Career Page permits the attachment of required/requested documentation.

https://fau.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/FAU/job/Boca-Raton/Assistant-Professor--American-Politics_REQ11672/apply

IMPORTANT: There are two positions. Each of the positions is listed separately on the FAU website. For full consideration, you should apply to both of the following listings:

REQ11672

REQ11671

PLEASE NOTE: A maximum of five (5) documents may be attached to your application. If more than five (5) documents are required for submission, please combine additional documents into one attachment to not exceed the maximum permitted.

When completing the online application, please upload all required documentation noted here: (1) cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae. Along with the cover letter and CV, please make sure the following is also included:

1. A sample syllabus for a class you have taught or would like to teach
2. A one-page research statement describing your work and future agenda,

3. A statement detailing your approach to engaging with diverse communities and articulating how your teaching, scholarship and/or service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus,
4. The names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited for candidates placed on the long list).

Transcripts:

The selected candidate for this position is required to submit an official transcript sent directly from the institution is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment. Similarly, for degrees from outside the United States, the evaluation by an organization belonging to the National Association of Credential Evaluation (NACES), with an indication of the documents the evaluation was prepared from (official transcripts, diplomas, dissertation abstracts) is required for the Provost's credential file prior to the first day of employment.

Background Screening:

Successful completion of a pre-employment background check is required for the candidate selected for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9607

Towson University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Assistant Professor
Department of Political Science
College of Liberal Arts
CLA-3519

Position:

The College of Liberal Arts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in the Department of Political Science beginning August 2022.

Qualifications:

Applicants with Ph.D. in hand at the time of application will receive preference, although ABDs may be considered if degree will be completed by the spring of 2022. Successful applicants will possess a strong commitment to excellence in teaching, as well as demonstrate a solid potential for a productive scholarly program. The applicant should have a strong methodological background.

Responsibilities:

The position entails teaching the general survey course, The Judicial System, as well as upper-division courses such as The Supreme Court. Additionally, the applicant should be able to develop and teach courses in Courts & Public Policy, and Law & Society. Other responsibilities include advising students in the major and minor, and service to the Department, College and Institution.

As the University is striving to achieve Carnegie's R2 status, grant-funded research is also a priority. Additionally, Towson University is committed to promoting the values of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and candidates must be sensitive to the needs of, and possess an interest in working with, a diverse student body.

Towson University:

Towson University (<https://www.towson.edu/www.towson.edu>) was founded in 1866, is recognized by U. S. News and World Reports as one of the top public universities in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions, is Baltimore's largest university, and is the largest public, comprehensive institution in the University of Maryland System. TU enrolls almost 19,000 undergraduates and over 3,000 graduate students across six academic colleges (business, education, fine arts, health professions, liberal arts, science & mathematics), has almost 900 full-time faculty, and offers more than 65 bachelor's, 45 master's, and 5 doctoral programs. Our centrally located campus sits on 330 rolling green acres and is 10 miles north of Baltimore, 45 miles north of Washington D.C., and 95 miles south of Philadelphia.

Application Process:

Review of applications begins January 10, 2022 and continues until the position is filled. Interested applicants should submit the following: 1) letter of intent; 2) curriculum vitae; 3) one sample of written work; 4) a statement of teaching philosophy, and syllabi and teaching evaluations if available; 5) a reflective statement on ways the applicant can contribute to diversity and inclusion; 6) graduate transcripts; and 7) names and addresses, including email addresses, of three (3) references. If selected for the short list, letters of reference will be thereby requested.

Submit all application materials in a single PDF file to this address: https://towson.taleo.net/careersection/fac_ex/jobdetail.ftl?job=210000QBhttps://towson.taleo.net/careersection/fac_ex/jobdetail.ftl?job=210000QB

Note that the search number for which you are applying is CLA-3519.

Please direct questions about applications to: Dr. John McTague <mailto:jmctague@towson.edu>

A Criminal Background Investigation is required for the hired candidate and the results may impact employment.

The safety of our students, faculty, staff, and neighbors has been our top priority and the focus of every one of our decisions since the earliest days of the COVID-19 pandemic. The University System of Maryland (USM) has recently determined that mandating a COVID vaccine for all faculty, staff, and students at all schools in the USM is both a reasonable and necessary means of protecting our health and safety. As a prospective hire at TU, proof of your full COVID-19 vaccination must be demonstrated before you begin employment with the University.

Please be sure to visit the Applicant Data Form to complete a voluntary on-line applicant data form:

<https://www.towson.edu/inclusionequity/diversity/employment/data.html> <https://www.towson.edu/inclusionequity/diversity/employment/data.html>

The information you provide will inform the university's affirmative action plan and is for statistical-related purposes only. The information will not be used for any other purpose.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/10/2022
Date Posted: 10/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9585

Amherst College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Law

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, International Law & Organizations, Religion & Politics

Amherst College's Department of Law, Jurisprudence and Social Thought invites applications for a full-time one-year visiting appointment for the 2022–2023 academic year (beginning July 1, 2022). The successful candidate will demonstrate competence and sensitivity in working in a department in which students are broadly diverse with regard to gender, race, ethnicity, nationality, sexual orientation, and religion. Teaching responsibilities include two courses per semester and supervision of senior honors projects. We welcome applications from persons trained in the humanities, social sciences, and/or law. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching is in one or more of the following areas: global legality; post-colonial legality; law and science; law and critical race theory; law and religion; legal theory; legal history; and law and culture. The position requires a Ph.D or a J.D.

Applicants should submit electronically to Interfolio <http://apply.interfolio.com/96654> a cover letter addressed to Professor Martha M. Umphrey, curriculum vitae, sample of their scholarship, a statement of teaching philosophy, and three confidential letters of recommendation. Review of applications will begin on January 1, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled.

Amherst College is a private undergraduate liberal arts college with 1,800 students and more than 200 faculty members. Located in the Connecticut River Valley of western Massachusetts, Amherst participates with Hampshire, Mount Holyoke, and Smith Colleges and the University of Massachusetts in the Five-College Consortium.

Amherst College is an equal opportunity employer and encourages persons of all genders, persons of color, and persons with disabilities to apply. The college is committed to enriching its educational experience and its culture through the diversity of its faculty, administration, and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2021
Application Deadline: 1/1/2022
Date Posted: 10/18/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9566

Stanford University Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law

Rank: Gerhard Casper Postdoctoral Fellow in Rule of Law

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, Public Law, Other

The Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law (CDDRL) at Stanford University invites applications for the Gerhard Casper Fellow in Rule of Law for 2022–23. We welcome research on any aspect of rule of law, including judicial politics, criminal justice, and the politicization of judicial institutions. We are an interdisciplinary center; candidates from any relevant field (i.e. social sciences, law) are welcome to apply.

This is a one-year, residential postdoctoral fellowship. Candidates must have earned their PhD or JD within 3 years of the start of the fellowship, or plan to have successfully defended their dissertations by July 2022. The Gerhard Casper Fellow will be part of CDDRL's larger cohort of pre- and postdoctoral fellows; for more information, see: <https://cddrl.fsi.stanford.edu/cddrl-pre-doctoral-and-postdoctoral-fellowships>

Please apply through the CDDRL fellowship application process, and indicate in your cover letter that you would like to be considered for the Gerhard Casper Rule of Law Postdoctoral Fellowship. Application materials include a CV, cover letter (of no more than 3 pages), a statement of proposed research (5–10 pages), a complete set of transcripts, and 3 letters of recommendation.

The online application is available here: https://webportalapp.com/sp/login/stanford_cddrl_fellowship

For additional questions, please contact fellowship coordinator Kristin Chandler (kdchandler@stanford.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/17/2021
Date Posted: 10/12/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9551

California State University, East Bay

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (Pre-Law/Judicial Politics)

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Open
Specializations: Judicial Politics, Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties

FACULTY EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE

CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY, EAST BAY

FULL-TIME TENURE-TRACK

THE UNIVERSITY: California State University, East Bay (CSUEB) is a comprehensive university serving the San Francisco Bay Area/Silicon Valley. It is known for award winning programs, expert instruction, its diverse student body, and a choice of more than 100 career-focused fields of study. With an enrollment of approximately 15,000 students and 900 faculty, CSUEB is organized into four colleges. The University offers bachelor's degrees in 49 fields, minors in 52 fields, master's degrees in 34 fields, 16 credentials programs, 18 certificate options, and 1 doctoral degree program. <http://www20.csueastbay.edu/>

California State University East Bay has a mission to support a diverse student body through academically rich and culturally relevant learning experiences. The successful candidate will bring with them expertise or an openness to creating a welcoming and supportive environment for all students. Cal State East Bay, one of the most diverse campuses in the CSU system, welcomes and prepares students to apply their education to meaningful lifework, and to be socially responsible contributors to society.

THE DEPARTMENT: The Department of Political Science prepares graduates to enter careers in government, public service, public administration, public policy analysis, legislative advocacy, business, international relations, and teaching. The department offers a B.A. degree that provides both a strong background in social science and excellent professional preparation for students. The major currently offers three distinct paths to completion, the traditional major and options in pre-law and public affairs and administration. Roughly half of our approximately 180 majors are pre-law. The department currently has five tenured or tenure-track faculty.

DUTIES OF THE POSITION: The Department of Political Science at California State University, East Bay seeks an Assistant Professor (tenure track) in Pre-Law, Legal Studies, or Judicial Politics. The successful applicant will also be expected to serve as a Pre-Law advisor and to attend the Pacific Association of Pre-Law Advisors meeting and similar events. In addition to teaching, all faculty have advising responsibilities, assist the department with administrative and/or committee work, and are expected to assume campus-wide committee responsibilities. Please note that teaching assignments at California State University, East Bay may include courses at the Hayward, Concord and Online campuses.

RANK AND SALARY: Assistant Professor. Salary is dependent upon educational preparation and experience. Subject to budgetary authorization.

DATE OF APPOINTMENT: Fall Semester, 2022.

QUALIFICATIONS: The successful candidate must hold a PhD in political science or a closely related social science discipline by the effective date of their appointment. We expect the successful candidate to have demonstrated teaching ability and the potential to have a successful research agenda. The department has a preference for applicants with prior teaching experience. The department also has a preference for an applicant dedicated to helping underrepresented communities find a path toward careers in the legal profession including law school and who shares our investment in social justice, equity, and inclusivity.

Candidates should demonstrate experience in teaching, mentoring, research, or community service that has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence. Additionally, applicants must demonstrate a record of scholarly activity. This University is fully committed to the rights of students, staff and faculty with disabilities in accordance with applicable state and federal laws. For more information about the University's program supporting the rights of our students with disabilities see: <http://www20.csueastbay.edu/af/departments/as/>

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications must be received on or before October 24, 2021 to ensure full consideration. Review will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants must submit: 1) A Cover letter that addresses the requirements of the position, 2) A CV, 3) At least one sample of published research or a dissertation chapter, 4) A teaching statement, 5) Course Syllabi (esp. those that demonstrate successful teaching to a diverse student population), 6) A summary of teaching evaluations, 7) A diversity statement of approximately one page (Applicants' statements should detail how their teaching, research, and/or service has supported the success of students from underrepresented communities in their academic field; applicants who have not yet had the opportunity for such experience should note how their work will further CSUEB's commitment to social justice, equity and inclusivity), and 8) Name and contact for three confidential letters of recommendation.

Please submit a letter of application, which addresses the qualifications noted in the position announcement; a complete and current vita, and all other materials listed above via PageUp (<https://careers.pageuppeople.com/873/eb/en-us/job/504626/assistant-professor-of-political-science>, see "Apply Now"). Applicants are required to also submit a one-page diversity statement that addresses how you engage a diverse student population in your teaching, research, mentoring, and advising.

Note: California State University, East Bay hires only individuals lawfully authorized to work in the United States. All offers of employment are contingent upon presentation of documents demonstrating the appointee's identity and eligibility to work in accordance with provisions of the Immigration Reform and Control Act. A background check (including a criminal records check and prior employment verification) must be completed and cleared prior to the start of employment.

As an Equal Opportunity Employer, CSUEB does not discriminate on the basis of any protected categories: age, ancestry, citizenship, color, disability, gender, immigration status, marital status, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran's status. The University is committed to the principles of diversity in employment and to creating a stimulating learning environment for its diverse student body.

Any questions about the university, position, or application process can be directed to the search committee at ps.search.2122@gmail.com.

Applications close: Open Until Filled

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9508

Georgia State University

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at Georgia State University invites applications for a full-time Lecturer position in Public Law to begin Fall 2022. Lecturers at GSU are full-time faculty who are eligible for promotion to Senior Lecturer after five years and Principal Senior Lecturer after ten.

Lecturers at GSU have both teaching and service requirements and are full members of the department's intellectual community and leadership team. In addition to helping the university achieve excellence in undergraduate teaching and serving on MA thesis committees, Lecturers meet a broad array of vital service needs, such as coordinating our core courses, directing undergraduate programs, leading study abroad trips, coaching academic teams, and developing innovative experiential learning courses. GSU is an institutional member of the National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity, and the College of Arts & Sciences supports professional success for all faculty through mentoring programs and representation of faculty from all ranks (including Lecturers) in college-level program development.

Designated as a minority-serving institution, GSU has one of the most diverse study bodies in the country and is nationally recognized for its record in student success regardless of race, ethnicity, and income level. The Department is committed to serving this student body and advancing innovative teaching and research by building a diverse faculty. Among the core values of the department are diversity, equity and inclusion. We invite people of all backgrounds and identities, including, but not limited to races, ages, ethnicities, nationalities, religious beliefs, genders, sexual orientations, and abilities, to apply for this position. (The department's full vision, mission and values statement is here: <https://bit.ly/3DZ6Y0n>).

Required Qualifications:

- o Ability to teach courses related to public law such as: Judicial Politics and Process, Civil Rights and Civil Liberties, Constitutional Law, Introduction to American Law and/or other courses of particular interest to the candidate, both online and in-person.
- o Ability to deliver effective online instruction and a commitment to excellence in teaching undergraduates.
- o Interest in teaching and mentoring students of diverse backgrounds to promote excellence in undergraduate learning.
- o A Ph.D. in hand or evidence that a PhD will be awarded by Summer 2022.

Preferred Qualifications

- o Ability to teach more specialized courses in Public Law and Judicial Politics
- o Academic interest in pursuing the scholarship of teaching and learning.

Applicants should send a letter of application that details how the essential and preferred qualifications are met, a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, sample syllabi, and any additional evidence of teaching effectiveness. Applicants should also submit a separate detailed statement addressing how they will facilitate a diverse and inclusive learning environment both in and outside of the classroom. Finally, applicants should provide a list of at least three professional references (name, title, email address, and telephone number) who are willing to provide letters of reference in the future. Please submit all materials electronically to polsearch@gsu.edu, indicating NTT Public Law Position in the subject line. Review of applications will begin on December 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. Application materials submitted by this date will be given full consideration.

GSU is a highly diverse urban research university located in downtown Atlanta. Further information about the department can be found at politicalscience.gsu.edu. Georgia State University is an equal opportunity employer. It continues to be the policy of the University to implement affirmative action and equal opportunity for all employees, students, contractors, consultants and applicants for employment or admission without regard to race, color, religion, creed, national origin, sex, age, gender, transgender status, pregnancy, sexual orientation, genetic information, protected veteran status, or disability. An offer of employment will be conditional on background verification.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9482

California State University, San Bernardino

Rank: Assistant Professor

California State University, San Bernardino (CSUSB) is located in San Bernardino in the Inland Empire, 60 miles east of Los Angeles and operates a satellite campus in Palm Desert located in Coachella Valley. CSUSB serves approximately 20,000 students, of which 81% are first-generation college students and graduates about 5,000 students annually. As a designated Hispanic Serving Institution, CSUSB reflects the dynamic diversity of the region and has one of the most diverse student populations of any university in the Inland Empire, and the second highest Hispanic enrollment of all public universities in California. CSUSB employs 467 full-time faculty and offers 48 undergraduate, 35 graduate, and one doctoral degree programs and 14 academic programs with national accreditation.

At CSUSB, diversity, equity and inclusion are values central to our mission. We recognize that diversity and inclusion in all its forms are necessary for our institutional success. By fully leveraging our diverse experiences, backgrounds and insights, we inspire innovation, challenge the status quo and create better outcomes for our students and community. As part of CSUSB's commitment to hire, develop and retain a diverse faculty, we offer a variety of networking, mentoring and development programs for our junior faculty. We are committed to building and sustaining a CSUSB community that is supportive and inclusive of all individuals. Qualified applicants with experience in ethnically diverse settings and/or who demonstrate a commitment to serving diverse student populations are strongly encouraged to apply. CSUSB has received the Carnegie Community Engagement Classification, which recognizes CSUSB's ongoing commitment to service-learning, a high-impact practice that combines classroom instruction with meaningful volunteer service and correlates strongly to student success.

JOB SUMMARY

The Department of Political Science seeks applicants for a tenure-track position with primary expertise in the fields of Constitutional Law, including civil liberties and civil rights, and American Politics, including political institutions and public policy, to begin in the Fall Semester of 2022. A Ph.D. is required at the time of appointment. We expect successful candidates for this tenure-track position to teach courses in Constitutional Law and American Politics. The successful candidate will teach a variety of upper-division courses in these and related areas of specialization and also teach lower-division American Government courses. In addition, the candidate may be asked to teach graduate courses. The successful candidate will produce scholarly research and provide service to the university and community.

TYPICAL ACTIVITIES

Preferred candidates will be expected to meet the traditional requirements of excellence in teaching, active scholarly and professional work, mentoring a diverse student population, and service to the university and community.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must hold Ph.D. in Political Science or related field at time of employment and demonstrate evidence of teaching and research promise.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS

The person holding this position is considered a 'mandated reporter' under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

Following a conditional offer of employment, a background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate may start work with CSUSB. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may result in the withdrawal of the offer of employment. Note: CSUSB cannot deny an applicant a position solely or in part due to a criminal conviction history until it has performed an individualized assessment and linked the relevant conviction history with specific job duties in the position being sought. Please note: Current employees who are offered positions on campus will be required to undergo a background check for any position where a background check is required by law or that CSUSB has designated as sensitive. Sensitive positions are those requiring heightened scrutiny of individuals holding the position based on potential for harm to children, concerns for the safety and security of people, animals, or property, or heightened risk of financial loss to CSUSB or individuals in the university community.

For health and well-being, CSUSB is a smoke & tobacco-free campus. The university is committed to promoting a healthy environment for all members of our community.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

To find out more about the Department of Political Science:

<http://csbs.csusb.edu/political-science>.

For more information regarding the position, please contact:

Recruitment Chair
Dr. Meredith Conroy
(909) 537-5414
mconroy@csusb.edu

Department Chair
Dr. Scot Zentner
(909) 537-5480
zentner@csusb.edu

HOW TO APPLY

Please submit

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. Cover Letter that includes:
 - a. A statement of your teaching interest/philosophy
 - b. A statement of your research experience/plans
3. If available, evidence of teaching effectiveness such as teaching portfolios, reports on teaching observations, and/or student evaluations of teaching.
4. Unofficial copies of all postsecondary degree transcripts (official transcripts will be required prior to appointment).
5. Reference List - names, telephone numbers, and email addresses of three (3) referees whom we may contact to obtain letters of recommendation. Confidential letters of recommendation will be solicited from those listed as references on the application if the applicant is moved forward in the recruitment process. Non-confidential letters of recommendation can be uploaded by the applicant during the application process.

6. Diversity Statement, which may include your interpretation of diversity, equity and inclusion, and must include specific examples of how your background and your educational and/or professional experiences have prepared you for this role at California State University, San Bernardino (maximum 1,000 words).

Formal review of applications will begin November 1, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

If you are interested in this opportunity, we invite you to apply by using this CSU Recruitment hyperlink at:

<https://careers.csusb.edu/en-us/job/504586/assistant-professor-department-of-political-science>

Salary is commensurate with experience.

A background check (including a criminal records check) must be completed satisfactorily before any candidate can be offered a position with the CSU. Failure to satisfactorily complete the background check may affect the application status of applicants or continued employment of current CSU employees who apply for the position.

The person holding this position is considered a "mandated reporter" under the California Child Abuse and Neglect Reporting Act and is required to comply with the requirements set forth in CSU Executive Order 1083 as a condition of employment.

California State University, San Bernardino is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. We consider qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, religion, color, national origin, ancestry, age, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, genetic information, medical condition, disability, marital status, or protected veteran status. This position adheres to CSU policies against Sex Discrimination, Sexual Harassment, and Sexual Violence, including Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, and Stalking. This requires completion of Sexual Violence Prevention Training within 6 months of assuming employment and on a two-year basis thereafter. (Executive Order 1096)

This position may be "Designated" under California State University's Conflict of Interest Code. This would require the filing of a Statement of Economic Interest on an annual basis and the completion of training within 6 months of assuming office and every 2 years thereafter. Visit the Human Resources Conflict of Interest webpage link for additional information:

<https://www.csusb.edu/human-resources/current-employees/employee-relations/conflict-interest>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/1/2021

Date Posted: 9/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9371

Harvard University

Rank: Director of Content & Strategy, The Justice Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Public Administration

The Justice Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative at Harvard University's Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics (EJSCE) seeks a Director of Content & Strategy.

This is a new, grant-funded position that will be situated within the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics. At present, the Center has two major strategic initiatives, and the new JHD Director of Content & Strategy will oversee one of these—the Justice, Health, and Democracy Initiative. A collaboration with New America and Brown School of Public Health, the JHD Initiative develops principled, accessible policy guidance, designed for practitioner use, particularly focused on the intersecting problems of public trust, health equity, justice, democratic participation, and political economy, in the U.S. and around the globe. Through the Justice, Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative, EJSCE experts, in collaboration with colleagues at New America and Brown, work directly with local leaders and practitioners in a range of professional contexts to clarify overarching policy needs and objectives anchored in ethical principles, and to develop practical approaches to a new social contract that improves people's lives. The model is multidisciplinary and responsive to the on-the-ground issues that practitioners face. It connects expertise to the needs of practice with “orient-do-learn-do” cycles of research, policy implementation and locally-driven innovation. The model is building an innovative approach to translational work (i.e. making academic expertise accessible to practitioners in real time) for the social sciences and humanities.

The JHD Initiative encompasses multiple project workstreams on themes ranging from genetic science and health equity to Covid recovery and technology and democracy. Each workstream is headed by a faculty member, post-doctoral fellow, or graduate student, often with the support of graduate and/or undergraduate research assistants and staff. The translational process involves agenda setting, stakeholder mapping and engagement, development of clear deliverable objectives, project management, dissemination, and implementation hand-offs. In addition, the JHD Initiative partners with on-campus initiatives to support webinars and programs building on the JHD research and translational work. The Principal Investigator for the JHD is Nien-hê Hsieh, Acting Director for the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics.

The JHD Director of Content & Strategy will engage in direction-setting and substantive work related to the project workstreams while also assuming overall project management and coordination from the PI. This will involve hiring key staff in the areas of project management and research, as well as coordinating closely with EJSCE leadership on hires for communications. In addition, the role involves establishing operational processes, tracking and managing workflow for the existing team as the professional team gets fully built out, and creating and managing budgets. The JHD Director of Content & Strategy will work in close collaboration with Professor Hsieh on all of the above. This position will also join the leadership team at the EJSCE and will work with the Executive Director to ensure alignment of the JHD initiative with the overall mission of the Center. As a leadership team member, the JHD Director of Content & Strategy will be responsible for internal communications with EJSCE staff related to the JHD initiative and for partnering with other leadership team members to ensure smooth operations across all domains of EJSCE work.

This term position will be renewed annually, based on business need and funding availability. The position is currently grant-funded for three years, with a strong likelihood of extension.

Job-Specific Responsibilities

Responsibilities will include:

Serve as subject matter expert on topics relating to initiative; serve as a delegate for the PI and other project leads in high-level meetings; serve on Center's Leadership Team to ensure alignment of goals with Center's priorities and mission. In consultation with the PI and partner project leads, identify goals and priorities; drive the strategic planning and implementation processes forward.

Collaborate with faculty director and peer directors at partner institutions for specific project selection and research design; oversee programmatic work and execution of projects of the three research tracks (Justice, Health & Democracy), aligning with research track leads on content and ensuring deadlines are met and deliverables reached. Develop and implement staffing plan and provide oversight of human resource functions, including recruiting, hiring, and managing staff; explore and secure strategic partnerships; serve as liaison to Faculty Committee and other contributors to promote engagement with projects.

Provide fiscal management including oversight of budget planning, and securing additional funding from philanthropic, government, and other sources.

Manage sponsored research activities, including grant applications and reporting, in consultation with the Center's Grants Manager.

Develop organizational structure for the work and track workflows, providing project coordination and oversight until all key personnel are in place; manage transitions.

Interview and make hiring decisions for JHD administrative staff, in collaboration with Center staff and JHD team members; serve as supervisor for JHD admin staff (1 non-exempt FTE Project Manager position) and temp workers, as needed; assign and review work, conduct annual performance reviews and take corrective action, up to and through termination, as needed; provide administrative oversight for up to 6 JHD Graduate and 4 Undergraduate student researchers. Provide oversight and execution of administrative functions, including infrastructure development, compliance with Harvard and FAS policies and procedures, and space identification.

Basic Qualifications

Master's degree; Minimum 5 years of progressively responsible administrative management experience in research, academic, or relevant setting, and including at least 2 years of direct professional staff supervision.

Additional Qualifications and Skills

PhD, MBA, or other terminal professional degree preferred in social sciences, humanities, natural sciences, public health, communications, or other relevant fields. Work experience generating subject area expertise also of interest as alternative to a degree. Familiarity with Harvard is desirable. Demonstrated success leading collaborative projects and achieving exceptional operational results.

Working Conditions

*Harvard will require COVID vaccination for all Harvard community members who will have any on-campus presence. Individuals may claim exemption from the vaccine requirement for medical or religious reasons. More information regarding the University's COVID vaccination requirement and exceptions may be found at the University's "COVID-19 Vaccine Information" webpage: <http://www.harvard.edu/coronavirus/covid-19-vaccine-information/>.

Additional Information

If you believe that you qualify for at least 70% of this job description, we encourage you to apply. We know that imposter syndrome and the confidence gap can prevent strong candidates from applying to a job unless they see themselves as a 100% fit. We would love to hear from you.

This term position will be renewed annually, based on business need and funding availability. The position is currently grant-funded for three years, with a strong likelihood of extension.

All formal offers will be made by FAS HR.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9331

Moravian University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The political science department of Moravian University in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania invites applications for a tenure-track position in American politics at the assistant professor level for a position starting Fall 2022.

Candidates must have completed a PhD or be ABD near completion in political science with a specialization in American politics by August 2022. Previous teaching experience is required. The successful applicant will be responsible for teaching introductory courses in US politics along with intermediate and advanced courses such as Congress and the presidency, constitutional law, civil rights, policy, and political culture. The political science department at Moravian University emphasizes engaged teaching and mentoring to prepare students for informed engagement in political and public affairs through a purposeful consideration of the theoretical nature of politics, the ends towards which politics can be directed, and the means employed to achieve those ends. Our citizenship in theory and practice track focuses on normative purposes and argumentation, political language and consciousness, historical texts, institutionalized political processes, modes of political participation, and the particulars of contemporary policy issues. The successful candidate may also contribute to interdisciplinary programs such as Women, Gender, and Sexuality Studies, Africana Studies, Peace and Justice.

Moravian University is a member of the New American Colleges and Universities with a commitment to the liberal arts and student-focused pedagogy. Candidates should have a strong commitment to teaching in a residential learning community and should demonstrate a commitment to undergraduate student research and co-curricular student activities. A clear plan for future scholarship is essential. The department also seeks a candidate who will contribute to the intellectual life of the department and the university community at large. The political science department highly values the diversity of candidates from underrepresented groups. Moravian University is located approximately an hour and a half driving distance from both Philadelphia and New York City.

ESSENTIAL FUNCTIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

3:3 teaching load, with reassigned time as appropriate for administrative work and two preparations in the fall semester (two sections of introductory course)
 Advising students
 Occasionally teach in the First-Year Writing Seminar Program (FYWS)
 Sustain an active program of scholarly research in the area(s) of your expertise
 Produce peer-reviewed publications
 Participate in professional organizations and societies
 Complement existing faculty expertise in the four main subfields of political science
 Contribute to interdisciplinary research and teaching collaborations between the School of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences and the School of Natural and Health Sciences
 Teach introductory, intermediate, and advanced political science courses
 Mentor undergraduate student research
 Participate and direct student Honor theses
 Participate and direct Student Opportunities for Academic Research (SOAR) Projects
 Contribute to the University's commitment to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community and participate in faculty self-governance with a high level of collegiality

Our department welcomes applications from women, candidates of color, and other underrepresented groups. The University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action employer.

The deadline for applications is December 15, 2021.

All positions are subject to budget availability.

QUALIFICATIONS: A Ph.D. in political science with a specialization in American politics should be completed or near completion by August 2022.

TO APPLY: Qualified candidates should attach the following to their online application by clicking "Apply Now": (1) a cover letter that includes a statement of research interest; (2) a teaching statement including your approach to considering the global context of U.S. politics; (3) a statement addressing your approach to diversity, equity and inclusion; (4) a CV; (5) a graduate transcript; (6) a sample of scholarly writing; (7) two sample course syllabi; (8) two sets of course evaluations; (9) contact information, including email addresses, for three individuals who will provide letters of reference by December 15, 2021. Please attach documents as a single PDF file.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact Kristina Haddad, chair of the political science department at haddadk@moravian.edu.

The application deadline is December 15, 2021; review of applications will begin immediately.

Incomplete applications will not be considered.

DEI Statement

Moravian University aspires to be a welcoming community that embraces and values the diversity of all members of the campus community. Learn more about the Office for Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, and the DEI Action Plan here: <https://www.moravian.edu/dei-action-plan>.

Deep respect for others is fundamental to the Moravian University community. Moravian University does not discriminate against any person based on actual or perceived race, color, sex, religion, ancestry, genetic information, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, familial status, marital status, age, veteran status, disability, use of guide or support animals and/or mechanical aids, or any other basis protected by applicable federal, state, or local laws. In compliance with the requirements of Title IX, Moravian University does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational program and activity, including employment.

Concerns regarding all forms of discrimination, including sexual harassment and/or sex discrimination in employment:

Leah M. Naso
Title IX Coordinator/Compliance Officer
210 Colonial Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018
(610) 861-1529
TitleIX@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding gender and equity in athletics:

Rebecca May
Assistant Athletic Director
148 Johnston Hall
Moravian University
1200 Main St.
Bethlehem, Pennsylvania 18018
(610) 625-7791
mayr@moravian.edu

Concerns regarding the application of Title IX:

U.S. Department of Education
Office of Civil Rights
100 Penn Square East, Suite 515
Philadelphia, PA 19107-3323
(215) 656-8541
ocr.philadelphia@ed.gov

Report sexual harassment/sex discrimination online anytime (can be anonymous) at www.moravian.edu/titleix. Grievance procedures can be found in the institutional Equal Opportunity, Harassment, and Non-Discrimination Policy at www.moravian.edu/policy.

Please visit moravian.edu/benefits to review benefits offered at Moravian University.*

WORK ENVIRONMENT:

The work environment characteristics described here are representative of those encountered while performing the essential functions of this job.

The individual is routinely exposed to indoor conditions, minimum outdoor weather and temperature extremes, and moderate noise level.

Pursuant to the ADA, Moravian University will provide reasonable services and accommodation(s) to employees with qualified disabilities in order to perform the essential functions of their employment, except when doing so would be unduly disruptive and/or result in undue hardship to the University. Accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis through documentation review and an interactive interview process that includes the employee's supervisor. Requests for accommodation or questions about this process should be directed to Human Resources at hr@moravian.edu or 610.861.1527. View the standard physical demands for positions at Moravian University. If this position requires additional or different demands, a Human Resources team member will notify you.

The specific statements shown in each section of this description are not intended to be all-inclusive. They represent typical elements and criteria necessary to successfully perform the job.

*Please visit this link to review the benefit eligibility status associated with this position.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION Moravian University offers students a private education they will not find anywhere else: personal attention and preparation for life with a record of success longer than our nation's history. Located in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania and offering undergraduate and graduate degrees that blend liberal arts with professional programs, Moravian University has been preparing students for reflective lives, fulfilling careers, and transformative leadership in a world of change since 1742. Moravian University is a member of The New American Colleges and Universities (NAC&U), a national consortium of selective, small to mid-size independent colleges and universities dedicated to the purposeful integration of liberal education, professional studies, and civic engagement. Visit moravian.edu to learn more about how the Moravian University focus on education for all prepares its students for life-long success.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9171

Wheaton College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Other
Specializations: Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science at Wheaton College in Norton, Massachusetts invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American politics to begin Fall 2022. The ideal candidate will possess the ability to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics and public law, including courses focused on the American legal system, Constitutional law/interpretation, civil liberties, civil rights, judicial politics and other courses in the candidate's areas of specialization. Teaching responsibilities include introductory sections of U.S. government & politics, and research methods. We are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching specializations at the intersection of race, class, gender, and/or sexuality.

Classroom experience is highly desirable. The promise of excellence in teaching and scholarship is required. We are committed to providing our students with excellent educational and co-curricular opportunities, and our faculty has significant mentoring experience with new teachers in postdoctoral and junior faculty appointments. For example, we offer regular programming in professional development and all tenure-track faculty are entitled to a fully paid pre-tenure sabbatical and research funds to support scholarship. A Ph.D. in Political Science (with an emphasis in judicial politics) is preferred. ABDs will be considered. If the candidate does not have the Ph.D. in hand, they will be hired as an instructor until the degree is obtained. Inquiries about the faculty position or department should be directed to Gerry Huiskamp, Chair and Professor, Political Science, huiskamp_gerard@wheatoncollege.edu.

Inquiries about the application process and document submission may be addressed to careers@wheatoncollege.edu.

To apply please visit our website <https://jobs.wheatoncollege.edu/postings/3166>. Instructions to applicants will be listed on our website, with the following materials required: letter of application describing your areas of specialty and a statement about your interest in teaching in a liberal arts environment; curriculum vitae; three letters of reference; a graduate transcript; at least one scholarly writing sample; materials on your teaching history, including sample syllabi, course evaluations, and any other materials you wish to provide. Wheaton strives to be a community supportive of diverse perspectives and identities. Candidates should describe in their cover letter how their teaching and scholarship might support the college's commitment to diversity and inclusion. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 24, 2021 and will be accepted until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be received by September 24, 2021.

Wheaton is a private coeducational liberal arts college within easy commuting distance of Boston and Providence. We have nearly 1,800 undergraduates from 38 U.S. States and 58 countries. Nearly 24% of our undergraduates are U.S. students of color and 8% are international citizens. Wheaton College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer and does not discriminate against any individual or group on the basis of gender, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age, race, color, religion, national origin, veteran status, genetic information, or disability. In a continuing effort to maintain and enrich an intellectually diverse learning environment, the Department and the College actively encourages applications from women and members of underrepresented groups. For more information about the college, visit our website at www.wheatoncollege.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9118

PUBLIC POLICY

Kenyon College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science

The Political Science Department of Kenyon College, a highly selective liberal arts college in central Ohio, invites applications for a two-year visiting assistant position in American politics, effective July 1, 2022.

Teaching responsibilities consist of five courses per year. Qualified applicants will have a strong teaching and research background in American politics, knowledge of American history, the ability to teach our introductory American course, "Liberal Democracy in America," and to offer upper-level American politics courses and seminars. Area of specialty is open, but we are especially interested in candidates with expertise in political parties and elections, Congress, voting behavior, media and politics, and American political development. The ability to teach our quantitative analysis course is desirable. A capacity to teach our introductory freshman course, "The Quest for Justice," would also be an asset. Candidates may have opportunities to contribute to interdisciplinary programs in Public Policy and American Studies. Strong preference will go to those with a demonstrable record of excellence in teaching and research. Candidates must be committed to undergraduate teaching in a liberal arts setting. Candidates must also have a Ph.D. or be near completion by the beginning of the appointment.

To apply, visit <http://careers.kenyon.edu>. A complete application will include 1) a cover letter discussing the applicant's research interests and teaching experience; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a statement of teaching philosophy, including methods for incorporating issues related to diversity, inclusion, and equity in the classroom; and 4) a writing sample. Three letters of recommendation must be submitted directly by references or placement office to <http://careers.kenyon.edu>. Review of applications will begin on January 5th and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by January 5th are guaranteed full consideration. Initial interviews will be conducted remotely.

Kenyon Colleges offers competitive salaries and an excellent benefits package that includes provisions for a spouse or domestic partner and for dependents. An Equal Opportunity Employer, Kenyon welcomes applicants from diverse identities and backgrounds and encourages the applications of women, BIPOC, and members of other historically underrepresented groups.

Compensation and Benefits

Salaries at Kenyon are competitive and are commensurate with experience. There are a number of faculty development opportunities (e.g. travel, research funds, etc.) for which appointees are eligible.

In addition to an attractive salary, Kenyon offers benefits for employees and their family members. Children of employees are eligible for 100% tuition waivers at Kenyon, and through the Great Lakes Colleges Association, children of employees are eligible for 85% tuition waivers at fifteen other of the nation's finest liberal arts colleges.

We also offer health and dental insurance, TIAA retirement, and many other benefits, including provisions for a spouse, families, and domestic partners. Details about benefits as well as conditions of employment are described more fully in our Faculty Handbook.

Kenyon is a great place to live and work. To discover why it should be your next home, click here.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9775

University of Notre Dame

Rank: The Notre Dame International Security Center Hans J. Morgenthau Fellows

The Notre Dame International Security Center (NDISC) invites applications for its third cohort of Hans J. Morgenthau fellows. In the spirit of Morgenthau, a deep thinker about international relations and an engaged participant in debates about American foreign policy, NDISC seeks to help the next generation of scholars think more about grand strategy in its larger conceptual and historical context.

Over the course of the fellowship year, fellows will discuss their own research in the context of the burgeoning literature on U.S. grand strategy, become part of the broader network of junior and senior scholars engaged with these topics, and hone their teaching skills. Successful applicants need not have any particular view of the optimal grand strategy – just a willingness to engage in the discussion of the topic seriously and debate the alternatives civilly.

The fellowship will be directed by professors Eugene Gholz and Joseph Parent and will involve faculty from Notre Dame and other universities. Fellows will convene in-person three times over the course of their fellowship year. They will begin with an intensive week-long seminar, reading foundational texts and discussing critical issues in contemporary grand strategy at the University of Notre Dame (early August 2022). Fellows will then embark on a week-long study trip to an important international battlefield, where we will combine seminar discussions of strategy with walking the terrain and learning how history, geography, tactics, and strategy intersect (early June 2023). Their fellowship will conclude with a three-day undergraduate teaching workshop on grand strategy in Washington, DC (late July 2023). In addition to the three in-person seminars and workshops, the fellows will also convene roughly once a month for virtual speaker events and discussions over the year of the fellowship. We will, of course, adapt the plans for in-person events as required to keep all participants safe during the COVID-19 pandemic.

The fellowship includes a stipend of $10,000 plus travel expenses and accommodations during in-person fellowship activities. Ideally, applicants will be ABD doctoral candidates in political science, international relations, global affairs, public policy, history, and allied fields, but we will consider applications from exceptional candidates at other levels. We particularly welcome applications from individuals of backgrounds not widely represented in foreign policy discussions. Applicants should submit a one-page cover letter explaining how their interests engage grand strategy and how their career will relate to grand strategy, a CV, and a letter of recommendation through Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/99609>) by February 11, 2022.

For more information, please email egholz@nd.edu or jparent@nd.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 2/11/2022

Date Posted: 11/30/2021

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 9774

Carleton University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Organizational Management and Leadership

The School of Public Policy and Administration at Carleton University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Organizational Management and Leadership, effective 1 July 2022. Through research, teaching and supervision, the successful candidate will participate in the development and delivery of the School's graduate programs.

To see the full position posting, please visit Carleton University's Deputy Provost's website at <https://carleton.ca/deputyprovost/jobs/academics/>.

About the School of Public Policy and Administration:

A research-intensive School, situated in a unique Faculty of Public Affairs, is a recognized centre of academic excellence in public policy and public administration. It is the largest and oldest school of its kind in Canada and is well-known internationally, offering a PhD in Public Policy, Master of Public Policy and Administration, Master of Philanthropy and Nonprofit Leadership, a joint MA in Sustainable Energy, an online graduate Diploma in Public Policy and Program Evaluation, and a graduate Diploma in Indigenous Policy and Administration. The School's multidisciplinary faculty members are engaged in diverse research and teaching initiatives and are regularly called upon for their expertise by government departments, NGOs, and international agencies. More information on the School is available at www.carleton.ca/sppa and on the University as a whole at the Faculty Affairs Web site www.carleton.ca/provost.

Qualifications:

Candidates should have earned or be close to completion of a PhD in a relevant discipline by July 1, 2022, and have demonstrated promise of excellence in research and teaching related to public administration, public management, and/or organizational theory and leadership.

The ideal candidate's research should reflect a broad and nuanced understanding of the increasingly complex leadership and governance structures in which public policy is developed. We seek candidates whose research addresses organizational change and the roles that leadership and management can play in these processes within a broad range of institutional settings, including public service and nonprofit and civil society organizations. This position will integrate research across several crucial School programs (e.g., Public Policy and Administration; Sustainable Energy; Program Evaluation; Nonprofit Leadership; Indigenous Administration). The person appointed would be ideally situated to enhance the School's reputation in inclusive and innovative leadership and governance and play a key role in related funding applications and projects. In their applications, we invite candidates to reflect on the implications of their research agenda for Indigenous peoples and traditionally excluded and marginalized groups in Canadian society.

Application instructions:

Applications should include:

- Covering letter and Curriculum vitae;
- Statement of research interest;
- Teaching portfolio with a statement on teaching philosophy and evidence of effectiveness; and
- One or more research papers or publications.

The application materials should be sent electronically as four separate pdf documents to: Dr. Jennifer Stewart, Director, School of Public Policy and Administration, OrgMgmt.Hiring@carleton.ca. Applicants should also arrange to have three confidential letters of reference sent directly by the referees to the same email address. Review of the files will begin December 15, 2021. Interviews will take place in early January 2022.

Please indicate in your application whether you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9760

Carleton University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Policy and Program Evaluation

The School of Public Policy and Administration at Carleton University invites applications for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor in Policy and Program Evaluation, effective 1 July 2022. Through research, teaching, and supervision, the successful candidate will participate in the development and delivery of the School's graduate programs.

To see the full position posting, please visit Carleton University's Deputy Provost's website at <https://carleton.ca/deputyprovost/jobs/academics/>.

About the School of Public Policy and Administration:

The research-intensive School, which is situated in a unique Faculty of Public Affairs, is a recognized centre of academic excellence in public policy and administration. It is the oldest and largest school of its kind in Canada and is well known internationally, offering a PhD in Public Policy, Master of Public Policy and Administration, Master and Diploma of Philanthropy and Nonprofit Leadership, joint MA in Sustainable Energy, Graduate Diploma in Public Policy and Program Evaluation, and Graduate Diploma in Indigenous Policy and Administration. The School's multidisciplinary faculty members are engaged in diverse research and teaching initiatives, and are regularly called upon for their expertise by government departments, nonprofits, and international agencies.

Qualifications:

The position is open to candidates from a diversity of disciplines; candidates should have earned a PhD by July 1, 2022 or soon thereafter, have an active research agenda related to policy and program evaluation and have demonstrated promise of teaching related to evaluation.

A variety of expertise related to monitoring, evaluation and impact assessment is relevant to this position, including expertise in: quantitative and/or qualitative approaches to evaluation; data management and visualization; gender-based analysis; and management of evaluation and impact measurement systems in a public or nonprofit context. Priority will be given to candidates working on the conduct and application of evaluation to social and economic inequities, vulnerable and racialized communities and/or the advancement of equity, diversity and inclusion in the public or nonprofit sector. The candidate would have an ability to teach graduate students how to produce evaluation, critically assess and use evaluation, understand pressures and challenges of impact assessment, and supervise and mentor student teams in experiential learning projects with government or community partners.

Application instructions:

Application materials should be sent electronically as a single PDF file which includes:

- a curriculum vitae,
- a statement of research interests, and
- a teaching portfolio with a statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of effectiveness.

Please also provide a statement that identifies your strengths in advancing equity, diversity, and inclusion in your discipline and on campus as well as your future plans.

As separate files, please include one or more research papers or publications.

Please indicate in your application if you are a Canadian citizen or permanent resident of Canada.

The electronic package should be sent to: Dr. Jennifer Stewart, Director, School of Public Policy and Administration, Eval.Hiring@carleton.ca. Applicants should also arrange to have three confidential letters of reference sent directly by the referees to the same email. Review of files will commence on December 15, 2021, and (virtual) interviews will begin in mid-January 2022.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9761

SUNY, Stony Brook University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor in Environmental Policy or Economics

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Public Administration
Specializations: Environmental Policy, Regulatory Policy, Science & Technology

Position Description

The School of Marine and Atmospheric Sciences (SoMAS) at Stony Brook University invites applications for a faculty position in environmental policy or economics connected to water resources and/or water quality. The successful candidate will have a strong commitment to teaching and will teach classes at the undergraduate and graduate levels, as well as mentor students. The candidate will commit to departmental and university service. SoMAS is a multi-disciplinary environment, with opportunity for collaboration within the School, with the Center for Clean Water Technology, and within the University. The candidate will establish and sustain a vigorous independent externally funded research program.

Candidates at the Assistant Professor or Associate Professor level are encouraged to apply. Candidates for the rank of Associate Professor should have well established records of research and educational activities, including experience in multi-PI research programs. Compensation will be commensurate with experience.

Required Qualifications:

Expertise in environmental policy and/or economics connected to water and/or water quality. Applicants with expertise in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: sustainable management of water resources, equity issues in water quality, public health implications of drinking water contamination, wastewater treatment infrastructure, and impacts of climate change on water availability and quality. Experience in teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental policy and/or economics. Experience in course and curriculum development. Experience mentoring undergraduate and/or graduate students. Experience obtaining and managing external research funding. Experience collaborating on multidisciplinary research projects.

Preferred Qualifications:

Expertise in environmental policy and/or economics connected to water and/or water quality. Applicants with expertise in the following areas are particularly encouraged to apply: sustainable management of water resources, equity issues in water quality, public health implications of drinking water contamination, wastewater treatment infrastructure, and impacts of climate change on water availability and quality. Experience in teaching undergraduate and graduate courses in environmental policy and/or economics. Experience in course and curriculum development. Experience mentoring undergraduate and/or graduate students. Experience obtaining and managing external research funding. Experience collaborating on multidisciplinary research projects.

Application instructions:

Complete applications should include a curriculum vita, statements of teaching and research interests (including a list of previous courses taught), a statement about relevant experience in outreach and contributions to diversity and inclusion, and names and contact information of at least three references. Applications should be received by January 10, 2022 for best consideration, although applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Submit applications at <https://apply.interfolio.com/98061><https://apply.interfolio.com/98061>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/10/2022

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9770

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Other

Specializations: Public Opinion, Science & Technology, Research Methods

Postdoctoral fellowship program in Science of Science Communication at the Annenberg Public Policy Center of the University of Pennsylvania

As part of its Annenberg Center for the Advanced Study of Communication, the Annenberg Public Policy Center (APPC; <http://www.annenbergpublicpolicycenter.org>) of the University of Pennsylvania's postdoctoral fellowship program in the Science of Science Communication (SSC) is accepting applications for the 2022-2023 academic year. Fellows in the program will work closely with other fellows and senior researchers of APPC on scholarship designed to understand basic problems (e.g., source credibility, communication processes, attitude change, belief formation, conspiracy theories, and misinformation debunking) as well as applied ones (e.g., climate change, vaccines, and COVID-19). The program is interdisciplinary and is currently led by social psychologist and communication scholar, Dolores Albarracín (<https://www.asc.upenn.edu/research/centers/social-action-lab>).

Applicants should submit a cover letter as well as a curriculum vitae, a letter of reference from their dissertation advisor, and a description of the applicant's scholarly interests. Two more references will be requested later in the process. First-year fellows will receive a stipend of $65,000 and serve in a 12-month appointment, beginning July 1, 2022. An allowance of up to $1,500 will be provided to offset pre-approved, receipt-documented relocation expenses, and APPC will reimburse up to $2,000 in travel to high-level conferences to present

APPC research (subject to any applicable university Covid-19 travel restrictions). Renewal for a second year is contingent upon performance and budgetary considerations.

We are seeking fellows who apply a variety of disciplinary and methodological approaches, and have completed a Ph.D. in a social, behavioral, or computational science within the last five years.

Please send the letter of interest, CV, and names of two references to appc-apply@appc.upenn.edu. The letter of reference should be sent to the same email address by the dissertation adviser. Questions about current lines of research or other academic aspects may be directed to Dr. Albarracín at dalba@upenn.edu.

The application deadline is February 15, 2022 for a July 1, 2022 start. However, decisions will be made on a rolling basis.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/29/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9771

Adelphi University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Political Science

Assistant Professor (Tenure-Track)

Political Science

Public Policy with Specialization in Health Policy

College of Arts and Sciences

JOB SUMMARY:

The Political Science Department at Adelphi University is seeking qualified candidates for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position that starts in the 2022-2023 academic year.

RESPONSIBILITIES & DUTIES:

- Among their course offerings, candidates would be expected to teach introductory and advanced courses in public policy, health policy, and American politics.
- Faculty have teaching, research, and service requirements.
- Student-centered teaching is essential.
- The teaching load is 18 credits per academic year, with opportunities for research release.
- Faculty must maintain an active research and publishing agenda and engage in university service.

QUALIFICATIONS:

- Candidates must have a Ph.D. in political science or public policy and bring teaching and research expertise in public policy with a specialization in the politics and policy of health.
- Candidates with additional specialization at the intersection of race and health are especially encouraged to apply.
- Adelphi University is strongly committed to diversity, equity, and inclusion, and seeks an applicant with experience supporting students of color and teaching inclusively.

APPLICATION:

- A complete application must include a curriculum vitae, letter of application, teaching statement, research statement, and three letters of recommendation.
- Please have letters sent to facultyreference@adelphi.edu.
- The rest of the application materials must be submitted through the Adelphi website at <https://www.adelphi.edu/hr/open-positions/>.
- To receive consideration applications must be submitted by January 28, 2022.

ABOUT ADELPHI:

Adelphi University, New York, is a highly awarded, nationally ranked, powerfully connected doctoral research and teaching university dedicated to transforming students' lives through small classes with world-class faculty, hands-on learning and innovative ways to support academic and career success. Adelphi offers exceptional liberal arts and sciences programs and professional training, with particular strength in our Core Four—Arts and Humanities, STEM and Social Sciences, the Business and Education Professions, and Health and Wellness. Recognized as a Best College by U.S. News & World Report, Adelphi is Long Island's oldest private coeducational university, serving more than 8,100 students at its beautiful main campus in Garden City, at learning hubs in Manhattan, the Hudson Valley and Suffolk County, and online. The University offers students more than 50 undergraduate majors and 70 graduate programs in the liberal arts, the sciences and professional training. With powerful partnerships throughout the New York area, more than 115,000 graduates across the country, a growing enrollment of students from 41 states and 58 countries, and rising rankings from top publications and organizations, Adelphi is a dynamic community that plays a leadership role on Long Island and in the region.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

The College of Arts and Sciences at Adelphi University is a community of educators, learners, and citizens firmly committed to the principles of diversity, equity, and inclusion. We believe that these principles enrich our entire community, foster healthy discussions, improve decision-making, and enhance the educational environment and outcomes of our students. We support initiatives, activities, discussions, and practices that uphold the equitable treatment of all members of our community and strengthen their sense of belonging at Adelphi. We relentlessly strive to become a model for a socially just and inclusive institution.

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/2653151>

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/jeid-fd223a0e2fe77645943d1cf35e605312>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9751

Marquette University

Rank: Adjunct Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: Quantitative Methods, Health Care, Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time, non-tenure track Adjunct Assistant Professor position in American politics or comparative politics with an emphasis on quantitative research methods and/or policy analysis. We seek an engaged teacher who can work collaboratively across departments within the college and with other related programs at the university, including the interdisciplinary data science and analytics programs at Marquette. Candidates will also teach courses in their area of expertise at both the undergraduate and graduate levels within the Political Science program.

Earned doctorate, ABD status, or other relevant terminal degree preferred. Expertise in environmental policy and/or health care policy is preferred, but expertise in any other substantive policy areas within American or comparative politics, as well as quantitative research methods generally, will be considered. Preferred applicants will have a strong commitment to justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion, and be able to contribute to curriculum development and diversity and inclusiveness initiatives.

This is a 9-month position with the expectation of appointment renewal for subsequent periods. The position is in person and will begin in August 2022.

All applications for this position must be received through Marquette University's online recruiting system (<https://employment.marquette.edu/>). The applicant should upload the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- List of references (three letters of recommendation are not necessary now, but will be solicited from finalists)
- Unofficial academic transcripts
- Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness (optional).
- Syllabi for courses independently taught and/or a sample syllabus for an undergraduate course in your field (optional).

Applications received by December 15, 2022 will be assured full consideration. However, review of applications will continue until the position is filled.

Additional information about the university and department can be found at <http://www.Marquette.edu> and <http://www.Marquette.edu/polisci>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/22/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9752

George Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Position Description Summary:

The George Washington University Elliott School of International Affairs invites applications for a tenure track faculty position in the field of United States and International Space Policy. The appointment will be made at the Assistant Professor level. Space Policy is defined broadly to cover all aspects of policies for outer space activities including civil, commercial, and security policies, industry and private sector issues, international private and government space activities, and other related policy issues. Illustrative examples could include—but are not limited to—topics such as space exploration and governance, security, climate and earth observation, and space commerce and economic development. The successful candidate will have demonstrated the ability to produce first-rate research, have an active research agenda, and have an established interest in applying their expertise to space policy.

The position will begin as early as Fall 2022 and be based in the Elliott School's Space Policy Institute (SPI). It will be affiliated with the M.A. program in International Science and Technology Policy (ISTP) and the Institute for International Science and Technology Policy. The successful candidate will be expected to qualify for an appointment in a GWU department or school most appropriate to the candidate's training and expertise.

Specific Duties and Responsibilities:

Teaching responsibilities would include undergraduate and graduate courses in the Elliott School and other Schools of the University, as appropriate. Faculty are also expected to mentor graduate students, and serve the department and research community.

Minimum Qualifications:

A Ph.D. or equivalent degree in a field relevant to space policy, including a social science, natural or physical science, engineering, business, law, public policy, or other field by date of appointment.

Other Information:

The culture of George Washington University reflects its shared values, including respect and diversity. The Elliott School recognizes that diversity and social mobility are among our country's greatest assets in engaging the rest of the world; we are deeply committed as a school to fostering an inclusive community. To this end, we encourage candidates from diverse identities, backgrounds, and experiences. We are particularly interested in receiving applications from members of underrepresented groups. The selected candidate will be expected to support inclusive excellence, including inclusive teaching. To learn more about the Elliott School's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion, please visit elliott.gwu.edu/diversity-and-inclusion.

Special Instructions to Applicants:

Please complete an online faculty application at <http://www.gwu.jobs/postings/87851>. Applicants should upload a letter of interest detailing research and teaching interests and other qualifications, a current CV, course syllabi and evaluations, a writing sample, and a statement on how your past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion will advance the Elliott School's commitment to inclusive excellence. Applicants should have three letters of recommendation sent directly to Christine Gilbert at cgilbert@email.gwu.edu.

Review of applications will begin on December 13, 2021 and continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered. Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

EEO Statement:

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/13/2021

Date Posted: 11/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9747

Butler University

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Politics/Public Policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Latino Politics, Native American Politics, Immigration Policy

The Butler University Department of Political Science invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor with expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States. The candidate should have a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching and an active scholarly agenda and should be able to teach a methodologically broad undergraduate research methods course. We are particularly interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching engages indigenous, Latinx/@, or disability politics, inequality, the politics of migration and citizenship, or other areas that complement the department's present strengths. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach research methods, American politics (including courses aligned with their expertise); and will contribute to the Core Curriculum and to building an inclusive learning environment for an increasingly diverse student population. Ideal candidates will have a record of supporting BIPOC, working class, and first-generation students. The new faculty member could choose to affiliate with the International Studies; Peace and Conflict Studies; Race, Gender, and Sexuality Studies; and/or Science, Technology, and Environmental Studies interdisciplinary programs.

Review of applications will begin January 5, 2022, but the position will remain open until filled. Applicants should have earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment before August 1, 2022. Applicants should submit the following to apsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that summarizes the applicant's scholarship and their teaching interests and highlights their commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching; a curriculum vitae; a publication or other writing sample; a statement of teaching philosophy; a list of courses taught; a sample syllabus; and a list of 3-5 references. Shortlisted candidates will be asked to provide additional evidence of inclusive teaching excellence including one or more additional syllabi, descriptions of course activities or assignments, and student evaluations or teaching observations; 3 letters of recommendation; and unofficial transcripts, and may provide additional publications or writing samples. Final round candidates will be asked to provide official transcripts and to consent to background checks. The successful candidate will start August 2022, subject to final budgetary approval.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Butler University is an equal opportunity employer. We celebrate diversity and are committed to creating an inclusive and equitable environment for all employees. We welcome applications from all individuals, regardless of age, gender, gender identity, sex, race, religion, color, disability, protected veteran status, sexual orientation, national origin, individuals with a disability, or any other legally protected category.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/5/2022

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9744

University of California, Santa Barbara Rank: Corporate Sustainability Open Faculty Position

Corporate Sustainability Open Faculty Position

Position overview

Position titles:

- Full or Associate Professor of Corporate Environmental Management
- Assistant Professor of Corporate Environmental Management
- Tenure Track Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management
- Tenured Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management

Percent time: 100 Anticipated start: July 1, 2022

Application Window

Open date: November 16th, 2021

Next review date: Thursday, Dec 16, 2021 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

Apply by this date to ensure full consideration by the committee.

Final date: Thursday, Jun 30, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

Applications will continue to be accepted until this date, but those received after the review date will only be considered if the position has not yet been filled.

Position description

The Bren School of Environmental Science & Management (<http://www.bren.ucsb.edu>) invites applications for an open-rank faculty position in corporate sustainability. The position is open rank and may be in the University of California's Professor series or Teaching Professor in the UC's Lecturer with Security of Employment (LSOE) series. Professors and Teaching Professors are full Academic Senate positions, with teaching Professors carrying heavier teaching and less research responsibilities. Candidate qualifications should be commensurate with the series and rank. Evaluation of candidates for appointment in the Teaching Professor series will weigh potential contributions to teaching and leadership more heavily.

The Bren School is a leader in developing cross-disciplinary solutions to environmental problems. The School's Corporate Environmental Management specialization prepares Master's students for careers helping companies achieve their business and environmental goals. The Bren School is a graduate school within UCSB that provides rigorous, multi-disciplinary training in environmental science and management to Master's and PhD students. The faculty are drawn from the natural sciences, social sciences, engineering, and management.

The Bren School is open to candidates from business schools and from across the social sciences, including economics, political science, sociology, and psychology.

The Bren School is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service. At Bren, we recognize the intrinsic relationship between diversity and excellence in all our endeavors; we embrace open, inclusive, and equitable access to opportunities for learning and development as our obligation and goal. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, students and staff who share our commitment to these principles. Successful candidates for faculty positions will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to equity and inclusion in their application materials, including the Statement describing contributions to diversity. This evidence can include:

- Efforts to advance equitable access to education;
- Public service that addresses the needs of California's diverse population;
- Research that highlights inequalities;
- Mentoring and advising students, particularly from underrepresented and underserved populations;
- Creating effective strategies for the educational advancement of students in under-represented groups.

School: <https://www.bren.ucsb.edu/>

Qualifications

Basic qualifications (required at time of application)

Applicants must have completed all requirements for a PhD (or other terminal degree) except the dissertation at the time of application.

Additional qualifications (required at time of start)

PhD or other terminal degree required by the time of hire.

Preferred qualifications

Candidates may teach and do research in areas such as strategy, management and organizations, organizational behavior, leadership, organizational theory and entrepreneurship.

Ideal candidates will offer a combination of:

- An accomplished research portfolio and/or a trajectory that includes significant contributions to understanding corporate sustainability.
- Demonstrated or potential excellence in teaching business and corporate sustainability to professional Master's degree students.
- Leadership for the School's Corporate Environmental Management programs.
- Synergies with the School's research, teaching and extended communities in the pursuit of sustainable environmental solutions.
- A demonstrated record of or potential contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Application Requirements by Level

Full Professor and Associate Professor

Position title: Full or Associate Professor of Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for a Full or Associate Professor Position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) contact information for at least three references. Applicants for Full or Associate Professor may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current tenured professor; position equivalent to tenured professor or position (e.g. at an international university). Please note that this determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 required (contact information only)

References will only be contacted if candidate becomes a finalist.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401> Assistant Professor

Position title: Assistant Professor of Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for an Assistant Professor Position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) arrange for least three letters of reference to be submitted on their behalf via the UC Recruit website, ideally by the current review date. Applicants for Assistant Professor may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current or recent PhD candidate or graduate; current or recent postdoc; current assistant professor (including those who are "senior"; assistant professors near tenure). Please note that this level determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter

- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 letters of reference required

Candidate must request letters from contacts in UC Recruit in order for the application to be considered complete.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401> Lecturer PSOE

Position title: Tenure Track Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for a Lecturer PSOE position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) arrange for least three letters of reference to be submitted on their behalf via the UC Recruit website, ideally by the current review date. Applicants for Lecturer PSOE may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current or recent PhD candidate or graduate; current or recent postdoc; current assistant professor (including those who are "senior"; assistant professors near tenure). Please note that this level determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 letters of reference required

Candidate must request letters from contacts in UC Recruit in order for the application to be considered complete.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401> Lecturer SOE and Senior Lecturer SOE

Position title: Tenured Teaching Faculty in Corporate Environmental Management

Applicants for a Lecturer SOE and Senior Lecturer SOE position must submit: 1) a cover letter, 2) curriculum vitae, 3) statements of research/professional activities and teaching, 4) statement describing contributions to diversity, 5) up to four selected writing samples, and 6) arrange for least three letters of reference to be submitted on their behalf via the UC Recruit website, ideally by the current review date. Applicants for Lecturer SOE and Senior Lecturer SOE may submit teaching evaluations if available.

Individuals should submit their application at this level if they meet one of the following conditions: Current or recent PhD candidate or graduate; current or recent postdoc; current assistant professor (including those who are “senior”; assistant professors near tenure). Please note that this level determination is only for application review purposes, not the ultimate appointment level of the finalist.

Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Teaching
- Statement of Research and Professional Engagement
- Statement Describing Contributions to Diversity - Statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to diversity through research, teaching, and/or service.
- Writing Samples
- Teaching Evaluations if available (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3-5 required (contact information only)

References will only be contacted if candidate becomes a finalist.

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2644401>

Help contact: kellykeogh@ucsb.edu

Campus Information

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/5000695/SARS-CoV-2_Covid-19. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. New University of California employees must (a) provide proof of receiving at least one dose of a COVID-19 Vaccine no later than 14 calendar days after their first date of employment and provide proof of Full Vaccination no later than eight weeks after their first date of employment; or (b) if applicable, submit a request for Exception or Deferral no later than 14 calendar days after their first date of employment. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Job location
Santa Barbara, CA

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 11/19/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9745

University of North Carolina, Charlotte

Rank: Rauch Distinguished Professor

University of North Carolina at Charlotte Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Rauch Distinguished Professor, American Politics

The Department of Political Science & Public Administration at UNC Charlotte is recruiting an outstanding candidate for the Marshall A. Rauch Distinguished Professor of Political Science to begin Fall 2022. The department seeks a scholar of American Politics, at either the full or senior associate level. The essential duties of the position are: 1) producing high quality research in the area of expertise; 2) actively pursuing external research funding; 3) teaching appropriate classes to undergraduate and graduate students; 4) mentoring graduate students, postdoctoral scholars, and faculty; 5) collaborating with faculty in other academic departments; 6) engaging in community activities; 7) contributing to diversity initiatives in the Department, College, and University; and 8) actively participating in the interdisciplinary Public Policy Ph.D. program. The term of this endowed professorship is five years, and renewable for a second term.

A qualified candidate will have a distinguished publication record and a history of prior funded research, as well as excellent teaching credentials, appropriate to rank; a commitment to diversity as a value in the department and college; a prior history of mentoring students; and the ability to work with colleagues from several academic departments and the community.

The department seeks to recruit and retain a diverse workforce as a reflection of our commitment to maintain the excellence of the University and to offer our students richly varied disciplines, perspectives, and ways of knowing and learning. Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their work.

Marshall A. Rauch, a long-time state leader in politics and the community who served as state senator, established this distinguished professorship. The endowment that he established allows UNC Charlotte to pay a competitive salary as well annual research funds. There will be a supportive start-up package.

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration has award-winning faculty. It offers an M.P.A., B.A., two minors, two concentrations, and is a core department in the interdisciplinary Public Policy PhD Program. The Department has 25 full-time faculty members. The Gerald G. Fox Master of Public Administration Program is NASPAA-accredited and ranks among the top 17% nationwide of all ranked public affairs schools and #48 in national ranking by U.S. News and World Report.

As the largest and most diverse college at UNC Charlotte, the College of Liberal Arts & Sciences houses 21 departments in the humanities, social and behavioral sciences, natural sciences and mathematics, and military sciences, as well as 28 applied research centers and interdisciplinary programs. With its 34 undergraduate degrees, 56 undergraduate minors, 24 master's degrees, 10 doctoral degrees, 17 undergraduate certificates, 19 graduate certificates, 23 graduate early-entry programs, and 23 honors programs, the College is connected to the world and its concerns and is particularly supportive of the greater Charlotte region.

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte is a doctoral, research intensive university, located in one of the nation's fastest growing metropolitan areas on an expanding modern campus. One of sixteen campuses in one of the oldest public university systems in the United States, UNC Charlotte offers over 30,000 culturally diverse students a wide range of undergraduate and staff, with many cultural, recreational, and business amenities, and is continually ranked one of the best cities to live, such as by U.S. News (#20).

Review of applications will begin January 15, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

All applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.uncc.edu>. Please attach the following documents with your electronic submission:

? letter of application describing primary and secondary research and teaching interests, and a commitment to diversity

? three names of references; and

? vita.

Finalists will be asked during their screening interview to discuss how the topics of diversity and inclusion are incorporated into their teaching and research.

Please contact Dr. John Szmer, chair of the search committee, at jjszmer@uncc.edu with any questions about the position.

As an affirmative action, equal opportunity and an ADVANCE Institution that strives to create an academic climate in which the dignity of all individuals is respected and maintained, the University of North Carolina at Charlotte encourages applications from all underrepresented groups.

The candidate chosen for this position will be required to provide an official transcript of their highest earned degree and submit to a criminal background check.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9741

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant, Associate or Full Professor, Information Technology Policy

The School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University invites applicants for an assistant, associate or full professor in the field of information technology policy. The position is open to individuals with disciplinary backgrounds in computer science, engineering or any social science. The successful candidate will be appointed in the School, and with a possible additional appointment in another academic department.

Interested candidates should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vita, a research statement summarizing research accomplishments and future plans. Please provide contact information for three references. For junior candidates, referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Screening will begin on October 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

We at the School of Public and International Affairs believe that it is vital to cultivate an environment that embraces and promotes diversity, equity and inclusion - fundamental to the success of our education and research mission. This commitment to diversity informs our efforts in recruitment and hiring as we actively seek colleagues of exceptional ability who represent a broad range of viewpoints, experiences and value systems, and who share Princeton University's dedication to excellence.

Apply at <https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=22481>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9739

The Brennan Center for Justice

Rank: Researcher / Senior Researcher

The Brennan Center for Justice at NYU School of Law is a nonpartisan law and policy institute that seeks to improve the systems of democracy and justice in the United States. We work to hold our political institutions and laws accountable to the twin American ideals of democracy and equal justice for all. The Brennan Center's work ranges from voting rights to census protection, from ending mass incarceration to preserving constitutional protections in the fight against terrorism. Part think tank, part advocacy group, part cutting-edge communications hub, we start with rigorous research. We craft innovative policies. And we fight for them—in the courts, in Congress and the states, and the court of public opinion.

Position: Data-driven and interdisciplinary research is crucial to inform the Brennan Center's legal and policy recommendations. We seek a Researcher to work in the Election Reform Program, which aims to protect and strengthen American elections, counter racial and other discrimination in our electoral and political systems, counter election disinformation, break down barriers that prevent Americans from participating in the political process, ensure secure and accessible elections, and bring balance to campaign funding.

The Election Reform Program Researcher will serve as an essential thought partner and the principal investigator on upcoming quantitative and qualitative research projects to advance the Program's goals. The Researcher will provide the theory, research design, and statistical analyses as part of this process, and will write and execute data-driven reports to meet social science peer-review standards, in collaboration with attorneys, communications staff, and the leadership of the organization. The Researcher will develop original research ideas and manage multiple, complex research projects to completion, as well as execute research projects as assigned by the Director and Deputy Directors of the Election Reform Program.

This position will be based in New York City and will report to the Director of the Election Reform Program.

Responsibilities will include:

Partner with colleagues to develop and execute significant, original research projects to further Program goals, from inception through design, refinement, testing, and publication.

Conduct literature reviews and distill key information, including complex theoretical concepts and quantitative analyses, into memos for colleagues of other disciplines.

Develop and implement rigorous, original studies, including data cleaning and application of high-level methods

Co-author reports with attorneys and manage such reports to completion, including: public release and rollout of reports, managing edits from peer reviewers and organizational leadership, and meeting with advocates.

Write research sections of policy reports, including clear and accessible methods and innovative policy recommendations

Conduct independent research for legislative and executive agency testimony, legal briefs, and other Brennan Center documents. Create engaging and accessible formats to present research conclusions for reports and other publications through public speaking engagements, media appearances, op-eds, attending academic conferences, and engaging the academic community at NYU.

Opportunity to speak at congressional briefings and national conferences, speak to reporters, and attend meetings with government officials, when appropriate.

Qualifications:

Advanced degree required: Ph.D., Ph.D. candidate, or completion of master's in social science, public policy, law and society, or related interdisciplinary field

Experience and expertise in developing and leading applied research in the democracy field or other public policy field (e.g., sociology, demography, public health, etc.). Candidates should be comfortable engaging in primary and secondary research, interpreting data, and performing original empirical analyses to meet statistical science standards.

Strong fluency with data science techniques, and advanced experience using R, Stata, or another comparable data analysis program. Advanced knowledge of Excel.

Exceptional attention to detail and accuracy in all work that could be used or published, with proven ability to plan for and demonstrate peer review and other techniques for bulletproofing findings.

Demonstrated commitment to and understanding of racial justice. Strong writing and communications skills including to audiences outside the candidate's discipline.

Strong organizational skills, including ability to create and maintain data sets and other files in formats accessible to colleagues outside the candidate's discipline.

Strong time-management skills balancing multiple projects and ability to meet deadlines.

Excellent interpersonal skills, including proven ability to work effectively with a team and stakeholders, and work collaboratively with editors, other staff, and outside peer reviewers.

Ability or interest to learn to communicate research and policy findings to broad range of audiences, including policymakers, practitioners, journalists, community-based groups and members of the public.

Commitment to the values of the Brennan Center.

The Brennan Center is committed to advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in the workplace. We continuously work with our staff to find new ways to increase diversity and to build and cultivate an inclusive and equitable work environment, where everyone can be their true self and feel a strong sense of belonging. As such, we seek to hire employees who have a commitment to and/or experience with diversity, equity, and inclusion. In addition, we expect employees to participate/contribute with DEI initiatives or activities with recruitment, retention, and workplace culture.

Application Instructions

To apply, visit <https://brennancenter.applytojob.com/apply/ZB0u57RTwu/Researcher-Senior-Researcher-Democracy-Program>. Please upload as one document (where it says "attach resume") the following application materials: resume, cover letter, writing sample (up to 10 pages), coding sample, and contact information for three references. The document can be in Word or a PDF. Also, please carefully read additional instructions below regarding writing and coding sample.

The writing sample should reflect your quantitative and/or qualitative methods work and can be a graduate school paper, job-related internal memo/draft report/report, or published report or article you authored or led. If applicable, include an internet hyperlink to any published writing sample.

The coding sample (syntax) should be basic, about 0.5-1 page with examples of typical data cleaning and coding, as well as analyses you have run.

Please, no phone calls or faxes; it is strongly preferred that you apply on our website. If you have difficulty with the online system, you may send your application by e-mail to: brennancenterjobs@nyu.edu with "Researcher/Senior Researcher, Democracy Program" in the subject line, after registering in the online system.

Note: The Brennan Center is committed to public health and to the safety and wellbeing of our colleagues and visitors. As such, we have adopted a policy requiring all employees working in the New York and Washington, DC offices to be vaccinated against COVID-19 or to meet the legal guidelines for an exemption.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/18/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9737

Library of Congress, Congressional Research Service

Rank: Research Manager, Executive Branch Operations

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Other

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) is seeking a Section Research Manager (SRM) for the Executive Branch Operations Section within the Government and Finance Division. The Research Manager leads the Section in the development of policy research and analysis relevant to congressional needs, particularly as it relates to federal government management and organizational issues.

The Section Research Manager leads a team of policy analysts conducting policy research and analysis for Congress. The section covers a broad range of federal government management and organizational issues. This includes, but is not limited to presidential powers; appointment process; federal workforce; regulatory process; inspectors general, information policy; budget process; financial management; and procurement. The section's crosscutting portfolio provides opportunities to collaborate with colleagues across CRS.

Duties include:

- Managing and supervising policy analysts, including communicating performance standards and expectations to staff, observing staff performance, giving feedback, and assessing performance;
- Ensuring that the work results in objective, authoritative analysis with which the Congress can assess the consequences of legislative/policy options;
- Proactively establishing relationships with committees of jurisdiction, building long-term relationships with clients, and taking initiative to seek out new congressional contacts for CRS;
- Managing congressional requests, concerns, and needs in policy areas within the research management responsibility of the section;
- Collaborating with other managers to ensure an integrative approach to the work by fully identifying significant policy problems facing the Congress, developing analytical approaches to address these problems, and applying appropriate resources; and
- Performing special assignments as directed by the Assistant/Deputy Assistant Director.

Candidates with research and research management experience in issues covered by the section and who have strong interpersonal skills and are capable of leading a highly motivated and talented research staff committed to providing Congress the highest level of nonpartisan, authoritative, objective policy analysis are encouraged to apply. Previous experience in writing, research, and analysis, and knowledge of congressional decision making and legislative process is desired.

CRS works exclusively for the United States Congress, providing policy and legal analysis to committees and Members of both the House and Senate, regardless of party affiliation. As a legislative branch agency within the Library of Congress, CRS has been a valued and respected resource on Capitol Hill for over a century. CRS is well known for analysis that is accurate, authoritative, confidential, objective and nonpartisan. Its highest priority is to ensure that Congress has immediate access to the nation's best thinking on public policy issues of interest to its Members and Committees.

CRS is fully committed to workforce diversity. Interested applicants must apply online at USAJOBS: <https://www.usajobs.gov/GetJob/ViewDetails/621948400>.

Please help us improve our recruitment efforts by letting us know how you heard about the position. This question is asked in the application process.

Start Date: Winter 2021

Application Deadline: 12/13/2021

Date Posted: 11/17/2021

Salary: $140,000 - $149,999

eJobs ID: 9734

Texas A&M University, Corpus Christi Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The College of Liberal Arts is seeking a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science in American Politics and Public Policy to begin fall 2022. The successful candidate will teach American Government and State and Local Government. These courses may be offered as part of a collaborative teaching team working in the university's nationally recognized First-Year Learning Communities Program. In addition, the candidate will contribute to the teaching needs of the Political Science major and our interdisciplinary Bachelor of Applied Arts & Sciences program with a special focus on public policy and administration. The candidate's primary academic field should be political science with sub-fields of interest in one or more of the following: public policy, urban politics, health policy, environmental policy, and immigration policy. We are especially interested in candidates who explore identity and diversity broadly defined in their work. A strong commitment to excellence in teaching, research, and service is expected. The standard teaching load is a 3/3.

The Department of Social Sciences (DSOC) is a multi-disciplinary department in the College of Liberal Arts that offers undergraduate degrees in Political Science and Criminal Justice and the graduate degree of Master of Public Administration. Because of its contribution to the core curriculum, Political Science generates some of the highest levels of student credit hours in the University. The Criminal Justice program is one of the largest undergraduate majors on campus. The MPA program is the largest graduate program in the College of Liberal Arts. DSOC faculty are leaders on campus, in the community and in their disciplines. We value excellence and work daily to support the University's Momentum 2020 Overarching Goal to become an emerging research university with an unparalleled commitment to every student's success, closing gaps in achievement and delivering a robust campus experience.

Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi's First-Year Learning Communities Program (FYLCP) is an innovative nationally recognized program which helps students to make successful academic and social transitions from high school to the University. For more information, visit the FYLCP webpage at <http://dugs.tamucc.edu/fylcp/index.html>.

Required Qualifications:

Ph.D. in Political Science or Public Policy. Advanced ABD will be considered; degree must be conferred at the time of appointment. Ph.D. must meet the appropriate credentialing requirements for the Southern Association for Colleges and Schools (SACS);

Be able to teach both American National and State and Local government; and

Be available to accept teaching assignments that may include classroom, hybrid, and online classes.

Preferred Qualifications:

Demonstrate an understanding/appreciation of the University's student population and campus mission; a student-centered, critical thinking method of teaching;

Experience with learning communities or teaching first year students in higher education;

A desire for, or experience in a team-teaching environment;

Experience with classroom and online teaching experience; and

Demonstrate teaching effectiveness through student evaluations, peer reviews, and/or self-evaluation.

Demonstrate an active research agenda that employs a public policy perspective that has resulted in or the potential to result in published scholarly works or peer-reviewed products; research with fields of interest in one or more of the following: urban politics, health policy, immigration policy, or environmental policy.

Explore the broadly defined concepts of identity and diversity in their research and scholarly activity.

TO APPLY: <https://www.tamucc.edu/human-resources/careers/index.php>

All required documentation must be submitted to be considered for the position.

A completed application will include:

1. A letter of application addressing qualifications listed, including a statement of teaching/research philosophy,
2. A curriculum vitae,
3. Three professional references including name, address, title, telephone number, and email addresses, and
4. Copies of unofficial transcripts of graduate coursework.

The job posting will remain open until a finalist has been selected. Review of applications will begin mid-February 2022.

All positions are security-sensitive. Applicants are subject to a criminal history investigation, and employment is contingent upon the institution's verification of credentials and/or other information required by the institution's procedures, including the completion of the criminal history check.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 2/11/2022

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9727

William & Mary

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellowship in Geospatial and Economic Analysis of Chinese Development Projects

The Global Research Institute (GRI) at William & Mary invites applications for a post-doctoral scholar position with a focus on geospatial and/or economic analysis of development projects financed by China. This position is designed to strengthen GRI's research capacity in this area, increase the diversity of our scholarly community, provide a mentored learning experience to the postdoctoral fellow, and support and provide additional research opportunities for undergraduate students. GRI seeks to attract promising researchers and educators from different backgrounds, races, ethnic groups, and other diverse populations whose life experiences and research experiences will contribute significantly to the academic mission of William & Mary and GRI.

The postdoctoral scholar will support ongoing research on Chinese development finance at AidData (an international development research lab within the GRI), and fully integrate into GRI's thriving multidisciplinary international development research community. Additionally, s/he will teach one course and direct a team of undergraduate researchers for each year of the award. Throughout this period, s/he will receive mentoring from faculty members and/or senior researchers affiliated with the GRI in a variety of academic development areas including: his/her ongoing research interests, how to pursue funded research, how to organize an undergraduate research lab, and how to improve his/her classroom teaching.

This is a 12-month position, beginning in summer 2022 and renewable for a second year contingent on performance. The position will be open until filled, with a review of applicants beginning on December 20, 2021.

Application Instructions

Candidates must apply via the William & Mary Employment Opportunities portal. For more details and to apply, please visit the position listing at <https://jobs.wm.edu/postings/44724>. Click Apply for this Job, submit your resume/curriculum vitae, cover letter, and a minimum of 3 references.

For full consideration, submit applications by the review date, December 20, 2021. Applications received after the review date will be considered until the posting closes.

Required Qualifications

- Have a PhD by the time appointment begins (June 2022) in economics, political science, public policy, geography/GIS, data science, computer science, or another relevant field;
- Have a strong interest in building and pursuing a policy research agenda that makes use of AidData's Global Chinese Development Finance Dataset, Version 2.0 -- in particular, its geospatial features (see <https://www.aiddata.org/data/aiddatas-global-chinese-development-finance-dataset-version-2-0> and <https://github.com/aiddata/china-osm-geodata>);
- Possess advanced quantitative methods training and expertise in: GIS and geospatial analysis, machine learning, distributed/parallel computing, data analytics;
- Demonstrate experience working with one or more of the following software and tools: Python and relevant GIS/ML packages (e.g., Rasterio, GeoPandas, Tensorflow, PyTorch), QGISmachine;
- Have strong organizational and communication skills

Preferred Qualifications

- Experience conducting externally-sponsored international development research;
- Engaged in applied/policy research that is directly relevant to China's Belt and Road Initiative;
- Experience working collaboratively on applied/policy research projects with large, multi-disciplinary teams;
- Track record of published in peer-reviewed academic journals and/or presenting research at major academic conferences;
- Experience preparing grant proposals and securing external research funds;
- Experience teaching and/or mentoring undergraduate students;
- Willingness/ability to travel overseas

All staff and faculty must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19. Proof of vaccination must be provided on the employee's first day of employment. If an accommodation is needed, please contact Human Resources.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9722

Georgetown University

Rank: Tenure-Line McCourt Chair of Public Policy

The McCourt School of Public Policy at Georgetown University invites applicants for the McCourt Chair of Public Policy. This is a tenure track position in the McCourt School of Public Policy. Candidates will contribute substantially to the mission and goals of individual institutions, including research, teaching and service. The endowed chair holder is expected to provide leadership and substantial impact, particularly with their research, in this position. The successful candidate is expected to have an outstanding scholarly track record and agenda, with evidence of both high productivity and high quality research. Applicants should also demonstrate evidence of national prominence in their respective field. The search is open as to field and research interest, with disciplinary backgrounds of interest including political science, sociology, economics, ethics, law, psychology, and demography, as well as public policy broadly.

The Committee will be reviewing applications on a rolling basis and continue until the position is filled.

Please apply Here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/92924>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9719

University of Pennsylvania

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor Positions in Social Policy and Applied Data Science and Critical Race and Policy Studies

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor Positions in Social Policy and Applied Data Science and Critical Race and Policy Studies

The University of Pennsylvania's School of Social Policy & Practice (SP2) invites applications for two tenure track positions that will begin July 1, 2022. We seek candidates with the capacity for and interest in working across the school's three master's programs (Social Policy, Social Work, Nonprofit Leadership), as well its two doctoral programs (Doctorate in Clinical Social Work, and Ph.D. in Social Welfare).

These are open positions, and we welcome all candidates whose research and scholarship relate to Social Policy, defined as a subset of public policy that focuses on solving social problems such as economic and educational inequality, racial and health disparities, and other similar problems through policy. As such, social policy initiatives and outcomes actively attend to social issues of equity, equality, and adequacy. Advancing social justice is a core component of the School's vision and a mission that unites all of its programs.

The program is looking for faculty who study social policy with a critical focus on inequality and power structures in society. The first position is for a scholar who employs applied data science and whose scholarship may be informed by or engage in critical data studies, critical race and digital studies, critical race and policy studies, new media studies, platform studies, critical HCI, or other areas of critical studies on data and computation, including those studying these issues from a global perspective. Applicants for this position should have a background in data science, econometrics, statistics, quantitative political science, computational social science, computational linguistics, human-computer interaction, societal computing, or other related areas. Of particular interest are scholars doing research in the areas of ethics in AI, data and tech policy, linked administrative data, civic tech or public interest tech, the intersections of data science with social work, politics, economics, public health, and/or criminal justice among others.

For the second position, the program seeks scholars who are informed by or engage critical race studies, critical ethnic studies, LatCRT, Black radical thought, Black feminisms, postcolonial studies, queer studies and queer of color critique, indigenous studies, DisCRT, critical posthumanisms, affect theory, or other areas of critical race scholarship. Applicants for this position should have a background in interdisciplinary social science, humanistic social science, critical legal studies, cultural studies & critical theory.

For both positions, we seek to hire scholars who work in various areas of policy research, the law, political discourse including governmentality, data and tech policy, civic tech or public interest tech, biopolitics, among others. Global scholarship is also of strong interest though not required.

Many opportunities for collaboration exist within the University of Pennsylvania academic community and with health, educational, social service, nonprofit, and government organizations regionally, nationally, and globally.

Any questions can be sent to pjimenez@upenn.edu

Please apply at <https://apptrkr.com/2611507> and provide the following in your application:

- Curriculum Vitae
- Cover letter that states why you are applying and your interests in SP2
- Personal statement that provides details of your current and future research and teaching and mentorship of students, grants, etc.
- Teaching statement that provides your teaching philosophy, including the courses that you could teach in our programs
- Diversity statement of your commitment to diversity and inclusion, particularly addressing how this influences your teaching research, teaching, and/or service
- Three samples of scholarly writing
- Three confidential letters of recommendation

Formal review of applicants will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9718

University of California San Diego

Rank: Postdoctoral Scholar, Center for Commerce and Diplomacy (CCD)

Specializations: Economic Policy, Political Economy, Political Behavior

Postdoctoral Scholar, Center for Commerce and Diplomacy (CCD)

University of California San Diego

Position overview Position title: Postdoctoral Scholar Employee

Salary range: Commensurate with experience
 Application Window
 Open date: September 29th, 2021

Next review date: Wednesday, Dec 1, 2021 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
 Apply by this date to ensure full consideration by the committee.

Final date: Thursday, Mar 31, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)
 Applications will continue to be accepted until this date, but those received after the review date will only be considered if the position has not yet been filled.

Position description

The Center for Commercial Diplomacy (CCD) at UC San Diego's School of Global Policy and Strategy (GPS) invites applications for two postdoctoral scholar employee positions from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or who expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022, for the 2022-2023 academic year.

These awards are designed to promote high-quality research on the challenges and institutions of international economic diplomacy in a changing world. Research projects that seek to understand the causes and consequences of the institutions of economic globalization (e.g. GATT/WTO, FTAs, BITs, IMF, World Bank, Fast-Track, TPA, RTAA, etc) are particularly welcome. Commercial diplomats operate within a set of domestic and international institutions that govern their behavior in international negotiations. But we know little about the specifics of these rules and procedures, how they came into being, how they vary over time and across countries, and how they affect economic outcomes. Post doctoral research on the institutions of economic globalization can help answer questions about the welfare and distributional consequences of these institutions and, ultimately, result in the better design of these institutions.

Outstanding scholars anywhere in the world are eligible to apply. The Center invites applications from candidates with a background in economics, political science, economic history, legal history, and other disciplines bearing on the study of economic diplomacy. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence for the duration of the appointment, health conditions permitting, and to interact with faculty and Ph.D students, giving at least one research talk. Selected postdoctoral scholars are also expected to attend CCD events and related seminars, and to post their research on the CCD website.

Qualifications Basic qualifications (required at time of application) PhD in economics, political science, economic history, legal history and a research track record in the relevant domain by the start of appointment.

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. by the start of the appointment.

Application Requirements Document requirements

- Cover Letter - Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests.
- Curriculum Vitae - Current curriculum vitae including publications.
- Statement of Contributions to Diversity - Applicants should summarize their past or potential contributions to diversity. See our <http://facultydiversity.ucsd.edu/recruitment/contributions-to-diversity.html> site for more information.
- Writing Sample - Limit of 100 pages

- Statement of Research (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3 letters of reference required

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/2623746>

Help contact: nsericks@ucsd.edu

Campus Information

The University of California, San Diego is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, covered veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California https://urldefense.proofpoint.com/v2/url?u=https-3A__policy.ucop.edu_doc_5000695_SARS-2DCoV-2D2-5FCovid-2D19&d=DwMFAg&c=-35OiAkTchMrZOngvJPOeA&cr=1p1nm8oXgrOSQJxpyYfrXMGHr6J-ypOFoP1GKhgxl0&m=qhl8BcUTOWmd2jWDIXuc2XjxPABC4ZVnIN69zNdFRQ&s=rX3pS2swVYTSmC79uUmBjYUZrZa6ed0uN24HWzAIVzM&ce=. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. For new University of California employees, the applicable deadline is eight weeks after their first date of employment.

The University of California prohibits <https://smokefree.ucsd.edu/> use at all University controlled properties.

The UC San Diego Annual Security & Fire Safety Report is available online at: <https://www.police.ucsd.edu/docs/annualclery.pdf>. This report provides crime and fire statistics, as well as institutional policy statement & procedures. Contact the UC San Diego Police Department at (858) 534-4361 if you want to obtain paper copies of this report.

Job location La Jolla, CA

To apply, please visit: <https://apptrkr.com/2623746>

Copyright ©2021 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

jeid-0dac7e095bc99a4b9db7f6a2cba5c846

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 3/31/2022

Date Posted: 11/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9711

Vanderbilt University

Rank: Center For Effective Lawmaking Postdoctoral Fellow

The Department of Political Science at Vanderbilt University invites applications for a postdoctoral research position. In addition to carrying out his or her own research, the appointee will collaborate with a Vanderbilt Political Science faculty member, Alan Wiseman, on research related to the Center for Effective Lawmaking.

Qualifications

Strong quantitative, communication, and project management skills are required. Applications are welcome from scholars who have received their doctoral degrees within the three years prior to the start of the fellowship, or who will complete their PhD by August 1, 2022. This positions involves a year of supported research at Vanderbilt University starting August 16, 2022. There is no teaching requirement associated with the appointment. Successful candidates will be given a competitive salary, health care benefits, computing resources, and a research fund. Minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and members of other underrepresented groups, in particular, are encouraged to apply. Vanderbilt is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer.

Application Instructions

Candidates should submit a vita, a cover letter, and a two-page proposal for how you would like to contribute to the Center for Effective Lawmaking while serving as a postdoctoral fellow. Please review www.thelawmakers.org for more information about the Center. A graduate school transcript, a writing sample, three letters of reference, and a diversity statement (highlighting the candidate's commitment and potential contributions to a diverse and inclusive environment) are also required. Applicants should submit materials electronically through Interfolio using this link: <https://apply.interfolio.com/97834>. Applications will be considered on a rolling basis, but priority will be given to those received before December 15, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9708

University of MichiganRank: Postdoctoral Research Fellow

Postdoctoral Training Program in Quantitative Methods for Education Policy Research

Education Policy Postdoctoral Research Fellow

2022 – 2024

Summary

The Education Policy Initiative (EPI) seeks candidates interested in deepening their knowledge of rigorous, applied quantitative education policy research for a two-year postdoctoral fellowship.

EPI is composed of researchers interested in understanding and evaluating education policies at the local, state, and national level. We train fellows to evaluate the causal effects of education policies and practices, emphasizing the use of state and district longitudinal data. Fellows should be interested in investigating topics relevant to ongoing education policy conversations, working with partners in the field, and using rigorous evaluation methods in collaboration with other EPI scholars.

Fellows receive close mentorship from professors Brian Jacob, Kevin Stange, and Christina Weiland, and have the opportunity to work with cross-disciplinary faculty such as Awilda Rodriguez, Deborah Rivas-Drake, Matthew Ronfeldt, Joseph Ryan, Nell Duke, Fabian Pfeffer, Basit Zafar, Robin Tepper-Jacob, and Katherine Michelsmore. The University of Michigan (UM) is home to a dynamic community of researchers, with ample opportunity for professional development—via participation in seminars and trainings, as well as through exposure to high-profile speakers.

Fellows engage in ongoing education-related research projects and participate in all aspects of the research process, including design, IRB administration, analysis, and presentation. They collect, compile, and analyze data; design surveys; participate in research planning; write papers; present results at seminars and professional meetings; and supervise research assistants. Integral to our training program, fellows learn how to develop a research partnership with practitioners or public agencies and to communicate results to non-technical audiences. Fellows will devote about a third of their time toward working with U-M faculty to build new collaborations at the university. They will devote another third of their time to existing EPI research projects and products that support the center. Finally, the remaining third of their time may be spent on independent research projects.

EPI strives to foster an inclusive work environment that is home to scholars with a wide range of backgrounds and research interests. We do so by bringing in a diverse set of speakers who do research directly on racial inequality in education, encouraging trainings and collaborations across campus, surveying community members about our seminar culture, and self-evaluating ways to make our research?—from start to finish?—more equitable. We are interested in recruiting applicants with diverse backgrounds and life experiences and from a diverse pool of academic disciplines and PhD institutions. We welcome fellows who will expand the types of research questions asked by our current community, including questions at the intersection of education policy and social equity, racial inequality and racism, and gender inequality.

Originally established in 2011, the Postdoctoral Training Program in Quantitative Methods for Education Policy Research at the University of Michigan is currently supported by grant R305B170015 from the United States Department of Education's Institute for Education Sciences. This is a 2-year fellowship beginning in the summer of 2022 with competitive salary and benefits plus funds for research expenses and related travel.

Qualifications

Applicants must have completed their PhD in a relevant social science discipline prior to August 31, 2022, have an interest in researching education and receiving further training in causal inference methodology, and have academic research experience in public policy, economics, education, quantitative methodology, or other similar fields. The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

Application Process and Deadline

We will accept applications submitted online. Please visit our website (<https://edpolicy.umich.edu/training/postdoctoral-fellowship>) for instructions. Complete applications include a 2-3 page statement of interest, writing sample (job market paper or recent publication authored / co-authored by the applicant), CV, and three confidential letters of recommendation. We will begin reviewing applications on November 1 and will continue until the position(s) are filled.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9699

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for a 3-year Renewable Contract position at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2022. The successful candidate will serve as a core member of the Department's NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program. We seek a colleague with the ability to teach multiple core courses in the MPA curriculum. In addition, the successful candidate will make service contributions in areas including, but not limited to, student recruitment, advising, and internship management. Depending on program needs, the person hired may be reassigned to increased service to the MPA Program and decreased teaching responsibilities.

A Ph.D. in public administration, public policy, political science, or a related field is required by the start date. Information about renewable contract faculty, including policies regarding reappointment and promotion, are detailed in the UA Faculty Handbook.

The University of Alabama, located in Tuscaloosa, is a Carnegie-classified R1 Doctoral University and the flagship campus of the University of Alabama system. UA has approximately 38,000 students and is a leader among public universities nationwide for enrollment of National Merit Scholars. The Department of Political Science offers the B.A., M.A., M.P.A., and Ph.D. degrees. The Department also administers the International Studies major, the Economics major in Arts & Sciences, and the Public Policy minor.

To apply, go to <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/49550> and complete the online application. Include a cover letter that details evidence of ability to teach core MPA courses and teaching philosophy, curriculum vitae, and sample syllabi and/or teaching evaluations if available. Graduate transcripts and three letters of reference should be emailed directly to the Search Committee Chair at mpa@ua.edu. Review of applications will begin on January 24, 2022 and continue until the position is filled. For more information, contact Dr. Dana Patton, Search Committee Chair, at mpa@ua.edu.

The University of Alabama is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer, and actively seeks diversity among its employees. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. For additional information about UA's strategic diversity plan, see <https://provost.ua.edu/diversity/>. In addition, the College of Arts & Sciences has developed a college-level strategic diversity plan, which can be viewed here: <https://diversity.as.ua.edu/>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/10/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9689

Duke University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

AMERICA IN THE WORLD CONSORTIUM 2022-23 POST-DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIPS

The America in the World Consortium at Duke University, Johns Hopkins, and the University of Texas at Austin seeks applications from recent Ph.D. recipients for its Postdoctoral Fellowship Program.

The America in the World Consortium (AWC) is a dynamic partnership of universities seeking to create a more vibrant debate among policy-interested scholars about America's role in the world. We are committed to preparing the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC prioritizes an intellectually diverse research community and supports fellows across a variety of disciplines.

ABOUT AWC FELLOWS PROGRAM:

In 2018, a team of scholar-practitioners from Duke University, Johns Hopkins University, and the University of Texas at Austin launched a new consortium designed to better prepare the next generation to confront geopolitical challenges and advance American national interests abroad. AWC seeks Post-Doctoral Fellows for in-residence positions beginning in August 2022. Applicants will be considered for up to five (5) fellowship positions for up to two (2) years in residence at one of the three partner institutions:

- Duke University, American Grand Strategy (AGS) Program.

- Johns Hopkins University, Henry A. Kissinger Center for Global Affairs at SAIS.

- University of Texas at Austin, Clements Center for National Security

Applicants from all disciplines whose research bears directly on American grand strategy, broadly defined, are welcome to apply. However, preference will be given to applicants with a doctorate in political science, public policy, and history whose research has a strong connection to policy. Successful applicants will be able to spend the substantial portion of their time working on their own research and writing projects, while taking advantage of the many academic resources available at their institution. Additionally, Fellows will be required to play an active role in the host institution's programs and activities. Additional responsibilities will be by mutual agreement between the Fellow and the AWC directors. For example, in some cases, Fellows will have the opportunity to teach an undergraduate course.

HOW TO APPLY:

Please submit the following items to begin your application on Academic Jobs Online: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/20304>.

- Cover Letter. In the cover letter, stipulate which consortium school or schools the candidate would wish to reside at during the fellowship.
- Curriculum Vitae
- Graduate school transcript
- Names of 3 referees who would write a letter of recommendation if we asked them to
- Article or writing sample representing an existing contribution to the field of American grand strategy, broadly defined.

Applications are due no later than Wednesday, December 15, 2021 (11:59 p.m. EST).

Note that applicants are required to have received their doctorate by August 2022, before the fellowship commences. Direct any questions to Alexandra Townsend, the America in the World Consortium Program Manager, at alexandra.townsend@duke.edu.

STIPEND INFORMATION:

Fellows accepted to the program will be offered a competitive stipend of $70,000, access to benefits and full use of campus facilities, in addition to other university-specific benefits. The fellowship position will provide funding for a minimum of 12 months and up to 24 months. Fellows will also be given a research fund of $7,500 to cover relocation expenses and legitimate research-related expenses, as needed.

REQUIREMENTS: A Ph.D. completed by August 1, 2022 in a related field, such as political science, public policy or history.

CONTACT: Alexandra Townsend, Alexandra.townsend@duke.edu

DEADLINE TO APPLY: Wednesday, December 15, 2021 (11:59 p.m. ET)

Duke University, Johns Hopkins University, and the University of Texas at Austin are Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employers committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Duke aspires to create a community built on collaboration, innovation, creativity, and belonging. Our collective success depends on the robust exchange of ideas—an exchange that is best when the rich diversity of our perspectives, backgrounds, and experiences flourishes. To achieve this exchange, it is essential that all members of the community feel secure and welcome, that the contributions of all individuals are respected, and that all voices are heard. All members of our community have a responsibility to uphold these values.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 11/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9669

Yale University

Rank: Postdoctoral Association - Democratic Innovations Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: Political Behavior, Electoral Systems, Political Communication

The Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) invites postdoctoral students and junior scholars to apply for its Democratic Innovations Fellowship. Democratic Innovations is a new interdisciplinary ISPS program bringing together social scientists from a variety of fields to think about the factors that affect government policy and decision-making and to analyze novel institutions that might support improvements in representation and government performance. To further the study and dissemination of novel ideas for political representation and decision making, the program will aim to answer questions such as:

- What changes to our political institutions will promote efficient, evidence-based decisions?
- How do ideas spread and what institutions can catalyze faster social learning and elevate fact over misinformation?

- How can we build democratic political institutions founded on a realistic view of voter engagement?

- How can we attract dedicated and talented people to government and promote public engagement that contributes high-quality participation to the political system?

- What new possibilities for government and representation are introduced by modern technology?

- What lessons can we learn about factors affecting government performance from history and social science?

- How can we test our ideas scientifically and how can we work to put proven good ideas into practice?

We are interested in scholars doing basic or applied research on these and related questions. We are also interested in scholars who are experts in novel systems of representation and decision making, especially any innovations in voting or other political reforms that have been introduced recently and take advantage of advances in communication or computation.

Fellowship positions are open to those who have recently completed their Ph.D. (in the last 6 years), or to those who currently hold a faculty position as long as it is without tenure. Junior scholars are generally supported at a standard postdoctoral level for a period of one year beginning July 1, 2022 and are expected to be in residence during the academic year. In some cases, the fellowship may be extended to a second year. Fellows are expected to be actively engaged with the activities of the Democratic Innovations program and present their research at least once per semester. Salary is negotiable depending on qualifications and may, in some cases, include minimal teaching responsibilities.

Please send cover letter, research statement, current C.V., one writing sample, and two letters of recommendation. A copy of graduate transcripts is also required for postdoctoral applicants not currently holding a faculty position. Applications should be submitted online at Interfolio: <https://apply.interfolio.com/98200>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2022. Please submit your application by that date to receive full consideration.

Yale University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/4/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9668

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University

Rank: Gender and Governance Research & Policy Manager

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, India, Economic Policy

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion Economics Yale, based at Yale University's Economic Growth Center

and The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders' ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

Our ideal candidate has a passion to work with government stakeholders and academic researchers to translate research insights into real-world policy and programs. They have experience in operational and financial management in both the research and policy space, and they are excited to interact with stakeholders of all types, from technical developers to local officials to front line data collectors, to senior policymakers and researchers. They understand how the Government of India (GoI) and state governments work, enjoy working with public sector officials, and are eager to identify the best ways to bring together diverse stakeholders around common development-oriented goals, proactively identifying gaps, communicating challenges and proposing feasible solutions. They are not afraid of doing difficult things well, and of the hard work involved in collaborating with government to implement research-backed solutions to build more inclusive economies and societies.

Responsibilities:

- Plan and support implementation of tested research interventions backed by Inclusion Economic India research, in collaboration with relevant policy partners and India and Yale-based teams. This will include, but not be limited to, the following activities:
 - ? Scale-up of technology solutions that have been tested to support policies and programmes of the government partners.
 - ? Develop and maintain relationships with key policy partners, such as the Ministry of Rural Development, to support incorporation of research-backed insights in priority government agencies. Serve as liaison across relevant teams to establish mutually agreed upon research and policy priorities and to implement agreed upon plans.
 - ? Monitor and maintain appropriate data systems relevant to new research, scaling and policy activities to ensure we understand, track and improve our systems to support effective policy engagement.
 - ? Coordinate with product teams to translate inputs from policy partners and identify paths to implement product enhancements.
 - ? Manage activities of appropriately selected technical vendors and counterparts to ensure research-backed tools are maintained, improved, and effectively transitioned over to final product owners
 - ? Recruit, oversee, and guide a team of staff involved in day-to-day activities.
 - ? Manage grants and finances of the relevant portfolios, including identifying funding shortfalls and working with teams to raise funds to support portfolio, and ensuring timely submission of financial reports and projections, and sub-grantee/contract reports and deliverables in the portfolio.
- Coordinate with other Inclusion Economics India staff to identify top priorities and contribute to organizational initiatives and goals.
- Contribute to Inclusion Economics India's overall management and strategic vision by identifying additional sources of funding and potential partner organizations for the expansion of our research portfolio and supporting grant proposals and related fundraising activities.

Basic Qualifications:

- Master's degree in relevant field such as economics or public policy. Significant coursework in economics and experience collecting data and implementing applied economic research preferred, with expertise in governance and/or gender-focused issues.
- Five or more years experience in international development or related field. Significant experience with stakeholder management, particularly with government partners in India or similar setting
- Experience managing team members
- Experience managing research and implementation-focused grants, including with budgeting, expense tracking, project management, and donor engagement
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English, and proficiency in written and oral Hindi
- Proven ability to manage multiple tasks and propose solutions in a timely manner with minimal supervision
- Excellent attention to detail
- Capacity to maintain an organized and structured work style in a fast-paced environment, ability to identify, articulate, and address dynamic priorities
- Strong interpersonal skills, and willingness to interact with a wide range of individuals ranging from Research Associates to technical partners, policy partners, academics, donors, research institutions, etc.
- Willingness to learn about policy design and implementation and work towards research-backed policy design by engaging with key policy partners in the government and building strong networks for research-policy collaborations
- Ability to work in a multicultural environment, including accommodating regular interactions with teams across multiple time zones
- Willingness to travel and visit research sites, policy partners, etc., as useful to engagements

Preferred Qualifications:

- ? Knowledge and ability to conduct basic data cleaning and analysis in Stata and/or R
- ? Experience with Python (pandas + scrapy), Git, database management, and AWS
- ? Strong understanding of research design, basic econometrics, and evaluation methodologies, as well as public policy-oriented topics and policy and implementation in South Asia – India in particular

This position will be based in New Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire; you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file "Last name, First name – Gender and Governance Research and Policy Manager".

To view other open positions, visit the Inclusion Economics Opportunities page.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9655

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Research Fellow

Specializations: Political Economy, Environmental Policy, Economic Policy

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion Economics Yale, based at Yale University's Economic Growth Center and The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders' ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

We are currently recruiting one or more Post-Doctoral Research Fellows to support research in India. Final portfolio allocations will depend on candidates' interest, experience, and skillset; ideal candidates have experience and research in one of our core focus areas listed above. The position will provide the selected candidate(s) an opportunity to gain first-hand experience conducting policy-relevant economics research while contributing to an agreed upon project portfolio.

Responsibilities within the project portfolio include supporting research design and implementation, overseeing data collection and analysis, interacting with stakeholders, and managing research activities and staff. This position requires a self-starting candidate with proven expertise in applied economics research who can effectively navigate India's institutional landscape and appropriately represent our work to outside stakeholders. The position will provide a talented early career researcher the opportunity to work directly with top academics and begin building their own research portfolio.

Responsibilities:

- Manage and supervise technical aspects of assigned research studies in collaboration with the research team.
- Oversee field-based team to manage research study activities, including intervention implementation, and contribute to field-based scoping, survey design, survey testing, data quality monitoring, and more.
- Clean and process incoming or secondary data and conduct econometric analysis under the direction of senior researchers.
- Manage relationships with collaborating institutions, including policy counterparts and funding organizations; work with partner institutions and governments to set priorities and coordinate project administration and logistics.
- Compile, assess and synthesize research into policy briefs, white papers, memos and academic articles with guidance and oversight of Yale-affiliated research faculty.
- Provide appropriate inputs and support for administrative requirements of the project portfolio, upon request, which may include financial management, budgeting, procurement, contract set-up and compliance, grant reporting, deliverable tracking, etc.

- Contribute to our team's overall management and strategic vision by identifying new research projects and partners and applying for additional sources of funding in partnership with research team.

Basic Qualifications:

- PhD in economics, public policy, political science, statistics, econometrics or related field by mid-2022
- Advanced coursework in empirical methods, including econometrics and economics, with strong demonstrated academic performance
- Solid understanding of research design and experience with data collection and field work
- Proven analytical skills and proficiency in Stata and/or R; experience in Python a plus
- Proven ability to manage multiple tasks and propose timely solutions with minimal supervision
- Excellent attention to detail
- Capacity to maintain an organized and structured work style in a fast-paced environment
- Ability to adapt to changing environments
- Strong interpersonal skills, and willingness to interact with a wide range of individuals ranging from Research Associates to academics, donors, research institutions, etc.
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and Hindi
- Ability to work in a multicultural environment
- Willingness to travel frequently and spend significant time at research project sites, as needed

Preferred Qualifications:

- Ability to independently drive research projects and produce independent, high-quality original empirical research in mutually agreed upon areas
- 3 to 5 years of field research or field research management experience in international development or related field
- Experience with research grant management and project management
- Proven success in fundraising for research studies with clear policy relevance
- Demonstrated interest in public policy and South Asia

This position will be based in Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country. This is a one or two-year position with the possibility of extension upon mutual agreement.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire; you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file "Last name, First name – Post-Doctoral Research Fellow".

To view other open positions, visit the Inclusion Economics Opportunities page.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9656

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University

Rank: Rural Livelihoods Policy Manager

Specializations: Economic Policy, Bureaucracy & Organizational Behavior, India

Who We Are:

Inclusion Economics India Centre at IFMR/Krea University (formerly EPoD India at IFMR) works in close collaboration with Inclusion

Economics Yale, based at Yale University's Economic Growth Center and The Whitney and Betty MacMillan Center for International and Area Studies. Drawing upon economics, political science, and related fields, we conduct cutting-edge research to understand how policy can promote inclusive, accountable economies and societies. Our core research focuses on gender as it relates to labor economics and broader economic empowerment; political economy and governance; and environmental economics. We also aim to build a culture of evidence and increase data literacy in the public sector, strengthening leaders' ability to identify and implement evidence-informed policies. Throughout the research life cycle, we engage closely with policy counterparts to ensure we address questions of immediate relevance, and we regularly communicate data-driven insights with policy counterparts and the general public.

The Role:

Our ideal candidate has a passion to work with government stakeholders and academic researchers develop novel gender-focused impact evaluations and to translate research insights into inclusive real-world policy and programs in the rural livelihoods space. They have experience working with researchers and policy makers to build and evaluate evidence-based policies. They are comfortable working with survey and administrative data, and they can confidently develop data management systems to evaluate and monitor program impacts. They are passionate about building stakeholder capacity and operationalizing best practices, and are eager to collaborate with technical developers, local officials, front line data collectors, and senior policymakers and researchers. They are excited to identify the best ways to bring together diverse stakeholders around common development-oriented goals, proactively identifying data gaps, communicating challenges, and proposing feasible solutions. They will lead trainings and external-facing events with policy stakeholders and will build content for policy engagement events. They are not afraid of doing difficult things well, and of the hard work involved in collaborating with government to implement research-backed solutions to build more inclusive economies and societies.

Responsibilities:

- Develop and foster strategic relationships with external stakeholders, including policymakers of all levels of the government, donors, and other mission-aligned individuals and institutions.
- Proactively and independently work closely with researchers and leadership to identify, lead, and implement a targeted and integrated program of engagement and communications along with staff at Inclusion Economics Yale.
- Develop strong relations with government officials, help conceptualize new research projects that align with our portfolios, as well as identify opportunities for replicating and scaling-up of projects.
- Work with government officials to encourage and enhance the use of rigorous evidence-based policymaking in their departments, and institutionalize practices to make such policy-engagements effective.
- Represent our research and policy engagements in a variety of written and in-person forums to engage effectively in the research-to-policy space and communicate effectively about our work to external stakeholders. Written communications may include policy briefs, published articles and blogs, and reports.
- Oversee and implement all aspects pertaining to administration of external-facing policy engagements ranging from policy dialogues and conferences to workshops and trainings. This oversight includes coordinating with collaborating institutions, developing and effectively delivering content, and ensuring all administration and logistics are executed effectively.

- Draft research-policy memos, working papers, presentations, op-eds, and background notes for high-level partner meetings, and oversee immediate follow-up on such meetings, including related to basic content and data-related requests.
- Build capability and capacity in the research management team for effective partnership management, deeper understanding of the policy environment, and inform and support fundraising initiatives in the organization.
- Other activities to support our strategy in India and South Asia, as requested.

Basic Qualifications:

- Master's degree in a relevant field such as economics, public policy/administration, and/or political science
- Strong understanding of research design, basic econometrics, and evaluation methodologies, as well as public policy-oriented topics and policy and implementation in South Asia – India in particular
- At least 5 years of experience in a position that includes significant external network development and stakeholder engagement
- Excellent oral and written communication skills in English and strong public speaking skills
- Demonstrated ability to communicate research findings to a non-technical audience
- Willingness to visit research project sites and engage in research content and methodology
- Ability to think creatively, innovate, strategize, set priorities, manage a workplan, and evaluate progress with minimal supervision
- Experience working across multiple projects and managing multiple internal and external relationships
- Experience managing stakeholder and policy programs, including convening policy forums, communications outputs, and thought leadership activities
- Proven track record of carrying out high-quality research, policy, and/or advocacy work

Preferred Qualifications:

- Working knowledge of Hindi
- 7 years or more of relevant experience, including at least three years of working closely with researchers and government officials in India
- Extensive experience in developing strategic engagement and communications programs, including building networks and collaborations to maximize impact on policy/reform
- Expertise in one or more of i.e. India's core research areas
- Experience with Python (pandas + scrapy), Git, database management, and AWS
- A PhD in economics, public policy or political science is desirable, but not required

This position will be based in New Delhi, India, with frequent travel throughout the country.

How to Apply:

If you are interested in this position, please fill out our Screening Questionnaire; you will be asked to upload a single PDF containing your CV, cover letter, writing sample, and academic transcripts. Label your file "Last name, First name – Rural Livelihoods Policy Manager".

To view other open positions, visit the Inclusion Economics Opportunities page.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Date Posted: 11/3/2021

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9654

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor - Gender, Governance and Society (Tenure Track)

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: Gender Politics & Policy, History & Politics, Social Movements

Assistant/Associate Professor - Gender, Governance and Society (Tenure Track)

Division of Arts and Humanities

New York University Abu Dhabi

The Division of Arts and Humanities at New York University Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) invites applications for a full-time tenure/tenure-track Assistant/Associate Professor faculty position. We seek a scholar and educator whose scholarship and research bridges the studies of gender, governance and society with scholarship in the humanities and social sciences. The ideal candidate must have a strong research agenda and on track for a publication record suitable for tenure at New York University. Commitment to teaching excellence, ability to supervise BA, MA and PhD students, and a record of service to their current and previous institutions are required.

NYUAD values diversity, inclusion, belonging, and equity; such principles are fundamental to the university's commitment to excellence. Our faculty are the engines that sustain our inclusive environment; NYUAD students come from more than 115 countries, with no single one nationality exceeding more than 15 percent of the total student population. Our modern campus is home to over 320 faculty who represent more than 45 different nationalities, all of whom bring a global perspective to their classrooms and research projects. Research is advanced by over 400 highly qualified research staff, who are likewise drawn from all over the world.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE).

For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing, and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

Candidates for the position will possess a PhD focused on gender, governance and society in fields and subjects such as sociology, political science, anthropology and cultural theory/studies, or history.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/91524>

.Curriculum Vitae

.Cover Letter

.Teaching Philosophy and Statement

.Research Profile and Plans

.Scholarly and other Portfolio

.Teaching Syllabi

.Three confidential letters of reference that will be uploaded directly to interfolio by your referee.

Applications will be reviewed on a rolling basis until the position is filled. Shortlisted candidates are expected to be interviewed in the Fall 2021. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2022-2023.

NYUAD is committed to equality and is an equal opportunity employer. We encourage applications from candidates who will enrich and contribute to the cultural and ethnic diversity of our University.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.artsandhumanities.positions@nyu.edu.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9644

University of California, Santa Barbara Rank: Assistant Professor in Environmental Justice

The University of California, Santa Barbara Department of Political Science seeks a scholar in environmental justice for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2022. The appointment may concentrate on any political science subfield, with a particular interest in scholarship that explores how the politics of race, ethnicity, and inequality intersect with regulation of the environment, energy production, and/or extractive resources. The candidate should have research that relates to the Department's strong interdisciplinary focus in the study of the environment. We are open with respect to methodological or theoretical approach, but the candidate's research should be theoretically informed and must demonstrate mastery of appropriate research methods.

Diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at UC Santa Barbara. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, staff and students who share our commitment to these values. UCSB is the first Hispanic-Serving Institution in the American Association of Universities (AAU). We have a diverse undergraduate population, including also AAPI and first generation scholars. The University is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service as appropriate to the position.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/5000695/SARS-CoV-2_Covid-19. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. For new University of California employees, the applicable deadline is eight weeks after their first date of employment. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.)

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 5/1/2022
Date Posted: 11/1/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9638

University of California, Santa Barbara Rank: Assistant Professor in Environmental Justice

The University of California, Santa Barbara Department of Political Science seeks a scholar in environmental justice for a tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor with an anticipated start date of July 1, 2022. The appointment may concentrate on any political science subfield, with a particular interest in scholarship that explores how the politics of race, ethnicity, and inequality intersect with regulation of the environment, energy production, and/or extractive resources. The candidate should have research that relates to the Department's strong interdisciplinary focus in the study of the environment. We are open with respect to methodological or theoretical approach, but the candidate's research should be theoretically informed and must demonstrate mastery of appropriate research methods. For more information, please visit the job posting here: <https://recruit.ap.ucsb.edu/JPF02075>

Diversity, equity, and inclusion are core values at UC Santa Barbara. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, staff and students who share our commitment to these values. UCSB is the first Hispanic-Serving Institution in the American Association of Universities (AAU). We have a diverse undergraduate population, including also AAPI and first generation scholars. The University is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service as appropriate to the position.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/5000695/SARS-CoV-2_Covid-19. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. For new University of California employees, the applicable deadline is eight weeks after their first date of employment. (Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.)

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 5/1/2022
Date Posted: 11/1/2021
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9639

Hobby School of Public Affairs

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Health and Health Policy
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Open, Open
Specializations: Health Care, Economic Policy, Political Economy

The Hobby School of Public Affairs and Department of Economics at the University of Houston (UH) seek to hire a Presidential Frontier Faculty tenure-track faculty member at the rank of assistant professor in the fields of public health and health policy, to begin in the Fall of 2022. The Presidential Frontier Faculty program is a university-wide integrated interdisciplinary hiring campaign that is overseen by central university leadership, and encompasses hiring a large cohort of convergence research faculty to work on health, energy, sustainability and security. This search is part of a university-wide, multi-year, integrated, visionary hiring campaign to attract top scholars to support the University of Houston's research focus on building an infrastructure for sustainable communities. We are interested in applicants who will bring fresh ideas, practical experience, and an interdisciplinary mindset. Our faculty include experts in theoretical, practical, and analytical disciplines associated with public policy and economics. We seek to complement that collective expertise with this hire.

Competitive candidates will have expertise in areas including, but not limited to, health policy, public health, the economics of healthcare markets, and determinants of individual health outcomes with a focus on economic and social disruptions in the face of global climate change. Their approach to research may include, but is not limited to, survey methods, randomized control trials, policy evaluation, and structural and quantitative models.

About the Hobby School and Department of Economics:

The Hobby School of Public Affairs was created in 2016 by the University of Houston System. Incoming faculty will have the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology, leadership development, and ethical analysis in its teaching, training, and research. It is the home of UH's Center for Public Policy, Survey Research Institute, and Elizabeth D. Rockwell Center for Ethics and Leadership. The Hobby School offers: (1) a Master of Public Policy (MPP) degree, (2) a dual degree program combining public policy with degrees in other fields—multidisciplinary studies (UH's Honors College), business, economics, law, psychology, and social work, (3) certificate programs in data analytics, energy policy, health care policy, public policy, and public administration, and (4) BS and BA degrees in public policy starting in January, 2022. We are in the planning process for launching a PhD program. The Hobby School also runs the Institute on the Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) and offers workshops in social science methods under the Inter-University Consortium of Political and Social Research (ICPSR) Summer Institute.

The Department of Economics is a research-oriented department which operates at the frontier of the profession. It has strength in applied microeconomics with specialists in labor markets, health, public economics, and development, as well as a group of macroeconomists with a focus on time-series analysis, international trade and finance, risk-sharing, and growth. Faculty members are associates of the National Bureau of Economic Research (NBER) and the Centre for Economic Policy Research (CEPR), and serve on editorial boards at general interest and top field journals. The department offers a PhD program, a Master's in Applied Economics, and undergraduate BA and BS degrees that includes a Quantitative Certificate for students undertaking more rigorous coursework. In addition to regular seminars with leading economists from around the world, the department co-organizes conferences on international economics with the Federal Reserve and Bank of Mexico, macroeconomics with other research universities in Texas, and applied microeconomics with other Texas universities with support from the Stata Institute.

The University of Houston is a Carnegie-designated Tier One research institution and is the flagship campus of a state-assisted higher education system that enrolls over 70,000 students. The University of Houston is recognized as one of the most racially and ethnically diverse research institutions in the nation. As such, we welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence.

Houston itself is a laboratory for the future. The city reflects what is happening in the United States and around the world in terms of demographic, cultural, political, and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (1) a growing economy, including a vibrant energy sector, robust manufacturing, a bustling port that serves as a hub for international trade, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center—the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award-winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) a relatively low cost of living among large cities.

Application Instructions: Interested individuals should apply at <https://jobs.uh.edu> and provide: (1) a letter of interest, (2) evidence of teaching effectiveness and commitment to mentoring students, (3) a statement of research specialization and interests, (4) three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation, (5) a curriculum vita, and (6) up to three representative papers. Upon receiving applications, referees may be contacted via the online application system to submit letters directly for junior applicants but not for senior applicants (we will inform applicants prior to asking for letters in that case). Review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021 and continue until the position is filled.

The University of Houston is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committee anticipates holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and will favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at <http://www.uh.edu/af/universityservices/policies/sam/1GenAdmin/1D5.pdf>.

Qualifications:

PhD or Doctorate in related fields required.

In the selection process, the search committee will prioritize collaborative scholars who: (1) engage in nationally-recognized, interdisciplinary work on significant public health and health policy issues, (2) work with diverse populations, communities, and organizations, (3) demonstrate an eagerness to contribute to undergraduate and graduate education and student success, and (4) pursue grants, awards, and other sources of funding to support research, academic programming, student success, community engagement, and impact.

Notes to Applicant: Official transcripts are required for faculty appointments and will be requested upon selection of the final candidate. All positions at the University of Houston are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check.

Required Attachments by Candidate: Curriculum Vitae, Cover Letter/Letter of Application, Teaching Philosophy or Statement, Research Statement, Publications

https://uhs.taleo.net/careersection/ex2_uhf/jobdetail.ftl?job=FAC001986&tz=GMT-05%3A00&tzname=America%2FChicago

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9617

Ithaca College

Rank: Diversity Scholar Pre/Post Doc

Politics Department Diversity Scholar Pre and Post-Doctoral Fellowship

The School of Humanities and Sciences at Ithaca College announces its Diversity Scholars Fellowship Program search for 2022-2023. Applications for Politics Department Diversity Scholar Fellowship are welcome.

Please read the following descriptions and include reference to specific criteria in your cover letter.

We are especially interested in candidates from underrepresented groups, and who work in the areas of U.S. Politics and Public Policy.

Special consideration will be given to candidates whose work is in primarily in U.S.-focused Ethnic, Race, Social and/or Gender Justice/ Studies, Constitutionalism, Transnational and/or Internationalist Politics (or the intersections of U.S. and International Politics) and one or more of the following policy fields: Immigration, Environmental, Public Health, Housing, Indigenous, and Labor Policy.

More information on the Politics Department, and contact information here: <https://www.ithaca.edu/academics/school-humanities-and-sciences/politics>

Interested applicants must apply online and include (1): unofficial transcripts from an accredited PhD granting institution; (2) a cover letter outlining your teaching philosophy, teaching experience if any, dissertation research and timeline to completion (if applicable) and experience working with underrepresented groups in you teaching and/or research or service.; (3) a CV; (4) one syllabus of a course you propose to teach and (5); name and contact information of candidate's doctoral advisor. The committee will begin reviewing application on November 29th.

IC Diversity Fellows Program

The Ithaca College Diversity Fellows Program was created to increase the racial and ethnic diversity of Ithaca College faculty and, in so doing, bring fresh perspectives to the college's curriculum and the learning experiences offered to students.

Fellowships are for the academic year (August 15, 2022 to May 31, 2023) and are non-renewable. Fellows will receive a $42,000 stipend, $5,000 in travel/professional development support, relocation reimbursement, office space, health benefits, and access to Ithaca College and Cornell University libraries. Fellows will teach one course in the fall semester and one course in the spring semester; will be mentored by a faculty member in the host department; will be expected to participate in one official function per semester and monthly professionalization meetings; and must partake in an exit-interview.

Applicants must be enrolled in (pre-doc) or have graduated from (post-doc) an accredited program Ph.D. program; display a commitment to a career in teaching at the college or university level and scholarly promise. Applicants must also be authorized to work in the United States. Prior to August 15, 2022, fellows applying as a pre-doctoral fellow must be advanced to candidacy at their home institution, with an approved dissertation proposal. Preference for the pre-doctoral fellows will be given to candidates in the last year of dissertation writing. Candidates applying for a post-doctoral position must have completed their degrees no more than three years prior to the start of the fellowship year. Preference will be given to those who have finished their degree during the year preceding the fellowship.

Questions about online application should be directed to the Office of Human Resources at (607) 274-8000. Questions about the Diversity Scholars Program should be directed to Belisa González at bgonzalez@ithaca.edu or 607-274-3921.

Visa sponsorship is not provided for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 1/15/2022

Date Posted: 10/25/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 9615

University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill

Rank: Assistant Professor

American Politics: The Department of Political Science at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor, with appointment beginning July 1, 2022. We seek a scholar doing innovative research in any area of American politics or public policy. We welcome applications from scholars whose work crosses traditional subfield or disciplinary boundaries, who show promise of research excellence and a desire to train and work with a diverse body of students.

The Political Science Department at UNC is committed to a vision of the University where all members of the community feel welcome, valued, and can thrive. The ideal candidate will share in this commitment. Accordingly, applicants should describe in their cover letters the specific ways in which their scholarship, mentoring, and service goals can support this vision.

Review of applications will begin November 8, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply for the position, please follow this link: <https://unc.peopleadmin.com/postings/213797>. Please include a cover letter, CV, research statement, teaching statement, evidence of teaching excellence, and diversity statement. Applicants will be required to identify the names, titles and email addresses of professional references at the time of application (please note that four are required). Recommenders identified by the applicant will be contacted via email with instructions for uploading their letters of support. Alternatively, applicants may list Interfolio as a reference and the application system will solicit recommendations directly from Interfolio. Please see <http://help.interfolio.com/entries/24062742-Uploading-Letters-to-an-Online-Application-System> for instructions. Applicants may also list the email of a Graduate Coordinator who will upload their references instead of the referring faculty. Departmental contact person is Shannon Eubanks; the department address is Department of Political Science, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, CB# 3265, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-3265 and the web address is <http://www.unc.edu/depts/polisci>.

The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran."

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/25/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9619

New York University Abu Dhabi

Rank: Social Research and Public Policy

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, Open

Specializations: Political Thought: Historical, Gender Politics & Policy, Ethnic & Feminist Theory

Social Research and Public Policy
NYU Abu Dhabi

We are inviting applications from sociologists and those in related disciplines for a tenured faculty member to join the program in Social Research and Public Policy, for appointment on September 1, 2023, subject to final budget approval. We will consider applicants with an active research agenda in all areas of theoretically-informed social research, but are especially keen on strengthening our faculty in any of the following areas: social theory, political sociology, comparative-historical research, qualitative methods, migration, gender, and race/ethnicity.

NYU Abu Dhabi's unique location in the Middle East makes it an ideal headquarters for social scientists working to better understand global societies, both past and present.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

Established in partnership between New York University (NYU) and the emirate of Abu Dhabi, NYU Abu Dhabi (NYUAD) has assembled over the past decade a remarkable community of scholars, students, researchers, artists, inventors, and others who have contributed to the growth of the UAE's capital as a global hub of knowledge and culture while establishing a new model of higher education for today's complex world.

NYUAD is animated by inspiring, diverse faculty, students, and staff working together in an exciting and dynamic city. As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students and providing an intellectually rich environment.

Students are drawn from among the world's best. They are bright, intellectually passionate, and committed to building a campus environment anchored in mutual respect, understanding, and care. The NYUAD undergraduate student body has garnered an impressive record of scholarships, graduate-school appointments, and many other global honors. Graduate education is an area of growth for the university and the current graduate student population of over 100 students is expected to expand in the next decade.

NYUAD is committed to building and strengthening a university-wide culture of inclusion, diversity, belonging, and equity (IDBE). For more information on NYUAD's commitment to IDBE and how these values create fundamental to our mission please visit <https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/about/inclusion-diversity-belonging-and-equity.html>

Working for NYUAD

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home. In order for faculty to thrive, we offer a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. This starts with a generous relocation allowance to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by a competitive salary, housing and transportation allowance; educational assistance for your dependents; access to health and wellness services, plus more. NYUAD is committed to faculty success throughout the academic career trajectory, providing support for ambitious and world-class research projects and innovative, interactive teaching approaches. Support for dual-career families is a priority.

Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

This position requires a Ph.D. in Sociology or a related discipline.

We seek individuals who have a strong record of scholarship, teaching, and mentoring, and have the ability to develop and lead high-quality research.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94902>

.CV

.Cover Letter

.Statement of Teaching Interests

.Recent Teaching Evaluations (if available)

.Statement of Research Interests

.Three (3) Representative Writing Samples

.List of three references that may be contacted at a later date.

We will begin looking at applications immediately and will continue until the position is filled. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in the academic year 2023-2024.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

If this sounds like you, apply now.

Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9608

Stanford University

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow (Health)

Subfield(s): Open, Methodology, Public Policy

About the Lab

Stanford University is seeking to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Fellow (Health) to join the Immigration Policy Lab (IPL). IPL conducts research that employs field and natural experimental methods to quantify the impacts of immigration and integration policies throughout the world. Using large datasets, creative research designs, and modern analytical tools, we bring new evidence to bear on the urgent problems practitioners face. By guiding the people who set public policy, as well as those who serve immigrant communities, our research can generate solutions and ultimately improve lives. IPL reorients academic training by placing postdocs in a hub of experiential research activity. Working side by side with faculty and professional staff, postdocs are fully immersed in an innovative research model that combines the efficiency and rigor of an academic lab with the energy and innovation of a civic-tech startup.

Position

IPL is a highly collaborative environment. The postdoc will have the opportunity to co-author papers envisioned to appear in top journals that report on the results of the studies, as well as work with an array of affiliated faculty from top institutions. While the majority of the postdoc's time will be dedicated to collaborative lab projects, there is also an opportunity to develop related independent health research. Examples of previous studies produced by the lab include projects on the intergenerational impact of DACA on the mental health of children (Science), public health insurance and immigrant families' location decisions (JAMA Pediatrics), and the impact of prenatal care for children of undocumented women (Obstetrics and Gynecology).

The initial appointment will be for one year (with potential to renew for a second year). Start date is flexible, but no later than July 2022. Salary is standardized based on Stanford University guidelines. Benefits are provided.

Qualifications

The Postdoctoral Research Fellow will have completed a Ph.D., with a preference for political science, economics, sociology, statistics, or computer science. She or he should have a range of statistical and data skills including graduate-level knowledge of causal inference methods, data management, and data analysis. Knowledge of immigration and health policy will also be valued.

In addition, having experience working with medical claims data and executing and managing data analysis in a server-based environment is highly valued.

Stanford University is an equal opportunity employer. It welcomes nominations of, and applications from, women and members of minority groups, as well as others who would bring additional dimensions to the university's research missions.

Application Requirements and Recommendations

Applications should include a cover letter, CV, graduate school transcripts, a writing sample, contributions to diversity statement, and at least two letters of recommendation. The "Contributions to Diversity Statement" should describe the candidate's experience as a part of any of the diverse or underrepresented groups as outlined below, and any past efforts, as well as future plans, to advance diversity, equity, and inclusion as a postdoc at Stanford and IPL community member. Additional papers may be requested at a later date. Applicants should be prepared to complete a research design and data analysis exercise as part of the interview process.

IPL encourages applicants from diverse and underrepresented groups to apply. In particular, IPL encourages individuals from historically underrepresented racial and ethnic groups (Black or African Americans, Hispanics or Latinos, American Indians or Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders, as described by the National Science Foundation), individuals with disabilities, and individuals from disadvantaged economic and educational backgrounds (low-income households and disadvantaged educational environments) to apply. IPL encourages that this information be shared in the "Contributions to Diversity Statement".

Applications will only be accepted through <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19939> (ID19939). We will begin reviewing applications on November 1st, 2021. Applicants who have questions about the position may contact Elisa Cascardi at the Immigration Policy Lab at Stanford University, directly (cascardi@stanford.edu, Subject: Immigration Lab Postdoc (Health) 2021).

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/22/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9610

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior IT policy researcher

The Center for Information Technology Policy (CITP) is an interdisciplinary center at Princeton University. The Center is a nexus of expertise in technology, engineering, public policy, and the social sciences on campus. In keeping with the strong University tradition of service, the Center's research, teaching, and events address digital technologies as they interact with society.

CITP is seeking applications for the CITP Fellows Program for 2022-23.

There are three tracks:

- Postdoctoral track: for people who recently received a Ph.D.
- Visiting Professional track: for academics and professionals (e.g., lawyers, journalists, technologists, former government officials, etc.)
- Microsoft Visiting Professor track: for academics

In this application cycle, we especially welcome applicants with interests in: Artificial Intelligence (AI), Data Science, Blockchain, Cryptocurrencies and Cryptography.

The Center for Information Technology Policy Fellows Program offers scholars and practitioners from diverse backgrounds the opportunity to join the Center's community. The goals of this fully-funded, in-residence program are to support people doing important research and policy engagement related to the Center's mission and to enrich the Center's intellectual life. Fellows typically will conduct research with members of the Center's community and engage in the Center's public programs. The fellows' program provides freedom to pursue projects of interest and a stimulating intellectual environment.

Application review will begin in the middle of December 2021.

For more information and to apply, please see our Fellows Program webpage at <https://citp.princeton.edu/programs/fellows/>.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9602

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Public Policy - Technology Policy

Apply online: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/16991>

The Public Policy and Political Economy Program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for a tenure-system assistant professor in Technology Policy.

The successful candidate for this position will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The area of specialization within Technology Policy is open, but candidates focusing on cross-border issues between policy and technology (such as the innovation policy, socioeconomic impact of technology, global technology infrastructure and impact, global politics of technology, technology and health, regulation and ethics etc.) are particularly encouraged to apply. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

The selected candidate should have a clear trajectory for impactful, policy-relevant research, and with the potential for obtaining external grant support. The candidate should also possess very strong collaborative and organizational skills based on experiences working with diverse communities through partnerships on technology-related issues. Working in close collaboration with the existing faculty and local research community is highly encouraged. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

The school's faculty includes multiple winners of internal and external teaching awards. The candidate is expected to incorporate best practices as identified by the scholarship on teaching and learning into their pedagogical approach. The successful candidate will be expected to teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. Faculty typically teach two courses per semester.

The University of Texas at Dallas was recently ranked 39th among the 100 best universities in the world under 50 years old by Times Higher Education magazine. UT Dallas is one of the youngest universities to achieve the Carnegie Commission's highest research classification of "Doctoral Universities – Very High Research Activity."

Applicants should upload a letter of application; current curriculum vitae; a sample of written work; statements of teaching and research philosophy; instructional materials such as syllabi and course evaluations and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

Additional questions may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Dohyeong Kim (dohyeong.kim@utdallas.edu)

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

The University of Texas at Dallas is an equal opportunity/affirmative action university.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/21/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9601

Brown University

Rank: Watson Climate Solutions Postdoctoral Associate 2022-2024

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Public Administration

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Political Economy, International Political Economy

Brown University invites applications for a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate in Climate Solutions at the Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs. We seek a scholar to help us address one or both of two major topics: climate and trade, and the geopolitics of the global energy transition. The postdoc will help research on questions like how climate should fit into the United States' China strategy, how US policymakers can work with the EU on issues such as carbon tariffs and border adjustment measures, or how states and market actors can work together to finance decarbonization. Ability to conduct and write policy-oriented research, as well as academic research, is essential. There are no teaching responsibilities. The selected candidate will devote 50 percent time to projects at the Climate Solutions Lab, under the supervision of Professor Jeff Colgan, and 50 percent time to his or her own (climate-related) research projects. The Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Founded in 1764, Brown is a leading research university distinct for its student-centered learning and deep sense of purpose. Brown University students, faculty, and staff are driven by the idea that their work will have an impact on the world. Brown is a place where rigorous scholarship, complex problem-solving, and service to the public good are defined by collaboration, intellectual discovery, and working in ways that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries.

Eligibility and terms

Scholars of all nationalities with a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, sociology, economics, or closely related disciplines will be considered.

Dissertation must be complete by June 30, 2022. Candidates must be untenured and within 5 years of Ph.D.

Fellows will receive an annual stipend of $65,000 for this benefits-eligible position. Additional funding will be made available for research expenses and research-related programming on campus.

For more information, please visit:

<http://watson.brown.edu/climatesolutionslab>

Application requirements

Candidates should submit a cover letter of application, a CV, three letters of reference and a short writing sample (15-20 pages) through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/95524>.

Applications received by December 1, 2021 will receive full consideration.

Final notifications are expected to go out in Winter 2022. This two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate appointment will be effective July 1, 2022, and is not renewable.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 10/20/2021

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 9594

University of Texas at Dallas

Rank: Assistant Professor - Cybersecurity

Subfield(s): Other, International Relations, Public Policy

The Public Policy and Political Economy program in the School of Economic, Political and Policy Sciences (EPPS) at The University of Texas at Dallas is seeking applications for a tenure-system Assistant Professor in Cybersecurity and Policy.

The successful candidate will have a PhD in a social science or public policy-related field. The candidate's research agenda should focus on issues of cybersecurity with an international/cross-national dimension. Research topics of special interest include ethical and legal aspects of cybersecurity, regulation across countries, the economics of information security, the interaction of security and privacy considerations, and the politics of developing and administering cybersecurity policies and programs. While experience in the private sector, government agency, NGO or public policy organization will be an advantage, all exceptional candidates will be considered. Ideal candidates will demonstrate their ability to contribute to existing program strengths in quantitative methods.

Applicants should upload a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statements of teaching and research philosophy; teaching evaluations; and the full contact information for at least three academic or professional references.

The University of Texas at Dallas is committed to providing an educational, living and working environment that is welcoming, respectful and inclusive of all members of the university community. The University prohibits unlawful discrimination against a person because of their race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, national origin, age, disability, genetic information, or veteran status.

apply online: <https://jobs.utdallas.edu/postings/16876>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/19/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9587

University of Houston

Rank: Post Doctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Open, Open

Specializations: Political Economy, Environmental Policy, Political Economy

Postdoctoral Research Fellow in Public Policy, Circular Economy and Sustainability

UH Energy and the Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston are looking for a postdoctoral research fellow specializing in environmental policy with focus on the circular materials and the circular economy. The position is available immediately and for up to two years.

Duties and Responsibilities:

This position is designed to be a career-building step for scholars in environmental policy. Primary duties for the scholar are to develop his or her research program in environmental policy with applications to problems pertaining to the public policy dimensions of the circular economy, circular materials, life cycle of materials, and sustainability. The postdoctoral fellow will also support the Hobby School and UH Energy in research, grant applications and outreach. During the academic year the fellow will teach one or two courses on the public policy dimensions of the circular economy, environmental policy, and sustainability.

Application Instructions:

Interested candidates should submit the following:

- (1) CV or resume
- (2) Cover letter highlighting the skills relevant to the proposed position
- (3) Two representative manuscripts or publications
- (4) Contact information for three professional references

Review of candidates will start on 11/15/2021; applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to Gail Buttorff (gibuttor@central.uh.edu) or Pablo M. Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu).

Qualifications

Doctoral and No experience

Requires singular knowledge of a specialized advanced professional discipline or the highest level of general business knowledge, normally acquired through attainment of a directly job-related terminal degree or equivalent formal training in a recognized field of specialization that is directly related to the type of work being performed. No experience is required.

Position Qualifications:

Required: PhD in Public Policy, Political Science, Economics, Engineering, Environmental Studies or related fields.

Applicants with, or nearing completion of, a doctoral degree in fields mentioned above will also be considered. The successful candidate is likely to demonstrate expertise in quantitative methods, potential for publishing research, a collaborative/respective approach to work, and the ability to effectively manage multiple projects to achieve performance objectives. Individuals with cross-cutting disciplinary and methodological interests are particularly encouraged to apply. The applicant must also have strong written and oral communication skills.

About UH Energy, the Hobby School of Public Affairs and the University of Houston:

UH Energy is an umbrella initiative that integrates the efforts across the University of Houston system to position the university as a strategic partner to the energy industry by producing trained workforce, strategic and technical leadership, research and development for needed innovations and new technologies. Issues of public policy, the convergence of policy, science, technology and business, and the role they play in providing solutions to the societal challenges of affordable, reliable and sustainable energy solutions lie at the forefront of the work of UH Energy.

Focusing on ethics, analytics, leadership, and contemporary public policy issues, the Hobby School currently offers a master's degree in public policy, will launch an undergraduate degree in the Spring 2022, and is working to expand its curricula. The Hobby School culture places a premium not only on high-quality research and service to the region and nation but also on a supportive, collaborative, and professional work culture.

The Hobby School and UH Energy are well-positioned for impactful research. Houston is the nation's fourth (soon to be third) most populous American city. Houston itself is a laboratory for the future, as it reflects what is happening in the United States in terms of demographic and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with its: (a) growing economy, including oil & gas, the Johnson Space Center, and the world's largest medical center (the Texas Medical Center), (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) diverse population, (d) outstanding, diverse restaurants, and (e) relatively low cost/affordability among large cities.

Committed to the active recruitment of a diverse faculty and student body, UH is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer of women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities and encourages applications from these and other protected group members. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committees anticipate holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: https://uhsystem.edu/compliance-ethics/_docs/sam/01/1d51.pdf. The position is also subject to the University of Houston's background check policy.

EEO/AA

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/14/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9562

University of Houston

Rank: Open Rank Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

Specializations: American Politics, State Politics, Research Methods

The Hobby School of Public Affairs at the University of Houston (UH) seeks to hire up to three tenured or tenure-track faculty members to begin in the Fall of 2022. We are interested in applicants who will help chart the future of the school with fresh ideas, practical experience, and an interdisciplinary mindset. Our faculty include experts in theoretical, practical, and analytical disciplines associated with public policy. We seek to complement that collective expertise with the three hires.

Competitive candidates are likely to have expertise in one or more of the following areas or in another foundational area of public policy or policymaking:

A core area of public policy and policymaking, including, but not limited to, defense, education, energy, the environment, health, housing, immigration, justice and law enforcement, national and foreign economic policy, political institutions, political economy, public finance, public management, social mobility, transportation, urban and community development, and voting and representation.

Policy data formulation and analysis, including but not limited to, data visualization, decision algorithms, GIS, laboratory and field experiments, natural language processing, network analysis, probabilistic forecasts, project evaluation and randomized control trials, small area models, and survey methods.

Philosophy or ethics: (1) applied to an area of public policy or (2) focusing on a theoretical perspective (e.g., race, gender, governance, and markets) that cuts across and informs policy areas.

In the selection process, the search committee will prioritize collaborative scholars who: (1) engage in nationally-recognized, interdisciplinary work on significant public policy issues, (2) work with diverse populations, communities, and organizations, (3) demonstrate an eagerness to contribute to undergraduate and graduate education and student success, and (4) pursue grants, awards, and other sources of funding to support research, academic programming, student success, community engagement, and impact.

Interested individuals should apply at <https://www.uh.edu/human-resources/careers/> and provide: (1) a letter of interest, (2) evidence of teaching effectiveness and commitment to mentoring students, (3) a statement of research specialization and interests, (4) three names and email addresses of prospective writers of letters of recommendation, (5) a curriculum vita, and (6) up to three representative papers. References may be contacted to submit letters. We will inform applicants prior to asking for letters. Review of applications will begin on November 15 and continue until the position is filled. Questions may be directed to the search committee co-chairs—Pablo M. Pinto (ppinto@central.uh.edu) or Alan Witt (witt@uh.edu).

We are committed to the active recruitment and retention of a diverse faculty and students. Because broad diversity is essential to an inclusive climate and critical to the University's goals of achieving excellence in all areas, the search committee anticipates holistically assessing the many qualifications of each applicant and will favorably consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with broadly diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds in educational, research, or other work activities. For the complete UH nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see the Equal Opportunity and Nondiscrimination Statement at https://uhsystem.edu/compliance-ethics/_docs/sam/01/1d51.pdf. The University of Houston is responsive to the needs of dual career couples.

The Hobby School of Public Affairs was created in 2016 by the University of Houston System. Incoming faculty will have the opportunity to join existing faculty in building and shaping the direction and culture of the school. The Hobby School emphasizes advanced social science methodology, leadership development, and ethical analysis in its teaching, training, and research. It is the home of UH's Center for Public Policy, Survey Research Institute, and Elizabeth D. Rockwell Center for Ethics and Leadership.

The Hobby School offers: (1) a Master of Public Policy (MPP) degree, (2) a dual degree program combining public policy with degrees in other fields—multidisciplinary studies (UH's Honors College), business, economics, law, psychology, and social work, (3) certificate programs in data analytics, energy policy, health care policy, public policy, and public administration, and (4) BS and BA degrees in public policy starting in January 2022. We are in the planning process for launching a PhD program. The Hobby School also runs the Institute on the Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) and offers workshops in social science methods under the Inter-University Consortium of Political and Social Research (ICPSR) Summer Institute.

The University of Houston is a Carnegie-designated Tier One research institution and is the flagship campus of a state-assisted higher education system that enrolls over 70,000 students. The University of Houston is recognized as one of the most racially and ethnically diverse research institutions in the nation. As such, we welcome candidates whose experience in teaching, research, or community service has prepared them to contribute to our commitment to diversity and excellence.

Houston itself is a laboratory for the future. The city reflects what is happening in the United States and around the world in terms of demographic, cultural, political, and economic trends. Moreover, Houston (www.houston.org) boasts a high quality of life with the following attributes: (1) a growing economy, including a vibrant energy sector, robust manufacturing, a bustling port that serves as a hub for international trade, the Johnson Space Center, and the Texas Medical Center—the world's largest medical center, (b) rich traditions in music, theatre, art, and sports, (c) a diverse population, (d) award-winning restaurants reflective of many cultures, and (e) a relatively low cost of living among large cities.

The University of Houston is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Minorities, women, veterans and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Qualifications:

A PhD in the discipline and a scholarly record consistent with the rank is required.

Notes to Applicant: Official transcripts are required for a faculty appointment and will be requested upon selection of final candidate. All positions at the University of Houston are security sensitive and will require a criminal history check. Incomplete applications may not be considered.

Required Attachments by Candidate: Curriculum Vitae, Cover Letter/ Letter of Application, Research Statement, Publications, Evidence of Effective Teaching

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/13/2021

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 9559

Eastern Illinois University

Rank: Instructor, Comparative Politics/Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Illinois University invites applicants for a non-tenure track instructor beginning August 16, 2022. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate and graduate courses primarily in Comparative Politics and Public Policy.

Successful candidates must have a doctorate or Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Administration, Public Affairs, Public Policy, or ABD status with evidence of substantial progress toward degree completion. Candidates must demonstrate commitment to teaching excellence, along with dedication to mentoring, applied learning, diversity, and promoting inclusive excellence.

Teaching responsibilities include undergraduate courses in Introduction to Politics and non-western comparative politics, graduate courses in Public Policy Analysis and Public Administration Ethics, and additional courses depending on fields of expertise. The teaching load is typically 7 classes per year. Online teaching is required for the graduate courses; training is provided by the university. The position also includes student research mentoring.

To apply, please submit a letter of application, CV, unofficial graduate transcripts, and names and contact information for three professional references to Interfolio at this link: <http://apply.interfolio.com/96624>.

Application review begins November 8 and continues until the position is filled.

The Department of Political Science at Eastern Illinois University offers undergraduate majors in Political Science, International Studies, and Civic and Nonprofit Leadership, an M.A. in Political Science, and an online M.A. in Political Science with a Public Administration/Public Policy option. Learn more about the department at www.eiu.edu/polisci. Questions about the search may be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Dr. Karen Swenson (kbswenson@eiu.edu).

The University & Community

Eastern Illinois University takes pride in creating a warm, welcome environment for all faculty, staff, and students. Established in 1895, EIU boasts a rich, 125-year tradition of preparing students for their personal and professional goals. A traditional regional residential institution, EIU offers a superior education at a relatively low cost while consistently earning high rankings and distinctions for its affordability, academic program quality, career placement rates, campus safety, online degree options, student support, and sustainability initiatives.

EIU focuses on individualized attention and superior student relationships, and has earned recognition as the highest-ranking independent public regional university in Illinois and a place among the Midwest's top public regional universities according to U.S. News and World Report. EIU hosts more than 175 student organizations on campus, and offers a variety of cultural events, NCAA Division I athletics, and active research opportunities for its students to enjoy and to thrive. EIU has become recognized for providing the resources of a large institution while creating the kinds of individual relationships that support student and alumni success.

Eastern Illinois University is located in Charleston, Illinois—a comfortable and safe east central town within a two-to three-hour drive of three major metropolitan areas—Chicago, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/12/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9555

Bilkent University

Rank: Open-rank (Assistant/Associate/Full Professor) Position in Public Policy

Bilkent University, Department of Political Science and Public Administration

Applications are invited for a full-time open-rank (Assistant/Associate/Full Professor) position in Public Policy. Applicants are expected to have a PhD in Political Science and/or Public Administration, or a cognate field at the time of appointment. They must demonstrate an active research agenda and a strong record of publications. Applicants are also expected to offer high-quality teaching at undergraduate and postgraduate levels, including MA and/or PhD supervision.

The anticipated starting date is September 2022.

Further information on Bilkent University is available here: <http://w3.bilkent.edu.tr/bilkent/about-bilkent/>

How to apply: Please submit your application by uploading the following items at this address: <https://stars.bilkent.edu.tr/staffapp/POLS2021>

- a) cover letter (inclusive of teaching and research statement)
- b) CV
- c) names and contact details of three referees (or three letters of recommendation, if available)
- d) two sample publications (article/s or introductory chapter of a monograph)

Application deadline: 15 December 2021 (or until filled).

Contact details: pols@bilkent.edu.tr

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 10/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9540

Yale University

Rank: Research Postdoctoral Associate

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

Specializations: Political Behavior, Research Methods, Quantitative Methods

Professors Alan Gerber and Gregory Huber at the Yale Institution for Social and Policy Studies (ISPS) and Center for the Study of American Politics (CSAP) seek a postdoctoral research associate for a one-year, full-time appointment beginning July 1, 2022. Projects will include, but are not limited to, field experiments, studies on political identity formation, and research on the effects of political attitudes on political participation and voter choice. Job responsibilities will be tailored to the strengths of the successful applicant, but will likely include assisting with research projects involving researchers at multiple institutions, data collection and management, and preliminary data analysis.

Technical skills such as computer programming or a math background are highly desirable. Excellent organizational skills, experience using computer databases and statistical software, and coursework in statistical methods are essential. Project management experience is a plus. PhD or equivalent degree at time of hire is required. Salary is negotiable.

Yale is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer. Yale values diversity among its students, staff, and faculty and strongly welcomes applications from women, persons with disabilities, protected veterans, and underrepresented minorities.

Application materials include a cover letter, current C.V., copy of graduate transcripts, 2 letters of recommendation, and one writing sample. Applications should be submitted on Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/96142>.

The review process will begin on February 1, 2022. Please submit your application by that date to receive full consideration, although we will continue to accept applications until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/8/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9538

Duke University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Energy Policy, International Security, Environmental Policy

The Sanford School of Public Policy seeks to hire a tenure-track political scientist with a focus on international policy at the rank of assistant professor. The preferred candidate will have at least two years of experience since receiving their Ph.D. and will have expertise that aligns with one or more of the following areas: energy, environment, health, international development, international security, media and democracy, social policy, or technology. We value applications from faculty with a strong interest in policy engagement.

Candidates should be able to teach courses in their area of specialization and core courses in the Sanford curriculum on topics such as globalization, international governance, policy analysis, and/or statistics.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. and a record of (or demonstrated capacity for) scholarly publication and excellence in teaching.

The Sanford School includes a full-time faculty of almost 70 and offers an undergraduate major, four Masters programs, and a Ph.D. program. Current faculty members have degrees in a variety of disciplines including demography, economics, history, law, medicine, philosophy, political science, psychology/social psychology, public policy, public health/health policy, and sociology. The Sanford School houses several interdisciplinary research centers and offers degree-related programs and opportunities in Washington, China, Scotland, London and Geneva. More information on the Sanford School can be found at <https://www.sanford.duke.edu>.

Candidates should submit a letter of application that describes their research and teaching interests and experiences, CV, writing sample, and names and contact information for three references. These materials should be submitted via the following website: <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/19958>.

Applications submitted by November 12, 2021 will be guaranteed full consideration. For further information, contact Sarah Bermeo, search committee chair, at sarah.bermeo@duke.edu.

Duke University is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer committed to providing employment opportunity without regard to an individual's age, color, disability, genetic information, gender, gender identity, national origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: 11/12/2021
Date Posted: 10/7/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9530

Purdue University

Rank: Tenured Full Professor in Political Communication

Professor of Political Communication

<https://career8.successfactors.com/sfcareer/jobreqcareer?jobId=16375&company=purdueuniv>

Job Summary:

The Brian Lamb School of Communication and the Department of Political Science are jointly searching for a scholar in Political Communication to be appointed at the rank of full professor. The person who fills this position will work, collaboratively, with faculty and students in both units within the College of Liberal Arts. Applicants at the associate level who have a scholarly record that merits appointment at the level of full are eligible to apply.

Principal Duties:

The person holding this position is expected to maintain an active and nationally recognized research program that aligns well with extramural funding sources. The individual who fills this position will play a key role in the Center for C-SPAN Scholarship & Engagement (CCSE) and will help shape the future of the Center. A high level of commitment to PhD student mentoring and a culture of diversity and inclusion is expected. In addition, the person holding this position will create and disseminate relevant knowledge through student instruction.

Qualifications:

The candidate must have a PhD in communication, political science, public policy, or related field with a record of scholarship, extramural funding, student mentorship, and teaching that merits appointment to the rank of full professor. This position requires strong communication skills and the ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research and apply for grant opportunities. Preference will be given to candidates who can offer a collaborative vision for the future direction of the CCSE and contribute expertise to the Advanced Methods at Purdue (AMAP) program through research that utilizes cutting-edge social science research methods.

The College and University:

Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university. Faculty members in the Brian Lamb School of Communication and the Department of Political Science are actively involved with several interdisciplinary programs and centers on campus, including the CCSE, AMAP cluster, Integrated Data Science Initiative, and the many Research Centers at Discovery Park.

The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University is embarking upon 40 faculty searches for positions to begin in Fall 2022. These positions will advance research within and across disciplines, and intersect with technology, data science, and engineering in relevant and important ways. These positions may include teaching in our innovative, nationally-recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program that educates students across the university.

Purdue University, the College of Liberal Arts, the Department of Political Science and the Brian Lamb School of Communication are committed to free and open inquiry in all matters. Candidates are encouraged to address in their cover letter how they are prepared to contribute to a climate that values free inquiry.

Application Procedure:

To apply, please visit careers.purdue.edu requisition number 16375. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Recent research paper or other writing sample, 3) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's research and teaching fit the principal duties of the position, 4) Names of at least four references, and 5) a Diversity and Inclusion statement described below.

Purdue University's Brian Lamb School of Communication and the Department of Political Science are committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Screening of applicants will begin November 1 and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact search committee co-chairs Dr. Jennifer Hoewe (jhoewe@purdue.edu) or Dr. Eric Waltenburg (ewaltenb@purdue.edu).

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9516

Symphony Talent

Rank: Post-Doctoral Associate in Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Specializations: Economic Policy, Social Movements, Research Methods

Post-Doctoral Associate in Political Science

Division of Social Sciences

NYU Abu Dhabi

The Division of Social Science at New York University Abu Dhabi seeks to appoint a Post-Doctoral Researcher in Political Science starting September 2022. Later start dates are also possible. Appointments will be for two academic years, renewable for one additional academic year, conditional on a satisfactory evaluation of performance.

The Social Science Division is keen on increasing diversity among faculty and postdoctoral fellows and especially encourages women and underrepresented minorities to apply.

About NYU Abu Dhabi

NYU Abu Dhabi is a pioneer of higher education in a global world, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research, while advancing cooperation and progress on humanity's shared challenges. Part of the NYU global network, NYU Abu Dhabi offers an outstanding liberal arts and science education to students from the United Arab Emirates, United States, and around the world, focusing on intercultural understanding and leadership. It supports innovative research that pushes the frontiers of knowledge forward and responds in powerful and interdisciplinary ways to vital global and local questions. NYU Abu Dhabi advances NYU as a model university for the 21st century and contributes in multiple ways to the development of a sustainable, knowledge-based economy in Abu Dhabi.

As an international center of excellence in teaching and research, our goal is to attract outstanding faculty who are leaders in their fields, encouraging them to create programs that draw outstanding students, and providing an intellectually rich environment.

About the Social Science Division: More information can be found here:

https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/divisions/social-science/faculty.html?_charset_=UTF-8&program=political-science-major&affiliation=&keywords=
<https://nyuad.nyu.edu/en/academics/undergraduate/majors-and-minors/political-science-major.html>

Working for NYU Abu Dhabi

A world-class institution deserves world-class benefits. At NYUAD, we recognize that Abu Dhabi is more than where you work, it's your home and in order for you to research, teach, and thrive, we're offering a comprehensive benefits package to our top talent. Start with generous relocation allowances to ensure a smooth transition to Abu Dhabi, followed by competitive salaries, housing and transportation allowances, and educational assistance for your dependents. Health and wellness services round out our offerings, plus more. Click here for more information on benefits for you and your dependents.

Qualifications

Applicants have received a Ph.D. in the last three years or be within a few months from completion. We encourage applications from very promising candidates with a capacity to conduct innovative, high-quality scholarly research in political science, with a particular interest for interdisciplinary interactions with the other fields in the Division, in particular in Economics, Sociology and Public Policy.

Successful candidates are expected to develop a well-defined research program and to forge productive collaborations with faculty at NYUAD. The terms of employment are competitive.

Application Instructions

To apply for this position, please submit the following items to: <https://apply.interfolio.com/93481>

- CV
- Statement of Teaching Interests
- Research Sample/Job Market Paper
- Names and contact information for three (3) references. (References will be contacted and asked to submit their confidential letter through the online application system, Interfolio.)

We will begin reviewing applications on October 1st and will continue on a rolling basis. Shortlisted candidates are expected to interview in the Fall. We anticipate that successful candidates can start the appointment and relocate to Abu Dhabi in academic year 2022-2023.

Note: We will continue to consider applicants until all positions are filled.

For questions about this position, please email nyuad.socials-science@nyu.edu.

If this sounds like you, apply now.
Join NYU Abu Dhabi, an exceptional place for exceptional people.

UAE Nationals are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/6/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9515

George Mason University

Rank: Full, Associate, or Advanced Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, International Relations

Full, Associate, or Advanced Assistant Professor

The Schar School of Policy and Government at George Mason University invites applications for three tenure-line hires. Rank and field are open. We encourage applications from talented scholars with diverse backgrounds who are committed to being part of and contributing to a nationally and internationally recognized school of policy and government. We seek candidates with very strong research records — which include publications in top journals — and trajectories for continued high research productivity. We also prefer applicants with an established track record of securing external funding that will support transformative research and doctoral students. The discipline for these hires is open, including but not limited to economics, management, political science, public policy, regional science, and sociology.

The Schar School is known among policy schools for its multidisciplinary breadth in scholarship, and for its successful educational programs at all levels, including a substantial PhD program. The School's distinguished faculty currently includes 62 tenure-line members in a variety of disciplines, all with expertise linked to policy-relevant analysis and practice. The location of our graduate campus in Arlington, Virginia (10 minutes by metro or car from downtown Washington, D.C.) provides faculty with unparalleled access to policymakers, international media, and governmental and nongovernmental organizations.

Applicants must apply at <https://jobs.gmu.edu/postings/51429>, complete and submit the online application, and upload a cover letter and CV. Candidates at the Assistant Professor level should also provide with their application a list of three professional references with contact information; senior candidates will be asked for references if they are short-listed.

The positions will remain open until filled, but for best consideration applications should be completed by November 15, 2021.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9504

United States Air Force Academy

Rank: Visiting Scientist

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Other

Specializations: Defense, International Security, Science & Technology

The Eisenhower Center for Space and Defense Studies within the Department of Political Science supports production and dissemination of knowledge relevant to cadets' National Security learning outcome at the United States Air Force Academy (USAFA). In conjunction with USAFA's Nuclear Enterprise Research Center, Department of Physics, the Eisenhower Center invites applications for a one-year visiting scientist (with potential to extend to two years) to research implications of integrated deterrence, which combines conventional and nuclear strategies across multiple domains, for nuclear posture and infrastructure. The visitor will teach one section of approximately twenty-five cadets per semester and participate with Physics and Political Science research centers on a project exploring "Deterrence and Nuclear Modernization." Financial support of $100K plus a travel budget for the twelve-month term (July 2022-June 2023, one year renewable) will be provided by the Stanton Foundation (Cambridge, MA) through the Air Force Academy Foundation. Expectations for research and teaching will be communicated formally through a separate Volunteer Service Agreement with the Superintendent of the Academy. Ideal candidates will have received their Ph.D. in Political Science or related field and demonstrated technical expertise through a master's degree and/or policy experience in a STEM field related to nuclear war, nuclear terrorism, nuclear proliferation, nuclear weapons, nuclear force posture, or, as it relates to nuclear security, nuclear energy. The United States Air Force Academy values the benefits of diversity among the faculty to include a variety of educational backgrounds and professional and life experiences. USAFA's Department of Political Science homepage can be found at: <https://www.usafa.edu/academic/political-science/>. Applicants should e-mail cover letter expressing their interest, CV, and two-letters of recommendation to Col Kris Bauman (kris.bauman@afacademy.af.edu), Eisenhower Center, Department of Political Science, USAFA. Application deadline: December 15, 2021.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021

Date Posted: 10/5/2021

Salary: $100,000 - $109,999

eJobs ID: 9511

University of Arkansas, Fayetteville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Public Administration and Public Policy

Apply for this position at https://uasys.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UASYS/job/Assistant-Professor-of-Public-Administration-and-Public-Policy_R0006412.

The Department of Political Science in the Fulbright College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Arkansas invites applications for a nine-month tenure-track assistant professor position in public administration and public policy to start in August 2022. This individual will serve as a core faculty member for its Master of Public Administration and Nonprofit Studies (M.P.A.) program.

The successful candidate should be able to teach some core M.P.A. courses (e.g., Human Resource Management, Public Budgeting and Finance, Organizational Behavior, Nonprofit Management, Policy Analysis, and Community Development) as well as related undergraduate courses. The department's teaching load is two courses per semester, a total of four courses per year. The successful candidate should also be able to demonstrate potential to contribute to high quality scholarship in their area of specialization as well as contribute to graduate and undergraduate teaching, advising, and mentoring that support diverse, equitable, and inclusive practices.

Minimum Qualifications:

Applicants must hold or anticipate holding a Ph.D. in political science, public administration, public policy, or a related field by the start of employment.

Application Instructions:

Completed applications received by November 1 will be assured full consideration. Late applications will be reviewed as necessary to fill the position.

Interested applicants must submit a cover letter describing their teaching and research interests, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample preferably from a peer-reviewed publication or a dissertation chapter, a diversity statement, sample syllabi and teaching evaluations (if available). Applicants must also submit the names and contact information of three references who are willing to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

About the Department of Political Science and the University of Arkansas:

The Department of Political Science consists of 20 full-time faculty and offers a B.A. in Political Science, an M.A. in Political Science, and an M.P.A. in Public Administration and Nonprofit Studies. Faculty in the department are also actively involved in an interdisciplinary Public Policy Ph.D. program. The Department of Political Science is committed to strengthening the diversity of its faculty, student body, and curriculum.

Founded in 1871, the University of Arkansas is a land grant institution, classified by the Carnegie Foundation among the nation's top 2 percent of universities with the highest level of research activity. The University of Arkansas works to advance Arkansas and build a better world through education, research and outreach by providing transformational opportunities and skills, promoting an inclusive and diverse culture and climate, and nurturing creativity, discovery and the spread of new ideas and innovations.

The University of Arkansas campus is located in Fayetteville, a welcoming community ranked as one of the best places to live in the U.S. The growing region surrounding Fayetteville is home to numerous Fortune 500 companies and one of the nation's strongest economies. Northwest Arkansas is also quickly gaining a national reputation for its focus on the arts and overall quality of life.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/1/2021

Date Posted: 10/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9501

James Madison University

Rank: Tenure-Track Assistant Professor - Public Policy & Administration

The Political Science Department at James Madison University welcomes applicants for a tenure-track position specializing in Public Policy & Administration at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. The successful applicant will teach courses in our undergraduate Public Policy & Administration and NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration programs. Both programs emphasize community engagement in their pedagogy and a collaborative approach to program governance and operations. This faculty member will form part of the Master of Public Administration Governance Committee. Applicants must be able to teach courses on public budgeting and the budgetary process. Other specializations are open and will reflect a candidate's expertise and teaching interests, as well as department needs, including introductory-level courses in public policy or public administration.

The department seeks candidates with strong research and teaching skills and a commitment to shared program governance and an inclusive classroom and work environment. Scholars from historically excluded groups are especially encouraged to apply.

The successful applicant will teach courses in our undergraduate Public Policy & Administration and NASPAA-accredited Master of Public Administration programs and other courses related to the candidate's experience. Applicants must be able to teach courses on public budgeting and the budgetary process.

A doctoral degree in Public Policy & Administration or closely related field is required by the start date for appointment as Assistant Professor; ABD candidates are encouraged to apply. Applicants must demonstrate an ability to teach the required courses.

The department seeks candidates with strong research and teaching skills and a commitment to shared program governance and an inclusive classroom and work environment.

Per the Governor's Executive Directive #18, new JMU employees upon hire must disclose to the University Health Center their COVID-19 vaccination status. Unvaccinated employees are required to be tested weekly.

Employment is contingent upon the successful completion of a criminal background check.

E-Verify Notice: After accepting employment, new hires are required to complete an I-9 form and present documentation of their identity and eligibility to work in the United States. James Madison University uses the E-Verify system to confirm identity and work authorization.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/29/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9458

Harvard University

Rank: PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

2022-23 PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship

Established in 1996, under the direction of Paul E. Peterson (Henry Lee Shattuck Professor of Government), the Program on Education

Policy and Governance has rapidly distinguished itself as a significant player within the educational reform movement.

PEPG's fellowship program was initiated to attract top postdoctoral researchers to quantitative-based investigations of issues in education reform at Harvard. The program has been a resounding success since its inception in 2002. These fellows have collaborated on some of PEPG's most important research papers and in organizing program conferences. Past fellows currently hold tenured and tenure-track positions at major colleges, universities and research centers in the United States and abroad.

The deadline to apply for the 2022-23 PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship is December 17, 2021.

PEPG is offering a one-year resident research fellowship at the postdoctoral level starting in the summer of 2022. The fellow will work at Harvard University and engage in independent projects that are related to the program's focus. Additionally, s/he will be expected to collaborate with PEPG's ongoing research and programs. This may include conference planning and administration, as well as working on PEPG publications. Applicants who have not yet received their Doctoral degree may apply. However, they must receive it by September 1, 2022, in order to participate. Fellows must begin their residency no later than the week of August 29, 2022.

Candidates must have received PhD (or equivalent degree) within five years of the applied-for academic year.

The stipend for the postdoctoral fellowship is $75,000. It provides modest health insurance coverage but no housing. However, assistance in obtaining affordable housing will be provided.

Applicants should submit the following materials:

- Letter of intent with current contact information including email address.
- Current curriculum vitae (please include any past awards, scholarships and publications).
- A 2,000-word proposal describing one or more research projects that will be conducted and completed while at PEPG. The proposal should include relevant background information, discrete objectives, importance and feasibility, as well as the methodology that will be used.
- Two samples of writing, if not published, then of publishable quality. These should be pertinent to the proposed research.
- The names of and letters of recommendation from three or four people qualified and willing to evaluate the applicant's project and scholarly qualifications. Recommenders should mail their letters directly to PEPG, or they can be emailed to the address below.

Applicants should email their materials to pepg_administrator@hks.harvard.edu (in PDF format). Incomplete applications may not be reviewed/considered.

All materials should be addressed to:

PEPG Postdoctoral Fellowship Program
C/O Antonio Wendland
Harvard Kennedy School
79 JFK Street, Taubman 304
Cambridge, MA 02138

For further information, please email: pepg_administrator@hks.harvard.edu.

Link to job description: <https://www.hks.harvard.edu/centers/taubman/programs-research/pepg/fellowships#postdoctoral-fellowship>

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: 12/17/2021

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9449

Augustana University

Rank: Nef Family Chair of Political Economy

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic Policy

The Nef Family Chair of Political Economy
Augustana University

Augustana University (Sioux Falls, SD) invites applications for an endowed chair in political economy. The Rudy & Marilyn Nef Family Chair of Political Economy will advance the study of market economies and representative democracies, both within the campus community and in the region. This tenure-track faculty position will be housed in the Government and International Affairs Department, but will draw on a breadth of research and extensive teaching experience to provide recognized scholarship and enthusiastic, effective instruction to the University's offerings in economics, political science, public policy, and business. The Nef Family Chair will also provide collaborative and creative leadership in partnership with the Center for Interdisciplinary Studies.

We seek an outstanding teacher/scholar who reflects the foundational relevance of economic analysis in the design and administration of public policies, and who speaks authoritatively to the positive role of free markets, localized decision making and competition in a free society. The unique nature of this endowed chair position grants wide latitude to the instructor in terms of the courses offered, save a required course on capitalistic economic systems. Candidates capable of teaching upper-level Comparative Politics, Comparative/International Political Economy, Policy Analysis or Microeconomics are strongly encouraged to apply.

Additional responsibilities will include student advising, student research mentorship, and planning and facilitating public symposia relevant to the scholar's teaching and research. Interacting with students, faculty and leadership with different backgrounds and points of view and a deep appreciation of and respect for academic values and culture must be a top value of the candidate. A doctorate is required. Compensation, rank and length of tenure track will be commensurate with experience. The starting date for this 12-month appointment is August, 2022. Screening will begin November 7th and continue until the position is filled. Finalists will be expected to present an engaging topic as part of the interview process.

Located in the growing and vibrant city of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Augustana University has, for more than 160 years, provided a strong student-centric education based on its five core values: Christian faith, liberal arts, excellence, community, and service. The institution continues to expand its pre-professional and graduate offerings, while remaining true to its liberal arts tradition. Guided by the Viking Bold: Journey to 2030 strategic plan, Augustana seeks to grow its enrollment from just over 1,900 students to more than 3,000 undergraduate and graduate students.

Application Procedure:

Please send a letter of interest; curriculum vitae; Augustana University employment application; statement of commitment to diversity; statement of teaching philosophy; addresses, phone numbers and email addresses of three current references; and unofficial transcripts electronically to Human Resources at humanresources@augie.edu. Official website: www.augie.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/27/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9443

Oakland University

Rank: Associate Professor of Political Science - Public Administration and MPA Director

Subfield(s): Public Administration, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Oakland University invites applications for an Associate Professor of Political Science-Public Administration, to begin August 15, 2022. The successful candidate will also be appointed to an initial 3-year term as MPA Director. This position is eligible for renewal during the 3rd year of each 3-year appointment.

We seek a scholar in public and/or nonprofit administration, able to teach broadly across the discipline at the graduate and undergraduate levels. Human Resource Management and Program Evaluation are immediate instructional needs in our NASPAA-accredited program.

The MPA Director supervises a full-time program coordinator and two graduate assistants, and responsibilities include overseeing curriculum development, student recruitment, and managing part-time faculty in the MPA program. The MPA Director position carries with it a two-course administrative release and stipend each regular academic year (and thus an annual teaching load of three courses in a normal academic year). Candidates must demonstrate experience with or a commitment to diversity and inclusion.

Minimum Qualifications:

A PhD with a specialization in Public Administration or related field, with the ability to teach at least two MPA core courses. A record of scholarly achievement commensurate with rank of appointment according to department and Oakland University standards.

School/College/Dept Summary:

Our MPA (established 1979) is the second-oldest NASPAA-accredited program in Michigan, with concentrations in Health Care, Local Government, Criminal Justice, Nonprofit Management, and Court Administration. The MPA program has recently launched a nonprofit management certificate program and strives to be a metropolitan, community-engaged hub for public service education & training.

Oakland University is a nationally recognized doctoral university of high research activity located on 1,443 acres of scenic land in the cities of Rochester Hills and Auburn Hills in Oakland County, Michigan. The University has 142 bachelor's degree programs and 138 graduate degree and certificate programs. Academics include programs in the College of Arts and Sciences, School of Business Administration, School of Education and Human Services, School of Engineering and Computer Science, School of Health Sciences, School of Medicine and School of Nursing. As an anchor institution in southeastern Michigan, Oakland University is committed to building ongoing and collaborative relationships with the surrounding communities. Community and civic engagement enhances the lives of our students and has a positive impact on our broader community.

Special Instructions:

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a curriculum vitae, a writing sample, unofficial transcripts, and contact information for at least three references to <https://jobs.oakland.edu/posting/22506>.

Candidates will also provide a Diversity Statement that describes their interest or efforts in furthering diversity and inclusion, consistent with the MPA program Diversity Philosophy: "The OU MPA Program is committed to creating a welcoming environment for all students, faculty, and staff. We will work to inculcate an awareness of the value of diversity and to impart the ability to interact respectfully and productively with all stakeholders in a variety of organizational settings, regardless of race, ethnicity, sex, class, nationality, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, age, and/or veteran status." Once all required application materials have been uploaded through the online system, references will be contacted with a link through which they can submit letters of recommendation. Review of materials will begin on November 19 and will continue until the position is filled.

Please address questions to Dr. Douglas Carr, Search Chair, via email: carr@oakland.edu.

Link: <https://jobs.oakland.edu/postings/22595>

OU COVID-19 VACCINATION POLICY

COVID-19 vaccinations are now required for all Oakland University students, faculty and staff.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9395

University of Oklahoma

Rank: Assistant Professor

Description

The University of Oklahoma invites applications for a tenure-track position in public policy at the assistant professor level beginning in August 2022. We seek candidates who focus on sub-national policy, broadly defined. We are open to candidates studying any sub-national unit of government, including tribal nations, state governments, school districts, or city or county governments, among other sub-national governing entities. We are also open in terms of theoretical orientations and empirical approaches, although we consider an ideal candidate able to contribute to our graduate methods offerings. We encourage applicants from all substantive policy areas, but preference will be given to candidates with expertise in social policy, broadly defined (e.g., healthcare, education, housing, food security, welfare, family policy, disability, among others). We prefer candidates with a research agenda demonstrating the potential for external funding. The selected candidate will teach core public policy courses in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program and contribute to the department's course offerings in public policy and research methods at the undergraduate and PhD levels.

This position is within the Department of Political Science, a large department with two undergraduate majors (Political Science and Public & Nonprofit Administration), multiple minors, two master's degree programs (Public Administration & Political Science), and a doctoral program. The department is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Oklahoma. The University of Oklahoma is the flagship research institution for the state of Oklahoma, enrolling over 30,000 students, located in Norman, OK, a vibrant college town just 20 miles south of Oklahoma City.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or a related field at the time the position begins in August 2022, be able to teach core public policy courses in the MPA curriculum and have the potential to contribute to the department's course offerings in public policy and research methods at the undergraduate and PhD levels. Preference will be given to applicants with substantive focus in social policy, broadly defined, and whose research agenda shows potential for external funding and for publication in high-quality, peer-reviewed outlets. The teaching load for this position is two courses per semester.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit a curriculum vitae, cover letter, research and teaching statements, unofficial graduate transcript(s) (official transcript will be required for finalists), writing sample, and contact information for three references. Three letters of recommendation will be required for candidates who progress past the first screening. Review of applications will continue until the position is filled. Any questions can be emailed to the search committee chair, Dr. Deven Carlson decarlson@ou.edu. Applicants must apply online at <http://apply.interfolio.com/93547>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/21/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9388

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Faculty Program Coordinator/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer - Data Analytics and Policy

Subfield(s): Methodology, Public Policy, Administration

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Location:

Washington, DC, 20036

Institution Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of the most prestigious research universities, Johns Hopkins offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students in the mid-Atlantic region and online. In

In addition to the online programs, AAP also offers master's degrees and graduate certificate programs at its Washington, DC Center and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP has approximately 18,000 enrollments each academic year. JHU is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Position Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) division seeks a Faculty Program Coordinator to teach in and provide administrative support to the Data Analytics and Policy program. The Master of Science in Data Analytics and Policy and Certificate in Data Analytics and Policy prepare students to be data-driven leaders and decision makers. Of particular interest are candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds.

The Faculty Program Coordinator is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer. The Faculty Program Coordinator will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, Director of the Data Analytics and Policy Program, and the Program Coordinator for the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies. The position will report to the Associate Dean for AAP and the Program Director for Data Analytics and Policy. This position is expected to begin January 2022. The Program Coordinator will have the following faculty and administrative responsibilities:

Faculty Responsibilities

- Teaching 6 graduate courses per year, including the preparation for and time spent in the classroom (online or onsite), using best practices for online teaching, engaging and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, responding to student questions;
- Advising students;
- Providing input on the curriculum and new course developments to ensure the delivery of quality programs;
- Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees and in other academic service.

Administrative Responsibilities:

- Assist with management of the MS in Data Analytics and Policy and Certificate in Data Analytics and Policy programs;
- Participate in adjunct faculty hiring and development;
- Assist the Program Director with administrative work to support the programs;
- Other administrative duties as assigned.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- Master's degree in Political Science, Public Policy, Statistics, Data Science, Public Finance;
- 1-3 years of teaching experience at the graduate and/or undergraduate level;
- 1-3 years of work experience, including but not limited to outside consulting or collaborative work within the fields of public policy, public finance, program evaluation, risk analysis and/or data science; The ability to teach a variety of courses in areas of applied statistics, data visualization, programming and public policy.
- Experience using and teaching the R programming language.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Terminal Degree in Political Science, Public Policy, Statistics, Data Science, Public Finance;
- 4 or more years of teaching experience at the graduate level, including online teaching experience;
- 4 or more years of work experience in a relevant field including but not limited to outside consulting or collaborative work within the fields of public policy, program evaluation, risk analysis and/or data science;
- Strong organizational skills;
- Ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines;
- Excellent oral and written communication skills;
- Experience performing administrative work in an academic setting;
- Experience with or interest in learning Tableau and Python;
- Interest in revising and/or developing courses in one or more advanced areas of analytics, such as text analysis, machine learning and predictive analytics.

Application Instructions:

The position will remain open until filled.

Candidates must submit the following:

- Cover letter
- Curriculum vitae
- 3 references and their contact information
- Teaching evaluations for the most recent two semesters.

Candidates can apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/94475>

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9380

McGill University

Rank: Full-time tenured position at the rank of Associate Professor or Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Tenure-Track Faculty Position

Full or Associate Professor, Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies

Max Bell School of Public Policy and Department of Political Science
McGill University

The Max Bell School of Public Policy and the Department of Political Science at McGill University invite applications for the newly created Diamond-Brown Chair in Democratic Studies. The Chairholder will be jointly appointed, teaching in both units and strengthening the ties between them.

We seek an internationally renowned scholar who conducts leading-edge empirical research on contemporary democratic governance and politics. The search is open with respect to regional specialization and methodology. We invite applications from scholars of political behaviour and/or political institutions, from scholars of ongoing politics in consolidated democracies, and from scholars of democratization or democratic fragility in different regions of the world.

This position will provide a highly visible forum for a scholar studying recent worldwide challenges to democratic institutions and movements, and allow the Chairholder to enhance the policy orientation of fundamental research and to improve the public's engagement with these issues. The Chairholder should have considerable experience participating in policy processes broadly understood, through a combination of public service, work with policy-oriented organizations, and advising policymakers. Demonstrated expertise in enhancing the public impact of policy-related research is an important asset. The Chairholder will be encouraged to build connections with McGill's various research centres which focus on democracy, including (but not limited to) the Centre for the Study of Democratic Citizenship.

An applicant's record must provide evidence of outstanding research, active engagement in the policy process, and success in teaching and graduate-student supervision. Appointment is expected to be at the rank of Full or Associate Professor with tenure. Candidates should have completed a PhD in political science or a closely-related discipline. The language of instruction at McGill is English, but proficiency in spoken and written French is an advantage.

Applications should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, material pertinent to teaching skills, and the names and contact information of three referees. The position start date is August 1, 2022.

Review of applications will begin on December 15, 2021, and continue until the position is filled. Please apply online at: https://mcgill.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/McGill_Careers/job/Sherbrooke-680/Associate-Professor-or-Professor_JR0000003606 https://mcgill.wd3-myworkdayjobs.com/McGill_Careers/job/Sherbrooke-680/Associate-Professor-or-Professor_JR0000003606

The Max Bell School of Public Policy (which began in 2017) is committed to the research, teaching, outreach, and advocacy of sound public policy. The Department of Political Science engages in world-class research and teaching across diverse theoretical, thematic, and methodological approaches to the study of politics. For more information about the Max Bell School and the Department of Political Science, please visit our websites at: <https://www.mcgill.ca/maxbellschool/> and <https://www.mcgill.ca/politicalscience/>

Inquiries may be sent to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Christopher Ragan, at <mailto:Christopher.ragan@mcgill.ca>

Please use a personal email address when creating an account in Workday to submit your application. Do not use @mail.mcgill.ca or @mcgill.ca email accounts to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9360

Nanyang Technological University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor, International Political Economy (Tenure-Track/Tenured)

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies (RSIS), a Graduate School of Nanyang Technological University (NTU), is a leading professional school of international affairs and policy-oriented think tank. The School invites suitably qualified individuals for the position of:

Assistant or Associate Professor, International Political Economy (Tenure-Track/Tenured)

The search is open with respect to the substantive subfields of International Political Economy. A relevant PhD and a good publication record commensurate with the level of appointment are essential requirements. Experience in policy-relevant research and publication is not necessary but would be useful. Candidates are expected to demonstrate an active research and publication agenda and strong promise for teaching in graduate programs.

The successful candidate will join the school's Centre for Multilateralism Studies and International Political Economy Programme. He/she is expected to contribute to and play an active role in teaching, research, and think-tank workstream. The teaching load is up to three courses per academic year.

The initial appointment will be for four (4) years, with further contracts to be considered by the relevant School Reappointment Committee. RSIS offers a competitive salary commensurate with the candidate's qualifications and experience. Funding support for research and conference travels is also available.

To apply for this position, candidates are required to submit their application via Nanyang Technological University's online career portal (https://ntu.wd3.myworkdayjobs.com/Careers/job/NTU-Main-Campus-Singapore/Assistant-or-Associate-Professor--International-Political-Economy--Tenure-Track-TenuredRSIS-_R00007562).

All applicants should submit the following:

- A cover letter specifying how your qualifications match the job description;
- A detailed curriculum vitae (including records of competitive grants, fellowships, and graduate supervision, if applicable);
- Statements of research and teaching interests and teaching evaluation;
- Three (3) published articles or writing samples;
- Google Scholar citation report if available;
- Applicants applying for the Assistant Professor position, please include the name and details of THREE referees of the rank of Associate Professor/Professor; and applicants applying for the Associate Professor position, please include the name and details of FOUR referees of the rank of Professor.

If you have any questions about this position, please write in (or email) to:

The Search Committee
S. Rajaratnam School of International Studies
Nanyang Technological University
50 Nanyang Avenue
Block S4, Level B4,
Singapore 639798
Email: rsisrecruitment@ntu.edu.sg

Applications will be accepted until 15 December 2021

We regret that only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

For further information about RSIS, please visit our website: www.rsis.edu.sg.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 12/15/2021
Date Posted: 9/16/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9354

Purdue University

Rank: Full Professor, Environmental Politics and Policy

Department of Political Science: Full Professor of Environmental Politics and Policy

Principal Duties: Purdue University's Department of Political Science is seeking an environmental politics and policy scholar for an academic year appointment at the full professor level. Advanced associate professors with records commensurate with the rank of full professor are eligible to apply.

The successful candidate will develop and/or lead a nationally recognized research program in environmental policy. The person holding this position is expected to maintain an active research agenda that aligns well with extramural funding sources. In addition, the person holding this position will create and disseminate relevant knowledge through student instruction, and through engagement with external audiences. A high level of commitment to PhD student mentoring and a culture of diversity and inclusion is expected.

Qualifications: The candidate must have a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field. This position requires strong communication skills, a proven ability to publish high-quality peer-reviewed research, and a record suitable for appointment as a full professor at Purdue (though the applicant need not already hold the rank of Full Professor at their present institution). Preference will be given to candidates who can contribute expertise to the Advanced Methods at Purdue program through research that utilizes cutting-edge social science research methods.

The College and University:

This position is one of seven hires this year in the Department of Political Science. The College of Liberal Arts at Purdue University is embarking upon 40 faculty searches for positions to begin in Fall 2022. These positions will advance research within and across disciplines, and intersect with technology, data science, and engineering in relevant and important ways. These positions include teaching in our innovative, nationally-recognized Cornerstone Integrated Liberal Arts Program that educates students across the university.

Purdue is a research-intensive, PhD-granting institution and a public land-grant university. Political Science faculty members are actively involved with many interdisciplinary programs and centers on campus, including the Ecological Sciences and Engineering program, Purdue Climate Change Research Center, the Building Sustainable Communities initiative, the Center for the Environment, the Center for Research on Diversity and Inclusion, the Human Rights Program, the Purdue Systems Collaboratory, and the Purdue Policy Research Institute. In addition to the major and the PhD, the Department is home to graduate and undergraduate certificates and minors in environmental politics and policy, public policy, and human rights.

Application Procedure: To apply, please visit careers.purdue.edu. Applications must be submitted online and include: 1) Curriculum Vitae, 2) Recent research paper or other writing sample, 3) Cover letter of interest that includes a statement describing how the applicant's research and teaching fit the principal duties of the position, 4) contact information for three references, and 5) a Diversity and Inclusion statement described below.

Purdue University's Department of Political Science is committed to advancing diversity in all areas of faculty effort, including scholarship, instruction, and engagement. Candidates should address at least one of these areas in a separate Diversity and Inclusion Statement, indicating their past experiences, current interests or activities, and/or future goals to promote a climate that values diversity and inclusion.

Screening of applicants will begin October 1 and continue until the position is filled. A background check is required for employment in this position. For additional information, contact Dr. Tara Grillos, tgrillos@purdue.edu.

Purdue University is an EOE/AA employer. All individuals, including minorities, women, individuals with disabilities, and veterans are encouraged to apply.

Department website: <https://www.cla.purdue.edu/academic/polsci/index.html>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/15/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9342

Harvard University

Rank: Director of Content & Strategy, The Justice Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Public Administration

The Justice Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative at Harvard University's Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics (EJSCE) seeks a Director of Content & Strategy.

This is a new, grant-funded position that will be situated within the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics. At present, the Center has two major strategic initiatives, and the new JHD Director of Content & Strategy will oversee one of these—the Justice, Health, and Democracy Initiative. A collaboration with New America and Brown School of Public Health, the JHD Initiative develops principled, accessible policy guidance, designed for practitioner use, particularly focused on the intersecting problems of public trust, health equity, justice, democratic participation, and political economy, in the U.S. and around the globe. Through the Justice, Health and Democracy (JHD) Impact Initiative, EJSCE experts, in collaboration with colleagues at New America and Brown, work directly with local leaders and practitioners in a range of professional contexts to clarify overarching policy needs and objectives anchored in ethical principles, and to develop practical approaches to a new social contract that improves people's lives. The model is multidisciplinary and responsive to the on-the-ground issues that practitioners face. It connects expertise to the needs of practice with "orient-do-learn-do" cycles of research, policy implementation and locally-driven innovation. The model is building an innovative approach to translational work (i.e. making academic expertise accessible to practitioners in real time) for the social sciences and humanities.

The JHD Initiative encompasses multiple project workstreams on themes ranging from genetic science and health equity to Covid recovery and technology and democracy. Each workstream is headed by a faculty member, post-doctoral fellow, or graduate student, often with the support of graduate and/or undergraduate research assistants and staff. The translational process involves agenda setting, stakeholder mapping and engagement, development of clear deliverable objectives, project management, dissemination, and implementation hand-offs. In addition, the JHD Initiative partners with on-campus initiatives to support webinars and programs building on the JHD research and translational work. The Principal Investigator for the JHD is Nien-hê Hsieh, Acting Director for the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics.

The JHD Director of Content & Strategy will engage in direction-setting and substantive work related to the project workstreams while also assuming overall project management and coordination from the PI. This will involve hiring key staff in the areas of project management and research, as well as coordinating closely with EJSCE leadership on hires for communications. In addition, the role involves establishing operational processes, tracking and managing workflow for the existing team as the professional team gets fully built out, and creating and managing budgets. The JHD Director of Content & Strategy will work in close collaboration with Professor Hsieh on all of the above. This position will also join the leadership team at the EJSCE and will work with the Executive Director to ensure alignment of the JHD initiative with the overall mission of the Center. As a leadership team member, the JHD Director of Content & Strategy will be responsible for internal communications with EJSCE staff related to the JHD initiative and for partnering with other leadership team members to ensure smooth operations across all domains of EJSCE work.

This term position will be renewed annually, based on business need and funding availability. The position is currently grant-funded for three years, with a strong likelihood of extension.

Job-Specific Responsibilities

Responsibilities will include:

Serve as subject matter expert on topics relating to initiative; serve as a delegate for the PI and other project leads in high-level meetings; serve on Center's Leadership Team to ensure alignment of goals with Center's priorities and mission. In consultation with the PI and partner project leads, identify goals and priorities; drive the strategic planning and implementation processes forward.

Collaborate with faculty director and peer directors at partner institutions for specific project selection and research design; oversee programmatic work and execution of projects of the three research tracks (Justice, Health & Democracy), aligning with research track leads on content and ensuring deadlines are met and deliverables reached. Develop and implement staffing plan and provide oversight of human resource functions, including recruiting, hiring, and managing staff; explore and secure strategic partnerships; serve as liaison to Faculty Committee and other contributors to promote engagement with projects.

Provide fiscal management including oversight of budget planning, and securing additional funding from philanthropic, government, and other sources.

Manage sponsored research activities, including grant applications and reporting, in consultation with the Center's Grants Manager.

Develop organizational structure for the work and track workflows, providing project coordination and oversight until all key personnel are in place; manage transitions.

Interview and make hiring decisions for JHD administrative staff, in collaboration with Center staff and JHD team members; serve as supervisor for JHD admin staff (1 non-exempt FTE Project Manager position) and temp workers, as needed; assign and review work, conduct annual performance reviews and take corrective action, up to and through termination, as needed; provide administrative oversight for up to 6 JHD Graduate and 4 Undergraduate student researchers. Provide oversight and execution of administrative functions, including infrastructure development, compliance with Harvard and FAS policies and procedures, and space identification.

Basic Qualifications

Master's degree; Minimum 5 years of progressively responsible administrative management experience in research, academic, or relevant setting, and including at least 2 years of direct professional staff supervision.

Additional Qualifications and Skills

PhD, MBA, or other terminal professional degree preferred in social sciences, humanities, natural sciences, public health, communications, or other relevant fields. Work experience generating subject area expertise also of interest as alternative to a degree. Familiarity with Harvard is desirable. Demonstrated success leading collaborative projects and achieving exceptional operational results.

Working Conditions

*Harvard will require COVID vaccination for all Harvard community members who will have any on-campus presence. Individuals may claim exemption from the vaccine requirement for medical or religious reasons. More information regarding the University's COVID vaccination requirement and exceptions may be found at the University's "COVID-19 Vaccine Information" webpage: <http://www.harvard.edu/coronavirus/covid-19-vaccine-information/>.

Additional Information

If you believe that you qualify for at least 70% of this job description, we encourage you to apply. We know that imposter syndrome and the confidence gap can prevent strong candidates from applying to a job unless they see themselves as a 100% fit. We would love to hear from you.

This term position will be renewed annually, based on business need and funding availability. The position is currently grant-funded for three years, with a strong likelihood of extension.

All formal offers will be made by FAS HR.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9331

Harvard University

Rank: Fellow-in-Residence

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

The Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics at Harvard University invites applications from a broad range of researchers and practitioners who will work over the course of the year on pressing issues in ethics. Faculty in arts and sciences and professional schools, postdoctoral scholars, practitioners, and researchers from industry, government, and NGOs are eligible to apply.

For the 2022-23 academic year, the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics will continue its focus on the theme of "A New Social Compact?" Variations in national responses to the pandemic; disparate experiments with technology, economic, and health policies; and conflicts over foundational political institutions have thrown into stark relief different conceptions of the social compact (a phrase we use loosely to refer to shared understandings of what members of societies believe they owe to each other) around the world. Myriad challenges - including challenges relating to education, climate and the natural environment, migration, new technologies, public health, elections, racial justice, and economic well-being - call us to revisit and evaluate existing conceptions of the social compact at both national and global levels. We ask, is it time for a new social compact?

We invite applications connected to any dimension of this broad field of inquiry. We see the nature of the questions raised and the challenges to be addressed as so multifaceted as to make this theme not very restrictive; however, in our usual fashion, we will also consider applications that fall outside the parameters of this thematic description. All eligible applicants are encouraged to apply. Priority will be given to early career scholars and practitioners.

Fellows-in-Residence will be expected to devote the majority of their time to their individual projects and to participate in regular work-in-progress seminars. In addition, Fellows are strongly encouraged to participate in the Center's programming, which includes public lectures, themed seminars and reading groups, conferences, workshops, and lunch discussions.

This Fellowship is intended to be residential. With the exception of travel to conferences and meetings, Fellows are expected to be in residence in the Boston area at least four working days per week during the term. The coronavirus pandemic resulted in a waiver of this requirement for the 2020-21 academic year. 2021-22 will be a transitional year, and our hope is to resume in-person, fully residential programming for the 2022-23 academic year.

In addition, the Center offers the possibility of joint fellowship opportunities with the following centers; potential affiliations are arranged on a case-by-case basis:

Berkman Klein Center for Internet and Society at Harvard University
Carr Center for Human Rights at the Harvard Kennedy School
Center for Bioethics at the Harvard Medical School
Center for Research on Computation and Society at the Harvard John A. Paulson School of Engineering and Applied Sciences
Hutchins Center for African & African American Research at Harvard University
Petrie-Flom Center for Health Law Policy, Biotechnology and Bioethics at the Harvard Law School

Applicants will be invited to indicate on the application form whether they wish to be considered for a joint fellowship position with one of these Centers. If selected, the joint fellowship will offer access to development opportunities and programming at the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics and the partnering center.

ELIGIBILITY

Applicants must have a PhD, professional degree, or a minimum of 5 years of equivalent professional experience. Applicants from any discipline or professional field will be considered. Those who have previously held a yearlong residential Fellowship at the Center are not eligible; this limitation does not apply to former Undergraduate Fellows or former Graduate Fellows. The Fellows-in-Residence Program runs the course of the academic year, typically from the beginning of September through the end of May, and is open to all applicants who meet the above criteria, regardless of citizenship.

STIPEND

Faculty:

We offer a stipend of one-half of your base academic year salary, up to $75,000, and a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Post-Doc:

The stipend for post-doctoral fellows will be $60,000 for 2022-23. We also provide a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

Practitioner:

Practitioner stipends are determined on a case-by-case basis, commensurate with experience, up to a maximum of $75,000, and a research allowance of up to $3,000 for approved expenses directly related to your work, such as travel, books, and research assistance.

APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS

To apply, complete an online application form which includes submission of the following in .pdf, .doc, or .docx form:

Cover letter stating your background and interest in the Fellows-in-Residence Program at the Edmond J. Safra Center for Ethics
CV

Research proposal

Recent writing sample

Please note: Name and contact information for three professional references will be requested, but no letters will be accepted at this stage.

The deadline to submit an application is November 15, 2021, with decisions likely in February 2022. Please note that the application form will be saved automatically while in progress, but no edits or alterations will be allowed once you have submitted the application. Please direct questions regarding this application process to EJSafraFellowships@fas.harvard.edu.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 11/15/2021

Date Posted: 9/14/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9330

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Positions in Political Economy

Subfield(s): Political Theory, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Graduate School of Business invites applications for tenure-track positions at all ranks beginning September 1, 2022. The positions are for scholars of exceptional caliber who will strengthen the political economy group's research and teaching and make a distinctive programmatic contribution to the Graduate School of Business. The political economy group at the GSB is a collaboration of economists and political scientists. We welcome applications from across political economy broadly construed, both theoretical and empirical, and focusing on developed as well as developing countries. Outstanding research and teaching skills are essential. Applicants at all ranks will be considered and must have a PhD or expect to complete one before September 1, 2022.

Applicants should submit their applications electronically by visiting the web site <http://www.gsb.stanford.edu/recruiting> and uploading their curriculum vitae, research papers and publications, and teaching evaluations, if applicable, on that site. For an application to be considered complete, all applicants must submit a CV, and a job market paper. Applicants for non-tenured positions should arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted by November 30, 2021. Please note that we will be reviewing and considering applications as they come in. For questions regarding the application process, please send an email to Faculty_Recruiter@gsb.stanford.edu.

Stanford is an equal employment opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law. Stanford welcomes applications from all who would bring additional dimensions to the University's research, teaching and clinical missions.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 11/30/2021

Date Posted: 9/7/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9296

University of Massachusetts, Dartmouth

Rank: Full Time Lecturer

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

The University of Massachusetts Dartmouth seeks a full-time lecturer with a strong record in undergraduate teaching and expertise at the intersection of public health, public policy, non-profit/public administration, and health disparities (gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, class, or other areas). Cross-listed courses will support interdisciplinary undergraduate programs in Women and Gender Studies, Health and Society, and Political Science. Initial appointment is for a 2-year contract, with strong possibility for ongoing contract renewal upon successful performance review of teaching, advising, and service.

Applicants must be authorized for employment in the U.S. on a full time basis. Employment-based visa sponsorship not available.

Starting date is September 1, 2022. The teaching load is 4 preparations per semester for courses across all levels of the curriculum. On-line teaching experience preferred.

Requirements: PhD in Political Science, or in a related social science field. The successful applicant will have a focus on the intersections between public health, public health related policy, non-profit/public administration, and health disparities (gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation/identity, class) and have demonstrated significant experience in undergraduate teaching. Ph.D. required by start date of Sept. 1, 2022; preferred that applicants have Ph.D. in hand by date of application.

To apply: Please send a letter of interest detailing teaching interests and qualifications, a curriculum vitae with contact information for three references, sample course syllabi, and course evaluations (if possible, evaluations should be pre-COVID). Please submit application materials via this link: <http://careers.umassd.edu/dartmouth/en-us/job/507850/fulltime-lecturer-in-public-healthpublic-policy-gender-health>

Completion of the search is contingent upon the availability of funding.

Formal review of applications begins October 1, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/2/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9270

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate in Regional Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Africa, Latin American

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs invite applications for a postdoctoral or more senior research associate position from individuals with a Ph.D. degree or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 for the Postdoctoral Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows' program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21442>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. or expect to receive a Ph.D. degree by September 1, 2022 in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);

- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9104

Princeton University, School of Public & International Affairs

Rank: Visiting Fellowship Program in Regional Political Economy

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

Specializations: Middle East, Latin American, Africa

The Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance (NCGG) at Princeton University's School of Public and International Affairs seeks two visitors or more candidates for the Visiting Fellowship Program in regional political economy for the 2022-2023 academic year. This fellows' program is targeted at developing a generation of scholars able to analyze and make policy recommendations about the regional political economy in the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America. The Center invites candidates with a background in economics, political science, contemporary history, sociology, law, business, and other disciplines bearing on the study of markets, politics, and economic development, focusing on the regions of the Middle East, East, South, or Southeast Asia, Africa and Latin America to apply. Scholarly work should explore the ways in which the politics within and between a set of countries intersect with natural resource endowments, market conditions, technological and physical infrastructure, and cultural biases to explain existing patterns of economic development and to promote higher levels of development more effectively. Selected candidates will be required to be in residence in Princeton or the local vicinity, or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation for the duration of the fellowship (September 1, 2022 - July 1, 2023).

Application Deadline – Applicants should apply by Monday, December 6, 2021 (11:59pm EST), for full consideration, however; posting will remain open until filled.

Application Process – All candidates must use the online application process to submit materials at: <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/21444>

Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. in one of the above-mentioned disciplines. To apply, please provide the following:

- Cover letter explaining the candidate's scholarly career, prospective or actual doctoral defense date, and academic interests;
- Current curriculum vitae including publications;
- 2,000-word description of the proposed research project, including its specific objectives, importance, and research design;
- One writing sample (limit of 100 pages);
- Contact information for three references, who will be asked to comment specifically on the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly by email with instructions for submitting a confidential recommendation on your behalf. Letters of reference are to be submitted by the end of business day (5 p.m. EST) on Thursday, December 9, 2021. Complete your application well before the deadline so that references can be submitted in a timely manner.

Candidates who hold positions at academic institutions may also be required to submit:

- Home institution policy with regard to sabbatical pay;
- Selected candidates will be asked to either submit a confidential statement indicating salary for the current academic year (September 2021 - July 1, 2022) or provide written authorization for Princeton to confirm their salary.

Salary – Rank and salary will be contingent on qualifications. NCGG Fellows will receive applicable Princeton University benefits, a taxable moving allowance, and a $5,000 research fund.

For more information about the Niehaus Center for Globalization and Governance fellowship program, please contact Patricia Trinity, Assistant Director at ptrinity@princeton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/1/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9105

Stanford King Center on Global Development

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

The Stanford University King Center on Global Development's Postdoctoral Fellows Program offers fellowships to outstanding new PhDs who have a demonstrated ability to generate high-quality, policy-relevant research on critical issues related to global development.

We invite applications for multidisciplinary postdoctoral fellowships to start summer/fall 2022 for a one- or two-year appointment. The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program is intended for promising new PhD recipients—coming from fields such as computer science, earth systems science, economics, engineering, health policy, political science, and sociology—to pursue policy-relevant research on topics related to international development and poverty alleviation. The King Center's postdoctoral fellows should expect to be active members of the community of development researchers at Stanford University.

The King Center's Postdoctoral Fellows Program particularly encourages applications from women and minority PhD recipients, and from scholars from low- and middle-income countries, as well as from others whose backgrounds and experience would contribute to the diversity (broadly defined) of the program.

The King Center provides a competitive fellowship stipend, plus support for travel and research expenses.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 12/1/2021
Date Posted: 9/1/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9265

Texas A&M University

Rank: Tenure-Track, Assistant Professor in Grand Strategy
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, International Relations

The Department of International Affairs in the Bush School of Government and Public Service at Texas A&M University invites applications and nominations for a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the area of grand strategy. By grand strategy, we mean the use of statecraft by great powers to achieve foreign policy goals, broadly defined. We seek candidates whose work applies the very best scholarship to the most pressing issues facing the United States in the 21st Century and does so in a way that broadens the intellectual and practical discussion of grand strategy. In addition to having first-rate scholarly credentials, the ideal candidate will also have an interest in applying their scholarly work to some aspect of the formulation and implementation of grand strategy.

Bush School faculty teach master's degree students in international affairs, with a standard 2-2 load. The successful candidate will be expected to teach at least one section of the department's required course in international politics. Additional information about the Bush School and department is available at <http://bush.tamu.edu>. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Political Science by September 2022. The individual selected will be a core faculty affiliate of the Center for Grand Strategy (CGS). Additional information about CGS is available at <https://bush.tamu.edu/grand-strategy/>. The start date for this position will be September 1, 2022.

Applicants should upload a formal letter of interest that includes reference to the position, a curriculum vitae, a sample of written work, three letters of recommendation, and other information relevant to successful instruction in the international affairs graduate department, at the Texas A&M Interfolio site <http://apply.interfolio.com/86435> in DOC or PDF format..

The review of applications will begin September 20, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Texas A&M University is committed to enriching the learning and working environment for all visitors, students, faculty, and staff by promoting a culture that embraces inclusion, diversity, equity, and accountability. Diverse perspectives, talents, and identities are vital to accomplishing our mission and living our core values. Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action/Veterans/Disability Employer committed to diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/30/2021
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 9243

Bowdoin College

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy
Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, African American Politics, Latino Politics

As part of a larger multi-year cohort initiative, the Bowdoin College Department of Government and Legal Studies seeks applicants for a full-time tenure-track position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics, pending final approval. The position would begin July 1, 2022. We expect to hire at the rank of assistant professor but will consider applications from candidates at all levels. A PhD in political science or a related field is required by the start of this appointment. Research and teaching on U.S. politics is preferred, but a focus on other areas of the Americas will be considered. Teaching load is two courses per semester, across all levels of the curriculum.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful scholarly or artistic engagement and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult the following resource <https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive>.) Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals.

Bowdoin is a community that warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the support of an inclusive campus community and those who will enrich and contribute to the College's multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu> to submit: 1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a description of your research plans; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion (<https://www.aacu.org/making-excellence-inclusive>); and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2021 and continue until the search is concluded.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland and 2+ hours north of Boston -- connected to Boston and beyond by public transportation -- the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (35% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 15% first generation college students). Bowdoin College complies with applicable provisions of federal and state laws that prohibit unlawful discrimination in employment, admission, or access to its educational or extracurricular programs, activities, or facilities based on race, color, ethnicity, ancestry and national origin, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or expression, age, marital status, place of birth, genetic predisposition, veteran status, or against qualified individuals with physical or mental disabilities on the basis of disability, or any other legally protected statuses. For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website: <http://www.bowdoin.edu>. For additional information about the Department of Government and Legal Studies, see <https://www.bowdoin.edu/government/> or contact department chair Andrew Rudalevige (arudalev@bowdoin.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/24/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9201

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Assistant Professor, American/comparative politics or public policy

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, Public Policy

JOB SUMMARY: The Department of Political Science at Middle Georgia State University (<https://www.mga.edu/political-science>) invites applications for a tenure-track appointment in political science, with a specialization in American politics, comparative politics, or public policy, at the rank of assistant professor, to be primarily based on the Cochran campus. This is a 10-month position with a teaching load of 12 credit hours per semester (4-4) of undergraduate courses in political science, typically including multiple sections of the introductory American Government course, as well as more advanced undergraduate courses in political science in the candidate's area of specialization.

MAJOR DUTIES: Teaching responsibilities may include day and/or evening courses, partially and fully online courses, and courses taught via video conferencing; faculty are also expected to travel to teach and attend meetings at other campus locations when needed. Tenure-track faculty are expected to have an active scholarly agenda, including publication in peer-reviewed outlets; student advising and service to the department, school, university, and community are also expected for promotion and tenure. Summer teaching opportunities may also be available, contingent on student demand.

QUALIFICATIONS: Candidates should have earned a doctorate in political science, or a doctorate in related field including at least 18 semester hours of graduate coursework in political science, from a regionally-accredited institution; ABD candidates will only be considered if they will earn their doctorate by January 1, 2022. Experience as an instructor of record, demonstrated expertise in American politics or comparative politics, and/or the ability to contribute to one or more of the minors offered by the department are desirable. Candidates must have a record of teaching and potential for scholarship that warrants appointment at the rank of assistant professor.

SALARY: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Applications accepted until the position is filled; we expect to begin reviewing complete applications the week of September 13, 2021.

FOR MORE INFORMATION: Informal inquires about the position may be made to Dr. Christopher N. Lawrence, Chair of the Department of Political Science at Christopher.lawrence@mga.edu.

TO APPLY: Application materials should be emailed as one PDF attachment to recruitment@mga.edu with the subject line "10018053 Assistant Professor of Political Science 8.24.2021". Application materials must include (1) an MGA faculty application, (2) a letter of interest, (3) a curriculum vitae, (4) a statement of teaching philosophy, (5) names and contact information of three references, and (6) unofficial transcripts. Paper application materials will not be accepted.

Background checks will be conducted on all final candidates.

Start Date: Winter 2022

Application Deadline: 9/13/2021

Date Posted: 8/24/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9208

Bentley University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, American Government and Politics, Public Policy

The Global Studies Department at Bentley University invites applications for a tenure-track position in comparative race and ethnicity. We seek applications from scholar-teachers who focus on race and ethnicity in comparative, transnational or global perspective, with at least one area of specialization in the United States.

Our department is multidisciplinary, built around a core of faculty from cultural studies, geography, and political science. We welcome candidates from any discipline, including but not limited to anthropology, geography, and political science, to complement and deepen existing strengths. While the position is open with respect to further thematic specializations, we are particularly interested in candidates whose work contributes to understanding the intersectionality of race and ethnicity with sustainability, health, development, immigration/migration, or public policy, preferably through comparativist lenses.

As guided by our Academic Affairs Diversity, Equity, & Inclusion Strategic Plan, Bentley University seeks to enhance our faculty capacity in the scholarship, pedagogy, and engagement related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and justice. To achieve that, we are hiring a cohort of new faculty in multiple academic departments and disciplines with expertise in DEI. This position is intended to be part of our DEI faculty cohort, which will enrich our DEI expertise across Business and the Liberal Arts & Sciences. Learn more about Bentley University's DEI strategic plan here: https://issuu.com/bentleyuniversity/docs/dei_strategic_plan_presentation_1_.pptx

We seek a candidate whose teaching and scholarship will contribute to one or both of our undergraduate departmental majors in international affairs and public policy, and someone who can amplify our department's commitment to anti-racism. Black, indigenous, and Latinx faculty, as well as faculty from other underrepresented groups, are strongly encouraged to apply.

Candidates must demonstrate evidence of a continuing research agenda focused on publication and a strong dedication to excellence in teaching, with preference for candidates with classroom teaching experience. We especially welcome candidates who bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the classroom. Incoming tenure-track faculty typically have a 2-2 teaching load.

The position will be filled at the Assistant Professor rank for a Fall 2022 start.

Minimum Qualifications:

PhD required. Requirements for the doctoral degree must be completed prior to the start of the Fall 2022 semester.

Instructions to Applicants:

Applicants submit all materials through Bentley's on-line employment site at: https://bentley.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/faculty/job/Bentley-Campus/Tenure-Track-Assistant-Professor--Global-Studies_R0002083.

Applicants should submit the following materials:

1. A cover letter that summarizes overall strengths, including the nature of the candidate's commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.
2. A Curriculum vitae.
3. A teaching statement of no more than two pages.
4. A research statement of no more than two pages detailing the candidate's research strengths and plans for future research directions.
5. The names and contact information for three professional references. Bentley will contact these confidential references for those candidates moving forward in the process.

Questions about the position can be directed to the Search Committee Chair, Professor Joni Seager at jseager@bentley.edu

Position will remain open until filled. However, priority consideration will be given to applications received by September 27, 2021.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 9/27/2021

Date Posted: 8/20/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9196

University of Tennessee, Knoxville

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science--Public Policy/Public Administration

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, Open

Public Policy/Administration

The Department of Political Science at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor position in Public Policy/Public Administration. Applicants from any area of the Public Policy/Public Administration fields are welcome, but we are especially interested in candidates with research and teaching interests in public budgeting and finance, public service ethics, non-profit and public management, and/or organizational theory. We are particularly interested in applicants who also have backgrounds in public policy and address substantively important questions related to inequality. We welcome all candidates doing excellent work in these areas, regardless of methodological specialty or approach (including but not limited to those using rigorous analytical approaches including the tools of computational social science and "big data" in their research).

The successful candidate must have strong research skills and a theoretically oriented research agenda that will lead to publication in peer-reviewed outlets (journals and/or books). The Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee is seeking candidates who have the ability to contribute in meaningful ways to the diversity and intercultural goals of the University.

The University of Tennessee, Knoxville, is the state's flagship research institution, a campus of choice for outstanding undergraduates, and a premier graduate institution. As a land-grant university, it is committed to excellence in learning, scholarship, and engagement with society. More information about the Department is available at: polisci.utk.edu. Faculty within the department are also associated with a variety of interdisciplinary programs and working groups across the university, including but not limited to the Critical Race Collective; the Global Studies program; the Intersectionality Community of Scholars; and the Women, Gender, and Sexuality program.

All the requirements for a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or related field must be finished at the time of appointment. Applicants should send a cover letter explaining their research and teaching experience, a current CV, graduate transcripts, a sample of scholarly writing, statements of research, teaching, service, and diversity if not included in the cover letter, and teaching evaluations (if available). Please submit application material in digital format via Interfolio (apply.interfolio.com/92424). All applicants should request letters from three references to be sent via Interfolio. Review of applications begins October 5, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled. For questions or inquiries, contact Professor Michael Jones at mjone239@utk.edu.

All qualified applicants will receive equal consideration for employment and admission without regard to race, color, national origin, religion, sex, pregnancy, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, physical or mental disability, genetic information, veteran status, and parental status, or any other characteristic protected by federal or state law. In accordance with the requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, the University of Tennessee affirmatively states that it does not discriminate on the basis of race, sex, or disability in its education programs and activities, and this policy extends to employment by the university. Inquiries and charges of violation of Title VI (race, color, and national origin), Title IX (sex), Section 504 (disability), the ADA (disability), the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (age), sexual orientation, or veteran status should be directed to the Office of Equity and Diversity, 1840 Melrose Avenue, Knoxville, TN 37996-3560, telephone 865-974-2498. Requests for accommodation of a disability should be directed to the ADA Coordinator at the Office of Equity and Diversity.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/16/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9172

Carnegie Mellon University

Rank: Teaching Post-Doctoral Fellow in Political Science and Public Policy

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Education Policy, Economic Policy

The Heinz College of Information Systems and Public Policy at Carnegie Mellon University invites candidates to apply for a teaching postdoctoral fellowship position. The teaching post-doctoral fellowship is designed for those who are interested in a teaching career. They will be mentored by outstanding teaching faculty at CMU and will benefit from the rich inter-disciplinary environment at CMU.

We seek candidates that have expertise and could offer courses to graduate students in American politics and/or in selected policy areas including, but not limited to environment and energy, local and/or national economic development, education, and social justice. We are seeking an individual committed to effectively training our graduate students to be leaders that affect meaningful change by inculcating evidence-based practices to policy evaluation and decision-making, as well as the ability to synthesize and communicate recommendations.

Postdoctoral fellows are expected to teach and/or co-teach up to two semester equivalent courses per semester. Fellows can pursue research related to their interests and are expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of the College and become involved in Carnegie Mellon's rich interdisciplinary community.

The postdoctoral fellowship position will run from August 1, 2022, to July 31, 2024. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible position.

Preference will be given to applicants who have received their PhD degree between November 30, 2019, and August 1, 2021.

The application deadline is Monday, February 14, 2022.

Applications should be submitted through Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/90675>

Materials to be submitted:

- Cover letter of one to two pages briefly stating the applicant's academic background, research agenda, and interest in the program.
- CV.
- Teaching Statement (titles and short descriptions of at least two courses that the candidate is eligible to teach) and a discussion any relevant experience in teaching a globally and culturally diverse group of intellectually curious students.
- Research Statement (Brief statement of research interests and a discussion of how it supports excellence in the classroom)
- Two writing samples of scholarly work.
- Unofficial transcripts from all graduate-level degrees; and
- Two reference letters.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 2/14/2022

Date Posted: 8/9/2021

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 9132

Miami University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration

Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration to teach courses across the public administration core and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2022.

Required: Doctorate in public policy, political science, or a closely related field (ABDs may apply but all degree requirements must be completed by date of appointment). Doctorate is required by December 31, 2022. To be appointed to the rank of Associate Professor requires collegiate teaching expertise and high-quality research.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts and writing sample to <https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/498989/assistant-or-associate-professor-in-public-administration>. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 10, 2021 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/4/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9117

Butler University

Rank: Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Methodology, Public Policy

The Department of Political Science at Butler University invites applications for a full-time non-tenure-track instructor for a one-year appointment with possibility of renewal for a second year. Applicants should have expertise in politics and/or public policy in the United States and a strong commitment to excellent, inclusive undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will teach an introductory American politics survey course, research and analysis methods (basic research design/methods), US Parties and Politics, and other courses aligned with their expertise, and will help build an inclusive learning environment for our increasingly diverse student population. We are particularly interested in candidates who could teach an introductory international politics survey course. This lecturer will teach four courses per semester, with no more than six distinct course preparations per year anticipated.

Review of applications is ongoing and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following to plsearch@butler.edu: a cover letter that highlights the applicant's qualifications for this position and commitment to inclusive, excellent teaching and a curriculum vitae. Additional evidence of evidence of inclusive teaching excellence is welcome but not required at this stage. Applicants should have advanced to candidate or earned a doctorate in political science or a related field at the time of appointment. The selected candidate will be required to provide official transcripts and to consent to a background check prior to a final offer of employment and will start August 2021.

The Butler Political Science Program, distinctively grounded in a firm commitment to social justice, democracy, and human rights, engages students in the study and practice of politics to promote the collective good at the local, national, and global level. The program defines politics broadly as the formal and informal ways societies govern themselves. The program offers an innovative curriculum that crosses traditional disciplinary boundaries to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to pursue positive social change. Political science alumni have pursued careers in electoral politics, teaching, law, government, journalism, business, and non-profit organizations, and have earned graduate and professional degrees in several fields.

Start Date: Fall 2021

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/9/2021

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 8927