

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

August 2022 | Volume 11, Issue 08

ISSN 2167-8332

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4

American Government and Politics 6

Comparative Politics 37

International Relations 54

Methodology 80

Non-Academic 87

Open 88

Other 99

Political Theory 110

Public Administration 121

Public Law 130

Public Policy 135

About the Journal

Published monthly by the American Political Science Association, Political Science Jobs is an online journal containing all active jobs in political science as listed in the APSA online job board eJobs. The combined resource of the Political Science Jobs journal and the daily updated and fully searchable eJobs platform provides a comprehensive employment resource for political science and supports a transparent, efficient, and ethically-grounded labor market for the discipline.

Access to the journal is made freely accessible to APSA's over 14,000 individual and departmental members within the US and around the world.

Submissions

Job listings may be submitted to the journal via the online eJobs platform at www.apsanet.org/jobs and applicable fees may apply.

Online Access: www.apsanet.org/jobs

The core content in this journal draws upon active listings within eJobs, linkages to association programs and career resources. Readers are encouraged to visit the eJobs website for daily updates on new job listings and candidate resumes, and use the online features including search tool to locate listings by field of interest, employer or candidate name, region, keyword, position, salary, institution type, and most recent submissions.

Copyright © 2012
American Political Science Association
All rights reserved

APSA does not grant permission to any individual or party to republish or otherwise distribute this journal or any portion therein in any print or electronic form.

POLITICAL SCIENCE JOBS

August 2022 | Volume 11, Issue 08

ISSN 2167-8332

Online journal from the American Political Science Association

In this Issue

Career Resources

Finding a Job in Political Science 3

Job Listings

Administration 4 (4 listings)

American Government and Politics 6 (58 listings)

Comparative Politics 37 (36 listings)

International Relations 54 (48 listings)

Methodology 80 (15 listings)

Non-Academic 87 (2 listings)

Open 88 (20 listings)

Other 99 (18 listings)

Political Theory 110 (16 listings)

Public Administration 121 (14 listings)

Public Law 130 (9 listings)

Public Policy 135 (29 listings)

Total listings this issue 269

Resources and Guidance on

Finding a Job in Political Science

Hundreds of academic positions are advertised each year in political science. Finding the openings is the easy part; knowing how to approach the application and interview process is a little more challenging. At APSA, we have collected resources to assist candidates in the academic job search. We would like to highlight a few of these key resources here. The complete list of job resources is available online at www.apsanet.org/jobs.

eJobs: This online resource contains comprehensive online listing of political science jobs, is updated daily with new job listings and candidate resumes, and is fully searchable by field of interest, name of employer/candidate, region, keyword, position, salary, type of institution, and most recent posts.

Data on Jobs Market: APSA gathers and releases data regarding the placement of political science Ph.Ds. View this information at www.apsanet.org/content_7623.cfm.

Mentoring: Enroll in the APSA Mentoring Program online at www.apsanet.org/mentoring.

eJobs Placement Interview Services: The eJobs Annual Meeting Placement Interview Service provides space and facilities for employers who have eJobs posted to interview candidates at the APSA meeting. Many other conferences, such as the Northeastern and Western, also use the APSA online service to schedule placement interviews. Check the listings online in eJobs.

Ethics Guide: The APSA Guide to Professional Ethics in Political Science includes specific guidance on hiring and employment practices. Order a print copy or view online at www.apsanet.org/ethics.

Asking the Right Questions: APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask Program

Asking the right questions provides valuable information for career decisions. As part of the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program participating political science departments have agreed to answer the following questions from job candidates.

Salary

1. What is the salary structure?
2. How is salary normally negotiated?
3. How are annual increases handled?
4. Is there an automatic escalator to ensure the salaries of future hires will not outpace those of existing department members?

Service Activities

1. What are the expectations of pre-tenure and tenured faculty regarding:
 - departmental and institutional committee work,
 - professional or disciplinary activities, and
 - outreach activities to communities external to institution?

Research Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - access to research materials and equipment,
 - the employment of research assistants,
 - research expenses on/off campus, and
 - travel expenses for conferences?

2. What departmental or institutional resources are available to seek external funding and to administer external funding awards?

Teaching Support

1. What departmental or institutional resources are available to support:
 - the development of teaching expertise,
 - innovations in teaching, and
 - the introduction of new courses and new technologies?
2. What are departmental expectations regarding:
 - the average course load,
 - the number of different courses taught by faculty, and
 - advising of graduate and undergraduate students?

Tenure, Renewal, and Annual Review

1. What policies and procedures govern the granting of tenure, renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty, and annual reviews of faculty performance?
2. What are the department's expectations for successful performance leading to the granting of tenure or renewal of contracts for pre-tenure faculty?
3. What are the department's expectations for a positive annual review?

Mentoring and Faculty Support Initiatives

1. What attention does the department give to integrating new faculty into the department, the institution, and in the profession?
2. Does the department or institution have programs that address:
 - the employment of dual-career professional couples,
 - family needs of faculty and staff, and
 - issues associated with minority faculty and staff?

Health and Life Insurance

1. What are the plans offered?
2. How are benefits disbursed?
3. What are the out-of-pocket expenses?
4. Are partners and/or children covered, and to what extent?
5. What portion of my paycheck will be deducted for these benefits?

Retirement

1. How many types of retirement plans are offered?
2. What is the matching percentage of the institution?
3. Is contribution required (and how much)?

More on the APSA Job Candidate Questions to Ask (JCQ) Program

For more information about the JCQ program and to view the departments who agreed to answer these questions at www.apsanet.org/JCQ.

Political Science Jobs for August

ADMINISTRATION

American Bar Foundation

Rank: Executive Director

The American Bar Foundation (ABF) is extending its search for its next Executive Director and is inviting applications.

Established in 1952, the ABF, a nonprofit corporation, is one of the foremost research institutes dedicated to the empirical and interdisciplinary study of law, legal behavior, legal institutions, and legal processes in the U.S. and internationally. The ABF sponsors Law & Social Inquiry, a quarterly, peer-reviewed scholarly journal of international standing that is published by Cambridge University Press.

The Executive Director oversees the ABF research program through the management of 18 Research Professors, five Faculty Fellows, 13 Affiliated Research Professors, a full-time support staff of 22, and a part-time research assistance staff of 20. The interdisciplinary faculty have advanced degrees in such diverse fields as anthropology, criminology, economics, history, law, political science, psychology, and sociology, and many of the faculty hold both J.D. and Ph.D. degrees.

Executive Director candidates should hold a J.D., with preference given to applicants who also hold a Ph.D. in social sciences or humanities; a record of institutional leadership, including administrative and financial management; success in fundraising and academic grantsmanship; experience with the design and conduct of empirical and interdisciplinary research on law; familiarity with the organized bar and legal profession; and skill in communicating results of scholarly research to the bar, the bench, the academy, and the general public.

The Executive Director is charged with building upon the distinction of the ABF as a premier institute for pathbreaking, interdisciplinary, empirical research on law, legal processes, and legal institutions. Administrative responsibilities include directing, supervising, and promoting institutional research programs; producing multi-year plans for faculty research; directing and participating in institutional fundraising, including meeting with and presenting to public and private foundations, corporations, and major gift prospects; recruiting and retaining an excellent faculty; planning, generating and managing the institutional budget; managing the research faculty and staff; building a comprehensive communications program with all the ABF's constituencies; and regularly reporting to the ABF Board and officers on the research programs and other activities.

A full description of the Executive Director position and responsibilities is available on the ABF website. For details about the ABF faculty and research program, visit the website: americanbarfoundation.org.

Applications are invited for the Executive Director position, with priority consideration for those received by October 1, 2022, and must include a cover letter and curriculum vitae. To apply, please email your application materials to execsearch@abfn.org. The ABF encourages women and applicants from diverse backgrounds to apply. The Executive Director position is anticipated to begin in January 2023.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10495

Syracuse University

Rank: Director, Autonomous Systems Policy Institute (ASPI)

Director, Autonomous Systems Policy Institute (ASPI)

Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs

Syracuse University

Syracuse University invites applications for the Director of the Autonomous Systems Policy Institute (ASPI). Housed within the Maxwell School of Citizenship and Public Affairs and involving faculty from across Syracuse University, ASPI is dedicated to interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching related to the design, governance, and wider societal implications of autonomous systems and artificial intelligence. It aims to critically engage and shape the policy and ethical frameworks that will guide the design and use of these emerging technologies. Across its initiatives, ASPI endeavors to be the leader in uniting interdisciplinary scholarship and teaching related to emerging autonomous technologies, in integrating and thinking across different socio-technical systems, and in bringing academic insight, community needs, and industry developments into conversation and joint action.

Launched in 2019, ASPI includes 20 core faculty spread across Syracuse University and more than 130 faculty who are involved in some capacity. The Institute supports multiple interdisciplinary research teams as well as a speaker and research series, and has prioritized developing and maintaining strong relationships with key stakeholders in industry, advocacy, and government domains. Most recently, ASPI has launched initiatives including a graduate-student lab, regular industry roundtables, and an annual public symposium. Future plans include the creation of both undergraduate and graduate academic programs related to autonomous systems and artificial intelligence, innovative executive education programming, and additional faculty hires as part of a cluster hire initiative in Artificial Intelligence, Autonomous Systems, and the Human-Technology Frontier.

The director position in ASPI presents an exceptional opportunity for a visionary and collaborative academic leader with interests at the intersection of emerging autonomous technologies and policy. ASPI is unique among research institutes in its dual focus on the development of autonomous systems across multiple domains (e.g., mobility, healthcare, future of work, AI systems), as well as the need for deep and broad interdisciplinary engagement to understand the social and policy implications of these developments. Harnessing Syracuse University's strengths in public communications, management, design, computer science, and policy, ASPI offers its next director an ideal platform for establishing Syracuse University as the place for interdisciplinary, socially relevant research and teaching on autonomous systems and artificial intelligence.

For ASPI's director, we seek a senior scholar with a stellar research record related to autonomous systems and/or artificial intelligence and established experience in interdisciplinary engagement, program building, and translational work between and among academia, government, advocacy, and industry domains. Preference will be given to candidates who emphasize and demonstrate understanding of how the design, policy, and societal impacts of autonomous systems and artificial intelligence – ASPI's core focus – can be brought together in both scholarship and teaching. A record of extramural grant funding from a range of organizations is expected.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. and demonstrate expertise in policy, governance, and the societal implications of technology through their scholarship, leadership, and teaching. The successful candidate must meet the requirements of being hired as a full professor with tenure. The tenure home for the person hired will be determined in conversation with the candidate.

To apply for the position, candidates must complete an online faculty application (available at <https://www.sujobopps.com/postings/92261>) and submit a curriculum vitae and letter of interest. The search committee will begin reviewing applications on Sept. 15th. We will continue to consider applications until the position is filled.

Syracuse University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. Women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates must be committed to working with diverse student and community populations.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/7/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10470

Harvard University

Rank: Assistant Director of Undergraduate Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Non-Academic

The Environmental Science and Public Policy (ESPP) concentration seeks qualified candidates for the position of Assistant Director of Undergraduate Studies (ADUS) in the ESPP program, housed administratively at the Harvard University Center for the Environment (HUCE). The ADUS will report to the ESPP Head Tutor and an interdisciplinary faculty ESPP Board of Tutors.

Job-Specific Responsibilities

Provide academic advising and mentorship to admitted Harvard students, pre-concentrators, and concentrators, and monitor student progress toward degree. Match student thesis writers with faculty advisors; identify potential problems in the thesis-writing process; help keep students on track to complete the thesis. Manage the senior capstone and thesis courses; meet regularly with students to identify issues with progress and advising. Advise ESPP and Energy & Environment secondary field students and lead discussions for their colloquium requirement.

In coordination with the Office of Career Services and other relevant offices at Harvard College, support current students in their pursuit of undergraduate research opportunities, internships, and full-time post-graduate positions after graduation. Act as a conduit to faculty to help students engage in meaningful research experiences at Harvard. Engage with students in settings outside of the classroom related to ESPP content: informal discussions after talks, field trips, journal clubs, etc. Help identify speakers for events. Represent ESPP at information/student recruiting events.

Assist with curriculum and course development, course planning, and curriculum assessment. May teach or co-teach in ESPP depending on the needs of the concentration in a given academic year.

Basic Qualifications

A Ph.D. in an environmental field (science or social sciences) with significant involvement in the policy realm.

Additional Qualifications and Skills

Documented ability to teach effectively and engage with undergraduate students; a strong commitment to education and mentoring; experience with advising and course/program development and commitment and enthusiasm for research and pedagogy in research methods; excellent communication skills.

Additional Information

To apply, candidates should submit their cover letter and resume/CV online through Harvard Careers at this link: <https://bit.ly/3PERm80>. Candidates selected for an interview will be asked to provide three letters of recommendation, including at least one that addresses teaching ability.

More information on the ESPP concentration can be found at: <https://esp.fas.harvard.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10417

Mississippi State University

Rank: Professor and Head

Professor and Head of the Department of Political Science and Public Administration, Mississippi State University. The Department of Political Science and Public Administration is searching for a Department Head at the rank of Professor, beginning July 1, 2022. Applications from Associate Professors could be considered conditional to promotion at the rank of Professor by the time of appointment. We seek an accomplished scholar to lead a dynamic program, with an energetic and productive research and teaching faculty experienced in training high-achieving undergraduate and graduate students. Candidates must have a PhD in Political Science, Public Administration, or related fields, an established research and/or extramural funding record, a commitment to academic excellence, and strong administrative skills. In providing such leadership, the Head will guide curricular revision and programmatic assessment; guide faculty through the tenure and promotion process; oversee all personnel matters; manage the budget; serve as a liaison between faculty and administration; and sustain and enhance collaborative programs with other campus units. Documented experience in departmental or college leadership positions is required. The teaching assignment is negotiable. The salary will be competitive. Degree programs offered include a BA and MA in Political Science, a NASPAA-accredited Master in Public Policy and Administration, and a PhD in Public Policy and Administration. The department consists of 16 faculty members, 236 undergraduate majors, 42 Masters students, and 35 PhD students. The department has strong ties to several research and government centers, including the Social Science Research Center, the John C. Stennis Institute of Government, and the Stennis Center for Public Service. More information on the department is available at <http://www.pspa.msstate.edu>.

Applications are to be submitted electronically by accessing <http://www.msujobs.msstate.edu/> and should include a Vita, a letter describing administrative philosophy and research interests, and supporting materials demonstrating administrative, teaching, service, and scholarly achievement, as well as a list of references. Review of applications will begin February 18, 2022, but applications will be accepted and reviewed until the position is filled.

Start Date: Summer 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 1/11/2022
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 9957

AMERICAN GOVERNMENT AND POLITICS

Fordham University
Rank: Assistant Professor

Job Ad in American Politics

Department of Political Science
 Fordham University

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning Fall 2023. The area of specialization is open, but the department is particularly interested in candidates who specialize in American institutions and might teach courses on the American presidency and American public policy. The position is located at Fordham's Rose Hill campus. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with institutions within New York City, advance strategically focused research, and contribute to the University's and the department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with our Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that cultural and intellectual diversity and inclusivity are central to the excellence of our academic program and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to inclusive teaching and mentoring students from a range of social, cultural and economic backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on October 1. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/108909>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience, curriculum vitae, writing sample (no more than 30-35 pages), three letters of reference, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience and may include past course syllabi and/or peer observations; please do not include student evaluations as these will not be considered. Application materials should also address how the candidate's teaching, mentoring, scholarship, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required. If you have questions about this position, please contact Professor Monika McDermott at mmcdermott@fordham.edu.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans, and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10552

Gettysburg College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science (U.S. Politics), Tenure Track

Position summary. The Department of Political Science at Gettysburg College invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor rank beginning in August 2023. The department seeks candidates in the subfield of U.S. politics, with a specialization in race and identity. The successful candidate will be able to teach the department's introductory U.S. government course, upper-level courses in his/her/their specialty, and contribute to the department's undergraduate methods requirement. The teaching load for this position will be 3-2.

Qualifications. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science with a subfield specialization in U.S. Politics and a focus on race, identity, and politics. Teaching experience or promise of excellence in teaching is desirable. We strongly encourage applications from candidates who can demonstrate through their teaching, scholarship, and governance that they can contribute to the diversity and inclusivity of our community.

Application details. Applicants should apply online at: <https://gettysburg.peopleadmin.com/postings/4563>. A cover letter, curriculum vitae, and a statement of teaching goals in a liberal arts context should be submitted. As part of the teaching statement, we ask you to elaborate on your cultural proficiencies and experiences engaging an increasingly diverse student body. Applicants should include the names and email addresses of three professional references, at least one of whom can speak to the applicant's teaching effectiveness. After the applicant completes the online application, the professional references indicated will be contacted by Gettysburg College via email to submit letters of recommendation electronically.

Applications and letters of recommendation received by 30 September 2022 will be given fullest consideration; however, submissions will continue to be reviewed until the position is filled. Inquiries can be addressed to Professor Bruce Larson (blarson@gettysburg.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10528

Hope College

Rank: Faculty Full Time

The Department of Political Science at Hope College invites applicants for a full-time tenure-track appointment to begin the Fall 2023. We seek candidates who are broadly trained in political theory; the ideal candidate would also be equipped to teach Introduction to American Politics and otherwise contribute to our course offerings in American politics. Candidates would also be expected to participate on a rotating basis in the leadership of our highly regarded Washington D.C. honors program. Rank is open, but preference will be given to hiring at the assistant professor level. The salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

<https://jobs.hope.edu/postings/1618>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10563

University of Chicago

Rank: Collegiate Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Western Europe, Political Thought: Historical

The College at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for four-year postdoctoral teaching appointments as Harper and Schmidt Fellows who hold the rank of Collegiate Assistant Professor. Collegiate Assistant Professors are members of the College Faculty whose primary professional responsibility is to teach in the general education (Core) program.

Core courses in the Humanities typically deal with fundamental issues and texts in history, philosophy, and literature. Currently, the Core is organized into eight year-long sequences: Readings in World Literature; Human Being and Citizen; Greece and Rome: Texts, Traditions, Transformations; Philosophical Perspectives on the Humanities; Media Aesthetics; Reading Cultures; Poetry and the Human; and Language and the Human. For a description of these sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/humanities/>.

Core courses in the Social Sciences explore, on the basis of significant works or primary source materials, the fundamental concepts and the different modes of inquiry that have defined the social sciences in the modern period. Currently, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach in six of the year-long sequences into which the Core is organized: Self, Culture and Society; Classics of Social and Political Thought; Power, Identity, and Resistance; Global Society; Mind (a broad course explaining social science in the context of psychological science research); and Social Science Inquiry. For a description of these sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/socialsciences/>.

Some Collegiate Assistant Professors also teach in the History of European Civilization Core sequence as well as the Introductions to the Civilizations of East Asian Core sequences. These courses are taught on the basis of intensive readings of significant primary source documents. For descriptions of the History of European Civilization and the Civilizations of East Asia sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/civilizationstudies/>.

The positions are open to scholars in all disciplines and areas of specialization who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. degree no later than August 31, 2023. Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching as well as in their original scholarship.

In most years, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach two courses (usually of identical preparation) for each of three quarters. In the second through fourth year of residence, each Collegiate Assistant Professor has the opportunity to design up to two independent courses and each is eligible for one quarter of research sabbatical. In the fourth year there is a possibility of another quarter of sabbatical with salary reduction.

The position comes with an annual salary for 2023-24 of $80,166, carries full benefits, and an annual professional development fund of $6,500. The effective date for these teaching appointments is September 1, 2023.

To apply for these positions, please see our web site at <https://fellows.uchicago.edu>. The web site will be available to accept applications beginning August 19, 2022.

The terms and conditions of these positions are described in the collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union.

On-line application deadline: 11:59:59 PM EDT, Friday, October 14, 2022.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at <https://www.uchicago.edu/non-discrimination>.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-0681 or email dneibel@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/14/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 10577

University of Maryland, College Park

Rank: Assistant Professor-Tenure Track

University of Maryland, College Park
American Politics

Position Summary:

The Department of Government and Politics at the University of Maryland invites applications for a tenure track assistant professor in American Politics, specifically in race and ethnic politics. The department especially welcomes candidates with expertise in racial and ethnic politics that focus on political institutions and creates synergies with our existing faculty. In addition, we seek applicants with theoretically driven research agendas, innovative methodological techniques, and scholars whose substantive research program would benefit from the unique resources available in the Washington, D.C. area.

This is part of a cluster hire in the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences (BSOS) at the University of Maryland around social justice and inequality involving multiple departments (African American Studies, Anthropology, Criminology and Criminal Justice, Government and Politics, Psychology, and Sociology). Faculty recruited through this initiative will join a larger community of scholars in the College conducting fundamental research on inequities as they arise as a function of race, gender, sexual orientation, economic, immigration status, and the intersectionality of these and other identities. The College envisions significant opportunities for cross-disciplinary discussion, collaboration, mentoring, and professional development within the cluster.

Position Duties/Responsibilities:

This is a tenure-track appointment. Tenure-track Assistant Professors are hired for 3 years, with potential renewal for three more years and tenure review. Salary and benefits are competitive based upon qualifications and experience. Tenure-track and tenured faculty have 9-month appointments, with opportunities for grant-funded research and university-funded teaching in summers. For this position, the successful candidate will be involved in:

1. Developing and conducting research projects and disseminating research results
2. Crafting exceptional educational experiences for students
3. Participating in shared governance
4. Contributing to relevant professional communities.

Minimum Qualifications:

1. A Ph.D. at the time of appointment
2. Demonstrated potential for research excellence, including a record of research in one or more areas described in the position summary above, or related areas and potential to attract external support
3. Interest in developing effective and innovative teaching.

Preferred Qualifications:

1. Recognized for notable research projects, peer-reviewed publications, or other scholarly contributions
2. In-person and/or online teaching experience in related areas
3. Demonstrated dedication and service in academia, professional organizations, and research communities

Campus/Department Information:

The person selected for this position will be a member of the Department of Government and Politics (GVPT) at the University of Maryland. With more than 30 tenured and tenure-track faculty, 1,000 undergraduate majors, and 100 graduate students, we are one of the largest departments in the College of Behavioral and Social Sciences (BSOS).

Our faculty teach and conduct research in all of the major fields in our discipline, including American politics, comparative politics, international relations, political theory, political economy, and formal theory and methods. Realizing that many of the key problems we face have a significant political component, our faculty and students study a variety of issues with real-world policy implications ranging from civil wars and ethnic conflict to environmental politics, partisan polarization, and inequality.

Vaccine Protocol:

The University of Maryland has made the safety of our students, faculty and staff, and our surrounding communities a top priority. As part of that commitment, the University System of Maryland (USM) recently announced that students, faculty, and staff on USM campuses this fall, including UMD, are required to be vaccinated against COVID. As a prospective and/or new employee at UMD, you will be required to comply with the University's vaccination protocol. Proof of full vaccination will be required before the start of employment in order to work at any University of Maryland location. Prospective or new employees may seek a medical or religious exemption to the vaccination requirement and must have an approved exemption prior to the start of their employment.

Hiring and appointment are subject to College and University approval.

To apply you will need to provide:

1. A letter of interest that clearly describes your background and expertise in the area and the unique contributions you would make to the GVPT and the University of Maryland.
2. Your CV
3. Provide 3 professional references. Each will receive a request from the University ejobs@umd.edu system. We ask that each reference include their title, institution, contact information (including phone number and e-mail address), the capacity in which they have known you, and how long they have known you.
4. A statement of your research interests and accomplishments
5. A statement of your teaching philosophy

Interested candidates should apply using the University of Maryland ejobs system. Goto: <https://ejobs.umd.edu/postings/97745>

For best consideration, complete applications should be submitted by September 23, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10569

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at the University of Mississippi invites applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in American Politics, starting Fall 2023. The Department is foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, with all areas of specialization invited to apply. Successful candidates should add to the Department's strength in quantitative methods. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>.

Requirements include at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2023, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research.

The online application should include a cover letter indicating research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation. Review of all applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

Founded in 1848, the University of Mississippi (UM), affectionately known to alumni, students and friends as Ole Miss, is Mississippi's flagship university. Included in the elite group of R-1: Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity by the Carnegie Classification, it has a long history of producing leaders in public service, academics and business. The University of Mississippi, consistently named by The Chronicle of Higher Education as a "Great College to Work For," is located in Oxford, MS, which is ranked one of the "Top 10 Best College Towns." With more than 24,000 students, UM is the state's largest university and is ranked among the nation's fastest-growing institutions. The University of Mississippi, which has aggressively implemented many health and wellness initiatives for its more than 2,900 employees, has consistently been named one of Mississippi's Healthiest Workplaces.

The University of Mississippi is an EOE/AA/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disability/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity/Title VI/Title VII/Title IX/504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10574

University of Mississippi

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and African American Studies

The Department of Political Science and the African American Studies program at the University of Mississippi invite applications to fill a tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor in American Politics, starting Fall 2023. The appointment will be a joint appointment between Political Science and African American Studies. Requirements include a PhD in Political Science, with at least ABD standing with the expectation of completion by Fall 2023, as well as a potential for or record of excellence in teaching and research. We are foremost interested in hiring an excellent candidate, with all areas of specialization invited to apply. We welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field. The successful candidate must be able to contribute to the undergraduate teaching of both Political Science and African American Studies, and also be able to contribute to the Political Science Department's graduate program. Tenure and promotion reside in the Department of Political Science. Candidates must complete an online application at <https://careers.olemiss.edu>. The online application should include a cover letter indicating research, teaching interests, and a description of demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion in teaching, scholarship, and/or service with descriptions of past efforts and commitment to future activities, curriculum vitae, writing samples, graduate transcript, and three letters of recommendation. Review of all applications will begin September 1, 2022 and continue until the position is filled or until an adequate applicant pool is established.

This tenure-track position is included in the University of Mississippi, College of Liberal Arts multi-year faculty cluster hire initiative. This initiative is designed to expand our understanding of multicultural competence in a number of areas including, among others to be named in future years: successful, effective, and ethical leadership; inclusive pedagogy in STEM; and Black intellectual thought in the Humanities. We seek scholars and scholarship with a focus on the experiences of African Americans and other underrepresented groups and attention to identities with respect to race, ethnicity, gender, and sexuality. Our goal is to attract and support a diverse cohort of tenure-track scholars who will produce cutting-edge research, scholarship, and creative achievement around one of these broad themes in their fields of specialization. For more information and the list of the other positions included in this cluster hire, please visit the College of Liberal Arts website at <https://libarts.olemiss.edu/cluster-hire/>

Founded in 1848, the University of Mississippi (UM), affectionately known to alumni, students and friends as Ole Miss, is Mississippi's flagship university. Included in the elite group of R-1: Doctoral Universities - Highest Research Activity by the Carnegie Classification, it has a long history of producing leaders in public service, academics and business. The University of Mississippi, consistently named by The Chronicle of Higher Education as a "Great College to Work

For," is located in Oxford, MS, which is ranked one of the "Top 10 Best College Towns." With more than 24,000 students, UM is the state's largest university and is ranked among the nation's fastest-growing institutions. The University of Mississippi, which has aggressively implemented many health and wellness initiatives for its more than 2,900 employees, has consistently been named one of Mississippi's Healthiest Workplaces.

The University of Mississippi is an EEO/AA/Title VI/Title IX/Section 504/ADA/ADEA employer.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10575

Southwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Southwestern University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning August 2023. The ideal candidate will hold a PhD in political science (ABD, with completion by August 2023, will be considered) and specialize in American Politics, with a focus on race & ethnic politics in the United States. We are particularly interested in applicants whose work falls into the subfields of Black or Latinx politics and who can offer classes that expand beyond our existing strengths in American political behavior and psychology. We strongly encourage candidates from underrepresented backgrounds who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of our academic community to apply.

Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence and inclusivity in undergraduate teaching and a willingness to foster undergraduate research. The typical teaching load is five courses per year; this will include 2 sections of our introductory American Politics course and at least one other course that is accessible to nonmajors. Campus-wide responsibilities include advising students and university service.

Building on Southwestern University's commitment to academic excellence and making connections within and across disciplines, we are pleased to share that this position is part of a diversity, equity, and inclusion cohort hiring initiative in the thematic areas of race, ethnicity, and social justice. The thematic hire initiative seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of teacher-scholars from multiple disciplines in the humanities and social sciences (including English, Feminist Studies, History, Political Science, and Sociology) who will strengthen the University offerings in race, ethnicity, and social justice as well as increase curricular coverage of areas related to diversity and inclusion. As part of the thematic hiring process, Southwestern will provide members of the cohort with opportunities and resources to enhance their success and well being such as participating in mentoring networks, research and writing workshops, and additional ongoing professional development.

The Political Science Department and Southwestern University are committed to recruiting candidates who both excel in teaching and research and can best serve our diverse student population. As of the Fall 2021 semester, over 40% of students enrolled at Southwestern are members of groups traditionally underrepresented in higher education and we are committed to further increasing and supporting the diversity of our students, faculty and curriculum. The Department seeks candidates who have a demonstrated commitment to, and will take an active role in, enhancing diversity, inclusion, and equity across the University, including fostering a sense of community and belonging for students. In your application materials, please include specific and detailed information about how you have worked to enhance diversity and inclusion through your teaching practices, research, and/or service experiences within the college or university setting.

Southwestern University (Georgetown, Texas) is a selective undergraduate residential liberal arts institution located in the greater Austin area. Established in 1840, Southwestern enrolls approximately 1,500 students and maintains a student–faculty ratio of 12 to 1. The university provides a highly interdisciplinary and holistic education that values high-impact learning experiences, such as study abroad, internships, and faculty-student research. A member of the recently formed Liberal Arts Colleges Racial Equity Leadership Alliance, Southwestern is committed to fostering a diverse educational environment and encourages applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in academia. Additional information about the university can be found at our website: www.southwestern.edu.

To apply: Candidates should submit a cover letter, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a teaching statement, brief descriptions of 2-3 possible courses and/or sample syllabi, and a research statement by September 23 on <http://apply.interfolio.com/110378>. We strongly encourage applicants to include specific and detailed information in these documents about how you have worked to enhance diversity and inclusion through your teaching practices, research, and/or service experiences within the college or university setting. We will be speaking with interested candidates at the APSA Annual Meeting; to set up an appointment or ask questions about this position, please contact the chair of the committee, Emily Sydnor (sydnore@southwestern.edu).

All offers of employment are contingent on successful completion of the University's Background Check Policy process. Southwestern University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. EOE/M/F

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 9/23/2022
Date Posted: 7/29/2022
Salary: $60,000 - $69,999
eJobs ID: 10560

Texas A&M University, Higher Education Center at McAllen

Rank: Lecturer

The Department of Political Science at Texas A&M University is recruiting for one non-tenure track position for the 2022-2023 academic year to teach at the Higher Education Center at McAllen, located in McAllen, TX. We seek to hire a lecturer to teach introductory, survey courses in American government. The successful candidate will be expected to be able to teach introductory undergraduate courses in American government at both the national and state and local level. A completed Ph.D in Political Science is required. The successful candidate is expected to be committed to teaching of the highest quality. The successful candidate is expected to be committed to teaching of the highest quality. The target start date for this position September 1, 2022. The teaching load would be four to five courses total for the academic year. This would be for a nine month appointment in a non-tenure track position. This position has the possibility of being renewed on an annual basis depending on performance, funding, and university needs.

Our review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following materials electronically to <http://apply.interfolio.com/108846>: 1) letter of interest, 2) contact information for three references, and 3) curriculum vitae.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/28/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10557

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in American Political Institutions

The Department of Political Science (<https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/>) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for two tenure-track assistant professor positions to begin in Fall 2023. We seek candidates whose research focuses on American political institutions. The search is open with respect to specialization. Successful candidates are expected to add to the department's strengths in quantitative, experimental, and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (PDFs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu and specify "Institutions Search" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Contact: Prof. Robert Jackson

Email: rjackson@fsu.edu

Phone: 850-644-5727

Department of Political Science
 Florida State University
 P.O. Box 3062160
 Bellamy 531
 Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 9/16/2022
Date Posted: 7/27/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10546

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

The Department of Political Science (<https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/>) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for a tenure-track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2023. We seek candidates whose research focuses on race, ethnicity, and politics. The search is open with respect to specialization, although it is expected that applicants will contribute to the study of American or comparative political behavior or political institutions.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (PDFs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu and specify "REP Search" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin September 2, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Contact: Prof. Amanda Driscoll

Email: adriscoll@fsu.edu

Phone: 850-644-5727

Department of Political Science
Florida State University
P.O. Box 3062160
Bellamy 531
Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/2/2022

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10544

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer, Policy and Administration

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/110584>

Location:
Washington, DC

Description:

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of Assistant Program Director in the area of Public Policy and Administration. This position will support the Master of Arts in Public Management (primary), Master of Arts in Nonprofit Management, and Master of Arts of Government programs in the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, within the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs Division. Reporting to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies and Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, the Assistant Program Director will contribute to the excellence of the programs and will demonstrate and support ongoing innovation in the curriculums. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online, at its Washington, DC Center, and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 45-degree programs.

AAP was started in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of nearly 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as Program Chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the KSAS Dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position:

AAP's programs in public management, nonprofit management, and government prepare students for leadership positions in public service and advocacy. Students develop sophisticated skills in policy analysis, research, and administration. With an ever-growing and diverse student body, the programs are continually expanding and enhancing their course offerings to meet both academic and practitioner needs. Currently, the programs serve over 400 students both onsite and online, including a large number of international students.

In both academic and administrative roles, the Assistant Program Director supports the curriculums, students, and adjunct faculty. The Assistant Program Director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Program Directors and other faculty within the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, as well as across other AAP programs, including the Applied Economics and Communication programs.

The Assistant Program Director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer, commensurate with experience. The Assistant Program Director reports to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, who consults with the Program Chair on academic matters, and to the Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, who leads the Advanced Academic Programs and reports to the Dean of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences.

The Assistant Program Director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities:

Teach 6 graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both on-site in the Washington, DC Center and online), using best practices for teaching, engaging, and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, and responding to student questions

Advise students, including both program and research/capstone advising

Provide input on the curriculums and new course development to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs

Other academic duties normally performed by full-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, or contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities:

Assist with the management of degree concentrations or areas of focus

Participate in the adjunct faculty hiring and development processes

Assist the Program Directors with administrative tasks, such as planning events and reviewing admission materials

Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications:

The Assistant Program Director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The Assistant Program Director must have a passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for international, part-time, and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in public administration, public policy, or political economy, or in a relevant field such as government or political science; other terminal degrees in these or related fields may be considered
- 1-3 years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- The ability to teach a variety of courses in one or more of the following areas: public administration, policy analysis and evaluation, public financial management and budgeting, political economy
- Strong organizational skills
- Excellent oral and written communication skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- 1-3 years of related professional experience within the areas of public policy, program management, or budget/financial analysis, including but not limited to positions in government (federal, state, or local), think tanks and public policy research organizations, advocacy associations, and nonprofits focused on public policy issues.
- Experience managing a degree or certificate program
- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design
- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions:

For consideration, interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/110584>):

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position
- CV
- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10547

Massachusetts Institute of TechnologyRank: Postdoctoral Associate

POSTDOCTORAL ASSOCIATE, Political Science, to join a National Science Foundation-funded computational social science research project with Professor In Song Kim. The project focuses on using computational methods to examine special interest group politics and trade politics in the U.S. Responsibilities include analyzing lobbying and campaign donation data and developing/maintaining a large-scale money in politics database. The team is currently developing novel computational methods for social science research, such as community detection and graphical neural network methods to infer political networks; and NLP methods to investigate congressional bill writing and entity disambiguation. The position offers an opportunity to engage in independent research projects according to the candidate's substantive research interests/background.

Job Requirements

REQUIRED: Ph.D. (or an anticipated Ph.D. completion by May 2023) in and research experience with computational social science, political science, computer science, economics, or a related field; ability to work independently with general supervision and as part of a team; experience working with remote servers (Linux CLI, AWS); Python/Git development skills; and knowledge of SQL and relational database modeling.

PREFERRED: experience with data-driven social sciences; experience with large-scale data handling; knowledge of Postgres.

Visa support provided

A complete application should include (as a single PDF) a cover letter that includes your earliest preferred start date, a curriculum vitae, and a two-to-four-page research statement. Please send that by email to insong@mit.edu. The subject line should be MIT Postdoctoral Associate Application. Applications will be reviewed as they are received, and the position will remain open until filled.

There is a targeted start date of May 2023 (though there may be flexibility to start earlier or later). It is a one-year term appointment with the possibility of renewal based on funding and performance.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10534

Princeton University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor, American Politics

The Department of Politics and the Princeton School of Public and International Affairs are seeking applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenured faculty position in American politics. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels and research at the highest level of excellence. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and school and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26804>.

Applicants should submit a letter of interest along with a vita, but no publications or other writings. Publications may be requested at a later date. References will not be contacted at this time, but may be contacted later in the review process. We will begin reviewing applications on September 12, 2022.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10535

Arizona State University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor Job Code #99382

Specializations: Leadership Studies, Political Thought: Historical, Constitutional Law & Theory

Associate/Full Professor (Job #99382)

School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership

Arizona State University

Associate Director, School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership

Arizona State University invites applications for the position of Associate Director of the School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership (SCETL), a tenured faculty member in the School who will provide senior administrative leadership based on extensive and successful experience. U.S. News and World Report has ranked Arizona State University (ASU) as the most innovative university in the country for the past seven years, ahead of Stanford and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Contributing to that no. 1 ranking is the new School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership, which aims to create a new kind of leader by blending tradition and innovation, and blending liberal arts and civic education. SCETL plays a leading role in the intellectual and civic life of ASU and the various communities that it serves.

DESCRIPTION: The School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership (SCETL), entering its sixth year, is a growing academic and civic enterprise with an undergraduate major and minor, undergraduate PPE certificate, an M.A. degree in Classical Liberal Education and Leadership, an ambitious speakers program – the Civic Discourse Project – and two Centers for research and public outreach. The Center for Political Thought and Leadership (CPTL) focuses on civic education, especially American political and constitutional thought, for a broad public and for higher education and particularly for K-12 schools. The Center for the Study of Economic Liberty pursues national and international research on economic thought, debates about markets, and policies affecting economic liberty.

The Associate Director of the School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership (SCETL) will be a tenured faculty member in the School, holding significant administrative leadership roles along with teaching and research expectations. The Associate Director will support the Director with internal leadership and administration of the School in its complex array of missions, and with selected external relations and duties; including the Director's efforts on strategic planning, internal governance with SCETL's faculty advisory committee, and special committee assignments; and coordination with the Center directors, SCETL faculty leaders, and SCETL senior staff. The Associate Director also will support development efforts and coordinate with SCETL's Board of Counselors, a distinguished group of political and civic leaders.

DUTIES: In addition to the specific duties associated with the above description, the SCETL Associate Director will be expected to meet the normal requirements of a regular faculty member at ASU: to have an active, productive, and nationally recognized research agenda in accordance with ASU's status as an R1 research institution, and to engage in regular teaching (with a reduced course load given administrative duties). Further, the Associate Director will be a crucial leader in the continued development of the undergraduate and graduate curricula and programs, faculty hiring, retention and promotion, and development of broader aspects of the School's blended educational and civic mission.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. by time of appointment in Political Science, Philosophy, History, American Studies, or a related field. Applicants must also possess a record of research activity sufficient for tenure at an R1 research university, with some focus on American political thought, leadership, and civic education.

DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Stronger applicants will have an ongoing independent research agenda focusing on American political thought and constitutional law, American political development, and/or civic education; supported by an extensive record of successful publications both in academic and popular outlets; and some research or teaching focus on civic education and on leadership. Stronger applicants also will have successful and extensive experience in both building and administering academic programs; supervising and collaborating with faculty leaders and senior support staff; working successfully with university administration and leaders; acquiring external funding; serving as a public spokesperson for an academic program with the media and community leaders; and with connecting an academic program to statewide, regional, and national networks in research, education, and the strengthening of American civic life.

The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences within ASU values our demographic, cultural, and intellectual diversity, and continually strives to foster a welcoming and inclusive environment. We are especially interested in applicants who can strengthen the diversity of the academic community. Learn more about what The College has to offer by visiting <https://thecollege.asu.edu/faculty>.

Application Deadline and Procedure: The application deadline is September 3, 2022; if not filled, every two weeks thereafter until search is closed. To apply, submit application materials to apply.interfolio.com/110120 1) curriculum vitae; 2) cover letter addressing your interest and qualifications (addressed to Search Committee Chair, Dr. Ross Emmett); 3) contact information (including email addresses) for three references; 4) a statement addressing how your past and/or potential contributions to demographic, cultural, and intellectual diversity and inclusion will advance ASU's commitment to inclusive excellence. Anticipated start date is July 1, 2023.

For further information, contact Associate Director Search Committee, School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership, at apply-interfolio.com/110120 ; or the search committee Chair: Dr. Ross Emmett, email Ross.Emmett@asu.edu.

A background check is required prior to employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. ASU's full non-discrimination policy (ACD 401) is located on the ASU website at <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html> and <https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>. In compliance with federal law, ASU prepares an annual report on campus security and fire safety programs and resources. ASU's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is available online at <https://www.asu.edu/police/PDFs/ASU-Clery-Report.pdf>. You may request a hard copy of the report by contacting the ASU Police Department at 480-965-3456.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 7/3/2023

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10531

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant or Associate Director of Presidential Studies

The University of Virginia's Miller Center (millercenter.org) seeks an ASSISTANT or ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF PRESIDENTIAL STUDIES (depending on experience) to work closely with the Director of Presidential Studies to develop and implement the overall strategy and manage day-to-day operations of the Center's flagship programs in Presidential Studies. The Assistant or Associate Director develops and implements initiatives that further the mission of the Center, providing budgetary and administrative oversight, directly coordinating and scheduling presidential studies events both on and off site, and working with faculty in fulfilling the Center's research agenda. The Assistant or Associate Director manages one full-time coordinator and manages student engagement in Miller Center programs and events. This position is a University Staff position.

Qualifications

- Master's degree required, Ph.D. preferred, preferably in U.S. history, political science, law, or a related field
- To be considered at the Assistant level, five years of experience is required. To be considered at the Associate level, seven years of experience is required.

For a full position description, including responsibilities, additional qualifications, and additional position information, see https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Assistant-or-Associate-Director-of-Presidential-Studies_R0038073.

To Apply

Apply at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Assistant-or-Associate-Director-of-Presidential-Studies_R0038073. Complete an application online with the following documents:

- Resume/CV
- Cover letter
- Three (3) writing samples – samples of past work that are relevant to this role or on a related subject matter

Start Date:

Date Posted: 7/23/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10524

Union College

Rank: Joseph B. Board Professor of Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science and Environmental Science, Policy, and Engineering (ESPE) Program at Union College invite applications for the Joseph B. Board Professor of Environmental Policy. This is a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the Political Science Department, with the successful candidate contributing courses to Political Science as well as the ESPE Program. This endowed position includes a salary supplement and an annual allowance to support research and travel. The position will begin in fall 2023 and is conditional on budget.

We will hire a faculty member with expertise in environmental policy with a strong preference for a focus on climate policy. We also welcome applicants with additional teaching interests in (but not limited to) one or more of the following: environmental/climate justice, environmental law, the U.S. policymaking process, environmental activism, or global environmental politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach Introduction to U.S. Politics and the Environmental Science and Policy Senior Seminar (on a topic in their area of expertise) as well as advise a combination of Political Science and ESPE senior projects. Other advanced-level policy courses will be appropriate for Political Science and ESPE students. Union College recognizes the rich possibilities of interdisciplinary studies by offering many opportunities for both faculty and students to engage with multiple disciplines – and each other – in collaborative classroom settings, innovative majors, and unique research initiatives. The successful hire will contribute courses to ESPE and potentially other interdisciplinary programs, depending on their areas of expertise.

Union College is a leading national undergraduate liberal arts college located in Schenectady, NY, a culturally rich and economically diverse city in New York State's Capital Region, and is within three hours from New York City, Boston, and Montreal. Union offers highly competitive salary and benefits. For more information on benefits, please visit our website: <https://www.union.edu/human-resources/benefits>.

The normal teaching load is six courses across a trimester system. Normally, faculty supervise senior projects that count for one course of the teaching load. Tenure track hires have a one course load reduction in their first year and receive additional research support. Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness will be important, as will evidence of research achievements and an agenda for future work. Candidates with a Ph.D. are preferred, though ABD candidates who will complete their degree requirements by September 1, 2023 will be considered.

Union College is an equal opportunity employer and strongly committed to student and workforce diversity. Union provides a blend of intellectual, social and cultural opportunities to facilitate the integrated academic, social and personal development of a diverse community. We value and are committed to a host of diverse populations and cultures including, but not limited to, those based on race, religion, disability, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national origin and veteran status. Increasing diversity on campus is a critical priority for Union, one that is integral to our mission of preparing students for a globally interconnected world. Our goal is not only to increase diversity, but to support a diverse environment in which people from varied backgrounds can succeed and thrive. As such, we welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field and we ask all applicants to address in their cover letter the ways in which their candidacy represents a commitment to the ideals of joining a community of diverse faculty, students, and staff.

To ensure applications receive full consideration, they should be submitted by September 9, 2022. Please upload a cover letter, CV, a sample of scholarly work, teaching evaluations, and other relevant teaching materials to jobs.union.edu. You will be asked to include names and contact information for three references through our online application system. An email will be sent automatically to references requesting a letter of recommendation.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/21/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10512

Alfred University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track: Political Science and Government

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Africa, Gender Politics & Policy, Social Welfare

The Division of Social Sciences in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Alfred University invites applications for a tenure-track position in political science at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2023.

We are seeking someone to teach standard introductory-level and upper-division courses on topics that will interest a broad range of students. Along with courses in their area(s) of interest, the successful candidate will regularly teach our introductory course in American politics and courses in judicial processes and constitutional law. We will give preference to applicants who can teach political theory, identity politics, and/or political institutions such as the presidency and bureaucracy. Candidates with a demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary programs such as Women's and Gender Studies, Social Justice Studies, or Africana Studies are strongly encouraged to apply. We require applicants to have a Ph.D. in political science prior to appointment.

The Division of Social Sciences, which includes political science, sociology, criminal justice studies, and anthropology, is particularly interested in developing interdisciplinary collaborative courses, innovative technologies, and experiential learning. The successful candidate will teach three courses (four credit hours each) per semester. Additional teaching opportunities in the summer and winter breaks are available.

One of the first co-educational institutions in the United States, Alfred University is a top-ranked, small, comprehensive university committed to teaching and research and devoted to pursuing technical expertise, artistic creativity, and humanistic learning. Located in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains in western New York State, Alfred University has around 1800 full and part-time undergraduate and graduate students and 150 fulltime faculty. In 2003, the University was awarded a Phi Beta Kappa chapter.

To apply submit the following materials:

-letter of interest
-curriculum vitae
-graduate transcripts
-Candidates should also have three references send their confidential letters
of recommendation to humanresources@alfred.edu

We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th and continue until the position is filled. Application materials should highlight the candidate's experience in or plans for promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion through teaching, research, and service.

Please apply here: <https://alfreduniversity.applytojob.com/apply/7GYyflIueG/Assistant-Professor-Tenure-Track-Political-Science-And-Government>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10507

SUNY, University at Albany

Rank: Assistant Professor

Rockefeller College of Public Affairs seeks an Assistant Professor in the field of American Politics. This is a tenure-track appointment in the Department of Political Science. The course load is four courses a year. The department's priority is a scholar who addresses big questions in American politics, including those related to democracy, justice, or equality. Examples of relevant research topics include those pertaining to the role of institutions, polarization, racial politics, democratic backsliding, and social movements. We are open to methodological diversity and welcome historical perspectives. The department expects that the successful applicant will teach the introductory course in American Politics. Candidates who are poised to seek external funding will be viewed favorably. Contributing to the diversity of the department will also be considered a plus. Candidates should also be willing to teach courses in online formats when specific needs arise. Applicants should have their Ph.D. in hand by May 2023.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science or in an appropriate related discipline, with a specialization in American Politics, by May 2023.
- A record of, or demonstrated potential for, successfully publishing research and teaching courses on topics that address big questions in American Politics, including those related to democracy, justice, or equality. (Examples of relevant research topics include those pertaining to the role of institutions, polarization, racial politics, democratic backsliding, and social movements.)
- A record of, or demonstrated potential for, effectively teaching an introductory course in American Politics.

Preferred Qualifications:

- A record of, or demonstrated potential for, seeking external funding for their research.
- Experience with successfully teaching a diverse student population.
- Experience with successfully teaching courses in an online format.
- An ability to collaborate effectively with faculty, staff, and students across a broad range of research, teaching, and service-related tasks.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act, or Clery Act, mandates that all Title IV institutions, without exception, prepare, publish and distribute an Annual Security Report. This report consists of two basic parts: disclosure of the University's crime statistics for the past three years; and disclosures regarding the University's current campus security policies. The University at Albany's Annual Security Report is available in portable document format [PDF] by clicking this link <http://police.albany.edu/ASR.shtml>

Pursuant to Executive Order 161, no State entity, as defined by the Executive Order, is permitted to ask, or mandate, in any form, that an applicant for employment provide his or her current compensation, or any prior compensation history, until such time as the applicant is extended a conditional offer of employment with compensation. If such information has been requested from you before such time, please contact the Governor's Office of Employee Relations at (518) 474-6988 or via email at info@goer.ny.gov.

THE UNIVERSITY AT ALBANY IS AN EO/AA/IRCA/ADA EMPLOYER

Please apply online via <http://albany.interviewexchange.com/candapply.jsp?JOBID=150277>

Applicants MUST submit the following documents:

- CV
- Statement of interest
- Graduate transcript
- Writing sample or publication
- Available evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., syllabi, student evaluations, and/or teaching statement)
- Contact information for three references

A review of applications will begin on September 6, 2022, and the search will remain open until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10502

Franklin & Marshall College

Rank: Assistant Professor or Instructor, Political Theory

Specializations: Political Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics, Political Behavior

Franklin & Marshall College invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Department of Government beginning Fall Semester 2023. The rank will be Assistant Professor or Instructor depending on qualifications. Applicants should possess or be close to completing a doctorate degree. We are interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching focus on some aspect of modern political theory. They should also demonstrate the ability to teach a course on racial justice and other upper level courses that address contemporary political problems. In addition, candidates should be able to contribute to the College's general education program, Connections. Faculty maintain active research programs and contribute to the College's shared governance.

Candidates must submit the following items electronically via Interfolio: (<http://apply.interfolio.com/108951>): a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s) (unofficial copies are fine), teaching and research statements, diversity statement, teaching evaluations and/or teaching observations, and names of three references (NOTE: letters of reference will be solicited at a later stage, and once they are solicited referees will need to supply them within three weeks). For full consideration, applications should be received by September 24, 2022.

Pursuant to cultivating an inclusive college community, the search committee will holistically assess the qualifications of each applicant. We will consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds. We will also consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to academic success.

Franklin & Marshall College is committed to having an inclusive campus community where all members are treated with dignity and respect. As an Equal Opportunity Employer, the College does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices on the basis of gender, sex, race, ethnicity, color, national origin, religion, age, disability, family or marital status, sexual orientation, or any protected characteristic. Individuals who need accommodation due to a disability in order to submit an application or to otherwise participate in the employment process should contact the department's academic coordinator, Paulina Erazo Ayala, (717) 358-3961, paulina.erazoayala@fandm.edu.

Franklin and Marshall College is committed to providing a safe and productive learning, living and working community. To assist in achieving this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective applicants being considered for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/15/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10499

Furman University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor American Politics

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Criminal Justice

The candidate will teach five courses per year, including introductory courses in American government and upper-level courses in constitutional law. The ability to offer classes in jurisprudence, legal theory, criminology, civil rights (including voting rights, immigration, criminal justice reform), and other related areas would be particularly welcome. The candidate must demonstrate the potential for superb teaching, excellence in scholarship, and a commitment to mentoring underrepresented students. The person hired must possess the Ph.D. by August 1, 2023. Candidates with a J.D. degree and a license to practice law in the United States are particularly encouraged to apply.

The Politics and International Affairs Department is a large department with specialists in all major political science fields. The Department is committed to diversity, equity, inclusion and a community where every member is treated with dignity. All are welcome to participate in the department's life and the respectful exploration of ideas. The candidate should show interest in and aptitude for contributing to this endeavor.

Applicants should submit to Workday jobs (https://furman.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/Furman_Careers)

a single PDF that includes: a cover letter with a statement of teaching philosophy and description of research agenda, a statement describing how their teaching, scholarship, mentoring, and service might contribute to a liberal arts college community that includes a commitment to diversity as one of its core values; sample course syllabi; teaching evaluations; a copy of graduate transcript(s); and at least one writing sample, preferably single-authored. Candidates also should submit three letters of recommendation to the Department of Politics and International Affairs Department Assistant at Leesie.mappes@furman.edu.

The successful candidate will have the ability to work with historically underrepresented students, including students of color, and be committed to assisting the university in its continuing efforts to become a model of inclusive excellence.

We will begin reviewing applications on September 30, 2022, and continue until the position is filled. We will also meet with interested and qualified candidates at the American Political Science Association convention in Montreal, Canada.

To apply, please go to https://furman.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/Furman_Careers

For any questions, please contact the chairperson of the search committee, Teresa Cosby, at Teresa.cosby@furman.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/15/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10497

St. Olaf College

Rank: Visiting Instructor or Assistant Professor

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Latino Politics, African American Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, one-year position in Research Methods and American Politics at the level of Instructor or Assistant Professor, to begin August 2022. The successful candidate will be able to research methods to undergraduate students, as well as courses in American Politics. Ability to teach a course on race and politics is especially desired.

The department is particularly interested in applicants who can and will advance the College's goals for diversity equity and inclusion. We request that in the letter of application, candidates address their potential to contribute to the St. Olaf community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We strongly encourage applications from Black, Indigenous, and people of color and members of other underrepresented groups in accordance with our equity goals.

Applicants must submit materials online at <https://stolaf.hiretouch.com/faculty-postings>. A complete application includes:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

The contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship.

Review of applications will begin as soon as possible and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by July 25, 2022 will receive fullest consideration.

Questions about the position, department, or college may be directed to Douglas Casson, Department Chair, at casson@stolaf.edu. Applicants who need assistance with the online application process should call 507-786-3356.

One of the nation's leading liberal arts colleges, St. Olaf College serves 3,000 students, ranks #1 among U.S. colleges for the number of students studying abroad, and celebrates carbon-free electrical power. Its mission is to challenge students to excel in the liberal arts, examine faith and values, and explore meaningful vocation in an inclusive, globally engaged community nourished by Lutheran tradition. The college is located on a picturesque 300-acre campus in Northfield, Minnesota, a vibrant, restored, historic river town of 20,000 located 45 minutes south of the Twin Cities.

To provide a safe and secure educational environment, St. Olaf College verifies the accuracy of all credentials presented by applicants and conducts a criminal background check on every new hire.

St. Olaf College requires all employees to be fully vaccinated for COVID-19 (medical and religious exemptions may apply).

St. Olaf College is an equal employment opportunity and voluntary affirmative action employer. The College is committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment for all members of our community. With regard to its hiring and employment practices, the College prohibits all forms of discrimination and harassment based upon an individual's legally protected status including race, color, creed, national origin, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, religion, disability, marital status, veteran status, or status with regard to public assistance.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/13/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10488

Siena College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

About Siena College:

Located in Loudonville, New York-just 10 minutes from the state capital of Albany, the Siena experience is built for a new generation of leaders eager to create a more just, peaceful and humane world. Each year, more than 3,000 Saints are empowered through a transformative journey of intellectual, spiritual and personal discovery. The Education for a Lifetime is made possible through a workforce of highly qualified and competent faculty, administrators and staff committed to fulfilling the Siena mission.

Job Description:

The Department of Political Science & International Relations at Siena College invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position in the area of American Political Institutions at the Assistant Professor level to begin in the Fall of 2023.

As a liberal arts institution, we seek candidates with a demonstrated commitment to teaching excellence. The successful candidate will teach a regular three course load each semester, with primary responsibility for courses in American Political Institutions, such as Congress, The Presidency, and Political Parties. The position will also contribute to our research methods sequence, which covers both quantitative and qualitative research methods. We encourage applications from candidates with research and teaching interests in race & ethnic politics, public administration, or political representation.

Job Requirements:

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a related discipline by the time of appointment.

A background screening is required.

Additional Information:

Siena College is committed to attracting, supporting, and retaining a diverse faculty. We actively encourage applications from women, minorities, non-US citizens, members of the LGBTQ+ community, persons with disabilities, veterans, and others from under-represented groups who may make a positive contribution to the diversification of ideas and perspectives.

Siena College is an equal opportunity employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation or gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

A COVID-19 vaccination is required for employees pursuant to the COVID-19 policy.

If a foreign national applicant is selected for a qualifying position, the College will sponsor and prepare petitions with the U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services Bureau of the Department of Homeland Security ("USCIS") to obtain H-1B status in the United States, which will allow them to work at the College for a specified period of time. Only specialty occupations will qualify for H-1B status under applicable federal law.

Application Procedure:

Applications should include a cover letter, a curriculum vita, a description of teaching philosophy that includes examples of how you address diversity and inclusion in the classroom, and contact information for three references. Finalists will be required to submit evidence of teaching effectiveness (including syllabi and teaching evaluations) and three letters of recommendation. Please submit your application through the Interview Exchange portal used by Siena College. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Daniel Lewis at dlewis@siena.edu. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. <http://siena.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=150089>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/11/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10478

University of Missouri, St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Extension Professor in Community Development

The University of Missouri St. Louis Political Science department seeks to recruit a faculty member with experience in community development. The incumbent will engage with University of Missouri Extension (MU Extension) Business and Communities Program and build effective working relationships with others across campus, across the UM System and throughout the state to help support an integrated approach to community development and food systems in Missouri. This is a 1.0 FTE, non-tenure track position. Assignments are subject to annual negotiation between the faculty member and leadership.

Faculty with MU Extension appointments are commonly known as Specialists, with titles that indicate geographic focus and programmatic specialization. Specialists provide educational opportunities that enable businesses, farms, families, and communities to strengthen the economy and enhance quality of life. Additionally, specialists create partnerships with civic and business organizations, educational institutions, local and state leaders, and key stakeholders to identify priorities, increase resources, and determine how research-based education can best meet the needs of residents.

The Community Development program works collaboratively with communities to foster economic development, leadership development, community decision making, community emergency preparedness, food systems alignment and inclusive communities. For more information on community development programs, visit <https://extension2.missouri.edu/programs/community-leadership>

The Assistant Extension Professor in Community Development will:

- Contribute to high-impact applied research in community development and civic capacity through applied research on community belonging, civic contribution, collective leadership and with special attention to mechanisms that drive vitality and thriving communities in key areas such as food systems, broadband access, housing, and economic development.
- Develop and deliver community development programming through preparing curriculum, offering in-service education (ISE) classes to field faculty, delivering train-the-trainer programs
- Strengthen MU Extension programs & resources to support effective civic capacity-building through evidence-based research and evaluation
- Identify, secure, and manage competitive external funding opportunities
- Support Community Development Extension faculty by providing mentoring and evaluation resources for faculty related to community development and community planning tools
- Support scaling of successful programming through expansion fidelity and accountability
- Lead collaborative initiatives to address Missouri Food Systems challenges
- Work with UM System units on data, mapping, and utilizing geospatial technologies for community development and civic capacity building outcomes
- Write research reports and briefs; synthesize and present findings to key stakeholders
- Publish in appropriate peer-reviewed scientific journals and extension outlets and present at appropriate regional and national meetings
- Direct student research and outreach projects
- Participate in public, professional, and internal service activities
- Connect the resources of UMSL Economic Community Development academic home to the Extension field faculty
- Develop and support certificate offerings in UMSL continuing education
- Work with UMSL Geospatial Collaborative on community engaged research and projects.
- May include teaching courses within the UMSL Political Science department.
- Other duties as assigned.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 7/24/2022

Date Posted: 7/11/2022

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 10480

Santa Clara University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Urban Politics, Social Movements

The Department of Political Science at Santa Clara University, a Jesuit, Catholic university, seeks applicants for a tenure-track assistant professor position in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics.

We are especially interested in scholars who focus on public policy, urban politics, or social movements. We seek a teacher-scholar with demonstrated commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching and scholarly achievement. We are open to applications from those in disciplines closely related to political science and especially interested in candidates with a policy focus that will contribute to the Department's Public-Sector Studies Emphasis. This position is part of a cluster hire in Race, Inequality, and Social Justice. The other participating departments are Art & Art History, English, Psychology, Public Health, and Religious Studies. The position will begin on September 1, 2023.

Applicants must have a Ph.D. at the time of appointment and a clear research trajectory, with experience teaching at the university level and a record of publication strongly preferred. The person we hire will teach a lower-division course in U.S. Politics, upper-division courses in their area of specialty, and either qualitative or quantitative research methods.

For full consideration, applications should be submitted by September 2, 2022 at <https://www.scu.edu/hr/careers/>. Applicants should submit: (1) a cover letter addressing teaching and research interests, teaching philosophy, and experience or interest in working with people of diverse cultures and identities, (2) a CV, (3) sample syllabi and teaching evaluations, (4) a writing sample of no more than 40 pages, and (5) unofficial graduate transcripts. Three confidential letters of recommendation must be emailed directly to the department manager, Casey Robertson, at crobertson2@scu.edu by either the recommenders or a dossier service. For further information about the search, please contact the department chair, Greg Corning, at gcorning@scu.edu.

Located in the heart of northern California's Silicon Valley, Santa Clara is a private, Jesuit, Catholic university committed to promoting social justice in a comprehensive educational setting. Faculty are teaching-scholars who balance a commitment to quality teaching with active programs of research. SCU is on the quarter system and a typical teaching load is two courses per quarter. Faculty receive scholarship support through sabbaticals and travel funds. Housing assistance is available.

Santa Clara University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer committed to the strategic goal of enriching the quality of our community of scholars by increasing the diversity among faculty, staff, and students. Women, persons of color, and members of historically underrepresented groups who can contribute to this goal are especially encouraged to apply and to identify their strengths, experiences, or interests related to achieving this goal in their letter of application.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/2/2022

Date Posted: 7/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10475

St. Norbert College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Political Science

St. Norbert College, a nationally ranked, residential, liberal arts institution with a stable enrollment of 1,900 students, invites applications for a tenure track position as an Assistant Professor in Political Science to begin August 2023. A Ph.D. in Political Science at the time of appointment and strong background in American institutions are required. Commitment to excellence in teaching undergraduates in Political Science and general education courses in a liberal arts setting is essential. Responsibilities include teaching three classes per semester, advising students, maintaining an active research agenda, and providing service to the institution and/or community. The successful candidate will regularly teach Parties and Elections and Congress and the Presidency, as well as an introductory multicultural American politics and government course. An interest in teaching research methods and/or basic statistics for undergraduates will also be considered. Other course assignments will be based on departmental needs and the successful candidate's expertise.

St. Norbert College offers competitive salaries and excellent benefits.

About St. Norbert College

St. Norbert College, located on the ancestral home of the Menominee Nation, is a thriving, nationally ranked Catholic liberal arts college known for its academic excellence, global focus, and leadership and service opportunities. We acknowledge the living history and contributions of the Indigenous communities that inhabited this land prior to the establishment of St. Norbert College, as well as the sovereign Native American Nations who continue to contribute to the flourishing of our communities.

Situated on an attractive, riverside campus in De Pere, Wisconsin -- a community contiguous with the city of Green Bay, St. Norbert -- St. Norbert is the only college in the world sponsored by the Norbertines, a Catholic order devoted to community, education, and serving the needs of others.

The division of Academic Affairs provides safe, inclusive, and anti-racist educational and work experiences for our faculty, staff, and students of color, congruent with our Catholic, Norbertine, and liberal arts values. Therefore, we invite candidates who have research interests, pedagogical experience or lived experience that demonstrates a commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion and belonging to join our community of teaching and learning. We are seeking to hire several new faculty members across the college as part of a cohort of scholars who are committed to meeting together, working as a group to infuse equity, diversity, inclusion and belonging (EDIB) into the curriculum. This past year we conducted a national search to hire an inaugural dean of curriculum and senior diversity officer, which highlights the importance of EDIB work in the curriculum.

As one of the nation's top Catholic liberal arts colleges, St. Norbert builds on the beliefs and practices of an ancient religious order while responding to the current needs of its students and communities. Today at St. Norbert College, the spirit of Norbert of Xanten, who founded the Norbertine order of priests in the twelfth century, lives through this modern, bustling community dedicated to transforming and empowering its students. The college has seen remarkable development in the past decade, particularly the construction and renovation of more than $150 million in campus facilities and infrastructure. St. Norbert is characterized by recent strong enrollments, as evidenced over the past ten years by the largest, most diverse, and most talented first-year classes in the college's history.

At St. Norbert College, a holistic approach to students characterizes the curriculum and classroom; faculty use their award-winning research to challenge and encourage students to greater curiosity, and students learn and collaborate both in and outside the classroom in an integrated experience. St. Norbert College is organized into four academic divisions – Humanities, Natural Sciences, Social Sciences, and Visual & Performing Arts – and the Donald J. Schneider School of Business & Economics.

How to Apply

Applications - consisting of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, writing sample, statement of teaching philosophy and statement addressing the candidate's commitment to EDIB - should be submitted by clicking on the apply now link on this page. In addition, please have three letters of recommendation sent to susan.sorenson@snc.edu (Administrative Specialist, Social Sciences), addressed to Dr. Bola Delano-Oriaran, Dean of Social Sciences. Full consideration will be given to all applications received by October 15. Applications may be sent in complete confidence.

Further information about St. Norbert College is available at www.snc.edu. Questions may be directed to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Wendy Scattergood, at wendy.scattergood@snc.edu.

St. Norbert College is an equal-opportunity employer and is committed to enhancing the diversity of people, ideas, and talents. We welcome individuals with diverse experiences, backgrounds, and skills to join our college community in our pursuit of inclusion and excellence. Women and individuals from underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply.

St. Norbert College, a Catholic institution rooted in the Norbertine tradition, welcomes applications from members of all backgrounds and faith traditions. The College's mission emphasizes the Norbertine vision of community and includes providing "an educational environment that fosters intellectual, spiritual and personal development." We seek those who will contribute to our mission and support our commitment to building a vibrant, diverse and spiritually engaged community. Mission Statement

The College offers an outstanding benefits package including health, dental, and life insurance, retirement plan, paid time-off, and tuition waiver.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/7/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10471

George Washington University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a one-year position as a visiting professor with a specialization in American Politics and Theory. The candidate hired will teach a 3-3 course load of undergraduate classes during the 2022-2023 academic year.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field, with specialization in American Politics and Theory. Applicants must have experience teaching undergraduate courses.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/94001>; upload a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching experience; evidence of teaching effectiveness, preferably student evaluations; and include the names of three references (letters of recommendation are not required). Review of applications will begin on 8/5/2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered. Please note the University has an ongoing mandate for all personnel to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

The university and department have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply.

Successful completion of a Background Screening will be required as a condition of hire.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 8/5/2022

Date Posted: 7/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10466

James Madison University

Rank: Interim Associate Director, Madison Center for Civic Engagement

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Open

The Madison Center for Civic Engagement at James Madison University, housed in the College of Arts and Letters, invites applications for an interim associate director to begin in August 2022 for a two-year term. The Madison Center, a non-partisan, high-profile administrative entity, is hiring this position to support and reinvigorate its mission of strengthening democracy for the common good. We are looking for collegial candidates who can situate their work within wider conversations in the humanities and social sciences, create engaging civic initiatives on campus and in our community, and support the JMU and Academic Affairs strategic plans. We also seek a motivated colleague who will build and maintain productive relationships with relevant stakeholders across the university, as well as with strategic partners in our community, commonwealth, and nation—including grant writing opportunities.

Duties and Responsibilities:

The interim associate director reports to the executive director and will contribute to the direction and branding of the center. This is a 12-month, PhD level, administrative and professional faculty position. Specific duties include the following:

- Collaborate with academic units and Student Affairs to integrate civic learning into major requirements, and co-curricular programs and activities.
- Provide administrative support and guidance for student-led voter registration and education initiatives.
- Help support and expand the center's ongoing efforts in diversity, equity, and inclusion.

- Help develop the curriculum and capstone project plan for the Certificate Program in Civic Engagement with the executive director and relevant partners.
- Identify and execute grant writing opportunities in partnership with the Executive Director (note: funding for the position is not dependent on securing grant funding).
- Supervise relevant capstone projects and delegate capstone projects to faculty for the certificate program (2023 at the earliest).
- Supervise Democracy Fellows, which includes identifying and delegating projects, evaluating performance, hiring new fellows in the fall when necessary.
- Expand voter education and engagement together with Democracy Fellows and the executive director.
- Collaborate with SCHEV, Virginia Campus Compact, and other university-based public service organizations on initiatives (together with executive director).
- Conduct research, publish, and present findings at relevant national conferences, helping build a national profile of the center.
- Other duties as assigned.

Required Qualifications:

- PhD
- Ongoing research agenda in relevant field
- Curriculum development experience
- Excellent organizational, interpersonal, written and oral communication, and management skills
- Demonstrated appreciation of diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Commitment to non-partisanship when representing JMU and the James Madison Center for Civic Engagement

Preferred Qualifications:

- Supervision experience
- Grant writing experience
- Student event planning experience
- Experience developing and implementing effective voter registration and education initiatives
- Working knowledge of national organizations supporting civic engagement in higher education
- Experience creating and implementing programs for college students

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/6/2022

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 10462

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Princeton Research Lab on Politics, Race and Experimental Methods

The Department of Politics at Princeton University seeks a postdoctoral or more senior research associate for a 12-month position to support ongoing research on race and ethnic politics and experimental methods. The selected candidate will maintain their own research agenda (approximately 15 hours per week) and work on collaborative projects with faculty affiliated with the newly formed Princeton Research Lab on Politics, Race, and Experimental Methods. In addition, the selected candidate will provide mentoring and supervision of graduate and undergraduate researchers affiliated with the lab in a team-based environment. The selected candidate will also help to manage data collection efforts, analyze data, and other research-related activities. Administrative duties will include lab management and arranging invitations and travel of external speakers. Finally, the selected candidate will be expected to participate in the broader intellectual life of the Politics Department at Princeton University. Start date is on September 6, 2022.

This is initially a one-year position with the possibility of renewal subject to satisfactory performance and available funding.

The position requires a recent Ph.D. in political science or a closely related field, completed no earlier than August 2019. Candidates must have strong training in research design and quantitative methods using both R and Stata.

Candidates must also have experience with experimental and quasi-experimental design and analysis and experience with survey design and implementation.

Candidates should apply at the following link (<https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=26541>) and submit a cover letter describing fit for the position, CV, the names of three references, graduate transcripts, a separate statement on diversity, equity, and inclusiveness in mentoring, and a solo-authored writing sample. Qualified candidates will be invited to participate in a virtual interview process. For best consideration, apply by July 15, 2022.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/6/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10468

University of Florida, George A Smathers Libraries

Rank: Political Science Librarian

JOB SUMMARY

The Political Science Librarian is a year-round (12 month), tenure track library faculty position at the George A. Smathers Libraries at the University of Florida. The position supports the research and academic programs of the Department of Political Science as well as interdisciplinary programs supported by the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Responsibilities include analyzing the University's programs in political science, managing collections to support political science research and teaching, and collaborating with other faculty and staff to provide support in the broader area of the social sciences. This position provides specialized subject area reference services, research consultations, and library instruction.

The Smathers Libraries are committed to creating a thoughtful, equitable, and inclusive culture that provides space for innovation and creativity. We support that commitment by offering a fulfilling work experience that allows for collaboration, growth, and development as well as shared perspectives.

To support all colleagues, students, faculty, and staff and foster excellence in a diverse and collaborative society, the libraries are actively seeking candidates who bring culturally rich lived experiences to work with individuals of diverse backgrounds, experiences, races, ethnicities, genders, sexual orientations, and perspectives.

The library encourages broad participation in reaching decisions and consequently the Political Science Librarian will contribute to discussions and provide input, and serve on various committees and teams.

The Political Science Librarian will pursue professional development opportunities, including research, publication, and professional service activities to meet library-wide criteria for tenure and promotion.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Develops relationships and collaborates with appropriate academic faculty and students including those in the Department of Political Science and interdisciplinary programs supported by the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. Collaborates with and supports affiliated centers and programs such as the Bob Graham Center for Public Service, Election Science Group, Florida Survey Research Center, and Centers for African, European, Jewish, and Latin American Studies, American Indian & Indigenous Studies, and the Graduate Certificate in Global Islamic Studies.
- Serves as the designated UF representative to the International Consortium for Political Science Research (ICPSR) and to the Florida Consortium for Political Research.
- Keeps informed of the development of academic programs and faculty interests to ensure that the Libraries' collections and services support curriculum and research needs and informs clientele about relevant Libraries' issues.
- Provides advanced reference and research consultation in support of political science studies, including the development of LibGuides and other online resources.
- Participates in outreach and instruction programs using traditional classroom and active learning methods and innovative educational technologies.
- Defines goals, establishes objectives, plans, and manages budgets, and coordinates collection development activities with other subject specialists and librarians, with respect to resources for political science studies and related collections.
- Analyzes the political science collection development program and activities, and provides reports, strategies, assessments, and studies or surveys as required for accreditation, strategic planning, and statistical reporting.
- Participates in the Humanities and Social Sciences general reference program.
- Facilitates access to political science data resources and statistical analysis tools in the social sciences.
- Actively engages in diversity, equity, and inclusion initiatives, supports diverse communities, and creates a welcoming environment for all.
- Pursues professional development opportunities including research, publication, grants, and professional service activities to meet library-wide criteria for tenure and promotion.

Required Qualifications:

- Master's degree in Library or Information Science from an ALA-accredited program, or advanced degree in political science or a related field with some library work experience.
- Bachelor's degree in political science or related social science discipline, or work experience in one of these subject areas.
- Familiarity with political science scholarly literature.
- Knowledge of quantitative and qualitative research methods.
- Ability to work both independently and collaboratively with faculty, students, administrators, and the public.
- Initiative, flexibility, and the ability to adapt and work creatively in a complex, rapidly-changing work environment.
- Evidence of competence in teaching, presentation, and/or training activities, integrating instructional technology when appropriate.
- Strong commitment to user-focused service.

- Record of including individuals of diverse backgrounds, experiences, races, ethnicities, gender identities, sexual orientation, and/or perspectives in research, teaching, service, and other work.
- Evidence of excellent interpersonal skills including oral and written communication.
- Strong potential to meet the requirements for tenure and promotion outlined in the departmental by-laws.

Preferred Qualifications:

- Advanced degree in political science or related field.
- Work experience in a library supporting the social sciences.
- Experience in collection management.
- Experience with or coursework in classroom instruction.
- Expertise with statistical analysis, data visualization, and related tools.

APPLICATION PROCESS

To apply, submit

- a cover letter detailing your interest in, and qualifications for this position
- your current resume or CV
- a list of three references including their contact information (telephone number and email address)
- a written statement (250 words) briefly describing your research interests and how those inform your professional practice as a librarian.

Apply by 11:55 pm (EST) on July 18, 2022 (applications will be reviewed as received). Submit all application materials through the Jobs at UF online application system at <https://explore.jobs.ufl.edu/en-us/job/522442/political-science-librarian>. Failure to submit the required documents may result in the application not being considered. If you have any questions or concerns about this process, please contact Joseph Piazza, George A. Smathers Libraries Human Resources Office.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 7/18/2022

Date Posted: 7/5/2022

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 10460

Saint Louis University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Tenure Track Assistant or Associate Professor in Political Science – American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Saint Louis University seeks applicants for a tenure track position in American politics starting in August 2023. We have multiple needs that include but are not limited to race and identity, American political development, and public policy. Previous teaching experience and a PhD in Political Science are preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered. The appointment will be at the level of Assistant or Associate Professor, depending on the candidate's qualifications. The teaching assignment is 2/2. The department offers a BA and MA and, in coordination with the Sociology/Anthropology department, a PhD in Public and Social Policy Studies.

To apply, we ask that applicants upload the following materials combined into a single pdf (see upload instructions below): (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter that includes research and teaching interests; (3) a statement of teaching philosophy; (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., recent teaching evaluations, officially produced if possible, and sample syllabi; 5) a research statement; and (6) a single-authored writing sample. Please have unofficial graduate transcripts sent to Ms. Claire Bruce at claire.bruce@slu.edu. Letters of recommendation are not required at this stage but will be accepted. We will request three letters of recommendation from shortlisted candidates after our initial review of applications. For questions about the position, please contact Dr. Steven Rogers, chair of the search committee, at steven.rogers@slu.edu, or call the department office, 314-977-3035. Review of applications will begin August 26 and will continue until the position is filled.

Application Upload Instructions: Please visit SLU's Workday portal at <https://slu.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/Careers>. When prompted to upload your Resume/CV on the "My Experience" page, please upload a single PDF of the documents requested above. SLU Workday applications must be completed in one sitting. You will not be able to revise your application once submitted.

Vaccine Protocol: Saint Louis University will require COVID-19 vaccinations for all students, staff, and faculty who are physically present on our St. Louis campuses. As a prospective and/or a new employee at Saint Louis University, you will be required to comply with the University's vaccination protocol. Proof of full vaccination will be required before the start of employment in order to work at Saint Louis University. If you are not vaccinated, you will be required to begin the vaccination process at the time of your first day of employment. Exemptions may be granted on the grounds of religious beliefs or medical circumstances.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10455

Claremont McKenna College

Rank: The Tuohy Chair in Government and Ethics

The Department of Government at Claremont McKenna College (CMC) invites applications for the Alice Tweed Tuohy Chair in Government and Ethics for a tenured Associate or Full Professorship. The position will begin on July 1, 2023. The department is interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching focus on the moral and ethical foundations of liberal democracy. Research and teaching topics of particular interest include the grounding of rights and republican government, the ethics and practice of civility and toleration, classical and modern ethics, democratic citizenship, political rhetoric and deliberation, political leadership, the relationship between politics and religion, the virtues and shortcomings of liberal democracy and market capitalism, and constitutionalism and the rule of law.

The ideal candidate will also be a teacher-scholar who can contribute to CMC's Open Academy Initiative, which articulates the College's foundational commitment to freedom of expression and open inquiry, diversity of viewpoint and experience, and constructive dialogue.

The teaching load is two courses per semester. The candidate must have demonstrated ability to maintain an active, high quality research program and to maintain the highest standards of excellence in teaching. The successful applicant will teach courses in their area of expertise, including one introductory course a year.

Given the College's commitment to cultivating an inclusive educational environment, we seek candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds, political opinions, genders, races, ethnicities, nationalities, sexual orientations, and religions.

Applications should include a cover letter; curriculum vitae; research statement; teaching statement that addresses the candidate's ability to teach, mentor, and inspire students representing a broad range of backgrounds; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and a writing sample. Applicants must also submit the names and e-mail addresses of three references; an email will be automatically sent to them with a link to upload their confidential recommendation letter. Please upload application materials at: https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty_opening.php.

Complete applications, including letters of recommendation, will be reviewed beginning October 20, 2022. Review of complete applications will continue until the position is filled. Preliminary interviews may be conducted via Zoom.

Claremont McKenna College is a highly selective undergraduate institution ranked among the top liberal arts colleges nationally. It is part of The Claremont Colleges, which also includes Pomona College, Scripps College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Claremont Graduate University, and Keck Graduate Institute. The Claremont Colleges consortium constitutes an academic community of more than 9,000 students. Claremont is located 35 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10453

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Virginia Commonwealth University College of Humanities and Sciences is recruiting a pool of adjunct faculty for AY2022-2023 course sections within the Department of Political Science. This pool will be utilized on an as-needed basis. Your application will remain active for a year; you may resubmit your application for subsequent years. Only those selected for an interview will be contacted.

We welcome applicants with a range of scholarly interests in the subfields of U.S. Government, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, Methodology, Civil Rights, Human Security, and Public Policy & Administration.

For AY2022-2023, we are especially interested in offering the following courses: Politics of Race, Class, and Gender; Research Methods in Political Science; and Political Theory.

Applicants are encouraged to visit the VCU POLI bulletin to see a list of the courses offered to our students: <http://bulletin.vcu.edu/undergraduate/college-humanities-sciences/political-science-program/#coursestext>.

Position Responsibilities:

Meet all designated course instruction guidelines; grade assignments and exams in a timely manner based on instructions/rubric provided; respond to student inquiries within 24 hours; and submit final grades according to College/Department policy.

Required Qualifications:

EDUCATION:

Master's degree, PhD, or other doctoral degree in a related field with experience and specialized expertise directly related to the position.

COMPETENCIES/EXPERIENCE:

Demonstrated teaching experience.

To apply, please click on "Apply Now" at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1965?c=vcu>. You will be asked to provide a cover letter, CV and contact information for two professional references.

Salary Range: $1,200 per credit hour

Contact Information:

Contact Name: Allie Reckendorf

Contact Email: anreckendorf@vcu.edu

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/28/2022

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 10447

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2022-2023 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF05035>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by July 15, 2022, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10444

Brown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position at the level of Assistant Professor in the subfield of American Political Behavior to begin July 1, 2023. We welcome applicants who use a variety of methodologies to study public opinion, political participation, and other topics relevant to understanding the behavior of individuals and groups in the United States. Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2023. Review of applications will begin September 20, 2022.

Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of, gender, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

Qualifications Needed:

- Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2023.

Application Instructions:

- Candidates should submit a cover letter identifying their research and teaching interests, as well as current CV, a statement addressing their commitment to diversity and inclusion, writing sample, graduate transcript, teaching evaluations, and three letters of reference.

Apply: <http://apply.interfolio.com/108475>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/21/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10429

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, United States

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) is seeking applications for a one-year term faculty position at the Instructor rank to begin August 2022 to support the Department's teaching mission in the areas of American Politics and/or Political Theory. The position will expire in May 2023.

Position Responsibilities: Successful candidates must be able to teach our undergraduate Politics of Race, Class, and Gender course, as well as our undergraduate Research Methods and/or Introduction to Political Theory courses. Successful candidates should be able to teach both on-campus and asynchronously online, thus relocation to Richmond is strongly preferred for this position. The teaching load for this position is 4/4.

Required Qualifications: The position requires a Ph.D. or Master's Degree in political science, or a closely related field, at the time of employment. Successful candidates also will have demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU. More than 60% of Political Science majors are women, and more than 56% are from minority groups. In addition, our faculty and staff exhibit diversity of gender, sexuality, race, ethnicity, age, class, nationality, religion, belief, and political affiliation, among other variables. For example, of our 19 full-time faculty members, eight identify as women, and five identify as scholars of color. See the Department's Diversity and Inclusion Statement here: <https://politicalscience.vcu.edu/about/>. VCU is a diverse public institution. In 2020, 32.7% of our freshmen identified as first-generation, 52.3% as minority, and 35.4% as historically underrepresented minorities.

The Department of Political Science is housed in VCU's College of Humanities and Sciences (CHS) (<https://chs.vcu.edu/>). Resources to support teaching faculty are available at all levels of the university (see, e.g., <https://provost.vcu.edu/faculty/faculty-resources/>).

For more detailed information and to apply, please visit: <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1886?c=vcu>

Application Instructions

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1886?c=vcu>. Applicants must upload a CV and cover letter, as well as the following supplemental documents: a teaching philosophy, and a diversity and inclusion statement. Please merge supplementary files into one PDF and upload as the "Other" document in the online application site. Please submit all required documents with your online application. Failure to provide all required documents will result in our inability to review and consider your application. Applicants are requested to submit a Statement of Contributions to Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (typically between 150-300 words) providing your career aspirations and contributions toward promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion. Through this statement, you can share how your lived experiences, and academic and professional activities will impact your contributions to VCU's mission of promoting equity and inclusion. For more information and examples, see VCU's Diversity Statement.

Upon submission of your application, references will be automatically contacted and asked to provide a letter of recommendation[1]. Questions should be directed to Jason Arnold at jarnold@vcu.edu. Position is open until filled. Applications received by July 9, 2022 will receive priority consideration. Start date will be August 16, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/15/2022

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 10420

American University School of Public Affairs

Rank: Open Rank Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

American University: School of Public Affairs: Public Administration and Policy

Open Rank, Public Administration

The Department of Public Administration and Policy (DPAP) in the School of Public Affairs (SPA) at American University invites applications for several full-time, tenure-track positions at the ranks of Full, Associate, and Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2023. Applicants should have a PhD in public administration, political science, or a related field. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring.

Teaching responsibilities will include core and elective courses in the School's highly ranked Master of Public Administration, Master of Public Policy and PhD degree programs. Possible courses include Introduction to Public Administration and the Policy Process, Legal Basis of Public Administration, Organizational Analysis, Managing Human Capital Assets, and others. In addition to producing high quality scholarship and effective teaching, responsibilities will include mentoring graduate students and service. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a PhD in public administration, political science, or a related field. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring.

We welcome applications from candidates with an excellent record or promise of scholarly research and exceptional teaching in public administration and management. Possible research topics of interest include but are not limited to: public administration and democracy, public administration and law, citizen voice and participation in governance, diversification of the public service and representative bureaucracy, organizational design and performance, public-private-non-profit networked governance.

Application Instructions:

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on July 15th, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. All applications received by September 15, 2022 will receive full consideration. Please submit applications via <http://apply.interfolio.com/107795>. Applications must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, copies of recently published articles and/or working papers, and three letters of recommendation.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The Department of Public Administration & Policy offers five graduate degrees, an undergraduate minor, and several graduate certificates. Its programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa and about the Department of Public Administration & Policy at www.american.edu/dpap.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/15/2022

Date Posted: 6/14/2022

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10418

Hamilton College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government (American Politics and Political Theory)

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a one-year, visiting position at the rank of Assistant Professor or Instructor, beginning July 1, 2022. We seek candidates to teach courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics, with preference for someone who can teach in both fields. We will consider candidates from any subfield within each discipline. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address ways in which you raise issues of diversity and inclusion in your teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

Candidates with ABD will be considered, although candidates with a Ph. D. are preferred. The teaching load for this position is five courses. Candidates should submit cover letter, c.v., evidence of teaching ability, and a list of references via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/108034>. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Peter F. Cannavò, Search Committee Chair, at pcannavo@hamilton.edu. Our review of applications will begin on June 25, 2022.

Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at <https://www.hercjobs.org/regions/higher-ed-careers-upstate-new-york/>, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/dof/faculty-development/resources-for-prospective-or-new-faculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners> (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualifications:

We seek candidates to teach courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics, with preference for someone who can teach in both fields. We will consider candidates from any subfield within each discipline. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address ways in which you raise issues of diversity and inclusion in your teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

Candidates with ABD will be considered, although candidates with a Ph. D. are preferred.

Application Instructions:

Candidates should submit cover letter, c.v., evidence of teaching ability, and a list of references via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/108034>. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Peter F. Cannavò, Search Committee Chair, at pcannavo@hamilton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/11/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10414

Hamilton College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government (American Politics)

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a one-year visiting Assistant Professor position in American Politics beginning July 1, 2022. We seek candidates to teach introductory American politics and related courses. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address the ways in which you would further the College's goal of building a diverse and inclusive educational environment.

Qualifications:

Candidates with ABD will be considered, although candidates with a Ph. D. are preferred. The teaching load for this position is five courses.

Application Instructions:

Please submit curriculum vitae, graduate transcripts, a list of courses the applicant is prepared to teach, evidence of teaching performance, and arrange for submission of three letters of recommendation to Interfolio at apply.interfolio.com/106042. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Peter Cannavò, Search Committee Chair, at pcannavo@hamilton.edu.

Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at <https://www.hercjobs.org/regions/higher-ed-careers-upstate-new-york/>, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/dof/faculty-development/resources-for-prospective-or-new-faculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners> (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/11/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10413

College of Wooster

Rank: Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, Political Science, Tenure-Track Positions

The Department of Political Science at The College of Wooster seeks to fill three tenure-track positions in U.S. National Politics, at the level of Assistant Professor or Associate Professor, to begin Fall 2023. We are looking for broadly trained specialists in U.S. National Politics and are open to a wide variety of research and teaching interests, such as U.S. political institutions, political behavior, identity and politics, race and ethnicity, voting rights, constitutional law, civil liberties, and public policy. The department has nine full-time faculty positions in Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and U.S. National Politics. We typically graduate approximately 50 majors annually, many of whom pursue advanced study or careers in public policy, law, research, political campaigns and public service, or a wide variety of social justice and community organizing initiatives. For more information, please see: <https://wooster.edu/area/political-science/>.

The College of Wooster is an independent college of the liberal arts and sciences with a commitment to excellence in undergraduate education. We enroll a racially, socioeconomically, and culturally diverse student population of approximately 2,000 undergraduate students, of which 6% identify as Latinx; 9%, as Black/African American; 4%, as Asian; 4%, as multiracial; and 61%, as white. Fifteen percent (15%) of our students are studying on international visas. Twenty-five percent (25%) are Pell-eligible and 11% are first-generation college students. We are interested in hiring faculty who can contribute to the intellectual vibrancy of the community through culturally relevant pedagogy, curricular diversity, intercultural fluency, and a commitment to ensuring equitable outcomes for racially and ethnically minoritized and marginalized student groups.

The College of Wooster is an equal opportunity employer. For more information on our nondiscrimination policy visit: <https://www.wooster.edu/info/nondiscrimination>.

Qualifications

The successful candidates will have a demonstrated ability to teach Introduction to U.S. National Politics and upper-level courses in their area of specialty, to supervise undergraduate research projects as part of the College's Independent Study requirement, and to contribute to teaching the College's First-Year Seminar. Some candidates will also teach a course on research design and methods in political science. Our department is committed to ensuring that a political science education is open and inclusive and that all students can succeed in the major. To achieve this goal, we are seeking candidates who are familiar with and dedicated to inclusive pedagogical practices, curricular diversity, and intercultural fluency.

In addition, preference will be given to candidates whose research and teaching connect with one or both of the College's general education requirements in Social Justice or Power, Privilege, Race, and Ethnicity; or with such interdisciplinary majors as Africana Studies, Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies, and Urban Studies. Preference will also be given to those with interest or expertise in experiential learning. We prefer candidates who will have completed their Ph.D. by the time of appointment and who have previous independent teaching experience.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of effective teaching (including syllabi and summaries of student evaluations), unofficial graduate transcripts, three letters of recommendation, a research statement, and a statement indicating their track record with diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) efforts and how they envision contributing to such efforts at the College of Wooster. Applications received at <http://apply.interfolio.com/108152> by September 1, 2022, will receive full consideration. Please contact Prof. Jeffrey Lantis (jlantis@wooster.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/1/2022

Date Posted: 6/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10411

George Washington University

Rank: Part time faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Political Science at George Washington University explores wide-ranging topics related to political behavior and governance, both in the United States and across the globe. The department houses nationally recognized undergraduate and graduate programs with emphases in the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations.

The Department of Political Science at George Washington University invites applicants to apply who are interested in serving as a temporary part-time faculty for the fall 2022 semester, teaching in the areas of American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Policy. The George Washington University is in a Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) with the part-time faculty elected union, Service Employees International Union (SEIU) Local 500.

Minimum Qualifications

A Master's degree in political science or related field. Prior experience teaching students at the postgraduate level.

Application Instructions

To apply, interested individuals should email Dr. Susan Wiley (wiley@gwu.edu) a recent curriculum vitae (CV) to express interest in the role. Prior student course evaluations may be requested. Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

EEO Statement

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10376

Carleton College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science and International Relations

The Political Science Department at Carleton College invites applicants for tenure-track Assistant Professor position in American Politics. The department seeks candidates who have expertise in all areas of American politics and can offer courses at all levels. We are particularly interested in applicants with teaching and research interests that relate to the struggle for representation and dynamic power of diverse groups in American politics; such as identity politics, political psychology and behaviors, rural and urban politics, and diverse forms of political participations in the U.S. political system. Carleton operates on a trimester calendar, with faculty teaching five courses per year. Successful candidates will normally teach one or two introductions to American politics per year. We also expect that successful applicants will be part of a rotation of teachers for a course on research methods, which is required for all majors. We would be especially interested in candidates with a demonstrated capacity for mentoring students in diverse research methods such as field research, interviewing, survey techniques that complement multivariate statistical analysis. A Ph.D. or its imminent completion is required. The appointment will begin on September 1, 2023.

The following materials are required: letter of application; curriculum vitae; names and contact information of three references; statement addressing the candidate's teaching experience and interests and scholarly agenda; graduate school transcript; a summary of teaching evaluations or other evidence of demonstrated or potential excellence in undergraduate instruction; one or two sample syllabi; at least one scholarly writing sample. The deadline for receipt of applications is September 15, 2022. All application materials can be submitted at <https://careers.carleton.edu/>

We are particularly interested in candidates committed to teaching a diverse student body. Women and members of underrepresented groups are strongly encouraged to apply. Carleton College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, ethnicity, religion, sex, national origin, marital status, veteran status, actual or perceived sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, status with regard to public assistance, disability, or age in providing employment or access to its educational facilities and activities.

Carleton is a highly selective liberal arts college with a student body of approximately 2,000, located in the historic and thriving town of Northfield, Minnesota. We are in commuting distance of the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, whose greater metro area has a diverse population of three million people and a rich variety of cultural resources. Our academic year consists of three ten-week terms. The diverse members of Department of Political Science reside in a historic modern building with excellent facilities. The faculty is passionate about teaching and active in scholarship. We are particularly interested in applicants who have a demonstrated commitment to attracting and retaining students from underserved groups and who will contribute to our vibrant college-wide culture of undergraduate research. For further information about the department consult the Department of Political Science website <https://www.carleton.edu/political-science/>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/15/2022

Date Posted: 5/24/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10373

The College of New Jersey (TCNJ)

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of US Politics

The Department of Political Science at The College of New Jersey (TCNJ) invites applications for a ten-month Visiting Assistant Professor position in American Politics with a specialization in American political institutions, to begin August, 2022. The successful candidate will be prepared to teach in-person Introduction to American Government and upper-level courses on Congress and the Presidency. The Department is open to areas of specialization within the field of U.S. Politics and American Political Development. We welcome candidates with teaching experience in public policy, political parties and interest groups, voting behavior, racial and ethnic politics, or gender politics. Candidates should be committed to high-quality teaching and deep student engagement in a primarily undergraduate, residential, liberal arts-centered institution. The teaching load is four in-person courses per semester. A Ph.D. is preferred, but the College will consider ABDs. Applications received by June 10, 2022, will receive full consideration, but the position will remain open until filled.

The Department of Political Science (Department of Political Science (tcnj.edu)) is a supportive and dynamic community of scholars and students. We offer minors in public policy and pre-law, which draw students from across a wide range of academic disciplines. The Department has eight tenured or tenure-track members. The Visiting position being advertised here is separate from that being conducted in the fall for a ninth tenure-track position, though candidates may apply to both positions.

Employer Qualifications:

Final offer of employment is contingent upon the successful completion of background check.

COVID-19 Testing and Compliance - The College has a mandatory COVID-19 vaccination requirement. To learn more, please read the policy here: COVID-19 Requirements and Protocols. <https://hr.tcnj.edu/covid-19-employee-info/>
About TCNJ

Founded in 1855, TCNJ is a selective public PUI that has earned national recognition for its commitment to excellence. TCNJ emphasizes the residential experience for our nearly 6,500 undergraduate students, 30% of whom are self-described as members of groups traditionally underrepresented in academe. Students benefit from a 13-to-1 student-to-faculty ratio and an average class size of 21 students, which has led to TCNJ attaining a first-year to sophomore retention rate of 94% and a graduation rate of 86%. TCNJ has also received national recognition for the adoption and promotion of the teacher-scholar model for our faculty and deep engagement of our undergraduates in research. TCNJ was awarded the inaugural "Campus-wide Award for Undergraduate Research Accomplishment" from the Council of Undergraduate Research in 2016. In part because of TCNJ's intentional and comprehensive integration of research into our undergraduate curricula and institutional culture, an increasing number of TCNJ graduates have pursued and completed doctoral degrees over the past ten years. TCNJ was awarded, in 2006, a Phi Beta Kappa chapter—an honor shared by less than 10 percent of colleges and universities nationally. A strong liberal arts core forms the foundation for programs offered through TCNJ's seven schools—Arts and Communication; Business; Education; Engineering; Humanities and Social Sciences; Nursing, Health, and Exercise Science; and Science. TCNJ is located within an hour, by train, of New York City and Philadelphia. The College's campus is set on 289 tree-lined acres in suburban Ewing Township and is known for its natural beauty. For more information, visit www.tcnj.edu.

TCNJ is the proud recipient of an Inclusive Excellence grant from the Howard Hughes Medical Institute (HHMI), which supports our work to provide access and foster success for all students, especially those traditionally underserved by higher education. TCNJ has also been a recipient of a National Science Foundation (NSF) ADVANCE grant, which has worked to support the careers of women faculty members.

To apply, please send the following items listed below to https://tcnj.taleo.net/careersection/00_ex_faculty/jobdetail.ftl?job=22001165&lang=en

Cover letter describing qualifications, teaching and research interests, and commitment to inclusivity and diversity

Curriculum vitae

Evidence of teaching effectiveness such as sample syllabi and student evaluations

Unofficial graduate transcript

Names and contact information for three references

The successful applicant must present proof of eligibility to work in the United States.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 6/10/2022

Date Posted: 5/24/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10375

University of North Florida

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH FLORIDA: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science and Public Administration at the University of North Florida seeks candidates for a one-year appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor in American government and politics beginning in August 2022.

The department seeks a broadly trained scholar and has curricular needs across the American politics spectrum, including institutions, research methods, public law, state and local government, and behavior.

The department welcomes the use of innovative teaching technologies including distance learning and hybrid classes. Candidates should demonstrate teaching excellence. The teaching load is four courses per semester.

A PhD in Political Science, Government, or related field is preferred but the department will consider highly qualified ABD candidates.

The department encourages applications from candidates of diverse backgrounds.

Applicants must complete an online application, as well as upload supplemental documents, at www.unfjobs.org in order to be considered for this position. Applicants who do not apply online and/or upload all the required documents will not be considered for this position.

Once you submit both your completed application and uploaded documents, you will receive a confirmation number. Keep the confirmation number for your records. Applicants must attach the following required documents to be considered for this position.

- (1) a letter of interest stating teaching interests
- (2) a complete curriculum vitae
- (3) unofficial transcripts
- (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness

Review of applications will begin 5/30/2022 and will continue until the position is filled

Application link: <https://www.unfjobs.org/postings/20083>

About the University:

UNF promotes the quality and effectiveness of education and strives to maintain the highest standards of academic excellence in all phases of instruction, research, scholarship, creative activity, and service.

UNF's beautiful campus is located on a 1,000-acre nature preserve, six miles from the Atlantic Ocean in Jacksonville, FL. Jacksonville is a diverse cosmopolitan community with over 1.6 million people in the metro area. Jacksonville's diversity, culture, climate, and reasonable cost of living make for a high quality of life.

UNF is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not commit or permit discrimination or harassment on the basis of genetic information, race, color, religion, age, sex, disability, gender identity/ expression, sexual orientation, marital status, national origin, or veteran status in any educational, employment, social, recreational program or activity that it offers.

UNF is a Carnegie Community Engaged Institution. This designation celebrates the University's collaboration with community partners from the local to the global level. It reflects UNF's mission to contribute to the public good and prepare educated, engaged citizens.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/12/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10353

Hope College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Hope College seeks applicants for a visiting assistant professor position beginning by Fall 2022. Strong preference will be given to candidates with expertise in political theory. In addition to political theory, we welcome applications from candidates who are able to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics, including a course in state and local politics. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester.

The College offers opportunities for internal research support and assistance in seeking external funding. The Political Science department at Hope has six tenured/tenure-track faculty and graduates about 25 majors each year. The Political Science department also contributes to Hope College's teacher education program as well as interdisciplinary programs in environmental studies and global studies.

Candidates should upload the following documents as part of their application:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

A statement indicating a willingness to commit to and engage with Hope's mission statement

A statement describing your teaching philosophy, experience, and interests

Formal teaching evaluations

Sample publications

A statement of your research plans and how you will mentor undergraduates in research (optional)

In addition, you should enter the names and contact information for three references when you apply. References will be contacted via email upon your application, providing with a link to upload a letter of recommendation to your file.

Direct questions can be sent to ryden@hope.edu. For full consideration, candidates should submit their completed materials immediately. Applications will be reviewed as they are received and continue until the search is complete.

Additional information found at jobs.hope.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/10/2022
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 10347

University of Kentucky

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar in Political Science
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY, invites applications for a teaching post-doc position focused on American Political Institutions with a particular interest in law and courts. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and inclusion mission of the department. This position will begin August 1, 2022. Applicants are expected to teach a 2/3 load and design at least one new course in the area of Legal Studies.

Applicants should show strong potential to provide effective undergraduate teaching and have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 2022.

Applicants should submit the following: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) letter stating the candidate's research and teaching interests (uploaded as Cover Letter), 3) copy of transcript for highest degree earned, 4) evidence of teaching experience, particularly syllabi from courses taught (uploaded as specific request 1). Provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information will be used to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/9/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10339

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Full Time Instructor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for two full-time instructor positions. The appointments are for a one-year term with the possibility of renewal. We expect one position to serve undergraduate teaching needs in American politics and/or public policy and the other to serve undergraduate teaching needs in comparative politics and/or international relations. Minimum qualifications: MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level. Preferred qualifications: PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university. For more information about the department, see <https://psc.ua.edu/>. Please direct questions to pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Position begins August 16, 2022.

Applicants should submit a cover letter summarizing their teaching qualifications and experience, courses prepared to offer, and reasons for interest in the position, a cv, evidence of teaching effectiveness, syllabi (if available), and the names and contact information of 3 references (ideally with knowledge of candidate's teaching experience). Letters will only be required for short-listed candidates. Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu>.

Deadline: Submit applications by May 30, 2022 for best consideration; screening of applications will continue until the positions are filled. Apply Here:<https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/50242>

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/6/2022
Salary: $40,000 - $49,999
eJobs ID: 10335

University of Houston

Rank: Visiting Scholar

The University of Houston's Center for Mexican American and Latino/a Studies is soliciting applications for its Visiting Scholars Program for the 2022-2023 academic year. All interested scholars from relevant disciplines are encouraged to apply. Applicants must have completed a Ph.D. by August 1st, 2022. Visiting Scholars receive a salary appropriate to rank and are expected to be in residence during the academic year. Priority consideration will be given to applicants whose research focus aligns with that of the Center and whose area of research focuses on Mexican American and/or Latinx studies.

Visiting scholars would be expected to teach one course and write a report based on their research interests.

To apply, visit the UH HR Careers website (<https://www.uh.edu/human-resources/careers/?msclkid=2034fb3da6e811ec8379d7e6dbe8194a>), and search for the following position: FAC002291. Click "apply for this position," and submit the following materials:

Cover Letter
 Current Vitae
 Two-page description of a proposed research project that will be undertaken while in residence
 Three letters of recommendation
 Unofficial transcripts

Additional information about the CMAS Visiting Scholar position can be obtained by contacting the Center for Mexican American and Latino/a Studies at cmals@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Additionally, the University prohibits discrimination in employment on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

Start Date:
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/18/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10216

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Part-Time Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Middle Georgia State University has part-time employment opportunities for Political Science instructors, both online and on its campuses in Georgia (Macon, Warner Robins, Cochran, Eastman, and Dublin) for day and evening classes. Our primary need at this time is for faculty qualified to teach, and interested in teaching, daytime sections of American Government (POLS 1101) on the Dublin, Macon, and/or Warner Robins campuses, or at other current and potential teaching sites in Georgia, although opportunities to teach other courses may also be available.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: To qualify for a teaching position, a candidate is required to have a minimum of an earned master's degree in Political Science or a closely related field (such as Public Administration or Public Policy), or a master's degree in another field with at least 18 graduate semester hours in Political Science courses.

For more information, please contact: Dr. Christopher Lawrence, Chair - Department of Political Science. E-mail: christopher.lawrence@mga.edu. Informal inquiries are welcome.

TO APPLY: Please see the full advertisement in our career opportunities portal by following the instructions below:

1. Visit the MGA Career Opportunities page at <https://www.mga.edu/human-resources/jobs/index.php>.
2. Click on the link labeled "Faculty and Staff Job Opportunities" towards the bottom of the page.
3. Search for position #240725, "Part Time Instructor - Department of Political Science."

Applications will be reviewed and candidates will be selected for vacancies on a rolling basis.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/17/2022

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 10210

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE: PUBLIC LAW (TENURE-TRACK)

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Open
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science seeks applications for a tenure track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. A robust academic record with a teaching specialization in U.S. Public Law is necessary. Successful candidates will be an active educator in their field, with a standard teaching load of three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach introductory sections of American National Government and upper division pre-law courses in support of the Department of Political Science's Pre-Law Concentration, which is a practically-focused law school preparation curriculum, and which comprises roughly half of the department's majors. The successful candidate will also assist other pre-law faculty in offering required Pre-Law courses such as Introduction to Law & Legal Reasoning, Constitutional Law, Civil Rights Law, and/or Civil Liberties, as well as offer new pre-law courses of the candidate's choosing and design. In addition to teaching these courses via the traditional face-to-face method, the candidate must be willing to develop and teach some of these courses as online and/or hybrid courses. The successful candidate will also share in the department's advising and service responsibilities and will work with colleagues to assess and improve curricula, conduct research and/or creative works such as publications and other scholarship in their respective area of specialization, and demonstrate institutional citizenship through active engagement at the department, college, university, public, and professional communities.

To apply for this, access the University of Louisiana at Lafayette Human Resources page here: <https://louisiana.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1720?c=louisiana>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/16/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10203

Stetson University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Administration

STETSON UNIVERSITY, COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

Stetson University seeks two individuals – one with broad interests and training in International Relations, and the other with broad interests and training in Political Theory and/or American Politics – for positions at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Each must have a desire to teach in a liberal arts setting with significant personal interactions with undergraduate students. Besides teaching introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in their appropriate subfields of the discipline, each candidate will develop courses to complement existing strengths in the Department of Political Science and in one or more related programs (e.g. International Studies; Africana Studies; Asian Studies; Gender Studies; Social Studies; Global Development; Latin American & Latino Studies; and Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies). These two 9-month, full-time appointments span August 2022-May 2023.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is preferred, but applicants who are ABD will be considered if they are at the final stage of the dissertation process. Teaching experience beyond typical teaching assistant duties in graduate school is an advantage but not required. Candidates should have a strong commitment to innovative teaching, a creative approach to pedagogical design and implementation, and a strong commitment to all aspects of diversity in our learning-centered community.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

VAP faculty teach four courses each semester. Primary teaching responsibilities for the International Relations position include introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations and related subdisciplines (e.g. migration studies, international diplomacy, international law, security studies, etc.). For the Political Theory and/or American Politics position, teaching responsibilities include introductory and upper-level courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics and related subdisciplines (e.g. American political development, judicial studies, etc.). Other courses can be based on the candidate's expertise and training.

THE DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/artsci/political-science/>) offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies; Russian, Eastern European and Eurasian Studies; Latin American & Latino Studies; Africana Studies; the Honors Program; Environmental Science and Studies; and Public Health. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, Public Administration, and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and eight interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, giving students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 4,000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1954, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered include Business, Accounting, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally. Stetson University affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 39,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

SALARY: Salary is competitive.

STARTING DATE: August 10, 2022

APPLICATION:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, 2) a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy, a representative sample of teaching evaluations, and other relevant teaching materials (e.g. syllabi, assignments, etc.), 3) a curriculum vitae, 4) copies of graduate transcripts, and 5) the names and contact information for three recommenders (at least one of which should be able to evaluate the candidate's teaching ability). Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation. In their materials, candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to the search committee at polisearch@stetson.edu or mailed to the following address:

Dr. William Russell Nylan
Chair, VAPs Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Stetson University
421 N. Woodland Blvd. Unit 8301
DeLand, FL 32723

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/7/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10177

Stetson University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory and/or American Politics)

STETSON UNIVERSITY, COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory and/or American Politics)

Stetson University seeks two individuals – one with broad interests and training in International Relations, and the other with broad interests and training in Political Theory and/or American Politics – for positions at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Each must have a desire to teach in a liberal arts setting with significant personal interactions with undergraduate students. Besides teaching introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in their appropriate subfields of the discipline, each candidate will develop courses to complement existing strengths in the Department of Political Science and in one or more related programs (e.g. International Studies; Africana Studies; Asian Studies; Gender Studies; Social Studies; Global Development; Latin American & Latino Studies; and Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies). These two 9-month, full-time appointments span August 2022-May 2023.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is preferred, but applicants who are ABD will be considered if they are at the final stage of the dissertation process. Teaching experience beyond typical teaching assistant duties in graduate school is an advantage but not required. Candidates should have a strong commitment to innovative teaching, a creative approach to pedagogical design and implementation, and a strong commitment to all aspects of diversity in our learning-centered community.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

VAP faculty teach four courses each semester. Primary teaching responsibilities for the International Relations position include introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations and related subdisciplines (e.g. migration studies, international diplomacy, international law, security studies, etc.). For the Political Theory and/or American Politics position, teaching responsibilities include introductory and upper-level courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics and related subdisciplines (e.g. American political development, judicial studies, etc.). Other courses can be based on the candidate's expertise and training.

THE DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/artsci/political-science/>) offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies; Russian, Eastern European and Eurasian Studies; Latin American & Latino Studies; Africana Studies; the Honors Program; Environmental Science and Studies; and Public Health. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, Public Administration, and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and eight interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, giving students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 4,000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1954, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered include Business, Accounting, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally. Stetson University affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 39,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

SALARY: Salary is competitive.

STARTING DATE: August 10, 2022

APPLICATION:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, 2) a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy, a representative sample of teaching evaluations, and other relevant teaching materials (e.g. syllabi, assignments, etc.), 3) a curriculum vitae, 4) copies of graduate transcripts, and 5) the names and contact information for three recommenders (at least one of which should be able to evaluate the candidate's teaching ability). Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation. In their materials, candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to the search committee at polisearch@stetson.edu or mailed to the following address:

Dr. William Russell Nylan
Chair, VAPs Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Stetson University
421 N. Woodland Blvd. Unit 8301
DeLand, FL 32723

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/7/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10178

Creighton University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Creighton University's Department of Political Science and International Relations seeks to hire a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Science, with a secondary appointment in the interdisciplinary program of Health Administration and Policy. The successful candidate will have completed the Ph.D., evidence of teaching experience, and demonstrate excellence in both teaching and scholarship. We are interested in candidates broadly trained in American politics and institutions, public healthcare policy, and well-versed in research methodology. The successful candidate will teach introductory courses in American politics, public health care policy, and contribute to the department's core courses, but will also hold a secondary appointment in the interdisciplinary program of Health Administration and Policy (HAP). The successful candidate will be asked to mentor and advise undergraduates in the Political Science and Health Administration and Policy programs. Creighton is a Jesuit/Catholic University, emphasizing formation of character as well as education in the liberal arts. It places a premium on small class size and serious interaction among faculty and students that contribute to a strong community of learning. Undergraduate research is central to the departmental and university mission, so new faculty members would be joining a program of teacher-scholars and adding to the diversity and vitality a growing field of interest. Candidates are strongly urged to familiarize themselves with Creighton's mission. Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit an application form (found online at <https://ccas.creighton.edu/faculty/join-our-faculty>), a letter of interest, statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly agenda, diversity statement, current C.V., three letters of recommendation, and evidence of achievement in teaching and scholarship electronically via the Creighton Human Resources website (<http://careers.creighton.edu>) when applying. Candidates may also contact Dr. Erika Moreno, Chair, Political Science and International Relations at erikamoreno@creighton.edu, with any questions they may have about the position. Disclosure Statement: *Checking the Status of Application: Applicants/Candidates are encouraged to periodically check on the status of their application via (<https://careers.creighton.edu>).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/8/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10068

Rowan University

Rank: Professor (Asst, Assoc, Full)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Rowan University's newly launched Catalysts for Sustainability program seeks to hire 10 new faculty to develop, advance and communicate solutions to humanity's most pressing existential threats posed by the climate and biodiversity crises.

The list below shows the positions to be filled.

- Ric Edelman College of Communication and Creative Arts: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- School of Earth & Environment: Visiting Professor/Professor of Practice
- School of Earth & Environment: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- College of Education: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- College of Humanities & Social Sciences: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- School of Nursing & Health Professions: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- College of Performing Arts: Distinguished Artist-in-Residence for Environmental Sustainability
- College of Science & Mathematics: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- Provost's Fellow for a Sustainable Anthropocene

Unique Opportunity

Our catalysts will immediately be high-visibility scholars poised to reap reputational benefits as influential state and national leaders. They will gain the potential for enhanced funding and enhanced publishing. The faculty—as a cohort and as individuals—will benefit as they develop expansive external networks and connections with high-profile organizations.

Committed throughout the curriculum and community

The University-wide cohort will lead and collaborate across colleges, disciplines and communities. Each college and school on our main campus will be represented, connecting every academic division through a common purpose.

Strategic institutional values

Rowan University's strategic pillars—access, affordability, quality and serving as an economic engine—are at the center of every decision for the institution. The Catalysts for Sustainability recruiting program will be rooted in Rowan's fundamental values and the hires will demonstrate our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion.

This program will catalyze new initiatives in sustainability research, advocacy and education while leveraging existing strengths. Successful candidates will demonstrate expertise related to the climate and biodiversity crises in one or more of the following areas: environmental justice; education and public engagement including storytelling; public policy and advocacy; discipline-specific sustainability scholarship; and sustainability practice.

Interested candidates must apply through Rowan's online application system (<https://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/495871/rowan-catalysts-for-sustainability>). Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the positions are filled for a start date of September, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9835

Case Western Reserve University

Rank: Alexander P. Lamis Memorial Endowed Chair in U.S. Politics

The Department of Political Science at Case Western Reserve University invites applications for the Alexander P. Lamis Memorial Endowed Chair in U.S. Politics. The successful candidate will be competitive at the level of tenured associate professor (currently either as a tenured associate professor or an untenured professor with commensurate productivity and experience). We are interested in candidates across all U.S. politics subfields and methodological approaches, including but not limited to the politics of race and ethnicity, immigration, and the politics of inequality. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required.

The Lamis Chair has been established with a gift from a generous anonymous donor, to honor our late colleague Alec Lamis (PhD Vanderbilt, JD University of Maryland), a popular undergraduate teacher with interests in U.S. politics, parties and elections, judicial politics, and the politics of the U.S. South. Case Western Reserve University is a private R1 research university where Political Science faculty teach a standard 2-2 load. For more information about Professor Lamis, CWRU and the Department, see the full description (<https://politicalscience.case.edu/internship-opportunities/current-opportunities-2/>).

Candidates should submit 1) a cover letter, 2) a curriculum vitae, 3) a research statement, 4) a teaching statement that includes evidence of effective teaching, 5) a publication or writing sample, 6) a diversity statement, and 7) a list of three references.

The one-page diversity statement should explain how one's research, teaching, and/or service have contributed to diversity, equity and inclusion within a scholarly field(s) and/or how individual and/or collaborative efforts have promoted structural justice inside and outside institutions of higher learning. This statement should also reflect on the ways in which the candidate's continued efforts will foster a culture of diversity, pluralism, and individual difference at Case Western Reserve University.

Candidates should upload all application materials electronically through Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/97399>. Consideration of applicants will begin on 01/10/2022 and continue until the position is filled. Inquiries about the Lamis Chair may be sent to Professor Karen Beckwith, Search Committee Chair, at karen.beckwith@case.edu.

In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. As a recipient of the national Higher Education Excellence in Diversity (HEED) award for the past ten years, CWRU has been recognized nationally as a leader in advancing equity and inclusivity. The university and the College of Arts and Sciences at CWRU are committed to creating an inclusive community where all are welcome, valued and heard. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Case Western Reserve University provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities. Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office of Equity at 216.368.3066 to request a reasonable accommodation.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 11/11/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9700

SUNY, Cortland

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Congress, Political Parties & Organizations, Presidency

The State University of New York at Cortland (SUNY Cortland) seeks candidates for a tenure track position in American Politics with a focus on American Political Institutions. Specialty may include, but need not be limited to, elections, social movements, legislatures, systemic racism, political parties or the presidency. The successful candidate will teach introductory and upper division courses in the undergraduate curriculum (e.g., Introduction to American Politics, The American Presidency, Congress, Political Parties, Elections). They may also teach a basic methods course. The typical load is three classes per semester.

SUNY Cortland has a strong commitment to the affirmation of diversity and offers courses addressing inclusion studies and global diversity, as well as interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies, Latinx and Latin American Studies, Women's Gender and Sexuality Studies and Native American Studies.

The Political Science department is a mid-size, undergraduate-teaching department in the school of Arts and Sciences, and is one of the most active and visible in the University. The department has about 100 majors, and is composed of eight full-time faculty, and several adjuncts. Key departmental programs include the Political Science major, Adolescence Education with a concentration in Political Science, a concentration in Law and Justice, and a B.S. degree in Public Administration and Policy.

Candidates for this position should demonstrate: a strong commitment to teaching and research, with a willingness to collaborate with other colleagues on campus in a variety of experiential activities (e.g., internships, civic engagement, student clubs); engagement in service to the department, school, university, local community and profession; a commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion and social justice and support for an equitable and diverse scholarly environment.

Required qualifications: PhD in Political Science by appointment date or ABD with a scheduled completion date; Teaching and research focus on American Politics and higher education teaching experience. Interested candidates should electronically submit 1) a letter of application summarizing qualifications and research interests, 2) a curriculum vita, 3) the names and contact information for at least three references, 4) a statement of teaching philosophy to include evidence of teaching effectiveness, including sample syllabi, if available, 5) a copy of transcript for their highest or most recent degree and 6) a published work or writing sample. <https://jobs.cortland.edu/postings/5109>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/28/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9439

Troy University

Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in Political Science (with a concentration in American Politics). This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate political science courses in American Politics; teaching master's degree courses in our public administration (MPA) program, which will be delivered in person as well as online; and advising pre-law students. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is August 1, 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9313

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Intro to and U.S. Government

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach POLISCI 101:

Elements of Political Science and POLISCI 120: U.S. Government.

A description of these courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University

<https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog->

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master's Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution.

A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of American Politics. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations.

Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024

(to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee

Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color,

age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act. The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA- related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East - Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010; Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 4/30/2024

Date Posted: 4/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8844

COMPARATIVE POLITICS

Hebrew University of Jerusalem

Rank: position at the PPE department

Specializations: Political Behavior, Political Economy, Political Development

The Integrative Program in Philosophy, Economics, and Politics (PPE) - 2023

The Integrative Program in Politics, Philosophy and Economics (PPE) is looking to recruit full-time faculty for a position beginning July 2023. We welcome applicants whose research and teaching deal with issues, or employ methods, that belong to at least two of the PPE disciplines.

In Political Science we are particularly interested in applicants who conduct empirical research (we are open to diverse methods and regions of interest). In Economics we will consider applicants in all fields. In Philosophy we are particularly interested in applicants whose one of their AOS is the philosophy of social science.

Applicants must also apply simultaneously to a position at the other relevant department at HUJI.

Salary will be determined according to salary criteria existing in the institution and experience. The amount shown in APSA is not final, It's estimated.

Application Submission

A. Please fill out the Online Application Form

B. Please upload the following documents according to Documents Upload page:

- Detailed CV
- Full list of publications
- A scientific biography, including a research plan for the next several years
- Teaching evaluations
- A list of relevant courses that the applicant is willing to teach
- Copies of most recent publications.

C. Three letters of recommendation - sent according to the guidelines described here

D. Please follow the instructions shown on 'Submission Status' page

The language of teaching at The Hebrew University of Jerusalem is Hebrew, though some courses are taught in English. New faculty members are expected to be able to teach in Hebrew within a few years of their arrival.

The deadline for applications is 30.09.2022

Applicants will have to compete for appointment with other candidates in other departments within the faculty of social science.

Priority will be given to women, as well as members of other under-represented visible minorities.

Proficiency in the Hebrew language is an advantage but not a requirement.

For more details: ittay.nissan@mail.huji.ac.il

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2022

Date Posted: 8/2/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10580

Brown University

Rank: Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellows Program 2022-2024

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University aspires to promote a just and peaceful world through research, teaching, and public engagement. Central to this mission is the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, an effort to galvanize the careers of young social scientists conducting research related to the Institute's three core thematic areas:

development, governance, and security. Participants in this program will join an interdisciplinary community of scholars engaged in theoretically and substantively important research addressing the most pressing global issues of our time. Fellows receive two years of support, with the expectation that they will pursue research and participate fully in the intellectual life of the Institute. Fellows will also teach one course per year in the Institute or in an affiliated Brown University social science department. Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Founded in 1764, Brown is a leading research university distinct for its student-centered learning and deep sense of purpose. Brown University students, faculty, and staff are driven by the idea that their work will have an impact on the world. Brown is a place where rigorous scholarship, complex problem-solving, and service to the public good are defined by collaboration, intellectual discovery, and working in ways that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries.

The fellowship competition is open to candidates from the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, and sociology. The selection process, open with regard to nationality and geographic area of research, is highly competitive and typically generates over 500 applications for 4 or 5 places. Scholars who have received their PhDs within two years of the application deadline are eligible to apply. Individuals who are currently – or have previously been – postdoctoral fellows in other programs are not eligible to apply. Fellows will receive an annual stipend of $60,000, for this benefits-eligible position. Additional funding will be made available for research expenses and research-related programming on campus. Candidates selected for the Postdoctoral Fellows program who have not completed their dissertations by July 1, 2023, will be paid a reduced salary until their dissertation is defended.

To receive full consideration, the following materials should be submitted by September 30, 2022 to the application portal <http://apply.interfolio.com/109862>

- A cover letter stating the applicant's academic field, status of their dissertation, and proposed research to be conducted during their fellowship period. The cover letter should not exceed 2,000 words and should make clear where in the Institute's core areas of security, development, or governance the proposed research best fits.

Please also include a statement about teaching in a diverse and inclusive classroom.

- An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
- A copy of each graduate transcript.
- A writing sample.
- Three letters of recommendation from scholars familiar with the applicant's research.

Review of applications will begin on September 30; to receive full consideration applications should be received by that date. Awards will be announced in January 2023.

For further information regarding the Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellows Program, please visit the Watson Institute website (watson.brown.edu) or contact: Professor J. Nicholas Ziegler, Faculty Director of the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, 2022-2023, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University, 111 Thayer Street, Box 1970 Providence, RI 02912. j_ziegler@brown.edu. For information about the application process, please email: Watson_Applications@brown.edu

Brown University is situated on the East Side of Providence, on historic College Hill, overlooking downtown Providence. The area around Brown has a friendly, residential vibe, with plentiful housing options, shopping, cafés, and restaurants, all within walking distance of campus. With its low cost of living and historic architecture, the capital city is a vibrant place to live and work that offers a dynamic arts and culture scene, including many music, theater, and art venues. Located in southern New England, the State of Rhode Island features more than 400 miles of coastline and 100 beaches. Beautiful farms, vineyards, orchards, wooded trails, and numerous historic towns cover its 1200 square miles.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2020

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10554

Smith College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

Specializations: International Political Economy, Southeast Asia, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Government (GOV) at Smith College invites applications for two tenure-track positions: one in Political Theory and another in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. Both positions are at the rank of Assistant Professor and will begin July 1, 2023.

By time of appointment each applicant must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related discipline (e.g. philosophy; public policy). Each position has a teaching load of 2:2—i.e., four semester-long courses over the academic year. The hires will also be expected to contribute to student learning beyond regular classes through directing student research and Honors Theses, offering independent studies, and helping with departmental administrative, curricular, and advising responsibilities.

Candidates for the Political Theory position should specialize in modern political thought of the 18th, 19th, and/or 20th centuries. Our ideal candidate will have expertise in one or more of the following areas: feminist political thought; political theories of gender and sexuality; continental political thought; and/or critical theory. We anticipate that a successful candidate for this position will regularly teach Introduction to Political Thinking (an introductory course in the history of political thought which serves as a gateway to the Government major), courses in Modern Political Thought, and upper-division courses relating to their areas of expertise (e.g., Feminist Political Thought; Queer Theory; Critical Theory; Marxism).

Candidates for the Comparative Politics/International Relations position should have regional expertise in the politics of South and/or Southeast Asia. We encourage applications for this position from scholars using a range of methodological approaches and focusing on a variety of topics, including but not limited to: the politics of religion and ethnicity; political violence; political parties and elections; regional security; geopolitical rivalries; and regional conflict and cooperation. We anticipate that a successful candidate for this position will be prepared to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations, courses on the politics of South or Southeast Asia or particular countries within those regions, and upper-division courses relating to their area(s) of expertise.

Candidates from groups underrepresented in political science are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates should be prepared to engage actively with diverse students across the liberal arts.

Located in Northampton, MA, Smith College is the largest women's college in the country, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research across the liberal arts. A faculty of outstanding scholars interact with students in small classes, as advisors, and through student-faculty research projects. Smith College offers opportunities to foster faculty success at every career stage, such as those listed here.

The College is a member of the Five College Consortium with Amherst, Hampshire, and Mt. Holyoke Colleges, and the University of Massachusetts Amherst. Students cross-enroll and faculty cross-teach across the Five Colleges. Details about the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.smith.edu/gov/>.

Submit applications at <http://apply.interfolio.com/110549> with a cover letter describing your research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, diversity/inclusion statement, chapter- or article-length writing sample, and the contact information for three confidential references. Finalists may be asked for additional materials. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2022.

Diversity and a culture of equity and inclusion among students, staff, faculty, and administration are crucial to the mission and values of Smith College. We are an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and do not discriminate on the basis of race, gender, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or veteran status in the recruitment and employment of faculty and staff, and the operation of any of its programs and activities, as specified by all applicable laws and regulations. Women, historically underrepresented minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2023
Application Deadline: 10/1/2022
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10565

University of Memphis

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at The University of Memphis invites applications for a tenure track position in Comparative Politics at the level of Assistant Professor. The position will start in the fall 2023 pending the availability of funds. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand by August 2023. We seek applications from candidates in all areas of comparative politics. Candidates must be able to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in comparative politics and must show promise of excellence in research and teaching. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Please submit a letter detailing current research interests and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample (dissertation chapter, published article or conference paper), evidence of teaching potential, and three letters of recommendation on-line at <https://workforum.memphis.edu/postings/32341>.

For all other inquiries please contact: Comparative Politics Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Memphis, TN 38152. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2022 and may continue until the position is filled. The University of Memphis is a Research I University with an enrollment of approximately 20,000 students. The University of Memphis is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to diversifying its work force. Applications from women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/1/2022
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10508

Harvard University

Rank: TENURED PROFESSOR IN GOVERNMENT

The Department of Government seeks to appoint a tenured professor in Government, with a strong preference for scholars specializing in Comparative Politics, Political Incorporation, European Politics, Immigration. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2023. The professor will teach and advise at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Basic Qualifications: Candidates are required to have a PhD.

Additional Qualifications: Demonstrated strong commitment to teaching, advising, and research is desired. Candidates should also evince intellectual leadership and impact on the field and potential for significant contributions to the department, University, and wider scholarly community.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). Applications must be submitted no later than August 26.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching/advising statement (describing teaching philosophy and practices)
4. Research statement
5. Statement describing efforts to encourage diversity, inclusion, and belonging, including past, current, and anticipated future contributions in these areas.
6. Attestation and Acknowledgment form
7. Authorization form

Harvard University is committed to fostering a campus culture where everyone can thrive and experience a sense of inclusion and belonging. Community members are encouraged to model our values of integrity, responsible mentorship, equity, and excellence no matter where they are.

Start Date: Summer 2023
Application Deadline: 8/26/2022
Date Posted: 7/29/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10559

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics of Middle East/North Africa

The Department of Political Science of Boston College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor rank in Comparative Politics of Middle East/North Africa. This position is open in regard to research focus and methods. Preference will be given to candidates with substantive fieldwork and demonstrated teaching excellence, and a broad knowledge of the region.

The appointment begins late-August 2023. Candidates are expected to have their Ph.D. in hand by the start date. Interested candidates should upload their letter of interest, stating research and teaching interests; curriculum vitae and writing sample; and evidence of teaching quality to Interfolio at APPLY.INTERFOLIO.COM/110037. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by the individual letter writers. Applications must be received by October 1, 2022. No email applications or U.S.P.S. applications will be accepted.

Boston College conducts pre-employment background checks as part of the hiring process and requires all its employees to be fully vaccinated and boosted for COVID-19.

Boston College is a Jesuit, Catholic university that strives to integrate research excellence with a foundational commitment to formative liberal arts education. We encourage applications from candidates who are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community. Boston College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of any legally protected category including disability and protected veteran status. To learn more about how BC supports diversity and inclusion throughout the university, please visit the Office for Institutional Diversity at <http://www.bc.edu/offices/diversity>.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/1/2022
Date Posted: 7/28/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10551

Tulane University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) in International Development
Specializations: Africa, South Asia, India

Position description: We seek an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in International Development. Applications with specializations in gender and development or climate/resource politics, and a regional focus on Africa or South Asia/India, are especially welcome. The teaching load is 2-2. The prospective hire will contribute to the Political Science program at the undergraduate and graduate curricular levels. The expected start date for this position is July 1, 2023. For further questions about the position, contact Prof. Eduardo Silva, gesilva@tulane.edu

Qualifications: PhD in Political Science preferred. ABD candidates will be considered.

We value diversity and inclusion. Members of minorities and traditionally underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.

Application instructions: Please send in a cover letter, a CV, a statement of research, a teaching statement, a diversity statement, a writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation by August 31, 2022.

All materials should be uploaded directly in Interfolio: apply.interfolio.com/110111

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 8/31/2021
Date Posted: 7/28/2022
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 10553

Boston College

Rank: Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics of Latin America

The Department of Political Science of Boston College invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor rank in Comparative Politics of Latin America. The position is open in regard to research focus and methods. Preference will be given to candidates with substantive fieldwork and demonstrated teaching excellence, and a broad knowledge of the region. We are particularly interested in candidates whose research and teaching are in the areas of Religion and Politics, Migration and Refugee Politics, Ethno-racial and Identity Politics or Post-Colonialism. This position will complement other academic programs at Boston College.

The appointment begins late-August 2023. Candidates are expected to have their Ph.D. in hand by the start date. Interested candidates should upload their letter of interest, stating research and teaching interests; curriculum vitae and writing sample; and evidence of teaching quality to Interfolio at APPLY.INTERFOLIO.COM/110035. Three confidential letters of recommendation should be uploaded to Interfolio by the individual letter writers. Applications must be received by October 1, 2022. No email applications or U.S.P.S. applications will be accepted.

Boston College conducts pre-employment background checks as part of the hiring process and requires all its employees to be fully vaccinated and boosted for COVID-19.

Boston College is a Jesuit, Catholic university that strives to integrate research excellence with a foundational commitment to formative liberal arts education. We encourage applications from candidates who are committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic community. Boston College is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of any legally protected category including disability and protected veteran status. To learn more about how BC supports diversity and inclusion throughout the university, please visit the Office for Institutional Diversity at <http://www.bc.edu/offices/diversity>

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10541

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Race, Ethnicity, and Politics

The Department of Political Science (<https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/>) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for a tenure-track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2023. We seek candidates whose research focuses on race, ethnicity, and politics. The search is open with respect to specialization, although it is expected that applicants will contribute to the study of American or comparative political behavior or political institutions.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (PDFs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu and specify "REP Search" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin September 2, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Contact: Prof. Amanda Driscoll

Email: adriscoll@fsu.edu

Phone: 850-644-5727

Department of Political Science
Florida State University
P.O. Box 3062160
Bellamy 531
Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/2/2022

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10544

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer, Security and Intelligence

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Intelligence, Defense, Foreign Policy

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/110586>

Location:

Washington, DC

Description:

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of Assistant Program Director in the area of Security and Intelligence. This position will support the MA in Global Security Studies (primary), MS in Intelligence Analysis, and MS in Geospatial Intelligence programs in the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, within the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs Division. Reporting to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies and Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, the Assistant Program Director will contribute to the excellence of the programs and will demonstrate and support ongoing innovation in the curriculums. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online, at its Washington, DC Center, and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 45-degree programs.

AAP was started in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of nearly 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as Program Chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the KSAS Dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position:

AAP's programs in security and intelligence prepare students for positions in foreign affairs, national security and the intelligence community. Students learn how to confront the complexities of today's security environment with the latest policy and theoretical tools for analysis and action. The programs' courses are designed to maximize individual attention, encourage student contribution, build analytical skills, and provide the tools for engaging in original research. With an ever-growing and diverse student body, the programs are continually expanding and enhancing their course offerings to meet both academic and practitioner needs. Currently, the programs serve nearly 400 students both onsite and online, including a growing number of international students.

In both academic and administrative roles, the Assistant Program Director supports the curriculums, students, and adjunct faculty. The Assistant Program Director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Program Directors and other faculty within the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, as well as across other AAP programs, including the Energy Policy and Climate and Environmental Sciences and Policy programs.

The Assistant Program Director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer, commensurate with experience. The Assistant Program Director reports to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, who consults with the Program Chair on academic matters, and to the Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, who leads the Advanced Academic Programs and reports to the Dean of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences.

The Assistant Program Director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities:

Teach 6 graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both on-site in the Washington, DC Center and online), using best practices for teaching, engaging, and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, and responding to student questions

Advise students, including both program and research advising

Provide input on the curriculums and new course development to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs

Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, or contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities:

Assist with the management of degree concentrations or areas of focus

Participate in the adjunct faculty hiring and development processes

Assist the Program Directors with administrative tasks, such as planning events and reviewing admission materials

Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications:

The Assistant Program Director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The Assistant Program Director must have passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for international, part-time, and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in political science, international affairs, security studies, intelligence, or other field relevant to the interdisciplinary nature of global security studies; other terminal degrees in these or related fields may be considered

- 1-3 years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level

- The ability to teach a variety of courses in the global security fields, including research-focused courses

- Strong organizational skills

- Excellent oral and written communication skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level

- 1-3 years of work experience related professional work experience outside of academia, including but not limited to, government service, outside consulting, or collaborative work within fields related to security studies and intelligence

- Experience managing a degree or certificate program

- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design

- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions:

For consideration; interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/110586>):

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position

- CV

- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10548

Western Washington University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics

About the University:

Western Washington University, with over 16,000 students in seven colleges and the graduate school, is nationally recognized for its educational programs, students and faculty. Western is the highest-ranking public, master's-granting university in the Pacific Northwest, according to the 2019 U.S. News & World Report rankings. Its mission is to serve the state of Washington and beyond by bringing together individuals of diverse backgrounds and perspectives in an inclusive university that develops the potential of learners and the well-being of communities.

Faculty at Western Washington University enjoy a balance of teaching, scholarship, and service at this leading public comprehensive university in the Pacific Northwest.

The campus is located in Bellingham, Washington, a coastal community of 90,000 overlooking Bellingham Bay, the San Juan Islands and the North Cascades Mountain range. The city lies 90 miles north of Seattle and 60 miles south of Vancouver, British Columbia. <http://www.wvu.edu/>

About the Department:

The Department of Political Science has 16 full-time tenured and tenure track faculty members and approximately 340 majors and minors. Our work encompasses American politics, comparative politics, international relations, public policy, and political theory. We bring cross-cultural and intersectional knowledge to bear on all of our course offerings. We have a history of and a pedagogical commitment to integrating considerations of race, gender, class and sexuality into all aspects of our curriculum. The Department affirms Western's mission to welcome and embraces diversity, equity and inclusion, and we encourage applications from diverse candidates.

About the Position:

The Political Science Department at Western Washington University invites applications for a tenure-track position in Comparative Politics with a specialization in the politics of the Middle East or Africa at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in September 2023.

The position requires teaching at both introductory and advanced undergraduate levels; an active research program; and service to the Political Science department, the university and the profession. Teaching will include introductory and upper division courses in Comparative Politics and advanced courses in the candidate's area of specialization. Teaching contribution is two courses per term. Criteria for promotion are described in the Political Science Department Unit Evaluation Plan, available on request. <https://chss.wwu.edu>

For the full position description go to the WWU HR Careers page: <https://hr.wwu.edu/careers-faculty?job=499957>

Required Qualifications:

Doctorate or ABD at time of application in Political Science. If ABD, all degree requirements must be completed by June 15th of the first year of employment (e.g., for a September 2023 start date, all degree requirements must be completed by June 15, 2024).

Specialization in one or both of the following: Politics of the Middle East or Africa

Ability to effectively teach introductory and upper division courses in Comparative Politics

Ability to develop and sustain a high quality research program

Ability to work effectively within a diverse community of students, faculty, and staff

Preferred Qualifications:

Demonstrated ability and commitment to cultivating learning environments that are equitable and inclusive of students with diverse social identities and backgrounds.

Salary:

$66,000 - $69,000 commensurate with experience and qualifications. Relocation assistance may be available per University guidelines. Salary and start-up funds are to be determined upon being offered the position.

Application Instructions:

Please submit a letter of application addressing the required and preferred qualifications, curriculum vitae, teaching materials including teaching philosophy, syllabi, and course evaluations (if available), and an example of scholarly writing. Three letters of recommendation will be required; please do not submit these. You will be required to provide the names and contact information of three references, and the Western PageUp application system will automatically send out the requests for these letters to your references.

Inquiries may be directed to the search committee chair, Shirin Deylami, at deylams@wwu.edu

Closing Date:

Position closes September 16, 2022 at 11:55 pm.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/16/2022

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10537

Academia Sinica

Rank: Assistant Research Fellow (equivalent to Assistant Professor)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Position Announcement

Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica

1. The Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica (IPSAS), Taipei, Taiwan, seeks to appoint full-time faculty members at the rank of assistant research fellow (which is equivalent to assistant professor). Application for higher rank will also be considered.

2. The applicant should specialize at least one of the following fields: (1) Taiwan politics and comparative democracy; (2) China and comparative politico-economic transition; (3) cross-Strait relations and international relations theory; (4) political changes in Asia and global democratic development; and, (5) political methodology.

3. The applicant must have a doctoral degree in political science or related disciplines, or is able to receive a Ph.D. degree by August 31, 2023.

4. Applicants for positions of assistant research fellow should submit the following documents:

- (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
- (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate or certification for completion of course work and successful defense of dissertation (for applicants who have not yet passed the oral examination, proof for completion of courses and a letter certifying imminent holding of oral examination are required);
- (3) two copies of the doctoral dissertation (or draft) and other publications;
- (4) an abstract (in both English and Chinese) of the doctoral dissertation;
- (5) transcripts from undergraduate and graduate schools;
- (6) a statement of research accomplishments and research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
- (7) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio; those applying for the position of assistant research fellow should have one letter from the dissertation advisor).

5. Applicants for positions of associate research fellow or above should submit the following documents:

- (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
- (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate;
- (3) three representative publications (and two copies each);
- (4) proofs for appointments in Taiwanese or international academic institutes;
- (5) a statement of research accomplishments and research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
- (6) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio).

6. The application should be sent to Dr. Chung-li Wu, Director, Institute of Political Science, Academia Sinica, 128 Academia Rd., Sec. 2, Taipei 115201, Taiwan, R.O.C.

7. Further questions can be forwarded to Ms. Ren-Yuan Lo at 886-2-2652-5303, faxed to 886-2-2783-2610, or e-mailed to ipsas@gate.s-inica.edu.tw.

8. The application should be received by October 31, 2022.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: 10/31/2022

Date Posted: 7/22/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10513

New York University Faculty of Arts and Science Rank: Faculty Fellow, The Center for European and Mediterranean Studies

Specializations: Environmental Policy, Civil Rights & Liberties, Western Europe

Faculty Fellow

The Center for European and Mediterranean Studies
New York University Faculty of Arts and Science

Deadline: December 20, 2022

The Center for European and Mediterranean Studies in Arts and Science at New York University invites applicants for a Faculty Fellow position in the field of Mediterranean Studies. The initial appointment will be for one year beginning September 1, 2023, renewable annually for a maximum of three years, pending administrative and budget-ary approval.

CEMS/NYU seeks a scholar experienced in advising student research and specializing in one or more of the following fields: comparative European and Mediterranean politics, anthropology, or sociology; or modern Mediterranean history. We seek the candidates with research and/or teaching interests concerning Southern Europe and the Mediterranean regions, with a specific focus on questions of migration, human rights, identity, inequality, or the environment.

Responsibilities include teaching three graduate and undergraduate courses per year - possibly including a graduate research methods seminar and overseeing undergraduate independent studies. The position also involves a significant role in advising theses for both master's students and undergraduate honors majors. Service to the program will involve representing the Center at university occasions and committee meetings. Candidates should demonstrate a commitment to interdisciplinary scholarship and excellence in teaching.

Qualifications

Candidates should have completed their Ph.D. no earlier than January 2018 and no later than August 1, 2023.

To apply, please submit a cover letter (including research interests and any undergraduate/graduate level courses for which you were the primary instructor or TA), CV, three letters of recommendation, writing sample, and a statement of diversity and inclusion. As diversity is an important part of the NYU mission, for the latter statement we ask you to provide a brief paragraph telling us how diversity figures into your past and present teaching, research, community engagement, and/or life experience, as well as how you would bring issues of diversity to bear on the teaching and programming of NYU CEMS. Information about diversity statements may be found at <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity/recruitment/diversity-statements.html>.

Applications should be submitted through <http://apply.interfolio.com/109626>

The Faculty of Arts and Science at NYU is at the heart of a leading research university that spans the globe. We seek scholars of the highest caliber who embody the diversity of the United States as well as the global society in which we live. We strongly encourage applications from women, racial and ethnic minorities, and other individuals who are under-represented in the profession, across color, creed, race, ethnic and national origin, physical ability, gender and sexual identity, or any other legally protected basis. NYU affirms the value of differing perspectives on the world as we strive to build the strongest possible university with the widest reach. To learn more about the FAS commitment to diversity, equality and inclusion, please read here <http://as.nyu.edu/departments/facultydiversity.html>.

EOE/Affirmative Action/Minorities/Females/Vet/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 12/20/2022

Date Posted: 7/22/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10518

University of Delaware

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The University of Delaware invites applications for a tenure track Assistant Professor of Political Science in the Department of Political Science and International Relations. Successful candidates should have a scholarly specialization in Comparative Politics. The effective start date is September 1, 2023.

We are seeking a scholar with research interests in democratization, de-democratization, democratic backsliding, and/or populism, broadly construed. We are open to various approaches to these issues. The region of specialization is open. Strong quantitative and/or qualitative methodological skills are required, and the selected candidate will be expected to be able to teach research methods classes (quantitative or qualitative) at the graduate level.

QUALIFICATIONS AND RESPONSIBILITIES: The selected candidate must have a Ph.D. in hand by September 1, 2023. Applicants who are ABD will be considered but must have a granted Ph.D. upon arrival. Applicants must be able to demonstrate the skills and capacity necessary for excellence in teaching and research in one or more of the specific areas listed above. The selected applicant will contribute to the Department's teaching, research, and service missions.

POLITICAL SCIENCE AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

AT UD: The Department of Political Science and International Relations within the College of Arts and Sciences has 23 full-time faculty, nearly 1,000 undergraduate majors and minors, and 40 doctoral students. The Department offers two undergraduate majors (Political Science and International Relations) and undergraduate minors in Political Science, Political Communication, and Politics and Social Justice, as well as a Ph.D. in Political Science. The department faculty covers five subfields of political science: American politics, comparative politics, international relations, political theory, and methodology. The faculty is a methodologically diverse and collegial group of research-intensive and nationally and internationally known scholars. They are outstanding teachers, mentors, advisers and public servants. We have interdisciplinary connections to several other UD departments, including Africana Studies, Communication, Psychological and Brain Sciences, Women and Gender Studies, as well as the Center for Global and Area Studies. We are also a partner in the Center for Political Communication. For more information, please see our website at <https://www.poscir.udel.edu/>

The College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Delaware offers exceptional educational experiences including integrated instruction, research and public engagement. With 24 academic departments and more than 25 centers, programs and institutes, the College serves close to 7,000 undergraduate students and over 1,000 graduate students with CAS majors, but also every single University student through foundational course work. The College's 600 faculty members emphasize the enduring value of an arts and science education and share a deep commitment to excellence in scholarship and all forms of creative and intellectual expression. The College has departments in the arts, humanities, social sciences and natural sciences, and features outstanding research and teaching facilities. Faculty and staff encourage and support innovative interdisciplinary collaborations and students engage local, national and global audiences through research and creative activity. With annual research expenditures of approximately $38 million and growing, the College currently houses several large, interdisciplinary grants with significant funding from the NIH and NSF.

The University of Delaware (www.udel.edu) is one of the nation's oldest institutions of higher education, combining tradition and innovation. The university recognizes and values the importance of diversity and inclusion in enriching the experience of its employees and in supporting its academic mission. We are committed to attracting and retaining employees with varying identities and backgrounds, and we strongly encourage applications from educators from underrepresented groups. UD provides equal access to and opportunity in its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, gender, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

TO APPLY:

Apply at <https://careers.udel.edu/cw/en-us/job/499097/tenure-track-assistant-professor-political-science>

Review of applications will begin on September 30, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should upload a letter of application, curriculum vitae, research statement, statement of teaching philosophy, teaching evaluations and any other evidence of teaching quality, writing sample or sample publication, and letters from three references at <http://www.udel.edu/careers>. Questions, but not application materials, may be sent to Dr. Julio Carrión, search committee chair, at jcarrion@udel.edu.

SALARY AND BENEFITS: Compensation packages are highly competitive and commensurate with experience and qualifications. The UD benefits package is one of the best in the nation.

EQUAL EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY: The University of Delaware is an Equal Opportunity Employer and encourages applications from members of underrepresented groups. The University's Notice of Non-Discrimination can be found at <http://www.udel.edu/aboutus/legalnotices.html>.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2022

Date Posted: 7/19/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10505

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2023. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors will teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the cross-national study of democratic representation. Regional specialization is open, and we are interested in candidates focusing on mass political behavior and/or elite behavior and political institutions. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2023.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 20, 2022. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <https://apply.interfolio.com/109667>.

Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/20/2022

Date Posted: 7/13/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10490

University of Colorado, Colorado Springs

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs (UCCS) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics beginning August 2023.

Successful candidates will have research and teaching experience in Comparative Politics and International Relations. Special consideration will be given to candidates whose research and teaching interests relate to a regional specialization in East Asian Politics, or other relevant regional specializations.

The successful candidate will be required to teach our introductory course in Global Politics as well as our upper division course in Comparative Politics. They will further be expected to teach courses in their geographical area of expertise. The successful candidate will teach both in person and online courses. Candidates from underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit the following materials by 5:00pm MDT (7:00pm EDT) on Friday, August 12, 2022 to receive full consideration:

- (1) CV
- (2) Cover letter
- (3) Research statement
- (4) Sample course syllabus
- (5) Unofficial transcripts

For further information and access to the application submission portal, please visit:

https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?job=25512&lang=en&sns_id=mailto#.YsYBUeYAvjA.mailto

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 8/12/2022

Date Posted: 7/12/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10473

Harvard Business School

Rank: Tenure Track Position in Political Science 2022-23

Specializations: Political Economy, International Political Economy, Political Development

Harvard Business School is seeking candidates for a tenure-track position in the Business, Government, and the International Economy (BGIE) unit. Applications are welcome from candidates in all sub-fields, and special preference will be given to candidates whose research interests include American political development, international political economy or comparative political economy, and environmental politics. The search is open with regard to methodological approach. Candidates may come directly from Ph.D. programs or from the faculties of other universities. The appointment will begin on July 1, 2023.

All applicants should have excellent academic credentials and a demonstrated potential for conducting outstanding research. The School is particularly interested in applicants with interdisciplinary interests and strong records of, or potential for, excellence in teaching.

Successful candidates will, at the outset, teach a required first-year MBA course on the economic, political, and social environment of global business.

Review of applications will begin September 20, 2022. Applications should include: cover letter, curriculum vitae, description of research, and writing sample (preferably dissertation chapters). Three confidential letters of recommendation should be submitted through the online portal by the referees.

To apply please go to this website and select "Tenure-Track Position in Political Science" when choosing a position on the application:

<https://www.hbs.edu/faculty/Pages/positions.aspx>

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/20/2022

Date Posted: 7/11/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10476

George Washington University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a one-year position as a visiting professor with a specialization in Comparative Politics. The candidate hired will teach a 3-3 course load of undergraduate classes during the 2022-2023 academic year.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field. Applicants must have experience teaching undergraduate courses.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <https://www.gwu.edu/jobs/postings/93999>; upload a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching experience; evidence of teaching effectiveness, preferably student evaluations; and include the names of three references (letters of recommendation are not required). Review of applications will begin on 8/5/2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered. Please note the University has an ongoing mandate for all personnel to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

The university and department have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply.

Successful completion of a Background Screening will be required as a condition of hire.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 8/5/2022

Date Posted: 7/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10465

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2022-2023 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF05035>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by July 15, 2022, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10444

University of Western Ontario

Rank: International/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Political Science – International/Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites applications for highly qualified applicants for a probationary (tenure-track) appointment in the area of International/Comparative politics, broadly defined, with a starting date of July 1, 2023 or as negotiated.

We seek individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service who can help advance Western's Strategic Plan: <https://strategicplan.uwo.ca/>. In particular, we will favour candidates whose teaching and scholarship addresses one or more of: threats to democracy, environmental politics, sustainability, climate change, systemic racism, and/or socioeconomic inequality. The successful candidate could approach these issues from either the system- or individual-level. Western Political Science aims to be Canada's top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach empirical research methods will be considered an asset.

To address Western's commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and decolonization, applicants who self-identify as a woman, Indigenous person, member of a racialized community, person with a disability, or who identify as 2SLGBTQ+ are encouraged to apply to this position.

Applications should include the following:

- 1) application form (<http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf>),
- 2) cover letter that addresses how the candidate fits the position and the department, and includes a brief statement of how the candidate will contribute to our commitment to Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Decolonization.
- 3) curriculum vitae,
- 4) short statement of teaching and research interests,
- 5) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers,

- 6) names and contact information of three academic referees,

The deadline for receipt of applications is September 15th, 2022, or until the position is filled.

This material should be sent to: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Professor Matthew Lebo, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's COVID-19 Vaccination Policy.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the "Western Experience" – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's Covid Vaccination Policy.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. For any questions about the position or application please contact: matt.lebo@uwo.ca.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10425

American University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The School of Public Affairs at American University invites applications for a tenure-line position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics beginning August 1, 2023. Applicants should have a PhD or an anticipated PhD completed by August 2023. Successful candidates will have strong quantitative skills. The search is open with regard to subfield, though the Department is especially interested in scholars whose research and teaching interests include institutions and political economy. Most of all, the department seeks scholars who will further its goals of producing high impact research, providing innovative undergraduate and graduate teaching, and contributing to high visibility centers and research initiatives at American University.

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on September 21 and will continue until the position is filled, subject to ongoing budgetary approval. Please submit applications via: <https://apply.interfolio.com/108453>. Include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, and statement of research interests. Applicants should include three letters of recommendation. Please email govsearch@american.edu if you have any questions.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The School's programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of many centers of government, business, research, and arts located in the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. American University is a tobacco and smoke free campus.

Start Date: Fall

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/17/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10424

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment on China and Climate Change

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: East Asia, China, Energy Policy

Stanford University invites applications for a joint appointment as a continuing-term senior fellow and tenured faculty at the associate or full professor level in the broad area of China and Climate Change. The focus of the search is open. We are searching for creative and innovative scholars with an established record of outstanding policy-relevant research and education around the topics of China and climate change. We invite candidates from a broad range of disciplines to apply.

This joint hire is part of a broader effort by Stanford University in building the new Doerr School of Sustainability. The appointment from this search will be made jointly in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and in the Doerr School of Sustainability, which will begin operating in the 2022-2023 academic year.

Candidates must have a PhD in a field relevant to climate change, expertise on China, an excellent record of scholarly, policy-relevant research, a dedication to teaching, and a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae; 2) a research statement (up to 3 pages); 3) a diversity statement that demonstrates the applicant's commitment and potential to contribute to Stanford's goals of diversity, equity, and inclusion through personal experience or perspective, scholarship, teaching, or service (1 page); 4) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); and 5) a cover letter. Review of applications will begin upon receipt and continue until the position is filled. All are welcome to apply.

Apply at:

<https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/493398/faculty-appointment-on-china-and-climate-change>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Date Posted: 6/8/2022

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 10406

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Latin American, Foreign Policy

Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor within the Department of Government and Foreign Affairs. Candidates should specialize in International Law and the U.S. Constitution and Foreign Affairs; additional subfields in Latin American politics and/or U.S. national security policy are highly desired. Candidates should be able to teach, as needed, Introduction to American Government and, particularly, introduction to World Politics. The ability to offer courses in Western Culture or political philosophy is a plus.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Effective teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, willingness to engage in community service, and a dedication to student success, are all qualities required of a successful candidate. Teaching load for this position is seven courses per year.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. Hampden-Sydney is one of four liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men, and our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning." As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, and three confidential reference letters via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/107980>. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment.

Questions about this position may be addressed to Dr. John Eastby at jeastby@hsc.edu or Dr. Celia Carroll Jones at ccarroll@hsc.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10395

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Specializations: Middle East, East Asia, Political Development

Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor within the Department of Government and Foreign Affairs. The successful candidate should be prepared to offer courses in Asian and Middle Eastern politics. The ability to teach upper-level international policy in a specialized area (environment, trade, immigration, health, security, etc.) or political philosophy is a plus. The successful applicant is expected to participate in the college-wide Global Cultures program and to teach, as needed, Introduction to World Politics and Introduction to American Government courses.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Effective teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, willingness to engage in community service, and a dedication to student success, are all qualities required of a successful candidate. Teaching load for this position is seven courses per year.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. Hampden-Sydney is one of four liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men, and our mission is to educate “good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning.” As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, and three confidential reference letters via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/107981>. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment.

Questions about this position may be addressed to Dr. John Eastby at jeastby@hsc.edu or Dr. Celia Carroll Jones at ccarroll@hsc.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10396

George Washington University

Rank: Part time faculty

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Political Science at George Washington University explores wide-ranging topics related to political behavior and governance, both in the United States and across the globe. The department houses nationally recognized undergraduate and graduate programs with emphases in the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations.

The Department of Political Science at George Washington University invites applicants to apply who are interested in serving as a temporary part-time faculty for the fall 2022 semester, teaching in the areas of American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Policy. The George Washington University is in a Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) with the part-time faculty elected union, Service Employees International Union (SEIU) Local 500.

Minimum Qualifications

A Master's degree in political science or related field. Prior experience teaching students at the postgraduate level.

Application Instructions

To apply, interested individuals should email Dr. Susan Wiley (wiley@gwu.edu) a recent curriculum vitae (CV) to express interest in the role. Prior student course evaluations may be requested. Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

EEO Statement

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10376

Hope College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Hope College seeks applicants for a visiting assistant professor position beginning by Fall 2022. Strong preference will be given to candidates with expertise in political theory. In addition to political theory, we welcome applications from candidates who are able to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics, including a course in state and local politics. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester.

The College offers opportunities for internal research support and assistance in seeking external funding. The Political Science department at Hope has six tenured/tenure-track faculty and graduates about 25 majors each year. The Political Science department also contributes to Hope College's teacher education program as well as interdisciplinary programs in environmental studies and global studies.

Candidates should upload the following documents as part of their application:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

A statement indicating a willingness to commit to and engage with Hope's mission statement

A statement describing your teaching philosophy, experience, and interests

Formal teaching evaluations

Sample publications

A statement of your research plans and how you will mentor undergraduates in research (optional)

In addition, you should enter the names and contact information for three references when you apply. References will be contacted via email upon your application, providing with a link to upload a letter of recommendation to your file.

Direct questions can be sent to ryden@hope.edu. For full consideration, candidates should submit their completed materials immediately. Applications will be reviewed as they are received and continue until the search is complete.

Additional information found at jobs.hope.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/10/2022

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 10347

Midwestern State University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Political Science program seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor. This position is a nine-month, non-tenure track contract. The Department intends to begin a tenure-track faculty search during the 2022-2023 academic year. The teaching load is 12 hours per semester (4 courses). The teaching load includes teaching introductory Texas and American government, as well as upper-level courses in Political Science and Global Studies. Salary is competitive.

The Department is interested in candidates with a PhD in Political Science, and who will contribute to the mission of the department and university. For the visiting position, all subfields are welcome, but expertise in international politics, global political economy, or European politics is especially welcome.

The Department of Political Science houses majors Political Science and Global Studies, as well as a minor in Women's and Gender studies. Midwestern State University is a diverse, public liberal arts university with an enrollment of approximately 6,000 students and a member of the Texas Tech System. MSU Texas is located in Wichita Falls, a city of 102,000 about 2 hours northwest of Dallas/Fort Worth (www.msutexas.edu).

As a Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC) member institution, Midwestern State University is particularly committed to excellence in teaching and seeks applicants that will contribute to this mission. This position is designated as security sensitive and requires the finalist to complete a criminal background check. EEO/ADAAA compliance employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/10/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10345

Miami University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Comparative Politics

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Comparative Politics, open with respect to subfield but particularly interested in Russian politics and Russian Foreign Policy, to teach courses across comparative politics and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program. The position begins at the start of the academic year August 2022.

Required: Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field by the date of appointment for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor; ABD for appointment as Instructor. This position is not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Consideration may be given to candidates who possess teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught.

Submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, transcripts and writing sample to <https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/500240/visiting-assistant-professorinstructor-comparative-politics>. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 23, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Miami University is committed to creating an inclusive and effective teaching, learning, research, and working environment for all.

As part of the University's commitment to maintaining a healthy and safe living, learning, and working environment, we encourage you to read Miami University's Annual Security & Fire Safety Report at <http://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>, which contains information about campus safety, crime statistics, and our drug and alcohol abuse and prevention program designed to prevent the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol on campus and at university events and activities. This report also contains information on programs and policies designed to prevent and address sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Each year, email notification of this website is made to all faculty, staff, and enrolled students. Written notification is also provided to prospective students and employees. Hard copies of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report may be obtained from the Miami University Police Department at (513) 529-2225. Criminal background check required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco free.

Miami University is committed to providing up-to-date information from the Department of Labor to our applicants for employment. Here, you will find links to the current information regarding the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO), and the Employee Polygraph Protection Act (EPPA).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10342

University of Kentucky

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY, invites applications for a teaching post-doc position in International Relations or Comparative Politics with particular interest in international organizations, international law, and/or comparative judicial politics. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and inclusion mission of the department. The position will begin August 1, 2022. Applicants are expected to teach a 2/3 load and design at least one new course in the area of Legal Studies.

Applicants should show strong potential to provide effective undergraduate teaching and have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 2022.

Applicants should submit the following: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) letter stating the candidate's research and teaching interests (uploaded as Cover Letter), 3) copy of transcript for highest degree earned, 4) evidence of teaching experience, particularly syllabi from courses taught (uploaded as specific request 1). Provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information will be used to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10340

Wheaton College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics

The Department of Politics and International Relations at Wheaton College invites applications for a half-year appointment as a Visiting Assistant Professor for the Spring 2023 semester. We seek applicants who specialize in comparative politics and are open to all specializations. Ph.D. is expected and teaching experience is preferred.

Please send a letter describing teaching experience and commitment to the Christian faith along with a current curriculum vitae to Dr. Michael McKoy, Search Committee Chair, Department of Politics & International Relations (michael.mckoy@wheaton.edu). Promising candidates will receive full application materials.

Review of completed applications will begin August 1 and continue until the position is filled.

Wheaton College complies with federal and state guidelines for non-discrimination in employment, and is an evangelical Protestant Christian liberal arts college whose faculty and staff affirm a Statement of Faith and adhere to the lifestyle expectations of the Wheaton College Community Covenant. Information on both may be found here. Women and minority candidates are strongly encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10337

Marist College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Marist College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor. We are seeking broadly trained candidates with a Ph.D. in hand who can teach courses in Comparative Politics. Candidates must be able to teach our Politics of Developing Areas course, and strong candidates will have some combination of regional expertise in Latin America, Africa and/or Asia. The opportunity to teach upper-level courses in the area of your specialization is also available, and an ability to teach an introductory course in International Relations is desirable. Strong candidates will be able to provide evidence of teaching effectiveness at the collegiate level. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Teaching experience and evidence of teaching effectiveness is required. The teaching load will be 4-4 with a mixture of introductory and advanced courses. Faculty are expected to hold office hours and attend departmental and school meetings. For more details and to apply, please visit: <http://careers.marist.edu/cw/en-us/job/493161/visiting-assistant-professor-of-political-science>.

Located on the banks of the historic Hudson River and at its Florence, Italy campus, Marist College is a comprehensive, independent institution grounded in the liberal arts. Its mission is to "help students develop the intellect, character, and skills required for enlightened, ethical, and productive lives in the global community of the 21st century." Marist is consistently recognized for excellence by The Princeton Review (Colleges That Create Futures and The Best 385 Colleges), U.S. News & World Report (10th Best Regional University/North, 5th Most Innovative School/North), Kiplinger's Personal Finance ("Best College Values"), and others. The College is top-ranked for long-term study abroad (#4 in the U.S.) by the U.S. State Department's Open Doors report. Marist educates more than 5,000 traditional-age undergraduate students and 1,400 adult and graduate students in 47 undergraduate majors and numerous graduate programs, including fully online MBA, MPA, MS, and MA degrees, and also Doctor of Physical Therapy and Physician Assistant programs. To learn more, please visit <https://www.marist.edu/about>.

The Political Science Department includes 7 faculty and offers a BA in Political science and a minor. The department contributes substantially to our interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies, American Studies, Latin American & Caribbean Studies, and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. The Political Science Department is housed in the School of Liberal Arts, which includes departments in English, history, modern languages & cultures, and philosophy & religious studies. The School of Liberal Arts is also home to the Center for Civic Engagement and Leadership and the Hudson River Valley Institute.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10332

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Full Time Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for two full-time instructor positions. The appointments are for a one-year term with the possibility of renewal. We expect one position to serve undergraduate teaching needs in American politics and/or public policy and the other to serve undergraduate teaching needs in comparative politics and/or international relations. Minimum qualifications: MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level. Preferred qualifications: PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university. For more information about the department, see <https://psc.ua.edu/>. Please direct questions to pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Position begins August 16, 2022.

Applicants should submit a cover letter summarizing their teaching qualifications and experience, courses prepared to offer, and reasons for interest in the position, a cv, evidence of teaching effectiveness, syllabi (if available), and the names and contact information of 3 references (ideally with knowledge of candidate's teaching experience). Letters will only be required for short-listed candidates.

Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu>.

Deadline: Submit applications by May 30, 2022 for best consideration; screening of applications will continue until the positions are filled. Apply Here: <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/50242>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/6/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10335

College of William & Mary

Rank: Visiting Instr/Assistant Prof of Government & Russian/Post-Soviet Stud

The Department of Government and the Global Studies Program at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure-track visiting position that will begin on August 10, 2022. We seek an individual who can teach Russian politics, East European politics, and an interdisciplinary introductory course in Russian Studies, as well as freshmen/senior seminars on related issues. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a [3-3] teaching load.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a CV, a cover letter, a statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a statement describing previous professional experience or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, April 24, 2022. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed. William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The university is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

William & Mary conducts background checks on applicants for employment.

Please visit the W&M website for information on the Department of Government and Russian & Post-Soviet Studies.

William & Mary is committed to providing a safe campus community. W&M conducts background investigations for applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include reference checks, a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial (credit) report or driving history check.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/29/2022

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 10243

Brown University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow in Political Science and International and Public Affairs

Specializations: International Security, Public Opinion, Criminal Justice

Professor Robert Blair (Department of Political Science and Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs) is accepting applications for a post-doctoral fellowship beginning in fall 2022. The fellow will work closely with Professor Blair on collaborative research projects. Professor Blair's current research interests include policy reforms and evaluations to improve police performance and police-community relations in low- and middle-income countries; the impact of UN peacekeeping on security and justice sector reform (among other outcomes) in countries recovering from civil war; and the development of mechanisms to reduce partisan polarization and prevent democratic erosion in the US, among other topics. The ideal candidate will have similarly broad research interests, and will be eager to collaborate on projects spanning multiple substantive areas in multiple geographical locations.

Qualifications needed:

- PhD in political science, economics, or related discipline by the fellowship start date
- Experience with quantitative data analysis in Stata or R (preferably both)
- Experience running surveys, field experiments, and/or other forms of complex field-based research
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Spoken Spanish is desirable but not necessary

Application instructions: Please provide a cover letter, CV, research statement, writing sample, and two letters of recommendation.

Please apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/103774>

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/18/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10213

University of Houston

Rank: Visiting Scholar

The University of Houston's Center for Mexican American and Latino/a Studies is soliciting applications for its Visiting Scholars Program for the 2022-2023 academic year. All interested scholars from relevant disciplines are encouraged to apply. Applicants must have completed a Ph.D. by August 1st, 2022. Visiting Scholars receive a salary appropriate to rank and are expected to be in residence during the academic year. Priority consideration will be given to applicants whose research focus aligns with that of the Center and whose area of research focuses on Mexican American and/or Latinx studies.

Visiting scholars would be expected to teach one course and write a report based on their research interests.

To apply, visit the UH HR Careers website (<https://www.uh.edu/human-resources/careers/?msclkid=2034fb3da6e811ec8379d7e6dbe8194a>), and search for the following position: FAC002291. Click "apply for this position," and submit the following materials:

Cover Letter

Current Vitae

Two-page description of a proposed research project that will be undertaken while in residence

Three letters of recommendation

Unofficial transcripts

Additional information about the CMAS Visiting Scholar position can be obtained by contacting the Center for Mexican American and Latino/a Studies at cmals@central.uh.edu.

The University of Houston is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer. Minorities, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Additionally, the University prohibits discrimination in employment on the basis of sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/18/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10216

College of the Holy Cross

Rank: Visiting Full-Time Faculty/Comparative Politics/Latin American/Migration

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of Political Science at College of the Holy Cross invites applications for a visiting full-time faculty position in Comparative Politics, with a focus on Latin America and migration studies, for the 2022-2023 academic year to begin in August 2022. Specific courses include Latin American Politics, an introductory course in Comparative Politics, and an upper-level course in the candidate's area of specialty to be determined in consultation with the Chair of Political Science and the Director of the Latin American, Latinx, and the Caribbean Studies Program (LALC), preferably in the field of migration studies. Additional information about departments/programs the position will serve can be found here <https://www.holycross.edu/academics/programs/political-science>; <https://www.holycross.edu/academics/programs/latin-american-latinx-and-caribbean-studies> and <https://www.holycross.edu/academics/programs/international-studies>

Visiting full-time faculty teach 3 courses each semester and are eligible for travel support and reimbursement of relocation costs within the College's published policies. All full-time appointments offer competitive salaries and include full benefits.

QUALIFICATIONS

Candidates must demonstrate commitment to, and excellence in, undergraduate teaching as informed by current practice and scholarship in the field.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please submit a letter of application, current curriculum vitae, a statement on teaching philosophy and specific teaching interests, transcripts (A Ph.D. in Political Science is preferred but ABD candidates will be considered.), and two confidential letters of recommendation.

As a Jesuit, undergraduate liberal arts college, the College values dialogue among people from diverse perspectives as integral to the mission and essential to the excellence of our academic program (see <http://holycross.edu/mission>). In your application, please highlight how your teaching, scholarship, mentorship, and/or service might support the College's mission and its commitment to diversity and inclusion. For more information, please visit <http://holycross.edu/diversity>.

College of the Holy Cross uses Interfolio to collect all faculty job applications electronically. Please submit all application materials to <https://apply.interfolio.com/103706>.

Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position has been filled. For full consideration, please apply by April 4, 2022. Questions about this search may be directed to Prof. Maria G. Rodrigues, Chair of the Department of Political Science, and Chair of the Search Committee at mrodrigu@holycross.edu.

COVID-19 VACCINATION POLICY

College of the Holy Cross requires that all faculty and staff show proof of full vaccination by an FDA-approved COVID-19 vaccine before beginning employment, unless an exemption from this policy has been granted. New faculty members believing they need an accommodation of this policy because of a disability, sincerely-held religious belief, or otherwise should inform Human Resources after an offer of employment is extended; please do not include any medical, genetic, or religious information in your application materials.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYMENT STATEMENT

The College of the Holy Cross is a highly selective Catholic liberal arts college in the Jesuit tradition. It enrolls about 3,000 students and is located in a medium-sized city 45 miles west of Boston. The College seeks faculty members whose scholarship, teaching, and on- and off-campus service demonstrate commitment to the educational benefits of a richly diverse community.

Holy Cross aspires to meet the needs of dual-career couples, in part through its membership in the Higher Education Consortium of Central Massachusetts and the New England Higher Education Recruitment Consortium (<http://www.newenglandherc.org>). The College is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer and complies with all Federal and Massachusetts laws concerning equal opportunity and affirmative action in the workplace.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/4/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10176

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Brown University

Rank: Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellows Program 2022-2024

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University aspires to promote a just and peaceful world through research, teaching, and public engagement. Central to this mission is the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, an effort to galvanize the careers of young social scientists conducting research related to the Institute's three core thematic areas:

development, governance, and security. Participants in this program will join an interdisciplinary community of scholars engaged in theoretically and substantively important research addressing the most pressing global issues of our time. Fellows receive two years of support, with the expectation that they will pursue research and participate fully in the intellectual life of the Institute. Fellows will also teach one course per year in the Institute or in an affiliated Brown University social science department. Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Founded in 1764, Brown is a leading research university distinct for its student-centered learning and deep sense of purpose. Brown University students, faculty, and staff are driven by the idea that their work will have an impact on the world. Brown is a place where rigorous scholarship, complex problem-solving, and service to the public good are defined by collaboration, intellectual discovery, and working in ways that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries.

The fellowship competition is open to candidates from the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, and sociology. The selection process, open with regard to nationality and geographic area of research, is highly competitive and typically generates over 500 applications for 4 or 5 places. Scholars who have received their PhDs within two years of the application deadline are eligible to apply. Individuals who are currently – or have previously been – postdoctoral fellows in other programs are not eligible to apply. Fellows will receive an annual stipend of $60,000, for this benefits-eligible position. Additional funding will be made available for research expenses and research-related programming on campus. Candidates selected for the Postdoctoral Fellows program who have not completed their dissertations by July 1, 2023, will be paid a reduced salary until their dissertation is defended.

To receive full consideration, the following materials should be submitted by September 30, 2022 to the application portal <http://apply.interfolio.com/109862>

- A cover letter stating the applicant's academic field, status of their dissertation, and proposed research to be conducted during their fellowship period. The cover letter should not exceed 2,000 words and should make clear where in the Institute's core areas of security, development, or governance the proposed research best fits.

Please also include a statement about teaching in a diverse and inclusive classroom.

- An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
- A copy of each graduate transcript.
- A writing sample.
- Three letters of recommendation from scholars familiar with the applicant's research.

Review of applications will begin on September 30; to receive full consideration applications should be received by that date. Awards will be announced in January 2023.

For further information regarding the Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellows Program, please visit the Watson Institute website (watson.brown.edu) or contact: Professor J. Nicholas Ziegler, Faculty Director of the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, 2022-2023, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University, 111 Thayer Street, Box 1970 Providence, RI 02912. j_n_ziegler@brown.edu. For information about the application process, please email: Watson_Applications@brown.edu

Brown University is situated on the East Side of Providence, on historic College Hill, overlooking downtown Providence. The area around Brown has a friendly, residential vibe, with plentiful housing options, shopping, cafés, and restaurants, all within walking distance of campus. With its low cost of living and historic architecture, the capital city is a vibrant place to live and work that offers a dynamic arts and culture scene, including many music, theater, and art venues. Located in southern New England, the State of Rhode Island features more than 400 miles of coastline and 100 beaches. Beautiful farms, vineyards, orchards, wooded trails, and numerous historic towns cover its 1200 square miles.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2020

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10554

Clark University

Rank: Assistant Professor of International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Clark University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in International Relations, with a specialization in international organization (broadly defined), to begin in August 2023. Candidates must have evidence of teaching excellence and scholarly promise. Candidates must have their Ph.D. in hand by August 2023.

Recognizing the proliferation of transnational and global political and security issues and challenges (i.e., climate change, global pandemics, economic inequality, democratic decay, and the proliferation of identity-based violence and discrimination) and the utility of existing regional and international institutions as well as international non-governmental organizations (INGOs), the Department seeks a teacher-scholar who will teach courses and conduct research in the area of international organization, broadly defined. This may include (but is not limited to) the prospects for and practices of global governance, the design, function, and effectiveness of international institutions (including international and regional governing organizations), the impact and contributions of INGOs, and various forms of transnational activity (political, economic, social, and cultural). In addition to teaching courses on international organization, the candidate will also be expected to teach regularly the Introduction to International Relations course as well as a junior/senior capstone seminar in IR. The teaching load is a total of four courses per academic year.

Founded in 1887, Clark was one of the first all-graduate institutions in the United States. Today the University is a highly-ranked, student-centered institution educating approximately 2,350 undergraduate and 1,150 graduate students to be imaginative and contributing citizens of the world and to advance the frontiers of knowledge and understanding through rigorous scholarship and creative effort. This commitment to scholarship and inquiry reflects the University's commitment to "challenge convention and change our world" and to address issues of critical importance to society. It is also reflected by Clark's many national and international distinctions, including recognition for its diversity and inclusion efforts, innovation, community engagement and impact, as a top green campus, and for having a distinguished geography and international development program. Clark has also been included in the groundbreaking Colleges that Change Lives guide since it was first published in 1996.

Clark is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, a dynamic, diverse city & "on the rise." The second largest city in New England, Worcester is home to 11 institutions of higher learning and is increasingly recognized for its growing healthcare and biotechnology communities, its thriving cultural scene, and as a vibrant food hub.

Application Instructions:

To be considered for this position, you must submit your credentials online, using this link:

<http://clarku.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=151138>

You will be able to upload the following documents, which are required for consideration:

- CV
- Statement of Research and Teaching Interests
- Diversity and Inclusion Statement
- Writing Sample
- Transcript
- 3 Letters of Recommendation
- Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness

Please contact us if you need assistance applying through this website. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Salary will be commensurate with skills and experience. Applicants must be currently authorized to work in the United States for any employer.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10576

London School of Economics and Political Science

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Political Economy

The Department of International Relations is looking to recruit an Assistant Professor in International Relations, in the sub-field of International Political Economy. We are interested in candidates with expertise in quantitative research methods, causal inference and/or data science.

Based in the Department of International Relations, the post holder will contribute to the intellectual life of the School through conducting and publishing outstanding quality research, engaging in high quality teaching as instructed by the Head of Department, and participating in the School and wider Department activities.

All candidates must have a research interest in International Political Economy, and must also show a clear and viable strategy for future top-quality research. The successful candidate must be able to teach undergraduate and MSc core courses on International Political Economy.

Candidates will need a completed PhD, or be close to obtaining one, in International Relations or a related field by 1 September 2023. Candidates should also have a proven or developing record of publications in refereed international journals or with highly-respected book publishers based on research that is, or has the potential to be, internationally-excellent and, ideally, world-leading in terms of originality, significance and rigour.

The Department is committed to promoting diversity in the field of International Relations, by fostering and supporting new generations of scholars from diverse backgrounds, by teaching an innovative, inclusive and diverse curriculum, and by supporting an inclusive departmental research culture. To that end, a candidate's cover letter must include a 300-word statement on how they incorporate diversity in their teaching and professional practice.

In addition to a competitive salary the benefits that come with this job include an occupational pension scheme, a research incentive scheme with personal reward options, generous research leave (sabbatical) entitlement, a collegial faculty environment and excellent support, training and development opportunities.

The post will start on 1 September 2023.

To view the job description, person specification and details on how to apply, please visit:

<https://jobs.lse.ac.uk/Vacancies/W/1832/0/357336/15539/assistant-professor-in-international-relations-in-the-sub-field-of-international-political-economy>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/1/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10526

National University of Singapore

Rank: Research Fellow/Senior Research Fellow, International Relations with a focus on Technology and Artificial Intelligence (3 year-contract, renewable)

The Centre on Asia and Globalisation (CAG), at the Lee Kuan Yew School of Public Policy, National University of Singapore, invites applications for a Research Fellowship in the field of International Relations with a focus on technology and artificial intelligence (AI).

The Lee Kuan Yew School is a leading school of public policy with an international faculty and student body. CAG was established in 2006 to provide accurate, independent, and high-quality analysis on issues of regional and global significance for academia, decision-makers, commentators, and the general public. Its current research agenda focuses on: the prospects of regional and global order; the future of economic globalisation/de-globalisation and their impact on Asia; the alignment postures of Southeast Asia in an era of superpower competition; and the impact of technology and artificial intelligence on international politics (<https://lkyspp.nus.edu.sg/cag>).

Job Description

The candidate will conduct independent, in-depth, and fruitful research on issues in his/her expertise and contribute to the Centre's research on technology and AI in international politics, including techno-nationalism and the impact of technology and AI on US-China rivalry. He/she is expected to initiate and organize research projects, workshops, conferences and other research events. He/she should be able to reach out to publishers and actively engage with academia, policy practitioners, media and business leaders as well as apply for external grants. In addition, he/she is expected to play a role in coordinating with other researchers and contribute to the broader intellectual life of the centre which focuses on the international relations of Asia.

Job Requirement

- A Ph.D. degree in Political Science/International Relations
- Expertise in the international relations aspects of technology and AI
- An ability to engage with policy and research communities in Singapore, Asia, and around the world
- A strong and demonstrated sense of academic independence and collegiality
- A willingness to engage in interdisciplinary interactions at the School

Benefits Include:

- Internationally competitive salary, 3-year renewable contract
- Housing benefit, travel assistance, and transit accommodation, subject to NUS eligibility criteria
- Highly collegial working environment with an internationally diverse group of scholars
- Excellent research support provided by CAG, the LKY School and the University

Application Procedure

Applicants should submit the following in electronic form (MS Word or PDF file):

- Cover letter, with a brief statement of research expertise and its relevance to CAG's existing research interests
- Detailed curriculum vitae
- Academic certificates and transcripts
- Two samples of academic publications
- Three letters of reference (mail to cag@nus.edu.sg)
- Joining date: June 15, 2023 (preferred, but negotiable)

- Application deadline: September 30, 2022

Please send electronic submissions to Ms. Serene Teang (cag@nus.edu.sg)

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10550

Smith College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Government

Specializations: International Political Economy, Southeast Asia, Gender Politics & Policy

The Department of Government (GOV) at Smith College invites applications for two tenure-track positions: one in Political Theory and another in Comparative Politics and/or International Relations. Both positions are at the rank of Assistant Professor and will begin July 1, 2023.

By time of appointment each applicant must have a Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related discipline (e.g. philosophy; public policy). Each position has a teaching load of 2:2—i.e., four semester-long courses over the academic year. The hires will also be expected to contribute to student learning beyond regular classes through directing student research and Honors Theses, offering independent studies, and helping with departmental administrative, curricular, and advising responsibilities.

Candidates for the Political Theory position should specialize in modern political thought of the 18th, 19th, and/or 20th centuries. Our ideal candidate will have expertise in one or more of the following areas: feminist political thought; political theories of gender and sexuality; continental political thought; and/or critical theory. We anticipate that a successful candidate for this position will regularly teach Introduction to Political Thinking (an introductory course in the history of political thought which serves as a gateway to the Government major), courses in Modern Political Thought, and upper-division courses relating to their areas of expertise (e.g., Feminist Political Thought; Queer Theory; Critical Theory; Marxism).

Candidates for the Comparative Politics/International Relations position should have regional expertise in the politics of South and/or Southeast Asia. We encourage applications for this position from scholars using a range of methodological approaches and focusing on a variety of topics, including but not limited to: the politics of religion and ethnicity; political violence; political parties and elections; regional security; geopolitical rivalries; and regional conflict and cooperation. We anticipate that a successful candidate for this position will be prepared to teach Introduction to Comparative Politics and/or Introduction to International Relations, courses on the politics of South or Southeast Asia or particular countries within those regions, and upper-division courses relating to their area(s) of expertise.

Candidates from groups underrepresented in political science are encouraged to apply. Successful candidates should be prepared to engage actively with diverse students across the liberal arts.

Located in Northampton, MA, Smith College is the largest women's college in the country, dedicated to excellence in teaching and research across the liberal arts. A faculty of outstanding scholars interact with students in small classes, as advisors, and through student-faculty research projects. Smith College offers opportunities to foster faculty success at every career stage, such as those listed here.

The College is a member of the Five College Consortium with Amherst, Hampshire, and Mt. Holyoke Colleges, and the University of Massachusetts Amherst. Students cross-enroll and faculty cross-teach across the Five Colleges. Details about the Department of Government may be found at <https://www.smith.edu/gov/>.

Submit applications at <http://apply.interfolio.com/110549> with a cover letter describing your research and teaching interests, curriculum vitae, teaching statement, diversity/inclusion statement, chapter- or article-length writing sample, and the contact information for three confidential references. Finalists may be asked for additional materials. Review of applications will begin October 1, 2022.

Diversity and a culture of equity and inclusion among students, staff, faculty, and administration are crucial to the mission and values of Smith College. We are an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity employer and do not discriminate on the basis of race, gender, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, or veteran status in the recruitment and employment of faculty and staff, and the operation of any of its programs and activities, as specified by all applicable laws and regulations. Women, historically underrepresented minorities, veterans, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10565

University of Chicago

Rank: Collegiate Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy

Specializations: American Politics, Western Europe, Political Thought: Historical

The College at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for four-year postdoctoral teaching appointments as Harper and Schmidt Fellows who hold the rank of Collegiate Assistant Professor. Collegiate Assistant Professors are members of the College Faculty whose primary professional responsibility is to teach in the general education (Core) program.

Core courses in the Humanities typically deal with fundamental issues and texts in history, philosophy, and literature. Currently, the Core is organized into eight year-long sequences: Readings in World Literature; Human Being and Citizen; Greece and Rome: Texts, Traditions, Transformations; Philosophical Perspectives on the Humanities; Media Aesthetics; Reading Cultures; Poetry and the Human; and Language and the Human. For a description of these sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/humanities/>.

Core courses in the Social Sciences explore, on the basis of significant works or primary source materials, the fundamental concepts and the different modes of inquiry that have defined the social sciences in the modern period. Currently, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach in six of the year-long sequences into which the Core is organized: Self, Culture and Society; Classics of Social and Political Thought; Power, Identity, and Resistance; Global Society; Mind (a broad course explaining social science in the context of psychological science research); and Social Science Inquiry. For a description of these sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/socialsciences/>.

Some Collegiate Assistant Professors also teach in the History of European Civilization Core sequence as well as the Introductions to the Civilizations of East Asian Core sequences. These courses are taught on the basis of intensive readings of significant primary source documents. For descriptions of the History of European Civilization and the Civilizations of East Asia sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/civilizationstudies/>.

The positions are open to scholars in all disciplines and areas of specialization who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. degree no later than August 31, 2023. Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching as well as in their original scholarship.

In most years, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach two courses (usually of identical preparation) for each of three quarters. In the second through fourth year of residence, each Collegiate Assistant Professor has the opportunity to design up to two independent courses and each is eligible for one quarter of research sabbatical. In the fourth year there is a possibility of another quarter of sabbatical with salary reduction.

The position comes with an annual salary for 2023-24 of $80,166, carries full benefits, and an annual professional development fund of $6,500. The effective date for these teaching appointments is September 1, 2023.

To apply for these positions, please see our web site at <https://fellows.uchicago.edu>. The web site will be available to accept applications beginning August 19, 2022.

The terms and conditions of these positions are described in the collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union.

On-line application deadline: 11:59:59 PM EDT, Friday, October 14, 2022.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at <https://www.uchicago.edu/non-discrimination>.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-0681 or email dneibel@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/14/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 10577

University of Memphis

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at The University of Memphis invites applications for a tenure track position in Comparative Politics at the level of Assistant Professor. The position will start in the fall 2023 pending the availability of funds. Candidates must have the Ph.D. in hand by August 2023 We seek applications from candidates in all areas of comparative politics. Candidates must be able to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in comparative politics and must show promise of excellence in research and teaching. Salary is competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Please submit a letter detailing current research interests and teaching experience, a curriculum vitae, a graduate transcript, a writing sample (dissertation chapter, published article or conference paper), evidence of teaching potential, and three letters of recommendation on-line at <https://workforum.memphis.edu/postings/32341>.

For all other inquiries please contact: Comparative Politics Search Committee, Department of Political Science, The University of Memphis, TN 38152. Review of applications will begin on October 1, 2022 and may continue until the position is filled. The University of Memphis is a Research I University with an enrollment of approximately 20,000 students. The University of Memphis is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer committed to diversifying its work force. Applications from women, minorities, and individuals with disabilities are strongly encouraged.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10508

Tulane University

Rank: Assistant Professor (Tenure-track) in International Development

Specializations: Africa, South Asia, India

Position description: We seek an Assistant Professor (tenure-track) in International Development. Applications with specializations in gender and development or climate/resource politics, and a regional focus on Africa or South Asia/India, are especially welcome. The teaching load is 2-2. The prospective hire will contribute to the Political Science program at the undergraduate and graduate curricular levels. The expected start date for this position is July 1, 2023. For further questions about the position, contact Prof. Eduardo Silva, gesilva@tulane.edu

Qualifications: PhD in Political Science preferred. ABD candidates will be considered.

We value diversity and inclusion. Members of minorities and traditionally underrepresented groups are encouraged to apply.

Application instructions: Please send in a cover letter, a CV, a statement of research, a teaching statement, a diversity statement, a writing sample, and 3 letters of recommendation by August 31, 2022.

All materials should be uploaded directly in Interfolio: apply.interfolio.com/110111

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 8/31/2021

Date Posted: 7/28/2022

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 10553

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science (<https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/>) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for a tenure-track assistant professor to begin in Fall 2023. We seek candidates whose research focuses on international relations. The search is open with respect to specialization within the IR subfield, but the successful candidate is expected to add to the department's strengths in quantitative, experimental, and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (PDFs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu and specify "IR Assistant Search" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Contact: Prof. Mark Souva

Email: msouva@fsu.edu

Phone: 850-644-5727

Department of Political Science
Florida State University
P.O. Box 3062160
Bellamy 531
Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/16/2022

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10542

Florida State University

Rank: Associate or Full Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science (<https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/>) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for a tenured associate or full professor to begin in Fall 2023. We seek candidates whose research focuses on international relations. The search is open with respect to specialization within the IR subfield. The successful candidate should have a strong scholarly record and is expected to contribute significantly to the department's research and teaching mission.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, and (4) a list of professional references. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (PDFs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu and specify "IR Senior Search" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin October 21, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Contact: Prof. Mark Souva

Email: msouva@fsu.edu

Phone: 850-644-5727

Department of Political Science
Florida State University
P.O. Box 3062160
Bellamy 531
Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230

Start Date: Fall 2023

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10543

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer, Security and Intelligence

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Intelligence, Defense, Foreign Policy

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/110586>

Location:

Washington, DC

Description:

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of Assistant Program Director in the area of Security and Intelligence. This position will support the MA in Global Security Studies (primary), MS in Intelligence Analysis, and MS in Geospatial Intelligence programs in the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, within the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs Division. Reporting to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies and Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, the Assistant Program Director will contribute to the excellence of the programs and will demonstrate and support ongoing innovation in the curriculums. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online, at its Washington, DC Center, and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 45-degree programs.

AAP was started in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of nearly 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as Program Chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the KSAS Dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position:

AAP's programs in security and intelligence prepare students for positions in foreign affairs, national security and the intelligence community. Students learn how to confront the complexities of today's security environment with the latest policy and theoretical tools for analysis and action. The programs' courses are designed to maximize individual attention, encourage student contribution, build analytical skills, and provide the tools for engaging in original research. With an ever-growing and diverse student body, the programs are continually expanding and enhancing their course offerings to meet both academic and practitioner needs. Currently, the programs serve nearly 400 students both onsite and online, including a growing number of international students.

In both academic and administrative roles, the Assistant Program Director supports the curriculums, students, and adjunct faculty. The Assistant Program Director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Program Directors and other faculty within the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, as well as across other AAP programs, including the Energy Policy and Climate and Environmental Sciences and Policy programs.

The Assistant Program Director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer, commensurate with experience. The Assistant Program Director reports to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, who consults with the Program Chair on academic matters, and to the Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, who leads the Advanced Academic Programs and reports to the Dean of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences.

The Assistant Program Director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities:

Teach 6 graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both on-site in the Washington, DC Center and online), using best practices for teaching, engaging, and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, and responding to student questions

Advise students, including both program and research advising

Provide input on the curriculums and new course development to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs

Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, or contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities:

Assist with the management of degree concentrations or areas of focus
Participate in the adjunct faculty hiring and development processes

Assist the Program Directors with administrative tasks, such as planning events and reviewing admission materials
Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications:

The Assistant Program Director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The Assistant Program Director must have passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for international, part-time, and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in political science, international affairs, security studies, intelligence, or other field relevant to the interdisciplinary nature of global security studies; other terminal degrees in these or related fields may be considered
- 1-3 years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- The ability to teach a variety of courses in the global security fields, including research-focused courses
- Strong organizational skills
- Excellent oral and written communication skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- 1-3 years of work experience related professional work experience outside of academia, including but not limited to, government service, outside consulting, or collaborative work within fields related to security studies and intelligence
- Experience managing a degree or certificate program
- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design
- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions:

For consideration; interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/110586>):

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position
- CV
- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10548

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for three tenure-track/tenured faculty appointments at the rank of assistant, associate, or full professor in international relations. For all appointments we seek scholars with research interests in international political economy or conflict studies. For one of these appointments, we are also seeking a scholar whose primary publication record demonstrates a commitment to formal theory. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2023. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for associate or full professor should have an outstanding publication, teaching, and service record commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties for all positions will include teaching courses at the undergraduate and graduate level, conducting and publishing research, advising undergraduate and graduate students, and participating in department and university governance.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference (for untenured applicants), writing samples, and other relevant materials.

The application deadline is October 1, 2022. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/110471>). If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any other questions, please email Heather Sloan-Randick at hsloanra@wustl.edu.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University's policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency. This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at <https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/>.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/26/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10536

Gonzaga University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science

Specializations: China, East Asia, Quantitative Methods

The Department of Political Science at Gonzaga University in Spokane, WA invites applications for a full-time tenure-track appointment at the rank of assistant professor in the field of International Relations beginning in the fall semester of 2023. We seek applicants who will teach courses and conduct research primarily in the field of International Relations and Asian Politics, with a strong preference for a candidate with research and teaching expertise in Chinese politics.

We are also interested in candidates who desire to develop and teach a course on quantitative research methods appropriate for undergraduates. In addition, we seek applicants whose teaching methods and materials intentionally foster the full participation and engagement of our students, with particular attention to students from diverse and marginalized backgrounds.

The ideal candidate will hold a PhD in Political Science by July 2023 and will become an integral part of a department of eight faculty members dedicated primarily to excellence in undergraduate teaching. The successful candidate will regularly teach Introduction to International Relations as part of their 3-3 load, along with upper-division courses consistent with their research specialization and aligned with departmental needs. An active research agenda leading to publication in the field and significant undergraduate advising and mentoring will be expected of the candidate who joins our department. The ideal candidate's teaching, research, and service would contribute to fostering an inclusive learning community on campus.

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science, International Relations, or International Equivalent (ABD will be considered if the degree will be conferred by July 15, 2023)
- Evidence of teaching effectiveness.
- Evidence of effective use of classroom strategies and pedagogies to advance equity and inclusion.
- Demonstrated active research agenda focusing on international relations and/or Asian politics.
- Evidence of specialization in international relations as well as in East Asian politics.

Desired Qualifications:

- Evidence of research and teaching experience in Chinese politics.
- Evidence of desire and ability to design and teach an introductory course on quantitative research methods for undergraduates.

Job Duties:

- Teach three courses per semester, including the introductory course in International Relations, courses required for the POLS major and minor, and upper division courses in the candidate's areas of expertise.
- Engage in research, publication, and other scholarly activity appropriate to the candidate's research agenda and areas of expertise.
- Provide curriculum and career advising and mentoring to the program's undergraduates.
- Support the department, university, and discipline through service and other forms of academic citizenship.

About Gonzaga University and Spokane, Washington

Founded in 1887, Gonzaga is a private, liberal arts institution located in Spokane, WA. The Department of Political Science awards the BA degree and enjoys a growing enrollment of politically involved, social justice-minded students. The average class size of 23 enables our faculty to invest in engaged pedagogy and transformational teaching. Gonzaga is ranked in the top 20 for excellence in undergraduate teaching among National Universities by US News and World Report.

Gonzaga's 152-acre campus sits along the Spokane River within walking distance of downtown Spokane, on the ancestral homelands of the Spokane Tribe of Indians. Spokane is the second largest city in Washington and pairs a lower cost of living with many urban advantages, including a conveniently located international airport, a vibrant art community, and a range of exciting restaurants. Located on the east side of Washington State, Spokane offers many options for outdoor enjoyment including hiking, boating and fishing on numerous local lakes, and several ski resorts within driving distance.

Application Process:

To apply, please visit our website at www.gonzaga.edu/jobs. Applicants must complete an online application and electronically submit (1) a cover letter, (2) curriculum vitae, (3) a 1-2 page statement of teaching philosophy and evidence of teaching effectiveness, (4) a statement detailing your experience engaging with diverse communities and articulating how your teaching, scholarship and service would contribute toward fostering an inclusive learning environment on campus, (5) unofficial copies of graduate school transcripts, and (6) the names and email addresses of three persons who will be writing letters of recommendation (letters will be solicited for candidates placed on the long list). The position closes on September 23, 2022 at 11:59 p.m. U.S. PST. For assistance with your online application, please contact Human Resources at (509) 313-5996. Direct other inquiries to the chair of the search committee, Dr. Stacy Taninchev, taninchev@gonzaga.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/23/2022

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10520

Naval War College

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS AD-1701-03

ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN NATIONAL SECURITY AFFAIRS, AD-1701-03

Launch your scholarly career at one of the nation's largest and most vibrant graduate teaching departments in the interdisciplinary field of foreign policy analysis and international security. The National Security Affairs (NSA) Department at the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, Rhode Island seeks to fill an anticipated vacancy beginning in July 2023 for a tenure-track assistant professor of national security affairs.

U.S. Naval War College. The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

National Security Affairs Department. The NSA Department is one of the college's core academic teaching departments and is composed of scholars and practitioners engaged in a wide range of teaching, research, and outreach. We highly value experiential learning. You can learn more about the NSA Department at our webpage: <https://usnwc.edu/Faculty-and-Departments/AcademicDepartments/National-Security-Affairs-Department>

Responsibilities. Specific responsibilities include: teaching two distinctive common core graduate-level security studies courses, collaborating in the development of common core curricula, developing and teaching elective courses as desired, scholarly research and publication, and college service. There is no requirement or expectation to attract external funding. Maximum teaching load excluding optional elective classes is 2/2/0 based on a 10-month trimester system. This involves teaching up to two seminar sections (single preparation) of no more than 16 students in the 13-week winter and spring trimesters, with a fall trimester and summer inter-session period devoted primarily to research, curriculum development, and college service. All positions are year-round (12-month). The college is a tenuregranting institution.

Qualifications. Qualified candidates must have a relevant Ph.D. and a promising scholarly agenda in national/international security to be a successful assistant professor. We are an interdisciplinary department open to a range of fields including but not limited to political science, history, and economics. Concentrations of particular interest include foreign policy analysis, security studies, and American institutions. Experience in war gaming, simulation, or other experiential teaching methods is highly desired. Candidates with Ph.D. in hand by July 2023 are encouraged to apply. Candidates must be U.S. citizens capable of obtaining a Department of Defense security clearance at the SECRET level.

Salary. Rank and salary commensurate in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule for assistant professor. This compensation package is accompanied by a generous federal employee benefits package that includes health insurance with employer contribution, retirement savings plan, paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits.

Application Procedures. Applications will be accepted through 11:59 pm (EDT) September 9, 2022. The application package must include the following: 1) cover letter; 2) Curriculum Vitae; 3) research agenda (no more than 5 pages); 4) teaching evaluations or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (if available); and, 5) three letters of recommendation sent separately to nwc-22-18@usnwc.edu.

Applicants must reference VA#NWC-22-18 and forward their application package to: nwc-22-18@usnwc.edu.

Signed letters of recommendation should be sent via email to Denise.Murphy@usnwc.edu (preferred method) or be mailed to:

Department of National Security Affairs
U.S. Naval War College
686 Cushing Road
Newport, RI 02841-1207
ATTN: Denise Murphy

Please direct any questions about the position or the institution to the Acting Department Chair, Professor Dana Struckman, at dana.struckman@usnwc.edu.

To ensure compliance with an applicable preliminary nationwide injunction, which may be supplemented, modified, or vacated, depending on the course of ongoing litigation, the Federal Government will take no action to implement or enforce the COVID-19 vaccination requirement Safer Federal Workforce Task Force 2

pursuant to Executive Order 14043 on Requiring Coronavirus Disease 2019 Vaccination for Federal Employees. Therefore, to the extent a Federal job announcement includes the requirement that applicants must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 pursuant to Executive Order 14043, that requirement does not currently apply. Federal agencies may request information regarding the vaccination status of selected applicants for the purposes of implementing other workplace safety protocols, such as protocols related to masking, physical distancing, testing, travel, and quarantine.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veteran's preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, "Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty" to their submissions. Although the pointpreference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, "Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference," and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.) Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement date to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The U.S. Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer. 134z

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/9/2022

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10527

Wabash College

Rank: Tenure-Track Byron K. Trippet Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Wabash College invites applications for a tenure-track appointment as Byron K. Trippet Assistant or Associate Professor of Political Science. The position begins July 1, 2023 and carries a 3-3 teaching load. In addition to generous salary, benefits, and professional travel support available to all full-time faculty at the College, the Byron K. Trippet appointment provides research support for new tenure-track faculty during the pre-tenure period.

We seek candidates who are international relations specialists with research and teaching interests that will broaden the Department's existing strengths and course offerings. In addition, we seek candidates who can periodically teach International political economy and other courses that may be cross-listed with Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (PPE) or other interdisciplinary programs such as Asian Studies, Black Studies, Environmental Studies, Gender Studies, Global Health, and Hispanic Studies. We give preference to candidates with a strong commitment to the liberal arts, college-level teaching experience, and a demonstrated commitment to inclusive pedagogy that serves a diverse student body. A Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment is preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered.

The successful candidate will:

- Teach introductory international relations and a variety of upper-level undergraduate international relations courses
- Support undergraduate research, including through teaching in the Political Science Department's research methods sequence (PSC 200: Political Inquiry & Analysis; PSC 300: Research Methods & Statistics in Political Science; and PSC 497: Senior Seminar), as well as independent study and/or research internship supervision
- Periodically develop and teach immersion learning courses, which are courses that include a significant travel experience as a course requirement (for more information, see <https://www.wabash.edu/international/immersion>)
- Serve as an academic advisor and contribute to teaching the College's freshman year experience courses, Freshman Tutorial and Enduring Questions
- Contribute to shared governance through departmental and college service
- Maintain an active research and publication program

Founded in 1832, Wabash College is a private, independent, residential four-year liberal arts college for men. Its faculty is highly ranked nationally for accessibility and quality by the Princeton Review. The College invests significant resources to ensure students can participate in off-campus and international immersion learning experiences. Our 65-acre wooded campus is located 50 miles west of Indianapolis and three hours from Chicago. In addition to the amenities these and other nearby cities offer, we are near some of the best outdoor recreation in the state.

Wabash is home to the Malcolm X Institute of Black Studies, which celebrated its 50th anniversary in 2020. More than 25% of our students are federal Pell Grant recipients, one-third of our students are first-generation college students, and about 20% of our students identify as domestic students of color. As a member of the USC Race and Equity Center's Liberal Arts Colleges Racial Equity Leadership Alliance, a top-60 Liberal Arts College according to U.S. News, and a member of Colleges That Change Lives, Wabash College is in the midst of a strategic transformation to advance the success of its first-generation students, students of color, and students from low-income families. Many students, staff, and faculty find the close-knit community of the residential college one of the most rewarding aspects of their time here.

To ensure full consideration, applications must be received by September 20, 2022. To apply, go to www.wabash.edu/employment and click the "Apply Now" button to submit your cover letter, CV, statement of teaching philosophy, one writing sample (a recent publication or dissertation chapter), unofficial undergraduate and graduate transcripts (official transcripts will be required upon hire), and email addresses for three persons who will submit confidential letters of recommendation. In addition to describing your research trajectory, your cover letter should discuss your teaching and service qualifications and interests. Please direct questions about the position to Dr. Shamira Gelbman, Chair of the Political Science Department, at gelbmans@wabash.edu.

Wabash College, a liberal arts college for men, seeks faculty and staff who are committed to providing quality engagement with students, high levels of academic challenge and support, and meaningful experiences that prepare students for life and leadership among diverse populations around the globe. Wabash is an equal opportunity employer and welcomes applications from persons of all backgrounds.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/20/2022

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10530

Academia Sinica

Rank: Assistant Research Fellow (equivalent to Assistant Professor)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Position Announcement

Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica

1. The Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica (IPSAS), Taipei, Taiwan, seeks to appoint full-time faculty members at the rank of assistant research fellow (which is equivalent to assistant professor). Application for higher rank will also be considered.

2. The applicant should specialize at least one of the following fields: (1) Taiwan politics and comparative democracy; (2) China and comparative politico-economic transition; (3) cross-Strait relations and international relations theory; (4) political changes in Asia and global democratic development; and, (5) political methodology.

3. The applicant must have a doctoral degree in political science or related disciplines, or is able to receive a Ph.D. degree by August 31, 2023.

4. Applicants for positions of assistant research fellow should submit the following documents:

- (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
- (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate or certification for completion of course work and successful defense of dissertation (for applicants who have not yet passed the oral examination, proof for completion of courses and a letter certifying imminent holding of oral examination are required);
- (3) two copies of the doctoral dissertation (or draft) and other publications;
- (4) an abstract (in both English and Chinese) of the doctoral dissertation;
- (5) transcripts from undergraduate and graduate schools;
- (6) a statement of research accomplishments and research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
- (7) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio; those applying for the position of assistant research fellow should have one letter from the dissertation advisor).

5. Applicants for positions of associate research fellow or above should submit the following documents:

- (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
- (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate;
- (3) three representative publications (and two copies each);
- (4) proofs for appointments in Taiwanese or international academic institutes;
- (5) a statement of research accomplishments and research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,

(6) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio).

6. The application should be sent to Dr. Chung-li Wu, Director, Institute of Political Science, Academia Sinica, 128 Academia Rd., Sec. 2, Taipei 115201, Taiwan, R.O.C.

7. Further questions can be forwarded to Ms. Ren-Yuan Lo at 886-2-2652-5303, faxed to 886-2-2783-2610, or e-mailed to ipsas@gate.sinica.edu.tw.

8. The application should be received by October 31, 2022.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: 10/31/2022

Date Posted: 7/22/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10513

Claremont McKenna College

Rank: Assistant Professor in International Relations

The Department of Government of Claremont McKenna College (CMC) invites applications for a tenure-track position, at the early assistant professor level, in the subfield of international relations with a focus on transnational issues such as climate change, global health, or migration, beginning July 2023. A qualified candidate would have a PhD in political science in hand or a nearly completed doctoral dissertation, and the capacity to teach core courses in international relations.

The candidate must have demonstrated ability to maintain an active, high quality research program and the highest standards of excellence in teaching. The teaching load at CMC is two courses per semester.

Given our commitment to cultivating a challenging and inclusive educational environment, we seek candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds, political opinion, genders, races, ethnicities, nationalities, sexual orientations, and religions.

The review of applications will begin September 5, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled.

All applications must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, detailed research statement, and a statement regarding teaching philosophy and demonstrated commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of backgrounds. Applicants must also submit the names and e-mail addresses of three or more references; an email will be automatically sent to them with a link to upload their recommendation letter. Letters of recommendation should evaluate the candidate's research and teaching. Applications must be submitted electronically at the following link: https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty_opening.php.

CMC is a highly selective undergraduate institution ranked among the top liberal arts colleges nationally. It is part of The Claremont Colleges, which also includes Pomona College, Scripps College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Claremont Graduate University, and Keck Graduate Institute. Combined, the members of The Claremont Colleges have more than 6,000 students. Claremont is located 35 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.

Claremont McKenna College is an Equal Opportunity Employer, strongly committed to diversity, and encourages applications from the broadest range of individuals.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10510

Wesleyan University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Department of Government

The Department of Government at Wesleyan University seeks applicants for a tenure-track position in international relations specializing in international security. The appointment begins July 1, 2023.

Candidates must have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by the time of appointment to be hired as an Assistant Professor; a successful candidate may be hired as an Instructor if the candidate does not have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of appointment, but will complete the Ph.D. in Political Science within one year of hire. The teaching load is 2/2. Additional duties include advising and mentoring students, carrying on a program of research, and participating in faculty governance at the departmental and university levels. Applicants should be prepared to teach the introductory international relations course and other upper-division courses in international security.

Wesleyan is a highly selective liberal arts college that values both scholarship and teaching, has a strong, diverse undergraduate student body, and offers a generous sabbatical program and competitive salaries and benefits.

To apply, please go to <https://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/8994>. A complete application includes (1) a cover letter of application, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) graduate school transcripts, (4) an article-length writing sample (e.g., the first chapter of your dissertation), (5) a statement about your teaching philosophy and methods, (6) teaching evaluation statistics or other evidence of teaching effectiveness (but please do not send copies of individual student evaluations), and (7) sample syllabi if available.

In the cover letter, applicants should describe how they will embrace the University's commitment to fostering an inclusive community, as well as their experience working with individuals from historically marginalized or underserved groups. You will also be asked to provide the email addresses of three referees from whom we may obtain confidential letters of recommendation. Applications should be submitted online at <http://careers.wesleyan.edu/postings/8994>.

Applications received by September 30, 2022, will receive full consideration. Please contact Ms. Susan Lundgren-Regan (slundgrenreg@wesleyan.edu), the Government Department administrative assistant, if you have questions about the application process.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2022

Date Posted: 7/20/2022

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10509

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Russian Foreign and National Security Policy Fellow

The Security Studies Program in the Center for International Studies at MIT is soliciting applications for a two-year residential fellowship for scholars of post-Cold War Russian foreign and national security policy. We interpret this broadly, to include any aspect of Russia's foreign relations including economic, political, military, or intelligence efforts. The fellow will be expected to participate fully in the activities of the Security Studies Program, and to interact intensively with faculty, students, and other fellows. Regular publication and other forms of outreach are central to the position. Applicants from the scholarly or policy communities are welcome. There is some flexibility about career phase and seniority. Academics must, however, have their doctoral degree in hand. Others should demonstrate several years of practical and analytic experience.

Applications should include a current CV, a writing sample, and a brief discussion of the applicant's planned research for the fellowship period. We will begin reviewing applications on September 1, 2022. There is flexibility on starting dates, which could be as early as January 1, 2023. Please send applications to <mailto:ssp-fellowships@mit.edu> and ussp-fellowships@mit.edu;

MIT is an equal employment opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin. MIT's full policy on Nondiscrimination can be found <https://policies.mit.edu/policies-procedures/90-relations-and-responsibilities-within-mit-community/93-nondiscriminationhere>;

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/19/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10504

Bowdoin College

Rank: Tenure-track Position in International Political Economy

Specializations: International Political Economy, Political Economy, Economic Policy

As part of a larger multi-year cohort initiative including positions in U.S. politics, Latin American politics, and international law, the Bowdoin College Department of Government and Legal Studies invites applications for a full-time tenure-track position in International Relations, specializing in international political economy, broadly defined. We expect to hire at the rank of assistant professor but will consider applications from candidates at all levels.

The position would begin July 1, 2023. A PhD in political science or a related field is required by the start of this appointment. Teaching load is two courses per semester.

Bowdoin requires its faculty to have a promise of long-term successful research and a strong commitment to inclusive excellence in their teaching. (For a description of inclusive excellence, please consult Williams, et. al., Toward a Model of Inclusive Excellence). We are particularly interested in candidates with a strong commitment to undergraduate liberal arts education.

The Bowdoin community warmly welcomes people of all backgrounds. We encourage applications from candidates committed to the instruction and support of a diverse student population and those who will enrich and contribute to the College's multifaceted diversity. We especially encourage people from historically excluded groups to apply. We recognize that recruiting and retaining faculty may involve considerations of spouses and domestic partners. To that end, where possible, the College will attempt to accommodate and respond creatively to the needs of partners and spouses of members of the faculty.

Bowdoin College offers opportunities for professional development, a fully-funded, year-long junior sabbatical leave (after three years of teaching and successful reappointment), and regular, generously funded, post-tenure sabbaticals. Support for teaching, grant-writing, digital initiatives, computing software, and community partnerships in courses is readily available to all faculty. The College also offers robust programming and resources for establishing and enhancing mentoring networks.

Bowdoin College accepts only electronic submissions. Please visit <https://careers.bowdoin.edu> to submit:

1) a cover letter; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) a description of your research plans; 4) a statement that describes your teaching philosophy and how your teaching, scholarship, and mentorship supports our commitment to equity and inclusion; and 5) the names and contact information for three references who have agreed to provide letters of recommendation.

Review of applications will begin on October 15, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Founded in 1794 on the Maine coast, Bowdoin is one of the oldest and most selective coeducational, residential liberal arts colleges in the country. Located in Brunswick, a 30-minute drive north of Portland and 2+ hours north of Boston -- connected to Boston and beyond by public transportation -- the College is in an area rich with natural beauty and year-round outdoor activities. Bowdoin's reputation rests on the excellence of its faculty and students, intimate size, strong sense of community, and commitment to diversity (40% students of color, 7% international students and approximately 17% first generation college students).

For further information about the College and our department, please visit our website (<http://www.bowdoin.edu>) or contact department chair Andrew Rudalevige (arudalev@bowdoin.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/15/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10492

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona

Rank: Assistant Professor - International Relations

Specializations: Foreign Policy, International Law & Organizations, International Political Economy

Tenure Track Faculty Position

Political Science

College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona invites applications for a tenure track faculty ASSISTANT PROFESSOR position in the Political Science Department in an area related to the study and/or promotion of International Relations.

Position description: The Political Science Department in the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences at Cal Poly Pomona invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor for appointment beginning in the 2023-2024 academic year, specializing in International Relations. The position requires excellence in teaching and advising, professional and scholarly achievements, and a commitment to service to the university. Applicants whose work demonstrates a commitment to inclusive excellence and diversity in higher education are particularly encouraged to apply. Cal Poly Pomona is a Hispanic-serving institution, and the faculty member will be an advisor to many under-represented minorities and first-generation college students.

The faculty member will primarily teach courses in international relations such as International Law, International Political Economy, and/or US Foreign Policy, and will have the opportunity to develop courses in their area of expertise.

University Statement. California State Polytechnic University, Pomona invites applications for a tenure track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science. Cal Poly Pomona is one of three polytechnic universities in the 23-campus California State University system and among 11 such institutions nationwide. Since its founding in 1938, Cal Poly Pomona students participate in an integrative experiential learning education that is inclusive, relevant, and values diverse perspectives and experiences. With a variety of degree programs in the arts, humanities, sciences, engineering, and professional disciplines, the university is well known for its learn-by-doing approach and Teacher Scholar Model.

The university is noted for its scenic and historic 1,400-acre campus, which was once the winter ranch of cereal magnate W.K. Kellogg. We acknowledge that Cal Poly Pomona resides on the territorial and homelands of the Tongva and Tataavium people who are the traditional land caretakers of Tovaangar. The university's nearly 30,000 students are taught and mentored by the campus's more than 1,400 faculty as part of 54 baccalaureate and 29 master's degree programs, 11 credential and certificate programs, and a doctorate in educational leadership.

Highly regarded among its peer institutions, Cal Poly Pomona is No. 2 in the U.S. News and World Report rankings of top public regional universities in the west and was named the No. 15 best value college in the nation by Money Magazine. Cal Poly Pomona, a Hispanic-Serving Institution and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution, stands as a national leader in promoting social mobility, and was placed among the 25 top institutions in the country in awarding bachelor's degrees to minoritized students by Diverse Issues in Higher Education.

The Cal Poly Pomona campus is located less than 30 miles east of downtown Los Angeles at the intersection of Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties. It is within an hour's drive of beaches, mountains and deserts. For additional information about the university, please visit www.cpp.edu, and for more about faculty life, please see YourLife@CPP.

Student Population. California residents comprise the majority (96%) of applicants to undergraduate programs at Cal Poly Pomona – nearly half (49%) of new students were transfers in Fall 2020. 58% of Cal Poly Pomona students are first generation, 70% receive financial aid, and 44% qualify as Pell-eligible. The university enrolls a diverse student body that identifies as 49% Latinx, 21% Asian, 15% White, 3% Black, 5% International 3% two or more races, 3% unknown and less than 1% Native Hawaiian or Native Pacific Islander and less than 1% Native American Indigenous. Thirty-nine percent of the student body were STEM majors with the top enrolled programs including psychology, mechanical engineering, civil engineering, biology and computer science.

Inclusive Excellence Criteria. We aspire to be the model inclusive polytechnic university in the nation. We have a strong commitment to inclusive excellence and to educational experiences that leverage the diverse perspectives and experiences needed to succeed and thrive in a diverse society.

Tenure track faculty hires will demonstrate a commitment and record of contributions through their teaching, scholarship, or service to these inclusive excellence criteria (a minimum of two must be addressed in the Student Success Statement):

- *Integrates the values of equity and inclusivity into their teaching, scholarship and/or service contributions with diverse student populations;
- *Incorporates the contributions and struggles of historic ethnic minority groups and communities into their teaching, scholarly work, and/or service contributions;
- *Adopts teaching strategies that supports the learning and success of students from diverse student populations;
- *Mentors and engages diverse student populations in discovery, scholarship, and creative activities;
- *Engages students in problem-based projects and learning that address the needs of diverse communities;
- *Possesses knowledge of challenges and barriers for underrepresented students and faculty within the discipline;
- *Mentors and assists diverse student populations interested in pursuing graduate education;
- *Engages in community-responsive action research or service with diverse student populations and communities;
- *Has experience in or demonstrates a commitment to adopting experiential learning activities and pedagogy with diverse student populations and communities; and
- *Has expertise in or demonstrated commitment to teaching, scholarship and/or service that contributes to access, diversity, and equal opportunity in higher education.

College: Cal Poly Pomona's College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences (CLASS) brings to life a vibrant hands-on experience through disciplines in the humanities, performing arts, and social sciences. As the heart and soul of the campus, the College's mission is to cultivate one's intellectual development, ethical reasoning, and aesthetic sensibility to support creative and critical thinking in a dynamic world of competing challenges. We are a community diverse in backgrounds, expertise, and thought, committed to improving the human condition and to bettering the world. Our faculty, students, and staff are devoted to creating an inclusive environment where all can thrive through the College's programs, research activities, creative performances, community outreach, and signature experiences. Learn more about the College of Letters, Arts, and Social Sciences and our 12 distinct departments at www.cpp.edu/class.

Department: The Department of Political Science has over four hundred undergraduate political science majors and approximately fifty students in our NASPAA-accredited MPA program. We also offer a Political Science minor and participate significantly in the university's General Education offerings. The Department sponsors a Model United Nations program and a Mock Trial Team, both with a history of national recognition. Members of the Department have traditionally been actively involved across campus and in the community. Sixty percent of our majors are first generation and 70% identify with a minoritized group. The major enrolls a diverse student body that identifies as 64% Latinx, 14% White, 8% Asian, 5% Black, 3% two or more races, 3% international, 3% unknown, and less than 1% Native Hawaiian or Native Pacific Islander.

Minimum requirements include:

*Ph.D. in Political Science or related discipline from an accredited university at the time of appointment. Degree must be conferred by the start date of the position

*A commitment and a record of contributions to student success through applicant's teaching, scholarship, or service. This will be described in the Student Success Statement, which must address at least two of the inclusive excellence criteria listed above.

Preferred/Desired Qualifications: University teaching experience as instructor of record and/or teaching assistant, and the ability to teach one or more of the three courses listed above. Preference will be given to candidates who can demonstrate the ability to mentor and advise under-served populations including, but not limited to, African-American, Hispanic, and Native American students.

Conditions of Employment:

The person offered this position is required to pass a background check.

The CSU requires faculty, staff, and students who are accessing campus facilities to be immunized against COVID-19 or declare a medical or religious exemption from doing so. Any candidates advanced in a currently open search process should be prepared to comply with this requirement. The systemwide policy can be found at <https://calstate.policystat.com/policy/9779821/latest/>. Questions regarding the policy may be sent to avpfa@cpp.edu.

Application Process:

A completed application will consist of:

- 1) Cover letter in which you describe teaching performance, research experience and interests, and how you meet the duties and qualifications articulated in the position description;
- 2) A Student Success Statement (up to 2 pages, single-spaced) about your teaching or other experiences, successes, and challenges in working with a diverse student population. Please address at least two of the inclusive excellence criteria listed above;
- 3) Curriculum vitae;

- 4) The names and contact information for at least three individuals who can serve as references;
- 5) Unofficial transcripts (undergraduate and graduate, official transcripts will be required of finalists);
- 6) Recent teaching evaluation summaries and sample syllabi, if available

Finalists for the position will:

*be required to provide official transcripts for highest degree before the on-campus interview;

*be required to provide three letters of reference dated within the last two years;

*Final candidates being interviewed are expected to make a presentation of creative work and a teaching demonstration to faculty and interact with students.

Department representatives will be present at the APSA Annual Meeting Career Fair on Thursday, September 15 from 4:00pm-6:00pm EST in Montréal, Quebec, Canada. If in attendance, prospective applicants are encouraged to ask questions.

Department representatives will also be holding two Zoom open houses on: Monday, September 26: 10am-12pm PST and Thursday, September 29: 2pm-4pm PST. Zoom link: <https://cpp.zoom.us/j/81284066966>. Prospective candidates are encouraged to attend the Zoom open houses if they are unable to attend the APSA Career Fair to ask questions.

To Apply. Applications accepted only via PageUp – online application portal - for University hires. To apply, visit the Job Application page (<https://careers.pageuppeople.com/873/po/en-us/job/516673/political-science-assistant-professor>) or visit <https://careers.cpp.edu/>.

The position is open until filled. First consideration will be given to completed applications received no later than October 1, 2022

Please direct inquiries to:

Dr. Marc Scarcelli, Search Committee Chair
Political Science Department
California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
Email: scarcelli@cpp.edu

Jessica Castillo, Administrative Support Coordinator
Political Science Department
California State Polytechnic University, Pomona
Email: jmcastillo2@cpp.edu

Advertised: July 12, 2022 (9:00 AM) Pacific Daylight Time
Applications close: Open Until Filled

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/13/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10489

Rice University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Rice University, located in Houston, Texas, invites applications for a tenure-track position to begin July 1, 2023. The appointment will be made at the rank of assistant professor. Assistant professors will teach undergraduate and graduate courses, perform research in their specialized area, and contribute to university service. Therefore, successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education.

We are particularly interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise lie in the area of political violence, civil war, and/or the microprocesses of conflict. Successful candidates will have advanced skills in quantitative research methods. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D. or complete the Ph.D. by July 1, 2023.

Rice University and the Department of Political Science are committed to building and sustaining an inclusive, diverse environment for our faculty, staff, and students. We encourage applications from individuals who have been historically underrepresented in academia, including people of color, LGBTQI+ people, women, and people with disabilities. We strive to counter prejudice actively and to create a working environment that is inclusive and equitable.

The application deadline is September 20, 2022. A complete application must include a letter of application; a curriculum vitae; research, teaching, and DEI statements; graduate school transcripts; two writing samples; and three letters of recommendation (applicants must provide contact information for three references who will be contacted automatically for letters of recommendation). All applications should be submitted electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/109663>.

Equal Opportunity Employer - Females/Minorities/Veterans/Disabled/Sexual Orientation/Gender Identity

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/20/2022

Date Posted: 7/13/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10491

University of Colorado, Colorado Springs

Rank: Assistant Professor, Comparative Politics/International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of Colorado, Colorado Springs (UCCS) invites applications for a tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in Comparative Politics beginning August 2023.

Successful candidates will have research and teaching experience in Comparative Politics and International Relations. Special consideration will be given to candidates whose research and teaching interests relate to a regional specialization in East Asian Politics, or other relevant regional specializations.

The successful candidate will be required to teach our introductory course in Global Politics as well as our upper division course in Comparative Politics. They will further be expected to teach courses in their geographical area of expertise. The successful candidate will teach both in person and online courses. Candidates from underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply.

Applicants must submit the following materials by 5:00pm MDT (7:00pm EDT) on Friday, August 12, 2022 to receive full consideration:

- (1) CV
- (2) Cover letter
- (3) Research statement
- (4) Sample course syllabus
- (5) Unofficial transcripts

For further information and access to the application submission portal, please visit:

https://cu.taleo.net/careersection/2/jobdetail.ftl?job=25512&lang=en&sns_id=mailto#.YsYBUeYAvjA.mailto

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 8/12/2022

Date Posted: 7/12/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10473

Bocconi University

Rank: Assistant Professor, International Relations

The Department of Social and Political Sciences at Bocconi University is inviting applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in Political Science, specifically within the subfield of international relations, with an appointment beginning on September 1, 2023.

The area of research specialization in IR is open, but to complement the existing strengths and profile of the department, candidates engaged in research employing rigorous quantitative analysis are preferred. The candidate should show evidence of a promising research agenda, and should also be able to teach courses in international relations at the undergraduate and graduate levels.

Bocconi University is a leading European research and teaching institution in economics, social sciences, management and related disciplines. In the 2022 QS World University Ranking of Social Science and Management programs, Bocconi ranked 4th in Europe and 10th worldwide. The Department of Social and Political Sciences has a major role in staffing an undergraduate program in International Politics and Government, a master's program in Politics and Policy Analysis, and a PhD program in Social and Political Sciences.

Bocconi provides an ideal interdisciplinary research environment. The Department of Social and Political Sciences combines faculty from several allied disciplines and fields of study--public administration, political science, sociology, economics, history, public health, demography--who share an interest in policy--relevant research. The Department counts 60 tenured or tenure-track faculty members. Bocconi is located in Italy's most vibrant center, Milan, a historic, cosmopolitan and international city in a metropolitan area of 3 million that is well connected to the rest of Europe and the world.

Knowledge of Italian is not required. Terms of employment are competitive.

Applications should be received by October 15, 2022. Applicants must submit (1) a current curriculum vitae, (2) a job market paper

(and other published papers), (3) a cover letter, and (4) teaching and research statements via the on-line form using PDF attachments at www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket. Additionally, at least three academic letters of reference must also be submitted by referees via www.unibocconi.eu/jobmarket.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/15/2022

Date Posted: 7/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10402

Tokyo International University

Rank: Full-time positions in 1) International Relations/U.S. Politics and Foreign Policy and 2) International Law/International Organizations

Title: Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty Position in International Relations/U.S. Politics and Foreign Policy and International Law/International Organizations

Tokyo International University:

Tokyo International University (TIU) offers undergraduate and graduate programs both in Japanese and English. The English track degree program, called E-Track and taught entirely in English, attracts students from Japan as well as from around the world. The curriculum of the E-Track Program enables students to cultivate a broad educational background and deepen their knowledge in specialized fields of Digital Business & Innovation, Business Economics, and International Relations. E-Track also boasts comfortable class size, creating stronger bonds between students and teaching staff.

More details about TIU can be found here: <https://www.tiu.ac.jp/etrack/>

Position:

Tokyo International University is seeking to hire full-time Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professors (tenure or tenure-track) in: 1) U.S. Politics and Foreign Policy and 2) International Law/International Organizations. The appointment will start either April 1, 2023 or September 1, 2023 (negotiable).

Successful candidates should already hold a Ph.D. or have a Ph.D. in social science, political science, international relations or other related areas, in hand by the time of employment, a strong publication record or demonstrated potential for active scholarly engagement, and an ability to teach students (both undergraduate and graduate) with diverse cultural background in the university's English Track Degree Program. The annual teaching expectation is six courses distributed over two semesters. A research support budget is also provided to faculty members. Tokyo International University is an equal opportunity educational institution. All qualified individuals, including minorities and women, are encouraged to apply.

Successful candidate will be offered either a tenured or tenure-track position depending on qualifications. The tenure-track system refers to a system under which a newly hired full-time faculty member transitions to tenure status after successfully completing a track period and the tenure screening process within a maximum of five years.

Salary/Compensation/Research Support:

A competitive salary is offered. Remuneration package includes health insurance, pension, commuting allowance, annual research fund and individual research office.

Application Package:

The evaluation of applicants will start in early September 2022, and applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Candidates should submit the following documents by Google Form.

- 1) Cover letter of application
 - 2) Curriculum vitae (please also include your complete contact details and contact information of three references - references will not be contacted without first notifying the applicant.)
 - 3) Copy of diploma or transcript showing proof of Ph.D. or enrollment in a Ph.D. program
- Please register your information and all materials on the Google form below.

<https://forms.gle/4LvNVcFHFPfDFQXp9>

Selection process:

Review of applications will be taken first, and only applicants deemed suitable will be contacted and invited for the interview (in person or via Zoom). Those applicants who are invited to the interview might be requested to submit the Letter of Recommendation by relevant institutions.

Contact details:

Human Resources Department, Tokyo International University Foundation
4-23-23, Takadanobaba, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-0075
Email: saiyou@tiu.ac.jp

Others:

All information collected will be used solely for its intended purpose of evaluating applicants. Information will not be used for any other purpose.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10431

Osaka University

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in International Political Economy

Osaka School of International Public Policy, Osaka University invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured faculty position in the field of International Political Economy (IPE) to begin on April 1, 2023 (or earliest date thereafter).

Position: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor (Tenure-track or tenured. The title and responsibilities will be commensurate with the applicant's experience and qualifications)

Affiliation: Osaka School of International Public Policy (OSIPP), Osaka University (<http://www.osipp.osaka-u.ac.jp/en/>)

Location: Toyonaka Campus (Osaka, Japan)

Field of Expertise: International Political Economy (IPE)

Responsibilities:

1. Conduct research and pursue external grants, including the Japan Society for the Promotion of Science's Grants-in-Aid.

2. Teach on average three courses (graduate and undergraduate) per semester (each consisting of one 90-minute session per week for 15 weeks).
3. Perform administrative duties as assigned.

Qualifications:

1. A doctoral degree must be obtained by the start date of the appointment.
2. Proficiency in English.
3. A working knowledge of Japanese is required for tenure.

Start Date: April 1, 2023 (or earliest date thereafter)

Term of Employment: No fixed term for a tenured position (until the end of the fiscal year at the age of 65). For a tenure-track position, the term of employment is four years. A tenure evaluation will be conducted by the end of the term of employment, and if the applicant passes the evaluation, the applicant becomes an employee with no fixed term of employment. If the applicant is unsuccessful, the term of employment may be renewed for up to three years (as a general rule, only once). If the applicant passes the evaluation by the end of the new term of employment, the applicant becomes an employee with no fixed term of employment.

Probationary Period: 6 months

Application Documents: (All documents must be in English or Japanese)

1. Curriculum Vitae
2. A list of research achievements (books, articles, chapters, working papers, conference presentations, etc.)
3. Writing samples (Up to three published or unpublished works. If the work is under revision or in production, please attach evidence such as email correspondence. Contact us if digital copies are not available)
4. We may request other documents after the initial screening.

Contact Information: Please email your application or address your inquiries to: faculty_search@osipp.osaka-u.ac.jp (A confirmation email will be generated). Send all documents in separate PDF files. Documents in other formats are not accepted. Use "[name of applicant]: International Political Economy" as the subject. If the attachments exceed 5MB, divide them into separate e-mails. We are unable to accept compressed files (ZIP, LHA, CAB, TGZ, TBZ, TAR, or RAR).

Deadline: August 10, 2022 (Japan Standard Time)

Selection Process: After the initial screening, finalists will be invited to an online job talk. Please note that unsuccessful applicants will not be contacted.

Additional Information: OSIPP offers start-up research grants and teaching load reduction to new faculty.

For more details, see http://www.osipp.osaka-u.ac.jp/wp-content/uploads/2022/06/OSIPP20220810_e.pdf

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 8/10/2022

Date Posted: 6/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10435

University of California, Davis

Rank: Lecturer

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

The Department of Political Science at the University of California at Davis invites applications for one or more temporary teaching positions in the fields of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory for the 2022-2023 academic year. Availability of this position depends upon final administrative approval and the teaching needs of the department. The Department seeks applicants with demonstrated research and teaching expertise. A completed Ph.D. is required. This position is covered by a Collective Bargaining Unit.

The appointee(s) will offer up to two courses per quarter over three quarters. The core courses to be taught will be in the areas of International Relations, Comparative Politics, American Politics and/or Political Theory. Compensation is commensurate with ability and experience. Candidates should electronically submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching ability, two letters of reference and a writing sample to: <https://recruit.ucdavis.edu/apply/JPF05035>. To ensure review of your application, please submit all materials by July 15, 2022, but materials will be accepted until the positions are filled.

The University of California at Davis and the Department of Political Science are interested in candidates who are committed to the highest standards of scholarship and professional activities, and to the development of a campus climate that supports equality and diversity. The University of California is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10444

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Associate Professor of Political Science

Senior Search in Security Studies

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Department of Political Science invites applications for a full-time faculty member in Security Studies at the rank of tenured Associate Professor effective July 1st, 2023 or as soon thereafter as possible. Responsibilities include graduate and undergraduate teaching and student research supervision. MIT is an Equal Employment Opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against on the basis of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, ancestry, or national or ethnic origin. Applications should include a cover letter which addresses your research agenda and teaching interests, and how your past efforts and future plans will advance diversity, equity, and inclusion in your scholarship, teaching, and service. Also include a CV, writing sample(s), and a list of three references.

Please submit online applications to <https://academicjobsonline.org/ajo/jobs/21971>

Completed applications must be submitted by September 15, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/15/2022
Date Posted: 6/24/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10436

University of Virginia

Rank: Full Professor, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia's Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences launched a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, and Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere. Across all the searches, the Departments seek to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability, and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative's other projects.

This year, with the support of the Nau Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenured full professor who studies democracy in the subfield of international relations or the subfield of political theory. Candidates should have an active research agenda and a strong commitment to excellent teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale by bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary and supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs consist of a series of three-year, rotating labs on various topics, connected by the work of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Nau Core Lab), an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach. Current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, the links between environmental and racial inequality, and race, religion, and democracy. The Democracy Initiative also supports two projects focused on community engagement and research, the Memory Project and The Equity Center. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the Nau Core lab or one of the Initiative's other research labs or projects.

Application review will begin September 15th, 2022, and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2023. Applicants must have received their PhD at least three years prior to the time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Please apply through Workday, and search for R0037131. Complete an application online with the following documents:

.Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest; (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations (not to exceed three single spaced pages).

.Current curriculum vitae, including the names of three references

.A statement outlining what kinds of intellectual and/or institutional contributions you could envision making to the Democracy Initiative (not to exceed two single-spaced pages)

.A research statement (not to exceed three single-spaced pages)

.A teaching philosophy (not to exceed one single-spaced page)

Upload all materials into the resume submission field, multiple documents can be submitted into this one field. Alternatively, merge all documents into one PDF for submission. Applications that do not contain all required documents will not receive full consideration. Internal applicants must apply through their UVA Workday profile by searching 'Find Jobs'.

Questions about this position should be directed to Department Chair, Jennifer Lawless at jl9jx@virginia.edu, or Search Committee Chair John Owen at jmo4n@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to Melanie Sponaugle, Academic Recruiter, at unw5dq@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA is located in beautiful Charlottesville with easy access to the Blue Ridge Mountains, the eastern shore and the nation's Capital. Charlottesville is one of the best places to live; outdoors, vibrant town with culture, music, restaurants, excellent schools, etc. Opportunities for excellent clinical, and laboratory-based research and teaching pursuits working within the collegial work environment are available.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu/>

For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkcva.com/>.

For more information on the benefits available to faculty at UVA, visit <https://provost.virginia.edu/subsite/faculty-development> and hr.virginia.edu/benefits.

COVID Vaccination Requirement and Guidelines

Please visit the UVA COVID-19 Job Requirements and Guidelines webpage prior to applying for current information regarding vaccination requirements?and?guidelines for employment at UVA.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System which represents the UVA Medical Center, Schools of Medicine and Nursing, UVA Physician's Group and the Claude Moore Health Sciences Library, are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/22/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10432

Brown University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Department of Political Science at Brown University invites applications for a faculty position at the level of Assistant Professor in the field of International Political Economy to begin July 1, 2023. The department is open to all substantive fields of IPE scholarship and has a preference for candidates who use mixed methods in their research. Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2023. Review of applications will begin September 20, 2022.

Brown University is committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive academic global community; as an EEO/AA employer, Brown considers applicants for employment without regard to, and does not discriminate on the basis of, gender, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, race, protected veteran status, disability, or any other legally protected status.

Qualifications Needed:

- Candidates must have completed the PhD by summer 2023.

Application Instructions:

- Candidates should submit a cover letter identifying their research and teaching interests, as well as current CV, a statement addressing their commitment to diversity and inclusion, writing sample, graduate transcript, teaching evaluations, and three letters of reference.

Apply: <http://apply.interfolio.com/108469>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/21/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10430

University of Western Ontario

Rank: International/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Political Science – International/Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites applications for highly qualified applicants for a probationary (tenure-track) appointment in the area of International/Comparative politics, broadly defined, with a starting date of July 1, 2023 or as negotiated.

We seek individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service who can help advance Western's Strategic Plan: <https://strategicplan.uwo.ca/>. In particular, we will favour candidates whose teaching and scholarship addresses one or more of: threats to democracy, environmental politics, sustainability, climate change, systemic racism, and/or socioeconomic inequality. The successful candidate could approach these issues from either the system- or individual-level. Western Political Science aims to be Canada's top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach empirical research methods will be considered an asset.

To address Western's commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and decolonization, applicants who self-identify as a woman, Indigenous person, member of a racialized community, person with a disability, or who identify as 2SLGBTQ+ are encouraged to apply to this position.

Applications should include the following:

- 1) application form (<http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf>),
- 2) cover letter that addresses how the candidate fits the position and the department, and includes a brief statement of how the candidate will contribute to our commitment to Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Decolonization.
- 3) curriculum vitae,
- 4) short statement of teaching and research interests,
- 5) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers,
- 6) names and contact information of three academic referees,

The deadline for receipt of applications is September 15th, 2022, or until the position is filled.

This material should be sent to: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Professor Matthew Lebo, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's COVID-19 Vaccination Policy.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the "Western Experience" – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's Covid Vaccination Policy.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. For any questions about the position or application please contact: matthew.lebo@uwo.ca.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca.

Start Date: Summer 2023
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/20/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10425

Georgia Institute of Technology

Rank: Assistant Professor International Political Economy
Specializations: Political Economy, International Political Economy, Quantitative Methods

Faculty Position in International Political Economy

The Sam Nunn School of International Affairs (www.inta.gatech.edu) at the Georgia Institute of Technology invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position in International Political Economy. Scholars with a research specialization in international financial governance and/or statecraft/diplomacy are particularly encouraged to apply. The ability to teach quantitative empirical methods is highly desirable, as well. Candidates are expected to demonstrate an exceptional commitment to research and to the teaching and mentoring of students.

Georgia Tech is a top-ranked public research university situated in the heart of Atlanta, a diverse and vibrant city with great economic and cultural strengths. The Institute is a member of the University System of Georgia, the Georgia Research Alliance, and the Association of American Universities. The Nunn School is a member of the Association of Professional Schools of International Affairs. Georgia Tech prides itself on its technology resources, collaborations, high-quality student body, and its commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Applicants should submit a letter of application, curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a description of teaching interests and advising/mentoring philosophy, and the names and contact information for at least three references. Application materials should be submitted as .PDF files via Georgia Tech's CAREERS website. Letter writers should submit their letters directly to the same site at the time of application. Inquiries may be directed to Alasdair Young (Alasdair.young@gatech.edu). To ensure consideration, applications must be received by 10 October, but the search will continue until the position is filled. An earned doctorate is required by the start of the appointment, and a background check must be completed prior to employment.

Georgia Tech provides equal opportunity to all faculty, staff, students, and all other members of the Georgia Tech community, including applicants for admission and/or employment, contractors, volunteers, and participants in institutional programs, activities, or services. Georgia Tech complies with all applicable laws and regulations governing equal opportunity in the workplace and in educational activities. Georgia Tech prohibits discrimination, including discriminatory harassment, on the basis of race, ethnicity, ancestry, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, genetics, or veteran status in its programs, activities, employment, and admissions. This prohibition applies to faculty, staff, students, and all other members of the Georgia Tech community, including affiliates, invitees, and guests.

Start Date:
Date Posted: 6/13/2022

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10415

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment on China and Climate Change
Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics
Specializations: East Asia, China, Energy Policy

Stanford University invites applications for a joint appointment as a continuing-term senior fellow and tenured faculty at the associate or full professor level in the broad area of China and Climate Change. The focus of the search is open. We are searching for creative and innovative scholars with an established record of outstanding policy-relevant research and education around the topics of China and climate change. We invite candidates from a broad range of disciplines to apply.

This joint hire is part of a broader effort by Stanford University in building the new Doerr School of Sustainability. The appointment from this search will be made jointly in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and in the Doerr School of Sustainability, which will begin operating in the 2022-2023 academic year.

Candidates must have a PhD in a field relevant to climate change, expertise on China, an excellent record of scholarly, policy-relevant research, a dedication to teaching, and a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae; 2) a research statement (up to 3 pages); 3) a diversity statement that demonstrates the applicant's commitment and potential to contribute to Stanford's goals of diversity, equity, and inclusion through personal experience or perspective, scholarship, teaching, or service (1 page); 4) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); and 5) a cover letter. Review of applications will begin upon receipt and continue until the position is filled. All are welcome to apply.

Apply at:
<https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/493398/faculty-appointment-on-china-and-climate-change>

Start Date: Fall 2023
Date Posted: 6/8/2022
Salary: Any
eJobs ID: 10406

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other
Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Latin American, Foreign Policy

Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor within the Department of Government and Foreign Affairs. Candidates should specialize in International Law and the U.S. Constitution and Foreign Affairs; additional subfields in Latin American politics and/or U.S. national security policy are highly desired. Candidates should be able to teach, as needed, Introduction to American Government and, particularly, introduction to World Politics. The ability to offer courses in Western Culture or political philosophy is a plus.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Effective teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, willingness to engage in community service, and a dedication to student success, are all qualities required of a successful candidate. Teaching load for this position is seven courses per year.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. Hampden-Sydney is one of four liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men, and our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning." As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, and three confidential reference letters via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/107980>. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment.

Questions about this position may be addressed to Dr. John Eastby at jeastby@hsc.edu or Dr. Celia Carroll Jones at ccarroll@hsc.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 6/6/2022
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 10395

George Washington University

Rank: Part time faculty
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations

Political Science at George Washington University explores wide-ranging topics related to political behavior and governance, both in the United States and across the globe. The department houses nationally recognized undergraduate and graduate programs with emphases in the subfields of American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations.

The Department of Political Science at George Washington University invites applicants to apply who are interested in serving as a temporary part-time faculty for the fall 2022 semester, teaching in the areas of American Politics, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, and Public Policy. The George Washington University is in a Collective Bargaining Agreement (CBA) with the part-time faculty elected union, Service Employees International Union (SEIU) Local 500.

Minimum Qualifications

A Master's degree in political science or related field. Prior experience teaching students at the postgraduate level.

Application Instructions

To apply, interested individuals should email Dr. Susan Wiley (wiley@gwu.edu) a recent curriculum vitae (CV) to express interest in the role. Prior student course evaluations may be requested. Employment offers are contingent on the satisfactory outcome of a standard background screening.

EEO Statement

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/25/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10376

Michigan State University

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor Tenure System

Michigan State University actively promotes a dynamic research and learning environment in which qualified individuals of differing perspectives, and cultural backgrounds pursue academic goals with mutual respect and shared inquiry.

The Department of Political Science at Michigan State University is seeking to hire a 9-month academic year, tenure system position with a specialty in International Political Economy at the rank of Associate Professor. Advanced Assistant Professors with strong promise for promotion are also encouraged to apply.

We are especially interested in candidates with established research agendas in areas that can enhance interdisciplinary collaborations across the University and with strong methodological skills that can contribute to the methods training of our undergraduate or graduate students.

The candidate would be expected to teach undergraduate and graduate classes in international relations, international political economy, political methodology, as well as courses that could broaden the offerings of the subfield.

Successful candidates will have a promising research agenda and strong analytical and empirical skills, a strategy for external funding, as well as aspire to the highest standards of scholarship, professional activity, and commitment to graduate and undergraduate education. Candidates must currently have a Ph.D.

Required Application Materials:

Interested applicants must apply for this position via Michigan State University Applicant Page (MAP). Please access the MAP system at <https://careers.msu.edu>, posting number 776025 and submit the following materials:

Cover Letter (should include personal vision on research, teaching, and service)
 Curriculum vitae
 Diversity and inclusion statement (include a statement addressing how past/and or potential contributions to diversity and inclusion will advance MSU's commitment to inclusive excellence).

Up to three recent examples of relevant, scholarly work
Complete contact information of 3 to 5 references

Please contact Cristina Bodea (bodeaana@msu.edu), chair of the search committee, with any questions.

Start Date: Spring 2023
Application Deadline: 8/16/2022
Date Posted: 5/12/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10358

Midwestern State University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Political Science program seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor. This position is a nine-month, non-tenure track contract. The Department intends to begin a tenure-track faculty search during the 2022-2023 academic year. The teaching load is 12 hours per semester (4 courses). The teaching load includes teaching introductory Texas and American government, as well as upper-level courses in Political Science and Global Studies. Salary is competitive.

The Department is interested in candidates with a PhD in Political Science, and who will contribute to the mission of the department and university. For the visiting position, all subfields are welcome, but expertise in international politics, global political economy, or European politics is especially welcome.

The Department of Political Science houses majors Political Science and Global Studies, as well as a minor in Women's and Gender studies. Midwestern State University is a diverse, public liberal arts university with an enrollment of approximately 6,000 students and a member of the Texas Tech System. MSU Texas is located in Wichita Falls, a city of 102,000 about 2 hours northwest of Dallas/Fort Worth (www.msutexas.edu).

As a Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC) member institution, Midwestern State University is particularly committed to excellence in teaching and seeks applicants that will contribute to this mission. This position is designated as security sensitive and requires the finalist to complete a criminal background check. EEO/ADAAA compliance employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/10/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10345

Miami University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in International Relations

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in International Relations, open with respect to subfield but particularly interested in International Law and Global Governance, to teach courses across international politics and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program. The position begins at the start of the academic year August 2022.

Required: Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field by the date of appointment for appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor;

ABD for appointment as Instructor. This position is not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Consideration may be given to candidates who possess teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught.

Submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, transcripts and writing sample to <https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/500232/visiting-assistant-professorinstructor-international-relations>. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin May 23, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Miami University is committed to creating an inclusive and effective teaching, learning, research, and working environment for all.

As part of the University's commitment to maintaining a healthy and safe living, learning, and working environment, we encourage you to read Miami University's Annual Security & Fire Safety Report at <http://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>, which contains information about campus safety, crime statistics, and our drug and alcohol abuse and prevention program designed to prevent the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol on campus and at university events and activities. This report also contains information on programs and policies designed to prevent and address sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Each year, email notification of this website is made to all faculty, staff, and enrolled students. Written notification is also provided to prospective students and employees. Hard copies of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report may be obtained from the Miami University Police Department at (513) 529-2225. Criminal background check required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco free.

Miami University is committed to providing up-to-date information from the Department of Labor to our applicants for employment. Here, you will find links to the current information regarding the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO), and the Employee Polygraph Protection Act (EPPA).

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 5/9/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10341

University of Kentucky

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar in Political Science
Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY, invites applications for a teaching post-doc position in International Relations or Comparative Politics with particular interest in international organizations, international law, and/or comparative judicial politics. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and inclusion mission of the department. The position will begin August 1, 2022. Applicants are expected to teach a 2/3 load and design at least one new course in the area of Legal Studies.

Applicants should show strong potential to provide effective undergraduate teaching and have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 2022.

Applicants should submit the following: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) letter stating the candidate's research and teaching interests (uploaded as Cover Letter), 3) copy of transcript for highest degree earned, 4) evidence of teaching experience, particularly syllabi from courses taught (uploaded as specific request 1). Provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information will be used to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10340

Marist College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science

The Political Science Department at Marist College invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor. We are seeking broadly trained candidates with a Ph.D. in hand who can teach courses in Comparative Politics. Candidates must be able to teach our Politics of Developing Areas course, and strong candidates will have some combination of regional expertise in Latin America, Africa and/or Asia. The opportunity to teach upper-level courses in the area of your specialization is also available, and an ability to teach an introductory course in International Relations is desirable. Strong candidates will be able to provide evidence of teaching effectiveness at the collegiate level. A Ph.D. in Political Science is required. Teaching experience and evidence of teaching effectiveness is required. The teaching load will be 4-4 with a mixture of introductory and advanced courses. Faculty are expected to hold office hours and attend departmental and school meetings. For more details and to apply, please visit: <http://careers.marist.edu/cw/en-us/job/493161/visiting-assistant-professor-of-political-science>.

Located on the banks of the historic Hudson River and at its Florence, Italy campus, Marist College is a comprehensive, independent institution grounded in the liberal arts. Its mission is to "help students develop the intellect, character, and skills required for enlightened, ethical, and productive lives in the global community of the 21st century." Marist is consistently recognized for excellence by The Princeton Review (Colleges That Create Futures and The Best 385 Colleges), U.S. News & World Report (10th Best Regional University/North, 5th Most Innovative School/North), Kiplinger's Personal Finance ("Best College Values"), and others. The College is top-ranked for long-term study abroad (#4 in the U.S.) by the U.S. State Department's Open Doors report. Marist educates more than 5,000 traditional-age undergraduate students and 1,400 adult and graduate students in 47 undergraduate majors and numerous graduate programs, including fully online MBA, MPA, MS, and MA degrees, and also Doctor of Physical Therapy and Physician Assistant programs. To learn more, please visit <https://www.marist.edu/about>.

The Political Science Department includes 7 faculty and offers a BA in Political science and a minor. The department contributes substantially to our interdisciplinary programs in Africana Studies, American Studies, Latin American & Caribbean Studies, and Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies. The Political Science Department is housed in the School of Liberal Arts, which includes departments in English, history, modern languages & cultures, and philosophy & religious studies. The School of Liberal Arts is also home to the Center for Civic Engagement and Leadership and the Hudson River Valley Institute.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10332

University of Alabama, Tuscaloosa

Rank: Full Time Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Alabama invites applications for two full-time instructor positions. The appointments are for a one-year term with the possibility of renewal. We expect one position to serve undergraduate teaching needs in American politics and/or public policy and the other to serve undergraduate teaching needs in comparative politics and/or international relations. Minimum qualifications: MA in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at the college level. Preferred qualifications: PhD in Political Science or related field; experience teaching at a large public university. For more information about the department, see <https://psc.ua.edu/>. Please direct questions to pscsearchchair@ua.edu.

Position begins August 16, 2022.

Applicants should submit a cover letter summarizing their teaching qualifications and experience, courses prepared to offer, and reasons for interest in the position, a cv, evidence of teaching effectiveness, syllabi (if available), and the names and contact information of 3 references (ideally with knowledge of candidate's teaching experience). Letters will only be required for short-listed candidates. Applications must be submitted via the University website at <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu>.

Deadline: Submit applications by May 30, 2022 for best consideration; screening of applications will continue until the positions are filled. Apply Here: <https://facultyjobs.ua.edu/postings/50242>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/6/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10335

Northwestern University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in International Relations (Fall 2022 – Spring 2023)

Specializations: International Political Economy, International Security, Foreign Policy

The Department of Political Science at Northwestern invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor (VAP) in International Relations (Fall 2022 – Spring 2023). This is a one-year position with the possibility of renewal for the 2023-24 academic year. We seek a teacher-scholar with a Ph.D. degree in political science specializing in the field of International Relations. Candidates nearing completion of their degree requirements, with a defense date by September 2022, will be considered in the search. Successful candidates for the position will teach six courses, distributed across three quarters that comprise Northwestern's academic calendar. Candidates are welcome to teach 6 unique courses, but applicants should expect to prepare no more than 4 courses, including at least one quarter of Introduction to International Relations.

Excellent candidates for this position will be able to teach an introductory undergraduate course in the field of International Relations, as well as more advanced courses in the candidate's area of expertise, with a preference for experience teaching American Foreign Policy, International Security, Peace and Conflict, Human Rights, Nuclear Policy, Cyber/Information Security, Chinese Foreign Policy, International Political Economy, International Law, or the European Union in International Affairs. The Visiting Assistant Professor will have additional opportunities for teaching and research collaboration with the Weinberg College Center for International and Area Studies, the Buffett Institute for Global Affairs, the Global Poverty Research Lab, among other regional and thematic clusters related to the candidate's expertise.

Review will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. Applications received by Monday, May 23rd will receive full consideration. Applications and supporting documents will be accepted only by online submission at <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html> and <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html>.

The Northwestern campus sits on the traditional homelands of the people of the Council of Three Fires, the Ojibwe, Potawatomi, and Odawa as well as the Menominee, Miami and Ho-Chunk nations. We acknowledge and honor the original people of the land upon which Northwestern University stands, and the Native people who remain on this land today. Northwestern University is an Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action Employer of all protected classes, including veterans and individuals with disabilities.

Northwestern requires all staff and faculty to be vaccinated against COVID-19, subject to limited exceptions. For more information, please visit our COVID-19 and Campus Updates website. Hiring is contingent upon eligibility to work in the United States, but the University will consider applicants who require sponsorship for employment visa status.

To apply, please complete the following form and upload your application dossier here: <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html> and <https://polisci.northwestern.edu/about/faculty-searches.html>.

Required Materials:

- * Curriculum Vitae
- * Graduate Program Transcripts (unofficial)
- * Research Statement
- * Teaching Statement
- * Evidence of Teaching Effectiveness
- * List of at least 3 references with contact information

For inquiries about the job advertisement or application, please reach out to Stephen Monteiro, Business Administrator in the Department of Political Science, by email: <mailto:stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu> and stephen.monteiro@northwestern.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/5/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10331

College of William & Mary

Rank: Visiting Instr/Assistant Prof of Government & Russian/Post-Soviet Stud

The Department of Government and the Global Studies Program at William & Mary, a public university of the Commonwealth of Virginia, invites applications for a one-year, non-tenure-track visiting position that will begin on August 10, 2022. We seek an individual who can teach Russian politics, East European politics, and an interdisciplinary introductory course in Russian Studies, as well as freshmen/senior seminars on related issues. The successful applicant will be expected to be an effective teacher and will have a [3-3] teaching load.

Applicants must apply online at <https://jobs.wm.edu>. Submit a CV, a cover letter, a statement of research and teaching interests, evidence of teaching effectiveness, and a statement describing previous professional experience or future plans (or both) that demonstrate a commitment to diversity and inclusion. You will be prompted to submit online the names and email addresses of three references who will be contacted by the system with instructions for how to submit a letter of reference.

For full consideration, submit application materials by the review date, April 24, 2022. Applications received after the review date will be considered if needed. William & Mary values diversity and invites applications from underrepresented groups who will enrich the research, teaching and service missions of the university. The university is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer and encourages applications from women, minorities, protected veterans, and individuals with disabilities.

William & Mary conducts background checks on applicants for employment.

Please visit the W&M website for information on the Department of Government and Russian & Post-Soviet Studies.

William & Mary is committed to providing a safe campus community. W&M conducts background investigations for applicants being considered for employment. Background investigations include reference checks, a criminal history record check, and when appropriate, a financial (credit) report or driving history check.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/29/2022

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 10243

Brown University

Rank: Post-Doctoral Fellow in Political Science and International and Public Affairs

Specializations: International Security, Public Opinion, Criminal Justice

Professor Robert Blair (Department of Political Science and Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs) is accepting applications for a post-doctoral fellowship beginning in fall 2022. The fellow will work closely with Professor Blair on collaborative research projects. Professor Blair's current research interests include policy reforms and evaluations to improve police performance and police-community relations in low- and middle-income countries; the impact of UN peacekeeping on security and justice sector reform (among other outcomes) in countries recovering from civil war; and the development of mechanisms to reduce partisan polarization and prevent democratic erosion in the US, among other topics. The ideal candidate will have similarly broad research interests, and will be eager to collaborate on projects spanning multiple substantive areas in multiple geographical locations.

Qualifications needed:

- PhD in political science, economics, or related discipline by the fellowship start date
- Experience with quantitative data analysis in Stata or R (preferably both)
- Experience running surveys, field experiments, and/or other forms of complex field-based research
- Excellent written and verbal communication skills
- Spoken Spanish is desirable but not necessary

Application instructions: Please provide a cover letter, CV, research statement, writing sample, and two letters of recommendation.

Please apply here: <http://apply.interfolio.com/103774>

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/18/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10213

Creighton University

Rank: Resident Assistant Professor

Creighton University's Department of Political Science and International Relations invites applications from highly motivated, successful, and collaborative candidates for a Resident Assistant Professor position in the Department of Political Science and International Relations beginning August 2022. The successful candidate will have completed the Ph.D., have teaching experience, and show promise of excellence in both teaching and scholarship. We are interested in candidates broadly trained in international relations theories and approaches and research methods. The candidate will teach a 4-4 load of introductory and upper division undergraduate courses in the International Relations and Political Science programs. The successful candidate will also mentor undergraduates in substantial empirical research projects, such as the department's senior thesis requirement and contribute to collaborative faculty-student research. The position would begin in August 2022 with the potential of renewal at the discretion of the college. Creighton is a Jesuit/Catholic University, emphasizing formation of character as well as education in the liberal arts. Candidates are strongly urged to familiarize themselves with Creighton's mission. Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit an application form (found online at <https://ccas.creighton.edu/faculty/join-our-faculty>), a letter of interest, statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly agenda, diversity statement, current C.V., three letters of recommendation, and evidence of achievement in teaching and scholarship electronically via the Creighton Human Resources website (<http://careers.creighton.edu>) when applying. Candidates may also contact Dr. Erika Moreno, Chair, Political Science and International Relations at erikamoreno@creighton.edu, with any questions they may have about the position. Disclosure Statement: Checking the Status of Application: Applicants/

Candidates are encouraged to periodically check on the status of their application via (<https://careers.creighton.edu>).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/8/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10070

Rowan University

Rank: Professor (Asst, Assoc, Full)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Rowan University's newly launched Catalysts for Sustainability program seeks to hire 10 new faculty to develop, advance and communicate solutions to humanity's most pressing existential threats posed by the climate and biodiversity crises.

The list below shows the positions to be filled.

--Ric Edelman College of Communication and Creative Arts: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor

--School of Earth & Environment: Visiting Professor/Professor of Practice

--School of Earth & Environment: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor

--College of Education: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor

--Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor

--College of Humanities & Social Sciences: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor

--School of Nursing & Health Professions: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor

--College of Performing Arts: Distinguished Artist-in-Residence for Environmental Sustainability

--College of Science & Mathematics: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor

--Provost's Fellow for a Sustainable Anthropocene

Unique Opportunity

Our catalysts will immediately be high-visibility scholars poised to reap reputational benefits as influential state and national leaders. They will gain the potential for enhanced funding and enhanced publishing. The faculty—as a cohort and as individuals—will benefit as they develop expansive external networks and connections with high-profile organizations.

Committed throughout the curriculum and community

The University-wide cohort will lead and collaborate across colleges, disciplines and communities. Each college and school on our main campus will be represented, connecting every academic division through a common purpose.

Strategic institutional values

Rowan University's strategic pillars—access, affordability, quality and serving as an economic engine—are at the center of every decision for the institution. The Catalysts for Sustainability recruiting program will be rooted in Rowan's fundamental values and the hires will demonstrate our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion.

This program will catalyze new initiatives in sustainability research, advocacy and education while leveraging existing strengths. Successful candidates will demonstrate expertise related to the climate and biodiversity crises in one or more of the following areas: environmental justice; education and public engagement including storytelling; public policy and advocacy; discipline-specific sustainability scholarship; and sustainability practice.

Interested candidates must apply through Rowan's online application system (<https://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/495871/rowan-catalysts-for-sustainability>). Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the positions are filled for a start date of September, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9835

Ripon College

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor, International Relations

The faculty at Ripon College are a talented and dynamic group of teacher-scholars who work closely with a diverse student population on capstone and undergraduate research projects, and participate in interdisciplinary collaboration with one another on scholarship and creative activity. The faculty benefit from wide-ranging opportunities for support including curriculum development grants, travel grants, scholarly/artistic grants, and colleague teaching grants. Successful applicants for faculty positions at Ripon College will join a group of teacher-scholars who embrace the standards of social justice; value the principles of equity and inclusion; and seek to foster and facilitate student achievement at all levels.

The Department of Politics and Government at Ripon College is seeking qualified applicants for a full-time, tenure-track position as Assistant/Associate Professor in International Relations to begin August 2022. The department is open to all areas of specialization, but particularly welcomes expertise in international political economy, political psychology, international law, or global environmental politics.

The teaching load is three courses per semester.

Ripon College is home to the Center for Politics and the People, which promotes constructive political debate outside of the classroom by informing students, the community and citizens concerned with good governance in politics and public policy.

Deadline: Screening will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Applicants should submit the following materials as PDF files to Dr. Henrik Schatzinger, Search Committee Chair, at polsearch@ripon.edu

- Letter of interest
- Curriculum vitae
- Statements outlining
 - Teaching philosophy
 - Philosophy on diversity, inclusion, and access
 - Research agenda
- Unofficial transcripts
- Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications:

- Ph.D. in Political Science, by August 15, 2022

- Energy and enthusiasm for service within the Department of Politics and Government and as an active recruiter of prospective students
- Strong commitment to student-centered active learning and student engagement

Preferred Qualifications:

- The department is open to all areas of specialization, but particularly welcomes expertise in international political economy, political psychology, international law, or global environmental politics.
- Demonstrated experience working in multicultural environments and interest in developing curricula related to diverse populations
- Willingness to develop courses building on the established curricula
- Willingness to engage in collaborative work across disciplines
- Commitment to undergraduate education
- Evidence of teaching experience

This position is open to all qualified applicants. Ripon College encourages applications from individuals from underrepresented groups in the professoriate, including, for example, African Americans, Hispanics, Native Americans, Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians, other Pacific Islanders, first generation college students, members of the LGBTQIA+ community, individuals who have followed non-traditional pathways to college due to exceptional talent and motivation in the face of adversity, such as societal, economic or academic disadvantages, and individuals with a demonstrated commitment to applying and including diverse backgrounds and perspectives to learning, scholarship, and leadership in the academy. Employment-based visa sponsorship (including H1B sponsorship) is available for this position.

Ripon College is committed to the principles of equal opportunity and adheres to non-discriminatory policies in employment and student enrollment. Ripon College is an equal-opportunity employer. <http://www.ripon.edu>.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/23/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9415

Salve Regina University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Science and International Relations

Subfield(s): International Relations, International Relations, International Relations

About Salve Regina University:

Salve Regina University, ranked as one of the most transformative colleges in the United States by Money Magazine, is a comprehensive Catholic University located in the scenic coastal community of Newport, Rhode Island. The University's commitment to academic success and personal discovery extends beyond its historic campus into a dynamic world where the application of higher thinking and skill are most valued. Salve Regina offers bachelor's and master's degree programs, graduate certificates, and doctoral programs in humanities, international relations and nursing. Enrollment includes more than 2,600 undergraduate and graduate students from across the U.S. and around the world.

Job Description:

BASIC FUNCTION:

The Department of Political Science and International Relations at Salve Regina University invites applications for a tenure track, assistant professor in international relations with primary regional expertise in Africa or Latin America to begin August 2022. The department administers a B.A. in political science and an online M.A. and Ph.D. in international relations. The successful candidate will contribute to all three degree programs in their area of geographic expertise and in other international relations subjects, such as international organizations and law, public policy, security, human rights, migration, or the environment. We welcome applicants who take a variety of approaches to these topics. The position also offers opportunities for teaching in the university's undergraduate core curriculum and honors program.

ESSENTIAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

Contractual teaching load is 4-3. Duties include teaching undergraduate and graduate courses, advising undergraduate students, mentoring student research, dissertation advising, and committee service. The successful candidate is expected to engage in peer-reviewed scholarship and/or grant activity, university outreach, and collaboration with other academic departments in the teaching of cross-listed interdisciplinary undergraduate courses. Campus resources that are available for fostering the professional development of new faculty include a mentoring program, grand development support, and a Center for Teaching and Learning.

Requirements:

Candidates should have a record of teaching excellence and the promise of scholarly productivity. Candidates who have experience working in settings with students from diverse backgrounds and who are committed to improving access to higher education for students from historically underrepresented groups are especially encouraged to apply. A Ph.D. in political science or international relations must be completed by the time of appointment.

Additional Information:

Salve Regina University offers generous benefits to eligible employees including:

health and dental coverage life insurance long-term disability 403B plan
tuition benefits and more

Salve Regina University strives to provide equal opportunity in employment and education to all employees, students and applicants. No employee, student or applicant shall be discriminated against or harassed on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, religion, disability, age, marital or parental status, military or veteran status, genetic information or any other basis protected by applicable federal or state law, in the administration of Salve Regina's employment policies, education policies, admission policies, scholarship and loan programs, athletic and other University administered programs. In accordance with Title IX, it does not discriminate on the basis of sex in any of its educational programs or activities. Salve Regina is also committed to making its programs and campus accessible to its visitors and compliant with all applicable non-discrimination laws.

Application Instructions:

Applicants must apply online by providing a cover letter, curriculum vitae, unofficial copy of graduate program transcript, teaching philosophy statement, statement of scholarly interests, and contact information for three references who can submit letters of recommendation after the initial screening of applications is completed. We ask that applicants discuss in the cover letter and teaching philosophy statement how their work fosters inclusive learning for diverse student populations. Pre-employment background checks and reference checks are required of successful candidates. Salve Regina University participates in E-verify.

The review of applications will begin on November 15, 2021, and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 9/22/2021

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 9396

METHODOLOGY

Harvard University

Rank: Senior Preceptor in Social Studies

Position Description: The Committee on Degrees in Social Studies seeks applications for a senior preceptor in qualitative social science methods. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2023. The senior preceptor will be responsible for teaching Social Studies 50, "Foundations of Social Science Research" and two other courses, either tutorials in Social Studies 10a and 10b (Introduction to Social Studies), a combination of Social Studies 10a and one junior tutorial, or two junior tutorials. The senior preceptor will also serve as a member of the Social Studies Board of Advisors and Board of Instruction, advise senior theses, and either lead a thesis writing seminar or serve as a thesis writing fellow.

The position is for five years and is renewable contingent upon performance, enrollments, and curricular need.

Basic Qualifications: Ph.D in the social sciences required. The successful applicant should have experience in teaching undergraduate courses in qualitative social science methodology as well as experience teaching and advising undergraduate social science students more broadly.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following documents through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). Applications must be submitted no later than September 15th, 2022.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Teaching/advising statement (describing teaching approach and philosophy and practices)
4. Teaching materials: a teaching chart listing courses taught in reverse chronological order [please indicate which, if any, courses were taught remotely, whether partially or in full, due to the COVID-19 pandemic]; representative syllabi; teaching evaluations. Please limit teaching evaluations to 10 pages or less.
5. Statement describing efforts to encourage diversity, inclusion, and belonging, including past, current, and anticipated future contributions in these areas.

6. Names and contact information of at least three referees, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received.

Contact Information: Hannah Winslow, hwinslow@fas.harvard.edu

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/15/2022

Date Posted: 8/2/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10581

Harvard University

Rank: Senior Lecturer in Quantitative Methods

The Government Department seeks applications for a full-time Senior Lecturer in quantitative methods. The appointment is expected to begin on July 1, 2023. The senior lecturer will be responsible for teaching three courses over the academic year, advising undergraduate senior theses, and helping to administer the undergraduate data science program. This is a five-year position that is renewable contingent on performance, enrollments, and curricular needs.

Basic Qualifications: Candidates must have demonstrated that they are exceptional teachers and have taught within the tenured associate or full professor ranks at a university or peer undergraduate institution, with a commensurate scholarly record. They are required to have a Ph.D. in quantitative methods or related discipline.

Additional Qualifications: The position also requires evidence of effective teaching of introductory undergraduate methods courses.

Special Instructions: Please submit the following materials through the ARIeS portal (<https://academicpositions.harvard.edu>). Candidates are encouraged to apply by October 1; applications will be reviewed until the position is filled.

1. Cover letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. A teaching/advising statement that describes the candidate's philosophy and practices related to undergraduate teaching and advising.
4. Research statement
5. Statement describing efforts to encourage diversity, inclusion, and belonging, including past, current, and anticipated future contributions in these areas.
6. Names and contact information of 3-5 references, who will be asked by a system-generated email to upload a letter of recommendation once the candidate's application has been submitted. Three letters of recommendation are required, and the application is considered complete only when at least three letters have been received.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10564

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

POSTDOCTORAL ASSOCIATE, Political Science, to join a National Science Foundation-funded computational social science research project with Professor In Song Kim. The project focuses on using computational methods to examine special interest group politics and trade politics in the U.S. Responsibilities include analyzing lobbying and campaign donation data and developing/maintaining a large-scale money in politics database. The team is currently developing novel computational methods for social science research, such as community detection and graphical neural network methods to infer political networks; and NLP methods to investigate congressional bill writing and entity disambiguation. The position offers an opportunity to engage in independent research projects according to the candidate's substantive research interests/background.

Job Requirements

REQUIRED: Ph.D. (or an anticipated Ph.D. completion by May 2023) in and research experience with computational social science, political science, computer science, economics, or a related field; ability to work independently with general supervision and as part of a team; experience working with remote servers (Linux CLI, AWS); Python/Git development skills; and knowledge of SQL and relational database modeling.

PREFERRED: experience with data-driven social sciences; experience with large-scale data handling; knowledge of Postgres.

Visa support provided

A complete application should include (as a single PDF) a cover letter that includes your earliest preferred start date, a curriculum vitae, and a two-to-four-page research statement. Please send that by email to insong@mit.edu. The subject line should be MIT Postdoctoral Associate Application. Applications will be reviewed as they are received, and the position will remain open until filled.

There is a targeted start date of May 2023 (though there may be flexibility to start earlier or later). It is a one-year term appointment with the possibility of renewal based on funding and performance.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/26/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10534

Washington University in St. Louis

Rank: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in International Relations

The Department of Political Science at Washington University in St. Louis invites applications for three tenure-track/tenured faculty appointments at the rank of assistant, associate, or full professor in international relations. For all appointments we seek scholars with research interests in international political economy or conflict studies. For one of these appointments, we are also seeking a scholar whose primary publication record demonstrates a commitment to formal theory. The appointment is to begin in the fall semester of 2023. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field is required at the time of appointment. Candidates for associate or full professor should have an outstanding publication, teaching, and service record commensurate with tenure at that rank. Duties for all positions will include teaching courses at the undergraduate and graduate level, conducting and publishing research, advising undergraduate and graduate students, and participating in department and university governance.

Application materials should include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research and teaching interests, at least three letters of reference (for untenured applicants), writing samples, and other relevant materials.

The application deadline is October 1, 2022. All applications and supporting documentation should be submitted electronically through Interfolio (<http://apply.interfolio.com/110471>). If you encounter difficulties with the application process or have any other questions, please email Heather Sloan-Randick at hsloanra@wustl.edu.

Washington University in St. Louis is committed to the principles and practices of equal employment opportunity and especially encourages applications by those underrepresented in their academic fields. It is the University's policy to recruit, hire, train, and promote persons in all job titles without regard to race, color, age, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, protected veteran status, disability, or genetic information.

Each year Washington University publishes a Safety and Security brochure that details what to do and whom to contact in an emergency. This report also publishes the federally required annual security and fire safety reports, containing campus crime and fire statistics as well as key university policies and procedures. You may access the Safety and Security brochure at <https://police.wustl.edu/clery-reports-logs/>.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/26/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10536

Oklahoma State University

Rank: Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science at Oklahoma State University invites applications for a tenure-track assistant professor position to begin in August 2023. Candidates should possess expertise in quantitative methodology that will support a productive research agenda. Preferred methodological techniques include data visualization, data science and analytics, and machine learning. Candidates should also be able to serve as effective teachers who can relate the real-world applications of methodology and data analysis to students at a leading, land-grant university. The successful candidate will be expected to teach courses in the department's undergraduate and graduate research methods sequences, in addition to elective courses in her/his/their substantive area of interest; the teaching load is normally two courses per semester. A Ph.D. in Political Science or a related field is expected at the time of appointment.

Oklahoma State University is one of the state's two comprehensive research universities. Its Stillwater campus has a population of over 23,000 students. The Department of Political Science is housed within the College of Arts and Sciences and offers B.S. and B.A. degrees, with degree options in campaigning, global politics, pre-law, and public policy. It also offers M.A. degrees in Politics and Policy Studies, as well as Peace, Conflict, and Security Studies. The department will give full consideration to applications received by September 15, 2022, but the search will continue until the position is filled.

Applicants can submit their materials through Interfolio <http://apply.interfolio.com/110181> including the following items:

- letter of application
- vitae
- graduate transcripts; the department will accept unofficial transcripts as part of the initial application submission but will expect receipt of official transcripts before a candidate interviews on campus
- a list of three references; the department will expect receipt of recommendation letters from these three referees within two weeks of contacting candidates for a preliminary Zoom interview
- evidence of successful teaching and scholarship
- statements of teaching and research interests

Candidates should address their commitment to a diverse, equitable, and inclusive university in their letter of application, as well as in their statements on teaching and research interests, as appropriate. Please contact Dr. Joshua Hansa (joshua.jansa@okstate.edu) with any questions about this position. For more information about the department, please visit polsci.okstate.edu.

The department is committed to creating an inclusive space for our students, faculty, and staff and to teaching and mentoring our undergraduate and graduate scholars from various backgrounds. As such, the department seeks a diverse pool of applicants. Currently, 40 percent of our department's undergraduate student body is comprised of members of underrepresented racial/ethnic minority groups; women comprise 50 percent. Members of these groups are encouraged to apply.

Oklahoma State University is an AA/EEO/E-Verify employer committed to diversity. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment and will not be discriminated against based on race, color, religion, sex, national origin, disability or protected veteran status. For more information, visit <https://eeo.okstate.edu>. This position is contingent upon availability of funds.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/15/2022

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10514

Academia Sinica

Rank: Assistant Research Fellow (equivalent to Assistant Professor)

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Methodology

Position Announcement

Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica

1. The Institute of Political Science at Academia Sinica (IPSAS), Taipei, Taiwan, seeks to appoint full-time faculty members at the rank of assistant research fellow (which is equivalent to assistant professor). Application for higher rank will also be considered.

2. The applicant should specialize at least one of the following fields: (1) Taiwan politics and comparative democracy; (2) China and comparative politico-economic transition; (3) cross-Strait relations and international relations theory; (4) political changes in Asia and global democratic development; and, (5) political methodology.

3. The applicant must have a doctoral degree in political science or related disciplines, or is able to receive a Ph.D. degree by August 31, 2023.

4. Applicants for positions of assistant research fellow should submit the following documents:

- (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
- (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate or certification for completion of course work and successful defense of dissertation (for applicants who have not yet passed the oral examination, proof for completion of courses and a letter certifying imminent holding of oral examination are required);
- (3) two copies of the doctoral dissertation (or draft) and other publications;
- (4) an abstract (in both English and Chinese) of the doctoral dissertation;
- (5) transcripts from undergraduate and graduate schools;
- (6) a statement of research accomplishments and research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
- (7) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio; those applying for the position of assistant research fellow should have one letter from the dissertation advisor).

5. Applicants for positions of associate research fellow or above should submit the following documents:

- (1) curriculum vitae and a list of publications;
- (2) a photocopy of the doctoral degree certificate;
- (3) three representative publications (and two copies each);
- (4) proofs for appointments in Taiwanese or international academic institutes;
- (5) a statement of research accomplishments and research plan (in both English and Chinese and within three pages); and,
- (6) three letters of recommendation (written in English or Chinese and mailed directly by the recommender to IPSAS. If sending by email, please send the email by the school department or by a certification agency such as interfolio).

6. The application should be sent to Dr. Chung-li Wu, Director, Institute of Political Science, Academia Sinica, 128 Academia Rd., Sec. 2, Taipei 115201, Taiwan, R.O.C.

7. Further questions can be forwarded to Ms. Ren-Yuan Lo at 886-2-2652-5303, faxed to 886-2-2783-2610, or e-mailed to ipsas@gate.sinica.edu.tw.

8. The application should be received by October 31, 2022.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: 10/31/2022

Date Posted: 7/22/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10513

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Quantitative Methods

The Princeton University Department of Politics seeks applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in quantitative methods. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26803>.

Candidates should submit a Curriculum Vitae, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Quantitative Methods Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 12, 2022.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Date Posted: 7/22/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10517

St. Olaf College

Rank: Visiting Instructor or Assistant Professor

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Latino Politics, African American Politics

The Department of Political Science at St. Olaf College invites applications for a full-time, one-year position in Research Methods and American Politics at the level of Instructor or Assistant Professor, to begin August 2022. The successful candidate will be able to research methods to undergraduate students, as well as courses in American Politics. Ability to teach a course on race and politics is especially desired.

The department is particularly interested in applicants who can and will advance the College's goals for diversity equity and inclusion. We request that in the letter of application, candidates address their potential to contribute to the St. Olaf community that maintains a diversity of people and perspectives as one of its core values. We strongly encourage applications from Black, Indigenous, and people of color and members of other underrepresented groups in accordance with our equity goals.

Applicants must submit materials online at <https://stolaf.hiretouch.com/faculty-postings>. A complete application includes:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

The contact information for three professional references who can speak to your abilities in teaching and scholarship.

Review of applications will begin as soon as possible and will continue until the position is filled. Applications received by July 25, 2022 will receive fullest consideration.

Questions about the position, department, or college may be directed to Douglas Casson, Department Chair, at casson@stolaf.edu. Applicants who need assistance with the online application process should call 507-786-3356.

One of the nation's leading liberal arts colleges, St. Olaf College serves 3,000 students, ranks #1 among U.S. colleges for the number of students studying abroad, and celebrates carbon-free electrical power. Its mission is to challenge students to excel in the liberal arts, examine faith and values, and explore meaningful vocation in an inclusive, globally engaged community nourished by Lutheran tradition. The college is located on a picturesque 300-acre campus in Northfield, Minnesota, a vibrant, restored, historic river town of 20,000 located 45 minutes south of the Twin Cities.

To provide a safe and secure educational environment, St. Olaf College verifies the accuracy of all credentials presented by applicants and conducts a criminal background check on every new hire.

St. Olaf College requires all employees to be fully vaccinated for COVID-19 (medical and religious exemptions may apply).

St. Olaf College is an equal employment opportunity and voluntary affirmative action employer. The College is committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment for all members of our community. With regard to its hiring and employment practices, the College prohibits all forms of discrimination and harassment based upon an individual's legally protected status including race, color, creed, national origin, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, religion, disability, marital status, veteran status, or status with regard to public assistance.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/13/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10488

University of Chicago

Rank: Instructional Professor in the Social Sciences Core - Social Science Inquiry

The Social Sciences Collegiate Division at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for a full-time Instructional Professor who will teach in the Social Sciences Core sequence Social Science Inquiry. The appointment is renewable, with an initial term of at least two years, beginning September 1, 2022. Appointment at the rank of Assistant, Associate, and full Instructional Professor will be considered based on the candidate's experience. More information about the Social Sciences Core can be viewed in the College's online catalog: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/socialsciences/>.

The Instructional Professor will teach six quarter-length courses each academic year in the Social Sciences Collegiate Division, primarily in the Social Science Inquiry sequence. In addition to teaching, the Instructional Professor will contribute to the ongoing development of the Core's curriculum. The successful candidate will be required to participate actively in weekly staff meetings, attend other course-related events, and hold regular office hours.

The position requires a Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, Sociology, or some other empirical and quantitative social science discipline and is open to applicants who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. no later than August 31, 2022. Experience teaching applied social science at the undergraduate level is required, and experience teaching courses that cover the scope of the Social Science Inquiry sequence, from research design to elementary statistics and analysis, is preferred. Experience advising undergraduates on modest length (20pp) writing assignments is preferred.

To apply for this position, you must submit your application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio job board at apply.interfolio.com/109022 and upload the following: 1) a letter of application describing your academic interests and teaching background; 2)

3) evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as student evaluations or performance reviews; 4) a chapter-length piece of writing; and 5) three letters of recommendation. Only complete applications will be considered.

The review of applications will begin on July 28, and continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

The terms and conditions of employment for this position are covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and the University.

Position contingent upon budget approval.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 7/7/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10474

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Virginia Commonwealth University College of Humanities and Sciences is recruiting a pool of adjunct faculty for AY2022-2023 course sections within the Department of Political Science. This pool will be utilized on an as-needed basis. Your application will remain active for a year; you may resubmit your application for subsequent years. Only those selected for an interview will be contacted.

We welcome applicants with a range of scholarly interests in the subfields of U.S. Government, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, Methodology, Civil Rights, Human Security, and Public Policy & Administration.

For AY2022-2023, we are especially interested in offering the following courses: Politics of Race, Class, and Gender; Research Methods in Political Science; and Political Theory.

Applicants are encouraged to visit the VCU POLI bulletin to see a list of the courses offered to our students: <http://bulletin.vcu.edu/undergraduate/college-humanities-sciences/political-science-program/#coursestext>.

Position Responsibilities:

Meet all designated course instruction guidelines; grade assignments and exams in a timely manner based on instructions/rubric provided; respond to student inquiries within 24 hours; and submit final grades according to College/Department policy.

Required Qualifications:

EDUCATION:

Master's degree, PhD, or other doctoral degree in a related field with experience and specialized expertise directly related to the position.

COMPETENCIES/EXPERIENCE:

Demonstrated teaching experience.

To apply, please click on "Apply Now" at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1965?c=vcu>. You will be asked to provide a cover letter, CV and contact information for two professional references.

Salary Range: $1,200 per credit hour

Contact Information:

Contact Name: Allie Reckendorf

Contact Email: anreckendorf@vcu.edu

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/28/2022

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 10447

University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

Rank: Assistant Professor

All applications must be submitted electronically to <http://apply.interfolio.com/107856>

Applicants should include the following application materials in PDF format: a cover letter, curriculum vitae, a concise statement describing current and future plans for research, a statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence (if any), writing samples, graduate transcripts, and a statement of activities contributing to diversity, equity, and inclusion in academia. Applications should also submit three letters of recommendation.

Summary

The University of Michigan's Department of Political Science invites applications from outstanding candidates for a tenure track position for a scholar who combines advanced skills in Methods of Causal Inference, Big Data, Computational Social Science, and/or Field Experiments, with strong substantive interests and expertise in American political behavior, Race and Ethnic Politics, Campaigns and Elections, International Political Economy, and/or the Comparative Politics of Developing Countries.

This position is at the assistant professor rank and is a university year appointment. It is anticipated to begin September 1, 2023. Promise of excellence in research and teaching is required.

Mission Statement

The mission of the University of Michigan is to serve the people of Michigan and the world through preeminence in creating, communicating, preserving and applying knowledge, art, and academic values, and in developing leaders and citizens who will challenge the present and enrich the future.

Required Qualifications*

Candidates for this position must have completed their PhD by September 1, 2023.

Background Screening

The University of Michigan conducts background checks on all job candidates upon acceptance of a contingent offer and may use a third party administrator to conduct background checks. Background checks are performed in compliance with the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Application Deadline

For full consideration, complete applications should be submitted by August 31, 2022.

U-M EEO/AA Statement

The University of Michigan is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer.

U-M COVID-19 Vaccination Policy

COVID-19 vaccinations, including boosters when eligible, are required for all University of Michigan students, faculty and staff across all campuses, including Michigan Medicine. This includes those working remotely. More information on this new policy is available on the Campus Blueprint website or the UM-Dearborn and UM-Flint websites.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/1/2022

Date Posted: 6/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10419

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Adjunct Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Public Administration

Specializations: Economic Policy, Research Methods, Public Finance & Budgeting

Institution Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of the most prestigious research universities, Johns Hopkins offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students in the mid-Atlantic region and online. In addition to the online programs, AAP also offers master's degrees and graduate certificate programs at its Washington, DC Center and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, Maryland. AAP has approximately 18,000 enrollments each academic year. JHU is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Position Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) division seeks non-tenure track adjunct faculty to teach several courses within the MA in Public Management program (see below). The courses will be taught online and/or onsite in Washington, DC in Fall 2022 and beyond. Candidates with online course development and teaching experience and those with experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

- 470.854 Fundamentals of Quantitative Methods

This course trains students to be informed consumers of quantitative studies, in addition to teaching the tools of basic statistical work. The course material covers basic descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, and data collection. The key learning objective is for students to develop a better understanding of the statistical and econometric results they may encounter in their careers.

- 470.631 Economics for Public Decision-making

This course aims to offer students an understanding of economics and its importance in public policymaking. The first half of the course will offer students an understanding of microeconomic and macroeconomic theory, including a discussion of when markets can work to achieve policy goals and when “market failures” call for government intervention. The second half of the class will use these economic tools and theories to survey several specific policy areas, including health policy, tax policy, and the national debt.

- 470.608 Public Policy Evaluation and the Policy Process

This course introduces students to the public policymaking process, the basics of policy analysis, and the substance of some of today’s major policy debates. The first half of the course focuses on establishing a framework in which to analyze public policy formulation within the United States. The class also reviews the tools for developing and implementing policy. The second half of the course turns to policy analysis of some critical contemporary issues.

- 470.605 Global Political Economy

In this course, students investigate core topics in international political economy, analyzing the security implications of each. Topics include trade relations, international finance, monetary relations, poverty, and development.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- An advanced degree in public policy/public administration or in a relevant field, such as public finance, economics, or political economy, with a master’s degree at minimum
- Two years of professional work experience within the relevant fields

Preferred Qualifications:

- A terminal degree in public policy/public administration or in a relevant field, such as public finance, economics, or political economy
- 1-3 years of graduate-level teaching experience
- Online teaching experience
- In-person/in the classroom teaching experience.
- The background to teach a wide variety of courses in the public management program.

Application Instructions

PLEASE APPLY HERE: <https://apply.interfolio.com/107918>

The positions will remain open until filled.

Candidates must submit the following:

- Cover letter: should indicate the course or courses you are interested in teaching and describe your relevant teaching and professional experience.
- Resume or Curriculum vitae
- Teaching evaluations for two most recently taught courses (if applicable)
- References upon request

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10394

North Carolina State University

Rank: Teaching Assistant Professor

The School of Public and International Affairs, Department of Political Science, is accepting applications for the non-tenure track position of Teaching Assistant Professor (full-time) to teach our main undergraduate research design and research methods class.

The person hired will teach 4 classes each semester (a 4-4 load each academic year). 2 or 3 of those classes each semester will be PS 371, the Research methods class, which is taught in a computer lab and capped at 25 students. The professional track faculty member is responsible for the coordination, planning, preparation, presentation, and evaluation of classroom instruction and related activities. Some modest service will be expected.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/20/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10371

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate - Fixed Term

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Methodology

The Institute for Public Policy and Social Research seeks a full-time post-doctoral Research Associate to serve a fixed term position (one year renewable for a second year based on funding and performance) to oversee research on the Correlates of State Policy Project and related research. The Project aims to compile, disseminate, and encourage the use of data relevant to U.S. state policy research, tracking policy differences across and change over time in the 50 states as well as their causes and consequences. The Project is also expanding to incorporate federal congressional and district data. The Research Associate will be responsible for upkeep and expansion of the dataset and use of these data to produce peer-reviewed academic research. Appropriate candidates will demonstrate familiarity and use of this data as well as extensive experience in R statistical software and project management. Experience with R package development and Shiny apps would be a significant advantage. We welcome applicants from political science, sociology, economics, public policy, and related fields.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement:

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, age, disability or protected veteran status.

Required Degree:

Doctorate - Political Science, Sociology, Economics, Public Policy, or related field

Minimum Requirements:

The applicant must anticipate a PhD by the date of hire in the areas of political science, sociology, economics, public policy, and related fields.

Required Application Materials:

Interested applicants should send a cover letter explaining research interests, qualifications, career goals and a description of prior research, curriculum vitae, and names and contact information of three references. We will contact references only if the department requests it.

Together-we-will Statement:

The university is requiring all MSU students, faculty and staff to be vaccinated against COVID-19 with limited exceptions. Learn more at: <https://msu.edu/together-we-will/>

Special Instructions:

A review of applicants will be ongoing.

Review of Applications Begins On:

03/04/2022

Website:

IPPSR.MSU.EDU

MSU Statement:

Michigan State University has been advancing the common good with uncommon will for more than 160 years. One of the top research universities in the world, MSU pushes the boundaries of discovery and forges enduring partnerships to solve the most pressing global challenges while providing life-changing opportunities to a diverse and inclusive academic community through more than 200 programs of study in 17 degree-granting colleges.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/17/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10112

Creighton UniversityRank: Resident Assistant Professor

Creighton University's Department of Political Science and International Relations invites applications from highly motivated, successful, and collaborative candidates for a Resident Assistant Professor position in the Department of Political Science and International Relations beginning August 2022. The successful candidate will have completed the Ph.D., have teaching experience, and show promise of excellence in both teaching and scholarship. We are interested in candidates broadly trained in international relations theories and approaches and research methods. The candidate will teach a 4-4 load of introductory and upper division undergraduate courses in the International Relations and Political Science programs. The successful candidate will also mentor undergraduates in substantial empirical research projects, such as the department's senior thesis requirement and contribute to collaborative faculty-student research. The position would begin in August 2022 with the potential of renewal at the discretion of the college. Creighton is a Jesuit/Catholic University, emphasizing formation of character as well as education in the liberal arts. Candidates are strongly urged to familiarize themselves with Creighton's mission. Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit an application form (found online at <https://ccas.creighton.edu/faculty/join-our-faculty>), a letter of interest, statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly agenda, diversity statement, current C.V., three letters of recommendation, and evidence of achievement in teaching and scholarship electronically via the Creighton Human Resources website (<http://careers.creighton.edu>) when applying. Candidates may also contact Dr. Erika Moreno, Chair, Political Science and International Relations at erikamoreno@creighton.edu, with any questions they may have about the position. Disclosure Statement: Checking the Status of Application: Applicants/Candidates are encouraged to periodically check on the status of their application via (<https://careers.creighton.edu>).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/8/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10070

NON-ACADEMICAmerican Bar Foundation*Rank: Executive Director

The American Bar Foundation (ABF) is extending its search for its next Executive Director and is inviting applications.

Established in 1952, the ABF, a nonprofit corporation, is one of the foremost research institutes dedicated to the empirical and interdisciplinary study of law, legal behavior, legal institutions, and legal processes in the U.S. and internationally. The ABF sponsors Law & Social Inquiry, a quarterly, peer-reviewed scholarly journal of international standing that is published by Cambridge University Press.

The Executive Director oversees the ABF research program through the management of 18 Research Professors, five Faculty Fellows, 13 Affiliated Research Professors, a full-time support staff of 22, and a part-time research assistance staff of 20. The interdisciplinary faculty have advanced degrees in such diverse fields as anthropology, criminology, economics, history, law, political science, psychology, and sociology, and many of the faculty hold both J.D. and Ph.D. degrees.

Executive Director candidates should hold a J.D., with preference given to applicants who also hold a Ph.D. in social sciences or humanities; a record of institutional leadership, including administrative and financial management; success in fundraising and academic grantsmanship; experience with the design and conduct of empirical and interdisciplinary research on law; familiarity with the organized bar and legal profession; and skill in communicating results of scholarly research to the bar, the bench, the academy, and the general public.

The Executive Director is charged with building upon the distinction of the ABF as a premier institute for pathbreaking, interdisciplinary, empirical research on law, legal processes, and legal institutions. Administrative responsibilities include directing, supervising, and promoting institutional research programs; producing multi-year plans for faculty research; directing and participating in institutional fundraising, including meeting with and presenting to public and private foundations, corporations, and major gift prospects; recruiting and retaining an excellent faculty; planning, generating and managing the institutional budget; managing the research faculty and staff; building a comprehensive communications program with all the ABF's constituencies; and regularly reporting to the ABF Board and officers on the research programs and other activities.

A full description of the Executive Director position and responsibilities is available on the ABF website. For details about the ABF faculty and research program, visit the website: americanbarfoundation.org.

Applications are invited for the Executive Director position, with priority consideration for those received by October 1, 2022, and must include a cover letter and curriculum vitae. To apply, please email your application materials to execsearch@abfn.org. The ABF encourages women and applicants from diverse backgrounds to apply. The Executive Director position is anticipated to begin in January 2023.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10495

Harvard University

Rank: Assistant Director of Undergraduate Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Non-Academic

The Environmental Science and Public Policy (ESPP) concentration seeks qualified candidates for the position of Assistant Director of Undergraduate Studies (ADUS) in the ESPP program, housed administratively at the Harvard University Center for the Environment (HUCE). The ADUS will report to the ESPP Head Tutor and an interdisciplinary faculty ESPP Board of Tutors.

Job-Specific Responsibilities

Provide academic advising and mentorship to admitted Harvard students, pre-concentrators, and concentrators, and monitor student progress toward degree. Match student thesis writers with faculty advisors; identify potential problems in the thesis-writing process; help keep students on track to complete the thesis. Manage the senior capstone and thesis courses; meet regularly with students to identify issues with progress and advising. Advise ESPP and Energy & Environment secondary field students and lead discussions for their colloquium requirement.

In coordination with the Office of Career Services and other relevant offices at Harvard College, support current students in their pursuit of undergraduate research opportunities, internships, and full-time post-graduate positions after graduation. Act as a conduit to faculty to help students engage in meaningful research experiences at Harvard. Engage with students in settings outside of the classroom related to ESPP content: informal discussions after talks, field trips, journal clubs, etc. Help identify speakers for events. Represent ESPP at information/student recruiting events.

Assist with curriculum and course development, course planning, and curriculum assessment. May teach or co-teach in ESPP depending on the needs of the concentration in a given academic year.

Basic Qualifications

A Ph.D. in an environmental field (science or social sciences) with significant involvement in the policy realm.

Additional Qualifications and Skills

Documented ability to teach effectively and engage with undergraduate students; a strong commitment to education and mentoring; experience with advising and course/program development and commitment and enthusiasm for research and pedagogy in research methods; excellent communication skills.

Additional Information

To apply, candidates should submit their cover letter and resume/CV online through Harvard Careers at this link: <https://bit.ly/3PERm80>. Candidates selected for an interview will be asked to provide three letters of recommendation, including at least one that addresses teaching ability.

More information on the ESPP concentration can be found at: <https://espp.fas.harvard.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10417

OPEN

Princeton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Research Associate, Program in Latin American Studies

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking candidates from any discipline who are engaged in scholarly research on topics related to Latin American Studies, including the Caribbean and Brazil, to fill two Postdoctoral Research Associate or more senior research positions. Candidates will be expected to devote themselves to research and writing, and may teach not more than one course per semester. When teaching, successful candidates will hold the secondary rank of Lecturer, and any teaching opportunities are subject to sufficient enrollments and the approval of the Dean of the Faculty. They also will be invited to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

Appointments are for a 12-month term, starting September 1, 2023, with the possibility of renewal, contingent on satisfactory performance and continued funding.

A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

How to Apply

For full consideration complete applications including letters of recommendation should be submitted by December 2, 2022, 11:59 p.m. EST.

All candidates must apply online and submit the below materials (in English) at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26501>.

- 1) Cover letter
- 2) Curriculum vitae
- 3) Statement of research interests (1,000 – 1,500 words)
- 4) A representative sample of recent work (under 30 written pages or equivalent)
- 5) Three letters of recommendation

Required Qualifications: Doctoral degree (earned within three years of the start date). Academic excellence, potential to bring new ideas and approaches to Princeton University and to interact successfully with a broad range of faculty and students.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 12/2/2022
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10481

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies

Rank: Visiting Fellow, Program in Latin American Studies

The Program in Latin American Studies is launching an open call for applications for next year's visiting short-term fellowships. We are looking for top scholars in their field. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Appointments will be for one month during the 2023-2024 academic year (September 1, 2023 to June 30, 2024). The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines stipend on the basis of current academic rank; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of seniority and current institutional affiliation.

Visiting Fellows will be expected to devote themselves to research and to participate regularly in the scholarly activities of the PLAS intellectual community.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed below must be received by October 16, 2022. All candidates must apply online to submit materials at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26502>.

Cover letter (in English) indicating when the applicant proposes to stay for one month during the academic year (September 1, 2023 to June 30, 2024), title of the proposed research project, and an explanation for reasons to be here at Princeton (i.e., use the library, look at particular archives, work with members of the faculty, etc.);

- 1) Curriculum vitae (in English);
- 2) A statement (in English) describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (1,500 – 2,000 words);
- 3) The names and contact information of two referees. (The Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/16/2022
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10483

Princeton University, Program in Latin American Studies

Rank: Visiting Research Scholar, Program in Latin American Studies

The Program in Latin American Studies (PLAS) is seeking top scholars in their fields who have teaching experience and will provide Princeton students with a unique opportunity to study topics that are not regularly offered at the University. Applications will be accepted from outstanding scholars in the humanities and social sciences, as well as from established writers, artists, filmmakers, or architects working on projects relating to Latin America who are stellar teachers.

Visiting Research Scholars will be expected to teach one undergraduate course per semester, conditional upon sufficient enrollments and approval of a Princeton department and the Dean of the Faculty, and to participate in PLAS-related events on campus.

Appointments are for one or two semesters, during the 2023-2024 academic year (fall semester: September 1, 2023 - January 16, 2024; spring semester: January 16, 2024 - June 1, 2024). A competitive salary commensurate with experience and excellent benefits will be offered. The Office of the Dean of the Faculty determines salary on the basis of current academic rank and award duration; appointment rank at Princeton is determined on the basis of experience and current institutional affiliation.

How to Apply:

For full consideration, all the materials listed must be received by October 16, 2022, 11:59 p.m. EST. All candidates must submit materials (in English) and apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26503>.

- 1) Cover letter indicating the applicant's proposed length of stay (1-2 semesters), title of the proposed research project, and teaching interests;
- 2) Curriculum vitae;
- 3) One undergraduate seminar proposal or syllabus for each proposed semester of the fellowship, including a statement of how the course(s) would enhance undergraduate education at Princeton;
- 4) A statement describing the research project and its scholarly contribution (2,000 – 3,000 words);
- 5) The names and contact information of two referees (the Program will contact them, if needed, later).

Advanced degree preferred.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/16/2022
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10482

University of Texas, Arlington

Rank: Department Chair

Position ID: F00322P

The Department of Political Science in the College of Liberal Arts, at the University of Texas at Arlington, invites applications for the position of department chair. Applicants must be eligible to meet the criteria for the rank of either associate professor or professor.

The successful candidate will lead a dynamic program that offers undergraduate degrees and concentrations in Political Behavior and Processes, Public Law, Public Policy, and Comparative Politics, and International Relations, and an M.A. in Political Science. The department also offers two mandatory undergraduate courses that are essential to the university's mission. The successful candidate will have demonstrated strong administrative skills, leadership abilities, interpersonal and problem-solving skills, and provide advocacy for diverse student and faculty concerns. Demonstrated experience in program growth/development and in cultivating relationships external to the university are especially welcomed. The chair will be expected to guide curricular/program assessment; revision and development; guide faculty through the tenure and promotion process; oversee all personnel matters for faculty and staff; manage the budget and other departmental resources; partner with the university in enrollment management; serve as a liaison between faculty and administration; and sustain and enhance collaborative programs with other campus units and external partners. A terminal degree in Political Science is required. Candidates with prior administrative experience, including experience as a department chair, associate chair, or college level administrator, will receive special consideration.

Situated within the Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex area, UT Arlington is a diverse academic community of students working together with faculty committed to outstanding teaching, research, and scholarship. With a global enrollment of approximately 60,000 students, The University of Texas at Arlington is the largest institution in North Texas. It is one of 131 universities nationwide to receive the R-1: Doctoral Universities—Very High Research Activity designation by the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education, the definitive list for the top doctoral research universities in the United States. In 2021, UTA received the Texas Tier One designation reserved for the state's top institutions for academic and research excellence and the Higher Education Excellence in Diversity Award (HEED) award for outstanding commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion in higher education. The University ranks No. 1 nationally in the Military Times' annual "Best for Vets: Colleges" list, is designated as a Hispanic-Serving Institution and an Asian American and Native American Pacific Islander-Serving Institution and has approximately 240,000 alumni making an impact across Texas and beyond. UTA currently requires periodic COVID-19 testing for all employees.

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.uta.edu/pols/> and <https://www.facebook.com/POLSatUTARlington>) offers a Bachelor of Arts and Master of Arts. It serves students from across the University (in state-mandated introductory courses) as well as over two hundred and forty undergraduate majors and minors and ten to twenty graduate students.

Successful candidates are expected to demonstrate a commitment to diversity and equity in education through their scholarship, teaching, and/or service as well as a strong commitment to teaching, advising, and mentoring undergraduate and graduate students from diverse backgrounds.

To apply applicants should go to <http://uta.peopleadmin.com/> and submit the following materials: 1) a current CV, 2) a letter of interest, 3) a diversity statement, and 4) at least three reference letters. Review of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled. The start date for the position is August 1, 2023.

Questions may be addressed to Dr. Heather Jacobson (jacobson@uta.edu). For more information about UTA, please visit: <http://www.uta.edu/uta>.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10539

Catholic University of America

Rank: Assistant Professor of Practice

The Department of Politics at The Catholic University of America seeks to fill a full-time Assistant Professor of Practice position to direct the University's Intelligence Studies Program, teach intelligence courses, and administer the Certificate program in Intelligence Studies. This appointment will begin on August 20, 2023. The appointment would be for two years and is renewable.

The successful candidate will teach two undergraduate intelligence courses per semester, monitor the progress of students enrolled in the Certificate, manage the participation of adjunct professors teaching in the program, advise students interested in pursuing intelligence as a career, serve as faculty advisor for the Catholic University Intelligence Club, and help schedule speakers and other intelligence-related events for students.

The department seeks candidates with a doctoral degree from an accredited university in a field relevant to intelligence, e.g., in the humanities, social science, economics and business, engineering, the hard sciences, or computer and cyber areas. We especially encourage applications from candidates with prior teaching experience at the university level and practical career experience in the United States Intelligence Community. The Department is particularly interested in candidates who are enthusiastic about teaching and advising undergraduates.

The successful candidate will teach the popular introductory course on American intelligence and will be expected to develop other intelligence courses based on his or her areas of career expertise. In addition to past scholarship, a willingness to engage in further research and publication, consistent with Catholic University's commitment to excellence as a research university, would be welcome.

We seek candidates who understand and support the mission of the University, which can be found here: <https://www.catholic.edu/about-us/at-a-glance/index.html>.

Applications should be sent to pol-search@cua.edu and include the following: (1) a cover letter stating your interest, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) the names and contact information of three references, and (4) a one- to two-page personal statement indicating how your research, teaching, and service will make a distinctive contribution to our University's mission and to the vision of Catholic education as outlined in the Apostolic Constitution on Catholic Universities Ex Corde Ecclesiae.

Review of applications will begin on October 17, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Questions about this position can be directed to the Department Chair, Matthew Green (greenm@cua.edu).

The Catholic University of America is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date: Summer 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10525

Gustavus Adolphus College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Position Details: Gustavus Adolphus College invites applications for a tenure-track position of Assistant Professor in the Department of Political Science to begin September 1, 2023. We seek applications from teacher-scholars in any subfield of political science whose research and/or teaching specialization is race, ethnicity, and politics. We are especially interested in candidates who will further diversify our faculty and curriculum and who will contribute to general education and interdisciplinary programs (particularly African/African Diaspora Studies, but we are also open to interests in Environmental Studies; Gender, Women, and Sexuality Studies; Japanese Studies; Latin American, Latinx, and Caribbean Studies; and/or Peace, Justice and Conflict Studies).

Institution Information: Gustavus Adolphus College seeks employees who are committed to and will be resolute in advancing inclusion and equity. We seek candidates whose experience has prepared them to help us realize our college-wide goal of engagement and inclusion of culturally and racially diverse audiences in the humanities, arts, and sciences. The Gustavus Acts strategic plan renews our commitment to equip students to lead purposeful lives, and to act on the great challenges of our time by diversifying and expanding the Gustavus community and delivering a distinctive and integrated liberal arts education.

Minnesota is home to vibrant Black American communities and growing communities of Hmong, Latinx, and Somali peoples, as well as significant numbers of Indigenous people. We believe that representation from these groups contributes positively to our student body.

We are committed to fostering a community that embodies the value of a liberal arts education rooted in pluralism. We engage in this work at a coeducational, private, Lutheran (ELCA) College of Swedish immigrant heritage that is a leading residential, national liberal arts institution of 2200 students.

Department Information: The Department of Political Science helps students develop an understanding of political processes, political institutions, and the issues and problems that politics tries to manage. The Department also teaches students skills of analysis, research, and evaluation so that they can become more informed citizens. For more information about the department, its faculty, students, and courses, please see the department website at <https://gustavus.edu/poli-sci/>.

Major/Essential Functions: Gustavus faculty teach, advise, conduct research, and serve the college and department. Currently, tenure-line Gustavus faculty have a 6-course equivalent teaching assignment. In their first year, the successful candidate will receive a reduced teaching assignment of five courses, plus one fully-compensated course release.

Primary teaching responsibilities will include 2-3 introductory level courses (U.S. Government and Politics, International Relations, Comparative Politics, and/or Political and Legal Thinking, depending on the candidate's subfield) and intermediate and/or advanced courses in the candidate's subfield and area of specialization.

Application Procedures: To apply, visit <https://gustavus.edu/jobs> and complete the online application. The documents that must be uploaded include the following:

-- Letter of application that addresses the position qualifications

-- Curriculum vitae
 -- A brief (one page) statement of teaching philosophy
 -- A brief (one page) statement of research interests
 -- A brief (one page) statement of inclusion and equity commitment
 -- Transcripts (scanned copies acceptable)
 -- The names and contact information for three professional references (at least one must be able to address teaching experience and teaching effectiveness; please indicate the teaching reference in your letter of application). Please do not ask references to submit letters of recommendation; the committee will conduct reference checks by phone.

For full consideration, applications must be received by October 1, 2022. While applications may be accepted after this date, it is not guaranteed that they will be considered. At this time, please only upload the required documents listed above; finalists will be asked to submit syllabi and publications. Incomplete applications will not be considered by the search committee.

Gustavus Adolphus College is an Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Employer. The College does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, creed, religion, age, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, marital status, disability, or veteran status in its education or employment programs or activities.

Prerequisites

Minimum Qualifications:

-- PhD in political science (we will consider candidates who have achieved ABD status and who will complete their degree by September 30, 2023)
 -- Political science teaching experience at the college or university level
 -- Teaching and/or research specialization or expertise in race, ethnicity, and politics
 -- Demonstrated commitment to supporting students from diverse backgrounds and identities

Preferred Qualifications:

-- Demonstrated effectiveness in teaching
 -- Ability to teach existing introductory courses and develop/expand departmental course offerings at the undergraduate level
 -- Interest and ability to contribute to African/African Diaspora Studies or other interdisciplinary programs
 -- An emerging pattern of research and professional activities
 -- Demonstrated commitment to the value of a liberal arts education

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10522

University of British Columbia

Rank: Tenure-Track Position in Canadian Politics

The Department of Political Science at The University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for up to two tenure-track positions in Canadian Politics, with the possibility of an appointment at the Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor rank.

The area of research and teaching specialization within the field of Canadian politics is open. The Department has a particular interest in scholars who will enhance its diversity.

The successful candidate will have a completed Ph.D. in Political Science (or related field), or be able to adequately demonstrate all

Ph.D. requirements are sufficiently close to completion. The successful candidate is expected to have a Ph.D. for the start of the appointment. The anticipated start date is?July 1, 2023.

The successful candidate will be expected to develop and maintain an active program of research in Canadian Politics leading to peer-reviewed publications and the securing of external research funding, and to contribute to the education and training of undergraduate as well as graduate students.

This position is subject to final budgetary approval.?While at this time we expect in-person campus interviews to take place, applicants must be prepared to conduct interviews remotely if circumstances require. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

To apply, applicants must upload online the following in order at <https://poli.air.arts.ubc.ca/job-application-tenure-track-position-in-canadian-politics-2022/>

- an application letter;
- a curriculum vitae;
- a statement of teaching philosophy, interests and accomplishments (maximum 2 pages);
- a description of current and future research interests (maximum 2 pages);
- evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., summaries of teaching evaluations (official preferred), peer reviews of teaching, sample course material);
- a 1-page statement about the applicant's experience working with a diverse student body and contributions or potential contributions to creating/advancing a culture of equity and inclusion.
- one electronic sample of research or publication; and
- if invited for an on-campus interview, candidates must provide a written paper associated with their job talk if the talk is not based on the originally submitted sample.

In addition, applicants should arrange for three confidential signed letters of recommendation to be sent separately to the Department of Political Science care of Jeff Yupiter, Assistant to the Department Head, at poli.recruitment@ubc.ca.?Review of applications begins on October 1, 2022, and will continue until the position is filled.

UBC-Vancouver's Point Grey Campus is located on the traditional, ancestral, and unceded territories of the Musqueam people, with whom UBC shares a framework Memorandum of Affiliation. For information relating to Indigenous initiatives that are available at UBC, visit the UBC Vancouver Indigenous portal at <https://indigenous.ubc.ca>. The Department of Political Science at UBC is committed to increasing Indigenous engagement within its curriculum.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person. All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents of Canada?will be given priority.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10515

University of California, Berkeley

Rank: Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science

Assistant Professor - Department of Political Science

Position overview Anticipated start: 7/1/2023

Application Window

Open July 13th, 2022 through Thursday, Sep 1, 2022 at 11:59pm (Pacific Time)

If you apply to this recruitment by September 1st, 2022, you will have until September 7th, 2022 to complete your application.

Position description

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science in the College of Letters and Science at the University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in political science, with preference for scholars who work in the areas of: Women and Politics, Public Law, Environmental Politics, IR, Formal Theory, Chinese Politics, or with a focus on institutions.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to fostering an environment in which all members of the Berkeley community feel empowered to pursue their educational goals in a welcoming environment. We believe that every individual must be treated with equality and dignity as we work together to ensure the success of students, staff, and faculty. For more information, please visit the department website: <https://polisci.berkeley.edu/>.

The Charles and Louise Travers Department of Political Science is committed to addressing the family needs of faculty, including dual career couples and single parents. We are also interested in candidates who have had non-traditional career paths or who have taken time off for family reasons, or who have achieved excellence in careers outside academia. For information about potential relocation to Berkeley, or career needs of accompanying partners and spouses, please visit: <http://ofew.berkeley.edu/new-faculty>.

Preferred candidates should demonstrate the highest standards of professional research, teaching, and service and contribute to our commitment to diversity and equal opportunity in higher education.

Department: <https://polisci.berkeley.edu/>

Qualifications Basic qualifications (required at time of application) PhD (or equivalent international degree), or enrolled in PhD or equivalent international degree granting program at the time of application.

Application Requirements Document requirements

- Curriculum Vitae - Your most recently updated C.V.
- Cover Letter
- Statement of Research
- Statement of Teaching

- Statement on Contributions to Advancing Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion - Statement on your contributions to diversity, equity, and inclusion, including information about your understanding of these topics, your record of activities to date, and your specific plans and goals for advancing equity and inclusion if hired at Berkeley (for additional information go to <https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity><https://ofew.berkeley.edu/recruitment/contributions-diversity>).

- Sample of Significant Written Scholarship One - Please provide a sample of significant written scholarship.

- Sample of Significant Written Scholarship Two - Please provide a sample of significant written scholarship. (Optional)

- Sample of Significant Written Scholarship Three - Please provide a sample of significant written scholarship. (Optional)

- Covid Impact Statement - If applicable, please provide a statement discussing if COVID-19 has impacted your research. (Optional)

Reference requirements

- 3 letters of reference required

It is preferred that letters of reference be received by referees no later than the final date to apply (September 1, 2022).

Apply link: <https://apptrkr.com/3250258>

Help contact: knera@berkeley.edu

Campus Information

Diversity, equity, inclusion, and belonging are core values at UC Berkeley. Our excellence can only be fully realized by faculty, students, and academic and non-academic staff who share our commitment to these values. Successful candidates for our academic positions will demonstrate evidence of a commitment to advancing equity, inclusion, and belonging.

The University of California, Berkeley is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy see: <http://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/NondiscrimAffirmAct>

In searches when letters of reference are required all letters will be treated as confidential per University of California policy and California state law. Please refer potential referees, including when letters are provided via a third party (i.e., dossier service or career center), to the UC Berkeley statement of confidentiality (<http://apo.berkeley.edu/ucb-confidentiality-policy>) prior to submitting their letter.

As a condition of employment, you will be required to comply with the University of California SARS-CoV-2 (COVID-19) Vaccination Program Policy. All Covered Individuals under the policy must provide proof of Full Vaccination or, if applicable, submit a request for Exception (based on Medical Exemption, Disability, and/or Religious Objection) or Deferral (based on pregnancy) no later than the applicable deadline. Please refer to Appendix F, Section II.C. of the policy for the deadlines applicable to new University of California employees.

(Capitalized terms in this paragraph are defined in the policy.) Federal, state, or local public health directives may impose additional requirements.

Positions that are represented by a collective bargaining unit or agent have particular contracts. For more information, please refer to the relevant contract: <https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/ix/index.html>, <https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/px/index.html>, <https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/ra/index.html>, and <https://ucnet.universityofcalifornia.edu/labor/bargaining-units/lx/index.html>. Questions about represented positions can be directed to the hiring unit.

Job location Berkeley, CA

To apply, visit <https://apptrkr.com/3250258>

Copyright ©2022 Jobelephant.com Inc. All rights reserved.

<https://www.jobelephant.com/>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/19/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10506

Princeton University

Rank: Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships

The University Center for Human Values at Princeton University invites applications for Laurance S. Rockefeller Visiting Faculty Fellowships for the academic year 2023-24. Fellows devote an academic year in residence at Princeton to research and writing about topics involving human values in public and private life. This full-time visiting program is open to scholars in all disciplines across the humanities and social sciences. For 2023-24, the Center's designated research theme is Reckoning with Race. We welcome research that analyzes the category of race in both local and global contexts and in different periods of history, as well as research that investigates intersections of race, ethnicity, and indigeneity. Applications on other areas of research are also welcomed; we anticipate that roughly half of the fellowships awarded for 2023-24 will fall within the research theme. For applications relevant to the research theme, please state this explicitly and describe the relevance of the research to the theme. In assessing each application, we look for the potential of applicants to contribute to and benefit from a research community that draws together scholars who work in and across different disciplines.

Fellows are expected to reside in or around Princeton or demonstrate to the program's satisfaction the ability to be on campus on a daily basis and on short notice in order to fulfill responsibilities relating to in-person participation. Fellows are expected to pursue their own research and to be active contributors to the intellectual life of the Center. This includes participating in a weekly seminar attended by fellows and Center faculty to discuss work in progress and in various other seminars, colloquia and lectures sponsored by the Center. Fellows enjoy access to Firestone Library and to a wide range of activities throughout the University.

Candidates must have a doctorate or equivalent professional degree and a strong record of research publications appropriate to their career stage. Typically Fellows hold faculty positions at other universities or colleges; in exceptional cases we consider applications from independent scholars when there is a high level of scholarly achievement. This is not a postdoctoral fellowship program and we do not generally consider candidates who will have held the Ph.D. for less than two years at the time of appointment.

The fellowship period extends from September 1 to June 1. Fellows receive a stipend paid in nine equal installments. Ordinarily their home institutions provide a portion of their salaries in addition to all benefits, although this is not a requirement for appointment. Independent scholars are eligible to apply.

The main considerations in the evaluation of applications are the following:

- The significance of the proposed research and its relevance to the purposes of the University Center for Human Values (see <http://uchv.princeton.edu/> for more information);
- The quality of a candidate's previous research and the contribution the candidate is likely to make in the future through teaching and writing;
- The likelihood that the research would benefit from being conducted in the University Center environment.
- Where applicable, the relevance of the application to the Center's designated research theme, Reckoning with Race.

HOW TO APPLY

Candidates must submit an online application at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26381>.

The following materials will be required:

1. A curriculum vitae;
2. A scholarly paper (of no more than about 12,000 words) written in the past three years;
3. A statement (of no more than 1,500 words) describing the proposed research project and including a brief working title for the project. Please describe the project's relevance to the research theme where applicable; and
4. Contact information for three referees, including at least one referee who was not a graduate advisor. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Tuesday, October 18th, 2022, 11:59 p.m. EST. We do not accept application materials by any other method. The selection committee begins reviewing applications immediately and incomplete applications may be at a disadvantage. Decisions are expected to be announced by late March 2023.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/18/2022

Date Posted: 7/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10494

Brigham Young University

Rank: History and Political Science Librarian

Required Degree: MLS from an ALA-accredited institution OR If the applicant does not have an MLS, a master's or doctoral degree in history or political science or a related field is required.

Individuals hired without an MLS must complete the MLS degree within a specific period of time. They will be provided a minimum of 36 months from date of hire.

Experience: Additional advanced degree and/or experience in history and/or political research and reference tools in an academic environment preferred.

Duties/Expectations:

- Meet and communicate regularly with teaching faculty in assigned academic departments.
- Develop collections and manage content in assigned areas.
- Provide reference/research support.
- Teach library instruction classes.
- Publish significant and original contributions relevant to librarianship and/or fields appropriate to subject assignment.
- Present research or innovative/unique information at conferences, workshops, seminars, and/or other professional/scholarly meetings.

This announcement is for a CFS-Professional track faculty position, but it may be filled with visiting faculty (Non-CFS-Professional).

BYU, an equal opportunity employer, requires all faculty to observe the university's honor code and dress and grooming standards. Preference is given to qualified candidates who are members in good standing of the affiliated church, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

Please contact library_hr@byu.edu for a complete job description.

To apply, go to <https://yjobs.byu.edu/> and search for Job ID 110747. Fill out the application and attach your CV and cover letter to the faculty application.

Start Date: Winter 2023

Application Deadline: 8/31/2022

Date Posted: 7/13/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10487

Brigham Young University

Rank: Political Science Faculty

Required Degree: Ph.D. in political science or related field by start date.

Duties/Expectations: The appointment would begin in Fall 2023. Successful candidates will have a strong research agenda, demonstrate potential for high-quality teaching, and be committed to giving the university's students a sound academic experience. Rank is open. Salary, teaching load, and research and travel support are competitive.

This announcement is for a CFS-Professorial track faculty position, but it may be filled with visiting faculty (Non-CFS-Professorial).

BYU, an equal opportunity employer, requires all faculty to observe the university's honor code and dress and grooming standards. Preference is given to qualified candidates who are members in good standing of the affiliated church, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

To apply, go to <https://yjobs.byu.edu/> and search for Job ID 112036. Fill out the application and attach your updated Curriculum Vitae and cover letter. In addition, please send graduate transcript and at least two samples of scholarly work to: Jay Goodliffe, Chair, Department of Political Science, Brigham Young University, 745 KMBL, Provo, Utah 84602. goodliffe@byu.edu

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 8/15/2022

Date Posted: 7/11/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10477

University of Chicago

Rank: Instructional Professor in the Social Sciences Core - Social Science Inquiry

The Social Sciences Collegiate Division at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for a full-time Instructional Professor who will teach in the Social Sciences Core sequence Social Science Inquiry. The appointment is renewable, with an initial term of at least two years, beginning September 1, 2022. Appointment at the rank of Assistant, Associate, and full Instructional Professor will be considered based on the candidate's experience. More information about the Social Sciences Core can be viewed in the College's online catalog: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/socialsciences/>.

The Instructional Professor will teach six quarter-length courses each academic year in the Social Sciences Collegiate Division, primarily in the Social Science Inquiry sequence. In addition to teaching, the Instructional Professor will contribute to the ongoing development of the Core's curriculum. The successful candidate will be required to participate actively in weekly staff meetings, attend other course-related events, and hold regular office hours.

The position requires a Ph.D. in Economics, Political Science, Sociology, or some other empirical and quantitative social science discipline and is open to applicants who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. no later than August 31, 2022. Experience teaching applied social science at the undergraduate level is required, and experience teaching courses that cover the scope of the Social Science Inquiry sequence, from research design to elementary statistics and analysis, is preferred. Experience advising undergraduates on modest length (20pp) writing assignments is preferred.

To apply for this position, you must submit your application through the University of Chicago's Interfolio job board at apply.interfolio.com/109022 and upload the following: 1) a letter of application describing your academic interests and teaching background; 2) a curriculum vitae; 3) evidence of teaching effectiveness, such as student evaluations or performance reviews; 4) a chapter-length piece of writing; and 5) three letters of recommendation. Only complete applications will be considered.

The review of applications will begin on July 28, and continue until the position is filled or the search is closed.

The terms and conditions of employment for this position are covered by a collective bargaining agreement between the Service Employees International Union (SEIU) and the University.

Position contingent upon budget approval.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-3988 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 7/7/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10474

James Madison University

Rank: Interim Associate Director, Madison Center for Civic Engagement

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Open

The Madison Center for Civic Engagement at James Madison University, housed in the College of Arts and Letters, invites applications for an interim associate director to begin in August 2022 for a two-year term. The Madison Center, a non-partisan, high-profile administrative entity, is hiring this position to support and reinvigorate its mission of strengthening democracy for the common good. We are looking for collegial candidates who can situate their work within wider conversations in the humanities and social sciences, create engaging civic initiatives on campus and in our community, and support the JMU and Academic Affairs strategic plans. We also seek a motivated colleague who will build and maintain productive relationships with relevant stakeholders across the university, as well as with strategic partners in our community, commonwealth, and nation—including grant writing opportunities.

Duties and Responsibilities:

The interim associate director reports to the executive director and will contribute to the direction and branding of the center. This is a 12-month, PhD level, administrative and professional faculty position. Specific duties include the following:

- Collaborate with academic units and Student Affairs to integrate civic learning into major requirements, and co-curricular programs and activities.
- Provide administrative support and guidance for student-led voter registration and education initiatives.
- Help support and expand the center's ongoing efforts in diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Help develop the curriculum and capstone project plan for the Certificate Program in Civic Engagement with the executive director and relevant partners.

- Identify and execute grant writing opportunities in partnership with the Executive Director (note: funding for the position is not dependent on securing grant funding).
- Supervise relevant capstone projects and delegate capstone projects to faculty for the certificate program (2023 at the earliest).
- Supervise Democracy Fellows, which includes identifying and delegating projects, evaluating performance, hiring new fellows in the fall when necessary.
- Expand voter education and engagement together with Democracy Fellows and the executive director.
- Collaborate with SCHEV, Virginia Campus Compact, and other university-based public service organizations on initiatives (together with executive director).
- Conduct research, publish, and present findings at relevant national conferences, helping build a national profile of the center.
- Other duties as assigned.

Required Qualifications:

- PhD
- Ongoing research agenda in relevant field
- Curriculum development experience
- Excellent organizational, interpersonal, written and oral communication, and management skills
- Demonstrated appreciation of diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Commitment to non-partisanship when representing JMU and the James Madison Center for Civic Engagement

Preferred Qualifications:

- Supervision experience
- Grant writing experience
- Student event planning experience
- Experience developing and implementing effective voter registration and education initiatives
- Working knowledge of national organizations supporting civic engagement in higher education
- Experience creating and implementing programs for college students

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 7/6/2022Salary: $70,000 - $79,999eJobs ID: 10462Aarhus University*Rank: Associate professor

Please see this link:

<https://international.au.dk/about/profile/vacant-positions/job/associate-professor-in-political-science-3>

Start Date: Winter 2023Application Deadline: 9/15/2022Date Posted: 7/5/2022Salary: $60,000 - $69,999eJobs ID: 10459University of Gothenburg*Rank: Associate Senior Lecturer (Assistant Professor, Tenure track)

The Department of Political Science seeks to encourage an open exchange of minds in academic debates, and scholars participation in the public sphere. Research areas of specialization include elections, democracy, corruption, governance, globalization, environmental politics as well as European studies. The department offers education on all levels; undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate, carried out in both English and Swedish. A total of 1,400 students are enrolled in our courses, we have over 160 people employed. The department is centrally located in the city of Gothenburg.

For more information about the Department, go to www.pol.gu.se

The Department of Political Science is currently hiring one or several Associate Senior Lecturer (Assistant Professor, tenure track)

Read more about the position and apply on the University of Gothenburg's "Job portal": https://web103.reachmee.com/ext/I005/1035/job?site=7&lang=UK&validator=9b89bead79bb7258ad55c8d75228e5b7&job_id=26494

Start Date: Summer 2023Application Deadline: 9/2/2022Date Posted: 7/4/2022Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 10458University of Gothenburg*Rank: Senior Lecturer in Political Science

The Department of Political Science has an open climate that encourages involvement in broader societal debates. Research areas of specialisation include elections, democracy, corruption, governance, environmental politics and European studies. We offer degree programmes at undergraduate, Master's and doctoral level, as well as freestanding courses. Education is provided in both Swedish and English. We have a total of 1 400 students and a staff of about 160. The Department is centrally located in the city of Gothenburg.

For more information about the Department, go to www.pol.gu.se

The Department of Political Science is currently hiring one or several Senior Lecturers (Associate Professors) in Political Science who are able to contribute to its research and education

Read more about the position and apply on the University of Gothenburg's "Job portal":

https://web103.reachmee.com/ext/I005/1035/job?site=7&lang=UK&validator=9b89bead79bb7258ad55c8d75228e5b7&job_id=26467

Start Date: Summer 2023Application Deadline: 9/2/2022Date Posted: 7/4/2022Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 10457Notre Dame Institute for Advanced Study*Rank: Faculty Fellowship

The Notre Dame Institute for Advanced Study (NDIAS) promotes issue-engaged, inclusive, and interdisciplinary study of questions that affect our ability to lead valuable, meaningful lives. Each year, the NDIAS convenes a diverse group of 8-10 Faculty Fellows to conduct research on projects related to its yearly research theme.

During the 2023-2024 academic year, the Notre Dame Institute for Advanced Study is sponsoring residential research projects that investigate The Long Run.

Practical decision-making, ethical evaluation, scientific modeling, and cultural meaning-making all increasingly push us to consider causes that extend further and further into the past and consequences that extend further and further into the future. The Long Run Project will bring together humanists, scientists, social scientists, policy scholars, and artists to consider how we understand, manage, and respond to events that lie in the distant future or past, or challenges that unfold over long periods of time.

Faculty Fellows typically have a faculty appointment at their home institution, but the Fellowships are also open to independent researchers, public practitioners, postdoctoral scholars, those who have recently received their Ph.D. (or equivalent terminal) degree, those who are pursuing the creative arts, and faculty from Notre Dame. Scholars from outside the U.S. are welcome to apply—there are no citizenship requirements for these fellowships. Current graduate students are eligible to apply only if they will receive their terminal degree by August 1, 2023.

Faculty Fellows receive half their base salary per academic year (up to $75,000), a housing subsidy (for those who currently reside outside of the South Bend area), a research allowance of $500 per semester, and a private office at the NDIAS. Fellows' home institutions provide the remainder of their salaries as well as all benefits, including health insurance.

All NDIAS Fellows are expected to reside in the South Bend area and to remain in residence at the University of Notre Dame during the period of their fellowship (except for vacation periods, holidays, and University breaks). Preference is given to those who can join the NDIAS for the entire academic year (August - May), but fellowships for shorter periods of time may be possible.

Applications must be submitted through Interfolio and should include the following:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae (no more than four pages, single-spaced)

Proposal abstract (no more than 400 words)

Fellowship research proposal (no more than six pages double-spaced; research proposals may include a works-cited or bibliography page, which does not count toward the 6-page limit). In the research proposal, applicants should provide an explanation of the project they intend to pursue at the NDIAS, including:

-How the proposed research aligns with the research theme and mission of the Institute (see ndias.nd.edu/about);

-Preliminary objectives for the research to be conducted (i.e., whether the research might result in a book, journal article, art work, etc.);

-The proposed work plan (including what research or work has already been accomplished, what will be done during the fellowship period, the methodology to be employed, and the organization of the scholarly project, book, or other work).

A Research Letter of Reference that addresses the strength and promise of the applicant's proposed research project and its fit with the 2023-2024 theme of The Long Run. This letter should come from a colleague, mentor, or other suitable referee for the research area.

An Interdisciplinary Community Letter of Reference that addresses one or more of the questions below. This letter should come from a colleague that you have worked with in a department, center, institute, or university context.

-Can you describe an experience where the applicant collaborated to help another researcher improve a project?

-What experience does the applicant have engaging with faculty from backgrounds different from their own? What skills do they bring to such collaboration? What skills might they work to grow in?

-Do you recommend this candidate for a highly collaborative, inclusive, interdisciplinary fellowship program like the NDIAS fellowship?

(Optional) Up to two pages of non-text materials supporting the research proposal.

Note: applicants are responsible for letting their letter writers know which type of letter to write and the instructions provided above.

All 2023-2024 NDIAS Faculty Fellowship applications, including letters of reference and supporting documentation, must be received by 11:59 p.m. (EDT) on Monday, October 3, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/3/2022

Date Posted: 7/3/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10433

Midwestern State University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Open, International Relations, Comparative Politics

The Political Science program seeks a Visiting Assistant Professor. This position is a nine-month, non-tenure track contract. The Department intends to begin a tenure-track faculty search during the 2022-2023 academic year. The teaching load is 12 hours per semester (4 courses). The teaching load includes teaching introductory Texas and American government, as well as upper-level courses in Political Science and Global Studies. Salary is competitive.

The Department is interested in candidates with a PhD in Political Science, and who will contribute to the mission of the department and university. For the visiting position, all subfields are welcome, but expertise in international politics, global political economy, or European politics is especially welcome.

The Department of Political Science houses majors Political Science and Global Studies, as well as a minor in Women's and Gender studies. Midwestern State University is a diverse, public liberal arts university with an enrollment of approximately 6,000 students and a member of the Texas Tech System. MSU Texas is located in Wichita Falls, a city of 102,000 about 2 hours northwest of Dallas/Fort Worth (www.msutexas.edu).

As a Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC) member institution, Midwestern State University is particularly committed to excellence in teaching and seeks applicants that will contribute to this mission. This position is designated as security sensitive and requires the finalist to complete a criminal background check. EEO/ADAAA compliance employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/10/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10345

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE: PUBLIC LAW (TENURE-TRACK)

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Open

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science seeks applications for a tenure track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. A robust academic record with a teaching specialization in U.S. Public Law is necessary. Successful candidates will be an active educator in their field, with a standard teaching load of three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach introductory sections of American National Government and upper division pre-law courses in support of the Department of Political Science's Pre-Law Concentration, which is a practically-focused law school preparation curriculum, and which comprises roughly half of the department's majors. The successful candidate will also assist other pre-law faculty in offering required Pre-Law courses such as Introduction to Law & Legal Reasoning, Constitutional Law, Civil Rights Law, and/or Civil Liberties, as well as offer new pre-law courses of the candidate's choosing and design. In addition to teaching these courses via the traditional face-to-face method, the candidate must be willing to develop and teach some of these courses as online and/or hybrid courses. The successful candidate will also share in the department's advising and service responsibilities and will work with colleagues to assess and improve curricula, conduct research and/or creative works such as publications and other scholarship in their respective area of specialization, and demonstrate institutional citizenship through active engagement at the department, college, university, public, and professional communities.

To apply for this, access the University of Louisiana at Lafayette Human Resources page here: <https://louisiana.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1720?c=louisiana>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/16/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10203

SUNY, Binghamton University

Rank: Postdoctoral Associate

Binghamton University - Postdoctoral Associate in Harpur College That May Lead to Tenure Track

Binghamton University is a world-class institution that unites more than 130 broadly interdisciplinary educational programs with some of the most vibrant research in the nation. Our unique character - shaped by outstanding academics, facilities and community life - promotes extraordinary student success.

Increasing campus diversity is one of Binghamton University's most important strategic priorities. The Presidential Diversity Postdoctoral Fellowship (PDPF) was established in 2018 so that the university can recruit highly qualified candidates for research and scholarship in disciplines that have found it difficult to attract a diverse faculty. This fellowship program mirrors the goals of the SUNY PRODiG program (<https://www.suny.edu/prodig/>) which advances diversity and inclusive excellence by encouraging the recruitment, retention and promotion of outstanding scholars from different backgrounds, including individuals from groups that have been historically underrepresented in higher education.

Our goal is to develop top-tier candidates who may have the opportunity to remain at Binghamton University in a tenure track capacity when their postdoctoral work is completed. Harpur College of Arts & Sciences has fulfilled this commitment, with a track record of four tenure-track assistant professor appointments from the PDPF cohort over the past two years.

Two fellowship appointments will be made in Harpur College of Arts & Sciences for the 2022-23 academic year in two of the following areas: Africana Studies, Anthropology, Art History, Cinema, Comparative Literature, Geography, Music, Political Science, Romance Languages and Literatures, and Theatre. The college is particularly, but not exclusively, interested in scholars who can contribute to interdisciplinary programs in Digital and Data Studies (<https://www.binghamton.edu/harpur/undergraduate/digital-data.html>) and Global Public Health (degree program currently under development). Binghamton merges rigorous academics, distinguished faculty and state-of-the-art facilities to engage and challenge its 18,000 students. The high-achieving Binghamton student body also represents a great diversity of life experiences, from first-generation college-goers to international students. Beyond their talent, these classmates share a desire to shape the future through technology, insight, intellectual exploration and community service.

Job Description:

Salary: $62,000

Fellows are appointed with the title of Postdoctoral Associate and will receive the annual salary, along with a New York State comprehensive benefits package. Each fellowship appointment is a non-renewable two-year contract. There will be a research allowance that may be used in support of scholarly expenses and conference travel to disseminate research findings. There will be a moving expenses allowance.

Responsibilities:

The fellows are expected to conduct original research, publish scholarly work, and/or engage in creative activities, as appropriate to the department wherein they will be appointed, and to teach or co-teach one or more courses per year as the instructor of record.

Fellows will receive formal mentoring, as well as constructive feedback throughout the appointment in an effort to improve their candidacy for a tenure track appointment.

Requirements:

- Applicant must receive a doctoral degree in a relevant field prior to the appointment. The expected start date is September 1, 2022, but candidates may be considered for a January 1, 2023 appointment.
- Commitment to improving campus diversity and the campus climate.
- Applicant must be authorized to work in the United States at the time of appointment. Visa sponsorship is not available.

Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer

The State University of New York is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer.

Application Instructions:

Review of applications will begin on March 21, 2022 and continue until the positions have been filled.

Persons interested in this position should apply online: <https://binghamton.interviewexchange.com/jobofferdetails.jsp?JOBID=142780>

Please submit:

1. Cover letter that describes your research and teaching interests.

This letter should identify the department (Africana Studies, Anthropology, Art History, Cinema, Comparative Literature, Geography, Music, Political Science, Romance Languages and Literatures, or Theatre) that aligns with your research and teaching commitments, along with titles/rubrics of two or three possible courses that you are qualified to teach in that area,

2. CV (curriculum vitae),
3. Names and contact information of three references. References will be contacted at a later stage in the screening process and only for candidates that are under serious consideration,

4. Letter describing how your appointment would contribute to enhancing the diversity and climate of the department, Harpur College, and Binghamton University.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 2/17/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10111

OTHER

University of Chicago

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professors

The University of Chicago Crown School of Social Work, Policy and Practice (Crown Family School) invites applications for tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professors with specialization in the area of policy and programs that aim to improve the well-being of low-income individuals and families.

We have opportunities for scholars in two distinct areas:

1) Policy analysis: Candidates for this position will have expertise in assessing policy outcomes in areas that may include—but are not limited to—poverty and income assistance, employment and work, child, family, and caregiving, housing, social determinants of health, or neighborhood and urban policies. Successful candidates will have advanced quantitative skills and experience working with large data sets, including surveys, administrative records, and/or other types of secondary data. We also welcome applicants who specialize in research using mixed methods, simulation, longitudinal, and multi-level designs.

2) Policy implementation, frontline practice, and/or community-oriented approaches: Candidates for this position might investigate issues such as how policies are experienced by participants and/or delivered by workers; policy and program innovation at the state, local, or community level; or mutual aid and grassroots approaches. Examples of areas of interest may include—but are not limited to—studies of street level bureaucracy, governance, administrative burdens, racialization in the policy process, or community-led alternatives. This position is open to diverse methodological approaches.

Successful candidates for both positions will engage in scholarship that is theoretically and empirically driven, innovative, and has clear implications for practice or policy. We encourage applications from scholars who think critically about the policies and programs they study, recognizing the larger structures of oppression within which they are embedded. Teaching and mentoring is expected at all levels but primarily at the graduate level. The anticipated start date is July 1, 2023, or after.

Applicants must possess a doctorate (or have a doctorate by the date of appointment) in social work, public policy/administration, sociology, public health, political science, economics, or a related field. Applicants should submit a cover letter, a Curriculum Vita, a statement that outlines research and teaching interests, and two writing samples that best represent the applicant's approach (applicants at the dissertation stage should include part or all of their dissertation for one of these). Contact information for at least three references should also be included; references will be contacted after an initial review of submitted materials and candidates will be notified prior to contact. Consideration of applications will begin on September 6, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled or the search is closed; early submission is encouraged.

Please apply online at the Academic Recruitment web page at the University of Chicago website. Please use the following links to apply. Policy analysis position: <http://apply.interfolio.com/110676>

Policy implementation position: <http://apply.interfolio.com/110677>

The Crown Family School builds upon a legacy of more than a century of scholarship, education and leadership in social work and social welfare, blending a distinctive interdisciplinary tradition with applied problem solving to foster innovative solutions to some of society's most pressing social problems. For more information about the Crown School, please visit our website at: <https://crownschool.uchicago.edu/>.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-702-1032 or email equalopportunity@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/2/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10582

University of Pennsylvania, Wharton School

Rank: Full-Time Tenure Track - Assistant, Associate or Full Professor

The Management Department of the Wharton School is seeking applicants for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at any level: Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor in the areas of:

- Entrepreneurial Management
- Human Resource Management

- Multinational /Comparative Management
- Organizational Behavior
- Organizational Theory
- Strategy

Demonstrated ability or potential for high quality research and teaching are important. Applicants must have a Ph.D. (expected completion by June 30, 2024 is acceptable) from an accredited institution.

The appointment is expected to begin July 1, 2023.

Interested individuals should complete and submit our online application via our secure website, and must include:

- A cover letter (indicating the areas for which you wish to be considered)
- Curriculum vitae
- 3 Letters of Recommendation
- Job Market Paper and Abstract

To apply please visit: <http://apply.interfolio.com/109290>

Recruitment Committee review of applications will begin on September 1, 2022. Candidates are strongly encouraged to have their completed application submitted by that date for full consideration.

If you have any questions please contact the Management Department Recruitment Coordinator at: mgmt-recruitment@wharton.u-penn.edu.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10573

University of Western Ontario

Rank: Urban Sociology

Specializations: Urban Politics, Race & Ethnic Politics, Social Welfare

ACADEMIC VACANCY

PROBATIONARY (TENURE-TRACK) ASSISTANT PROFESSOR

URBAN SOCIOLOGY, DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

Building on our strengths in Social Inequality, Population Dynamics, and Quantitative Methods, the Department of Sociology at Western University (www.sociology.uwo.ca) invites applications for a probationary tenure-track Assistant Professor faculty position in Urban Sociology. The starting date for this appointment is July 1, 2023, or as negotiated.

The Department is seeking a talented scholar with expertise in Urban Sociology. The candidate's particular substantive research interests may vary, but preference will be given to those with demonstrated knowledge and expertise in any of the following areas: race and ethnicity, housing affordability, social change, wellbeing, spatial analysis, and/or municipal policy.

To be considered for this appointment, applicants must have a PhD in Sociology or related discipline completed by the start date of the appointment. They should also provide evidence of research excellence through a record of internationally recognized publication in the discipline's leading journals. They likewise should provide evidence that they have, or have the potential to develop, the capacity to conduct innovative externally funded research projects that complement the Department's core research areas. The candidate must also demonstrate the ability to teach at both the undergraduate and graduate university levels, and have excellent oral and written communication skills. The candidate should also demonstrate the ability to collaborate and contribute to the department research and teaching in a collegial manner.

Western University is a top-ranked research-intensive university located in London, Ontario which is two hours from Toronto and Detroit. Situated in the Faculty of Social Science, the Department of Sociology offers full programs for undergraduate, MA, and PhD students. The University is experiencing a period of significant growth and renewal and combines research and academic excellence with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth in order to serve our communities.

Applications must include the following: (1) Application for Full-Time Faculty Position form <http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf>, (2) a cover letter, (3) C.V., (4) Research statement, no more than three pages (5) Teaching and Mentoring Philosophy, no more than three pages, and (6) Names, addresses, phone numbers, and email addresses for three referees. All application materials should be emailed to: Professor Howard Ramos, Department of Sociology, Western University, London, Ontario, Canada, N6A 5C2, email: sociology-chair@uwo.ca.

The deadline for receipt of applications is August 31, 2022, or until position is filled.

Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's COVID-19 Vaccination Policy. Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups, Indigenous peoples, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Gayle Finlay, gfinlay4@uwo.ca, and/or 519-661-4028.

Posted on Faculty Relations website July 14, 2022

Posting number: #2022-067

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 8/31/2022

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10538

Bates College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Politics

The Department of Politics at Bates College invites applications for a tenure-track position focusing on racial and ethnic politics in the US. We are open to and encourage a variety of methodological approaches and paths to scholarly and teaching excellence in this field. Applicants should show a strong commitment to excellence in undergraduate teaching, to scholarly research, and to the implementation of inclusive pedagogies. The position would start on August 1, 2023. Faculty members teach five courses per year as well as advise individual senior theses.

The college and the department are committed to enhancing the diversity and inclusivity of the campus community and the curriculum. Candidates who can contribute to this goal and identify their strengths and experiences in this area are encouraged to apply. Consideration of applications will begin September 19, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Qualifications

Candidates should have PhD in hand or close to completion in Political Science or related field.

Application Instructions

Review of applications begins September 19, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. Applicants should submit the following: (1) a letter of application, (2) curriculum vita, (3) pedagogy statement, (4) research statement, (5) statement on how attention to inclusion and equity informs your teaching and research, (6) writing sample, (7) graduate transcripts, and (8) three letters of recommendation.

Employment is contingent upon successful completion of a background check.

APPLY HERE: <https://www.bates.edu/employment/opportunities/?job=492558>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/23/2022

Date Posted: 7/28/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10556

Naval War College

Rank: Assistant/Associate Professor, War Gaming Department

Specializations: Defense, Research Methods, International Security

The Naval War College is a Professional Military Education (PME) institution serving the nation, the Department of Defense, and the U.S. Navy. U.S. and selected international graduates earn Master of Arts degrees in National Security & Strategic Studies or Defense & Strategic Studies accredited by the New England Commission of Higher Education. The College educates and develops future leaders through the development of strategic perspective, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, as well as enhancing the capability to advise senior leaders and policy makers. The College also helps to define the future Navy and its roles and missions; supports combat readiness; strengthens global maritime partnerships; and promotes ethics and leadership throughout the force. We are actively seeking candidates with diverse academic, demographic, and professional backgrounds. More information on the college can be found at www.usnwc.edu.

War Gaming Department. The War Gaming Department (WGD) conducts research, analysis and gaming to support the requirements of the Secretary of the Navy (SECNAV), the Chief of Naval Operations (CNO), the combatant commanders, the Navy component commanders, the Navy numbered fleet commanders, other Navy and Marine Corps commanders, the U.S. intelligence community and other departments and agencies of the U.S. Government. The desired effect is a program of focused, forward-thinking, timely and relevant research, analysis and gaming that anticipates future operational and strategic challenges; develops and assesses strategic and operational concepts to address those challenges; and assesses the risk associated with these concepts. You can learn more about the WGD at our webpage: <https://usnwc.edu/Research-and-Wargaming/Wargaming>.

Responsibilities. Specific responsibilities include: working in teams to manage data, interpret game designs, and develop player interfaces and game tools to develop research, analysis, and gaming to assess challenges with respect to the Navy and the Nation; conducting focused research, analysis, and gaming to help define future Navy challenges within the maritime domain at the operational level-of-war and to support development of concepts of operations and innovation in the employment of operational and functional capabilities; assisting in the development of the Nation's security, defense and national military strategies and the Navy's future maritime strategy; and providing warfare innovation, analysis and decision support capabilities to support senior Navy leadership and other national security decision-makers on a wide range of operational and strategic challenges. The incumbent will be expected to have the academic, educational, and experiential background relevant to developing war games that examine strategic, operational, and tactical warfare concepts.

Qualifications. Qualified applicants must have an advanced degree from an accredited university. A Master's Degree is required; a Ph.D. is preferred. Significant experience in designing and executing analytical projects, and integrating multiple research efforts is also required. Desirable qualifications include knowledge of military organization and experience on research teams or war gaming, in support of analyzing or planning armed conflict. Proficiency in using relational databases, creating SQL queries, and geographic information systems, to include proficiency in software such as Python, R, Stata, Excel, and Access in support of extracting and formatting data to generate reports is also preferred.

Candidates must be U.S. citizens capable of obtaining a Department of Defense security clearance at the TOP SECRET/SCI level. The selected candidate will be subject to a pre-employment drug screening test and random drug testing thereafter. Any current or prior military service should be described including assignments, positions held, highest rank attained, and dates of service.

Salary Considerations. Rank and salary commensurate in accordance with the Department of the Navy Faculty Schedule. This compensation package is accompanied by a generous federal employee benefits package that includes health insurance with employer contribution, retirement savings plan, paid vacation and sick leave, and other benefits. Career track determination (tenure, non-tenure) commensurate with experience and credentials.

Application Process. Applicants must reference VA#NWC-22-20 and submit their application package to: NWC-22-20@usnwc.edu. The application package must include: (1) cover letter; (2) curriculum vitae or resume; and (3) names and contact information for three references. Applications will be accepted through 11:59 pm (EST) September 14, 2022.

Questions about this position should be directed via email to CAPT Quintin James, USN, Deputy Chair, War Gaming Department, at quintin.james@usnwc.edu.

To ensure compliance with an applicable preliminary nationwide injunction, which may be supplemented, modified, or vacated, depending on the course of ongoing litigation, the Federal Government will take no action to implement or enforce the COVID-19 vaccination requirement Safer Federal Workforce Task Force 2 pursuant to Executive Order 14043 on Requiring Coronavirus Disease

2019 Vaccination for Federal Employees. Therefore, to the extent a Federal job announcement includes the requirement that applicants must be fully vaccinated against COVID-19 pursuant to Executive Order 14043, that requirement does not currently apply. Federal agencies may request information regarding the vaccination status of selected applicants for the purposes of implementing other workplace safety protocols, such as protocols related to masking, physical distancing, testing, travel, and quarantine.

NOTICE OF VETERANS PREFERENCE: There is no formal rating system for applying veterans' preference to the excepted service; however, the Department of Defense considers veterans' preference eligibility a positive factor for hiring. Applicants eligible for veterans' preference must include that information in their cover letter or resume and attach supporting documentation (e.g., DD Form 214, "Certificate of Release or Discharge from Active Duty" to their submissions. Although the point-preference system is not used, applicants eligible to claim 10-Point preference must submit a Standard Form (SF) 15, "Application for 10-Point Veteran Preference," and supporting documents required for specific type of preference claimed. (SF 15, which lists the types of 10-Point Preference and the required supporting documents, is available from the Office of Personnel Management Website at www.opm.gov.)

Within the Department of Defense (DoD), the appointment of retired military members within 180 days immediately following retirement dated to a civilian position is subject to the provisions of 5 United States Code 3326.

The Naval War College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/14/2022

Date Posted: 7/28/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10558

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer, Security and Intelligence

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: Intelligence, Defense, Foreign Policy

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/110586>

Location:

Washington, DC

Description:

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of Assistant Program Director in the area of Security and Intelligence. This position will support the MA in Global Security Studies (primary), MS in Intelligence Analysis, and MS in Geospatial Intelligence programs in the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, within the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs Division. Reporting to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies and Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, the Assistant Program Director will contribute to the excellence of the programs and will demonstrate and support ongoing innovation in the curriculums. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online, at its Washington, DC Center, and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 45-degree programs.

AAP was started in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of nearly 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as Program Chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the KSAS Dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position:

AAP's programs in security and intelligence prepare students for positions in foreign affairs, national security and the intelligence community. Students learn how to confront the complexities of today's security environment with the latest policy and theoretical tools for analysis and action. The programs' courses are designed to maximize individual attention, encourage student contribution, build analytical skills, and provide the tools for engaging in original research. With an ever-growing and diverse student body, the programs are continually expanding and enhancing their course offerings to meet both academic and practitioner needs. Currently, the programs serve nearly 400 students both onsite and online, including a growing number of international students.

In both academic and administrative roles, the Assistant Program Director supports the curriculums, students, and adjunct faculty. The Assistant Program Director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Program Directors and other faculty within the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, as well as across other AAP programs, including the Energy Policy and Climate and Environmental Sciences and Policy programs.

The Assistant Program Director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer, commensurate with experience. The Assistant Program Director reports to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, who consults with the Program Chair on academic matters, and to the Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, who leads the Advanced Academic Programs and reports to the Dean of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences.

The Assistant Program Director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities:

Teach 6 graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both on-site in the Washington, DC Center and online), using best practices for teaching, engaging, and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, and responding to student questions

Advise students, including both program and research advising

Provide input on the curriculums and new course development to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs

Other academic duties normally performed by full-time or regular part-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, or contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities:

Assist with the management of degree concentrations or areas of focus

Participate in the adjunct faculty hiring and development processes

Assist the Program Directors with administrative tasks, such as planning events and reviewing admission materials

Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications:

The Assistant Program Director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The Assistant Program Director must have passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for international, part-time, and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in political science, international affairs, security studies, intelligence, or other field relevant to the interdisciplinary nature of global security studies; other terminal degrees in these or related fields may be considered

- 1-3 years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level

- The ability to teach a variety of courses in the global security fields, including research-focused courses

- Strong organizational skills

- Excellent oral and written communication skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level

- 1-3 years of work experience related professional work experience outside of academia, including but not limited to, government service, outside consulting, or collaborative work within fields related to security studies and intelligence

- Experience managing a degree or certificate program

- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design

- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions:

For consideration; interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/110586>):

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position
- CV
- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10548

University of California, Irvine

Rank: ASSOCIATE TO FULL PROFESSOR, CRIMINOLOGY, LAW AND SOCIETY

ASSOCIATE TO FULL PROFESSOR, CRIMINOLOGY, LAW AND SOCIETY

The Department of Criminology, Law and Society (CLS) at the University of California, Irvine invites applications for a faculty position in CLS. We welcome applications from outstanding candidates in all fields, who will build on our departmental strengths in theory, research, and policy analysis. We are interested in candidates whose research interests and expertise: 1) address the problem of systemic racism and other negative impacts of the justice system; 2) explore the limits of criminal and civil justice systems as methods of dispute resolution; and/or 3) provide empirical and theoretical insights into the core challenges of providing equal justice in formal legal systems or through alternative means. We have a particular interest in candidates doing work that addresses anti-Blackness in substantive areas relevant to CLS.

The appointment will be made at the Associate or Full Professor rank (with tenure); we also welcome applications from current Advanced Assistant Professors who would be eligible for tenure in the University of California at the time of appointment. To ensure your application is given full consideration, files should be completed by October 17, 2022. Priority will be given to applications received by that date; however, applications will be accepted until the position is filled. The position will begin July 1, 2023 (teaching duties will begin Fall 2023). Applications must be uploaded electronically through the on-line Recruit system:

<https://recruit.ap.uci.edu/JPF07628>

Candidates should submit a letter of interest, a curriculum vitae, statements of research and teaching interests, representative publications, and provide names and contact information for three professional references. Letters of recommendation will only be requested for candidates under serious consideration. A separate statement that addresses past and/or potential contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion (e.g. mentoring activities, committee service, research or teaching activities) is also required. Evidence of success in securing extramural funding to support research and graduate students is desired.

Please direct questions about this position to the chair of the search committee, Professor Charis Kubrin (ckubrin@uci.edu).

The University of California, Irvine is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer advancing inclusive excellence. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age, protected veteran status, or other protected categories covered by the UC nondiscrimination policy.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/17/2022
Date Posted: 7/25/2022
Salary: Negotiable
eJobs ID: 10533

APSA

Rank: STAFF ACCOUNTANT I

AMERICAN POLITICAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATION (APSA)
 POSITION ANNOUNCEMENT

https://workforcenow.adp.com/mascsr/default/mdf/recruitment/recruitment.html?cid=14a57c82-310e-42e3-8cc8-6b9883f0d8a9&ccId=19000101_000001&lang=en_US&selectedMenuKey=CareerCenterSTAFF_ACCOUNTANT_I

The American Political Science Association (APSA) seeks a candidate to fill a full-time non-exempt position in its Finance department. The Staff Accountant I supports the Finance Team in carrying out the responsibilities of accounts payables, section accounting and reporting, credit card transactions, AP reconciliations and helping with monthly closing.

ESSENTIAL RESPONSIBILITIES

Accounts Payables:

APSA:

- Collect payment requests, review supporting documents and budget accounts, and make sure all requests are approved by department supervisors before being processed.
- Collect credit card receipts and review monthly transactions of APSA business credit cards. Contact department supervisors about budget accounts to make sure each transaction is recorded correctly.
- When required, issuance of purchase orders to appropriate vendor.
- Maintains all form W-9 Files for outside vendors - individuals and organizations.

APSA Organized Section:

- Review and process all section payment requests weekly and ensure section expenses are properly recorded for reporting purpose.
- Email Organized Section Treasurers requesting approval of all invoices and payments and efficiently resolve any related issues
- Properly and timely file email requests and supporting documents (Invoice, Receipt, W-9/W-8 forms)received for section and forward to Section Liaison/membership Director for review.

General Ledger:

- Prepare all Organized Section financial reports by the 15th, monthly.
- Assist in the monthly closing
- Conduct Reconciliations of AP accounts and maintain AP aging schedule.
- Assist in fulfilling requests during Annual Audit.
- Prepare the annual DC Retail Income and Expense reports for buildings 1828 18th Street NW and 1527 New Hampshire Avenue NW.

Other responsibilities:

- All other responsibilities as required.

ESSENTIAL SKILLS & EXPERIENCE

- Bachelor’s degree required. Degree in accounting or equivalent preferred.
- Thorough understanding of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP). Knowledge of Statutory accounting principles.
- Strong analytical and accounting skills.
- Intermediate to advanced experience with MS Word, MS Excel (Pivot tables) and MS Outlook.
- Intermediate to advanced knowledge of major accounting software packages for both general ledger and statutory accounting. Knowledge of Sage/Intaact and membership databases preferred.
- Must be able to effectively handle multiple projects simultaneously in a deadline driven environment.
- Excellent verbal, written communication, and interpersonal skills.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team and take on new tasks with high level of difficulty.
- The individual will be expected to work with minimal up-front guidance and take ownership of his / her work product.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/18/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10503

Saint Catherine University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Economics & Political Science

Position Title: Assistant Professor - Economics & Political Science

Job Summary

The Department of Economics and Political Science at St. Catherine University invites applications for a Visiting Assistant Professor of Economics or Public Policy. It is scheduled to begin in the Fall term of 2022.

The undergraduate college at St. Catherine is one of only six US institutions that is both a women’s college and a minority serving institution. Based in the Twin Cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis, Minnesota, St. Kate’s is home to a diverse group of nearly 5,000 students in a wide array of disciplines and degree levels. The Economics and Political Science Department contributes to a wide array of majors, including Economics, Financial Economics, International Business and Economics, International Studies, Political Science, Public Policy, Women and International Development, and a Non-Profit Studies minor. The department also houses the Minnesota Center for Diversity in Economics and is committed to gender and racial diversity at every stage of the educational and career pipeline. Responsibilities:

- Teach the equivalent of six undergraduate courses during the academic year.
- Teach courses on public policy and game theory and other courses to be determined based on expertise and department needs

- Communicate respectfully and build relationships of trust with people of all cultures and abilities, affirming the worth and preserving the dignity of individuals, families, and communities
- Monitor and assess student-learning outcomes and provide timely and frequent feedback to students on academic performance

St. Catherine University in St. Paul/Minneapolis, Minnesota, is a comprehensive Catholic university and home to one of the nation's largest colleges for women, with associate and graduate programs for both women and men. Founded by the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet in 1905, the University integrates liberal arts and professional education within the Catholic traditions of intellectual inquiry and social teaching. Committed to excellence and opportunity, St. Catherine enrolls nearly 5,000 students in certificate, associate, baccalaureate, master's and doctoral programs in traditional day and evening/weekend/online formats.

Minimum Qualifications

- ABD in Economics, Political Science, Public Policy or a related field
- One year relevant teaching experience
- Demonstrated success with teaching diverse students

Preferred Qualifications

PhD in Public Policy or a related field
 Three years relevant teaching experience
 Teaching experience in Public Policy, Statistics, and/or Game Theory Mentoring undergraduate students

We seek creative, adaptable staff who enjoy working in a university climate that promotes cultural diversity, multicultural understanding, and cultural fluency. Consistent with the university's commitment to women, diversity and social justice, preference will be given to candidates who manifest these themes in their experience and service.

EEO Statement

St. Catherine University is an equal opportunity employer. Our commitment to inclusion reflects the central value of the Sisters of St. Joseph of Carondelet to "love of neighbor without distinction" and provides a learning and working environment that is enriched by the diversity of all our members. Individuals of religious, racial, ethnic, gender identity, nation of origin, or disability groups that have traditionally had less representation in higher education are encouraged to apply. Should you need an interview accommodation please contact us at hr@stkate.edu or 651-690-6565.

Application instructions

Visit St. Kate Careers to apply. Three references and successful completion of a background check will be required for employment.

Given the way campus life inherently puts people in close proximity to each other, including residence and dining halls, classrooms, and gatherings, the University has determined that a vaccination requirement is the best way to keep our community safe and prevent potential outbreaks as we return to more regular, in-person operations. St. Catherine University is requiring all students, faculty (including adjuncts contracted for the fall semester and beyond), staff, and residents age 12 and older to complete their COVID-19 vaccination series, including a booster, unless the University approves a medical or religious accommodation or other accommodation/exemption as required by applicable law. New employees must submit vaccination documentation or be approved for an exemption/accommodation before beginning work. For more information, visit stkate.edu/coronavirus-info/vaccine.

St. Catherine University
 2004 Randolph Avenue, St. Paul, MN 55105
 Equal Opportunity Employer / Drug Free Workplace / Tobacco Free Workplace

Our university is a proud member of the Upper Midwest HERC and is committed to recruiting and retaining outstanding and diverse faculty and staff and assisting dual career couples. For more information and to find other higher education jobs in the Upper Midwest region, visit: www.uppermidwestherc.org.

Start Date:

Date Posted: 7/15/2022

Salary: $30,000 - $39,999

eJobs ID: 10500

Massachusetts Institute of Technology

Rank: Tenure-track faculty positions - Work & Organization Studies

The Work and Organization Studies (WOS) group at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) Sloan School has openings for tenure track faculty members to start July 1, 2023, or soon thereafter, as possible, whose teaching and research focus on work, employment, and organizational issues. The rank is open and both junior and senior candidates at the Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, and Full Professor levels will be considered.

Faculty responsibilities include teaching courses and conducting research related to Work and Organization Studies. WOS has current teaching needs in courses on organizational processes, power and influence, as well as courses on work and employment issues.

WOS builds on the traditions of Organization Studies and the Institute for Work and Employment Research and has Ph.D. programs in both areas. The WOS faculty is interdisciplinary.

At the Assistant Professor level, candidates must possess, or be close to completion of, a Ph.D. in a field related to Work and Organization Studies, such as Sociology, Organizational Behavior, Industrial Relations, Social Psychology, Political Science, or Economics, at the start of employment. At the Associate Professor and Full Professor levels, a Ph.D. and demonstrated research experience is required.

WOS Research styles may include quantitative, ethnographic, field based, and/or lab based. (For more information about our group, go to: <https://mitsloan.mit.edu/faculty/academic-groups/work-and-organization-studies/about-us>).

The WOS group is part of the Behavioral and Policy Sciences Area, one of three major academic areas at Sloan. We encourage multidisciplinary work with colleagues in other parts of the School, and several members of the group are also members of other groups/units in the School (Communication; Economic Sociology; Technological Innovation, Entrepreneurship, and Strategy Management; System Dynamics; Global Economics and Management; and Information Technology).

Please submit applications electronically at <http://apply.interfolio.com/109621> providing a cover letter outlining interests and experience, a current CV, and one or two papers that indicate your research focus and capabilities. Applicants should also arrange for three letters of recommendation to be submitted via this link. Applications will be reviewed as received but are due no later than September 2, 2022.

MIT is an equal opportunity employer committed to building a culturally diverse and pluralistic intellectual community and strongly encourages applications from women and minorities.

Questions should be addressed to SloanSearchMaster@mit.edu

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/2/2022

Date Posted: 7/13/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10479

Princeton University

Rank: Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Research Associate in Bioethics

The Princeton University Center for Human Values invites applications for the Harold T. Shapiro Postdoctoral Fellowship in Bioethics for a position starting in September 2023. The Shapiro Fellowship supports outstanding scholars studying ethical issues rising from developments in medicine, the biological sciences, or population health. We particularly encourage proposals focusing on problems of practical importance that have broader theoretical interest.

The Shapiro Fellow will spend from one to three years at Princeton conducting research and teaching the equivalent of one course each year (subject to sufficient enrollments and approval by the Dean of the Faculty). They will participate in the Ira W. DeCamp Seminar in Bioethics and will be invited to participate in other activities of the University Center for Human Values including a year-long research seminar for visiting fellows and Center faculty.

Qualifications

Applications welcome from candidates who have or expect to have a Ph.D., M.D., or other equivalent doctoral degree by the start, normally beginning September 1, 2023. Applicants should not have more than two years of postdoctoral experience by the date of appointment. An applicant may have a background in any area of ethical studies, not necessarily in bioethics. However, the proposed research plan should be related to the field of bioethics.

Applications will be evaluated on the basis of the applicant's previous accomplishments and the promise of the proposed research project in bioethics. The capacity to contribute to the University's teaching program will also be considered.

Term of Appointment

The term of the fellowship is one year, normally beginning September 1, 2023, with the possibility of renewal for up to two additional years pending satisfactory performance. Appointment will be made to the rank of Postdoctoral Research Associate; the Shapiro Fellow will also carry the title of Lecturer, if teaching. Princeton University offers a competitive salary and employee benefits.

How to Apply

Candidates must submit an online application at

<https://puwebp.princeton.edu/AcadHire/apply/application.xhtml?listingId=26382>

A complete application will include the following supporting materials:

1. A curriculum vitae;
2. A research proposal (not to exceed 1,500 words). Please provide an indicative title in the heading;
3. A scholarly paper (of no more than 12,000 words, not including bibliography) representing the applicant's scholarly achievement or potential;
4. Contact information for two referees, who should be prepared to comment specifically about the applicant's qualifications for the proposed research project. Referees will be contacted directly with instructions for uploading letters of reference.

These materials must be submitted online by the application deadline of Monday, November 14, 2022, 11:59 p.m. EST. We do not accept application materials by any other method. Letters of reference should be submitted by Monday, November 21, 2022. The selection committee will begin reviewing applications immediately so letters of reference received after the priority deadline may put candidates at a disadvantage.

Decisions will be announced in late March 2023. This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Princeton University is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10464

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: P3 Lab Postdoctoral Fellow

P3 Lab Postdoctoral Fellow

The P3 Lab at Johns Hopkins University is seeking to hire a qualified a Postdoctoral Fellow to work with Faculty Director, Professor Hahrie Han, and Lab Director, Jane Booth-Tobin, on a range of studies focused on social movements and community organizing, particularly within race-class subjugated communities. The Postdoctoral Fellow will be hired for a yearlong term beginning no earlier than September 2022.

The position requires someone with a strong background in social science research grounded in the study of collective action and social movements. Post-docs must be excellent writers, capable with quantitative data analysis, and have experience with qualitative fieldwork. Applicants should have a PhD in a relevant social science field from an accredited institution and a record of being an outstanding scholar. Postdoctoral Fellows will be exempt from teaching and service duties and will devote their full-time effort to working on research. The expectation is that the fellow's time will be divided between working on a P3 research project and building out their own research.

Lab Description

At P3, we envision a world where people's participation in public life is possible, probable, and powerful: people across race and class have to be able to participate, they have to want to participate, and their participation has to matter. Realizing this vision necessitates designing a new civic architecture that enables people to engage in public life in ways that are grounded in their own experience, connected to one another, and organized through vehicles of collective action that give people ownership over the ongoing process of systemic struggle and change.

We are a multi-disciplinary research lab based at the SNF Agora Institute at Johns Hopkins University committed to learning and shared inquiry that meets the twin goals of relevance and rigor while helping to realize our vision. Our work simultaneously pushes the frontiers of strategic thinking in organizing and knowledge-building in academic scholarship.

Learn more about our work on our website: https://www.p3researchlab.org/mission_vision

Responsibilities

The Postdoctoral Fellow will be responsible for:

- Leading a to-be-determined project that is likely to include the following:
 - o Coordinating communities and researchers to develop a study that bridges practitioner and scholarly goals
 - o Developing a research team that supports cross-generational learning in the lab
 - o Conducting a literature review
 - o Conducting data collection and analysis
 - o Writing up results in both academic and practitioner-friendly formats
- Actively engaging in the P3 scholarly community by attending regular lab meetings and collaborating with fellow lab members on their projects.

Term of Appointment

The term of appointment is for 12 months, beginning no sooner than September 2022. Applicants will receive a small research budget that they can use at their discretion. Applicants can work remotely from anywhere in the United States, but must be willing to travel regularly to meet the P3 team. John Hopkins University offers a competitive salary and employee benefits.

Qualifications:

- Ph.D. degree in political science, sociology, or related areas by the start of the appointment
- Outstanding mixed-methods research and writing skills
- Experience working with constituency-based organizations either as a researcher or as a community organizer
- An understanding of or a desire to learn about the field of constituency-based organizations and social movements in the United States, as well as the ecosystems of funders, political parties, etc. they operate within
- Strong organizational skills and ability to simultaneously manage multiple large-scale projects
- Experience and interest in convening and managing events for diverse stakeholders (e.g., conferences, symposia, workshops)
- Commitment to the P3 Lab Mission
- Excellent communication skills
- Ability to work independently and in teams

In addition to the qualifications above, theoretical and empirical familiarity with the field of civic data, movement building, and aspects of computational social science; experience in statistical and spatial data analysis and data visualization; and/or advanced programming in R, STATA, or another statistical package would be valued.

Application Instructions

To apply, please submit your application at: <http://apply.interfolio.com/109351> and include the following materials:

1. Letter of application that includes:
 - a. a description of what you are hoping to get out of a fellowship with P3 and how it fits into your own scholarship
 - b. your understanding of what community organizing is, why it matters, and how it relates to your own research
2. A two-to-five page research statement detailing your substantive and methodological research experience
3. Curriculum vitae
4. A representative manuscript or publication (please note that to the extent possible, this should be a single-authored piece. Excellent writing skills are a must and we would like to be able to review people's writing style)
5. Three names of references at the time of the application.

Application review will begin 7/5/2022, but the position will remain open to accept additional applications until the position filled. Inquiries may be sent electronically to Jane Booth-Tobin, P3 Lab Director (jboothtobin@jhu.edu)

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/5/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10461

Ethics Institute at Dartmouth College

Rank: Burt Dorsett '53 Postdoctoral Fellow in Ethics,

The Ethics Institute at Dartmouth College invites applications for the Burt Dorsett '53 postdoctoral fellow in ethics. The Dorsett fellowship program supports new scholars whose research addresses questions of ethics from a range of perspectives in moral philosophy, political philosophy, applied ethics, professional ethics or philosophy of law.

This is a two-year residential fellowship program. For the duration of the fellowship, Dorsett fellows are expected to pursue independent research while participating in the intellectual life of the Ethics Institute. This includes participating in the Institute's annual moral and political philosophy workshop where both junior and senior scholars come to campus to discuss new work in ethics. The Dorsett fellow will also participate in the Institute's annual student fellowship program by discussing their own research with our undergraduate fellows. The Dorsett fellow will also teach a course related to ethics in the second year. Fellows receive an annual stipend of approximately $57,960 plus benefits and an allocation for research expenses (exact funding levels will be set at the time of offer).

The fellow will also join the broader community of postdoctoral research fellows that includes the Provost's Fellowship Program, Dartmouth Society of Fellows, the John Sloan Dickey Fellows, the Neukom Institute Fellows, the Rockefeller Center Fellows, the Quantitative Social Sciences Fellows, and the Mellon Postdoctoral Fellows in the Humanities and Humanistic Social Sciences.

Applicants should have a Ph.D. in Philosophy, Ethics, Political Science or a related discipline or be ABD with a Ph.D. expected before the start date of their appointment. Applicants will be selected on the basis of their academic achievement, promise in both research and teaching, and their demonstrated commitment to advancing the mission of the Ethics Institute.

Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in applicants who are able to work effectively with students, faculty, and staff from all backgrounds, including but not limited to: racial and ethnic minorities, women, individuals who identify with LGBTQ+ communities, individuals with disabilities, individuals from lower income backgrounds, and/or first generation college graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

To apply, submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, dissertation abstract, writing sample, and three confidential letters of recommendation to apply.interfolio.com/107477. To ensue full consideration by the search committee, applications should be submitted by November 1, 2022.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement

Dartmouth College is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer with a strong commitment to diversity and inclusion. We prohibit discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, disability, veteran status, marital status, or any other legally protected status. Applications by members of all underrepresented groups are encouraged.

Your offer is contingent upon your consent to a pre-employment background check with results acceptable under Dartmouth policy. https://www.dartmouth.edu/~hrs/pdfs/background_check_policy.pdf

For additional job openings at Dartmouth College, please see the Office of the Provost and Human Resources.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 11/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10445

University of Western Ontario

Rank: International/Comparative Politics

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Political Science – International/Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science, Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites applications for highly qualified applicants for a probationary (tenure-track) appointment in the area of International/Comparative politics, broadly defined, with a starting date of July 1, 2023 or as negotiated.

We seek individuals with a demonstrated commitment to excellence in research, teaching, and service who can help advance Western's Strategic Plan: <https://strategicplan.uwo.ca/>. In particular, we will favour candidates whose teaching and scholarship addresses one or more of: threats to democracy, environmental politics, sustainability, climate change, systemic racism, and/or socioeconomic inequality. The successful candidate could approach these issues from either the system- or individual-level. Western Political Science aims to be Canada's top destination for graduate training in empirical research methods. The ability to teach empirical research methods will be considered an asset.

To address Western's commitment to equity, diversity, inclusion, and decolonization, applicants who self-identify as a woman, Indigenous person, member of a racialized community, person with a disability, or who identify as 2SLGBTQ+ are encouraged to apply to this position.

Applications should include the following:

- 1) application form (<http://www.uwo.ca/facultyrelations/pdf/careers/Faculty/Application-FullTime-Faculty-Position-Form.pdf>),
- 2) cover letter that addresses how the candidate fits the position and the department, and includes a brief statement of how the candidate will contribute to our commitment to Equity, Diversity, Inclusion, and Decolonization.
- 3) curriculum vitae,
- 4) short statement of teaching and research interests,
- 5) copies of published or ongoing research as well as links to other papers,
- 6) names and contact information of three academic referees,

The deadline for receipt of applications is September 15th, 2022, or until the position is filled.

This material should be sent to: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Professor Matthew Lebo, Chair
Department of Political Science
Western University
Room 4154, Social Science Centre
London, Ontario, CANADA N6A 5C2
EMAIL: polisci-recruitment@uwo.ca

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's COVID-19 Vaccination Policy.

Since 1878, Western University has been committed to serving our communities through the pursuit of academic excellence and by providing students, faculty, and community members with life-long opportunities for intellectual, social, and cultural growth. We seek excellent students, faculty, and staff to join us in what has become known as the "Western Experience" – an opportunity to contribute to a better world through the development of new knowledge, new abilities, new connections, and new ways to make a difference.

Effective September 7, 2021, all employees and visitors to campus are required to comply with Western's Covid Vaccination Policy.

Positions are subject to budget approval. Applicants should have fluent written and oral communication skills in English. The University invites applications from all qualified individuals. Western is committed to employment equity and diversity in the workplace and welcomes applications from women, members of racialized groups/visible minorities, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of any sexual orientation, and persons of any gender identity or gender expression.

In accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, priority will be given to Canadian citizens and permanent residents. For any questions about the position or application please contact: matthew.lebo@uwo.ca.

Accommodations are available for applicants with disabilities throughout the recruitment process. If you require accommodations for interviews or other meetings, please contact Shannon Doyle, sdoyle3@uwo.ca .

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/20/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10425

Drexel

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow on Regulation of New Technology

Subfield(s): Other, Other, Other

Job Summary

The Drexel University Kline School of Law's Center for Law and Transformational Technology invites applications for a two-year postdoctoral fellow, beginning September 1, 2022, with an emphasis on sociotechnical research in the areas of law, regulation, and governance at the intersection of law and technology, and the development of new technologies. Applicants from all disciplines and methodological approaches are welcome to apply. The postdoctoral fellowship begins on Sept. 1, 2022, potentially can be extended to January 1, 2023. Center for Law and Transformational Technology was created in 2021 with a seed grant from the Green Family Foundation to bring together key stakeholders, including legal and technological scholars, industry leaders, activists, regulators, and other experts from across the country and the world. The Center supports concrete efforts to gauge the legal impact of transformational technology, promote critical conversations about the role of law in technological change and bring legal experts into interdisciplinary conversations with researchers and developers at all stages of design and development. Working across industries, the Center helps educate lawyers to play a positive role navigating a technological landscape we cannot yet imagine. By facilitating international and multi-disciplinary partnerships, the Center seeks to contribute to a future in which technology moves forward hand-in-hand with society.

The Fellow will also have the opportunity to collaborate with faculty and participate in workshops and symposia from across the University. Situated in the heart of Philadelphia, Kline Law and the Center for Law and Transformational Technology offer exciting opportunities to engage with the region's intellectual and innovation communities.

Essential Functions

The Fellow will work with law faculty and faculty in cognate disciplines who work with the Center. The Fellow is expected to conduct original research, teach at least one class each year (for JD students or undergraduates studying in the Law School's newly established B.A. in Law program), and support Center activities including symposia, outreach to scholars in varied disciplines, and a student research fellow program. The Fellow is expected to participate fully in the intellectual life of the Center and of Kline Law.

Required Qualifications

- PhD or Doctorate

- PhD in one of the social sciences, JD, or SJD
- No experience required

Preferred Qualifications

Applicants should have experience and an active scholarly agenda centering on the intersection of regulation, law and/or governance with respect to emerging technologies. Preference will be given to applicants who have published in this field.

Physical Demands

- Typically sitting at a desk/table

Location

University City – Philadelphia, PA

Additional Information

This position is classified as exempt with a salary grade of I. For more information regarding Drexel's Professional Staff salary structure, <https://drexel.edu/hr/career/ducomp/salstructure/>

Special Instructions to the Applicant

Please make sure you upload your CV/resume and cover letter when submitting your application.

Start Date: 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/8/2022

Salary: $40,000 - $49,999

eJobs ID: 10407

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Political Theory and/or Philosophy

Interfolio Title: Postdoctoral Fellow in Political Theory and/or Philosophy

Description

The Political Economy Project (PEP) at Dartmouth College seeks applications for a full-time one-year renewable postdoctoral fellowship with an anticipated start date of September 1, 2022. We seek qualified candidates who work on social/political philosophy, ethics, and/or history of political thought, all broadly construed. PEP is an interdisciplinary initiative focused on normative questions at the intersection of politics, economics, and philosophy. The majority of the fellow's time will be devoted to independent research. The fellow will teach two courses per year in either the Government or Philosophy Departments, at least one of which will be an introductory-level course related to political economy. The fellow is expected to attend and actively assist in planning PEP events and otherwise participate in PEP's intellectual life and the Government Department or Philosophy Department during the Fall, Winter, and Spring quarters. The selected candidate will hold an appointment as a Lecturer in either the Government Department or Philosophy Department and as a Postdoctoral Fellow in PEP. The initial appointment will be for one academic year, with the expectation of renewal for one further year assuming good performance. The fellow will also join the broader community of postdoctoral research fellows that includes the Dartmouth Society of Fellows, the John Sloan Dickey Fellows, the Neukom Institute Fellows, the Rockefeller Center Fellows, the Quantitative and Social Sciences Fellows, and the Mellon Postdoctoral Fellows in the Humanities and Humanistic Social Sciences. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in diverse applicants who can work effectively with an inclusive and diverse student body, faculty, and staff. Dartmouth is made up of individuals who identify as Black, Indigenous, and people of color (BIPOC), women, individuals who identify as LGBTQIA+, individuals with disabilities, veterans, individuals from lower-income backgrounds, and first-generation college students and graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter, or a separate statement, how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:

PhD or ABD in Political Science, Philosophy, or a closely related field.

Application Instructions:

1. Cover Letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. Writing Sample (chapter or article length)

Review of applications will begin on June 30, 2022 and continue until the position is filled. Start date will be negotiable, though September 1 is preferred.

Apply <http://apply.interfolio.com/107903>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/7/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10397

Hampden-Sydney College

Rank: Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): International Relations, Comparative Politics, Other

Specializations: International Law & Organizations, Latin American, Foreign Policy

Hampden-Sydney College invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor within the Department of Government and Foreign Affairs. Candidates should specialize in International Law and the U.S. Constitution and Foreign Affairs; additional subfields in Latin American politics and/or U.S. national security policy are highly desired. Candidates should be able to teach, as needed, Introduction to American Government and, particularly, introduction to World Politics. The ability to offer courses in Western Culture or political philosophy is a plus.

Hampden-Sydney College highly values the teacher/scholar model. Effective teaching, a commitment to scholarly productivity, willingness to engage in community service, and a dedication to student success, are all qualities required of a successful candidate. Teaching load for this position is seven courses per year.

Hampden-Sydney College is a selective liberal arts institution enrolling approximately 1000 students. Founded in 1775, it is the tenth oldest institution of higher learning in the United States. Our beautiful 1300-acre campus is less than 7 miles from downtown Farmville, home to Longwood University and the Moton Museum, which is listed on the U.S. Civil Rights Trail. The campus is located 65 miles west of Richmond, 50 miles east of Lynchburg, and 75 miles south of Charlottesville, providing abundant cultural, recreational and artistic resources. Hampden-Sydney is one of four liberal arts colleges in the United States dedicated to the education of men, and our mission is to educate "good men and good citizens in an atmosphere of sound learning." As a community, we are dedicated to the goal of building a culturally diverse faculty committed to working in a multicultural environment and strongly encourage applications from women and minoritized groups. Hampden-Sydney College values diversity, prohibits discrimination, and is committed to equal opportunity for all employees and applicants for employment.

To apply, please submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching philosophy, and three confidential reference letters via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/107980>. Applicants should have a Ph.D. in political science by the time of appointment.

Questions about this position may be addressed to Dr. John Eastby at jeastby@hsc.edu or Dr. Celia Carroll Jones at ccarroll@hsc.edu. Review of applications will begin immediately, and the position will remain open until filled.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10395

Western Carolina University

Rank: Instructor - Political Science & Public Affairs

The Department of Political Science and Public Affairs at Western Carolina University is searching for a 9-month fixed-term instructor in Political Science, International Studies, or related field. The successful candidate will contribute to the department by teaching eight courses per academic year, including introductory classes and upper-level courses within the candidate's area of specialization. A preference will be given to a candidate who can teach our undergraduate fundamentals of research methods two-course sequence. Competitive candidates will hold a doctorate in Political Science or a PhD in a related field from an accredited institution. Exceptional ABD candidates with a minimum of 18 credit hours in the academic field will also be considered. The position begins August 2022 and the salary is competitive. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled.

Western Carolina University is a 12,000-student campus in the University of North Carolina system that offers more than 120 areas of study for undergraduates and more than 50 graduate-level programs. WCU is committed to the Boyer model of scholarship, the stewardship of place, integrated learning, and engagement. The campus is located in a beautiful mountain setting between the Great Smoky and Blue Ridge mountains, 50 miles west of Asheville, North Carolina, and only minutes from Cherokee, NC and the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/22/2021

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 9906

POLITICAL THEORY

Hope College

Rank: Faculty Full Time

The Department of Political Science at Hope College invites applicants for a full-time tenure-track appointment to begin the Fall 2023. We seek candidates who are broadly trained in political theory; the ideal candidate would also be equipped to teach Introduction to American Politics and otherwise contribute to our course offerings in American politics. Candidates would also be expected to participate on a rotating basis in the leadership of our highly regarded Washington D.C. honors program. Rank is open, but preference will be given to hiring at the assistant professor level. The salary is commensurate with qualifications and experience.

<https://jobs.hope.edu/postings/1618>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10563

Southwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Southwestern University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning August 2023. The ideal candidate will hold a PhD in political science (ABD, with completion by August 2023, will be considered) and specialize in American Politics, with a focus on race & ethnic politics in the United States. We are particularly interested in applicants whose work falls into the subfields of Black or Latinx politics and who can offer classes that expand beyond our existing strengths in American political behavior and psychology. We strongly encourage candidates from underrepresented backgrounds who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of our academic community to apply.

Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence and inclusivity in undergraduate teaching and a willingness to foster undergraduate research. The typical teaching load is five courses per year; this will include 2 sections of our introductory American Politics course and at least one other course that is accessible to nonmajors. Campus-wide responsibilities include advising students and university service.

Building on Southwestern University's commitment to academic excellence and making connections within and across disciplines, we are pleased to share that this position is part of a diversity, equity, and inclusion cohort hiring initiative in the thematic areas of race, ethnicity, and social justice. The thematic hire initiative seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of teacher-scholars from multiple disciplines in the humanities and social sciences (including English, Feminist Studies, History, Political Science, and Sociology) who will strengthen the University offerings in race, ethnicity, and social justice as well as increase curricular coverage of areas related to diversity and inclusion. As part of the thematic hiring process, Southwestern will provide members of the cohort with opportunities and resources to enhance their success and well being such as participating in mentoring networks, research and writing workshops, and additional ongoing professional development.

The Political Science Department and Southwestern University are committed to recruiting candidates who both excel in teaching and research and can best serve our diverse student population. As of the Fall 2021 semester, over 40% of students enrolled at Southwestern are members of groups traditionally underrepresented in higher education and we are committed to further increasing and supporting the diversity of our students, faculty and curriculum. The Department seeks candidates who have a demonstrated commitment to, and will take an active role in, enhancing diversity, inclusion, and equity across the University, including fostering a sense of community and belonging for students. In your application materials, please include specific and detailed information about how you have worked to enhance diversity and inclusion through your teaching practices, research, and/or service experiences within the college or university setting.

Southwestern University (Georgetown, Texas) is a selective undergraduate residential liberal arts institution located in the greater Austin area. Established in 1840, Southwestern enrolls approximately 1,500 students and maintains a student-faculty ratio of 12 to 1. The university provides a highly interdisciplinary and holistic education that values high-impact learning experiences, such as study abroad, internships, and faculty-student research. A member of the recently formed Liberal Arts Colleges Racial Equity Leadership Alliance, Southwestern is committed to fostering a diverse educational environment and encourages applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in academia. Additional information about the university can be found at our website: www.southwestern.edu.

To apply: Candidates should submit a cover letter, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a teaching statement, brief descriptions of 2-3 possible courses and/or sample syllabi, and a research statement by September 23 on <http://apply.interfolio.com/110378>. We strongly encourage applicants to include specific and detailed information in these documents about how you have worked to enhance diversity and inclusion through your teaching practices, research, and/or service experiences within the college or university setting. We will be speaking with interested candidates at the APSA Annual Meeting; to set up an appointment or ask questions about this position, please contact the chair of the committee, Emily Sydnor (sydnore@southwestern.edu).

All offers of employment are contingent on successful completion of the University's Background Check Policy process. Southwestern University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. EOE/M/F

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/23/2022

Date Posted: 7/29/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10560

Princeton University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Political Theory

The Princeton University Department of Politics seeks applications from well-qualified individuals for a tenure-track junior faculty position in political theory. This position involves teaching at the graduate and undergraduate levels and research at the highest level of excellence. We seek faculty members who will create a climate that embraces excellence and diversity, with a commitment to teaching and mentoring that will enhance the work of the department and attract and retain a diverse student body. Interested applicants should apply online at <https://www.princeton.edu/acad-positions/position/26802>.

Candidates should submit a vita, cover letter, research statement, writing sample, transcripts, and the names and contact information of three references. Unofficial transcripts are sufficient and may be uploaded with the application. Applicants who are unable to upload unofficial transcripts may send official transcripts to Political Theory Junior Search Committee, Department of Politics, 001 Fisher Hall, Princeton, NJ 08544.

For best consideration apply by September 6, 2022.

This position is subject to the University's background check policy.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 9/6/2022
Date Posted: 7/22/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10516

Alfred University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track: Political Science and Government

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Africa, Gender Politics & Policy, Social Welfare

The Division of Social Sciences in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Alfred University invites applications for a tenure-track position in political science at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2023.

We are seeking someone to teach standard introductory-level and upper-division courses on topics that will interest a broad range of students. Along with courses in their area(s) of interest, the successful candidate will regularly teach our introductory course in American politics and courses in judicial processes and constitutional law. We will give preference to applicants who can teach political theory, identity politics, and/or political institutions such as the presidency and bureaucracy. Candidates with a demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary programs such as Women's and Gender Studies, Social Justice Studies, or Africana Studies are strongly encouraged to apply. We require applicants to have a Ph.D. in political science prior to appointment.

The Division of Social Sciences, which includes political science, sociology, criminal justice studies, and anthropology, is particularly interested in developing interdisciplinary collaborative courses, innovative technologies, and experiential learning. The successful candidate will teach three courses (four credit hours each) per semester. Additional teaching opportunities in the summer and winter breaks are available.

One of the first co-educational institutions in the United States, Alfred University is a top-ranked, small, comprehensive university committed to teaching and research and devoted to pursuing technical expertise, artistic creativity, and humanistic learning. Located in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains in western New York State, Alfred University has around 1800 full and part-time undergraduate and graduate students and 150 fulltime faculty. In 2003, the University was awarded a Phi Beta Kappa chapter.

To apply submit the following materials:

- letter of interest
 - curriculum vitae
 - graduate transcripts
 - Candidates should also have three references send their confidential letters
- of recommendation to humanresources@alfred.edu

We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th and continue until the position is filled. Application materials should highlight the candidate's experience in or plans for promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion through teaching, research, and service.

Please apply here: <https://alfreduniversity.applytojob.com/apply/7GYyflueG/Assistant-Professor-Tenure-Track-Political-Science-And-Government>

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/20/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10507

Franklin & Marshall College

Rank: Assistant Professor or Instructor, Political Theory

Specializations: Political Theory, Race & Ethnic Politics, Political Behavior

Franklin & Marshall College invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Department of Government beginning Fall Semester 2023. The rank will be Assistant Professor or Instructor depending on qualifications. Applicants should possess or be close to completing a doctorate degree. We are interested in candidates whose scholarship and teaching focus on some aspect of modern political theory. They should also demonstrate the ability to teach a course on racial justice and other upper level courses that address contemporary political problems. In addition, candidates should be able to contribute to the College's general education program, Connections. Faculty maintain active research programs and contribute to the College's shared governance.

Candidates must submit the following items electronically via Interfolio: (<http://apply.interfolio.com/108951/>): a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s) (unofficial copies are fine), teaching and research statements, diversity statement, teaching evaluations and/or teaching observations, and names of three references (NOTE: letters of reference will be solicited at a later stage, and once they are solicited referees will need to supply them within three weeks). For full consideration, applications should be received by September 24, 2022.

Pursuant to cultivating an inclusive college community, the search committee will holistically assess the qualifications of each applicant. We will consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds. We will also consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to academic success.

Franklin & Marshall College is committed to having an inclusive campus community where all members are treated with dignity and respect. As an Equal Opportunity Employer, the College does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices on the basis of gender, sex, race, ethnicity, color, national origin, religion, age, disability, family or marital status, sexual orientation, or any protected characteristic. Individuals who need accommodation due to a disability in order to submit an application or to otherwise participate in the employment process should contact the department's academic coordinator, Paulina Erazo Ayala, (717) 358-3961, paulina.erazoayala@fandm.edu.

Franklin and Marshall College is committed to providing a safe and productive learning, living and working community. To assist in achieving this goal, we conduct background investigations for all prospective applicants being considered for employment.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 7/15/2022

Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10499

George Washington University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applications for a one-year position as a visiting professor with a specialization in American Politics and Theory. The candidate hired will teach a 3-3 course load of undergraduate classes during the 2022-2023 academic year.

Minimum Qualifications: Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or doctoral degree in Political Science or a related field, with specialization in American Politics and Theory. Applicants must have experience teaching undergraduate courses.

Application Procedure: To apply please complete an online faculty application at <https://www.gwu.jobs/postings/94001>; upload a cover letter; curriculum vitae; statement of teaching experience; evidence of teaching effectiveness, preferably student evaluations; and include the names of three references (letters of recommendation are not required). Review of applications will begin on 8/5/2022, and will continue until the position is filled. Only complete applications will be considered. Please note the University has an ongoing mandate for all personnel to be fully vaccinated against COVID-19.

The university is an Equal Employment Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer that does not unlawfully discriminate in any of its programs or activities on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, or on any other basis prohibited by applicable law.

The university and department have a strong commitment to achieving diversity among faculty and staff. We strongly encourage women and persons of color to apply.

Successful completion of a Background Screening will be required as a condition of hire.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 8/5/2022
Date Posted: 7/6/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10466

Macalester College, Political Science

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Theory

At Macalester College, diversity, equity, and inclusion are central to our educational mission and values. We are committed to the institutional change required for visioning and realizing a more equitable and socially just college and society.

The Department of Political Science at Macalester College seeks candidates for a full-time, tenure-track position at the level of Assistant Professor to begin in August 2023. We invite applications from Political Theorists whose teaching and research intersect with questions of race and ethnicity. The successful candidate will contribute to the undergraduate curriculum with offerings in Political Theory at the introductory, intermediate and advanced levels, as well as electives focused on race and ethnicity. The teaching load is five courses per year. We welcome candidates whose teaching and scholarly interests can build bridges to other disciplines or Macalester's interdisciplinary departments and concentrations, such as American Studies, International Studies, Asian Studies, Critical Theory, Middle Eastern Studies, Media and Cultural Studies, Environmental Studies, and Women, Gender and Sexuality Studies.

Applicants should submit a cover letter that includes a statement of interest in Macalester and discusses demonstrated activity and contributions to diversity, equity and inclusion initiatives in their teaching, advising, mentorship, curriculum, scholarship, service or community and professional engagement. Strong candidates will have experience and vision regarding teaching and mentorship of students of multiple and diverse backgrounds with attention to structural barriers that limit access to educational opportunities.

Applications should also include a curriculum vitae; a statement of teaching interests and philosophy, a research statement, an example of recent scholarship, evidence of effective teaching, and three reference letters. Candidates may include the following:

Teaching Statement

Teaching philosophy and effective strategies for teaching and learning Experience teaching, advising, or mentoring undergraduate students
 Applied knowledge of supporting students of diverse backgrounds, interests, or prior experience with political theory

Research Statement

Research specialization in political theory with focus on race and ethnicity
 Commitment to and interest in maintaining an active research agenda
 Understanding of scholarly research in a liberal arts college and support of undergraduate student research

All materials (cover letter, CV, teaching statement, research statement, research example, evidence of effective teaching, and three reference letters) must be submitted to Academic Jobs Online. Inquiries can be directed to Professor Lesley Lavery, Chair of Political Science, llavery@macalester.edu. Applications are due no later than October 1, 2022.

Macalester College is located in Saint Paul, Minnesota, on the ancestral homeland of the Dakota people who were forcibly exiled because of aggressive and persistent settler colonialism.

Macalester is a highly selective, private liberal arts college in the vibrant Minneapolis-Saint Paul metropolitan area, with a population of approximately three million people and home to numerous colleges and universities, including the University of Minnesota. Macalester's diverse student body comprises over 2000 undergraduates from all 50 states and the District of Columbia and 99 countries. The College maintains a longstanding commitment to academic excellence with a special emphasis on internationalism, multiculturalism, and service to society. As an Equal Opportunity employer supportive of affirmative efforts to achieve diversity among its faculty, Macalester College strongly encourages applications from women and members of under-represented minority groups. International scholars will receive H-1B visa assistance if selected for this position.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/1/2022
Date Posted: 7/6/2022
Salary: $70,000 - $79,999
eJobs ID: 10469

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Adjunct Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Methodology

The Virginia Commonwealth University College of Humanities and Sciences is recruiting a pool of adjunct faculty for AY2022-2023 course sections within the Department of Political Science. This pool will be utilized on an as-needed basis. Your application will remain active for a year; you may resubmit your application for subsequent years. Only those selected for an interview will be contacted.

We welcome applicants with a range of scholarly interests in the subfields of U.S. Government, Comparative Politics, International Relations, Political Theory, Methodology, Civil Rights, Human Security, and Public Policy & Administration.

For AY2022-2023, we are especially interested in offering the following courses: Politics of Race, Class, and Gender; Research Methods in Political Science; and Political Theory.

Applicants are encouraged to visit the VCU POLI bulletin to see a list of the courses offered to our students: <http://bulletin.vcu.edu/undergraduate/college-humanities-sciences/political-science-program/#coursestext>.

Position Responsibilities:

Meet all designated course instruction guidelines; grade assignments and exams in a timely manner based on instructions/rubric provided; respond to student inquiries within 24 hours; and submit final grades according to College/Department policy.

Required Qualifications:

EDUCATION:

Master's degree, PhD, or other doctoral degree in a related field with experience and specialized expertise directly related to the position.

COMPETENCIES/EXPERIENCE:

Demonstrated teaching experience.

To apply, please click on "Apply Now" at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1965?c=vcu>. You will be asked to provide a cover letter, CV and contact information for two professional references.

Salary Range: $1,200 per credit hour

Contact Information:

Contact Name: Allie Reckendorf

Contact Email: anreckendorf@vcu.edu

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/28/2022

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 10447

University of Virginia

Rank: Full Professor, Department of Politics

In the fall of 2020, with the generous support of the John L. Nau Foundation and the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, the University of Virginia's Democracy Initiative and College of Arts & Sciences launched a multiyear faculty hiring project. Over four years, we will hire a dozen or more new faculty members at all ranks in the departments of Classics, History, and Philosophy, Politics, and elsewhere. Across all the searches, the Departments seek to appoint scholars whose primary research is focused on the study of the principles of democracy, democratic accountability, and representation, either to advance the work of the core lab on the history and principles of democracy or to contribute to one of the Initiative's other projects.

This year, with the support of the Nau Foundation, the Department of Politics at the University of Virginia invites applications for a tenured full professor who studies democracy in the subfield of international relations or the subfield of political theory. Candidates should have an active research agenda and a strong commitment to excellent teaching at both the graduate and undergraduate levels.

The mission of the Democracy Initiative is to promote excellence in research, teaching, and public engagement on democracy at a global scale by bringing together a diverse range of scholars, government leaders, and practitioners to study and advance the prospects of democracy around the world. The Democracy Initiative is interdisciplinary and supports and advances the work of faculty, as well as graduate and undergraduate students, in the humanities, the arts, and the social sciences. To that end, the Initiative supports a variety of labs built on models of collaborative work. The Democracy Labs consist of a series of three-year, rotating labs on various topics, connected by the work of the John Nau III History and Principles of Democracy Lab (the Nau Core Lab), an interdisciplinary hub of research, teaching, and outreach. Current labs are focused on corruption and the rule of law, democracy and new media, democratic statecraft, the links between environmental and racial inequality, and race, religion, and democracy. The Democracy Initiative also supports two projects focused on community engagement and research, the Memory Project and The Equity Center. In addition to holding appointments in their home departments, each new faculty member hired under this initiative will also be a member either of the Nau Core lab or one of the Initiative's other research labs or projects.

Application review will begin September 15th, 2022, and the position will remain open until filled. The appointment begins with the fall semester of 2023. Applicants must have received their PhD at least three years prior to the time of appointment.

TO APPLY:

Please apply through Workday, and search for R0037131. Complete an application online with the following documents:

.Cover letter of application describing (1) areas of research and teaching interest; (2) potential research collaborations; (3) your demonstrated past experience working on issues of diversity, equity, and inclusion, and/or working with diverse populations (not to exceed three single spaced pages).

.Current curriculum vitae, including the names of three references
.A statement outlining what kinds of intellectual and/or institutional contributions you could envision making to the Democracy Initiative (not to exceed two single-spaced pages)

.A research statement (not to exceed three single-spaced pages)

.A teaching philosophy (not to exceed one single-spaced page)
Upload all materials into the resume submission field, multiple documents can be submitted into this one field. Alternatively, merge all documents into one PDF for submission. Applications that do not contain all required documents will not receive full consideration. Internal applicants must apply through their UVA Workday profile by searching 'Find Jobs'.

Questions about this position should be directed to Department Chair, Jennifer Lawless at jl9jx@virginia.edu, or Search Committee Chair John Owen at jmo4n@virginia.edu. Questions regarding the application process should be directed to Melanie Sponaugle, Academic Recruiter, at unw5dq@virginia.edu.

The University will perform background checks on all new faculty hires prior to making a final offer of employment.

UVA is located in beautiful Charlottesville with easy access to the Blue Ridge Mountains, the eastern shore and the nation's Capital. Charlottesville is one of the best places to live; outdoors, vibrant town with culture, music, restaurants, excellent schools, etc. Opportunities for excellent clinical, and laboratory-based research and teaching pursuits working within the collegial work environment are available.

UVA assists faculty spouses and partners seeking employment in the Charlottesville area. To learn more please visit <https://dualcareer.virginia.edu/>

For more information about UVA and the Charlottesville community please see <http://www.virginia.edu/life/charlottesville> and <https://embarkcva.com/>.

For more information on the benefits available to faculty at UVA, visit <https://provost.virginia.edu/subsite/faculty-development> and hr.virginia.edu/benefits.

COVID Vaccination Requirement and Guidelines

Please visit the UVA COVID-19 Job Requirements and Guidelines webpage prior to applying for current information regarding vaccination requirements?and?guidelines for employment at UVA.

The University of Virginia, including the UVA Health System which represents the UVA Medical Center, Schools of Medicine and Nursing, UVA Physician's Group and the Claude Moore Health Sciences Library, are fundamentally committed to the diversity of our faculty and staff. We believe diversity is excellence expressing itself through every person's perspectives and lived experiences. We are equal opportunity and affirmative action employers. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, marital status, national or ethnic origin, political affiliation, race, religion, sex (including pregnancy), sexual orientation, veteran status, and family medical or genetic information.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/22/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10432

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, United States

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) is seeking applications for a one-year term faculty position at the Instructor rank to begin August 2022 to support the Department's teaching mission in the areas of American Politics and/ or Political Theory. The position will expire in May 2023.

Position Responsibilities: Successful candidates must be able to teach our undergraduate Politics of Race, Class, and Gender course, as well as our undergraduate Research Methods and/or Introduction to Political Theory courses. Successful candidates should be able to teach both on-campus and asynchronously online, thus relocation to Richmond is strongly preferred for this position. The teaching load for this position is 4/4.

Required Qualifications: The position requires a Ph.D. or Master's Degree in political science, or a closely related field, at the time of employment. Successful candidates also will have demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU. More than 60% of Political Science majors are women, and more than 56% are from minority groups. In addition, our faculty and staff exhibit diversity of gender, sexuality, race, ethnicity, age, class, nationality, religion, belief, and political affiliation, among other variables. For example, of our 19 full-time faculty members, eight identify as women, and five identify as scholars of color. See the Department's Diversity and Inclusion Statement here: <https://politicalscience.vcu.edu/about/>. VCU is a diverse public institution. In 2020, 32.7% of our freshmen identified as first-generation, 52.3% as minority, and 35.4% as historically underrepresented minorities.

The Department of Political Science is housed in VCU's College of Humanities and Sciences (CHS) (<https://chs.vcu.edu/>). Resources to support teaching faculty are available at all levels of the university (see, e.g., <https://provost.vcu.edu/faculty/faculty-resources/>).

For more detailed information and to apply, please visit:

<https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1886?c=vcu>

Application Instructions

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1886?c=vcu>. Applicants must upload a CV and cover letter, as well as the following supplemental documents: a teaching philosophy, and a diversity and inclusion statement. Please merge supplementary files into one PDF and upload as the "Other" document in the online application site. Please submit all required documents with your online application. Failure to provide all required documents will result in our inability to review and consider your application. Applicants are requested to submit a Statement of Contributions to Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (typically between 150-300 words) providing your career aspirations and contributions toward promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion. Through this statement, you can share how your lived experiences, and academic and professional activities will impact your contributions to VCU's mission of promoting equity and inclusion. For more information and examples, see VCU's Diversity Statement.

Upon submission of your application, references will be automatically contacted and asked to provide a letter of recommendation[1]. Questions should be directed to Jason Arnold at jarnold@vcu.edu. Position is open until filled. Applications received by July 9, 2022 will receive priority consideration. Start date will be August 16, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/15/2022

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 10420

Hamilton College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Government (American Politics and Political Theory)

The Government Department at Hamilton College invites applications for a one-year, visiting position at the rank of Assistant Professor or Instructor, beginning July 1, 2022. We seek candidates to teach courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics, with preference for someone who can teach in both fields. We will consider candidates from any subfield within each discipline. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address ways in which you raise issues of diversity and inclusion in your teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

Candidates with ABD will be considered, although candidates with a Ph. D. are preferred. The teaching load for this position is five courses. Candidates should submit cover letter, c.v., evidence of teaching ability, and a list of references via Interfolio at <https://apply.interfolio.com/108034>. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Peter F. Cannavò, Search Committee Chair, at pcannavo@hamilton.edu. Our review of applications will begin on June 25, 2022.

Hamilton (www.hamilton.edu) is a residential liberal arts college located in upstate New York. Applicants with dual-career considerations can find other Hamilton and nearby academic job listings at <https://www.hercjobs.org/regions/higher-ed-careers-upstate-new-york/>, as well as additional information at <https://www.hamilton.edu/dof/faculty-development/resources-for-prospective-or-new-faculty/opportunities-for-spouses-or-partners> (Opportunities for Spouses or Partners). Hamilton College is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer and is committed to diversity in all areas of the campus community. Hamilton provides domestic partner benefits. Candidates from underrepresented groups in higher education are especially encouraged to apply.

Qualifications:

We seek candidates to teach courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics, with preference for someone who can teach in both fields. We will consider candidates from any subfield within each discipline. We are seeking candidates who can demonstrate their experience in teaching or working with diverse student populations. Your cover letter should address ways in which you raise issues of diversity and inclusion in your teaching, scholarship, and/or service.

Candidates with ABD will be considered, although candidates with a Ph. D. are preferred.

Application Instructions:

Candidates should submit cover letter, c.v., evidence of teaching ability, and a list of references via Interfolio at <http://apply.interfolio.com/108034>. Questions regarding the search may be directed to Peter F. Cannavò, Search Committee Chair, at pcannavo@hamilton.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/11/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10414

Dartmouth College

Rank: Postdoctoral Fellow in Political Theory and/or Philosophy

Interfolio Title: Postdoctoral Fellow in Political Theory and/or Philosophy

Description

The Political Economy Project (PEP) at Dartmouth College seeks applications for a full-time one-year renewable postdoctoral fellowship with an anticipated start date of September 1, 2022. We seek qualified candidates who work on social/political philosophy, ethics, and/or history of political thought, all broadly construed. PEP is an interdisciplinary initiative focused on normative questions at the intersection of politics, economics, and philosophy. The majority of the fellow's time will be devoted to independent research. The fellow will teach two courses per year in either the Government or Philosophy Departments, at least one of which will be an introductory-level course related to political economy. The fellow is expected to attend and actively assist in planning PEP events and otherwise participate in PEP's intellectual life and the Government Department or Philosophy Department during the Fall, Winter, and Spring quarters. The selected candidate will hold an appointment as a Lecturer in either the Government Department or Philosophy Department and as a Postdoctoral Fellow in PEP. The initial appointment will be for one academic year, with the expectation of renewal for one further year assuming good performance. The fellow will also join the broader community of postdoctoral research fellows that includes the Dartmouth Society of Fellows, the John Sloan Dickey Fellows, the Neukom Institute Fellows, the Rockefeller Center Fellows, the Quantitative and Social Sciences Fellows, and the Mellon Postdoctoral Fellows in the Humanities and Humanistic Social Sciences. The salary is competitive and includes benefits.

Dartmouth is highly committed to fostering a diverse and inclusive population of students, faculty, and staff. We are especially interested in diverse applicants who can work effectively with an inclusive and diverse student body, faculty, and staff. Dartmouth is made up of individuals who identify as Black, Indigenous, and people of color (BIPOC), women, individuals who identify as LGBTQIA+, individuals with disabilities, veterans, individuals from lower-income backgrounds, and first-generation college students and graduates. Applicants should state in their cover letter, or a separate statement, how their teaching, research, service, and/or life experiences prepare them to advance Dartmouth's commitments to diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Qualifications:

PhD or ABD in Political Science, Philosophy, or a closely related field.

Application Instructions:

1. Cover Letter
2. Curriculum Vitae
3. Three Letters of Recommendation
3. Writing Sample (chapter or article length)

Review of applications will begin on June 30, 2022 and continue until the position is filled. Start date will be negotiable, though September 1 is preferred.

Apply <http://apply.interfolio.com/107903>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/7/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10397

Hope College

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Comparative Politics

The Department of Political Science at Hope College seeks applicants for a visiting assistant professor position beginning by Fall 2022. Strong preference will be given to candidates with expertise in political theory. In addition to political theory, we welcome applications from candidates who are able to teach introductory and upper-level courses in American politics, including a course in state and local politics. The standard teaching load is three courses per semester.

The College offers opportunities for internal research support and assistance in seeking external funding. The Political Science department at Hope has six tenured/tenure-track faculty and graduates about 25 majors each year. The Political Science department also contributes to Hope College's teacher education program as well as interdisciplinary programs in environmental studies and global studies.

Candidates should upload the following documents as part of their application:

Cover letter

Curriculum vitae

A statement indicating a willingness to commit to and engage with Hope's mission statement

A statement describing your teaching philosophy, experience, and interests

Formal teaching evaluations

Sample publications

A statement of your research plans and how you will mentor undergraduates in research (optional)

In addition, you should enter the names and contact information for three references when you apply. References will be contacted via email upon your application, providing with a link to upload a letter of recommendation to your file.

Direct questions can be sent to ryden@hope.edu. For full consideration, candidates should submit their completed materials immediately. Applications will be reviewed as they are received and continue until the search is complete.

Additional information found at jobs.hope.edu

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/10/2022

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 10347

Stetson University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Administration

STETSON UNIVERSITY, COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

Stetson University seeks two individuals – one with broad interests and training in International Relations, and the other with broad interests and training in Political Theory and/or American Politics – for positions at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Each must have a desire to teach in a liberal arts setting with significant personal interactions with undergraduate students. Besides teaching introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in their appropriate subfields of the discipline, each candidate will develop courses to complement existing strengths in the Department of Political Science and in one or more related programs (e.g. International Studies; Africana Studies; Asian Studies; Gender Studies; Social Studies; Global Development; Latin American & Latino Studies; and Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies). These two 9-month, full-time appointments span August 2022-May 2023.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is preferred, but applicants who are ABD will be considered if they are at the final stage of the dissertation process. Teaching experience beyond typical teaching assistant duties in graduate school is an advantage but not required. Candidates should have a strong commitment to innovative teaching, a creative approach to pedagogical design and implementation, and a strong commitment to all aspects of diversity in our learning-centered community.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

VAP faculty teach four courses each semester. Primary teaching responsibilities for the International Relations position include introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations and related subdisciplines (e.g. migration studies, international diplomacy, international law, security studies, etc.). For the Political Theory and/or American Politics position, teaching responsibilities include introductory and upper-level courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics and related subdisciplines (e.g. American political development, judicial studies, etc.). Other courses can be based on the candidate's expertise and training.

THE DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/artsci/political-science/>) offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies; Russian, Eastern European and Eurasian Studies; Latin American & Latino Studies; Africana Studies; the Honors Program; Environmental Science and Studies; and Public Health. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, Public Administration, and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and eight interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, giving students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 4,000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1954, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered include Business, Accounting, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally. Stetson University affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 39,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

SALARY: Salary is competitive.

STARTING DATE: August 10, 2022

APPLICATION:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, 2) a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy, a representative sample of teaching evaluations, and other relevant teaching materials (e.g. syllabi, assignments, etc.), 3) a curriculum vitae, 4) copies of graduate transcripts, and 5) the names and contact information for three recommenders (at least one of which should be able to evaluate the candidate's teaching ability). Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation. In their materials, candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to the search committee at polisearch@stetson.edu or mailed to the following address:

Dr. William Russell Nylan
Chair, VAPs Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Stetson University
421 N. Woodland Blvd. Unit 8301
DeLand, FL 32723

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/7/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10177

Stetson University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory and/or American Politics)

STETSON UNIVERSITY, COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (Political Theory and/or American Politics)

Stetson University seeks two individuals – one with broad interests and training in International Relations, and the other with broad interests and training in Political Theory and/or American Politics – for positions at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Each must have a desire to teach in a liberal arts setting with significant personal interactions with undergraduate students. Besides teaching introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in their appropriate subfields of the discipline, each candidate will develop courses to complement existing strengths in the Department of Political Science and in one or more related programs (e.g. International Studies; Africana Studies; Asian Studies; Gender Studies; Social Studies; Global Development; Latin American & Latino Studies; and Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies). These two 9-month, full-time appointments span August 2022-May 2023.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is preferred, but applicants who are ABD will be considered if they are at the final stage of the dissertation process. Teaching experience beyond typical teaching assistant duties in graduate school is an advantage but not required. Candidates should have a strong commitment to innovative teaching, a creative approach to pedagogical design and implementation, and a strong commitment to all aspects of diversity in our learning-centered community.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

VAP faculty teach four courses each semester. Primary teaching responsibilities for the International Relations position include introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations and related subdisciplines (e.g. migration studies, international diplomacy, international law, security studies, etc.). For the Political Theory and/or American Politics position, teaching responsibilities include introductory and upper-level courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics and related subdisciplines (e.g. American political development, judicial studies, etc.). Other courses can be based on the candidate's expertise and training.

THE DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/artsci/political-science/>) offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies; Russian, Eastern European and Eurasian Studies; Latin American & Latino Studies; Africana Studies; the Honors Program; Environmental Science and Studies; and Public Health. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, Public Administration, and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and eight interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, giving students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 4,000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1954, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered include Business, Accounting, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally. Stetson University affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 39,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

SALARY: Salary is competitive.

STARTING DATE: August 10, 2022

APPLICATION:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, 2) a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy, a representative sample of teaching evaluations, and other relevant teaching materials (e.g. syllabi, assignments, etc.), 3) a curriculum vitae, 4) copies of graduate transcripts, and 5) the names and contact information for three recommenders (at least one of which should be able to evaluate the candidate's teaching ability). Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation. In their materials, candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion. Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to the search committee at polisearch@stetson.edu or mailed to the following address:

Dr. William Russell Nysten
Chair, VAPs Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Stetson University

421 N. Woodland Blvd. Unit 8301
DeLand, FL 32723

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/7/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10178

Bloomsburg University

Rank: Political Science Temporary Pool-Political Theory

Position Description

The Department of Political Science at Bloomsburg University of Pennsylvania seeks qualified candidates for temporary teaching positions (full-time one semester, part-time one semester or part-time academic year) as needs arise. A successful applicant must be able to teach our introductory course in political theory, POLISCI 108: Contemporary Political Ideologies. A description of this courses can be found in the most current Academic Catalog at Bloomsburg University <https://archive.bloomu.edu/catalog-> .

Qualifying Education/Experience

Applicants must possess a Master's Degree in Political Science or related field (Public Administration, Public Policy) from a regionally accredited institution. A Ph.D. in Political Science or related field is preferred as is specialization in the disciplinary subfield of political theory. Applicants should also possess a demonstrated ability to work with diverse populations. Previous college teaching experience is preferred.

Supplemental Information

A complete application includes a cover letter addressing requirements and preferences for the position, a current CV, teaching evaluations (if available), a statement of philosophy of education, and 3 letters of recommendation. Submit application materials online at www.bloomu.edu/jobs Applications to this temporary pool will be accepted through April 30, 2024 (to reflect three-year life cycle of pool). Questions may be directed to Search & Screen Committee

Chair, Dr. Neil Strine, hstrin2@bloomu.edu

Finalist(s) for these positions must communicate well and successfully complete an interview process and/or teaching demonstration as judged by the department faculty. Recommendation for hiring is needed from a majority of the regular, full-time department faculty.

Prior to a final offer of employment, the selected candidate will be required to submit to a background check including, but not limited to, employment verification, educational and other credential verification, Pennsylvania Child Abuse History Clearance and criminal background.

Completing this search is contingent upon enrollment and available funding.

The University prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment on the basis of sex, race, color, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, pregnancy, marital or family status, medical condition, genetic information, veteran status, or disability in any decision regarding admissions, employment, or participation in a University program or activity in accordance with the letter and spirit of federal, state, and local non-discrimination and equal opportunity laws, such as Titles VI and VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, the Age Discrimination in Employment

Act, the Americans with Disabilities Act and ADA Amendments Act, the Equal Pay Act, and the Pennsylvania Human Relations Act.

The University also complies with the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus

Crimes Statistics Act, as amended by the Violence Against Women Act (VAWA). Title IX prohibits retaliation for asserting or otherwise participating in claims of sex discrimination. VAWA imposes additional duties on universities and colleges to investigate and respond to reports of sexual assault, stalking, and dating or domestic violence, and to publish policies and procedures related to the way these reports are handled. The University has designated the Title IX Coordinator (Jennifer Raup, Elwell Hall, ORL, 570-389-4808, jraup@bloomu.edu or titleixcoord@bloomu.edu), to coordinate the University's compliance with Title IX and VAWA and to respond to reports of violations. The University has directed the Bloomsburg University Police Department to coordinate the University's compliance with the VAWA- related Clery reporting requirements. Additionally, inquiries concerning Title IX and its implementing regulation can be made to the U.S. Department of Education, Office of Civil Rights, Region III, The Wanamaker Building, 100 Penn Square East

- Suite 505, Philadelphia, PA 19107; Phone: (215) 656-6010;

Fax: (215) 656-6020.

Start Date: Spring 2021

Application Deadline: 4/30/2024

Date Posted: 4/30/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 8845

PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

Occidental College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Urban Policy and Politics

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Public Administration

The Urban & Environmental Policy Department at Occidental College invites applications for a teacher and scholar at the Assistant Professor level in Urban Policy and Politics, with a focus on Community Organizing, Labor Studies, Urban Political Economy, and/or Public Policy. The position will begin August 2023.

We are interested in candidates who understand urban and environmental problems as deeply linked, and whose research and teaching examine issues of economic and social inequalities, labor and community organizing, and the social, economic, racial, and gender dimensions of workplaces and the labor market. We are interested in candidates whose work considers the role of politics and policymaking at local, state, and national levels, and the challenges faced by policymakers to address existing inequities while also finding sustainable, and democratic solutions to environmental and economic injustice. We seek a scholar who approaches their work through interdisciplinary analysis and considers the role of labor and community organizing as an important response to and strategy to address inequality and to advance social justice..

Occidental faculty are committed teacher-scholars who bring research and creative discovery to life for students in classrooms, labs, studios, and mentored projects. They teach broadly in the curricula of their departments, advise students, carry out research and creative work, and provide departmental, college-wide, and external service. The primary responsibilities of the selected candidate will include the development and teaching of introductory and core courses in the discipline, including courses in your area(s) of specialization. Specific courses that include the introductory level department course (UEP 101), Community Organizing and Leadership, Community Internship/Practicum; and Urban Politics and Policy; ; the senior comprehensive seminar; and a college-wide first year seminar as well as as well as developing new courses in Labor Studies and Public Policy Analysis. and/or a new course in their own area of expertise. The candidate will also be responsible for producing scholarship commensurate with the requirements for tenure and will be expected to develop a program of research that engages undergraduate students. Incoming faculty will be expected to contribute to and participate in the life and development of the department, advise students, serve on committees, and participate in the broader college and disciplinary communities.

We invite candidates from a range of disciplines, including sociology, political science, social work, social welfare, labor studies, urban planning, geography, applied economics, law, and public policy. In particular, we seek candidates with emphases from a range of disciplines in subfields of: race, gender, and work; urban politics; community organizing; and labor and globalization. Candidates are expected to hold the Ph.D. degree or terminal degree in their field, and must have completed or be completing their doctorate by fall 2023.

We are open to considering non-traditional candidates with extensive professional and community experience as well as a demonstrated record of research and teaching experience but who may not have a Ph.D. or other terminal degree but would prioritize engagement with students while bringing their extensive field experience into the academy.

Required Qualifications

demonstrated commitment to and excellence in undergraduate teaching. We seek an effective and engaged teacher able to explain the relationships between local and global aspects of our urban problems and how policy practitioners, advocates and researchers, along with government officials, can create practical solutions at the community, local, state, national, and global levels, and teach students to understand and apply ideas about urban politics and political economy, including issues of race, place, poverty, inequality, and policy in the context of a global political economy.

a strong record of scholarly accomplishments appropriate to the level of appointment or demonstration of applied research and written policy analyses for nontraditional candidates; an existing research program with a plan to integrate undergraduate students into their research.

demonstrated experience in a range of practices (advocacy, community organizing, government, community engaged research, and public service) with preference for experience working on how policy and organizing impacts marginalized, low-income, and communities of color.

demonstrated experience in working collaboratively with colleagues demonstrated potential for effective integration of technology into instruction

demonstrated commitment to working effectively with students from minoritized and marginalized social groups

ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service demonstrated commitment to the four cornerstones of the mission of the College: excellence, equity, community, and service contribution to community engaged teaching and research, a central priority of the College's strategic plan.

Preferred Qualifications

experience working collaboratively with local community organizations

industry experience

Application Submission Materials

You must submit a complete application package electronically to be considered. To apply, please send the following required materials to UEPurbanserch@oxy.edu:

Cover Letter in which you respond to the required and preferred (if applicable) qualifications

Curriculum Vitae

Research Statement

Teaching Philosophy Statement

Commitment to Inclusive Excellence Statement

This statement provides your unique perspective on your past and present contributions to and future aspirations for promoting justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity in your professional career. This should include your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for students from marginalized and minoritized groups. The purpose of this statement is to help the department identify candidates who have professional experience, intellectual commitments, and/or willingness to engage in activities that could help the College contribute to its mission in these areas.

List of three references with relevant contact information

If you advance to the finalist phase, you will be asked to have each of your three references submit a letter of recommendation. Please have these ready for the referents to submit should you move forward to this phase of the search. Do not submit these letters with your initial application.

Upon receipt of a complete application package, you will receive a preliminary questionnaire. You must complete this questionnaire to move forward in the search process.

Please direct all questions about the position to: UEPurbansearch@oxy.edu

Application Deadline

To be assured full consideration, your application materials must be received by October 3, 2022.

The Department and College

The Urban and Environmental Policy Department is unique among liberal arts colleges. Many liberal arts colleges have urban studies, public policy, or environmental studies programs. Occidental's UEP major integrates each of these disciplines into a single interdisciplinary major, one that is uniquely situated in a liberal arts college located in the dynamic city of Los Angeles.

UEP is an interdisciplinary program that has multiple goals for student learning outcomes: critical thinking; writing and speaking skills; recognition and capacity to engage in policy development; knowledge about diverse communities and institutions; and an ability to translate what the students learn into a path for future learning and career development.

Our curriculum includes a heavy emphasis on writing and presentations, a strong focus on original research, including applied and policy-relevant research, community-engaged and client-based projects, and multiple strategies for community engagement, including community engaged research, internship requirements and opportunities in Los Angeles and beyond, and classes geared to providing an understanding of the policy process, with a focus on cities and the process of urbanization.

Oxy's location in urban Los Angeles sets it apart from other liberal arts colleges, most located outside of cities in more rural or suburban locations. UEP and the College has centered Oxy's Los Angeles location as critical to its curriculum. Our presence in Los Angeles offers the perfect setting for integrating the study of urban and environmental issues.

Finally, the Urban & Environmental Policy Institute (UEPI), our research, policy, and advocacy institute, mirrors our UEP major as a campus-wide center for community engagement, research, and advocacy. Through private foundation and government grants, UEPI has conducted research, engaged in policy analysis, and participated in advocacy efforts that have made a major difference in Los Angeles and around the country for over 15 years. UEPI has a professional research and program staff who develop programs and initiatives in the community that provide opportunities for all Oxy students to conduct research, study policy, and participate in advocacy. In the past four years more than 350 students from multiple majors across campus have participated in UEPI-funded projects. UEPI staff members bring professional degrees and experience to the classroom and have taught several UEP courses and advised, mentored, and provided research assistance to dozens of Oxy students – both UEP and non-UEP majors. Thus, UEPI has had a significant impact on the College's mission in terms of both classroom teaching and undergraduate research.

Additional Information

Occidental is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by state or federal law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators, and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College's strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Moving expense reimbursement (up to $5000, taxable according to current IRS regulations), start-up funds, and a one-course reduction of teaching load in the first year are provided. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit <https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information>.

All qualified applicants will be considered for employment, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles' Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for any part of the application or employment process, please contact Human Resources (hr@oxy.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/3/2022

Date Posted: 7/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10561

Southwestern University

Rank: Assistant Professor of Political Science

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Political Theory, American Government and Politics

The Department of Political Science at Southwestern University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor of Political Science position beginning August 2023. The ideal candidate will hold a PhD in political science (ABD, with completion by August 2023, will be considered) and specialize in American Politics, with a focus on race & ethnic politics in the United States. We are particularly interested in applicants whose work falls into the subfields of Black or Latinx politics and who can offer classes that expand beyond our existing strengths in American political behavior and psychology. We strongly encourage candidates from underrepresented backgrounds who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of our academic community to apply.

Successful applicants will demonstrate a commitment to excellence and inclusivity in undergraduate teaching and a willingness to foster undergraduate research. The typical teaching load is five courses per year; this will include 2 sections of our introductory American Politics course and at least one other course that is accessible to nonmajors. Campus-wide responsibilities include advising students and university service.

Building on Southwestern University's commitment to academic excellence and making connections within and across disciplines, we are pleased to share that this position is part of a diversity, equity, and inclusion cohort hiring initiative in the thematic areas of race, ethnicity, and social justice. The thematic hire initiative seeks to recruit and retain a diverse community of teacher-scholars from multiple disciplines in the humanities and social sciences (including English, Feminist Studies, History, Political Science, and Sociology) who will strengthen the University offerings in race, ethnicity, and social justice as well as increase curricular coverage of areas related to diversity and inclusion. As part of the thematic hiring process, Southwestern will provide members of the cohort with opportunities and resources to enhance their success and well being such as participating in mentoring networks, research and writing workshops, and additional ongoing professional development.

The Political Science Department and Southwestern University are committed to recruiting candidates who both excel in teaching and research and can best serve our diverse student population. As of the Fall 2021 semester, over 40% of students enrolled at Southwestern are members of groups traditionally underrepresented in higher education and we are committed to further increasing and supporting the diversity of our students, faculty and curriculum. The Department seeks candidates who have a demonstrated commitment to, and will take an active role in, enhancing diversity, inclusion, and equity across the University, including fostering a sense of community and belonging for students. In your application materials, please include specific and detailed information about how you have worked to enhance diversity and inclusion through your teaching practices, research, and/or service experiences within the college or university setting.

Southwestern University (Georgetown, Texas) is a selective undergraduate residential liberal arts institution located in the greater Austin area. Established in 1840, Southwestern enrolls approximately 1,500 students and maintains a student-faculty ratio of 12 to 1. The university provides a highly interdisciplinary and holistic education that values high-impact learning experiences, such as study abroad, internships, and faculty-student research. A member of the recently formed Liberal Arts Colleges Racial Equity Leadership Alliance, Southwestern is committed to fostering a diverse educational environment and encourages applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in academia. Additional information about the university can be found at our website: www.southwestern.edu.

To apply: Candidates should submit a cover letter, C.V., three letters of recommendation, a teaching statement, brief descriptions of 2-3 possible courses and/or sample syllabi, and a research statement by September 23 on <http://apply.interfolio.com/110378> We strongly encourage applicants to include specific and detailed information in these documents about how you have worked to enhance diversity and inclusion through your teaching practices, research, and/or service experiences within the college or university setting. We will be speaking with interested candidates at the APSA Annual Meeting; to set up an appointment or ask questions about this position, please contact the chair of the committee, Emily Sydnor (sydnore@southwestern.edu).

All offers of employment are contingent on successful completion of the University's Background Check Policy process. Southwestern University is an Equal Opportunity Employer. EOE/M/F

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/23/2022

Date Posted: 7/29/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10560

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer, Policy and Administration

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/110584>

Location:
Washington, DC

Description:

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of Assistant Program Director in the area of Public Policy and Administration. This position will support the Master of Arts in Public Management (primary), Master of Arts in Nonprofit Management, and Master of Arts of Government programs in the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, within the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs Division. Reporting to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies and Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, the Assistant Program Director will contribute to the excellence of the programs and will demonstrate and support ongoing innovation in the curriculums. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online, at its Washington, DC Center, and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 45-degree programs.

AAP was started in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of nearly 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as Program Chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the KSAS Dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position:

AAP's programs in public management, nonprofit management, and government prepare students for leadership positions in public service and advocacy. Students develop sophisticated skills in policy analysis, research, and administration. With an ever-growing and diverse student body, the programs are continually expanding and enhancing their course offerings to meet both academic and practitioner needs. Currently, the programs serve over 400 students both onsite and online, including a large number of international students.

In both academic and administrative roles, the Assistant Program Director supports the curriculums, students, and adjunct faculty. The Assistant Program Director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Program Directors and other faculty within the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, as well as across other AAP programs, including the Applied Economics and Communication programs.

The Assistant Program Director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer, commensurate with experience. The Assistant Program Director reports to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, who consults with the Program Chair on academic matters, and to the Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, who leads the Advanced Academic Programs and reports to the Dean of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences.

The Assistant Program Director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities:

Teach 6 graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both on-site in the Washington, DC Center and online), using best practices for teaching, engaging, and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, and responding to student questions

Advise students, including both program and research/capstone advising

Provide input on the curriculums and new course development to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs

Other academic duties normally performed by full-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, or contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities:

Assist with the management of degree concentrations or areas of focus

Participate in the adjunct faculty hiring and development processes

Assist the Program Directors with administrative tasks, such as planning events and reviewing admission materials

Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications:

The Assistant Program Director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The Assistant Program Director must have a passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for international, part-time, and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in public administration, public policy, or political economy, or in a relevant field such as government or political science; other terminal degrees in these or related fields may be considered

- 1-3 years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level

- The ability to teach a variety of courses in one or more of the following areas: public administration, policy analysis and evaluation, public financial management and budgeting, political economy

- Strong organizational skills

- Excellent oral and written communication skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level

- 1-3 years of related professional experience within the areas of public policy, program management, or budget/financial analysis, including but not limited to positions in government (federal, state, or local), think tanks and public policy research organizations, advocacy associations, and nonprofits focused on public policy issues.

- Experience managing a degree or certificate program

- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design

- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions:

For consideration, interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/110584>):

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position

- CV

- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10547

SUNY, Buffalo State

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Buffalo State, State University of New York (SUNY), seeks candidates for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science and Public Administration beginning August 2022. Candidate will teach in one or more of the following areas: graduate and undergraduate level research design and/or statistics, organizational behavior/theory, public administration theory, emergency management and other courses in the department's programs.

Ph.D. in Public Administration, or a closely-related field such as public affairs, public policy, or political science. ABDs will be considered. The successful applicant needs to demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence and evidence of scholarly activity in the field of public administration and/or nonprofit management. In the cover letter, candidates should speak to their ability to teach and work with persons from culturally diverse backgrounds.

The Department is seeking applicants with broad training in the field of Public Administration who can teach in one or more of the following areas: graduate level research design and/or statistics, organizational behavior/theory, public administration theory, emergency management and other courses in the department's programs. Applicants must indicate in their cover letter the graduate and undergraduate courses they are qualified and interested in teaching, in addition to the modalities in which courses can be facilitated. The Department offers the following degree programs: BA Political Science, BA International Relations, MPA as well as graduate certificates in public management and emergency and disaster management.

Please apply using - <https://jobs.buffalostate.edu/postings/6346>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10484

University of Missouri, St. Louis

Rank: Assistant Extension Professor in Community Development

The University of Missouri St. Louis Political Science department seeks to recruit a faculty member with experience in community development. The incumbent will engage with University of Missouri Extension (MU Extension) Business and Communities Program and build effective working relationships with others across campus, across the UM System and throughout the state to help support an integrated approach to community development and food systems in Missouri. This is a 1.0 FTE, non-tenure track position. Assignments are subject to annual negotiation between the faculty member and leadership. Faculty with MU Extension appointments are commonly known as Specialists, with titles that indicate geographic focus and programmatic specialization. Specialists provide educational opportunities that enable businesses, farms, families, and communities to strengthen the economy and enhance quality of life. Additionally, specialists create partnerships with civic and business organizations, educational institutions, local and state leaders, and key stakeholders to identify priorities, increase resources, and determine how research-based education can best meet the needs of residents.

The Community Development program works collaboratively with communities to foster economic development, leadership development, community decision making, community emergency preparedness, food systems alignment and inclusive communities. For more information on community development programs, visit <https://extension2.missouri.edu/programs/community-leadership>

The Assistant Extension Professor in Community Development will:

- Contribute to high-impact applied research in community development and civic capacity through applied research on community belonging, civic contribution, collective leadership and with special attention to mechanisms that drive vitality and thriving communities in key areas such as food systems, broadband access, housing, and economic development.

- Develop and deliver community development programming through preparing curriculum, offering in-service education (ISE) classes to field faculty, delivering train-the-trainer programs
- Strengthen MU Extension programs & resources to support effective civic capacity-building through evidence-based research and evaluation
- Identify, secure, and manage competitive external funding opportunities
- Support Community Development Extension faculty by providing mentoring and evaluation resources for faculty related to community development and community planning tools
- Support scaling of successful programming through expansion fidelity and accountability
- Lead collaborative initiatives to address Missouri Food Systems challenges
- Work with UM System units on data, mapping, and utilizing geospatial technologies for community development and civic capacity building outcomes
- Write research reports and briefs; synthesize and present findings to key stakeholders
- Publish in appropriate peer-reviewed scientific journals and extension outlets and present at appropriate regional and national meetings
- Direct student research and outreach projects
- Participate in public, professional, and internal service activities
- Connect the resources of UMSL Economic Community Development academic home to the Extension field faculty
- Develop and support certificate offerings in UMSL continuing education
- Work with UMSL Geospatial Collaborative on community engaged research and projects.
- May include teaching courses within the UMSL Political Science department.
- Other duties as assigned.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: 7/24/2022

Date Posted: 7/11/2022

Salary: $80,000 - $89,999

eJobs ID: 10480

Miami University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration

Assistant or Associate Professor in Public Administration to teach courses across the public administration core and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; provide institutional and professional service; and participate in applied research projects through the Center for Public Management and Regional Affairs. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2023.

Required: Doctorate in public policy, public administration, political science, or a closely related field (completed by December 31, 2023 for re-appointment to a second year) for all levels of appointment including at the assistant rank. For appointment as an Associate Professor requires collegiate teaching expertise and high-quality research.

Consideration may be given to candidates with substantive expertise in an area of public policy and policy analysis.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts, writing sample, a one-page diversity statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion through research, teaching, and/or service to <https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/500451/assistant-or-associate-professor-public-administration>. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Patrick Haney at haneypj@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 9, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10451

American University School of Public Affairs

Rank: Open Rank Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

American University: School of Public Affairs: Public Administration and Policy

Open Rank, Public Administration

The Department of Public Administration and Policy (DPAP) in the School of Public Affairs (SPA) at American University invites applications for several full-time, tenure-track positions at the ranks of Full, Associate, and Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2023. Applicants should have a PhD in public administration, political science, or a related field. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring.

Teaching responsibilities will include core and elective courses in the School's highly ranked Master of Public Administration, Master of Public Policy and PhD degree programs. Possible courses include Introduction to Public Administration and the Policy Process, Legal Basis of Public Administration, Organizational Analysis, Managing Human Capital Assets, and others. In addition to producing high quality scholarship and effective teaching, responsibilities will include mentoring graduate students and service. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a PhD in public administration, political science, or a related field. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring.

We welcome applications from candidates with an excellent record or promise of scholarly research and exceptional teaching in public administration and management. Possible research topics of interest include but are not limited to: public administration and democracy, public administration and law, citizen voice and participation in governance, diversification of the public service and representative bureaucracy, organizational design and performance, public-private-non-profit networked governance.

Application Instructions:

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on July 15th, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. All applications received by September 15, 2022 will receive full consideration. Please submit applications via <http://apply.interfolio.com/107795>. Applications must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, copies of recently published articles and/or working papers, and three letters of recommendation.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The Department of Public Administration & Policy offers five graduate degrees, an undergraduate minor, and several graduate certificates. Its programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa and about the Department of Public Administration & Policy at www.american.edu/dpap.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/15/2022

Date Posted: 6/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10418

University of South Carolina

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor in Public Administration

The Department of Political Science at the University of South Carolina seeks applications for a 9-month, non-tenure track visiting assistant professor position in Public Administration to begin August 16, 2022. The salary for this position is $65,000. This is a 9-month non-tenure track appointment, renewable for a second year based on Dean's approval, satisfactory performance, departmental needs, and the availability of funding.

The position is open with regard to substantive specialization. The successful candidate will be able to teach a variety of classes in the department's NASPAA accredited Master in Public Administration program. Preference will be given to candidates who can teach financial management and/or nonprofit management. The visiting assistant professor position entails a 3+2 teaching load.

A Ph.D. in Public Administration, Political Science or a closely related field of study is required by the start date of appointment. Exceptions may be made for those who have successfully defended their dissertation prospectus and are actively working on completing their dissertation.

Candidates must submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript, and a list of three references with contact information. Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the position is filled. All applicants must fill out an online application at USC Jobs: <https://uscjobs.sc.edu/TMP01074PO22>.

Please contact the search committee chair, Xuhong Su, suxuhong@mailbox.sc.edu, with any questions.

The University of South Carolina-Columbia is classified as R1: Doctoral Universities – Highest research activity in the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education. Information regarding the Department of Political Science can be found at the department's website: <http://artsandsciences.sc.edu/poli/welcome>. Positions are advertised for a minimum of five (5) business days on our job website. After five (5) business days, positions can be closed at the discretion of the department at any time. This employment site is updated on a regular basis. The length of the recruitment and screening process may vary from position to position, depending upon a variety of factors. Should review of your qualifications result in a decision to pursue your candidacy, you will be contacted by phone or email.

The University of South Carolina is an affirmative action, equal opportunity employer. Minorities and women are encouraged to apply. The University of South Carolina does not discriminate in educational or employment opportunities on the basis of race, sex, gender, gender identity, transgender status, age, color, religion, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, genetics, protected veteran status, pregnancy, childbirth or related medical conditions.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/8/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10403

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Adjunct Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Public Administration

Specializations: Economic Policy, Research Methods, Public Finance & Budgeting

Institution Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of the most prestigious research universities, Johns Hopkins offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students in the mid-Atlantic region and online. In addition to the online programs, AAP also offers master's degrees and graduate certificate programs at its Washington, DC Center and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, Maryland. AAP has approximately 18,000 enrollments each academic year. JHU is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Position Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) division seeks non-tenure track adjunct faculty to teach several courses within the MA in Public Management program (see below). The courses will be taught online and/or onsite in Washington, DC in Fall 2022 and beyond. Candidates with online course development and teaching experience and those with experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

• 470.854 Fundamentals of Quantitative Methods

This course trains students to be informed consumers of quantitative studies, in addition to teaching the tools of basic statistical work. The course material covers basic descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, and data collection. The key learning objective is for students to develop a better understanding of the statistical and econometric results they may encounter in their careers.

• 470.631 Economics for Public Decision-making

This course aims to offer students an understanding of economics and its importance in public policymaking. The first half of the course will offer students an understanding of microeconomic and macroeconomic theory, including a discussion of when markets can work to achieve policy goals and when “market failures” call for government intervention. The second half of the class will use these economic tools and theories to survey several specific policy areas, including health policy, tax policy, and the national debt.

• 470.608 Public Policy Evaluation and the Policy Process

This course introduces students to the public policymaking process, the basics of policy analysis, and the substance of some of today's major policy debates. The first half of the course focuses on establishing a framework in which to analyze public policy formulation within the United States. The class also reviews the tools for developing and implementing policy. The second half of the course turns to policy analysis of some critical contemporary issues.

• 470.605 Global Political Economy

In this course, students investigate core topics in international political economy, analyzing the security implications of each. Topics include trade relations, international finance, monetary relations, poverty, and development.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- An advanced degree in public policy/public administration or in a relevant field, such as public finance, economics, or political economy, with a master's degree at minimum
- Two years of professional work experience within the relevant fields

Preferred Qualifications:

- A terminal degree in public policy/public administration or in a relevant field, such as public finance, economics, or political economy
- 1-3 years of graduate-level teaching experience
- Online teaching experience
- In-person/in the classroom teaching experience.
- The background to teach a wide variety of courses in the public management program.

Application Instructions

PLEASE APPLY HERE: <https://apply.interfolio.com/107918>

The positions will remain open until filled.

Candidates must submit the following:

- Cover letter: should indicate the course or courses you are interested in teaching and describe your relevant teaching and professional experience.
- Resume or Curriculum vitae
- Teaching evaluations for two most recently taught courses (if applicable)
- References upon request

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10394

Miami University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Public Administration

Visiting Assistant Professor/Instructor in Public Administration to teach courses across the public administration core and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program. The position begins at the start of the academic year August 2022.

Required: Ph.D. in Political Science or a closely related field by the date of appointment as Visiting Assistant Professor; ABD for appointment as Instructor. This position is not eligible for H-1B sponsorship.

Consideration may be given to candidates who possess teaching experience in some of the courses to be taught.

Submit cover letter, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, transcripts and writing sample to <https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/500217/visiting-assistant-professorinstructor-public-administration>. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

Miami University is committed to creating an inclusive and effective teaching, learning, research, and working environment for all.

As part of the University's commitment to maintaining a healthy and safe living, learning, and working environment, we encourage you to read Miami University's Annual Security & Fire Safety Report at <http://www.miamioh.edu/campus-safety/annual-report/index.html>, which contains information about campus safety, crime statistics, and our drug and alcohol abuse and prevention program designed to prevent the unlawful possession, use, and distribution of drugs and alcohol on campus and at university events and activities. This report also contains information on programs and policies designed to prevent and address sexual violence, domestic violence, dating violence, and stalking. Each year, email notification of this website is made to all faculty, staff, and enrolled students. Written notification is also provided to prospective students and employees. Hard copies of the Annual Security & Fire Safety Report may be obtained from the Miami University Police Department at (513) 529-2225. Criminal background check required. All campuses are smoke- and tobacco free.

Miami University is committed to providing up-to-date information from the Department of Labor to our applicants for employment. Here, you will find links to the current information regarding the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO), and the Employee Polygraph Protection Act (EPPA).

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10343

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Part-Time Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Middle Georgia State University has part-time employment opportunities for Political Science instructors, both online and on its campuses in Georgia (Macon, Warner Robins, Cochran, Eastman, and Dublin)

for day and evening classes. Our primary need at this time is for faculty qualified to teach, and interested in teaching, daytime sections of American Government (POLS 1101) on the Dublin, Macon, and/or Warner Robins campuses, or at other current and potential teaching sites in Georgia, although opportunities to teach other courses may also be available.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: To qualify for a teaching position, a candidate is required to have a minimum of an earned master's degree in Political Science or a closely related field (such as Public Administration or Public Policy), or a master's degree in another field with at least 18 graduate semester hours in Political Science courses.

For more information, please contact: Dr. Christopher Lawrence, Chair - Department of Political Science. E-mail: christopher.lawrence@mga.edu. Informal inquiries are welcome.

TO APPLY: Please see the full advertisement in our career opportunities portal by following the instructions below:

1. Visit the MGA Career Opportunities page at <https://www.mga.edu/human-resources/jobs/index.php>.
2. Click on the link labeled "Faculty and Staff Job Opportunities" towards the bottom of the page.
3. Search for position #240725, "Part Time Instructor - Department of Political Science."

Applications will be reviewed and candidates will be selected for vacancies on a rolling basis.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/17/2022

Salary: Below $20,000

eJobs ID: 10210

Stetson University

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Political Theory, Public Administration

STETSON UNIVERSITY, COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science (International Relations)

Stetson University seeks two individuals – one with broad interests and training in International Relations, and the other with broad interests and training in Political Theory and/or American Politics – for positions at the rank of Visiting Assistant Professor of Political Science. Each must have a desire to teach in a liberal arts setting with significant personal interactions with undergraduate students. Besides teaching introductory and upper-level undergraduate courses in their appropriate subfields of the discipline, each candidate will develop courses to complement existing strengths in the Department of Political Science and in one or more related programs (e.g. International Studies; Africana Studies; Asian Studies; Gender Studies; Social Studies; Global Development; Latin American & Latino Studies; and Russian, East European and Eurasian Studies). These two 9-month, full-time appointments span August 2022-May 2023.

QUALIFICATIONS:

A Ph.D. in Political Science is preferred, but applicants who are ABD will be considered if they are at the final stage of the dissertation process. Teaching experience beyond typical teaching assistant duties in graduate school is an advantage but not required. Candidates should have a strong commitment to innovative teaching, a creative approach to pedagogical design and implementation, and a strong commitment to all aspects of diversity in our learning-centered community.

RESPONSIBILITIES:

VAP faculty teach four courses each semester. Primary teaching responsibilities for the International Relations position include introductory and upper-level courses in International Relations and related subdisciplines (e.g. migration studies, international diplomacy, international law, security studies, etc.). For the Political Theory and/or American Politics position, teaching responsibilities include introductory and upper-level courses in Political Theory and/or American Politics and related subdisciplines (e.g. American political development, judicial studies, etc.). Other courses can be based on the candidate's expertise and training.

THE DEPARTMENT:

The Department of Political Science (<http://www.stetson.edu/artsci/political-science/>) offers academically rigorous majors in both Political Science and Public Management. Departmental faculty contribute regularly to interdisciplinary programs such as International Studies; Russian, Eastern European and Eurasian Studies; Latin American & Latino Studies; Africana Studies; the Honors Program; Environmental Science and Studies; and Public Health. We have had considerable success placing students in high-quality graduate programs in Political Science, International Affairs, Public Administration, and in prominent law schools. Faculty in the Department are committed to the teacher-scholar model, which involves teaching within a traditional liberal arts environment where the primary focus is extensive interaction with undergraduate students in a small class environment, while also maintaining an active research agenda.

THE COLLEGE OF ARTS AND SCIENCES:

Stetson's College of Arts and Sciences (<http://www.stetson.edu/portal/artsci/>) is the largest and most diverse of the University's colleges and schools; it includes the humanities, social sciences, natural sciences, education, and creative arts. With nineteen academic departments and eight interdisciplinary programs, the College is the liberal arts core of the University. A great strength of the College is its faculty of approximately 140 full-time teacher-scholars. The College offers 31 undergraduate majors and 34 undergraduate minors; six graduate degrees are offered in Education, Counselor Education, and Creative Writing. Every undergraduate major requires a senior research project, giving students the opportunity to design and carry out independent research under faculty mentorship. Our academic programs are shaped by the values of social justice and civic responsibility. All of our courses and programs of study promote engaged learning, whereby students create connections between the classroom or lab and the local, regional, and global community. The academic programs of the College of Arts and Sciences prepare students to live significant lives, to interact with and positively affect the world around them.

THE UNIVERSITY:

Founded in 1883, Stetson University (<http://www.stetson.edu>) is a private, selective university comprised of a rich array of liberal arts and professional academic programs. Collectively, Stetson's faculty works with nearly 4,000 students in undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs. The University's historic main campus, located in DeLand, enrolls more than 3,000 students in undergraduate programs in the College of Arts & Sciences, the School of Business Administration, and the School of Music. Stetson University College of Law, Florida's first law school, moved from the main campus to Gulfport in 1954, and, with the addition of the Tampa Law Center, serves approximately 1,000 students working full-time or part-time toward J.D. or LL.M. degrees. Graduate programs offered include Business, Accounting, Educational Leadership, Counseling, and Creative Writing. Florida's oldest private institution of higher learning, Stetson has regularly been ranked among the best regional universities in the Southeast and was the first private college in Florida to be granted a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa.

Stetson University provides an inspiring education that engages students with rigorous academic and creative study grounded in liberal learning and promotes civic values of personal and social responsibility. Working closely with faculty and with one another, students cultivate abilities to explore issues deeply, think critically, reason empirically, speak persuasively, and connect ideas creatively. Firmly committed to inclusive excellence, our vibrant community of teacher-scholars nurtures the potential of individual students to lead lives of significance and prepares each to meet the challenges of shaping the future—locally, nationally, and globally. Stetson University affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence.

THE COMMUNITY:

DeLand is a picturesque residential community of 39,000 located 20 miles west of Daytona Beach and 35 miles northeast of Orlando. The area offers extensive cultural as well as recreational activities.

SALARY: Salary is competitive.

STARTING DATE: August 10, 2022

APPLICATION:

Applicants must send the following materials for consideration: 1) a cover letter summarizing the candidate's interest in the position and qualifications, 2) a statement of the candidate's teaching philosophy, a representative sample of teaching evaluations, and other relevant teaching materials (e.g. syllabi, assignments, etc.), 3) a curriculum vitae, 4) copies of graduate transcripts, and 5) the names and contact information for three recommenders (at least one of which should be able to evaluate the candidate's teaching ability). Candidates who advance in the review process may be asked to provide letters of recommendation. In their materials, candidates are encouraged to highlight skills and experiences that demonstrate a commitment to social justice, diversity, and inclusion.

Review of applications will begin on March 25, 2022 and continue until the position is filled.

Application materials may be submitted electronically to the search committee at polisearch@stetson.edu or mailed to the following address:

Dr. William Russell Nylén
Chair, VAPs Search Committee
Department of Political Science
Stetson University
421 N. Woodland Blvd. Unit 8301
DeLand, FL 32723

Stetson University is an Equal Opportunity Employer that affirms cultural diversity and inclusion as a core value of academic excellence at Stetson University. We are committed to achieving equal access in education, employment, and participation through the recruitment and retention of outstanding faculty, staff, and students from diverse backgrounds, and to meaningful academic and intellectual transformation in curriculum, research and service. We are dedicated to actions and policies that foster a community in which individuals with various identities, cultures, backgrounds, and viewpoints work together to create opportunities for engagement through rewarding and fulfilling careers and personal experiences in a culturally and racially diverse society and a globalized world. We strongly encourage members of historically under-represented and economically-disadvantaged groups and women to apply for employment. Stetson University is an EEO, ADA, ADEA, and GINA employer.

Start Date:Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 3/7/2022Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 10177Michigan State University*Rank: Research Associate - Fixed TermSubfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Methodology

The Institute for Public Policy and Social Research seeks a full-time post-doctoral Research Associate to serve a fixed term position (one year renewable for a second year based on funding and performance) to oversee research on the Correlates of State Policy Project and related research. The Project aims to compile, disseminate, and encourage the use of data relevant to U.S. state policy research, tracking policy differences across and change over time in the 50 states as well as their causes and consequences. The Project is also expanding to incorporate federal congressional and district data. The Research Associate will be responsible for upkeep and expansion of the dataset and use of these data to produce peer-reviewed academic research. Appropriate candidates will demonstrate familiarity and use of this data as well as extensive experience in R statistical software and project management. Experience with R package development and Shiny apps would be a significant advantage. We welcome applicants from political science, sociology, economics, public policy, and related fields.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement:

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, age, disability or protected veteran status.

Required Degree:

Doctorate - Political Science, Sociology, Economics, Public Policy, or related field

Minimum Requirements:

The applicant must anticipate a PhD by the date of hire in the areas of political science, sociology, economics, public policy, and related fields.

Required Application Materials:

Interested applicants should send a cover letter explaining research interests, qualifications, career goals and a description of prior research, curriculum vitae, and names and contact information of three references. We will contact references only if the department requests it.

Together-we-will Statement:

The university is requiring all MSU students, faculty and staff to be vaccinated against COVID-19 with limited exceptions. Learn more at: <https://msu.edu/together-we-will/>

Special Instructions:

A review of applicants will be ongoing.

Review of Applications Begins On:

03/04/2022

Website:

IPPSR.MSU.EDU

MSU Statement:

Michigan State University has been advancing the common good with uncommon will for more than 160 years. One of the top research universities in the world, MSU pushes the boundaries of discovery and forges enduring partnerships to solve the most pressing global challenges while providing life-changing opportunities to a diverse and inclusive academic community through more than 200 programs of study in 17 degree-granting colleges.

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 2/17/2022Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 10112Troy University*Rank: Assistant/Associate/Full Professor

The Department of Political Science invites applicants for an open rank, tenure track position in Political Science (with a concentration in American Politics). This is a ten-month tenure-track position at our Troy, Alabama location. Responsibilities include teaching undergraduate political science courses in American Politics; teaching master's degree courses in our public administration (MPA) program, which will be delivered in person as well as online; and advising pre-law students. The position may be asked to teach courses at another Troy location depending on departmental needs.

The Department of Political Science at Troy University currently employs twenty-five faculty members who work in three programs: undergraduate political science, graduate international relations, and graduate public administration.

The start date for the position is August 1, 2022. Candidate must have degree in hand by the start date. Review of applications will begin September 15, 2021.

Please apply online at: <https://www.troyuniversityjobs.com/postings/30415>

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 9/9/2021Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 9313PUBLIC LAW*Occidental College*Rank: Assistant Professor of Urban Policy and PoliticsSubfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Public Administration

The Urban & Environmental Policy Department at Occidental College invites applications for a teacher and scholar at the Assistant Professor level in Urban Policy and Politics, with a focus on Community Organizing, Labor Studies, Urban Political Economy, and/or Public Policy. The position will begin August 2023.

We are interested in candidates who understand urban and environmental problems as deeply linked, and whose research and teaching examine issues of economic and social inequalities, labor and community organizing, and the social, economic, racial, and gender dimensions of workplaces and the labor market. We are interested in candidates whose work considers the role of politics and policymaking at local, state, and national levels, and the challenges faced by policymakers to address existing inequities while also finding sustainable, and democratic solutions to environmental and economic injustice. We seek a scholar who approaches their work through interdisciplinary analysis and considers the role of labor and community organizing as an important response to and strategy to address inequality and to advance social justice.

Occidental faculty are committed teacher-scholars who bring research and creative discovery to life for students in classrooms, labs, studios, and mentored projects. They teach broadly in the curricula of their departments, advise students, carry out research and creative work, and provide departmental, college-wide, and external service. The primary responsibilities of the selected candidate will include the development and teaching of introductory and core courses in the discipline, including courses in your area(s) of specialization. Specific courses that include the introductory level department course (UEP 101), Community Organizing and Leadership, Community Internship/Practicum; and Urban Politics and Policy; ; the senior comprehensive seminar; and a college-wide first year seminar as well as as well as developing new courses in Labor Studies and Public Policy Analysis. and/or a new course in their own area of expertise. The candidate will also be responsible for producing scholarship commensurate with the requirements for tenure and will be expected to develop a program of research that engages undergraduate students. Incoming faculty will be expected to contribute to and participate in the life and development of the department, advise students, serve on committees, and participate in the broader college and disciplinary communities.

We invite candidates from a range of disciplines, including sociology, political science, social work, social welfare, labor studies, urban planning, geography, applied economics, law, and public policy. In particular, we seek candidates with emphases from a range of disciplines in subfields of: race, gender, and work; urban politics; community organizing; and labor and globalization. Candidates are expected to hold the Ph.D. degree or terminal degree in their field, and must have completed or be completing their doctorate by fall 2023.

We are open to considering non-traditional candidates with extensive professional and community experience as well as a demonstrated record of research and teaching experience but who may not have a Ph.D. or other terminal degree but would prioritize engagement with students while bringing their extensive field experience into the academy.

Required Qualifications

demonstrated commitment to and excellence in undergraduate teaching. We seek an effective and engaged teacher able to explain the relationships between local and global aspects of our urban problems and how policy practitioners, advocates and researchers, along with government officials, can create practical solutions at the community, local, state, national, and global levels, and teach students to understand and apply ideas about urban politics and political economy, including issues of race, place, poverty, inequality, and policy in the context of a global political economy.

a strong record of scholarly accomplishments appropriate to the level of appointment or demonstration of applied research and written policy analyses for nontraditional candidates; an existing research program with a plan to integrate undergraduate students into their research.

demonstrated experience in a range of practices (advocacy, community organizing, government, community engaged research, and public service) with preference for experience working on how policy and organizing impacts marginalized, low-income, and communities of color.

demonstrated experience in working collaboratively with colleagues demonstrated potential for effective integration of technology into instruction

demonstrated commitment to working effectively with students from minoritized and marginalized social groups

ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service

demonstrated commitment to the four cornerstones of the mission of the College: excellence, equity, community, and service contribution to community engaged teaching and research, a central priority of the College's strategic plan.

Preferred Qualifications

experience working collaboratively with local community organizations

industry experience

Application Submission Materials

You must submit a complete application package electronically to be considered. To apply, please send the following required materials to UEPurbansearch@oxy.edu:

Cover Letter in which you respond to the required and preferred (if applicable) qualifications

Curriculum Vitae

Research Statement

Teaching Philosophy Statement

Commitment to Inclusive Excellence Statement

This statement provides your unique perspective on your past and present contributions to and future aspirations for promoting justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity in your professional career. This should include your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for students from marginalized and minoritized groups. The purpose of this statement is to help the department identify candidates who have professional experience, intellectual commitments, and/or willingness to engage in activities that could help the College contribute to its mission in these areas.

List of three references with relevant contact information

If you advance to the finalist phase, you will be asked to have each of your three references submit a letter of recommendation. Please have these ready for the referents to submit should you move forward to this phase of the search. Do not submit these letters with your initial application.

Upon receipt of a complete application package, you will receive a preliminary questionnaire. You must complete this questionnaire to move forward in the search process.

Please direct all questions about the position to: UEPurbansearch@oxy.edu

Application Deadline

To be assured full consideration, your application materials must be received by October 3, 2022.

The Department and College

The Urban and Environmental Policy Department is unique among liberal arts colleges. Many liberal arts colleges have urban studies, public policy, or environmental studies programs. Occidental's UEP major integrates each of these disciplines into a single interdisciplinary major, one that is uniquely situated in a liberal arts college located in the dynamic city of Los Angeles.

UEP is an interdisciplinary program that has multiple goals for student learning outcomes: critical thinking; writing and speaking skills; recognition and capacity to engage in policy development; knowledge about diverse communities and institutions; and an ability to translate what the students learn into a path for future learning and career development.

Our curriculum includes a heavy emphasis on writing and presentations, a strong focus on original research, including applied and policy-relevant research, community-engaged and client-based projects, and multiple strategies for community engagement, including community engaged research, internship requirements and opportunities in Los Angeles and beyond, and classes geared to providing an understanding of the policy process, with a focus on cities and the process of urbanization.

Oxy's location in urban Los Angeles sets it apart from other liberal arts colleges, most located outside of cities in more rural or suburban locations. UEP and the College has centered Oxy's Los Angeles location as critical to its curriculum. Our presence in Los Angeles offers the perfect setting for integrating the study of urban and environmental issues.

Finally, the Urban & Environmental Policy Institute (UEPI), our research, policy, and advocacy institute, mirrors our UEP major as a campus-wide center for community engagement, research, and advocacy. Through private foundation and government grants, UEPI has conducted research, engaged in policy analysis, and participated in advocacy efforts that have made a major difference in Los Angeles and around the country for over 15 years. UEPI has a professional research and program staff who develop programs and initiatives in the community that provide opportunities for all Oxy students to conduct research, study policy, and participate in advocacy. In the past four years more than 350 students from multiple majors across campus have participated in UEPI-funded projects. UEPI staff members bring professional degrees and experience to the classroom and have taught several UEP courses and advised, mentored, and provided research assistance to dozens of Oxy students – both UEP and non-UEP majors. Thus, UEPI has had a significant impact on the College's mission in terms of both classroom teaching and undergraduate research.

Additional Information

Occidental is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by state or federal law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators, and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College's strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Moving expense reimbursement (up to $5000, taxable according to current IRS regulations), start-up funds, and a one-course reduction of teaching load in the first year are provided. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit <https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information>.

All qualified applicants will be considered for employment, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles' Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for any part of the application or employment process, please contact Human Resources (hr@oxy.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/3/2022

Date Posted: 7/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10561

Alfred University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Tenure Track: Political Science and Government

Subfield(s): Political Theory, American Government and Politics, Public Law

Specializations: Africa, Gender Politics & Policy, Social Welfare

The Division of Social Sciences in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at Alfred University invites applications for a tenure-track position in political science at the rank of Assistant Professor to begin Fall 2023.

We are seeking someone to teach standard introductory-level and upper-division courses on topics that will interest a broad range of students. Along with courses in their area(s) of interest, the successful candidate will regularly teach our introductory course in American politics and courses in judicial processes and constitutional law. We will give preference to applicants who can teach political theory, identity politics, and/or political institutions such as the presidency and bureaucracy. Candidates with a demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary programs such as Women's and Gender Studies, Social Justice Studies, or Africana Studies are strongly encouraged to apply. We require applicants to have a Ph.D. in political science prior to appointment.

The Division of Social Sciences, which includes political science, sociology, criminal justice studies, and anthropology, is particularly interested in developing interdisciplinary collaborative courses, innovative technologies, and experiential learning. The successful candidate will teach three courses (four credit hours each) per semester. Additional teaching opportunities in the summer and winter breaks are available.

One of the first co-educational institutions in the United States, Alfred University is a top-ranked, small, comprehensive university committed to teaching and research and devoted to pursuing technical expertise, artistic creativity, and humanistic learning. Located in the foothills of the Allegheny Mountains in western New York State, Alfred University has around 1800 full and part-time undergraduate and graduate students and 150 fulltime faculty. In 2003, the University was awarded a Phi Beta Kappa chapter.

To apply submit the following materials:

- letter of interest
- curriculum vitae
- graduate transcripts
- Candidates should also have three references send their confidential letters of recommendation to humanresources@alfred.edu

We will begin reviewing applications on September 15th and continue until the position is filled. Application materials should highlight the candidate's experience in or plans for promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion through teaching, research, and service.

Please apply here: <https://alfreduniversity.applytojob.com/apply/7GYyflueG/Assistant-Professor-Tenure-Track-Political-Science-And-Government>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10507

Lehigh University

Rank: Assistant Professor - Constitutional Law/Public Law

The Department of Political Science at Lehigh University is seeking applications for a full-time, tenure-track faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning in August 2023. The successful candidate will possess a doctoral degree in Political Science or related field by the date of hire and contribute to research and teaching in constitutional law and public law. The teaching load for this position is two four-credit courses per semester.

Applicants should submit the following: a letter of interest that includes how they will contribute to a diverse and equitable community, curriculum vitae, a research statement, a teaching statement and the contact information for three professional references via Academic Jobs Online.

Serving approximately 110 undergraduate majors and 20 graduate students, the Department of Political Science offers a B.A. and M.A. degree as well as a Master of Public Policy. Interested applicants are invited to visit the Department of Political Science website: <https://polisci.cas.lehigh.edu/>

Founded in 1865, Lehigh University has combined outstanding academic and learning opportunities with leadership in fostering innovative research. Recognized among the nation's highly ranked research universities, Lehigh offers a rigorous academic community for nearly 7,000 students. Lehigh University has some 5,000 undergraduates, 2,000 graduate students, and about 550 full-time faculty members. Lehigh University is located in Bethlehem, PA., a vibrant and historic area. Over 820,000 people live in the Lehigh Valley, which is in close proximity to New York City and Philadelphia. Lehigh University ranks in the top 50 among national universities in U.S. News & World Report ratings and is in the most competitive category in both Peterson's Guide and Barron's Profiles of American Colleges. The university is located on a scenic, 1,600-acre campus in historic Bethlehem in a region of eastern Pennsylvania (USA) known as the Lehigh Valley. About 90 minutes from New York and Philadelphia, the Lehigh Valley is an attractive place to live and work with reasonable cost of living, easy commuting, good schools, and abundant cultural activities.

Lehigh University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of age, color, disability, gender, gender identity, genetic information, marital status, national or ethnic origin, race, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status. We are committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community. Lehigh University is committed to a culturally and intellectually diverse academic community and is especially interested in candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching and/or service, to this mission. Lehigh University is the recipient of an NSF ADVANCE Institutional Transformation award for promoting the careers of women in academic sciences and engineering <http://www.lehigh.edu/luadvance/> and is among institutions of higher education recognized for excellence in diversity with the INSIGHT into Diversity HEED Award. Additional information about Lehigh's commitment to diversity and inclusion is available at <https://diversityandinclusion.lehigh.edu/>. Lehigh University provides competitive salaries and comprehensive benefits, including domestic partner benefits. More information about Work/Life Balance for Faculty can be found at: <https://www.lehigh.edu/~inprv/faculty/worklifebalance.html> Lehigh University supports dual career efforts for following spouses/partners of newly hired faculty. Learn more about Dual Career Assistance at: <https://www.lehigh.edu/~inprv/faculty/dualcareer.html>.

The deadline for all applications is October 1, 2022. Questions about this position should be directed to the search committee chair, Professor Laura Katz Olson, at lko1@lehigh.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/1/2022

Date Posted: 7/12/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10486

Miami University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Law and/or Judicial Politics

Specializations: Judicial Politics, Civil Rights & Liberties, Constitutional Law & Theory

Assistant Professor in Public Law and/or Judicial Politics to teach courses in American politics, constitutional law, civil rights and liberties, racial politics and law, and elective curriculum for the undergraduate major and courses for the MA program; advise students; conduct relevant research leading to a record of published scholarship; and provide institutional and professional service. The position will begin in the start of the academic year August 2023.

Required: Doctorate in political science, or a closely related field completed by December 31, 2023 for re-appointment to a second year.

Submit letter of interest, curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, teaching philosophy, statement of research plans, transcripts, writing sample, and a one-page diversity statement addressing past and/or potential contributions to advancing diversity, equity, and inclusion through research, teaching, and/or service to <https://jobs.miamioh.edu/cw/en-us/job/500454/assistant-professor-public-law-and-judicial-politics>. Department will request letters of recommendation from references listed in the application. Inquiries may be addressed to Dr. Bryan Marshall at marshabw@miamioh.edu. Screening of applications will begin September 9, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10452

Occidental College

Rank: Part Time Non Tenure Track Faculty Instructor

Occidental College's Politics Department is seeking candidates for a non-tenure track faculty position to teach two companion law courses in the Spring 2023 semester. The first, "Lawyering for Social Justice," is a seminar on public interest law. The second, "Community Law Internship," involves preparing students for and placing them (all undergraduates) in internships with a variety of public interest law firms and nonprofit advocacy groups in the Los Angeles area. Students take both courses together. The internships take place at organizations engaged in public interest law and students' internships are a minimum of 12 hours each week, arranged at mutually convenient times. The seminar meets three hours per week and provides in-class instruction that scaffolds the internships. The instructor supports students in finding and navigating their internships and leads the seminar that provides a practical, academic, and/or legal context for the internship experience. Many students will be contemplating attending law school, but this is not the major goal of these courses.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/26/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10381

University of Kentucky

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar in Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY, invites applications for a teaching post-doc position focused on American Political Institutions with a particular interest in law and courts. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and inclusion mission of the department. This position will begin August 1, 2022. Applicants are expected to teach a 2/3 load and design at least one new course in the area of Legal Studies.

Applicants should show strong potential to provide effective undergraduate teaching and have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 2022.

Applicants should submit the following: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) letter stating the candidate's research and teaching interests (uploaded as Cover Letter), 3) copy of transcript for highest degree earned, 4) evidence of teaching experience, particularly syllabi from courses taught (uploaded as specific request 1). Provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information will be used to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10339

University of Kentucky

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar in Political Science

Subfield(s): Comparative Politics, International Relations, Public Law

The Department of Political Science at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY, invites applications for a teaching post-doc position in International Relations or Comparative Politics with particular interest in international organizations, international law, and/or comparative judicial politics. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and inclusion mission of the department. The position will begin August 1, 2022. Applicants are expected to teach a 2/3 load and design at least one new course in the area of Legal Studies.

Applicants should show strong potential to provide effective undergraduate teaching and have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 2022.

Applicants should submit the following: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) letter stating the candidate's research and teaching interests (uploaded as Cover Letter), 3) copy of transcript for highest degree earned, 4) evidence of teaching experience, particularly syllabi from courses taught (uploaded as specific request 1). Provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information will be used to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10340

University of New Orleans

Rank: Associate Professor or Assistant Professor

POLITICAL SCIENCE ASSOCIATE OR ASSISTANT PROFESSOR IN PUBLIC LAW
Tenure-Track

The University of New Orleans is a welcoming and inclusive university in one of America's most diverse and culturally vibrant cities.

Is This The Right Job For You?

? This Associate or Assistant Professor of Political Science in the field of Public Law is a great opportunity to continue the growth and success of your career in a Political Science Department that has long been recognized as expert in New Orleans and the region.

? The Department offers two degrees, a BA in Political Science and Master of Public Administration. The MPA program is professionally accredited by NASPAA (Network of Schools of Public Policy, Affairs, and Administration).

? We also contribute to UNO's interdisciplinary PhD in Justice program, which has four concentrations: social justice, criminal justice, environmental justice, and educational justice.

? You will enjoy a city with unmatched history, culture, and character. If you want to learn more, these quotes by well-known authors are a great place to start - <https://www.goodreads.com/quotes/tag/new-orleans>.

About Us

- Located on the southern shore of Lake Pontchartrain, only 15 minutes from the French Quarter, the University of New Orleans occupies a 195-acre campus in one of the finest residential areas of the city.
- UNO is ranked Top 50 in the Nation for Social Mobility by U.S. News & World Report.
- The Brookings Institution ranked UNO third in the nation for providing equal access to higher education for students from all income levels.
- For years, UNO has appeared on U.S. News & World Report's least debt list (schools whose graduates have the least amount of debt) among national universities.

UNO Welcomes Job Applicants from Diverse Backgrounds

Founded in 1958, the University of New Orleans was the first integrated university to open in the South. Given its history of educational access for all, UNO is committed to fostering diversity, equity, and inclusion - core values that inform all we do.

Job Summary

- Teach both undergraduate and graduate courses. Typical teaching load is three courses per semester.
- Contribute to our Master of Public Administration program (Law and Ethics) and our interdisciplinary Ph.D. program in Justice Studies.
- Serve as pre-law advisor.

Required Qualifications

- Candidates should have PhD in hand or close to completion in Political Science, Public Law, or related field.
- Excellent classroom presentation skills.
- Evidence of research productivity at the Associate Professor rank, or evidence of potential for research productivity at the Assistant Professor rank, should be provided.

Desired Qualifications

- Although not required, the ideal candidate will have the ability to teach courses in research methods.
- Although not required, the ideal candidate will also have a J.D.

Salary

Salary range is $62,000 to $80,000 commensurate with experience and rank.

Position Will Remain Open Until Filled

Desired starting date for the successful candidate is fall 2022. Review of applications will begin April 14, 2022, but the position will remain open until filled.

APPLY at <https://www.uno.edu/careers>

The University of New Orleans is an Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action employer.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/31/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10249

University of Louisiana at Lafayette

Rank: ASSISTANT PROFESSOR OF POLITICAL SCIENCE: PUBLIC LAW (TENURE-TRACK)

Subfield(s): Public Law, American Government and Politics, Open
Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, Judicial Politics

The Department of Political Science seeks applications for a tenure track appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning August 2022. A robust academic record with a teaching specialization in U.S. Public Law is necessary. Successful candidates will be an active educator in their field, with a standard teaching load of three courses per semester. The successful candidate will teach introductory sections of American National Government and upper division pre-law courses in support of the Department of Political Science's Pre-Law Concentration, which is a practically-focused law school preparation curriculum, and which comprises roughly half of the department's majors. The successful candidate will also assist other pre-law faculty in offering required Pre-Law courses such as Introduction to Law & Legal Reasoning, Constitutional Law, Civil Rights Law, and/or Civil Liberties, as well as offer new pre-law courses of the candidate's choosing and design. In addition to teaching these courses via the traditional face-to-face method, the candidate must be willing to develop and teach some of these courses as online and/or hybrid courses. The successful candidate will also share in the department's advising and service responsibilities and will work with colleagues to assess and improve curricula, conduct research and/or creative works such as publications and other scholarship in their respective area of specialization, and demonstrate institutional citizenship through active engagement at the department, college, university, public, and professional communities.

To apply for this, access the University of Louisiana at Lafayette Human Resources page here: <https://louisiana.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1720?c=louisiana>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 3/16/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10203

PUBLIC POLICY

Brown University

Rank: Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellows Program 2022-2024

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

The Watson Institute for International and Public Affairs at Brown University aspires to promote a just and peaceful world through research, teaching, and public engagement. Central to this mission is the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, an effort to galvanize the careers of young social scientists conducting research related to the Institute's three core thematic areas:

development, governance, and security. Participants in this program will join an interdisciplinary community of scholars engaged in theoretically and substantively important research addressing the most pressing global issues of our time. Fellows receive two years of support, with the expectation that they will pursue research and participate fully in the intellectual life of the Institute. Fellows will also teach one course per year in the Institute or in an affiliated Brown University social science department. Watson Institute is especially interested in qualified candidates who can contribute, through their research, teaching, and/or service, to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Founded in 1764, Brown is a leading research university distinct for its student-centered learning and deep sense of purpose. Brown University students, faculty, and staff are driven by the idea that their work will have an impact on the world. Brown is a place where rigorous scholarship, complex problem-solving, and service to the public good are defined by collaboration, intellectual discovery, and working in ways that transcend traditional disciplinary boundaries.

The fellowship competition is open to candidates from the social sciences, including anthropology, economics, history, political science, and sociology. The selection process, open with regard to nationality and geographic area of research, is highly competitive and typically generates over 500 applications for 4 or 5 places. Scholars who have received their PhDs within two years of the application deadline are eligible to apply. Individuals who are currently – or have previously been – postdoctoral fellows in other programs are not eligible to apply. Fellows will receive an annual stipend of $60,000, for this benefits-eligible position. Additional funding will be made available for research expenses and research-related programming on campus. Candidates selected for the Postdoctoral Fellows program who have not completed their dissertations by July 1, 2023, will be paid a reduced salary until their dissertation is defended.

To receive full consideration, the following materials should be submitted by September 30, 2022 to the application portal <http://apply.interfolio.com/109862>

- A cover letter stating the applicant's academic field, status of their dissertation, and proposed research to be conducted during their fellowship period. The cover letter should not exceed 2,000 words and should make clear where in the Institute's core areas of security, development, or governance the proposed research best fits.

Please also include a statement about teaching in a diverse and inclusive classroom.

- An up-to-date curriculum vitae.
- A copy of each graduate transcript.
- A writing sample.
- Three letters of recommendation from scholars familiar with the applicant's research.

Review of applications will begin on September 30; to receive full consideration applications should be received by that date. Awards will be announced in January 2023.

For further information regarding the Watson Institute Postdoctoral Fellows Program, please visit the Watson Institute website (watson.brown.edu) or contact: Professor J. Nicholas Ziegler, Faculty Director of the Watson Postdoctoral Fellows Program, 2022-2023, Thomas J. Watson Jr. Institute for International and Public Affairs, Brown University, 111 Thayer Street, Box 1970 Providence, RI 02912. j_ziegler@brown.edu. For information about the application process, please email: Watson_Applications@brown.edu

Brown University is situated on the East Side of Providence, on historic College Hill, overlooking downtown Providence. The area around Brown has a friendly, residential vibe, with plentiful housing options, shopping, cafés, and restaurants, all within walking distance of campus. With its low cost of living and historic architecture, the capital city is a vibrant place to live and work that offers a dynamic arts and culture scene, including many music, theater, and art venues. Located in southern New England, the State of Rhode Island features more than 400 miles of coastline and 100 beaches. Beautiful farms, vineyards, orchards, wooded trails, and numerous historic towns cover its 1200 square miles.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 9/30/2020

Date Posted: 8/1/2022

Salary: $60,000 - $69,999

eJobs ID: 10554

Fordham University

Rank: Assistant Professor

Job Ad in American Politics

Department of Political Science
Fordham University

The Department of Political Science at Fordham University invites applications for a tenure-track position in American Politics at the rank of Assistant Professor, beginning Fall 2023. The area of specialization is open, but the department is particularly interested in candidates who specialize in American institutions and might teach courses on the American presidency and American public policy. The position is located at Fordham's Rose Hill campus. We encourage applications from candidates who will deepen our engagement with institutions within New York City, advance strategically focused research, and contribute to the University's and the department's commitment to quality teaching and research.

Consistent with our Jesuit and Catholic mission, we believe that cultural and intellectual diversity and inclusivity are central to the excellence of our academic program and we strive to create an academic community and campus culture that attracts and facilitates the development of promising and diverse teacher-scholars. As our student body becomes increasingly diverse, we are especially interested in candidates with substantive experience and commitment to inclusive teaching and mentoring students from a range of social, cultural and economic backgrounds.

Review of applications will begin on October 1. Interested applicants must submit the following documents in electronic format (PDF or Microsoft Word) via Interfolio, at <http://apply.interfolio.com/108909>: a cover letter addressing research interests and experience, curriculum vitae, writing sample (no more than 30-35 pages), three letters of reference, and evidence of teaching effectiveness. Evidence of teaching effectiveness should include a teaching statement reflecting the candidate's pedagogical approach and experience and may include past course syllabi and/or peer observations; please do not include student evaluations as these will not be considered. Application materials should also address how the candidate's teaching, mentoring, scholarship, and/or community service supports Fordham University's commitment to diversity. Ph.D. at the time of appointment is required. If you have questions about this position, please contact Professor Monika McDermott at mmcdermott@fordham.edu.

Fordham is an independent, Catholic University in the Jesuit tradition committed to excellence through diversity. Fordham is an equal opportunity employer, and we especially encourage women, people of color, veterans, and people with disabilities to apply.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/1/2022
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10552

University of Chicago

Rank: Collegiate Assistant Professor
Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, International Relations, Public Policy
Specializations: American Politics, Western Europe, Political Thought: Historical

The College at the University of Chicago is now accepting applications for four-year postdoctoral teaching appointments as Harper and Schmidt Fellows who hold the rank of Collegiate Assistant Professor. Collegiate Assistant Professors are members of the College Faculty whose primary professional responsibility is to teach in the general education (Core) program.

Core courses in the Humanities typically deal with fundamental issues and texts in history, philosophy, and literature. Currently, the Core is organized into eight year-long sequences: Readings in World Literature; Human Being and Citizen; Greece and Rome: Texts, Traditions, Transformations; Philosophical Perspectives on the Humanities; Media Aesthetics; Reading Cultures; Poetry and the Human; and Language and the Human. For a description of these sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/humanities/>.

Core courses in the Social Sciences explore, on the basis of significant works or primary source materials, the fundamental concepts and the different modes of inquiry that have defined the social sciences in the modern period. Currently, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach in six of the year-long sequences into which the Core is organized: Self, Culture and Society; Classics of Social and Political Thought; Power, Identity, and Resistance; Global Society; Mind (a broad course explaining social science in the context of psychological science research); and Social Science Inquiry. For a description of these sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/socialsciences/>.

Some Collegiate Assistant Professors also teach in the History of European Civilization Core sequence as well as the Introductions to the Civilizations of East Asian Core sequences. These courses are taught on the basis of intensive readings of significant primary source documents. For descriptions of the History of European Civilization and the Civilizations of East Asia sequences see: <http://collegecatalog.uchicago.edu/thecollege/civilizationstudies/>.

The positions are open to scholars in all disciplines and areas of specialization who will have completed all requirements for their Ph.D. degree no later than August 31, 2023. Candidates must demonstrate excellence in teaching as well as in their original scholarship.

In most years, Collegiate Assistant Professors teach two courses (usually of identical preparation) for each of three quarters. In the second through fourth year of residence, each Collegiate Assistant Professor has the opportunity to design up to two independent courses and each is eligible for one quarter of research sabbatical. In the fourth year there is a possibility of another quarter of sabbatical with salary reduction.

The position comes with an annual salary for 2023-24 of $80,166, carries full benefits, and an annual professional development fund of $6,500. The effective date for these teaching appointments is September 1, 2023.

To apply for these positions, please see our web site at <https://fellows.uchicago.edu>. The web site will be available to accept applications beginning August 19, 2022.

The terms and conditions of these positions are described in the collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Service Employees International Union.

On-line application deadline: 11:59:59 PM EDT, Friday, October 14, 2022.

We seek a diverse pool of applicants who wish to join an academic community that places the highest value on rigorous inquiry and encourages diverse perspectives, experiences, groups of individuals, and ideas to inform and stimulate intellectual challenge, engagement, and exchange. The University's Statements on Diversity are at <https://provost.uchicago.edu/statements-diversity>.

The University of Chicago is an Affirmative Action/Equal Opportunity/Disabled/Veterans Employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national or ethnic origin, age, status as an individual with a disability, protected veteran status, genetic information, or other protected classes under the law. For additional information please see the University's Notice of Nondiscrimination at <https://www.uchicago.edu/non-discrimination>.

Job seekers in need of a reasonable accommodation to complete the application process should call 773-834-0681 or email dneibel@uchicago.edu with their request.

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 10/14/2022
Date Posted: 8/1/2022
Salary: $80,000 - $89,999
eJobs ID: 10577

Occidental College

Rank: Assistant Professor of Urban Policy and Politics
Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Law, Public Administration

The Urban & Environmental Policy Department at Occidental College invites applications for a teacher and scholar at the Assistant Professor level in Urban Policy and Politics, with a focus on Community Organizing, Labor Studies, Urban Political Economy, and/or Public Policy. The position will begin August 2023.

We are interested in candidates who understand urban and environmental problems as deeply linked, and whose research and teaching examine issues of economic and social inequalities, labor and community organizing, and the social, economic, racial, and gender dimensions of workplaces and the labor market. We are interested in candidates whose work considers the role of politics and policymaking at local, state, and national levels, and the challenges faced by policymakers to address existing inequities while also finding sustainable, and democratic solutions to environmental and economic injustice. We seek a scholar who approaches their work through interdisciplinary analysis and considers the role of labor and community organizing as an important response to and strategy to address inequality and to advance social justice.

Occidental faculty are committed teacher-scholars who bring research and creative discovery to life for students in classrooms, labs, studios, and mentored projects. They teach broadly in the curricula of their departments, advise students, carry out research and creative work, and provide departmental, college-wide, and external service. The primary responsibilities of the selected candidate will include the development and teaching of introductory and core courses in the discipline, including courses in your area(s) of specialization. Specific courses that include the introductory level department course (UEP 101), Community Organizing and Leadership, Community Internship/Practicum; and Urban Politics and Policy; ; the senior comprehensive seminar; and a college-wide first year seminar as well as as well as developing new courses in Labor Studies and Public Policy Analysis. and/or a new course in their own area of expertise. The candidate will also be responsible for producing scholarship commensurate with the requirements for tenure and will be expected to develop a program of research that engages undergraduate students. Incoming faculty will be expected to contribute to and participate in the life and development of the department, advise students, serve on committees, and participate in the broader college and disciplinary communities.

We invite candidates from a range of disciplines, including sociology, political science, social work, social welfare, labor studies, urban planning, geography, applied economics, law, and public policy. In particular, we seek candidates with emphases from a range of disciplines in subfields of: race, gender, and work; urban politics; community organizing; and labor and globalization. Candidates are expected to hold the Ph.D. degree or terminal degree in their field, and must have completed or be completing their doctorate by fall 2023.

We are open to considering non-traditional candidates with extensive professional and community experience as well as a demonstrated record of research and teaching experience but who may not have a Ph.D. or other terminal degree but would prioritize engagement with students while bringing their extensive field experience into the academy.

Required Qualifications

demonstrated commitment to and excellence in undergraduate teaching. We seek an effective and engaged teacher able to explain the relationships between local and global aspects of our urban problems and how policy practitioners, advocates and researchers, along with government officials, can create practical solutions at the community, local, state, national, and global levels, and teach students to understand and apply ideas about urban politics and political economy, including issues of race, place, poverty, inequality, and policy in the context of a global political economy.

a strong record of scholarly accomplishments appropriate to the level of appointment or demonstration of applied research and written policy analyses for nontraditional candidates; an existing research program with a plan to integrate undergraduate students into their research.

demonstrated experience in a range of practices (advocacy, community organizing, government, community engaged research, and public service) with preference for experience working on how policy and organizing impacts marginalized, low-income, and communities of color.

demonstrated experience in working collaboratively with colleagues demonstrated potential for effective integration of technology into instruction

demonstrated commitment to working effectively with students from minoritized and marginalized social groups ability to balance excellent teaching, scholarship, and service demonstrated commitment to the four cornerstones of the mission of the College: excellence, equity, community, and service contribution to community engaged teaching and research, a central priority of the College's strategic plan.

Preferred Qualifications

experience working collaboratively with local community organizations

industry experience

Application Submission Materials

You must submit a complete application package electronically to be considered. To apply, please send the following required materials to UEPurbansearch@oxy.edu:

Cover Letter in which you respond to the required and preferred (if applicable) qualifications

Curriculum Vitae

Research Statement

Teaching Philosophy Statement

Commitment to Inclusive Excellence Statement

This statement provides your unique perspective on your past and present contributions to and future aspirations for promoting justice, equity, inclusion, and diversity in your professional career. This should include your demonstrated commitment to, past evidence of, and future plans for creating equitable opportunities for learning and mentoring especially for students from marginalized and minoritized groups. The purpose of this statement is to help the department identify candidates who have professional experience, intellectual commitments, and/or willingness to engage in activities that could help the College contribute to its mission in these areas.

List of three references with relevant contact information

If you advance to the finalist phase, you will be asked to have each of your three references submit a letter of recommendation. Please have these ready for the referents to submit should you move forward to this phase of the search. Do not submit these letters with your initial application.

Upon receipt of a complete application package, you will receive a preliminary questionnaire. You must complete this questionnaire to move forward in the search process.

Please direct all questions about the position to: UEPurbansearch@oxy.edu

Application Deadline

To be assured full consideration, your application materials must be received by October 3, 2022.

The Department and College

The Urban and Environmental Policy Department is unique among liberal arts colleges. Many liberal arts colleges have urban studies, public policy, or environmental studies programs. Occidental's UEP major integrates each of these disciplines into a single interdisciplinary major, one that is uniquely situated in a liberal arts college located in the dynamic city of Los Angeles.

UEP is an interdisciplinary program that has multiple goals for student learning outcomes: critical thinking; writing and speaking skills; recognition and capacity to engage in policy development; knowledge about diverse communities and institutions; and an ability to translate what the students learn into a path for future learning and career development.

Our curriculum includes a heavy emphasis on writing and presentations, a strong focus on original research, including applied and policy-relevant research, community-engaged and client-based projects, and multiple strategies for community engagement, including community engaged research, internship requirements and opportunities in Los Angeles and beyond, and classes geared to providing an understanding of the policy process, with a focus on cities and the process of urbanization.

Oxy's location in urban Los Angeles sets it apart from other liberal arts colleges, most located outside of cities in more rural or suburban locations. UEP and the College has centered Oxy's Los Angeles location as critical to its curriculum. Our presence in Los Angeles offers the perfect setting for integrating the study of urban and environmental issues.

Finally, the Urban & Environmental Policy Institute (UEPI), our research, policy, and advocacy institute, mirrors our UEP major as a campus-wide center for community engagement, research, and advocacy. Through private foundation and government grants, UEPI has conducted research, engaged in policy analysis, and participated in advocacy efforts that have made a major difference in Los Angeles and around the country for over 15 years. UEPI has a professional research and program staff who develop programs and initiatives in the community that provide opportunities for all Oxy students to conduct research, study policy, and participate in advocacy. In the past four years more than 350 students from multiple majors across campus have participated in UEPI-funded projects. UEPI staff members bring professional degrees and experience to the classroom and have taught several UEP courses and advised, mentored, and provided research assistance to dozens of Oxy students – both UEP and non-UEP majors. Thus, UEPI has had a significant impact on the College's mission in terms of both classroom teaching and undergraduate research.

Additional Information

Occidental is an Equal Opportunity Employer and does not unlawfully discriminate against employees or applicants on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, pregnancy, breastfeeding or related medical condition, national origin, ancestry, citizenship, age, marital status, physical disability, mental disability, medical condition, genetic characteristic or information, military and veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by state or federal law. Occidental is strongly committed to increasing the diversity of the campus community and the curriculum, and to fostering an inclusive, equitable, and just environment within which students, staff, administrators, and faculty thrive. Candidates who can contribute to this goal through their teaching, research, advising, and other activities are encouraged to identify their strengths and experiences in this area. Individuals advancing the College's strategic equity and justice goals and those from groups whose underrepresentation in the American professoriate has been severe and longstanding are particularly encouraged to apply.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. Moving expense reimbursement (up to $5000, taxable according to current IRS regulations), start-up funds, and a one-course reduction of teaching load in the first year are provided. A comprehensive benefits package is available that includes: excellent health, dental, life, and retirement benefits; tuition benefits for the employee, spouse, domestic partner, and dependents; additional extras including use of gym facilities and the College Library. For a detailed description of benefits, please visit <https://www.oxy.edu/offices-services/human-resources/benefits-information>.

All qualified applicants will be considered for employment, including those with criminal histories, in a manner consistent with the requirements of applicable state and local laws, including the City of Los Angeles' Fair Chance Initiative for Hiring Ordinance.

Occidental College is committed to working with and providing reasonable accommodations to applicants with qualifying disabilities. If you need a reasonable accommodation because of a disability for any part of the application or employment process, please contact Human Resources (hr@oxy.edu).

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: 10/3/2022

Date Posted: 7/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10561

Florida State University

Rank: Assistant Professor in Public Policy

The Department of Political Science (<https://coss.fsu.edu/polisci/>) in the College of Social Sciences & Public Policy at Florida State University seeks applications for two tenure-track assistant professor positions to begin in Fall 2023. We seek candidates whose research focuses on public policy. The search is open with respect to specialization, and applicants studying American or comparative public policy are welcome. Successful candidates are expected to add to the department's strengths in quantitative, experimental, and/or formal methods.

Florida State University is a Carnegie Foundation classified Research I institution. Among its 44,000 students are over 10,000 graduate students pursuing over 200 programs of study. Tallahassee is Florida's capital and has a metropolitan population of over 385,000. Its principal employers are state government and three higher education institutions.

Applicants should submit (1) a letter of application indicating research and teaching interests, (2) a curriculum vitae, (3) writing samples, (4) three letters of recommendation, and (5) a graduate school transcript. All items must be submitted electronically. Send these files as separate email attachments (PDFs are expected) to polisci@fsu.edu and specify "Public Policy Search" in the subject line. Review of applications will begin September 16, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled.

Contact: Prof. Eric Coleman

Email: ecoleman@fsu.edu

Phone: 850-644-5727

Department of Political Science

Florida State University
P.O. Box 3062160
Bellamy 531
Tallahassee, FL 32306-2230

Start Date: Fall 2023
Application Deadline: 9/16/2022
Date Posted: 7/27/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10545

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Assistant Program Director/Lecturer or Sr. Lecturer, Policy and Administration

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Public Administration, American Government and Politics

Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences
Advanced Academic Programs

Apply here: <https://apply.interfolio.com/110584>

Location:
Washington, DC

Description:

The Johns Hopkins University invites applications for the position of Assistant Program Director in the area of Public Policy and Administration. This position will support the Master of Arts in Public Management (primary), Master of Arts in Nonprofit Management, and Master of Arts of Government programs in the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, within the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences' Advanced Academic Programs Division. Reporting to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies and Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, the Assistant Program Director will contribute to the excellence of the programs and will demonstrate and support ongoing innovation in the curriculums. Johns Hopkins University is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Advanced Academic Programs:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of its most prestigious research universities, JHU offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students online, at its Washington, DC Center, and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, MD. AAP enrolls over 6,000 students each academic year in over 45-degree programs.

AAP was started in 1992 to provide students with the opportunity to obtain a master's degree in a professional and part-time graduate program. Over the course of nearly 30 years, AAP has worked diligently to add new degree programs that fit within the academic structure of the Krieger School and satisfy the demands of the marketplace. AAP distinguishes itself through its intensive instructional assistance, selective admissions, and more than 50 dedicated full-time faculty. Tenured Krieger School faculty members serve as Program Chairs within AAP and work together in the Council of Program Chairs, an academic advisory body to the KSAS Dean.

AAP's website, <http://advanced.jhu.edu/>, provides additional information.

The Position:

AAP's programs in public management, nonprofit management, and government prepare students for leadership positions in public service and advocacy. Students develop sophisticated skills in policy analysis, research, and administration. With an ever-growing and diverse student body, the programs are continually expanding and enhancing their course offerings to meet both academic and practitioner needs. Currently, the programs serve over 400 students both onsite and online, including a large number of international students.

In both academic and administrative roles, the Assistant Program Director supports the curriculums, students, and adjunct faculty. The Assistant Program Director will have significant interaction/collaboration with the Program Directors and other faculty within the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, as well as across other AAP programs, including the Applied Economics and Communication programs.

The Assistant Program Director is a full-time, non-tenure-track, 12-month renewable faculty position with the academic title of Lecturer or Senior Lecturer, commensurate with experience. The Assistant Program Director reports to the Director of the Center for Advanced Governmental Studies, who consults with the Program Chair on academic matters, and to the Associate Dean for Graduate & Professional Programs, who leads the Advanced Academic Programs and reports to the Dean of the Krieger School of Arts & Sciences.

The Assistant Program Director will have the following academic and administrative responsibilities:

Academic Responsibilities:

Teach 6 graduate courses per year, including preparation and time spent in the classroom (both on-site in the Washington, DC Center and online), using best practices for teaching, engaging, and mentoring students from diverse backgrounds in the learning process, and responding to student questions

Advise students, including both program and research/capstone advising

Provide input on the curriculums and new course development to ensure the delivery and growth of quality programs

Other academic duties normally performed by full-time faculty, such as participating on committees, attending academic events, or contributing to other academic service

Administrative Responsibilities:

Assist with the management of degree concentrations or areas of focus

Participate in the adjunct faculty hiring and development processes

Assist the Program Directors with administrative tasks, such as planning events and reviewing admission materials

Other administrative duties as assigned

Qualifications:

The Assistant Program Director role is critical to maintaining the overall high quality of this program. The Assistant Program Director must have a passion for education and its power to change lives, especially for international, part-time, and non-residential students. A track record of successful graduate and/or online teaching, as well as skills in instructional design, content development, and instructional technology, are important.

Candidates who have experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

To be considered, candidates should meet a set of minimum qualifications and ideally meet several additional preferred qualifications.

Minimum Qualifications:

- PhD in public administration, public policy, or political economy, or in a relevant field such as government or political science; other terminal degrees in these or related fields may be considered
- 1-3 years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- The ability to teach a variety of courses in one or more of the following areas: public administration, policy analysis and evaluation, public financial management and budgeting, political economy
- Strong organizational skills
- Excellent oral and written communication skills

Preferred Qualifications:

- 4 or more years of higher education teaching experience online and/or at the graduate level
- 1-3 years of related professional experience within the areas of public policy, program management, or budget/financial analysis, including but not limited to positions in government (federal, state, or local), think tanks and public policy research organizations, advocacy associations, and nonprofits focused on public policy issues.
- Experience managing a degree or certificate program
- Demonstrated track record of excellence in teaching and innovation in curriculum design
- The ability to work independently in a fast-paced environment with competing demands and multiple deadlines in both on-site and online environments

Application Instructions:

For consideration, interested and qualified candidates should submit the following materials via Interfolio (<https://apply.interfolio.com/110584>):

- Cover letter that describes the applicant's interest in the position
- CV
- Teaching evaluations from the two most recent semesters

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10547

Arizona State University

Rank: Associate/Full Professor Job Code #99382

Specializations: Leadership Studies, Political Thought: Historical, Constitutional Law & Theory

Associate/Full Professor (Job #99382)

School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership

Arizona State University

Associate Director, School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership

Arizona State University invites applications for the position of Associate Director of the School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership (SCETL), a tenured faculty member in the School who will provide senior administrative leadership based on extensive and successful experience. U.S. News and World Report has ranked Arizona State University (ASU) as the most innovative university in the country for the past seven years, ahead of Stanford and the Massachusetts Institute for Technology. Contributing to that no. 1 ranking is the new School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership, which aims to create a new kind of leader by blending tradition and innovation, and blending liberal arts and civic education. SCETL plays a leading role in the intellectual and civic life of ASU and the various communities that it serves.

DESCRIPTION: The School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership (SCETL), entering its sixth year, is a growing academic and civic enterprise with an undergraduate major and minor, undergraduate PPE certificate, an M.A. degree in Classical Liberal Education and Leadership, an ambitious speakers program – the Civic Discourse Project – and two Centers for research and public outreach. The Center for Political Thought and Leadership (CPTL) focuses on civic education, especially American political and constitutional thought, for a broad public and for higher education and particularly for K-12 schools. The Center for the Study of Economic Liberty pursues national and international research on economic thought, debates about markets, and policies affecting economic liberty.

The Associate Director of the School of Civic & Economic Thought and Leadership (SCETL) will be a tenured faculty member in the School, holding significant administrative leadership roles along with teaching and research expectations. The Associate Director will support the Director with internal leadership and administration of the School in its complex array of missions, and with selected external relations and duties; including the Director's efforts on strategic planning, internal governance with SCETL's faculty advisory committee, and special committee assignments; and coordination with the Center directors, SCETL faculty leaders, and SCETL senior staff. The Associate Director also will support development efforts and coordinate with SCETL's Board of Counselors, a distinguished group of political and civic leaders.

DUTIES: In addition to the specific duties associated with the above description, the SCETL Associate Director will be expected to meet the normal requirements of a regular faculty member at ASU: to have an active, productive, and nationally recognized research agenda in accordance with ASU's status as an R1 research institution, and to engage in regular teaching (with a reduced course load given administrative duties). Further, the Associate Director will be a crucial leader in the continued development of the undergraduate and graduate curricula and programs, faculty hiring, retention and promotion, and development of broader aspects of the School's blended educational and civic mission.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: Applicants are required to hold a Ph.D. by time of appointment in Political Science, Philosophy, History, American Studies, or a related field. Applicants must also possess a record of research activity sufficient for tenure at an R1 research university, with some focus on American political thought, leadership, and civic education.

DESIRED QUALIFICATIONS: Stronger applicants will have an ongoing independent research agenda focusing on American political thought and constitutional law, American political development, and/or civic education; supported by an extensive record of successful publications both in academic and popular outlets; and some research or teaching focus on civic education and on leadership. Stronger applicants also will have successful and extensive experience in both building and administering academic programs; supervising and collaborating with faculty leaders and senior support staff; working successfully with university administration and leaders; acquiring external funding; serving as a public spokesperson for an academic program with the media and community leaders; and with connecting an academic program to statewide, regional, and national networks in research, education, and the strengthening of American civic life. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences within ASU values our demographic, cultural, and intellectual diversity, and continually strives to foster a welcoming and inclusive environment. We are especially interested in applicants who can strengthen the diversity of the academic community. Learn more about what The College has to offer by visiting <https://thecollege.asu.edu/faculty>.

Application Deadline and Procedure: The application deadline is September 3, 2022; if not filled, every two weeks thereafter until search is closed. To apply, submit application materials to apply.interfolio.com/110120 1) curriculum vitae; 2) cover letter addressing your interest and qualifications (addressed to Search Committee Chair, Dr. Ross Emmett); 3) contact information (including email addresses) for three references; 4) a statement addressing how your past and/or potential contributions to demographic, cultural, and intellectual diversity and inclusion will advance ASU's commitment to inclusive excellence. Anticipated start date is July 1, 2023.

For further information, contact Associate Director Search Committee, School of Civic and Economic Thought and Leadership, at apply.interfolio.com/110120 ; or the search committee Chair: Dr. Ross Emmett, email Ross.Emmett@asu.edu.

A background check is required prior to employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law. ASU's full non-discrimination policy (ACD 401) is located on the ASU website at <http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html> and <https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/>. In compliance with federal law, ASU prepares an annual report on campus security and fire safety programs and resources. ASU's Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is available online at <https://www.asu.edu/police/PDFs/ASU-Clery-Report.pdf>. You may request a hard copy of the report by contacting the ASU Police Department at 480-965-3456.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 7/3/2023

Date Posted: 7/25/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10531

University of Virginia

Rank: Assistant or Associate Director of Presidential Studies

The University of Virginia's Miller Center (millercenter.org) seeks an ASSISTANT or ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF PRESIDENTIAL STUDIES (depending on experience) to work closely with the Director of Presidential Studies to develop and implement the overall strategy and manage day-to-day operations of the Center's flagship programs in Presidential Studies. The Assistant or Associate Director develops and implements initiatives that further the mission of the Center, providing budgetary and administrative oversight, directly coordinating and scheduling presidential studies events both on and off site, and working with faculty in fulfilling the Center's research agenda. The Assistant or Associate Director manages one full-time coordinator and manages student engagement in Miller Center programs and events. This position is a University Staff position.

Qualifications

- Master's degree required, Ph.D. preferred, preferably in U.S. history, political science, law, or a related field

- To be considered at the Assistant level, five years of experience is required. To be considered at the Associate level, seven years of experience is required.

For a full position description, including responsibilities, additional qualifications, and additional position information, see https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Assistant-or-Associate-Director-of-Presidential-Studies_R0038073.

To Apply

Apply at https://uva.wd1.myworkdayjobs.com/en-US/UVAJobs/job/Charlottesville-VA/Assistant-or-Associate-Director-of-Presidential-Studies_R0038073. Complete an application online with the following documents:

- Resume/CV
- Cover letter
- Three (3) writing samples – samples of past work that are relevant to this role or on a related subject matter

Start Date:

Date Posted: 7/23/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10524

Union College

Rank: Joseph B. Board Professor of Environmental Policy

The Department of Political Science and Environmental Science, Policy, and Engineering (ESPE) Program at Union College invite applications for the Joseph B. Board Professor of Environmental Policy. This is a tenure-track, assistant professor position in the Political Science Department, with the successful candidate contributing courses to Political Science as well as the ESPE Program. This endowed position includes a salary supplement and an annual allowance to support research and travel. The position will begin in fall 2023 and is conditional on budget.

We will hire a faculty member with expertise in environmental policy with a strong preference for a focus on climate policy. We also welcome applicants with additional teaching interests in (but not limited to) one or more of the following: environmental/climate justice, environmental law, the U.S. policymaking process, environmental activism, or global environmental politics. The successful candidate will be expected to teach Introduction to U.S. Politics and the Environmental Science and Policy Senior Seminar (on a topic in their area of expertise) as well as advise a combination of Political Science and ESPE senior projects. Other advanced-level policy courses will be appropriate for Political Science and ESPE students. Union College recognizes the rich possibilities of interdisciplinary studies by offering many opportunities for both faculty and students to engage with multiple disciplines – and each other – in collaborative classroom settings, innovative majors, and unique research initiatives. The successful hire will contribute courses to ESPE and potentially other interdisciplinary programs, depending on their areas of expertise.

Union College is a leading national undergraduate liberal arts college located in Schenectady, NY, a culturally rich and economically diverse city in New York State's Capital Region, and is within three hours from New York City, Boston, and Montreal. Union offers highly competitive salary and benefits. For more information on benefits, please visit our website: <https://www.union.edu/human-resources/benefits>.

The normal teaching load is six courses across a trimester system. Normally, faculty supervise senior projects that count for one course of the teaching load. Tenure track hires have a one course load reduction in their first year and receive additional research support. Evidence of teaching experience and effectiveness will be important, as will evidence of research achievements and an agenda for future work. Candidates with a Ph.D. are preferred, though ABD candidates who will complete their degree requirements by September 1, 2023 will be considered.

Union College is an equal opportunity employer and strongly committed to student and workforce diversity. Union provides a blend of intellectual, social and cultural opportunities to facilitate the integrated academic, social and personal development of a diverse community. We value and are committed to a host of diverse populations and cultures including, but not limited to, those based on race, religion, disability, ethnicity, sexual orientation, gender, gender identity, national origin and veteran status. Increasing diversity on campus is a critical priority for Union, one that is integral to our mission of preparing students for a globally interconnected world. Our goal is not only to increase diversity, but to support a diverse environment in which people from varied backgrounds can succeed and thrive. As such, we welcome applications from members of groups traditionally underrepresented in the field and we ask all applicants to address in their cover letter the ways in which their candidacy represents a commitment to the ideals of joining a community of diverse faculty, students, and staff.

To ensure applications receive full consideration, they should be submitted by September 9, 2022. Please upload a cover letter, CV, a sample of scholarly work, teaching evaluations, and other relevant teaching materials to jobs.union.edu. You will be asked to include names and contact information for three references through our online application system. An email will be sent automatically to references requesting a letter of recommendation.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/21/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10512

Claremont McKenna College

Rank: Assistant Professor of American Public Policy

The Department of Government at Claremont McKenna College (CMC) invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professorship in American public policy. The position will begin on July 1, 2023. The successful candidate is expected to hold a Ph.D. in political science, public policy, or a closely related field by the time of the appointment.

The successful applicant will teach courses in public policy, American politics, and empirical methods. The teaching load is two courses per semester. The candidate must have demonstrated ability to maintain an active, high quality research program and the highest standards of excellence in teaching.

Given the College's commitment to cultivating an inclusive educational environment, we seek candidates who can demonstrate a commitment to teaching, mentoring, and inspiring students representing a broad range of socioeconomic backgrounds, political opinions, genders, races, ethnicities, nationalities, sexual orientations, and religions.

Candidates should demonstrate this commitment in their application materials.

Applications should include a cover letter; curriculum vitae; research statement; statement of teaching philosophy; evidence of teaching effectiveness; and writing sample. Applicants must also submit the names and e-mail addresses of three references; an email will be automatically sent to them with a link to upload their confidential recommendation letter. Please upload application materials at: https://webapps.cmc.edu/jobs/faculty/faculty_opening.php.

Complete applications, including letters of recommendation, will be reviewed beginning September 1, 2022. Review of complete applications will continue until the position is filled. Preliminary interviews will be conducted via Zoom.

Claremont McKenna College is a highly selective undergraduate institution ranked among the top liberal arts colleges nationally. It is part of The Claremont Colleges, which also includes Pomona College, Scripps College, Harvey Mudd College, Pitzer College, Claremont Graduate University, and Keck Graduate Institute. The Claremont Colleges consortium constitutes an academic community of more than 9,000 students. Claremont is located 35 miles east of downtown Los Angeles.

Claremont McKenna College is an equal opportunity employer. In a continuing effort to enrich its academic environment and provide equal educational and employment opportunities, the College actively encourages a diverse set of applications.

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/20/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10511

Franklin & Marshall College

Rank: Assistant Professor or Instructor, Public Health

Franklin & Marshall College invites applications for a tenure-track position in the Public Health program beginning in Fall Semester 2023. The Department of Government would serve as the new hire's home department. The rank will be Assistant Professor or Instructor depending on qualifications. Applicants should possess or be close to completing one of the following degrees: (1) a doctorate in a public health discipline; (2) a Master's in Public Health or its equivalent and a doctorate in social science; or (3) a doctorate in social science with research in a public health field. Areas of specialization in Public Health are open, and may include Health Policy and Management, Global Health, and Community Health, as well as experience with community engagement.

The hire will join a rapidly-growing program that is a high priority for the college. The candidate should be able to contribute to the core courses in Public Health, including Introduction to Public Health, Understanding Public Policy, Health Policy, and the Public Health Research capstone. The candidate will have the opportunity to develop other electives in Public Health along with contributions in the College's general education program. All faculty maintain active research programs and contribute to the College's shared governance.

Candidates must submit the following items electronically via Interfolio: (<http://apply.interfolio.com/109512>): a cover letter, curriculum vitae, graduate transcript(s) (unofficial copies are fine), teaching and research statements (1-2 pages each), diversity statement, teaching evaluations, and names of three references (letters of reference will be solicited at a later stage, and once they are solicited, referees will need to supply them within three weeks). For full consideration, applications should be received by Oct. 1, 2022.

Pursuant to cultivating an inclusive college community, the search committee will holistically assess the qualifications of each applicant. We will consider an individual's record working with students and colleagues with diverse perspectives, experiences, and backgrounds. We will also consider experience overcoming or helping others overcome barriers to academic success.

Franklin & Marshall College is committed to having an inclusive campus community where all members are treated with dignity and respect. As an Equal Opportunity Employer, the College does not discriminate in its hiring or employment practices on the basis of gender, sex, race, ethnicity, color, national origin, religion, age, disability, family or marital status, sexual orientation, or any protected characteristic. Individuals who need accommodation due to a disability in order to submit an application or to otherwise participate in the employment process should contact the department's academic coordinator, Paulina Erazo Ayala at paulina.erazoayala@fandm.edu.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/15/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10498

SUNY, Buffalo State

Rank: Visiting Assistant Professor

Buffalo State, State University of New York (SUNY), seeks candidates for a one-year Visiting Assistant Professor in Political Science and Public Administration beginning August 2022. Candidate will teach in one or more of the following areas: graduate and undergraduate level research design and/or statistics, organizational behavior/theory, public administration theory, emergency management and other courses in the department's programs.

Ph.D. in Public Administration, or a closely-related field such as public affairs, public policy, or political science. ABDs will be considered. The successful applicant needs to demonstrate a commitment to teaching excellence and evidence of scholarly activity in the field of public administration and/or nonprofit management. In the cover letter, candidates should speak to their ability to teach and work with persons from culturally diverse backgrounds.

The Department is seeking applicants with broad training in the field of Public Administration who can teach in one or more of the following areas: graduate level research design and/or statistics, organizational behavior/theory, public administration theory, emergency management and other courses in the department's programs. Applicants must indicate in their cover letter the graduate and undergraduate courses they are qualified and interested in teaching, in addition to the modalities in which courses can be facilitated. The Department offers the following degree programs: BA Political Science, BA International Relations, MPA as well as graduate certificates in public management and emergency and disaster management.

Please apply using - <https://jobs.buffalostate.edu/postings/6346>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/12/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10484

University of California, Los Angeles

Rank: Public Policy Department Chair

Public Policy Department Chair

University of California Los Angeles

Requisition Number: JPF07627

The Department of Public Policy in the UCLA Meyer and Renee Luskin School of Public Affairs (<https://luskin.ucla.edu/>) seeks to recruit a policy-oriented senior scholar with leadership experience to serve a three-year term with possible extension as Department Chair and join the ranks of its tenured Full Professors. Successful candidates will be Full Professors, or advanced Associate Professors on the cusp of promotion to Full Professor, with Ph.D.s or equivalent degrees in any policy-related discipline, including Economics, Political Science, Sociology, Public Policy, and related fields. We are especially interested in candidates whose research interests pertain to domestic or international policy issues and engage with national or global inequalities; social justice; racial and gender equity; or other contemporary policy concerns.

We are a multi-disciplinary department that values scholarly excellence and collegiality, within the UCLA School of Public Affairs that is home to myriad research centers. The Department and School are particularly strong in data analytics and policy analysis; environment; race and inequality; housing and transportation; social policy; urban issues; health; and youth. We offer a Master of Public Policy degree, an undergraduate Public Affairs Major, and train doctoral students from varied departments across campus. The Department currently includes fifteen FTE ladder faculty, as well as several senior faculty with joint appointments from other campus schools and departments, and a number of lecturers. We expect to make at least five additional ladder faculty hires in the next few years.

The Department Chair is generally responsible for academic leadership and supervision of the department's manager, who oversees the staff. The Chair reports to the Dean of the Luskin School of Public Affairs. The next Department Chair will join existing Department leadership in shaping the trajectory of our Department and its programs going forward.

UCLA is among the leading global universities and is the top-ranked public university in the nation. Los Angeles is a global city renowned for its dynamism, rich cultural diversity, and spectacular climate.

This position is opened until filled, but early applications are encouraged. Applications will be reviewed beginning September 12, 2022. Interested candidates should apply through UC Recruit: <https://apptrkr.com/3226597>. Please submit a cover letter that illustrates your leadership experience; a curriculum vitae; brief summaries of your research and teaching; one to three publications or works in progress; a statement of equity, diversity, and inclusion; and the names and affiliations of three references. References will only be contacted for candidates who advance as a top finalist. For questions related to the position, please contact Search Chair Martin Gilens (gilens@ucla.edu) or Luskin Dean Gary Segura (segura@luskin.ucla.edu).

The University of California is committed to creating and maintaining a community dedicated to the advancement, application, and transmission of knowledge and creative endeavors through academic excellence, where all individuals who participate in University programs and activities can work and learn together in a safe and secure environment, free of violence, harassment, bullying and other demeaning behavior, discrimination, exploitation, or intimidation. With this commitment as well as a commitment to addressing all forms of academic misconduct, UCLA conducts targeted employment reference checks for finalists to whom departments or other hiring units would like to extend formal offers of appointment into Academic Senate faculty positions. The targeted employment reference checks involve contacting the finalists' current and prior places of employment to ask whether there have been substantiated findings of misconduct that would violate the University's Faculty Code of Conduct. To implement this process, UCLA requires all applicants for Academic Senate faculty positions to complete, sign, and upload the form entitled "Authorization to Release Information" into RECRUIT as part of their application. If the applicant does not include the signed authorization to release information with the application materials, the application will be considered incomplete. As with any incomplete application, the application will not receive further consideration. Although all applicants for faculty recruitments must complete the entire application, only finalists (i.e., those to whom the department or other hiring unit would like to extend a formal offer) considered for Academic Senate faculty positions will be subject to targeted employment reference checks.

To apply, please visit: <https://apptrkr.com/3226597>

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability, age or protected veteran status. For the complete University of California nondiscrimination and affirmative action policy, see: UC Nondiscrimination & Affirmative Action Policy, <https://policy.ucop.edu/doc/4000376/DiscHarassAffirmAction>

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 4/17/2023

Date Posted: 7/12/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10485

James Madison University

Rank: Interim Associate Director, Madison Center for Civic Engagement

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Open

The Madison Center for Civic Engagement at James Madison University, housed in the College of Arts and Letters, invites applications for an interim associate director to begin in August 2022 for a two-year term. The Madison Center, a non-partisan, high-profile administrative entity, is hiring this position to support and reinvigorate its mission of strengthening democracy for the common good. We are looking for collegial candidates who can situate their work within wider conversations in the humanities and social sciences, create engaging civic initiatives on campus and in our community, and support the JMU and Academic Affairs strategic plans. We also seek a motivated colleague who will build and maintain productive relationships with relevant stakeholders across the university, as well as with strategic partners in our community, commonwealth, and nation—including grant writing opportunities.

Duties and Responsibilities:

The interim associate director reports to the executive director and will contribute to the direction and branding of the center. This is a 12-month, PhD level, administrative and professional faculty position. Specific duties include the following:

- Collaborate with academic units and Student Affairs to integrate civic learning into major requirements, and co-curricular programs and activities.
- Provide administrative support and guidance for student-led voter registration and education initiatives.
- Help support and expand the center's ongoing efforts in diversity, equity, and inclusion.
- Help develop the curriculum and capstone project plan for the Certificate Program in Civic Engagement with the executive director and relevant partners.
- Identify and execute grant writing opportunities in partnership with the Executive Director (note: funding for the position is not dependent on securing grant funding).
- Supervise relevant capstone projects and delegate capstone projects to faculty for the certificate program (2023 at the earliest).
- Supervise Democracy Fellows, which includes identifying and delegating projects, evaluating performance, hiring new fellows in the fall when necessary.
- Expand voter education and engagement together with Democracy Fellows and the executive director.
- Collaborate with SCHEV, Virginia Campus Compact, and other university-based public service organizations on initiatives (together with executive director).
- Conduct research, publish, and present findings at relevant national conferences, helping build a national profile of the center.
- Other duties as assigned.

Required Qualifications:

- PhD
- Ongoing research agenda in relevant field
- Curriculum development experience
- Excellent organizational, interpersonal, written and oral communication, and management skills
- Demonstrated appreciation of diversity, equity, and inclusion
- Commitment to non-partisanship when representing JMU and the James Madison Center for Civic Engagement

Preferred Qualifications:

- Supervision experience
- Grant writing experience
- Student event planning experience
- Experience developing and implementing effective voter registration and education initiatives
- Working knowledge of national organizations supporting civic engagement in higher education
- Experience creating and implementing programs for college students

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/6/2022

Salary: $70,000 - $79,999

eJobs ID: 10462

Saint Louis University

Rank: Assistant or Associate Professor

Tenure Track Assistant or Associate Professor in Political Science – American Politics

The Department of Political Science at Saint Louis University seeks applicants for a tenure track position in American politics starting in August 2023. We have multiple needs that include but are not limited to race and identity, American political development, and public policy. Previous teaching experience and a PhD in Political Science are preferred, but ABD candidates will be considered. The appointment will be at the level of Assistant or Associate Professor, depending on the candidate's qualifications. The teaching assignment is 2/2. The department offers a BA and MA and, in coordination with the Sociology/Anthropology department, a PhD in Public and Social Policy Studies.

To apply, we ask that applicants upload the following materials combined into a single pdf (see upload instructions below): (1) a curriculum vitae; (2) a cover letter that includes research and teaching interests; (3) a statement of teaching philosophy; (4) evidence of teaching effectiveness (e.g., recent teaching evaluations, officially produced if possible, and sample syllabi); (5) a research statement; and (6) a single-authored writing sample. Please have unofficial graduate transcripts sent to Ms. Claire Bruce at claire.bruce@slu.edu. Letters of recommendation are not required at this stage but will be accepted. We will request three letters of recommendation from shortlisted candidates after our initial review of applications. For questions about the position, please contact Dr. Steven Rogers, chair of the search committee, at steven.rogers@slu.edu, or call the department office, 314-977-3035. Review of applications will begin August 26 and will continue until the position is filled.

Application Upload Instructions: Please visit SLU's Workday portal at <https://slu.wd5.myworkdayjobs.com/Careers>. When prompted to upload your Resume/CV on the "My Experience" page, please upload a single PDF of the documents requested above. SLU Workday applications must be completed in one sitting. You will not be able to revise your application once submitted.

Vaccine Protocol: Saint Louis University will require COVID-19 vaccinations for all students, staff, and faculty who are physically present on our St. Louis campuses. As a prospective and/or a new employee at Saint Louis University, you will be required to comply with the University's vaccination protocol. Proof of full vaccination will be required before the start of employment in order to work at Saint Louis University. If you are not vaccinated, you will be required to begin the vaccination process at the time of your first day of employment. Exemptions may be granted on the grounds of religious beliefs or medical circumstances.

Start Date: Fall 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 7/1/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10455

Tokyo International University

Rank: Full-time positions in 1) International Relations/U.S. Politics and Foreign Policy and 2) International Law/International Organizations

Title: Tenure-Track or Tenured Faculty Position in International Relations/U.S. Politics and Foreign Policy and International Law/International Organizations

Tokyo International University:

Tokyo International University (TIU) offers undergraduate and graduate programs both in Japanese and English. The English track degree program, called E-Track and taught entirely in English, attracts students from Japan as well as from around the world. The curriculum of the E-Track Program enables students to cultivate a broad educational background and deepen their knowledge in specialized fields of Digital Business & Innovation, Business Economics, and International Relations. E-Track also boasts comfortable class size, creating stronger bonds between students and teaching staff.

More details about TIU can be found here: <https://www.tiu.ac.jp/etrack/>

Position:

Tokyo International University is seeking to hire full-time Professor/Associate Professor/Assistant Professors (tenure or tenure-track) in: 1) U.S. Politics and Foreign Policy and 2) International Law/International Organizations. The appointment will start either April 1, 2023 or September 1, 2023 (negotiable).

Successful candidates should already hold a Ph.D. or have a Ph.D. in social science, political science, international relations or other related areas, in hand by the time of employment, a strong publication record or demonstrated potential for active scholarly engagement, and an ability to teach students (both undergraduate and graduate) with diverse cultural background in the university's English Track Degree Program. The annual teaching expectation is six courses distributed over two semesters. A research support budget is also provided to faculty members. Tokyo International University is an equal opportunity educational institution. All qualified individuals, including minorities and women, are encouraged to apply.

Successful candidate will be offered either a tenured or tenure-track position depending on qualifications. The tenure-track system refers to a system under which a newly hired full-time faculty member transitions to tenure status after successfully completing a track period and the tenure screening process within a maximum of five years.

Salary/Compensation/Research Support:

A competitive salary is offered. Remuneration package includes health insurance, pension, commuting allowance, annual research fund and individual research office.

Application Package:

The evaluation of applicants will start in early September 2022, and applications will be accepted until the position is filled. Candidates should submit the following documents by Google Form.

- 1) Cover letter of application
- 2) Curriculum vitae (please also include your complete contact details and contact information of three references - references will not be contacted without first notifying the applicant.)
- 3) Copy of diploma or transcript showing proof of Ph.D. or enrollment in a Ph.D. program

Please register your information and all materials on the Google form below.

<https://forms.gle/4LvNVcFHFpFDfQXp9>

Selection process:

Review of applications will be taken first, and only applicants deemed suitable will be contacted and invited for the interview (in person or via Zoom). Those applicants who are invited to the interview might be requested to submit the Letter of Recommendation by relevant institutions.

Contact details:

Human Resources Department, Tokyo International University Foundation
4-23-23, Takadanobaba, Shinjuku, Tokyo 169-0075
Email: saiyou@tiu.ac.jp

Others:

All information collected will be used solely for its intended purpose of evaluating applicants. Information will not be used for any other purpose.

Start Date: Spring 2023

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/29/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10431

International Christian University

Rank: Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor in Public Policy

We are pleased to announce an open search for a full-time faculty position in the Department of Politics and International Studies with a particular focus on policy studies. The successful applicant is expected to teach general education, foundation, and area major courses in the College of Liberal Arts, as well as courses in the Graduate School. We strongly encourage applications from female candidates.

Qualifications

1. Ph.D. or equivalent in Political Science or a related field is required.
2. Language of instruction: English, or English and Japanese
3. Christian (of any denomination). In exceptional circumstances, a non-Christian who affirms ICU's Christian ideals and commits to realizing them may be considered.

Deadline for Applications

Applications and supporting materials must be submitted no later than September 26, 2022 (JST) 5 PM.

Application and Selection Process

1. Register your application online. <https://business.form-mailer.jp/fms/b37814f9175280>
2. Submit all the application materials online as described below.
3. After documentary screening, short-listed candidates will be requested to give a lecture and will be interviewed

All position details: https://www.icu.ac.jp/en/news/images/Advertisement_E_2022-06-02.pdf

Start Date: Summer 2023

Application Deadline: 9/26/2022

Date Posted: 6/27/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10439

Harvard Kennedy School

Rank: Professor of International Affairs

The Harvard Kennedy School invites applications for a tenured appointment in the field of International Affairs, at the rank of full Professor. We seek a scholar who will provide wide-ranging intellectual leadership in this area and whose work offers powerful and original ways to illuminate and explain key aspects of contemporary world affairs, including relations among the major powers. Candidates should have an outstanding record of scholarly publications, the ability and desire to participate in public discussions on global politics and foreign policy, the capacity to teach effectively in a professional degree program and to work in a diverse intellectual and social environment. The position is open to any discipline, including but not limited to political science, history, or law. A doctoral degree or equivalent is required.

Candidates should send a cover letter, CV, list of references, and at least two publications to: <https://academicpositions.harvard.edu/postings/11380>. Applications will be reviewed beginning August 1, and continue until the position is filled.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/21/2022

Salary: Negotiable

eJobs ID: 10428

Virginia Commonwealth University

Rank: Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Policy, Political Theory

Specializations: Race & Ethnic Politics, Gender Politics & Policy, United States

The Department of Political Science at Virginia Commonwealth University (VCU) is seeking applications for a one-year term faculty position at the Instructor rank to begin August 2022 to support the Department's teaching mission in the areas of American Politics and/or Political Theory. The position will expire in May 2023.

Position Responsibilities: Successful candidates must be able to teach our undergraduate Politics of Race, Class, and Gender course, as well as our undergraduate Research Methods and/or Introduction to Political Theory courses. Successful candidates should be able to teach both on-campus and asynchronously online, thus relocation to Richmond is strongly preferred for this position. The teaching load for this position is 4/4.

Required Qualifications: The position requires a Ph.D. or Master's Degree in political science, or a closely related field, at the time of employment. Successful candidates also will have demonstrated experience working in and fostering a diverse faculty, staff, and student environment or commitment to do so as a faculty member at VCU. More than 60% of Political Science majors are women, and more than 56% are from minority groups. In addition, our faculty and staff exhibit diversity of gender, sexuality, race, ethnicity, age, class, nationality, religion, belief, and political affiliation, among other variables. For example, of our 19 full-time faculty members, eight identify as women, and five identify as scholars of color. See the Department's Diversity and Inclusion Statement here: <https://politicalscience.vcu.edu/about/>. VCU is a diverse public institution. In 2020, 32.7% of our freshmen identified as first-generation, 52.3% as minority, and 35.4% as historically underrepresented minorities.

The Department of Political Science is housed in VCU's College of Humanities and Sciences (CHS) (<https://chs.vcu.edu/>). Resources to support teaching faculty are available at all levels of the university (see, e.g., <https://provost.vcu.edu/faculty/faculty-resources/>).

For more detailed information and to apply, please visit: <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1886?c=vcu>

Application Instructions

Only electronic applications will be accepted. Please apply online at <https://vcu.csod.com/ux/ats/careersite/1/home/requisition/1886?c=vcu>. Applicants must upload a CV and cover letter, as well as the following supplemental documents: a teaching philosophy, and a diversity and inclusion statement. Please merge supplementary files into one PDF and upload as the "Other" document in the online application site. Please submit all required documents with your online application. Failure to provide all required documents will result in our inability to review and consider your application. Applicants are requested to submit a Statement of Contributions to Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (typically between 150-300 words) providing your career aspirations and contributions toward promoting diversity, equity, and inclusion. Through this statement, you can share how your lived experiences, and academic and professional activities will impact your contributions to VCU's mission of promoting equity and inclusion. For more information and examples, see VCU's Diversity Statement.

Upon submission of your application, references will be automatically contacted and asked to provide a letter of recommendation[1]. Questions should be directed to Jason Arnold at jarnold@vcu.edu. Position is open until filled. Applications received by July 9, 2022 will receive priority consideration. Start date will be August 16, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/15/2022

Salary: $50,000 - $59,999

eJobs ID: 10420

American University School of Public Affairs

Rank: Open Rank Professor

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, American Government and Politics

American University: School of Public Affairs: Public Administration and Policy

Open Rank, Public Administration

The Department of Public Administration and Policy (DPAP) in the School of Public Affairs (SPA) at American University invites applications for several full-time, tenure-track positions at the ranks of Full, Associate, and Assistant Professor beginning August 1, 2023. Applicants should have a PhD in public administration, political science, or a related field. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring.

Teaching responsibilities will include core and elective courses in the School's highly ranked Master of Public Administration, Master of Public Policy and PhD degree programs. Possible courses include Introduction to Public Administration and the Policy Process, Legal Basis of Public Administration, Organizational Analysis, Managing Human Capital Assets, and others. In addition to producing high quality scholarship and effective teaching, responsibilities will include mentoring graduate students and service. The search committee is especially interested in candidates who, through their research, teaching, and/or service will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Qualifications:

Applicants should have a PhD in public administration, political science, or a related field. Depending on qualifications, the appointee to this position may be recommended for tenure at the time of hiring.

We welcome applications from candidates with an excellent record or promise of scholarly research and exceptional teaching in public administration and management. Possible research topics of interest include but are not limited to: public administration and democracy, public administration and law, citizen voice and participation in governance, diversification of the public service and representative bureaucracy, organizational design and performance, public-private-non-profit networked governance.

Application Instructions:

Salary and benefits are competitive. Review of applications will begin on July 15th, 2022 and will continue until the position is filled. All applications received by September 15, 2022 will receive full consideration. Please submit applications via <http://apply.interfolio.com/107795>. Applications must include a cover letter, curriculum vitae, copies of recently published articles and/or working papers, and three letters of recommendation.

American University is a private institution within easy reach of the many centers of government, business, research, and the arts located within the nation's capital. For more information about American University, visit www.american.edu.

Established in 1934, the School of Public Affairs offers undergraduate and graduate programs in the departments of Government; Justice, Law, & Criminology; and Public Administration & Policy. The Department of Public Administration & Policy offers five graduate degrees, an undergraduate minor, and several graduate certificates. Its programs are consistently ranked among the best in the field of public affairs by U.S. News & World Report. Learn more about the School of Public Affairs at www.american.edu/spa and about the Department of Public Administration & Policy at www.american.edu/dpap.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: 9/15/2022

Date Posted: 6/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10418

Harvard University

Rank: Assistant Director of Undergraduate Studies

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Administration, Non-Academic

The Environmental Science and Public Policy (ESPP) concentration seeks qualified candidates for the position of Assistant Director of Undergraduate Studies (ADUS) in the ESPP program, housed administratively at the Harvard University Center for the Environment (HUCE). The ADUS will report to the ESPP Head Tutor and an interdisciplinary faculty ESPP Board of Tutors.

Job-Specific Responsibilities

Provide academic advising and mentorship to admitted Harvard students, pre-concentrators, and concentrators, and monitor student progress toward degree. Match student thesis writers with faculty advisors; identify potential problems in the thesis-writing process; help keep students on track to complete the thesis. Manage the senior capstone and thesis courses; meet regularly with students to identify issues with progress and advising. Advise ESPP and Energy & Environment secondary field students and lead discussions for their colloquium requirement.

In coordination with the Office of Career Services and other relevant offices at Harvard College, support current students in their pursuit of undergraduate research opportunities, internships, and full-time post-graduate positions after graduation. Act as a conduit to faculty to help students engage in meaningful research experiences at Harvard. Engage with students in settings outside of the classroom related to ESPP content: informal discussions after talks, field trips, journal clubs, etc. Help identify speakers for events. Represent ESPP at information/student recruiting events.

Assist with curriculum and course development, course planning, and curriculum assessment. May teach or co-teach in ESPP depending on the needs of the concentration in a given academic year.

Basic Qualifications

A Ph.D. in an environmental field (science or social sciences) with significant involvement in the policy realm.

Additional Qualifications and Skills

Documented ability to teach effectively and engage with undergraduate students; a strong commitment to education and mentoring; experience with advising and course/program development and commitment and enthusiasm for research and pedagogy in research methods; excellent communication skills.

Additional Information

To apply, candidates should submit their cover letter and resume/CV online through Harvard Careers at this link: <https://bit.ly/3PERm80>. Candidates selected for an interview will be asked to provide three letters of recommendation, including at least one that addresses teaching ability.

More information on the ESPP concentration can be found at: <https://espp.fas.harvard.edu>

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/14/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10417

Stanford University

Rank: Faculty Appointment on China and Climate Change

Subfield(s): International Relations, Public Policy, Comparative Politics

Specializations: East Asia, China, Energy Policy

Stanford University invites applications for a joint appointment as a continuing-term senior fellow and tenured faculty at the associate or full professor level in the broad area of China and Climate Change. The focus of the search is open. We are searching for creative and innovative scholars with an established record of outstanding policy-relevant research and education around the topics of China and climate change. We invite candidates from a broad range of disciplines to apply.

This joint hire is part of a broader effort by Stanford University in building the new Doerr School of Sustainability. The appointment from this search will be made jointly in the Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies and in the Doerr School of Sustainability, which will begin operating in the 2022-2023 academic year.

Candidates must have a PhD in a field relevant to climate change, expertise on China, an excellent record of scholarly, policy-relevant research, a dedication to teaching, and a demonstrated commitment to diversity, equity, and inclusion. Application packages should be submitted online and include the following documents: 1) a curriculum vitae; 2) a research statement (up to 3 pages); 3) a diversity statement that demonstrates the applicant's commitment and potential to contribute to Stanford's goals of diversity, equity, and inclusion through personal experience or perspective, scholarship, teaching, or service (1 page); 4) a statement of teaching interests (1 page); and 5) a cover letter. Review of applications will begin upon receipt and continue until the position is filled. All are welcome to apply.

Apply at:

<https://facultypositions.stanford.edu/en-us/job/493398/faculty-appointment-on-china-and-climate-change>

Start Date: Fall 2023

Date Posted: 6/8/2022

Salary: Any

eJobs ID: 10406

Johns Hopkins University

Rank: Adjunct Faculty

Subfield(s): Public Policy, Methodology, Public Administration

Specializations: Economic Policy, Research Methods, Public Finance & Budgeting

Institution Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) is a division of the Krieger School of Arts and Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University (JHU). As the nation's oldest and one of the most prestigious research universities, Johns Hopkins offers high-quality master's degrees and post-baccalaureate education to students in the mid-Atlantic region and online. In addition to the online programs, AAP also offers master's degrees and graduate certificate programs at its Washington, DC Center and at the Homewood campus in Baltimore, Maryland. AAP has approximately 18,000 enrollments each academic year. JHU is committed to hiring candidates who, through their teaching and service, will contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community.

Position Description:

The Advanced Academic Programs (AAP) division seeks non-tenure track adjunct faculty to teach several courses within the MA in Public Management program (see below). The courses will be taught online and/or onsite in Washington, DC in Fall 2022 and beyond. Candidates with online course development and teaching experience and those with experience teaching and engaging students from diverse backgrounds are of particular interest.

- 470.854 Fundamentals of Quantitative Methods

This course trains students to be informed consumers of quantitative studies, in addition to teaching the tools of basic statistical work. The course material covers basic descriptive statistics, inferential statistics, and data collection. The key learning objective is for students to develop a better understanding of the statistical and econometric results they may encounter in their careers.

- 470.631 Economics for Public Decision-making

This course aims to offer students an understanding of economics and its importance in public policymaking. The first half of the course will offer students an understanding of microeconomic and macroeconomic theory, including a discussion of when markets can work to achieve policy goals and when “market failures” call for government intervention. The second half of the class will use these economic tools and theories to survey several specific policy areas, including health policy, tax policy, and the national debt.

- 470.608 Public Policy Evaluation and the Policy Process

This course introduces students to the public policymaking process, the basics of policy analysis, and the substance of some of today’s major policy debates. The first half of the course focuses on establishing a framework in which to analyze public policy formulation within the United States. The class also reviews the tools for developing and implementing policy. The second half of the course turns to policy analysis of some critical contemporary issues.

- 470.605 Global Political Economy

In this course, students investigate core topics in international political economy, analyzing the security implications of each. Topics include trade relations, international finance, monetary relations, poverty, and development.

Qualifications

Minimum Qualifications:

- An advanced degree in public policy/public administration or in a relevant field, such as public finance, economics, or political economy, with a master’s degree at minimum
- Two years of professional work experience within the relevant fields

Preferred Qualifications:

- A terminal degree in public policy/public administration or in a relevant field, such as public finance, economics, or political economy
- 1-3 years of graduate-level teaching experience
- Online teaching experience
- In-person/in the classroom teaching experience.
- The background to teach a wide variety of courses in the public management program.

Application Instructions

PLEASE APPLY HERE: <https://apply.interfolio.com/107918>

The positions will remain open until filled.

Candidates must submit the following:

- Cover letter: should indicate the course or courses you are interested in teaching and describe your relevant teaching and professional experience.
- Resume or Curriculum vitae
- Teaching evaluations for two most recently taught courses (if applicable)
- References upon request

The selected candidate will be expected to undergo a background check and to submit proof of educational attainment.

Start Date:

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 6/6/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10394

University of Kentucky

Rank: Post-Doctoral Scholar in Political Science

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Law, Public Policy

Specializations: Constitutional Law & Theory, Civil Rights & Liberties, American Politics

The Department of Political Science at the University of Kentucky in Lexington, KY, invites applications for a teaching post-doc position focused on American Political Institutions with a particular interest in law and courts. We are particularly interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and inclusion mission of the department. This position will begin August 1, 2022. Applicants are expected to teach a 2/3 load and design at least one new course in the area of Legal Studies.

Applicants should show strong potential to provide effective undergraduate teaching and have a Ph.D. in Political Science in hand by August 2022.

Applicants should submit the following: 1) curriculum vitae, 2) letter stating the candidate’s research and teaching interests (uploaded as Cover Letter), 3) copy of transcript for highest degree earned, 4) evidence of teaching experience, particularly syllabi from courses taught (uploaded as specific request 1). Provide the names and contact information for three references when prompted in the academic profile. This information will be used to solicit recommendation letters from your references within the employment system.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 5/9/2022

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 10339

Rowan University

Rank: Lecturer of Political Science

The Department of Political Science and Economics invites applications for a Lecturer of Political Science which is a full-time, non-tenure track, renewable faculty teaching position to begin September 1, 2022. We seek candidates who are passionate about teaching and mentoring students at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. In addition to teaching responsibilities, the successful candidate will serve as Coordinator of Master of Public Policy (MPP) program and make substantive service contributions to help launch and lead this exciting new degree program. The successful candidate will also be expected to participate in professional development to stay current in their content area.

Lecturers are 10-month positions with a 12-semester-hour work load, serving as Coordinator of the MPP program will be included in this load each semester. While these are non-tenure track positions, they are renewable, with expectations for continuing renewal of two, three, four, and then five years per contract. In addition, the position has a promotion path to Senior Lecturer and Master Lecturer, and includes benefits.

Responsibilities for this position include:

- Serving as the MPP Coordinator, leading and implementing all aspects of the program (including but not limited to advertisement/promotion, student recruitment, admissions, and graduation);
- Teaching graduate courses in public policy (including the MPP's capstone course) and, as needed, undergraduate courses in American politics and Public Policy;
- Utilize, establish, develop, and coordinate contacts in policy circles (public, private, and non-profit) to create internship and capstone project opportunities for MPP students as well as job placement pathways;
- Collaborate with The Sweeney Center for Public Policy and the Rowan Institute for Public Policy and Citizenship to organize policy-related events, internship opportunities, and career placement;
- Participating in curricular development, including taking leadership in the further development and advancement of the MPP program;
- Attending open houses, orientations, and other recruitment events as needed;
- Mentoring and advising students within the MPP program; and
- Attending departmental meetings and annual retreats.

Qualifications:

Candidates with a Ph.D. in Political Science, Public Policy, or a related field are preferred, but those with a Master of Public Policy or Master of Public Administration degree and field experience will also be considered. In addition, candidates are expected to have evidence of strong teaching, student advising, and mentoring experience at the college level.

How to Apply:

The application must be submitted through Rowan University's online application system <https://jobs.rowan.edu/en-us/listing/> and must include a curriculum vitae, a statement of teaching philosophy, graduate transcripts, two letters of recommendation, and a cover letter explaining your relevant experience and why your profile prepares you to serve as Coordinator of the Master of Public Policy program.

All completed applications, including letters of recommendation, must be received by May 30, 2022 to receive full consideration, after which applications will be considered on a rolling basis.

Female candidates and candidates of color are strongly encouraged to apply. Rowan University is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to age, color, disability, gender, gender expression, gender identity, genetic information, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or status as a protected veteran.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: 5/30/2022
Date Posted: 4/29/2022
Salary: Competitive
eJobs ID: 10319

Middle Georgia State University

Rank: Part-Time Instructor

Subfield(s): American Government and Politics, Public Administration, Public Policy

Middle Georgia State University has part-time employment opportunities for Political Science instructors, both online and on its campuses in Georgia (Macon, Warner Robins, Cochran, Eastman, and Dublin) for day and evening classes. Our primary need at this time is for faculty qualified to teach, and interested in teaching, daytime sections of American Government (POLS 1101) on the Dublin, Macon, and/or Warner Robins campuses, or at other current and potential teaching sites in Georgia, although opportunities to teach other courses may also be available.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS: To qualify for a teaching position, a candidate is required to have a minimum of an earned master's degree in Political Science or a closely related field (such as Public Administration or Public Policy), or a master's degree in another field with at least 18 graduate semester hours in Political Science courses.

For more information, please contact: Dr. Christopher Lawrence, Chair - Department of Political Science. E-mail: christopher.lawrence@mga.edu. Informal inquiries are welcome.

TO APPLY: Please see the full advertisement in our career opportunities portal by following the instructions below:

1. Visit the MGA Career Opportunities page at <https://www.mga.edu/human-resources/jobs/index.php>.
2. Click on the link labeled "Faculty and Staff Job Opportunities" towards the bottom of the page.
3. Search for position #240725, "Part Time Instructor - Department of Political Science."

Applications will be reviewed and candidates will be selected for vacancies on a rolling basis.

Start Date: Fall 2022
Application Deadline: Open until Filled
Date Posted: 3/17/2022
Salary: Below $20,000
eJobs ID: 10210

Michigan State University

Rank: Research Associate - Fixed Term

Subfield(s): Public Administration, Public Policy, Methodology

The Institute for Public Policy and Social Research seeks a full-time post-doctoral Research Associate to serve a fixed term position (one year renewable for a second year based on funding and performance) to oversee research on the Correlates of State Policy Project and related research. The Project aims to compile, disseminate, and encourage the use of data relevant to U.S. state policy research, tracking policy differences across and change over time in the 50 states as well as their causes and consequences. The Project is also expanding to incorporate federal congressional and district data. The Research Associate will be responsible for upkeep and expansion of the dataset and use of these data to produce peer-reviewed academic research. Appropriate candidates will demonstrate familiarity and use of this data as well as extensive experience in R statistical software and project management. Experience with R package development and Shiny apps would be a significant advantage. We welcome applicants from political science, sociology, economics, public policy, and related fields.

Equal Employment Opportunity Statement:

All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, citizenship, age, disability or protected veteran status.

Required Degree:

Doctorate - Political Science, Sociology, Economics, Public Policy, or related field

Minimum Requirements:

The applicant must anticipate a PhD by the date of hire in the areas of political science, sociology, economics, public policy, and related fields.

Required Application Materials:

Interested applicants should send a cover letter explaining research interests, qualifications, career goals and a description of prior research, curriculum vitae, and names and contact information of three references. We will contact references only if the department requests it.

Together-we-will Statement:

The university is requiring all MSU students, faculty and staff to be vaccinated against COVID-19 with limited exceptions. Learn more at: <https://msu.edu/together-we-will/>

Special Instructions:

A review of applicants will be ongoing.

Review of Applications Begins On:

03/04/2022

Website:

IPPSR.MSU.EDU

MSU Statement:

Michigan State University has been advancing the common good with uncommon will for more than 160 years. One of the top research universities in the world, MSU pushes the boundaries of discovery and forges enduring partnerships to solve the most pressing global challenges while providing life-changing opportunities to a diverse and inclusive academic community through more than 200 programs of study in 17 degree-granting colleges.

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 2/17/2022Salary: CompetitiveeJobs ID: 10112Creighton University*Rank: Assistant Professor

Creighton University's Department of Political Science and International Relations seeks to hire a tenure-track Assistant Professor in Political Science, with a secondary appointment in the interdisciplinary program of Health Administration and Policy. The successful candidate will have completed the Ph.D., evidence of teaching experience, and demonstrate excellence in both teaching and scholarship. We are interested in candidates broadly trained in American politics and institutions, public healthcare policy, and well-versed in research methodology. The successful candidate will teach introductory courses in American politics, public health care policy, and contribute to the department's core courses, but will also hold a secondary appointment in the interdisciplinary program of Health Administration and Policy (HAP). The successful candidate will be asked to mentor and advise undergraduates in the Political Science and Health Administration and Policy programs. Creighton is a Jesuit/Catholic University, emphasizing formation of character as well as education in the liberal arts. It places a premium on small class size and serious interaction among faculty and students that contribute to a strong community of learning. Undergraduate research is central to the departmental and university mission, so new faculty members would be joining a program of teacher-scholars and adding to the diversity and vitality a growing field of interest. Candidates are strongly urged to familiarize themselves with Creighton's mission. Review of applications begins immediately and will continue until the position is filled. and will continue until the position is filled. Please submit an application form (found online at <https://ccas.creighton.edu/faculty/join-our-faculty/>), a letter of interest, statement of teaching philosophy and scholarly agenda, diversity statement, current C.V., three letters of recommendation, and evidence of achievement in teaching and scholarship electronically via the Creighton Human Resources website (<http://careers.creighton.edu>) when applying. Candidates may also contact Dr. Erika Moreno, Chair, Political Science and International Relations at erikamoreno@creighton.edu, with any questions they may have about the position. Disclosure Statement: *Checking the Status of Application: Applicants/Candidates are encouraged to periodically check on the status of their application via (<https://careers.creighton.edu>).

Start Date: Fall 2022Application Deadline: Open until FilledDate Posted: 2/8/2022Salary: NegotiableeJobs ID: 10068Rowan University*Rank: Professor (Asst, Assoc, Full)

Subfield(s): Public Policy, American Government and Politics, International Relations

Rowan University's newly launched Catalysts for Sustainability program seeks to hire 10 new faculty to develop, advance and communicate solutions to humanity's most pressing existential threats posed by the climate and biodiversity crises.

The list below shows the positions to be filled.

- Ric Edelman College of Communication and Creative Arts: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- School of Earth & Environment: Visiting Professor/Professor of Practice
- School of Earth & Environment: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- College of Education: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- Henry M. Rowan College of Engineering: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- College of Humanities & Social Sciences: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- School of Nursing & Health Professions: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- College of Performing Arts: Distinguished Artist-in-Residence for Environmental Sustainability
- College of Science & Mathematics: Open-rank, Tenure-track Professor
- Provost's Fellow for a Sustainable Anthropocene

Unique Opportunity

Our catalysts will immediately be high-visibility scholars poised to reap reputational benefits as influential state and national leaders. They will gain the potential for enhanced funding and enhanced publishing. The faculty—as a cohort and as individuals—will benefit as they develop expansive external networks and connections with high-profile organizations.

Committed throughout the curriculum and community

The University-wide cohort will lead and collaborate across colleges, disciplines and communities. Each college and school on our main campus will be represented, connecting every academic division through a common purpose.

Strategic institutional values

Rowan University's strategic pillars—access, affordability, quality and serving as an economic engine—are at the center of every decision for the institution. The Catalysts for Sustainability recruiting program will be rooted in Rowan's fundamental values and the hires will demonstrate our commitment to diversity, equity and inclusion.

This program will catalyze new initiatives in sustainability research, advocacy and education while leveraging existing strengths. Successful candidates will demonstrate expertise related to the climate and biodiversity crises in one or more of the following areas: environmental justice; education and public engagement including storytelling; public policy and advocacy; discipline-specific sustainability scholarship; and sustainability practice.

Interested candidates must apply through Rowan's online application system (<https://jobs.rowan.edu/cw/en-us/job/495871/rowan-catalysts-for-sustainability>). Review of applications will begin immediately and continue until the positions are filled for a start date of September, 2022.

Start Date: Fall 2022

Application Deadline: Open until Filled

Date Posted: 12/9/2021

Salary: Competitive

eJobs ID: 9835